Chief Reacts To Criticism From Parents

HOUSTON (AP) — Under fire for allegedly failing to follow clues into the disappearance of teenage boys slain in mass murders here, Houston police answered their critics Monday.

Chief Herman Short said his department has done all that it could in tracking down missing juveniles, adding that it is not legally required to take any action at all.

Capt. Robert L. Horton Sr., chief of the department's juvenile division, added, "There was no precedent for such a case. We had no reason to suspect something like this happened."

Parents of youths either identified or believed slain in the series of murders, whose count now stands at 27 with the finding of four more bodies Monday, say police failed to spot the obvious fact that many youths were disappearing from the same Heights neighborhood in Houston.

Short told reporters at a news conference Monday that Houston had 5,200 runaways reported last year and more the two years prior. He said the missing juveniles were lost in the flood of runaway reports.

"The area that most of these persons came from is not one of the highest incident areas at all," Short said. "We would have no way of knowing in a period of time of three years or more anything to indicate a pattern."

Mass Murder Toll Hits National High Of 27

HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities here sought indictments today against two touse-haired teenagers charged in the largest mass murder in United States history.

The recovery of four new bodies Monday at a weather-beaten beach on the Gulf Coast made a total of 27 young teenagers' bodies found since last Wednesday.

DIGGING STOPS But digging for more bodies has stopped for the time being. "We have recovered what they said was there. We're through," Capt. G. W. Woods of the Jefferson County sheriff's office said Monday night. Digging also stopped in Galveston and Chambers counties, all of which converge at the High Island coastal area where the last excavations had been made.

In Houston, a reliable source confirmed that the Harris County District Attorney's office plans today to ask a grand jury to indict Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, and David O. Brooks, 18, for murder.

Brooks, Henley and Dean Allen Corill, 33, who was shot to death last Wednesday by Henley, were the alleged members of the homosexual torture-murder ring.

Also Monday officers dug up the yard of a candy factory in a Houston neighborhood where Corill used to work. They said they were acting on a tip from a former employe who once saw Corill burning something in the rear of the store.

$100,000 BOND

But they said they found nothing.

Both Brooks and Henley have already been charged with murder and are being held by police under $100,000 bonds.

Henley appeared briefly in court Monday before State District Court Judge George Walker who called the hearing at the request of the defense.

Charles Melder, Henley's lawyer, had originally asked for a "probable cause" hearing before charges had been filed against his client.

He asked Judge Walker Monday to order a psychiatric examination for his client by a doctor chosen by the youth or his attorneys. Earlier, Melder said he plans to plead that Henley is insane.

He also asked that Judge Walker order the district attorney's office not to comment on the case. Walker told him to put the requests in writing and they would be considered "in due course."

Sadistic Killer Or Concerned Substitute For Absent Father?

HOUSTON (AP) — Who is Elmer Wayne Henley Jr.?

Is he the considerate elder of the family, trying to fill an absent father's role, going to his brothers' school to check on their progress?

Then he and David Owen Brooks, 18, took authorities on a tour of three burial sites which have by now yielded 27 bodies, and may yield more.

It was Brooks' statement that first gave an insight into Henley's possible role. Brooks described in detail many of the slayings, and in one of them said:

"There was another boy killed at the Schuler house, actually there were two at this time. A boy named Billy Balsch and one named Johnny and I had shot and killed Dean Allen Corill, a 33-year-old man he looked to as a brother. He said he killed him to save the lives of two other potential victims.

'HEY JOHNNY' Then he and David Owen Brooks, 18, took authorities on a tour of three burial sites which have by now yielded 27 bodies, and may yield more.

It was Brooks' statement that first gave an insight into Henley's possible role. Brooks described in detail many of the slayings, and in one of them said:

"There was another boy killed at the Schuler house, actually there were two at this time. A boy named Billy Balsch and one named Johnny and I think that his last name was Malone.

HOMO FAGAN Or is he a sadistic killer, doing the bidding of some monstrous homosexual Fagan, helping kill 27 teenage boys in the worst and most bizarre murder spree in U.S. history?

In the small holding cell under brilliant lights, waiting for a court hearing Monday, he seemed more frail than his 120 pounds, younger than his 17 years. He sat head bowed, and his thoughts, his memories were his own.

After the hearing he almost begged his attorney for some way out of jail where he said prisoners were abusing him. The answer was, "No." Henley's expression didn't change.

He was taken into custody after calling police to say he thought that his last name was Malone.

Francisco Lorenzo, president of Texas International Airlines headquartered in Houston, will meet at 6 p.m. today with county and community leaders at the county judge's office.

There has been no advance announcement as to what the meeting will concern, although it is expected that the airline president will make some type of announcement in regard to air service here. He recently visited in Carlsbad and Hobbs, N.M. in connection with the extension of their air service.

Cyde McMahon Sr., county airport commission chairman, was contacting civic leaders in regard to the session here today.

His minister said, "I didn't even take the boy to be nervous or upset. The greatest problems he talked to me about was his mother and family. He had a deep sense of responsibility and felt he was the breadwinner."

"It is difficult for me to believe the boy was this deeply involved," said the Rev. Chambers. "He always showed the greatest respect for me and all adults. It was 'Yes sir,' and 'No sir.' He was polite."

CORRUPTION Agnew May Turn Over Tax Records

WASHINGTON (AP) — An aide to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has hinted that Agnew will turn over to federal prosecutors the financial and tax records they seek in an investigation of political corruption in Maryland.

"I would not find it surprising if it develops that the lawyers are proceeding in that manner," J. Marsh Thomson, Agnew's press secretary, said Monday night. He said Agnew intends to "provide everything which is pertinent at the appropriate time."

WHAT KIND OF LIES? Judah Best, one of Agnew's lawyers, refused to comment beyond saying a decision would be reached this week on whether to release the documents to U.S. Atty. George Beall in Baltimore. Beall had asked Agnew to turn over the records by 2 p.m. Thursday of last week.

The records sought by Beall date back to the beginning of Agnew's two-year term as governor of Maryland in 1967.

Agnew disclosed last week that he is under investigation by a federal grand jury for possible violation of tax, bribery, extortion and conspiracy laws. Never before has any president or vice president been involved in a criminal investigation while in office.

Ending History's Longest Air War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last U.S. bomb will fall on Cambodia by midnight EDT tonight, ending history's longest air war that saw Indochina blasted with a record 7.4 million tons of explosives.

The extra six and a half months of bombing in Cambodia after the Vietnam ceasefire has added to doubts about the ability of air power to force political settlements in wars of this kind.

Despite the backing of more than 430 U.S. bombers and fighter bombers, Cambodia's army of about 190,000 men was squeezed into enclaves by a Communist-led insurgent force about one-fourth its size. As the U.S. bombing drew to a close, the insurgents held about 80 per cent of Cambodia's territory.

The Good News—Holiday List

Thursday will be the first day of school for Big Spring students. Some of the students and their parents are already concerned as to when the holidays will be during the coming school year.

The first holiday will be Monday, Sept. 3, Labor Day. Second day off for students will not arrive until Nov. 9, a pupil holiday, at which time teachers attend a meeting. Thanksgiving holidays are Nov. 22-23, while Christmas holidays extend from Dec. 20 for students (with teachers to work on Dec. 21 until Jan. 2).

There are pupil holidays on Jan. 11, 12 and again Feb. 25 while teachers hold workshops. The spring holiday will be April 8-15 and the final day of classes will be May 22, with teachers attending one extra day.

Orientation at the high school for new freshmen and other new students will be held Wednesday at 9 a.m.

EXPENSIVE SKINNY DIP

Irving, Tex. (AP) — An old-fashioned skinny dip by two youths in this Dallas suburb will cost their families $288.02 each.

The two youths went for a swim in the Pleasant Run water tower which is under repair. City officials said the chlorine in the water removed any possibility of contamination, but they dumped all 1.3 million gallons of water and then sent a bill to each of the families.

A city official said they were "the highest single-family residential bills for water in the history of Irving."

