ANYONE HOME? — This inquisitive kitty peers down into the water of an aquarium in Montgomery, Ala., to see if anyone was at home. And there was a goldfish swimming behind the castle. Latest report said the kitty gave up and the fish are still swimming around.

Headed For Grave, Mishap Saves Woman

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Clara Small was being driven to her grave when a traffic accident saved her life, police say.

The police gave this account: Winifred Hilbert, 60, forced his way into the home of his former wife, Mrs. Small, 73, on Oct. 5. He handcuffed her, beat her severely and held her captive for five days. He took her to a secluded cemetery, forced her to dig a grave and told her he was going to bury her there. Before making a second trip to the cemetery, he removed her jewelry and other means of identification. En route to the cemetery last Thursday, he was involved in a minor traffic mishap and was arrested. He was intoxicated and was carrying a revolver.

"Mrs. Small was too frightened to say anything at the time, but she later told what had happened to relatives who phoned us," Police Sgt. Don Newberger said Monday. He said she had bruises all over her body.

Police have charged Hilbert with false imprisonment, aggravated assault and driving while intoxicated. He was released on bond.

Mrs. Small is under the care of a doctor, police said.

Women Considered For Job Of Veep

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — President Nixon made a "conscious, concerted effort" to find qualified women to nominate to the vice presidential vacancy, presidential counselor Anne Armstrong says.

But Mrs. Armstrong declined to identify the women considered by the President.

"I'd say there were about five or six names that recurred many times" she told newsmen Monday night.

Sterling Chosen Head

J. M. Sterling was elected chairman of the board of directors of the Howard Soil and Water Conservation District Monday. Bobby Cathey was named vice chairman.

Re-elected secretary was C. Ray Russell. Jerry Iden was the previous chairman, and L. N. Davis, the former vice chairman. Davis, Coahoma, was re-elected to the board to represent zone 5.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Motorists will find higher gasoline prices at many service stations today, the result of new price action by the Cost of Living Council.

The council Monday all but abandoned the rigid gasoline price ceilings that had drawn extensive complaints from gasoline retailers.

The council said about one-third of the nation's estimated 185,000 independent gasoline stations will be able to increase prices from one-tenth of a cent to 1 1/4 cents per gallon.

It will be the second authorized price increase within a month for some dealers.

Only those retailers receiving wholesale gasoline price increases since Sept. 28 — the date of the last council-approved price hike — can take advantage of the new retail price increase authorization.

The council also promised dealers the right to increase prices automatically after Nov. 1 to cover any future increases in wholesale gasoline costs.

This automatic passthrough had been a major demand of retailers, a number of whom closed their stations to protest regulations they viewed as discriminatory.

Charles Binsted, president of the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers said the council's actions "will give dealers a great deal of the relief they needed."

The council also authorized retail price increases for heating oil and diesel fuel Monday, but an official said he did not expect widespread increases for these items.

The council estimates that every one cent increase in the price of gasoline costs the nation's motorists $1 billion.

Charles Owens, head of the council's energy division, said he felt the original regulations forcing gasoline dealers to absorb temporarily some higher wholesale costs led to widespread confusion.

The council has argued that the increase in gasoline prices this past year partly resulted from gasoline retailers taking advantage of the spring and summer gasoline shortage.

Its price ceilings were designed to force retailers to give up some of these increases.

Gene Krupa Dies

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Jazz drummer Gene Krupa died today at his home here. He was 64.

Krupa had been released from Yonkers General Hospital about a week ago after undergoing treatment for leukemia.

His last public appearance was Aug. 18 in Saratoga, N.Y., with Benny Goodman, whose band he joined in 1934.

Some Chelsea People Lost Everything

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP) — Some lost their homes. Some lost home and car. Some lost home, car, job or business — everything.

The problem today was finding the necessities of life for more than 1,000 people burned out by Sunday's fire that raged through this industrial city north of Boston. Eighteen city blocks were destroyed, 12 others were damaged.

There were no deaths or serious injuries. Damage was estimated at $100 million or more.

City officials said 800 buildings were destroyed, including 62 dwellings, most of them tenement buildings. Sixty-two businesses were destroyed, eliminating 600 jobs.

"In all about 1,100 people were forced to the streets," said Police Chief Abraham Burin. "A few will be able to return to their homes today but the majority have nothing left."

The city tried to move toward a semblance of normalcy today as schools reopened after being closed Monday.

Demolition equipment was to move into the area today to knock down the shaky chimneys and tottering walls — all that were left of gutted buildings in the industrial-residential area.

The refugees spent the night in schools, churches, armories and other buildings. Service agencies like the Red Cross and Salvation Army were in the area setting up temporary meal production and other help.

Civil Defense officials said a major need was for canned and nonperishable foods, which were being stockpiled by the Salvation Army for homeless residents.

Attorneys Delay Monday Trials

Attorneys in five 118th District Court civil cases set last week for trial Monday were not ready Monday and those reporting from a list of 100 prospective jurors were dismissed.

Cost to the county is estimated at $300.

Prospective jurors will next be summoned to district court on Oct. 29. District Judge R. W. Caton has slated six criminal cases for the week starting Monday, Oct. 29.

Judge Caton said he hopes to commence retriving Jody Hilliard or John Howard Franklin or trying Lonell Banks. The first two defendants are charged with armed robbery.

Banks was indicted on three counts of sale of heroin.

Senator Hasn't Altered View On Mid-East Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said today he was surprised at the reaction to his statements that Israel should have worked for a negotiated settlement of its conflict with the Arabs.

"It's basically the same position I've advocated for four or five years," he said in an interview. "I've made several speeches about the war, beginning in 1969. I don't think I've changed my position all that much."

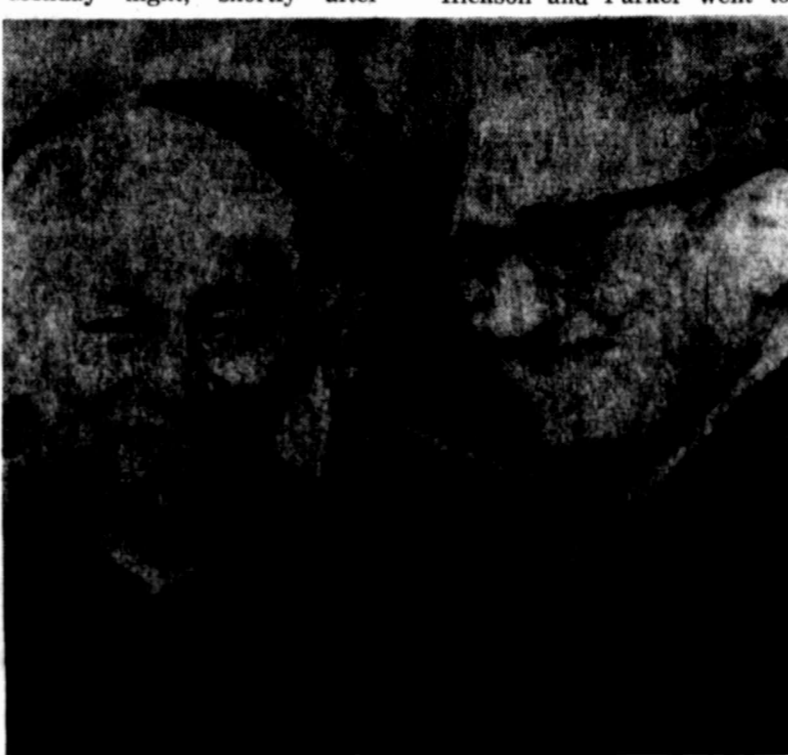

The senator said that his position and that of former Secretary of State William Rogers "and, I believe, at that time, also the President" were nearly

