Texas International Airliner, 11 Missing

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A Texas International airliner with 11 persons aboard disappeared in a torrential rainstorm over southwest Arkansas Thursday night and three National Guardsmen were killed in the crash of a helicopter en route to help search for it.

Hours passed with no trace of the Convair turboprop jet which carried eight passengers and a crew of three on a flight from El Dorado to Texarkana.

Fog and low ceilings grounded most search planes. Authorities held little hope of finding the airliner from the ground if it went down in the swampy, wooded, sparsely populated area between the two cities.

COLONELS ABOARD

A spokesman for the Red River Army Depot near Texarkana, Tex., said three of the passengers were colonels from the base. One of them was Col. Arthur B. Glenn who was flying in to assume command of the depot today.

Texas International did not immediately identify the other passengers or the crew.

Bob Brewer, public information officer at the depot, said Col. Glenn was traveling with Col. Robert E. Hoepf, the depot's director of supply, and Col. Clayton Craft, director of maintenance.

The Convair left El Dorado at 8:20 p.m. and was scheduled to reach Texarkana, 75 miles away, about 20 minutes later. Jim Cassidy, senior vice president of the airline, reported it missing shortly before midnight.

OUT OF FUEL?

By then the plane was out of fuel, according to Kenneth Sen-yard, Civil Defense director at Texarkana. He said it carried only enough fuel to last until 11 p.m.

Two helicopters were dispatched from Little Rock. They flew together into a fog bank near Prescott, about 100 miles from their base. One never came out.

The second helicopter turned back and made a safe landing at Malvern. State Police quoted its pilot as saying that the other ship radioed that it was in trouble just before it went down.

Lt. Earl Orr of the State Police said three bodies were recovered at the crash scene about two hours later.

The National Guard identified the crew members as Capt. John Larry Bearden, 33, of North Little Rock, the pilot; Capt. William Robert West, 31, of Little Rock, the co-pilot, and Spec. 6 David Murle, 32, of North Little Rock, the crew chief.

KNOCK ON DOORS

Thunderstorms were raging over Southwest Arkansas when the plane disappeared. The flight path carried the Convair over the Red River bottoms, some of the wildest country in the state. The flight, Texas International's 655, originated at Memphis. It was to have terminated at Texarkana.

State Police and county and local officers launched an immediate ground search and a few planes took off during a break in the weather shortly after midnight. All had been forced down by 4 a.m., however, and low ceilings and heavy fog kept most of them on the ground deep into the morning.

Lt. Col. Charles McKinnon of the Civil Air Patrol said search planes had no real hope of finding the airliner in the dark.

The World At-A-Glance

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government reports everything is going according to plan with its two-man, two-day space flight. "The mood is cheerful and we feel as if we were in the training system," cosmonaut Vasily Lazarev, the mission commander, told ground controllers shortly after Soyuz 12 was fired into earth orbit Thursday.

LONDON (AP) — The Icelandic government says it will break relations with Britain unless British navy frigates and tugs are withdrawn by Wednesday from the disputed fishing waters of Iceland. The British, whose trawlers have fished there for generations, offered to withdraw the navy ships if Iceland would remove its gunboats, but the Icelanders ignored the offer.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The Chilean junta has executed the leftist governor of Talca province for killing a policeman and trying to blow up a dam after the military coup. Gov. German Castro Rojas was the first high-ranking official of the late President Salvador Allende's regime known to die before a firing squad.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Hundreds of Pakistani prisoners of war crossed the border into Pakistan today after nearly two years in Indian prison camps. All but four of the 842 prisoners crossing at Wagah Checkpoint were civilians and more than half were women and children. In the next month all but 195 of the 90,000 POWs will be repatriated to Pakistan.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A political refugee who held the 12-year-old son of the Mexican ambassador was allowed to leave by plane for Madrid Thursday night after he released the boy unharmed.

Millionaire Charged

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas man, whom local authorities describe as a millionaire, has been charged with murder in connection with the execution-style slaying of an underworld figure last February. Police said the victim was a known narcotics pusher.

Charged Wednesday night was Joseph Bradley Pope, 31. A police report says Pope lives off a $1 million trust fund left by his family. Pope posted a $25,000 bond.

The charge was filed in Justice of the Peace Robert Cole's court while Pope was free on a $50,000 cash bond. He was charged last month with possession of narcotics.

Police said they acted on a tip in the Aug. 22 raid on his home that Pope had brought the narcotics from Central America.

Police said Pope was linked to the Feb. 5 slaying of George Edward Picazo, 35, through a .45-caliber automatic pistol seized during the narcotics raid. Picazo had been convicted five times.

United Way Is Gaining Momentum

Entering the fourth week of its six-week drive, the United Way has raised $46,176 as of this morning towards its goal of $117,000. The effort has been gaining momentum this week.

Division totals today showed the big gifts with $24,420 collected and the consolidated federal campaign with $11,000 collected to lead the way.

Other division totals are: Out of town, $4,163; public employes, $228; business employes, $1,840; metropolitan, $455; special gifts, $723; area, $520; and women, $2,826.

Soviet Union Loaning India Tons Of Grain

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Soviet Union, which made history's biggest food grain purchase last year because of shortages, is loaning India two million tons of grain, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government announced today.

Food Secretary G.C.L. Joneja said the Soviet Communist party leader, Leonid I. Brezhnev, told Mrs. Gandhi in a letter he was offering the loan because of Moscow's "aspirations to develop friendly Soviet-India relations."

Mrs. Gandhi accepted and conveyed India's "warm appreciation of this friendly gesture" to Brezhnev and the Soviet government, Joneja said. He did not disclose the manner or timing of repayment.

The food secretary said the two million tons, plus more than two million tons bought in the United States and elsewhere, would tide India over until the next local crop is harvested in November.

The Soviets bought 16 million tons from the United States last year for $1 billion.

Arab Terrorists Attack Train, Grab Soviet Jews

VIENNA (AP) — Two Arab terrorists armed with submachine guns commandeered a train with 37 Soviet Jews at the Austrian-Czechoslovak border today, officials said.

One police account said the Arabs shot and killed one man and injured two, but the state security police said no one was killed, and only one person was injured.

The Arabs then took five Soviet Jews hostage, along with a woman and a child of unknown nationality and an Austrian customs official. They forced the five Jews and the customs official into one of the railway's station wagons and sped off to the Vienna Airport. The woman and child managed to escape in the confusion, police said.

