BATTLE OVER DOCUMENTS MOVES CLOSER TO COURTS

Nixon Will Challenge Subpoenas

WASHINGTON (AP) — A legal battle over presidential documents moved closer to the courts today as the White House prepared its response to subpoenas served by the Senate Watergate committee and special prosecutor Archibald Cox.

The deadline for the White House response to both was 10 a.m., EDT, Thursday.

NO RESPONSE

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said no response was planned today.

He said earlier that Nixon would respond to the subpoenas and that the answer would be consistent with earlier refusals to produce presidential documents.

REFUSED TO SAY

Warren refused to say what form the response might take but the likeliest challenge would be a White House motion in U.S. District Court to kill the subpoenas on the grounds neither the committee nor Cox has the constitutional authority to require a president to surrender his personal files.

The texts of the three subpoenas became available Tuesday.

Cox demanded the tapes of nine meetings President Nixon had with members of his staff along with Gordon Strachan's political memoranda to H. R. Haldeman and a brief note concerning the transfer of E. Howard Hunt Jr., convicted Watergate conspirator, from his job as White House consultant to the President's re-election committee.

POWER PLAY

The Senate committee issued two subpoenas. One asked for the tapes of five presidential meetings.

The second demanded all records involving alleged criminal acts, including all documents, logs, correspondence, date books, notebooks and photographs, from 25 present and former White House aides and Nixon campaign officials.

The 25 included former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell; Haldeman, former White House chief of staff, and John D. Ehrlichman, former Nixon domestic affairs adviser and the current witness before the Watergate committee.

Nixon has contended that to turn over the documents would violate the doctrines of separation of powers and executive privilege.

WILL ARGUE

The issues in the current controversy never have been decided in the nation's courts.

Warren refused to speculate on what the President might do if the court decisions went against him.

A spokesman for the prosecutor's office said Cox spent the past weekend researching the law and that if the case goes to court the Harvard Law School professor and former U.S. solicitor general will argue his own case.

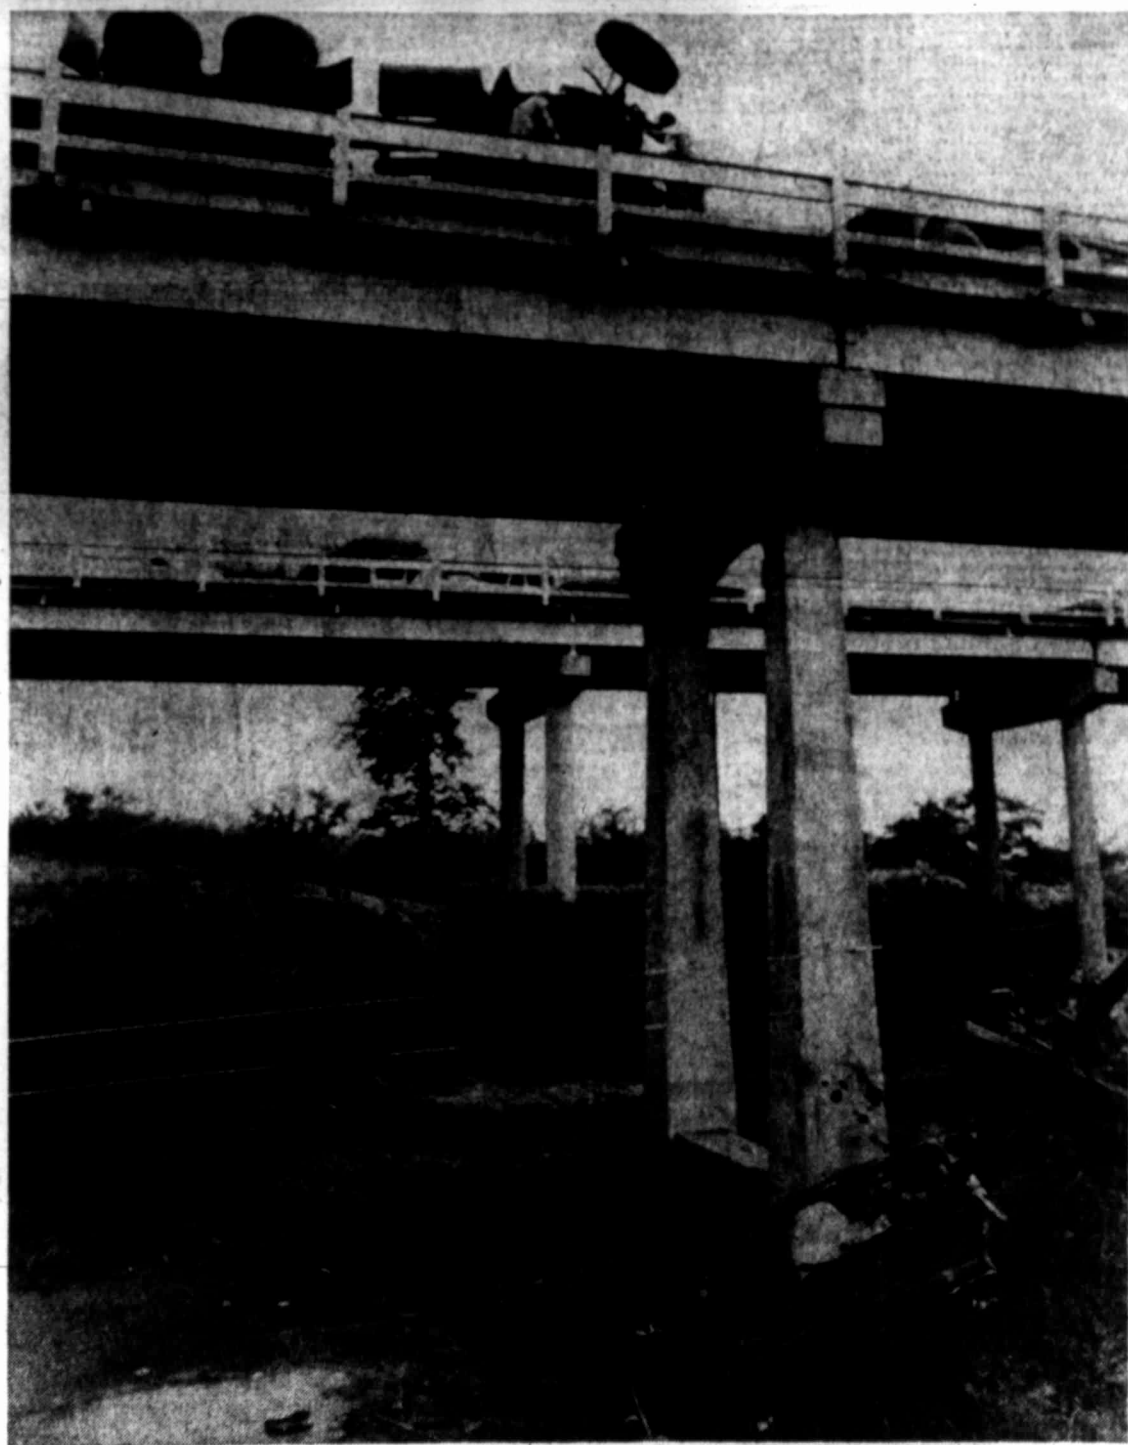

'Quiet Room' Use For Girls Drawing Fire

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Use of a "quiet room" at a private child care school for girls near Austin was to be discussed today by legislative investigators.

Rep. Lane Denton, D-Waco, who instigated a quickie probe of the Mary Lee School after he made a surprise visit with reporters last Wednesday, called a press conference for today to discuss the findings of four separate state agencies.

Denton chairs a House committee looking in to private child care institutions. It has held lengthy hearings in Houston and Austin on operations of Artesia Hall, a private child care institution in Liberty County. The committee has not yet reported its findings.

"Within the constraints of time of this evaluation and circumstances surrounding it, our findings show that Mary Lee School is in substantial compliance with current standards under which their license was issued," said the report given Denton by the State Department of Public Welfare.

One Wreck Follows Another Near Here

By MARJ CARPENTER

Traffic was halted in the eastbound lane of IS 20 over the T&P overpass three miles west of Big Spring, when a pickup and a large onion truck collided this morning at around 9 a.m. at the same location where a large shrimp truck had overturned last night at 11:20 p.m.

