ASSASSINATION FDR's Son Linked To Mob Plot

WASHINGTON (AP) — A convicted stock swindler says Elliott Roosevelt and a reputed big-time gambler offered him $100,000 to assassinate the Bahamian prime minister.

Roosevelt, son of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt and once mayor of Miami Beach, Fla., called the allegation "an utter and complete fabrication."

Louis P. Mastriana told the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations Tuesday that the assassination contract was offered because Prime Minister Lynden O. Pindling allegedly failed to grant a gambling license to Michael McLaney. Mastriana identified McLaney as a one-time employee of U.S. gambling kingpin Meyer Lansky.

SERVED TIME

Mastriana served time in a federal penitentiary for illegal securities dealings in Florida and is serving an eight-year sentence for mail fraud in Texas.

Roosevelt, contacted at his Lisbon, Portugal ranch, said, "It is an utter and complete fabrication and outright lie made by a man who is a known con-artist and has been convicted, who has been put in jail, who has been adjudged by the courts of New Jersey as a mental incompetent, and who conned me and my associates at one time out of $10,000 in Miami."

Mastriana said he had had himself adjudicated insane purposely "so I could do anything." Later, he said, "I was examined by government psychiatrists who found me to be of sound mind and legally competent."

DIDN'T DELIVER

Mastriana testified that McLaney, who was convicted in 1971 of a securities violation, gave $1 million to Pindling for a 1968 political campaign. In return, Mastriana said, McLaney was to receive a gambling license in the Bahamas.

"But he didn't deliver," Mastriana said of the Bahamian prime minister.

"They came to me and offered me $100,000 to kill, to whack Pindling," said Mastriana.

Mastriana identified "they" as Roosevelt and McLaney. Mastriana said he was paid $10,000 immediately. He said he got $2,500 in a check from McLaney to Roosevelt.

A committee staff member produced a photostatic copy of a check for that amount signed by McLaney and Roosevelt. The committee member said the check had been endorsed by Roosevelt over to Mastriana.

Mastriana said there was no assassination attempt made, because he said he feared he would be unable to escape from the island nation.

NO COMMENT

Mastriana said he had a concealed recording device on his body and had taped his conversations with Roosevelt. He said the equipment was furnished by the U.S. Postal Service, which he said he had worked for at that time "in an undercover capacity."

A U.S. Postal Service spokesman said there would be no comment on the allegation until a check of the files is completed.

Impeachment Rumors Fly

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report that members of the House Judiciary Committee had discussed the possibility of impeaching Vice President Spiro T. Agnew with the Justice Department was denied today by Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J.

"It's absolutely untrue," Rodino said.

He said the committee has consulted with Justice Department officials on a number of subjects as part of an oversight review it is conducting of the department, but that impeachment was not one of them.

A committee spokesman said that at a regular monthly meeting Tuesday of Rodino and his subcommittee chairmen, which coincided with published reports that Agnew was considering resigning, the possibility that impeachment proceedings might arise was discussed.

"But it was just to take note that this might be something we have to deal with in the future," the spokesman said.

"There have been absolutely no conversations about it with the Justice Department."

The Justice Department also said it had no knowledge of any such discussion.

Agnew is one of the subjects of a federal probe of kickbacks by Maryland contractors during the years that the vice president was Baltimore County chief executive and governor of the state.

A paper said Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson, who has ordered that evidence concerning Agnew be presented to a federal grand jury in Maryland, will decide shortly whether Agnew could be indicted or first must be impeached.

Industry's Team Is Planning 2nd Visit

An Industrial Team official told The Herald that he received word Monday that representatives of an industry considering location in Big Spring may be in town for a second visit in early October.

Spokesmen for the multi-million dollar industry have already met with Industrial Team members once. Although identity of the firm is not known, it is thought to be an above-minimum-wage employer interested in hiring up to 2,000 people.

A Chamber of Commerce official reported at the last directors meeting that Odessa is thought to be bidding for the industry to locate there. Chances are considered good that the firm will locate in the Permian Basin.

Uncle Sam 'Slumlord'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Terminating the federal government "the biggest slumlord in history," President Nixon urged Congress today to authorize a new experiment that would provide the needy with direct cash payments to help meet their housing needs.

Nixon said the direct payments should be considered as a potential substitute for massive public housing projects.

SPECIAL MESSAGE

In a long-promised special message, Nixon said that the cash payments appear to be "the most promising way to achieve decent housing for all our families at an acceptable cost."

Nixon said that under the direct payment plan, "The federal government would provide qualified recipients with an appropriate housing payment and would then let them choose their own homes on the private market."

PRIVATE MARKET

Nixon said a recent study shows "it costs between 15 and 40 per cent more for the government to provide housing for people than for people to acquire that housing themselves on the private market."

In 1970, Congress authorized a $150 million experimental program in housing allowances involving more than 18,000 families. Nixon recommended this effort be expanded and that figures be gathered on the cost of safe and sanitary housing in various parts of the country.

Recommending that first priority be given to the elderly poor, Nixon said the cash subsidies "would be carefully scaled to make up the difference between what a family could afford on its own for housing and the cost of safe and sanitary housing in that geographic area."

The President said a final decision on the wisdom of the innovative approach probably would come "late in 1974 or early in 1975."

For the moment, Nixon said, there would be a continuing need to provide some federally-subsidized housing projects. But he recommended, as a new approach, that developers make newly-built units "available at special rents for low-income families and the government in return would pay the developer the difference between such rents and fair market rents."

PUBLIC HOUSING

In the field of public housing, Nixon announced he was lifting his Jan. 5 suspension of "the section 23 program under which new and existing housing is leased for low-income families."

Check Reveals Prices Up On Marts' Cuts Of Beef

Predictions of slight price increases made shortly before the Sept. 12 lifting of the beef price freeze appear to be holding true in local supermarkets.

Prices are up five to 10 cents a pound on the average on all cuts of beef in grocery store meat markets surveyed today.

"This week we had a five to 10-cent increase in our beef," said Ronny Crumpler, Safeway meat market manager. "I don't look for much more increase, though. The supply and demand situation will take care of that."

Similar sentiments were voiced by Pewee Roberts, meat manager of Foodway, who said prices are up across the board on beef cuts about five or six cents per pound and on the downsizing already.

Willis Burchett, counterpart at Piggly Wiggly, said, however, that beef prices at his store have not changed one cent since the freeze was lifted.

All three said they are having no trouble keeping sufficient supply of beef on hand as packing houses are reportedly no longer having trouble obtaining cattle for slaughter.

Beef sales have been down somewhat, they noted, probably due to panic buying in recent months in which consumers loaded their freezers with meat at the frozen prices.

"It may be another month before people start getting back to normal in buying meat," said Burchett.

Crumpler said another reason beef sales may be down slightly is that some consumers found during the counter supply shortage that they can live without beef.

Prices of pork and poultry which skyrocketed after an earlier freeze lifting are returning to normal, the grocers said. Whole fryers, up as high as 91 cents a pound recently, are back down to 54 and 55 cents in all three stores.

While a general levelling off period seems to be the trend, Tommy Hubbard of Hubbard Packing Co. said the situation still is rather "unbalanced." Hubbard said, however, that he does not feel qualified to analyze the trends as his business has gone almost exclusively to custom packing for farmers and ranchers.

Sale Of Swine Highlights 2nd Day Of County Fair

A booming second night — which substantially exceeded the first night's fine turnout — propelled the Howard County Fair into high gear.

The traditional auction of the 4-H and FFA swine show winners added color to the fair as several thousand thronged through the gate. Until Fair closing time at 10 p.m., there was hardly a time when the big-top tent and buildings were not thronged.

Today's activities got off to a good start with the second annual Agri-Business Day barbecue sponsored by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Just outside the entrance to the big top tent, the Lone Star

Chapter of the Order of Arrow will stage colorful Indian dances at 6:30 p.m. Costumes, made by the boys, are outstanding, and the dancers have picked up tricks of the trade by dancing with Indian groups in Oklahoma and Texas ceremonies.

Then, at 8 p.m., the roar of motorcycle motors will signal the start of the motorcycle rodeo in the Rodeo Arena under the chairmanship of Ray Weir. Various types of exciting races and stunts are planned. There is an admission charge (30-25 cents) for this.

Tuesday evening saw the conclusion of the flower show — it can't be sustained over a long period of time — and today the lapidary group from the Big Spring Prospectors Club was installing an extensive

Terry Testimony Heard In Broadrick's Trial

By MARJ CARPENTER
and
JOHN EDWARDS

Under cross examination in 118th District Court this morning, Cindi M. White Terry, formerly a girl friend of the defendant Ronald Wayne Broadrick, enlarged on the story that has emerged about their arrest.

Mrs. Terry has been granted immunity from prosecution, but Broadrick is being tried for sale of marijuana.

"Didn't you say: 'yes, but we could only get 29 lids not 40!'" during the rendezvous, Guil Jones, defense attorney, asked her. She said she might have.

The first witness, L. M. D. Browne of the Midland Police, and his then partner Sgt. Jerry Kemp, both recalled Broadrick said: "Man, I can't get 40. All I could get is 29 lids."

Mrs. Terry said the grey-haired man "stuck a gun to my head" when she leaned over to count the money.

"Did you think you were being robbed?" Guil Jones, attorney for the defense, asked. "Yes," she replied.

The grey-haired man did not identify himself verbally or by showing his badge, she said. Not until they were at the Big Spring Police Station, after about two hours, were she and Broadrick warned of their rights to an attorney and that anything they said might be used against them in court, Mrs. Terry said.

District Attorney Bob Moore asked Mrs. Terry only about the number of lids. She specified 29 lids, earlier defined as generally less than an ounce.

Then, the court recessed until 1 p.m. today.

TELLS OF CALLS

Earlier this morning, Mrs. Terry told about phone calls between her and Mrs. Ann Groebel before the rendezvous at the Highland South Shopping Center the night of Nov. 15.

Mrs. Groebel, who lives in the same block where the then Miss Cindi White lived with her parents, called Miss White several times asking for marijuana, Mrs. Cindi M. White Terry said.

Cindi White heard of several other phone calls her parents received. These calls were placed as happening during the weeks before the transaction at the shopping center parking lot.

On the weekend before the arrest, Mrs. Terry said she informed Broadrick Mrs. Groebel wanted marijuana.

Wednesday, the day of the arrest, Broadrick called Miss White from a friend's apartment, the witness said.

Jones asked if the then Miss White told Broadrick she would give his letter jacket back, and she said she had.

Then, you told him you and your mother were having problems, Jones asked.

"I think it's about time the state asks Mr. Jones not to lead the witness any more," the district attorney said.

Jones called her an "adverse witness", and District Judge R. W. Caton overruled the objection.

At one point, Jones asked if the witness's memory was sharp on a conversation with Broadrick.

"It's not clear," she said.

OBVIOUSLY NERVOUS

An obviously nervous Cindi Mandrell White Terry took the stand late Tuesday afternoon following an hour-long consultation between all of the attorneys involved in the judge's chambers.

She was accompanied by her attorney, John Burgess, who was allowed to stand beside the witness box while she gave her testimony.

Mrs. Terry looked down into her lap most of the time she was testifying and many of her answers were difficult for even the jurors to hear. When the judge asked them if they could hear, their answer was "just barely."

Charges against Cindi were dropped Friday and Guil Jones, attorney for the defense, had said, while questioning the prospective jurors, that Mrs. Terry had been released and would now probably appear on the stand as a witness against the defense.

RECEIVES CALL

Mrs. Terry testified that last November, she was planning to marry the defendant. She also told the jury that Mrs. Ann Groebel telephoned her and asked her if she had any marijuana and she replied "no."

She testified that the defendant called her from San Angelo and during the conversation told her he had "forty lids". She then testified that she went to the Groebels and told them that

Three Injured In City Wreck

Three persons received minor cuts and bruises in a major two-vehicle accident at 9:45 a.m. today in the 700 block of Gregg St.

Alvin D. Lawson, Colorado, was arrested for driving while intoxicated after the mishap in which the Lawson station wagon and an air conditioning company pickup driven by Cecil L. Winterbauer, 2004 11th Place, collided, turning the pickup over on its top.

Winterbauer and a passenger, Charles Armstrong, Gall Rt. Box 26-D, were not seriously hurt in the turnover.

Investigating officer James Vanness reported that the Lawson car had been traveling north on Gregg and the Winterbauer pickup south on Gregg when the car swerved into the wrong lane, hitting the pickup.

Workshop Slated In San Angelo

The Texas Joint English Committee for School and College will sponsor a one-day workshop for District XV, Oct. 6, in the library at Central High School, San Angelo. The workshop is open to area English teachers at all levels of instruction.

Highlight of the meeting will be a luncheon address by Dr. Laurence Perrine of Southern Methodist University, one of the profession's most respected scholars and best selling textbook authors.

Topics to be presented at the workshop include: how to use folklore in motivating students to write; how to use creative dramatics in the classroom; how to teach students to be specific in writing and how to face the problems of theme evaluation.

Gay Hill Group Due To Visit

Indications are that there will be a large crowd of interested persons at the school board meeting at 5:15 p.m. Monday, to discuss the closing of the Gay Hill school.

Both the administration and most of the board members have been contacted by some of the patrons of that portion of the school district.

The school board voted to close the facility effective Oct. 1 due to economic reasons. There are only 42 students at the school which costs around $50,000 to maintain annually.

Eagles To Hold 8 p.m. Meeting

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will have an important business meeting at 8 p.m. today in the lodge quarters in the Settles Hotel. Heading a list of decisions will be the election of a president and secretary-treasurer to fill vacancies.

Raza Unida Party Now Has Own Cadre Of Aspiring Capitalists

Editor's Note: A Mexican-American third party continues to rule in Crystal City, Tex., to the detriment of the town's economy, say the party's critics, but party supporters say they are beginning to progress. An approval.

By JOHN LUMPKIN Associated Press Writer

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex. (AP) — The Raza Unida Party, whose appeal to Mexican-Americans is based on elimination of Anglo political and economic domination, now has its own cadre of aspiring capitalists in the small town where it was born.

Among them is the superintendent of schools, Noe Gonzalez, who operates a restaurant on U.S. 83, owns a mobile home park and plans to open a motel. The party founder, Jose Angel Gutierrez, profits from a beer distributorship and says he supplies collateral—with profit—for enterprises of La Raza Unida's rank and file.

NO. 1 GOAL

Gutierrez, 28, still the leader of his party, says past economic efforts were a failure but "now it's moving into No. 1 priority."

In the party's three and a half year history here, there have been organizers and experts to get out the vote, alter the educational system and force change through the courts. The city and school administrations as well as the county attorney and sheriff's offices are in the hands of La Raza Unida.

They will compete for about 3,100 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the spring. In the 18 annual competitions completed to date, 34,450 students have won Merit Scholarships valued at more than $55.5 million.

Terry is a senior at Big Spring High School this year. They will compete for about 3,100 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the spring. In the 18 annual competitions completed to date, 34,450 students have won Merit Scholarships valued at more than $55.5 million.

According to Edward C. Smith, president of National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), "The approximately 15,000 semifinalists are representative of the nation's most academically talented young people, and they bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers, and their communities."

"From this group will come many future leaders in business, industry, and the professions," he said. "The future success of these young people will, however, depend upon their ability to become productive at the high intellectual levels that they are capable of attaining."

