GOVERNOR

Wallace

To Run For Third Term

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace has made up his mind to run for an unprecedented third term as governor. He has told friends he plans an active campaign next year despite the paralysis caused by a 1972 assassination attempt.

The 54-year-old governor, who is confined to a wheelchair most of the time, has steadfastly declined to confirm or deny the speculation that he will seek re-election next year. But The Associated Press learned that he will be a candidate.

After the gubernatorial election — and Wallace is a heavy favorite at the moment — the governor will turn his thoughts to the 1976 presidential election. Both Wallace and his most trusted friends say no decision has been made yet about a possible bid for the Democratic nomination.

Wallace's formal announcement probably will be withheld until mid-January.

Despite the paralysis in his legs from the assassination attempt during the 1972 presidential race, Wallace plans an active campaign, making at least one appearance a day and sometimes more.

The governor already has undertaken a busy schedule of public appearances. Behind a specially designed lectern, he speaks standing upright, braced from behind by leather straps.

Bus Believed Stolen By Six Inmates Found

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas police Saturday said they had recovered a school bus believed to have been stolen by six youths who escaped Friday from the Texas Youth Council reform school at Gatesville.

Police said an employee of the Casa View branch of the Dallas Public Library reported finding the bus in the library's parking lot when she reported to work Saturday morning.

The six, all inmates of the Mountain View Home for Boys, fled the Paul Quinn Gymnasium Friday night. They were spectators at a basketball game.

Shortly thereafter, a shotgun and shells were taken in a burglary in the vicinity and six persons answering the descriptions of the youths were seen nearby.

CHEER FUND BUILDS UP

The Christmas Cheer fund pyramided Saturday, at which time an additional $2 was added to the drive.

Biggest gift was a check for $100, presented by the Big Spring Wholesale Beer Distributors Association. In addition, the local Desk and Derrick Club forwarded a check for $42.

The money is used to purchase Christmas baskets for needy families and toys for the underprivileged.

Checks can be forwarded to The Herald.

President Discloses His Personal Finances

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's auditors have concluded he made a $117,370 profit on a 1970 San Clemente land deal, but the President paid no taxes on it, saying other lawyers and accountants told him at the time there was no capital gain.

Nixon disclosed this Saturday as he released a mass of personal financial data and allowed inspection of his tax returns. He asked congressional experts to judge whether he owes back taxes on the California land sale, and whether he acted legally in claiming huge tax deductions for donation of his vice presidential papers to the government.

PLUS INTEREST
If the House-Senate taxation committee decides against him, aides said Nixon would voluntarily pay back taxes. These could amount to more than $250,000, plus interest.

The half-million-dollar deduction for donation of the papers is the chief reason Nixon has paid minimal federal income taxes since taking office — including less than $6,000 in the last three years.

His tax returns also show he reported no gain in the complex San Clemente land transaction with friends C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo and Robert Abplanalp. No money changed hands in the deal, but a mortgage was canceled on the portion of the estate Nixon kept.

Moving to answer a swirl of allegations about his personal finances, the White House issued a stack of statements, reports, audits and 50 private documents in what Nixon called the most comprehensive and exhaustive financial disclosure ever made by a president.

"The confidentiality of my private finances is far less important to me than the confidence of the American people in the integrity of the President," he said in a written statement.

'FALSE RUMORS'
His statement recited the "false rumors" he said the released material would rebut.

"... That campaign contributions were converted to my personal use, that campaign funds were used in the purchase of my home in San Clemente, that I have hidden away a secret $1-million investment portfolio, that I sheltered the income on which my daughter, Tricia, should have paid taxes, and that $10 million in federal funds was spent on my homes ..."

The data he supplied did answer many questions — but the President himself acknowledged that he also raised new questions and probably would spark more controversy, saying:

"Even the men who have advised me in these matters and who have prepared by financial records, statements and tax returns have disagreements of professional opinion among themselves."

TAX QUIZ
The data Nixon made public, and the tax returns he allowed newsmen to inspect but not make photocopies of, spotlighted the tax questions.

The major points to emerge: —An audit he ordered last summer concluded he had a $117,370 gain on the December 1970 sale of a portion of his San Clemente, Calif., estate, to a pair of close friends. He said he reported no capital gain at the time because other tax lawyers and accountants, using different methods and valuations, told him he made no profit.

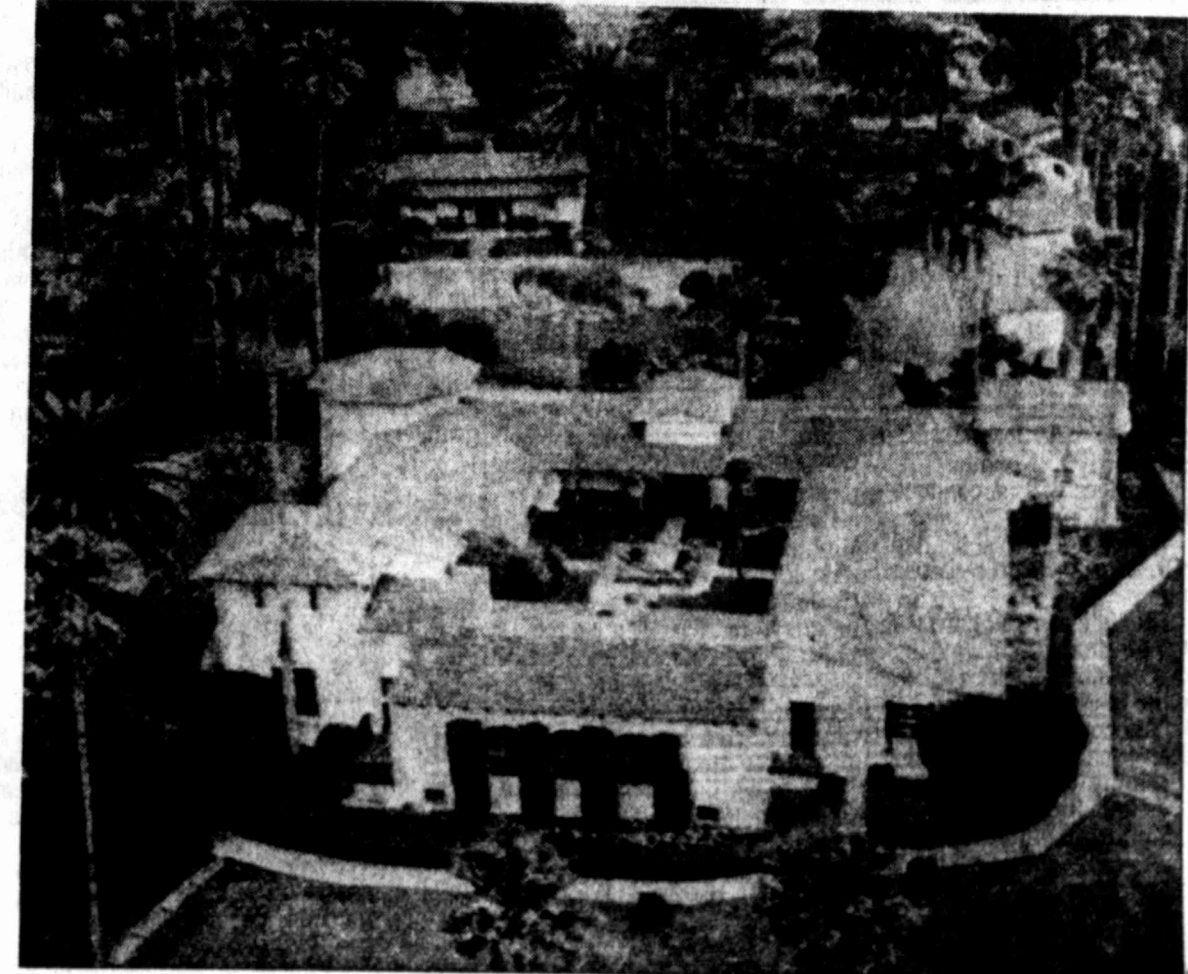

—Likewise, he said questions have been raised about his lawyers' advice that he could legally claim $482,918 in deductions from 1969 through 1972 on donation of his vice presidential papers and that he reduce sharply his federal income tax bill.

INCOME
—Nixon said he was asking the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation to independently review both the capital gain and donation issues and decide whether "my tax returns should have shown different results. Aides said the committee had agreed, and Nixon said, "I will abide by the committee's judgement."

—Presidential aides said if the committee decides against Nixon, he will file amended returns and pay the additional tax of up to $250,000. That is more than three times the total federal income tax he has paid since taking office — $72,882 for 1969, $793 for 1970, $878 for 1971 and $4,298 for 1972.

NEW DATA ON WESTERN WHITE HOUSE — In releasing his financial statements to the public, President Richard Nixon revealed that he wrote off 25 per cent of the upkeep on his San Clemente, Calif., estate, part of which is shown in this 1969 aerial, as a tax deduction. He also contended that the government only spent $68,000 on his San Clemente home and $635,000 on surrounding grounds, while the military spent $6 million to build and maintain the Western White House office complex on adjacent government property.

STALKED NATION FOR YEARS

Energy Crisis: Why Did It Have To Happen?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The energy crisis, so suddenly upon us now, has in fact stalked the nation for 25 years like a mugger waiting to pounce.

And we, meanwhile, have been walking down a darkening alley, choosing to ignore those footsteps behind us.

The United States started down that dark alley around 1947 when, with the exuberance of a Las Vegas winner, it went on a postwar building-and-buying binge that sent energy consumption racing ahead of domestic energy production for the first time.

From that point onward, the United States became increasingly dependent on imports of foreign oil.

"There are only 7 per cent of the people of the world living in the United States, and we use 30 per cent of all the energy ... That isn't bad... that is good."

THE RICHEST
"That means that we are the richest, strongest people in the world, and that we have the highest standard of living in the world. That is why we need so much energy, and may it always be that way."

So explained President Nixon only last Nov. 26, a month after the Arab nations cut off some 17 per cent of the nation's oil and sent the stock market plunging in fear of an energy starved economic recession.

Nixon's hope for keeping things "that way" were pinned on his proposals for restoring U.S. energy self-sufficiency by 1980 by developing the nation's vast remaining reserves of oil, coal, natural gas and atomic power plus such brand-new energy sources as shale oil, geothermal heat and solar energy.

ARAB OIL
Until then, the nation must learn to muddle through — with or, as right now, without Arab oil.

It's learning. Gasoline consumption must be cut back some 30 per cent to make room in refineries for production of other fuels, says William E. Simon, deputy treasury secretary appointed "energy czar" last Tuesday.

To encourage that shift, the Cost of Living Council authorized a 2-cents-per-gallon price increase on fuel oils including home heating oil, diesel and jet fuel; further price increases were promised soon.

Wholesale distribution of those fuel oils was placed under federal regulation in November and before the month ended regulations were proposed — and may soon be adopted — to ration them.

Before December ends, Simon promises a decision whether to ration gasoline as well. If so, rationing would probably come just in time to wipe out springtime drives in the country and long vacation trips.

Those who do drive, may take longer to get where they are going, because of new speed limits imposed to save fuel.

COOL IT
To save other fuels, the administration plans to make householders turn down the heat 6 degrees and commercial buildings 10 degrees. Industrial fuel consumption is to be cut 10 per cent in present planning; commercial jet fuel is promised a 15 per cent cutback, forcing flight cancellations.

As further discouragement of fuel use, Simon admits he is working up plans for possible taxes or surcharges on gasoline, electricity and natural gas, perhaps in combination with direct price increases to provide the energy industry with more investment money.

"There is little doubt that the effect will be to make output and employment lower and prices higher," says Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. "The uncertain question is about the size of these effects."

Faced with this outlook, people naturally ask: why did it have to happen?

"Consumption got ahead of production" is too simple an answer.

OUT OF FAVOR
Of the traditional energy sources, coal fell sharply out of favor as users turned to the cleaner, more convenient fuels: oil and natural gas; hydroelectric power began running out of good locations for dams and its growth therefore slowed. In the Middle East lay the world's largest oil fields; the Arab nations, without industry, without paved roads, had little to do with their oil but sell it to the industrial nations who needed it.

At first they sold it cheap. Imported oil fed an increasing share of the U.S. energy market, and by 1959 the U.S. government was sufficiently worried about dependence on foreign oil to impose an oil import-control program.

Santa Claus Comes To Town

"I know what I want for Christmas," one little boy loudly told Santa Claus.

"Ah ... An electric choo-choo train," he finally blurted out.

A freckled faced, blue-eyed girl amazed Santa by asking for a frog, a "stuffed frog."

The children who came to see Santa at the Howard County Courthouse Friday afternoon registered all kinds of emotions.

They were sometimes demure, quiet, tugging on his clothes, awed, wordless and several times even crying.

"Thank the people for being orderly," Ron Mercer, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said, noting the line which stretched down the steps and around the corner.

"At least, they got to talk to him," Mercer said. "Last year, they nearly killed him."

Last year, Santa was grateful to emerge unharmed when he ran out of candy. As he stepped to his throne this year, Mercer assured Claus: "There's candy up there, and we'll keep you supplied."

The Chamber's Ambassador's Club, appropriately dressed in red coats, hosted the annual event.

THE MANY FACES OF CHRISTMAS — Children gathered around Santa Claus when he visited the courthouse Friday afternoon. Sitting in St. Nick's lap is Cathy Blackshear, 3. "She's been talking about sitting in his lap three days," Aunt Debra said. "Now, look at her—she's paralyzed."

Impeachment Attention

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee, its role in the confirmation of Vice President Gerald R. Ford completed, is turning its full attention to an investigation of possible impeachment charges against President Nixon.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino, D-N.J., said Saturday the investigation — the first in more than a century aimed at a President — is moving steadily ahead and will pick up steam when a special counsel is named within two weeks.

Rodino reportedly has narrowed the choice to three or four persons recommended by bar associations, historians and jurists.

A staff of 31 is collecting evidence gathered in other investigations bearing on Watergate matters that points toward presidential involvement, Rodino said.

The staff may eventually number 50 with lawyers added after the special counsel if named, Rodino said. The House has given the committee $1 million for the inquiry.

Much preliminary work has also involved study of the history and procedures of the 12 previous impeachments, nearly all involving federal judges. Andrew Johnson, the only president impeached by the House, was acquitted by the Senate in 1868.

Editor Predicts Shutdown By Truckers On Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tensions on the nation's highways eased Saturday after Teamsters president Frank Fitzsimmons conferred at the White House and got promises of more help for truckers crunched by fuel shortages and low speed limits.

After the White House meeting, Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp went to Lamar, Pa., scene of one of the major protest points, and was cheered by drivers applauding the action in Washington.

BLOCKING
The last snarl in Ohio, the other primary target of angry truckers, evaporated early Saturday when about 700 drivers pulled away from a truck stop on the Ohio Turnpike south of Toledo.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield also expressed sympathy with the drivers' problems but said he was not sympathetic with their tactic of blocking major highways.

Meanwhile, a backer of a proposed national truckers strike predicted that 100,000 drivers still would stage a shutdown Thursday and Friday.

Fitzsimmons met for 50 minutes with President Nixon and then huddled for two hours with William E. Simon, new head of the Federal Energy Administration.

Fitzsimmons told the President and his energy chief that the truckers want speed limits raised to 60 miles an hour, 10 miles an hour faster than Nixon has proposed.

Simon said he would look into the speed limit request and push a probe of trucker charges that they are being gouged by high prices for fuel.

'SICK CALL'
But on the steps of the Capitol in Washington, Mike Parkhurst, editor of a truckers magazine, predicted the strike called for Thursday and Friday would still take place. He said many drivers would call in sick on those days.

Neither Fitzsimmons nor President Nixon has the influence, power or respect to stop a shutdown next week," Parkhurst told reporters.

WEATHER FORECAST — National Weather Service forecasts rain in parts of the Pacific Northwest, New England and Texas, with showers possible in central Plains today. A cold front will be moving southeast from the Plains and colder temperatures are expected in central United States.

DEATHS

Mrs. Rodriguez

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. Marcelina Rodriguez, 71, of Loraine, died at 11:15 p.m. Thursday in Root Memorial Hospital after a short illness. Services were held 11 a.m. Saturday in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Loraine.

The services will be conducted by Father Kennedy, pastor of the Colorado City Catholic Church. Burial in the Loraine Cemetery.

Mrs. Rodriguez was born Jan. 2, 1902, in Mexico, but had lived in Loraine since 1943.

She is survived by her husband, Ascension Rodriguez of Loraine, and three daughters, Mrs. Tommy Torres of Odessa, Mrs. Estanislado Moreno and Mrs. Santos Espinoza, both of Loraine; four sons, Mario of Cleveland, Tex., Guadalupe and Margarito both of Loraine, and Frank of Odessa; and 40 grandchildren.

THE WEEK

gathering about two bales to the acre off dryland, "this is the first time we've ever had a bumper crop and bumper prices."

Perhaps this has had some effect on the early sprint by the Christmas shoppers. During the past weekend stores have been all but swamped. The average gain has been reported at five to 10 per cent, but it's probable that this will grow. People are buying just about everything.

Big Spring is girding to do battle with Texas International in its bid to suspend service here. Headed by R. H. Weaver, local forces gave notice they will contest the application and are filing notice of intervention before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The annual banquet of the Scouts' Lone Star District put the spotlight on 21 young men who had attained the rank of Eagle Scout last year. That ought to renew your faith in the future. Incidentally, our story said that the newest Eagles, Don and John Mulkey of Coahoma, were first twins to achieve this rank here in nearly 40 years when John and Harry Blomshild did it. Not so. Harry Blomshild did it. Not so. Turner Ferguson who did it back in the early '50s.

L. Strickland
Texas Highway Patrolman Bill Priest waved a pair of young men to the side of the road for a defective tail light last week. It turned out they were carrying a strange cargo in the car — eight and a quarter pounds of marijuana.

State Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon is due to announce this weekend his candidacy for Congress next year. That means that a couple of quick announcements for the senator's spot will come — Rep. Charles Fennell of Holiday and Ray Farabee, Wichita Falls. Local political announcements likely will not start until around the first of the year.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District has activated its Beal's Creek diversion project. Based on the current reading of 35,000 ppm in the content of a couple of playa lakes, west of here, that means that some 320 tons of salt will be removed daily. During the next three months that could add to around 27,000 tons. That means that a good part of this won't be going down stream to reach the Colorado River and Lake E. V. Spence.

Basketball fans may take heart from developments of the past week. The HCJC Hawks continued their blistering pace with a pair of victories, including one over Odessa College, one of the only two teams to have beaten the locals this season — and they held on to their 100-point plus rate for the season. Big Spring High cagers caught fire, too, and turned in a 100 plus performance.

The Howard County Farm Bureau earned the distinction last week at Abilene, where the state convention was held, of having recorded a net gain in membership for the 15th consecutive year. A pretty fair record, we'd say.

Marion B. Irland is heading up a survey among elderly citizens to see if there is an interest in a senior citizens center which would operate five days a week. So far there's a pretty good trend — it's unanimous.

When mentioning the Christmas scene decorations, we credited Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds as having done part of it — which is true, but she hastens to add it was her second grade pupils at Lakeview Elementary who painted all the set.

USE HERALD CLASSIFIED ADS

LOSE BIG MONEY IN YOUR SPARE TIME

No special training required — just try to sell your home without the help of a professional Realtor. It looks so easy. Just run an ad and wait for the prospects, right? But before you do, talk to somebody who's tried this do-it-yourself approach, and you'll find that it's easier to lose than win.

That's why most folks find the services of a Realtor not only pleasant and profitable but a downright necessity. They discover that Realtors help them in a number of valuable ways.

Name your price.
Can you set a fair and reasonable asking price? You don't want to ask too much and scare people away. Worse yet, you don't want to ask too little.

Here's the first place your Realtor can help. He's constantly up-to-date on market demand, seasonality of sales, location and the hundred and one other variations that alter your home's value.

Strangers in the night.
If you love talking to strange people at strange hours, by all means sell your home yourself. Your newspaper ad is an open invitation for anyone who wants an excuse for a Sunday drive to pick up the phone and give you a call. At any hour of the day or night.

