PARENTS TALK OF SON'S DEATH — Lawrence and Alice Parker, clutching Bibles, talk about the death of their son, Wesley, II, at their home in Barstow, Calif., Wednesday, shortly before they were arrested on a charge of manslaughter in his death. Wesley, a diabetic died last week three days after his parents threw away his insulin. The Parkers said they believed he had been cured by an unidentified faith healer at their Assembly of God church.

TO NAME COMMITTEE Salter Chairs 'Goals' Group

Dr. Thomas Salter, HCJC president, has been chosen chairman of a drive to set long-range objectives for Big Spring.

Salter was named at a meeting this morning of interested citizens. Within the next week he will name a 25-member steering committee to begin the approximately three-month process of goal-setting.

According to Salter who said he is familiar with municipal goal-setting efforts, the steering committee will set criteria for an even larger "working committee" made of representatives of labor, management, various ethnic groups, geographic locations, economic factions, religion and education.

This larger working group will identify problems, opportunities and challenges in Big Spring through a type of brainstorming session after which it will set priorities and draw up a basic set of objectives.

These objectives will be submitted for public reaction in a series of town hall meetings to be held throughout the community. Finally, a set of objectives for the town to accomplish will be drafted.

The local drive is expected to be patterned after an earlier such campaign in Midland. Most of Midland's goals, including courthouse renovation, junior college construction and other projects, have reportedly already been accomplished or are in the process of being carried out.

Flash Astros Green Light

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Space agency officials gave Skylab 2 astronauts a go ahead today to continue man's longest space mission.

William C. Schneider, the Skylab director, said Skylab 2 astronauts Alan L. Bean, Dr. Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma are medically fit to continue their space voyage until at least Sept. 7, the 42nd day.

Skylab 2 is scheduled as a 59-day mission, but medical data on the men is examined each week. Based on these studies, officials decided that it is safe for the mission to proceed.

Schneider said approval to continue the mission came on the recommendation of Dr. Charles Berry, the space agency director of life sciences. The Skylab 2 astronauts, in the 34th day of history's longest space flight, are still in excellent health, officials said.

Bean, Garriott and Lousma conducted hours of telescope camera studies of the sun today and planned to take pictures of the earth, including areas in Africa hit by drought and by locust swarms.

Monday To Be Day Of Labor For Kids

Westbrook school students will attend school on Labor Day Monday as they have always done in the past.

Westbrook has the only school in the entire area which does not grant a holiday on Labor Day each year.

Westbrook is also probably completely without labor unions of any type.

Hunt Victims Among Ruins

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Demolition crews were leveling thousands of unsafe buildings today as other workers searched for more bodies in the ruins left by the earthquake Tuesday in southeast Mexico.

Officials said 527 bodies had been recovered and 3,575 persons had been injured. But officials predicted the death toll might reach 1,000 in the 300-square-mile area of Puebla and Veracruz states.

President Luis Echeverria toured part of the area by bus Wednesday and ordered the demolition of some 10,000 buildings still standing but considered unsafe in more than 50 towns.

CRASH TO GROUND — The president spent hours listening to the survivors of the worst quake in Mexican history.

Alfonso Tabara, director of the government's Housing Development Institute, said the demolition would take two to three weeks and prefabricated houses would be provided within 15 days for the homeless.

'I Can Look God Straight In The Eye'

BARSTOW, Calif. (AP) — A couple who entrusted their diabetic son to a faith healer were to be arraigned today on manslaughter charges in connection with the boy's death last week.

Still maintaining their 11-year-old son, Wesley, would be returned to life by God, Lawrence and Alice Parker were arrested Wednesday at their home.

"They expressed no reaction, one way or the other," said Barstow Asst. Police Chief Edward Burke. "They are very unemotional people."

The boy died last Wednesday three days after his parents threw away Wesley's insulin. They said they believed he had been cured by a faith healer at the Assembly of God church in Barstow.

"God will return our son to us," Parker, 34, an unemployed aerospace worker told a newsman. "I can look God straight in the eye."

Then as police led Parker and his 29-year-old wife away, he turned to her and said, "Got your Bible, honey?"

The Parkers were being held in the San Bernardino county jail under bond of $10,000 each.

Sears Officials Study Project

Six officials of the Dallas regional headquarters of Sears, Roebuck and Co. flew to Big Spring this morning to study the feasibility of adding a tire and battery center on the present Sears catalogue store.

Robert Taylor, manager of the local store, said the regional manager and the other members of his staff were receptive to the idea and pledged to take it back to the company and study the cost and other details of the project.

Taylor said the center, if established, would be a complete sales and installation service of tires and batteries.

Indictments Returned Against 29 By Jury

The Howard County Grand Jury returned 25 indictments on 29 persons, including a charge of murder with malice against Robert Lee Phillips in connection with the fatal shooting of Earsie Miller May 8.

Ismael Sosa Juarez was indicted on two counts in connection with a charge of assault with intent to murder Manuel Marquez on May 11. In turn, Manuel Marquez was indicted on a charge with assault with intent to murder Ismael Sosa Juarez on April 20.

A number of the indictments were in connection with a raid conducted in April. Lonnell Banks was indicted on charges of sale of a narcotic drug on three counts.

Willie Roy English is indicted on charges of sale of narcotic drugs on two counts. Doris Moten also was indicted on two counts of sale of narcotics. One count on charges of sale of a narcotic drug saw indictments for Lorenzo Jackson, Rayfield Turner, Clarence Forman, Ernest William Annable III, Jose Manuel Jimenez, Delores Wrightsil, Tommy Lee Mitchell and Jesse Banks.

Nixon Vowing To Resist Order To Deliver Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has vowed to resist an historic court order commanding him to deliver secret Watergate tape recordings for a judge's private inspection.

Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica ordered Nixon Wednesday to produce the tapes demanded by special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox, but temporarily withheld the effect to allow time for an appeal.

Nixon refused to obey the order. The White House, in a statement from San Clemente, Calif., said without elaboration that the President's lawyers "are now considering the possibility of obtaining appellate review or how otherwise to sustain the President's position."

EXEC PRIVILEGE — The order and a companion 23-page opinion fueled the President's clash with the courts and the Senate Watergate committee over access to the tapes of his conversations with key advisers implicated in the Watergate scandal.

The dispute has been carried further than any similar confrontation over presidential power in U.S. history.

On a key point, Sirica squarely disputed Nixon and ruled that it is not the president but the court which has ultimate authority to determine whether material sought in a criminal investigation is protected by executive privilege.

Nixon has claimed that a president's confidential records are privileged from disclosure.

CONVERSATIONS — The existence of the tapes became known last month when a former White House aide told the Senate committee that Nixon routinely recorded his Oval Office conversations.

Cox, acting on behalf of the Watergate grand jury, then subpoenaed tapes of eight meetings and one telephone call between Nixon and his advisers at the time, John W. Dean III, H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman.

The committee also filed suit to compel disclosure after its own subpoena was rejected by the White House, as Cox's had been.

Cox and the committee say the tapes are vital to resolve contradictions in the testimony of Dean, Haldeman, Ehrlichman and others allegedly involved in the Watergate cover-up.

SEARCH FOR TRUTH — Cox said he was "very pleased" with Sirica's ruling. Watergate committee chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., called it "a great victory for the search for truth."

SUB TRAPPED — Cross shows location of Pisces III, a two-man submarine trapped 1,375 feet beneath Atlantic since Wednesday.

'Our Morale Is Fantastic'

CORK, Ireland (AP) — Two Britons trapped for 24 hours in a midge submarine 1,375 feet beneath the Atlantic sent a message of reassurance to their wives today as an international rescue operation got under way.

"Our morale is fantastic," the two men said in the message. "Tell them (our wives) we're OK."

The men are trapped in the 20-foot long submarine Pisces III. They have enough oxygen to last until Saturday morning.

The submarine's mother ship Vickers Voyager sailed from southern Ireland's Cork harbor with two other midge submarines and six divers. It was expected at the scene, 150 miles south of Cork, later today.

Judge Delays Decision After School Hearing

By MARJ CARPENTER
MIDLAND — Following two days of testimony in the administrative proceedings by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare against the Big Spring Independent School District, the presiding judge announced that the schools would be informed later of the decision in the matter.

Robert S. Davie, administrative law judge from Fort Worth, who presided at the hearings in the federal courtroom in Midland, told attorneys to have their briefs and findings to him by Sept. 21.

The Big Spring schools object to the accusations by HEW that Lakeview and Bauer constitute a segregated school and that they are not in compliance with federal regulations.

CITES LAW — Guil Jones, school attorney points out that the 1964 Civil Rights Act only applies where there is a minority group "directly or through contractual or other arrangements" to discriminate. Big Spring, in their evidence and testimony, claims "a neighborhood school system" where barriers such as highways and railroads have caused segregation due to the residents who reside in that neighborhood through no arrangement caused by the schools.

Jones pointed out that in the Keyes case decided by the United States Supreme Court this summer, they stated, "We emphasize that the differentiating factor between the de jure segregation and de facto segregation on to which we referred in the Swann case is purpose or intent to segregate."

In the allegations against Runnels Junior High, the Big Spring schools point out that the assignment of races in this school falls well within the regulations set up by HEW.

In conclusion, as in the beginning of the hearing, the submitted objections include the allegation that no segregation exists at any school in Big Spring and that it was so decided in federal court in Abilene on July 14, 1966, and that nothing has changed since that date.

NOT PURPOSEFUL — They also claim that no isolation, grouping or concentration of ethnic minority exists within the school district as a consequence of any purposeful act.

Their third objection to the proceedings is that no evidence has been presented and no specification made as to the particular Federally funded programs which are administered in a discriminatory manner.

They also point out that any plan which would remedy the concentration of ethnic minorities in Lakeview and Bauer would have to include mandatory busing and would be a significant impingement on the educational process in this school district.

Jones and his associate, Dick Milstead, have indicated that if the administrative hearing decision is not in favor of the Big Spring schools, they will ask for an administrative appeal which would be the next procedure set up by the government.

Mack Wallace Appointed To Railroad Commission

AUSTIN (AP) — Mack Wallace of Gov. Dolph Briscoe's staff was named today to succeed Byron Tunnell on the three-member Texas Railroad Commission, effective Sept. 15.

Tunnell, 47, announced his resignation Tuesday to accept a job as vice president in the governmental affairs department of Tenneco, a Houston-based company.

Wallace, 43, is executive director of the Governor's Criminal Justice Council. He also served as Briscoe's legal counsel.

A native of Athens, Wallace is a graduate of Henderson County Junior College and Baylor University School of Law. He served as Henderson County attorney in 1957-62. He became district attorney of the 3rd Judicial District of Texas in 1962 and joined Briscoe's staff last January.

BOUND FOR GALVESTON — A seven-year-old boy, John Manuel Rios, burned severely about the legs in a gasoline fire here Aug. 22, will get treatment and plastic surgery at the Shriners' Burns Hospital in Galveston, thanks to help offered by the Big Spring Shrine Club. The boy is shown being carried aboard a plane chartered by Shriners Bill Pollard, president of the Big Spring Shrine Club. Others pictured are the boy's mother, Mary Rios, who made the trip, and George Bair, potentate of the Suez Temple. Mrs. Rios was also given money by the club to pay for her room and board. Johnny has been confined to Cowper Clinic.

Stroke Claims 'Yank' Durham

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Yancey "Yank" Durham, manager of boxing champions, died this morning as the result of a stroke suffered Aug. 28. He was 52.

"He was in a coma since being stricken," said a hospital spokesman shortly after Durham died at 1:50 this morning. Durham was manager of former heavyweight champion Joe Frazier, light-heavyweight champion Bob Foster and mid-dleweight contender Willie "The Worm" Monroe.

Frazier and Durham's family were present in the Temple University Hospital at the time of his death.

Durham started his training and managing of boxers in Police Athletic League gymnasiums. He worked for many years as a welder for the Pennsylvania Railroad, later the Penn-Central.

Durham started his rise to boxing fame the day in 1961 when a short, fat kid walked into a PAL gym and said he wanted to be a fighter. The fat kid was Joe Frazier.

Durham put Frazier on a weight reducing program, taught him the art of self defense and offensive boxing. Frazier went on to win the 1964 Olympic Games heavyweight title, turned pro under Durham's guidance and in 1970 won the world heavyweight title by defeating Jimmy Ellis.

