POLITICAL SABOTAGE, CAMPAIGN TRICKS

$90,000 For 'Black Projects'

WASHINGTON (AP) — H. R. Haldeman today acknowledged that he approved a $90,000 campaign budget for "black projects" last year, but said he isn't sure what the projects were.

There was no elaboration, but previous testimony to the Senate Watergate committee has been to the effect that the term was used to describe political sabotage and campaign tricks.

DOESN'T RECALL
Haldeman, former White House chief of staff, said he doesn't recall being told of a $300,000 campaign intelligence budget, allegedly related to the Watergate wiretapping.

He denied testimony of a former aide, Gordon Strachan, who said Haldeman ordered him to destroy a memo mentioning that budget and other politically embarrassing documents shortly after the Watergate break-in.

Haldeman said he became aware, shortly after the break-in, that the White House was involved in raising money to pay legal fees and family support for the defendants in the wiretapping case.

But he said he didn't make any moral judgments about that, didn't approve it or disapprove it, and isn't sure that the fund-raising would have been embarrassing to the President if it had become known earlier.

HORRORS
Haldeman began answering questions after telling the Senate Watergate committee Monday that he listened to White House tape recordings that refute the testimony of ousted White House Counsel John W. Dean III about two key meetings between Dean and President Nixon.

Today Haldeman disputed testimony by Dean, Strachan and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Haldeman said Mitchell didn't tell him about the "White House horrors" that Mitchell said he, Haldeman and former presidential adviser John D. Ehrlichman all tried to keep from the President's knowledge.

Haldeman said he didn't become aware of three of those activities until recently.

The things Mitchell referred to as horrors include the 1971 Daniel Ellsberg psychiatrist's burglary, forgery of State Department cables, and the alleged hiding of ITT lobbyist Dita D. Beard. Haldeman acknowledged that he did know about national security wiretaps of newsmen and White House aides.

BUY SILENCE
The committee's chief counsel, Samuel Dash, questioned Haldeman closely about the payments to Watergate defendants and their lawyers.

Haldeman said "it never occurred to me" that the payments might be improper, or intended to buy silence from the men.

"You formed no moral judgment on it at all?" Dash asked. "No sir," Haldeman said.

"Did you condone it?"

"I don't think I was called on to 'condone or condemn,'" Haldeman said. "I don't think it was submitted to me for approval. I think it was submitted to me as information."

He said Dean, and possibly Mitchell, told him about the payments.

Haldeman acknowledged that he had authorized transfer of a secret $350,000 campaign fund back to the Nixon campaign committee after the election.

RAINS CONTINUE A Damp July Winding Up

The cattle around Big Spring may have to grow feathers and start quacking to survive the rest of the summer.

The experiment station reports Big Spring is 3.45 inches ahead of normal. The normal for January to July 31 is 10.76 and so far the area has received 14.21.

The total for July last year was 1.10 but this year July has soaked up 2.74 inches so far.

The total for last year was 18.42 but already Big Spring has 14.21 inches. There was only 7.27 inches recorded at this same time last year.

At the current rate of rainfall Big Spring could conceivably accumulate over 25 inches by the end of the year, about 7 inches more than last year.

The experiment station has recorded .18 since noon yesterday. The total since Friday is .42 or almost half an inch. The fall has been much heavier in other parts of the city.

One gauge in the southwestern part of the city has trapped an estimated 1.5 inches since Friday.

A spokesman at the Municipal Golf Course said rainfall for the five-day period ending at noon today may total as much as 2.5 inches.

The Lomax Gin Co., has received .25 since yesterday and south Lomax has .20 or .30 recorded.

The Texas Electric Serv. Co. switching station has received .33 since midnight last night and a generating plant on Lake Colorado City, which got over 5 inches during the weekend, has recorded .58 since midnight last night.

Slow runoff continued into two major area reservoirs Tuesday from a series of spotted showers over the past several days.

Lake E. V. Spence, above Robert Lee, had gained 40 of a foot, reaching elevation 1861.00. This represented an increase of about 2,400 acre-feet. The river was running three feet deep at the Silver bridge and two feet at the Pan-American bridge eight miles upstream. This was comparable to the same time yesterday. The river at the diversion works above Colorado City continued to run over the channel dam about .2 of a foot.

Lake J. B. Thomas had gained .21 of a foot to reach elevation 2234.33, representing an increase of 1,500 acre-feet of water. O. H. Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, estimated there would be several hundred acre-feet of additional water flowing into the lakes.

Watergate Tapes Tussle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee's efforts to gain access to White House tapes denied it by President Nixon triggered a legal dispute today after H. R. Haldeman described how he borrowed and listened to one of them.

The committee's majority counsel, Samuel Dash, demanded that the former White House chief of staff explain why he did not surrender the tape to the committee while it was in his custody, since he was under a "continuing subpoena." Haldeman, obviously puzzled, said he was "not aware that I was under any such obligation."

Space Walk Postponed By Sickness

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — The Skylab 2 astronauts, still struggling with motion sickness but pronounced on the mend, hoped to finish tidying up their space lab today.

Because of the continuing illness, a space walk was postponed another day until Thursday.

Skylab commander Alan L. Bean, Dr. Owen K. Garriott and Jack L. Lousma managed to work steadily Monday. The three are taking stomach-soothing medicine.

For the first time since the planned 59-day mission began Saturday, the three ate most of their food and no vomiting occurred.

"Generally speaking, everybody feels pretty good until meal time, and it gets pretty tough then," Bean said. "But if you can get through meal time, you're okay."

Most of today was to be spent putting things away and dealing with some troublesome, but not dangerous, mechanical problems.

Mission officials said the space walk might have to be put off yet another day, depending on the astronauts' conditions.

Jet With 90 Aboard Crashes

BOSTON (AP) — A Delta Airlines DC9 jet carrying 90 persons aboard crashed and disintegrated on landing at Logan International Airport in heavy fog today. Police said it had reports 85 persons died.

Only two survivors were reported initially by Massachusetts General Hospital.

An eyewitness said the twin-engine plane crashed on a runway about 1,000 feet from the edge of the water at the busy airport that juts into Boston Harbor.

State police said it appeared that the jet struck a seawall at the approach to the airport. A state police spokesman said there was a break in the 2½ foot high wall, indicating the craft's landing gear had struck it.

An observer said personal effects and parts of bodies were strewn all over the runway.

Quit Looking At Gloomy Side, Formby Advises

District Rotary Governor Marshall Formby of Plainview, in his annual visit to the Big Spring Rotary Club, today told the members at their noon meeting in the Settles Hotel that it is time Americans quit looking at the gloomy side of everything and took a look at the brighter side.

"About all that we hear today is how bad things are going and how tough it is in this country," Formby said. "I think it is time we took a look at how well things are going, and give thanks for what we enjoy in this nation."

He pointed out that America today is the most affluent nation since the dawn of civilization and that we are surrounded by luxuries available to the poorest person that were once beyond the dreams of even the very richest people.

SHOWERS

Shower odds: 30 per cent this afternoon and tonight, 20 per cent Wednesday. High today, mid 80s. Low tonight, mid 60s. High Wednesday, low 80s.

Formby, who serves on the College and University Coordinating Board for Texas, pointed out that some young people today have a flaw in their education which causes them to be ashamed of their country, their parents, and the economic system that has put America in the lap of luxury.

"I want the kids of today to know where the money comes from and to learn that it is not sinful to make a profit on a business transaction," he declared.

Formby complimented the local club for their Rotary activities and urged the continued support and enthusiasm of its members towards the projects of the Club for the coming year.

His appearance here was not new, for Formby has been visiting Big Spring for more than 40 years, not only to see relatives and friends, but also in official capacities as state senator, member of the Texas Highway Commission, and now as member of the Texas Coordinating Board of Universities and Colleges. He also has been extremely active on behalf of the Texas Tech Exes.

Nixon Clamps Tight Secrecy On Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon clamped tight secrecy on U.S. bombing of Cambodia when he ordered the action in March 1969, says Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The same secret procedures were used in 1970 to hide B52 raids in Northern Laos, Wheeler told the Senate Armed Services Committee Monday.

Bombing raids against enemy sanctuaries in neutralist Cambodia were approved at the request of U.S. commanders after a month of deliberations by President Nixon and Melvin R. Laird, who was then secretary of defense, Wheeler said.

"The President repeatedly directed that the operation be cloaked in maximum security for diplomatic reasons, Wheeler said.

The military devised dual reporting systems, he said. One supplied accurate information to a few persons with a "need to know" and the other supplied false information through normal channels identifying targets in South Vietnam. The latter wound up in the Pentagon's computer files.

Wheeler said there was no intent to deceive those in authority, although erroneous information failing to account for the strikes in Cambodia was given to the Senate Armed Services Committee in 1971 and this year.

The Pentagon confirmed 3,630 B52 sorties into Cambodia from March 1969 to May 1970, after the testimony of former Air Force Maj. Hal Knight that he was ordered to burn records of the secret strikes and substitute false reports.

Wheeler, who retired in June 1970, said that from February 1970 to May 23, 1970, 149 B52 bombing sorties in Northern Laos were identified under the dual reporting system as being in Southern Laos.

He defended the bombing raids as wise from a military standpoint, saying they halved American casualties in Vietnam, which had been 250 a week.

He said Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia knew about the raids and "made no complaint."

Wheeler said he understood Sihanouk had acquiesced, but had to deal with North Vietnam and China and didn't want to acknowledge to his own people that the United States was bombing Cambodian soil with his permission.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., said the military created a monster in the dual reporting system. He said he could not see how any rank-and-file soldier could know when he is disobeying the ban on falsification of reports in the military code of justice.

Cost Of Poultry, Eggs Rises Sharply In Area

By WALTER MALONE
July 19 a local grocery store advertised whole fryers for 49 cents a pound. Monday the price had risen to 68 cents a pound.

Last week a dozen eggs averaged 85 cents. Monday a local grocery reported the eggs are now 94 cents a dozen.

Safeway assistant manager Paul Daniel said his store has been limiting fryers two per customer for two weeks. He said Safeway usually receives 450 boxes of chicken a week but that the allotment was cut about a third last week.

It will probably be Christmas before there is any let up, he said.

President Nixon said in a settlement issued July 18 (the day before the price freeze was lifted and Phase 4 begun) "There is no way, with or without controls, to prevent substantial rise of food prices.

The evidence is becoming overwhelming that only if a rise of food prices is permitted now can we avoid shortages and still higher prices later," The Associated Press reported.

The day the price freeze was lifted (July 19) The Associated Press reported the objective of Phase 4 was stated: "to moderate the rate of inflation existing during the first six months of 1973 with a minimum adverse effect on supply."

