Nixon Junked Gigantic Watergate Statement

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon junked a voluminous Watergate statement because he feared it would prolong the Senate investigating committee's televised hearings, sources report.

The sources, who are in a position to know the President's thinking, also said Nixon has no intention of expanding on his most recent statements about the scandal staining his administration.

"He's already answered the questions," one White House official declared as he pounded his fist on texts of the President's Wednesday night speech and statement and his previous May 22 and April 30 Watergate responses.

CONFLICTS
The President's latest written statement was 2,800 words, considerably shorter than his television speech. Nixon conceded that it "does not answer many of the contentions raised during the Watergate hearings."

"The facts are complicated, and the evidence conflicting," he told the nation. "It would not be right for me to try to sort out the evidence, to rebut specific witnesses, or pronounce my own judgments about their credibility."

The White House sources gave another reason why the President decided not to give a detailed, point by point rebuttal and analysis.

If he had, they said, the Senate Committee would have begun an extensive examination of Nixon's account, digesting it in the televised hearings Nixon would like shut off.

"They would have gone on and on and on, they would keep moving over the same ground forever," one official said. "It would have served no useful purpose."

SLIMMED DOWN

As a result Nixon issued the slimmed-down statement, using only a fraction of the novel-length analysis and rebuttal drafted by his White House lawyers.

When the President holds a promised news conference within the next two weeks, he is certain to face a barrage of Watergate questions.

But his aides say they don't expect him to expand on his past statements, even though the presidential assistants express annoyance at suggestions that key Watergate questions remain unanswered.

Nixon has denied any advance knowledge of the bugging and any role in the subsequent cover-up, has accepted responsibility for misdeeds of subordinates, has promised to be more vigilant, and has urged Americans to "get on with the urgent business of our nation."

The White House aide, thumping again on copies of the presidential denials of involvement, said "there are just so many times you can say it."

President's Lawyers File Final Written Tapes Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's lawyers argued today that to compel him to honor a grand jury subpoena would be to accept the "notion that the extraction of the last ounce of flesh by the criminal process is the highest and most important purpose of government."

The attorneys filed a legal brief in U.S. District Court—the final written argument before next Wednesday's courtroom debate on the White House Watergate tapes.

LEGAL DUTY

It was in response to the arguments filed last Monday by Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox, who contended Nixon has "an enforceable legal duty" to give the grand jury tapes of his conversations with aides.

Cox had argued that it is up to the courts to decide whether the tapes of presidential conversations are important evidence that must be turned over to the Watergate grand jury.

The White House reply argued that Cox's position "is not the law."

The Nixon brief further argued that decisions on whether to pursue criminal prosecutions are in the hands of the executive branch rather than the courts. It continued:

NO POWER

"There is no power in the judicial branch to decide that the public interest requires a particular criminal investigation or prosecution to continue if the executive branch has determined that other governmental interests dictate to the contrary."

U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica has scheduled oral argument in the case for next Wednesday.

In an earlier legal brief, White House lawyers argued that the courts lack the power to compel a president to do anything. The Nixon brief said that if Cox succeeded in forcing the President to obey the prosecutor's subpoena "the damage to the institution of the presidency will be severe and irreparable."

In his speech to the nation Wednesday, Nixon reiterated his determination to withhold the tapes of his conversations. Their existence was disclosed last month at the Senate Watergate hearings. Nixon said the "principle of confidentiality of presidential conversations is at stake in the question of the tapes. I must and shall oppose any efforts to destroy this principle which is so vital to the conduct of the presidency."

CHIEF
Nixon said disclosure of the tapes "would cripple all future presidents by inhibiting conversations between them and those they look to for advice."

In his 66-page brief, Cox rejected that argument, saying, "There will be few occasions upon which a grand jury will have similar cause to believe there may be material evidence of the criminality of high officials in the papers and documents in the executive office of the president."

"The aides of future presidents are not likely to be timid because of this remote danger of disclosure."

Cox also argued it would be up to the courts to decide if there is justification for withholding material that Nixon claims must be kept confidential.

"Even the highest executive officials are subject to the rule of law," Cox wrote.

Sirica has not indicated how soon after next week's oral argument he will issue a ruling. Appeals are expected eventually to put the question before the Supreme Court.

MAJOR THREAT Russians Fire 'New' Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger said today the Russians have successfully tested missiles with multiple warheads that can be aimed at separate targets.

He told a news conference that this development shows the Russians have narrowed a technological gap which favored the United States and means that prospects for U.S.-Soviet agreement to control multiple warheads has "deteriorated sadly."

Darrow Is Wedded In Jail Ceremony

Wedding vows were to be exchanged today in Howard County jail for William Paul Darrow, 28 and Miss Rheadene Mears, 25.

Darrow is jailed on drug charges, for which he has been sentenced from five years to life. He has been incarcerated here since Nov. 16, 1972 and his case is currently under appeal.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice performed the ceremony. Miss Mears was accompanied to the courthouse by her mother. She obtained the letter of waiver from Judge A. G. Mitchell, which permitted the marriage and issuance of a marriage license. County Clerk Pauline Petty issued the license.

Under the new laws, Darrow will probably be transferred to Huntsville State Prison after Aug. 27, since prisoners whose cases are under appeal now may be sent on to the penitentiary.

Pupil Seeks Talk With Computer

High school registration was still a big question mark as computer woes bugged school officials there down into a quagmire of paper work.

Total enrollment figures by the end of the first day for the entire school system were 6,278 in comparison to 6,377 last year. This was including only an estimated enrollment figure from the high school.

In their first year of computer scheduling, students were lined up at the offices with peculiar schedule problems such as the students who were assigned two lunch periods and the students who had no lunch period at all.

Quipped one high school student without a lunch period on his schedule, "Me and that computer are going to have to have a few words on this subject."

Was It Love Game That Lured Man?

Was it a love game that prompted a young man to shed his clothes at the Figure Seven Tennis Center last night?

Police, notified at 10:08 p.m. that a nude man was seen outside the tennis courts, were unable to find the man when they arrived.

Tennis Center Manager Novice Kniffen explained that four players winding up a game around 10 p.m. turned around to see the man, about 25 years old with long black hair, standing naked outside their court.

Kniffen said he never saw the man but passed along the report to police anyway.

Reception Planned For Jim Granberry

The general public is invited to a reception scheduled in the First Federal Savings and Loan Building from 4:30 until 6:00 p.m., Wednesday for Jim Granberry, one-time mayor of Lubbock, who has already announced as a Republican candidate for Texas governor.

Dr. Granberry, an orthodontist by profession, threw his hat into the ring a couple of months ago. Coffee will be served at the reception.

'A Drunk, Mad Boy,' Says Golda

TEL AVIV (AP) — The drunken Libyan who forced an Arab airliner to land in Israel underwent psychiatric tests, and a magistrate told him today he probably will be charged with hijacking.

Magistrate Eliezer Goldberg ordered him held for 15 days and said the police wanted him for "hijacking an airliner and endangering the lives" of the other 124 persons aboard.

"I am a God-fearing Moslem," said the Arab, Mahmoud Tourni. "I am no Israeli agent."

"I do not deserve to be kept in jail for doing something I believe in — showing the friendship of an Arab for Israel," Tourni protested.

"I didn't hurt any of the passengers. I planned this action for several years so that nobody would be harmed."

After he surrendered his two pistols to Israeli security men Thursday, Tourni told a news conference: "Since I was a boy I was influenced by the persecution and hard life of the Jews in Libya. I have no asylum except in Israel."

"A drunk, mad boy," said Premier Golda Meir. Officials said Tourni is a 37-year-old Libyan merchant who lived in Lebanon and carried a Libyan passport. Wearing a turquoise suit, he said he hijacked the Middle East Airlines' Boeing 707 jet "to show that not all Arabs want to throw the Jews into the ocean. Some Arabs believe Israel must have a country, but Cairo prevents the Arabs by force from showing this."

Israel's chief of staff, Lt. Gen. David Elazar, said Tourni would be put on trial because "hijackers all over the world should be punished."

No Donations Forthcoming

The Big Spring High School Bible Fund had better experience a productive weekend, if it hopes to catch up with last year's campaign, which got off to a rousing start.

No donations were received for the fund this morning. The campaign extends only about two weeks and a total of $5,800 in donations is being sought by the Howard County Ministers' Fellowship, which sponsors the course.

The course is accredited but it cannot, under federal law, be underwritten by the taxpayers.

The course is elective, which is another way of stating students themselves can decide about undertaking the study.

Two classes of Bible are planned. Attainment of the objective would insure the course through the 1973-74 school year. Contributors will be listed in the Herald, if they so desire. They can forward their checks either to The Herald, PO Box 1431, Big Spring 79720 or to the Howard County Ministers' Alliance, c/o the Rev. Caleb Hildebrand, Wesley United Methodist Church, Big Spring.

The envelopes should be plainly marked to "The Bible Fund."

Letters of appeal have already gone out to last year's donors.

Council Initials Merit Pay Plan For Employees

In two days of budget review, city commissioners revised the total city budget for the upcoming fiscal year to $4,188,262 in expenditures with $506,935 to come under revenue sharing.

Original budget requests prepared by the city administration totaled $4,205,901 with $554,135 to be paid with revenue sharing funds.

Commissioners also approved initiation of a merit pay plan for city employees in which all employees will be rated each year and new employees after six months.

Pay increases awarded to employees found deserving will be paid out of the $239,092 expected surplus, the difference between revenues and expenditures next year plus this year's leftover.

