Crash Friday Proves Fatal To BS Man

Frank J. Schiffmacher, 53, of Southland Apts., Big Spring, died at the scene of a two-vehicle accident four miles north of Big Spring on state highway 350 around 8:55 p.m. Friday.

Two other men, John David Cram of Phoenix, Ariz. and David Lee Sellers of Snyder, are in critical condition at Medical Center Memorial Hospital.

All three men were pinned in the wreckage, according to the report of the investigating highway patrolmen. Cram, who was driver of a pickup headed north on 350 and attempting a U turn, was pinned underneath the vehicle. The dead man, who was a passenger in the pickup, was pinned in the cab.

Sellers, 22, who resides at 3701 Sunset in Snyder, was trapped in the car he was driving. Sellers is suffering from a chest injury and is in intensive care at Medical Center Hospital where he is reported to be in critical condition.

Cram, 41, of 141 N. 34th in Phoenix, is in guarded condition with severe head injuries at Medical Center.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice pronounced Schiffmacher dead at the scene at 9:10 p.m. Services are pending at Nalley-Pickie Funeral Home awaiting the arrival of a son from Phoenix.

Billy Jack Priest, assisted by Don Bates and Jimmy Parks investigated the accident, also assisted by members of the Howard County sheriff's office.

Freeze Upheld On Beef Price

Reviewing the ... Big Spring Week ... with Joe Pickle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal appellate court upheld the beef price freeze Saturday, rejecting meat industry contentions that the Cost of Living Council was arbitrary, capricious and exceeded its authority.

A three-judge special U.S. Appeals Court panel said it is clear the Pacific Coast Meat Jobbers Association Inc. and the National Association of Meat Purveyors Inc. "had not made the showing necessary to entitle them to a preliminary injunction."

The decision upheld a ruling on Aug. 6 by U.S. District Court Judge Robert F. Peckham in San Francisco.

"For several reasons," the appeals court said, "it was entirely reasonable for the C.L.C. to decide to keep the ceiling on beef longer than on other meats."

"There was evidence to show that beef prices were rising faster than other meat prices and that live poultry, sheep and swine were being destroyed, while beef was only being withheld from the market," the court said.

Civic leaders were expecting better news when Fred Lorenzo, president of Texas International Airlines, arrived here to discuss the future of his firm's operations at the Howard County Airport.

Reports had already filtered in that TIA would continue to offer service to two New Mexico cities, Hobbs and Carlsbad, as well as to Brownwood. Lorenzo was quick to throw cold water on the local delegation's hopes and the Big Spring committee was just as quick to announce it would fight the airline's plans to drop Big Spring from its route.

The TIA executive said his board of directors decided to maintain service in Hobbs and Carlsbad because they were "isolated" communities, whereas Big Spring was in easy driving distance of the Midland Air Terminal. Lorenzo looked somewhat surprised when someone pointed out that Hobbs was about as close to the Midland airport as is Big Spring.

Lorenzo suggested that the Big Spring delegation contact "feeder" airlines to provide air service into Big Spring. TIA once enjoyed that status before it suffered growing pains.

There was open speculation that Midland would eventually lose Continental Airlines because Continental is growing and has ambitions in-

Brothers Buried In One Casket

ALPHARETTA, Ga. (AP) — Two brothers, inseparable in life, were buried in one casket Friday because their father said he wanted them to be together in death.

Services for 11-year-old Donald and 13-year-old Jerry Waldrop, killed in the largest mass murder in the U.S. history, were held in their father's hometown more than two years after they were slain in Texas.

The boys' bodies were found last week along with 25 others dumped in graves around the Houston area in a homosexual sex and torture ring.

Two Texas youths have been charged with murder and they have implicated a third man, now dead.

The brothers disappeared from a friend's home in Houston in 1971.

Taylor Tax-Payers Are Given Break

ABILENE — Taylor County commissioners have voted a 10-cent reduction in the county tax rate, the first change in 20 years.

County Judge Roy Skaggs said the reduction was possible due to federal revenue-sharing money the county will get.

The new rate will be 70 cents for every $100 of evaluation, based on 25 per cent of the market value.

Commissioner J. T. McMillon said "the people are entitled to some of the benefits of revenue sharing through lower taxes" at the county level.

Do I Ride Forever, One Lad Might Ask

The first day of school was a little rough for one kindergarten child.

A five-year-old was reported missing to city police after he failed to come home on the school bus.

The teacher had placed the boy on the correct bus, but nobody ever did tell him where to get off. He was located at the end of the line around 6:20 p.m. after all children had been left at their respective school zone bus stops and the driver had one left over.

OF ACCUSED MASS MURDERER Son 'Was Used,' Says Mary West

HOUSTON (AP) — "I'm in trouble ... I'm going to drop out of sight ... I could take an overdose." According to his mother, those were the words Aug. 4 of Dean A. Corli.

Four days later, Corli's death triggered disclosure of the sex-torture slayings of 27 young boys, the nation's worst case of confirmed mass murder.

But, says Mary West, she is confident her son's name will be cleared.

"He was used," she told Beverly Harris of the Houston Chronicle Friday in an interview at her home in Manitou Springs, Colo., a resort community in the shadow of Pike's Peak.

"HAPPY TO SAY"

In a copyrighted story for Sunday editions, The Chronicle said Mrs. West is so confident of her son's innocence that she said, "I am more than happy to say what I have to say."

Mrs. West said she had not seen her son in five years, but was in frequent telephone contact with him.

Corli, 33, the alleged leader of a homosexual ring, was shot to death at his suburban Pasadena home Aug. 8. Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, told police he killed Corli during a party when Corli threatened him and two young companions, one a teen-age girl.

Mrs. West, trembling at times, told of the telephone conversation four days before the shooting when Corli said he was in trouble and considering "an overdose."

"You're not on dope?" she asked, recalling that she was startled by the statement.

"No," she quoted him as replying. "But it would be one way of getting out of this."

She said she told her then, "I can't talk about it," and she didn't pursue the problem.

Looking back, she said she believes she must have called her "right after those last two murders. He found out what those boys were doing."

Presumably, "those boys" she referred to were Henley and David O. Brooks, 18, both indicted on charges of murder in the case.

"Don't, taking your life will not solve your problems ... You'll have to carry your problems to your next life, so you might as well start now," she said she told him.

"Mother, it might be easier to start over in another life," he replied.

"The Sunday before he was killed, I called him. There was no answer all day. That night, about 7 o'clock, he answered the phone and said, 'I've been dodging somebody.'"

Old Settlers Reunion Is Slated Friday In Park

Highlighted by an Indian dance exhibition and an old fiddlers contest, the 49th annual Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers Reunion is slated Friday in Comanche Trail Park.

In commemoration of the event, which is open to the public, Mayor Wade Choate has proclaimed the week beginning today as Old Settlers Week in Big Spring.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. and events get under way at 10 with an introduction by Master of Ceremonies Bill Birrell of KHEM followed by music by Dr. Gale Kilgore, Pete Jenkins and the Howard County Play Boys.

The morning will continue with a history of Howard and Glasscock Counties given by Leslie Kelly, HCJC history instructor, and an award presentation to the oldest man and oldest woman settlers, the settler married to the same spouse the longest number of years, the settler attending the most reunions and the settler travelling the greatest distance to attend.

Lunch will be at noon after a memorial to the oldest settlers and an invocation given by Dr. Claude Craven, Trinity Baptist Church. Cost is $2.

Events will resume at 1:30 p.m. with the horseshoe pitching contest and a drawing for an oil painting by Mrs. Sis Buzbee.

Authentic Indian dancing will begin at 2 with performances by the Order of the Arrow and Indian Lore Explorers Post, a group which has competed in true Indian dances in five states.

The afternoon will wind up with the old fiddlers contest and awards beginning at 2:50 p.m. and more music until 4:30.

Final event of the day will be a dance from 8:30 to 12:30 in the pavilion with music by Dr. Kilgore, Pete Jenkins and the Play Boys. Cost is $1.50 a person.

Among donors to the reunion are Sis Busbee, Bob Brock Ford, Herman Wilkerson, Dean Claim Service, Hazel Lamar, Tom Buckner, Dr. Otto Wolfe, Clyde McMahon Concrete Co., Cecil Wasson, Clay Reid, Vernon's Liquor Store, Hobby Center, J. C. Eudy, McMillan Printing Co., Emmitt Grantham, Simon Terrazas, Jack Buchanan, Akin M. Simpson, Walter Grice, A. G. Mitchell, Decoy Coffee Co., Anderson Music Co. and Wade Choate. COOPERATIVE EFFORTS MISSING

Outlook For Neglected Child Is Bleak Here

By MARJ CARPENTER

"Have suitcase; will travel." This is the plight of the dependent and neglected child, anywhere, but especially if they are in an area where there is a breakdown on cooperative efforts between the county and state welfare offices.

Howard County may be the largest county left in Texas without a cooperative effort between the agencies. Many smaller counties offer this service, where the county pays fees for state approved child welfare homes.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell says that Howard County includes child welfare in their county welfare office. Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, said there is some $6,000 in the county budget for foster homes, clothing and medication for needy children.

NOTHING CAME OF IT

Judge Mitchell said that "I understand at one time, we discussed matching funds with the state and coming up with a cooperative program but nothing ever came of it. Our children are looked after through the county welfare office, who seek volunteers to help when needed."

During the past few weeks, a typical welfare problem has developed here. A five year old boy, who some three years ago was either taken from, or given away, by his real mother to other relatives, was apparently becoming unnecessary to the relatives and they were seeking a place to put him.

For a while, the child was apparently hospitalized and it was discovered that he should be dismissed from the hospital. The adults involved also tried to leave the child at the police station.

An attorney was contacted and he told the police to remind the adults that abandoning a child was against the law.

The district court deemed the child dependent and neglected and requested the state welfare officials to locate an approved foster home for temporary residence for the child.

Apparently, children so deemed in Howard County sometimes end up in these approved homes in Ector, Midland and Andrews counties. This particular child was placed in a foster home in Andrews County while awaiting a decision. That County has a census population of a little over 10,000.

CHECKED BY DOCTOR

While there, the little boy was checked by a pediatrician and also prepared to attend kindergarten this school term.

Then, the real mother of the child was located and arrived from another state to claim the child.

The child had no memory of his real parent, so the court set up a short waiting period to allow the child to meet the mother.

Memories by the child are at best, confused, and even include — either imaginary or real — being placed at one time in some type of cage.

The district court is often faced with the problem of needing to remove a child very quickly from his environment, due to impossible situations.

Judge Mitchell and Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare officer, said that Howard County adequately takes care of all dependent and delinquent children when requested and that they have local foster homes in which to place them.

Admitting that their foster homes are not state approved, Judge Mit-

Many Famous People Stopped At Local Port

By MARJ CARPENTER

An announcement this week that Texas International may take the last vestige of an airlines out of Big Spring sent longtime airport supporters into a tizzy.

Local citizens are requesting the Civil Aeronautics Board to please leave them an airline service. And some of the long-time citizens looked backward to the hey-day of the Big Spring Airport and all of the work that went into it.

They consider it "a crime to cut us completely out of air service after the history of the airport here."

There was a day in the 30s when Big Spring was the only air stop between Dallas and El Paso. Bradshaw Photo Studios used to go out to the airport and take pictures of notables that stop and still have a lot of these pictures in their files.

There were four flights a day. There was, of course, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, mentioned earlier as flying in as co-pilot on the first plane that brought in airmail to Big Spring.

NOTABLES STOP
Then one day in the spring of 1933, the President's wife came to town. She was Eleanor Roosevelt and she was on a lecture tour and flying to the West Coast. She got off the plane and waved to a large crowd of visitors at the local airport. The days of the WPA, CCC, PWA and NRA and the recovery from the depression were just beginning.

A couple of years before that, Will Rogers came through Big Spring. Shine Phillips, who later wrote a history of Big Spring, was among the group greeting Will at the airport.
W. T. Strange Jr. tried to give Rogers a baby opossum, but Rogers said he didn't want to "take it away from his mother." All of the people who joked and laughed with Will Rogers that day at the airport grieved with the rest of the nation when he died in a plane crash in Alaska Aug. 15, 1935.

AND WRONG WAY
Surely you remember Wrong Way Corrigan. Back in 1938 when he came to Big Spring, he didn't say whether he was going the wrong or the right way. He just waved happily at everybody. Nat Shick, postmaster here for many years, was one of those who greeted him.

BIG DERBY
Wrong Way had baffled the aeronautics board when they refused to let him retrace the Lindbergh Route. They gave him permission to travel to California and when he landed in Ireland, he made his famed explanation "Oh dear, I flew the wrong way."

One of the most exciting times at the airport was when Ruth Chatterton, star of silent movies and movies in the early thirties, sponsored an Airplane Derby across the United States that stopped on one of the laps at Big Spring.

Big Spring entertained the fliers with a big barbecue in the city park. Ruth Chatterton, who had not planned to appear in public did so, and even took off her sun glasses and posed for a picture. "I like this informal reception under the trees," she stated. "Everywhere else, they entertained with a formal reception."

It was a light-hearted group that flew into Big Spring. Leader of the first lap was Frank Speckel, the sugar heir who was one of the nation's top playboys at that time. His navigator was a young woman who had gotten angry and thrown his maps out the window, but he won anyway.