A former governor of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange said higher food prices were largely caused by insiders who are manipulating the commodity futures market. The Associated Press reported.

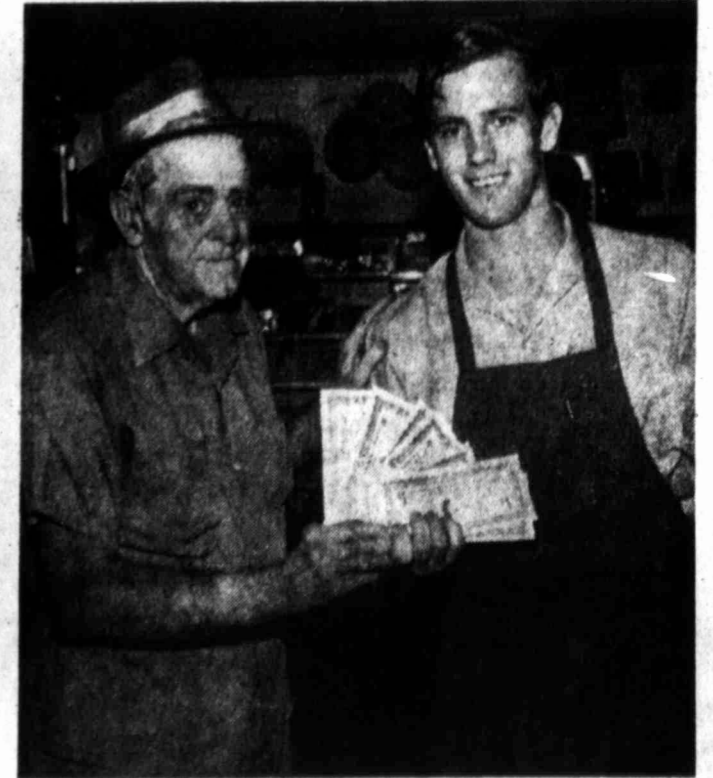

Harry H. Fortes, a Chicago lawyer who left the exchange in 1970, recommended that the Justice Department investigate the future market for possible antitrust violations. The Associated Press reported.

In a story printed by The Herald July 27 a local grocery man said there "was a lot of beef in this country" but he thought the cattlemen were keeping the beef off the market until the freeze on beef is lifted Sept. 12 to get higher prices.

Daniel of Safeway said the increase of beef prices relates to the price of poultry.

He explained that with the increase of the price of beef the shoppers will try to substitute their diets with chicken which will further strain the already short supply and thus edge chicken, and egg prices even higher.

The shortage of poultry has been attributed to the killing of baby chicks during the price freeze imposed June 13. Poultry raisers killed the chicks when the unfrozen cost of feed exceeded the frozen retail price a wholesaler could charge a customer, the Associated Press reported.

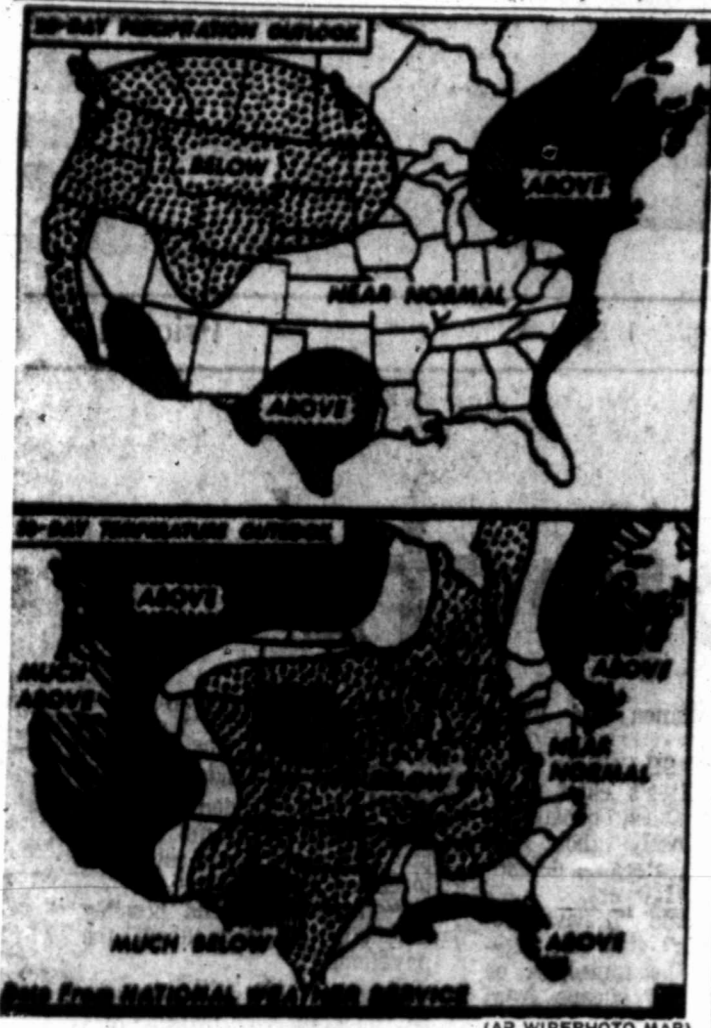

FOUR WINNERS IN BINGO CONTEST — No winners turned up in the opening week of The Herald's bingo contest but four champions emerged during the second week of competition, sharing $100 in awards to more than make up for the slow getaway. In the picture at the far left, J. W. Parmelee and A. J. Prager of Prager's Men's and Boys' Wear display the awards won by Mrs. W. H. Norwood of 110 E. 18th St., who couldn't be present when the picture was taken. In the second photo, winner Jerry Cannon of Forsan poses with Mrs. Louise Hopper (left) and Mrs. Margarita Palmer of Jimmy's Men and Boys' Wear. The State National Bank reported another winner in the third picture, where John Arrick of the bank staff presents Mary Vera of 708 NW 8th St., with the good news. At the far right, winner Joe D. Wood (left) of 712 Goliad talks with Bill Henkel at the Super Save Grocery No. 2, 212 N. Gregg St., where the happy revelation took place. Each of the winners received for $25 in Bingo Bucks, redeemable at any participating merchant. The third in a series of 13 bingo contests is now under way, with play continuing through Friday. At stake this week is $50 in prizes.

Battle Over East Texas Oil Rules

AUSTIN (AP) — Exxon and General American Oil Co., independent producers, squared off before the Texas Railroad Commission today over whether production should be increased or lowered in the rich East Texas oil field.

Exxon's testimony probably will run four or five days, said Frank Douglass, lawyer for the giant oil corporation.

Clint Small Jr., General American's lawyer, said his firm's testimony would run less than a day. In addition a group of 31 independent oil operators say they should need only a few hours to present a case roughly similar to General American's.

General American wants to cut the field into two portions, north and south, divided by Texas-31 highway. The proposal also includes a reduction in output from the southern part of the field and an increase in the northern portion.

Under present Railroad Commission production orders, the field is operating at 86 percent of capacity while nearly all other fields are producing 100 percent.

"Exxon views the General American application merely as a device to obtain increased oil allowances for the north while reducing the oil allowances in the south. Exxon will show that the East Texas field is still one interconnected, integrated reservoir and that whatever is done in the north part of the field affects the south part and vice versa," Douglass said.

He said that Exxon believes the entire field could produce at 100 percent of market demand without causing any waste.

In fact, Douglass maintained, studies made by Exxon indicated the East Texas field could produce at 100 percent "for many, many years in the future" and even at wide open production would have a life expectancy of more than 50 years.

MURDER TRIAL

Foreman Draws Verbal Scolding From Judge

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A California brunette's testimony about a heroin-filled prophylactic was allowed over defense objections today in the murder trial of Charles V. Harrelson.

District Court Judge Darrell Hester said he would permit the jury to hear the testimony of Sandra Sue Attaway for the sole purpose of showing the motive for the slaying of Sam Degelia Jr.

Harrelson, 34, of Houston is being tried for the second time in the July 1968 shooting death of Degelia, a Hearne, Tex., grain dealer.

The shapely young woman, who now lives in Los Angeles, said she and Harrelson went to Kansas City, Kan. in June 1968 to sell some heroin.

Miss Attaway said the dope was packed in a prophylactic then tied in a white sock.

Before the sale was completed, she said, Harrelson told her police searched his car and he disposed of it by kicking the dope-filled sock under a car in a parking lot.

Defense lawyer Percy Foreman objected to the testimony as prejudicial and inflammatory.

But Hester said most of the prosecution case was usually prejudicial and inflammatory anyway.

He said he would permit the jury to hear the testimony only to show what prosecutors said was a motive in Degelia's death.

Mrs. Attaway had testified earlier that she lived with Harrelson for about a year, including the time of the Degelia slaying. She testified that Harrelson told her he shot Degelia so Pete Scamardo of Hearne could collect on a life insurance policy.

The defense contends that the jury of eight men and four women should be told to disregard the former Houston cocktail waitress' testimony because she was Harrelson's common-law wife.

In his cross examination, Foreman several times referred to Harrelson as "your husband." Finally, Mrs. Attaway virtually shouted "Mr. Foreman, he was not my husband."

Foreman again used the term a few minutes later and Judge Hester stopped him saying "counsel, let's stop using the old 'when did you stop beating your wife' routine. She has said he was not her husband."

'People Feel They Can Kick President With Impunity'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower (R-Tex.) says the Watergate affair "has created an atmosphere in which people feel they can kick the President with impunity."

Despite that, GOP leadership in Congress has "not done too badly" and the Republicans have largely stuck with the President, he said.

Tower who is Republican policy chairman in the Senate, said he believes President Nixon's administration "is functioning."

In a recent meeting with congressmen, Tower said, "the President seemed to focus on 20-some-odd bills so I think he's paying attention to what's going on."

SUPPORTS BUSH

"But I think you've got to come to the conclusion that the Watergate affair has created an atmosphere in which people feel they can kick the President with impunity."

At a news conference Monday, Tower said he had not known about the White House "plumbers" and said he did not see a need for a security investigatory unit separate from the FBI and the CIA.

"I think we had adequate resources to do the job without that," he said, adding, "I would not have operated similarly to the President had I been in that office."

He said he is convinced, however, that Nixon did not know of the Watergate burglary or participate in a coverup, and he said he did not think the Senate Watergate committee had made a convincing case.

On other matters, Tower:

—Strongly supported GOP chairman George Bush as a candidate for Texas governor in 1974, saying he was a "very good" candidate and had the best name recognition of any Republican in Texas. He denied that a meeting last week between Bush, presidential counselor Anne Armstrong, himself and Texas GOP officials constituted the start of a move to stop conservative former state Sen. Henry Grover from seeking another try at the Texas governor's job.