Among major changes made by commissioners in a four-hour work session Thursday was the transfer of $25,000 from the revenue sharing budget into the operating budget for next year's seal coating program.

The commission kept another $25,000 for the program under the revenue sharing budget.

This change was made after Commissioner Harold Hall pointed out the dangers in relying too heavily on revenue sharing which is only funded for five years. So, the effort was made to keep all anticipated recurring expenses such as maintenance projects in the operating budget instead of to save revenue sharing for only one-time capital outlays.

Other cuts made in the revenue sharing budget included one for $40,000 originally intended for a new city warehouse, one for $6,000 earlier allotted to buy street department equipment and another for $8,000 requested by the sewage treatment department for a television camera.

A $37,000 police department estimate of salaries for new patrolman to be hired was shaved by $5,000 and the purchase of a $6,000 emergency repair truck for the water-sewer department was eliminated.

Additions to the revenue sharing budget included one for $25,000 to be used for improvements at the Dora Roberts Community Center.

The $10,300 allotment originally included in the operating budget for sewage treatment plant improvements was transferred to the revenue sharing budget, as was $5,000 for purchase of a ditch-witch.

Another $5,000 was added to the original $15,000 allotted for improvements to City Hall and a utility office building, and $8,000 was added to the phase I paving program expenditure for utility relocations.

The additions and deletions from revenue sharing left that budget at $506,935 out of $620,618 expected to be available to the city.

The 1973-74 fiscal year begins Oct. 1.

SUE SEEKS SIBERIAN REINDEER

Santa Claus Was A Russian

MOSCOW (AP) — Santa Claus was originally a Russian, so why shouldn't the Soviet Union let Sue Fortune have those two Siberian reindeer?

"I've gone through the various bureaus and am now up to the commissioner of zoos," said harried Mrs. Fortune of Auburndale, Mass. "If necessary, I'll take the matter all the way to Brezhnev."

WHITE DEER

Leonid Brezhnev is chief of the Soviet Communist party and they don't come any higher in the land of the Hammer and Sickle.

Mrs. Fortune, an attractive, red-haired widow in her 40s, is seeking to buy a pair of white Siberian reindeer for two of her projects back in the U.S. — Santa's Workshop in North Pole, N.Y., and Santa's Operation Toylift.

"They are magnificent animals, and the only place you can find them are here in Russia," Mrs. Fortune said. "We have about 45 reindeer in all, but we want these Siberian reindeer."

"I am running into obstacles because Christmas is a religious holiday and the Russians are sensitive about anything with a religious connotation."

Mrs. Fortune came to Moscow loaded with Santa Claus legend to try to break down the Soviets.

ROUND BELLY

"I try to tell the Russians that there is no need to be edgy, that Santa Claus actually was a Russian before he was a little fat man with whiskers and a round belly," she said.

Mrs. Fortune is in Moscow as one of the American administrators in the World University Games. But her avocation is Santa Claus.

Her late husband, Harold, was cofounder with Julian J. Reiss of Santa's Workshop, an attraction for children on White Face Mountain 10 miles from Lake Placid. Santa's Operation Toylift is a charity fund that takes Christmas — including real reindeer and whiskered Santa Clauses — to handicapped and needy children throughout the United States.

GALVESTON SHERIFF: 'I OWE IT TO THE PARENTS'

Use Road Grader To Dig For More Bodies On Beach

HOUSTON (AP) — Galveston County sheriff's deputies used a road grader to dig for more bodies today in the nation's worst confirmed mass murder.

Kidnaped Texan Returns Home Carrying Diamonds

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A jewelry store manager who told of being kidnaped by extortionists returned to Fort Worth unharmed late Thursday carrying $35,000 in diamonds and about $600 cash he said he was forced to take.

him while he drove to the jewelry store, indicating he had a gun. PHONY BEARD Baker said as he reentered the car after leaving the store, he caught a glimpse of the man, and it "looked like he had a phony beard and mustache and he had his hat pulled down over his face."

"He made me stop the car and told me to get out and keep my back to him. I was afraid he was going to kill me. He made me open the trunk. I told him, 'Please don't hurt my wife.' He said, 'We don't have your wife.'"

CC Quarters Figured In

MAYBE EL PASO About 5:15 p.m. Wednesday Baker entered the store in Seminary South Shopping Center and told his assistant manager, John Bennett, that three men were following him and two of them had his wife as a hostage.

GOLF CLUBBER

As Baker started home to rest about 2:30 a.m. today, he told newsmen he managed to escape when his captor let him crawl out of the trunk for a moment by seizing a golf club lying beside him and hitting his abductor on the head.

PHONY BEARD

Baker said he searched the pockets of the semiconscious man and found them along with the cash taken from him. He also discovered the diamonds under the car's front seat, he said.

Beggar's Opera Comes Off Well, Crowd Agrees

Some brandished pistols but the 25 members of the "Beggar's Opera" cast captured the estimated 80 spectators here Thursday night without firing a shot. The Howard County Junior College production will be offered as dinner theatre in the Student Union Building again tonight and Saturday evening.

The show ends on a note guaranteed to be a real surprise. The plot of the show was borrowed by Kurt Weill in 1928 for another hit musical, "The Threepenny Opera." The Beggar's Opera was first produced in 1729 in London, where it was an unqualified success. Its pointed comments on subjects which range from politics to middle-class morality and ethics remain as fresh today as they did over two centuries ago.

Reactivation Of 'Hell On Wheels'

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe revealed plans today for reactivation of the old "Hell on Wheels," the 49th Armored Division, as a part of the Texas National Guard.

A new National Guard troop allocation increases the Army's guard strength to a total of 17,773 troops for the state, Briscoe said. Guard officials said the increase amounted to 300 or 400 men.

As a result of the troop increase, the 49th Armored Division, which was active in Texas from 1946 to 1965, will be reactivated with division headquarters at Camp Mabry in Austin, Briscoe said. Brig. Gen. D. A. Thompson of Fort Worth, currently deputy commander of Base Units Command of the Texas Guard, will be commander.

Three brigades of the division will be "strategically located" across the state at San Antonio, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Briscoe also announced that the present National Guard airborne brigade in Houston will be redesignated the 38th Airborne Brigade and configured so it could become an element of an active Army airborne division in event of mobilization.

"We are accepting the new troop structure as a great challenge," the governor said. "The selection by the Department of the Army for Texas to raise and train a new armor division is a very realistic decision. Texas has the free world's largest armor training center at Ft. Hood and the State formerly had an armored division which served our country with distinction after World War II and during the Berlin crisis of 1961-62. Our goal is to make this new armored division the very best armored division in the United States."

Briscoe said the adjutant general's department was working on a new stationing plan for the state and the details would be announced shortly.

TEEN FORUM

PICTURES: (Q.) I am really lonely and don't have any girl friends. When I go to a store I look to see if they have any magazines with girls' pictures in them. I like to look at them.

When I find a store that has them I look for a cashier who isn't checking anyone out. If all the cashiers are busy, I don't buy the magazine because I don't want everybody to think I'm a pervert.

When I find a cashier by herself and pay for the magazine I feel like SHE thinks I am a pervert, and that makes me feel like one.

Lately all the cashiers have been busy and I haven't bought any magazines. I am getting desperate. Do you think I girl friend maybe you wouldn't feel so strongly this need to look at pictures. A real girl is a million times better than a picture.

CHANGE: (Q.) Bette has changed an awful lot. She acts like our mother and bosses us and tries to solve all our problems. She is terribly stubborn. She watches us from her window. It's creepy.

What can we do? — Bette's Two Best Friends in Florida.

(A.) Be patient with Bette. Ask her about the changes in her. If she wants to talk, listen. Talking may be the best medicine she could find for her troubles. If she doesn't want to talk, however, do not insist.

She may be undergoing some stress she is afraid to talk about. It may be between her and her parents, or a boy. Or it may be something physical or emotional within her that she does not understand.

As a last resort, leave her alone if associating with her becomes too painful. Whatever you do, try not to hurt her any more than she is evidently already hurting.

(A.) Looking at pictures of nude girls in a magazine does not keep a boy from getting lonely. It DOES make you personally feel guilty. So maybe it would be better, until you can feel less guilty about it, not to try to buy the magazines.

I can assure you of two things: (1) Liking to look at pictures of nude girls is not a sign of perversion in you. (2) It is all right for you, or any boy, to buy magazines with pictures of nude girls openly in front of everyone, so long as the pictures or the stories in the magazine are simply frank and not pornographic.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
In declarer play, there is often a very thin line between success and failure. Any opportunity to enhance your possibility of success should, therefore, be grasped. South applied this principle on today's hand and brought home a contract that would surely fail if played by a less thoughtful declarer.

North showed both his suits after South bid and rebid his seven-card suit. With two stoppers in the unbid suit, South elected to bid two no trump at his third turn rather than bid clubs again, and North contracted for the nine-trick game.

West led the queen of spades, attacking South's entries to his club suit. Declarer won the trick with the king and paused to review the situation. It was obvious that he would need the club suit to fulfill his contract. However, if he led a low club to the jack, he would be beaten if either defender was able to hold off the ace of clubs. Declarer would have to return to his hand with the ace of spades to knock out the ace of clubs, and then would have no way to get back to his hand to run the clubs.

Declarer was well aware that the odds greatly favored a 3-2 club division. Therefore, it seemed that he could play the king of clubs and continue the suit until the ace was forced out. Given the normal club division, the remaining spade honor would be an entry to the good clubs.

