THERE APPEARS LITTLE CHANCE ANY ARRESTS WILL BE MADE

Plot To Assassinate Nixon Remains Big Mystery

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Just hours before President Nixon was scheduled to ride down New Orleans' Canal Street in an open-car parade last Monday, the Secret Service announced that a possible conspiracy to assassinate him had been uncovered.

Now, almost a week later, New Orleans police are reported to have little prospects of making arrests in the case, although they know the men allegedly involved and are keeping them under observation.

GIANT ODDS

But a police source said no arrests are likely without additional evidence and termed chances of getting it slim. The Secret Service, however, says it is still probing and arrests could be made. A spokesman would not elaborate.

A former New Orleans policeman was arrested last week in New Mexico and charged with threatening the President's life, but police said he was not connected with the alleged assassination conspiracy.

The charges against the former policeman, Edwin M. Gaudet, 29, were dropped Friday when a witness was unable to positively identify him as the man she had previously said threatened to kill the President.

WHO, THEN? Who, then, is involved in the alleged conspiracy? And how serious a threat was it to Nixon's life?

The answers to those questions — and many others concerning the alleged plot and the subsequent investigation of it — remain wrapped in a cloak of official secrecy.

But although many pieces of the puzzle are missing, at least a partial picture can be pieced together.

Police Supt. Clarence Giarrusso says his New Orleans department began investigating reports of a conspiracy a week before Nixon was scheduled to arrive to address the Veterans of Foreign Wars national convention.

Officially, police will say no more than that.

But sources in a position to know say the reports told of a meeting involving six black militants at which assassination plans were discussed, and of a later session at which one man gave another a high-powered rifle with which to shoot Nixon.

New Orleans police reported the information to the Secret Service, charged with protecting the President.

NEW ROUND In Washington, the Secret Service cranked the reports into its files, along with dozens of similar ones that are methodically checked out as part of the day-by-day routine of protecting the President.

Secret Service agents in New Orleans, here preparing security for Nixon's visit, joined forces with the FBI and the New Orleans police in checking into the alleged plot.

Then, at mid-week, a woman told authorities of an incident that set off a new round of activity.

It occurred at Waterbury's, a drug store on Canal Street, one of the few downtown establishments open all night.

Inside that store, the woman said, she heard a man threaten Nixon's life, not once but several times over a two-week period.

'ILL DO IT'

Five days before the President was scheduled to arrive, the woman said, she heard the man say someone ought to kill

Nixon and declare, "If no one else has the guts, I'll do it."

Police began to look for Gaudet.

When they started trying to find him is not known. But the former policeman's father, Edwin Gaudet, manager of a downtown hotel, said no one asked him about his son's whereabouts until the night before Nixon's scheduled arrival. The elder Gaudet said he told them his son was in New Mexico and had been for some time. Two days after the younger

SURRENDERS Hijacks Plane

KUWAIT (AP) — A North Yemeni wielding a pistol and hand grenades surrendered to Kuwait authorities Saturday night after hijacking a Yemen Airways DC6 on a flight from Ta'izz, North Yemen, to Asmar, Ethiopia.

Kuwaiti authorities accepted five demands from the man including guaranteeing his safety in Kuwait before he agreed to turn over his arms and leave the plane which carried 17 persons.

TO RETIRE — Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., a 10-year veteran of the U.S. Senate, plans to announce Tuesday that he will retire in January 1975, his aides said Saturday. Bible reportedly will cite high blood pressure and other health reasons as among the reasons for his decision.

Meat Woes At Webb AFB

Meat shortages which have confronted civilian consumers in recent months are now also affecting military personnel as the price ceiling on retail beef prices remains unlifted.

The commissary at Webb AFB ran completely out of beef last week, according to the Webb Information Office. Reese AFB in Lubbock has been out of beef since Aug. 8, and presumably other bases throughout the state and nation are at least running low.

Meat for the Webb commissary is purchased through the Defense Personnel Support Center in New Orleans from Glover Packing Co. in Roswell, N.M.

A base spokesman said a shipment of beef is expected Monday. Until then or such time when meat becomes available there, military personnel either have to do without beef or shop the civilian supermarkets.

Cosden Hikes Crude Prices

Some new price increases, in accordance with regulations provided under Phase 4 regulations as established by the Cost of Living Council, will be initiated by Cosden Oil & Chemical Co., Big Spring.

A spokesman said increases of 15 cents a barrel for 10,000 barrels per day of West Texas-Westbrook type sour crude would result in a new price plateau of $4.15, and for 4,200 barrels a day for West Texas intermediate crude oil the top price will be $4.31 a barrel.

Officials at the local plant said that costs involved in producing oil products are escalating and that retail prices could be expected to rise accordingly.

Cosden officials, however, declined to offer an estimate on the effects expected on the retail market of oil products made by the company, adding that such estimates should properly originate in America Petrofina offices in Dallas.

Reviewing the ... Big Spring Week ... with Joe Pickle

At certain times of year, particularly in late summer, Dawson County — from the air — looks as if a map-maker painted it and reserved his greenest shade of green for that particular part of the Great Southwest.

The entire county is planted in cotton and most of it invariably matures, is harvested and shipped to market. Lubbock may have more cotton planted inside its city limits than any city in America but Dawson County raises more of the commodity than any other county in America.

More than 200,000 bales were harvested there last year and it looks like this year's output may top 265,000 bales.

Howard County is slightly larger than Dawson, 912 square miles compared to 899 for Dawson. Dawson, however, has far more farms 841 to 521. Whereas much of Howard County is considered ranching country, practically all of Dawson is devoted to farming and more particularly to cotton.

It's commonly thought, incidentally, that Dawson lies north of Howard but that is not the case. Only a mile or so of their borders touch and motorists traveling up Highway 87 pass through a tip of Martin County before they reach Dawson.

Only one county (Gaines) lies between Dawson and the New Mexico border, whereas two Andrews and Martin, separate Howard from a border that

Police Corner Gunman Holding Four Hostages

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Police locked a gunman, his accomplice and four hostages in the vault of a bank where the gunman was holding out for the third straight day Saturday.

Police spokesmen said they hoped that by locking in the entire group they would later be able to seize the gunmen without harm to the hostages.

"It must slowly grow in the gunman's mind that his position is untenable," said Police Supt. Kurt Lindroth.

There was no immediate word on what was going on inside the locked vault or what the next police move would be.

MACHINE GUN

The gunman took over the main Kreditbanken office in downtown Stockholm Thursday after two policemen burst in as he was trying to hold up the bank. One policeman was wounded during an exchange of gunfire.

Armed with a machine gun, the gunman held four bank employees — three women and one man — while police reinforcements surrounded the bank and tried to get him to surrender.

At the gunman's demand, police released convict Clark Olofsson on Thursday and brought him to the bank to join the gunman, whom he apparently knew. Then police turned over $650,000 ransom and offered the gunman and Olofsson safe passage out of Sweden in return for release of the hostages.

The gunman refused, insisting he must retain a hostage with him to guarantee his flight. Authorities negotiated fruitlessly for two days.

NO DICE

Then about 50 armed police wearing bullet-proof vests inched their way into the bank early Saturday and closed the vault where they said the gunman was sleeping.

The bank robber's identity was not firmly established. Police first identified him as Kaj Hansson, 21. Later they withdrew that identity and speculated the gunman was a 33-year-old safecracker who escaped recently from a prison in south-east Sweden. They said he may have staged the robbery and taken the hostages as part of a plan to get Olofsson out of prison.

Olofsson, a well-known criminal in Sweden, was serving a life term as an accessory to murder and several bank robberies.

Two Miners Found Dead Under Desert

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP) — Two miners trapped underground for eight days were found dead late Saturday when rescuers finally broke through a wall of muck which had sealed the pair in a dead-end tunnel 1,200 feet underground.

Jerry Turnbow, Hecla Mine Co. spokesman, announced that the bodies of David Deeder, 41, of Casa Grande, and Terry Udall, 24 of Fort Collins, Colo., had been found.

"We are sorry to say the men are not alive," said Turnbow.

There was never any response from the men after the cave-in. Company officials had been optimistic the men would be found alive because three miners who escaped from the cave-in saw them fleeing into the dead-end tunnel.

Turnbow said it was not known how long the two miners had been dead nor how they died. He said autopsies would be performed.

Beside him was State Mine Inspector Verne McCutchan who directed the lengthy rescue operation involving more than 100 rescue workers.

McCutchan had no comment on the outcome of the rescue mission.

Relatives of the two miners and physicians were summoned immediately after the rescue crews broke through the last 10 feet of earthen wall to the 500-foot chamber where the pair had been trapped since Aug. 17.

Rescue workers had used earth moving machines to burrow through mud, rock and debris that blocked the chamber. They were turned back repeatedly by the fire that erupted after the cave-in. The fire apparently was started by a spark from the digging machine when the sides of the tunnel collapsed while the men were digging a new shaft.

Power Woes On Skylab

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Officials expressed concern Saturday that batteries aboard the Skylab space station may be degrading more rapidly than expected, possibly spelling power problems aboard the orbiting lab in the weeks ahead.

Officials made the assessment after tests by Skylab 2 astronauts Alan L. Bean, Jack R. Lousma and Dr. Owen K. Garriott showed that five of the 17 working batteries aboard the spaceship have lost about 40 per cent of their capacity to hold an electrical charge.

There was no immediate concern for the astronauts or for their mission, but flight controller MIT Windler said the problem could lead to a need for power conservation measures aboard Skylab.

Rustlers Steal Wagon, Meat

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Rustlers driving an old car and armed with guns commandeered a meat firm's delivery wagon and made off with about $900 worth of meat.

Mark Kracht, 23, an employee of the Ferko Meat Co., told police he was driving the company station wagon loaded with meat Friday when an old car forced him to the curb.

Three men were in the auto, Kracht told police, and two of them forced him at gunpoint to get out of the wagon and walk away. He said they then drove off in the wagon and the other car followed.

'LETHAL LETTERS' Bomb Scares Disrupt Lives Of Thousands

LONDON (AP) — A letter bomb at the Bank of England injured three men Saturday and a second explosive went off in a women's shop. The blasts continued a week-long wave of explosions and bomb scares blazoned on Irish Republican Army extremists.

The bombings, along with a host of fraudulent threats, have disrupted the lives of thousands of British shoppers, holiday travelers and sports fans.

Derek Woodward, 44, was seriously injured in the explosion of the letter bomb in the mail room of the fortress-like Bank of England. Woodward had a hand amputated and then underwent more surgery.

BOMB DEFUSED

Bomb scares that followed the blast stretched London's police force to the limits. Police cleared major train stations packed with travelers at the start of a three-day end-of-summer weekend, then checked out bomb threats.

Thousands of shoppers were cleared out of stores on Oxford Street, London's department store row. A small incendiary device went off there, causing no injuries. A bigger bomb was defused.

A bomb threat also was made against thousands of fans at a stadium on the opening day of the soccer season.

Of all the bomb scares, however, possibly the most shocking to the British came at Lords, seat of the national game, cricket.

LETHAL 'LETTERS'

Police forced nearly 30,000 fans to leave the grounds while a bomb threat was checked. It was an hour before they let the fans back in and the match between England and the West Indies was resumed.

In the last week more than 30 explosive devices have been uncovered at various London landmarks. Intended targets have included Prime Minister Edward Heath and the Defense Ministry.

Most explosions have come from small incendiary devices in stores. They have done little damage. Most lethal letter bombs and bombs in shopping baskets have been defused.

Scotland Yard has examined the materials used in the bombs and is convinced they are identical to those used by Irish terrorists. The IRA is trying to drive Britain out of its largely Protestant province of Northern Ireland and reunite the province with the Roman Catholic Irish republic just to the south.

IRA spokesmen in Ireland have refused comment on the London bombings.

Fights Erupt At Five Points

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Fighting erupted at five points within 47 miles of Phnom Penh Saturday in the heaviest day of skirmishing since the end of the American bombing 10 days ago.

Communist-led Cambodian insurgents shelled two airports, including Phnom Penh's Pochentong military and international airport. They cut the country's rice road to the northwest and hit government positions defending two provincial capitals.

'Puppy Mills' Investigation

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A lot of cold, wet noses are flying out of Kansas City International Airport these days.

And animal lovers and congressmen are checking reports that man's best friend is getting a raw deal. They are demanding tighter regulations to ensure the comfort and safety of the dogs who travel in boxes deep in a baggage compartment, at the mercy of the men who pack the box and watch the compartment.

"Kansas City is very definitely the hub of the nation's puppy traffic," said Frank McMahon, director of investigations of the Humane Society of the United States. "In a single day one shipper alone brought in 82 crates of puppies, usually with two dogs in each crate."

BIBLE FUND DONATIONS

Eight donations were received for the Big Spring High School Bible Fund Friday afternoon and Saturday, pushing the donation to $2,497.

That's only slightly more than half the objective (3,800), with only a little more than a week left in the campaign.

Among the gifts accepted Saturday morning was a check for $100 from Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lawrence.

Donations should be made out to The Bible Fund and forwarded either to The Herald or to the Rev. Caleb Hildebrand, pastor of the Wesley United Methodist Church, who spearheads the drive for the sponsoring organization, the Howard County Ministers' Fellowship.

Latest gifts included:

- T. A. Underhill and sons, memory of wife and mother, Crystal D. Underhill 410
- Mrs. Albert Davis, memory of Albert Davis 25
- Mrs. E. Richardson, memory of Granville Dawson 25
- Mrs. Joe B. Heard, memory of Joe B. Heard 10
- Mrs. Mrs. Harry Williamson 5
- Mrs. J. W. (Dora Ruth) Carter 5
- Mrs. C. B. Lawrence 100
- Mrs. Mrs. W. F. Taylor 50
- Previously acknowledged 2,277

THE WEEK

separates Winkler and New Mexico and runs straight as an arrow to the tip of Dallam County.

It's nice to live close to the home of King Cotton.

Pioneer Natural Gas Co., has indicated it will ask customers for a 26.6 per cent increase in the rates it charged domestic and commercial users of natural gas.

Pioneer had cranked up for a bid to increase its rates many months ago, citing increased costs, but its campaign was hamstrung from time to time.

Jim Granberry of Lubbock, a Republican for governor, visited Big Spring during the week to "feel the pulse" of the voting business and reacquaint himself with various members of his party here.

"The pulse" of all voters is very weak at this time but is sure to accelerate after the first of the year, when a new political season will be ushered in. You can be sure Granberry will be back this way when the campaign heats up. Granberry is a long way from even winning the nomination but he has to be given E for Effort. The Grand Old Party reasons a lot of its troubles (nationally) may be behind it by the time the 1974 elections roll around and it may be right.

A wreck four miles north-east of town last weekend claimed one life immediately and had its lingering effects when a second man, 21-year-old David Sellers of Snyder, succumbed in a local hospital Monday night.

A sum of $5,800 would buy a serviceable automobile for any American family. That much money would provide another more important kind of vehicle in that it would insure a Bible course at Big Spring High School again. Such a class enables many students to study something that otherwise, because of national laws, would be deprived them.

The aforementioned sum is the objective in donations sought by the Howard County Ministers' Fellowship. Anything short of $5,800 could shorten the full year's study.

The drive is still far short of its goal and time is growing short. Those friends of the fund who haven't forwarded a check need to act as soon as practicable.

A brigadier general moved out and a colonel moved in when Tuesday morning ceremonies at Webb AFB marked a change in command. Brig Gen. Stanley Umstead, who only recently changed his insignia from an eagle to a star, went on to bigger things at San Antonio. Replacing him was Col. Robert G. Liotta a man who has matched his raise in military ranks with academic pursuits.

The Permian Basin Planning Command apparently sees Big Spring as a community off dead center and on the move, for it reasons Howard County will support a population of 54,400 in 17 years.

Ector County, on the other hand, will also double its head count (to 171,600) and that's not difficult to figure out. A senior college like UTPB does much to sell an area. Just look what Texas Tech did for Lubbock.

Howard County's continued growth, of course, will depend largely upon whether its leaders can sell the captains of industry on the idea that this is a good direction in which to aim for future expansion.

A committee that likely will do a lot of long-range planning for Big Spring and environs began to take shape here last week.

Once the group is organized, townspeople will be asked to comment and vote on objectives in a series of townhall type meetings, which would be held in different sections of the city.

A group with such objectives helped pull Midland together and start it on an upswing.

Christian Spell, 23, Webb AFB, was treated for minor injuries at Webb Hospital Friday night after his car turned over in a one-car accident on Midway Road.

The accident occurred at 7:57 p.m. after the car he was driving west on Midway Road skidded off the right side of the road, hit a sign post, returned to the road and hit a fence, finally turning over on its top.

The car was totally demolished.

Gaudet was arrested, the woman said she was no longer positive he was the man she heard make the threats.

Then, in the early morning hours of Monday, while Nixon slept hundreds of miles away at his Key Biscayne, Fla., retreat, new developments in New Orleans brought additional concern to the Secret Service.

CAR FOUND
Police Supt. Giarrusso's official car was stolen and a patrolman's uniform, badge and nameplate disappeared from a parked car.

A myriad of possibilities arose in which Giarrusso's car, the missing police identification and the alleged conspirators could be tied into a bizarre plot.

Giarrusso's car was found abandoned on a city street three hours before Nixon's arrival time. Nothing was missing from it.

The fact that the police uniform, badge and nameplate were missing was known in ample time for word to be put out to all over law enforcement agencies that anyone using them would be a phony.

But the Secret Service remained concerned.

STILL AT LARGE
A local police source said the Secret Service asked New Orleans police to pick up the men who had allegedly conspired to kill Nixon. Police refused to do so, the source said, because "We didn't have enough evidence to make a case. We were waiting them, but we didn't want to move until we had what we needed."

As Nixon prepared to head toward New Orleans, the Secret Service did what it had never done before: With the alleged conspirators still at large, it announced that a plot against the President's life had been uncovered.

The Secret Service said it had urged the President to cancel his parade. Nixon agreed to reroute the motorcade to get to the Rivergate, a convention center in downtown New Orleans near the Mississippi River, by a side street rather than down Canal.

Nixon delivered his speech, returned to the airport and flew off to California without incident.

A local police source says the identities of the men who allegedly plotted against the President's life are known and that the men are being kept under observation.

NO WARRANTS
But the official word from the police department is that no warrants have been issued for any arrests.

And the word from the police source is that no warrants are likely to be issued unless some new information turns up.

Former Herald Reporter Named Regional Editor

Gordon Zeidler, former Big Spring Herald reporter, has been named regional editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

The appointment made Saturday was one of several for both the morning and afternoon papers.

David E. Knapp was named executive editor of both editions. He has been with the papers since 1964 and has been serving as managing editor of the morning edition.

Other appointments included Burle Pettit, former sports editor; Don Henry, new sports editor; Kenneth May, columnist, made associate editor; Worth Wren, new business editor; and Vaughn Hendrie, new public affairs director.

Connally-Pickle Recall Good Old Days Of Radio

COLUMBUS, Tex. (AP) — Two former radio men who overslept and missed their first broadcast program right after World War II were right on time Saturday for the opening of another radio station. They were former Treasury Secretary John Connally and Rep. J. J. Pickle, D-Tex.

Pickle and Connally teamed up at ceremonies marking the opening of radio station KULM-FM here. Pickle recalled how he and Connally were partners in an Austin radio station after the war and spent most of the night talking before the day they were to make their first broadcast.

Pickle said they talked so late that Connally overslept and the new station was 45 minutes late opening its first day.

The grand jury probe, headed by Asst. Attorney Jonathan L. Goldstein, is being handled with rigid secrecy.

But recent courtroom maneuvers and comments by industry sources, indicate the probe is wide and deep.

Among the recent events are: —The reported issuance of subpoenas to at least eight major record companies — Columbia, Atlantic, Elektra, Warner Bros., Stax Chess Janus, London and Bell.

—The issuance of subpoenas to at least 20 New York City and New Jersey radio stations, many of which specialize in rock music programming.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Federal prosecutors are intensifying their probe of possible kickbacks and tax violations in the multimillion dollar record industry. Sources say that before it's over, the inquiry may dig deeper than the payola scandal of the 1950s.

The latest investigation began in June when a grand jury was formed to take evidence about alleged underworld connections and financial mismanagement among executives at Columbia Records. The alleged wrongdoing surfaced during an investigation by the U.S. attorney's office in Newark of a heroin ring operating between Canada and New Jersey. One of the ring members allegedly had dealings with Columbia executives.

WHY IS THERE NOT A SONG OF CITY THE BEAUTIFUL?

"From the mountains, to the prairie, to the oceans white with foam . . ."

They still sing of America the Beautiful, the children of the cities. An America that is somewhere else, out beyond the smoke and grime and rotting wood.

CROWDED GOODIES
Why is there not a song of City the Beautiful, with its cacophony of rumble and tinkle, and blare and crash; of neon lights and crowded delights.

They are all of a piece, these cities of America, whether east or west. New York is fabled for its reach to the sky, San Francisco is serene and exciting on its God-given crests. But there are other cities, too, where squalor and beauty touch and are one. The noxious air diffuses light and shrouds the drabness with softgrays and blacks, silhouetting the prison-like structures where working men spend their days.

A child's innocence can still find wonder in discovering a dead rat, much as a Huckleberry Finn in another, more delightful time.

And to a child who has never experienced the openness of suburbia — much less the forests and the lakes — home is still home, no matter the cracking wood on the door or the hand-me-down clothes or the vista that sees only streets filled with the madness of rush.

THEY LIVE AND DIE
Oh yes, there is beauty in the cities. Instead of wide spaces, the lovers can find a world alone in concrete oases no matter where they are and never mind — for this moment — the uncaring strangers nearby.

Where do they escape, these people who have huddled in the cities? The real world with its daily savagery seems not enough, they go to darkened boxes to see even greater aberrations, paying money to be amused, though frightened.

They live and they die in the cities, complaining yet staying. And somewhere nearby there is the final resting place for the cave dwellers and there, too, they erect concrete. A marker to say "I've been here, I was beloved, I was a face in the throng, I helped make the city a city."

Arm Caught In Candy Machine

It wasn't all sweet Saturday morning for little Julie Byrd as she apparently tried to get candy out of a vending machine at a local laundry.

