Arab Terrorists Free Hostages, Surrender

KUWAIT (AP) — The Arab terrorists who hijacked a Lufthansa airliner after a massacre at Rome airport surrendered to Kuwait authorities today after releasing their hostages. Kuwait airport officials reported.

The terrorists, who authorities said killed 31 persons in Rome, freed the hostages in exchange for "free passage" to an unknown destination, said a Lufthansa spokesman in Cologne, Germany.

The number of hostages released was not immediately determined.

After a night of terror at the Athens airport during which they reportedly murdered four hostages, the gunmen took off with 12 hostages in the Lufthansa Boeing 737.

The Lebanese government refused to let them land in Beirut, and they put down in Damascus, the Syrian capital.

The commander of the Syrian air force appealed repeatedly for the release of the hostages, but the hijackers refused.

FIRST AID

The Syrians agreed to refuel the plane for a flight to Baghdad, the capital of Iraq.

One of the hijackers was given first aid at the Damascus airport's dispensary, after the plane took off after a two-hour stop.

The hijackers' victims included at least 30 persons aboard a Pan American jetliner they firebombed on the runway at Rome's Fiumicino airport early Monday afternoon and an Italian policeman they shot and killed at the airport. Others were reportedly executed one by one in the hijacked jet as the terrorists dramatized their demands.

The pilot of the Lufthansa jetliner told the Athens control tower the Arab terrorists had instructed him to fly to Cairo. Later, Lufthansa said the plane set course for Libya, then appeared to turn toward Beirut.

Lebanese authorities immediately closed the Beirut airport to all traffic. Cars were placed on all the runways to prevent the plane from landing without permission.

IN JAIL

The Greek state radio said the pilot reported there were 12 hostages aboard the plane, including three crew members, a stewardess, five Italian policemen, two Italian customs officers and an airport worker.

The terrorists left Athens after the Greek government refused to release two Black September guerrillas it has had in jail since August. Greek officials were not swayed by the hijackers' threats to kill their hostages and blow up the plane or crash it into downtown Athens.

One of the 30 victims of the Pan Am firebombing, a 20-year-old American girl named Bonnie Dresnell, died today. Her home address was not known, and as yet there also was no total of the number of Americans killed or wounded in the fire bombing.

DIED ON PLANE

Reports from the Lufthansa plane said five persons died aboard it. One was a hostage who succumbed to wounds he got in Rome. The reports said the gunman then murdered three more hostages and the copilot, one by one, to pressure the Greek government into releasing the two terrorists it was holding.

The hijackers threw one body off the plane. One report said it was believed to be that of an Austrian stewardess, but a photographer who viewed the body said it was a man's.

The hijackers also were reported to have let four of their hostages leave the plane before they took off, but the photographer said only one hostage — an injured man — was freed. He was believed to be an Italian policeman.

Syria To Boycott Peace Conference

By The Associated Press

Syria said today it will boycott the Middle East peace conference scheduled to open in Geneva on Friday.

A government statement said the decision was made "in the light of various facts which indicate a combination of maneuvers intended to serve Israeli interests."

The statement said the decision followed Syrian consultations Sunday with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and talks with Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy, who was in Damascus Monday.

DANGER

Foreign governments, including the United States and Soviet Union, were reported to have been urging Syria to give Israel a list of the prisoners it captured in the October war before the start of the conference.

The Syrians had shown no inclination to turn over the list, but it was not expected that this would delay the opening of the peace conference.

The Syrian boycott, however, could endanger the later stages of the talks.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban reiterated to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in Tel Aviv on Monday that Israel will not negotiate with the Syrians unless the list is handed over.

A senior official in Kissinger's party said the United States and other countries are trying to persuade Syria to provide the list, and the Soviet Union was understood to be joining in the effort.

A WASTE OF TIME

But Syrian President Hafez Assad reportedly told a visiting delegation of Japanese Socialists that he attaches no importance to the Geneva conference and his meeting with Kissinger Saturday — in which the American urged him to deliver the POW list — was "a waste of time."

Israel already has said that its refusal to negotiate with Syria would not prevent it from dealing with Egypt and Jordan. And the first thing to be negotiated is a disengagement of Israeli and Egyptian forces along the Suez Canal, a matter in which Syria is not concerned.

The senior official with Kissinger said the conference would be confined to ceremonial and procedural matters for two or three days, then adjourn until after the Israeli general elections on Dec. 31.

After the Israeli-Egyptian troop disengagement is negotiated, the conference will take up Israel's future frontiers.

Briscoe Asks Lawmakers To Save $240 Million

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe asked a special legislative session today to act quickly to reduce speed limits in order to save gasoline and $240 million in federal highway money.

Chances for a brief session—possibly adjourning Wednesday—were enhanced earlier in the day when House and Senate leaders, Atty. Gen. John Hill and Briscoe agreed on details of a speed reduction bill.

"It is now apparent that the Congress is going to request the states to set a speed limit—probably of 55 miles per hour on all roads and highways—with penalties for those states which do not respond. This could well be on the President's desk before the week is out," Briscoe said.

"Failure to act would mean a possible loss to the state of Texas of $240 million a year in federal highway funds, beginning 60 days after the President signs the bill."

The governor said that while many legislators wanted the session delayed until Jan. 2, it was necessary to act before the heavy travel period around Christmas and New Years.

An aide said, however, legislative action before the holidays was valuable only for "the psychological effect" which might get drivers to slow down even though new limits could not take effect until signs are up. The Texas Highway Department estimates this would take 30 days statewide.

DON'T PANIC

"Each day we delay in setting the speed limit means a loss of nearly one million gallons of highway fuel; a million gallons a day that are lost to us forever... I earnestly hope that your response will be positive — and swift," Briscoe said.

He also urged the lawmakers not to "panic or over-react. We have enough fuel to get us through this crisis if we use it wisely."

Substantial agreement on the speed limit bill was reached at a meeting in Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby's office of Hobby, House Speaker Price Daniel, Atty. Gen. John Hill and House Transportation Committee Chairman Jim Nugent, D-Kerrville, and their aides.

NEW LIMITS

In its agreed form—subject to later amendments by legislators—the bill would enable the Texas Highway Commission to cut the speed limit after finding that a severe fuel shortage existed or that failure to do so would prevent the state from receiving federal highway funds.

SNOW?

Snow or rain considered 20 per cent possibility Wednesday. Southwesterly winds 18 to 25 miles per hour with gusts to 40 miles per hour this afternoon. 10 to 20 miles per hour tonight from the north. High today, mid 70s. Low tonight, near 30. High Wednesday, low 40s.