Study Of Cloud-Seeding Operation Under Way

By ANN STEVENS A two-year $200,000 evaluation of the ongoing cloud seeding project of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will begin Wednesday in cooperation with the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) and two California firms.

Funds for evaluation were appropriated by the last session of the legislature after hearing testimony from CRMWD officials and the TWDB.

To be handled by a Los Angeles-based firm, Meteorology Research Inc. (MRI), the evaluation will analyze and compare the behavior of seeded and unseeded clouds. Data will be gathered by means of sophisticated radar equipment, aircraft and ground-based rain gauges.

The cloud seeding project known as weather modification was initiated by CRMWD at its own expense in April, 1971. Seeding is being done by Atmospherics Inc., a Fresno, Calif. firm, April through October in each year through 1974.

In town Monday to kick off the project, John Carr of the TWDB said he was surprised and delighted for legislative funding of the evaluation.

"It seems fitting and proper that the first money the state appropriates in this field is for evaluation. I am delighted that the legislature's first concern lay with evaluation of an ongoing project rather than with jumping right into a cloud seeding program of its own," Carr said.

He noted that the evaluation is designed so that results will be applicable throughout Texas and other areas with similar climatic conditions. Final analysis of the project is due in April, 1975.

Evaluation of the seeding, being done in a 3,500 square mile area, will begin Wednesday. About a dozen men from the two California firms, TWDB and CRMWD will work on the evaluation to be initially based at Scurry County Airport downwind of the seeding area.

The Scurry County radar location will enable the evaluation team to watch and analyze clouds after they leave the target seeding area. The radar equipment to be used is being lent by the Bureau of Reclamation.

County Employees To Get 15 Per Cent Pay Boost

By MARJ CARPENTER A 15 per cent across the board raise for all county employes in next year's budget quickly whittled down a possible cut-back in the county budget for the coming year.

In action here Monday afternoon, the commissioners approved an across the board raise that will be approximately $86,916 increase in salaries and left the county auditor refiguring the budget this morning.

The budget presented to the commission for approval yesterday morning had included a five per cent raise increase which would have been around $28,972 of last year's total salary figure of $579,446.

CUTBACK DROPS An additional $57,944 in salary increase will decrease the $99,845.50 figure of a decrease in the total county budget presented yesterday to around $41,901.

In discussions in the morning session, the commission talked about including in the salary increase a stipulation that if there was a cancellation of federal revenue sharing, the raises would be automatically cut-back. This was to avoid a tax raise at a later date. This stipulation was not included in the afternoon vote.

Commissioner Bill Crooker opposed the large increase in salaries, arguing that it was contributing to inflation. Judge A. G. Mitchell argued that employes were not making a living wage.

In the morning session, Mrs. Virginia Black, auditor, pointed out that the purchasing of equipment through federal revenue sharing funds, had left the county budget in good shape.

APPROVE BUDGET The commission also approved the budget as presented, including the newly-voted raise. Crooker also voted against the total budget.

PROBLEM IN CITY Judge Mitchell and Commissioner Bill Bennett pointed out that "Most of the problem is within the city of Big Spring." They also pointed out that they do not receive city sales tax revenue and the county already supports alone such items as the airport and the library.

Commissioners also heard a request from Justice of the Peace Walter Grice asking for additional secretarial services two days a week. The court denied the request, pointing out that Grice already shares a secretary with the other county justice of the peace.

Johnston's No-Roach Is Claiming 'No Roaches'

The people at Johnston's No-Roach hear that line quite often. And the disbelief is understandable, too. It is hard to believe that as stubborn and hard to kill as cockroaches are, there's a product available that will get rid of them as easily as Johnston's No-Roach will. That's why the No-Roach people spend so much time telling people they're not kidding.

Fortunately, the No-Roach people have a lot of help; all those satisfied customers who are eager to show their neighbors how easy it is to use Johnston's No-Roach... and how effective it is. Think of it! A few minutes spent brushing Johnston's No-Roach along baseboards, over window sills, along the edges of cupboards... and you're done! More importantly: cockroaches are gone. No-Roach begins its long-range effectiveness immediately, because every crawling insect that crosses its path becomes a carrier... transmitting the deadly effect of No-Roach back to the nests, where even the eggs are infected. And the kicker... the point that makes No-Roach almost too good to be true... is that No-Roach is safe to use yourself by trying safe, effective Johnston's No-Roach in your home. Johnston's No-Roach is available at: Safeway, Furr's, Piggy Wiggly, Gibson's, Newsom's, Foodway, Giant Discount and all grocery stores. It is distributed by Kimbell.

Learned Some

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

NO CALL: (Q.) For a dance, my girl friend fixed me up with her boy friend's roommate. He is two years older than I am, and out of school, but I like him.

About a week after the dance, he asked me out again. We went to a party and then to his apartment. The other boy wasn't there.

We made out a little and then he wanted to go all the way. I had never been asked to do that before, and I didn't know whether to or not. So I said no.

We made out some more and he took me home. He said he would call me the next day, but he didn't. That was more than a month ago. I just can't get him out of my mind. Please tell me how to get him back again. — Hurting in Pennsylvania.

(A.) Countless girls have had your experience. The boy was not interested in you personally — he was just hunting sex. He was not successful with you, so he is now hunting elsewhere.

He did not plan to call you again. He said he would merely to avoid any trouble getting away from you.

You have learned one important fact about one kind of boys. Be thankful that the lesson was relatively inexpensive. It could have cost you much more.

Section Of Park Will Be Closed

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department said today it cannot keep all of a new Jefferson County state park site open to the public after Sept. 1.

The beach frontage will remain open for fishing and camping but the marsh area will be closed to the public.

"The large marsh area cannot be secured or patrolled by the department," said Parks and Wildlife official Ron Moreau of the parks division, "and we cannot protect both the site and visitors until we have an adequate staff, equipment and a management plan for the park."

The commission is expected to consider in future meetings limited public activities for the fall in most of the park. Moreau said.

Married Vets Get A Break

The Veterans Administration has initiated new measures making it easier for married veterans to qualify for guaranteed home loans.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson said VA regional offices have been told of the July 18 changes.

"In consideration of current social and economic patterns, VA will hereafter recognize in full the income and expenses of both the veteran and spouse in determining ability to repay a loan obligation," Johnson explained.

He noted VA is required by law to determine if the contemplated terms of repayment bear a proper relation to the veteran's anticipated income and expenses before approving a loan.

The spouse's income has always been considered for this purpose, but in the past, local rules which had the effect of discounting the young wife's income were often imposed. Under the new policy, no such local rules will be imposed and the wife's income will be given full consideration.

VA guarantees 60 per cent of home loans (maximum $12,500) private lenders make to servicemen, veterans and eligible widows of World War II, Korean and Post-Korean conflicts and the Vietnam era.

It is apparently simple contracts that often require the most care. Declarer found a neat way to sever the enemy communications and so circumvent their attempts to score a ruff on this hand.

North's takeout double is rather light. However, the vulnerability was in his favor and, with both major suits, he preferred a double to an overcall of one spade. East's preemptive tactics could not keep South out of the auction, for the latter had a fair hand and a good suit.

A diamond attack did not seem to offer promise in view of East's announced length in the suit, so West tried to find more fertile fields with his lead of the club king. If his partner held the jack, he would be setting up two tricks in the suit. In addition, as he held first-round trump control, there was the possibility of obtaining a ruff.

Declarer won the ace of clubs, and it seemed that his only losers were one trick in each suit except for spades. Had he gone ahead and tried to draw trumps, West would have stepped up with the ace on the first trump lead, cashed the queen of clubs and underled his ace of diamonds. East would have gained the lead and given his partner a club ruff to defeat the contract.

Declarer was aware of the possibility of a club ruff, and considered ways of preventing this. The bidding offered a slight clue. East had preempted in diamonds, and was unlikely to do so if he held a spade suit on the side. Thus, it was reasonable to assume that he was more likely to be long in clubs than West.

