Bombs-Ending Pact Signed By President

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon has signed legislation to halt all U.S. military action in Indochina by Aug. 15.

He served notice he will seek new war-making powers if he thinks they are needed to win an Indochina peace.

In signing the compromise measure on Sunday, the President said:

"The last remaining element of the peace in Southeast Asia is a stable Cambodian settlement... I will continue to take the responsible action necessary to win that peace. Should further actions be required to that end later in the year, I shall request the Congress to help us achieve our objectives."

MUDDY LANDING — Alfons J. Zimecki didn't quite make it to the landing field at Tulsa International Airport, cutting his swatch through a muddy field instead. This happened on his instrument landing examination.

Farmers Await Crop Decision

Unless Howard County is designated a disaster area because of damages received Friday to cotton crops from high wind and hail farmers will not be eligible for emergency government loans, Larry Bratcher, director of Farmers Home Administration, said.

Bratcher said the Farmers Home office was a last resort aid source consulted only after help from banks was found inadequate.

Bratcher said there were two government loan programs: The operating loan was a common loan paid back with interest used to supplement inadequate bank credit. The emergency loan was offered after an area was designated a disaster by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture or the President.

Bratcher said he believed the banks would be able to extend enough credit to farmers suffering loss from the wind and hail storm Friday.

Farmers have 15 days to file an application for acreage credit to receive their set-aside payments, Gabe Hammack, supervisor of Agriculture Stabilization & Conservation, said. The office will be closed July 4.

Hammack said there was a $5 inspection fee for the acreage credit application but farmers who still had their cotton allotment standing do not have to pay the inspection fee but must certify.

Of the 85,000 acres of cotton standing in Howard County only about five or 10 per cent was lost, Bruce Griffith, county extension agent, said.

Bratcher said he did not expect the county to be declared a disaster area at this time.

SOCIAL SECURITY MEASURE SIGNED

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Workers who earn at least $12,000 will have to pay $35.10 more annually to fund an increase in Social Security benefits next year.

A bill giving 30 million Social Security recipients the 5.6 per cent increase in benefits was signed Sunday by President Nixon. It was passed by Congress Saturday and flown here for Nixon's signature.

The Social Security raises, included in legislation extending the national debt ceiling of $465 billion to Nov. 30, take effect next July 1.

Under the bill, average benefits will increase from $161 to $170 a month for single persons and from $277 to $293 for couples.

Guaranteed federal minimums under special programs for the aged, blind and disabled also will be upped July 1, 1974, from $130 to $140 a month for single persons and from $195 to $210 for couples.

John Quincy Adams Proclaimed Holiday

The first official proclamation of the Fourth of July as a national holiday was made by John Quincy Adams, sixth President of the United States who had been 10 years old when the Revolutionary War began and witnessed the birth of a new nation.

He called upon all Americans to commemorate and celebrate the fourth with these words:

"The day will be the most memorable in the history of America. I am apt to believe it will be celebrated by succeeding generations as a great American festival. It ought to be commemorated as a day of deliverance by the solemn act of devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, shows, games, and bells from one end of the continent to the other from this time forward forevermore."

HOT DAYS

Continued hot afternoons. High today and Tuesday, upper 90s. Low tonight, low 70s.

Supporters Of Nixon Start Counterattack

WASHINGTON (AP) — The counterattack from official and unofficial supporters of the President has begun now that John W. Dean III's long-awaited Watergate testimony, with allegations of presidential involvement, is a matter of record.

Dean, fired as White House counsel, testified before the Senate Watergate committee for five days last week. He spoke of meetings at which he said he told the President everything he knew about the Watergate affair.

HE KNEW

And Dean admitted he knew a great deal.

He said he had participated in meetings at which political espionage was discussed and also tried to cover up administration involvement in the June 17, 1972, break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters.

The committee is in recess this Fourth of July week. When its public hearings resume July 10, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell will be on the stand.

William G. Hundley, one of Mitchell's attorneys, said last week the former attorney general's testimony will not implicate the President in any aspect of the Watergate scandal. Attacks on Dean's testimony came from two quarters Sunday.

IMAGINATION

J. Fred Buzhardt, White House counsel assigned to Watergate, said in an interview with The Washington Post that he thought Dean was sincere but that his "imagination got away from him."

Nixon Optimistic On Price Of Food

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Attempting to reassure both businessmen and housewives, President Nixon promised a "short as possible" price freeze and foresees relief against high food prices.

Although complaints of grocery buyers have been claiming the greatest public attention, many businessmen say they are barred from making future plans because of continuing uncertainty over Phase 4 wage-price controls.

SHORT FREEZE

In a radio address broadcast Sunday, Nixon said, "We have been determined from the outset to keep the freeze as short as possible"—an indication he may disclose his new economic game plan before the 60-day price freeze expires on Aug. 13.

Nixon said a temporary freeze on all except raw food prices at the farm level was necessary because it is "vital that we have genuine consultations with a wide range of interested parties before launching Phase 4." He said these consultations have begun. As for supermarket prices, Nixon said:

"The many measures we have taken to increase the supply of farm commodities — including the release of more than 40 million additional acres for farm production — will eventually bring more farm products to the market and will provide relief against high food prices."

SCARCITY

Acknowledging that the freeze has led to inequities, Nixon said it also can create inflationary scarcity.

He said, "We have seen this for example, in the fact that some broiler producers have had to kill off baby chicks because they could not afford to pay the high feed prices and still sell the broilers at their ceiling prices."

Asked whether the President would answer Dean's allegations, Buzhardt said, "I'm not sure we want to put the President in a position to answer a confessed felon."

Charles W. Colson, who left the White House staff early this year to enter private law practice in Washington, said in a television interview that Dean's allegations "are unfounded and untrue."

Colson, described during the hearings as a key figure in campaign "dirty tricks," said he believes Dean lied when he said he had told the President all the facts about Watergate on March 21.

Colson said he talked to the President the evening of March 21, and Nixon told him he "was not being told the truth, that he was being given confusing information."

Colson said on the CBS program "Face the Nation."

"I think it's one of the most extraordinary documents I've ever seen, because in it Mr. Dean continues to perpetuate the lies. He continues to hold back information from the President," Colson said.

Colson, who has repeatedly defended the President since early June, said he has not had contact with Nixon for several weeks.

In a related development, Gary Hart, a leader of Sen. George McGovern's unsuccessful presidential campaign against Nixon in 1972, said in an interview he doubts greater stress on Watergate during the campaign would have changed the outcome. Nixon carried every state but Massachusetts and the District of Columbia.

He said the current Democratic party strategy toward the Watergate issue is "we don't want to profit from a national tragedy. You can translate that as let the Republicans stew in their own juice."

Although Dean said he disclosed Watergate facts to the President on March 21, Dean then went to the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md., to write a report on Watergate,

Stadium's Parking Lot Paving Gets Under Way

Marvin Hanson, road administrator, announced the start of work on paving the Memorial Stadium parking lot this morning in County Commissioners Court.

Also, the court authorized taking bids on gravel for this and other projects. Actual paving work on the lot will be delayed until the court awards a contract and obtains delivery.

Hanson said gravel was needed to finish paving the O'Daniel Road southeast of Coahoma.

Commissioner Jack Buchanan mentioned obtaining gravel for two miles of the old Gail Road. Commissioner Simon Terrazas Sr. spoke about paving three miles in his precinct, and Commissioner Bill Crooker wanted to pave "a little bit."

Luck All Bad For Chairman

This has been a hard-luck year for George Robertson, youth chairman for the fight against muscular dystrophy.

Obstacles have arisen from the start, and Friday evening they were climaxed by damage from the storm that hit the east end of Highland Mall where George, along with Scott Lawliss and helpers, had set up a benefit carnival.

George figured that damage amounted to some $300 to $350 to goods and equipment.

Monday he had about $20 left from proceeds of a distress sale Saturday of salvaged prizes, but lumber borrowed for booths was damaged by the terrific wind, and that could be wiped out, too.

George's efforts for the MD fight had been recognized as being the best in Texas and sixth in the nation one year and one of the best in Texas another.

But this year his mother, Mrs. Don Robertson, who had been his good helper, was ill and couldn't assist in gathering prizes. George had a job which kept him from doing as much in this respect, too. However, finally he was able to get help from a number of merchants and with Scott's assistance, set up the carnival for a scheduled run Friday and Saturday.

But just as things were hitting full stride Friday, so did the wind and hailstorm. This was the final straw.

Stanton Takes Beating In Friday's Big Blow

STANTON — Residents here today were busy talking to insurance adjusters in connection with damage from Friday night's wind and hail storm.

The storm hit Stanton shortly before 9 p.m. with golf ball-and-baseball-sized hail reported in different sections of the city.

Worst damage was on the east side of town. The West Texas compress suffered severe wind damage and also had a small machine shop flattened in that area.

Cotton crops were completely wiped out in some sections and avoided severe damage in others, according to an area farmer. One witness said that east of town, many windows were broken and drapes were even shredded at one residence and one house reported that the wrought iron decoration on the front porch twisted during the storm.

The windows on the east side of the courthouse on the second and third floor were all broken out, as were many downtown windows.

Persons living west of town apparently avoided both the heavy hail and the severe wind gusts.

TIME TO MAKE THINGS — These are a few of the youngsters taking part in the Summer Fun part of the Citywide Summer Recreation program at Comanche Trail Park. Mrs. Harold Danford supervises this work, as she has for several seasons, and both boys and girls set up personal projects in this portion of the free service for elementary aged children.

