GROUND BATTLES RAGE ALONG SUEZ CANAL, GOLAN HEIGHTS

Israeli Phantoms Bomb Damascus

By The Associated Press

Israeli jets bombed Damascus today in a major escalation of the Middle East war.

Ground battles raged along the Suez Canal and the Golan Heights.

Air raid sirens sounded over Cairo and residents ran for cover twice. There were reports the Egyptian capital had been bombed and Israel reported hitting nearby targets, but no planes were sighted over the city and no explosions were heard.

DAMAGE

Israeli Phantom jets bombing in Damascus heavily damaged the Syrian Defense Ministry and the government radio station across the street.

The Lebanese Defense Ministry said Israeli jets struck an army radar station 18 miles east of Beirut and there were reports of Israeli armor crossing into noncombatant Lebanon as the four-day-old conflict widened.

Polish diplomatic evacuees leaving Syria after their embassy was hit during the Israeli air raid on Damascus called the strike "a terrible tragedy that killed many civilians."

AIR POWER

"I saw so many dead and wounded; it was terrible," said a sobbing Marta Servic, a Polish official's wife arriving at a border post in a group of 20 women and children from embassy families. "We saw many dead and wounded in the streets."

But Cairo said that on the ground its tanks were pushing back Israeli armor in the Sinai and had stabbed nine miles into the desert captured by Israel in the 1967 war.

A Syrian communique said the Israeli jets hit civilian targets in the capital of Damascus and on the outskirts of Homs, 90 miles to the north.

"This aggression caused some civilian casualties," the communique said.

'VERY GOOD HITS'

The United Nations headquarters in Jerusalem said a Norwegian air force captain working as a U.N. military observer was killed in his home along with his wife and young daughter during the Damascus strikes.

Israeli officials in Tel Aviv said their jets in Syria were hitting military headquarters and radar sites. The raids were in direct retaliation for Syrian missile attacks on civilian settlements in Israel, they claimed. An Israeli military spokesman said the Phantom pilots reported "very good hits."

Syria threatened retaliation for the raid on Damascus and Tel Aviv residents were warned by loudspeaker trucks to double-check blackout measures and stock up supplies in their air raid shelters.

Associated Press correspondent Elias Antar reported from Damascus that the three Israeli raiders scored direct hits on the Defense Ministry and the Syrian broadcasting headquarters across the street. He said the nighttime strikes inflicted heavy damage on both buildings and more than half a dozen ambulances carried away the dead and wounded.

A house about half a mile away also was hit, Antar reported.

OIL RICHES

Kuwait, the rich oil-producing sheikhdom on the Persian Gulf, said its forces were mobilized "to do whatever is necessary" to help Egypt and Syria against Israel. The Kuwaiti government said Oil Minister Abdul Rahman Salem el-Atiki also proposed an urgent conference of Arab oil nations to debate the role of their oil riches in the war.

Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev said in a message to President Houari Boumediene that "Syria and Egypt must not stand alone in their battle with the perfidious enemy."

The message, released today by the Algerian press service, made no mention of Soviet intervention in the conflict. It urged Algeria and other nations to aid the Arabs and said Moscow was giving "aid and support in many forms."

Israel reported its troops have expelled Syrians from all the Golan Heights territory conquered during its 1967 victory over Egypt, Syria and Jordan.

President Hafez Assad of Syria claimed, however, that the Syrians were in full control there.

The Israeli military command acknowledged it was fighting hard to beat back a Syrian counterattack north of Qenitra.

HOLDING TIGHT

"The Syrians attempted this morning to land troops by helicopter in the vicinity of El Rom in the Golan Heights," the command said. "Four Syrian helicopters were destroyed and all troops they were carrying were killed."

Foreign newsmen were barred from both fronts and independent checks on the conflicting claims were impossible.

EGYPTIAN TANKS ROLLING ALONG After Crossing The Suez Canal To Eastern Bank

Immediate Billings Will Reflect Gas Rate Hikes

By ANN STEVENS

Hereafter to be known as the City Council, the City Commission today approved a 15 per cent rate hike for Pioneer Natural Gas Co. to become effective immediately.

Dearl Pittman, Pioneer district manager, said the increase will be reflected in billings beginning Wednesday.

Commissioners also gave final approval to rezoning land along FM 700 E. to light commercial and granted its initial okay to rezoning as light commercial single family land across from the new hospital site on FM 700 W.

The zone change, requested by Ted Farrell, will affect a 27.94 acre tract in the south part of section 32, block 33, T-1-N, and 16.15 acreage out of section 32, block 32, T-1-N.

After a report by Roy Anderson, an assistant city manager, on proposals for a new softball field complex, the commission granted City Manager Harry Nagel permission to seek school board authority to let the city use the present high school baseball field for league play in the summers.

Nagel said the city will offer to pay lighting at the high school field if the trustees grant city use of the facility. He added that the high school field is now used only in the daytime during the school year by the Steer team and only on Sundays by the semi-pro team.

Nagel pledged to have recommendations on how to proceed with plans and construction of a four-field city complex by the next council meeting. Some $40,000 was budgeted for the complex which may contain fields for slow pitch and fast pitch ball and Miss America Softball.

Ed Mitchell, chairman of the Howard County Alcoholism Committee, submitted a list of recommended rules for the detoxification unit which the city plans to establish. These rules attempt to underline the unit's function as a rehabilitation center for alcoholics and not as a mere drying-out place for drunks.

Nagel reported that he is looking for a location to which the Firehouse Six might be moved, allowing the detox unit to occupy the present Firehouse facilities.

In other action this morning the commission:

—Purchased a portable steel building from ABCO of Odessa for $11,721 to be used as the utility office.

—Voted to buy a steam cleaner and six tool chests for the new city garage from Walker Auto Parts which submitted the low bids of $1,554.50 for the cleaner and $957.78 for each chest.

—Canvassed returns of last Tuesday's city charter revision election.

—Granted the purchasing agent permission to bid on a half-ton panel truck for the city warehouse.

—Okayed the purchase of 60 sets of sanitary container lids.

