

Fired Aide Dean Hopes Nixon Will Be Forgiven

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III testified today that he believes President Nixon was involved in the Watergate affair but didn't realize the implications.

He said he hopes Nixon will be forgiven when all the facts are known.

"It's my honest belief that while the President was involved that he did not realize or appreciate at any time the implications of his own involvement, and I think that when the facts come out, I hope the President is forgiven," Dean said as he began testifying at the Senate's televised Watergate hearings.

WIRETAPPING

Dean said two of Nixon's top aides, H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, had been involved in covering up the wiretapping from the first day or two after the June 17, 1972, break-in at Democratic headquarters.

He said a Haldeman aide, Gordon Strachan, told him that he had destroyed "damaging materials" in Haldeman's file after the break-in. He said Ehrlichman insisted that one of the wiretappers, E. Howard Hunt, be ordered out of the country. He said Ehrlichman told him to throw embarrassing material, found in Hunt's White House safe, into the Potomac River.

Dean also said he believes that former presidential counselor Charles W. Colson was more deeply involved in the affair than he admitted. He said former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell approved payoffs to silence the Watergate defendants.

A day or so after the break-in, Dean said, he told Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen, who was in over-all charge of investigating the wiretapping, that "I didn't think the White House could withstand a wide open investigation."

PERSONAL EFFORTS

Dean testified involuntarily, under a grant of immunity. He admitted that he assisted others in giving perjured testimony and made personal use of campaign money. He also testified about his personal efforts to cover up the affair.

Although Dean can't be prosecuted on the basis of what he told the Senate committee, he may be indicted and tried on the basis of other evidence. Federal prosecutors have refused to grant him immunity for trial testimony, and last week sealed his evidence against him to protect their case.

FORT WORTH Bullets Kill Accused Kidnapers

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A kidnaper was wounded fatally, police said, and two others were in custody within two hours after three men abducted a Fort Worth man from his east side home.

Bradley Garrett, 22, died at Peter Smith Hospital about 1 a.m. today of wounds suffered in a gun battle with police, officers reported.

WELDER ESCAPES

They said William F. Jones, 48, a welder and machinist, was kidnapped at gunpoint. He suffered a leg wound during the gunfight.

Jones' wife Arlene told police two men came into her bedroom as she was preparing to retire and her husband was taking a shower.

Officers relayed these details:

Mrs. Jones said the pair, in their mid 20s, carried a 12 gauge and a 16 gauge shotgun.

LONG WAY TO GO

As her husband came out of the shower, she related, the two men put a belt around his neck and led him from the house, remarking they "had a long way to go."

She said a third man remained in a car while Jones was being herded outside.

The three men took two deer rifles and an undetermined amount of money from the Jones home.

Mrs. Jones said the kidnapers made no attempt to tie her before they left.

A citywide search, in which state police and sheriff's officers joined, was in progress about midnight when patrolman R. W. Carlberg and J. D. Tidewater sighted Jones' car at Allen and the South Freeway in a service station.

Police surrounded the auto and a gunfight erupted. Garrett was shot. A second man surrendered.

None of the officers involved in the gun battle was wounded.

The third man was "let out of the car somewhere on East Lancaster" in Fort Worth, police said.

'PRETTY CALM'

While prowling cars were searching the east side for that individual he was talking to police dispatcher Harold S. Bishop by telephone.

Bishop said the man was "pretty calm" when he called headquarters wanting to give himself up at a food store. He said he kept the man talking while he notified officers of the location.

"He said he was just walking down the street tonight when a friend stopped him and told him he was going to go borrow a car from another friend. But when we got there they grabbed this guy and put a knife to his neck," Bishop related.

Hatch Act Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today ruled that federal and state governments can continue barring employees from engaging in partisan political campaigns.

The court reversed a ruling by a three-judge federal panel that struck down the 1939 federal Hatch Act. And in a companion decision, the court upheld a lower court ruling that an Oklahoma state law barring state employees from engaging in partisan political activities was constitutional.

The decisions affect some 5.5 million state and federal workers, all of whom are banned from engaging in a variety of political activities.

In a 6-3 decision upholding the Hatch Act, Justice Byron R. White wrote, "It is in the best interest of the country, indeed essential, that federal service should depend on meritorious performance rather than political service, and that the political influence of federal employees on others and on the electoral process should be limited."

White noted, "The restrictions so far imposed on federal employees are not aimed at particular parties, groups or points of view, but apply equally to all partisan activities."

Public Works Bill Advances

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $4.67-billion money bill providing funds for public works, water and power development programs and the Atomic Energy Commission was approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

The total is $8.7 million less than President Nixon requested.

The bill is scheduled for House debate later this week.

Communique Highlights From Summit Conference

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Here are highlights of a summit communique issued jointly today by President Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Peace and disarmament: "Issues related to the maintenance and strengthening of international peace were a central point of the talks between President Nixon and General Secretary Brezhnev."

"The prospects for reaching a permanent agreement on more complete measures limiting strategic offensive armaments are favorable...

"The U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. attach great importance to joining with all states in the cause of strengthening peace, reducing the burden of armaments, and reaching agreements on arms limitation and disarmament measures."

INDOCHINA

Indochina: "The two sides expressed their deep satisfaction at the conclusion of the agreement on ending the war and restoring peace in Vietnam... Both sides emphasized that these agreements must be strictly implemented."

"They further stress the need to bring an early end to the military conflict in Cambodia... They also reaffirmed their stand that the political futures of Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia should be left to the respective peoples to determine, free from outside interference."

EUROPE

Europe: "Reflecting their continued positive attitude toward the conference (on European security to be convened July 3), both sides will make efforts to bring the conference to a successful conclusion at the earliest possible time. Both sides proceed from the assumption that progress in the work of the conference will produce possibilities for completing it at the highest level.

"... They attach great importance to the negotiations on the mutual reduction of forces and armaments and associated measures in central Europe which will begin on Oct. 30, 1973."

Flames Race Through Bar, 29 Persons Die

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Most of the 29 persons killed when fire flashed through a second-story cocktail lounge in the French Quarter here were trapped by burglar bars on three front windows, authorities said today.

Fifteen others were injured in the fire at The Up Stairs Lounge, which was packed for the weekly Sunday night beer bust featuring all you could eat and drink for $2.

A survivor said he believed somebody dashed an inflammable liquid on the stairway to the lounge and lit it.

SMELL GAS

Fire Supt. William McCrossen said homicide investigators and the state fire marshal would take a careful look at reports that "some people smelled gasoline just before the fire."

However, he cautioned, such reports were unconfirmed.

Some small persons managed to escape by squeezing through the burglar bars on the lounge's front windows and then leaping to the street. Others left the building by smashing a side window and climbed onto a fire escape. A few made their way to another fire escape in the rear.

The bodies of those who did not make it lay jammed like logs against the front windows, with four huddled under a charred grand piano.

Some of the injured apparently were hurt in jumping to the street.

Authorities said there was only one woman among the dead.

Fire headquarters is but three blocks away. Units were on the scene in two minutes, said Supt. William McCrossen. The fire was out 16 minutes later.

Adolph Medina, 32, of San Antonio, Tex., said flames engulfed the bar in a short, panicked moment after fire broke out on the front stairway.

He said, "I was panicked about jumping, but two guys urged me to jump and I was small enough... Some big guy on the ground caught me, and I kept looking back but my friend never got out."

Linn Quinton, 25, of Houston, Tex., said, "The place just went up. Everyone panicked and started running for the windows. I jumped to the window in the left corner, opened it, swung out, grabbed a pipe and slid down."

WATCHED HIM BURN

"I turned around and broke a couple of other people's falls, but there were one or two who just wouldn't jump."

Quinton said, "The bigger people just couldn't get out."

"Bill Larsen, a pastor at the Metropolitan Community Church, got caught in the window, and I just watched him burn. He had one arm out, and I heard him scream: 'O God! No!'"

"In the next window beside him, three people burned to death while I could only watch."

Hundreds of persons swarmed from the busy Quarter area to watch firemen remove the bodies, lowering them one at a time with a snorkle truck.

County Agrees To Assume Milk And Medicine Fund

With Commissioner Bill Bennett not voting, County Commissioners Court today agreed to relieve the United Way of a $2,400 annual expenditure for milk and medicine effective Jan. 1.

Discussion centered on whether the county should pay the expense with tax money or the United Way with contributions.

Had the court refused to appropriate money, the United Way would keep providing the money for poor families, George Zachariah, executive director of the United Way, indicated.

The United Way wants to spend the $2,400 on other programs it supports, but which are not purely charitable in nature.

"It's our contention that welfare is the county's responsibility," Zachariah said. Commissioner Simon Terrazas and Bill Crocker agreed, but Bennett did not.

BENNETT QUESTIONS

"I can't see the county taking this up when the public gives freely (to the United Way)," Bennett said. County Judge A. G. Mitchell, who rarely votes, did not vote on the issue either but he indicated his support of the appropriation.

"The statute says that we shall take care of them," Judge Mitchell said. "So there you are."

added: "The children would be the ones to benefit the most with this. They didn't have anything to do with their predicament."

All but $400 of the $2,400 went to milk last year, Mrs. Ruby Phillips, director of the county welfare association, said. Milk goes to 15 poor families, she said.

Howard County budgets $56,000 yearly for welfare, she said. "About 90 per cent of (all county) welfare recipients live in city limits," she added.

Although commissioners felt the city should contribute toward the milk and medicine fund too, the consensus was city welfare appropriations were not likely.

CITY ASSUMPTION

Earlier, the City Commission agreed to pay an additional $1,175 formerly paid by United Way toward summer recreation, Zachariah said. This $1,175 will be in addition to another $1,875 paid previously by the city.

Local contributions to the United Way totaled $113,640 for 1972-73. Bob Hickson, president, said requests will exceed anticipated contributions by $50,000 for the new budget year. Inflation and the large number of groups asking for contributions will make reaching its goal hard for the United Way, Zachariah said.

Lesman (ish) Wilburn, a salesman with Plains Machinery Co., Odessa, talked to the court about a misunderstanding which will cost the county a few hundred dollars.

SLIDING BLADE

The Road Department needed a "sliding mower board blade" for the recently arriving double-bladed motor grader. But specifications do not mention the capability to handle the front blade.

This road shoulder machine usually is sold with the moveable blade, Wilburn said. But he thought the court told him they wanted a less expensive type blade.

Other business included:

—Hearing Marvin Hanson, road administrator, say seal-coating work is near completion. Jobs at Lomax, Elbow, Forsan and on the old Colorado Road remain to be finished. Altogether, his department will have seal-coated 75 miles of county roads.

—Asking Wayne Wallace of the road department shop to call firms in Odessa and Cisco for prices of a 10,000 gallon diesel tank. Wallace suggested installing the tank underground.