NOBEL PEACE PRIZE WINNERS Le Duc Tho (L), Henry Kissinger

Nobel Award Is Shared By Two

OSLO, Norway (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and North Vietnamese Politburo member Le Duc Tho were awarded the 1973 Nobel Peace Prize today for their efforts to officially end the Vietnam war.

Kissinger and Tho defeated 45 other accepted candidates, including President Nixon, President Tito of Yugoslavia and 10 international organizations.

The prize was about $120,000 and will be shared equally between the two winners.

The Nobel committee chairman, Mrs. Aase Lionaes, a judge and member of Parliament, announced the decision after the five-member committee reviewed the candidates for 2 1/2 hours.

When announcement of the award came, Kissinger was reported in a meeting at the White House and was unavailable for immediate comment.

Kissinger, 50, is the 16th American to win or share the peace prize since it first was awarded in 1901.

The last American winner was Norman E. Borlaug, who developed a new type of high-yield grain for use in underdeveloped countries. He won the prize in 1970.

Le Duc Tho is the first Asian to win the prize.

The prize has been shared by two individuals 11 times previously.

No Nobel Peace Prize was awarded last year, as has happened on 18 occasions since 1914.

Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany won the last prize in 1971 for his reconciliation policy toward Communist Eastern Europe.

The terse announcement from the Nobel committee said:

"The Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Storting has decided to give the 1973 Nobel Peace Prize to Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho to share equally between them. The prize money is 510,000 Swedish kroner — $120,000 dollars. The prize money for 1972 is returned to the main fund."

coast authorities said two Houston scientists were en route to the area to study the reported abduction of Charles Hickson and Calvin Parker.

Authorities first said the scientists were from NASA, but later said they were not associated with the federal agency.

Hickson and Parker went to coast officials last Thursday, saying they had been taken aboard a blue craft occupied by red-skinned creatures for about a half hour.

Coast officials and two other scientists closely questioned the men. Both groups said they were convinced the two were picked up by a nonterrestrial craft.

There have been numerous UFO sightings in the state over the past several weeks. Such reports began in the northern section of Mississippi and drifted last week to the coast area.

Monday's sightings occurred from D'Lo to North Biloxi. A coast television station said reports from residents carried nearly the same description of a white object with red and yellow lights.

Charles Necaice of D'Lo said he tried to follow the UFO but

Nixon To Meet With Arabs

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the Mideast war threatens U.S. oil imports, the White House announced today that President Nixon would meet on Wednesday with four Arab foreign ministers.

Deputy White House press secretary Gerald L. Warren made the announcement. He would say only that the foreign ministers of Saudi Arabia, Algeria, Kuwait and Morocco had "asked to see the President to discuss the current situation in the Middle East."

Warren said the meeting would be held in the White House on Wednesday.

The meeting would be the first since 1957 when President Dwight D. Eisenhower met with Arab leaders.

Hoosier State Is Edgy, Too

HUNTINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Could those strange lights seen over Indiana be anything more than just planets and stars?

That's the question being asked by police and residents in South Central, West Central and Northern Indiana, where strange, multi-colored objects have been sighted the past two nights.

"It followed me home," said Richard Pape, who lives on a farm near Huntington.

Pape said his wife and daughter saw red and blue lights in the sky as they returned to their home from farm property a mile away.

"I got out of my truck and said jokingly 'There's one now,'" Pape related.

"It wasn't a joke, he said. 'It was hovering above us ... about 500 feet up at the most,'" he said.

Pape got back in the truck and headed home, he said, while the object moved ahead of them.

Twelve Win Bucks In Bingo Wrap-Up

Newspaper Bingo drew to a close this week with 12 winners earning a total of $204 in the final double-pot game.

The latest 12, who won $17 apiece, joined 22 local citizens who won earlier games in the 13-week contest sponsored by The Herald and 30 participating merchants.

Latest winners and the firms at which they obtained their bingo cards and spent their bingo bucks were Freda Walker, 109 E. 16th, Webb Federal Credit Union; John Brinning, 1746 Purdue, Webb Credit Union; Brigitte Kushaney, 4207 Parkway, Foodway; Johnny Jabor, 611 N. Gregg, Gibson's; Mrs. Leroy Strickland, 1605 Harding, Montgomery Ward.

Also, Jack C. Brown, Rt. 1, Box 483, TG&Y; Mrs. Ray Elmore, Box 50, Coahoma, Academy of Hair Design; Mrs. Tom Orenbaum, P.O. Box 2181, C. R. Anthony; Ann Holcomb, 15 20 Trailer Court, Cook's Discount; Kerry Towe, 704 Goliad, Prager's Men's and Boys' Wear; Mrs. J. M. Henderson, 1606 Oriole, Burger Chef; and Julie Jones, 1004 W. 7th, Crawford Pontiac, Inc.

Also, fifth game, Mrs. Ann Curtis; sixth game, S. V. Jordan, Naomi Marks and Amanda Deanda; seventh game, Mrs. Sammy E. Rasnake, Ileana D. Fairchild and Mrs. Matthew T. Mooney; and ninth game, Mrs. Adele M. Pekowski, Mrs. D. M. McEvers and Charles L. Lundberg.

No winners came forth in games one, eight, ten, eleven or twelve.

An estimated total of 500,000 cards were played during the entire contest in which special "bingo bucks" were awarded to players with "black-out" cards. Black-outs were obtained by crossing off numbers on the bingo cards as they appeared in "bingo bugs" daily in the newspaper ads of participating merchants.

ACCORDING TO PRESIDENT ANWAR SADAT

Egyptian Missiles Can Hit Israel's Heart

By The Associated Press

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt claimed today his troops have missiles poised "to be launched to the very depths of Israel any minute." But Premier Golda Meir of Israel claimed the Egyptian tank charge into the Sinai has been halted.

Tank and artillery battles raged in the Sinai Desert and in Syria as Sadat made a tough address to the Egyptian People's Assembly in Cairo and Mrs. Meir talked to the Israeli parliament in Jerusalem.

