HUNT SUSPECTS Double Agent Betrayed Wiretrappers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt testified today that he suspects one of his own Watergate bugging crew was a double agent who betrayed the wiretrappers to police.

Hunt told the Senate Watergate committee that "the most likely subject" to have been a double agent was Alfred Baldwin, who monitored the Watergate wiretap at Democratic headquarters for the conspirators, but who later testified against the others at his trial in January.

BALDWIN NEVER CHARGED

Former FBI agent Baldwin was never charged in the case.

Hunt's double-agent theory was drawn out in questioning by Republican Sen. Edward J. Gurney of Florida.

He also said he has never come up with a satisfactory answer to why the Washington police plainclothes squad was in the area of the Watergate building when the police caught the wiretrappers in the early morning hours of June 17, 1972.

DISOBEYED ORDERS

He also said Baldwin, who was equipped with a two-way walkie-talkie, failed to warn the burglars of the presence of police in the building. Hunt said he thought that Baldwin should have known something was wrong when the plainclothes policemen started turning on lights in their initial search.

87 Highway Contab In Big Spring

The U.S. 87 Highway Improvement Association will stage its 18th annual meeting starting here this evening.

Featured speaker will be Charles E. Simons, member of the Texas Highway Commission, who will speak at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday at Ramada Inn.

Joe Pickle, association president, urged all persons in the area interested in better highways to hear Simons. Activities begin with a reception at 7 p.m. today at Big Spring Country Club.

Rapist Flees From Jail

MATADOR, Tex. (AP) — A 28-year-old Matador man sentenced to prison for rape has made his second escape from the Motley County jail in Northwest Texas.

Sheriff Jinks Wilson said Michael King escaped sometime after 3 p.m. Thursday, apparently by sawing a one-inch steel bar. He said King's wife may be with him.

King was sentenced Sept. 17 to 10 years in prison after pleading guilty to a rape charge before 72nd District Court Judge L. D. Ratliff.

He first escaped the Motley County jail Aug. 15 when he overpowered a jailer. He was recaptured in Matador a few hours later.

Hey, You Cats! Dig This Crazy Cradle

Gertrude Hamlin was late for work Monday morning because her car had kittens.

As she was driving to work, she kept hearing the meowing of baby cats. When she stopped at the bank, a kitten fell out from under the car.

So she returned home and pulled three more kittens from under the car's hood and other parts of the car. She put them in a box, hoping there was a mama cat lurking nearby — then drove on to work, late.

Skylab Trip Ends Today

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Skylab 2's astronauts boarded their Apollo ferry ship today and prepared to fly home from man's longest space adventure.

Because of leaks in two of four steering engines, they'll guide their Apollo with a new and tricky firing technique as they head for a late afternoon splashdown.

Alan L. Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma are returning from a 59½-day journey during which they traveled more than 24 million miles and gathered a wealth of scientific data about the earth, sun and man himself.

FERRY SHIP

The astronauts spent most of the morning closing up the laboratory, setting it up for a visit from the Skylab 3 crew starting Nov. 11.

Then all three slipped through a connecting tunnel into the Apollo, linked to one end of the house-size Skylab station. They closed off the tunnel hatch and carefully checked the systems of their ferry ship.

Mission Control read them the procedures to follow so they would avoid Hurricane Irah on the remote, chance they overshoot their landing target off the California coast. Irah is churning off the Mexican coast about 500 miles south of the splashdown zone.

Bean asked what the sea conditions were in the planning landing area. When told the waves were only five feet, he said "not bad."

The control center also reported good visibility in the area, with winds of 16 miles an hour and scattered clouds.

Although the entire firing procedure that the Skylab 2 astronauts must use has never been tried before in space, flight controllers are confident it will pose no problem for the spacemen.

It is necessary because two of four steering rockets on the Apollo ferry ship have developed leaks. Techniques have been worked out and tested in ground simulators to fly the Apollo home with the two good jet thrusters.

CONFIDENCE

"We approach the entry time with full confidence that the two jets can do the job," said Glynn Lunney, manager of the Apollo spacecraft office. "One is sufficient to bring them home. Even if we had a problem with both, we have alternate thrusters that could be used."

Board Hears Protests, Sticks By Decision

By MARJ CARPENTER
Despite a wave of protest from Gay Hill school patrons, the school board held firm on its decision to close the Gay Hill school Oct. 1.

At a meeting Monday at 5:15 p.m., some 20 parents from a school that now has only 42 students, protested the forthcoming closing of that facility.

Eston Hollis spoke first for the group, thanking the board in a sarcastic tone "for the advance notice before the action." Later in the meeting, one of the housewives asked if it was not illegal to take an action of a matter that was not on the agenda.

Roy Watkins, board president, explained to the group that "We had on the agenda to discuss distribution of enrollment, and that we had not known for sure that the Gay Hill matter would come up."

Hollis also pointed out that at the time of the Howard County School board consolidated Gay Hill against their wishes,

"There was $150,000 cash in a savings account, Gay Hill community alone pays a half million in taxes per year — some 20 per cent of the Big Spring school district total, and we deserve to have an elementary school in our community."

A Mrs. G. C. Elkins, who lives on the Snyder highway in an area where students have a choice and are bused both into Big Spring and out to Gay Hill maintained that many patrons along that route did not know they had a choice and "if they knew it, more would go to Gay Hill."

QUALITY EDUCATION

Mrs. Elkins, with rather strong feelings apparent to the board, went on at length about the quality of education at Gay Hill, and how much better she considered it than at the elementary school within Big Spring to which her children had earlier been assigned.

Watkins interrupted to maintain that "The money is not our main concern. We are concerned with the lack of quality of education that can be offered children in split classes."

Lynn Hise, assistant superintendent of instruction, then pointed out the benefits of larger classrooms and told the group that students do not have as good an opportunity (See School, Page 9, Col. 1)

ALMOST FREE CARE TO END?

May Replace Military Doctors With Civilians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has launched a study of medical services for the military, prompting Defense Department fears that military doctors may be replaced by civilians.

Pentagon officials said they are also concerned that some 4.5 million military dependents and retirees who now receive almost free medical care may have to turn to the civilian community and pay full price for their treatment.

The study was ordered in July by Roy Ash, director of the Office of Management and Budget, and a copy of his memo outlining what the study should contain has been obtained by The Associated Press.

THREE FACTORS

"The military medical care system traditionally has used military personnel and the facilities to care for servicemen and their dependents," Ash wrote, adding that free or nominally priced care of all kinds has come to be expected by the families of all 2.2 million members of the military services.

"Three factors—the all-volunteer force, the recent emphasis on improved management and the administration's commitment to an equitable health system for all Americans—suggest that these traditional assumptions should be reexamined," Ash said.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances that Congress will complete work this year on a pension reform bill have brightened with word that the House Ways and Means Committee will begin work on the legislation next Monday. The Senate already has approved a bill to safeguard private retirement systems.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail gasoline prices probably will rise this week and the cost of mailing a letter soon may follow, but there are indications that high interest rates may be heading downward. Speculation on the interest rates grew after rates for U.S. Treasury bills dropped by more than one per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's press secretary, Marsh Thomson, has blamed Justice Department sources for leaking what he termed a "totally inaccurate" report that Agnew had received money from a wealthy Maryland land investor. The Washington Star-News had said Joel Kline told investigators he was the conduit for funds to Agnew and other Maryland officials.