—Discussing advertising for bids on a two and one-half ton winch truck. The winch equipment could be kept, but the truck has 148,000 miles behind it.

—And authorizing purchase of a time stamp machine for petitions filed in the district clerk's office. Cost is $197 for a machine to replace one more than 13 years old.

Choir Trip Gap Almost Closed

The amount of money left to be raised by the Meistersingers for their European trip had shrunk to $351 today, if all pledges made during a radio marathon come in.

When Don Norman, former Big Spring radio announcer and now of Odessa, returned for the marathon over KBYG Friday, the gap was pegged at $1683.

Now it seems assured that the 51 members of the Big Spring High School choral group will be airborne from Midland terminal 10:30 a.m. Thursday. If there is time, an appreciation concert may be given Wednesday evening. Choir director Jack Bowers said that a decision on this will be made Tuesday.

Idea Of Zoo To Be Aired

Charles Driver, owner of Aquarium Pet Shop, will again seek Chamber of Commerce backing for a proposed city zoo at a noon meeting Wednesday of the Chamber's Community Development Council at Coker's Restaurant.

Driver presented his ideas on the project, which he said might cost up to $250,000 the first year, to a small group of council members May 31. The meeting was rescheduled for Wednesday because of the slight attendance at the previous meeting.

Ron Mercer, Chamber manager, said the council also set a meeting of representatives of the three local motor-carrier companies. The Chamber has gone on record calling for improved motor-carrier service. Also to be taken up Wednesday is the Chamber's long range planning.

Coahoma Has Tax Office

COAHOMA — A school tax office has been opened here for the first time with Mrs. Pat Hudgins in charge at the school administration building.

Mrs. Mattie Miller, who is planning retirement, has for many years taken care of both city and school taxes at City Hall.

The school decided, with the change, to set up its own office at the administration building. The tax office may be reached by telephone by calling the office of the superintendent.

Mrs. Hudgins has many years of tax office experience from working in the county tax office in Abilene.

She and her husband, Roger, who is a teacher and coach, moved to Coahoma last August from Colorado City where they had resided for two years. Prior to that they lived in Abilene 14 years. They have one daughter, Cris, who is 13.

"The tax notices for school taxes will now be mailed out from this office and questions concerning school tax should also come to this office, not at City Hall in the future," said Mrs. Hudgins.

The Operating Instructions and claim forms will be available in postal installations when the claims procedure is implemented.

II. ELECTIONS AVAILABLE TO MEMBERS OF THE CLASS

The Consent Order declares that the named plaintiffs are proper representatives of the entire class of present and former postal employees entitled to recover overtime back wages under Public Law 89-301. Under the Consent Order and Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, members of the class are entitled to be advised that the following elections are available to them:

A. Any person who claims entitlement to overtime back wages under Public Law 89-301, but does not wish to participate in this "class action" litigation will, if he requests exclusion, be excluded by the court from the class action insofar as his individual claim is not within the reach of Rule 23(b)(1) or (2), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Such exclusion must be requested by letter addressed to the undersigned at P.O. Box 978, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, D.C.

III. FINAL HEARING PRIOR TO THE COURT ENTERING PARTIAL FINAL JUDGMENT

The Consent Order referred to under I above was entered into with a view to effecting the expeditious processing of all the individual claims involved in this class-action litigation. The Court has now preliminarily entered, in accordance with Rule 23(d), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, a further Order and Decision implementing the Consent Order, which (1) approves the detailed operating instructions under the Consent Order; and (2) determines several legal issues incident to implementation of the Consent Order, as to which parties were unable to reach agreement. (The detailed operating instructions under the Consent Order have now been designated "Back Pay Claims Instructions, etc.") The Court will conduct a Final Hearing on all issues which have been decided by the Court in this litigation, in Courtroom 22, United States Court House, 3d Street and Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. at 10:00 a.m. on July 30, 1973. Any person claiming to be a member of the class who wishes to be heard in this matter, by an attorney other than the attorneys who represent the original plaintiffs in this litigation, will be afforded due opportunity to be heard thereat by his attorney, provided his attorney so notifies the undersigned Clerk of Court in writing prior to July 15, 1973.

The Court will upon conclusion of that hearing enter an order effecting partial Final Judgment disposing of all issues which have been decided as of the date of such Final Judgment, subject to the Court, upon being advised by the parties that all aspects of the controversy have been settled, entering the Final Judgment contemplated by the Consent Order, as heretofore amended.

The parties have reached agreement to submit to final and binding arbitration, individual disputes remaining upon conclusion of the U.S. Postal Service's processing and decision as to the individual claims, in lieu of court proceedings thereafter.

The Consent Order and Implementing Order and Decision and the parties' agreement for final and binding arbitration as finally approved by the Court upon conclusion of the indicated Final Hearing will govern the processing of all individual claims, including any arbitration proceedings.

IV. COUNSEL FEES AND EXPENSES

The matter of counsel fees and expenses for services heretofore rendered by counsel bringing this action and of counsel fees and expenses for services which may be rendered hereafter by original or other counsel will be determined by the Court after the date of the Final Hearing.

V. COMMUNICATION WITH COURT TO BE ONLY BY PLEADING OR MOTION

Any person wishing further information about this litigation may communicate with Donald M. Murtha, Esq. counsel for plaintiffs, whose address is set forth under I E above. All communication with the Court shall be by formal pleading or motion, with copies thereof served upon counsel for the parties. PLEASE DO NOT WRITE OR CALL THE COURT.

Lake Dragging Yields No Clue

A dragging Sunday of Lake Colorado City failed to produce clues as to the whereabouts of two teenage boys missing from their Colorado City residence since last Monday.

They were reported last seen swimming at the lake.

Mitchell County sheriff's officers along with members of the Volunteer Fire Department and the State Fish and Game Department spent all day Sunday searching the lake area, according to a sheriff's spokesman.

Summary of the Consent Order

1. For the period from approximately March 4, 1966 to January 7, 1972, annual rate regulars were entitled to overtime wages under Public Law 89-301 for work performed during days or hours outside of their regular schedule as a result of a required temporary schedule change as set forth below. A complete statement of these rules is not set forth in this notice. The following rules represent only the basic conditions which apply to claims. Detailed Operating Instructions and the Consent Order will be available to potential claimants, as indicated in paragraph E below.

A. Qualification for Back Wages under "Class Action" Consent Order

For the period from approximately March 4, 1966 to January 7, 1972, annual rate regulars were entitled to overtime wages under Public Law 89-301 for work performed during days or hours outside of their regular schedule as a result of a required temporary schedule change, unless the schedule change occurred while they were occupying any of the following positions: (1) postmaster; (2) rural carrier; (3) postal inspector; (4) road duty employee (as defined in 39 U.S.C. Sec. 3581 (1962)); (5) substitute employee; (6) hourly rate regular employee; (7) annual rate regular who, between March 4, 1965 and July 2, 1966, were in salary level PFS-8 and above; (8) annual rate regular who, between July 2, 1966 and October 6, 1967, were in salary level PFS-11 and above; (9) annual rate regular who, after October 6, 1967, were in salary level PFS-12 and above or equivalent levels.

2. Any temporary schedule change on the part of an annual rate regular which was not made at his request for his convenience is a "required schedule change" for which the employee is entitled to overtime compensation for work performed outside of his regular schedule, without regard to the nature of the work performed under the temporary schedule. Temporary schedule changes made at an employee's request for his convenience are not compensable at the overtime rate.

B. Claims Procedure under "Class Action" Consent Order

1. The Consent Order establishes procedures for the filing of claims by present employees, former employees and the representatives of deceased employees who assert entitlement to overtime back wages under paragraph A above.

2. Claims Procedure for Present Employees

(a) As set forth in paragraph A above, July 30, 1973, all present employees will be notified by their installation head that their time records are available for examination. In most cases these records date back to the first pay period in which regular work schedules were assigned under Public Law 89-301, and end with the pay period terminating on January 7, 1972.

(b) Each present employee is entitled to be excused from his normal hour of duty for up to one hour to review his time records and will be compensated for that hour at his straight time rate of compensation. In addition, he may remove his records from the installation for the purpose of such review.

(c) Special claim forms will be available in all postal installations. It will be necessary for the employee to indicate on the claim form those hours for which he believes he is entitled to recover overtime back wages.

(d) An employee's failure to file a claim with his installation head within 90 days of receipt of notice that his time records are available for inspection will waive his right to present a claim. However, upon good cause shown, the time for filing a claim shall be extended.

(e) An employee may submit a claim even though his time records are no longer available.

(f) After an employee has submitted his claim, the local installation head will review it to determine whether the claim should be approved for payment. If the claim is denied, the employee will be entitled to appeal.

3. Procedure for Former Employees and the Representatives of Deceased Employees

Essentially, the same rules apply to claims by former employees and representatives of deceased employees, with the following exceptions:

(a) The Postal Service will attempt to notify former annual rate regulars of their rights in this matter by forwarding a copy of this notice to their last known address on file with the United States Civil Service Commission or the appropriate Postal Service Data Center.

Boy, 5, Tells Of Torture By 14-Year-Old Babysitter

DALLAS (AP) — A 5-year-old torture victim regained consciousness Sunday in a Dallas hospital and told lawmen that a tormentor, 14, beat him with a whip and sticks and burned him repeatedly with matches.

The battered little boy was taken to the hospital unconscious with serious head injuries Saturday night after his foster parents returned home to find him dizzy and covered with marks and bruises.

Sheriff's deputies arrested a 14-year-old and placed him in a county juvenile home. They said the older boy admitted spanking the youngster Wednesday for misbehaving at his Kleberg home.

The foster parents brought the older boy from his home near Ennis two weeks ago to care for the 5-year-old while they were at work.

Deputies said they believe the youngster was tortured for five days. The little boy told officers he was forced to lie to the foster parents, telling them he suffered most of the injuries at play or in falling off his pony.

At the hospital, the youngster begged deputies to take the older boy "away with you and put him in jail." He said the boy beat him with a belt, whipped him with boards and burned him about the face and body.