—Granted permission to purchase a $3,000 3M Co. sign-making machine which cities are being required by the federal government to have to make the new larger universal traffic signs.

—Gave the purchasing agent permission to bid on a riding green mower for the golf course.

AIR CONDITIONING WOES

Taxpayers Might Have To Dig For New System

By MARJ CARPENTER

The board room was again full of interested school patrons when the Big Spring Independent School board held their regular monthly meeting Monday night.

This time, the crowd was interested in the continued subject of air conditioning and also in the subject of concessions at the football games.

Thomas Fetters gave a lengthy report on a study made by him and Dan Wilkins in connection with school air conditioning. They were assisted by administrators from the business and maintenance departments.

POSSIBLE TAX RAISE

Fetters reported to the group that the board membership was in favor of air conditioning, but that the problem lay in financing the project. He pointed out that state law restricts the amount of tax money which can be used under local maintenance and that Big Spring taxes could only be raised 11 cents per $100 valuation at the very most and that this would only produce around $170,000 per year even if they decided to go that route.

He pointed out that preliminary studies indicate that cost of air conditioning all schools would range somewhere between $750,000 and one and one half million dollars.

He also reported that taxes cannot be changed this year. He then mentioned a surplus kept in the budget and at this point, Ralph McLaughlin, board member, interjected, "You cannot be eyeing that surplus. With inflation the way it is, federal funds changing every day, and the possibility of H. E. W. decisions, we cannot take that surplus out of the budget. It would be disastrous."

OR BOND ISSUE

Fetters pointed out that the committee was not making any recommendations, but simply reporting on all possibilities at this time. He also discussed a possible bond issue and stated that he thought it would probably carry.

The group presented petitions with over 900 names of people interested in air conditioning the schools. The petitions gave reasons why they considered air conditioning necessary.

The petitions did not mention either a tax raise or a bond issue.

NOVEMBER DECISION

The board agreed to hear a concrete recommendation from the committee by the next board meeting. This decision brought applause from the audience.

Roy Watkins, board president, invited the president of the P-TA council and the president of the Classroom Teachers Association to meet with the air conditioning committee if they desired "so that they will be aware of all problems involved."

Part of the audience then left and the balance of the group approached the subject of athletic concessions.

FAITHFUL GROUP

School administrators reported to the board that the Rainbow Girls had taken the job of providing football concessions at a time when nobody wanted it and conducted it for 20 years without complaints. During that time, they have purchased close to $500 worth of equipment which they use. The Demolays handle the cold drinks concession.

A question posed by Board President Roy Watkins, through school patrons who had approached him, concerned the price of chili dogs.

The World At-A-Glance

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Members of the U.N. Security Council were far apart in the search for a way to end the fighting in the Middle East. Diplomatic sources said another council meeting was likely late today but it was not clear what form a compromise cease-fire resolution might take.

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy rains from Typhoon Opal have stalled South Vietnamese government forces that opened a drive last week to retake the Le Minh ranger base in the central highlands, overrun by the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong on Sept. 22. Only scattered, light fighting is reported elsewhere in South Vietnam.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodian government troops continue operations northeast, south and southwest of Phnom Penh, but the government reports no advances and says the Khmer Rouge insurgents have initiated no significant action for 24 hours. President Lon Nol marks the third anniversary of the Cambodian republic with an appeal to the Khmer Rouge to end "absurd fratricidal battles" and join his government in a war against the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong he claims are still in Cambodia.

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — An Argentine labor leader was assassinated Monday night, Buenos Aires police arrested 30 persons who tried to hold a memorial demonstration for revolutionary Ernesto "Che" Guevara and several small bombs exploded in the Sheraton Hotel. Two gunmen killed Julien Julio of the bus drivers' union at the bus terminal in Mar del Plata. The gunmen escaped, and there was no clue to their identities. Julio was the third labor leader to be assassinated in recent weeks. Nobody was hurt in the hotel bombing.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Walter E. Hoffman is weighing a Justice Department offer to put its top officials under oath to deny the department has waged a news leak campaign alleged by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. The department made the offer in a legal brief responding to demands by Agnew's lawyers that Hoffman halt the Baltimore federal grand jury probe of the vice president because of the leaks. The department also urged Hoffman to reconsider his decision allowing Agnew's lawyers to subpoena newsmen.

Bingo Prize To Be $200

Completed cards of any color can win in the 13th and final Bingo game scheduled by The Herald. The competition ends Friday and $200 in prizes, a record high, will be at stake.

Thirty merchants cooperating with The Herald have bingo cards and will issue them to callers upon request. Those who would like to compete need to consult papers for numbers starting with last Sunday's edition.

There has been no winner for three weeks now, although thousands of cards have been given away by the merchants. Readers can play as many cards as they like.

Starting today, only four days of competition remain. The numbers are scheduled to vanish from The Herald after Friday.

Those who reason they have blacked out all the spaces on their bingo cards must declare their cards at The Herald no later than 5 p.m., next Monday.

Remember, the winning sum is $200. That could go a long way toward helping someone solve their problems about finding enough money to finish off their Christmas shopping.

WINDY

Wind warnings in effect for area lakes. Southerly winds 20 to 30 miles per hour this afternoon and tonight. Chance of rain 20 per cent tonight and 30 per cent Wednesday. High today, upper 80s. Low tonight, lower 60s. High Wednesday, near 80.

WATERGATE 'Fat Jack' Tells Of Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Buckley, identified as Nixon campaign spy "Fat Jack," testified today that he photographed boxloads of Muskie campaign documents and relayed them to the President's re-election headquarters.

As the gray-haired, portly campaign spy appeared before the Senate Watergate committee, the panel indicated that Republican efforts to dig up evidence of Democratic dirty tricks in the 1972 presidential election campaign have been a relative failure.

'FALLEN FLAT'

One source on the committee's Republican minority side said the efforts had "fallen flat." Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., of Tennessee, GOP vice chairman of the committee, indicated to newsmen that only one witness would be called to testify about Democratic dirty tricks.