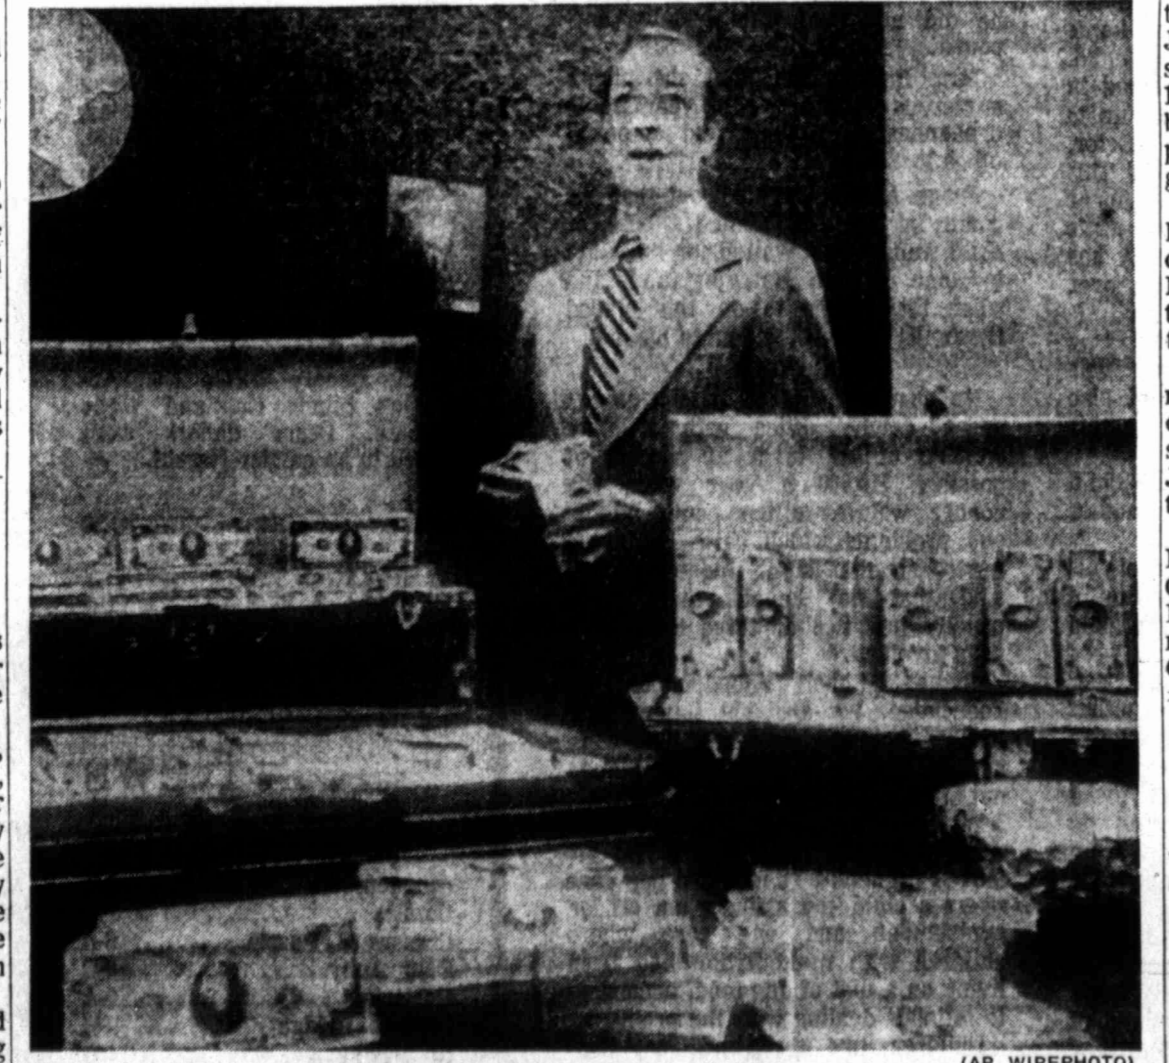

CAME BY TRUCK
C. A. Crabtree had trouble and landed in Wink and paid a farmer to put his plane on the back of a truck and drive him to Big Spring.
A debutante from London landed the first woman-piloted plane in the derby and the first plane to take off piloted by a woman was flown by a young Chinese.

One plane set the grass on fire and the local firemen got a workout. Leland Hayward, business manager for Kathryn Hepburn, was in second place when the planes landed here.
The photographers went up in a plane and took a picture of the 36 planes on the airport runway. It included eight Stinsons, five Monocoups, three Fairchilds, three Wacos, two Great Lakes and two Cessnas and one each of many other types of planes.

FLYING BOOSTERS
Back in 1938, Big Spring also had a group of Flying Boosters who flew around advertising Big Spring events. Flying to Fort Worth one day to appear on a radio program advertising the Cowboy Reunion and rodeo were Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Malone, Jess Slaughter, J. H. Greene, Mrs. Ann Houser, Mrs. W. Reed, Mrs. R. E. Blount and Miss Ruby Bell.
Big Spring was flying high and was the first West Texas town to really back air transportation.

They still think they have a need for it here.

ONE MILLION IN BOGUS TWENTIES—Horace J. Gibbs, Secret Service agent-in-charge of San Francisco bureau stands in back of $1.2 million in counterfeit $20 bills seized after agents arrested four men and broke up a major counterfeiting. One million was recovered Friday night in Hayward and the remaining $200,000 was seized in Salinas Thursday night.

Stance By Agnew Is Likely To Boost Political Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP) — In defense against allegations of political kickbacks, Spiro T. Agnew has asserted a vice presidential independence from the White House that few of his predecessors were able to accomplish.
Agnew's political rise or fall will depend on the outcome of the criminal investigation. But if he is cleared, Agnew's stance is likely to strengthen his chances for the presidency in 1976.

and in a style that is in marked contrast to President Nixon's handling of the Watergate affair.

VEEP OPTS
The vice president has opted for an outspoken course of action, despite reported advice from the White House to keep silent.
"I think the vice president of the United States should stand on his own feet," Agnew declared at an Aug. 8 news conference in which he denounced as "damned lies" charges that he accepted payoffs from private contractors in exchange for government contracts before, during and after he was Maryland governor.

"Although I welcome the President's support . . . I think the office of vice president is an important enough one that the man has to stand on his own feet, so I'm not spending my time looking around to see who's supporting me," Agnew said. "I'm defending myself."

The comment was prompted by newsmen who questioned just how much support Agnew was receiving from the President.
White House spokesmen have said the investigation "does not diminish or change the President's confidence in the vice president." Other than that, there has been no ringing endorsement of Agnew such as Nixon gave aides John D. Ehrlichman and H. R. Haldeman when they resigned in April over the furor of Watergate.

Liner Andrea Doria Is Selfish About Cargo

FAIRHAVEN, Mass. (AP) — An estimated $4 million in sunken treasure remains in the luxury liner Andrea Doria today despite a $250,000 effort to recover it.
The costly 26-day recovery expedition ended with just a few pieces of silver to show for the effort, leaving a wealth of jewels, cash and other valuables in the hulk of the Italian liner.

The crew said it was unable to retrieve the treasures of the ship.

"We reached the point in the ship where the purser's office, the jewelry store and the bank were supposed to be, but they just weren't there," said Robert Coffey, one of the support divers.

Two Navy aquanauts hacked through the hull of the wreck, only to find its interior a tangle of treacherous rubble after 17 years on the ocean bottom.
The diving team returned to Fairhaven on Friday with four trays, a spoon and a bottle of perfume, estimated to be worth about $2,000.
Meanwhile, 40 miles off Nantucket, the bulk of the sunken treasure remains guarded by sharks and a morass of twisted wire and wood that threatens the lives of future salvagers.

Unusual Account Is Told Police

Copperas Cove law officials are seeking an Opel two door bronze colored car that may be at a Fina station in this area.
They reported that a man, who has temporary amnesia, has been picked up by their department. He vaguely remembers hitting a deer. He also recalls a highway patrolman giving him a blue form to fill out and thinks the accident occurred between Sweetwater and Midland.
The man apparently received a head injury without realizing it, and later left the car at a station to be repaired.
Anyone with any information should call the local sheriff's office.

THE WEEK

ternationally. Continental once served Big Spring and started as a feeder line.

Incidentally, Santa Fe, N.M., Galveston and College Station are among other cities which have been deprived of TIA services.

Texas International, which lost about $20 million over a period of six of seven years, expects to finish in the black this fiscal year.

Work is getting under way on a 65-bed Stanton nursing home. The firm (Christian Care Inc.) which will operate the facility was told it could acquire more property, in event the need arose for adding to it. Indications are the nursing home will grow.

The county commission justified a 15 per cent pay increase for all county employees by pointing to the fact that "the cost of living has gone up."
The employees were told that the raise would endure only if the federal government continues sending revenue-sharing checks to the county, but such decisions are rarely revoked under any circumstances, no matter what kind of financial problems arise.

Rare is the local school child who didn't grumble at the thought of returning to classes "in the middle of summer."
School began here last Thursday and a lot of kids wonder aloud where summer had gone.
However, they face the prospect of numerous holidays over the school year, as well as winding up a week earlier in May than in 1972.

For instance, the pupils will have four days away from classes prior to the Christmas holidays and the Yule recess will extend from Dec. 20 until Jan. 2.
This kind of schedule is, no doubt, better for students and teachers alike. It gives everyone a chance to occasionally recharge their batteries, so to speak.

The local schools will try to live with a record budget of $7,273,895, an outlay that dictates a tax increase of five cents per $100 evaluation.
Of that amount, nearly $5 million will go into paychecks of the administration, the teaching staff and maintenance personnel.

The money will be turned over (or plowed back) into the Big Spring economy many times. It's a big budget but most of it will be spent locally.

After revising the budget calling for expenditures of $4,188,262 (506,935 of which hopefully will come in the form of revenue-sharing money from Washington), the city's commissioners approved a merit pay plan for city employees.
Under the plan, the better workers would benefit the most from the system. Old employees will be rated each year, the new ones after six months.
The increases will be paid out of a surplus expected to be $239,092.

Because the income failed to match the outgo by $13,000 annually, the city has raised green fees at the Comanche Trail Golf Course to $3 for weekends and $1.75 for week days.
Some linksters are grumbling that the game has become too expensive for them but the new prices compare favorably with any course in the country, and are far more modest than the rates charged by many.

Two Men Injured In Truck Crash

A semi-trailer truck belonging to Tyler Pipe Truck, driven by James Harkness of Tyler, was struck from behind Saturday at 10 a.m. on IS 20 near Westbrook after the driver had gotten out of the shoulder and poked out to check the tires.
Investigating officers said an H. W. Phillips Produce truck driven by Cecil Melton, Memphis, Tenn., plowed into the parked truck, according to the investigating report.
Melton was thrown out and received extensive bruises and cuts. Another driver in the sleeper of the produce truck, J. Behr of Arkansas, was treated for a bruised hip.
Both men were treated at Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City and released. Investigating highway patrolman was Bruce Flint of Colorado City.

Eunice Thixton Awarded Degree

Eunice Thixton of Big Spring was awarded her BS in elementary education at ASU in San Angelo Friday night. She teaches physical education at Elbow.
Other Big Spring citizens awarded degrees include Vicki Lou Finley, BBA; Martha Ann Hughes Newton, BS; Joan Richey, BS; and Suzanne Shepard, associate of science and nursing.

Watts Festival Attracts Guardsmen And Police

LOS ANGELES (AP) — National Guardsmen and police returned to Watts this week, eight years after they put down one of the nation's bloodiest race riots.
This time, however, the air was filled with balloons instead of bullets and the ground was littered with confetti instead of bodies.

The Watts Summer Festival has been the largest of a number of community projects to spring out of the 1965 rubble.
Law enforcement agencies and military personnel became more involved this year. Mostly they were there to recruit as were representatives of several trade schools.

The main cause of the 1965 riot, in which 34 persons in the mostly black area were killed, was unemployment, according to a city commission report. At the time of the riot, one-third of Watts residents aged 18 to 24 were out of work. The figure has risen to 45 per cent this year.

PREVENTIVE PLAN

It was largely to prevent another Watts riot that the festival was started.
The seeds of another riot "have potentially been there for a long time," says Johnny Scott, a spokesman for State Assemblyman Leon Ralph, who represents the district. "But this festival gives the people something they can point with pride to. It is necessary for people to come together, to have an alternative."
"A Better Watts, a Better World," is the theme of this year's festival and the characteristic that makes the 1973 affair stand out from the six previous ones is the great number of educational, informational and service booths set up in Will Rogers Park, the site of a police command post during the riot.

Watts was known only as a small black community in south central Los Angeles on that oppressively hot and humid August evening in 1965 when the arrest of a black teenager involved in a minor traffic accident touched off the riot. For five days, thousands of blacks burned buildings, looted and attacked law enforcement and fire personnel.

Alligator Kills 16-Year-Old Fem

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — "I grabbed her hair, but it kept pulling me down too," said the father of a 16-year-old girl who died after being mauled by an alligator as she was swimming.

A state wildlife official said that, if an autopsy confirms that the alligator killed the girl, it would be the first documented case in Florida.

Bert Russell Holmes said he and his daughter, Sharon Elaine, were swimming in a lake at Oscar Sherer State Park south of Sarasota on Florida's lower Gulf Coast during a family outing Thursday.

He said his daughter was in the middle of the five-acre lake and he was standing in shallow water when she suddenly yelled for help.

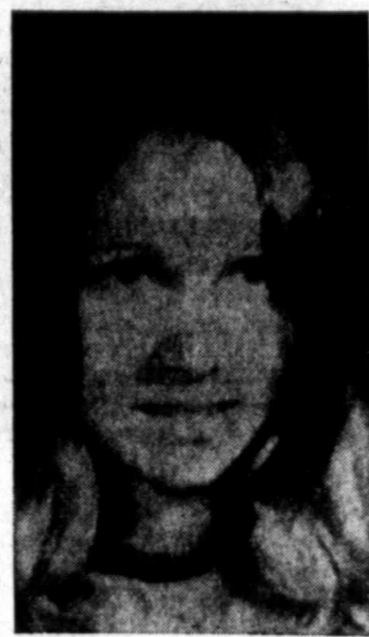

"She screamed 'Daddy' like something had got a hold of her," said Holmes. "I turned around and looked, but Sharon wasn't even in sight."

"Then I saw her hand come up for just a moment," Holmes said. He said he swam to where he had seen the hand flash on the surface and after some searching managed to grab her hip-length blond hair but couldn't pull her to the surface.