Her mother, Mrs. Jo Byrd, called police at 11:39 a.m. to report that five-year-old Julie's arm had been caught in the machine.

Members of the police department and fire department along with a man from the candy company freed Julie's arm, leaving her uninjured but, according to the police report, "pretty scared."

Fire Destroys Cab Of Truck
The cab of a semi-truck was totally in a fire Friday night two miles north of Big Spring on the Lamesa Highway.

Silver Heels fireman Don Goodson said it took five minutes to put out the flames which completely engulfed the cab. Cause of the fire is undetermined, but may have been wiring.

Driver of the truck, Jack E. Bryan of Lubbock apparently was not hurt. The grain trailer pulled by the cab received no damage.

Innocence Pleas To Assault Rap
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Fred Carrasco, accused of being a major narcotics dealer, pleaded innocent Friday to a charge of assault with intent to murder.

The charge was filed in connection with a shootout when Carrasco was arrested in San Antonio July 22.

District Court Judge Preston Dial Jr. set the trial for Oct. 23. Carrasco's wife, Rosa, and two other persons are charged with assault with intent to murder in the incident. They will be arraigned next Friday.

DEATHS
March E. Lott
MIDLAND — Graveside services were held at 7 a.m. today in Reshavan Memorial Park for March E. Lott, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Lott, Midland. The child died in Texas Children's Hospital in Houston Thursday where she had been a patient five days. Among survivors are maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ernest, Lamesa.

Fannie Rundell
COLORADO CITY — Last rites for Fannie Rundell, 83, will be at 4 p.m. today in the Kiker-Rains-Seale Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Harold Henderson, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiating.

Miss Rundell died around noon Saturday in a nursing home here after a sudden illness. Burial will be in Colorado City Cemetery.

A Central Texas native born Dec. 31, 1889, she had lived in Mitchell County many years and in Colorado City the past 11 years. She was a member of Oak Street Baptist Church.

Survivors include four nephews, Ernest Wiggins, Snyder, C. P. Wiggins and Jesse Wiggins, both of Colorado City, and W. H. Wiggins, Everett, Wash.; two nieces, Mrs. Evelyn Brown, Big Spring, and Mrs. Viva Rollins, Odessa.

Mrs. Gale
COLORADO CITY — Funeral services are set for 10:30 a.m. Monday in Kiker-Rains-Seale Chapel for Mrs. Bessie Mae Gale, 79, formerly of Loraine, who died around noon Saturday in a Big Spring nursing home.

The Rev. Glenn Roenfeldt, pastor of First Baptist Church here, will officiate. Burial will be in Pyron Cemetery in Scurry County.

Born April 15, 1894 in Brown County, she married E. C. (Boss) Gale Jan. 19, 1913 in Scurry County. He died in 1961 after which she moved to Stanton. She had lived in the Big Spring rest home for 18 months.

Survivors include two grandsons, Rodney Hallman, Oxen, Md., and Jerry Hallman, Big Spring; a niece, Mrs. Allene Boyce, Midland; and three great-grandchildren.

A daughter, Grlene Hallman, preceded her in death in 1940.

THEFTS
Vernon P. Johnson, North 66 Truck Stop, reported to police at 8:26 a.m. Saturday that the title and license receipts had been stolen from his car.

An attempted burglary was reported at 7:14 a.m. Saturday at 708 W. 17th. No entry was gained but a window screen had been cut and the window unlocked and footprints were found in a flower bed.

Food Stamps Program In Glasscock, Martin

Certification of persons wishing to participate in the state-wide food stamp program will begin Oct. 1, 1973, according to Gary Garner, supervisor.

"If you are unemployed, don't make much money or receive public assistance, you may be eligible for food stamps," Garner explained. "With food stamps, you spend the same amount you presently do for groceries but receive more and better food for your money."

Food stamps increase the purchasing power of low-income households by 10 to 30 per cent or even more. And food stamps are a good means for using America's agricultural abundance while helping those who can't afford it to eat better.

Certification will be done in Reagan County on Tuesdays, beginning on Aug. 28 at the County Court Room in the PRIZE WINNERS — Among those winning prizes at the Old Settlers Reunion were Mrs. R. W. McNew, oldest woman present, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hill, couple married the longest, and A. P. Sipes, who has attended the most reunions. P. A. Edgerton was the oldest man attending and Mrs. Waldo Jones came the greatest distance.

Fiddlers, Indian Dancers, Chicks Lure Old Settlers

By MARJ CARPENTER
One of the hottest days of the summer failed to daunt some 500 old settlers who gathered for their 49th annual reunion at Comanche Trail Park.
A. L. Sipes, who has never missed one of the reunions and was given the prize for attending the most, remarked in mid-afternoon, "I've got to run over here and help judge this Old Fiddlers contest and then rest up for the dance tonight."
In his 80's, he came to Big Spring when a small child and lived in a half dugout near the area of the Big Spring. "My father was a train engineer — Buttermilk Sipes — everybody knew him, and my mother was a Cherokee Indian."

KNEW INDIAN DANCES
He looked across at the Order of the Arrow Indian dancers which were being watched attentively by the old settlers and quipped, "Those are mighty pretty Indian dances but they're nothing like the ones my mother taught me." And full of enthusiasm, he went off to greet more friends at the event.
Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hill, who have been married 60 years and had been honored as the longest married couple, attended the morning session, the chicken dinner and watched the Indian dancers and then decided to call it a day.

FIDDLERS FIDDLE
The Old Fiddlers were wheeling out tunes, and contest winners were Chester Dirreck, Odessa, first; Leon White, Big Spring, second; and W. C. Carpenter, Colorado City, third.
Mrs. R. W. McNew, 80, was the oldest woman present and gladly admitted her age and also pointed out that she was probably the only person present who had five generations from her family attending the event.
P. A. Edgerton, 86, was the oldest man attending. Wylie Cline, 85, ran him a close second. Cline walked to the park Friday morning from his home "over on West Fourth" to attend the event.

WORKED CATTLE
When Cline heard somebody remarking about the heat, he said, "I've always been out in the heat . . . worked cattle most of my life. Came here with my dad from around San Angelo in 1904."

He also said, "I know less folks here every year. The old settlers are getting younger."
Mrs. Waldo Jones from Maine was awarded the prize for coming the greatest distance. There was a woman present from England but she was "not a Howard Countian, but just a visitor."
Don Croft, 16-year-old Forsan High youth, and descendant of an old settler's family, won the oil painting given away.
Horseshoe pitchers were many and Richard McCormick won the prize, with J. C. Myrick, second and Margaret Dodson, third.
Dwight B. McCann expressed appreciation to all who helped make the event a success. Dr. Claude Craven was in charge of the memorial service in memory of Howard County settlers who had died during the past year.

City Gas Supply Problems Eased

With neither the city's present nor previous gasoline supplier willing to negotiate for next fiscal year's contract, city officials have summoned help from the President's Cost of Living Council.
Purchasing agent Bob Butler called the Council Friday afternoon and was told by a staff member that help would be on its way by Monday.
The city's present contract with Continental Oil Co. scheduled to run out Friday. The gas supply ran so low last week that the city was completely out of gas for a two and a half hour period on Thursday until Continental came through with the quota 8,000 gallons at mid-morning.
'OBLIGATED'
City Manager Harry Nagel recently told city commissioners that the city had written a letter to Continental claiming that the company is almost obligated to continue supplying the municipality even after this year's contract runs out.
As allotments made by the Cost of Living Council reportedly were based on those of 1971-72 when the city was served by Gulf Oil Co., Continental claimed that Gulf is the company obliged to supply the city. Butler said, however, that Gulf refuses to go back and pick up on any old contracts.

While the situation is expected to come to a head late this week, Butler said the city has managed to obtain somewhat of a back-up supply to tide it over for a while.
A 1,980 gallon supply of gasoline was ordered yesterday from Newcomer Butane Co. of Ackerly with another of the same size scheduled to be delivered Monday. Butler said Newcomer predicted its ability to deliver two more such loads later this week if the city needs such.
UNDERGROUND TANKS
Purchase of gas from Newcomer was at an only half-cent increase over the per gallon contract price now charged by Continental. Butler said Newcomer is charging the city 27.9 cents per gallon which, after state and federal taxes are taken out due to governmental refunds, comes to only 16.9 cents per gallon.
Butler indicated that a repeat of Thursday's no-gas situation may be staved off because of the back-up supply which can be built up with the Newcomer supply. This gas, he noted, is stored in underground tanks of 18,000 gallon capacity near the city garage.

Odessa To Vote On Sales Tax

ODESSA — The "Penny for Odessa" committee has been formed to push for the city's proposed one per cent sales tax to be voted on in a Tuesday election.
Chairman of the group is Bruce Frankum. He said last week Odessans face a choice of approving the city's sales tax or paying the needed revenue for the city in increased property taxes. He said Odessa property owners are bearing the brunt of providing the city's operating expenses.
The costs should be shared by out-of-towners who are using Odessa fire and police protection while in the city, Frankum added.
Odessa is the only metropolitan area in the state without a sales tax, the committee stresses, and is one of the 24 fastest growing cities in the nation.

Issuance Slated For Food Stamps

The first Post Office issuance of Food Stamps under the new state-wide Food Stamp Program will take place at 8 a.m. Sept. 4, in the Gail Post Office according to Postmaster Jessie B. Jackson and Mr. Carrol D. Crum, Regional Administrator of the Texas Department of Public Welfare.

Borden County currently has a Food Stamp program, but it will be replaced with the new state-wide plan which has installed this new issuance system. Certified households will be able to go to the Post office at their own convenience and buy their allotment of Food Stamps. They can buy their stamps between the hours of 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, except on Federal holidays.

Eligibility is determined by size of household, total net income, resources, and other considerations. Persons who are unemployed, work part-time, or receive small pension checks should contact the Food Stamp Office at 309 North Houston, Lamesa or at the Borden County Courthouse. People who are not employed must register for and accept work.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS Hope To Recruit More Blue Collar Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new president of the Young Democrats says he hopes to recruit more blue collar workers into the group because it is too college-oriented.
DeLespess Morrison Jr., 32, of New Orleans said the organization traditionally has had its base on college campuses, even though 80 per cent of U.S. young people don't go to college.
"I think we have to go after the labor and blue collar persons and minorities," Morrison said. "I think we are and should be a microcosm of the senior party."

At a news conference Morrison said he believes the full Democratic party will soon reunite. He predicted that those who supported Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., for president in 1972 will lead the way and conservatives and labor also return to the fold.

Morrison said signs the party is "coming back together" include the recent visit of Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., to Alabama Gov. George Wallace. "I think we have to embrace each other," he said.

Bloody Weekend May Be Ahead For Motorists

AUSTIN — Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today warned that 42 persons may lose their lives in Texas traffic during the long Labor Day weekend.

The holiday officially begins at 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 31 and runs through midnight Monday, Sept. 3.

Speir said the DPS is making preparations to cope with increased holiday travel. "Every available Department of Public Safety patrolman will be on duty during this three day weekend, utilizing all resources we can put our hands on to prevent accidents," he added.

The DPS director noted that special attention will be paid to hazardous traffic violations normally associated with a high holiday death toll. Patrolmen

Response Good To Provision

WEATHERFORD — Response to the advance payments provision of the GI Bill has been tremendous, according to Ralph Willingham, Veterans Coordinator at Weatherford College.

The number of veterans who have applied for the two-month advance on their Educational Benefits, has caused a slight delay in receipt of the checks from VA; however, Willingham has said that the delay will be small. He also said that the Veterans Administration has authorized Weatherford College to continue accepting applications for advance payments through Aug. 31.

Of course, these late applicants cannot expect their first check until after the beginning of classes on Sept. 6.

Educational benefits of the GI Bill have been liberalized to encourage veterans to continue their education. Three months of benefits are available for each two months of service time. For a veteran with two or more dependents, this can amount to well over $10,000 during the course of his education.

Students at Weatherford College may choose courses for the first two years of a bachelor's degree in Agriculture, Fine Arts, Business Administration, Pre-Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Pre-Law, Pre-Medicine, Liberal Arts and Sciences. The Associate of Arts Degree is given upon graduation from this college.

Registration will be held in the College Library on Tuesday, Sept. 4 for those students who have not pre-registered. Day students register from nine to four and evening students from seven until nine. The final day to register for Fall Semester classes will be on Tuesday, Sept. 18.

Sunglasses VS Funglasses.

A fair appraisal.

It isn't fair to compare quality prescription or non-prescription optical glass sunglasses against the inexpensive tinted glasses you can get practically anywhere. In practically any size, shape or color.

But it's just as unfair to let you think these funglasses protect your eyes as real sunglasses will.

Many funglasses reduce glare, some even filter out ultraviolet rays. But inferior plastic lenses can't stop infrared radiation. And you need protection against all three. Poor quality lenses scratch more easily, too.

They can distort light. In short, they can give you almost as many problems as you'd have without them.

It's the same with the frames. Frames built to fit a variety of people can't give you the comfort that precision-made, professionally-fitted frames do.

And while funglasses cost less, they don't last as long.

There is a time and place for funglasses, but don't expect them to do what they can't.

Cotton Looking Good Despite Boll Weevils

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Only the Lower Rio Grande Valley area and the Gulf Coast have adequate to surplus moisture conditions, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

Elsewhere, summer weather is encouraging hay making with a resulting shortage of baling wire, he said.

A rising volume of beef cattle marketing was noted in some regions last week, Hutchison said.

CANNOT HARVEST
District Agricultural agents gave these reports: Panhandle: Except in the southeastern portion, moisture is short. Some wheat planting has started. Onion harvesting is slow. The carrot harvest has just begun. Cattle and ranges are holding up generally.

South Plains: Cotton is growing and fruiting well but rain is needed in non-irrigated fields. Sorghum yields are light in the southern section. Soybeans are showing up well. Pastures are generally in good condition. The cattle price is strong in an active market.

North Central: Moisture is considered adequate in most of this section. Cotton is progressing, but several counties report bollworm and weevil troubles. Guar growth is good. Baling wire shortages have delayed hay making in some counties. Livestock and ranges are still in good shape.

Northeast: Soil moisture is short to adequate. Heat and oat harvesting is on. The cotton crop looks fair to good. Sorghum is about 40 per cent harvested with good yields. All peanuts are planted and prospects are favorable. There is plenty of hay but not much baling wire. Scab has hit bean groves, and only a fair crop is anticipated. Pastures are still holding up despite dry weather. Livestock are selling generally well. Feed prices are rising.

Far West: Hot, dry weather here is considered good for the use rain. Livestock are in excellent condition, and alfalfa seed harvest in Ward County has produced up to 500 pounds an acre.

West Central: Cotton looks good despite boll weevil activity in some counties. Soil moisture is very short in most areas. Sorghum harvesting has started with good yields. Peanuts are doing well, but need rain. Baling wire is scarce. San Saba County's pecan crop will be short. Pastures are average with some grass fires reported. Livestock are good and the market is strong.

PRICES HIGH
East: Soil moisture is short to adequate. Pastures are still excellent but some sections need rain. Livestock are holding up well. Prices are generally high. Hay making is active with good yields. The sorghum harvest is starting. Insect-damaged pecans point to a short crop.

Southeast and Upper Gulf Coast: Soil moisture is adequate to surplus. Cotton is about 25 per cent open and 30 per cent harvested. Most fields have ginned their first bales. Soybeans are 20 per cent harvested, corn 10 per cent, and orghum 60 per cent yields and prices have been fair. The first rice cutting is about 31 per cent done. Yields are good, but rains have delayed operations. Pastures and livestock are fine. Marketing is slow, prices high and sales short.

South Central: Soil moisture is short to adequate. Cotton is beginning to open. There is irrigation in some fields. Showers have delayed sorghum operations in a crop that is about 55 per cent harvested. Peanut yields are good. Hay yields also are high. Baling wire is still short. A light pecan crop is expected. Pastures are average, livestock good, and marketing is strong.

Southwest: Rain is needed on pastures and ranges although conditions are still above average. Livestock marketing has increased. Sorghum harvesting is 90 per cent complete with above average yields. The corn harvest also appears favorable. Most of the fall vegetable crop is planted and showing up well.

South: Moisture is generally adequate. Frequent showers are delaying much cotton harvests. Fall vegetable planting is waiting for dry fields. Only a few fields of sorghum remains to be harvested. Haying is at a standstill because of showers and wire shortages. Pastures are in excellent conditions.

Field Day Set For Station

LUBBOCK — The 64th annual Field Day and Open House of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has been set for Sept. 11. A review of new developments in agricultural research on the South Plains will highlight the special occasion.

Announcement of the upcoming field day activities was made by Dr. George McBee, resident director of the TAES, and Oliver Newton, meteorologist with the National Weather Service and field day committee chairman.

According to Newton discussions and explanations of research work conducted by TAES and USDA-ARS scientists will be presented in 11 different field locations on the sprawling 32-acre site north of Lubbock.

Reject Special Session Ideas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Constitution Revision Commission rejected proposals Saturday to permit the legislature to call itself into special session or to determine how often and how long its regular sessions will be.

The regular session proposal would have allowed the legislature to meet each year for as long as it wanted.

Preston Shirley, Galveston lawyer, offered an amendment that would limit the regular sessions to 180 days in odd-numbered years and 60 days, to deal only with fiscal matters, in even-numbered years.

KEPT WOMEN

The legislature meets regularly for a maximum of 140 days in odd-numbered years under the present constitution. Shirley's amendment is the same as a constitutional amendment that voters will decide this November. The commission approved it, 15-11.

One of the no votes was cast by Mrs. Marty Beth Brient, El Paso, who said the November ballot proposal also increases legislators' salaries from $4,800 a year to $15,000. It will be difficult to determine how many voters oppose the amendment because of the salary feature, she said.

Mark McLaughlin, San Angelo lawyer, supported Shirley's amendment because unlimited sessions would restrict legislative membership "to either rich men or kept men."

"How about kept women?" joked Robert W. Calvert, commission chairman.

Leroy Jeffers, Houston lawyer, called the language on the unlimited sessions proposal "deceptive."

The commission's original proposal, amended by Shirley, read: "The legislature shall meet at least once every two years at such times and for such duration as prescribed by law."

PLAIN ENGLISH
If the commission's legislative committee wanted unlimited sessions, Jeffers asked, why didn't it come out and say so in plain English?

Ralph Yarborough, former U.S. senator from Austin, said he did not see anything deceptive about the language. "I notice Mr. Jeffers understood it," Yarborough said.

The special session proposal would have allowed the legislature to call itself into session when two-thirds of each house signed a petition to that effect.

The commission voted 13-13 on that section. Calvert broke the tie with a negative vote, meaning the commission favors the present system.

LBJ Space Center Dedication Slated

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The home of America's astronauts will be dedicated Monday under a new name — the Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center.

Known since it was founded in 1962 as the Manned Spacecraft Center, the 1620-acre complex near Houston will formally assume the name of the 36th president of the United States at dedication ceremonies set at 3 p.m. Monday.

FAMOUS PEOPLE
Johnson's widow, Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, his two daughters and several of his grandchildren will attend the service.

Dr. James Fletcher, the administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will be the principle speaker. Other dignitaries are to include Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe; Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., several congressmen, members of the astronaut corps and Dr. Christopher C. Kraft, director of the center.

Ceremonies will include the unveiling of a bust of President Johnson carved by noted sculptress Jimilu Mason. The bust will go on permanent display in the center's main building.

Monday was selected for dedication day because it marks the 65th anniversary of Johnson's birth.

A resolution passed by Congress and signed Feb. 17 by President Nixon named the space complex for Johnson.

SPIRITUAL CENTER
Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, who introduced the resolution shortly after LBJ died, called Johnson "the father of the space program in the United States."

"Just as the Houston facility is a physical center of the national space program," said Bentsen, "Lyndon Johnson was the spiritual center of it."

Johnson supported the fledgling space program from the moment that a Russian satellite called Sputnik flung mankind into the space age in 1957.

As majority leader of the Senate, Johnson chaired a committee investigating the reasons why America trailed the Soviet Union in space research. A new special Senate Committee on Space and Aeronautics, with Johnson as chairman, evolved from the hearings.

Later, the committee drafted the National Aeronautics and Space Act that created NASA. Johnson helped push the legislation through Congress and the space agency was born Oct. 1, 1958.

PRIDE
Johnson later called the creation of NASA his "proudest legislative achievement" from his years in congress.

When Johnson became vice president, President Kennedy named him head of the National Aeronautics and Space Council. While in this advisory position, Johnson strongly recommended the United States attempt to land men on the moon.

Kennedy followed the advice and the national space goal was established.

Johnson lived to see the conclusion of the Apollo program and the six successful American lunar landings.

Each of those missions were guided from the mission control center here.

Lamesa-Big Spring Route Gains Push From City Dads

City Commissioners Friday joined county dads and the Chamber of Commerce in requesting that IS 27 be extended south from Lubbock through Big Spring along U.S. 87 to connect with San Angelo, San Antonio and finally Houston.

In doing so, the city joined other communities including Lamesa, San Angelo, Midland and Odessa in lining up support for a Lamesa-Big Spring route for the proposed "pains to port" highway rather than the Snyder-Abilene route being sought by cities east of here.

The proposed new interstate would begin at Lubbock, extend south along the existing four-lane Highway 87 through Lamesa and intersect with IS 20 at Big Spring. It would continue south along 87 to San Angelo, south of which it would intersect with IS 10.

Drawn up by the Chamber of Commerce, the resolution bases the argument for a Big Spring route on the fact that it would connect many military installations, medical facilities, educational installations and would permit movement of goods in these areas to the population growth centers of the nation.

BEER, WINE

In other business Friday, the commission passed on second reading ordinances easing alcoholic beverage sale licensing procedures and storage building setbacks. It also approved a specific use permit for Matador Lounge to sell beer and wine.

Although commissioners had been scheduled to meet with engineers and representatives of the Hospital Corporation of America concerning water-sewer service at the new hospital site, HCA officials did not attend the meeting.

However, engineer Roy Crim and Dr. P. W. Malone spoke briefly to the commission with Crim commenting that it may have been "a little premature" to call a meeting that early. Hospital construction is not expected complete until mid-1975.

GAS HEARING

Mayor Wade Choate suggested that City Manager Harry Nagel and other city staff members meet with HCA representatives and work up preliminary water-sewer proposals before coming to the commission.

