LAIRD PREDICTS IMPEACHMENT RESOLUTION WILL FAIL

Nixon's Top Domestic Counselor Quits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Melvin R. Laird resigned today as President Nixon's chief domestic counselor and called on the House to decide by March 15 whether it will impeach the President.

Laird predicted that an impeachment resolution would fail but said the matter should be resolved promptly because the continuing controversy over Watergate and other issues is hurting America's foreign and domestic policies.

He called on his former colleagues in the House to "accept their constitutional responsibilities" and vote on the issue.

Laird told a White House news briefing of his decision to leave Nixon's staff effective Feb. 1 after seven months as the President's chief domestic counselor.

HAPPY?

"I don't have disappointments" in departing to become senior counselor for national and international affairs of the Reader's Digest Association, Laird said in rejecting reports he was unhappy because Nixon had failed to heed his political advice.

"This is the time I can make the break and I do not believe this should be interpreted in any way that I am a quitter," said Laird, who served as secretary of defense during Nixon's first term.

NO REASON

Laird said he had not expressed to Nixon his view that the House should set a deadline for voting on an impeachment resolution.

But Laird said the White House had made available extensive information on which the House could base its decision.

"There's no reason why they can't pass judgment in the next 60 days," he said.

The Wisconsin Republican, who served nine terms in Congress, said his estimate is that an impeachment resolution would not receive a majority vote.

Under the Constitution, impeachment proceedings must originate in the House.

The House can impeach, or bring charges, by majority vote. If the House voted for impeachment, then a trial would be held by the Senate, with a two-thirds vote necessary for conviction and removal from office.

BUDGET TIME

In the news briefing and in a resignation letter dated Dec. 17, Laird said the new vice president, Gerald Ford, can take over his congressional liaison and domestic adviser duties.

In a letter of response, Nixon thanked Laird for postponing his departure for a month until Feb. 1 to help prepare the State of the Union and budget messages.

The President hailed Laird's service during 30 years of public life and, in reference to his own continuing Watergate troubles Nixon said:

"More than anything else, I have valued your loyal friendship during this difficult period."

100 PER CENT Predicts Hard Times For Oil Men

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Chairman Jim Langdon of the Texas Railroad Commission wished oilmen a merry Christmas today but predicted hard times ahead as he announced a 100 per cent oil allowance for the 22nd consecutive month.

The usual exceptions were made to the order for wide open production in January: the East Texas and Kelly Snyder fields were to 86 production and the Tom O'Noyor Field allowable was set at 70 per cent.

"This past year has been one that has been trying for all of us," said Langdon, "particularly for those of us trying to meet the energy needs of this nation. This job will be even more difficult in the coming year."

Major buyers of Texas crude oil asked for a record 4,131,810 barrels of oil a day next month, an increase of 106,111 from December.

Three of the 14 major purchasers requested less oil in January than this month, nine asked for the same amount and only two sought more oil next month.

Mobil Oil Corp. noted, however, that it had asked for only 345,000 barrels of oil a day because that is all that it thought it could obtain. Actually, Mobil said, it needed up to 200,000 more barrels of crude oil.

Programs Phased Out; CAC Is Now Inactive

The Howard County-Big Spring Community Action Council has gone on an inactive basis.

With most of the federal programs, which required its clearance, being phased out, members saw little need of continuing with stated meetings unless there is a project which is contingent upon its endorsement.

But before the council "adjourned indefinitely" last weekend, members did go on record as endorsing the Upward Bound project application by Howard County Junior College. This is designed to take young men and women of high school junior and senior standing and provide special training to equip them better to continue at a college level.

Officers of the council will continue. They are Dr. Halvard Hansen, chairman; Mrs. Doris Hultbrete, vice chairman; and Sam Anderson, secretary.

How Does Howard College Grab You?

It's now Howard College at Big Spring. Trustees voted Tuesday to change the name from Howard County Junior College, under which the institution has operated for 27 years.

The district, however, remains officially as the Howard County Junior College District.

Several names had been suggested, but trustees opted for a name that ostensibly would be shorter. Harold Davis, who moved for the name change to settle the long-hanging matter, said he figured that most people in the area would come to call it Howard College.

