DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Syrian secret police have secretly executed 42 army officers following an abortive attempt to assassinate President Hafez Assad, foreign diplomats in the Syrian capital report.

Syrian informants said 60 or so officers had disappeared after being arrested by the secret police, which is headed by Assad's brother, Col. Rifaat Assad.

The diplomats said the president was ambushed on July 12 as he was touring northern Syria. His car was riddled by bullets, and a report published in Beirut a week after said he was shot in the leg. Lebanese doctors who treated him at the time said they performed minor surgery to correct a leg inflammation.

The diplomats said the plotters were Sunni Moslems, the majority sect in Syria, who resented Assad's systematic promotion of Alawite Moslems to senior positions in the army. Assad is an Alawite, and the sect has come to dominate the ruling Baath Socialist party since he seized power in November 1971.

Along with the arrests, the Assad brothers were reported to have instituted a widespread purge of Sunni Moslems among junior officers. The diplomats said no senior officers have been reported implicated in the assassination attempt. But there was speculation that the defense minister, Gen. Mustafa Tlas, who is the only Sunni Moslem in the Baath hierarchy, might become vulnerable if the purge continues.

The Sunnis have been in opposition to Assad's regime since it made public a new non-sectarian constitution in March that did not designate Islam the state religion.

SKY-HIGH FOR FOOTBALL — Marvin Butts and Coleman Nalls of the Big Spring public school maintenance department occupy uneasy perches above Memorial Stadium while affixing loud speakers to the scoreboard — a sure indication that the 1973 Steer season is close at hand. Anyone for an Alley Oop pass!

HIT-AND-RUN OPERATIONS

Campaign Cash Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — The use of large amounts of cash for political contributions or to pay campaign expenses should be prohibited, says the head of the government's new federal elections unit.

"The most serious problem is cash," Phillip S. Hughes said in an interview discussing the experience of the Office of Federal Elections that has gained since the federal campaign election act went into effect last year.

Hughes' office, part of the General Accounting Office, administers provisions relating to record keeping and reporting in campaigns for president and vice president.

"There's nothing much you can do about (cash) unless someone starts talking," Hughes said. "The law should prohibit any significant cash receipts or expenditures."

Watergate investigations have brought widespread public attention to big transactions in currency during the 1972 presidential campaign, especially by the Committee to Re-Elect the President.

The Senate has passed a campaign practices bill that includes a $100 limit on cash contributions, but its fate is uncertain in the House.

Hughes estimated that he and his staff of about 30 are responsible for checking on some 2,000 registered political committees.

"Of course, a lot of the political committees are hit-and-run operations — many (George) McGovern people, for example, will probably never surface again," Hughes said. "But the party committees, the state central committees and the like are continuing."

GET SERIOUS

The permanent political organizations are likely to be more careful in their record-keeping and other practices now that GAO is looking into their books, he said.

"They'll get serious if they think we're serious . . ."

Hughes said most 1972 violations of the law were traceable to inexperience and sloppy record keeping, but "the best way to conceal skulduggery is not to keep good records . . . I cannot believe that with large amounts of loose cash floating around and with no good records kept some people weren't creaming it."

"We took the position that with amateurs running so many of the committees, violations would be a dime a dozen and we would be selective in referring them . . ." Hughes said. "We had 100,000 pages of records to review and you could probably find some kind of violation on each page."

A. F. Hill Back From El Paso

Howard Wayne Collins was brought back from Bowie on a warrant with a charge of theft by bailee and is in Howard County jail.

Dicky Joe Tindal, transferred from the city jail on a charge of driving while intoxicated was released at noon Tuesday on a $500 bond.

Good Report Is Made By Kirby

There were unofficial reports today that Kirby Oil No. 1 Anne Martin, nine miles northwest of Big Spring, had shows in the Spraberry. Shows were reported also in two other zones of this wildcat. It is located in C-SE-SE 44-33-1n, T&P.

Reports also indicated that the flow from the G. E. Kadane No. 1 Morgan Ranch, three miles southeast of Big Spring, were holding firm and that additional materials were being moved in.

Cattle Feeders Rap IRS Ruling

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has seriously threatened the cattle industry, cattle feeders say, by proposed disallowance of prepaid feed as a business deduction.

If feed is bought and paid for in one year but not consumed until the following year, it cannot be deducted when paid, the IRS says.

The Cattle Feeders Tax Committee, the American National Cattlemen's Association, and the National Livestock Tax Committee, after an emergency meeting here this week, said:

"This IRS action, if allowed to stand, will have nationwide repercussions on the cattle industry. In the long run, it will possibly reduce beef supplies and cause further increase in price to the consumer."

The IRS action was contained in a memorandum of technical advice from the national office of IRS to the Dallas district director and concerned limited partnerships operated by Western Beef Cattle Fund, Inc., of Amarillo.

May Seek Plans For Development Of Play Area

City Manager Harry Nagel revealed Tuesday that he has asked a planning firm member to submit a cost estimate on a possible master plan study for 80 acres of land recently acquired by the city.

To be used only for recreation purposes, the 80 acres of state land at the Big Spring State Hospital was leased earlier this month to the city.

City plans are to use 20 acres for a softball complex. Development of the rest of the land has not been outlined.

Several proposals, one by the Howard County Fair Association, have been aired, however, as to how the remaining 60 acres can be used.

Nagel said he has asked Dale Robinson of P & R Planning Associates, Austin, to prepare cost figures, expected to run under $5,000. Nagel noted that Robinson's firm specializes in master planning for parks and recreation purposes and does frequent business with governmental units.

Nixon Tapes Rule Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Office conversations had been ruled on whether President Nixon must turn over tape recordings demanded by Watergate prosecutors was expected today from a federal judge.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica's decision would wrap up the first round of a historic debate headed for the Supreme Court.

Nixon's lawyer, Charles Alan Wright, and his courtroom adversary, special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox, will influence government and the presidency for years to come.

Cox set the stage for the confrontation when he subpoenaed tapes of conversations between the President and a number of White House aides implicated in the Watergate scandal.

The Senate Watergate Committee, whose hearings produced the disclosure that Oval

Judge With Retarded Son To Chair Probe Of School

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Mental Health Commissioner David Wade announced Tuesday that a nine-member committee will investigate the recently criticized Austin State School.

State District Court Judge Herman Jones of Austin, father of a retarded child, will chair the committee, Dr. Wade said.

"FREE THE SLOW" — an organization of former employees of state schools for the retarded, has issued several statements criticizing the school during the past month. They have alleged a number of deaths under suspicious circumstances, contended staffing and facilities are inadequate to enable youngsters to develop and that experimental or unproven drugs have been used on students without their or their parents' consent.

A 14-year-old girl died at the school last week, apparently from strangulation after the ties on her nightgown were fastened to the back of her wheelchair to keep her from falling out.

"We know the school's good points, its needs and its problems," Wade said in a statement. "However, we want to test our knowledge and beliefs against those of a responsible, objective and knowledgeable committee in an effort to determine what improvements, changes or modifications are needed, if any."

HALF TRUTHS

He said allegations made about the school "are not based on facts but rather are enmeshed in innuendo, half-truths and distortion."

