

Dean Believes Nixon Involved In Cover-Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III testified today that he had hoped until mid-April that President Nixon would come forward to fully explain his own role in the Watergate affair.

When that did not happen, Dean told Senate Watergate investigators, he began "to explain highlights of some of the things that involved the President to federal prosecutors."

Dean acknowledged that in his televised testimony he had accused the President of Watergate cover-up involvement that linked him with criminal offenses.

"I'm telling the truth as I know it," he insisted as committee members and lawyers questioned him point by point about his assertions that Nixon was involved in the scandal cover-up.

Dean, in a statement he described as personal opinion, said he believes White House aides probably relayed to Nixon information about the wiretapping and initial cover-up efforts.

Dean was asked by Fred Thompson, Republican counsel for the committee, why he had waited until April 15 to begin telling federal prosecutors his accusations that Nixon participated in covering up the wiretapping affair.

COME FORWARD
Dean said he expected Nixon "to come forward and explain his involvement in the way I thought he would."

Dean said he had told Nixon about cover-up actions as early as Sept. 15, 1972. He said he finally told Nixon last March 21 that presidential aides H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, and Dean himself could be indicted in the Watergate scandal.

Dean said the President did not seem surprised at that.

When the cover-up persisted, Dean said, he went to federal prosecutors on April 2, and began telling them broadly of presidential involvement on April 15.

Committee members and lawyers devoted much of their questioning to testing Dean's credibility. At one point Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., asked Dean why he thinks people should believe him, rather than the President.

BEST WAY
"I have been asked here to come up and tell the truth," Dean said. "I've told it the best way I know."

Dean claimed no first-hand knowledge that the President knew in advance of the Watergate operation, or of the instant cover-up effort.

He testified that Gordon Strachan, aide to Haldeman, knew what was going on at the Committee for the Re-election of the President in connection with Watergate.

"My opinion is that he would report everything he knew in some form to Mr. Haldeman," Dean said.

(Samuel Dash, committee attorney, quizzed Dean.)

"I believe he probably would have reported it," Dean replied.

After accusing Nixon and his top aides of covering up the Watergate wiretapping affair, Dean returned to the witness chair to answer questions about the 245-page statement he read to the Senate panel Monday.

Pressed about his own role in the cover-up of campaign involvement in the wiretapping at Democratic headquarters, the former presidential lawyer said that operation was under way within two days of the burglary on June 17, 1972.

WAY OF LIFE
"I just became an instant way of life," he said. "And I participated in it." He said he acted on instructions from Haldeman, former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman and other officials.

Dean said in retrospect he should have done more to stop the wiretapping plans when they were first proposed in his presence.

In the opening statement, which he read during an extended committee session Monday, Dean dined through his long-awaited account of the way Watergate grew into a massive conspiracy to head off a potentially disastrous scandal.

Dean said when he realized that the cover-up was falling apart early this year, he "began to unfold everything I knew about the case" to Watergate prosecutors he had deceived for months.

Dean said today his motive in unfolding the story to the Watergate committee was not to try to obtain immunity from prosecution for his own Watergate role.

Dash: You're fully aware, Mr. Dean, of charges made, under oath, against the highest official of our land, the President of the United States?

Dean: Yes, I am.
Dash: And being so aware, do you still stand on your statement?

Dean: Yes, I do. . . . I might add this, Mr. Dash. I realize it's almost an impossible task, if it's one man against the other, that I'm up against. And it's not a very pleasant situation. I can only speak what I know to be the facts, and that's what I'm providing this committee.

Today's committee session was one of interrogation. On Monday, Dean provided a recitation, uninterrupted by questioning, of his massive written account of Watergate.

"As I began explaining what I knew, it was evident that the prosecutors had no conception of how extensive the cover-up was," Dean said. "I tried to provide them with all the details that I could remember."

In his account to the Senate panel, Dean set the stage by outlining a pre-campaign atmosphere of a White House staff which worried constantly about anti-Nixon demonstrators, hired spies to tail political opponents and contemplated plans to break the law in search of information.

STORY LEAKED
As his story unfolded, he implicated in the cover-up the President, Haldeman, Ehrlichman, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, special presidential counsel Richard A. Moore, former special presidential counsel Charles W. Colson, ex-acting Federal Bureau of Investigation Director L. Patrick Gray III and a host of aides and assistants.

As pieces of Dean's story leaked out last week, the White House said it would not respond until he testified in public and under oath. On Monday, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon, in San Clemente, Calif., was being kept informed of Dean's testimony but would have no comment on it this week.

Dean's account is in blatant conflict with earlier statements by the President on a number of crucial points.

As Dean recited events, the first meeting at which he discussed the cover-up with the President was Sept. 15, 1972, when Nixon said he was pleased the federal indictments in the Watergate case stopped no higher than former campaign chief counsel G. Gordon Liddy.

"I told him all that I had been able to do was to contain the case and assist in keeping it out of the White House," Dean said. "I also had expressed to him my concern that I was not confident that the cover-up could be maintained indefinitely."

Dean said various administrative and campaign officials proceeded from that point to scuttle a House committee probe—headed by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex.—that "just might stumble into something that would start unraveling the cover-up."

DIRTY TRICK
That accomplished, Dean said he helped accused political saboteur Donald Segretti prepare a story intended to keep Watergate investigators from learning the scope of high-level backing of Segretti's "dirty trick" operation.

Dean said he enlisted the help of Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry E. Petersen and that prosegator Earl J. Silbert tried to gloss over the matter, but that an independent-minded grand juror almost thwarted their efforts by asking Segretti who his backers were.

Segretti named presidential appointments secretary Dwight R. Chapin, Haldeman aide Gordon Strachan and Herbert W. Kalmbach, then Nixon's personal attorney. But, Dean said, when FBI agents "came to interview Chapin and Strachan, they contained themselves in their questioning" and the lid remained in place.

After the election, consideration was given to putting out the facts "to get rid of the Watergate," Dean said. But, when he told Haldeman that could result in indictments against Mitchell, Haldeman, Ehrlichman, Dean, Strachan and campaign deputy Jeb Stuart Magruder, "Haldeman said it doesn't seem to be a very viable option."

So the cover-up continued through the end of 1972 and into the new year "on the general theory that no one would be arrested for what they didn't say," Dean recounted.

Segregation Hearing Date Set For Aug. 28

The hearing on alleged segregation practices of the Big Spring schools will be heard in Midland on Aug. 28, Guilford Jones, school attorney, told board members here Monday night.

The pre-trial hearing will be in Dallas on July 24. Jones told the board that the Corsicana pre-trial hearing had been "rather disastrous with the officials present refusing to accept any plan other than busing students all over town in what they call the 20 per cent rule."

A new detailed letter sent to Supt. S. M. Anderson from the department of Health, Education and Welfare indicates that HEW now claims that neither

Lakeview, Bauer, or Runnels Junior High are in compliance. DIRTICULOUS CLAIM

Anderson stated that the allegation against Runnels is "ridiculous since it has 53 per cent Anglo students and come well within the 20 per cent regulation." The other two schools do not qualify for the HEW ruling which calls for enrollment "within 20 per cent up or down from the school district average in racial breakdown."

The Corsicana board had attended the pre-trial hearing in Dallas hoping for some type of agreement, but walked out in anger and went home, Jones reported. The local board does not plan to attend the pre-trial conference in Dallas, but will send its attorney and administrator.

Board Chairman Roy Watkins named Jim Bill Little, Ralph McLaughlin, Jerry Jenkins and Dan Wilkins to a committee to meet with the school attorney during the next month as necessary.

Due to vacations, it would be difficult to get the entire board together at this time, he noted.

A Supreme Court decision on a Denver, Colo., case apparently has indicated that Mexican-Americans may be listed as a minority group. Heretofore about the only delineation was white-colored. Jones stated that he has not yet obtained a copy of the ruling.

But civil liberties groups and persons in the enforcement field charge that legal restrictions or operating safeguards have in some cases been ignored under pressure to produce results.

'WE'RE DEAD'
Herbert Giglotto, 29, and his wife, Louise, 28, were asleep in their Collinsville home on April 23 when a crash and some screaming awakened them.

"I take about three steps out of bed, and I see these hippies with guns. I told my wife, 'We're dead,'" Giglotto said.

Giglotto says he and his wife were knocked down across their bed and handcuffed. He was threatened with death at gunpoint as the men shouted obscenities at them. One agent flashed a gold badge, which Mrs. Giglotto only glimpsed.

When the men realized their mistake, they left without apology or explanation, Giglotto said.

The Nixon administration has declared "all-out global war on the drug menace." State and local enforcement has been stepped up, partly through the efforts of the Office of Drug Abuse Law Enforcement (DALE) which was set up in the Justice Department in January 1971 to carry the federal attack on drugs, particularly heroin down to the street level.

This campaign has resulted in record numbers of search or arrest warrants and put record numbers of drug traffickers and record amounts of illegal drugs out of circulation.

Dean testified that he told Nixon Sept. 15, 1972 that he had assisted in keeping the case from reaching the White House. That was the day seven men were indicted, none higher in the Nixon re-election campaign than G. Gordon Liddy, the finance committee's chief lawyer.

Nixon and Dean met in the Oval Office, with presidential chief of staff H. R. Haldeman present, Dean said.

"The President told me I had done a good job and he appreciated how difficult a task it had been and the President was pleased that the case had stopped with Liddy," Dean said.

