ARRESTING LEADERS OF CONSTRUCTION UNIONS

Tanks, Soldiers Patrol Athens

ATHENS (AP) — Police and soldiers rounded up a number of construction workers and youths today and took them to a temporary detention camp set up in one of Athens' soccer stadiums.

STAY OFF JOBS

Some construction workers took part in last week's student-led antigovernment demonstrations, and many stayed off their jobs today. A number of large construction sites in the city were operating with scores of workers missing.

Security police also were arresting leaders of construction unions, reportedly blaming them for their workers staying off the job.

Tanks and soldiers in full battle gear patrolled the main squares of Athens and a military helicopter circled overhead on the lookout for new antigovernment demonstrations.

Students heading for the university were stopped for identity checks. About 100 of them were taken to detention centers for questioning.

At a hastily called morning news conference, government spokesman Spyridon Zournatzis said that 866 workers and students, 150 of them women, were arrested during the street fighting Friday night. He said 662 have been released.

The government disclosed that nine were killed Friday night and four Saturday. The Athens medical examiner said six of the victims were bystanders, including a 22-year-old Norwegian woman and a 5-year-old Greek boy.

STORES CLOSED

Some stores were closed today and many construction workers were absent from their jobs, but the morning rush hour traffic was jammed as usual.

Curious office workers stopped briefly to gaze at the tanks stationed at central squares. Troops stood guard alongside police officers at main thoroughfares.

On Sunday, Zournatzis reiterated the position of Premier Spyros Markezinis, who has pledged free parliamentary elections in 1974.

"Our mission is to prepare the nation for elections as soon as possible after order is restored," Zournatzis told newsmen.

The government canceled the complete slate of professional soccer games and Greeks, deprived of their weekly sporting events, stayed close to home throughout the day. The state radio said five persons would be taken before a special military tribunal, which was set up after martial law was declared, for violating the ban imposed on outdoor gatherings of more than five.

Martial law remained in force throughout the country although the curfew was lifted in all but the two most populous regions.

VIOLENCE

Markezinis took office last month as head of Greece's first civilian cabinet since the 1967 army coup. President George Papadopoulos, the coup leader, gave Markezinis a mandate to steer Greece back toward democracy.

But opponents, skeptical of these claims, have taken to the streets contending that real democracy can only be restored after the overthrow of the Papadopoulos regime.

The violence came to a head early Saturday when army commandos had police put a bloody end to the four-day occupation of the Athens Polytechnic Institute.

The identities of the leaders of the occupation have not been disclosed, but many of those seen clashing with police at the institute were well past university age. The government has called the demonstrators anarchists.

Several leading politicians, including the last pre-coup premier, Panayotis Kanelopoulos, have publicly stated their support for the demonstrators. Kanelopoulos, however, expressed reservations about some of their slogans, including their call for an end to the U.S. military presence in Greece.

Tyler Oil Man New GOP State Chairman

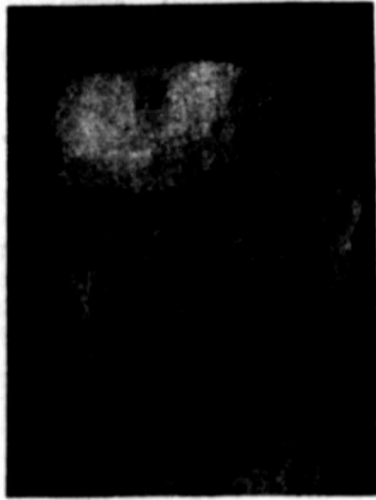

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former Texas Gov. John Connally, a potential candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination, said today that Americans want leaders who are frank enough to tell them the truth about national problems.

Connally, along with Presidential counselor Anne Armstrong and National GOP Chairman George Bush, addressed the Texas Republican Executive Committee.

Still hoarse from a bout with laryngitis, Connally said despite Watergate, Republicans can win the state, local and national elections with high quality candidates who will tell people the truth.

TELL THE TRUTH

"We have to get Democrats and we have to get independents. The only way we can do it is to get candidates of the highest quality we can get and tell people the truth ... that we are entering an era of sacrifice and hard choices," Connally said.

Connally said it is a "strange paradox" that at a time when people distrust politicians possibly more than at any previous time, they also are saying, "We want leadership."

Mrs. Armstrong said Connally is "putting excitement and backbone into our party across the country."

She predicted "the roughest days for us in our party in Texas which, of course, were due to the national situation, are over as of this week."

She tied this to a "groundswell" of support for the President, resulting from his decision to take the offensive in the Watergate matter.

Mrs. Armstrong also predicted U.S. Dist. Court Judge John Sirica of Washington will soon finish listening to the White House tapes concerning Watergate and pass his summary to the federal grand jury probing the case.

WARREN ELECTED

"I predict that what is in those tapes will absolutely corroborate what the President has been telling us," she said.

Bush predicted voters in the 1974 and 1976 elections will concern themselves with national issues and will not punish Republican candidates for Watergate. He said Democratic National Chairman Robert Strauss of Dallas is trying to give his part "a centrist appeal" that could draw away independent and traditionally Democratic voters from the GOP. "We can't permit that," Bush said.

"The Republican Party is clean and we're going to keep it that way," Bush said.

Earlier in the day, the committee elected Tyler oil man Jack Warren as party chairman.

Warren, 44, succeeds Dr. George Willeford of Austin, whose resignation was officially accepted at today's meeting. Willeford called the meeting, the committee's first in nine months, to replace him in the job he had held since 1971.

Miss HCJC Pageant Scheduled At 7:30

Curtains will go up 7:30 p.m. today for the seventh annual Miss HCJC Pageant with 16 college vying for the title, in the college auditorium.

Contestants will be judged in three categories, campus fashions, swim suit, and talent.

Court Verdict Is Reversed

Retroactive application of a new state law apparently caused reversal and dismissal of 118th District Court judgments for forfeiture to two vehicles containing drugs, District Attorney Bob Moore believed today.

Moore first heard of the action by the Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland through a report sent to the Big Spring Herald.

District Judge R. W. Caton had ordered a 1971 automobile belonging to Michael Keith Fryar and a 1962 truck belonging to Robert E. Chambers forfeited to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

When civil action for the forfeiture was instigated, state law allowed seizing vehicles used to possess narcotics, Moore said.

A new law now requires the prosecution to show a vehicle was used for possession of narcotics for selling, Moore said.

Both district court cases were without error, the local prosecutor said.

"They were perfectly valid (judgments) had the law not changed," Moore said.

Fryar was accused of possession less than one ounce of marijuana and does not face the threat of a second civil suit for his car. But the district attorney said thousands of pills had been found in the truck.

and will be modelling evening gowns.

Emcee will be Larry Crittenden, local radio announcer. Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery will be the fashion moderator, and Dal Herring is executive director.

Stage manager will be John Rihard, and Ed Milstead will be handling lighting and curtains. Anthony Green is in charge of sets and will provide vocal arrangements during intermission.

Theme for the pageant this year is "Bring Back the Red, White, and Blue," and many of the costumes, talent presentations, and stage decorations will reflect that note.

Judging coordinator will be Annette Couch, decorations were by Donna Herring, and the college choir furnished the risers. Refreshments will be provided by the campus food service.

The inside program is a production of the new campus printing service, under the direction of John Freeman. Miss Jeri Tonne will play walking music for the coeds, and act as accompanist for some.

Linda Dennis will be in charge of the usherettes, and Glenn Everett will be taking campus newspaper photographs. Operating telecasting equipment for KHCC-TV 3, the campus TV station, will be Kevin Calley, Daryl Richardson, and Scot Hatfield.

The contestants and their sponsors, in order of appearance, are Susan Mayo, Margaret's; Rene Slape, Kentucky Fried Chicken; Ronda Hooper, First National Bank; Glenda Jones, Security State National Bank; Nancy Graves, Fashion Pants; Kay Proctor, State National Bank; Sandra

Big Spring One Of Three Cities To Hit UW Goal

Big Spring, Abilene and Lubbock are the only major West Texas points reporting over-the-top to the Texas United Funds Advisory Committee.

With more than $120,000 received, the Howard County total is 103 per cent of target.

Lubbock, with $961,415 raised, also is 103 per cent. Abilene raised $479,007, or 100.6 per cent of goal.

George Zachariah, executive secretary of the Howard County United Way, said that there are still several employe and other groups outstanding, and that efforts are being made to clean up these potential supporters of the community agencies. While there has been no material change in the money total, he does anticipate that when the campaign finally is concluded, the total may be raised appreciably.

Although it no longer is a question of reaching a target, he said, it is a matter of letting everyone, in good conscience, have a share in supporting the humanitarian activities of Big Spring and Howard County.

'FAIR MORSE' 13 Safe After Ship Goes Down

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — A California man said today the 13 crew members of the "Fair Morse" were all safe after the ship went down off the coast of Mexico last Friday.

Duane Denney of Wilmington, Calif., told Frank Sullivan of KGBT-TV that he had talked with ship Capt. Arthur Jimenez earlier today from some city in Mexico.

Denney quoted Jimenez as saying the ship was taking on water and the crew crashed it into the beach South of Matamoros, Mex.

WRECKAGE SIGHTED

The wreckage had been sighted during the weekend by a fisherman and the U.S. Coast Guard today was conducting a search for possible survivors.

Debris reported to be from the "Fair Morse" was found Friday washed ashore nearly five miles south of the mouth of the Rio Grande.

U.S. Coast Guard officials said the "Fair Morse" had been anchored off Port Isabel at least since February. A spokesman said the schooner had been under surveillance "because we did not consider it seaworthy."

There was no indication of how many persons may have been aboard the ship, an old 125-footer, whose master was identified as James T. Nash of Wilmington, Calif.

Police patrolman Baldemar Torres said approximately 20 persons lived aboard the "Fair Morse." He said he noticed Thursday that the ship was gone and notified the Coast Guard and some federal narcotics agents.

Officer Kicked Down Wrong Door

DALLAS (AP) — An off duty policeman was shot and seriously wounded today following a disturbance at the apartment of a girl friend. Police said the officer was shot by a 28-year-old night club performer.

A police spokesman said the officer, Ronald Weldon, 32, had gone to the apartment seeking a girl friend but there was no response at the door.

Police said Weldon returned about 4:30 a.m., kicked down the door and found two women and two men in a bedroom.

Police said Weldon was shot in the back when he grabbed one of the men.

He was taken to Parkland Hospital in serious condition.

Community Service Slated Wednesday

The annual community Thanksgiving service, sponsored by the Howard County Ministerial Association, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, located on FM 700.

Most of the local churches are dismissing their regularly scheduled Wednesday evening activities to participate in this time of Community Thanksgiving.

Speaker this year will be the Rev. Larry D. Holmes, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene. Music will be under the direction of the Rev. David Norvelle, minister of music at College Baptist Church.

The association has designated the offering for CROP. CROP is a program that helps relieve the hunger in the world.

A spokesman for the association stated, "The entire community, regardless of race or religious background, is encouraged to worship collectively with us on this special occasion."

Employes Of County Get Long Holiday

The City Hall will be closed Thursday, as will the Post Office, local banks and most of the town's businesses for Thanksgiving Day.

The County will close on both Thursday and Friday. Schools will close Thursday and Friday, HCJC closes at noon Wednesday.

