Washington Capsule

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democratic party drafting committee voted to require that the proportionate strength of each major candidate be represented at all levels of the 1976 presidential nominating process. The 9-4 decision was the first major one by the committee drafting rules to replace the controversial 1972 reforms.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency reported that public health and welfare are threatened by uncontrolled discharges of hazardous waste materials into the environment. It urged passage of legislation setting up federal regulation over the disposal of hazardous wastes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and West German Chancellor Willy Brandt met to discuss ways of firming up the Atlantic Alliance. But the only thing they reportedly agreed on was that transatlantic discussions must continue.

WASHINGTON (AP) — W. A. "Tony" Boyle remained in serious condition at George Washington University Medical Center. The 71-year-old former president of the United Mine Workers Union, who attempted suicide, "still suffers from anemia and has a rapid, irregular heart beat," his doctor said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois, a potential seeker of the 1976 Republican presidential nomination, met for nearly an hour with President Nixon. A White House spokesman said he could give no details of the meeting.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., urged black political leaders to join broader coalitions and focus on economic, rather than purely racial issues. He told a fund-raising dinner for the Congressional Black Caucus that the civil rights movement of the past decade has run its course and new tactics are needed to continue the progress that has been made.

Reviewing the . . . Big Spring Week . . . with Joe Pickle

The city's second quarter sales tax check came from the state comptroller during the week, and the $124,614 was second only to the $129,298 for the first quarter (or on business done in the last quarter of 1972). The 15.5 per cent gain over the corresponding quarter a year ago was attributed by officials to inflation, but the margin of gain is above the inflation factor, so the sales volume must be up.

You will find in today's Herald a roundup of crop conditions in this immediate area. Prospects are excellent for a 400,000-bale yield in the five-county area, and at today's record prices, that means a lot of money will be rolling in this autumn.

Our area escaped the punishing rains which hit South Texas because west winds blew out most moisture before a sharp cold front moved in. Lakesheds could have used the downpour, but farmers didn't need it and were better off without it. They also could have gotten along without the 43-degree temperature Friday. Makes you wonder if we won't have an earlier frost this year. Many farmers wouldn't care; early cotton is beginning (See THE WEEK, Page 2-A, Col. 1)

UNITED WAY RANKING CITED

The Howard County United Way made the leader's list on the latest tabulation from state headquarters for United Fund drives.

With a 31 per cent effort at the time of the report (Sept. 25), the Howard County United Way ranked fifth in percentages for the state.

However, the drive now is only 40 per cent toward the $117,000 goal, and J. D. Nelson, campaign chairman, Saturday urged division workers to urge team captains and workers to push hard this week. Only two more weeks remain in the originally scheduled campaign period, and personal contacts can't be put off any longer, he added.

Ride Ends With Pistol At His Head

Larry Sanders, 28, 702 W. 17th St., told police a ride with four young Big Spring men ended at the rodeo grounds around 3:30 a.m. Saturday with a pistol pointed at his head.

Deputy Sheriff Richard Doane and Guy Talbot, special investigator for the district attorney, arrested four suspects less than an hour later near the Ninth and Creighton Street intersection. Doane and Talbot stopped a parked car, a spokesman said.

When details about the incident were announced over police radios, Doane and Talbot arrested the four, a law enforcement officer said. Police arrived later.

Stolen property was recovered, police said, and a gun found in the back seat of the suspect's automobile.

Sanders identified a gold railroad pocket watch, cigarette lighter, wedding band and Big Spring High School senior ring. Two one dollar bills were reported taken and two one dollar bills recovered.

Sanders, stranded because of a tire blow-out, said he was walking to a pay phone. The automobile with four men inside stopped, and he was offered a ride, he said.

From near the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. building on U.S. 80, the four took Sanders to the rodeo grounds, Sanders said.

After being robbed, Sanders said he went to a nearby convenience store to phone police.

The four men, from 17 to 21 years of age, were released from jail on $3,000 bonds set by Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena Jr.

Criminal complaints charging the suspects with armed robbery are expected to be filed Monday.

HI-LOOKIE! BINGO TIME

"Hi-lookie! Hi-lookie! Hurry! Hurry! Hurry!" That's what the carnival barker might say — but it's equally applicable for the Newspaper Bingo contest appearing in The Herald.

Only two more weeks remain for you to get a share of the prize — which, this week — will be $100. If no one turns in a winning number, then the pot will go to $150.

So turn in your cards by Monday 5 p.m. at The Herald if you had a winner for last week. But be sure and get your free Bingo cards from the two-score cooperating merchants this week. You've got only two chances more. Hurry! Hurry!

EIGHT PASSENGERS, CREW OF THREE MISSING Plane Hunt Called Off

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A full-scale air and ground search for a missing Texas International airliner failed to disclose the plight of the jet Saturday.

Airline officials said the full-scale search was called off late Saturday until dawn Sunday except for any Army plane equipped with infrared search devices for use after dark.

The hunt spread from south Arkansas into Texas, Oklahoma and northwest Louisiana earlier Saturday.

About 50 aircraft and more than 450 persons assisted in the search for the Convair turbo-prop jet which is believed to have crashed in a storm near here Thursday night on a flight from El Dorado to Texarkana. The plane had eight passengers and three crew members on board.

A spokesman for the Civil Air Patrol said the Arkansas CAP would search in a line from Magnolia to Texarkana and on to Little Rock, while Texas CAP personnel would scour an area from Hot Springs, Ark., into Texas.

Privately owned planes, Civil Air Patrol planes and helicopters from the National Guard cooperated in the air search. U.S. Army personnel led an extensive ground search near Nashville, Ark.

Three searchers in a National Guard helicopter were killed Friday when their chopper crashed in a fog bank near the search area.

Lt. Col. Charles McKinnon, coordinator of the CAP effort, said Saturday the search was being expanded to the northwest "since that is the next likely place" the plane might have traveled.

He said about 45 planes were in the air for 100 hours flying 115 sorties Friday in a futile attempt to locate the missing plane.

McKinnon said the search ended at dark except for an Army Mohawk OVI observation and surveillance plane equipped with infrared search equipment.

The National Guard had dispatched two helicopters from Little Rock to aid in the search Friday. One of them crashed after flying into a fog bank near Prescott, 100 miles north of their base and 25 miles north of the original search area.

State police found the bodies of the three crewmen in the wreckage six miles north of Prescott. The National Guard identified the helicopter casualties as Capt. John Larry Bearden, 33, the pilot; Capt. William Robert West, 31, the copilot, and Spec. 6 David Murle Webb, 31, the crew chief, all of the Little Rock area.

Will Not Quit Even If Indicted, Agnew Says

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew angrily accused the Justice Department Saturday of trying to get him as a "big trophy" to make up for bungling the Watergate investigation, and declared he would not resign even if indicted.

Speaking to a cheering, applauding crowd at the National Federation of Republican Women convention, Agnew charged he had been framed by persons in Maryland who he claimed were seeking to avoid prosecution and he declared:

I AM INNOCENT

"I am innocent of the charges against me . . . I have not used my office, nor abused my public trust, as county executive, as governor, or as vice president to enrich myself at the expense of my fellow Americans."

"I intend to stay and fight," even if indicted, he said.

Agnew made his strongest comments in off-the-cuff remarks after delivering a prepared text. He was making his first formal public appearance since recent allegations about the investigation of him for alleged political kickbacks and corruption in Maryland.

He called the charges against him a frameup resulting from a refusal to use his office of vice president to halt a federal investigation of others in Maryland.

The vice president also renewed a public attack on "high officials" of the Justice Department, accusing them of being the source of news media leaks which have detailed the alleged charges against him.

He termed the leaks "contrived actions" of the officials and said he would try to have them put under oath to deny that they were the source of the reports. Agnew said if their denials do not stand up, he will ask President Nixon to fire them.

Agnew said the leaks had subverted the system of justice, and had caused great harm to him.

"I've been living in purgatory," he said. "I have found myself the recipient of undefined, unclear, unattributed accusations."

Agnew did not name any of the persons he said were responsible for the frameup or for the leaks.

The World At-A-Glance

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's new Soyuz 12 manned spaceship returned to earth after successful test flight of the space craft designed to take part in the joint American-Soviet flight in 1975. The two cosmonauts were safe and well following the first Soviet space flight since three men died in a 1971 flight.

ATHENS (AP) — Ten ministers, all former military men, resigned from the Greek government to make way for a new civilian cabinet expected to be named on or around Oct. 10. Together with three who resigned Friday, those leaving the government included the closest advisers of President George Papadopoulos.

NAIROBI (AP) — The world's top financial experts, putting off reform of the world monetary system for another year, agreed that a sounder dollar is a key factor for the reform. And for the first time in some years they showed faith in the dollar's future.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The military junta is firing all university heads and plans to replace them with people of its own choosing. The government leaders, in invading the traditionally autonomous university system, said the universities under their present leadership have become "a focus of Marxist teaching."

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Fighting continued along the Cambodian capital's southern defense line, and the government reported its forces had pulled out of Dei Kraham about 10 miles southwest of the city.

Terrorists Land At Base Near Tripoli

By The Associated Press

Two Arab terrorists who extorted a pledge to close an Austrian center for emigrating Soviet Jews flew to Libya on Saturday after an erratic flight around the Mediterranean.

Arab sources said the terrorists' kidnapping of three Soviet Jews and a border guard in Austria on Friday was the first step in a campaign to stop the emigration of Soviet Jews to Israel.

The Israeli Cabinet met in emergency session in Jerusalem to consider Austria's pledge to shut down the emigrant transit camp.

The terrorists landed at a military base near Tripoli, the Libyan capital, after threatening to blow up their light aircraft and its two Austrian pilots, sources in Beirut said.

The Libyan state radio said the twin-engine Cessna was allowed to land for humanitarian reasons and that it was met by a member of the ruling Revolutionary Council. There was no official word on the fate of the two terrorists. The Moslem fundamentalist regime of Col. Moammar Khadafy has announced it will mete out a Koran-based death penalty to hijackers who flew an abducted Japan Air Lines jumbo jet to Libya two months ago and blew it up.

The Libyan radio said one of the pilots thanked Libyan authorities for the authorization to land. But it gave no indication of their situation once the plane touched down.

The Austrian news agency said in Vienna that the two were set free and had gone to a Tripoli hotel to rest.

BOOTLEGGERS, 'B-GIRLS' VANISH

Price You Pay For Binge Depends On Where You Live

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — "B-Girls" and bootleggers, bottle clubs and brown bags.

The good old days. Midnight dramas on the backroads: liquor agents vs. rum runners.

The spread of the "private" club, with its collective winking at the rules. Booze by the bottle and thinly camouflaged in paper sacks.

BIG BUSINESS

"No one under 21 years of age admitted . . ."

Sound familiar?

And the whimsically strange bond among fun-loving collegiate frat rats, bootleggers and illicit clubs: they all feared the Liquor Control Board, the shadowy LCB.

A state Supreme Court ruling, instant adulthood and liquor by the drink changed the Texas beverage scene. And the LCB gave way to the ABC, the Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

And now it's a billion dollar business.

Unless the bottle bursts, Texas will reap well over $100 million in taxes and fees from the industry this year.

That's because the cost of your favorite alcoholic beverage is about 90 per cent taxes—state and federal.

BEER ONLY

If you purchase it by the drink in a bar or club, add on another 10 per cent.

Geographically, only about half the state is "wet," either through package stores, mixed drinks, beer only, or on or off premise consumption.

Yet Texans, on a per capita basis, consumed about five quarts of liquor apiece in fiscal 1972. Beer drinkers quaffed an average of 22.5 gallons each.

At the same time, nearly nine million gallons of wine and five million gallons of malt liquor were consumed.

It's big business.

Depending on who you listen to, the beverage industry is clean or corrupt, healthy or stricken, flourishing or foundering. Probably it's a little of each.

GOT THE JUMP

Mostly it is changing.

Oldtimers may recall that Texas got the jump on the rest of the country by going dry in 1919, beating national prohibition by two years.

Beer was back by 1933 and liquor by the bottle got the green light in 1935.

A quarter of a century passed without significant change. Then it began.

Many consider the highly publicized Impact, Tex., case in the early 1960s the turning point. Not so. It came in 1959 in a Dimmit County case, styled Meyers vs. Martinez.

A Texas Supreme Court ruling clarified hazy state statutes, permitting not only counties but justice precincts and incorporated cities or towns to legalize sale of alcoholic beverages.

In effect, the high court interpretation was this:

If "drys" can dry up a wet territory, then "wets" can wet up a dry territory.

IMPACT EXAMPLE

The classic example was Impact, 47 acres of nothing surrounded by Abilene, a city of more than 100,000 and dry since the start of this century.

Impact voted 27-0 to incorporate in 1960 and spent nearly three years defending itself against charges that it was illegally founded. It, too, won the Supreme Court test.

Impact and other tiny towns became oases across the state. (See BOOZE, Page 2-A, Col. 4)

IN WITH NEW REVENUE — The days of 'B-girls, bootleggers, bottle clubs and brown bags are all part of the past now with the new liquor and age laws in Texas.

Accident? End Of Report

Mrs. Alfred Chandler was in satisfactory condition at Cowper Hospital today after a two-vehicle wreck in the 1000 block of South Gregg Street about 1 p.m. Saturday.

Duanna Darlene Mason, 16, 1011 Howell Ave., and Mrs. Chandler, 600 E. 15th St., were driving the same direction, the police report showed.

The police report states an unidentified vehicle not hit in the wreck stopped to turn right into a parking lot.

When a Big Spring Herald reporter reached this point in the narrative of the police report, a police sergeant indicated the press had no right to view anything but the brief activity log. The reporter disagreed.

A police detective told the reporter to leave the building. He did.

to pop open all over the area. Ross Halfmann brought in Glasscock's first bale Thursday evening.

A special committee named by the City Commission to recommend for a continuing clean-up effort, lost no time in making its medicine Thursday. It proposed a start in a 100-block area through the heart of the west part of town and pleaded for homeowners to put debris in alleys so it can be put up. The panel is recommending that the city council impose a 50-cent per month charge (in addition to present water-sewer charges), and an ad valorem on non-resident taxpayers (if constitutional) to finance the year-around effort.

With a minimum of questions — most of the discussion has been spread over weeks of preparation — the city's $4,300,000 budget was approved last week.

Local meat buyers pointed up a startling fact — that the meat industry is taking a beating while meat stacks up in feed lots and warehouses. Only thing which will open the pipeline and keep it flowing, they say, is for meat to come down at the retail level. And why shouldn't it? Within the past month price of cattle has broken all the way from 15 to 25 cents a pound. Feeders have from $100 to $150 per head loss on high priced feeder stock coming out of the lots now.

Charley Simons, member of the Texas Highway Commission, addressing the US 87 Highway Improvement Association here Wednesday, sounded a warning. Texans had best be alert to retaining the dedication of highway use taxes to highway development and maintenance if and when a new state constitution is adopted. This plan has given Texas an unparalleled system of highways and roads, and it ought not be lightly abandoned.

Our United Way campaign is now around the 40 per cent mark, which is fine. But it also is 66 per cent of the way toward the scheduled completion date, which makes that 40 per cent look not so good. It will take a lot of hard effort and responsible giving to button up the job on time.

The Big Spring Steers were idle Friday on the eve of opening the district campaign, but the Coahoma Bulldogs more than took up the slack. After looking like all thumbs for much of the first half, the Dogs bared their teeth and gave San Angelo Lakeview a good chewing, thanks in a large measure to a heroic defense at the critical times.

Almost frigid weather brought a reminder from health authorities to have your heating systems checked now. All too often, stopped-up vents produce lethal carbon monoxide fumes which claim lives. This is all so tragically needless when a little check will avoid it.

Colorado City, exercising a measure of faith in the future, decided last week to provide their high schoolers with as good facilities and equipment as any in the area by approving a $1.75 million bond issue. When that is done, improvements will be made to other schools.

Speaking of schools, Gay Hill closed its doors as a school Friday, following a Big Spring school board decision not to continue its operations with only 42 pupils. Some 20 Gay Hill residents protested heatedly at a hearing Monday but the order stood. The facility will be used as a community center, and the children and faculty will be in Big Spring schools.

Robert Lee (Little Brother) Phillips entered a plea of guilty in 118th District Court to having murdered Earlie Miller while on a bus trip from Dallas to O'Donnell. "Wished I hadn't stopped here," he mused. And Earlie might have wished the same thing.

Colorado City Sets Sights In New High School In '75

COLORADO CITY — The date set by school officials for completion of the Colorado High School is January 1975, according to Supt. Lloyd E. McKee. No date has been set for asking for bids.

Supt. McKee expressed pleasure in the outcome of the school bond issue in Colorado City last Tuesday and thanked those who supported the issue for their confidence.

The architect, Tommie Huckabee of Bihard and Huckabee, told the board that the high school is a campus plan of four buildings, developed around the cluster concept.

Each building is a single story, loft-type design constructed of a basic system of steel joist and gyp deck resting on steel beams and columns.