"I dove again and again," said Holmes.

The mangled body of Miss Holmes was found on the lake's bank. Several hours later, after divers had searched the lake, the it was guarded by a 10-foot alligator which crawled into the water as officers approached.

"We killed the alligator Friday morning and found a hand and an elbow in its stomach,"

GATOR VICTIM — A 16-year-old Sarasota girl died Thursday night when she apparently was attacked by an alligator while swimming. Sharon Elaine Holmes' body was found about midnight after an exhaustive search that lasted more than three hours.

Deputy Eddie Palmer said. The Sarasota County medical examiner said an autopsy report would be released Monday.

Adults Using Facilities

Dispelling somewhat of a myth, county librarian Larry Justiss said that adult usage of the library facilities equals and probably surpasses that of school students.

Businessmen and other adult non-students are beginning to use the facilities more frequently as the basic stock of materials is strengthened.

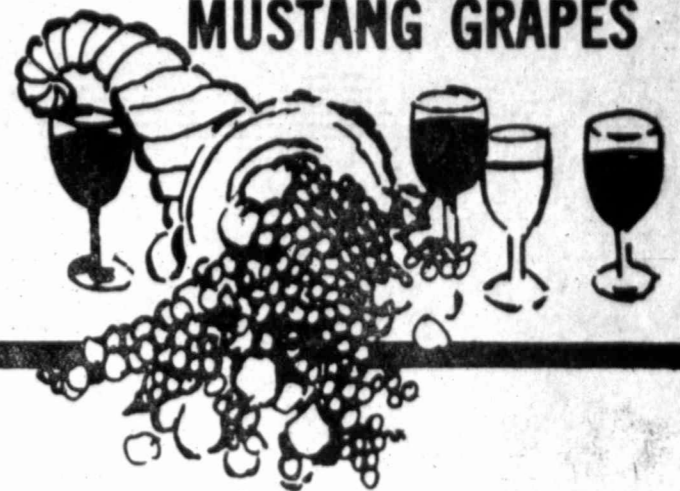

Among materials available in the adult line are a complete stock and bond service, daily Wall Street Journals, Civic service test study guides, a master guide to federal income tax and census reports.

Justiss said the start-up of school is expected to increase the number of adults using the library. He explained that adult usage is usually up during the months in which children are in school. "Parents have more leisure time on their hands while the children are in school," he noted.

During the summer, the trend is reversed. Students through with their studies for a while, can devote more time to reading for fun.

"I've got a lot of things in mind to increase adult flow although I have not yet put them to action," said Justiss. "First I want to build up our basic stock of materials, then I plan several promotion programs."

Sissy Farenthold Says She Isn't Leader In Movement

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas liberal Democrats applauded Mrs. Farenthold's comment Saturday that Frances "Sissy" Farenthold is "leading a movement" to impeach President Nixon, but Mrs. Farenthold quickly denied it.

But Mrs. Farenthold said, "I'm just working in the realm of public education. It hasn't gone any further than that. I'm not leading a drive at this point, but I think we need to look at it (impeachment)."

She received a standing ovation before she spoke to approximately 125 persons, including 65 delegates from the new liberal group, which was organized in Houston April 7. Her speech was the keynote address.

In the audience were Harry Hubbard, new president of the Texas AFL-CIO; Goffrey Connolly of San Antonio, brother of former Texas Democratic Gov. John Connally, who switched to the Republican Party in May; and Billie Carr of Houston, a member of the National Democratic Executive Committee.

Mrs. Farenthold, runnerup last year for governor and vice president, urged the delegates not to replace the "Republican leadership we have today with a mediocre Democratic Party."

She warned that "neither party means much to the people of this nation, or the state."

She said the group should not mean about the "establishment" because "there is so little organization in this state that there are vast numbers (of people) to recruit."

Also a former state House member from Corpus Christi, Mrs. Farenthold said if there had been a place for her in the Nueces County Democratic Party, "I never would have run for public office."

She said, "I don't want to see us go backwards" on Sen. George McGovern's guidelines for party participation.

Georgia Case Is Cited As Vehicle For Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has told the Supreme Court that a Georgia suit offers the perfect vehicle for deciding whether the president has the right to impound funds mandated by Congress.

"We submit that this controversy constitutes one of those extraordinary and important cases which ought to be taken directly by this court," said Robert H. Bork, the solicitor general, in a motion filed Friday with the Supreme Court. He joined Georgia in asking the court to hear the state's suit, which seeks to force the administration to release all funds appropriated by Congress for three programs.

The suit was filed after President Nixon authorized for the states $6 billion less than Congress appropriated in 1973 under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act and $1.1 billion less under the Federal Aid Highway Act.

Estimates of the total amount the President has impounded range from the $8.7 billion figured by the White House to the $18 billion claimed by some congressional sources. Nixon has said he will withhold funds whenever necessary to fight inflation.

Georgia maintains in its suit that the impoundments adversely affected the interests of the state.

Bork said in his motion that 37 suits challenging the president's power to control the rate of spending on some congressionally enacted programs, or to decrease the amounts spent on others, are now scattered through the district and appeals courts.

He said the Georgia suit affords other states the opportunity to join in protesting the impoundments.

Iceberg Water; It Could Solve A World Problem

"The good Lord has stored this water high and in frozen form for man to use as soon as he desperately needs it," Thomas "Ice Is Where You Find It" Capley News Service.

The time may not be too far off when coastal residents in Australia, South America and California will gaze out to sea and view icebergs on the horizon.

No, this won't be heralding the coming of a new Ice Age. What it will herald is the true age of Aquarius, the Water Bearer.

For the first time, water-short nations are casting covetous eyes at a phenomenon of nature which has long been considered useless — the antarctic iceberg.

Antarctica annually creates enough icebergs to equal the entire rainfall of the continental United States.

LIKE SOAP

Unlike their jagged, unstable counterparts that break off the Greenland ice shelf and menace North Atlantic shipping lanes, the antarctic icebergs, resembling gigantic bars of soap — one-half to 10 miles long and 600 to 1,000 feet deep.

Due to the circular ocean currents in the southernly latitudes, these huge bergs tend to float around in the Antarctic Ocean rather than drift northward.

However, bergs have been towed northward. In the late 1800s small icebergs were towed by steamships from Laguna San Rafael, Chile, to arid Callao, Peru, a distance of 2,400 miles, to be melted down for water.

The idea of towing icebergs to a port and melting them for a freshwater source wasn't seriously reposed until the early 1950s when Prof. John Isaacs of Scripps Institution of Oceanography, La Jolla, Calif., laid out a plan for towing an average-size 10-billion-ton antarctic berg all the way to Southern California.

Isaacs' much publicized, but unpublished, report estimated it would take six oceangoing tugboats generating 80,000 horsepower to bring a berg up from Antarctica.

The cost back in the 1950s was expected to run around a cool $1 million but the berg was expected to produce an even cooler $100 million worth of fresh water.

FEASIBLE

But the iceberg theory is not without controversy. There are presently two published reports on icebergs as a freshwater source which differ greatly as to the successful scope of such a venture.

According to W. F. Weeks of the Army's Cold Regions Research and Engineering Laboratory and W. J. Campbell of the U.S. Geological Survey, "the idea is highly attractive when applied to selected locations in the Southern Hemisphere and appears both technologically feasible and economically attractive."

Weeks and Campbell believe that a "super tug" with two-thirds the power of the nuclear aircraft carrier Enterprise could deliver an iceberg to Australia or southern South America with enough water to irrigate more than 6,000 square miles of land.

Weeks and Campbell estimate such a berg would be worth more than $1 billion based on the current production costs of a large-scale desalination plant.

However, a Rand Corp. study by physicist John Hult and chemical engineer Neill Ostrander believe, like Isaacs, that these huge tabular icebergs can be towed all the way to California.

In fact, Hult and Ostrander contend that if one can be towed, why can't several? They envision seagoing ice trains up to 50 miles long containing enough fresh water to fill one-third of the reservoir behind Hoover Dam.

Inflation Still Top Problem

Members of Congress can profit by their summer recess. It affords them a chance to talk with their constituents, which is always a good idea but an especially good one right now.

Many of those constituents may have the impression that the Watergate hearings represent the primary concern of the 93rd Congress. A wise senator or representative would do well to dispel that impression if he can.

For all the prime time and column inches given to Watergate, for all the time, effort and dollars spent in getting the full story of that affair into the open, we suggest that the average American has been able to keep the matter in better perspective than official Washington.

As Sen. Sam Ervin and members of his committee rush back and forth from their hearings to vote on legislation in the Senate chamber, we shudder to think how many other lawmakers are scurrying back and forth from a seat in front of a television set for the same purpose. Who's minding the shop?

Preoccupation with Watergate has clearly slowed the performance of Congress, which is a ponderous institution to begin with. Its accomplishments in seven months, aside from hawkshawing by investigating committees of both houses, will be hard for some members to enumerate when they are put on the spot back home.

Congressional quarterly's list of the 22 major items of legislation to come before Congress this year showed this week that only one had passed both houses and been signed by the President.

Odd State Of Affairs

The United States is not alone in having a food problem. Here, high prices are being experienced because of demand exceeding supply; at least that is the case in some commodities. Some of our difficulty can be traced to the grain sale to Russia, and large exports of corn which reduced the domestic supply, running up prices of grain and of livestock fed on that grain.

Well, the Soviet Union is still experiencing a grain shortage; this year's harvest isn't up to expectations, either.

Here, we are combating rising food prices by freezing price levels, a device so far marked

Harking back to the first of the year we recall that one of the overriding questions about the 93rd Congress was how responsibly it would treat the federal budget. On the plus side, the sustaining of President Nixon's veto of some "budget-busting" appropriation bills is a heartening sign that Congress may finally be awakening to the fact that even pork barrels have a bottom.

by spectacular failure, and limiting wages and profit rates.

In the Soviet Union, they are employing a different device. They are offering bonuses to grain farmers who produce greater crops, and plan to raise these bonuses still higher to encourage harder work and great efficiency.

In other words, we capitalists are fighting the battle with economic controls, while those Communists are resorting to free enterprise. Surely there must be a moral in all this somewhere, but for whom?

George Washington, born on the same day but not the same year as my grandfather — Papa Ladd — did not have wooden teeth, and he didn't chop down the cherry tree either.

THE CHERRY tree incident, for example, did not appear until the fifth edition of the book.

"All right then" the judge added, "tell me exactly what he said."

"He had 'Go ahead and shoot,' she said, 'You can't hit the side of a barn anyway.'"

He did. He was walking because he had to sell his car to pay the doctor's bill.

A Fantasy World

WASHINGTON — The weather had not been the greatest on Cape Cod that year, and I found myself spending a great deal of time playing the game of Monopoly with my children. This battle for real estate has probably been the most popular pastime for children for more than three decades and its appeal now is as great as it was when it first came out in 1935.

THE SURPRISING thing about Monopoly is that while inflation has taken its toll in this country, the prices for real estate on the Monopoly board have remained the same for 33 years. It's very hard for a parent to explain to his children how lucky they are that they can still purchase Marvin Gardens for only $280.

"In my day," I told my children, $280 was a lot of money, and you thought twice about buying Marvin Gardens before you plunked down cash for it. Now the minute you land on it, you throw the money down as if it were water."

"Do you want to buy it, or don't you?" my 13-year-old son demanded.

"DON'T RUSH me. If I buy Marvin Gardens, I'll have to buy Ventnor and Atlantic avenues, and they're really gone to seed in 30 years. I'll wind up with a bunch of tenements on my hands."

"Will you please roll the dice?"

"I'm just trying to impress on you the value of a dollar," I said. "Monopoly is more than a game. I don't want you kids growing up thinking you can buy the Pennsylvania Railroad for $200. The Reading Railroad, maybe — but not the Pennsylvania."

"If you don't roll, you'll miss your turn."

"Now hear me out," I said. "You children must understand that every piece of real estate on this board is undervalued. When I was a child, we mortgaged everything just to own a piece of the Boardwalk or Park Place. You kids don't appreciate Boardwalk and Park Place because you never had to work for them."

They pretended they didn't hear a word I said.

A dozen turns later I landed on "chance." The card I picked up said, "Go to jail. Do not pass go. Do not collect $200."

"WAIT A minute," I protested. "You can't just send a man to jail without charging him and advising him of his constitutional rights. Thirty years ago it could be done, but since then the Supreme Court has ruled that a man must be represented by a lawyer."

"You have to go to jail," my 10-year-old daughter said.

"I don't have to go to jail," I said. "Haven't you ever heard of the Mallory ruling or the Gideon case?"

My 12-year-old plunked my token in jail and took her turn. She landed on "Income tax: Pay 10 per cent or $200."

"That's ridiculous," I cried, looking at the stack of money in front of her. "You should be at least in the 40 per cent bracket. You own both the Water Works and the Electric Company. How do we pay for the war and the Great Society if you contribute only 10 per cent of your income?"

Badly Scarred

WASHINGTON — Going through the necessary soul-searching of deciding whether to fight a battle, or to run away from it, is far more difficult than the battle itself. — Richard Nixon in "Six Crises."

That is a clue to the ordeal of self-imposed silence President Nixon went through for three months. That other crisis — the so-called secret fund furnished by California businessmen — was as an antihill compared to a mountain when it comes to Watergate.

THE CRISIS in 1952 when he was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's running mate on the Republican ticket was relatively simple. He had to stand off the press attacks and the suspicions of party leaders and convince one man, that is Eisenhower, that he should not be dropped from the ticket.

Yet as he himself relates he went through an agony of self-doubt. He relates how as the attack grew in intensity the fight went out of him and he wondered how much more of this beating he could take. Expressing his doubts to his wife he said that he thought he should resign if that would help Eisenhower win. As he relates it, she scoffed at these doubts and insisted that he must rule resignation out.

But the self-torture went on. He describes how after a conference with four close advisers that lasted until 3 a.m. in a hotel room in Portland, he sat for another two hours brooding about how he could find a way out. This is a poignant picture, charged with his own feeling of the vigil of a wronged and lonely man.