TAKE CREDIT
"I responded that I could not take credit because others had done much more difficult things than I had done. As the President discussed the present status of the situation I told him that all that I had been able to do was to contain the case and assist in keeping it out of the White House. I also told him that I thought that there was a long way to go before this matter would end and that I certainly could make no assurances that the day would not come when this matter would start to unravel."

CLEMENCY: Nixon also said May 22: "At no time did I authorize any offer of executive clemency for the Watergate defendants, nor did I know of any such offer."

Dean said Nixon told him on March 13 and again on April 15 that he had talked to former domestic adviser John D. Ehrlichman and former presidential counselor Charles W. Colson about an offer of clemency that Dean said was made to E. Howard Hunt, one of the men convicted in the case.

COMPARISON
Here is a comparison of what Nixon said and what Dean said:

COVER-UP: The President, in a statement issued May 22, said, "I took no part in, nor was I aware of, any efforts that may have been made to cover up the Watergate."

Dean testified that he told Nixon Sept. 15, 1972 that he had assisted in keeping the case from reaching the White House. That was the day seven men were indicted, none higher in the Nixon re-election campaign than G. Gordon Liddy, the finance committee's chief lawyer.

Nixon and Dean met in the Oval Office, with presidential chief of staff H. R. Haldeman present, Dean said.

Storms Take Five Lives

Rain and occasional thunderstorms hung on today along the coast and in parts of South and South Central Texas—areas where the latest round of such weather had claimed five lives.

Outside the shower belt skies were mostly cloudy and temperatures were mild throughout the state.

Before the turbulence started subsiding during the night, state police reported a tornado whirled across a cotton and grain farm north of Mercedes in the Lower Rio Grande Valley carving a path 300 yards long and 50 yards wide. They said three other twisters in that vicinity stayed aloft.

Two young brothers — Derrick Nixon, 8, and William Nixon, 6 — fell into a rain-swollen drainage ditch at San Antonio and drowned Monday while on their way home from a boys club meeting, officers said.

Coast Guard personnel resumed a search today for two of three persons in an Arkansas Pass family of three who drowned late Saturday night when their boat upset in Corpus Christi Bay. They recovered the body Monday of Debbie Mothershead, 23. Still missing were her husband, Craig, 25, and their son, Craig Jr., 5.

Rainfall amounts Monday included San Antonio 3.40 inches, Alice 3.30, Victoria 2.19, McAllen 2.09, Corpus Christi 1.42 and Austin 1.06.

More showers were expected in the same general area, and forecasters looked for thunderstorms to break out in the Big Bend country of West Texas by evening.

Temperatures in early morning ranged from 63 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 78 at Brownsville on the south tip of the state. Top marks Monday went as high as 97 at Dalhart and El Paso.

Battered Children

NEW YORK (AP) — The ways in which American parents batter and neglect and even kill their children is "a national disgrace worse than Watergate," a physician specializing on child abuse declared today.

"It is estimated we will be dealing with a minimum of 1.5 million cases of suspected child abuse and neglect this year, approximately 50,000 childhood deaths that could be attributed to maltreatment and 300,000 permanently injured children, injured both physically and emotionally," said Dr. Vincent J. Fontana of New York City.

He is director of pediatrics at St. Vincent's Hospital and medical director of the New York Foundling Hospital.

Battered, abused and neglected children grow up to become parents who treat their children the same way, in an abuse that spirals upward, producing more or continuing anger, hate and criminality, Fontana told the American Medical Association meeting in convention here.

Fuel Shortage In Midland

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Midland County, in the heart of the oil-rich West Texas Permian Basin, was having difficulty Monday getting bids for next year's supply of fuel for county vehicles.

The Midland County Commissioner's Court had received no bids for a year's supply of gasoline, diesel oil and other fuels when bids were called Monday.

Two firms who responded to the county's advertisement said only that they would not submit bids this year.

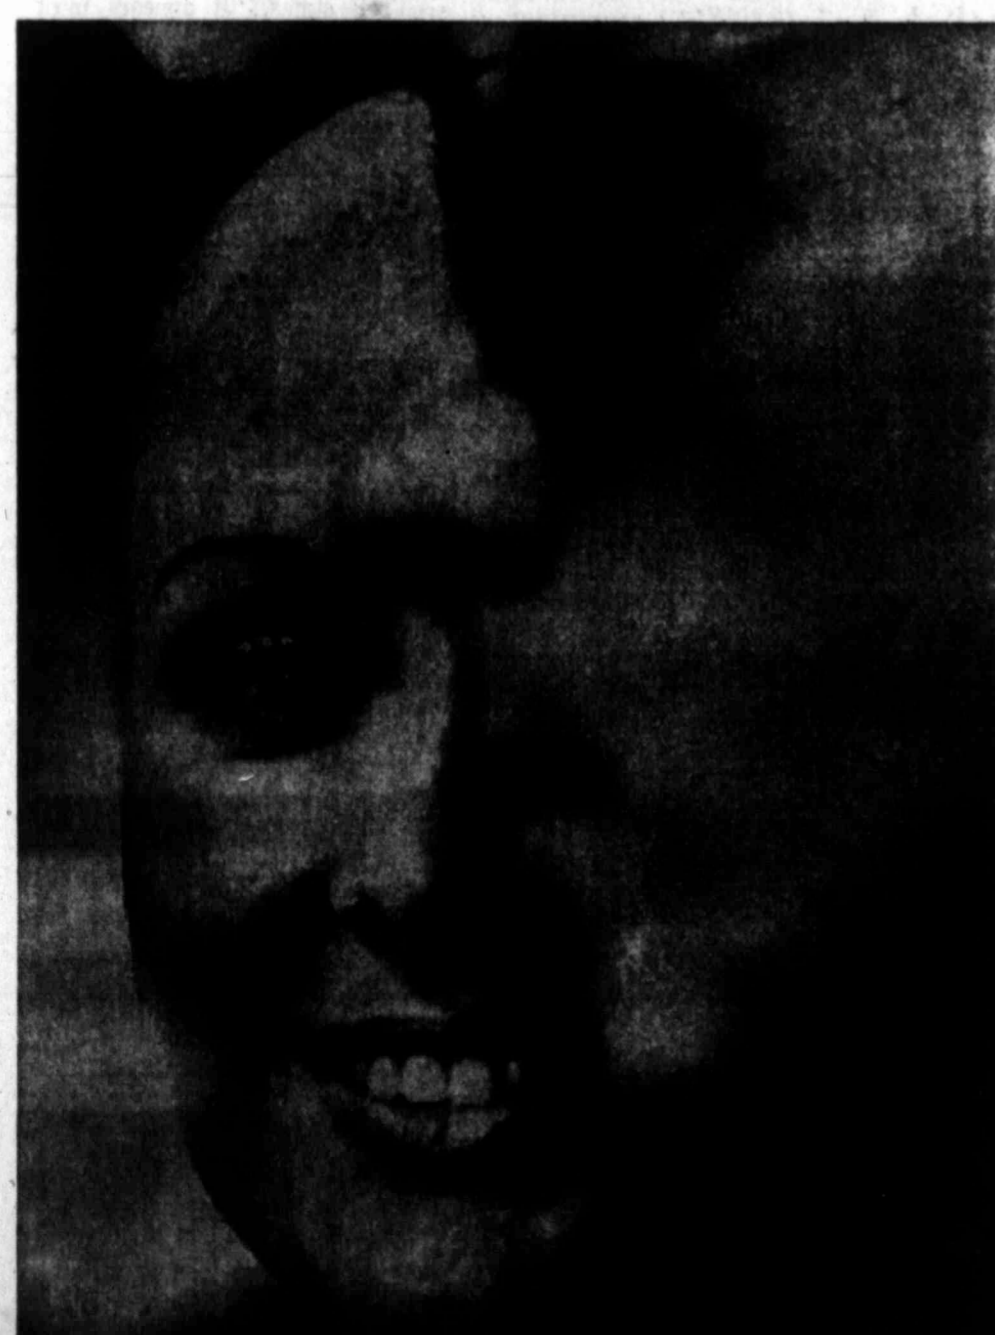

Midland County Judge Barbara Culver said the commissioners are not too worried. They still have two months to find new energy sources before the present fuel contract expires.

Senate Panel Okays Kelley Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee approved today the nomination of Clarence M. Kelley, Kansas City police chief, to be director of the FBI.

Committee sources reported that there were no dissenting votes.

The Senate is expected to act on the nomination later this week, possibly Wednesday.

EYES ON HER HUSBAND — Maureen Dean, wife of fired White House counsel John W. Dean III, looks at her husband during Monday's meeting of the Senate Watergate Committee on Capitol Hill. Married eight months ago, their honeymoon was cut short when he was called back to Washington after two days.

NOT BABY RATTLERS — Three rattlesnakes shot Monday by Tommy Carstensen 16 miles south of Big Spring on the Phillips ranch averaged four feet, seven inches and totaled 31 pounds. All three were dozing when Carstensen found them 150 feet from his house. He doesn't participate in the annual Jaycee rattlesnake roundup, but if he did he would have a head start — provided the Jaycees counted dead and slightly ripe snakes.

Budget Raised, Board Boosts Rate To $1.70

Big Spring Independent School district trustees re-instated the $1.70 tax rate which they had cut back last year to $1.65. The motion to set the $1.70 rate included the phrase "to accommodate the governor's legislation on kindergarten."