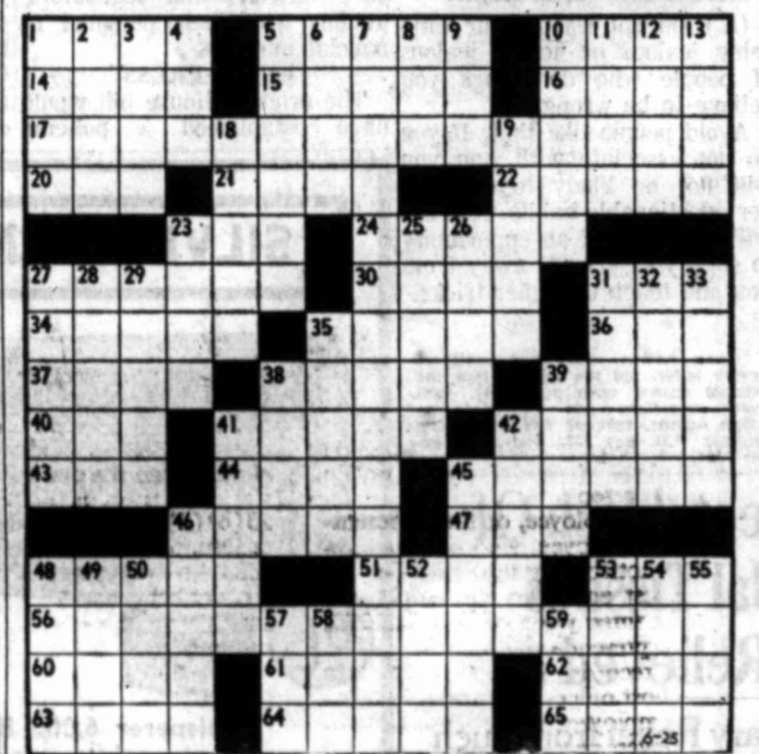

Neighbors recalled seeing the older boy chasing the younger one around the house, lashing him with a four-foot-long horse whip "because he wasn't running fast enough."

They said they saw the older boy punch the younger boy in the stomach with his fist several times. And they saw him whirl the little boy around by his heels and toss him through

More Folks On The Farms

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were more folks living down on the farm last year than the year before, but the government says the change isn't significant.

The 1972 estimate of the farm population released Sunday is 9.61 million, up 185,000 from 1971 according to the Census Bureau and the Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service.

However, the increase should not be interpreted as a change in the long-term downward trend in the number of people living on farms, the government said.

In fact, officials said there is a 20 per cent chance that the increase may be due to a sampling error.

There were an estimated 9.7 million persons living on farms in 1970, and 15.6 million in 1960. The Census Bureau report also said there were more men than women on farms, a low percentage of younger persons and only nine per cent of the farm population was made up of minority groups.

Photographer, Pilot Perish

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A plane leased for taking aerial photographs carried its two occupants to death Sunday as it exploded and burned on crashing about a mile and a half west of Waco's Madison Cooper Airport.

The victims, both from Waco, were Robert Reagan, 43, the pilot, and Rolando Marroquin, 34, a photographer.

Two fishermen watching from Lake Waco said the craft suddenly went into a power dive after flying at low altitude with the flaps down. It had been leased from the Waco Flying Service.

WEATHER FORECAST — Mostly sunny skies are forecast for today. It is expected to be cooler in the Northeast and Northern Plains but continuing warm in the Southwest and Southeast. Rain is forecast for southern Texas.

Cotton Crop Looks Good In West Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Another week of severe rain and damaging thunderstorms played havoc with wheat, hay, and other crops. Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

Hutchison said wheat harvesting is the major farm activity at the present time, and could be delayed or partially ruined by the rain. Harvesting has been particularly active in the Rolling Plains and North Central Texas, with activity picking up in the High Plains, he said.

GOOD PROGRESS

Crops are generally making good progress over the state as there is good soil moisture in most parts except in West, South and Southwest Texas. Boll weevils, fleahoppers and thrips are becoming active in cotton in many sections.

Corn is in the roasting ear stage over much of Central and Southeast Texas and grain sorghum is heading.

Peanut and soybean planting is still active in some areas as the weather permits, noted Hutchison.

Pasture and livestock conditions remained good as grazing is generally plentiful except in West and South Texas. High waters from heavy rains the previous week caused some cattle losses in low-lying areas in Southeast Texas.

Screwworm cases are increasing slowly in southern and western counties, Hutchison added.

District extension agents reported the following conditions:

Panhandle: Wheat harvesting has started in Collingsworth County and activity is expected to increase in the next few days. Good yields are in prospect. Grain sorghum planting is moving toward completion in many counties, but the crop is only about 30 percent planted in the southeastern part of the district. Livestock conditions are good.

FULL SWING

South Plains: Cotton is making good progress with hot weather. Salt marsh caterpillars and thrips are active in some cotton. Short surface moisture is delaying some cotton growth as well as grain sorghum planting in the southern portion of the area. The wheat is starting and good yields are expected.

Rolling Plains: Wheat harvesting is nearing completion and yields have generally been good. UP to 30 percent of the cotton crop still remains to be planted in some counties. Some replanting is underway. Planting of grain sorghum, peanuts and guar remains active. Hay harvesting is in full swing, and Irish potatoes are being harvested in Knox County.

North Central: Heavy rains have damaged some hay and wheat. Wheat, oats and barley are about 50 percent harvested with good yields. Wet weather has also damaged some young cotton. Corn and grain sorghum are making good growth. Peanut planting is active where fields are dry and is nearing the halfway mark. Early peaches are being harvested. Livestock have plenty of grass for grazing.

PEACHES

Northeast: Some wheat is being harvested but most fields have been grazed out. Hay harvesting is active as the weather permits. Some cotton, corn and grain sorghum are being replanted due to damage from heavy rains. Early peaches are being harvested and pecan prospects are good. Pastures are providing good grazing.

Far West: The area still remains dry and range conditions are declining with hot weather. However, the area's cotton crop generally looks good. Onion harvesting is active while the small grain harvest has been completed. Insects are damaging some pecans and alfalfa. Screwworms are becoming more active.

West Central: Recent hail damaged some small grains. Small grain harvesting is active except where slowed by rains. Oats have yielded up to 50 to 60 bushels per acre in Llano County and up to 60 bushels on irrigated land in Menard County. Young crops generally look good over the area although hail and some early insects have damaged cotton. The pecan crop will be light due to the late freeze. Livestock generally have good grazing.

Central: Wheat and oat harvesting is active with excellent yields reported. Cotton and grain sorghum are at various stages of growth due to weather conditions and replanting.

CORN CROP

East: Recent heavy rains destroyed some hay and also damaged the young corn crop. A second cutting of hay is being made over the area where weather conditions permit. Peanut planting is active and is complete in some counties.

Southeast and Upper Gulf Coast: Heavy rains the past week caused flooding in many areas, damaging some crops and resulting in numerous livestock losses. Corn is in the roasting ear stage and grain sorghum is booting.

South Central: Small grain harvesting and hay baling was slowed by heavy rains which also damaged some young crops. Early corn is in the roasting ear stage and grain sorghum is beginning to head.

Southwest: Rain is still needed in southern and western parts of the district. Corn and grain sorghum are making good progress and good yields are expected. Harvesting of potatoes, onions, cantaloupes, cucumbers, watermelons and peaches continues.

RANKS WITH BOOZE, SEX WHEN TEXANS GOSSIP

Where Does He Get His Money?

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — "Where does he get his money?" ranks with drinking and sex when Texans gossip about politicians.

So it can be assumed that the most popular reading material in the Capitol next April will be a tall stack of dull-looking reports in the secretary of state's office.

'ETHICS BILL'

April 26 is the deadline for legislators, judges, and other top state officials, including heads of major agencies, to file detailed reports on investments and income sources.

Financial disclosure is the big item in the conflict of interest bill—better known as the "ethics bill"—which lawmakers passed on the final night of the regular legislative session, May 28.

Legislators also passed two other bills designed to head off improper influence on legislators and government officials:

—The lobby control bill requiring lobbyists to tell where they get the money they use for influencing legislation—such as for entertainment, correspondence and political contributions—and how they spend it.

BRIBERY LAWS

—The new penal code enlarging bribery laws and providing jail terms for such forms of influence as rewarding officials for their past decisions with jobs when they leave government service.

Conflicts between officials' private and public interests have been hard to detect. The point of financial disclosure is to reveal such conflicts, if any exist.

"I am so happy to have financial disclosure . . . so that the public can be better informed. If they are better informed, we are going to have better government," said Rep. Jim Nugent, D-Kerrville, House sponsor of the ethics bill.

Financial disclosure reports must be filed yearly by all elected state officials; judges down to and including the district court level; legislators; appointed members of 27 key boards and commissions; and executive heads of all agencies, including college and university presidents and chancellors.

MUST REPORT

Candidates for elective state offices must report 30 days after the officeholders' deadline, meaning their statements will arrive late in May, well after the first primary.

Not filing a financial disclosure statement is a crime, carrying a maximum penalty of a $1,000 fine and 180 days in jail.

What must be reported?

Stock shares, bonds, notes and commercial paper; sources of $500 or more per year in interest, dividends, royalties and rent; debts of $1,000 or more; beneficial interests in real estate and business; non-family donors of gifts valued at more than $250; trusts providing $500 or more in income; assets of any corporation in which an official owns at least half interest; all boards of directors on which an official serves; executive positions held in corporations, firms, partnerships and proprietorships; and sources of occupational income, including retainer fees.

PAYING CLIENT

Holdings must be shown, plus any acquisitions or sale of assets in the past year.

Amounts will be shown only by category—less than $1,000; $1,000 to $4,999; and $5,000 or more.

University regents are required to report only "substantial interests" in firms regulated by or doing business with the state.

It will be a misdemeanor after Jan. 1 for a legislator to represent a paying client before a state agency except in an adversary proceeding or public recorded hearing. A legislator could also file documents and perform other acts which involve only an agency's routine, "ministerial" functions.

The provision was written into the act because of past allegations that prominent legislators had used their power to influence agency decisions in favor of their clients.

Senators and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby forced the exclusion of a mechanism to investigate reports of conflicts and to compare officials and legislators' actions with their personal financial interests.

UP TO PRESS

The original House bill would have established a policing agency, known as an "ethics commission." Now, the law leaves it up to the press, the general public and other lawmakers and officials to report conflicts.

Nugent thinks the legislature passed a "meaningful" bill. He has sponsored conflict of interest legislation for 12 years. Critics say he liked the idea of being "Mr. Ethics" but wasn't interested in passing a workable bill.

This session, he wanted to require state officials to report only acquisitions and divestments of property but not holdings.

CONVINCED

When Gov. Dolph Briscoe signed the ethics bill, Nugent acknowledged to a reporter that his thinking about financial disclosure had changed.

"Part of the explanation is that as more thoughtful articles were written about it, I became convinced that the mainstay of the whole thing has to be financial disclosure," Nugent said. "I don't think so originally, but I have come to the conclusion that financial disclosure has to be one of the three legs of the stool. There is no other way."

Nugent doesn't put much credence in the Senate. Advanced idea that financial disclosure will discourage able, prosperous men from accepting public office.

"If this bill is going to cause some good people to quit, the mere fact that they would quit raises some questions over what their activities might have been."

I want to go out with her now. What should I do? — Waiting in Connecticut.

(A.) Your girl friend has set herself up as your judge, jury and jailer. You are on punishment. She has no right to do this, and you are making a mistake in letting her.