In one of boxing's all-time spectacles, Frazier successfully defended his title against the unbeaten Muhammad Ali in 1971, after Ali settled his difference with the U.S. government and was reinstated as a fighter.

DOVE SEASON OPENS AT NOON SATURDAY

The first hunting action of the fall kicks off at noon Saturday as the North Zone Mourning Dove season opens for six weeks.

Dove season lasts until Oct. 14, and a second season will run for two weeks next January.

Hunting licenses are $5.25 for residents, and hunters may get a combination hunting-fishing license for $8.75. Licenses may be purchased locally at various department and sporting goods stores, as well as at the County Clerk's office.

Hunters do not have to purchase a license to hunt dove within the county of their residence, according to Howard County wildlife biologist Herb Kothmann. The limit is 10 per day.

Kothmann said that also on tap this fall is a two-day Lesser-Prarie Chicken hunt set Oct. 20-21 in four Texas counties, Hockley, Cochran, Terry and Yoakum.

COLT GM ADDS LINEBACKER

Thomas Makes Another Deal

By The Associated Press

The wheeling and dealing was fast and furious in the National Football League Wednesday as clubs scrambled to pare down their rosters and to strengthen weak spots before the start of the season.

Leading the trading scramble once again was Joe Thomas, general manager of the Baltimore Colts and one of this season's biggest wheel-dealers. Thomas made his 20th trade since Jan. 22, acquiring Ed Mooney from Detroit for an undisclosed draft choice.

Mooney, who missed most of last season because of a shoulder injury, was obtained to strengthen the Colt linebacker corps; weakened when Ray

May suffered stretched knee ligaments earlier this pre-season.

John North wasted little time in getting in the trading market. In his second day as New Orleans head coach, North traded away a veteran tackle, Dave Long, and a couple of undisclosed draft choices for Jeff White, a place kicker from Miami, and running back Henry Matthews from the Patriots.

The Los Angeles Rams lost a long-time stopper when middle linebacker Marlin McKeever announced his retirement after 12 years.

The Rams also announced that rookie running back Steve Jones, fifth-round draft choice from Duke, was traded to St. Louis for a future draft choice.

Meanwhile, the Patriots acquired quarterback Charlie Richards from Washington and running back Jerry List from Oakland, both for future draft choices, while the Minnesota Vikings got linebacker Keith Best from Kansas City for a draft choice.

The Pittsburgh Steelers took steps to strengthen an injury-riddled offensive line by acquiring Glen Ray Hines from Oakland. The 30-year-old Hines spent five years with the Houston Oilers and two years with New Orleans before being acquired last winter by Oakland.

Mike Siani took the advice of his attorney and returned to the Oakland training camp, after walking out after last Saturday's exhibition with Minnesota. The second-year wide receiver had been seeking a renegotiated contract and a $5,000 raise.

ALL IN THE FAMILY—Opposing coaches might think they're seeing double-double this season when they meet the Garden City Bearkats, since about one-fifth of the team is made up of the Batla brothers. From the bottom, the Batlas are Larry, Gary, Kenny and Mike.

Coyotes, Buffs In Scrimmage Action Tonight

Forsan tries to get its offense ahead of its defense and Borden County just wants a repeat of last week, as the two teams go into their final preseason scrimmage action tonight.

The Forsan Buffaloes battled Grandfalls to a 0-0 deadlock last week, and Coach Jack Woodley hopes to get his offense moving in a 5:30 p.m. scrimmage at New Home tonight.

Borden County squares off with Whitharral at 7:30 p.m. in Gail in an eight-man collision. The Coyotes walloped Whitharral in the opening scrimmage action last week, outscoring the Panthers six touchdowns to none.

More football resumes on Friday, as Coahoma, Stanton and Garden City all swing into action.

Coahoma, a 6-1 winner over Haskell Friday, visits Stamford for its final preseason session this week. The two units will meet at 7 p.m. Friday.

Stanton and Alpine will meet halfway for their outing, colliding in Grandfalls at 6:30 p.m.

Garden City's Bearkats will be out to reverse a three-touchdown to one decision at the hands of Sterling City last week, and this time the 'Kats will be on their home ground. Kickoff time is 6 p.m.

Sands coach Jim Allen has called off his team's scheduled Friday scrimmage with Wilson due to the loss of seven starters because of illness. Sore throats and tonsillitis have thinned Allen's ranks.

Astros Nudge Cardinals, 3-2

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astros pitcher Dave Roberts may have to alter his theory about the good hops always going to the first place team.

St. Louis got a good hop Wednesday night when Joe Torre slammed a grounder past Doug Rader at third to score the tying run at 2-2 in the ninth inning.

But in the bottom of the ninth, the Astros got a big hop of their own when pinchhitter Jimmy Stewart bounced a single through the middle to score Jim Wynn from second with the winning run in a 3-2 Astros victory.

"When you're in first place you get all the good hops," said Roberts, who held the Cards to five hits in earning his 13th victory of the season. "But we needed a big hop and we got it with Stewart's single."

Stewart was happy about his game-winning hit but he remained humble. "Four days ago we have the same situation and if I get a hit Roberts wins again," Stewart said. "But I struck out."

Roberts, now 13-9, pitched four hitless innings until Ted Simmons led off the fifth with a single.

Houston scored runs in the second on Doug Rader's solo home run and in the third on Cesar Cedeño's single for a 2-0 lead.

The Cardinals got their first run in the seventh when Ted Sizemore and Torre hit back-to-back doubles to net one run.

Close Call Nets Ryan One-Hitter

By The Associated Press

The man who said baseball was a game of inches should have been at the California Angels-New York Yankees game Wednesday night.

In the first inning, New York catcher Thurman Munson lofted a fly ball toward second base. Angels' second baseman Sandy Alomar and shortstop Rudy Meoli headed towards the ball, signalled that each was going to catch it, then let it drop to the Anaheim Stadium turf.

The miscue, which was ruled a hit by the official scorer, was the only safety Angels' fireballer Nolan Ryan surrendered on his way to a 5-0 victory.

Ryan, who has thrown two no-hitters already this season, wasn't disturbed. But Meoli, who had made game-saving catches in both no-hitters, was upset.

"I came within four inches of catching it," he said. "We both called for it at the same time. It should have been caught."

But Ryan had to "settle" for the third one-hitter of his career.

In other American League games Wednesday night, the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Texas Rangers 6-1; the Kansas City Royals edged the Cleveland Indians 3-2; the Milwaukee Brewers bombed the Chicago White Sox 9-0; the Boston Red Sox topped the Oakland A's 6-4; and the Detroit Tigers clipped the Minnesota Twins 9-5.

Orioles 6, Rangers 1
It didn't take long for the Orioles to get back on the winning track after the Rangers ended their 14-game string Tuesday. Doyle Alexander retired 15 Rangers in a row on the way to his third consecutive complete game and a 6-2 victory.

Red Sox 6, A's 4
Carl Yastrzemski collected a triple, double and two singles in leading the Red Sox to their 6-4 decision over Oakland.

In National League games Wednesday night, the San Francisco Giants topped the Philadelphia Phillies 3-1; the Montreal Expos trimmed the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-5; the New York Mets blanked the San Diego Padres 3-0; the Atlanta Braves clipped the Chicago Bears 7-4; the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-3; and the Houston Astros edged the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2.

Steers Try Mustangs In Scrimmage Tonight

Big Spring's Steers get their first test against the outside world tonight at 7:30 p.m. when they host the Sweetwater Mustangs in a scrimmage at Memorial Stadium.

The junior varsities will begin the action at 6 p.m., and will work out about an hour and a half. The varsities will work approximately the same length of time. There will be no admission charge.

"I think it's good for our kids to get to play against someone other than themselves," head coach Bob Burris said of the scrimmage tonight. "It gives them a little game-type experience, plus it gives us some good film to study them under game pressures. These are the most important things we look for."

Burris said he plans to have a quarterback Tom Sorley throwing "quite a bit, since we won't see the defense they'll be using again until late in the season, and we'd like to work on our passing some," the coach said.

Sweetwater will run a split six defense, and on offense the Mustangs will use the Houston veer.

Joining Sorley in the backfield will be Lonell Banks at fullback and Andre Hurrington at halfback, with Doug Robinson and Barry Canning filling in at the two spots. Banks is replacing the injured Vicky Woodruff, who is being held out of the workout along with tight end James Coffey.

Barry Loyd and Casey Lovelace, who has been shifted from a guard spot, will be working at Coffey's tight end spot. Rounding out the starting offensive line will be guards Kyle Neighbors and Steve Brackett, tackles Scott McEwen and Ken Froman and center Joel Fellows. John Thomas Smith, Ronald McKee and Doug Smith are all scheduled to perform at the wide receiver positions.

Burris said the Steers had a good scrimmage Tuesday night at Meet The Steers Night to prepare them for this clash. "We were real pleased with the hitting portion of it. We made a lot of mistakes, which always happens this early, but as long as we get a good effort we're happy," he said.

King, Michel Battle Today

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Defending champion Billie Jean King launches the women's segment of the U.S. Open tennis championships against Peggy Michel of Los Angeles today.

More of the oppressive heat and humidity that hung over the West Side Tennis Club Wednesday was expected, but the women will have somewhat of a break. Their matches are best-of-three-set affairs while the men's are best-of-five.

Pancho Gonzales, the 45-year-old sentimental favorite who lost in four sets and then said he was not planning to play in the main event next year, called the center court a furnace and said after one set he felt like he was carrying 10-pound weights on his feet.

Gonzales, a specimen of physical fitness at 180 pounds, won the first set against Tom Okker 7-6 when he aced him for a 5-4 tiebreaker, but the younger Dutchman, seeded seventh, prevailed 6-7, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4.

All other seeded players who saw action also advanced.

Ilie Nastase of Romania got past Humphrey Hose of Venezuela, a last-minute qualifier like Miss Michel. The Romanian, the epitome of decorum despite the heat, won 6-4, 6-4, 6-3. Smith, of Sea Pines, S.C., had it even easier. In the first set, Patrick Proisy of France pulled a groin muscle and finally called it quits with Smith leading 6-4, 5-0.

Ashie, the No. 3 seed from Miami, was extended to four sets by Australia's Colin Dibley 7-6, 6-7, 7-5, 6-2.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

If they're still talking about a four-day, 32-hour work week, I can tell them right now it won't work. We'll all go broke first.

Why? Because with three days a week off, guys would think they had to do something to entertain themselves, and certain kinds of recreation can get them into less trouble with their wives than other kinds of recreation. So, they'll go out and play golf. Or many will, anyway.

And golf, friends, is rapidly becoming one of the most depressing games around, no matter how well you play.

City commissioners will decide at their next meeting Sept. 11 how much the rates will be increased at Municipal Golf Course to help offset a reported $20,000 a year loss. And right now, it looks like daily individual fees will jump from $1.25 to $1.75 on weekdays and $2 to $3 on weekends.

Also, it's likely that monthly rates will be good only on a yearly basis, and they too will increase a bit.

OK gang, since this is my column let's look at this thing from my point of view. I play golf maybe twice a month. Under the new costs, I'm going to be out probably $10 a month — if I keep playing. The $3.50 green fees for two rounds (I wouldn't dream of playing on a weekend isn't the only cost. You've got to figure that I'll either lose or mangle beyond recognition at least 2 1/2 golf balls per 18 holes, and there's another $5).

Plus, I'm a sissy and have to have a glove to ward off the blisters from my lovely little left hand. And not only that, I'm so tired by the end of the first nine holes that it doesn't take hardly any talking to convince me to rent a cart for the back nine. Thus another buck or two.

Since I'm a squareshooter from way back, here's part of the other side of the story. City Manager Harry Nagel says this:

"Look at it this way. Abilene, a city of 80 or 90 thousand people, has just one 18-hole municipal golf course for all those people. We've got an 18-hole course for 29,000, plus there's the country club course and nine holes at Webb AFB.

"You can go out to our municipal course almost any time, even on weekends, and not have to wait to play. So you see, we just don't get the turnout," Nagel said. Also, the high cost of watering and maintenance mounts up, he added.

Golf Pro Charles Brantley said that the increase in everything else — particularly chemicals, which he said has almost doubled in the past two years — is another big cost the course has these days.