The station wagon was parked near a Spanish airliner at the airport and police were negotiating with the Arabs.

The train originated in the Soviet Union and was to be attached to a train en route from Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, to Vienna. In Vienna, the Jews were to be transferred to the Schoenau processing center prior to their emigration to Israel.

The train was seized at Marchegg, 28 miles east of Vienna.

JEWISH HISTORY

In Tel Aviv, Israeli officials canceled their Jewish new year holiday to follow the events in Vienna.

Foreign Office and other executives said no official report of the seizure had yet reached Jerusalem, where government officers were closed for the three-day Rosh Hashana holiday.

The attack came just two days after Israel managed to rush in 1,000 new Soviet Jewish emigrants by airlift from Vienna in time to celebrate the holiday in the Jewish state.

Russian Jews have been arriving in Israel at the rate of 2,650 a month, over protests from Arab countries that Moscow was helping the Jewish state by sending manpower to Israel.

Thirty-two thousand new settlers have arrived from the Soviet Union in the past year.

The last attack by Arab terrorists against an Israeli target in Europe was the gunning down of 58 persons waiting for a New York flight at Athens Airport Aug. 5. Two terrorists arrested by Greek police said they thought the passengers were en route to Israel.

Five of the victims died. Four of them were Americans.

Company Split When Splitter Spotted, Subscriber Claims

Right in the middle of fall television premieres, Big Spring Cable TV Inc. disconnected service to 2011 Ceclia St., a petition filed in 118th District Court Thursday afternoon indicates.

District Judge R. W. Caton has scheduled a hearing on issuing a temporary injunction at 10 a.m. Oct. 9. Also sought is a permanent injunction.

Julian Patterson is suing for $150 per day in actual damages plus an equal amount in punitive damages because cable service was discontinued.

In petitioning the court, Robert D. Miller, attorney for Patterson, related this story:

On Sept. 12, the cable company found and removed a "splitter" on the cable line while making repairs needed due to a storm. (A splitter permits two or more connections off the same line.)

When Patterson requested the splitter be re-installed, a representative of Big Spring Cable told Patterson he had no right to place a splitter on the cable line, according to the petition.

Service to Patterson's residence was discontinued and for the time the splitter was used, Big Spring Cable wanted "an uncertain and indeterminate amount," the petition recited.

Miller claims the cable company, which operates under a city franchise, follows practices which violate the U.S. Code.

$600 BAR ROBBERY Policeman Shot, Four Persons Pistol Whipped

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A policeman was disarmed and shot, another knocked unconscious and four persons pistol whipped in a Guymon, Okla., barroom robbery netting $600 at closing time early today.

Patrolman Eldon Lansdown, 28, a Guymon city policeman for about two years, underwent surgery for a bullet wound in his abdomen this morning at High Plains Baptist Hospital at Amarillo.

Guymon is 14 miles north of the Texas Panhandle border.

Guymon policeman who accompanied Lansdown to Amarillo said the bullet struck Lansdown's cartridge belt before it entered the abdomen. He said the bullet then traveled upward and lodged in the chest. It was not removed during surgery.

Officers said the pistol was a .377 Magnum frame with a .38 caliber barrel.

Don Cruzan, owner of the Spa night club on the east edge of Guymon, was in satisfactory condition at Guymon Memorial Hospital. He received head injuries.

Guymon, police Capt. Joe Ferguson, 45; Diane Watson, a barmaid; and Mrs. Katherine Cruzan, wife of the bar owner, were treated for head injuries in Guymon and released.

Two men were arrested about an hour later at a road block on Texas 15 at Spearman, about 45 miles southeast of Guymon.

WAVING GUN

Guymon Police Chief Duane Boren said Lansdown was shot at close range with his own service revolver as he attempted to rise from the barroom floor.

"Our men stumbled onto the robbery," Boren said. "A bystander or customer stopped Capt. Ferguson and reported seeing a man waving a gun inside the club."

"Ferguson saw a man coming out of the bar with a money box and captured him," Boren said. A second man came out of the bar and put a gun to Ferguson's head.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON (AP) — The list of secret contributors to President Nixon's re-election campaign was to be released today. Prompted by a lawsuit, Committee for the Re-election of the President is to reveal the sources of some $20 million given before April 7, 1972.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota said he is taking preliminary soundings for a possible 1976 presidential bid. Mondale admits he is not so well known as other possible candidates. So, he says, he'll have to make a decision on running sooner than the others.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 23 per cent reduction in American troop strength abroad has been approved by the Senate. The action came on a 48 to 36 vote Thursday night after an attempt to cut troops further failed the day before. President Nixon opposes the cuts, claiming they will hinder negotiations for mutual reductions with the Soviet Union.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy Secretary John R. Warner says even if two former Vietnam prisoners of war had been court-martialed and sentenced he would have thrown out any jail terms. Warner dismissed charges against Navy Capt. Walter E. Wilber and Marine Lt. Col. Edison W. Miller stemming from their time as POWs. Warner said the men had spent enough time in jail.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee tentatively approved a massive trade bill that would give President Nixon extensive power to make trade deals with Japan and Europe but put strings on commercial concessions to the Soviet Union. The bill would require Nixon to certify annually that the Soviets do not deny emigration to Jews and others or impose exorbitant exit fees.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Transportation Safety Board has ruled out sabotage as a factor in a Chicago airliner crash that killed 45 persons, including the wife of convicted Watergate defendant E. Howard Hunt. The board listed the probable cause as "the captain's failure to exercise positive flight management" during a landing approach.

Constructive Burr

Ralph Nader has been certified as a member in good standing of the American business community. The certification came from two qualified sources.

Edward B. Rust, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, startled a life insurance meeting in Chicago the other day. "Nader has been described in some quarters as 'an enemy of the system,' but I think we are forced to the conclusion that his commitment is to make the system work," Rust said.

Rust also cited the dedication of Nader and other consumer advocates to make the free enterprise system work "as it's supposed to — to make market-place realities of the very virtues the businessmen ascribe to the system."

The Wall Street Journal, required reading for any serious businessman, endorsed Rust's views on Nader and seconded the certification. The Journal called Rust's suggestion that the business community take a fresh look at Nader and "be prepared to hear him out on the merits of his arguments and complaint . . . good counsel to business."

Nader must be taken back to find himself being called a good buy by the president of the U.S. Chamber and the Journal. He is more accustomed to counterattacks from that quarter.