World News At-A-Glance

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Insurgent forces cut Phnom Penh's highway to the coast again, shelled a convoy of freighters and fuel tankers on the Mekong River and, in the closest attack to the city since early August, attacked a power plant two miles south of the capital. Observers predicted the Khmer Rouge would attempt something spectacular during Prachum Ben, the annual Buddhist festival of the dead, which will be celebrated Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Thousands of workers in La Paz financial institutions and factories are on strike to protest the arrest of 89 labor leaders accused of a Marxist plot against the military government of President Hugo Banzer. Union leaders denied the accusations and threatened "extreme action" if the union heads weren't released within 48 hours.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The United States recognized the military regime in Chile, bringing to about 20 the number of nations extending recognition to the junta. Major U.S. copper companies are expected to follow up with requests that the junta open negotiations on compensation for their Chilean holdings nationalized by the late President Salvador Allende.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The Peronist government's first action after the election of Juan D. Peron as president was to outlaw the People's Revolutionary Army, a Marxist guerrilla group accused of numerous kidnappings and raids on government arsenals. The 77-year-old general will be inaugurated Oct. 12. Final returns from Sunday's election gave Peron 7,381,249 votes, or 61.85 per cent, only slightly less than the 62.4 per cent he won his last time he was a presidential candidate, in 1951.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger entertained Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and told him the prospect for new Soviet-American trade relationships are in doubt because of opposition in the U.S. Congress to the Soviet government's restrictions on Jewish emigrations and its harassment of intellectuals who criticize it.

NO WINNER Bingo Prize To Double

No winner in the Herald's Bingo game emerged this week (although a couple of readers thought they had come up with the right combination of numbers).

For that reason, the prize will be doubled to $100 for the game now in progress. Those who would like to participate have only to pick up their Bingo cards from any of the participating merchants — 30 in number.

This is the 11th in a series of 13 Bingo games planned by The Herald and the merchants. In all, 22 people have shared in the Bingo bucks to this date. Bingo bucks are retrievable in merchandise in the various stores and businesses offering the cards.

This week's game started last Sunday and will continue through Friday. Bingo bugs, with numbers printed on them, appear in ads throughout the paper.

BUDGET APPROVED Clean-Up Plan Structured

By ANN STEVENS

City commissioners approved on first reading the $4.3 million city budget for the upcoming fiscal year and appointed a committee to structure a continuous cooperative clean-up program between the city and the public.

Primary approval of the budget came after a 45-minute public hearing in which one citizen protested that the budget included no money for an over-all clean-up program.

"What's in this budget that's of benefit to the individual property owner? I can't find anything in it to enhance the beauty of our city," remarked Jack Watkins from the audience.

TO PLAN EFFORTS

Watkins reiterated his call for a well-planned clean-up program during a report from the Big Spring Property Owners Association. In response to his call, the commission set up a temporary committee to be headed by Commissioner Polly Mays to recommend ways of establishing a permanent continuous effort involving both the city and the general public.

Named to the committee were Commissioner Eddie Acri, City Manager Harry Nagel along with Jeff Brown, F. A. Piveash and Helen Stewart representing the property owners group.

In line with the discussion of the need for clean-up, which was called the number one problem of the city now, a report was given on the code enforcement program.

Written reports filed by David Zellars, code enforcer, showed that during the period March through August, 179 junk cars were hauled off public property, 16 ramshackle buildings were demolished and 68 weedy lots were cleared.

LONG PROCESS

Asked why more run-down buildings have not been torn down, Zellars explained that a lengthy process of notifying owners and sometimes filing delinquent tax suits must be initiated before the city can begin demolition of the structures.

Also on property related matters, the commission approved on second reading the rezoning of land along FM 700 from retail to light commercial but deleted the section from Marshall drive to Birdwell Lane after residents of the adjacent housing addition presented a petition in protest.

The petition, signed by 62 residents, protested that the zone change would disturb the quality of life in the residential area across from Carlton House and might adversely affect their property values.

Although talk had originally been to leave a 200 foot retail buffer zone designated as planned development between the housing addition and the light commercial area, Commissioner Harold Hall moved to simply delete the whole area west of the addition down to Birdwell while going on to rezone the land further west.

In other action, the commission: —Accepted a report from Hal Rosson of the Golf Association on priority needs at the municipal golf course. Among those needs were listed various tee box, fairway and green improvements as well as the need for extra help for the golf pro during peak playing months. Establishment of a youth summer golf program was also rated as high priority by the Golf Association.

—Approved on final reading annexation of the Big Spring State Hospital into the city limits.

—Passed on second reading an ordinance granting a 15 per cent rate hike to Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

—Authorized the mayor on emergency reading to execute a deed for Section 17 to Roger D. Brown, W. L. Wilson Jr. and Pamela Wilson.

—Authorized the mayor on emergency reading to sign a right of way easement for Texas Electric Service Co. to begin providing service to the new city garage.

FORTY-FOUR AND STILL GOING STRONG — Californian Al Underhill, 26, four days on the road from his home town, San Diego, and five days away from his destination, Prestonsburg, Ky., says his 44-year-old Ford truck has given him excellent service since he acquired it 18 months ago. He stopped at the Luna Station, E. Fourth and State St., here this morning to refill the van's 10-gallon tank, says the fuel will carry him another 150 miles. The durable truck, which still has its original engine, has logged about 200,000 miles.

Old Policy Questioned

The long-standing assumption that church property by rights be exempt from all taxation is under some attack, sporadic but perhaps indicative of a trend nevertheless.

The latest visible instance is in Texas, where Somervell County is attempting to tax camps operated by three church groups. At least one of the denominations — the Methodists — plans to fight the levy in court on constitutional grounds. In New Mexico, the Baptist's Glorieta Government has had the tax squeeze applied.

But the idea is worth serious study not only in Somervell County and whatever court hears the case, but throughout the state and nation and among religious as well as civil officials.

Among the most disgruntled taxpayers in the nation are the payers of property taxes, both because property taxes are perhaps more visible than other levies and because in most places they have risen dramatically in recent years. Many are beginning to ask why vast amounts of church property should be exempt from all such taxes, when the property enjoys protections and benefits paid for by those taxes.

Perhaps not a winning constitutional argument, but certainly an acceptable talking-point can be made for not exempting religious property, on grounds that to do so represents government support of religion. In other words, that portion of the tax burden not borne by exempt property must be made up by those who pay taxes; are taxpayers not then required to support religious denominations, albeit indirectly?

There should be room for a compromise of principles here. One possible compromise would be to levy an assessment against church-held property covering that percentage of the total property tax levy that goes to support fire and police protection — which church property surely enjoys equally with private property or that only those properties directly used for worship, healing or teaching will be exempt — but income or investment property never.

Not Yet, But Why Not?

Sen. Mike Mansfield, Senate majority leader, has introduced once more his resolution to reduce the U.S. troop commitment to Europe. He said he saw no reason why "over 250 million people of Western Europe, with tremendous industrial resources and long military experience, are unable to organize an effective military coalition to defend themselves against 200 million Russians, who are contending at the same time with 700 million Chinese."

Mansfield may be guilty of a bit of over-simplification. Arranging a coalition of European states for a common defense against Russia never has been possible and may never be.

But why do we have to have 315,000 men there? Why not 125,000 men, with about 200,000 soldiers added by other members of NATO?

Why does the administration resist so stoutly any attempt to reduce the troop commitment to Western Europe? A satisfactory answer has not been given.

We now have about 315,000 military personnel, along with about 250,000 dependents in Europe as our contribution to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization force. The Direct and indirect cost of this commitment is approximately $17 billion a year.

Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger, testifying before a congressional committee, strongly opposed any reduction. He did add that "I would like to see our NATO allies do more, and we are now working within the alliance to achieve the objective, but . . ." We have heard this song before from previous secretaries of defense.

It Took Time

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

A few months ago I shared with you a few lines written by a much-loved friend, Gordon Baxter, of Beaumont. It brought comments from several people who wanted to hear more from my red-headed rebel.

Here's a little thing written by Gordon on this date a year ago. It's entitled "Listen to the Children":

"DAUGHTERS CAN wrap Daddys around their little fingers, and Mammas always seem to understand their growing sons, but my son, Gordon III and I went through a lot of hard places before we ever became friends. My own daddy used to say to me 'Two bulls in the same pasture; he's just nubbun' his horns against the fence'. And when the real stand-off came, he'd say, 'Son, as long as you put your feet under my table, you will do as I say'."

