Nixon Agrees To Turn Over Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon agreed today to comply in full with the U.S. Court of Appeals ruling directing him to give the White House tapes to a federal judge.

The announcement came as the House of Representatives began preliminary investigation into whether the President should be impeached.

Nixon's surprise announcement was made to U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica by Charles Alan Wright, lawyer for the President.

Wright told Sirica that the President had hoped that the compromise he announced Friday night would end the constitutional crisis.

"Events over the weekend made it very apparent it did not," Wright said.

The announcement shocked spectators in the packed courtroom who had been waiting to hear how Sirica would respond to the President's proposal to summarize the tapes and have his summary verified by a senior member of the Senate.

Blast off for the mission is scheduled for Nov. 10.

Nixon Is Tied To Alleged Dairy Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — New evidence has surfaced tying President Nixon to an alleged deal involving a pledge of $2 million in campaign money in exchange for administration favors for the dairy industry.

Investigative sources said Monday they have obtained a letter addressed to Nixon on Dec. 16, 1970, reminding him of the industry's past support and telling him of the milk producer's need for immediate aid.

The letter was written, the sources said, by Pat Hillings of the American Milk Producers Inc., the major industry group.

The Associated Press has confirmed the letter's contents from four separate sources.

SOUGHT APPROVAL

"The thrust of the letter was a request that the President approve new milk tariffs that the industry was interested in," one source said. "It pointed out that the industry had $2 million available for 1972 campaign contributions," but continued aid for the nation's dairy farmers was necessary if they were to continue their support.

Hillings noted that $135,000 already had gone to 1970 congressional candidates who were friends of dairymen, the sources said.

A month later, when the new Nixon budget was announced, proposed dairy subsidies rose nearly 10 per cent, compared to a slight increase for feed-grain subsidies and a major decrease in food-aid shipments, another method of government farm support.

The Hillings letter noted that it was bringing up a "sensitive political matter," the sources said, and evidence indicates it went directly to then-president chief of staff H. R. Halde-man. One source said it isn't certain whether Nixon read the letter or was merely told of its contents.

The following March, however, three events took place:

—On March 22, 1971, the first $10,000 contribution from milk producers was secretly delivered to a group of dummy campaign committees that later turned their holdings over to the Nixon re-election campaign.

—The following day, President Nixon and then-Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin met at the White House with 16 spokesmen for the dairy industry.

—On March 25, Hardin reversed a decision not to grant an increase in federal price supports for milk and announced approval of a 27-cent-per-hundredweight hike in price supports, claiming he had received new economic data.

WORTH MILLIONS

The decision was worth between $500 million and $700 million to the nation's milk producers, according to an industry estimate.

The secret campaign contributions later revealed by The Washington Post and federal investigators, poured into the dummy committees and Nixon campaign coffers for many months, eventually reaching more than $400,000.

On Feb. 1, 1972, a Haldeman aide, Gordon Strachan, wrote a memo to his boss reporting that the President's personal attorney and fundraiser, Herbert W. Kalmbach, "is very concerned about his involvement in the milk producers situation." Strachan recommended that Kalmbach be relieved from his assignment "because of the risk of disclosures."

Nixon's orders cover Water-gate matters as well as material and tapes relating to the milk funds, ITT and Ellsberg burglary investigations.

RADICAL CHANGE Main Stem May Close In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Main Street in Dallas may be turned into outdoor shops and quaint sidewalk cafes.

A proposal for closing it down to all traffic but buses and taxi cabs received support from members of the City Council here at their weekly meeting Monday.

The proposal came from Public Utilities Director Tom Taylor, who had worked on the idea with City Traffic Control Director John DeShazo and the city manager's office.

One of the reasons for the change, said Taylor, would be to increase city taxi service by giving cabs and buses priority on certain downtown streets.

Proposed closing of the thoroughfare comes on the heels of an Environmental Protection Agency plan calling for the limited use of cars in certain metropolitan areas of Texas.

Because of the newness of the proposal, no specific plans were laid out as to what a Main Street mall should be like.

A citywide bond election has been tentatively discussed for 1974, but no plans have yet been formulated on how the project would be financed.

Texan Called In For Work On Cat

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When Madras the Bengal tiger has a toothache he gets the best of care. Madras, who normally jumps through rings of fire and leaps over other tigers as the star of a local animal act, had a split fang operated on Monday.

Dr. John Palmer, a Brownsville, Tex., dentist who has done pioneering dentistry on wild animals, and an associate zoo director, Dr. Don Farst, performed the dental work on Madras.

They had to strap the anesthetized 350-pound patient onto an operating table while they repaired the damage.

Police Radio Out; Did UFO Cause It?

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Brownwood police confirmed their radio went off the air Monday evening as several area residents called to report unidentified flying objects.

Employees at radio station KEAN said instruments at the station began fluctuating wildly and lights on their broadcasting tower began blinking rapidly as they watched three glowing objects southwest of the city.

Police dispatchers said callers told them the objects changed color from red to green and blue.

However, officers said they were unable to confirm the sightings which were similar to reports early Sunday morning.

Airliner Crashes In Rio's Waters

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — A Brazilian airliner, whose passengers included Indiana Lt. Gov. Robert D. Orr and 11 other members of an Indiana trade mission, crashed into Rio de Janeiro's Guanabara Bay today and sank, authorities said.

A spokesman for Viaçao Aerea de Sao Paulo Airlines, which owned the plane, said five persons were confirmed dead, with most of the passengers escaping with slight injuries.

It was not known if any Americans were among the dead or injured.

By The Associated Press

Fierce tank and artillery clashes exploded along the Suez Canal today and dogfights erupted over the Syrian battleground despite the U.N. cease-fire.

The war raged into its 18th day on both fronts after a only partial overnight pause for the precarious Security Council truce designed to halt the combat in place and open the way to negotiations for a permanent peace.

Egypt called for an emergency Security Council meeting to discuss what it said were Israeli violations of the fragile cease-fire. The council president, Sir Laurence McNaryre of Australia, called a midday session at U.N. headquarters in New York.

Egypt and Israel had accepted the truce appeal — worked out by the United States and the Soviet Union — and both ordered their armies Monday evening to hold their fire unless fired on.

But Syria kept silent on the U.N. call, and only hours after it went into effect there were mutual accusations of cease-fire violations by Egyptians and Israelis along the Suez front.

A correspondent for Egypt's Middle East News Agency said the Israeli and Egyptian forces by today were "locked in the most vicious fighting since the outbreak of the war."

Insanity Plea For Henley

HOUSTON (AP) — Elmer Wayne Henley, one of two youths accused of murder in Houston's mass murder case, will plead insanity at his trial, his lawyer said today.

Henley, 17, is scheduled to be tried Jan. 14 on a charge of murder in the slaying of Charles Cobble, 17, one of 27 youths whose bodies were found in Houston and two others areas.

Charles Melder, Henley's lawyer, said he did not intend to raise the issue of Henley's current sanity or ability to stand trial. Texas law prohibits conviction of a person adjudged to be insane.

SAYS RICHARDSON 'I'm Not Person To Pass Judgment On Crisis'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elliot L. Richardson said today the ultimate judgment on the Watergate crisis must be made by the American people. He said he is not the man to pass judgment on the question of whether President Nixon should be impeached.

While he made no direct reply to the impeachment question at a nationally televised news conference, the former attorney general said he believes in the goals and priorities of the administration, particularly in foreign policy.

Richardson recounted the negotiations, deadlock and presidential orders that led him to resign Saturday rather than fire Archibald Cox as special prosecutor in the Watergate case.

He said those events, too, are matters to be judged by the people, and that the fairness with which they are judged may determine the future well-being and security of the nation.

Richardson said he does not believe the President is now or will be in direct violation of a court order for his refusal to yield White House tape recordings, although the courts have instructed him to do so.

Richardson's farewell appearance at the Department of Justice began amid the applause and cheers of the staff he had headed for some five months.

Later came the direct question: Does Richardson believe the President should be impeached?

Richardson replied by noting that he served the administration in varying roles since Nixon took office. "I believe in the directions and priorities of the administration," he said.

"I regard as particularly important the role of the President of the United States, in dealing with international problems," he said.

Impeachment Resolutions Going To Judicial Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Carl Albert announced today he is turning all "resolutions calling for impeachment or investigation that might possibly lead to charges of impeachment" of President Nixon over to the House Judiciary Committee for consideration.

Albert said he is confident the committee will begin its inquiry without delay and added: "For the Congress to act in a reckless or hasty manner would further engender disunity."

"In my opinion," Albert said in a statement, "the President's act of Saturday was unfortunate. It seems to me to contribute to divisiveness among the American people at a time when the leadership of the nation should seek unity."

Over the weekend, Nixon fired special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox after Cox refused to go along with a proposed presidential compromise in the White House tapes dispute. Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson resigned rather than fire Cox and Deputy Atty. Gen. William D. Ruckelshaus was dismissed.

Albert noted that the confirmation of House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford's nomination as vice president is already before the committee and said he wants the committee to also act quickly on that.

"The House should not hold the nomination of the vice president-designate hostage," Albert said, "as it considers matters related to any impeachment proceedings."

Before Albert's announcement, he met with House Democratic leaders. Rep. Jim Wright of Texas said that Albert stressed that he wants Ford confirmed as vice president before there is any formal House action on impeachment, should proceedings go that far.

"He just doesn't want Jerry Ford to be held hostage," Wright said.

VICTIM SLEEPING OFF WINE DRUNK Three Youths Are Charged In Miami Burning Death

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three boys, two 13 and one 12, have been charged with first-degree murder in the death of a derelict who was doused with lighter fluid and set afire.

Officers said the boys, whose names were withheld, admitted setting fire to Charles Scales, 38, as he slept off a wine drunk behind an abandoned building Saturday night.

The boys also were charged Monday with two counts of assault with intent to commit murder for setting fire to two other men, officers said. Police said they knew of a fourth man assaulted by the trio.

Police gave this account of the incident: The boys, all of whom have long records of vandalism, larceny, burglary, robbery and narcotics possession, bought or stole several cans of lighter fluid from a neighborhood store.

Their first victim was a cat. They soaked the animal with lighter fluid and then watched it burn to death. A short time later they set fire to an unidentified drunk who managed to beat out the flames and shuffle away.

The boys then wandered down the street to a restaurant, where they tossed lighter fluid on J.B. Blackburn, 50, as he left a back door. Blackburn said the youngsters threw a lighted match at him and fled down an alley as he pulled off his shirt and beat out the flames.

The youths next entered an alley where Emmett Spratling, 53, was lying on a discarded table top and Scales was sleeping on a bench.

Officers said Spratling told them he and Scales had been drinking wine and had settled down to sleep when they were attacked.

The boys set both men afire and ran away. Spratling managed to beat out the flames that flared round his head, but by the time Scales woke and rushed out of the alley, his clothing and large sections of flesh had been burned.

Spratling suffered only minor injuries. Scales died in a hospital 10 hours later.

Officers said one boy was on a weekend pass from the Kendall Youth Home where he was serving a sentence for burglary and possession of barbiturates. He was returned to the home. The other boys were sent to the Dade County Youth Hall, police said.

Three weeks ago in Boston, a young woman was killed by youths who forced her to soak herself with gasoline, then set her afire.

PABLO CASALS

Death Claims Noted Cellist At Age Of 96

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Tributes poured in today acclaiming the greatness of Pablo Casals, the cellist and humanitarian who died Monday at 96.

He was to be buried this afternoon in a black granite vault less than a block from his home.

Casals, who for the last 35 years used his musical talents in a protest against tyranny and a campaign for peace, died after three weeks in Auxilio Jutuo Hospital. He was hospitalized after a heart seizure, but doctors said he also suffered from chronic bronchitis, a kidney failure and circulatory ailments.

He was the foremost cellist of the 20th century and a superlative performer into his 80s. In recent years he won new honors as a conductor. He was a source of inspiration to the musicians with whom he worked every summer at the Mariboro, Vt., music colony.

"Sometimes I feel like a boy," Casals once said. "Music does that. I can never play the same piece twice in the same way. Each time it is new."

"Pablo Casals was one of the greatest musicians of all time and the greatest cellist," said Eugene Ormandy, the music director of the Philadelphia Orchestra. "His love of people was probably the reason for his rich and long life."

Russia's Mstislav Rostropovich, considered Casals' successor as the world's No. 1 cellist, said, "I have lost not only a great teacher but a true friend. I feel a great personal grief."

Born Dec. 29, 1876, in Vendrell, in the fiercely independent part of Spain known as Catalonia, Casals played before Spanish royalty before he reached the age of 15. He was solo cellist for the Paris Opera while still a teen-ager.

Johnson Rallies Broncos To Tie

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Broncos, who've denied the field goal twice this season, learned to live with it Monday night as the Jim Turner-George Blanda kicking duel ended in a standoff.

Turner's third field goal of the second half, a 35-yarder with three seconds to play, enabled Denver to salvage a 23-23 tie with the favored Oakland Raiders in a nationally televised National Football League game.

VASSAR WINS PICKS

Duffy Vassar of 3201 Drexel had the best effort of the year in the Big Spring Herald Football Picks contest last week, missing one of the 30 predictions to win the $12.50 first place prize.

In last week's contest, Texas Tech was incorrectly listed as playing Arizona State. Tech played Arizona, so each entry was credited with a correct answer.