But it is a clear sign that Nader is getting over his basic point: Consumers often do have legitimate complaints and it is to the businessman's interest to listen and remedy those complaints.

Rust, also president of State-Farm Insurance, said business would be revitalized if every product carried a sticker with the company president's name and telephone number, in case of complaint.

"Those consumer complaint statistics that come up in orderly columns from the computers would suddenly come very much alive, bristling with humanity, and in a very short span of time, the corporation president would acquire a very sure sense of reality — as well as an unlisted phone number," he said.

Nader and his followers and other consumer groups are often shrill. Their proposed remedies are often too drastic. But, as Rust said, they are dedicated to the free-enterprise system and to making it work better. It would be enlightened self-interest to give them a reasonable hearing.

To Change An Image

Anti-American sentiment has swelled in recent weeks in Latin America, following the end of the Salvador Allende regime and his death by suicide. We should by now be accustomed to this hostility, but we aren't.

Not that anti-Americanism is not deserved to some degree. For we are so big and rich and powerful. No country in the Western Hemisphere, not even Canada, can escape American influence.

Then, of course, we have a bad reputation for interference in the affairs of those countries. The people cannot forget how the Panama Canal Zone was separated from Colombia, or U.S. armed intervention in Haiti, Cuba, Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic.

The people of Latin America believe that we helped destroy the Allende regime. Our Department of State has categorically denied any U.S. complicity in the takeover by a military junta. There is no evidence we were involved. Yet the memory is still fresh of International Telephone and Telegraph attempts to embarrass or topple the regime, so we reap the harvest.

Yankee "imperialism" isn't what it used to be, but the people of Latin America still remember it as it was. The best thing we can do about it is to cultivate patience in the hope that our example now and in the future will mitigate that hostility, and convert it into a measure of friendship.

Wonderful Instrument

Around The Rim

By Ann Stevens

A friend of mine recently called me at work to make a VIA (Very Important Announcement): her phone number.

To many people that would be no big deal, but for my friend and her family, it was the first phone number they had ever had. After almost 20 years of living in Big Spring, they decided to have a phone installed.

THE WHOLE family was ecstatic. They asked me to hang up and call them right back so that they could hear the new appliance ring. They said they now felt connected with the outside world.

Now that they have had the phone for about 10 days, I will use this column to warn the happy family of the responsibilities that accompany (unfortunately) the presence of a phone in the house.

Chief among these is answering the darn thing even when it wakes you up in the middle of the night, catches you in the bathtub, interrupts a television show at the height of suspense or manages to ring at some other inappropriate or embarrassing moment.

Of course, one always has the option of letting it keep ringing but nothing is more demanding than the ring-ringing of a telephone.

Also high on the list of responsibilities is paying the monthly bill complete with charges for long-distance calls. The minutes innocently add up when one is on the phone, and at long distance rates it can get distressing at the end of the month.

INSTALLATION OF A phone can eliminate the theretofore convenient excuse for not getting in touch with someone whom you really can't stand but have to act civil to. When they discover you have a phone, they will attempt to write the number from you or the operator and will begin to expect calls from you at regular intervals.

There's also the responsibility of being at home when someone expects you to be. A telephone call is an easy way for a boyfriend to check up on you!

I can think of two more things on the negative side of having a phone. Neither is a responsibility, though, but rather an irritation — wrong numbers and obscene phone calls.

As soon as your phone number appears in the directory, wrong number calls will start pouring in. Is Janie there? May I speak with Jim? When you've never heard of Janie or Jim, it can be annoying.

BUT NOT half as annoying as an obscene call. To pick up the receiver and hear heavy breathing or a drunken voice — well, it's not my cup of tea.

So, my friends, I say this not to be discouraging but to warn you not to put Alex G. Bell on a pedestal before you know what you're doing.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I guess I'm old-fashioned or something. I happen to believe that God made the races for a reason, and that there is no harm in keeping them separate. How can one love their neighbor as themselves, if that neighbor forces you out of your home.

J.B. I'll take your first comment as an opportunity to give you my appraisal of your attitude. Its designation is "prejudice." God won't appreciate your involving Him in any justification for making second-class citizens out of some races.

Evidently you subscribe to love of neighbor only if that neighbor first loves you. This is absolutely the reverse of what the Bible teaches. Jesus, you see, was a beautiful object lesson Himself in the matter of God's love reaching out to love even those who opposed Him. Try pondering the statement of 1 Peter 2:23 that "when reviled, He reviled not again." If He is our example, and He is, then your love of neighbor better not be based on the neighbor's treatment of you, else you're courting an attitude that will end in suspicion and hate.

Try the advice of Abraham Lincoln who once said, "The best way to get rid of an enemy is to make him a friend." The marvel of Christian love does just that.

I will not deny that in certain sociological community shifts, particularly regarding real estate, some people can get hurt. This is regrettable, but occasions of "hurt" are prime opportunities to reveal the "balm" of Christian compassion.

Hal Sums Up His Labors

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty years isn't much in the life of a mountain or a Methuselah, but it is quite a chunk out of the span of an ordinary man.

After three decades of doing anything, he is likely to want to pause for a deep breath, and review what he has accomplished.

That's the landmark peak — or is it a rutted ravine? — where I stand right now. I have been writing a newspaper column for 30 years this month.

Leaning upon my hoe for a moment in this rosey vineyard, I try to see what all this tilling has amounted to.

Judging it purely in terms of quantity, it isn't unimpressive. The more than 7,600 columns I have written in the last 30 years total almost four million words, slightly more than four times the life output of William Shakespeare.

I do not mean by this comparison to belittle the Bard. Touching might not have helped his style at all.

What I would rather ponder is what effect my four million words have had upon the human race. In sum, I am afraid, very little.

I haven't freed mankind noticeably of its ancient sins — war, greed, poverty and ingratitude — nor, on the other hand, have I been able to introduce mankind to a new form of innocent pleasure, particularly one that would cheer the lot of the middle-aged and the elderly.

Of course, this failure isn't altogether my fault. I can say with some justification that if mankind had simply heeded my advice, it would be in a helluva sight better shape than it is now. But who can get anybody's ear today with sound advice? Neither scolding columnists nor scolding parents. The public is but a vaster child.