Finally at 5 a.m. he made the basic decision to fight to stay on the ticket since, if he were to resign it would be an admission of guilt and it might cost Eisenhower the election. The next passage was equally revealing of the man in torment:

"Now the most difficult phase of the crisis was over — that agonizing period when I had to make the decision to fight the battle or to run away. Ahead of me were still three days of almost superhuman effort: Preparing for the battle and then the battle itself, a half-hour broadcast in which the slightest mistake might spell disaster for me, my family, and my party."

ALTHOUGH IN magnitude the crisis over the fund cannot be compared with the ordeal of Watergate, the circumstances in these turning points in Nixon's life are strikingly the same. He had begun his Vice Presidential tour in California in a state of euphoria, the darling of his party for his attack on the Communists and his prosecution of Alger Hiss. This was just as the charges on the fund surfaced in newspapers across the country.

The Watergate disclosures came after Nixon had won the greatest landslide in history carrying every state except Massachusetts. If he was not euphoric he was imbued with such confidence as to seem to put him beyond the common reach. His successes in foreign policy — China, the Soviet Union — lent a magisterial air to what he meant to be a triumphant second term.

Then came the descent into the pit. His April 10 speech in his own defense was found to be confused and contradictory. Even friends said privately that it had done more harm than good. His daughter, Julie Nixon Eisenhower, told reporters that he had seriously discussed resigning.

If a week of uncertainty caused him the anguish he relates in "Six Crises," one can only speculate on the ordeal of three months that ended with his speech Wednesday night. The President has been so isolated during this time that those who have had glimpses of him from time to time give conflicting reports. Some have seen him as confident and poised, while others found him tense and distracted.

No Signs Of Stampede In Phase 4

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Phase 4 opened this past week amid something less than a stampede toward higher prices, but among those posting notices were steel and auto makers whose prices have broad effects on the economy.

U.S. Steel Corp., biggest of the steel companies, joined other producers in notifying the Internal Revenue Service it plans to boost prices for sheet steel, the industry's largest single product.

The price of sheet steel, a basic material for autos and home appliances, hasn't been raised in 19 months. The price hike proposals would generally restore a 4.8 per cent increase delayed since June 17 by the Nixon administration's price freeze.

Armco Steel Corp., which led the price announcements, said its proposed boost of about 5 per cent would still fall "considerably short" of the dollar-for-dollar passthrough of increased costs allowed under Phase 4.

The latest phase of Nixon's economic program allows businesses to raise prices just enough to cover their own increased costs. Companies with annual sales of more than $100 million must give advance word to the IRS and can go ahead with increased prices 30 days later unless the hikes are regulated company and as such isn't subject to the usual IRS approval procedure. The Bell hikes had already been approved by state authorities but had been delayed by the price freeze.

The Commerce Department reported business inventories were up a record $2.6 billion in June and sales were off $248 million in their first drop of the year.

Growing inventories and falling sales are usually considered a sign of slackening business. But government economists contended that inventories were still low, the increase was partly a reflection of rising prices, and early July figures indicated a happier sales pattern.

American Telephone and Telegraph Co. said Bell System telephone companies were putting higher rates into effect in Florida, Massachusetts, Ohio, Oregon, Rhode Island and Texas. AT&T is a government-

Awe-Full Weicker

William F. Buckley Jr.

How should one say it about Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn? He is my very own senator, from my very own state, and I wish him all the best, but I do wish that before the hearings resume, he would go somewhere to dry out his lacrimal glands. If he weeps once more about the human condition on television, composing his features like a puppydog's, I would not be surprised to see a John Dean-for-President movement.

REALLY, IT is a wonder that Lowell Weicker can cross the street without stopping to bemoan the manners of motorists. If he had been the presiding judge at the trial of Willie Sutton, Willie would have died on the witness stand from old age. "Do you mean to sit there, Mr. Sutton, as an American, considering everything your country has done for you, back even before the Revolutionary War, and then the Civil War, and with all the traditions of honor, and justice, and respect for one's fellow man — Mr. Sutton, did you stop to consider all of that when you robbed the bank?"

How one yearns, after a colloquy between Sen. Weicker and a Watergate witness, for something of the flavor of the Sutton trial, of which a specimen exchange between prosecutor and witness was: "Why do you rob banks, Mr. Sutton?" "That's where the money is."

Consider Weicker interrogating John Mitchell, who admitted that Gordon Liddy had come to his office with a set of bizarre counter-intelligence proposals. Now everybody in the whole world, down to and including John-John taking his summer vacation in the Aegean, knows that John Mitchell was a) head of the Re-Elect Committee, and b) former Attorney General.

HERE IS what one has to go through on that point from L. W. "All right, eL's start at the beginning here, if we can, in going over the testimony that has been presented by you, and do some probing. I must confess, Mr. Mitchell, that as I have sat here and listened to your testimony the only difficulty I find with it is that it sometimes is difficult to realize that we have sitting before the committee not some administrative assistant to some deputy campaign director but we have the campaign director sitting before this committee, and indeed we don't have some deputy assistant Attorney General sitting before the committee, we have the Attorney General of the United States sitting before the committee. . . . Can you stand it?"

Precautions Are In Order

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When does the regular menstrual period start again after you have a baby?

I have heard it can begin as early as four weeks and as late as 10 weeks. My baby is seven weeks old and I haven't started yet. (I do not nurse the baby.)

I keep thinking I'm pregnant again because the periods haven't come yet—Mrs. S.E. The rule of thumb is that periods resume about eight weeks after delivery if you are not breast feeding, but it can be a little earlier or later. (Breast feeding can delay things somewhat, but it still is possible for periods to start again before you stop feeding.)

Thus you are well within normal limits, but there is no way to be entirely certain when ovulation — and periods — will resume. Ovulation will precede the first period, so there is a possibility of pregnancy before periods appear. In other words, precautions are in order while you wait for menstruation to resume.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I read in a doctor's column that it is possible to choose the sex of your children. I am not sure but I think it was your column. — Mrs. J.P. No, not in this column. There has been, and is, considerable study on how to control the sex of children before birth (in fact, it has to be before conception) but no great success has been achieved so far. It remains largely up to nature.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it peculiar for a 14-year-old girl to have a Pap smear? It seemed awfully early to start. — W. If there were any specific reason — a discharge, or blood — then a Pap smear would be in order.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I think I know about venereal disease as much as the average person, but I would like to know if a person has had a hysterectomy can she get gonorrhea? — M.W. Of course she can. You get it from V.D. germs.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

What is your view of what heaven is like, and should the average Christian have hope of somehow getting there? — J.W. One of the great antidotes to the frustration and despair of life is to think about heaven. In fact, we don't do it enough, and saying that does not make me an "escapist" of some sort.

Many of the Biblical figures describing heaven are physical — from the "firmament" in Genesis 1, to something "stretched out like a curtain" in Isaiah 40. In the New Testament, additional information is given that tends to spiritualize it. There it's often called the "kingdom of heaven."

Heaven is a place to be anticipated by the righteous — the "better country" as the writer in Hebrew 11 puts it. It is the abode of the Father, and there the believer in Christ will find his "reward" and his "treasure." Heaven is the realm of joy (Luke 15:7) and peace (Luke 19:38).

The description of heaven in the book of Revelation is highly pictorial, and provides the real language of Christian hope. Heaven represents the ultimate triumph of the purpose of God in a redeemed mankind.

Now as far as hope of getting there is concerned, the Bible guarantees it, when faith arranges it. But there are two unalterable prerequisites. Man's sin must be pardoned and his nature changed. Without that title and fitness for heaven, nobody could enter the kingdom of God. So you see, faith makes heaven the grand and happy finale to the drama of human life — thanks to Christ.

A Devotion For Today . . .

We know that in all things God works for good with those who love him, those whom he has called according to his purpose. (Romans 8:28, TEV)
PRAYER: Our God and Father, we thank You that we can learn from our successes. Grant us skill in putting our lives back together in ways which will overcome our failures. In Jesus' name. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

Western Ranchers Are In Clover

WASHINGTON (AP) — Record high cattle prices the past year have brought sudden boosts in net profits to western ranchers, in some cases more than triple from a decade earlier, says the Agriculture Department.

In a report on northwest ranching operations issued Friday, USDA economists said that in 1972 cattlemen in the northern plains area — including parts of Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota — had net profits average $43,614 per ranch, up from $30,504 per ranch in the same area, the report said.

A similar trend was shown for cattle ranches in the northern Rocky Mountain area comprising parts of Montana and Idaho. Ranches there averaged $45,272 each last year, compared with $30,801 in 1971 and $13,090 a decade ago.

The analysis was based on surveys and other information gathered by the department's Economic Research Service. It was one of a series issued periodically on cattle ranch costs and returns in selected areas of the country.

The report on northwest ranching noted that producers have stepped up cattle output dramatically over the past 20 years, including an increase of two and a half times in the rise of the nation's cow herd.

"Despite this increase, consumer demands for beef and other red meats are pressing hard on supplies and beef prices have mounted," the report said.

As a result, ranchers in the northwest have been getting top prices for calves which are usually sold to others who either graze the animals or begin feeding them for slaughter.

Last fall, ranchers in the northern plains area received an average of $50.40 per hundredweight for calves, compared with $38.50 in 1971 and the decade-earlier average of $25.90, the report said.

Prices for steers, heifers and cull cows and bulls also rose sharply.

Ranches in the northwest require large investment, the report showed.

In the northern plains region, for example, the average spread was 11,500 acres and carried 492 head of cattle last year. Total ranch capital, including land, buildings, livestock, machinery and crops, averaged $501,940 compared with 461,210 in 1971 and the decade-ago average of $293,290.

The average ranch in the northern rocky mountain area was smaller, including 5,900 acres with 435 head of cattle. The cattle herd size indicated ranches there were able to carry more animals per acre than in the plains region.

Ranch capital in the Rockies averaged $367,040 last year, compared with $344,060 in 1971 and $234,470 in the early 1960s.

New Anti-U.S. Sentiment Ominous In Latin America

By The Associated Press
With some surprise, Uncle Sam is beginning to see his Latin American cousins in a new light, and there's a good deal for him to worry about.

Powerful waves of turbulence batter traditional structures and remake the hemisphere's political map. Hispanic America, indeed, often seems to astonish itself with frequent outbursts of boisterous, bulstery defiance at the Yankee Colossus.

Long accustomed to its own brands of violence and confusion, much of Latin America now finds itself moving steadily to the left by ballot, military coup or evolution.

Much of it, too, has been displaying eagerness to shuck off the dominating influence of the United States.

The North Americans have been getting increasingly harsh criticism, some from people usually considered friendly. On the other hand, the Soviet Union gives every appearance of being alert to Latin opportunities. Its cautious, go-slow approach seeks political gain through trade, aid and diplomacy. Moscow cautions Communists to be warily selective about the use of violence.

NOT THE SAME

In any case, today's Latin America is not the Latin America of a dozen years ago when the Alliance for Progress was aborning, spawned by a fear shared by Washington and hemisphere governments of the influence of Fidel Castro's Cuban communism.

Today the South American continent, where more than 120 million live under one or another brand of military government, is witnessing a yeasty ferment. Chile, Peru and Argentina have signaled a sharp swing leftward, while booming, restless turmoil has sparked a sudden behind-the-scenes army takeover and a heavy-handed crackdown on liberties. And in many areas, new anti-Yankeeism seems rising swiftly.

The Yankees' difficulties can be traced back a century or more, but briefly, the recent background is this:

Before World War II, Washington proclaimed a "good neighbor" policy, but by and large the United States tended to regard the area as a somewhat comic aggregation of banana republics, convenient as sources of commodities or as receptacles for lucrative investment.

To meet a postwar Soviet threat, the United States poured tens of billions into a prostrate Europe. But there had seemed no menace to Latin America, and the United States largely neglected it, supporting whatever regimes, whatever strutting dictators, happened to be in power.

Things changed suddenly when, on New Year's Day, 1958, Fidel Castro's revolution took over in Cuba. The United States began paying more attention.

When President John F. Kennedy launched the Alliance for Progress, a major problem was Latin America's enormously uneven distribution. The wealth in most countries was concentrated in a thin crust representing less than 10 per cent of the population.

LOFTY AIMS

The Alliance Charter called for rapid Latin American economic development, fairer distribution, land reform to break up the huge holdings of the oligarchs, sharply increased farm production, attacks on illiteracy, generally raised living standards and a number of other things including, overall, political stability.

The choice, said President Kennedy, was between peaceful evolution through economic-social reform or violent revolution. But the entrenched oligarchs wouldn't reform easily.

The Alliance also sought to isolate Castro communism as incompatible with membership in the OAS - the Organization of American States. Only Mexico refused to go along with the quarantine.

The Alliance proved over-optimistic. It fell far short of its goals, and that in turn engendered disillusion. Cynicism was nourished by such things as the Hickenlooper Amendment, sponsored a decade ago by Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper of the Iowa Republican, requiring the U.S. President to halt aid to any country breaking a contract with a U.S. company or moving to take over U.S.-owned assets.

To younger, revolutionary-minded elements, the Yankee attitude was typified by the 1965 U.S. invasion of the Dominican Republic to prevent a leftist takeover.

Shortly after taking office in 1969, President Nixon dispatched New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller to Latin America. His mission ran into violent demonstrations in a number of areas. Rockefeller's report was glum.

Little, if anything, specific happened thereafter to change the Latin American conception of the Yankee attitude. In fact, many felt they had new confirmation for the idea that U.S. policy was incorrigibly predatory. One example for them was the report of an attempt by the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. to defeat Salvador Allende, the Marxist, in Chile's 1970 presidential election.

While suspicion of the Yankees persisted, fear of Castro ebbed. He had preached export of his revolution early in the game but in 14 years had failed to accomplish it. Perhaps under Moscow prodding, he backed away from the idea in recent times.