Two truck drivers were injured in the two separate wrecks. A third escaped unharmed.

Carl Henry Peek of Tampa, Fla., is at Medical Center Memorial hospital in good condition. He was driver of the shrimp truck which was headed west on IS 20, hit the bridge abutment on the east side of the bridge, bounced across the bridge, over a railing, through the median, across another double lane of traffic, through a fence and came to rest on its side, according to the investigating patrolman, John Ferguson.

SECOND WRECK

This morning, Joe L. Surratt, 2829 Hilltop, Odessa, driving a Phillips Petroleum pickup and headed east, apparently either slowed down or stopped when he saw the other wreck, ac-ording to information given to the investigating officers.

His pickup was struck from behind by a large onion truck driven by Billy George Higgs, Springdale, Ark. The pickup driven by Surratt hit the bridge railing, bounced into the air and fell 40 feet to the railroad below, striking power lines en route.

LANDS UPRIGHT

The pickup landed on its wheels and flattened out, but the driver climbed out of the vehicle unaided.

EX-AIDE SAYS: Nixon Didn't Authorize Burglary

WASHINGTON (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman today said President Nixon told an aide "to take such steps as were necessary" to stop the Pentagon Papers leak, but didn't expressly authorize a burglary.

Ehrlichman also denied that he or Nixon authorized an offer of clemency for one of the Watergate conspirators, E. Howard Hunt, and denied that he suggested to former acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III that he destroy politically embarrassing documents found in Hunt's White House safe.

SECRET DOCUMENTS

Ehrlichman, who had been Nixon's top domestic adviser, testified to the Senate Watergate committee that the Pentagon Papers investigation, undertaken by the White House unit known as the "plumbers," was "an effort to crack what at that moment was the largest raid on secret documents that had ever been made in the history of this government."

He said White House assistant Egil Krogh Jr., might well have considered his instructions as contemplating extraordinary steps to get information about Daniel Ellsberg, who leaked the Pentagon Papers which recounted the secret history of the Vietnam war.

After a long lawyers' debate in which his attorney contended the President may have a reservoir of power permitting the use of burglary in foreign intelligence cases, Ehrlichman faced detailed questioning about the break-in at the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist in September, 1971.

Ehrlichman said he did not authorize the burglary, although he has acknowledged signing a memorandum which approved a covert operation to get information about Ellsberg — so long as it could not be traced to the White House.

SPY RING

"We didn't know whether we were dealing here with a spy ring, just an individual kook, or whether we were dealing with a serious penetration of the nation's military and other secrets," Ehrlichman said.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., asked Ehrlichman specifically whether Nixon had authorized the break-in, a step the President later said he would have disapproved had he known of it.

UW Trustees Meet Here Thursday

All trustees were urged today by Rob Hickson, president of United Way, to be at the meeting 5 p.m. Thursday at the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

The budget committee, headed by Jimmy Taylor, will make its report and goals for the campaign will be established.

Immediately after the trustees meeting, there will be a brief meeting of the executive board, said Hickson.

J. D. Nelson, campaign chairman for the 1973-74 appeal, will begin shaping his organization for the autumn drive.

Wreck Kills Teen

SNYDER, Tex. (AP) — Rhonda Sue Burney, 19, of Lubbock was killed today when the car she was driving hit a culvert abutment on U.S. 87 nine miles north of Snyder.

$100,000 BAIL Wife Of Dope Figure Still Behind Bars

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Despite a flurry of court activity on her behalf, the wife of South Texas narcotics figure Fred Gomez Carrasco remained behind bars late Tuesday.

District Court Judge Preston Dial denied requests that Rosa Leyva Carrasco's $100,000 bond on charges of assault to murder be lowered.

Indications Tuesday afternoon were that she would post a $100,000 bond anyway, but state prosecutors questioned the sureties a bondsman was to put up for her. A hearing was set for today on the adequacy of the sureties.

Mrs. Carrasco and two other persons were arrested by officers Sunday morning at the El Tejas Motel and Carrasco was wounded in an exchange of gunfire. The incident was the climax of a lengthy dragnet for Carrasco, who was wanted by local, state, federal and Mexican authorities.

Carrasco was under armed guard Tuesday in Bexar County Hospital in satisfactory condition. A spokesman said he had entered the hospital Sunday in critical condition.

Occupancy Tax May Top $32,000 Here

City Manager Harry Nagel revealed Tuesday that revenues from the newly-passed motel-hotel occupancy tax are likely to run over $32,000 a year.

Nagel based the figure on a report from the state comptroller's office which listed state revenue last year off the tax from Big Spring's motels and hotel at $32,620.86.

The city tax is also three per cent, so the amount should be the same, Nagel reasoned. He noted, though, that the revenue may be even higher in the future since some local motels are raising their room rates.

Mayor Wade Choate appointed three motel operators to join three city officials and three Chamber of Commerce representatives on an advisory committee to supervise spending of the tax revenues. Appointed were Floyd Randel, Ramada Inn; Bill Cooper, Holiday Inn; and J. B. Mabry, Ponderosa Motor Inn.

Charles Tompkins, chairman of the committee, said the group is now writing other cities with the occupancy tax to find out how they are using the revenues.

Thief Goes Right To Family Larder

A thief who might have been coming off a diet broke into the residence of Adrian Hendricks at 1511 Bluebird during the night Monday.

Hendricks reported to the police that 12 beef steaks, valued at $18 were missing as well as 15 packages of bacon valued at over $15, and a case and a half of soft drinks. Also missing was a $37.50 tool box.

Humidity was still high at 51 per cent today with the weather forecast showing a slight chance for showers tonight and tomorrow. High today and Thursday, near 90, low in mid 60's. Chance of showers 30 per cent tonight and Thursday.

Date Is Set For Hearing

The Texas Water Rights Commission has made definite a date for hearing of an application of the Colorado River Municipal Water District to operate a diversion works on Beals Creek above Big Spring.

The commission had indicated previously that the hearing would be Sept. 12, and now that date has been firmed. The hearing will be 10 a.m. in Austin.

CRMWD is asking for the right to divert 2,200 acre-feet per year from the chain of salty lakes on the upper reaches of Beals Creek above Big Spring. If the permit is granted, the district will drain the lakes by pumping back the highly mineralized contents of the lakes to a larger one behind the Natural Dam 10 miles west of Big Spring. This structure has for centuries, perhaps, kept brackish water from entering the Beal's Creek.

Army Of Young Ropers, Riders Awaiting Rodeo

About 240 persons have registered for the Howard County Junior Rodeo 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday and participants in the parade and grand entry each night will receive a rodeo ticket.

At 6 p.m. Thursday the Howard County 4-H clubs will sponsor a barbecue at the county fair barn. Adults are $1.85 and children 12 and under are $1.25. Proceeds will be used toward the construction of the state 4-H Center at Brownwood.

The 1973 Rodeo Queen will be crowned 8 p.m. Thursday. Rodeo announcer will be local auctioneer, Dub Bryant, and arena director is Raymond Phillips.

H&M Rodeo Company of Rankin will furnish the stock.

The parade will begin 4 p.m. Thursday at 10th and Main streets and consist of all riding clubs and individuals. All participants in the parade and grand entry each night will receive a rodeo ticket.

Gen. Bradley Quits Bulova

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley has retired as chairman of Bulova Watch Co. Inc., ending 20 years affiliation with the company. Bradley said age and a desire to enjoy his remaining years prompted his decision to step down. Bradley is 80. Bradley served as first chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and commanded the 12th Army Group in France and Germany during World War II.

DEATHS

Brandon Rupard

Graveside rites will be at 10:30 a.m. Thursday in Mt. Olive Cemetery for Brandon Todd Rupard, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rupard, who died in a local hospital at 12:10 a.m. today. Elder Ben Howze of the Primitive Baptist Church will officiate at the services. River-Welch Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. Survivors are his parents, Big Spring; two brothers, Ricky Rupard and Bobby Rupard, both of the home; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Johnston, Big Spring; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Hazel Rupard, Big Spring; and great-grandmother, Mrs. Evie Winn, Big Spring.

