Your Pocketbook Inflation Getting Worse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Price of farm products increased by a record 23.1 per cent at the wholesale level in August and the nation's inflation approached the worst rate of this century, the Labor Department said today.

The department's Wholesale Price Index showed the over-all increase in wholesale prices during August was 5.8 per cent on an unadjusted basis and 6.2 per cent when adjusted for seasonal variations.

The over-all increase in the wholesale index was not a record, but was the highest since an 8.1 per cent rise in wholesale prices in October of 1946.

BACK IN 1946 The record monthly increase for this century occurred in July of 1946 when it was 10.7 per cent. The increase in price of farm products was led by higher prices for livestock, grains, oil seeds, poultry, eggs, cotton and milk, and was just about double the previous record monthly increase of 11.9 per cent in July of 1946.

The Labor Department also reported a slight increase in the country's unemployment rate in August to 4.8 per cent of the labor force, up from 4.7 per cent in July.

Administration officials have expressed fear that the August Wholesale Price Index, which shows what happened to prices after the government price freeze was lifted Aug. 12, could lead the new Phase 4 anti-inflation program a major psychological blow.

Drag Dead From Trains

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A rush hour commuter train crashed into the rear of a halted train in a Copenhagen tunnel today, and rescuers dragged dead and injured from at least three totally wrecked cars.

Firemen and other rescuers used cranes to hoist stretchers with victims to street level. The engine and several cars of the commuter train were on top of the rear cars of the halted train, and were crushed against the tunnel ceiling.

Unemployment Rate Up WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate, after declining for two months, edged up slightly in August as the economy continued to cool, the government said today.

Lions' Barbecue Slated Tonight

One of the best of the city's food bargains will be offered by the Evening Lions Club at the High School Cafeteria from 5 until 8 o'clock this evening, at which time it will stage its annual barbecue.

The meal is timed to coincide with the first home game of the Big Spring Steers. The Bold Gold opens against Lubbock Monterey this evening. Plates will be $2 each and beef with all the trimmings is included on the menu. Those who desire can take out plates by calling in advance.

Terrorists Release Four From Plane

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Palestinian gunmen seeking the release of a guerrilla leader from a Jordanian prison released four crewmen from a Kuwaiti plane today, but still held onto six Arab hostages, a Kuwait radio broadcast said.

The release came as the Palestinians resumed bargaining with Kuwait officials over their demands.

The five gunmen returned to Kuwait earlier without carrying out their threat to throw the six Saudi Arabian hostages out of a circling airliner one by one.

The Palestinians had taken off in a Kuwaiti airliner to circle Riyadh, the Saudi Arabian capital. They said unless the Kuwait government assured them it would arrange for the release within 12 hours of guerrilla leader Abu Daoud, they would first drop the hostages on Riyadh and then blow up four themselves, the plane and its four Kuwaiti crewmen.

An informant at the Kuwait airport said the gunmen ordered the plane back to the Persian Gulf sheikdom after the Kuwait control tower told them no government official could be reached to receive their ultimatum because it was Friday, the Moslem sabbath.

The source said the gunmen were "fiercely insisting" on radio contact with Kuwait's defense minister, Sheikh Saad Abdullah el Salem, or some other top government official.

The gunmen and their hostages arrived in Kuwait early today from Paris aboard a Syrian airliner. Sheikh Saad told them he could not guarantee to obtain Abu Daoud's release, and the Palestinians accepted his offer of a Kuwait Airlines Boeing 707 jet to take them to Riyadh, since the Saudi government might have more influence with the Jordanians.

Moments before takeoff, the gunmen radioed their ultimatum to the control tower. Abu Daoud is serving a life sentence for plotting to overthrow King Hussein. Jordan's foreign minister refused on Thursday to arrange for his release.

The gunmen, reportedly led by a 35-year-old Jordanian doctor, had held 15 persons captive in the Saudi embassy in Paris but let nine of them go before leaving the French capital Thursday afternoon.

Minister Of Music Stabbed To Death In His Apartment

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Eliza Cook, 63, minister of music at St. Stephen Presbyterian Church, was found slain at his apartment Thursday.

Investigators said he was stabbed 14 times in the chest and once in the neck, and a length of electrical cord was looped about the neck.

Dr. Felix Gwozdz, county medical examiner, ruled it was a case of homicide. He said five of the wounds were in the heart were the cause of death and Cook also was "strangled with a cord."

Rains, belated but welcome, soaked the Howard County area Thursday afternoon and night, pouring out from an inch and a half to more than three inches.

It will be of tremendous benefit to crops and pastures, those familiar with the agricultural scene agreed.

Big Spring came in for better than two inches, but to the south and east the intensity increased. To the west rainfall gradually lightened, but to the north it dropped off rather rapidly so that at Ackerly there was only half an inch, the same amount reported at Lamesa.

While this appeared to be the picture for Dawson and the western half of Borden County, the northeast quarter of Howard and the east part of Borden came in for an inch to an inch and a half of moisture.

Mitchell County got a two to three-inch soaking.

TOO LATE The rains provided a life-saver in some quarters, but for the most part they were too late to hold out hopes of new cotton. Many fields, however, with tiny bolls, now have a chance for those to mature into full bolls. Rain may cause some of the small stuff to throw off as new growth starts.

Except to the southeast, little stock water was trapped in tanks because the steady fall was relatively slow. Everywhere, grass was rejuvenated and given an excellent chance to be strong by first frost time.

At the north edge of Big Spring, the U.S. Experiment farm reported 1.47 inches for the 24-hour period. This made 17.11 for the year, compared to an average of 12.27 at this date.

Elsewhere in the city reports indicated 2.2 inches or more. One gauge on the south edge showed 3.0.

The east side had 2.25 and the Texas Electric Service Company switching station measured 2.32.

Stanton reported 1.2 inches, but Lomax, in the southwest corner of Howard, had 2.25. The Wilkinson Ranch west of Big Spring reported 1.5.

Northwest of Big Spring the rain measured up to 1.7 south of Knott to 1.0 south of Ackerly, but from Ackerly east into Borden, the total was half an inch.

Vealmoor had 1.2 inches, the Wilson Ranch on the Howard-Borden line reported 1.3 and the Whitmire Ranch in Borden County 1.10 inches.

pumping station 1.6 was measured. Dunn, in northwest Mitchell, had 1.7, but this increased to 2.4 midway to Colorado City, then was 2.1 just north of town.

Lake Thomas measured only .90 of an inch on an incomplete report. The amount lessened progressively to the west until it was .50 at Lamesa. Muleshoe Ranch in southwest Borden County reported half an inch.

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Rebeling prisoners at Stateville Penitentiary released 10 hostages and returned to their cells after officials threatened to send in state police with tear gas.

Their demand for amnesty was denied by Gov. Daniel Walker, but they were promised there would be "no reprisals in terms of brutality."

The prisoners seized control of a cellblock Thursday, taking 10 guards hostage during the noon lunch hour. With riot-equipped police standing by, the inmates yielded eight hours later to Walker's demand that no negotiations would take place until the hostages were released.

"I will not negotiate while hostages are being held and I will not grant amnesty," Walker said from his home in Springfield.

The hostages were released after 8 p.m. One of the hostages with a history of heart trouble was admitted to a hospital where he was listed in good condition. Another hostage was roughed up. The others appeared unharmed, officials said.

Following the release, Allyn and Royce Burrows of San Angelo.

Presidents of local chapters are also expected to head up their delegations. Jimmy Partin is president of the Abilene Jaycees, expected to bring in the largest group.

State President John Thompson will highlight the meet Saturday night when he addresses the Jaycees, who will come from 10 area cities.

Thompson, from Huntsville, will speak during the featured banquet Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Ramada Inn, headquarters for the activities.

Also on hand will be Administrative National Director Milt Saltzman of Pampa, National Director Huck Downs of San Angelo and State Vice-Presidents Fred Simpson of Big Spring, Leroy Roach of Abilene and Royce Burrows of San Angelo. Presidents of local chapters are also expected to head up their delegations.

Texas Electric Service reports showed 2.32 here, 2.00 at Colorado City, 3.33 at Sweetwater (where 3.5 had fallen over the previous two-day period), Lamesa .50, Wildhorse Creek 3.01 and Morgan 2.86 (both northeast of Big Spring), Otischalk (southeast of Big Spring) 2.17, Garden City 2.28.

Luther, in north central Howard, had 1.6 inches, a real boon to this tightland area.

St. Lawrence Community southwest of Garden City had its grain sorghum harvest halted by the rain. The rain, amounting to 2 1/4 inches over the last two days, revived some cotton which had been damaged or ragged by spots of hail.

Apparently, only modest runoff resulted from the rain, but there was a possibility that Lake Spence might pick up some water on the basis of reports of gauges for the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Rain contributed to a couple of minor traffic mishaps in Big Spring, to two cars stalled in high water. It also caused Texas International to overfly to Hobbs, N.M., after attempts to set down. Telephone crews, pushing to splice cable, had operations halted overnight but were back at it early Friday.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Egil Krogh Jr. says he regrets the "mistake" of White House efforts to get Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatric records. But he says he felt the plan was fully authorized and lawful.

The solemn Krogh, speaking publicly for the first time about the 1971 break-in at the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist, said he was told the "covert activity" was necessary for an "urgent security purpose."

Krogh, who supervised the secret White House "plumbers squad," pleaded innocent Thursday in Los Angeles Superior Court to charges of burglary, conspiracy and solicitation of a burglary. Then he broke his long public silence on the break-in.

REAL REGRETS "I distinctly feel now that the decision that was made in 1971 to go forward with the covert operation was a mistake," Krogh said in a courthouse corridor news conference. "I felt it was a mistake immediately thereafter when details of its execution were presented to me."

The square-jawed Krogh said the plumbers unit was formed in 1971 by President Nixon. He said the legal defense at his trial would center around instructions he received about the break-in's relation to national security.

NO DATE The four defendants were indicted in the Sept. 3, 1971, break-in at the Beverly Hills office of Dr. Lewis Fielding. Revelation of the burglary triggered a series of disclosures last May which led to dismissal of espionage, conspiracy and theft charges against Ellsberg and Anthony J. Russo. The dismissal was on grounds of government misconduct.

Ehrlichman sent word that he would surrender next Tuesday. Young's arraignment was scheduled for today, and authorities were still completing paperwork necessary to transfer Liddy from the Washington, D.C., jail where he is serving a contempt sentence for refusing to testify before a Watergate grand jury. Liddy also has been sentenced to 6 to 20 years in prison for his part in the Watergate bugging and burglary. No trial date has been set.

Current president of the credit union is Mrs. Doris Huijbregtse, shown here, wears a dark blouse with a corsage.

Nixon Asks Appeals Court To Nullify Tapes Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's fight to keep Watergate tape recordings secret has reached a federal appeals court, which agreed to hear the case in an unusual nine-judge session next week.

White House lawyers Thursday asked the U.S. Circuit Court to nullify U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica's demand to listen to the tapes, which are sought as evidence by the Watergate grand jury.

HIGH NOON

The appeals court gave Sirica and special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox until next Monday noon to reply to the White House arguments that the courts have no power over a president. A hearing was set for Tuesday at 1 p.m.

In other Watergate developments Thursday: —A member of the Senate Watergate committee staff confirmed that the panel has told more than 100 large U.S. corporations to say whether they gave illegal donations of company funds to any presidential candidate last year.

Seven corporations already have admitted to special prosecutor Cox that they made illegal donations to President Nixon's re-election campaign.

Judge Sirica denied a request by the Senate committee for a speedy hearing on its own legal battle to get the Watergate tapes. He gave the White House until Sept. 24 to reply to the Senate's lawsuit. Sirica ruled last week on the request by the grand jury and Cox, but Thursday the judge said he "is determined not to be rushed into a half-baked job" in the Senate lawsuit.

—Sirica also said there is an important question as to whether the committee has legal standing in the case. He could throw the case out of court if he decides he has no jurisdiction.

INNOCENT PLEA

—In Los Angeles, former White House aide Egil Krogh Jr. pleaded innocent to charges of burglary and conspiracy in the 1971 break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist. Three other former White House officials indicted in the case, including former chief domestic adviser John D. Ehrlichman, were expected to enter their pleas within a few days.

Leo Gonzalez Retiring From Newspaper Work

Weekly about five years under A. C. Hayden. Granville (Gramps) Glenn was backshop foreman when Gonzalez started linotype work at the Herald 20 years ago.

"I worked with him 18 years," Bob Rogers, present foreman, commented. "I hate to see him leave and to be losing a very good hand."

Gonzalez and his wife, the former Miss Aida Casillas, Del Rio, have three daughters. Mrs. Cynthia Zertuche is a teacher at Runnels Junior High School. Mrs. Yvette Hogenkamp lives in Colorado. And Mrs. Anna Maria Ortega resides in Wichita, Kans.

Construction has begun on another dining room which will house facilities for another 70 customers. Gonzalez estimated present capacity at 130 persons. Depending on weather and other factors, November is the anticipated completion date.