Summer Rec Registrants Still Taken

Youngsters still may enroll in the summer fun portion of the Citywide Summer Recreation program.

There is no cost, for the Supervised program is financed by the United Way, the City of Big Spring, the YMCA and Big Spring Schools.

All any elementary age child has to do is to get his or her parents to bring them to Comanche Trail Park at 9 a.m. any weekday morning, or to Lakeview YMCA.

Activities include all sorts of games, both the quiet and physical types, arts and crafts short hikes, swimming, etc. The program continues through this month.

Last week cumulative attendance at Comanche Park (with one day curtailed because of weather) was 247. The Lakeview program drew 878. The basketball program for teenagers at Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the high school drew 55.

Sam Dawson, who is directing the Lakeview program, announced that Mrs. Vernice Jacobs has joined the staff in charge of arts and crafts. She is assisted by Erma Rutledge, a volunteer.

The program at Comanche Park is in charge of a trained staff headed by Cliff Cook.

Trio Officers Hit By Shotgun Blasts

SAN AUGUSTINE, Tex. (AP) — One woman was killed and five others, including three law officers, were hit by shotgun blasts in a two-hour gun battle at a remote piney woods farm house near this deep East Texas town.

A 67-year-old man, identified as Victor Van Lacy, surrendered to law officers at 10 a.m., two hours after the shooting started with the killing of Marie Mae Clark, 48, believed to be the common-law wife of the gunman.

Officers found a bolt-action 16-gauge shotgun at the house. Van Lacy threw down a .22-caliber rifle as he surrendered. Ambulance driver Lonell Garner, 45, was the first casualty, hit in the shoulder as he drove up to the house after an unidentified woman had called to report a shooting.

Then Richard Davis, a San Augustine County deputy sheriff.

Murphrees Quit Settler Posts

Mr. and Mrs. Vandoyl Murphree have resigned as president and secretary of the Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers Association.

Murphree, who has headed the association for the past two years, said he had notified M. H. (Stick) Boatler, who had been on the nominating committee, that he will not be able to serve. He urged anyone who can help or take office in the association to get in touch with Boatler.

"We appreciate the honor paid us in these offices," he said, "and we have enjoyed the service greatly. But my work schedule and other commitments do not leave us with time to supervise the arrangements for the annual old timer get-together."

Office Competes For AF Trophy

The base fuels management office at Webb AFB has been selected by Air Training Command (ATC) officials as the command representative in the Air Force-wide competition for the American Petroleum Institute Trophy.

It was chosen on a basis of over-all management, service and excellence in daily operations. Lt. Dan Brinkman is the base fuels officer.

The trophy is presented annually to the base whose fuels management organization is rated the best in the Air Force. Second and third place finishers will receive commemorative plaques.

Webb's nomination has been forwarded for consideration to the Director of Aerospace Fuels in the San Antonio Air Material Area, Kelly AFB, Tex. This facility is the single manager for fuel operation in the Air Force.

DEATHS

Mrs. Gilliam

Services will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday in River-Welch Funeral Chapel for Mrs. G. E. (Effie) Gilliam, 85, who died early Sunday in a local nursing home after a lengthy illness.

Rev. R. Earl Price, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Mount Olive Cemetery.

Born Nov. 15, 1887 in Louisiana, she moved to Big Spring with her parents at an early age. She married Grover E. (Red) Gilliam May 7, 1929 in Big Spring. She had been a member of First Presbyterian Church nearly all her life.

Her husband, an oil field driller, had served as a county commissioner here 1946-49 and 1952-55.

Survivors are her husband, two sisters-in-law, a nephew and three nieces.

Pallbearers will be Dwight McCann, Ervin Daniel, Willard Sullivan, Russell Johnson, Ralph White, A. N. Standard Jr., A. A. Porter and E. C. Boatler.

Mrs. David Rucker

Services were held at 2 p.m. today for Mrs. David Rucker, 73, who died Saturday in a local hospital.

Rev. Jim Wilkerson, pastor of Crestview Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral at River-Welch Funeral Chapel. Burial was in Trinity Memorial Park.

Pallbearers were Maurice Chapman, Frank Hardy, Elmo Dunn, Zuster Brumley, Harvey Davis and Fred Smith.

Mrs. Bertha Tubb

Services will be at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday for Mrs. Bertha Tubb, 67, who died at 7:50 p.m. Sunday in a local hospital.

NEW JAILER

The court agreed to pay $15 per month more for a new jailer Jesse Levi Bedwell because the former policeman has qualified for an intermediate law enforcement certificate. This additional pay was approved as a policy previously for deputy sheriffs.

Bedwell has six years of experience in law enforcement. He was a patrolman with the Big Spring Police Department and in Temple. The $15 incentive for training will be on top of $393.50 regular salary and $50 per month food allowance.

N.Y. Terral, a retired major formerly with the Texas Department of Corrections, may work only five months yearly without affecting his retirement benefits. Having worked as jailer here five months, Terral is returning home to Central Texas.

And the court accepted a report showing $1,738 in direct welfare relief during June. This figure includes groceries, medical and hospital expenses and surplus commodity center salaries.

Consolidated Equipment Co. was the other bidder.

Man Charged In Slaying

BROWNWOOD — A Brownwood man, 27, shot early Sunday in a Brownwood pool hall, died later at the Brownwood Community Hospital.

Another Brownwood man was charged in the shooting and is in jail under $25,000 bond.

Billy Ray Chandler, 27, succumbed about 2:30 a.m. Sunday in the Brownwood Community Hospital from gunshot wounds in the chest, which he received about 1:30 a.m.

Larry Clifton, 26, was arrested about 5 a.m. and charged with murder with malice aforethought. Jailed Sunday night, he was to be transferred to the Brown County jail sometime Monday.

Justice of the Peace Joe Bob Morgan said the weapon used was a .22 caliber. Brownwood police investigated the case.

Survivors include his parents, and Mrs. Ray Chandler of Brownwood; and a brother, Thurman of Brownwood.

PAUL SWEATT

Sweatt Assumes Lodge Office

Paul Sweatt assumed duties as worshipful master as Masonic Lodge 1340 installed officers Saturday night in an open ceremony.

Other new officers are Bob Smith, senior warden; Bob Zellars, junior warden; Gordon Hughes, chaplain; John Irwin, tiler; Charles Bailey, senior deacon and J. C. Pye, junior steward.

G. C. Glenn, treasurer; H. L. Rainey, secretary; and G. C. Ragsdale, senior steward, were hold-over officers. Past masters Glenn and Rainey were installing officers at the ceremony.

Airman Is Hurt In Auto Mishap

AIC James M. Rapalee, 20, of Box 3629 Webb AFB, was listed in satisfactory condition this morning at Webb Hospital after being involved in a one-car accident early Sunday morning.

Repalee was admitted to the hospital at 3 a.m. with lacerations and abrasions on his arms and hands received when his car hit a metal pole in the 900 block of W. 3rd St.

Investigating officer Juan Palacios, who arrived at the scene at 12:57 a.m., said Rapalee apparently lost control of the car which then left the road making a 180 degree turn, skidded and hit the pole.

Repalee is a member of the 78th field maintenance squadron at Webb.

Worsham Named To Committee

Jack R. Worsham, president of Big Spring Savings Association, has been appointed to the 1973 committee on savings-loan law and regulations of the United States Savings and Loan League. The appointment was announced by Richard G. Gilbert of Canton, Ohio, president of the league, which has approximately 4,800 savings associations and cooperative banks as members.

Trip Goes For Naught, Convicted Man Freed

LAMESA — A convicted woman and sentenced to life imprisonment.

However, that conviction was reversed and remanded by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Deputy Baciel Lambert went to Lansing, Kansas, in order to transfer Delbert Winston Jones, convicted of murder without malice by a Dawson County jury in Jan. 1968 to Huntsville to serve the balance of a five year sentence for the conviction.

However, upon arriving at Huntsville, Jones was released from custody on the grounds that he had already served sufficient time in jail prior to the Texas murder trial to take care of his five year sentence, the maximum for a conviction of murder without malice.

His release came as a complete surprise to everyone involved, including the prisoner himself. Lambert reported that Jones purchased a bus ticket and indicated that his destination would be Greenville, Miss. after being freed.

Jones was convicted and sentenced by a local jury in a trial transferred from Ward County in Jan. 1968. Prior to that change of venue, he had been tried in Ward County and found guilty of the beating murder of a young Monahans

BB Gun Drawn During Spate

Two women were reported having a loud disagreement in a residential area in the southeast portion of Big Spring Sunday afternoon.

Law officials reported that one woman, during the disagreement, threatened the second woman with a BB gun.

The argument was temporarily halted by the arrival of city police.

Substantial Loss Is Reported Here

Over $1300 in cash and checks were reported missing at Rip Griffith's 66 Truck Stop Sunday afternoon.

Lee Matlock called in the report to the police and said a money bag filled with cash and checks was taken from the safe. Neither the safe nor the office were locked at the time, according to the investigating police officers.

Also on Sunday afternoon, an attendant at Highland Texaco reported that a customer reached inside the till and made off with $40 at his station.

The Pills And The Pros

With training camps to open soon and the first exhibition game just over a month away, the National Football League and its players are not facing up to drug abuse.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle has put off plans to require players to take urine test as a means of deterrence. Rozelle did say that the measure is still under consideration for the coming season.

The NFL Players Association strongly opposes urinalysis. Team representatives to the association said this would be an invasion of privacy and other rights. This is understandable but not adequate.

If, as some players contend, there is little drug abuse in the league, they have little to fear from the tests. The users of pills could be pinpointed.