The board voted 5-2 in favor of the new tax rate with Dan Wilkins and Delnor Poss voting against and Jim Bill Little, Roy Watkins, Jerry Jenkins, Ralph McLaughlin, and Thomas Fetters voting for.

LESS TEACHERS

The budget had been studied in great detail by the board, and even though trustees cut expenditures in many departments and failed to fill 11 teacher vacancies, due to a drop in enrollment, they still found themselves faced with a $144,328 increase in the budget.

This is due in part to having to hold kindergarten for all five-year olds, according to the board. The governor signed a bill making the kindergarten mandatory, but failed to attach any money with the law.

Another item in the budget, controlled by the federal government is "impact" funds related to the children of armed services personnel and other federal employees. Don Crockett, business assistant superintendent, told the board: "This has become a real physical football. Instead of expecting $355,000 as we anticipated last year, we now have for $180,000."

Other cost rises pointed out by Crockett were a $19,000 increase in cost of social security, a $29,000 increase in insurance (including the new $3,600 policy which covers possible litigation against school people under a new law), and also the fact that this was the year that the school pays half of its total insurance costs. On the next two years, it will pay a fourth.

NEW ROOFS

Capital expenses in the budget include one bus at cost of $10,000, and reroofing of three schools at a cost of $29,000. The three schools are Cedar Crest, Airport and Washington.

Wilkins' objection to the budget and increase revolved around a built-in surplus. Jenkins, however, maintained, "We have too many uncertainties — HEW, kindergarten and other programs. If we don't leave that in there, we might end up with an even larger increase later."

Budget total for the coming year is $6,281,377 in comparison to $6,138,300 last year.

INSTRUCTIONAL COSTS

A breakdown shows the bulk of the budget is for instruction at $3,765,672, which was an approximate $30,000 increase. There was a $2,000 cutback in instructional administration to $35,898.

Cost of media used by teachers went up by $12,000 to a total of $202,286; cost of general administration went up $8,000 to $371,213; cost of counselors up $19,000 to $219,636; and cost of visiting teacher up $2,000 to $14,338.

Most of these increases are built-in salary increments. Cost of nurses remained about the same. Transportation costs have increased $20,000 through cost of supplies and equipment, and are now at $105,842. Exceptional children transportation is set at $17,746, about the same. Student body costs are down $3,000 to $147,241. General administration cost is up to $307,745, an increase of $29,000; and operation and maintenance shows a $20,000 increase to $568,480.

KINDERGARTEN PROJECT

The board approved half-day sessions for all five-year-olds and authorized Lynn Hise, assistant superintendent of instruction, to devise the best operating plan along with other administrators.

A probable plan at this time shows units at Lakeview, Kentwood and Marcy. More details will be announced later as to which schools will attend which school and whether they will go in morning or afternoon sessions.

"Parents will want their children to go in the morning, but the assignments will be by schools with no special exceptions," Hise stated.

He plans to release details of the program in the near future and plans to hold an open forum for parents in regard to the plan.

Grocery Bill Climbs $13

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price of food increased last month at a rate that would add $13 to the grocery bill of a typical American family over the course of a year, the Agriculture Department says.

The figure is based on what it would cost to feed a theoretical family of 3.2 persons using a selected list of "market basket" items.

The May increase puts the annual market basket grocery bill for this theoretical family at $1,493 per year, up 0.9 percent from April, department officials said.

Last month's increase was the smallest since the market basket indicator declined slightly last December.

Since then, increases have included: January 2.7 percent, or an annual rate of $37; February 2.5 percent or $34; March 3.5 percent or $49; and April 1.6 percent or $22.

Rep. Renal Rosson To Study Salaries Of State Employees

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Speaker Price Daniel Jr. and Rep. Neil Caldwell, D-Alvin, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Tuesday announced the appointment of four committees to study various state operations.

Caldwell will head a committee to make a performance evaluation of state programs. Others on the committee are Reps. Anthony Hall, D-Houston; Hawkins Menefee, D-Houston; and Walt Parker, D-Denton.

Rep. Sarah Weddington, D-Austin, will head a committee to study the salaries and working conditions of state employees. Others on the committee are Reps. Emmett Whitehead, D-Rusk; Renal Rosson, D-Snyder; Matt Garcia, D-San Antonio; and Bob Vaie, D-San Antonio.

Rep. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, will be chairman of a committee to study the utilization of state owned property and the rental or purchase of property by the state. Other members are Reps. Luther Jones, D-El Paso; Ed Harris, D-Galveston; Parker, of Denton; and Billy Williamson, D-Tyler.

'The Rock,' Prized Bull, Found Dead On V-Bar Ranch

By MARJ CARPENTER

STANTON — Granite V-Bar, the blue-blooded sire of a famed white-faced herd, is mysteriously, yet irrevocably, dead.

"The Rock," as the $53,000 bull is known by Hereford breeders, was found dead in his pen at the Newman and Sales V-Bar Ranch northwest of here early last Thursday.

An autopsy has been performed on the animal with owners anxiously awaiting results of the tests, since the champion bull did not even appear to be sick.

Bob Sales and his brother-in-law, Tom Newman, owned the bull along with Granite Hills Hereford Ranch in Llano.

They had purchased the animal on June 26, 1972 at a Hereford sale on the Turner Ranch in Sulphur, Okla., for $53,000. The only animal who outdid him at that sale was his sire, Winrock D4, who sold for $103,500.

The grand sire RC Mischief D4 is a legend in his own time and is now owned by Charles Descheemaeker of Billings, Mont. The dam was Winrockette A 43d.

"The Rock" was grand champion at the State Fair of Dallas this year and also grand champion of the Tulsa show, as well as reserve champion in Albuquerque and Abilene. He was second in his class behind the national champion from Denver and never showed at less than third place, and was third only once.

At 365 days old, "The Rock" weighed 1,219 pounds and when two years old weighed 1,810. At the time of death, 26 months and 10 days, he weighed 1,925 pounds. He was 73 inches tall at the shoulder and hip and 90 inches from head to tail, according to Sales.

The Newman and Sales V-Bar ranch have 110 cows exposed by Rock and are expecting the first calf in September. Sales said that he also has 350 ampules of semen left and "There will be very selective breeding with this."

The bull was found dead in the same pen he had been kept in for many months by one of the ranchhands. Sales was in Seattle at the time and flew home immediately.

"The Rock" has been buried on the hill overlooking the homestead on the ranch. His owners might have mourned a bit less had he left more survivors.

SELLERS SQUEEZED Frozen Milk (Price) Is Dish For Consumers

At least one local milk distributor is unsure of what the price freeze means to him.

Presumably a retail price increase of milk due June 28 of 12 cents a gallon will not go into effect.

The increase announcement came about two days before President Nixon called for a general price freeze but the increase was higher than the base price (June 1-8) established by Nixon.

Nixon did not freeze prices at the farm level.

Gandy's Milk distributor, Buddy Calhoun, offered a report from the Dairy Products Institute in Austin to shed light on what an increase at the farm level would mean to local residents.

The report says the freeze strictly forbids a price increase of raw milk after the "first sale" from dairy to processor. This means the dairy may charge the processor more but theoretically the processor cannot pass along the increase to the consumer.

But a paragraph in the report itself states, "It appears most unlikely, however, that the farm price of milk will be increased without corresponding increases at the retail level."

Calhoun said he interpreted that statement to mean that since the retail level is forbidden to increase the farm level price will not increase.

Calhoun, admittedly speaking from an unauthorized position, speculated that the government may offer relief to farm milk processors should the farm price increase thus avoiding "dumping the milk on the ground."

IN NO RUSH

By about August 20 or before, Judge Mitchell believes the court, sitting as the board of equalization, will have decided on tax values for Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. Tax statements go out in October.

Only one day of work shop sessions will be necessary for the court to decide on the 1974 county budget, Judge Mitchell said. He said notice of this meeting will be posted.

Gunfire Kills Teen In Park

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Gunfire fatally wounded Tony Cortez, 17, while he was sitting in a car at a city park late Monday night, police reported.

Officers said he argued with three youths, and one of them pulled a pistol and fired four times through the car window.

A companion, Robert Flores, 19, told investigators he and a girl had walked away from the vehicle after riding to the park with the slain youth. He said the three youths fled in the car, which belonged to Flores' sister.

Court Agrees To Help In Paving

Howard County Commissioners Court approved Monday afternoon participation in repaving of the parking lot on the Howard Junior College Campus next to the stadium.

Howard County Junior College and the Big Spring school system have allocated $5,000 each to pay for materials used for stadium parking pavement.

The court plans to advertise for bids for gravel and buy asphalt from Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. HCJC and the school system will reimburse the county for materials.

A construction company had quoted a $21,000 price for paving the 46,646 square yards of surface area. Commissioner Bill Crocker estimated that is about the same as paving 3.6 miles of county roads 22 feet wide.

Paving the parking lot will take about two weeks, County Judge A. G. Mitchell estimated. He proposed Marvin Hanson, road administrator, concentrate on county road business and assign the construction project to J. D. Nixson.

ASPHALT DIES'

In several years, the parking lot will need to be paved again, Mitchell said, because there is "not enough traffic to keep it alive. If that asphalt is not driven on, it dies."

He was advising against a more expensive job of paving proposed by a contractor at an earlier date.

County Blesses Airport Grant

Approval of a $48,750 federal grant, representing 75 percent of total cost of airport improvements, was voted by the Howard County Commissioners Court here Monday.