Ray Baumgardner

DALLAS (AP) — Ray Baumgardner, veteran newsman and former southwest division manager for International News Service, died Tuesday. He was 86. Baumgardner, who had lived here for more than 50 years, began his news career at age 16 with The Indianapolis, Ind., Star. He interrupted his career for five years to practice law in Washington, D. C., then became Dallas bureau chief for The Associated Press from 1921 to 1928. Baumgardner joined the INS in 1932 and retired in 1968 when INS merged with United Press. Survivors include two sons, a daughter and a half brother. Funeral services were pending.

Big Spring Is Isle Of Comfort

PRICES ESCALATE

An Associated Press survey taken Monday in 13 American cities showed pork, poultry and eggs particularly affected by Monday's lifting of the food price ceiling imposed by President Nixon June 13. Big Spring is no exception to higher prices as a local survey of major super markets reflected today. Some stores not only showed higher prices but certain shortages as well. Before the price freeze was lifted, a Big Spring shopper could buy a half gallon of milk, a dozen eggs, a one-pound chicken fryer and a pound of bacon for $2.79 from prices advertised in mid-July. Those same items in the same quantity now cost about $3.37. Both total prices are taken from the best offers of Safeway, Piggly Wiggly, Furr's and Foodway. Eggs have taken an average 15 cent per dozen jump and bacon has climbed over 30 cents a pound. Milk prices have gone up an average of four cents a half gallon and chicken fryers are up five to seven cents a pound. Safeway and Furr's both reported that shortages in certain poultry items are caused by the recent killing of baby chicks by producers.

FIRES

Trash fire, 600 block of Nolan and Goliad. Quickly extinguished.

VANDALISM

Mrs. W. M. Franklin, 300 E. 9th reported rock thrown through a window. Damage: $60.

Results Of Ray Autopsy Not Immediately Known

Results of an autopsy performed here yesterday on Mrs. Gretchen Baker Ray, 36, found dead Monday, will not be available for four or five days, according to Sheriff A. N. Standard. The autopsy was performed at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home Tuesday by Abilene pathologist Dr. Jarrett Williams. Peace Justice Walter Grice declined to make a ruling in the death until the autopsy results are in. Mrs. Ray was found dead at 12:50 p.m. Monday by F. W. White at his residence on Driver Road in the Silver Heels Addition. She had four .22 caliber bullet wounds near her heart. Notes found at the site have been flown to the Department of Public Safety in Austin for evaluation, Standard said. A .22 caliber revolver found near the body had been purchased by Mrs. Ray at a local business about 11 a.m. Monday. Standard said his investigation, being conducted with Deputies Richard Doane and Bill Whitten, will probably be completed by tonight. He added, though, that he has asked the Texas Rangers to join the investigation in order to obtain another opinion. Funeral services for Mrs. Ray will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. Dale Cain, pastor of East Fourth Street Baptist Church, officiating assisted by Dr. Jimmy Law, pastor of College Baptist Church. Burial will be in Mt. Olive Cemetery. Pallbearers will be Ross Hill, F. D. Rogers, Sam Robertson, Aubrey Armistead, George Russell and Pete Sanderson.

bankruptcy. A sign above the empty whole fryer counter in Safeway this morning read, "Sold out fryers until Wednesday 5:30 p.m." The sign was taped over another earlier posted one which limited customers to two pounds each. At mid-morning today, Furr's was completely out of eggs. Hoping that a supply would arrive later in the day, the meat manager attributed the lack of eggs to the general shortage in chicken items due to the recent killing of chicks. Piggly Wiggly reported a run on pinto beans, something Dean Marchant, manager, said he had never before seen. He said people were just trying to cut corners. Pork chops, being cut noticeably thinner, went up in one store from $1.05 to $1.74 per pound. One store was limiting bacon sales to two pounds per customer. While supplies in pork and poultry were down in several stores, beef was in good supply in all cuts. Beef prices remain frozen until Sept. 12.

Area Oil, Gas Production Returned $209 Million

This area's biggest cash crop — oil and gas production — yielded a handsome $209 million harvest during 1972. But $51 million of this went in the hole — $34,218,392 in wells that produced and $16,973,176 in holes that had to be written off as failures. Petroleum production also put $26 million in the pockets of royalty owners, and generated nearly $10 million in production taxes for the state. These are some of the highlights of the statistical reports compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. The figures cover Howard and the six counties contiguous to it.

During last year there were drilled 466 wells in this seven-county vicinity, of which 392 were producers and 74 dry holes, a ratio of five and a half to one. Martin County, with its tremendous Spraberry Trend and Dean production development, had more drilling activity than the six other counties combined, or 238 wells. When Martin County is taken out of the figures, the number of producers in the other six counties was 168 against 60 dry holes, or a ratio of less than three producers to each dry hole. In Howard County, for instance, oil prospectors found only two producers out of every three wells drilled.

Mitchell in longevity of production, led all the others in oil yield. It had over 16 million barrels, followed by Martin with 12 million and Dawson with 11 1/4 million. Because fully half the Martin Wells did not figure in 1972 production, that county could easily lead the pack in 1973. Among the interesting sidelights generated by the report were the number of workers in plants directly associated with the processing of oil and gas. There were 2,406 employees in a dozen facilities with an annual payroll of $21,219,892, according to Texas Mid-Continent.

WEATHER FORECAST — Warm weather is forecast today for the East and cooler air is forecast for the Midwest. Sunny skies are expected for the West with very hot weather developing in the Southwest.

 patrolman, Bill Priest, notified railroad officials to check the felled power lines in case they might affect rail traffic.

In the meantime, traffic on the eastbound highway was halted. Priest commended workmen from the highway department, who immediately set up markers, guided the eastbound traffic through the median ditch to the west bound lane, across one side of that bridge and back through the ditch to the eastbound lane.

CONDITION UNKNOWN
 Surratt's condition is unknown. A call to Medical Center Hospital, connected with Malone-Hogan Clinic, gained the information that they knew nothing about him. All other hospitals in the city and one in Odessa were called.

A call to Surratt's employers in Odessa revealed that they had received a call from Malone-Hogan that he was in that facility and "that his nose was bleeding and they did not know how extensive the injuries were."

A call back to Malone-Hogan clinic revealed that Surratt was in X-ray. The spokesman for the clinic said that "We have no idea at this time what his condition is."

Higgs, driver of the onion truck, was uninjured. He was sitting in the highway patrol car talking to the patrolman when his company called in that they could not locate him in any hospitals.

Damage to all three vehicles was extensive. The trailer-truck belonging to Singleton Packing Corp., Tampa, filled with shrimp was a total wreck with the truck separated from the trailer and laying in a gnarled mass. Inside the cab of the pickup was a mounted snapshot, apparently of the truck drivers wife and children.

The new Phillips Petroleum pickup sat on its wheels on the railroad bed, almost mashed flat, with all windows broken and other damage.

The trailer-truck belonging to D. H. McJunction of Springdale, Ark., was on its side on the bridge, also heavily damaged and had to be drug off the bridge by wreckers this morning. This took several hours with the bridge expected to be cleared by noon, according to workmen at the scene.

Voters Approve Improvements

MIDLAND — A $14 million renovation project for Midland Air Terminal was launched Tuesday as Midland voters approved by a wide margin the sale of $3.5 million in general obligation bonds as the city's share of the financing.

The Federal Aviation Administration will foot the other 10.5 million for the project.

Unofficial results show the sale passed 3,797 to 531. The issue passed in all four polling places and the absentee box.

Col. Wilson Banks, city aviation director, said actual construction work on the terminal's runways and taxiways will not begin for about a year.

Hearing Set Sept. 5-6-7

The adjudication hearing on water rights on the upper portion of the Colorado River shed will be held here Sept. 5-6-7.

An examiner for the Texas Water Rights Commission will be in charge of the hearings in the Howard County District Courtroom.

A preliminary meeting is scheduled for Sept. 4 in the Runnels County courthouse at Ballinger.

All persons or organizations having any claims to water rights on the Colorado River above the confluence of the Colorado and Concho Rivers have been instructed to supply the TWRC with all information concerning their claims, either by certified filings or by permits from the commission and its predecessor agencies.

They have been directed to appear here to support those rights, and to testify as to compliance with terms of the rights.