As the cards lie, that line would fail, for West's fourth club would become a second stopper. Yet South succeeded in making his contract by giving himself a slight extra chance.

At trick two, declarer led a heart to dummy's ace and then played the jack of clubs from the table. Had East played low, declarer intended overtaking and continuing the suit, hoping for a 3-2 split. As it was, East had a singleton ace and was forced to win the trick. Declarer's club suit was good, and there was still a spade entry to the closed hand.

Farm Workers Picket Slain

DELANO, Calif. (AP) — Cesar Chavez says he will urge his striking United Farm Workers Union to call off their pickets in the wake of the first fatality in the long-simmering dispute with grape growers and the rival Teamsters union.

"There has been a siege of terror. The police, the growers and the Teamsters have joined hands in brutal repression of our strike," Chavez said after Thursday's shooting death of a veteran UFW picket.

Chavez said he would urge the union's executive board to call off picketing until government protection can be provided because "we don't want any more people hurt."

WORKERS UPSET
"The workers were very upset," the union leader said. "We met with them and told them to remain cool, that the approach of nonviolence is the only way to do it."

Juan De La Cruz, 60, was shot in the chest by someone firing from a passing pickup truck as pickets dispersed in Arvin, 50 miles south of here.

Witnesses at the Glamara Vineyards copied the vehicle's license number, and police later arrested Ernest Baclig, 64, of Fresno, and Bayani Advincula, 20, of Delano and booked them for investigation of murder. The two were farm workers at Dalton Richardson Farms.

It was the first picket line death since the farm workers struck July 29 over refusal of grape growers to renew UFW contracts. Three UFW members have been injured in other bursts of gunfire, and there have been numerous violent clashes on the picket lines.

Chavez said pickets would be out today at 8 a.m. EDT, but would stop two hours later to attend a memorial service for a UFW member killed earlier this week in a barroom brawl, apparently not connected with the labor strife.

RIVALRY
The union's executive board was scheduled to meet after the service.

There has been bitter rivalry between the UFW and the Teamsters Union for contracts covering thousands of California farm workers.

The rider listed Texas' state holidays and included Davis' birthday.

Aug. 27 Is State Holiday

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The birthday of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, Aug. 27, is a holiday for state employees, Atty. Gen. John Hill said here.

Hill's opinion was requested by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, who noted that a rider to the general appropriations bill for fiscal 1973 conflicted with a new law making Aug. 27 a state holiday.

The rider was passed in the third call session of the 62nd legislature, and apparently was forgotten this year when Johnson's birthday was substituted for that of Jefferson Davis as a state holiday.

Davis' birthday, June 3, was combined with that of Robert E. Lee, Jan. 19, as Confederate Heroes Day which will be observed on Jan. 19.

Hill said the Johnson birthday bill was "the general statute on the subject of holidays for state employees. It must prevail over the provisions of the riders in the general appropriations act."

The rider listed Texas' state holidays and included Davis' birthday.

Strikes Forcing Some Papers To Reduce Size

NEW YORK (AP) — Strikes at several Canadian paper mills have choked off U.S. newsprint supplies, forcing a number of newspapers to cut back on the number of pages they print in an effort to conserve rapidly dwindling inventories.

"Each week we pull in our belt tighter and the paper has been getting smaller and smaller," says George B. Waters, publisher of the Rome (N.Y.) Sentinel.

The seven struck plants account for only an estimated 15 per cent of U.S. newsprint consumption.

DEMAND SOARS
But the strikes come at a time when worldwide demand for newsprint is reported to be straining the available supply.

As a result there just isn't the capacity in the industry to take up the slack, observers say.

Further aggravating the situation have been a series of strikes on Canada's major railroads, which disrupted paper shipments from Canadian plants still operating. About two-thirds of American newsprint comes from Canadian mills. The Martinsburg Journal, a daily newspaper serving West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle, has cut back by 30 per cent the amount of space it allots to general news. The cutback is especially noticeable, it says, on editorial and comic pages.

In some newspapers, pages that have been traditionally kept free of advertising, such as the editorial page and the first sports page, now have ads.

In Colorado, the Greeley Tribune cut out its Saturday edition last month because of the newsprint shortage, and reports it may have to reduce its news space if advertising continues to increase.

In some cases, newspapers with adequate inventories are helping out others which are short. Waters, for example, says he has received a number of calls from friends in the business offering different types of newsprint.

A New York publisher of "shopper" newspapers was forced to suspend publication of three of his area editions because of the newsprint shortage.

DAV Slate Due Ritual

The Disabled American Veterans, chapter 47, is planning on an installation of officers at its Aug. 21 meeting.

Those elected by the chapter are Ysebel J. Luna, commander; Eddie Acri, senior vice commander; H. A. Rogers, junior vice commander; M. H. Spivey, adjutant; J. H. Taylor, sergeant at arms; Carliss (Buck) O'Neal, chaplain; Bob Bowen, public relations; and Ollie Branson, officer of the day.

Marshall T. Jones, Abilene, first junior vice commander of the Department of Texas, will be the master of ceremonies and the installing officer for the occasion at the VFW Hall. Other area chapters and local veterans organizations will be invited to the affair.

Time for the ceremonies has been set at 8:00 p.m.

Local Women On Honor Roll

HUNTSVILLE — When students at Sam Houston State University excel in their classwork, they are rewarded by having their names placed on the Dean's List of Academic Honors.

The list contains the names of all students who have attained a semester grade point average of at least 3.0 ("B") on a 4.0 ("A") scale in at least 12 hours of university classwork at SHSU.

Released from the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, the spring semester, 1973 Dean's List named more than 2,200 SHSU students to the honor roll. Included were Molly N. McKinney, 3.2; Kathryn Durah Priest, 4.0, both of Big Spring.

Not Political Job

The testimony of L. Patrick Gray III before the Watergate committee confirmed how fortunate Americans are he did not gain approval as permanent director of the FBI — and what a disservice President Nixon did the nation in selecting Gray for the post in the first place.

Gray appears to be an earnest man, and conscientious. But he also has painted himself as incredibly naive and gullible — and subservient to a fault when in the presence of what he considered to be higher authority.

Whatever Gray's merits, and by all accounts they are considerable, he was clearly not the man for the FBI post. Nor should that job ever pass to anyone like Gray — a political appointee with strong feelings of personal loyalty to a particular president, and thus willing to do the bidding of those he deems to be the president's surrogates.

The FBI must not become politicized; if very nearly had become so. If the Watergate had not engulfed Gray's nomination, the process would be far advanced by this time. This is not to say that Gray would have or did willingly turn the agency to political ends. But he was clearly no man to stand up to pressure from the White House; he was too ready to accept White House dictates without question.

Aside from Watergate, the Gray testimony raises many questions about the FBI's future, how to keep it insulated from politics, its place in the governmental organization chart, and perhaps a better method for selection of future directors — one that removes the choice as far as possible from the president's hands alone.

Is This Equal Time?

The right of an editor to decide what goes into his newspaper is a cornerstone of freedom of the press protected by the First Amendment. The significance of that right seems to have escaped justices of the Florida Supreme Court, who ruled recently that a newspaper can be compelled to publish rebuttals to opinions expressed on its editorial page or by individuals quoted in its news columns.

The editor of the Miami Herald, whose paper figured in a case testing the constitutionality of an obscure Florida law, says the ruling is an "astonishing" reversal of long-accepted guarantees of press freedom. We concur. For government to force an editor to publish something is no less a breach of the First Amendment than for government to forbid him to publish something. The U.S. Supreme Court must not let this extraordinary Florida ruling stand.

Odd Paranoia

Around The Rim

Ann Stevens

A lot of people act like ostriches when they see a reporter coming. They try to bury their heads in a hole.

A secretary's announcement that a reporter is waiting in the outside office is enough to send even the most tough-minded executive into a frenzy. LUMPS FORM in the throat of the most innocent public official when he hears a reporter's voice on the other end of the line.

THIS PHENOMENON is most common among conservatives. While they hold dear a literal interpretation of both the Constitution and the Bible, they are often the most rabid opponents of freedom of the press and the first to exit when a reporter makes the scene.

Yet, getting away from a political look at the situation, the paranoia is quite prevalent and plagues people in all walks of life.

Take for example something which happened recently. I called E. Z. Scair, a prominent businessman, and asked him a harmless question which could have, if answered and printed, actually helped his business.

However, he took the view right from the start that I was out to ruin his firm with a brilliant expose of some kind. To begin with, he asked a question quite typical of those who fear the reporter's motives: "What do you want to know for?" When I explained why, he followed up with a second frequently posed question, "Do you intend to print this?"

I recognized the symptoms and assured him I meant neither him nor the business any harm. I then proceeded with the questioning and got the third typical reaction.

"I USED to trust you, but if you print anything bad about me, I'm never gonna talk to you again," he declared. It was a threat. I knew it at once.

While he was probably a very outspoken advocate of business freedom, he detested the use of press freedom, at least where he was concerned.

This irked and baffled me, even though I have seen the same reaction many times from others.

I suppose it will continue to amaze me that innocent people with nothing to hide fear the press as much as do the not-so-innocent people.

Perhaps it's just a sign of the times. Perhaps Watergate has made the people afraid not only that their government may be doing something wrong but also that they themselves may be doing something wrong.

Could Be Dud

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON—If advance hints are borne out, the great constitutional crisis will end not with a bang but a whimper and a whimper of evasion. This is to say that the much heralded crisis of confrontation between the White House and the federal judiciary will in the end sputter out like a damp firecracker.