The World At-A-Glance

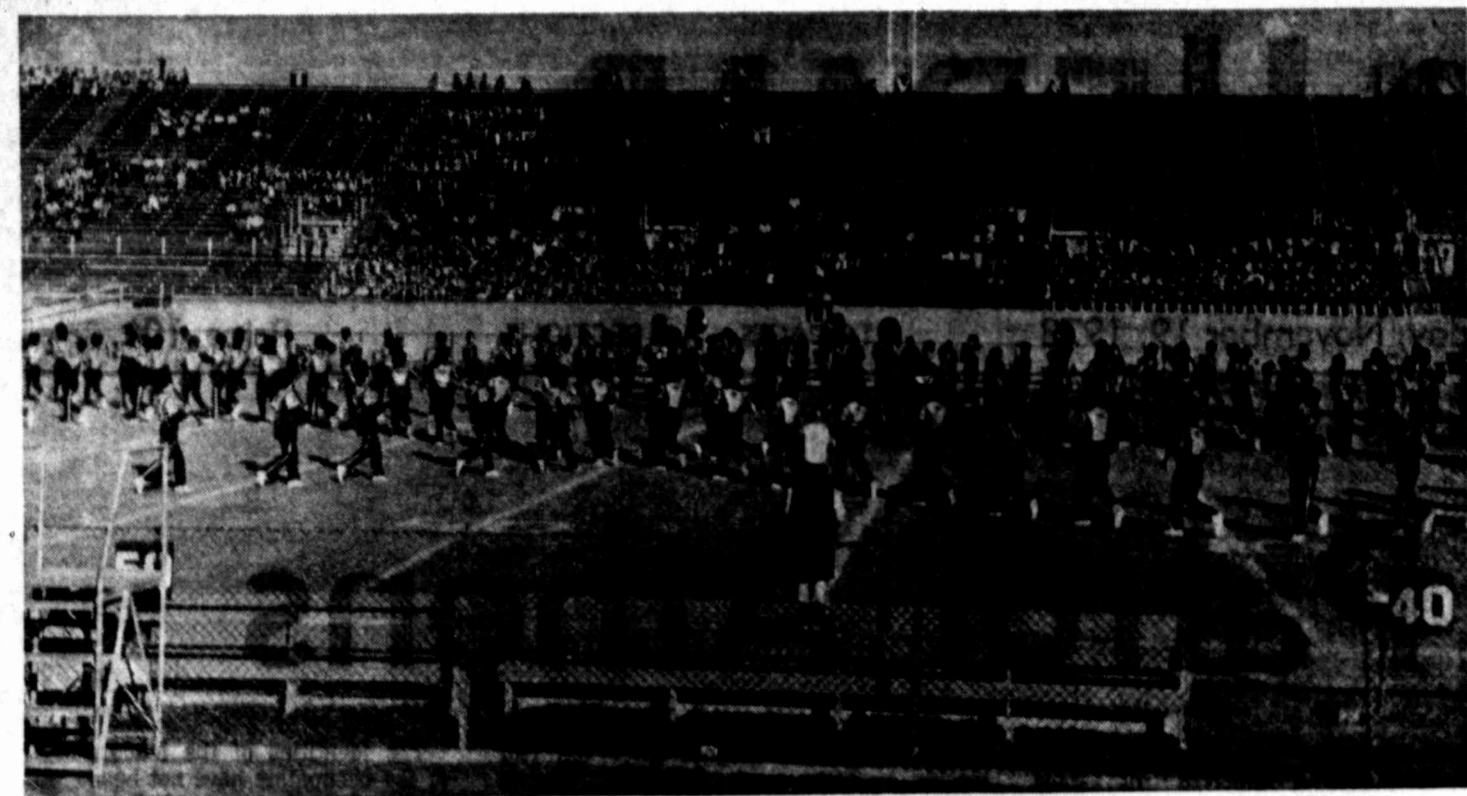

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is nearing a vote on emergency legislation to give President Nixon the increased powers he seeks to deal with the energy crisis. The bill is expected to pass the Senate sometime this week but can't be acted on in the House before Nov. 26, when that chamber returns from its Thanksgiving recess.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 193 years after the fact, the Army has ruled that there isn't enough evidence to clear Gen. Benedict Arnold of Revolutionary War misconduct charges. The Army reopened the case to examine a claim by a New Jersey historian that Arnold should not have been convicted in a 1780 court-martial because, among other things, he had been previously exonerated of the same charges by a congressional committee. The historian, Vincent A. Lindner, says he's undaunted by the Army's action and will continue his campaign to have Arnold exonerated.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Motorists could be wasting money buying gasoline of a higher octane than they need if they follow their owners' manual too closely. That is because the octanes listed in these manuals do not relate exactly to the octanes the Cost of Living Council has ordered posted on gas pumps. For instance, if an owners' manual says a 1974 model car needs 91 octane gasoline, the corresponding pump octane number would be closer to 87 — meaning the motorist will waste money ordering "91 octane" gasoline. The confusion is because a different type of octane number is used in the manuals (a "research octane") and on the pumps (an average of research octane and "motor octane," generally a lower figure).

TEL AVIV (AP) — David Ben-Gurion, who led Israel from its violent birth in 1948 into modern statehood, remained in critical condition after suffering a massive stroke, hospital officials said. The 87-year-old former premier was "calm and sleeping," a spokesman said at the Tel Hashomer Hospital where Ben-Gurion was taken Sunday afternoon from his Tel Aviv apartment.

HEADING FOR FIRST — The Big Spring High School band is shown going through their paces at the regional marching contest Saturday in which they collected a first division. At the event, bands sit on one side of the field and spectators on the other. Most of the bands had gone home by the time Big Spring performed but seated in groups in the background are Odessa and Permian High bands, separated by a bleacher section in Odessa.

Rope Trick Used In Crime Here

Young robbers held a rope across a road near the Country Club about 7:30 p.m. Saturday to stop a motorcyclist, the sheriff's office was told. The boys took a watch, coat and cap away from Gary Burgess, 12, Callahan Road, the victim's mother reported. A late model car took the robbers from the scene, Bill Whitton, chief deputy sheriff, said.

Burglary Charges To Be Filed Against 3 Today

Three local men are expected to be charged with burglary today as investigation continues into a number of recent thefts. Large quantities of stolen goods have been recovered and remain stacked in piles at the courthouse and the sheriff's home. The three burglary suspects have been interviewed and temporarily released, Sheriff A. N. Standard said. Complaints charging four persons with possession of stolen property had not been filed. Also pending were cases against four young local men in whose home dangerous drugs.

Innkeepers Still Have No Enthusiasm For Local Tax

By ANN STEVENS
Motel-hotel owners, strong in their opposition to the three percent room occupancy tax before its passage in June, have for the most part resigned themselves to collecting the tax, although most still lack enthusiasm for it. The tax went into effect Oct. 1, and a budget for use of revenues from the levy was adopted last week by the City Council after being approved by the Tourism and Development Council set up to supervise use of the revenue.
Recommending passage of the budget which outlays $24,010 for advertising of the city, Charles Tompkins, tourism council chairman, told his fellow City Council members that motel-hotel owners now seem enthusiastic about the tax and the revenue it will bring in.
RESIGNATION
However, a survey conducted by the Herald this week failed to discover any enthusiasm among the owners. All of those contacted said they have simply resigned themselves to collecting the tax from their customers now that the tax has become law.
Plans for spending of the revenue did draw some varied responses from the owners contacted.
One was disgusted that the three motel representatives on the tourism council did not contact him or other owners before approving a budget and recommending it to the City Council.
"Who are they representing?" he asked. "Decisions on how the money is spent are being shoved down our throats just like the tax was," he remarked.
He said the motel representatives should have contacted the 18 other motel-hotel owners before approving the budget.
'MISDIRECTED'
"I've been collecting it but I don't want anything more to do with the tax," said Mrs.

Vernon Stewart, Silver Saddle Lounge operator, one of the more vocal opponents of the tax earlier in the year.
"I said she (Mrs. Stewart) is misdirected because of the extensive allocation of funds for advertising. I'd rather build the zoo or fix up the park by advertising first, they're putting the cart before the horse," she said.
Another motel owner said that although she still opposes the tax she is still open to suggestions to promote the city. "I get lots of requests for postcards," she noted.
All the owners reported that customers are paying the tax although some make a fuss over it.
'NEARLY FAINTED'
"I'm still opposed and my guess are too," said one. "Why, a man nearly fainted the other day when I added on $1.80 for the tax. People could eat on that amount."
Recognizing that hard feelings still exist, Ron Mercer, Chamber of Commerce manager, said those feelings may change after a year or so when results of the tax are more evident.
First visible results of the tax money will probably come in February, he said, when community brochures are delivered. Some 25,000 of the brochures promoting tourism to Big Spring have been ordered.
Initial revenue from the levy should become available in January. The tax is collected quarterly with the first period to end in December.

Lanny Hanson In 2nd Place

"Neat Type" steers completely dominated the steer carcass contest held in conjunction with the recent Junior Steer Show at the 1973 State Fair of Texas. Livestock Director Don Clark said some 95 per cent of the steers shown by 4-H and FFA members were included in the contest, which compares the same steers in both live and carcass classes.
This contest, said Clark, provides a comparison of the "show steers" true meat value when hung on the rail.
First place winner of the $100 U.S. savings bond was Linda Hancock, Midland FFA, with a Limousin-Angus crossbred steer which had a carcass weight of 836 pounds, quality grade choice minus, yield grade of 1.7, ribeye area of 16.0 square inches, .3 inches backfat, and an estimated yield of boneless, closely trimmed roast and steaks.
Second place went to Lanny Hanson, Stanton, for his 980-pound crossbred steer which had 634 pounds carcass weight grading choice minus with ribeye area of 12.5, fat thickness .2, yield grade 1.7, 53 percent lean cuts.
Third place went to J. C. Tunnel, Stanton, for his 1,020-pound Angus steer which had a carcass weight of 693 pounds, choice minus, 14.9 ribeye area, 4 fat, 1.8 yield grade, 52.8 per cent lean cuts.

GOP Governors Wrestle With Watergate Puzzle

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Republican governors meeting here are wrestling with a variety of unofficial proposals to collectively speak out on Watergate and the head of their party, President Nixon.
Some kind of resolution on Nixon appeared certain to be offered during today's first business session of the Republican Governors Association's winter conference. Any action might await Nixon's planned visit to the convention on Tuesday.
WE'RE HUMAN
The question was what kind of resolution could be approved. Suggestions ranged from staunch support for Nixon to a call for him to clear up the scandals for the sake of the rest of the party.

"We're human beings. We suffer through these things. But we're not going to be housemen to the White House and try to whitewash something that is one of the sorriest pages in American political history," Oregon Gov. Tom McCall said at a news conference Sunday.
"The President has got to earn his way back from the morass of misery he finds himself in," McCall said. "It seems to me the success of the Republican party in gubernatorial elections will be in direct proportion to the success of the President in restoring his own credibility."
"You still have to remember that the President is the titular head of the Republican party," he said. "And there is some maverick cast on Republicans everywhere."

