A MEETING OF THE MIND — Sharing somewhat more than an experience, two zebras at a Stockbridge, Ga., game preserve seem to be of the same stripe as they ponder a visitor with a camera. It's not a reflection, on either of them, but the head is on the one at left. Or is it at right?

Two Probably Slain By Retarded Pupils

Radio Plea Puzzles

CHILLI, N.M. (AP) — Searchers sorted out conflicting reports today as they tried to locate the origin of radio distress reports from a boy who said his name was Larry, that his father had collapsed and he needed help.

Authorities said one of the puzzles in the case was the absence of any report that a boy named Larry and his father were missing.

"We're really in no better shape than we were when we heard the boy's predicament Tuesday evening," said State Police Sgt. A. B. Whitehouse.

"It's my understanding that a skip of a radio signal is possible several hundred miles. It could be the signal is bouncing off our mountains," Whitehouse said.

One of the radio operators listening for the boy's voice, Linda King, who uses the broadcast code name of "Blue Eyes," said that about 12:40 a.m. today the boy was asked to yell if he could hear the broadcast.

Open House Slated For Omar Burleson

An open house period for Cong. Omar Burleson will be held here Tuesday afternoon when he comes to participate in dedication of a tract of surplus federal land to HCJC.

There will be an informal reception for the congressman from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the Blue Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, and everyone is invited to meet and talk with Rep. Burleson.

He will arrive here shortly before and will be met by Dr. Thomas Salter, president of HCJC.

After the reception at the gas company room, Fifth and Rannels, Rep. Burleson will be taken to the Martin County tract where he will speak at 6:30 p.m.

Starlight Shows Wind Up Saturday

The week-long Starlight Specials will be wrapped up with Teen Night tonight and Band Night Saturday.

Both shows will be at 8:15 p.m. in the city amphitheatre in Comanche Trail Park.

Tonight's performance will feature a rock band led by Danny Woods.

Band Night will feature the honors band from Big Spring High School playing selections from three famous musicals, Guys and Dolls, Hello Dolly and Porgy and Bess, along with several marches. The group is led by Bill Bradley.

Gene Currie will lead the Golden Horns Stage Band from BSHS in a group of jazz, rock and ballad numbers.

Admission to both shows is 25 cents. Specials are sponsored by the cultural affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Detain 45 On Campus

MEXICO CITY (AP) — About 600 policemen today descended on the campus of the National Autonomous University of Mexico and detained 45 persons for questioning.

Newsman reported hearing what sounded like machinegun fire. No injuries were reported.

Officials said police acted at the request of Rector Guillermo Soberson who had asked on Tuesday night for help in putting down a wave of violence.

The campus, with about 10,000 students, was occupied by the armed forces in 1968 during bloody student riots.

AUSTIN (AP) — Justice of the Peace Jim Dear said today two mentally retarded boys who died last year at the Austin State School probably were killed by fellow retarded pupils who cannot be held accountable for the deaths.

Dear told the Houston Chronicle that Benito Vasquez Jr., 14, of Belton was stoned by another pupil March 22, 1972, and died six days later at the Austin State Hospital.

Eleven days earlier, Stephen Walker, 11, of San Antonio was found face down in a sand pile, and his mouth was stuffed with sand or dirt, Dear said. He died several hours later.

Dear said he found no evidence in an investigation of negligence on the part of the school staff. The judge said, however, that school officials violated state law by not notifying a coroner of the deaths.

But he added, "As far as criminal matters, this case is closed."

Dear scheduled a news conference presumably to reveal full findings of the investigation.

Thursday, Ben Standley and Richard Halpin of Free the Slow, Inc., told a news conference of the unreported deaths.

Standley and Halpin also protested the alleged use of "untested" drugs on mentally retarded children at the school.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council announced today that the price freeze on gasoline and other petroleum products will be extended an additional week, until Aug. 19.

The freeze is scheduled to be lifted from the rest of the economy on Monday.

Council Director John T. Dunlop said the extension of the freeze on petroleum products is to give the council additional time to prepare final regulations for the petroleum industry.

"While all the policy questions on treatment of petroleum have been decided, the council needs additional time to perfect and promulgate that of the oil regulations," Dunlop said at a news briefing.

The council did announce today Phase 4 regulations for the insurance industry and also its policy towards disclosure of financial reports filed by companies.

The council also listed some provisions of the final Phase 4 rules for petroleum.

It said there will be ceiling prices on the retail sale of gasoline and home heating oil and that gasoline retailers will have to post the lawful price and octane rating of gasoline on individual gasoline pumps.

He said the ceiling price on gasoline will provide a 7-cent-per-gallon minimum markup for service station operators.

Thursday, Ben Standley and Richard Halpin of Free the Slow, Inc., told a news conference of the unreported deaths.

Standley and Halpin also protested the alleged use of "untested" drugs on mentally retarded children at the school.

Hunt For More Victims Of Perverted Sex Ring

HOUSTON (AP) — Police said they will file murder charges against David Brooks, 18, and Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, later today after Henley showed them two more graves, bringing to 21 a death count that may reach at least 27 in a homosexual procurement ring.

QUEER CASE

"All they were were procurers for this queer," said police Lt. Breck Porter.

Henley was charged with three counts of murder in San Augustine County today with bond set by Justice of the Peace C.A. Renfro at $100,000 on each count.

Henley directed officers to two more graves near Broadus, about 130 miles northeast of Houston, shortly after sunrise, bringing to four the number of graves of apparent teenage sex perversion victims found there since Thursday night.

SIX MORE

Henley told newsmen he could show police "at least six more" graves at High Island, east of Galveston. Police said he would get the opportunity.

Henley told newsmen at the Broadus site the new bodies dug up this morning were those of teen-age boys from Pasadena, a Houston suburb.

"I felt I owed it to their parents to let them know what happened to them," he said, in explaining his cooperation in pointing out the graves. He did not name those victims for newsmen.

COPS ONLY

Henley declined to answer some questions from newsmen, saying the answers were only for the police.

In addition to the 17 found buried at Houston, police discovered two more lime-dusted graves Thursday night near Broadus.

Police said a second youth implicated in the killings would lead them to the graves at High Island later this morning.

In locating the graves Thursday night, Henley told officers: "Here's some I got for Dean. He raped them, killed them, and brought them out here to bury them."

Police said Henley told them he and the second youth, who is scheduled for arraignment on murder charges later today, were given $5 to $10 a head for procuring teen-age boys for Deal Allen Corll, 33, who staged homosexual parties at his suburban Pasadena home.

Henley, who at first said he had killed only the man responsible for the mass slayings, changed his statement Thursday and told police he and another youth helped lure young boys to Dean Allen Corll, 33, for sex parties that led to torture and death.

Houston Police Lt. Breck Porter, who is heading the investigation, said Henley told him as many as 30 victims may be involved in the three-year-long carnage.

MACABRE SEARCH

While jail trustees kept on digging at a boat storage stall in southwest Houston where 17 bodies eventually were found, Henley took officers into the piney woods of East Texas north of the city where two more bodies were located near Lake Sam Rayburn.

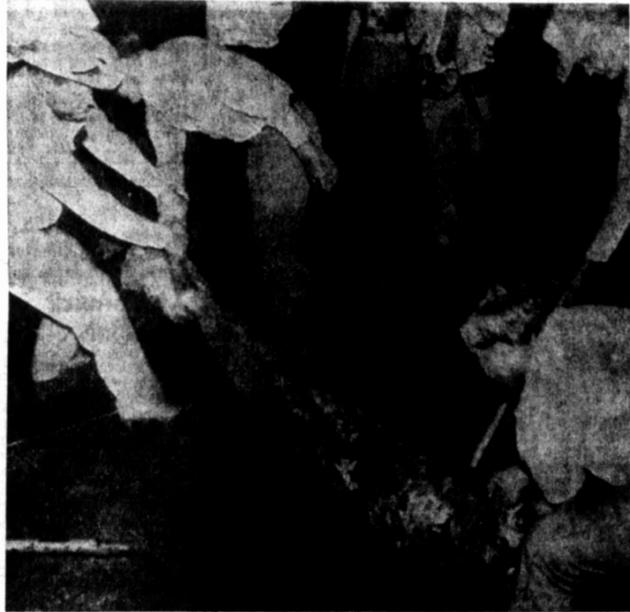

Porter said Henley had also told questioners more bodies had been buried near the town of High Island, east of Houston.

Porter said officers would go to the High Island site today in the macabre search.

The horror started unfolding early Wednesday morning when Henley telephoned suburban Pasadena, Tex., police and said he had killed Corll in self defense because Corll threatened to kill Henley and two other youths after an all-night sex and paint-spray sniffing party.

Henley told officers that Corll had killed other persons and buried them in the boat stall he had rented for the past three years. But as authorities pressed their investigation, Henley was quoted as telling them he had participated in the sex slayings and implicated other 18-year-old Houston males.

Houston police took the 18-year-old into custody for questioning Thursday afternoon.

UNEARTH MORE BODIES — Law enforcement officers remove one of two bodies that were unearthed Thursday night near Broadus. They were led there by Elmer Henley, 17, of Houston, earlier in the day he showed them to a boat shed in Houston where 19 bodies were discovered.

Childhood Is Crucial Time

HOUSTON (AP) — Two doctors say that childhood is a crucial time when sex and violence may get confused in people's minds.

"A person who gets sexual stimulation from hurting someone else may have been a person who would inadvertently get aroused himself when he was beaten by adults in his childhood," said Dr. Blair Justice.

Justice, professor of social psychology at the University of Texas School of Public Health here and director of the Project for the Prevention of Violent Behavior, made the statement Thursday in the midst of one of the largest mass murder cases in U.S. history.

'A Nice Polite Man Who Loved To Be Around Kids'

HOUSTON (AP) — Dean Allen Corll, 33, was "a nice polite man who loved to be around kids."

Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, was like a son to Corll, said his mother, Mrs. Mary Henley.

Corll is dead, shot to death Wednesday by Henley, who in turn has confessed to homosexually assaulting and murdering—with Corll and another youth yet to be charged—some 25 to 30 young men and boys.

"Dean treated Wayne like a son. And Wayne loved him like a father," said Mrs. Henley as she sat in her modest home in Houston. Mrs. Henley has three other sons but Wayne, a junior high school dropout, was the oldest. She and Wayne's father are divorced.

Mrs. Henley said she couldn't understand what happened to her son. She said she had seen him cry after shooting a rabbit.

Corll, an electrician with Houston Lighting & Power Co., was described by those who knew him with words like, "nice, polite, quiet."

A fellow worker of Corll's, who refused to give his name, said Corll was a likeable fellow who liked to kid around with his fellow workers.