In fairness to myself, however, I would like to point out a few of my achievements that have not been entirely overlooked. Did I not defend motherhood when others were blaming it for the population explosion? Was I not endlessly industrious in pointing out the continuing menace of poisonous snakes? When others were jeering women's liberation, was I not foremost in proclaiming the right of ladies to smoke cigars in public?

Brief be those withered laurels on my brow, I claim them as my own.

Although it is hard to catalogue what I accomplished in 30 years at the typewriter, it is much easier to list what those years did to me.

First, they robbed me of four-fifths of my hair and three-fourths of my teeth.

Second, they enlarged my hatred of ignorance, stupidity, falsehood and aimless malice.

Third, they eradicated my juvenile cynicism and replaced it with an abiding faith in the worth of most people.

Fourth, they flowered my heart with wonder at all the wounded and wonderful things that happen in this wonderful but wounded world.

All in all, writing a column for 30 years is pretty much like shoveling coal in hell: the most you can hope for is to make everybody feel just a little bit warmer.

Herculean Task

Marquis Childs

UNITED NATIONS — Whether debut or baptism by fire, the new Secretary of State, Henry A. Kissinger, has come through with eloquence and distinction. Making the abrupt transition from behind-the-scenes man to Secretary, he chose to plunge into this troubled sea of diplomacy, and that was probably wise since it gives him concentrated exposure to the kind of life he will lead from here on out.

GOING FROM round to round of foreign ministers and ambassadors he will get his initial lesson in patience and the art of listening. There is hardly a single nation that has not charred its foreign minister to get together for a private session with Kissinger at the earliest opportunity. Of necessity, with 135 members of the United Nations and others waiting on the doormat, he is having to take them in relays.

His initial address was notable for the way in which he sought to allay the charge that he has been a big-power diplomat bent on dividing the world into spheres of influence presided over by the rich have against the poor have-nots.

THE UNITED STATES, he said, has made its choice, going beyond bilateral diplomacy and pragmatic agreements to support an institutionalized peace encompassing, as he interjected, all nations, large and small.

His principal new initiative was to urge that the Assembly consider how the Security Council can play a more positive role in the conduct of peace keeping operations. The new secretary called for agreement on peace-keeping guidelines so that instead of improvising each time a crisis arises the Council can act swiftly and effectively to head off future crises.

THIS ACCORDS with the position taken in recent years by the Soviet Union. His reference to the Soviets were marked by the same realism that characterized his statements before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee during his confirmation hearings. It is the realism of one who has mastered the deep underlying currents of conflict and conciliation in world affairs.

THE ISSUE of most-favored nation for trade with the Soviets, on which they put top priority, is deeply wired in domestic politics. How this key to the continuing relationship with the other superpower can be severed from the swirling emotions aroused by the repressions and brutalities of the Soviet system is far from clear.

It was not only a unique figure, the first foreign-born Secretary of State in America's history, but a lone figure who stood before the assembled delegates of an organization torn by fierce conflicts. In a sense Kissinger is on his own, relying on necessity on his efforts to shape foreign policy and bring the sprawling apparatus of the State Department into full play.

With the Nixon Administration in tragic disarray — both the President and the vice president under accusation in connection with serious charges — the Secretary of State can expect little help from his superiors.

He indicated in his U.N. speech that the United States was ready to undertake a new initiative in the troubled Middle East, urging the principals to come together in a spirit of accommodation.

HE KNOWS how difficult — perhaps impossible — this will be. If he can pull it off, that one act will be enough to stamp his Secretaryship with success. As his Chinese friends have told him during his visit to Peking, the past is the past.

A Step—Broken Vessel

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Stepping from the curb down to the street I had a sudden feeling of something inside my left leg breaking. This was followed by soreness from knee to ankle, making it painful to walk, and by swelling and purple discoloration at the ankle.

At the hospital emergency section it was diagnosed as a broken blood vessel. Since I am 59 and live alone and have no doctor, can you tell me if I must expect more of this to happen? Is there anything I can do to reduce chances of it happening again? — P.H.

Your description comes close to being a classical description of the snapping or tearing of a muscle, followed by some bleeding that caused the discoloration.

The diagnosis of "broken blood vessel" was correct enough, in that there was bleeding — but what caused the bleeding? probably the torn muscle!

Ordinarily a muscle tear is an isolated event and does not tend to increase with age. In fact, this type of injury can occur at any age — when someone is playing tennis, badminton or whatnot. It is a result of physical activity — some sudden strain being imposed on some muscle. In your case, some muscle in the calf was put under strain when you stepped off the curb.

The incident does NOT mean that you should expect breakage of blood vessels related to such organs as heart or brain.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I was interested in your reply to Mrs. G.R.S. about arthritis and rheumatism — that there was no difference. Will you kindly suggest treatment for this miserable ailment? Would physical therapy be of any value? — J.B.W.

Physical therapy has its value in some cases. Actually there are many varieties of arthritis — more kinds than you might suppose. I suggest that you send 35 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for my booklet, "How You Can Control Arthritis," which will explain to you the differing causes (and hence differing treatments) for various types of arthritis.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the difference between a man being impotent and sterile? — Mrs. S.Z.

An impotent man cannot carry on sexual relations — cannot have or sustain an erection. "Sterile" means that, although he may be able to have sexual relations, he is unable to have children. Men who have had vasectomies are "sterile" but not "impotent."

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's newly revised booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dear Editor:

On Monday, Sept. 24th, my husband and I, and several other tax payers, attended a meeting of the Big Spring school board, called especially for the purpose of allowing interested persons a syllogistic "voice" concerning the closing of Gay Hill school. From an educational standpoint, I definitely was enlightened. I now have a greater insight of Aristocracy. In making that statement, I suddenly find myself remembering the great Philosopher, Plato, who concluded that one does not gain knowledge, but only opinion. He was so right in his statement "nothing is ever really permanent". Well, so much for philosophy.

It seems the school board, in performing their duties, are faced with immensely difficult tasks, school enrollment and pupil distribution, being one. It would appear that the board is sufficiently informed, prior to school opening, as to approximately how many students will be enrolling, and they could evenly distribute students to the various schools accordingly, thereby, preventing too many or too few students in any one school. For some time, I have had the misconception that the Big Spring elementary schools were overcrowded and that there was definitely a shortage of school facilities. It was disclosed at the meeting, however, that this isn't the case at all. In fact, we have an over abundance of schools. Obviously, someone, somewhere along the line, who is on the school planning committee must have made a faux pas! As a result, one of the schools has to be closed. Naturally, Gay Hill, having the least enrollment was selected.