"At this very moment Israeli forces are on the western bank of the canal," the 75-year old Israeli premier said.

Mrs. Meir did not say how many Israelis were on the western side of the Suez Canal or where they had crossed.

Egypt took control of the 103-mile-long waterway after its troops stormed across at the outbreak of the current hostilities Oct. 6 and pushed into the Sinai peninsula seized by Israel in 1967. Since then Israeli and Egyptian tanks and artillery have been battling along an uneven front placed by claims from both sides at from three to 10 miles east of the canal.

Sadat coupled his missile threat with an announcement he is ready to reopen the canal, closed since the 1967 conflict, and sign a cease-fire leading to a peace conference under U.N. auspices. But he said this would be possible only if Israel pulls out of the Arab land it captured in 1967 and guarantees the rights of the Palestinian people.

Israel has rejected both demands in the past as prior conditions for negotiations.

Mrs. Meir declared in her talk — apparently not intended as a point-by-point response to Sadat — that Israel will never sign a cease-fire with the Arabs unless it specifies the return of "all our prisoners."

RUSHING ARMS

U.S. transport planes were rushing arms to bolster Israel's battered war machine, meanwhile, and a Soviet airlift was doing the same for the Syrians and Egyptians as the Middle East conflict went into its 11th day with more furious fighting.

Israel claimed its armor and artillery knocked out 50 Arab tanks on the Syrian front and said its warplanes bombarded military targets in Syria and in Egypt about 100 miles north of Cairo, the Egyptian capital where Sadat gave his speech.

"If you imagine you can hit at Arab depth," Sadat declared in a reference to Israeli leaders, "I want to warn you that the transdesert Egyptian missiles of the Zafer type are now fitted on their bases."

"I have always warned that in our confrontation with Israel, it will be an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth and depth for depth," he added.

Great Week Shaping Up At Coahoma High

COAHOMA — This shapes up will be an after-game picture as a great weekend for the elementary school cafeteria. All Coahoma exes are biennial homecoming at Coahoma High School. Events begin with a 3:15 p.m. pep rally in the high school gym and the kick off of the district football game between Coahoma and Stanton at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Bulldog Stadium, followed by a potluck luncheon. Following the contest there at the grade school cafeteria.

Highlight of Saturday's program will be the parade starting at 2 p.m. downtown Coahoma.

Exes are also urged to join in a steak dinner ($2) with all the trimmings at 5 p.m. at Rick's School Store, sponsored by the Eastern Star.

Half-time activities at the ball game Friday include crowning of the homecoming king and queen. Nominees for king are Rube Baker, Hezzie Read, Troy Roberts and Jim Turner; for queen Norma Turner Grant, Amy Lee Echols Purcell, Marie Warren McDonald, and Maurine (Pid) Roberts Turner.

Good Prenatal Care A Must

"The public must be made aware of the need for better prenatal and perinatal care," said Mrs. Dan Hutchinson. "This is medical care during the months of pregnancy and the weeks just before and after birth. These are critical times for every mother and baby," Mrs. Hutchinson added.

Mrs. Hutchinson is Executive Secretary of the Caprock Chapter of the National Foundation-March of Dimes. She has just returned from a two-day Regional Conference in Dallas sponsored by the voluntary health organization.

"The March of Dimes is constantly working toward its goal of birth defects prevention," she said. "Innovations to protect each child's healthy birthright were emphasized throughout the meeting."

"Genetic counseling, early detection of the high-risk pregnancy, and intensive care of the critically ill newborn are some of the modern means used to combat babies' public enemy number one — birth defects," Mrs. Hutchinson continued.

Medical researchers are investigating why each year some 250,000 American babies are born damaged in some way. March of Dimes volunteers are sponsoring educational and community service programs to inform the public about known means of prevention. They also promote fund-raising activities to support further medical research and treatment.

"Across the country, the March of Dimes also supports some 118 medical service programs," Mrs. Hutchinson noted, "including ones in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Galveston, Albuquerque and Oklahoma City."

"The aim of these programs is to help each newborn to his right to a healthy start in life," she said.

Dennis Reported Progressing Well

Mike Dennis, 17, whose feet were cut off following a Labor Day accident at a local car wash, is reportedly progressing quite well in Willford Hall Hospital, in San Antonio.

According to a report received Tuesday, the infection in his left leg is now believed under control.

A benefit dance for Dennis has been slated for 8 p.m. Thursday at the Bar-C Club (formerly Bar-D) on Hwy. 80. Tickets are $2 a head.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benny Hatfield, Big Spring.

Extension Asked For Brief Filing

A motion for extension of time to file briefs has been filed in the case of Robert E. Chambers versus the State of Texas, appealed to the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland from 118th District Court in Howard County.

The court did not immediately rule on the petition. It also affirmed the trial court judgment in the appeal from Mitchell County by Oval Dee Webb versus Liberty Mutual Insurance Company.

College Prexies' Mother Succumbs

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Lee Ella Williams Cheek, 69, mother of two college presidents, died Sunday. Mrs. Cheek was the mother of Dr. James E. Cheek, president of Howard University in Washington, D.C., and Dr. King V. Cheek, president of Morgan State College in Baltimore.

Where Possible, Use Mass Transit, People Are Told

The Environmental Protection Agency has issued transportation controls for the three major metropolitan areas of Texas which appear aimed at limiting use of the automobile.

But the agency's assistant regional counsel in Dallas, Diana Dutton, said, "The EPA is not forbidding use of the automobile... they are trying to get people to use mass transit if possible to get to and from work."

The Texas Air Control Board has maintained that a state plan would meet federal air standards by controlling industries alone.

The plans were made public simultaneously Monday in the Houston-Galveston, Dallas-Fort Worth and San Antonio areas.

Asked about the possible cost to the cities for control procedures, Miss Dutton answered, "I don't know how much this is going to cost. The primary cost to the cities would be in planning, signs for freeways and computerized systems for car pools."

Refusal to implement the proposals, said J. Paul Comola, Dallas assistant regional administrator, likely would result in civil action. He added, "I would expect that they (elected officials) would support our proposals."

Immediately after the EPA disclosed the proposals, Gov. Dolph Briscoe suggested possible legal action to block the plans.

"It is unfortunate that the EPA chose not to consider the careful studies that the TACB has made of our cities," the governor said in a statement issued at Austin.

"It now appears that the only immediate alternative left to the state is to seek injunctive relief from the courts against implementation of these plans."

The TACB has authorized its staff to join Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill in a court move against the plans, but it appears unlikely any suit will be filed before the next air board meeting Oct. 30.

At a Houston hearing, EPA regional administrator Arthur W. Busch called the plan "reasonable" and discounted the thought of a lawsuit to block the federal controls. "I think our plans are reasonable... and I don't think there's a basis for a lawsuit," Busch replied when asked if he expected legal action by the TACB.