"I lent him money. He lent me money. We'd go to lunch together and have a good time."

He said that Corll never talked about women or much at all about his personal life. "As far as going to his house, he never invited me," the man said.

HOUSTON (AP) — "Momma, be happy for me because now, at last, I can live."

Mrs. Mary Henley quoted today her son, Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, as having made that statement to her Thursday by telephone.

The telephone call was made after Henley had detailed to police information that "now has led to the discovery of the bodies of at least 21 teen-age youths."

Mrs. Henley said Wayne had told police everything, including that he had killed nine of the 25 to 30 boys he believes were murdered after he and a friend had procured boys at $5 to $10 each for Dean Allen

Corll, 33, for sex parties at Corll's home.

"OH, WAYNE"

The case broke into the open Wednesday after Henley told police he had shot Corll to death after an argument developed over a girl's presence at a sex party.

Mrs. Henley said her son called her prior to his departure with officers for the Lake Sam Rayburn area where four bodies were found Thursday night and today.

She quoted this brief conversation:

"Momma, I've told them everything."

"What do you mean, everything?"

Teenage Boy Shot Twice In The Head

HOUSTON (AP) — A medical examiner said today two of the 17 bodies of teen-age boys found buried in a boat shed in southwest Houston have been identified but that it will take a while to complete examinations of the other bodies.

Dr. Joseph A. Jachimczyk, Harris County medical examiner, said Marty Ray Jones, 18, had been shot twice in the head with a .22-caliber gun and that Charles Cray Cobble, 17, had been strangled. Identification of the two Houston youths who were neighbors, Jachimczyk said, was made through dental records.

"We have X-rays on the rest of the bodies and some are disjoined," Jachimczyk said in explaining why early identification of the other bodies probably will be slow.

"We have many bones and we don't know which go with which bodies," he said.

The Jones and Cobble boys disappeared in July and their parents reported last hearing from them on July 26 in telephone calls saying they were in trouble and that they needed $1,000.

Jachimczyk said the two bodies were found together Wednesday and that they had been dead about two weeks.

He said autopsies also were completed Thursday on two other bodies that remained unidentified. One was said to have been shot twice in the head at close range with a .22 and a plastic sack tied over the head. He said the other had been strangled.

Jachimczyk said one of the unidentified had been buried about a week, the other three weeks or longer. He said it could not be determined whether the two had been sexually molested but that neither had been sexually mutilated or dismembered.

L. C. Kelley, an investigator in Jachimczyk's office, said the four .22 slugs would be tested by Houston police.

'NOW, AT LAST, I CAN LIVE'

'Momma, Be Happy For Me'

HOUSTON (AP) — "Momma, be happy for me because now, at last, I can live."

Mrs. Mary Henley quoted today her son, Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, as having made that statement to her Thursday by telephone.

The telephone call was made after Henley had detailed to police information that "now has led to the discovery of the bodies of at least 21 teen-age youths."

She quoted this brief conversation:

"Momma, I've told them everything."

"What do you mean, everything?"

"Just everything."

"Oh, Wayne."

"Momma, be happy for me because now, at last, I can live."

SO CONSIDERATE

The mother said she believes Wayne "felt good after letting such a weight loose."

"I don't understand how he lived with it," she said. "He never told me a thing about it and he was always so considerate."

TOO LATE TO HELP

Mrs. Henley said Wayne was introduced to Corll about three years ago by a friend, David Brooks, 18, who was arrested Thursday and quoted by police as saying he, too, was involved in the slayings.

Mrs. Henley said Wayne and Brooks were not always good friends in that they would quarrel at times and not see each other for long periods.

The two met, she said, at Hamilton Junior High School where Wayne dropped out in the ninth grade three years ago.

Mrs. Henley said Brooks did not talk much and often criticized her control of her children.

"I like to know where my kids are," she said she told Brooks. "David told me my kids could take care of themselves and to leave them alone."

Work On Sewer Plant Begins

City workmen began draining the sludge digester at the sewer plant Thursday to rid it of an accumulation of heavy metals which has plagued its operation for the past 10 years.

Texas Water Quality Board had earlier instructed the city to drain the digester after completion of a survey to identify and eliminate the sources of various heavy metals entering the plant from businesses and industries in town.

City Manager Harry Nagel said two major sources of the metals were found, and both were "highly cooperative" with the city in working to eliminate the problem.

Nagel said draining, being done by a city crew with tank trucks borrowed from Webb AFB, will probably take nine work days to complete. In the process, one million gallons of sludge will be piped out of the digester, loaded in tanks and dumped in an abandoned gravel pit on city property east of town.

After dumping is finished, the sludge will be buried under four or five feet of dirt so that no odor problem will ensue. Nagel said the sludge will finally return to soil.

Purpose of the digester is to digest into sludge the solids in sewage. This process cuts down on odor and transforms the sewage into a state in which it is safe to dispose of.

Nagel said he doubts the city will ever again experience such a heavy build-up of interfering metals in the digester as it will be the job of newly hired chemist Linda Myers to run frequent analyses on the sludge and to patrol what business and industry dump into the sewer system.

Businessmen have given the city "excellent cooperation" so far in reporting the chemicals they use and discharge, Nagel added.

PLANS LAST PARTY—Mrs. Ruth Hoffman, 57, a patient at Sequoia Hospital in Redwood City is planning an "open house" for friends and family in her room Saturday. She learned that she is dying from bone cancer and has ordered doctors to keep her alive until after the party. "After that I don't care. I'll be ready," she said. Her body and eyes will be donated to Stanford Medical Center at her request.

'They Told Me There Was No Chance To Recover'

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Ruth Hoffman is hosting an open house Saturday for her family and friends. And she has ordered doctors to keep her alive until the party's over.

Ruth is dying of bone cancer. "After that I don't care. I'll be ready," she said Thursday in an interview from her Sequoia Hospital bed.

"We all have to die. I'm a Christian. I have hopes of seeing my mother and others up there."

"I've had a lot of tribulations, but I don't let them get me down," she said.

"The closer one lives to God the happier they're going to be some day. That's my attitude."

Ruth's open house and party will be in Room 119 and the corridor outside in Sequoia Hospital where she learned the week before Mother's Day her illness would be terminal.

Sensing that her time was near, Mrs. Hoffman, 57, first started planning a family reunion. But, she said many of her friends who have visited during her 14 weeks in the hospital also wanted to be invited.

"So I decided. Make it an open house for all who want to come," she explained.

Cancer's attack on Mrs. Hoffman started in 1971. She had a breast removed but that did not halt the spread of cancer.

"I went into the hospital in May, the week before Mother's Day," she said. "I asked the doctors to tell me the truth. They did. They told me I had bone cancer, from my head to my knees."

"They told me there was no chance to recover." "I was prepared."

'REALISTIC COMPROMISE' Nixon Signs Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon signed the farm bill today and said it "should help in our battle against inflation by encouraging American farmers to produce at full capacity."

Nixon said the cost to taxpayers of government payments to farmers "will be reduced and in some cases eliminated during periods of string-demand and high prices such as we are now experiencing." He termed the bill a "realistic compromise between the Congress and the administration on a number of important economic issues."

FREEDOM "Though it falls short of the high standards I have set for reforming farm legislation and eventually moving the government out of agriculture, it does provide a constructive framework for encouraging the expansion of farm production."

In this period of "unprecedented demand for farm commodities," Nixon said, "it is essential to provide expanded production by allowing farmers the freedom to make production decisions."

The bill, the 1973 Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act, has been attacked by critics as inflationary but defended by sponsors as vital to full farm production.

The four-year farm, food stamp and food-for-peace legislation passed Congress last week as a compromise between rural and urban interests.

The legislation gave the agriculture secretary new power over food prices, created a new farm price support system, dropped the annual payment ceiling from the current $55,000 per crop to $20,000 per farmer and boosted minimum milk price supports for two years.

FOOD-FOR-PEACE It also revamped food stamp programs, allowed a twice-yearly cost-of-living adjustment in the value of coupon allotments, permitted people in drug and alcohol treatment programs to get food stamps, and partially restored food stamp eligibility for some old, blind and disabled people. It continued the food-for-peace program but banned aid to North Vietnam unless specifically authorized by Congress.

The government announced Thursday that procurements for food-for-peace shipments for the last part of this year have been suspended pending review of the uncertain U.S. supply situation.

The bill "assures" farmers they will not be faced with complete loss of income in case of a market collapse, and will enable them to get the credit necessary for full production. Only with full production can we feed America and meet present export demands," Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., said in the closing House debate.

HOAX ON PUBLIC But in a letter to the President this week, Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., said the bill "is so inflationary, so full of loopholes and giveaways, and so contrary to the public interest, it is a hoax on the American public. I strongly urge you to veto it."

The legislation also required a farm census next year, called for reporting export sales, set up long-range environmental protection and rural conservation programs, provided for forestry incentives, and authorized cotton, wheat and feed grain research.

NORWEGIAN, VIETNAMESE DIE Iranian On His First Solo Flight Survives

CASTROVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The landing strip, witnesses said.

The plane carrying the two men who died plummeted into a farmer's field along U.S. 90 adjacent to the airport.

The plane piloted by Iranian Air Cadet Reza Naddaf, 22, of Shiraz, Iran, landed safely after Naddaf, "deadsticked" the plane down, the Air Force said, meaning he landed the plane after the engine failed.

The plane's propeller was bent and the wings were damaged.

"IT'S REGRETTABLE" "I gather it was a pretty good job of landing to get," said an Air Force spokesman at Randolph Air Force Base near San Antonio. The Air Training Command, headquartered at Randolph, has charged the training program.

The Air Force said its regulations prevented release of the identity of Vietnamese trainee, a foreign national, until 48 hours after the crash.

The crash occurred at 11:21 a.m. CDT Thursday, the Air Force said.

"It's regrettable," said Bruce Baize of the flying service's headquarters in nearby Hondo. He said the program uses about 80 Air Force aircraft. The T41 is the military equivalent of a Cessna 172, he said.

Services will be Saturday 2 p.m. in the Rix Funeral Chapel in Lubbock, and burial will be in the Lubbock City Cemetery beside the grave of her husband, the Rev. A. A. Collins, pioneer Cumberland Presbyterian minister.

Mrs. Collins lived here all the years Dr. Grooms was pastoring the First Methodist Church, and when he returned here as district superintendent, she lived for three years in a

Budget Approved Here For Alcoholic Unit

An estimated first year budget of $20,000 was adopted Thursday by the Howard County Alcoholism Council for the set-up and operation of an alcoholic detoxification unit.

Members of the group urged by $6,000 the budget recommended by the city administration. The council is expected to ask the city and county governments this month to underwrite the entire $20,000 for the first year.

