AT AUCTION Monroe Letter Is Hot Item

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was just an old letter, addressed to "Dearest Sunshine." But a young woman and a car dealer bid intensely against each other for it.

The coveted item, dated April 1952, was sent to Marilyn Monroe by an admirer identified only as Sid. It was among 41 Monroe items, including her junior high school diploma, sold Sunday at auction for $3,385.

Some said the blonde bidder at the auction looked like Marilyn. When she lifted her little bid paddle, the auctioneer quickly spotted it. She bid $60.

But the car dealer went to $70. Then they raised it until finally her opponent bid $100. When the young woman hesitantly tried to raise, the auctioneer snapped, "Too late!"

The blonde said, "I've been fascinated with Marilyn Monroe for, well, I guess for all my life. Maybe it's because I was adopted, too. When I was little my mother used to take me to her movies. By now I've seen all of them at least 10 times."

She identified herself as Janet Raymond, 21, a student at Pepperdine University and a typist at a hospital. She recently won the Miss Santa Monica beauty contest.

What about Burbank car dealer Bill Shernyan? Why did he want the letter? "Personal reasons." Does he know Sid? "No comment."

He said he'd let Miss Raymond look at the letter.

Garage No Island Of Safety For Car

Vehicles weren't even safe inside the garage over the weekend.

At 3302 Cornell, somebody backed a pickup into the garage doing $1,200 worth of damage to the garage door, house and car inside the garage, according to the police report.

The pickup then left the scene. This occurred early Sunday morning, at 5:11 a.m.

About three hours later, at 8:44 a.m. Mrs. R. M. Verlee, 710 Birdwell, reported that somebody backed into their garage door and shoved the car inside forward, then left the scene.

Was It Our Halo?

Early this morning, Colorado City police notified Big Spring police that several residents had reported noticing a strange light over Big Spring at 12:45 a.m.

Big Spring police looked up but could locate no unidentified flying object and no strange light. Perhaps Big Spring's halo was glowing.

Divorce Celebrated With Cake, Party

NASHVILLE (AP) — "I don't want people to think all divorces are evil," Doug Harris told 250 invited guests as he cut a four-tiered cake.

Harris, 24, a university student, hired a local nightclub to celebrate his divorce. "It's a sort of coming out party," he said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of the House Judiciary committee said today he will introduce a resolution Tuesday to impeach President Nixon on grounds of obstructing justice.

At the same time a White House official said staffers spent the weekend trying to shore up support from congressional leaders and predicted any impeachment move would fail.

At its Miami Beach Fla., convention the AFL-CIO approved a resolution calling on Nixon to resign and urging Congress to impeach him if he doesn't.

The huge labor federation acted after hearing Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, a member of the Senate Watergate committee, call for the President's resignation. Inouye said Americans "have suffered enough."

GROUP CALLED IN
Senate Judiciary committee chairman James O. Eastland of Mississippi announced he was calling the body into an executive session Wednesday to consider the situation created by Nixon's firing of special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox.

On another front consumer advocate Ralph Nader announced he would go to court to challenge the Cox firing.

Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, D-Calif., said he did not expect an immediate vote on the impeachment resolution he plans to introduce, although any member technically may ask for such a vote.

Waldie said he understood the resolution would be referred to the Judiciary Committee, where he said he hoped the nomination of House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan to be vice president would be set aside until the impeachment question is resolved.

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., said he would propose a twofold plan requiring the resignation of President Nixon in exchange for the immediate approval of House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford as his successor.

Presidential advisor Anne Armstrong said the White House had been working to clear up what she called confusion surrounding the removal of Cox and Nixon's decision not to comply with a court order that he turn over tapes wanted in the Watergate investigation.

"I don't think that by the middle of the week you'll see a serious impeachment move," Mrs. Armstrong said. "I can't see anything that the President has done that would substantiate rational, fair or legal grounds of impeachment."

Waldie said he had received more than 100 telegrams, all of them asking for impeachment, and said there is "a greater anger in the country than I have ever seen before in my public life."

Skylab Debris Visible Tonight

Debris from Skylab will be visible tonight according to Gary Carlson, director of the Big Spring High School Planetarium.

"The debris will be visible at 8:14 p.m., very high in the East, and it will be a little brighter than the North Star," said Carlson. "Then, at 8:23 p.m., the Skylab shroud will be visible in the East. It, too, will be very high and will be quite bright."

For sky watchers who miss it tonight, the shroud will be visible Tuesday, at 8:21 p.m., in the East, fairly high up, and it will be as bright as any star but not as bright as the planets.

It Was Nixon Prerogative, Backers Say

Republican state chairmen say President Nixon's latest action in the Watergate tapes dispute will cause new problems for the chief executive, maybe even an impeachment move.

But the GOP officials oppose such a move and say Nixon was within his rights to fire special prosecutor Archibald Cox.

An Associated Press survey showed the party leaders were surprised by Nixon's dismissal of Cox and dismayed over the departure from the administration of Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson and Deputy Atty. Gen. William D. Ruckelshaus.

REGRETTED DECISION
Many chairmen said they regretted that the problem had arisen and that a compromise worked out by Nixon had not been accepted by Cox, but argued that the President had the power to act as he did.

"He's the boss," said Kansas GOP chairman Jack Ranson. He said talk of impeachment had been circulating for months "on the part of certain elements of the Democratic party and the news media," but predicted the rumors would die down after a while.

Harry Rosenzweig, Arizona Republican chairman, said, "I just wish a couple of days would pass without some shattering bulletin." He said Richardson and Ruckelshaus were "outstanding public servants and we needed them."

Nixon is under court order to produce White House tapes pertaining to Watergate for judicial review. He has refused to obey, contending that under the doctrine of executive privilege, it is his right to decide whether he will release the recordings.

On Friday, the President said he would release partial transcripts of the disputed tapes. At the same time, Nixon directed Cox to halt his efforts in the courts for the complete tapes. Cox refused and Nixon fired him Saturday night. Richardson resigned rather than carry out Nixon's dismissal order and Ruckelshaus was discharged when he too declined to fire Cox.

"WAS HIS DUTY"
William Barrett, the Nebraska GOP chairman, defended the President. "I still feel Mr. Nixon is right in refusing the tapes. He has to protect his office. It's not only his privilege; it's his duty."

Many officials were too surprised to say much. "I don't have too much reaction," commented New Jersey Republican chairman John J. Spoltore. "I was shocked when I read it."

Delaware GOP chairman Herman Brown said Sunday afternoon he didn't want to comment until he had further information; North Carolina Republican chairman Frank Rouse answered phone calls for comment with a simple, "No."

Ohio GOP chairman Kent McGough asserted: "I don't know what to say."

OR BE IMPEACHED AFL-CIO Wants Nixon To Quit

MAMI BEACH (AP) — The AFL-CIO convention approved a resolution today calling on President Nixon to resign and urging Congress to impeach him if he doesn't.

The action by the 2,000 delegates representing 13.4 million members of organized labor came shortly before Sen. Daniel K. Inouye said Nixon should resign because Americans "have suffered enough" and "must be spared this new pain and trauma."

The delegates rose to their feet to applaud a resolution by the organization's executive council calling for the resignation or impeachment.

No dissenting votes were recorded from the floor.

The AFL-CIO said the resignation of Atty. Gen. Elliot Richardson and the firing of special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox were shocking and "absolutely unprecedented" and said that if Nixon does not resign, "we call upon the House of Representatives forthwith to initiate impeachment proceedings against him."

In its resolution, the AFL-CIO said, "When the President appears fearful of facing a Supreme Court composed in large measure of his own appointees, the public can scarcely resist the darkest speculations. We believe that the American people have had enough."

Truce Is Likely In Mid-East War

BULLETIN

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — The Israeli state radio claimed Egyptian artillery was still firing 15 minutes after a U.N. Security Council deadline for a cease-fire Monday in the Middle East war. A high-ranking Israeli military officer also said: "There is no cease-fire on the Syrian front."

By The Associated Press
Israel and Egypt accepted a United Nations resolution calling for an in-place Middle East cease-fire today as the first step toward ending the Arab-Israeli war.