Certainly, I haven't exhausted either side of the question. But there's one thing I haven't mentioned. Will the people pay the new prices? Or will folks take up tennis, or something even less expensive like jogging?

That's a question the commissioners might ask themselves when they meet next, because unless they do something to improve the course as they raise the prices, there's the strong possibility they'll come up even shorter than they have been.

Sports... In Brief

HARNESS RACING
DU QUOIN, Ill. — Flirth, the first gelding to win since Greyhound in 1935, took the $144,710 Hambletonian in straight heats.

BASEBALL
CHICAGO — The Chicago White Sox sold veteran pitcher Eddie Fisher to the St. Louis Cardinals for an undisclosed amount and acquired pitcher Jim McGlothlin from the Cincinnati Reds for a player to be named later.

TENNIS
NEW YORK — Cliff Drysdale, president of the Association of Tennis Professionals, announced that Romanian Ilie Nastase and Australian Ray Keldie would be fined and suspended from all ATP membership tournaments in 1974 for their refusal to support the ATP Wimbledon boycott last June.

GOLF
TOLEDO, Ohio — Defending champion Marvin Giles of Richmond, Va., advanced to the third round of the 73rd U.S. Amateur Golf Championship, defeating Mickey van Gerbig of Palm Beach, Fla., 3 and 1.

Buckeyes Should Impress: Hayes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "I think the Buckeyes are going to impress you this year," said Woody Hayes, the 23-year Ohio State football coach and always an optimist.

Of course, the 60-year-old veteran has ample support for such a statement for the defending Big Ten Conference champions, 9-2 last year.

—Back from the ninth-ranked team that took a 42-17 Rose Bowl beating from Southern California are 13 regulars and 45 lettermen. Hayes even sees a silver lining in that defeat.

"The fact that most of this team had 16 extra practices after the season for the Rose Bowl will help," he said.

"And I can't remember when we had a better spring practice. There was real enthusiasm," said Hayes.

Hayes, first of all, has a wealth of quarterbacks and Cornelius Greene, striving to become the school's first starting black at that spot, is among the prime contenders.

Other quarterbacks include holdover regular Greg Hare, a strapping senior; Steve Morris-son, who led the Buckeyes on their last touchdown drive in the Rose Bowl, and Dave Purdy.

Champ Henson, a bullish 6-foot-4, 224-pounder and the nation's leading major college scorer last fall, returns at fullback. So does Archie Griffin, a freshman sensation in 1972, at a halfback spot.

The offensive line is anchored by tackle John Hicks.

"We think he's the best lineman in the country and the best player on our squad," Hayes said of the 6-3, 258-pound senior.

If the knees of All-America Randy Gradishar and Vic Koenig, two exceptional linebackers, and end Tom Marent hold up, Ohio State again will be tough defensively.

All were out for part of last season and underwent off-season knee operations.

"They could make the difference between a good and a great team and they sure could make a damned good coach out of me this year," said George Hill, the team's defensive coordinator.

TEXAS LAD DISCOVERS Film Making Beats Playing Policeman

LEWISVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Although he's not quite old enough or experienced enough to challenge the Hollywood moviemaking moguls, young Scott Bearden is laying an early and what appears to be a firm foundation to go into film making.

His first film, "Two-Niner Bravo," was based on the television shows Adam 12 and The Rookies. Bearden and his crew showed the film at the Lewisville Library, charged 25 cents admission, and recouped their $32 production costs.

He said his first film venture stemmed from a fascination of wanting to be a policeman, because "it was exciting."

"At school a bunch of us would always play policeman and run up and down the halls... sounding like sirens. "I finally decided instead of playing like we're policemen, why don't we make a movie about it," he said.

All his films range in length from five to 25 minutes, and have been filmed in Lewisville, with his school chums as actors.

His camera is on loan from an uncle.

To film his first movie, "Two-Niner Bravo," he asked for and got assistance from the Lewisville Police Department, which furnished squad cars and policemen to drive the cars and block traffic during the filming.

A Lewisville funeral home loaned him an ambulance. His mother made children-size police uniforms.

good chance to succeed. If the trumps divided evenly, declarer was home. There were also additional chances if the queen of spades were singleton.

Dummy's queen of hearts was put up at trick one, just in case West had led away from the king. East covered and declarer won the ace. The ace and king of spades were cashed, and declarer's hopes received a jolt when East discarded a club on the second round.

Faced with a certain trump loser, declarer had to find a place to put his losing hearts. The diamond suit offered the only hope. Since declarer had to get three heart discards, he worked out that a 3-3 diamond division would not help him. West would ruff the fourth diamond after South had taken only two sluffs, and would cash a heart for the setting trick. For the contract to succeed, West would have to hold four diamonds, leaving East with two. Based on this assumption, West was twice as likely to hold the diamond jack.

Having placed the cards so as to give him a chance to make the contract, declarer proceeded along the winning way. He cashed the king of diamonds and then finessed the ten of diamonds! When this held, declarer played the ace and queen of diamonds, discarding two hearts as West followed suit. The fifth diamond was now established, and declarer used it to discard his remaining heart. West could ruff, but that was the defenders' only trick.

If you need a specific lie of the cards to make a contract, you should proceed on the assumption that distribution exists. South applied this principle to bring home an aggressive, tho reasonable, slam.

Once North responded at the two level to South's one spade opening bid, the latter was determined to reach slam. He showed his second suit just in case he could locate a 4-4 fit; but when North gave preference to spades South checked for aces and kings and then settled in six spades.

West led the jack of hearts, and dummy was only a minor disappointment. Declarer would have liked to find the queen of spades rather than the jack, but even so the slam stood a

PRO SEASON TO BLOOM Approved Positions For Watching Games

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football season is about to bloom. But new fans may not realize there are officially approved positions for watching the games on television. These positions must be known.

If you aren't in them by kickoff, there's danger a passing inspector from the National Football League will dash in, throw down his orange flag and turn the channel to a cartoon. So remember:

—The Full Stretch. You extend fully on the sofa, head at a 90-degree angle to the set, left hand resting comfortably on the Sunday funnies. Classicists prefer Sunday book reviews, but this is optional.

—The Moveable Stretch. It requires an adjustable lounge chair. The full upright position isn't recommended, as urchins tend to grab the back of the chair while the viewer dozes. When this happens, the chair slams into the full recline and the viewer abruptly awakens. He then flails wildly and gets a hernia.

—The Forward Tilt. It occurs when three or more viewers occupy a sofa and have no room to stretch out. They sit leaning forward and burn cigarette holes in the coffee table.

—The Flanker. A temporary position on the arms of the sofa, usually occupied by housewives. Flankers aren't real fans and are there only to put out fires on the coffee table and sofa.

Husband And Wife Receive Degrees

Mrs. Carl (Marie Love) Cochrane of Osola, Ark., a daughter of Mrs. E. W. Love and the late Mr. Love of Big Spring, received her master's degree in mathematics from Colorado State University in Fort Collins, Colo., earlier this month.

Her husband, a native of Shawnee, Okla., had received a master's degree in business management at the University of Arkansas in May.

The Cochranes plan to move to Monticello, Ark., within the immediate future where Cochrane will assume a position as chief technical officer in the laboratories of Burlington Mills (carpet division).

Mrs. Cochrane, a native of Big Spring and a graduate of the local high school in 1951, attended Howard County Junior College one year. She later graduated from Texas Tech in 1955 with a bachelor's degree in math. Like his wife, Carl Cochrane attended Texas Tech where he earned a bachelor's degree in Textile Engineering.

Reckless Gambling Rap Hurlled At Gas Company

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Coastal States Gas Producing Co. "sordidly ignored prior contractual obligations" in past dealings, claim two local hotels who now are paying higher utility bills.

The operators of the Menger Hotel and the El Tropicano Motor Hotel filed a class action suit in federal court Wednesday, saying they and other Coastal States customers are due "millions of dollars" in damages.

The suit was filed the same day that U.S. District Court Judge John H. Wood ordered the transfer out of state of a $54 million suit against Coastal States Gas Corp. in connection with the merger of Coastal with Colorado Interstate Corp.

Coastal States Gas Corp. is the parent name of Coastal's far-flung operations. The two hotels say their utility bills already are higher by several hundred dollars monthly because San Antonio's public-owned utility has had to buy emergency supplies as a result of natural gas shortages of Coastal's Texas subsidiary, Lo-Vaca Gas Gathering Co.

The shortages which now face San Antonio and other Texas cities in the Lo-Vaca system are the result of past transactions of Coastal according to the suit, which says the company "quickly sold more gas than it had in valid reserves."

Besides this federal suit, Coastal States is a defendant in a state suit here seeking an order for the company to uphold its long-term, low-cost contract with San Antonio. Coastal States has asked for relief from its contracts.

Similar suits filed in New York and in Delaware. Coastal Securities and Exchange Commission, are the center of the in Houston, is a Delaware court involving the Colorado Interstate merger.

Judge Wood ordered the merger suit transferred to Delaware, where it apparently will be consolidated with two suits.

The Weisberg suit alleges omissions and misrepresentation, according to suits filed here.

Its stock prices, which had descended almost 50 points to $7.50 a share when trading was suspended this year by the Securities and Exchange Commission, are the center of the in Houston, is a Delaware court involving the Colorado Interstate merger.

PUBLIC HEARINGS 10 Steel Firms Seek Price Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top steel company executives complained today their prices have not kept pace with rising costs in recent years, and one said the federal government is partially to blame.

"We have been under continuous pressure by the federal government which seems to look on steel prices as a political rather than an economic matter," said Stewart S. Cort, chairman of Bethlehem Steel Corp.

JUSTIFIED
Averaging about 4.8 per cent, the proposed increases generally will apply to flat rolled steel products, which are used in manufacture of automobiles and home appliances. The Cost of Living Council scheduled public hearings today and Friday to determine whether the proposed increases are justified under the Phase 4 anti-inflation program. Ten steel companies have proposed increases. They include U.S. Steel, the industry's largest.

Cort said Bethlehem's proposed price increase of about five per cent is only about half the company's increase in costs since its last price increase in early 1972.

EXPANSION
Cort said that while demand for steel has grown and there will be additional need for new steel capacity in the near future, the net income of steel producers as a percentage of revenues has been declining.

"What this boils down to is that, unless our financial performance can be improved now, we will not be able to secure funds for future expansion," Cort said.

Another witness, Frank A. Nemeck, chairman of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. said his company also has been unable to increase prices to keep pace with costs.

"If the decision is that the steel industry is not to be allowed price increases which are thoroughly cost justified—then the message is loud and clear, and plans for capacity expansion may be set aside—at least for the present," Nemeck said.

LOOK MA, NO HANDS—Bob LaPlaut, with his hands behind his head, made a very casual dive into the Saginaw River, Essexville, Mich., to escape the 90-degree heat that has been in the area for several days.

Tour Of Police Station Is Taken By 4-H Group

The annual Knott 4-H Achievement Day was highlighted by a citizenship tour Monday night. The group was guided through the Big Spring Police Department where they observed the interrogation room and were given first hand experience on fingerprinting technique. They watched one another on closed circuit TV.

Current changes in the state penal code were explained and the group had opportunity for a question and answer period in the corporation court room. Warrant Officer Melvin Darratt and Mrs. Doris Smith explained and showed the group various procedures in the day of a law officer.

Members taking part in the tour included Carla Parker, David and Jana Long, David and D'Ann Hall, Paula and Carol Adams, Cindy, Summer and Helaine Shaw, Stan and Steve Blagrove, Penny and Terry Grantham, Martin Nichols, Scott and Kent Robinson, Tonya Shortes, Sandra Chelette, Leslie Guitar, Stacy Wilson, Tammy and Danny Peugh, Kayla and Van Gaskins.

The tour was climaxed with a wiener roast at the Knott Community Center. Patty Peugh, outgoing president was mistress of ceremonies and presided at the business meeting.

Project reports were given on Steers on Feed — David and D'Ann Hall, Scott and Kent Robinson, Cindy and Summer Shaw; barrows on feed — David and Jana Long, Patty and Danny Peugh, Kayla and Van Gaskins. Record books were exhibited by David and Jana Long, Scott and Kent Robinson and Van Gaskins.

Van Gaskins reported in his citizenship project that the West Side Center needs cardboard tubes, scrap of net, glitter, glue, ping pong balls and paddles, and small juice cans.