But for out-of-area purposes, he felt that the appendage of "at Big Spring" would more precisely locate the institution. Mrs. Dorothy Garrett supported the motion, which got an unanimous vote.

Earlier, trustees had voted to shorten the nickname for teams to Hawks, rather than Jayhawks.

Most discussion included the name "Howard" in the new title in order to maintain a continuity of identification with the county and with ex-students.

Effective date is Jan. 1.

Mum On Fate Of Terrorists

KUWAIT (AP) — Kuwait officials maintained official silence today on the fate of five Palestinian terrorists who killed 32 persons in a two-day spree at airports in Rome and Athens.

But official sources in Morocco said Kuwaiti authorities have pledged that "severe punishment" awaits the killers. Two of their victims were Moroccan ministers.

Moroccan Foreign Minister Ahmed Taieb Benhima received assurances the five guerrillas will stand trial in Kuwait or be handed over to the Palestinian Liberation Organization for trial, the sources said.

VICTORY SIGNS

The terrorists flashed V-for-victory signs and said they were proud of what they had done as they were taken in handcuffs Tuesday night to a military air base for questioning.

They had freed 12 hostages unharmed and then surrendered after flying to this Persian-Gulf sheikdom in a hijacked West German jet.

Kuwaiti officials said their surrender was unconditional but spokesmen for the West German airline Lufthansa said Kuwait had promised them safe passage to an undisclosed destination.

The German jet returned to Rome today, 49 hours after the commandos took it over following their shooting spree and firebombing of a jet Monday at Rome's airport.

HAPPY CROWD

The 12 hostages were aboard the jet and were greeted by a happy crowd of relatives, colleagues and authorities.

The hostages included five Italian policemen, an Ethiopian ground employe at the Rome airport, West German, French and Austrian stewardesses, and the three crewmen of the jet.

Salvatore Fortuna, one of the policemen, was welcomed home by his parents, 11 brothers, fiance and friends, who traveled overnight from Sicily to meet him.

After the hostages were freed in Kuwait Tuesday, the German pilot of the hijacked plane went to a hotel room and told the switchboard not to put any calls through to him. The five Italian policemen who were among the hostages went to the night club at the Kuwait Hilton.

The guerrillas killed 30 persons by firebombing a Pan American jet Monday at Rome's major airport and shot an Italian policeman to death. They killed another Italian among their hostages in Athens and threw his body out of the plane.

BODY BURNS

But reports from the plane that four other hostages had been murdered were false, concocted by the guerrillas in a futile attempt to get the Greek government to release two Black September terrorists awaiting trial for murder.

At least 14 of the victims of the Rome firebombing were Americans, and a 16-year-old American girl who survived, Robbie Haggard, was in critical condition with burns over much of her body.

The guerrillas told newsmen they considered themselves guests in Kuwait and believed they would be well treated.

"We are Palestinian Arabs, proud of what we did," one said. "We are not criminals. The criminals are those who bomb Palestinian refugee camps in Lebanon."

West German Ambassador Hans-Helmut Freundt said the hostages would be flown out of Kuwait today. They included the five Italians, an Ethiopian ground employe at the Rome airport, West German, French and Austrian stewardesses, and the three crewmen of the Lufthansa Boeing 737.

The three stewardesses sat in the Hilton lobby, surrounded by roses, and told of their ordeal with tears and smiles alternating.

Fire Claims Mom, Her Five Children

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A mother and her five children died early today when a blaze destroyed the second floor of a wooden two-family dwelling, fire officials said.

Authorities identified the victims as Elizabeth Forest, 23, and her children — Isaac, 8; Cathy, 7; Lillie Mae, 6; Lorine, 4; and Michael, 3.

"The bodies of the six were found piled under a bed" on the second floor of the two-story building, said Richard King, spokesman for the Orange County Sheriff's office.

Officials originally reported that five children and one teenager were killed in the blaze and that the mother was identifying the bodies.

"There was a lot of confusion as to who was and who wasn't killed," King said. "At first, we thought the mother was a 16-year-old sister of the dead children."