Angels, Milwaukee Make Major Swap

ANAHEIM (AP) — Harry Dalton's two-year search for a catcher has ended with the California Angels sending pitcher Clyde Wright to Milwaukee for Elie Rodriguez, key figures in a 10-player swap between the American League teams.

"We had to have a catcher and Rodriguez is a good one," the California general manager said Monday when he announced the trade.

"We have given up some age for younger players," said Dalton, who sent relief pitcher Steve Barber, 34, outfielder Ken Berry, 32, and catcher Art Kusner, 27, packing along with Wright, 30, and a player to be named later.

Wright had an 11-19 record last season and a 3.68 earned run average. He won 36 games over the three previous seasons.

Besides Rodriguez, 27, who batted .269 this year after leading the Brewers at .235 in 1972, the Angels receive outfielders Ollie Brown, 29, and Joe Lahoud, 26, and pitchers Skip Lockwood, 27, and Gary Ryerson, 25.

In addition to his abilities with the bat, Rodriguez is considered a strong defensive catcher. Dalton has said Jeff Torberg, last year's regular, has slipped in that department. Dalton said the trade "should help our building process. Lockwood can fill either a starting or relief roll and Brown and Lahoud will be given a chance in the outfield."

Alabama Moves Up On OSU Buckeyes

The first nine teams in The Associated Press college football ratings held onto their positions today, but Alabama closed in on top-ranked Ohio State and Nebraska nosed back into the Top Ten.

Ohio State defeated Indiana 37-7 Saturday and received 35 first-place ballots and 1,126 points from the 61 sports writers and broadcasters who voted in this week's poll.

Runner-up Alabama earned 12 votes for the top spot and 1,042 points for a 42-21 triumph over previously unbeaten Tennessee that dropped the Vols from 10th place to 14th.

Last week, the margin was 1,113-930. Third-place Oklahoma walked off Colorado 34-7 and picked up eight first-place votes and Wisconsin 35-6 and remained fourth with one first-place vote and 857 points.

Four voters picked Penn State No. 1 following a 49-6 rout of Syracuse and the fifth-place Nittany Lions pulled down 709 points. Southern California, the defending national champion, stayed sixth with 629 points for a 31-10 decision over Oregon.

The other first-place vote and 541 points went to No. 7 Missouri, a 13-9 victor over Oklahoma State.

Notre Dame crushed Army 62-3 and received 508 points while Louisiana State downed Kentucky 28-21 and earned 402 points.

Nebraska, ranked second two weeks ago, dropped to 11th last week after a 13-12 loss to Missouri. Saturday's 10-9 decision over Kansas lifted both teams in the ratings, Nebraska from 11th to 10th and Kansas from 18th to 17th.

Arizona State, 12th last week, climbed to 11th, followed by Houston, UCLA, Tennessee, Tulane, Miami, Ohio, Kansas, Texas Tech, Texas, Richmond, and others.

Time To Cool It

The dismissal by President Nixon of Archibald Cox as special prosecutor in the Watergate investigation, and the resignation of the attorney general and his first assistant as a result of this, has convulsed the nation once again.

This has set up alternate crises of "bully for you" and "impeach the President." The action, if not autocratic, is abrupt; the reaction, if not hysteria, is premature.

One of the most helpful things that could happen is for both sides to cool it.

Ostensibly the President's course resulted in a refusal of Cox to accept a compromise plan for obtaining portions of the presidential tapes relating to the Watergate matter. The President and the Watergate committee seemed to have reached an understanding where germane parts of the tapes would be transcribed and then compared by a senior senator (Sen. Stennis) with tapes from which the information came. Once the agreement had been reported, there was an immediate disagreement as to what its terms actually stipulated — a summary, a complete verbatim transcript, a verbatim transcript of certain (relevant) parts?

In the midst of this, Cox took the position that the President should turn over all the tapes, and that failure to do so puts him in contempt for non-compliance with a court order. This, apparently, is the legal basis for much of the demand for impeachment proceedings.

The Republican President had engaged Cox, a Democrat, as special prosecutor during an earlier crisis over the Watergate matter, promising Cox a free hand to shape up such prosecutions as seemed warranted by developments. It was apparent from the start the President had no stomach for this, moreover he was less than enchanted with the selection of Cox. The growing tension surfaced over Cox's stand regarding subpoenaing of the presidential tapes. The President, having set in motion a confrontation over the issue of tapes of his conversations, appeared to be working a way around this ticklish constitutional question. Thus, when Cox bowed his legal neck, the chief executive must have figured whom he could hire.

The spin-off from this, however, was that Atty. Gen. Elliott Richardson, three times a cabinet member, who had promised Cox an unfettered hand, felt he could not go back on his word.

Something, Indeed

Both Arabs and the Israelis have accepted, conditionally, a cease fire proposed through the good offices of Soviet Russia and the United States.

While shooting can't be turned off as cleanly as turning off a faucet, the firing can be choked off in short time if there is a degree of commonsense and patience exercised by the principals.

William D. Ruckelshaus, also cabinet level official, must have had similar feelings, for he too stepped out, leaving Solicitor Gen. Robert H. Bork, next in line, to wield the axe — which he did. Adding to the spasm has been the resignation of several advisors to Richardson and Ruckelshaus, and threatened exit of others in the Justice Department.

Yet, demands for impeachment need more sober consideration, because the court order to surrender tapes is still subject to and therefore not finally reached, appeal; the possibility of an acceptable compromise still exists, thus avoiding a definitive judgment which most parties would rather avoid; and finally, there is a difference between ignoring a prior pledge and in actual defiance of legal processes.

All of this may mire expeditious consideration of the President's nomination of Gerald Ford as vice president, for this puts Mr. Ford in a potentially much different role.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I am only 16, but I'm looking for an answer to life. Sometimes I think I don't believe in God, or that He is just fate or something. Then, I find myself praying to Him. So, I must need Him. You've got to have the greatest faith in the world. How did you do it?

M.T.

The Bible teaches that "faith" is a gift of God. It is not something that we acquire through hard work or earnest seeking. John wrote that "We love Him because He first loved us." (1 John 4:19.)

God is obviously at work in your life to bring you to spiritual enlightenment. That means a personal knowledge of Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. Your generation has been called "the seeking generation" with good reason. Having been disillusioned by the empty goals of a materialistic society, you reach out for reality. Millions have found that reality at the foot of a cross — kneeling in repentance and faith.

Your praying to God is on a similar principle to a compass needle pointing north. You were just made that way. While you can frustrate God's still small voice within, it is done at your own harm and peril.

I would not suggest at all that my faith is the greatest in the world. Furthermore, whatever spiritual powers I have come from God. It

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a marriage.

It weds man to his past, and there can be no divorce in that union. It is indissoluble.

Memory is the strongest link to life man has, and the most lasting. Only death, if anything, can dissolve it, and we are not even certain of that, for we know little about death.

Yet memory isn't a bondage or an uneasy servitude, but the most durable of our pleasures and the one that brings us the most solace across the years.

You have a pretty extensive chain of memory links yourself if you can look back and remember when —

You could buy a Hohner harmonica for a dime or, later, 25 cents, and become the musical genius of your neighborhood.

When you went to a doctor and told him you were feeling

"poorly," like as not he'd say, "You ought to eat more — it'd do you good to fatten up." Fat people were thought then to have more resistance to disease than thin people.

Girls thought nothing of being engaged to a man six months or more to be certain he was the one they wanted to marry.

If a young society lady broke her engagement, she usually went on a tour of Europe to get over her disappointment. If she was poor, she just visited a relative for a while.

People expected as much benefit from a cent bottle of Indian herbal tonic as they do from $25 worth of vitamin pills today.

Adolescence was that miserable period when you were too old to sit in the front rows at the movie any longer and too shy to ask a girl to sit with you in the back row, where the spooning couples sat.

If you wanted to purchase a spool of thread, you went to a business establishment called a dry goods store, where most of the salespeople were elderly ladies wearing long black skirts, high-buttoned shoes and starched white blouses. Dry goods stores seem to have gone the way of the dodo.

When grammar school kids played hooky, they rarely got into trouble because they were too young to hang out in the town pool hall and all they could do was to go swimming or fishing.

Most people didn't know too much about sex — but enough to keep their mouths shut about it in public.

Those were the days — remember?

Mr. Stein's Economics

William F. Buckley Jr.

Mr. Andrew Stein is a young New York Assemblyman of considerable ambition and uncertain taste. He is devoted to fashionable causes, preferably in fashionable settings. A few years ago he presided over a party in Southampton for the benefit of Cesar Chavez' union. At that party he served champagne, which is harvested by Frenchmen, who are paid 50 cents per hour, and urged the socialites in attendance to boycott grapes, harvested by Americans who are paid two dollars per hour.

NOW MR. STEIN has sent a furious letter to Sen. James L. Buckley, protesting his position on school lunch money. Assemblyman Stein sent a copy of his letter — one has a paralyzing suspicion that he thinks it clever — to me; and we workhorses of this world have to acknowledge our mail, so here we go.

Mr. Stein advises Sen. Buckley that "malnutrition of children" is an inappropriate "weapon against inflation." He says that Sen. Buckley should have voted the disputed $200 million dollar increase in federal subsidies for school breakfast and lunch programs because "after all, these children are not responsible for the Vietnam War and its impact on the National budget and on inflation." He then reminds Sen. Buckley — I kid you not — of Dean Swift's modest proposal for reducing Irish hunger by eating children — a brilliant parody which however was over-used by the time, approximately, of the American Revolution. Mr. Stein has evidently rediscovered it, and suggests that Sen. Buckley's indifference to the fate of American children "lacks the grace and humanity of Dean Swift's earlier proposal."

NOW, IN 1968, the federal government was contributing 500 million dollars for school lunches.

In 1973, the Nixon Administration recommended an appropriation of one billion 500 million dollars for school lunches. That is, three times as much as under the last Democratic Administration, under the prodigious spender Lyndon Johnson. One would think that if with one and one half billion Mr. Stein's children would die rationally before arriving at the trenches of a future Vietnam, then with only one third that sum, they'd have disappeared four years ago.

BUT THE story is not even then complete. The House of Representatives took Mr. Nixon's request for $1.5 billion, and added $149 million. That bill arrives in the Senate, and the Senate adds $108 million. Along comes Sen. Humphrey, who wants to add $83 million to the Senate's $108 million to the House's $149 million to the President's $1.5 billion. Sen. Buckley, at this point, raises his voice to point out that the subsidy has by now outpaced the increase in the cost of food by something like 43 per cent, he supports one half of Sen. Humphrey's projected raise, and urges the House to reject the second half. Those figures, processed by Mr. Stein, become a call for children's malnutrition.

MR. STEIN then quotes a New York State welfare official as saying: "If reimbursement rates are not increased there will be general price increases to students and many programs throughout the State will terminate." Presumably Mr. Stein believes this, though it is perhaps uncharitable to suggest that Mr. Stein really believes anything he says.

Prevents Tissue Stretching

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 14, in good shape, but have some questions.

Is it healthy to go braless? Will it hurt my breast? I am used to wearing a bra but I like the braless look.

When I menstruate, one month I have pains, and the next I don't. Is this normal? Is there anything I can take for the pains? — J.J.

Going braless does not cause any disease or physical damage to the breasts. If the breasts are heavy, then obviously a bra will limit the amount of sagging and stretching of tissues — called Cooper's Droop. But that problem ordinarily takes care of itself since with heavy breasts it is more comfortable to have some support. (For example, bras are recommended for nursing mothers simply because of comfort.)

Your second question: some breast pain at menstruation is not especially unusual. Some experience it; many don't. Wearing a bra at the time may give some relief.

The fluctuation in pain from one month to another is not unusual, either, but the cause of this variation is not known. In most cases, one or another of the drug store analgesics (pain pills) is the best remedy, but it is a good idea to experiment and find which one suits you best.

Dear Sir: I would like to know the symptoms of low blood sugar and how to overcome this. Is this the same as low blood pressure? I am sending 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for a booklet on these ailments. — Mrs. P.Z.

Am sending "Help for Hypoglycemia (Low Blood Sugar)" which will include symptoms, various types of low blood sugar, treatment required. There is no booklet covering both that and blood pressure — but there is nothing in common between the two conditions. Low blood sugar means periods when the amount of glucose (sugar) in the blood falls too rapidly or to too low a level. It has nothing to do with blood pressure, either high or low.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you give me some information about Guillain-Barre syndrome. What causes it, and chance of recovery? Is it psychosis? Friends say it is all in the mind. — Mrs. H.J.B.

This is a rare condition, and the cause is not known — except that it is not a psychosis, not "all in the mind."

It is a very real ailment affecting (for whatever reasons) the peripheral nerves. Roughly, that means any or all the nerves outside the brain and spinal cord.

It involves weakness and numbness to the parts of the body served by the nerves that are affected, such as arms and legs.

The condition usually comes on rapidly, reaches a peak within three weeks, but the outlook for complete recovery is good — about 90 per cent of patients returning to normal activity.

If muscles involve breathing, including of course the diaphragm, the condition becomes a very dangerous one, and from 5 to 20 per cent of such patients can die if emergency treatment is not started promptly to keep them breathing.

Guillain-Barre can be confused with polio, although actually there is no relationship.