Call her and tell her you are sorry for what happened, and that you apologize. Tell her you like her and hope you can get back together again. But tell her the one-month term is now off and that you and she have to start seeing each other now or not at all.

Unless you let her know that you are independent as well as devoted to her she will probably keep giving you

Resignation Not Favored

WASHINGTON (AP)

Readers of the National Observer, asked whether President Nixon should stay in the job or resign, have replied by a margin of more than 2 to 1 that he should continue in office.

The breakdown, based on 48,045 replies, was 33,205 votes or 69.1 per cent to stay, and 14,840 to resign.

The Observer, a weekly newspaper, emphasized the results were a plebiscite and not a public opinion poll or scientific sampling. The Observer has a national circulation of more than 500,000—95 per cent distributed by mail.

Its edition for the week ending June 16 carried a simple ballot on the front page, asking readers to check one of two boxes: Stay? Resign?

Can't Get Street Light Turned Off

LEVITTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — For four weeks, Andrea Rago has been complaining to the Long Island Lighting Co. that streetlights in her neighborhood are on 24 hours a day.

A utility spokesman said the complaint eventually will be looked into. Right now, he explained, there's a backlog of repair requests, and the company is concentrating on turning lights on, rather than off, power shortage notwithstanding.

Promise Of 'Peace For All The People Of The World'

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon says his week-long meeting with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev holds the promise of "peace for all the people of the world."

Brezhnev agreed, saying on Sunday that the summit with Nixon means "political detente is being backed up by military detente."

At the summit's formal end Sunday, the two leaders signed a communique during a televised ceremony outside Nixon's oceanside home here. That summary of the talks is to be released today when Brezhnev leaves the United States.

FAREWELL PARTY

Nixon loaned Brezhnev his jetliner to fly to Camp David, Md., for an overnight stay before the Soviet Communist party chairman's departure today for Moscow via Paris. Nixon bade him farewell at nearby El Toro Marine Air Station.

Before leaving California, Brezhnev taped a television-radio speech to the American people that was broadcast Sunday evening as he flew east. In the address, also for broadcast in the Soviet Union and other countries, he said his talks with Nixon "really put Soviet-American relations on a new track."

At the signing of the communique, an ebullient Brezhnev said the 40-plus hours of dialogue might lead to another Nixon visit to Moscow "in six or eight months' time." The President's previous visit was in the spring of 1972.

Both Nixon and the Soviet leader pointed to two major summit agreements: a nonbinding accord aimed at avoiding nuclear war and a statement of principles designed to give new impetus to stalled strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) in Geneva.

Brezhnev was asked if talk of a Nixon return trip to Moscow next winter indicated a feeling that a new SALT pact could be completed by that time.

"We are working in this direction. But concretely, unfortunately, I cannot tell you anything for the time being," Brezhnev said.

POISONED

Nine agreements were announced during Brezhnev's visit to Washington, Camp David and San Clemente. Left for the future were new curbs on offensive arms and the resolution of trade issues stymied by congressional opposition to granting most favored nation treatment to the Soviet Union.

Neither Brezhnev nor Nixon seemed unduly disturbed about the unfinished business, however, as both men placed heavy emphasis on summit accomplishments.

In his 48-minute television-radio address, Brezhnev rejected the "poisoned relations" of the cold war. "Mankind has outgrown the rigid Cold War armor which it was once forced to wear. It wants to breathe freely and peacefully," he said.

Saying he was "satisfied with the way the talks went," Brezhnev added: "Even if our second meeting with the President yielded no other results, it could still be said with full grounds that it will take a fitting place in the annals of American-Soviet relations and in international affairs as a whole."

Quiet Settles At Rodeo Bowl

Quiet settled over Rodeo Bowl today just as suddenly as it had erupted a week ago for the 40th annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo.

Final reports are not in, but the show shaped up as the best attended in the long history of this annual event.

"We're mighty pleased with the response," said Charlie Creighton, president, "and we appreciate the fine support that fans gave us at the gate. This year's rodeo also drew a record 278 cowboys as entries. We are grateful for their participation, too. This all-around cooperation contributed to making this one of the best rodeos we have had."

It will take a week or so to tally all the receipts and get in all the bills, said E. P. Driver, one of the directors. It also requires time to get reports on the total purse distribution.

Trustees Accept Building Bid

LAMESA — School trustees have accepted the low bid of $50,391 from an Odessa firm for the construction of the Middle School vocational building.

The firm is Haco, Inc. of Odessa. The low bid for the building stunned school trustees last Monday when the figure was approximately 25 per cent higher than anticipated.

The proposed vocational building will be located across the street north of the Middle School campus and will house the newly created vocational program for the Middle School. School officials hope that the program will help diminish the drop-out and instructional problems now being encountered at the junior high level.

WELCOME HOME — Skylab I Commander Charles "Pete" Conrad and wife, Jane, rush to embrace each other on the arrival of the Skylab I crew at Ellington AFB, Houston, Tex., Sunday night. Wives of the crew and top NASA officials were the only one permitted close to the astronauts.

Space Travelers Convinced Man Is 'Up There To Stay'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Convinced that man is "up there to stay," Skylab 1's crew today continues medical examinations and begins 17 days of reporting about its record four-week mission.

Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz flew to the space center Sunday night after meeting earlier in the day with President Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev in San Clemente, Calif.

SPACE WALKERS
At nearby Ellington Air Force Base, they held their wives in lingering embraces and briefly addressed a group of about 400 persons, mostly space workers.

Mission commander Conrad said he and his crewmates left the orbiting space station in good shape for Skylab 2, a 56-day flight that is to start July 27 under the command of Alan L. Bean.

"I'm glad to turn it over to Capt. Bean and his crew," said Conrad. "As far as I'm concerned, he's got 56 days."

Kerwin, the crewman who suffered most from the effects of space weightlessness, shrugged off reports of his dizziness and nausea which occurred after the astronauts returned to earth Friday.

"I read some statements in the paper about my postflight condition," the physician said. "All I can say is that, if this is the worst that space can do, we're up there to stay."

Weitz thanked the space workers and said "it's been a team effort all the way."

Engineers and scientists will huddle with Conrad, Kerwin and Weitz daily until July 11, discussing all aspects of the mission, which the astronauts saved with a series of repairs that earned them the title "fix anything guys."

Space agency doctors reported that they see no medical barrier to the eight-week journey of Skylab 2, despite some early postflight dizziness that bothered Conrad, Kerwin and Weitz.

Doctors reported all began readapting quite quickly to earth's gravity after the long exposure to weightlessness.

All three appeared in excellent spirits when they were helicoptered from the Ticonderoga to meet Nixon and Brezhnev at San Clemente.

The astronauts presented Nixon and Brezhnev with mementos of their flight. And Brezhnev told them they were

Eggs At $1 A Dozen Grim Prediction

By The Associated Press
Eggs at $1 a dozen and leaner days at supermarket meat and poultry counters are being forecast by some industry spokesmen. They say farmers across the country are caught in the middle between the 60-day freeze on retail food prices and a free-floating feed grain market.

"The poultry producer is in the unworkable position of having to pay out more than he receives," Abit Massey, director of the Georgia Poultry Association, said Sunday. "They are just hoping something will be done before the 60-day limitation of the price freeze. They can't last that long."

Bruce Hettle of the Poultrymen's Cooperative Association in California predicted laying hens would be sold as stew meat. "That will mean fewer eggs and we could end up with a black market situation" and eggs as high as $1 a dozen, he said.

The Cost of Living Council said Saturday it is investigating whether the administration's 60-day price freeze, announced June 13, is causing food shortages. The Senate Agriculture Committee said last week the price freeze is threatening "drastic shortages" of some foods.

Government officials were not immediately available for comment on the feed grain price situation. Some east Texas farmers have drowned hundreds of thousands of chickens. While no other food-producers in the South and West have yet taken such drastic action, many are cutting back on output. They cite losses of 4 cents per dozen on eggs and up to 6 cents per pound on broilers because of skyrocketing feed prices.

One poultryman said soybean feed that cost $92.50 per ton last fall is in the $400 range now.

Feed mills — which buy the raw grain on the unfrozen market and must sell most of their processed product at frozen prices — are faring little better. Spokesmen for the Los Angeles Grain Exchange estimated mills were losing $6 for every ton of processed feed $3.41 per bushel for soybeans in May 1972 paid $8.50 this May. Corn jumped from $1.41 to $1.75 per bushel between March and May.

Food industry spokesmen said the cutbacks in flocks and herds could show up at the supermarket in eight to 10 weeks. Most agreed shortages and higher prices would depend on government action and the grain export situation.

While some producers of broiler chickens and laying hens were cutting back flocks by as much as 40 per cent, livestock growers were said to be selling hogs and cows normally used as breeders as a method of thinning herds.

'Sally Goodin' Wins For Okie

WEISER, Idaho (AP) — They talked all week about the "Texas Style" and the "Traditional" way of playing the fiddle.

But it all boiled down Saturday night to who could draw the sweetest music out of a fiddle for 3 1/2 minutes on the sagebrush-decked stage at Weiser High School.

Herman Johnson did it and was named the nation's finest oldtime fiddler to cap the five-day National Oldtime Fiddlers Festival.

Johnson, a 58-year-old machine shop foreman from Shawnee, Okla., thwarted a bid by pre-contest favorite Dick Barrett, 54, Pottsville, Tex., to become the first man ever to win the title three times.

Barrett had to be content with second this time as Johnson fiddled his way through "Sally Goodin," "Honeymoon Waltz" and "Clarinet Polka" to win $600 and a three-foot trophy.

Barrett won $400 and a trophy. Two weeks earlier he won $1,000 in a similar contest by capturing the Grand Masters Fiddler Contest in Nashville, Tenn., sponsored by The Grand Old Opry.

Johnson, who said he started fiddling when he was 8, also won the big prize in 1968 and 1969. He's an employe at Tinker Air Base in Oklahoma City.

Benny Thomason, 64, of Kalamazoo, Wash., was third and also was named most popular fiddler. Fourth was another former winner, Loyd Wanzer of Caldwell, Idaho, and J. C. Boughton, Sapulpa, Okla., was fifth.

Odessans Make Trip To Capital

ODESSA — Thirty Odessa businessmen left by commercial airliner Sunday for two days in Washington, D.C.

Heading the delegation was Rudy F. Judeman, Chamber of Commerce president, and Mayor and Mrs. Jim Reese. The group will be hosted in Washington by Rep. Richard White, who has set up conferences with the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission (on what is involved in atomic reactor location; State Department on the Middle-East oil situation; HEW on hospitals; Federal Power Commission; HUD on housing; Council of Education; and others. White will have a reception for the group Monday evening at the Democratic Club.

Hightower May Run For Congress

Jack Hightower, Vernon, who represents this 30th Senatorial district, may be a candidate for Congress from the 13th district.