High sources in Amman said that Jordan also would abide by the Security Council appeal for a halt to the fighting after 17 days of the fourth Middle East conflict since 1948.

The Syrians kept silent but were expected to follow Cairo's lead. Iraq, the other major Arab participant in the war, announced its refusal to abide by the U.N. resolution, but this was not expected to affect the truce efforts significantly.

U.N. officials at first said the cease-fire would start at 12:49 p.m. EDT. U.N. headquarters in New York later officially set the start at 12:50 p.m. That would be 6:30 p.m. in the Middle East.

IN FIERCE BATTLE
Syria said its troops were locked in a fierce battle with Israelis for control of a strategic position on Mt. Hermon overlooking the Golan Heights battleground.

Cairo said Egyptian infantry and tanks were attacking the Israeli invasion force on the western side of the canal in an apparent attempt to push them back as far as possible before the cease-fire hour.

Cairo radio announced four hours before the cease-fire deadline that Egypt would stop fighting. The Israelis agreed to the U.N. proposal hours earlier in a statement issued from Tel Aviv. But both sides objected to proposals in the U.N. resolution dealing with the steps to be taken for permanent settlement.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, meanwhile, flew into Israel for talks with Premier Golda Meir on the cease-fire deal he worked out in Moscow over the weekend with Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Iraq, which has troops, tanks and planes fighting with Syria, said over Baghdad radio it would not accept the Security Council truce resolution, sponsored by Russia and the United States. The Iraqis cited a policy of "refusing negotiations, peace and recognition of the enemy." But their refusal was not expected drastically to alter the military situation.

The immediate test appeared to be whether the Egyptian, Syrian and Israeli forces, engaged in a bitter war since Oct. 6, could now stop fighting. The Israelis have taken more Syrian territory than they held before the war started, and a chunk of Egyptian territory west of the Suez Canal. The Egyptians having recaptured some of the Sinai peninsula occupied by Israel since 1967. "President (Anwar) Sadat, as supreme commander of the armed forces, has ordered the General Command to cease fire at the deadline set by the U.N. Security Council, provided the enemy abides by it," Cairo radio said.

The Israeli government announcement accepting the call also set conditions, insisting Israel would continue its refusal to withdraw from the Jordanian, Syrian and Egyptian lands captured in 1967 unless the Arabs agree to a peace treaty.

The Security Council truce resolution was adopted early today after an emergency Sunday night meeting. It called for the in-place cease-fire 12 hours after its adoption at 12:49 a.m. EDT.

In addition to a halt in the fighting, the resolution calls on the Arabs and Israelis for an immediate start toward implementation of the 1967 council resolution on the Middle East and immediate negotiations for a "just and durable peace in the Middle East."

The 1967 resolution calls for Israel to withdraw to "secure boundaries" from the Arab territories it occupied in the 1967 war. The Arabs contend that this means a withdrawal from all occupied territory, while the Israelis have made clear that they intend to hold on to certain areas that they consider necessary to give them secure boundaries.

Stanton Drops To Class A

Snyder will return to Class AAA athletics from AAAA ranks in 1974, the University Interscholastic League has announced.

It was also revealed this morning by the UIL that Colorado City will be dropped to Class AA from AAA.

Snyder is one of five AAAA schools in the state returning to AAA. The others are Beaumont South Park, Brazosport at Freeport, Orange Stark and Palestine.

Wichita Falls Hirschi is advancing from Class AAA to AAAA while Stanton drops back from Class AA to A. Other schools dropping to A from AA include Royal at Brookshire, Centerville, Dilley, Tidehaven at El Maton, Haskell, Poth, Ralls, Shamrock and Stratford.

Rones, Sudan, Santa Anna and Sanderson are moving from Class A to B.

The 18-year-old Phoenix woman's main parachute and backup parachute did not open as she fell 3,500 feet, a Pinal County sheriff's deputy said.

Anti-Tank Missile Proving Effective

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. antitank missile, sent to Israeli forces for the first time, is proving highly effective in the current Middle East fighting, Pentagon sources report.

Sources said the TOW missile is among a variety of new U.S. weapons which have been rushed to Israel since the latest Arab-Israeli war broke out on Oct. 6. Some of these weapons, including the TOW, were battle-tested in Vietnam.

The Israeli army went into this new war without any special antitank weapons. U.S. military sources said. Cannon on Israeli tanks had destroyed Egypt's Soviet-made armor easily during the 1967 war and Israeli generals apparently felt they could do without new types of antitank weapons.

But heavy tank losses suffered by the Israeli army in the early stages of the new war with Egypt and Syria reportedly changed the minds of Israeli commanders.

Many Israeli tanks reportedly were knocked out by Arab soldiers firing two kinds of Soviet-supplied antitank missiles called Sagger and Snapper.

U.S. military experts are interested in how the newer American weapons, flown to Israel on an emergency basis, are faring against Soviet-built equipment in desert-type war.

Reports to the Pentagon speak of the TOW as being "very effective." The missile's name is an acronym for "tube-launched, optically tracked, wire-guided missile."

The TOW is a relatively

Two Officers Wounded; Militants Are Accused

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (AP) — A Bureau of Indian Affairs official said today he suspected that militants from the American Indian Movement were responsible for Sunday night's shooting of two BIA officers on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation.

Authorities said the two officers were shot when they tried to stop a car they thought was carrying persons involved in an assault on five young Indian men earlier Sunday. Neither was critically injured.

Delmer K. Eastman, the bureau's special officer in charge of its police on the reservation, said, "I strongly suspect those who did these shootings were AIM militants because of numerous threats we have received from national leaders of the American Indian Movement." An AIM leader, Pedro Bissonette, was shot and killed on the reservation last Wednesday by bureau police attempting to apprehend him on fugitive warrants. Other leaders of the militant Indian movement said they would bring hundreds of Indians to the reservation to protect AIM sympathizers in the area.

A federal judge in Sioux Falls scheduled a ruling today on whether several AIM leaders, including Russell Means and Dennis Banks, would be allowed on the reservation.

They currently are barred from the Pine Ridge reservation under conditions of bonds set in connection with the occupation of Wounded Knee earlier this year by AIM militants.

Bridge Test

BY CHARLES H. GOREN, 1972 The Chicago Tribune BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold: ♠AKQJ753 ♥5 ♦J3 ♣1062

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South Pass 1 ♦ 1 ♥ 1 ♣ 2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now? A—Four spades. You have seven sure tricks in your own hand and the odds are that opener will produce three.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold: ♠KQ1094 ♥74 ♦KQJ9 ♣53

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♣ Pass 1 ♣ 2 ♥ 5 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now? A—Despite the fact that you have considerably more than you might hold for a one-over-one response, you should pass—you have the wrong values. Partner's bid is a request for control of the opponents' suit. He is telling you that he has two losers in hearts, and that he wants you to go to a small slam with second-round heart control (either the king or a singleton) and to a grand slam with first-round control.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold: ♠A72 ♥AQ96 ♦K1085 ♣Q9

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♥ 1 ♥ Dble. Redble. 1 NT ?

What do you bid now? A—Double. You have East hanging on the ropes. You have 13 points in high cards and partner's redouble has marked him with at least an average hand. The position is in for a rough voyage—you could earn enough to cover your retirement even in these days of inflated prices.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold: ♠A6 ♥AQ52 ♦AK972 ♣A3

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♦ Pass 2 ♣ Pass 2 ♥ Pass 5 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now? A—Seven diamonds. You should be able to claim after the opening lead. What could partner have for his two-over-one response and subsequent leap to diamonds other than an excellent hand, fine diamond and a side singleton or

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold: ♠A763 ♥Q76 ♦AKJ6 ♣73

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♣ ?

What do you bid now? A—Two hearts. With the promised value of the queen of hearts and the doubleton club, you have sufficient values to justify a free raise. A bid of one trump would suggest a more robust holding in the overcaller's suit.