THE PRESIDENT'S legal counsel means to try to avert the collision with a detour around the constitutional issue. If this is the course finally followed and if it works, the question of the release of the tapes, whether to the Ervin committee or to Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox, will be quietly buried. The Administration will hope that the public quickly puts out of mind what had once loomed as a monumental test of the divided powers of the American form of government.

The sign on the detour reads "a political question." The President's counsel will argue that the courts have no right to pass on what is not justiciable under the Constitution. The Supreme Court has in the recent past divided with embittered disputes over whether "a political question" means a case can be ruled out of bounds with no decision by the Court.

Before the Nixon "strict constructionist" justices the issue came to a sharp and dramatic focus. While the principals were far less important the legal question was identical. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell brought suit against the House of Representatives for denying him his seat on the grounds of misconduct. The opinions written in that highly significant case are being closely studied today.

Federal District Judge George L. Hart who heard the case held that to ask the judiciary to decide the issue was a clear violation of the separation of powers in the Constitution. That doctrine, he wrote, developed over two millennia was firmly embedded in the Constitution.

"FOR THE court to order any member of the House of Representatives of the United States, any officers of the House or any employees of the House to do or not to do an act related to the organization of that House would be for the Court to crash through a political thicket into political quicksand."

Then serving on the Circuit Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia Warren E. Burger upheld Judge Hart's decision. Under Article III of the Constitution, the Powell claim to his seat and to back pay did not present a "case or controversy" to be decided by the courts. In short it was "a political question."

One year later in 1969 just before Burger was to take his place as Chief Justice, the Supreme Court ruled on Powell vs the House of Representatives. In the last opinion he was to write, one of the longest opinions of his career, retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren found against the lower courts. He rejected the concept of a "potentially embarrassing confrontation between coordinate branches of government" since no more was required "than an interpretation of the Constitution."

"OUR SYSTEM of government requires that federal courts on occasion interpret the Constitution in a manner at variance with the construction given the document by another branch. The alleged conflict that such an adjudication may cause cannot justify the courts' avoiding their constitutional responsibility."

Only Justice Potter Stewart dissented and that was on the ground the case was moot since Powell had taken his seat in the House as a result of a subsequent election. Warren's position in earlier cases had been frequently challenged by the late Justice Felix Frankfurter, who argued that the court was reaching political rather than judicial decisions. This was the substance of the popular outcry against Warren which in some southern states reached a point of billboard calling for his impeachment.

Things are very different today. On the Supreme Court are four theoretically "strict constructionists" appointed by President Nixon. If the President's counsel argues the "political question" detour they will be put to a test of their strictness. The outcome is unpredictable and so is the public reaction to the burial of the constitutional crisis with the tapes safe in the White House from any scrutiny.

SOME DANGER OF FALLING INTO THE FIRE!

Actress With Wit

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "The trouble with putting armor on," said Celeste Holm, "is that while it protects you from pain, it also protects you from pleasure."

The remark is typical of Miss Holm, who has a reputation of being one of the wittiest as well as ablest ladies of the theater in our time.

Since her first role as Juliet at the age of 6 — minus two front teeth — Celeste has starred in every branch of show business, from musicals to lectures. She was nominated three times for an Oscar and won one for her work in the film, "Gentleman's Agreement."

In her most recent success, she played "Aunt Polly" in the latest screen treatment of "Tom Sawyer." Seeing her blonde vitality today, it is hard to believe that it has been nearly 30 years since she used to stop the Broadway hit "Oklahoma," with her song about the girl, who couldn't say no.

Here are a few remarks made by Celeste, actress, philosopher, and gourmet cook during a midtown luncheon:

"Acting is controlled schizophrenia. That sounds neurotic, but isn't. You are playing someone else while being yourself."

"There is nothing more relaxing than making bread. It makes you feel like part of the pageantry of generations. So does yoga."

"I don't see how anyone lives without a purpose in life. It offers fantastic possibilities for anyone with imagination."

"I enjoy acting in the theater because it is the greatest way I know to bring people together without them being self-conscious about it."

"I have no big frustrations. My only fear is that man may destroy himself through ecological mistakes or his own spiritual discouragement."

"I do have a couple of small neuroses. I always lose keys, and if I have to introduce a number of people, I never can remember the name of the last person, even though that may be the one I know best."

"The trouble with our international policy is that it turns people off. When you turn people off, you defeat your cause."

"Everything you do affects other lives, so you must be aware of what you're doing. Generally speaking, I feel that if you do something new every day, and learn something new every day, you won't waste your time on earth. I try to live a 26-hour day every day, and that's my biggest fault."

Nice lunch, Celeste. Come again.

Take It Easy On Tanning

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For several years I have had a problem with sun poisoning. I get large welts which itch a lot. Is there anything that can be done before it starts? It seems to disappear once my skin gets tan. — Mrs. J.G.

Some folks are more sensitive to sun than others, but here are the only suggestions I can offer you to avoid trouble:

- Make your first exposures to the sun very gradual, then increase as you start to tan. You've noticed that the trouble stops once you have tanned.
- Use one of the sun-screen type of lotions, designed to filter out much of the ultraviolet light.
- Some medications increase sun sensitivity. If you are taking any type of medication, discuss it with your doctor.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes nasal drip in the throat and what can be done to clear it? — B.N.

Various causes; infection, allergy, polyps in the nose, defects such as a deviated septum. No two respond to the same treatment, naturally. Best advice I can give you is to read my booklet, "You Can Cure Sinus Trouble," since that booklet also deals with the various causes of post-nasal drip. If you'd like the booklet, send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I read with interest your column on numbness in the hands in which you said "carpal tunnel syndrome" sometimes was the cause. I have had similar symptoms in one foot and am wondering whether a related condition of the foot and ankle is known. I have intermittent numbness which appears to be aggravated by walking or driving an automobile. It rarely bothers me when I am lying down. — C.Y.

Yes, there is a comparable condition called tarsal tunnel syndrome. Basically it is of the same nature — pressure on a nerve.

There are other possibilities, of course. One is Morton's toe, a tumor on a nerve in the foot. Spasm of muscles in the foot can be a factor, resulting from an arch defect or tension in the foot while walking or driving. Arthritis of joints in the foot also should be considered.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 28 and have had tonsils and adenoids. I have a fear of being put to sleep. Are there any doctors who could take them out with a local anesthetic? — M.A.

Yes, this can be done under local anesthesia.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment, write for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Connection Shot

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The first potentially disastrous result abroad of President Nixon's Watergate catastrophe is now being felt with stinging impact in the collapse of his Cambodian policy and, more important, in the sudden awareness by Peking that the American connection is shot through with dangerous unpredictables.

THE REACTION in Peking to Mr. Nixon's worst time of troubles is still to a large extent ambiguous, shrouded in the minds of China's cold-eyed policymakers. These men regard the new American connection as having only one justification: as a counterweight to the power and hostility of the Soviet Union.

But not all the signs are completely ambiguous. Thus, the delay in Sen. Mike Mansfield's much-heralded second trip to Peking was specifically due to a polite but no-nonsense warning from Communist authorities there that this was not a propitious time.

The reason for that, it now appears certain, is that the special usefulness of Mansfield, as perceived in Peking, was his own special relationship with Prince Sihanouk, the ousted Cambodian monarch and Mansfield's old friend.

At the time Mansfield, the Senate majority leader, was originally asked to make his second visit to Peking, Communist China was looking to the Sihanouk option as the most promising of all the limited possibilities for settling the Cambodian civil war on terms not totally unacceptable to Peking.

The restoration of the mystic, figure prince, the most popular play in a country that until recently used to laugh at politics, was designed to give Peking an enduring political influence in Phnom Penh. With Sihanouk restored, and backed by both Peking and Washington, the threatening growth of power throughout the Indochina peninsula by North Vietnam would be at least temporarily stopped.

MOREOVER, precisely some such political deal with Sihanouk was what Mr. Nixon has been plotting for months. Indeed, there is solid reason to believe that if Congress, in its unprecedented action of June 30, had not forced a bombing ban on the President, the U.S. and China could have contrived just such an end to the Cambodian sector of the Indochina war by mid-September.

It was to prepare the way for such a settlement that Mansfield was needed in Peking. Likewise, it was to bargain for just such a settlement that Mr. Nixon had ordered his ace foreign policy expert, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, to go to Peking early this month. That journey, along with Mansfield's, will now not take place this month.

Imagine, then, how the cold-eyed rulers of Communist China must be reacting to the sudden discovery that President Nixon's freedom of action to negotiate has been undermined — in this case, by the bombing ban. Continuation of the bombing was judged no less in Peking than in Washington as an essential part of the complicated formula to slow the pro-Hanoi, "Khmer Rouge" Communist revolutionary movement in Cambodia, paving the way for Prince Sihanouk.

Suddenly, Peking's clandestine ally in this complex political maneuver, Richard M. Nixon, is crippled not by foreign influence but by his own Congress reacting to growing presidential weakness induced by Watergate.

IN PEKING, the political ravages of Watergate are probably perceived with the same disbelief that guided U.S. policymakers during the ravages of the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution in China in the late 1960s.

"Would Washington have made its political connection with Peking at the height of the cultural revolution?" one top Nixon lieutenant asks rhetorically, "when no one could even predict that the rulers of China would remain rulers for even another month?"