The semifinalists were the highest scorers in each state on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMQST) administered last October to over one million students in about 17,000 schools nationwide. These students, who constitute about one-half of one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States, will complete high school and enter college in 1974.

Appreciation Day For Farmers Set

SEMINOLE — Under the sponsorship of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, the first annual Agricultural Appreciation Day has been scheduled here Oct. 4.

W. P. Scarmado, College Station, independent cotton analyst, will speak following a barbecue lunch. Other features include displays of farm implements and auctioning of the 1973 first bale of cotton.

Now, party officials are looking for a man to specialize in economic development.

The atrophy of Crystal City's economy is a chief complaint from the heavily outnumbered Anglos—that is, the ones who have not already moved away.

JEALOUSLY

The Anglos refer jealously to the record of a nearby sister town, Carrizo Springs, where a new garment plant is off the ground, where banks deposits are up 260 per cent in the past four years and where Anglos still have a large share of the political power.

During the same period, Crystal City's deposits rose one-fifth as much in percentage and its sales tax revenues and gains in utility connections have lagged far behind Carrizo Springs.

Not all of Crystal City's Mexican-Americans are happy, either.

"If you are Raza Unida, you are in like Flynn," Manuel Garza, free lance appliance repairman, told an interviewer recently.

'CRYSTAL'

Garza, an unsuccessful independent candidate against Raza Unida's city council slate last spring, said he was the target of a boycott until the hot summer months. Then, party followers with cantankerous air conditioners would "come and cry on my shoulders," he said.

Hilario Guerra, a party supporter, won't have to wait for the hot summer months. He used to operate out of his house while Anglo contractors took the big jobs but his new $10,500 offices are nearing completion. His building is part of the first commercial construction here in two and a half years.

Guerra belongs to a new organization, the Cristal Contractors Association, using the Spanish spelling of "Crystal."

The association is preparing to share in the profits of a three-year, multi-million dollar construction program of schools, a clinic and other, publicly financed facilities.

Both Gutierrez and his detractors among the Anglos basically agree that political conflict is the reason Crystal City is not the most attractive Southwest Texas rural town competing for industry.

"When industry comes," Gutierrez says "he is going to see the banker, who's not a chicano. The banker is anti chicanohzyen, he goes across to City Hall and there is a chicano mayor. He's got to do business with both. He's not going to do it."

When can the problem be solved? "As soon as we get our own banker," says Gutierrez, but he admits a banking venture is "a long range proposition."

Shawn Davis Is Injured

Shawn Davis, leading national figure in the Rodeo Cowboys Association, was seriously injured this week in a goring accident while working cattle on a ranch near Lewisville.

Davis, who this week is listed as fifth in the nation in saddle bronc riding and who took part in the rodeo here last summer, is married to Jean Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clide Roberts, Big Spring.

Mrs. Davis also has four aunts in Big Spring including Mrs. Bud Tucker, Mrs. M. O. Roberts, Mrs. Sam Brown and Mrs. Ross Callihan.

Davis is reported to have injuries in the pelvic area and also severe damage to his nose. Relatives were hoping to learn more about his condition today.

The bronc rider is listed by the RCA as living in Whitehall, Mont., but they had recently moved back to Texas. He is in the Harris Hospital in Fort Worth in serious condition.

Meeting Slated On Health Foods

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Collins of Abilene will conduct an opening meeting on health food supplements at the Holiday Inn starting at 7:30 p.m., Thursday. The public is invited to be in attendance.

Ralph Collins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Collins, Big Spring.

Braniff Flight Attendants Prepare For Possible Strike

By The Associated Press

Braniff International settled one problem Tuesday but another and larger one loomed on the horizon today.

Flight attendants for the airline have prepared for a possible strike next week by setting up "strike information headquarters" in Dallas, Houston, Denver, Kansas City and Minneapolis.

The 1,100 flight attendants could legally strike if the current contract deadline is not resolved by Sunday. They are represented by the Air Line Pilots Association.

The problem that was resolved Tuesday involved allegedly misleading advertising by the airline.

New York Atty. Gen. Louis Lefkowitz said Braniff had agreed to stop claiming in ads that it offers "two-and-two" seating in coach sections of its airplanes—which can, when full, seat up to six abreast.

Lefkowitz said the airline used the phrase "two-and-two" to describe coach seating arrangements and pictured the interior of the coach section as having only two seats on the aisle all the way to the rear of its planes.

He said the planes in fact have "three-and-three" seating, with a middle seat on both sides that converts into an arm rest when unoccupied.

Braniff agreed not to use the terms "two-and-two seating," "twin seats" or "double seats," Lefkowitz said.

Meanwhile, Betty Boyer, chairman of the ALPA Dallas local executive council said, "The last word we had Tuesday was that there have been no new proposals from the company, so we are readying strike headquarters."

 To play good bridge it is not necessary to employ a complicated system. However it is vital that you and your partner have a thorough understanding of the conventions you do use. If you don't, you may not be as lucky as the two internationalists who held the North and South cards in today's hand, played in a pair tournament in Israel.

North-South were using two clubs as their only forcing bid. After South had shown a big hand, North's technically correct response was three diamonds, to show a positive response with a diamond suit. However, he elected to respond two no trump, showing at least 8 points and, in theory, a balanced hand. This set the stage for the misunderstanding that was to follow.

South intended his three club rebid as an inquiry for a four-card major suit. North read the bid as natural, showing a long club suit. Accordingly, he checked on aces and, when his partner claimed possession of all four, he leaped to seven clubs. Mystified by the proceedings, South decided to pass—which turned out to be a very fortunate decision.

West led the ten of spades, covered by the jack and king and won by the ace. The rather unhappy at the fact that he was playing in a 3-3 fit, declarer realized that, if the cards were favorably distributed, he might get home. For his plan to succeed, it was vital that both the hearts and diamonds divided evenly. Therefore, declarer led a heart to the jack, cashed the jack of spades and returned to his hand with the ace of diamonds.

On the ace, king and queen of hearts, declarer discarded two spades and a diamond from dummy. Next came the king of diamonds and a diamond ruff with the three of clubs. When this stood up, declarer had nine tricks in the bank. The ace of clubs was the tenth trick. The last three tricks consisted of a high crossruff of declarer's two spades and dummy's remaining diamond, and the grand slam was home.

Note that 13 tricks can be made only in the 3-3 club fit. As the cards lie, no opening lead or defense can set seven club!

GARY GRANT

HC Self-Study Team Headed By G. Grant

Gary Grant, chairman of the Howard County College English Department, has been named to head a steering committee to direct the institution's self-study evaluation.

The college is required to conduct a self study once each 10 years in order to receive accreditation from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, according to Dr. Thomas Salter, president.

Grant said his committee will serve as "an overseer for the whole study. It will be a directing and editing agency and will establish policies and guidelines."

He said that after nine standards committees have made evaluations, it will be the duty of the steering committee to put the study into its final form.

Grant recently returned from a two-day conference in Atlanta, Ga., on techniques of conducting an institutional self study.

Assisting Grant on the steering committee are Mrs. Reva Adams, Leslie Kelley, Paul Ausmus and Mrs. Susan King. Mrs. King will serve as editor of the final report.

The Southern Association is made up of member schools, each with a vote in the re-accreditation of its fellow institutions, Dr. Salter said. "Early in the spring of 1975 the Southern Association committee will visit the campus and make its report. That report will be combined with the self study and put on file with the association."

'Kate The Laundry Woman' Wins Medal For Bravery

LONDON (AP) — The pretty woman known in Belfast as "Kate the laundry woman" has won a medal for bravery in operations against the Irish Republican Army, the British defense minister announced today.

For Kate was Lance Cpl. Sarah-Jane Warke of the Women's Royal Army Corps, an intelligence agent who saw her partner gunned down by a guerrilla squad last October.

She was awarded the Military Medal, Britain's third highest award for courage. She is the first in her corps to win the medal, which has been bestowed on only six service-women since 1918.

The British army refused to say what she looks like or where she is stationed now for fear of being targeted by guerrillas might try to kill her. For the same reason, Queen Elizabeth II will present her medal at a private, unpublicized ceremony at Buckingham Palace.

The Defense Ministry did admit that she is over 25 and single.

Sarah-Jane was the only woman among a group of British agents disguised as employees of the fictitious Four Square Laundry who toured Catholic quarters of Belfast seeking clues to IRA gunmen.

For months, she and Ted Stuart of the Royal Engineers drove their green pickup truck around areas where a British soldier in uniform would have been shot on sight by IRA snipers. The laundry they collected was taken to an army laboratory and checked for bloodstains and indications that the wearer had been using explosives or firearms.

The army said the information obtained gave vital leads to guerrillas' hideouts. Security sources in Belfast reported the undercover operation helped pinpoint dozens of terrorists.

To the women in the houses Sarah-Jane visited every day, she was known as Kate, the chirpy laundry woman who was always ready to gossip with them. The tidbits of information she picked up also helped the army.

Last October the IRA discovered the secret of the Four Square Laundry and set up an ambush for Sarah-Jane and Stuart as they were making their rounds in the Dunmurry housing development.

The guerrillas opened fire on the green van as the woman was knocking on a door to pick up the laundry. The truck was riddled with machine-gun bullets, and Stuart was killed. Sarah-Jane, 29, yards away and out in the open, was not hurt.

Court records show Harris got in his car outside the lounge on Jan. 2, 1971, turned on the ignition and drove straight into the lounge, causing considerable damage.

Harris was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $150.

The prosecution argued before the high court that an earlier Texas case upheld a DWI conviction involving a parking lot, but the court said the lot in that case connected two thoroughfares.

Bids Accepted By Gail Board

GAIL — Borden County school trustees accepted bids on gasoline and liquefied petroleum gas at the board meeting Monday.

Contract was continued with Gulf Oil Co. for gasoline in the 1973-74 fiscal year which begins Oct. 1 at a price of 19.25 cents per gallon.

The bid for LPG was accepted from T. H. McCann Butane Co. of Big Spring at 14.4 cents per gallon subject to refinery price changes.

Trustees voted unanimously to accept the bid of Snyder Motor Co. on a Pontiac Catalina for the superintendent. Price was $3,850.

In the superintendent's report, Supt. James McLeRoy said attendance in the district stands at 200. A breakdown of grades showed kindergarten, nine; first, eight; second, 12; third, 10; fourth, 19; fifth, 18 sixth, 15 seventh, 14 eighth, 25 ninth, 14 tenth, 16; eleventh, 19; and twelfth, 21.

Strikes In Newsprint Industry Prove Costly

MONTREAL (AP) — Strikes in Canada's newsprint industry have meant the loss of about 250,000 tons of production so far this year, a spokesman for the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association said today.

He noted that this is a small percentage of Canada's total annual output of about 10 million tons. But he said it came at a time of heavy demand for big fall issues of newspapers and magazines.

He also pointed out that customers in the United States are suffering most because of the strikes, many companies export most of their newsprint to the United States.

The strikes have hit Abitibi Ltd., Canadian International Paper and Price Co. and forced newspapers and magazines in the United States and Canada to suspend some editions, limit the size of publications or curtail press runs. Demands for higher wages and increased benefits have been paramount in the disputes between the companies and their employees, most of whom belong to the United Paperworkers International Union.

The spokesman for the pulp and paper association said it is unlikely that the lost production can be made up in a year in which North American mills have been operating at near capacity to meet heavy demands for newsprint. Newsprint users will probably have to watch their consumption this fall, but shortages will be alleviated, he added.

The strike against Abitibi was settled earlier this month, but CIP mills in Quebec and New Brunswick are still closed, and the wage dispute continues.

He Never Left Lounge Lot

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — D.C. Harris of Dallas got the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to reverse his driving-while-intoxicated conviction today on the ground that he never left a lounge parking lot.

Court records show Harris got in his car outside the lounge on Jan. 2, 1971, turned on the ignition and drove straight into the lounge, causing considerable damage.

Harris was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $150.

The prosecution argued before the high court that an earlier Texas case upheld a DWI conviction involving a parking lot, but the court said the lot in that case connected two thoroughfares.

Donations Mount To $6,134.50

Donations to the 1973-74 Big Spring High School Bible Fund totaled $6,134.50, a new audit showed. A total of $5,800 had been sought to insure continuance of the program.

Among recent gifts was from a friend who sought anonymity. It came in the amount of $10.

Richard Falkenberg, HCJC men's dorm, 24 8-track tapes and caddy. Value: $140.

ON DISPLAY AT SHROYER MOTOR COMPANY THURSDAY — Pictured is the 1974 Oldsmobile Delta 88 Royale Hardtop coupe, one of several new Oldsmobiles to be shown

Oldsmobiles Boast Power

LANSING, Mich. — Oldsmobile engines for 1974 feature four-barrel carburetors as standard equipment on all intermediate and full-size models. The 350-cubic-inch Rocket V-8 is standard on all Cutlass, Vista Cruiser, Delta 88 and Delta 88 Royale models. The 455-cubic-inch V-8 is standard on the Custom Cruiser, Ninety-Eight and Toronado models and optional on all but the Omega. The standard Omega engine is the 250-cubic-inch six-cylinder with the 350 V-8 optional.

Oldsmobile V-8 engines continue to feature positive valve rotators on intake and exhaust valves plus "flex-head" intake valves for increased durability and emission control.

Oldsmobile starters have new coil insulation, cold-formed pinion teeth and a five-roller clutch assembly replacing a four-roller clutch for long-life performance.

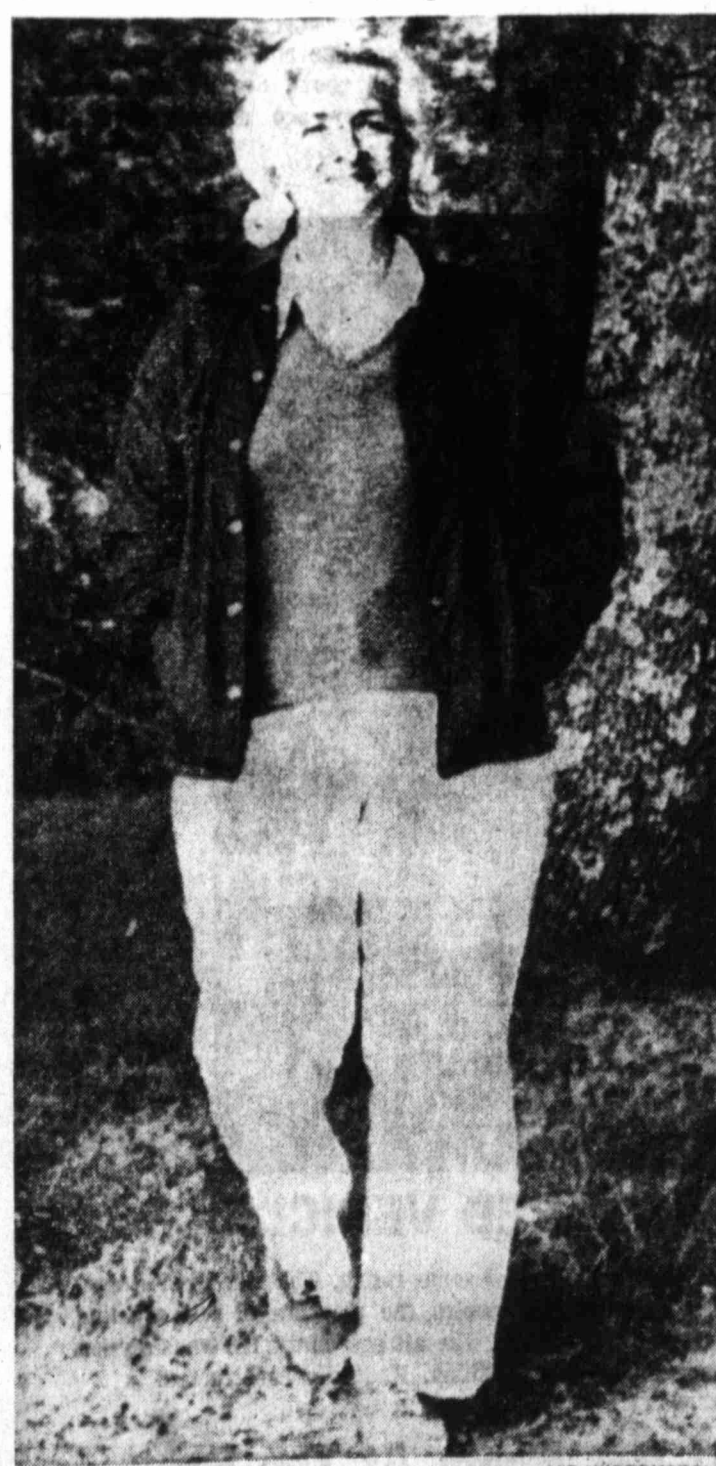

A new valve cover gasket material uses an RTV (Room Temperature Vulcanizing liquid silicone) for a more durable seal.