The exterior walls are cavity walls of concrete masonry units with exposed aggregate of either granite or pre-cast concrete. The ceilings are acoustical type with recessed lay-in-trough light fixtures. The roof frame is exposed in the shops and gym.

Terazzo floors are planned for the vestibule, cafeteria and restrooms. Carpet is planned for the classrooms, library, and administrative office for acoustical control and minimum maintenance. Maple hardwood is planned for the gym floor.

The school owns a 39-acre site at the end of 17th Street in the northeast corner of the city, south of IS 20.

For several years, the board has carefully studied the needs of the school system. They predict student population in the system should remain substantially stable during the next 5-10 years.

The work to remodel the present high school plant for a junior high cannot begin until after the transfer is made to the new high school.

However, work on improvements at Hutchinson and Kelley schools and others will begin along with the high school construction after the contract is let.

breaking up vast dry areas and signalling the beginning of the end for far-flung, sophisticated bootleg operations.

By 1971, mixed drinks were a legal reality, although not a ubiquitous presence.

Last but not least, the legislature recently approved the minors bill which, among other things, lowered the legal age for consuming alcoholic beverages from 21 to 18.

With change came confusion, although Texas liquor laws have always defied simple interpretation.

A traveler criss-crossing the state discovers he pays a wide variety of prices for the beverage of his choice—providing he can find it.

A "local option" state, 94 of Texas' 254 counties are wholly dry. More than 100 are partly so.

Motorists crossing the northern half of the state from Louisiana to New Mexico might never see a beer hall, a club or a package store.

But it's not easy to travel only in dry territory. Two-thirds of the counties permit some form of alcoholic beverage sales.

DEATHS

Mrs. Obie Bristow

Last rites were conducted Saturday 10 a.m. at St. Mary's Episcopal Church for Mrs. Estelle M. Bristow, 63, prominent club woman and lifelong resident of Big Spring.

Officiating was her pastor, the Rev. Harland Birdwell. Burial was in the Mount Olive Cemetery beside the grave of her husband, J. G. (Obie) Bristow, who died in 1969.

Surviving are two sons, J. Gordon Bristow Jr., Big Spring, and Keith H. Bristow, Nederland, Colo.; one brother, Thomas L. Hutto, Big Spring; one sister, Mrs. Don Garvin, Duncan, Okla.; two grandchildren. Arrangements were by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mrs. Bristow was the daughter of a pioneer ranch couple, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hutto, a founder of the original garden club here, she revived it in 1947 and headed it for two years, was an accredited national flower judge, an expert on roses and irises, and was scheduled to become president of the Texas garden clubs when ill health intervened.

Funeral services have been slated for Brian Lee Sizenbach, month and one-half old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Sizenbach.

Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in Trinity Memorial Park. Officiating will be the Rev. Carroll C. Kohl of St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is handling funeral arrangements.

YOU DECIDE Here Are Proposed Charter Changes

Voters will decide whether to revise the 47-year-old City Charter in a citywide election Tuesday. The 13 amendments on the ballot will be voted on separately.

The revisions were drafted by the present City Commission drawing on recommendations made by past charter study committees.

Lengthiest of the 13, Amendment One would change the City Commission name to City Council and refer to members as councilmen and councilwomen.

It also calls for members of the council to be elected by places rather than at large. If passed, future candidates will each announce for a specific place on the council, 1-4, and will face specific opponents rather than all other candidates.

ELECT MAYOR
Also proposed in Amendment One is popular election of the mayor ending the present system by which the mayor is chosen by his fellow commission members.

The amendment provides for a runoff election to be held in any race in which one candidate does not receive a majority of all votes cast.

Amendment Two changes municipal residency requirements for commission members from two years to one and adds the stipulation that a member may not "be in arrears in the payment of any taxes or other liabilities due the city."

Amendment Three reduces the number of readings necessary to officially pass a city ordinance from three to two. Amendment Four eliminates the old six-months residency requirement for qualified voters and lets state election law apply.

UPS PAY
Amendment Five proposes to pay each council member $25 for each council meeting he or she attends not to exceed $50 a month, and to pay the mayor $50 for each meeting he attends, not to exceed $100 a month. Commissioners now receive a $10 monthly stipend.

Amendment Six empowers the city manager to appoint policemen and other police officials. Hiring now requires City Commission approval.

Amendment Seven eliminates from the city secretary's duties that of serving as clerk of corporation court, while Number Eight states that the city attorney shall represent the city in municipal (corporation) court.

Amendment Nine changes selection of a city depository from an annual to a biennial basis. Amendments Ten and Eleven repeal the old poll tax and street duty tax.

RENAMES COURT
Amendment Twelve requires any corporation, form or individual, who is levied a franchise tax, to file an annual report of receipts and expenditures from the operation of business.

The final amendment, number Thirteen, changes the name of corporation court to municipal court and provides that the court judge be appointed by the City Council. In case of the judge's absence, an alternate shall be appointed by the mayor or mayor pro tem.

All of the amendments were endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Polling places Tuesday will be city Pct. 1 (same as county 1), North Side Fire Station; city Pct. 2 (same as County 2 and 22), 11th and Birdwell Fire Station; city Pct. 3 (same as county 2 and 22), 11th and Birdwell Fire Station; city Pct. 3 (same as county 3 and 16), 18th and Main Fire Station; city Pct. 4 (same as county 4 and county 4 and 15), Central Fire Station; and city Pct. 5 (same as county 8), Airport Elementary.

Election judges are Pct. 1, Mrs. Rufus Davidson; Pct. 2, Jeanette Mansfield; Pct. 3, Dan Conley; Pct. 4, Mrs. Ahon Underwood; and Pct. 5, L. R. Mundt.

Items Worth $1,000 Stolen

Jewelry, three watches, a rifle and stereo tape playing equipment were among items Bonnie F. Fucini reported stolen Friday from 1705-B Lincoln Ave.

Stereo tapes and records were valued at $300. A tape player was worth $350, and police said a set of head phones were taken, too.

Several pieces of turquoise jewelry, a gold dome ring, gold mothers ring and pearl ring were missing.

Total value of the stolen goods exceeds $1,000, the police report shows.

Recover Bicycle

Police recovered a bicycle stolen from Marcy Elementary School Friday afternoon. The bicycle was found in the 4200 block of Calvin Ave.

The Ben F. Daughertys told police two bicycles were stolen from the front yard at 613 Holbert St.

After Three Score Years, Gay Hill School Is Closed

Just when history was made by youngsters first attending the Gay Hill School is not clear, but Friday the 42 youngsters attending the elementary school made history of a different sort.

"Well, this is the grand finale," Principal George Archer said, as students boarded two buses.

One woman employed by the district was crying, but the children seemed cheerful.

Big Spring School trustees closed the school because continuing its operation was considered uneconomical.

NEW JOBS
Plans have been made to turn the building into a community center. Aristo (Eddie) Hernandez, custodian, will be caretaker in addition to working in Big Spring during the day.

Other staff members, likewise, will be starting new school jobs inside city limits. Archer, who also taught at Gay Hill, will be principal at Park Hill Elementary.

Mrs. Archer will be teaching first grade at Kentwood Elementary. Mrs. Jack Buchanan, the other teacher, goes to Moss Elementary where she will instruct fifth graders.

Mrs. Coleman Knalls, was secretary at Gay Hill. And Mrs. Nathan Stallcup was cafeteria cook.

Mrs. Stallcup started school at Gay Hill 48 years ago under Mrs. Charles Lawrence.

Officials at the courthouse have not been able to locate records indicating where Gay Hill Common School District was established.

But Mr. Lawrence said the school district predates 1907.

ANNEXED
In May, 1960, the county board voted 3-2 to annex Gay Hill and Centerpoint schools with the Big Spring Independent School Districts.

After a legal battle which ended when the U.S. Supreme Court dismissed the case for lack of jurisdiction, Gay Hill and Centerpoint became part of the Big Spring school system. Gay Hill was first a part of the BSISD in the 1963-64 school year.

Prior to this time, the seventh through 12th grade students were enrolled at Big Spring schools, Sam Anderson, Big Spring superintendent, said.

POET DIES — British-born poet W. H. Auden, one of the outstanding literary figures of this century, died of a heart attack in Vienna, Austria, officials reported Saturday. He was 66. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Huge Cotton Harvest Likely In 5-County Area

Cotton prospects look great in Howard County and the surrounding counties, according to reports from area county agents.

Prospects are good for upwards of 400,000 bales from the five county area of Dawson, Howard, Martin, Glasscock and Mitchell counties.

Bruce Griffith, Howard County agent, reported that Howard County may have a better yield this year than last year, remembering that last year's "yield was good."

Scattered hail storms have hurt isolated areas, especially in the Knott, Fairview district and along the Snyder highway.

Griffith said that Howard County had a yield last year of 53,000 bales and "should have more this year. We have an estimated 83,000 acres left in cotton that has not been hail damaged, of the original 95,000 acres planted," he added.

On this basis the harvest should exceed 60,000 bales, and could go up to 65,000 bales.

that will be hard to top." Total cotton acreage in the county is around 228,000 planted on some 480,000 acres of ground, approximately 10,000 acres near Punkin Center received severe hail damage.

Last year's yield was from 3/4 to a bale an acre, and Colgan is predicting about the same yield for this year, according to Harris.

Harris added: "What the farmers really need right now are some hot steamy days so that cotton will pop open. These cool mornings aren't much help."

53,442 acres planted in cotton. Last year they got about 45,000 bales off 52,000 acres and are expecting a good yield again this year. The cotton looks good in Mitchell County.

There was scattered hail damage during recent storms, but much of this cotton appears to be recovering.

ST. LAWRENCE

Out in Glasscock County, yield prospects look great in the cotton growing area around St. Lawrence.

Their first bale came in this week, a few weeks behind Dawson and Martin County but it looks like a "lot of the cotton Tarzan. They also sustained scattered hail damage during the past month."

area farmer. A few farmers have defoliated modest-sized fields. Harvest should be in full swing by mid-October.

MARTIN COUNTY

Billy Reagor, agent at Martin County, said that "it looks like the cotton harvest will be as good as last year and that was a plenty good year."

He reported that the cotton production last year was around 85,000 bales and "chances are good we'll have that many again."

There are around 110,000 acres in cotton in Martin County around Stanton, Lenora and Tarzan. They also sustained scattered hail damage during the past month.

John Hails GOP Women

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former presidential adviser John B. Connally says only women can inject life into the Republican party because "I don't look for men to do it."

Speaking at the 17th biennial convention of the National Federation of Republican Women on Friday, Connally said: "We haven't done it. Men like to sit back with their feet up on the desk, holding a coffee cup or something else and talk about priorities while the women do all the work."

"You're going to revitalize the Republican party, and you've got to tell the people why this is a great nation."

The 2,000 delegates, meeting for the first time outside Washington, D.C., gave Connally's remarks a rousing cheer.

Connally also defended Vice President Spiro T. Agnew "as a man who has not been charged by anyone in any official capacity and he is entitled to fair treatment under the judicial system of these United States."

A U.S. grand jury in Baltimore is hearing evidence against Agnew in connection with a U.S. Justice Department investigation of political corruption in Maryland.

Connally said he would not comment on rumors he might aspire to take over the vice presidency should Agnew be forced to leave or resign before 1976. He said such talk is "too iffy" to require comment.

Earlier, two resolutions were passed supporting President Nixon and Agnew, mentioning them by name. A resolution proposed Thursday but later killed had mentioned them only by their titles.

Mike Dennis Is Convalescing

Mike Dennis, who lost both feet in an accident here Labor Day, is making good progress at Willford Hall Hospital at Lackland AFB.

His mother, Mrs. Oleta Hatfield, said that Mike now has one brace fitted on a leg, and that surgery is slated on the other leg Tuesday. If it goes well, he may soon get a brace for his second leg, enabling him to begin getting around on crutches.

His grandmother, Mrs. Mike Daniels, will go to San Antonio this week to be at his bedside and relieve his parents. Mike lost his feet when one got caught in a car wash power drive and the other became entangled when he tried to brace with it and pull out the first. His grandmother said that contributions to the Mike Dennis fund had enabled his mother to remain at his bedside.

'Dim' Christmas

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Connecticut Chamber of Commerce officials believe in planning ahead.

The Bridgeport chamber already has announced that because of the energy shortage, Christmas decoration lights will be turned off at 11 p.m. this year instead of burning all night.

Bullets Kill Three Texans

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Three San Antonio men died in separate shootings before dawn Saturday and police continued investigations into the unrelated deaths.

David Martinez, 20, died when an argument outside a tavern erupted into gunplay and Martinez was shot by one of two men with whom he argued.

Police said he staggered several blocks from the bar before dying.

Dan Reed, 53, was found shot through his heart on a San Antonio street. Police heard the shot and saw a car speed away. Officers said the driver of the car eluded them in a short chase.

Elias Valderas, 35, was dead on arrival at a San Antonio hospital after being wounded in a scuffle with a security guard who said he was attempting to break up a fight.

Investigators said it was not immediately clear who fired the fatal shot.

Cleanup Panel Sets 100-Block Pilot Plot

By ANN STEVENS

A clean-up committee, named by the City Commission Tuesday, lost no time in deciding Thursday to launch a citywide continuous alley cleanup.

The 100-block area bounded north and south by First Street and FM 700, and east and west by Gregg and Abrams Street was chosen as the pilot program.

The joint city-public project is being kicked off with a naming contest for the drive with $100 going to the winner. Entries must be postmarked by Oct. 13 and mailed to Beautification Contest, City Hall, P.O. Box 391.

City Manager Harry Nagel said the City Commission probably will be called into special session next Thursday to appropriate enough money from the revenue sharing budget to get the project off the ground.

Expenses of the project will thereafter be financed through a 30-cent fee added on to the monthly water-sewer bills of local citizens and to the yearly ad valorem taxes of out-of-town owners of property here.

BEGINS MONDAY

The clean-up function, which eventually will embrace the entire city and involve the hiring of 10 full-time employees, will begin Monday with street alleys in the 100-block designated kick-off area.

Junk will be hauled from alleys to the city dump, and abandoned cars will be removed.

If approved by the City Commission as expected, a man will then be hired to police the 100-block area so that the cleanliness begun by the city crews will be maintained.

According to committee plans, after the first 100-block area has been cleaned and the first employee hired to keep it that way, nine more 100 blocks will be mapped out and the same procedure will be followed in each until the whole city is being continuously kept up under the supervision of 10 hired workers.

Additional plans include assignment of one of the city's 11 garden clubs to each area, with one left over to help where needed, according to committee co-chairperson Polly Mays.

BROAD INTENTIONS

The 100-block areas may be subdivided into 10-block districts each presided over by a chairman responsible for driving through his or her district at regular intervals and seeing that unsightly conditions are eliminated.

Intentions are to tie the mammoth project together by applying various ordinances allowing city removal of junk cars, destruction of abandoned ramshackle buildings and clearing of weedy lots. The committee also expressed a desire to promote citizen involvement and pride in the appearance of the community.

Although initial thrust of the committee's efforts is to clear alley ways, it is expected to expand eventually into study of the city's system of garbage collection and into other facets of beautification and municipal appearance.

Headed by Mrs. Mays and Jack Watkins, the committee consists of Helen Stewart, Jeff Brown and E. A. Fiveash, all three representing the Big Spring Property Owners Association, and Eddie Acri and Harry Nagel, representing the city.

South Plains Cotton Is Maturing Rapidly

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Harvesting of most crops is on schedule except for cotton and rice in South Texas and coastal areas due to wet weather, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

Both cotton and rice in those areas have deteriorated because of prolonged rains, he said.

Cotton is opening rapidly in the Blacklands, North Texas and the Rolling Plains and farmers have been applying desiccants to get the crop ready to harvest. Early cotton also is opening rapidly in the South Plains.

planting at the halfway mark in some counties. Livestock and ranges are in good condition.

North Central: The cotton harvest has started. About 70 per cent of the crop is open over the area. Corn, grain sorghum and peanut are producing generally good yields. Planting of wheat and oats is in full swing. Pastures and livestock look good.

Northeast: Cotton harvesting has started. The sweet potato crop looks good with harvesting under way. Some hay is still being harvested. Pasture and livestock conditions are excellent. Army worms are active in some pastures.

Far West: Harvesting of grain sorghum remains active. The cotton harvest is just beginning. Yields from irrigated fields are good. Some small grain plantings are making good growth. Vegetable crops are making good progress. Livestock are in good shape. Ranges have improved due to rains.

Coast: Some cotton is being harvested where fields are dry enough. About half the corn crop has been harvested. Tye grain sorghum harvest is about complete. Early peanuts are about 60 per cent harvested. Small grains are being planted for winter pastures. Ear ticks, mosquitoes and flies are plaguing livestock.

South Central: The cotton harvest is making some progress with the first bale ginned in Washington County. The corn harvest is about complete in some counties. Peanut harvesting is active. Oats are being planted for winter pastures. Walnut caterpillars continue to inflict heavy damage in pecans.