Wade said 11 persons died at the school during the past 12 months, or a rate of 5.5 per 1,000 residents.

"This is far below the national mortality rate for institutionalized residents. The national average is 19 deaths per 1,000 residents of institutions," he said.

VANDALISM

Mr. Mata called police at 3:47 p.m. to report that a large plate glass window at the old cleaners in College Park Shopping Center had been shot with a pellet or a BB gun.

Charlie Shuffler, 3703 Connally, reported at 6:11 a.m. today that his car had been taken for a joy ride and the right door window and glove compartment had been damaged.

County School Board Grants Pay Adjustment

The county school board met Tuesday afternoon in the chambers of County Judge A. G. Mitchell and granted the county school superintendent (an ex officio position) and assistant superintendent a 15 per cent salary increase in keeping with salary increases given recently to all county employees.

The budget approved for the year was identical to last year's budget other than the raises for the two officials. Judge Mitchell serves as county superintendent and Mrs. Billie Barron serves as assistant superintendent. Their total monthly salary now for this service is at $148.

The board also gave an official stamp of approval to the new proposed bus route for the Coahoma Independent School district.

HIRED BY TENNECO Tunnell Leaves Texas Oil Regulatory Agency

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Byron Tunnell leaves the Texas Railroad Commission with the "best wishes" of Gov. Dolph Briscoe, who will appoint Tunnell's successor on the oil and gas regulatory agency.

Tunnell said Tuesday he is resigning, effective Sept. 15, to go to work for Tenneco of Houston.

He has been on the three-member commission since January 1965 when he gave up a virtually certain second term as House speaker to accept Gov. John Connally's appointment.

Tunnell's decision cleared the way for Rep. Ben Barnes of De Leon, a close associate of Connally's, to clinch the speaker's job. Barnes had been collecting pledges in the event Tunnell quit.

At the time he accepted the commissioner's job, Tunnell also was rumored to be thinking of running for Texas attorney general. His closest friends said that had been his dream.

Tunnell, 47, succeeded Ernest O. Thompson, who was 72 and said to be in failing health. Tunnell was elected to a full six-year term in 1966 and re-elected last year.

This means his successor has five years left on the job, which pays $34,000 a year starting Saturday. The salary goes up to $35,500 Sept. 1, 1974.

Tunnell is a native of Tyler and attended public school there. He received his law degree from Baylor University in 1952. After private practice in Tyler and serving as assistant district attorney of Smith County, he was elected to the House in 1956.

"He has been a distinguished, able and effective public servant and, although I sincerely regret he is leaving government service, I extend to him my best wishes as he begins his new duties on Sept. 15," said Briscoe.

Briscoe's new appointee as commissioner will join former Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and former El Paso appeals judge Jim Langdon on the commission.

N. W. Freeman, Tenneco board chairman, said Tunnell will assume duties Sept. 16 as vice president in the company's governmental affairs department.

Tenneco is a Houston based multi-industry company with major interests in manufacturing, natural gas pipelines, oil, chemicals, packaging, agriculture and real estate.

ATTACK FIRST MATE Chinese Refuse To Leave Ship

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (AP) — Guardsmen came aboard and Tuesday the U.S. Immigration Service said the 10 crewmen had agreed to be returned to Hong Kong by plane.

CREW OF 27

But later Tuesday they said the crewmen refused to leave the ship. An immigration spokesman in Galveston said the crew members "are refusing to leave until they know if they'll be paid for the remaining three months or so of their work contract. They are remaining aboard ship."

Graham was flown by helicopter to the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in New Orleans for treatment following the incident. The ship carries a crew of 27, Croom said.

Croom said he had not contacted anybody on the ship, but said the crewmen probably feel they have a right to remain aboard until their contract dispute is settled.

"It is not unusual for them to remain aboard," he said.

A spokesman at the Coast Guard station in Galveston said early today a Liberian maritime official stationed in New York was due in today to try and mediate the dispute.

MUGGING

C. W. Croom of Houston, agent for the tanker MV Stolt Crown, said the trouble started Sunday when five Chinese crewmen attacked J. Edward Graham Jr., the British first mate, as the ship was on its way from New Orleans to the Galveston-Texas City area.

Five more crew members became involved in what Croom called "more of a mugging than a mutiny."

Will Try To Halt Census Patronage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Les Aspin says he's about to try to halt political patronage hiring at the Census Bureau, a policy that officials say dates back to 1790.

Director Vincent P. Barbara confirmed in a letter released Tuesday by the Wisconsin Democrat that Republicans now get first choice for census interviewer jobs under "long-standing tradition" because theirs is the party in power.

Aspin said he will introduce a bill to outlaw the practice when Congress reconvenes next week.

He called it "an example of oldtime cronyism and a rotten spoils system that must be put to an immediate halt."

Associate Director Paul R. Squires estimated about half the present 2,500 census interviewers—the number went to nearly 185,000 for the 1970 census—were recommended for the jobs by their political parties.

He said they are not fired and replaced when the presidency changes hands.

$1 MILLION A YEAR Briscoe May Ring Up Saving For Taxpayers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A committee on appropriations, backed down and will permit time payments on the installation charge and periodic billings on the operating charges so existing appropriations could pay for TEX-AN.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. had insisted on immediate payment of a $170,000 installation charge and a separate budget item for the $350,000 monthly operating charge. Stallings said.

Briscoe didn't need it, but he sought the board's approval to win the cooperation of state agencies in the proposed TEX-AN system, said his executive assistant, Charles Purnell.

GO AHEAD

Purnell said the agencies would hesitate to join the system linking all state government offices from El Paso to Beaumont "if they feel the legislature is opposed to it."

"Your recommendation would cause the governor and the agencies to go ahead and put the money into it," Purnell said.

Rex Stallings, director of Briscoe's Office of Information Services, joined Purnell in seeking approval of the board, which includes Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker Price Daniel Jr. and legislative fiscal committee chairmen.

With TEX-AN, scheduled to go into operation Jan. 1, a state worker in any area of the state can pick up a telephone and call anywhere in or out of Texas, toll-free.

The state would pay a flat $350,000 a month.

Stallings noted that while the board had recommended funds for the phone system earlier this year, they were left out of the general appropriation bill that finally passed the legislature.

VALUABLE COIN IS STOLEN

A single penny can be worth a lot of dollars, police learned today when Mrs. Lena Polacek, 1101 1/2 E. 6th, reported theft of a large 1848 copper valued up to $500.

She said the valuable coin was taken from her home. Also missing was an Indian head penny worth up to several hundred dollars, she said. Thieves made off with $4 of pennies from a piggy bank, plus a digital clock valued at $50.

Motor Freight Company Will Undertake Survey

Admitting their company has been derailed in its authorized service to Big Spring, representatives of the East Texas Motor Freight System promised today to conduct a survey of the market here and do "everything in our power" to adequately serve local business.

The meeting this morning was called by Jack Gulley, chairman of a Chamber of Commerce group set up to solve motor carrier service problems here. ETMF representatives had been absent at a like meeting last week of Chamber members and three other local carriers.