Professional football has become the nation's top sport. Millions go to the games and millions more watch on television on the three major networks. Players are instantly identifiable and idolized. Unfortunately, millions of dollars are wagered.

There is a rather common belief among those who know the game that some athletes use stimulants before and during a game to improve their performance and protect their jobs. This is beyond sedating injuries.

Houston Ridge was not a player who came to be idolized. He was injured badly in 1969 while playing for the San Diego Chargers. Ridge sued the Chargers, claiming drugs given him by the team physician and the team trainer made him vulnerable to injury.

The team chose not to go to open court with the case and Ridge settled for $325,000 out of court.

Ours has become a drug-oriented society, as Rozelle conceded. "We can't be exempt," the commissioner conceded.

One way of determining the nature of the problem would be urinalysis. The commissioner, the owners and the players would be wise to agree to it this season. It would maintain firm confidence.

The Unmoved Puffers

Americans pay little attention to those health-hazard warnings which by law grace every package of cigarettes. The Tobacco Tax Council reports that during April taxes were imposed on substantially more than two billion of those packages. On 2,141,564,000 packages, to be exact, which is a whopping seven per cent above the 2,001,441,000 packages taxed in April of 1972.

Nor was April a fluke. The Tobacco Tax Council, which likes to emphasize how much tax revenue comes from the industry's product, has obligingly compiled 10-month figures as well. These show an increase of some 545 million packages over the previous corresponding period.

The citizens of this Republic are, in short, puffing a veritable Mount Vesuvius of cigarette smoke. This despite a barrage of warnings from the surgeon general's office and elsewhere that cigarette smokers run a greatly increased risk of fatal disease. Americans can read, but they're not paying attention.

Ah, Vanity!

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Let a man be caught puffing on a reefer, and he is forever branded. On the other hand, there are few of us who don't use cosmetics of some sort, yet no one refers to us as users. Addicts to 'beautifiers' we are however.

MADISON AVENUE has cleverly and diabolically convinced us that we would be considered gross if we don't spray our hair regularly, dust ourselves with talc, seek out the pockets of perspiration and neutralize them with deodorant and take sponge baths in Aqua Velva and-or English Leather cologne water.

Now the captains in the cosmetics industry are well into a campaign to convince the dandies that sprinkling one's vest pocket handkerchief with the finest in French perfume makes him irresistible to the ladies.

BE THAT as it may, the science of cosmetics goes way back — maybe to the time families lived in caves. The red ochre found in the graves of the Cro-Magnon man, who existed centuries before Christ, was used as a body paint and may even have served as rouge and lipstick, just as it did in ancient Egypt.

ISAIAH, whose name laces through the Old Testament, railed at pretty Jewish women in his day for using false hair and cosmetics. He equated cosmetics with Hell, but he reckoned without a woman's vanity, which often means more to her than health itself. There is a compulsion within women to make themselves overpowering to the opposite sex just as there is in man to risk everything in his search for the purse of Fortunatus.

THE PERSIANS of ancient times curled their hair and beards into tight ringlets. The ancient Egyptians sat at banquet tables with cones of perfumed oil called nard, which they applied all over their bodies.

There's not much difference between modern woman, who forces her hair into curls and waves with lotions and sprays, and a belle of pre-historic times, who flattened down her hair with black powder and oil before twisting it into various shapes.

WE ARE prone to laugh at people in the past who wore rings in their noses or stretched their necks but were they really any different than their modern counterparts who endure plastic surgery to shorten noses or have their faces lifted or subject themselves to injections of sand in order to increase the sizes of their bustlines?

How many women today will endure a rain storm, and let their mascara start to run?

THE WIG business today exists mainly because the male species will do anything to hide a bald pate, and because ever fretful woman is looking for that perfect combination of hair and complexion.

The cosmetics industry is now selling close to $1 billion worth of goods annually to the American male alone, and considers it hasn't really exploited the conceit that is mankind's. The manner in which he has sought to take full advantage of the mixture of exotic colors in his dress, in sharp contrast to the drabness to which tradition chained him a generation ago, proves he is a vain creature who admires the peacock much more than he does the water buffalo.

Abandoning Ship?

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The rapid deterioration of relations between the White House and the Senate Republican leader, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, radically accelerated by the Watergate scandal, hit a new low last Tuesday when Scott spoiled administration efforts to delay passage of a gutted military foreign aid bill.

IN THE poisonously anti-Nixon, isolationist mood prevailing in the Senate, the bill was cut to shreds. Aid to South Vietnam was severely restricted, reflecting the view of prominent Democratic senators that President Thieu's regime should be abandoned.

Given this situation, administration strategists figured the only possible course was to postpone the vote beyond June 30. That would provide a higher level of military aid temporarily and also buy time to improve aid to Vietnam. Accordingly, a meeting was scheduled for 2 p.m. Tuesday in the back room of Sen. Scott's minority leader's office just off the Senate floor to be attended by key pro-administration senators and presidential aides. The subject: how best to achieve the delay.

WHILE ADMINISTRATION officials waited in Sen. Scott's outer office, 2 p.m. came and went. What they did not know was that Sen. Scott was holding his own unscheduled meeting at that moment in the Senate Republican cloakroom, a sacrosanct area barred to non-senators. Scott told pro-administration senators there was no point in delay. Without administration officials around to object, key Nixon backers agreed to go ahead.

The incident buttresses the widespread feeling, both in the Senate and the White House, that Scott is preparing to abandon the Nixon ship in the wreck of Watergate. Scott, a wily old political fox who can scent the trends, is moving toward charting his own course, developing his own legislative strategy and vastly enhancing his own power as White House power declines.

EARLY DURING the Nixon administration, Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas played the informal role as Nixon advocate, often in opposition to Scott. No more. Embittered by his humiliating experience as Republican national chairman, Sen. Dole tells fellow senators that Mr. Nixon today commands only 19 to 25 sure votes in the 100-member Senate — the principal reason why Scott is charting his own course.

A footnote: Conservative Republican congressmen — especially firebrand first-termers — are plotting to purge Rep. John Anderson of Illinois as GOP caucus chairman because he opposes Mr. Nixon's Indochina policy.

ALTHOUGH WATERGATE dominated backroom conversation during last Tuesday's meeting of the executive committee of the Republican National Committee, the subject was regarded as so inflammatory that national chairman George Bush ordered it kept off the agenda.

A FOOTNOTE: Former White House political aide Harry Dent, now general counsel of the National Committee, strongly urged conservative backing for liberal Rep. William Steiger of Wisconsin, chairman of the party's new committee on reforming party rules and regulations.

ARE YOU WATCHING JOHN DEAN OR MRS. DEAN?

Chicken Lickin'

John Cunniff

By JOHN LUMPKIN (Substituting for John Cunniff)

SMILEY, Tex. (AP) — Walter Sheffield has watched some chicken growers go broke but he says, "Some of them didn't fight and figure as hard. You got to stay with it day and night."

He rides up a muddy road to a long shed and stoops his head as he goes inside where 20,000 four-week-old birds peck, poke and wander about.

He says he will raise the chicks in the shed to maturity although he will lose about 17 and one-half cents per chick because of surging feed prices and the President's price freeze.

FOR THE first time in his 26 years in his "business," he says he has destroyed some of his production by taking about 30,000 eggs out of the incubator before they hatched and dumping them.

"It really is a hard decision when you are involved in the production of livestock which you at all times are trying to make live and to do good . . . It is a disturbing fact when you have to destroy it. You've been trying to make it live," Sheffield, 44, says.

He says he foresaw a losing market this summer with the increase in feed prices so he began to sell his breeder hens prior to the price freeze to reduce his production. When the price freeze arrived, he destroyed the incubating eggs "to speed up" the reduction, he says.

"IN THIS industry, we have a crisis every five minutes, but not as serious as this one," he says. According to Sheffield, this year had been good "up to now." He says there have been some good years, some bad years and some middle-of-the-road years.

"I started as soon as I got out of high school. I just stayed in what I've been raised. That is the only thing I knew," he says.

He calls himself a small producer. In all, he now cares for about 270,000 birds during a 10-week growing cycle but the stock may continue to be reduced because of the reduction in breeder hens. He says he can absorb the nickel-a-pound losses on the reduced number of birds.

"WHAT YOU have done five to six weeks ago, you can't erase. You have to live with it," he says of the birds which already were hatched.

At least one of his neighbors, Horace Sample, says he has drowned chicks a few days old as well as dumping unhatched eggs. Both Sample and Sheffield say they anticipate no further destruction of eggs or live chicks.

Sheffield says the two present enemies of the poultry producer are the price freeze and increases in the cost of production which he says "is almost 100 per cent increase in the cost of feed." Raw feed prices are exempt in the price freeze.

Sheffield hesitates and then adds a third enemy, which he describes as "the futures people, the 'paper' people."

HE SAYS, "They've manipulated this thing."

According to Sheffield, domestic buyers of feeds are competing among each other for limited supplies because of deals the United States has made for exporting grains to Russia and elsewhere.

"To me, it was a bad thing. It might have been good for the country as a whole," he says of the export of agreements.

Veteran Editor Dies

Hal Boyle

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Back in 1957, Jim Record mused, "They've been wonderful year—all 50 of them. Now I'm looking forward to the next 50."

That remark came from James R. Record, associate editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, as he rounded out his first half century with the newspaper.

Associates recognized it as a characteristic pronouncement from the veteran executive, who was well into that "next 50" before a lengthy illness cut into his career, ended by his death Sunday at the age of 87.