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

I am 16 years old. My problem is I can't seem to do — whatever it is you have to do — to become a Christian. Furthermore, I don't know how to get close to God, and I really want to. I decided to write to you because I always read your columns in the paper.

Sharon

One of the great marvels of Christianity is that an all wise God made the conditions for following Him so simple. Perhaps it is this very simplicity that causes problems. I can assure you, however, that no person ever sincerely wanted to know God, and get close to Him, but what God's Spirit arranged it. The whole purpose of God's intervention in history — in the person and work of Christ — was to bring about the conversion experience such as you claim to seek. Read John 20:31. Becoming a Christian is not the affirmation of ideals which you must practice. It's not an intellectual exercise to grapple with. It's the total commitment of your life to Jesus Christ through the processes of repentance and faith. Repentance means being sorry for your sins, and faith means trusting Christ as your personal Savior. Read Romans 10:9, 10.

As for getting close to God, that's easy. James wrote in chapter 4:9, "When you draw close to God, God will draw close to you." In other words, you start reading the Bible, praying and attending church. Immediately you will discover your faith growing and your love for God and man deepening.

Listen, if Christ validated the brief, weak, but sincere request of faith by the thief on the cross. He'll certainly honor yours. Write me again with a spiritual progress report.

A Devotion For Today . .

"When you pass through the waters, I will be with you." (Isaiah 43:2, RSV)
PRAYER: Lord, give me courage to trust and not be fearful; faith that I may not flounder. In the Master's name. Amen.

Black Headlines

Robert E. Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alice Roosevelt Longworth found a bat in her boudoir last week, and she couldn't stop laughing about it. Laughter these days in this muggy, scandal-ridden capital is hard to come by.

"You say everyone is depressed?" asked Mrs. Longworth, the scion of Washington aristocracy and President Theodore Roosevelt's candid, wispy-thin daughter. "I don't think in those terms."

"Everyone is hypnotized by Watergate. One hangs on the boob tube all day long. But depressed? I'm not depressed at all."

AT 89, having lived through the Harding administration and Teapot Dome, Mrs. Longworth can't be expected to be awake worrying about Watergate — or even the 2-cent rise in the cost of a loaf of bread.

But many of her Washington neighbors fret in proportion to the black headlines. The sky isn't falling, but on the cocktail circuit and in the green federal work warrens, some insist the government is.

So how do Washington residents find respite from the high temperatures and pressure-cooker atmosphere???

SOME LEAVE the city. President Nixon has spent almost five of the past seven weeks away from the capital. And, after Agnew dismissed allegations against him as "damn lies," the vice president took off for a long weekend of golf in Palm Springs, Calif.

But for those who must depend on the highways and bridges to lead them to water, weekends are often synonymous with traffic jams.

The alternative? Stay in Washington. And many do. "We're home for the summer, and it's awful," said Margot Hahn, a prominent Washington hostess who is wife of former D. C. City Council Chairman Gilbert Hahn Jr.

"Everybody's depressed. The government is in shambles, and the stock market's disastrous." Like the Hahns, many people remain in Washington for the summer because their work demands it. On Capitol Hill where Congress recessed for the summer a week and a half ago, dozens of Senate Watergate staffers are continuing the investigation.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

No doubt I come across like some Commie Pinko strange person, but I was really pleased when I heard that Dallas coach Tom Landry was going to start Jack Concannon at quarterback against New Orleans Saturday. It's not because I hate Roger Staubach and/or Craig Morton, but for some reason — and I really have no idea what it is — Concannon has always been one of my favorite players.

I think seven or eight years ago I saw him playing for the (ugh) Chicago Bears on TV and decided he was about the neatest guy up there. He would run, for one thing, and he seemed much too good for the rest of the clowns on that team.

Surely there's nothing in his history that would appeal to a youngster like little Jackie Cowan. I mean he played high school football in Cambridge, Mass., of all places, and being the quarterback for Boston College never has been much of a big deal. And not only that, I can never remember favoring any team called the Bears in any sport.

Oh well, who knows? Maybe he'll be great and Landry won't have to choose between Staubach and Morton again this year. Or, maybe he'll just be pretty good and Landry will have to . . . decide . . . between — Oh no, Tom, wait, turn back! It's a trick!!!

Howard County native Perry Walker is a celebrity of sorts these days at Ruidoso Downs as a result of his success with a horse named Havannah. The four-year-old gelding has a record of 1-3-1 this year, pretty good, but not really exceptional. Not exceptional, that is, until you realize Havannah is totally blind in one eye and has only partial vision in the other.

Walker claimed the horse a month ago from John Treadwell and Darrell Young of Bowie for $3000, and he hasn't been sorry. "I watched him a couple of times before," Walker said of his jewel. "And it seemed he would always come up a little short. And I thought if I had him I would be able to lengthen him out a little. He always looked like he was trying his heart out."

Apparently, trainer Walker has done his job. His last time out, Havannah, a 15-1 shot, finished an impressive second to the favored Norgor at 870 yards. "He's got everything you would want in a horse. He's kind. He stands in the gate easy and ready. He breaks straight as an arrow and makes the turn as well as any of them," bragged Walker, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Walker of Center Point community.

Care to vote for Courageous Horse of the Year, anyone?

This week's No. 1 quote — Dallas cornerback Charlie Waters, when asked last fall what he thought of the performance of Jim Thorpe during a computer game between the Cowboys and a team of all-time all-stars: "Not bad for a 74-year old Indian."

Bills' Stadium Debut Tonight

BUFFALO (AP) — The Buffalo Bills will unveil a new backfield lineup and a new stadium tonight in their pre-season home opener against the Washington Redskins.

The largest sports crowd in western New York history may be on hand for the event. The new 80,000-seat stadium in suburban Orchard Park, the largest in the National Football League, is expected to be sold out.

Buffalo Coach Lou Saban is expected to start rookie quarterback Joe Ferguson in place of three-year veteran Dennis Shaw. Veteran fullback Jim Braxton will be back in the starting lineup after being bumped last week in favor of Bo Cornell. Braxton's running-mate will be Randy Jackson, starting in place of the injured O.J. Simpson.

The Redskins will be without the services of their premier running back, too. Larry Brown is being held out of the lineup for the first four exhibition games by Coach George Allen.

But the National Football Conference-champion Redskins will have Duane Thomas running in Brown's place.

Allen will start with Billy Kilmer at quarterback, then switch to 16-year veteran Sonny Jurgensen in the second half.

The Pittsburgh Steelers came from behind and defeated the Philadelphia Eagles 17-3 Thursday night in the opener of a full weekend of NFL exhibition games.

The Steelers took advantage of two botched punting situations in the second half for 17 points against the defensively tough Eagles.

Saturday in the NFL, Baltimore takes on Detroit at Memphis, St. Louis is at Denver, Houston plays Green Bay at Milwaukee, Minnesota is at Kansas City, Chicago at Miami, New England at Atlanta, Oakland plays Los Angeles at Berkeley, Calif., and New Orleans is at Dallas.

On Sunday, Cleveland plays Cincinnati at Columbus, Ohio, the New York Giants take on the New York Jets at New Haven, Conn. and San Diego is at San Francisco.

Veteran linebackers Bob Matheson and Mike Kolen will see action for the Dolphins after recovering from injuries.

BUT RUTH'S RECORD MAY BE SAFE UNTIL 1974

Aaron Socks No. 702 As Braves Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Hank Aaron's magic number is down to 12, but the Atlanta Braves slugger doesn't think there's enough time left this season to reach Babe Ruth's lifetime home run record of 714.

"I don't think it's possible, I'm just not going to play that many more games," said Aaron after slugging No. 702 Thursday. It was a three-run blast in a nine-run Atlanta eighth inning and helped hand the Chicago Cubs a 7-2 defeat, their 11th straight setback.

"I'd like to hit five or six more, and I think that's possible," said the 39-year-old Aaron, who doesn't figure to play in all of the Braves' remaining 38 games.

Aaron's blast was his first homer this month and his 29th of the season. His 702nd came on July 31.

"I was beginning to be superstitious about that 'No. 13 behind' business," said Aaron. "I was at that 13 on long time."

Somebody reminded Aaron that No. 13 still is the number he needs to pass Ruth's 714 total. Hank grinned and said, "That's a different story."

Aaron said distractions are mounting as he closes in on Ruth's record and that was why he didn't take batting practice before the game.

"It's getting hard to concentrate with all the pre-game interruptions for autographs, interviews and picture taking," he said. "I just got to sit by myself sometimes and get collected."

"In this case (No. 702), it was more a matter of concentrating on getting my timing back. For the last couple of weeks I wasn't swinging good, I was anticipating pitches that weren't there."

Cleveland blasted Kansas City out of first place in the American League West 10-4 and Oakland replaced the Royals in the top spot by defeating Boston 6-3. San Francisco shaded Philadelphia 2-1 in the only other game scheduled Thursday.

Indians 10, Royals 4
Kansas City had beaten Cleveland nine straight times this season, but this time it was the Indians' turn. They unleashed a 16-hit attack and topped the Royals from first place in the AL West 10-4.

Ron Lich helped pitcher Dick Tidrow gain his 10th victory by driving in four runs on two doubles and a single. Chris Chambliss contributed a home run and Buddy Bell a triple. Paul Splittorf, a 15-game winner for Kansas City, suffered his seventh defeat.

The defeat dropped the Royals one percentage point behind Oakland.

A's 6, Red Sox 3
Vida Blue showed his 1971 Cy Young Award-winning pitching form in beating the Red Sox on a four-hitter 6-3. He didn't know it at the time, but the victory moved Oakland back into first place in the AL West when Kansas City lost to the Indians in a night game.