Gonzalez learned to operate a linotype machine, the equipment used to set newspaper type, when he was studying at Brackenridge High School in San Antonio. He was then 15.

"Before I started, there was no such thing as teletype (a machine which punches tape for typesetting)," the printer recalled. "Everything was hand set."

In 1932, the San Antonio native began work at a newspaper, Las Noticias, then a Spanish weekly in Del Rio. Employment at the Del Rio Herald-News (a daily) followed. Gonzalez mentioned working for the McAllen Monitor later.

Before coming to the Big Spring Herald, Gonzalez worked for the now defunct Big Spring

Lowery Irwin Is Facing New Trial

Lowery Irwin, who is completing one year with the Texas Department of Corrections for another conviction, will be returned to 118th District Court by deputy sheriffs for a non jury trial.

Deputy sheriffs left Big Spring Thursday afternoon with two prisoners bound for Huntsville.

District Judge R. W. Caton revoked two probated burglary sentences after hearing evidence Rickie Lee Blackmon, 20, of 1610 Mesquite St. was guilty of possession of marijuana.

Blackmon will be serving the two five-year burglary sentences concurrently.

William B. D. Cooper Jr., 28, Midland, will be serving a five-year sentence assessed here concurrently with other sentences. Cooper was granted probation in connection with a robbery. District Attorney Bob Moore sought to revoke the probation on the basis of evidence of theft of a cutting torch and two regulators.

Drenching Rains Fall On Auction

Drenching rain blew in through the door of an incomplete garage as the city auctioned 18 vehicles, a motorcycle and other items for $9,647.60 Thursday night.

Compared to 350 bidders, when the city cleared out years accumulations of old assets, 38 bidders registered for the city auction Thursday, Bob Butler, purchasing agent, said.

Bidders this year came from Juarez, Oklahoma City, Fort Worth and Dallas. They drove off cars, pickups and trucks. Highest bid was $730 for a 1972 model car. Oldest vehicle was a 1962 model car.

"I was really surprised at the number of people that showed up," Butler remarked. "Considering the elements, it was pretty sad."

Bidding started about the time rains did, Butler noted.

Baton Twirling Class To Start

Baton twirling classes will get under way at the YMCA here Monday and continue each Wednesday and Monday thereafter for eight sessions. The hours will be 6 to 7 p.m., and children six years of age and older will be eligible to enroll. Fees will be $5 for members and $7.50 for non-members of the Y.

Instructor in the course will be Laurie Proctor. Two similar courses will be offered later by the YMCA, the second one starting Nov. 26 and the third Feb. 4.

Attempted burglaries were reported at the Municipal Golf course pro shop and the residence of Irene Young, 1010 Nolan St., police reports show.

Families Stranded Here Helped In Flight Home

Two families, stranded here in an effort to get back to New York, were on their way home today, thanks to generosity and concern of a number of local individuals and institutions.

Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare officer, said a mother, aged 41, and her three daughters ages 15, 13, and 10 and a son 8; plus the mother's step-daughter, age 26, and her sons 6 and 3 and daughter 5, had gone to Mexico on the strength of reports living was cheap there, and easy to earn. It didn't turn out that way. All their resources had been used in getting to Mexico. So they started hitch-hiking home with their worldly possessions in two paper bags. Out of money and out of luck, they were marooned here. Rev. Claud Craven and others, took them into homes, and Mrs. Phillips contacted others to help get the two families on the bus home.

Fare ran to $350 for the nine who were given another $50 to eat on. The younger mother tried to earn money here as a waitress, but said she didn't get paid. Mrs. Phillips said those helping were Trinity Baptist, Grace Baptist, First Presbyterian, Wesley United Church Women, St. Mary's Episcopal, First Baptist, Greyhound, and Firemen's Christmas Cheer Fund.

Church Staging Fall Festival

The annual fall festival, sponsored by Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, comes off this weekend with a round of booths, attractions and food.

The affair benefits the St. Mary's school which serves approximately 130 children.

Hours are 3 p.m.-10 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, but an extra feature is the celebrated Mexican dinner served at 12 noon Sunday in the parish hall.

Bill Nead, chairman, and Jack Gilbert, co-chairman, have lined up 17 booths, plus special events.

This 15th annual festival will feature a German sausage booth, and the sausage will be more mildly seasoned than some. Much of it will be grilled over charcoal and offered by itself or in sandwiches, or the sausage may be bought and cooked at home.

In addition, there will be a Mexican food booth with Ramon Garcia, noted for his culinary touches, in charge. There also will be a hot dog stand, others for cotton candy, soft drinks, etc.

Cooks who turn out dishes for such places as Spanish Inn and La Posada will assist in preparing Sunday's dinner, which will be a seated affair. The meal will be served family style and there will be no standing in line.

Among the fun booths will be dart throwing, ball pitching, dunking pond, wheel of fortune, monte carlo, bingo, etc.

Most of the booths and concessions will be set up under the sheltered walkways of the school, while those with activity will be in the patio area. Drinks, etc., will be served at the open end of the patio.

The school operates on a budget of nearly $45,000, and tuition brings in only about half of that amount. David King is superintendent of the school, and Sister Jean is the principal. Rev. Louis Moeller is pastor of Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Tuesday evening's savage storm here not only clogged telephone lines with calls emanating from all over the nation but inspired a call from Germany, as well.

Mrs. Josefa Duran, who resides on Gail Road, says she was awakened at 3 a.m., Wednesday by the telephone. A concerned daughter-in-law, Mrs. Margarita (Stella) Duran, was buzzing the home of her husband's parents to see if the Duran family or its home here had sustained any damage.

Happily, Mrs. Josefa Duran was able to report the "big blow" spared them any problems. Margarita is with a military unit in Germany. At the time of the telephone call, it was 9 a.m., in Germany and Margarita had gone to work.

Next Council Meeting May Be Unharmonious

The city commission faces an agenda which is none too popular in its regular meeting Tuesday morning.

The agenda includes the first reading of a rate increase for gas services requested by Pioneer Natural Gas, the discussion of a possible entrance fee to get into the grounds at Moss Lake and a public hearing of the budget for the coming year.

Other items include the final reading of an ordinance for zone change from GR to HC for purpose of a body shop for Wallace Napper, the second reading of an ordinance for annexation of the State Hospital into the city limits; a final reading of an ordinance for a zone change from SF-1 to LC for a mobile home park, and first reading of a zone change for parcels of land that front FM 700 and IS 20.

The councilmen also will adopt a proposed golf green fee adjustment, and consider awarding of a bid on the city manager's automobile.

The council also will put up for adoption a pay plan for firemen and policemen that will give an increase to men in both departments.

WEATHER WASHES OUT STEER BAND FIRST GAME ACTIVITY

The game won't be called on account of rain — but halftime activities at Big Spring-Monterey game will be scrubbed for this evening.

The elements conspired against the Steer band and its half-time stunt, said Bill Bradley, director. Continued showers blocked practice, and a last-minute effort to get in a drill was blocked when the practice field was more like a rice paddy than a gridiron.

The final blow came when the truck hauling the fireworks display — a traditional first-game show — got bogged down at Elk City, Okla. Common carriers can't transport these, so there were no fireworks either. At Lubbock, Monterey has been having its troubles too, and Bradley was uncertain if that band will have a half-time stunt.

The "first-game" show will be held here Sept. 21 for the Snyder game, according to the director.

CRMWD Sets New Record

August deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District established a new record for a single month.

The 2,282,670,930 gallons pumped to municipal and industrial users topped the previous record of 2,074,468,062 gallons in July 1972 and the high of this year of 2,041,570,170 in June.

Virtually all the gain was in municipal use. The cities required 1,785,375,000 gallons, which is 514,000,000 gallons more than in August last year.

The 487,295,930 gallons delivered to mining and industrial customers in July was only 11 million more than August 1972.

During the first eight months of 1973, the district has delivered 12,590,742,172 gallons, which is 433 million gallons under the same period last year. Officials considered it unlikely that the deficit will be overcome by the end of the year, although the August run cut sharply into it.

Deliveries to the cities during August included Odessa 619,172,000 gallons, up 37.89 per cent; Big Spring 250,970,000, up 33.35; Snyder 110,384,000, up 43.22; Stanton 12,573,000, up 61.23; Midland 456,904,000, up 55.82; and San Angelo 251,670,000, up 30.14.

Circus Stops Here Monday

Less than a week away, the excitement of a steel arena filled with lions and tigers, the gracefulness of the trapeze artists, the precision displayed by performers on the precarious wires, the ponderous performance of the pachyderms, the beauty of the high school horse, the comedy of the clowns, the unpredictable antics of the anthropoids, the amazing ability of the trained animals, the skills of the aerial stars, the pretty girls — these are a few of the ingredients that make up the Annual Shrine Circus being presented Monday at the Rodeo Arena.

Over 30 acts are jam-packed in a fast-paced two hours of the finest family fun entertainment guaranteed to delight everyone — young and old alike. The circus' policy is "Family Fun at Family Prices."

Advance tickets are on sale at the three banks, the chamber office, the Record Shop, Pragers, Hemphill Wells, Gibsons, the Greyhound Bus Station and Blum's Jewelers.

CRMWD Meeting Set Sept. 14

Directors of the Colorado Municipal Water District will meet in Big Spring Friday, Sept. 14, according to P. C. Harbour, Odessa, president. The chief item of business on the agenda will be awarding of bids for a six-mile pipeline for a new brackish water diversion project.

THEFTS

Pneumatic and electric power tools together worth $889 Thursday were reported stolen in a burglary of Junior's Body Shop, 511 E. 2nd St.

Mary Dudley, 2510 Lynn Drive, reports a lost or stolen billfold containing $12 cash and credit cards.

Capt. David A. Smith this morning reported a boy's 10-speed bike with a racing seat stolen from 3610 Hamilton St. Value of the bicycle was set at $95.

Police chased but lost a suspect they saw trying to enter a Saunders Company building at 7:10 a.m. today.

Mrs. Carl Dole Reid, Coahoma, left a billfold containing $5, change and credit cards on a counter at J. C. Penney's Department Store. It was gone when she returned.

and I don't know that we can override."

The House will vote first, on Sept. 19. If it fails to muster the required two-thirds, the issues will not reach the Senate.

Congress has not overridden any of Nixon's six vetoes so far this year. Nixon rejected the bill on the grounds it would increase unemployment, heighten inflation, "and do far more harm than good."

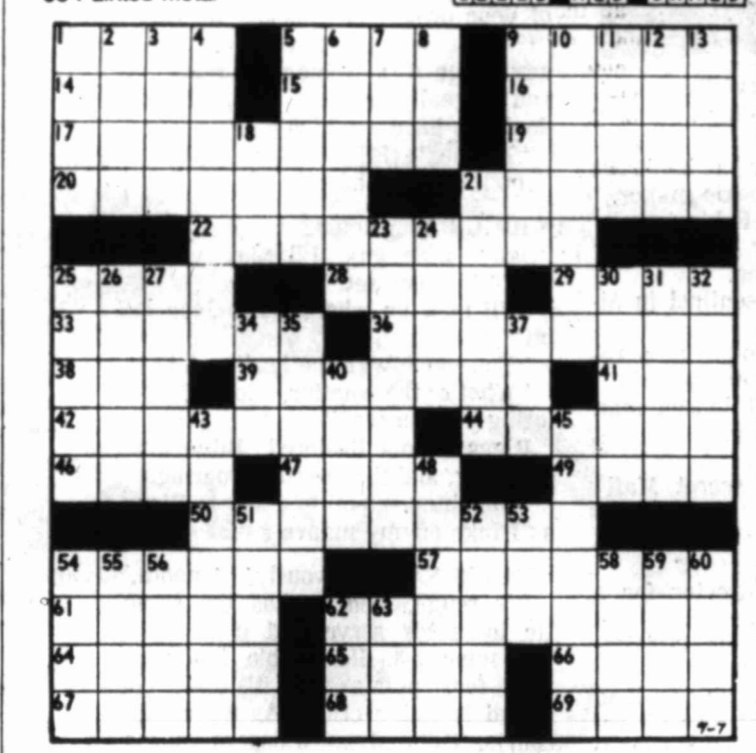

The vetoed bill would have raised the wage floor for most workers from the present $1.60 an hour to $2 immediately and $2.20 a year later.

The President contended that this was too big a jump too fast. He proposed $1.90 now, $2.10 in 1974, $2.20 in 1975, and $2.30 in 1976 and thereafter.

Puzzle of Thursday, Sept. 6, Solved

Bridge Test

BY CHARLES H. GOREN © 1973, The Chicago Tribune

Both vulnerable. South deals.

NORTH ♠ A 7 ♥ 5 4 3 2 ♦ A Q 5 5 ♣ K 7 3

WEST ♠ Q 8 2 ♥ K Q J 9 6 ♦ 9 2 ♣ Q 10 4

EAST ♠ 9 6 5 4 3 ♥ 8 7 ♦ J 10 7 4 ♣ 9 8

SOUTH ♠ K J 10 ♥ A 10 ♦ K 8 3 ♣ A J 6 5 2

The bidding: South West North East 1 NT Pass 3 NT Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♥ There are times when declarer has several different ways to play for his contract, but he cannot afford to adopt the wrong line.