Q. 6—You are vulnerable, partner opens with four hearts and you hold: ♠AK1064 ♥Q ♣642 ♣AKJ5

What action do you take? A—While there are some complicated methods to find out about partner's diamond holding, they all tend to give away the situation. Our recommendation is to exercise your sporting blood and bid six hearts. Even should partner have two or more diamond losers, the opponents might not lead the suit, in which case there surely will be at least 12 tricks. And if they do lead a diamond, partner might have a singleton, or the ace or king.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold: ♠AK92 ♥2 ♦A6 ♣Q98652

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♣ Pass 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♣ Pass 2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now? A—While partner has done nothing to encourage us, giving a mere preference at his second turn, he might still have enough material to produce game. The silence of the opponents at this low level reinforces the impression that partner has some high-card values, so we suggest another move. Bid three clubs.

Q. 8—Both sides vulnerable, as South you hold: ♠KJ62 ♥863 ♦1072 ♣Q94

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 NT Dble. Pass 2 ♣ Pass Pass ?

What action do you take? A—It is obvious that West, poor fellow, is in dire straits. By simple arithmetic, we can conclude that he doesn't have a high card in his hand—East and North each have announced a minimum of 16 and you have 7. It is inconceivable that West can win 5 tricks at a club contract, and a double for penalties is heartily recommended.

group's oil imports policy committee will be submitted Tuesday at a general session concluding the association's annual meeting.

Earlier this year, the association adopted a policy statement calling for improved tax and price incentives to stimulate domestic explorations for new oil and gas reserves.

Without such action, the statement said, the developing energy crisis will become more critical "and an intolerable dependence on imported petroleum from insecure and unstable sources in the Eastern Hemisphere will be inevitable."

The association's natural gas policy committee was a bit pessimistic Sunday over prospects for congressional approval of a bill that would eliminate federal control of prices for gas sold into interstate commerce.

The Senate Commerce Committee currently is holding hearings on decontrol proposals but Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, presiding over the sessions, has proposed a bill that would keep interstate controls and expand them to cover intrastate gas sales.

Jeff Montgomery, the gas committee chairman from Houston, and Dan Jones, the association's general counsel from Washington, agreed that producers are better organized now than ever before to fight for decontrol.

But Montgomery said he is more pessimistic than Jones about prospects for the decontrol bill.

"I'm afraid if we ran a bill through Congress today we'd have more chances of getting intrastate sales controlled than of getting interstate sales decontrolled," Montgomery said.

Montgomery said the proposals to extend price controls to include intrastate sales "has no relationship to reality."

"We are on record for complete decontrol of natural gas sales as the best solution to the supply and demand problem," he said.

Jones said the attitude of Stevenson and his supporters is very substantial and extends to the House.

"You would think in view of the supply crisis that Congress would be ready for immediate action," Jones said in advising the independents success of a decontrol bill will require full and complete backing from the Nixon administration.

Daylight Savings Time Would Conserve Energy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prospect of widespread fuel shortages has given new currency to an old idea — year-round daylight savings time.

But it's not likely anyone will be able to sell it in time for the coming winter.

An extra hour of daylight at the end of the short winter days would cut down on the use of lighting, resulting in "substantial energy savings," says Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., the latest legislative champion of year-round DST.

But there are those, including the Nixon administration, who disagree, making passage of a year-round DST bill during the current session of Congress doubtful. The bill certainly will not be approved before everybody sets their clocks back one hour on Oct. 28.

The Department of Transportation recently concluded that "the institution of year-round daylight savings time would reduce nationwide demand for electricity by not more than one to two per cent."

DOT said, the demand for electricity is principally dependent on electrical gadgets which are operated regardless of how bright the sun is shining.

The nation went to year-round DST in an effort to save electricity during World War II, but DOT noted that that was before electric toothbrushes and pencil sharpeners.

Great Britain tried it for three years ending in 1971 and found a reduction of nearly four per cent in the number of serious traffic accidents. But DOT said there is insufficient data to enable it to determine whether similar results could be achieved here.

Resistance To Moving All Time Is Growing

NEW YORK (AP) — America's largest corporations operate nationally and internationally, and the corporate executive often must bounce from place to place around the world.

Before coming to rest in a posh job at headquarters, he might have to move seven or eight times, landing in a community long enough only to get the kids enrolled in school and his wife acculturated at the local garden club.

But resistance is growing. Various studies have shown a reluctance among younger executives to give their all for the company. Many opt instead for less corporate success for more personal success.

One of the latest illustrations of this thinking turned up in a survey by a moving company, Atlas Van Lines.

The survey, taken informally at the company's annual moving forum, showed that about one-quarter of the corporations questioned were encountering increasing reluctance by employees to intercity transfers.

The survey didn't zero in on the specific reasons why, but it suggested that familial motives were dominant. The employees were turning down more money, responsibility and authority.

The family reasons are not clear cut. Studies have shown that many families that move together stay together. The uprootings cause family members

Creative Arts Offers Varied Selection

Creative Arts Shop is less than six months old, but is already the center of attention for the art enthusiast. The shop also features such items as ecology boxes, crackle art, three dimensional art and candle making supplies. Making candles is especially timely with the holiday season getting closer. Drop by Creative Arts. You'll be glad you did.

It is located at the Highland Shopping Center. They extend a cordial invitation to all local artists, hobbyists, and would-be artists to visit their shop and feel free to browse around and look it over.

It is located in the mall across from Miss Royale's. Mrs. Glenna Hughes is manager and she will help you find the items you are seeking.

They hold classes in tole and decorative painting. They also maintain a complete line of artists' supplies, including such items as varnishes, stains, paints and canvases.

They also have antiquing kits, decoupage kits, boards and frames.

Attention Cage Fans: Needs May Be Filled At Whitaker's

Whitaker's Sporting Goods at 1000 E. 4th reminds the basketball fans that the cage season is not far away.

As soon as high school, junior high and college students begin to thump down the court with the round ball, a lot of the small fry in town also decide that they want a basketball. Or a basketball goal. Drop by Whitaker's and they will help you with your selection.

With the Jay Hawkers out at HCJC preparing for what they think will be a championship season, the Big Spring Steers already talking about the forthcoming cage season — it's closer than you think.

There are only four more football games although football will continue on television through New Year's Day. So for the small fry that continue to play like they're one of the Dallas Cowboys, Whitaker's has football equipment.

They also have lettered T-shirts, fishing equipment, tennis items, supplies and many other sports items. If you are needing anything in the sporting goods line, drop by Whitaker's.

BASKETBALL SEASON'S NEAR
 Helen Chandler and Mrs. Whitaker discuss it

Blue Lustre Makes Rugs Beautiful For Holidays

Housewives are so busy getting their homes ready for holiday guests that they haven't time to clean carpets wall to wall. This used to be an all-day chore that could only be accomplished once or twice a year.

Now Blue Lustre has made carpet cleaning so quick and easy that traffic paths and spots may be cleaned and beautified in a hurry, with the use of a Blue Lustre shampoo machine. Colors are restored, and matted nap at doorways and in well-used areas springs back almost instantly. It is no longer necessary to clean the entire carpeting. During busy times, the efficient housewife can clean only those areas which are most used. It's as easy as vacuuming and takes only a little longer.

The action of the electric powered shampoo brushes provides deep-down cleaning for all types of carpeting, and the frequent use of Blue Lustre with the handy shampoo machine keeps the modern home looking beautiful and well cared for, even when housekeeping is no longer the full time job it used to be.

Don't let the dust in your carpets accumulate until foot traffic lets dust particles settle on your furniture and table tops.

Blue Lustre can help you keep your home clean and beautiful. It's available at Big Spring Hardware.

Congressmen Due Back From NATO

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., from Beaumont was one of 12 U.S. congressmen due in New York today after being called from Ankara by Speaker of the House Carl Albert, D-Okla.

Brooks and his colleagues were in Ankara to attend the assembly meeting here on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Albert said he wanted them to come home because of developments in the Watergate affair.

The Beaumont congressman is the third-ranking member of the House Judiciary Committee which would initiate impeachment proceedings if such an event should materialize.

Some members of the delegation, including Sens. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., failed to show up for the NATO meeting because of the Watergate case, a source close to the delegation said.