The EPA backed off from tougher proposals, which drew much opposition at public hearings last July, and stretched the compliance deadlines on other key regulations by one to two years.

The proposals expected to remain unchanged were control of industrial degreasing with a 90 per cent reduction in emissions by May 31, 1975; application of existing state regulations to enforce and control emissions of certain volatile chemical compounds; installation of more than $14 million worth of equipment to control evaporative emissions from service stations and gasoline storage facilities by May 31, 1975, and a system of mandatory inspection and maintenance programs for car owners by May 1, 1976.

Other proposals not considered likely for the San Antonio area were requirements for employers with more than 1,000 workers in one location to encourage car pools or the use of mass transit; setting up computerized car pool systems to cut down on central business district traffic; and making lanes on specific major streets for exclusive use of buses and car pools by Jan. 1, 1976.

Effective immediately in the Houston area, and retroactive to Aug. 15, on garages not begun by that date was a requirement to obtain a permit on new parking facilities for more than 500 cars.

Stricken Craven Is Hospitalized

The Rev. Claude Craven is in the heart care unit at Medical Center Hospital following a heart attack sustained Monday.

The Rev. Mr. Craven, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, was ill a week earlier while visiting in-law in Hollis, Okla. Symptoms recurred Monday, according to his wife, and it was discovered that he had a heart attack. His condition at this time is listed as serious.

Curious Timing, Clear Peril

The central question about the new Arab-Israeli war is: Why now?

Why did Egypt and Syria, as seems apparent, choose this time to take on Israel? We say apparent because the fighting erupted on Yom Kippur, the holiest of days in Israel. Also, the two Arab nations claimed initial victories in Israeli-occupied territory and they had to move across cease-fire lines to do that.

One theory, and it seems reasonable, is that Egypt and Syria, badly beaten in 1967, hoped to gain a little territory back, gain a cease-fire in peace and wait for Henry Kissinger to pull off a miracle. Some see the war as a play to apply an oil squeeze on the West.

The new war has put the Middle East back on the front pages and back at the top of the list of world problems. President Nixon has called Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev. The United Nations Security Council and General Assembly both taken up the war. If that was a goal, it has been achieved.

Both the United States and Russia are staying calm. It appears they will stay out of the conflict, just as they did in the Six-Day War six years ago. Russia, in fact, pulled its personnel out of Egypt and Syria before the fighting started this time. War and threats of war have been present since the creation of Israel 25 years ago. Israel has won three conflicts and gained territory in each one. The Arab states were humiliated in 1967 and have not given up hope of redressing that beating.

The new fighting casts the problem anew into the laps of the U.S. and Russia and the United Nations. The U.S. is deeply split. Even if the Security Council should reach an agreement, Israel may ignore it as it has the 1967 resolution calling for withdrawal from occupied territories. Based on experience, Israel regards international guarantees as worthless.

Since the Arab states regard the United States as the key to pushing Israel toward a political settlement, the fighting appears aimed at increasing leverage on Washington. But, the U.S. had been shifting more toward neutrality and away from its heavily pro-Israel stance. Arab oil is, of course, a factor in that shift.

Now, with the Soviets openly supplying some of the Arab nations with armaments, the U.S. has been forced into lifting its restrictions on shipments to Israel. So why the timing on the present war, may be mysterious, its perils are not.

Think Big, Steal Big

Crime and punishment, white collar style, are too often scarcely related.

Consider the case of Jack L. Clark, the man who led Four Season Nursing Centers from boom to bankruptcy. The government claimed that Clark got $10 million for himself and cheated investors out of $200 million.

Clark was charged with conspiring to violate the securities law. He could have received five years in jail and been fined $10,000. But he was allowed to plead guilty to one count and sentenced to one year in jail with no fine. He will be eligible for parole in four months.

The moral, or immoral, seems to be: Think big, steal big, cop a plea and laugh through a few months behind bars. But don't make the mistake of stealing small, or of being poor or black or brown.