Astronauts Wish Space Travelers 'Smooth Sailing'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — America's Skylab 3 astronauts wished Russia's newest space travelers "smooth sailing" today as for the first time spacemen from the two countries orbited the earth at the same time.

Mission Control informed Gerald P. Carr, William R. Pogue and Edward G. Gibson that the Soviets today launched Soyuz 13 with two cosmonauts aboard.

"Roger, we wish them smooth sailing," mission commander Carr replied.

Space agency officials said it was too early to tell if the two spaceships might pass close enough in orbit to see one another.

Although there have been 50 manned space launchings, 30 by the United States and 20 by Russia, the two nations never before had men in space at the same time.

While Soyuz 13 was just starting its voyage, the Skylab 3 crew was in the 33rd day of a planned 84-day mission. The astronauts were up early for an earth resources photography run over California and Mexico and a busy schedule of other experiments.

Rehab Center Director Resigns For New Post

James H. Thompson, director of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center since its beginning in 1961, Monday notified the board of directors of his resignation effective Jan. 31.

He has accepted employment as the director of the Brazos Valley Rehabilitation Center in Bryan.

"We'll be going down there to build a brand new rehabilitation center," he said. Although the rehabilitation center was established previously, the facility is being moved to a new building connected to Bryan Hospital.

Both in and out-patients will be treated at the new center, a larger one than Thompson now directs.

"I just feel like this is an opportunity I can't pass up," Thompson said.

NEW CHALLENGE

"When a man has an opportunity to better himself, is offered a new challenge, there is not any one of us that is selfish enough to want to stand in his way," Lee Butler, president of the board, said.

"We regret his going very much," Butler said. "Jim has contributed a whole lot to this center and community."

The Easter Seal Society of Howard County started the clinic.

JIM THOMPSON

A good rain came and the ground collapsed. Next, the center moved to a house on Edwards Boulevard.

Later the present modern building was constructed, and last year additions were completed.

"Big Spring has one of the best equipped facilities of anywhere in the state," Thompson said.

HOPEFUL

He hopes the Dora Roberts Center will continue to offer a full range of services.

Only physical therapy was provided when the center was born. Now, the center also aids rehabilitation in the areas of audiology and learning disabilities and through an orthopedic clinic.

"All the people in Big Spring supported us so well it makes it hard to leave," Thompson said. Choosing to move to the Bryan-College Station community was "one of the hardest decisions I ever had to make, because Big Spring has been very good to us, my family and myself."

Thompson was awarded the Ruby Decker Award from the state Association of Physical Therapists in May, 1971.

The award is the highest given by the APT. Thompson served as president of the state organization for two years.

Thompson was graduated from Hardin-Simmons University and received his physical therapy certificate from Baylor University Hospital in 1958.

He has been a frequent speaker to local clubs and civics groups and edited a manual on physical therapy directed toward the medical profession and hospital administrators.

He has attended national conferences, workshops at Stanford University and night courses at Howard County Junior College. He is active in church and community activities.

Before coming to Big Spring, he worked with Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas and Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

His wife, Bernice, formerly lived in Dallas. She teaches at Big Spring High School. They have two children, Brian, 8, and Mike, 13.

Senate Okays Saxbe As Attorney General

WASHINGTON (AP) — After Senate confirmation of Sen. William B. Saxbe's nomination as attorney general, Congress is struggling to work through a maze of legislation and adjourn by the end of the week.

On tap in the Senate today is a third vote on cutting off debate on a bill to restore a U.S. embargo on Rhodesian chrome imports, a flood insurance measure and legislation to set up a federal energy administration.

75-10 VOTE

The nomination of Saxbe, an Ohio Republican, was approved by a 75-10 vote.

Saxbe will replace Elliot L. Richardson, who resigned Oct. 20 rather than carry out a presidential order to fire Archibald Cox as special Watergate prosecutor. Solicitor Robert H. Bork has been acting attorney general.

However, Saxbe said he does not intend to take his new post before Jan. 4, the day after completing the five years of Senate service necessary to qualify for full benefits under the congressional retirement system.

To clear the way for Saxbe's appointment, Congress earlier passed legislation rolling back the attorney general's salary to $35,000 from the $60,000 to which it was increased in 1969.

COURT TEST

However, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and others maintained Saxbe was still disqualified. They cited a constitutional ban on the appointment of a Congress member during his elected term to an office for which the salary had been increased.

Saxbe told the Senate after the vote he realized some of his colleagues had genuine reservations about the constitutionality of his appointment, but he said he believes it will withstand a court test.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and others said they are confident that if the White House tries to exert any pressure on Leon Jaworski, the new Watergate prosecutor, Saxbe "will resist and resist publicly."

Saxbe, 57, a former Ohio attorney general, vowed at the hearings to fight for Jaworski's right "to proceed as he sees fit" in carrying out the Watergate investigation.

The nomination was taken up after the Senate passed a $5.5 billion foreign aid appropriation bill that includes $2.2 billion to help Israel replace weapons lost in recent warfare with Egypt and Syria.

FUNDS FOR ISRAEL
The funds for Israel, however, are contingent on passage of a separate authorization bill, which the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was called into session to consider.

Medicaid Coverage

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas paid $139.5 million in premiums in the year ending Aug. 31 for Medicaid coverage for welfare recipients, compared with $130.2 million returned in claims paid by the Medicaid carrier, Blue Cross, the State Welfare Board said today.

The administrative cost to Blue Cross was $7.7 million, leaving a reserve of $1.5 million for future claims, the board said.

The premium cost per recipient in the old age assistance category was $10.35, compared with $67 for aid to the blind and $16.90 for aid to families with dependent children. The totals for those categories were $26.5 million, $26.7 million and $86.1 million.

Top Cowboys Due In Rodeo

DENVER, Colo. — Nearly every top cowboy in professional rodeo is expected to enter the Sand Hills Hereford and Quarter Horse Show Rodeo in Odessa Dec. 29 and Jan. 1-5, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Odessa's own Jack Ward is among those cowboys expected at one of the first rodeos of the 1974 season. Ward, who won the bareback bronc riding at last year's Odessa rodeo finished the 1973 year fourth in the world bareback standings and 12th in the bull riding. The 25-year-old cowboy also placed seventh in the all around category with $31,881 in earnings.

The six nightly performances at Ector County Coliseum will feature saddle bronc, bareback, bull riding, calf roping and steer wrestling, said rodeo chairman Charlie Mitchell.

Cowboys will add their entry fees to an increased purse of $6,500. Last year at the rodeo, with 326 entries, prize money was $18,300.

Entries for the rodeo, which is being produced by Harry Vold of Fowler, Colo., will close at 4 p.m. Thursday Dec. 27.

Band Boosters Will Not Meet

No meeting of the Big Spring Band Boosters will be held this month.