Broken down, the budget includes $3,600 for rent of a house for the unit, $3,600 for food for the residents, $10,500 for salaries of an administrator and relief help, $500 for utilities, $1,000 for furniture and $500 for miscellaneous expenses.

City Manager Harry Nagel explained that, while the group will ask the local governments to underwrite the funds needed, it will later approach businesses and industries for contributions which will then be deducted from the city-county portion of expenses.

Nagel said the $20,000 figure may be higher than what will actually be needed to get the center on its feet. The unit, when completed, will provide a supervised yet home-like "sobering-up" place for alcoholics. It has not yet been decided where the unit will be housed nor when operation will begin.

R. Anderson

LAMESA — Funeral services for Raymond Claude Anderson, 58, will be at 10 a.m. Saturday in First Baptist Church with the Rev. E. R. Holder, pastor of Key Baptist Church, and Allen Hahn, of Downtown Church of Christ, officiating.

Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Park under direction of Branon-Funeral Home.

Mr. Anderson, a long-time Lamesa resident, died in a Temple hospital Wednesday.

Surviving are a son, Jim Anderson, Lamesa; a sister, Mrs. Mildred Jones, San Antonio; a brother, C. L. Anderson, Lamesa; and one grandchild.

H. G. Smith

LAMESA — Services are pending in Bonham for Howard Glenn Smith, 68, O'Donnell, who died about 4 p.m. Thursday in a hospital here.

The body will be at Branon-Funeral Home here until Saturday afternoon when it will be transferred to Bonham.

Mr. Smith was a retired farmer and had lived in O'Donnell three years. Survivors are a sister, Mrs. M. E. Jones, Childress, and a brother, H. B. Smith, O'Donnell.

'The Vampire's After Us Again,' Astro Complains

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab 2's astronauts took their first day off in space today after two weeks in their orbiting laboratory, and they started off by sleeping two hours later than normal.

Like many an earthman on his day off, they had a lot of chores to do around the house. For one thing, there's much cleaning up and putting away to do after 13 busy days. Mission Control asked them to troubleshoot a couple of minor problems.

Also on schedule was the first space shower for Alan L. Bean, Dr. Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma.

The crewmen told Mission Control Thursday night not to wake them today, that they would get up when they felt like it.

The first word today from Bean was: "The vampire's after us again. We're all having our blood taken."

Frequently during the flight, scheduled for 59 days, Garriott draws blood samples from each man as part of a medical study.

Self Holding Own Following Wreck

J. C. Self, 1609 E. 8th St., was reportedly "holding his own" at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital around noon today after being involved in one-car accident at 9:44 a.m. with a utility pole on E. Third Street.

A Hall-Bennett spokesman said Self had apparently inhaled gas. A Mrs. Self, believed to be his mother, was also treated for minor injuries.

Ask any expert and he'll tell you that defense is the most difficult part of bridge. Thus, East's effort on this deal is worthy of the highest commendation.
Both North and South were slightly aggressive in the auction. After showing his two suits, South felt that his intermediate cards and partial fit with his partner warranted one more try for game; similarly, North thought that his six-card suit and ace in his partner's first suit was enough to bid on to game.
West decided to attack the unbid suit, and made the standard lead of the top of three worthless cards. Dummy's jack was played, and East encouraged with the six. Declarer overtook dummy's jack with his queen of hearts and led the jack of diamonds for a finesse. East ducked smoothly! Impressed with his success, declarer continued with his low diamond. West played low in tempo, declarer finessed dummy's nine and East won the queen. Now there was no way for declarer to set up and enjoy dummy's long diamonds, and he could come to no more than seven tricks.

Looking at all the hands, it is easy to see that declarer could have made his contract by going up with the king of diamonds on the second lead of the suit, dropping East's queen. However, there is no valid reason why he should make that play.

Both East and West can take full credit for defeating the contract. It is obvious that the only chance for the defense lay in shutting out dummy's diamond suit, and East was prepared to sacrifice his queen to that end. West, too, deserves a feather in his cap. By twice playing low in tempo, he helped declarer misguess. Had he hesitated at any point, it might have tipped declarer off.

THE BEEF FREEZE

It's Easy To Whip Devil Around The Price Stump

By OMAR BURLERSON, M.C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON — A law which is unworkable and not generally acceptable to people is mostly unenforceable.

Although the ceiling on beef at the retail level is not a law passed by the Congress, it is a regulation imposed by the Cost of Living Council. The Administration, which the Cost of Living Council represents, is empowered under the law to impose price controls.

The affluent society in which we live is going to buy beef somewhere or somehow. Beef consumption in the last few years has increased from 155 pounds to 234 pounds per capita in the United States. With population increases and with individual incomes up, consumption has soared. This does not mean, of course, that everyone can afford it and is going to pay any price demanded, but it is the average and the average has to be depended upon.

Some meat wholesalers are calling the meat sales in some places as coming from the "black market." Others prefer to say it is only, as yet, a "gray" market but predict that transactions in this area will become more numerous.

One gimmick being worked is the practice of buying cattle in the United States, shipping them to Canada for processing, then selling dressed carcasses in the United States as "imported" meat which is uncontrolled by Phase IV ceilings. The legality of such transactions is under discussion at the moment. The chief legal advisor of the Cost of Living Council is reported to consider the finished beef brought back from Canada as illegal and not "imported" if it originates in the United States livestock markets.

Other methods of avoidance are reported, such as ordering 1,000 pounds of choice beef cuts at ceiling prices but being billed for additional poundage to make up for costs not allowed by the ceiling.

The practicalities of the situation must cope with ways to circumvent the price ceiling. Meat wholesalers are telling the Cost of Living Council numerous ways to get around their regulations. One, for instance, says that he can order choice, well trimmed brisket at a certain price. He will be told that they are out of it but that they have some "special brisket" available at 20 cents over the ceiling price for well trimmed meat. So, the purchaser gets the brisket but it is the same well trimmed quality available before.

The serious part of the whole business is that cattle will be held off the market, beef processors will curtail plant operations to wait to see what happens. Shortages follow and the scarcity runs up prices. Controls can not go on forever but when they are lifted a short supply will run prices still higher.

TEXAS 18th IN CRIME

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas ranks 18th in crime per capita among the other states and Corpus Christi has the worst rating among Texas cities, according to figures released today by the FBI.

According to the FBI's annual statistical report Texas has a "total crime index" of 2,655.6 offenses per 100,000 inhabitants. Populous California led the nation with its crime rate of 4,666.2 offenses per 100,000 persons.

Among the top dozen cities in Texas, referred to as "metropolitan statistical areas," Corpus Christi led with an offense rate of 3,812.8 per 100,000 persons.

Dallas was second worst with a rate of 3,680.3 per 100,000 residents while Houston was third with 3,569.6 per 100,000 persons.

Others in the top dozen were: San Antonio 3,561.3; Lubbock 3,352.5; Waco 3,232.0; Austin 3,116.2; Galveston - Texas City 3,113.6; El Paso 3,100.0; Amarillo 2,972.9; Fort Worth 2,792.5; and Beaumont-Port Arthur 2,528.9.

WILL HE TURN OVER FINANCIAL RECORDS?

Spiro Retires To Desert Resort

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has retired to a desert resort for a long weekend, leaving behind the question of whether he will turn over his financial records to federal prosecutors probing political corruption in Maryland.

Agnew left Washington for Palm Springs, Calif., Thursday after reportedly being granted an indefinite extension on the prosecutors' request for the documents while his lawyers study the possibility of claiming immunity. Jay H. Topkis, one of Agnew's attorneys, said he would be in touch with the prosecutors next week.

Agnew was expected to return to Washington early next week.

NOTHING TO HIDE

Meanwhile, a federal grand jury in Baltimore, which since January has been investigating political kickbacks, heard several witnesses. Federal officials refused to say if the testimony involved Agnew.

The Vice President told a news conference Wednesday he has "absolutely nothing to hide" from the investigators, labeling as "damn lies" charges that he accepted political payoffs.

He said he would "make available at the appropriate time and in the appropriate way to the appropriate authorities" whatever records are needed, but added that "unprecedented constitutional questions" would have to be considered.

CONFIDENCE

Never before has any president or vice president been involved in a federal criminal investigation while in office.

Agnew was notified Aug. 2 that he was under investigation for bribery, extortion, conspiracy and tax violations. A letter from U.S. Atty. George Beall requested Agnew's financial and tax records dating back to the beginning of his two year term as governor of Maryland in 1967. Beall had asked Agnew to turn over the documents by 2 p.m. Thursday.

The White House has declined any further discussion of Agnew's legal problems, saying the Vice President "addressed himself quite forthrightly and quite directly" to the matter. Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren repeated that "the President has confidence in the Vice President and the fact of the investigation does not change that."

Elaine Martin Wins Honor

ACKERLY — Two Ackerly students have returned from participating in the Southwest Texas State University speech and drama workshop at San Marcos, and with good results. They are Kayla Gaskins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, and Elaine Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giddie, Corpus Christi, to win the top spot in the workshop. The others in the top four were Stacy Hawthorne, San Antonio, and Belinda Coffman, Austin.

Mrs. G. W. Martin Jr. Kayla will be a senior at Sands High School, and Elaine will be a junior.

On the basis of an analysis of all the practice debates, four top student debaters were named, and one of them was Elaine. She teamed with Cindy Giddie, Corpus Christi, to win the top spot in the workshop. The others in the top four were Stacy Hawthorne, San Antonio, and Belinda Coffman, Austin.

No way, after three months of dating, I believe in sex after marriage, but she says she can't wait. I love her and don't know whether to break up or not. I am afraid if I don't do something drastic to stop her I am going to get into trouble — Too Soon in Virginia.

(A.) You — a boy — are faced with a demand that a girl is much more likely to be faced with. It is a demand that is usually easier for a girl to handle sensibly than it is for a boy to cope with.

Many girls are able to reason with demanding boys about the perils involved.

You may be able to reason with your girl friend, to show her the dangers, and to convince her that now is the time to wait.

If you do not feel very strongly about this, if you are halfway eager for her to talk you into an adventure that could cost both of you heavily, I urge you to break up with her.

Do not feel that in doing so you would be losing a real love. I do not believe that if Sandi really loved you she would make that request of you.

Kiwanians Hear German Numbers

A quintet of school band leaders performed several German numbers for the Kiwanis Club at the group's weekly luncheon Thursday.

The band was composed of Bill Bradley and Gene Currie, high school band directors; Dots Pace, Goliad band director; Jerry Gowler, Runnels band director; and Billy Nugent, Steer Band president. Instruments included two clarinets, a bass, a trumpet and a trombone.

Kiwanians were reminded that an evening picnic will take the place of the regular luncheon on Aug. 23.