Sneed Takes Regional Post

Bill Sneed was elected second vice president of the Southwest Region of Men's Garden Clubs of America during the regional convention Friday and Saturday at the Holiday Inn.

Sneed served as first president of the local Men's Garden Club when it was organized in 1968, and is currently its secretary-treasurer. Other regional officers elected were Jesse Fox, Austin, president; Roger Meador, Denton vice president; Ed Landrum, Dallas, secretary; and J. Curtis Harper, Austin, treasurer.

Winners Named For Rook Club

Mrs. Hugh Duncan and Mrs. Mary Brown were guest when the Rook Club met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jerome Lusk, 609 George.

Mrs. Lusk won high score for members, and Mrs. Duncan took high for visitors. Refreshments were served following the games. The next meeting will be Nov. 16 at the home of Mrs. C. R. Moad, 702 Abram.

Love & Let Love

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Another advice columnist keeps insisting the homosexuals are "sick." She says: "Thousands of homosexuals have written asking me where they can get straightened out so they must consider themselves twisted, or they wouldn't be asking for help. Occasionally I hear from homosexuals who are at peace with themselves, but they are few and far between. I believe the majority of homosexuals would be straight if they were really free to choose."

What say you, Dear Abby?

L.A. TIMES READER

DEAR READER: I say if a heterosexual had been raised to believe that his preference for the opposite sex was "sick," twisted, abominable, sinful, and a disgrace to his family, he would ask for help on how to "straighten himself out," too.

Homosexuality is a problem because an unenlightened society has made it a problem, but I have received letters by the thousands (not just "occasionally") from gay people telling me that they wouldn't be straight if they had a choice. All they ask is to be allowed to love in their own way without facing the charge that they are "sick and twisted."

I say, love and let love.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 56-year-old grandfather, happy in a third marriage, which, though turbulent at times, has lasted for 16 years.

I must comment on a letter you printed about this virgin who married a widower and objected to sleeping in the same bed in which he slept with his former wife, now deceased. So disturbed is she by the memories of her husband must have of that bed, she disposes of it behind her husband's back. And YOU approved of her getting rid of the bed! Both you and the new wife are out of your minds. What about the man himself? Were not his lips, his arms, and everything else also used in making love to his first wife?

How can she kick this wonderful old love-filled bed out into the street as used merchandise and yet sleep with the man who is also used merchandise?

The logic of the female mind I shall never understand.

FRANK IN PHOENIX

DEAR FRANK: Move over. Frued admitted that he couldn't understand it either. But I'll bet a lot of women (including this writer) understand it.

DEAR ABBY: May I answer "STUCK," regarding the nifty couple who drop in at dinnertime regularly several times a week?

This happened to us, too, and here is how we handled it: When they appeared at our door we said: "Come in — we were just about to have dinner, but we weren't expecting company. Make yourselves comfortable in the living room, and we will join you AFTER dinner."

A few times of this treatment should get the message across to the "nifty" couple, and you'll soon be (as my husband and I are) ...

"UNSTUCK"

Crooker Explores Politics

Bill Crooker, Howard County Commissioner, discussed local and county governmental procedures Thursday in the home of Mrs. R. B. Covington for members of Elbow Home Demonstration Club.

Responsibilities of individual citizens were outlined by Crooker, as well as the duties of department heads in the government. He stressed that local governments can be improved only if private citizens and officials work together. A discussion period followed.

Mrs. Dale Sabs demonstrated the art of crocheting. Also, clothes sewn by members of Elbow 4-H Club were displayed. A covered dish luncheon followed the meeting.

The next meeting will be at 1 p.m., Nov. 1 in the home of Mrs. L. M. Duffer, Wasson Road, and a program on family life will be presented.

Concert Series Begins Tonight

Curtain time is at 8:15 tonight for the Heritage Dance Theatre at the Municipal Auditorium. This is the first in a series of presentations scheduled by the Community Concert Association.

Auxiliary Schedules Halloween Festivities

A Halloween party for children of members of the American Legion and its ladies auxiliary was planned Thursday by the auxiliary at the Legion Hall. The party will be at 7 p.m., Oct. 31 at the Hall, and a prize will be awarded for the best costume.

In other business, members agreed to decorate

Dinner Honors Alex Hootens

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hootens were honored Friday evening with a farewell barbecue dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Winn, Coahoma. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Harold Bell and Mrs. Cecil Fitch.

Hootens worked at the local Veterans Administration Hospital for 23 years, and Mrs. Hootens for the past five years. They were both nursing assistants and are being transferred to Bonham VA Hospital to serve in the same capacity. Guests at the dinner were co-workers of the couple.

The Hootens left Saturday for Bonham. Mrs. Hootens was presented a crystal serving dish and bowl, and Hootens received a fishing reel.

the Veterans Administration Hospital for Halloween. They also planned to act as hostesses for the Veterans Day program today at the VA Hospital.

Mrs. Troy Melton, junior auxiliary sponsor, announced the juniors will elect officers at a meeting at 7 p.m., Nov. 2. Miss Janie Gonzales was accepted as a member of the Junior Auxiliary during the meeting.

Two senior members were also accented. They were Mrs. Joe Renteria and Mrs. Jane Madigan. Mrs. Raymond Gonzales was elected chaplain to fill the office vacated by Mrs. Ernest Grubaugh.

The auxiliary is sponsoring a fellowship program from 1-5 p.m., Nov. 18 at the Hall. Games will be played. Mrs. Jim Wiley, membership chairman, announced that wives of all Legionnaires are invited to attend.

Meets Tuesday

A called business meeting of the Disabled American Veterans and its ladies auxiliary will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday in the VFW Hall. All members are urged to attend.

Perry Mason, Diana May Not Last Video Season

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Okay, it's sheer guesswork and here we go again. The forecast of 1973, in which we predict which new weekly or Perry Mason Show is doomed once-a-month TV shows will to a mid-season demise, having prosper or disappear from the tube.

The forecast is made without M O N D A Y—NBC: "Lotsa reference to tea leaves, larot Luck," despite a strong start, cards, chicken entrails or their is having severe line troubles. There aren't enough funny ones. But it'll go a full season. "Diana" won't.

TUESDAY—CBS: "Hawkins" is good for as long as Jimmy Stewart wants to continue it. "Shaft" will soon be led away to the home for retired gunshoes. NBC: The only place its "Chase" will lead to is the gate, and quickly. "Magician" will pull a fast disappearing act. "Police Story" will stay and thrive.

WEDNESDAY — ABC: "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice," good by, good-by, good-by, good-by. "Doc Elliot" may be a weekly show by mid-season if its scripts heal. NBC: "Tenafly" had a bad start, but has promise and may last a season.

Mexico Mourning Death Of Terrorists' Victim

GUADALAJARA (AP) — Civic leaders urged all business establishments and schools to close today in this city 300 miles west of Mexico City to mourn the death of a millionaire industrialist killed by terrorist kidnappers.

Cooking oil tycoon Fernando Aranguren, 37, was found dead in the back seat of a car last Thursday with a bullet in his brain.

He apparently was abducted by the same group that seized the British consul in Guadalajara, Anthony Duncan Williams. They were kidnapped almost simultaneously Oct. 10.

Ransom demands for release of both men were not met. These included payment of $200,000 and release of 51 prisoners in various Mexican cities.

Ads published Sunday in leading Guadalajara newspapers, paid by the area's Private Enterprise Coordinating Board, the Jalisco chapter of the National Parents Association and the Guadalajara Chamber of Commerce, called for a 24-hour shutdown of all business establishments and urged parents not to send their children to school today.

They Couldn't Do Worse

A state legislator speaking in San Antonio declares that credit practices that discriminate against women are on their way out.

The speaker, Rep. Sarah Weddington of Austin, says the reason for this is that those in charge of credit policies have come to realize that "women are as capable as their male counterparts in managing personal financial affairs."

This is somewhat "damning with faint praise" for many men are far from being financial geniuses. And, we suspect, that the budget in most households is balanced chiefly by Mama's efforts and not Papa's.