He leaves his widow, Alabell Record; a brother, Phil C. Record of Fort Worth, and several nephews and nieces.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Monday at the Hayson and Cole Chapel in Fort Worth. The funeral will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in St. Patrick Cathedral with Bishop John J. Casata presiding.

In 1907 he joined what was then the Fort Worth Star, and through the years rose to prominence among the nation's leading newspaper editors.

Along the way he served for 21 years as president of the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

Before being named associate editor of the Star-Telegram in 1956, he worked as a reporter, sports editor, city editor, news editor and managing editor.

As he resigned as Texas APME president at a Galveston meeting in 1950, Record said, "I want younger men to have the fine experience of holding the office."

An article in the national magazine Editor & Publisher recalled that occurrence "was a moving, eye-moistening moment in the lives of Texas editors and their wives who had enjoyed Mr. Record's warm leadership more than two decades."

Record's glory days, said an associate, undoubtedly were the 22 years he was managing editor of the Star-Telegram. It was during these years that the Star-Telegram grew both in circulation and prestige and earned the complimentary title of the Bible of West Texas.

Record had a number of taboos which a neophyte in the city room often learned the hard way.

There was no "arid" or "desert" section of West Texas. To Record and the Star-Telegram, the vast area the newspaper served was a land of milk and honey.

He was perhaps the state's greatest lay authority on Texas libel laws. His knowledge of the law undoubtedly saved his paper litigation and his natural caution saved his publisher embarrassment.

Liabie For Reasonable Steps

To move some household goods to the country, Watson hitched up his trailer and set out along the highway. But as he was climbing a hill the trailer broke loose, veered across the center line, and slammed into a car coming the other way.

THE OTHER driver was seriously injured, and in due course brought suit for damages. At the trial, Watson insisted that he was not to blame because "it all happened so suddenly."

But the evidence showed that the trailer hitch had a faulty weld, and that the defect had been plainly visible before the accident. Result: Watson was held liable.

ANYONE who undertakes to haul a trailer on the public roads must also undertake reasonable precautions. He must exercise a degree of care commensurate with the size and speed of this extra vehicle.

Furthermore, he must conform to the special requirements — such as a "fail safe" set of chains — that may be called for by the local traffic code.

EVEN IF a trailer does not actually break loose, it may still be dangerous because of swaying. Another driver incurred liability because his trailer, swinging from side to side, knocked down a woman walking on the shoulder of the highway.

On the other hand, not every injury inflicted by a trailer is the driver's fault. Consider another case in which a runaway trailer caused a collision. This time, the trailer came loose as a result of the shearing off of a pin in the hitching mechanism.

BUT THERE was nothing to put the driver on guard for such an eventuality — no visible defect, no prior experience to warn him of danger.

Accordingly, a court refused to make him pay damages. "The collision," said the judge, "was the result of an unavoidable accident."

Chinese Clams Invade

GREENVILLE, Del. (AP) — Scientists at the new Delaware Museum of Natural History here say Chinese clams have disrupted the balance of nature in several major U.S. waterways.

Discovery of the Corbicula manilensis a clam generally only three-quarters of an inch long, in the Delaware River between Philadelphia and Trenton is reported in the April issue of the museum's journal, Nautilus. The clam multiplies rapidly, crowding out native underwater life because it has no natural enemy in American habitats. The mollusk has never before been seen in the Northeast.

The article also reports Chinese clams in the Savannah River near Millhaven, Ga., and in the Pee Dee River near Society Hill, S.C. How the mollusk was brought to this country is not known, but it was perhaps introduced into California in 1880 by Chinese immigrants from Canton.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Not If He Doesn't Bark

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it harmful for children to eat dog food? Our 18-month old son eats one of the dried dog foods and loves it.

People tell us we shouldn't let him eat it, but the ingredients don't look harmful. What do you say? — D. P.

I see no harm in it, except that it could be a bit embarrassing for you if one day a neighbor innocently asked him what he had that morning for breakfast.

I read not long ago that a group of college students decided to beat inflation by going on a dog food diet, and they fared pretty well until they grew tired of the monotony.

Just for the heck of it, I checked the ingredients on a bag of dogfood and found that, in part, it included: "Ground yellow corn, soybean meal, meat and bone meal, corn ground feed, animal fat . . . ground oats, wheat, dried whey, dried meat solubles, ground wheat, brewer's dried yeast, wheat germ meal, iodized salt, vitamin A and B-12, supplements, niacin, calcium, thiamine, riboflavin supplement," and a lot of other additives too numerous to mention and none of which would cause any harm — very well-balanced, actually.

Without trying to "push" dog food as a baby — or adult — food, I can say that it has been told to me that, for some strange reason, dog food sales in poverty areas of large cities seem inordinately high for the known people population there.

A lot of the animal parts used in such foods, of course, aren't what you would brag about having on a dinner plate.

I know of one case where a man came home rather late from a party and decided to have a snack before going to bed. He made himself a well-decorated sandwich in the darkened kitchen from what he thought was his wife's meatloaf. It wasn't until the next morning he learned it was some

That either speaks a lot for the dog food or very little for his wife's meatloaf.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter, 33, can't seem to digest protein. A couple of hours after eating she vomits wretchedly with pains through the abdomen that last up to seven hours.

No medication helps. She has had X-rays and nothing shows up. Doctors say it is severe colitis, but she still can't eat and is losing weight rapidly, and I am worried. If she doesn't get the proper food her body will deteriorate. This has been going on two years. Is there something she can do to relieve this condition? — Mrs. A. J.

Has the condition known as anorexia been investigated? This is an emotional disorder which prevents patients from eating, and they can waste away until they are as gaunt as inmates of the concentration camps in Germany years ago.

Billy Graham

MY ANSWER

It seems that America is growing soft on Communism. Do you believe that the Communists have changed their strategy, and have abandoned their goal of world conquest? — G.L.A.

Obviously, there has been no official announcement from the Kremlin that the Communists have rescinded the goals which were printed in the Daily Worker in 1958. Among those goals were:

- To get control of the universities.
- To eliminate laws governing obscenity by branding them as censorship, and a violation of free speech.
- To infiltrate the churches.
- To eliminate prayer or any religious expression in schools.
- To discredit the family as an institution.

Now if these were part of their goals, they have had a good measure of success!

A colleague of mine recently made a tour of the Soviet Union. With friends, he visited the bureau of Records. An editor of a weekly paper in the United States asked if they had copies of any American newspapers. They asked the name of his paper. The clerk then went to the files and obtained a copy. How's that for a comment on strategy?

The real enemy, however, of any person or any nation is Satan himself. Let's never let our vigilance against him become soft. Remember Christ is the only One who can mean it when He says, "I have overcome . . ." John 16:33. America's hope lies not so much in nuclear supremacy over an aggressor nation as in a spiritual dependency on a loving and forgiving God.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee." (Psalm 55:22)

PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee that Thou hast a solution for every human problem; and if we cast our burdens on Thee, Thou wilt sustain us. Teach us to trust in Thee that we may have peace of mind and heart. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

TEEN FORUM

UNDER A CLOUD: (Q.) My older sister did a lot of dirty, filthy things. She is 20 now, I am 13. Because of what she did, I am suffering greatly. My parents do not trust me, and they let everybody know they don't.

I can't be over at my friend's house for an hour without being asked 20 million questions. My mother calls people up to ask them if I am there and what I am doing.

My parents are ruining my life. I can't stand it. — Never Trused in New Jersey.

(A.) When you leave home, tell your mother where you are going and when you will be back. Go where you say you are going and return when you say you will.

Talk to her, freely and without being asked, about the things you and your friends do. Ask her not to call and ask about you unless you do not return on schedule. Explain to her that this is her business and your business and not that of acquaintances. Let her know that it embarrasses you and that it does not make her look good.

In your own mind, and in your talks with your parents, turn to the GOOD things your sister did then and does now. Try to see for yourself and point out to them that no one is ALL bad.

Changing the pattern in your home will not be easy, but you can do it if you will be patient and understanding and loving. All these qualities are contagious. Your parents should be passing them on to you, but, as they are not, try to reverse the process.

SECOND COUSIN: (Q.) I am in love with my second cousin. She is 12 years old. I'm not sure if she likes me. Every time I am around her I close up. How can I be sure about her? I live in one town and she lives in another. They are about 35 miles apart so we rarely see each other.

Please tell me what to do. I am 17. — In love in Arkansas.

(A.) Everything you say constrains me to urge you to get your mind off this girl. She is much too young for you. She is blood kin to you — distantly but kin just the same. The miles between you would make a close friendship awkward. And she has given no sign of interest in you.

Leave her alone. Do not disturb her. Look around you in your own town, for a girl you can like.

Barked Like Dog, Lived High On Hog

FIREBAUGH, Calif. (AP) — Arnold the Pig, an 800-pound house pet who lived high on the hog at the James Bocabella home here, is dead.

It took eight men to carry Arnold from the bedroom where he died to a grave in the family's backyard. He came into the limelight last December when it was learned he had his own bedroom in the home, ate four dozen doughnuts for breakfast and barked like a dog at passing strangers.

The 3-year-old pig appeared on television news programs and was scheduled for a guest spot on Johnny Carson's Tonight Show later this year, the family said.

Rainfall Misses Lake Watershed

Although rain gauges showed substantial amounts from Snyder to Lamesa, there was no runoff into Lake J. B. Thomas from Friday evening's thunderstorm.