Some of them will even show up. At any hour of the day or night.

A Realtor solves these problems. First of all, he screens the prospects. He knows their needs, desires and financial situation. And he knows who is seriously looking for a new home and who is just looking.

Best of all, he shows your house only when it's convenient for you.

Best sellers.
Maybe you decide to sell your own home anyway. You know the needs and desires of your prospective buyers. And you know what to say, how to present your home to sell them. Right?

Wrong.

A Realtor is trained in the art of house salesmanship. (And it is an art.) His study of sales techniques has shown him how to get the indecisive buyer to make up his mind; how to close the sale. In fact, he's gone to school to find out. After all, selling is what it's all about.

The great debate.
At last a prospective buyer makes you an offer. What happens if the offer is well below your asking price? You're going to argue. You may win the argument and lose the sale or lose the argument and lose money. Either way you lose. As the owner, you'll discover it's pretty hard to bargain with a buyer objectively — to negotiate price, possession, things like that. Misunderstandings may crop up. And those small disagreements can spell a sale.

When a Realtor helps sell your home, he takes on the difficult task of negotiation. He's sort of a go-between. And he's objective. He'll tell you when to stick with your asking price.

He's usually a heck of a nice guy, too. He knows how to smooth over, or completely avoid, those sale-killing misunderstandings.

Avoid false alarms.
A would-be buyer doesn't do you much good unless he can lay his hands on enough money to pay for your home. But many buyers don't know how or where to get a mortgage.

Sell your home yourself, and there's not much you can do to help him.

But a Realtor knows just about all there is to know about financing. He works very closely with all kinds of financial institutions. He knows their methods and requirements.

Very simply, he can help your buyer find the money he needs to buy your house.

Little things mean a lot.
Selling a house involves many details. There are a hundred little things to be done.

Unless you have a mind like a computer, you'll need a Realtor to get everything done and keep it straight. He and your attorney will guide you through this tangle of details as painlessly and safely as possible.

In conclusion.
Call a professional for a professional sale of your property. He can give you the benefit of years of experience and know how. It doesn't cost to have a Realtor help you. It pays.

FILL UP TANKS 'Gasless Sunday'

By The Associated Press
Americans facing the prospect of another "Gasless Sunday" filled their tanks Saturday and rearranged travel plans to avoid getting caught short on the highway.

but this week seems to be just normal so far. I think it's partly because . . . people are starting to slow down on the highway."
Motorists got one break for the weekend. Federal officials promised concessions to rebellious truck drivers who blocked highways and snarled traffic during the week to protest higher diesel prices and reduced speed limits.

80 PER CENT
Last Sunday—the first since Nixon made his plea—about 80 per cent of the nation's 220,000 service stations shut their pumps.

Dave Stevens, the manager of a Gulf station south of Columbus, Ohio, stayed open last Sunday but said he'd probably close his pumps this week.

"I think people have been cutting down on weekend travel," said Stevens.
He said Saturday morning wasn't particularly busy—"So far, it's been kind of dead"—but the Central Ohio Gasoline Dealers Association told another story.

Oren Dewey, executive director of the group, said Saturday "was generally another rush day again."

The California Automobile Association urged motorists to fill up Saturday and to form car pools.

Lots of people found higher prices on the pumps reflecting increases in wholesale charges and some station owners said business was down because of the boosts.

SLOW DOWN
Some station owners said the effects of slower speed limits and voluntary reductions in driving already were being felt.
S.T. Thomas, the manager of one of the few stations in the Salt Lake City, Utah, area which has been staying open Sundays, said, "Business was unusually good last weekend."

Israel Startled By War Figures

By The Associated Press
A stunned Israel learned Saturday that almost one-third more Israeli soldiers were killed in the October war than previously announced. The Israeli military command in Tel Aviv said 2,355 Israeli soldiers were killed between the Oct. 6 start of hostilities and Oct. 24, when the cease-fire took hold. Fifty-seven more Israeli soldiers have been killed since the cease-fire in sporadic flareups of fighting along the Suez front and on the Golan Heights lines with Syria, the command added.

NOT KNOWN
The new figures were announced after the Popular Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestinian, a Marxist guerrilla group, claimed in Beirut that its men hurled a grenade that wounded the Israeli military governor and another Israeli soldier in Nablus, capital of the Israeli-occupied Jordanian west bank. Their conditions were not known. Israel was startled Nov. 6 when the command announced that 1,854 soldiers were killed in the war. Saturday's announcement that the first figures were low jolted the country anew.

A military spokesman explaining the difference said 293 soldiers then classed as missing soldiers now are assumed dead, and 208 more bodies have been found on the battlefield since the war.

Trapped In Fiery Crash

Firemen and law officials sprayed a protective chemical on a passenger trapped in a fiery crash on E. 4th at 11:06 p.m. Friday, and averted possible burns for the crash victim.

Jimmy Baker, a passenger in a car driven by Manuel Renteria, 1200 Grafa taken to Hall-Bennett Hospital with minor injuries. Renteria went to city jail.

The one-car accident occurred when the vehicle went out of control in the 1300 block of E. 4th, swerved across the street, knocked down the fence at Colorado River Municipal Water District office, landed upside with a wheel bouncing through the glass of the front of the CRMWD office. The car then caught on fire in the rear.

HCA Clears Way For New Mid-East Development

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Hospital Corporation of America today announced plans to open an office in London for its new subsidiary Hospital Corporation International.

John C. Neff, president of HCA, said the London office would be responsible for staffing and operation of the hospital the company has contracted to manage in Saudi Arabia, and for development of future hospital operations in Europe and the Middle East. Neff said the new office would specialize in recruiting of physicians and personnel for the Arabian hospital and for future hospitals which the company may undertake to manage in other countries. He said it would also be active in pursuit of other management opportunities.

Thomas W. Todd, former vice president of Administration of HCA, has been named vice president of the international subsidiary and will relocate in London within a few weeks. Ronald C. Marston, also of Nashville, will join HCA as director of Professional Recruitment and will relocate in London. Marston was formerly assistant personnel director of Vanderbilt University and Medical School, and has extensive experience in personnel recruitment. Neff said following announcement of its contract to manage the $75 million King Faisal Specialist Hospital in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, the company has received "numerous inquiries concerning management of other overseas hospitals."

HCA is the nation's largest investor-owned hospital company with 55 hospitals in operation, with approximately 8,300 beds located in 13 states. The company has an additional 15 facilities under construction. HCA's common stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Air Lines Due To Lay Off Up To 5,000 By Christmas

MIAMI (AP) — Up to 5,000 Eastern Air Lines employees, including 25 per cent of the carrier's top executives, will be laid off by Christmas, a union spokesman says.

The spokesman for the International Association of Machinists said the massive cutback decision was announced Friday by Frank Borman, an Eastern vice president and former astronaut, in a closed meeting with labor representatives and company executives.

A spokesman for Eastern, which already had laid off 960 employees, confirmed the decision for further reductions but declined to discuss numbers, saying an official announcement was expected Wednesday. The machinist union spokesman said among those to be laid off will be 20 per cent of the financially troubled firm's pilots and flight attendants, 25 per cent of its top management and 10 per cent of its other white-collar workers.

Rising Cost Of Transportation On School Agenda

Two important items to be discussed by the Big Spring Independent District school board when they hold their regular meeting at 5:15 p.m. Monday will be the per mile cost of bus transportation and board policy on donated air conditioning.

Don Crockett, assistant superintendent of business, is expected to discuss the rising cost of transportation.

There is also expected to be a positive policy on P-TA units or other methods of donating classroom air conditioning an item that was heretofore forbidden by the board.

Other matters on the agenda, in addition to regular reports are resignations and employment of personnel, bids on cafeteria and athletic vans, and ad valorem tax matters.

The latest reductions apparently were sparked by the firm's financial condition and the energy crisis.

Eastern, which employs 34,000 persons throughout its system, showed a $35-million loss through the first 10 months of the year. It has also proposed the elimination of a number of flights because of the fuel shortage.

News of the layoffs came just after an announcement from Trans World Airlines that it plans to furlough 350 low-seniority pilots next year as it curtails operations to meet a 15 per cent drop in fuel allocations.

Union Leader Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert C. Skinner, 61, first general vice president of the 900,000-member United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, died Friday. He was a former member of the Georgia Legislature and the Georgia Tax Reviser Commission.

Big Spring Thief Worries About Image 'In The Joint'

After two days of "plea bargaining," the defendant gave in.

Albert L. Sherman had been willing to plead guilty to theft of two vacuum cleaners from the Goodyear Service Store in August, 1972, and faced a five year sentence.

He had been willing to be convicted of felony theft, because he felt that sounded like a reasonable bargain.

But Dist. Atty. Bob Moore wanted Sherman to plead to felony shoplifting, instead. Moore felt the nearness of Christmas made it timely for a shoplifting conviction to be publicized.

"Man, they'll think I'm crazy down in the joint," Dist. Judge R. W. Caton quoted the defendant as saying.

When Moore explained his reason for wanting the shoplifting rather than felony theft plea, Sherman finally agreed.

Sheriff A. N. Standard had something to say about the conviction of Charles F. Bebee, 19, the previous day.

Bebee, 1004 Goliad St., who was given a five year probated sentence for burglary, gave the sheriff's office statements clearing numerous burglaries.

Standard listed:

The March, 1973, burglary of Tape Town, 1701 Gregg St., where a now recovered television was stolen.

Entry into the La Contessa Beauty Shop in October.

Burglary of the William Cornish mobile home at 4107 West U.S. 80 in August.

Three residences entered illegally.

A garage where food was taken from a deep freeze.

And the rural Gamble house burglary in which one item was recovered, and the court ordered restitution for the rest.

Bebee was given five years of probation.

Foreclosure Is Obtained

Security State Bank has obtained a foreclosure of liens in satisfaction of a $24,431 judgment entered in 118th District Court against Forsan Roustabouts and Construction Inc.

Liens were foreclosed on one auto, five "floats," 14 trucks and a variety of equipment.

Dist. Judge R. W. Caton issued the judgment in connection with a note signed in October, 1970, for $70,636. Remaining balance was $19,598.

In addition to the firm, Kenneth C. Cowley, president, and Betty J. Cowley, were named as defendants. Included in the $24,431 judgment was $4,000 in attorney fees.

Cash Register Theft Solved

FORSAN — Two 16-year-old youths are linked to the theft of about $50 from the cash register of Bill's Fina Service Station here, Sheriff A. N. Standard said.

The families of the youths are to make restitution for the theft which happened about three week's ago.

Propane Gas Truck Tested

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is testing an experimental truck that runs on propane gas instead of gasoline, Tass reported today.

The news agency said the reason for the experiment was that the system is cheap and doesn't pollute the atmosphere.

Tass gave no indication whether the authorities were hedging against a future gasoline shortage.

The agency said five propane trucks were already undergoing tests on the streets of Moscow.

First impressions, Tass said, were that "the machine is reliable and needs only insignificant adjustments."

Apparently the experiment is brand new because Tass said the test vehicles have only covered "their first dozens of kilometers."

Applicants are judged on the basis of a written request. Call Reginald and you'll hear a taped message:

"This is Reginald the Plumber. If you have a plumbing problem, please write down the nature of the job and why you need a plumber in 50 words or less and address it to me. If it's an emergency, please write 'rush' on the face of the envelope. All letters will be judged for neatness and originality. Thank you."

Reginald Anderson says, "I started that taped message on my business phone about three weeks ago to curb business and for the fun of it."

He says the only problem is most people are so amused by his taped message his business hasn't decreased.

"Their letters reflect that they appreciate the humor," he said. "A doctor's letter requested me to reply in 50 words or less if I could get to the job he had."

Anderson says he phones the letter writers and takes care of their problems, "giving priority to the seriousness of the problem."

But, he added, "like most plumbers, I'm not going to let a family with flooded floors wait."

'WIPE THEM OUT! THAT'S BUSINESS!' Refinery Squeeze In East Texas

KILGORE, Tex. (AP) — Independent gasoline wholesalers in oil-rich East Texas say this area may become an economic graveyard for them.

They say they are being forced out of business by a gasoline refinery near here which is reducing their supplies so that it may make bigger deals with new, more financially able customers.

If they are right, their plight may be the harbinger of things to come for small, independent gasoline wholesalers all over the nation.

NAME OF GAME

"Of course. That's the name of the game. Wipe them (independents) out. That's business," said an oil industry executive in Houston who asked that his name not be used.

Bill Shore, owner of Shore Oil Products Co. here, says the Longview Refining Co. at Longview, Tex., about 20 miles away, has sharply reduced his normal allocation of gasoline. Already, two of the service stations he supplies have been closed for lack of gasoline.

Shore, joined by other small independent wholesalers says the refinery, which was taken over Nov. 1 by Crystal Oil Co. of Shreveport, La., has cut their supplies and raised prices in order to sell to new customers.

Though legal, Shore says refiners have a moral obligation to continue supplying regular customers.

"I've been buying fuel from them for 12 years. In October I got my regular monthly load of 324,698 gallons," Shore said.

The refinery has allocated him only 125,638 gallons for December.

NOT SELLING

Crystal Oil vice president L.D. Morgan denied the company has courted new customers.

Any claim to the contrary, he said, is a "misstatement. We are not taking on any new customers of any kind. I've had offers from all over the country to buy gasoline at any price... 35 cents a gallon. We won't sell to them."

He said the refinery has maintained an average monthly output of 2.25 million gallons a month.

Barrels of gasoline additive supplied by the Atlantic Richfield Co. (ARCO), a major American oil company, now line the refinery's loading dock for the first time. The additive is blended into the raw gasoline before it is shipped to ARCO, the company's outlet name.

Morgan says the company is merely "exchanging" gasoline with ARCO, not selling it to the company.

An executive at Kirby Oil Co. at Tyler, near here, said his company became a new Crystal customer in November, paying an increased price for at least 50,000 gallons of gasoline.

A spokesman at Seago Enterprises Inc., McComb, Miss., confirmed his company had purchased about 500,000 gallons of diesel fuel in November at the Longview refinery through Tyler Fuel Corp.

TELL THE TRUTH

Efforts to locate Tyler Fuel Corp. were fruitless and the spokesman said, "To tell you the truth, I don't know offhand where Tyler Fuel is. We just got the gas at Longview. We're shopping around, buying wherever we can."

Shore says sharp cuts by the refinery in his gasoline supplies "may put me out of business."

Morgan said his company, small by industry standards, had been selling gasoline to Sun Oil Co., and American Petroleum, both major companies.

He said they turned down his offer for an exchange agreement "so I cut them off, and we worked out a trade with ARCO."

Anglo-Irish Unity Talks

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) — Anglo-Irish unity talks continued under tight security today as leaders grappled with such thorny issues as sovereignty over Northern Ireland and extradition.

It was the third day of the negotiations between British and Irish leaders on how to link British-controlled Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic in a Council of Ireland.

British Prime Minister Edward Heath, one of the participants, had said he hoped to have a deal completed by Friday night but the talks adjourned with no sign of agreement.

The talks are taking place at a civil service college campus at Sunningdale Park, near Ascot race course.

In this case, he said, ARCO is being traded what the two other companies had been buying all along.

Such exchanges are common within the industry, permitting companies to trade supplies located near each other rather than pay high shipping costs to move their own crude oil to their own facilities at distant points.

But the exchange received from ARCO is not being channeled to the small independent dealers the Longview refinery has been serving. "It's going into our system," Morgan said.

Shore and his fellow independent dealers, in addition to supplying small, price-oriented service stations, also provide fuel to farmers.

U.E. Davis at Big Sandy, Tex., is one wholesaler with about 50 farmers dependent on him for gasoline. His allocation at the Longview refinery has been reduced from 12,000 gallons to 3,789.

"You tell me what those farmers are going to do. I don't know where they'll get gas if not from me. If I don't get it from Longview, I don't know where I'll get it," he said.

A black market, or gray market, may develop because of the reduction of supplies at usual sources.

"You know any place where I can pick up gas?" asked T.C. Rosser, a Tyler, Tex. wholesaler. Rosser was cut by Longview from 5,300 gallons a month to 2,042. It's been his only source of gasoline.

"I had all my eggs in one basket, I guess. I don't know where else to turn," he said.

Last January, Longview Refining Co. was charging wholesalers 14.75 cents per gallon of ethyl. La Gloria Refining Co.

$7 Million Fire Damage

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Fire caused $7 million worth of damage today at a giant electrical company complex here, police said.

The two-hour blaze destroyed a warehouse and factory of the Matsushita firm in this western Japan city.

No injuries were reported. Officials said that about 10,000 color television sets were lost in the burning warehouse.

and Triangle, two other smaller sources of Shore's gasoline, charged the same.

But Triangle has now gone up to 17.65 cents and La Gloria to 19.50 cents.

EAT THE LOSS

Longview jumped to 22.1 cents per gallon.

On Dec. 4, Shore received a telegram from Longview saying that retroactive to Dec. 1 ethyl gasoline is 26.46 cents per gallon, excluding taxes.

Unfortunately, Shore already had committed himself to big gasoline sales based on Longview's earlier price. He said he will have to eat the loss.

"I nearly fainted a gallon," Morgan explained his company passes on such retroactive price increases because "that is the way it comes to us. When the crude dealers stop handing us retroactive increases we'll stop passing them along this way. Right now, it's the only way we can recover."

Regarding the disparity in prices Longview charges, compared with the prices charged by Triangle and La Gloria, Morgan said he couldn't "speak for the other companies."

Morgan said cutbacks to the independents have come about because of crude oil shortages. But Shore, whose father and brother own oil wells, said he tried selling crude to the refinery and was rebuffed. "They said they had enough," he said.

Shore said: "They won't let us buy more than our allocation at any price, even though their production out put is the same."

'GOOD CHANCE'

Longview Refining Co. came down hard on wholesaler R.C. Martin at Gilmer. He received 32,000 gallons in October, 9,000 in December.

Martin serves eight to 10 independent stations in the Gilmer area. He said there is a "good chance" some will close their doors because they aren't big enough to weather the storm. He said he may have to park two of his three fuel trucks. Permanently.

Shore said the refinery has cut several area distributors to levels they say make business impossible: Mitchell Oil Co. at Gilmer, cut from 50,000 gallons a month to 16,666; Pete Roberts at DeKalb, cut from 30,000 gallons to 10,000; Bob Hodge at Marshall, cut from 20,000 to 6,000.

Heiress Wins Trust Fight

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Coca-Cola heiress Frances Woodruff has won a six-year fight to regain control of her $11 million trust fund.

Fulton Civil Court Judge Thomas L. Camp ruled Friday that Mrs. Woodruff is competent to handle her own property, accepting the recommendation of a three-man commission which examined her privately.

The ruling means that Mrs. Woodruff, daughter of major Coca-Cola stockholder George Woodruff, has full legal rights to the trust fund which has been managed by the Trust Co. of Georgia since 1967.

The 50-year-old divorcee was declared incompetent in 1967 and was assigned a personal guardian. She spent the next four years in a mental hospital.

A Fulton County Superior Court jury ruled in September that Mrs. Woodruff was competent to manage her own personal affairs, but said she was incompetent to control her property.

Last month, Mrs. Woodruff again petitioned for control of her property, which Camp approved in his ruling Friday.

How We Can Help

It must be obvious that we have undergone a profound change in foreign policy. At last, we have discovered that the United States cannot police the world, or indeed should it, or impose our fundamental philosophy upon other countries even under a cloak of beneficence or protection.

The logical way to help, then, is by training and equipping those in other countries to direct their own affairs, whether in defense or in economics. Already, there is a noticeable increase in the volume of allied military personnel coming to the United States for instruction. Presumably, it will increase.

We are fortunate that more and more of these are being assigned to Webb AFB for training. The base has the responsibility of seeing to it that everything is done to insure that these young men emerge from their experience here as the best possible officers and pilots, who may not only defend more effectively but perhaps in time also command their own defense establishments.

Our community has an opportunity to contribute to the success of this effort by creating and maintaining an atmosphere that will make these young men as happy and content as possible in their new surroundings. It is difficult to imagine the impact of being taken out of one's native land and put down in the middle of another with a strange language, strange foods, strange customs, and strange, if not baffling, skills to master.