Mike Wallace and H. E. Speer, ETMF regional managers, pledged to conduct the survey of existing and potential freight volume in and out of Big Spring after the 10 businessmen present squarely confronted them with complaints of poor service, some calling it "nonexistent service."

Chief among these complaints was that of long delay in getting freight shipped by ETMF into Odessa from Odessa to Big Spring. Tom Cain, president of Cain Electrical Supply, told the ETMF men that he has led a campaign to keep shippers back east from utilizing ETMF to carry goods bound for Big Spring.

Speer, Houston regional manager, and Wallace, El Paso manager, confessed that the company has neglected and even forgotten Big Spring which it has a permit to serve and added that they were not even aware of the problems faced by local businessmen.

"Communication has been our biggest problem. We've found it very prevalent in our own company," said Speer.

Asked by Arnold Marshall, Chamber member, to consider reinstating a truck terminal in Big Spring as the old Sunset carrier had in years past, Speer said he could make no promises but that he would talk with company management about it and other possible means of providing more adequate service here.

With the businessmen seeming agreed that Merchants Fast Freight Motor Lines is the only carrier among the several authorized which is truly serving Big Spring, Gulley said another carrier is needed here for competition.

"The second carrier that comes into Big Spring is going to do more business than he ever anticipated because everyone here has indicated they don't want to be married to just one company," said Marshall.

Ralph McLaughlin, chairman of the Chamber Community Development Council, added that adequate carrier service must be promoted here in order to keep existing industry and attract others.

Council Eyes New Purchases

A meeting of the City Commission was called this morning for 2 p.m. today to discuss recent purchase of some $9,900 worth of equipment for the new city garage.

Formal bid openings before the Commission were never held and several members said they were unaware of the purchases until yesterday.

A new state law reportedly allows cities to purchase without formal bid openings anything under $3,000. Previously, the cut-off had been at $2,000.

As the largest expenditure in the $9,900 was $2,400 for a power truck tire changer, discussion today was expected to focus on application of the new law.

Commissioners had earlier budgeted $110,000 for the new garage and equipment for it with permission reportedly given to one commissioner to oversee the equipment purchases. Max Pitts, garage superintendent, is expected to be present at today's session.

The meeting is open to the public.

Inexcusable Policy

Conduct of Soviet soldiers and citizens during the recent World University Games in Moscow shows clearly that anti-Semitism still flourishes in the Soviet Union.

As the Israeli basketball team played Puerto Rico, Red Army soldiers ripped up an Israeli flag held by Soviet Jews. Some of the crowd shouted "Kikes, kikes."

Other Soviet soldiers, supposedly in charge of crowd control, jeered and whistled at the Israeli athletes. This was the third straight game in which soldiers were used to harass the team.

Such boorish behavior by military men has to be endorsed by the government. They are an instrument of an anti-Jewish, anti-Israel policy. The actions also are a violation of the supposedly international spirit of the games.

The harassment of both Soviet Jews and Israeli athletes is but one example of why so many Jews want to leave the Soviet Union and move to Israel.

During Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev's June visit to the United States, he claimed that 97 per cent of the Jews who have applied for exit visas are being allowed to leave.

The repulsive "exit tax," which forced Jews wanting to leave to pay often exorbitant sums to "reimburse" the Soviet government for their education has been suspended, thanks mainly to American and world pressure.

But what Brezhnev did not say is that many Jews who apply for exit visas immediately lose their jobs and housing. They are forced to depend on relatives, friends or underground organizations during their often long wait for visa approval.

Anti-Semitism is not new in the Soviet Union, nor is it peculiar to that country. But there are sound reasons to believe that Russia still makes it a conscious national policy, and that is inexcusable.

Something To Be Learned

Should tricycles, at least as they have been traditionally known, be abolished? No minor saga, the battle of tricycle design versus the new Consumer Products Safety Commission takes on wide-ranging possibilities.

Behind the story is the fact many children tend to fall off tricycles or upset while riding them, not exactly news to parents. Some of these children are hurt. The commission believes it can rectify the problem by redesigning the tricycle in such a way these accidents will be minimized.

An interesting counter-argument has arisen, and it is not limited to advocates from the toy industry. The basic theme is that all children need a certain quantity of bumps and falls to teach them the dangers of uncautious behavior.

In short, if a 5-year-old doesn't learn how to balance himself on a tricycle, or learn to slow down while turning a corner, how well prepared will he be to ride a bicycle or drive a car? The argument contains some sense, especially when weighed against the commission's reasons for redesigning.

"All units of traditional design are capable of being rolled over at reasonable speeds and steering angles," the commission report said.

The same might be said of any vehicle, if the driver never learned what caution and driving according to conditions are all about.

Banking Insight

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Kids have a way of saying things that confounds the gifted phrase makers. They unabashedly get to the heart of the matter, or, in their refreshingly uninhibited way, confess their awe or confusion.

BEN STEWART, writing in the Burroughs "Clearing House" magazine, shares a number of jewels of reaction of his elementary school pupils over exposure to films and studies about banking.

Banking is beyond me, anyhow, so I feel a kindred spirit with the youngster who wrote that "ideas about automation in banks have advanced to the point where they are no longer understandable." Another observed that "banks cash checks. Maybe they loan money, too. I do not know. It takes all my knowing to know that banks cash checks."

HOW COME banks? Well, one explained this way: "Banks are the main by products of money."

Impressed by the ponderous vault, another wrote: "A bank safe is so big and bulky it is really not good for anything but being a bank safe."

PUZZLED OVER titles, one observed that "tellers could just as well be called something else if we could only think of a better name for them." A companion offered that "tellers are the same as bank clerks, only just the opposite." Impressed by what the teller has to do, still another penned this: "What my job would actually be as a bank teller has a very short memory in my mind."

I have a deep sympathy for this child, who noted: "I looked up the earnings range of a bank clerk twice, but I forgot it three times."

ANOTHER WAS baffled. Said she: "Correct my being wrong but tell me true or false. Do banks ever borrow money from each other? I wrecked my brain trying to think if they do."

If I thought that newspapers are the only source of settling arguments, I was wrong. This case in point: "Can you tell me how often banks pay interest on money? I said twice a year, my friend said four times a year, and I said twice, and he said four times, and I said twice, and so on. So can you tell us? Oh well, thanks anyway." And there's the one who volunteered that "one of my idiot friends thinks that the government sometimes takes money and just burns it up. Please write back to me about it so I can say THERE to him."

THE AWESOMENESS of exposure to the mysteries of banking was expressed by this one: "When I learned we were going to see a movie about all the big machines that banks use, I told my feet to quiet down, but they felt too Saturday to listen." So you can understand why one wrote that "I always wanted to work for a bank, but not very much." But a colleague added. Actually, working in a bank is very interesting work, if you happened to be interested in it.

One was sold on the profession, however, observing that "When I think about making money just working in a bank, I get joy feels all over."

Red Ink Flooding Street

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The inability of the brokerage community to break with the past, despite assurances from members that the easy, mutually beneficial old club atmosphere has been eliminated, is demonstrated in current hearings.