Boss-Linham Electric, Inc. Big Spring, has the contract for $54,920; engineering a $4,920; supervision is pegged at $5,492; another $500 is allowed for administration; and $4,088 for contingencies. A bill was signed last week by President Nixon increasing federal participation.

J. W. (Bill) McLendon, airport manager, said he expected Boss-Linham to begin work about 10 days after formal notice of the contract.

In addition to the main contract lowest of three estimates, $1,403, was submitted by Boss-Linham for lighting the tetrahedron and wind sock, two wind-direction indicators. And the court approved the additional expenditure of county funds.

Parochial School Officials Condemn Supreme Court Rule

Parochial school officials across the country say they're disappointed by the Supreme Court's rulings against state tax and tuition breaks for parents of their pupils.

But many indicate they will continue to try other avenues, including a pending federal tax-credit plan.

Civil rights groups praised the decisions, which they said were "more or less expected."

In decisions Monday, the high court said New York and Pennsylvania tuition reimbursement plans and a New York tax deduction program for their non-public schools effectively furthered religion.

Thus, the plans violated First Amendment provisions on separation of church and state, the high court ruled.

'TERRIBLE' BLOW

Other New York programs to subsidize urban parochial schools in such health and safety expenditures as heat, lights and custodial services and state-required record-keeping also were struck down.

Terence Cardinal Cooke, in a statement through his New York headquarters, called the actions "a step to deny freedom of choice in education to all but the affluent."

In Ohio, where a similar state-aid law was invalidated earlier, Gov. John J. Gilligan called the decisions a hardship "not only for private schools, their students and families but for the whole public education system as well."

Joan Tuttle of the Massachusetts Civil Liberties Union hailed "the court's continuing determination to maintain the wall between church and state." And Leo Pfeffer, a New York City attorney who helped lead the fight against the state's plans, said he hoped the campaign now was finished.

But Robert Eggold, superintendent of Lutheran schools in Kansas, said he and others would keep pushing for a Nixon-supported federal tax-credit bill for parents of nonpublic school youngsters.

DEPRESSED: (Q.) I am 15 years old and ugly (at least that's what people tell me). I am constantly depressed. Even when I am happy I am depressed. Sometimes I get myself smashed just so I won't have to think about killing myself.

I think I am really cracked. About my parents — do they care? Sure they do. About me passing my courses. But that's all. My feelings mean absolutely nothing to them. They say I'll thank them when I am older for pushing me through school. But the thing is, they're gonna push me off a ledge.

I think everybody hates me. Why not? I can't stand myself. To wake up in the morning is painful because I know I have to suffer through another day. Day by day I want more and more to escape the world. What can I do? — Lonely in Connecticut.

(A.) You may be depressed, but not badly so. If you were, you could not write such a strong letter. A deeply depressed person has no strength.

Try to get the chip off your shoulder. Try to stop pushing people, especially your parents, away. Talk to them honestly about how you really feel. Ask them to help you.

Your problem may be purely emotional, or it may have physical causes. Your parents can help you find a way to cure it, or at least alleviate it, if you will let them.

Four Die When Rig Bangs Car

MONAHANS, Tex. (AP) — A big tractor-trailer rig hit a car from behind, officers said, and the Interstate 20 crash killed four persons Sunday. Four others suffered injuries.

State police listed the dead as Betty Wynne, 30, of Monahans and three of her children—Charles Edward, 11, Sandra Lee, 6, and Billy John, 3.

Investigators quoted witnesses as reporting the Wynne car had a flat tire and was moving slowly in the freeway's right lane when the collision occurred 2½ miles west of here in West Texas.

Authorities charged the driver of the truck, Gaylord D. Blankenship, 38, of Victorville, Calif., with negligent homicide. His bond was set at $2,400.

Blankenship and a companion in the truck escaped injury.

The injured were Charles Wynne, 47, who was taken to an Odessa hospital and Susan Jane Wynne, 9, Betty Jean Wynne, 2, and Eloise Kalke, 37, who were brought to a Monahans hospital.

Snyder Apartment Center To Open

SNYDER — The Park Village Apartments will open the first of its 60 units this week, according to an announcement by W. J. Shepherd and Winston Wrinkle, Big Spring, owners. The apartments are being erected under a federal interest subsidy program. Shepherd and Wrinkle have an application in for a 76-unit complex in Big Spring.

Initially 28 units will be opened, but the remaining apartments are due to be ready within two or three weeks. The units include refrigerator, range, gas central heating and evaporative air conditioning. The center is located on the 4300 block of College Avenue.

More Than 1¾ Million American National Insurance Policies Are Owned By Texans

That's an average of approximately 1 policy for every 7 of the 12 million people in Texas. Not bad when you consider there are over 1800 life insurance companies in the U. S.

The Larger Target

It is much too early to appraise the results of the summit conference between President Nixon and Soviet Premier Brezhnev. Much of it involves agreements previously hammered out in substance at lower levels and formalized by the two leaders' much of it, as contained in the general communiqué, is couched in generalizations.

Nothing, perhaps, offers as much hope as the stated resolve to seek further limitations of strategic offensive arms limitations, and to reduce "the burdens of armaments and reaching agreements on arms limitation and disarmament measures."

Now, the expressed hope is a long, long way from realization, but there can be no progress toward this goal at all until it is given some formal expression of intent. If nothing else, perhaps the summit talks will open the way for substantive negotiation on many new fronts to attain bilateral agreement on arms limitation, if not reduction.

This will be about the most difficult task imaginable, but on some progress — however laborious and tortuous — may hinge the larger goal of a more firmly based peace.

And ultimately upon the hopes of this sort of climate will hinge the continuation of all the other agreements concerning trade and other matters. Yet these lesser areas of accommodation may contribute to the achievement of the larger goal of recognizing that in a world facing crushing inflationary pressures brought over part by allocation of a disproportionate share of productive effort to the unproductive business of armaments, there comes a time to cut down. It can't be done unilaterally, but it can be done together if super-powers want badly enough to do it.

If Mr. Nixon succeeds in this goal, it will be a historic and monumental achievement.

Check And Recheck

Dr. Henry Kissinger, assistant to the President on national security affairs, is in the liberal dog house. He participated in a decision to place FBI taps on telephones of several members of his National Security Council staff. The objective was to find out if those members were leaking material to the news media.

Before this incident becomes a sort of morality play in which all good is on one side and all evil on the other, a few observations appear to be in order. They should begin with the realization that the world of espionage, counter-espionage and security, and the world of normal men and women are as different as night and day.

Anyone who takes an intelligence assignment is a fool if he does not know that he will be investigated thoroughly. In most cases a thorough background investigation is made, including conversations with hometown police, teachers and classmates at high school and college. If derogatory information is discovered, an intelligence assignment is generally overruled.

Those who take intelligence assignments are naive, too, if they do not believe that they will be constantly checked, by whatever means available, for reliability and discretion.

This is not a very pretty picture. But it is absolutely essential in the realm of intelligence operations. No man can be presumed to be honest and loyal. All men are constantly subject to question and appraisal, if not downright suspicion.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I am very troubled. My husband is evidently an alcoholic. He started about 7 years ago with three or four sponges a year, but now it's once a week. We have three children, the oldest age 7. Should I break up our marriage of ten years, or have him committed to an institution?

An Alcoholic Widow
Your letter is typical of so many that I receive these days. Any survey of American society shows alcohol as our number one drug problem. Of greater concern, however, is the destructive effect on the alcoholic and especially his family.

The Bible is quite clear on the evils of drunkenness. It honestly portrays the process that first may make a man jolly and carefree, but in the end "bites like a serpent and stings like an adder." Proverbs 23:32. The writings of Paul show that temperance and sobriety are everywhere insisted on.

I can't tell from your letter whether your husband now realizes the seriousness of his problem. If he does, and is desirous of help, local agencies and qualified people are available. You would certainly want to check AA.

I would try to keep the marriage and the family intact, if at all possible. Short of undue physical and mental abuse, your continuation with him may be a big part of the ultimate solution.

If you're a Christian, lean heavily on the Lord through prayer, Bible study and Christian fellowship. They will sustain you during the problem days. Seek wisdom on what you may do personally to facilitate his recovery.

Handsome Fool Irresistible

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Twice as many U.S. women as men now use tension-reducing pills, a medical survey has found. But this doesn't mean that twice as many women are nervous. Men are simply more likely to take a drink than a pill when uptight.

Some scientists are worrying that air pollution by man may cause another ice age which would flatten many major cities under several hundred feet of ice. They believe the climate has been getting colder the last 30 years because air pollutants reflect the sun's heat back into space. But don't fret yourself. It would take several thousand years for the ice age to get here.

Japanese, enjoying an unprecedented rise in prosperity, are puzzled by an unexplained sharp increase of cancer. The death toll from some forms of cancer, including lung cancer, is now five times as high as it was in 1950.

Know your language: "Probably four out of five people don't know what zoonoses are. Well, they are diseases people can catch from animals — and there are dozens of them. Folklore: A baby will be lucky if it is born at night, if it sneezes immediately after being born, if it is brushed at birth with a rabbit's foot, if it is presented a newly laid egg, a pinch of salt, and a piece of bread. A baby will be unlucky if it sees itself in a mirror before its first birthday, if the water sprinkled on its forehead during baptism is wiped off instead of being left to dry, and if its godmother is pregnant.