A drive to collect coupons is under way to purchase a new piano for the music room. These items may be brought to the Knott Store or to the Gaskins home.

New members welcomed were Carla Parker, Stacy Wilson and Terry and Penny Grantham. Special guests were County Agent and Mrs. Bruce Griffith, Brett, Bart and Mike.

Cuero Daily Axes Saturday Edition

CUERO, Tex. (AP) — Effective Saturday, the Cuero Daily Record will cancel its Saturday edition due to a shortage of newsprint and rising costs of the newsprint.

After Sept. 1, the Record will publish five days a week—Monday through Fridays.

"We regret this decision," said Ken Long, president of the Cuero Publishing Co., "but we seem to have no other alternative. The current newsprint situation existing for us and for newspapers all over the United States dictates this action."

Time For Check Of CIA

The Nixon administration reportedly has ordered a major overhaul of the Central Intelligence Agency's method of evaluating and analyzing foreign intelligence.

At least part of the reasoning behind the overhaul is faulty. That is the part which blames the CIA for intelligence estimates which do not coincide with preconceived positions or policies.

The CIA produced accurate but unpleasant facts during the Vietnam war. The facts were long ignored. The agency also came up with estimates which failed to support the Nixon administration's anti-ballistic missile stand. The intelligence estimators thus fell in disfavor with two administrations.

This is not to say the agency should not be overhauled. It should, but for different reasons.

The CIA has had its failures, notably the Bay of Pigs. It also has strayed beyond the National Security Act of 1947, which bars it from any domestic activities.

It also has been tainted, to a still uncertain degree, by Watergate.

However, it is time for Congress to give a thorough check of the nation's entire intelligence establishment, not just the CIA. The country has the CIA, the Defense Intelligence Agency (which duplicates CIA in many ways), the National Security Agency and a variety of military intelligence groups in the different services.

While Congress is giving the CIA a close look because of Watergate, it also should make the CIA and other agencies totally accountable for their spending. Serious consideration should be given to making public the CIA budget, now hidden and disguised throughout the federal budget.

If the CIA is found to be obsolete, inadequate or incompetent then it should be abolished. Its functions could well be taken over by the Defense

Intelligence Agency, but with the same program of fiscal accountability and impartial gathering of facts.

In this dangerous world, this nation needs good intelligence, collected and evaluated for what it is, not what some politician wishes it to be. Good information is needed for sound decisions. Politically shaped information can lead to self-deception.

Our University

Dr. Robert Clinton Snyder, president of Texas Western College at Snyder, said something worth repeating in his talk as a visiting speaker to the faculty of Odessa College recently.

He called on the West Texas community to back University of Texas Permian Basin to the fullest, and particularly for community colleges in the area to take the lead.

"The only way an upper-level university will stay upper level is for it to succeed," said Dr. Clinton. We (community colleges) don't have anything to worry about if UTPB succeeds, but if it gets into trouble, there will be pressure to make it a four-year school; so we all have a stake in seeing that it succeeds."

This concerns more than Odessa College and Midland College he noted, for "UTPB is not just a local university, but a regional one."

Today UTPB begins its history as an active educational institution. Registration started this morning and first classes are set for Tuesday. Until now, UTPB has been a dream, a plan, and a project of preparation. Now it becomes a viable institution.

Indeed, graduates of community colleges in this area should look first of all to UTPB for their final two years of college work, and to it for graduate programs. Dr. B. H. Amstede, president, has assembled a faculty of outstanding quality, and as time goes on, the university will have the latest of equipment.

Its physical design and plan is unique and exciting. Its opportunity for service to this area is unlimited. All of us have a stake in its success, and the best way to insure it is to encourage our students to make it their upper-level university.

Long, Long Trail

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

When I started driving back and forth from Andrews to Big Spring over a two-year period several times a week, I thought I had figured out all of the obstacles.

I KNEW THAT it was going to mean extra gas and probably some car problems. But I thought at least it's a good highway and there's usually only one snow storm a year and the weather won't be bad.

So I began the trek. First, in the early fall came a big surprise for West Texas — fog. It seemed like every Monday morning I drove across that 64 miles, I seemed to be driving inside of a wet teacup and could not see out.

Finally, one Monday morning, I went across and it was clear and I thought, "Oh good. The fog season is over." It was. The next Monday, the road was covered with ice. That was one of 12 times the road was covered with ice as all of the weather history went out the window and we had "the return of the ice age."

THEN ONE Monday, instead of ice, there was deep snow and I thought "That won't be as slick" and I happily followed a road sweeper who cleared the way to the county line. The other 40 miles I was left on my own and I made the tracks in snow up to the headlights. The car got so heavy with snow that the gas gauge fent down fast and I stopped in Lenora and finally persuaded a filling station attendant standing inside by the stove that I really did want gas.

And I thought, "Oh if it would just be spring." And then it was. And I started across that same old trail one afternoon and hit a sandstorm to end them all. All of the farm land was freshly plowed and I couldn't tell whether I was driving on the highway or in the ditch. So I struggled through the spring, hoping for summer.

And summer came. One Saturday night, I started merrily in the same old direction and came the wind and the rain. Again I couldn't see the road and I tried to remember the old poem about the mailman, and I muttered a lot.

THEN CAME the hot dry, windless, snowless, iceless, sandless, fogless days. Wonderful I thought. But the highway department couldn't stand it. So they repaired the highway from the overpass into Andrews. And then we had the weeks of the thrown gravel. I lost three headlights and gained six cracks in the windshield even though I soon learned to head for the ditches when I saw the trucks coming.

Finally, I noticed this morning, the rocks are pounded into the pavement. It was a lovely early morning drive — no rocks, no rain, no sand, no ice, no snow. But there was a misty look in the valleys. The cycle is complete. It's time for fog again.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

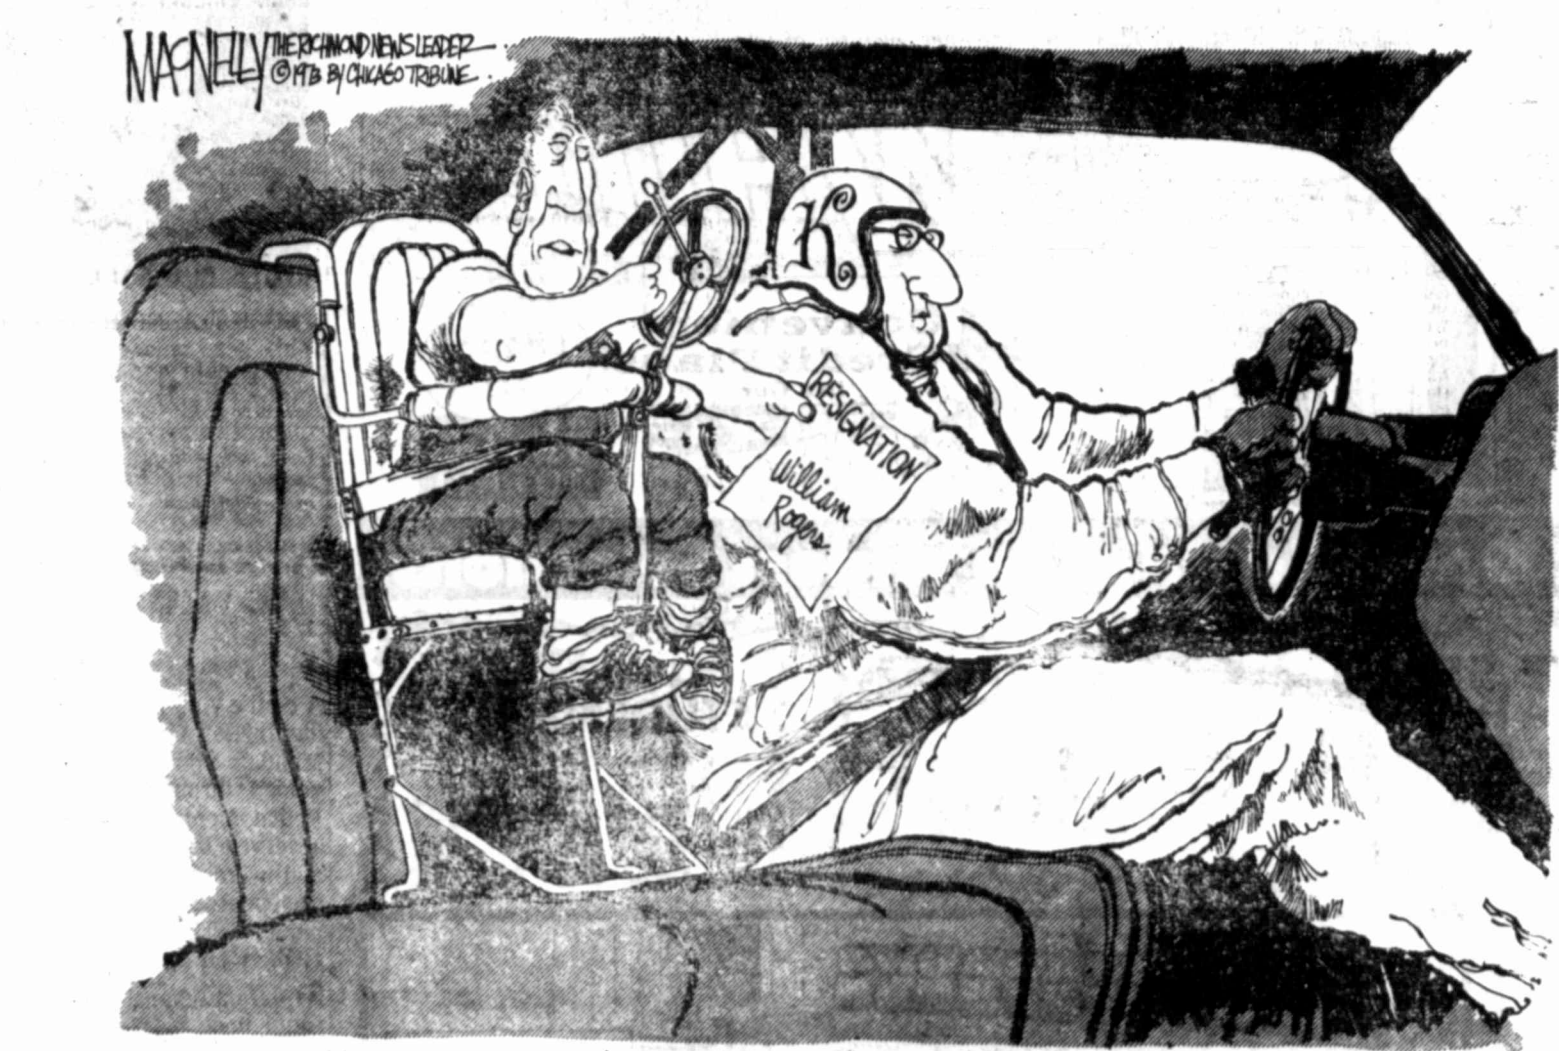

I am 19 and my husband is 20. This is his second marriage. Somehow, during his previous marriage he got into a debt of five thousand dollars, which to some may not be much, but with income of only $150.00 a week, it is to us. We worry about this so much we're always arguing. If only we could put this in God's hands. C.G.

When Peter urged his followers to cast all their care on Christ (1 Peter 5:7), he certainly included matters of budget and money.

Now that does not mean that we are exempt from good planning and exercising discretion in the way we spend our income. It does mean, however, there is divine help available for every dilemma of life. Christ is interested in all of our problems.

First of all, develop a plan whereby this debt can be paid off. Perhaps a Christian business friend or your local banker could help you in this. The important thing is to get a repayment schedule down on paper — one that you can live with and one that will relieve your mind of this anxiety.

When Paul said that money was the root of all evil (Timothy 6:10), he meant that it had an inherent quality to upset and ruin lives when combined with wrong motives and bad attitudes. Money seems to be one of the chief causes for marital disharmony. It's early enough in your lives to resolve that difficulty, and go on to lives of happiness — which I define as each living for the other, and both for the Lord.

Sticks And Stones

remember that Hitler rose to power by denouncing Communism, and point out that Inouye was a war hero, decorated for bravery. And one letter suggests I should team up "with that other racist, attorney John Wilson," who had called the senator "that little Jap" — and been rebuked by numberless editorials and cartoons for the offense.