A high-energy ignition system is optional on all full-size cars with the 455-cubic-inch four-barrel engine. This system provides a longer duration, hotter spark for improved starting as well as reducing maintenance through elimination of the distributor points and condenser.

All four-barrel engines use a cold air duct connection between the air cleaner snorkel and grille area to pick up cooler ambient air. The system provides better hot weather performance and driveability through cooler carburetor air temperature.

WAR WIDOW BUILDING A NEW LIFE IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN WILDERNESS — Joyce Nolde, 43, widow of the last American soldier to die in combat before the Vietnam cease-fire took effect, strolls through the woods surrounding her cottage near Black Lake. Mrs. Nolde says she is building a new life in northern lower Michigan living in the cottage since selling the couple's ranch-style home in Mt Pleasant, Her Husband, Lt. Col. William Nolde, died when a rocket smashed into his bunker in An Loc eleven hours before the cease-fire last January.

House Votes On Flipping Nixon's Veto Of Wage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected today to sustain President Nixon's veto of a bill increasing the minimum wage despite a determined effort by labor leaders to salvage the legislation.

House Democratic leaders failed in four previous efforts to muster the two-thirds majority needed to override a veto and a fifth effort failed in the Senate. Now they are letting labor make the main fight.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, has sent every House member a letter urging the veto be overridden and has called on all union local leaders

War Widow Is Building New Life In Wilderness

ONAWAY, Mich. (AP) — Joyce Nolde, the widow of America's last combat fatality before the Jan. 28 Vietnamese cease-fire, is building a new life in the northern Michigan wilderness.

Lt. Col. William Nolde, 43, was killed when a Viet Cong rocket smashed into his bunker at An Loc 11 hours before the cease-fire began.

"I moved away because I needed to start a new life," Mrs. Nolde said in an interview this week. "We were a close family and had a wonderful life with Bill, but you can't stop or go back."

Mrs. Nolde, 43, said she receives a modest income from her husband's pension and the Veterans Administration. Insurance paid off debts.

She left a ranch-style home in Mount Pleasant last summer to move into a two-story, comfortable but inconvenient cottage on Black Lake in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Chilly squalls from the lake veer through the birch, maple and oak forests that wall the cottage off from Onaway, the nearest town, 10 miles away.

She put down the tools she was using to hammer pine siding on the cottage, brushed her hands on her white slacks and said:

"It's our family's philosophy that you don't get ahead if you don't get with it."

Sons Byron, 14, and Bart, 13, live with their mother. A 16-year-old daughter, Kimberlie, was married Aug. 25. Another son, 17-year-old Brent, is in high school in Mount Pleasant, and the oldest son, Blair, 20, owns a 40-acre farm near Mount Pleasant.

"I felt the move would give us the closeness and self-confidence the younger boys need in the next few years without a father around," said Mrs. Nolde.

Both Mrs. Nolde and her husband sensed when the other was sick or troubled — even when separated by thousands of miles when he was alive, she said.

"I knew he was dead," Mrs. Nolde said last winter shortly after military authorities officially notified her. She said she had dreamed the night before "that a rocket came in and hit him and he said, 'Don't worry, honey, I'll be okay.' The blast woke me up."

She recalled this week that recently, while she was in bed at the cottage, there was a noise downstairs.

"I went down, and Bill was standing in the doorway," she related. "He said, 'I want you to know I approve of everything you are doing.' When I asked what he was doing here, he said, 'Never mind. I went to touch him. He said, 'No, trust me,' and walked out.'"

Another evening not long ago, after a bath, Mrs. Nolde was wearing a robe her husband had given her when "a heavy hand pulled my shoulder from behind," she said.

"I thought somebody had gotten into the cottage. I shuddered and said, 'Whoever it is please, please go away.' When I turned around, nobody was there.

"You can say it's a dream or a trick of the mind, but I know what happened, and I'm as stable as anyone I know," she added.

Comic Books Like Money In Bank

WHEATON, Md. (AP) — If you want to see a page in Jimmy Friedman's comic book, it'll be shown with the lights out. That's because pages from the book will be shown via slide projector.

Friedman, a Baltimore advertising man, was asked about seeing one of his books Sunday and his reply was: "No way. It's meticulously sealed in an air-tight container."

But as 35 comic book dealers and over 300 collectors gathered here for a "Maryland Funny Book Festival," he showed a color slide of one panel of a 1941 comic book where Captain America smashes Hitler in the jaw.

Campaign Financing Bills Drag In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate hearings indicate slow going for bills providing for use of tax funds to finance federal election campaigns.

As the Senate elections subcommittee went into a second day of hearings today, it was apparent that supporters of public financing have many differences to resolve, despite agreement on the general concept.

In addition, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said they should not underestimate the resistance by "special interest groups" and by Congress members who object to the diversion of tax revenues "from human needs" to the financing of political campaigns.

Nixon has proposed a slower increase in the minimum — to $1.90 this year, $2.10 next year, $2.20 in 1975 and $2.30 in 1976, with no increase in coverage, and a lower rate for teenage workers.

The difficulty facing the labor lobbyists is mainly one of arithmetic. There are 192 Republicans in the House, and if all 435 members vote it only takes 146 to sustain a veto.

The House Republican Policy Committee, chief policy arm of the GOP leadership, overwhelmingly supported Nixon's position Tuesday and issued a statement urging the veto be sustained.

The statement said Republicans would support "a moderate and useful increase in the minimum wage."

CLAREMONT, Calif. (AP) — Scholars here are translating a Gnostic bible in which the snake of the Garden of Eden is a hero.

Scholars at Claremont's Institute for Antiquity and Christianity have pieced together a fourth-century Gnostic sacred library discovered in Egypt shortly after World War II.

The Gnostics were an early, primarily Egyptian Christian sect, later denounced as heretical. They believed in the redemptive nature of knowledge.

The book now being translated, "The Origin of the World," is similar to the Bible's "Genesis." It portrays the snake as luring Adam and Eve to eat the forbidden fruit and "become like gods in that you will know the difference between evil men and good."

Kennedy, a strong supporter of public financing, told the subcommittee at its opening hearing Tuesday that private financing of political campaigns is "infested with actual and potential corruption."

Other senators testifying in support of various public financing proposals expressed a similar view, but had divergent ideas on the kind of legislation Congress should pass.

Some argued that, to begin with at least, public financing should be limited to presidential candidates. Others urged inclusion of candidates for the Senate and the House.

Another difference was over whether candidates should be required to rely exclusively on tax funds or should be allowed to accept small private contributions.

Still another issue was whether Congress should appropriate campaign funds or leave to taxpayers, at their option, the earmarking of a dollar or two of their income tax payments to finance campaigns.

Perhaps the sharpest difference was whether to allot tax revenues to candidates in primaries rather than just in general election campaigns.

Some of the pending bills would cover primaries and others would not.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., told newsmen that chances of any public financing legislation being approved by Congress before the end of next year are less than 50-50.

The course is designed by the National Safety Council and is the same as furnished to members of the Armed Forces as well as thousands of civilians.

For further details, those interested in enrolling should see or call Bill Read at the Coahoma State Bank. When there is sufficient registration, arrangements will be made to start the class.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The man whose name is a word record has emerged here.

The Philadelphia Inquirer reported that television personality David Frost was looking for the man, who calls himself Hubert Wolfstern, to appear on a special program based on the Guinness Book of World Records. The book says Wolfstern has the world's longest name.

His full surname has 666 letters and he has 26 first names, one for each letter in the alphabet, Adolph to Zeus. The name takes up 2 1/2 inches in the record book.

The South Philadelphia limotypist noted that his great-grandfather composed the surname in the last century because German Jews did not use a second name.

His name is Hubert Wolfsternschlegelsteinhausenbergerdorff.

Come see the '74 Oldsmobiles.

"But dad, all you said was that Cutlass Salon had reclining seats. You didn't say it came in a new coupe, too."

Last year Cutlass Salon was a new kind of American car—a sedan built for its roadability. This year there's a Salon two-door coupe. Like the sedan, it has a new, lower steering ratio for quicker response. Steel-belted radial tires to grip the road. Special suspension for tight cornering.

Contoured seats that recline. And you can even order a Landau roof. Cutlass Salon. Built in the Grand Touring Tradition.

"Look Walter! Now we can get an air conditioner that filters smells."

Not only does Tempmatic regulate temperature inside your car to a preset level, it also charcoal filters the air. The filter acts to reduce many offensive odors from the air entering the car. It's available on all full-size Oldsmobiles. The '74 Delta 88 coupe has a brand new roofline. Hydraulic bumper systems, front and rear. And underneath—a suspension system that's as tough as ever. Olds Delta 88. It's really put together. More than just another pretty car.

"Hey! I didn't know we could get these new little windows in the Toronado."

Order a Toronado with an opera roof and you get opera windows and a padded canopy of oxen-grain vinyl. You can also order a new interior with rich velour upholstery, a high-energy ignition system, and True-Track braking. The 1974 Toronado has a new instrument panel with a message center that lights up to warn you when certain things such as your gas, oil pressure, seat belts, etc., require your attention; there's even an exceptionally accurate digital clock, with quartz-crystal controlled movement. Front-wheel drive Toronado. Engineering can be beautiful.

Stop in at your Olds dealers. He's got surprises for every member of the family in all the other '74s, too: Ninety Eight Regency, Cutlass S and Supreme, Omega and station wagons.

Health Forces Paul Adams To Quit Board At College

Paul B. Adams, vice president of the trustees of Howard County Junior College, resigned from the board Tuesday for reasons of health.

The board accepted with deep regret the retirement of the veteran board member from the northwestern part of the county. Adams came on the board June 5, 1956 as a replacement to Edgar Phillips, one of the founding trustees, and thus has 17 consecutive years of service. The college will continue to have his deep interest, and his colleagues on the board his sincere respect, said Adams.

The board considered and adopted a revised faculty handbook, a compendium of board and state policy as it applies to teachers. Working on the tenure section was changed to eliminate "automatic" tenure with receipt of a fourth annual contract. The new wording says that completion of a third year of service confers on a teacher the (faculty) tenure committee and approved by the board.

COMPLEX CHANGED — Also changed was the complex of the committee, which heretofore included two board members. Now it becomes all-faculty on the premise that the board is the appeal agency and hence it would not be proper to have board members figure in the process at two levels. Except for some clarification, the new book tracks the one in use since 1971.

Approval also was given something entirely new, a staff handbook, which does pretty much the same for spelling out policies, etc. for administrative and non-teaching personnel.

The resignation of Charles D. (Woody) McDonnell as instructor in voice and choir was accepted, effective at the end of the current semester. An opportunity in professional opera work has opened to McDonnell, Dr. Thomas Salter, college president, said.

The gift of an x-ray automatic film processing unit was accepted with appreciation from W. C. Williams, Abilene. The equipment will be needed in health technology courses and is valued at $1,000 or more.

THANKS EXTENDED

Expressions of great appreciation to County Judge A. G. Mitchell, and Commissioners Si Terrazas, Bill Bennett, Bill Crocker and Jack Buchanan were voiced by the board for the county's assistance in work on the memorial stadium parking lot.

UAW Leaders Bid To End Car Strike

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers' Chrysler council considers today the proposed contract with the nation's No. 3 auto maker.

UAW national leaders hope to end the strike by Monday. But they have met some resistance from local officials in efforts to get about 112,000 production workers back to their jobs by the first of the week.

The union struck Chrysler Corp. at midnight Friday when the old contract expired. Agreement on a new pact was announced Monday.

The 200-member council must approve the new pact before it can be submitted to the rank and file for ratification votes Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Ratification is obtained when a majority of the 69 Chrysler locals approves the pact.

Unanimous approval of the new contract, which emphasizes fringe benefits, was obtained from the union's International Executive Board on Monday and from the presidents of the locals on Tuesday.

Top union leaders met on Tuesday with officials of the locals to explain the new three-year pact and tell them that union members would return to work as soon as the national agreement was approved.

The proposed contract calls for a three per cent wage hike each year plus 12 cents per hour in the first year. It also offers 17 per cent greater protection against increases in the cost of living.

But the major provisions include allowing full retirement after 30 years in the plants on pensions increasing from $550 to $600 monthly over the next five years and limiting management's right to order overtime.

Breezes Blunting First Cool Snap

By The Associated Press

South breezes blunted waning summer's first cool snap as skies cleared over most of Texas today.

At the same time, however, thundershowers from the south edge of New Mexico to El Paso dropped temperatures in that far West Texas hot spot—warmest in the state with a high of 98 degrees Tuesday.

There also were a few showers near Brownsville, but nothing to match the occasionally heavy rains in parts of South Central and South Texas the day before. Moisture amounts Tuesday ranged up to more than 2 inches at Rio Grande City.

Early morning temperatures eased down to 57 degrees at Childress and 59 at Dalhart in the Panhandle while the readings still stood at 76 in Brownsville and Galveston on the coast. The El Paso mark near dawn was 68.

Aside from occasional showers or thundershowers near the state's western and southern tips, forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy weather throughout the state with generally mild to warm temperatures.

Air Force Decision To Switch $75 Million Jet Pact Upheld

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A federal judge has upheld an Air Force decision to switch a potential $75 million jet engine repair contract from the Curtiss-Wright Co. of Wood-Ridge to a firm in Texas.

The decision Tuesday by U.S. Dist. Court Judge James A. Coolahan could result in a lay-off of more than 1,200 workers at Curtiss-Wright, which has held the contract since 1967.

The Air Force contract is for overhaul and maintenance of engines on KC-135 jet tankers. Late last year the contract was put up for bids, and in April the Air Force awarded it to Southwest Airmotive Co. of Dallas, Tex.