KNEW OF BOMBS

—Said campaign spending legislation now being debated in the Senate is "probably unrealistic and favors incumbents."

He said he had known of the secret U.S. bombing of Cambodia since June 1970, approved of it, and did not tell anyone else what he knew or that he suspected the Defense Department was giving false figures to Armed Service Committees covering up the bombing campaign.

—Said the base closings in Laredo, Tex., and Mineral Wells, Tex., were inevitable but that the bases themselves could be economically valuable to the cities in attempts to lure industry to their areas.

—Predicted that after the bombing of Cambodia ceases in August, the government of Lon Nol will collapse, said he was not sure about the survival of the Laos government but thought South Vietnam "can hold on" as can Thailand if she is "given the proper facilities for counter-insurgency."

CAMPAIGN FINANCING

Bill Intended To Curb 'Big-Money Influence'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An uncertain future lies ahead in the House for a Watergate-spawned campaign reform bill passed by the Senate.

The bill, intended to curb "big-money influence" in elections, would sharply limit campaign contributions and campaign spending and establish an independent enforcement agency.

While the Senate was passing the bill 82-10 Monday, the House balked at even considering a bill to open the way for congressional pay raises in this non-election year.

The vote in the House was 237 to 156 against taking up the pay bill which the Senate passed July 9 with no debate or roll call vote.

SCANT INTEREST

So far the House has shown scant interest in the type of campaign financing legislation passed by the Senate. Some senators suggested it had been made so restrictive that it is unlikely to survive in the House.

Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois, chairman of the House Republican Conference, praised some features of the bill but said it may do more to re-elect incumbents than to reform campaigns.

But Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said the bill's controls on campaign spending were "a direct response to the Watergate scandal." In that respect, he said, the measure "represents silver lining in the black cloud of Watergate."

Campaign spending for congressional and presidential candidates would be limited to 10 cents for each voting age person in primaries and 15 cents in general elections.

$25,000 LIMIT

In the case of presidential candidates, on the basis of the latest population figures, this would set a limit of $13.9 million in primaries and $20.8 million in general elections.

The amount Senate candidates could spend in general election campaigns would range up to slightly more than $2 million in California. A minimum of $175,000 would be allowed in the least populous states.

Individuals could contribute no more than $3,000 to a candidate for federal office for each of his campaigns in a primary, general election or runoff. The same limit would apply to political committees.

In addition, a ceiling of $25,000 would be placed on an individual's total contributions in a year to all candidates for federal office and no cash contributions in excess of $50 would be permitted.

VOICE VOTE

A bipartisan, 7-member commission would be established to enforce the legislation and the campaign financing reports required by legislation passed in 1971.

"All the members of the Senate Watergate committee voted for the bill except for Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., the vice chairman. He voted present after saying the legislation was premature until the committee had concluded its probe.

The Senate passed by voice vote a bill recommended by President Nixon providing for a 16-member commission to make a sweeping study of election laws and the whole electoral process.

Hoffa talked about prison reform and pushed his quest to recapture the presidency of the nation's largest union. Hoffa is director of crisis control for the Association for Justice.

Demand For Fuel Results In Charge Against Cop

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Misdeemeanor charges are on file here against a young police officer who allegedly attempted to pull his pistol during a dispute over gasoline for his patrol car.

Robert Ruedrich, 19, identified as an officer for the Bexar County community of Elmdorf, is charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, a spokesman for County Court No. 1 confirmed Monday.

Ruedrich was in uniform when the incident occurred July 7, Bexar County Asst. District Atty. Ted Arevalo said in an investigation by his office shows.

Arevalo said Ruedrich drove his patrol car into a service station manned by Edward Salinas just outside the Elmdorf city limits and was told by Salinas the gasoline shortage meant customers would be limited to 10 gallons each.

Ruedrich drove off but returned and demanded more gasoline, Arevalo said.

Upon Salinas' refusal to comply, Ruedrich allegedly attempted to pull his service revolver and when he could not, pointed the holstered gun at Salinas, according to the charges.

Salinas' son then stepped between the feuding pair, Arevalo said.

In Charge Against Cop

On the plaintiff's motion, District Judge R. W. Caton has dismissed a suit for insurance payments for a coat.

Joseph (Jack) Cox alleged that an insured coat was run into a fence and killed by barking dogs. He wanted $2,500 for the coat from Aetna Insurance Co.

Young Girls Still Gone

Laura Coker, Route 1, Box 5738, and Terri Denise McCartney, OK Trailer Courts, two 14-year-old girls, are still missing. They have been missing since early Friday morning.

Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Coker of the Coahoma area.

Sgt. J. D. Carter, in charge of the police investigation, has reported no leads on the case.

Miss McCartney was last seen at 2:30 a.m. Friday at her home. Her mother notified the police of her absence and said she believed foul play may be indicated as the girl had said nothing about leaving and left all her belongings at home.

Miss McCartney is 5'3", weighs 100 pounds and has brown hair and eyes.

"Anyone having seen her since Friday is asked to contact the police department."

Mrs. Morrow Is New Unit Nurse

Mrs. Elaine Morrow will replace Mrs. Kay Pomeroy as nurse at the city-county health unit beginning Wednesday.

Mrs. Pomeroy, who has served as nurse since January, will move out of town soon when her husband is transferred from Webb.

Mrs. Morrow completed her training as a registered nurse June 15 at Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Lubbock. She has worked as an LVN at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital since 1968.

Among the duties of the health nurse are supervising immunization, dental and baby clinics and educating the public on health hazards and unsanitary conditions.

DEATHS

George Evans — Rites were pending this morning at Bell-Seale Funeral Home for George H. Evans, 42, found dead in his home Sunday. Peace Justice J. T. Billingsley ruled death by natural causes. Among survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Gladys Russell and Mrs. Martha Poindexter, both of Big Spring.

Ada Lucas — Services were held at 2 p.m. today in Hamlin for Mrs. Ada Alice Lucas, 74, who died at the Big Spring State Hospital Sunday morning. Burial was in East Cemetery in Hamlin under direction of McCoy Funeral Home.

Mrs. Lucas, a widow, had lived in the Hamlin area for the past 10 years. She had been a patient at the State Hospital for five days when she died. She had been admitted to the hospital once before for four months in 1967.

Survivors are 26 nieces and nephews.

Winnie Luton — Friends in Big Spring learned this week of the death of Mrs. Joe (Winnie) Luton, a former local resident, in Houston last week. Services and interment were in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Luton had lived here in the 1930s when Mr. Luton worked at Cosden. They moved to Houston in the late '30s when he began work for a construction company. He died last year.

Survivors are three sons, Joe Bob and Harold Luton, Houston, and Kenneth Luton, Smithville; a daughter, Mary Frances Martin, Houston; and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Bonnie Rhea — Services were set for 3 p.m. today in First United Methodist Church in Ackerly for Mrs. George (Bonnie) Rhea, 66, who died in a Big Spring hospital Monday morning.

The Rev. Lynward Harrison, pastor, was to officiate, assisted by the Rev. Mickey Warlick of Seminole. Burial was set for Ackerly Cemetery under direction of River-Weich Funeral Home.

pallbearers are Joe Lemon, V. J. Coleman, Marvin Dosier, Marvin Franks, and Joe Moore, all of Ackerly, and B. D. Massengale of Brownfield.

A. Kilpatrick — Services were held here this afternoon for A. B. Kilpatrick, 65, who died Sunday in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring. Burial was in City of Lubbock Cemetery. A daughter, two brothers and two sisters survive.

Nancy Stevens — Services were set for 4 p.m. today in Central Baptist Church here for Mrs. Nancy E. Stevens, 75, who died Sunday night in a Lubbock hospital. Burial was set for City of Lubbock Cemetery. Among survivors is a sister, Mrs. Otto Barkowsky of Lamesa.

Anna Martine — Word has been received here of the death early Monday in an Oklahoma City hospital of Mrs. Anna Martine, about 78.

Mrs. Martine was the mother of O. D. Landrum of Big Spring. She had been ill several months. Arrangements are pending in Fredrick, Okla. Other survivors include two daughters and another son.

Montgomery Wards Will Be Closed Wednesday Afternoon ONLY at 3:00 p.m. for inventory.

We will be open Thursday morning at the regular time, 10:00 a.m.

MONTGOMERY WARDS

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are forecast today from the Mississippi Valley to the lower Great Lakes. Generally sunny weather is forecast for the rest of the nation. Cooler air is forecast for part of the Midwest and southern Plains. Warm air is expected for the Southwest and Rocky Mountain areas.

Group Plans Field Study

Hoping to get ideas for a possible softball complex to be built here, four local citizens will visit the four-unit softball complex in Abilene tomorrow.

Roy Anderson, assistant city manager; Mrs. Polly Mays, city commissioner; Cotton Mize, parks and recreation board member, and Manley Cook, softball enthusiast, will look over the Abilene facilities before making suggestions for a local development to the parks and recreation board at its next meeting.

In addition to touring the complex, considered by some to be one of the finest in West Texas, the local group will meet with the Abilene parks and recreation director to obtain cost figures.

The city is now considering development of a four to six field softball complex on some 20 acres of the 80 now being licensed to the city by the state. The property is out of the southwest corner of that owned by the State Hospital on the Lamesa Highway.

City Manager Harry Nagel said the state was to have mailed the contract licensing the city to use the land a week or so ago, but it has not yet been received here. The City Commission authorized the mayor to sign the agreement at its last meeting.

Interest Booms In Conference

Interest in the Land Use Planning Conference in Abilene, Aug. 7 is running high, and a large number of West Texans from the 132-county area served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and from across the entire state is expected to attend, according to Emil C. Rassman, with president. The conference opens at 9 a.m. next Tuesday in McGlothlin Campus Center on the campus of Abilene Christian College.

The event is being sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Texas Council, Soil Conservation Society of America. Authorities on soil conservation and land use will address the meeting at both the morning and afternoon sessions. Speakers Congressman Omar Burellon, Reagan Brown, Austin, office of the governor; and Bob Armstrong of Austin, commissioner of the general land office.

Ackerly Students Attend Workshop

SAN MARCOS — Two Ackerly high school students are participating in the 21st annual High School Speech and Drama Workshop at Southwest Texas State University.

The 100 workshop participants arrived on campus Sunday afternoon to begin a concentrated two-week program in speech and drama activities.

Each of the high schoolers is working in either dramatics or debate and one standard individual University Interscholastic League speech activity, such as persuasive speaking, extemporaneous speaking, prose or poetry reading.

The workshop will be concluded with a series of public one-act play performances Friday, Aug. 3, and a series of final debate rounds and speeches on Saturday, Aug. 4.