TROUBLE
Tennessee Gov. Winfield Dunn said he doubted the White House difficulties would rub off on uninvolved Republicans at the local level. But he expressed hope Nixon would clear it up quickly.
"He's going to have to make every single fact concerning not only those things that deal with Watergate, but TIT, the dairy industry, absolutely available for public scrutiny," Dunn said in an interview. "If he doesn't do that, he's going to continue to have trouble in reestablishing his credibility."
"I think Watergate has injured all office holders, regardless of party," said Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.
Dunn said he doubted the governors would approve any resolution critical of Nixon, and New Hampshire Gov. Meldrim Thomson Jr. said what he hopes "comes out of this conference is a strong endorsement of the President."
Resolutions should come up in today's executive session, which follows a closed luncheon of the governors. But Reagan wants the governors to hold any formal action until they hear from Nixon.

Most Roads Roughed In

All roads in the Horace Tubb subdivision, except one where a fence must be moved, have been "roughed in," Marvin Hanson, road administrator, told County Commissioners Court this morning.
The door to the Knott Fire Station has not been finished, Hanson said, and electricity has not been connected.
Little else happened in the court this morning. After about an hour, the court adjourned while members of the court stayed around to talk.

Cotton Harvest Nearly One-Third Complete

The USDA, Abilene Cotton Classing Office graded 46,200 cotton samples during the week ending Nov. 17.
B. B. Manly estimates harvest to be about 30 per cent completed in the area serviced by his office. A total of 169,000 samples has been graded to date, 25,500 of that being compared by this date last season.
The quality of samples classed continued to improve in grade and staple. White grades were assigned to 59 per cent of the samples classed, and 39 per cent were within light-spotted grades. Grade 41 was the most predominant grade at 31 per cent, followed by grade 42 at 21 per cent, grade 1 at 14 per cent, grade 31 at 12 per cent. Reductions in grade because of bark in samples declined to 18 per cent.
Staples ranged from 28 to 35.

Graveside services will be 11 a.m. Tuesday in Colorado City Cemetery. She was born Jan. 1, 1892, in Sterling City.

Most Roads Roughed In

All roads in the Horace Tubb subdivision, except one where a fence must be moved, have been "roughed in," Marvin Hanson, road administrator, told County Commissioners Court this morning.
The door to the Knott Fire Station has not been finished, Hanson said, and electricity has not been connected.
Little else happened in the court this morning. After about an hour, the court adjourned while members of the court stayed around to talk.

Turkey On School Menu Tomorrow

The traditional Thanksgiving Dinner in the Big Spring schools will be served Tuesday.
A turkey dinner with all of the trimmings is served each year right before the holidays. School dismisses Wednesday afternoon for a four-day weekend.

MS Drive Is Set This Evening

Door-to-door collections will be taken this evening by volunteer workers in the Multiple Sclerosis Periman Basin chapter's drive for funds.
This is the only drive staged by the committee during the year and the chapter does not share in funds raised in United Way or other charitable drives.

Mrs. Clyde Myles Winner Of $100

Mrs. Clyde Myles of 904 NW 2nd Street was the first winner of the $100 in silver dollars awarded by downtown merchants in connection with the Thrift Days sales, which started last week.
The drawing was conducted at 4 p.m., Saturday. The weekly prize will be made available through the Christmas season.

STAFF RIPPED 'Most Lawless Since Bonnie, Clyde's Gang'

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — National Democratic Party Chairman Robert Strauss said in an interview here during the week that the President's staff which was involved in Watergate is "the most lawless gang since Bonnie and Clyde terrorized this part of the country."

Strauss in the campaign-like interview with Ann Faragher of the Greenville Herald-Banner said the crisis of confidence in the government is the most urgent problem facing the United States.

PART OF IT
"But Watergate and the accompanying scandals are just part of it. The Nixon administration has a total lack of the ability to administer or to govern and you can't fool the public forever," Strauss said.

Strauss was in Greenville for a dinner in his honor.

"George Bush and I agree. The Democratic success in the elections last week all over the country was not a Watergate issue. Watergate is not what people are thinking about when they are voting on local issues," the party leader said.

Bush is Republican national chairman. The chairmen of both parties are from Texas.

"In 1974 and 1976 we are not going to elect on the basis of Watergate. The Democrats must pick the candidates and the issues," Strauss said.

He listed four points on which he said the Republicans have traditionally sought leadership and gave his refutation of them.

1. They claim to be the business man's party. But with inflation, the stock market situation, the wheat deals, they can't use that as an issue any more.

2. The Republicans call themselves the law and order party. Nixon has had around him, said Strauss, the most lawless gang since Bonnie and Clyde terrorized this part of the country.

3. They have claimed the ability to know how to cut spending. They haven't cut taxes, stopped inflation or reduced spending. They have changed the priorities of the country by eliminating and cutting programs aimed at the conditions of the people but still have inflation and high government spending.

4. The Republicans have traditionally been the collectors of large sums of money for campaigns. After all the things that have happened since 1972, that is no longer available to them.

LOOK NEEDED
Strauss said Democratic leaders need to look again and see what the price of internal bickering has cost the party and the country, particularly in 1972.

"We must learn to communicate, talk about the issues of the people and continue reform in the party," he declared.

SAYING AGAIN AND AGAIN HE HAS NOT VIOLATED HIS TRUST Nixon On Credibility Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — All week long he said it, again and again.

"As far as the President of the United States is concerned, he has not violated his trust and he is not going to violate it. I was elected to do a job."

Richard M. Nixon was on a credibility campaign. "I am going . . . to the best of my ability to restore confidence in the White House and in the President himself."

He said it, in those words and differently, in a speech to 3,000 cheering realtors in Washington. He repeated it in breakfast and luncheon sessions with congressmen and senators, and again at a nationally televised question-and-answer session with newspaper editors.

AND HE DID
"People have got to know whether or not their president is a crook," he said. "Well, I'm not a crook. I've earned everything I've got."

The White House had said the President was going on a counterattack to restore support eroded in months of Watergate and related controversies. And he did.

Eight times during the week he met with congressmen and senators, in groups as small as six and large as 78. He made three public appearances in four days and makes a fourth on Tuesday.

At a Saturday night news conference with members of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association, the President repeated his explanation of various Watergate-related matters.

He explained again the case of the nonexistent White House tapes and gave his version of key conversations about Watergate. He discussed his income taxes, the Ellsberg break-in and his relationship with fired Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox.

"I have never obstructed justice," Nixon told the editors.

He said, "If mistakes were made in the 1972 campaign I'm not blaming the people down below. The man at the top's got to take the heat for all of it."

During the hour-long news conference at Orlando, Fla., the President fielded every question and said, "I welcome this type of examination." He even extended the televised news conference into overtime to discuss the milk fund controversy.

Nixon's offensive also took other forms. 'HANG IN THERE'
On Monday, the President announced he would turn over additional personal notes, dictation belts and tape recordings to U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica to clear up "once and for all" what happened in two crucial Watergate conversations.

Later in the week, Sirica rejected the offer saying the court didn't want to become a depository for subpoenaed material. But the President proffered them again in his Orlando news conference.

A presidential trip to Georgia on Sunday had all the trappings of a campaign appearance: 15,000 at the airport, petitions of support, signs of "Hang In There," a motorcade along streets lined by thousands.

Shellfish Poisoning

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A warning system comprising sound trucks and helicopters is telling people on a 65-mile stretch of Florida's southern Gulf Coast to shun eating shellfish.

Health officials put the system to work Sunday after a 10-year-old boy who had eaten clams contaminated by red tide algae was hospitalized in critical condition.

"We don't want to cause any panic, because this is the first case of its kind we've had here in eight years," said Dr. McGarry, director of the Sarasota County Health Department. "But we want to warn people in the strongest terms against collecting shellfish."

Dr. McGarry said Lonnie Long of Sarasota was afflicted by paralytic shellfish poisoning Saturday after he and a friend ate clams they had gathered on a sandbar off the beach at Siesta Key.

The other boy and a woman who also ate clams were affected by the poisoning but recovered in a few hours, the doctor said.

He said all shellfish harvesting had been banned from Boca Grande Island, near Port Charlotte, to Mullet Key, north of Bradenton.

The algae that cause red tide — a staining of the water to a rusty red — produce toxins that kill marine animals. Clams, oysters and other shellfish concentrate the toxins in their tissues while feeding.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Promptly Relieved

Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief from Such Burning Itch and Pain in Many Cases.

The burning itch and pain caused by infection and inflammation in hemorrhoidal tissues can cause much suffering. But there is an exclusive formulation that in many cases gives prompt relief for hours from this itch and pain so that the sufferer is more comfortable again. It also actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation and infection.

Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients in New York City, Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center reported similar successful results in many cases. This is the same medication you can buy at any drug counter under the name Preparation H.

Preparation H also lubricates to protect the inflamed surface area and it doesn't sting or smart. In fact, it has very soothing qualities which make it especially helpful during the night when itching becomes more intense.
There's no other formula like Preparation H. In ointment or suppository form.

Nurse Educators To Meet Nov. 29

Nurse educators from four-year baccalaureate college nursing programs in the southern region will meet for a three-day curriculum development workshop at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas, Nov. 29 — Dec. 1.

Sponsored by the New York-based National League for Nursing, the workshop will include higher degree programs, the sessions for faculty members and planners of baccalaureate degree nursing college programs are intended to assist educators to further develop curriculum to meet current trends in nursing.

Under the guidance of workshop leaders, Marilyn Parker, assistant professor of nursing, Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., and Gertrude Torres, NLN consultant in nursing education, participants will identify the changing social and health care needs of today's baccalaureate nursing education.

Similar workshop sessions are scheduled for Atlanta, Boston and Las Vegas in early 1974.

The National League for Nursing is composed of registered and licensed practical nurses, other professionals working in the health field, concerned citizens, and agency members such as hospitals, schools of nursing, and nursing service agencies.

The Better Business Bureau has announced that a program of arbitration of consumer-business complaints will be offered through its office. The announcement follows several months of study by the bureau's board of directors, according to Allen L. Beatty, BBB executive vice-president.

Beatty stated that arbitration was not a new concept; however its application in resolving business consumer complaints has been undertaken by BBB only recently. BBB is reached by asking the operator to dial (at no cost) 563-1880, or write to BBB, P.O. Box 6006, Midland, Tex., 79701.

Arbitration is not intended to replace the conventional BBB complaint handling procedures. It is intended to replace court action where court action is appropriate. However, Beatty stated, there are many consumer complaints that do not lend themselves readily to being resolved through legal action. The amounts involved may be too small, or the cost prohibitive. In addition, arbitration is a private proceeding, rather than a public process such as the courts are.

Under the BBB's plan, the consumer first takes the complaint to the business firm involved. If it is not resolved, the complaint is processed through the BBB. If the company and the consumer cannot agree on a voluntary adjustment, arbitration will be offered. Both parties must voluntarily agree to arbitrate before further steps can be taken.

Egyptian Soldier Killed In Fire Swap Along Suez

By The Associated Press

An Egyptian soldier was killed when Israeli and Egyptian soldiers exchanged small arms fire along the Suez Canal early today, the Israeli military command said. No Israeli casualties were reported.

A command spokesman said a fire fight erupted near Ismailia on the western bank of the canal and another near Ayun Musa in the Sinai Desert near the Gulf of Suez where he said Egyptian forces were trying to advance their positions.

He said the Egyptian was killed near Mt. Ataka on the western side of the canal.

WAR PROBE
Israel had said that it will begin a judicial probe into charges of military mishandling during the first stage of the October war when Egyptian tanks and men stormed across the Suez Canal and captured the eastern bank.