VOID CONTRACT

Curtiss-Wright had asked Coolahan to void the contract on the ground that Southwest Airmotive was deficient in technology, physical plant and managerial expertise and thus could underbid Curtiss-Wright by $9 million.

Curtiss-Wright had estimated the one-year contract, with expected renewals, would be worth about $75 million over a five-year period.

In his opinion, Coolahan said the Air Force had taken the necessary steps to insure the overhaul would be done safely by the Texas firm. He did not dispute that Southwest had scored below Curtiss-Wright in Air Force evaluation tests, but he said inspections by Air Force evaluators showed Southwest Airmotive later improved its facilities.

OTHER FIRMS

Curtiss-Wright also had argued the contract was illegal because it violated the 1965 Service Contract Act, which requires some government suppliers to pay their employees as much as workers doing similar jobs in other firms.

According to Curtiss-Wright, Southwest Airmotive might have been able to submit a lower bid because it was paying its workers lower wages than its competitors. In any case, the Air Force should have submitted its contract to the U.S. Department of Labor to determine if the 1965 law applies to jet engine repair contracts, Curtiss-Wright said.

Coolahan agreed and ordered the Air Force to seek a ruling from the secretary of labor. However, he refused to stop Air Force payments to Southwest Airmotive, which is formally scheduled to take the contract over from Curtiss-Wright in 1974.

THREE STANEK BABIES AILING One Of Sextuplets Dies

DENVER (AP) — One of the Stanek sextuplets has died from a lung disease common in prematurely born babies. A doctor says three of the other infants show signs of the same ailment.

Julia Stanek lived about 44 hours before severe hyaline membrane disease caused her death Tuesday night.

Doctors at Colorado General Hospital had given her two blood transfusions Tuesday afternoon and a respirator was used to aid her breathing.

Dr. Darrell Miller reported the condition of two of the sextuplets had declined, with both showing signs of the hyaline disease. They are Catherine, Julia's only sister, and an unnamed brother. Another boy, Steven, was reported in fair condition with indications of the ailment.

Miller said that two of the boys, Jeffrey and John, were in good condition.

The babies were about six weeks premature.

Miller said he talked to the mother, Mrs. Eugene J. Stanek, 34, and reported "she was moved by Julia's death, but seemed stoic and very accepting."

Mrs. Stanek was reported in good condition today. She was allowed to stand Tuesday for the first time since the babies were born Sunday night. The father, 31, was at the hospital at the time of Julia's death but left a short time later. Miller said of Julia's death, "The blood oxygen level had to be steadily decreased. Her blood wouldn't clot due to the low oxygen content. One transfusion was performed and it seemed to help. But the problem redeveloped shortly after the second transfusion."

Heath Trying To 'Cool' New Crisis In Ireland

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath tried to dampen a new political crisis in Northern Ireland Tuesday night by backing off from his earlier warning that the British government would strip the province of its autonomy if its Protestant and Roman Catholic politicians cannot get together.

Heath this time said integration of the province into the United Kingdom was a possibility and not a desirable one at that. He appealed to the warring factions in Northern Ireland to "live and work together and be responsible for the peaceful management of their affairs."

The prime minister had warned in radio and television interviews earlier Tuesday that the British government would make its direct rule of Northern Ireland permanent unless the new provincial assembly sets up a workable Protestant-Catholic coalition government by March 30.

Hyaline membrane disease was described by Ted Wrenn, a spokesman for the hospital, as a film formed on the inside of the lung when air and blood come in contact. The film prevents the escape of carbon dioxide, the gas exhaled after oxygen is extracted from the air.

Highway To Sea Cleared Again

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian military command said today that Phnom Penh's highway to the sea has been cleared of Khmer Rouge insurgents again and reopened to traffic for the first time in nearly a month.

Col. Am Rong, the chief military spokesman, said government troops fell on the insurgents from four sides Tuesday at Sala Kruos, on the highway 17 miles west of Phnom Penh, and killed a large number.

Am Rong said the total casualties were still to be determined.

Convoys between Phnom Penh and Kompong Som, Cambodia's only deep-water port, will probably begin moving along Highway 4 on Thursday, Am Rong said. But a damaged bridge 33 miles southwest of the capital near Moha Saing could delay traffic.

With Highway 4 cleared and fighting in the town of Kompong Cham at an ebb, Am Rong said government troops might be shifted to help fight the insurgents blocking Highway 5, Phnom Penh's supply route to the rice belt in north-west Cambodia.

That highway was cut by insurgents about 40 miles north of Phnom Penh on Sept. 6, and the campaign to clear it has been left mostly to regional militia forces.

At Kompong Cham, the country's third largest city and the scene of heavy fighting last week, government troops continued to battle Khmer Rouge forces near the university on the western side of the town, Am Rong said. The university compound was reportedly cleared of insurgents on Tuesday.

A nine-boat convoy early today brought food and military supplies up the Mekong river to the town, which is 47 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, the government said.

In Saigon, meanwhile, the South Vietnamese government claimed 39 Viet Cong were killed in clashes Tuesday in the Mekong delta and the central highlands. It said that for the second day in succession there were no government casualties.

Confession Error Cited

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A San Antonio trial court erred in allowing a police officer to testify that Irene Martinez told him she wanted to "get rid" of her children, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ruled today.

The court reversed and remanded the conviction of Mrs. Martinez, who was sentenced to 10 years on a murder-with-malice charge in the death of her 9-month-old daughter, Yolanda. The defendant moved in with a friend on Sept. 1, 1970, telling the friend that her two infant children were to be cared for by an aunt.

Four days later, the children were found locked in the house she had moved from. Yolanda was dead.

The defendant testified there was a misunderstanding, that she had thought the aunt would take care of them.

The arresting officer was allowed to testify that the defendant told him, 33 hours after the children were found, that her husband was in Vietnam; that they didn't love each other anymore; that she associated the children with him; and that "she wanted to get rid of them."

The offer did not reduce the "confession" to writing as required by law, and he did not put it in his report.

Since the statement came so long after the children were found, the court said, the officer's testimony could not qualify under an exception to the oral confession rule regarding statements made spontaneously at the scene of a crime.

Brownsville Raid Survivor Expires

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Edward Warfield, 89, a survivor of a company of black soldiers accused in the infamous Brownsville Raid, died Tuesday. He and 165 other soldiers were dishonorably discharged in 1906 for allegedly rioting and shooting up Brownsville, Tex. Last April, the Army found the charges erroneous and issued Warfield an honorable discharge.

Doctors and nurses at the Big Spring State Hospital will participate in a seminar with the University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio Thursday by means of a live two-way communication hookup.

Via a telephone system, the BSSH and 39 other hospitals in Texas and Louisiana will listen to a three-doctor panel from the health center discuss "Use and Abuse of Sex Hormones."

Dr. Robert Sheldon, BSSH clinical director, said the local facility is the only state hospital participating in the teleconference program which was begun last year. Thursday's seminar will be the first, however, in which BSSH has participated.

Fifty doctors and 12 nurses will be involved, Dr. Sheldon said, in the continuing education program.

Allende Was Planning Marxist Dictatorship?

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The head of Chile's largest political party claims President Salvador Allende was planning a coup of his own to establish a Marxist dictatorship when Chile's military commanders overthrew him Sept. 11.

Patricio Aylwin, president of the Christian Democratic party, said Tuesday that Allende's hopes of leading Chile "down the road to socialism" had failed and the president was plotting to stage a faked uprising which he would have crushed with his armed supporters and thus established absolute Marxist control.

"The best proof is the enormous amounts of arms that the illegal Marxist militia had," Aylwin said. "They formed a true, parallel army, with fire power equivalent to 12 regular regiments and the actual presence of more than 12,000 foreign extremists."

Counterbugging Expert Worked Simultaneously For GOP, ITT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counterbugging expert John Ragan, who has been called as a surprise witness in the Senate Watergate hearings, worked simultaneously for the Republican party and International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

Ragan worked as a $100-a-day security consultant for the Republican National Committee from 1969 until September 1971. He also was sent by ITT in early 1971 to assist the late Chilean President Salvador Allende. An ITT spokesman denied that Ragan's mission to Chile was related to his work at the Republican party.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, chairman of the Watergate committee, announced Tuesday that Ragan would be one of the first witnesses when the panel's hearings resume Monday.

Also on the list are convicted Watergate wiretapper E. Howard Hunt Jr., White House speechwriter Patrick J. Buchanan and a previous witness, John J. Caulfield, who allegedly supervised undercover activities for the White House.

Ragan's name turned up once before in Watergate testimony. Ousted White House Counsel John W. Dean III mentioned Ragan as having reportedly helped wiretap the home of columnist Joseph Kraft.

Reached by telephone at his home in Massapequa, N.Y., Ragan said he had undertaken a "feasibility study" at Kraft's home in 1969. But he denied involvement in any bugging matters." There was no tap," he said.

Three sources close to the committee also said that Ragan would be questioned about President Nixon's alleged wiretapping of his brother, F. Donald Nixon. But Ragan said he knows nothing about that.

Ragan said he has been interviewed by the committee's investigators three times and has told them he has little information to offer.

Ragan, 59, worked for the FBI for 24 years before retiring in 1964. He said his last 11 years were spent in "technical committee investigators were skeptical that ITT would be helping Allende, whose government the firm opposed. "They just couldn't believe it," he said.

Ragan said that his trip to Chile was in April and May of 1971, four months before he ended his ties to the Republican party.

An ITT spokesman in New York said Ragan was hired for the job after Allende, suspecting that his telephones were tapped, asked the ITT-owned national telephone company for help.

Cost Of Bagels On The Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price of bagels is going up.

This single economic fact of eating has been brought to the attention of the House by Rep. Bertram Podell, D-N.Y. He said the price jump has hit hard his bagel-loving constituents in New York City.

"The most recent casualty of Phase 4 is a consumer item that is very popular in my district — the bagel," Podell told the House. A bagel is a glazed, hard doughnut-shaped roll made of flour and water. It can be eaten by itself or, as often is the case, with cream cheese and smoked salmon or lox.

"For the past few years, the price of bagels had stabilized at eight to ten cents," he said.

"Then Mr. Nixon arranged for the sale of one-quarter of America's wheat harvest to the Soviet Union, giving inside information to a few speculators who were thus able to make a fortune on the deal.

"Finally, and incredibly, the President removed all price controls on wheat. The result was a substantial increase in the cost of flour. As a result, my constituents are now paying 12 to 15 cents for a bagel, an increase of between 20 to 50 per cent," Podell said.

Podell said that despite the increase in price, labor costs and bakers' profits have not risen.

"The blame lies squarely with President Nixon and Secretary of Agriculture (Earl) Butz," Podell said.

Smith Renamed Prexy Of Chapter

Also elected officers were Jim Parks, vice chairman; Edith Gay, secretary; Ruby Phillips, treasurer; and Tito Arenecibia, publicity chairman.

Smith, Vaughn Martin, Carol Hutchinson and the Mothers March chairman soon to be named will attend.

Mrs. Hutchinson took over from Telle Hewett the position of executive secretary of the local chapter Aug. 28. Previously a volunteer worker in MOD, Mrs. Hutchinson moved here in April.

Y Additon May Be Ready For Use Next Month

Prospects are that the YMCA will get to occupy its new major addition by mid-November.

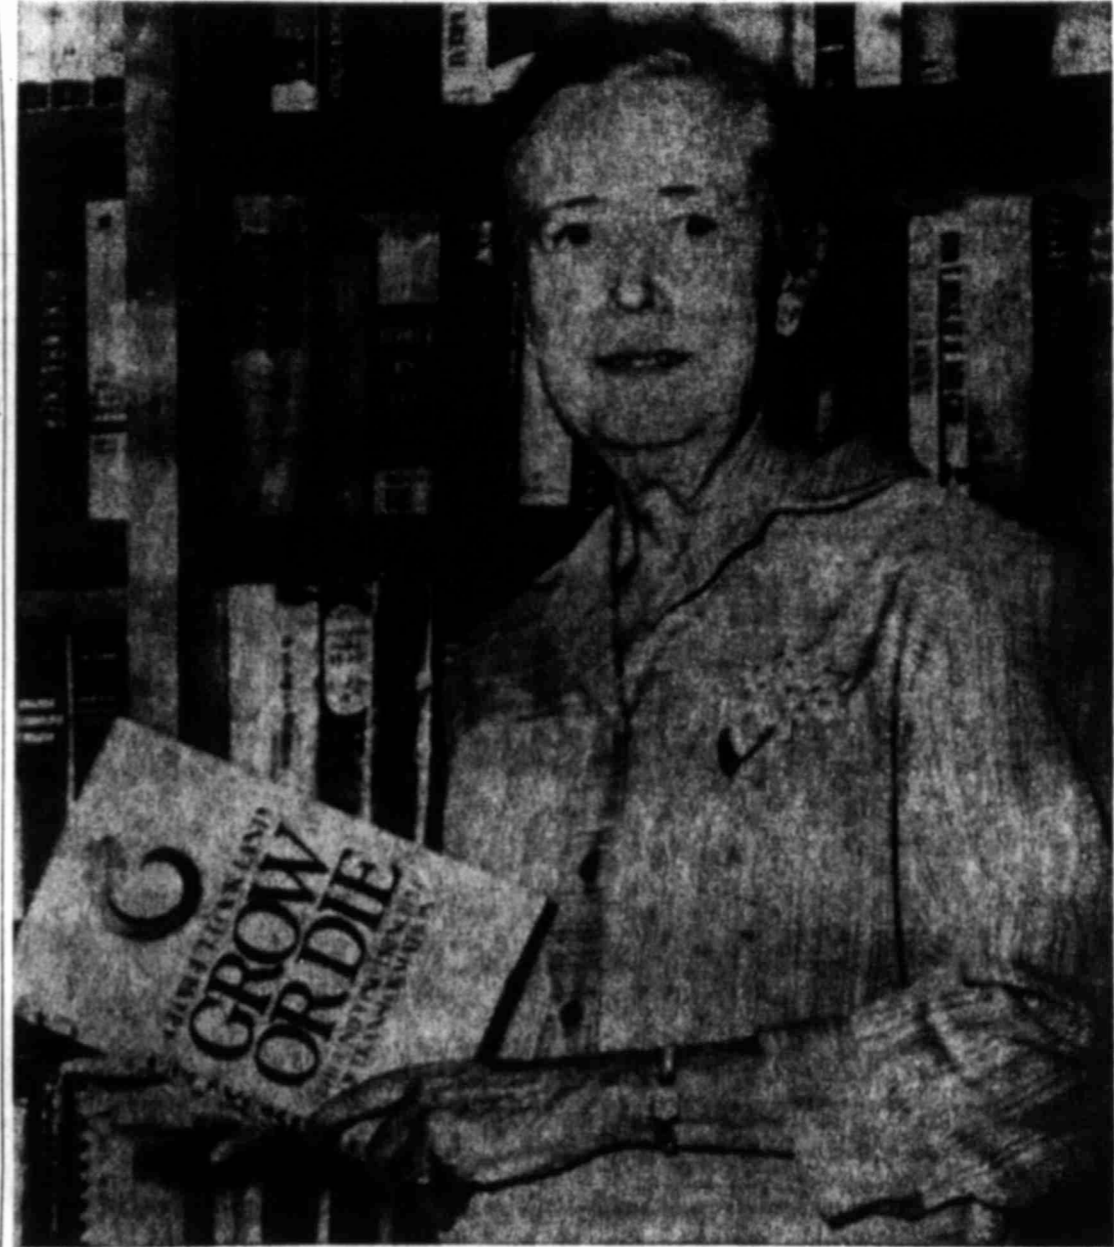

Clyde McMahon Sr. told board members at their meeting Tuesday that the completion now was targeted between Nov. 15-20.