He apparently referred to Fred Taugher, who was Sen. George McGovern's campaign coordinator in the California presidential primary and who allowed planners of an anti-Nixon demonstration in Los Angeles to use McGovern telephones to help organize their protest.

The committee also announced plans to call McGovern campaign strategist Frank Mankiewicz and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's campaign manager, Berl I. Bernhard, to testify about what effect Nixon campaign sabotage had on their presidential election efforts.

Future Residents Make 'Now' Gift

The Rev. Lester M. Utz must practice what he preaches.

Although he and Mrs. Utz will not be citizens of Big Spring until Dec. 1 when they come to serve the Trinity Lutheran Church, the Rev. Mr. Utz sent along "our contribution for the 1973-74 United Way." He noticed George Zachariah, executive director of the UW office in a picture of UW progress appearing in The Herald recently and requested information on how to share in the campaign for "our new home town."

Tadpole Wants No Part Of Handcuffs

Five-year-olds from the Headstart program were touring both the fire department and the police station here this morning.

Divided into groups, they were allowed to climb over the trucks, trip the siren, examine the police cars and the jail and tour the department.

At the front of the line in one group was a little black boy with eyes staring wide. One policeman, helping with the tour, unfastened his handcuffs and offered to try them on the youth's arm.

At this point, the youngster stated emphatically, "No, suh, you put 'em on him," pointed determinedly at the other officer in the room.

Revenue-Sharing Checks Sent To City, County

The City of Big Spring received its revenue sharing check in the mail late Friday, totaling $94,117 according to Robert E. Massingill, director of finance.

The city was among those which had its full report in on time declaring the expenditures under the federal program.

This morning, a revenue sharing check for $69,795 made out to Howard County arrived. Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, said.

Generally, revenue sharing checks, which are paid for quarters of the year, come in approximately equal amounts during the fiscal year.

At the Coahoma City Hall, no revenue sharing check had been received since the second revenue sharing check was returned.

Forsan Mayor Curtis (Jack) Lamb hopes to get the quarter's revenue sharing money when his city has published all the public accountings required for past revenue sharing.

Theory And Practice

The National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals has made its report which includes a number of recommendations designed to speed up the trials of defendants. The commission makes one recommendation that should be ignored: That plea bargaining, the practice of a defendant pleading guilty to a lesser offense in exchange for reduced punishment, should be abolished.

The practice encourages innocent persons to plead guilty rather than languish in jail while awaiting trial, and it also guarantees that some of the guilty will escape adequate punishment, the commission found.

This position sounds valid if theory alone is to govern the criminal justice process. But in the real world, plea bargaining is the only practical way to dispose of overburdened court dockets in most jurisdictions. In practice, few innocents plead guilty.

Approximately 80 to 85 per cent of all criminal cases in Texas are disposed of on pleas of guilty. If that percentage were reduced drastically, chaos would overtake the criminal trial process in Texas. There wouldn't be enough judges, prosecuting attorneys and defense attorneys to accommodate the flood that would surely follow if most cases went to trial, rather than being disposed of by pleas of guilty.

There are some cases — murder and rape are examples — where public interest opinion requires a trial. But the vast majority of cases needs to be disposed of quickly through pleas of guilty.

Plea bargaining is not the practice of law at its best. A defendant who is charged with assault with intent to murder may plead guilty to aggravated assault, or one charged with a number of crimes arising from the same incident may plead guilty to just one of them in return for dismissal of the other charges. But it is the only apparent alternative to a breakdown of the criminal justice system.

If we want to do better, we should be prepared to finance a great expansion of the court system, with many more judges, prosecutors and courtrooms. But there has never been any indication on the part of the public that it would be willing to pay more taxes in order to reform the present system. And until it does, we'll have to do the best we can.

Returning To Normal

What some people won't do to make the record book.

A couple of 14-year-old Corpus Christi boys recently slapped each other in the face for 31½ hours. Object was to make the Guinness Book of World Records, which has instigated all sorts of odd efforts.

Sore of face and hand, the boys beat the record of 30 straight hours set in 1931 by two Russians. They had no reason to complain of the after effects. The lads knew what they were getting into. They said they had broken the record earlier in September, but it was not accepted for the book because of insufficient witnesses. So they collected the witnesses and did it all over again.

Their cherished record, if accepted this time, probably won't stand long. Another slappy pair will read about it and set out to break it. Relax — we're getting back to normal.

The Best Around

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

We talked softly, there at the musician's table.

In the background, the melody of "Satin Doll" teased our ears as Lou Stein's piano improvisations played hide and seek with musicians Skeets Hereford, Jack Leesburg and Mousy Alexander.

The group eased into "Body and Soul" with Lead Phillips on sax, and ended the set with "Birth of the Blues" as Wild Bill Davis' solo brought 300 people to their feet for a standing ovation.

THE UNLIKELY setting was the Inn of the Golden West, where Dr. A. H. Fulcher brought together some of the world's finest musicians for the Odessa Jazz Party. A number of prominent Texans, as well as jazz buffs from as far away as Canada, had paid a pretty penny to get bids for the "invitation only" event.

I was talking to Milk Hinton, who plays bass about as good as anybody, anywhere.

"I love Odessa," he said. "This is about my fourth or fifth time here, and it's just wonderful. I set this whole week aside at the beginning of the year to come down here."

Hinton lives in New York where he records and works as a studio musician for ABC-TV, appearing on the Dick Cavett Show, etc. He takes several tours during the year, sometimes with Paul Anka or Barbara Streisand.

"I opened at the International Hotel in Las Vegas with Barbara Streisand not long ago," he continued. "I think she's a real super star, a very dedicated artist who is well-versed in her craft."

Hinton's musical training began at home.

"My mother's a musician," he explained. "She's still with us and lives in Chicago. She was Nat Cole's piano teacher, but she was wiser than most of us and knew she shouldn't teach her own children. She farmed me out to another music teacher, and I got my training on violin, then cello and bass. I learned most of my bass from a German, Paul Stanke, in Milwaukee, and a Russian teacher in Chicago."