"And in my own turn, with my own son, I found myself saying these same things. It was more of a truce than a family."

"Things got better after he married Barbara June and little Gordon IV was born. At least we had something in common to talk about. And he did marry the jewel of the earth, and Barbara found me easy putty as any of the other daughters. Then things got worse as he fretted around with various early jobs as all of us have. He ran into the name thing, and this proud solitary man wanted to make it on his own. He solved the problem by taking his wife and baby and fleeing by night into Egypt land — to the jungles of Houston."

"THE COURAGE of youth. They deliberately stayed out of touch until he had made his mark; found his present profession, the meticulous craft of marine architectural design and drafting. And this was the beginning of the Houston Colony phase of our family. He and his wife found an easier life style, and as each of my kids grew up and left the nest, they were drawn toward Gordon and moved near him in Houston."

"At first glance, you might mistake them for hippies. The long hair, the beard. Their apartment was a cool cave of strange art and music and some new way of life that seemed to say, 'why be uptight, relax, love, enjoy'. And yet, they were not true hippies — not with Barbara's knack for cooking, sewing and the new daughter, Mercedes. And not with Gordon's steadfastness on his job. (They would take one look at his Jesus-like appearance, and then at his extra hours of perfect work and shake their crew-cut heads and promote him anyway.)"

"Gordon found some new dimension of life for us — a seeking of quality rather than quantity."

"MOST of the Houston Colony has moved back to Beaumont now, and we are close. And sometimes, when all of my own resources have failed me, I will find my tall son's arm around my shoulder, and I listen to him."

"One of life's dividends that we never expected is that our grown children would become our closest friends. It is something you can look forward to — if you ever unbind a little — and listen to the children."

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I really enjoy your crusades, TV and radio programs and newspaper columns. You often talk about the end of the world and I would like to know if in your opinion, the "Anti-Christ" has already come? J.D. John wrote in his first epistle, chapter 2:18: "...Dear children, this world's last hour has come. You have heard about the Anti-christ who is coming, the one who is against Christ — and already many such persons have appeared. This makes us all the more certain that the end of the world is near." The word "anti-christ" occurs only in John's epistles, but the idea which the word conveys appears frequently in Scripture.

Since Satan has been on this earth since the fall of man, the spirit of "anti-christ" has obviously always been around. We see it today in the escalation of crime, lawlessness, immorality and the general apathy toward the things of God. The Bible teaches, however, that at the end of the world, the spirit of evil will be embodied in a person called Anti-christ.

The anti-christ will capture the attention of the world. Revelation 13 says he will be worshipped, he'll speak obscenities and blasphemies, he'll do great wonders and will cause all to receive a mark in their right hand or forehead. His number will be 666.

Too many have made the mistake of identifying the anti-christ, such as Napoleon or Mussolini — only to be discredited when proven wrong. If we stay close to Christ, or "abide" as John puts it, we'll be ready whenever the end comes.

Open Mouth Pitfalls

NEW YORK (AP) — Man is the only animal that consistently gets into trouble by opening his mouth.

Most creatures open their mouths chiefly to admit food. Man opens his mouth to make a fool of himself. He also must have the most insensitive oral orifice on earth, for man is the only known species that can put his foot in his mouth without even being aware of it.

When his big trap does lead him into one, he defends himself by claiming that he has the right to free speech. What he doesn't realize is that, aside from free love, free speech is perhaps the most disillusioningly expensive thing in the world.

It isn't necessary to button up your lips, however, to stay out of trouble. All you have to do is learn to think before you speak, and say things that will stir up anger in your fellow man — or make yourself an unwilling victim of him.

Here, for example, are a few classic remarks that probably have caused more than half the trouble on earth:

"Doesn't anybody around here ever do any work except me?"

"If you want my advice, I think you should . . ."

"Put your money where your mouth is."

"Why don't we just step outside and settle this man to man?"

"If you only had brains in all your thumbs, you'd be a real genius."

"Can't you ever do anything right?"

"Bring anybody and everybody to the party. We're having open house."

"Shall I tell you to your face what even your friends are saying behind your back?"

"If nobody else will, I'll volunteer."

"Yeah, it's a good joke, but it sounded funnier the way Milton Berle used to tell it 20 years ago."

"No, it's your turn. I distinctly remember buying the last round."

"Yes, it sounds like you were in the right — but of course I haven't heard the other guy's side of the story."

"What puzzles me is why no woman will ever admit she is in the wrong."

"If I didn't love you, do you think I'd be working myself into an early grave so you and the kids can buy the things you want but don't need?"

"When are you going to start your diet again?"

"If I can be of any further help, don't hesitate to call on me."

Guessing Game

William F. Buckley Jr.

Although there are some of us who hope for a triumphant vindication in the matter of Spiro Agnew, there is no denying that he is for the time being out of the presidential race. And that during that period others are quickly drawn into the vacuum, so that speculation is now at an unreasonably high. Concerning the new line-up, a few observations.

1. LEADING the list is Charles Percy. The headline "Percy Tops Kennedy in Polls" caused a neighboring scholar to muse that Charles Percy is so widely unknown, the voters must have taken the Gallup people to have been alluding to the writer, Lord Percy of Newcastle. But unfortunately the gentleman is dead — or, as Victor Borge puts it, I hope he is, because they buried him.

Granted Charles Percy is not widely known. But he is well known symbolically — as the lushest bloom of the medium-to-left spectrum of the Republican Party. His opposition to Richard Nixon on this and that, particularly during 1970, removed him from the fall-out that, before Watergate is finally over, could poison those who were nourished under Mr. Nixon's mushroom cloud. Most prominent of these, of course, is:

2. JOHN CONNALLY. Mr. Connally's strengths are considerable and they are well known. He is clearly the personal favorite of Mr. Nixon, notwithstanding the little freeze of last spring. But there is something about Mr. Connally that is a little too facile, and it is not obvious that he can go through the revolving doors of the primary fights without tripping his tail, and suddenly looking like Charles Colson. It is not suggested that he merits this suspicion, merely that he might emit it, even as some of the saintliest people cannot avoid looking a little craft. It simply is not obvious that John Connally would do well in, say, the Wisconsin primary.

3. RONALD REAGAN, the favorite of the conservatives, would make a brilliant candidate. He is far and away the best public speaker in American politics. Barry Goldwater, to whom the country owes an eternal debt, never made converts, in 1964. Reagan does. As two-term governor in California, the late-movie albatross is well behind him. His talents as an administrator, the pluckiness with which he engaged the educational bureaucracy and the huge welfare problem, have earned him the respect of the professionals. His foreign experience is meager.

4. NELSON Rockefeller is the insiders' favorite. Once again there are all the obvious reasons, and it is at this stage that money is extremely important. At the moment he faces the question whether to run a gain for governor of New York in 1974 (New York could save a lot of money, including a lot of Rockefeller's, by voting him governor for life). The argument based on his age tends to become crabby and formalistic, since he looks younger and crankier every day. The argument that he would split the Republican Party because of his truculent liberalism is largely dissipated by the passage of time, during which he has become more conservative. He has the great latent strength of a historical attachment to a strong American defense — a strong military.

IT IS NOT in Rockefeller's character to go abroad as an American President, make his bid for a particular policy, and be denied on the grounds that his military could not support him. Americans who worry genuinely about our deteriorating defense may feel that Rockefeller is the man who could most surely beat a dissipated Democrat bent on giving up our military in return for a hotter free lunch.

5. CONCERNING the basis of a possible deal between Rockefeller and Reagan, one anon.

Leg Cramp Categories

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am past 88. I used to say a young 88, but now I am having leg cramps often and at night I have to get up and walk around a bit.

I always manage a good walk every day, but today a leg cramp caught me about a mile from home and I had a heck of a time getting back.