The problem was, therefore, to prevent the defenders from cashing the queen of clubs and then maneuvering a club ruff. There was probably no way to do this if East held the ace of hearts. However, if East's entry was in diamonds, the transportation between the defenders could be interrupted.

Accordingly, declarer led a diamond at trick two. It made no difference which defender won that trick. West could cash his queen of clubs, but there was no way he could put East on lead to score his ruff. Declarer could draw trumps at his leisure and claim his contract.

Because this play depends on cutting the opposing lines of communication, it has become known as the "Scissors Coup."

Police Seek Murderer

MIDLAND — Midland police Sunday were still seeking the husband or suspects in the case of a woman found shot to death at her southside home late Saturday.

The body of Mrs. Versie Matthews was found lying in her one-room apartment by neighbors who heard two shots. The women was shot in the head and there were powder burns on her skin indicating that the pistol had been fired from a close range. A pistol was found in the yard outside the apartment.

Two more shots had been fired inside the apartment, and neighbors told police that the Matthews couple had run from an alley nearby as shots were being fired.

Justice of the Peace Robert Pine, pronounced the woman dead at the scene and ordered an autopsy.

Assistant District Attorney Jerry Buckner issued a complaint charging Matthews with murder.

Keeps His Cool

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — A bus driver remained cool when some hot high-voltage wires clattered down around his vehicle.

The driver kept the doors shut until the wires touching the bus stopped moving. He then hurried his passengers off the bus. Moments later the vehicle exploded into flames. No one was injured.

The Visitor Industry

Charles P. Zlatkovich, research associate in the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, had prepared an extensive study on the economic impact of visitors to Austin.

His conclusion is that this is a $41 million dollar annual business in the state capitol.

Copies of his report ought to be interesting reading to any city or group considering dividends from promotion of what we too often call the "tourist traffic."

Now Austin's situation is peculiar in that it is the state capitol and houses the various stage agencies. If people want to get in licks on pending legislation, they go to Austin; if they want to put in highway bids, they go to Austin; if oilmen want to consult with the railroad commission, they go to Austin; if schoolmen want to talk about education (particularly finance) they go to Austin. Moreover, not every city has a Lyndon B. Johnson Library, which aside from pure business, was the leading drawing card.

But aside from these untypical advantages, the research presents some interesting findings. About 80 per cent of the total visitor dollars came from persons who stayed in hotels and motels (They spent an estimated $32,655,487). Those who stayed, as guests in homes left $5,404,000. Even the campers left $3,137,000.

Those who stayed in hotels and motels spent $29.73 per day; those in campers $11.76; even those in private homes $9.84 per day. These latter figures ought to tell any city about the value of entertaining visitors.

Encouraging Outlook

Cheers for a federal budget deficit of $14.4 billion may have a hollow ring in a nation already $465 billion in the red.

But the final figure for fiscal 1973, which ended June 30, is encouraging in view of estimates six months ago that the gap between federal spending and revenue would be more like $25 billion.

And it is less frightening than the fiscal 1972 deficit of $23.2 billion.

The figures recently announced by Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, accompanied by evidence of an improving trade balance, are a measure of comfort to offset the gloom of spiraling food prices and other signs of continuing inflation.

Administration pledges of a budget balance in fiscal 1974, despite skepticism justified by four years of deficits, gain plausibility.

And evidence of a firm grip on government spending is essential if the American people are to believe promises of economic stability.

Perhaps the most effective tool is for people back home to let up on their unbelievable pressure of congressmen and senators to get something for them.

Make-Believe News

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

Bill Keeler, editor and publisher of the Wyalusing Rocket, is still printing "personals" from such delightful-sounding places as Beaver Meadows, Campdown, Moxie, Sugar Run and my favorite, "Jester Hill". Here's another of his reports on who's doing what with whom in that make-believe metropolis:

BLEEKER CUNNINGHAM has been confined to his home for the past week with a stomach disorder. Bleek says he has not felt up to par since he had Thanksgiving dinner with the Vincent Spurgeons.

Harold Bakeley held a stag party for some of his friends Friday evening, on the occasion of his birthday. Present were Fordham Argue, Phil Kasper, Vincent Spurgeon, Omar Dwight, Fabian Thorp and Fred Arscot. They ended up helping Harold move his old player piano from the house to the township dump.

Postmaster Wilfred Schooley this week issued a reprimand to Miss Amy Zilch. Amy reportedly sent a holiday gift bottle of Cutty Sark to a gentleman friend in Owego. The bottle broke and spilled all over the other mail, including a stack of mimeographed Christmas letters from Rev. Thaddeus Bump to his congregation.

The Omar Dwights have asked your correspondent to issue an apology for them for not issuing Christmas cards this year. They purchased 200 cards on sale in July, had them all addressed and stamped and now they can't find them.

BURGLARS ENTERED the A. C. Gordon General Store some time late Friday night or early Saturday morning. They left more than $100 in cash in the register but absconded with five hams and several nice pork roasts.

A 25th wedding anniversary celebration for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bloss was held Saturday evening at the Jester Hill Community Hall with about 150 guests attending. The honored couple received many lovely gifts and a money tree totaling $154.73. To mark the occasion, Miss Amy Zilch, accompanied on the piano accordion by LeRoy Dingle, sang, "The Thrill is Gone," and "Strangers in the Night."

MYRON HANKS has notified the Esso Company that he refuses to change the name of his service station to Exxon. Myron says his establishment has been known as the Esso station for forty-two years and he has no intention of changing it now.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

In a previous column, you wrote about contributing to the church. I have a hang-up, however, about my minister. Why does he get $17,000 a year, a free house to live in and then preach about the dire need of contributions? I don't see him giving away his money, nor visiting me, and he knows we are poor.

When a pastor does his job, he's worth every cent of the salary paid and the allowances provided. Your minister's salary sounds above average, but no doubt his background of training and experience warrants it. His duties, in your church and the community, probably require such remuneration, otherwise you must have an unusual Board of Trustees.

If a minister does not preach on stewardship, which you call the "dire need of contributions," he's falling down on his job.

Try this experiment. Get a Bible where the words of Christ are in red or underlined. Notice how many times Jesus talked of money and our possessions. Check Matthew 25 for one of these. The Scripture teaches clearly that we are to give to the Lord through the church "not grudgingly or of necessity," but "cheerfully." II Corinthians 9:7.

The gifts of the Christian are never to a man or an institution, but to God. What your minister does with his income is between himself and the Lord. My guess is he probably gives ten per cent or more.

You be honest with God in your own giving and let the church leadership worry about the staff. If we were all good stewards, there would be sufficient funds for the Gospel to be shared around the world.

Our Leisure Time

William F. Buckley Jr.

Speaking of the leisurely month of August, I have here a report issued by Andresen and Company of New York, who do research on securities. They have gathered together from various sources, including CBS and the Department of Commerce, engrossing figures on how Americans spend their leisure time.

UNFORTUNATELY some of the analysis is inscrutable, being written in non-English ("Table 3 demonstrates the share these activities have of the total resources allocated to spectator activities in the United States" — that kind of thing); but the salient data are absolutely lucid, and they are these: that almost 80 per cent of the leisure time of the average American is spent either watching television (45 per cent) or listening to the radio (34 per cent).

Andresen and Company puts this in perspective. "The average working man in the United States spends approximately one-third of his (her) (their) life sleeping. Of his 113 waking hours per week, he spends about 38 hours working and 25 hours eating, dressing, and commuting to and from work. This leaves 50 hours for leisure" — of which, as we have noted, 45ths is devoted to broadcasting.

How do other recreational activities fare? Newspaper reading takes up eight per cent of leisure time. Those who jump to the conclusion that papers should reflect on the principal differences between the two industries, radio and television are on 24 hours a day, whereas even the New York Times can be pretty well exhausted in a single hour, a reciprocal engagement.