The government announced Sunday that the investigation will be conducted by a five-member commission and the findings will later be made public unless they are ruled militarily sensitive.

At the same time, the Egyptian war minister, Lt. Gen.

Ahmed Ismail, said that Egyptian military errors and misjudgments helped the Israelis establish a foothold on the Egyptian side of the canal during the final days of the war.

But he said the October war succeeded in breaking the Middle East stalemate and changed the image of Egypt and the Arabs as a whole. He said that Egypt militarily was in much better position on Oct. 22 — the date of the first U.N. cease-fire — than it was on Oct. 6 when the war began.

FUROR
Egypt has charged that Israel violated the cease-fire on Oct. 22 and expanded its foothold on the western bank of the canal prior to a second cease-fire on Oct. 24. Military experts say that movement resulted in the isolation of the Egyptian 3rd Army on the eastern bank of the Suez Canal and of Suez city on the southern tip of the canal.

The announcement of the Israeli investigation came amid continued furor over initial setbacks the Israeli army suffered when war broke out with Egypt along the Suez Canal and with Syria in the Golan Heights on Oct. 6. Defense Minister Moshe Dayan has said that Israel had no inkling of war until the morning the shooting began.

A cabinet statement said that the investigation will cover "the army's deployment for war in general, its preparedness in the days prior to the war and its actions until it held back the enemy."

TANKS ROLL
Government sources said the inquiry most likely will seek to find out why Israeli intelligence

Drug Videotape Will Be Shown

"When can the selection of the right drug be wrong?" Physicians at Big Spring VA Hospital will find the answer to that question in the Network for Continuing Medical Education (NCME) telecast, "Drug Interaction: The Case of the Pushy Antibiotic," playing Dec. 3 through Dec. 16.

The videotape, to be played at the local hospital, features four clinical situations, all illustrating the dangers of drug interactions involving sulfonamides.

Scheduled to be viewed by some 100,000 physicians at more than 700 major hospitals and medical centers, the program is part of the nationwide Drug Spotlight Program.

The Network for Continuing Medical Education, located in New York City, produces 69 new medical television programs a year and distributes them bi-weekly to major hospitals and medical centers, including Big Spring VA Hospital. Area Physicians and Nurses are invited to attend. Information on time of showings may be had by calling 263-7361, ex. 250.

Christmas Mail Should Be Dispatched Early

Postmaster Frank Hardesty today joined Postmaster General E. T. Klassen in urging Big Spring residents to post their domestic and foreign Christmas mail one to two weeks earlier than the Postal Service originally recommended, so that the energy shortage will not interfere with on-time deliveries.

"The urgency of the fuel energy crisis compels us to request a one-week advancement of suggested dates we gave for domestic mail and a two-week advancement for foreign mail," Postmaster Hardesty said.

The new deadline for posting domestic first-class Christmas mail is Dec. 8 rather than Dec. 15 as previously announced.

Steel Arrives For Hospital

Work has begun on the first phase of the three phase construction of the new Malone-Hogan Hospital being constructed by Hospital Corporation of America.

Joe M. Rodgers and Associates of Nashville, Tenn. estimate that complete construction of the four story facility will be around 18 months.

J. D. Pope, assistant supervisor of the project, said that the steel arrived Thursday and that the beams were going up, being set and bolted.

W. E. Vest, construction foreman, stated that "All is going well and we have been especially pleased with the weather."

Sub contractors already on the scene include Davis Electric from Greenville, South Carolina, McMahon Concrete from Big Spring, and others.

Decking and pouring of slabs will follow the setting of the beams.

Several workers with the construction company have already moved to Big Spring for the duration of the project.

UT, Raiders Forget Bowls

By The Associated Press
Texas and Texas Tech say they have some unfinished business before they go bowling. The Texas Longhorns, who clinched their sixth consecutive host spot in the Cotton Bowl Saturday with a 52-7 crunch of Texas Christian, don't want to go with any blemish on their Southwest Conference crown.

Texas plays Texas A & M Thanksgiving Day in College Station and quarterback Mike Presley of the "Horns" said "The Aggies are going to be tough and we don't want to go to the Cotton Bowl through the back door. We want it lock, stock and barrel."

The Longhorns, who clinched at least a tie for the SWC title, will face powerful Nebraska of the Big Eight New Year's Day.

"We're not doing much talking until we've beaten the Aggies," said Texas linebacker Glen Gaspard.

"This doesn't relieve the tension on us one iota," said Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

Texas Tech was invited to the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 29 against Tennessee immediately after a 35-24 victory over Baylor.

However, some Tech players indicated they've got a "bowl" game coming up this Saturday against Arkansas in Little Rock.

"We seniors have never beaten them (Arkansas)," said Tech quarterback Joe Barnes.

"We will think about Tennessee week after next, but I'm really excited about playing them."

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff said of Tech "They will represent the Southwest Conference well against Tennessee."

While the bowls were running over for Texas and Tech, the Arkansas Razorbacks had their Peach Bowl bid spoiled by a 7-7 tie with Southern Methodist.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said he was "surprised" by SMU Coach Dave Smith's decision to settle for a tie late in the fourth quarter after a touchdown instead of going for a do-or-die two-pointer.

"I guess they felt they would have another chance to score later," Broyles said.

SMU Coach Dave Smith explained "We passed up the two-pointer because we wanted to put the pressure on them because of their chance of getting the bowl bid. We anticipated them throwing... we were hoping for an interception."

Peach Bowl officials immediately turned their backs on the Razorbacks after the tie.

In another SWC game Saturday which produced some elec-trifling play and tense sideline antics, Rice upset the Texas Aggies 24-20 on Carl Swierc's 95-yard touchdown run with less than three minutes to play.

The Rice band went through a halftime performance which included a goose-stepping imitation of A&M's famed block-T and a fire plug salute to A&M's collier mascot, Reveille. A&M overcame a big halftime deficit but Swierc stole the show. A&M drove to the five-yard line before time ran out.

In games this Saturday besides the Tech-Arkansas tussle, Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl bound Houston hosts Wyoming, SMU is at Baylor and Rice is at TCU.

Smiths Highlight Monthly Shoot

Twelve-year old John Smith of Stanton won the monthly shoot for children and women at the Western Sportsman's Club Sunday.

Jim Smith, John's 10-year old brother, finished second. The two are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Smith.

The Club has scheduled a turkey shoot Dec. 16 at its range 10 miles Northwest of Big Spring on the Andrews Highway.

Sorley, Fellows, Smith Honored

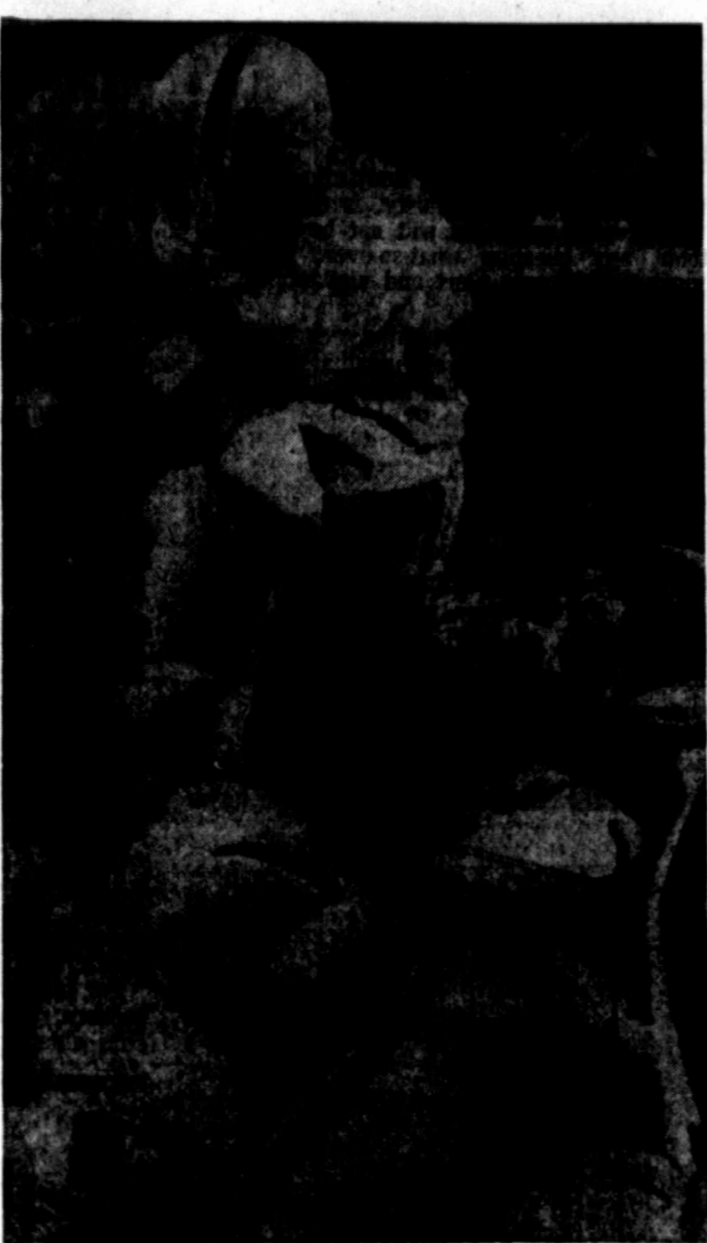

John Thomas Smith and Tom Sorley, a pair of stellar performers for the Big Spring Steers all year, went out with a bang in last week's 64-43 loss to San Angelo.

Sorley completed 22 of 51 passes for 297 yards, with 14 of the tosses going to Smith for 170 steps as the Steer flanker went over the 1,000-yard mark for the year. For their performances the pair shared The Herald's Back of the Week Honors, while versatile Joel Fellows was named Lineman of the Week.

Sorley boosted his season passing total near 2,000 yards in the loss, which ended the season for the Steers. He passed for four touchdowns and ran for another against the Bobcats.

Smith caught three of the touchdown passes, plus one pass for two extra points, to give him 61 receptions on the year. The 175-pound senior caught passes for 762 yards in Dist. 5-AAAA play, breaking the old record by almost 200 yards. He also stood out at cornerback on defense, intercepting one pass.

Fellows, also a senior, filled in at guard, tackle, center and defensive tackle for the injury-plagued Steers in the finale as he earned the award for the third time this year.

GOING HIGH — Houston's George Amundson leaps to get inside the Kansas City one-yard line in Sunday's Oiler-Chief game at Kansas City. Two plays later Fred Willis went in for the score. The Chiefs won, 38-14.

Forsan Sets Cage Slates

The Forsan Buffalo Queens play their sixth season game Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. against powerful McCamey, and the boys varsity gets its season underway in a week against the Big Spring sophomores.

The Buffs host their own tournament Nov. 29-Dec. 1, and also play in the Sands and Robert Lee meets.

District play opens Dec. 4 at home against Bronte.

Dolphins Keep Winning Ways, Clinch Playoff Spot

By The Associated Press
Mercury Morris smiled when somebody mentioned the Dolphins. "This was another game," said Simpson, "and what was important was that we lost it."

What was important to Kansas City's chiefs was their victory over Houston and Cleveland's stunner over Oakland. The combination moved KC into first place in the AFC West and plummeted the Raiders to third.

Mike Livingston tossed two TD passes and scored another, piloting the Chiefs to a third straight victory since taking over for injured Len Dawson.