It was William Makepeace Thackeray who observed, "A clever, ugly man is now and then attractive to the ladies, but a handsome fool is irresistible."

So's Yours, Too

William F. Buckley Jr.

In the general enthusiasm to derogue Mr. Nixon and all his works and all his family, we are seeing more frequent references to his two brothers, who are the alleged beneficiaries of Mr. Nixon's prominence, in the case of one of them dating back to the early 1950s. We have been enjoined to abjure tu quoqueism. So's-your-old-man is, it is true, both too easy an argument, and too unsatisfying as morality. However, if we are in the process of evolving a fresh code for American presidents, or for American public officials, it is worthwhile reflecting on what the old code was: or, put differently, how lackadaisically it was observed.

IT IS IN this connection that Miss Rosalie Gordon, who did the research for a spirited polemic by John P. Flynn published two dozen years ago, reminisces about the family of the president who above all men in this century with the exception of the brief sunburst from Massachusetts, bedazzled America's lords spiritual and intellectual.

F.D.R. was, for instance, a stamp collector, and he asked his Postmaster General to give him imperforate first sheets of new stamp issues for himself and a few friends. One such sheet turned up in Virginia and the owner asked $20,000 for it. In panic, the Post Office ran off a large number of imperforate sheets to dilute the singularity of the first set. But F.D.R. caused the Bureau of Printing and Engraving to deliver to him alone a number of original die proofs. After his death, these die proofs sold for $50,000, which went into F.D.R.'s estate.

WHILE F.D.R. was governor, his son James got a job at $15,000 per year. He said later, "I wasn't being kidded. I knew perfectly well they were paying me for my name. I... needed the money." When the family entered the White House, James became a partner in the insurance firm of Roosevelt and Sargent, which solicited and wrote insurance for some of the biggest corporations in America that had business with the government. By 1939, James was making $100,000 per year, $25,000 more than his old man was making as President.

ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT'S experiences were similar, as was his income.

Eleanor was something else. She went on radio, for fees, to sponsor toilet preparations. She got $1,000 per week from a group of Latin American coffee producers to talk up coffee. When candy manufacturers during the war became concerned that their product might be classed as "non-essential," they got Mrs. F. D. R. to make three appearances on their radio program at $1,500 for the first two and $2,500 for the third.

But personal greed aside, what about the sanctity of the democratic process? Harry Hopkins had more money even than CREP at his disposal: over three billion dollars in WPA money. Anxious to purge those who had opposed F.D.R.'s court packing plan, he used this money quite forthrightly, for instance in favor of Alben Barkley over Happy Chandler in Kentucky. Republicans on the rolls were told simply to change their registration.

THE CONSCRIPTION of the regulatory agencies in the uses of Presidential power was routine. A Congressional committee investigating the corruption of the FCC by the Office of War Information concluded: "OWI had the men and the material. It had the proper dye to color the news. It also had the desire to select and censor the news. What it lacked was the power, or perhaps more accurately stated, even the color of power, to carry their designs into effect. Hence the need to enlist the Federal Communications Commission in its purpose."

'Just A Housewife'

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

"I'm just a housewife."

How many times have you heard a woman say that? How often have you heard behind the words a tone which suggested the speaker set little value upon herself? Somehow, I've always found it irritating that the "just a housewife" didn't realize she was worth her weight in gold — and the price of gold is increasing.

"WHAT'S A Housewife Worth?," a major study of the dollar value of housework, has now been completed by Cornell University professors Kathryn E. Walker and William H. Gauger. The authors draw these key conclusions:

A typical family — husband, nonemployed wife, two children between 13 and 17 years old — spends more than 10 hours a day, seven days a week, on household tasks.

AT GOING wage rates, the time they spend on these tasks is worth $8,300 a year.

Whether they are employed outside the home or not, wives do the bulk of this work. The researchers did not come up with an average time figure for a wife's housework because her work time is dependent on a combination of factors — her employment status, her age, the number and ages of her children.

Her time varies from a low of four hours a day if she is employed outside the home and has no children to a high of 12 hours a day if she is not employed and has seven or more children, one of whom is a baby. A husband averages 1.5 hours of household work a day; a child between 12 and 17, one hour a day; a child between 6 and 11, half an hour.

IN THE typical family, the wife who is not employed outside the home does household chores seven hours a day, seven days a week, worth $5,600 a year; the husband, 1.5 hours a day, worth $1,300 a year; each child between 12 and 17, one hour per day, worth $700 per year. The work of younger children is considered of insufficient quantity and of such variable quality that it does not justify a wage-rate value.

If the same wife worked outside the home, the value of her housework would drop to $3,600; the husband's would remain the same; each child's would increase to $900.

THESE FINDINGS are from a study of nearly 1,400 sample families in upstate New York and based on 1971 wage rates. The household tasks considered were marketing, management and record keeping; food preparation and after-meal cleanup; house care and maintenance, yard and car care; washing, ironing and special care of clothing; physical and other care of family members.

Off Into Sunset

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The town of Gemstone was all in a tizzy. Big John Connolly was riding in on his palomino horse, sitting straight in the saddle, his eyes shaded by a large white hat.

HE TIED up his horse and walked into the saloon.

"Whatcha doing in town, Big John?" the bartender inquired.

"Come in to help Sheriff Dick Milhous," Big John said. "Understand he's been having a little trouble in these here parts."

"Nothing serious," one of the men at the bar said. "His deputies have been accused of cattle rustling, horse stealing, bank robbery, swearing and lying."

"AH'LL STRAIGHTEN the whole mess out. All we gotta do is clean house and everyone will forget what the deputies did. Guess ah'll wander over and see Dick now. Ah sorta would like to look over the place anyway, just in case ah want to run for sheriff sometime myself."

Big John walked across the street to the sheriff's office and knocked on the door.

"Sheriff, it's me, Big John. Ah came to help you out of your troubles... Sheriff, you in there?"

THERE WAS no reply. Everyone was watching to see what Big John would do. He looked at them. "Is he in there?"

"Yup," one of the men said. Big John went around to one of the windows and tapped on it. "Dick, it's okay to open up the door. Ah'm here to help you save Gemstone."

"There was still no reply.

"THERE'S GOT to be some way ah can get in to see the sheriff," Big John said. He climbed up to the second-floor balcony and peered in.

Then he shouted, "Now look here, Dick, ah rode all the way in from Houston to give you a helping hand. You jes' open up that door and let me in!"

Dead silence.

"He ain't coming out," a man said. "You're wasting your breath."

"Sheriff!" Big John shouted again. "What in tarnation did you have me come up here for if you won't listen to what ah got to say?"

THE CROWD started laughing. "Big John, how you ever going to become sheriff of this place if the present sheriff won't even talk to you?"

Suddenly the window opened a crack and Sheriff Milhous poked his nose out. He talked to Big John for about three minutes and then shut the window again.

Red-faced, Big John climbed down from the balcony.

"What'd he say?" someone in the crowd asked.

"We had a nice friendly chat and ah think it did us both a lot of good."

Reversing Flow

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — At a long and very private dinner in Paul Young's restaurant here last Tuesday evening (June 19), outgoing White House consultant John B. Connolly told incoming White House domestic czar Melvan R. Laird about some of his frustrations, then warned: move in fast and take complete charge.

LAIRD AGREED that his first target must be to end the internal power struggles which still threaten the post-Watergate White House. The vacuum created by the forced departure of H. R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman are far from filled.

But an even more challenging problem, Laird and Connolly agreed, is to reverse what they both regard as the incredible and dangerous flow of power from the departments and agencies and its concentration in the White House.

THAT POWER flow was engineered by Haldeman and Ehrlichman over four years with the obvious consent of President Nixon. Thus Laird's determination to reverse the flow of power, difficult enough anyway, may be made more so by the President himself. But even if Mr. Nixon resists, Laird's intimates say he is committed to returning power to the departments and ending what he and other politicians consider the most dangerous accumulation of raw and unsupervised power within the White House ever in peacetime.

Laird has now counted 68 White House aides who, at the start of Mr. Nixon's second term, were working directly under Ehrlichman and responsible only to him. It was that huge staff which gave Ehrlichman sole control over the entire domestic side of the federal government. He ruled it, both Connolly and Laird discovered, with an iron hand.

THUS, CONNOLLY intimates have told Laird that Ehrlichman's ouster of James E. Akins as top White House staffer on the energy crisis was dictated by Ehrlichman's fear that Akins knew too much — that is, far more than Ehrlichman — about the coming oil-and-gas shortage.

"Ehrlichman saw Akins as a threat," one Connolly insider told us. The result: a dangerously weak energy policy.

TRIMMING THAT swollen staff back to a maximum of 30 aides is one side of the coin of Laird's problem in reversing the flow of power into the White House. The other side of the coin — convincing cabinet members that they must now start running their own affairs for the first time in the Nixon administration — is going to be harder.

Laird is now quietly visiting each cabinet department, spreading this alien doctrine to cabinet members and their top staffs: Don't send your problems over to the White House anymore; handle them yourselves.

A Devotion For Today . . .

I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. (John 8:12)
PRAYER: O Light of the world, shine within our hearts so that the glow may radiate from us that others may find new life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who taught us to pray, "Our Father; who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Bond Savings Dip Slight

May sales of Savings Bonds fell in District 4. Art to Larson Lloyd, the district representative, said the district was ahead of the target five months.