What is lacking in my diet? I eat eggs, meat, nuts, and have orange or grapefruit juice every day. — L.M.

I'd say you had done very well to stay so active at 88. A great many folks encounter the leg cramp problem much, much earlier in life.

Keep clear in your mind that leg cramps fall into two main categories, the kind that strike after you've gone to bed at night and the kind that come after you've walked a certain distance.

For the sake of simplicity, let's call the night-time cramps "leg cramps," and the cramp you got while walking "intermittent claudication."

There are similarities — and also differences. Intermittent claudication usually is the result of some limitation in circulation in the leg (or legs). There's enough circulation for ordinary purposes, but cramps set in when you have exerted beyond the limits that the circulation can support.

This intermittent claudication is a dull pain or cramp, but you can't walk it off as you can a cramp at night. If you keep on walking, the pain will continue. So the answer is either to stop and rest or to walk very slowly for a bit.

The leg cramps that come at night, while often (not always) related to impaired circulation or varicose veins, don't result from exertion, obviously. They are a muscle spasm, and there are various methods of avoiding them.

Quinine medication often helps; many times the patient is deficient in calcium, and getting more calcium in the diet helps — milk, or skim milk, is a very rich source of calcium. However, a faulty diet may not be the sole cause.

There's a quite simple exercise to help leg circulation. If there is some foot defect, a suitable type of footwear may be the answer. These remedies are explained in detail in a booklet "How to Stop Leg Cramps," and you can get a copy by sending 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible for a person to live normally with alkalosis? — A.R.

I think you have a wrong notion of what alkalosis is all about. It is not a chronic disorder but one caused by some acute chemical imbalance in the system.

The word itself means an increased alkalinity level of the blood and tissues usually caused by an increased alkaline intake or a sudden loss of acid from the system. (The blood is normally slightly alkaline.)

Once an imbalance is detected, the cause can usually be found and the proper balance restored and normal life resumed.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To become more familiar with the subject, write for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Detente Is Shaky

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Under the steady battering of headlines now dramatizing the courageous struggle for civil rights by intellectual dissidents in the Soviet Union, President Nixon's pledge to give the Russians equality with other nations in trading with the U.S. is at least temporarily doomed.

THE ROOT cause of the trouble far antedates the decision by Russian author and Nobel prize-winner Alexander Solzhenitsyn and other Russian intellectuals to go public with their deeply emotional grievance against the Kremlin.

The root cause is the highly successful campaign of Democratic Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, backed by the powerful American-Jewish community, to use the issue of trade equality as a club to force Moscow to permit totally free emigration of Soviet Jews to Israel.

BUT THAT campaign by Sen. Jackson and Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, backed by a clear majority in both the House and Senate, has now been galvanized by the shrewdly publicized civil rights struggle of Solzhenitsyn, nuclear physicist Andrei D. Sakharov and other brave civil libertarians centered in Moscow.

The net result as of today: something close to panic in the Nixon White House. The President's cherished policy of detente with the Soviet Union, now confronts a threat that no one in the White House thought possible when the pledge was made at the Moscow summit 16 months ago.

ONE TENTATIVE rescue operation went down the drain this week when Secretary of State Henry Kissinger cancelled a trip to the Ways and Means Committee intended to reverse the disastrous tide and convert enough members to defeat the Jackson amendment.

A major reason Kissinger's appearance was postponed was that a telephone talk between Mills, who refused to bow to frenzied White House requests that he shift to a less rigid amendment sponsored by Rep. James C.orman, a Democrat, and Rep. Jerry L. Pettis, a Republican, both of California.

ADMINISTRATION strategists are now hoping Kissinger will exude enough persuasive charm on the committee within the next two weeks to do one of two things: first, get committee approval of the most-favored-nation proviso for Moscow with no strings attached; or, second, persuade the committee to pass the Corman-Pettis compromise.

The strenuous efforts by Mr. Nixon, by Kissinger, himself Jewish, and by other high administration aides to choke off the rabid support for the Jackson amendment in the American-Jewish community — "wherever there is a synagogue," as one Jewish leader told us — has failed.

Unnamed Source

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — One of the big problems a newspaperman in this city has is when he speaks to one unnamed source who contradicts what another unnamed source has told him.

LAST WEEK all of us struggled with the dilemma. An unnamed source told The Washington Post that a Vice President of the United States was going to resign. Another unnamed source, when contacted, denied it. The big question was who was telling the truth.

The first thing that we had to find out was whether The Post's source was a reliable unnamed source. Since we didn't know the unnamed source's name, this was very difficult to do.

THERE WAS speculation among many unnamed people in Washington that the unnamed source The Washington Post quoted about the Vice President's resignation came from an unmarked building at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. If it did, that could give it some authenticity. At the same time, so many unnamed sources in this building have been caught in out-and-out lies, that the very fact that it originated there might force many of us to discount it.

A SOURCE close to the Oval Office denied the unnamed source worked there or at San Clemente. But an unnamed intimate of the Vice President said he strongly suspected that the story was planted with The Post to force the V. P. to resign.

When I had discussed this information with an official high in government circles who asked not to be quoted, he said that the Vice President in question had discussed resignation (also not resigning) with many Republican officials whose names he could not give. The consensus was that while he had discussed resignation with some unnamed sources, he had also discussed remaining in office with others.

ANONYMOUS SUPPORTERS of a former Texas governor who just became a Republican denied that their people were behind the story. "Our man has no desire to be Vice President of the United States," a highly reliable Houston official leaked to me. A highly placed source close to an unidentified attorney general who formerly was secretary of HEW, and defense denied that any leaks about the resignation came from the Justice Department. "We are not the only people in Washington who have unnamed sources."

A Devotion For Today

"Ye are all one in Christ Jesus." (Galatians 3:28)

Swartz Brings Manhattan Fashions To 'Main Street'

By JO BRIGHT
Manhattan and 'Main Street' may have a lot of miles between them, but when it comes to fashion, they're not that far apart.

Today's woman is mobile, whether her home be a brownstone in the city or a ranch house on the rim. Planes and passports have liberated her from a limited life. She goes as the wind blows, free and easy, flirting with life. And you like the echo of her laughter as she says, "Why not?"

The essence of this sophisticated lady was captured in this year's New York collections, and Swartz brought the look to Big Spring Saturday evening as the Officers Wives Club presented its annual style show at Webb Air Force Base.

"We're in an era of underdressing; clothes are simpler, less constructed," said commentator-model, Mrs. Miriam Finch. "The line is lean, touching the body. Colors are muted. They take wearing; your makeup, your hair, your body, have never been more important. You have got to start with an attitude of attractiveness — and the allure comes through with many looks."

Sixteen models, all OWC members, appeared several times as they showed New York's best interpretations of trends for fall and winter. It was expected that some would be beautiful — here the surprise was that not a single one was not. Pantsuits pleased the women, while party dresses made more than one man glance over his shoulder for a longer look at the pretty models.

The models were Mrs. Finch, Mrs. Joyce Bevon, Mrs. Carolyn Courington, Mrs. Beth Klatt, Mrs. Alfredia London, Mrs. Karen Christie Malone, Mrs. Karen Oswald, Mrs. Kathy Parrot, Mrs. Lucy Randall, Mrs. Marie Raymond, Mrs. Marcia Reese, Mrs. Connie Shultz, Mrs. Leslie Bridwell, Mrs. Sani Miller, Mrs. Mary Lou Dull, Mrs. Judy Rickey and Mrs. Nancy Vise.

OFFICERS WIVES MODEL SWARTZ FASHIONS
Dimmer show held Saturday at Webb AFB

"Everyone wants fashion that makes you feel good; that gives you a lift," said Mrs. Finch as she introduced the sportswear that opened the show.

What followed was a collection of pantsuits and coordinates that would go anywhere in the world; suits for all seasons and most occasions. The designs bore a dateline that said "here and now", and there was not even a hint of anything resurrected from days that will never come again.