I asked Hinton if he thought jazz was a dying art, or if the great musicians could be replaced.

"I SINCERELY believe there are musicians coming out of colleges and universities who can carry on the jazz traditions," he said. "But we, the American public, are going to have to support these young people. Here, we're in Odessa with a very select group of interested people who love jazz, but jazz, in general, is not being accepted by the public as it should — and this is an American thing. It happened no place else first but here, and the rest of the world accepts jazz as being a true American art form."

"There's nothing else that you can put your hand on — except bourbon whiskey and jazz — that is truly American."

"Why, you in West Texas are probably doing more than anybody else, and this is so gratifying. It's true what Dr. Fulcher says, that no place except Odessa, at this event, can you hear all these fine musicians at one time."

Some of the musicians who receive invitations to participate in the Odessa Jazz Party have never played together, which doesn't seem to matter.

"Wayne Wright and I had never met," explained Hinton, "but when we got up on the bandstand together and started to play, his time and feeling just sorta coincided with mine, and it was sheer happiness. He is such a great player, so beautiful. From the first note it was like a perfect marriage, and it was a great joy, each other, and it was a great joy. In fact, after the session was over last night, we stayed up till 5 a.m., with Teddy Wilson on piano, just playing."

"THIS FESTIVAL ranks foremost with us. It's not the biggest such festival, but the warmth, the closeness, the reality of the people, makes this like a dream for us to come. It's really very special to everyone. Dr. Fulcher has been the great love of all of us. He has our affection and respect, and we'd come back to him anytime he asked us to come."

Hinton's wife is a school teacher, and they have two daughters.

"No boys, just sweet girls who are not musically inclined. I thought I was sorry about it, but I find God made every snowflake different. Everybody can't be a musician — even a musician's children."

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I am a Christian who has been receiving professional counseling. A friend says I am wrong in doing this — that Christ alone can solve every problem. Please give me your opinion.

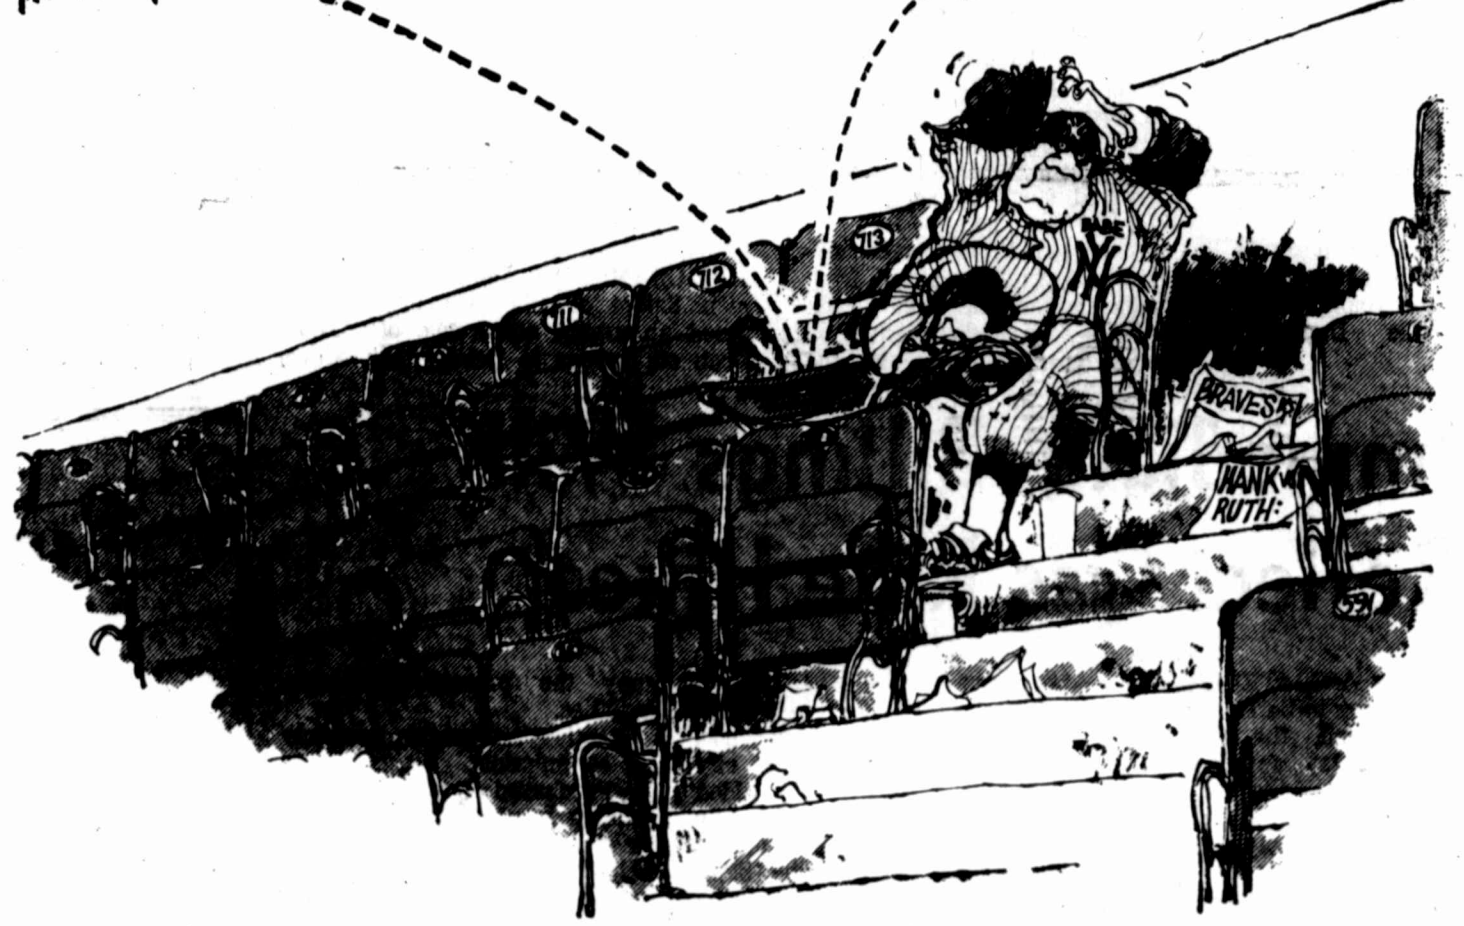

J.W. Your friend is both right and wrong! Right in saying that Christ can do everything. (That's the word of Doctor Luke in chapter 18 of his Gospel.) And he is wrong in putting down those engaged in the healing arts.