Andrews continued pace with sales making $7,304,791, 95 per cent of its target.

The district during May, cumulative total per cent of the year was about $10,000 and about the Howard fell below target.

By counties, (with cumulative percentages) and year's target:

Andrews	$8,691
Borden	$536 ($2.7)
Greene	$6,443 ($51,930)
Marshall	$13,016 ($32,503)
McMurry	$8,285 ($46,464)
Montgomery	$38,160 ($263,878)
Polk	$929 ($8,769) 29;
Rocky Mount	($59,324) 39;
Union	($59,410) 33;
Wagoner	($53,602) 33.

Area I sales $1,194,570, making the year, or 4 target. Texas amounted to $102,985,728 for 4 cent of the goal.

Bond Sales Dip Slightly

May sales of United States Savings Bonds fell off the pace in District 4, Area 1, according to Larson Lloyd, chairman, but the district remains slightly ahead of the target for the first five months.

Andrews continued to set the pace with sales of $8,096, making $57,304 for the year, or 95 per cent of its quota.

The district sold $106,385 during May, making the cumulative total $665,791, or 45 per cent of the year's goal. This was about $10,000 off the pace, and about the same amount Howard fell below its monthly target.

By counties, the May sales (with cumulative total in parentheses) and per cent of year's target:

Andrews $8,096 ($57,304) 95; Borden $536 ($2,789) 14; Dawson $6,443 ($51,930) 43; Fisher $13,016 ($32,503) 54; Gaines $8,285 ($46,464) 52; Howard $38,160 ($263,678) 50; Martin $929 ($8,769) 29; Mitchell $6,271 ($59,324) 39; Nolan $19,230 ($89,410) 33; Scurry $3,819 ($53,602) 33.

Area I sales amounted to $1,194,579, making $6,414,675 for the year, or 46 per cent of target. Texas sales in May amounted to $19,193,889, or $102,985,728 for the year, 47 per cent of the goal.

West was now revealed to led the ten of clubs originally and, on the basis of East's opening four club bid, it appeared likely to the declarer that West's remaining

The ace of spades was

The king of hearts was led and ducked giving declarer his ninth trick. He switched to a diamond which West ruffed with the eight of however, South's queen took

If West had overruffed the

The only effective defense is for West to discard a

Austin Paper Pickets Fade

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Pickets disappeared from in front of the Austin American-Statesman building Monday for the first time since Oct. 27 as the result of an arbitrator's ruling in the dispute between the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union and the paper.

The arbitrator ruled that six men were discharged, without just cause and ordered them back pay and benefits, the Statesman said in its noon edition.

Of the 33 pressmen remaining, 10 received a 30-day suspension without pay and were reinstated with full seniority and benefits. Twenty-three were disciplined with an eight months' suspension without pay or benefits, but with full seniority, the Statesman said.

The union members returned to work Monday along with pressmen who had been hired in the interim since Oct. 27, the paper said.

Pilcher's assignment carries the title of emergency coordinator of the Amateur Radio Emergency Corps. He is to band together members of the amateur radio service in his community to perfect arrangements for emergency radio communication by hams in the event of natural disasters or other emergencies. In addition to use of fixed radio station equipment working from commercial power, amateur stations use self-powered radio transmitting and receiving equipment as needed and deploy portable and mobile units to meet emergency requirements.

COULD BE WORSE Congressmen Decide To Accept New Lines

WASHINGTON, D.C. — On June 18, the U.S. Supreme Court rendered a decision in the case of Burleson and Mahon, which I think is fundamental and essential to the best representation in the Congress.

ELECT TO ACCEPT It is still possible the three-judge Federal Court in Dallas, which retains jurisdiction, could yet make some changes on its own, but it is not likely. The Supreme Court has, in effect, directed that Plan B be approved.

LOSE AND ADD II The 17th Congressional District, composed of 31 counties and represented by Cong. Omar Burleson, was altered by placing San Saba, McCulloch and Brown Counties in the congressional district represented by W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco. To partially make up the loss of population, Knox, Baylor and Lynn Counties were added on the north and west to District 17.

In addition, portions of Coleman, Comanche and Erath Counties were also taken out of the 17th and placed in the 11th District. The main portions of these three counties will continue to be in the 17th District.

In the case of Parker County, Weatherford and north is placed in the 17th District, and the remainder in the 6th District, represented by Olin E. Teague of College Station.

Cooke County is divided between the 4th District, represented by Rep. Ray Roberts of McKinney, and Rep. Burleson of the 17th District.

A small part of Dawson County is placed in Rep. Burleson's 17th District, Dawson County, with this arrangement, is shared between Burleson and Rep. George Mahon.

It is still possible the three-judge Federal Court in Dallas, which retains jurisdiction, could yet make some changes on its own, but it is not likely. The Supreme Court has, in effect, directed that Plan B be approved.

Following the U.S. Supreme Court's decision, the Texas Delegation in Congress, meeting with Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, was of the mind to not ask for a re-hearing under a good assumption that it would not be granted and under the further assumption that something worse could happen, said Rep. Burleson.

"It is painful to lose people whom I have represented for so long and with whose area and problems I am familiar," he said. "With more than 30,000 square miles making up our Congressional District, it is difficult to see people and know

8 ways to save money on air conditioning.

- 1 Set thermostat no lower than necessary for comfort—the lower the setting the more electricity the unit uses.
- 2 Replace disposable or clean permanent type filters as required—clogged filters make the unit work harder and use more electricity.
- 3 Provide adequate attic ventilation—helps reduce heat buildup.
- 4 Install proper duct, ceiling and wall insulation and weatherstrip windows and doors—keep hot air out, cool air in. (Helps reduce winter heating costs too!)
- 5 Keep the outdoor unit free of grass or other obstruction.
- 6 Keep windows and fireplace dampers closed—prevents excessive loss of cool air and infiltration of hot air.
- 7 Shade windows from direct sunlight with awnings, blinds or draperies—it will reduce the load on the unit.

Siebert, Rangers Triumph

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Even when he is so flu-weakened his knees wobble, 36-year-old Sonny Siebert is turning into a $150 steal for the Texas Rangers.

Siebert, obtained from the Boston Red Sox for the above mentioned money and a minor league player to be named later, ran his consecutive scoreless innings string to 19 Monday night as the Rangers held on for a 4-2 victory over Oakland.

Flashing a good fast ball and a sharp curve Siebert muffled Oakland's big bats on six hits over six innings before he left for the clubhouse with a 3-0 lead.

"I had been in bed for three days and lost eight pounds," Siebert said. "I was going to ask (Ranger manager) Whitey (Herzog) for another day's rest but just couldn't bring myself to do it after Sunday."

The Ranger pitching staff was decimated Sunday in a doubleheader loss to Kansas City.

"I didn't have anybody else," Herzog said. "Sonny just flat ran out of gas, but he has done a helluva job since he came here from the Red Sox."

Herzog joked. "I think I'll pitch him again tomorrow."

Siebert, now 5-6, said "I'm very happy down here. The worst thing for a pitcher is to sit on the bench and rust like I was in Boston. I went one month when I pitched only two innings."

Jeff Burroughs doubled home two runs and Toby Harrah hit a homer as the Rangers built up a 4-0 lead. Oakland scored two runs in the ninth off Bill Gogolewski and Mike Paul before Steve Foucault got the final out with the bases loaded when Rich McKinney grounded into a force out. Ken Holtzman, 11-7, was the loser for the A's.