The boosters will reconvene Jan. 15 in the high school band hall.

Local Dog Is Show Winner

Big Spring dogs have won a number of impressive honors recently.

"Every dog showman dreams of the day he can place his dog in a group placement," said Sheila Smith, publicity chairman of the Big Spring Kennel Club.

"And that is exactly what Mrs. Sue Sewell did with her German Shepherd, S a n r a y ' s Echo of Linnloch.

Echo won second in open bitches and reserve winners at Wichita Falls.

Then, they went to Fort Sill, Okla., where Echo made her finest showing. The Big Spring dog went winning bitch and best of breed, earning the right to show in the working group. Here, she placed second.

Among others going to these shows was Mrs. Cathy Bucher with her yorkshire terrier, Blue Creek Major Moppet. Moppet placed second in open dogs at Wichita Falls.

Bob Burbridge is still winning with his Norwegian elkhounds, Rebel Ridges Ranger and Bobs Titan av Tora Starrane.

Titan won a five-point major in Omaha, Neb. This gives him a total of 13 points with both majors.

Ranger has 11 points toward his championship with both majors.

Tiger Boy Shannon, an Irish Setter, owned by Ron and Mary Lou Wilka, snagged first in American Bred dogs in Roswell, N.M. And his brother, Beaverbrooks Red Brandy Dust owned by Dave and Sheila Smith, placed fourth in the open dog class.

Miss Bell Marries Rick C. Gorrondona

The Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church was the setting Monday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Vickie Jo Bell to Airman I.C. Rick Charles Gorrondona, of Webb Air Force Base.

The Rev. Louis Moeller performed the rites before an altar enhanced with urns of blue irises and white spider chrysanthemums interspersed with greenery. Mrs. Leslie Green was organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Bell, 1000 Birdwell Lane, and the bridegroom is the son of C. D. Gorrondona of New Orleans, La., and the late Mrs. Gorrondona.

Carrying a nosegay of miniature white carnations and babies' breath, the bride was attired in a formal gown of white peau de soie over white satin, the empire bodice overlaid with delicate lace. The bodice was styled with long, full sleeves. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace cap.

Mrs. Mark Clark, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Her full-length empire gown was of royal blue satin; the long sleeves of blue peau de soie with satin cuffs. The bodice featured a rounded neckline and the high rise waistline was marked by velvet ribbon which formed a bow at the back. She carried a nosegay of blue carnations. Airman I.C. Herigon of Webb AFB served as best man.

The newlyweds were honored with a reception in the church hall, where out-of-town guests were from Morton, Snyder and Breckenridge.

The lace-covered refreshment table was appointed with crystal and silver, and the wedding cake was flanked by arrangements of blue irises, spider chrysanthemums and white pompon chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Rick Charles Gorrondona

Pressing at the table were Mrs. H. L. Stice, El Paso; Mrs. James Stinchcomb and Miss Mary Williams.

Upon returning from a wedding trip to various points in Texas and Louisiana, with New Orleans as the main destination, the couple will reside here at 608 Drake.

Beer Belly

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A husband complained because his wife came to bed every night with her hair wrapped in toilet paper and she covered the whole thing with a ridiculous looking nightcap.

Well, so do I! But I have no reason to go to bed looking pretty. My husband has such a pot gut, I couldn't get within a foot of him if I wanted to, which I certainly do not. You see, he rarely bathes, and he always comes to bed with a sour beer breath. I think you get the picture.

A few years back I found someone who could have made my life complete, but I gave him up, hoping my marriage could be saved. What a fool I was!

In the meantime, I keep my hair looking nice, and if I ever get another chance, I won't pass it up.

MISSED THE BOAT
DEAR MISSED: Think heavens all boats aren't alike. Look what this loveboat has to say on that subject:

DEAR ABBY: My little filly takes a bath every night, sprays herself sweet, and puts on a fancy nightgown, but you can bet her hair is always wrapped in toilet paper and covered with a silly nightcap. But who cares? I don't look at her hair in bed.

The next morning she showers, puts on lipstick, whips off the toilet paper and cap, and her hair is perfect. She's only protecting my interests because we can always go out at a moment's notice or invite people in. We've never had to miss anything because my wife's hair wasn't right.

We've been married for 27 years and she's never gone to bed with rollers, which are worse than nightcaps. I keep telling my little filly, she's not getting older, she's just getting better.

CHARLIE
DEAR CHARLIE: You're beautiful!

DEAR ABBY: Who told you that watchdogs aren't taxed in Italy? They are, only less.

For a "luxury" dog which can be anything from a mutt to a Pekinese, the tax is $20, but the dog must have absolutely no function such as a guard, shepherd or retriever.

"Functional" dogs are taxed only $3 a year. However, nothing keeps dogs off people's property, so if your reader objects to having dogs on his lawn, tell him to move into an apartment.

DOG LOVER IN ROME

DEAR DOG LOVER: My authority on canine law in Italy is Doug Fleming of the Rome Daily American. I obviously was barking up the wrong tree when I consulted him. You seem to be well boned up on the subject. Are you interested in fielding an occasional inquiry?

DEAR ABBY: With the cost of living up so high, and four children to support, plus the fact that we have had layoffs and illness in our family this last year, my husband and I decided that we would not exchange Christmas gifts with the relatives.

We sent letters to all our relatives explaining the situation. Since then we have had one set of grandparents and two sisters tell us that they still intend to buy Christmas gifts for our children.

Would it be proper for us to refuse the gifts?

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: No. Accept them graciously. There is joy in giving as well as in receiving, so why deny that pleasure to those who want to give?

Bride-Elect Honored At Showers

A series of bridal showers has honored Miss Anne Linette Jones who will be married Jan. 12 to Lt. Martin Van Searcy of Webb Air Force Base. The 3 p.m. military ceremony will be held in the base chapel.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Whitcomb O. Jones, Big Spring, and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Searcy, Jackson, Ala.

The first party, an informal lingerie shower, was held in the home of Mrs. Gregg Dull, 2606 Larry, where refreshments were served from a table centered with yellow daisies. Yellow and white were used in other decorations.

In Alexandria Hall at Baylor University, Waco, Miss Mary Jo Keathley and Miss Diane Dees were hostesses for a personal shower for Miss Jones. Both hostesses will serve as attendants in the wedding. Again, the color scheme was yellow and white, and the honoree was presented a corsage of yellow mums. Guests were college friends.

Last week, a brunch honoring Miss Jones was hosted by Mrs. Robert Meisenheimer, Mrs. Eugene Schmidt and Mrs. Richard Missman. The miscellaneous shower was held in the Meisenheimer home at 7 Albrook where guests were seated at five tables laid with white cloths and green overlays. Centerpieces were pink and red candles based in Christmas greenery. A larger, companion arrangement was used on the serving table, and an arrangement of pink and red carnations was placed on the buffet.