BILLY GRAHAM

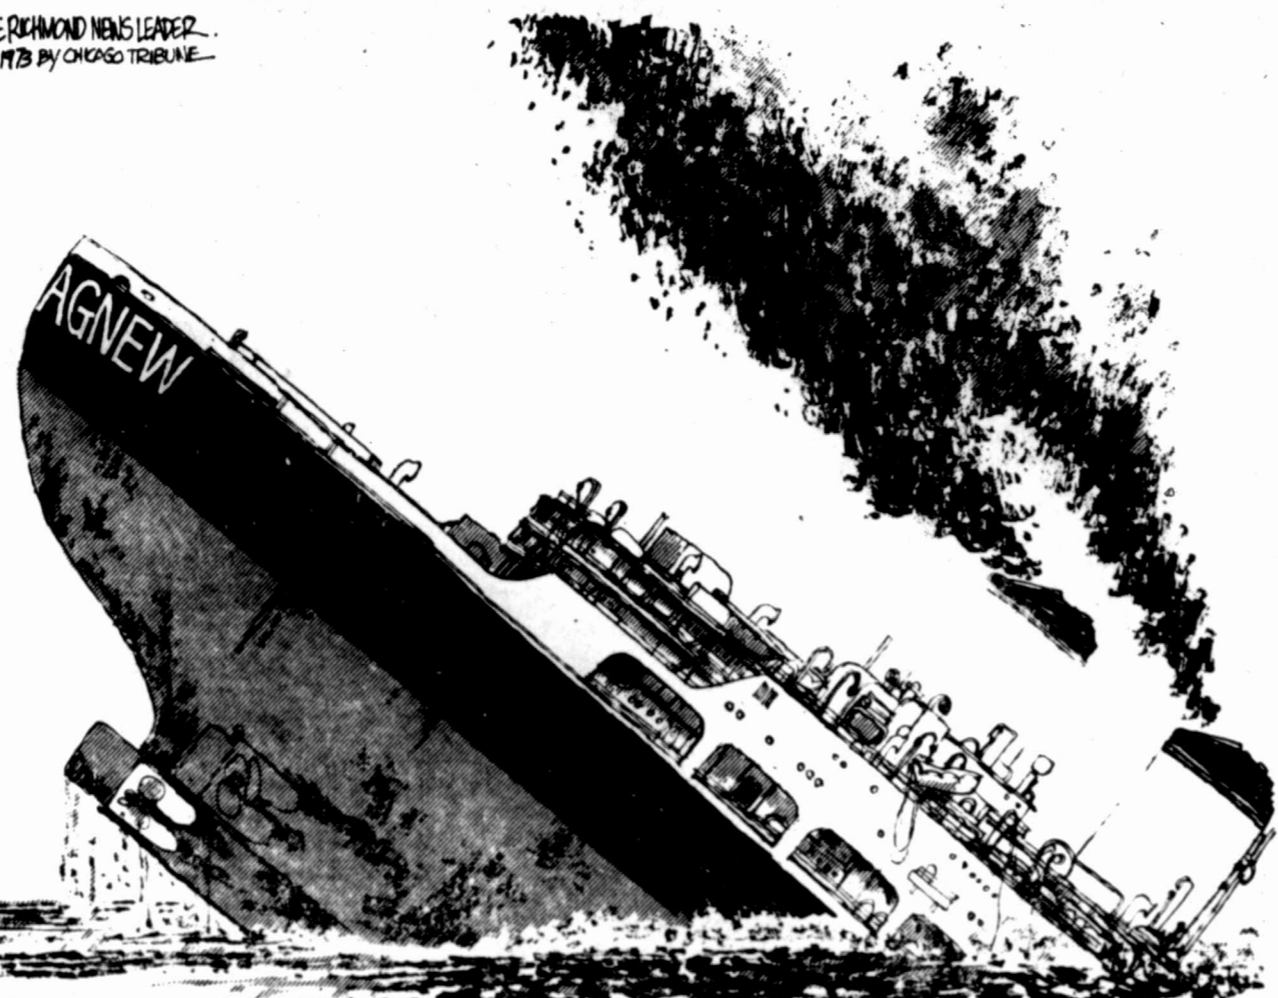

I had cancer over 20 years ago. It is my belief that God healed my body through dedicated, divinely guided surgeons, who prolonged my life. What do you think about a Christian donating one's body for medical research? Perhaps I can help speed a cancer cure. M.F.G. I commend you for a concept of Christian stewardship that goes beyond death. You mention not only a will to provide for disposition of property and assets, but even this further arrangement for your physical body. Conceivably it could spur the research that would benefit all mankind. In the fight against cancer, no gesture is unimportant, no gift too small.

The scripture does not deal with this matter specifically. It does assure the believer in Christ that whatever disposition is made of the body, ultimately, the "mortal will put on immortality... the corrupt will put on incorruption." I Corinthians 15.

I think the body, when lifeless, merits dignified treatment. For a Christian, it ought to be something appropriate to the fact that in life, it was the temple or house of the Holy Spirit. We should not idolize it or accord it such handling as if the real person was still there. Nevertheless, its disposition is a matter to be handled wisely and deliberately, and with overtones of a Christian witness.

Three Boys Try Hard

Hal Boyle

By JO HARING
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

EAST BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — It seems a shame to waste a perfectly good house on three small boys.

They seem to think so, too, judging from their blitzkrieg efforts at removing it from the face of the earth.

We slaved so long and hard to come by these four walls—agonizingly built, meticulously decorated, laboriously landscaped—amazing our friends, confounding our enemies and delighting the tax assessor.

And totally unimpressing our young fry.

It's not just the defacing of our property. We expected a certain amount of that, being the liberal-minded parents of young sons.

And we circumscribed much of the damage by carefully decorating in muted tones of peanut butter and jelly, with accents of finger-mark eraser and just a touch of dog hair here and there.

We did not foresee egg yolk and gum, not to mention marking pencils, glue and masking tape.

And surely eternal punishment must await the inventor of the ball point pen.

There might be a certain perverse pleasure in finding malice in these acts. But when No. 2 son takes you by the hand, assuring you that he has "made a boo-ti-ful picture" for you, then leads you to a television set with its picture tube completely colored in with gay pictures to which he points with creative pride, how can you truly find it in yourself to break every bone in his body?

It is the methodical and total destruction which gives one pause. Shingles missing from the house, sheet rock stripped from the garage, window wells filled with debris, not to mention cushions dispatched from the walls, water flowing from the bathroom to the kitchen via the ceiling.

All of this would seem to constitute acts of disturbed and dangerous individuals.

Not so. Each is the result of an act of extreme creativity—ammunition for the current neighborhood war, material for a fort, bases for the ball game, cushions for gross motor activity (parachuting from the coffee table), lakes for toy dinosaurs to float in.

We poke fingers into the dikes up to our elbows and assure each other that next year it will be better.

We both know better. Next year they will be older, wiser and stronger—and our energies will have declined by that much.

With the birth of the third boy, we started looking around for a nice gymnasium to buy. There's a lot to recommend it. There are no cushions to be removed, precious little glass to break, no furniture to run into. With a small trailer parked outside for cooking and sleeping facilities, it's hard to see how we could go wrong—unless, of course, peanut butter and jelly sticks to gym floors.

Maybe A Conscience

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am writing to you because I cannot go to the doctor I have had for so many years and let him know how I made a fool of myself.

I am 74 and my husband died 10 years ago. My children are all married and in homes of their own. At all times I have tried to be a lady wherever I was.

Three months ago I met a man who had lost his wife a few months before. He took me out several times and was always a perfect gentleman. When we went dancing and had some drinks, perhaps too much, and he took me home where I live alone because I became sick, so he stayed to take care of me.

When I woke I was still sick and when he suggested sex I wasn't up to fighting him off. I consented. The whole next week I didn't feel good, almost sick, and haven't felt good since. What might happen? It was 10 years since I had sex or went with a man. If I were younger I would think I was pregnant. What is the age of the oldest woman who ever had a baby? — R.E.

I know of no pregnancy of a woman older than her early 50s, and those are very rare, so put that out of your mind.

I suspect that your trouble is totally in your conscience; you feel that you weren't, that night, "a lady." But I cannot see that you harmed anyone and it's high time you put what's past behind you and forgot about it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been told that I have a cataract in one eye. Is there any time element regarding removal when it is ripe? In other words, can the operation be delayed any length of time?

And what length of time before being able to return to work? One week? Two weeks? — R.B.P.

A cataract doesn't even have to "get ripe," but can be re-

Atlas On Wine

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

When Mr. and Mrs. Ken Hart travel, Ken usually brings back a batch of beautiful brochures for my collection. Occasionally, he includes other odds and ends — articles, clippings or advertising literature which he thinks might interest some of the staff.

The OTHER day, along with folders on Arizona and Nevada, he brought information about a new book, "The World Atlas of Wine". It asked some questions (which I scored poorly on) but I'll pass them on because Polly Mays says she likes to take these little quizzes. Maybe you do, too.

- Here are the questions:
- 1) What is the one single factor that makes or breaks a vintage?
  - 2) What does the word, "spatlese", mean on German wines?
  - 3) What modest little village on France's Cote de Nuits produces the world's most expensive wine?
  - 4) What type of corkscrew is best?
  - 5) How can you select the best Chianti?
  - 6) What is the key to the production of fine California wine?
  - 7) What are the three basic requirements in storing wine properly?
  - 8) What part of Africa once produced one of the world's very great wines?
  - 9) What is vintage port?
  - 10) What is 'dumb' wine?
  - 11) How do you select the best Beaujolais?