Clearly agitated by the flood of red ink once again flowing through the nation's financial districts, James Needham, New York Stock Exchange chairman, pleaded before the Securities and Exchange Commission for higher commissions.

A FIXED RATE increase for all amounting to 10 per cent on orders up to $5,000 and 15 per cent on orders above that amount would be needed, he said, or else the small investor would be denied services.

This request is odder than it might seem, akin to General Motors and Chrysler and Ford seeking permission to raise car prices by the same amount to save their industry, or to keep one of them from faltering.

The car makers don't do that, of course, because one and all would accuse them of mutual handholding, of collusion for their own special reasons. And why, asked the SEC, should the securities industry attempt that route?

IN THEORY, at least, the American system, which Wall Street claims to sell, is continually renewed by the success of the most productive and the removal of the least competitive. But not on The Street.

Based on SEC testimony, it is evident that, in the securities industry, the survival of the fittest has been subordinated by the concept of class survival. At the moment, Needham suggested, competition would be dead.

Even without it, there is a haunting fear of death on Wall Street and its counterparts. Many firms are in a precarious position, and some deaths and a few mergers seem imminent.

Sixty-eight New York Stock Exchange firms are under surveillance because if finances. The Securities Investor Protection Corp. is liquidating 87 other firms, although only one is a member of the Big Board.

EVEN SOME of the larger houses that are well capitalized and not in any fear of extinction are bleeding badly. Paine, Lober, Jackson & Curtis this week reported a one-quarter loss of $1.25 million. Shearson, Hamill and others are laying off help.

If there is a scapegoat, it is the investor. If only those investors who stormed brokers a few years ago would return to the market there would be enough commissions for both the weak and the strong.

And so the solution is to raise commissions in an attempt to save both the weak and strong.

This technique, free enterprises believe, is what drives buyers away.

Success Story

Hal Boyle

SUN CITY CENTER, Fla. (AP) — Every year thousands of young people from all over America migrate to New York City, hoping to find fame or fortune in the nation's largest metropolis.

Jerry Gould, a native New Yorker, reversed the trend. He left Manhattan because he could no longer stand it, found opportunity in Florida, and now is one of the country's larger home builders.

"I simply got tired of being pushed about and intimidated in New York," he remarked. "The people who like it feel it is the best place in the world to be, but I feel sorry for them."

"There are a lot of cultural advantages in the big city, but I resent the fact that most of the people who live there don't make enough money to enjoy them. Unless you have money in New York, where's the fun?"

"That isn't true in Florida, and other parts of the country. Here you don't have to be rich to play a little golf, go fishing, or just sit and enjoy the climate."

It wasn't sour grapes that led Jerry, who had spent three years in the Army during World War II as a medical technician aboard a hospital ship, to pull up stakes and move south in 1950.

He was a highly successful advertising salesman in Manhattan and had saved up enough money to buy a partnership in his father's retail clothing firm in Miami. Within a short time he also had become a partner in a leading advertising firm and then entered the booming land development field in 1955.

Since then he has built 6,000 homes in Florida and elsewhere.

A pioneer in obtaining legislation to outlaw shady land sale schemes, he prefers the role of "community developer" rather than that of a promoter merely selling land on the installment plan.

He and a partner designed and built Lehigh Acres, a community of some 15,000 people 13 miles from Fort Myers.

But Jerry expects Sun City Center here to be his real life monument in community development. As president of the W. G. Development Corp., he bought the 2,000-acre site from the Del E. Webb Corp., founder of Sun City, Ariz. The site has since been enlarged to 11,000 acres, and by 1980 Gould expects 30,000 people will be living there in three adjoining communities.

"That's far enough, I feel, to project for the future," said Jerry. "Theoretically, we have room to put 60,000 residences here and a population of 150,000 persons."

Then he added candidly: "But I'm 49 now, and I may not live to see it."

At present Sun City Center is largely a retirement town limited to residents aged 50 or over, where children under 18 can come only as visitors. Later segments appealing to younger family groups are planned, as well as an area for small ranch estates.

The developers also hope to draw residents from such nearby cities as Tampa, Sarasota and St. Petersburg.

"I enjoy them," he acknowledged. "New York is a great place to visit, but —" His shrug finished the sentence.

New Role

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Having supplied the creativity, the imagination and the skill in the conduct of foreign policy for four years, Henry A. Kissinger is moving into the top job as Secretary of State. From mastermind behind the screen of executive privilege to the exposed position in the No. 1 cabinet post, the transition will not be easy.

HIS FRIENDLY relationship with Chairman J. William Fulbright and other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee would seem to insure his quick confirmation by the Senate. And as the President pointed out, that is important because of Kissinger's travel plans. He had hoped to go to Peking sometime during the first two weeks of September for a session with the leaders of the People's Republic, thereby continuing his friendship with premier Chou En-lai.

But when he comes up for his confirmation hearing, there is one hurdle he will have to clear in view of the fact that he will continue to be personal adviser to the President as well as Secretary of State. Can he claim executive privilege for his discussions with the President at the same time that, as secretary, he must testify before committees of Congress?

THIS IS what some senators on the Foreign Relations Committee will want to know from Kissinger when he comes before them. The feud over executive privilege has been the source of rancor and resentment.

Another looming question mark will be the nature of the No. 2 man in the department. Kissinger has administered his small apparatus in the National Security Council as a stern taskmaster. So stern in demanding a 14-hour day and unquestioning obedience, he has alienated able men who could not, or would not, keep up that pace.

The huge bureaucracy at stake cannot be administered that way. The plain truth, as those who know him well and admire him greatly are frank to say, Henry is not an administrator. That means his deputy secretary must have full authority to carry out Kissinger's over-all directives on personnel and policy.

MORALE in the department and in the foreign service has slumped badly as Secretary Rogers seemed again and again to be superseded by the President's adviser on national security. Able foreign service officers with invaluable experience have resigned, to the loss of the service and the nation. One reason was the increasing number of ambassadorial posts filled by political appointees who were big contributors to Republican campaigns. Today in the capitals of Western Europe only two minor ambassadorial posts are held by career officers.

THE DRAMA of Kissinger's appointment is in itself extraordinary. In 1953, he was one of the small number of Jewish refugees to escape Hitler's cause. He has said that 11 members of his family were liquidated by the Nazis. It is a grim past that must always be present in his memory as he moves through the corridors of power.

The consequences of Watergate and the threat of disruption of the initiatives taken so successfully with China and the Soviet Union have greatly depressed him.

BUT HE has a flexible spirit and, above all, a superb sense of humor. He will need all resources of his remarkable mind, a genius really, and his resilient spirit, as he walks a narrow path between the thunder of a critical Congress and the sun of his patron and friend, the President.

Treating Amebic Dysentery

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband, now 71, has had amebic dysentery off and on at various intervals, for 20 years.

While doctors recognize it as amebic dysentery, they don't seem to know how to conquer it. At one time he took three bottles of parogoric without success. Could you recommend anything for it? — Mrs. H.J.D.

Amebic dysentery (also called amebiasis) is diarrhea, either mild or severe, resulting from a microorganism (ameba) in the intestinal tract.

You don't mention how long since your husband has been treated; it may well be that some of the effective drugs have been developed since the last time he was treated.