The lean pants added length to the leg, and the exaggerated flare of last year had given way to a straighter, cleaner cut, lending better proportion to the complete costumes.

The dressier suits, generally in wool knit, came in two or three-piece versions in sunny yellow, sea green, creamy camel, beautiful brown or really red. The pants might be teamed with a V-necked pullover sweater, ribbed and racy, or worn with a leather-belted jacket and turtle-necked top. Accents ranged from brass buttons and flap pockets to saddle stitching and looped belts. Often, the companion coats were of natural suede or finished leather of a look that was unbelievably soft and supple.

The 'un-colors', the neutrals, came into their own in every shade of cream, camel, brown, grey and black.

Evening wear might be termed a return to romanticism but, more likely, it is an extension of a woman's natural desire to be beautiful.

"Regardless of what emphasis is placed on a woman's liberation, she still enjoys being beautiful, exciting and romantic," continued Mrs. Finch as models appeared in gowns that women wear when they want men to adore them. It seemed a bit like taking unfair advantage with black magic and the strength of numbers when three models posed together — in bright black, soft black and sophisticated black. The bright blacks were shiny as shooting stars, and the soft blacks as subtle as sheer velvet framed with frilly ruffles. A body dress had slivers of rhinestones for shoulder straps, and another slender sheath's adornment was a big, red rose marking the empire waistline.

Making their own moonlight were the models who made the night scene wearing gold or silver lurex; the easy-flowing fabric catching reflections from countless candles. There were gowns of satin that were smooth and tailored — and gowns of chiffon that personified "the float."

The highlight of the show was the elegant furs; from comfortable, cosy "shorties" to full-length coats varying from glacial tourmaline mink to the dark, natural creole. Skins were worked in diamonds, in diagonal effect and in skillful combinations with leathers. There were new collar and sleeve treatments, and a beige mink designed with a zippered border. It was enough to make any lady look forward to a long, cold winter.

New Iron Is Self-Cleaning

In need of a new iron? The very latest is a self-cleaning model engineered to keep steam vents open and functioning at peak efficiency.

Under pressure from a side button, the 39 soleplate vents will emit water and steam to flush out debris, including scorched lint particles and even mineral deposits left by tap water.

OES Head Honored At Coffee

Officers of Big Spring Chapter 67, Order of Eastern Star, hosted a coffee Saturday morning honoring Mrs. Archie Segrest, worthy matron, at the home of Mrs. Charles McCarley, 2703 Larry. Mrs. Segrest will represent the chapter at a Grand Chapter meeting Oct. 1-4 in Dallas.

The refreshment table was covered with a handwoven linen cloth and centered with candles entwined with daisies. Coffee was served from a silver service. A money tree centered the registration table and was presented to the honoree.

Guests included Mrs. Norman Read, past grand matron, Mrs. F. Thomas of Mart, and members of Coahoma Chapter 499 and Laura B. Hart Chapter 1019.

Dude Cools It

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I met a really cool guy who travels, and he makes this town once every two weeks. Tex and I dug each other right away, and I might as well tell you we ended up at his motel on the second date.

Every time he'd come to town, we'd go to his motel. I really grooved this dude. Abby He even told me he loved me.

Well, imagine how hurt I was when I found out his brother got married right here in this town last week and Tex took another girl to the wedding.

Wouldn't you think if Tex liked me well enough to have me at his motel every time he got to town he should have asked me to that wedding?

Should I ask him how come I'm good enough to go to bed with, but I'm not good enough to take to a family wedding? HURT him any questions. The answer is obvious. Just because a man says, "I love you," doesn't mean he means it. And doesn't the fact that he took another girl to a wedding where his friends and family would be present tell you something?

DEAR ABBY: There is a poem by Ogden Nash that I would like to find, but all my efforts led me nowhere. It goes something like this:

"He drinks because she nags, he thinks."

She nags because he drinks, she thinks."

Then it goes on to say that: "In fact, he's a sot and she's a shrew."

I am going crazy trying to track it down. Can you help me, please?

AVID CHICAGO READER

DEAR READER: My reference library contains 15 volumes of Ogden Nash and I can't find it either. But I'll bet one of my readers out there can.

HD Women See Egg Carton Art

STANTON (SC) — Egg carton flowers were demonstrated recently by Mrs. E. P. Madison for Lakeview Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. J. W. Holt. Mrs. Bill McIlvain presided and led prayer.

Club yearbooks were filled out, and objectives and goals were reviewed. Mrs. Alfred Franks won the attendance prize. Honored for their birthdays were Mrs. J. B. Madison and Mrs. W. D. Bryant.

The group will meet again Oct. 4 in the home of Mrs. W. J. Harlow.

Now, more than ever, electricity is worth using wisely.

Electricity, like all forms of energy, should be used wisely — especially now, with growing shortages in supplies of natural gas and oil, the basic fuels used to generate electricity in Texas.

At Texas Electric, natural gas is our major fuel supply with oil used on a standby basis. To reduce our dependency on these fuels, we have well developed, long range plans to diversify our fuel sources.

We have joined with Dallas Power & Light and Texas Power & Light in acquiring long range supplies of east Texas lignite. We now have one lignite plant in operation and two others under construction. The three companies have also announced plans to have a nuclear fueled plant in operation by 1980.

One big advantage of lignite and nuclear fuels is that neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity. A disadvantage is that generating plants that use these fuels cost much more to build. And, because of the long lead time required to plan and build these plants, it will be many years before natural gas can be replaced as our major fuel supply.

Barring difficulties with our existing natural gas supplies or delays in the development of our lignite and nuclear generating capability, we will be able to provide the electricity our customers need. However, the much higher cost of diversifying our fuels and inflation make it inevitable that the price of electric service will rise.

As rising costs and the energy squeeze make electricity increasingly valuable, we will continue to encourage its efficient use. Now, more than ever, electricity is worth using wisely.

natural energy HOME

CLEAN ENERGY FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

A Natural Energy Home uses natural gas for heating, cooling, water heating, cooking and clothes drying to save you money and help conserve our cleanest natural energy resource... natural gas.

That's because electricity in West Texas is generated by burning natural gas, and in the process of generating and transmitting electricity to your home, 2/3 of the gas energy is lost.

So, by using gas directly in the home for the jobs it can do, you're helping to conserve it and you're getting more energy for your money.

QB Club Sets Meet

The Big Spring Steer Quarterback Club will hold its weekly meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Steer head coach Bob Burris will show films of Friday's 28-25 defeat at the hands of the Snyder Tigers during the session, and Glenn Pettig will give a report on Abilene High's Eagles, Big Spring's next foe.

The Steers are out this Friday, along with the rest of Dist. 5-AAAA, and return to action Oct. 5 in Abilene for the first league game.

Workouts this week will follow the same schedule, Burris said, with practice starting at 3 p.m. daily.

Chamberlain May Retire, Says Basketball's A 'Bore'

NEW YORK (AP) — Basketball has become a $500,000-a-year bore for Wilt Chamberlain.

"It's true that I don't get any fun out of training any more, and I even find it tough to get ready for game after game," the 7-foot-1-millionaire ball duffer acknowledges.

"Money is not a factor—I've just got to decide whether I want to continue playing basketball. It has taken most of my life, but do I owe my whole life to it?"

King Says 'No' To Net Rematch

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Billie Jean King says she's delighted with the fruits of her recent tennis victory over Bobby Riggs, but doesn't want a rematch.

"I didn't want to play Bobby in the first place, and rejected the match three years ago and last January," the 29-year-old Ms. King said Monday of her much-publicized "battle of the sexes" with Riggs.

But the 55-year-old Riggs kept pressing to play a woman, and he finally smashed Margaret Court on Mother's Day, so Billie Jean agreed to the nationally-televised match at Houston's Astrodome, which she won handily in three sets last week.