Miss Jones was presented a corsage of pink and red carnations as was her mother and her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Wright of Odessa.

Forsan Families Have Visitors

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. Mac Alexander and children of Midland were recent guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shoultz.

On the way to Tahoka, the A. J. McCallis spent the night with their daughter and family, the L. D. Parkers, and returning, visited in Lamesa with the J. Z. Johnsons.

Guests of the A. P. Oglesby recently were their son-in-law and daughter, the Sammy Porters, Oklahoma City, Okla.; a son, Albert Oglesby, and family, Odessa, and another daughter, Mrs. Betty McAdams, and son, Terry, both of Big Spring.

Reception Set December 23

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Castle of Big Spring will be honored Dec. 23 at a reception in their home, 109 Jefferson, to mark their 50th wedding anniversary. Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to call between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m.

Hosting the affair will be the honorees' son, a n.d. daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Castle, and their son, Shelton Castle, all of Big Spring. The house party will consist of Mr. and Mrs. Norvin Hamlin, Mrs. Louise Lloyd, Mrs. Dana Salter, Mrs. Juanita Jones, Miss Cheryl Cannon and Miss Jane Emerson.

Fall Fabric Story Features Knits

Fall's fabric story begins again with knits, from the softest heathers and sheer wools to the big bulky tweeds. Jersey makes a strong statement — in wool or synthetics.

Challis and flannel are two more fabrics shaping up some of the best looks. And at night, it's the metallics plus the glamor of sequins, the softness of chiffon or matte jersey.

'Desperate Need' For Girl Scout Leaders

The need for Girl Scout leadership in Big Spring is desperate," said Mrs. Lin Bell, field director, as she pointed out that in one area alone, membership has dropped 125 due to lack of leaders.

The area is made up of five service units, which includes Coahoma.

The main problem area is Unit 34 which is made up of College Heights, Goliad, Park Hill and Runnels schools. Where formerly there were nine troops, now there are only four, and a number of girls are waiting to get into troops. Besides leaders, this unit needs an organizer.

The Coahoma area, Unit 37, had four troops last year and now has only two, with a decrease in membership of 33 girls.

Unit 35, which includes Lakeview school, remains with only one troop but could have more if leadership was available.

Only two areas, Unit 33 and Unit 36, have shown an increase. The former, including Washington, Moss, Bauer, Cedar Crest and Kentwood schools, gained one more troop, making a total of nine. The latter area, Webb Air Force Base, now has 10 troops.

Persons who would like to participate in the program by becoming a troop leader or assistant leader,

For the reception, Mrs. Castle will wear a blue knit dress and will be presented a corsage of gold carnations. Castle will receive a white carnation boutonniere with gold leaves.

A gold cloth, overlaid with white lace, will cover the serving table, and punch will be served from a crystal bowl. At the opposite end of the table will be a silver coffee service, and at the center will be an arrangement of gold chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Castle is the former Margie Martin of Merkel. She and Castle were married Dec. 23, 1923 in Big Spring but returned to Knott where Castle lived most of his life, farming in the Knott area. In 1935, they moved to the Castle "old home place" and farmed it until 1970.

Castle, who had a hand for many years, is well known in Martin, Howard and Dawson counties where the group played for numerous functions. He said he "enjoyed every minute of it" and still loves music.

The Castles have retired since moving to Big Spring, and they are members of Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ.

SNOW SNAGS BUSINESS Storm Knocks Out Power

By The Associated Press
East Coast residents struggled today to recover from the season's first big snow and ice storm which left thousands of people without electricity and made commuting and other travel hazardous for millions.

LIGHTS OUT
The storm, which began Sunday and continued through Monday, extended as far south as northern Georgia, where light snow was reported.

In the New York City area, the Long Island Lighting Co. said that about 53,000 customers were still without power today. The company said electricity should be restored to most homes during the day, but warned some people would not have lights or electric heat until Wednesday morning.

OUTAGES
Jersey Central Power & Light Co. said scattered outages continued in two counties.

A spokesman for Boston Edison Co. said several thousand homes were still without power in Boston's western suburbs as crews worked to restore secondary circuits.

The storm, the first of the winter season to blanket the region, crusted much of the Atlantic Coast, caused at least 15 deaths and contributed to a jumbo jetliner accident in Boston.

A spokesman for the National Weather Service, blaming a low-pressure system off the middle Atlantic Coast, predicted colder weather today, with snow flurries in some regions and a hard freeze as far south as northern Florida.

The National Weather Service reported a temperature of 19 degrees in New York City at 8 a.m. The morning temperature in Richmond, Va., was 3 degrees, a record low.

MORE SNOW
The cold weather affected not only power lines, but transit systems as well.

Virginians awoke to bad news as they prepared to dig out from a storm that left up to 16 inches of snow on some parts of the state. The Weather Bureau forecast more snow for tonight and Wednesday morning.

A snow emergency plan remained in effect in 19 of Maryland's 23 counties. Schools were closed in two-thirds of the state and the highway department said that although main roads were in good shape, secondary roads were snow-covered and slippery.

Five aircraft at Ft. Meade, Md., fell victim to the storm. An Army spokesman said a soldier operating a snow plow slipped and fell off the seat. The driverless plow went out of control and into a hangar, bouncing off two helicopters and three airplanes. There was no immediate damage estimate.

Ice brought down power lines throughout the region, hitting Connecticut the hardest. An estimated 850 electrical workers had to be called in from other states to help restore power to a quarter of a million blacked-out homes in the state, most of them in the bedroom suburbs just north of New York City.

Through many downed lines were repaired during the day, thousands of homes were reported still without electricity early today. Some in Connecticut would not have their power restored until Wednesday, officials said.

Meanwhile, another storm was taking shape in the Plains and Rockies, spreading snow as far east as Wisconsin and sleet into southern Nebraska.

FREEZING RAIN
Earlier, a Great Lakes storm had dumped snow on Chicago, snarling rush hour traffic there Monday, and leaving the northern suburb of Lindenhurst fighting a 28-inch accumulation and drifts of up to four feet.

Connecticut Gov. Thomas J. Meskill activated a National Guard engineer battalion and told it to have its 620 men at work early today clearing fallen trees and other debris. Two other guard units with a total of 5,000 men stood by.

Six inches of snow delayed the nation's business as congressmen struggled into Washington, D.C. It took the Senate 40 minutes to produce a quorum.

NIXON AND 'FROSTY' — President Nixon stands behind a snowman he came out to inspect on the White House grounds Monday afternoon. More than eight inches of snow has fallen in Washington during the past two days.