As to parogoric, it may subdue the diarrhea and pain but it does nothing toward getting rid of the ameba, and

My friend is very upset. She claims her friend's husband is a surgeon and won't allow his wife to undergo this type of operation, and is definitely against this type of surgery. Is there any way to pass the stones? She claims there is. — Mrs. M.T.

My advice is to ignore what somebody's friends husband is supposed to have said. The average stone will not pass. Tiny ones may and cause great pain.

Twenty years is a long time to struggle with this ailment; it may only result in recurrent diarrhea, but it occasionally can spread to other organs, so it is wise to repeat treatment until it is cured.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am scheduled for gall bladder surgery. I have had stones and several attacks.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

This is a plea for help. I'm 16, and I no longer believe in God. I think the devil is trying to possess me. Sometimes it appears I'm losing my sanity, because of these weird thoughts. I want to die. Love, Diane

Not too many of the questions I receive are signed with the word "love."

Yours is, and it gives me a ray of hope. Since love comes from God, you have not yet lost all touch with reality, nor with the power of spiritual truth. There's still hope, and you must breathe any thought of suicide, because that is the answer to nothing.

God loves you! That's the whole message through the Bible, and the great promise of the Gospel. He has a purpose and a plan for your life, that will even give you a zest for living.

Now about satanic possession. It's no secret that Satan roams the earth seeking souls to capture. That's the revelation of Peter in his first epistle, chapter 5. Of course, he's trying to possess you, but God is more powerful! No matter how far you've let him go, faith can terminate his control, and as the hymn suggests "set the prisoner free."

Do what Jesus did at the outset of His ministry. When Satan made his improper suggestion, Christ simply countered with a command, "get thee behind me Satan." Your faith and Christ's power can produce the same result now.

A Devotion For Today . . .

When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father, which is in secret. (Matthew 6:6)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, search my heart. When you find something that should not be there, show me. Then help me to get rid of that sin so that I can live fully for You. Amen.

KISS CLASH: (Q) My stepfather almost killed me when he found out I French-kissed boys. What is so bad about that. Most of my friends are boys. When they call now he won't let them talk to me. I can't go on living this way. — 13 in Indiana.

(A) I agree with your stepfather that at your age you should not be experimenting with French kissing. It excites boys (sometimes girls too) and is likely to lead to other things you are not ready for.

You do not say what your stepfather did, or whether your mother knows about all this. Talk to her in detail about all that happened, including both the kissing and the discipline. She needs to know.

SUDDEN: (Q) This is it. Marcia and I got to be good friends in school last year. At the end of school there was a picnic. I asked her to go with me. She said yes. We had fun like we had been going together forever. We had a couple more dates and I asked her to be my girl friend. She said she would. We had some more dates and some more fun.

Last week I went to her house for dinner. I thought I did OK. But the next day Marcia's girl friend called and said Marcia wanted to break up with me. I asked to talk to Marcia and she told me it wasn't anybody else, and she liked me, but she didn't want to go out with me anymore.

Hunting Sex Slay Suspect

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Officers sought today a 33-year-old Silsbee man charged in the sex slaying of a young woman stuffed in a refrigerator.

A warrant was issued Monday in Justice of the Peace Mike Westergren's court for John Kenneth Robinson.

The nude body of Juanita Graciola de la Torre Ramirez was found Sunday in a refrigerator at a motel room police said was being rented by Robinson.

Medical examiners said Mrs. Ramirez died from asphyxiation and was already dead when she was put in the refrigerator. They said possible causes of death include strangulation, a pillow over the face or a gag. They estimated the victim had been dead a week.

Chief Medical Examiner Joseph Rupp referred to the slaying as a "brutal sex crime." Police reported the refrigerator was still running. Shelves had been removed so that the body would fit, police said, and a table was propped against the refrigerator door.

Robinson had been employed for the past few weeks as a truck driver's helper by a local firm.

Odessa OKs Sales Tax

ODESSA — By a 2-1 margin Tuesday Odessa voters approved a one-cent city sales tax offered by city officials as an alternative to higher property taxes.

The new tax measure passed in all voting boxes garnering a total of 3,899 for while 2,107 voted against.

Mayor Jim Reese had campaigned for the new levy, which will affect visitors to the city as well as Odessans, to fill the half-million dollar gap between expected revenues and spending for the next fiscal year.

While city officials had predicted a record turnout, only 6,006 voters went to the polls as compared with 8,408 who voted in April 1968 in a hot race for mayor.

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right — 20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "full" — no starvation — because the diet is designed that way. It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home. (Not the grapefruit diet!)

This is, honestly, a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $3.00 ($3.25 for Rush Service) — cash is O.K. — to: NOR-CAL Products, P.O. Box 894, Cupertino, CA 95014. Don't order unless you want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do. c 1972

ANNIVERSARY ROSES — Women who attended the 53rd anniversary rally of women's suffrage in the United States threw long-stemmed red roses on a statue of 19th century suffragettes Monday inside the Capitol at Washington, D.C. About 200 persons attended the rally which was held on the Capitol steps.

'Gutsy' Honors Given To Feminist Leaders

By The Associated Press
Feminists staged demonstrations and fairs, conducted church services and honored their greats during "Equality Day" activities marking the 53rd anniversary of women's suffrage.
Seneca Falls, N.Y., site of the first women's rights convention 125 years ago, saw an elaborate ceremony Sunday to induct the first 200 members of the new Women's Hall of Fame.

"Great Guts" awards were presented in Los Angeles at a combined picnic, fair and demonstration sponsored by the National Organization for Women.
The awards honored women including Billie Jean King, the tennis star; Olga Connolly, the former Olympic athlete; Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., and singer Helen Reddy, who created something of a feminist anthem with her rendition of "I Am Woman."

In Washington, a women's fair continued in a park near the White House and a rally was set for today on the steps of the Capitol.
A Catholic feminist group demonstrated outside St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York to protest inclusion in the day's liturgy of a verse by St. Paul, Ephesians 5:22, saying: "Wives should be submissive to their husbands as if to the Lord."

Also in New York, a group called Lesbian Feminist Liberation converged on the American Museum of Natural History with a 20-foot long, lavender-painted "female" dinosaur made of paper-mache.

The day marked the signing Aug. 26, 1920, of the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, giving women the right to vote. But a number of activities focused attention on the pending equal rights amendment intended to wipe out all discrimination against women.

In Cincinnati, bicyclists and roller skaters wheeled around Fountain Square in a "Ride for Rights." Feminists designated "Giant Step Backwards" awards for those they blamed for blocking ratification of the amendment in Ohio.

Women ministers led a feminist service at Trinity Methodist Church in Atlanta. At Christ Congregational Church in Princeton, N.J., there were readings from "The Women's Bible," written in the 1890s under the direction of Elizabeth Cady Stanton.
And "Roast chauvinist pig" was the main dish at a picnic held at Rock Springs, north of Orlando, Fla.

A feminist author charged that opponents of women's rights have used "Watergate-type sabotage" against the women's movement.

Betty Friedan spoke to the 200 persons attending. They placed red roses at a statue of three of the suffrage movement's most famous leaders — Susan B. Anthony, Lucretia Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton.