Meaning Of UFO

WASHINGTON — I happen to be one of those people who believes that the unidentified flying objects which have been reported seen whizzing around the United States are for real. But, like so many people, I have no idea what they want from the United States at this point in time.

I SOUGHT out some of the most learned men in this country to find out if they had any theories.

Prof. Heinrich Applebaum of the Watergate Observatory told me, "This is just speculation, of course, but I wouldn't be surprised if they're trying to make a wheat deal with the United States. They saw what a good contract the Russians made."

"But why should they need wheat?" I asked.

"IF YOU WILL look through this telescope you'll see that there is not too much growing out there. You have to assume that whoever they are, they have to import most of their wheat. They probably were buying their wheat from another planet until they got word that they could get our wheat much cheaper."

DR. FITZHUGH Feelinghouse of the Society for the Preservation of High Sulphur Content in Fuel disagreed. "I am under the impression they want to buy oil from us. We have to assume that if they're from outer space and can make it all the way here, they are a highly industrialized society. Therefore, they must be short on fuel. I am almost certain they've come to discuss the feasibility of building a pipeline to their planet since from their telescopes, they have seen our neon signs advertising Exxon, Gulf, Texaco and BP gasoline."

JEREMY SAITHERWAITE, a political scientist at the Institute of Paranoia, is very skeptical about the UFOs coming from another galaxy. "I think Nixon is trying to get our minds off his domestic troubles by whipping up a flying saucer scare."

"But how could he swing it? Surely you can't launch a flying saucer from somewhere in the United States without someone knowing about it."

"Why do you think he sent those three astronauts up to Skylab for 59 days?"

THE FINAL expert I spoke to was Prof. Charles Simoli, a sociologist, who said, "The most interesting thing is that most of the UFO sightings have been in the South."

"What are you driving at?" I asked.

"Has it ever occurred to you that all these poor creatures from outer space are trying to do is bus their kids to a good school?"

Couple Says Vows In Home Ceremony

Miss Donna Phillips and Randy Allen McKinney were married Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Byerley, 1501 Tucson, by Justice of the Peace Walter Grice. They are making their home in Big Spring.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mavis Glass, Big Spring, and James Phillips of Dallas. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McKinney, Rt. 1, Box 194.

The wedding vows were exchanged before an improvised altar, and traditional musical selections were by Mrs. Dennis Polinsky, pianist and vocalist.

The bride was attired in a full-length gown of aqua organza over taffeta with white trim on the bodice. The gown was styled with rounded neckline and short, puffed sleeves. Her bouquet was a nosegay of blue and white carnations.

The maid of honor, Miss Brenda McAdams, was attired in a street-length blue dress with white bodice. Larry Bruns served as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple was honored with a reception in the home, where refreshments were served by the bride's sister, Mrs. Sandra Hendricks, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Robert Weaver.

The table was covered with a blue linen cloth overlaid with white lace. The centerpiece was the bride's bouquet encircled with blue and white candles. Attending from Dallas were the bride's father and her grandmother, Mrs. Essie Phillips.

The bride attended high school in Dallas, and the bridegroom attended Coahoma High School. He is currently employed by Western Mattress Company.

Bride-Elect Honored At Showers

Several pre-nuptial events have been held honoring Miss Donna Simer, who will be married Saturday to Roddy Robertson.

The first was a kitchen shower at the Valtai Reeves School of Hairdressing and Cosmetology. Hostesses were Miss Dena Sisson, Miss Peggy Hale, Miss Debbie Moore and Miss Becky Hays.

Another shower was held at Vincent Baptist Church. The honoree was presented a corsage of pink and burgundy carnations, as were her mother, Mrs. Eddie Simer, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Morris Robertson.

The serving table was covered with white lace and appointed with crystal and silver. Pink tapers accented the table. Gifts were displayed on a table laid with white linen, and centered with an arrangement of pink fur flowers.

Hostesses were Miss Cindy Brown, Miss Spring Winters, Mrs. Bruce Hatfield and Miss Barbara Brown.

The final event was held Saturday at Texas Electric Reddy Room. Decorations were done in pink, white and burgundy, and corsages of pink and burgundy carnations were given to the bride and the mothers.

Hostesses were Miss Selma Pace, Miss Nancy Olson, Miss Treca Stewart, Miss Debbie Tibbs, Miss Sharon Plunkett, Mrs. Herbert Johnson Jr. and Mrs. Buddy Andrews.

Miss Simer and Robertson will be married at Vincent Baptist Church.

"Smells Bad"

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Someone signed "SMELLS BAD IN ROANOKE" wrote to say she was extremely clean about herself and her clothing, but she smelled a terrible odor about herself, which nobody said they smelled, and it was driving her out of her mind.

I had the same problem for four years. Finally my doctor discovered I had diabetes. He put me on a low carbohydrate diet, and the smell left me.

CURED NOW

DEAR ABBY: This is my 50th year as a physician and I have seen a number of cases like the one described by "SMELLS BAD."

That person should consult an ear, nose, and throat specialist for possible "Ozena" (stink nose), which causes a breath so foul that everything smells bad to her. The condition is the result of a chronic infection in nose and sinuses causing upper respiratory membranes to degenerate.

ARIZONA, M.D.

DEAR ABBY: I also smelled bad and didn't know why. My doctor looked into my navel with a flashlight and that's where the smell was coming from. He cleaned it out and advised me to keep it clean with a bit of cotton on a toothpick, and my problem was solved.

ON THE BUTTON

DEAR ABBY: Dr. Marion B. Sultzberger, a famous dermatologist, once told me that he had a patient who came to him with the same problem as "SMELLS BAD." The doctor had the man strip. He still smelled bad. Then the doctor told the man to remove his gold wedding band. That was the culprit! In some people, their body chemistry and certain metals create a very

"Personality Should Show"

"The best way to have a pleasantly decorated and designed place for living is to let the family personality show through," said Ted Hatfield of Good Housekeeping Furniture.

Hatfield spoke Friday to The Woman's Forum at the home of Mrs. Arnold Marshall, 709 Highland. He said the first consideration in decorating a home should be to find a style of furniture that suits family needs. Mixing and matching is a modern trend, but he said it must be done with taste.

"Early-marriage type furniture can be used with charm when tied in with newer pieces, and the effect is not too severe," said Hatfield.

"Solid wood furniture is becoming a thing of the past, according to Hatfield, and he predicted a future of beautiful plastic home furnishings. He also discussed use of colors in floor coverings and accessories. "The trend toward the eclectic look allows use of the old with the new," said Hatfield, "but a room must remain uncluttered through use of good basic pieces of furniture with a tasteful selection of keepsakes and accent pieces."

Mrs. John Knox was hostess, and guests were Mrs. Lowell Jones and Mrs. J. D. Jones, the latter being an honorary member. Mrs. W. N. Norred, Big Spring State Hospital representative, announced the hospital needs volunteers. Also, Mrs. Clyde Johnston discussed needs of Westside Community Center and told about progress being made. She asked members to save used light bulbs and felt scraps for use in arts and crafts activities.

The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., Nov. 16 at the home of Mrs. Jack Y. Smith. Members of the music department at Howard County Junior College will present the program.

Don't Overplant, Iowan Warns Other Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) - While the federal government and most consumers urge farmers to increase production, Rep. William J. Scherle, an Iowa grain and livestock farmer, backs the trend by telling his constituents: "Don't Overplant!" or "Plant with Caution!"
If farmers overplant, Scherle says, market prices might fall, as they have in the past, and "our farmers will be getting a lesser amount for their crop."
The conservative Republican issues his caution notes regularly at the end of his newsletter because the American farmer is "going to get himself

Big Trade Surplus Reported By U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States had a trade surplus during September of $873 million, the biggest single monthly surplus in more than eight years, the Commerce Department reported today.

The huge surplus of exports over imports surprised even government trade officials.

Exports were listed as $6,448,400,000 and imports at $5,575,100,000, an increase of 7.4 per cent for exports and a decline of 7.4 per cent for imports from a month earlier.

The September surplus also put the country's trade for the first nine months of the year into a surplus by $153 million, compared with a deficit at the same time a year earlier of just over $4.8 billion.

The figures indicated the United States has a good chance of recording a trade surplus this year following deficits of $6 billion in 1972 and $2 billion in 1971.

The Commerce Department said the big jump in September exports was in civilian aircraft, machinery, chemicals and textiles. The decline in imports occurred in consumer goods, crude petroleum, steel and non-ferrous metals.

Total exports so far in 1973 have been at an annual rate of $67.5 billion, 37 per cent above the 1972 total of $49.2 billion.

Imports during the first nine months have been at a rate of $67.3 billion, about 21 per cent above the 1972 total of $55.6 billion.

The Commerce Department said the size of the big increase in exports and the big drop in imports was unexpected and said trade was "strongly influenced by unusually volatile movements" during the month.

Soviets Sent Men To Egypt, Brezhnev Says

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has "already sent representatives" to the Mideast war zone at the request of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev announced today.

He did not reveal if the Russians dispatched to the battle front were military forces.

The Soviet move followed an Egyptian request Wednesday that Russian and American troops be sent to the Middle East to help enforce the troubled U.N. cease-fire call.

Only Thursday the Soviet Union had voted for a U.N. resolution calling for a peacekeeping force in the Middle East without any U.S. or Soviet troops participating.

Earlier Thursday, the United States had placed some of its key military bases in the United States and abroad on precautionary alert amid concern in Washington that Moscow was planning to send military units unilaterally into the Middle East.

Speaking on the second day of the World Congress of Peace forces here, Brezhnev said when the Soviet Union received Sadat's call, "we expressed our readiness to satisfy Egypt's request and have already sent such representatives."

The Kremlin chief said that he hoped the United States would follow suit, but added that the Soviet Union would entertain "other possible measures in connection with the continued violations of the cease-fire." The United States rejected Sadat's call.

Speaking of the U.N. resolution to send a mixed peacekeeping force to the Middle East, Brezhnev said, "We consider this a helpful decision and hope it will play its part."

Brezhnev had been scheduled to address the congress Thursday but he postponed the speech at the height of the tension over the U.S. military alert.

In today's address, Brezhnev did not reveal how many Soviets had been sent to the Middle East nor did he say precisely what their function was or where they had been dispatched.

In his appeal to Washington and Moscow, Sadat requested that Soviet and American troops intervene militarily along the Suez Canal and secure a cease-fire.

Brezhnev's statement that Moscow has sent "such representatives" appeared to mean that Soviet military units had been moved into the Middle East.

Setting the tone for his announcement, the Kremlin leader accused Israel of repeated violations of the Mideast cease-fire and said it was pursuing an "adventurist" course.

Brezhnev added that "it is difficult to understand what the Israeli leaders are counting on by carrying out such an adventurist course."

He charged that Israel has "totally ignored" the U.N. calls for a cease-fire.

Therefore, he declared, "urgent and necessary measures were required to implement the cease-fire."

During the year, he noted, the chamber offices had been renovated without incurring debt. Capps also lauded Art Roberts, manager, and Patsy O'Neil, secretary, for excellent staff work.

New directors introduced by Barrington were Neal Chatain, Jake Montgomery, Dewayne Lee (also treasurer), Buddy White, H. M. Fitzhugh, Hank Myers, Ronnie Payton, Jerry Price and Mrs. A. J. (Teresa) Hale.

"PONDER, MUMBLE"

The Lamesa High School pops choir got a big hand for its program of dinner music. Ray Renner kept the audience in great spirits with his role as master of ceremonies, and Cecil Hutson, North 14th Church of Christ minister, worded the prayers.

Dr. Boren's thesis was "when in charge, ponder . . . when in doubt, mumble . . ." He was all for cutting red tape but only if "we cut it vertically . . . because it is the tape that binds the world together."

Bureaucracy has the gift to "optimize the status quo," he added. His three-dimensional illustrating of how bureaucracy works — a Lucifer G. Butts contraption — had the crowd in stitches.

NO PROSECUTIONS IN TWO YEARS County Attorney Faulted In Case Dismissals Here

By MARJ CARPENTER

"The primary responsibility and duty of prosecuting cases appealed from a Corporation Court to a County Court involving violations of the penal laws of this State rests upon the County Attorney."

"This is an opinion of the Attorney General of Texas and we believe that it definitely applies in the question that has arisen in recent weeks in regard to the massive number of cases appealed from our corporation court to the county court and which are being dismissed without prosecution," Harry Nagel, city manager stated here this morning.

"To my knowledge, in the two years I've been in Big Spring, I have not heard of a single case appealed from corporation court to county court that has been prosecuted," Nagel added.

He pointed out that after an investigation conducted by him and other city officials following recent public statements that police officers were "over zealous in issuing tickets and cases," we have decided to make this statement in their behalf.

Following an investigation of hundreds of cases, we found none that we considered borderline. "We do not consider 55 miles per hour in a 30 mile zone or 35 miles per hour in a 20 mile school zone as borderline," Nagel added.

Both the city attorney and the corporation court judge said that they "weeded out what they might consider a borderline or close judgment ticket at that level."

ADMIT DISTRESS

City police officers admitted distress in that some persons with numerous traffic violations were avoiding prosecution and were right back on the streets and could possibly be involved in a major accident.

The police officers point out that the law is designed to get the dangerous drivers "off the streets and highways."