The city parents will meet again at 9 a.m. Tuesday in a regular session to rule on the 26.6 per cent rate increase being asked by Pioneer Natural Gas Co. and to consider official adoption of a merit pay plan for city employees.

Commissioners will also act

Damage Caused By Oil Spills

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Oil spills in the oceans have no significant long-term effect on marine life and the principal ecological damage is to birds.

A two-year research project by Dr. J. G. Mackin, Texas A&M University professor emeritus in biology, comes up with these conclusions.

Claiming that damage to marine communities is small even if heavy concentrations of oil reach shore, Dr. Mackin says:

"Recovery from the damage caused by oil spills is rapid and complete so far as the marine communities are concerned. And, in some cases, these communities may be stimulated to higher productivity by the process."

Among reports of major oil spills which Dr. Mackin studied were those serving the Tampico Maru and Torrey Canyon at Santa Barbara and at West Falmouth.

He concludes that media and laymen accounts of oil spills tend to be "emotional and more likely to contain propaganda than factual analysis."

Realtors Plan For Meeting

Joe Perrone of Austin, the 1973 president of the Texas Association of Realtors, and Franklin Jeffers of Amarillo, the 1974 president, joined this week in urging local TAR members to attend the Sept. 13-15 Brownsville meetings.

Marie Rowland, president of the Big Spring Board of Realtors, said that "these fall meetings, which involve the work of all committees and the directors of the Association, will be held at the Valley International Country Club. There will be a general review of 1973 work, ranging from community projects by boards across the state, to consideration of legislative matters and long range plans for the over 25,000-member Association."

Perrone has indicated the meetings will also draw a distinguished speaker to one of the sessions. He said that real estate business for 15 years, is the state general chairman of legislative and political affairs committees of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards.

Confiscate Tons Of 'Bad' Food

HOUSTON (AP) — The City of Houston confiscated more than 200,000 pounds of "bad" food in establishments and warehouses during the first half of 1973. The total included 20,000 pounds in the month of May.

"Bad" food, according to one health department worker includes spoiled meats or produce, green coffee, bug infested grains or rat infested pastries.

Dr. Albert Randall, director of the city health department, said the seemingly large figure was a notable reduction from 1972 figures.

The 35 to 40 health inspectors under Randall's supervision check Houston's 8,000 restaurant and holdover warehouses and supermarkets on a four to six week basis.

Brief POW Marriage

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — A former civilian prisoner of war has ended his month-long marriage here with an annulment.

Alton Newingham, 28, of Bonham and Sandy Milton, 20, of Sherman were married July 21 after a courtship that included dinners at the White House and the Governor's mansion.

Newingham, who returned to his Texas home in April after four years as a prisoner of the Viet. Cong, said his dream of the perfect woman while in prison materialized in the person of Miss Milton, a 1972 graduate of Sherman High School.

He had been working in South Vietnam for a construction company when he was captured.

His first marriage ended in divorce.

THINGS TO COME — Miss Lisa on the right, one of the performers in the Suez Shrine Circus to perform here Sept. 10, is discussing their coming performance in Big Spring.

Cartoonist, Circus Clown Draw Ideas From 'Scoops'

Clowns fill the same place in a circus program as cartoons and comic strips in a newspaper. Clowns and comic artists do, in fact, use much the same technique.

The similarity is explained by Howard Suez, producer of the Shrine Circus which comes to Big Spring on Sept. 10 under the sponsorship of the Shriners.

"Like the cartoonist," says Suez, "the circus clown must express his idea in the simplest terms possible, so that the spectator will 'see the point' at a fleeting glance. The fewer the words, the better. The clown of today must be a master of pantomime, most difficult of all the expressive arts."

"The circus clown, like the cartoonist, draws his ideas from current events and from the amusing foibles of human nature. He resorts to the same exaggerates and distorts, but does it with skill that permits that which is depicted to be recognized at once."

Suez once received a letter from a middle western lad seeking a job as a clown. The boy was sure he would make good because he wrote he was "always acting crazy and making my friends laugh."

Suez' reply was kindly but not encouraging. He explained that "acting crazy" might be amusing to one's friends but utterly pointless to strangers. "Clowning," he told the ambitious young man, "is an art far removed from merely 'acting the fool'."

Clowns must have ingenuity and originality, because they must create their own "gags." And, like fingerprints, no two clowns are ever alike. The Shrine Circus has the greatest array of clowns of any circus in the world.

Advance adult ticket sales are being held at all three banks, the chamber office, Blums Jewelers, Greyhound Bus, Hemphill-Wells, Pragers, The Record Shop and Gibsons.

Steers Mounting Assault On District 5-4A Leaders

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of articles previewing the strengths and weaknesses of area football teams for the 1973 season. The Big Spring Steers aren't given much chance to compete for any honors in the Dist. 5-4A-A, race but most can hardly wait for the chance. Here's the outlook for the Steers in '73).

By JACK COWAN

Local football fans are knowledgeable enough about District 5-4A-A, "the Little SWC," to know that the Big Spring Steers aren't powerful enough to seriously challenge for the league title this year. But at the same time, most like the noises they hear coming out of the Steer camp.

Steer backers will go into this fall only slightly content in the fact that their team is still picked last, but are given a better chance at upsets than in past seasons.

But more than likely, the excitement of 1973 will help folks forget last year's 1-9 finish.

The Steers, long-time cellar people in rugged District 5-4A-A, bring a new coach and a new philosophy into the league race this year, and as the head man likes to put it, "We'll be exciting."

Bob Burris, who delivered Midland Lee from the football doldrums in the 1960s, has taken over the reigns of the Bold Gold, and with the help of a strong-armed quarterback hopes to pass the Steers right out of the depths.

Tom Sorley, a 6-1, 200-pounder who started about half the last season, will direct the Steers' pro set offense, and many observers rate him as one of the best in the district. He passed for 477 yards last season as a part-time performer, sixth best in 5-4A-A, and if two off-season operations to correct a knee ailment don't slow him down, he'll probably head the list in '73.

He'll be backed up by a couple of newcomers, 6-2 sophomore Mark Moore and senior Orville Rau, who didn't play last season.

But while the passing game is what's expected to keep the opposition honest, that isn't all Burris has on his mind. "We've got a lot of confidence in our total offense, not just our passing attack," the coach said recently.

"We run this type offense because we feel we get several good plays from it — the draw and screen pass, for instance — if we're getting a tough pass rush. These are important weapons."

Even though his Steers are starting out on the bottom, Burris knows Big Spring will be getting more than just a little consideration each Friday night. "No one will take us lightly. We very definitely can challenge any team on any night — but we've got to keep everybody healthy."

A mere glance at the rugged schedule tells Burris he's right. After a game-type scrimmage with Sweetwater here Thursday at 6 p.m., the Steers have a week to get ready for their Sept. 7 opener with Lubbock Monterey, ranked fifth in the state in pre-season voting. The Steers are in Hobbs, N.M., Sept. 14 and the following week host Snyder in the final non-district game.

The only good thing about the district slate is that the Big Springers catch three of the favorites at home. After an open week, the Longhorns are on the road to Abilene and Midland, and then catch defending state champion Odessa Permian on home ground Oct. 18.

Another trip to Midland to face the Lee Rebels is set for the following week, and then come home dates with Abilene Cooper and Odessa High. The Steers visit San Angelo in the regular season finale Nov. 16.

When the fireworks do start, however, there shouldn't be a lot of confusion on the Steers' part. Sorley isn't worried about who's going to catch his passes.

He's got three of the best receivers in the district, 6-2 John Thomas Smith and a couple of smaller but speedy ends, Ronald McKee and Doug Smith. Randy Schreengost is another capable receiver.

And at tight end, there's talented James Coffee, a 6-2, 210-pound junior, who'll be backed up by Barry Loyd (6-2, 180).

There's a lot of fine ball-carriers also, with big Vicky Woodruff, a 6-3, 205-pound fullback the most impressive figure. Also due to see some time at the fullback spot are Lonell Banks (175) and Doug Robison (180), a pair of hard-running juniors.

Andre Hurrington heads up a list of halfbacks, and the 5-11, (See SIZE, Page 4-B)

Trevino, Greene Sparkle In L&M

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Lee Trevino whipped defending champion Jack Nicklaus 4 and 3 in the U.S. Match Play Championships Saturday, while Bert Greene moved into first place in the other half of pro golf's doubleheader, the L&M Open.

Trevino, who said he wasn't playing as well as he liked to, eliminated Nicklaus in the afternoon quarter-finals after Jack was forced to rally to handle the first-round challenge of outsider Joe Porter.

In the other quarter-finals, John Schroeder crushed Buddy Allin 5 and 4, former match play champ DeWitt Weaver defeated rookie longshot Artie McNickle 2 and 1 and British Open champ Tom Weiskopf beat J. C. Snead 4 and 3.

That set up these semifinals for this morning: Trevino vs. Schroeder and Weaver vs. Weiskopf.

The finals, with the winner pulling down $40,000, are scheduled this afternoon, immediately after the last 18 holes of the $100,000 L&M Open, a regular stroke play event being played simultaneously on the same 6,786-yard, par-71 MacGregor Downs Country Club course.

Cubs Trim Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Randy Hundley drove home the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning, leading the Chicago Cubs to a 4-3 baseball victory over the Houston Astros Saturday night.

The one-out rally started with an infield single by Jose Cardenal. Paul Popovich sent Cardenal to third with a single before Hundley followed with his game-winning hit.

The Astros tied the game 3-3 with three runs in the bottom of the seventh. Cesar Cedeno led off with only the second hit off Rick Reuschel, who pitched five no-hit innings for the Cubs.

Cedeno scored on Doug Rader's double for the first run. Rader then scored on a double by Tommy Helms. The tying run scored when Skip Jutze singled home Helms.

Bears Advanced, Declares Teaff

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor Bears Coach Grant Teaff watched his football candidates end their conditioning drills Saturday and pronounced them "as advanced as anybody and better than some."

Teaff said the first hitting drills will begin Monday morning as the Bears open preparations for their season opener against nationally ranked Oklahoma Sept. 15.

U.S. Wins Tough Walker Cup Play

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The United States weathered a fabulous comeback by Great Britain and rallied behind veteran Vinny Giles to regain the Walker Cup Saturday in the 24th international matches for one of amateur golf's most prized trophies.

With Giles, Dan Edwards, Martin West, Mark Pfeil and Gary Koch coming back in strong fashion, the U.S. won the two-day event 14-10.

After winning three foursome matches and taking the other alternate shot encounter for a 10-6 lead in the morning, the Americans had to do everything but call out the Marines in the head-to-head singles wrapup at The Country Club.

The British, who managed only one of a possible eight points in the foursomes in two days, won five singles matches Friday and needed to do even better to retain the Cup, which they won for only the second time in the biennial competition at St. Andrews two years ago.

America sent its best, including Giles, the 1972 U.S. amateur champion, and Dick Siderowf, this year's British amateur champ, against the Britons.

However, the British, who enjoyed a holiday bash after winning 13-11 in 1971, accepted the challenge.

In six of the eight matches, they led after nine holes. They were tied in the other two, and even the most ardent U.S. team followers were concerned.

However, the Americans remained cool and pulled out their 21st victory in the prestigious event interrupted only by World War II. The British won in 1938 and tied in 1965 before finally winning again at home.

Hawk Cagers Getting Looks

Early reports from the national junior college basketball scene are beginning to filter in, and Howard County Junior College's Jayhawks are included in the news.

The BC Scouting Service of St. Petersburg Fla., released its first information last week, with HCJC and Pensacola rating "powerhouse" billing in the early returns. The scouting reports, centered primarily around individuals, had brief rundowns on five returning sophomores for Coach Harold Wilder's Hawks.

"Quick and aggressive," the report says of 6-7 returnee Taylor Williams, and about the Hawks' other big man, Thomas Bledsoe, it writes "exceedingly strong."

Then, "There are few finer one-two inside punches in the country," BC service says of the two.

Leroy Lumzy ("noted for errorless play and shooting accuracy"), Big Spring's Mike Randle ("quick, anticipates well"), and Bobby Beall ("unselfish, gives the ball up") also rated mention.

Chicago's Allen Out For Season

CHICAGO (AP) — "I'm glad they made the announcement because I was getting bugged constantly about when I'd be able to play again," said Dick Allen Saturday after the Chicago White Sox revealed the famed slugger was through for the season.

Allen, the American League's Most Valuable Player and the highest paid player in baseball with an annual salary of $225,000, suffered a broken left leg in June.

With Allen out of the lineup and other injuries hitting the club, the Sox, who led the American League West by 4½ games early in June, are virtually out of the race. They are in fifth place, 16 games behind the Oakland A's.

COCA'S KID HEADS ALL AMERICAN HEATS

RUIDOSO DOWNS N.M. — Coca's Kid, a brilliant filly owned by Edward Allred of Los Angeles, carved out the top qualifying time in Friday's trials for the All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

The filly got in the trials via a late supplemental payment of $15,000, but the investment looked like a bargain as Coca's Kid coasted into the clear at the halfway point of the 440-yard dash.

Writer Convinced At Last; Longhorns Get Nod In SWC

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — Darrell Royal won't be able to pin the predictions from this corner on the dressing room bulletin board in 1973.

Just like a Royal-trained Wishbone-T quarterback who never makes the same mistake there'll be no temptation to buck the master this season. DKR ain't batting a career .763 percentage with a load of wood.

In 1972, the thought here was that Alan Lowery wouldn't be able to make the transition from safety to quarterback smoothly and that Roosevelt (The Roto Rooter) Leaks, a green but talented sophomore, was a year away from bull-of-the-woods potential.

Also, Arkansas had all those gifted folks at the skill positions. So, believing Texas was due for a down season after four consecutive Cotton Bowl trips, FOURTH was penciled in for the Longhorn finish. The pre-season prediction found its way into the dressing room where it was underlined in red should any Orange-blooded Longhorn miss the message. Texas promptly steamed to a 10-1 season.

Texas seemingly has an unsettled situation at quarterback this year, depending on sophomores Marty Akins and Mike Presley. But both lads are quality. Akins can read a defensive end and squirm to daylight in a flash. He also has a presentable passing arm.

It goes without saying Texas will have quite a thorn patch to claw through.

Texas Tech is high-powered offensively with a good trigger in quarterback Joe Barnes, speed in tailback George Smith, and one of the finest receivers in the land in tight end Andre Tillman.

Southern Methodist is blessed with swift halfbacks Alvin Maxson and Wayne Morris as Dave Smith makes his debut as head coach.

Arkansas will go back to a ground-oriented attack, featuring gifted quarterback Scott Bull and tailback Dickey Morton, who can give you the instant touchdown with his track speed. The Razorbacks don't appear to have the defense to stay at the top.

Baylor has a new winning attitude and some talent to go with it while the Texas Aggies own a ton of young former schoolboy bluechippers.

There's no telling what surprises Coach Al Conover and his Rice Owls will spring on the world although they don't have the depth to make a real run for the title.

Texas Christian will go hard every game for Coach Billy Tohill, who nearly lost his life in an automobile accident during the spring.

Predictions are for the foolhardy, but this is the way it looks in the SWC this year and maybe Conover can paste it on his bulletin board:

1. Texas Tech.
2. Texas Tech.
3. Baylor.
4. Arkansas.
5. SMU.
6. Texas A&M.
7. TCU.
8. Rice.

SPORT FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By JERRY METCALF

What were the five greatest football games ever played? . . . A sports service recently took a survey to find out — in the opinion of experts — from coast-to-coast . . . And here are the five games they picked:

1. Notre Dame 35, Army 13 in 1913 . . . This game was picked because of its historical importance . . . This one game, more than any other, proved the value of the forward pass in football.

2. Illinois 39, Michigan 14, 1924 . . . The game when Red Grange made runs of 95, 66, 55 and 40 yards each for 4 touchdowns in the first quarter . . . This is voted the greatest individual performance of all-time.

3. 1925 Rose Bowl . . . The classic meeting of football's most famous backfield (Notre Dame's Four Horsemen) and the man some call the greatest single back in history (Stanford's Ernie Nevers).

4. 1940 National League title game (Beas 73, Redskins 0) . . . This game was picked because it helped establish the modern T-formation; and because many say the Bears — that day — were the most perfect football team ever seen on a field.

5. 1958 NFL title game (Colts 23, Giants 17 in overtime) . . . The experts said this was the most exciting big league game ever played.

Tourney Finals Today At Figure 7 Center

Action comes to a close today in the Third Annual Big Spring Area Tennis Tournament as netters played late into the night Saturday at the Figure Seven Tennis Tournament to set up today's finals. Play gets under way at 1:30 p.m.

Howard County Junior College star Jay Box and Stanton's Tommy Deavenport advanced to the finals in men's singles play, as Deavenport upset Big Spring's Randy Mattingley in the semifinals 6-2, 6-4 and Box downed Barry Stevens 6-1, 6-4.

In the women's singles, Judy Jordan and Dori Crocker made into the finals. Jordan did it the easy way with a 6-0, 6-0 win over Sherry Walker, while Crocker had a harder time in disposing of Linda Little 6-4, 4-6, 7-5 in the semis.

The boys 16 singles division was decided Saturday afternoon, as Hugh Porter stopped Alan Roman 7-5, 6-1 for the prize, and in boys 16 doubles Porter teamed with Tony Mann for a 6-3, 6-3 win over Stephen Gilliland and defeated Libby Rhymes 6-3, 6-0 for the honors, and Dale Brown and Barry Fish claimed the boys 12 doubles trophy with a 6-3, 6-3 win over Steve Stull and Craig McMahon.

U.S. Athletes Ponder Games

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Athletes gorged themselves on hot dogs, apple juice and eclairs as guests of the U.S. Embassy Saturday, and counted the medals they won and didn't win at the World University Games.

Competitors and officials agreed they hadn't won enough medals, and stressed that the United States must strengthen its commitment if it is to continue to participate in these biennial mini-Olympics.

"We have to change our priorities at home," said Joe Vigil of Adams State College, head coach of the track and field team. "We had a series of international trips going while trying to get a team together for this show."

"The result was that the athletes who tried to do both came here tired and past their peak. Some of the best ones—those who could have won medals—elected to stay home."

The stay-at-homes included miler Marty Liquori and Olympic gold medalist Frank Shorter and Dave Wottle.

Sixteen of America's gold medals were won by the swimmers, but even the swimmers fell below their showing of three years ago at Turin, Italy, when they won 19 of the 22 gold ones that the United States collected.

The swimming performance was remarkable, however, considering that many of the country's aces stayed home and competed at Louisville, Ky., in the trials for the first world championships, starting in Budapest next week.

Taiwan Wins Little League

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Tainan City, Taiwan, won the Little League World Series Saturday on its third straight no-hitter, beating Tucson, Ariz., 12-0.

Huang Ching-Huy, who pitched a perfect game in the opener of the eight-team series, struck out 16 of 19 Tucson batters he faced, walking one and allowing another to reach base on an infield error.

Tucson southpaw Mike Fimbers had pitched Taiwan scoreless for the first three innings, but yielded three in the fourth.

Fimbers, who had suffered an attack of asthma, was lifted in the fifth and replaced by Mike Martinez, who gave up nine runs in the last two innings on six hits.

Taiwan's 57 runs in games against Tucson, Bitburg (Germany) and Tampa, Fla., broke the old series record of 34 set in 1962.

Huang paralyzed the Tucson team and amazed a crowd estimated at 32,000 with an overpowering fast ball.

Tigers Edge Chisox, 4-2

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Northrup's two-run single keyed a three-run second inning that led the Detroit Tigers to a 4-2 decision over the Chicago White Sox in a nationally televised baseball game Saturday.

Chicago pitcher Stan Bahnsen, who came within one out of pitching a no-hitter in his last start Tuesday at Cleveland, suffered a costly wild spree in the second inning.

With one out Dick McAuliffe walked and Norm Chas followed with a single. Bahnsen, 16-15, retired Duke Sims, but walked both Aurelio Rodriguez and Ed Brinkman to force in a run.

Northrup then delivered his clutch single to give the Tigers a 3-0 lead.

A leadoff home run by Carlos May chased Perry in the ninth and Detroit relief ace John Hiller preserved the victory for the Tigers.

For What It's Worth

Charley Johnson, Big Spring's veteran pro quarterback, is having a pretty good pre-season with the Denver Broncos going into today's game with San Francisco. That's according to the new NFL passer rating, which uses tables for fixed values rather than comparing passers with each other, the former method. He has a 79.2, and if he hadn't been intercepted once he'd have been a few points higher.

But Johnson's efforts fade before those of rookie John Huftagel, a 14th round draft pick from Penn State. Huftagel made a brief appearance in the Broncos' victory over St. Louis last week and threw a 54-yard touchdown pass in his one attempt. It gave him a maximum 158.2 on the tables

Speaking of the new method of rating the passers, it's a killer. The system, which goes into effect this year, is much too complicated to try to explain here, particularly since I don't understand it myself. But I do understand it'll do away with many of the inequities which existed under the old system.

Under the new scale, the No. 1 passer of all time is Len Dawson, who has a lifetime mark of 83.9. Sonny Jurgensen, Bart Starr, Fran Tarkenton and John Unitas round out the top five, while Otto Graham, Frank Ryan, Sid Luckman, Norm Van Brocklin and Earl Morrall also rank near the top.

The top season performance of all time was Milt Plum's 110.4 with Cleveland in 1960, and only six other quarterbacks have gone over 100. Roger Staubach had a 104.75 in 1971, the last time the century mark was solved, and Starr, Baugh, Y. A. Tittle, Charley Conerley and Dawson have also reached the peak.

Had the new system been in effect last season, Earl Morrall of the Miami Dolphins would have been the NFL passing leader instead of the New York Giants' Norm Snead.

Duffy Daugherty has retired as Michigan State football coach, but his wit will live on. Fortunately for ABC-TV, Daugherty will join their sportscasting team this fall and he will continue to concoct his one-liners. Here are some of his better ones from the past:

Duffy lost his first string center, Walt Forman, at the end of his junior year because his nearly straight A grades won him immediate admission to medical school. "We've learned our lesson," commented Duffy. "We won't recruit anyone that smart again."

Said Duffy after watching favored Dancer's Image run out of the money in the 1968 Preakness: "That's one good thing about a football game. You can't finish worse than second."