Occasionally, the dilemma can be solved by enlisting the aid of the opposition.

After South had opened the bidding with one no trump, North did not feel that the quality of his heart suit was such that he should probe for a 4-4 fit and a major suit game. With 13 high card points opposite a minimum of 16, he felt there was little danger at three no trump.

West led the king of hearts, and declarer could count eight top tricks. A 3-3 diamond division would give him his ninth and, if that failed, the club and spade finesses were still in reserve.

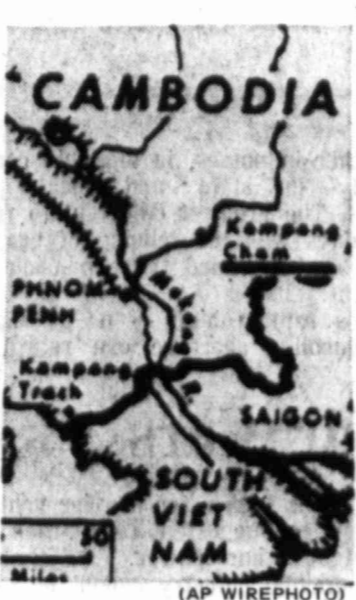

To investigate the possibilities, declarer won the first trick with the ace of hearts and tested the diamonds, ending in his hand. Unfortunately, West discarded a low spade on the third round.

Declarer could not very well afford the club finesse, for if it lost he might be defeated — he could lose four heart tricks and a club. To complicate matters, the spade finesse could be taken either way.

Declarer found a practical solution to his problem. The possibility that West started out with six hearts was remote. Rather than guess which finesse to take, declarer simply exited with a heart.

West took his four heart tricks, declarer discarding three clubs from his hand and a diamond from dummy. With nothing but black cards left in his hand, West had to lead into one of declarer's tenaces. Whichever suit he led would allow declarer to score three tricks in that suit, bringing South's total to nine.

This line of play gave up any chance of overtricks, but landed the game.

Fiery Plane Dive Kills Three Texans

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — Three young Texans, returning home from a Children of God convention in Kansas City, were killed Thursday when their rented plane crashed in the rain near the Texas-Oklahoma border.

Victims of the crash were Vernon Chamberlain of Irving and Thomas Julian of Fullerton and David Alford of Fort Worth. All three were 20 years old.

They were traveling in a single-engine plane rented from the Pat Jetton flying service at Addison, a Dallas suburb.

Federal Aviation Administration officials said they were last in contact with the plane just before 10 a.m. Thursday, when the pilot said he was flying in heavy fog.

An FAA spokesman speculated that the plane "blew up or struck something," because it disintegrated.

A Bryan County officer at Durant said the pilot may have been trying to land on a nearby highway during a heavy rain.

Two of the victims were thrown clear of the wreckage and the bodies were found still strapped in their seats. The other body was seated in the twisted remains of the pilot's compartment.

'Medical Center' Paternity Case

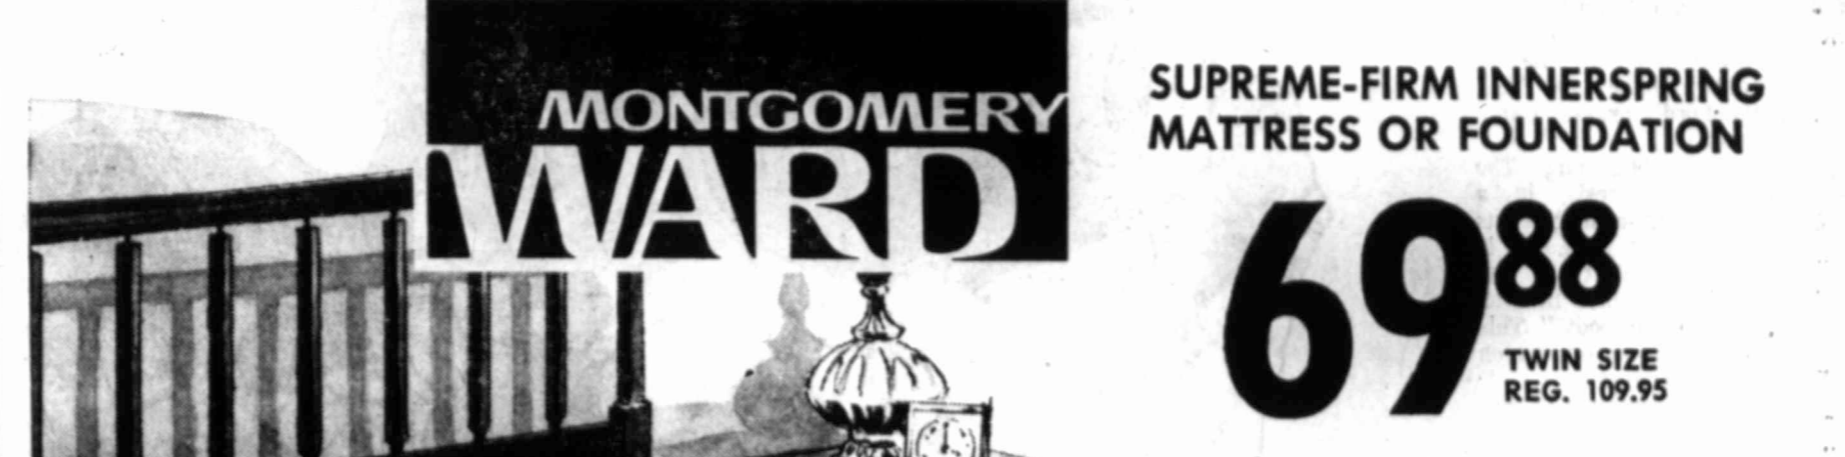

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A jury has been empaneled to hear a paternity case brought against actor Chad Everett by a co-worker in the television series "Medical Center."

The suit was filed by Sheila Scott, 42, a Hollywood divorcee who has a role in the series. She claims the 37-year-old actor is the father of her 3-month-old daughter Dale.

A jury of nine men and three women will hear the case in Superior Court.

Rustlers Are Back

The rustler, that stock figure of cattle-drive Westerns, is making a comeback in this era of beef shortages.

Cattlemen across the country report an upsurge of livestock stealing. While Texas may not be the hardest hit by those seeking the "free" meat, the Texas and southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, says that cattle rustling in Texas is up some 10 to 15 per cent this year.

In Illinois, 978 head of cattle were stolen in the first six months of 1973. That is nearly twice as many as were stolen in 1972 and set an all-time record for that state.

Rustlers have been a problem wherever cattle have been run on the range on an extensive scale. They drove off cattle in herds when Texas was a republic. And they cart them off in trucks in Montana today. Their methods have varied from open and forceful taking of cattle in pitched battles to sneaking "dogie" calves. The former method never was too prevalent, and passed with the open range. The latter is still used.

Cattle are branded to establish their ownership, but old-time rustlers sometimes changed the original brand by tracing over it with a hot iron to alter the design into their own brand. The stolen cattle then were placed in the rustler's herd. Today, in contrast, rustlers prefer to kill cattle on the range and haul away the beef by truck or automobile. By the time the loss is discovered, the thieves usually are hundreds of miles from the scene.

Laws for the recording of brands for the protection of livestock owners have long been rigid. But when the laws proved insufficient cattlemen came together in posses, in vigilante committees, and finally in state and local protective associations. The greatest deterrent to rustling in the early days was the fencing of grazing land with wire. That retarded the expansion of roads accelerated it.

If prices remain high — or go higher, not even the gasoline shortage can retard rustling these days.

Americans And Their Cars

Automobile industry board rooms these days must be filled with bemused, even alarmed, officials. They haven't finished wrestling with the problems of safer automobiles and meeting pollution control requirements. Now the very basis for their designing and marketing programs is being questioned.

Officials in government and plain citizens are talking about levying some sort of penalty against the big cars which roam our streets and turnpikes. It has been suggested that cars of excessive weight and horsepower be punished with extra taxes. In Texas and many other states, of course, the license fee is higher for heavier vehicles. But no one has even suggested a definition for "excessive" weight or horsepower.

The automobile industry cannot be insensitive to this new approach. Hundreds of millions of dollars are involved, both in stocks on hand and retooling costs. A massive move toward lighter compacts could be a disaster.

The domestic industry has never accepted the notion that the American people want a light, compact, economical car. The judgment has been that most Americans want the biggest car they can afford.

South Of The Border

Around The Rim

John Edwards

We were coasting through first heavy, then pine, then tropical foliage and wandering between canyons with peaks up to 1,200 feet above and a river running 200 feet below. Primitive Mexican settlements watched us pass in the Chihuahua Al Pacifico passenger train.

TALKING WITH me was an 81 year-old man from Denver, Colo., who said he travels whenever and wherever he likes. W. F. Robertson said, that rather than signing with tours, he vacations alone.

I had arranged the segment of my vacation from Chihuahua to Los Mochis easily without the help of travel agent or companion.

Robertson saw no need for taking tours or hiring guides for a whole trip. I agreed, remembering how easily I had met both residents and tourists in Mexico.

But when I got to Los Mochis, I was glad Irma and Amelia, two pretty Spanish-speaking UTEP coeds, were escorting me on the next segment of the trip south.

Earlier, I met them at a Chihuahua train depot as a train left without me. Amelia said the better train for Los Mochis did not leave for 20 minutes at 8:20 a.m. We arrived at Los Mochis at 11 p.m.

MINUTES AFTER disembarking, Amelia discovered that we should ride the silver city bus rolling away in the distance. Charging toward it with baggage in every hand, we caught the driver's attention and a ride for one peso (8 cents) each.

The school bus like vehicle bounded off into the dark where no road seemed to be and may not have been, judging from the ride.

Unlike many modern Mexican bus stations, the terminal was unair-conditioned. It was steaming with people all who seemed to be waiting for the same bus to Mazatlan. While Irma and I watched, Amelia darted from official to official conviving to get us aboard the more than filled bus.

Finally, the bus driver agreed to take a few more standing riders, and we squeezed aboard. I was standing on some man's feet and trying to get over luggage in the aisle with two suit cases and a bag of my own.

FOR THE FIRST half of the five hour ride, air conditioning was our only comfort.

Our bus was as comfortably equipped as any of its North American brothers, but people and luggage were everywhere. We stood, sat on the floor and curled into semi-prone positions in the aisle narrower than my shoulders.

A few riders got off later. So we enjoyed the luxury of seats the rest of the way. I didn't even mind the baby crying in his mother's lap next to me.

Tennis Fantasy

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Most men of my age have fantasies about women. But I'm happy to say that I am different. All my fantasies have to do with tennis. No matter where I am or what I'm doing I dream of tennis.

MY FAVORITE tennis fantasy is that I'm watching the Billie Jean King-Bobby Riggs match at Houston. Bobby Riggs is beating Billie Jean King 5-1, and she is worn to a frazzle and in tears.

I can't stand it any longer, and I rush out on the court with my Pancho Segura racket.

"Why don't you pick on someone of your own sex?" I shout at Riggs. "I can't stand anyone who takes advantage of a woman," I reply. "If you're really such a big shot, why don't we have a match?" "Please," Billie Jean begs me, "you'll only get hurt."

RIGGS IS grinning his cruel grin. "Okay, wise guy, I'll play you for $100,000 — one set."

"I'll pick up where Billie Jean left off," I say.

"You mean with me leading 5-1?" "What's the matter, Bobby? You losing your nerve?"

Riggs seems flustered. Billie Jean is crying, and the crowd is roaring.

"Rough or smooth?" I say to Riggs, as I take off my mauve sweat suit.

RIGGS SAYS nervously, "Smooth." It's rough, and he has the serve. He loses his serve and it is 5-2. I win mine 5-3. He double faults his next four points and it's 5-4. The crowd is going crazy. As we change courts, Billie Jean whispers to me, "I love you."

I ace him four times in a row and it's 5-5. Riggs is perspiring and his face is red. "Maybe we can talk this over."

"We have nothing to talk over, Riggs. It's your serve." He serves and I hit back to the base line. He returns it and I'm already at the net. I go plop and it drops just over.

HE SERVES again, and this time I lob it. He raises his racket to return it when an airplane flies over, and he misses the ball. (I practiced this shot for days. The trick is to lob the ball in such a way that the plane covers it so the opponent can't see it.)

Two more double faults and the score is 6-5 my serve.

Riggs says he has a cramp in his leg and wants to continue the game on the next day.

"You never seemed to get a cramp when you were playing a girl."

"GIVE ME a break," he begs. "Get back on the court, Riggs. It's my serve." I ace him four serves in a row. Riggs is on his knees holding his head in his hands.

Billie Jean King rushes out on the court and hugs me. "I don't know how to thank you," she cries. "I'm sorry my game was so lousy, but I hadn't warmed up," I said. Riggs is being helped off the court by his handlers. Howard Cosell shoves a microphone in front of my face.