Dr. Floyd Mays also reported that equipment for the major health-services wing likely would be on hand by that time.

Recognized as outstanding youth members for the month of September were Janice Danford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Danford, and Doug Mays, son of Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Mays.

Dr. Charles Warren was named to a five-year term as an endowment fund trustee, and McMahon gave a report on status of the trust.

Other reports included those from President Harold Bentley on the YMCA's objective in the World Services program; finances by Don Reynolds; reports on summer activities and fall program plans by Sam Dawson, Lakeview branch, and Pat Owens, Central Y; and highlights of summer enrollment (with a 25 per cent increase) and the start of the fall program by Curtis Mullins, executive director.

REPLYING TO WOMEN'S RIGHTS GROUP

Publisher Says It Is Textbook Reality -- Not Sexism

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Portraying women in traditional roles in elementary school readers is "reality," not sexism, a publisher's sales director contends.

B.W. Collier, director of sales for Field Educational Publications, responded to a women's rights group's complaint about the "Field Literature Program" series of readers in hearings Tuesday on textbooks by the Texas Education Agency.

"Well, I do not think it is complete reality that all adult females are mothers or that all mothers stay home and take care of babies. What of the children whose mothers do not—this reality?" replied Patricia Meredith of Houston, representing the Continuing Task Force in Education for Women.

State Education Commissioner J.W. Edgar is hearing testimony—expected to last into next week—on protests against 142 textbooks out of 316 up for possible adoption for Texas public schools. After the State Textbook Committee acts Oct. 10 to trim down the list to more than five per subject, the State Board of Education will make the adoptions Nov. 10.

GOING FISHING
Ms. Meredith criticized a number of selections taken from previously published children's books, including "What Do You Say, Dear," which shows boys as pilots and girls as nurses.

Mrs. R.C. Bearden Jr. of San Angelo, speaking for the Daughters of the American Revolution, objected to a line in one of the field books in which a boy says: "I'm going fishing Sunday morning."

"We feel this doesn't teach reverence for the sabbath," she said.

PATRIOTISM
He contended the book does not purport to teach or to exclude observance of the sabbath. It's only part of the story. If the Texas Education Agency staff recommends, and Dr. Edgar asks us to make that change (to another day), certainly this can be done without any trouble," Collier said.

Mrs. Bearden scored Scott, Foresman & Co.'s "New Open Highways" readers for grades 1-3 for not having "any emphasis on patriotism."

Bill Brunson of Scott, Foresman said such historical topics as the American Revolution are "a little difficult to understand for a child who is not in high school."

Ms. Meredith objected to the number of witches in Holt, Rinehart and Winston's "Sounds of Language."

"If there were one warlock in this series, the witches might be more acceptable," she said.

She also objected to the inclusion of the words to the song, "I Feel Pretty," from "West Side Story."

"RED RIDING HOOD"
"We must have examples of girls doing things other than being pretty. They must be more active—they must do things. This is very stereotyped. I would eliminate that poem altogether," Ms. Meredith said.

The women's task force objected to "Little Red Riding Hood" as a selection in J. B. Lippincott Co.'s "The Orange Book," a supplemental reader.

"The child is typically a naive female with no awareness of the world around her, getting herself into a mess with the wolf because she is just a dumb broad," the group's written bill of particulars said.

"I've never heard anybody, anywhere present this version of Red Riding Hood," responded C. G. Holmes of Dallas, Lippincott's southwestern manager.

Ms. Meredith said she had not written the "dumb broad" statement and agreed with Holmes that it was unfortunate.

Credit Crunch Is Hurting 'Little Guy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Loans for medical expenses, cars and improvements on dilapidated homes have become so inaccessible as to create an economic stranglehold on the nation's working class, urban specialists have told the House Banking Committee.

Big investors have forsaken the credit unions and savings and loan institutions to reinvest in high interest bearing notes, Msgr. Geno Baroni testified here, and "the little guy is left with his small savings, high inflation and low loan accessibility."

"The current credit crunch has tightened the economic stranglehold the working class finds itself in," Baroni said.

Adolf Alayon, director of an economic development group called CABS in the Bedford-Stuyvesant area of Brooklyn, N.Y., put it another way: "While the American economy suffers from a credit squeeze, the poor face a credit disaster."

He said his group has granted $2 million in loans to residents of its 62-block target area during the last five years.

In the past six months, it has received requests for $213,400 in mortgage or business loans, he said, and had resources available to grant only $54,400 of them.

"With an aggressive campaign, we feel we could make $500,000 worth of solid loans within 90 days and $2 million within a year," Alayon said. He said this would help develop the area's capital base, reverse trends of deteriorating housing and provide jobs.

Alayon proposed creation of a community development credit union, with tax incentives to attract outside investors to channel capital into inner city credit unions.

Gail Cincotta of Chicago, who runs a housing training center for community groups in transitional neighborhoods across the country recommended forcing banks and savings and loan institutions to reveal how much they draw from an area and how much they invest in it.

Logical Course

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

DIFFERENT: (Q) My boy friend and I have a problem, but we are not the same as most girls and guys when the girl gets into trouble. He loves me and I love him. He says if I want to he will marry me. So it's not a question of love — or of keeping the baby, either. And I don't believe in adoption or abortion either.

Our parents insist we marry. But I am only 15. He is 17 and has a job paying $125 a week. The question is, should we marry? — Pregnant in Pennsylvania

A) You say no to adoption and abortion. That means your baby will be born either with or without a legal father — with or without a full family.

Because of this, and because of the attitude of your boy friend and your parents, I agree that marriage is logical. Before you make a final decision, however, discuss seriously with your boy friend and parents, and possibly your minister, the pros and cons of letting your baby be adopted.

Such a course would free you for what possibly could be a fuller, better life in the future. That is why I normally advocate adoption in crises like yours.

THREE GIRLS: (Q) I have struck out three times. The first girl I wanted to take out was my old girl friend, but she said no. The second was beautiful. She said yes and I was happy. We had one date and she dropped me.

The third girl I had two dates with and then asked her to go steady. She said yes. I was really happy. But next day she called me and said she was going back to her old boy friend.

I know another girl but I am afraid to ask her. What is the matter with me? — 0 for Three in New York

(A) Nothing. You did not strike out three times — you had three dates with two girls. Many boys try more than three girls before they get their FIRST date.

Be positive, not negative. Call Girl 4. If she says yes, do not hurry to ask her to go steady. Be sure you like each other a lot first. If she says no, pick out Girl 5 and ask her for a date.

Mood Calls For Restraint

By OMAR BURLISON
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressmen returning recently from a recess may have gotten a message from the folks back home. From conversations with colleagues, it seems that a lot of people across the country want less of Watergate and more action to control inflation, relieve shortages, and stabilize an erratic economy.

One of the first fundamentals to accomplish these things is for the Government to leave the economy alone. There are simply not enough brains in Washington to run everybody's business but it continues to be tried. It does not take a Harvard economist to figure out that the higher the cost of producing anything, whether agricultural products, mined minerals or manufactured goods, results in higher prices for the consumer. When government spends money on practices and policies contribute to the cost of producing anything, it amounts to a tax — it is a double dip in everybody's pocket.

Programs in the field of environment, safety and health, education and welfare, defense, or whatever it might be, are not going to be cut back to any appreciable extent. All of them could, however, be operated more sensibly with a lot less cost.

The Congress must get a hand on our fiscal affairs to balance the budget. If there is less money to spend by the administering agencies of government, ways can be found to get the job done without grandiose expansions. In this connection, both the United States Senate and the House of Representatives have approved expenditure ceilings for the 1974 fiscal year, each below the budget submitted to the Congress by the President. To date, however, congressional action does not reflect the spending constraints which have been set by the ceiling. When the Congress recessed in August, the House had already increased outlays by about $2.5 billion, the Senate by $32 and the larger bills are yet to come. Our economy is in crisis unless there is less spending, more production at less cost, lower interest rates and reduced prices.

Skyscraper Built From Top Down

KANSAS CITY (AP) — There's nothing unusual in the fact of another 32-story skyscraper being built in the heart of an American city. But what about one constructed from the top down?

It's happening here. The $30 million Aligar building, designed by Philadelphia architect Louis Kahn, will be the first building in North America to have its top stories built first, say Arnold H. Garfinkel and Richard A. Altman, sponsors of the project.

According to the two owners, the top floor of the 925,000-square-foot office building will hang from a top truss by cables after the corner columns and the central core have been erected. The system is expected to cut six months off the time needed to construct the city-block-size building.

The building is one of 11 new structures worth $145 million that are producing a renaissance in downtown Kansas City. The city is in the second year of a $3.4 billion building boom.

Blind Man Blasts Paddy Wagon

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — A 48-year-old blind man has been charged with four counts of attempted murder.

Police filed the charges against Tarvis Carroll after picking him up on an intoxication charge and transporting him to the county jail over the weekend.

Officers said Carroll opened fire with a .22-caliber handgun when they opened the paddy wagon doors. Carroll and another man in the paddy wagon were wounded when police returned the fire.

1974 Chevrolet

A better-than-ever way.

When the wheel belongs to you, the road goes anywhere you say. And it's so much better with a '74 Chevrolet.

Caprice Classic. Introducing an elegant motor car, just asking to be enjoyed. Outside: an imposing new grille, and on the Coupe, a distinctive new roof line. Inside: peace, quiet and convenience. With standard power steering to do most of the turning, standard power front disc brakes to do most of the stopping, and a standard Turbo Hydra-matic transmission to do the shifting. If you want the luxury and comfort of a car that leaves little else for you to do but enjoy the ride, you don't have to look beyond the '74 Caprice Classic. However, the freedom of the open road begins with the freedom of choice:

Vega GT. This year's version of last year's Motor Trend Economy Car of the Year. (And Car and Driver Readers' Choice as Best Economy Sedan for the last three years.) With a reshaped nose, bigger bumpers, nicer carpeting, new stripes and new colors. Plus more good things to make it better. See what it's like to drive a winner.

Malibu Classic. A luxury Chevelle, new this year. With full foam seats. A fold-down front armrest. Wood-grained vinyl accents. Elegant inner door panels. Extremely tasteful upholstery and cut-pile nylon carpeting. That's just inside. The exterior is just as classic, in character and in detail, as the interior. Yet, it remains mid-size. And, it remains all Chevelle. With Chevelle handling and at a Chevelle price. Now that you've looked, come and see the new Malibu Classic—and all the 1974 Chevelles. The ones shown here, plus Impala, Monte Carlo, Nova, Corvette, pickups, vans and all our new cars and trucks.

Camaro. The way it looks is the way it goes. Quick, sleek and nimble. With a low, wide stance, responsive steering. And comfort that's rare in a car that handles so well. Plus classic new styling, and plushness from the cut-pile carpeting up.

More Precious Qualities

Travis County (Austin) Dist. Atty. Robert O. Smith is fighting hard to keep convicted marijuana offenders from petitioning for resentencing.

Smith argued before the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals against the provision passed by the Legislature when it reduced first-offense marijuana possession from a felony to a misdemeanor.

Object of the resentencing provision was to allow those convicted under the old law a chance to get a reduced sentence and, more important, to have a felony conviction removed from their record.

Smith, in particular, is attempting to prevent a resentencing hearing for a man who drew a 25-year term for marijuana possession.

Admittedly, there are legal and constitutional questions involved, as raised by Smith. But the object of the Legislature, and the governor who signed the bill, was one of fairness. Why should one person chop cotton or make license plates at Huntsville for years when another person convicted of the same offense pays a fine or serve a brief jail term?

The old law was so severe that juries and judges were reluctant to convict a young first-time offender. Nevertheless, an estimated 800 inmates are serving prison time and perhaps up to 40,000 persons are on probated sentences, all bearing the stigma of felony conviction.

A convicted felon is a big loser, no matter whether he serves time or his sentence is probated. Unless pardoned or, in this instance, resented, the mark is there for life. He cannot vote, hold public office, be a peace officer, practice law or medicine. He also faces licensing restrictions in the trades. Many job applications contain questions about felony conviction, which, if truthfully answered, foreclose the job. If answered untruthfully, there is the crime of false swearing.

We have considerable admiration for Smith, one of the state's top prosecutors — as witness the stock-fraud scandal convictions. But we cannot accept his argument for resisting the new law principally because it would tie up his office for six months during resentencing procedures. Surely fairness and justice and equity are more precious than convenience.

The Market Place Issue

According to wire service reports, congressmen newly returned to Washington from a month with the homefolks say public opinion is most stirred up about inflation, with Watergate and other matters somewhat behind.

The same reflection of public opinion is given in recent polls on what concerns Americans today. This shouldn't be in the least bit surprising. For Americans are confronted with high prices every day. Research trips to the supermarket provide more vivid impressions than any number of Watergate televised hearings could ever do. But the President can take little comfort from the fact that Watergate is on the public-opinion back burner. Economic issues have felled more than one political candidate and party; the GOP needed decades to recapture the White House after the Depression, and hasn't yet recouped its loss of strength in Congress.

Justly or not, Americans tend to equate the state of the economy with the president of the moment and his party. In the present case, there is considerable justification for doing so; Congress in 1970 gave the President freedom to act to control wages and prices however he saw fit, authority he retains today.

You Can't Win

Joe Pickle

Sometimes you just can't win. The elements or the fates, or the evil spirits are against you.

Or perhaps it was good neighbor Vernon Smith once moaned after successive freezes, drought and storm had wiped out our gardening efforts: "You can't raise anything in this country." Whereupon, we both replanted.

WELL, ANOTHER storm came and nearly did us in, but our tender plants somehow survived. Then, recently, a sudden blast of at least 110 mph inflicted near mortal wounds. My yard was a litter of broken limbs. The cyclone fence had bent at a 45-degree angle. A 25-ft. tree had been uprooted and deposited in Ray Ebling's yard. I told him, indignantly, that the way he kept his yard was a disgrace to the neighborhood.

ALAS, MY conscience bothered me and I set about to disembody the fallen tree and clear the litter. A few whacks with the axe however, convinced me there must be a better way. Ray tried his hand saw and perceived it was like assaulting the seawall with an eye dropper. Then I remembered my brother-in-law, Miller Harris, had a power saw left from his sojourn in the Colorado Mountains.

He was gracious enough to lend it, but it had been in hibernation too long and needed professional understanding. Yet, when it came time for me to start it on my own, the motor only seemed to suck air. With a burst of genius, I thought about the switch. Sure enough, it ran beautifully when turned on.

SOMEWHERE, from all the commercials I had read and seen, and from the exuberant testimony of friends who had foraged wood with a power saw, I had the notion that branches and tree trunks just melted away before the high-pitched whine of the greedy saw. Not so. I discovered that, while this vastly beats the axe, it also amounts to work.