NOW, I AM fully aware of Inouye's heroism, just as I know of Sen. Ervin's in World War I, when he was twice cited for gallantry in action and received the Distinguished Service Cross. But that does not, I suggest, leave them immune from criticism in other areas. And I note that Mr. Wilson has apologized for the words spoken in anger.

It would be unforzivable had the Wilson epithet come from right field, as it were. But it had been occasioned by Inouye's reference to Ehrlichman as "What a liar!" Granted, the senator spoke not realizing his mike was still on. But the fact remains that Wilson was fighting for a client whose case had clearly been prejudiced by the remark that would have immediately disqualified the speaker were he sitting on a case before a court of law.

A goodly number of letters reproach my conjecture that politics plays a part in the Ervin investigation. That is viewed as a vicious slur on the Democratic members of that panel, who, I am told, are merely doing their duty "so that the people may know."

BUT GOP research has disclosed that when the Bobby Baker scandal broke — and he was then as close to LBJ as Ehrlichman and Haldeman were to Nixon — Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.) asked for a full investigation. But the Demos, including those truth-hounds, Sens. Ervin, Talmadge and Inouye, beat that down. And if that wasn't politics, what was it? Mumble-peg?

I am likewise faulted for recording that Sen. Inouye was very friendly with a Communist labor leader. Some warn me that as a Jew, I should

Just One Good Idea

Hal Boyle

SUN CITY CENTER, Fla. (AP) — All it takes to make a million dollars is one good idea. Smith Johnson, now 79, had that idea 53 years ago. He invented the modern steel paint pail.

In 1920, he and his father operated a small, struggling factory that made pails out of wooden staves. They couldn't be stacked on top of each other, and this made shipping costs prohibitive.

"I knew a better way had to be found," recalled Johnson. "And one snowy night I set out to do it."

By morning he had sketched out the answer — the steel paint pail that has become standard in the industry in the years since then.

"I knew I had a winner right at the start," Johnson said. He was right. Within two years, he was manufacturing 5,000 pails a day; and within five years, they had earned him over $300,000.

Johnson figures his invention has netted him well over a million dollars, a figure that might have been multiplied several times if he had been able to collect royalties on all the 80 million pails, based on his invention, that have been marketed throughout the world.

This lost revenue doesn't disturb him.

"The world would die if I had to do the bookkeeping for it," he said cheerfully.

A restless man with many interests, Johnson entered the rubber products field after his paint pail won success and patented 16 more inventions. He still is active as vice president of a rubber company in Paulding, N.Y., and takes pride in being able to call each of its 245 employees by his first name.

"And they all call me Smith in return," he said. He is proud of the reputation he holds for maintaining good employee relations.

Johnson has no formula for how one can go about getting a million-dollar idea and is wryly critical of his own performance lately.

"I haven't patented anything new for 25 years," he complained mildly. "I guess I'm stuck on some kind of plateau. But I still like to keep putting around. Work keeps your blood circulating."

Mystery Of The Genes

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My six-year-old grandson is being treated for birth defects. The doctor tells us he may have a mixed-up "gene." Could you explain what a "gene" is and how it could be mixed up? — B.F.

Well, I could try. Let's begin with the starting point of a new human being. The female ovum and a male sperm cell unite (that's conception, the beginning of a pregnancy).

Both the ovum and the sperm cell are too small to see except with a microscope. And yet that tiny little speck contains millions of atoms. Look up at the sky some clear night when there are too many stars to count. And yet in that combined ovum and sperm cell there are vastly more atoms than you can see stars in the sky.

These are arranged in groups. First there are (in a normal child) 46 chromosomes. Each of these chromosomes consists of a long, long chain of groups of atoms. These groups of atoms are quite simple, chemically speaking. Instead of bothering with the chemical names of these groups, let's just say there are four kinds which we'll call A, B, C and D.

But here is the amazing thing: The order in which they form themselves in a long chain makes all the difference in the world. Let's suppose that you have some in the order of ABCDABCD. That will mean one thing. But ABCDABCD will be something else. And adding or subtracting a letter means something still different.

This has been called the "genetic code" — the order in which these groups appear is what governs the growth of that microscopic cell into a human being. It ordains whether the child will be a girl or boy, tall or short, with blue eyes or brown, with a large nose or small one.

Contained in that "genetic code" is the pattern of growth: a child grows for 15 or 20 years, more or less, and then has achieved full height and stops growing. It's all in the "code."

The code governs such matters as longevity, hereditary baldness and other things. These groups of chemicals, in this intricate pattern, are the chromosomes. Some undetectably small variation in the chemical pattern of one of these "genes" means some change in the way the child will develop — for better or worse. If the latter, we call it a "birth defect." If the former — well, changes for the better tend to survive over the generations and that becomes "evolution."

So a "mixed-up gene" is some variation in that pattern far down in the invisible world of atoms. Scientists have spent years trying to learn how to "read" that genetic code.

It is constantly marvelous to me that they have learned as much as they have about it. But hard-working human genius, I am sure, will learn more marvelous things in the future about this genetic code, and what it means, and how it behaves. And who knows? In some distant day they may even know enough to prevent some of the "mixing-up" and the birth defects that result. Not today or tomorrow — but in some distant day.

What is angina pectoris? Is it dangerous? Is there a cure? If you would like to learn more about angina pectoris, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his helpful booklet, "How To Handle Angina Pectoris." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing

Question For Henry

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Although eventual Senate confirmation of Dr. Henry A. Kissinger as Secretary of State is not in doubt, President Nixon's ace diplomatic operative is going to be pressed hard on the secret U.S. bombing of Cambodia in 1969 when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee starts its hearings Sept. 7.

PRESIDENT NIXON, in his Aug. 20 speech at New Orleans took full responsibility for the Cambodian bombing decision, but this has not diminished the senatorial appetite for a full-scale expose of how the decision was made and whether Kissinger himself can justify it.

One reason: even Senators completely committed to confirming Kissinger are troubled by his future dual role as Secretary of State and also as the President's White House foreign policy adviser, in charge of the National Security Council staff.

THEIR QUESTION: will Kissinger give them the full background of the March 1969 decision to bomb Cambodia or will he claim executive privilege on grounds of his confidential relationship with the president? If the latter, Kissinger will risk raising senatorial hackles at a presidential power and secrecy has time when congressional suspicion or reached its high point of at least the last 50 years.

High officials now in the Defense

Department, most particularly Deputy Secretary William P. Clements, left the impression with the Senate Armed Services Committee and the nation on Aug. 9 that the orders to falsify bombing reports in order to maintain total security had emanated from the Pentagon.

CLEMENTS, in fact, actually produced a now widely published document authorizing 14 B-52 strikes into Cambodia border areas adjacent to South Vietnam on the nights of Nov. 24-25 and Nov. 29-30, 1969. The document, which Clements indicated was the only one he could find in Pentagon files on the Cambodian bombing, bore the signature of Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, then chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the initials "MRL" for Melvin R. Laird the then Secretary of Defense. It was marked "top secret — eyes only" and dated Nov. 20.

SO ASTONISHED was Democratic Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, acting chairman of the committee, when Clements produced this document that he telephoned Laird in Chicago (where he was addressing the National Legislative Conference) and warned him: Mel, they're trying to do you in up here.

As a former Air Force Secretary, Symington knew neither Gen. Wheeler nor Laird had authority to falsify bombing reports.

Harold's Busy

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I have bought a new house and in so doing I have made a discovery that will shock everyone in the United States.

I have discovered that America is a nation of middlemen and subcontractors and that there is only one man in the entire nation that actually does the work.

His name is Harold. I discovered Harold accidentally. I had made a call to a company that had promised to build me some bookshelves. I demanded to talk to the head man-to-find out why they hadn't been delivered. He hemmed and hawed while and finally admitted his company didn't actually make the bookshelves — they subcontracted the work to another company.

I CALLED that company, which said that the work had been subcontracted to a company in Wisconsin that specialized in bookshelves. A call to Wisconsin revealed that the company didn't make bookshelves, but supplied the wood.

"Well, who makes the bookshelves?" "Harold does," the manager replied.

I MANAGED to get Harold's address from the man and out of curiosity I went to see him.

Harold lived on a farm near Delaware. I found him in a large barn surrounded by lathes, machine tools, lumber, upholstery, saws, drills, electrical equipment and presses.

In every corner of the barn piled high were appliances to be fixed, furniture to be upholstered, lamps to be rewired, cabinets to be repaired, rugs to be rewoven, desks to be refinished and mattresses to be restuffed.

WHEN I walked into the barn Harold was shouting into the phone "But I've only got two hands!" Then he hung up. "Everyone wants everything in a hurry. That was a decorator in Oregon," he said. "She's been waiting on two upholstered chairs for six years. Big deal!"

"Tell me, Harold," I said, "is it true you're the only one in the United States who can do anything?"

"That's what they tell me," Harold said. He took a chew of tobacco. "There was a guy in Denver who also did the work but he decided to go into sales, so now I have to do it all alone." (Copyright 1973 Los Angeles Times)

A Devotion For Today

"The Kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed, the smallest of all seeds; a man takes it and sows it in his field, and when it grows up it is the biggest of all plants." (Matthew 13:31-32, TEV)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, help me to do some of those deeds and say some of those words that can change lives and last a lifetime. Amen.

Couple Killed

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) — Two residents of Wimberly were killed Tuesday when their car crashed into a freight train near this old Central Texas town.

Investigators identified the dead as Paul Brinkley, 77, and his wife Pauline, 68.

Pilot Picks Up Garbage

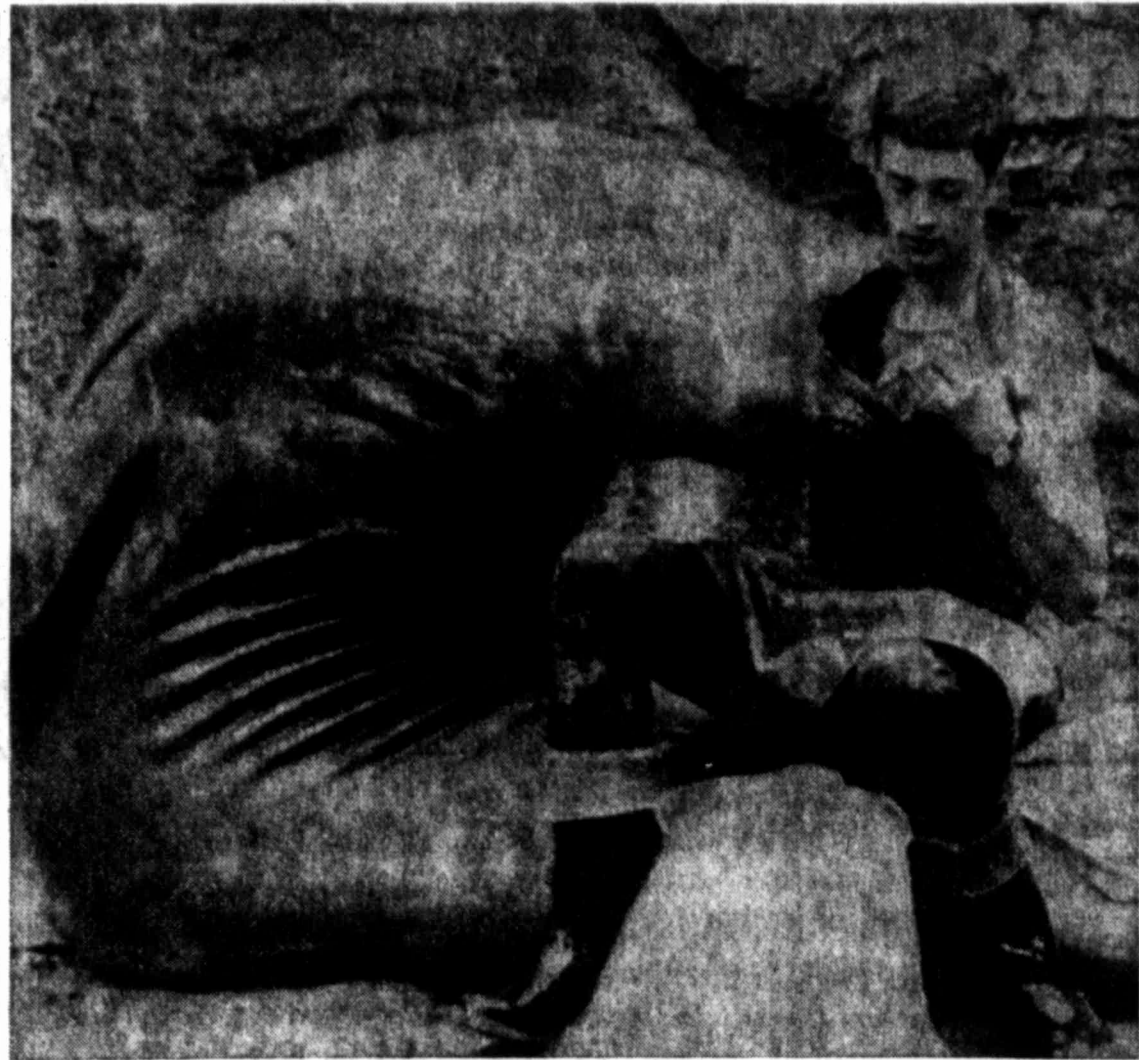

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mark Tredennick, 33, is a flight engineer for Trans World Airlines. He is also president of Mid-Continent Disposal Service Inc., a trash and garbage collection service.