"ART," HE SAYS, "since Bobby Riggs beat Margaret Court and you beat Bobby Riggs, that makes you the greatest woman player in the world."

"Howard, I don't want the title. I did this for Billie Jean King."

"What are you going to do with the $100,000?"

"I'm going to give it to the Women's Lib Movement to make sure something like this doesn't happen again." (Copyright 1973 Los Angeles Times)

They'll Tell Automatically

BOSTON (AP) — Automated teller devices, standing alone or embedded in building walls, are gaining rapid favor among U.S. bankers, Arthur D. Little Inc. reports.

First introduced in Europe and Japan several years ago, the card-activated devices for 24-hour banking service first appeared in this country in 1968. Today there are more than 1,000 automated tellers in U.S. banks, and probably twice that many more are on order.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Why did Jesus tell us to pray, "Lead us not into temptation," when He knew that we would inevitably face temptation? I have never been able to understand this phrase in the Lord's prayer. Can you help me with it? L.V.

Let's start at the beginning. The second chapter of Genesis, in a marvelously condensed form, gives us the dual constitution of man. He is material, from the "dust of the ground," and spiritual, since He was "God breathed into the body." This sets up the area of tension into which temptation naturally comes.

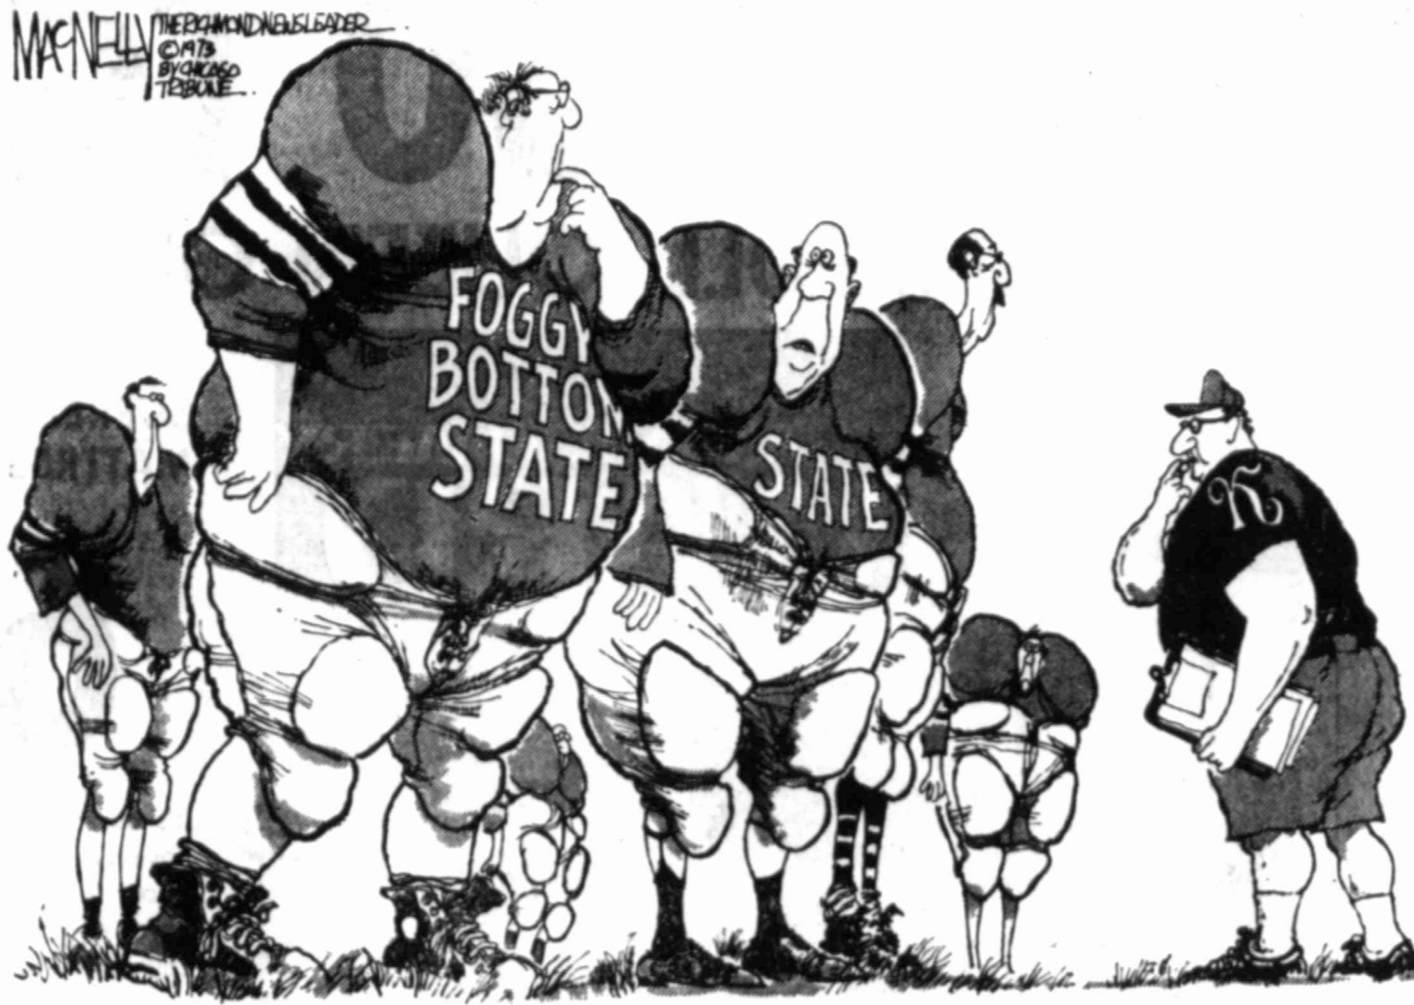

One definition of temptation is that it is an incitement of natural desires to go beyond the bounds that God has set. John calls it the "lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes and the pride of life."

You are asking why the Lord suggested this phrase in His sample prayer, when the experience of all of us is that temptation is encountered everywhere. The words arise from a deep sense of personal weakness against the powers of evil. God anticipated this. The words have the force of "delivering out" rather than merely encountering temptation. It's a prayer of humility, seeking the rescue of God each time we engage the enemy of our soul.

You know, of course, that God is not the author of temptation. It may be permitted in the life of the believer to strengthen his own spirit, or to be an example to others who observe, but temptation always emanates from Satan.

Continue to pray this by all means. You'll find the spirit of the prayer is one that will restrain you from rushing into circumstances of exposure to temptation, and that's where the whole trouble begins.

Think Your Job Is Bad?

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you a round peg in a square hole?

Many people suspect all their lives that they are. They stew and wonder if they wouldn't do better and be happier if they were in another line of work.

If they would be, they are fools not to summon up the courage to make a change and give themselves a chance to put their dreams into action.

On the other hand, anyone who does take the bull by the horns runs the risk of being tossed aside and finding himself worse off than before, an unhappy man with a punctured balloon.

He could find himself jobless or scrambling hard to cling to a job that was worse than the one he had left.

It is difficult, perhaps, for you to think of a job less satisfying than the one you're working at. But there are lots of them.

Here, for example are a possible few:

Girdle inspector for a firm specializing in clothing for overweight women.

Guidance counselor in an old folks home.

Statistician for the police department during a crime wave.

Horse buyer for a company that makes canned dog food.

Dog catcher in a neighborhood full of kids.

A door-to-door salesman in Outer Mongolia.

Stand-in for Yul Brynner.

Ketchup spreader for a "shoot-em-up" television program.

Standby donor for Count Dracula.

Heating control officer on a scientific project to hatch a dinosaur's egg.

A rabbit in an Eskimo village.

A missionary to hell.

Quality control engineer in a paper clip factory.

Bubble gum remover from Times Square sidewalks.

Porno book peddler at a Boy Scout jamboree.

Scriptwriter for a bankrupt Chinese fortune cookie maker.

A code clerk in Peking.

A governess for the old lady who lived in a shoe.

A Soviet army sentinel in Siberia.

The night watchman at a reform school for teen-age girls.

The CIA or FBI liaison man for the White House.

Libraeer's valet.

Caretaker of a secret Mafia cemetery.

Social secretary for Martha Mitchell.

Entertainment director for a WCTU convention.

Fund raiser for the 1976 Republican convention.

Yes, any job has its own kind of woe. You might as well remain a round peg in a square hole as switch to a new job that would only make you a square peg in a round hole.

Pinched Nerve Painful

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has been having back trouble and went to an orthopedic specialist who said he had a pinched nerve. This doctor also had some blood tests taken. One test showed my husband had too many red blood cells.

The doctor advised him to go to an internist who specializes in blood. Could you tell me what would cause this and what would help? — Mr. R.U.

Pay my respects to the orthopedist. Physicians sometimes are accused of looking for, and finding, only ailments in their own specialty, and overlooking items outside their specialty.

I suppose that there is a natural inclination to look for the things one specializes in, but I have, over the years, noted that most doctors are aware of this and try not to mislead themselves.

In your husband's case, the orthopedist did indeed find a pinched nerve, but he apparently felt that it was not the cause, not the sole cause anyway, of that back trouble. Hence the blood tests.

"Pinched nerves" usually, if they are causing pain, signify pain of a type that is distinctive to a physician. The pain usually radiates along the affected nerve.

In your husband's case (I have to do some guessing, of course) the "back trouble" may be in the nature of low back pain, rather than a radiating and D.V.

The finding of red cells can be significant in such cases. Chronic prostate infection is a likely cause. This can produce low back pain.

Likewise excessive red blood cells can result from various disorders of the urinary tract — kidney stone, infection in kidneys or bladder, ulceration or a tumor in the urinary tract; or from polycythemia or other blood disorders.

Telling your husband to see an internist about this makes the most logical kind of good sense. Depending on what he finds, the ultimate solution may lie in treatment by a urologist.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a girl, 15, and have a terrible problem. I have a mustache. It's not really very noticeable but enough so my friends (especially boys) make fun of it, and I feel just awful. Putting liquid make-up on it makes it more apparent.

I have a friend with the same problem but worse. We know of a girl who was plagued with the same thing but recently did away with it. We feel it impolite to ask her for guidance, so we hoped you could advise something to help us. — E. B.

I see nothing impolite about asking her how she did it, and she'd probably be happy for a chance to help someone else.

Maybe she shaved it off; if so, she'll have to repeat the process regularly. Maybe she used a depilatory. Also has to be repeated. Maybe she had a registered electrologist destroy the hair roots. This has to be done one hair at a time but it is the only known permanent method of hair removal.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Will eating too much vanilla ice cream affect a person in any adverse way? My husband who is 27 eats three quarts a day. With each quart that he puts in a bowl, he pours milk on top of it besides. — M.G.

Affect a person adversely? I dare say he must be getting pretty fat. Or if he isn't, then it would mean he isn't eating much else, and will develop considerable vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

Oilers, Saints Will Tangle

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Houston Oilers and New Orleans Saints, two of pro football's lesser lights showing signs of rebounding, battle Saturday night in their final tune-up of the exhibition season.

Houston, 2-3 in preseason play, is riding a two-game winning string with victories over the Dallas Cowboys and Baltimore Colts.

The Saints stand 0-5 for the exhibition season but looked impressive in their first outing under new Coach John North last weekend.

They lost to the Jets 28-17 but generally outplayed the New Yorkers except for three long touchdown bombs by quarterback Joe Namath.

One question Saturday's game may settle is whether former Saints running back Bob Gresham's performance last week was a fluke.

Gresham, a third-year man from West Virginia, was the leading New Orleans rusher last season but had carried only two times in exhibition play and was considered expendable.

He was traded to Houston and responded against Baltimore by ripping off 153 yards in his debut as an Oiler.

Two other former Saints who obviously will be gunning for big nights against their old teammates are reserve quarterback Edd Hargett and wide receiver-right end Dave Parks.

Both were traded during the offseason after spats with former Saints Coach J. D. Roberts, who since has been fired.

Archie Manning will lead the Saints at quarterback, after enjoying his best night of the year against the Jets. The big red-head thrilled the home crowd by reverting to the rollout style that made him a famous college player.

He took the Saints on long touchdown drives two of the first three times they had the ball and North says Manning will be continue to operate in that mode.

Dan Pastorini is scheduled to open at quarterback for Houston with Hargett slated for backup duty.

A crowd approaching 70,000 is expected for the 8 p.m. CDT kickoff in Tulane stadium.

Kodes' Racket Takes Beating

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — It just wasn't Jan Kodes' day.