The local students participating include Elaine Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin, Jr. of Box 116. Elaine is participating in debate and persuasive speaking during the workshop. Also, Kayla Gaskins the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins of Star Route, Knott, Texas. Kayla is participating in debate and persuasive speaking while here.

Pamphlet Tells Of Opportunities

Nationwide opportunities for licensed practical nurses in the Veterans Administration are outlined in a new employment pamphlet designed to highlight the contribution of the licensed practical nurse as a member of the VA's health care team.

As the nation's largest health care system, the VA employs 5,700 licensed practical nurses of whom 1,250 join the agency each year.

VA's nursing team also includes some 20,000 registered nurses and 26,000 nursing assistants. Designed for students, experienced licensed practical nurses, and educators, the pamphlet is available from Forms and Publications Depot (036B), Veterans Administration, 2625 Shirlington Road, Arlington, Virginia 22206. Ask for VA Pamphlet 10-52 "Practical Nurses in the VA."

IN THE REC ROOM — Patients in the VA Hospital spend their leisure time making colorful "God Eyes," Indian prayer sticks. Other projects undertaken by veterans in the hospital recreation room are construction of miniature windmills, stringing of beads, and assembling of miniature automobiles and ships.

Black Fem Admits Inciting Crowd That Set Off Looting

DALLAS (AP) — The 34-year-old Dallas black woman charged with inciting to riot a growing crowd by saying, "Dallas police killed my son," has admitted she lied, police say.

Officers said Mrs. Betty Jean Zepher, Monday said in a sworn statement she fabricated accusations over a police loudspeaker Saturday merely because "she got excited and people were listening to her."

A detective close to the case said Mrs. Zepher grabbed a microphone from City Councilman Pedro Aguirre and jumped atop an unmarked police car.

"SON'S DEATH" That was when the woman, presently listing her name as Betty Jean Baker, made statements about her "son's death," police said. Police records, however, indicate she has no immediate family.

Her statement, police said, is part of a routine investigation into the incident. Capt. Jack Davis of the Crimes Against Persons division said Monday.

Officers said the man she described as her close friend, David Baker of Dallas, was arrested last Tuesday for questioning regarding stolen credit cards. She told officers Saturday she was en route to the city jail to take him cigarettes when the disturbance broke out around her.

"She had been drinking heavily," one officer quoted the woman as saying. Excited by the crowd, officers said, she began screaming about the police and people in the crowd began to listen. She jumped to the top of the car, caving in the roof and screamed, "Kill the pigs!"

Officers, quoting what they said was the woman's affidavit, said she then went to a Main Street bar when she heard the sound of breaking glass behind her.

RABBLE ROUSER Police said she was arrested as she attempted to reach through a shattered Neiman-Marcus window.

Mrs. Zepher was held in city jail today in lieu of $4,000 bond under a charge of inciting to riot and two charges of destruction of private property.

A member of the Dallas police said her record reflects that she twice has been charged with murder, convicted once and served 18 months of a three-year sentence. She then was transferred to Rusk State Hospital, where the state sends most of its criminally insane.

Of Mrs. Zepher the officer said, "She's been in trouble since she was a kid."

Farm Bill Faces Renewed Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional conferees, heading to a sixth session on the farm bill today, face a renewed threat of a presidential veto.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz said Monday he would recommend a veto unless the final version is in line with a tight budget and a "full-production" national agricultural policy.

Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., a conferee and chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he doesn't know if Butz is bluffing.

Butz "is in the position where he has to give up his asking price rather than his selling price, and I don't believe the conferees are going to make a ny further concessions," Poage said.

A deadlock over a provision to ban food stamps for most strikers could force the House conferees to go back for instructions from the House on what to do, congressmen said.

Eventual maneuvering might open a way for farm program reformers, who have lost in conference what they had won on the floor, to try forcing their views onto the conferees, they said.

The House itself is bitterly split over the food stamp section. The provision on strikers was accepted by the House 213 to 203, upheld by 210 to 207 and survived final challenge 208 to 207. There is no such ban in the Senate bill.

Meanwhile, Butz said Monday he would urge a veto if the final bill contains a four-year increase of five per cent in minimum milk price supports. Another unacceptable provision, he said, would be more than one year of cost-of-production escalation for the "target prices" being set as crop supports under cotton, wheat and feed grain.

Butz said the provisions to which he objects are inflationary because they would hike federal spending.

Backpacking Boom: New National Sport

Americans have rediscovered their feet. More and more families are abandoning the luxuries of civilization and substituting legs for wheels, muscles for motors and pine needles for spring mattresses.

"Almost overnight, walking has become a national sport," says Rich Boggs, national sales manager, Himalayan backpacks. "Ten years ago, only a few thousand people had tried backpacking. By the end of this summer, nearly 20 million Americans will have put a pack on their back and walked back into wooded terrain for a day or a weekend."

If you're ready to try it with your family, here are some tips from Boggs on how to get ready for the trip.

First remember you will be carrying your complete kitchen on your back. Therefore, everything you take along must be calculated to the last ounce.

Manufacturers have already done a lot of the work. A wide selection of pre-packaged dehydrated and freeze-dried food is available and, on the trail, you simply add water.

If you'd rather plan your own menus, packaged soups, instant potatoes, powdered breakfast drinks, spaghetti, dehydrated vegetables and dried fruits make good camping fare. Fig bars and chocolate carry well for snacks.

When all your food is purchased, remove it from the cans and boxes, and determine how many times each food will be served on the trip. Then, make up a small plastic sandwich bag containing the amount of each food you need for one meal. Put seasonings and flavoring together. For instance, put sugar and powdered cream in with coffee. Knot each plastic bag low, close to the food. For long hikes, cut the top of the bag off above the knot to conserve space.

After all the individual items are ready, take all the small plastic bags for one meal and put them in a larger plastic bag. Label it for the appropriate meal, such as "Lunch, Tuesday." Later when you pack, put the items for the last day of your trip in the very

No One 'Nose'

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For my high school graduation, my parents gave me a new nose. I had it done last week, and even though it's still swollen, I just love it! I am going east to college in the fall. I will be meeting lots of new kids, and my mother told me that I shouldn't tell anybody I had my nose done. I told her I hadn't planned on wearing a sign saying: "I had my nose done," but if it comes up in a conversation, I am not going to lie about it.

She said it would be foolish for me to admit it, and she asked me to promise her I wouldn't tell anybody.

I respect my mother's opinion, and I know she means the best for me, but I just can't make her that kind of promise. This is the first really serious conflict we have ever had. Am I wrong? Or is she?

NOSE JOB
DEAR NOSE JOB: Mother usually nose best, but not this time.

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with Steve and he is very much in love with me. We plan to be married in September. There is only one problem: I am also very much in love with my job. I'm a secretary and have been with the same company for five years. I intend to keep on working after we are married. I guess you could say I am career-minded.

Steve says before we get married I must promise that I will not work over eight hours a day, and I'll not work at all on Saturdays. Right now I work more than eight hours many days, and I work on Saturdays, too.

Steve doesn't think a woman can be married and have a career, too. I disagree. Abby, do you think it's fair for a man to ask a woman to give up something that means as much to her as my job means to me? I love Steve and don't want to lose him, but I also love this job. Please settle this.

STEVE'S GIRL
DEAR GIRL: It's all right for a girl to like her job, but if she is "in love" with her job, her love life with a real live man is in trouble. I don't think Steve's requests are unreasonable, but if you do, hold off those wedding bells. I hear a chinker in the belfry.

DEAR ABBY: Is there a way for a couple to be assured they will get the sex child they want? I have heard there is a foolproof method for getting a boy or a girl, whichever the couple prefers. If you know how this can be accomplished with positively no chance of failure, please respond at once, and I will send $25 to any charity you designate.

FATHER OF SIX DAUGHTERS
DEAR FATHER: Yes. ADOPT! Send $25 to your local Planned Parenthood chapter.

DEAR ABBY: Grandma wrote that she was embarrassed because her grandson bragged so much about his war record, even saying that he had won 11 purple hearts. She should use an old Jewish saying next time "Junior" starts to boast:

"Do not make yourself so big. You are not so small."

AARP Will Organize Local Unit

All local persons who are interested in becoming a member of the American Association of Retired Persons are asked to write Mrs. Theima A. Newman, Box 1284, 2304 Walnut St., Odessa, 79700.

Mrs. Newman, assistant to the state director, AARP, was in Big Spring Monday evening to investigate the possibility of organizing a local AARP chapter. Tentative plans call for the organizing and election of officers when Mrs. Newman returns here Sept. 6. The time and place of the meeting will be announced.

Rudy Crane Will Head Committee

Rudy Crane, administrator at Big Spring Nursing Inn, was elected Friday afternoon as president of the city's Health and Welfare Committee.

Elected to serve with Crane were Gerald P. Digrapa, vice president; Mrs. Ruby Phillips, treasurer; John Clancy, publicity chairman; and Billie Hendricks and Bobby Dillenbeck, program chairmen.

Jake Glickman, director of social services at Big Spring State Hospital, discussed marriage counseling and marital problems.

The meetings are held on the fourth Friday of each month at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Cost for lunch is $1.75, and anyone interested in attending may contact Crane at the nursing inn or Clancy at the VA Hospital.

The next meeting, 12 o'clock noon, Aug. 24, will feature Charles Burks of the Texas Vocational Rehabilitation Agency. Burks will discuss the agency office scheduled to open Wednesday in Big Spring, and he will outline facilities, resources and eligibility requirements. Burks will be director of the local office.

Wedding Performed In Mineola July 8

Mr. and Mrs. John William Teague are at home in Austin following their marriage July 8 in the Broad Street Church of Christ in Mineola. The ceremony was performed by E. C. McKenzie, minister, of Canton.

The bride is the former Cathy Lynell Minatrea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Minatrea of Nacogdoches. A graduate of Mineola High School, she attended Tyler Junior College.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Teague of Mineola, formerly of Big Spring. Attending the wedding from Big Spring were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Braune, and Mr. and Mrs. Noel Harvell Jr.

Teague also was graduated from Mineola High School and is a spring graduate of Tyler Junior College.

The church was decorated with an arch flanked by candelabra and accented with arrangements of white mums and greenery. Recorded music was by a chorus from Harding Christian College.

The bride was attired in floor-length gown of white sheer dotted Swiss over cotta. White lace daisies outlined the scooped neckline, puffed sleeves, fitted waistline and deep ruffle at the hem. A band of matching lace held her elbow-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of daisies.

Miss Cecilia Dyess was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Connie Sanford and Miss Susie Board. Their full-length gowns were in yellow and green checked gingham, with accents of white eyelet, and their headpieces were bows of matching gingham. They carried nosegays of daisies. Wearing similar attire was Angela Holmes, flower girl. Byron Holmes was ring bearer.