Asked if the youngster might now be the Chiefs' No. 1 quarterback, Coach Hank Stram said, "Until Livingston proves otherwise, there's no question about it."

Oakland cooperated by bowing to Cleveland with the Browns scoring on Mike Phipps' seven-yard pass to Fair Hooker in the first half and then making the narrow lead stand up the rest of the way.

The victory moved the Browns to within 1 1/2 games of Pittsburgh in the AFC Central after the Steelers were stung by Denver. Cleveland plays Pittsburgh next week.

Jim Turner kicked three field goals, the last one a 42-yard tiebreaker that ticked the crossbar on the way over, to defeat the Steelers and take over second place in the AFC West, just one-half game back of Kansas City.

Harold Jackson caught four passes for 117 yards from John Hadl and three of them went for touchdowns, leading Los Angeles past San Francisco. Brodie found Jackson on TD passes that covered 25, 22, and 57 yards for the victory.

Washington's Curt Knight kicked five field goals to beat Baltimore. Knight's boots were from 35, 18, 37, 42 and 29 yards and he hardly resembled the place kicker who had slumped so badly early this year.

Gabriel Sidelined In Cowboys' Romp

DALLAS (AP) — When the resurgence this year which has Dallas Cowboys get their revenge, they don't just do it on the scoreboard. Ask the Philadelphia Eagles.

The pesky and youthful Eagles shocked Dallas 30-16 three weeks ago and the Cowboys returned the favor 31-10 Sunday with vigor.

Defensive tackle Jethro Pugh crashed into Eagle quarterback Roman Gabriel who suffered a severely bruised right elbow in the second quarter and spent the remainder of the game with it packed in ice.

"We won't know how bad until we have it x-rayed," said Eagle Coach Mike McCormick.

"It is a badly bruised elbow. At halftime he tried to throw but couldn't."

Gabriel has led the Eagle

PRO RESULTS

Garrison rushed for 88 yards, caught three passes for 65 yards, and in general inspired a sluggish Cowboy offense. Quarterback Roger Staubach, who threw touchdown passes of two yards to Garrison and 25 yards to Bob Hayes, also was intercepted three times.

Philadelphia's Reeves could complete only five of 19 passes for 17 yards and suffered one interception.

Barber; 'I Think I Beat The Next Jack Nicklaus'

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Miller Barber got the big check, but Ben Crenshaw got the big attention.

"I think I beat the next Jack Nicklaus," the 42-year-old Barber said after his final round 69 gave him a three-stroke victory over the youthful Crenshaw, probably the most exciting rookie to come along since Nicklaus turned pro.

Barber earned a $100,000 check — the biggest golf prize in history — after his 570 total won the 144-hole, two-week World Open Golf Tournament Saturday.

The total was two-over-par and represented the first over-par winning total in a year on the pro tour.

Crenshaw was within one stroke of the top spot until he tried to overpower a tee shot on the par-five 16th and hit it into the woods. He finished with a 71-573.

The gallery was with the strong, stocky, 21-year-old blond all the way. There was a gathering of only about 1,500 for the final round that was played in cool, breezy weather, but most were rooting for the young man who had won the San Antonio Texas Open only two weeks before.

Cries of "go get 'em, Ben," and "Charge 'em, Longhorn," and "Best 'em Ben," echoed through the piney woods in this Carolina sandhill country. It was reminiscent of an Arnold Palmer gallery of past years.

"I had to do something pretty spectacular to win," said Crenshaw, who made up 15 strokes in the last three days. "I just wasn't up to it."

"I don't know how in the world I even managed to finish second from where I was. I'm just tickled to death."

He had a shot at victory, trailing by one shot, until he tried to "let it cut real big on my tee shot," on the 16th tee. It's a 504-yard, par-five that he can reach in two. But he hit it in the woods, clipped out, bunkered his third and made a bogey six.

"That pretty well killed my chances," said Crenshaw, a three-time national collegiate champion at the University of Texas. Still, he collected $44,175 from the total purse of $500,000 and pushed his earnings to more than $76,000 in just five starts as a pro.

Westbrook Wins Over Mustangs

WESTBROOK — Westbrook topped Sands, 68-57, in a boys' varsity basketball game here Friday night.

Frosty Floyd had 30 points for the losers while Rich and Moore each counted 18 for the Wildcats.

In the boys' B game, Westbrook also won, 61-52. Rich counted 29 points for Westbrook and Stan Feaster 12 for Sands.

Sands survived a scare to win the girls' contest, 56-55. The outcome was determined in overtime. Rene Roman had 19 points for Sands.

The Sands A boys are 0-2, the B boys 1-1 and the girls 6-3. All three Sands teams play in Stanton Tuesday evening, with action due to begin at 5:30 p.m.

GRID PICKS HERE EARLY

Due to the number of Thursday football games this week, The Herald's football picks contest schedule has been moved ahead one day.

The contest appears in today's Herald, and entry deadline will be Thursday at noon rather than Friday. Entries may be returned to The Herald office or to Coahoma State Bank.

Winchester separates the men...from the boys.

You're a big boy now. And when your taste grows up, your smoke should, too. Winchester is a very mature smoke. Ask any woman. She'll tell you that Winchester is slim and sexy, with a filtered smoothness. Mild and light. She'll tell you that Winchester isn't heavy-handed on aroma. One gentle whiff whispers in her ear: "It's not a cigarette. Not just another little cigar. It's a whole 'nother smoke.' Very adult. And she'll tell you that when you're man enough for Winchester, you're man enough for her.

U.S. Davis Team Meets Australia

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australia's tennis stars are bound for Cleveland Tuesday in their bid to wrest the Davis Cup from the United States.

And leading the contingent is 35-year-old, red-haired Rod Laver who robbed Czechoslovakia in Australia's 4-1 victory in the Davis Cup semifinal.

Laver gained three of those victories in three days and enthralled the 28,000 spectators at the Kooyong grass courts.

Laver beat Wimbledon champion Jan Kodes in the first singles, teamed with 39-year-old Ken Rosewall to defeat Kodes and Vladimir Zednik in the doubles and then rounded it off by beating Jiri Hrebec in the singles Sunday.

Herebec had earlier beaten U.S. titleholder John Newcombe Friday. Newcombe avenged this with a straight 3 set win over Kodes Sunday in the final match.

Laver said: "I think we will do very well against the United States. We all play well indoors and we must have an edge on them."

The Aussie team of Laver, Rosewall, Newcombe, 28, Mal Anderson, 38, Col Dibley, 30, Geoff Masters, 24, and 40-year-old captain-coach Neale Fraser is confident of beating the United States in the final Nov. 30-Dec. 2.

Stopped—Stay Stopped

No U.S. airliner has been skyjacked more than a year now. This is plain evidence that tough security measures are paying off.

The measures include a search of all carry-on luggage, passenger-by-passenger screening and the presence of local police at the check points.

There has been no major complaint from passengers or airlines, and there shouldn't be, since both benefit from the minor inconveniences.

So far, the security checks have relieved potential passengers of 1,600 guns, 1,021 explosives, more than 15,000 knives and 20,000 miscellaneous weapons. Some 2,300 persons have been arrested at boarding gates for making threats against an airline, for possession of narcotics or for immigration or parole violations.

Until 1968, there had been only 12 skyjacking attempts in this country. But that year there were 22 tries, 40 in 1969, 27 in both 1970 and 1971, and 31 in 1972.

The rising numbers and a particularly harrowing episode last November finally brought the tougher measures. The final straw came Nov. 10, 1972 when three heavily armed men took a Southern Airways flight on a 29-hour nightmare.

The violent incident included a shoot out with the FBI, the wounding of the co-pilot, the extortion of $2 million from the airline, a threat to crash the plane, (which still had passengers aboard) into an atomic reactor, and a risky landing with bullet-riddled tires at Havana.

This frightful experience and one the month before involved fleeing felons. It also brought an agreement between the U.S. and Cuba to try each other's aerial pirates or send them home for prosecution.

Assistant Transportation Secretary Benjamin O. Davis Jr., who heads aviation security, is determined that the present measures will not be relaxed. "Without any question what-so-ever, we believe we must remain ever alert and vigilant," Davis said.

The flying public, which pays most of the security costs with a ticket surcharge, surely must agree. The reign of terror in the skies has been stopped and it must stay stopped.

What's In A Name

Trustees of the Howard County Junior College have on the agenda Tuesday noon the consideration of the efficiency of changing the college name and the official symbol for athletic and other team names.

To this end, suggestions have been sought during the past week, and there has been a fairly good response. As usual, there are almost as many different ideas as there are individuals making suggestions. Some have suggested keeping the name just like it is, but several have submitted titles which are longer and even more involved.

We feel that the title should be shortened to avoid or minimize the provincialism but perhaps maintain some connection with past identity. In short, something easy to remember and (selfishly) something easy to get in a headline.

Crossing Main Street at Eighth Street, as reporter Marj Carpenter has written, is enough to start your day off wrong.

restaurant across the street. I tried to edge out for a peek at traffic here once when the sound of a diesel truck barreling down the highway discouraged me.

IT'S THAT intersection where you must stick out the nose of your car to test for traffic, because slant-in parking blocks your view.

Bushes by another hospital partially obscure the view of motorists trying to cross Gregg Street at Eighth. Here, though, it appears someone cut a corner bush back some.

One of the most exciting intersections for Big Spring motorists is not by a hospital, however.

You can get your adrenalin squirting if you try to cross Gregg Street from behind the hill on the east side at Twelfth Street. This spot is like several others in the canyon Spring City but presents a worse danger because of heavy Gregg Street traffic.

To make it more fun for thrill seekers, traffic often is halted by cars entering and exiting a drive-in

I WAS wondering whether the only solution was for everybody to buy vans when Jack Cowen, sports editor, walked into the office. Asked about street mirrors, he hadn't seen any but he mentioned a mirror on a "Muni" golf course fairway by a hill.

Faisal Is Firm

Robert Novak

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia—The exotic meeting in the Red Palace here between the King of the Arabs, surrounded by his Bedouin chieftains, and the German-born American Jew, a scene of contrast and irony, was a dramatic climax — but what followed raised staggering problems.

SECRETARY OF State Henry Kissinger emerged from his two-hour private talk reinforced in all his intuitions: austere King Faisal of Saudi Arabia will not "restore his faith" in the United States until Israel actually withdraws from occupied Arab lands.

For the U.S. — but most particularly for Europe and Japan — those words carried danger. Yet, Henry Kissinger could not shake the King of Saudi Arabia, who crystallized the following points with punctuated brevity (in deep contrast to the shrill rhetoric of some other Arab leaders):

FIRST, he had kept his silence year after year since the Israelis seized the Sinai peninsula, the Golan heights and religious places in East Jerusalem sacred to the leader of Islam.

SECOND, he had done so in faith that the U.S. would respect its long friendship with the Arabs and persuade Israel to do what two American Presidents had repeatedly promised and the United Nations had ordered after the six-day war of 1967.

THIRD, his silence had not endeared him to other Arabs. Now he would accept no more promises, even if he himself were willing to take one more chance, which he was not.

FOURTH, the systematic increase in Saudi oil production was economic folly for his country. It could not spend the income and the earned dollars had a precarious future value less than oil in the ground. Yet he had agreed to a production increase to prevent oil famine in the West. All that was before the recent war.