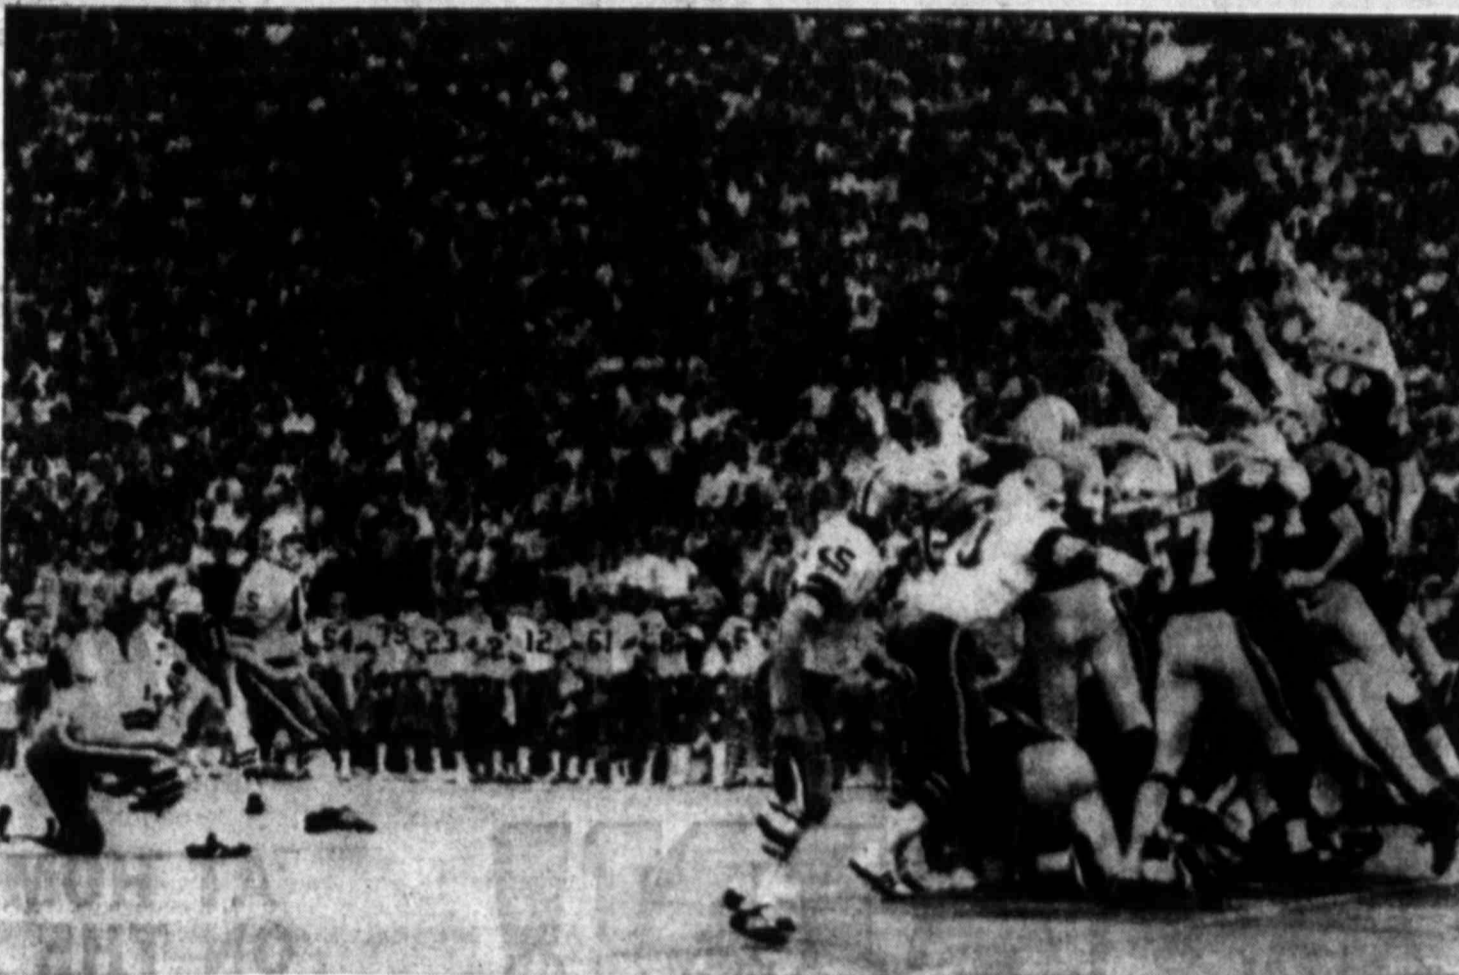

He won a match he didn't really have to play but lost his favorite racket along the way.

"It's gone," lamented the 26-year-old Czech, holding up the racket with a broken head.

"It's the one I won Wimbledon with," he said sadly. "I played all my matches there with it and all of my matches here with it. I don't serve as well with the other one."

Kodes broke the racket at 5-2 of the first set then struggled to a 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5 quarterfinals triumph over Niki Pilić of Yugoslavia in the U.S. Open championship.

THE BREAKER — All eyes are on the ball as Toni Fritsch (15) kicks a field goal with six seconds remaining to beat the Miami Dolphins 26-23 Thursday night in Texas Stadium.

Quarterback Craig Morton holds the ball. Linebacker Leroy Jordan (55) picked up a Miami fumble earlier to allow the Cowboys to tie the game.

Cowboys Rally To Sink Dolphins, 26-23

DALLAS (AP) — The world champion Miami Dolphins enter the 1973 regular National Football League season wondering where all their magic has gone.

Call it the Super Bowl jinx or whatever, but the Dolphins have lost their touch to win in the crunch, a trait which carried them to 17 consecutive victories last year.

"It used to be that the Dolphins were pulling out victories at the end, but now it has turned against us," Miami Coach Don Shula said Thursday night after Tony Fritsch's 22-yard field goal in the final three seconds handed Dallas a 26-23 victory as both clubs closed out the NFL exhibition season.

Two weeks ago, Fred Cox of Minnesota toed a field goal at the final gun to give the Vikings a 20-17 victory over Miami, snapping a streak of 23 games without a loss.

Losses to Minnesota and Dallas came after Miami had built up huge leads. The Dolphins led Minnesota 17-3 before bowing, and they held a 23-6 lead over Dallas before melting to the Cowboys' second half charge led by Craig Morton.

Quarterback Earl Morrall, who played the second half for Miami, summed up how his team felt about losing the pressure cooker games: "It's kinda tough to lose by a pair of field goals right at the last."

Miami opponents said that all last season.

Former Dolphin Otto Stowe came back to haunt his old teammates, snaring touchdown passes of 26 and 6 yards in the nationally televised game.

"I felt a little special because it was good for me to get two touchdowns against Miami, but it wasn't that big a deal," Stowe said. "I didn't leave Miami with any ill feelings."

Dallas obtained Stowe in a trade for Ron Sellers.

Stowe caught his second touchdown pass late in the fourth quarter from Morton to tie the score 23-23.

Morton, in a battle with Roger Staubach for the No. 1 Dallas quarterbacking job, drove the Cowboys to the Miami 15-yard line to set up Fritsch's heroics.

Morton completed 15 of 18 passes for 99 yards while Staubach connected on four of eight passes for 65 yards. Each was intercepted once.

Asked who will be his No. 1 quarterback to start the season, Coach Tom Landry said, "The announcement will be made in a few days after we study the situation. When you name a quarterback to start the league opener, he's usually No. 1. I'm not going to make a decision that is definite forever. It takes two to win in this league."

Miami spotted Dallas Calvin Hill's 20-yard touchdown run in the first 27 seconds of the game, but roared back behind No. 1 quarterback Bob Griese.

Jim Kliek scored on a one-yard run and Griese nailed Marlin Briscoe with a 5-yard touchdown pass. Larry Csonka scored from a yard out and the

Grand Slam Sparks Expos To 5-3 Victory Over Cubs

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Expos are in a pennant race. Isn't that just grand?

Yes, that is just Mike Torjensen's grand slam.

The bases-filled blast Thursday led a 5-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs that moved the Expos into second place in the National League East, three games behind the St. Louis Cardinals.

That brought noisy approval from the partisan crowd at Montreal's Jarry Stadium.

Montreal's fans have every right to go berserk, if they wish. The expansion club came into the league in 1969, but hasn't had a bona fide contender until this year.

In Thursday's only other National League game, the San Diego Padres nipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2.

In American League action, the Cleveland Indians beat the Detroit Tigers 10-4; the New York Yankees stopped the Milwaukee Brewers 8-6; the Chicago White Sox blanked the Minnesota Twins 6-0 and the Oakland A's tripped the California Angels 6-4.

Senate OKs Bill To Ban Blackouts Of NFL Games

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a veiled threat by the National Football League, final Congressional action apparently will come within the next two weeks on lifting the ban on local TV blackouts of sold-out home games.

By the overriding majority of 76-6, the Senate voted Thursday to require the telecasting of hometown games if they are sold out 72 hours prior to the event.

The House, which is considering several similar bills, could take action in the latter part of next week, triggering the possibility of the telecasting of the NFL's 1973 openers on Sept. 6.

However, House procedure may delay a floor vote until the week of Sept. 16 because the measure still

Revenge Isn't Demont's Plan Six Share Lead In Southern Open

BELGRADE (AP) — Rick Demont remembers losing his gold medal in the Munich Olympics because medicine he took for asthma contained a forbidden drug but revenge for the disappointment was not on his mind at Belgrade.

He simply wanted to reestablish himself as the world's leading swimmer in the 400-meter freestyle.

Demont, a 17-year-old from San Rafael, Calif., got his wish Thursday when he set a world record of 3:58.18 for the 400 meters at the World Championships. He nosed out his old rival Brad Cooper, who received Demont's gold medal at Munich, by one-half second.

"This was no revenge," Demont said. "The most important thing is that I went under four minutes."

Americans continued their dominance in the men's 200-meter butterfly, with Robin Backhaus of Redlands, Calif., winning in 2:03.32 and Steve Gregg of Wilmington, Del., second.

The United States swimmers carried a slim lead of 10 gold medals to nine for East Germany into today's competition.

Weir To Compete In Mexico Event

Big Spring cyclist Danny Weir will compete in the Moto-Islo Motorcycle Races in Saltillo, Mexico this weekend.

Flat track racing Saturday kicks the event off, and on Sunday Weir and the other motocross riders will compete. Weir will compete in the 250cc action and possibly the Open division.

Defeat Of '72 Still Haunting Nebraska

By The Associated Press

Hoping for revenge in September and its third national college football championship in four years come January, Nebraska opens the 1973 campaign Saturday against none other than UCLA—the team that knocked the Cornhuskers from the top last fall.

Efren Herrera's last-minute field goal gave UCLA a 20-17 triumph, ending the Cornhuskers' 32-game unbeaten streak and depositing them as the No. 1 team in the land following two consecutive national titles.

They never made it back to the top of The Associated Press poll and eventually finished fourth, the same place they're ranked in the current preseason ratings.

Gone from the Nebraska lineup are a quartet of super stars—Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers, Outland recipient Rich Glover, Willie Harper . . . and Coach Bob Devaney.

After 11 seasons as head coach, during which he compiled a brilliant 101-20-2 record, Devaney gave up the football job to devote full time to his duties as Nebraska's athletic director. He turned the coaching reins over to 34-year-old Tom Osborne, his hand-picked successor.

"Sure, it's a heck of a challenge and a tough act to follow," admits the red-haired Osborne. "But our coaches and our players are anxious to do a good job and they believe in Nebraska."

"Sometimes I wish we were opening with a weak team, but that's not possible," Osborne says. "UCLA was good enough to beat us last year and Coach Rodgers' team is better this year."

With quarterback Dave Humm hampered by elbow and knee ailments and possibly limited to only part-time duty, Nebraska may pass less and run more.

On the other hand, the 10th-ranked UCLA Bruins, greatest rushing team in Pacific-8 Conference history, "have not changed anything except improve our passing game," according to Coach Pepper Rodgers.

The only other member of The AP's Top Twenty in action this weekend is No. 17 North Carolina State, which entertains East Carolina.

Other key contests on a 23-game schedule include Arizona at Colorado State, Citadel at Clemson, Drake at West Texas State, Holy Cross at Massachusetts, Louisville at Memphis State, Villanova at Mississippi, VMI at Virginia and William & Mary at Virginia Tech.

Series Nod To Nicklaus

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Pro golfer's Big Four winners square off in the game's World Series this weekend with—as usual—Jack Nicklaus in the favorite's role.

The Golden Bear, a four-time winner of this event, is making his ninth appearance in the World Series of Golf while the other three competitors are starting in this tournament for the first time.

The other players eligible are the winners of the American and British Opens, the Masters and the PGA National Championship.

Nicklaus got in as the winner on the season's last major title, the PGA.

Ice Cream Feed Set For Sands

ACKERLY — The Sands Football Boosters will have an ice cream supper Tuesday at 8 p.m. to honor the senior high and junior high teams, coaches and cheerleaders.

The Mustangs will open their season Friday, and Booster Club Secretary Lil Anderson said that a victory line would be formed from the old gym to the gate going into the field.

"We'd like for everyone to help form the line," Mrs. Anderson said. "We want everyone to help boost the team because they're representing the parents, community and school."

The Booster Club voted to change its meeting night to Tuesday during last week's gathering.