Duffy's favorite line during the banquet season after his disastrous 3-7 record in 1967 was: "We won three games, lost none and were upset in seven."

Said Duffy as he knocked over a cup of coffee on a table full of play diagrams during a staff meeting: "Well, we've got to learn to play on a wet field anyway."

Two coaches with Big Spring ties are in the Lubbock system for this football season. Bobby Hayworth, who starred as a quarterback for the Steers in the mid 1950s, is an assistant at Lubbock Monterey, and Dan Lewis, who was head coach at Runnels and spent many years in Big Spring, is the head man at Slaton Junior High in Lubbock.

Channel Cat Top Area Lake News

Black Bass and striped fishing has been slow at Lake Spence near Robert Lee during the past week, but channel catfish have been taking up any slack left by the other species.

Nice strings of channel catfish and a few yellows have been noted lately. Most of the channel catfish activity has been located in deep water sectors of the lake and the majority of the fish have been caught at the hands of trotline fishermen.

Some striped bass activity has been noticed, but most of the fish caught have been small. The small stripers have been seen schooling near the center of the lake.

Channel cat also seem to be the fish of the week at Lake J. B. Thomas, where the Hunter party from Vince hauled in 130 catfish up to 3 1/2 pounds.

Cardinals Visit 30-30s Today

AUSTIN — The Big Spring Cardinals are here today to take on the Austin 30-30s in a doubleheader beginning at 1:30 p.m. at Bradley Park.

Jody Florez will hurl the opener, set to go nine innings, and Fernando Rives of San Angelo is slated to pitch the seven-inning nightcap.

The Cards carry a 22-3 mark into the matchup.

Barnes Eyes Starting Job

ABILENE — By college football standards, Mike Barnes is too small to play.

But Mike Barnes, a former Big Spring star, is a big reason the McMurry College Indians are expecting their most potent passing game in years.

All 5-10, 157 pounds of Barnes is battling a close friend, Richard Smajstrla, for the wide receiver job this fall.

"Barnes may be our best receiver when it comes to speed and hands," says head coach Don Newsom. "Barnes is a tough, very tough, 157-pounder. He can be as good as he wants to be, I think."

After more than two seasons in the defensive secondary, Barnes was switched to wide receiver midway through the 1972 season, his junior year. He ended up with five catches for 60 yards, and most of his receptions were of the spectacular type.

A three-year veteran, Barnes was among a school record 85 prospects who reported for fall drills Monday. Smajstrla, the guy Barnes must beat out for a starting berth, was the team's No. 2 pass receiver in 1972 with 24 catches for 306 yards.

Barnes and Smajstrla split duty during the final four games, and they come into the 1973 campaign just about even.

"Because they are so close in ability and speed it's helping both to compete for the job," says Newsom. "I don't know who'll start against East Central State on Sept. 8, but both will play a lot."

Barnes broke in as a defensive back in 1970, and he made a big interception in the 30-13 upset of Prairie View A&M. It came with the game tied and Prairie View A&M driving in for the go-ahead score.

At Big Spring High, Barnes was a defensive back, running back and flanker, leading the Steers in receiving.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Barnes of 1014 Baylor.

Area Gridders Open Scrimmages

Area football teams went outside their own squad for competition for the first time last week, with a couple of coaches reporting successful debuts. And even those who didn't win found some things to be happy about with the regular season kickoff just two weeks away.

Two-time defending District 7-AA champion Coahoma showed it wasn't dead against Haskell Friday, rolling up 759 yards total offense in outscoring their visitors 5-1 in the varsity session.

Eddie Padron was the big man in the win, rushing for 245 yards and two touchdowns, including one 80-yard scamper to the end zone. Putt Choate chipped in 131 yards.

Quarterback Jody Bennett went 72 yards for another score, and hit Marcelino Chavez with a 35-yard scoring toss on one of his two completions for the night. Tim Tindol added the final score on a 38-yard run. For the Bulldogs' second unit, Ricky Patterson managed the only score in a 1-0 victory.

Haskell's only score came on the final play, as a defender picked off Bennett's pass and returned it for a touchdown. The Indians could manage just 210 total offensive yards in their 60 plays.

"The offense looked real fine, and the defense was equally good," said Bulldog head coach Norman Roberts. "Over-all, we're real pleased. We feel like it was a real good scrimmage. It gave us a chance to look at some of our younger boys and give them some experience."

Borden County's Coyotes also had a successful beginning Thursday, outscoring Witharfall 6-0 in the varsity session.

Junior Oliverez pulled in scoring passes of 40 and 50 yards and Garland Williams hit paydirt twice on runs of six and eight yards to lead the blitz. Quarterback Rex Cox added one touchdown on a one-yard sneak, and freshman Larry Simer had the final score with a five-yard dash.

The two squads will collide again Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Gail for the final pre-season scrimmage.

Forsan and Grandfalls struggled to a scoreless tie Thursday in Forsan, and at least Buffalo Coach Jack Woodley went home happy about his defense. "On defense we fumbled several times, we dropped a lot of passes and the pass blocking was bad. It was evident how much we need to improve," Woodley said.

But he did have some praise for his defense, singling out the performances of linebackers Brad Stevens, Landon Soles and Phillip King and defensive end Tim Yeats. Standout on the offensive unit was freshman quarterback Ralph Miranda, who also led the second group and completed an 80-yard scoring pass to John Medlin for the only score of the day.

Halfback Wesley Thixton broke his little finger during the scrimmage, and will be out for the next two weeks.

Next action for the Buffs is Thursday, when they visit New Home for a 5:30 p.m. clash.

Despite the fact that his team was outscored 3 touchdowns to one by Sterling City, Garden City coach Greg Henderson was fairly pleased with the Bearkats' defensive effort. Nose guard Joe Wooten, end Chris Hirt, safety Louie Patino and linebackers Joe Spurny, David Smith and Charlie Puga drew praise from the coach. Quarterback Mike Batla was a top hand on offense. The lone Bearkat score came on a 60-yard halfback pass from Smith to Puga during the first series of plays.

Garden City and Sterling City will clash again next Friday at 6 p.m. on the Kats' home field.

Sands Boosters To Meet Monday

ACKERLY — The Sands High School Booster Club will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria for an organizational meeting.

Officers for the 1973-74 school year will be elected, and new head coach Jim Allen will show films of the scrimmage with New Home during the meeting. A club spokesman said the whole community is welcome to attend.

185-pound junior was mobile enough in the spring to cause some excitement in the backfield. Junior Barry Canning, a converted quarterback, and senior Bruce Abbe are other candidates.

For the first time in years it looks as if the Steers will be able to battle their enemy pound-for-pound each week, with a hefty line leading the way. Biggest of the bunch is right tackle Ken Froman, a 6-4, 215-pound senior, and not much smaller is his counterpart on the left side, Scott McEwen, who stands 6-5 and weighs in at 210.

Right guard Steve Brackett, whose 5-9, 212-pound dimensions are misleading, is another stout starter, as is Joel Fellows (6-0, 205) at center. The lone "runt" of the group is left guard Jerry Rogers, a 5-11, 185-pounder who moved in from Nocona this summer. The entire starting line is seniors, with the exception of Coffee.

Some of the best battles for positions on the team are occurring in the line, particularly at the guard spot where no less than six candidates still have a shot at a starting berth. Pressing Brackett at the right guard are Kyle Neighbors (5-10, 170) and Mark Taylor, a junior who missed spring training because of an injury. Wayne Dickens (180) and Joe Matthews (202), both juniors, are challenging Rogers for the left side honors.

Backing up Froman and McEwen at the tackles will be Stan Parlee (6-3, 190) and Buddy Gillenwater (6-0, 210). No. 2 man at center right now is Joe Rocha, a 5-10, 210-pound junior.

Defensively, Burris is gaining confidence in his front wall with McEwen and Froman at tackles, Brackett at the nose guard and a pair of 175-pound juniors, Casey Lovelace and Ricky Darrow, at the end positions.

With Woodruff and Matthews heading up the linebacker spots and sophomore Ronnie Murrins looking sound at safety, Burris is pretty well pleased with his lineup.

Judy Rankin Day Is Slated

MIDLAND — Plans for "Judy Rankin Day" in Midland to honor the leading money-winner this year in the Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament circuit were announced today.

Mrs. Rankin will be recognized by Midlanders on Tuesday, Sept. 11, according to Dave Widner, chairman of the Midland Chapter of Commerce Sports Committee.

"In cooperation with the ladies' golf associations at Hogan Park, Midland Country Club, and Ranchland Hills Country Club, we plan to extend proper recognition to Judy Rankin for her successes as a professional tournament golfer and for her promotion of Midland because of her exposure through national news media," Widner said.

Prior to "Judy Rankin Day" local golfers will have an opportunity to match their scores — minus handicap — against an 18-hole round played by Mrs. Rankin.

MONTGOMERY WARD

WARDS PASSENGER TIRE GUARANTEE

Montgomery Ward guarantees its passenger car tires to the original purchaser against (1) premature tread wear and (2) defects and road hazard damage — with the exclusion of fire and other causes.

1. PREMATURE TREAD WEAR-OUT
 If a Montgomery Ward passenger tire wears down to the top of the tread (or below the 1/8" tread depth) within the period of months or number of miles stated for a given quality of tire, Montgomery Ward will replace the tire for a prorated charge determined by the amount of miles of use. Mileage serves as basis for the guarantee.

2. DEFECTS AND ROAD HAZARD DAMAGE
 If a Montgomery Ward tire fails due to defects in materials or workmanship or due to road hazard damage (including repairable punctures or damage due to accidents) during the original tread life to 1/8" tread depth, Montgomery Ward will replace the tire for a prorated charge based on tread wear received.

High School Day Slated

ABILENE — Abilene Christian College will hold its fall High School Day Saturday, Nov. 10, on the ACC campus. "We are expecting high school students from Texas and many surrounding states to be present for the full day of activities," said Sid Hicks, coordinator of the day's activities. The day is scheduled so that the high school student can plan his college career, and become familiar with ACC faculty members and campus life. Tentative plans Saturday morning call for the future college students to register, meet with faculty and student hosts, attend special chapel services and meet with college counselors for a special planning session. Counseling, information and advice will be offered on admission policies, housing and financial aid during the planning session. Saturday afternoon activities will include a pep rally, entertainment by campus groups, and opportunities to tour the ACC campus. Students are also invited to eat lunch and dinner in Carter Cafeteria in McGlothlin Campus Center on the ACC campus. Climaxing High School Day will be a Lone Star Conference football game between ACC and Sam Houston State at 7:30 p.m. in Shotwell Stadium.

Richard Deats Co-Edits Ecumenical Perspective

Dr. Richard L. Deats, director of Inter-Faith Activities of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, is the co-editor of The Filipino in the Seventies: An Ecumenical Perspective. Co-edited with Fr. Vitaliano Gorospe, a Filipino Jesuit, this volume provides an important advance in ecumenical developments in Southeast Asia. In it, 16 knowledgeable theologians and social scientists, Roman Catholic and Protestant, describe the socio-economic situation in the Philippines and suggest changes that are essential for a more just and equitable society.

DR. RICHARD L. DEATS

Richard Deats is a native of Big Spring, a graduate of Big Spring High School and former associate pastor at the First United Methodist Church here. He is a graduate of McMurry College (1953, BA magna cum laude), Southern Methodist University (BD with honors, 1956) and Boston University (Ph.D., 1964).

He and his wife, the former Jan Baggett, served as United Methodist missionaries in the Philippines from 1959 to 1972 where they both taught at Union Theological Seminary. Dr. Deats also taught in the Graduate School of Theology of Southeast Asia, Silliman University and Divine Word (Roman Catholic) Seminary in the Philippines. He is the author of Nationalism and Christianity in the Philippines and The Story of Methodism in the Philippines and has published essays in various scholarly volumes as well as articles in national publications such as Christian Century and The Progressive.

Since 1972, Rev. Deats has served as director of Inter-faith Activities of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, a peace organization founded in 1914 and with members in 22 countries. In his present position he works in Jewish, Catholic and Protestant communities on issues relating to peace and social justice, seeking to find non-violent solutions in areas of conflict. Deats is the son of the late Dr. Charley Deats and Mrs. Booty Blount.

Y To Start Swim Class, 3:15 Monday

The YMCA has announced the first autumn session of instructional swimming classes will begin Monday, Aug. 27, in the Horace Garrett Memorial Pool for students of all skill levels.

Parents may enroll their children by signing up at the YMCA office or by calling 267-8234. Enrollment will be limited in each class to insure a low pupil-teacher ratio.

The classes are designed to provide instruction for students of every skill level and are divided by peer groups.

Elementary school age youngsters will be offered lessons each Monday through Thursday in three consecutive four-week sessions scheduled this fall. Grades 1-3 will meet from 4-4:30 p.m. and grades 4-6 from 4:30-5 p.m. during each session.

A child may participate in more than one session, but he must continue to register for each one offered.

Junior high and high school students will find instruction available every Friday from 4-5 p.m.

Special two-week sessions beginning also on Aug. 27 will be offered for pre-school age children from 3:15-4 p.m. These tiny tot classes will be re-scheduled as often as interest indicates.

YMCA instructional swim classes are progressive and designed to promote a non-swimmer from the beginner (Pollywog) level through the advanced swimmer (Shark) level. Several instructors are available during each class to work with different skill levels. This past summer over 600 youngsters were enrolled in YMCA swim classes. The classes are offered free to YMCA members with the exception of Tiny Tot Swim.

Some of those promoted into higher skill groups this summer were:

POLLWOG — Margaret Fernandez, Becky Kemp, Keli McClouch, Russell Wink, David Bordsoske, Emmitt Bartee, Robert Eggleston, Julie Miller, Melissa Fuller, Mishell Fuller, Kara McCulloch, Flint Wrye, Troy Wrye, Luis Rios, Dom De Santis, Tracy Foster, Colleen Moore, Penny Smith, Glenda Petty, Lisa McClure, Nancy McClure.

MINNOW — James Sherwood, Brenda Clark David Webb, Jennifer Smith, Dianna Carille.

FISH — Michael Robinson, Brad Small, David Webb, Neil Read, Chris Kemp.

FLYING FISH — David Webb, Mike Hecker, Chris Daniels.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Wards' Announces

Montgomery Ward has introduced a new tread wear guarantee and two free services for its tire customers.

The new guarantee gives consumers a prorated credit when they replace worn out or damaged Ward tires with new ones. "If a Ward tire wears down to the tread wear indicators within the number of months or miles guaranteed for that model, Wards will replace the tire for a prorated charge determined by the months or miles of use," said R. G. McNeil, store manager of the Big Spring Ward store.

Prior to this guarantee, a tread wear allowance for each model allowed the same credit, regardless of the amount of use.

To have adjustments made under this guarantee, the customer need only return the worn or damaged tire and his original booklet to any Ward retail or catalog location.

In addition to this new guarantee, Wards provides two new free services for tires purchased from Wards: nail punctures will be repaired for the full term of the guarantee and tires will be rotated every 5,000 miles for the life of the tire. "To encourage proper vehicle maintenance, we will rotate tires, purchased at retail or catalog stores having installation facilities, free of charge, every 5,000 miles, regardless of the guarantee's status," McNeil explained.

LAUGHING MATTER

"If your mouth should happen to get tired feel free to shut up!"

HURRICANE TIDES Sinking Of Land Places 50,000 In Danger Zone

HOUSTON (AP) — Land subsidence has placed an additional 50,000 Galveston Bay area residents in hurricane tide danger zones.

"And we are overdue for high tides and a hurricane in this area," says Davis Benton of the National Weather Service.

The chief meteorologist for the upper Texas coastal area revised his tide danger zone lines after studying a new land subsidence report released July 26 by the National Geodetic Survey.

The report indicates subsidence in the Galveston Bay area has ranged up to 3.8 feet since 1963 and up to 5.1 feet since 1943.

22 WARNINGS

Benton estimates there now are 500,000 residents in tide-prone areas along the entire Texas coast—200,000 in the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange area, 250,000 within 10 miles of Galveston Bay, and 50,000 in other coastal areas.

He increased the Galveston Bay estimate by 50,000 after studying the land subsidence report.

"This really means something in that a difference of two or three feet means you wouldn't have been affected by storm tides 10 to 15 years ago," Benton said.

Bank Merger Is To Be Decided

MIDLAND — President of the Commercial Bank & Trust Co. of Midland, Robert Pendleton, has announced that a stockholders meeting was pending tentatively for early October when approval would be requested from present stockholders for a proposed merger with the Fort Worth National Corp., a bank holding company.

Lewis Bond, chairman of the Fort Worth holding company, announced Friday that his firm had received approval from the Federal Reserve Board for acquisition of the Midland bank and trust.

The Fort Worth corporation already owns Fort Worth National Bank, the American Bank of Amarillo and other subsidiaries.

The Commercial Bank & Trust Co. is the third largest bank in Midland, with deposits of $30.3 million.

"And it doesn't take a tropical storm to affect some areas."

He added that 22 warnings of tides of three to five feet above mean sea level have been issued by the Galveston office in a rather short period of time. He also recalled that a "hell of a pressure gradient" the night of Feb. 14, 1969, caused tides of up to eight feet in Baytown and from five to 10 feet in bay areas.

Benton says the most significant thing about the land subsidence report is the sinking occurring in bay areas where storms always have caused high tides, such as 16 feet during Hurricane Carla in 1961.

BRIGHT SPOTS

"One of the brightest spots in the report is that Galveston is holding its own," he said. In the past decade, Galveston subsidence ranged only from 0.13 to 0.19 of a foot.

"Texas City is in better shape than at the time of Carla because a levy has been built but if the land keeps sinking there the area will have a problem in another 10 to 15 years," Benton said.

Since 1963, Texas City subsidence ranged from 0.73 of a foot to 1.04 feet.

Benton described recent landfill projects at Kemman and at the entrances to the Baytown tunnel as "temporary measures that will be good for a while" but which will become ineffective sooner or later with continued subsidence.

Upper Texas coastal records, Benton says, indicate the area can expect tides of five to 10 feet once in five years, of 10 to 15 feet once in seven years, and in excess of 15 feet in 25 years.

"But this subsidence report indicates a 10 foot tide could flood an area that took a 15 foot tide in Carla," Benton said.

Minimum Tillage Data Available

Your neighbor, that operates the farm on the south side of your place, just stopped by to visit. He has a bunch of pictures that he and his wife took on their vacation last week, while you were busy working in your field. How could your neighbor go on a week's vacation in the middle of the cropping season?

There are two possibilities: he might be ignoring work that needs to be done or he might be using a new farming system known as minimum tillage, which he developed with help from the Howard Soil and Water Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service. Since he is depending on his farm for a living we know that he would not ignore work that needed to be done.

Think back, right after the crops were harvested last year, while you were shredding, disking, deep plowing, listing, sand fighting, and kitting what was he doing then. He was on a hunting trip to Colorado! When it came time to plant he shredded the stalks, then prepared the seedbed, planted the seed and applied herbicide all in one operation.

After the seedlings were up you had to sand fight several times to keep your cotton from blowing out. Your neighbor did not have this problem since he had left the residue in the blanks standing and it was protecting his cotton.

He did cultivate one time compared to your twice. The only reason he cultivated that time was to plant a residue crop in the blanks.

Count the number of times that you have had a tractor in the field, approximately 12 from harvest to harvest. Your neighbor has had his tractor in the field about 4 times. Think about this from an economic point. Each time you put a tractor in the field it costs at least $2 per acre. His production costs will be one third of yours.

Because of minimum tillage erosion control features, this practice offers farmers an opportunity to conserve their soil while improving farm efficiency. It also contributes to environmental improvement by cutting air pollution from blowing dust and water pollution from sediment.

For more information about minimum tillage and a system designed to fit your farm contact the personnel in the Big Spring Field Office, Soil Conservation Service, Federal Building, Big Spring, Tex.

Car Fumes Kill Baby

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — An 11-month old girl died here Saturday of what police said was carbon monoxide poisoning from a leaky auto muffler.

The child, Maria Aldaco, daughter of Emiliano and Lupe Aldaco of Greeley, Colo., was with her parents in a car driven by Jesus Rodarte of Greeley, traveling south of Interstate 25 north of Albuquerque on Friday a.m. and 5 a.m. Police said the family smelled the exhaust fumes but believed it was smog. The Aldacos rolled up their windows. Rodarte left his rolled down. He said that when he began feeling ill he noticed it was only about 14 miles into Albuquerque. He said he became more ill, but did not realize it was carbon monoxide fumes from the muffler.

Two Albuquerque men driving behind them noticed the car swerving, and then pulled over to the side of the road. A side door opened and Aldaco fell out, unconscious.

The baby and her mother were in the back seat, the child wrapped in a blanket.

All were taken to a hospital for treatment, but the baby was dead in her mother's arms.

Lisa Harrington Wins Scholarship

Lisa Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harrington of 2701 Clanton in Big Spring has been awarded the first semi-annual John S. Dunn Scholarship at Lubbock Christian College.

A freshman at LCC she will receive $1,100 for her fall semester college expense.

Established the middle of this month, the John S. Dunn Scholarship Fund provides semi-annual grants (for full tuition, fees, room and board) to the winner.

A 1973 graduate of Big Spring

High School, Miss Harrington was named to the National Honor Society for the 1972-73 school year, and earned recognition as the "Outstanding Bible Student for 1971-72." She also served as secretary for the Future Medics and President for the Shorthand Club during her senior year.

First Flight

By JO BRIGHT

Big Spring has always had its share of top notch women golfers, and this year is no exception. Taking area courses in stride this summer, the ladies looked like they were headed for first flight rankings in future competition.

Credit for keeping much of the interest in women's golf alive is the Play Day West organization, composed of ladies golf association members in Big Spring, Lamesa, Stanton, Snyder and Big Lake. There are three local groups, the Big Spring Country Club LGA, Comanche Trail LGA and Webb Air Force Base LGA. The traveling league schedules play every fourth Tuesday as the women take turns hosting the event.

Ladies Day is traditionally every Tuesday for all of the groups, with business luncheons scheduled monthly. Within the individual clubs, competition and individual improvement is fostered by such events as ringer tournaments and putting contests.