New Candor

At least one thing has improved in the administration's approach to the economy. Over-rosy pictures are no longer being offered for public consumption.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, backed away from every opportunity to wax enthusiastic over economic prospects in his appearance before the Joint Economic Committee of Congress. The committee was conducting a hearing on the state of the economy, and Stein was called upon to provide the administration's expectations and goals.

Was the prediction made earlier that inflation would drop to a 2.5 per cent rate by the end of the year still operative, Stein was asked. The answer (which most anyone could give) was no. Stein also declined to set a new inflation target, which given the track record of the hopeful projections made previously is a sign of intelligent discretion.

Moreover, Stein held out no false hopes that the unemployment situation will miraculously correct itself. He predicts a drop from 4.8 to 4.5

per cent unemployed by the end of the year, but opined the rate should then level off during 1974 — which means the administration definition of full employment as a 4 per cent unemployed rate is no longer in sight at the end of the tunnel.

As for prices of food, "They're going to go up pretty fast," Stein counseled. The only consolation he offered was that they probably won't increase quite as much as the 20 per cent zoom of food prices during the first half of 1973.

If this represents new candor, well and good. The American people would much rather have an honest appraisal, even when it offers little comfort.

Reminder: Need For Humility

The motion sickness which plagued the Skylab 2 astronauts recalls, as did the damage to the solar panels on Skylab 1, that the best laid plans of Mission Control can in some unforeseen way go awry. The subsequent leaks, with imperiled potential for the astronauts, underlines this.

In Skylab 2 the physical problem of weightlessness, a relatively minor problem in previous missions, created a major concern from the outset.

In the midst of the greatest technological exploration of our time, with the almost incredible virtuosity of the design, communications and control systems which make it possible for a craft to be launched from earth for a precise rendezvous with another in the infinity of space, it should not be overlooked that the core of it all is man with his brain and his body.

Thus Skylab 2 is a gentle reminder of the need for humility. In an even more realistic sense it also is an example of the need for constant physical evaluation of the human being in order to assure success of manned space ventures.

As costly as it is, it is obvious that the only way to know the space capabilities of the human body ultimately is exactly the way that we are learning them — through experiments such as Skylab 2.

Cynicism Not For Him

Around The Rim

Walter Malone

Today is my last working day at The Herald. I have to go back to El Paso to get ready to return to college.

THIS WAS the first entire summer I had been away from home and lived completely by my own support.

It might be said this summer was a milestone in my life. I was ready for it and I think I made it through pretty well.

My thoughts are mixed about newspaper work. My thoughts are mixed about one or two other things too.

Although my plans are not yet firm, I still have one more year to incubate my experience here into some conclusion.

I must weigh the interest of working with a newspaper with the suspicion that goes along with it. I have to decide whether I will work with an optimistic viewpoint or a pessimistic one.

ONE OF my bosses would probably tell me that if I stay in the newspaper business long enough, the pessimistic viewpoint is the only attitude that can possibly develop even if a person is optimistic to begin with.

I HAPPEN to like being optimistic and I don't want a job that will eventually make me a cynic. But I have a feeling that newspaper work is not the only business that could make a person cynical.

Life in general is enough to make someone sour — if you let it.

I've been teased about my optimistic, probably innocent, attitude. People explain it away by saying that I have just not lived long enough. Experience, they say, will wilt my hope.

I respect experience and people who have it and those words of warning would be accepted; however, I find some exceptions to their hard and fast rule. I have met some people who have lived many years amidst the worst the world can throw at them.

Some of those people wear a bigger smile than a looney. The pessimist would probably say the optimist is a lunatic.

I would be a cynic if it weren't for the examples of men I admire. My father is one of those men.

No one is more hard-headed, practical and worldly-wise but he cuts through the sham, the deceit and the cruelty with something more powerful.

I choose to sit at his feet and learn his lesson. I choose to become like him.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

As a black, who believes Jesus is the Son of God, one question puzzles me. Why is it that the black man is so badly treated in the world? Is there any Biblical reason?

I know of no reason for prejudice, hate and discrimination, except that the heart of man has a bent toward evil. The first chapter of James discusses this. Unless restrained by God, man is capable of these sins, and even worse.

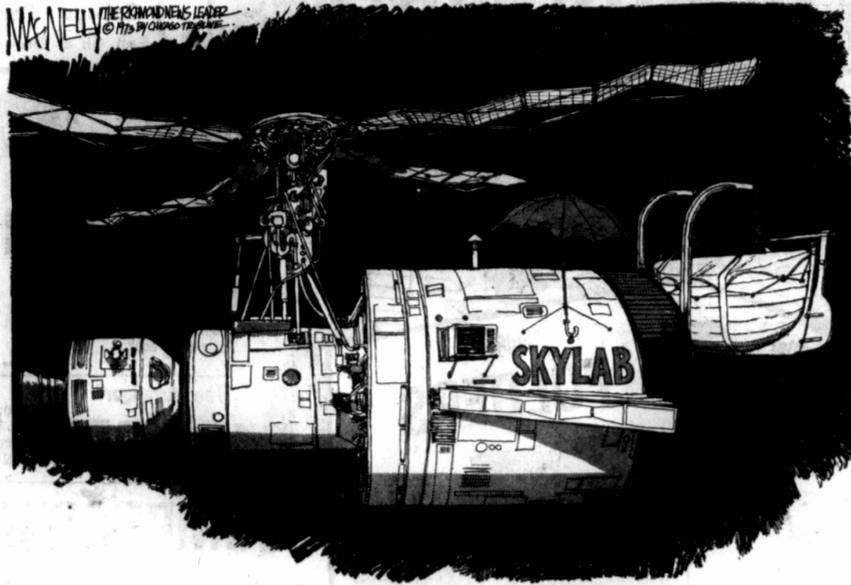

Often history is an embarrassment to Christian principles, because at times, wrong and evil has paraded under supposedly Christian banners. God, however, is displeased with every indication of man's inhumanity to man. The Bible leaves no shred of justification for the maltreatment of the black man, or any other minority group. Scripture is on the side of racial parity, and the true freedom and dignity of every person.

In all our Crusades, we have insisted on integration. Just recently in Africa, we saw a new measure of racial tolerances and understanding. The Gospel brings that — or at least it ought to.

America has taken some great steps in social legislation, which it honored in spirit as well as letter, will lead to the alleviation of many of the minority problems that still plague our country. It is a matter of record that a black man now in America has more education than many a white person in Europe.

As a believer in Christ, you know it is the liberating power of faith that changes men's hearts. Ultimately, this is the only way mistreatment will cease, and brotherly love begin.

Unnecessary Smut

NEW YORK (AP) — Things we could all do without:

Musical liquor bottles that play "How dry I am."

Colored bedsheets printed with chessboard patterns or festooned clusters of writhing snakes.

Gold and diamond studded bracelets — four in a set — for pampered pet dogs.

Smutty phrases on sweat-shirts for teenagers.

People with a high I.Q. (intelligence quotient) who fail at anything they try because it isn't backed up by a high M.Q. (motivation quotient).

Professional athletes in any sport who go on strike unless they are paid a salary amounting to nearly half their weight in gold each season.

Television actors who fell 250-pound thugs with a single karate chop that actually wouldn't give a headache to an ailing midget.

The 14-to-15 ounce pound popular with many butchers. Whatever happened to the old-fashioned 16-ounce pound?

Rainbow-hued capsules of medicine that do you no more good than a sniff of sugar.

Adults who tacitly condone their children's going to marijuana puffing parties because they say it might keep the kids from doing something worse.

Rundown vacation resorts where the bedbugs outnumber the mosquitoes and fare better.

Schoolteachers who go to summer school only with the hopeful aim of marrying a seedy Ph.D.

Fingerprints on the icing of your birthday cake.

Cocktail parties at which the host pours the first drink from a triple-shot glass and all the rest from a tumbler.

Teen-agers who describe everything from a sunset to a car accident with the same phrase: "Isn't it gross?"

The monologues of dentists when they are trying to take your mind off what they are doing to you.

Ladies who wear so much mascara it runs in the rain.

Fearful passengers who have to be three sheets to the wind before they will climb aboard an airplane.

The degrading cupidity of contestants on a television giveaway show getting excited over the prospect of getting something for nothing — the New American Dream.

From these and other burdensome afflictions of mind and spirit, deliver us, Amen.

Painless Killing

Robert E. Ford

DANIELLE FLOOD
Substituting for Robert Ford

NEW YORK (AP) — The Euthanasia Society of America's membership has jumped from hundreds to tens of thousands in the last four years, and its director says interest continues to swell.

"The phones have been a steady tattoo," said Mrs. Elizabeth T. Halsey, 70, head of the organization that was established in 1938.

THE MOST recent surge of interest in the legal and moral questions of euthanasia, or the act of painlessly killing someone for reasons assumed to be merciful, was sparked by the two widely publicized cases in New York and New Jersey this summer.

Dr. Vincent A. Montemarano of East Meadow, N.Y., has been accused of injecting a fatal dose of potassium chloride into a comatose patient. Lester Zygmanski of Englishtown, N.J., has been charged with fatally shooting his brother, who had been paralyzed by a motorcycle accident.

Mrs. Halsey has received about $100,000 in donations so far this year; as much as was received during all of 1972. Donations totaled about $33,000 in 1970. Membership has jumped from 600 in 1969 to 50,000 this year, she said.

Mrs. Halsey attributes the increase to more publicity and because "now there are so many ways of keeping people alive."

"PEOPLE ARE becoming very afraid of this," she said. "A person doesn't die anymore in the bosom of his family. They attach tubes to him and stick him into intensive care, and it's far from dignified."

Mrs. Halsey, a widow who has directed the organization since 1969, said there is less interest in rural and low-income areas where there are fewer hospitals and advanced medical facilities.

The society advocates passive rather than active euthanasia. That is, it would favor halting prolonged medical attention to someone who might require it but not an injection of poison into a terminally ill patient.

"My sister had pneumonia a couple of years ago, and she was stuck full of tubes," Mrs. Halsey said. "Well, I told the doctor that if she has heart arrest, and her brain becomes injured, please don't work on her."

NEW YORK City's chief medical examiner, Dr. MiltonHELPEN, recently said he was against euthanasia because it's "done for the convenience of the doctor and the family.... It's the family that can't stand the suffering. A patient who's in a coma isn't in pain. It's the family who's in pain."

The Euthanasia Society has been filling about 500 requests a week for what it calls a "living will." The document says:

"If there is no reasonable expectation of my recovery from physical or mental disability, I... request that I be allowed to die and not be kept alive by artificial means or heroic measures."