It might interest the public to know that Gay Hill district alone, pays $500,000.00, a year in School taxes, which amounts to about 20 per cent of the taxes paid by the entire Big Spring School District. Also, it might be of interest for the public to know that any suggestions or solutions made by us, at the meeting were heard but, shall we say, disregarded. Quite frankly, the meeting appeared to be nothing more than a farce, as the decision to close the school had been made earlier, apparently, with no compunction whatsoever, and our syllogism or "voice" had no effect at all.

In closing, I would recommend any taxpayer, who has never attended a school board meeting, go, ascertain where your taxes are being spent. I'd be willing to wager that air-conditioning for the schools will be voted in shortly! I would also like to challenge any taxpayer to try to rescind any decision they don't approve that the school board makes.

Finally, I wish to direct a few comments to the school board. If you, the members, detect a note of cynicism in this letter, you are right. We were fighting more for the principle involved than for keeping the school open. Your lack of discernment and diplomacy in this matter is certainly questionable. We have been prepared for some time for you to make this decision, but with adequate notice. Had you used more tact and better timing (not wait a month after school started) you could have spared yourselves the harsh criticism which seems inevitable now. At this point, I want to commend Mr. Poss and Mr. McGlaughlin for recognizing this fact. We sincerely appreciate your concern.

Thank you, Mrs. Robert Wegner Jr. Gail Route Box 192

RECRUITS WOMEN People In The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nola Smith says any woman seeking a job in government should write to her, in care of the White House.

Mrs. Smith, a Texan, is President Nixon's new recruiter for women executives in government. She says the White House talent bank could use more female names.

Mrs. Smith says there are usually several men and few women proposed for every presidential appointment. She says that creates a situation in which the percentages work against women.

In addition to seeking more applicants, Mrs. Smith says she plans to speak to men who do government hiring and see to it that they begin hiring more women.

Meanwhile, if you're female and want a government job, Mrs. Smith says to "write directly to me at the White House, preferably with experience resumes."

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Empress Farah's campaign to aid the victims of floods in Pakistan has brought several million dollars in goods and cash. Her most recent contribution was a wristwatch she donated to an auction.

The watch sold for $150,000. A pipe donated by Prime Minister Amir Abass Hoveida went for $7,777.

Award Dogs $9 Million

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Seventy-three dogs with a total adjudged value of $1 have been awarded $9 million — about $123,287 each — from a $14 million estate.

When Eleanor Ritchey, the Quaker State Refining Corp. heiress, died in 1968 at the age of 58 she left her entire estate, then worth $4.5 million, to 150 dogs.

The dogs, both stray and pedigreed, had been cared for by Miss Ritchey at her ranch northwest of Fort Lauderdale.

Two half-sisters and a half-brother challenged the will in court, saying they should get some of the estate.

During the intervening years, the estate, consisting mostly of Quaker State stock, grew in value and more than half the dogs died.

Thursday, Broward County Circuit Judge Leroy Moe ended the five years of legal arguments by giving $9 million to a trust fund for the dogs and $2 million to be divided among the half-sisters and half-brother, all of whom are from Pennsylvania.

The rest of the estate went for taxes and attorney's and executor's fees.

File New Charges In Slaying Case

ODESSA — Clues gathered from an informant Saturday led to the charging of a third suspect Thursday in the beating of an Odessa man who died two weeks ago from injuries suffered Aug. 4.

Raymond Toby Burns, 18, is in custody at Ector County Jail after being arrested Wednesday. Peace Justice J. A. Purifoy set bond at $50,000 on the charge of accessory to murder.

Arrested Saturday on charges of murder with malice in the fatal beating of G. W. McDonald, 57, were Roy Dean Owens, 24, and James Paul Burns, 20, brother of the younger Burns. Bond was denied to the older Burns and Owens.

McDonald was found nude in a caliche pit west of Odessa on the morning of Aug. 4. He died in a local hospital Sept. 16 of complications from a head injury sustained in the beating.

Cruel To Dog

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our neighbors just returned from a two-week vacation and I hope they had a good time because now I need one.

They left their dog CHAINED in the front yard! Another neighbor agreed to feed him daily, which was the only time the dog was quiet. The rest of the time he barked.

The first night, my husband got up at 4 a.m. to ask the owners to please take the dog inside, only to find there was no one home! The next day we found out the dog owners would be gone for two weeks! We nearly flipped.

Abby, if they couldn't find someone to keep the dog, they should have put it in a kennel.

They are home now, thank heavens, but what do you think of people who would keep the whole neighborhood with a barking dog for TWO WEEKS?

NERVES ON END
DEAR NERVES: What happened to you shouldn't happen to a dog. And what happened to that dog shouldn't happen to a dog, either. You should have immediately notified your local humane society.

DEAR ABBY: I was disappointed in your reply to the girl who resented having a male physician give her a breast and pelvic examination. She said she wanted to remain chaste for her husband. You said an examination of that kind would in no way violate her chastity.

I disagree with you. I am no prude, but I place a high value on the privacy of my body, and I do not care to share it with anyone other than the man I marry. A male physician is no different from any other man, and I wonder how many husbands would allow their wives to go to a male gynecologist if they knew how intimately their wives would be touched and examined.

I have heard the argument that male doctors see hundreds of female patients a month, so a woman doesn't have to feel ashamed, but since when does frequency alone justify an action?

There is only one female physician in Terre Haute, and I go to her for my annual physical. I feel strongly that we women have a right to protect our intimacy, and should not be treated like children by male physicians.

DEAR P.J.: It is indeed your right to select a female physician if you wish, but a male gynecologist has about as much erotic feeling while examining female patients as an electrician has when he's looking for a loose connection.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Facilities At Base Detailed

Base Exchange facilities at Webb Air Force Base were discussed Tuesday by Bruce Colosimo, manager, and Robert Grimm, assistant manager, guest speakers for Non-Commissioned Officers' Wives Club.

Colosimo said the exchange is a money-making facility, and, in this respect differs from the base commissary. However, he said most of the profits come back to the base in non-appropriated welfare funds used for various recreational and entertainment purposes.

The speakers told about expanded services to be incorporated. More sewing notions and sewing machines will soon be available at the exchange. Also, a less-expensive brand of clothing will be offered than has been in the past.

Grimm told about the "Extra Dividend Program" which offers certain items on a one-week special at a mark-down of 15 to 50 per cent. The exchange will also begin using mail advertising.