HARDLY A MODEL

Cuba's chaotic economy, almost totally dependent on Soviet subsidy, would hardly be a model for others, but her experience in other respects could capture imaginations: the attack on adult illiteracy, the efforts to redistribute wealth, the land reform, housing and health programs - all things most of Latin America sorely needed.

These days the OAS quarantine of Cuba is about dead. Havana has diplomatic ties with seven hemisphere governments and more in prospect. Increasingly, voices are raised demanding the end of the U.S. economic blockade of Cuba.

Enrollment Jumps To 6,240 Here

School enrollment figures jumped to a 6,240 total on the second day here Friday.

The high school enrollment, bogged down in computer confusion showed 1,801 by noon Friday. There were expected to be additional students enroll this week, since school started a week earlier than it did last year.

We help youngsters look their sharpest.

Schoolwork is tough enough for youngsters who see well. It's almost impossible for those who don't. That's why a preschool eye examination is so important.

At TSO, your child's eyes will be examined internally for evidence of disease or defect, then for visual abnormalities. Should corrective lenses be required, they will be fitted for clear, comfortable vision.

When it comes to the frames, Miss Rhythm is popular with young ladies. It looks delicate, but is most durable. And it comes in a rainbow of colors. What better choice for the boys than the Roughhouse. It's lightweight, but tough as they come. Available in brown or black.

Astros Trade For Campbell

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros obtained Saturday infielder-outfielder Dave Campbell from the St. Louis Cardinals and a player to be named later in exchange for outfielder Tommy Agee.

Campbell, 31, has been in the major league about six years, mostly with the San Diego Padres. He went to the Cards early last month and has an over-all batting average this year of .185 in 46 games.

Agee, also 31, has been in the majors since 1965, mainly with the Chicago White Sox and the New York Mets. This year with the Astros, Agee has been in 84 games and batted .235 with eight home runs and 15 runs batted in. Campbell is expected to join the Astros Monday. Agee will be in St. Louis Sunday.

Letters Of Intent Will Be Different

LUBBOCK (AP) — National letters of intent for college athletes will be administered differently beginning next year, one of the originators of the letter concept said here Saturday. Dr. J. M. Davis of Texas Tech, chairman of the steering committee of an inter-conference steering committee on letters of intent, said the new rules would apply to dates of signing and filing of intent statements.

The letter is sanctioned by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, but the NCAA is not involved in administering it.

Davis, who was instrumental in creating the National Letters of Intent some 10 years ago, said, "Effective next year, 1974, there will be two national letters of intent signing days. One will be for football and one for the other sports. This change, we hope, will be satisfactory to the coaches and possibly cut down some of the cost of recruiting."

Indians Are Ready To Deal Perry

CLEVELAND (AP) — Although the Cleveland Indians say no deal is in the offing, team officials hint they wouldn't be flatly opposed to trading 1972 Cy Young Award winner Gaylord Perry.

"Sure, I asked waivers on Perry about a month ago, but only for the purpose of discovering which teams were interested in him," General Manager Phil Seghi said.

Seghi declined to say whether he would make the same move Sept. 1 when a new waiver period begins.

"I will tell you it will take a heck of a good package to make a deal for Gaylord," Seghi noted. "I am not trying to peddle Perry," he said, "but I will listen to any offers anyone wants to make for him."

Perry, 24-16 last year, is 12-16 this season with a 3.67 earned run average.

Riggs Is Invited To Women's Meet

CLEAR LAKE, Man. (AP) — The tournament committee on the Western Manitoba tennis championships has invited hustler Bobby Riggs to compete in the women's doubles Aug. 24-26.

Riggs who said he could beat any of the top women stars, carried out that boast on Mothers' Day when he easily defeated Margaret Court. He has since accepted a challenge from Billie Jean King.

A spokesman here said the only stipulation the committee has made is that Riggs must use the men's dressing rooms.

"If he objects to this restriction, we are prepared to negotiate," the spokesman said.

Texans Defeated

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Texas schoolboy football—supposedly the best in the nation—received a large black eye Friday night from a talented crop of Oklahoma led by a 6-foot-3 quarterback with all the characteristics of a potential Joe Namath.

Oklahoma whipped Texas 37-27 in the 31st annual Oil Bowl classic, a test of graduated senior high school football muscle between the Red River rivals.

Yanks Glassy-Eyed In Moscow Games

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's track and field aces and dazzling gymnasts turned the World University Games Saturday into a red star parade that left the rival United States glassy-eyed with shock and red-faced with shame.

The Yankee collegians failed to win a single medal while the runaway Russians boosted their gold-medal count alone to 16.

The Russian runners, throwers and jumpers won four golds and two silvers in a near sweep of the events at the 120,000-capacity Lenin Stadium and scored 1-2-3 in the men's and women's individual all-around gymnastic exercises, led by Nikolai Andrianov and Olga Korbut.

16 GOLD MEDALS At the end of the third day of these mini-Olympics, hailed as a head-to-head battle between the world's two big athletic powers, the Soviets had a total of 16 gold medals, eight silver and five bronze. The United States had a single silver and a single bronze—shut out completely in Saturday's big program.

"What can we say?" a dejected U.S. official moaned as he left the stadium. "They're killing us in track and field. But wait until next week when swimming starts."

Swimming and diving provide America's hopes of saving some face. The U.S. water sprites won 19 of America's 22 gold medals at Turin, Italy, three years ago.

Yevgeny Arzhanov, who ran second to America's Dave Wottle at the Munich Olympics a year ago, won the men's 300 meter run in 1 minute 46.8 seconds.

Viktor Dgubra took the men's discus with a heave of 202 feet 1 inch. Valery Podluzhny captured the long jump with a flight of 26 feet 9 inches and Nadyezhda Kolesnikova raced to victory in the women's 400 meters in 52 seconds flat.

The day's other gold medals in track and field went to little Cuba, whose Alberto Juan Torrena broke the tape in the men's 400 meters at 45.4 seconds and to Great Britain, which won its first gold medal on Berwyn Price's 13.7 performance in the men's 110-meter hurdles.

Even in these events, the Russians were not far behind.

Hall, Rains And Bailey Move Up

First round matches have been completed in the annual City Golf Tournament at the Municipal course, with Mike Hall, Bernard Rains, Jimmy Newsom, Royce Cox, Howard Stewart, Bobby Smith, Charley Bailey and Max Pitts moving into the second round in the championship flight.

A new champion is sure to be crowned since the 1972 king, Ted Gross, is away on vacation and did not enter.

Second round play must be completed by Tuesday and the finals must be out of the way by dusk next Sunday.

In all, 64 players entered into competition, enough for four flights. Tournaments at Stanton and Seminole drained off some of the playing talent.

Hall sprang a mild upset by trouncing Mark McCraney, 2-1, thus earning the right to oppose Rains, Rains fanned out Mark Brown, 4-3, to advance.

Newsom, always a tough competitor at the Muni, sidelined Jackie Thomas, 3-2, to earn a shot at Royce Cox, a 1 up victory on the 19th hole over Jerry Dudley.

In the lower bracket, Howard Stewart and Bobby Smith will meet, as will Charley Bailey and Max Pitts.

Stewart's victim was Larry Waters, who fell 4-2. Bob Gross was tested and found wanting in his match with Smith, yielding, 2-1. Bailey's first round victim was Ray Bluhm, by a score of 1 up. Pitts kayoed Jimmy Welch by the same score.

Stewart's victim was Larry Waters, who fell 4-2. Bob Gross was tested and found wanting in his match with Smith, yielding, 2-1. Bailey's first round victim was Ray Bluhm, by a score of 1 up. Pitts kayoed Jimmy Welch by the same score.

CAGERS ARE CONFIDENT

MOSCOW (AP) — "We're going to beat the Russians—you can count on that."

The words came from Marvin Barnes, towering forward from Providence College, but they were echoed by almost every other member and coaches of the U.S. basketball team Saturday after a shattering 140-34 victory over Portugal.

It was the third straight 100-plus triumph for the youthful, supremely confident Yanks, who previously had crushed Britain 123-37 and Sweden 120-31.

Williams' Blast Stops Dodgers

CHICAGO (AP) — Billy Williams' 18th home run, the second in two games, carried the Chicago Cubs to a 2-1 victory over Los Angeles in a nationally televised game Saturday.

Williams connected in the sixth after Don Kessinger ignited the spurt with his second single with one out. Jose Cardenal forced Kessinger before Williams' line shot sailed into the right field bleachers.

It erased the Dodgers' 1-0 edge, the result of Ron Cey's 11th homer leading off the third.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Some parents in town may be facing a minor dilemma right about now. Mostly they're parents of fifth and sixth graders, mostly their kids want to play football, and mostly the parents don't know whether they want them playing tackle or flag football. Don't expect any Dear Abby-type advice from me here — just a little information.

For several years the YMCA has sponsored a Gra-Y flag football program, and it has drawn around 200 fourth, fifth and sixth graders each year. But for the first time since the 1950s a Big Spring Pee Wee football Association is being formed, and therein lies the conflict. Flag or tackle? Tackle or flag?

Some mommies may or may not be worried at this point, wondering what to do. I think I know what most daddies are thinking. Without trying to kill either the Gra-Y program or the new Pee Wee Association, I'll pass along what others are saying. Pat Owens, Physical Director at the Y, and Marvin Wise, a director in the Pee Wee organization, are a couple of pretty good places to start.

"I think the benefits of our league are obvious," said Wise. "When you've got these kids playing football without any protection except a helmet, it gets just as rough, and they usually end up halfway tackling anyway."

"This will make the kids more sound fundamentally, and it'll teach them to take care of themselves. Most people know what tackle football is, but most don't know how rough flag football can get. If a kid gets hit on the thigh or the shoulder with no protection, he's got a problem," he added.

Wise, who brought the idea of Pee Wee football with him from Denton this summer, said that in his seven years of involvement in the program in that city, there were no injuries more serious than sprains and bruises. "The only time anyone broke a bone or anything like that was when a boy got to the game too early, and he started running up and down the bleachers, fell and cracked his leg," Wise said.

Owens had this to say about the objectives of the YMCA program: "The philosophy of the YMCA concerns itself with the development of the total person and, like our other activities, Gra-Y football is viewed as a means of accomplishing definite program objectives. In order to emphasize such important values as sportsmanship and enjoyment of the game, we've tried to implement a low-competitive sports program, which gives every youngster, regardless of his ability, an opportunity to play."

"And while we think winning is important to an elementary school-age boy, we feel that it's secondary to learning to play fairly and improving his skill in the game," Owens said.

Owens also mentioned that certain knowledgeable people have indicated that tackle football can be dangerous to the youngsters. "After checking with local school administrators, physicians and parents, the P. E. Committee of the YMCA has concluded that the lack of time for an adequate pre-season conditioning program and the high cost of proper protective equipment is sufficient reason for omitting tackle football from its program."

"Instead, it has attempted to modify the rules to suit the maturation level of fourth, fifth and sixth graders and remove from the game as much of the risk of injury as possible," Owens added.

One man who can look at the situation from both sides is James Tidwell, a former President of the Board of the YMCA who is currently secretary-treasurer of the Big Spring chapter of the Southwest Football Officials Association.

"I think there's a strong need for the contact portion of the game for kids at this age," said Tidwell. "These programs have been extremely successful at other cities through the years, and the kids really like it."

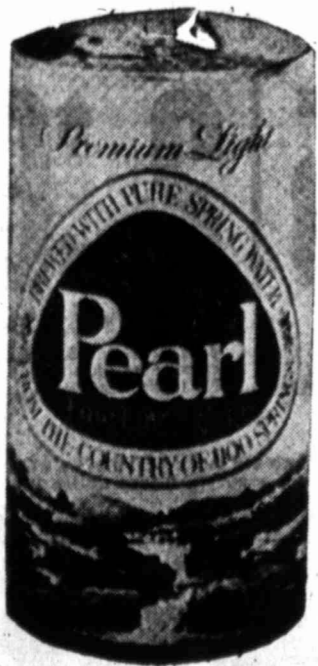

"It certainly shouldn't do away with the Y program, however. There's still a definite need for the flag football program for the kids that aren't interested in the contact competition or who can't afford a lot of equipment. There's no question that there's still a place for it," he reasoned.

Big Spring Head Coach Bob Burris, who will be involved in the Pee Wee program, said "We want the kids to have fun, and to learn what it is to win and to lose. We also hope they'll get some proper fundamentals out of the program."

Burris said that flag football can create a fear of contact at the fifth and sixth grade level because the boys aren't properly padded. "They're in a learning stage at that age, and if they feel like football is something that hurts, they may not try it as seventh and eighth graders," he said.

"We're going to be real strict on equipment requirements, and I think the guidelines concerning age and weight are real good," Burris said, for instance, that a boy over 100 pounds would not be allowed to carry the football. "And they'll all run an even defense," he added. "I think it'll be a real good thing. It should be fair to everybody."

Another advantage Burris gave was that getting the boys started at this age will benefit future football programs in the schools. "If we can teach them some basic fundamentals at this age, they'll be a step ahead when they get into the junior high and high school programs," he said.

Officials Meeting Set In Midland

MIDLAND — The 1973 Football Rules Interpretation Meeting for Dist. 2 members of the Southwest Football Officials Association will be held here Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Commercial National Bank building.

The meeting is mandatory for all SFOA members. Big Spring is one of 10 chapters in Dist. 2.

Area Net Play Begins Friday

The third annual Big Spring Area Tennis Tournament will be held this weekend, the first time for the event to be played on the new Figure Seven courts and the first to be sponsored by the Big Spring Tennis Association.

Play will begin Friday at 4 p.m. with Junior competition, while the adult action will get under way at 6 p.m. Netters from Big Spring and the surrounding area are eligible.

Proceeds from the tournament will go toward establishing a junior development program in Big Spring, aiding needy youths with equipment and lessons.