12) What is a nebuchadnezzar of champagne?

Now, the answers:

- 1) The weather.
- 2) "Spatlese" means wine made from late-gathered and, therefore, riper grapes.
- 3) Vosne-Romanee.
- 4) A double-action corkscrew which draws the cork steadily and gently without disturbing the wine's sediment.
- 5) The best Chianti comes in Bordeaux bottles rather than the tubby, straw-plaited flasks.
- 6) Grape varieties; i.e., planting the right grape variety in the right spot.
- 7) Darkness, freedom from vibration, even temperature.
- 8) The legendary Constantia, a favorite in European courts during the 19th Century, came from the Capr Province region of South Africa.
- 9) Vintage port is the wine of a single, exceptional year. It is bottled at two years and labeled simply with its shipper's name and the date.
- 10) A wine not offering its full quality; i.e., a wine that is too young or too cold.
- 11) The name of its commune and often of its vineyard or grower's property is listed on the label of the best Beaujolais.
- 12) Twenty bottles of champagne in one.

Agnew's Ordeal

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's sudden, secret approach to the Justice Department on Friday, Oct. 5, to renew his plea bargaining not only surprised federal prosecutors but also followed two weeks during which he had no new communications at all with Agnew.

IT WAS during those two weeks, following his defiant speech at Los Angeles that Agnew sought to generate national sympathy by portraying himself as a victim of a Justice Department plot.

Thus, Agnew's new approach on Oct. 5 to Justice Department prosecutors — an approach made without the knowledge of some of his closest advisers — was interpreted by high administration officials as a signal that the Vice President's national campaign had failed. In fact, he did not receive terms substantially better than he could have received some three weeks earlier.

THE OVERRIDING view here is that Agnew resigned because he had no choice and simply could not carry through with the battle to remain in office in the face of federal prosecution. That greatly reduces prospects of the Agnew affair seriously damaging President Nixon in the hearts of Republican rightwingers mourning their departed leader.

AMBIVALENT from the start about whether to fight the charges or quit, Agnew began to accept advice from those lieutenants who wanted him to fight. The result was his Sept. 29 speech in Los Angeles pledging that he would not resign even if indicted and assaulting the Justice Department (particularly Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen) as the source of his woes. Next came his legal efforts to force newsmen to reveal the sources of leaks about the Agnew case.

HE WAS only partially successful. Some Republican stalwarts, resentful that the President undermined his Vice President, rushed to Agnew's defense. Furthermore, Agnew made his point about leaks to news media undermining his case and eroding his civil liberties. But he was clearly unable to convince the country that there was a conscious conspiracy, centered in the Justice Department, to drive him out of office.

IN THE renewed plea bargaining resumed Oct. 5, Agnew's lawyers this time accepted the Justice Department demands for a full disclosure of the case against him (resulting in the 40-page paper released on last Tuesday). Agnew's lawyers asked for an assurance of leniency. The Justice Department could give no such assurance but promised it would recommend leniency to the judge. The recommendation was made and accepted.

The Book Blurb

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — One of the most important functions a writer has is to provide blurbs for other writers' books. The blurb business is one of the biggest in the country and it is now estimated that 30,500,226 book blurbs are produced every year in the United States alone.

EVERYONE HAS seen book blurbs in advertisements such as "Hym Colderweller has written another 'Godfather,'" or, "Not since 'War and Peace' has anyone caught the spirit of the Women's Liberation Movement better than Sandra Bitter has in 'I Hate You, Marlon Brando.'"

There is a rule in the publishing business that no book can be printed unless the publisher receives 20 blurbs in its favor.

FOR THE public unfamiliar with how book blurbs come about, I think I can be of service. When a book is about to be published, the author is asked by the publisher's publicity department to provide a list of friends, preferably well known, who will say something nice about the work before publication.

The publicity department then sends out the galleys to people on the list. "Waldo Kransky has asked me to send you the galleys on his latest book, 'The Fingers That Couldn't Walk Through the Yellow Pages.' Would you kindly send us your comments?"

NOW, WHEN I receive the galleys, I am faced with a dilemma. I don't have time to read Kransky's book but, obviously, under the rules of the game I have to provide a blurb. Otherwise when I write a book Kransky won't give me one for my book.

About five books back I had neglected to give Kransky a blurb on his less than best seller "The Sexual Myth of the Seat Belt," and I ran into him at a party. He was very miffed. Kransky said he had taken his case to the Author's League, charging me with refusing to give a fellow author a book blurb, which is considered one of the most serious crimes a writer can commit.

A FEW DAYS later, the Author's League ruled in Kransky's favor and I was forbidden to solicit book blurbs from any member of the league for my next book.

So I rifled through the galleys of "The Fingers That Couldn't Walk Through the Yellow Pages" and then sat down to write the blurb: "Kransky has done it again." I sent it off special delivery to his publisher.

I SPENT all last week working on book blurbs for friends' books. It took me a day to come up with "Dynamite!" for a book on dieting, but only an hour to come up with "Eat your heart out, Norman Mailer," for Maynard Bowditch's new biography titled "I Never Knew Marilyn Monroe, Either."

There is some talk I may be nominated for a National Book Blurb Award this year.

Agnew: I Entered Plea To Still Raging Storm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Describing his political ruination by criminal charges as "my nightmare come true" and praising President Nixon and the man Nixon nominated to succeed him, former vice president Spiro T. Agnew has taken leave of American public life.

His valedictory Monday night was a 19-minute, nationally televised address in which he urged reforms in political campaign spending, government contract bidding and the use of immunity by prosecutors.

Speaking in a calm and deliberate manner, Agnew denied again all allegations of extortion and bribery raised against him by the Justice Department.

And he said his decision not to contest a felony charge of having evaded some $13,500 in Federal income taxes in 1967, when he was governor of Maryland, was not a guilty plea but "the only way to quickly resolve the situation."

It was done, he said, "to still the raging storm."

But coupled with his reassertion of innocence was a veiled acknowledgement that lawful manner. Perhaps, judged by the new post-Watergate political morality, I did," Agnew said.

"But the prosecution's assertion that I was the initiator and the grey eminence in an unprecedented and complex scheme of extortion is just not realistic," he said. Agnew resigned last Wednesday and pleaded no contest to the tax charge, on which he was sentenced to a $10,000 fine and three years' probation. In return for this the Justice Department agreed not to prosecute him on the other charges, but made them public.

Agnew said he reached the decision to resign only a few days beforehand, and prior to that had been determined to fight for his integrity and his office, regardless of the cost.

Charges Due To Be Filed Against Lester Roloff

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Charles Purnell, the governor's State Welfare Commissioner executive assistant, in Austin today to ask for a delay in closing the institutions.