The group endured smoggy 91-degree heat listening to almost an hour of speeches outside the Capitol.

Mrs. Friedan said those seeking to prevent

Rainbow Girls Gain Members

Miss Darla Morrell and Miss Janet Hull were initiated in the Order of Rainbow for Girls, ceremony No. 60, during a ceremony Tuesday evening at the Masonic Hall. It was announced that members of the assembly will sell programs at Big Spring High School football games again this year. Members of the advisory board will operate a concession stand.

Miss Zina Johnston Johnson, faith, urged all members to collect more hoisery for the assembly drive. Miss Rhonda Riley, hope, asked members to collect more postage stamps for an assembly project.
Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Noel Hull. Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. L. Segrest.

ratification of the federal Equal Rights Amendment had used "Watergate-type sabotage against the women's movement, which lent its backing to the measure. She cited no names.
She said that after women's groups emerged as a significant political factor, "we had saboteurs, stolen lists, doctored records, whole bundles of dirty tricks."
"Meetings in state after state were immobilized or disrupted by a strange pattern, which sowed suspicion, alienation, polarization, paralyzed leadership, prevented action from taking place," she said.

"I called it at the time an 'invisible brake' and before we knew about Watergate it made no political sense," she said.
"Red herrings were used to keep the movement from focusing on women's power in the mainstream."
John Gardner, chairman of Common Cause, a citizen action group, said the Equal Rights Amendment is essential to end discrimination. He said he was confident of its ratification because it has "developed a genuinely broad base of political support."
The amendment has been approved by 30 of the 38 states necessary for ratification.

Thoughtful Guy

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are contemplating a divorce. She is 40, I am 38, and we have five children. I am in love with another woman and want to marry her, but I will not leave my wife until I am sure she has somebody else. She knows all about my situation.
Even though I don't love my wife, I want her to be happy. She is blond, attractive, 5 foot 8 and weighs 115. Money is not a problem. I intend to support her and the children, but I'd feel much better if she had a man. We've been the route of ministers and family counselors, and now I think a professional matchmaker or computer-dating service is in order. Who locates prospective husbands for single women?
NO NAME IN N.Y.
DEAR NO NAME: I don't. Your concern for your wife is commendable, but have you discussed this with her? Is she interested in another husband? If she is, does she want to go the computer or matchmaking route? I'd like to hear her side of it. She may not be programmed to follow your plan.

stepped on a mine in Vietnam. The mother said her daughter was beautiful, and could just as easily have married "a whole man."
I am sure many people think my husband could have married "a whole woman" instead of me. You see when I was 3, my brother shot me through the head with a 22 rifle. Thank God I am still alive, although my left side is paralyzed.
I can walk, and do anything any other woman can do. But best of all, a wonderful man thought I was "whole" enough to marry. He is handsome, kind, and faithful, and he treats me like a queen. We've been happily married for 10 years. I still can't believe my good luck. Sign me.
FREDDY'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: You said, "Fred found sex in the outhouse, and brought it into the living room."
I always wondered what ailed Dr. Freud. Now, I know. Imagine, anyone looking for sex in an outhouse!
DEAR JAMES: I didn't say Freud LOOKED for it there. I said that's where he FOUND it.
DEAR ABBY: Cold chills ran up my spine when I read the letter from that heartbroken mother, whose daughter, a nurse, was marrying an amputee. (He lost both his legs when he

Modesto Victim Of No-Hitter

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — San Jose righthander Ray Brown pitched a perfect game in a 3-0 victory Tuesday night over Modesto, the first in 31 years of California League play.

Rangers End Orioles' 14-Game Win Streak

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — There were so many streaks stacked against the Texas Rangers, it was almost inevitable that the law of averages had to overtake the Baltimore Orioles and pitcher Dave McNally.

By defeating the Orioles 5-3 Tuesday night, as Bill Sudakis and Toby Harrah knocked in two runs apiece, the Rangers streaked against Texas at nine in a row.

LONG ODDS — "With all that going against us, I used a pitcher who was making his first major league start," Texas Manager Whitey Herzog said.

HURT LAST YEAR — Washington, 28, is a seven-year veteran and a former first round draft choice.

NEWLY NAMED — Newly named head coach John North of New Orleans made it clear that he won't be transforming the Saints, 2-11-1 last year, into immediate winners.

THE MIAMI DOLPHINS dealt defensive tackle Mike Kadish to the Buffalo Bills for veteran center-guard Ira Goods.

BULLINGTON and offensive backfield coach Red Sign are working with junior two-year letterman Clint Longley of Littleton, Colo., sophomore transfer Raymond Copher of Mineral Wells and freshman redshirt Jim Reese of Abilene High as quarterback.

LONGLEY, a 6-1, 190-pounder, ranked 10th in the nation in passing last fall. He led the Southland Conference in passing and total offense in 1972.

However, he points to better team speed, quickness, size and mobility in predicting ACC's first year in the Lone Star Conference to be perhaps its best since the 9-2-0 team of 1970.

Stukes Acquired By Los Angeles — Fullerton, Calif. (AP) — Veteran defensive back Charlie Stukes has been acquired by the Los Angeles Rams from the Minnesota Vikings for an undisclosed National Football League draft choice.

Carlen Lauds Wilson Knack For Direction

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Tom Wilson is an instinctive gambler. Get him down just one hole in a golf match and it's an automatic press.

And he would just as soon call a quarterback draw on fourth and six as he would call for the bomb with his team leading late in the game. He's done both with success.

So what is Wilson doing calling plays at Texas Tech for one of college football's more conservative head coaches, Jim Carlen?

"Tom Wilson is simply the best (coach) I have ever had at calling plays," Carlen says.

Wilson, a former Texas Tech quarterback, is an intelligent, high-strung guy who can pick a defense apart like few coaches in any grade of football. He takes risks but they are calculated from studying reels of film hour after hour.

"I'm a gambler," Wilson admits. "You can call it gut instinct but it offsets some of Jim's tendencies to be conservative. It lets us open up when it looks like we should be conservative and surprises the other team."

For example, Tech was leading Southern Methodist 10-7 last year with third and three on the Mustang 42 with less than two minutes to play.

High in the Cottonbowl press box, Wilson called down and said, "They'll have all 11 people jammed in there. If we run, it will be stopped. We'll have to punt. Let's go for it all."

Against the Texas Aggies on what proved to be the winning touchdown drive late in the game, Wilson called for a quarterback draw on fourth and sixth at the A&M 25.

Carlen got on the phone. "Jim disagreed at first. But he stuck with the call and Barnes got eight yards," Wilson said. "Jim has yet to over-rule me on a call."

Nitschke Hangs Up Tack At Green Bay

Ray Nitschke's eyes were filled with tears. He had lost the battle with age—a more determined foe than any lineman he had faced in his 15-year National Football League career.

There was only one regret for the 36-year-old veteran, "I wish I could turn the clock back to 1958 and become a Packer all over again."

READY TO HELP — "I've been prepared for this for the last month or so—even when camp started," Nitschke said.