He said he would have an announcement in the autumn, whether he will make the race for the seat now held by Rep. Bob Price, or whether he will seek re-election as state senator. He drew one of the two-year terms when senators were renamed after redistricting. Hightower once ran against former Rep. Graham Purrell in the Democratic primaries but lost in the runoff. Price, a Republican, comes from the center of the Panhandle district.

Billy Graham Outlines 10 Commandments For Home

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham closed out a seven-night crusade at Atlanta Stadium after attracting more than 300,000 listeners to a temporarily crime-free neighborhood.

In a final 30-minute sermon preached Sunday from a bright blue rostrum at second base, Graham outlined "10 Commandments for the home."

"Not since Sodom and Gomorrah has there been such talk against marriage," he said. "But God has ordained that men and women should get married."

The commandments:
—Establish a chain of authority in the home, with God first, the husband second, the wife third and then the children.

—Create love in the home.
—Accept family members as they are. He emphasized that brides should not try to make husbands into the image of their fathers.

—Show appreciation. Husbands, he preached, should praise wives for their role in the home.

—Respect authority and establish discipline. Graham said he believed in spanking children as punishment if the act is followed by thorough explanation.

—Enjoy prayer, enjoy each other, enjoy life.
—Do not commit adultery. A person can be unfaithful, he preached, through lust and flirtation.

—Create a working family. Children must be taught to work if a family is to know happiness, he said.

—Read the Bible. Families that worship regularly, he said, seldom experience divorce.
—Witness to family members about spiritual experiences.

Stadium security, which has been a problem during National League baseball games and National Football League contests, was maintained by a force of 128 policemen, twice as many as for athletic events. They reported no muggings or other crimes during crusade hours.

About 10,000 persons during the week responded to Graham's call to salvation.

Worshippers donated about $175,000 during nightly offerings at the $489,000 crusade.

It apparently flourished despite picketing at the first meetings by blacks and a breakdown in charter service due to a bus drivers' strike.

The small group of blacks protested Graham's relationship with President Nixon and claimed that he ignored black religious leaders in planning the crusade. The crowds were predominantly white each night.

Rogers Thinks 'Cold War' Is About Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said that in the past the offensive language has not been one-sided, Rogers said.
 "Obviously we will have differences—continue to have public differences—but the rhetoric will be very different than during the 'cold war'."
 Rogers hailed the agreement signed by Nixon and Brezhnev promising joint cooperation to avert the risk of war or nuclear disaster.
 "In all fairness it should be said that in the past the offensive language has not been one-sided," Rogers said.
 Brezhnev, in a nationwide radio-television address Sunday night, declared his week-long summit talks with Nixon "really put Soviet-American relations on a new track."
 "That's the way I assess it," Rogers said. He added that he expects a softening in Soviet rhetoric.
 "There is every reason to think the American people support what President Nixon and Mr. Brezhnev have done," Rogers said in an interview while flying here with the visiting Soviet leader from the Western White House.

Local Men On BBB Board

Bob Hickson and Larry Willard were elected directors of the Better Business Bureau of the Permian Basin at the board of directors meeting at noon today at Terminal.
 Hickson, manager of Hemphill-Wells, and Willard, Cashier of First National Bank will fill vacancies on the board. Three other Big Spring representatives will be elected in January.
 The local business community joined the BBB last month to give Big Spring consumers a means through which to get information or complain about questionable business practices. Local citizens may call the BBB toll-free by contacting the operator and asking for Enterprise #4027.

 A. I. Beatty, BBB vice president, said the first day the toll-free number went into effect, June 1, the bureau received 13 calls from local citizens. So far this month, the bureau has received 41 calls from Howard Countians while the monthly average before the free number became effective was 15.
 Many of the calls, he indicated, are simply for information about businesses while actual complaints are mainly about mail order firms and service industries.

Beauty Weds Yacht Builder

SHAVE ZIYON, Israel (AP) — This tiny communal farming village on the Mediterranean was the scene of the wedding Tuesday of one of its daughters, Israeli singer-actress Daliah Lavi.
 Miss Lavi, 30, and yacht builder Peter Rittmaster, 32, of Key Biscayne, Fla., were married in a six-minute ceremony under a worn red canopy on the lawn of the community hall. It was her third marriage and the first for Rittmaster.
 "I will keep singing and making movies, but more quietly than before," the titan-haired beauty told newsmen after the ceremony.

"Spiritual economics is as important in life as the other phases of economics," said Mrs. J. B. Sharp when she spoke at a dinner meeting Thursday for Philathea Sunday School class at First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Sharp emphasized that people only get out of life, work or the church as much as they put into life, work and the church. Invocation was by the Rev. Elra Phillips, and Mrs. E. C. Howard led in singing a patriotic hymn, accompanied by Mrs. B. M. Keese. The poem, "Freedom," was read by Mrs. Cass Hill, who also presided during business.

Expectant Mothers May Attend Classes

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center will offer a special class for expectant mothers which will begin at the center Tuesday. Each class will be held on Tuesday at 1 p.m. and will run for four weeks. At the end of each four week period a new class will begin.

This is to be a continued program as long as there is enough participation to warrant it. The mothers must be enrolled in the class before its beginning and no applicants will be accepted into that particular class once it begins. Those particular applicants will be entered into the next class. The class is a special prenatal and postpartum exercise program emphasizing proper body mechanics and muscle strengthening. It will be taught by a licensed physical therapist. A physician's referral will be required.

Any interested mother should contact her physician who can refer the mother to the Center. Those expectant mothers who are interested should call the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center for registration and information.

He Won't Tip

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged woman who is presently dating a man a few years older than I am. He is loaded with money and takes me to all the finest places. He has a fine automobile, dresses expensively and beautifully, and is very good-looking. He sounds perfect, doesn't he? Well, he would be, except for one fault. He HATES to tip. And I mean he absolutely will not tip anyone a dime for anything unless that person has performed a special service other than what he is being paid to do.

For example: We will go to a restaurant and if this gentleman thinks the food is exceptionally good he will send a $5 bill to the COOK. (He says: "Why tip the waiter? He just serves it. The cook deserves the tip.") He will tip a waiter only if the waiter gives him extra special service.

Doormen get nothing. ("I can open the door myself," he says.) Captains get nothing. ("He's supposed to show us to our table.") Parking attendants get nothing.

This man claims he is not cheap — just sensible. Do you think he's "sensible" or cheap? EMBARRASSED. DEAR EMBARRASSED: Any man who tips the cook for excellence cannot be considered "cheap." (Too few even think of it.) However, he should realize that many people who perform services depend upon their tips for their bread and butter. I know it shouldn't be that way, but, unfortunately, that's the way it is.

DEAR ABBY: I am 5 foot 7 (stocking feet), 20 years old, and am told I have a very beautiful face and figure. My boy friend, who I am beginning to love dearly, is 5 foot 6. David is very handsome, but on the stocky side.

I find that the difference in our height bothers me. I am very uncomfortable when he and I are out together, and I keep hoping we won't run into people we know. When we do, I imagine they are thinking: "My goodness, SHE is taller than HE is!" I realize that a man's height shouldn't be all that important, but I am torn apart worrying about what people think and say about it.

I'm beginning to think it just won't work out between David and me. I'm so afraid if I marry him I will always think maybe I should have waited for a taller man.

TORN DEAR TORN: If the one-inch difference in height is such a serious source of concern to you now, you'd be wise to look for a taller fellow. You say a man's height shouldn't be THAT important, but face it, to you it IS!

The much shorter folk festival, the famous Fort Griffin Fandango, opened Thursday at Albany, and its last three showings will be this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Saturday evenings. The folks at Albany do this all by themselves, from costuming to staging to original music, in a picturesque outdoor setting that uses surrounding hills not only for back drops but for staging.

Texas Tech Repertory Theatre opens its 13-day season Friday, 8:15 p.m., with Robert Anderson's Broadway hit, "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running," which is a collection of four uninhibited peeks at social mores. Saturday, George Kelly's classic "The Show-Off" is on stage, followed July 1 by John Guare's new musical satire, "The House of Blue Leaves." Each of the plays will be presented four times in the same sequence through July with the final Anderson presentation. Tickets ($2.50-$1.50) may be had at the university theatre box, or by calling 806-742-2153.

Pickwick Players of the Midland Community Theatre school will begin their sixth summer season Thursday with a merry musical real-life "Punch and Judy." The company will open its musical, "Runaway," a modern Tom Sawyer piece, July 19, and on Aug. 9 begins "The Great Cross-Country Run."

Those travelling in deep East Texas will be interested to know that activities at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian reservation (Texas' only one) are now in full swing. The reservation is 90 miles north of Houston on IS 190 between Livingston and Woodville, in the heart of the Big Thicket. Information may be had from Route 3, Box 640, Livingston 77351.

The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts in Fair Park has opened its summer season with two exhibitions of widely varied interests — old master prints from the Calvin Homes Collection, and primitive paintings of Velox Ward. Both exhibitions are free and open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sunday 1 p.m.-5 p.m.

All systems are still "go" for the annual Fourth of July Art Show in the Scurry County Barns, Towle Park, Snyder. Any artist may enter works in three divisions at $2 per work. Information may be had from Mrs. Melvin Lee 915-573-2754.

The Globe of the Southwest kicked off the Odessa Summer Shakespeare Festival Friday and Saturday with "The Tempest" and "Comedy of Errors," and with "Cyrano" throughout the season. These continue on weekends.

GOP Mails Out Appeal For Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee has sent out an urgent appeal for contributions that acknowledges the party is in trouble because of the Watergate scandal.

GOP officials repeatedly have said that the party organization would not be the loser in Watergate because it was not involved in 1972 wrongdoing or coverup attempts.

In the new appeal for money, the chairman of the Republican National Finance Committee said once again that no one has suggested the organization "is even remotely connected to Watergate."

But David K. Wilson, in a June 15 letter to potential contributors, said "The Republican party is in trouble. We need your help."

"The deplorable Watergate scandal, in which a few misguided political adventurers exercised extraordinarily bad judgment and performed assorted questionable acts, has cast a pall of suspicion over the activities of the entire Republican party," Wilson said.

Just exactly what the dollars-and-cents impact of Watergate has been on the GOP committee's fund-raising is difficult to pin down.

Quarterly reports filed with the General Accounting Office last week show, at least through May 31, that the Republican National Committee was maintaining its traditional two-to-one edge over Democrats in fund raising.

Republican officials said in earlier interviews that their direct mail efforts were running ahead of the comparable off-year election period in 1971 and apparently had been unaffected by Watergate. Small contributions reached through these efforts account for 80 to 90 per cent of all contributions, GOP officials said.

But the committee conceded that in the $1,000-and-up category, contributions were off 25 to 50 per cent. They said the $135,000 taken in from large contributors through May 31 was far short of the pace needed to meet a $1 million goal for the year in large gifts.