The readings along US 180 ranged from 1 1/2 to 2 inches, and a few places the rain fell in excess of two inches. The strip apparently was narrow, because the Colorado River did not run. Readings from Big Spring to Lamesa along U.S. 87 ranged from an inch to an inch and a half, according to the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Median Family Income Tops $11,000 For The First Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The black families the median income of $11,120 last year. The Census Bureau says the median family income in America has risen to more than $11,000 a year for the first time, but that

FOR BIG SPRINGER It's Fun And Good Job As Human Mannequin

By MARJ CARPENTER

Charles Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Williams of Big Spring, is no dummy although he's getting paid well to act like one.

The graduation picture shown here when Charles completed high school here in 1971, bears little resemblance to the model with shoulder-length hair featured in the Daily Texan in Austin recently.

"Spending four to five hours a day winking at pretty girls, Williams is the highest paid mannequin in the business, according to his boss, Jack Davis, general manager of Pants South," said the article.

He trails an electrical cord from his back pocket to try to make it look like he is plugged into the display case and give him a reason for the mechanical movements he employs to attract attention.

"Once they notice me, 98 per cent of the people will stop and watch," he said "and over half leave convinced that I'm not real."

After working as a sales clerk several weeks, he sat down in the window one day to watch the people go by and soon acquired quite a crowd with his antics. The store decided to take advantage of his remarkable ability.

Williams stares unblinkingly at the window watchers. Following a television appearance, 75 per cent of the viewers claimed he was a fake.

One couple entered the shop arguing. The woman went to the window and grabbed Charles' arm and said, "See, it's fake."

The Austin article reported Williams gets a big kick out of watching people's reactions. "It sure scares the little old ladies when I move," he laughed. "Lots of people stand and tap on the window or stare at me, trying to make me blink. At the Guadalupe store, one chick spent 15 minutes making faces and blowing kisses, trying to make me crack up. Finally, I kind of jumped toward the window at her. She screamed and ran off."

His fellow employees give him a fit and step up in the window to rearrange his hat or his arms. One time the manager took a cigarette out to Williams, who took a big puff and waited for an audience before he let out a mouthful of smoke.

Williams' biggest complaint is not being able to talk with the girls he admires through the window, although he does admit to one date he acquired as a "fake."

54.5 million families climbed 8.1 per cent to $11,120 last year. But the report said that for black families the median income was only $6,860, compared to a $11,550 median for white families.

A median income means that there are as many families earning above this figure as below it. It is not an average.

The Census Bureau said that black families made little gain in closing the gap of income with whites.

While, over-all, there were one million fewer families earning less than the "poverty level" the bureau said that was an increase in the number of blacks, from 7.4 million to 7.7 million, living in poverty.

The poverty threshold for a non-farm family of four has been established at $4,275.

The poverty figures were taken from a population survey that the Census Bureau conducted last March. About 50,000 families were surveyed.

The report said that the number of white people living in poverty dropped about 9 per cent in 1972—mostly among those 65 and over.

It also said that, while the over-all median income climbed 8.1 per cent, price increases shaved this gain to a net rise of 4.6 per cent.

For men working the year around full-time the median income was $10,540, while the bureau reported the median income for full-time women workers was only $6,050.

In another report the bureau indicated that households made up of people living alone or with non-relatives are growing nearly three times as fast as family households.

Since 1970, the survey showed, family households increased by 6 per cent, but those in which the head of the household either lived alone or with non-relatives grew by 17 per cent.

Bridge Test

BY CHARLES H. GOREN © 1973, The Chicago Tribune BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KQ8 ♣K7 ♢AQ8532 ♣A10874
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♣ Pass
2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Two no trump. Theoretically this hand is one point short of the required 19 for this call but the fine six card suit is adequate compensation for the deficiency.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AQ10853 ♣74 ♢AJ62 ♣AK
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
3 ♠ 4 ♣ Pass 6 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Seven spades. A pass at this point would be the bid of cowardice. Partner is surely marked with the king of spades, the ace of hearts and extreme shortages in diamonds as indispensable values for his bid.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

What do you bid now?
A.—This hand has suddenly grown to slim proportions. In fact a direct leap to six would not be at all unreasonable. The safest course, however, at this juncture would be a bid of four diamonds, followed by an overbid of game in spades. This allows for partner's having a highly distributional hand with weakness in clubs.

Q. 4—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♣ Pass 1 NT 2 ♠ 4 ♣ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Five diamonds. This situation contains many of the elements of the classic sacrifice bid. The vulnerability is in your favor, your hand is practically worthless defensively and the length in diamonds serves to vitiate the defensive possibilities of partner's holding. At worst you should set 200 points and there is the prospect that such a small profit may not appeal sufficiently to the

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass 1 ♣ Pass 1 ♣ Pass 1 NT Pass Pass 2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. We are not partial to partners who overall in the opponent's suit, especially when we are vulnerable. However, since North is also vulnerable, we must presume he knows what he is doing. No rescue should be seriously contemplated even if partner gets doubled.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQ1082 ♣K73 ♢108 ♣542
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass Pass 1 ♣ Dble. 3 ♠ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Four spades. This hand should produce a reasonable play for game, even facing a shaded take-out double. If you bid just three spades partner may feel you are acting under pressure. Even so such a call constitutes a free bid in this position; he may pass with sufficient values to produce 10 tricks.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South

What do you bid?
A.—Pass. Give partner the courtesy of the road here. If he rescues in hearts and that gets doubled, you can try two spades if you wish, but before you crowd the bidding give him a chance to act. He may bid two diamonds for which your hand will present a dummy worth a couple of tricks.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♣ Pass 1 NT Dble. Pass ? Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. The opponents may have their signals crossed and this could turn out to be a profitable venture at 200 for each overtrick. In any event, you have no indicated place to run and should be content to stick it out.

City To Relax On Wednesday

All city and county offices will be closed July 4 and there will be no trash pickup that day, Harry Nagel, city manager, said. There will be no mail delivery and the post office will be closed, Frank Hardesty, postmaster, said.

The Chamber of Commerce will be closed and summer schools will close for that day. All banks will be closed but most super markets will remain open. A majority of businesses will close, the Chamber said.

Costs Roll Back For Insurance

The monthly premium for Medicare medical insurance, scheduled to be increased this month, has been rolled back in keeping with President Nixon's 60-day price freeze policy, according to Erven Fisher, Social Security district manager in Big Spring. "The higher amount will continue to be charged until the premium record for each beneficiary can be corrected," Fisher said. "Refunds in full will be made at a later date. This also applies to railroad retirement beneficiaries and civil service annuitants who pay premiums for medical insurance under Medicare."

Medicare medical insurance helps pay for doctor bills and many other medical expenses of almost everyone 65 or over and disabled people under 65 who have been eligible for monthly Social Security disability payments for two years or more.

Shaw Triplets Now Part Of Presidential Museum

Big Spring's triplets, Franklin, Delano and Roosevelt Shaw are now part of the exhibit at the Presidential Museum in Odessa.

The exhibit was compiled by Gerri Atwell, curator of the Heritage Museum in Big Spring, and sent to the Odessa museum.

The 36-year-old triplets, born Sept. 30, 1936, all still live in Howard County as does their mother, Mrs. W. S. Shaw.

They were born early in the second term of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, and were delivered by the late Dr. G. S. True, who asked for the privilege of naming his most important deliveries in the order of their birth.

The multiple birth stirred a great deal of interest at that time, including an offer by a Dallas physician to care for the babies for the first 14 months, which was declined by the parents who preferred for them to remain at home with their eight brothers and sisters.

A near-offer came when a Hollywood producer, apparently intrigued by the names, visited the Shaws to see about using the youngsters in a film, but nothing materialized when he discovered that only Delano and Roosevelt were identical with brown eyes and blond hair while Franklin had blue eyes and dark hair.

Although the father of the triplets was a twin and the brother of twins, all the children of the triplets have been single births.

Tractor Pull Is Set Wednesday

SNYDER — The Snyder Chamber of Commerce will feature its first annual July 4 Tractor Pull at 2 p.m. in Towle Memorial Park here.

There is no admission charge and cash prizes will be given in each class.

The Tractor Pull is a sport directed toward the farmer who wishes to engage his tools of trade in recreation after the plowing is done, the Snyder

Chamber said.

The contest involves hitching one's tractor to a load and trying to pull it farther and faster than the opposition.

Skill in the contest involves choosing or building what you pull with and how much experience you have had in the field.

Tractor pulling is no longer a minor sport. A national group, The National Tractor Pullers Association, sponsored events in state fairs and arenas across the country that totaled over $200,000 in prize money, the Snyder Chamber said.

Canned Foods Shortage Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — A canning-industry spokesman has warned of a shortage of some canned food this year.

In a statement prepared for delivery today before the Cost of Living Council, Charles J. Carey, president of the National Canners Association, warned that available information indicated "a growing shortage of canned fruits and vegetables during the 1973-74 marketing year."

Carey said that demand for canned foods is expected to rise as prices of fresh foods increase but that the industry's stocks of canned food are now at their lowest level since World War II.

He urged immediate implementation of Phase 4 economic controls, suggesting that these be aimed to stimulate the nation's food supplies so price controls will become unnecessary.

Unless this is done, Carey said, there will be an even greater supply shortage a year from now with growing pressures for higher prices.

Texas' Merritt Gave 'Beanball'

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Cool Jim Merritt abruptly ended a blossoming beanball war, then registered his first complete game in the majors since 1970 Sunday night as the Texas Rangers defeated Kansas City Royals, 8-3.

The bean ball reared its ugly head in the first inning when Texas shortstop-third baseman Toby Harrah suffered a spiral fracture of the little finger of his left hand when hit by a Paul Splittorff fastball.