THE CALL NEVER came. Packer coaches had to concern themselves with Jim Carter, Nitschke's replacement since 1971.

Al Worthington, who has been pitching coach for the last two seasons, had indicated three weeks ago that he was considering moving in a new direction in his career.

Called up Tuesday were infielder Fernando Gonzalez, outfielder Dave Augustine and catcher third-base man Jim Campanis.

ACC'S Speed Is Lauded — ABILENE — It shouldn't be surprising to most Abilene Christian College football followers, but all three quarterbacks are throwing well in 1973 pre-season workouts.

WORTHINGTON and offensive backfield coach Red Sign are working with junior two-year letterman Clint Longley of Littleton, Colo., sophomore transfer Raymond Copher of Mineral Wells and freshman redshirt Jim Reese of Abilene High as quarterback.

Longley, a 6-1, 190-pounder, ranked 10th in the nation in passing last fall. He led the Southland Conference in passing and total offense in 1972.

KNUCKLE DOWN TO WORK — Tuesday evening's football rally in Memorial Stadium attracted an army of ice-cream eaters, lured there on invitations extended by the Quarterback Club. The estimated 1,200 spectators, after eating, saw the Big Spring Steers in an extended workout climaxed by a scrimmage. At the left, coach Larry Horton hands the ball off to a ball carrier. The younger Longhorns gather around their coaches for some instructions in the center picture. At the right, QB Tom Sorley looks downfield for a passing target after the varsity troops took the field for a drill in battle dress. QBC officials estimate they handed out

1,400 cups of ice cream. Mothers and friends of players brought the delicacy to the field in about 75 freezers. (Photos by Donny Voloes)

'Hit-And-Hope' Hitter Leads Corsair Surge

By The Associated Press
You must be kidding, Al Oliver, who usually boasts that he's the "greatest" and exudes immodest self-assurance, was not so positive Tuesday night despite the big blow. "I'm not a home run hitter," said Oliver. "I'm a hard-rocket hitter. If I was paid for line dollar, I'd be the first million dollar player in baseball."

NOT SO POSITIVE
"I hit and hope for the best," said Oliver after hitting a home run to start the Pirates to an 8-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Long known for his swaggering confidence, the Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder admitted Tuesday night that he's a "hit-and-hope" hitter.

The homer not only got the Pirates going, it kept them coming in the National League

East race. They kept the pressure on front-running St. Louis and remained two games behind as the Cardinals beat the Houston Astros 8-3.

In the other National League games, the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the San Francisco Giants 1-0; the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Montreal Expos 6-1; the New York Mets turned back the San Diego Padres 8-6, and the Chicago Cubs trimmed the Atlanta Braves 9-6.

WITH CHANGE-OVER Foster Stymies Houston, 8-3

HOUSTON (AP) — St. Louis Cardinal pitcher Alan Foster says he made a minor change in his pitching motion but it had a major effect on the Houston Astros.

After a momentary lapse in the second inning when the Astros scored all three of their runs, Foster cuffed the Astros with six hits and held St. Louis to a 8-3 victory in the Astro dome.

"I just made a minor change in my pitching motion," said Foster, now 11-6. "I usually throw mostly cross-body but I straightened out my motion toward the batter and it's taken the strain off my arm."

Houston got half of its total hit production in the second inning when Bob Gallagher's double produced two runs and John Edwards got a run-scoring single.

"They were just getting some hits off good pitching," explained Manager Red Schoendienst. "Alan has been pitching very well for us."

Foster's teammates gave him plenty of offensive help including a solo homer by former Astro Tommie Agee in the fifth inning.

The Cards scored four runs off loser Jerry Reuss in the fourth inning on a two-run single by Lou Brock, single by Luis Melendez and Ken Reitz grounded.

Ted Simmons chased Reuss with a run-producing double in the seventh and Joe Torre and Melendez hit run-scoring singles off Houston reliever Ken Forsch in the ninth.

Agee was used sparingly by the Astros but is getting into the Cards lineup more frequently.

"I knew I could play for that team (Astros)," Agee said. "But those other guys (Astro outfielders) were playing good. They were playing good, but they were losing so something must have been wrong."

Coryell Brings Offense Back To St. Louis Club

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Don Coryell will bring offense back to St. Louis, but the question is whether the Cardinals can outscore their National Football League opponents.

Coryell, whose college teams averaged 33.7 points a game for 15 years, inherits a team which ranked next-to-last among 26 NFL clubs in 1972 defense.

While the club's attack was equally ignominious, an improving line and the passing of Jim Hart plus Coryell's propensity for a wide-open game make an improvement on offense seem certain.

Battle May Field Powerhouse Club

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — If the defense jells as Coach Bill Battle hopes, Tennessee will field another powerful football team this fall.

"I believe we are in good shape on offense, with two experienced quarterbacks, some fine runners and some good receivers," Battle says.

"We lost seven players off our defensive unit and we've got some problems there. But we have good prospects and I expect the defense to come around by mid-season."

Battle, 31, is starting his fourth year as Tennessee head coach. In three previous seasons, Battle's teams have won 31 games, lost 5, won 3 bowl contests and finished in The Associated Press top 10 each year.

Battle shrugs off any suggestion the Volunteers might do as well this season, but he concedes he's got many talented athletes.

Coppers Move Up In Amateur

All Walker Cuppers except three advanced Tuesday as well as the only former U.S. champions entered and 1971 British Amateur winner Dick Siderowf and current Canadian Amateur titleholder George Burns III.

"I played a good match, but I never expected to get such a tough time," Siderowf said after finishing play in the 95-degree heat at the 6,816-yard Inverness Club.

Siderowf, 26, a stockbroker from Westport, Conn., beat John Sutter, a 21-year-old Williams College student from Westfield, Mass., 3 and 1.

Spence To Have Bigger Launches

Sportsmen soon will have access to enlarged boat launch ramps at Lake E. V. Spence.

R. A. Schooling, administrative assistant in charge of lake facilities for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said three ramps needed only construction cleanup. They have been extended to spillway level at a cost of $22,500. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has contributed $20,000 of this.

One of the ramps is 195x45 at Paint Creek off old SH 158 where the YJ Marina is located. Another is on Wildcat Creek near the south end of the dam and is 250x35 feet. A third which does not now reach into the lake level, is at Lakeview near the north end of the lake and is 210x30 feet.

CARTER CAMP

CLYDE BELLECOURT

AIM Leader Arraigned

WINNER, S.D. (AP) — Carter Camp, president of the American Indian Movement, was arraigned Tuesday in connection with the shooting of fellow AIM leader Clyde Bellecourt.

Camp appeared before U.S. Magistrate James Wilson in Rapid City, S.D. Bond was set at $25,000 and a preliminary hearing was scheduled Sept. 4.

Camp remained in custody in the Pennington County jail at Rapid City.

An FBI spokesman in Minneapolis, Minn., said Camp was arrested by Cherry County Sheriff James Ward in Valentine, Neb., late Monday night. The spokesman said Camp surrendered without incident.

U.S. Atty. William Clayton of Sioux Falls, S.D., said Camp was charged with assault with a deadly weapon on an Indian reservation.