"Margaret opened the door, I closed it," she said. "There isn't any more reason to play Bobby again. We proved Bobby wrong when he said he could beat any woman."

But fruits of her decision over the former Wimbledon and U.S. Open champion continue to delight her.

Ms. King, in town to be introduced as the playing coach of Philadelphia's team in the new World Team Tennis League (WTT), was received warmly at a noon open-air gathering and later at a news conference Monday.

Two Philadelphia housewives, walking demurely to lunch, screamed "Billie Jean!" when she passed in a Cadillac. "You were tremendous. Great! My husband was mouthing off so bad. He's been doing dishes ever since."

"Did you hear that?" Billie Jean laughed heartily. Attempting to imitate the woman's Philadelphia accent, she said: "My husband's been doing dishes all week! Beautiful. Great."

Billie Jean had the highest praise for Riggs, although she giggled about how he was down-in-the-mouth after the match.

Reds Pop San Diego, Win Western Honors

By The Associated Press

... and then, there was one. The third of baseball's four divisional races was settled Monday night when the Cincinnati Reds nailed down their third National League West crown in four seasons by defeating San Diego 2-1.

That leaves only the NL East still undecided with five teams still alive in the season's final week. Pittsburgh remains one-half game behind the New York Mets there after splitting a twilight doubleheader with Montreal.

The second place Pirates lost the opener to the Expos 5-4 but took the nightcap 3-0. Elsewhere in the NL, it was Houston 10, San Francisco 6. In the American League, Boston walked Detroit 14-0, Minnesota beat Texas 10-9 and Minnesota nipped Oakland 7-6.

The Reds took the traditional champagne shower in stride after clinching the NL West. "I think we're more subdued this time," said catcher Johnny Bench. "We're waiting for the third step — the World Series — rather than getting excited over the first one."

The Reds also won West titles and NL pennants in 1970 and 1972 only to be beaten in the Series both times.

One guy who did get worked up over the clinching was pitcher Dick Bane, who hasn't been through 5-0. "It's the ultimate," said Bane, "the day I dreamed about as a kid."

Bane, who spent the first part of this season being cut by two minor league clubs, got to the victory on home runs by Tony Perez and Andy Kosco.

The Reds' clinching victory was their 58th in 81 games since July 1 when they were 11 games behind.

Landry Gets 100th, But He Sympathizes

DALLAS (AP) — Bob Lilly and Lee Roy Jordan gave their leader a cake and a game ball celebrating Tom Landry's 100th victory as a National Football League coach, but the Dallas Cowboys mentor couldn't help feeling compassion for the guy in the other dressing room.

Landry's Cowboys maulled New Orleans 40-3 Monday night like teams used to batter Dallas back in the expansion year of 1960, when the Cowboys had an 8-11-1 record.

In the other locker room, New Orleans Coach John North sat slumped over his bench, still looking for his first NFL victory after two tries.

"I know what he (North) must feel, but they'll beat somebody," Landry said. "He's got a tough job ahead of him. I went through the same thing. But if his owners have confidence in him and get some players, he could do it too."

Landry, who now stands 100-76-6 in his 13th year as the only coach Dallas has ever had, said of reaching the century mark, "It's quite a milestone to be around that long."

"Longevity is more important than anything. I'm glad the owners stuck with me through the lean years and gave me the opportunity to win."

Landry, who is now the 10th NFL coach in the 100-victories ledger, leaned over and blew out the candles on his cake as easily as the Cowboys blew down the Saints.

Newhouse scored two touchdowns—one on a three-yard touchdown gallop and the other on a two-yard pass from quarterback Roger Staubach. Hill bolted seven yards for a touchdown and was the game's leading ground gainer with 71 yards on 13 thrusts in the nationally televised mismatch.

The Cowboys, who have been to a record seven consecutive NFL playoffs, have won 80 games in the last seven years under Landry.

Landry said it was nice to win 100 but he'll still take the 24-3 victory over Miami in Super Bowl VI as his personal highlight.

"The most memorable highlight has to be the Super Bowl victory," Landry said as he beamed at his players who gathered around the cake.

"Go for another hundred," the players shouted.

Landry said his low point as a coach wasn't the disaster year of 1960 but a 1967 loss to Green Bay for the NFL title.

"Green Bay had a formidable team, but I thought we had a better team," he said of the "Ice Bowl" game, played in sub-zero cold.

The Cowboys pulled into a tie with St. Louis for the lead in the National Conference's Eastern Division with the victory at 2-0.

Dallas plays St. Louis next Sunday.

Landry, who wasn't overly pleased with his team's 12-3 halftime lead over New Orleans, said, "I didn't see the cake at halftime."

"I'm glad somebody had enough confidence in me to bake it ahead of time."

USC Still No. 1; UT Exits Top 10

By The Associated Press

Southern California, Nebraska and Ohio State continued to run 1-2-3 today in The Associated Press college football rankings while Louisiana State replaced Texas in the Top Ten.

Southern California, which has been No. 1 since the first week of the 1972 season, ran its 1973 record to 2-0 by defeating Georgia Tech 23-6. The Trojans received 36 first-place votes and 1,120 points from the 61 sports writers and broadcasters who voted in this week's poll.

Twelve first-place votes and 1,022 points went to Nebraska, which rallied with three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to turn back North Carolina State, dropping the Wolfpack from 14th to 19th.

Ohio State was idle last weekend following a 56-7 opening game rout of Minnesota and the Buckeyes polled eight first-place ballots and 955 points.

Last week, the spread was 1,106-995-944.

Michigan received one vote for the top spot and 844 after trimming Stanford 47-10 and the Wolverines climbed from fifth place to fourth. Alabama slipped from fourth to fifth with one first-place vote and 766 points when the Crimson Tide

Football Contest

$25.00 CASH PRIZE EACH WEEK!

FIRST PRIZE $12.50
 SECOND PRIZE $ 7.50
 THIRD PRIZE $ 5.00

THIS WEEK'S WINNERS
 First Place . . . . . Gary Hanson
 Second Place . . . . . Keith Pherigo
 Third Place . . . . . Jerry Robertson

PICK THE SCORE OF THESE TWO GAMES TO BREAK THE TIES

← Herald Football Contest Rules:

ALL YOU DO to be eligible for the cash prizes, mark the winners of games shown in each ad or legible facsimile, print your name and address plainly at the bottom of page, mail or bring to The Herald by Noon each Friday. Winners will be announced on Tuesday the following week. Mark winners with an "X" opposite your choice of team. Pick actual score of game as indicated for TIE BREAKER. Everyone eligible except employees and family of The Herald. Beat The Herald Football Crystal Ball Forecasters, it's fun and profitable.

As many members of a single family may participate as wish to do so, but only one such will be eligible for an award in any one week.

One Entry Per Person!

PICK YOUR WINNER

 Address Your Envelope C/O Football Contest.

NAME . . . . .
 ADDRESS . . . . .
 CITY . . . . .

Neatness Is Important — Be sure to mark your SCORES clearly so the judges won't make a mistake.

In case of tie in number of games missed, awarding of prizes will be on the grading of the actual scores, which should always be indicated in the upper left hand adv. Your indication of these two games will break the tie. The point spread in the scores will be the basis for the breaking.

Area's Water Problems Subject Of Discussion

LUBBOCK - Water, Inc., will present strong testimony in support of importation of water to the plains areas of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico when its officials appear before a meeting of the West Texas Water Resources Council Oct. 3. The council, one of four regional water councils created by Senate Resolution 812 and directed to study area water problems, has set its original meeting for 10 a.m. Oct. 3, at the West Texas Museum in Lubbock.

The preliminary report of the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico Import Water Project presented to us last April has given us encouragement," said A. L. Black, president of Water, Inc., and a member of the Executive and Governor-appointed council.