After newspaper reading, in the American appetite, comes magazine reading, to which we devote six per cent of our weekly 50 hours of leisure, or an average of three hours per week. Then comes, way down at 2.6 per cent, listening to records and tapes. Then another huge jump for movies (.4 per cent) followed forlornly by book reading which is

2 per cent — or an average of six minutes per week or an average of five hours per year. Half as much time as is given to reading books is given to witnessing (other than on television) sports events, attending plays, and listening to concerts.

Up against these dispositions, Andresen juxtaposes the cost, or more precisely the apparent cost. The man who watches television and listens to radio is of course paying the cost of the subsidy of this industry by advertising. But he would pay that cost anyway. Whether he watches television or not, he will pay for a can of Campbell's Tomato Soup the price that reflects Campbell's subsidy of "Mission Impossible," or whatever Campbell's Tomato Soup subsidizes. So that the real cost to the television viewer is rather accurately measured by the cost of amortizing his set and paying the electrical bill.

The cost per hour for listening to radio comes to one cent or less. The cost per hour of watching television comes to about three cents. The cost per hour of reading newspapers or magazines or listening to records comes to about 17 cents.

THE COST of reading paperback books is 75 cents per hour (obviously there is a huge variable depending on reading speed, it being an interesting paradox that the slower you read the cheaper it is to buy books).

The cost of reading hard cover books averages (they claim) three dollars per hour. I do not know what one should choose to make of these figures, except that every day, in every way, the case strengthens for pay-television. Radio is surprisingly popular, and one reason for it is that in the larger cities radio can economically satisfy minority tastes. Television cannot, which was the reason for the ride of public television after the defeat of pay television in that access of Luddite demagoguery that overtook California in 1964.

Teachers Paid Better

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist wouldn't know if he didn't open his mail:

If you bought a 1,000-pound steer on the half, less than half of it would wind up on your dinner plate. It would dress out to a 600-pound carcass. Fat, bone and waste would trim it another 162, leaving 438 pounds of edible beef.

It seems only yesterday that Althea Gibson was making tennis history as a top player. But this month Althea, now director of the Pepsi-Cola mobile tennis program, will be 46.

Betting on the outcome of a battle between two fighting fish is to the Siamese what horse race betting is to Americans. Spectators may make side bets of up to $150, according to the National Geographic Society. That is about half a year's wage for an unskilled Siamese laborer.

If you work for a large firm, you may have to go where it wants to put you. U.S. business concerns transfer about 2½ million employees — and in most cases their families, too — from one city to another each year.

Planning on going camping on your vacation? Some 40 million-plus Americans — about one in five — will during 1973, either because they want to save money or just dote on the Great Outdoors.

Quotable notables: "If my theory of relativity is proven successful," Albert Einstein once predicted, "Germany will claim me as a German and France will declare that I am a citizen of the world. If my theory should prove to be untrue, then France will say that I am a German, and Germany will say that I am a Jew."

Teachers paid better: Remember when teachers were traditionally as underpaid as ministers? Well, they're better off now. Between 1960 and 1972 the annual salaries of U.S. public school teachers nearly doubled, rising from $5,174 to $10,174.

Worth remembering: "Juvenile delinquency sometimes is the result of parents trying to raise their children without starting at the bottom." Folklore: Birds are supposed to select their mates on St. Valentine's Day. Animals are most susceptible to being bewitched on the first day of May. Bread baked on Good Friday has special power to cure ailments.

Laryngitis Silences Her

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have good health but at least once a year I get laryngitis which keeps me completely without voice for about 10 days in a row. There are no further symptoms of cold or even fever.

To me as a teacher this is extremely inconvenient. A doctor gave me a lot of antibiotics but that didn't help a bit. Is there anything I can do to prevent reaching this stage of absolute silence? — R.G.

It's perfectly possible — as your experience proves — to have laryngitis without an obvious cold. There are other reasons.

If you do a lot of talking in your teaching, that could be a factor, and learning to "rest your voice" probably will help. And what about smoking? If you smoke a lot, that can have its effect.

You don't mention what time of year this bothers you, but your comment of "at least once a year" raises in my mind the thought that some seasonal allergy may be involved. So think back and see if there is any pattern of the trouble coming on at any particular time of year.

Since the laryngitis occurs only once a year or thereabouts, and does not persist, I would doubt the necessity of direct inspection of the larynx. It doesn't sound like a chronic, continuing condition. Meantime steam inhalations at the onset of the trouble may help to avoid complete loss of voice.

If infection is the cause, not allergy, a virus is usually involved, rather than bacteria, so antibiotics are seldom of any help.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you explain what hypertensive cardiovascular disease is? Is it curable? What medication is used for it? Would you please comment about it so I will understand? — R.G.

"Hypertensive" means high blood pressure — which, of course, can have its effect on the heart, making it work harder. "Cardiovascular disease" means disease involving the heart and blood vessels. Hence the two terms overlap to a considerable degree.

Medication alone is not ordinarily the complete treatment for such a condition. I'd suggest you start by sending for a copy of my booklet, "Controlling Your Blood Pressure." Send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

If you need further information about the heart, write me again and I'll suggest the appropriate booklet for you.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: All my friends say you can get pregnant by heavy kissing. Is this true or a bunch of baloney? I am 12 and scared to death. — H.P.

Strictly baloney. But 12 is pretty young to start "heavy kissing," and anyway "heavy kissing" quite often leads to other things.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have heard some people say they are "borderline diabetics." I wonder if you would explain what this means and if there is such a condition? — Mrs. W.K.

"Borderline" is probably not a very good adjective to use for diabetes. Either one has it or doesn't have it.

The term borderline usually refers to those who are thought to have "chemical" diabetes. In this, the blood sugar is normal at times and abnormal at others. They do not have the characteristic symptoms of thirst, frequent weight loss or fatigue.

The Tourist's Prayer

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — According to the Times of London, the Greek Orthodox Church has just issued a new prayer asking the Lord to protect the Greek people from tourists. The prayer, which is to be said by monks and nuns every morning and every evening, goes like this:

"LORD JESUS CHRIST, Son of God, have mercy on the cities, the islands and the villages of our orthodox fatherland, as well as the holy monasteries, which are scourged by the worldly tourist wave.

"Grace us with a solution to this dramatic problem and protect our brethren who are sorely tried by the modernistic spirit of these contemporary Western invaders."

Now it's only fair, if the monks and nuns are beseeching the Lord with antitourist prayers, that the tourists get equal time. So I have written a prayer for tourists which they must recite when they get up in the morning and go to bed at night.

It goes like this: "Heavenly Father, look down on us, Your humble, obedient tourist servants who are doomed to travel this earth, taking photographs, mailing post cards, buying souvenirs and walking around in drip-dry underwear.

"WE BESEECH YOU, oh Lord, to see that our plane is not hijacked, our luggage is not lost and our overweight baggage goes unnoticed. "Protect us from surly and unscrupulous taxi drivers, avaricious porters and unlicensed, English-speaking guides.

"Give us this day divine guidance in the selection of our hotels that we may find our reservations honored, our rooms made up and hot water running from the faucets (if it is at all possible).

"We pray that the telephones work and that the operators speak our tongue and that there is no mail waiting from our children which would force us to cancel the rest of our trip.

"Lead us, dear Lord, to good, inexpensive restaurants where the food is superb, the waiters friendly and the wine included in the price of the meal.

"Give us the wisdom to tip correctly in currencies we do not understand. Forgive us for underestimating out of ignorance and overestimating out of fear. Make the natives love us for what we are and not for what we can contribute to their worldly goods.

"Grant us the strength to visit the museums, the cathedrals, the palaces and the castles listed as 'musts' in the guidebooks.

"AND IF, perchance, we skip a historic monument to take a nap after lunch, have mercy on us for our flesh is weak."

(This part of the prayer is for husbands.)

"Dear God, keep our wives from shopping sprees and protect them from 'bargains' they don't need or can't afford. Lead them not into temptation for they know not what they do."

(This part of the prayer is for wives.)

"Almighty Father, keep our husbands from looking at foreign women and comparing them to us.