The commission is seeking to determine the status of various rights granted or claimed in the basin. Many are through certified filings (formerly a landowner on river or its tributary could make a filing or claim to water with the county clerk) and through riparian rights. Some of these were never exercised and in some cases the individuals or agencies in whose names the filings were issued are no longer in existence.

City To Swap For Lot Here

The City Commission Tuesday authorized a land trade deed to be drawn up whereby the city would trade 4.2 acres of land on the south end of town to Lowell Jones for a lot directly behind the police station fronting on Nolan Street. City Manager Harry Nagel indicated that the city wants the lot adjoining the police station for possible future expansion of the facility.

Texans Finally Get Cut In Car Insurance Rates

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The State Insurance Board has made it official: Texans will get an average 4.3 per cent statewide reduction in car insurance rates next month. Policies written or renewed as of Aug. 27 will reflect the new rates, and further reductions can be expected by some policyholders after the new competitive rating law takes effect Sept. 1.

"There is some overlap in protection. If a motorist drops medical and adds personal injury protection, the average over-all rate increase is likely to be only $5 to $11," he said. "The new coverage will be added to all policies unless policyholders reject it in writing. As far as I'm concerned, even if a policyholder writes the company on a brown paper sack declining the coverage, the board intends to make sure he won't be charged," Christie said.

AVERAGE RATES
Statewide average rates changes ordered for the common categories of coverage are:
Bodily injury liability, down 7.4 per cent.
Property damage liability, up 0.6 per cent.
Full coverage comprehensive, down 16.1 per cent.
$100-deductible collision, up 1.8 per cent.
Uninsured motorists coverage, down 0.3 per cent.
Medical payments, down 7.8 per cent.

Impoundment Veto Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House moved closer today toward expected passage of a bill that would provide ways for Congress to override President Nixon when he impounds funds the legislators have voted to spend.

Democrats, pushing the legislation in a constitutional confrontation with the President, showed in tests on amendments Tuesday that they apparently have the votes to pass the bill—even though it faces a presidential veto.

The House amended the bill to limit its duration to one year, by which time the lawmakers hope to have perfected legislation giving them better control over the budget process.

The amendment resulted from a drive, headed by Republicans but joined by many Democrats, to keep the pressure on Congress to enact budget reform.

Debate on the impoundment measure opened with pledges from Democratic members of the Rules Committee that they would not delay consideration of the budget legislation. Republicans then dropped an effort to tie the two issues together on the floor.

Democrats, in turn, did not resist the proposal to limit the impoundment procedures to one year.

The bill would require the President, whenever he impounds funds, to report in detail to Congress within 10 days. If either chamber within 60 days passed a disapproving resolution, the impoundment would be voided.

An amendment by Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois, chairman of the House Republican Conference, which would have required both House and Senate to agree on a resolution of disapproval, lost 206 to 205.

Near the end of the voting, with the lead shifting back and forth on the House's new electronic scoreboard, Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., voted no. Albert's vote was not decisive, since the amendment would have lost on a tie vote.

While the bill faced further amendment attempts, Democrats contended they had the votes to pass it essentially intact.

BURN PLANE — Smoldering wreckage and partly burned tail of the hijacked Japanese Airlines Boeing 747 on the runway at Benghazi, Libya, after it was blown up by hijackers.

Libyan Government Will Try Hijackers

CAIRO (AP) — The Libyan government announced today that it will try the four hijackers who took over a Japanese jumbo jetliner and blew it up on the airfield at Benghazi, Libya, Tass reported.

The Soviet news agency said its information came from Radio Tripoli, the voice of Col. Muammar Khadafi's Libyan regime. Khadafi heretofore has been hospitable to Arab hijackers who landed in Libya, but this foursome was disowned by all recognized Palestinian guerrilla groups.

The four men—three Arabs and a Japanese—took over the Boeing 747 last Friday shortly after it left Amsterdam, grounded it for nearly three days at the airport in the Persian Gulf sheikdom of Dubai and then blew it up Tuesday morning after it landed at Benghazi and all 141 persons aboard slid down the emergency exit chute.

In Tokyo, Chief Cabinet Secretary Susumu Nakaido said the Japanese government would not decide whether to request extradition of the hijackers until it learns what happens to them in Libya.

Japan Air Lines hoped to send two relief planes to Benghazi tonight or early Thursday to pick up the 137 passengers and crewmen stranded by the destruction of the 747.

The hijacked jet was on a transpolar flight to Tokyo when it was seized.

School Backs Its Program

For the first time in the history of the school, San Marcos Academy, largest boarding school in Texas is offering to guarantee its educational program.

The confidence of school's faculty in educating boys and girls in grades 3 through 12 with outstanding success makes it possible to insure the parents of improvement.

On the 105-acre campus located in the hill country of Texas near Austin, in the city of San Marcos, everything is arranged for the development and education of young people.

The ratio of one teacher to every 11 children makes it possible for the teachers to know and developing a relationship with each child. The real secret is motivation and academy spokesman say they have discovered the best ways and means to motivate youngsters.

The Fall term begins Sept. 3. The faculty invites parents to visit the campus with their children. The full range of activities for every age group is especially exciting to the children.

This year the school will prove its program. If the student does not show significant improvement after one full term, the summer session is included without cost.

Ex-Victoria Judge Guilty Of Theft

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP) — Former Victoria County Judge William C. Sparks has been assessed a 10-year probation sentence after 43 witnesses testified to his character despite his admission to charges he took more than $43,000 from Victoria County.

Dist. Court Judge Wesley Dice granted the probation sentence Tuesday after listening to a Catholic priest, a Methodist minister, four former law school classmates of Sparks' from the University of Texas, a number of attorneys, housewives and Sparks' business and professional associates.

The witnesses testified that Sparks was an outstanding law student who served as president of the Student Bar Association and also was a member of the first moot court team from Texas ever to win national honors.

Sparks, who was indicted on 11 counts involving stolen funds, admitted from the stand that he converted over $43,000 in county funds to his own use. These funds were in the form of Texas Highway Department right of way refund checks, county vouchers made out to various farms and individuals and other monies.

Sparks also admitted to having converted to his own use numerous checks made in payment for fines in which county records showed the cases were dismissed.

Sparks served as district attorney until 1970, when he was elected county judge. He previously was an assistant district attorney in Lubbock.

It was revealed in testimony that Sparks has made restitution on the $43,000 covered in the indictments against him. He has been working since April for Delta Solvents and Chemicals Co. of Longview.

Art Prints Can Be Circulated

Money raised by the Friends of the Howard County Public Library will pay for art prints, which will be circulated like books.

Fiction and non-fiction, paperbacks and hardback books will be sold from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the library basement.

Most books will go for 25 cents per inch in thickness. Several sets of encyclopedias will be sold for low prices, too.

More tomes will be offered than were at the previous sale. Larry Justiss, librarian, said the sale has been expanded into an additional room.

The bidding:
West North East South
Pass 1♦ 1♥ 1♠
3♥ 4♠ Pass Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♥
A well-remembered play by East led to a swing of 720 points when this deal was played in a team match in Chicago.

At both tables in the match, South became declarer at four spades after similar auctions. Over North's opening bid of one diamond, East took advantage of the vulnerability to overcall one heart. South showed his West-card spade suit and West tried to interfere with the flow of the auction by jumping to three hearts. However, North's hand was worth 21 points in support of spades, and he showed his power with a leap to four spades, which ended the auction.

At both tables, West led the queen of hearts, won by East's ace. At one table, East shifted to the ni diamonds, and South cleverly false-carded by playing the three. West studied the diamond spots and noticed that the deuce was missing. He thought that his partner probably held a doubleton, and since the ace of diamonds was the only entry to his hand, he elected to hold up one round. There was no second chance for the defense.

A spade was led to the jack in dummy and East's ace, but there was no way for East to get his partner in to score a diamond ruff. Declarer could win any return, draw the outstanding trump and concede a trick to the ace of diamonds, making his game for a score of 620 points.

At the second table, East was aware of the possibility that his partner might play him for a doubleton diamond. Thus, after winning the ace of hearts, he searched for a way to alert his partner to the fact that he wanted to ruff a diamond. His solution was first to play the ace of trumps, and then shift to a diamond. West worked it out. If East held a doubleton diamond, it was folly first to release the ace of trumps and then shift. The play must have been intended as a signal of some kind, and the only message it could convey was that East did not want his partner to hold up. Therefore, he rose with the ace of diamonds and returned the suit and East's ruff netted his side a further 100 points.