OTHER CITIES

The question of appeals to county court first arose back in 1962 and at that time, the county attorney, Wayne Burns sent for an attorney general's opinion and learned that it is the duty of the county attorney to prosecute these cases.

The present county attorney, W. H. Eysen Jr., claims that other cities use city attorneys to help prosecute the appeals. He used Abilene as an example. However, Abilene does not have a county attorney.

City officials pointed out that they even had a zoning violation recently appealed to the county courts and dismissed. "We then had to file a civil suit in order to enforce our zoning regulations," Nagel added.

Melvin Durratt, warrant officer for the city police, noted that in the past week, all four Sunday sale of liquor violations were appealed to the county court.

The State Liquor control board also noted this situation since it involves a violation of their regulations, even though the arrest was made by city police.

MUCH ADO

One city official added, "All of the ado about whether or not we can sell in Big Spring on Sunday went for naught if all violations can be appealed and then dismissed."

County officials claim that the cost to the county to prosecute these cases would be massive. Some theorize that if local citizens began to realize they were actually going to be prosecuted that there would soon be many less appeals. "They would simply pay their traffic tickets at the lower level court if they had a court cost and attorney fee added to the burden on the other route," one city official claimed.

Nagel pointed out that "I have nothing to do with the corporation court. I simply conducted an investigation to be sure that our police officers were doing their job in an efficient manner and we find that they are. According to the Attorney General of Texas, the responsibility of cases appealed to county court lies with the county."

Dr. Boren, who bills himself as the president of NATAPROBU (National Association of Professional Bureaucrats) and author of "When in Doubt, Mumble," delighted the capacity audience at Lamesa High School's student center with his satirical thrusts at the bureaucratic maze.

In a serious moment, he explained his mission at directing attention to the "excesses and deficiencies of bureaucracy" because "it is a waste of human talent." He blasted a current reorganization attempt in Washington as merely a new layer of bureaucracy at the top.

Congress, he said, is largely to blame for the proliferation of paperwork and finger-tapping that strains Democratic processes, and Congress can do much to correct this weakness.

Fred Barrington took over as chamber president from Bob Capps with a declaration that

Boren Rips At Bureaucracy Keep Crowd In Stitches

By JOE PICKLE

LAMESA — Buoyed by the possibility that Dawson County might well repeat as the nation's No. 1 cotton producing county, a large crowd paused in good spirits here Thursday evening to laugh at Dr. James Boren's lampoon of the country's bureaucracy.

There were other records to crow about at the annual banquet of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development. One of them was a membership drive that produced 70 new members, a net growth of 62 members during the year, and record membership of 402.

The individual who had the biggest hand in this — Dorothy Haney — was cited as the Round Up Club's Top Hand, a title she had earned before. Ms. Haney, who brought in 40 members, turned her prize money over to the United Way. She also is the new vice president.

"I am enthusiastic about Lamesa," he reminded that "everything good for our community starts and stops with people." He presented Capps with a plaque for what he described as an outstanding year.

Capps told the group not all goals had been reached, that there were no new industries to announce, but that "presentations have been made to 21 prospective industries during the year."

He said the agri-business program of the chamber and BCD had experienced success, that the Lamesa Community College center program will become a permanent concept, and that good progress is being made on the economic development front.

During the year, he noted, the chamber offices had been renovated without incurring debt. Capps also lauded Art Roberts, manager, and Patsy O'Neil, secretary, for excellent staff work.

New directors introduced by Barrington were Neal Chatain, Jake Montgomery, Dewayne Lee (also treasurer), Buddy White, H. M. Fitzhugh, Hank Myers, Ronnie Payton, Jerry Price and Mrs. A. J. (Teresa) Hale.

The Lamesa High School pops choir got a big hand for its program of dinner music. Ray Renner kept the audience in great spirits with his role as master of ceremonies, and Cecil Hutson, North 14th Church of Christ minister, worded the prayers.

BUREAUCRATIC MUDDLE — Dr. James H. Boren, center, humorous speaker at the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday night, uses a small machine to identify the "Washington muddle" to two new honorary bureaucrats, Fred Barrington, incoming president, and Bob Capps, outgoing president of the chamber.

BOGGED DOWN IN CRANBERRIES — Women workers are knee-deep in a bog of cranberries at harvest time at Sandwich, Mass., on Cape Cod. They wade through the saucy carpet to round up the berries for processing.

FOR SWIM POOL Military Gear Was Bartered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military equipment was bartered in Laos to build a swimming pool for the ambassador and to refurbish his residence, a former embassy official charges.

"I was personally present when large quantities of excess property were traded to private contractors for services and improvements to the ambassador's residence," Howard F. Mudgett, former security chief at the embassy, told a House subcommittee Thursday.

G. McMurtrei Godley, ambassador from 1970 to 1973, called the allegations "gross exaggerations."

"My personal strong conviction is that my associates . . . made no personal gain and I certainly didn't," Godley said.

Mudgett also accused Godley's administrative counselor, Reed P. Robinson, with disposing of some of the equipment and pocketing the profits.

Mudgett said staff meetings held by Robinson dealt mainly with how to divert military equipment to Laos and improvement of facilities for Godley.

The embassy requisitioned from Vietnam and Thailand nearly $8 million worth of surplus American military equipment ostensibly for the Lao Armed Services, Mudgett said.

Much of the equipment was stolen or deteriorated in the weather after it reached Laos, he told the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on foreign operations.

As a result of bartering of other pieces of equipment, $70,000 worth of improvements were made to Godley's residence, Mudgett said.

The $40,000 swimming pool and tennis courts for Godley also were financed in this manner, Mudgett testified.

"I repeatedly reported these things personally to the ambassador, finally in writing," he said. "Then . . . nothing was done . . ."

Godley, who is scheduled to testify next Thursday, said the swimming pool was built for less than $15,000. He contended the improvements were needed on the residence.

Also scheduled to testify next week are investigators for the General Accounting Office and the Agency for International Development, who are looking into the requisitioning by the embassy.

Bosom-Barer On Crusade

CHICAGO (AP) — Wendy Berlowitz has bared her breasts publicly in six cities, including Chicago.

Mrs. Berlowitz, 25, stripped off her black halter top Thursday in Civic Center Plaza before an audience of 2,500 cheering men.

"I do not believe it is wrong to expose your body!" the former English teacher from Oklahoma yelled at one of the largest Plaza crowds since the Vietnam bombing protest in December.

"Any man in the world can take his shirt off, and I believe women have the same right!"

Mrs. Berlowitz, accompanied by her husband Jim, 27, has exposed her breasts in Albuquerque, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Denver, Norman, Okla. and Chicago. She says she is on a campaign to bring "the downfall of Western civilization and the Judeo-Christian ethic."

She will continue the effort "until public nudity is no longer considered naughty," she said.

In Chicago, Mrs. Berlowitz shucked her black halter top in brisk 63-degree weather.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Police telephones are "ringing off the hook" as banks, airlines and travel agencies complain about an 18-year-old New York City youth who police say saw the world on a borrowed credit card and $200,000 worth of phony checks.

Detectives said Thursday that Michael Thomas Henson, who was arrested when he could not pay his bill at a motel here last Sunday, may have gone through a half-million dollars on a two-month, around-the-world spending spree with a girl friend named Grace.

Henson's globe trotting jaunt began in New York City in August when he borrowed a MasterCard charge card from an Orlando headresser who goes by the name of Xavier, police said.

They said Henson told Xavier he needed the card to buy plane tickets to Orlando but instead began a trip that took him and his girl friend to London, Paris, Madrid, Lisbon, Greece, Africa, Hawaii and Hong Kong, where he stayed in a $135-a-day hotel room and purchased two pairs of earrings for $21,000.

"Whatever he couldn't get on Master Charge, he wrote checks for," said Orlando police Sgt. Ed Koskey, claiming the youth had passed a total of $200,000 in worthless checks.

"Our phones have been ringing off the hook with calls from all over from banks, money order firms, airlines and others," Koskey said.

Police said Henson deposited phony checks written on a check writing machine to open bank accounts and then he wrote personal checks on the accounts to buy merchandise around the world.

In Hong Kong, Henson converted three phony $25,000 checks into American Express travelers checks, detectives said.

"It's incredible," said Don Gartland, an American Express spokesman in New York. "Who would accept a $25,000 check without checking it out first, much less three of them?"

"I have enough trouble cashing one of my own checks, and someone goes around doing it in strange countries," Koskey said.

Three Perish Near Pecos

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Eleven vehicles smashed together in a fog today near this West Texas city, killing three persons and injuring five.

The dead and injured were not identified immediately.

Investigators said a truck ran into the back of a vehicle that had stopped or slowed and set off a chain reaction.

O.C. Smith, a truck driver who declined to name his home town, said the fog was so thick that it took him a half hour to travel the 10 miles from Pecos to the scene on Interstate 20.

Smith said he came upon the accident and parked his truck on the shoulder and alighted to help the injured. His own truck then was struck.

The collisions were in a little valley.

Involved were seven passenger cars, a pickup truck, two tractor trailers and a trailer house.

The United Way campaign topped the $100,000 mark today, reaching $103,080.50, or 87 per cent, in its drive to gain $117,000.

Most of the gain over Thursday's total of $99,388, was registered by the big gifts division which brought in $2,745 in one day, boosting its total to $40,161. Other divisions showing gains over their Thursday totals are out-of-town, business employees and special gifts.

AFTEREFFECTS CRITICIZED BY SOME, HOWEVER

Sensitivity Training Is Still Popular

By The Associated Press

Training people to be sensitive to others sounds innocent and may be, but a growing number of critics warn of possible undesirable aftereffects. Nude encounter groups and bizarre-appearing methods of human contact have done much to create the criticism.

Yet law enforcement agencies, churches, camps, social organizations, business institutions and the military continue to use sensitivity training, saying it improves effectiveness of people dealing with people.

Mrs. H. G. Richardson, a member of the national speakers staff of the Daughters of the American Revolution, said in a speech that encounter group methods are a form of brainwashing "used extensively by the communists in North Korea and Red China."

WIDE VARIANCE

While there is a wide variance in some of the methods used, there are a few basic elements usually present, including self-confession and mutual criticism, intimate discussion of one's most personal belief and actions and subordination of individual values and standards to group pressure, she said.

Dr. Gwenn Hall of the counseling section at El Centro College in Dallas said that the 33 sections of human development courses at her school are designed to help students cope with life.

She said such sensitivity training would "even help students on the careers they're going to have in the future."

"We're working on the premise many of the professional people are well qualified for their jobs but they need to learn how to get along with other people," Dr. Hall said.

Southern Methodist University psychologist Dr. Mary Alice Gordon described sensitivity training as a controlled set of experiences aimed at helping participants understand themselves and others.

One of the techniques used by encounter group leaders during sessions is to develop trust between participants through a completely honest exchange of ideas.

Such honesty often leads to emotional statements by participants which critics say borders on mental intrusion and could cause a breakdown of an individual's psychological means of protecting himself from being hurt by other persons.

"I always try to warn participants when they leave the group, 'You don't go out and be trusting and honest with people,'" Dr. Gordon said.

"Let's face it, you shouldn't trust everyone. You need to learn who you can trust," she added.

Dr. Gordon said sensitivity groups should be conducted by a professional. "People may start looking at something they had not looked at before," she said.

SOME NEED HELP

There have been instances of sensitivity session participants requiring professional psychological help after such sessions, as well as breakups of marriages where one or more partners took part in an encounter group.

Critics also say some business leaders who attended sessions to increase their leadership abilities instead had their ego defense mechanisms shattered, voiding their ability to lead rather than increasing it.

Dr. Gordon denied true sensitivity training could be brainwashing since it has an unstructured format although she said similar techniques could be used as a brainwashing tool.

Whether sensitivity training is brainwashing, a training method or simply a program to let persons find themselves, its use is spreading.

Dr. Hall of El Centro College said students enrolled in the school's human development courses last year included policemen, firemen, city employees and businessmen.

She said El Centro this fall will sponsor sessions for a group of inmates at the Dallas County jail in an attempt to help them understand society.

Dr. Hall said the school named the classes "human development courses" to escape names such as sensitivity training, encounter, leadership training, role playing and sociodrama.

STANDARD FARE

Sensitivity training is standard fare at Department of Defense race relations schools required for all members of the military, according to military race relations experts.

Some chaplains also are being trained in sensitivity leadership for counseling military families and other groups in getting along with each other better.

Businesses increasingly are committing executives to such sessions, aiming at improving their effectiveness in dealing with employees.

While social and professional applications are increasing, companies which five years ago charged for setting up such sessions are nearly extinct.

Sensitivity sessions include a wide range of activities which are relatively unstructured and last from a few minutes to days in length. Such sessions may be planned for one meeting or broken into several sessions.

In typical encounter groups, six to 15 persons gather in intimate surroundings. A group leader encourages trust and discussion by participants by having them touch each other's faces, lift each other, shake hands as they talk, lead each other as if one participant was blind, and similar techniques.

As trust develops, sensitivity leaders encourage participants to communicate honestly with each other, letting direction of discussions and conclusions run their own course. Often the sessions become highly emotional, filled with anger and tears.

Who Played Cox, Viewer Of Crisis Wants To Know

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — My old pal, Everett Scrimshaw, finally is getting hooked on the Watergate crisis shows these days. Hardly a night goes by that he doesn't see a new chapter on TV.