God has made us according to certain physical, mental and emotional principles. Those trained in the science of medicine, psychology and psychiatry can often detect certain malfunctioning of these systems. When they can go beyond mere diagnosis to a prescription for healing, all well and good.

The problem is that the world of the spiritual is intimately bound up with our physical well-being. To ignore it is to ignore part of the cure, and you end up on a sort of counseling merry-go-round. The Christian professional would hopefully be able to relate to both. A great example of this was my own father-in-law, Dr. L. Nelson Bell, who spent years as a Christian physician-missionary in China.

I suggest you follow a course of health care which first of all keeps

Doing Undone Things

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Now is the time to get done the undone things in your life.

Your last excuse is lost. If you can't accomplish what you wish to accomplish in this inspiring autumn weather, then you simply never will. For October is the winnetime of the year.

Yes, there is a time and place for everything, and now is the time and this is the place.

But what shall a man set out to do first? Aye, that is the question. For a man has had so many high goals and tomfoolish vagrant desires that it is difficult for him to set a priority on the dreams and idle wishes he first would like to make come true.

Any man's list of undone things is frighteningly long. For example, after well over half a lifetime of living I have never—

Hit two pool balls in a row in the side pocket.

Found out how snug a bug in a rug really is.

Drunk a martini in Water-gate.

Helped fight a four-alarm fire.

Changed any woman's opinion on anything permanently.

Cooked shish-kebab or veal piccata.

Put hair tonic on a bald eagle.

Been the voice of a shredded wheat biscuit in a television commercial.

Had a blind date with a lady werewolf.

Woven a basket or done a portrait of Mohammad Ali in needlepoint.

Asked Howard Cosell or Bob-bly Riggs for an autograph.

Heard any of the figures on the Mount Rushmore memorial sneeze during the hay fever season.

Attended a sex circus or been an innocent bystander at a Hollywood orgy.

Had my hand nibbled by a Venus Fly Trap.

Planted a century plant in lived in two centuries.

Shaved with a two-blade razor.

Sent an orchid anonymously to Phyllis Diller on her birthday.

Felt comfortable under water except while holding my nose.

Donated my brain to Harvard.

Climbed Mount Olympus or seen the gods at play.

So many undone things to do! But what difference does it make which is done first? Anything a human being does in October feels wonderful and worthwhile. And unforgettable.

Even if he but pick up a fallen leaf and kiss it before crumbling it in his hand.

Looking For A VP

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Although President Nixon denied it at his press conference, the White House does have contingency plans in case Vice President Spiro Agnew resigns.

THE SEARCH for another vice president is going on quietly, and no stone is being left unturned to find the best man for the job.

The head of an executive employment agency in Washington told me he received a call from someone in the White House just last week.

The agency boss asked: "What does the vice president do?"

"He doesn't do anything."

"OH, THAT MAKES it rather difficult," the agency head said. "Does he have to know shorthand and typing?"

"No, he gets a secretary with the job; also his own staff, a limousine and the use of an Air Force plane. It also pays quite well."

"Let me go through my files. I have someone here. He was the vice president of a large insurance company and ran the claims department."

THE WHITE HOUSE aide said. "I'm afraid he would be overqualified for the job. Look, don't you have someone who is very presentable, likes to play golf, can make fund-raising speeches and won't bug anyone because he has nothing to do?"

"I'll check. Wait a minute. This may be the person you're looking for. He's 49 years old, very good-looking, is a fantastic speaker, a great athlete and is a nut about leisure time."

"That sounds pretty good. Where is he?"

"Well he was indicted in some building scandal in St. Louis, but he'll be available right after his trial."

"I HAVE a card on another executive here. He's now working for an oil company but wants to improve himself. He's a very attractive fellow, active in his church, involved with community affairs, has a lovely wife and is a lawyer by profession."

"He sounds good," the White House aide said.

"He also serves on the board of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People."

"Oops! Who else have you got?"

"SAY, I MIGHT even be interested in the job myself," the agency man said.

"What's your name?" the White House aide asked.

"Dean — John Dean, but I'm no relation to the one who..."

The White House aide slammed down the phone.

Diet Helps—No Sure Cure

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor found my cholesterol to be at 250 milligrams (200 is normal on this particular test) and put me on a low cholesterol diet. A week later I was stunned to find it was at 255 milligrams in spite of the diet.

I thought cholesterol could be controlled by diet in the same way that elevated blood sugar can. Is this wrong? — J.U.

It is half right and half wrong, which is typical of much of the information and misinformation dealing with cholesterol.

Sure, a diet can help control cholesterol, but notice I say "help" control it. We get cholesterol from two sources, from the food we take in and from our body's natural production of it. As a matter of fact, the body's natural production can often be four to six times the amount of cholesterol in a normal diet.

By some testing techniques, the normal upper level can range between 250 and 300 milligrams.

Your cholesterol level is probably in the high end of the normal range for this laboratory, and your diet is probably intended to keep it from getting beyond control.

Your mild cholesterol gain, despite the diet, shouldn't stun you. There are several other factors besides diet that dictate cholesterol levels, emotional stress among them. For some reason, tension seems to elevate cholesterol levels. Perhaps this could be a factor in your case.

Furthermore, a 5-milligram variation could well be due to normal laboratory variations. Also, one week is not long enough to achieve much change with dieting.

I think you would find my booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly," informative. In it, I've tried to bring some balance into the whole cholesterol controversy. If you would like a copy send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: It has been brought to our attention that sun tan lotion can give you skin cancer. If so, is baby oil harmful? — Ms. M.D. and A.G.