The bridegroom's father served as best man, and groomsmen were Joe Lynch of Tyler and Bud Browning. Ronnie Minatrea and Kevin Minatrea of Nacogdoches, brothers of the bride, were ushers, and altar tapers were lighted by Bobby Teague, brother of the bridegroom, and Scott Gresham, Hawkins.

House party members for the reception were Miss Kendra Williams, Miss Mary Jones and Miss Susan Davis. Kristi Maciel distributed rice bags. The table, accented with yellow net, featured a centerpiece used at the recent 50th anniversary celebration of the bridegroom's grandparents.

The couple took a short wedding trip to Arkansas.

Gift Shower Honors Miss Karen Hughes

Miss Karen Lee Hughes, future bride of Morris Sheppard Strong Jr., was honored at a pre-nuptial gift shower Saturday in the home of Mrs. H. B. Perry, 2408 Robb.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Jimmy Morehead, Mrs. John Hale, Mrs. Kenneth Stephens, Mrs. Frank Parker, Mrs. Curtis Mullins, Mrs. Benny McChristian, Mrs. Norman English, Mrs. D. W. Pierce, Mrs. Charlie Shanks and Mrs. O. H. Ivie.

A corsage of coral carnations was presented to Miss Hughes, and white carnations formed corsages for her mother, Mrs. James Hughes, and her grandmother, Mrs. R. E. Hughes. Silver and crystal appointments were used on a table covered with a sheer, white cloth and centered with a silver epergne arranged with coral gladioli. Miss Hughes and Strong plan to be married Sept. 1 in the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ.

Defining 'Use'

Jean Adams

TEEN FORUM

"USED"? (Q.) What do people mean when they say a girl or boy is trying to "use" somebody. Some of my friends think Mary is trying to use me. I have been trying to get her to go out with me, but she says it wouldn't work because she likes another boy too much.

Finally I asked her point blank for a date and she said all right, but we would have to go just as "good friends." I said no thanks because I can't be just good friends with her. I LOVE her. Please help me. — Miserable in Maryland

(A.) A girl who "uses" a boy may go on dates with him not because she likes him but because he can take her interesting places she wants to go.

A boy who "uses" a girl may date her not because he likes her for herself but because she will do things in a sexual way that other girls he knows won't do.

These are two of the most common of many ways that boys or girls take unfair advantage of or "use" other boys or girls.

It does not appear to me that Mary is trying to use you. Instead she is being straight and honest and considerate with you.

Unless you — at least for the present — can be content with her company and her friendship, you should not date her.

LATE NEWS: (Q.) About three months ago I asked Linda to take a little walk with me. By chance we ran into her boy friend. They had a short talk and left. I felt like a fool.

I haven't seen her to talk to since that day. But yesterday, while I was talking with one of her girl friends who also knows me, the girl told me that Linda had given her a message for me a long time ago and she had forgotten to tell me.

The message was for the girl to tell me that Linda was very sorry about what had happened that day and hoped I would give her a chance to explain.

I don't even know if Linda still has the same boy friend, and I don't want to make a fool of myself again. What do you think I should do? — Chicken in Virginia

(A.) If you are still interested in Linda, and I do not believe you would have written if you weren't, call her and tell her about the delayed message. She was interested in you then. Maybe she still is.

(Leon Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 268, Houston, Texas 77001.)

The lure of a finesse proves irresistible to most bridge players—so much so that they often ignore all other possibilities in favor of the finesse. South's success at his spade slam hinged on his ability to find an alternative source of tricks.

The auction was admirably direct and accurate. After North opened the bidding with one no trump, South jumped in spades. In view of his three trumps and ruffing value in clubs, North raised to four spades. South needed no further encouragement to leap to slam.

West led the jack of clubs, and when dummy came down it was obvious that declarer had no worries out

Unbalanced Scales

It's no small wonder that our system of justice, no matter how refined we like to think it is, is sometimes regarded with a bit of skepticism.

Last week, a Southeast Texas county judge entered a plea of guilty to having dipped into the public's till to the extent of $48,000. When caught and indicted, he arranged for restitution of the misappropriated funds.

Doubtless he had been a fine citizen, or so they thought, according to a parade of more than two score witnesses. So he was let down with a 10-year probated sentence.

What if some unknown individual, and particularly a black or a Spanish speaking one, had pilfered half that amount? Who seriously thinks they would have got off with a similar sentence — and with no violation of public trust to compound the situation?

And compare it with the youth who gets caught with a few sticks of marijuana or breaking into a place of business and stealing goods or money? Perhaps the sentence of the ex-judge was just;

If so, then those guilty of equal or lesser crimes are getting short shrift when they get prison sentences.

Requires Investigation

The Senate select committee investigating the Watergate affair has been handed a new assignment by George Bush, chairman of the Republican National Committee. He has asked the committee to investigate an allegation that Carmine S. Bellino, chief investigator for the committee, directed a spy campaign against Republicans in 1960.

To buttress his case, Bush released three affidavits indicating that a spy team directed by Bellino bugged the hotel room of then Vice President Richard M. Nixon shortly before the nationally televised debates with the then Sen.

John F. Kennedy.

These are substantial charges. In all fairness, the Senate committee is obligated to investigate them, especially since they question the character of their chief investigator in the Watergate probe.

No one has suggested that the charge made by Bush should take precedence over the ongoing investigation of Watergate and matters relating to it. That investigation is likely to continue for many more weeks after the August recess. But at some time in the future the committee must assume the responsibility of looking most carefully into the charge made by Bush.

Men At The Top

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

Have you ever wondered what kind of man makes it to the top?

ONE THING for sure: Company presidents in 1973 are younger, smarter — and richer.

According to a recent survey, a new breed of top executives is taking over management reins of American big business. Look around you. What Big Spring men would you bet on as budding tycoons?

The experts say the top men are somewhat more youthful than their predecessors of five or 10 years ago. They usually have at least one college degree (often two) and they achieved a high position at a relatively early age. It's not surprising that they are the best-paid top brass in history.

A composite picture of a current company president emerges from information supplied by 500 of the biggest industrial organizations and the 50 largest merchandising, transportation, life insurance, financial and utility companies.

THE MAN occupying the management suite is 53 years old, has held the president's position for five or fewer years, is drawing salary and bonuses totaling over $100,000 a year and his most extensive business experience is in general administration or marketing. It's a pretty sure thing that he has an undergraduate degree from a private Eastern school plus a degree in law or business administration from a highly rated graduate school.

TRENDS SHOW a more vigorous and sophisticated cut of man taking over the operation of U.S. business and industry. Education has become more important factor; a definite asset for the contemporary executive. Ten years ago, only one in four company presidents had a graduate degree. Now, about four out of 10 claim that distinction. (The most frequent undergraduate concentrations are in engineering and science.)

THE COLLEGES and graduate schools that produce the nation's business leadership are led by Harvard, Yale, University of Michigan, Stanford, Princeton, M.I.T., University of Illinois and Northwestern.

Another notable fact is that executives tend to move from company to company a bit more now.

What's it like up there? Well, the generous pay comes in tandem with long hours. Nearly nine out of 10 say they work at least a 50-hour week, the presidents of billion-dollar industrial companies and of merchandising firms say 60 hours or more a week in harness is common.

YOU SAY that's not too high a price to pay? Go get 'em, Tiger.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I am a young Christian and going into the eighth grade this fall. Last school year, I had a teacher who insisted nothing in the Bible was true. I know, however, God is real. How can I handle this difference of opinion?

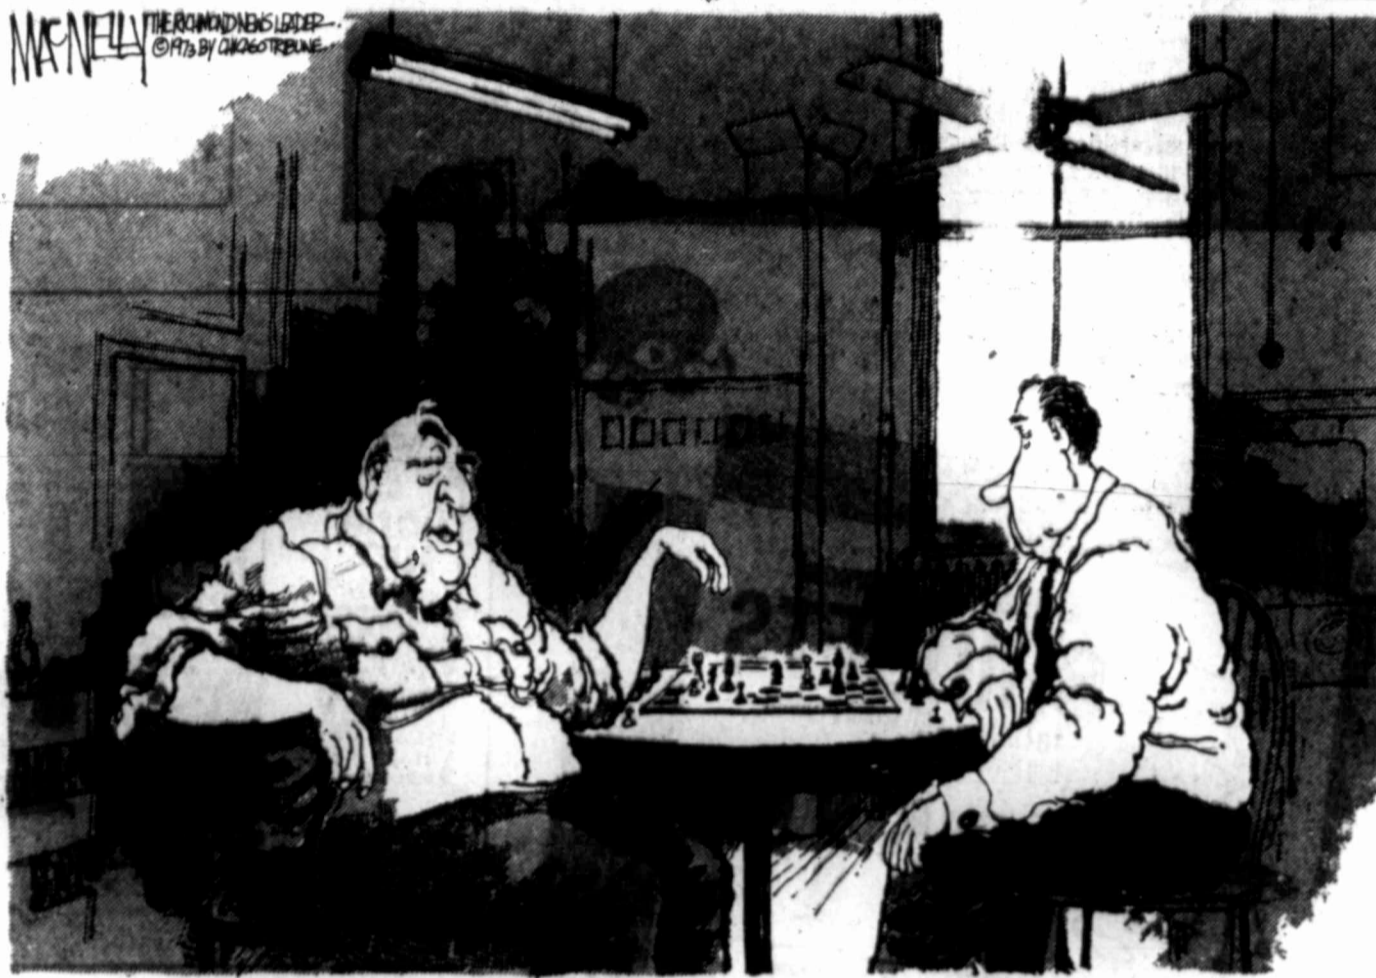

G.G.B.