It will be a fine thing if individuals and organizations will take the initiative, working through proper channels at the base, to afford these young men a casual, unaffected and perfectly normal exposure to our homes, our institutions and our town. We don't want to sell them anything, not even our philosophies of government, but rather to let them

Enlightened Self-Interest

The official policy of Mexico for the past 50 years has been "to govern is to populate." This arose from the bloody 1910 revolution when 1 1/2 million Mexicans died, and vast regions of the country were without a single inhabitant.

The policy was in strict opposition to birth control, which also corresponds to the official policy of the Roman Catholic Church, the dominant religion in Mexico. During the presidential campaign of 1970 the triumphant candidate, Luis Echeverria Alvarez, rejected a policy of birth control suggested by some Mexicans.

Now the government of Mexico, at the direction of Echeverria, has prepared a legislative proposal, the "New General Law on Population," which will be presented to Congress. It will aim at reducing the high population growth (3.5 per cent, one of the highest rates in the world) through family-planning education.

The more sophisticated may wonder if the difference between birth control and family planning is a distinction without much difference. As a practical matter, it may result in slowing down the population growth, which is the primary goal, whatever the means or the terminology used to approach it.

Mexico realizes that it cannot permit its population growth to continue without restraint. Its resources, as with all nations, are not unlimited. A conscious and dedicated effort to reduce that growth, as the population approaches the productive limits of the country, is nothing less than enlightened self-interest.

BILLY GRAHAM

My friends can't understand how I can believe in Christ, but not the church. I was so relieved when I read your article in the Globe Democrat, in which you agreed with me. I'm so glad that I'm not the only one displeased with the church.

W.B. I presume occasionally many of us have some displeasure with the church, because the church is people — and people are imperfect. But wait a serious minute! Let me make it clear I am also FOR the church. Of all the world's institutions, the Christian church stands out as the most amazing. It stands like a Rock of Gibraltar in the tides and currents of the centuries. It has produced more thought, transformed more lives, contributed more inspirational literature, has built more charitable institutions, produced more art and music, than all the rest of man's efforts put together.

The church primarily, however, is the Body of Christ. The Bible says, "Christ is the head of the church." (Ephesians 5:23.) The Bible also says that it was Christ's love for the church, that caused Him to go to the cross. If Christ loved the church (the body of believers everywhere) that much, I cannot hate it. The fact is, I must love it, too. I must pray for it, defend it, work in it, pay my tithes and offerings to

Trend Of Declines Reversed

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — America's complex energy problems produced some straightforward symptoms this past week: Higher fuel prices and a volatile stock market.

The Department of Labor said wholesale prices for fuel and other energy products soared 19.3 per cent in November, dwarfing the previous monthly record rise of 4.1 per cent in January 1948.

The government's overall wholesale price index was up 1.8 per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis for the month, reversing a two-month trend of declines.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said much of the fuel price increase was unavoidable and maybe even necessary. "It is clear that a rise in fuel prices is inevitable and necessary to bring forth additional supplies and allocate the supplies that are available," Stein said.

The November increase was

The Week's Business

- Fuel prices are skyrocketing
- Production of heating oil stressed
- Dow Jones averages off 200 points
- Ford's arrival encourages investors
- Big banks raise prime rates again produced by higher prices for imports, the nation's oil shortage and higher prices for some domestic crude oil exempt from price controls.

And December continued to bring more hikes.

Exxon USA, Standard Oil of Ohio and Sohio's BP Oil Corp. said this past week they were raising the prices of gasoline and other petroleum products, including some types of diesel and heating oil.

The Cost of Living Council said that to encourage oil companies to shift production facilities into heating oil, it would allow the price of that fuel to be hiked two cents a gallon. A cut of a penny a gallon was ordered on gasoline.

Council Director John T. Dunlop said consumers would probably start paying the higher price for heating oil in January. But he said drivers would probably never see the gasoline cut, which he expected to be eaten up by higher production costs.

The stock market continued to react with extreme sensitivity to the energy situation — except that this time it gained ground for the first week since October. The Dow Jones industrial average fell for the first three days of the week, finishing Wednesday at 788.31 — its lowest close in three years, and nearly 200 points off its close of Oct. 26.

Answer To Agnew

William F. Buckley Jr.

I have a personal letter from Mr. Spiro Agnew, parts of which I reproduce on the confident assumption that I am not violating the bounds of our relationship.

HE WRITES: "It saddens me that you have come to the usual hard conclusions about my resignation. I had hoped that your natural, constructive cynicism would avoid the conventional channel and the path of least resistance."

"It is difficult for me to objectively consider my problem: but I must accept the inevitable, rational conclusion that our system of justice does not always guarantee a fair result. In my case, the malicious leaks to the media, the blatant enticement of immunity for those inextricably caught, the political expedience which led the Congress to refuse me an objective hearing — all prohibited the traditional safeguard of a presumption of innocence. Perhaps someday I will be in a position to explain more fully the unusual confluence of events which caused me to take the course I did."

"... I could never request your assistance unless I regained your respect; but it is a measure of your (fair-mindedness) that you make the offer to help someone whom you think has fallen. I haven't. I am just taking the nine-count to clear my head."

TO THIS sad communication, I reply:

1. Obviously our system of justice does not always guarantee a fair result. Obviously Mr. Agnew was the target of many leaks. But it is not obvious that the entire community was prejudiced against him on account of those leaks. He had himself very full access to the media, he availed himself of it, and he stressed and restressed his innocence. On the whole it is probably safe to say that when the crisis came, more Americans were convinced of his innocence (which after all was credible, and presumptive), than they were of the accusations against him (which were incredible, indeed historically unprecedented).

2. THE ENTICEMENT of immunity is of course always a dangerous tool at the disposal of the prosecution. Even so there is a record of judicial vindications (for instance in the prosecution of Roy Cohn) when juries believed the defendant rather than the chief witnesses against him. Moreover, we are informed that the witnesses against Mr. Agnew survived lie-detection tests.

3. Although the House of Representatives, according to sound constitutional construction, should have undertaken to hear the case against Mr. Agnew, its failure to do so should not, if Mr. Agnew was innocent, alone have doomed him to judicial victimization. He left his session with the House leaders a free man, with first-rate lawyers, a loyal following, and complete access to the press.

4. THERE IS NO reason to suppose that the confluence of circumstances glibly by Mr. Agnew stripped him of that presumption of innocence which the law indulges, notwithstanding the unfairness of the leaks. Mr. Agnew himself decided to plead guilty to a single charge, and to resign his office. Had he proceeded to trial and been found guilty, he might then have complained of the jury's prejudice. But in the absence of the struggle, one can only conclude that Mr. Agnew has stripped the jury of its presumptive innocence against the charge that it is at the service of Mr. Agnew's tormentors, rather than of justice.

5. ALL OF WHICH having been said I add this: I can conceive of a confluence of events which would have resulted in the martyrization — a term I use carefully — of Mr. Agnew. If Mr. Agnew is ever finally free to describe those events, many of us are eager to listen to them.

Sterilize Whom?

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband thinks I've gone overboard on vitamins. After his breakfast I give him 800 units of vitamin E, a geriatric vitamin with minerals, 500 mg. of vitamin C, a B-complex with C and B-12 and one lecithin.

He is 55 and has angina and diverticulosis. I have him on a proper diet and his cholesterol count is normal. I am considering increasing the lecithin with another dose after dinner. What do you think? Am I really over doing it? —E.S.

Yes, I think you are, decidedly.

All the vitamins you are giving him are readily available in any "propof diet."

One point which is frequently overlooked is the fact that overdosage of some vitamins is not absorbed, and excess amounts are excreted in the urine or stool. For example, after a concentrated dose of B-complex is taken, the urine becomes highly yellow from the riboflavin that is being discarded by the body — wasted. There are no dollar signs on it, but it's money going down the drain.

The minerals in the geriatric capsules also are plentiful in any balanced diet. Finally, despite the clamor that vitamin E is supposed to be good for almost anything that ails you, scientific evidence makes the massive use of vitamin E questionable.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis" write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code) stamped envelope.

Critical Election

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Elections, as we learned a year ago, may decide a lot or they may mean nothing at all. An election is coming up on the last day of this year that can be momentous for American foreign policy and for the savage crunch of the oil shortage.

ISRAEL WILL go to the polls for a vote that was postponed when the war broke out. It will determine whether the familiar leadership with Premier Golda Meir will continue or whether disillusion over the outcome of the war and anger at the terms of the cease-fire will bring in a new, tough faction.

Predictions of the outcome are hard to come by whether in Tel Aviv or Washington. But in the wake of disillusion and distrust the hard-liners triumph, the chances for a negotiated peace are hardly hopeful. Strange phenomena are reported by Israelis taking stock in the sad aftermath of the war. Mrs. Meir and Moshe Dayan have been booed in public, something that never happened before. They are blamed for the failure to move swiftly enough to meet the Arab attack, as well as for failing to heed intelligence reports of a large Egyptian military buildup.

ISRAEL AS A wounded nation is the somber verdict of young Israelis who see the idealism and the buoyant hope of recent years draining away. The official government figure of dead in the war was 1,844. When all the missing in action are accounted for, the total may be as high as 2,400. For the United States, with its population of 220 million, that would be equivalent to 200,000 dead in 17 days-of war.

The cost of the war is another fearful weight on the future of the Jewish state. While this cannot compare with the loss of the best and the bravest, a total of $6 billion is a staggering figure for a nation that has been spending up to 25 per cent of its total gross national product on defense.

DAYAN IS coming to America with two objectives. One is to make a new and dramatic plea to the United Jewish Appeal for funds to help make up the deficit. The other goal is to sound out Secretary of State Henry Kissinger on the American posture toward negotiation. That posture will depend in large part of the outcome of the election on Dec. 31.

Despite the constant alarms and excursions along the uncertain cease-fire line, Dr. Kissinger remains optimistic that it will hold. Therefore, Egypt, Israel and perhaps also Syria will sit down at the formal opening of a conference in Geneva on or about Dec. 18.

This will be only the ceremonial start of what Dr. Kissinger hopes will be a long and often bleak negotiation looking to a lasting peace in the Middle East. The Israelis have said that they cannot discuss anything substantive until after the election.

IF THE hard-liners win and a comparative moderate like Mrs. Meir is forced out, the American position as a kind of wet nurse to the negotiation will be difficult. Without Israeli concessions or at the start a willingness to consider restoration of some of the territory conquered in the 1967 war, the Arab position will harden and the oil crunch will be tougher.

But how much pressure can Dr. Kissinger and President Nixon put on an intractable government in Jerusalem? The $2.2 billion military assistance bill for Israel moving toward passage is an answer of sorts. The measure drafted by the Administration gives the President what is probably unprecedented authority. He may hand over the weapons — planes to replace the more than 700 lost by Israel in the war — as a gift on long- or short-term credits as he decides. Or on his own decision he may withhold all military assistance.

IN REP. OTTO Passman's subcommittee the $2.2 billion was cut by $400 million. But the full amount was restored in the Appropriations Committee and it is expected to go through the House without difficulty. Under steadily mounting pressures the Senate may act before the end of the session.

The choices, looked at in the grimest fashion, are between a negotiated peace and another war. Even a war of attrition would be far more destructive for a nation of 3 million than for the Arabs. The logic, therefore, is for peace. Yet that election may say something quite different about the frustration of those who believe they were cheated of victory on Oct. 22.

Hope Planning Yule In U.S.

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP TV Radio Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope, who's spent the past 25 Christmases entertaining U.S. troops, plans to spend this one at home in Toluca Lake, Calif.

Won't it feel strange, not facing a sea of uniforms?
"Well, I tell ya, it's going to be mighty dull," he conceded. "But I'm having the whole family over and they're all going to dress in khaki."

Hope, here last week to tape part of his NBC special that aired last night, began his overseas Christmas tours in 1948 when he went to Berlin to put on shows for GIs during the Berlin blockade.

1ST IN '54

His first overseas Christmas tour filmed for TV was in 1954, when he, Anita Ekberg, William Holden and Hedda Hopper went to Greenland to entertain American servicemen stationed there.

He returned from his last overseas Christmas tour — which included shows in South Vietnam for the remaining U.S. troops involved in the war there — on Dec. 30, 1972.

Hope, who said he'll do three shows at military hospitals in the United States before Christmas, has plans to make a two-hour TV special based on clips from all his televised Christmas tours overseas.

"I think it'll have about 35 stars and we'll just cut the shows up, take the high spots and just make a compilation of 1954 to 1972," he said, adding that the special would run at this time next year.

He said it'll probably include films of his World War II overseas tours with such performers as Frances Langford, Jerry Colonna and guitarist Tony Romano.

"I think it may be one of the greatest things ever put together, because you know, it's a history of America," he said.

SUBSIDIZE LAUGHS

On the home front, the 70-year-old comedian said he was dead serious about the proposal he recently made in a Playboy interview to have the federal government subsidize comedy programs for public television.

He said these are pretty grim times and "it'd be great if you could turn on a channel when you wanted to get a laugh and you'd see Jackie Gleason or Red Skelton. You could even put on great moments in comedy, the best of what's appeared in films or television."

WEEK'S PLAYBILL X-Rated 'Tango' Back

"Last Tango in Paris" (X) which triumphed in a trial recently in Lubbock and won an informal okay of the Big Spring Police Department earlier, will be back in Big Spring Wednesday, this time at the Cinema Theatre.

Police here attended the first screening of the controversial film and took no action to halt its showing.

Marlon Brando adds another fascinating character to his gallery of screen roles, which have included an impressive list of films ranging from the memorable "Streetcar Named Desire" to the recent Academy Award winning star role in "The Godfather."

Maria Schneider, a 20-year-old Parisian screen newcomer, is excitingly cast opposite Brando. Jean Pierre Leaud, the hero of many Francois Truffaut and Jean-Luc Godard films, and Massimo Girotti are also starred. Other principals are Catherine Allegret, Jean Luc Bideau, Laura Betti and Maria Michi.

Vittorio Storaro, who received Best Photography Award in 1971 Critics' Circle for "The Conformist," is director of photography. Because he strove for realism, Director Bernardo Bertolucci tried to avoid studio sets. With his production designer Ferdinando Scarfotti, the director spent a month in Paris scouting for authentic locations for "Last Tango in Paris."

Since much of the action occurs in an apartment in Bertolucci's first hunt was for one spacious enough to house the film's unit of 50, with accommodations for cameras, lights, props, wardrobe, dressing-rooms. He found an ideal place in Paris' central 7th district on the Champ de Mars, in the shadow of the Eiffel Tower. Here he also filmed many rooms of a run-down hotel where Brando, who plays Paul, lives.

Joanne Woodard Reflects On Age

By NANCY ANDERSON
Copyist News Service

HOLLYWOOD — Joanne Woodard groped to define middle age, the subject of "Summer Wishes, Winter Dreams," her newest film.

"Some people never reach middle age," she said. Stewart Stern, who not only wrote "Summer Wishes, Winter Dreams" but also Joanne's earlier tour de force "Rachel, Rachel," speculated that middle age is the time when we realize we're the older generation, when there's no one on the road ahead — no parent or grandparent — to guide and protect us.

And Joanne, sitting with Stern in her suite in the Beverly Wilshire Hotel, agreed.

DREAMS LOST
It's also the time, she thought, when one faces the fact that all dreams don't necessarily come true.

"Though," she laughed, "I realized very early that I'd never be able to dance 'Swan Lake.' That's my unfulfilled dream."

"Summer Wishes, Winter Dreams" had been presented the day before at the San Francisco Film Festival followed by a tribute to Joanne, a screened sampling of her motion picture work during the past 20 years, and her reaction to the second half of the program had surprised her.

"When I saw the retrospective of my own films yesterday, I had a different reaction from what I'd expected," she said. "I hadn't thought I'd enjoy sitting there watching myself age for two hours."

"MOVED"
"But, the fact is, I was terribly moved by the very young, very pretty girl whom I vaguely remembered and with whom I now have absolutely no relationship.

"Watching her, I realized that if I met her today I wouldn't have anything to say to her." Perhaps not. But if Joanne-present could speak to Joanne-past, isn't there something today's matron would like to tell yesterday's maid? Isn't there a warning she'd like to give? A bit of advice?

"Not really," the star said, "it would be pointless, because the essence of a human being is what he finds out for himself."

DISLIKES DAUGHTER
"I have never known anyone who was able to be told anything. I know that with my own children it definitely doesn't work."

"I told my daughter, Susan, one day, 'I love you, but I don't like you.'"

"It was true. And it's hard for a child to hear that, because a child lives in a selfish world where one's parents must love one no matter what. So it comes as a terrible shock to find that maybe they don't, at least not in the way the child thinks they should."

"I would have found sons easier to raise than daughters with which I'm thrice blessed. I think that, being from the South and a male-oriented society, I get along better with men."

"I seem to remember while I was growing up in the South that one had best girl friends, but the best girl friend was sacrificed when it came to your boyfriend. That was something uniquely southern."

ON 'LIB'
"I think some lovely things are being lost in the name of women's liberation. I do feel sad when no one opens the door for me."

"Though Joanne has been out of the South for approximately half her life, of late she's been returning to her origins, not just in sentiment but in fact."

City Dads To Mull CAB Proposal

The city council, in their regular meeting at 9 a.m. Tuesday will hear requests from a committee backing a proposal to call for a CAB hearing on Texas International leaving Big Spring, a request for a facility for senior citizens, and a discussion of possible use of a house at Comanche Trail Park for a retarded citizens group.

In other items on the agenda, they will award a bid for land sale, discuss the dog problem, hear the first reading of an ordinance abandoning an alley off IS 20, hear the first reading of a resolution authorizing the mayor to enter into an agreement with the Westside Center, appoint a health officer for the coming year, hear second and final readings of ordinances prohibiting BB guns and sale of raw milk within the city.

Cold Front Texas Bound

By The Associated Press
A new cold front headed into Texas Saturday and was expected to reach Central Texas today. A few scattered showers were accompanying the front.

Ahead of the colder air, temperatures rose rapidly during the day as southerly winds moved upstate. Low temperatures Saturday morning were a turnaround from the usual pattern. Coldest stations generally were in South and East Texas although the Far West was the most frigid. Texarkana dropped to 27. Lufkin and Beaumont-Port Arthur reported 28 degrees. Longview and Tyler had 30. It was 31 at San Antonio.

Secret FBI Files Contain Explosive Tactics Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secret FBI files contain potentially explosive information describing the tactics used in a calculated effort to destroy the New Left movement, according to informed Justice Department sources.

The late FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said as much when he told FBI field offices, in the 1968 memo establishing the program, to "also inspire action in instances where circumstances warrant."

The Hoover operation also lends support to the allegations of massive and possibly illegal spying conducted by the FBI against several radical activists involved in recent trials.

TOO HOT
Few officials will discuss it even on a confidential basis for fear of disturbing delicate negotiations which could lead to at least partial public disclosure.

The material is so sensitive that only a handful of officials outside the FBI know even general details of the so-called counterintelligence program operated nationwide for three years.

Murder Revived After Two Years

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — A murder case which apparently had been dormant for two years burst into life Saturday with the filing of murder charges against three men — two from the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The victim was discovered lying unconscious on the floor of Watson's Self Service Station where he worked. He was James G. Lathrop, 53. Someone shot him in the chest and head with a small-caliber weapon. Missing was $300. He died several hours later at 2:04 a.m. Nov. 4, 1971. Officers Saturday filed murder charges with Justice of the Peace Floyd Hassell against Richard Van Muse Jr., 22, of Garland and formerly of Palestine; George Edward Daniels, 22, of Grand Prairie; and

Hawks Thump Pima, 122-92

A blistering first half propelled the Howard County Hawks to a 122-92 victory over the Pima Aztecs of Tucson, Ariz., here Saturday night.

The contest served as a final warmup for the Hawks before their return to Western conference play here Monday night against rugged Clarendon College.

Pima opened its doors for the first time last September and enrolled 11,700 students. Needless to say all the Pima players are freshmen.