"Although this document is not legally binding, you who care for me will, I hope, feel morally bound to follow its mandate."

Said Mrs. Halsey, "The will embodies all we have to say about passive euthanasia."

Two Many Trips

BUSHEY, England (AP) — Housewife Ann Compton has a winning streak she can't afford. She has won too many free vacations in competitions.

The snag is, every time she wins a trip for two, she and husband Bob have to pay for their two children to go along.

Ann's fourth win this year is a trip to Canada — but this time, she says, the kids will have to stay home with grandma.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Shin Splints Need Rest

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son is 15, tall, lanky and active in sports. He has what the doctor calls shin splints. All they advise him to do is wrap his legs and rest.

He wraps them from ankles to knees but wants to continue his sports. If he continues to play despite the pain, would he damage his legs?

Would you explain what shin splints are and how to treat them so he can continue in sports? — L.W.

Shin splints are due to strain of the muscles in the lower leg. The muscles become swollen and are painful when used.

Your doctor told him to wrap his legs and rest; he wraps them but he doesn't want to accept the other part of the treatment — rest.

Shin splints usually occur fairly early in a given sports season — before the muscles have gotten into condition. Wrapping the legs probably will help a bit, but resting — a period of inactivity — is essential to allow the muscles to recover. (Heat also will help the recovery.)

The important thing is to give up the sport long enough to let the muscles return to normal. Then activity should be resumed gradually, stopping if the pain starts to recur. Later, with proper conditioning, he can return to full activity.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is meant by loss of equilibrium, and how do I go about getting it back? I was afraid to ask my doctor when I was in his office. — Mrs. S.A.G.

If you'd asked him, you'd have saved yourself some worry. "Equilibrium" means your sense of balance, so evidently you have spells of dizziness or vertigo.

There are a number of causes of this, so the best I can do is to refer you to my booklet on "Dizzy Spells" which discusses the various kinds of trouble. Send 25 cents and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy if you want the booklet.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there any way to get rid of dark, black fat moles other than having them removed? Are there any creams? — J.T.

No way to get rid of them except removal, but removal is simple for your doctor to do. No creams or salves will do it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have growing houseplants and want to have them throughout the house.

I have been told that plants will use up necessary oxygen during the night. Is this true? We always leave a window open while sleeping. — Mrs. J.L.

Plants provide most of the oxygen in our earth's atmosphere, and your house, with or without your bedroom window open, is no exception.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis" write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

FLORENCE, N.J. (AP) — Thieves who hijacked a truckload of bottles from outside a Philadelphia distillery recently got a surprise when they opened the truck, police said.

The bottles, 30,000 of them, were all empty.

Retaliation

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Immediately after Lawrence F. O'Brien filed his Watergate suit as Democratic national chairman, President Nixon's senior aides developed an obsessive interest in causing tax troubles for him.

ACCORDING TO reliable sources from the White House, O'Brien became Enemy No. 1 there after the Watergate burglary. It was O'Brien who then led the political attack to connect the crime with President Nixon's high command. Fearful about what might be uncovered through O'Brien's law suit against the Committee to Reelect the President, Nixon aides responded by planning a counterattack against him.

The Senate Watergate hearings have revealed that the White House probed private sources of income for O'Brien, unpaid as national chairman. But the hearings did not develop that presidential aides conferred at length about intensifying Internal Revenue Service (IRS) pressure on O'Brien.

O'BRIEN'S tax troubles began after his election on March 5, 1970, for a second hitch as Democratic national chairman. The IRS ordered an audit (and later a reaudit of his 1969 tax return). In 1971, the IRS audited his 1970 return. Neither audit produced significant additional revenue for the government.

O'Brien's accountant, an experienced tax practitioner, informed him the audits were conducted with unprecedented intensity.

THE CONTINUED isolation of President Nixon from the outside world, perhaps more intense than ever since the Watergate scandal broke, unnecessarily prolonged a dangerous vacuum of U.S. leadership in Vietnam.

That vacuum began last March when Graham Martin, U.S. ambassador to Italy, was named to replace Ellsworth Bunker as ambassador to South Vietnam. Bunker, left his post May 11, but a slow-moving Senate did not confirm Martin until June 14 — extending the vacuum another full month.

FORMER GOV. John B. Connally of Texas has quietly embarked on a path many close friends predicted he would never take: the rubber chicken banquet circuit to establish his new credentials as a Republican, a tip off of presidential ambitions. Out of hundreds of requests pouring into Austin (as many as 60 in one week), Connally has accepted two so far: the kickoff banquet of the Republican state convention in San Diego, Calif., Sept. 8, and the annual Truck and Tusk Republican dinner in Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 16. Such appearances are essential for ex-Democrat Connally to melt the reserve of Republican regulars if he is to have any chance for the GOP presidential nomination in 1976.

Unfinished Business

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — As Congress departed, intent like a flustered housewife on a long-promised vacation, so much was swept under the rug. While a beginning was made on reform of campaign spending in other areas where recent shocks have shown an urgent need for Congressional action, the rule was to put it off to an indefinite future.

FIRST AND foremost is the invasion of privacy by bugging. The practice has proliferated at a fantastic rate, not only in government at every level but with private eyes and snoopers using with impunity the latest and most-sensitive electronic devices. Capable of penetrating solid walls, they leave not a shred of privacy to unsuspecting individuals.

The revelation that President Nixon had secretly taped the conversations of every visitor to his office, from heads of state to Watergate conspirators, was a shattering example of the practice. But, quite apart from government tapes and taps, the way this insidious surveillance has spread through the channels of law enforcement is even more alarming.

IN A CASE in Federal District Court here where the government pressed a perjury-conspiracy charge with secret tapes made by an informer, (who had a recorder and transmitter on his person), Judge Gerhard A. Gesell spoke out with characteristic forthrightness. Nothing in the Constitution nor in present law prohibits this practice, Gesell noted.

"Whatever incidental good flows from this invasion of privacy is submerged by the growing appearance of police surveillance typical of totalitarian states," he wrote in denying a defense motion to suppress the tape recordings.

AS ANY experienced trial judge knows, he observed, secret taping is an increasingly common practice. Only legislation requiring a warrant in such cases can correct the growing intrusion of privacy.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., has introduced a bill which would create a bipartisan Joint Committee on Individual Rights made up of 10 senators and 10 representatives. The committee would hold regular hearings covering every agency of government that collects, stores and uses personal information about specific individuals. The CIA, the FBI and all military surveillance groups would be required to testify under oath and produce all relevant documents covering the extent of their operations.

NELSON HAS come up with figures showing that since court-authorized wire taps were made legal in 1968 more than 1,623,000 conversations involving 120,000 or more individuals were overheard. The Army, on a rampage of electronic snooping, put together dossiers on 100,000 citizens now stored in 300 records centers.

A Devotion For Today..

We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed. (2 Corinthians 4:8-9)

PRAYER: Lord, we would remember that renewed strength often comes from coping with our troubles. With Thy help, we shall not surrender. Amen.

Thomas Takes Starting Role For Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP) — If running back Duane Thomas could be compared to an expensive automobile that's been in storage a year, to what could quarterback Sonny Jurgensen be compared?

Thomas, who sat out the 1972 National Football League season before being traded to Washington last month, will start his first game in more than a year when the Redskins meet the Denver Broncos tonight in an exhibition game.

Charlie Waller, Redskins offensive backfield coach, says Thomas has made "amazing progress."

"Every day is better than the day before," said Waller. "He's practicing well, he's got a good football mind, it's just a matter of getting enough repetition."

LIKE CADILLAC

"You just don't put a new Cadillac in the garage for a year and a half, then crank it right up and expect it to run like it did before."

But there was no comment on what would be expected from a so-called antique collector's item—the 38-year-old Jurgensen who will make his first game appearance since last Oct. 29 when he severed his Achilles tendon while playing against the New York Giants.

Jurgensen, who is scheduled to play the second half, is apprehensive, but emphasized "that doesn't mean I don't want to play."

"I would have liked to have had more time, but this is a necessity," he said.

Jurgensen was slated to split quarterbacking duties with Bill Kilmer after Sam Wyche, the No. 3 man, suffered a fractured cheekbone in a 17-14 loss to Detroit last Friday.

In NFL action Saturday, Baltimore will be at Atlanta, Buffalo at Green Bay, Philadelphia at Cincinnati, Cleveland at Los Angeles, Chicago at Houston, New Orleans at Miami, the New York Jets take on San Francisco at Tampa, Fla., Dallas is at Oakland, Minnesota hosts Pittsburgh and St. Louis is at San Diego.

The New York Giants are at New England Sunday, and Detroit plays at Kansas City Monday night.

TO MISS GAME

The Colts announced Thursday that linebacker Ray May would miss Saturday's game and cornerback Bruce Laird is a doubtful starter. Both have sprained knees. Bert Jones, the Colts' top draft pick from Louisiana State, is expected to play about one half of the game at quarterback.

Pat Sullivan was tanned to start at quarterback for Atlanta against the Colts. The 1971 Heisman Trophy winner currently is battling veteran Dick Shiner for the starting job.

Geiberger Shares Lead With Iverson In PGA

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tomorrow, if the conditions stay the same, Geiberger and Iverson will share the lead in the 55th PGA National Championship at the Canterbury Golf Club.

The forecast, though, called for 60 per cent chance of rain and thunderstorms.

Tom Weiskopf occupied the best spot among the big names. The British Open champion fired a 70, sharing sixth place with former PGA king Ray Floyd, Don Bies, Tony Jacklin, Gibby Gilbert and Bob Bruce.

In a large group at par 71 was No. 1 money winner Bruce Crampton.

Among those at 72 was Jack Nicklaus.

Defending champion Gary Player and Masters winner Tommy Aaron struggled in with 73s. Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino took 76s.

Unless Nicklaus, Palmer, Trevino and Player turn things around today, the superstars are on the verge of drawing a blank for the 1973 Big Four. This is the last of the major titles.

Iverson, a third-year pro with less than $19,000 in earnings this year, had some impromptu tips Wednesday from Trevino.

"Lee saw I wasn't taking the club back in the right plane. It helped me today," said Iverson, a stocky 27-year-old from LaCrosse, Wis., playing in his first major tournament.

The field will be cut to the low 70 and ties after today's round for the nationally televised (ABC) rounds Saturday and Sunday. The winner is guaranteed a minimum of $40,000 in the $200,000 event.

Today's baseball quiz: When is a strikeout not a strikeout? One time a strikeout might as well not be a strikeout is when it is a wild pitch.

Another time a strikeout is not a strikeout is when it is a foul tip that is not caught.

Minnesota Manager Frank Quilici remembers seeing the wild pitch strikeout and is convinced he saw the foul tip one as well in Baltimore's 2-1 victory over Minnesota Friday night.