Robert P. Odell Jr., treasurer of the Republican finance committee, said the decision to send out a special appeal June 15 was made after earlier disappointing response from large contributors.

"We decided to go back and hit them over the head with Watergate," said Odell.

ORGANIZER OF A 'HOOKERS' GUILD — Margo St. James, 35-year-old ex-farm girl from Bellingham, Wash., is the self-styled champion of San Francisco's prostitutes and organizer of a "hookers' guild" to battle for the rights of ladies of the night everywhere.

She Battles For Rights Of Ladies Of The Night

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — "Ooh, I'm late!" the slim, tanned ex-prostitute yelled, leaping from the car. Hurrying up the steps she called back: "Mental health meeting, y'know."

Her faded denim and floppan's shirt vanished into a Nob Hill brownstone a few steps from the Fairmont Hotel.

It was another conference in the crowded schedule of Margo St. James, self-styled champion of San Francisco's prostitutes and organizer of a "hookers' guild" to battle for the rights of the ladies of the night everywhere.

The 35-year-old ex-farm girl from Bellingham, Wash., said that in the three months since she started "Coyote—a Loose Women's Organization," she's enrolled more than 1,000 paying members from all over the country.

"They include hookers, housewives, old ladies, men—all kinds of people," Miss St. James said in an interview.

"They say it's wonderful. They want to be members."

Members of Coyote—a name she chose because of the animal's reputed promiscuousness in the wild kingdom—pay $3 or more for enrollment, carry cards and wear buttons, which say simply, "Coyote."

Miss St. James, who lives in a modernistic cabin on the slope of Mt. Tamalpais across the Golden Gate Bridge, spends much of her time at the Coyote office in the city.

She also supervises publication of a handout newspaper entitled "Coyote" which seeks the support of influential personalities and denounces alleged police brutalization of the prostitute.

Her advisory board includes some of the best names in San Francisco.

Miss St. James said her aim is to reform the way American society hassles, punishes and stigmatizes its prostitutes.

"This is an essential service industry," she said. "And some radical changes are now due."

Arms For Sale

With the Southeast Asian war at a state of almost-peace, certainly as far as our participation is concerned, the administration apparently is seeking other markets for our war materials.

At least that is part of the explanation of announcements by the administration of new armament sales.

In the Middle East, we have agreed to sell Phantom jets to Saudi Arabia and Kuwait, Persian Gulf Arab states still friendly to this government. The sales may in turn stimulate additional Phantom purchases by Israel.

Closer to home, the administration has moved to make possible additional aircraft sales, and presumably sales of other armaments, to Latin American countries. The list of nations now approved for armaments purchases includes, somewhat surprisingly, Allende's Chile.

There are, of course, diplomatic considerations, too. It is argued that if we do not sell armaments to these nations, others will — and that we will lose influence in the process.

That may well be true; certainly France would like to have the Arab money which is going for Phantom purchases for its Mirages instead. And the Soviet Union no doubt would like to enter into arms agreements with Latin American states.

Still, this escalation of arms sales is difficult to justify on moral grounds, whatever the other considerations. The areas in question — the Middle East and Latin America — are both volatile. In the case of the Middle East, the danger of war has been constant for years. In Latin America, a wave of political change and a rise in nationalism present us with perhaps our most perplexing problem for the future.

How much will our willingness to funnel arms into these areas contribute to an increase in tension? And in the case of Latin America, where poverty remains epidemic, diversion of government funds to expensive military hardware would seem to guarantee either social unrest threatening political stability, or an increase in governmental oppression to keep that from happening.

May Be Healthy Thing

One job in Texas state government which is in no danger of going begging is the post of speaker of the House.

Already, 10 legislators have declared themselves candidates for the post with the next Legislature, which will convene in January, 1975. Among them is Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi; not a candidate is present Speaker Price Daniel Jr.

There will be the usual claim of a majority of "pledges" made by candidates, followed by disclaimers from other prospective speakers that the one doing the claiming has anything like the number of pledges mentioned. And the upcoming session of the Legislature sitting as a constitutional convention will no doubt see a full display of speaker campaigning — as it is likely to see plenty of other politicking, since it comes during an election year.

It's difficult to know what to make of all this, except to observe that at this point no speaker candidate appears close to having a lock on the job. And that may be a healthy thing, encouraging the trend to be a more independent Legislature and away from the abuse of power by speakers, culminating in the Gus Mutscher scandal-rocked regime.

Yum-Yum Sand

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

This and that: You are what you eat, so they say. Be that as it may, I see where a Chicago fellow they called The Sandman died at the age of 52 the other day. His real handle was Thomas LaBott.

HE EARNED his sobriquet because of his fondness for eating warm sand, a habit that endured most of his life. He especially enjoyed the delicacy with a sprinkle of special red sauce.

The Sandman developed such a craving for the grainy soil he would send a neighbor down to the beach two or three times a week for pillow cases full of sand.

HIS WEAKNESS for sand didn't kill him, his doctors insisted. He was being treated for a kidney ailment shortly before his death but the thing that did him in was a bout with the flu.

He ate other things because his weight never varied, but nothing tasted as good to him as sand. Baked, fried or sauteed — it didn't matter with him.

Widespread eating of clay, chalk, paint chips and starch has been reported to medical science. The condition is called "pica" — a craving for unnatural food. The taste for sand is considered quite rare, however. Perhaps only a child could understand.

Next time the wife craves a pickle at 2:30 in the morning, thank providence for her normal craving. Think how far you might have to go if her appetite ran to sand.

YOU KNOW you've made a few laps in this marathon of life when you've reached the age where you want to see how long the family buggy will last instead of seeing how fast it will go.

I liked the story about the seven-year old boy who lost a fight to a neighborhood kid. He fled to his own sanctuary, dialed the number of his antagonist's house and had him paged.

"Hello, Billy," he said, when the bully answered, "this is my father talking. You better leave Sammy alone, you hear?"

I once had a minister friend who would greet me thusly: "For Heaven's sake, what are you doing?"

I ONCE KNEW a soprano who claimed she insured her voice for $50,000, but I never did find out what she did with the money.

I once knew a girl, who probably knew her, too, who swore she'd never been kissed — and you couldn't blame her for swearing.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

There is a person in our church who is under 65, and yet has been on Social Security disability for several years. He runs a pulpwood business, drives a tractor, goes fishing, etc. How can he be a Christian, however, and persist in something that seems so illegal?

A.E.T. If you check with your local Social Security office, you will discover they operate under rather strict rules. In order to qualify for disability payments before age 65, I am told you must have worked five of the last ten years, and be totally disabled — a fact which must be medically verified.

Now, obviously, a heart patient, for example, can still go fishing, and appear to lead a somewhat normal life, yet not be able to be employed. Perhaps this is the case with your friend, or it may be that disability payments are coming from some other source.

In any event, you make a valid point about the importance of appearances. There is an absolute need in Christian living for honesty and integrity. Nothing is so destructive of Christian influence as shabby living that denies the very principles which the believer professes.

Your letter is a good occasion to recall the words of Paul in Romans 12:17, "Do things in such a way that everyone can see you are honest clear through." Humanly speaking, that's impossible, but thank God, He not only gives the precepts, but the power to obey them.

Rattle A Rattlesnake

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is so confining. One never gets to do a tenth of the oddball things that occur to his mind.

Walking the treadmill of the daily glory keeps us so busy that the years and our lives slip away, and before we are ready for it we face the Great Confrontation that stills our dreams and footsteps forever.

Even if we lived to be thrice a hundred years old, most of us would never find time to—

- Play leapfrog with a kangaroo.
- Rattle a rattlesnake.
- Get a cat-eared book to put next to the dog-eared books in your library.
- Walk down the steps of the Washington Monument backward.
- Ride around on the arms of a windmill.
- Own a duck farm.
- Have a dentist pull out his false choppers to show you how nice yours are going to look.
- Fail in love with a barnyard who graduated summa cum laude from Vassar.
- Sow crabgrass in the Harvard Yard.
- Dunk a doughnut with Margaret Mead.
- Find out just how numb a numbskull is.
- Steal the hoop from a girl in a hoopskirt.
- Wind Big Ben.
- Buy a talking horse.
- Actually put the eight-ball in the side pocket.
- Play backgammon on Raquel Welch's midriff.
- Share the expenses of a love nest with a lady income tax collector.
- Meet a softshell crab with a hard-nosed attitude.
- Erect a new belfry for homeless bats.
- But enough of this idle day-dreaming, kids. The recess is over. Everybody back to his desk.

Revived Reagan

Robert Novak

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — While Gov. Ronald Reagan has publicly downgraded the Watergate scandal and unreservedly defended President Nixon, his top advisers are privately urging cool detachment from the White House as part of their grand strategy for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination.

THE STRATEGY: to present Reagan to the nation as the successful architect of clean, frugal government, free of scandal and geared to lower taxes. Reagan's proposed state constitutional amendment to limit state spending and force tax reductions is the keystone of that strategy. But less overtly, Reagan's battle plan intends to make the point that a Watergate scandal could never happen with Ronald Reagan in the White House.

The strategy seems feasible. Friends and foes agree that Reagan is more vigorous than at any time in years. With Mr. Nixon's popularity falling sharply because of Watergate, polls show Reagan has recovered spectacularly from his 1971-72 slump — thanks significantly to his tax-cut scheme. Indeed, Reagan is now facing, and unequivocally rejecting, pleas by conservative money men to seek a third term for governor next year.

THUS, THE relationship between President Nixon and Gov. Reagan has gone full cycle since last year, when Nixon operatives viewed Reagan's declining popularity as a handicap for the President's re-election campaign and tried to keep Reagan from campaigning in California. Now, eyeing Mr. Nixon's problems with the barest sympathy, Reagan insiders want to minimize links with the White House.

In private, a great deal is said here about Watergate. "Nothing like Watergate conceivably could have happened in California," a top Reagan lieutenant told us. In contrast to the President, say the governor's aides, Reagan conducts regular cabinet meetings and press conferences and provides easy access to state officials, legislators and reporters.

DISENGAGEMENT FROM the White House is only the necessary backdrop to Reagan's main thrust today: his constitutional amendment permanently limiting spending from tax revenues and forcing an immediate 20 per cent tax rebate, expected to appear on the November California ballot.

Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, believes pressure from local governments, teachers and other lobbies will kill the Reagan plan. But almost all other politicians feel Reagan has a sure winner. Some Democrats grumble that the Democratic-controlled legislature played into Reagan's hands by not passing their own tax rebate.

SO INTENSE is public resentment against big government that few Democrats challenge the Reagan plan frontally and no significant Republican has publicly opposed it, even though many privately consider it an abomination. Nor was the Reagan camp discouraged by the icy reception given his tax plan at the recent national governors conference, but Reagan plans to peddle it nationwide.