The Hawks hit 52 per cent of their shots the first half but cooled off immediately after intermission. They couldn't buy a bucket for the first 3 minutes 10 seconds of the second period. Ultimately, Mike Randle profited from a three-point play and the Hawks began to hit on all cylinders again.

The win was the 14th in 16 assignments for Howard County. Pima, loser to New Mexico JC by about the same margin Friday night, is now 2-3 on the year.

Bobby Beall, Taylor Williams and Tom Bledsoe led the Hawk surge. Beall was the play maker. Bledsoe and Williams fought the boards wells and wound up with 28 and 27 points, respectively.

The Hawks had five players in double figures. Beall settled for ten. Randle tossed in 16 and Leroy Lumzy 12. In all, ten players got on the score book for the Big Spring collegians.

The Aztecs had six performers in double figures, Ken Harris leading the way with 15. George Watson managed 13 while Charles Alexander, David Berry and Ernie Moore each had 12.

The Sands girls gained a 41-34 decision as Rene Roman, Ann Nichols and Connie Hughes all hit in double figures. Nichols was high with 16.

In third place action, New Home topped Robert Lee 65-50 for the boys honors and O'Donnell took the consolation prize with a 38-34 triumph. The girls third place prize went to Forsan, 55-46 winner over New Home, and in the consolation play O'Donnell won over Sterling City 38-30.

Floyd was joined on the boys' all-tourney list by teammate Victor Rodriguez, and Forsan landed Landon Soles and David Crooks on the honor unit. Bill Rowaldt of Robert Lee, David Pearson of O'Donnell, Carrea and Zavala of New Home, Paul Woodard of Wellman and Ken Peel of Sterling City also earned all-star mention.

Nichols and Hughes of Sands headed up the girls' selections, while Kayla Gaskins and Kay Hunter of the victorious bunch led the list of guards. Forsan had Beverly Strickland on the name team.

S.F. Austin Rolls In 'Poultry' Bowl

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Larry Mayer, a sophomore quarterback, ran for 240 yards and scored on a 61-yard scamper Saturday night as Stephen F. Austin downed Gardner Webb 31-10 in the first annual Poultry Bowl football game.

The victory lifted the Lone Star Conference entry to 9-3 for the year, its best in 47 years of football. It also was Austin's first bowl appearance.

HC has gone over the 100-point mark 12 times this season and Saturday night's output has been exceeded only once this year.

Willie Young accounted for HC's 100th point of the night with 7:20 remaining with a bucket from the side and was fouled on the play to turn it into a three-point effort.

Nastase Claims Masters Crown

BOSTON (AP) — Ilie Nastase of Romania outfoxed Tom Okker of The Netherlands 6-3, 7-5, 4-6, 6-3 for his third Grand Prix Masters title, strengthening his bid for the ranking as the No. 1 tennis player in the world.

The $15,000 first prize boosted Nastase's earnings for the year to $228,750—the best in the game—and the triumph was his 16th in 31 tournaments in 1973.

The error-pocked final was marked by bitter bickering between the two players and controversial line-calls. Okker was fuming at the finish. The Dutchman twice protested that Nastase doublehit a ball—one of the protests being upheld.

Nastase, who had controlled his notorious temper through the early stages, became so incensed at one call that he belted a ball in the direction of a linesman—an act which has cost him two $1,000 fines in the past.

In gaining second place, the circuit, defaulted to Okker in Friday night's semifinals while just one point away from victory.

Newcombe strained some tissue in scrambling Okker picked up $10,000 for a year's total of $173,500, which left him in third place behind Stan

Smith of Sea Pines, S.C., who earned slightly over $200,000.

Smith was beaten twice in the preliminary round-robin and failed to make the finals, dropping him from serious consideration for top honors by those who soon will be issuing the unofficial world rankings.

Smith was No. 1 in the world by general consensus for the last two years. Nastase never has held the honor, although he insists he has deserved it and has been discriminated against because of his unpopular court antics.

The final match, played before a sellout crowd of 4,400 in the midtown Hynes Auditorium and before a national television audience, lost much of its luster when John Newcombe of Australia, the hottest player on the circuit, defaulted to Okker in Friday night's semifinals while just one point away from victory.

Steers Win Championship In Canyon Reef Tourney

SNYDER — The Big Spring Steers captured their first tournament championship in three years here Saturday with a convincing 65-57 win over Borger in the finals of the Canyon Reef Classic.

Two impressive victories delivered the Longhorns into the finals, and then the Steers had little trouble in turning back the bigger Bulldogs for the title. It was the team's eighth victory against a pair of defeats.

"We're really playing as a team now," explained a happy coach Ron Plumlee. "Everybody's got a great attitude. We're not there yet, understand — we're going to get better."

"We're still making mistakes but we're able to overcome those mistakes. Our rebounding has been great. And, of course, it was a big boost for us to come back and beat Dunbar like we did."

The Steers avenged a 67-65 loss to Dunbar with an 85-62 licking Friday in the first

Baseball Bargaining Finishes Busy Week

HOUSTON (AP) — That was the week that was for baseball's brass.

In five frantic days, they traded or sold 57 players among themselves and moved the San Diego franchise 3,000 miles to Washington, D.C. Other deals didn't create much excitement.

With pitchers the primary target, there were 35 deals completed involving several of the game's biggest names, including Mike Marshall, Willie Davis, Claude Osteen, Reggie Cleveland, Ross Grimsley, Merv Rettenmund, Jimmy Wynn and Nelson Briles.

Only six of the week's deals did not include a pitcher. Of the 57 players swapped, 30 were hurlers. There were 16 inter-league trades and only three clubs—the New York Mets, San Francisco and the Padres, who came here as San Diego but left as Washington—did not make a player deal.

The biggest trade of all was the Padres' swap of cities, a stunner that shocked most observers. The consensus of opinion had been that the National League faced a certain suit by the city of San Diego if it tried to pull the Padres out, would keep the club there.

But the NL owners turned tough. They rejected the bid of race track heiress Marjorie Eyre to buy the team and keep it on the west Coast, and accepted instead the offer of Washington grocery chain owner Joseph Danzansky.

The switch returns baseball to the nation's capitol after an absence of two seasons, since owner Bob Short moved his team to Texas and renamed it the Rangers. Washington will play in the National League's West Division as the Padres did.

San Diego did not take the shift passively. Attorney John Witt, representing the city, promised a $12 million suit against the National League, the Padres and Danzansky. There is the matter of the last 15 years on a 20-year lease for the use of San Diego's city-owned stadium.

There were reports that as part of the agreement to shift the Padres, NL officials received assurances the city of Washington would assume any financial judgments resulting from legal actions by San Diego.

The trading business was sluggish at the start but picked up with a pair of five-player deals on Tuesday. Kansas City obtained Briles from Pittsburgh in a swap that sent catcher-outfielder Ed Kirkpatrick and infielder Kurt Bevacqua to the Pirates.

Then Baltimore, which likes to collect strong, young arms, came up with left-hander Grimsley in an exchange that sent Rettenmund to the Reds.

Then the Dodgers went to work, completing three major deals. The first one sent Montreal relief ace Marshall, the NL's Cy Young award runner-up, to Los Angeles for center-fielder Willie Davis.

Then the Dodgers went after a replacement for Davis, grabbing Wynn from Houston in a deal for Osteen and minor league pitcher Dave Culpepper, and picking up veteran Tommie Agee from St. Louis for pitcher Pete Richert.

Boston, which had been negotiating unsuccessfully all week for Cleveland's Gaylord Perry, traded the bait to St. Louis, packaging pitchers John Curtis, Lynn McGlothen and Mike Garman to the Cardinals for Cleveland, veteran reliever Diego Segui and minor league infielder Terry Hughes.

Fry Named Top Coach In MVC

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Hayden Fry, who reversed North Texas State football fortunes in his first year as head coach, has been voted Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year.

The flamboyant Mean Green mentor guided his team to a share of the conference championship with a 5-1 record and tutored his young squad to an over-all 5-5-1 season. This reversal came after North Texas State had suffered three consecutive losing seasons, including a 110 mark in 1972, when the team finished last place in the conference with a 0-7 Valley mark.

North Texas State summoned Fry to revitalize its ailing program after his firing at Southern Methodist University.

Attendance at the North Texas State games increased 275 per cent over the previous year. On the field, Fry guided the Mean Green to five conference victories, including triumphs over West Texas State, Louisville, Drake, New Mexico State and Wichita State. Their only loss in Valley competition came at the hands of co-champion Tulsa, 24-15.

"This is a great tribute to our ball club and the coaching staff, and without a doubt, it has been one of the most satisfying years of my coaching career," Fry said.

"We had an extremely tough year, but we made a lot of progress, and we got our program on the move. I'm truly delighted about being named Coach of the Year in the Missouri Valley Conference."

Tech Scores Pioneer Win

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Quarterback Denny Duron hit wide receiver Roger Carr with a 21-yard touchdown pass with 12 seconds left to give Louisiana Tech a 38-34 Pioneer Bowl victory over Boise State here Saturday afternoon.

The Bulldogs, 12-1, drove 55 yards in the final three minutes to take the NCAA College Division semifinal victory and advance to the national finals next Saturday in Sacramento, Calif., against Western Kentucky, which beat Grambling 28-20 in the Grantland Rice Bowl.

Boise State scored on its first two possessions of the game. Quarterback Jim McMillan scored from seven yards out on a keeper play to cap a 49-yard drive and give Boise State a 7-0 lead. Then McMillan ran for another Bronco score after a 59-yard drive as he scampered eight yards.

Michigan Fans Come Up Short

DETROIT (AP) — A last-ditch effort by University of Michigan fans to send the Wolverines football team to the Rose Bowl has failed.

Gerald Faye, a Michigan student, withdrew his legal effort Friday to obtain an injunction against the Big Ten directors' decision to designate Ohio State as the conference representative.

The move came after U.S. District Court Judge Fred Kaess, himself a former Michigan student, declined to issue a temporary restraining order Thursday. Kaess ruled that Faye did not have adequate legal standing to file the suit because he suffered no loss, except as a fan.

Ohio State and Michigan battled to a 10-10 tie Nov. 24 to finish as co-champions of the Big Ten and throw the Rose Bowl decision to the conference's athletic directors.

Bel Air Triumphs In Cross Country Run

AUSTIN — El Paso Bel Air finished first and Clear Creek claimed second in the first Class, AAAA cross country run here Saturday. Bel Air won with 75 points, while Clear Creek had 98 and El Paso Andress totaled 114 for third.

Ruben Dominguez of El Paso Austin was the individual winner. Big Spring's Ricky McCormick failed to place in the one-day event, held at Festival Beach on Town Lake.

THE BEGINNING OF A TD — Minnesota's Chuck Foreman (44) breaks a tackle attempted by Green Bay's Bob Brown (78) and avoids Jim Bill (39) as he begins a 50-yard touchdown run from scrimmage Saturday in Green Bay. It was one of many for the Vikings, who dumped the Packers 31-7.

Minnesota Powers Past Packers, 31-7

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Bobby Bryant intercepted three passes, returning one 46 yards for a touchdown and setting up a field goal with another, sparking the Minnesota Vikings to a 31-7 National Football League victory over the Green Bay Packers Saturday.

Two plays later, Green Bay's Jerry Tagge overthrew Leland Glass on a sideline pattern. Bryant picked off the ball at the Packer 46 and streaked down the sideline to the goal.

The Vikings made it 21-0 early in the second quarter when Foreman burst off right tackle, shook off several defenders and raced 50 yards to score. It was the longest scrimmage run by a Viking this season.

BUT RICE PROBE UNMENTIONED Women Get Go-Ahead In SWC

DALLAS (AP) — The Southwest Conference opened its doors for women to compete in intercollegiate athletics Saturday, raised ticket prices, and issued six private reprimands, but failed to discuss an investigation into the 1971 Rice football game.

The book told of cash loans to linebacker Rodrigo Barnes and flying a football player to West Texas because of illness in the family.

The SWC faculty representatives did not discuss an investigation triggered by a free lance writer's book about payoffs to Rice football players.

Set April 5-6 as the date for the SWC spring faculty meeting at Rice.

Houston Oilers Go Against Slumping Steelers Today

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers, locked in a three-way tie for the lead in the Central Division of the American Football Conference, meet the Houston Oilers, 1-12, today.

The Steelers once led the division by 2½ games, but consecutive losses to Denver, Cleveland and Miami have dropped their record to 8-4.

That ties them for first place with Cincinnati, also 8-4, and Cleveland, 7-3-2, who meet today on the next-to-last weekend of the regular season.

The Steelers can clinch at least a wild card berth in the playoffs by winning their last two games. To win their second straight division title, the Steelers must win their last two and at the same time Cincinnati and Cleveland must each lose or tie at least one of their remaining games.

The Browns finish the season in Los Angeles, Cincinnati visits Houston and the Steelers are in San Francisco.

Despite their longest losing streak since 1970, the Steelers made a strong second-half showing in last Monday night's loss in Miami. Trailing 30-3 at halftime, they rallied for 23 points behind quarterback Terry Bradshaw, sidelined the four previous weeks with a shoulder separation.

"We learned a lesson in intensity in the Miami game," said Steeler Coach Chuck Noll.

"Chadshaw, intensifying that's what the Dolphins had in the first half and we showed it in the second half."

THE HAWKS, ONE BY ONE

One of the top defensive players on the Howard County Hawks' cage squad this season is Mike Randle, a 6-5 sophomore from Big Spring.

"Mike is playing the best ball I've ever seen him play," says Hawk Coach Harold Wilder. "His shot is improving, and he's one of the better players we have at being in the right place at the right time. Mike is good on the press — he always draws the toughest forward to defense."

Randle, No. 34 in the Hawks' lineup, is one of four returning starters from last season. He's currently averaging nine points and five rebounds a game.

Portland 'Write-In' Making Good

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernie Fryer has not yet established himself as one of the premier players in the National Basketball Association, but he has become known as one of the best letter writers in the league.

Oh, how he can write letters. For months, the determined 6-foot-3, 185-pound guard from Port Angeles, Wash., sent letters to Stu Inman, vice president of the Portland Trail Blazers, requesting a tryout.

When the Trail Blazers failed to sign a draft choice this year, the confident Fryer wryly wrote Inman: "It really is a blessing in disguise. I can do the job."

Fryer's persuasion eventually got him a tryout, he made the team — and he proved he can do the job.

He has become Portland's No. 3 guard, behind Geoff Petrie, the team's high scorer, and defense-minded Larry Steele, the league's runner-up in steals. Fryer, however, has been a valuable substitute.

He came off the bench in a game against Houston, and scored 21 points and had six assists, sparking the Trail Blazers to a victory. And he is the team leader in free throw shooting, averaging better than 90 per cent.

"I knew I could make it if somebody gave me a chance," he says.

The Trail Blazers, one of several teams he sent "form letters" to, gave him that opportunity. They invited him to their rookie camp last June with about 15 other rookies. He was the only guard asked to return to the team's veteran camp in September.

"I knew the Trail Blazers could use some guard help if they didn't pick up some star who would put me out of business," he said. That was what had happened to him with the Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association last year. Denver, which had picked him ninth in the 1972 ABA draft had dropped him before the exhibition campaign because Warren Jabali, one of the league's top guards ended his holdout and signed. Phoenix of the NBA also had chosen Fryer in the 1972 draft, taking him seventh, but the Suns didn't conduct an early rookie camp. Instead, they asked Fryer to report to their summer camp. "I couldn't afford it, and any- how they had Charlie Scott for his first full season (Scott had jumped the ABA and signed with Phoenix), so I sat out the year in Seattle, playing AAU and city ball, and got my degree from the University of Washington," Fryer said.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Today's Dallas-Washington game, that all-important, super-crucial and otherwise semi-colossal NFL tussle, isn't just a football fan's dream in spectacular proportions. It also happens to be a mathematician's delight.

Now, I don't mean that easy stuff. I think even my poodle knows that Dallas has to win by more than seven points to move into the top spot in the NFC East. But that doesn't begin to tell the complexities of the situation.

First, the surface stuff. Washington has a 9-3 record and the Cowboys (bless their hearts) are 8-4. Since the Redskins beat the Cowboys by seven points in their first meeting, Dallas must win by that many points to tie things up. Then, if both teams win their remaining games, there's some kind of special secret point rating system the NFL dummies would go by. And right now, the Cowboys have an edge in that, whatever it is.

Should the Cowboys win by more than seven points, they would only have to hustle past not-so-impressive St. Louis a week hence and then they could blow it or do whatever they wanted in the playoffs. But, on the other hand, if the Cowboys lose to the 'Skins or win by less than seven points, then only the wild card can get the Pokes into the playoffs, and now I know why they call it the wild card.

Currently the Cowboys are tied with Atlanta, the only other team with a shot at the wild card spot. If Dallas were to lose to Washington today, then the Falcons' only task would be to mull past St. Louis today and New Orleans next week, and both games are in Atlanta.

But (here we go again) if the Cowboys beat Washington, but less than seven points, then get past St. Louis next week and if Atlanta wins its two remaining games, the winner would be decided by points scored and points allowed in games against NFC opposition only.

Going by that, the Pokes have a slim edge right now. They've defeated their NFC foes by 268-159, while Atlanta has a 219-128 edge over the opposition. That's a difference of 18 points, subject to change in the last two games, of course. Both have played nine conference games, but if you were counting all 12, the difference would only be three points.

But never mind all that. I don't want to confuse you. In case you're wondering what a tie might do for the Cowboys today, the answer is absolutely nothing. It would automatically let them out, unless Washington or Atlanta were to lose again, which isn't likely.

Wow. After all that, the game's liable to be pretty dull.

Here's the weekly tabulation on O. J. Simpson, the greatest runner since my wife caught her nose on the bottom of the couch.

Simpson, Buffalo's resident hero, needs just 369 yards (just?) in his final two games against New England today and the New York Jets next Sunday to break Jim Brown's record. He got 250 yards against the Patriots Sept. 13, but the New Englanders are more than slightly improved and he'll be doing well to get half that amount today.

Fall Futurity Set Today At Sunland

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — A purse of $73,363 — the biggest ever offered in fall racing at Sunland Park — will be divided up today with the dramatic 10th running of the Fall Quarter Horse Futurity.

The winner of the 400-yard cliff-hanger will haul down a record purse of $35,181. Thirteen races are on tap, starting at 1:30 p.m., as Sunland Park moves into the homestretch of the 29-day fall meeting. The headliner is booked as the 11th race on the expanded agenda.

No overwhelming favorite appears in the making for today's futurity, although matters are expected to pivot on Mr. Hay Bug, owned by Robert Ballenger and W. D. Barnett of Oklahoma City, and Call Me Buddy, the property of Lester Goodson of Magnolia.

There was only a hairline difference in the two in last week's elimination trials as Mr. Hay Bug won his encounter by nearly two lengths and carved out the swiftest qualifying time of 19.94 seconds.

Call Me Buddy won by a similar margin and stopped the clock in 19.95 — only a hundredth of a second shy of the top qualifying honor.

Mr. Hay Bug, who'll break from the No. 5 slot under Jerry Burgess, holds a career record of 7-2-0 out of 10 trips to the post. He's earned close to $39,000. The signal success of his career came with a conquest of the consolation of the West Texas Futurity at Sunland last spring, and a fifth-place finish in the $1 million All-American Futurity at Rudoso Downs. The latter was good for a paycheck of $36,000.

The heart of Mr. Hay Bug's record is an eight-race span from late March through August in which he won six times and finished second twice.

Call Me Buddy, who won his trial heat as an even-money favorite, has been no worse than third in his last seven spins. One of his best outings came at Albuquerque as he finished second to Flaming Jet, the second-place finisher in the All-American. Call Me Buddy will be piloted by Willie Lovell in Sunday's Futurity, and will come out of the No. 9 post.

Basura, owned by L. R. French of Odessa, appears to be rounding into peak form. The colt won his trial heat by a neck as a 5-2 shot. But his earnings are a modest $6,500.

Tips Award To Barnes

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech quarterback Joe Barnes has been named winner of the sixth annual Kern Tips Memorial Award.

Barnes, who led the Red Raiders to a 10-1 mark, was the selection of more than 120 sportswriters and broadcasters who annually honor the top senior football player in the Southwest Conference.