Syphilis Study Sparks Suit In Federal Court

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A suit seeking $3 million for the 600 untreated participants in the Tuskegee syphilis study has been filed in federal court here. The total asked is $1.8 billion.

The suit was filed Tuesday by the Legal Defense Fund, an affiliate of the National Association of Colored People.

Named as defendants were the U.S. Public Health Service and several other federal agencies, the state of Alabama, the state Board of Health, participating private physicians and the private Milbank Foundation, which helped finance the study.

The suit asks U.S. District Court Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. to award $1.5 million in damages and another $1.5 million for alleged violation of the Constitution's Fifth, Ninth, 13th and 14th amendments to each of the estimated 70 survivors of the experiment and the heirs and estates of those who have died.

The study, which began in 1932 in Macon County, was intended to determine by autopsy what effect syphilis has upon the human body.

The suit said the 600 men who took part received no treatment and were discouraged from seeking help despite a campaign during the 1940s to wipe out the disease.

The suit charged that the defendants "purposefully did not inform" the participants of their condition and gave them the impression they were receiving proper medical attention.

At least 26 participants died of syphilis.

He Likes You

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

DETAILS: (Q) I have admired Bob ever since I met him. Now we are dating. He comes to my house a few nights during the week and we're together a lot on weekends.

The problem is that I'm wondering if he really likes me or is just using me. He has never told me that he likes me in a special way. Also, he never calls. He says he likes to see the person he is talking to.

Do you think I am making too much of these details? — Not Sure in North Carolina. (A.) Yes.

A boy who sees as much of you as Bob does must like you. His actions tell you that even though he does not talk about it.

And because he sees so much of you, there is really no need for him to call you on the telephone.

If he is kind to you, does not take you for granted, and if each time he comes you have a definite understanding when he will be there, then it does not seem to me that you have reason to believe he is being unfair.

You might think seriously, however, about seeing a little less of each other. Both weeknights and weekends is a lot of togetherness and may lead you into waters deeper than you are ready for right now.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 362, Houston, Tex. 77001.)

TO MISS GRAHAM ABWA Gives Study Grant

A $400 grant was presented Tuesday evening to Miss Freddie Graham in conjunction with the third anniversary celebration of Spring City Chapter, American Business Women's Association, at the Holiday Inn. Miss Graham plans to attend Angelo State College in the fall.

Mrs. Fred Butler expressed appreciation to six charter members, Mrs. O. A. Badwick, Mrs. Peggy McDonald, Mrs. Bobby Nobles, Mrs. Bob Taylor, Mrs. Butler and Miss Ramona Molina. Mrs. Butler was honored as a member of the Inner Circle and recipient of the Star Award for sponsoring over 18 new members.

The ceremonies included recognition of five members who earned ABWA pin guards for sponsoring new members, and 11 women were named as having perfect attendance.

Mrs. Jimmy Jennings was cited for being the chapter's "woman of the year." Also, it was announced that the chapter earned the ABWA standard of achievement and banner award during the past club year.

Mrs. Jeanette Smith, guest speaker, discussed the benefits of planning and sewing one's own wardrobe, which she described as a creative and economical art.

"Today's liberated women are fortunate because they may plan their wardrobe to suit one's lifestyle," said Mrs. Smith. "We no longer have to dress like others." She said modern fabrics and patterns can be found to hide most figure faults.

Guests included Mrs. Elsie Roberts, member of Temprano Chapter, Lubbock, and candidate for ABWA regional vice president.

During the anniversary program, tribute was paid to past and present officers. The current slate includes Miss Molina, president; Mrs. Jennings, vice president; Mrs. Wayne Wallace, recording secretary; Mrs. Dale Fryar, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Nobles, treasurer; and Mrs. McDonald, past president.

The chapter will sponsor a concession stand during the Starlight Specials in August at Comanche Trail Park. Also upcoming is a garage sale, slated Aug. 18-19. The next meeting will be a salad supper at 7:30 p.m., Aug. 25 at the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Middle Man

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For 20 years my employer, his wife, and I have been good friends. Mine has always been one of those "dreamy" jobs. I ran the office, had everything my way and the pay was great.

Recently we added a young divorcee to our staff and it's apparent that she and my boss are carrying on an affair. This girl has him wrapped around her little finger and he is walking around in a daze. His wife is suspicious. She calls and asks me all sorts of questions. Of course I cover up for him, but it is making a wreck of me. I can't keep my lies straight and I am popping tranquilizers like crazy.

To leave this job would be a big sacrifice for me. Besides I dislike having this girl run me off.

Should I keep on taking tranquilizers and hope this affair will end soon? Or should I just quit? Don't suggest I talk to him. I already have and he is so far gone, it's hopeless.

MEDICAL SECRETARY

DEAR SECRETARY: It's too late to tell you that it would have been far better for all concerned had you and your boss (and his wife) maintained a strictly professional relationship. Now you're trapped because you're more than an employee — you're a trusted friend. Your only solution is to try to wait her out, and lay off the tranquilizers before you become so "tranquil" you're carried off for dead.

DEAR ABBY: My stepdaughter is 19 years old. She works in an office and pays us $15 a week room and board. She doesn't do one thing to help me with the house. All she does is wash and iron her own clothes. On weekends she sleeps until 2 or 3 in the afternoon. She says she doesn't have to help me in the house because she pays for staying here.

My husband says she doesn't have to do anything. Who is right? She moved out once for three months and begged to come back. Of course she said she would change, but she hasn't.

Please print this with your answer. If I am wrong I won't say anything more to my husband about it.

HOUSEWIFE
DEAR HOUSEWIFE: The problem here is that you and your daughter do not have a clear-cut understanding with regard to what she should do to "help" you. You say she promised to "change." Spell out exactly what is expected of her. And if she agrees, and then fails to live up to her word, you can complain.

Rebekahs Gain Two Members

Two applications for membership in the Eagles Auxiliary were approved Monday evening at the Settles Hotel. Mrs. Anna Ford and Mrs. Matthew Mooney were accepted as members.

Mrs. Eschol Graham presided, and a gold card was presented to Mrs. James Dalton, immediate past president in appreciation for her service. The presentation was made by Mrs. Jack Cottongame on behalf of the auxiliary.

It was announced that the local auxiliary won third place at a District 4 convention held Saturday and Sunday in Crane, preceded by Odessa, first, and Crane, second.

The next meeting will be Aug. 13 at the Settles Hotel. The next district meeting will be Sept. 22-23 in Fort Stockton.

NCO Wives Plan Dance Saturday

The pavilion at Webb Air Force Base will be the site Saturday for a picnic and informal dance sponsored by the NCO Wives Club.

Mrs. Nan Buske is serving as general chairman, and each club member will bring a dish for the dinner. The event will begin at 7:30 p.m., and following dinner, a band will play for dancing.

Mrs. John Denton, president, has called a board meeting for 7 p.m., Aug. 14, to be followed by the general business meeting at 7:30 p.m. Due to be discussed is the naming of new telephone, membership and publicity chairmen.

Women Review History Of Lodge

The history of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge, organized in 1947, was reviewed by Mrs. Laverne Rogers and Mrs. Morgan Martin Tuesday evening at the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. C. C. Forrest presided, and 31 visits to the sick were reported by those present.

A salad supper is slated at 7 p.m., Tuesday, with each member bringing a dish for the dinner. Husbands and families of the members are invited to attend.

A LOVELIER YOU

Desk Workers Beware 'Secretary's Wrap'

By MARY SUE MILLER

If you work long hours at a desk, beware of hooking your feet around the legs of your chair. Foot experts call the position "stenographer's wrap," but it is by no means restricted to office workers. Students (hi, there, summer school group) rate high among the practitioners.

There are several good reasons why you should not make a habit of the position. It eventually enlarges the calf muscles and distorts the arches. It also looks awkward.

To keep your legs and your composure intact learn to sit with your feet together and flat on the floor, with your legs touching and perpendicular to the floor. A further plus for the well-being of a career girl comes from shoes that get around the office with efficiency. Without clunking.