Mrs. Shirley Twing was a guest. The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 9 at the NCO Club. All members are asked to bring scraps of cotton print material to be given to Big Spring State Hospital for use in handicraft and therapy projects.

Newsprint And You

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

You, the Texas newspaper reader, may not be aware of it but you probably are reading a somewhat streamlined news paper these days.

Depending on which news papers you read, you might find after diligent research that a comic strip you never read anyway is missing.

One may be a feature you skipped daily.

NOBODY NOTICED

Stories are slightly shorter. It is a newspaper proverb that you can't drop a comic strip because the editor will be assailed by irate readers.

That proverb has just been proven untrue. Joe Salzman of the Midland Reporter-Telegram reports his paper dropped four comics and nobody noticed.

At the Houston Chronicle, Managing Editor Don Pickles said the changes taking place there and elsewhere are called "purification" by the staff—meaning refining of the material published. Some news executives are coming to believe such reassessment should be done on a regular basis to make papers more readable.

But that isn't the cause of the current changes, really.

BOOM LOOMS

The reason is a worldwide shortage of newsprint.

A survey of a representative number of Texas newspapers by The Associated Press shows that a good many of the publications have no shortage of paper.

Frank Kelly, managing editor of the Denton Record-Chronicle, for instance, reports his paper is printing more pages than ever before. Tom Beard, managing editor of the Temple Telegram, says his newspaper hasn't been affected at all.

But most of those with sufficient supplies for the moment are conserving their stock for the day when they, too, may not have all they need. William Donnell, news director of the Wichita Falls Record-News and Times, says his company is conserving paper for what looks like a boom ahead in his city.

PAINFUL PINCH

Several others surveyed were in a moderate to painful pinch.

Said one executive: "If you find out the name of a newsprint bootlegger, call me at once." The industry has had them in times of tight supply before—men who have a mysterious source which will provide paper for a high price.

Harry Provence, editor in chief of the Waco Times-Herald and News-Tribune, said "We've got 10 to 15 carloads that were supposed to be delivered and nobody knows where they are."

The Vernon Record, said Managing Editor Orlin Brewer, was in desperate shape when a paper shipment the Record was depending on was postponed. Scourgin turned up a temporary supply and the firm is almost back to normal.

NO BOX SCORES

Here are some other methods being used to conserve paper:

Industrial Group Opening Seminar

A training seminar for members of this year's Industrial Team of the Chamber of Commerce will begin at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Chamber office and continue once a week for six to eight weeks. Instruction on how to handle industrial prospects will be led by an employee of the Fort Worth area development office of Texas Electric Service Co.

Sailing Class Is Scheduled

A class in small craft sailing will begin at the YMCA Monday taught by Denise Curtis.

To enroll, a person must be at least 16 years old and must be able to swim 50 yards and tread water for five minutes.

The first class session is 7-9 p.m. Monday with successive classes 1-3 p.m. Saturdays Oct. 6, 13, 20 and 27. Fee is $12 for Y members and $16 for non-members. Equipment will be furnished.

Some have a new policy of no returns by newsstands, meaning the stands must estimate sales closer. Many are keeping a closer watch on how many papers a vending machine will use. Donnell at Wichita Falls said these measures alone save 1,800 newspapers from being wasted daily there.

The Vernon Record eliminated the editorials and picture pages. Some others are considering this.

Publisher Richard F. Brown of the Austin American-Statesman announced the dropping of all stock market lists. The Midland Reporter-Telegram eliminated the Sunday stock lists.

The Reporter-Telegram reduced the amusement sections to two a week.

The San Antonio Express and News eliminated box scores. Publisher Charles O. Kilpatrick reports.

Charles E. Gentry, president and general manager of the Ennis News, said his paper has dropped five weekly neighborhood inserts.

The Houston Post reduced the page size by one inch, saving two per cent in paper. discontinued sample distribution to help sell subscriptions, and has reduced the number of promotion advertisements, reports M. B. Womack, executive vice president and general manager.

Bill Salter of the Kerrville

Times says, "We can't live on what we had last year," because of a 25 per cent increase in advertising and circulation. The Times prints four other papers. The Times changed classified ads from type like that used in news stories to agate—the size of baseball box scores. It saves a page a day.

All newspapers are watching waste closely and most have prepared contingency plans to be put into effect if the shortage becomes drastic.

The shortage is caused by a number of things in addition to increased advertising and circulation.

The real trouble is in Canada where strikes in paper plants and on railroads have dislocated the flow of newsprint badly.

NEW PLANS

The Texas survey shows that the state's dailies may have a better supply condition than those in other areas because they use a great deal of newsprint manufactured in the South.

Yet most large newspapers depend on more than one source, meaning they have been hurt by the problems in Canada.

Looked forward to is the opening of a new plant next year by the Southland Paper Co. which has headquarters in Lufkin. That will increase the supply by 200,000 tons annually.

Adult Class Draws Well

Between 60 and 70 enrolled Thursday for adult education courses to be offered by the Big Spring Independent School District beginning Tuesday.

The GED (equivalency of a high school diploma) preparation course being offered for the first time this fall was the most popular in Thursday's registration, according to Loyce Phillips, program counselor.

Second most popular, she said, was the learning the language class in English in which many wives of Webb foreign students enroll.

Classes will meet 7-10 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday starting next week and lasting through May. Students may enroll at Tuesday's session or may join the program at any time during the school year.

Classes meet at Runnels Junior High.

Klondike Plans On Homecoming

Homecoming for Klondike, and the schools which have consolidated with it, will be held Oct. 5 in the cafeteria after the Klondike and Witharrel football game.

This includes students in the former Union, Sparneburg, and Flower Grove districts.

Game time is 7:30 p.m., and the after-game reception will be in the school cafeteria for ex-students and former teachers. The class of '47 will be honored. There will be prizes and refreshments.

Choir Boosters

BEWARE DEADLY FUMES FROM IMPROPERLY VENTED HEATERS

Crisp weather Thursday and Friday brought a reminder from health authorities that the time for double caution against carbon monoxide is at hand.

Cooler weather, and then the first frost which is only little more than a month away, sends families rushing to turn on heating systems or stoves. Many times these have clogged and are improperly ventilated. Often, too, those with open space heaters fail to provide for admitting sufficient outside air — an open invitation to carbon monoxide fumes.