No such thing has been brought to my attention. WHO told you that such lotions would do any such thing? But, of course, excessive exposure to the sun, over a period of years, is known to contribute to skin cancer.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: You wrote about exercises which would help strengthen the muscles that control the bladder for women with stress-in-continnence. I have been doing these exercises ever since and must say I notice some improvement but not enough to control involuntary urination in case of an unexpected sneeze or cough.

Both a local urologist and a specialist at Mayo Clinic advise an operation, but the latter said the operation was not always effective. I would like your opinion. — Mrs. L.B.

I think it was fair and honest of the one physician to warn you that an operation does not always correct this trouble. That is a chance you take. It is better for you to know of this possibility in advance than — perhaps — to condemn the operation afterward. If the operation does not end the trouble, it still may make your exercise program more effective.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need To Know About Them."

Write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Goldwater Ignored

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater, the conservative Republican elder whose advice on the Agnew affair is widely respected, has privately warned President Nixon through intermediaries that a vice presidential vacancy would be no blessing either for the President or his party.

GOLDWATER DECLINES to confirm or deny that he has discussed the Agnew affair with the White House. In truth, however, the Senator specifically told Mr. Nixon that either Gov. Nelson Rockefeller or John B. Connally would "split the GOP" if named to succeed Agnew.

Sen. Goldwater's reason: party factions controlled by a leader not named to the vacancy would resent the new vice president having a long leg up on the 1976 nomination. Consequently, creation of a vacancy in the vice presidency during a time that the President himself is at so low an ebb of popularity could splinter the party.

Mr. Nixon has not once sought Goldwater's advice, an oversight some Republican officials think he may live to rue.

DEMOCRATIC politicians are grumbling that Baltimore city councilwoman Barbara Mikulski has not only sold out to the extreme reformers as chairman of the party's Delegate Selection Commission but has compounded that error by needlessly offending Jewish voters.

Miss Mikulski scheduled working sessions of her commission's 17-member drafting committee over two weekends to coincide with the two most important Jewish religious holidays, Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur.

When this was pointed out to Miss Mikulski, she responded that no member of the drafting committee or the commission staff is Jewish, so it did not make any difference. But it did make a difference to Democratic national chairman Robert Strauss who is Jewish and was personally offended by Miss Mikulski's attitude. Despite a last minute appeal, she was obdurate.

MOREOVER, many non-Jewish Democratic politicians felt that both the unintentional exclusion of Jews from the reformer-dominated drafting committee handpicked by Miss Mikulski and her scheduling of the meetings showed insensitivity to a harsh political reality: the 1972 convention delegate quotas, now being reconsidered by the Mikulski commission, contributed to massive Jewish defections from Sen. George McGovern.

KEY advisers to Gov. Dale Bumpers of Arkansas, including some of the state's powerful Democratic politicians, are privately pushing him to run against one of the Senate's most important doves: Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Bumpers, 48, still popular after three years as governor, would be strongly favored to defeat Fulbright, first elected to the Senate in 1944, in the 1974 Democratic primary. But Bumpers, hoping for a place on the national ticket in 1976 and backed by several Democratic governors as a presidential darkhorse, will think twice about alienating the politically potent peace bloc by opposing Fulbright.

Neither Sultan Nor Crazy

KIRIKHAN, Southern Turkey (AP) — Judges in a courtroom in this provincial Turkish town looked at each other with some amazement when a man they had just convicted of assault leaped from the dock shouting, "I'm the Sultan, you have no right to convict me."

The last Sultan of Turkey was deposed 50 years ago.

The judges added a new conviction for contempt, saying Sevket Koldas had "tried to create the impression he was insane, thereby attempting to deceive the court."

The Vikings Got Around

ISTANBUL (AP) — The Vikings may have been related to the Turks, according to an Icelandic scholar here.

Jokull Jakobsson, 40, is in Istanbul for three months researching for information to support his theory that the Viking hero Trygvir was actually a Turk, and that the Vikings reached as far as Asia Minor in their wanderings.

MOREOVER, many non-Jewish Democratic politicians felt that both the unintentional exclusion of Jews from the reformer-dominated drafting committee handpicked by Miss Mikulski and her scheduling of the meetings showed insensitivity to a

Getting a receiver open in the end zone is only part of the job. To score a touchdown, you have to hold onto the ball!

South did well to get to a grand slam with a combined North-South holding of only 26 points in high cards. North had intended reversing into spades after opening one heart, but when his partner responded in his second suit he showed his power by leaping to game. Once North announced at least nine cards in the major suits, South knew that his partner would be short in clubs—thus any losers in that suit could be ruffed in dummy—so he set his sights on a grand slam. Four no trump elicited the welcome news that his side possessed all the aces. Six clubs was a variation of the Grand Slam Force, requesting partner to bid seven if he held two of the three top trump honors. North duly obliged.

The opening diamond lead was won in dummy and the king of spades revealed the 3-0 trump break. The ace and king of clubs were cashed, and declarer tried to ruff a club in dummy with a low trump. East overruffed for down one. [It would not have helped declarer to ruff the club high, for he would still have to ruff a second club and East would then be able to overruff.]

While the 3-0 trump division was unfortunate, declarer could have made his slam despite the bad break. At trick two, he should have led a low spade from dummy to his ace. If East shows out of trumps, declarer can ruff two clubs in dummy without fear of an overruff, and still have the king and jack of trumps to draw the two outstanding trumps.

When West shows out of trumps, however, declarer must ruff two clubs with the king and queen of trumps, getting back to his hand with a red-suit ruff. After ruffing the fourth round of clubs in dummy, declarer leads the nine of trumps and passes it, taking the marked finesse for the ten of trumps. He can get back to his hand with a ruff to draw the ten with the jack of spades, and the last two tricks are declarer's—a good club and a trump.

Redskins Edge Cowboys, 14-7

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ken Houston says he figured the Dallas Cowboys would be trying to pass to their running back Walt Garrison on fourth down and only seconds left, so the Washington Redskins' safety knew it was his job to stop him.