Sports Editor Is Challenged

In keeping with the fashion of male-female challenge matches, Big Spring feminist Sissy Mann has challenged Herald Sports Editor Jack Cowan to a tennis match Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Figure Seven Tennis Center.

The match will help kick off the Big Spring Area Tennis Tournament, scheduled to get underway Friday at the local courts. There will be no admission to the exhibition affair, but a collection will be taken with proceeds going into a local youth development fund for youngsters unable to afford equipment and lessons.

Mrs. Mann, who turned 35 this week, offered the challenge Thursday to Cowan, who claims to be practically over the hill at 23. Nevertheless, Mrs. Mann labels the match "a Bobby Riggs-Billy Jean King reversal, of sorts."

Riggs, a 55-year-old former tennis great, challenged Mrs. King, currently one of the game's best female players to a $100,000 match Sept. 20 in the Astrodome. There won't be any money at stake Thursday, but local pro Novice Kniffen was heard threatening Cowan and said he would take on Mrs. Mann should Cowan lose.

SPORT FANS!

By JERRY METCALF

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

The U.S. Golf Association has sent out some tips on what to do if it begins lightning while you're on a golf course, and we're happy to pass these tips along to you.

The USGA says (1) Avoid high ground; (2) Stay away from metal fences and lakes; (3) Don't get under a lone tree; (4) If you can't reach the clubhouse before a storm strikes, choose a depression or valley in the ground or better yet a nearby automobile (which is one of the safest places of all to be during lightning).

Here's a quote we saw recently that shows a reason why sports are so great. . . Coach Homer Smith once said, "The poorest boy can earn stardom — but the richest boy can't buy it!"

Can you imagine one pitcher hurling 5 consecutive no-hit games? . . . It's never happened in pro baseball, but in a Little League in Florida a few years ago, Pitcher Roy Kirkland of Sarasota, Fla., pitched — believe it or not — 5 no-hitters in a row!

WINNING STILL POPULAR IN COAHOMA

'Dogs Hope To Surprise In '73

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles previewing Big Spring area football teams for the 1973 season. Coahoma's Bulldogs have been tops in Dist. 2-A for the past two years, but the pickers say the time has come to crown a new champion. Here's the Bulldogs' outlook.)

Coahoma football players are having identity problems these days. Instead of the normal respect due two-time Dist. 7-AA champions, the Bulldogs have found themselves cast in the role of a second division challenger this year, mainly because only seven lettermen from the 1972 squad are returning. General feeling among the Bulldogs is that they like being champs better than challengers.

So, the Coahoma gridders of Norman Roberts, with more than just optimism to operate on, joins chase as the league tries to knock the Reagan County Owls out of the favorite's spot.

It isn't quite as bad as it sounds for the Bulldogs, since Roberts elected to give many of the younger players experience on the junior varsity last year and the team isn't quite as young as it sounds. In fact, if the newcomers can coe through on defense, there's probably enough offense to put the 'Dogs on top in one of the most evenly-matched district races coaches can recall.

"We've got several young kids out this year," explains Roberts, "and if they can come through for us, then we'll be all right. We have several seniors we think can do a good job, and now it's up to these new boys. They have the ability to do it."

"We're pretty optimistic about it," he added. Quarterback Jody Bennett, who led the junior varsity to a 6-1 record last year, will run the Bulldogs' Wishbone-T this year, and he's one that

Roberts claims must come through in order for the team to have a successful year. He'll be joined in the backfield by fullback Putt Choate and Eddie Padron, a fullback-turned-halfback. Both weigh around 165. Tim Tindol, Randy Gee and John Echols are others who'll be taking their turns in the CHS backfield.

The line is a meaty one anchored by center Guy James. Guard Kyle Kiser, a 180-pound senior, is one of the top hands in the pit crew, along with tight end Glenn Washburn (170) and tackle Frank Coates (165). Two more linemen who push the 200-pound mark, Robbie Tindol and Steve Wolf, and split end Joe Brant also will be important names in the offensive unit.

Defensively, the Bulldogs' linebacking crew will measure up against any with Kiser, Washburn and Choate filling the gaps. "It's one of our stronger points," Roberts says happily. Padron, who'll be moving from the defensive secondary to cornerback, is also a key man in the lineup.

The Bulldogs begin turning up unofficially with a scrimmage Friday night at home against Haskell, and a week from Friday they'll visit Stamford for a practice session. Both scrimmage games are set for 7 p.m. After two final non-district games with Hamlin and Ballinger, the Bulldogs kick off 7-AA action at home against Stanton Oct. 19. An out-of-town date with Ozona follows, and then the Coahomans catch favorite Reagan County at home Nov. 2. The Bulldogs visit McComery Nov. 9, and then close out the regular season against Crane in Coahoma.

AND COACHES MAKING ADJUSTMENTS

The Times, They Are A Changin'

By JACK COWAN

It used to be that a coach could send his burr-headed fullback around the football field five times for drinking a Dr. Pepper during The Season, and the youngster would eagerly oblige, hoping to get back into the good graces of his leader.

But things have changed. Instead, a coach now may find himself worrying about his quarterback getting busted for marijuana or just how far he's going to have to back down on his hair policy.

"Things have definitely changed," said Stanton head coach Bill Young, who is entering his 13th year of coaching after a career in high school and college athletics. "There are so many outside interests now, particularly in a small school like ours. The kids are involved in everything, and I guess that's the way it should be."

"Also, the kids have more money, and everybody has a car now. I think it's quite a bit harder to coach these days."

Howard County Junior College basketball coach Harold Wilder doesn't think it's any harder, but he too has seen a definite change in his years of coaching. "Fifteen years ago, the situation was that the athletes were the most admired people on campus, and the desired thing was to be an athlete. Now, there are so many other activities people can participate in that the kids don't have to put up with injustices a coach might put on him."

"Players used to come into athletics to be among the elite," Wilder added, and coaches could dictate things to them like getting a burr haircut, and no cokes or candy bars. Today, coaches are more concerned with their kids smoking marijuana and drinking and that sort of thing.

"It doesn't make it any harder to coach, though, because most of those things have no bearing on athletic achievement. Discipline is having a player do what you ask him to do when you ask him to do it. Long hair, drinking cokes or those other things have nothing to do with that. If you get a high-type kid, you can motivate him," the Jayhawk boss said.

To at least one area coach, long hair is no problem. "We've got a tradition at Coahoma where the kids cut their hair short before the season," said Bulldog athletic director Norman Roberts. "Most of them do it on their own."

"When there's a winning tradition at a school everything is a lot easier, but I'd have to say coaching gets harder all the time. There's not as much discipline at home now, and there's less on the field. They go hand in hand. Also, there seems to be some less interest in the game," Roberts added.

New Garden City head coach Greg Henderson, a representative of the "youth faction," in a way, said "I think it must be difficult for coaches who have been in the business a long time to change. It's easier for coaches who came out of the same generation. Still, I can see a lot of difference in some of the older coaches in recent years."

"Today's kids have changed," said Henderson, a 1970 graduate of Texas Tech. "They're smarter and more independent. It takes a different approach to get the most out of them — you have to talk to them, but still maintain discipline. For instance, my kids can have a full head of hair, but I want it neat, not hanging down over their collars and in their eyes."

"We have a dress code at our school," Henderson continued, "but there's no extra emphasis on the athletes. I like for the players to be an example to the rest of the students. They're representatives of this school."

Big Spring Steer baseball coach Larry Horton, another youthful leader, offered the same sentiments. "Sure, there are more problems now than there were three years ago. Times change, and most coaches recognize this," Horton said. "With kids now, you have to explain the reasons for rules before they'll accept it."

Horton said that as far as baseball was concerned, he demands that a player look neat because he is on display more so than during a football game.

Young and Wilder both agreed that there was little blind following among the athletes these days. "Kids are smarter now, and you have to handle them a lot more carefully. You don't put much over on them any more," said Young.

"You're fighting a losing battle if you try to get them to 'burr it' now. Coaches have to make allowances for changes in styles," he added.

Wilder explained it this way: "You have to be honest with the kids now. They might ask why if you tell them to run 20 laps. You have to have a purpose. It used to be that what a coach said was law, period. But they're quick to find out inadequacies now."

Carlen Hopes Offensive Trench Pulls Through

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Texas Tech Coach Jim Carlen couldn't resist talking about the upcoming Southwest Conference football season even in the middle of his backswing during a round of golf in late June.

"The offensive lines are the key to the year and I just hope ours ripens fast," said Carlen as he pummeled a drive 275 yards into the rough. "We've only got two returning starters, guard Dennis Allen and tackle Tom Furgerson."

SWC Teams Open Camps

The Rice Owls officially open the 1973 Southwest Conference football campaign Monday with the start of the football training.

Rice Coach Al Conover will greet seven offensive starters and five defensive starters off last season's unit. The Owls open Sept. 15 against the University of Houston.

Arkansas, which faces the task of opening with national champion Southern California, get underway Tuesday.

Texas A&M, Baylor, Houston, Southern Methodist and Texas Tech open training Thursday while Texas and Texas Christian wait until Aug. 27.

Baylor opens at Waco Sept. 15 against Oklahoma, Southern Methodist under new Coach Dave Smith hosts Santa Clara; The Texas Aggies host Wichita State, Arkansas is at Southern Cal, and Texas Tech hosts Utah.

Texas doesn't open until Sept. 21 when the defending SWC champion Longhorns travel to Miami.

TCU is the last SWC club to play, hosting Texas-Arlington on Sept. 22.

The SWC posted a 21-11-1 inter-sectional slate last year—the best win-loss percentage in nine seasons.

The aggregate 1972 record of the 29 schools meeting SWC teams this fall is 187-157-6.

Boxing Foes Are Sound

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Light heavyweight champion Bob Foster and his challenger from South Africa, Pierre Fourie were pronounced in excellent physical shape Saturday at an early physical examination.

The two are scheduled for 15 rounds or less at the University of New Mexico Arena Tuesday night, starting at 10 p.m. MDT.

Dr. A. A. Chester gave each the physical and reported Foster's blood pressure 138 over 88 with a pulse of 76. Fourie was 138 over 82 with a pulse about 80.

"Both appeared very calm," Dr. Chester commented. "Fourie said his pulse normally was about 60, but being before a group of newsmen such as this could run it up a few points. I think mine went up."

The physician said both were well within normal limits and rated their condition excellent.

"Texas again has the best incoming offensive line in the league. Oh, I wish we could play them later in the year."

The Red Raiders are deemed the most serious threat to Texas' sixth consecutive SWC title but must play the Longhorns in Austin Sept. 29.

Many SWC experts believe the Red Raiders have the talent to gun down Texas in September.

All nine receivers who caught passes for Tech return along with quarterback Joe Barnes. Among the receivers is tight end Andre Tillman, a 6-foot-5, 230-pound senior.

"If there's a better tight end in the country I don't know about him," said Carlen, who seldom goes overboard on a player.

To go with Tech's Grade A passing game is an exceptional corps of big, fast backs headed by fleet George Smith, Cliff Hoskins, James Mosley, John Garner and Rufus Myers.

The Red Raiders will operate from the "I" formation with an option series.

Pushing Barnes for the top job will be Jimmy Carmichael and sophomore flash Tommy Duniven. There's always the possibility Carlen will redshirt Duniven, who played so well for the Picadors last fall.

On defense, the Red Raiders will be blessed with defensive tackle Ecomet Burley, the most valuable lineman in the Sun Bowl, and noseguard David Knasus, who played exceptionally well last season as a backup to All-American Donald Rives.

The defensive secondary returns as a group headed by left cornerback Kenneth Wallace and strong safety Danny Willis.

Tech should have no problems in the kicking department with Don Grimes back. Grimes hit 12 of 18 field goal attempts and boomed 34 straight extra points.

Tech has a favorable non-conference schedule, meeting relatively weak Utah, New Mexico and Arizona. However, the Red Raiders have a toughie in Oklahoma State Oct. 6 at Stillwater.

"It will be a race against time for us," Carlen said. "If we can get the offensive line settled down in the first two games (Utah and New Mexico) then we could be ready for Texas."

"Beat Texas" has been the SWC battle cry for years. Tech has the muscle to give the Longhorns a run for it.

Offshore Oil Field Holds Great Promise In Egypt

RAS SHUKHEIR, Egypt (AP)—If you like your boom towns with a little raw and racy excitement, this oil town hatched on the shore of the Red Sea isn't the place.
There are no women, no market place or a common saloon. A night on the town comes to two cold beers and a movie.
The reason for Ras Shukheir's existence is lost in the mists of off shore. It is a huge oil field, opened just before the war with Israel in 1967, a lucky piece of timing since the Israelis gobbled up another major Egyptian field when they swept across the Sinai to victory.
Two years after oil was discovered Ras Shukheir was a full blown town, a sprawling warehouse, two-story villas, its own squash court, everything needed to operate the Morgan oil field. But little else.
There is no field in the conventional sense. "And there is no Mr. Morgan," field superintendent Mahmoud Ibrahim Allam patiently explains to visitors. The word "Morgan" comes from some local coral.
Located 18 miles offshore, it was discovered by American oil men and it is Egypt's major oil source, pumping 403 million barrels since it opened.

16TH LARGEST
It is the 16th largest known underwater field in the world. A new area was opened recently and is expected to produce 100,000 barrels a day by the end of the year, Allam says.
Visitors to the off shore facilities are surprised to learn they are closer to Israeli-occupied Sinai-only five miles than to Ras Shukheir.
Not from here in the morning mists, the field is clearly visible at night from both sides of the Gulf of Suez, marked by two giant burn-off flames, consuming some 250 million cubic feet of unwanted natural gas daily.
From an approaching helicopter one can see in the distance Mt. Sinai, where Moses is said to have received the Ten Commandments.

Although the oil was discovered by the American Oil Co., AMOCO there are only five Americans on the 380-man payroll here. The oil is produced by the Gulf of Suez Petroleum Co. jointly owned by AMOCO and EGPCO, the state-run Egyptian General Petroleum Corp.
"Oil is good for everybody and I expect there is a lot more oil in the gulf," says process supervisor Sabry Mohamed el Sherif, 29, who started work here two days before the field opened.
Oil from Morgan is shipped to Japan, Brazil, the United States, England, Spain and Italy.