While present laws do not require Bible reading and prayer in schools, they certainly do not authorize the sort of attack delivered by your seventh grade teacher. This is her opinion, evidently, but she is duty bound to branch it as such — and grant the liberty of her students to believe as their conscience and God's Spirit dictates.

While you are on the defensive in this issue of proving the Bible is true, remember an equal or greater obligation rests on your opponent to prove it is untrue. Don't get involved, however, in some sort of logical, quasi-scientific proof of the Scripture. Therein does not lie our affirmation of the reality of faith.

As a matter of fact, the Bible writers squarely face the scarcity of sensory data on which to base our trust in God. Peter wrote in 1 Peter 1:8, 9: "You love Him even though you have never seen Him; though not seeing Him you trust Him; and your further reward will be the salvation of your souls."

Keep a kindly and loving attitude toward all who may differ and even oppose you. Pray for them that your peace and joy in Christ may someday be theirs through a similar step of personal faith.

It was Newman Smyth who suggested: "Unbelief is a shaft sunk down into the darkness of the earth. Drive the shaft deep enough, and it would come out into the sunlight on the earth's other side."

Are You Saving Face?

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Would you be surprised if people suddenly started cutting you up socially or at the office?

Well, you shouldn't be. It is your own fault. Unnoticed by yourself, you have been slowly losing status, and all at once, it seems, people have turned on you.

But they always turn against anyone who doesn't take the trouble to protect his status. In this world you don't need to keep your mind to be successful—but you do have to save face.

How can one safeguard his status? By checking it regularly. How often? Well, if you're the careful type, you'll check it as often as you should brush your teeth—at least twice a day.

Here are a few simple ways to check your status. It is probably triple-A if the following things are true of you:

You have a 10-room suite at the Watergate, but you don't have to testify to the Senate where you got the money to pay the rent.

You've made the last payment on the three original Picasso paintings you bought on credit 10 years ago.

A state official has arranged that the water in the swimming pool at your country place will be changed once a week at no expense.

They have just struck oil on your 100-acre Bahama island retreat in the Bahamas.

No one in your family has gone to Denmark to have a sex change operation in the last decade, and none of them is planning one.

Nobody in your old neighborhood pool hall dares play you for money anymore because you set the stake so high it makes their cues shake.

You get six free tickets every year to the annual policemen's ball.

Well, it's easy to see how a guy fixed like that doesn't have to worry about being snubbed. But what about the loser? How can he tell when his laurel leaves are withering?

Certainly it's time to do something drastic about improving your status if—

When you find a lucky penny, you put it in a gum-ball machine so you'll have something to chew on to still your hunger pangs.

Your wife hasn't spoken to you since you pawned the family television set at the neighborhood bar. And the bartender won't let you in anymore to watch your favorite program.

When you get on the front end of a bus, everybody else gets off the back end, including the driver.

Federal officials have turned a deaf ear to your plea that they declare you a human disaster area.

Your dear old mother returns your letters unopened.

'Drinking To Kill The Pain'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband is 67 and a heavy drinker. The doctor told him he has about 65 per cent liver damage.

He quit for a few months but now is back to drinking harder than ever. He sometimes bleeds through the bowel, but I can't get him to the doctor. So what am I to expect and where is this bleeding coming from? He says he drinks to kill the pain.

—B.E.

What are you to expect? All I can say is: nothing good when a patient with liver damage keeps on drinking.

The blood through the bowel can originate anywhere along the digestive tract, but in a case like this, there are two sources which are common among heavy drinkers. One is from the stomach (alcoholic gastritis).

The other is that varicose veins develop at the end of the esophagus. These can leak blood. They also can rupture, causing a fatal hemorrhage.

His excuse about "drinking to kill the pain" is typical of the kind of things many alcoholics dream up to justify drinking.

There is nothing you can do for him unless he stops drinking entirely and goes to his doctor.

It's a sad situation, and no pleasure to write about, but facts are facts.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Enclosed is a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents for your booklet on infections in kidney or bladder. Can I get penicillin or sulfa drugs in any drugstore without a prescription? —C.K.G.

No, you can't get those drugs without a prescription — but I think the booklet will do a lot to explain to you how to handle such infections. Those particular drugs, in fact, aren't much used for urinary infections because some of the other drugs prove much more effective.

—B.E.

Whether your contact lenses have any connection with it is something I wouldn't care to guess about. It is possible that long-continued wearing of contacts, without sufficient rest periods between wearings, can irritate the eyes, even after five years.

However, let's not jump to conclusions. Have a specialist examine your eyes. Eyes are too precious to take chances with.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a man of 30 and have no halt on my chest. My wife teases me about this. What can I do? —M.X.

Ignore it. Many men have bare chests.

—M.X.

Ignore it. Many men have bare chests.

The Sit-In (Or On)

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — "Ron, have you seen my tapes?"

"You're sitting on them, Mr. President."

"OH YES, I forgot. No one is going to get these tapes. Ron, I want to make that perfectly clear."

"I know that, Mr. President. But you've been sitting on them for three days. Do you think you ought to get some sleep? We could put the tapes in a safe."

"I'm not going to let them out of my sight. They would love to have me go to bed and leave my tapes in my safe."

"They?"

"ALL OF THEM out there who are trying to get me. Ron, do you know they're trying to hang me with my own tapes? Well, I have a big surprise for them. I've heard these tapes and I'm innocent. But for the rest of their lives, they'll always wonder what was on them."

"That's true, sir. But you can't keep sitting on the tapes for the rest of your Administration. Why don't you give them to someone you trust to safeguard them for you?"

"RON, I LEARNED a long, long time ago that you can't trust anybody. That's why I made all these tapes."

Now they can't say they told me one thing when they told me another. I've got them, Ron, and they know I've got them."

"But most of the people you bugged, Mr. President, were those who worked for you."

"WHAT ABOUT the March of Dimes child? The Maid of Cotton? What about the Boy Scouts of America when they came to the White House? I'm sitting on it all, Ron. That's what's driving them nuts."

"All the same, sir, the Secret Service has assured me any time you want to give up the tapes, they will make certain that no one gets them."

"RON, I have only 903 days as President of the United States, and do you know what I'm going to do with that time?"

"No, sir."

"I'm going to sit on these tapes."

"That's wonderful, Mr. President."

"WHEN I TOOK this office in 1968, I vowed I would never do the easy thing, the popular thing, the political thing. Ron, the toughest decision I ever had to make was whether I would tape some of the people all of the time, or all of the people some of the time."

San Clemente Check Nixed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California's tax administration board has refused to investigate property taxes on President Nixon's estate at San Clemente.

The State Board of Equalization rejected a proposal by Chairman William M. Bennett Monday that it determine whether the owners of the Western White House property are paying their fair share of taxes.

Bennet called for the state probe on the basis of reports that the 29-acre complex in Orange County is assessed at $1.37 million this year, while the original sale price and reported improvements total $2.33 million.

The Orange County Register reported this month that the estate, owned by Nixon and industrialist Robert Abplanalp, has been undervalued by $25,000 over the past three years. Orange County officials denied the allegation.

Bennet said he would pursue the issue at next month's board meeting unless Orange County officials take some action.

'Downtrodden' Clown Recalls Circus Days

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I need to keep Willie alive," said the great clown Emmett Kelly, whose wistful, tattered character brought laughter to nearly two generations of children of all ages.

At 74, Kelly admits his craggy face is still moist at home beneath greaspaint. But even without makeup, the master clown cannot help but peer out of the sad eyes of Weary Willie, the bulb-nosed tramp.

He has been gone from the circus sawdust for 18 years. He now spends winters at his Sarasota, Fla., home and summers performing at a Lake Tahoe casino.

IN OPERA

Last year, Kelly performed in five scenes in the Boston Opera Co.'s "Bartered Brides" costumed as Weary Willie.

"It was an accomplishment for me," Kelly said in an interview here. "I never dreamed that I could ever be in an opera because I don't sing and I don't talk... It was a big challenge to me."

Kelly said he created his Weary Willie character originally as a pen-and-ink cartoon which he briefly considered doing for the newspapers. But he said he decided to become Weary Willie instead. He joined the Howes-Great London Circus. Kelly decided to "feel my self, act it, never try to sing, never do acrobatics, and never talk. Anything aggressive I stayed away from, and it took about 10 or 15 years for it to catch on."

She Has Kept 11-Week Vigil At Her Husband's Bedside

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — "If he ever again can look at me and smile and say, 'I love you,' then it will all have been worthwhile," says Mrs. Valerio Hernandez, who has kept an 11-week vigil at her husband's bedside.

The odds, once weighted heavily against Hernandez, appeared this past week to be turning in his favor.

HEAD-ON WRECK

From the multiple injuries he sustained in a head-on car wreck near Seguin in the early hours of Mothers Day, a torn aorta has been repaired, a cast covers the mending broken bones in his leg, his lungs are responding to ventilation treatments and an artificial kidney machine is improving the kidneys which stopped functioning.

One physician says of Hernandez, a 53-year-old cement mason from Seguin: "Four times he has been snatched from the brink of death as a result of cardiac arrest." The physician praised the critical care-nurses who watch Hernandez.

Hernandez cannot speak because of a tracheotomy.

"I have to say things for him and he answers me with sign language, but I wish he could speak. I don't always know what he is trying to say," says Mrs. Hernandez, who can see her husband three times daily for up to 30 minutes at a time when his condition permits.

GIVES UP

"Sometimes when I can't understand him, he just shuts his eyes and gives up," she says.

Medical officials say Hernandez needs a delicate operation to correct a problem with his windpipe and his esophagus and most such cases are referred to a specialist in Boston, Mass. The hospital says his hospital bill already is about $32,000.