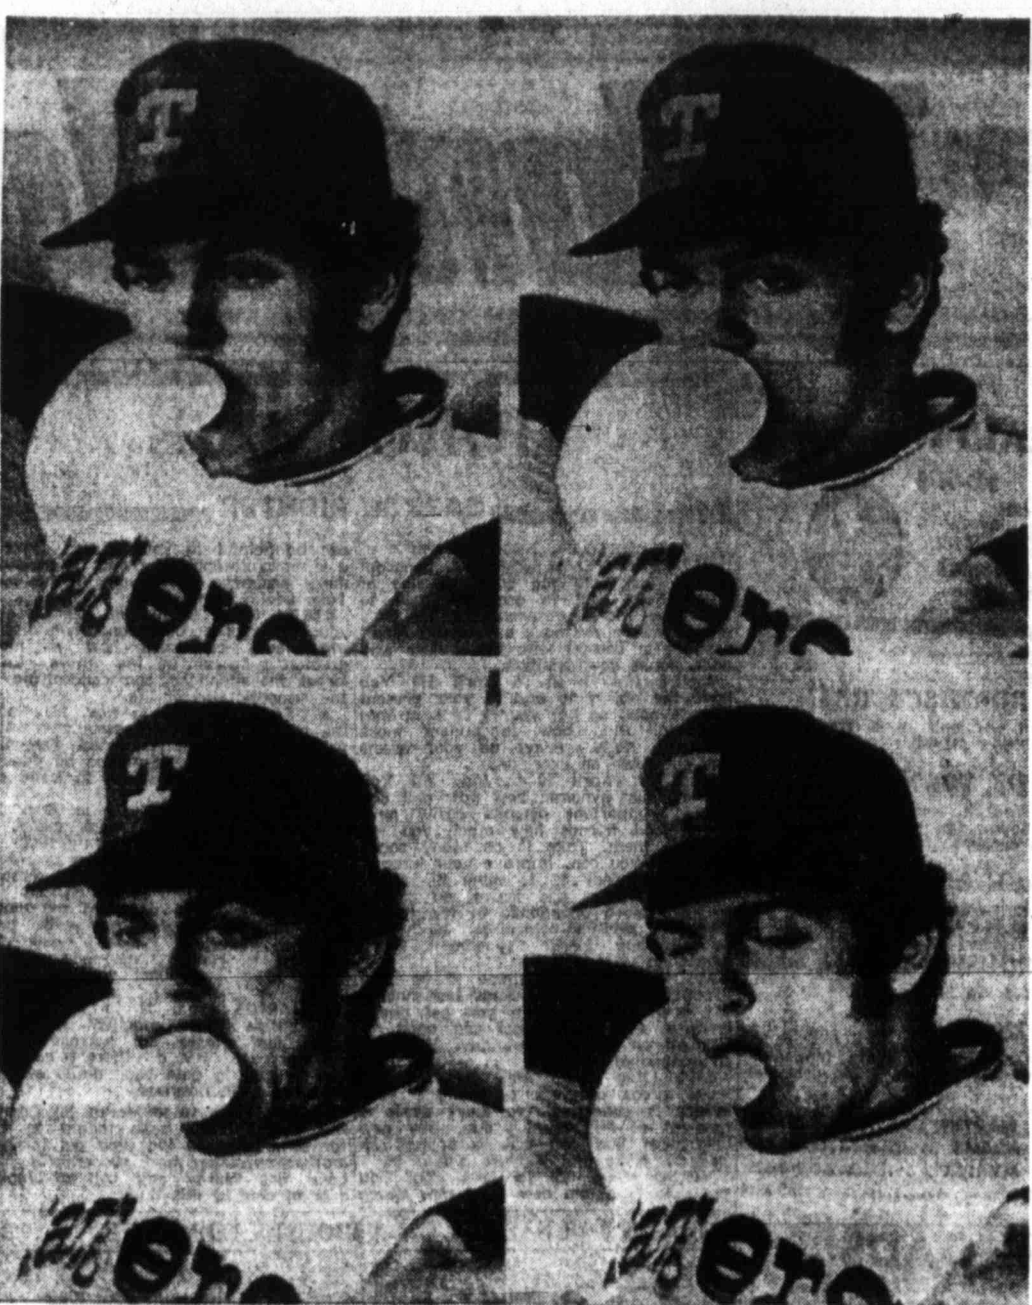

Siebert said he couldn't remember when he had as many as 19 consecutive scoreless innings.

"Oh, I think I got into the 30s once... I really don't recall when it was though," Siebert said.

Siebert has now gone 22 innings without surrendering an earned run.

Herzog rushed through a quick shower so he could go to dinner with A's manager Dick Williams.

"I'm going to enjoy this one," Herzog said. "The last time we went out they had just beaten us 17-2."

COOL KID — David Clyde, the 18-year-old youngster who recently signed a $125,000 bonus to play with the Texas Rangers, takes it easy in the dugout as the Rangers prepared to take on the Oakland A's in Arlington Monday night. Clyde, just out of high school, gets his first major league start Wednesday night against the Minnesota Twins at Arlington Stadium. The young left-hander is already a fan favorite, as ticket sales have soared over 20,000 for his debut.

King, Evert Get Wins In Wimbledon Openers

WIMBLEDON (AP) — Billie Jean King, the defending champion, and Chris Evert opened their drives for the Wimbledon women's singles tennis title today with easy victories.

Mrs. King of Long Beach, Calif., advanced to the third round with a 6-0, 6-2 drubbing of Lucia Bassi of Italy. The second-seeded Mrs. King had drawn a first-round bye.

Miss Evert, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the No. 4 seed, won her first round match with a 6-3, 6-3 romp over Floren Bonaccall of Uruguay.

The walkout by 70 members of the Association of Tennis Professionals cut the original men's entry list but didn't dampen fan reaction Monday.

Romania's Ilie Nastase, favored to capture the men's singles title in the absence of Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., easily defeated Hans Ploetz of West Germany 6-3, 7-5, 6-2.

Bjorn Borg, a 17-year-old Swedish tennis sensation, ousted Premjit Lal of India and set a world record for a tie break, winning it 20-18 and taking the match 6-3, 6-4, 9-8.

Fifth-seeded Jimmy Connors of Belleville, Ill., volleyed sharply and scored repeatedly with passing shots to beat England's Mark Farrell 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

By boycotting Wimbledon, the ATP players sacrificed an opportunity to share in the $130,000, but were regarded with disdain by many of the fans.

The ATP players voted to boycott Wimbledon in support of Yugoslavia's Nikki Pilić, who was barred from competition for failing to participate in a Davis Cup match.

Nastase and England's Roger Taylor, who refused to join the boycott, were greeted by cheers when they entered the court.

MATCH RACE ON AGAIN; OUR NATIVE WILL RUN

CHICAGO (AP) — The special match race between Triple Crown winner Secretariat and two other 3-year-olds, shrouded in uncertainty this past week, appeared finalized with the confirmation that Our Native would compete.

There had been doubts Our Native would run in the race June 30 at Arlington Park, but track spokesmen said Monday that Tom Pritchard, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Pritchard, one of the horse's three owners, announced Our Native would compete.

Last Friday, Mrs. Pritchard said she did not want to start Our Native and Dr. Ed Thomas, the other owner, agreed.

Earlier, Neil Hellman announced that Linda's Gift would not run and Arthur Appleton offered My Gallant and Philip Teinowitz offered Blue Chip Dan.

Arlington President John F. Loomer accepted My Gallant because it was felt he would be a "shade the more competitive of the two."

The $125,000 race, with $75,000 going to the winner, $30,000 to second and $20,000 to third, will be broadcast live on ABC-TV's World Wide of Sports.

Astros Batter Red Machine, Tie For Second In Division

HOUSTON (AP) — Bob Watson, Tommy Helms, Cesar Cedeno and almost everyone else in a Houston Astros uniform took some big shots at the Cincinnati Reds and when they were through Monday night the Big Red Machine was sputtering like a Model T.

The Astros stormed Jack Billingham, Ed Sprague and Dave Tomlin—all the Reds pitchers offered up for sacrifice—in a 13-2 runaway for the Glasshouse Gang.

The triumph yanked the Astros into a tie with the San Francisco Giants for the runner-up spot in the National League West, 5½ games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The defending champion Reds have been traveling in the opposite direction.

Watson slashed away for three hits and four RBIs—his halfway to a hundred now—and Cedeno had a pair of hits, including his 13th homer.

Doug Rader knocked in three runs with a double to make Ken Forsch's eighth mound victory a ho-hum affair.

The Astros have not been doing too well in the balloting for the NL All-Star team.

Cedeno appears a likely candidate for the game.

"If we get the same publicity as the Big Red Machine or the New York Mets, it might be different," Watson said after Monday night's game. "How can Tommy Helms not be in the top six among the second basemen in the league?"

But Watson said he's looking for more than honor.

"If we win our division, we are going to get our honors," he said. "If we do that, that will be my honor if I don't get it."

Perrys Given Rugged Night

By The Associated Press
Gaylord Perry was frisked in Cleveland Monday night and brother Jim Perry got frisked in Boston.

An indignant Gaylord survived another uniform inspection by the umpires and New York Manager Ralph Houk amid renewed charges that he was loading up the baseball and pitched the Indians to a 4-2 victory that snapped the Yankees' eight-game winning streak.

Bobby Murcer, who has griped in the past that Perry grasped up the ball, was at bat when Houk called for the frisk.

"I'm 99 per cent sure that he puts something on the ball," Murcer said. "It's a slippery, clear substance and you can tell when you feel the ball. The umpires know what Perry's doing, but they've been told by the president of the league to ignore it. Their hands are tied."

Jim, who pitches for Detroit, was done in by Boston catcher Carlton Fisk's tie-breaking home run in the eighth inning that gave the Red Sox a 2-1 triumph and stretched the Tigers' skid to eight games.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Baltimore Orioles edged the Milwaukee Brewers 4-3 in 12 innings, the Chicago White Sox held off the Minnesota Twins 3-2, the California Angels beat the Kansas City Royals 5-2 and the Texas Rangers downed the Oakland A's 4-2.

Al Bumbry scored from third when Milwaukee second baseman Pedro Garcia missed a tag for a double play that would have ended the 12th inning, giving the Orioles their victory over the Brewers.

The White Sox scored their three runs off Bert Blyleven in the first inning—two on designated hitter Carlos May's double—and then stood off a late rally to defeat the Twins.

Stan Bahnsen and Terry Forster blanked the Twins until the ninth when Cy Acosta pitched out of a bases-loaded, one-out jam.

Vada Pinson drove in three runs with a triple and single while Nolan Ryan fought off repeated bouts of windness and pitched a five-hitter as the Angels knocked the Royals out of first place in the jumbled AL West. Kansas City, which only took over the lead Sunday, fell four percentage points behind Chicago.

Flu-weakened Sonny Siebert ran his string of consecutive scoreless innings to 19 and reliever Steve Foucault halted a ninth-inning Oakland rally, helping the Rangers stop the A's. Siebert blanked the A's for six innings before he tired.

The Rangers scored three runs in the third off Ken Holtzman, two on Jeff Burroughs' double. Toby Harrah homered in the eighth.

In the National League, Los Angeles nipped San Diego 3-2, Houston smacked Cincinnati 13-2, Chicago shaded New York 3-2, Philadelphia nipped St. Louis 7-6 and Pittsburgh took two from Montreal 8-6 and 3-1.