Investigators said the fire apparently was started by a candle.

"They were using candles because the electricity was shut off Tuesday," King said. "A neighbor told us one candle was sitting on a plastic cover on the dresser."

Authorities said 14 persons were in the building when the blaze broke out but the family of Clarence Williams, living on the first floor, was able to escape without injury, authorities said.

Senators Approve Speed Limit Cut

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas senators apparently want to finish a special session on speed limits and get home in time for weekend Christmas shopping.

Working through the dinner hour until 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, the Senate approved, a bill giving the State Highway Commission authority to reduce the speed limit from 70 to 60 miles an hour to ease fuel shortages.

It then adopted a resolution to adjourn by noon Thursday, making it a two-day session.

The House Transportation Committee argued at length about the Senate bill, with some members opposing delegating the authority to change limits to the highway commission.

FLEXIBILITY

Rep. Jon Newton, D-Beeville, the House sponsor, said this would provide flexibility to meet future requirements during the 16 months the measure would remain in effect.

Rep. Larry Bates, D-Austin, objected to allowing the commission to lower speed limits in response to fuel shortages in the absence of federal legislation requiring such cuts.

"The people in my district are not all that convinced there is a shortage," Bates said.

In the Senate version, only the federal government could force the commission to set a speed limit lower than 60. It requires the commission to review the commission to review power over any speed lower than 70.

The bill applies to the general highway speed limit, not isolated instances, for example, where the commission sets low speeds at detours and on farm roads.

The 60 m.p.h. floor was a concession to Sen. Ron Clower, D-Garland, who threatened to read 1,200 pages of a law book to stall a vote unless he got his way.

Clower had presented several witnesses to a Senate committee who testified at a 55 m.p.h. limit would be extremely costly to the trucking industry and would not save much fuel.

A teamster union officer said it could cost a truck driver $172 a week in pay by cutting down on the number of miles he could drive.

"In a procedure so unusual it has been used only three times in the past 20 years, the entire Senate met as a 32-member committee and approved a speed limit bill, 22-9, after 3 1/2 hours of debate.

The procedure is known as meeting as a committee of the whole, and it was last done in 1969 on a bill to change the name of Texas Tech College to Texas Tech University. Before that, the Senate met as a committee of the whole in 1954 during the veterans' land scandals.

IT DOES SNOW LIKE IT USED TO — Old folks always says, "It's not as cold and snowy as the old days," but this school girl on her way to Sacred Heart School in Yonkers, a suburb of New York City, is getting a good dose of freezing weather as temperatures dipped to 12 degrees Tuesday morning with frozen snow and ice on the ground.

Odds one-Sided On Litter Law

AUSTIN — You'd better look back over your shoulder before you toss that litter out on the highway or on beaches and park land.

If a Highway Patrolman sees you, you're a 100-to-1 shot to get a ticket.

And if you get one, you're better than 9 to 1 to draw a fine of $25 to $200.

More than 800 Texans discovered the odds last year, and arrest records for the first six months of 1973 indicate the total will go above 900 this year.

Those are just for the category of throwing glass, wire, and cans and other litter and for the related one of leaving refuse on the highway.

There are more than 8,600 arrests a year for the broader Department of Public Safety classification of "miscellaneous" violations, of which about 2,000 are for spillage from motor vehicles.

Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Public Safety Department, said recently that littering is just as much a misdemeanor as any others on the statute books.

He told his men to look closely for violations and take appropriate enforcement action. The Midland district had 10 cases of litter and 10 of leaving refuse.

Accident Sends Fem To Hospital

Lesvia Mendoza, 406 NW 11th St., was released from Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital this morning.

She was taken to the hospital after a two-car accident at Northwest Eleventh and North Lancaster Streets, police said.

Raul Gomez Rodriguez, 311 NW 10th St., was driving today after a two-car accident at on Lancaster and she was traveling east on Northwest Eleventh, police said.

Commander Hit With Indictments

BROWNVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The commander of all Lower Rio Grande Valley National Guard units has been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of possession of unregistered destructive devices, a federal prosecutor said Tuesday.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Smith said the six-count indictment names Lt. Col. Kenneth Crumpler of Pharr. Crumpler had been arrested last month by federal agents who said they found him in possession of military gun flash simulators.