PEANUTS

Combines are folling in grain sorghum fields in the Rolling and South Plains. Harvesting is moving toward completion in a few counties and yields are generally good, Hutchison said.

Soybeans are about mature in the South Plains and a few fields are being harvested. The crop is generally making good progress in other areas although rains have caused some problems in coastal areas.

Peanut harvesting is active in Central, North Central and East Texas and yields are generally good, he said.

Cattle prices have declined in most areas due to increased marketings, he said. Screw worm has surpassed 3,000 cases for the year, second only to Arizona.

District agricultural agents gave these reports:

Panhandle: Additional moisture is needed in some northern and western counties. Wheat planting is about 75 per cent complete. Vegetable harvesting is active in Castro and Parmer counties. Harvesting of corn silage is about 75 per cent complete. Corn harvesting for grain is under way. Cattle conditions are good.

South Plains: Cotton is maturing rapidly with early fields opening. Grain sorghum yields are good. Soybeans are reaching maturity. Some harvesting has started. Peppers, carrots and potatoes are being harvested. Small grain planting is in full swing.

GRAIN PLANTINGS

East: Small grain plantings for winter pastures is active and is up to 50 per cent complete in some counties. Some hay is still being made. Fall vegetable gardens are making good growth. Walnut caterpillars are damaging the pecan crop. Excellent grazing is available.

Southeast and Upper Gulf

FIRST BALE

Rolling Plains: Up to half the cotton crop is open in some counties. The first bale has been ginned in Knox County's Cotton is being defoliated in some counties. Grain sorghum harvest yields are good. Wheat ton, said the problem is youngsters are not getting the message that the service is available.

He said he thought Briscoe was going to contact the governors of all the other states and spread the word about the program.

CAN'T ADVERTISE

"As far as I can see, we have not had this kind of follow-through," Key said. "If there were, I feel sure we would have had more of these calls."

Al Boyd, on Gov. Briscoe's staff, visited the office Thursday. Volunteers said it was the first contact from the governor's office since the program started.

Boyd said it was up to news media to promote the telephone program.

"We don't have the time or the staff," he said. "We can't advertise. That's up to the media."

Key said he understood initially that his job would be to find volunteers and an office and the governor's office would contact the media, and especially underground newspapers and rock stations.

On his own, Key said, he had stickers with "Peace of Mind" telephone numbers printed and distributed in telephone booths and clubs.

ARREST HER SHE MAY FALL INTO THE WRONG COMPANY

"Well, I sure would hate for her to fall into bad company," one city police detective remarked to another this week as they studied a letter from a South Texas City.

The detectives receive many letters from parents who think that their runaway child might be in the area, but this one was quite different. It read, in part:

"My 17-year-old daughter ran away last Thursday, the day before she was supposed to have her eyes checked because she needs glasses. She was also called in by the Health Department and supposed to have a VD check.

"She likes to hitchhike, and we think she left in a green pickup with a man named Jimmie. I am just guessing, but I think she is involved in prostitution.

"I'm about to have a nervous breakdown, but we'll take care of that. If you will just arrest her for vagrancy and call us we would appreciate it, because sooner or later hitchhiking like that, she's going to get in with the wrong kind of company."

Runaway Center Labeled 'Bust'

HOUSTON (AP) — A nationwide telephone center set up here to give runaway youths a place to contact their parents is a bust, staffers say, with only 20 legitimate calls in its first 10 days of operation.

"I thought they would give us much wider publicity and better advertising," said the Rev. Travis Key, head of the center. "We're having to call up volunteers and say, 'We don't need you.'"

The service was announced by Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe after the murders of 27 youths were discovered in Houston. The youths, many of them runaways, allegedly were slain by a homosexual torture ring.

There are both state and nationwide toll-free numbers for runaways to call and, in turn, the center is supposed to telephone the parents and let them know their children are all right.

PEACE OF MIND

Briscoe dubbed it "Operation Peace of Mind."

About 180 volunteers have manned the telephones 24 hours a day but Thursday they said the center has received only 20 legitimate calls from runaways. Of that number only eight wanted their parents notified.

Man Wanted In Lubbock Flees Tulsa Courtroom

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A man wanted in Texas and California fled a Tulsa County courtroom Thursday after he was ordered held in the county jail to await trial.

Carl Wayne Parks, 34, was bound over for district court on charges of armed robbery and pointing a deadly weapon.

He stepped away from the bench, spoke briefly with his lawyer and then sprinted from the courtroom, Deputy Sheriff Henry J. Micek said.

Micek chased Parks down seven flights of stairs and ordered him to halt just as he was about to leave the courthouse.

Asked why he fled, Parks said, "I didn't have anything to lose."

After he was returned to the courtroom, Judge Raymond W. Graham ordered his bond doubled to $110,000.

Parks is charged in a June 15 armed robbery of a Tulsa cafeteria and with pointing a pistol at deputies who arrested him Sept. 4. He will remain in the county jail until a November trial.

He was being held also on kidnapping and grand larceny charges in Muskogee County, where he allegedly abducted a Haskell, Okla., policeman and stole his revolver.

Authorities said hold orders were on file with the sheriff's office from the FBI in Oklahoma City, the Lubbock, Texas, sheriff's office, the California Department of Corrections and Glendora and Glendale, Calif., police.

Quake Recorder Traps 3 Thugs

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Readings on a sensitive seismograph at the University of Nevada led to the arrests of three persons for investigation of burglary.

Sheriff's deputies said laboratory workers were tipped off when an earthquake recorder began printing readouts from a remote station in the Washoe Valley.

Technicians said they could tell by motions of a sensitive needle that someone was walking inside an old mine shaft where the station was located.

Sheriff's deputies arrested three teenagers for investigation of burglary.

Roscoe Father, Son Found Dead

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — The bodies of a Roscoe, Tex., man and his teen-aged son, apparent victims of asphyxiation, were found Saturday at a rural home near Portales.

Sheriff Tom Gossett identified the victims as Luther Jack Meeks, 71, and his son, Leonard Shane Meeks, 14. The bodies were found by Meeks' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cruz, of Portales, who owned the residence. Officers said the Meeks family had planned to move to the home, which Meeks and his son had spent about three weeks remodeling. Meeks' wife, Bonnie Fay, was to have joined them shortly. Officers blamed an unvented gas heater for the deaths. Meeks was dead at the scene and his son was pronounced dead on arrival at Roosevelt County Hospital, officers said.

HOW IT WORKS — Clifford Hale, instructor, demonstrates to members of a class on service station equipment repair, how a modern gasoline pump works. The new program at HCJC is thought to be the first of its kind in the nation.

Service Station Repairs Class May Be A 'First'

It's the only one of its kind in the nation. At least the instructor, Clifford Hale, 1304 E. 18th, thinks that his course is unique. He teaches a class at Howard County Junior College in service station equipment repair. The program has gained national-wide attention, and companies from as far away as Florida and California have shown an interest in hiring the graduates, Hale said. "We have had tremendous participation by oil and pump companies who have supplied us with equipment and training facilities," Hale said. The program has a complete mock-up model of equipment, including cut-a-ways of pumps and meters, and even a buried dispensing tank. "We even have the equipment to teach the use, repair, and maintenance of the remote-controlled self-service gasoline pumps," Hale said. "Trained technicians with this kind of skill are in much demand." The 360-clock-hour program is divided into two parts: the second begins in January. The instructor, who has 24 years experience in the business, teaches two sections of the course, one on Saturday and one meeting Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Students range in age from 22 to 59. "We can almost guarantee them a job if they graduate from the course," Hale said. The program is being housed in the college maintenance building behind the practical arts building. Businesses participating in the program include Tokheim

Mfg. Co., Bennett Pump Co., Gilbarco Mfg. Co., and Roper Pump Co.

CR-74 Preview Strikes Sparks In Appearances

The Big Spring Steer Band mini-show, a preview of things to come in the last week of January with Campus Review 74, already has made two successful appearances this season. At the Highway 87 meeting, and again at the Hyperion Council luncheon, the group came striding in from every direction with a Mary Poppins selection, and happily move among the crowd shaking hands with everybody. The group of 24 girls and 15 boys selected from the band for the preview presentation presents a show with the usual professional polish that characterizes the CR productions. Out-of-town dignitaries and guests visiting here for the Highway 87 were amazed with the appearance of the group and "couldn't believe they were high school students." The Hyperion clubs, accustomed to seeing the talented presentations of the high school band and choir, concluded that "This year is going to be great." The mini-show includes a smattering of solos moving along smoothly with no interruptions, five or six choral numbers interspersed with quickie jokes. Bill Bradley and Gene Currie, band directors, said the group is accepting donations from clubs and organizations who wish to view the mini-show. Profits will go toward material for the stage band to purchase new jackets.

Ask Agencies To Take Over Ambulances

COLORADO CITY — Ambulance service woes have moved to another West Texas city.

The Mitchell County Hospital District board of directors was asked this week to take over providing ambulance service for Mitchell County in cooperation with the city and county.

Doyle Kiker and Darrell Rains of Kiker-Rains-Seale Funeral Home appeared before the board and requested that public agencies take over ambulance service.

They would like to be out of the ambulance business by Nov. 1, they said, and pledged to work with the local governmental units to help establish a service.

They are one of the few funeral homes left in the state with an ambulance service, a service that all funeral homes have found "extremely costly."

Rains told the group that in Mitchell County, around 160 ambulance calls are made a year, only about "half of which are paid for."

Rains noted that the state department of health is expected to put stricter guidelines into effect soon.

Rains, Kiker, Mayor C. C. (Mike) Burt, Hospital Board President Murrell Blessingame and County Judge Bill Carter have been working on this problem for a number of months, it was disclosed.

Voting Box Lines Due For Study

Voting precinct lines will be redrawn and election judges named by County Commissioners Court Monday. New voting precinct borders will not become effective until March, 1973.

The court also will discuss the number of hours Neighborhood Youth Corps workers may work. A typewriter for the county clerk's office and adding machine for the road administrator's office are two other non-routine items on the agenda.

Cotton Harvest Tips Planned

LAMESA — "An excellent crop can turn into trailer loads of headaches if producers do not plan well enough for cotton harvesting and handling," says Lee Roy Colgan, Dawson county extension agent.

"Growers might be able to save themselves hundreds, or even thousands of dollars by taking advantage of information to be offered at a meeting for producers and area citizens at Forrest Park Community Center, Lamesa on Friday," Colgan added.

Designed to update producers on facts about harvest-aid chemicals, cotton harvesting and field storage, the meeting is being sponsored by the South Plains Development Program and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Specialists with the Extension Service based at Lubbock will present facts on the use of harvest-aid chemicals, equipment for harvesting, and field storage systems, with specific information on labor, time and cost comparisons.

They are Roy Childers, area agricultural engineer-cotton mechanization, and Robert B. Metzger, area agronomist-cotton.

OPEN HOUSE SLATED TODAY

Two local institutions, the Howard County Free Library and the Heritage Museum, will have open house starting at 2 p.m. today. The library will be exhibiting its new rental art collection, while the museum will be hosting a visitation sponsored by the membership.

The two events were planned together so that visitors can make both stops within a single short period of the afternoon.

Couples Swim Class Slated

A swim class for married couples will begin at 7 p.m. Monday at the YMCA taught by Pat Owens and Sally Bubella. The one-hour sessions will continue each Monday and Thursday nights through Oct. 25. The course is free to Y members. Cost for non-members is $10 for a single person and $12 per couple.

LSU Hustles By Rice, 24-9

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State beat Rice at its own game Saturday night, 24-9, with dazzling kick returns by freshman Robert Dow and an efficient pass defense.

Dow had kickoff returns of 58 and 3 yards, along with a 59-yard punt return, and Rice freshman James Sykes, fourth-ranked kickoff returner in the NCAA, broke loose for a 96-yard return of his own.

Sykes was dragged down from behind at the two-yard line, but three unsuccessful pokes at the LSU center line and a delay of game penalty forced the Owls to settle for a 24-yard field goal by Alan Pringle, who accounted for all Rice's scoring.

The first half, which ended with Rice ahead 9-3, belonged to the field goal specialists. Pringle had two more field goals of 47 and 36 yards, and LSU's Rusty Jackson put the Tigers on the scoreboard with a 22-yard kick.

LSU intercepted Southwest Conference passing leader Fred Geisler three times, and limited him to five completions in 20 attempts for 70 yards.

Nobody crossed the goal line in the first half, but LSU came on strong as the second half began. Linebacker Warren Capone intercepted a Geisler pass to set up a 49-yard scoring drive. Tailback Terry Robiskie floated 12 yards around right end for the touchdown and a 10-9 LSU lead two minutes and 45 seconds into the third quarter. The Tigers never trailed again.

Pittsburgh's Pennant Dreams Dealt Severe Blow By Expos

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ken Singleton keyed a five-run Montreal explosion with a two-run single in the second inning and the Expos went on to defeat Pittsburgh 6-4 Saturday in a rain-delayed nationally televised baseball game, dealing a near fatal blow to the Pirates' National League East title hopes.

The loss dropped the Pirates into third place in the tangled East Division race, two games behind the front-running New York Mets, who were rained out Saturday, and one-half game back of St. Louis.

The Pirates have just two games remaining and any combination of two New York vic-

Aaron Now One Short

ATLANTA (AP) — Henry Aaron, an incredible 39-year-old slugger, moved to the threshold of baseball's most revered record Saturday night when he smashed his 713th lifetime home run in a game against the Houston Astros.

The fifth inning blow off left hander Jerry Reuss left the Atlanta Braves' superstar only one home run shy of tying the immortal Babe Ruth's all-time mark of 714.

The blast came on the first pitch and sailed out of the park over the center field fence about 420 feet away. It was a three-run blow following singles by Mike Lum and Darrell Evans.

It was Aaron's 40th homer of the 1973 season, marking the eighth time in his 20-year career he has hit 40 or more. It stands as a National League record, but leaves him three away from Ruth's major league mark of 11.

Aaron has one game remaining this season in which to catch or surpass Ruth's all-time mark — against the Astros Sunday afternoon.

Boston College Upends Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Halfback Mike Esposito scored twice within about a minute and a half in the closing quarter Saturday night as Boston College defeated Texas A&M 32 to 24 in an inter-sectional football game.

Esposito dove in from the three with just over two minutes to play as Boston College

Boston College's go-ahead touchdown with 2:08 left in the game was set up by a 14 yard punt by A&M's Mark Stanley. Boston College covered 40 yards in seven plays for the score.

The late touchdown offset a tremendous performance by A&M sophomore Carl Roaches, who streaked 100 yards on the opening kickoff for a touchdown and set up another score with a 46-yard pass reception.

Roaches, a 9.4 sprinter brought back four kickoffs for 193 yards, breaking the A&M single game record of 139 yards, set by Jack Pardee against Texas in 1956. The game ended with a pass completion from A&M quarterback Mike Jay to halfback Skip

Monzon Gets Late Victory

PARIS (AP) — World middleweight champion Carlos Monzon of Argentina permitted French challenger Jean-Claude Bouttier to carry the fight in the early going, then knocked down the exhausted Frenchman three times in the last three rounds on his way to posting a unanimous decision Saturday night. Fighting in cool, 49-degree weather in the outdoor Roland Garros Tennis stadium, the Argentine champion overcame a series of slow middle rounds to drop Bouttier with short rights in the 11th, 14th and 15th rounds.

The French challenger had spent himself rushing at Monzon through the first 12 rounds, trying to make up for his height and reach disadvantage by hammering at Monzon from in close. The 31-year-old Monzon, who weighed 159 1/2 pounds, cut Bouttier between the eyes with a short left in the third round and opened a cut on the challenger's left ear in the seventh.

Bouttier, 29, who weighed 159 pounds of his second shot at Monzon's title, seemed to daze the champion in the seventh with a hard right. It was his best punch of the fight.

Nebraska Rallies Past Wisconsin

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska's second-ranked Cornhuskers, frustrated and trailing much of the game, got a 14-yard touchdown run from Tony Davis with less than three minutes remaining to pull out a 20-16 victory over Wisconsin's unranked Badgers before 76,279 football fans here Saturday.

What had been a 7-7 standoff turned frantic in the final period with the lead switching four times.

Texas Turns Back Red Raiders, 28-12

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Longhorns withstood a furious Texas Tech second half comeback charge with a shocking pair of back-to-back fourth quarter touchdowns capped by Jay Arnold's scoring fumble recovery on a kickoff to down the Red Raiders 28-12 Saturday night in a Southwest Conference game.

The 14th ranked Longhorns, opening defense of their SWC title, owned a shaky 14-12 lead

Texas squibbed the ball downfield, Tech's Willie Kent muffed the ball into his own end zone and Arnold steamed downfield to fall on it for a touchdown. The clock still showed 8:15 although officially it should have started when Kent touched the ball.

The screaming throng of 77,809 in Memorial Stadium watched as Tech fought back from a 14-0 halftime deficit. Tech quarterback Joe Barnes nailed Lawrence Williams with a 12-yard touchdown pass and James Mosley galloped 21 yards early in the fourth quarter for another score.