We believe it would be good business for most concerns if it were easier for a responsible woman to establish her own credit status. And there is something demeaning about the insistence of many businesses that credit cards be in a husband's name. Handling credit is no easy problem — we understand that — but we suspect that giving female credit applicants the same status as males would not add to the difficulties. And there is a matter of simple justice involved.

An Idea—Not So Good

There are curmudgeons in our midst with varying degrees of articulateness. Few of them can surpass Vermont Royster, retired editor and occasional columnist for the Wall Street Journal.

He has surveyed more in sorrow than in anger the Nixon administration's proposal, floated by Melvin Laird, of an enforced savings plan through taxation. He notes that savings plans are as "virtuous as motherhood. They have especial appeal at the moment because more and more people are finding it more and more difficult to save anything, what with the rising price of everything

The compulsory savings program cuts the Gordian knot. The excess money is soaked up, the government gets the money, just as much as under a tax-increase program, and the people get the 'savings' willy-nilly."

Royster did concede that there may be a problem of payment of interest, and there was no mention of being able to get your money back when you needed it for emergencies for example. The government would decide when you needed your savings. Perhaps we should put Mr. Royster on the weed and he could envision an answer to these problems.

'Caveat Emptor'

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Not long ago, I read about a Japanese who lost a substantial amount of money to a couple of con artists, who had promised him a large shipment of golf equipment at bargain basement prices.

THE ONE THING the caper might prove is that the Nipponese, who have come to know prosperity and all its ills recently, can be just as greedy as the average American.

Many a native of our country could have told the gentleman from Japan that a substantial number of the citizens of this country prosper by gulling the yeomanry. The prospect of getting something for nothing is just too much for people.

FRAUD DATES way back. The snake in the Garden of Eden was guilty of it when he sold Eve on the idea of getting Adam to bite into the apple.

Phineas Taylor Barnum was conservative in his estimate that a sucker is born every minute. Rare does a day pass when you can't read in your newspaper that some trusting soul has been cheated of his life savings. Rare, too, is the reader who says, in effect, "it couldn't happen to me."

Last year, in one large American city alone, over half a million dollars was bilked from victims who fell for the 'pigeon drop game' (you leave good-faith money for a messy deal—and it disappears.) That notorious swindle has been tried in various ways here over the years, with great success.

Gold bricks can be involved in the swindles: So can cancer cures, dance lessons, wrist watches, diamond stick pins and patent medicines.

RECENTLY, A South American bought what he had been told was 3,000 cartons of cigarettes at a bargain price. Turned out the tobacco was saw dust.

The old Latin saw, "caveat emptor" (let the buyer beware), holds true to this day. Don't buy anything from fly-by-night people who can't produce a legitimate guarantee. Don't sign a contract without thoroughly reading the small print, then read it again.

THE POLICE and the district attorney's office can do just so much in dealing with such crimes. The potential victims have to show a level of intelligence in recognizing fraud when they see it.

If you send away $5 in response to an ad for a "ward robe hanger and a cigarette lighter" and are returned a coat hanger and a match, that's not fraud, at least in the eyes of the authorities. That's a case of volunteering to be gyped.

My Answer

Whenever a national holiday reminds us of the wars we have fought, I always think of the thousands of innocent civilians permanently handicapped by such conflicts. Where does your God of love fit in with such misery?

D.H.C.

I noticed you ended your letter saying that these tragic conditions cause you to cry. Congratulations on having so sensitive a conscience and such compassionate feelings. In a society supposedly calloused and aloof to real human need, this is refreshing.

But, now you must know that if you're concerned about human misery, God is more so. That's one of the lessons of the book of Jonah, where God is seen as a God of genuine mercy, having loving pity on the children of a city, and concerned even about the animals there (Jonah 4:10, 11).

From eternity past, God has cherished the lofty purposes of redemption and restoration for mankind. Whenever sin and evil frustrate these, His holy heart is grieved. God shrinks from all that curtails or destroys life. Indeed, His whole thrust in history has been to correct and ameliorate wrong — never to tolerate it. Sin is the cause of misery, not God.

The right view of this "God is love" is that His Gospel stands as the only hope mankind has. Eliminate that, and misery will take over — but good!

Phrase Mised Many People

Hal Bowie

NEW YORK (AP) — Street-corner musings of a Pavement Plator:

Mankind was told by Thomas Jefferson that all men have an inalienable right "to Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

That rhetorical phrase from the Declaration of Independence has probably misled more Americans than any other famous utterance in the nation's history, with the possible exception of Vice President Tom Marshall's remark that "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar."

The truth is that what this country needs is a good two-bit cigar, and that all men have a right to the pursuit of happiness only if a qualifying phrase is added — "within the limits of their mutual responsibility to each other."

The present plight of our generation has been caused mainly by the heedless quest for personal happiness on the part of too many people, young and old, careless of the unalienable rights of others. We all are drowning in our separate greeds and selfishnesses.

The goal of happiness is, at best, illusory. The harder you pursue happiness self-consciously, the more it flees and evades. The truly happy people are those too busy with other aims to realize they have arrived at happiness.

A better goal than the pursuit of Happiness is the pursuit of a Reasonable Contentment. It is a shame that Tom Jefferson didn't list that as an aim, for he was philosopher enough to appreciate the difference.

No man is wise enough to know how to be happy, but any man with common sense can figure out how to be reasonably content.

In case you are in doubt yourself, here are a few Guiding Maxims to paste in your forehead:

"Whenever possible, take off your shoes and rest your feet."

"Buy all your clothing one half a size too large — then you won't feel so uptight."

"Avoid buying more than one thing at a time on time."

"If you can't grow up, act as little, like an adolescent as you can."

"Take your medicine like a man, but don't, like a fool, gulp that of others."

"Be not the last to forgive your own folly, nor the first to make a new mistake."

"Learn to paddle yourself to safety before you take a canoe into deep water."

"Don't salute everything that is run up a flagpole, or go for a joyride aboard every trial balloon."

"If anybody offers you something for free, do without it."

"Don't argue with any woman who hasn't been safely dead for 10 years."

"If you can't be a hero, don't bore others by telling them why you're a bum."

These maxims should help make you reasonably content. If not, make up your own — or buy a book of proverbs. Wisdom isn't new.

It's Habit, Not Taste

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible for a child to acquire the taste for nicotine from being exposed to cigarette smoke?

My grandson, now 16, has been around people who smoked from the day he was born. I have seen the room so dense with smoke I could barely see through it when the boy was a baby.

Now he has a terrible cigarette habit and can't get along for more than a few hours without them. He won't eat, is thin and run down. I am wondering how we could break this habit.

His mother gave him and his younger brother cigarettes when they were very young. — Mrs. J.B.

The poor kid never had a chance, did he? I'd like to argue with your use of the word "taste" unless you take it to mean the same as "habit." I have seldom, if ever, heard a smoker exult over the great taste of his or her cigarette — outside of the commercials.

So let's talk about the habit, not the taste. The youngster "saw" cigarette smoking as a way of life and was psychologically prepared to become a smoker from an early age. It is known that kids from smoking homes are more apt to be smokers. Worst part is the increased likelihood of suffering respiratory ailments in later years.

Yes, his low appetite and "run down" state could be, and very probably is, related to his smoking.

Breaking the habit? This, of course, can be tough. I can only suggest calling his attention to the physical disadvantages.

But in answer to your main question, I would have to offer a cautious no. It is doubtful that the mere exposure to cigarette smoke would cause a physical addiction to nicotine.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can sugar diabetes cause impotence in men? If so can it be treated? My husband and I are 35, have been married for 10 years and he has been impotent for three.

He refuses to ask the doctor or talk about it. — Mrs. B.R.W.

Impotence can be caused by diabetes but in my experience it usually affects older men, and your husband is only 35. If diabetes is the cause, meticulous control of the diabetes (sugar level) is essential. But there are so many other causes of impotence, some of them psychological, that other causes ought to be investigated, either by his doctor or via help from a marriage counselor.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor whom I have doctored with for 10 years, has always been very good about telling me the truth about tests and X-rays. When I had an electrocardiogram, he said nothing about chronic ischemic heart disease.