The same charge was filed against Camp's brother, Craig, and Leroy Cassodes. They were being sought.

AIM leaders talked late into the night on Monday, planning strategy to save their organization as Bellecourt remained in critical condition at a Winner hospital.

Bellecourt, a Minneapolis resident, was shot in the abdomen Monday morning in the yard of a home north of Rosebud, S.D. He underwent almost four hours of surgery.

Will Ask FDA To Revise 1969 Ban On Cyclamates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration will be asked later this month to reverse its 1969 ban on cyclamates, says Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt.

Abbott Laboratories will petition for the reversal and is expected to cite new research findings, Schmidt said in an interview. But he said the FDA will require "some harder scientific data than we've got now" before changing its mind about the cancer hazard of the food and beverage additive.

NEW DATA

A decision is not expected for months, he said. He acknowledged that Abbott's new evidence may support the request to approve cyclamates again.

"I'm willing to accept the fact that data may come along that show that a lot of our decisions, in the light of new data, were unwarranted," he said. "In the light of old data they may very well have been warranted."

The agency's caution is heightened by the intensive review now underway on the safety of saccharin, the only non-nutritive sweetener remaining on the market and itself suspected of causing cancer in laboratory animal-feeding studies.

Federal law prohibits the use of any amount of a food additive that causes cancer in man or animals.

If a cyclamate approval followed on the heels of a saccharin ban, Schmidt said, "that would take a lot of explaining."

PROTECTING HEALTH

"I don't think we're going to do anything that we can't explain," he said.

'Speed Gimmick' In Soap Box Race Uncle's Idea?

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Robert Lange Sr., uncle of this year's disqualified National Soap Box Derby winner and father of last year's winner, said today he takes full responsibility for installation of a "speed gimmick" in his nephew's racer.

In a letter to the Boulder Jaycees, the sponsoring organization of the local race, Lange said he "determined" that an electromagnetic device should be installed in his nephew's car, but now considers it "a serious mistake in judgment."

The gravity-powered racer built and driven by James Gronen, 14, of Boulder was disqualified from the Akron, Ohio, race when race officials discovered the magnetic device which violated Derby rules.

public, physicians and industry about "what we're doing and why we're doing it but, more importantly, the basis upon which we're doing it."

He expressed particular concern that the FDA may be infringing on individuals' freedoms, such as by regulating the composition of multiple-vitamin pills.

"I think that the FDA will have to be awfully careful about its science in justifying any action that would drive a product off the market," he said.

But he added that his concern about industry economics is secondary to what he regards as the FDA's primary role of protecting the public health.

Opening lead: King of ♥
Declarer managed his resources well to bring home a slam contract imperiled by an adverse distribution of the outstanding trumps.

North-South conducted an intelligent auction to get to six spades. After the one diamond opening had elicited a one spade response, North was close to a jump to three spades. However, he chose the more conservative action of a simple raise. South's three diamond bid is forcing for one round—after a partnership has found a fit in a major suit, a return to opener's minor suit obliges him to keep the bidding going for one round.

Since the double fit improved his hand, North jumped to four spades. South now knew that this partner was better than minimum with all his points outside the trump suit, so he felt good enough for another try. His cue-bid of the ace of clubs encouraged North to show his ace of hearts, and South's leap to slam closed the auction. With a 3-2 trump division, seven spades could be made.

West led the king of hearts, won in dummy. It seemed that 12 tricks presented no problem. However, when South led a trump from dummy at trick two, East produced the jack. If that card were honest, declarer saw that he would have to lose a trump trick to West.

Declarer realized that control of the trump suit was the key to the slam. He could not afford to win the trick and use trumps as entries to his hand to ruff hearts, for that would leave West with a high trump. West could use that card to ruff the third or fourth diamond, stranding declarer with a club loser.

South solved his dilemma by allowing East to win the trick with the jack of spades, playing the nine from his hand! The defenders were helpless. East shifted to a club, but declarer rose with the ace. A heart was ruffed in dummy, declarer returned to his hand with a trump and ruffed his remaining heart. The queen of diamonds served as the entry to the closed hand to draw West's remaining trumps, and dummy's two clubs were discarded. Dummy was left with nothing but the remainder of the tricks.

Contract Offer By Chrysler Is Mockery?

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. made its contract offer to the United Auto Workers Tuesday and within minutes, union bargainers rejected it unanimously.

UAW President Leonard Woodcock called the offer a "mockery," and added, "This offer is worse than we got in the very bad recession year of 1958."

The proposed contract calls for wage increases averaging three per cent in each of the next three years.

Woodcock said Chrysler's offer leaves the union in doubt about its next move.

Talks at Chrysler were recessed for the day after the offer was rejected. Another bargaining session is scheduled today but Woodcock said he has no idea what will be discussed.

And, after Chrysler's offer, Woodcock expressed doubts about the prospects for reaching agreement without a strike at Chrysler. He said, "Any optimism we may have had about a settlement certainly seems remote."

UAW Vice President Douglas Fraser said he is "discouraged" because the economic offer is not worthy of serious consideration.

Company officials, including William O'Brien, the firm's vice president for personnel, said after presenting the offer: "We don't intend to talk about specific costs. We'll just say it's within government guidelines."

Besides three per cent increases in wages during each of the next three years, the Chrysler offer called for cost-of-living protection and higher pension benefits.

The offer made no mention of voluntary overtime, one of the union's key goals and one which UAW leaders repeatedly insisted must be part of any settlement.

Chrysler said its offer would provide for each hourly employee wage increases in each of the next three years ranging from 11 to 23 cents per hour. The proposal calls for increases of three per cent or $4.40 per week, which ever is greater, for salaried employees.

Teen Shooting In El Paso Quiz

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — El Paso police were investigating today the death of a youth who officers said, apparently shot himself while handling a rifle. Police reports indicate the youth had the butt of the rifle on the floor between his feet with the muzzle pointing upward and told several companions the weapon was not loaded. It discharged seconds later.

Police said they were awaiting results of an autopsy on the body of Charles H. Roderick III, 18, of El Paso, who was shot under the chin at close range. The incident occurred at an El Paso apartment, officers said.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Wards' Announces

Montgomery Ward has introduced a new tread wear guarantee and two free services for its tire customers.

The new guarantee gives consumers a prorated credit when they replace worn out or damaged Ward tires with new ones. "If a Ward tire wears down to the tread wear indicators within the number of months or miles guaranteed for that model, Wards will replace the tire for a prorated charge determined by the months or miles of use," said R. G. McNeil, store manager of the Big Spring Ward store.

Prior to this guarantee, a tread wear allowance for each model allowed the same credit, regardless of the amount of use.

To have adjustments made under this guarantee, the customer need only return the worn or damaged tire and his original booklet to any Ward retail or catalog location.

In addition to this new guarantee, Wards provides two new free services for tires purchased from Wards: nail punctures will be repaired for the full term of the guarantee and tires will be rotated every 5,000 miles for the life of the tire. "To encourage proper vehicle maintenance, we will rotate tires, purchased at retail or catalog stores having installation facilities, free of charge, every 5,000 miles, regardless of the guarantee's status," McNeil explained.