Steers Await 1973 Opener

Steers, Monterey Raise Curtain

By JACK COWAN
Calloused memories of unsuccessful past campaigns go out the window tonight at 8 p.m. when the Big Spring Steers host the Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen in the season opener at Memorial Stadium.

The Steers, who have generated excitement with an impressive passing game, go into the battle as underdogs by as many as three touchdowns against the Plainsmen, ranked among the state's top Class AAAA teams.

Wet, chilly weather has been hanging over Big Spring the past two days, and more of the same is expected for tonight. The constant dampness has caused some alarm among Steer backers, who figure the weather will throw a kink into a pass-minded attack.

Not so, says Steer coach Bob Burris. "No, I don't think the weather will affect our plans," the coach said. "As a matter of fact, we kind of feel like on a wet field the advantage lies with the offense. In our case, we know where our receivers will be making their breaks and the defense doesn't. "Of course, a wet field is an equalizer for both teams. It affects a player's mobility."

When the footballs do start flying, Tom Sorley will be pulling the trigger for the Steers. Sorley, a 6-2, 200-pounder, looks like a good preseason bet to lead District 5-AAAA passers with receivers like John Thomas Smith, Ronald McKee and Doug Smith, all of whom will be in action tonight. Sorley gets his chance to test the somewhat green secondary of the Plainsmen tonight, a spot where Monterey coach James Odom has focused much of his concern. Odom, who laughs off predictions of a lopsided victory for his team, said he had a lot of respect for the Steers' aerial attack, but also talked about the rushing game.

"We were real impressed with Sorley's throwing, but I think the ground game will also come around for the Steers," said Odom, head coach at Monterey the past 10 years. "Any time a team throws the ball that well and that often, they're going to be able to run against people because they can't afford not to respect the pass."

Most of the rushing chores will fall upon a pair of hard-running juniors, fullback Lonell Banks and halfback Andre Hurrington. Banks, a 175-pounder, is starting in the place of Vicky Woodruff, who sat out last week with a back injury and will be playing mostly defense tonight. Burris said that Woodruff (6-3, 205) might be used on offense some tonight.

For Monterey, a conservative team that will rely mainly on its potent rushing game, the main man will be fullback Dennis Blair, an 185-pounder who stars in the Plainsmen's Slot-I formation. Halfback Lane McNamara is another rushing threat, while junior Dale Dillard directs, the team from the quarterback spot.

But most of Monterey's real talent lies in the line, where the top performers are tight end David Layne (6-2, 195), tackle Hal Applegate (6-2, 205) and Steve Maxwell (6-1, 195) and center Keith Potts (6-1, 210).

Applegate, Maxwell and Potts are the three returning starters on the Monterey offense from last year's 12-1 season.

Defensively, two-year starters Mike Hagen and Zane Cox at the end positions are the key people. Hagen, at 6-4, 215, is the biggest man on the team. Tackle Bob Collyer and nose guard Larry Horn are other standouts, while Tye Horn and Brad Harrelson spark the secondary effort.

Big Spring will be able to match the Plainsmen size-wise with offensive tackles Scott McEwen (6-5, 210) and Ken Froman (6-4, 215) anchoring the line. Center Joel Fellows (205) and tight end James Coffey (210) are other top hands in the pit crew.

On the defense, nose guard Steve Brackett will be joined by tackles McEwen and Froman and ends Casey Lovelace and Ricky Darrow in making up the sturdy wall. Joe Matthews will play along side Woodruff at linebacker.

John Thomas Smith is the big play man on the defensive unit from his cornerback spot, and he'll be supported in the secondary by Doug Smith, Barry Canning and McKee.

Only split end Billy Don Whittington will miss the game for the Steers. Whittington was at the Chaparral Trailer Park Tuesday when 100-mile an hour winds ripped through the area, and he suffered a mild concusion when the trailer he was in was upended.

Burris is planning no modifications or special preparations for the Plainsmen, other than shoring up some weak spots that appeared during the scrimmage with Sweetwater last week.

"Sweetwater hurt us with short passes in the flats, so we expect to see a lot of this from them as far as throwing is concerned. "Also, Sweetwater got some people behind us on long patterns, so we've been working on that," Burris said.

Monterey carries a 5-1 series edge into tonight's battle with the Steers. Big Spring won in 1971, 14-12, but last year the Plainsmen avenged that defeat with a 20-14 decision.

FORSAN, STANTON JVS CANCELLED BY WEATHER

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffaloes and Stanton Junior Varsity, scheduled to kick off the area football season Thursday night, lost their first battle of the year to the weather-man.

Rain forced postponement of the tilt, and Forsan Coach Jack Woodley said it was rescheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday in Forsan.

Woodley said about two inches of rain fell during the day. "It was just coming down too hard. We couldn't have gotten anything accomplished," Woodley said his team was suited up and on the field before the decision was made.

BULLDOGS TEST TRADITION

'Kats Top Area Slate

Coahoma needs a victory over "tradition" to help get its 1973 football season off to the right kind of start, but for Garden City it isn't a question of pride. The Bearkats just don't have any goodies to waste.

Garden City is in Cotton Center tonight for an 8 p.m. Dist. 1-B Eight-Man struggle, since the 11-team loop has no room on its schedule for non-district action. The Bearkats are underdogs, as they'll be facing almost the same Cotton Center Elk squad that licked them last year 26-12, only with a year's more experience.

Coahoma's Bulldogs, on the other hand, battle tradition-heavy Sonora in one of the top games in West Texas. Game time is 8 p.m. in Sonora as the 'Dogs try to snap a three-game losing streak against the Broncos.

Fullback Patti Choate and halfback Eddie Padron head up an impressive Coahoma rushing game, while guard Kyle Kiser is the big mover on the line.

In other area action, Stanton travels to Tahoka for a non-district battle, Lamesa hosts

Carlsbad, N.M., Colorado City goes against rugged Monahans and Borden County meets Wellman in another 1-B Eight-Man tilt.

Stanton Coach Bill Young figures his Buffs will have to contend with the speed and passing game of a young Tahoka team intent on avenging last year's 13-6 loss. The Buffaloes will counter with a bruising attack of their own, spearheaded by tailback Mark Eiland.

Borden County was tough last year, winning district and finishing with a 10-1 mark, and at least seven of the standouts from that unit are back for the 1973 campaign. That list includes a pair of all-state linemen, Audry Brummett and Joe Hancock.

JVs Host Snyder; Local Squads Vie

The Big Spring Steer Junior Varsity hosts Snyder's JVs at 2 p.m. Saturday to head up a slate of local weekend games.

The two teams will collide at Blankenship Field near the high school, while a double-header gets under way at Memorial Stadium.

Goliad takes on Rannels at 1:30 p.m. in a battle between the local eighth grades, and at 3 p.m. Big Spring High's two freshmen teams, the Toros and the Brahmas, will vie for the city title. The intrasquad rivalries will be resumed Nov. 10 when the four teams come together in the season finales.

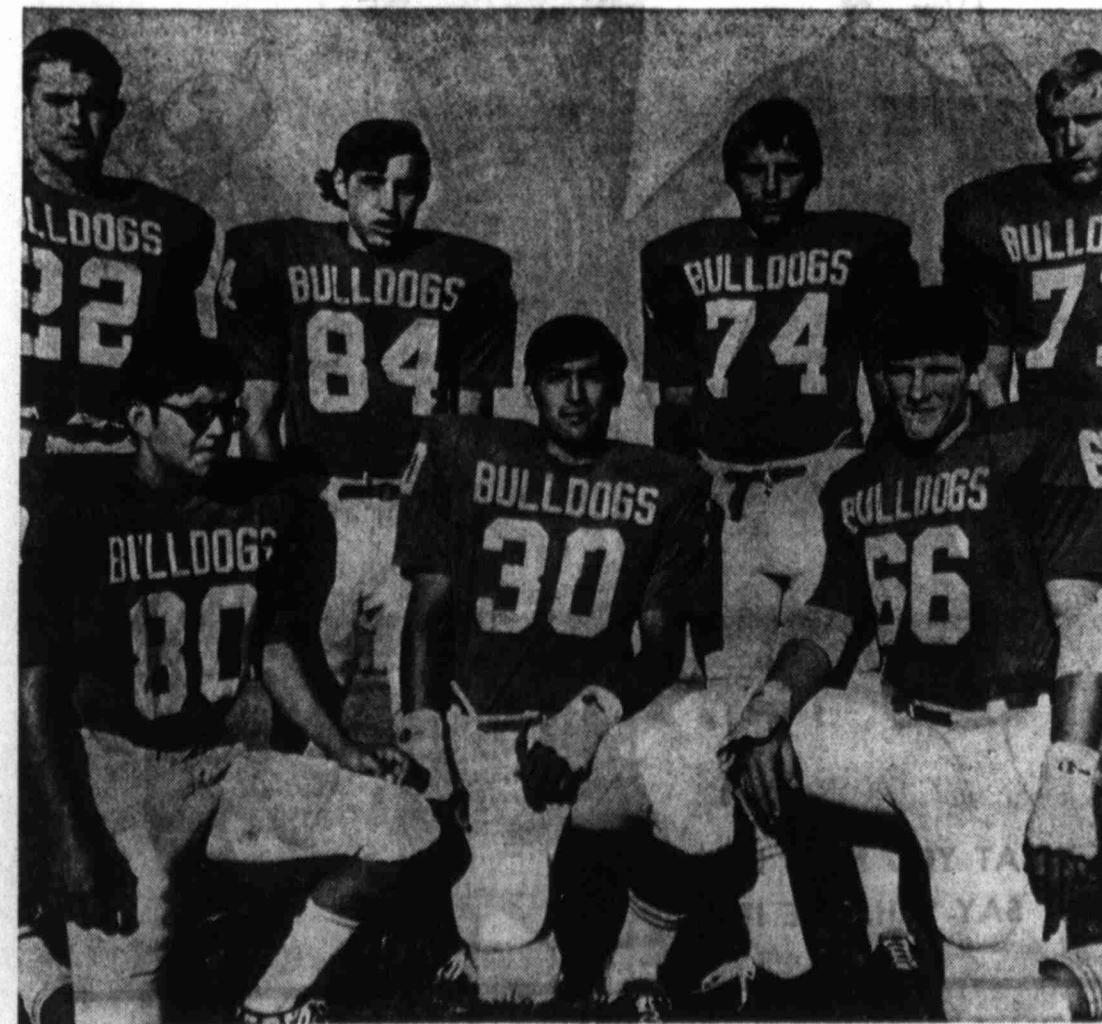

Ronnie Mullins will quarterback the JVs against Snyder, with halfback Jerry Marquez and fullback Del Brown handling the rushing duties and flanker Kenneth McMurtrey and Dennis Fulcher at the receiver spots. Tackle Buford Howell (190) heads up the line charge.

On the defensive unit, linebacker Ricky Watkins, safety Greg Spears and ends Terry Treadway and Celestino Correa pace the charge. David Verner and Tommy Moss are the JV coaches.

Leading the Brahmas this season will be coaches Rod Carter and Sonny Monroe, and Rex Scofield and James Griffin are the Toro mentors. For the Rannels eighth grade group, Bobby Zellars and Roger Goertz are the coaches, while Ben Neel and Duke Atterberry have the Goliad squad.

Corky Smith directs the Goliad Seventh grade Team No. 1, and Rudy Montez is coach of team No. 2. At Rannels, Ronnie Jones and Mike Dixon are the coaches for the seventh graders.

BULLDOG SENIORS — These seven seniors will be leading the way when the Coahoma Bulldogs kick off the 1973 football season Friday in Sonora against the Class A powerhouse Broncos. Kneeling are Marcelino Chavez (80), Eddie Padron (30) and Kyle Kiser (66), and standing behind are Tim Tindol (22), Glenn Washburn (94), Dean Wood (74) and Frank Coates (71). Game time Friday in Sonora is 8 p.m.

5-4A Should Open Strong

Dist. 5-AAAA teams carry favorite tags into most season openers tonight, as all but Big Spring are expected to get off on the right kind of start.

While the Steers are hosting Lubbock Monterey, probably the toughest of the outside opposition, three of the loop's biggies are also at home for their initial tests.

Defending state champion Odessa Permian entertains El Paso Coronado in what should be an easy time, while San Angelo is at home against Dallas Bryan Adams and Abilene Cooper, the choice of 5-AAAA coaches and sportswriters, takes on Class AAA power Brownwood.

Midland High also has a home date tonight with Amarillo Tascosa as Midland Lee treks to Lubbock for a bout with Lubbock High and Odessa, another of the top picks, goes to Amarillo to battle Amarillo High. Abilene visits another AAA squad, the Sweetwater Mustangs.

Lamesa's Golden Tors Host Carlsbad In Opener Tonight

LAMESA — The Tors are Golden as ever this year, and Lamesa football backers get a chance to find out just how good their troops are tonight at 7:30 p.m. when they host rugged Carlsbad, N.M.

After last year's 8-3 ending that included the Dist. 3-AAA championship, many fans think this is the year for their trim, sharp-looking bunch to take it all. And head coach Robert James, while admitting it would be tough to top last year's team, thinks tonight's test will be as good as any his team could take.