Mrs. Hernandez says she realizes complete recovery for her husband "may be a year or five years away, but he has the will to live. We have eight children and 11 grandchildren and he wants to be alive with his family."

Kelly found he could strike some mysterious chord in audiences by shuffling around in the spotlight in his tattered clothes and size 20 shoes.

LOOKING SAD

"The thing I just like to do is look real downtrodden," he said. "I was sad and worried. I looked out on the audience and admired their nice clothes, the way they were well-dressed."

Kelly said he would then, perhaps, extend a hand out of a ripped, threadbare sleeve and finger someone's nice shirt or jacket, "then I'd look down at my own clothes and seem to make a comparison... This Willie, he has got nothing."

Kelly has a middle-aged son, Emmett Kelly Jr., who performs as a clown and uses the same Weary Willie makeup and garb.

Co-Op Meeting Lures Area Men

The 33rd annual meeting of Texas Electric Co-operatives Inc., will be Aug. 8-10 at the Shamrock-Hilton in Houston. Jim Eiland, new manager of Cap Rock Electric Co-Op Co., said.

Eiland said new directors for the state association will be elected in business sessions and several standing committees will report.

Glenn Cantrell, president of the board; O. B. Bryan, retiring manager; Eiland and possibly some directors will attend from Cap Rock Electric.

Aug. 9 a contest for Miss West Texas Rural Electrification will take place, Eiland said.

Vets And Ladies Meet Saturday

Members of World War I Barracks 1474 and the Ladies Auxiliary will conduct their regular monthly meeting in the IOOF Hall at noon Saturday.

Reports on the recent state convention will be given by L. R. Mundt, district commander, and Dorothy Hull, president of the auxiliary.

All members are being urged to attend. A covered dish luncheon will be served.

8 ways to save money on air conditioning.

- 1 Set thermostat no lower than necessary for comfort — the lower the setting the more electricity the unit uses.
- 2 Replace disposable or clean permanent-type filters as required — clogged filters make the unit work harder and use more electricity.
- 3 Provide adequate attic ventilation — helps reduce heat buildup.
- 4 Install proper duct, ceiling and wall insulation and weatherstrip windows and doors — keep hot air out, cool air in. (Helps reduce winter heating costs too!)
- 5 Keep the outdoor unit free of grass or other obstruction.
- 6 Keep windows and fireplace dampers closed — prevents excessive loss of cool air and infiltration of hot air.
- 7 Shade windows from direct sunlight with awnings, blinds or draperies — it will reduce the load on the unit.
- 8 Have the unit checked by a qualified air conditioning serviceman. Do this in the spring, prior to your need for cooling.

Americans Are Dirty Fatties

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Americans apparently are better fed than scrubbed. Over 95 per cent of all American homes in 1970 boasted complete kitchens, including hot and cold running water, according to the Building Components Division of the Rockwell International Corp. here.

Only slightly more than 93 per cent, however, could claim a bathroom with hot and cold running water, a flush toilet and bathtub or shower, the producer of plumbing supplies said.

Rockwell also found that Americans are willing to pay a mighty price to keep their bathrooms and kitchens serviced with running water. Total annual cost of home improvements, maintenance and repair for plumbing is more than $1.4 billion.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

They're trying to confuse us, that's what it is. Just when we get used to the idea of having Odessa High as the Dist. 5-AAAA football favorite, they throw this curve at us. At the Texas High School Coaches Association clinic Sunday night the loop bosses decided that someone had made a mistake and San Angelo, not Odessa, would be the team to beat. And, didn't someone pick Permian?

These people really should make up their minds. I mean, it's a lot tougher to hit a moving target.

I wouldn't dream of questioning what's keeping Midland cage star Ronald Taylor out of Wednesday's THSCA All-Star basketball game in Dallas, however.

A crackdown on hair and other bushy things is the most likely reason for the Nebraska-bound cager's absence, since the THSCA brass laid down a set of rules for the all-stars — both football and basketball, North and South — to abide by. Among other things, goatees were prohibited, and when last seen, Taylor was sporting one of those hairy chins.

It was speculated also that the rule was the reason for Houston Wheatley star Eddie Owens missing the game. Taylor, who led Midland's Bulldogs to the Class AAAA finals, couldn't be reached Saturday by Midland sports writers seeking an explanation.

When you get right down to it, the THSCA is probably lucky they didn't lose more than they did as a result of their law.

People fooling around on the scoreboard at Memorial Stadium aren't necessarily trying to get attention. They're mainly just trying to overhaul the cranky thing before football season gets here, according to Assistant Supt. of Business Don Crockett.

Of course, there's no guarantee it'll work right all the time even then, but that's the chances you've got to take. When the Coca-Cola scoreboard finally blinks its last blink — which probably won't be anytime real soon — the school district will have to set out on its own for a new one, since the Coke scoreboard has just about ended. For a long time there you could hardly look at a scoreboard anywhere in the country without getting "zinged" or finding out what things go better with.

Kind of nostalgic, isn't it?

Three Big Spring runners didn't have much fun running in the rain last Saturday at the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation State Meet in Denton, but all in all they did all right. Doug Smith finished third in the 440-yard dash in 52.2, which wasn't bad considering the rain fell all afternoon and he was up against some of the top runners in the state. In fact, amazing little Alvin Crenshaw of Dallas Roosevelt, who had the fastest 880 in the nation last spring, won the event.

The rain didn't bother Ricky McCormick a great deal, however, as he ticked off his best mile of the year in the mile, a 4:42.0 good enough for fourth place in a field of 20 runners. David Wood couldn't master the slick surface around the high jump, and failed to clear the opening height of 5-10. It was a bad ending for Wood, who had been unbeaten in four summer meets and had a best of 6-2.

Sophomore Meet Opens Wednesday

Six teams square off at Johnny Stone Park beginning Wednesday in a quest for the Dist. 1 Sophomore League championship and a berth in the State Tournament, set to get under way Aug. 7 in Houston.

Monahan takes on Abernathy in the 4 p.m. opener of the double elimination event, according to tourney director Max Coffee, while the host Big Spring Texas Giants tangle with Odessa D&I in a 6 p.m. game. The final first-round match ends Lockney against the Odessa Bumpers at 8 p.m.

Play resumes Thursday at 2 p.m. with a losers bracket contest, and on Friday there will be a game in each bracket, one at 1 p.m. and one at 8 p.m. On Saturday there will be a 10 a.m. tilt in the losers bracket to determine a finalist, with the championship game set for 8 p.m. If the team without a loss is beaten in that game, a second game will follow at 10 p.m. to decide the winner.

The Giants will send either Mike Harris or Robert Parsons to the mound for the first game. A victory would put the Big Springers into an 8 p.m. game Thursday against the winner of the Lockney-Bumpers clash, while the two losers meet at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Rounding out the Giant roster are infielders Chris Burrow, Dick Battle, Mike Warren, Steve Evans and Jeff Murphy and outfielders Ricky Trawick, Gary Howell, Roy Don Beauchamp, Timmy Trawick, James Hattenbeck, Mark Vieira, Jesse Hernandez, Wade Cobb, Mitch Harris and Randall Jones.

Warren and Battle were picked up from the Sophomore League runner-up Red Sox, and Evans was added from the Lions squad. George Murphy is the manager and Gene Burrow and Bill Battle the coaches of the Giants, who finished the season with a 13-3 standing.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Resort Home for Rent

Next to lakes, mountains, forests, deserts, rivers, and ocean beaches.

You could go to a little cabin this summer. Or you could rent a Travco/Dodge Motor Home and go to a lot of places.

With full kitchen and bath, electric lights, running water and heat, the Dodge Motor Home is more like home than most motels we've seen. And it's as easy to drive as your own car.

So get the most out of that hard-earned vacation. In a Dodge Motor Home. There's nothing quite like it for freedom, flexibility and family fun.

Special rental rates now in effect. For one, two or three weeks. Ask us about them.

Braves Sink Astros, 7-3

HOUSTON (AP) — Atlanta Braves pitcher Ron Schueler is out of the bullpen and he means to stay out.

Monday night, Schueler scattered seven Astro hits, as the Braves scored a 7-3 victory.

For Schueler, it was the fourth win against three losses since he snagged a starter's role a month ago. He's 6-6 for the season.

It was also a game of home runs, as Darrell Evans, who also drove in a run with a single, blasted a two-run homer in the first for number 29. Frank Tepedino contributed his third of the year for the Braves. Astro Tommie Agee hit his eighth and teammate Bob Watson smashed his 10th of the year.

Evans, who hit just 19 home runs last year, leads the club this year and is now up over Hank Aaron for the year with 27 homers this year, has 700 for his career.

"Hitting in front of Hank most of the time has helped my home runs," said Evans. "I'm getting quite a few fast balls."

Evans homer tallied two quick runs in the first off sore-armed Larry Dierker, making his first start in eight weeks. The Braves also scored single runs in the second, third and fourth and two unearned runs in the sixth on two walks and a dropped fly ball by Astro left fielder Bob Watson.

Dierker, now 0-1, was taken out at the end of two innings and the Astros used five pitchers in a vain attempt to stem the tide of 11 Brave hits.

The Houston runs came on Agee's solo home run and Watson's four-bagger with one aboard.

Senior Crown To Big Spring

MIDLAND — It was the new additions, plus one old regular, that made the difference Monday night for the Big Spring Quality Volkswagen Senior League Baseball team.

Coahoma's Troy Kirby hurled a four-hitter and Jerry Boyd of Colorado City scored the winning run in the ninth inning as the Big Springers nabbed a 2-1 victory over the Midland Adobe Oilers Monday for the district championship and a berth in the state tournament.

The locals swept the best-of-three series in two games, and now await the state action, set for Aug. 8 in Sweetwater. It was the tenth win in 11 outings for the Big Spring group.

Kirby and Boyd, both pick-up players from the other two league teams, weren't the only stars. Thanks also went to Willie Williams, the team's regular second baseman, who bombed a clutch triple to right field in the seventh inning to tie the score at 1-1 and send the game into extra innings.

Midland had scored its run in the sixth inning when Randy Ward walked to open the frame, stole second, and then scored on a single by Don Patterson.

Butch Shook doubled to lead off the seventh for Big Spring, and Gary Evans drew a walk, but was picked off at first base. Shook advanced to third on a grounder to shortstop by Kirby, and then Williams drove 'em hot to right field of Cubs Stadium, home of the Texas League Midland Cubs.

Boyd walked to start the ninth frame, stole second and then took third when Midland catcher Danny Rey threw the ball into center field on the attempted pickoff at second base. After Evans struck out, Kirby came to bat and Midland reliever Randy Blansett, who suffered the loss, threw a wild pitch.