Record Numbers Are In School

More college students have already received educational benefits under the current G. I. Bill than were trained during the entire World War II G. I. Bill program, Jack Coker, VA regional office director, reported today.

During October, Coker said, nearly 801,000 G. I. Bill college students were enrolled. This surge pushed the cumulative total during the seven years since the newest G. I. Bill was enacted to 2,258,158 trainees. (This total includes 52,443 veterans served by the Waco regional office.)

College enrollments during the entire 12 years of the World War II G. I. Bill numbered 2,230,000. The total for the seven year program under the Korean G. I. Bill was 1,158,109.

Calling For End To 'Exorbitant Profits'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The executive director of Texas Public Interest Research Group (TexPIRG) has called for an end to "exorbitant profits" of telephone and electric utilities.

Mike Hudson told a news conference Monday that Texans pay $44 above the national yearly average for electricity and at least 10 per cent extra on their telephone bills because those industries are unregulated at the state level.

Hudson said his group has not yet drafted regulatory legislation nor selected a legislator to sponsor it.

NEXT STEP
Utility regulation bills have been defeated in the last two legislatures by the "lobbying efforts" of telephone and electric companies, Hudson said. "Our next step is to learn exactly who (which legislators) has blocked this legislation," he said.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and Texas' electric firms made more than $100 million in 1971 above what they would have earned with national average rates, he said.

Hudson exempted natural gas companies, which are partially regulated by the Texas Railroad Commission, and municipal ample, hired a lawyer and a consultant, but then ran out of money and ended up acceding to the telephone company's proposal on new rates. "Texas companies actually encourage excessive use of energy by their rate structures," Hudson said. "Residential consumers, which account for only about 30 per cent of energy consumption, are charged rates more than double the rates for industrial use."

BILLY GRAHAM

Everybody's got an idea how to rebuild America. Sociologists predict our future will have more leisure and less work. To me, that's a sure ticket for trouble!

The tragedy of our society is that so much of what we do is empty and without purpose. This makes the distinction between work and leisure rather fuzzy. One person could dissipate working hours by carelessness and poor motivation, while another would employ the time productively.

The important thing relates neither to work nor leisure. It is rather whether a person sees himself as a manager of all God has given him. Paul said to the Corinthian Christians: "Whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God."

The old poet Milton said, "Hours have wings and fly up to the author of time, and carry news of our usage." If America is headed for a downfall, it's not because we praise

About Tax Returns

William F. Buckley Jr.

The Nixon people are in turn suggesting that since the President has divulged his tax figures, others should proceed to do so.

In an account on the turn of events that led to Richard Nixon's Checkers speech of a generation ago, Garry Whelan made an interesting discovery.

Eisenhower had nothing illegal to hide. He had paid his taxes. But it is true that he had been the beneficiary of a very favorable tax ruling, permitting him to pay capital gains taxes on his book "Crusade in Europe."

one kind, or to struggle greedily to increase his income: the crippled grandmother, or drunken wife, or mongoloid child, or sexually promiscuous daughter.

IT SEEMS A very long time ago that the critics of Mr. Nixon were identified with those in American society who desire to respect the privacy of other people.

IN THE first place there is no reason to suppose that Internal Revenue isn't doing its job properly. If it isn't, then Internal Revenue should be investigated, not Congress.

Petrochemical Exports

Hal Boyle

By RICHARD L. STERN (Substituting for Hal Boyle.) NEW YORK (AP) — Although petrochemicals are in short supply at home because of the energy crisis, Commerce Department figures show that petrochemical exports from January through October were above 1972 levels.

Petrochemicals, which are derived from petroleum and natural gas, are vital to the manufacture of such varied products as drugs, plastics and synthetic fibers.

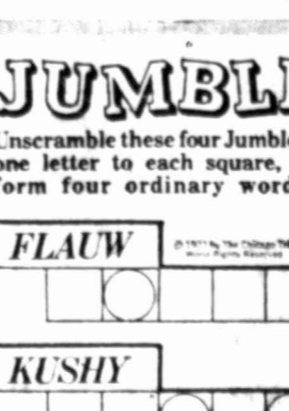

The U.S. drug industry, a big user of petrochemicals, warned last week that domestic shortages could put medicines in short supply this winter.

November figures are not yet available, but some industry sources said exports continued to exceed 1972 levels because of higher prices abroad.

More Bailing-Out?

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The impression outside the White House that time is running out on President Nixon was furthered by the resignation of an idealistic young speechwriter, apparently as an act of conscience, and indications that an idealistic older speechwriter is nearing resignation after being ignored for months.

JOHN ANDREWS, a little-known junior speechwriter, left to go into full-time religious work in Denver with a farewell letter which several White House staffers described as "sour."

MOREOVER, the imminent departure of some key non-idealsists means a thin line will remain at the White House in these crisis days.

Andrews broke his comparative anonymity by throwing the routine farewell letter to his colleagues into an impassioned declaration of principle by a lieutenant leaving his embat-led President. "The steadiest star to steer by," Andrews wrote, "is Richard Nixon's own 1968 statement that the presidency is preeminently a place of moral leadership."

THE EQUIVOCAL wording, which some presidential aides viewed as subject to multiple interpretation, is highly unusual for such a letter.

PRICE'S DEPARTURE is not yet certain. (When asked recently by an old friend whether he was quitting, Price replied cryptically: "No, but yet.")

The Oil Villain

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Who is responsible for the energy crisis? Many people blame the oil companies. Others blame the government.

BUT PROF. Heinrich Applebaum of the Yale Divinity School told me who the real villain of the fuel crisis is. It's the Harvard Business School.

Then you think it was a mistake to accept Arab princes at Harvard? "It was an absolute disaster."

"All the Harvard Business School did for the sheikhs was teach them the laws of supply and demand and the value of fuel in an industrial society."

"IT WAS never a good idea," Applebaum said. "Before Harvard started accepting Arab oil princes, their fathers were willing to own 25 per cent of the wells and were happy to accept air-conditioned Cadillacs as presents. Then the Harvard Business School started turning out oil ministers that demanded full control of the wells, triple royalties and F-5 fighter planes. I assure you they didn't learn that in the deserts of Arabia."

"BUT MAYBE the professors just thought they were teaching theory as far as the free enterprise system goes, and that it would never be put into practice."

"WHO GAVE the sheikhs the idea to send their sons to the Harvard School of Business in the first place?"

May Delay Mass Murders Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — The scheduled January 14 trial of Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, accused in the Houston mass murders in which 27 teen-aged youths died, probably will be postponed until February or March, attorneys said Monday.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

Ed Pegelow, one of Henley's attorneys, said Monday after a pretrial hearing in the case that he expected the trial to be put off.