The LGA has been a part of Big Spring Country Club for many years; this year headed by Mrs. Morris Rhodes, president; Mrs. Coy Nalley, vice president; Mrs. M. A. Snell, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Patterson, treasurer. Mrs. A. W. Rees serves as golf chairman.

Formed only four years ago, the Comanche Trail LGA has about 16 active members, and newcomers are welcome to attend the covered dish luncheons held every third Tuesday in the clubhouse at the municipal golf course. Officers are Mrs. Wakie Buchanan, president; Mrs. Bob Bell, vice president; Mrs. Bob Waters, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Charles Brantley, tournament chairman.

At Webb Air Force Base, the lady golfers get priority at the tee box every Tuesday, and some excellent players make use of the course regularly while their husbands are assigned here. Mrs. Harold O. Hanson is the current president, assisted by Mrs. Ronald M. Miller as secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Bruce A. Buskirk as tournament chairman.

SUN TANNED Mrs. Bill Bell, left, and Mrs. Omar Jones, right, had just completed a round of golf at Big Spring Country Club when they were joined by other Ladies Golf Association members to discuss plans for future events. Priority topic is the upcoming Labor Day Tournament which, this year, features competition for both men and women. Second from right is Mrs. A. W. Rees, LGA golf chairman, and seated at front is Mrs. M. A. Snell, secretary. Seated in the cart are Mrs. Morris Rhodes, president, right, and Mrs. Jim Matthews.

MEMBERSHIP fluctuates in the Webb AFB Ladies Golf Association due to transfers involving families attached to the base. The group lost one member last week as Mrs. Stanley M. Umstead, seated at center, left with her husband for a new assignment.

MR. AND MRS. U. G. POWELL

U. G. Powells Mark Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Powell will be honored today on their 50th wedding anniversary with a reception in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Richardson, Ratliff Road, Silver Heels Addition. Friends are invited to call between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

The couples' children and families will host the affair. The children are Mrs. Cecil (Joyce) Richardson, Big Spring; Alva Hartwell and Mrs. Billy J. (Doris) Owens, both of West Covina, Calif.; U. G. Powell Jr., San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Gary (Rebecca) Tompkins, La Verne, Calif.; and Gene (Sharon) Wylie, Memphis, Tenn. There are 17 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The Powells were married Aug. 26, 1923 in Colorado City in the Methodist parsonage. Mr. Powell was born near Gatesville, 12 miles south of Gall on the Colorado River where his parents ranched. His parents, the late J. F. Powells, sold their ranch and in 1904, moved to Big Spring, where his father owned a blacksmith shop for many years. It was there that Ulnor (Skinny) Powell learned auto mechanics at an early age. He owned and operated his own mechanics shop from 1928 until 1969 when he retired.

Mrs. Bessie Powell was born in Llano and came to Big Spring in 1913 as a young girl with her mother and father, the late A. J. Carrolls.

During the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Powell will renew their wedding vows, with Elbert Garretson, minister of the Eleventh and Birdwell Church of Christ, officiating.

Mrs. Powell will be wearing a blue crepe, floor-length gown, a duplicate of her original wedding gown, with bone colored accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations accented in gold. Mr. Powell will be presented a matching boutonniere. Members of the house party will also receive matching corsages of daisy pom mums.

A gold satin cloth, overlaid with gold net caught up at vantage points with nosegays of orange blossoms and babies' breath, will cover the serving table. The centerpiece will be a tiered cake topped with doves and wedding bells and cascaded with gold roses. The base of the cake will be encircled with gold pom daisies, babies' breath and orange blossoms. Gold punch will be served from a crystal punch service with crystal appointments.

Joining the five daughters and a son in the house party will be Mrs. Wesley C. Carroll and Mrs. James W. Shaw, Miss Candice Pittman of La Verne Calif., a granddaughter, will preside at the register.

Rites Performed In St. Thomas Church

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Alicia Hernandez Parras and Andy Gamboa Jr., at 3:30 p.m., Saturday in St. Thomas Catholic Church, with the Rev. Leo St. John, O.M.I., performing the rites.

A white archway entwined with boxwood greenery was flanked by branched candelabra, and arrangements of white gladioli and white albatross chrysanthemums enhanced the altar.

Mrs. James Settles, organist, provided a background of traditional wedding music and accompanied Juan Viera, vocalist.

PARENTS

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Juan Parras, 409 S. Benton, and Mr. and Mrs. Sulema Roman Gamboa, 506 N. Nolan.

For her gown, the bride chose a formal-length fashion of satin peau de soie with an overlay of silk organza. The empire bodice featured a scalloped overlay of Chantilly lace applied with white sequins, and sequins accented the stand-up collar, long sleeves and hemline. Her tiered, floor-length veil was edged with Chantilly lace and sequins and fell from a headpiece of azares and crystals. She carried a cascade of azares and crystals.

Mrs. Benito Rubio Sr., served as matron of honor, and the bride's sister, Miss Lily Parras, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Johnny Parras Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Theo Hernandez and Mrs. Mike Ehrlich. Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Melinda Morales, Miss Marie Rubio, Miss Katie Martinez, Miss Irma Ross, Miss Susie Munez, Miss Rosario Olguin, Miss Olga Hernandez, Miss Sylvia Rodriguez and Miss Lydia Carrasco.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of lilac dotted Swiss with ruffles accenting the hemlines, necklines and short sleeves. They wore white garden hats with purple ribbon and carried bouquets of dark and light shades of purple summer flowers.

Benito Rubio Sr., was best man, and groomsmen were

MRS. ANDY GAMBOA

David Gamboa, brother of the bridegroom; Johnny Parras Jr., and Louis Parras, brothers of the bride; Theo Hernandez, Mike Ehrlich, Joe Chavez, Bob Montanez, Manuel Rodriguez, Rudy Rubio and Juan Viera. Serving as ushers were Frankie Parras and David Parras, brothers of the bride; Rudy Hernandez and Martin Schattel.

Belinda Pugh was flower girl, and Tommy Parras, the bride's brother, was ring bearer. Serving as cushion maids were Betty Rodriguez and Mary Lopez.

A reception honored the couple in the Howard County fair building. A white satin cloth covered the serving table and was overlaid with lace. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white carnations. A tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Memorial Hospital.

Attending the wedding from out of town were Arthur Parras, Brazoria, brother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Isidro Hernandez, Albuquerque, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sosa, Mr. and Mrs. Genaro Hernandez, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Galindo, all of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paredes and Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Lara, all of Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Lalo Olguin, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Juarez, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Sotero Castillo and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cruz, all of Fort Worth; Miss Tuffy Martinez, Nacho Quintana and Chuy Ceniceros, all of El Paso; Gene Self, Colorado City; and Irma Arrendondo, San Antonio.

Wedding Ceremony Held Friday Evening

Miss Lisa Lemons and Richard Lynn Robertson exchanged wedding vows Friday evening in the First Baptist Church during a ceremony performed by the pastor, Dr. Kenneth Patrick.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lemons, 2612 Carol, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Morris Robertson, 2806 Clanton.

For the altar setting, V-shaped tiers were formed by white pedestal colonades holding lavender and peacock blue floral arrangements with cascading vines. On either side were topiary trees and multiple candelabra. The musical prelude was by Van Johnson, organist, and Kevin Penner, soloist.

The bride appeared wearing a formal gown of Chantilly lace over peau de soie, fashioned with fitted bodice styled with sweet heart neckline edged with ruffles. The full sleeves ended in long, scalloped ruffles over the hands, and the three-tiered skirt was accented with a blue velvet bow and long streamers at the waistline. Her veil of English illusion formed a flowing train, falling from a white satin headpiece topped with seed pearls and stiffened lace. She carried a bouquet of carnations and greenery centered with a lavender orchid.

Mrs. Guy John Seely, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was fashioned with a lavender fitted bodice, with bishop sleeves, and the skirt was of peacock blue and lavender on a white background.

Bridesmaids were Miss Donna Simer, Coahoma, and Miss Sandra Williams, Fort Worth. Miss Simer wore a lavender A-line gown with gathered empire bodice and full sleeves, and she carried a single peacock blue carnation. Miss Williams wore an identical gown in peacock blue and carried a lavender carnation. Headpieces for the three attendants were Diana wreaths to match their gowns.

Rodney Roy Robertson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and groomsmen were another brother, Randall Lee Robertson, and Guy John Seely. John Devery Byrons assisted the groomsmen in their duties as ushers. The ring bearer was Kyle Miller Jr., Odessa.

Miss Leslie Miller, Odessa, and Miss Julie Miller were flower girls. They wore identical pinafore dresses in peacock blue or lavender.

RECEPTION

Prior to leaving on a wedding trip, the couple was honored at a reception in the fellowship hall where Miss Cynthia Sonntag, Denton, presided at the guestbook. Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Sonntag, Denton; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Stallings, Knott; and Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Priest. Mrs. Stallings is grandmother of the bride.

The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth over lavender and centered with a crystal candelabrum arranged with blue and lavender flowers. Appointments were crystal, and the tiered cake was topped with white bells. The bridegroom's table, covered in white linen, featured a pewter coffee service and German chocolate cake. The centerpiece was a green arrangement in a brown and tan oriental vase.

Serving refreshments were Mrs. Sonntag and Mrs. Robert Penner, with Kyle Miller Sr. and Guy John Seely assisting at the bridegroom's table.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Robertson, Andrews, and Mr. and Mrs. Robbie Robertson, Fort Stockton, brothers and sisters-in-law of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robertson, Tyler; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Dement, Colorado City; and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ward, Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, who will reside at Carlton House, attended Big Spring High School. He served with the Army in Vietnam and is currently associated with his father at the Morris Robertson Body Shop.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner Thursday evening at the Spanish Inn where the bridal colors were carried out in floral arrangements. Tables were covered with white cloths and purple streamers.

'Comedy Of Errors' Finishes Run Today

Today marks the final performance of William Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" presented by the Globe of the Great Southwest for Odessa's Shakespeare Festival. Tickets are still available for the matinee performance beginning at 2:30 p.m. The play is believed to be Shakespeare's first, and has been the most popular one in the Globe's repertory this summer. It is presented in slapstick comedy style to attract all ages.

PETER BRECK
Appearing in Lubbock to $500 will be given.

"The Rainmaker" is being produced at Lubbock's Hayloft Dinner Theater and stars Peter Breck who gained fame as Nick Barkley on TV's "Big Valley." Written by Richard Nash, "The Rainmaker" tells of an itinerant swindler who promises rain to cattlemen in Texas, and love to one particular cattleman's daughter. The charming story ends with both promises fulfilled. Make reservations by calling (806) 866-4213.

Deadlines are near for entries in the Southwestern Photography Exhibition, scheduled Oct. 6-Nov. 4 at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts. Photo contest entries must be in by Friday. Photographers who are residents of Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma or Texas may enter four prints in the contest. Entrance fee is $4 and awards ranging from $100

A reproduction of H. W. Caylor's "Drifting in the Rain" was donated to the Heritage Museum this week by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nash. "The Rainmaker" tells of an itinerant swindler who promises rain to cattlemen in Texas, and love to one particular cattleman's daughter. The charming story ends with both promises fulfilled. Make reservations by calling (806) 866-4213.

The Duffs are sponsoring an essay contest on the life and paintings of Harvey Wallace Caylor, and a reproduction of another Caylor painting will be awarded to the school attended by the winner of the contest.

Guests at the museum during the past week included Craig V. Fischer, new assistant principal at Big Spring High. He was a history major in college and offered his assistance in preserving the area's history and heritage.

Also touring the museum was Dr. Robert J. Rhome, nephew of the late Mrs. Mary Bumpass. He is a patient at the VA Hospital and toured the museum with a group of other patients. Dr. Rhome, a retired dentist, graduated in 1914 from the first dental school established in the country, College of Dental Surgery, in Baltimore, Md.

One of the finest antiques shows in the country is scheduled Sept. 26-30 at the Albert Thomas Convention and Exhibit Center in Houston. Sponsored by the Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae, the "Theta Charity Antiques Show" will feature 44 dealers from all parts of the country. An added attraction this year is "The New Collector," which offers antiques from each dealer for under $100.

In its 21st year, the antique show benefits the Houston School for Deaf Children, the Bayou Bend Collection of the Museum of Fine Arts and the Harris County Heritage Society. For further information contact Mrs. Robert L. Hatchett Jr., at (713) 686-2044.

Selections for an annual piano concerto contest have been announced. Entrants may play the first movement of any standard concerto for piano and orchestra, except the works of Tchaikovsky and Chopin. Any student in Texas' junior or senior high schools may enter. The contest is sponsored by the East Texas Symphony Orchestra in Tyler, and entrance fee is $5. The first three winners will receive $100, $50 and $25 respectively. For further information write East Texas Symphony Association, P.O. Box 3323, Tyler, 75701.

Westside Center Sets New Activities In Fall

The fall schedule at Westside Community Center will begin after Labor Day. Regular activities include lessons for children in choir, piano, arts and crafts, a pre-teen girls' club, Saturday morning non-denominational Bible activities, and sewing, knitting and crocheting for adults.

Other activities planned include adult cooking classes, guitar lessons, Brownie and Boy Scout troops, a study hall and senior citizens get-togethers. Volunteers are needed to assist with many of the activities, plus receptionist

Apartment Life Gains Popularity

By 1980, about 80 per cent of the nation's young adults, aged 20 to 34, will be living in apartments. This is according to a report by E. B. Weiss, future marketing editor, Advertising Age.

In the report for Owens-Corning Fiberglas, Weiss said that by 1980 private homes will be on the rare side due to high building costs and high land costs.

La Gallinas Winners Told

Winners in La Gallinas bridge play Friday at Big Spring Country Club were Mrs. Ike Robb and Mrs. Paul Shaffer, first; Mrs. Rip Patterson and Mrs. Dan Patterson, third; and Mrs. G. E. Peacock and Mrs. Auriel LaFond, second. The group is now on its fall schedule, meeting at 10 a.m. each Friday rather than at 1 p.m.

Couple United In Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Avel Galan are on a trip to New Mexico following their marriage Saturday evening in the Mexican First Baptist Church.

The bride is the former Miss Christina Maria Ramirez, daughter of Mrs. Paula Ramirez, 709 NW 5th, and Felipe Ramirez, 310 NW 3rd. Galan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Galan, 1204 Mulberry.

The Rev. Basilio Esquivel performed the rites beneath an archway adorned with gypsophilia and boxwood greenery. Satin bows accented the columns which held arrangements of carnations, gypsophilia and lemon leaf.

Wedding music was by Mike Ramirez, pianist and vocalist.

BRIDAL GOWN
Bands of white lace extended down the front of the bride's formal-length iridescent gown; the empire bodice adorned with satin ribbon. The square neckline was edged with lace, and a sheer yoke extended to form a high lace collar. The long sleeves were puffed above the elbow and tapered to reach narrow lace cuffs at the wrists. Her elbow-length illusion veil was lace-edged and fell from a band of azares. She carried a cascade of azares tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Elva Hilario, maid of honor, wore a floor-length white gown fashioned with long sleeves and high collar. Mrs. Abelardo Hilario was bridesmatron, and bridesmaids were Miss Irene Robles, Miss Nora Abreo, Lubbock; and Miss Alma Jean Abreo, Ackerly.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns in various pastel shades styled with long sleeves and high collars. They carried nosegays of camellias to match their gowns.

Albert Arriola was best man, and groomsmen were Abelardo Hilario, Freddie Garcia and Albert Acosta. Serving as ushers were the bride's brother, Roman Ramirez, and Salvador Abreo.

Flower girl was Alicia Ramirez, and ring bearer was Rene Olivera.

RECEPTION
Mrs. Galan is a student at Big Spring High School. Galan graduated from BSHS and is employed at Webb Air Force Base.

A reception was held in the couple's honor in the church fellowship hall. The serving table was covered with a white cloth accented with silver wedding bell appliques. The tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Fe Acosta, Ackerly, Mrs. Luz Abreo and Miss Josefina Hilario.

Relatives attending from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Noe Abreo, Lubbock; Miss Angelina Galan and Mrs. Aurora Martinez, both of Roby; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Mendoza, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Jaime Heredia, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. David Abreo, Fort Worth; and Mr. and Mrs. Auberry Galan, Amarillo.

Miss Ringener Wed To Don Templeton

Wedding vows were exchanged at 7:30 p.m., Friday by Miss Clarice Ringener and Don A. Templeton in College Baptist Church.

Dan McClinton, minister of music for Baptist Temple Church, performed the rites before a heart-shaped archway holding votive candles and decorated with orange and yellow carnations. Branched candelabra holding yellow tapers in crystal chimneys flanked the altar, and baskets of white mums, yellow carnations and lemon leaf completed the altar setting.

Mrs. Dan McClinton, organist, provided a prelude of traditional nuptial music, and soloist was Fred Davis.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ringener, 1502 Chickasaw, and Templeton is the son of Jack Templeton, 2607 W. Hwy., and Mrs. Neil Templeton, 1509 Sunset.

WEDDING GOWN

The bride was attired in a formal-length gown of white crepe with an overlay of lace. The empire bodice was highlighted with a large satin bow and streamers. A band of lace over crepe outlined the scooped neckline, and full lace sleeves reached deep button cuffs. The full skirt was softly gathered, and the gown featured a chapel-length net train accented with lace appliques. A double satin bow held her shoulder-length veil, and she carried a cascade of yellow roses, orange carnations, stephanotis and English ivy tied with yellow and white streamers.

Miss Sharon Ringener, Lubbock, served her cousin as maid of honor. She wore an orange polyester gown styled with floor-length skirt, empire bodice and scooped neckline. Satin bows and streamers embellished the empire bodice, and the long sleeves were in a floral print organza. She carried a long-stemmed yellow rose with accents of English ivy and yellow satin streamers.

Miss Wanda Weaver, Coahoma, was bridesmaid and wore a yellow gown styled identical to the maid of honor's. She carried an orange rose with ivy and ribbon highlights.

Serving as best man was Ed Frazier of Arlington. Will Lyons was groomsman, and ushers were David Lewis and Gary Blount.

Michelle Chapman, Lubbock, was flower girl and wore a yellow gown trimmed with white lace. It was fashioned like the gowns of the other bridal attendants. Ring bearers were Scott Ringener and Jackie Murphree.

BUSINESS

Mr. and Mrs. Templeton will reside at IS 20 Trailer Park, Lot No. 10, after a wedding trip to the Dallas-Fort Worth area. They are graduates of Big Spring High School. Mrs. Templeton is employed at Household Finance Corporation, and the bridegroom is owner and operator of Commercial Janitorial Service.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of College Baptist Church. The serving table was covered

Newlyweds On Trip To Bahama Islands

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ray England, who were married at 7 p.m., Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church of Commerce, are on a wedding trip to Nassau in the Bahamas. Following their trip, the newlyweds will reside at 9137 Markville Dr., No. 2110, Dallas.

The nuptial rites were performed by Frank Morgan, minister of Westside Church of Christ, Big Spring. The communion table was centered with a massive arrangement of assorted summer flowers and candelabra completed the setting.

Jim Limbaugh was pianist, and Miss Mary Limbaugh was vocalist.

PARENTS

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Richardson, 1003 Lancaster, Big Spring, and England is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray England, Garland.

The bride chose a formal-length gown of candlelight crepe; the empire bodice encrusted with seed pearls and long chiffon sleeves banded above the elbow with rows of seed pearls. Her chapel-length mantilla was of candlelight lace and fell from a pearl crown. She carried a cascade of yellow roses, daisies, babies' breath and stephanotis.

Mrs. Tommy Rutledge of Lubbock was matron of honor, and Mrs. Don Richardson, Hobbs, N.M., was bridesmatron. They wore floor-length gowns fashioned in orange tulle with white lace trim on the empire bodices. They wore white lace picture hats. Their bouquets were of mixed summer flowers.

Dwight Riley served as best man, and David Dodgen was groomsman. Ushers were Chris Sorrells, Johnny Little, Mike Daniels and Danny Wells.

Mrs. England received her bachelor's degree from East Texas State University where she was a member of Psi Chi, national honor fraternity in psychology and Little Sisters of Acacia fraternity. She is employed at Timberlawn Psychiatric Hospital, Dallas.

MRS. RONALD RAY ENGLAND

England received a bachelor's degree from ETSU and was on the Dean's List for academic excellence. He is doing graduate work in clinical psychology at North Texas State University.

RECEPTION

The couple was honored at a reception in the church immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was covered with an arrangement of yellow roses, daisies and babies' breath in an antique cut glass bowl.

Refreshments were served by Miss Doris Dial and Mrs. David Dodgen. Presiding at the guest registry was Mrs. Dimple Monger, and rice bags were distributed by Miss Tessie Biffle.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Scott, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Burge Scott, McKinney; and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Biffle, Garland.

Auxiliary To Sponsor Contest

The annual "Voice of Democracy" scholarship program, sponsored by Veterans of Foreign Wars and its ladies auxiliary, is underway, and the theme this year is "My Responsibility as a Citizen."

The contest is open to 10th, 11th and 12th grade students who present a written and recorded essay on the theme. The scripts will be judged at local, district, state and national levels, and the first place national winner will receive a $10,000 scholarship. Awards will also be given at other levels.

School and community entries should be completed by Dec. 10. Any student interested may contact their school principal or teacher assigned to supervise the program.

Plans for the contest were made by the local VFW Auxiliary Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Pauline Petty, president, 707 N. Gregg. Mrs. Petty and Mrs. G. C. Broughton Sr., will visit Big Spring High School to implement the contest.

Mrs. A. I. Johnson was accepted as a new member of the auxiliary. Committee chairmen appointed were Mrs. E. J. Cass, card; and Mrs. Rip Smith, telephone. In other business, members agreed to give $5 to the Bible Fund.

It was announced that Mrs. Rosendo Santillon and Mrs. Robert Garcia served refreshments at Veterans Administration Hospital recently. Those who will serve Sept. 3 are Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Broughton, Mrs. Petty and Mrs. Mary Stuteville.

Mrs. Petty presided, the next meeting will be Sept. 27 at her home.

BETHROTHED — The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Sherrie Lynn Burke to Lowell McDaniel is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Burke Jr., Monahans. McDaniel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. (Dink) McDaniel, Gail Route. The couple will marry Oct. 12 at First Baptist Church of Monahans.