The Orioles moved back into first place in the American League's East Division with the slim victory that turned on the two strikeouts . . . one that was and one that wasn't.

DAVIS INVOLVED

Tommy Davis was involved in all the Orioles scoring. He homered in the first inning and struck out on Bert Blyleven's wild pitch in the third with Merv Rettenmund, who had tripped, trotting home with the eventual winning run on the play.

Mike Cuellar carried the 2-0 lead into the ninth but was nicked for a run on George Mitterwald's two-out single. Then came the controversial foul tip strikeout.

Pinch hitter Bobby Darwin was at bat and swung at a 1-2 pitch. Plate Umpire Larry Barnett signalled a foul tip in the dirt and before he could say Earl Weaver, there was the Baltimore manager and his catcher, Ellie Hendricks, anxious to discuss the call.

"Barnett thought I hit the dirt," said Weaver. "But there's no way he can see

Total Of 377 Take Exams

Half a dozen doctors, assisted by physical therapists, orthopedic technicians, athletic trainers and coaches, offered physical examinations to 377 male athletes in the Big Spring High School Gymnasium Thursday afternoon.

It was a monumental undertaking but was completed in an estimated three hours. The doctors were working on what is ordinarily their afternoon off.

A few of the youngsters didn't immediately pass their physicals, invariably due to protein deficiency. That can be corrected through proper diet.

Dr. Pete Rhymes, who was to leave this morning for a trip to Russia, headed the team of physicians who volunteered for the task.

Rhymes is the Big Spring High School team physician.

Other doctors who participated included John Hogan, M. C. Nardone, Gerald Liveley, R. S. Griffin and George Robertson.

Jim Thompson and Kirby Horton of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center were physical therapists who helped. Among orthopedic technicians contributing their time to the undertaking were Delbert Hutchins and Troy Bell. Phil Erwin, the BSHS athletic trainer, helped accelerate the operation.

In addition to Big Spring High School, athletes from Stanton, Coahoma, Fossan, Garden City, Sands and the two junior high schools here went through the lines.

IN STATE LITTLE LEAGUE MEET Texas Leaguers In Finals Of Consolation Bracket

WACO — The Big Spring Texas League All-Stars gained a berth in the consolation finals of the State Little League Tournament here Thursday with a tense 2-1 victory over Willacy County.

The Texas Leaguers met San Antonio late this morning for the "Position Bracket" title, a consolation honor.

Winning pitcher David Montanez, bouncing back from his lone defeat of the season in the first round of the tourney, singled to score James Magers in the bottom of the fifth inning to give the TL squad the win.

Montanez allowed just two hits in posting the triumph, his 16th of the year. Big Spring managed seven hits, including three by little Tony Rubio. Montanez, Johnny Hernandez, Willie Ray Miles and Magers all had one.

Willacy County scored its long run in the top of the second frame on a home run by Ramirez.

Big Spring was held scoreless until the fifth, when Miles led off with a double, and after Robert Lara popped up a bunt attempt for the first out, moved to second on Magers' single. He came home on Rubio's single to the outfield, and then Montanez lined a shot to left center to bring home the winning run.

Ablene met Wharton and Waco battled Austin in winners' bracket semifinals Thursday night. The winners meet tonight at 8 p.m. to decide the state champion.

Two Local Girls Teams Launch Play In Odessa

ODESSA — Big Spring's East and West All-Star teams will be competing in the Miss Softball America Minor League State Tournament this weekend, challenging 14 other teams for the top honors.

The East squad will open action at 7 p.m. Slater Park Breckenridge at Slater Park South, while the West group moves into play at 9:30 p.m. against Odessa West at Slater Park North.

Both teams will return to action at 9 a.m. Saturday with victories, while losses send them into the consolation bracket and 2 p.m. tilts. The East group will be matched up with either Odessa No. 1 or defending champion Midland No. 1 in the second round, while the West will take on either Abilene North or Casa View No. 2.

Finals are set for Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

Other teams entered in the tourney include Odessa East, Irving, Snyder, Abilene South, Albany, Denison, Midland No. 2, Casa View No. 2 and Abilene No. 2.

Starting for the East will be either Tammy Webb or Jenise Thomason on the mound, with Cynthia Washington behind the plate, LaVoy Moore at first base, Sherry Byrd at third base, Laura Bartosh at shortstop, Cheryl Carter in left field, Patsy Blissard in center and Laurie Henderson in right field.

Substitutes include Penny Ray, Tami Dean, Cassandra Green, Debra Churchwell and Lahoma Goodblanket, while Betsy Faulkner and Angia Cobb are the alternates. Pat Moore is the team's manager.

White Sox 5, Tigers 4

Chicago squeezed by Detroit 5-4 on rookie Bill Sharp's ninth inning home run.

The loss dropped the Tigers one-half game back of Baltimore in the tight AL East race.

The Tigers had tied the score in the bottom of the eighth on singles by Willie Horton and Bill Freehan and an infield out.

Royals 3, Red Sox 2

Hal McRae drove in two runs with a triple and a homer to help Kansas City defeat Boston 3-2. McRae also made a big defensive play, robbing Orlando of a catch in right field in the eighth inning.

The Royals are still first in the AL West, one game ahead of Oakland.

Brewers 4, Angels 5

Dave May's two-run homer in the ninth inning gave Milwaukee its 6-5 comeback victory over California. He connected against his namesake, pitcher Rudy May of the Angels.

Johnny Briggs had a two-run homer for the Brewers and Mike Epstein poked a three-run homer for California.

Jeanne Evert Posts 2 Wins

CINCINNATI (AP) — "I play for winning. I don't think about the money," said 15-year-old Jeanne Evert, who announced Thursday she has joined her sister Chris in the play-for-pay ranks of professional tennis.

She marked her winning debut in the $75,000 Western Tennis Championships by posting two victories hours apart to move into the semifinals against 1971 Wimbledon champ Evonne Goolagong.

Sister Chris, who joined the pro tour at 18, faces unseeded 17-year-old Hana Kloss of South Africa in the other semifinal.

Jeanne had to complete a marathon match suspended Wednesday night after two hours and 46 minutes due to darkness. She decided Laurie Tempe of Scarsdale, N.Y., 6-2, 4-6 and 7-5 when play resumed. Later she ousted Sharon Walsh of San Rafael, Calif., 7-6, 6-2.

Want Secret Of Beating Bobby Riggs? Just Ask

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Billie Jean King says she's getting lots of advice about how to play Bobby Riggs Sept. 20 in Houston's Astrodome.

"They say, 'Don't let him psyche me,'" she said Thursday after pushing off Kerry Harris of Australia, 6-4, 6-1, in the second round of the $35,000 Nashville stop on the women's pro tennis tour.

Mrs. King, seeded second in the tournament behind Margaret Court, who lost to Riggs on Mother's Day in what was billed as "The Battle of the Sexes," said giving advice is like being a line judge.

"It's easy until you have to get out there and do it," Mrs. King, 29, said after taking a 4-1 lead in the first set, losing three straight winning the next two.

She was much better in the second set, winning the first five games and allowing only eight points.

Mrs. King, who has not lost since the first week of May, plays eighth-seeded Betty Stove of Holland today in the quarterfinals. She beat Miss Stove last week for the title in the Denver tournament.

Top-seeded Mrs. Court, who did not have a singles match Thursday, faces unranked Kathy Kuykendall of Miami Friday in their quarter-final contest.

In doubles play, the unseeded team of Val Ziegenfuss and Peggy Michel upset third-seeded Mrs. Court and Leslie Hunt, 6-4, 7-5.

Other Woman

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been separated for over a year. He has been living all this time with the woman he left me for — after 26 years of marriage.

My husband is 60, she is 46, and I am 58. I knew he had been seeing her, but I ignored it, hoping he'd get over her.

Our daughter is getting married soon. She wants a small garden wedding with a few close friends and relatives. We were once a very happy family and my daughter wants her father at her wedding.

I hear he is planning on bringing this other woman to the wedding. I've never seen her, but friends say she is the clinging, loud, possessive type.

I have not been in communication with him since he left me, so there is no way I can ask him not to bring his lady friend to the wedding. If he brings her, how far must my good manners be stretched? Unfortunately, I still care for him, but I don't want to play the role of the poor rejected wife.

DISTRESSED IN N.J.

DEAR DISTRESSED: If your daughter wants her father to attend her wedding, she should, without any prompting, ask him to come alone. If he is as much a gentleman as you are a lady, he'll not insist on bringing his friend with him. If he does, and your daughter makes her welcome, feeling as you do, you have a right to stay away, and I wouldn't blame you. Your daughter should see to it that your feelings are protected and if she doesn't, she will have made the choice.

DEAR ABBY: Seymour and I went together for about a year. We declared our love for one another and talked about marriage. We fought a lot over trivial things. It was one of those off-again, on-again romances from the start.

Last month, in anticipation of his birthday which is next week, I bought him a silver wine goblet and had both our names engraved on it. Well, we just had a terrible fight and broke up for good. Seymour asked me to return all the gifts he'd given me, but I refused.

Abby, since I bought the goblet for Seymour I think I should give it to him anyway. My friends say I shouldn't. What do you say?

NOT SURE

DEAR NOT: If you give Seymour the goblet anyway, he will think you want the romance to be on again. (Do you?) "To thine own self be true."

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Activities Continuing In Westbrook Area

WESTBROOK (SC) — Acteen Girls from First Baptist Church visited residents of Claxton Lodge, Colorado City, taking craft items and other gifts. Also, they "adopted a grandmother" for the month. Accompanying the group was Mrs. D. G. Rollins, sponsor.

Recent guests of Mrs. A. C. Moody were the Harry Lamoines, Baton Rouge, La.; Mrs. Lamoine's mother, Mrs. Eva Wilson, Midland; and the Herman Moodys, Hico. The Herman Moodys also visited the Jimmy Moodys and the W. D. Whitesides.

Mrs. George Candler, Colorado City, formerly of Westbrook, is a patient at Medical Center Hospital, Odessa, with a broken hip.

Mrs. J. K. Williamson is visiting her daughter-in-law,

Mrs. Howard Williamson, and son. They will go to Arkansas to visit Howard Williamson who is presently there on an assignment with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Guests of the Gerald Rollins' recently were Vickie Johnson and Wendy Johnson, both of Sweetwater.

Recent guests of the W. A. Bells were the Ralph Bryants and Terry Bryant, all of Odessa; the Larry Bells, Midland; the Larry Hoyles, Matador; and the Quann Bryants, Westbrook.

The Troy Lankfords have returned from a vacation in Las Vegas, Nev.