Vowell said in Austin 10 girls under the age of 18 remained at the Rebekah home past the deadline and a welfare department worker sent to the Anchor Home was refused admittance.

Royce Oxford, father of the Anchor Home administrator, filed an Austin district court suit Monday against licensing laws for state child care facilities.

The evangelist, Lester Roloff, said he would meet with Don't send a boy to do a man's job. The potential saving in labor costs will rarely be enough to compensate for possible failure to accomplish the task.

South's hand was worth 22 points. With only four potential losers and a good seven-card suit, a forcing two-bid was the correct action. North had the values for a positive response, and his rebid of four spades at his second turn was well chosen—a doubleton queen should prove adequate support for a suit that has been freely rebid. Despite the fact that he is void in his partner's suit, South did well when he leaped to slam. Unless all his partner's values were in clubs there had to be a fair play for twelve tricks.

After a diamond attack, declarer could see no difficulty ahead. He won in his own hand, cashed the king and ace of hearts and ruffed a heart with dummy's low trump. Unfortunately, East overruffed with the jack and returned a trump, and declarer was stranded with a heart loser and nowhere to put it. Down one.

South's play was rather less exact than his bidding. He should have realized that there was the danger of an overruff in hearts and taken the necessary evasive measures.

Consider what would happen had declarer ruffed the third round of hearts with the queen of trumps! East can only discard, and the six of trumps remains in dummy. Declarer can get back to his hand with his remaining diamond honor and lead his last heart, ruffing with the six. East can overruff with the jack—the only trump missing that is higher than the six—but that would be the defenders' only trick. Declarer would regain the lead no matter what East returns, draw the outstanding trumps and claim the balance of the tricks. Not even a 4-0 trump split would bother him.

A Natural Energy Home uses natural gas for heating, cooling, water heating, cooking and clothes drying to save you money and help conserve our cleanest natural energy resource... natural gas.

That's because electricity in West Texas is generated by burning natural gas, and in the process of generating and transmitting electricity to your home, 2/3 of the gas energy is lost.

So, by using gas directly in the home for the jobs it can do, you're helping to conserve it and you're getting more energy for your money.

'Mental Illness Often Caused By Emotion'

"Emotions are the biggest cause of mental illness," said Jake Glickman, director of social services, Big Spring State Hospital, and guest speaker Monday for Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association.

"A husband and wife have to share emotions rather than feelings," continued Glickman. "Change and compromise are important in every marriage. Some people say a person can't change his basic ways, but people can change and must be willing to change in a marriage."

Glickman said the hardest thing people ever do is get married, and the second hardest thing is rear children. He stressed that both jobs demand a sharing of the responsibility by husband and wife.

Mrs. Cecil McDonald presided, and the vocational talk was by Mrs. Carl Eason, owner and operator of The Tom Boy Shop. Mrs. Owen McCombs, ways and means chairman, announced the chapter "harvest sale" is scheduled Nov. 17 at Highland Center Mall. The sale will include items handmade or home-baked by members.

Mrs. McDonald announced she accepted the "woman of the year" award on behalf of Mrs. A. Wadde during the ABWA national convention last week in Las Vegas, Nev. Mrs. McDonald, chapter delegate, said the convention theme was "Meeting Tomorrow's Challenge." Ms. Vivian Gardner, Wilmington, Del., was elected national president, with Mrs. Joyce Hilliard, Houston, elected vice president.

In other business, Mrs. Margaret Wiles was given a "hand of friendship" pin guard for sponsoring two new members. Invocation was by Mrs. Eva Nall, and Mrs. Ted Brown gave the benediction. Guests were Mrs. Cybil Steelman, Mrs. Robbie Allen, Mrs. Polly Carroll and Mrs. Alice Butler.

The chapter will meet again Dec. 10, one week earlier than the regular schedule due to the Christmas party at Big Spring State Hospital.

Coahoma Bridge Winners Named

Winners have been announced for the Coahoma Bridge Club play held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Billy Jack Darden, 405 N. 5th, Coahoma. Taking high score was Mrs. Charles Parrish, followed by Mrs. Lynn Stewart, low; and Mrs. Jan East, Bingo. The next meeting will be at 7 p.m., Monday in the home of Mrs. Marrion Hays.

On The Wagon

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Maybe my experience will help some other women whose husbands have a drinking problem.

My husband used to drink three to four cases of beer a week. I promised him that any day he didn't drink more than two bottles of beer, I would make love to him any time of the day or night. Now a case of beer will last forever.

Many days he will hurry home from work to get home before the kids. He used to stop to have a few beers with the guys. No more. It worked for us, so it may work for someone else.

SOBER LOVER IN MINNESOTA

DEAR ABBY: "Land of the sky blue waters" should be changed to "land of the true blue lovers." Congratulations, even though I am opposed in principle to using "love" as a reward... and withholding it as a punishment.

DEAR ABBY: Three cheers for the guy who shot the dog with a .22 rifle. I would do the same to every dog that comes on my property, but there is a $100 fine for firing a gun in a residential neighborhood.

I say, if dogs were taxed, we would have a better U.S.A. in which to live. Dogs in Europe are taxed.

DOG-HATER IN SOUTH CAROLINA

DEAR ABBY: Dogs are "taxed" in the U.S.A. (What do you think a dog's license is?) In Italy, watchdogs are not taxed, only "luxury" dogs (pets) are taxed. Of course, you might have a difficult time trying to convince the tax folks that your pet is also a watchdog, or that your watchdog is also a pet.

Retired Persons Have Luncheon

American Association of Retired Persons held a business luncheon Friday at First United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Elra Phillips appointed chairpersons for several committees, including the Rev. C. A. Holcomb, publicity; Mrs. W. E. Moren, membership; and Marion B. Ireland, legislative. Mrs. Dorothy Hull was elected chairperson for the nominating committee.

The next meeting will be a covered dish luncheon Nov. 9 at the church, and plans are being made to have games for entertainment. All retired persons are invited to join the local chapter.

Martha Couch At National Meet

Martha Couch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Couch, Luther, is attending the national meeting of home demonstration agents in Grossinger, N.Y., in the Catskills.

Miss Couch, a assistant agent for Gaines County, joined 21 others from this area at Lubbock for a flight to Dallas and thence to Kennedy International Airport in New York and on to Montreal. The party had tours there and then a trip down the St. Lawrence, ending at Grossinger. The meeting concludes Friday noon and the group will go to New York for a weekend of sight-seeing returning Monday, Oct. 21.

Fall Coffee Fetes New Director

An autumn coffee to welcome Mrs. Virginia Moore, new director of volunteer services, Big Spring State Hospital, was held from 10 a.m. until 12 noon Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. James Baum, 1000 E. 20th. Co-hostess was the honoree's daughter, Mrs. Robert Knight.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall, Mrs. Carlile Robison and Mrs. Robert Von Rosenberg, Tory Knight and Laura Baum presided at the guest registry.