Should your legs ever come to feel cramped or "asleep," loosen up by elevating one foot at a time and flexing the ankles — pull toes toward the body, then toward the floor. Incidentally, the routine is a great legline trimmer.

Not incidentally, office managers say that well-organized feet and legs are a mark of a well-organized worker. Maybe so!

4-H Girls Aiming For Awards At Lubbock

The "best dressed" girls in Howard and Mitchell counties will be among those competing in the District 2 4-H Dress Revue at Lubbock Thursday.

Molly Adkins of Howard County and Susan Blasingame of Mitchell County are entered as senior winners in their counties. Carmen Holman, Howard County, and Kelly Baker, Mitchell County, will enter in the junior division, however, this group will not be judged.

"Fashion Fiesta" will be the theme of the revue.

The revue will begin at 2:15 p.m. at the First Christian Church, 2323 Broadway. Judging in the senior division will begin at 11:30 a.m. Activities for the juniors, parents and guests will also start at 11:30 a.m.

A 1 p.m. luncheon will be sponsored by the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill of Lubbock.

Senior girls will be judged on the overall appearance of their garment, suitability of the design, color and texture for the individual, grooming, posture, attitude, poise, personality 4-H records and other factors.

Special awards will be presented at the revue for best all-cotton garment and the best all-wool garment. The District 2 Aubrey W. Russell 4-H Girls Scholarship will be presented to an outstanding 4-H girl in the district.

The top four girls in the senior division will be eligible to compete in the State 4-H Dress Revue which will be held in October in Dallas in conjunction with the State Fair of Texas.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Possibly, you've been wondering why this column hasn't devoted a ton or more of space to the ramblings of "Texas Football," the only magazine that costs more than Playboy. Mainly because we get one free down here at The Herald, and it just now came in the mail. And when it comes to plugging down a couple of bucks at the newsstand for a magazine, I'd rather spend it on Playboy.

But as long as it's here, I might as well pass along the pearls of wisdom scattered through it.

Actually, if you haven't already seen it or heard about it, I sort of hate to spoil your day. Big Spring is pegged dead last season, but in the past that hasn't had such a bad taste because a little consolation could be taken in the fact that the best football in the state is played right here, and were the Steers put up against fine teams from other sections of the state, they could certainly hold their own.

But it doesn't look that way to TF editor Dave Campbell. Not only are the Steers expected to wallow in the depths of Dist. 5-AAAA, but as near as I can tell, it picks the whole district to flop for the first time since the Great Flood.

Except for a couple of delinquent copies lost somewhere between now and the times when guys wore duck tails, a quick search through the old copies of TF reveals that a Dist. 5-AAAA team has been picked among the top ten in the state each year since 1960 (back when the magazine cost 50 cents). But not in '73.

Despite the fact that the league is generally considered the best in the state year to year, and never mind that the defending state champion reigns here, no 5-AAAA teams are to be seen among the preseason elite. Instead, it looks like this: (1) Baytown Sterling, (2) Galveston Ball, (3) Seguin, (4) Beaumont Hebert, (5) Lubbock Monterey, (6) Port Arthur Lincoln, (7) Austin Reagan, (8) Wichita Falls, (9) Bryan, (10) Sherman.

Now really, Dave . . .

Anyway, here's what Texas Football has to say about the 1973 Big Spring Steers:

"A flow of talent at Big Spring includes one offensive and four defensive veterans from a 1-9 team, but excellent leadership is likely from QB Tom Sorley, LB Glenn Carlton, tackles Vick Woodruff (6-2, 206) and Ken Froman (6-4, 205) and safety John Thomas Smith."

Odessa High gets the nod, with 19 lettermen back from last year's 6-4 team. After that come San Angelo, Midland Lee, Permian, Abilene Cooper, Abilene, Midland and Big Spring . . .

There's not a great deal of respect for Dist. 7-AA either, since it's expected that Reagan County will win and be promptly eliminated by third-ranked Alpine. Two-time defending champion Coahoma is relegated to the fourth spot in the poll, behind Reagan County, Crane and Ozona, with Stanton fifth and McCamey sixth.

Campbell has this to say about Coahoma's Bulldogs: "After two consecutive trips to the playoffs, the word can't simply may not exist in the Coahoma vocabulary, particularly this year since yardage potential appears fine among six offensive and five defensive holdovers from a 6-5 team. FB Puff Choate (200) owns paralyzing power, HB Eddie Padron is another fine runner and Kyle Kiser, Robbie Tindol and Glenn Washburn are real line elite."

And of Stanton's Buffaloes, the magazine writes: "FB Mark Eiland (6-5, 205) is a prominent display at Stanton, but other good performers abound among five offensive and nine defensive holdovers from a 5-5 club. QB Bill Howard, HB Mitchell Irvin, guard Rommie Dickenson and tackles Steve Cook and H. A. Schuelke ground out solidly. The old reliable list also includes linemen Dick Standefer, Dennis Ireton, Roger Gutierrez and Joe Hernandez, plus backs Vernon Brown, Gordon Eiland and Ray Conner."

Mark Eiland is among those pegged for the Class AA Honor Roll.

Lamesa's Golden Tors are expected to run for the riches in Class AAA, picked No. 4 in the state. Here's the synopsis: "Among 20 lettermen (six offensive and five defensive holdovers) from an 8-3 season, Lamesa expects great things indeed if FB Melvin Robinson and HB Kent McCurley (6-4, 215) get rushing help. QB Kyle White, ends Jerry Burleson and Jay Duncan, tackle Trip Chastain, guard Bob Kilgore, center Jay Laughlin, LBs Jim Roberts, Butch Lauderdale and Robert Lee and defensive backs Jerry Calhoun and Mike Miers lead a look of experience and ability."

McCurley, who passed up football last year to concentrate on basketball, is on the Class AAA Honor Roll list. The Tors are defending Dist. 3-AAA champions.

Colorado City brings these comments:

"Keeping the Colorado City Wolves from the title door may not be easy this year. Defense is a staple among nine lettermen who return from a 4-6 team. FB-LB Russell Hertenberger heads up a corps of two offensive and six defensive veterans, and LBs Clayton Salmon and Arnold Parker, tackle Julian Reyes and guard Mitchell Cooley are other defensive dependables. QB Amadore Guerrero, ends Gede Banks and Visent Garcia, TB Bill Griffin and interior linemen Mike Brooks, Bill Everett, Roger Roenfecht and Steve Hamrick could trigger a move upward."

INJURED VIKING — Karl Kassulke, strong safety for the Minnesota Vikings, was an accomplished motorcyclist. He was scheduled to begin drills with other Vikings at Mankato State Wednesday but was involved in a car-motorcycle accident Tuesday. He suffered serious spinal injuries.

Mary Decker 800 Winner

MINSK, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Mary Decker, an amazing 14-year old speedster, provided a major upset victory Tuesday but couldn't overcome the large lead built by a powerful Soviet Union team in a dual track and field meet.

The Soviet team, swelled with Olympic stars, defeated the Americans 121-112 and Russian women overwhelmed their visiting competition 95-51 as the two-day event ended.

Miss Decker, of Garden Grove, Calif., defeated Olympic silver medalist Niele Sabatini in the 800-meter run with a time of 2:02.9, and Martha Watson of Long Beach, Calif., set an American record in the long jump with a leap of 21-7.

Steve Williams, who captured the 100-meters and anchored the 400-meter relay victory Monday, won the 200 meters in 20.8.

In the 400-meters, however, Yevgeny Gavarienko upset Jim Bolding of Oklahoma City, finishing in 49.3 and shattering American chance of surpassing the Russians in points.

Patty Johnson of Seattle won the 100-meter hurdles.

JEFF BROWN, REALTOR

Karl Kassulke Lost; Rentzel Suspended

By The Associated Press

The Minnesota Vikings, their roster already studded with gaping holes caused by retirement and contract holdouts, have been forced to scratch another mainstay from the list.

Star strong safety Karl Kassulke was seriously injured in a motorcycle mishap on Tuesday. Kassulke, a 10-year National Football League veteran, sustained a broken right leg and spinal injuries after the motorcycle on which he was a passenger crashed into the rear of a car near Minnetonka, Minn. He underwent surgery Tuesday night.