Reggie Jackson helped Blue gain his 13th victory against seven defeats by hitting two homers good for four RBI. Jackson now has 29 HRs for the season.

Giants 2, Phillies 1
Tom Bradley, with relief help from Elias Sosa in the ninth, won his 10th game as the Giants shaded the Phillies 2-1. Sosa got the last three outs to preserve Bradley's first victory since July 13.

The Giants tallied the winning run in the fourth on Gary Matthews' single, a stolen base, an error and Gary Thomasson's sacrifice fly.

THE SKY'S THE LIMIT—Henry Aaron inched closer to Babe Ruth's 714 career home run record Thursday with his 702nd blast, and no one knows where the Atlanta Braves slugger will stop before his seige is through. Aaron thinks it'll have to be next year, however, before he breaks the Babe's mark.

Miss Softball Meet Opens

Texas will crown its first Miss Softball America Senior League state champion this weekend as seven teams battle here for the honor.

The host Big Spring Rustlers, 11-0 during the regular season, face Breckenridge in first round play tonight at 9:30 p.m. at the National Little League park on the San Angelo Highway.

Odessa East and Abilene South kick the tournament off at 5 p.m., while Albany and Abilene North vie at 7:30 p.m. tonight. Midland drew a bye, and will meet the Albany - Abilene North winner at 9 a.m. Saturday to decide one final berth.

The Odessa East-Abilene South winner takes on the Big Spring-Breckenridge victor at 11 a.m. Saturday. The losers will collide at 9 a.m. Saturday in the City Park.

The consolation finals are scheduled to get under way at 4:30 p.m. Saturday. At 6:30 p.m. the two semifinal losers will play for third place, and the Championship game is set for 9 p.m. at the NL Park.

An all-state team will be named, and trophies will be presented consolation, first, second and third place finishers, as well as the all-stars.

Lotz Leader In USI Golf

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Dick Lotz was out of the woods, Bruce Devlin was out of the tournament and Ben Crenshaw was off and running going into today's second round of the $200,000 USI Golf Classic.

"I've been in the woods so long nobody remembers who I am," the slump-ridden Lotz said Thursday after taking the first round lead with a hot-puling 67, five-under-par on the 7,212-yard Pleasant Valley Golf Club course.

Devlin, the skinny Australian veteran who won this title last year, was disqualified for taking an improper drop. He signed for a 71, but played the ball from the wrong place after going into a hazard on the 15th hole.

And Crenshaw, the most highly-touted youngster since Jack Nicklaus, got off and running as a pro with a 71 that he called "very mediocre—just another round of golf."

Yanks Hunting Gold In Moscow Games

MOSCOW (AP) — Track and field competition at the World University Games swings into high gear today and American athletes will be bidding for some gold medals that so far have been swept up by the Soviet Union.

In Thursday's opening events, the Soviets picked up four golds and one bronze to a single silver medal for the United States—won by Kathy Schmidt of Long Beach, Calif. in the javelin throw.

Soviet winners were women's javelin thrower Svetlana Koroleva, shot putter Valery Volkina, fencer Basil Stankovich and the women's gymnastics team, led by tiny Olga Korbut.

Yugoslavia's Daniel Korica won the 10,000-meter run and won Thursday's only other gold medal.

The young and quick American men's basketball team overwhelmed Great Britain 123-

Kuhn Fails To Break Tie; Interleague Baseball Dies

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Major League baseball fell one vote short—the tie-breaking vote Commissioner Bowie Kuhn chose not to cast—Thursday of adopting interleague play in 1974.

Kuhn, who favors limited interleague play, cited but declined to explain a challenge by the National League of his legal powers to cast the vote. However, he said he was "not precluding the possibility of casting it in the future," if the legal question is resolved.

The impasse occurred as expected when American League owners and officials unanimously favored interleague play and the National League voted unanimously against it during the closing session of the majors' annual summer meetings.

Kuhn announced creation of a "special blue ribbon steering committee" of five members, including two owners in each league and himself, which he said will have broad authority to make recommendations on all baseball matters.

The committee will report at the majors' winter meetings in Houston. Its members were not immediately named.

Oil Bowl Tilt Slated Tonight

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Texas and Oklahoma collide tonight in the 36th annual Oil Bowl Classic before an expected 20,000 fans in Coyote Stadium with more than a lit-ed eyebrow or two about the quality of the Texas team.

Only eight of the 64 players who participated in the Texas High School Coaches Association game in Dallas Aug. 3 will be on the Texas team which holds a 21-5-1 edge in the bitter series between the Red River rivals.

"Well, I know Oklahoma has a strong bunch, so I guess we'll find out tonight just how rich the crop grows in Texas," says Texas Co-Coach Allen Boron of Sam Houston State.

SMITH BELIEVES IN BOBO

QB Key To SMU's Success

DALLAS (AP) — Dave Smith inherited a treasure chest of talent when he left Oklahoma State to come to Southern Methodist University but nowhere to be found was an experienced Wishbone-T quarterback.

Smith must find someone to turn the offensive crank this year before the treasure chest can be opened.

Smith believes senior Keith Bobo, who was so effective in departed Coach Hayden Fry's wide open offense last year, will come through despite a dismal spring training.

"I think it is important that Keith Bobo and our entire football team knows that Keith Bobo is going to be our quarterback," Smith says. "It's important for a lot of reasons—the big reason is that the team can grow with his leadership and I think he has ability to be a leader in a winning way for us."

"Although Keith didn't perform well in game type scrimmages we believe in him. We believe he has ability to execute our offense."

Kenny Harrison, SMU's All-SWC wide receiver, could be Smith's quarterback sleeper although the slippery Beaumont product was injured during a spring training quarterback experiment.

Smith says of the talented Harrison "I don't think working him at quarterback will take away much from using him at wide receiver."

"There will not only be situations but series within our games when we will want him to play quarterback. He's got a good, quick arm, quick speed and balance. He is very intelligent. He just needs work and we plan to give it to him early next fall. He COULD be our No. 1 quarterback if it works out that way."

At running back it's no problem for the Mustangs with sophomore sensation Wayne Morris and senior Alvin Maxon, who has gained over 1,000 yards in each of the last two seasons.

SMU has an adequate offensive line behind veteran tackle Kelly Arnold, guard Bill Thomas, center Mike Smith and tight end Oscar Roan.

Defensively, the Mustangs are hurting in the secondary with only strong safety Andy Duvall returning, with such stellar players as Robert Po-

GREEN FEES INCREASED

Green fees at Municipal Golf Course were upped by city commissioners Wednesday in a special budget work session.

Finance Director Robert Massengale said that commissioners approved a fee hike because revenues at the golf course are shy of expenses by some $13,000 a year.

New rates are $1.75 weekdays, $3 weekends and holidays and $10 monthly. New annual rates will be considered probably at the next regular commission meeting, according to Roy Anderson, assistant city manager.

pelka and Kris Silverthorn departing.

Louie Keicher is the cowbell of the Mustang defense. The 6-foot-4, 260-pound defensive tackle is a sure-fire All-America candidate.

"He's something," says Smith. "I guess he's the best defensive lineman I've been around."

Steve Morton and Ed Johnson are top defensive ends and Ted Thompson is a crack returning linebacker.

Smith says "We could have a very good team, but we're lacking in overall depth."

The Mustangs won't be particularly hard-pressed in non-conference games, playing Santa Clara, Oregon State, Virginia Tech and Missouri. Only Missouri appears in SMU's class.

'C'M UP 'N' SEE ME SOMETIME'

Mae West Celebrates 80th

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mae West, sex symbol of the 1920s and 1930s, turns 80 today, but she'd rather not talk about it.

"I'll wait until I'm 90," she said. Even at the fourscore mark, she remains a remarkable figure of a woman. The well-padded frame, which inspired the Mae West life jacket in World War II, seems little changed. Her face is smooth, and her hair, still blonde though with a little bit of help, cascades to her shoulders.

'I'M NO ANGEL'
When she walks, it is with the same jiggling strut that epitomized the sexually liberated woman of "She Done Him Wrong" and "I'm No Angel." An interview quite naturally led to talk of sex, since she was the pioneer of more permissive entertainment.

Item: In 1926 Mae West starred on Broadway as a waterfront prostitute in a play she wrote called "Sex" and was jailed for "indecent performance."

Item: In 1933 she murmured "C'm up 'n' see me sometime" to Cary Grant in "She Done Him Wrong" and precipitated a wholesale revision of the film industry's censorship code.

Item: In 1937 she appeared in an "Adam and Eve" comedy skit on the Edgar Bergen-Charlie McCarthy radio show and created such a furor that she was banned from radio for 12 years.

The interviewer wonders if this soft-voiced woman of 80 could have aroused such a clamor. The answer is yes. She continues to spout such comments as: "Sex is like a small business; you gotta watch over it."

She recently finished writing a new book called "Sex Drive." She describes it as a study of "sex health and ESP." Perhaps surprisingly, Miss West deplores the current film trend toward sex and nudity.

"I don't approve of it, it's just not right," she declared. "I can see what's happening. The picture makers have run out of titles; that's why you get all those long titles nowadays. They've also run out of plots; everything has been done on the screen already."

"Now they have no stories, so they simply throw naked bodies at the audience. And showing the sex act! I think that's terrible."