Tony Takitani of Baldwin High School in Maui, Hawaii has signed a pre-enrollment agreement to play golf with Howard County Junior College, according to Jayhawk coach Tom Rutledge.

Takitani, 5-9, becomes the fifth linkster to sign with the Jayhawks this year.

The young Hawaiian was the Maui Open champion in 1971, and he was runner-up in both the Hawaii state Chamber of Commerce Tournament and the Maui Interscholastic meet. In 1972 Takitani was the Maui qualifier for the Navy-Marine Open in Honolulu.

He was a B student at Baldwin.

Rutledge also announces the signing of Tony Farrish, a former Midland High golfer who comes to the Hawks after attending Texas Tech and Louisiana Tech. Farrish was an All-District 5-AAAA player in 1972 when the Bulldogs were runners-up for the state title.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

Co-workers and several civilian types raised coffee cups to Capt. Regina McGuinness Friday just before she left for Midland on the first leg of a journey to Wiesbaden, Germany. There was cake, punch and red, white and blue trimmings as Regina ended her tenure as Public Information Officer at Webb AFB. Col. Stanley Umstead was there to say 'thanks,' and Mrs. J. R. Farmer, Mrs. Camille Patterson and Fred Davis were among the well-wishers. She'll be missed on the job — and by those of us who knew her as a friend.

If you live near the 1500 block of Johnson and your child has brought home a tiny kitten, you might check with Claud Fryar. He's the fellow who's been out there creeping through the shrubbery looking for their three lost pets.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smart of Sarasota, Fla., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Valdes. Mrs. Smart, the former Maria Benitez of Big Spring, is Mrs. Valdes' sister, and Frank went through pilot training at Webb AFB. The Smarts are currently attending the famed Ringling Brothers Art School in Sarasota; he majoring in art and she studying interior design.

Mrs. R. D. Ulrey and her sister, Mrs. H. E. Rhodes, have returned from Woodward, Okla., where they attended the golden anniversary celebration of their brother and his wife, the A. H. Burleys. Returning with them was another sister, Mrs. Osa O'Connor, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mrs. Ulrey's daughter, Mrs. A. W. Decker, Albuquerque, N.M.

TIDBITS: Jean Yates doing last minute shopping to accompany her husband, Don Yates, (Cosden's hot shot salesman) on a business trip to the Bahamas. They'll leave Wednesday.

There may be a little shifting of Cosden personnel, what with Petrofina's purchase of a Port Arthur refinery. One couple, the Robert Beadles, are already making plans to move to the coastal city. They have my sympathy. . . . Visited a few minutes Monday with Mrs. Gus Barr (Clarise) who was down from Lubbock, combining business with the pleasure of seeing her grandchildren. The Barrs were popular Big Springers during the years when Gus owned a leading photography studio here. Since moving to Lubbock, Gus travels a lot, and Clarise keeps busy with her lamp shop. Their son-in-law and daughter are the Ronnie Howards . . . Mrs. A. McGann, who moved to Farmersville some time ago, returned here with Mrs. Nell Hall from the regional bridge tournament in Dallas. Other local players were Mrs. Raymond Tollett, Mrs. Dottie Harris, Mrs. Shirley Bell and Mrs. Morris Rhodes. Mrs. McGann will be driven back home Friday by her grandson, Mike Samabogna of Florida, who was a groomsmen in the Saturday wedding of Susy Reinkemeyer and Bill Burchett. . . . Ron Mercer may be answering the phone at the Chamber of Commerce for a few days. His girl Friday, Mrs. Barbara Giles, is leaving it with him. She'll join Miss Dorothy Love for an 8-day spree in the Bahamas. Deadline. Call me?

Area Residents Have Guests

WESTBROOK (SC) — The D. J. Barbers recently visited Tom Coker, a patient at Shannon Hospital, San Angelo. The Barbers also attended the recent Hart reunion at Big Spring State Park.

Mrs. J. K. Williamson and Mrs. D. G. Rollins and children spent Monday in Odessa and Midland. Mrs. Rollins and Mrs. Altis Clemmer visited Wednesday with Charles Rice, a patient at Medical Center Memorial Hospital.

The Hilton Parsons were in Eastland recently to attend funeral services for his father, Joseph Parsons.

The Pat Neffs have moved to Ralls, where Neff accepted a teaching and coaching position in the Ralls school. Neff was principal of Westbrook School during the past school year.

PARIS COWBOYS — Sporting their newly purchased Western duds, two men and a girl pose on the Champs Elysees in Paris, with Arch of Triumph in background. They are a growing number of French enthusiasts for the Wild West and the Civil War period.

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Since the beginning of our marriage four years ago, I told my husband I wouldn't tolerate "Playboy" or any other such magazine in our home, and if he wanted to read that kind of stuff he would have to leave it at his office.

We moved recently and I found a stack of these girly magazines in the attic. My husband laughed about it and said he read them when I was asleep or out.

Now he continues buying these magazines which he keeps in his drawer. I told him to remove them or I would throw them out. Well, he didn't, and I did. Now he tells me I owe him $8 for his destroyed magazines, and he refuses to give me his paycheck until I pay him the $8. Am I wrong, or is he? He knew my feelings, and he was warned. He says those magazines belonged to him and I had no right to destroy them.

If you want to publish this, go ahead. There must be others with this problem.

HATES FILTH
DEAR HATES: You are wrong. Your husband has a right to read what he wishes, and to keep whatever he wants in his drawer. And if you don't quit invading his privacy and destroying his property, it could cost you more than $8.

DEAR ABBY: Without commenting on the legal, moral, or social aspect of the situation, here are the facts:
My son and his girl friend, who are living together, have announced that they are going to have a baby. They are very happy about it. The girl's friends have "showered" her with gifts. As far as I know, the prospective parents have no plans to marry in the immediate future.

My question: How may I announce the birth of my first grandchild — an event I am looking forward to with great anticipation? Is there a way I can show my love and acceptance of this child — just as I love and accept my son, without seeming too inconsiderate of others who may have a strong opposition to such a situation? NO JUDGE

DEAR NO: Don't make an official announcement. Your obvious love and acceptance of the child will speak for itself. The "others" who oppose such a situation must surely realize that you are not responsible for your son's actions.

Elbow HD Club Has Installation

Installation of new officers for the Elbow Home Demonstration Club was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Joe Evans, Sterling City Rd.

Heading the slate is Mrs. R. B. Covington Jr., president; and other officers are Mrs. Clark Stout, vice president; Mrs. R. E. Beneford, secretary; Mrs. Buster Allen, treasurer; Mrs. Myrl Soles, council parliamentarian; and Mrs. Herman Fowler, reporter.

Mrs. Soles, food leader for the club, presented a program on herbs and spices, and members sampled spice cake, cinnamon bars and ginger cookies.

The club will not meet again until Sept. 6 when Mrs. B. N. Borroughs will be hostess.

Birthday Party Held Saturday

Mrs. W. W. Coleman was honored on her birthday Saturday by members of Friendship Class of Wesley United Methodist Church, in the home of Mrs. C. A. White, 607 Elgin.

During a short business session, Mrs. J. C. Ray presided, and devotion was by Mrs. Flo Odom. Members agreed to provide gifts for two members of the class who are ill.

Guests at the meeting were Miss Kristie Ray, Dallas, Miss June Coleman and Mrs. Abby Anderson. Refreshments were served.

Word From Cher

"Designers have lost their authority. A woman can get by with anything as long as she puts the pieces together all right." Singer Cher Bono.

Miss Terri L. Stigen Weds Ronnie Turner

Miss Terri Lynn Stigen and Ronnie Dean Turney were married June 7 at Trinity Baptist Church, Odessa, with the Rev. Paul M. Miller officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stigen, Odessa, formerly of Big Spring. Turney is the son of Mrs. Doyle Turney, Odessa, and the late Mr. Turney. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. P. E. Witt, Odessa, is a former local resident.

The couple stood before a white wrought iron archway decorated with white flowers and lavender ribbons. Background music was by Arnold Raming, organist.

The bride's empire gown was fashioned in peau de soie, with long lace sleeves length train with a self belt gown featured a chapel-length train with a self belt and bow. Ruffles and beads accented the train and a front satin insert. Her illusion veil was gathered to a cluster of embroidered flowers, and she carried a bouquet of lavender and white carnations.

Miss Susan Stigen served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Wanda Lynn Hopper. Both attendants wore floor-length lavender batiste eyelet gowns fashion insert. They wore velvet ribbons in their hair and carried nosegays of lavender and white carnations.

Ray Collins was best man, and the bride's brother, Charles Stigen, was ushers were Rex Allen and Kenneth Turney, brother of the bridegroom. Brook Reeves was ring bearer.

The newly weds planned a trip to Orlando, Fla., after which they will reside at 1501 E. 15th, Odessa. Turney is a graduate of Permian High School and Odessa College. He is manager of Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Parlor, Odessa. The bride, a graduate of Permian High, is attending Odessa College. She works for TG&Y Stores.

A reception was held at the church fellowship hall. The serving table was covered with a white cloth, overlaid with lavender net. A white candelabra holding white tapers and entwined with English ivy centered the table. The tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Serving were Mrs. Dan Westlund and Mrs. W. C. Dixon. Guests were registered by Mrs. Fritz Smith.