The Vikings were scheduled to hold their first workout today faced with the prospect of filling the most roster openings since 1967. Three 1972 regulars retired and two others have been traded.

DETRIMENTAL — Elsewhere, Lance Rentzel, the Los Angeles wide receiver whose troubled career off the playing field has been stained by convictions for indecent exposure and marijuana possession, was suspended for the season for conduct detrimental to the NFL.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said in a formal statement he had informed Rentzel of the decision, which was reached after studying records of a hearing held June 20 and documents submitted by Rentzel's representatives.

Running back Duane Thomas, whose fleet-footed exploits on the field have been matched by his elusiveness off the gridiron, finally reported to the Washington Redskins' camp ready to play.

Thomas, obtained from the San Diego Chargers last Thursday, joined the Redskins at their Carlisle, Pa., training site and drew praise from Coach George Allen and assistant coach Charli Waller.

"He picked up the offense pretty well," Allen said. "He runs smoothly. He's just gliding and he's ahead of most of the others."

On another matter, Allen said he hoped reports in the Washington Post that Larry Brown, the NFL's Most Valuable Player last season, would end his holdout were true.

Brown has said he would not report until he receives a long-term contract for 1974 after his present pact expires, but unconfirmed reports said he was expected to appear in camp today.

CSONKA TO PLAY — Larry Csonka, the Dolphins' charging fullback who has compiled 1,000 yards rushing in each of his two NFL seasons, will play for Miami Friday against the College All-Stars. Csonka, thought to be out of the contest with a pulled thigh muscle, worked out Tuesday without any problems.

Dolphin Coach Don Shula said he hoped the All-Star Game would end the holdout of All-Pro safety Jake Scott. Shula said he had talked with Scott and invited him to join the team for the game but received no immediate reply. Scott has attempted to negotiate a contract reportedly in the $50,000 range and has amassed fines totaling $2,800 for missing 14 days of training camp. The Dolphins have refused to negotiate until Scott reports to camp.

—John Mackey, a three-time All-Pro and five-time Pro Bowl player in nine years with Baltimore, announced his retirement. Mackey, voted pro football's all-time greatest tight end, left the Colts following a squabble last season and signed with San Diego.

—Herb Adderly, a defensive back with 12 years' service, was acquired by Los Angeles from New England in exchange for rookie guard Bill Dulac, a seventh-round draft pick from Eastern Michigan.

All-Stars Haven't Won Since 1963

CHICAGO (AP) — If history holds its pattern, a guy named Ray Guy may boot the College All-Stars to a rare victory against the Miami Dolphins at Soldier Field Friday night.

Guy, of Southern Mississippi, brings a superb record as a punter and placekicker into the 40-year All-Star series in which kicking artistry helped spark the only three collegiate victories since 1955.

Guy's credentials include a three-season punting average of 47.7 yards; 51 of 59 extra points, and 25 of 59 field goals, including an NCAA record boot of 61 yards and six others from 40 or more yards.

As a kickoff specialist, 55 of his 101 tries reached the goal line.

The All-Stars, coached by Southern California's John McKay, will be striving for their first victory since 1963 when Otto Graham's unit edged the Green Bay Packers 20-17.

In that game, Bob Jencks of Miami (Ohio) kicked eight All-Star points on field goals of 20 and 17 yards and two conversions.

That was the first All-Star triumph since 1958 when Bobby Conrad of Texas A&M contributed 15 points on four field goals of 19, 24, 44 and 24 yards and three extra points in a 35-19 collegiate triumph over the Detroit Lions.

And the All-Star triumph before that was in 1955, when Ohio State's Tad Weed booted field goals of 14, 21 and 34 yards and two conversions in a 30-27 shading of the Cleveland Browns.

Quarterbacks Bert Jones of Louisiana State and Joe Ferguson of Arkansas will be feeding the ball to such All-Star runners as Purdue's Otis Armstrong, Southern California's Sam Cunningham, Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt, Long Beach State's Terry Metcalf and Chuck Foreman of Miami (Fla.).

And they'll be passing to an array of fine receivers, including Steve Holden of Arizona State, Florida State's Barry Smith and Oklahoma's Joe Wylie.

A Soldier Field capacity crowd of 55,000 is expected at the Chicago Tribune Charity contest, to be televised nationally by ABC starting at 9:30 p.m., EDT.

Anderson Finds Win Easy To Live With

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A roast beef sandwich sat on Sparky Anderson's desk...

"This is great satisfaction to me," said the manager after his National League team defeated the American League...

The meaning was obvious, for the Cincinnati Reds' skipper had finally broken a personal losing streak against the other league...

"I was nervous before the game," said Anderson, "probably as nervous as the players. I really had butterflies."

But that uplifted feeling vanished along about the middle of the game, when the Nationals pulled away on home run power supplied by Johnny Bench, Bobby Bonds and Willie Davis...

Bonds Real Super Star, Says Atlanta's Aaron

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The only topic of conversation in the National League dressing room after the 7-1 all star victory over the American League Tuesday night was Bobby Bonds...

The San Francisco Giants center fielder wasn't picked to start the 44th game in the series that started in 1933 in a vote of the fans but Manager Sparky Anderson of the Cincinnati Reds made sure he was used as soon as possible.

Bonds, a 6-foot-1, 196-pounder, responded with a two-run homer and a double. He was named the most valuable player of the game.

"He does everything a ball player can do," Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves said. "He's a super."

Anderson said, "On the seacrowd of 40,849 at Royals Stadium. But then Anderson's own Reds helped produce the first son he's having, he's the best player in baseball. He just keeps getting better and better."

His statistics going into the game showed 25 homers and 28 stolen bases for the Giants.

Before the game, Anderson said he thought it was a shame that Bonds hadn't been picked by the fans and vowed to get him in the game as soon as allowed to under the rules...

Bonds said he wasn't disappointed at not being named as a starter. "The fans chose the starters and they made some good choices," he said.

When asked what the victory by the NL proved, Anderson said, "It proves that the 29 players on the National League team were better than the 29 players on the American League team."

Anderson said, "On the sea-

For Pokes, Empty Saddles Prominent In Old Corral

DALLAS (AP) — It was early in the year and Dallas Cowboy retirement rumors were flying thick and fast.

Veteran All-Pro Bob Lilly, who at the time was unsigned to a contract, handed a friend a card. It had a prediction for the 1973 season written on it. The friend flipped the card over and it read "8-6".

Lilly, the all-star defensive tackle who is the heart of the Dallas Defense, later signed a two-year contract for $70,000 a season but became so disillusioned with the way management was treating other players he almost quit.

It's been an off-season of discontent and empty saddles in the old corral for the Cowboys, who were the kings of professional football in January, 1972.

MANY ARE GONE Gone are Mike Ditka, Chuck Howley, George Andrie, Dan Reeves, Lance Alworth, Herb Adderley and Dave Manders.

The Cowboys have lost a staggering 65 years in National League football experience with the exit of the seven players.

Ditka became the Cowboy receiver coach; Howley went into the uniform rental business; Reeves, Alworth and Andrie are in the real estate business; Adderley is with New England and Manders works for a Dallas radio station.

Middle linebacker Lee Roy Jordan and cornerback Mel Renfro have yet to come to terms with management although both are in the Thousand Oaks, Calif., camp working daily.

Disgruntled quarterback Craig Morton signed a three-year contract Saturday with General Manager Tom Schramm and said he was "very happy." The first day at practice Morton was running on the third team—behind No. 1 Roger Staubach and Jack Concanon.

All this pre-season turmoil might leave one to surmise the Cowboy dynasty—which has seen the club go to the NFL playoffs seven consecutive years—is on the verge of collapse.

But Coach Tom Landry says Dallas' frontline strength is on a par with Washington's. "It's not going to be behind them, that's for sure," Landry says.

STARS TRADED Almost unnoticed in the departure of the veterans who carried Dallas to victory in Super Bowl VI are the losses of receivers Billy Parks and Ron Sellers, who distinguished themselves last year. Parks was traded to Houston in the off-season and Sellers went to Miami for Otto Stovall.

Stowe, who played behind Paul Warfield in Miami, has made a big impression in camp.