The Hardliner

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Senior White House aides now plotting a conciliatory approach seeking national unity in Richard M. Nixon's singlemost important address since his famous self-defense in the Checkers speech 21 years ago are running up against one White House hardliner: Richard M. Nixon.

PRESSING the conciliatory theme is the top level White House team of Alexander M. Hagi Jr., Ron Ziegler, Melvin R. Laird, Bryce Harlow and Henry A. Kissinger, all in agreement. "We're all pushing conciliation," one White House adviser told us, "all of us, that is, except the President."

THUS, ONLY days before the scheduled and long-promised presidential effort to escape the entangling coils of Watergate with a major explanation of his own conduct, the tone and mood of the speech have not yet been decided. This ambivalence, which has marked every presidential step of the way since the Watergate crisis began, may conceivably result in a last-minute change of plans — no speech at all.

That would not displease some Republicans — including Mr. Nixon's most stalwart defender on the Watergate committee, Sen. Edward Gurney of Florida. Gurney believes that the complex of disputed facts, contradictions and lies which bristle out of Watergate simply do not lend themselves to a speech format. Much more preferable to Gurney would be interrogation of the President by a small group of reporters or perhaps lawyers or politicians.

NO SUCH format is under White House consideration today. Present plans call for Mr. Nixon to address a bipartisan audience, including some Congressmen, in the White House East Room over national television. That at least would avoid the forensic sterility of a set-piece Oval Office speech from the presidential desk. Moreover, Mr. Agnew's success in an all-out defense may not be lost on the President.

IN THAT setting, top White House aides, while not agreeing on every detail, want the President to spin out a blend of courageous mea culpa, admitting having imposed far too much trust in departed aides H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, mixed with a dramatic appeal to "out there" . . . the voters, not the establishment elite. The appeal: free the President from the Watergate coils so that he can get on with the job of being President.

A Devotion For Today..

Do not neglect the gift you have, which was given you by prophetic utterance when the elders laid their hands upon you. (I Timothy 3:14, RSV)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, help me to be faithful by using my capabilities as fully as I know how, and for Your honor and glory and Christ's sake. Amen.

Certificates To Volunteers

"It is difficult to measure how much this work has meant. If a monetary value were put on the donated hours, at a minimum wage of $2.10 per hour, the 2,791 hours given would have a value of $5,861.10. This contribution cannot be accurately measured in money to really show our appreciation."

The speaker was Adolph Supak, director of personnel at Big Spring State Hospital, and the occasion was a recognition ceremony for summer volunteers held Monday evening at the hospital.

Three Women Are Hostesses

Mrs. Teddy R. Covington was the honoree at a baby shower held in the home of Mrs. Charles Middleton, 2603 Cheyenne, with Mrs. R.M. Thompson and Mrs. Larry Hutchinson as cohostesses.

Mrs. Covington was presented a corsage made of baby objects and ribbon. Honored guests were her husband's mother, Mrs. R. B. Covington Sr., and his grandmother, Mrs. S. G. Gregg.

Refreshments were served from a table which displayed a baby doll in a basket decorated with green and yellow ribbon. Gifts were displayed at a coffee table centered with a miniature tree draped with baby articles.

In expressing appreciation to the volunteers, on behalf of Dr. Preston Harrison, hospital superintendent, and the hospital staff, Supak concluded by saying, "I hope that each of you is as proud of your accomplishment as we are of you."

James Baum, chairman of the Volunteer Advisory Council, welcomed the volunteers and their guests and introduced Dr. Harrison.

Mrs. Claude Van Vleet, director of nursing, presented certificates to the volunteers, citing those who had given an outstanding number of hours in service. Richard VerLee, an adult volunteer, ranked first with 325 hours. Tracy McLain, with 251 hours, ranked first among the junior volunteers.

Other junior volunteers registering over 100 hours each were Linda Lester, 195; Jana Porter, 172; Pam Samuels, 154; Roxanne Reese, 135; Scott Sullivan, 117; Tammy Plew, 116; Joy Chandler, 108; and Martha Sheldon, 104.

Mrs. Donald Lester, acting volunteer coordinator, spoke briefly, saying she hoped the young people would continue their interest in the hospital.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated by Mrs. Dale Smith in a summer beach theme. The table was draped with colored fish net and accented with sea shells, driftwood and sponges.

Feels Guilty

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a maid in a first class hotel. (Please don't mention the city.) I took something from a very famous person who stayed here. I have admired this person for years and only wanted a souvenir.

What I took may be valuable, and now my conscience is bothering me. I am not a common thief, but I'm not brave enough to confess, and now I don't know what to do. Please help me. I trust you.

TROUBLED MIND
DEAR TROUBLED: Go to your public library and look for that person's name and address in "Who's Who in America." If you find it, mail back whatever you took. If you can't find the name and address, write to me and I will find it for you. (You can trust me.) And if you ever again want a "souvenir" from a famous person, ask for an autographed picture.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a fairly large office. One of the girls who works here is being married soon, so a coworker suggested we girls give her a bridal shower. (The bride-to-be is 30 years old and has been married before. So has her fiancé.)

The bride made up a list of "suggested shower gifts" which she mimeographed and distributed to all the girls in the office. This list is titled "CAN USE" and there are three pages of "gift suggestions" (typed, single-spaced) indicating the brand names preferred, and "where-to-purchase." (She listed everything imaginable from a corkscrew to a king-sized bedspread!!!!)

She even submitted dimensions of her living room, dining room, bedroom and bath indicating, "Rugs are needed."

When I saw this list I was turned off completely and decided not to attend. I declined the shower and told the girls why. Was I wrong? SOURD IN CALIFORNIA
DEAR SOURD: No. Since you felt that the purpose of this shower was to "soak" the guests, I don't blame you.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Club Tours Johansen Gardens

Members of Organic Soil Builders toured the two-acre garden of Johnny Johansen Monday evening. Johansen outlined his method of building a compost pile and showed how he used a tiller to prepare soil for planting.

Dr. Paul Koshi presided, and said this is the best time to plant turnips, beets and carrots for the winter months. He said carrots and beets can be left in the ground and the tops allowed to freeze off in winter. As needed, the vegetables can be dug out. He said the plants will produce until February.

Mrs. A.C. Moore was introduced as a new member, and guests were Mrs. John Coffee and Mrs. C.Y. Clinkscales. Johansen served the members and guests fresh watermelon.

Members are to bring a sample of soil from their yards to the next meeting, 7:30 p.m., Sept. 10 at the U.S. Experiment Station. The soil will be tested at the meeting.

Gifts Presented At Baby Shower

Mrs. Glen Wakefield was honored at a baby shower Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Hebrew Jones, 4200 Muir. Cohostesses were Mrs. Jo Ellen Smith, Mrs. Samona Palothino, Miss Rose Green and Miss Claudette Green.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth trimmed with white lace. A yellow branched candelabra was arranged with yellow spring carnations and ribbons. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The honoree was presented a corsage of pink and blue baby socks accented with baby rattles and ribbon. Guests included her mother, Mrs. Floyd Green Sr., and her cousin, Mrs. Charles McGowan, Sweetwater.

ASKS LOCAL HELP

Coupons Can Buy Piano For Center

Young people who use the Westside Community Center hope that local people will help them obtain a new piano for the center by collecting and donating Betty Crocker coupons.

Mrs. Joseph Dawes, a volunteer worker at the center, is serving as chairman for the coupon drive.

"We will be collecting the coupons as soon as possible, though it may continue over the next year, if need be," said Mrs. Dawes. "We need 135,000 coupon points. If only 1,000 people would save 100 points each, we would have 100,000 points."

Mrs. Dawes explained that the one old piano now in use at the Center is insufficient for present needs. Over a dozen children take piano lessons from volunteer teachers at the center, and they practice on the lone piano. Also, the Westside Center Choir uses the piano during its weekly rehearsal.

"With all the hard use given a piano at the Center, the piano should be a school or church, heavy duty model which would stand up to the hard use and which could be easily moved from one room to another," said Mrs. Dawes. "We have a chance to get such a piano with these coupons if people in the community will help us."