Vanessa Gaston Has Birthday

FORSAN (SC) — Vanessa Gaston, daughter of the Van Gastons, had a party recently for her third birthday. Attending from out of town were the John Lambs, Fort Worth; the Jim Davis, Lubbock; the Bill Davis, Ralls; and Mrs. C. C. Gilmore, Waco.

Recent guests of the D. L. Griffiths were their son and family, the Otis Griffiths, Odessa.

Jamie Craig of Robert Lee recently visited his grandparents, the J. M. Craigs and Mrs. Vera Harris. Mr. and Mrs. Audrey May, San Antonio, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Snelling.

Bandages Made By Women

Thirteen dozen cancer bandages were turned in by members of the Sew and Chatter Club Wednesday during a work session at the home of Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, 705 W. 18th. The club will discontinue work on the bandages for a time, as it begins sewing a new quilt.

Several members continued work on new projects, among them, Mrs. Lee Porter, who is making red velvet birds for Christmas decorations; Mrs. M. A. Cook and Mrs. Marie Daniels, who are completing afghans; and Miss Twila Lomax, who is making a 'flower garden' quilt.

A $5 donation was made to the Bible Fund.

The hostess served refreshments, including birthday cake in honor of Mrs. Lewis Murdock and Mrs. C. L. Rowe.

The next meeting will be at 3 p.m., Sept. 12 in the home of Mrs. M. A. Cook, 1611 Main.

Nuptials Said At Littlefield

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday by Miss Mlynda Morris, Littlefield, and Mike Walker, Coahoma, at the First Presbyterian Church of Littlefield.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Morris, Littlefield, and Walker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie D. Walker, Coahoma.

The Rev. Clem Sorley, pastor, performed the rites. Wedding selections were presented by Mrs. Al Chambers, organist, and Miss Diane Hayes, Lubbock, vocalist.

Guests were registered by Miss Mary Lou Hancock of Happy. Serving as ushers were Mike Morris, brother of the bride, and Gregg Walker, brother of the bridegroom.

Refreshments were served at the reception by Miss Janie Hyatt, Miss Koleta Giles, Miss Janice Oldham and Miss Debbie Jones, all of Lubbock.

Following a wedding trip to Mexico, the newlyweds will reside at 2819 19th St., Lubbock, where both are students at Texas Tech. Mrs. Walker graduated from Littlefield High School and is a senior journalism major at Tech. The bridegroom graduated from Loraine High School and is in his senior year at Tech, majoring in accounting.

Group Continues Sewing Projects

Two guests were welcomed at Tuesday's meeting of the Pioneer Sewing Club in the home of Mrs. Dan McRae, 603 Goliad. Joining the 11 club members for the afternoon of work on individual projects were Mrs. Maggie Pittman, Odessa, and Mrs. Faye Martin, Garland.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting of the club will be Sept. 4 at the ranch home of Mrs. V. E. Phillips, south of the city.

Club Sees Art Ideas

Liquid embroidery and paper pottery were demonstrated Thursday morning by Mrs. Marjorie Jones of Midland for Busy Bee Hobby Club at the home of Mrs. Bob Doolin, Midway Road.

Mrs. Jones used various colors of Tri-Chem, a liquid paint in a tube, to allow members to paint pictures. Another product, Chem-Age, was used to make pins and brooches. She used pieces of egg cartons for backing, glued a picture to them, painted them with Chem-Age and sprinkled the jewelry with twinkle beads.

When dry, the picture can be seen through the beads.

Also, the speaker displayed a lamp made from a roll of one-inch wide brown paper to form the base. The base was covered with a hardener and then had a picture applied. She finished the picture with Chem-Age and sprinkled it with glittery dust to complete the lamp.

Two new members were present for the salad luncheon. They were Mrs. Joe Goodman and Miss Virginia Younger. The attendance prize was won by Miss Younger. Secret pal gifts were exchanged.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Lem Nations, Abilene, formerly of Big Spring, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patrice Elaine, to Robert R. Pope, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Pope, Alice. Senior students at North Texas State University, the couple will marry Oct. 6 in First Central Presbyterian Church, Abilene. The future bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. P. Mims and Mrs. C. C. Nations, both of Big Spring.

Holes In Head

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our 14-year-old daughter wants to have her nose pierced. She says all her friends are having it done. We let her have her ears pierced last year, and she got an infection which took a long time to get rid of. Her father and I are against this nose-piercing business, but she is begging and begging. Please advise us.

DEAR OLD FASHIONED: Tell her as long as she's a minor and living in your home, she will have to abide by your decision, and you don't approve of the nose-piercing bit. When she's of age, and on her own, she may do as she pleases. (What's one more hole in her head?)

Rebekahs Object To Bill Veto

Gov. Dolph Briscoe's veto of Texas House Bill No. 1165, which would have allowed all churches and fraternal orders an exemption from state, county and city taxes, was discussed at length Tuesday by members of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge 153.

Mrs. C. C. Forrest, president, Mrs. Jones Lamar read correspondence from Guy W. Ennis Jr., Grand master, Independent Order of Odd Fellows urging Odd Fellows and Rebekahs to protest the veto of the bill.

"This veto, in effect, would result in our Order being taxed out of existence," wrote Ennis. He explained that the lodge-sponsored Children's Home at Corsicana, and Home for the Aged at Ennis, might have to close if they lose their tax exemptions. He said this, in turn, would result in added children and aged people on the state relief rolls. Ennis asked lodge members to write to the governor, representatives and senators, requesting that the homes continue to be exempt from taxation.

Tuesday evening, Mrs. U. S. Beechly, a Rebekah member; and Charles Leek of the Odd Fellows were presented gifts for their outstanding contributions to the lodge. Escorting them during the citation were Mrs. Lamar.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Forrest. The next meeting will be Sept. 4.

DEAR ABBY: About three years ago you printed "A Mother in Law's Prayer." I thought it was hilarious and carried it around with me for a long time. Somehow it got away from me. Will you please print it again? There must be quite a few people who haven't seen it. And those who have will enjoy a good laugh repeated.

YOUR FAN IN FLORIDA
DEAR FAN: With pleasure. Here it is:

"O, Lord, help me to be glad when my son (or daughter) picks a mate. If he brings home a girl with two heads, help me to love both of them equally. And when my son says: 'Mom, I want to get married,' forbid that I should blurt out: 'How far along is she?'"

"And please Lord, help me to get through the wedding preparations without a squabble with the 'other side.' And drive from my mind the belief that had my child waited a while, she or he could have done better."

"Dear Lord, remind me daily that when I become a grandmother, that my children don't want any advice on how to raise their children any more than I did when I was raising mine."

"If you will help me to do these things, perhaps my children will find me a joy to be around, and maybe I won't have to write a DEAR ABBY letter complaining about my children neglecting me."

R DID YOU GET THE FULL TREATMENT?

Statistics show that approximately 17% of the prescriptions doctors write for their patients are never filled. Thus the patient never gets the result from the medicine that his doctor wanted him to have. There are several reasons why an Rx may go unfilled; doubt about why the doctor wanted him to have it in the first place; difficulty in finding a pharmacy stocking the ingredients or fear of high cost are just a few of the explanations.

If for any reason you ever hesitate to have an Rx filled please check with us. Whatever the reason we welcome the opportunity to discuss it with you. We carry a complete supply of drugs.

MRS. EDWIN D. EASTMAN

Miss Findley Weds Edwin D. Eastman

Miss Vicki Findley became the bride of Edwin D. Eastman at 8 p.m., Friday in the Airport Baptist Church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bruce Wells, Cisco, cousin of the bride, who was assisted by the Rev. Arthur Thomas.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James W. Findley, 2804 Clanton, and Mr. and Mrs. Rowland C. Eastman, Stafford, Va.

The couple stood at an altar decorated with spiral candelabra, entwined with emerald greenery. Daisies and greenery adorned a candelabra placed at the center of the altar.

Traditional nuptial music was provided by Mrs. James Norman, organist, and Jim Wiley, vocalist.

The bride wore a formal-length gown fashioned in peau de soie with a lace overlay on the empire bodice. The bodice featured a scooped neckline and lace extended over the shoulders and attached to long sheer sleeves with narrow lace cuffs. The A-line skirt was overlaid with organza embellished with lace appliques, and a lace caplet held her waist-length illusion veil. She carried a small bouquet of yellow and white daisies trimmed with white ribbons.

Miss Cheryl Coffman, Garden City, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a floor-length gown of yellow dotted Swiss featuring a scooped neckline and elbow-length puffed sleeves. Lace edged the sleeves and hemline. She wore a matching dotted Swiss and net cap and carried an arrangement of white daisies tied with yellow ribbon.

BEST MAN

James Ezell was best man, and Wilbur Pope was the usher. Altar tapers were lighted by Sherri Callihan and Jamie Jo Findley, sister of the bride.

The newlyweds are on a trip to San Angelo and the Colorado River area near Bend. They will make their home in Patricia, where Eastman is employed by Earl Newcomer Butane Company. He is a graduate of South Roylton High School, Va., and was discharged from the Air Force in March.

Mrs. Eastman graduated from Big Spring High School, Howard County

Junior College and Angelo State University.

The church educational building was the scene of a reception after the ceremony. Guests were registered by the bride's sister, Miss Margaret Findley. Serving refreshments were Miss Nancy Wood, Mrs. John Crawford and Mrs. Harry Wood, all of Odessa; Miss Janice Honey and Mrs. Jerry Goodwin, Little Rock, Ark.

The serving table was laid with an embossed white floor-length cloth with yellow tulle flowers. An arrangement of white gladioli and yellow and white daisies was flanked by crystal candelabra holding white tapers. The tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Assisting in the house party were Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. Wilbur Pope.

GUESTS

Relatives attending from out of town included Mrs. Charles Simmons, Rose Bud, Ark.; Harry Wood and John Crawford, both of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Newcomer, Ackerly; and Mrs. Iris Bruce, Patricia.

'Quotable Women'

"I have been working very hard in my constituency, I have only been biding my time. I have a lot more to say yet." Bernadette Devlin, Irish civil rights campaigner and member of the British Parliament.

"We had a lot to overcome in the beginning. People didn't think golf was a ladylike game, which is nonsense. So our motto today is: Ladies first, Golfers second." Marilyn Louise Smith, 44, the fifth-ranking all-time money winner in the Ladies Professional Golf association.

"When I decided to run, it was a personal sort of crusade. I didn't expect photographers and reporters to descend on the house because I was young and female. I wondered how community people would feel, of course. I called and they said 'Run!' They know women's liberation is not my thing. I didn't think it was a youth thing. It was just personal." Barbara Impellittere 27-year-old mayor of the village of Cold Springs, N.Y.

"A lot of young people have been asking me if I went into folk music because of Joan Baez or Bob Dylan. But I'm the mama and they're the children, and I influenced those singers." Odetta, folk singer.

Richard Eblings Announce Birth

Dr. and Mrs. Richard D. Ebling, 7038 Concho, Houston, formerly of Big Spring, announce the birth of a daughter Karen Marie, at 3:01 p.m., Aug. 24 at Memorial Baptist Hospital Southwest, Houston. The infant weighed 6 pounds, 6 ounces. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ebling, 2805 Cactus, Big Spring, and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Wolda of Houston.

Silky Eye Glow

Family Reunion Held At Lake

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. L. B. McElrath attended the annual McElrath reunion Sunday at Lake Brownwood. She also visited her brothers and sisters and their families, the O. W. Smiths, the Raymond McElraths and Mrs. Walter Fry, all of Coleman. Mrs. Fry returned home with Mrs. McElrath.

Mrs. L. S. Camp and her brother, Jay Williams of Coahoma, were in Fort Worth recently to visit their sister, Mrs. George Stewart. Mrs. Stewart underwent heart surgery at Harris Hospital, Fort Worth. A Forsan community game night and covered dish supper was held recently. The group meets the third Thursday of each month at the Forsan Club House.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SECTION D BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 26, 1973 SECTION D

COMPLETE REWRITE OF PENAL CODE Big Headache For Lawyers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The 1973 legislature handed criminal lawyers a big, fat headache: a complete rewrite of the Penal Code, a death penalty statute and a new law on marijuana and other drugs that fills 88 legal-size pages.

The legislature also made it harder for its own members who are lawyers to pick up a few hundred easy dollars by hiring on as co-counsel in a civil or criminal case to win an automatic postponement.

But the lawmakers declined to approve a proposed constitutional amendment that would have reorganized state courts.

OIL WHEEL

The only concession the legislature made on court reform was to put a little oil on the judicial wheel that squeaked the most—the overworked Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Lawyers have until Jan. 1 to learn the new Penal Code, which is the first major overhaul of Texas' criminal laws since 1856.

The new code classifies all crime into three categories of felony and three levels of misdemeanor, each with a different punishment range.

The highest felony, except for capital felony, carries a punishment of 5-99 years in prison.

A second degree felony is punishable by 2-20 years and a $10,000 fine. A third degree felony calls for 2-10 years and a $5,000 fine.

The highest misdemeanor, Class A, is punishable by a jail term up to one year and a fine up to $2,000. Class B: six months and $1,000. Class C: a fine up to $200.

SEXUAL ACTS

The new code omits "deviate" sexual acts between consenting adults and establishes a new insanity test, among other major changes.

The new marijuana law goes into effect Aug. 27. It will reduce simple possession from a two-years-to-life felony to a Class B misdemeanor for up to two ounces—about 40 cigarettes—or a Class A misdemeanor for two to four ounces.

Possession of more than four ounces would be a 34d degree felony.

Marijuana cases alone constitute 11 per cent of the docket in courts across the state, according to a survey conducted by the Texas Civil Judicial Council. Most marijuana cases in the future will be filed in county courts rather than the overloaded district courts because they will be misdemeanors.

DEATH, RAPE

The new death penalty statute went into effect June 14, as soon as Gov. Dolph Briscoe put his name on it. Overwhelming majorities—114-30 in the House and 27-4 in the Senate—gave it an early effective date.

The old death penalty was knocked out by the U.S. Supreme Court because it gave juries "unfettered discretion" that resulted in unequal application of the laws.

The penalty for murder with malice, for example, was two years to death, and this wide range too often led to prison terms for whites and death penalties for blacks.

The new law has only two punishments: life imprisonment or death.

And it applies only to killers of on-duty law enforcement officers, prison and jail guards or firemen; those who kill for hire or who hire killers; and those who kill while committing or attempting to commit kidnapping, burglary, robbery, aggravated rape or arson.

EXCEPTIONS

Postponement of a trial used to be mandatory during legislative sessions or 30 days before or after the sessions when one of the lawyers was a legislator.

Abuse of this law—hiring a legislator at the last minute—led to a new law giving judges the right to deny a motion for a legislative continuance when the legislator is hired within 10 days of the trial.

There are two exceptions to this rule. If the legislator is the only attorney for his client or if it is a new suit, the judge still must grant the postponement.

Court reform sailed into the same shoals that sank it in previous legislatures. Opposition from justices of the peace and municipal court judges, whose courts would have been abolished as they died, quit or retired, cost sponsors of the measure the legislative support they needed.

ONE-OPINION

This also defeated good features of the amendment that nearly everybody liked, such as the merger of the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals, and the granting of criminal jurisdiction to the 14 courts of civil appeals.

The latter proposal would have provided a needed buffer between district courts and the state's top court in criminal cases.

The criminal appeals court wrote 1,465 opinions last year, more than any other court in the United States. The Texas

Supreme Court wrote 127 opinions in 1972.

A new law that goes into effect Aug. 27 eliminates the one-opinion rule, which requires the court to write an opinion in each case.

Appeals go directly to district courts to the high criminal court, and the present law requires the court to write an opinion for years to be absurd.

Negligence At Hospital Is Denied

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Charges of negligence on the part of the Austin State Hospital in connection with the fatal shooting of two Falls County deputy sheriffs Tuesday have been denied by Dr. Luis H. Laosa, superintendent of the hospital.

Dr. Laosa said that the number of "unauthorized dismissals (walkaways) runs at about the same rate as in other state hospitals."

Laosa was answering a charge made by Sheriff Brady Pamplin after his deputies, Elbert Watkins and Dean Humphus, were killed while trying to arrest Douglas Stewart, 26, of Marlin.

Stewart had been committed to the hospital earlier this year following his arrest on auto theft charges, but walked out of the hospital on June 26. He is now being held without bond in the McLennan County jail in Waco.

Laosa denied the negligent charges saying, "We do not consider ourselves negligent. We are trying to rehabilitate these people. We take patients to make them useful citizens, not to imprison them."

EARNs DEGREE — Adrian Estrada Saldivar, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Saldivar, 307 NE 11th Street, recently received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree from West Texas State University in Canyon. Adrian is a 1969 graduate of Big Spring High School. He is presently employed by the Amistad, N.M., school district.

Ex-Astro Involved In Fuss Over Population

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Former astronaut Scott Carpenter returned to his hometown and has become involved in a controversy over population growth.

Carpenter, America's second man in space, is here to film a television commercial for the American Bankers Association. The commercials are to run on National Football League telecasts this fall featuring about 30 prominent persons.

The bankers' group says Carpenter and the other participants will return to their hometowns "to assess the constructive growth and development which has taken place since they left, pointing out the role of banking."

A local environmental group, People United to Reclaim the Environment, is protesting the commercials in letters to CBS and NBC.

They say they will request time to answer the commercial involving Boulder, if it is telecast. A spokesman said they want to present "the many negative aspects of the too-rapid growth in our city."

Carpenter said he sympathizes with efforts to keep Boulder from growing from its current 66,000 population but notes that increased business for banks does not necessarily mean additional population.

Should Make Program Work

There is some argument over the question of mandatory fuel allocation regulations by the federal government. The Nixon administration has opted so far for a voluntary program which seeks to guarantee supplies of gasoline to independents who have suffered in recent months from shortages. Many of the independents have been forced out of business because major refiners are reserving most of their supplies for their wholly-owned or franchised service stations.

The voluntary program, a form of jawboning, is not working too well. A mandatory program may be needed. Hence, it is gratifying that the outlines of a mandatory program have been prepared by former Colorado Gov. John A. Love, President Nixon's top energy aide.

"We are not planning to implement a mandatory program at any specific time in the foreseeable future," Love said. "We are attempting to develop the best program, however, in recognition that circumstances in the future may require such a program."

Major oil companies, in their own interest, should make the voluntary program work. For if they do not, Congress will almost surely move into the field. Already legislation has been introduced forcing the major companies to operate in only one field — production, refining, distribution, or transport. If the squeeze-out of independent retailers of gasoline continues, both a breakup of vertically-integrated companies and mandatory fuel allocations are possibilities.

Difference Of Opinion

Is Fido getting proper care when shipped by air? The airlines say yes; the humane societies of Denver and Washington say no.

The complaints center on baggage compartment ventilation and on suitable crates for the shipment of pets. When the plane is on the ground, there is almost no ventilation in baggage compartments; but when the plane is airborne, air does seep into the compartment. The containers that are faulty are the responsibility of the shippers. The failure of owners to pick up the animals promptly also leads occasionally to fatalities. But one major airline pointed out that it shipped 18,000 dogs in 1972 with only three fatalities.

When the talk gets around to Fido, of course, emotions become involved immediately. Those emotions are communicated to legislators. Thus Sen. Lowell P. Weicker of Connecticut has introduced a bill to increase protection of animals in transit. If passed, complaints may be quieted, since in the great American tradition the answer to almost any problem is a law.

Needed Introduction

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

My drinking cousin, Bobby Harris, was in Dallas for the Cowboys-Saints game and relates:

"I was standing near the 'soda-pop stand' when I discovered a man's hand in my pocket. I asked him 'What are you doing with your hand in my pocket?'"

"He said 'I'm looking for a match.' 'Why don't you ask for one?' I asked."

"He said 'I don't talk to strangers.'"

One danger among the television newsmongers is that — sooner or later — they become public figures themselves, and then they compete with the subjects of their interviews. Chet Huntley may be the prime example. He got bigger than all outdoors as a television newsmonger, so he resigned, bought Wyoming and lived happily ever after.

The few really big wigs available for interviews find themselves competing with the interviewees — who can't lose, you see, for they never relinquish their hold on the microphone.

In all fairness, this does happen among newspaper-persons as well, but not so often. Their work always goes through the hands — and minds — of several editors who try to keep them humble.

Big deal of the Day: The city of Chicago has voted to do away with pay toilets at its airports. It will cost the city $125,000 a year in revenue. That's a lot of money down the drain.

The person who should be required to talk on the telephone for hours on end is the man (or woman-person) who invented those darn buttons which enable one to juggle several calls at one time, or:

Waiting for an answer while on hold

Or, if God had wanted us to handle more than one telephone call at a time, He'd have given us two ears.

Speaking of women's liberation, Kim, my son, asks:

"Whatever happened to Pa Bell?"

Good ol' Bill Factor says "My car is so old every time I go down to make a payment on it I have to take a cab." (His jokes aren't so young either.)

My wonderful aunt, Mildred Ladd, says she recently bought a gadget that was advertised to "become a collector's item very soon."

"And they were right," she adds. "Already the collectors are hounding me."

GLENN MOFFETT, ex-West Texas cowboy turned Mesquite trucking wrangler, reports he was visiting a friend the other day while a 7-year-old boy was showing a playmate through the house.

When they came to the bar, Glenn heard the youngster announce proudly: "And this is my dad's chemistry set."

Today's guest shot is from Paul Crume of the Dallas Morning News and printed this year on my birthday — Jan. 25.

An elderly gentleman made the mistake of trying to drive in Houston. He got onto a freeway and found himself surrounded by missile-like automobiles.

He was creeping along much slower than the minimum speed when a police car stopped him.

"I suppose you know what I stopped you for," said the officer.

"Yeah," said the oldtimer. "I was the only one you could catch."

The New Breed

Art Buchwald

(Art Buchwald has gone off for a few weeks to forget about Watergate. He left behind some of his all-time favorite columns which he insists to the best of his recollection, at that point in time and in hindsight, everyone wanted to read again.)

WASHINGTON — There's now a new breed of pilot flying our commercial airways, and he's becoming a menace to the peace and tranquility of the traveler. The taciturn James Stewart-type pilot is being replaced by the extroverted David Susskind-type who not only never stops talking but tells you a lot more about flying than you want to know.