UNABLE TO convince Reagan to run for governor, some money men are urging him to persuade all Republican hopefuls for governor to withdraw in favor of Caspar Weinberger, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. Reagan has shown no interest whatever in this scheme.

On the contrary, having revived his fortunes here, the plan now makes Reagan — free of the Watergate taint — an increasingly formidable challenger for national party leadership.

Glue Sniffing Dangerous

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: You have heard a lot about drugs. Yes, I know what you said, but we can't seem to reach our son, going on 18.

He sniffs glue for kicks. He won't work, so that is all he can afford. He even got his girlfriend to start sniffing, so I can't talk to her, either.

I have told them what you already said about the danger, but they said I must have read it wrong, as they don't have anything wrong with their minds when it is all over. All it does is give them some fun, and will not harm them.

They claim they know how far to go and they don't intend to go so far that it will hurt them. Please, oh, please, tell it in the paper once more so I can show them in black and white.—A.R.

There's nobody so smart as the know-it-all who is "going on 18."

As far as I'm concerned, I think these kids must have had something wrong with their minds to begin with, else they would know enough not to monkey with glue-sniffing.

The claim that they "know how far to go" is, of course, hogwash. The glue-sniffing is intoxication, and intoxicated people, whether intoxicated by glue fumes or something else, don't have very good judgment, although they usually think they do.

There's a sad record of the dangerous and sometimes deadly things that people have done under the influence of glue-sniffing.

But even aside from that, the habit has very dangerous long-range effects — blood changes which, among other things, can damage the brain, and irreversible liver damage, which the user does not realize until it has already happened, and it's too late.

Glue-sniffing has proved itself repeatedly to be so dangerous that non-toxic glues are now on the market.

All I can say is that I hope your son (and the girl) will realize that the warnings about glue-sniffing aren't because somebody wants to take the fun out of life. They're to take some of the danger out of life.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter is 17 and in the last two years her teeth have begun to protrude and there is some discomfort in her jaws.

She has become very self-conscious and it is having a pronounced effect on her personality.

We visited an orthodontist who said the only possible way to correct it was with full braces for two years.

Since part of her problem is cosmetic, full braces create as great a problem as the uncorrected malocclusion. Does she have any alternative? Whom can we consult?—Mrs. S.C.

You might discuss the problem with an oral surgeon — but if the surgeon also says braces are the answer, I wouldn't delay an instant longer. Maybe she doesn't want to wear braces for two years, but isn't that a whole lot better than being stuck with her problem for life?

Faulty "bite" or malocclusion can cause some pretty serious problems quite aside from her appearance, too. And if she's already having some discomfort in her jaws, I'd urge that you waste no time in getting some correction started.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Senator To Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire plans to end 25 years of congressional service next year.

The 73-year-old Cotton said Thursday that his 30th year as a senator will also be his last. Cotton said he would not seek re-election in 1974 because of his wife's ill-health and because he would be 80 years old at the end of another six-year term.

Defamation By Letter

Eighteen-year-old Phyllis stalled so long in paying for a dress that the store's collection department decided to get tough. They fired off a nasty letter to Phyllis' home, where she lived with her parents.

BUT INSTEAD of paying the bill, she filed suit against the store for defamation of character.

"I was so mortified," she told the court. "My parents opened the letter and read all those awful things about me."

However, the court said the store could not fairly have expected the letter to be read by anyone else. Denying Phyllis' claim, the court said it is simply not customary nowadays for parents to open the mail of an 18-year-old girl.

WHEN SHOULD you assume that a letter you send may be read by someone other than the addressee? This question, which is sometimes crucial in a defamation suit, is usually answered on the basis of "reasonable foreseeability" — as in the above case.

THUS, DIFFERENT circumstances may bring a different answer. In an other case a store wrote a letter to a 14-year-old boy, accusing him of theft and threatening to send him to prison. He showed the letter to his parents, who promptly brought a defamation suit on their son's behalf.

In its defense, the store argued that the boy had only himself to blame for making the contents known to others. But the court held the store liable anyhow. The court said that with a boy so young and a letter so menacing, it was reasonably foreseeable that he would show it to his parents.

ONE CORRESPONDENT tried something tricky. He wrote several scurrilous letters to a neighbor, but mailed them to the addresses of other people on the block. And he left the envelopes unsealed.

Each of the recipients peeked at the contents before passing the letter along. This was grounds, a court ruled afterward, for holding the letter writer liable for making his statements public. The court felt he had not only expected but actually counted on human curiosity to work just as it did.

Everyone Has Chance In 1973 Wimbledon Meet

LONDON (AP) — A week after his seventeenth birthday, Bjorn Borg, Swedish tennis star, is scheduled to play today on the famed center court at Wimbledon.

And because of the chaos caused by the walk-out of 72 members of the Association of Tennis Professionals, Borg is rated a 16 to 1 shot to win this prestigious tourney.

Seeded sixth on the strength of his showing in the French Championships three weeks ago, Borg was scheduled to play Premjit Lall of India.

It is tradition for the defending champion to open the show on the center court. That honor was to have gone to Stan Smith of San Pines, S.C., who won last year. Smith, however, is involved in the boycott in support of Yugoslav star Nikki Pilic, and the America Davis Cupper will not play. In Smith's absence, the honor goes to Ilie Nastase, who lost to Smith in last year's final. The Romanian top seed in the tourney, and a 2-1 favorite, faces Jans Joachim Pletetz of West Germany at the start of his bid for the title.

All seats for the center court and No. 1 court were sold months ago long before the International Lawn Tennis Federation suspended Pilic for failing to play for Yugoslavia in the Davis Cup.

A spokesman for the All-England Club said the walkout would not affect attendances.

"In fact, we have had more inquiries about tickets in the last week, during this controversy over Pilic, than ever before," the spokesman said.

Yanks Clinch NL Honors

Dale Pittman singled in the winning run and Mark Pos hit a grand slam home run to spark the Yankees to an 8-7 win over the Lions Saturday night and wrap up first place in the National League.

Pos, the winning hurler, had two singles to go with his grand slam as he led the Yankees' 10-hit attack while Pittman and Jim Robinson managed two singles each and Ronald Sundry, Mark Harris and Rodney Davidson, all had one. Ricky Cluck was a defensive standout for the Ranks.

Rob Wrinkle rapped a pair of singles for the Lions, and Mike Anderson, Clint Elliot and Ricky Thompson hit one each.

In other Little League action Saturday, the Jets destroyed the Cabots 28-6 in the American League and the Texas League champion Tigers whipped the Dodgers 9-3.

Billy Joe Minchew knocked three hits in the Jets' winning affair, and Barry Rossion, Jim Cordes and Leslie Dixon all chipped in a pair as the team lifted its mark to 9-9. Rodney Floyd, the winning pitcher, also tripled.

For the Cabots, now 10-8, Scott Augustine and Robert Brown led the way with two hits apiece. Bret Griffith was the losing hurler.

David Montanez chalked up his ninth victory without a loss in pitching the Tigers to their 15th decision in 18 outings. But most of the excitement was over Freddie Martinez, who smacked three home runs and a single, while Montanez chipped in another round-tripper.

Adam Vela ripped two doubles and Eddie Hernandez and Brocky Jones had a double each in the win.

Joe Willie Jones suffered the loss for the Dodgers.

VICTORIOUS REFLECTIONS — Bruce Crampton of Australia, reflected in the lake in front of the 16th green at Akron's Firestone Country Club, waves after birdying the 625-yard hole during the final round of the American Golf Classic Sunday. Crampton shot a 68 on the last 18 to win the event with a seven-under-par 273 72-hole total.

Aussie Nears Million Mark

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Bruce Crampton is looking for a million dollars. It's just a matter of time before the Australian veteran happily embraces that magic figure in career earnings.

"I think I can safely expect to go past the million this year," Crampton chuckled after winning the $32,000 first prize Sunday in the American Golf Classic.

His scrambling 68 in the final round—he missed seven greens and saved par on five of them—nailed down his fourth victory of the season, and pushed his earnings for the year to $204,209.

The 37-year-old veteran of 17 years on the American pro tour became the first foreigner ever to go past $200,000 in a single season and he vaulted past Jack Nicklaus into the No. 1 spot on the season's money list.

Further, he pushed his career earnings to $995,652, just $4,348 short of joining Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Lee Trevino as the game's only $1 million winners.

"It's a tremendous feeling," said Crampton, who was flanked by wife Joan and son Jay. "The money and the titles are important of course, but there's a tremendous feeling of personal satisfaction to know that I have competed so successfully over here."

Crampton won by three strokes with a 273 total, seven under par on the 7,180 yard Firestone Country Club course.

Veteran Gay Brewer, Lanny Wadkins and Bob Murphy were next at 276. Murphy closed up with a 67, Wadkins had a 68 and Brewer 71.

Brawls Highlight AL Play; Royals Drop Texas Twice

By The Associated Press
There's some bad feeling between the Cleveland Indians and Milwaukee Brewers and the Kansas City Royals and Texas Rangers, but for feeling bad about the plight of the Detroit Tigers?

The Indians and Brewers, Royals and Rangers added some extra-curricular fistfights to their scheduled baseball activities Sunday while the only thing the Tigers added was two more losses, their sixth and seventh in a row.

When the swinging and shouting were done, the red-hot New York Yankees had won a doubleheader from the Tigers 3-2 and 2-1, the Brewers had out-slugged the Indians 8-3, the Royals had whipped the Rangers twice 7-4 and 10-6, the Orioles had dropped a 1-0 squeaker to the Boston Red Sox, the Angels had defeated the Twins 3-0 after dropping the opener 5-1 and the Chicago White Sox recovered from a 7-0 drubbing by the Oakland A's to take the nightcap 11-1.

Darrell Porter and Tim Johnson drove in two runs apiece in the fight-marred fifth inning and George Scott homered in the sixth as the Brewers turned back the Indians.

Both benches and bullpens emptied after Milwaukee's Bob Coluccio was thrown out in a collision at the plate and had words with Cleveland catcher

John Ellis. When they started for each other, Brewer third baseman Don Money jumped in and started fighting with Ellis. In Kansas City, Ed Kirkpatrick of the Royals was ejected from the second game after engaging in a brief fight with Texas pitcher Lloyd Allen. Kirkpatrick went from first to third on Lou Piniella's two-run single in the first inning and tried to score when Piniella was trapped rounding first. Allen covered home plate in the ensuing rundown and when he tagged Kirkpatrick, the KC player swung at him and they exchanged punches with both benches emptying.

Church Golf Win To Super Stars

The First Nazarene Super Stars carded a 165 for low team honors in the Big Spring Church Indoor Golf League last week.

David Alton was the top scorer with a 40. Low man for the week was Jay Shaw of the Midwest Baptist Huskies, with a 88.