"Traditionally, Carlsbad is a good football school and they're a good football team. This year shouldn't be much different," he said. "They've got a lot of people out, and they've got plenty of size and speed. They just don't have a lot of experience."

But what the Cavemen do have back from last year's group that last only to state champion Hobbs isn't bad. Mainly, they'll be counting on quarterback Richard Forrest, a do-it-all senior who'll operate the team's Wishbone-T with plenty of finesse. Tight end Gary Cantley (6-2, 190) is another standout performer back in camp.

James has few gripes about his own offense, also. Headed up by quarterback Kyle White (6-0, 150), the Tors will toss a bundle of talented backs at the opposition, with fullback Melvin Robinson the primary weapon. Robinson, a 6-2, 190-

Army Never Meant To Catch Villa, Ex-Trooper Thinks

By JOHN EDWARDS

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico — W. F. Robertson, 81, a veteran of the United States punitive expedition into Mexico after Pancho Villa, met the revolutionaries wife here last week for the first time.

Asked about his impression of the widow, Robertson said: "Oh, she was a nice old lady. (She is 79.) In some of those pictures, she was a pretty good-looking woman."

On March 9, 1916, a band of Villa followers attacked Columbus, N.M., killing eight soldiers and a number of civilians. Gen. John J. (Black Jack) Pershing was sent into Mexico with 12,000 troops in search of Villa.

WAR TRAINING

The North Americans never found Villa. Robertson, who was a civilian truck master helping supply the troops, doesn't believe the Army really intended to catch Villa. It was like looking for "a needle in the haystack," he said of the search through the Sierra Madre Mountains.

"That's my personal opinion. I thought it was just an excuse to get the National Guard scattered along the border down there and get a lot of training before going to Europe (in World War I)," he said.

Of the hardships, Robertson said: "It was just about like going on a camping trip." An infantry company protected the trucks while en route, but Robertson said there was little danger to members of the expedition and support units.

"Couldn't have been too worried about them," the resident of Denver, Colo. said. "We put our bed rolls right where we stopped at night."

anywhere, you don't have any problems," he said. "They were in no position to fight back. Their country was invaded. That's all."

As Robertson remembers it, the expedition ended after 11 months. An American force of 90 troopers attacked at Carrizal shortly before the withdrawal. According to the Encyclopedia Americana, a number of U.S. officers and enlisted men were killed and 17 were taken prisoner. Prisoners later were released.

HAVANA HAVEN
Mrs. Villa said she, among others, went to Havana, Cuba, during the expedition. Pancho sent them to Argentina, she recalled, but they went to Havana, instead.

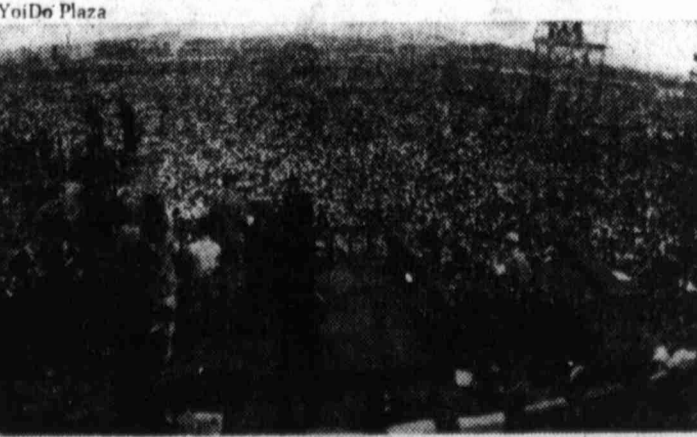

The reporter spoke little Spanish, and a chance visitor to the Villa home translated for most of the interview. Mrs. Luz Ofelia Ruiz Sandoval de Portillo, daughter of the founder of the El Heraldo, was showing relatives around Chihuahua.

These were among the answers given by Mrs. Villa: Have you ever been in Big

Cholera Outbreak

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Center for Disease Control says there is no relation between the cholera outbreak in Italy and a Sea Drift. Tex. man struck last week with symptoms similar to the illness.

"The man has not traveled outside the vicinity of Sea Drift, and there is no connection with the outbreak occurring in Italy," says Dr. David Sencer, center director.

The center has been deluged with inquiries from prospective travelers concerned about the risk of contracting cholera abroad and about the Texas case, Sencer said in an interview Wednesday.

The Texas State Department of Health reported the isolation of an organism in a Sea Drift man that appeared to be similar to the organism that causes cholera.

"The patient was taken ill a week ago, hospitalized and has recovered," said Sencer.

Despite the Italian cholera outbreak, which has caused 19 deaths, Sencer says American travelers have little to fear.

Sencer said "the actual risk to American travelers and the United States is very small so that no one need cancel travel plans anywhere in the world."

Expert On Parks To Visit Here

A meeting will be held at the City Hall at 2 p.m. Monday with a park planning expert from Austin to make plans for utilization of the ground to be used near the Big Spring State Hospital.

There has been some discussion of a softball complex in the area. There has also been discussion of a possible county fair grounds.

Among those who will be attending the meeting will be Mrs. Polly Mays, city councilwoman over parks, Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, Harry Nagel, city manager, Gerald Miller from the fair board and any other person interested in the discussion.

Lamesa Station Sold By Conner

LAMESA — Radio station KPET in Lamesa has been sold by Tom Conner to a Dallas man, Galen O. Gilbert.

The sale, subject to the approval of the Federal Communications Commission, includes the assets of the Music Servire Company.

Gilbert formerly owned and operated stations at Ralls and Stephenville.

Conner formerly was co-owner of station KHEM in Big Spring, along with Bob Bradbury.

Conner said he planned to continue living in Lamesa.

VICTIMS IDENTIFIED New Indictments In Sex Slayings

HOUSTON (AP) — Elmer Wayne Henley Jr., one of two youths accused in a sex-slaying case in which 27 bodies have been recovered, has been named in two more indictments returned by a Harris County grand jury.

Two indictments returned Thursday charged Henley, 17, with the murder of Homer Garcia, 15, and Frank Anthony Aguirre, 19.

MURDER RING
The grand jury now has returned 10 indictments in the case. Henley is named in six of them and David Owen Brooks, 18, is named in four. Both are to be arraigned Oct. 8. They are being held in jail in lieu of $100,000 bonds on each murder indictment.

The two are accused of participating in a homosexual murder ring which took the lives of 27 teen-age boys and youths over the past three years.

Henley broke the case Aug. 8 when he telephoned police he had shot to death Dean Corli, 33, in self defense during a party at Corli's home. Henley identified Corli as the leader in the murder ring.

Brooks later appeared at police headquarters and the two youths told of three years of their procuring boys for Corli's sex parties.

Henley and Brooks led officers to the graves of the 27 victims. Seventeen bodies were recovered at a Houston boat stall, four were found near Lake Sam Rayburn in East Texas and six were found on a beach near High Island.

BODY FOUND
Murder charges also were filed against Henley and Brooks in San Augustine County following the recovery of the bodies near Lake Sam Rayburn.

Sixteen of the 27 bodies have been identified. Of the 16 identified, all but three lived in or had resided in the Houston Heights area. Brooks and Henley also lived there.

The Garcia and Aguirre youths were the latest victims to be identified.

Aguirre disappeared Feb. 24, 1972 while going to work at a restaurant. His body was found at High Island.

Garcia disappeared last July 18 after attending a driving school the evening before. His mother said he called to say he was going to a party at a friend's house and would spend the night there. His body was found in a double grave in San Augustine County. The other body in the grave has not been identified.

POSTPONE VOTE Tax Authority Poses Problem

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Constitutional Revision Commission was still at sea today over the amount of taxing authority to give the legislature in the state's new constitution.

The 37-member citizens commission spent most of Thursday afternoon arguing the legislative tax authority issue but put off a vote on the issue until Saturday morning.

The commission voted on Aug. 23 to give the legislature broad, almost unlimited, taxing authority, then came back the next day and wiped out the vote. Members said several questions had arisen overnight, particularly current exemptions for old persons, church property and others.

PUBLIC PURPOSES
The original tax policy voted by the commission, then rescinded, said: "Taxes shall be levied and collected by general law for public purposes only and shall be equal and uniform."

Some staff members said the "equal and uniform" reference caused the questions about the special exceptions now given certain persons and groups by the present constitution.

Thursday, much of the discussion was over "for public purposes only."

Former Rep. Honore Ligarde, Laredo, made a special plea to eliminate the "public purposes" reference. He said there was a possibility it might affect state grants for vocational training, tourist programs and industry attraction plans.

"If this is out, the state might be able to issue industrial revenue bonds? Isn't that the problem?" asked member M. F. Frost of McAllen.

Ligarde said industrial revenue bonds could not be issued under the present constitution.

SUPPLIES WILL BE TIGHT

Newsprint Outlook

NEW YORK (AP) — The severe newsprint shortage pinching a number of newspapers across the United States will ease when strikes at key Canadian mills are settled. But supplies will be tight for at least the next few years.

This is the outlook described by leaders in the newsprint industry and executives familiar with the newspaper side of the picture.

They generally agree that demand for newsprint will be growing faster than supplies, and predict that prices could rise by nearly a third over the next few years to as much as $225 a ton.

NO SERIOUS CRISIS

While no serious crisis is anticipated, "for the next couple of years newspapers will have to tighten their belts and conserve newsprint," says Joseph Prendergast Jr., manager of traffic and newsprint for the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Small dailies and weeklies will feel the pinch most severely, observers say, since they tend to buy from wholesalers who lack secure sources of supply. Many large newspapers, on the other hand, have long-term contracts directly with newsprint mills or have part ownership in mills.

The strikes at several Canadian newsprint mills, which account for about 15 per cent of U.S. newsprint consumption have served to underscore the problem.

Newsprint consumption is growing at a rate of 5 per cent a year, while plant expansion is expected to grow at a rate of less than 3 per cent annually over the next three years, according to the American Paper Institute, which represents the country's paper manufacturers.

With mills already running at full capacity virtually around the world, supply problems are inevitable.

NEW PROBLEM

The situation is a new one for the newsprint industry, which is just recovering from a 15-year period of overcapacity. Now that the industry has finally caught up with itself, however, many manufacturers are hesitant about committing new money for additional equipment.

"It's a cyclical market, and people are scared of it," says Anthony Balloch, executive vice president of Bowater Inc., a large producer.

"Newsprint hasn't had a very good reputation as an investment over the past few years," he said. "It's been a bit of a black dog in the investment community."

"To bring on new capacity, the price of newsprint has to be high enough to attract capital," said Bruce Howe, group vice president of Canadian-based MacMillan Bloedel, North America's largest newsprint producer. "Right now investors can get a better rate of return by putting their money in the bank."

Furthermore, he points out, "there are not a lot of places in North America ideally suited from the cost, environment and wood supply point of view."

Exceptions do exist, however. Texas-based Southland Paper Mills, for example, is currently adding new production facilities "because the economics are there for us to make a fair return on our money," a spokesman said. He said the rapid growth rate of the South and Southwest promises a ready market for increased newsprint for the foreseeable future.

$25 A TON

A number of newsprint executives say, however, that newsprint prices on the whole would have to rise at least $25 a ton to around $200 before any great wave of plant expansion would take place. Some predicted prices as high as $225 a ton, compared with the current level of about $168 to $178 a ton.

One knowledgeable source predicted a "series of price moves greater than the industry has ever seen — $10 increments once or twice a year over the next three to five years."

Eventually, though, as prices rise and capacity comes on, he said, there will probably be a return to a buyer's market, and then a long price plateau.

OU Student Homicide?

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — An autopsy has disclosed that a University of Oklahoma student found dead in an apartment swimming pool died of head wounds and drowning.

Dr. Howard Hauglund, Cleveland County medical examiner, indicated the death of Wilton Vaughn, 21, of Ft. Hood, Tex., had been referred to the district attorney for investigation as a possible homicide. A spokesman for the district attorney's office said there would be no comment at this time.

Dr. Hauglund said tests for the signs of drugs or alcohol in the body had not been completed.

William Beatty, Vaughn's roommate, told authorities he found Vaughn's body in the pool about 2:15 a.m. last Friday.

"PANCAKES": (Q) I am sick and tired of the comments my sister makes to her boy friends about me. She tells them to call me "Flatsy" or "Pancakes."

The truth is that she is 16 and I am 13 and I am just as big as she is. Also I could make jokes about her acne to her boy friends, but I couldn't be that rude or ignorant.

Can't she see that it hurts me for her to make fun of me — Insulted in Indiana.

(A) You and your sister should try to build each other up instead of tearing each other down.

Discuss this with her. Tell her that you could talk to her friends about how messy and unsightly her acne is but that it would not make any sense for you to hurt her and that you don't want to.

Explain to her that her thoughtless remarks about your breast development are in the same category. Promise to help her and stick by her. Ask her to be just as fair to you.

CHURCH (Q) I have not gone to church since I was about six years old. My parents have decided that our family is going to church. I don't want to because I know nothing about religion and am an atheist.