To make a long story short, with the help of Lucille, also Ray, the tree was dismantled to the main stem. Relieved of the weight of the main foliage, the trunk, apparently hinged to an unseen rock, sprang back into an upright position. This was an unexpected dividend. Perhaps, I thought, 15 years of nature's work can still be salvaged.

THUS, I embarked upon a project of trimming the frayed roots. This went well until I abandoned the pruning shears for an axe to attack the major exposed roots. This was a joy, compared to chopping on the limbs, for the soft root wood yielded easily.

Suddenly, something caught me squarely on the ankle. A red ant, I reasoned, and mashed where it stung. As, with any red-blooded man, I shrugged this Purple Heart experience aside and swung the axe again. This time something zapped me on the opposite knee. Pivoted. I looked up and discovered that I was in the midst of a swarm of indignant bumble bees. This was my nature lesson — bumblebees hole an underground; also they're sent having their honey home jarred.

I FLED FROM the field of battle, announcing: "The Heck with it." Having no bluing (our sting remedy when I was growing up) I settled for Chlorox. Next day, however, I could hardly walk. Which led me to meditate: "Where did I go wrong?"

Dark Horse Percy?

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — An unwelcome incursion into foreign policy by Caspar W. (Cap) Weinberger, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), ended up astounding White House and State Department officials and infuriating conservative Republicans in Congress.

WEINBERGER returned from a 16-day tour of health facilities in the Soviet Union and Poland just as Dr. Philip Handler, president of the National Academy of Sciences, was warning the Soviet Academy about warmsment of physicist Andrei Sakharov. Government persecution, Handler warned, might lead American scientists to boycott joint U.S.-Soviet projects.

At a press conference the day after Handler's statement, Weinberger attacked — not the Russians but Handler, without checking either the White House or the State Department. "It is better to have dialogue than simply standing off firing brickbats through the daily press," the outspoken HEW chief said.

WHITE HOUSE telephones started jangling angrily with complaints from Republican conservatives that the administration was condoning Soviet repression. White House and State Department officials were amazed by Weinberger. The Nixon administration line is to encourage U.S.-Soviet scientific cooperation but officially ignore criticism of Soviet repression that Handler — and other private U.S. citizens are making rather than attack it as Weinberger did.

Nevertheless, both Republican and Democratic critics of President Nixon's detente believe Weinberger's boomer, while deviating from the administration line, underscored the administration's policy: tolerate anything inside Soviet borders in return for friendly U.S.-Soviet relations.

OUR SCOUTING trips interviewing rank-and-file voters continue to show Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, whose chances for the Republican presidential nomination are regarded as close to zero by party regulars, running better than anybody else against Democratic Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

In two middle-class precincts of the San Fernando Valley in Los Angeles which President Nixon carried by over 60 per cent in 1972, there was not only anti-Nixon disaffection but an inclination to vote Democratic for President next time.

OUT OF 93 voters (who said they voted 3 to 2 for Mr. Nixon last year), Kennedy had a clear edge against Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, John B. Connally and even California Gov. Ronald Reagan. The results: Agnew, 30; Kennedy, 51; undecided, 12. Reagan, 39; Kennedy, 47; undecided, 7. Connally, 36; Kennedy, 46; undecided, 11.

Only Percy, lesser known than the other three Republicans, ran better than Kennedy: Percy, 42; Kennedy, 36; undecided, 15.

THIS PARALLELS results we obtained in a scouting trip six weeks ago in Jersey City, N.J. Apparently, hard-shell Republican voters are so anti-Kennedy they prefer any Republican — even liberal Chuck Percy.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

I am a happily married woman of 40 with a husband the same age, and two children. No family problems, that is, until the other night. My husband told me right out that he's in love with another married man, and would divorce me if I didn't share him in this way. Am I being old fashioned to think this is wrong? B.D.

If it's old fashioned to label this perversion wrong, then so be it. Frankly, I'm alarmed at the great number of letters I'm receiving that deal with the problem of homosexuality. Where it breaks up an existing marital relationship, and threatens to harm teenage children, then it is doubly deplorable.

I know that a very vocal segment of society today tolerates, if not condones homosexual activities. The only standard, however, against which to compare all human action, is the Bible. I assure you it is quite explicit in denouncing this — as a disorder which can only invite the judgment of God.

Early in the Old Testament this was considered a gross and impure practice, which was to Jehovah a flagrant outrage. (See Deuteronomy 23:17,18.) The presence of sodomites was called a mark of degeneracy. (1 Kings 14:24.) Paul indicts it in Romans one.

Your husband has been snagged by temptation that perhaps he has entertained before — unbeknownst to you. In any event, it cannot co-exist with your marriage. Seek the help of your pastor and bring all the love and understanding you can muster. Above all seek the help of God, who can enable both of you to restore and rebuild your relationship. Homosexual feelings can only be fully understood and handled at the spiritual level. It will take nothing short of the Spirit of God to correct an error which now threatens to become a tragedy.

A Devotion For Today

"I have come in order that they might have life, life in all its fullness." (John 10:10 TEV)

PRAYER: I confess, O God, I have lived far below par and not open to receive all You wanted to give. Help me to let faith in, that You may transform my every day. Amen.

Mutual Protection

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The White House Mutual Protective Association is forming up. Prospective officers are: Richard M. Nixon, President; John D. Ehrlichman, first vice president; H. R. (Bob) Haldeman, second vice president.

REFUSING TO turn over the White House tapes to the Ervin investigating committee is at least understandable. Committee members and staff have leaked information in advance of testimony. The President could argue the partisan nature of the investigation.

But to refuse these tapes to Archibald Cox, the special prosecutor named by Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson, is the most brazen act of the President thus far. Leaving out all other considerations — public opinion, his own guilt or innocence — it is defiance pure and simple without legal or moral justification.

TO PROSECUTE those charged with breaking the law in the Watergate scandal Cox must have relevant passages from the tapes and relevant documents. To go into court without this material will invite defense attorneys to call for a mistrial on the ground that material evidence cannot be obtained. As precedent has shown, the judge would be very likely to declare a mistrial and the defendants would go free.

AS PRINCIPALS in the mutual protective society Ehrlichman and Haldeman are performing valiantly. While Haldeman, whose turn is next, may lack Ehrlichman's incredible arrogance, he will put up the same defense of their principal.

THE DAMAGE being done to the Administration and to men of honor trying to hold their heads above the Watergate flood is incalculable. Cox is an honorable and an able man. Richardson, having demonstrated his ability in one post after another, is now caught in a cruel vise. If he stays on and sanctions the President's refusal to surrender the tapes and the documents in response to the Cox subpoena, he will be hopelessly compromised as the government's chief law officer.

This will put responsibility for resolving the gravest constitutional crisis in the history of the Republic on the third branch of government. It is a fearsome burden for a tribunal (the Supreme Court) the President has done everything possible to politicize. To separate the ultimate decision from politics will be difficult, if not impossible, with four of the justices having been named to the high court by President Nixon.

THAT WAS unjustified. The assumption over the years has been that once in that high office for life a justice sheds his political prejudices, and experience over the years often confirms that assumption. Yet the President's repeated insistence that he must find "strict constructionists" for the court casts a long shadow over the independence of the tribunal. Increasingly in recent months the Nixon appointees have voted as a bloc on the "strict constructionist" side.

Human institutions, as the present upheaval shows all too clearly, are fragile at best. They can withstand shock and strain in a time of troubles only when men of honor put principle before power.

FACING A FRIGHTENING TRIUMVERATE!

Sweethearts, Wives

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — To her dear fond father, every girl is a princess. But once a man marries her and becomes her husband, she seems to him to act more and more like a wife.

She merely wrapped her Dad around her little finger, but on him she puts an emphatic thumb.

When he was courting her, she used to listen to him by the hour, breaking her silence only with small murmurs of assent. Since the marriage, he thinks later, he has been listening to her by the year.

She used to like for him to correct her in small ways. Now if he dares to criticize her in the slightest degree, she demands, "What makes you think you're so perfect?"

Then she had a cute little habit of humming love songs in his ear. Today she has a big bad habit of harping on the same old tune—"Why can't you make more money?"

On their first honeymoon, they had a laughable, lyrical, light-hearted weekend in a $7.50 a night hotel in Weehawken. For their second honeymoon, she is planning a five-week, ocean-air jaunt to Paris in the company of a couple they both detest.

When they first met, they quickly agreed on one thing: it must have been love at first sight. Today she says, "I must have been blind ever to see anything in you."

Then she said, "All I want to be is your wife." Now she comments wryly, "I must have been out of my mind to tie my life so young to a man like you and a house like this."

In the beginning he thought she looked and cooked like an angel. Alas, since then both his eyesight and his stomach have had second thoughts.

He used to think it was funny when she got jealous if he spoke to another girl at a cocktail party. Now it annoys him when she tells him, "Act your age, Harry," if he casts a second glance at any woman under 60 they may chance to pass on the street.

As a suitor, he remembers, she made him feel he could do no wrong. As her husband, he now often thinks, she makes him feel that he never does anything right.

Princesses are for courting; marriage turns them into wives, just as it turns suitor into husbands.

Body Rejects Tissues

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has recently been told, after many tests, that he has a new disease called "auto-immune disease." Can you tell us anything about it, or where could we get information? — Mrs. A.J.

At best I can tell you a little; I don't know where you could get much information except in a medical library, and even then the information would be so technical that you would need considerable training to understand it.

But here's a start for you. The body creates blood particles called antibodies to protect it against various harmful things. These antibodies, once formed, attack such invaders as disease germs.

Some of the antibodies may be formed by vaccination; or they may result from having had a disease, after which the antibodies protect us against a second attack of mumps, measles or a number of other diseases.

Now take another phase of the same general process. The body also has the ability to destroy tissue that does not belong there. Ordinarily the body does not destroy its own tissues — but if tissue from someone else is grafted or transplanted, the body tends to destroy what has been grafted.

For example, skin grafted from another part of the person's body will remain, but skin taken from another person will, in a short time, be "rejected" or shed.

This, as you doubtless have read, is a serious problem when it comes to kidney transplants or other such transplants. The protective action of the body, what is called the "immune process," recognizes tissue that is not its own and goes to work to get rid of it. In transplants, great care has to be taken to control this.

So now we move on to a third aspect. The "immune process" may, in unusual cases, sometimes damage its own tissues. Exactly how this comes about is very dimly understood — if,

Houston, Owens Share NFL Nod

NEW YORK (AP) — "Kenny and Brig are just alert," Ralph Hawkins, said. "They are two damn good athletes. They're pros."

Hawkins, the coach of Washington's secondary, was talking about safeties Ken Houston and

Brig Owens, who teamed up to completely dismantle San Diego's offense Sunday and paved the way to most of the scoring in the Redskins' 38-0 romp over the Chargers.

Specifically, what they did was:

- intercept three passes, two by Houston, which led to a touchdown and a field goal,
- cause two fumbles with one leading to a touchdown, and
- recover two fumbles, with Owens returning his 36 yards for a score and Houston's setting up a touchdown. And just for good measure, Owens made six unassisted tackles while Houston had three plus one assist.

For all of that, Houston and Owens were selected today to share honors as The Associated Press Defensive Players of the Week in the National Football League.

Others nominated by the nationwide panel of sports writers included Atlanta cornerback Tom Hayes, who intercepted two passes and carried one of them 65 yards for a touchdown in the Falcons' 62-7 crunching of New Orleans, Green Bay cornerback Ken Ellis, who knocked down waves of Joe Namath's passes, including three in a row during a goal-line stand, in the Packers' 23-7 whipping of the New York Jets, and linebacker Nick Buoniconti of Miami who had 10 tackles and three assists in the Dolphins' 21-13 victory over San Francisco.

Despite their personal heroics, the Washington safeties directed the accolades elsewhere. "Everything starts with the front four, and then it goes back to the linebackers and to us. It's all one unit," said

Owens, a 5-foot-11, 190-pound, eight-year veteran from Cincinnati.

And Houston, 6-3, 198, starting his seventh year and first with Washington after being obtained from the Houston Oilers, added: "It was just an excellent rush from the front four that did it. When a quarterback gets as much pressure as Johnny Unitas did, he has to throw quick and he doesn't have time to read the coverages."

Landry Lures Howley, Manders Back To Camp

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboy Coach Tom Landry, fretting over errant center snaps and a lack of linebacking depth, has lured two veteran players, Chuck Howley and Dave Manders, back to the team.

Landry said he talked Howley into working out three days a week with the National Football League club as insurance against injury to frontline linebacker personnel. He will remain on the inactive roster.

Manders, according to Landry, will join the team immediately and "will snap for placements and punts Monday night" against New Orleans.

Manders had retired during off-season after a bitter contract dispute with general manager Tex Schramm, who would not comment on the latest salary terms.

"I had fully intended to retire, but I have decided to come back at this time because I felt I can be of service to my teammates," Manders said.

Landry said Manders' absence during preseason training camp and the first regular season game "will be reflected in the compensation he receives this year."

Landry said the Cowboys had considered the Manders retirement issue "closed from training camp until now. We reopened it with the idea that the team has a problem and would Dave be willing to help."

That "problem" had been poor center snaps on extra points, field goals and punts. Bad snaps had been blamed for two missed field goals Sunday when Dallas edged Chicago in the regular season opener.

Manders in the past was considered one of the NFL's top snappers.

On Howley, Landry said Tuesday, "I invited Chuck to come back with the squad but it has nothing to do with the way D.D. Lewis is performing. D.D. is playing excellent, but we need experience and insurance at the position."

Howley suffered a crippling knee injury last year and worked hard during the off-season to regain strength in his leg. When the Cowboys went to summer camp, the 37-year-old Howley decided to retire.

Howley, nine times an all-pro and the most valuable player in the Super Bowl V, said, "I told Coach Landry and Tex Schramm I was going to retire this summer. And nothing has changed.

"I'm retired ... I guess semi-retired would be better. But at the same time I told them both that if anything were to happen to any of the three starters or there was any circumstance they needed me I would be there. Frankly, I hope that I remain inactive all year and never put that 54 back on."

Howley added, "But I did make my decision kind of late and then Mike Keller, who the club is counting on, got hurt. As you know, if nobody gets hurt, the club is in great shape at linebacker. I know John Babinecz and from what I've seen of rookie Rodrigo Barnes, he could step in right now."

On Howley, Landry said Tuesday, "I invited Chuck to come back with the squad but it has nothing to do with the way D.D. Lewis is performing. D.D. is playing excellent, but we need experience and insurance at the position."

Howley suffered a crippling knee injury last year and worked hard during the off-season to regain strength in his leg. When the Cowboys went to summer camp, the 37-year-old Howley decided to retire.

Howley, nine times an all-pro and the most valuable player in the Super Bowl V, said, "I told Coach Landry and Tex Schramm I was going to retire this summer. And nothing has changed.

"I'm retired ... I guess semi-retired would be better. But at the same time I told them both that if anything were to happen to any of the three starters or there was any circumstance they needed me I would be there. Frankly, I hope that I remain inactive all year and never put that 54 back on."

Howley added, "But I did make my decision kind of late and then Mike Keller, who the club is counting on, got hurt. As you know, if nobody gets hurt, the club is in great shape at linebacker. I know John Babinecz and from what I've seen of rookie Rodrigo Barnes, he could step in right now."

Landry said the Cowboys had considered the Manders retirement issue "closed from training camp until now. We reopened it with the idea that the team has a problem and would Dave be willing to help."