The award, presented by the Exxon Company, is named for the late SWC radio broadcaster. It is the only recognized player award in the SWC.

Texas Tech Coach Jim Carlen said Barnes' ability to "make the big play" was the main ingredient in the Raiders' season, the team's best finish in 20 years. Barnes, from Big Lake, guided the Techs to a berth in the Gator Bowl opposite Tennessee this month.

Barnes broke the Tech career total offense record of 2,902 yards, set by Tech QB Coach Tom Wilson in 1965, and was named SWC All-Conference quarterback by The Associated Press.

Lamesa's Season Ended By Mt. Pleasant, 26-21

WICHITA FALLS — Lamesa's whirlwind tour through the Class AAA football ranks came to an abrupt end here Friday night as the Golden Tors dropped a 26-21 state semifinals decision to the Mt. Pleasant Tigers.

The Tigers, now 13-0, rallied twice to catch the Golden Tors.

On Lamesa's next possession Melvin Robinson, who was held well below his 125-yard per game average by the Tigers, was knocked loose from the ball and LaVictor Allen picked it up for the Mt. Pleasant crew.

Grundy closed out the short 30-yard march with a one-yard plunge for six points, and Carney toed the extra point to tie things up with 7:19 left in the half.

Following a Lamesa punt, Mt. Pleasant was at it again. This time starting at their own 18, the Tigers advanced to the 30 in two plays before Richard Rockwell sped 70-yard through the Tors' defense for the go-ahead score with 4:54 remaining in the second period.

Carney's PAT attempt was no good and the Tigers took their 20-14 edge to the dressing room at the half.

The Tors bounded back on their first possession of the second half, however, blowing 70 yards to regain the lead on the 10-yard jaunt by McCurley, who ended the game with 92 yards.

Big play in the drive was a crucial 12-yard gainer by Miers on a fourth-and-two situation at midfield.

Williams' kick was good and the Tors were back on top 21-20 with 4:06 left in the third stanza.

Both teams had another possession before the Tigers took off on their winning drive.

Score by Quarters:

Lamesa 7 7 0-21

Mt. Pleasant 0 20 0-26

Johnson Likes Playing For A Title Contender

This is a December drastically different from others for Charley Johnson, going back to the early 60's when, as a freshman passer out of New Mexico State, he beat out Sam Etcheverry and George Izo for the starting job in St. Louis.

He was 35 last month but this is the first time he's going into the final month of the season with his club a half game out of first place.

Previous contenders? Yes. But a view from this close to the top this late is something new for Big Spring's Johnson, who has had all kinds of things, pleasant and unpleasant, happen during his 13-year career.

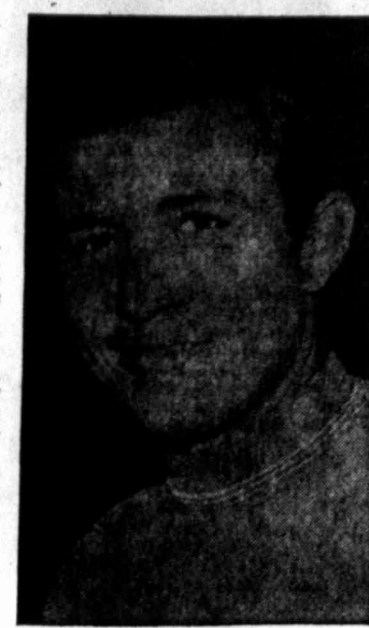

For another thing he's a "Doctor" now — with a doctorate in chemical engineering. For another he's had four operations on his knees and five on his shoulders, or perhaps it's the other way around.

Is it still fun for Johnson, who has played for a half-dozen coaches, in both conferences? Is it the salary check? Is it love or money?

"It's love AND money," observed Johnson, whose 17 TD passes for Denver is tops in the American Football Conference to date. "Probably in that order. You might say I love to make a living the way I do. Pride exists very dramatically on winning teams. It won't make a winner out of a poor team but a good team can't win without it."

It's pride, too, that's been keeping Johnson playing. One of four to have a 300-yard game in the AFC this year, he has been playing hurt for the second half of the season. That's "hurt," as in "the operation on his knee can wait until the season is over."

Johnson has thrown more TD passes in a single season than he's going to throw this year, no matter where the Broncos finish. Ten years ago he had 28 with the Cardinals. In that year he finished fifth among NFL passers.

It's significant, however, that of the top ten NFL passers that season only one is still a starter, Fran Tarkenton. The mortality rate isn't that good for that year in the AFL. Len Dawson and George Blanda are still operating, but not as QB starters.

Denver is Johnson's third team in the pros. He was traded to Houston in 1970 for Pete Beathard, and went to Denver during pre-season last year for a modest draft choice. It was a scramble kind of season for Denver with first-year coach John Ralston feeling his way.

Right now the Broncos look as though they have one of the better long-range foundations in the AFC.

Choate, Brown Named 'Players Of Year'

COAHOMA'S PUTT CHOATE Bulldog Back Of The Year

Two running backs who shined above the rest, Coahoma's Putt Choate and Elvin Brown...

he also hit 130 against Crane. Brown ended the year with 721 yards on 109 carries for a healthy 6.6 yard per carry average.

He was most dangerous from his defensive cornerback post, intercepting three passes and returning two for touchdowns.

Burriss Names 32 Lettermen

Big Spring head coach Bob Burriss has released a list of 32 lettermen from the 1973 football season...

Included in that list of returnees are 11 players who were defensive starters at one time or other during the Steers' past 19 season.

Danny Ferrell and Lonell Banks, in the starting backfield together the last seven games of the season, head up the list of offensive returnees...

The other junior to be back next season is Stan Partee, a 6-3, 195-pound tackle who also was a defensive starter much of the year.

Joining Partee on the list of returning defensive regulars are nose guard Edward Pekowski, linebackers Mark Moore and Ricky Watkins...

Andre Hurrington, a junior who saw action in the offensive backfield as a halfback, will also return.

Sorley, Smith Are Top Steers

Tom Sorley and John Thomas Smith, two players who managed to keep the Big Spring Steers' offense rolling during hard times the past football season, have been named the Herald's Players of the Year.

Sorley, named Back of the Year honors for his performance from the quarterback spot, where he passed for 1,966 yards and 13 touchdowns in directing the Steers to several near-upsets.

The Steers, picked last in the loop in pre-district voting, finished with a 1-9 season mark. But in all except three games the Longhorns were in a position to win or tie until the final moments.

Sorley's pinpoint passing was the team's main weapon, and he connected on 120 of 297 attempts. He directed a strong challenge against Dist. 5-AAAA champion Odessa Permian, but his best game came in a 34-27 loss to Abilene High as he threw for 303 yards and four touchdowns.

During a 64-43 loss to San Angelo in the season finale, Sorley hit 22 of 51 passes for 297 yards. Smith was named Lineman of the Year, mainly because of his numerous receptions from the split end spot. Smith was uncanny in his pass catching at times.

The San Angelo game was his greatest effort, as he hauled in 14 receptions for 182 yards and three touchdowns. Against Abilene, he caught six passes for 224 yards and three scores.

Smith, who had 61 receptions for 1,050 yards on the year, set a Dist. 5-AAA record in capturing the league receiving championship. In seven loop games he caught 45 passes for 762 yards and eight TDs, breaking the old receiving record by almost 200 yards.

He was named all-district wide receiver, and was honorable mention as a defensive cornerback. Smith also was recently named a two-way first teamer on the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal All-South Plains Class AAAA honor squad.

Thixton, Soles All-District; Crooks Honorable Mention

Two Forsan Buffaloes made the first team defense and another Buff gained honorable mention on the 3-B All-District team, selected last week by the league's coaches.

Wesley Thixton was named to the first defensive squad as a guard and Landon Soles made it at linebacker on the 27-man unit dominated by Roby and loop champion Jayton. Roby put seven men on the team and Jayton eight, while Bronte managed four and Loraine and Hawley had three apiece.

Sands failed to place a player on the first team or on the honorable mention list. David Crooks was the other Buffalo to gain attention, joining the squad as an honorable mention defensive back. Soles also made honorable mention running back on the offensive unit.

Thixton and Soles are juniors and Crooks is a senior. Running backs Michael Jones of Loraine and Mark Fincher of Jayton headed up the offensive unit, while Roby's Dale Evers gained the first team quarterback berth.

Evers was one of six players to get first team two-way mention. Donnie Stephens and Frank Caster of Roby, Jim Dan Raughton of Bronte and Terry Favor and Allen Kelley of Jayton were the others.

Wesley Thixton, Forsan, Jr.; Don Jones; John, Soph.; tackles - Ray Hurd, Hawley, Kelley, Jayton, end - Marvin Waldrop, Bronte, Sr.; Caster, Roby.

Linebacker - Landon Soles, Forsan, Jr.; Greg Morris, Hawley, Sr.; Favor, Jayton; Louis Martinez, Bronte, Jr.; Stephens, Roby; secondary - Mike Wilson, Jayton, Sr.; Raughton, Bronte; Evers, Roby.

Dallas Up Against Wall; Redskins Ambush Today

DALLAS (AP) - Washington 7, Dallas 0. The scoreboard won't say so but that's the deficit Dallas will face today at the 3 p.m. CST kickoff between the contenders for the National Conference Eastern Division title.

A Washington victory or tie will simplify matters—the Redskins win the NFC title for the second consecutive year.

Should Dallas win, it will send into motion a series of tie-breakers that would make the average football fan dizzy just reading the possibilities.

Washington defeated Dallas 14-7 in their first meeting and owns a 9-3 record. Dallas is 8-4. The Cowboys must win by seven or more points because—assuming a Dallas victory—the teams would be tied in head-to-head competition, intra-division games and intra-conference contests.

The next category is victory margins when the two teams played. If Dallas only wins by six, then Washington still leads the division with one game remaining for each team on the schedule.

If Dallas wins by exactly seven points, then it boils down to the best point rating. The National Football League rates teams on offense and defense and currently Dallas has a lead on Washington when the two departments are totaled. Also, both teams have a shot at the "wild card" berth for runnerup teams in a conference. Atlanta is 8-4 in the NFC behind Los Angeles. Should Dallas or Washington finish in a tie with Atlanta then it would come down to their respective ranking in NFC games only, based on points scored and points allowed.

HOROSCOPE

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1973
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's Full Moon has many tests, but if you take them in your stride you can accomplish a very great deal.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Get out to the services that inspire you, sarcastically to the contrary of others.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Approach your financial situation from a new position and where you can cut expenses.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be charming to gain cherished wishes. Don't let the results you need. You can make progress by joining a new group that fascinates you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22) You can get ahead faster if you work lighter and more profitably. Make new friends who are clever and who will lead you to the way.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21) Make improvements to your home so it is more comfortable. Steer clear of individuals who may lead you to the wrong direction.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Find new appliances that will really interest you. Regular use is concerned can make a difference.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Check new ideas with a trusted adviser, or you could get into trouble. Don't permit a new contact to get you off the track.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Use good judgment handling any problems instead of following hunches. Make allowances for an associate who is not feeling well or acting quite right.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) An associate wants to make new arrangements, so listen carefully but don't commit yourself until you have slept over their advice.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show appreciation to one who has done you many favors. Plan time to rest and relax. Don't neglect spiritual studies.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are becoming inspired at new activities much. Find out what you like would others take advantage of you. Be more devoted.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Make your home more operative and comfortable. Think about a tanking about its condition. Extend invitation to an interesting person.

Santa's Helpers

LOOKING LIKE DOLLS themselves, LeeAnn Ashley, 2, and big sister, Kelly Ashley, 6, say, "Mommy, look what we found!" LeeAnn doesn't want to give up her new-found baby (but Santa may have another one on the way). The pretty little 'lookers' are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Ashley of Colorado City Lake.

GIFTS FOR 'US', to beautify the home, are preferred by many adults, and Mrs. Roy Dayton is no exception. The wife of Lt. Col. Roy Dayton, wing executive at Webb AFB, she's looking for things that will bring pleasure for many Christmases. Very special gifts are already purchased for the rest of the family, LaDanna, 21, Robbi, 19, and Kirk, 17.

LADIES LIKE lovely fragrances — and so do men — so Mrs. Bob Northcutt of Randerbrook Spade Ranch, knows a simple solution to the gifting problem. She buys gifts for about 15 family members, but the biggest and best will go to her husband and their son David, 11.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS, a treasured tradition of Christmas, puts everyone in the mood for a joyous season. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Shortes, Ackerly, who shopped in Big Spring for their youngsters, Russ, 9, and Danae, 6, paused to pick up cards for their families.

Two Clubs Sponsoring Style Show

The Ada Belle Dement Club and the Ever Ready Civic Art Club will co-sponsor a Fashion Review and Talent Show Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Lakeview Elementary School gym.

Styles will feature fall and winter fashions in sports, evening and casual wear. The talent program will feature musical numbers including songs, folk dances and skits.

Proceeds from the show will be used to provide local entertainment during the Stokes-Parker District board meeting scheduled here in February, 1974.

El Paso Bus Brings Christmas To Hospital

Thirty-one members of the El Paso County Mental Health Association in El Paso, and family members of patients in Big Spring State Hospital, were guests of the hospital Thursday and Friday.

The trip was organized to enable family members from El Paso to spend some time with their children, husbands and wives who have been hospitalized here, some of whom have been in the state hospital for 20 years.

The special Christmas party that was held Thursday night in Unit 10 day room (feted 143 El Paso patients with Mexican food (tamales, Spanish rice, refried beans) salad, cookies, punch and fruit, furnished by the Mountain Pass Cannery and District 10 of the VFW in El Paso. The tables were decorated with colorful Mexican paper flowers in baskets brought from El Paso for the occasion.

Gifts were also presented to the group, including make-up, lotion, hair conditioners and cold creams, furnished by Vanda Beauty Products, Gunning Casteel Drugs and the Popular Dry Goods department store.

The El Paso visitors presented their Christmas packages to family members at the hospital during this time.

Friday, visiting El Pasoans were with their families on different units of the hospital. At noon, they were honored at a luncheon in the hospital auditorium. An estimated 100 persons, including staff and patients, attended the festivities which also included a talent presentation by "The Hobo Entertainers." The welcome was extended by Dr. Robert Tinley, doctor of the El Paso Unit, and invocation was given by Alton Gatewood.

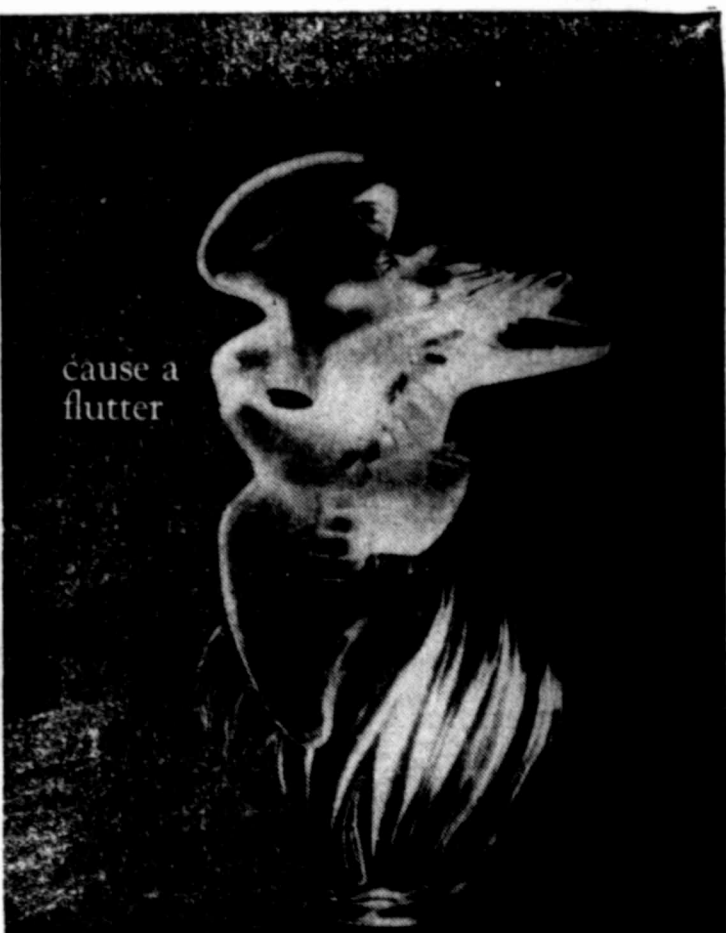

The bus was a chartered courtesy of William Kastrin and Cecilia McMaster of El Paso.

Members of El Paso County Mental Health Association participating in the program were Mrs. Jan Foxworth, board president; Mrs. Jacques Spier, president-elect; Miss Pam Brown, board member; Manuel Rivas, VA director; Raul Valdez, director of Human Development Center; Mrs. Fronie Meek, executive secretary of the association; Tom Freeman and Mrs. Cynthia McCluskey, board member and staff writer of the El Paso Times.

The trip will be an annual event sponsored by the Mental Health Association. El Paso is the largest city in the district being served by Big Spring State Hospital.

ACCEPTING A GIFT for a resident of the hospital is Mrs. Virginia Moore, volunteer coordinator. The gift was brought by Julian Britt of El Paso for a member of his family.

Mute Question

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I read an article which stated: "Ninety seven per cent of all married men cheat on their wives — and only six per cent of all married women cheat on their husbands."

I told my husband this, and he said he thought those statistics were way off, that it should have been higher for women, and lower for men.

What do you think?
WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: There is probably no other subject about which so many people lie; so where sex is concerned, I wouldn't accept any figure as gospel.

DEAR ABBY: I am 25, and Ken is 40. We've been happily married for six years and have a daughter 5, and I'm expecting again.

My problem: Ken has three sons, 14, 12, and 9, who have been living with his ex-wife, and these boys are hard to handle. I know because we've had them for vacations.

His ex-wife has had three husbands in the last five years, and now she's living with a minor! Ken says it would be easy for us to get custody of his kids now, but Abby, I don't want them. They like me, and I make them mind, but it's so difficult! The older one has run away twice, and the 12-year-old is on probation for shoplifting.

I don't know what I'll do if I have to raise these boys, Abby. I love my husband and don't want to lose him, but I don't think I can handle those wild kids.

CRACKING UP
DEAR CRACKING: The boys desperately need love and acceptance. Don't reject them. Your Family Service Child Guidance department can counsel you — and them, too. If they make their home with you, give these problem boys a chance to straighten out. Love creates miracles.

DEAR ABBY: Can a widow celebrate her 50th wedding anniversary if her husband has been dead for 24 years?

My mother wants to place flowers on the church altar and buy a page in the church bulletin to celebrate her 50th wedding anniversary, or in some way to memorialize the date she and my father would be celebrating if he were alive.

Abby, I don't want people to laugh at her, but I have never heard of anything like this. Please help me to guide her. I agree, the day should be remembered in some way, but how should she word the announcement without appearing cuckoo?

HER SON
DEAR SON: Your mother could place flowers on the altar in memory of her beloved husband on the day that would have been their 50th wedding anniversary. And she could place such an announcement "In loving memory of my dear departed husband" in the church bulletin.