He flies about two days each week for TWA and spends the rest of the week driving one of the two trucks serving some 2,000 customers in suburban Clay and Platte counties.

A native of Meriden, Conn., Tredennick is a graduate of the University of Texas and a former Marine jet pilot. He says he got into the trash hauling business more than two years ago when junior TWA flight crew members faced furlough because of a neconomic recession.

"Some guys started selling insurance, some bought some cows and others got various jobs. Me, I knew I wanted to stay with the company and fly," Tredennick says. But he has no intention of giving up the garbage business.

"It's hard work, but I'm in better shape now than at any time since I was in the Marines," Tredennick says.

Child Killed On Sidewalk

DALLAS (AP) — A truck swerving to avoid halted cars struck and killed Cheryl Birdwell, 11, on a sidewalk near a freeway exit ramp, police reported.

Officers held the truck driver without immediate charge.

They said his trailer unit, minus its usual tractor, apparently swung into an open parking area because the brakes failed as the driver tried to stop because of cars halted at an intersection.

The girl was the daughter of Ruby Birdwell of Dallas.

Devaney Named To Info Office

HOUSTON — D. W. Devaney, Houston, manager of employee relations of Continental Oil Company's Western hemisphere petroleum division, has been named state school program chairman of the Texas Oil Information Committee, according to K. R. Joyn, Houston, state chairman of the OIC of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn.

Devaney will direct all aspects of the Texas oil and gas industry's educational service program, which functions through the OIC to Texas public school systems and universities. In 1961-65 as school chairman of OIC, Devaney won the committee's Outstanding Performance Award, Special Performance Award, and the API National Service Award.

PROPERTY TAX DIRECTOR

Apologizes For Hiring New Staffers Without Checking

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Executive director Delwin Jones of the Legislative Property Tax Committee has apologized for hiring new staffers without clearing their employment with the committee.

Rep. Luther Jones, D-El Paso, complained Tuesday that the director had violated committee rules by hiring George Baker, former house member from Fort Stockton, and secretary Bonnie Griebel without consulting the committee.

2,000 A MONTH
Baker was put on payroll Aug. 1 at $968 a month to coordinate the work of several advisory councils to the committee. Mrs. Griebel started work July 30 at $630 a month.

Delwin Jones who makes $2,900 a month as director, and Mrs. Griebel both worked at one time for Sen. H. J. Blanchard, D-Lubbock, chairman of the property tax committee.

Union In Support Of Legislation

The Odessa Central Labor Union has voted to support the introduction and passage of legislation that will require cities to mark in their financial reports where tax money is contributed to lobbying and lobbying organizations, it was announced today by D. L. Willis, president of the labor organization.

"If individuals and organizations in the right to free speech and petition are required to register their activities, then it is just as right for the cities to publish their support or opposition on issues. The public has a right to know where and to whom their tax dollar is contributed," said Willis.

Most cities pay dues and contribute to the lobbying activities of such organizations as the Texas Municipal League, he added. Yet, it is difficult for a citizen to find out just how much is contributed when it is not clearly marked out in the financial reports of cities, Willis claimed.

The committee was created by the 1971 Legislature to study property taxes and to recommend improvements, but it has spent a considerable amount of time defending its creation and the payment of funds to committee members and staffers.

Blanchard first joined the committee at Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby's request to investigate the committee, and it also was the subject of an investigation by a special House committee.

WASTING MONEY
Rep. Jones said Tuesday that "one of the biggest complaints" uncovered by the House committee was that the last property tax committee "was wasting money ... and this one is wasting more."

He objected that the staff did not include anyone "with a fine legal mind who can direct the committee."

"We have you," snapped Blanchard.

Delwin Jones told the committee Baker was needed if Jones should become ill or should be fired in order that work would continue.

Later, Delwin Jones apologized for not contacting the two new employees, and he promised he would not repeat such action without first asking committee approval.

Rep. Jones had warned him that he would demand his resignation if the director continued "to violate the rules and regulations" of the committee.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 30, 1973 SEC. B

MRS. ROY PETERSON

Active Housewife Is 'Homebody' At Heart

Mrs. Roy (Barbara) Peterson likes to stay at home, take care of her family, home and yard and relax with her hobbies. There was a time when she had very little leisure time for such activities. For 12 years she worked as a secretary at Webb Air Force Base.

"Everybody told me I would get bored when I quit work," said Mrs. Peterson, "but that's not so. I love every minute of it. It's enjoyable to have time for many things I never got around to before."

Mrs. Peterson and her husband, Maj. Roy W. Peterson, reside at 701 Highland with their daughter, Lisa, 12. Since November, 1972, Maj. Peterson has been assigned at Webb as a section commander. It is his second tour at Webb, with interim assignments at Shaw AFB, S.C., and Vietnam.

Perhaps working instilled a necessity to get housework done in a hurry in Mrs. Peterson, because she still tries to have all of her daily chores done by mid-morning. Her menus are planned by the week, but are subject to change.

"If I can have everything done by nine o'clock, it leaves the rest of the day to spend on what I really enjoy," said Mrs. Peterson. She recently completed antiquing an old bedroom furniture suite. Other hobbies include yarn tapestry, yard and garden work, walking and bicycle riding.

CLUB PRESIDENT
As president of the Officers' Wives Club at Webb, Mrs. Peterson keeps quite busy with board meetings, luncheons, coffees, teas and club projects. She says most of the time involved with the office is spent on the telephone which "rings incessantly all day long." "But I have excellent people working with me, and they actually do most of the work," said Mrs. Peterson. Maj. Peterson works on alternate "early-late" shifts at Webb, and his hours may range from early morning to mid-afternoon, or late afternoon to late night. Consequently, the family meal schedule alternates accordingly.

"We always have one meal a day as a family," said Mrs. Peterson. "If he works the late schedule, we have our conversations at breakfast. If he's on 'earlies,' we talk at dinner time." Mrs. Peterson enjoys cooking, but in the summertime, she prefers cool and refreshing meals, preferably something that can be prepared on the barbecue grill outside.

"I'm trying to train him to tend the outdoor cooking," said Mrs. Peterson of her husband, but he doesn't really care for it." She is also trying to teach Lisa a little bit about cooking. She learned everything from her mother, but admits she had no interest in learning until after she married. Luckily, she lived in the same town with her mother, and she spent a lot of time on the telephone while preparing a meal.

YARDWORK
Mrs. Peterson said her family, although easy to please insofar as meals are concerned, doesn't like a lot of fancy foreign dishes. She cooks a lot of Mexican food, but considers it "as American as apple pie." They also like spaghetti.

"People shy away from cooking Mexican dishes because it makes such a mess of kitchens," said Mrs. Peterson. "But I've found that the secret is to do it in steps, and clean up the dishes and kitchen after each step."

Yardwork is Mrs. Peterson's favorite pastime, and the family's yard is evidence of a lot of hard work. A large patio area in the back is a pleasant atmosphere for relaxing evenings, and is made even more appealing by an abundance of fruit trees and flowers.

"We like to be outside," said Mrs. Peterson. "The three of us go bicycle riding every day, and I do a lot of walking." She is a native Big Spring, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Meador, 1102 E. Wood. Maj. Peterson was reared in Windsor, Colo., and attended Colorado State University at Fort Collins. The Petersons are members of Wesley United Methodist Church.

Low in cholesterol and good!

2 cups unsifted flour
1½ tps. sugar
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
2 cups skim milk
¼ cup corn oil
In a medium mixing bowl stir together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. In a small mixing bowl stir together milk and corn oil; add to flour mixture, stirring just until dry ingredients are moistened — mixture may be lumpy. Using about ¼ cup batter for each, bake pancakes on hot, lightly greased griddle, turning once, until golden brown on both sides. Makes 14. To keep cholesterol low, serve pancakes with margarine that has liquid corn oil listed as the first ingredient on the label.

Home Delivery

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to the letter stating deliverymen and servicemen often combine business with pleasure where housewives were concerned. In my 20 years of marriage I have not had one man make any advances toward me.

I have been told I am very attractive, and my 19-year-old son has said, "Mom, if you weren't my mother, I could go for you."

I have let servicemen into my home, even leading them down the cellar. Sometimes there were two of them, and if any of them ever had any ideas, they never showed it. They simply read the meter, checked the gauge, or did whatever they came to do, and left.

Once a fellow did indicate that he wouldn't mind hanging around. He said, "Mmmmmmm, that apple pie you're baking sure smells good. I can smell the cinnamon."

My answer was, "Oh, really?" And that was the end of that. It must be a very lonely housewife who sent out signals that would make a serviceman think he had a chance with her.

NO FOOLING AROUND
DEAR NO: You're lucky you had a serviceman who only wanted a piece of your apple pie. One woman wrote to say the meterman told her he'd heard that she had a water bed, and could he bounce around on it a bit just to see how it felt.

DEAR ABBY: For years my husband, son, and I have been planning a grand trip to Europe. (Combining our 25th wedding anniversary, our son's college graduation, plus visiting a French couple who saved my husband's life during World War II.) We have our reservations, passports, new clothes, etc., and are scheduled to leave in three weeks.

However, my mother-in-law, who lives in the midwest, just phoned to say she plans to have cataract surgery one week before we leave! She has known about this for two years, but has been putting it off. My husband spoke to her doctor who says a three week delay won't harm her.

Should we ask her to postpone her surgery for three more weeks until we get back? My husband says, no matter what, our trip is still on, but I can't see how we could go and have a good time with her in the hospital. We have spent every vacation with her for 24 years, and now I feel it is our turn.

What is your opinion? Am I selfish, or is she being contrary? And what if she doesn't postpone it? TORN
DEAR TORN: If she's put off the cataract surgery for two years, and her doctor says another three weeks delay won't harm her, go, have a wonderful time, and don't feel guilty.

Women Travel Davis Mountains

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. L. B. McElrath and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Walter Fry, Coleman, returned recently from a trip to the Davis Mountains. They visited Mrs. Fannie Pruett and Mrs. Jetty Smith, both of Marfa; Mrs. Ora Prude, Fort Davis; the Q. A. Crenshaws, Balmorhea; and the Roy Gobers and Mrs. Jodie Rowe, all of Odessa.

NSA Plans Marathon Of Bridge

Plans were made Monday evening at Coker's Restaurant for a "bridge marathon" sponsored by National Secretaries Association. The marathon is held annually to raise money for the club scholarship fund.

The marathon will begin Sept. 15, and anyone interested in playing should contact Mrs. William A. Bryans at 263-3703. It was announced that this year's scholarship went to Miss Glenda Jo Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones. She plans to attend Howard County Junior College.

Tom Locke, division manager of Big Spring Division, Texas Electric Service Company, discussed the "Energy Situation." Prayer was led by Mrs. Judy Lowe.

ABWA Unit Has "Tacky" Party

A "tacky party" was held Tuesday evening by Cactus Chapter, American Business Woman's Association, at First Federal Community Room.

Prizes for the tackiest costumes went to Mrs. Robert Sparks, first; Mrs. Garland Conway, second; and Mrs. Maurine Hanks, third. Chairwoman for the contest was Mrs. Davis Jansch, assisted by Mrs. Max Pitts. Table decorations followed the "tacky" theme, using a red plaid oil cloth and a centerpiece of wild flowers and weeds in a coffee can.