For his part, Kissinger convinced the King that he was facing a "serious" man of genuine "sincerity" unlike, the King later told intimates, some other Americans who had claimed authority but failed to perform.

KISSINGER opened his two-hour talk with the man whose possession of oil confers frightening power by saying he had read all the private correspondence between the King and three American Presidents: John Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson and Richard Nixon. From that record, said Kissinger, it was embarrassingly clear that the King had reason to complain.

But President Nixon was now unequivocally committed to Israeli withdrawal and he, Kissinger, would not have undertaken the negotiation if not convinced that settlement was possible.

WITH A familiar display of ego, Kissinger informed the King that he was not in the habit of failing and pointed to his success in negotiating an end to American participation in the Vietnam war after four years of work. The two then agreed that a peace conference, preferably in the U.S., should start before the end of the year.

This adamant stand was inescapably clear to us when we saw the King later in an exclusive interview. He declined to agree that the visit marked "a turn of the corner" in the breakdown of Saudi Arabia's confidence in the U.S. He said only that Kissinger had impressed him deeply as a man who meant what he said and that he "hoped" the U.S. was now prepared to deliver.

Those Trusted Swiss Score

GENEVA (AP) — Switzerland emerged as the most trusted nation in a field of eight countries in a recent poll conducted in France, Germany, Italy, Holland and Belgium.

The survey was made by Ronald Inglehart, of Michigan State University, and David Handley, University of Geneva, in cooperation with the European Community Information Center.

Switzerland ranked first with a trust rating of 78 per cent against a negative total of 11 per cent, while the United States received a favorable rating of 69 per cent against 23 per cent unfavorable.

Britain scored 61 and 30 per cent while the Russians had a distrust rating of 68 per cent, with only 23 per cent positive. The Chinese recorded 5 per cent favorable, 74 per cent unfavorable.

Golf Carts And Liability

Hanson and his wife were heading for the clubhouse in a golf cart when she had a sudden urge to stand up. But as she did so, she lost her balance and fell against the tiller. The cart lurched crazily, throwing Hanson to the ground.

PAINFULLY injured, he determined to seek damages from the management of the club. "Considering how unstable their carts are," he argued in a court hearing, "they should have posted a warning against anyone standing up. This they failed to do."

HOWEVER, the court turned down Hanson's claim.

"There are certain obvious dangers," said the court, "against which a warning is not necessary. The seller of a knife is not required to warn against cutting oneself, or that a hammer will hurt if a person is hit with it."

WITH THE growing popularity of golf carts, more accident cases are finding their way into court. Generally speaking, claims for damages have not been too successful, often because the blame lies with the victim himself. But if the mechanism is faulty, compensation may indeed be collected from either the club management or the cart manufacturer.

IN ANOTHER case, the golf cart was missing the rubber pad that normally covers the brake pedal. When the driver tried to use the brake, his spiked shoe slid off the pedal and hit the accelerator, causing the cart to run into another golfer.

This time, the victim collected from the club management. Grounds: negligent maintenance of equipment.

ONE CLUB tried to block any and all claims by including a "we are not responsible" clause in its rental form. But the clause was so well hidden in printed verbiage that a court later found it to be null and void.

The court said enforcing such a clause against an injured golfer, unaware of its existence, "would truly be unconscionable."

A Devotion For Today . .

Who is sufficient for these things? (2 Corinthians 2:16)

PRAYER: Thank You, God, for the hope of a better tomorrow, and for Your love and Your strength given me for a good today. Amen.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I lost control of my temper last night. And I had good reason — I found out my husband had been cheating on me for months. Did Jesus ever lose his temper? I think I read where He did. G.M. St. Paul makes an interesting statement to the Ephesian Christians (4:26). He says, "If you are angry, do not let anger lead you into sin. Do not let sunset find you still nursing it."

The Bible here does not forbid displeasure, but it sets up two controls. The first is to keep anger clear of bitterness, spite, or hatred. The second is to check daily on whether you have handled malevolent feelings. There's an old Latin proverb, "He who goes angry to bed has the devil for a bedfellow."

Of course, there are many irritations in life. They become prime opportunities for Satan to lead us into evil passion. But when aroused by some proper cause, and if under the control of a holy nature, anger can flash forth with a marvelous power against wickedness, untruth and dishonor.

Jesus was exercised about several things (see Mark 3:5 and John 2:15), but there were no sinful elements in His divine mind.

My dear lady, it appears you have just cause for concern. That marital problem of yours must be handled. Be careful, however, being the Christian you say you are, that your anger is not without cause, or without measure, or without justice — and make it always consistent with love.

THAT'S FUNNY... I COULD HAVE SWORN IT WAS IN HERE SOMEWHERE...

Capsules From Yesterday

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is time's best friend. Steadfastly it stands by you for a lifetime, helping to alleviate the wounds of the past, helping to reconcile you to the wounds of today.

It does not desert you under pressure. It will not betray you to your foes. It is true to you as your own breath. Without memory neither you nor all your yesterdays would have any meaning.

But you've got enough memories for life to mean a lot to you if you can look back and remember when —

Only the secretary of the top boss in the office had an electric typewriter. It was her biggest sign of prestige.

Men's neckties were too thin to hide a ketchup spot on their shirtfront.

The average child could recite more Mother Goose rhymes than television commercials. When they took up the Sunday collection in a rural church, the only sound heard was the clinking of coins never the rustle of folding money.

In the average home there was more dust on the dictionary than the family Bible.

When a city girl visited her country cousins they thought she was stuck up because she used dental floss instead of toothpicks.

One of the ordeals of childhood in winter was to have to take a shivery bath in a wash-tub on the kitchen floor every Saturday night — whether you felt like you needed a bath or not.

Everybody in the family liked to sop up the chuck steak gravy on his plate with bread even though mother insisted it wasn't genteel. There were still more people in America who knew how to hitch up a horse and buggy than could drive an automobile.

It was cheaper to take a little girl to a public park because all she wanted was a gas-filled bright balloon. Little boys, on the other hand, insisted on having a skull cap with a propeller on it that whirled when they ran.

The farmer could complain with some justice that the government did something for everybody but him.

An ice cream cone cost a nickel — and was worth it. Ice cream itself came only in three flavors — chocolate, strawberry and vanilla.

You could look at a teen-ager and tell at first glance what sex it was. Those were the days — remember?

Don't Listen To Killjoys

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it the truth that small babies only smile when they have gas? Or is this just an "old wives' tale"?

N.C. — Old wives' tale. And don't let the kill-joys bother you. I've been hearing that old wheeze for decades and don't believe there's an ounce of truth in it. Of course you have to value distinguish between a smile and grimace, and a baby may make distressed faces if he has a bubble of gas bothering him. But a smile is a smile, and it comes as naturally as tears.

A small baby has only about four expressions: smiles, crying, a pout, and a screwing up of the face when he feels fussy. So take the smiles at face value.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 41, look 30, but my neck looks like it belonged on a woman about 55. How do I go about contacting a plastic surgeon, and how long would I be confined? — Mrs. P.J.

Best way is to ask your regular physician to refer you to a reliable plastic surgeon. Alternatively, ask the county medical society to give you names of available ones. Only the surgeon could tell you about the time you'd be out of circulation — after he sees what the situation is.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have reactive hypoglycemia (low blood sugar). Would small amounts of sugar affect me adversely? — G.Z.

Sugar intensifies the trouble — can give temporary relief, but it brings on a new attack sooner, so avoid sweets.

Low blood sugar — a puzzler until correctly identified — is often the cause of faintness, headaches, visual and emotional disturbances. To learn how it can be identified and brought under control, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Help For Hypoglycemia," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Optimism Or Obstinacy

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — A little more than two weeks ago the New York Stock Exchange distributed to member firms the consensus view of 46 leading forecasters. Not one of them foresaw lower stock prices in 1974.

Asked by the exchange's own economist, William Freund, "What are your feelings about the direction of stock prices in 1974?" about 95 per cent responded that the market would rise, while 5 per cent said there'd be no change.

SINCE THE SURVEY results were released to member firm planning officers the market has, so to speak, run out of power. About two weeks later the Dow Jones industrial average was nearly 100 points lower and falling.

Such a broken-cable descent is enough to shake anyone, even some of the hardy foreign investors who had been pouring their money into the market during September and October. A fall from that height doesn't produce a bounce.

Nevertheless, a random sampling of economists and market buffs of varying credentials, some of whom might have been included in Freund's survey, shows a remarkable degree of optimism, or maybe obstinacy.

While conceding the very rough estimate that for each percentage of energy shortfall you can deduct 1 per cent or more from the Gross National Product, they generally maintained their confidence.

Some in fact were already looking over the valley to the peaks beyond, maintaining that the energy shortage would galvanize the nation, spur it to a renewed dedication, and cause the economy to shed some old angle irons.

DOMESTIC energy will now be produced in quantity rather than lying inert, said one. Production will take equal billing with ecology, said another. Production with ecology, said a third, will be equal.

One forecaster who conducts daily polls and who is still synthesizing the results of interviews over the past few days went so far as to suggest the likelihood of a stock market boom beginning sometime in the next few months.

He maintained that in terms of mental attitude the American public has been in a recession for a month or so. He argued that when that point is reached, many people begin making their plans for the coming expansion.

A LOT OF PEOPLE, he said, are looking at those low price-earnings ratios and for the first time in years are feeling the attraction of a little speculation.

Prodded for details, some forecasters maintained they were working night and day during the past week and were still in the midst of their analyses. Therefore, they said, it was difficult to document their optimism.

A state of mind, perhaps, and maybe a very odd one, too.

As analysts, institutions and individuals reach their conclusions over the next week a more conclusive pattern should emerge. Is it conceivable that all this bad news can be absorbed?

Exec Praises Technology

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — At a time when the public seems to be growing uneasy about science and technology, one U.S. business leader is urging his fellow businessmen to hail technology's role in our society.

Addressing an industry meeting here, William T. Yivisaker, president of Gould Inc., praised progress science has brought. "Technology has eliminated disease and pestilence, made deserts bloom and cities flourish, substituted machines for muscle, created affluence for the many and hope for all and provided the foundation on which the promise of our society now stands."

Yivisaker asserted that persons in our society today can "march to a different drummer precisely because technology makes it possible for there to do so. In no society before this has it been possible for the common man to select life-styles like coats on a rack."

Sinatra Seemed Happy To Be Back At 'Same Old Stand'

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The last song Frank Sinatra sang in public before he "retired" in mid-1971 was "Angel Eyes." The last words of the tune are, "I feel very 'liberated,' but I'm not a handwagon type of person. I don't wave banners. I believe in people being judged as individuals," she said.

"scuse me, while I . . . disappear."

He sang them softly, sadly, and then disappeared from show business. But Sunday night he came roaring out of retirement in a one-hour NBC special that bears repeating and soon for the unfortunates who missed it.

The chairman of the board is indeed back, and so is the super phrasing, the taste, the sensitivity that have made him a favorite of not only the public but most musicians today.

Before canonization proceedings begin, it must be said there were a few spots — on 11 ballads — where Sinatra's voice seemed slightly rough. And he was noticeably flat, an uncommon occurrence for him, on the top note of "Here's That Rainy Day."

These hits we've picked were buried by the sheer fun of watching the 55-year-old singer get back to work, backed by a fine, swinging band and good arrangements by Gordon Jenkins and Don Costa.