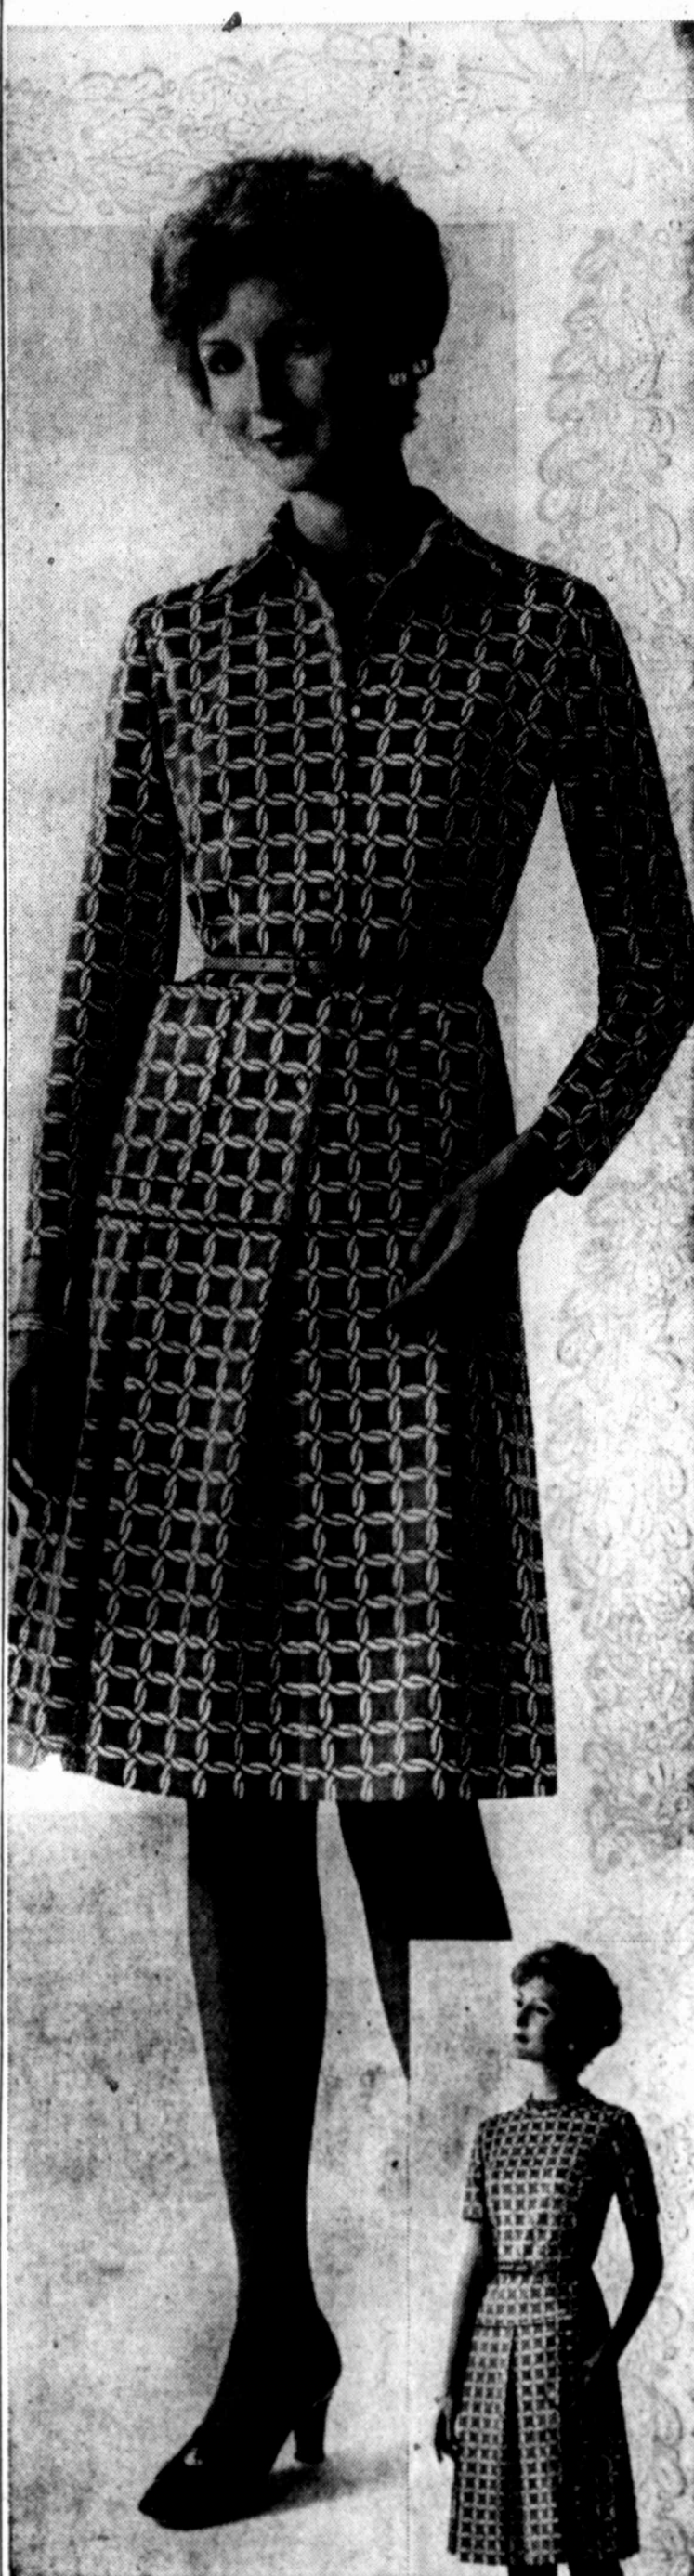

DEAR ABBY: I have heard that if a man introduces a woman in public as his wife, they are legally married.

If this is true, why is it necessary to obtain a marriage license?

NEEDS TO KNOW
DEAR NEEDS: There is a small germ of truth (and then only under special circumstances) in the above statement. Talk to a lawyer in your state about marriage — common-law and otherwise.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69706, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

FOR YOUR PLEASURE Matinee Today For HCJC's 'Celebration'

You still have a chance to view the fine presentation of "Celebration," the Tom Jones-Harvey Schmidt musical at Howard County Junior College Auditorium. It's final showing will be at 2:30 p.m. An allegory with a fresh score, it has bright lines — and a talented cast.

The Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorale will present its second concert of the season Monday and Tuesday. The "Holiday Gala" will be presented 8 p.m. Monday at Bonham Junior High Auditorium in Odessa and at the same time Tuesday in Lee High School Auditorium in Midland. Both concerts are open to the public, and the program of light, melodic music is designed for the family. A special treat will be the Gilbert and Sullivan comic operetta satire, "Trail by Jury." (Many will remember the excellent presentation by the HCJC music-drama departments here last spring.) Program for the two concerts includes liting Straus waltzes, an arrangement by Leroy Anderson, and a symphonic poem composed by Robert Kreis, conductor. (Tickets will be available at the door.)

special showing of "Audubon: Quadrupeds of North America." A special exhibit of "Master Carvings by Jack Drake," courtesy of the Baker Gallery, is also on display.

Continuing at the Baker Gallery in Lubbock (13th & Ave. L) is a Christmas showing of the works of Wilson Hurley, master landscapist; Barbara Harmon, whose kittens and other fantasy characters appeal equally to adults and children; and Voris Hope, a genius in exquisite detail of flowers. Hours are 9 a.m.-5 p.m. weekdays and Saturday.

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo season has a tremendous lineup of talent booked from Feb. 22 through March 4. In order of appearance are The Jackson Five, Sonny and Cher, Johnny Rodriguez, Charlie Rich, Doc Severinsen and Today's Children, Dawn, Tony Orlando, Conway Twitty, Vicki Carr and Elvis Presley.

The Fort Worth Stock show's entertainment headliner Jan. 25-Feb. 3 will be Tanya Tucker, "the Delta Dawn Girl" with the big voice and whose most recent hit is "What's Your Mama's Name?"

The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts has its traditional children's fantasyland and Christmas festival Sunday Dec. 16 from 2-4 p.m. There will be musical performances at the realm of the Snow Queen; selections by the Richardson High School Madrigal Singers; and the puppeteers from Southern Methodist University. Sunday afternoon concerts this month include Bill Black, pianist, Dec. 30. Starting in January will be a spotlight exhibit on sculpture of Thailand.

"Talk of Texas," by Jack Maguire (Shoal Creek Publishers, Box 968, Austin, 78767, $4.94 plus tax) is a wonderful book to take your mind off the national and world crises. It's crammed full of little-known facts and vignettes of Texas history, written in Maguire's crisp, concentrated but flowing style. As R. Henderson Shuffler, director of the Institute of Texan Cultures (and a former Odessa) notes in its introduction, Maguire is a master of what not to include as well as what to write. The volume is categorized for subject matter, and with staccato shot from one to half a dozen paragraphs, he wings more Texas color and history than a shotgun blast in a library. It ranges from women (when all Supreme Court members were women) to a Texas darling who performed in the nude, to odd-ball genius, Elizabeth Ney, who cremated her son in the family fireplace. Once, reports Maguire, the Alamo was a wholesale grocery and liquor store; how Capt. Ross got Texans to San Jacinto in time for independence but never could collect a penny; how a store operated for 50 years as Jesus Christ as legal owner; how fabulous oilfields sank into the earth, plus nearly a thousand other zingers. Many follow Maguire's features in Texas Parade each month and in weekly columns over the state. An ingenious Texan, Maguire got his start writing by persuading President Roosevelt to stop in Denison so he could interview him. It landed him his first newspaper job. Heritage Museum will be closed today, after which it will be back on its regular schedule for visitors.

Prenatal Classes Set For Dec. 11

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center will offer a special class for expectant mothers which will begin at the Center Dec. 11. Each class will be held on Tuesday at 1 p.m. and will run for three weeks. At the end of each three-week period a new class will begin. The mothers must be enrolled in the class before its beginning, and no applicants will be accepted into that particular class once it begins. Those particular applicants will be entered into the next class.

The class is a special prenatal and postpartum exercise program emphasizing proper body mechanics and muscle strengthening. It will be taught by a licensed physical therapist. A physician's referral will be required. Any interested mother should contact her physician who can refer the mother to the Center. Those expectant mothers who are interested should call the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center for registration and information.

"Hay Fever," the comic story of an unconventional Bohemian family, opened Friday at the Globe of the Great Southwest in Odessa. Repeat productions of the Noel Coward comedy will be Friday and Saturday; also Dec. 28-29 and 31. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.; tickets $1.50 and $3.

Attention Birdwatchers: The annual National Audubon Society's annual Christmas Bird Count is set for Dec. 15-Jan. 1. An army of some 20,000 birdwatchers is ready to take part in the Society's 74th annual count. Volunteers keep a pencil and notebook handy with binoculars to chronicle various species. Honors went last year to observers in Coca, Fla., and Freeport, Tex., with 209 species chronicled. While a delightful avocation, this also serves a scientific purpose.

Tanya Dorfeler, Route 2, Big Spring was among those participating in the first reading of a Creative Writing Program at the University of Texas Permian Basin last week. Tanya read poetry on the program.

Rosebud Club Has Luncheon

Mrs. Odell Womack and Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall were hostesses for the Rosebud Garden Club luncheon held Thursday at the YMCA. Among those attending were numerous guests, representing most of the local garden clubs.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Harry Williams of Levelland, a national flower show judge. The topic was "Christmas Magic".

Mrs. Williams brought with her a collection of Christmas arrangements explaining in detail how to duplicate the festive creations. Although she made some conventional arrangements from candles, baubles and garlands, she also displayed unusual holiday arrangements made of simple things, such as kitchen utensils trimmed with red ribbons and greenery.

Of the approximately 35 arrangements shown, one of the most eye-catching was a red and white carousel, complete with reindeer, elves and Santa Claus.

The hostesses used green plants with red berries and terrariums to carry out the Christmas theme in decorations.

On Dec. 13, the Rosebud Garden Club members will meet at Big Spring State Hospital, Ward 10, where they will help patients with holiday decorating.

Musicians Discuss Composers

"Little-Known Composers of the Baroque Period" was the program Mrs. Anne Cheatham presented recently to Piano Teachers Forum in the home of Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser. Mrs. Debra Thompson was cohostess for the meeting.

The Spring Festival to be held March 8-9 at Howard County Junior College was discussed. It was announced that Dr. Dorine Grimes, head of the piano department at Angelo State University, will be judge for the music festival.

Students of forum members will perform in a recital at the H C J C auditorium, at 2:30 p.m., Dec. 16.

The next meeting was slated for dinner at the Spanish Inn, at 8 p.m., Jan. 7.

PARTY HOSTESSES — Mrs. Wade Choate, left, and Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr. were two of the hostesses at Friday's punch party and luncheon for the Ladies Golf Association, Big Spring Country Club. Festive decorations of holly and miniature Christmas trees were used on tables laid with red linens.

Whipkey Room Scene Of Luncheon Program

The Whipkey Room at Webb Air Force Base was the setting for a Christmas brunch held Wednesday for members of the Officers Wives Club and their guests. The affair was hosted by the Air Base Group, with Mrs. Terri Price serving as general chairwoman.

Egg nog was served during a social hour preceding the brunch.

Mrs. Barbara Peterson, OWC president, presided during a brief business session, extending a welcome to the newcomers, Class 75-03, and saying farewell to those in the graduating Class 74-03. Also, best wishes were extended to Mrs. Paul Adams, Mrs. Dave Jagers, Mrs. Lee Miller and Mrs. John Wood, members of the permanent party who will be departing the base soon.

The program was presented by the Belle Ringers of First United Methodist Church, under the direction of Mrs. Susan Dawes, who performed carols and other musical selections associated with the Christmas season. At the conclusion of their performance, Mrs. Marlene Missman read a poem, "The Night Before Christmas", altering it to apply to West Texas.

It was announced that the OWC will send Christmas gifts to its "adopted" Indian boy, Andrew Austin, of Kayental, Ariz.

In other business, it was reported that there will be no OWC bridge until Jan. 17. Bridge lessons will begin Jan. 21, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the club, at a cost of $6. Those interested were asked to call Mrs. Janie Ward, 263-0841.

cluding those of assistant editor, circulation typist, reporters and photographer. Volunteers may call Mrs. Gigi Vander Ven, editor.

It was reported that about 10 girls of high school age need a leader for a Senior Scout troop. Persons interested in being a leader or co-leader should contact Mrs. Marlene Missman, 263-8196, or the local Girl Scout office.

The base hospital needs children's pajamas for patients aged two to 12. Those with contributions should call Mrs. Nancy Schmidt, 267-2967.

Members were reminded that there will be no OWC Christmas dance this year, but there will be a New Year's dance at the club. Squadrions will continue to have individual parties for the holiday season.

The next OWC board meeting will be at 9:45 a.m., Jan. 8, 1974, with the regular luncheon to follow, on Jan. 10. The new publicity chairman is Mrs. Marion Finch.

La Gallinas Has Tournament Day

The La Gallinas bridge group at Big Spring Country Club held a tournament day Friday, with Mrs. Ollie Anderson and Mrs. L. B.

Edwards placing first. Other winners were Mrs. Clarence Peters and Mrs. Pete Cook, second; and Mrs. Birt Allison and Mrs. Clyde Gafford, third. Games will be held Dec. 14 and Dec. 28, but there will be no play Dec. 21.

WILL BE HONORED — The fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Blythe will be observed Dec. 16 when the couple's children and grandchildren will honor them with an open house in Scurry County coliseum at Snyder. Calling hours will be from 2 to 5 p.m., and all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Christmas Parade Of Homes Slated Today

The Midland Junior Woman's Club will present a Christmas Parade of Homes this afternoon from 1 to 5 p.m. in Midland, with Big Spring and area residents invited to attend. Tickets are $1 and may be purchased at the door of any of the homes listed on the tour.

The four homes to be shown are those of Mr. and

Children's Party Will Be Dec. 21

Mrs. Don McCray, president, presided Thursday as the American Legion Auxiliary tentively slated a Christmas party for children and youth at 7 p.m., Dec. 21.

Plans were also made to have a New Year's Eve Dance at the legion hall with the public invited to attend. Couples will be $7 and single tickets, $4. The dance will begin at 9 p.m. and, afterward, breakfast will be served.

Senior members elected were Mrs. Daniel J. Greenwood and Mrs. John R. Scott.

Mrs. Charles C. Aldridge, 1504 Princeton; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Dwyer, No. 8 Saddle Club Drive; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lemons, 2502 Culpepper; and Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Nickel, 2002 Stanolind.

The Aldridge home is a traditional one with modern accents, while country-traditional best describes the Dwyer home.

The style of the Lemons' home is Spanish with antique pieces blending with Spanish ones on the interior. The Nickel home has a French provincial tone with an oriental flare being used in some of the rooms.

The homes are being decorated by various Midland firms.

Proceeds from this project will go to several projects. For the Cole Park Zoo, money will be given to the Midland Zoological Society for the acquisition or purchase of animals when necessary, as well as physical improvements of the facility.

Another beneficiary will be CLEW (Community Living and Evaluation Workshop). This mental health and mental retardation-sponsored program provides training to assist the disabled individual to realize his or her utmost personal and occupational independence. The program is serving 12 Midlanders at the present time and has as its supervisor, Clarence Nash. Eight employes staff the present facilities.

The Midland Junior Woman's Club, headed by Mrs. F. W. Hall Jr., is celebrating its fifth anniversary this year with the theme, "The Sky's the Limit".

Prizes Awarded In Bridge Play

Bridge-o and attendance prizes were won by Mrs. Patsy Rogers, treasurer of the Newcomers Club, at its Tuesday morning meeting in Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Vonda Townsend, president; Mrs. Helen Terry, vice president; Mrs. Donna Goble, secretary; reporter: Mrs. Rogers, treasurer; Mrs. Maxine Ireland, bridge chairman; Mrs. Connie Garrison, hostess chairman; and Mrs. Louise Gregg, Sunshine chairman.

Mrs. Garrison was hostess for the event with one newcomer, Mrs. Maxine Cox, present.

Festive Corsages Given To Class

Christmas corsages were presented to members of Gleaners Sunday School Class, Baptist Temple, by their teacher, Mrs. E. T. White, at Thursday night's Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Winifred Wood. Mrs. Ora Martin was cohostess.

Mrs. White worded prayer, and Mrs. C. L. Kirkland gave the devotion. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. W. L. Sandridge.

A fruit basket will be prepared by the class and given to one of its extension members. A pledge of $10 was made to the Lottie Moon offering.

Mrs. T. A. Melton, president, closed the meeting with a prayer.

Brooms. Mops Won't Slide

Community Event Set In Center At Lomax

A community gathering has been planned for all Lomax residents by the Lomax Community Club. The guest affair will be held in the Lomax Community Center Dec. 12, beginning approximately 6:30 p.m. Those attending have been requested to bring two covered dishes (or more depending on the size of family), and games in which all members of the family can participate. Meat and the basic essentials will be provided by club members.

Further information regarding the event may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Russell Tidwell, 398-5596.

Community projects were also discussed when the club met Wednesday and a list of things was compiled for getting the old school house in shape.

Will Entertain Elderly Patients

A Monday morning party for elderly people in Ward 10-B, Big Spring State Hospital, has been planned by the Center Point Home Demonstration Club. Club members will serve sandwiches, cake and punch at the holiday affair. Another club project will be packing a box for a Big Spring family.

Wave Of Terror Plotted Abroad

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican President Luis Echeverria says the recent wave of terrorism in Mexico was promoted from abroad.

However, Echeverria was not clear in specifying which countries promoted the terrorism although he noted the powers struggle for world supremacy "through destruction of liberties."

Between September and October Mexico saw an increase in apparent guerrilla-terrorist actions including the kidnaping of the British honorary consul in Guadalajara, Anthony Duncan Williams, and the assassinations of two prominent industrialists.

On Sept. 17 Monterrey tycoon Eugenio Garza Sada was shot and killed in an apparent kidnap attempt. In the middle of October Guadalajara businessman Fernando Aranguren was found dead about a week after he was kidnaped—on the same day Williams was seized.

The government refused to negotiate kidnapers' demands for both Williams and Aranguren. Williams was freed unharmed.

Most of these actions, including bombings also in several cities, have been blamed on clandestine communist organizations, although some leftists in Mexico say the violence is promoted by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

"We have proven that the kidnapings and the assassinations and the acts of terrorism have a clear foreign origin and we must be united to condemn these actions," Echeverria said.

"Before we had assassinations of agrarian leaders, then assassinations of worker leaders and now assassinations of business leaders," he added. He said Mexico's problems must be resolved through dialogue and exchange of ideas.

"We can't solve Mexico's problems through clandestine actions and terrorism," he said. He spoke during a meeting with workers, businessmen and government officials Friday night.

New Leverage For Oil Firms

SAN DIEGO (AP) — An oilman says the fuel shortage has given the oil industry new leverage with the government against environmentalists.

"It's a matter of priorities," John R. McMillan, president of the Western Oil and Gas Association, told a meeting of local business leaders Friday.