Boyd came charging to the plate and knocked Blansett loose from the ball on an attempted tag out to give Big Spring the edge.

Kirby struck out 12 Midland batters in the win. Besides the extra base hits by Williams and Shook, Greg Crawford also had a double and John Thomas Smith and Bruce Felts added singles.

North Coach Says Basketball Better

DALLAS (AP) — Highland Park Coach Bo Snowden, who is the mentor for the North Wednesday night's Texas High School Coaches' Association All-Star basketball game, says Texas schoolboy basketball is improving to the point where out-of-state recruiters are hustling hard for Lone Star talent.

"A lot of schools from out of state are really coming in here now," Snowden said. "The Southwest Conference, of course, has had to raid other states for years. But the quality of players in Texas is getting better and better."

Of the players on Snowden's squad, Tate Armstrong of Springwoods, has signed a letter of intent with Duke. Another player who was supposed to come but did not show up was Ronald Taylor of Midland, who is Nebraska-bound.

On the South squad, Danny Van Rhee of Deer Park is going to Missouri while Drake has snared Huey Smith, a big forward from Houston Lincoln.

Snowden said integration was one key to improved schoolboy basketball play in Texas.

"Integration is one reason we have better athletes," Snowden said. "We also have better facilities and we play an exciting run and shoot brand of basketball in Texas. This excites fans and makes kids want to participate. Of course, the coaching is probably getting a little better, too."

San Angelo Loop Choice

DALLAS — San Angelo Central High has been pegged to capture the Dist. 5-AAAA football flag this fall by the loop's coaches during the annual Texas High School Coaches Association clinic.

The Bobcats become the third team to get the nod in unofficial balloting. Odessa Permian and Odessa High have also been favored in recent polls.

Rangers' Bibby Spins No-Hitter

By The Associated Press

"Things are looking up now," said Jim Bibby. The Texas Rangers' pitcher couldn't have been any more "up" against Oakland.

He had his fastball up, down and everywhere else—within the strike zone, that is—and had the world champion A's flailing away helplessly.

And when the flailing ended Monday night, Bibby had 13 strikeouts — and a no-hitter!

Not only was Bibby up. So was his salary. Rangers' owner Bob Short, in a moment of exuberance that seemingly ignored baseball's dictum barring performance bonuses, gave the 28-year-old right-hander a $5,000 raise.

Not bad considering Bibby had a contract with the big-league minimum of $15,000 on the bottom line.

Oakland's Vida Blue, a strikeout artist in his own right and an expert in the no-hit department, was on the short end of the Rangers' 6-0 triumph. He was the victim of Jeff Burroughs' grand-slam home run and Bill Sudakis' solo blast, both in the first inning.

"I'm a fastball pitcher," Bibby said. "If my breaking pitch is halfway decent, I'm going to win some games up here."

By "up here," he means the major leagues. The 23-year-old hurler had appeared in only a handful of big league games before the St. Louis Cardinals traded him to Texas June 6 for two minor leaguers. Getting a no-hitter is new to Bibby—but getting close isn't. He's thrown a one-hitter, a two-hitter and a pair of four-hitters since coming to the Rangers in a June 6 trade with the National League's St. Louis Cardinals.

The no-hitter gave the Rangers, last in the American League West, their eighth victory in 10 games and cut the A's first-place lead to .001 over Kansas City.

In the National League, Montreal swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets 1-0 and 5-2 in 10 innings. Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 1-0, the Chicago Cubs downed St. Louis 3-1, Atlanta ripped Houston 7-3 and Los Angeles beat San Francisco 5-2.

Theater Chain Asks Action Against Grabs

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Fifth Circuit Court Judge Joe Ingraham gave attorneys for a movie theater chain 10 days to file a written brief on their request for an injunction against police seizures of the film, "Deep Throat."

Universal Amusements Company, Inc. of Houston, which operates theaters in Dallas and Houston, told a three-judge federal panel in Houston Monday it also wants the Texas obscenity statute declared unconstitutional. Copies of the controversial film have been seized by police at the company's theaters in Dallas and Houston. Joe Rollins, senior assistant Houston city attorney told Ingraham and two other federal judges that a search warrant was used to seize the film at Cinema West in Houston last April. Rollins said the warrant was issued by state District Court Judge I.D. McMaster after a statement by a police officer who viewed the film. The officer reported that the film contained explicit scenes of sexual intercourse and sodomy. Ingraham also gave the city 10 days to file a brief before he rules in the case.

Scholarship Is Reward

Five years of correspondence apparently paid off for Mike Carroll, 18, a May graduate of Big Spring High who learned this weekend of his acceptance into Culver Military Academy upon the recommendation of the U.S. Air Force Academy. Carroll, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Carroll, began writing Texas congressmen when he was in the eighth grade in order to obtain a nomination to the Air Force Academy. He found out in November that he had been nominated by Rep. Omar Burleson, but in April was notified that he had failed the required physical exam because of near-sightedness. Last month, however, the Air Force Academy selected Carroll as one of two men in the nation to attend Culver Academy, a private military institute, on a $4600 one-year scholarship from the Falcon Foundation. Carroll will take post-graduate mathematics and English courses at the Indiana academy beginning Sept. 5. He said after the one-year there he would like to enter the engineering program at the Air Force Academy itself.

Cambodian Insurgents Edge Closer To Homes

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodian insurgents edged closer today to Takhmau, only four miles from the edge of Phnom Penh and the key to the city's southern defense line. Fighting was reported during the night within two miles of Takhmau, and a government communique said three villages south of the town were hit by fire. Many people have fled their homes along the thickly settled road between Takhmau and Phnom Penh. Other fighting was reported both north and south of Phnom Penh, but details and casualties were not announced. On the south, the battlefronts were at the village of Prateah Lang, where a government armored force is trying to outflank the insurgent advance from the southwest; at Wat Sieng, on Highway 3 nine miles from the capital; and at Prek Ho, six miles south of the city. Northwest of Phnom Penh, fighting erupted at the village of Kap Srauthom. U.S. B52 bombing missions continued around the clock, pounding at insurgent concentrations and supply routes. American fighter-bombers continued to give close support to government ground forces. A river convoy of seven oil tankers, four freighters and two tugboats reached Phnom Penh Monday night without losses after the hazardous 60-mile run up the Mekong from the South Vietnamese border. It carried fuel, rice and ammunition. In Saigon, the South Vietnamese military command reported four civilians were killed and 21 were wounded in grenade and mortar attacks Monday on a hamlet on the central coastal plain and near Ben Cat, 25 miles north of Saigon. The command accused the Communists of 97 cease-fire violations during the 24 hours ending at dawn. The Canadian peacekeeping

Six Honored For Efforts

Six people at Webb AFB were honored recently by the operations division for their outstanding performances. Lt. Col. Vaughn Martin was selected as the supervisor of the quarter; Capt. Dennis G. Langstraat was selected as classroom instructor of the quarter, and Capt. William R. Poindexter was selected as the class commander of the quarter. The T-37 and T-38 sections selected 1st Lt. Ben M. Bristow and 1st Lt. Larry J. Hutchinson respectively as instructor pilots of the quarter, and Sgt. Ronald R. Smith was selected as the airman instructor of the quarter. Col. Martin was cited for his performance as chief of safety during 1971 when there were no major aircraft accidents. He was also cited for his supervision in the training program. Capt. Poindexter was cited for his dedication to his class and his exceptional abilities as a class commander. Capt. Langstraat's title of outstanding classroom instructor was awarded because of his exceptional job knowledge and personal proficiency as a classroom instructor. Lt. Hutchinson was lauded for his extra effort put forth in preparation for the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps detachment briefings and superior airmanship and pilot skills. Lt. Bristow was complimented for his mature judgment in administering student pilot evaluations, which is a program he designed to increase the effectiveness of the T-37 continuation training. Sgt. Smith, a physical conditioning specialist, received his award based on his dedication as an instructor and exceptional abilities as a physical conditioning instructor.

Management Shifts Are Made Public By Fina

DALLAS — Three key management changes for American Petrofina's recently acquired Port Arthur, Tex., refinery have been announced here by C. W. Shouse, vice president, refining. Other appointments announced included a refinery superintendent at El Dorado, Kans., and a manager of refining at Big Spring (previously announced). K. M. Suiter moves to Port Arthur as general operations superintendent from plant superintendent at Fina's El Dorado refinery. Joe M. Gunning Sr., who was named process superintendent at Port Arthur, has been product superintendent at Fina's Big Spring refinery. Robert Boodle, who becomes chief process engineer at Port Arthur, was assistant manager, chemical operations, at the Big Spring refinery. O. L. Randolph advances to refinery superintendent at El Dorado from assistant plant superintendent, succeeding Suiter. W. L. Whittington has taken over as manager of refining at Big Spring. For the past three and one-half years, he had been manager of Chemical Manufacturing for Cosden Oil & Chemical, a wholly owned subsidiary of American Petrofina, Inc. He succeeds Carl E. Rogers, who earlier was appointed manager at the Port Arthur refinery. American Petrofina is engaged in exploration and production activities in the Southwest, Mid-Continent, and Rocky Mountain regions. It operates three refineries in Texas and one in Kansas, with a current combined capacity of almost 160,000 barrels a day. Cosden Oil & Chemical Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Petrofina, has petrochemical complexes in Big Spring, Carville, La., and Calumet City, Ill. American Petrofina's motor fuels and lubricants are marketed under the FINA brand and distributed in 28 states through more than 5,000 Fina service stations located in the Southeast, Southwest, Mid-Continent, Rocky Mountain, and Pacific Northwest regions. Gunning, a native of Rushville, Ind., grew up in Oklahoma City, where he began his petroleum career in 1936. The following year, he moved to Colorado City, Tex., and joined the Col-Tex Refinery which was acquired by Cosden in 1956. On Oct. 1, 1960, when the Col-Tex plant was shut down, he moved to Big Spring and served in various capacities until he was named a general foreman in 1969. He advanced to product superintendent in 1970. Boodle, a native of Big Spring, received a BS degree in chemical engineering at the University of Texas in January, 1959. He joined Cosden in 1951. From 1956 to 1959, he attended the University of Texas under the company's engineering program, returning to the technical department at that time. He was named senior process engineer in 1970 and later that year assistant manager, chemical manufacturing. A member of the AIChE, he has served as secretary-treasurer of the Permian section and vice chairman of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers.

Youth Arrested Flagger Rides

Monday. Texas Highway Patrolmen Kenneth Maxwell and Bill Priest arrested the youth two miles west of Big Spring on IS 20. This morning, the youth was in county jail pending bond and soliciting rides from a setting and possible filing of a criminal complaint.