But I saw his report to Medicare. — Mrs. M.F.

You are making a mistake in thinking he has been holding out on what he tells you. You know you have angina pectoris. All he did was report to Medicare the technical term for the cause of the angina — restricted blood flow to the heart muscle. So resume your faith in your doctor.

What is angina pectoris? Is it dangerous? Is there a cure? If you would like to learn more about angina pectoris, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his helpful booklet, "How To Handle Angina Pectoris."

Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Conservatives Betrayed

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — The anguished sense of betrayal by Republican conservatives toward Spiro T. Agnew, scarcely relieved by his televised valedictory Monday night, derives from the former Vice President's remarkable success in deceiving them the last two months — typified by his Aug. 18 visit to a political bullroast on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

AGNEW TRAVELLED that day to Centerville, Md., to boost Robert Bauman, a young conservative state senator running for a congressional vacancy. As Agnew passed through the crowd shaking hands after his speech, he seemed heartened by expressions of confidence in his innocence. Arriving at his waiting helicopter, the Vice President told Bauman how good it was to get free of the Washington malaise if only briefly and then in his cool, confident manner, said flatly he was being framed on charges of bribery and extortion.

BAUMAN (elected to Congress three days later) believed Agnew and supported him, publicly and privately. But long before that bullroast Bauman had fastened on Agnew as a steady beacon of conservatism in sharp preference to the ideological waverings of President Nixon.

Bauman was not alone in either his acceptance of Agnew's innocence or his preference for him over Mr. Nixon. Thus, the anguish of such conservative Republican politicians today is twofold: not only has their leader been revealed as a common crook, but the very conservative doctrine he has been preaching for five years is now tainted.

WHAT ADDS to the burden for these politicians is that their conservative followers even now maintain a naive faith in the fallen Vice President. In the past week, many a conservative Congressman has studied with mounting horror the Justice Department's 40-page recounting of Agnew's venality, only to go back to his district and find constituents willing to believe Agnew was the victim of a liberal conspiracy. The Monday night telecast further bolstered the remaining true believers.

THAT POSES a problem even for the Republican party's Mr. Conservative, Sen. Barry Goldwater. In the week since Agnew was forced out of office, Goldwater's office has been swamped with mail defending Agnew and railing against the Nixon administration.

These correspondents are unaware that, according to a close Goldwater associate, "Agnew looked Barry in the eye and told him he was innocent — a straight-out lie."

THE MOST famous Agnew profession of innocence was his Sept. 29 fighting speech to the National Federation of Republican Women, in Los Angeles promising never to resign even if indicted. But his private assurances were even stronger — as in closed-door remarks to a luncheon of Republican Senators in Washington Sept. 28. He flatly declared he was guilty of no wrong doing while his attorneys were looking for a deal with prosecutors.

To conservatives, these dark questions outline one of the Watergate horrors in this year of disillusionment and betrayal.

rustlers Have High Lookout

CHICAGO (AP) — Cattle rustlers have come a long way if one is to judge from a recent item published in Prairie Farmer, America's oldest farm magazine.

The article states that some $200,000 worth of livestock has been stolen from a 10-county area of Iowa. Officials theorize that the rustlers are using helicopters to spot the livestock.

The information is then radioed to trucks on the ground and the rustlers keep a lookout from the helicopter while the cattle are loaded into the truck.

Bridge Gets Its Own Cons

ISTANBUL (AP) — A special independent police is to be formed to maintain security on the multimillion dollar Bosphorus Bridge, linking Europe and Asia which is scheduled to be opened this fall, according to a police announcement.

The new squad will wear a special uniform featuring boots and a uniform in pea green, the announcement said.

Religion And Adoptions

At first blush, the Wilsons — seeking to adopt a baby boy — seemed to be well suited for parenthood. They were a devoted, idealistic young couple, with high standards of morality.

BUT THERE was a problem. They did not believe in a Supreme Being. Was this grounds for disqualifying them as adoptive parents?

After a court hearing, the judge said it was not and granted the adoption. It would be unconstitutional, he said, for the state to require a belief in God in order to adopt a child.

"The First Amendment not only requires the state to be neutral between various religions," added the judge, "but between religion and non-religion as well."

MOST COURTS would agree that a belief in God is not essential. Nevertheless, religious attitudes may carry at least some weight in the determination of parental fitness.

Thus, in another case, a court ruled in favor of adoptive parents (and against the child's own father) partly because of the religious atmosphere of their home.

AS ONE judge put it: "Religion and morality are inextricably interwoven in the lives of most people in this country, and belief in the tenets of a religion may be indicative of moral fitness in a particular case."

Furthermore, it usually helps if the would-be parents and the child have the same religion. Often, state laws call for his "matching up" of religious affiliations.

BUT AGAIN, this is not a hard-and-fast rule. Thus, courts have allowed non-matching adoptions when it would take considerable time to find adopting parents of the same faith.

Reason: the importance of promptness in arranging placements. "In view of the emphasis placed by child care experts on a stable and wholesome environment in early infancy," said one court, "delay must be deemed detrimental."

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

There's talk that Odessa might be called home by a new team in the Texas League. The San Francisco Giants announced last week that they were pulling their farm team out of Amarillo, and the dickering has begun with the Odessa-types — among others, I presume.

It seems strange to me, young and inexperienced scribe that I am, that the Texas League would put two teams so close together. Midland already has the Chicago Cubs' farm team, and it looks like the arrangement would cut drastically into the gates of both since just 20 miles separates the two cities.

But F. M. White, sports editor of the Odessa American, tells me that the TL brass thinks it's a natural. Not only would it create an instant rivalry between the two cities, it would also save on expenses because teams like Arkansas, Memphis and Shreveport could fly into the Midland airport and play the two teams in successive series.

Now, the only problem for Odessa seems to be the matter of a stadium. It was estimated that it would take $100,000 to get the American Legion Stadium on the Andrews Highway up to a quality the TL would accept. An announcement of the Odessa bid will probably be made within the next six weeks.

That controversial pass interference call against Big Spring when the Steers were moving against Odessa Periman in the final minutes Friday night turned out to be not so controversial after all. John Thomas Smith, lined up on the left side, ran out and bumped the PHS defender — before the ball had been thrown — then ran a sideline pattern, and the official on the scene called Smith for offensive interference.

The play killed the Steers, setting up a third and 28 situation from their own 47 yard line, and lots of folks (myself included) said bad words about certain referees.

But Rule 7, Section 3, Article 8 of the Official NCAA Rules Manual says "interference by Team-A players (offense) is prohibited from the time the ball is snapped until the pass is touched by another player. Interference by Team-B players is prohibited from the time the pass is thrown until it is touched by any player."

In other words, the reason the referee didn't throw his flag immediately was because he had to wait and find out if the play was a pass — in which case Smith's action had to be considered interference. Hmmm, learn something now every month or so.

Big Spring's Charley Johnson gets national TV exposure tonight at 8 p.m. when the Denver Broncos host Oakland's Raiders. Johnson has more yards passing than any other pro quarterback this year.

The Howard County Jayhawks have their third scrimmage game. The Jayhawks, favored by all to win the Western Conference, have already met McMurry and Webb AFB in action this year.

Dedication was held Friday for the new $13 million PE building at McMurry College. The center was named after the college's first president, D. W. Hunt, father of former HJCJ president Dr. W. A. (Tony) Hunt.

AT AMARILLO Steer Net Team Is Impressive

Big Spring High School tennis players had a two game edge in their matches in a series of matches at Amarillo Friday and Saturday.

Although the total games won stood 37-35 in four rounds, this was achieved principally on a 17-1 swamping of the Palo Duro netters. Big Spring lost 11-7 to Cap Rock, a salvage job thanks to six wins by the girls after the boys had been swamped 8-1. Big Spring lost to Tascosa 14-4, and broke even with Amarillo 4-4, when the boys were nosed out 4-5, and the girls won by the same count.

Dori Crooker fared better individually than other Big Spring players when she won her four singles matches and with Judy Jordan won three of four doubles contests.