Akins, who had dashed three yards for a touchdown in the second quarter, took Texas on a clutch 70-yard drive in which he hit Pat Kelly three times for 53 yards.

Texas, which is now 1-1, opened the scoring in the first quarter on Roosevelt Leaks' 15-yard touchdown run.

Tech is now 2-1 for the season.

Cherry, Noble Help Cougs By Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Houston halfback Reggie Cherry scored three times, quarterback D.C. Nobles passed for two touchdowns and the explosive 15th-ranked Cougars whipped previously unbeaten Memphis State 35-21 Saturday night.

Cherry scored on runs of five and three yards and caught one of Nobles' touchdown passes—a five-yarder.

Nobles, a 6-foot-2 senior known by his teammates as "Direct Current" hit nine of 16 passes for 110 yards and used the slashing runs of Cherry and fullback Leonard Parker to help nail down the Cougars' third victory without a loss this season and hand Memphis State its first loss in four games.

Parker scored a touchdown on a one-yard plunge and rushed 28 times for 133 yards. Cherry had 73 yards on 15 carries.

Memphis State turned two big plays into touchdowns in the second quarter and scored late in the fourth period on a hurry-up 95-yard drive capped by quarterback Mike Robb's 13-yard scoring pass to flanker Bobby Ward.

One of the big second-quarter plays was Ward's 67-yard kickoff return to the Cougar 23, setting off Cliff Taylor's two-yard scoring drive. On the next series, tackle Ken Niemehech batted a Nobles' pass into the air and tackle Gleen Whittmore intercepted at the Houston 20.

Quarterback Joe Bruner sneaked one yard for the touchdown.

Nobles got that one back quickly—driving the Cougars 79 yards in four plays for the touchdown. He threw a 23-yard pass to Miller Bassler for the score.

Secretariat Suffers Upset

NEW YORK (AP) — Prove Out, who had never won a stakes, took the lead away from Secretariat at the head of the stretch and went on to score a shocking upset Saturday in the $108,200 Woodward Stakes at Belmont Park.

Prove Out gave up the lead to Secretariat with a mile left in the 1 1/4-mile race but then came back and as the crowd of 32,117 watched in disbelief, the little-known 4-year-old pulled away to a 4 1/2-length victory over the Triple Crown winner.

Secretariat, who started in place of stablemate Riva Ridge because the track was sloppy, was 11 lengths ahead of Cougar II, who got the show by one-half length over Amen II. Summer Guest was fifth and last.

The victory by Prove Out has to rank as one of the major upsets in American racing history and certainly was a greater surprise than Secretariat's upset by Onion in the Whitney Aug. 4.

Penn State Whips Iowa

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Three touchdown passes by quarterback Tom Shuman and a tough defense carried sixth-ranked Penn State to a 27-8 football victory over Iowa Saturday before a rain-drenched homecoming crowd of 59,980 at Beaver Stadium.

Coach Joe Paterno's unbeaten Nittany Lions locked up their third straight triumph with a first-period three-touchdown assault on the embattled Hawkeyes, who had lost to powerhouses Michigan and UCLA in a winless season.

While the State offense romped, its defense throttled Iowa's efforts to sustain a drive. The Hawkeyes didn't register a first down until the final two minutes of the initial quarter as the State defenders poured in on quarterback Kyle Skogman on passing situations and stopped the running game cold.

Ohio State Smacks TCU's Frogs, 37-3

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cornelius Greene scored twice, once on a 72-yard run, and Archie Griffin dashed 68 yards for another touchdown Saturday, leading third-ranked Ohio State to a costly, rain-splattered football victory over Texas Christian, 37-3.

An all-time Ohio Stadium crowd of 87,439 sat stunned as Ohio State fullback Harold Henson, who scored 20 touchdowns in 1972, and already had four this season, was hurt when he slammed into the line late in the first quarter.

The speed of Greene and Griffin ruined TCU, helping the Buckeyes to a 31-3 halftime lead before thunder, lightning and heavy rain struck the giant horseshoe in the third period.

Greene, a sophomore quarterback, ran 72 yards on an option play midway in the second quarter for a 21-3 lead. He used the same pattern for an eighty-yard touchdown later in the quarter.

Texas Christian's only points came on a 23-yard field goal by Bert Simmons midway through the second period.

Mustangs Streak Past Virginia Tech

DALLAS (AP) — Quarterback Keith Bobo rushed for two first half touchdowns and Alvin Maxson added two in the second half Saturday to lead the Mustangs to a 37-6 inter-sectional football victory over Virginia Tech.

Bobo scampered six yards in the opening quarter on the first play after he hit tight end Oscar Roan on a 46-yard pass off a run-fake, and he climaxed a lightning-quick second quarter drive with a nine-yard run that gave the Mustangs a 17-3 half time lead.

The victory was SMU's third straight inter-sectional triumph and avenged a 13-10 loss to the Gobblers last year. Virginia Tech now has lost four in a row this season.

Virginia Tech loaded its defense to stop the one-two running punch of Maxson and Wayne Morris, who together had averaged over 200 yards rushing per game, so Bobo effectively went to his fullbacks in the first half.

On the first play of SMU's second possession of the game, fullback Brian Duncan blasted up the middle for 56 yards to the Gobblers 24. The drive stalled, so Clint Hackney gave the Mustangs a 3-0 lead with a 23-yard field goal.

Duncan gained 91 yards in the first half and sub-fullback David Bostick added 47 yards in the first two quarters.

O'Donnell Powers Past Buffs, 43-7

O'DONNELL — There was never much danger of an upset, but for three quarters the Forsan Buffaloes held the sixth-ranked Class A O'Donnell Eagles in check. Three fourth quarter markers helped the Eagles preserve their rating, however, and the hosts came away with a 43-7 victory over the Buffs.

Outweighed 30 pounds a man, the Buffaloes trailed the Eagles 13-7 at the half and 19-7 after three quarters. Then came the flurry, and the Eagles tacked on their final touchdown with 23 seconds remaining in the game.

"I was very pleased with the way our kids played," said Forsan Coach Jack Woodley. "For three quarters we looked real good." The Buffs, now 1-3 on the year, were heavy underdogs to the Eagles, who raised their record to 3-1. Forsan's lone touchdown came with 30 seconds remaining in the first half, when defensive back Landon

Passing Game Arrives As Buffs Edge Rankin

RANKIN — The Stanton Buffaloes turned to their passing game for the first time this year, and the result was a 14-8 victory over the Rankin Red Devils.

Buff quarterback Bill Howard, successful on seven of 14 pass attempts, threw touchdown passes of 22 and 48 yards to lead the Stanton crew to its fourth season victory without a defeat. Rankin slipped to its third defeat, against one victory.

With tailback Mark Eiland, Rankin recovered the ensuing kickoff after a mad scramble, and marched from the Stanton 39 to the four-yard line before being shoved back by a holding penalty. After that, the Buffs held on downs.

Buffalo coach Bill Young said the game was "our best of the year," and complimented the play of the entire defensive unit. Defensive end David Standerfer, who shut down the Devils' sweeps, Hernandez in the backfield and noseguard Bruce Stanley had a particularly good game, Young said as did Howard and Irvin on the offensive unit.

In the third quarter the Buffs went up by 14 as Howard found only halfway available due to a back injury suffered two weeks ago, the Buffaloes turned to their passing game and to fullback Mitchell Irvin, who carried 20 times for 81 yards and was the game's leading rusher. Eiland ran 12 times, and picked up 48 yards.

Stanton opened scoring in the first quarter as Howard tossed 22-yards to Joe Louis Hernandez, who rode the sideline for the score. Gordon Eiland kicked the PAT.

Coahoma Comeback Sinks Chiefs, 26-17

By JACK COWAN

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs never quite overcame their fumble miseries Friday night, but they set them aside long enough to rally for a 26-17 victory over the stubborn San Angelo Lake View Chiefs.

Fullback Putt Choate, a bulsh 200-pounder, scored three touchdowns in leading the Coahoma five-yard line.

It took four plays to get the six points, as Butts crashed over from a yard out on fourth down after a debate on whether to go for a three points or six ended in favor of the TD. Brown was on target again and Lake View led 17-7 with 8:41 left in the half.

Coahoma mounted another drive just before the half, and 1:13 showed on the clock when Choate banged over from the one, again on a fourth down play. Wood's PAT kick was no good.

Both teams fumbled to open the second half, but the break for the Bulldogs came when Gary Roberts returned Brown's punt 45 yards to the Chief 33. Padron and Bennett got the ball within range, and then Choate powered from the one-yard line again with 2:51 left in the third. Bennett was stopped short on a run for two extra points, but the hosts led for the first time, 19-17.

The clincher came midway through the fourth quarter when the Bulldogs reversed the tide of fumbles, as Kyle Kiser fell on a punt dropped by Butts at the Lake View 17.

The Bulldogs couldn't get anywhere for three downs, but on fourth and 11 at the 19 Bennett went to the air for the third time and found Wood open over the middle for the touchdown. Kiser toed the extra point with 6:05 left.

Lake View had the ball inside the Coahoma 10-yard line in the final minute but couldn't push it across.

Bulldogs to their third win without a loss. But for the Chiefs of former Big Spring Coach Clovis Hale, it was the fourth straight setback in his new position.

It did mark a turnaround for the Chiefs, however, a team that had scored just seven points in three previous games, the lone touchdown a gift from the defense. Sophomore halfback Ted Butts raced 163 yards on 31 carries and scored both Lake View touchdowns to offset three other Chief backs who came up with minus rushing yardage.

Choate, who did his damage on 15 carries, had help from quarterback Jody Bennett with 65 yards on 16 runs, while Eddie Padron chipped in 39 yards and Tim Tindol had 29. Bennett also connected on all three of the passes he threw for 37 yards and a touchdown.

But five fumbles almost undid any good the Bulldog runners could manage, as two led to first half touchdowns.

Local fans must have sensed a bad omen when Padron fumbled the opening kickoff and the Chiefs' Kevin Gill fell on it at the 34. From there the visitors moved to the 11-yard line before bogging down, and Jimmy Brown toed a 28-yard field goal with four minutes gone off the clock.

The Bulldogs couldn't move on their first possession, and Bennett, punting into a 15 mph wind, booted to the Chiefs at their own 48. On first down from there Butts broke through the left side of his line and streaked in for the score. Brown kicked the PAT with 6:04 remaining in the first.

Angered, the Bulldogs fought back with a six-play scoring drive from their 36, with Choate's 20-yard romp getting the Coahomans into Lake View territory and the scoring play coming on a 31-yard gallop by Choate. Dean Wood's conversion kick was good with 3:29 left in the first quarter.

Early in the second period the "Dogs were operating in their own end of the field when a Bennett pitchout went astray and Gill was there again to fall on it for the Chiefs at the

OFF AND RUNNING — Bulldog defender Tim Tindol (22) chases after Lake View running back Ted Butts, but this is one time the Chief wasn't caught and he went 52 yards for a touchdown. Butts had 163 yards on 31 carries for the Lake View crew.

Delegation To Press US 87 Claims For IS 27 Route

City, county and Chamber of Commerce representatives from Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Lamesa, San Angelo and San Antonio will go before the Texas Highway Commission in Austin Wednesday supporting a Lamesa-Big Spring-San Angelo route for planned southerly extension of IS 27.

Senate Bill 502 passed by Congress recently called for a feasibility study into extending IS 27 southerly from Lubbock. Several routes have been proposed, but local leaders want to see it extended along U.S. 87 through Lamesa, Big Spring, San Angelo south to intersect with IS 10 through San Antonio and on to Houston.

Among members of the Big Spring delegation to the hearing will be George McAlister, Ralph McLaughlin, W. S. Pearson, Charles Tompkins, J. D. Nelson, Tom Locke, Harry Nagel, Harold Hall and Wade Choate.

Elected spokesman for the entire group of cities is Amistead Rust, San Angelo. The hearing will commence at 9 a.m.

"At this stage of the game, we just want to get it entered into public record that we're proposing IS 27 be extended through Big Spring to connect with IS 10 south of San Angelo," said Ron Mercer, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

Representatives of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce are also expected to be present at Wednesday's hearing as may officials of Chambers and governments in other cities interested in highway projects.

Simpson Elected Jaycee President

Fred Simpson was elected president of the Big Spring Jaycees this week, filling the vacancy left by the resignation of Roy Deel.

Bobby Brasel was also elected first vice president during the meeting, taking over the position Simpson vacated to become president. Elected directors during the meet were Dr. John Key, Jerry Seay, Eddie Cole and Dennis Weaver.

The club accepted its first under-21 member last week, also. Eighteen-year-old Randy Grimes, a student at Howard County Junior College, became the first under-21 member since the new age Texas Jaycee limits, now 18-35, were passed at the state convention in May.

Three Generations Swing Under Old Mulberry Tree

By MARJ CARPENTER
 COLORADO CITY — "Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree" is not a West Texas song, but "Only Curry Descendants Under the Mulberry Tree" might be.

About six miles north of Colorado City at the Thurston Smith home is a mulberry tree, not really expected to grow when planted but which has survived for 60 years.

And during those 60 years, three generations of children in the same family have climbed in the big fat tree and swung in a swing beneath its shady branches.

Mrs. Thurston Smith who has lived at that location most of her life (since she was two years old) "can't remember when the tree wasn't there."

THROUGH PASTURES

Back in the old days everybody who went to Colorado City from the Buford Community, and the farms in between, simply rode in wagons over winding roads down through the pastures and on to what was known as Shinnery Road and on into town.

One of the Buford community neighbors came driving by in her wagon back in 1904 and stopped briefly by the fence "to pass the time of day" with Mrs. Sam Curry, who had moved to the location that year from Jones County.

The neighbor was a snuff dipper and used tree branches for what were called "tooth-brushes," Mrs. Smith recalls.

PLANTED THE BRANCH

"Mother tells the tale that she threw this branch over the fence and said, 'Here's a tooth-brush.'" Mother didn't dip snuff, so she stuck the branch in the ground."

The next day when the branch had not wilted, Mrs. Curry carried a bucket of water and poured around it. The tree grew; now it has such a large trunk, an adult can hardly reach around it with both arms.

Through the years, it has stood in the front yard as the family changed from a dugout, which Curry provided when he first arrived, to a three-room house for his family, and finally to the present home.

The home has stood for over 60 years and has gingerbread trim along the top of the roof and grey siding added in later years.

EARLY DEPUTY

Curry was a farmer and for a while in the early years, he served as a deputy sheriff. He was a slightly built man, and one night at a school program in the Longfellow Community, a group of roughnecks planned to "cause trouble and can that little deputy sheriff."

During the program a commotion started in the rear and Deputy Curry asked the group to step outside. "What you going to do, little man?," one roughneck questioned.

"This will make me bigger," Curry stated and pulled out his .45. A shot was fired outside and somebody screamed.

"Somebody shot the deputy," Mrs. Smith recalls that her blood ran cold but "it turned out nobody was hit and we went on with the program. The roughnecks left."

SMITHS MOVE IN

The Smiths moved into the home around 1942 "after Mother died." They raised a couple of daughters and a son at the location including Mrs. Don Allen, Sanderson; Ray Smith, Midland, and Mrs. Carl Brecheen, Abilene.

"We have 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. "The grandchildren all like to climb that tree," Mrs. Smith added. "We have a chinaberry tree that my father planted near the house, and it is almost as old. Yet, there's something special about that mulberry tree. All of the children have climbed in it, eaten its berries and swung in its shade."

"That tree has lost lots of branches in storms, but it's always been a healthy tree," Mrs. Smith added. It still looks like a happy tree watching for the visit of the fourth generation of the Curry family.

Bond Sales Have Gain

Sale of U.S. Savings Bonds increased in District No. 4 during August.

The total was $130,137, which made $1,011,000 for the year, or 68 per cent of the district's quota, according to Larson Lloyd, chairman.

By counties, the August sales (with cumulative totals in parenthesis) and percentage of quota, were:

Andrews $4,186 ($70,641) 118; Borden $529 ($4,360) 22; Dawson $4,186 ($74,723) 62; Fisher $3,720 ($43,412) 71; Gaines $8,001 ($73,222) 81; Howard $32,730 ($420,572) 79; Martin $1,579 ($13,415) 45; Mitchell $33,593 ($108,885) 72; Nolan $11,817 ($128,141) 47; total $130,137 ($1,011,000) 68.

Area I, in which this district is located had $130,000 sales, making $9,737,000 for the year, or 70 per cent of quota. August sales in Texas amounted to $17,913, making $155 million for the year, a gain of $12 million.

Jackpot Steer Roping Today

Thirty-three of the nation's top professional rodeo cowboys will participate in the 2 p.m. $15,000 jackpot steer roping today near Post.

The event, which benefits the West Texas Boys Ranch, will be in the arena at OS Ranch, 13 miles southeast of Post. The contest is part of a weekend extravaganza which started Friday evening with showing of paintings and drawings of the nation's leading cowboy and Western artists, including such names as Melvin Warren, John Meigs, George Shippen, Tom Ryan, Wayne Balze, and some two score others. Most of the paintings sold within a short time after opening of the exhibit, but they remain on display today.