Dallas Redskins 14, Cowboys 7.

Washington Redskins: 20 First downs, 133 Rushes-yards, 28-177, 37 Passing yards, 103, 29 Return yards, 11, 13-2-1 Passes, 14-2-0, 4-3 Punts, 4-4-5, 2-8 Fumbles-lost, 2-1, 4-2 Penalties-yards, 6-30.

"I was looking for that play because our rush had been so good," said Houston after the Redskins defeated the Cowboys.

Buckeyes Still Atop AP List

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State and its six closest pursuers held onto their positions today in The Associated Press college football ratings while Tulane, Kansas and Miami of Ohio joined the Top Twenty for the first time this season.

Dallas Redskins 14, Cowboys 7.

Washington Redskins: 20 First downs, 133 Rushes-yards, 28-177, 37 Passing yards, 103, 29 Return yards, 11, 13-2-1 Passes, 14-2-0, 4-3 Punts, 4-4-5, 2-8 Fumbles-lost, 2-1, 4-2 Penalties-yards, 6-30.

Big Lake Predictor Wins Herald's Football Contest

Winner of the Herald's football contest last week was Ray Lamun of Styles Rte., Big Lake, who claimed $12.50 in prize money.

Second, and claimant of $7.50 in cash, was Evie Miller of 3303 Drexel, Big Spring.

Several persons tied for third place but Mike Nelson of 2401 S. Gregg St., Big Spring, won the $5 prize for having come closest to the actual score in two "tie-breaker" games.

The Borden County-Klondike game, included in last week's list of games, was not played. For that reason, everyone who participated in the contest was credited with a victory in that game (Borden County and Klondike meet this week).

Interest in the weekly contest has boomed since it began several weeks ago. A new guessing game is printed in today's edition of The Herald. Completed entries must be in the Herald by noon Friday in order to be considered.

QB Club To Meet

The Big Spring Quarterback Club will gather tonight at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, and parents of Steer football players are special guests for the night.

Films of Friday's 34-27 Dist. 5-AAAA opening loss to Abilene High will be shown, and a scouting report will be given on the Midland Bulldogs, the Longhorns' opponents this Friday.

NBA Season Opens Today

By The Associated Press

Can Bill Russell bring peace and harmony to the Seattle SuperSonics?

Is Elmore Smith the man to fill the massive shoes of Wilt Chamberlain?

Will the New York Knicks' Dave DeBusschere—or perhaps the Milwaukee Bucks' Oscar Robertson—get a National Basketball Association championship ring as a going-away present?

Can Gene Shue—or Doug Collins, or anyone—save the Philadelphia 76ers?

Those are some of the questions around the NBA, which opens its 28th season with five games tonight. Houston plays at Buffalo, Detroit meets the defending champion Knicks in New York, the relocated Capital Bullets are at Atlanta, Golden State opens at Cleveland and Los Angeles is at Chicago against the rugged Bulls.

Play in the rival American Basketball Association begins Wednesday.

In the most dramatic coaching change, Russell, who led the Boston Celtics to 11 championships in 13 seasons as a player and a player-coach, takes over as coach and general manager of the troubled Seattle SuperSonics.

Russell inherits a team which was a disappointing 26-56 last year, when the Sonics went through two coaches, Tom Nissalke, who was fired in midseason, and Bucky Buckwalter.

Mets In NL Lead; Fight Mars Action

NEW YORK (AP) — After some belts from Rusty Staub and a couple from Bud Harrelson, too, the Cincinnati Reds are on the brink of a knockout.

Staub hit two home runs and Harrelson hit Pete Rose in a brawl-filled game Monday in which the New York Mets beat the Reds 9-2 and took a 2-1 lead in this best-of-five playoff series to determine baseball's National League representative in the World Series.

Staub's homers drove in four runs, but it was Harrelson's battle with Rose that literally drove the Reds from the field in one of the most bizarre playoff affairs in history.

The final score, despite its importance, was almost anticlimactic after what happened in the fifth inning.

A crowd of 53,967 was buzzing with an apparent New York victory, loudly cheering their Shea Stadium heroes as the Mets forged a 9-2 lead after four innings.

Then came the fifth, when Rose barreled into Harrelson in an attempt to break up a double play at second base.

"He hit me with his elbow," Harrelson said after the explosive game. "I'm tired of being used as a punching bag."

The Mets' gutsy little shortstop said something to the burly Rose. The Cincinnati left fielder gave Harrelson a shove and the two exchanged blows, fell to the ground and tussled in the infield dust.

The battle triggered a flood-tide of players from both benches and the bullpen as well. They raced on the field and began fighting among themselves while the crowd noise swelled.

It took five minutes for officials to restore order.

But there was more.

The heat of battle still smoldered in the stands, and some fans got into the act. When Rose walked out to his left field position in the bottom of the

Nicklaus Donates Money Following Meet Victory

KINGS MILLS, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus unemotionally romped over his rivals in the $125,000 Ohio Kings Island Open. He emotionally turned down a $25,000 payday.

"I don't accept the purse," said Nicklaus, whose final 72 gave him a four-round total of 271, 13-under-par and six shots ahead of runner-up Lee Trevino.

Nicklaus announced he was setting up a $20,000 Ohio State University scholarship in the name of his late father, pharmacist Charles Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio.

The other $5,000 went to the fifth inning, he was showered with debris—beer cans, soda bottles, flashlight batteries, a whiskey bottle and other assorted junk.

Manager Sparky Anderson of the Reds didn't like the scene, so he waded in his players.

"I just wanted to calm things down," he said.

It didn't have a completely soothing effect on the vociferous crowd, but the next thing that happened did. In a dramatic grandstand play, the Mets sent some representatives out to left field to restore order.

Willie Mays, Tom Seaver, Staub and Cleon Jones all pleaded with the disruptive fans to quiet down.

It worked.

Boy Scouts of America, the charity benefiting from all of the proceeds of his new tour event at the Nicklaus Golf Center.