Vacationing in Ruidoso, N.M. are the Choppie Reeses and their daughter, Mrs. Glenda Bradley and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Byrd have returned from Dallas where he attended a coaches' clinic. Mrs. Byrd visited the Leon Byrds.

Mrs. Gwan Strange is a patient in Root Memorial Hospital, Colorado City.

Members of J.O.Y. Sunday school class, First Baptist Church and their guests, met for a picnic supper at the home of the W. A. Bells. Devotion was by Mrs. Bell, class teacher, and a report on cards and gifts sent to sick and shut-in members was given by Mrs. Altis Clemmer. The next meeting will be Sept. 7.

D&D Club Celebrates 19th Year

The 19th anniversary of the local Desk and Derrick Club was celebrated by members Monday evening with a dinner meeting at the home of Mrs. Leon Kinney, 801 W. 16th. The club was organized in August, 1954, three years after the first such club was organized in New Orleans, La., in 1951.

The dinner was prepared by Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. Polly Parker, Mrs. Doris Perkins and Mrs. Dory Hefner.

The club will not meet in September. A nominating committee will present a slate of recommended new officers at the October meeting, with elections slated in November.

Club Continues Sewing Projects

Individual handwork and sewing projects were continued Tuesday by members of Pioneer Sewing Club when they met at the home of Mrs. J. D. Leonard, 2310 Roberts. Refreshments were served to 11 members. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., Aug. 21 in the home of Mrs. Dan McRae, 603 Goliad.

Memorial To Mrs. Choate

A memorial gift, honoring the late Mrs. C. C. Choate, will be presented to Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church by members of the altar society.

Plans for the contribution were made Monday evening as Mrs. Keith Thompson, president, presided at a meeting in the church hall. Mrs. Choate had been a member of the society since 1934 and had served as treasurer for many years.

A new member, Mrs. B. Bembek, was introduced, and Mrs. Mildred Ward, Mrs. Ava Russell and Mrs. M. Carter were named to the altar committee for August. Committees were formed for the fall festival at the church Sept. 8-9. At that time, prizes will be awarded to several ticket holders. First prize will be a $500 bond; second, a $100 bond; and third, a $50 bond. All society members are selling tickets for the event. Prayers were led by the Rev. Louis Moeller. The next regular meeting of the society will be at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 3 in the church hall.

A LOVELIER YOU Add A Few Waves With Modern Ease

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Lovely writes: I wear my hair in a page boy and it's getting me down. I sleep on rollers so the ends will turn under. But, by the end of the day, they hang straight and stringy. How can I escape, short of a crew cut?

The Answer: Don't cut. Curl!

Have you ever owned or used a curling iron — a gadget with rod and clamp that when heated wound waves and curls? For a marcel and corkscrews, ladies of a by-gone era depended on curling irons, heated over gas jets. Later on, electricity powered the curling iron. The heat control over either instrument was more of a guess than a certainty, a whiff of singe often permeated hair and air. All that's past history.

Mist-Sticks, a 1973 model of an electric curling iron, features thermostatic heat control and push button mist. In other words the heat is automatic. The mist, a lot or none at all, rests between you and the button — yours to press or not to press.

Use is just about perfect for page boy styling. Added to the plusses mentioned, the curlier's tip is insulated. No scorched ears! With equal success you can fashion tendrils on cheeks or nape of neck. It's easy to fluff a bang or twirl-curl the ends.

And you may even marcel your way into 30s waves — Great Gatsby mood. On rainy mornings you'll find a sunbeam in a curler-styler.

Chevy Planning Special Model

DETROIT, Mich. — Chevrolet has announced that extensive development of an emission controlled high performance Vega engine will result in the limited production of a special hatchback sport model by the end of the year.

The announcement was made here recently by Chevrolet general manager and GM vice president, F. James McDonald, who explained that the "hybrid" 4-cylinder Vega engine should be the most sophisticated reciprocating power plant produced in the United States today.

"We have combined a highly efficient all aluminum head designed cooperatively with Cosworth Engineering in England, with computer controlled electronic fuel injection," said McDonald. "The Cosworth Vega combination produces more than an 87 percent increase in power over the current base Vega engine and actually weighs 35 lbs. less."

"The beauty of the Cosworth Vega approach is that it may lead to some down-the-road answers without resorting to untried principles," he added. "Already we can count on comparable fuel consumption to some of our existing Vega power trains, even with the 87 percent increase in power." McDonald further commented that the new engine will meet all 1974 emission standards while eliminating the need for most of the recent add-on emission control hardware. Positive crankcase ventilation (PCV) and transmission controlled spark (TCS) are the only emission systems required.

Watergate Committee Sues Nixon For Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Judge John J. Sirica had two court actions raising unresolved constitutional issues before him today. Both ask him to order President Nixon to obey subpoenas demanding White House tapes and documents related to the Watergate investigations.

The Senate Watergate committee filed a civil suit Thursday in U.S. District Court and asked Sirica to speed up the timetable for responses in order to bring about a decision as soon as possible.

SLOW ACTION

Sirica took no immediate action on the request that he require the White House to respond within 20 days rather than the 60 usually given. The committee went to court just two days after lawyers for the President asked Sirica to dismiss special prosecutor Archibald Cox's request that the judge order Nixon to turn over tapes of nine presidential conversations.

Cox and the Senate committee issued subpoenas July 23. Three days later Nixon notified all parties that he believed that to relinquish the material would violate the constitutional doctrine of separation of powers.

LEGAL DUTY

The committee had issued two subpoenas, one demanding tapes of five presidential conversations and the other, documents relating to the 1972 presidential campaign from the files of 25 present and former White House and Nixon campaign aides.

The committee suit called the President's refusal to obey its subpoenas "unlawful, unwarranted and in breach of his legal duty."

It claimed that when the President permitted former aides to testify before the committee on the substance of the taped conversations he had waived any claim of executive privilege.

Cox had made a similar argument and the President's brief rejected it, claiming the President's authority to say the material was privileged was undiminished.

A general business session will commence at 10:45 a.m. after which teachers will break for lunch and then into groups according to buildings of assignment.

AAs To Attend Dallas Meeting

The second Lone Star Round-Up will be hosted by the Dallas Preston and area groups of Alcoholics Anonymous at North Park Inn Friday in Dallas Sunday, Aug. 17-19.

The three-day conference last year, its first, drew over 1,200. A greater number is anticipated this year at the enlarged North Park Inn.

The conference includes meetings for A.A. members, for Al-Anon, which is the fellowship for families and friends of alcoholics, and for Al-Teens, the organization for the children of these families. The conference is also open to all persons who are interested in the A.A. way of recovery from the illness of alcohol.

Speakers from California, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Alabama, Kentucky and Texas are on the program. Meetings are scheduled Friday night, throughout Saturday, and at 10 a.m. Sunday.

In-Service Work Opens For Teachers Monday

Three days of in-service training for teachers in the Big Spring Independent School District get under way Monday with a 9 a.m. general session in the high school auditorium.

Roy Watkins, school board president, will greet the teachers after an invocation and devotional by the Rev. J. B. Sharp, pastor First United Methodist Church.

J. B. Cushing, president of the Texas State Teachers Association and Big Spring Teachers Association, and Donna Plumlee, president of the Big Spring Classroom Teachers Association, will also greet the teachers.

The main address will be given by Dr. Berlie Fallon of the Texas Tech University College of Education who will discuss his book, "How to Extend Your Prime Beyond Your Time."

A general business session will commence at 10:45 a.m. after which teachers will break for lunch and then into groups according to buildings of assignment.

Local chapters of TSTA and CTA will host a teacher reception in the high school cafeteria from 7-8 p.m., to end the first day of activities for the faculty members.

Bank Charter Is Sought By Group

AUSTIN — A Fort Worth group has filed an application with the State Department of Banking seeking to locate a new bank at Midland.

The application is for an "interim charter" — also known as a phantom charter which is a device used in the banking business as one means of transferring stock in holding company situations.

The proposed bank would have capital of $200,000, but would have no surplus or reserves.

Proposed directors would be Lewis H. Bond, O. Roy Stevenson, R. F. Snakard, Henry A. Widdecke Jr. and J. F. Costello Jr., all of Fort Worth. The bank would be called the Commercial New Bank but no address has been given for a location.

No date for investigation of the application by examiners of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the banking department, nor the date for hearing before the banking board has been set.

HCJC's Angelo Center Sets Date

Arrangements for registration for occupational courses at the San Angelo Center of Howard County Junior Colleges have been made, according to Dr. Thomas T. Salter, HCJC president.

HCJC works with Angelo State University in offering occupational and technical instruction and for those who seek associate degrees, related academic work is done on the ASU campus.

Registration will be at education office of Goodfellow AFB Aug. 23. Theron Lee, who heads up this phase of the HCJC program, said plans are to offer course in law enforcement, electronics, real estate, supervision, and insurance.

New, higher rates on savings

At Big Spring Savings, you get the full benefit of new, higher rates of interest compounded daily and paid quarterly on passbook accounts, and all NEW certificates.

Rate ...	Yield ...
5.25% Passbook Savings	5.39%
5.75% 180-Day Certificates $1,000 MINIMUM	5.92%
6.00% 1-Year Certificates $5,000 MINIMUM	6.18%
6.50% 2-Year Certificates $10,000 MINIMUM	6.72%
6.75% 30-Month Certificates $20,000 MINIMUM	6.98%

The new rates were effective July 1 on all passbook savings accounts. New certificate accounts will be opened at the new rates. Existing certificates will continue to earn at their original rates. Under the new rate provisions, withdrawals from certificates of deposit prior to a maturity date will reduce earnings since the date issued to the passbook rate then being paid, and cause a forfeiture of 90 days' interest. Federal regulations require the forfeiture of 90 days' interest on funds transferred to these new rates from existing certificates of deposit before maturity. To earn maximum interest on your savings, we recommend you hold existing certificates of maturity, then re-invest in a new, higher-yield certificate.

1-Year Certificates
$100,000 MINIMUM 7.50%
and Negotiable.

Many Youth Groups On Trips

Out-of-town trips for youth groups were the order of the week for many Big Spring churches.

Twenty junior and senior high school students, members of the UMYF at Wesley United Methodist Church, left yesterday for Canyon to attend the musical Texas Pageant in Palo Duro Canyon. The group spent Thursday night on the campus of West Texas State University.

Students raised money for their trip by selling homemade cake and ice cream at the church once a month.

ANOTHER TRIP was taken by a group of 23 secondary school students and six adult sponsors from First United Methodist Church. The group returned to Big Spring Sunday after spending four days touring the downtown area and river walk section of San Antonio, visiting Brackenridge Zoo, taking in shows at Galveston's Marineland-Sea-A-Rama and touring the campus of the Methodist Children's Home in Waco.