The chapter's "Preview 25" tea is scheduled from 3-5 p.m., Sept. 9 at the home of Mrs. Carl Aageson, 508 Highland. The tea is for members and their guests.

MR. AND MRS. ALFRED W. MOODY

Forsan Residents Take Vacation, Have Guests

FORSAN (SC) — The Charles McGuires of Monahans were recent guests of her parents, the Doyle Gilmores.

Recent guests of Mrs. H. H. Story were Mrs. James Spenrath and son, Lubbock; Mrs. Aubrey Fulcher, Midland; Mrs. W. E. Stockton, Sand Springs; and E. J. Stockton, Colorado City.

The T. D. Breithaupt has returned to Odessa following a recent visit with her mother, Mrs. J. H. Cardwell.

Mrs. S. C. Cowley has been released from Medical Center Memorial Hospital.

James Craig and his daughter, both of Robert Lee, were recent guests of Mrs. Vera Harris and the J. M. Craigs.

Mrs. L. S. Camp and Mrs. T. R. Camp accompanied their brother Jay Williams of Coahoma, to Fort Worth recently where they visited their sister, Mrs. George Stewart. Mrs. Stewart is a patient at Harris Hospital following surgery.

Trips to Arizona and California are planned by the J. W. Overtons, Mrs. T. A. Rankin, Jal, N.M.; and the Calvin Rankins, Odessa.

The group left recently to visit Mrs. T. A. Rankin's son, Jeff Rankin, Kingman, Ariz.; and her daughter and family, the W. J. Allison, San Diego, Calif.

Drumright Group Sets "Work Day"

A community meeting was held in the Drumright Community Center Monday evening, with Eugene Smith, chairman, presiding. A work day is scheduled Sept. 9, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Members of the community will work on improvements at the center.

Don Stringer, school superintendent, and Ed Putnam, principal at Garden City, discussed the proposed new school in the area. A bond issue is scheduled Sept. 4. The men told the group what the appearance of the school would be and how it would affect the tax rate. They said the cost would be about $450,000.

The next community meeting is scheduled 7:30 p.m., Sept. 24 at the community center.

Reception To Honor Alfred W. Moodys

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Moody, 1514 Tucson, will be honored for their 50th wedding anniversary with a reception Sunday afternoon at First Federal Community Room. No invitations have been sent, but friends and relatives of the couple are invited to call between 2:30-4:30 p.m.

Hosting the occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Deats, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pickle, Mrs. Chester Matheny, all of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rolley, San Antonio; Mrs. Randall Pickle, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rix, Odessa; Mrs. Lewis Rix Sr., Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCarty, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whitaker and Mrs. Less Whitaker Jr., all of Amarillo.

In addition to the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Moody have been given a trip to Hawaii by their children, Mrs. Fred (Elizabeth) Stitzell, Garland; and Alfred Moody, Santa Anna, Calif. Another son, Charles Vernon, died in 1951 while serving with the Army infantry in Korea. The Moodys have seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody were married Sept. 1, 1923 at the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Deats who then resided at 708 Main. Mrs. Moody, the former Martha Louise Deats, was born and reared in Big Spring. Moody was reared in Mineola (Wood County), the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Moody. He moved to Big Spring with his family in 1919.

Except for 18 months in San Antonio and two years of farming in Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Moody have resided in Big Spring since their marriage. He first worked as a "call boy" for Texas and Pacific Railroad, and recalls that during the depression years he worked for $12 per week with the National Recovery Act of President Roosevelt's administration. During these lean years, Mrs. Moody helped by doing baking, taking orders for bread, coffee cakes, cookies or pies from neighbors and friends.

"We had three children to raise," said Mrs. Moody, "but even during those years, it never dawned on us to go on welfare. We worked! Now it seems nobody thinks much about taking welfare."

Through his work with the NRA, Moody obtained the background to work on the police force. He was on the local force from 1932 to 1944, obtaining the position of assistant chief. In 1944 he went to work for the post office and served 23 years as a letter carrier. "I had the same route for 21 years," said Moody. "I did a lot of walking, and I got to know the people real well." Moody retired in 1972.

The honoree's were married by the late Rev. Ben Hardy, first pastor of First United Methodist Church, where the couple is still active. Mrs. Moody recalls most of the events surrounding the wedding. Several of those who attended or served at the wedding will be here for the reception, including Miss Winnie Dell Rhoton and Miss Lillian Rhoton. The Rhoton sisters gave her a breakfast prior to the wedding. Mrs. Moody's parents hosted a breakfast the morning of the wedding.

Besides activities at the church, the Moodys belong to several other organizations. Mrs. Moody does volunteer work at Veterans Administration Hospital, is a 50-year member of Order of Eastern Star Chapter 67; serves as vice president of American Gold Star Mothers and belongs to Friendship Breakfast Club and Letter Carriers Auxiliary. Moody belongs to the National Association of Letter Carriers and to Men's Bible Class at the church.

Receiving guests with the Moodys at Sunday's reception will be Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stitzell, Garland; and Alfred Moody, Santa Anna, Calif.

Mrs. Moody will be attired in a street-length dress fashioned princess style with long sleeves and a rounded neckline. Small silver beads and rhinestones accent the neckline and sleeves. She will be presented a corsage of yellow roses, and Moody will receive a gold miniature carnation boutonniere.

Members of the house party will alternate at the refreshment table which will be covered with an imported cloth of white cutwork linen with insets of patterned lace. The lace is repeated on the border of the cloth. A crystal epergne of gold carnations surrounded by white miniature pompon mums and babies-breath will center the table, and appointments will be crystal and silver.

Presiding at the guest registry will be the honoree's granddaughters, Sarah Moody, Denton; and Martha Ann Stitzell, Garland; and their great-niece, Annabeth Deats, Big Spring.

Guests expected from out of town include Moody's sister, Mrs. Lena Blanton, San Antonio; his aunts, Miss Ruth Lewis and Miss Bess Collett, both of Dallas; the couple's grandson, Charles Vessell, Garland; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Pickle, Austin; Tom Pickle, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Blount, New Braunfels; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rix Jr., and children, Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Pickle and children, El Paso.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

After years of losing the belts to my bathrobes and always when I was half asleep, I discovered a solution: sew the middle of the belt to the middle of the back of the bathrobe. Since we all often have matching robes, there was an unexpected side benefit. There's no more explosion as Dad somehow manages to get son's belt, and struggles vainly to get this (way too small) belt around his middle, or vice versa, and son tries to wrap and wrap and wrap Dad's belt around his own much smaller middle... Billie Wheelchel

TO THE POINT:

Dear Heloise: The story about opening a pincushion, which appeared in your column recently really intrigued me. You remember, the lady opened up an old pin cushion and found 76 needles.

Well, I had a very old one and was running short of needles.

What fun! Not only did I find 88 needles, but some of them had not seen the light of day for at least 20 years...

Would like to know if anyone can top my count? ... Mrs. T.J.

Well, gal, up to now, you are the winner, but the letters continue to come in. I'm anxious to hear if you can be topped... Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I enjoy baking cookies for others, especially my sister and brother-in-law. However, I never know what they have on hand and sometimes it creates a surplus.

One day I had mixed the dough, but didn't have time to bake, so I took it along anyway.

It worked out so well. My sister could bake them as she had time and this way they were fresh. I have continued this and it seems welcome with others who have small families... Theadora Olmsted

Dear Heloise:

I love to stockpile groceries I can buy at bargain prices, but was handicapped by lack of storage space in my small kitchen. My husband came to my rescue and built me a set of shelves in the garage.

This was great, but since I am not a tall woman, I could not easily reach cans on the top shelves.

Then I spotted the magnet my husband uses when he loses small parts when working on the car. It has a telescoping handle and gives me an extra three feet of height.

The magnet is strong enough to latch onto and hold a fairly large can and my problem was solved... Christy Nelson

Dear Heloise:

My sister was married recently and it fell my lot to copy all of Mom's favorite recipes for her to begin housekeeping with.

I used one color for the ingredients and another for the directions.

Mom thought this was such a great idea because it was much easier to read while preparing a recipe. She suggested that I write and tell you about it... Denise Jones, Age 12

This column is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Now kids can look it up in their own Funk & Wagnalls.

After 60 years of making encyclopedias for adults, Funk & Wagnalls has learned enough to make one for children.

It's called the Young Students Encyclopedia. And it's designed to do something more than just get them through the next homework assignment—to make them want to learn on their own.

Instead of burdening your children with tons of forgettable detail, it appeals to their native curiosity. The article on Airplanes, for example, illustrates an experiment children can perform at home showing how things fly. There are hundreds of other drawings, games and puzzles that not only teach but provoke, involve and entertain in the process.

In other words, it's an encyclopedia children will actually use. They'll also use it a long time. It's designed to be simple enough for children just learning to read and comprehensive enough to serve until they're ready for an adult encyclopedia. They can't outgrow it the way they do shoes.

Which brings up another nice point about the Young Students Encyclopedia: it's intended exclusively to help children, but it helps grown-ups too.

First, it doesn't put much of a dent in your budget. Since it's sold direct to you through us, you can buy the complete 20-volume set a volume or two a week for only $1.69 each. And the first volume for the introductory price of a quarter.

Second, it helps prevent you from doing what you shouldn't be doing anyway—your children's homework. It provides the answers; you just provide the encouragement.

So instead of just shopping for things to nourish growing bodies, come in and pick up a Young Students Encyclopedia. And nourish their minds as well.

STILL, IT WAS DEFEAT FOR CHIEF EXECUTIVE Nixon Wins Right To Protect Privacy

By VERNON A. GUIDRY Jr., Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has won a federal district court's endorsement of his right to protect official privacy. Still, it was a defeat for the chief executive.

Chief U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica acknowledged that the need for presidential privacy carries with it a privilege to withhold evidence. Yet, his decision was an affirmation of judicial prerogative.

These seemingly contradictory results from Wednesday's decision by Sirica in the White House Watergate tapes controversy stem from a refusing of attention from the question of privilege to one of power—judicial versus presidential.

FREEDOM

Lawyers in the case—Special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox on one side, the White House on the other—spent much time on the need for protection of presidential privacy, and the purported great or small loss in freedom and candor in the White House if privacy and confidentiality cannot be guaranteed.

Sirica touched on those arguments only briefly in his 23-page opinion, concluding, "the court is willing here to recognize and give effect to an evidentiary privilege based on the need to protect presidential privacy."

But Sirica issued an order demanding that Nixon turn over for private judicial inspection tapes of nine White House conversations touching on Watergate.

Despite the agreement over privilege, Nixon and Sirica each claims for his branch of government the power to determine when that privilege may be invoked.

Nixon and his lawyers have

Innocent, Says Agnew Salute Representative

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A representative of the "Salute to Ted Agnew Night" committee pleaded innocent Wednesday to four counts of conspiracy to violate state election laws.

The committee was indicted last week for allegedly reporting that a $49,900 loan from the Committee to Re-elect the President represented ticket sales to the "Salute to Ted Agnew Night," a fund-raiser held in the vice president's honor in May of 1972.

Alexander Lankler, chairman of the Maryland Republican Party and a member of the committee, pleaded innocent on arraignment of the committee before Anne Arundel County Circuit Court Judge George Sasse.

No trial date was set. The indictment charged the committee but no individuals. Seven persons were listed as "alleged co-conspirators" but not individually charged. The committee faces a maximum of a $4,000 fine if convicted.

Nixon Aide Paid Campaign Agent $1,000-A-Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — A second $1,000-a-week Nixon campaign agent was identified today by Murray Chotiner, a long-time Nixon political associate.

Chotiner said he hired Correspondent Seymour Freidin to report on the activities of Democratic presidential candidates in 1971 and 1972.

Chotiner said Freidin, now reportedly based in London, sent him first-hand reports on the activities of all the leading contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination during the period leading up to last year's party convention.

He said these included Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Henry M. Jackson of Washington, as well as the eventual nominee, George S. McGovern of South Dakota.

Chotiner said he also received incidental information about the campaign of former Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty, but that Freidin did not join Yorty's entourage.