Crumpler, accused of violating the 1968 federal gun control act, is free on a $5,000 personal recognizance bond.

Snow, Sleet, Rain Force 250,000 From Homes

By The Associated Press
Snow, sleet and freezing rain were forecast for parts of the beleaguered East Coast in the wake of a storm that forced an estimated 250,000 persons from their homes in Connecticut.

"I'd say over a quarter of a million people are in hotels, schools, fire houses or family or friends' houses," said Alan Hekking, chief of operations for the Connecticut Office of Civil Preparedness. "I'm trying to get an emergency generator for a hospital and a guy's asking me for a generator to keep his cows alive."

Despite repair efforts, Connecticut power companies estimated that 84,400 customers were still without electricity today where temperatures plunged to just above zero overnight.

DIXIE WET
The National Weather Service forecast snow, sleet and freezing rain tonight or early Thursday for much of the East Coast, including Connecticut.

In the South, the National Weather Service issued a tornado watch in parts of Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas and warned of damaging winds and hail.

In the Midwest, snow continued to fall, forcing closure of hundreds of schools in Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri and Michigan. Massive traffic jams were reported in St. Louis, which was in the grip of its first winter storm. Heavy snow warnings were in effect in Minnesota.

At least three storm-related deaths were reported today on Long Island, N.Y., where an estimated 45,000 persons were still without electricity because of Monday's storm. And new deaths also were reported in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Colorado.

In the Midwest, snow continued to fall. Officials said up to seven inches of new snow fell in some areas of Minnesota by midmorning.

CRIPPLED
Traffic on major Eastern roads approached normal after being crippled because of the storm, but driving was still hazardous in some areas because of icy roads. The Long Island Rail Road, which had earlier canceled trains Tuesday or reported delays ranging up to three hours, said operations were near normal this morning.

In Rhode Island, where more than 100,000 residents were without power for some period during the storm, officials said only 400 homes still were still lacking electricity.

In Detroit, a private jet skidded off a snow-covered runway and smashed through a fence, striking a tree. The two persons aboard were not injured, officials said. Snow continued falling in Michigan and accumulations of up to three inches were predicted.

Power company crews working 24 hours in New Jersey still had not restored electricity to about 4,000 customers in separate sections of the state.

Record low temperatures were reported in some New York State towns. The lowest reading, although not a record, was 31 below zero at Saranac Lake.

The midcontinent storm dropped six to eight inches of snow across Nebraska and South Dakota.

At Silver Bay, Minn., where 60 inches of snow has fallen in five days, 600 snowmobiles took to the roads to battle a new storm.

Four inches of snow blanketed Denver and more was falling. The Office of Emergency Preparedness urged employers to release workers early Tuesday evening, and traffic moved slowly out of the city.

The Monday attack in Rome by Arab terrorists eventually resulted in 32 deaths.

At Belgium's main airport in Zaventem, rigorous measures by police, gendarmes and army units have been supplemented by horseback patrols in fields surrounding the runways. Crack army commando forces stand by heavily armed in jeeps.

Flights by El Al, the Israeli Airline, have an armed military escort when they taxi along the runways.

Heathrow airport and use it to break up any attacks.

"This would guard passengers and airport employees from the barbaric attacks to which they were subjected Monday in Rome," he said. The gas is used to break up rioters in northern Ireland.

32 DIE
Heathrow officials said security had never been relaxed.

"We cannot, of course, say what measures we adopt," a spokesman said. "If we did tell you, there would be no security."

NEVER CHECKED
Officials at Madrid airport denied Italian police reports that two of the terrorists Monday came to Rome by a Spanish airliner from Madrid. But a Madrid newspaper said there were several Arab names on the passenger list, and normally only about 20 per cent of the flights leaving the Spanish capital undergo security checks.

Travelers said flights of Iberia, the Spanish airline, are never checked, and there was no evidence today of any stricter measures.