The Westside Community Center is a non-profit corporation. All money for its operation comes from donations. Anyone wishing to defray part of the cost of the piano or to make a donation for other use at the center, may mail a check to Box 2231, Big Spring, Texas, 79720.

Persons who want to help save coupons for the piano may take or mail them to the Center, 1311 W. 4th St., or mail them to Mrs. Joseph Dawes, 2510 Broadway.

Signing Gives Controversial SA Expressway A Shot In Arm

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — In the past couple of months, a local columnist nicknamed the North Expressway's carved-out right of way as San Antonio's "Big Thicket."

Completion of the expressway from downtown San Antonio through a portion of a park to Interstate 410 on the city's northern edges has been blocked for more than a decade by lawsuits.

Now, some officials are hopeful the weeds will soon be cut down. If construction starts before the end of the year, the road could be ready for travel by late 1975, a state highway engineer says.

The reason for fresh hope among proponents of the construction is enactment Monday by President Nixon of this year's federal highway bill, which contains an amendment pushed by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., removing the expressway from federal environmental criteria.

In effect, the law now says Texas can build the road with its own money.

The fight will go on, says the Sierra Club, which with about 120 other plaintiffs filed the court action which resulted in orders against construction.

"I personally am optimistic," said Anthony A. Athens, chairman of the Sierra Club's South Texas group, Monday. He said the club will fight attempts to Monday he will file a motion to lift the federal court injunction. A special attorney for the Texas Highway Department, Sam McDaniel, said in Austin

It's A Question Of 'High Priced Milk Or No Milk'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A spokesman said milk prices for customers of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., jumped up Monday because "it's the matter of whether there is going to be high priced milk or no milk."

Jim Erickson said the 21-state dairyman's cooperative raised fluid milk prices to 75 cents per hundredweight and the two increases taken together signify as much as an 18 per cent increase in fluid milk prices in some AMPI markets.

"When the freeze was lifted on food product increases, we implemented that earlier price increase on July 23. This is another," said Erickson Monday.

Prisoners Favor Peanut Butter

"Who wants lunch meat? We want peanut butter and jelly." This plea came one night last week from prisoners in the Howard County jail, according to a report given commissioners court Monday by Virginia Black, county auditor.

The request for peanut butter sandwiches apparently had nothing to do with a boycott on meat prices. The prisoners just decided they were tired of lunch meat.

County commissioners agreed that they didn't think prisoners should be allowed to necessarily select their meals and preference as long as they were receiving good, filling food.

National Cemetery Act Of Benefit To All Vets

Two new veterans benefits, hospitals or domiciliaries, or part of the National Cemetery Act approved by the President June 18, will become effective in August and September, according to Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Office Director.

For veterans who die on or after August 1, 1973, the Veterans Administration can pay a plot or interment allowance of $150 in addition to the $250 maximum already authorized.

Starting September 1, payment of funeral expenses up to $900 is authorized for veterans who die of service-connected causes.

Coker pointed out that VA has for some time paid allowances to funeral directors or other persons who bore veterans' burial expenses, provided claims were filed within two years of permanent burial or cremation.

The agency also pays transportation costs of veterans whose deaths occur in its hospitals or domiciliaries, or part of the National Cemetery Act approved by the President June 18, will become effective in August and September, according to Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Office Director.

Coker said the current maximum $250 burial allowance has been in effect since 1958, and traced this history of burial allowances:

War Risk Insurance Act of 1917 provided up to $100 toward burial expenses of certain persons whose deaths occurred before discharge from military service.

In 1923, allowance extended to veterans with insufficient funds to cover burial expenses; Economy Acts of 1933 reduced allowance restored to $100 by executive order in 1934; Assets limitation on allowances removed in 1936; Maximum allowance increased from $100 to $150 under Public Law 79-529 in 1946.

Public Law 95-674 increased allowance to current $250 maximum in 1958.

'Hot' Orioles Trip Rangers

While the rest of the world puzzles over the tantalizingly tight American League East Division race, Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver has the dilemma all doped out.

"We've got the best defensive club in the division and the best pitching," reasoned Weaver after the Orioles had thumped Texas 7-4 Monday night. "Now we're starting to hit, and the club with the hot bat will take it."

Elsewhere in the American League Monday night, Oakland trimmed Boston 3-1, New York shut out California 6-0 and Chicago downed Milwaukee 5-2. The other teams were not scheduled.

The Orioles got homers from Merv Rettenmund and Don Baylor to whip the Rangers. Baylor had four hits and figures the Orioles can hit better than the rest of the division thinks they can hit.

"I hope the other teams keep thinking we can't hit the ball," said Baylor. "I guarantee you we're hitting it now."

All the first place Tigers can do is win. Detroit ran its post All Star Game record to 17-4 by beating Minnesota to maintain its 1 1/2-game lead over the Orioles.

In Monday's National League action, it was Pittsburgh 3, Cincinnati 2; Houston 4, St. Louis 0; San Diego 3, New York 2; and Los Angeles 8, Montreal 5 in the only games scheduled.

Baseball scores table with columns for team, score, and inning details.

SANDS COACHES — New Sands Mustang football coach Jim Allen, left, diagrams a play his Patriots might be using this coming year as the team seeks to break a two-year drought. At right is Phil Mowrey, the new assistant, who will also be the head basketball coach. The two arrived in Ackery last week. They replace Bob Davis, who resigned to accept the head position at Follett.

Mustang Positions To Allen, Mowrey

ACKERLY — Jim Allen has been named the new head football coach and Phil Mowrey the head basketball man at Sands High School, school officials have announced.

Allen comes to Sands from White Settlement, where he was head junior high coach. Before that he coached at Wichita Falls Hirschi, Booker T. Washington in Wichita Falls and Hirschi Junior High after receiving his degree from Midwestern University.

The 43-year old Allen had coached previously at Panther Boys Club in Fort Worth, the Navajo Methodist Mission in Farmington, N.M. and McKinney High School in Hawaii. He also coached Navy service ball while stationed in Hawaii.

Allen's team at the Methodist Mission went to the state Class B final in 1959 before losing to Jal, and as a basketball coach at the Panthers Boys Club, he led the team to two state championships and was runner-up two other times.

Sports... In Brief

WASHINGTON — Bernie Bickerstaff, head basketball coach at the University of San Diego, has been named assistant coach of the Capital Bullets of the National Basketball Association.

MONTREAL — Bernie Allen, veteran utility infielder, has been purchased by the Montreal Expos from the New York Yankees.

KERRVILLE, Tex. — Houston Oiler linebacker Garland Boyette has come out of retirement to play for the National Football League team again.

DALLAS — Dallas fullback Walt Garrison, who was removed from last Saturday night's National Football League exhibition game in Oakland, was ordered to bed for a week Monday with what doctors described as irritated nerves in his neck.

CHARLOTTE — NASCAR driver Bobby Isaac has announced he is quitting stock car racing.

Astros Club Cards, 4-0

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dave Roberts pitched a five-hit shut-out for the Houston Astros and was nearly upstaged in the process.

Houston's Cesar Cedeno, the National League's all-star centerfielder, crashed into the wall but held the ball and helped the Astros flog the failing St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 Monday night.

This fielding gem in the second inning came before the scoring in a rain-delayed contest, the Cards' eighth straight defeat.

Cedeno, demonstrating the speed that makes him the NL's third-ranking base stealer, went to the 380-foot mark in left-center and leaped for a drive off the bat of Cards rookie Hector Cruz.

Umpire Terry Tata hesitated, then called Cruz out as the bruised Cedeno staggered to his feet and produced the baseball.

"That catch and Roberts' pitching did us in," conceded Cards Manager Red Schoendienst, who watched his team's lead in the NL East Division shrink to two games.

"All I can say is that guy's a heck of an outfielder. If it hadn't been for that catch we would have been in front and might have won."