"You are going to have the same swing of the pendulum to California's energy situation now that the environmentalists had going for them a couple of years ago."

Despite increased domestic oil drilling, the shortage is "going to get worse before it gets better," McMillan said.

"Every rig in the country is busy now," he said. "You can't get a rig. You have to wait your turn."

But he said the United States depends heavily on foreign oil, having imported 31 per cent of its oil in the first 10 months of this year.

McMillan and another oilman, Union Oil Vice President John M. Hockins, agreed that either gasoline rationing or severe allocations would be imposed soon and last the duration of the Arab oil embargo.

GOLIAD JUNIOR HIGH

Door Decorating Contest Staged By School Group

By BECKY RAGAN
The student council is sponsoring a Christmas door decorating contest for the advisories. Dana Workman announced the rules for the contest Thursday, Dec. 6, over the school P. A. system. Rules are: 1. Nothing flammable can be used. 2. Due to the energy crisis, if lights are used, they may not be turned on until judging day. 3. Doors should be based on originality, beauty, and the Christmas spirit, as judging will be based on these qualities. Doors will be judged Dec. 18, and prizes will be awarded Dec. 20. First, second, and third place ribbons will be awarded in both the seventh and eighth grades, and the winning classes will have a cake party. The Goliad choir and band have a Christmas concert planned for Friday, Dec. 14. Two programs are scheduled — one at 1:30 in the school gym for students and another at 7:30, also in the school gym, for the public. The annual canned food drive will begin Monday, Dec. 10 and end Friday, Dec. 14. The food will be given to the Salvation Army which will distribute it to the needy. The Goliad and Runnels bands will participate in a concert Tuesday, 11, in the high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to this concert. The Goliad Chess Club sponsored by Mr. Charles Arnold, met Nov. 28 in room

114. Fourteen members were present. Club members decided to name the club the "Goliad Knights". A two day tournament was planned. The results of the first night, which was held Wednesday, Dec. 5 are: Herb Breese, Robert Smith, Wade Cobb, and Andre Couvillion tied for first place, with Angie Fulgum a close second. The second night of the tournament is Wednesday, Dec. 12. This tournament is limited to thirty participants. Membership in the chess club is still open in case anyone is interested in joining. Mr. Lee Freeze, counselor, reports that the results of the standard achievement tests that were given to the seventh graders last week would be back around Christmas. Andra Hohertz is complimented on another school calendar which she has hung outside the visual aides room. The student council will have a meeting Tuesday during third period. Members are reminded of this meeting. The library club will have a meeting Wednesday in the library during the eighth grade advisory. Mrs. Linda Harp has a birthday Friday. Happy Birthday!

RUNNELS JUNIOR HIGH

Food Drive Will Start Monday

By JENNIE SPEEGLE
A Student Council meeting was held on Dec. 6 during first advisory. During the meeting the representatives discussed the door decoration contest and the canned food drive. They also made signs for the drive. The canned food drive will be sponsored by the Student Council this year. The drive will start tomorrow and will continue until Friday. Students should bring their canned food to their homeroom classes. A certificate will be awarded by the Student Council to the most charitable homeroom. The Student Council is also sponsoring a Door Contest between the advisories. The contest entries will be judged by the cafeteria workers of Runnels. First prize for the winner will be $5.00. The Student Council representatives voted and decided to donate ten dollars to the Hall of Fame at the High School. The National Junior Honor Society of Runnels held its induction ceremony last Tuesday. Student Council members participated in the ceremony. Robin Newsom played the piano for the procession of the inductees. Steve Cannon led the invocation and the Pledge of Allegiance and Donny Knight led the benediction. Sponsors for the Runnels NJHS are Mrs. Tanner and Mrs. Conley. The Chess Club is sending a letter of acceptance to the Goliad Chess Club in answer to a tournament challenge. The tournament will be played sometime after the Christmas holidays, but the exact date is unknown. The Library Club met last Tuesday during first advisory. The group enjoyed a book report given by Renee Jennings. Suggestions by the students were read. Also, plans were discussed regarding library decorations and schedules for Christmas. The next eighth grade basketball game will be played Monday, December the tenth, against Travis at Runnels. The games start at 4:00. Mrs. Coleman's afternoon classes are making paper Christmas trees. Her morning cooking classes are making fudge and divinity. The candy will be sold to the teachers and the students may buy it this Friday. Mrs. Coleman's afternoon sewing classes have been making stuffed bears. Eva Munez won the best bear contest. There is one new student at Runnels this week. Eddie Puga, a seventh grader, moved here from El Paso. The seventh grade girls P. E. classes completed their basketball intramurals Tuesday during second advisory. The championship game was played between the Lakers from third period and the Stompers from fifth period. The Lakers won by a score of 29-16. The leading scorer being Selena Jones. The Lakers, with Cindy McMahon as captain and Isabel Rodriguez, as co-captain did not lose a game. Other team members were: Toni Cline, Teresa Sherman, and Debbie Fitts. The Stompers, with Joni Cline as captain and Debra Churchwell as co-captain, won second place. Connie Butler was the high scorer for the Stompers. Other team members were: Anita Munoz, Diana Dominguez, Tammy Payne, and Cindy Stanton. The Allstar teams were selected by Mrs. Graham seventh grade P.E. instructor. Twelve girls were selected as participants from the morning classes and twelve girls from the afternoon classes. The all-star games ended Friday during second advisory with the morning all-stars capturing the crown by a score of 26-10. The Morning All-stars are: Karen Kelley, Susan Murray, Audrey Crosby, Sylvia DelBosque, Cindy McMahon, Anna Cadenhead — captain, Teresa Sherman — captain, Selena Jones, and Joni Cline. Others are Debbie Pitts, Carol Winterbauer, Isabel Rodriguez, Linda Alcantar, Elizabeth Albreo, and Sylvia Herrera. Evening All-stars are: Cynthia Delgado, Yvonne Kimble, Cathy Chavez, Laura Bartosh, Mitzi Woods, Connie Butler-captain, Anita Munoz, and Debra Churchwell. Others are: Joni Cline, Diana Dominguez, captain, Johnnie Blalack, Patricia Cherry, Beverly Thomason, captain, and Vicki Rich.

UTPB Scene Of Meeting
ODESSA — The December meeting of the Permian Basin Section of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers will feature a presentation by Dr. Max Fry of the University of Texas at the UTPB Engineering Program. With Dr. Fry will be Dr. Lee Harrisberger, Dean of the College of Science and Engineering, who will discuss the Authentic Involvement Program which the college offers. The UTPB offers many education innovations, and the Engineering Program is no exception, with such things as individualized student programs, continuous enrollment, self-paced instruction, authentic involvement projects with industry, just to name a few. Dr. Fry's talk will be highlighted by a pictorial tour of the new campus facilities. Dr. Fry holds a BS degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Oklahoma and a Ph.D. degree in Electrical Engineering from SMU; he has also been an Aerodynamics Engineer with LTV Corporation. Dr. Harrisberger came to UTPB from Oklahoma State University where he served as chairman of Mechanical Engineering; and he is internationally recognized for his efforts in Engineering Education. The meeting will be held Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Inn of the Golden West in Odessa. Those planning to attend should contact Phil Collier at Perry Gas Co. in Odessa, Ron Tonne at Orloff Corp. in Midland, or Curtis Strong at Cosden Oil in Big Spring.

Newspaper Is Sub For Book In Classroom

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP) — An educational experiment abandoning the standard classroom textbook for a daily newspaper has had "unbelievable" results, says the principal at Emerson Elementary School. "It's just never happened before. We're in a school where we largely teach in a remedial situation; a high percentage of our kids come from culturally deprived backgrounds," Al Wilson says. "Never before have we achieved an average of a year's growth in one school year." Wilson notes as he displays the scores his 350 pupils made on a nationally standardized test of how much they learned over a past school year. The veteran educator and his teachers attribute the results to the use of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat to teach all subjects from kindergarten to sixth grade. It's the first school in the country to rely primarily on a daily newspaper for all classroom work, according to the American Newspaper Publishers Association. In the program, a newspaper story about a new labor contract becomes the subject of a problem in mathematics; datelines on various stories present a geography lesson; a natural disaster or a space flight becomes a science lesson; and editorial cartoons, pictures and advertisements supply the youngsters with essay topics. Standard textbooks are kept on the shelves but are used only for reference. In nearly every category covered in Science Research Associates tests, Wilson said that the average score for each class from kindergarten through the sixth grade shows a progression of a full year "and in some cases as much as a year and a half." But Wilson and his teachers think the pupils at Emerson have learned even more than last spring's testing indicates. "The tests won't reflect the broad knowledge of current things the kids are picking up," Jack Farrow, a fourth-grade teacher, said. He says that after reading the newspaper every day for a year, children at Emerson know a lot about current events and situations around the world and often have formed their own opinions about them. "The test doesn't even know about these things," Farrow explains. "It was compiled four years before any of them happened." "Some of these kids are street kids and came in knowing nothing more than the block they live on. But by the end of last year, they were voicing theories and opinions about broader things."

Arts Center Plans Made
AUSTIN — The University of Texas Friday took another major step toward a new College of Fine Arts and Performing Arts Center, a project that will centralize all of UT Austin's fine arts teaching and performing activities in seven buildings on the east side of the campus. The UT System Board of Regents approved preliminary plans for five of the new structures at its meeting here. As its Sept. 14 meeting, the Board approved preliminary plans for the two other buildings of the fine arts project — an addition to and remodeling of the Drama Building (including a new 500-seat proscenium theater) and a three-story addition to the Art Building. The Board on Friday also approved preliminary plans for the entire site development of the project, including walkways, roadways and landscaping. On Oct. 26, the Board had approved final plans for the site preparation of the fine arts complex — a two-phase effort involving street and utilities improvements, and estimated to cost $250,000. On Friday, however, the Board rejected a bid of $325,000 for the street improvement phase alone and authorized that, in the future bidding for site preparation, the street improvements be incorporated with utilities improvements. The five new buildings in the College of Fine Arts and Performing Arts Center will be located in an area bounded by Red River, East 23rd and Trinity, Trinity, which now ends in front of Townes Hall, will be extended eastward to connect with Red River. Due to be closed is the section of East 24th between Red River and Trinity. The Art and Drama buildings are nearby, at the intersection of East 23rd and San Jacinto Boulevard.

BIG SPRING HIGH SCHOOL Favorites To Be Picked Wednesday

By DRUANNE PRIDDY
Elections for class favorites, Mr. and Miss BSHS, and School Beauty and Beast will be Wednesday. The petitions can be picked up in the central office and the deadline for these petitions is Tuesday. The Paperback Book Fair will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The fair will be in the library with all types of books sold. This will be a good time to buy books as gifts. Student council met Thursday to discuss business. The annual Christmas Dance-Party will be Dec. 20. The council will serve free refreshments and there will be a dance contest, games and door prizes. The dance will be from 9-12 with the dress semi-formal. The price will be $1 per couple and New Lite will provide the music. The council will also buy a Christmas tree for the central office. The Betty Crocker Test Search for Leadership in Family Living was given at 3:30, Dec. 4 in Room 140. Both boys and girls were eligible for the test. Intramural volleyball will begin Dec. 10. The deadline for entering a team was Dec. 6. Eight boy students will play on each team from the same lunch period. Trophies will be given. Dec. 10-14 will be the week for the annual Salvation Army Canned Food Drive at school. Students are asked to bring only canned good items that will not spoil and the container will not break. Glass containers will not be accepted. Advisory competition would be very advisable. As the canned goods are brought, they may be sent to the central office and placed under the Christmas tree. On Dec. 14 there will be a Christmas Assembly with an admission charge of one canned good or small change that might purchase a canned good. This will help climax the Canned Food Drive. CLUBS History club will have a very important meeting Monday after school in Room 201. All members should attend. On Monday, the Planetarium will present a Public Program on Stonehenge at 3:50 p.m. to 4:20 p.m. This will be presented by Craig Phillips and admission is free. The Future Homemakers of America held their meeting last Tuesday. They discussed the refreshments they are going to serve for Senior Citizens. They are also going to sing Christmas Carols. Their next meeting will be on Jan. 8. The Future Teachers of America had a meeting Monday after school. At this meeting, they discussed Teacher Talent Night. The next meeting will be Dec. 17 at 7 p.m. Vocational Office Education had its annual meeting Tuesday night. They decided to make charity baskets for the needy families for Christmas. They also decided to help in the can food drive. At the meeting they decided not to have a Christmas party because of the tight schedule. The Building Trades Class is planning to take a trip on the week-end of Dec. 21. The class will be under the supervision of Paul Hood, and plan to go to Palo Duro Canyon and spend the night. The activities will include horseback riding. The Canyon gives out one cabin for every four horses that are rented. The class will come back Saturday around 4 o'clock that evening. Thursday, Dec. 13, the high school choir will present a Christmas concert. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The first part of the program will be a Candlelight of Carols. In the second half, all the high school choirs will combine to sing a Christmas cantata, "The King of Kings." The choirs will be accompanied by a recorded orchestra. The admission will be $1 and can be purchased at the door or bought from any choir student.

Girls Claim Basketball Title At SA Lakeview

By SHERRY GRIFFIN
The Coahoma girls basketball team brought home a first place trophy as it outlasted Sonora in the finals of the San Angelo-Lake View Tournament. The Bulldogs placed two girls on the all-tournament team. Dale Mitchell placed for an all-tournament guard and Theresa Beal was named Most Valuable forward. The Coahoma B-team boys placed second in the Coahoma tournament. The girls B-team placed for a consolation prize. The Library Club met Tuesday at 6 p.m. in the library. Plans were discussed for the upcoming year. There will be a monthly meeting and all members are urged to attend. Mrs. Johnny Avery from HCJC Financial Aid Department held a meeting in the activity room Wednesday morning, to inform students of HCJC and financial aid in college. The girls basketball team upped its record to 8-0 Tuesday as they dropped Lake View by a score of 78-42. The B-team also gained another victory to remain undefeated by outscoring Lake View 32-28. Nov. 17, the Band went to Marching Contest where they received a rating of three. Twirlers also competed for ratings. Those receiving ratings were first place; Teresa Duke, Vicki Cooks and Beckie Snell. Those receiving second place were: Jeanine Brady, head twirler; and Laurie Choate.

Ken Franklin Is Taking Part In Swim-a-thon

AMARILLO — "We've been swimming a lot over the past few months, but I don't know if we are ready for this. I guess we really won't know until Monday morning at 1 a.m." That is the way 21-year-old Ken Franklin, Big Spring pre-med major, sees a swim-a-thon he and 20-year-old Bill Ottoson have undertaken in the West Texas State University Activities Center pool. Yesterday at 1 p.m. marked the beginning of what Ottoson, a senior psychology major, and Franklin hope will be at least 60 hours in the water. The men are not swimming just for their health. There is a worthy cause involved. "We decided we could help out the women's physical education program at West Texas if we asked for the donation of a dime for every hour Ken and I trade off in the pool," commented Ottoson. The proceeds of the swimming effort will go toward sponsoring projects of the Women's Physical Education Majors and Delta Psi Kappa, the women's honorary physical education sorority. Ottoson and Franklin plan to alternate in the water, each one of them spending an hour swimming the 25 yard round trip. Each one hopes he can make 72 laps — about one mile — per hour. The 60 mile water trip, or three times the width of the English Channel, will hopefully be reached by Monday morning. During the time out of the water, each man intends to bone up for the approaching semester tests, sleep a little, and hopefully dry out. The water-borne duo are being watched over by some experts. Representatives of women's physical education have agreed to lifeguard, count laps, and keep time. There is one unique touch. The two are having musical entertainment during their sojourn. BUZZ SAWYER

BILLY, THIS BUZ, ONLY THING SUSPICIOUS I'VE FOUND IS A CAR AND 2 VANS 10 MILES ON OTHER SIDE OF COTTONWOOD—GOING EAST.

I COULD DROP DOWN AND TURN MY LIGHTS ON THEM FOR A BETTER LOOK, BUT IT'D SPOOK THEM...NOW THEY'VE TURNED SOUTH ON A DIRT ROAD.

HEY, THEY'VE DOUBLED BACK TO THE WEST... THEY'RE HEADED FOR THE HARREL PLACE—I THINK WE'VE GOT 'EM.

KEEP FOLLOWING THEM, SAWYER.

GOOD! I'LL ALERT ALL CARS TO MEET THERE.

GASOLINE ALLEY

Dr. Little? I'm Mr. Waller, your... er, landlord!

A pleasure! I've been meaning to call on you!

But there is so much to do...and so little time left!

So little time left until the sky falls?

Ah! "Chicken Little! You've been talking to the boys!

LI'L ABNER

DID THE BOMB DEMOLISH THE ISLAND?

IT'S RISING!!

IT'S COMING AFTER US!!

RICK O'SHAY

BUT JOSELITO WE CANNOT GO NOW...SAY HOLLISTER IS HERE! THE LAW WILL COME...

BE CALM, OSHAY... I WILL SPEAK TO THE LAW.

I WILL TELL THEM THE TRUTH THAT I STRUCK ONLY IN SELF DEFENSE... BUT NOW I MUST TAKE YOU TO CONFINEMENT.

THE DOCTOR THERE WILL CARE FOR YOU AND OUR BABY WHILE I RETURN WITH THE MARSHAL.

I LOVE YOU, JOSE... BUT I AM AFRAID...

Low-Sulphur Oil Can Be Produced From Shale

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The chairman of Occidental Petroleum Corp. says his company has developed a method of producing large quantities of low-sulphur oil from Rocky Mountain shale with little or no environmental damage.

Dr. Armand Hammer said that the method developed by Occidental could produce large quantities of low-cost oil within three to five years.

Hammer reported the results of testing at a meeting Friday of the Southern California Associated Press News Executive Council.

The extraction method involves drilling into shale deposits and taking the oil by heating the shale to a high temperature.

Hammer quoted a private report by the Stanford Research Institute as saying: "As presently conceived there will be no shale ash disposal above the ground and very little disturbance to the surface."

Occidental controls about 4,000 acres of oil shale land in Colorado.

Hammer said he thinks the cost of producing oil from Rocky Mountain shale could be brought down to about $1.18 a barrel.

But he said that federal government involvement might be necessary to make such a project feasible.

The Rocky Mountain states contain enough oil to supply the United States for 140 years at the 1973 rate of petroleum use, Hammer said.

The Stanford Research Institute report that Hammer quoted noted: "While certain aspects of mining procedure will require further field testing, the process as a whole, because of the use of excavated underground vertical retorts, is superior to any shale oil extraction method known to the author."

PAINLESS DENTIST?

Nelson, a dentist who broke his wrist in a fall from a ladder, showed off a message at church Sunday which a friend had jotted down.

It reads: "Proverbs 10:19." Advised by his friend to look up the scripture in the "Living Bible," he found this message: "A good man has a firm footing, but a crook will slip and fall."

THAT TIME OF YEAR — Raymond Roberts, Big Spring mail carrier, is a fellow who doesn't have to 'wait' for Christmas. It usually rushes up to meet him. No need to ask what he'll be doing most of his waking hours for the next two weeks. Here he prepares to start off on another delivery, loaded down with mail.

Construction Standstill By End Of Winter Hinted

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The energy crisis may bring the United States construction industry to a standstill by the end of the winter, says Dr. Stanley Arbingast, director of the Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Arbingast quoted "some economists" as making that prediction about the already hard-hit industry.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING
The value of construction permits issued in Texas in October was 17 per cent higher than the September figure, he said, but the January-October figure is barely 1 per cent above the comparable figure for 1972.

The industry faces "overwhelming problems," he said, including: cut in fuel for on-site construction equipment; shortages in such materials as plywood, paint, bricks, cement, bathroom and kitchen fixtures, aluminum architectural products and carpeting; "almost certain drops" in construction in suburban areas and for leisure-oriented facilities; postponements of planned nonresidential structures in city-core areas; and cuts in government spending for new buildings.

COPPER REFINERY
Two slightly encouraging developments can be expected, he said. One is an increase in repair and alteration projects, especially on older homes within easy commuting distance to work. The other is a strong possibility of a continuation in the improvement in the mortgage industry.