Winston Churchill, Sir Winston's grandson and a member of the British Parliament, urged the British government to store naseua gas at London's

Police Have Tape Woes

A vide-tape camera which films activity in the city jail foyer ran out of tape during an incident in which police used "force," Police Chief Vance Chisum said today.

"Force was used during the booking of the people," Chisum said. He declined to elaborate, explaining that investigation was continuing into the Dec. 5 incident.

Police have filed no written report of the incident, other than a routine arrest form.

Two men, each in his early 20s, were arrested at 11:35 a.m. and charged in Municipal Court with public drunkenness and urinating on a street, the chief said. Disposition of these cases is pending.

Police accused of using force were Detective James S. Smelser and Patrolman Leroy Spires, Chisum said.

2 Auto Mishaps Occur On FM 700

Two Tuesday afternoon accidents at Farm Road 700 and Goliad Street resulted in injuries, police said.

Robert and Kenneth Huijbregtse, both of 514 Scott Drive, were treated and released from Malone and Hogan Clinic after the first wreck at 5:15 p.m.

Mrs. Stanley Paul Kendizer, 2109 1/2 Johnson St., was taken to Malone and Hogan Clinic after a wreck at 7:10 p.m. She was not at the hospital this morning.

A car driven by Stanley Paul Kendizer had stopped on the Farm Road 700 access street when a vehicle driven by John Lee Taylor, 614 Highland Drive, approached from the rear, police said.

In the earlier incident, Robert Huijbregtse was driving north on Goliad Street, police said. Jean M. Kuykendall, 2608 Rebecca Drive, was turning north on Goliad, they reported, when their cars were in collision.

Trains Don't Run, Many Husbands Don't Come Home

LONDON (AP) — Britain's housewives are having a rough ride to Christmas, faced with trains that don't run, shops that don't open, and, sometimes, husbands who don't come home.

With train schedules thrown into chaos by a locomotive engineers' slowdown, British rail officials report jammed switchboards as worried housewives check up on tardy spouses.

"Fed-up wives are asking, 'What time did the 6:25 really leave Waterloo last night?'" one railroad official said.

London hotels report heavy bookings of businessmen unable to return to their suburban homes in the evenings because of train troubles.

FAIR ENOUGH
"They seem to be having a fair enough time," said a porter at the Leicester Hotel. "They got together for dinner and then pop out to the pub for a drink or two."

In the suburbs, life is grimmer as gasoline shortages and the delays hamper the delivery of mail and the distribution of food and other household necessities.

Dorothy Piper, who lives in the Kent village of Leigh, found her only local general store out of toilet paper. She drove seven miles to the nearest town and had to search 30 minutes for a gasoline station able and willing to refuel her for the return trip.

"It wasn't my local filling station and they said at first they couldn't serve me," she explained. "But I said I wouldn't budge until they did. That shook them."

Mrs. Piper blamed empty shelves in the shops on slow distribution and hoarding housewives. "It wouldn't be funny to run out of toilet paper at Christmas, when many stores are shut for days on end. So people are bulk buying now," she said.

IT'S DARK
Turkey, traditional for Christmas, is also reported in short supply because the suppliers can't deliver them.

Many housewives worry whether they will have enough electricity to finish cooking the evening meal.

Extortion Try Flops

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — One man was expected to be charged today following a mis- sused attempt Tuesday to extort $100,000 from the president of the First National Bank of Amarillo.

The man was apprehended in a city park when he picked up a briefcase that was said to be part of the extortion attempt.

Officers said the attempt failed at least partly because they were expecting it. The bank president, Gene Edwards, had been under police surveil- lance since his home was bur- glarized Thanksgiving night.

Several items which had been stolen from Edwards' home were found in the apartment of the man arrested, police said.

Here's Hot Item

PAVIA, Italy (AP) — A red- ish powder was included with nudie magazines and adver- tised as a "tropical aphrodi- siac" capable of leading to "fantastic sexual activities." Laboratory tests showed the powder was common red pepper, police said.

HC Trustees Approve One Grant, To Seek Another

A list of steps ordered to con- serve energy was outlined for Howard County Junior College trustees Tuesday.

The major steps translate: "turn down the heat."