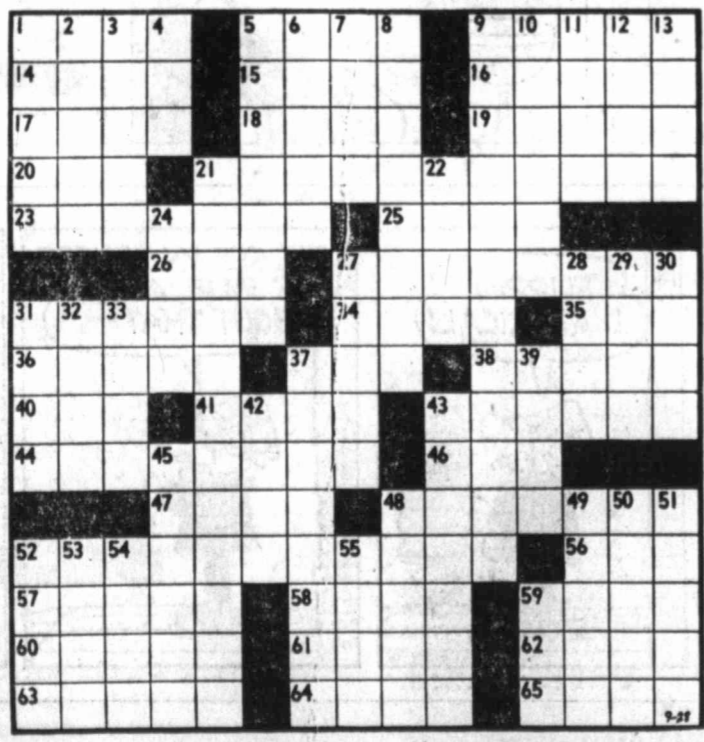

Thus, those who use gas heat in one form or another are urged to check now to make certain the heating system will function properly, and above all else will be ventilated adequately. Last year, two lives were lost here due to the carbon monoxide gas, and several other lives have been lost over the years.

Evangelist Set At City Auditorium; Teen Challenge Head Due At Evangel

By MARJ CARPENTER
Among the upcoming events for local churches and religious groups will be an appearance at the City Auditorium, Monday, Oct. 8 of Jack Taylor, well known evangelist and an appearance at Evangel Temple Assembly of God starting next Wednesday, Oct. 3 of former teen-challenge director, Dale Franks.

FORMER DALLAS TEEN-CHALLENGE Director Dale Franks will conduct special services October 3-14 at Evangel Temple Assembly of God, 2205 Goliad, Big Spring, at 7:30 a.m. nightly. Services begin Wednesday, Oct. 3 with a special musical program by the Rev. Franks.

Music has always been an integral part of Evangelist Franks ministry. He has traveled throughout the United States in concerts and services, making stage, radio and television appearances. His album, "Had It Not Been," has been recently released by Ascending Sounds Records.

As Master of Ceremonies of the program, "Inspirational Nightings," broadcast each evening on a Houston, Texas radio station, Mr. Franks hosted many personalities well known to the Gospel music field. He is currently co-host of the syndicated radio program, "The Sounds of the Gospel."

"Old as well as young will be moved by Evangelist Franks presentation of the Gospel in preaching," commented Pastor Calvin, Evangel Temple pastor. "It is our hope that many Big Spring youth will give Rev. Franks a listen" during these services," he said.

"All of Big Spring are warmly invited to attend these special services October 3-14, 7:30 p.m. nightly with no services scheduled for Saturdays during the revival," according to Pastor Calvin.

THE SOLID ROCK is sponsoring the appearance here Monday week of Jack Taylor.

Currently pastor of Castle Hills Baptist Church in San Antonio, he is a well known evangelist having served as a youth evangelism worker in three states from 1950-53, served at the New Hope Baptist Church in Ranger until 1957 and has been in San Antonio ever since. He has authored "Key to Triumphant Living" and "Much More." He also serves as the past moderator of the San Antonio Baptist Association.

MISS ARLA J. ELSTON, associate minister of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Texas, will leave the Fort Worth CCT office Oct. 15 to become national director for campus ministry of the Christian Church's Board of Higher Education.

As associate minister since February 1969, she has had major duties in the field of church wide leader development, has worked with the Christian Women's Fellowship and has served as liaison to ministries in higher education in Texas.

Miss Elston will be based in St. Louis and will divide her time — spending half in the Board of Higher Education office and half as regional secretary of the 10-denomination United Ministries in Higher Education.

THIS YEAR when the General Assembly of the Texas Catholic Conference convened in the Driskill Hotel on September 24, 1973, the statewide organization of the Catholic Church in Texas was 10 years old. In 1963 Archbishop Robert E. Lucey of San Antonio convened a special meeting of bishops of the other six dioceses while they were in Rome during the Second Vatican Council. The bishops voted unanimously to bring into existence an organization which would enable them to cooperate on matters of statewide concern and to develop a system for sharing ideas and programs. Shortly thereafter Mr. Callan Graham was hired as the first executive director. He continued in that post until January first of 1973, when he was succeeded by Rev. John McCarthy, a priest of the diocese of Galveston-Houston.

THE REV. EARL PRICE, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, is attending the Synod Meeting in New Orleans this week as one of the elected delegates of the Tres Rios Presbytery.

While he is gone Sunday, Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, retired minister who was a pastor of the local church over 20 years, will preach on "Alert in Crisis."

At New Orleans, Robert W. Bass of San Antonio was elected moderator of the Synod of Red River. The group faced many problems including a move by dissident members of the Paris, Tex. church to maintain possession of the church's property. The governing body of Presbyterian churches in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana attempted to block the movement Wednesday.

RELIGIOUS PINCHHITTER — Grace Piering, a Milwaukee Lutheran, looks through a list of volunteers in a program she originated to make it easier of the Jewish faith to attend their High Holiday observances. The group works from Rosh Hashanah, Sept. 26 to Yom Kippur, Oct. 6.

Hebrew Holy Days Now In Progress

Rosh Hashanah, New Year's Day in the Jewish calendar began observance Wednesday night initiating the High Holy Days, Season, in celebration of the ten most solemn days of the Jewish calendar.

The period, known as the Days of Repentance, will culminate in Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement on Oct. 6.

The two special days, as well as the days in between, are represented in Jewish tradition as a unit, known also as the Days of Awe, a period dedicated to a spiritual regeneration and religious rehabilitation, according to Dr. Josef Zeitin, rabbi of Temple Beth El in Odessa.