SAN ANTONIO JAIL IS HOME Man Without A Country

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mamdouh F. Barbour, a balding middle-aged Arab, is virtually a man without a country.

He languishes in the Bexar County jail where he says he now smokes 60 cigarettes a day, polishes his English and reads the Bible.

Barbour says he would rather remain in jail here as a federal prisoner than be returned to his native Syria, although a U.S. Immigration deportation order now under appeal could send him there.

FALSE FACE

Barbour's 15-month stay in jail followed his arrest in Arlington, Tex., on charges of unlawfully entering the United States. He is charged in Syria with embezzlement of $500,000 in Syrian army funds, which he denies.

He has no country because he claims he would be killed if he was deported to Syria, because the United States government won't allow him to stay here and because, to date, he has found no other country besides Syria to be deported to.

"I am truly sad I have not had the opportunity to know the true face of America," he told an interviewer last week. "Prison is not the real face of the American society."

He said jail has caused him anguish because "after all, I was an officer in my country and a recognized personality. The life in prison is alien to me."

"WAS ALL MINE" Barbour denies taking Syrian funds and asserts the $120,000 he brought with him to this country, with part of which he bought a Cadillac, "was all mine."

He said he faces death in Syria because of his opposition to the Syria government and the Syrian army guerilla organization which he was forced to join. His attorneys are appealing to the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals a federal judge's denial for him to make bond and to the U.S. Immigration Board of Appeals in Washington the ruling that he will be deported to Syria if other countries refuse him.

"I have great hopes that justice in the U.S. will allow me to remain here," he says. He wants to open an Arab restaurant after his release.

Nixon Brother 'Bugs' Probed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A probe into the possible wiretapping of phone conversations between a former aide to billionaire Howard Hughes and Donald Nixon, the President's brother, will begin immediately in Washington, according to Asst. U.S. Attorney John R. Lusk.

Lusk said here the investigation was requested after the Washington Post reported on Sept. 6 that the President had ordered his brother's phone tapped for the past few years because he feared embarrassment from the latter's financial disclosures.

Lusk said the coming investigation was called only to determine whether former Hughes aide John H. Meier, currently under indictment here on federal income tax evasion charges, was "subject to electronic surveillance."

Meier's attorneys asked for transcripts of any conversations between Meier and Donald Nixon if any were, in fact, recorded.

Well, Now How About Bourbon?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Navy has a new recruiting gimmick — milk carton advertising.

A Navy recruiting poster has been reproduced on the side panel of about two million quart cartons of milk being sold throughout Northern California and Nevada.

"Milk seems a natural product for appealing to the volunteers we're after," said Fred Larson of the Navy Recruiting District in San Francisco, saying the service was looking for "kids from 17 to 24 who need a job."

"A message on, say, a good bottle of scotch wouldn't be as appropriate," he added.

WATERGATE? No, It's The Waterleak Project At Courthouse

By JOHN EDWARDS
Washington has its Watergate; Howard County has its Waterleak.

Water instead of information is leaking at the courthouse. Buckets and wet ceiling spots have been seen in many of the third-floor offices where 118th District Court officials work.

Jerry Murphy, a licensed plumber from Garden City, has been working on the leaky pipes between the third floor ceiling and jail floor.

Courthouse officials here first began to fight leaks about five years after the court house was built in about 1952. Leaks were blamed on an "economy" move to install galvanized steel rather than copper pipes between floors. Officials were seeking to get the maximum building space within the available money.

In 1970, extensive repairs to courthouse plumbing were authorized. Judge Mitchell emphasized that this project was initiated before he took office.

Homer Ward, city plumbing and electrical inspector, discovered repairs were being made by regular maintenance labor and without the supervision of a licensed plumber and notified County Commissioners Court.

Boe Clark, a Big Spring master plumber, said that when the court approached him, the work had been going on without licensed supervision for a couple of months, and that possibly that much work remained.

Part of the problem at that time was a leaky and stopped-up jail shower, Clark recalled.

Some of the galvanized steel pipe was replaced with copper tubing, but some of the steel pipe was left, particularly that which was not readily accessible or set in concrete.

Referring to records, Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, placed cost of the 1970 repairs at around $8,000.

Present problems result in part from a failure to install insulated connections between steel and copper pipe. Judge Mitchell said plumbers have told him.

Robert Frost Poem Shared

BOSTON (AP) — A short poem written by Robert Frost shortly before he died was published for the first time in Boston today.

The Boston Herald-American, which published the poem, said it was given a copy of it Friday by George Gloss, a bookstore owner, who said he thought it should be shared.

Gloss said he got it from Janet Forbes, who substituted as Frost's private nurse at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital here. Frost won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry four times.

The poem is written on a note addressed to "Miss Forbes" and was dated Jan. 9, 1963, 20 days before Frost died.

It reads:
"I met you on a cloudy dark day and when you smiled and spoke my room was filled with sunshine
"The way you smiled at me Has given my heart a change of mood and saved some part of a day I had rued"

Gloss said Miss Forbes told him that on her last day as the poet's nurse Frost asked her for a scrap of paper, borrowed her pen, wrote and then gave her the paper.

Former Captive Of Reds To Wed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Navy Cmdr. Everett Alvarez, who spent more time than any other American as a prisoner of war in North Vietnam, will marry a Pittsburgh girl in October, her family has confirmed.

The 35-year-old Alvarez will wed Tammy Ilyas at St. George Orthodox Church on Oct. 27 the prospective bride's mother said Friday.

Alvarez was held captive near Hanoi for 8 1/2 years after being shot down Aug. 5, 1964. He presently is assigned to the Oakland, Calif., Naval Hospital.

During his captivity, he was divorced by his wife of four months. Neither Alvarez nor Miss Ilyas, who works as a passenger service representative for United Airlines in Washington, D.C., could be reached for comment. Her family declined to say how the couple met or how long they had known each other.

Settles Still Traditional Center For Club Luncheons

By ANN STEVENS
 Old World atmosphere, home style cooking and convenient location apparently are major factors behind the popularity of the Settles Hotel as a meeting place for civic clubs and organizations about town. Four civic organizations — the Rotary Club, Downtown Lions Club, Kiwanis Club and American Businessmen's Organization — hold regular weekly luncheons at the hotel, but, according to coffee shop manager Bill Lyons, the second floor meeting facilities, thus the space is booked Tuesday through Friday.

meeting rooms are rarely left vacant. Miscellaneous groups including the Chamber of Commerce, Business Women's Club, Board of Realtors and the Masons, utilize the open date at the Settles for their monthly or semi-monthly meetings.

"It's a custom to come here for many of the people. After all the hotel is 43 years old. A lot of people just sort of gravitate here and have been coming for a generation or more," said Lyons. Luncheons are always buffets with what Lyons calls "homeclass" cooking. "Oh, we can go uptown when necessary, but usually we strive to good ordinary fare," he remarked. Clubs are either billed on a monthly basis, or else individual members pay for their own meals, which usually run $2. Room rental fees are not charged.

BY CHOICE
 "I'm not much in favor of contracts," said Lyons. "We go by gentlemen's agreements. If people want to stop meeting here, there's no sense in trying to bind them with a contract."

Three main meeting rooms are available to organizations, all on the second of the hotel's 16 floors. The large ballroom, decorated in white and green with gold chandeliers and trim, can seat up to 250 and has a piano and public address system.

Two smaller rooms, one seating 35 and another seating 75, are suggested for smaller groups. One of the chief drawing cards of the hotel, Lyons noted, is its central location for businessmen in the heart of the downtown area. "Also, we're still sort of a landmark. It used to be the tallest building in West Texas," Lyons reminisced, adding that Midland and Odessa have taller structures now of 20 stories.

Pay Increase
 HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Louie Welch says the city of Houston should know by Oct. 10 what kind of pay increase it can give its employees this year.

Sign Of Times?
 NEWARK (AP) — "Welcome Robbery," read the sign outside the Howard Johnson Motel here. It was not an invitation to thieves, but rather a welcome for 175 robbery detectives from East Coast police departments attending their convention Friday. The purpose of the meeting is to trade information about suspects and their methods, a spokesman explained.

Wonder Who Snapped 'Hot' Rape Photos?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — William Oliver Nicholas of Houston got his 35-year rape sentence reversed because officers illegally seized negatives showing him having sexual intercourse with an 11-year-old girl.

Houston policemen arrested Nicholas at his apartment Feb. 27, 1971, at the request of New Mexico authorities, who said he had violated his parole.

The officers noticed it was unusually warm in the apartment. When they turned off electric burners on the kitchen stove and checked the apartment thermostat they noticed several negatives on the stove and on a shelf separating the kitchen from the living room.

One officer held up a negative to the light "and observed what he thought was 'an illegal act,'" the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals said.

By printing the negatives the officers were able to track down the girl and prosecute Nicholas for the Sept. 15, 1970, statutory rape of the girl, a crime that had not been reported.

An exception to the doctrine that officers may not seize items unrelated to the purpose of the arrest is the "plain view" rule.

The prosecution argued that the negatives were in plain view of the officers, but the court said the officers would not have known what the negatives showed if they had not picked them up and looked at them against a light.

The case was remanded to the trial court.

Garage Nears Completion

Construction on the new $110,000 city garage is in its final stages with only finishing touches left to be put on by Wadleigh Construction Co.

Electrical work and plumbing should be wrapped up Monday, according to garage superintendent Max Pitts.

Although exact completion date is not known, Pitts said he and his secretary will move their offices into the new steel building Wednesday or Thursday.

The 10,800-square-foot multi-room structure will house a complete machine shop and service shop for city vehicles. Five mechanics and three service men will work out of the centrally heated and air-conditioned structure on Second Street.

The old garage, some 2,500 square feet in size, will be used for storage, Pitts said. The new facility is on the same tract as the old garage and the public works field office.

Local Cyclists Go To Ruidoso

Around 50 motorcyclists from Big Spring left in small groups at different times during the past two days for Ruidoso, N.M., and the gathering of cycle enthusiasts this weekend.

Activities will include a motorcycle race at Ruidoso Downs and a big barbecue for cyclists from throughout West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

Students Listed On Honor Roll

Two Big Spring students are among those on the honor roll for the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences at the University of Texas Austin during the spring semester. They were Pamela Sue Marcum, 1506 Dayton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carl Marcum, who rated the highest rank, summa cum laude, and Jeffrey H. Murdock, 2406 Robb Drive, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murdock, ampla cum laude.

Werst Attending National Meet

GARDEN CITY — Oliver Werst, county agent for Glasscock County and outgoing president of the Texas Association of County Agents, is representing the state at the national meeting this week.

Werst has gone to Baltimore, Maryland for the meeting. He presided at the annual state meeting in Austin in August at which time, Frank Stockton, a South Texas agent, was elected new president of the group.

PRESENT AMENDMENT NO. I PROPOSED CHANGE

Article IV, Section 1. Commission and appointive offices generally.
The governing body of the City of Big Spring shall consist of a city commission, composed of five commissioners, one of whom shall be the mayor of the city. The members of the city commission shall be elected in the manner hereinafter provided. All other offices of the city shall be appointive.

Article IV, Section 1. City Council.
Whenever the terms Commission and Commissioner appear throughout this Charter will hereafter be changed to Councilmen and-or Councilwomen and Council.

Article IV, Section 1a. Council and Appointive Offices Generally.
The governing body of the City of Big Spring shall consist of four (4) councilmen and-or councilwomen and a mayor, and shall be known as the "City Council of Big Spring." The members of the city council, which include the four councilmen and-or councilwomen and the mayor, shall be the only elected officers of the city, shall be elected from the city at large. The councilmen and-or councilwomen shall be elected to and occupy a place on the council, such places being numbered 1 through 4 consecutively. Each councilman and-or councilwoman who shall be in office at the time this Charter amendment, having been duly approved by the qualified voters of the City of Big Spring, shall continue in their respective positions until the expiration of their terms of office and until their successors have been duly elected and qualified.

Article V, Section 2. Selection of mayor.
The said city commission shall, at their first meeting after election, or as soon thereafter as practicable, select one of their number to serve as mayor of the city, who shall serve until his term of office as commissioner expires. Whenever the office of mayor becomes vacant, due to death, resignation, expiration of term of office, or otherwise, the city commission shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, appoint one of their members to fill the office, who shall serve as mayor until his term of office as commissioner expires.

Article V, Section 2. Elections.
If a vacancy occurs in either councilmen and-or councilwomen or mayor, the remaining members of the council, by a majority vote, shall appoint a qualified resident to fill such office for the remainder of the term of such vacancy, the successor must possess all qualifications required for the office. Where more than one vacancy shall develop at one time, then a special election shall be called and members of the council, elected at such special election shall fill such office for the remainder of the term for the place to which each has been elected. If such vacancies occur within ninety (90) days of a general election, then no special election shall be called.

Article V, Section 6. Canvass of returns and declaration of election results.
The city commission shall, within ten days after each regular and special election, canvass the returns and declare the results.

Article V, Section 6. Canvass of Returns and Declaration of Election Results.
The city council shall within ten days after every municipal election, canvass the returns and declare the results. In an election for councilman and-or councilwoman or mayor, the qualified person receiving a majority of the qualified votes for the position for which he was a candidate at such election shall thereupon be declared by the Council to have been elected. In the event any candidate fails to receive a majority of the qualified votes polled at such regular election for the office for which he is a candidate, the council shall immediately order a special election to be held not less than ten (10) days nor more than twenty (20) days after the results of the regular election shall have been declared. At such special election the names of the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes cast at the regular election for the office for which they are candidates shall be submitted for the election and the candidate receiving the majority of votes at such special election for the position for which he was a candidate shall be declared duly elected.

Article V, Section 7. Candidate's application.
Candidates shall file sworn application in writing with the mayor of the City of Big Spring at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of election and no candidate's name shall be printed upon the official ballot unless such procedure is followed; however, in the event of a change in the laws of the State of Texas in such matters, the mandatory provisions of any such applicable Statutes shall be complied with.

Article V, Section 7. Filing of Candidates.
Any qualified person who desires to become a candidate for election to the city council shall file with the city secretary, at least thirty (30) days prior to the election day, an application for his name to appear on the ballot. Such application shall clearly designate the position on the council to which the candidate seeks election and shall contain a sworn statement by candidate that he is fully qualified under the Laws of Texas and the provisions of this Charter to hold the office he seeks.

AMENDMENT NO. II

Article IV, Section 5. Qualifications of commissioners.
The commissioners shall be resident citizens of the City of Big Spring, have the qualifications of electors therein, and shall have been resident citizens of the City of Big Spring for a period of two years immediately preceding such election.

Article IV, Section 5. Qualifications of Councilmen and Councilwomen.
Each member of the City Council in addition to having other qualifications prescribed by law shall be a qualified voter of the city, shall have resided for at least one year preceding his election within the corporate limits of the city, shall not be in arrears in the payment of any taxes or other liabilities due the city. If a member of the Council shall cease to possess any of these qualifications he shall immediately forfeit his office.

AMENDMENT NO. III

Article IV, Section 10. Ordinances and resolutions to be read at three meetings; exception.
No ordinance or resolution, except it be an emergency measure, shall be passed until it has been read at three meetings of the city commission, one of which shall be a regular meeting. The affirmative vote of all the members of the commission present shall be necessary to dispense with this requirement by declaring the existence of an emergency. The city commission shall, within its discretion, declare what measures are emergency measures, and any ordinance or resolution carrying an emergency clause shall be construed to be an emergency measure, which emergency measure shall be set forth and defined in the preamble or in the closing section of such ordinance or resolution.

Article IV, Section 10. Ordinances and Resolutions To Be Read at Two Meetings; Exception.
No ordinance or resolution, except it be an emergency measure, shall be passed until it has been read at two meetings of the City Council, one of which shall be a regular meeting. The affirmative vote of all the members of the Council present shall be necessary to dispense with this requirement by declaring the existence of an emergency. The City Council shall, within its discretion, declare what measures are emergency measures, and any ordinance or resolution carrying an emergency clause shall be construed to be an emergency measure, which emergency measure shall be set forth and defined in the preamble or in the closing section of such ordinance or resolution.

AMENDMENT NO. IV

Article V, Section 8. Qualified electors.
All persons who are qualified electors under the general laws of the state, and who shall have resided for six months immediately preceding an election within the corporate limits of the City of Big Spring, and shall have paid the city poll tax, if the same be required by the city commission, shall be deemed qualified electors. But in all elections to determine the expenditure of money or assumption of debt, or issuance of bonds, only those shall be qualified to vote who pay taxes upon property within the city.

Article V, Section 8. Qualified Electors.
All persons who are qualified electors under the general laws of the state and who are residents of the City of Big Spring shall be deemed qualified electors.

'Come Play With Me'

By JO BRIGHT

"Come play with me," beckoned the pretty child. Turning toward the doll house, her small fingers closed about the shiny, magic circle that unlocks the door to "Make-Believe."