An autumn theme, featuring fall leaves, pumpkins, chrysanthemums and pyracantha, was carried out in the decorations. Silver, crystal and cut glass appointments were used on the coffee and punch tables. A third table, featuring fresh vegetables for dipping, was decorated with brass and wooden serving pieces.

Guests attending from out of town included Mrs. Theo Ferguson, president of the Midland volunteers to the Big Spring State Hospital.

Handicraft Club

The Newcomer's Handicraft Club will meet at 9:30 a.m., Oct. 24 in the home of Mrs. Jane Stewart for a gift shower honoring two of the club members.

Medical Group Hosts Party

The Permian Basin Medical Society Auxiliary hosted a punch and cookie party Thursday afternoon for all residents of Mountain View Lodge. The affair was planned by Mrs. George Peacock, Mrs. Robert Tinley and Mrs. John Hogan.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be a coffee at 10:30 a.m., Nov. 8 in the home of Mrs. Robert Griffin. At that time, all members are to bring items to make a Thanksgiving basket for a local family.

CONFUSED GIRL

DEAR ABBY: You don't! Sometimes the easiest way around something is straight through it.

"Interest Groups Can Influence Legislation"

"Interest groups have a great influence on legislation," said Bobby Smith, guest speaker Monday evening for the American Association of University Women at the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Smith, head of the social science department at Howard County Junior College, spoke on "Legislative Issues." He said interest groups are made up of people with a common interest and a singleness of purpose. The size of the group, amount of money in the group and unity within the group have a great deal to do with the amount of influence the group has on legislators.

"Lobbying is legal and most useful in getting legislation passed at the state and national levels," said Smith. "It provides groups with representation they don't otherwise have, but lobbying activities are regulated by the fourth amendment."

Smith said lobbyists sometimes give small gifts to legislators or perform favors for legislators in an attempt to gain their friendship. They ask nothing in return, but legislators sometimes feel they should repay them. In this event, Smith said the legislator's judgment could be impaired on certain legislation.

"The best way to influence legislation is for individuals to know candidates and what they stand for prior to election," said Smith. "Once a legislator is elected, he is not likely to change his stand on the main issues. If the country would follow the guidelines of the constitution, many of today's problems in government would be solved."

During the business meeting, it was announced an AAUW orientation breakfast will be held at 10 a.m., Oct. 27 at Coker's Restaurant.

The day study group will meet at 9:30 a.m., Nov. 5 in the home of Mrs. James Morrison, 75 Ent. The program, "Women in Literature," will be given by Mrs. Pete Rhymes and Mrs. Alvin Shroyer Jr.

"The Women's Liberation Movement" will be the topic when the night study group meets at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 5 in the First Federal Community Room.

Women Attend PSA State Meet

Six members of the Texas Delta Delta Chapter, Phi Sigma Alpha, attended the PSA state convention Friday through Sunday in Midland.

Attending from here were Mrs. Ernest Bauch, president of the local chapter; Mrs. Betty Johnson, local "woman of the year"; Mrs. Jimmy Mason, vice president of the Permian Basin Area Assembly of PSA; Mrs. Johnnie Winham and Mrs. Herman Shifflett.

The convention was hosted by Texas Gamma Sigma Chapter of Midland, and delegates attended from 24 Texas chapters.

Three Women Are Initiated

Three new members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Patriarch Militant were initiated during a business luncheon Saturday at the IOOF Hall. Joining the auxiliary were Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, Mrs. W. A. Majors and Mrs. Lee Burklow.

Mrs. J. R. Petty presided as new officers were elected. They are Mrs. Ora Martin, president; Miss Shirley Lee, vice president; Mrs. Earl Wilson, secretary; and Mrs. L. A. Griffith, treasurer. The installation will be Nov. 10.

It was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson will attend the Grand Encampment this weekend in Dallas where Mrs. Wilson will be installed as state chaplain for the auxiliary.

Now, more than ever, electricity is worth using wisely.

Electricity, like all forms of energy, should be used wisely — especially now, with growing shortages in supplies of natural gas and oil, the basic fuels used to generate electricity in Texas.

At Texas Electric, natural gas is our major fuel supply with oil used on a standby basis. To reduce our dependency on these fuels, we have well developed, long range plans to diversify our fuel sources.

We have joined with Dallas Power & Light and Texas Power & Light in acquiring long range supplies of east Texas lignite. We now have one lignite plant in operation and two others under construction. The three companies have also announced plans to have a nuclear fueled plant in operation by 1980.

One big advantage of lignite and nuclear fuels is that neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity. A disadvantage is that generating plants that use these fuels cost much more to build. And, because of the long lead time required to plan and build these plants, it will be many years before natural gas can be replaced as our major fuel supply.

Barring difficulties with our existing natural gas supplies or delays in the development of our lignite and nuclear generating capability, we will be able to provide the electricity our customers need. However, the much higher cost of diversifying our fuels and inflation make it inevitable that the price of electric service will rise.

As rising costs and the energy squeeze make electricity increasingly valuable, we will continue to encourage its efficient use. Now, more than ever, electricity is worth using wisely.

Disgruntled A's Meet Seaver, Mets Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Mad at Charles O. Finley and concerned about Tom Seaver, the Oakland A's meet the New York Mets tonight at 7 p.m. in the third game of the 1973 World Series.

The controversial Oakland owner and the celebrated New York pitcher were two problems as the A's attempted to break the 1-1 deadlock in this best-of-seven game classic.

good performance. If we let things like this bother our play, then we wouldn't be professionals." He stressed, though, that practically the whole team was disenchanted with some of the stunts pulled by the Oakland owner.

THE CALL — Home plate umpire Jerry Donatelli rules Bud Harrelson, left, out at home plate in the ninth inning of Sunday's World Series game between Harrelson's New York Mets and the Oakland A's. The call came after Harrelson attempted to score on Felix Millan's fly out to Joe Rudi of Oakland.

land. Rudi threw back to catcher Ray Fosse who, according to Donatelli, tagged Harrelson. Willie Mays (24) contests the call. Fosse is at extreme right. The Mets won anyway, 10-7, and return home tonight to host the A's with the match tied at 1-1.

Gillman, Oilers Fire Peterson

HOUSTON (AP) — Bill Peterson must know all about hearing footsteps. The first audible step was March 3 when Sid Gillman became Houston Oilers general manager and said he had no desire to coach.

some changes needed to be made. I think Sid thought the best way to do that was to change the man who was making out the game plans.

Thomas Gets Mate's Praise

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Washington running back Larry Brown, a member of the "Redskins family," says the team's close-knit composure is warming up newcomer Duane Thomas.

And although Thomas—a talented runner known best for his public aloofness—has seen action only on specialty teams, Brown thinks coach George Allen's controversial new player is anxious to play.