Cedeno's catch cancelled an inside-the-park home run that would have scored Joe Torre ahead of Cruz and put the Astros in front and two Cardinals errors, one on a rundown, helped Houston score in the fifth.

Afterward, doubles by Bob Watson and Lee May put the Astros in front and two Cardinals errors, one on a rundown, helped Houston score in the fifth.

Foreign newsmen and some team officials were barred from the 32-story building the Soviets say has 45,000 rooms.

Soviet security precautions, normally strict, were increased at the compound on request of the International Federation of University Sports which feared the possibility of a massacre like that at Munich's Olympic Games.

The games will be conducted at several Moscow sports facilities, but concentrated in the Luchniki Sports Complex and its 103,000-seat Lenin Stadium.

Preliminary fencing competition starts Wednesday morning, but the opening ceremony at Lenin Stadium won't be until that evening.

On Thursday, a full schedule of events begins—basketball, wrestling, volleyball, gymnastics, track and field, tennis and fencing.

The diving and swimming events won't be held until the final four days of the Games that wind up Aug. 25.

There was difficulty getting a line on many of the teams participating because of the security precautions and the lack of complete rosters.

It seemed clear, however, that the Soviet Union would field strong teams in all events and be motivated to make a good showing on home grounds.

All Soviet teams were considered good and are expected to be the main challengers to the Americans in the swimming events.

The Americans as usual, have strong men's and women's swimming teams. The track and field team is not America's best—minus such stars as high jump world record holder Dwight Stones and runner Dave Wottle. There are only a few members of the men's national team that met the Russians last month in Minsk.

The Americans have brought a good, young basketball team to these Games and hope to avenge the controversial 51-50 defeat at the hands of the Russians at Munich.

Lions Nip Chiefs On Blocked PAT

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City's Jan Stenerud had his first extra point in seven years blocked and as a result the Detroit Lions edged the Chiefs 17-16 in a National Football League preseason game Monday night.

"I don't know what happened," Stenerud said of the play by Lem Barney, who broke through the left side and blocked the kick with 1:18 left.

Barney knew what happened. "It was just a basic rush," said the seven-year cornerback from Jackson State. "Mike Wenger and I shot in simultaneously."

Kansas City Coach Hank Stram called it "a ridiculous way to lose." Detroit Coach

Don McCaffery said it "was a great effort on the part of the extra point team. We could have let up and figured it was a tie game."

The attempt capped an 82-yard scoring drive put together by Len Dawson the first time he took the Kansas City quarterback helm this season.

Dawson started his 17th professional campaign when he entered the contest with 6:32 left and the Chiefs down 17-10. In 18 plays he hit on seven of 13 passes for 57 yards. His 10-yard scoring toss to Elmo Wright came on fourth down.

Greg Landry took over the Detroit quarterback role in the second half and led the Lions to victory.

Elsewhere in the NFL, three Oakland players emerged from the Raiders' 27-26 victory Saturday over Dallas with injuries. Offensive tackle Bob Brown suffered a broken hand, linebacker Joe Carroll sustained a broken finger and defensive tackle Art Thoms strained a knee.

"We'll know more later about using any of them Saturday," said Oakland Coach John Madden, looking ahead to the Raiders' upcoming game with Los Angeles.

Linebacker John Douglas of New York suffered a pulled hamstring muscle during the Giants 13-7 triumph over New England Saturday and is expected to miss the next two games.

Douglas will be replaced by converted defensive end Henry Reed, who missed most of last season with a blood infection.

The Atlanta Falcons trimmed running backs Henry Brandon and Ray Clarke from their roster and signed veteran running back Eddie Ray. Ray showed up in camp 21 days late and Coach Norm Van Brocklin said the former Louisiana State player would be fined at the rate of $100 per day.

Houston linebacker Garland Boyette, who retired from playing last season and joined the coaching staff, is back in uniform.

Coach Bill Peterson said Boyette, who has been with Houston since 1966, agreed to play again to bolster the Oilers' middle linebacker position.

Pittsburgh plays at Philadelphia Thursday and Washington is at Buffalo Friday in this week's NFL schedule.

World Games Security Tight

MOSCOW (AP) — Some 4,500 athletes from 76 countries made final training preparations today for the World University Games while their Russian hosts struggled with airtight security and a series of last-minute snarls.

Some American athletes who were trapped in the massive Moscow State University building where the competitors were quartered got their credentials straightened out and were allowed to leave the compound.

Foreign newsmen and some team officials were barred from the 32-story building the Soviets say has 45,000 rooms.

Soviet security precautions, normally strict, were increased at the compound on request of the International Federation of University Sports which feared the possibility of a massacre like that at Munich's Olympic Games.

The games will be conducted at several Moscow sports facilities, but concentrated in the Luchniki Sports Complex and its 103,000-seat Lenin Stadium.

Preliminary fencing competition starts Wednesday morning, but the opening ceremony at Lenin Stadium won't be until that evening.

On Thursday, a full schedule of events begins—basketball, wrestling, volleyball, gymnastics, track and field, tennis and fencing.

The diving and swimming events won't be held until the final four days of the Games that wind up Aug. 25.

There was difficulty getting a line on many of the teams participating because of the security precautions and the lack of complete rosters.

It seemed clear, however, that the Soviet Union would field strong teams in all events and be motivated to make a good showing on home grounds.

All Soviet teams were considered good and are expected to be the main challengers to the Americans in the swimming events.

The Americans as usual, have strong men's and women's swimming teams. The track and field team is not America's best—minus such stars as high jump world record holder Dwight Stones and runner Dave Wottle. There are only a few members of the men's national team that met the Russians last month in Minsk.

The Americans have brought a good, young basketball team to these Games and hope to avenge the controversial 51-50 defeat at the hands of the Russians at Munich.

Area Schoolboys Begin Non-Contact Grid Work

Coaches at area schools began molding football teams Monday for the 1973 season, and most concentrated on conditioning, agility and a passing game as contact work approaches.

Coahoma and Stanton of Dist. 7-AA, Forsan of Dist. 3-B and Garden City of I-B eight-man all opened work Monday. All classes AAA and below can don pads Friday.

Fifty four varsity hopefuls reported for workouts in Coahoma the first day, and Coach Norman Roberts said that two-a-day drills will continue into next week. Daily drills are being held at 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. this week.

Just 26 players were on hand for the first Stanton Buffalo workout, but Coach Bill Young expects around 50 to be on the roster by the time school starts. Workouts today and Wednesday are being held at 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., but will change to 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Thursday when school opens.

At Forsan, Coach Jack Woodley had 29 for his first session Monday in the padless work. The Buffs will continue agility drills and passing work at 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. with each session lasting around an hour and a half.

Garden City Coach Greg Henderson is putting his group through just one practice a day, beginning at 8 a.m. All will be conditioning work, the new head man said.

Sands High School will begin workouts today, following a team meeting attended by 13 players Monday. New Head Coach Jim Allen expects 25 to be in pads by the time school starts Monday. The Mustangs will be working out at 6:30 p.m. daily this week.

LONGHORNS EYE SIXTH STRAIGHT TITLE

UT Returns To Defense For '73

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Longhorns may have their toughest defensive team ever this year.

Nine of the 11 players who held Alabama to one touchdown and two field goals in the Cotton Bowl are back.

Texas goes after its fifth Southwest Conference championship in a row with a defense that gave up only three touchdowns on the ground in compiling a 9-1 record in the regular season last year.

Those 10 opponents threw 249 passes against that defense. They got four touchdowns on passes.

Oklahoma whipped Texas 27-0, later forfeiting the game because it used an ineligible player. How many people remember that the Longhorn defense yielded only one of the Sooners' three touchdowns?

A blocked quick kick recovered in the end zone for a touchdown and a fumble recovered for a touchdown gave OU its other six-pointers.

Not until the blocked kick late in the game did Oklahoma do anything. The Sooners had been averaging more than 600 yards a game. They edged Texas 273 to 259 in net offensive yardage.

The Longhorn defense gave up 24 points in its last five games. That's 4.8 points a game.