That "problem" had been poor center snaps on extra points, field goals and punts. Bad snaps had been blamed for two missed field goals Sunday when Dallas edged Chicago in the regular season opener.

Manders in the past was considered one of the NFL's top snappers.

On Howley, Landry said Tuesday, "I invited Chuck to come back with the squad but it has nothing to do with the way D.D. Lewis is performing. D.D. is playing excellent, but we need experience and insurance at the position."

Riggs-King Extravaganza To Top All - - Even Watergate

HOUSTON (AP) — The $100,000 winner-take-all tennis showdown between Billie Jean King and Bobby Riggs in the Astrodome will be like no other tennis extravaganza ever held. Promoter Jerry Perenchio has seen to that.

"It's certainly going to be more fun than Watergate," Perenchio said of the internationally televised battle of the sexes that has been tagged "The Match of the Century."

To be sure, the match has captured the fancy of the nation and will have a wider audience than the Watergate hearings. It'll be beamed into 40 countries to be shown nationally by ABC.

The scene surrounding court-side for Thursday night's match on the floor of the Astrodome will look more like a college football rivalry than a tennis match.

"We're going to have a cheering section for both of them," Perenchio said. "Bobby will have 'Bobby's Boosters' and Billie Jean will have about 100 women players on her side. We're going to try to have some fun with this thing."

Five-time Wimbledon cham-

Billie Jean has played all over the world. Riggs, who won the 1939 Wimbledon title, has played in some pretty bizarre matches.

But it's unlikely either has ever played to the accompaniment of an entire marching band.

Adding to the noisy throng, expected to reach 40,000, will be the University of Houston marching band.

"When something like this catches on, it just runs its own course," Perenchio said. "It's helped take the people's mind off Watergate and inflation. They needed something to laugh about."

Both Riggs and Mrs. King apparently will be laughing all the way to the bank regardless of who wins.

Although billed as a winner-take-all match, the loser may net as much as $100,000, Perenchio said.

Perenchio is a partner with Riggs in all of his side promotions such as tennis endorsements and commercials.

"We've done about $800,000 so far," Perenchio said. "If he doesn't win, they'll say Bobby who? If he wins, we could run it up to $2.5 million."

"He's got people standing in line to buy buttons for $3 that say 'I was hustled by Bobby Riggs,'" Perenchio said.

Bobby Favorite In Net Struggle

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
HOUSTON (AP) — Bobby Riggs is the pick over Billie Jean King in tennis' Battle of the Sexes at the Astrodome Thursday night.

The score will be 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

Billie Jean is younger—21 years younger. She covers the court better. She serves harder and hits many of her shots—particularly her backhand—better.

But it's Bobby's hustle. You never go against a hustler when it's his hustle.

If the two were prize fighters and were to be judged on gymnasium tune-ups, you'd have to go with the girl. Billie Jean has been overpowering in practice. Bobby has been just mediocre.

But that's only for fun.

It's different when the big prize is at stake. Riggs is accustomed to playing pressure matches. He has more than 40 years of competitive experience behind him. He is a master craftsman at his trade.

As Wimbledon and U.S. champion and later king of the pros, he was the best. The best male player can beat any woman player without loss of a game, without loss of too many points. But Bobby is 55, not as quick as he once was and not even the best senior player in the United States.

Billie Jean, on the other hand, as five-time Wimbledon champion, can claim to be 1 or 2 among the women in the world. Mrs. Court is the only one who can dispute her.

"Bobby will never psych me the way he psych Margaret Court," boasts Billie Jean, speaking of the 6-2, 6-1 rout of the Australian at San Diego May 13.

Golf Association Slates Meeting

The Big Spring Golf Association will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Course clubhouse to discuss plans for the upcoming grand tournament and other BSGA business.

Association president Jimmy Shoults called the meeting, and urged that members attend.

Netters Fall To Andrews

The Andrews High School tennis team swept both the boys and girls competition by 8-4 totals in a dual match with the Big Spring High netters Tuesday at the Figure Seven Tennis Center.

Randy Mattingley defeated Jackson of Andrews in the No. 1 boys singles match, but the only other winner was Hugh Porter, who topped Arthur in the No. 3 match.

Mattingley and Hayes Stripling combined to win the top boys doubles match over Jackson and Locke 8-6, while Porter and Bob Fielder topped Chambliss and Griffin in the No. 2 match 8-5. Andrews won the third and fourth matches, as well as six singles tilts.

In the girls play, Crawford of Andrews earned a 8-6 triumph over Big Spring's Vicky Murphy in the highlight affair, while Vivian Farmer defeated Linda Little of Big Spring 8-5 in the No. 2 match. Big Spring was without the services of top girls player Judy Jordan.

Debbie Watson, Karen Jenkins and Terri Gilliland scored wins in the lower matches, while Dori Crooker and Kathy Kirksey netted the lone doubles win, an 8-4 verdict over Thompson and Delbie.

Razorback Leads SWC's Defenders

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas linebacker Danny Rhodes, who says he just wants to win no matter what it takes, has been named Southwest Conference defensive player of the week.

Rhodes led the Arkansas defense against No. 1-ranked Southern Cal and was credited with eight tackles and seven assists against the Trojans.

Coach Frank Broyles of the Razorbacks said his review of the films showed Rhodes made 11 tackles and assisted on six more.

In the game, won 17-0 by Southern Cal, Rhodes engaged in some resounding collisions with Trojan runners, including a helmet-rattling crash with super-shifty Anthony Davis.

"I enjoyed that one," Rhodes said, grinning.

Broyles praised his senior standout for "probably as good a game as a linebacker could play. He was all over the field. He's definitely the leader and strength behind our defense."

Now 6-foot-1 and 220 pounds, Rhodes was sophomore-of-the-year in the SWC two seasons ago, but last year he missed the last five games because of a toe injury and did not get the all-conference honor many had predicted for him.

But he's well again and says, "Our team is young, but I think maybe we're tough. It's too early to make any predictions about that, though."

Rhodes, who makes "mostly C's" in his college courses, wants to be a football coach, but said it's too early to make any predictions about that, too.

Packers Batter Redskins, 34-12

Brent Odom ran for three touchdowns and quarterback Tracy Truette added two more as the Packers routed the Redskins 34-12 for their second Big Spring Pee Wee Football Association victory Tuesday.

Odom scored on runs of 64, 44 and 12 yards and Truette's tallies came from 55 and 14 yards out. Defensive standouts for the Pack were Jack Odom, Mike Workman and Rusty Touchstone.

Red Hot Reds Nudge Astros

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Big Red machine headed for the West Coast today, hoping to mop up and clinch the Western Division of the National League.

Don Gullett outdueled Houston's Jerry Reuss 1-0 Tuesday, ending a home stand that saw Cincinnati put six games out front after trailing the Los Angeles Dodgers most of the season.

Debra Irwin Is On HSU Team

Debra Sue Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Irwin of 407 Dallas St., will be playing intercollegiate volleyball this fall for Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

The Reds, who will win on any combination of six Cincinnati victories or Los Angeles losses, have won 54 of their last 75 games and had a seven-game winning streak until the Astros took the opener in a two-game series Monday.

Gullett, 18-8, struck out 11 and Reuss, 11-7, fanned seven in the hour and 55-minute, two-night game Tuesday.

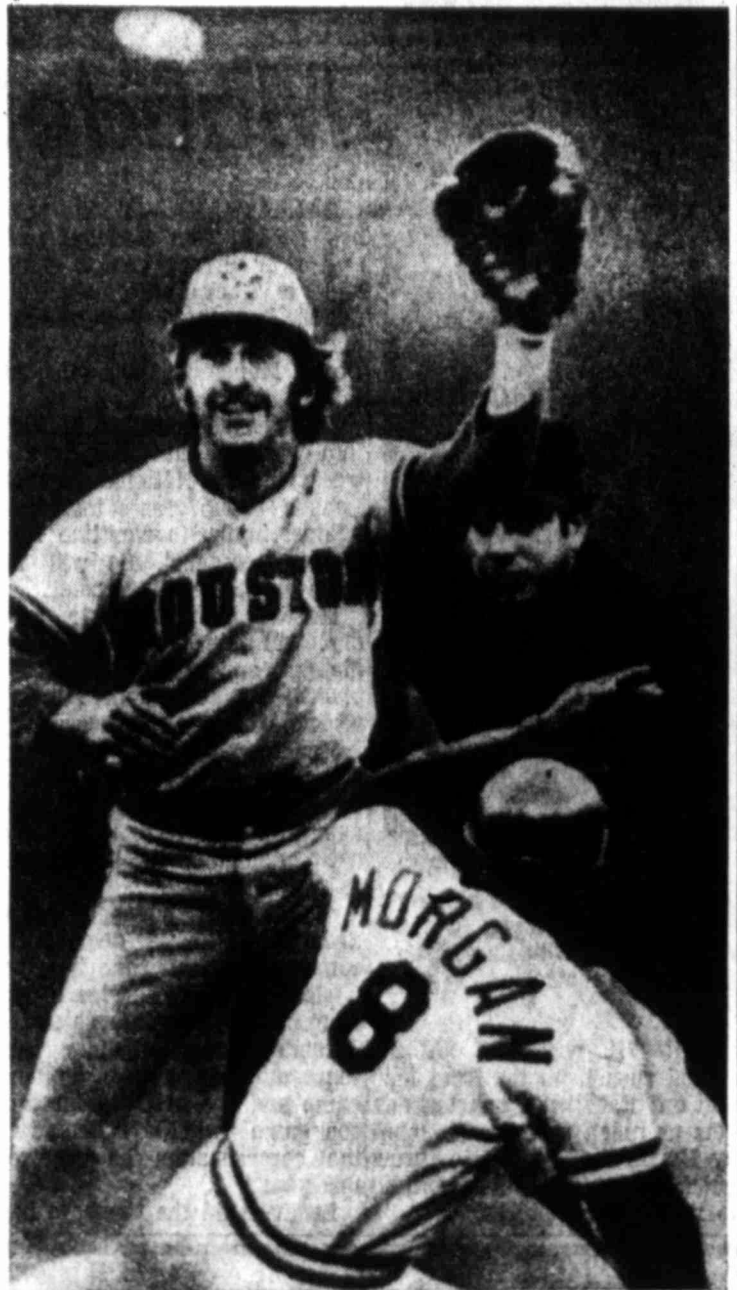

"It's the dream of every pitcher to win 20 games," said the Cincinnati lefthander, who credits his good season to development of a fork ball as an off-speed pitch.

"I have two starts left, and I'm going to give it 110 percent. But I'm really looking forward to the playoffs with the Eastern Division team."

The only run in the game came in the eighth inning when Reuss with two out, walked Tony Perez and Johnny Bench.

Tennessee QB Back Of Week

By The Associated Press "There was no question I would go for the touchdown and also no question who I'd have carry the ball."

So said Tennessee Coach Bill Battle, looking back to Saturday when the Vols, trailing Duke 17-14 with just over two minutes left, were faced with fourth down and four yards to go at the Duke six-yard line.

Battle disdained a tying field goal and turned to quarterback Condredge Holloway, who'd already thrown a 27-yard touchdown pass and galloped 49 yards for another score, and Holloway came through with a performance that nailed down honors as The Associated Press' national college Back of the Week.

The statistics for Holloway, a 5-foot-11, 175-pound junior from Huntsville, Ala., weren't too revealing. They showed 18 carries for 68 yards—he lost 34 on sacks—and six of 12 passes for 50 yards. But his performance in the clutch was brilliant.

USC Heavy Choice Over Georgia Tech

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you know the only college football team in the country to face USC two weeks in a row?

The answer is Georgia Tech, which entertains the No. 1-ranked University of Southern California Trojans on Saturday.

Last weekend, favored Tech caught looking ahead to USC and lost... to USC... 41-28. That USC, however, was the University of South Carolina.

The upcoming USC, coming off a 17-0 struggle against Arkansas, isn't likely to be that kind to the Yellow Jackets' defeat.

"If we don't play better this week, even though Georgia Tech got beat, they've got better players than Arkansas. We have to play at Atlanta in the afternoon and we're in over our heads unless we play quite a bit better than we did."

The prediction: Southern Cal 42, Georgia Tech 14.

Varty Gets AP Honor

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — "It's a great honor, but more important than my play was the showing of the entire defense," said Mike Varty of Northwestern Wednesday after being named national college lineman of the week by The Associated Press.

Varty, a 6-foot-2, 222-pound linebacker from Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., led Northwestern to a 14-10 upset of Michigan State last Saturday. He made 19 tackles and batted down a pass in a tremendous comeback effort.

Last year, Varty turned in a sparkling performance in a 7-0 loss to Michigan and in the second game of the season he suffered a knee injury against Notre Dame.

HENRY'S BIGGEST HANDICAP Aaron Threatens 'Legend'

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe Ruth didn't need as much time as Henry Aaron to hit his 714 home runs, baseball traditionalists will argue.

Roger Maris discovered that 12 years ago en route to breaking the Babe's one-season record of 60 homers. Aaron, with 711 home runs, is discovering the same thing now.

Sox, Washington Senators and Phils ended in 1920, also owned the modern-era lifetime homer record with 119.

Ruth played for 22 years before retiring in 1935—but (and this is what a lot of his supporters will loudly proclaim) he batted 8,399 times in that span. And in 11 of those years, he was a part-time pitcher, which conceivably cut down a bit on his at-bats.

Oakland's Hunter Tops Percent List

By The Associated Press Chief Bender and Lefty Grove great names out of baseball's hallowed past.

Their legends now are being revived because of Jim Hunter's steadily brilliant pitching. The Oakland A's ace right-hander, American League leader in winning percentage last year with a .750 mark on a 21-7 record, is bidding strongly to lead the league again. His current 20-4 record, an .833 percentage, is the best in the AL.

No AL pitcher has finished with the best winning percentage two years in a row since Grove did it three consecutive years, from 1929-31.

Hunter reached the 20-victory mark for the third straight season Tuesday night as the A's edged the California Angels 5-4 and maintained their 7 1/2-game

Defenders Deliver Sands

The bright spots weren't exactly overabundant Saturday night as the Sands Mustangs defeated the Stanton Junior Varsity 14-6. But the big thing was that the Ponies ended a 19-game losing draught that extended over three seasons, and that, coach Jim Allen will tell you, is a definite start.

Offensively, Allen said his Mustangs "made a bunch of mistakes," but the defense wasn't bad and therein lie this week's Sands Players of the Week, Domingo Cantu and Steve Bodine.

Cantu, a 170-pound defensive end, was awarded the Lineman of the Week honors by the Sands coaching staff for his outstanding play and Bodine, who plays safety, was named Back of the Week.

"Cantu just had a real good night for us," Allen said. "He was stopping things up pretty good." Bodine, a sophomore, intercepted a pass and caused a number of Stanton fumbles.

Defense was also the big thing in Stanton, where defensive back Gordon Eiland was chosen as Back of the Week and Tackle Steve Cook nailed down the lineman honors during the Number 22 on the Big Spring Steer football roster this year is Bruce Abbe, a 160-pound senior halfback.

BRUCE ABBE

Abbe, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Abbe of 404 Hillside, caught the attention of the coaches early in spring training and will be seeing some action this fall.

"Bruce is a smart football player," head coach Bob Burris said of the 17-year-old back. "He lacks good football size, but he has a lot of determination."