"For the first time, we were told that there is water in the Mississippi River that could be made available to us," he said. "Although the report indicated the project was not economically justified when evaluated under traditional standards, we were not deterred and we have developed statistical data for presentation to the West Texas Water Council showing beyond a doubt that the proposed project is indeed feasible," Black said.

One of the most glaring fallacies of the import study, Water, Inc., officials claim was the use of average 1965-69 prices received by farmers and comparing those to 1972 construction costs. Skyrocketing farm prices in recent months have completely changed the cost-benefit comparisons used in the original study by the Bureau of Reclamation and Corps of Engineers. This coupled with a worldwide shortage of food and fiber and an unprecedented demand for American farm products plus the nation's desperate need for farm exports to offset the United States' deficit of payments all combine to reflect a completely different financial picture than that painted in the Import Study Report, Water, Inc., said.

Among those on the water council are State Sen. Jack Hightower, Vernon, Dr. Marvin Baker, Levelland, Charles Stewart, San Angelo.

DAVs To Sponsor Dance At Barn
 The Disabled American Veterans are sponsoring a youth dance slated at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Howard County Fair Barn.

Providing the music will be "New Light." Door prizes will be awarded. Cost is $2 per couple and $1.50 for single.

Hill Recovering
 A. F. Hill has received word that his son, Darmond E. Hill, has successfully undergone surgery for removal of a stomach cancer and is now recovering at Room 211, Bel 2, Sun Tower Hospital in El Paso. His son was grateful for the expressions of concern received from old friends here, said Mr. Hill.

Opening Set For Pay-Less
 Randy Singleton will manage the store, assisted by another full-time employee and two part-time workers.
 Singleton, 23, came to Big Spring last week from Denton where he was assistant manager of the Pay-Less Store, A Bridgeport native, he is a graduate of Cook County Junior College and attended North Texas State University.

Merchandise in the store is on open display so that customers may browse and try on shoes as they like.
 The 4,000 square foot building was built at a cost of $40,000.

when they are lumped together in split classes.

GOOD TEACHERS

He also told the group "Nobody is criticizing those three teachers out there. They have done an excellent job and will be used within the system."

Mrs. Pat Underwood asked "If we are satisfied with the quality of instruction they are getting, why not leave them alone?"

Jack Buchanan pointed out how well some of the Gay-Hill graduates had done at a secondary level and in college.

Mrs. Bob Wagner interposed the question, "What is this meeting even for, you have already made the decision."

Watkins answered Mrs. Wagner, "We are looking for suggestions to solve problems."

One of the parents then asked "Can we just finish this year?"

NO MOTIONS PLEASE

Mrs. Elkins then made a motion that they be given more time and Watkins told her "You cannot make a motion. You are not on the board."

Mrs. Bud Graham requested that the board members who voted for the measure hold up their hands. The board members, Jim Bill Little, Dan Wilkins and Thomas Fetters held up their hands. Delnor Poss and Ralph McLaughlin explained to the group that they voted against the measure "primarily because of the timing." Jerry Jenkins had been absent when the vote was taken and the chairman only votes in case of a tie.

Wilkins then talked to the group briefly, pointing out that the board sympathized "and we have your interest at heart. We really believe your children will be better off if they can be offered the advantage of more programs and with other children."

ADMIRE GROUP

Poss told the group, "We admire you for being here and standing up for what you believe, but we have to make decisions and some of them are not easy."

At the conclusion of the discussion, Watkins announced that the action taken would remain the same.

The group then discussed the possibility of allowing the community to use the building. The board told those attending that the school would maintain the building and keep the custodian there for the time being, using him in Big Spring during the day.

They requested that somebody get together with the business office to set up a method whereby they could sign up to use the facility for community activities.

In other action, the board approved the preliminary application for foundation program funds and approved a new project for the building trades class. A house will be built for Don Washburn in Highland South. The Electric Appliance class will also participate in the project.

EARN SAFETY AWARD — Employees of Texas Electric Service Company's transmission division recently completed ten years without having a lost-time injury. J. W. Godfrey of Fort Worth, right, manager of transmission services for the company, presented the division a plaque last week recognizing the achievement. Receiving the award are R. G. Webb, center, division superintendent, and T. D. Reeves, line foreman. The 54 employees in the division worked more than 1,100,000 man-hours during the 10 years. Godfrey was transmission division superintendent here from 1948 to 1953.

DEATHS

R. F. Thames

CISCO — Funeral for Richard F. Thames, 82, of Cisco will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Holley-Rhyme Memorial Chapel with burial to follow in Dethan Cemetery north of here. Mr. Thames, a retired farmer, died Sunday afternoon in a Cisco hospital. Among survivors is a son, J. C. Thames, Big Spring.

Enrollment Is Up By 15 Here

Enrollment gained again last week to leave 6,828 pupils in school here. Elementary enrollment picked up by eight, making 3,485, while secondary gained two to reach 3,232. Hospital and homebound registration was 111, up five, making a net gain of 15. Included in the total are 338 kindergarten pupils. A year ago this figure was 157.

F. W. Kelly Jr.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel for Lt. Col. Frank Warren Kelly Jr., 55, who died here suddenly Monday while visiting his son, Lt. Daniel Kelly. Officiating will be Webb AFB Chaplain Kenneth Summy.

Murray Carpenter

COLORADO CITY — Services were set for 2 p.m. today in Smiley Street Church of Christ in Loraine for Murray Carpenter, 67, a Loraine mechanic who died in Root Memorial Hospital at 6:15 a.m. Monday after a long illness.

Leads Followed On Bogus Checks

Abilene authorities have telephoned Big Spring law enforcement agencies for information about counterfeit payroll checks which have been passed here.

Similar forged instruments have been passed in Abilene. Local merchants made the mistake of taking seven of the checks printed to look like salary checks from White Stores, Inc. in Wichita Falls. Other bogus checks have been converted in Waco.

Youth Bitten; Dog Is Sought

Can anyone help locate an English bulldog, white with brown spots and wearing several tags?

If so, they will help Tommy Shugart, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Shugart, 709 W. 18th, the possibility of taking a series of anti-rabies shots.

Tommy was bitten Sunday 9 p.m. in the vicinity of 16th and Douglas Streets by a dog which came out of an alley, and then went off down Douglas Street. Efforts to locate the dog have been fruitless, said Mrs. Shugart.

Anyone who can help locate the dog is urged to telephone her at 263-3697 or call the police department.

Mrs. Stringfellow

Mrs. Willie B. Stringfellow, 64, died at 3:40 a.m. today in a local hospital. Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the East Fourth Street Baptist Church with the Rev. Dale Cain officiating, assisted by Eldon Cook.

Burial will be in Mt. Olive Cemetery with Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home in charge.

A life-long resident of Howard County, she was born here Nov. 21, 1908, and married Thomas Ed Stringfellow July 18, 1929 in Big Spring. He died in April 1968. She was a charter member and active at the East 4th Street Baptist Church and also an active volunteer worker at the VA Hospital.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Bob (Peggy) Craig, Tucson, Ariz.; a sister, Mrs.

Angelo Meeting Attracts Locals

All teachers and the principal and education coordinator for the Immaculate Heart of Mary school will attend Education Day 73 Monday, Oct. 1 at the Sacred Heart Cathedral School in San Angelo. The local school will be closed that day.

David King, principal and Sister Eleanor Goelker, education coordinator, as well as the seven teachers in the school will attend.

A gathering of approximately 300 teachers, priests, educators, parents and other interested people from all corners of the diocese is expected to participate in fifteen scheduled workshops to be conducted that day.

Among the workshops will be one on "A Reading Program for Secondary Education," taught by Dr. Thomas Salter, president of Howard County Junior College.

Police Dubious Of Man's Story

Police answered a disturbance call at a local theatre at 9:02 p.m. Monday and there found Melton Solis, who told them that two men jumped him near the railroad and took $25.

The police report said that "He appeared to be intoxicated so we took him back to the tracks and suggested he take the next train out."