"The first show wasn't too hot," he said. "All I saw was a buncha pictures of the Watergate hotel or whatever it is and people standing around. There wasn't any shooting."

"So I have me a beer and wait. Pretty soon I see some guys being led out of a paddy wagon and someone saying they're burglars. No shooting there, either."

Everett paused to think, which for him doesn't come easy.

"A couple of months later I see a batch of shows about press conferences and everybody's saying they're innocent."

"Well, that was pretty dull, too, and I almost went back to Batman until I turned the channel one night and saw a group of guys behind a big table."

"They were talking to some other guys behind another big table about the Watergate hotel and money and women and stuff. Now, that was pretty interesting."

"I watched it every night, except when they put on ballet or fancy music or something."

Everett paused to drink, which for him comes easy.

"Anyhow, it got so bad after a while that those guys behind the big table weren't showing up all the time and I had my doubts anybody'd show up. I went back to Batman. But this week was a hummer. There've been a lot of new talk shows about some tapes."

"Now I'm not all that interested in tapes because I got me a good phonograph with a ruby needle, but I also believe there's always something new under the sun."

"And this tape stuff got to be pretty interesting because nobody knew what was on it and that perked my interest."

"Then a little bit later this week they did some shows about a courthouse and the White House and all the actors seemed out of breath most of the time. It was pretty lively."

Everett scratched his head.

"I think it was some kind of detective series, to tell you the truth, but Lord, was it strung out," he said.

"One thing still puzzles me, though," added Everett Scrimshaw. "Did Jimmy Stewart play Archibald Cox?"

American Military Is Still On Alert

WASHINGTON (AP) — American military forces remained on alert around the world today, although the crisis which precipitated their call to duty appeared over.

There was no indication how long hundreds of thousands of airmen, sailors and troops would remain prepared to move to the Mideast if needed.

Among the units alerted was the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., which has a prime mission to be sent to crisis points in time of emergency.

For the average citizen who sees spots before his eyes, a visit to his optometrist would be advisable. For the average bridge player, however, the spots tell a tale of their own and should be kept constantly before him. South would have done well to follow this principle in today's hand.

After opening one club and receiving a one heart response, South had two methods of treating his hand. One was to reverse into two diamonds, showing a good hand with at least four diamonds and five clubs. The other was to treat his hand as balanced and rebid two no trump. Since a nine-trick contract might prove easier than a minor suit game, South opted for the latter method, and North raised to game.

After the spade attack, declarer could count eight tricks. He rejected any thought of looking for his ninth trick in the club suit—even if a finesse for the jack of clubs was successful, the defenders would have the spade suit established before declarer could win a club trick, and they rated to make three spades and the ace-king of clubs. Hearts seemed to offer better prospects, so after winning the king of spades declarer led a heart to the jack. East won the queen and returned the queen of spades, and declarer could make no more than eight tricks.

Nines and eights might not be given any value in the point count, but they can be tremendously important in the play of the cards. On this deal, South's heart holding should have been the key to winning the contract.

Declarer failed to realize that his 9-8 of hearts offered him the chance of two finesses instead of one. Instead of putting all his eggs in the one basket—finding the queen of hearts with West—South would have done better to play West for either the queen or the ten!

At trick two, declarer should have led the nine of hearts and, if West played low, he should have run it. As the cards lie, this would have brought the queen from East, and the jack of hearts would have become the game fulfilling trick. But even if East wins the ten, declarer has lost nothing. He can win the spade return and now finesse the jack of hearts, hoping West has the queen.

Ramon, Two Others Due To Be Arraigned Today

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Formal arraignment was scheduled today for Cameron County Judge Ray Ramon and two other men charged with conspiring to murder a county commissioner.

Ramon, 35, was indicted Oct. 12 by a county grand jury along with county Civil Defense Director Carlos Carrasco and Noe Alaniz Trevino, 44, of Matamoros, Mexico, on charges of conspiring to murder Commissioner Adolph Thomaie Jr. of San Benito.

District Court Judge Darrell Hester was expected to rule today on a motion to relieve Cameron County Dist. Atty. Fred Galindo and his staff from prosecution of the case. Galindo made the request in a motion, citing a close personal and business relationship with Ramon as the reason.

If Judge Hester agrees a special prosecutor, possibly from outside the Lower Rio Grande Valley, would be appointed for the case.

Ramon has said he is innocent and will not resign. After first saying he would not preside at meetings of the commissioner's court because it would be "awkward," Ramon said earlier this week he would resume all duties as county judge.

Thomaie, as county judge pro tem and senior member of the court, had been presiding.

Ramon and Carrasco were freed after posting $5,000 bond each. Judge Hester set bond at $500,000 on Alaniz Trevino, being held at the time of the indictment in lieu of $400,000 bond on a federal narcotics charge.

Alaniz Trevino was arrested in September after he and two other Mexican nationals allegedly attempted to sell a kilo (about 2.2 pounds) of heroin valued at $1.5 million to a federal undercover agent.

Coahoma Gins Most Cotton

Coahoma area cotton farmers are leading their counterparts elsewhere in Howard County in quantity harvested.

As harvesting activity begins to increase here, all gins surveyed Thursday reported good to excellent quality. They estimated a total of 3,435 bales ginned or waiting in the yard for processing.

The Wendell Shive Gin in Coahoma reported receiving 1,034 bales.

Next came Planters Gin in Luther with 850 bales after two or three weeks of ginning. In Big Spring, the Co-Op Gin posted a total of 741 bales received, counting both that already ginned and that in the yard. Cotton here looked better than any received in 10 years. In Fairview, the Paymaster Gin counted 289 bales and planned on "round the clock" work in about two more weeks if good weather continues.

Farmers Co-Op, Knott, added 206 bales cotton. All but 31 bales arrived this week.

Planters Gin, Lamesa Highway, now in its second week of ginning, found 140 bales. With 105 bales was the Lomax Gin. And the Broughton Gin in Big Spring figured 90 bales had arrived this, its first week of operation during this harvest.

St. Paul's To Host Speaker; Trinity Observes Reformation

By MARJ CARPENTER
Both Lutheran Churches have special events planned for this Sunday. Trinity Lutheran will celebrate Reformation Sunday and St. Paul's Lutheran is observing their Fall Mission Festival.

The Rev. Heckmann will return to Big Spring to be the special speaker at the church's Fall Mission Festival at 1:30 p.m. In addition to speaking at the 1:30 p.m. service the Rev. Heckmann will also meet with the church's Bible Class at 9:30 a.m. After leaving the Abilene, Big Spring, area, the Rev.

Heckmann accepted the call to be the pastor of the Lutheran Church in Riesel, Tex., in 1926, the then largest Lutheran Church in Texas. Pastor Heckmann served that congregation for almost 20 years, and while serving that church was elected as president of the Texas District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod. During the time the Rev. Heckmann was president of the Texas District the Lutheran Women's Missionary League was organized in Texas. After 20 years of service to the Lutheran Church in Riesel, background, the Lord can sure do it with anyone. THIS SUNDAY, OCT. 28th, Trinity Lutheran Church will be celebrating Reformation Sunday. Lutherans trace their history back to Oct. 31, 1517, the day Martin Luther nailed to the door of the church at Wittenberg his 95 theses against the Roman Catholic Church's selling of indulgences. Thus began the Protestant Reformation, essentially modifying and simplifying the medieval religious system. Luther based his theology upon the quotation from St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans that "the just shall live by faith." Out of this thinking emerged the idea that every man has direct access to God through Jesus Christ.

Christian Brotherhood Hour Speaker To Appear Locally

Included among the numerous other positions that he has held are: Executive Director of the Division of Church Service of the Church of God (1955-68); member and vice president of the General Commission of Chaplains and Armed Forces Personnel, serving as chairman of the Committee of Armored Forces Personnel; and board member of the National Religious Broadcasters. Dr. Sterner attended Anderson College, Anderson, Ind., received his AB Degree from Louisiana Tech, did graduate work at Alabama Tech, graduated from Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, and received an Honorary Doctor of Divinity Degree from Anderson College in 1967.

DR. STERNER

Author of five books ("Toward a Christian Fellowship," "We Reach Our Hands in Fellowship," "You Have a Ministry," "Being the Community of Christian Love," and "Where Are You Going Jesus?") and numerous articles for religious publication, Dr. Sterner is widely acclaimed as a speaker and conference leader. Before accepting the position as Executive Secretary of the Radio and Pastor Heckmann accepted the position of pastor of St. Mark Lutheran Church of Waco, where he continued to serve until his retirement a few years ago. Since his retirement, the Rev. Heckmann has accepted the position of pastor of a small Lutheran church in Rosebud, Tex., which he continues to serve at the present time. Pastor Heckmann and his beloved wife, now deceased, were blessed with five sons and two daughters. All five sons entered and served the Lutheran church as pastors, and all continue to do so with the exception of Paul, who was killed in an automobile accident a few years ago. These five sons who entered the Lutheran Ministry were, Carl, Paul, Harold, Robert and Eugene. Three of the four living sons still serve the Lutheran Church in the Texas District, as did Paul before his death. Following in the footsteps of his father, the Rev. Carl Heckmann is presently president of the Texas District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

Commenting on his life as a pastor, Dr. E. A. Heckmann, now 83 years of age, states that he was the son of a dirt farmer back in Freidheim, Ind., and that if the Lord could make a pastor out of him with his

Wesley Welcomes Pastor

Wesley United Methodist Church of Big Spring, has a new minister who assumed his duties here the first of October. He is the Rev. Robert D. Ford who moved here from First United Methodist, Post, Tex. He has served other pastorates in Texas at Amarillo, Abilene and Rotan. He received his degree at Texas Tech in 1956, and Bachelor of Divinity from Vanderbilt University in 1959. While attending Vanderbilt, he served as pastor of the Pennington Bend Methodist Church in Nashville, Tenn.

The Rev. Ford was born in Amarillo, March 31, 1934, and in 1961 he married the former Elizabeth Rhue Lynch. They have two girls, Carolyn Diane, 5, and Sarah Elaine, 3. They reside at 1506 11th Place.

The Rev. Ford has served as secretary and vice-chairman of the Board of Social Concerns in the Northwest Texas Conference, and is presently serving as secretary of the Conference Board of the Ministry.

As to his work here and what he would like to accomplish at Wesley, the Rev. Ford says, "The main goal for Wesley, as I see it, is to become a family in which the joys, dreams, and events of life can be celebrated within the church, as well as the sorrows, frustrations, anxieties and hurts of the family can be ministered to in and by the church. Also, to begin to get a wider vision of Wesley's responsibility, not only in the community, but of its responsibility in the total mission of the Church in the world."

Big Business Is Chary In Gifts To Colleges

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — It was planned as a largely ceremonial affair by educators and industrialists to encourage donations to the nation's most prestigious private universities. The institutions of business and education needed each other, it was said. And since big business had the money and the universities needed it badly, wasn't it logical that ideas and money should be exchanged?

Assembled at the University Club were leaders of some great American universities: Harvard, Chicago, Stanford, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cornell, the University of Pennsylvania.

Joining them were some elite of American industry, many of them members or sympathizers of the Committee for Corporate Support of American Universities. The luncheon would promote the need for contributions, which have fallen off.

MOST NEEDED

The funds needed most, said a booklet planned but not yet published, were those that permitted the universities to establish their own priorities — unrestricted, discretionary funds, rather than those rigidly specified.

Featured speaker was David Packard, cofounder of the giant Hewlett-Packard scientific instruments company, former deputy defense secretary under President Nixon, former Stanford trustee, long-time friend of education.

"I recognize that for the university, unrestricted money is most valuable," he said after the prime steaks were consumed. "It does not necessarily follow, however, that unrestricted money, used as it has been used in the interest of the corporation."

Silence was deep as he explained that times have changed. Almost every college board today must have representatives of students, faculty, alumni, ethnic groups and the like, he said.

"Moreover, much of the power has gone to the faculty, and too often faculty decisions are determined by a militant minority of the faculty."

Because of this and other reasons, he said, "I believe the case for a corporation giving unrestricted funds to a private university can no longer be supported." Contributions should continue, he said, but with strings attached.

In a series of rhetorical questions he presented some reasons. "Is kicking ROTC programs off the campus the kind of leadership we need? Is prohibiting business from recruiting ... the kind of leadership we need?"

Some of the educators looked

Dr. O'Brien Highlights Senior Day

"As long as memory lasts, I shall recall with deep appreciation last Sunday and what happened in the services of the First Baptist Church," wrote Dr. P. D. (Dick) O'Brien of his visit here for Senior Citizen's Day.

"This must have been a foretaste of heaven ... we shall be in continuous reunion," he added. "As I looked over the congregation there was warm joy, yet deep sorrow when I recalled the many who had gone to be with the Lord." There were many from out-of-town who came for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Elliott, Eastland, recalled that Dr. O'Brien had baptized both them and had addressed their high school graduating class over 50 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cave, Stanton, married by Dr. O'Brien, 33 years ago, were on hand. So was Louis Stewart, who had sent Dr. O'Brien a remembrance on the anniversary of his conversion 59 years ago. One of the highlights was recognition of Mrs. Natstick, whose 79 years membership was the longest, (and who sent the traditional red rose for her late husband) but only slightly more than Mrs. Beatrice Mittel.