Susan Diane Crocker is five years old — and for a little longer — the magic door will swing easily to and fro.

Susan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard V. Crocker Jr., 1740 Purdue, is like every little girl — she has a grandfather who adores her. And he happens to be handy with a hammer.

When Susan wished for a doll house, "Burr" Crocker saw no reason his granddaughter shouldn't have a very special one: a labor of love that would last all the years of her childhood.

The building began in the warm days of April and now, (as the social season begins) it is time for an "open house." Using bits and pieces of time, Crocker devoted about 200 hours of labor to the project.

Built of 1/4-inch ply wood and framed with 2 by 2's, the 6 by 8-foot play house is sturdy enough to withstand wind and weather for a long, long while. The floor is made of three layers of 1/4-inch plywood, glued together and re-inforced with 2 by 4's. Designed with a beam ceiling, the house is topped with a white plywood striped roof, and the outside walls are natural wood, varnished to a satiny shine.

Aluminum sliding windows are installed on each side, allowing the flow of a summer breeze, and amber windows on the front capture the golden glow from the sun. A matching window centers the slab door, which is painted deep red and protected by an aluminum screen with decorative grill. On the south wall, louvers can be covered with a swinging door when winter comes, and when the postman calls, he can leave Susan's letters in a black lacquered mailbox.

Inside the doll house, there is gold shag carpet over padding, and Crocker has installed electricity. Near the ceiling is a revolving, decorative light, and there is one plug connection for a little homemaker's household appliances.

The furnishings fit just right. There's a stove in one corner, an all-purpose table, two chairs (for kaffee klatsches) and a pink bed and high chair for the "baby."

Yes, even little ladies like a place to call their own — to cook and clean and entertain at tea.

And when they smile at grandfather, and hug his neck, how can he say "no"?

"COME PLAY WITH ME", SAYS SUSAN CROCKER

Take Spots Off

White spots caused by hot dishes or standing water usually can be removed from varnished furniture.

If mild or fresh, rub with camphorated oil. For stubborn spots, try dipping a finger in salad oil and then in table salt. Rub. Repeat until spot disappears.

Continued rubbing however, may mar the surface which will necessitate refinishing.

Art, Crafts Techniques Illustrated

Mrs. Celine Yoverton, Amarillo, illustrated and discussed several types of art and craft techniques Thursday for members of Busy Bee Hobby Club at the Hobby Center and Frame Gallery.

In the oriental art division, Mrs. Yoverton decorated an unfinished jewelry box, first basting it with gold leafing and then drawing designs with black India ink.

An art form of "rub-outs" was also shown. She basted a board with Gesso, painted it and rubbed out designs with a cloth. On another board, she used a pallet knife to put modeling paste on a board, making a raised background. Mrs. Yoverton then painted pictures on the paste using acrylic paints. Other methods shown by the speaker included "Flemish" illumination, tinsel and illusion art.

The group will meet again at 9:30 a.m., Thursday in the First Federal Community Room.

Add Shelves In Kitchen Area

Need more space for electric and other kitchen appliances and utensils? Base-end shelves may be added to kitchen room-divider cabinets.

New Mom Needs Handy Apron

Anyone who can sew a little can make a most appreciated apron for a new mother. Use easy-to-clean vinyl, possibly color-coordinated with the nursery and an old apron as a pattern. Cut the shape and stitch as usual. Now, from clear vinyl, cut a series of pockets — small ones for the top, and roomy storage sections for the skirt part. Stitch them securely in place.

Colorful pictures tucked into the top pockets will interest baby while being changed or bathed. The lower pockets hold pins and changing items. And the apron itself keeps mom and dad dry at bath time.

Group Sex

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 33 and I am 26. We've been married for four years, and have always had a fulfilled marriage. We are both very attractive people.

Our sex life lacks nothing, and, I should add, I am very broad-minded and don't mind doing whatever it takes to please my husband.

The problem is, the more I do the things he wants, the kinkier he gets. Now he wants to get into group sex. He keeps bringing these people over who are into that sort of thing, and they're trying to get me involved in it.

Abby, I would do practically anything to please my husband, but this group thing turns me off. He is very persistent, and says I shouldn't knock anything I haven't tried.

How do you feel about this? No name or town, please.

OLD-FASHIONED GIRL

DEAR GIRL: To me, the sexual expression of love is a beautiful, private thing between two people. Using sex to achieve the ultimate in a "thrill," which could conceivably include the whole neighborhood, is for animals.

I'll not only knock group sex, I'll knock wood against its becoming a popular national pastime.

DEAR ABBY: You recently chided Roy Rosenberg for reporting that years ago a 40-year-old shepherd in Wyoming married a 10-year-old girl, saying: "Aw, come on, 10-year-olds aren't permitted to marry in the U.S.A."

I am enclosing a newspaper clipping dated Feb. 1, 1937, showing a "bashful" bride, age 9, and her 22-year-old Tennessee mountaineer husband! The bride's parents were all for it, and in those days it was apparently legal.

SPARTA, ILL., READER

DEAR READER: I am informed by Doris, Sen. Howard Baker's secretary, that in order to obtain a Tennessee marriage license today, the applicants must be 18 (without parental consent) and 16 with! But in cases where the applicants lie about their ages, if the parents do not contest it, the couple are considered married.

DEAR ABBY: I am boiling! Mr. Boss asked you to publish an "open letter" to his secretary in which he tells her that he wishes she would please keep her personal problems to herself. He says he is not a financial advisor, neither is he a marriage counselor, and he doesn't want her to waste his time (or hers) crying on his shoulder at the office. Well, I have a letter for HIM.

Dear Boss:

In the six months I have worked for you, I know just about everything there is to know about your family situation. I really don't care if your wife is cold, and that you'd divorce her in a minute if it weren't for your children. Also, I don't care if you do think I have beautiful hair, lovely eyes, great legs. Also, I DO NOT want to join you to "relax" after office hours with a cocktail.

I don't wish to discuss my private life with you, and some of the questions you ask are pretty embarrassing.

I am no "Dear Abby," so don't tell me your problems because I have no desire to become part of them.

And by the way, when I find another job that pays me what this one does, I'll give you my two-weeks' notice. Meanwhile, since you think I'm such an excellent secretary, how about a raise?

YOUR SECRETARY

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Longtin of Slaton announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Tomi Corrine, to William Wiley Sledge III, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sledge Jr., 4044 Vicky. The wedding will be an event of Dec. 29 in the First Christian Church, Slaton.

BRIDGE MARATHON — Mrs. China Long and Mrs. Juanita Seitzler discuss the NSA bridge marathon schedule with Mrs. Shirley Ryals, right, chapter president. Mrs. Tommie Bryans, marathon chairman, was unable to be present for the picture. Mrs. Long and Mrs. Seitzler are chapter members who recently received Certified Professional Secretary ratings.

Scholarships Funded By Bridge Games

Local bridge players have again signed up for the annual Bridge Marathon sponsored by the local chapter of National Secretaries Association.

Mrs. Tommie Bryans, chairman for the fund-raising event, said there are currently three different marathons in progress. One women's group is filled to capacity, as well as one couples' group, however, there are openings for about six more couples in a third group. Persons interested in playing should contact Mrs. Bryans at 263-3703.

Proceeds from the marathon are used to provide scholarships at Howard County Junior College for students who are interested in entering the secretarial field. The NSA serves as sponsor for a Future Secretaries Association chapter at the college, which will install its officers in November.

During a recent meeting of the NSA, two members

Scouts Set 'Families' Camp Days

High interest is evident among West Texas Girl Scout leaders for the Family Weekend planned for Nov. 2-4 at Camp Boothe Oaks, Sweetwater, according to Beth Nowotny, executive director.

Any registered adult Girl Scout and his or her family may attend the council-wide event for fun, fellowship and food.

A potluck supper (of family favorite dishes to be shared) is scheduled for 7:30 Friday.

Families will be assigned to tents and cabins in the four units at Boothe Oaks, the established camp for the West Texas Girl Scout Council. Families will bring their own cots, bedding, clothing and personal items.

Mrs. Lin Bell, field director, Big Spring, says registrants may indulge in outdoor cooking, talk sessions, campfire, and other programs or "just relax and enjoy being there."

Register with the West Texas Girl Scout Council, P.O. Box 5586, Abilene, Tex., before Oct. 22. The fee is $4 per person.

Trends In Education Viewed By Sorority

"Trends in Education," an account of major changes in education at all levels, was presented Thursday evening by Mrs. Harold Bentley for members of Alpha Chi Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, in the home of Mrs. Charles Campbell, 1506 Cherokee.

"Schools as we know them today won't exist in the year 2000," said Mrs. Bentley. She said the advent of television has made many changes in school instructional methods, as well as exposing children to a much broader spectrum of subjects.

Also, Mrs. Bentley

discussed what used to be called "special education," saying many new concepts are being used to teach students with learning disabilities. She said educators are not all agreed on how these students should be taught, but the current trend is toward more integration with students without disabilities. A question and answer period followed the discussion.

Mrs. Bobbi Lord presided during business. It was announced that Mrs. Bonnie McDaniel was named vice president, and Mrs. Bentley became welfare and general awards chairman. It was announced that $250 worth of clothing and miscellaneous items were donated to Big Spring State Hospital. Also, several members assisted at the Jerry Lewis telethon for muscular dystrophy during

Labor Day weekend. The women agreed to change regular meeting days from the second and fourth Thursday of each month to Mondays, the next one being at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 8 in the home of Mrs. Lord, 2707 Carol.

ART PRINT COLLECTION FOR RENT
Larry Justiss and Mrs. Calvin Daniels set up display

Fine Art Prints Now Available At Library

Beginning Oct. 9 all residents will be able to enjoy fine art in their homes, without the expense of purchasing a single picture.

The Friends of the Library, a group working for the betterment of the Howard County Library, has acquired a circulating art print collection which cardholders may check out on a rental basis. Seventeen prints are now on hand, and nine more have been ordered, and are due for delivery next month.

For a charge of only $1.50 per picture for six weeks, residents may rent the prints for use in their home, office or other suitable building. In this way, the decor may be changed at the whim of the "renter," with very little outlay of cash.

The prints now on hand, and the artists who painted them, are "Old Vermont," C. Blish; "Bridging Louis Phillippe," De Gallard; "Peachtree in Bloom," Van Gogh; "Rio Hondo," Peter Hurd; "Poppies," Buffet; "Jerry Jimmy," J. Lutes; "Quiet Anchorage," Bria; "Gray and Gold," J. R. Cox; "By Candle Light," J. Bling; "Primavera," Ida Pelle; "Flowers on a White Background," Padua; "Fishing Nets," Le Ba Dang; "Mother and Child,"

S. Schoneberg; "Landscape Near Paris," Renoir; "Senecio," Paul Klee; "Notre Dame," Utrillo; and "Girl With Broom," Rembrandt.

Friends of the Library is also sponsoring a full slate of book reviews for the coming season. Mrs. Harold Davis will be featured at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 15, doing "The Battered Bride — Or Things Your Mother Never Told You."

Mrs. Clyde Thomas, will review in November, followed by Mrs. Herman Smith, February; Mrs. Clyde Angel, April; and Mrs. R.B.G. Cowper, May.

"I hope everyone who is interested in books and a better library will make room on their calendar for these events," said Mrs. Calvin Daniels, president of Friends of the Library.

"They promise to be interesting evenings and well worth setting aside the time now."

Synthetics Fill Fall Style Bill

The shortage of natural fibers, particularly wool, has caused designers and textile manufacturers to make even more fall fashions for '73 in synthetics. Many of them simulate the naturals but have the advantage of wonderful washability. Synthetics show up as corduroys, velveteens, wool-like jerseys, sweater knits, fake furs and flannels. Tailorability is not sacrificed, and many designers find that the man-made fabrics print more colorfully than the naturals. The lighter weight of synthetics can mean more comfortable, year round wear.

Disposals End Messy Chore

Food disposers fit in the kitchen sink drain to take the messiest job out of cooking — emptying food scraps. Look for models which can take most kinds of scraps, including stringy vegetables and small bones, and which can eliminate jams automatically. Some disposers require manual unclogging with a long wooden spoon, tongs or broom handle.

Safety features are very important in disposers. Some new models will start only when a cover is placed over the drain — a good precaution against utensils slipping into the mechanism while it is grinding. The cover also eliminates splashback. If the disposer is operated by a wall switch, be sure it is out of the reach of children.

WINNING CARD
 This is how your card will look if you have a winner

THIS WEEK'S BINGO CARD COLOR PURPLE

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS

RULES OF THE GAME

PLAY AS MANY CARDS AS YOU WISH!

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your Free Bingo Cards from the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. You may, however, make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY — THE BETTER YOUR CHANCES ARE TO WIN.
HOW TO PLAY: Check the ads in EACH DAY'S issue of The Big Spring Herald. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally, numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol may be found elsewhere in the paper. Check the classified ad section for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS WITH THE TOTAL OF THE NUMBERS PUBLISHED IN ALL ISSUES OF THE BIG SPRING HERALD EACH WEEK — YOU HAVE A "BINGO"! — AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!!
AT LEAST $50.00 WEEKLY!!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50.00 (in "Bingo Bucks" — they spend the same as cash with any of the sponsoring merchants listed below). If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50.00. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50.00 equally. If there are no winners any week, the $50.00 weekly prize will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE PAPER: A new game will start each Sunday and be completed the following Friday. Be sure to check each day's issue of The Big Spring Herald because some of the numbers may appear in each day's issue. All numbers needed to complete each week's game will have appeared by each Friday's issue. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published for each week's game. A new color of Bingo cards will be available each week at the sponsoring merchants' stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced each week on this page.
IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, on which all 24 numbers have been matched with the total of numbers published during the week in The Big Spring Herald, print your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card, on the back of your card and mail to: The Big Spring Herald, 710 Scurry Street, Big Spring, Texas 79720, Box 1431 (the envelope containing your card must be received by 5:00 P.M. Monday of the following week) — or bring your card to the office of this newspaper at 710 Scurry Street, Big Spring, Texas, by 5:00 P.M. Monday of the following week.
NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper — also at the public library — also a Bingo card and/or copies of The Big Spring Herald, containing the Bingo numbers may be obtained by mailing your request to this newspaper (please print your name and address clearly). You may play as many cards as you wish — they are free. Get additional cards — one at a time — each day of the week — from the merchants listed below (ADULTS ONLY).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards change each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.
CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn strictly at random at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads — or elsewhere in the paper. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will appear somewhere in the sponsoring merchants' ads — and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and members of their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes. Newspaper Bingo is a program copyrighted and registered by Marketing-Research Associates, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Lamesa Couple Has Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thompson, Lamesa, observed their 50th wedding anniversary Friday evening with a family dinner in their home at 1509 N. 1st, Lamesa.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were married Sept. 28, 1923 in Lamesa by Mr. Pate, a Church of Christ minister, and have lived there since that time.

Mrs. Thompson is the former Blanche Austin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Austin. She was born in Cross Plains and moved to Lamesa with her family in 1918. Her father helped lay the rails for the Santa Fe Railway into Lamesa.

Thompson was born in Erath County, the son of the late Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Thompson. He came to Lamesa to work for the railroad in 1922. He was employed by the Cosden consigneer for many years, and in 1946 he went into business for himself as a service man on pumps and gasoline service station equipment. He retired in 1970.

The honorees have three daughters who were present with their families for the dinner. They are Mrs. Elvin (Lloyd Ola) Bearden and Mrs. Dick (La Vera) Mitchell, both of Big Spring, and Mrs. David (Olveyne) Hayes, Snyder. They also have one granddaughter and four grandsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are members of Lamesa's First Methodist Church. She was a choir member for many years, and both have been active in church activities. She held offices in the Berean Sunday school class, and he served in the Men's Bible Class. Also, Mrs. Thompson taught music lessons for guitar, piano and banjo, and was an Avon products representative for many years. The honorees are members of Order of Eastern Star

Tells Exam Techniques For Cancer

Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., service chairman for the American Cancer Society, showed a film Friday which demonstrated methods of breast self-examination for women. She spoke to members of City Home Demonstration Club at First Federal Community Room.

Mrs. Thomas emphasized the importance of making monthly breast examinations, and said if any lumps appear, a woman should see her physician immediately for diagnosis. Also, she said bandages and other supplies are furnished for many cancer patients. Anyone knowing of a need for such items may contact her.

Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. M. F. Hodnett, and devotion was by Mrs. Frances Zant. A report on the recent Texas H.D. Association state meeting in Waco was given by Mrs. Waymon Elchison. She said the keynote speaker was Representative Omar Burleson. Delegates attended workshops on family life, citizenship, safety, cultural arts, recreation, health and 4-H activities. Others attending from Big Spring were Mrs. C. A. Smauley and Mrs. J. C. Williams.

Guests were Mrs. C. M. Roberts and Mrs. Garland Sanders. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., Oct. 12 in the home of Mrs. W. D. Duggan, 2305 Cindy.