"I haven't worked out the details yet," the game's greatest shotmaker said of the scholarship, "but it will go to a golf-minded boy in Southwestern Ohio. He doesn't have to be a golfer."

Nicklaus' surprise announcement paralleled a 1965 move by Gary Player, one of his closest friends on the tour.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: 1973 the new and the old are present for many apparently insoluble problems...

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get together with allies and improve some project that has become truly successful. Get about and study more modern trends. Drive with care and improve diet. No making recordings.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get out of that rut and investigate new interests that could prove profitable. Buy the new necessities that will improve your wardrobe. Do nothing impulsive. Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Enjoy your favorite recreations. Try to please your mate more. Come to a true understanding and be happy. A good day for making recordings.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Go after the information you require for a new interest. Study newspaper for new ideas you need. A good day for advancement.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Find modern methods that can help you understand with a bias. Use fact handling difficult situation of long standing.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Find new associate who can add new life to your life. Discuss ideas carefully. Steer clear of an ally who is irresponsible today. Take mate out.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) Find new system that will help you plow through all that work efficiently. Take new health treatments that can be helpful and make you more dynamic, charming, and successful. If becomes truly successful, do not become truly successful. Get about and study more modern trends. Drive with care and improve diet. No making recordings.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Some new approach at home can make a world of a difference and get excellent results. Buy new furnishings for home. Invite friends in tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your mind is keen and you can put across excellent deals, start a better working method. Make notations of new ideas to remember them. Commit a greater income.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Read today's business journals for information needed to have a greater income. Talk to that business person you have long avoided. He's not as wayout as you think.

MRS. ROBERT ROSS POPE

Church In Abilene Scene Of Ceremony

The First Central Presbyterian Church, Abilene, was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Miss Patrice Elaine Nations to Robert Ross Pope.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel A. Nations, Abilene, formerly of Big Spring, and the bridegroom is the son of Robert J. Pope of Alice.

The Rev. W. Wallace Faris read the rites before a background of candelabra, palms and arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Mrs. Jack Glover was organist, and the vocalist was Mrs. Richard Fox.

Miss Vicki Noack, Wichita, Kans., was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Henry Clanton, Denton; Mrs. Travis Smith and Miss Ginger Henson. They were identically attired in empire dresses of moss green velvet with ivory lace bishop sleeves.

The bride's gown was fashioned of ivory peau de soie; the bodice overlaid with English net and styled with full sleeves and rounded neckline. Appliques of peau d'ange lace patterned the entire gown, and pearls detailed bows at the wrists. A headed lace headpiece held her cathedral veil.

Kenneth C. O'Neill, Alice, was best man, and groomsmen were the bride's brother, David Nations; the bridegroom's brother, Wayne Pope, Alice; and Leo McGilvary, Groesbeck. Serving as ushers were Chris Cummins, Belton, and Gage Mims, Big Spring. The flower girl was Estee Gregory, Plano, and the ring bearer was Steven Babcock, Portland, Texas.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., the couple will reside at 213 Ave. G, Denton where both are senior students at North Texas State University. A graduate of William Adams High School, he is associated with Larry Foster and Associates, Dallas. Mrs. Pope graduated from Abilene High School.

The reception was held at the Petroleum Club, where refreshments were served by Miss Beth Piekoff, Miss Lanelle Traynham, Fort Worth; Mrs. Joe Mashek, West; and Mrs. Ken Elhers, Houston.

Guests attending from Big Spring were Mrs. W. P. Mims and Mrs. C. C. Nations, grandmothers of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Mims, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Thornhill, Sam Mims, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jones and Capt. and Mrs. Bill Coots.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harter were honored with a reception in Palo Alto Calif., recently in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Harter is the former Grace Sharman who, in 1921, was the honor girl graduate at Big Spring High School. She is a sister of Mrs. Bess Sharman Power 508 Nolan and an aunt of Bill Sharman a Los Angeles Lakers basketball coach. Her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sharman. Mr. Sharman was a pioneer merchant in Big Spring.

The Harters both native Texans, were married in Amarillo Sept. 8, 1923 and both attended West Texas State University in Canyon. She taught school there and he was a post office clerk. In 1940, they went to Berkeley for Mrs. Harter to do graduate work at the University of California, and they have made their home in California since that time.

The reception was held in the Church of Christ with the women of the church acting as hostesses.

The Harters reared three boys: their son, John, Bethesda, Md.; and two of Mrs. Harter's brothers who lived with them since childhood, James Sharman, Palo Alto, and David Sharman, Falls Church, Va. There are 11 grandchildren.

The Harters who now reside at the Adlai Stevenson House, Palo Alto, are active in the East Bay Dahlia Society and are members of World War I Veterans and its auxiliary. Both are certified senior judges of the American Dahlia Society and avid musicians.

No Wrestling

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Would you please write something in your column about overly affectionate fathers who encourage intimate body contact (all in the spirit of playfulness) with their teenage daughters?

This horseplay between my son-in-law and his 13-year-old daughter involves a lot of wrestling and touching, but I was shocked when I saw them rolling around on the bed (in the parents' bedroom) while my daughter was busy putting on her make-up in the adjoining bathroom.

Abby, this grandchild is just coming into young womanhood, and it's possible for her to become sexually stimulated and aroused by this sort of thing. Soon enough she will be faced with sex play with her peers, which is normal and natural, but such teasing from her father worries me.

I don't want to hurt my daughter by even suggesting that her husband keep his hands off his daughter. She might even be offended.

Frankly, I am ashamed to be writing this letter. I don't think I'm evil-minded, and I'm no prude, but perhaps my son-in-law will see it and take the hint. If you think I am wrong, please say so. I'll be able to take that, too.

WORRIED GRANNY

DEAR WORRIED: Touching and hugging is a normal healthy expression of affection between fathers and daughters. But you make a good point. Teen-age girls should be taught that their bodies are "private," and not to be manhandled by anyone — fathers included. And fathers should refrain from intimate horseplay with their budding young daughters. As revolting as the idea may be to some, it's possible for parents and children to be turned on sexually by each other, so intelligent restraint should be exercised.