IN THE OLD days of air transportation, you hardly heard from the captain up forward. He might have told you when you were taking off and when you could expect to land, but outside of that he spent his time flying the plane, which is the most anyone expects of his pilot anyway.

But now, because he's either lonely or bored, or because the public relations departments of the airlines are in charge of the crews, the captain does a complete monologue from the time you get on the plane to the time you land. This is how it goes:

"HI, FOLKS, this is your captain. Well, we're going to have a great flight today to L.A. Your hostesses are Kitty, Patti and I'm Jack. I'm married, have three fine children — Hildy, Freddy and Lisa — and we live in Roslyn, Long Island. The have a swell house and we belong to the First Congregational Church."

There are some clouds over Kansas City, so we'll just avoid Kansas City today, which is not a great problem because we can get to L.A. anyway. It's lucky we're not going up to Montreal because they're really socked in there, and there's a hurricane off Puerto Rico. But that shouldn't bother us today.

"We had some trouble with the turbofram which delayed us a few minutes, but it's been fixed now. We really don't need the turbofram, but government regulations require that it be in working order, just in case the gyronwhizzit goes out which is hardly likely."

"Now, when we get in the air, you're going to hear a change in pitch in the motors, but don't let that bother you. If you didn't hear a change, then you should be bothered. Ha-ha-ha."

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

After 30 years of marriage I still have the same problem. My husband is a miser. We raise our own meat and keep a big garden, but he refuses to realize that some things have to be purchased. If I stay away from the grocery store for three weeks, he'll look me straight in the eye and ask me to try it for three more.

Farmer's wife
It's surprising how many statements of Christ had to do with money. He knew, of course, that the manner in which we handle finances is a pretty good barometer of our character and our spiritual condition.

Have your husband read the 25th chapter of Matthew, particularly verse 26. In this parable of the talents, there appears one selfish man who elected to hide away the investment given him. The master, on returning, had the strongest of denunciations for such a practice. In the end, this man lost what little assets he possessed, and paid with his life for his greed.

It's one thing to be frugal, but another to worship money so that any expenditure is seen as a painful loss. The Bible concept of the steward is that of a manager, placed over the property of another and responsible for the wise investment of funds. If the steward's job is done well, the whole household is happy and everyone is producing at capacity.

As his wife, you should not override your husband's judgment, but you have an obligation to discuss his salvation and his understanding of married life. Help him to see the error of both ends of the scale — the miser as well as the spendthrift.

A Devotion For Today

By faith, Abraham, when he was tested, offered up Isaac, and he who had received the promises was ready to offer up his only son. (Hebrews 11:14, RSV)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, on this day we ask that Your spirit may illumine us in such a way that we may be able to understand Your Word and do what You want us to do. Amen.

Familiar Drama

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The curtain is going up on an old familiar drama. The scene opens with wild cries of alarm. "The Russians are coming, the Russians are coming," and we are all defenseless, at their mercy, because of a few mushy headed disarmament idiots.

The centerpiece this time is the revelation that the Soviet Union has successfully tested on two of their multiple re-entry vehicle (MIRV). The multiple re-entry vehicle (MIRV). The curtain raiser is faithful to the well-tried formula. News of the MIRV breakthrough is leaked to heralds of doom and they promptly set the drums to beating.

This is based, it seems to me, on a fundamental illusion of America's inevitable superiority. It has been true since the beginning of the nuclear age when the United States was the sole possessor of the atomic bomb. Years would pass before the Soviets could come up with a bomb, it was said.

WHEN THEY tested their first atomic device several years in advance of most estimates it brought a shock of surprise. The parallel with MIRV is close. For more than three years the United States has been installing multiple warheads on land-based missiles and on those carried by Polaris and Poseidon submarines. While Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird warned that the Soviets would develop MIRV, the prevailing belief was that their achievement of this advanced technology was some way off. There was even the suggestion that the Russians might refrain from MIRVing with the hope that this would make it easier to reach agreement in SALT II on limiting the number of offensive missiles.

Any technology the United States can achieve, so can the Soviets. That is the lesson which seems never to be learned as this rerun of the old drama is on once again.

America's MIRV missiles were the reason we could accept the fact of a superior number over-all of Soviet missiles without MIRVs. In the next four to five years, as the first Soviet tests move on to deployment, that advantage will disappear.

For the doom sayers not only does this put the nation in deadly peril but it rules out any further effort to arrive at a mutual agreement to cut back strategic armaments. There is, however, a less cataclysmic view. With several years still to go for deployment, the Soviets may regard their MIRV as a bargaining chip in the SALT talks to resume in the fall in Geneva.

ON OUR side we hear a lot about bargaining chips. The $12 billion plus long-range submarine trident is justified as a bargaining counter against a reported similar new sub the Soviets are said to have in the works.

With the whole disarmament apparatus so downgraded by the President, the burden of trying to reconcile the new MIRV development will fall on Henry A. Kissinger, adviser on national security affairs. Kissinger played a leading part in the talks between the President and Leonid I. Brezhnev in the White House in June. The surprising news out of those talks was that the two leaders had agreed a limitation on offensive missiles could be reached in 1974.

KISSINGER, ALONG with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, played the central role in the breakthrough on SALT I, first in May 1971, and then in the climax which came just before the Moscow summit a year later. In the Byzantine atmosphere of the White House he was subjected to attacks from two different directions. First it was leaked that he had been so dovish as to yield to Soviet blandishments and accept a secondary position for the United States. Later his enemies in the White House put it out that he was the supreme hawk who had taken in all his liberal admirers.

TIMES ARE TOUGH!!

Consumers Can Expect Price Jolt

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The government announced its proposed new Phase 4 food price controls this past week, warning that prices were likely to go still higher under the new rules.

But John T. Dunlop, director of the Cost of Living Council, said the regulations were intended to "keep prices below what they otherwise would be."

The food industry, including both wholesalers and retailers, has been under temporary regulations since the food price freeze was lifted July 18. The new rules are to go into effect Sept. 12, the same day the freeze on beef prices is to be lifted. Little change is expected in the new rules between now and then.

The industry will generally be allowed to pass along to customers increases in its own food prices. But both wholesalers and retailers will be limited in the extent to which they can ask customers to pay for other cost increases, such as those for labor and transportation.

"We expect there will be some price increases at the consumer level," said Dunlop, adding, however, that he would be surprised if they matched those of July when the price freeze was lifted.

Restaurants will be allowed to pass along all cost increases, dollar for dollar. Manufacturers and processors will be allowed to pass along food price hikes, but will have to ask government clearance to cover other expenses.

Dunlop said he couldn't predict just how high food prices might go this year. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has predicted a possible increase of more than 20 per cent.

Consumer prices in July rose at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 2.4 per cent, far down from June's 7.2 per cent and the smallest increase in seven months. Food prices were up an unexpected 6 per cent, even though they were still down from the previous month's 10.8 per cent.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said the increase in food prices "hasn't yet been fully explained."

Amniocentesis Not Simple

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is your opinion of amniocentesis? What is the risk to the fetus? Magazine articles make it sound like a relatively simple, harmless procedure. My gynecologist does not.

Would you recommend this test for a healthy, older mother-to-be, one of whose children is a Down's baby? — D.R.

I have to agree with your gynecologist.

Amniocentesis is a recognized and valuable means of determining genetic defects in the fetus, and I have written about it on quite a number of occasions.

But I hope I haven't given anyone the impression that it's as simple a matter as, say, cutting your fingernails.

The risk to the fetus is the obvious one. Physical injury must be avoided in the course of the process itself. That is, a hollow needle is used to withdraw a sample of the amniotic fluid with which the fetus is surrounded in the womb.

This means inserting the needle to a point at which it reaches the fluid — but does not injure the fetus. This can be accomplished by careful determination of the location of the placenta and of the position of the baby.

A useful procedure when needed, but one to be done by someone who is thoroughly familiar with it, it is best performed about the 16th week of pregnancy.

A question you didn't ask, but certainly had in mind, was the prospect of having another "Down's baby" — that is, a mongoloid child. The fact of having had one, when other children were normal, does not necessarily mean you will have

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Am I doing wrong in not telling my two children that their dad had syphilis? They were young and it was 40 years ago. The doctor said neither the children nor I had it, but I have worried if I should have told them. Is there any danger to them after all these years? — Mrs. P.H.

As long as neither you nor they contracted the disease, there is absolutely no point in telling them.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 71 and would like to spend the rest of my life in Florida. Some of my friends say Florida's climate is very bad for anyone with heart trouble. Will you please answer me? — G.C.

That'll be a surprise to all the folks with battered tickers who have retired to Florida. Did you ask your friends what's supposed to be so bad about the climate? Were I you, I'd rely on what your doctor says, not what your friends say.

BIG SPRING HIGH SCHOOL

Activities Start With Rush Here

BY DRUANNE PRIDDY

Big Spring High School started school Aug. 16 with a big freshman class that cluttered the halls the first two days trying to find their classes. Along with the fish class being so confused, so were the different organizations in BSHS.

Last Monday parking permits went on sale in the general office. The parking lots will operate as in the past years with a $9 charge for a year, $5 for a semester, or 10 cents per day.

Any sophomore, junior, or senior boy interested in being a football manager is to contact Coach Adams in the Athletic Office or in room 231.

All freshmen girls who played volleyball in junior high and are interested in playing this year are to contact Miss Christi Price in room 252 this week.

Any boy who is interested in running cross country or fall track should go by room 248 and talk to Coach Glenn Petty this week.

Any girls interested in running girls track should go by and talk to Miss Susan Green, G-14, sometime this week.

Students are reminded that they are to smoke only in the smoking area which is located north of the cafeteria. Anywhere else on campus is a violation of the smoking rule.

Corral Magazine went on sale this week. Be sure to buy a Corral subscription before Sept. 14. Subscriptions are $1.50 and there will be no individual sales. To get your Corral go by the Journalism Department, room 120, or ask any Journalism student. There will be one issue every month. Also from the Journalism Department, Thursday was the deadline for all seniors to have their pictures made at Brandon Studio for the annual.

The Student Council met Thursday, Aug. 23 to discuss the Howdy Dance and the upcoming class officer selections. The Howdy Dance will be Sept. 8 and the elections will be Sept. 5.

CLUBS ORGANIZE

The Future Teachers of America met Monday, Aug. 20 for their first meeting of the year. Mr. William Martin and Mrs. Cletis Tatum are sponsors for this year's club. FTA officers for this year are: Susan Blasingame, president; Amy Holloway, vice president; Ellen Cooley, treasurer; Gina Owens, secretary; Nadine Teague, parliamentarian; Raymond Torres and Kathy Bull, historians. The meetings will be on the first Monday in the afternoon and on the third Monday in the evening.

Key Club calendars were in later than usual this year due to some uncontrollable reasons. Harvey Rothel, Key Club sponsor, says they should be in by Sept. 7 and they will sell for 50 cents each. Officers for this school year are: David Wright, president; Rick Gilliland, first vice president; Guy Teague, second vice president; Glenn Carlton, secretary; Robert McEntire, treasurer; Victor Garcia, assistant secretary; Greg Horton, community service chairman; Nat Hart, school service chairman; Danny Ginder, publicity chairman; Robert Bradbury, fund raising chairman; John Lipscombe, bell custodian; and Joe Griffith, chairman of committees. Prospective members may pick up the Key Club applications in Mr. Rothel's office, or from Henry Thames, the Kiwanis Club Sponsor. This year's Key Club Sweetheart is Laurie Proctor.

The Goldiggers began the school year with a watermelon supper at the City Park. There will be 100 girls this year in the pep squad and their uniforms will be the same. The drill captains this year will be Dawn Hunt, Chris Miller, Mavis Ray, and Deborah Hurrington.

The Varsity cheerleaders won the spirit stick this summer while they attended cheerleading camp at East Texas State University in Commerce. The varsity cheerleaders this year are: Nadine Teague, Mickie Fletcher, Kendra Dewees, Leslie Harris, and Nancy Conway. Junior varsity cheerleaders are: Angela Hodnett, Kim Brock, Chris Davis and Laura Bickford. Freshman cheerleaders are Patti Brackett, Stephanie Renshaw, Cathy Valdez, Donna Sundry, Jill Odom and Lori Brown. Friday, Aug. 17, the varsity cheerleaders held a contest to pick Steer Mascots. Five girls between the age of three and five were picked for each home game. The girls are: Amy Crane, Tonya Holley, Nicki Davis, Ginger Brooks, and Rebecca Thompson.

The Future Homemakers of America met Thursday for an ice cream supper and blue jean ball in the Birdwell Park. Donna Hale, program leader, presented the program entitled "Getting Acquainted." The FHA officers for this year are: Sally Jones, Cynthia Standard, Deborah Statham, Cathy Rudd, Donna Hale, Lonnie Thames, Mary Ament, Phyllis Shaffer, Judy Jones, Carol Mize, and Karla Small.

Miss Colleen Slaughter, National Honor Society sponsor, announced that the National Honor Society would meet Thursday, Sept. 20 to make plans for the fall induction which will be held Oct. 18. To be inducted into the National Honor Society a person must have a 90 or above average and must be classified as a junior. The Speech and Drama Club will have its first meeting Tuesday, Aug. 28. All students interested in speech or drama may attend. Students do not have to be taking speech or drama to attend.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

4-D Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sun., Aug. 26, 1973

GOLIAD JUNIOR HIGH Kim Cooper New Society Prexy

By BECKY RAGAN

The National Junior Honor Society had the first meeting on Tuesday, the 21st. New officers elected were Kim Cooper, president; Irene Little, vice president; Andra Hohertz, secretary; and J. Ray Warren, treasurer. Requirements for membership in the organization are: enrollment in Goliad for one full semester; an overall average of 90 in the four major subjects; and no report card grade lower than 85 in the four major subjects. In addition to these requirements, a student must also be a good citizen. Honor Society students are reminded to pay their dues to Mrs. Dolores Gage, sponsor. Goliad welcomed several new teachers to the faculty this year. New teachers are Duke Atterberry, physical education; Patrick Bizor, choir; Mrs. Cynthia Davenport, resource; Mrs. Linda Deaton, math; Mrs. Marjorie Devore, math; Mrs. Benda Hamilton, science; Mrs. Anne Justice, English and social studies; James Smith, social studies; and Mrs. Bobbie Griener, teacher's aide, according to S. A. Walker, principal. We are also glad to welcome all returning Goliad teachers. Students should remember that Texas state law, and school policy, requires that students 12 years and over bring immunization records for diphtheria, tetanus, and polio. In most cases the policy will apply to students new to the Big Spring school system.

Workshop for seventh grade students who want to try out for cheerleader will be Aug. 7, 8 and 9 from 3:45 until 5 p.m. Cheerleader sponsor is Mrs. Debbie Scofield. Outside judges will select finalists on Thursday, Aug. 30, and the finalists will compete before the student body on the 31st. Cheerleading contestants should bring a blouse, shorts, and tennis shoes since the gym cage may be locked.

Officers for the girls and boys choir which meets second period are Andra Hohertz, president; Irene Little, vice president; Terri Leonard, secretary; Dianna Cole, treasurer; and Mike Egan, librarian. Choir officers for 5th period are Diana Guevarro, president; Billy Johnson, vice president; Clara Brown, secretary; Debbie Jimenez, treasurer; and Mark Young, librarian.

Sixth period selected Allison Crow, choir president; Gena Von, vice president; Leigh Reynolds, secretary; Carol Meek, treasurer; and Brenda Beil, librarian.

The Goliad library will open on Wednesday, the 9th, stated Mrs. Eddie Person, librarian. Library orientation for seventh grade students will be given by Mrs. Person on Monday and Tuesday, the 7th and 8th.

Attention football fans: Goliad Mavericks will meet the Runnels Yearlings on Sept. 6 at Memorial Stadium. Time for the game will be announced at the pep rally preceding the game. The eighth grade team has 48 players. The seventh grade team will be selected later. Goliad's advanced band is preparing to play for pep rallies and football games. There are 64 students in the advanced band, while the beginning band has 73.

Girls, the boys may be getting ahead of you in cooking. There is a high percentage of boys enrolled in Miss Carmen Johnson's four food classes. Watch out, Betty Crocker. However, the teen interest class reports that an equal number of boys and girls are participating.

Official enrollment for Goliad Junior High School is 712. This is some 62 more students than last school year. Your Megaphone reporter is Becky Ragan, local girl reporter. All news will be reported, and all words spelled correctly — hopefully, so bring news to me each week by Wednesday.

FORSAN HS

Buffalo Band Shows Much Enthusiasm

By DOROTHY BANKS

The Forsan Buffalo Band started off the new year with high spirits. The band was rated 4th in the State out of 18 other top bands. Out of the top 18 Forsan was the only Class "B" band present.

Elections and organization of all class officers will take place this Tuesday (Aug. 28).

The Forsan Annual Staff is also off to a start with new members. These new members are Randy Walls, a senior; Ginger Dittmore, a junior; Teresa West, a sophomore; and Kevin Hocker, a sophomore. Also joining the staff will be Mrs. Elrod, the sponsor.

The Pep Squad met and organized last Thursday and the spirit is high. All girls interested in joining that have not been contacted are urged to see Miss Harris, the Pep Squad sponsor, by Friday (Aug. 31).

UIL Tennis Players are off to an early start this year. The netters will be meeting Tuesday night at the Figure 7 Tennis Center. They will be meeting with Novice Kniffin and Barry Stephens, both pros who will be offering advice to the team.

The first play presented by Forsan High School will be "Huckleberry Finn." Tryouts for this play are scheduled for Tuesday.

GARDEN CITY

Roxanne Hirt Senior Prexy

By BECKY SCHWARTZ

The Garden City Independent School took up classes Friday, Aug. 17. The seniors, juniors and sophomores registered on the 15th, and seventh, eighth and freshmen registered Aug. 16. All of the grade school registered on either one of these days.

The football team started their workouts Aug. 13. They have been working hard in order so that they could be in shape for the scrimmage that they played with Sterling City last Friday. The pep squad met Thursday to learn the new yell. The cheerleaders for this year are Linda Batla, head; Cynthia Currie, Marjorie Glenn and Martha Doe.

The senior class met Tuesday and Wednesday to elect class officers. They are Roxanne Hirt, president; Cynthia Currie, vice president; Pam Turner, secretary; Marjorie Glenn, treasurer; and Carlos Herrera, student council representative. Sponsors are Mrs. Schraeder and Mr. Jones. They discussed the car wash planned for Saturday, ordering the Tom Watt kits this year and the dues for the class.

The junior class officers are Sheryl Newell, president; Phyllis Johnson, vice president; Barbara Hoelscher, secretary; and Linda Batla, treasurer. Sponsors are Mrs. Newby and Mr. Bradford.

The sophomore class president is Harold Hoelscher. Other officers are Becky Hirt, vice president; Linda Chandler, secretary; and Gerald Wooten, treasurer. Sponsors are Mrs. Bergstrom and Mrs. Breneman.

The freshman class president is Denise Jansa. Other officers are Greg Frerich, vice president; Linda Schwartz, secretary; and Karla Halfmann, treasurer. Coach Henderson is their sponsor.

The eighth grade elected Jane Armistead, president. Other officers are Evette Coffman, vice president; Donna Plagens, secretary; Mary Kay Schwartz, treasurer; and Della Smith, reporter. Mrs. Stringer is their sponsor.

The seventh grade class president is Brad Calverly. Other officers are Mark Halfmann, vice president; Tina Bednar, secretary; Belinda Jost, treasurer; and Tammy Sawyers, reporter. Their sponsor is Mr. Canafax.

A new course is being offered this year called Family Relations. It is being taught by Mrs. Bergstrom, with 15 enrolled. It is planned to have several different speakers throughout the year come speak on different subject matters.

COAHOMA HIGH SCHOOL

Eight New Teachers Are Added To School Staff

By SHERRY GRIFFIN

Coahoma High welcomes eight new teachers to its staff. They are Miss Sue Riddlehuber, biology; Mr. Steve Park, math and junior high coach; Mr. Sonny Barnes, government, girls coach and assistant football coach; Mr. Gerald Book, math; Miss Frances Kelly, librarian; Mr. Johnny Miller, band director; Mrs. Jean Smith, resource; Miss Jo Beth Tollefson, home economics.

Boosters held an ice cream supper to get acquainted with the new band director, Johnny Miller.

Tuesday during the activity period the senior and junior classes chose officers and student council representatives. For the senior class they are Jerry Stout, president; Greg Walker, vice president; Theresa Beal, secretary; Jayne Meachem, treasurer. The student council representatives are Dale Mitchel and Kyle Kiser.

The junior class officers are Steve Wolf, president; Alan Roman, vice president; Dieter Fowler, secretary; Susie Smolko and Brad Milliken are the student council representatives.

Tuesday night the Science Club met to elect officers. They are Dennis Mays, president; Steve Wolf, vice president; Jeannie Kohanek, secretary; Debra Meyers, treasurer; Jean Parks, reporter. Plans for next year were discussed. Dues were set at one dollar. Dues should be paid to Debra Meyers as soon as possible. A program committee was also appointed. Debbie Wall, Polly Mar, and Mark Foster will serve on this committee. Mr. Phil Wynn is the sponsor.

Wednesday the sophomore and freshmen met to decide on officers for the coming year. Sophomores elected Joe Wright, president; Tina Bristow, vice president; Nancy Wood, secretary-treasurer; and Steve Kohanek, reporter. Jean Parks and Oscar Pardon were chosen student council representatives.

Freshmen chose Danny Thomas, president; Louis Flores, vice president; Laurie Choate, secretary; and Suzie Rupard, treasurer. Melinda Reid and Ken Kelso will serve as student council representative.

The Speech Club met Thursday in the auditorium during activity period, for its election of club officers. Elected was Tony Hensley, president; Connie Tucker, vice president; Tina Kerr, secretary-treasurer; and Cheryl Bohannon, reporter. Club dues were set at one dollar per member. Dues should be turned into the sponsor, Miss Jo Lynn Flowers.

Senior boys must have their senior pictures made at Brandon's Studio before Sept. 1. The tennis team held a meeting Wednesday after school to discuss the San Angelo Tournament. Entry fee is $5 per event. Miss Sherril Maus is the tennis sponsor. The Bulldogs held their first scrimmage Friday night against Haskell.