Money for the trip was raised by hosting several dinners and throwing a "Heaven and Hell Party" for the church.

The two Methodist groups' trips were called "mystery trips" because the students did not know where they were going until they arrived.

SOME 18 junior and senior high students from St. Paul Presbyterian Church left early this morning for a weekend at the Mo Ranch near Kerrville.

Members of the Youth Fellowship take a trip each year at the end of the summer just prior to the start-up of school. Students were accompanied by six adult sponsors. The group will return Sunday.

FORTY YOUNG people of eighth grade to college age from Trinity Baptist Church were to return to Big Spring today from a three-day conclave at Arlington Baptist Church.

Delegates from 20 states attended the conference and competed against each other in choral presentation, Bible memorization and speaking. The Rev. Don Young, a national evangelist from Paducah, Ky.,

Kentwood Announces Sunday Morn Speakers

Kentwood Methodist Church is in hopes of obtaining a pastor around the first of September.

The Rev. O. A. McBrayer, United Methodist district superintendent, is working toward securing an assignment to fill the vacancy.

In the meantime, speakers have been scheduled for the next three Sundays.

Henry Eugene Parmenter will preach at the church this Sunday morning; Reeves Moren will be the speaker for the morning worship Aug. 19, and on Aug. 26, the Rev. C. W. Parmenter, founding pastor of the church, will preach. This almost falls on his 80th birthday (which is Saturday, Aug. 25), and interestingly his son's appearance will be on the day before his birthday. Kentwood was established in 1860 under leadership of the Rev. C. W. Parmenter, who came out of retirement to be its pastor.

Later he retired again and preached at the church in Welch, and then retired again and took up a ministry in Colorado City. He gave that up this year, and he and Mrs. Parmenter returned to their home here.

Two To Testify About Missions

The spotlight will be on the "Layman's Role in the Church" when the Big Spring Baptist Association meets Monday at Hillcrest Baptist Church in Big Spring.

There will be testimonies by Bob Jones on missions in Germany and by Bill Ballard on missions across the Rio Grande. The Rev. Monroe Teeters, pastor of First Baptist Church in Coahoma, will deliver the message.

The Rev. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of First Baptist, will preside. Dan McClinton is in charge of music, and Sam Robertson heads the program. This is his last meeting as district layman president after five years.

Jones was privileged to observe the German crusade and will give his impression. It was through Ballard's jail ministry that a Mexican was won to Christ, and in turn organized a mission below Brownsville. Frank Rocha and others will describe mission work across the border below Fabens.

The host church serves the meal at 5:45 p.m., followed by the executive board meeting and associational WMU meeting at 6:30 p.m., and the program at 7:30 p.m.

Oglala Sioux Doctrine—A 'Unifying' Perspective

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

"If you shoot the eagle, you are shooting yourself."

So said a learned, old Indian sage, Black Elk, in confiding to a university professor the religious views of the Oglala Sioux.

It is an outlook that links together all reality—thought, objects, creatures, deeds and environment—each as living, influential parts of the other and all reflecting their supreme spiritual source.

This unifying perspective, once dismissed as primitive in white society but now harmonizing even with modern science and ecological concerns, is getting increasing attention in theological studies in this country.

Unlike other western cultures, "American Indian traditions generally do not fragmentize experience into mutually exclusive kinds of dichotomies," says Dr. Joseph Epes Brown, a University of Montana expert on beliefs of Indians.

Rather, they "stress modes of inter-relatedness across categories of meaning, never losing sight of an ultimate wholeness," he told a recent colloquium sponsored by the Menil foundation in Houston, Texas.

To Indians, the supernatural is fused with the natural, matter with energy, analyses with intuition, action with meaning, symbols with forces they convey, human life with animal, vegetable and mineral life, the inanimate with the animate.

"The Indian sees that all that exists is animate, each form in its own special way, so that even rocks have a life of their own and are believed to be able to talk under certain conditions," Brown said.

Dr. Brown, a religious historian and anthropologist who has specialized on the spiritual legacy of American Indians, is one of few white scholars with whom Indian friends have shared intimate rites of their faith.

ABORTION What Now For Churches?

By ANN STEVENS

The recent Supreme Court decision removing legal restrictions on early abortions did not by any means put out the fire in the abortion controversy.

Rather, the morality of abortion is a question still very much alive in American religion with many Protestant, Eastern Orthodox, Roman Catholic and orthodox Jewish denominations continuing to strongly oppose the practice.

The new permissiveness of the law confronts the churches by simply leaving the matter up to the individuals, their consciences and the influence of their religious convictions.

BIBLE, NOT COURT

"The court was trying to accomplish something which it didn't in the end — that is, to lay the framework for when abortion is right and when it is wrong," said Ralph Williams, minister of 14th and Main Church of Christ.

"The court dealt with the idea that abortion is up to the individual. Its decision is a reflection of our whole existentialist society. We have taken it upon ourselves to make decisions we have no right to make and which have already been made for us," he continued, looking to the Bible, not the court, as the ultimate authority on the matter.

While Williams' stand was in line with that of many churchmen throughout the nation (as interviewed by the Associated Press), not all churchmen agree with those who abhor the court ruling.

The Rev. John Beard, pastor of Big Spring's First Christian Church, did not take offense at the court ruling.

"I don't think the government has interfered, in this sense: A government may set up laws that say a person can have an abortion, but that doesn't mean the people in my church have to have abortions.

NO MORE DODGING

"It's like the legalizing of beer and wine sales in dry places. Just because it's there doesn't mean our people have to drink. The same thing with abortion. It's now optional. But if it were being forced on us, that would be something else," he said.

Neither did Father Steve Birdwell, pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church here, seem upset at the court for ruling.

"I think the court had to address the legal questions of abortion, but it leaves the churches with one hellacious moral question on our hands," he said. He said churches in the past often tended to dodge the issue but that now they must face it.

"I have serious personal feelings against abortion, but one good thing about the court decision is that it put some butchers out of business," Father Birdwell said.

Both local clergymen said they expect the general conventions of their respective churches this fall to take up the issue and adopt official stances.

"As a pastor, I have to deal with the problem, and I'd like to have some higher guidance besides my own personal views," said Birdwell.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Archie Porter, who led Sam Houston State to the No. 1 ranking in the NAIA basketball poll, has been named the senior winter college coach of the year by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Porter drew 48 first place votes from 81 ballots for 205 points.

Horse Menu For Firemen

GLENDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Firemen at Station No. 1 got a kick out of their menu Wednesday. It included charcoal-broiled horsemeat.

"If you were not told it was horsemeat, you would not know it," said Asst. Chief Gray Crabtree.

Fireman Ford Swauger said he could tell no difference between horsemeat steaks and beef.

"I'm going to send my wife down to buy a bunch of it," he said.

But Engineer Les Hills yelled "whoa."

Limits of two pounds of ground beef and two chickens forced firemen to shop several stores to find crews at the station, so fireman Veldon Lee picked up the horsemeat at the Warehouse for Ye Olde Time Meat Market, which opens here today. He reported back with 12 pounds of horsemeat for $8.32.

Dr. Joe Davis Attends Parley

MARION, Ala. — Dr. Joe E. Davis of Judson College is representing the Alabama chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese at the annual meeting of the association in Mexico City this week. The gathering at the Hotel Del Prado marks the first meeting of AATSP on foreign soil.

The Judson professor is vice president of the Alabama chapter of AATSP. While in Mexico he will also visit the University of the Americas in Puebla and both the Institute of Spanish American Studies and the Interamerican University in Saltillo, to consider these institutions for summer work in Spanish for Judson students.

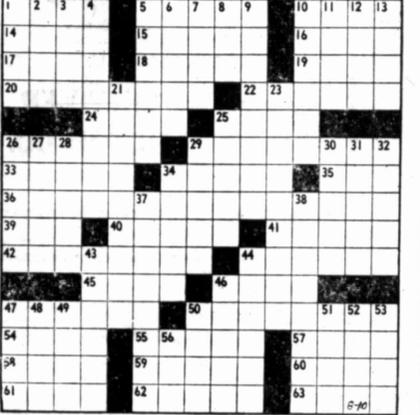

Dr. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Edward Davis, Big Spring, Tex. Accompanied by his wife and 13-year-old daughter, Deena, he will visit his family in Big Spring for several days after leaving Mexico and before returning to Judson College in Marion, Ala.

If Love Bug Bites, Many Texans See 'Marryin' Sam'

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — When the love bug bites a Texas couple these days, the chances are often good that a number will come to Durant to get that itch scratched.

Bryan County is well on its way to another plus-2,500 year of marriages, which of course involve some 5,000 people.

"Ninety-five per cent or more of the couples that I marry come from Texas," drawled the Rev. Ross Beat Nix, a tall, leathery-faced, non-denominational minister who holds down the title of "Marryin' Sam" in this town.

HITCHES 30,000

The Rev. Nix has married well over 15,000 couples during his tenure—first as a justice of the peace, and after Oklahoma outlawed that, as a minister.

"I get a lot from the Dallas-Ft. Worth metro area, that includes Richardson, Plano, McKinney, Irvin, Euless, Garland, Bedford, Arlington, Mesquite, but I also have many from other Texas towns.

"Beaumont, LaMarque, Houston, Freeport, Port Arthur and then many in the West Texas area of Amarillo, Shamrock, Wichita Falls," he said.

The Rev. Mr. Nix said June

—still is one of the more popular months for weddings. "I performed more weddings this June than in any prior month in all of the years that I have served as a justice of the peace and a minister."

BUGGY WEDDING

And thanks to a ruling by District Judge Alan B. McPherson in 1968 that barred the issuance of marriage licenses after hours and on weekends, he said most of the weddings are "by appointment."

He once married a couple in the courthouse elevator. "It took two round trips and part of a third to complete the ceremony," he said.

He has married three couples in wheelchairs, he has united other couples in their autos in front of his house "because their parents were married in a buggy," he said.

He refused to climb up on his roof and marry one couple and he so far has resisted getting in an airplane and marrying a couple aloft.

"I frequently drive to the nearby airport and pick up couples and bring them into Durant to get their license, marriage ceremonies is because he is a minister rather than a judge.

From Monday morning until Friday afternoon each week when the courthouse closes, the Rev. Mr. Nix keeps his "marrying clothes" on. He wears the natty butterfly bow ties rather than the frocked collar. But his horned-rimmed glasses and dark suits give him a clerical look.

Robbs Occupy $98,500 Home

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Charles S. Robbs have moved into their new home, a three-story Georgian brick structure.

Robb graduated last June from the University of Virginia Law School and later this month will begin a one-year clerkship to Judge John D. Butzner Jr. of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.