Order Reversed

The order of services for Kentwood Methodist Church were reversed in a story last week.

The morning worship is at 9 o'clock, followed by Sunday School at 10:15 a.m., reminded the Rev. Fred Witta, pastor. Sometime during the month a schedule of youth and evening services may be announced, and on the fourth Sunday of November there will be a family covered dish affair.

grim. Packard sounded bitter. "Should these universities serve as havens for radicals who want to destroy the free enterprise system? Should students be taught that American corporations are evil ...?"

DEFENDS FREEDOMS

Ceremony became controversial. Derek C. Bok, Harvard president, rose to defend the freedom of a great university must preserve even, he said, at the cost of tolerating distasteful, unconstructive behavior.

"Understandably you should give in self-interest," he said, but he urged the executives to interpret self-interest broadly.

"The great universities, he said, were a national asset. Their research and scholarship were basic to business and the economy, to the balance of payments, to the nation's competitive position, to health and welfare, to culture.

"The difference between vitality and stagnation in these leading centers of research is only a few million a year," he said. "But to let them stagnate may prove to be hundreds of times greater."

He concluded: "The country is challenged. Its vitality depends on this research. So, we ask you to appreciate the stage in society you have."

The more influential of the two views will be established by the flow of future contributions, but a costly legacy of bitterness remains from the days of campus turmoil. Contributions still aren't back to where they were five years ago.

Hearing Called For Fireman

HOUSTON (AP) — A Civil Service Commission hearing has been set for a Houston fireman who was suspended for 10 days for referring to Mayor Louie Welch as "Screw Louie."

Civil Service Director H. S. Lanier said Wednesday a hearing for William E. Love, 24, has been tentatively set for Nov. 1.

Leon Hirsch, Love's American Civil Liberties Union lawyer, appealed for the hearing saying Love's suspension was in direct violation of his constitutional guarantee of right to free speech.

Love was suspended Oct. 14 by Acting Fire Chief J. M. Honea for referring to Welch in what Honea called a "derogatory, offensive manner."

Love made the "Screw Louie" reference in a letter to Councilman Larry McKaskle. In the letter Love protested that the city is giving a higher pay raise to police officers than to its firemen.

Tech, SMU Set Crucial Struggle

By The Associated Press Family feud holds the spotlight in Southwest Conference football this weekend and the largest sparks are apt to fly from the Texas Tech-Southern Methodist Confrontation in Lubbock.

Texas A&M is fresh from a 35-17 whipping of TCU. Baylor had two weeks to get ready for the game. Both clubs have lost a conference game so it's another do-or-die deal.

It's a little early to be looking ahead to the Cotton Bowl but we progressive writers do that sort of thing a lot.

Texas, of course, has the inside track as far as the Southwest Conference entry in the Dallas classic is concerned, but the visiting team is still completely undecided.

McCollum couldn't remember his number of wins while in Lamesa though it was "well over a hundred. But I remember every one of my 27 losses," he said.

Tors Seeking Seventh Win

LAMESA — The Lamesa Golden Tors, ranked fourth among the state's class AAA teams are expected to keep rolling towards a District 3-AAA title tonight when they host Brownfield's Cubs.

Lamesa rates a huge favorite to tag over the Cubs with the likes of Kent McCurley, Melvin Robinson and Kyle White in the lineup. McCurley is the runaway scoring leader in the loop with 90 points in 16 touchdowns, and Robinson is a rushing stalwart who has also chipped in six touchdowns. White quarterbacks the squad.

The Tors are 6-0 on the year and 2-0 in league action, while Brownfield stands 4-3 and 1-2. In other 3-AAA play tonight, Lubbock Estacado visits Sweetwater with hopes of keeping its district slate clean.

In a surprise finish Thursday night, Lake View nudged Dunbar 17-14 for its first victory of the year.

Steer CC Team Runs

The Big Spring Steer cross country team will compete in the San Angelo Invitational meet Saturday at 10:30 a.m. on Gun Club Road in San Angelo.

Ricky McCromick, Terry Ramsey, Sam Dodson, Loy Long and Ralph Torres will be the varsity entries, while Bobby Dumuzliski, Jerry Leonard, Pedro Gomez and David White make up the JV squad.

Last week, at the South Plains College Invitational in Levelland, McCormick finished second and missed the school record by a second as he legged a 9:46. Ramsey was 15th in 10:21, Dodson ran 10:50, Crow had a 10:58 and Long managed an 11:26. The Steers finished seventh out of 12 teams.

MUSTANG MOVERS — Steve Bodine (30) gets ready to follow the blocking of backfield mate Victor Rodriguez as the Sands Mustangs prepare for Hawley's Bearcats in Dist. 3-B action tonight in Ackerly. Game time is 7:30 p.m. as the Ponies try to end a five-game losing streak.

Big Tilts Set In Dist. 5-4A

Midland and San Angelo try to decide who's No. 1 for the time being, and Big Spring and Midland Lee try to get in the win column in Dist. 5-AAAA action tonight.

The Midland-SA tilt is the top battle in the state this weekend, as the Bobcats go into the match ranked No. 1 and Midland stands fifth in the state. Both teams carry unbeaten records into the clash, as San Angelo stands 6-0 and Midland is 5-0-1.

Neither Big Spring or Lee have won in three 5-AAAA outings, but both have come close enough that tonight's game won't be a standard battle of cellar people.

And Dave Edwards — "The only way to survive is to win. Unless you want to lead a miserable life, you better win." Always like to give the fans a little added insight into their heroes, you know.

Stanton Buffs Looking For 7-AA Win Tonight

STANTON — A battered Stanton Buffalo squad seeks its first Dist. 7-AA victory at home tonight in a 7:30 p.m. league tilt with the Crane Golden Cranes.

Crane, though lagging behind in the loop with a 1-4-1 mark, rates a slight favorite tag for this game, mainly because the Buffs find themselves down to just 15 players on the varsity roster after rugged league-opening tilts with Reagan County and Coahoma.

The Cranes' lone victory this year came against Van Horn, and the team looked like a much-improved unit during a narrow loss to Class AAA power Odessa two weeks ago. But McCamey embarrassed the Cranes 48-0 last week in the loop opener for both teams, and Crane continues to be the mystery team in the district. Game counts on quarterback Bobby Rogers to direct an offensive thrust, while halfback McGhee and end Billy Joe Neal are other important people.

In ringing up a 4-3 record the Buffs have averaged 234 yards per game on offense, compared to 156 for Crane. But injuries hit the already thin Buffalo ranks last week, and it looks like the offense might suffer.

Sophomore fullback Elvin Brown is the healthiest of the backfield group, as Mark Eiland continues to be hounded by injuries and Mitchell Irvin is out for the rest of the year with a broken leg. Bill Howard will operate at quarterback.

The Buffaloes will be out to end a three-game losing streak after opening the season with four straight wins.

Hawks, Lobos To Scrimmage

ALPINE — The Howard County Jayhawks visit here today for their final scrimmage session prior to the 1973-74 season, as they take on the Sul Ross Lobos in game-type action.

The Jayhawk regulars will meet Sul Ross' varsity this afternoon in opening action, and tonight the two freshman groups will meet. Another game will pit the starters Saturday morning.

Coach Harold Wilder's Hawks completed their fourth scrimmage Tuesday in Abilene against Ranger Junior College, and came out on top in each of the three 20-minute sessions played.

In the opening half, featuring both schools' starting lineups, HCJC won 52-38, and in the second half, with both teams using a full court press, the Hawks overcame 68-52. The third session pitted the freshman group, and the Hawks came out on top 46-45.

Tech, SMU Set Crucial Struggle

By The Associated Press Family feud holds the spotlight in Southwest Conference football this weekend and the largest sparks are apt to fly from the Texas Tech-Southern Methodist Confrontation in Lubbock.

It's homecoming for the Red Raiders, who can't afford another SWC loss on their record if they expect to spend New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl.

Tech lost to defending champion Texas and it got the Red Raiders so hot they knocked off nationally ranked teams—Oklahoma State and Arizona—on back-to-back weekends.

Southern Methodist, aside from Texas, is the only SWC club without a league loss. "SMU is as good a team as we have played... they are equal to Texas," said Tech coach Jim Carlen. "They have an outstanding offense and a real good front seven on defense."

Carlen said freshman quarterback Ricky Wesson "may end up being a better Wishbone quarterback than Keith Bobo."

Bobo, a senior, suffered a shoulder separation against Rice last Saturday and will be lost at least two weeks.

Asked if he thought Tech would try to put up a nine-man front to force the inexperienced Wesson to pass, Carlen said, "I wish I thought we could jam Wayne Morris, Alvin Maxson and Wesson up."

Other SWC games find Texas A&M hosting Baylor while Texas entertains Rice at Memorial Stadium.

Fuel Conservation

The General Services Administration is the federal government's chief purchasing agent and it is setting a good example on fuel conservation. This fiscal year the GSA is buying 8,600 automobiles as replacements in a 65,000-car fleet. Of the 8,600 cars, 2,600 will be smaller models. And most of the standard autos will have smaller engines.

"It's the first small step in what we hope will be a major trend toward buying smaller cars," said Michael J. Timbers, commissioner in charge of GSA's Federal Supply Division.

With fuel shortages promising to get worse, the GSA example could be important for other government departments. All told, government civilian vehicles burn about 300 million gallons of gas while traveling three billion miles a year, according to the Wall Street Journal.

Since the government may be regulating fuel allocations and possibly rationing, it should set the mark in fuel conservation. GSA Administrator Arthur Sampson already has the idea. He spurned his allotted limousine for a small economy car. Perhaps the general public has something of the same idea, for the latest reports indicate a lagging automobile market for the first time this year. The case: Not enough small cars, say the dealers. Some of the makers appear to have

Underlying Sober Truth

Only those directly concerned know the full details of what prompted the military alert ordered by the Pentagon. Sen. Henry Jackson said it first was the result of what he described as "brutal" language of a Russian communique threatening intervention if the U.S. did not engage in the ceasefire enforcement. (This might be interpreted that Russia was telling the U.S. to make Israel stop.) Ostensibly the move was to have a bristling effect — to let Russia know that it did not have a free hand and that any intervention by it would be of utmost seriousness. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, who was doing most of the speaking guessed wrong on this score. Undoubtedly, a general trend will have some influence upon fuel demands. But this is not all the answer. Fuel economy must be on many fronts — including home and business heating, power consumption, etc.

and who certainly must be considered the source of advice to the President in this matter, immediately put out statements saying the U.S. did not want or expect confrontation with Russia, but he did not deny that he regarded the Russian position as less than critical. Probably the move is one in the great chess game of international power politics, but whatever, it is better to be safe than sorry. Moreover, it may impress upon the public the sober truth that this Mid-East war is not just Arabia and Jews indulging in a periodic donnybrook. It could involve the world.

Fine Distinction

Around The Rim

John Edwards

District Attorney Bob Moore notes the new Texas Penal Code, which becomes effective Jan. 1, makes theft of most property worth between $20 and $200 a class A misdemeanor.

But, if the property stolen is one or more head of livestock or any part of the carcass, the crime is rated a third-degree felony.

OTHER EXCEPTIONS are any property taken from a corpse or grave and cases involving defendants previously convicted two or more times for any grade of theft.

Destruction of private property valued at between $20 and $200 will be a class A felony. Severity of the offense increases to a third degree felony if the amount of damage is between $200 and $10,000.

In cases involving "impairment or interruption" of public communications, transportation or some utilities or breaking livestock, hurting livestock or cutting fences for livestock, the legislature deems the offense a third degree felony or worse regardless of the amount of loss estimated.

THE "BLACK BOOKS" of state laws contain an article listing some county brands, which may be used in addition to private ranch brands.

In Howard County, the county brand is H.R.; in Martin, M.A.; in Borden, B.D.; and in Mitchell, M.H. No county brands for Glasscock or Sterling Counties were seen.

Howard County Judge A. G. Mitchell, also a rancher, knew of no one who uses county brands any way. He noted his brand, for example, is unique.

It's comforting to know that the Midland-Odessa Air Terminal relies on the honor system for baggage, i.e. "self-check" baggage control. If all those Midland policemen weren't smoking and jolting all night with the security girl at the passenger lounge, I wouldn't have felt safe.

Who's Troy Cory?

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I destroyed some property of other people. If I sent them some money, would it help to erase the sin? I want to be right in God's sight.

First, let me explain the nature of a right relationship with God. In the Old Testament, offerings were brought to God for a variety of reasons, but they were never acceptable as mere offerings. Rather, they were acceptable only as the expression of the man himself, and heart toward God. If something were short circuited in his horizontal relationship with his fellowmen, the vertical relationship with God was also violated.

Christ made all this plain in the Sermon on the Mount. He declared that so important was the matter of reconciliation with an injured party, that even the holiest actions must be put off for that. See Matthew 5:23, 24.

You would seem to have two obligations. First, to the person you wronged. Make what restitution you can, and do it cheerfully with a sense of real repentance. This, however, will not "erase" the sin.

That comes in the second step of asking God for forgiveness. We have the promise of 1 John Chapter 1, that if we confess our sins He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. This not only "erases" our wrongs, but it accomplishes a sort of total obliteration of the past. God says that He doesn't even remember them anymore. And if He doesn't, neither should we.