"When I was making pictures, I couldn't even say 'hell' or 'damn' on the screen. The church people watched me like a hawk. Where are the church people today? How can they allow such things as you see on the screen?"

'I NEVER DID IT'
Miss West has mellowed about the censorship troubles she faced. She couldn't help it, she said, if she simply exuded a "sex personality." She did so with the most innocent of lines and with high-necked dresses. "I didn't have to show myself naked," she remarked, "and I never did it. Well, once in a play, 'The Constant Sinner.' I walked across the dimly lit stage in a thin chignon, then changed into a dressing robe. The producer wanted me to do it, and I wasn't really nude, anyway."

The actress was married once, in her early career. It was kept secret for several years and ended in divorce.

She remains busy. She has finished a couple of screen plays, is discussing with Paramount the possibility of appearing in a sequel to "Paper Moon," and answers the fan mail of youngsters who have flipped over her movies on television.

Human Error May Have Caused Bombing Accident That Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Human error may have caused the bombing accident that took the lives of an estimated 137 Cambodians and injured more than 260 others in the village of Neak Luong Aug. 5, say Pentagon sources. The sources said that Air Force investigators are leaning toward that theory. It appears "somebody did not do his job right," said the source.

But the source stressed that the investigators are not yet certain of the cause and are continuing their probe at Anderson Air Force Base on Guam.

MOST LIKELY
"The most likely possibility appears to be human error," said the source. He indicated that the error—if that is what it was—may have involved bomb aiming equipment aboard the B52. He said that when bombing is done by radar it is necessary to make certain settings on a computer within the aircraft.

A miss can result if an improper fix is taken on an aiming point that is used to guide bombs to the actual target some distance away.

The spokesman said such an error with aiming equipment had not previously occurred.

The Air Force has refused to identify the crewmen who flew the mission only 10 days before U.S. bombing in Cambodia ended.

Open Playday Is Scheduled

District V of the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs will sponsor a benefit open playday Saturday and Sunday at the West Texas Boys Ranch Arena 17 miles west of San Angelo.

Events get under way at 9 a.m. Saturday with barrel racing, pole bending, a potato race and flag race. There is a 50-cent entry fee per event.

Horseback worship services are slated for 10 a.m. Sunday to be followed at 1 p.m. with an open arena pony express race with men's and women's teams. Entry fee will be $10 per team.

Ribbons will be awarded to the first five places in all events with breast collars going to the high point individual in each age group. Saddle bags will be awarded to both men and women winning the pony express team race.

Prizes will be given away in a drawing at 5 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $1.

NEW METHOD TO CORRECT CATARACTS—Dr. David Miller, head of the ophthalmology department at Beth Tzelel Hospital in Boston, gestures as he explains that people blinded by cataracts may one day see without surgery because of a new method to look through the cloudy formations in the eye lens. Filters they have developed, the scientists say, can distort light before it enters the eye. When this light is distorted again by the cataract, they say, it hits the back of the eye as if it had been normal to begin with.

Flash Flooding Toll Reaches 67

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The death toll after three months of flash flooding in Mexico stood at 67 today.

Sixty persons were killed in early summer soon after the rainy season started. Seven more died in the past four days.

Unofficial reports put losses at millions of dollars in destroyed homes and damaged crops from May into August.

At least 7,000 acres of cropland were under water and more than 10 towns were isolated. About 2,000 persons were homeless.

The Water Resources Ministry reported, however, that "the situation has become stable" in the states of Coahuila, Navarri, Jalisco, Guanajuato, Durango and Tamaulipas.

"The weather is improving and the rivers which overflowed are going back to normal," an official statement added.

At the little town of Encarna-cion de Dia in the western state of Jalisco, a broken dam sent an avalanche of water into the town. It destroyed 600 homes and drowned three persons.

A similar wall of water ripped through the village of Mecala, also in Jalisco, last month and 38 persons were killed.

The government reported three more persons died Wednesday in the northern state of Coahuila near the U.S. border while trying to cross an overflowing river.

Another person drowned in the state of Durango in northwestern Mexico.

Government helicopters have evacuated more than 300 persons from 14 flood towns in Coahuila, Guanajuato and Durango.

UNTIL SEPT. 1 Retail Gas Prices To Remain Frozen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail gasoline prices will remain frozen at present levels until Sept. 1, the result of a second extension of the administration's price freeze on gasoline, the director of the Cost of Living Council has announced.

Except for retailers of gasoline and diesel fuel, the price freeze will be lifted from the petroleum industry at midnight Sunday, John T. Dunlop said Thursday.

The freeze on the petroleum industry already had been extended an extra week because the oil regulations under the administration's Phase 4 anti-inflation program were not ready. The freeze was lifted from the rest of the economy Monday.

Dunlop said the oil regulations would be released today, but that gasoline and diesel fuel retailers will need additional time to compute new price ceilings under them.

He said previously that the new ceilings will provide for rollbacks in some cases, and increases in others.

prepare to put the new regulations into effect.

Deputy council director James W. McLane said Thursday the new regulations are designed to permit increased petroleum prices "to only that degree which would stimulate development of new energy reserves and permit the purchase of higher cost foreign oil."

Stickers for gasoline and diesel fuel retailers will be available from local post offices, along with the instructions, beginning Aug. 27, the council said.

In other economic developments: —The Federal Reserve Board reported that the country's industrial output increased by a sizable seven-tenths of one percent in July and was led by increased production in steel, textile, paper and chemical industries.

—The Cost of Living Council

The council said that retailers will be required to post special government-supplied stickers on all of the nation's estimated one million-plus gasoline pumps, by Sept. 1 showing the ceiling prices and octane ratings of gasoline.

Ceiling prices also must be posted on diesel fuel pumps, the council said.

Drafters of the oil regulations are said to have been racing the clock to have the regulations ready this week.

The rest of the petroleum industry — from oil refiners to distributors — will have only little more than the weekend to said that 68 major firms had notified the government by mid-week of plans to increase prices in 30 days. They included major tire companies, steel and auto manufacturers.

Bishop Carleton Appointed Interm Bishop In Houston Area

By MARJ CARPENTER Bishop Alsie Carleton, formerly a pastor of the First United Methodist Church here, was named interim bishop of the Texas Conference in Houston replacing Bishop Kenneth Copeland, who died.

Bishop Carleton is presently Bishop of both the Northwest Texas Conference and the New Mexico Conference and also serves as chairman of the South Central Jurisdiction of Bishops.

He was originally named a bishop at Oklahoma City in 1968. He was named at that time on the 13th ballot after his nearest competitor withdrew at the South Central Jurisdictional conference.

Dr. Carleton originally came to Big Spring from St. John's Church in Lubbock in June 1948. He left in 1953 for the University Park Methodist Church in Dallas. He had also served at Merkel, Clyde and Baird.

Rev. R. B. Hall, who was reared in Big Spring, will lead an autumn tour to the Holy Land and the areas of Paul's missionary journeys Oct. 10-22.

The Rev. Hall was born at Coahoma and attended Big Spring schools. Among those on the team with him will be Dr. Jimmy Allen, pastor of First Baptist Church in San Antonio; Cynthia Clawson, gospel singer from Little Rock, Ark.; and Dr. Lory Hildreth, pastor of First Baptist in Texarkana.

Interested persons may contact Rev. Hall at Box 154, Abilene or at 1531 S. Commerce Street in Anson.

LARRY HASLAM, program and promotion specialist for Ridgecrest Baptist Conference Center, has been named interim manager of Glorieta Baptist Conference Center, according to Bob M. Boyd, director, conference center division, Sunday School Board.

Haslam will serve until a new manager is elected by trustees of the board.

REV. R. B. HALL

of the Board. Mark Short, Jr., manager for seven years, has resigned to accept a position with South Main Baptist Church, Houston.

Haslam came to the Board from work as assistant manager of Cedarmore Baptist Assembly in Kentucky. He has also been assistant manager of Shocco Springs Baptist Assembly in Alabama.

A religious education graduate of Samford University in Birmingham, Ala., Haslam holds a master of divinity degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville. He has been pastor and interim pastor of churches in Alabama and Kentucky.

THE ELECTION OF U.S. Senator Mark O. Hatfield to the Board of Directors of World

Television Program Schedules

"The Spirit and the Word," a report on the eighth World Congress of the International Council of Christian Churches, will be presented on "Lamp Unto My Feet" Sunday, Aug. 19, (9-9:30 a.m. on the CBS Television Network, channel 10. The broadcast reports on the events of the Congress, which took place in Cape May, N.J., this June. The ICC, a worldwide organization of Bible-believing Protestant churches, was established 25 years ago as a counterweight to the more liberal World Council of Churches. The Rev. Carl McIntire, president of the ICC, and other members talk about their objectives and accomplishments.

Member churches and denominations in the ICC are evangelically oriented and stand for literal interpretation of the scriptures. "Lamp Unto My Feet" is a presentation of CBS News, with Pamela Iott as executive producer. Dr. George Crothers is producer and narrator of "The Spirit and the Word."

Vision International has been announced by W. Stanley Mooneyham, president.

World Vision is an international Christian humanitarian agency involved in programs of childcare, social action and evangelism through existing churches and mission groups in 25 countries.

In announcing Senator Hatfield's appointment, Mooneyham said he was pleased the Senator had accepted the position and that the Board members were anxious to have Hatfield's counseling.

"Mark Hatfield is a dedicated Christian who strongly believes that the wisdom and compassion needed to solve the world's problems cannot be found in any place other than in the power of God working through men. That belief is the essence of our ministry at World Vision," Mooneyham said.