And Edward Peine, a law partner of Pegelow, added, "There have been no formal motions for continuance but there are a lot of motions to be filed."

TORTURE

Henley is due to go on trial on six murder indictments. David Owen Brooks, 18, is charged with four counts of murder in the case.

Henley and Brooks told police in statements that Dean Arnold Corll, 33, killed the youths in a series of homosexual torture-murders.

The two youths led police to the 27 bodies, buried in three different locations, after Henley shot and killed Corll during a party at Corll's home. The shooting was later ruled self defense.

Monday, State District Court Judge William Hatten laid down some preliminary ground rules for Henley's trial and set a Dec. 28 date to hear other motions.

Hatten said Henley will be allowed to be present during each step of the jury selection, from the drawing of names from the county's computer-generated jury wheel, to the individual questioning of each juror.

PICTURES

Pegelow said Hatten also ruled that the district attorney's office must turn over all materials, pictures, statements and evidence in the case for defense study. But Pegelow said the judge refused to give the defense transcripts of the grand jury proceedings.

Henley was also ruled a pauper, making him eligible to receive money from the state to help pay for psychiatric examinations ordered by the defense.

Hatten also ruled that the jury will be kept together and locked up at night, to prevent their being influenced by any outsider during the trial.

TO FORM NEW GOVERNMENT — Foul Hartlin, a former Danish foreign minister, gestures Monday in Copenhagen after he was named to form a Liberal party minority government that will rule with the slimmest parliamentary base in Danish history.

Mike Marquez Is To Be Confined

District Judge R. W. Caton Monday afternoon revoked probation being served by Mike Marquez, 17, 700 NW 7th St.

Marquez faces a 10-year prison sentence, and a complaint charging him with the burglary is pending.

In his motion for revocation, District Attorney Bob Moore accused Marquez of participating in the Nov. 30 burglary of Bauer Elementary School. During the two-day hearing attended by members of the defendant's family, eight persons, including police and school officials, testified.

Galvin Is Named Veep By Grace

NEW YORK — W. R. Grace & Co., has elected James J. Galvin, Rumson, N.J., a corporate vice president. Galvin will continue as executive vice president of Grace's agricultural chemicals group. The Grace Ammonia plant in Big Spring is part of this group.

Hospitalization To Be Discussed

Bids will be opened at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at a called meeting of the City Council to consider group hospitalization for city employees. The Council, if bids rate satisfactory, may make an award of contract at the meeting. No other items are on the agenda for the called meeting.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠ Few bridge writers have successfully managed to translate the bridge expert's thought processes into the written word. No one has managed the task better than two-time world champion Mike Lawrence in his first book, "How to Read Your Opponent's Cards: The Bridge Experts' Way to Locate Missing High Cards" (Prentice-Hall, $7.95, $3.95 paperback). Lawrence sets out clearly and logically how an expert thinks when he begins to play a hand, and I know of few whose card play will not benefit from a study of this book. It is a pity that an otherwise excellent work is marred by some shoddy proofreading.

Today's hand is from the book. West leads the jack of spades, covered by the queen and king and ducked. The spade continuation is won by the ace. Declarer must lose a spade and a diamond trick, so to succeed at his contract he must limit his club losses to one trick. To do that, declarer must get some idea of the opponents' distribution.

From the opening lead, declarer "knows" that East must have one of the diamond honors, for with both the ace and king West would surely have led the king. Declarer draws two rounds of trumps with the queen and king, noting that East shows out. West fails to follow to a third spade, which is ruffed in dummy. Thus, East is marked with six spades and a singleton heart.

Declarer cannot afford to get a complete count of the hand by ruffing two diamonds, for that would run him out of trumps. However, from the knowledge he has gained, West is more likely to hold the ace of clubs than East. With a six-card suit, a singleton, the ace of clubs and either the ace or king of diamonds, East would probably have overcalled two spades.

Thus, the only way for declarer to hold his club losers to one is to hope West's ace of clubs is guarded only once. Accordingly, declarer enters his hand with a trump and leads a club to the queen. When that holds, he returns a club and ducks in his hand. This play is known as the "obligatory finesse," and when West's ace appears, the contract is home.

'Bebe' Rebozo's Christmas Cards

MIAMI (AP) — C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo mailed Christmas cards to the customers of his Key Biscayne Bank advising that "neither material wealth, fame, power nor admiration necessarily brings happiness." President Nixon's best friend told his depositors that "happiness does not depend upon a full pocketbook, but upon a mind full of rich thoughts and a heart full of rich emotions."

Scurry Man Is Charged

SNYDER — Investigation is continuing here in the Sunday afternoon shooting death of Charles Allen Grice, 56, owner of the Dunn Cotton Gin.

Grice was shot in the head with a 12-gauge shotgun as he entered the gin office.

Elton Crowder, 62, remained in a local hospital suffering from injuries received in an affray, which followed the shooting.

Crowder, who lives on a farm south of Snyder, was charged with murder with malice in Justice of the Peace Jimmie P. Billingsley's court and bond was denied pending his release from the hospital.

Collier said the shooting apparently stemmed from a dispute earlier in the day over the ginning of cotton. There reportedly were several witnesses to the shooting and gin employees allegedly held Crowder until authorities arrived.

Services for Grice will be at 2 p.m. today in Bell-Seale Funeral Home and at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Rule First Baptist Church with burial in Old Glory Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Gladys; two daughters, Mrs. Joyce Petty of Denison and Mrs. Wanda Davis of Sweetwater; one son, Jimmie Grice of Snyder; a sister, Mrs. Howard Pittes of Dawson; two brothers, Clyde Grice of Rule and Gayland Grice of Indianapolis, Ind., and three grandchildren.

SHE'S GOT HER SANTA — Air Force Maj. Glenn Perkins and wife Kay look forward to their first Christmas together in seven years. Perkins, 39, was held captive by the North Vietnamese from July 1966 until last Valentine's Day. To remind them of the long, lonely years apart they bought a grandfather clock for Christmas in Orlando, Fla.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS Half Of Houston's Gas Stations To Close

HOUSTON (AP) — Half of there would be closed Sunday, Houston's 1,800 service stations Monday and Tuesday because they would not have gasoline.

pull a repeat New Year's performance, because they're running out of gasoline, a gas station association official said today.

"It's not an organized shutting out of gas," said Billy J. Newman, president of the Greater Houston Service Station Association. "It's just due to the cut in allocations."

Newman said he expects half the Houston stations to close Saturday in response to President Nixon's shutdown order—and to stay shut until Wednesday, the day after Christmas.