A million barrels were shipped to the United States in one recent month.
The high salaries and quiet, open spaces of the desert and sea are given by most employees as reasons for working in a community without women, or even vegetation.

Record Claimed For Weight Loss
LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Tony Goddes of Lorain says he believes his loss of 321 pounds in one year has set a record for men.
Goddes said he slimmed from 556 pounds on Aug. 3, 1972, to his current 235, adding that his waist measurement dropped to 74 inches to 41.
He said the Guinness Book of World Records cited the current record holder as William Cobb of Macon, Ga., who reduced from 802 pounds to 232 pounds in three years, or 190 pounds a year.

"WELCOME BACK" says Superintendent S. M. Anderson as he greets two Runnels Junior High teachers, Mrs. Jerry Barron, left and Mrs. Lita Williams.

First Roll Call

By JO BRIGHT

As every school boy knows, there is no such thing as an endless summer. There never was—it only seems so as the long, lazy days extend across a carefree calendar.

The reluctant scholars, dawdling toward the school house door, seldom realize a particular group of adults may sympathize with their sadness.

Last week, 447 teachers, principals, counselors and other adults associated with the Big Spring Independent School District, heaved a collective sigh and put another short summer behind them. Much of that time had been spent preparing for another school term.

This year began with a two-day inservice workshop at Big Spring Senior High School, with personnel reporting to their building of assignment Wednesday. Fifty-six teachers are new to the local system and, this year, 12 are associated with Webb Air Force Base. Sixty-seven are assigned to the Individualized Program (formerly Special Education) and eight are Title I teachers.

The administration staff is comprised of S. M. Anderson, superintendent; Lynn C. Hise, assistant superintendent, instruction; Noel Reed, assistant superintendent, personnel; and Keith Swim, administrative assistant, federal programs.

Monday evening, local chapters of Texas State Teachers Association and Classroom Teachers Association hosted a teacher reception at Big Spring High School. Today's pictures were taken at that event.

supervisor; Mrs. Charles Phillips, local past president, Classroom Teachers Association; and Mrs. Wayne Speegle, teacher in the Individualized Program.

Crest and Park Hill; Harlan Huibregtse, Bauer; J. B. Cushing, Washington; and Cleo Carlile, Airport.

Junior High. Here, they chat with long-time principal, Earnest Boyd, Kentwood; and Bill Irwin, Moss Elementary, right.

MRS. BRUCE ALAN HANLEY

Couple Married In Church Of God Rites

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss D'Aun Herbert and Sgt. Bruce Alan Hanley Saturday evening in the Church of God, 603 Tulane, with the Rev. O. D. Robertson officiating.

Mrs. O. D. Robertson, pianist, provided traditional wedding selections and accompanied Miss Julie Moorhead and Mrs. Wesley Pearce, vocalists.

The bridal couple stood before a wrought iron archway entwined with greenery and daisies and topped with doves. Branched candelabra flanked the archway.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Herbert, 1308 E. 17th, and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Keith Hanley, Keesville, N.Y.

The bride wore a formal-length gown of white Chantilly lace with a natural waistline, fitted bodice and scalloped neckline. Long tapered sleeves reached a petal point just below the wrists, and a flowing skirt featured a short ruffled overlay. Her chapel-length lace train was attached at the shoulders with small bows, and her waist-length illusion veil fell from a tiara of pearls. She carried a cascade of assorted carnations, lily of the valley and pearls centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Mike Wadel of Odessa, matron of honor, wore a floor-length gown fashioned in pastel yellow gingham checks. The bodice featured a low ruffled neckline, long Victorian sleeves and button cuffs. She wore a picture hat in matching yellow and carried a white basket of assorted summer flowers. Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Teela Kay Hart and Miss Cathy Crow. Tonya Dee Warren of Odessa was junior bridesmaid. They wore gowns styled identically to the matron of honor's but in orchid, blue and pink in g h a m. They wore matching picture hats and carried baskets of summer flowers.

Sgt. John Harnett, Webb AFB, was best man, and groomsmen were Airman I.C. Dan Lord and Airman I.C. Mike Wadel, both of Webb AFB. Junior groomsmen were Danny Shane Weatherman, Odessa. Ushers were Terry Wayne Weatherman and Ronald Jay Warren, both of Odessa, and Mark Shortes. Laurit Shaw was flower girl, attired in a white floor-length gown and a waist-length veil. Ring bearer was Steven Pearce. Lighting the altar tapers were John Herbert Weatherman, Odessa, and Kyna Kaye Kerby.

The newlyweds are on a trip to New York and Montreal, Quebec, Canada, after which they will reside in Big Spring. Hanley, a graduate of Central High School in Au Sable N.Y., is now assigned with the Air Force at Weeb AFB. The bride attended Big Spring schools and is employed at Photo West. They are both members of Jesus' Outreach.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hanley were honored at a reception in the church fellowship hall. A gold cloth covered the bridegroom's table, where silver and milk glass appointments were used. The centerpiece was a gold candelabrum with an arrangement of summer flowers and a green candle. The bride's table was laid with a yellow cloth and a net overlay. Appointments were crystal and silver, and a tiered cake was topped with yellow satin wedding bells, doves and rings.

Mrs. Sam H. Kerby, sister of the bride, registered guests, and refreshments were served by Mrs. M. W. Weatherman and Mrs. R. J. Warren, both of Odessa, sisters of the bride; and Miss Julie Moorhead.

Guests attending from out of town were M. W. Weatherman, R. J. Warren, and Mrs. Winnie Taylor, all of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Allen, Crane; Mr. and Mrs. Rasheed Quadri and Mr. and Mrs. Syed Quadri, all of Hillsboro.

A LOVELIER YOU Do Your Own Thing; Individuality Is In

By MARY SUE MILLER

Women sometimes seem to have been made from identical molds. Look around you at summer resorts, on the avenues of big cities, at the golf club.

The sameness of their clothes — floppy pants; their hair — too long or too set; their eyeshadow — overdone. Et cetera.

It is almost as though the loss of identity were a calculated effort. Why should this be when Ms. everywhere fight for the right to do their own thing? Is the herd instinct responsible? Possibly with schoolgirls. Or is it the fear of being thought different — odd or uppity? Ladies, beware.

Inertia could be a culprit. Certainly flagging interest prevents women from fulfilling both their appearance and personality potentials. But to be an outstanding lovely a woman need not — and indeed should not — be a stand-out.

The call on one's energies is small. The starting place is self-analysis. Study your looks and interests, your likes and dislikes. In the process you may discover unsuspected traits, some good and some not so good. You will surely uncover many unique qualities. And

'Quotable Women'

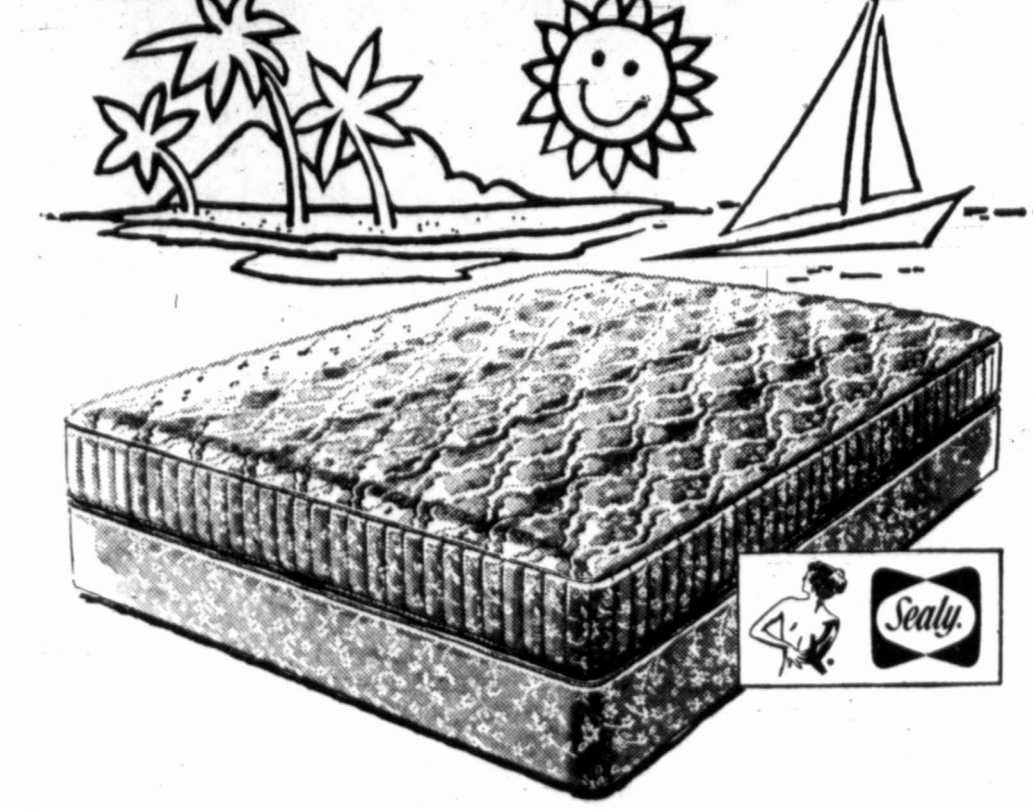

"My sister prayed for a baby brother. Then she had a terrible fight with a boy and she prayed, 'Cancel that cat. I want a baby sister for Christmas.' That's why they called me Merry and also why they call me Baby Sister." Merry Clayton, singer and former Raeliet with the Ray Charles singers.

"The question is whether we want to be a nation of those who cry, complain or quit in the face of difficulty, or a country of the courageous who squarely and boldly face their trials and privations." Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India, in an address broadcast nationwide on the 26th anniversary of Indian independence

Credit Club Views Job Relations

Employer and employee relations were discussed Thursday for Big Spring Credit Women at the Settles Hotel. Speakers were Barzie R. Fletcher, a guest, and Mrs. Noel Hull, a member.

Fletcher and Mrs. Hull agreed it is important that employees receive pay commensurate with their job. Both agreed that raises should automatically be given to employees when their work merits it, rather than making employees ask for raises.

Fletcher, office and credit manager at Hemphill-Wells Co., said he prefers to work in a relaxed atmosphere and to be on a first-name basis with employees under his supervision. He said employees function better in an office where there is little or no tension. Criteria for being hired in his office include having a good personality and versatile office skills.

Mrs. Hull outlined traits which employees expect in their bosses. She said the first and most important quality is integrity in order that the employee can respect the boss. Also, she said a good boss will maintain an even temperament regardless of the situation, and will never discipline an employee in public.

The speakers agreed that both employees and employers should project a good image of the company and not cause friction among other employees.

"The best rule is still the golden rule," said Mrs. Hull. Employers and employees alike will respond favorably to kindness."

Mrs. George Weeks presided, and announced a District 2 meeting is scheduled Sept. 8-9 in Midland. Mrs. Ralph L. Brooks was a guest.

Presbyterian Church Scene Of Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Lee Price and Capt. Robert Frederick Tilton Jr. was solemnized Friday evening in a ceremony performed by Dr. S. C. Guthrie in First Presbyterian Church. Traditional background music was played by Frank Wharton, organist, and the vocalist was Devon S. Hamilton, Dallas.

The altar setting was illuminated by crescent candelabra and enhanced with Grecian pedestals holding matching arrangements of orchid and purple asters, lavender gladioli, purple statice and babies'-breath.

The bride, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. R. Earl Price, 10 Indian Ridge, is a senior at Texas Tech University, majoring in speech pathology, and is currently employed at Big Spring State Hospital. She has attended Trinity University in San Antonio where she was affiliated with Gamma Chi Delta sorority.

Capt. Tilton, maintenance control officer at Webb Air Force Base, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frederick Tilton Sr., Omaha, Neb. He was graduated from the University of Nebraska at Omaha with a BA degree in speech. He was a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon and active in ROTC, being commissioned into the Air Force upon graduation.

SILK ORGANZA

The bride was gowned in candlelight silk organza appliqued with Alencon lace highlighted with crystals and pearls. Jeweled re-embroidered Alencon lace on an overlay of English net created the high, fitted bodice with sculptured stand-out neckline. The jeweled lace medallions spilled over the center front of the gown, and rich applique detailed the front of the sheer A-line skirt. Slender, Puritan-styled sleeves were touched with the same lace appliques, and the gantlet cuffs were of jeweled lace over English net.

Her chapel-length, heirloom veil of Brussels lace fell from a Juliet cap of lace and net. She carried a nosegay of white roses, purple statice, stephanotis and babies'-breath.

Miss Ruth Moseley, Dallas, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Sally Addison, Dallas; Miss Lisa Tilton of Omaha, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Debbie Harris. The attendants were identically attired in floor-length gowns of candlelight Spanish cotton lace lined with deep lavender. A wide purple ribbon marked the empire waistline, and the bodice was styled with puffed sleeves. They carried nosegays of orchid daisy chrysanthemums, purple statice and babies'-breath tied with purple streamers.

Douglas S. Robinson of Waterloo, Neb. served as best man. The groomsmen were Fred A. Weiner, Omaha; Michael L. Spradling and Capt. Richard H. Steele, Michael Johns, Homer, La., and Capt. Lyle Hood were the ushers.

RECEPTION

Assisting at the reception in the church parlor were Miss Linda McClendon, Miss Ann Addison, Dallas; Mrs. Olen Chapman, Lubbock; Mrs. Michael Spradling and Mrs. Dawson Johns, the latter of Homer.

Formal Rites Held Friday

The Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ was the setting Friday evening for the wedding of Miss Patsy Ann English and Lynn Boyd Dale, Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. English, 1904 Goliad. Dale is the son of Mrs. Millie Caldwell, Aurora, Ill.