The rabbi continued, "Unlike many special observances, this period is not concerned with the bounty of nature or with great historical events. Since early times, the holiday has been regarded as a day of reflection and repentance, essentially concerned with the individual and his ideal way on earth. The period is characterized by a special solemnity and reflection. The New Year is greeted not with gaiety but with solemn prayer."

"Traditionally, Rosh Hashanah marks the creation of the world. Adam, the first man was created on New Year's Day. Thus, the festival is not only the birthday of the world but also of humanity.

"By Biblical counting, the New Year beginning Wednesday night, will be the year 5,734 Anno Mundi. Temple Beth El in Odessa, serving members in Big Spring, Odessa, Midland, Crane and Fort Stockton held special services this week.

Yom Kippur, the final day of the observance will be a day of prayer, strict fasting and atonement, according to Dr. Zeitin.

Pastor To Arrive At Kentwood, Garden City

The Rev. Fred Witt will arrive Monday to be the new pastor at both the Kentwood

United Methodist Church and the Garden City church.

He will preach each Sunday at 9 a.m. at the church. The Rev. Wayne Parmenter, presently serving the church even though retired, will preach this Sunday. He stated "We are delighted to obtain the services of this fine pastor both to the church and to the community."

The Rev. Witt was born in Wharton and grew up in San Antonio and graduates from Breckenridge High and entered the Army, continuing his studies at the University of Georgia, George Washington University and the University of Maryland.

He served in the infantry and the MPs and was a veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict. He retired in 1965 as a lieutenant Colonel.

The Witts have a stepson, two sons and a daughter, who are all married with children of their own.

He was licensed to preach in 1965, ordained deacon in 1971 and in 1973 completed all required courses of study and was made an ordained lay pastor of the United Methodist Church.

While stationed in Germany in 1960, he was awarded a citation by the General Commission on Christian and Armed Forces Personnel for being the outstanding layman of the Hanan Command Area.

After his retirement from the service, he was pastor of the Lutheran and Sutherland Springs Church and Associate Pastor of St. Pauls United Methodist Church in Bryan and pastor of the Newton County Parish, United Methodist Church in Jasper, Ark.

Church Meet Set

COLLEGE STATION — "Issues of Today and Tomorrow" is the over-all theme for the 28th annual Town and Country Church Conference Oct. 11-12 at Texas A&M University.

The 4-3-2-1 point count was introduced by Bryant McCampbell in 1915 and publicized by Milton Work in his many writings. However, it was used almost only for no trump bidding. It was not until a Toronto actuary, William Anderson, developed the distributional count in the '40s that point count swept the bridge world. Besides his fascination with the mathematical aspects of bridge, Anderson was an accomplished player. He held the West cards on today's hand, and opened the auction with one spade. North felt his hand was too good simply to overcall two hearts, so he doubled first for takeout and then bid his suit over his partner's jump response. When South persisted with his own suit, North felt his prime controls and moderate trump support warranted a raise to game, and Anderson doubled.

The queen of spades was led and won in dummy. Declarer had to obtain some club ruffs if he was going to have any play for his contract, so at trick two he led a club from the table. Since West was almost certain to have the ace of clubs, declarer played low on this trick, West's ten winning.

Anderson found the only return to defeat the contract—the king of diamonds! Declarer won with the ace and ruffed one club in dummy with the trump queen, but in doing so he set up the jack of diamonds as a trick for the defenders. South was lucky to escape for down one when the ace of clubs came down on the third lead of the suit, setting up the king as a trick.

Had West returned any card other than the king of diamonds at trick three, declarer would have had an easy road to 11 tricks. Assume West continues with spades. Declarer ruffs two clubs in dummy, setting up his king when the ace appears on the third round of the suit, and loses only one trump trick. Alternatively, if West returns the jack of diamonds, dummy's queen wins and the defenders' trump trick disappears—they will get another club trick but no more.

BRISCOE'S THE MAN IN MIDDLE

Child Care Controversy

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe was the man in the middle today in the child care controversy.

TexPIRG, the Texas Public Interest Research Group, wants him to call a special statewide conference on the problems of troubled youngsters.

Rep. Carlos Truan, chairman of the House Human Resources Committee, repeated his call for a special session Thursday and said the state's child care problems are insoluble without leadership from the governor.

Robert Provan, director of TexPIRG's Juvenile Justice Task Force, also criticized absentee members of Truan's committee, which canceled its fourth day of hearings Thursday when only three showed up.

DISGRACEFUL
"I consider it to be disgraceful that the committee had to cancel its hearings because of poor attendance by its members," Provan said at a news conference.

Most committee members have attended at least one of the hearings but five didn't show up at all and offered no excuses: Reps. Frank Calhoun, D-Ahlene; Dean Cobb, D-Dumas;

Ed Howard, D-Texarkana; Mickey Leland, D-Houston; and Tim Von Dohlen, D-Goliad. Vice-chairman Phil Cates, D-Pampa, said he was unable to leave his job, and Rep. Ben Reyes, D-Houston, said he had a sick wife and child.

Several hours after adjourning the hearings, Truan released a set of 11 recommendations to the governor and the administrators of the Texas Youth Council, Department of Public Welfare, Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, Office of Early Childhood Development and Commission on Services to Children and Youth.

LAWS NEEDED
"No new laws are needed to follow through on these recommendations and they can be carried out within current appropriations," he said.

Truan placed a heavy burden on Briscoe in his proposals. "We trust that Gov. Briscoe will provide the bold and dynamic leadership needed to bring Texas into the top rank of the states in child care. Without that kind of leadership from the governor, these interim recommendations will, we fear, wind up in File 13, our final report will be for naught and there will be little hope for new and progressive legislation," Truan said.

Briscoe has refused to call a special session on the matter. TexPIRG and Truan both said a major part of the problem is at the local level, where judges make decisions whether to send youths to reform school or commit them to mental hospitals.

"We haven't provided the tools and resources they need. The result is abuse," said Provan.

Truan called for an immediate educational program for local officials, including judges and juvenile probation officers, "to make them fully aware of existing alternatives to institutionalization of children."

He said the Commission on Services to Children and Youth should sponsor a conference by Oct. 15 of all state agencies involved with child care. The commission, Truan said, has authority to provide "a much greater degree of coordination between agencies in the child care field than is actually taking place."