Garrison Is Bell Wether

DALLAS (AP) — Veteran fullback Walt Garrison, Dallas' man-in-the-clutch in two Super Bowl drives, returned to the Cowboy starting lineup Sunday and a two-game losing streak vanished like the "no-shows" in the stands.

Garrison, an eight-year veteran, found himself on the bench after a pre-season injury and it was difficult to wrest the job from second-year man Robert Newhouse.

Consecutive losses to Washington and Los Angeles were too much for Landry and he put in the old call roster from Lewisville, Tex., against the New York Giants.

Garrison scored two touchdowns in a 45-28 victory over the Giants as Dallas upped its record to 4-2 in the National Conference East—just a game behind Washington. New York, losing its fourth consecutive game, sagged to 1-4-1.

"Walt came back and did extremely well," said Landry. "It's the most he has played this summer."

Garrison gained 77 yards on 13 carries while Calvin Hill of the Cowboys, the NFL's leading rusher, had another banner day with 123 yards on 23 carries and one touchdown.

The game was the first time Dallas had been affected by the local television rule on sellouts 72-hours before game time.

Woodruff, Sorley Get Steer Honors

Tom Sorley and Vicky Woodruff, two players who were instrumental in the Big Spring Steers' near-upset of Odessa Permian last Friday, have been named The Herald's Players of the Week.

Sorley, a 200-pound senior quarterback, earned Back of the Week honors by completing 10 of 24 passes for 158 yards and a touchdown as the Steers blew a 10-point lead and fell to the highly-regarded Panthers 21-10. He was also outstanding with his play selections and his new-found running skills, picking up 52 rushing yards.

Woodruff had a good game from his defensive end spot, and as a tight end he caught two passes for 37 yards and the Steers' only touchdown. He was named Lineman of the Week for his work. Woodruff has been at light end for just three weeks, and he has been a defensive end two weeks.

Sorley's 158 passing yards in the sixth loss without a win gave the Steers 1210 aerial yards for the season, and for the second straight week the Longhorns had a credible rushing attack, and now have 345 yards rushing.

John Thomas Smith, who was held scoreless by the Panthers, caught five passes to run his season total to 34 receptions for 589 yards. He's still on top in the scoring column with 42 points, while Doug Smith's 42-yard field goal and an extra point gave him 27 points for the year.

Oakland Again Rules Roost In Baseball

OAKLAND (AP) — Now you have to believe—in the Oakland A's.

The New York Mets coined the catch-phrase, "You gotta believe," but the Oakland A's made it unbelievable Sunday by winning the 1973 World Series.

Overcoming dissension, a murder threat to Reggie Jackson, and Jon Matlack, the A's captured baseball's second championship for the second straight year by beating the Mets 5-2 in the seventh game.

"We finally did everything together to win this thing," said Reggie Jackson, the most valuable player of the Series who unleashed a two-run homer in a four-run third inning and made plays Sunday.

"We are the best team in baseball, no doubt," said Oakland captain Sal Bando in the champagne-drenched euphoria of the winner's locker room, and you had to believe.

The A's were, rocked with internal unrest after owner

Charles O. Finley tried to put the disabled list second baseman Mike Andrews, who made two errors in a game earlier in the Series.

For six games, their usually explosive bats were muffled for the most part by the powerhouse New York pitching staff.

Jackson, probably Oakland's best all-around player, was performing under hazardous conditions. His life had been threatened by a letter writer, who promised to murder him if he played in the Series. Jackson was protected by FBI men throughout the week.

And if that wasn't enough, the A's had to face the Mets' most effective pitcher in the deciding game—Matlack. The hard-throwing left-hander had given up only one earned run in more than three weeks and none in the National League playoffs or the World Series.

None of these things was enough to stop the A's title quest, though. After all, they had been doing it like this all season—overcoming the odds.

NEW YORK (AP) — Oakland's 5-2 victory over the New York Mets Sunday night was the most dramatic of the Series.

Dryer Threat For LA Rams

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Rams have a new scoring threat as they prepare for next Sunday's Battle of Unbeatens with the Minnesota Vikings. The threat is defensive end Fred Dryer.

That's right. Defensive end Fred Dryer.

Dryer became the first man in the history of the National Football League to record two safeties—worth four points—when he dropped Green Bay quarterback Scott Hunter and Jim Del Gaizo in the end zone Sunday as the Rams beat the Packers 24-7.

The victory for the Rams set the stage for their game at Minnesota, NFC Central Leader, which ran its record to 6-0 by beating Philadelphia 28-21.

Elsewhere Sunday, Miami, 5-1, stopped Buffalo, 4-2, 27-6; Washington, 5-1, topped St. Louis, 2-4, 31-13; Dallas, 4-2, outlasted the New York Giants, 1-4-1, 45-28; Pittsburgh, 5-1, downed the New York Jets, 2-4, 26-14; Cleveland, 4-2, drubbed Houston, 0-6, 42-13; Cincinnati, 4-2, edged Kansas City, 3-2-1, 14-6; New England, 2-4, nipped Chicago, 1-5, 13-10; Baltimore, 2-4, shaded Detroit, 1-4-1, 29-27; Atlanta, 3-3, trounced San Diego, 1-5, 41-0, and San Francisco, 3-3, walloped New Orleans, 2-4, 40-0.

Oakland, 3-2, faces Denver, 2-3, tonight in a nationally televised game.

Dolphins 27 Bills 6 "Up until today O.J. was carrying them," said Miami Coach Don Shula after Miami held Buffalo's O.J. Simpson—who went into the game with 813 yards—to just 55 yards rushing. Simpson lost when he sprained his right ankle on his 14th carry. The injury was not believed serious. Bob Griese passed to Jim Mandich for two Miami touchdowns as the Dolphins broke a first-place tie with the Bills in the American Conference East.

Redskins 31, Cardinals 13 Quarterback Billy Kilmer also sprained an ankle but not until he threw two touchdown passes in leading Washington over St. Louis to avenge the Redskins' only defeat of the season. X rays indicated Kilmer had not broken any bones.

Cowboys 45, Giants 28 Calvin Hill rushed for 123 yards and one touchdown; Walt Garrison ran for two touchdowns and Roger Staubach passed for two as Dallas stayed a game back of first-place Washington in the NFC East.

Steelers 26, Jets 14 Pittsburgh stayed on top of the AFC Central when Terry Hanratty came off the bench to throw a 16-yard touchdown pass to Ron Shanklin in the fourth quarter to give the Steelers a 19-14 lead. Roy Gerela had kept the Steelers close with four field goals. Franco Harris, plagued by a bruised knee, ran for 102 Pittsburgh yards after gaining only a total of 53 in previous games.

Charley Smith Is Winner In Shoot Charley Smith, Stanton, captured first place in the doubles trapshooting contest Sunday at the Western Sportsman Gun Club range off the Andrews Highway. He knocked down 91 out of 100.

Larry Redmon, Odessa, came in second with 78 of 100, and third went to Larry Barrett, Big Spring, with 77 of 100.

The next shoot will be Nov. 18 at 2 p.m. at the club range, and all shooters as well as spectators are welcome.

LELAND WALLACE Will consist seven coming 2-year-old Bulls in the Concho Valley Sale. Don't miss this.

Tech Nudges Cats, 31-17

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Texas Tech's Tommy Cones blocked a punt to set the winning touchdown as Tech handed 19th-ranked Arizona its first loss of the season Saturday night 31-17.

The block came early in the fourth quarter at the Arizona 21-yard line, and Tech's Lawrence Williams took a pitch out eight yards around right end four plays for the winning score.

Arizona was behind 16-0 in the first half, but came back strong, dominating the third quarter to go ahead 17-16 on a 37-yard field goal by Charlie Gorham.

The Red Raiders, as they have done all season, took advantage of Arizona mistakes. The Wildcats lost four fumbles and a pass intercepted.

After Tech scored early in the fourth quarter to retake the lead, Arizona began driving, but a fumble by halfback Darrell Davis was recovered by defensive end Cones. Two plays later, Red Raider halfback James Mosley scampered 41 yards for a touchdown to put the game out of reach.