Should I tell my parents that I am an atheist or just keep my mouth shut — Boy, 15, in D.C.

(A) I must confess that I am strongly prejudiced in favor of church attendance, and practice it. It does me good. I am sure you would benefit from it, if only in an intellectual way.

For one thing, you need to know more about religion. Atheism, you know, is a sort of religion. If you do not have a knowledge of it and other religions, you are in no position to say exactly what you believe.

Be quiet about atheism and go to church with your parents. At the same time read up on a t h e i s m, Mohammedanism, Judaism, Christianity, Buddhism and other religions at your public library. Then you will be better qualified to decide if atheism is really your belief for you.

"THE DEPLETION of our natural resources and tragic Watergate struggle are God's way of asking us to put moral content into our lives," Dr. Joseph H. Jackson told delegates to the 83rd National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., in Los Angeles Thursday.

Environmental control, Watergate struggle, self-help education, first class citizenship and convention achievements were discussed by Dr. Jackson now serving his 20th year as president of the 6.5 million member organization. "Our leaders must do more than sit in judgment on their compatriots, they must sit in judgment on themselves.

"We know the needs of America are economic and political but our economy is weak in many points and our political structure is not as fruitful as it ought to be. But our needs in America are also moral and spiritual.

"God will save us but if He cannot save us with plenty He will visit us with famine, floods, and other privations that would bring us to our knees and show us we cannot make it without Him. If He cannot save America with her fine cars and jet planes, He will check the flow of gas and reduce the abundance of fuel and freeze our automobiles in the streets, and ground our planes and push us back to the horse and buggy days."

Dr. Jackson spoke of morality in relationship to Watergate. "Watergate proves that the sins people of this nation commit against others, they will, under stress and in a state of mistrust, practice against one another.

"When we get to the bottom of this story with open minds, we will discover that spying is something all nations practice against each other. And all of our officials, from the president down, know this and have condoned it.

"The morality of the Federal Constitution is a morality of fellowship and trust. When fellowship and trust break down among the peoples of America they will tend to resort to the same sins they have practiced against other nations for their security. The morality of the Charter of the United Nations is also a morality of confidence and trust. If the nations of the world practice a morality of confidence and trust, spying will be greatly reduced; and instead of suspicion, doubt, mistrust and intrigue, there would be goodwill.

"SHARE THE wonderful World of Sunday School" is the theme for Rally Day activities at Evangel Temple Assembly of God, 2205 Goliad, Big Spring, Sunday morning, September 9.

Special events of the day include a fellowship dinner immediately following the morning worship service. Rally Day is a launching pad for the new Sunday school year. Rally Day ushers in the fall program which will include special services with Evangelist Dale Franks of Albuquerque, New Mexico, beginning Wednesday, Oct. 3.

Evangelist Ron Witt from Odessa, will be the evening speaker for Rally Day at 7 p.m., Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Witt will present the Gospel in music and song as well as the preached word.

Reverend Witt, a native Odessaan for 15 years, is a veteran evangelist who has preached throughout West Texas and New Mexico. He plays the electric guitar and various musical instruments.

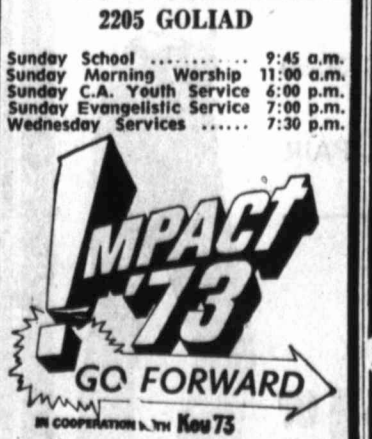

"We would like to invite everyone to be with us for this special day of fellowship," said Pastor Calvin. "Everyone is warmly welcome," he commented.

of the Baptist National Convention, "Our leaders set in motion a movement and an organization responsible to helping people both at home and abroad that had been limited by the shackles of slavery. In their purpose there was no reference to a campaign of hate or retaliation against any people or any race.

"Among our achievements have been a fellowship between our senior pastors and our younger men; creation of a Baptist Farm in Fayette county, Tennessee; a grant of 100,000 acres of land negotiated by the Convention with the government of Liberia; a ministerial retirement fund to assist families of deceased ministers; $10,000 scholarship at Roosevelt University in Chicago; dedication of the National Baptist Library and the National Baptist Building; Church loans and legal assistance.

Dr. Joseph Jackson spoke of a time in 1960 when one group of "brethren" sought to become the convention.

"This was their last grim thrust under the guidance of the philosophy of civil disobedience. It is no great crime for people to separate if they feel in doing so they can make a better contribution to the cause in which they believe.

"If union means perpetual strife, it is better to separate for peace than to live together in strife. This convention separation illustrates that color alone does not unite us and servitude does not guarantee a harmony among all. The fact of blackness cannot, and will not determine agreement, fellowship and friendship.

"An anti-white philosophy does not render any people pro-black. A campaign of revenge against any group does not of itself create a stronger fellowship among those who are members of such a cult. If Negro Americans are to meet together in the cause of freedom they must find a constructive, dynamic and creative common denominator that will restore unity"

Roy-Thompson Top Roper

DENVER — The top 16 steer ropers for 1973 will arrive in Laramie, Wyo., this week for the National Finals Steer Roping, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Cowboys will compete in four rounds Saturday, and another four on Sunday. Prize money will total $12,000, including the $100 entry fee each finalist must pay.

Roy Thompson of Tulsa, Tex., leads for the steer roping championship with $5,228 in winnings. Second is John Miller of Pawhuska, Okla., with $4,705. Leaders in other cowboy events are:

All-around cowboy — Larry Mahan, Dallas, $46,009, and Bob Ragsdale, Chowchilla, Calif., $31,524; saddle bronc riding — Bill Smith, Cody, Wyo., $19,546, and Darrell Kong, Kaycee, Wyo., $17,231; bareback bronc — Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., $27,990, and Rusty Riddle, Mineral Wells, Tex., $23,074; bull riding — Bobby Steiner, Austin, $17,977, and Larry Mahan, $17,282; calf roping — Ernie Taylor, Hugo, Okla., $30,494 and Barry Burk, Duncan, Okla., $19,764; steer wrestling — Bob Marshall, San Martin, Calif., $24,342, and Billy Hale, Checotah, Okla., $18,318; G.R.A. barrel racing — Gail Pettska, Tucumseh, Okla., $12,544, and Jeanne Day, Woodward, Okla., $9,576 (also Terri Himes, Big Spring, $3,622, ninth).

HC Man Writes Math Paper

Ronald Vorheis, instructor of mathematics at Howard County College, has been published in the "Journal of Approximation Theory."

Vorheis and R. G. Huffstutler of the West Texas State University mathematics department co-authored an article entitled, "Orthogonal Polynomial Solutions of Even-Ordered Ordinary Differential Equations."

The article appeared in the February issue of the scholarly periodical, which is printed by the Academic Press in New York.

"Differential equations arise in a vast number of areas of scientific endeavor," Vorheis says. "The theory of ordinary differential equations is an essential tool in the solution of many problems involving rates of change, such as population growth, electricity, thermodynamics and many others."

He says in the article that the notation, theory, and method for the solution of a rather large class of differential equations is developed.

Vorheis is one among many of the college's faculty who receive recognition for contributing scholarly papers to research periodicals.

Next Rodeo Will Start June 19

Directors of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo Association have fixed the dates for the 1974 show.

It will start on Wednesday, June 19 and will continue through June 20, 21 and 22 at the rodeo bowl.

Directors met Wednesday for a regular meeting, reviewing the past show and to begin negotiations for a producer for the 1974 event.

Mike Bearden Is Guest Speaker

The Rev. and Mrs. Jack Thompson will be out of town this Sunday, attending the wedding of their granddaughter in Arlington. The Rev. Mr. Thompson is pastor of the North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church.

Guest speaker at the church in Thompson's absence will be Mike Bearden, who is now a divinity student at McMurry College in Abilene.

CC Directors, Officers Meet

Officers and directors of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will have their monthly meeting Monday at the Desert Sands restaurant. George A. McAlister, president, said that the meeting would start at 12 noon.

Raye Nell Dyer Handed Degree

Raye Nell Dyer, Big Spring, is among those completing requirements for degrees and being graduated from Sam Houston State University in Huntsville. She received the bachelor of science degree.

History Reveals Art Has Met Sentiments Of Ages

The influence of art on flower arranging throughout various stages of history was discussed Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Joe Whitten for Big Spring Garden Club at the Heritage Museum.

"Individual tastes in art are different," said Mrs. Whitten, but throughout history, certain rules have always been used to produce good art form. Artists produce what their age demands. With its many types and movements, art has had great influence on floral arranging."

Mrs. Whitten said renderings of flowers, trees and plants have been found in all parts of the world, representing all ages. She said the potter's wheel was man's first mechanical invention, and man soon learned that decorations made plain earthenware look better. Throughout the ages, floral design has been used in rugs, architecture, carvings, sculpture, paintings and various other objects.

In Egypt, flowers were used in religious ceremonies, for decorative purposes in the home and for personal adornment. The art of ancient Egypt, as seen in the pyramids and temples, reflects a stylized manner rather than a realistic depiction of flowers or plants.

According to Mrs. Whitten, the Greeks didn't use flowers in arrangements, but rather for religious ceremonies. They were placed on brows of living heroes and on statues of gods and goddesses. Lovers exchanged wreaths and garlands as tokens of love and friendship. Mrs. Whitten said the Romans embraced the earlier customs of Greece in the use of flowers, but as the Roman civilization became more luxurious, it elaborated its use of plants and flowers. Attractive renderings have been found on the walls and floors of houses in Pompeii and other cities.

CHRISTIAN ART
The speaker also discussed early Christian art and told how the non-professional Christian painter set his emotive symbols of religious aspirations on his walls. She said floral art became more realistic during this period because realistic figures were needed to spread Christianity.

A unique technique in floral art in flat design was created during the Byzantine period, and Mrs. Whitten said formal, symmetrical floral arrangements of wreaths and garlands reached a rigid, studied perfection. She said floral arrangements reached new greatness during the Renaissance when, for the first time, natural placement was used.

During the Protestant Reformation of the 16th century, Mrs. Whitten said art became more refined and elegant. During the Baroque period, floral paintings were large and lavish with many accessories.

The art movement of the modern age began in the 19th century, according to Mrs. Whitten. The strict morality of Queen Victoria brought back an age of sentimentality and romance. Impressionists later attempted to render subjects in temporary and instantaneous terms, and post impressionists such as Van Gogh and Gauguin used symbolic and expressionistic approach.

NATURALISM
During the early 20th century, Mrs. Whitten said new art forced the overcrowded and stuffy decor of Victorianism from England and America. The accent was on naturalism, pastel colors and rhythmic forms. Also during this time, the Western world recognized Japanese art, and line arrangement of flowering shrubs and plants began to be used in floral arrangements.

"Whether art is expressed in painting, sculpture, flower arranging or any other form, the principles are the same," said Mrs. Whitten. "The art of any age reflects the tastes, ideals and demands of that time and place."

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. D. S. Riley and Mrs. Marvin Sewell. It was announced the local study theme is "Fabulous Assets — Our Heritage," which is in conjunction with the district theme, "A More Beautiful Texas — Our Heritage." The club project for the year is landscaping the museum grounds. The next meeting will be Oct. 3, place to be announced. The program will be given by Mrs. Riley, and members are asked to bring Christmas door decorations for the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Sorry For Dad

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Ever since I became an adult my mother has been pushing poor Dad around. She interrupts him to correct his grammar, tells him what to say, what to wear, and what to do. And when he talks on the telephone she literally stands beside him and prompts him as if he were three years old.

Dad doesn't like to be treated this way, but after a lifetime of fighting with competitors in business, all he wants now is peace at home. Occasionally he tries to assert himself, but it's such a hassle, he gives up and Mom wins again.

I've tried getting Mom interested in volunteer work, especially working with small children to satisfy her urge to boss somebody around, but she finds destroying Dad's manhood inch by inch more to her liking.

Don't tell me it's none of my business. If I hadn't grown up poor Dad wouldn't be in all this trouble. He's taking the heat meant for me. I wish I could help him.

SORRY FOR DAD
DEAR SORRY: Don't waste too much sympathy on "poor Dad." No man can be pushed around unless he surrenders his manhood. If you could convert some of your wishbone to "poor Dad's" backbone, you'd both have it made.

DEAR ABBY: I went to a charity luncheon as a guest of a friend of mine. One of the door prizes was a trip to Hawaii. I won it.

Afterwards, one of the women came up to me and congratulated me and she said, "I hope the organization can expect a nice donation from you."

To tell you the truth, I hadn't even considered such a thing. I don't want to appear cheap. Should I send in the price of a luncheon ticket for a donation?

LOVELY HULA HANDS
DEAR HANDS: It would be a nice gesture. (P.S. Why not be a sport and make it a little more than just the price of the luncheon?)

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."