Foreman Planning Christmas Fight

HOUSTON (AP) — Heavyweight champion George Foreman already has started his Christmas shopping and he says he doesn't care if it's Muhammad Ali, Joe Frazier or Jerry Quarry.

Foreman made a surprise appearance at the Houston Sports Writers and Sportscasters luncheon Tuesday and said he hoped to announce his next fight soon against one of the contenders.

"I'm just like a kid in a candy store," Foreman said. "All these guys are trying to give me a million to fight them. I consider all of them candy because they can't fight."

Foreman said he had been discussing his next fight with Jerry Perenchio, who promoted the highly successful Ali-Frazier fight in Madison Square Garden.

"I've been spending some time with Jerry," Foreman said. "We've been talking about a nice Christmas present for me."

Perenchio, here promoting Thursday's $100,000 winner-take-all tennis match between Bobby Riggs and Billie Jean King, said he hoped to promote the match but he had competition.

"The line forms on the right," Perenchio said. "I've offered George Foreman $5 million for his next fight. But apparently some others have done the same thing."

Foreman, who took the title from Frazier earlier this year, said he hoped to have his next fight possibly in December.

Perenchio brought Foreman to the luncheon as a stand-in for Riggs, who had to cancel out at the last minute.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Steer coach Bob Burris is hard at work on the local "banquet" circuit, and Monday he delivered his message to the local Jaycees, an ornery band of young men who ask a lot of stupid questions. Still, Burris maintained his composure and only said nasty words twice.

He chatted on such things as the Snyder Tigers, his Steers' foes this Friday night; on the future of football in Big Spring, which he said was bright; and on the Big Spring-Hobbs game, which is team lost 14-6 last Friday. He elected not to talk about New Mexico's Federation Football Rules, although last Saturday I mentioned it to him and he mumbled something about "water under the bridge," I think.

He did say, however, that what seemed to be hurting his team the most right now is a lack of poise, something that normally accompanies a lack of experience. So, with only six guys who had ever played a down of varsity ball on the field, it's really no wonder that the Steers have been inside the enemy 20-yard line four times now in two games without scoring.

At one time Friday there were eight juniors in the defensive lineup, two of whom were lettermen. An example of this lack of experience came late in the game when the Steers blocked a Hobbs punt, and instead of picking it up and scooting into the land of six (that's straight out of "Semi-Tough"), fell on it at the 25. Thus, no points.

Earlier in the game, after Big Spring had scored its touchdown, the holder on the PAT fumbled the snap and attempted to pass it in for two extra points, but Hobbs felled the plan by intercepting. Naturally, this ended the play, but apparently everyone on the field didn't know it.

"It's bad enough that their boy ran a hundred yards to the goal line," Burris said, "but four of our kids chased him all the way." That one was followed by an Aggie joke, incidentally.

The coach spoke with a bit of awe when he told of Snyder's talents. The Tigers, he said, averaged about 230 pounds in the middle of their defensive front, and big Welton Cobb, a 6-0, 200-pounder, has been clocked running the hundred in 8.8. There seemed to be little doubt of which was the better team last week when the Tigers smacked Midland Lee 27-15.

Most of us can't wait for the day when the Steers get a chance at a dry football with dry grass to run on, and maybe this will be the week.

Don't underestimate a guy who twirls a baton. Ken Johnson, the Hobbs drum major who entertained at halftime Friday with a snaky dance and twirled throughout the game, was the state high hurdle champion as a junior. His best time was 14.1.

Bobby Riggs and Billie Jean King play their $100,000 tennis match Thursday night in the Astrodome. And if you're one of the multitudes who just said to yourselves, "Big deal, I'm gonna watch 'Bonnie and Clyde,'" then you just passed the sanity test.

VEGA '74

We change it. But mostly for sensible reasons such as durability, economy and passenger security. There's a wider selection of colors and available options than in 1973. And this year we've improved performance, with modifications in the inlet manifold, the carburetor linkage and so on. Vega — available in Hatchback, Kamback, Notchback, Panel Express.

CHEVELLE '74

This year, we've built the long-standing value and fine handling capabilities of the mid-size Chevelle into exciting new models. The new Malibu Classic, the new Malibu and for 1974, there's a dramatic new Laguna Type S-3 Coupe that's highly sophisticated, very sporty. Chevelle. Something for everyone. In mid-size. At mid-price.

'74 CAMARO

The way it looks is the way it goes. Camaro not only looks quick, sleek and nimble. Camaro is. It was born for the road. And this year it's matured into probably the finest road Camaro ever. For 1974, your Camaro choices are two plus. The Sport Coupe. Or the Type LT. Plus the Z28 version of either.

Empty Arms

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "Empty Arms" moved me. (She was the mother who gave up her illegitimate child for adoption, and wondered if the ache would ever go away.)

My husband and I were childless until some incredibly kind and unselfish mother gave up her newborn baby, who an agency placed in our home. My husband and I are bursting with joy, and plan to raise this beautiful little girl in a home filled with love and happiness. When she starts to ask questions, I shall tell her about her wonderful, generous "other mother" who loved her so much she gave her up.

I only wish I could tell our "other mother" that I would have given anything in the world to have shared her burden during the

October Date Set For Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Carr, 420 S. 1st, Coahoma, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Bridget Justina, to Greg Thomas Bostick of Webb Air Force Base.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bostick of Denver Colo. Miss Carr is a student at Coahoma High School.

The couple plans to be married Oct. 13 in the Four Square Gospel Church, 1210 E. 19th, Big Spring.

pregnancy and the birth, and how eternally grateful I am for her enormous sacrifice.

Abby, please tell "Empty Arms" that, anonymous though she is, I love her with all my heart, and pray that her arms, like mine, will soon be overflowing.

OVERFLOWING

DEAR ABBY: I, too, had "Empty Arms" when I gave up my fatherless child 13 years ago. But every year the ache grows more bearable.

I was only 16 then. But I kept my self-respect, went back to school, and worked my way through college as a waitress.

I am now married to a prominent man in public life, and we have a wonderful family of our own. (Yes, he knew all about me, and it made no difference.) Every year on my first-born's birthday I suffer just a little, but I have no regrets because, in my heart, I know I made the right decision. Time heals. And so does love.

Coming: Memorable Sounds Of 'Big Band Cavalcade'

Frankie Carle, Bob Crosby, Freddy Martin and Margaret Whiting are the stars of "Big Band Cavalcade" the Columbia Artists Theatricals Corp. production in which each star will recreate in person his greatest hits during an evening of musical memories at the Municipal Auditorium Feb. 6, 1974. The show will be the third presentation in this year's Community Concert Association series, for which memberships are now on sale in the lobby of the Settles Hotel.

Such memorable sounds as Martin's "Tonight We Love," Crosby's "Big Noise from Winnetka," Carle's "Sunrise Serenade" and Miss Whiting's "Moonlight in Vermont" will characterize the nostalgic mood of the show. The stars will be supported by 15 musicians recruited from the ranks of their original bands. Each leader will take his turn conducting this aggregation through a generous sampling of his own modern classics. Martin will conduct the finale, a montage of memorable hits of such other great bands as Benny Goodman, Glen Gray, Tommy Dorsey, Harry James and Woody Herman. Meanwhile, Miss Whiting will sing some of the dozen hits which earned her Gold Records.

The "Big Band Cavalcade" was inspired by Martin who suggested that the current resurgence of national interest in recordings of the 30's and 40's dictated in-person performances of the big band sounds, as well. The subsequent choices of Carle, Crosby and Miss Whiting to join Martin resulted to offer a comprehensive view of the styles of the period.

Martin, who became the leader of his first big band in 1931, is the veteran of the line up. Often called the most melodic of the sweet bands, Martin's crew produced such lasting hits as

"Warsaw Concerto," "Why Don't We Do This More Often" and the "Hut Sut Song."

Carle, although he began his professional musical career in 1918, did not lead his first big time aggregation until 1944 when he left his featured piano spot with the Horace Heidt band to go out on his own. He launched his new aggregation with his own composition, "Sunrise Serenade," as its theme.

Crosby, after serving his apprenticeship as vocalist with such leaders as Anson Weeks and the Dorsey Brothers, took over leadership of the old Ben Pollack Band in 1935. The Crosby crew made its lasting imprint on the big band era with its unique Dixieland Swing style.

Miss Whiting can claim the title of the youngest of the big band singers. She made her professional debut at the age of 12 with Gordon Jenkins. Her career has continued, ranging from the record charts, to nightclubs, television and the legitimate stage. Last season, she starred in the "Do It Again," in which she sang a panorama of George Gershwin melodies.

All of the stars of "Big Band Cavalcade" have held their own in the entertainment spotlight through the years since their initial successes. Martin is still in demand for tours and special performances. Carle records regularly for RCA-Victor, and Crosby continues to display his talents in television and on film.

Adding luster to the "Big Band Cavalcade" will be a fabulous quartet of jazz greats, Peanuts Hucko, clarinet; Cliff Leeman, drums; Ray Linn, trumpet; and Babe Russin, tenor sax. All four are considered to be among the "jazz immortals" and are graduates of the big bands of yesterday.

'HIS WORK WAS SUPERB' Bomb Slayer Labeled 'Kind Of Shy In Way'

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — A prison escapee who had been convicted of blowing up a kindergarten teacher with a bomb was described by a fellow worker after his arrest as "polite, kind of shy in a way."

Garland Rex Brinlee, 40, was working as a journeyman plumber in nearby Biloxi at the time of his arrest Monday.

"His work was superb," said Mrs. Louis Ray, a secretary for the plumbing contractor for whom Brinlee had worked for three weeks.

"I WAS SHOCKED" said his employer, Lank Patterson. "He didn't seem that kind of fellow to me."

"If you'd meet that man on the street or talk to him on the job, you'd never find a nicer man," said Patterson, a newly elected city commissioner.

Brinlee, one of the FBI's most wanted fugitives, had escaped from the Oklahoma prison. A short, stocky man, Brinlee dropped out of school at age 15 to work as a plumber and often boasted about how far he had advanced.

"He was a master," said Patterson, who, unaware of his identity, hired Brinlee to fill an opening after testing his work. "Anybody would hire him."

Brinlee was serving a life sentence in the bomb slaying of Fern Bolding, a 28-year-old kindergarten teacher at Bristow, Okla.

He was also convicted of possession of an unregistered bomb, possession of an unregistered gun, making a bomb without paying tax and interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle.

Brinlee was held here under $100,000 bond and faces extradition proceedings.

He was arrested at dawn by a force of officers as he walked from his apartment to a truck in an old residential area of Biloxi. Agents said he was not armed and did not resist.

"I was walking to work when all hell fell in on me," Brinlee told U.S. District Court Judge Dan M. Russel Jr. at a preliminary hearing.

"NOT LATELY" Brinlee told the judge his name was Robert Foreman—the name he had given Patterson when he was hired.

When asked if he had ever used the name Brinlee, he replied, "Not lately."

Agents testified that his fingerprints matched those of the convicted killer who had es-

East, West Germany Making U. N. Debut

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The foreign ministers of East and West Germany make their debut before the U.N. General Assembly today with speeches replying to a host of delegates congratulating their governments on admission to the United Nations.

The addresses by Otto Winzer of East Germany and Walter Scheel of West Germany were expected to reflect the unique relationship between the halves of the first divided country ever to enter the world organization — peaceful co-existence, contrary policies and membership in opposing international blocs.

GOOD WISHES Prime Minister Lynden O. Pindling of the Bahamas was also on the speakers' list to acknowledge good wishes on the admission of his Caribbean island nation. It became independent of Britain in July.

The assembly elected the two Germanys and the Bahamas to U.N. membership Tuesday at the opening of its 28th annual session, swelling the membership to 135 countries.

Only Two Ballots Cast In Election Only two persons have voted absentee in the city charter election, scheduled for Oct. 2.

Absentee voting is now in progress at City Hall.

Meeting Slated Members of the Big Spring Property Owners Association will meet at Furr's Cafeteria at 6 p.m., Monday for a business session. All members are being urged to attend.

koah spoke against the admission of East Germany. He said it had aided Palestinian Arab organizations in a campaign of violence and murder against Israel and, unlike West Germany, had refused to pay Israel reparations for the 6 million Jews murdered by the Nazis.

REBELLION Jeanne Martin Cisse of Guinea spoke against the admission of West Germany. She charged that it helped Portugal bomb the people of Portuguese Guinea and the Cape Verde Islands, where a rebellion is under way.

But Britain, France, the Soviet Union, the United States and the 61 other sponsors of the resolution to admit the two Germanys together would not allow the separate votes that would have enabled Teokoah and Mrs. Cisse to record their opposition on roll calls.

The resolution was adopted by acclamation, without a vote. Winzer and Scheel, with their delegations, were escorted into the hall to take their seats on opposite sides of one aisle.

CPA SPEAKER — A. Burke Haymes, Houston, president of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants, will address the meeting of the Permian Basin chapter Thursday at the Midland Country Club. The social hour is at 6:30 p.m., dinner an hour later. Haymes, a graduate of Rice, has served as head of the Houston chapter as well as vice president of the state society. ## Nixon Will Mull Domestic Woes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to concentrate on domestic problems until Congress recesses, and aides say the date of any European trip is now uncertain.

Nixon has proclaimed 1973 the "year of Europe" and scheduled a trip abroad for October or November. No specific date was ever set.

Now, a close adviser says, "uncertain is a very perceptive word" regarding when the European trip might take place.

That raised speculation that it could be put off until next year.

Also, despite previous reports from some senior staff members that Nixon would make more trips and public appearances at home, the President has no major public appearances on his calendar at the moment.

He called off plans to appear at the dedication of the huge new Fort Worth-Dallas airport in Texas this weekend. Aides say he has no trips scheduled for the rest of September.

CFC Drive Makes Good Progress

Webb AFB is rapidly approaching the $13,000 mark in the 1974 Combined Federal Campaign (CFC).

Just 12 days into the six weeks drive, this figure represents 60 per cent of the base goal, which is $25,000.

The command section of the 78th Flying Training Wing is leading in contributions with the 83rd and 82nd Flying Training Squadrons respectively following closely.

The campaign, which combines all fund solicitation for the year into one drive, will continue through Oct. 19.

Eight Webb employees became wealthier recently, thanks to their ideas and the base suggestion program. The Air Force will receive tangible benefits of about $4,200 from the adoption of these suggestions during the first year.

Personnel receiving the awards are Max L. Perry, $100; China Long, $100; Raymond A. Zoellner, $50; Wayne T. Morgan, $25; T. Sgts. Jimmy R. Birdsall and Johnny R. Motes, $50 and $30 respectively; Sgt. Francis J. Roman Jr., $25 and Airman I.C. Lee Ryan, $25.

The purpose of the suggestion program is to afford Webb AFB employees the opportunity to improve existing work methods and contribute to the over-all mission of the base, the command and the Air Force.

In other action involving the UT Austin physical plant, the Regents:

—Approved preliminary plans for a 47,000 sq. ft. addition to the drama building and for remodeling about 10,000 square feet of that building. The total project cost is estimated at $3.8 million.

—Approved preliminary plans for a 49,000 sq. ft. addition to the north side of the art building and the remodeling of about 15,000 square feet of the existing building. The project has an estimated cost of $1,937,650.