"We will be able to open up promptly on the 31st, we will be closed on the New Year's weekend too," Newman said he believes stations in other Texas cities are facing the same problem. In Dallas, the operator of a large Exxon station said he thought most of the stations

Jurors Clear Two Officers In Killing Of Dope 'Boss'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Bexar County grand jurors said Monday two San Antonio police officers had no involvement in the gangland-style slaying of two associates of a reputed South Texas narcotics kingpin.

Agapito Ruiz and Roy Castano—protégés of Fred Gomez Carrasco—died last April 8.

The grand jury investigation began after press reports there was an eyewitness to the shooting who linked two police officers to the slayings.

Grand jurors concluded no evidence was heard "indicating any misconduct or involvement on the part of any member of members or officials of the San Antonio Police Department."

The jury also found there was nothing to indicate any attempt to hamper the police investigation of the killings.

However, the report issued Monday recommended an independent grand jury be impaneled to probe Bexar County jail operations after reports Carrasco was given preferential treatment there.

Carrasco has since been taken to Nueces County jail in Corpus Christi where his upcoming murder trial was moved on a change of venue.

ARREST WITNESS — "There has not been even a scintilla of evidence heard or examined by this grand jury connecting Sgt. Bill Weibacher or Det. Manuel Ortiz with such slayings," the report said.

Both officers were in the 175th District Court of Judge Preston H. Dial Jr. when he read the grand jury's findings.

"The statement of the alleged secret witness was prematurely released by Lt. Dave Flores to certain members of the press, which precipitated the unfavorable publicity received by the San Antonio Police Dept. as well as by the two police officers, who were most instrumental in the capture of Fred Carrasco."

Flores, Weibacher and Ortiz captured Carrasco.

Federal narcotics agents arrested the alleged eyewitness, Daniel Jaramillo, 26, for possession of heroin subsequent to his giving a statement to Flores and FBI agents.

Lt. Gen. Patrick F. Cassidy, U.S. Army (ret.) was grand jury foreman.

Death Caused By Drowning

ABILENE — An autopsy revealed that Mrs. Geneva Jackson actually died by drowning at her home here last Saturday.

Presence of water in the lungs showed that Mrs. Jackson, a down, was still breathing, though undoubtedly unconscious, at the time her attacker dragged her approximately 40 feet from her den and placed her in a bathtub full of water, according to Peace Justice Silas Clark in re-Mrs. Jackson's body was discovered by a neighbor.

The examination by Dr. Joe D. Hall, a pathologist, showed "the presence of several non-fatal incision wounds in the abdomen and back made by a sharp instrument." In addition, the victim had lacerations on the head and face resulting from being struck with a blunt instrument.

Estimated time of death was between 7 p.m., Friday and 1 a.m., Saturday. No weapons have been found, authorities say.

"There's no organized closing—most stations will be closed Sunday and open Monday, but some stations might be out of gas," Hammett said. Newman said some stations here might open for half a day Monday to service commercial accounts and then close again.

"There's no organized shutting out of gas," said Billy J. Newman, president of the Greater Houston Service Station Association. "It's just due to the cut in allocations."

Newman said he expects half the Houston stations to close Saturday in response to President Nixon's shutdown order—and to stay shut until Wednesday, the day after Christmas.

Calvin's Knee Worries Pokes

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboy officials were concerned today over the condition of Calvin Hill's sore knee which cost him the National Conference rushing title Sunday.

Hill gained 47 yards Sunday before he removed himself from the game in Dallas' 30-3 rout of the St. Louis Cardinals. Hill finished second behind Green Bay's John Brockington by two yards—1,144 to 1,142.

Coach Tom Landry said that the knee has been so sore that Hill hasn't been practicing during the week.

"The knee is sore and gets fluid on it," Landry said. "That keeps him from running until it's drained."

Landry added "He misses a lot on running and timing in practice."

Fullback Walt Garrison was withheld from Sunday's game because of a hairline shoulder fracture. Garrison was expected to be ready for Sunday's National Football League divisional playoff against Los Angeles in Texas Stadium.

Robert Newhouse, who rushed for 124 yards in Garrison's place Sunday, is a swing man and can play either fullback or Hill's position, running back.

Both the Forsan boys and girls are now 4-1 in district.

MVC Puts Wichita On Cage Probation

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The Missouri Valley Conference has placed Wichita State University's basketball program on probation for two years as the result of enrolling a student who had not graduated from high school.

Mickey Holmes, conference commissioner, announced Monday that the team will not be allowed to play for the conference championship or in any postseason games for two years, beginning last Dec. 4, the date the conference studied the case.

The penalty resulted from the case of Rudy Jackson, a transfer this year from Hutchinson, Kan., Junior College. Jackson had led the Hutchinson team to a second place finish last year Holmes said.

Wink Falls To Stanton

WINK — Stanton's Buffaloes powered to their eighth season victory here Monday with an 83-13 romp past outmanned Wink.

Steers Win Neighborhood Bout With 'Dogs, 107-60

By JACK COWAN

Big Spring's Steers emerged as the neighborhood bullies Monday night in the local gym as they bounced the outmanned Coahoma Bulldogs 107-60.

It was unofficially billed as the Howard County basketball championship, but the fast-paced affair, marred by 77 turnovers and 51 fouls, was in doubt as the Steers edged the Bulldogs by 27 points in the first half.

A crowd of about 500 saw the Steers climb to 10-3 for the year, while the Class AA Bulldogs dropped to 4-9. It was the final action for both teams prior to the Christmas break.

The game was the same type team effort for the Steers, as 11 players hit the scoring column with five in double figures. John Thomas Smith notched 17 points in the victory and Albo Smith managed 16. Jim Ray added 13 points, Rick Traylor hit 11 and Randy Marshall finished with 10 markers. Jody Bennett provided most of the Bulldogs' offense, ending the night with 17 points, but when he fouled out with a minute left in the third quarter the Coahomans lost much of their punch. Keith Stone hit 10 points in the loss.

Dunn hit eight points in the first three minutes to spark the fast-breaking Steers to a 10-2 edge, and after six minutes the Steers were on top by 21-8. But the scrappy Bulldogs, battling away a big height edge, battled back and cut the lead to 25-15 at the end of the quarter.

Sophomore Jim Ray led a second quarter barrage that the Steers couldn't handle, however, and with three minutes remaining in the half Big Spring owned a commanding 44-21 advantage. Ricky Traylor's first two baskets made it 50-23 with 1:50 left before Bennett rallied his troops to make it 55-33 at the intermission.

Marshall was the main man as the Steers bolted to an 85-50 third period bulge, and after a two-minute dry spell in the fourth quarter, it was Ray who got things started again.