Sinatra, whose show was taped at Paramount Studios before a black-tie audience of friends, seemed exuberantly happy to be back at what he called "the same old stand."

And, after noting that his retirement "seemed like a good idea at the time," he promptly retired, kicked off with a collection of his old hits.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — "Five years is not enough," says Irma Perez of the prison term assessed former Dallas policeman Darrell Cain for fatally shooting her 12-year-old nephew, Santos Rodriguez, while questioning him in a squad car.

But Cain's lawyer, Phil Burleson, contends that any prison time might be a death sentence because Cain has ready-made enemies behind the walls of Huntsville State Penitentiary.

Defense Spending

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Health care is pushing national defense for the position of No. 1 U.S. industry.

"Americans today are spending $83 billion annually for medical care," says David A. Jones, chairman and chief executive officer of Extencare Inc., the hospital management firm. The U. S. budgeted $85 billion for national defense in 1973.

Jones said health is expected to pass the national defense figure "in a short time." Hospital bills, at $32 billion annually, account for the largest portion of the national health care total, he explains.

Extencare currently is spending $11 million on construction of 20 new hospitals.

SHE FEELS VERY 'LIBERATED' Call Her Susan The Narc

WASHINGTON (AP) — Call her Susan. That's not her name but it will do. She doesn't want you to know her real name because that might tip off her enemies—big city drug dealers.

She also doesn't want her parents to discover what she has become—a narcotics agent.

This diminutive young woman with the smiling blue eyes and the black hair tumbling past her shoulders is a narc? She was as of Friday when she was graduated as the outstanding student in a class of 40 completing the federal Drug Enforcement Administration's training course.

There was one other woman in the class and there are other women agents, but their numbers are few.

For Susan, the choice was simply a case of doing what she wanted to do.

"I don't believe in trying to recruit women just for the sake of having a certain number," she said. "There are certainly opportunities for women as agents, but it's very demanding work. It would be very difficult to have a family and do this job."

At 23, Susan has made her choice. "No, I don't want a family, in the sense of having children."

Her soft voice and gentle demeanor belie the grit that must run deep inside as she pursued a secret goal and brushed aside the discouragements.

SECRET

Yes, she said, people suggested that perhaps a woman should not aspire to be a narc.

"No one tried to block me," she went on. "It was more or less trying to be very realistic. Let's say I was forewarned that there's opposition."

With Susan, it never was a women's liberation issue in the political sense of campaigning for change. But perhaps it was in the cultural sense of breaking away from the old norms.

children, competing and winning, a pattern still unusual enough to raise eyebrows in her native Midwest.

"I feel very 'liberated,' but I'm not a handwagon type of person. I don't wave banners. I believe in people being judged as individuals," she said.

"As a college junior, she chose her course but kept it secret from friends and family while finishing school and taking temporary jobs until the DEA job came through.

She told her parents she was coming to work in Washington, but never told them why.

"They would only worry," she said.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
AKJ8 ♠ AQJ7 ♠ KQ5 ♠ AQ3
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
2 NT Pass 4 NT Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. North's response was not a request for action but a quantitative raise in no trump. It requests you to go on to show if you are holding a maximum two no trump opening bid, but with only 22 points, an absolute minimum for your opening bid, you must decline the invitation.

Q. 2—North-South vulnerable, as South you hold:
AK43 ♠ 875 ♠ AJ93 ♠ 854
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid?
A.—One heart. Over the takeout double, you do not have the values for a bid of one no trump, which would show 8-10 points. Nor are your diamonds good enough to pass for penalties. Therefore, you are forced to bid a three-card suit, and you should choose your lowest ranking. Remember, you are not really bidding a suit of your own, but supporting a suit partner has shown with his takeout double.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
AKQ93 ♠ AJ74 ♠ 83 ♠ K102
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♠ Dble. Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Partner's double jump does not show strength, but a long suit without too much in high cards. While you have a superb fit for partner, you hold nothing in reserve for your takeout double. Therefore, you should pass.

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
AK95 ♠ 872 ♠ AQJ10 ♠ KQ94
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♠ Pass ?

What is your response?
A.—Two clubs. This is preferred to two diamonds because it leaves you slightly better prepared to handle the subsequent auction. Partner is free to introduce a diamond suit if he has one, and if he raises clubs with three hearts.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
AK95 ♠ 872 ♠ KQJ93 ♠ AQ872
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♠ Pass ?

What is your response?
A.—This time you have two five-card suits, and your intention should be to bid both of them. Accordingly, you bid them in the natural order—the highest-ranking suit first. If you bid clubs first, the auction could get uncomfortably high if the hand is a merit.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
AKJ73 ♠ AQ92 ♠ 863 ♠ AK102
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Two spades. We would prefer a holding of four trumps to raise responder's suit, but an alternative of one no trump with a weak doubton in the unbid suit is more unappealing. With three trumps to an honor and a ruffing value, we have nothing to be ashamed of.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
AK982 ♠ 87 ♠ 85 ♠ AK87632
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid?
A.—One spade. You do not have the values for a two-over-one response of two clubs. Should partner rebid one trump, you can then take out to two clubs, and partner should get the message that you have an unbalanced hand with clubs possibly longer than spades.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
AK892 ♠ AQJ93 ♠ 85 ♠ AK7
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. Partner raises to be lost in the minor suits, he could neither respond one spade nor raise hearts. A rebid of two hearts over one no trump would suggest a six-card heart suit. (Look for answers Monday)

TRAFFIC ON TEXAS ROADS TOP KILLER

Farming Accidents Take Three Lives

By The Associated Press
Farming accidents claimed three lives and a train wreck took another as Texas counted a total of 30 violent deaths during the weekend.

Traffic on streets and highways was the worst killer as usual, accounting for a dozen fatalities, and there were 11 homicides.

The toll was recorded between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

SHOT IN CHEST

Gunfire killed Mike L. Russell, 27, of Dallas, a desk clerk at a University Park motel, in what police said may have been a battle with a holdup man Sunday night. His body was found with a pistol, emptied of two shots, at his hand behind a locked cash drawer after motel guests heard several shots.

Bartender Carlos Camacho was shot in the chest and killed at a San Antonio lounge Sunday evening. Witnesses told police he scuffled with a customer.

A young railroad engineer, Jim Bennett, 24, of Houston, died Sunday when two Southern Pacific freight trains collided head-on a mile south of Lufkin. Six other men were injured, none believed seriously.

GIN VICTIM

Pat Rameur, 49, of Brownfield suffocated Saturday when a bin of cotton burs was accidentally dumped on him at a gin where he worked. The body was recovered about three hours later.

Ollie Lee Johnson, 47, of Lubbock was killed Sunday when the car in which she was a passenger was involved in a rear-end accident. Six other members of the Robert Lee Johnson family were injured. The accident occurred about three miles west of Sweetwater.

Richard Kensington, 21, of Lubbock, and Jack R. Bailey of Kilgore, were killed Sunday when fertilizer spreading machines they were driving collided in a field about nine miles northwest of Dimmitt.

Robbie Ray Hooker, 47, was shot to death Sunday night in Houston. Police said the case will be referred directly to a grand jury without the filing of a formal charge.

John Sanchez, 63, of Houston died of injuries suffered Sunday when his pickup truck hit a fence, a utility pole and a tree.

Travis B. Musinger, 49, of Houston was killed Sunday when his car hit a signpost and then a house. Officers said Musinger lost control of his vehicle when a bed frame on a pickup truck shifted and hit Musinger's windshield.

BUTCHER

James Allen Adcock, 19, a Houston butcher, was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision on a city street. Four other persons were injured, two seriously.

Manuel Flores, 31, of Houston was shot to death Saturday in a lounge. Police sought a 29-year-old man.

The Rev. Leslie Gant, 66, of Eagle Lake was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision on a Houston street.

The body of a man found in a Houston park was identified Sunday as that of Jerry Fay Gatewood, 38, of Houston. Police said he had been beaten to death.

HUNTING TRIP

L. J. Frost Jr., 41, of Beaumont was fatally wounded Sunday during a hunting trip. Witnesses said Frost was dressed in brown and his son in white, and a movement by the pair in brush was mistaken for a deer.

The accident occurred about 10 miles south of Beaumont. Police said they were looking for two persons in the strangling of Louis Easley, 42, of Houston. The body was found in his room Saturday. Officers said his wallet was empty.

Walter Spencer Davis, 41, of Houston was killed Saturday in a car-truck collision on a Houston freeway service road.

Floyd Livingston, 28, of Houston was killed Saturday night when his pickup truck overturned and caught fire.

Two Henrietta residents died late Friday when two cars collided head-on just outside of Henrietta in North Central Texas on U.S. 82. They were Bobby Herman Rice, 18, and Roger Lewis Bachman, 21.

Douglas Bryant, 22, of Wichita Falls died Friday when his motorcycle collided with a car and both vehicles burst into flames at Wichita Falls.

In another motorcycle-car crash, Wess Ward, 15, of Greenville died Friday night in that Northeast Texas city. Herbert E. Lowery, 22, was killed late Friday night when his car went out of control and slammed into a culvert.

Houston police were trying to identify a man who was shot to death by the operator of a lounge shortly before midnight Friday. Officers said the lounge operator told them the man at-

Crime Curbing Drive Opens
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced that his office is starting what he called an English-style program to curb burglaries in six medium-sized Texas cities. The "Governor's Crime Prevention Program" in Abilene, Amarillo, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Odessa and Waco will cost $438,543 for one year, all from federal funds. Briscoe said the effort will use a concept that "has been employed successfully in England for 20 years" but is relatively new to the United States. Crime prevention units will be established in each city to analyze statistics, provide a security inspection service, train policemen in crime prevention and provide information to citizens.

Plane Crash Kills Oil Exec

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Christian F. Dohm, 60, of Huser, a former oil company executive, died Saturday when the plane he was flying crashed shortly after takeoff from the Bogalusa airport.

Witnesses said the plane looked as if it developed trouble soon after being airborne. They said it started rolling and was gliding back toward the airfield when it dropped about 300 yards short of the runway and disintegrated while clipping several trees.

Dohm was a former president of American International Oil Co., a subsidiary of Standard of Indiana and an affiliate of American Oil Co. He reportedly left the firm about a decade ago.

He was also a former president of Trans World International Petroleum Co.

IN BID TO PUT WATERGATE BEHIND HIM Nixon Embraces Role Of Underdog

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP)

President Nixon's 1973 campaign to put Watergate behind him once and forever has begun in earnest with the embattled former Saturday in which he President embracing the role of underdog.

"NOT A CROOK" After holding an unorthodox marks of a quest for votes. Resorting to the sort of regional appeal beloved by politicians, Nixon paid tribute to the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League as because it won five straight games after opening the season with one win and three losses. Perhaps, he mused to a Macon audience, he should talk to

Falcon coach Norm Vann Brocklin "and find out how they did it."

Although the Macon stop produced a sometimes-noisy demonstration by several hundred young people who chanted for resignation or impeachment, the large crowds of Georgians who turned out were generally friendly, if far less enthusiastic than most campaign gatherings.

PRIVATE HURDLES
After a week of private hurdles in Washington with congressional Republicans and selected southern Democrats, Nixon has gone public with a Watergate counterattack that is expected to produce more public appearances, sessions with the news media and presidential statements.