Freidin followed the McGovern campaign for a time after the Miami Beach convention, but found other employment in September and quit the political agent job, Chotiner said.

It was then that Chotiner hired Lucy Goldberg, who also posed as a reporter while filing daily reports to Chotiner. Mrs. Goldberg stayed with the McGovern campaign until the November election.

argued that an incumbent president is and must be beyond the reach of a court order.

BEYOND REACH

"A holding that the President is personally subject to the orders of a court would effectively destroy the status of the executive branch as an equal and coordinate element of government," they argued in an early brief in the case.

They argued that the President is not above the law, but rather beyond its reach save for the method set forth in the Constitution: impeachment. Sirica would have none of it.

"The availability of evidence or anyone else, to make each including the validity and scope officer the judge of his own privilege, would dishonor the genius of our constitutional system and breed unbearable and abdicating this role to presidents' abuses," he wrote.

AGREEMENT VICTORY FOR SADAT
Egypt, Libya Will Merge

CAIRO (AP) — Arab unity Libyan strongman Moammar Khadafy had agreed on the procedure by which their two countries would merge. The agreement was a victory for Sadat, who had insisted on a cautious, one-step-at-a-time approach to unification instead of completion of the merger by Sept. 1, as Khadafy wanted.

The two leaders agreed that the first step would be the creation on Saturday of a 100-member constituent assembly to draft a constitution for the still unnamed new state. The assembly will include 50 members of Egypt's Parliament and 50 members of the Libyan Popular Revolutionary Committee.

FIRST STEP
 After the constitution is completed, it will be submitted to the people of both countries at a referendum. But no timetable was specified for completion of the constitution or proclamation of the union.

The agreement specified that Sadat and Khadafy will remain in power in their respective countries until the merger is completed. The constituent assembly is to nominate a president for the new nation, and Khadafy has said he will step aside in favor of Sadat.

The convening of the constitutional assembly on Saturday was viewed as a face-saving device for Khadafy. He had wanted the merger to be accomplished on that day because it is the fourth anniversary of his revolution that overthrew the Libyan monarchy, and the agreement gives him something to put before his people as an anniversary present.

COMMON COINS
 The two leaders also invited other Arab countries to join their union and agreed to create a new common currency called the Arab dinar to replace the Egyptian pound and the Libyan dinar. No date was set for putting it into use, however.

Sadat and the Egyptian people have long been cool to the idea of speedy union because of Khadafy's insistence in Libya on strict adherence to Islamic law. Nearly a fifth of Egypt's citizens are Christians of the Coptic sect and since 1952 Egypt officially has been a nonsectarian socialist state.

Egypt is attracted to the merger, however, by Libya's rich oil reserves. Libya has only 2 million people to benefit from the oil wealth, while Egypt, with a population of 55 million, has long been mired down in poverty stemming from unchecked population growth, a massive armament program and a lack of natural resources.

Military Police To Share Chore

Members of the 402nd Military Police Battalion of the Texas State Guard will assist the Department of Public Safety on Operation Motorcade over Labor Day weekend.

Texas State Guard military police headquarters and the Big Spring Five Watters CV Radio Club will help in an area west of Big Spring on Interstate 20.

McLaughlin Will Be At Conclave

Ralph McLaughlin, local school board member, will represent Big Spring at the state convention of school boards and school administrators in Austin Sept. 29 and 30.

The annual banquet will feature Max Felty, executive director of the Louisiana Educational Television Authority, as speaker. There will be special programs on the quarter system, new kindergarten program, bilingual education, individualized instruction, teaching gifted math students and other current education topics.

 2 1/2 to 3 lb. fryer, cut up (or use fryer parts)
 1/2 cup flour
 1 tsp. powdered ginger
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/2 cup cooking oil
 1 cup chopped green onion
 1/2 lb. sliced mushrooms
 14 1/2 oz. can sliced pineapple
 1/2 cup papaya juice or apricot nectar
 10 1/2 oz. can chicken consommé
 1 tbsp. soy sauce
 2 1/4 oz. pkg. sliced almonds
 Salt to taste.

Combine flour, ginger, salt in paper bag; shake chicken parts in mixture. Brown in hot oil; set chicken aside. Drain fat; return 1/4 cup to skillet and saute onions and mushrooms. Add browned chicken, syrup from pineapple, papaya juice or apricot nectar, consommé, soy sauce; simmer, covered, 1/2 hour. Salt to taste. Add pineapple, almonds; cook 15 min. or till chicken is tender. Makes 4-6 servings.

$5 MILLION BUSINESS Neon World Of Dizzy Spins, Backward Tilts

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Frank Hrubetz and Jack Eyerley produce a steel and neon world of dizzy spins and backward tilts. Hrubetz and Eyerley design and manufacture carnival rides and they say business has never been better. Between them they will gross about $5 million this year supplying Loop-O-Planes, Round-Ups, Rock-O-Planes, Paratroopers, Octopus rides and other machines of the midway to carnivals and amusement parks. NEW RULES Eyerley Aircraft Co., which hasn't built a plane since the depression but keeps the name, sticks with the thrill rides that have been midway attractions for decades. "Every ride we ever built, we're still building," Eyerley, the second generation owner said. "The last new ride we came out with was the Rock-O-Plane — that was in 1948." Hrubetz, who got his start with Eyerley, still designs and produces new rides. His specialty is rides based on the idea of the inclined wheel. They start out flat, like CONTACT: (Q) I am 15 and Bud is 17. I have been dating him about a month and we are both good Christian kids. I have never overstayed my curfew and have always behaved myself like a lady, so my parents trust me, and have every reason to.

But tonight my father's behavior shocked both my mother and me. All of us, including Bud, were watching TV. During a commercial Bud and I got to clowning around. I was pulling the hair on his ankle and he was pretending to choke me.

My mom laughed at us, but my father didn't. After Bud left, my dad crawled all over me. He forbade me to see Bud again, because of our "indecent bodily contact." Is that fair? What should I do? — Stunned in Louisiana.

(A) Your father grew up in a world in which boys and girls in the main did less clowning around than they do today. You see ankle-touching and throat-grabbing as innocent fun. He sees something else. Both of you base your opinions on your own experience, and each of you is justified in his opinion.

He waited until Bud left to talk to you. This tells me he is reasonable and that you two can probably talk openly to each other after you have cooled off.

Talk to him about this episode and about any other matters on which you disagree. Bring your mother into the conversations. Remember that your father is a male, and that he sees contact from a male viewpoint. And remember in your future contacts with boys that a touch or a grab can quickly turn into something much bigger if you let it.

PLAYER: (Q) Hilda and I have been going together about six weeks. She is great. My problem is that she is on a softball team and I never get to see her. If I don't see her soon I'll go crazy. Please tell me what to do. — Lonesome in New Mexico.

(A) While Hilda is playing softball, you could sit in the stands and watch her. But she can't be playing softball all the time.

Are you sure that is the real reason she is too busy to see you? It occurs to me that she may not like you as much as you like her.

If she doesn't don't suffer needlessly. Find a girl who likes to be with you.

Rogers To Rejoin Newspaper Chain

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — William P. Rogers will rejoin the Gannett Co. Inc. board of directors after he leaves his post as secretary of state Sept. 3.

Rogers was on the board of the communications firm before he was appointed to the Cabinet job in December 1968.

The Gannett company, headquartered here, is numerically the largest newspaper chain in the nation with 53 dailies in 16 states and on Guam in addition to newsprint and broadcast interests.

REFUSE TO BLOCK EXAMINATION Mass Sex Slayings Probe

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Lawyers for Elmer Wayne Henley Jr. say they will appeal the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals' refusal to block a psychiatric examination for the Houston youth.

Henley, 17, had been indicted in eight of 27 known sex-torture slayings in the worst recorded mass murder case of this century. The court took just over an hour Wednesday to overrule Henley's attorney's request that it prohibit the psychiatric examination ordered Aug. 22 by State District Court Judge William Hatten of Houston.

WILL APPEAL
Ed Pegelow, one of Henley's three lawyers, said the decision would be appealed either to the Texas Supreme Court or to a federal court in Houston.

Dist. Atty. Carol Vance of Houston had sought Hatten's order so he could obtain an early reading on Henley's competency to stand trial and possible evidence with which to rebut a defense of insanity.

Hatten ordered Harris County Sheriff Jack Heard to take Henley to the county's psychiatric unit for an examination outside the presence of either defense or prosecution attorneys.

Uegelow said the next step might be an appeal to the Texas Supreme Court, although that court has jurisdiction only in non-criminal cases.

The court might have jurisdiction over the sanity matter, Pegelow said, because the issue of a person's present mental competence is a civil matter.

INSANE?
Henley's lawyers claimed Texas law gives the courts no right to order a psychiatric examination unless and until the insanity issue has been raised by the defense.

And they claim they have never raised the issue, although defense lawyer Charles Melder of Houston has told reporters insanity would, indeed, be Henley's defense. They hope, however, for acquittal on grounds that police obtained statements from Henley unconstitutionally.

They contend no attorney was present when Henley waived his right to remain silent, told police where to find 27 graves of teen-age boys and young men and gave officers other statements.

The mass killings came to light Aug. 8 when Henley called police and told them he had killed Dean Corll, 33, whom he portrayed as the mastermind of a homosexual pandering, torture and murder ring.

David Owen Brooks, 18, also has been indicted in connection with eight of the slayings.

LIFE IN CONCRETE—There is an old saying, "grass doesn't grow on a busy street" but it apparently doesn't refer to sunflowers. This flower, rooted in a crevice in the concrete median strip of North Central Expressway in Dallas, is in full blossom in defiance of its harsh environment, and perhaps, offers some message to motorists whizzing past daily. The Dallas skyline is in the background.

18-Year-Olds Queue Up To Purchase Beer Here

"On Monday morning when I opened the doors, there were some 18-year-olds waiting on the doorstep to buy beer," one Big Spring package store manager stated here this week.

"We had a steady run of them all day Monday, again Monday night and Tuesday night, but I'm sure it will taper off. They run out of money pretty quick," he added.

Another package store manager stated, "Half my customers since Sunday night and the new state laws have been youths between 18 and 21. They buy mostly beer — very little hard liquor."

Stores on the fringe of Big Spring reported that they had a run Monday night from youths from dry cities near-by and that "They all seemed pretty happy about the new laws."

One 19-year-old here questioned as he left a grocery store with a six-pack said, "Well, when I used to buy it, I'd wait outside until somebody would come along that would go in and get it for me. Sometimes I had to pay him a fee. So now I can buy it myself."

A local nightclub owner said they had some "of the younger crowd the first night. They were celebrating the new laws."

One 18-year-old youth stated, "Well, it makes the 18th birthday a little bit better. First we just got to register for the draft on our 18th birthday. We were old enough to get killed. Then they decided we were old enough to vote and now they have agreed that we are adults. It makes more sense."

One cafe manager here, in a restaurant which serves beer, reported a humorous incident that occurred Monday night. "The 18-year-old at the table ordered a bottle of beer with his meal."

And before the waitress could write it down, the father stated, "Not while I'm paying the bills." The youth drank iced tea.

Plane Boardings Within State Up

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Passenger service on airlines operating within the state boundaries show a 13 per cent gain for the second quarter of the year, the Texas Aeronautics Commission says.

The six commuter airlines regulated by the commission reported combined passenger boardings of 214,834 for April 1 through June 30, compared to 191,171 for Jan. 1 through March 31.

The six intrastate carriers are Amistad Airlines of Del Rio, Davis Airlines of Bryan-College Station, Houston Metro, Maverick Airways of Eagle Pass, Rio Airways of Killen and Southwest Airlines of Dallas.

But while all of the other youths were out buying booze, two Big Spring 18-year-old boys went even further with their newly-claimed adulthood. They really jumped off the deep end.

The county clerk's office reported that two 18-year-old boys have purchased marriage licenses without the consent of a parent since the new laws went into effect at midnight Sunday.

116th Traffic Death In RGV

ROMA, Tex. (AP) — The 116th traffic death of the year in the Lower Rio Grande Valley occurred Tuesday when a car driven by a young woman slammed into a Customs building at the International Bridge.

Maria Elva Villarreal, 29, of Roma was killed. Officers blamed the accident on faulty brakes.

The five-county Valley area counted a record 116 deaths in traffic crashes last year. With 128 days left in 1973, it already has equalled the mark.