A LOVELIER YOU

Flattering Fashions Cover Drawbacks

By MARY SUE MILLER

Fall fashions are generally becoming, more so than in many seasons. Even so, all aspects of fashion do not please lovelies. One's opinions are colored by one's personal qualifications.

A girl with bad legs is not enthusiastic about above-knee skirts. Given an over-generous bosom, a woman can hardly look with favor on jersey slinks. It seems woman makes the clothes via making astute selections.

Figure problems are not the only drawback to carrying the fashion day. Grooming problems are right up there. In the grooming department, a little slip may result in a major disaster. Rough elbows, for example, are a disaster area. Likewise fuzz on the legs and arms.

Just how do you judge a toss of dull locks above a sleek, black dinner dress? Your eye quickly takes in the simple dress and focuses on the lady. The transfer occurs more quickly if the dress is a wild pattern, for the eyes tire of it.

Actually, because of the character of present day fashions, everything about one's physical appearance — hands, hair, nails, makeup — attracts notice. You really cannot overlook the smallest grooming detail.

Without doubt, that's all to the good. It forces us to make the most of our best selves. Not to be used by fashion, but to use fashion as an expression.

STRICTLY PERSONAL
Everything you need to know about deodorants, anti-perspirants and depilatories is contained in my leaflet, "Strictly Personal." All doubts are cleared up about why, what, when and how to use these safeguards of femininity.

B&PW Plans District Meet

Plans for a District 8 conference of Business and Professional Women's Clubs were finalized Tuesday evening by the local group at the Holiday Inn.

The district event is scheduled Oct. 6-7 in Seminole, with Mrs. Kathy Williams presiding. Attending from Big Spring will be Mrs. Charles Summers, Miss Helen Willard and Mrs. Bert Affleck.

Highlight of the conference will be a talk by Mrs. Darlene Bonner, Jackboro, state representative. The meeting theme will be "Busy Bees - Challenge for Commitment." Clubs participating will be from Andrews, Big Spring, Brownfield, El Paso, Midland, Monahans, Odessa, Pecos and Seminole.

Miss Willard presided at Tuesday's dinner meeting, and a program, "Women In Government," was given by Mrs. Summers. She said B&PW Clubs should actively work to get qualified and capable women to run for political offices at the city and county levels.

It was announced the club Party Given For Tina Maxwell

The birthday of Tina Lyn Maxwell, 1, was observed Wednesday evening. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maxwell, El Paso, formerly of Big Spring. Guests for the party held in the Maxwell home were the Bill Robinsons, formerly of Big Spring, and the Jose Gonzales, formerly of Lamesa.

MRS. KATHY WILLIAMS

will again sell pecans this year, and they will be available in mid-November. Anybody interested may contact any member. Also, the group will hold a garage sale Oct. 26-27 at the home of Mrs. A. G. Eitzen, 2601 Carol.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Robert Foster, Mrs. Robert Dillard, Mrs. W. H. Crenshaw, Mrs. A. G. Eitzen, Mrs. Ruby Bruns and Mrs. Delphia Gordon.

Avoid Streaks On Wood Panels

Wood paneling with a vinyl or polyurethane finish is long on looks and short on care. It is easily cleaned with suds and water, but rinse and dry a small area at a time to avoid streaking.

MRS. LOUIS PADRON

Couple United In Marriage

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Guadalupe Gonzales and Louis Padron at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church. The rites were performed by the Rev. Louis Moeller.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. L. upe Gonzales, 400 NW 10th, and Padron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Padron of the Kent Morgan Ranch.

The bride wore a formal-length gown of white satin with an overlay of Chantilly lace. A high stand-up collar was enhanced with lace appliques, and matching lace accented the leg-of-mutton sleeves. A cluster of lace petals outlined with pearls held her illusion veil which was edged with lace. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Crescencio Ontiveros, Midway, served as matron of honor and wore a floor-length white gown fashioned with long puffed sleeves and a high collar. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Serving as bridesmatron was Mrs. Arnulfo Hernandez. Her floor-length lavender gown featured long sleeves and a rounded neckline, and she carried lavender tinted carnations.

The attendants wore bands of flowered ribbon in their hair.

Crescencio Ontiveros was best man, and groomsmen was Arnulfo Hernandez. Serving as cushion maids were the bride's sister, Miss Susie Gonzales, and Miss Connie Salazar.

Mr. and Mrs. Padron will reside in Coahoma, where he is employed by Bill Rite Pallet Company. He attended Coahoma schools and Mrs. Padron attended Big Spring schools.

A reception honored the couple in the church fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony. Relatives of the couple assisted at the serving tables.

Need Volunteers At Rehab Center

There is a pressing need for several more volunteer workers at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, according to Jim Thompson, director. Receptionist help is needed from 1 to 5 p.m., Fridays, and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, Tuesdays. Persons wishing to help should contact Mrs. Sue Sewell at the center, 267-6387.

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING

Diet, Heart Disease

By SHERRY MULLIN (MD Asst)

Relation of diet to heart disease is probably the most controversial medical-dietary area today. Both doctors and the public question how fats in the diet affect health or development of heart disease.

Atherosclerosis is a disease in which large and small arteries are narrowed and hardened by deposits of fatty materials and minerals along internal walls. Other names are used to refer to this condition — cardiovascular disease, coronary heart disease and arteriosclerosis.

Fats in the diet may lead to elevated blood lipids and atherosclerosis. This, in turn, can lead to cardiovascular diseases such as coronary heart disease.

However, diet is believed to be only one of many factors associated with atherosclerosis. Others include heredity, overweight condition, high blood pressure, high blood cholesterol and high blood lipids, and cigarette smoking. Other important factors associated with the disease are the individual's life style or socioeconomic level, of exercise, stress, and such metabolic diseases as diabetes.

Since diet is thought to be just one factor among many, authorities advise against making drastic, self-prescribed changes in diets. It is not advisable or even possible to eliminate saturated fats and cholesterol completely, for they appear to some extent in many essential foods.

To control your intake of cholesterol-rich foods:

Eat no more than three egg yolks a week, including eggs in cooking.

Limit your use of shellfish and organ meats.

To control the amount and type of fat you eat:

In most of your meat meals for the week, use fish, chicken, turkey, and veal. Limit beef, lamb, and pork to five moderate-sized portions per week.

Choose lean cuts of meat, trim visible fat and discard the fat that cooks out of the meat.

Avoid deep fat frying. Use cooking methods that help to remove fat (baking, broiling, roasting, stewing).

Restrict your use of fatty "luncheon" and "variety" meats like sausage and salami.

Instead of butter and other cooking fats that are solid or completely hydrogenated, use liquid vegetable oils and margarines that are rich in polyunsaturated fats.

Instead of whole milk and cheeses made from whole milk and cream, use skimmed milk and skimmed milk cheese.

Who should follow this meal plan? All adults from their twenties on, who have a family history of heart disease or those who have the other conditions already listed. Children and adolescents, especially from susceptible families, can also benefit from this meal plan by forming tastes for food early in life that may protect them from heart disease when they reach adulthood.

MRS. KATHERINE HARBOUR

OES Grand Chapter To Convene In Dallas

An estimated 7,000 members of the Order of the Eastern Star from all over Texas will begin arriving in Dallas this weekend for the 91st annual session of the Grand Chapter of Texas. Approximately 15 Big Spring representatives will be attending the event.

The sessions will be held at the Dallas Convention Center. The session will officially open Monday and will conclude Thursday.

One of the highlights of the festive convention entitled "Drama of Excellence Session" will be the year-end report of Mrs. Katherine Harbour of Shamrock, Worthy Grand Matron, and C. A. (Bill) Holmes of Lubbock, Worthy Grand Patron, on 1972-73 activities of the 765 Texas chapters of the fraternal order. There are some 122,000 members of the Order of the Eastern Star in Texas. Grand Chapter of Texas is headquartered in Arlington.

While business sessions of Grand Chapter will be held throughout the week, there are many social events planned, including luncheons, banquets and breakfasts honoring various OES leaders.

The session will be concluded Thursday with the election of a new Worthy Grand Matron and Worthy Grand Patron and other Grand Chapter officers. New officers will be installed Thursday night at a special session and the new Worthy Grand Matron will make her committee appointments for the coming year.

Prior to official opening of Grand Chapter, there are several social events planned on Sunday. The day will open with worship services and presentation of educational scholarships at 10 a.m. in the Dallas Convention Center theater.

In the afternoon, there will be a reception honoring the Worthy Grand Matron, Worthy Grand Patron and other leaders of the order.

At a 7 p.m. banquet in the Adolphus Hotel, Grand Chapter will honor Mrs. Mildred Haney Harris, Past Most Worthy Grand Matron, and Mrs. Mildred Garlitz, member of Ella Maude Lander Brady Cancer Research and Educational Committee of the General Grand Chapter.

Some 300 members of the Dallas chapters of the OES have been preparing for the Grand Chapter Session for the past year. Executive committee chairman, Mrs. Marie Harcum, and arrangements committee chairman, J. C. Gilmore, have headed the preparation-planning committees.

Bagasse Not Ready For Newspapers

LOCKPORT, La. (AP) — A shortage of newsprint has a lot of potential customers checking with the Valentine Pulp & Paper Co. here—but bagasse is still not ready.

Bagasse is what's left over after the juice is crushed out of sugar cane. They make paper out of bagasse here in an experimental plant set up 17 years ago.

"We make 42,000 tons of paper a year," said Tom Mears, vice president in charge of marketing. "We have corrugated paper, tissue and printing papers. But when it comes to newsprint, the economics of bagasse newsprint versus your ground wood pulp newsprint — well, it's just not there. But we've been getting a lot of calls lately."

Mears said the kind of bagasse paper available "just does not work well on a newspaper printing press. It takes an awful lot more money and modifications."

However, they keep trying for a breakthrough. There are more than 900,000 tons of bagasse available in Louisiana and Florida each year. Cuba and South America have even more.

"A lot of experimentation is being done by the W.R. Grace Co. in Peru," Mears said. "They have a big bagasse paper plant down there. But nothing has come of it."

Much of the Valentine plant's output is what they call "post-card." It's used for inserts, such as those renewal or sub-

ROBERT BENSON

COLORADO CITY — Robert Carroll Benson appointed county Extension agent for Mitchell County, is now on the job according to a joint announcement by Billy C. Gunter, district Extension agent and Mitchell County Judge Bill F. Carter.

'World At War' Well Worth Time

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The World at War," an extraordinarily ambitious British documentary about World War II and its origins, recently began appearing on U.S. television.

Unfortunately, it's seen in but 10 cities right now. The series will start running next January in another 10 cities, but word-of-mouth about this hour-long program may well increase the number somewhat.

I hope it does, provided all the "World at War" segments are as excellent as the two I've already seen. If they're typical, this new show, produced by Thames Television, deserves a far wider audience than it now has.

SUFFERING

The 26 segments, all narrated by Laurence Olivier, start with Hitler's rise to power in 1933 and end with a postwar summing up that asks what the global bloodshed, destruction and suffering really accomplished. The series examines the war both militarily and politically, using newsreel and rarely-seen combat footage painstakingly compiled from British, American, French, Italian and Japanese archives.

The program isn't a broad-brush look at the war, but rather a detailed, step-by-step analysis of the war's various phases, each segment written by an expert in that particular phase.

One segment scheduled this week, for example, is devoted exclusively to the political instability and military ineptitude that led to the fall of France in 1940.

WAR IN BURMA

Future episodes study the air war against Germany, the Italian campaign, the war in Burma, the Pacific war and so on. The 20th segment, simply entitled, "Genocide: 1933-1945," is the story of Hitler's concentration camps and his ruthless extermination of six million Jews.

Your Voice Is Needed

For almost half a century, Big Spring has functioned under a home rule charter which has been unchanged. Now, as the result of charter commissions which have looked at the document during the past decade, voters will have the opportunity Tuesday to say whether they want the original document changed.

Let it be said that the charter is basically sound, as continuous and relatively smooth operations have evidenced. Still, this is 47 years later, and times and nomenclature have changed.

What the proposals boil down to is one major, fundamental change.

It is simply this: Have commissioners serve from specific "places" rather than "at large," and choose the mayor as such rather than having him named "chairman of the board" by the commissioners.

If adopted, this change will mean that when a person announces for a place on the governing body of the city, he or she will run for a specific place, and he or she must (even if it entails a runoff) obtain a majority of the votes cast for that place. The basic philosophy here is to insure that each of the members of the commission will be selected on the basis of a majority vote. Obviously, this is an intended answer to single-shot voting in hopes of electing commissioners by a plurality, and thus this may mitigate against minority or "sleeper" candidates.

Under the current pattern, the top three candidates in a 20-candidate field are declared elected, although none might poll over 25 per cent of the total vote. It usually hasn't happened to that extreme, but it is not uncommon for winners to be named by pluralities rather than majorities. We have, however, avoided the necessity of runoffs.

The other changes are less significant. One will shave the residency requirements for holding office to one year (instead of two) and would prohibit anyone arrears in city taxes from being elected (which strike us as a curious way to collect back taxes from aspiring candidates).

Other proposals would change the governing body's name to council and would raise pay of councilmen and the mayor to $25 and $50 respectively per meeting, and certainly none can argue this is a lot more than the present $10 was half a century ago; would make the police appointive (without necessity of council approval); would change the name of city court; provide for council approval of the city judge, and free the city secretary from court clerical duties, etc. One other would reduce the required readings of ordinances from three times to two.

So far, there has been little or no interest manifested in the charter election. Yet, on the issue of places as opposed to the at-large method, there is a fundamental philosophy involved, and it deserves to be answered by every citizen at the polls Tuesday. Make sure you vote.

Time Races By

Two thirds of the time set for completing our United Way campaign has elapsed.

Only four-tenths of the job has been completed.

It ought to be noted that the major portion so far reported — more than half of it — has come from the big gifts division. This is a credit to individuals and businesses who have a conscience about their community.

What is needed desperately — and needed now — is for the average person to show a similar concern for the human services our town simply must have if it is to be a wholesome, pridelful town.

It's your town — it's your heart — it's your pocketbook — and it's your move. Why not at least a Fair Share, and feel really good about it?

THE LATEST word from Washington is that a quaking aspen sapling was planted there recently which had been produced in a test tube in a laboratory.

Knowing there is another live sapling in Washington, produced in or out of a test tube, has me quaking too.

Somewhere in the area an assistant press secretary is trying to come up with a suitable revision of the old saying "Only God can make a tree."

THERE ARE quite a few friends and acquaintances of mine who no doubt think I'm snooty. Most of them own small cars.

Small car owners, as a rule, are very friendly, and they honk at you and wave as they go by.

But nothing is as hard to identify as a human being in a small car, especially if you are standing on the curbing looking down on him — or if I'm real lucky, a her.

Because he, she or it appears to have the top of his or her head cut off. And if you think it isn't hard to tell who you are with the top of your head cut off, try it some time.

We have had an elderly minister at our church for more than 30 years. Now that we have ordained a younger pastor, the leadership has asked the older one to leave. I along with many others, feel this is very unfair. Do you agree? M.J.F.

Turbulence in the church is always regrettable, certainly over the change of ministers. It's difficult to make a judgement though, without hearing all the circumstances.

I have observed, however, that many churches become divided when a minister who has served many years is replaced. If your precious minister has served 30 years, this, of course, is a commendable record not likely to be repeated. Those who love him should thank God they were privileged to have him that long. They should also accept the fact the church has installed a new pastor, and they ought to support him fully with their prayers, love and loyalty.

No two men are the same. Certainly the apostles weren't. Church history attests the fact that God uses quite different men in different periods of church life to accomplish His divine purpose.

Two Old Issues Resurrected

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Two long-standing issues were revived in this past week's business news: the problem of bankrupt Northeastern railroads and the dispute over how much commodities speculators may have contributed to rising prices.

Both issues came up before House panels in Washington. Neither was resolved.

The House Select Small Business Committee heard officials of the various commodity exchanges in a continuing probe of exchange activities last year when there were sharp fluctuations and record highs in prices of contracts for future delivery of farm products.

Among officials called this past week were executives of the Chicago Board of Trade, the country's largest and oldest commodity exchange. They argued that rising prices on the Board had reflected unusual market conditions and that contract prices were trailing prices of the commodities themselves in cash markets.

Chairman Frederick G. Uhlmann said he had no evidence that speculators had forced prices up. He said allegations of excessive speculation were "a blatant falsehood."

Traders in commodity futures include not only speculators but actual producers and users of the commodities themselves. These traders use contracts as a means of protecting themselves against wide variations in prices in the future.

Subcommittee Chairman Neal Smith, D-Iowa, has argued that the risk to small operators was actually increased rather than minimized because of speculation and lack of proper attention from the Commodities Exchange Authority, the Agricultural Department unit which regulates commodities markets.

Critics have contended that speculators helped drive up future prices, which in turn drove up cash market prices.

A key increase this year came in soybean contracts, where the bushel price went from $4 to $7 in the first quarter and hit a record $12.90 by June, as supplies dwindled and foreign demand increased.