Nixon's decision to go marching through Georgia, officially to honor the 90th birthday of retired Democratic Rep. Carl Vinson and the 100th anniversary of the Mercer University Law School, was made within recent days.

In similar fashion, the President gave little advance notice of his Saturday TV-radio appearance at the Disney World, Fla., convention of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

Both stops, plus a Tuesday stopover at a Republican governors conference in Memphis en route back to Washington, were fitted quickly into the blueprint for Nixon's most ambitious effort yet to dispel the Watergate cloud that has enveloped him.

CARBON COPY
The President drew his biggest crowd, generously estimated at up to 20,000, upon arrival Sunday at Robins Air Force Base near Macon. After being presented with petitions of support bearing 37,000 signatures, Nixon made a stump speech that, in parts, was a carbon copy of some he delivered during the 1972 campaign that won him a landslide victory. For instance:

"Let me tell you that, because we have opened communication with countries that we completely disagree with in philosophy, the People's Republic of China and the Soviet Union, I believe that we can build a peace that will last, not just 10 years, but will last for a generation and more..."

For the President, the weekend's big event, however, was the Saturday appearance at the APME convention. There he declared to his TV-radio audience:

TAX TANGLE
"I made my mistakes, but in all my years of public life, I have never profited from public service. I have earned every cent. And in all my years of public life, I have never obstructed justice..."

"People have got to know whether or not their president is a crook. Well, I am not a crook..."
Giving his version of some of the most controversial Watergate-related matters, in response to questions from the assembled editors, Nixon acknowledged for the first time he paid nominal federal income taxes — apparently a total of $1,670 — during 1970 and 1971. But he said his 1969 taxes were $79,000.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson advised him, said Nixon, to donate his vice presidential papers to the government and claim tax deductions for their appraised value, a practice formerly permitted but now barred. Nixon said he acted before the ban went into effect and "no question has been raised by the Internal Revenue about it..."

Nixon said again, at the outset of the new conference, that he will not resign "as long as I am physically able to handle the position..."

'A BAD RAP'
Nixon argued that congressional Democrats were the driving force for higher milk supports and contended his administration was getting "a bad rap."

Discussing the absence of recordings for two Watergate-related conversations, Nixon said he was providing other tapes and documents "to provide the evidence that would have existed had we found the tapes."

Nixon acknowledged he once ordered Secret Service wiretapping and surveillance of his brother, Donald, and suggested without elaboration that foreign interests might have been trying to exert "improper influence" through Donald Nixon. He said his brother became aware of the surveillance and, upon being given an explanation, approved of it.

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD WANT AD

1-IT'S ALWAYS BEST to start your advertisement with the name of the article or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale, start your advertisement with the location.

2-BE CLEAR. Readers respond more quickly and favorably when given complete or definite information. One of the very most important aspects of any advertisement is to include the price.

3-MAKE IT EASY for the reader/prospect to reach you. Always insert your telephone number or your name and address. If you do not have regular hours, give a preferred time to have prospects contact you.

4-THE GREATEST READER ATTENTION can be secured for your advertisement by using consecutive insertions. Play safe - a six-day order is best and costs less! There are also special monthly rates for those who are desirous of keeping their names and offers before the public every day. You can stop your ad in the event of results, and then you pay only for the days it is published.

5-PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask yourself what you would like to know about your offer. The answer you give will make a good classified ad.

6-CLASSIFIED readers are already interested in buying your used or new merchandise. These people have the money and are already in the market to buy. So give them every advantage you can with good ad copy.

7-WANT ADS THAT FAIL to bring satisfaction do so, not through any lack of readership, but because they are often carelessly worded and do not contain enough information to get prompt action.

8-TO PLACE YOUR ADVERTISEMENT in The Big Spring Herald, where you reach Howard County's greatest Classified Want Ad audience, call 263-7121. It's easy as calling a friend because our Ad-Takers are schooled to be helpful in such matters.

Clothes Reveal One's Personality & Poise

"Everyone is born equal, and has a choice in determining their personality, poise and grooming," said Miss Sherry Mullin, county home demonstration agent, when she was guest speaker Tuesday for Center Point HD Club.

"The real you is shown in your selection of garments and the importance you place on costume," continued Miss Mullin. She said age, social and economical status and individual tastes are reflected in a person's attire, and that most clothes chosen by women tend to send out a message of self-confidence, free spirit and good taste.

Miss Mullin said statistics show that first impressions take only about 30 seconds to form and are 90 per cent accurate. She showed slides depicting various fashion trends, and told some considerations to make when buying clothing.

During business it was announced the annual Christmas party sponsored by the HD Council will be at 2 p.m., Dec. 3 in the fellowship hall, First United Methodist Church, Center Point and Airport clubs will furnish a tree and set up gift displays.

The meeting was held in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, with Mrs. Bob Wren presiding. She announced the annual talent fair for elderly county residents will be from 10-4 p.m., Dec. 1 at Highland Center Mall. The "fair" will feature baked goods and craft items made by elderly citizens.

Mrs. Garland Sanders won the attendance prize. Guests were Mrs. Roy Hobb and Mrs. Ray Swann of Coahoma. The women will meet for a "bake, make and grow" exchange at 2 p.m., Nov. 27 in the home of Mrs. Wren, 700 E. 14th.

Ideas Given For Christmas Foods

Mrs. June Williamson, Midland, conducted a food training program for the general public from 2-3:30 p.m., Friday in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. She demonstrated several recipes for Christmas entertaining, including baked goods in shapes planned to please youngsters. Program title was "Christmas Foods and Decorations, sponsored by County Home Demonstration Clubs. About 45 people attended.

Donald Overtons Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Overton, 207 Main, Coahoma, announce the birth of a daughter, Donni Corrine, at 7:52 p.m., Nov. 15, at Medical Center Memorial Hospital, Big Spring. The infant weighed 5 pounds, 5/8 ounces.

Program Spotlights Changing Fashions

"All Together Now" was the title of a program about fashion for Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi at the Pizza Inn Monday.

Mrs. Nancy Harrington discussed trend-setters of the fashion world. She said many styles of previous eras are returning to modern clothes, such as platform shoes of the 1940's. "Geographical location plays an important part in how people dress," said Mrs. Harrington. "Here in the Southwest, we, naturally, wear lighter weight clothing than people in the North." She said movies often start fads in clothing, such as the knit caps which gained popularity after "Love Story" was released.

Mrs. Harrington distributed pictures of styles from clothing catalogues, asking members to tell which ones they would or

Lost Appetite

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How does one discourage someone (a relative) from sending cookies, cakes, homemade preserves, and other goodies on any and all occasions? (Especially Thanksgiving and Christmas.)

This person is a dear and generous soul, but her kitchen is far from clean, she has a household of small dogs running around, and her place smells like a kennel.

I know she spends a lot of time and energy (not to mention the cost of the in-redients) on these things, and we just throw them out. I suppose it wouldn't kill us to eat these gifts, but I get a mental picture of that filthy kitchen and all those dogs licking the cookie dough off her fingers, and that does it. Any suggestions?

W E A K STOMACH IN W.VA.
DEAR WEAK: You could tell her you're counting your calories (isn't everybody?) and to please help you resist temptation by ceasing and desisting.

DEAR ABBY: We are the parents of six adult children. When our youngest was a senior in college we moved to a retirement community, hoping to make a new life for ourselves. Our two youngest moved in with us — temporarily, they said. That was two years ago, and they are still with us.

We couldn't afford a very large place, so we are very crowded. Not only that, but we still don't have the leisure life I had looked forward to.

Abby, how do you tell two grown children to get out on their own? I would like to set a specific date — like next Monday.

My husband doesn't have the courage to tell the boys to leave, but he feels the same as I. What's the answer? How do other parents handle this delicate situation?

Perhaps I should mention these boys are nonpaying guests.

GOOD OLD MOM
DEAR MOM: Say, "John and Jim" (unless, of course, their names are Bob and Tom). "It's time you left the nest, so spread your wings and take off."

"Freedom Has Been Taken For Granted"

What is attained too cheaply is esteemed too lightly," said Mrs. W. T. Barber, speaking Thursday to 1905 Hyperion Club at the home of Mrs. H. B. Reagan, 806 W. 16th.

"For many generations, Americans have taken freedom for granted," continued Mrs. Barber. "It is a way of life for us, and we seldom think of it one way or another. Perhaps because freedom cost us nothing, we do not value it as we should."

In her program, "Respect for Country," Mrs. Barber gave a brief history of American freedoms. She said America was actually born in Europe, in the hearts of oppressed men who dreamed of a land where they could be free.

"The going was not easy," said Mrs. Barber. "The dearness of a thing gives it value and even with all their hardships, the brave men and women who first came to America found the dream increasingly dear."

In January, 1776, Thomas Paine issued a Clarion Call to American colonists in his pamphlet, "Common Sense." It was a 50-page argument for independence. Thousands of copies were sold, and people read it and hailed it as their unspoken thoughts. On July 4, 1776 in Philadelphia, Pa., the Declaration of Independence was adopted, declaring the United Colonies as free and independent states.

"The Declaration of Independence, drafted by Thomas Jefferson, is one of the greatest statements of democratic principles ever written," said Mrs. Barber. "It was the birth certificate of the United States. The struggle for independence lasted eight long and desperate years."

In May, 1787, delegates from the states gathered in Independence Hall to draft a document for the federal government of the new United States. For four months, with George Washington presiding, the 55 men labored to resolve their differences. On Sept. 17, 1787, the Constitution of the United States was adopted and signed. The Liberty Bell announced the signing.

"No country has a beginning such as America had," said Mrs. Barber. "The cause was good and the principles just. Everything about America bore the mark of honor."

"Today, are we as a nation losing sight of our origin?", the speaker asked. "Have we become so rich and powerful, so involved with other things, that we no longer feel patriotism? In recent years we have seen our "flag of liberty" burned by Americans. We have seen our national government in chaos, our president reviled and our vice president resign."

Mrs. Barber said perhaps Americans' material wealth and power has contributed to the rise and growth of a class of Americans who care only for themselves.

She said perhaps the country is afflicted with the disease of apathy.

"Freedom is not free," concluded Mrs. Barber. "It is kept only at the cost of courage and eternal vigilance. We, the people, are crucial. It is up to us to see that America lives up to her ideals, aims and goals."

Mrs. Miller Harris presided during business, and Mrs. Clyde Angel was cohostess. Mrs. Lillian Dawson was introduced as a new member. Mrs. Garner McAdams was a guest.

The next meeting will be at 3 p.m., Dec. 13 in the home of Mrs. Preston Harrison.

Rook Club Has Three-Way Tie

There was a three-way tie for high score Friday afternoon when the Rook Club met in the home of Mrs. C. R. Moad, 702 Abram. Those tied for first place were Mrs. S. P. Jones, Mrs. J. L. Terry and Mrs. Isla Davis.

Mrs. Hugh Duncan was a guest. The group will meet for a Christmas luncheon and party at 12:30 p.m., Dec. 21 in the home of Mrs. S. R. Nobles, 405 Washington. Gifts will be exchanged.

Daughter Born To Don Tylers

Mr. and Mrs. Don Tyler of Garland announce the birth of a daughter, Kelli Chari, born Oct. 27 at Presbyterian Hospital, Mesquite, weighing 7 pounds, 5/8 ounces. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Downs of Anton. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Anita O'Brien of Bangs, formerly of Big Spring, and Ray Tyler of Garland.