A basket by Vicky Woodruff, his first after missing the last eight Steer games with a knee injury made it 96-58 with 4:12 left in the game, and just over two minutes later Bobby Greene pushed the Big Springers up to the century mark and a 100-58 edge.

Big Spring won the junior varsity game 83-50 behind David Beasley's 18 points and 13 each by Bobby Winters and Mark Moore. The young Steers, now 6-1 on the year, rushed to a 43-18 halftime bulge and were on top by 66-34 after three quarters. The Steer JVs are off until Jan. 4 when they open Dist. 5-AAAA competition.

Coahoma was led by Bill Jennings' 15 points, while Kenny Barber chipped in 10.

Bartosh had an 81-16-2 record as a high school coach and took Odessa Permian to the state championship in 1972. Bartosh was in charge of the passing game and receivers at Texas A&M last fall.

The 43-year-old Bartosh also has five years of experience as offensive coordinator at Rice. Bartosh was interviewed recently in connection with the TCU job which eventually went to Jim Shofner, an assistant for the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League.

Terms of the contract were not announced. Bartosh was believed to have accepted a three-year contract.

Bartosh said, "The new 300 limitation rule on scholarships will help us recruit in the Southwest Conference areas. There will be more athletes not getting Southwest Conference scholarships."

Moser said, "I'm thrilled to death for the opportunity to work for Coach (Emory) Belard."

Bartosh Accepts Major Challenge

EL PASO (AP) — Gil Bartosh, known as the "Granger Ghost" in his playing days at Texas Christian, accepted one of the toughest head football coaching jobs in America Monday, making a winner out of the University of Texas at El Paso.

UTEP was 0-10 last year under the departed Tommy Lindspeth.

"We are down now but I think we can win," said Bartosh, who was an assistant at Texas A&M under Emory Belard.

Bartosh had an 81-16-2 record as a high school coach and took Odessa Permian to the state championship in 1972. Bartosh was in charge of the passing game and receivers at Texas A&M last fall.

Abilene's Moser Named By A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Charles (Chuck) Moser, athletic director of Abilene schools, joined the Texas A&M football coaching staff Monday, replacing Gil Bartosh, who accepted the head coaching job at Texas-El Paso.

Moser, who will give the Aggies an excellent man in West Texas for schoolboy recruiting, will serve as offensive backfield coach.

Moser said, "I'm thrilled to death for the opportunity to work for Coach (Emory) Belard."

Mental Illness Linked To Pipes?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a $150,000 study to determine whether Alaska has the facilities to treat an increase in mental illness that might be brought on by construction of the trans-Alaska pipeline.

The study is part of a $1.8 billion supplemental appropriations bill approved by the Senate this week and sent to a conference with the House.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, in a report accompanying the bill, said serious economic and social dislocations in Alaska attributable to pipeline construction "will more than likely give rise to an increased incidence of mental health problems."

Harr Clan Books Christmas Bus

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The 38 Michigan members of the Harr clan figure the energy crisis may keep them from driving to Wisconsin for their family Christmas dinner. So they've chartered a bus.

The Lansing branch of the family will be led by Edwin Harr, in his 60s, next Saturday morning when they board the bus for the trip to the home of his daughter, Edna Huggett, and her husband, James, in Marshall, Wis.

"We were going to drive out in separate cars, but about a month ago after President Nixon talked on TV about gas stations closing, we knew we had to change our plans," Doris Feldpausch said about the trip to her sister's.

"The men are real happy about not having to drive. Everybody's real tickled about it. We can all sing and talk together. It wouldn't be as close if we took separate cars."

The charter with Indian Trails Bus Co. will cost $520, or $13.68 per person, Mrs. Feldpausch said.

The bus will leave Dewitt, just north of here, early Saturday to start the 600-mile trek. The family expects to arrive at the Huggetts' just in time for dinner.

After dinner—"probably turkey, ham and some of that good Wisconsin cheese"—many of the youngsters will disperse to sleeping bags around the Huggett farmhouse, Mrs. Feldpausch said.

The adults and the rest of the children will take the bus to a nearby motel.

The bus will take the whole family to Mass Sunday morning and then back to the Huggetts' for brunch and more visiting.

They'll reboard the bus that evening and are scheduled to be back in Lansing Monday morning.

"Edna invited us, but I think she's a little surprised that we're all really coming," Mrs. Feldpausch said.

Energy Woes Hit Post Office At Christmas

CHRISTMAS, Fla. (AP) — The energy crisis has hit the post office in the tiny Florida community of Christmas, normally deluged with mail during the holiday season.

Mailings are off about one-third from last year's total of 300,000 holiday pieces, says Juanita Tucker, postmistress for 41 years. She says part of the problem is that people aren't driving in with big bundles of mail the way they used to do.

"Some of our regular customers who have driven over from Miami, Jacksonville and other parts of the state with huge mailings didn't come this year," Mrs. Tucker said. "They been slowed by the fuel shortage."

Every December the rural community is bombarded with letters and greeting cards to be stamped and mailed from Christmas. The green-ink postal stamp reads, "Christmas, Fla. 32709." The 80-year-old post office handles more mail in December than the rest of the year combined.

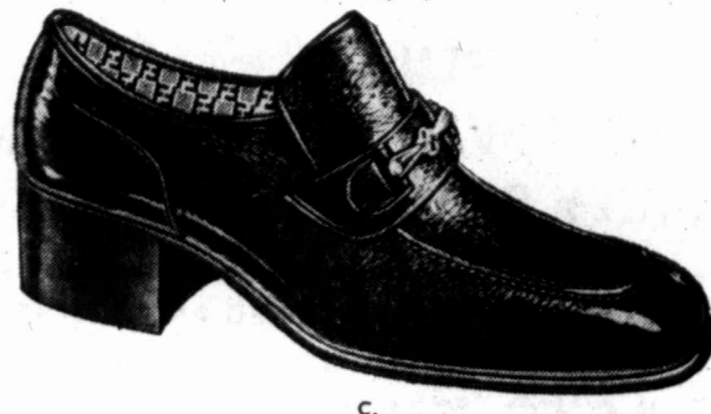

"I guess we're down some because people this year have so many thoughts on their minds, especially this energy crisis," Mrs. Tucker said.

The permanent 30-foot Christmas tree in the center of this town of 800 people is dark in an effort to conserve energy. It was lit only the night of the annual carol sing. Usually it stays lighted the entire month of December.

HI CHUM
While mailings have slackened, Mrs. Tucker says the post office is still getting plenty of letters from children to Santa Claus asking for bikes and dolls.

Volunteers are trying to send each child a personal note from Santa.

"Hi little chum. This is your old friend Santa writing to you from Christmas, Fla.," the letters say, reminding youngsters not to forget Christmas is a birthday too and a time for love and friendship.