Fort Worth Man Handed Two-Year Prison Term

Robert Lee (Little Brother) Phillips, 37, Fort Worth, pleaded guilty Monday afternoon in 113th District Court to murder with malice in the shooting death of Earsie Miller.

Acting on the recommendation of District Attorney Bob Moore, District Judge R. W. Caton sentenced Phillips to not less than two nor more than 10 years with the Texas Department of Corrections.

Phillips took the stand and answered a number of routine questions from Moore and Lanny Hamby, defense attorney. He identified a statement given by him to Detective Avery Falkner, and the court accepted the statement.

In it, Phillips told this story about the May 8th shooting:

Man Is Returned To Face Charges

Another railroad employe and the manager of the Howard House found Mr. Malone at 7 a.m. Monday.

Funeral services will be under the direction of Cate-Spencer Funeral Home in Sweetwater, a former home of the engineer.

Malone Left Rare Coins

James Ray Malone, 49, an engineer with the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. who was found dead Monday morning, was keeping an extensive coin collection in his room at the Howard House.

Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena Jr. also found $900 in Mr. Malone's wallet.

Silver dollars, gold pieces and a variety of other coins dating in the 1800s were found in a chest the size of a telephone and in a bag.

Only one living relative is known. She is a sister living in Reno, Nev. Ochotorena was consulting with other courthouse officials this morning about what to do with Mr. Malone's property. It is unknown whether the engineer left a will.

While the justice of the peace has not entered a ruling in the death, death is believed to have resulted from natural causes.

Man Is Returned To Face Charges

GARDEN CITY — Aulton Vaughn, 36, charged with burglary of the Edwards Brothers Ranch and Cole Ranch, is in the Glasscock County Jail.

Sheriff Royce Pruitt returned Vaughn here from the state penitentiary in La Grange, Ky. Vaughn is charged in connection with theft of saddles from the Edwards Brothers Ranch on Oct. 26, 1972.

Also, he is charged in Howard County in connection with the theft of numerous paintings from the Cole Ranch.

Pilot Uninjured In Plane Crash

MIDLAND — A California man escaped injury Monday afternoon when his T-51 aircraft veered out of control on landing at the Midland-Odessa Air Terminal in what was the second aircraft accident at the regional airport in four days.

Richard D. Bock, Long Beach, bailed out of the cockpit as his plane went out of control on the south end of Runway 22 and crashed into a radio communications complex east of the terminal entrance. An auxiliary generator was destroyed in the crash.

Payment Lapse Is Cited In Suit

The attorney for a Midland man filed suit in 118th District Court Monday against Media Enterprises TV-3 Inc., alleging failure to pay $3,900 in lease payments.

J. B. Ruppe wants a foreclosure of the landlord's lien, power to sell all property on the premises, $1,300 for payment of attorney's fees and possession of the property.

On Sept. 5, 1972, the defendant corporation contracted for lease of office space at the Towncliff Shopping Center at Birdwell Lane and Farm Road 700, the plaintiff's petition claims.

Ralph Mahoney of Mahoney Cotton Co. is identified as the representative of TV-3.

Man Convicted Of Slaying

ODESSA — Carl E. Hostetter Sr., 62, was found guilty in 161st District Court here Monday of murdering his wife, Thelma, Aug. 27, 1970 in her apartment, at a local motel.

Hostetter's mental condition at the time of his wife's shooting was the main subject of testimony during the two-day trial.

The man's son, Carl Hostetter Jr., and a Houston psychologist testified that the defendant was insane when he shot his 57-year-old wife.

However, Dr. James Kreimier, head of the maximum security unit at Rusk State Hospital, testified that Hostetter was legally sane at the time.

Kreimier was then a psychiatrist at the Big Spring State Hospital where Hostetter was examined several days after the killing.

The bidding:
 North East South West
 1♥ Pass 2♦ 2♣
 Pass Pass 3NT Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠

A field of some 1,500 teams from across the length and breadth of North America entered the Grand National team championship, eventually won by the Florida team of William Seamon, Robert Sharp, Russ Arnold, Richard Pavlicek, Jim Beery and Jane Jaeger. Their victory earned them a place in the playoff to determine North America's representatives in next year's World Team Championship. This hand came up in their semifinal match against a New England team.

North's opening bid is a trifle weak, but he did not want to pass a fair hand with a six-card major suit. Thereafter, nothing could keep South, who had a full opening bid, out of game. And, indeed, he would have made his ambitious three no trump contract had not West, Richard Pavlicek, made a superb defensive play.

The opening lead was won by dummy's ace, and declarer was faced with a communications problem. Since he did not want to cross to his hand with the ace of spades, he elected to lead a low heart from the table. East won the jack and returned a club, declarer playing the ten and West winning with the queen. The defender continued with the nine of clubs, dummy's jack winning. Another heart was led to East's king, and he exited with a diamond.

Declarer won the king and led a low spade, intending to finesse the ten. He would then force out the ace of hearts, and that would set up three heart tricks while the king of spades was still in dummy to serve as an entry.

Unfortunately for the best-laid plans, West was well aware of the situation. Instead of routinely playing second hand low, he inserted the queen of spades, and declarer was a gone goose. He could win in dummy with the king and establish his heart tricks, but there was no way to get back to dummy to enjoy them. Even the queen of diamonds dropped on the second round of the suit, declarer could make no more than eight tricks—three spades, three diamonds and two clubs.

ARC Helpful In Disaster

The disaster relief function of the American Red Cross proved beneficial to 31 Howard County families in the damaging thunderstorm earlier this month.

Disaster relief is one of many services provided by the Red Cross, one of the various public service agencies supported by United Way. In this year's United Way budget, $15,000 has been allocated to the Red Cross.

Nat Roll, executive secretary of the local chapter, said $6,589.85 was paid out to victims of the thunderstorm. Although part of the relief funds will be paid by the national organization, Roll said the local chapter is responsible for providing disaster victims with their immediate needs of food, clothing and shelter.

Besides helping in disasters, the Red Cross sponsors classes in swimming, boating safety, first aid, child care, mother-baby care and home service.

Roll and Mrs. Filomena Glanister, administrative assistant, are the two paid staff members.

Explorers Post 146 has openings for members between 15 (ninth grade) and 20 years old. Membership is open to boys and girls.

The post will hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Five Watters Radio Club Building on Wasson Drive. For further information one may call Sgt. Joseph Cody, 267-2686.

Sex Education Study Looms

At its annual membership meeting in Odessa, the Permian Basin Planned Parenthood, Inc., will examine what it considers to be a critical need for systematic education about sexuality.

The luncheon meeting, to be held Saturday, Oct. 6, will feature as its guest speaker Dr. Christian N. Ramsey Jr., Waco.

Dr. Ramsey, 32, a physician, was vice chairman of the Commission on Population Growth and the American Future, which presented its report to President Nixon in 1972, following two years of extensive hearings all over the United States. Dr. Ramsey's topic will be the Commission's Report, with special emphasis on family life and sex education.

Planned Parenthood speakers have presented statistics gathered in the 17 counties of the Permian Basin which show evidence of an increase in teenage pregnancies, and a continued high rate of venereal disease. For example, in 1972, in 16 of the 17 counties responding to a questionnaire (Loving County has not yet replied), 1,276 girls between the ages of 15 and 19 delivered babies. (Howard County had 265 teenage pregnancies ages 15-19, and six under 15). In addition, 68 children under 15 had babies. These 1,344 teenage pregnancies were among the highest risk group, and do not reflect the unknown number of pregnant girls who either terminated their pregnancies or left the area to deliver, said Planned Parenthood spokesmen. Dr. Ramsey is due to speak about the problem from a broader perspective, and to identify some solutions.

Dr. Ramsey will speak at the Odessa Country Club, and reservations may be made by calling the executive office of Permian Basin Planned Parenthood in Odessa, 563-2530 or 333-2385, by Oct. 2.