The Week's Business

- Problem of helping bankrupt northeastern railroads revived
- Proposal of quasi-public federal rail corporation draws fire
- Measure would liquidate unprofitable units, provide subsidy
- Commodity trader speculation seen as inflation contributor

Traders say it's 'blatant falsehood,' market simply reflects

A House Commerce subcommittee approved without recommendation a bill to reorganize the Penn Central and other bankrupt Northeast railroads into a new quasi-governmental Federal Rail Corp.

The measure, expected to meet heavy opposition in the full committee, would take whatever properties are needed from the railroads involved to form a new rail line which could operate at a profit. The rest of the properties would be liquidated.

The measure drew quick opposition from the Nixon administration. Transportation Secretary Claude S. Brinegar said "unacceptable" features included the federal financial commitment, a provision for mandatory federal takeover of the lines and a provision for federal subsidies to marginal railroads.

Three More Years?

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Remember that slogan of only 10 months ago, "Four More Years"? Now, in a nightmare reversal of what happened last November, we are to have three more years of dissension and blurred uncertainty over who governs and how.

THOSE CLOSE to the muddled legal process believe Vice President Spiro Agnew will be in office as his term expires in 1976. If this is proved out, it means that a man subject to indictable offenses of bribery, conspiracy and tax evasion will be one heartbeat away from the Presidency of the United States.

The conjecture on Agnew's staying power, following his refusal to resign his office, is based on the following probabilities: Having wrapped himself in the Constitution by calling on the House of Representatives to investigate the charges against him, he, in effect, is challenging that body to impeach him.

GRANTING THE request, which Speaker Carl Albert summarily rejected, the House would take months to carry out a thorough investigation. It would require a special staff as in the Watergate investigation on the Senate side of the Capitol. Merely assembling the relevant material after a committee and a staff have been named would require weeks. Then the fierce glare of the hearines under the television lights could go on for many more weeks.

All this would be preliminary to consideration by the House of a bill of impeachment. Think of the debate with the prospect that each of the 435 members would have something to say. That marathon of labored oratory could be interminable.

IN THE opinion of this observer the House is unequal to such a challenge. The leadership is fumbling and unsure. While the Democrats have a majority of 150 seats, this includes Southerners who have been repeatedly rallied to the Republican side. The emotional response to the plight of a man caught in a web of campaign money and public favors will cut across party lines, since too many of the members themselves know what that kind of tangle means.

So with the avenue of impeachment closed, assuming these probabilities, prosecution in the courts goes forward. Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson has taken allegations against Agnew before the grand jury in Baltimore. But the vice president's attorney will raise the shield of the Constitution and that will be protection, if not in the lower court against the threat of a conviction, certainly on the way to the Supreme Court.

THIS RAISES the fantastic outlook of the President — on the issue of the tapes — and the vice president both refusing the jurisdiction of the courts. Such a defiance of the orderly processes of a government of divided powers can hardly mean less than a breakdown of the system itself.

Sympathy for Agnew has been undoubtedly generated by what has appeared to be a concerted effort through leaks and insinuations of wrongdoing to force him out of office. The widely held belief is that the President wanted to be rid of him so he could name John Connally in his place. Despite repeated denials from the White House and the Justice Department, this belief has persisted.

While sympathy for his plight is understandable, the vice president has done little during the first four years to enlist support for other than the stalwarts in his own party.

IT IS THE bankruptcy not of an administration nor of a man, but of the system itself. The voice of moral leadership to point a way out of the morass is still to be heard.

Murmur Not Unusual

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Doctor: My son who just turned three has been to our doctor since birth, but today when I took him for his checkup the doctor told me he has a heart murmur. He didn't tell me where it came from and just said not to worry.

Can you please tell me how did he get it and is there anything he shouldn't do? I am worried. — Mrs. W.L.

Hearts, particularly children's hearts, are full of strange little sounds which often are rather unimportant. Among these are so-called murmurs, little sounds between normal heart beats.

Such murmurs occur frequently in children. I dare say a doctor will find such a murmur in about 50 per cent of the children past two or three years of age that come under his care.

The causes can be any of three. In order of seriousness, they are: congenital (birth defect in the heart valves); acquired (resulting from a disease that has damaged the valves or muscles); and functional — little sounds that are perfectly normal in the everyday working of the heart and due to the swish of blood through the heart.

You might discount the congenital cause, since this would probably have become obvious at birth or shortly afterward.

Acquired malfunction, such as that associated with diseases such as rheumatic fever, too, would probably have become suspected and watched for shortly after such a serious disease.

Generally speaking, such murmurs are usually of the third type.

Your doctor, who has watched your child's progress since birth, tells you not to worry. You should accept his word. Unless your doctor advises you that the matter is serious, I see no reason for you to curtail any of the child's activities. Functional murmurs tend to disappear with exercise, in fact, and are usually gone by puberty.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can it be determined by the "femininity index test" whether a menopausal woman is low in hormones?

My gynecologist says this test is effective only if taken at a certain time of the month. — M.M.I.

Yes, the test is a valid one — certain cell changes occur in the vaginal membrane due to the rise and fall of estrogen (female hormone). But for the same reason, the test may be significant only at the time the estrogen level is high (the "certain time of the month"). The procedure requires laboratory evaluation of the results.

Low blood sugar — a puzzler until correctly identified — is often the cause of faintness, headaches, visual and emotional disturbances. To learn how it can be identified and brought under control, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Help For Hypoglycemia," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor: I read your article which questioned why lightning rods were no longer sold. The reason is that some 30 years ago, a lightning arrester was invented. A lightning arrester diverts lightning from the power wires to the earth.

Since lightning arresters work so much better, all electric utilities, and electric cooperatives use them extensively on their power systems. Oil companies in Texas often own the power lines serving their electric pumping equipment, and so they always install at least one lightning arrester at each well. Farmers who have electrically pumped water wells, usually install lightning arresters to protect their electric equipment. Many people install lightning arresters on their homes and other buildings to protect them from lightning damage.

According to the State Board of Insurance, "The Texas General Basis Schedules provides various credits for fire and lightning protective devices when installed in connection with a building structure subject to rating by the State Board of Insurance."

One of the reasons that lightning arresters are so extensively used in our area is that lightning strikes here more often than in other parts of the United States. According to a study made by the U.S. Weather Bureau, the average number of thunderstorm days each year in Texas will run as high as 70, as compared to 20 in New England. California averages only five to 10. Few lightning arresters are sold in California.

There are a number of local dealers who sell lightning arresters. All of the oil field electric companies supply lightning arresters for their customers. Most of these firms sell the lightning arrester which is locally manufactured.

Tech Student Son Of Moon Walker

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Clay Bean, with a shy manner, longish blond hair and blue jeans, looks almost indistinguishable from hundreds of other Texas Tech freshmen, but he can say something no other student there can say. His father has walked on the moon.

Clay has no pretensions about his father's fame, however. "As far as I know, no one in the dorm, except my roommate, knows I'm Alan Bean's son," he says.

Clay's father walked the moon on the Apollo XII mission, the second one to land there, in 1969.

Alan Bean also has been in the public eye recently as commander of the latest manned Skylab mission. He returned to earth Tuesday after a 59-day orbital expedition.

Clay, however, scarcely worries about his father. "I have a lot of confidence in him — he has a 100 per cent record as far as returning is concerned."

RUNNELS JUNIOR Art Students Receive Awards At Fair

By JENNIE SPEEGLE

Several Runnels art students entered the 12- to 15-year-old division of the art contest, which is open to public and private art students at the Howard County Fair. Bernie Blackwell took first place in wood carving. In the graphics division Steve Valencia placed second and Jana Green won third and fourth place ribbons. In the water-based media division, Joe Cisneros took second place and Harold Hoffman won third place. Last week the winning pictures were displayed on the bulletin board on the second floor. A pep rally was held last Thursday before the Yearlings played the Coahoma Puppies that night. The students received a pep talk by Coach Zellars and by eighth grade cheerleader Paula Hogan. The "Spirit Jug" this week was won by the seventh grade. The next game will be against Travis at Snyder. The game will start at 6:00 o'clock. The pep club has been traveling with the Runnels team to all of their games. This coming week the pep club will start practicing their half-time routine. There are six new students at Runnels this week. From the seventh grade are: Horasio Siluero, Teresa Williamson, Nicholas Recio and Joyce Paul. Eighth graders are: Ronny James, Harry and Evangeline Herrera. The teen interest classes walked to the YMCA last week to get acquainted with their facilities for teens. The food class made salads. Winning blue ribbons for their salads were Penny Tusinger, Beverly Turner and Terri Beard. The eighth grade PE classes have finished playing their intramurals. The winning team was from the sixth period class. Girls on the team were Rose Magers, Susie Hernandez, Mary Merworth, Jeannie Moten, Rosemary Garcia, Rosa Mata, Emily Garcia, Eva Rich, Alissa Zellars, Rosa Franco and Vikki Jenkins.

Gould Is No Longer Known Through Wife

"Better sooner than later, but better later than not at all," says Elliott Gould about his new-found film stardom.

The 6-3 209-pounder, whose chief claim to fame until a few years ago was his marriage to superstar Barbra Streisand, will appear Saturday at the Jet Drive-In. He portrays a successful young surgeon whose marriage is not so successful.

Brooklyn-born, Gould recalls that "I was sort of raised on stage, taking dancing lessons, performing at lodges, temples, weddings and bar mitzvahs. I even appeared on the Milton Berle television show in the background chorus. And all the time I would rather be playing baseball on a nearby sandlot."

It was only during the late 1950's and early 60's however, when he was struggling to make it as a Broadway actor, that he began to appreciate performance. During his marriage to Miss Streisand, whose career was skyrocketing, he began to learn how to act.

"Not only did I learn how to act," he affirms, "but I learned how to really want to act. I studied with Lee Strasberg and observed classes at The Actors Studio — and everywhere else I could."

It paid off. After his stage appearances in a number of hits including "On The Town" and "Luv," and his first motion picture, "The Night They Raided Minsky's," Elliott landed the role of Ted in "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice." His performance garnered him an Academy Award nomination. Since then he has been seen in "M-A-S-H," "Getting Straight," and the recently released "Move."

The story vehicle has to do with a young medical student whose plans for a wife to get him through medical school goes awry when she becomes pregnant. From that point on, it's a case of double domestic frustration.

Rock Group Invited

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The Eastman School of Music here has invited the Moody Blues to lecture, during an upcoming American tour by the British rock group.

A spokesman for the school, Don Shetler, said that the group had been invited because of its innovation in fusing classical disciplines with rock music.

In 1968, the Moody Blues were the first rock group to record with a symphony, on their album, "Days of Future Passed," with the London Festival Orchestra.

English Star's Name Attracts Paparazzi

By CLYDE STEINER
Copley News Service

ROME — Glenda Jackson flips another filter tip from the gold box. A commanding glance of her blue eyes, in the style of Queen Elizabeth I, and a gaggle of photographers jump forward with their lighters ablaze.

The Oscar-winning English star is in Rome as the leading lady in Italian director Damiano Damiani's new film, "The Tempter."

In "The Tempter" Miss Jackson plays an Irish mother superior who runs an austere Vatican retreat for "wayward" priests and nuns. Through force of character and the authority of her position, she browbeats the individual sinners into submission, repentance, and — in one case — suicide.

LIKE ANTS

The omnipresent free-lance photographers, the notorious paparazzi, swarm like ants over her. They are well-aware of the name she has made for herself portraying the autocratic Queen Elizabeth the First in the internationally syndicated television special, as well as in the films "Women in Love," "The Music Lovers," "Sunday, Bloody Sunday," and — most recently opposite George Segal — in "A Touch of Class."

Part of Glenda's fame stems from the fact that several of her roles have called for her to appear nude on the screen. "They always ask me to play sex-starved, loony, neurotic ladies," she admits. The paparazzi expect some sort of neurotic sex symbol with elegant English overtones. They are disappointed at first sight.

NO MAKEUP

Glenda Jackson appears off-screen without a touch of makeup. None of the mandatory Italian woman's eyeshadow — not even lipstick on her pencil-thin, expressive mouth. There's no jewelry, either, except a wedding ring and a few gold chains loose around her long neck. Her tiny head atop a slight, almost frail body, contradicts the larger-than-life presence that she achieves on screen. Surrounded by the swarming photographers, she literally disappears amid the cameras and flashguns.

But the royal presence remains. It's not in the curiously ill-fitting knit pantsuit, with its beige and yellow and turquoise equigly striped top. It's the eyes. Her sometimes sarcastic, sometimes friendly, sometimes sincere, but always penetrating eyes. Authoritative eyes.

Glenda Jackson has been playing the self-willed, authoritative, yet vulnerable real-life lady in a string of successful films since 1970. She has become the British Katharine Hepburn.

because we needed the extra money. We don't need the extra money now, but now I like it... I've been bitten." Although she uses her maiden name on the screen, the "we" refers to her husband, Roy, and their four-year-old son, Daniel. In real life she is Mrs. Roy Hodges.

Roy is a muscular, angular-faced guy who once was also a struggling actor but looks more like a professional ice hockey player.

He now runs an art gallery at Greenwich, near their home in southeast London. Despite considerable extra money as one of the world's most sought-after and highly paid leading ladies, Mrs. Roy Hodges still lives in a turn-of-the-century house they bought for $22,000 in London's Blackheath district.

IN COMEDY 'Terrible Trio' Back

The same three boys who formed the Terrible Trio in Warner Bros.' smash hit "Summer of '42" are back in the same Studio's nostalgic comedy "Class of '44" now showing, at the Jet Drive-In Theatre.

Although the main characters are the same, everything else about this current film is different. Where "Summer of '42" took a brief look at the three as they fumbled and felt their way through the misconceptions which obscure sex from the young, "Class of '44" catapults them smack into the middle of a life they had never faced.

Since the boys live and go to school in Brooklyn and the university they go to is somewhere on the east coast of the United States, why was the film shot in Toronto? The answer is that there are still a few scattered locations in this charming city which are unaltered by the jet-streams and the high-rise, spots authentically reminiscent of the Fabulous Forties. They need no ersatz false fronts to create an aura vital to the unfolding of the film.

From Tippling To Filching City Court Clears The Docket

By MARJ CARPENTER
"Some officer down here told me that if the wreck was caused because of weather conditions, it wasn't really your fault," a defendant in a traffic citation case pleaded in Municipal Court here last week.
This was a typical plea in the weekly session of Municipal Court held in the police station courtroom Wednesday afternoon.
"Alas, the plea was unsuccessful since the original charge of failure to control speed to avoid accident had been changed to failure to control speed prudent to the conditions."

A fine of $15 was handed down by Judge John B. Coffey, and the motorist paid the ticket.
CALLED IN
Much of the business of Municipal Court involves traffic citations. Two others cited for traffic were in court Wednesday, a typical court afternoon. The two were both teenagers who had failed to pay tickets for driving without a driver's license. A warrant had been sent out and they were called into court.
They both pleaded guilty and were fined. As one girl put it, "I guess I'm guilty. I was driving, and I don't have a license."
VISUAL AID
The courtroom has a blackboard with magnetized miniature vehicles so that patrolmen can draw a typical wreck and place the vehicles in the position that they recall them to be at the scene.

Patrolmen who have investigated accidents are required to appear in court as witnesses if there is a citation in question. This is regardless of whether it is a duty day or his day off.
City Attorney James Gregg represents the city in the proceedings.
Each morning, the municipal court judge goes to the courtroom to hear pleas of any prisoners jailed the night before. A number of these are persons charged with being drunk in public.

If you were to be arrested on a drunk charge on a Tuesday night, you would usually wait until the 1:30 p.m. court session for your plea. There were two guilty pleas on this charge Wednesday afternoon. One apparent seasoned prisoner quickly pleading guilty and one girl, giggled and said "guilty."
"I WAS SICK"
One of the favorite reasons of persons charged with being drunk is "I was sick and on the way to the doctor when I was arrested," officers relate. The Municipal Courtroom also is for trial of violation of city ordinances, and cases with fines up to $200 with no jail time assessed.

Those who go through Municipal Court include traffic violators, drunks, shoplifting under $5, theft under $5, simple assault, disorderly conduct, minor possession and other misdemeanors.
Probably the most upset persons tried in the court come under the heading of shoplifters. This is one charge that reaches all walks of life. However, a majority of the offenders pay their fine and never reach the courtroom.
This also applies to traffic citations. The biggest percentage of the violators simply pay the fine and never go to court.

INFORMAL
But the court is there. It isn't a big courtroom. It has three long benches for spectators and five chairs for jurors if a jury of five is needed. This differs from the higher courts.
The atmosphere is more informal, although there is a judge's bench and witnesses are sworn in just like in every other courtroom in the land.

Smoking is allowed and ashtrays are placed all along the spectator benches. Spectators or interested family members or friends may attend the court session. Some offenders are so regular they feel court personnel are old friends.

But the court handles the minor offenses with dispatch and keeps these cases from clogging dockets up the ladder — besides it almost clears the jail daily.