"He comes off the line so fast he gets you out of your backpedal," said Renfro. "He looks to me every bit as good as Warfield."

Landry, who was once called "plastic man" by former Cowboy running back Duane Thomas, has taken the pre-season chaos in stride.

"I don't feel the tension of this squad that everybody else does," Landry said.

Jordan has said, "Our team has never been close to management." LANDRY CONFIDENT Landry said, "I see people working hard, with good, alert outlooks... that's why I was so confident things would work themselves out."

Some Cowboy observers believe management's knuckling under to Lilly and Morton in their contract hassles might prove a unifying force for the team.

But Coach Tom Landry says Dallas' frontline strength is on a par with Washington's.

More Irregularities Pop Up In Galveston Probe

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The superintendent of public schools here will seek a meeting today with the executive director of the University Inter-scholastic League (UIL) about what he termed serious irregularities in Ball High School's basketball program.

Supt. Eli Douglas said Tuesday he will talk to Dr. Rhea Williams about the matter. The UIL supervises schoolboy athletics in Texas.

Douglas met Tuesday with the District Executive Committee of the UIL and afterwards said he had disclosed the irregularities which he said occurred during the last basketball season.

The resignation of George Hatch, head basketball coach, was asked for and accepted by the district last Friday. No explanation was given for the resignation.

Neither Hatch nor Douglas would comment about the nature of the irregularities but other sources within the district said it involved the payment of money to a high school player.

Ball High has already been racked by a scandal which involved the altering of transcripts of three student football athletes so they could enroll under athletic scholarships at the Universities of Oklahoma and Colorado.

Joe Woolley, former head football coach, and Lynn Nix, a former Ball High assistant principal, were also asked to resign last Friday.

Douglas would only say that the basketball investigation had nothing to do with the altering of records.

However he did say it was "one irregularity which occurred over and over."

Hatch, when contacted, said he didn't know what Douglas reported to the UIL. "However, I do know of an irregularity, which I did myself and which I was admitted. I knew it was wrong and I resigned because of it."

Douglas said Tuesday the UIL had jurisdiction in the case because the Ball High team won district and bi-district championships last season.

PGA CERTIFICATION CAME LATE Lee Was Snubbed By Dallas Clique

(Editor's Note: Bob Boyd, golf writer of the San Antonio Express-News, attempts to go behind the headlines in discovering what Lee Trevino, golf's "Super-Max" is really like. He interviews people who know Trevino during the lean years, when Trevino was a struggling youngster in Dallas. Here is the third of an eight-part series on one of the game's great entertainers.)

SAN ANTONIO — There is no doubt among Lee Trevino's friends that his unexpected failure to receive PGA certification while in Dallas left emotional scars which he may never be rid of completely.

Here is what really happened according to sources who had intimate knowledge of what was going on behind the scenes:

While there was a surprising degree of prejudiced feeling about Lee among some of the professionals in town during the last part of Trevino's time in Dallas, so long as he was just a $2 gambler at Tension and a driving range employee, the golf establishment didn't even know he existed.

But soon after he returned from the Marines in 1961, this began to change. For one thing, Lee's game had improved immensely because he had won a spot on the Marines' Asian golf team and had a chance to devote large amounts of time to his game.

He let it be known that it was his intention to earn PGA credentials, and Hardy sent him to the PGA business school, which was one of the requirements for the credentials which would be his ticket to the pro tour.

He began to play in the pro-ams, which were weekly occurrences all over town. As time went by, he continued to improve and a certain group of pros began to resent this "Mexican driving range boy" was embarrassing them.

Some pressure was applied behind the scenes and Lee found it increasingly difficult to obtain invitations to play in those events, although apprentice pros were almost always accorded the right to compete in them.

However, Lee had friends among the Dallas professional establishment, chiefly Erwin Hardwicke and his staff at Tension. They did what they could to champion his cause and insiders say Hardwicke was responsible for heading off any attempt to blackball Lee when his application came up for approval by the local board.

It was Greenwood, the sources say, who refused to sign the final forms. Without his signature as the supervising pro, the local chapter did not have the authority to pass his application to the national PGA office with a favorable report.

During an interview with Greenwood, the subject of Trevino's PGA application was raised. He first said that "a clique of country club pros" ganged up on Trevino to prevent his accreditation, but when he was pressed as to whether he had actually signed the forms, Greenwood refused to discuss the matter further.

The subject was obviously a painful one for the old pro. Lee's failure to obtain PGA credentials had obviously been a heart-rending falling out between two men who had shared something very close to a father-son relationship.

And like many a son who has quarreled with his father, Trevino packed his bags and left town — with a chip on his shoulder and a burning desire to make good. Two years later he won the United States Open Championship.

The story wouldn't be complete without the following final chapter.

Lee became an instant hero in Dallas after his dramatic win in the 1968 U. S. Open, but when he was asked by friends if he would play in the Dallas Open later that summer, he flatly refused.

His experience in Dallas' attempting to obtain PGA credentials had been too shattering. His feelings were still raw from the hurt. He wanted no part of Big D.

One pro who was close to both Lee and Hardy called Greenwood and told him that Trevino was not going to play in Dallas because he was still bitter about the incident. "Can I tell him you want to talk to him about it?" the pro pleaded.

Hardy agreed and the pro called Trevino back and said that all of Lee's friends in Dallas were hoping he would change his mind and that Greenwood was anxious to talk to him. Trevino then agreed to come to Dallas and play in the tournament.

About 11 p.m. the intermediary received a call from Trevino who said that he had just arrived in town and was at a nearby motel. The pro called Hardy, who immediately drove to the motel. Meanwhile, Lee bought a couple of six-packs.

Not Counting On Amtrak Service Soon In Big D

WASHINGTON (AP) — The most residents of Dallas, which passenger trains may come back to Big D some time, but are not counting on it soon.

The National Railroad Arbitration Board heard arguments about the extension of Amtrak service to Dallas Tuesday, but when it was all over it told lawyers for both sides to resolve the dispute without board action. Amtrak's proposal to provide service in Dallas was at issue. Amtrak wants to re-route the Texas Chief on its Chicago-Houston run over Southern Pacific tracks. The train has been making the run over a route belonging to Santa Fe. Southern Pacific, however, contends its tracks already are too congested with freight and that its roadbed is insufficient for fast passenger service.

HARD TO EXPLAIN Boy Slain By Officer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "I felt like pushing the gun away, but I was handcuffed. I couldn't do anything," recalled David Rodriguez, 13, in describing the alleged shooting death of his younger brother Tuesday by a Dallas policeman.

A bullet from the .357 caliber revolver killed David's brother Santos, 11, while police questioned the boys about a service station break-in.

Patrolman Darryl L. Cain, 30, was charged with murder in the shooting. He was released after he posted a $5,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Frances Goodwin.

SECOND TIME

It was the second time in three years Cain has figured in the killing of a young person. Cain and another patrolman were no-billed by a grand jury following the April, 1970 shooting death of Michael Morehead, 18, who was surprised by police outside a grill.

The shooting of the youth early Tuesday left Dallas Police Chief Frank Dyson grim-faced. He called the incident "un-called-for, unjustified and illegal."

A police spokesman related the shooting incident this way:

Patrolman Roy Arnold spotted several youths running from the scene of the burglary but lost them in a foot race in the darkness.

Arnold radioed for help and officers Cain and Arnold went to David's and Santos' home, where they lived with a grandfather.

DEAD-ON-ARRIVAL

Officers said they returned the two boys to the gas station, handcuffed them both and placed them in a squad car.

Police said the boys refused to answer questions regarding any accomplices in the burglary and Cain pulled his gun and pointed it at the back of Santos' head. Santos was in the front seat with Arnold, and Cain and David Rodriguez were in the rear seat.

Police said the gun discharged while Cain was leaning forward, and the bullet struck the boy behind the left ear. He was dead-on-arrival at Parkland Hospital.

Dyson said there was "no attempt on the part of the deceased to get away from the officer. It's hard to understand what would cause a man to do something like this... hard to explain... hard to accept."

Dyson said Cain, a policeman since 1968, was in shock after the shooting.

David Rodriguez recounted that Cain pulled the trigger on his revolver twice before it fired. After the first time, David said, "the gun clicked, but it didn't fire."