Texas Tech dominated the first half, scoring the first three times it had the ball, and stopping Arizona with two timely fumble recoveries and a pass interception.

In addition to his winning touchdown run, Williams scored Tech's first touchdown, taking a pitchout 18 yards down the right side.

The loss was the first for Arizona in six games and Tech's record now is 5-1.

Williams Awaits Call From Yanks

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Williams quit on top as manager of the Oakland Athletics, then parked himself at the telephone to await a bid to try to rebuild the dynasty of the New York Yankees.

"I'd love to manage the Yankees," the mustachioed 44-year-old winner of consecutive World Series titles said Sunday in making public one of the poorest kept secrets in the baseball world.

"But, honestly, they haven't talked to me and I haven't talked to them."

This is an oversight that insiders are sure will be soon corrected.

Baseball Won't Be Same, 'Say Hey Kid' Is Gone

OAKLAND (AP) — "The only thing I'm sad about is I'm not gonna play anymore," said Willie Mays.

And the national pastime will never be the same.

Mays, the "Say Hey Kid," whose youthful exuberance provided memories for baseball fans the past 22 seasons, ended his active career Sunday by sitting on the bench.

"No, I wasn't disappointed I didn't get in," the 42-year-old superstar said in the quiet of the Mets' locker room. "I don't think I'm any good at pinch-hitting."

"I wish we had won," said Mays, who broke in with the then New York Giants in 1951. "But I told the guys before the game, win or lose, they should be proud. The exciting thing was winning the playoffs. That gets you here. And only two teams can say that."

Baseball fans got their last glimpse of that famous No. 24 in Game No. 3 when his 10th-inning pinch-hit bid ended in a ground ball to second base. But before No. 24 takes its final resting place in the halls of Cooperstown—a certainty five years from now—Mays will probably impart some of his knowledge on the younger players, whom he endearingly labels "The Kids."

"I suppose the Mets will want to use me in some instructional capacity," said Mays. "Probably in spring training. I can still hit and field and I can teach hitting and fielding."

"But I really don't know for sure. The last 2½ months have been strictly baseball. And I just haven't sat down with Mr. Grant (Chairman of the Board M. Donald Grant) and worked something out."

Mays' agreement with the Mets, worked out in the spring of 1972 when the outfielder came to New York from San Francisco, calls for 10 years of service with the Mets organization after retirement as a player at a yearly salary of $50,000.

The Yankees, after losing who is constantly at odds with Manager Ralph Houk to the Detroit Tigers, are looking for a strong, charismatic leader to combat the escalating and fervent fan appeal of their city rivals, the New York Mets, with whom they must share the same stadium next year.

No one fits the mold better than Williams, a popular, articulate man who has proved his worth by carrying three teams, including Boston in 1967, into the World Series, and winning two of them.

Williams' dramatic departure also leaves a void at the helm of the colorful and free-swinging A's, with their roster of heroic malcontents and a maverick owner, Charles O. Finley.

Road Accidents Take 27 Lives Within State

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents accounted for at least 27 deaths in Texas during the weekend.

The over-all toll from violence between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday reached 27, also including six homicides, a drowning and a fatal plane crash.

These were among the victims:

Jacobo Camacho, 44, of Brownsville was killed and four persons injured Sunday in a two-car accident on Farm Road 511 near Olmito in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The injured, including Camacho's wife Julia, were taken to Brownsville Medical Center.

Peter Guideros, 14, of San Antonio drowned Sunday in Salado Creek. Police recovered the body.

Thomas Curtis Shepherd, 47, was shot to death Sunday at his home in the Houston suburb of Highlands. Officers said Shepherd fell at the bottom of his back steps atop a 30-30 rifle which had been discharged once.

HITS BRIDGE

Carl Walker, 40, of Porter was killed Sunday when his car hit a bridge railing at the San Jacinto River. The crash occurred near Humble.

Ernie Cratney, 30, was shot and killed Sunday night while standing at the front door of his home in Houston. Sheriff's deputies quoted witnesses as saying the shooting climaxed an argument over a woman.

Emmanuel W. Thomas, 37, of sections of Texas 36 and a county road Sunday when two cars collided. The accident occurred just south of Needville in Fort Bend County.

State patrolmen reported Louis M. Stevens, 41, of Houston was killed Sunday when his car rammed a bridge abutment a mile north of Brazoria on Texas 332.

Walter W. Gann, 22, of Houston and Marion F. Harles Jr., 20, of Fort Worth were killed Saturday night when their pickup truck skidded across a farm road and collided with another vehicle on farm road 525 near Houston.

Edward Stacy, 30, was shot four times in the head and killed in Dallas. The body was found Saturday in the driveway of his home. Police held a woman for questioning.

J. B. Johnson, 45, of Dallas was shot to death Saturday at his home. Officers arrested a woman at the scene.

Police said Charles Simmons, 35, of Houston died of gunshot wounds apparently inflicted early Saturday when he was taken to his home by two men and dumped on his doorstep.

Ronald Davis, 21, of Houston was stabbed to death Saturday. Police said the slaying capped an argument over a $1 debt.

Herbert David Fugett, of Arlington died about 6 p.m. Saturday when the light plane he was flying crashed in a cotton field near Britton in North Central Texas. He was practicing for a pilot's license.

THREE VICTIMS

Three persons died in a head-on collision a mile east of Wichita Falls on U.S. 82-287 Saturday. They were Alex Eugene Dromgoole, 35, his wife Mary Lou and their daughter Cheryl, 5.

Joe Floyd Thomas, 24, of Bonham died early Saturday when his car struck a bridge railing, overturned and struck a bridge.

Ronald G. Leathers, 23, of Prairie Lea died 17 miles north of Seguin on Farm Road 20 about 6:45 p.m. Saturday when the car he was driving smashed into a bridge.

Willie Kieschnick, 61, of Houston, a security guard, was killed Saturday as he walked across Texas 6 in Houston. Investigators said he was crossing the road to check an abandoned car.

A. C. Atkins, 19, a Texas Tech sophomore, died Friday night in a one-car accident between Odessa and Fort Stockton on Farm Road 1053. Officers said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Investigators said Lucio Garcia, 27, of San Antonio was dead on arrival at a San Antonio hospital after being struck by a car which left the scene of the accident.

Two persons died in a head-on collision on U.S. 87 a mile east of La Vernia Friday night. Highway patrolmen identified them as Marsha Brandt, 7, and Loraine Brandt, 48, both of Runge.

Alfred E. Gordon, 17, of Taylor died shortly before midnight Friday in a two-car collision on the north side of Austin.

Martin T. Bohot, 67, of Giddings died in a two-car collision near Smithville in Central Texas on Farm Road 153 Saturday night.

Tommy Perez, 6, died near his home 13 miles south of Edna on Texas 111 Friday evening when he was struck by a car as he tried to cross the roadway.

Balloon Lands At McRae, Ga.

McRAE, Ga. (AP) — An official of the National Scientific Center for Atmospheric Research (NSCAR) said Sunday that a 300-foot-tall balloon that landed near here was carrying scientific experiments.

Al Shipley of NSCAR, an agency of the National Aeronautical and Space Administration, said the NSCAR balloon, carrying a one-ton package of experiments was launched from Palestine, Tex., 800 miles away.

Three NSCAR employees, who tracked the balloon in a small plane from its launching Friday night until its landing Saturday in a rural area 17 miles south of McRae, said the balloon traveled east at 80 miles per hour often at heights above 120,000 feet.

Upper House Would Act As Impeachment Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Constitution gives the House the responsibility to initiate impeachment of a president, the Senate to act as a jury and the chief justice of the Supreme Court to serve as presiding officer. Article II of the Constitution states:

"The President, the vice president and all other civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors."

Conviction means removal from office and disqualification from future offices. Any subsequent penalties are assessed under the normal judicial process of indictment and trial.

The House can enact an impeachment resolution by a simple majority but the Senate's verdict after trial requires agreement of two-thirds of the senators.

The only impeachment action brought against a president, Andrew Johnson in 1868, fell one vote short of approval in a 718-page volume recounting the history of U.S. impeach-