In other words, Texas got back in the old groove: winning with defense. That what the Longhorns have always done under Darrell Royal except for the early, high-scoring years of the Wishbone—T.

Of the four linemen and four linebackers that started in 1972, only linebacker Randy Braband is gone.

Defensive backs Mike Rowan and Mike Bayer graduated, but Terry Melancon, 5-11, 182, came on strong at the end of the season and took over from Bayer in the Alabama game. Melancon intercepted two passes in the second half to preserve Texas' 17-13 victory.

Among those competing for other starting roles in the defensive backfield are: Tommy Keel, 5-10, 161; Sammy Mason, 5-11, 192; Fred Sarchet, 5-10, 165; Ronnie Workman, 6-3, 200; and Gary Yeoman, 6-1, 190.

All-conference end Malcolm Minnick, 6-0, 200, returns at one defensive end. Jay Arnold, 6-1, 188, may be moved to the defensive backfield, leaving his old end spot to Bill Rutherford, 6-2, 220.

Defensive tackles Doug English, 6-5, 240, and Fred Currin, 6-4, 220, were outstanding as sophomores last year.

The Longhorns are deep at linebacker: Sherman Lee, 6-1, 205; Wade Johnson, 6-1, 215; Greg Dahlberg, 5-11, 216; Bruce Cannon, 5-10, 200; and Rick Fenlaw, 6-1, 200.

And then there is All-America Candidate Glen Gaspard, 6-0, 223.

Gaspard probably is second only to Tommy Nobis as the best in a long line of great linebackers at Texas.

Gaspard pops runners backward, but is nimble-footed enough to intercept passes and then run with both power and elusiveness. Many think he could be a running back of pro caliber.

Which brings up Texas' offense, known around Austin as "Hand the ball to Roosevelt." Gaspard concedes he would be second-string behind Roosevelt. Leaks if he had stayed at fullback.

Leaks ran for 1,099 tough yards up the middle as a sophomore. This year he is 10 pounds heavier, at 215, and just as fast.

A pile-driving runner, Leaks has the rare ability to pile moves on linebackers while running about two feet off the ground. He blocks the way he runs, knocking people flat.

cellent despite the loss of Jerry Sisemore, Travis Roach, Julius Whittier and Steve Oxley.

All-America candidate Bill Wyman, 6-2, 235, returns at center. All-conference guard Don Grosslin, 6-1, 231, is back. Rick Thurman, 6-5, 240, and Bob Tresch, 6-4, 235, had outstanding spring scrimmages at tackle. Bruce Hebert, 5-11, 212, has been a solid performer at guard. Rick Davis, 6-5, 230, will have to fight to hold off sophomore Tommy Ingram, 6-5, 225, at tight end.

A newcomer to the backfield, Joey Aboussie, 5-8, 190, is rated by Gaspard as just as tough a runner as Leaks. Aboussie has no more moves than a cannonball, but cannonballs don't need moves.

Although Aboussie and halfback Don Burrisk, 5-10, 184, have 4.6 speed in the 40, the Longhorns lack the outside, breakaway threat, unless freshman Ivey Suber of Fort Worth Wyatt can learn to block quickly enough to play in his first year on a Darrell Royal varsity.

But with sledgehammer runners operating behind that offensive line, Texas will blast over two to four touchdowns a game.

And with that defense, that's all they should need.

Houston's biggest defensive weakness could be its line-backing corps, depleted last year when Peterson traded away George Webster and Ron Pritchard.

A pleasant surprise at middle linebacker in Houston's 16-13 exhibition loss to the New York Jets was rookie Greg Bingham. Third year veteran Floyd Rice and Phil Croyle fill out the line-backing corps.

Willie Alexander and Benny Johnson are the cornerbacks since hard-hitting Zeke Moore moved from the corner to a safety position with Bob Atkins.

The Oilers have three top quarterback prospects in Dan Pastorini, Edd Hargett and Lynn Dickey. The biggest Oiler weakness last season however, was keeping them healthy with one of the most porous offensive lines in the league.

Baltimore Colts to lend leadership and stability to the line. Comebacks by last year's casualties, including right tackle Elbert Drungo and guard Richard Cheek, also could help.

The arrival of Paul Robinson and Fred Willis from Cincinnati aided the Oilers' running back corps but it barely got above the anemic stage last season.

Peterson on the offensive line and help from No. 1 draft choice running back George Amundson, Willie Rodgers, Al Johnson and Lewis Jolley will give the Oilers a running attack with more teeth this season.

"I think our offensive line is better right now than the one we started the regular season with last year," Peterson said.

Gillman, who dealt away many of the Oilers' draft choices to get the players he wanted, said he wasn't finished.

"I'll trade away our draft choices for next year and then I'll start on 1975—just give them all away," Gillman said.

"I'll do whatever it takes to start winning right now."

Gillman's big move there was to snatch all-pro center Bill Curry, along with his three championship rings, from the

Cars, Steel Pace Price Up Parade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council said today "about 30 to 25" major companies proposed price increases on the first day of the new Phase 4 anti-inflation program Monday.

"The action has been pretty light," said Charles Emely, assistant council director for operations. He said he did not know what firms had requested price increases, although Chrysler Corp. and Armco Steel Corp. announced they were among them.

FAIR AMOUNT
Ford Motors Co. was expected to join them later today. Council Director John T. Dunlop said at the news briefing that beef slaughter totaled 100,000 Monday, "up a fair amount" from the week before.

He said the daily beef slaughter now is only about 10 to 12 per cent below July and "any notion that smaller and smaller

Sons Of RFK In Car Crash

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP) — Two sons of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy escaped serious injury when the open car driven by one of them overturned on a winding and hilly highway. One of the five girls riding with them was seriously hurt.

David A. Kennedy, 18, suffered a possible sprained back when the car driven by his brother Joseph P. Kennedy III, 20, flipped over Monday afternoon on Nantucket Island. Nantucket police said Joseph Kennedy was issued a citation for operating a motor vehicle negligently.

David was reported in satisfactory condition at Cape Cod Hospital here. Joseph was not hurt.

A spokesman for the hospital said one of the five girls was in serious condition with a possible spine fracture. She was identified as Pamela Kelly, 19, of Centerville, Mass.

Mary Schlaff, 23, of Grosse Pointe, Mich., was hospitalized with a fractured pelvis and right leg. She was listed in good condition.

Torbin Yates, director of communications for the hospital, said David was visited Monday night by his mother, Ethel, and other relatives from the Kennedys' Hyannisport compound.

Yates said the youth had no fractures. It was not known how long he would remain at the hospital.

Police said the car, a Toyota, overturned on Polpis Road. The young people were thrown about 20 feet.

A spokesman for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the boys' uncle, said the senator would have no comment on the accident.

Meat Is Higher But It's Available To Schools
It will be lunch as usual for Big Spring students when school starts Thursday, according to cafeteria director Ray Lawlis. Italian spaghetti and hamburger steak await students on the first day.

While school districts throughout the country reportedly fear possible shortages of meat for school lunches, Lawlis said he has obtained an adequate supply for the first week or two and said he believes the district can continue acquiring meat contracts on a weekly basis.

Prices, though, are up. "The prices are higher than when school let out," he said after purchasing a supply of meat products, including sausage, hamburger, wieners and fish portions. The initial meat contract was with Swift out of Midland.

Meat was not the only item going for higher prices. Lawlis noted a five per cent across the board increase in most canned foods and somewhat higher costs for bread products.

He pointed out that the district luckily took bids for bread in June before flour prices began to rise. Still, buns were up three cents per six-unit package.

SCANDAL UNLOCKED
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Rep. Larry Bales, an Austin Democrat, left the keys in his new 1973 Pontiac in front of his home Sunday afternoon.

Neighborhood children says they saw a blond-haired man jump in the car and speed off about 3 p.m.

Bales says he had planned to drive to the state Capitol. He also had planned to go to the laundry.

A 1971 state law makes it a fine up to $200 to leave a car unlocked, unattended and with the keys in the ignition.