Hatfield himself is outspoken on both the subject of social unrest and his Christian faith. In his book Conflict and Conscience he states: Christ calls us to witness to His love through our lives. That witness involves ministering to man whenever and wherever he is in need. God's purpose is to bring all creation into unity through Christ. Peace will not come to earth until the total needs of mankind are met."

East Fourth Baptists Set Revival Here

The East Fourth Street Baptist Church at 401 E. 4th will host a revival Aug. 17-19.

Meetings will be tonight and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. A special service will be held at 10:50 a.m. Sunday and again at 7 p.m.

David Craddock will serve as preacher for the event and Jeryl Hoover will lead the singing.

The public is cordially invited to attend the event. "End the summer by attending an inspirational revival," church leaders here added.

Church Sets Two Hearings In Texas

DALLAS (AP) — The Presbytery of Covenant of Northeast Texas of the Presbyterian Church U.S. voted 56-43 recently to hire lawyers to advise the presbytery concerning churches in Paris and Tyler that are attempting to break away from the main church.

The decision was reached after nearly two hours of sometimes heated debate at Preston Hollow Presbyterian Church.

First Presbyterian Church of Paris and Fifth Street Presbyterian Church of Tyler announced June 17 that they were severing relations with the Presbyterian Church. Pastors of the two churches announced a unanimous vote of church sessions to join other Southern Presbyterian churches in a new denomination to be called the Continuing Presbyterian Church.

The administrative committee of the presbytery drafted a letter to the two pastors last week, taking jurisdiction from the church sessions and suspending session members from their positions. The letter suggested that the pastors sever their congregations into voting to split from the main church.

R. W. Jablonowski presented Tuesday's motion to hire lawyers to "give legal counsel and advice to the presbytery and, if necessary, take legal action."

NEWSPAPER BINGO

MR. AND MRS. ALVIN BYRD

Reception For Alvin Byrds

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Byrd will be honored Saturday at a 50th wedding anniversary reception in the Lone Wolf Electric Medallion Room, Colorado City. Calling hours are from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrd are the parents of a daughter, Mrs. Charles Candler, Monahans; and two sons, Leon Byrd, Plano, and Dale Byrd, Westbrook. There are seven grandchildren.

Serving in the house party for the affair will be Mrs. Candler, Mrs. Leon Byrd, Mrs. Dale Byrd, Mrs. R. L. Miller, Miss Christy Byrd, Miss Joyce Candler and Miss Angela Byrd.

Alvin Byrd was born July 5, 1903 in Fort Worth. Mrs. Byrd, the former Lela Jackson, was born in Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 22, 1905.

The couple met in Westbrook and were married in the Carr Community, near there, Aug. 18, 1923. He retired in 1968 from Col-Tex and Cosden Pipelines after 41 years of service.

The family invites all friends and relatives to attend.

Dorcas Class Views Optimism

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. Jonita Denford, Big Spring, hosted the monthly meeting of Dorcas Sunday school class, Forsan Baptist Church, Tuesday at her home. The devotion, "Optimism," was given by Mrs. Benford, and a study of the life of James, son of Zebedee, was led by Mrs. Joe Evans. Prayers were by Mrs. J. H. Cardwell and Mrs. J. W. Overton. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., Sept. 11 at the home of Mrs. L. T. Shoultz, Forsan.

Mrs. Stanley Owens, Lubbock, is visiting her daughter and family, the Travis Carltons.

Rebekahs Perform Initiation

Mrs. Ervin Daniels was initiated into Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 during a candlelight ceremony Tuesday evening at the IOOF Hall. Mrs. Gene Crenshaw, team captain, conducted the rite.

In other business, a certificate of perfection for unwritten work was presented to Mrs. A. H. Honey. Mrs. E. J. Adcock, noble grand, presided.

A report on the Rebekah state secretaries and scribes meeting held recently in Odessa was given by Mrs. Earl Wilson. Members of Lodge 284 presented a Rebekah memorial service.

A salad supper followed Tuesday's business meeting. Guests included Mrs. Charlie Boland, a member of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153, who served as pianist. Those honored for their birthdays were Mrs. Adcock and Mrs. Benford.

Carl Bradleys Move To Jayton

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. Carl Bradley and son have moved to Jayton where she will teach in the school system. She is the former Glenda Jo Rees, daughter of the Choppie Rees.

Nights Are Good

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Let me tell you how I handled the "snoring husband" problem: For years I slept beside him and had many sleepless nights because I just didn't want separate bedrooms. I finally took a look at myself and reasoned that my husband would rather have a rested, loving wife in the morning than what I had become, so I explained that I wanted to hug him until he fell asleep — then I'd go into the guest room to sleep, and the first one awake in the morning would come to the other's room to be together.

Nothing has worked out better. I usually wake up first, take the pins out of my hair, brush my teeth, and apply a few dabs of his favorite perfume — then I plug in the coffee and quietly slip into bed with him. In a few minutes he smells the perfume and coffee and we enjoy a sweet time of being together. He seems much happier now than he has been in all our 26 years of marriage.

This works out so much better than a whole night of tossing. Each night we thank the Lord for each other, and we do it together. A couple becomes so close when they pray together. So tell the wives of snorers to do what I did, and not to forget the prayer — or the perfume.

GRATEFUL AND HAPPY
DEAR G. AND H.: Beautiful. But this arrangement is possible only after the kids have left home. Or for childless couples with guest rooms. For the less fortunate I recommend adhesive tape for his mouth and ear plugs for her ears, or a gentle jab in the ribs accompanied by "Roll over darling, you sound like a 747."

DEAR ABBY: This is a delayed answer to "Believer in Buffalo," whose objection to your stand on "living wills" was printed in your June 5th column

Marry In Morning Ceremony

Miss Donna Lynn Brewer became the bride of Lester Leroy Hanson in a ceremony performed at 10 a.m., today in the First Church of God, 2009 Main. The Rev. Edwin Beasley, church pastor, officiated for the nuptial rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Pauline Travland, No. 24, Chaparral Trailer Park. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hanson, 1608 Young.

The newlyweds will make their home at 1104 Birdwell Lane.

Comanche Trail LGA Sponsors Luncheon

Comanche Trail Ladies Golf Association members and their guests from Big Spring Country Club and Webb AFB groups, and other towns to be represented are Lamesa, Stanton, Snyder and Big Lake.

The women golfers were reminded that the monthly Play Day West will be held at the municipal golf course Aug. 28. Coffee and donuts will be served at 8:30 a.m.

with play to start at 9 a.m. Locally, golfers will be from the country club, Muny and Webb AFB groups, and other towns to be represented are Lamesa, Stanton, Snyder and Big Lake.

LGA announced that annual membership dues are $3, with Ladies' Day being every Tuesday and covered dish luncheons slated the fourth Tuesday of each month. Beginners are welcome to join the members for play any Tuesday.

Mrs. Wakie Buchanan, president of Comanche Trail

Westbrook Activities

FORSAN (SC) — Sam Cowley, Henderson, is a guest of his brother and sister-in-law, the S. C. Cowleys. The group visited sisters of the Cowley men, Mrs. Kathryn Goodrich, Lamesa; and Mrs. Burt Martin, Seagraves. They also visited the Bobby Martins of Seagraves.

The E. M. Baileys and daughter, Kathy, were in Canyon recently where Miss Bailey registered for classes at West Texas University.

The A. J. McCalls and Mrs. Frank Swiger recently visited the L. D. Parkers in O'Donnel. The McCalls recently visited their daughter, Mrs. W. E. Cagle of Tatum, N.M.; and McCalls' sister, Mrs. E. E. Martin, Muleshoe.

Guests of Mrs. H. H. Story were her brother and sister-in-law, the E. J. Stocktons, and a nephew and his wife, the Joe Stocktons, all of Colorado City; and a niece, Mrs. B. J. Petty, Warrensburg, Mo.

The George Beards have returned to San Angelo following a visit with their daughter and family, the Hamlin Elrods. Other guests included Mrs. Elrod's cousin and his wife, the Jack Beards of Beaumont.

Residents Attend Dinner, Reunion

WESTBROOK (SC) — Those attending a fish fry and Moody family reunion recently in Hico were the Herman Moodys, the Jimmy Moodys, Mrs. A. C. Moody, the Forrest Whitesides, the J. A. Moodys, Leo Thompson and Mrs. Wayne Pierce and children.

here. (Delayed because I was in the hospital.)

It seems to me that "Believer," not you, is the one who thinks she's God. "God determines who shall die and when," she says. Why isn't she willing to let Him? Why does she insist that men use all those gadgets to thwart His will?

As for myself, my viewpoint is halfway between the two extremes of doing nothing and doing a ridiculous amount of interference. I want to live as long as my brain is active, and will use all available help in doing so. When my brain goes, I'll be dead anyhow and would prefer not to have the rest of my body kept artificially alive.

Woman Legislator Praised By Caucus

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Women's Political Caucus said today that its first "Woman of the Year Award" will go to Rep. Sarah Weddington, D-Austin.

The award will be presented at the state convention of the Texas caucus opening today in San Antonio.

Mrs. Weddington is the first woman state representative ever elected from Travis County, and was instrumental in passage of several bills in the recent legislature. She argued successfully before the U.S. Supreme Court in favor of repealing Texas abortion law. She and her husband operate a law firm in Austin.

She graduated from McMurry College in 1965 and from the University of Texas Law School in 1967. She has served as assistant city attorney of Fort Worth before coming to Austin.