Merritt, now 2-3 with both victories coming against the Royals if the last nine days, hit the first Kansas City batter, third baseman Paul Schaal, with the first pitch of the second inning.

"I've got to protect my hitters," Merritt said. "My man was hit; I had to retaliate. It's part of the game. If I don't do it, opposing pitchers will take advantage of us."

"I think it was obvious that Splittorff was trying to brush Toby back. I don't think he intended to hit him, but I was only trying to knock down Schaal, too. I didn't care if I hit him, but that wasn't the object just as I'm sure that wasn't the object of Splittorff's pitch to Harrah."

Harrah had singled, doubled, homered and walked twice against Splittorff when the Royals defeated Texas, 8-7, on June 23 in Kansas City.

"No one likes to be hit like that. So, you try to move the hitter back or knock him down. That's the way the game should be played," Merritt said.

Splittorff, 10-5, admitted that he was trying to brush Harrah back.

"I felt I had to do that. He had been hammering me pretty good," said the tall lefthander. "I was not trying to hit him and I wasn't really trying to knock him down. Just brush him back. He crowded the plate and I accidentally hit him. I didn't want to do that and I definitely did not want to hurt him."

Kansas City Manager Dick McKenon said that plate guard Bill Deegan immediately warned Splittorff to avoid such tactics.

"Then, after the inning in which Merritt hit Schaal, Deegan came over to me and told me 'we're all even now, so let's forget it.' Then he went over and told Herzog (Texas Manager Whitey Herzog) the same thing. We never intended to start a beanball war anyways," said McKenon.

Herzog was pleased with Merritt's retaliatory technique, but he was not happy when the 29-year-old southpaw got in his leeks.

"I wish he had waited until there were two outs and nobody on to hit a man. I'm all for that. I believe that's the way the game should be played. Splittorff's action didn't bother me, neither did Merritt's. That's baseball—good, hard, intelligent baseball. I'm sorry Harrah got hurt but it was unintentional, so I can't complain. I wish my other pitchers would pitch as aggressively as Merritt did."

Bill Sudakis' three-run homer and Rico Carty's four-for-four performance highlighted a 12-hit Ranger attack that earned them a split in the four game series with the Royals.

LL Pairings Announced

The first place teams in all four Big Spring Little League drew first round byes in the 1973 City Tournament, slated to get under way on the local diamonds Tuesday according to District Administrator Jack Barber.

The Pirates, No. 3 in the American League, and the Red Sox, third place in the Texas loop, are scheduled for a first round matchup, along with the NL runner-up Rangers vs. the International League's Rockets, third place team.

In the other early action, the T-Birds of the IL face the AL Cabots in a battle between second and third place units, while the TL runner-up Dodgers face the No. 3 National team, the Devils.

The International loop champion Comets, TL titlist Tigers, NL winner Yankees and AL champion Colts all got byes.

All games will be 8 p.m. contests. After Tuesday's opener, the action picks up on Thursday and the championship game is set for Saturday.

In final regular season action Saturday, the T-Birds whipped the Rockets 9-3 and the Yankees bombed the Braves 17-1.

Randy Cregar, Mark Harris and Mark Knight combined to limit the Braves to five hits in the Yankee rout, while the winners were pounding out 11 hits. Ronald Sunday had a double and a single, and Mark Poes, Harris, Knight, Ricky Cluck, David Pittman, Kevin Davidson, Brent Nichols and Ray Rhymes all contributed singles.

For the Braves, Wesley McCurtain was outstanding on defense while Randy Harrington and Robbie Reeves each had two hits and Weldon Nichols one.

Jimmy Brown stopped the Rockets on three hits as the T-Birds lifted their mark to 14-6. Ricky Myers slammed two hits, including a home run, and Chip Koozer had three safeties in the victory. Lenny Stewart, Brown and Steve Genoble had two apiece and Bucky Mitchell and Wayne Hilliard whiffed one for the winners.

Troy Baker, Chris Smith and James Dunbar hit safely for the Rockets, who slipped to 13-7. Smith was the losing pitcher.

OVER AND BACK — New York's Felix Millan hurdles Chicago Cub catcher Ken Rudolph to avoid a tag (top photo) and then leaps back to tag the plate because he also avoided the base (bottom photo). The action came during the first inning of the Mets-Cubs doubleheader in Chicago Sunday. Millan scored when Chicago first baseman Pat Borque dropped a grounder off the bat of Rusty Staub. The Mets dropped the nightcap 6-5 after winning the opener by the same score.

Wilson Heats Up In Houston's Win

HOUSTON (AP) — Two Star break the past two seasons, started tuning up for his annual stretch drive Sunday with a seven hit 6-4 victory over the San Diego Padres.

"It looks like I'll need a good second half to catch up again," said Wilson, whose last complete game was May 19 against San Francisco. "But I feel I've got a few breaks coming and it all events out."

The Astros started giving Wilson a few breaks Sunday with a six-run cushion by the fifth inning. Wilson drove in two runs himself with a double, Bob Watson hit a two-run home run and shortstop Skip Jeter and shortstop Roger Metzger each had run-scoring singles.

The Astros touched three Padres pitchers for 10 hits and Wilson said the hitting helped his pitching.

"If you get a lot of runs it makes it easier to pitch," Wilson said. "You can relax and throw your pitches and not have to worry about that guy hitting a home run and beating you."

Wilson, 6-8 this season, gave up a pair of doubles to John Grubb and Nate Colbert for one run in the first inning and then allowed only one hit until the seventh.

San Diego got three hits that inning including Fred Kendall's run-scoring double. Kendall came back to haunt Wilson again in the ninth inning with a two-run home run.

Wilson still had enough left to strike out Clarence Gaston and Dwayne Anderson and get Derrel Thomas on a pop up to end the game.

"I think Wilson might have gotten a little careless in the ninth with Kendall," Astros Manager Leo Durocher said. "But you saw how he came back. He really had the mustard when he needed it."

Wilson's "mustard" is just about on schedule. In 1971, Wilson had a 16-10 record and was 10-4 after the All-Star break. Last year he finished 15-10 and was 9-3 after the break.

Wilson's second half performance last season was typical. He won five straight games between Aug. 12 and Sept. 11 and hit-had three straight complete games allowing only two runs.

With all the injury problems Houston's pitching staff has encountered this season, Durocher is happy at least to turn his calendar to July and hope for a heavy diet of outstanding pitching performances—with a large serving of Wilson mustard, please.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — California race driver Swede Savage died in Methodist Hospital today of injuries suffered in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race May 30.

Savage had been in critical condition since his flaming crash during the 59th lap of the rain-plagued race. He suffered fractures of both legs and burns on his face, arms and right hand.

Hardware Bumps Tribe By 3-1
Big Spring Hardware turned three hits into as many runs Saturday night and edged the McMahon Indians 3-1 in Big Spring Hi-Junior League baseball action.

Mark Moore doubled and a single and Keith Stone managed one single as the Hardware team pushed across two runs, all it needed, in the first inning. Jody Bennett was the winning pitcher.

For the Indians, Billy Don Whittington and Charles McKinney slapped two singles apiece and James Zapp and Shawn Anderson had one each. David Spence was the loser.

Braves Rally Twice To Split With Giants

By The Associated Press
The Atlanta Braves apparently have learned that even their wobbly bullpen can't blow a lead in the top of the 10th inning.

"Thank the Lord we didn't have to go back out there and face them another inning," a numb Manager Eddie Mathews gaped Sunday after the Braves rallied in the eighth inning... and again in the ninth... to nip the San Francisco Giants 8-7 and split a doubleheader.

The Braves blew a 6-5 lead in the opener when the Giants lat-foored four Atlanta pitchers for nine runs on six hits and three walks and a 14-6 victory.

"Our relief pitching has become a joke," sobbed Mathews. "That second game was an instant replay of the first one. It was the same guys pitching to the same guys and they just can't get anybody out."

This time, it turned out okay when Frank Tepedino singled home the tying run in the bottom of the ninth and scored the winner on a bases-loaded sacrifice fly by Jackson, who also had a run-scoring single in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds swept a twin bill from the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3 and 3-2 in 10 innings, the Houston Astros shaded the San Diego Padres 6-4, the Chicago Cubs dropped their opener to the New York Mets 6-5 and took the nightcap by the same score, the Philadelphia Phillies edged the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0 and the Pittsburgh Pirates took two from the Montreal Expos 6-2 and 8-4.

Tony Perez drilled a long single with two out in the 10th inning to give the Reds their sweep over Los Angeles after Hal King slammed a pinch three-run homer off the right field foul pole with two out in the bottom of the ninth to win the opener.

Randy Hundley's three-run homer off Tug McGraw with two out in the bottom of the ninth of the second game lifted the Cubs to a split with the Mets. McGraw had saved the opener for Jerry Kosman when left fielder George Theodore backed against the wall to grab Jim Hickman's ninth-inning drive with two runners aboard.

Philadelphia rookie Dick Ruthven hurled a two-hitter for his first major league shutout and the Phillies edged Bob Gibson of St. Louis on Greg Luzinski's run-scoring single in the eighth inning.

Jim Rooker and Dave Giusti combined for a six-hitter, Al Oliver homered and Fernando Gonzales whacked a two-run triple in the Pirates' second-game victory over the Expos. Luke Walker and Bob Johnson spaced six hits in the opener while Oliver delivered three singles and a run-scoring triple. Ken Singleton homered in each game for the Expos.

Frazier-Bugner Struggle Slated Tonight In London

LONDON (AP) — The talking is over now, and Joe Frazier and Joe Bugner are set to fight tonight, under the burning floodlights at London's Earl's Court Arena.