Wear Sweaters

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Buy sweaters! That is the cheerful advice from White House domestic counselor Melvin R. Laird on how to beat the oil shortage. It comes after months of bumbling and hesitation on how to meet any energy shortage plainly visible for at least two or three years.

GASOLINE PRICES are moving up and will go higher. Now the threat of an increase in the cost of natural gas hitting millions of households across the country is the storm center of a fierce struggle.

The Administration and the big oil companies that control most of the gas are calling for complete deregulation, taking away the authority of the Federal Power Commission to put a brake on prices the major producers can charge. The argument backed by oil company scare propaganda on the energy shortage is that deregulation will make it possible to bring in new gas reserves, thanks to larger earnings.

The challenge comes from Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III of Illinois. He proposes to deregulate all but the 70 largest producers out of the total of 4,700 in the industry. With the lid entirely off, Stevenson contends, the Big Four would come in for $8 billion in windfall profits in a relatively few years. For the consumer it could mean a rise from the average price of 24 cents a unit to 75 to 80 cents. The householders' bill would be doubled and then some in short order.

THE IMPACT of this is measured against the fact that nearly one-third of all energy uses are derived from natural gas. The cost to industry would zoom and that cost would inevitably be passed on to the consumer. For all the pious platitudes about controlling inflation here is a primary source with the blessing of an Administration putting out the platitudes.

One indication that the votes may be there for passage of the Stevenson proposal is the volume of propaganda from the oil companies and the intensity of the lobbying on Capitol Hill. Actually, the Stevenson bill calls for modified and streamlined regulation of the big producers. The Senator contends this could make for quicker action and be an insurance against windfall profits.

THE BIG boys have powerful friends on The Hill. Chief among them is Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, who has had the candor to describe himself as the darling of the oil industry. As chairman of the Finance Committee, he wields great influence on all matters concerned with business and industry. Long opposes the Stevenson bill.

THE HOUSE has just passed a sweeping measure calling for allocation not only of natural gas and propane but of crude oil, gasoline and virtually all petroleum products. The Nixon energy czar, former Colorado Gov. John A. Love, came out against such board regulation. He argues that only a limited allocation such as he put into effect for heating and diesel fuels can be workable.

LAST SUMMER Love's office considered imposing a 10-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax, which would have meant a 25 per cent price increase. That was abandoned because of the obvious inequity. Now task forces are considering the possibility of a tax on horsepower or on the weight of a car. That could put a limit on the gas guzzlers.

Can't Move Home, So . . .

LONDON (AP) — Robert Auld, 35-year-old lawyer, couldn't move his home out of the line of the 12th hole of the public golf course at Moor Park, near London.

So the local council have agreed to close the hole until it is realigned so that golfers tee off in the opposite direction.

Since Auld, his wife and two young children moved into the house a year ago they've been in the front line. When two windows were shattered in five days, Auld threatened to seek an injunction in the courts.

How To Fight Boredom

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk musings of a Pavement Plato:

So you are one among the half of the world's population who suffer from chronic boredom.

And you want to do something about it? Well, it isn't an easy problem to solve, but perhaps we can offer a few suggestions.

First, it is necessary to find out what is causing your boredom and, second, to consider means of getting rid of it.

Perhaps the culprit is your hobby. Oddly enough, the hobbies that people take up to add another interest to their lives often become a curse in time. I know of a fellow who took up stamp collecting for a hobby on the advice of his psychiatrist. Soon he hated stamps so much that he became bilious at the sight of a stamped envelope, and he had to retire from business.

Then he went to a chiropractor, who advised him to take up girl watching as a hobby, as it would provide good exercise for his arthritic neck. My friend did this and says he hasn't had a moment of boredom since, except during a few weekend bizzards when he wasn't able to leave the house.

Another common but unrecognized cause of boredom, particularly in America, is pseudo culture. We are bombarded to mental numbness by too many pompous after-dinner speakers, lecturers, and literary lions, confused by esoteric book critics, religious cultists, gurus, famous television personalities and professional athletic freaks.

Perhaps those feelings would go away if we spent more time sitting on park benches debating with the squirrels or pigeons or hanging around an old-fashioned pool hall listening to the snappy chatter of the dudes gathered there.

Marriage is blamed by some cowardly husbands for their boredom. I believe wives are the most interesting of all conversationalists. If a man is bored by a wife's conversation, I feel, he should get up and leave her and go home and listen to his own wife for a change. He might find her conversation far less boring. Anyway, he's always safer in his own home.

Finally, we come to the crux of the whole problem of boredom. This is that fact that most people are bored, not by other people or other things, but by themselves.

Yes, it is likely that you — bright, warm-hearted, intelligent, highly talented little old you — are the architect and chief source of your own boredom.

And if you are boring yourself, the chances are that you are boring most of those around you. Think that over. Then do something. Anything that's a change. Have your face lifted, have your heart lifted, have your soul lifted. Change in bright ways. Be new to yourself, and you'll be new to others.

But, above all, get rid of self pity. For it is the people who feel sorry for themselves who sit on the loneliest thrones in the kingdom of boredom. Yaw-w-w-w-w-w-w-w!

Why Drops Are Used

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Why do some doctors put drops in the eyes before an examination of glasses and others do not? With a child is the child's age considered? What is the solution called? With the eyes changed by the drops is the test accurate? Are dark glasses a help following the test? — M.R.

The "drops" are myriatic drugs, of which there are several varieties — "myriatic" meaning that they dilate the pupils of the eyes.

Dilation of the pupils is the only effect they have, so you cannot say that the eyes are "changed."

Your pupils, of course, dilate or contract depending on how bright the light is. So when the examining doctor wants to see inside your eyes, to inspect the retina at the back of the eyeball, he shines a light so he can see.

But the light causes your pupils to contract so he can't see as well. Hence the use of drops because they make it a little easier on the patient, and help the doctor make a more accurate diagnosis. Dilating the pupil is avoided if the patient has glaucoma, however.

Use of drops is especially useful with children because it is sometimes difficult to get their cooperation.

The drops are important when it is necessary to examine the interior of the eyes; they are not required if fitting new glasses is all that is to be done.

Dark glasses are helpful after an examination because the pupils remain dilated for from one to several hours, causing intolerance to bright light and blurred vision.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries. Is drinking water that goes through a water softener harmful? My doctor said no, but I read an article that said no one should drink it. — A.M.U.

It depends to some extent on the method used in softening the water. If the process increases the amount of sodium, then patients who are on a low-sodium diet should not drink it. But since your doctor said you have no need to avoid it, I don't see anything to argue about.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband, age 66, has developed a very annoying habit of twirling his feet around and round and wiggling his toes as we sit reading and looking at TV.

These incessant movements are very disturbing to me. Is this some kind of tic, or is it some physical spasm?

He stops when I call his attention to it, but in no time the merry-go-round starts again. Oh, boy! — Mrs. A.R.H.

If your husband's legs are crossed for any length of time, it will be that he is shutting off his circulation to the lower legs and the twirling and wiggling is merely a subconscious or conscious effort to restore it.

Maybe his chair is uncomfortable; maybe a foot stool would help.

The Old And New

John Cuniff

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans live in a world of the future when they can, planning, anticipating, dreaming — of the vacation to come, of the pay raise due, the new car, the new house, the better life.

This has long been the way of people who had reason to expect that over the long run they would make real material progress.

The approach can help make current existence bearable and permit one to forget the past. And that is what many Americans of all levels are doing. They are writing off 1973, and not just because the summer vacation season is over.

The economic big leap forward that so many people had planned was tripped up. The financial plans of ordinary citizens and of George P. Shultz, the Treasury secretary, were clobbered.

High interest rates put an end to the housing dream. Rising prices absorbed pay raises. Shortages destroyed the American belief of plenty of everything for everyone.

Most glaringly, the optimistic forecasts that had consistently been right were shown to be wrong.

Now, after the "terrible drama" of August, as Shultz described the 5.8 per cent rise in wholesale prices, most Americans realize that their instinctive and negative suspicions were more believable than governmental positive thinking.

The belief that the future holds more promise than the present is not as firmly held as before, and consumer surveys show conclusively that this is so.

A pay raise, for example, does not necessarily mean that a working man can put more food on his table. He may be able to afford it, but might not find it. He might find a house, but he also might find it priced $10,000 more than it was a year earlier.

Americans who could afford to travel abroad were shocked at how little their dollar would buy. Those who stayed home were amazed at the throngs of big-spending foreign tourists from Europe and Japan. Americans no longer were unique in their wealth.

Those who practiced thrift, another honored ideal, discovered they were penalized. Money in the bank at 5 per cent sometimes decreased in buying power after the costs of inflation and taxes were deducted.

Faith in government itself was diminished by events. No greater intervention in the private economy was attempted in recent years; no greater failure in influencing the economy could easily be recalled.

And the remaining years of this decade are almost certain to be heirs to this continued government intervention in what had been considered private affairs.

Status Symbol

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — In 17th-century England you always knew where you stood even when you were sitting down. The Goddard Co.'s James Thornton, consultant on silver care to the royal palace of Great Britain, points out that the salt cellar was the social barometer of the table. If you sat below it you were a nonentity; if you were seated between it and the head of the table your status was secure — and undoubted credit rating as well.

Nowadays collecting old salts, especially silver ones, can be a costly hobby. Eighteen-century examples go from $1,500 to $8,000 a pair.

Harey Ending

SLOUGH, England (AP) — A young couple courting in tall grass was shot by a farm worker who said he thought they were a rabbit.

"I saw a white patch moving in the grass," said Raphaela Dartenza, who blasted the pair with both barrels of his shotgun. They were taken to a hospital by a passing motorist.

Letters To Editor

Dear Sirs:

In behalf of the Howard County Ministers Fellowship as well as all of the citizens of Big Spring, I would like to express our appreciation for the tremendous job which you did in promoting the "Big Spring Bible Fund" for the 1973-1974 school year. Because of your hard work and support of this project, we have now been assured that the "Bible Class" will again be offered both semesters of this school year. This year's response to the need for funds to continue our Bible Class in the high school was the greatest response received in recent years.

Therefore in behalf of all who will benefit from having this course taught in our High School, we want to say "Thanks" to the staff of the Big Spring Herald.

Sincerely yours,
CARROLL C. KOHL
Secretary, Howard County
Ministers Fellowship

Dear Editor:

I know that all thinking people of our nation are concerned about the state of this great land. Many, if not most, have fixed opinions as to what should be done. Let me clarify the basic problem that has brought about the firing of Mr. Cox.

Do the courts have the right to require the President to turn over private tape recordings made without the knowledge of most of the participants in the White House. If they ask for these tapes, must the President hand them over? Obviously many in the news media believe that he must.

If we apply this same principle to all the newsmen who records an interview with a confidential source can be required to produce that recording or be punished. (He cannot be impeached.) Some newsmen have gone to jail to protect their sources and their private notes and recordings. Why should news sources be more protected than private conversations in the White House? Lawyers and ministers could be required to give private notes and recordings with those who come to them for help. I do not believe that we are wanting this extension of court power over everyone.

We must not confuse the stand for this principle as evidence of guilt or a cover-up. We need men who stand for principles. Some men want secrecy in Massachusetts when it helps them and disclosure in Washington when they think it will help them.

Sincerely,
COLLYNS MOORE, JR.
403 Westover.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"You shall go out in joy, and be led forth in peace." (Isiah 55:12)

No Sex Life

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for nearly 20 years. We have three well-adjusted children, a lovely home, and an excellent income. We love and respect each other, have a good social life, and just about everything one could ask for. What's our problem? Our sex lives. We have none.

My wife was a virgin when I married her, and I had very little experience for a 22-year-old college graduate. I know I never really satisfied her, but she never complained. I felt like a failure, so I just quit trying. I've never cheated on my wife and I never will. Occasionally one of us will initiate some foreplay because we are both very affectionate, but it always ends in humiliation for me. She says it's not important to her and I shouldn't worry about it, but I do. I know I'm cheating her. And I'm cheating myself, too, because I hear that some couples in their 60s enjoy sex. Don't suggest psychiatry. I've had two years of that and got nowhere. What do you say?

MISSING SOMETHING DEAR MISSING: If you love each other and are properly motivated, there IS hope. If you can afford to spend $2,500 and 10 days to two weeks in St. Louis at the Masters and Johnson Clinic, I recommend it. They are specialists in sexual dysfunction, and have done a remarkable job of rehabilitating couples after everything else (including psychiatry) has failed. Your visit there will be strictly confidential.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 23-year-old divorcee with a four-year-old daughter. People tell me I'm very attractive and have a good personality. I'm a receptionist, meet many men, and get invited out often.

Larry is 46; he was married when he was 17, but it was annulled. He married again at 21; that lasted a year. Later he married a divorcee and they stayed married for 15 years. He doesn't look his age and I find him very exciting. We date four or five nights a week. He loves sports, and we see all the baseball, football, hockey, and basketball games. We have a great time together, and I keep thinking how marvelous it would be to be married to him.

That's the problem. Larry says marriage is the kiss of death to romance. Is he right? Am I a hopeless romantic? He's getting all the privileges of marriage with none of the responsibilities. I know he cares for me, but how can I get him to marry me? Is an ultimatum the answer?

WANTS MARRIAGE DEAR WANTS: Don't give him an ultimatum unless you're prepared to lose him. At least he's honest and isn't leading you on. If it's marriage you want, look for a man who's marriageable. Larry isn't.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

War Critic's Desperation Is Cited In Trial

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The witnesses are all for the defense. The subject is death — one here and thousands in Vietnam.