Ralph Williams, minister, performed the rites at an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and candelabra holding white tapers. Music was by an a cappella choir, with David Elrod as soloist.

The bride's floor-length gown was fashioned in taffeta with an overlay of white peau d'ange and Chantilly lace. A delustered satin midriff enhanced the gown, and a large satin bow with streamers accented the back. Full bishop sleeves featured scalloped cuffs, and scalloped ruffles also edged the high neckline and shoulders, giving the bodice a pinafore effect. A deep flounce swept to form a chapel-length train, and she wore a long mantilla veil edged with lace. Her flowers were a nosegay of white daisies, feathered carnations and babies'-breath.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. David Coates served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a formal gown of lilac dotted Swiss with empire bodice, long puffed sleeves and ruffles which enhanced the neckline, sleeves and hemline. White daisy lace and bows highlighted the back.

Miss Sue Fortenberry was bridesmaid, and Mrs. Mike Henderson was bridesmatron. They wore dotted Swiss gowns styled identically to the matron of honor's. Mrs. Henderson's was lilac, while Miss Fortenberry's was yellow. The attendants carried lilac or yellow carnations.

David Coates, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man, and groomsmen were S.Sgt. Gerald Myers, Webb Air Force Base, and Mike Henderson.

Miss Carol Morehead, junior bridesmaid, wore a gown similar to the other bridal attendants. Scott English, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Following a wedding trip to the Dallas and Fort Worth area, the newlyweds will reside at Barcelona Apartments, 5416 50th St., Lubbock, where Dale is employed as an air traffic controller at Lubbock Municipal Airport. He is a graduate of Roosevelt High School, Chicago, and attended Howard County Junior College. He previously served in the Air Force.

Mrs. Dale graduated from Big Spring High School and attended H.C.J.C. She plans to major in interior design at Texas Tech in the fall. She was formerly employed by Morehead Transfer and Storage.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What should I do about all the begging letters that have become so numerous they barely fit into my mailbox? I can't possibly give to all of them, but I don't want to ignore the ones that deserve it.

Some of these letters are so pathetic it hurts me to throw them away unanswered, but I've heard that some charities pay huge amounts to professional fund-raising agencies, and I prefer giving to charities whose money goes directly to those they help, rather than to professional fund raisers.

How does a person know which causes are legitimate and which are not?

DELUDED AND BEWILDERED
DEAR DELUGED: Don't assume that all charities that engage professional fund-raisers are not legitimate. It takes money to raise money. However, all legitimate charities will provide, on request, a financial statement showing how much is spent for what. Request these statements, and make your selections.

Some communities have "Community Fund" or "United Giving" which includes many legitimate charities who share your contribution, but many deserving organizations prefer to run their own campaigns.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 30, widowed, and has a 6-year-old child. She is well-educated, has a responsible job, and makes a good salary. But, Abby, her values are certainly misplaced, and we cannot watch our grandson raised in such an environment!

Minly, she is a terrible housekeeper. You can't imagine all the clutter. She would rather read, hike, plant flowers, write poetry, or do other useless things. Her excuse? When choosing what's important to her, housekeeping is at the bottom of the list!

She could afford to pay a housekeeper if she didn't waste money on ballet lessons and vacations.

She never misses an art exhibit, and she drags the child with her. Abby, what can a 6-year-old learn from an art exhibit?

She refuses to see a psychiatrist. The law in this state allows grandparents to assume custody of a grandchild with unrealistic parents. What is your recommendation? AT WITS END

DEAR AT: I recommend that you keep hands off your widowed daughter and her child. And if her lifestyle continues to bug you, a psychiatrist will do YOU more good than it will your daughter.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HENRY: Money is important. But only because it enables you to buy the things that are more important than money.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Sunshine can be deadly for the hair. A little sun will do wonders for added highlights, but anything more than that will result in dry, burned locks.

Miss Rebecca Ross Weds M. Surratt

Miss Rebecca Mae Ross and Michael Lee Surratt exchanged marriage vows at seven o'clock Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church, Lamesa.

The couple stood at a gold archway covered with green huckleberry fern and tangerine gladioli and carnations interspersed with babies'-breath and satin ribbons. Crescent candelabra holding tangerine tapers flanked the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Black Jr., Abilene, and Gambill is the son of Mrs. O. C. Mason, Big Spring, and the late Forrest Gambill.

Pre-recorded music provided a background of traditional nuptial selections.

The bride wore a formal-length gown fashioned in white organza and Venise lace. The empire net bodice featured a scooped neckline of Venise lace and matching lace encircled the hemline of the A-line skirt which extended to form a court train. She carried a bouquet of multi-colored summer flowers.

Ushers were Charles Black, Robert Black, Phil Haynes and Johnny Haynes.

Mr. and Mrs. Gambill will reside at 218 Abondale, No. 4 Houston, where he works with a competency-based graduate program for the Teacher Corps and the Houston Independent School District. He is a graduate of Big Spring High School and received a bachelors degree in psychology from the University of Houston. Previously, he spent four years as a language specialist in the Air Force.

Mrs. Gambill graduated from Cooper High School and received a BA degree in music education from Baylor University. She taught for 2½ years in the Spring High School, and he is employed at Chapman's Meat Market.

Doctor Nixes Sleeping Pills

'Sleep problems are one of the most common reasons for consulting a physician,' says Dr. Joseph Fermaglich, a Georgetown University neurologist.

'In most cases, sleeping pills which are prescribed only worsen the problem,' he said. Why? Sleeping pills inhibit dreaming — during which certain emotions and feelings are released. 'If we are deprived of our dreams, we wake up tense, nervous and unrested, even though we may have slept eight hours or more,' Dr. Fermaglich explained. See?

RUBBERY FACE — Marjorie Main, the lady with the rubbery face, is shown in the motion picture, "Meet Me in St. Louis." Miss Main was famed for her role in "Tugboat Annie."

At 84, Marjorie Main Leads An Active Life

Copley News Service

HOLLYWOOD — "Honey, I'm not as strong as my voice," Marjorie Main proclaimed in the distinctive tones of "Ma Kettle."

"I'm 83 — will be 84 my next birthday — and I'm not very well."

She was explaining why she gives so few interviews these days and why she seldom appears in public now except to participate in the annual Hollywood Christmas parade.

"But I stay busy," the star continued. "I've got three houses, one in Los Angeles, one in Palm Springs and one in Idyllwild, that I take care of, and that takes up a lot of my time."

"I do everything myself, you know. I've just come back from Palm Springs where I've been doing some painting and car-entry. Then, in a few days, I'm going up to Idyllwild and stay until sometime in the fall."

HELP OFFERED

"If you really want to know about me," she continued, "you should talk to my friend Spec McClure. Do you know him? He used to work with Hedda Hopper, and he knows me as well as I know myself. He can probably answer questions about me that I can't answer."

Whether that be true or not, McClure is an authority on Marjorie Main whom he met at the height of her movie stardom at MGM, and he shed more light on her reluctance to talk about herself.

"Marjorie used to be as mysterious as Greta Garbo," he said. "She's never gone out a lot nor seen many people, because crowds make her nervous."

"Now I think she spends most of her time opening and closing houses."

"She enjoys being alone, because she's interested in metaphysics and is capable of much meditation."

Miss Main's father was a minister as was her late husband, Dr. Stanley Krebs, who left the pulpit to do psychic and psychological research and to lecture and write about his findings. And it was he, McClure thinks, who interested Marjorie in metaphysics.

"She met her husband in Chautauqua," McClure said, "and he was the one love of her life. He died of lung cancer in 1935, and she's never been interested in another man."

If Miss Main became interested in metaphysics through her husband, she became interested in the stage despite her father who thought the theater was at least an annex of hell if not hell itself.

Off-Beat Drama Stars Hackman And Pacino

"Scarecrow," an original off-beat film drama starring Gene Hackman and Al Pacino, will open Wednesday at the R-70 Theatre. The Warner Bros. release tells the fresh, funny and very moving story of two drifters trying to make it towards a better, happier life — away from skid rows, away from jail, away from losing.

Gene Hackman, who won the Academy Award last year as best actor for his performance in "The French Connection," stars in "Scarecrow" as Max, a tough brawler just released from a California jail. Al Pacino, who skyrocketed to fame in "The Godfather," stars as Lion, a clowning kid just home from five years of life at sea.

"Scarecrow" was produced by Robert M. Sherman, with Jerry Schatzberg directing. Schatzberg previously directed "Panic in Needle Park," a widely-acclaimed film that gave Al Pacino his first screen role.

Disney Movies Now Showing

NEW YORK (AP) — Lincoln Center will show Walt Disney films for a month this summer. This coincides with the 50th anniversary of the founding of the company by Walt and Roy Disney in 1923. It is the first time the Disney Studio has opened its vaults and archives to an outside organization.

There will be screenings three times daily at Alice Tully Hall, with most of the more than 30 movies being shown only once. Four programs will consist of animated shorts.

Disney animators will conduct a three-day symposium on the art of animation. These sessions will be free and open on a reservation basis.

Ask Her To Level

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

DRIFT: (Q.) Until last month Tressa and I were very close. Then she met this guy in the Navy. Since then we have drifted apart. When I call her she is busy or not at home.

But she insists that she loves me, not the other guy. I cannot see how what I thought was such a strong love could change in a month's time.

Please help me. Tressa is 19. I am 18 — Poorly Treated in Pennsylvania.

(A.) A 19-year-old girl is in fact a woman. In a month's time a woman can change immensely in love and loyalty. Tressa evidently has given her heart to her new friend, but still feels a debt of loyalty to you.

If you are brave enough to face the truth, ask her to level with you. If, as I suspect, her love has changed, release her from her loyalty to you. Without her love, it is of no value.

BLAMED: (Q.) — I am always getting blamed for things I do not do. My mother does not trust me. She doesn't make a big thing of it, she just doesn't trust me.

For instance, my father brought her a dozen roses. The next day one was missing. She asked me seriously who I gave it to. She was not angry, just curious. I had not touched a single rose. — Not Trusted in Texas.

(A.) It is not fair for a parent to judge and find a son or daughter guilty without a hearing.

In every case in which you are suspected of anything, you should insist on presenting your defense. In this case you should have told your mother what you told me, that you had not touched the roses and therefore could not have taken one.

Adopt a plan of accounting for time and money and actions which will demonstrate that you can be trusted. For example, when your mother sends you to the store to buy something, bring back the sales slip and give her the exact change. Ask her to count it.

When you visit a friend and return, check in with her and remind her of the time. When you are washing dishes and break something, report the breakage to her at once. Offer to do extra chores to pay for it.

By keeping accounts on any matter that could be misunderstood, you can keep in the clear, and eventually convince your mother that you are honest and trustworthy.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she requests that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 3462, Houston, Texas 77061.)

Glasscock Voters Facing School Bond Election

GARDEN CITY — For the first time in almost a decade, Glasscock County Independent School District is facing a school bond issue.

Facing the possibility of 30 per cent increase in enrollment in the next 12 years and also studying a rather severe report from the state department of accreditation of schools caused the board to approve and regret the bond issue.

EARLY VOTE
The $450,000 bond issue will be voted upon on Saturday, Sept. 4.

Purpose of the bond issue will be to build a new elementary

HOMER HESS

Hess Accepts Church Post

Homer Hess arrived in Big Spring this week from Fort Worth and will serve as assistant pastor and minister of music at Grace Baptist Church, according to an announcement by the Rev. Roy Honea.

He has recently served as minister of music for the South Campus Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

He and his wife, Camille, are lifelong residents of the Fort Worth area.

He graduated from Bible Baptist Seminary in Arlington where he received his Bachelor of Divinity degree. He also attended the University of Texas at Arlington.

The Hess's have three daughters, Robin, 10; Karen, 7; and Belinda, 4.

school and to add on and renovate the entire system. This will include new vocational and updated homemaking facilities.

The elementary building, which will be replaced, was constructed in 1930 some 43 years ago. Tommy Huckabee of Rihard and Huckabee architect, presented plans this week for a new facility to Supt. Don Stringer.

The report from Dr. Ben H. Branch of the construction accreditation division of the Texas Education Association, reported that "I was frankly shocked at the under-financed appearance of the entire place." He toured the Garden City schools.

He especially reported shock at the library which he said was dreary and outdated and needed to be converted into an up-to-date resource center.

He also condemned the atmosphere created by weak lighting and "dreary and depressing colors" and pointed out that all laboratory areas were inadequate. He ended his report with criticism of restroom facilities and dressing areas which he reported as outdated and overcrowded.

URGES SUPPORT
The schoolboard urged the support of the community in the bond issue pointing out that "We want to offer our children a good education to qualify them to meet the challenges in today's educational world."

Board members include George Schwartz, president, Hubert Freich, vice president, J. C. Newell, secretary; Ed Plagens, Jessie Overton, Leon Halfman and Arlie Wheat.

Richard Egan Is Honor Student

DENTON — Dr. Gustave Ferre, vice president for academic affairs at North Texas State University, has released the spring semester honor roll which lists 1,221 NTSU students.

Of the 14,582 students enrolled at NTSU in the spring semester, some 231 were listed on the 4.0 (or all "A") honor roll and 990 were named to the 3.5 listing, which includes those students whose grade average was midway between an "A" and a "B."

Named to the 3.5 listing from Big Spring was Richard S. Egan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Egan, 2710 Rebecca.

Hopkins, Priebe On Honor Roll

AUSTIN — A total of 586 University of Texas engineering students have been recognized as honor students for the 1973 spring semester by Dean Earnest F. Gloyna.

To be eligible for the engineering honor roll, a student must have maintained at least a 12-semester-hour course load throughout the semester, passed all courses, and made a minimum grade-point average of 3.25. Total grade points are calculated by multiplying course hours undertaken by the value of each grade. (A equals 4 points).

Students on the honor roll include:

David Henry Hopkins Jr., 601 W. 18th, and Roy Rodman Priebe, 2314 Roberts Drive, both of Big Spring; David Rankin Terry, Lorraine;