Frazier, the former world champion, and Bugner, European heavyweight titleholder, both have said they can't lose. In fact, both are looking ahead toward a possible meeting with world champion George Foreman, which the winner could receive.

So how will the fight go? It might not be a good fight to watch, because the styles of the two fighters are vastly different.

Frazier has said he aimed to be "more mobile" than when he lost his crown to Foreman last January in Jamaica.

Frazier, however, didn't appear more mobile in his training. He waded in, threw vicious hooks to the head and body, too virtuously ignoring what was thrown back at him. That style took him to 29 consecutive victories, before he was thrashed by Foreman.

Frazier's weight has been the subject of considerable speculation. He scaled 205½ pounds when he beat Muhammad Ali in 1971. But against Foreman he was 8½ pounds heavier.

At 6-foot-4, Hungarian-born Bugner will have over four inches in height advantage, a much longer reach, and at 23, is six years Frazier's junior.

Bugner's gradual buildup in 49 fights with five losses has fashioned him into an effective fighter, if not a spectacular one. He should be able to use his height and reach, and jab down as Frazier rushes in.

If Bugner falls against Frazier, it will not necessarily be the end of the road for him.

For Frazier there is a lot at stake. It is his first chance to prove the Foreman fight was a mistake. If he loses, his credibility will suffer greatly. So Frazier will be fighting for boxing survival and that will make him doubly dangerous.

WALKER MAY BE NO. 1 IN BIG SPRING SEED

Top-seeded Mark Walker of Canada, an unsure entry at press time, was the possible No. 1 seed today in the men's singles competition of the Big Spring Open Highway 80 Tennis Tournament.

Walker, who will be playing at North Texas State next year, was expected to face main challenges from a pair of University of Texas netters, Paul Wiegand and Jim Murray, during the three-day meet. Action began this morning on 19 local courts, with tourney headquarters at the new Figure Seven Tennis Center on Whipkey Drive. Matches are also being played at Big Spring High School, Howard County Junior College and Webb AFB.

Other top names to watch in the meet, Big Spring's first on the Highway 80 circuit, are boys 18 singles standouts Joe Blackshear, John Valenza, Jim Corney and Roland Taylor.

In girls 18 singles, Debbie Schulte of Corpus Christi is the top seed.

Hot Crenshaw 7-Shot Victor

RUMFORD, R.I. (AP)—Ben Crenshaw, a hot shooting 21-year-old amateur from Austin, Tex., fired a blistering four-under-par 65 Sunday and took a seven stroke victory in the 12th Northeast Amateur Invitation Golf Tournament.

The three-time NCAA champion bettered by one stroke the competitive record at the difficult Wannamoisett Country Club course.

The score also broke the tournament 18-hole record and his 73-hole total of 275 bettered the tournament record of 283 posted by Alan Miller in 1970.

The single round record of 66 had been set by Pete Bostwick of New York in 1966.

George Burns, of Port Washington, N.Y., the Big Ten champion who started the final round two strokes behind Crenshaw, fired a 70 and took second place with a 282.

In third place was Bob Capra, an 18-year-old Duke sophomore from Southbridge, Mass. He came up with a 68 Sunday and finished at 284.

British Amateur champion Dick Siderowf of Westport, Conn., using a new putter for the first time in 15 years, shot a sizzling 67 and was all alone at 285.

Sharing fifth place with 287's were Bill Hyndman of Hunting Valley, Pa., and Mickey VanGerbig of Palm Beach, Fla.

Crenshaw, who said he was "driving terribly," collected six birdies and two bogies, four of the birds coming on the second nine which he covered in three-under-par 32.

Amazing accuracy with his putter at long range again was a factor. His birdies came on putts of 30, 20, 9, 14, and 22 feet. He three-putted only one hole, the 440-yard fourth.

Crenshaw, who admits that his irons and middle irons are the weakest part of his game, said he was popping up his drives Sunday.

GOOD LUCK CHARM—Billy Casper gets a kiss from his son Bobby after winning the Western Open in Midlothian, Ill. Sunday. Casper, who broke a long dry spell with the victory, refers to his son as his good luck charm.

Casper Halts Long Skid In Western Open

CHICAGO (AP)—The old death playoff with Larry Hinson and Hale Irwin, who tied for second at 273.

Casper's victory was worth $35,000 while Hinson and Irwin each pocketed $16,187.

Sharing fourth place money of $7,233 at 274 were Bruce Crampton, the third-round leader who tailed off to a 73; Hubert Green with a blazing 65 and J. C. Snead with 66. Art Wall and Arnold Palmer were next at 276 and John Mahaffey followed with 277.

Seldom have losers been so happy. "I didn't win my fifth tournament of the season, but I achieved my most important milestone," said Crampton. "I got into the million dollar bracket."

The Australian boosted his career earnings to $1,003,103 to join Jack Nicklaus, Palmer, Casper and Lee Trevino as golf's millionaires.

On the 72nd, his approach was short and he pitched six feet away. He needed the putt for a par, a finishing 69, and a 10-under-par 272 over the trampled Midlothian course. He got it, avoiding a sudden-

Foyt Claims Win In Shaefer 500

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP)—A.J. Foyt, a sports immortal if there ever was one, cradled his luck in his strong driving arms Sunday and won his first 500 mile championship auto race in six lean years.

He got it at the expense of luckless Roger McCluskey, who ran out of gas on the 199th lap of the 200-lap race.

The Texan, auto racing's most prolific winner of prize money—almost $3 million in 16 years—and more recently named driver of the decade, had led only 11 laps of the race. McCluskey had been in front 62 laps—more than any of the other seven drivers who set the pace.

Only eight of the original 33 starters finished the wreck-marred grind around the 2 1/2 mile triangle-shaped course. The mishaps, one of which sent 1970 and 1971 Indianapolis winner Al Unser to a hospital, slowed the action for more than 50 miles.

Ryder Squad Adds Casper

CHICAGO (AP)—Billy Casper and J. C. Snead came out of the pack and won spots on the 12-man American Ryder Cup team with high finishes Sunday in the Western Open golf tournament.

Casper won the event—the last one in which points are awarded for positions on the team that will oppose Britain's best in the biennial matches in Scotland this fall—and Snead tied for fourth.

They topped Frank Beard and Rod Funseth from the squad. The American team will be made up of Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Tom Weiskopf, Gay Brewer, Lou Graham, Dave Hill, Tommy Aaron, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Homero Blancas, Arnold Palmer, Casper and Snead.

It was the seventh consecutive time that Casper has made the squad. He was 18th on the list—with only 12 to be chosen—going into the final selection tournament and had to finish fourth or better to make it.

Snead, a raw-boned nephew of Sam Snead and the man who clinched the American victory in the 1969 matches in St. Louis, made the squad by the thinnest of margins.

Mayer Faces West German In Wimbledon Play Tuesday

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Alex Mayer, a 21-year-old American student playing Wimbledon "just for experience," has beaten top-seeded Ilie Nastase of Romania but now faces what he considers an equally tough task: a quarter-final match against Jurgen Fassbender, of West Germany, the eighth seed, made short work of the young American in their only previous encounter earlier this year, beating him 61, 6-1 at Charleston, W. Va.

Mayer ousted a slightly limp Nastase in four sensational sets Saturday. But he refused comment on his chances against Fassbender in Tuesday's men's singles quarter-finals.

Mills Claims Lady Tara Without A Sudden Death

ATLANTA (AP)—Mary Mills two-putted from 22 feet away on the final green Sunday and was prepared for a sudden death playoff which never came.

"I really thought I needed it to tie Sharon Miller," the Gulfport, Miss., golfer said after claiming the $30,000 Lady Tara Open with a three-under-par 70 for a 54-hole total of 217, two under par.

She had watched as Miss Miller sank a 10-foot putt, but wasn't aware it was for a bogey which dropped her into a four-way tie for second place with veterans Sandra Haynie and Judy Rankin and popular newcomer Laura Baugh, the teen-age blonde beauty who had led after each of the first two rounds.

Bonnie Bryant, only left-hander on the tour, shared the lead after 15 holes but went bogey, bogey on the final two holes and was alone in sixth place with a 74 for 219.

The victory was worth $4,500 for Miss Mills while the runners-up earned $2,480. Miss Miller closed with a 72. Mrs. Rankin and Miss Haynie had 73s and Miss Baugh 75.

In today's women's singles all eight seeds are through to the quarter-finals, with 1972 winner Billie Jean King going for her fifth Wimbledon triumph. A victory this year would make her the first woman to notch five singles titles here, since America's Helen Wills Moody did it between the two World Wars.

But second-seeded Mrs. King has a problem—her old rival, Australia's Margaret Court. Mrs. Court, back at Wimbledon after a year's absence for the birth of a son, is fighting for her second Grand Slam. She already has won the French and Australian titles, and now needs only Wimbledon and Forest Hills. Maureen "Little Mo" Connelly is the only woman to win the Grand Slam, 20 years ago.

In the quarter-finals, Mrs. Court, the top seed, faces eighth-seeded Olga Morozova of Russia and Mrs. King meets seventh-seeded Kerry Melville of Australia. Chris Evert, from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., fourth seed, faces Rosie Casals of San Francisco while Britain's sixth seed, Virginia Wade, battles third-seeded Evonne Goolagong of Australia.

Big Spring shooter Larry Redman placed second in the Sharpshooter Class with a 1518 and Tippy Anderson Jr. was third in the Marksman action with 1388 points.