Judicial experts say there never has been a court hearing like it.

For the past two weeks, witnesses have testified in the defense of admitted bomber Karleton Armstrong and against U.S. conduct of the Indochina war.

Armstrong, 27, has pleaded guilty to arson and second-degree murder in the 1970 bombing of the Army Mathematics Research Center.

KILLED ONE
The bombing, the last major act of violence in this once protest-prone community of 170,000, killed Robert Fassnacht, 33, a researcher. He was in the center when the pre-dawn explosion rocked the campus.

Armstrong originally was charged with first-degree murder. But when he agreed to plead guilty to the lesser charge the court agreed to permit a "mitigation" hearing under which the defense could present witnesses and arguments that might shorten his sentence.

The sentencing is expected to come at the end of the hearing, or shortly thereafter.

Witnesses, including antiwar spokesmen Philip Berrigan, Pentagon papers defendants Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony J. Russo, and former U. S. Sen. Ernest Gruening of Alaska, have testified that Armstrong's act — while wrong — pales in comparison with the callous deaths of thousands in the Vietnam war.

"One must understand the desperation of a Karleton Armstrong," Ellsberg testified via a tape-recording which was admitted in evidence.

"Irrelevant and immaterial," Assistant State Atty. Gen. Michael Zaleski contended, as he has repeatedly during defense attempts to compare the Armstrong act and the conduct of the war.

MEANS TO END
Armstrong has said that Fassnacht's death was accidental and that he saw the explosion as a means of putting a crimp in the war effort.

The bomb was to have gone off five minutes after a telephone warning to police about the impending explosion, Armstrong told an interviewer. Instead, the bomb went off in three minutes.

"When I heard that Fassnacht was killed it was really a crushing moment," Armstrong recalled. "I think I was more shocked than anyone else."

The state is demanding the maximum 25-year sentence.

"If the state recommends 25 years and Karl gets it, then we lose," said one of the defense attorneys, Melvin Greenberg. "If Karl gets a low term, we win."

William Kunstler, who was a defense attorney for the Chicago 7 and is a vocal critic of the Vietnam war, said, "I'm very sorry about the death, but so be it. It was an accidental death compared to all the intentional deaths committed by the United States in Southeast Asia."

Armstrong and three others still sought in the case vanished after the explosion on the morning of Aug. 24, 1970.

Fumes Blamed On Faulty Boiler
HOUSTON (AP) — About 27 persons were treated for fume inhalation Thursday after they became ill at a cafeteria.

John Davis, supervisor at Wyatt's Cafeteria on South Post Oak Road, said it appeared the fumes came from a faulty boiler.

Nineteen of those taken to hospitals were Wyatt employees. The others were part of a 20-member bridge club that meets at the cafeteria.

All were treated at hospitals and released.

Foubister Named Field Secretary

Col. Gordon A. Foubister, Texas divisional commander of The Salvation Army, will assume a new appointment in Chicago, Ill., as field secretary of the Army's Central Territory Nov. 1.

As field secretary, Col. Foubister will be the third-highest ranking officer in the territory, which is composed of 11 divisions in as many northern and midwestern states. He will be responsible for welfare programs and corps activities.

Since Col. Foubister, a fourth-generation Salvation Army Officer, assumed command of the Texas Division July 1, 1970, the Dallas $1,500,000 capital campaign, the largest ever completed by The Salvation Army in Texas, was carried out. In San Antonio, the purchase of the Peacock Community Service Center stands as the most significant property acquisition in the history of the division.

Also during his term new Salvation Army facilities were built at McAllen, San Angelo, Harlingen, Amarillo, Houston, Fort Worth, Sherman, Freeport and other cities.

Conspiracy Charge Made

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police disclosed today the arrests of 27 alleged guerrillas trained in North Korea and charged with conspiracy to overthrow the government.

A statement identified those in custody as members of the Armed Revolutionary Movement (MAR), one of the original such groups in Mexico and active the past three years.

They also were charged with bank robberies in more than five states and were linked to other terrorist groups, including one in Guadalajara believed responsible for recent kidnappings there.

Police did not say when or where the arrests were made.

Authorities said they were linked to the 23rd of September movement in Guadalajara, blamed for the kidnaping of the U.S. consul in Guadalajara, Terrance G. Leonard, last May and the abductions earlier this month of British honorary Consul Anthony Duncan Williams and industrialist Fernando Aranguren, who was slain.

MAR has been blamed since 1971 by police for assaults and bank robberies in Mexico City and other areas.

Lounge Robbed Of Drinks, Cash

City police noticed a car pull away from Carl's Lounge, the former Park Inn Lounge, without lights and hurriedly leave the scene at 3:30 a.m. today.

Further investigation revealed that the door of the lounge had been pried open and the facility burglarized of seven cases of beer, five cases of soft drinks and around $30 in cash from the nickelodeon for a total of about $94.

Carl Schwab, owner, was notified and helped determine the extent of the damage.

Other theft and burglary reports today included a rifled stamp machine at the HJCM men's dormitory, an $84 calculator stolen from Western Auto, a $449 colored television taken from 508 Nolan, and $80 in cash taken from behind a picture frame at 907 S. Runnels.

For the third time in a week, somebody backed into a garage and left the scene. C. E. Campbell at 2511 Fisher heard somebody crash into his garage door at 4:15 a.m. and heard a car hastily drive away. Damage was estimated at $286.

El Paso-Juarez System Scheduled To Be Built

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Mexican investors say they expect construction to start in February on a monorail system linking El Paso and Juarez, across the Rio Grande in Mexico, spokesman said Thursday.

Roberto Ortiz-Reynal, a former Chihuahua City mayor who is vice president of his country's group in the joint venture, said it will be the first such transportation system in Latin America and possibly the first in the world to serve two nations.

Stephen Kent, president of International Monorail Corp.—the U.S. half of the undertaking, said he expected the project to cost $8 million to $10 million.

Ortiz-Reynal told newsmen his company—Monoriel International S.A., may spend up to $30 million on the system south of the border.

He said cars will travel the 1.5-miles between the central business districts in 2½ to 3 minutes.

El Paso Mayor Fred Hervey said the monorail will be a tourist attraction complementing a shutdown streetcar line between El Paso and Juarez, adding that he doubted it would interfere with plans to revive the streetcar operation.

Striking collectors at an international bridge barricaded trucks and halted the streetcars last summer when the line and bridge both were owned by El Paso City Lines, a private firm. The city of El Paso since purchased the unique trolley line and expects to start the cars running again.

"They won't be able to operate this monorail at the same prices," Hervey said. "It won't accomplish the task of bringing the workers of Juarez over here. There will be a place for homes into compliance."

both operations. Hervey said new bridges over the Rio Grande and terminals in each city will be constructed as part of the monorail project.

Kent estimated construction will require 18 to 24 months. Each of the monorail cars will carry 20 to 24 passengers and they will depart at intervals of 30 to 60 seconds. Kent said fares of 25 to 50 cents will be charged, depending on the rate of inflation when the first runs begin.

It has taken several years to obtain necessary authorization from the governments of the two nations and Mexico now has granted a 50-year permit, Kent said.

Roloff Ordered To Show Cause

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A hearing on a previous order to shut down evangelist Lester Roloff's two South Texas child care institutions was scheduled today before District Court Judge Walter Dunham.

The hearing is for Roloff Evangelistic Enterprises and Harmon Oxford, director of the Anchor Home for Boys at Zapata, to show cause why they should not be judged in contempt of court.

The state alleges that Roloff is operating the Rebekah School for Girls near here and the Anchor home in violation of Dunham's order last August to close the schools down if state licensing requirements are not met.

Roloff has said he "can't compromise" over bringing the homes into compliance.

IF ARABIAN OIL IMPORTS STOPPED English Industry Would Take Devastating Blow

LONDON (AP) — If all Britain's 12 million cars stopped dead for a year, the oil saved would make little difference in the face of a sustained Arab cutback of fuel supplies.

Eventually, experts concede, much of British industry might have to shut down. Homes, schools and offices would go largely without heat. Air transport, shipping and most of the nation's trains could come to a halt.

Such is the potential stranglehold Arab oil holds over the nations of Western Europe. Together they rely on the Middle East and North Africa for some 80 per cent of their oil supplies.

The United States, which gets only 6 per cent of its oil from the Middle East, has worried about possible shortages of heating fuels or perhaps gasoline rationing. This would be only the beginning in Western Europe.

In Britain, for example, coupons to ration gasoline are printed and ready for distribution. If the crunch comes they would be little help. All the cars in Britain use only 13 million tons of oil a year and the country now imports annually some 70 million tons of oil from the Middle East.

Despite the potential threat, an Associated Press survey shows European governments are stressing for the time being that the short-term supply outlook is still fairly good. Britain now has 79 days of oil supplies in reserve and another 30 days supply in tankers on the way, Trade and Industry Minister Peter Walker said. "We are now in a position to meet requirements for some months ahead if there were an emergency," he told parliament.

Walker said the government has plans to limit exports of fuels, to urge public restraint in the use of fuels, and eventually to ration. Many other West European governments, with two or three months supply of oil in reserve, are thinking on the same lines.

There is little the Europeans can do to make up the losses from the announced Arab intention to cut back oil production by 5 per cent a month in support of Arab war aims against Israel. No other source of oil or other form of energy is available now to replace Arab supplies.

European oil companies, like their American counterparts, are heavily committed to drilling efforts elsewhere. Some 95 per cent of all oil company explorations for new sources of supply are now outside the Middle East, in places like the North Sea, Indonesia, Nigeria and many others.

Subway Crash Injures Many

NEW YORK (AP) — A Bronx subway accident sent 115 people to hospitals Thursday night for treatment of smoke inhalation and bruises. It occurred when a train halted by a fire was bumped by another train, authorities said.

Passengers said the power was cut. The darkness, heavy smoke and injuries from the impact combined to create general confusion for more than an hour.

Some passengers said they heard an explosion before the train hit.

No serious injuries were reported.

The accident occurred about 7:30 p.m. and more than a dozen ambulances and a dozen pieces of firefighting apparatus plus a cluster of police vehicles converged on the scene.

Firemen with gas masks led many passengers out emergency tunnel exits. Some riders walked from the stricken trains on long wooden boards used to bridge the tracks.

"We had been stopped for about 20 minutes when we got rapped from behind and people went flying," said Pat Pontillo at Jacobi Hospital, where he was waiting for X-rays of his ribs.

U.S. Losing Its Sense Of Decency, Says Bush

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Republican National Chairman George Bush says the nation is losing its sense of decency in overreacting to the turmoil surrounding the White House.

In a speech to Indiana Republicans at a $100-a-couple fund-raising dinner here Thursday night, Bush said publicly voiced questions by AFL-CIO president George Meany and others about President Nixon's emotional stability are "irresponsibility at its worst."

Bush said irresponsibility was "trumped" Thursday when Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger was asked at a news conference if the worldwide alert of U.S. forces in the Middle East crisis might have been ordered to divert attention from Watergate.

Such a suggestion "demeans the presidency," Bush said. "Where are the fundamental standards of decency?"

He said the question reflected a lack of perspective about Watergate problems besetting the Nixon administration.

"There is an emotion in this country that needs to be calmed down, news a little more maturity," the former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations said. "This isn't a time for ir-

Price Controls Lifted From Fertilizer Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move aimed at increasing food production the government Thursday lifted price controls from the fertilizer industry.

And, at the same time, the Agriculture Department reported that the cost of food declined markedly last month.

Despite the action freeing fertilizer prices, however, John T. Dunlop, director of the Cost of Living Council, said he opposes lifting controls from all industries because consumers need the protection.

If controls were lifted this year, as big labor and big business have demanded in recent weeks, Dunlop said there would be a "magnitude of price increases that would be unsatisfactory."

It was the first time a top administration spokesman had said he favored keeping the controls program beyond the end of the year. Congressional authority for wage-price controls expires next April unless the administration seeks a renewal.

Consumers received some encouraging price news Thursday when the Agriculture Department announced that its market-basket index of foods costs declined $24 in September, the biggest monthly drop in 17 years.

The cost of an entire year's food supply for a hypothetical household of 3.2 persons was $1,629 in September, down from the record high $1,653 in August.

Put another way, the hypothetical household had to pay 46 cents less per week in September to buy the same amount of farm-produced groceries it bought in August. The weekly September food bill came to $31.33.

The fertilizer industry became the first major industry to be released from the Phase 4 price control program since it was imposed in August. Wages for workers in the industry also were freed.

But in exchange for lifting of controls, Dunlop said he won commitments from major fertilizer companies to increase domestic supply by about 5 percent during the next nine months by diverting fertilizer they had planned to export.

Lifting of the price controls means there will be a substantial increase in fertilizer costs, but Dunlop said in the long run it should hold down or even decrease food prices because of increased production if all works as planned.

In addition to lifting controls from fertilizer, the council also exempted nutrient materials which are used in production of both fertilizer and explosives; also, ammonia, nitrogen, urea, phosphate and potash used in the manufacture of plastics, synthetic fibers, animal feeds and other products.

Dunlop explained it was necessary to take the other actions because of the interrelationship among various industries using the same materials.