Cardinals Notch Victory No. 13

The Big Spring Cardinals notched up their 13th decision without a defeat Sunday by stopping the previously unbeaten Hobbs, N.M. Conquistadores 10-7 in semi-pro baseball action at Stear Park.

Andy Gamboa slugged out four hits and John Grizzle had three, including a three-run homer, in the 13-hit effort. Benny Marquez, with two hits, and Sammy Rodriguez, Pat Martinez, Billy Pineda and Jessie Martinez with one each aided the cause.

Jody Florez was the winning pitcher.

Ed Kranepool drove in three runs with a pair of doubles and Tom Seaver pitched New York to its victory over Pittsburgh.

Big Spring's Tiger Cubs Fall To Odessans By 15-5

ODESSA — The Odessa El Dorados lashed out 12 hits and took advantage of eight enemy errors as they toppled the Big Spring Tiger Cubs 15-5 in semi-pro baseball.

The Dorados broke it open with a six-run fourth inning, and added four more in the fifth as the Tiger Cubs slumped to 8-6 on the year. Adam Yanez was the losing pitcher.

Tom Arista had a two-run homer to lead the Cubs, while Gilbert Pesina slapped a double and a single and Billy Diaz tripled. Mike Gamboa also had a double, and Yanez and Ernest Garcia had singles.

Next Sunday the Tiger Cubs host Seminole in a double-header.

ASTROS SWEEP TWO FROM GIANTS McMullen Sparks LA Spree

In case you were wondering, Ken McMullen still works for the Los Angeles Dodgers. And if you don't believe it, just ask the Cincinnati Reds.

McMullen, all but totally absent from the Los Angeles scene this season, appeared out of the deep recesses of the Dodger dugout and destroyed the Reds during the weekend.

The veteran third baseman ripped his second homer in as many days Sunday and drove in three runs in Los Angeles' 5-2 victory over Cincinnati.

McMullen's hot weekend helped Los Angeles open a five-game bulge over San Francisco in the NL West. Steve Garvey also homered for the Dodgers and Al Downing won his sixth game in nine decisions.

League Sunday, Houston swept a doubleheader from San Francisco, 7-6 and 8-3, Philadelphia edged Montreal 5-4, New York defeated Pittsburgh 5-2, Chicago shut out St. Louis 2-0 and Atlanta beat San Diego 6-1.

Doug Rader's bases-loaded single in the ninth inning drove in Houston's winning run in the first game against the Giants and then the Astro third baseman contributed a homer and a two-run double to the nightcap victory.

Cesar Cedeno tagged a grand slam in the first game but the Giants wiped out a six-run Houston lead on a pair of three-run homers by Bobby Bonds and Willie McCovey before Rader's infield single decided the issue.

In the second game, the Astros snapped a 1-1 tie with two runs in the seventh and then Rader homered in the eighth and added two more RBIs with a double in the four-run ninth.

Philadelphia got solo homers from Tommy Hutton, Bob Boone and Cesar Tovar to defeat Montreal. The Expos made it close on Ken Singleton's three-run homer in the eighth but Billy Wilson saved the victory for Jim Lomborg.

Atlanta's hitters couldn't do much about San Diego's Steve Arlin, managing just one hit off

20 LITTLE CIGARS
WINCHESTER
You're a big boy now. And when your taste grows up, your smoke should, too. Winchester is a very mature smoke. Ask any woman. She'll tell you that Winchester is slim and sexy, with a filtered smoothness. Mild and light. She'll tell you that Winchester isn't heavy-handed on aroma. One gentle whiff whispers in her ear: "It's not a cigarette. Not just another little cigar. It's a whole 'nother smoke.' Very adult. And she'll tell you that when you're man enough for Winchester, you're man enough for her.
Winchester. It's a whole 'nother smoke.

Milling Plant Closes To Protest Squeeze
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A major supplier of corn products to breakfast cereal manufacturers and brewers says it is shutting down indefinitely because of President Nixon's 60-day price freeze.
Robert P. Evans Jr., president of the 72-year-old Evans Milling Co. of Indianapolis, said the company sent home its 130 employees on Saturday for an indefinite period of time.
Evans said the price of firm receives from Kellogg, Post, General Mills and other customers are frozen, while the price of raw corn Evans buys are not.
The plant processes 6.5 million bushels of corn annually.
Evans said there was little question in his mind that similar companies throughout the country will have to close until the Cost of Living Council clarifies its position on prices.

TWO DROWNINGS, TWO FATAL STABBINGS Texas Violent Deaths

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents took 19 lives and Texas counted a total of 31 violent deaths during the weekend.

There also were two deaths in a private plane crash, two drownings and two fatal stabbings in the toll recorded between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Another crash Sunday killed three motorists four miles south of Austin on Interstate 35 as a car which officers said was traveling the wrong direction on the divided roadway collided with one carrying a Killeen family. Five other persons suffered injuries.

Officers listed the dead in the accident near Austin as Ann Doris Kinard, 58, of Port Arthur; Ricarda Macias, 73, of San Antonio, and Dorothy Macias, 31, of Killeen.

These were among the other victims:

RECOVER BODY
Pilot Robert Reagan, 43, and photographer Rolando Marroquin, 34, both of Waco, died Sunday when the Cessna 150 plane they had rented to take aerial pictures went into a power dive, crashed and exploded near Waco's Madison Cooper Airport.

Billy Joe Dominguez, 11, of Lubbock drowned Sunday as he and a brother played in a water-filled excavation. Firemen recovered the body.
David Lee Thomason, 18, of Humble was killed along U.S. 59 Sunday when he was struck by a hit-and-run driver. A companion said he and Thomason were walking to a campsite.
Deborah Ann Short, 16, of Houston was shot to death Sunday when she and her escort argued after she playfully punched him, police reported.
Johnnie Lee Williams, 33, surrendered after the shooting and was charged with murder.

GIRL TROUBLE
The body of Jose Cruz Canales, about 35, was found Sunday floating in a sewage treatment plant at Levelland. Officers investigating the apparent slaying said the farm laborer's head was almost severed.
Separate disputes involving girl friends led to two Dallas men's deaths. Charles Ross, 34, was shot to death with a .25 caliber pistol Saturday morning. Six hours later Richard Paul Taylor, 33, of Dallas was fatally stabbed during an argument with a 31-year-old man on a parking lot. Police held suspects in both cases.
Louis B. Odoman, 23, drowned in Dallas' North Lake while three friends watched Saturday. They told officers they thought Odoman was drowning as he thrashed and floundered in the water.
Two patrolmen of the Texas Department of Public Safety shot and killed Angelo Watts, 32, of San Augustine late Saturday night. The officers said they stopped Watts for a traffic violation and he opened fire. They shot back and Watts died with eight bullet wounds in his body.

ABILENE TRAGEDY
Sylvia Guerrero, 6, of Abilene was killed and seven members of her family injured Saturday in a one-car accident in the West Central Texas city. Officers said a car driven by the child's mother, Maria Guerrero, hit a signpost, a gas meter, a telephone pole and a motel building.
A two-car collision on U.S. 57 in San Angelo killed Franklin Mayse, 19, of Merton and injured seven other persons Friday night.
Millard E. Driggers, 37, of Hughes Springs was killed early Saturday when he was run down by a hit-and-run driver on Texas 259 about four miles north of Naples in Northeast Texas, state police said.
A passenger on a motorcycle,

Donna Gayle Saine, 18, of Borger, was killed Friday night when the machine pitched into a gully. The driver of the motorcycle suffered injuries.
An Odessa man, Leo Richardson, died of injuries suffered in a car-pickup truck crash three miles west of Odessa Saturday.

Another West Texas accident killed William Jackson Jr., 26, of Aspermont. He died in a fall from a pickup truck Sunday night near Rule.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1 — East-West vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠A7 ♠A9754 ♠AJ843 ♠8

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Three spades. With this attractive distribution, you should give partner one more chance. A single raise at this point is a mild effort inasmuch as partner could have passed two diamonds.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K1094 ♠QJ4 ♠J98 ♠A83

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Five clubs. Your one-over-one response and mere preference for partner's first bid suit have shown nothing above minimum strength. In fact you have an above average hand facing a game forcing jump and there could easily be a slam. You should show the ace of clubs.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠KQ8 ♠10842 ♠1075 ♠KJ7

The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass Pass Pass 1 ♠
Pass 1 NT Pass Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Double. You have a good prospect of winning at least three or possibly four tricks so that a penalty of at least 200 is in view, with a chance for more.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠62 ♠A7 ♠AJ10985 ♠KQ3

The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass 1 ♠ 1 ♠ Dble.

What do you bid now?
A.—While you have sufficient excess values to justify a free rebid, you should refrain from doing so merely to give your partner the courtesy of the road. He may be able to punish one spade, the rescue bid. If so, you must not get in his way.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AK984 ♠A842 ♠AJ95

The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♠ Dble. 2 ♠ 3 ♠

What do you bid now?
A.—Inasmuch as your partner made a free bid of three hearts you should be mildly interested in a slam. This intention should be flashed by means of a cue bid of three spades. Observe that we do not consider the hand quite strong enough for an immediate cue bid, but now that partner has spoken voluntarily the hand shapes up to be much more impressive.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A4 ♠KQ84 ♠AK102 ♠693

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—At least five hearts, with six hearts an acceptable second choice. Valued at hearts, your hand contains 17 points and partner has promised a holding of approximately 16 in high cards.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠AKJ10 ♠AK ♠AQ842 ♠J8

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—This is a close choice and, in the special circumstances, we are inclined to favor a rather unusual bid, namely three hearts. If partner chooses to go on to four that may be the best contract. However, we would accept as correct a direct raise to three so trump.

Q. 8 — East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠5 ♠6 ♠Q10987642 ♠K75

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid?
A.—It is difficult to lay down rules for hands containing eight card suits. It is equally difficult to estimate their trick-taking possibility. It amounts to sheer guesswork and our guess is in favor of a five diamond bid on the theory that there is more to be gained than lost by taking this action.

Dr. Billy Jones Goes To Memphis

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Billy Jones, president of Southwest Texas State University, will be leaving his post to become president of Memphis State University at Nashville. His appointment was announced Friday.

Claims Nixon's Gasoline Allocation Plan Working

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charles J. DiBona, special consultant to the President on energy, and J. Leslie Reed of the Interior Department's Office of Oil and Gas claimed that President Nixon's voluntary gasoline allocation program is working.

The two men said the completion of the nation's spring agricultural planting was evidence of this. The remarks were made during the Southern Governors Conference energy seminar here Saturday.

However, the claims of the two federal officials were challenged by seminar participants from North Carolina, where some farmers say they are out of oil for tobacco curing that starts next week. Participants from the Mississippi, Alabama, Texas and Arkansas agreed with the North Carolina representatives.