The next Western Sportsman's Club match will be the International Standard Pistol meet Aug. 5 at the club range nine miles west of Big Spring on the Andrews Highway. All pistol shooters are welcome to compete.

ELMER LAYDEN Irish 'Horseman' Dies

CHICAGO (AP)—Elmer Layden, who came from Davenport, Iowa, to gain football immortality as a member of the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame, is dead.

Layden, 70, died Saturday night in Northwestern University Medical Center. He was admitted to the hospital June 8 after being ill for six months. Hospital officials said the cause of death was unknown and an autopsy was scheduled.

Layden, along with quarterback Harry Stuhldreher, who died in January 1965, and halfbacks Don Miller and Jim Crowley, led Notre Dame to a national championship in 1924 when the Irish ran up a 9-0 record and then defeated Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Sports writer Grantland Rice gave the backfield lasting fame with his description of their skill:

"Outlined against a blue-gray sky, the Four Horsemen rode again. In dramatic lore they are known as Famine, Pestilence, Destruction and Death. These are only aliases. Their real names are Stuhldreher, Miller, Crowley and Layden."

Miller, a federal bankruptcy referee in Cleveland, Ohio, and Crowley, retired in Scranton, Pa., planned to attend the funeral services scheduled for 10 a.m. Tuesday in Holy Name Cathedral.

Layden coached one season at Columbia College in Dubuque, Iowa, then moved to Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, where he had an excellent record.

In 1934 he was offered the head coaching job at his alma mater and in seven years won Layden, Notre Dame ran up a 47-13-3 mark including a national title in 1938.

It was a June wedding, fifty years ago, for Willard and Tot Sullivan. When the big anniversary arrived this year, they were too busy to make a fuss over it, but friends remembered, anyway, with cards and flowers. It was a quiet day for the Sullivans, but a very special one for two delightful people.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Cosby and children, Cindy and Steve, arrived here this weekend from Jacksonville, Fla., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tidwell. Mrs. Cosby is the former Pat Tidwell, and Cosby was one of the greatest line-backers ever to play for the Big Spring Steer football team.

The W. K. Jacksons have her daughter, Mrs. K. B. Zella, and her children as visitors for several weeks. Mrs. Zella, the former Sylvia Edwards, is recuperating from surgery performed Tuesday at Medical Center Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Williamson have had a guest, too. Her sister, Mrs. A. F. Landers of El Centro, Calif., arrived last week and they went to Robert Lee where the eight sisters had a reunion in the home of Mrs. W. R. Denman.

TIDBITS: The Frank Brandons are off to Kerrville to attend a summer seminar at the Texas Photographer's Association. Frank usually is a top winner in TPA contests. Mrs. Walter (Ann) Hornaday of Austin has been staying in the Settles Hotel apartment of Mrs. Lulu Ashley and Miss Edith Gay while visiting her mother, Mrs. Della K. Agnell. Mrs. Agnell, a resident of Big Spring Nursing Inn for several years, has been hospitalized.

Marvin Miller stopped by Thursday, said he and wife, Roberta, were going to Cloudcroft, N.M., for a few days to relax and see about plans for their property at "Timberon," the posh resort area being developed near Ruidoso. Truman Jones of Big Spring is associated with the development which has a lodge, golf course, riding academy, etc. Mrs. Miller's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert (Francine) Phelan, had surgery recently, and her children, Charlie and Debra, visited here during that time. Elizabeth Phelan (Mrs. Miller's daughter) is off to California to visit her sister, Rachel, and her husband, Capt. James Wilson.

Have Winning Scores Friday

Winning players in Friday afternoon's duplicate bridge sessions at Big Spring County Club have been announced by Mrs. Morris Rhodes. Mrs. Rhodes has been serving as director of the games since the recent resignation of long-time director, Mrs. Elmo Wasson.

North-south winners were Mrs. Henry Bell and Mrs. Rhodes, first; Mrs. J. H. Parks and Mrs. Myrtle Lee, second; and Mrs. Jack Irons and Mrs. Charles Thompson, third. Winners in the east-west position were Mrs. Elvis McCrary and Mrs. Ray Mc Mahen, first; Mrs. Walter Slate and Mrs. Truman Jones, second; and Mrs. Dorothy Herbert and Mrs. W. B. Gill tied for third place with Mrs. J. F. Fish and Mrs. A. Swartz.

Daniel T. McCrarys Making Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. McCrary are at home at 1201 Dixie following their marriage June 24 in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church with the Rev. James Collier officiating. The altar setting was enhanced with an arch entwined with bridal wreath and flanked with pedestal arrangements of yellow gladioli. Miss Diana Burns was organist.

Carrying a bouquet of yellow Sweetheart roses and babies'-breath, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of champagne organza over taffeta. The tucked bodice was accented with

Preparing For Dress Review

Knott 4-H Club members have been preparing for participation in the dress review slated July 12 in the Howard County fair barn.

The club members participating are Jana Long, Irma Franco, Tonya Shortes, Carla Parker, Carla Nichols, Leslie Guitard and Stacy Parker. Their leader is Mrs. Bruce Parker.

After modeling at the regular club meeting, the sewing group met Wednesday in the home economics building at Sands School to work on record books and continue modeling practice.

lace and featured bishop sleeves. A wide-brimmed picture hat completed her wedding attire.

Miss Kelly Ann McCrary, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and Robert Holmes served as best man. The ushers were James B. Hill and Jimmy Wright.

Prior to leaving on a trip to the Davis Mountains, Amistead Lake, and Banderita, the couple was honored at a reception in the church courtyard. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mabel Kountz, Mrs. Caryle Brown and Mrs. Maralyn Miers.

Local Rainbow Girls Receive State Award

Thirty-two members of Big Spring Assembly 60 and five adult sponsors have returned from the Grand Assembly in Fort Worth, June 25-28. Approximately 3,500 girls attended the event.

During the state meeting, Zina Johnston, local worthy advisor, reported the collection of 3,003 bundles of 10 nylon hose, again winning top place in the state. The hose are donated to hospitals for use in occupational therapy projects.

Cindy Williams served as Grand Representative from New Jersey to Texas, and Cheryl Newton was a member of the Grand Choir. Voting delegates from the local assembly, other than Miss Johnston, were Pam Wheeler, Susan Smith and Kay Williams, past worthy advisors; Della Nobles, charity; and Rhoda Riley, hope.

The Big Spring Assembly was joined by assemblies from Midland, Odessa and Andrews in performing a drill in honor of Mary Hill, new worthy advisor, who is from Midland.

En route home, the group went to Six Flags.

Adults accompanying the group were Mrs. W. C. Fryar, Mrs. J. D. Mauppin, Mrs. H. E. Parmenter, Mrs. Carl McGlothlin and Mrs.

Don Williams, mother advisor.

The next local meeting will be July 10 when the group will entertain Grand Officers.

A LOVELIER YOU For Weight Losers Sweet Tooth Foods

By MARY SUE MILLER

A sweet tooth is the stumbling block in dieting for many reducers. This letter from a reader tells it as it is:

"I crave sweets to the point where I'd rather be fat than eat another bite of raw fruit for dessert. Then I go overboard for double fudge sundaes. The splurge not only weighs on my conscience but on my scale."

Well now, a reducer with a nagging desire for sweets does not have to relinquish them altogether. A wise course is to get acquainted with sweet-tasting delights in the low-calorie category. Flavors are great and you can indulge without becoming a diet dropout. Actually, fewer sweets and fats in summer can keep all of us from having heat waves.

Good low-cal desserts come packaged, ready to serve or quick to prepare. Among the readies are dietetic ice cream; honey cake and angel puffs; whipped topping and chocolate syrup.

With a little work, dieters' puddings, gelatins and cake mixes make luscious treats, especially if you use a bit of imagination in the preparation. For example, decolorized gelatin can be used as a basis for frothy snow puddings. Just sprinkle instant coffee on vanilla diet pudding or serve gingerbread (low-cal mix) hot with whipped topping and you've got a taste thrill.

When it's gussied up, raw fruit becomes a delicacy. Try a dash of rum flavoring on peach halves or fresh mint on fresh fruit cup — and your wisdom tooth will tell your sweet tooth to move over.

CALORIE COUNTER

Do you really know the calorie counts of the foods you eat? Our leaflet, "Pocket Calorie Counter," tells the score at a glance. It also gives a diet plan — a way to eat and slim. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

No Regrets

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I quote from your column: "Dear Abby: My mother has been very sick for a year and a half. Her doctor says she could last another year or die tomorrow. My husband and I have put off taking any kind of vacation ever since mother's illness, and we really must get away. I'm afraid if we go, mother might die, and we'll have to turn around and rush home. Should we go or not?"

I'm glad you threw the problem right back into her lap, Abby. That's a decision everyone must make for himself. My own beloved mother suffered a series of strokes and was confined to bed, totally helpless.

My brother and I took turns staying with her for nine years, day and night, and neither one of us worried about a vacation. When one of us would walk into Mama's room, the sunshine of her smile was "vacation" enough for us. God called her home last Christmas.

NO REGRETS IN ALLIANCE, OHIO

DEAR NO: Another Ohioan had the same problem. Read on for her solution:

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the woman whose mother lingered so long with a terminal illness that she and her husband didn't dare to take a much needed vacation reminded me of my own situation.

We, too, had six years of the identical situation. Finally we made arrangements with a funeral home to keep mother's body until our return if she died while we were away. Then we felt free to go.

It turned out that mother passed away while we were home, so it wasn't necessary for the funeral home to grant our request.

But for four years we went away on our vacation with a clear conscience, and heaven knows it was our salvation. MARION, OHIO

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69706, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.