STANTON HS

Straub Named Senior Prexy

By CHERYL BRADSHAW
School officially began Aug. 16 at Stanton High School with an opening assembly presented by the newly acquired principal, Wayne Mitchell, coming from Sanderson, Tex.

Others among the new faces in the family system for the high school are Miss Sue Walker teaching Speech, Drama and English III; Mrs. Jim Jensen instructing English I and II; and Mrs. Jack Elrod has the Special Resource class.

There were class meetings held Tuesday Aug. 21, to elect officers for the 1973-74 school year. Elected in the senior class were Skeeter Straub, president; Mark Elland, vice president; Rosalind Welch, secretary; and Tricia Shoemaker, treasurer.

For the junior class the officers are: Billy Howard, president; Johnny Gonzales, vice president; Karen Anderson, secretary; Gloria Simonek, treasurer; and Jeanne Ramos, reporter.

The sophomore officers are Gary Hanson, president; Ronnie Mims, vice president; Joanna Haggard, secretary-treasurer; and Jo Mims, reporter.

Officers for the freshman class are Kenny McCallister, president; Bobby Klein, vice president; Adella Esparza, secretary-treasurer; and Jill Hughes, reporter.

The pep squad met Friday, Aug. 17 to discuss patterns for their uniforms and again on Monday, Aug. 20 to decide on the material. Officers for this year's pep squad are: Wanda Brown, president; Ann Saunders, vice president; and Debra Jones, secretary-treasurer.

Hi-Y To Shine

High school age Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y (girl) clubs are having organizational meetings at 8 p.m. Monday at the YMCA. All high school students are invited to attend. Several out-of-town trips, including Austin Youth in Government Day, are being planned.

JOE GRIFFITH DRUANNE PRIDDY

Griffith, Priddy Assume Posts With Megaphone

Editor of the school Megaphone page for the 1973-74 school year is Joe Griffith, presently a senior at Big Spring High School.

In addition, he is on the Corral staff which produces the monthly school paper, concentrating on editorials and sports items. Joe, in addition, is a member of the Key Club and the Steer golf team. He's been playing golf the past 2 1/2 years. He usually shoots in the 75 to 84 range.

Joe moved to Big Spring six months ago from Victorville, Calif. There he also worked with the school paper, at which time he served as sports editor. Joe's father is G. G. (Guy) Griffith, who recently retired from the Air Force with the rank of major and is now employed as the Scout Executive in Big Spring.

Joe was born in Cameron, Tex. He attended school briefly here and moved around with his family to attend school in Wichita, Kan., Derby, Kan., and Bitburg, Germany, before moving to Victorville.

Joe is the oldest of three Griffith children. The others are Mary, age 14, a high school freshman who was born in Wichita; and six-year-old Becky, who can list Bitburg, Germany, as her place of birth. The Griffiths reside at 2718 Central Drive.

The Megaphone reporter for the high school is Druanne Priddy, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Priddy of 2515 Ann. Mr. Priddy is the territory manager for the Heston Corporation. Miss Priddy is also on the Corral staff and concentrates her efforts on the feature page.

RUNNELS JH

Advanced Choir Chooses Officers For New Year

By JEANNIE SPEEGLE
There are 550 students enrolled at Runnels this year. Two hundred seventy-nine students of that total are seventh graders and the other 271 are eighth graders.

The advanced choir elected its officers for the year. They are Bobby Huff, president; Debra Hayworth, vice president; Toni Hansen, secretary; Donny Knight, treasurer; and Lisa Fort, librarian. Assistant librarians are Tena Taylor, Marsha Wallace, and Linda Holland. Kevin Wolf is the choir reporter. The total choir enrollment is 101 students. The girls choir will elect officers next week.

The band enrollment this year is the largest it has been since the ninth grade consolidated with the high school. The total enrollment of band members this year is 101 students. The band election of officers will be held this coming week on Tuesday the 28th.

Monday the 27th all seventh grade girls who want to try out for cheerleader must report to the girls gym after school. If you are going to try out you need to bring last year's grades with you. Final tryouts will be on Sept. 4 after the Labor Day holiday.

The seventh and eighth grade girls P.E. classes are running relays, doing exercises and Driving Course To Be Offered

Driver's Education will begin Monday, Aug. 27, at 7 p.m. in Room 1 of the Adult Education Building on the Howard County College campus. Harold Wilder is the instructor.

The course is for beginning drivers. There will be six hours lecture, six hours observation and six hours driving. The lecture hours will meet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 27-28-29. The fee is $40. Driving practice and observation time will be announced. Those interested should call Howard County College at 267-6311, ext. 82.

Would You Like To Know

More About The BIBLE?

Many people, for their own edification for help in teaching Bible, want to know more about The Book. Bible 301, "A Survey of History of the Old Testament," will be offered at Howard County Junior College during the fall semester. This offers college credit (you may take it non-credit if you like) transferrable as an elective. It is non-sectarian, non-denominational—but invaluable.

Don Siegel's Style Is Catching On In U.S.

LONDON (AP) — "In America, they consider a film director's work on the basis of 1. Who's in the picture? and 2. How much did it cost? Here, they're only interested in content."

Don Siegel was explaining why he was embraced years ago by French and English critics as a rare innovator of the action film, while he has risen only recently to eminence in the United States.

The rough-hewn director is filming his first English-made movie, "Drabble," a spy chase starring Michael Caine for Zanuck-Brown productions and Universal. When informed that the British film institute was planning a retrospective on his film, his response was characteristic: "Where were you when I needed you?"

CURIOSITY
Siegel is a curiosity among American directors. He has been making films since 1946, but most of his time was spent in making B pictures like "Riot in Cell Block 11" and "Invasion of the Body Snatchers." European critics hailed such films, but Hollywood paid little heed to Siegel until he started making box-office hits like "Coogan's Bluff" and "Dirty Harry" with Clint Eastwood.

He's not bitter about the long period of neglect.

"It's fun to be making it now," commented Siegel, 60. "I like being on the way up instead of on the way down. I know too many directors who made it in the 30s and 40s and can't get a job now."

Siegel was shooting a scene with Caine and British actress Janet Suzman in a compact London apartment. Despite the close quarters and technical problems, the director kept production moving along, in keeping with his B-picture training.

The start of the film was not so promising. In the first three days, everything went wrong, from missed explosions to model airplanes that wouldn't fly. Siegel said he suspected the fault lay with himself — "maybe they shouldn't send senile American directors to England."

BAD APPLE.
He added: "But then I realized the old saw about one bad apple spoiling the barrel. I had hired a bad special effects man. I fired him, and everything has been okay since then."

Siegel was relaxing between shots with a beer. He was also learning the differences between American and English crews: "The crews here are efficient; they know their jobs. But there are divisions of duty that are perplexing. For instance, the property master is an integral part of our system. But I find that in England the assistant art director is responsible for moving a chair. "The English crews have more democracy. At 5 o'clock, they take a vote on the director's request to work overtime after 6. In America, you never ask the crew if they want to work overtime. You just tell them.

ALWAYS PLAYS LOSERS — Jack Lemmon (right), whose movie, "Avanti," is playing to packed houses, says he learned to play counterpoint "and that's what gives my characters empathy." He says comedy asks more of an actor than drama. "When comedy is off, there's nothing more disastrous." His first movie producer, Harry Cohn, tried vainly to get him to change his last name.

DeLuise Hopes He Has Winner In TV Series

HOLLYWOOD — Dom DeLuise is an experienced journeyman in the field of comedy. He has piled his craft of making people laugh in nightclubs, on stage and on television.

After seven years of guesting on the Dean Martin Show, he is being rewarded with his own show this fall on NBC-TV. It appears to be tailored to his comedy talents.

Dom will star in "Lotsa Luck," a comedy series adapted from a British TV hit, "On the Buses." He will play Stanley Belmont, a bachelor in his 30s who works as a clerk in the lost and found department of a New York City bus line.

British comedy goes over well with American audiences, judging from the success of "All in the Family" and "Sanford and Son." This pattern of success is a source of encouragement to DeLuise.

He isn't so sure he likes the title given the series: "Lotsa Luck" means you may not make it. That's kind of spooky.

Dom said some of the scenes will deal with his work, but most will be concentrated on his home life.

"I have a girl friend, Teresa, but we don't see her," he added. "In fact, we may never see her. At one point my mother says, 'Teresa's a tramp,' and I answer, 'Just because she was mugged twice.'"

Kathleen Freeman, no novice in the comedy field herself, will trade barbs with DeLuise in her role as his mother. In supporting roles are Jack Knight as his friend, Bummy; Beverly Saunders as his married sister, Olive, and Wynn Irwin as her jobless husband, Arthur.

Stanley is the sole wage-earner in the household, supporting his mother, sister and brother-in-law.

"He is trapped, because he is the breadwinner, but he faces up to his responsibilities," DeLuise says of the character he portrays.

Mexican Art Is Recovered

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — FBI agents have recovered a stolen piece of centuries-old Mexican art which disappeared nearly three years ago from the Anthropological Museum of the University of Veracruz in Mexico.

They disclosed a tip that someone was trying to sell the statue led the federal agents to find it in an unoccupied San Antonio motel room.

An FBI spokesman said the carved stone figure, stolen Oct. 12, 1970, is considered one of the finest pieces of ancient Mexican art.

It was carved by the Olmecs, a highly cultured people who had a written language and existed from 800 B.C. to 200 A.D. in the Veracruz and Tabasco regions of Mexico.

No value can be placed on the work since sales of such art, which would determine a comparative price, are prohibited by the Mexican government.

No arrest was made at once. Agents were trying to learn who had been in the motel room.

The statue, recovered Wednesday, was authenticated by Dr. Alejandro Gertz. He came to San Antonio to inspect the art work as a representative of the attorney general of Mexico.

James B. Adams, agent in charge of the FBI office here, said Gertz described the stone as similar to jadeite.

The work is opaque, reflecting flashes of light. It weighs 129 pounds, is 21½ inches tall and 17 inches wide.

'Last Tango In Paris' Obscene?

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A three-judge federal court refused to rule whether the controversial movie, "Last Tango in Paris," is obscene under Oklahoma statutes.

The federal panel, in a 2-1 decision, said the constitutionality of Oklahoma's antiobscenity laws should be heard first in state court.

The court refused to grant a temporary injunction sought by United Artists Corp. to prevent state authorities from taking action against exhibitors of the film pending a decision by state courts on the validity of the antiobscenity laws.

At the same time, the three-judge panel said the film "cannot be determined not to be obscene as a matter of law."

"Instead," the majority opinion said, "we believe the nature of the film presents a question of fact for the trier of the facts—court or jury—as to whether the film is obscene under standards that are permissible" under the recent U.S. Supreme Court obscenity decision.

Dillinger's 'Girl' Once With 'Mamas And Papas'

NEW YORK (AP) — Is it great gaiety of spirit, wonders Faye Dunaway? Sandy Dennis? Leslie Caron?

No, it's Michelle Phillips, not one of the three actresses most people mistake her for, and she's making her acting debut as Billie Frechette, John Dillinger's girlfriend in the new movie, "Dillinger."

Miss Phillips, who talks with whether her recognition quotient will change and hopes that success will strike again. Success means, she says, "that good scripts will come to me the same day they go to Candice Bergen and to Julie (Christie)." Success came once before, with the Mamas and the Papas, one of the first two big American rock groups to follow the British avalanche started by the Beatles. The group consisted of John Phillips and Michelle, who had been married eight years, and Denny Doherty and Cass Elliot. But only Mama Cass usually was recognized on the street.

WANTED TO ACT

"When the group broke up in 1968, I joined an acting workshop in Los Angeles. I knew that as far as the music royalty checks were then, they were not going to keep coming. I wanted to perform — doing something — and I always wanted to act when I was a little girl.

"All my actor friends told me that I should study acting. There were other people who said acting classes would destroy your natural charm and spontaneity and all that junk. I'm really glad I went to class. You do scenes and memory exercises and all sorts of things that help you achieve various emotional states and expressions. I'm still going.

Jack Nicholson and Dennis Hopper were in classes 10 years nearly, before they even got a part.

Mention of those two actors prompts discussion of romance and brings out the fact that the names Michelle Phillips contain double letters. "So do my first name, Holly, and my maiden name, Gilliam, and my daughter's name, Chynna Phillips — she's 5.

Even Hopper had two Ps in it. Dennis Hopper and I married each other for eight days. We're still friends.

'Romeo And Juliet' Is Booked At Cinema Here

Franco Zeffirelli's award-winning production of "Romeo and Juliet," one of the most acclaimed motion pictures of our time, returns on Wednesday at the Cinema Theatre.

"Romeo and Juliet" was greeted with international praise when it was first released and it made world-wide stars of its two young performers, Olivia Hussey and Leonard Whiting, who were the youngest performers ever to play the star-crossed lovers professionally.

Shakespeare's classic romance came to stunning visual life in a modern, young persons' interpretation bringing new vitality and a fresh insight to the most durable love story ever written. A BHE Film presented by Paramount Pictures, "Romeo and Juliet" broke box-office records wherever it played. It was chosen as the official presentation for the Royal Film Performance, the most important event in the annual social calendar of the British film industry, attended by Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II.

Zeffirelli's goal was to create this generation's definitive version of "Romeo and Juliet," retaining all the great scenes and speeches of Shakespeare's play, but translating much of the "stage traffic" into fast-moving screen action. The casting of such young stars was a daring experiment, but true to the essence of the story of vibrantly alive lovers, destroyed in a senseless war of their elders.

The film was honored with Golden Globe Awards in three major categories. It received four Academy Award nominations, including Best Film and Best Director, winning an Oscar for Lailo Donati's Best Costume Design.

The National Board of Review of Motion Pictures cited Zeffirelli as Best Director of the Year. Zeffirelli also won Italy's David de Donatello Award for his direction and award committees throughout the world presented citations to the film, its director and its young stars.

The soundtrack album containing Nino Rota's score and dialogue highlights was awarded a Gold Record, and remains one of Capitol Records' biggest-selling hits.

Milo O'Shea, Michael York, John McEnery and Pat Heywood also star in "Romeo and Juliet." The film, with a screenplay by Franco Brusati and Masolino D'Amico and produced by Anthony Havelock-Allan and John Barbourne in Technicolor.

"Romeo and Juliet" is now back, its eternal magic as timeless as its classic romance.

'Arena' Is MGM Project

"Arena" has been acquired by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer as one of the major productions on the 1973-74 schedule. It has been announced by Daniel Melnick, vice president-production. The contemporary action drama will be produced by Stephen Kandel, Bernard Rothman and Jack Wohl from their original screenplay.

Kandel, Rothman and Wohl have a long history of important credits in television, individually or collectively, as writers and producers, but "Arena" marks the team's feature film debut.

Kandel was story editor on "Mission: Impossible," and "The Magician." He developed several top-rated television series and as written for most major television shows.

Credits for Rothman and Wohl include the Burt Reynolds TV specials, Diana Ross Special, Bobby Gentry Special, Timex All-Star Swing Festival from Lincoln Center Special, Andy Williams Summer Show and the Judy Garland Show.

Airways Providing Tips On 'Low Life' In Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — Passengers flying Pan American Airways can pick up — at bookstores, Pan Am ticket offices and airport terminals — packets providing tips on prostitution in five major world cities.

The packets, bearing the blue and white insignia of Pan American, are not sold on the planes, a spokesman said.

Contained in each of the $4.95 travel packets are cards entitled "Low Life" that offer advice about the seamy and seductive sides of New York, London, Paris, Rome and Amsterdam.

Other cards in the packages list other tourist attractions in the cities.

TEMPTATION

The New York guide, called "Sidewalks of New York" says "the most stunning street creatures ($50) float along East 79th Street between Lexington and First Avenue."

"The sorriest numbers," it warns, "work lower Third Avenue below 14th Street and around the Port Authority on the West Side."

The Low Life guide for New York, which has been available for about a year, tells tourists in search of temptation about massage parlors, peep shows and pornographic movie houses.

Streetwalkers in London? "Yes, they do still exist — notably in Shepherd's Market, the Bayswater-Queensway area and Soho, but they're illegal, priced 10 to 20 pounds and tough as nails." The pound is worth $2.45.

NOT BRIGHT

Two of the better houses in Paris take reservations, the guide says. "The women tend to share the following characteristics — between 25-35 years old, very attractive, not bright, but socially acceptable in any company."

The price range is 300 francs to 2,000 francs, with 4.35 francs to the dollar.

On certain Parisian streets, "motorised maidens" will try to pick you up and the "the price of the girl is generally based on the model car she is driving," the card says.

Male prostitution is not mentioned in any of the cards.

More Papers Squeeze Use Of Newsprint

MONTREAL (AP) — Bad weather in forest lands, heavy worldwide demand and strikes at Canadian mills have combined to create newsprint shortages in Canada and the United States. Newspapers in both countries are conserving supplies.

Spokesmen for the Canadian industry say the tight world market for newsprint will probably continue for three or four years. And Canadian union officials say the strikes could spread if there is no major settlement soon.

Members of the United Paperworkers International Union and the Confederation of National Trade Unions have shut down four plants in Quebec belonging to Canadian International Paper and Price Co. Ltd. as well as a Canadian International Paper (CIP) mill in New Brunswick.

About 4,500 men are on strike at the Price and CIP mills. Another 15,000 union members, mostly in Ontario, have voted for a strike if negotiations fail. Louis Lorrain, Canadian director of the paperworkers' union, said there could be more strikes unless a major producer reaches a settlement soon.

The strikes come at a time when Canadian and American mills have been operating at or near capacity, and have reduced daily Canadian production from about 25,000 tons to 19,000 tons. The strike at the two companies which export 70 per cent of their product to the United States has reduced the daily shipment to American customers by about 4,200 tons.

The shortage, aggravated by strikes on Canada's railroads, has forced large and small newspapers in the United States and some in Canada to reduce newsprint usage and waste paper.

The papers have begun rationing advertising space, cutting back on the amount of news carried and eliminating special supplements. Customers of the struck mills are also turning to other producers.

Briscoe Speaker At Conference

Gov. Dolph Briscoe will be the keynote speaker at the 23rd Annual Texas Industrial Development Conference, according to Ron Mercer, member of the Texas Industrial Development Council from Big Spring.

The Conference, co-sponsored by the Industrial Economics Research Division of Texas A&M University and the Texas Industrial Development Council, will be held Thursday and Friday, Sept. 13-14, at the Ramada Inn in College Station, Tex. The theme for this year's conference will be "Economic Development Is No Spectator's Sport."

Speakers for the first session include William W. Erwin, Assistant Secretary for Rural Development, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. He will speak on the role of the Rural Development Act.

"Industry Seeks Profitable Locations," will be the subject of the next speaker, Bill O. Mead, Mead is Chairman of the Board of Campbell Taggart, Inc., Dallas.

The luncheon address for the Thursday session will be delivered by Foli J. Spencer, International Management Services, Houston.

TWO SESSIONS
After lunch, the Conference will feature two concurrent panel sessions. Moderator for the first panel will be Pledger B. Cate Jr., executive vice president, South Texas Chamber of Commerce, San Antonio. Panelists include Brookman Peters, president, City National Bank, Bryan; Paul D. Marable Jr., executive vice president, Waco Chamber of Commerce, Waco; Olin G. Humphries Jr., district manager, Industrial Development, Santa Fe Railway Company, Houston; and Joe Durham, director, Area Development, Central Power and Light Company, Corpus Christi. The subject for this panel will be "How We Can Help" and will deal with the role each company plays in Industrial Development.

The second panel will discuss "Recent Legislation Affecting the Economic Development and the Business Climate in Texas," and will be moderated by Harry W. Clark, vice president, Economic Development Department, First National Bank, Midland. Panel members will include Hugh C. Yantis Jr., executive director, Texas Water Quality Board, Austin; Charles R. Barden, executive secretary, Texas Air Control Board, Austin; and the Honorable William C. Meier, senator, State of Texas, Austin.

TO PRESIDE
The Thursday session will be concluded with a business meeting of the Texas Industrial Development Council and will be presided over by its president, Alf Jernigan. Jernigan is also executive vice president and general manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, Longview.

Friday morning, the conference will hear James H. Harwell, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission, Austin. He will discuss "New Programs Texas Industrial Commission." The next speaker will be Dr. Stanley A. Arbingast, director of the Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas at Austin. Dr. Arbingast will talk on "Growth Policy." The morning session will be concluded with an address by John J. McKetta, professor of Chemical Engineering, University of Texas at Austin, on the "Energy Crisis."

Closing the Conference will be the Annual Award Luncheon which will feature the presentation of the 1972 Award for the Volunteer Industrial Developer of the year. Master of ceremonies for the luncheon and presentation will be George McKinney, Community Development Consultant, Texas Power and Light Company, Dallas.

Six Flags' Daily Run Nears End

ARLINGTON — Six Flags Over Texas today begins its final week of daily operation for the 1973 season.

After Labor Day Six Flags will be open Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. The weekend schedule will be in effect through Dec. 2.

All the more than 95 rides, shows and attractions at Six Flags will be in full operation for the weekend openings.

Marked changes in landscape will give Six Flags a new look for fall. As cool weather approaches, the addition of more than 7,000 chrysanthemum plants will add a blaze of autumn color to the park.

Secret Affection?

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

PERSISTENT: (Q.) This boy calls me nearly every night. He likes me and asks me out, but I am not interested in him. He is not my type. He hardly ever takes a bath.

He has only a mother and she has four or five other kids too and they are on welfare. He has a job, but he wouldn't work if he didn't have to.

He thinks I'm his girl, but I'm not. He tells me everything about himself and wants to know everything about me. If I tell him where I'm going he'll be there when I get there. He makes it harder on me by reminding me that he quit drinking because he knew I didn't like it.

I hate to hurt anyone. How can I tell him I'm not his girl without hurting him.

My great-grandmother always said a person should always try to better himself — and I agree. — Hounded in Oklahoma

(A) You appear to be mixed up about this boy. Is it possible that you secretly like but don't want to admit it?

Look at it this way. He IS trying to improve himself by going out with you. He IS working. And he IS deeply devoted to you.

If you really do like him, you can educate him about baths and about making more interesting conversation.

If you really don't like him, you can tell him the truth in a kind way, and ask him to stay out of your life.