Odessa and Midland may expect increased construction with expansion of oil and gas activity in that area, he said. And Amarillo, which soon will have a new $100 million copper refinery, and Lubbock and Wichita Falls, which are getting new industries, also may see increased construction.

Six metropolitan areas in Texas have experienced an increase of business activity of more than 40 per cent since January: Brownsville-Harlingen-San Benito, McAllen-Bryan-College Station, Tyler and Wichita Falls. Tyler, with two months to go in 1973, already had broken its all-time record set in 1964.

Aggies Buying Small Submarine

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M University is buying a small submarine to expand teaching and research activities of its Oceanography Department.

Perry Oceanographics Inc. of Riviera Beach, Fla., will build the two-passenger sub under a $149,256 contract. Delivery is scheduled in five months.

"This submarine will add a new dimension to our teaching and research capabilities, enabling our students and faculty to undertake several new projects as well as approach numerous on-going programs from a better perspective," said Dr. Richard A. Geyer, Oceanography Department head.

The sub will become the seventh craft in the A&M fleet.

Way Of Life We'll Never See Again

LIFE ON THE TEXAS RANGE. Photographs by Erwin E. Smith. Text by J. Everett Haley. University of Texas Press. Austin. 112 plates. $12.50.

It is remarkable that a man with the available cameras and film of the early 1900s could produce such pictures as those shown in the re-issue of "Life on the Texas Range."

Photographers today with their special lenses and super-fast film hardly could do better, certainly not without flash equipment. They possibly could reduce the contrast somewhat—but the contrast has an art in itself. They could get more action but pictures of men on bucking horses are a dime a dozen.

The book originally was issued in 1933 simply because the quality of the work was so outstanding.

The pictures originally found their widest public acknowledgment, at their display for the 1936 Texas Centennial.

What it all gets down to is that Smith had a genius eye for the little things about Texas cowmen and cows that resulted in a record of a time and way of life we'll never see again.

Smith died in 1947 at Honey Grove, Tex., an artist who like others before him will grow with the years.—The AP (REF).

PINK HIGGINS, The Reluctant Gunfighter and Other Tales of the Panhandle. By Jerry Sinise. Nortex Press, Quanah, Tex. 104 pages. $4.95.

Another of those western history books by Nortex Press of Quanah, Tex., has shown up. Like previous ones, it is impossible to pack all the topics into one book name.

You have your pick in this one. Try the Bell Ranch in New Mexico, a strange gunfighter called Pink Higgins, a description of Tascosa, the wildest town in the West and with good reason until you reach another chapter about Borger in the oil boom.

Yet many westerners may be fascinated most by the story of J. Frank Norfleet.

Norfleet was a naive rancher fleeced of $45,000 by a gang of con men. Most men would have taken their loss and kept silent. Norfleet armed himself and searched the world for the men, getting them all. It cost him $75,000. Meantime, he helped officers collar 75 other confidence game criminals.

Norfleet's story has become a legend and with good reason.

Jerry Sinise, a free-lance writer with extensive credentials, resides in Amarillo.—The AP (REF).

Cotton Scheme In West Texas

SEMINOLE, Tex. (AP) — Federal officials say 160 persons connected with 12 farms in Gaines County may have bilked the government out of $4.75 million.

Authorities now are seeking to get the money back.

Clifton Adams, assistant to the deputy administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said payments which should have been about $1.25 million to 160 persons were ballooned to about $6 million.

CROP SUPPORT

Under federal crop support regulations, persons who abuse the system must return all of their crop support payments, not just the excess payment.

Adams said the manipulation of farm records and farm yield histories allowed the cotton support payments on the farms to be inflated.

Nearly a third of the $18 million farm support payments for Gaines County is involved.

Officials refused to identify the persons involved in the alleged scheme, but confirmed they were sending letters of notification Thursday. Names were to be released today.

Several well-known Gaines County residents were thought to be on the list.

Adams said he did not know whether criminal indictments as well as the administrative actions would result from revelations of the crop support scheme.

SUSPEND THREE

An ASCS spokesman in Washington said investigative reports on the scheme have been turned over to the U.S. Department of Agriculture lawyers to decide whether the matter will be referred to the Justice Department.

Adams arrived here Nov. 29 and immediately suspended the 3-man Gaines County ASCS committee and its executive director, James Hodge.

The ASCS said the men were suspended for impeding effectiveness of programs in Gaines County.

Drive Is On To Nix Plan

MIDLAND — A local resident has been named chairman for a drive to gain petition signatures calculated to keep this city's ambulance service in the hands of Thomas Funeral Home.

D. L. Willis was selected as chairman of the drive at a meeting Thursday night between citizens and city officials.

Willis, a telephone company worker, is active in union circles.

The petitions have been prepared and have been put into circulation.

Midland City Manager Jim Brown has recommended a city-county takeover of the ambulance service "much similar to the Odessa operation."

Wagner Bill Thomas, operator of the funeral home providing ambulance service now, has told city officials that he was prepared to get out of that business.

None the less, Willis said that he and a dozen others have launched a drive to keep the service under Thomas' direction.

Willis stated that there were currently a dozen petitions being circulated for retention of Thomas Funeral Home service.

He said he and his followers' purpose to keep the ambulance service as a private service.

Bird Dogs Man In New England

STAFFORD SPRINGS, Conn. (AP) — Wild birds aren't supposed to be friendly with human beings, but nobody apparently ever told Chippy the partridge.

For the last three years, Chippy has been a regular companion of Gildo Gregory, the sexton of St. Edward's Church.

"He just came walking out of the woods," Gregory said. Chippy will often follow Gregory around from one end of the churchyard to the other. "Once I play with him I can't get rid of him."

Gregory said he tried feeding Chippy, "but he wouldn't eat. All he'd eat was leaves and things."

Gregory says the start of a day may find Chippy waiting for him to arrive at work. "He knows my truck. When I stop to unload the riding mower he's right by the truck. Sometimes he jumps up on the front seat," he explained.

New England wildlife experts say the bird-man relationship is unusual. Similar instances, however, have been reported.

Gregory agrees. "No one else can get within 100 feet of Chippy."

HC Singers Set Festival

The traditional Festival of Lessons and Carols will be presented by the Howard County Junior College Choir and Choralers under the direction of Durward McDonell, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. The service consists of a series of Scriptural readings relating the story of the Nativity; each reading is followed by a carol or special music. Following the service there will be a reception and informal carol sing in the parish hall.

The choral organizations at HCC this year sport a new look following the formation of the Choralers, a group which performs small ensemble music of many types. The Choralers consists of 7 singers, and membership is by audition. The group has already performed for various churches, civic groups and social events in the area, and is hoping to go on a five-day tour in the Spring.

There is no admission charge, and the public is invited to attend.

CARE Needs Lots Of Help

NEW YORK — Some 7,000,000 children across the world have had to be dropped from CARE's child-nutrition programs because of reductions in U.S. Food for Peace commodities allocated to private American agencies for humanitarian use overseas. To continue daily supplementary feedings for 20,000,000 persons — almost all, children — during the coming year, and to provide emergency food aid for 6,000,000 refugees and disaster victims, the 1973 holiday-season CARE Food Crusade seeks to raise $7,300,000, Frank L. Goffio, executive director, announced. "Painful decisions have had to be made to drop large groups of preschool and school-children in countries where hunger and malnutrition are the biggest killers of the young, and cause permanent physical and mental damage in millions who survive," Mr. Goffio said. "CARE is hopeful Food for Peace cuts may be restored in the months ahead. Meanwhile, we must appeal to the public to respond generously, so that our most crucial programs can be maintained."

While U.S. agricultural donations are the mainstay of the programs, CARE also buys other foods to match local needs. Host governments help too, by contributing distribution costs according to their abilities. Public contributions cover the remaining delivery and purchase costs. Checks may be sent to: CARE Food Crusade, 109 North Akard, Room 917, Dallas, Texas, 75201.

Noted Neurologist Will Deliver Midland Talk

The Permian Basin Chapter of The Epilepsy Foundation of America will hold its regular meeting in Midland on Thursday at 7:30 p.m., in The Midland Room of the Midland National Bank.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Dr. John W. Conwell, Neurologist, in the private practice of medical neurology in Dallas. Presently, he serves on the hospital staff of Baylor University Medical Center, all of Dallas. He is on the Professional Advisory Commission of Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center, the Collier Speech and Hearing Center, Dallas Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, the Dallas Chapter of the Epilepsy Foundation of America, the Fort Worth State School, and he is also a member of the Council on Stroke of the American Heart Association.

Dr. Conwell, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, attended Yale University, the Western Reserve School of Medicine, Jefferson Davis Hospital in Houston, Orle Hospital in Cleveland, and the University of Michigan Hospital. He later served as Clinical Instructor in Neurology at the University of Michigan and at Southwestern Medical School of Dallas.

DR. JOHN W. CONWELL

The public is invited to attend this meeting. Anyone interested in the causes and problems of the epilepsies will find this program to be most enlightening. An invitation is especially extended to all members of the medical profession and to all those who are in regular contact with large numbers of the public such as school teachers, salespeople, police, ministers and counselors and others wishing to know a few simple things he can do, in the event he does see someone having a seizure. The local chapter encompasses a 17-county West Texas area, and all those in this area are urged to attend.

Power Mowers Safety Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission says power lawnmowers pose an unreasonable risk of injury and has proposed the development of federal safety standards for their use.

The commission made the determination by acting on a petition filed by the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute. However, the commission rejected the institute's proposal that existing industry safety standards be adopted by the government.

Power mowers rank 11th on the commission's consumer product hazard index, sending 58,000 Americans to hospital emergency rooms each year.

'Bachelor Girl' On The Move

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Emmy Award-winning actress Mary Tyler Moore and Grant Tinker, her husband of 11 years, have separated, a spokesman for the couple reported.

The spokesman said here that Tinker had moved out of the couple's Malibu home, but no legal action has been filed yet.

Miss Moore and Tinker have no children. Tinker is the producer of "Mary Tyler Moore Show," a top-rated weekly television series in which Miss Moore plays the role of a bachelor girl.

Child Beating Death Linked To Two Adults

DALLAS (AP) — A 2-year-old boy died in Parkland Hospital Friday and officers said he was battered by two adults because he soiled his diapers.

The 25-year-old man and his 19-year-old girlfriend were held pending charges.

The youngster had fought for life nearly 24 hours in the hospital.

Authorities learned of the situation when the boy, Romnell Delee Clark, was taken to the emergency room.

The child appeared dead on arrival but shock treatment was administered and breathing restored. A doctor called police.

Doctors said both the boy's arms were broken and he suffered numerous internal injuries, possible brain damage and was bleeding from the nose and mouth.

The man recently was released from prison where he served three years for armed robbery. He still was on seven years' probation.

Why Do So Many Girls Continue To Choose Single-Sex Colleges?

EDITOR'S NOTE: You never see the school's name in the football scores. And it is a one-sex university when such things seem doomed today. Yet Texas Woman's University has a record enrollment this fall and has developed a clout that is gaining widespread attention. What's it all about?

By SYLVIA LEE
Associated Press Writer

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — A Denton lady admittedly is more than 70 years old. She's too busy to notice, though.

She's taking care of a record number of young women and rapidly developing into a major health-science institution. A new Texas medical school may evolve from all this activity.

The "lady" is Texas Woman's University—the nation's largest public university for women. She was born a genteel land grant college in 1901 and has continued to grow in an age when many schools have not only coed classes but coed living.

FIRST STEP

The big new project is the medical school. Regents only a few weeks ago told the administration to go ahead. The first step is to get approval of the Texas College and University System's Coordinating Board.

But already TWU is deep into the health science field in everything from technical education to rarefied research.

This fall a record 6,601 students, including 2,000 graduate students, enrolled on the tree-lined campus in this North Texas city.

Why do so many girls continue to choose a single-sex institution?

ATTRACTION

Most say they were attracted by academic programs.

"I didn't really think about it's being an all-girl school," said Melinda Hyer, an elementary education major from Houston who heads the Campus Government Association.

As well as its traditional liberal arts, education and home economics programs—where graduate students are doing research that ranges from theoretical problems of radiation chemistry to such practical questions as the flammability of fabrics—TWU has growing activities that include the nation's largest nursing program.

About 2,000 students are enrolled in the college of nursing, including 1,500 divided between TWU's hospital centers at the Texas Medical Center in Houston and near Parkland Hospital in Dallas. The program goes through the Ph.D. level.

Students also say their women's institution has a unique atmosphere, tradition, and opportunity.

"It's relaxed," said Suzan LaPeer, a junior history major from Alamo, Tex. "It's nice not having to compete with men in classes."

Many students say they feel their artificial environment actually prepares them better for "the real world" than a coed institution.

DEVELOP

Miss Hyer said, "Women can develop their full potential without restrictions. I feel I have developed independently as a leader, and I'll be able to compete better in the professional world."

Jean Schumacher, a sophomore in fashion merchandising whose parents live in Montgomery, Ala., says she thinks TWU is teaching her to keep her work and personal life separate.

"I think this is a valuable skill. Too many people take their business problems home with them," she said.

And all say that TWU students need not consider men out of their lives because they are out of their classes.

"You can go out seven days a week if you want to," said Miss Schumacher.

Young men from neighboring colleges and military installations as well as home town friends are well aware of TWU. And ties are maintained between former all-male Texas A&M and its former sister school, though the Aggies now have 3,000 girls on their own campus.

The 140-member Gig'em Club—named for the traditional Aggie football cry—is the largest organization at TWU.

According to Hazel Huebinger, a junior from Seguin, Tex., who is its vice president, the club maintains a dating file with Texas A&M and sponsors dances and weekend transportation between the two campuses.

TWU also has 100 men on its campus this year.

TWU President Dr. John A. Guinn, a compact, energetic man, explained that men were admitted to the graduate and health sciences divisions because of equal opportunity requirements attached to federal and state funds.

"They have all been fine applicants and we've had no problems," he said. "But let me emphasize that we still are Texas Woman's University."

Most of the men applicants have braved TWU's 6,000 women for academics.

Michael Wright, a nursing student, was only a few credits short of a biology degree at when he entered TWU to pursue a career in anesthesiology. "I don't have the time or the money to go through medical school, and this is another way into the field," he said.

How does it feel to be among all those women?

"Strange," he said. TWU women say the men are not unwelcome in their classes but most dislike the idea of going completely coed.

"You might as well pick us up and move us over to North Texas (State University, also in Denton)," said Jeannette Shimke, a junior from Seguin.

Dr. Guinn, a World War II North Texas State University

Navy captain who has been at TWU's helm for 23 years, agrees. "An institute that is worth anything has to have an identity of its own," he said.

He says he feels a woman's university should be kept as an alternative in higher education and he adds, "We have a fine record of producing outstanding people in a wide range of fields."

Dr. Guinn and Dr. Margaret B. Harty, head of TWU's Institute of Health Sciences, both see the medical school as an actually in the university's future.

Both say the state's growing population could well support another medical school.

Teamsters Sue TV Personality

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A $6.75 million suit has been filed against television personality Ed McMahon for allegedly breaking a contract to improve the image of the Teamsters Union.

The suit filed by the Teamsters in Superior Court contends McMahon, a partner named Nick Torzeski and two firms they formed were paid $1.75 million to carry out a multimedia promotional campaign for the Teamsters. The firms were America on the Move Productions, Inc., and Sabra Productions, Inc.

The suit contends McMahon, Torzeski and the two firms used the $1.75 million for their own enterprises. It said they failed to pay bills for the publicity campaign and brought bad publicity to the Teamsters.

The union seeks return of its money, $2.5 million for damage to its reputation and $2.5 million in punitive damages.

Rockefeller, Perot Hassle

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller will deliver sworn testimony next Tuesday in a probe he ordered in response to charges that he intervened improperly in the competition for a $30-million-a-year state contract involving Texas computer magnate H. Ross Perot.

Rockefeller will testify before state Welfare Inspector General George F. Berlinger, a Rockefeller appointee and the man designated by the governor to investigate charges made by Rep. Benjamin R. Bessenthal, D-Queens, and Jule M. Sugarman, city human resources administrator, the governor's office said.

A spokesman for Berlinger, Herbert A. Richardson, refused to say where the hearing will take place or when. Rockefeller's spokesman said he did not know the location of the hearing.

The contract at issue involves the automation and management of the state's $3.7-billion-a-year welfare and Medicaid operations.

Perot's firm, Electronic Data System, Inc., was awarded a $125,000 contract last June 22 for preliminary consultant work for the Department of Social Service.

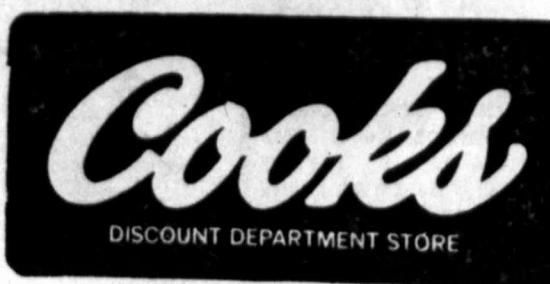

Several weeks later, Rosenthal and Sugarman charged that Rockefeller had made "a secret deal" with Perot to deliver the larger contract despite federal regulations requiring competitive bidding.

It had been reported that Perot's firm had been rejected in the bidding for the contract but was later reinstated after he allegedly met with Rockefeller and state Social Services Commissioner Abe Lavine.

Puget Sound's Refineries Cut Output

SEATTLE (AP) — Curtailed supplies of Canadian crude oil have forced Puget Sound's four oil refineries to cut production by about 25 per cent, industry spokesmen say.

"Canada has responded to the energy crisis by using oil from western Canada, which normally is shipped down here, to meet the needs of eastern Canada, which has been dependent on Venezuela and the Middle East for its oil," explained a Texaco spokesman.

Manuel Jimenez, a spokesman for ARCO, said that firm's deliveries from Canada amount to only about 50,000 barrels a day and that amount has been going down steadily.

Between them, the four refineries on northern Puget Sound have a capacity of about 300,000 barrels a day. ARCO and Mobil say they are operating at 75 per cent of capacity.

Texaco says it was operating below capacity until a recent shipment of Indonesian crude compensated for that loss temporarily. Shell is operating at full capacity but officials would not say how long that is expected to continue.

The refineries all said Wednesday they have shifted from gasoline production to maximum production of home heating oil.

WHEN GETTING AWAY FROM WASHINGTON

Nixon May Forsake Skies, Turn To Trains To Conserve Fuel

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon may turn from the skies to the rails as a way to conserve fuel while getting away from Washington, sources said Friday.

Brisk reports circulated aboard a westbound commuter train that Nixon would be taking Amtrak's Blue Ridge run Saturday en route to the Camp David retreat in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains.

RAIL ANGLE

A White House spokesman said he knew of no plans for Nixon to become a rail commuter. However, it was learned from other sources that expanded presidential rail travel is under serious consideration.

One informant said the White House has been canvassing every conceivable option that might permit Nixon to get away from the White House — as he has done more than any other recent President — and still set a conservation example for the nation during this time of fuel shortages.

His aircraft consume hundreds of thousands of gallons of fuel transporting him to his homes at Key Biscayne, Fla., and San Clemente, Calif.

Amtrak employees said they had been told to spruce up themselves and their equipment for Nixon Saturday. The club car on the three-coach was moved to a side track Thursday, they said, for special cleaning and inspection before being added to Saturday's train for Nixon and his party.

TALKING GEAR

The White House Communications Agency reportedly already has begun considering the installation of special communications gear in Amtrak cars that Nixon might use. One source said nothing has been installed at this point, however.

The one-hour, $3-a-person ride to Brunswick, Md., would put the President about 25 or 30 miles southwest of Camp David. Conductors predicted Nixon would be met in that small Potomac River city by his limousine for the ride to the Thurmont, Md., retreat.

Normally, Nixon goes to Camp David by helicopter even for a brief overnight stay.

Should Nixon begin using the rails, cars equipped for him presumably could be used for runs to Florida and California as well as Brunswick. Nixon's doctors are particularly anxious that he escape Washington for periodic relaxation, saying he does not get adequate exercise here.