Ralph Smith, business manager, told the board that boiler pressure had been re- duced from five to four pounds, which meant about a 20 per cent reduction in fuel.

Other steps included installa- tion of thermostats in the ad- ministration building wings (which operate independently of each other), consider installa- tion of thermostats in the Practical Arts building; embark upon an extensive program of turning off lights; make instructors aware of the conservation ef- forts.

Contingent plans included op- eration of fewer buildings dur- ing the extended stay program, extending the semester by means of Saturday classes; four- day a week instruction; reduc- ing travel; priority on vehicle use to groups rather than to individuals.

Dean Ben Johnson reported on the Southern Association of Colleges meeting in Houston, at- tended by him and Dr. Larry Key. Among speakers he quoted were Sen. Sam Ervin, and Carl T. Rowan, syndicated columnist, who predicted an energy crisis for five years and who said that educators are going to have to help lift the nation out of what he calls "the crisis of mind and spirit."

Trustees also received and ap- proved the financial report, and that from the tax appraiser. They also had a report from Johnnie Lou Avery, director of financial aids, which showed that 48 per cent of the total fall enrollment of 1,267 received assistance of one kind or another. Among the full-time students, (503), the percentage rose to 62 per cent. As to those residing in dormitories, 80 per cent of the women participated in some phase of the aids pro- gram. Last year her office disbursed about $300,000, and she predicted that by the end of the fiscal year this figure would be exceeded.

Tuesday's session was the last for Verlene Bankston, who has been a first-semester in-service trainee under the University of Texas doctoral training program in the junior college field.

School Schedules To Be Discussed

The hours the school will operate will be the topic of discussion when the Big Spring school board meets at 12 noon Thursday at the Holiday Inn.

Plans generally agreed upon recently were that classes would be dismissed an hour early during the first three months of 1974, due to the energy crisis. However, Gov. Dolph Briscoe later expressed the conviction that schools should maintain regular schedules where possible and school officials here said they saw no reason why Briscoe's proposals couldn't be met locally.

Steps Taken At College To Cut Back Energy Use

Howard County Junior Col- lege trustees amended the budget Tuesday to recognize a grant for one special program, and authorized application for another more ambitious one. The first was acceptance of a $5,311 federal grant to finance a veterans enrollment program.

Heart of the program is a veterans' affairs officer whose primary responsibility is to recruit veterans as students for the college. Approximately half of the cost is in salary for a post to be filled by Howard Cal- lison. Another $1,460 is set aside for travel, plus office expenses. Callison will function under the student services division but in conjunction with the ad- missions office.

The board authorized Dr. Thomas Salter, president, to ap- ply for approximately $85,000 to finance an "Upward Bound" program, which would be wholly federally funded.

This is a pre-college preparatory program to develop skills and desires to the point that high school students from low-income backgrounds will be equipped to pursue a college career successfully.

The service would include counseling and tutoring; there would be various sessions on the college campus on several weekends; a six-weeks training experience during the summer while housed in the college dormitories under supervision of tutor-counselors; a limited number of weekend field camp- ing and education trips.

Students selected would receive a monthly stipend of not more than $30 starting June 1, 1974. The total outlay is geared for 75 students and seven tutor-counselors. Budget calls for $45,000 in salaries and wages, $10,260 in room and board; $12,975 in student stipends, $3,030 in travel plus lesser amounts for miscellaneous items.

'Ho, Ho, Ho' Jive Nixed At School

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Dowie's Santa Claus School concentrates on turning out believable, authentic-looking, jolly old St. Nicks without that "Ho, Ho, Ho" jive.

"We never tell our Santas to say 'Ho, Ho, Ho,'" said Fran Dowie. "No one really goes around saying 'Ho, Ho, Ho.' You just have to keep your per- sonality bubbling. It's not what you say. It's what you feel."

Dowie's school, part of the British Columbia School of Per- forming Arts and Crafts, offers a 10-week course — four hours of instruction a day — for $50 per student. However, Dowie admits a person with an out- going personality can learn the role in about six hours.

But $50 really is a bargain, he says. Graduates from his school can get $25 an hour from Santa-users who want a top-of- the-line product. Forty students graduated from this year's course, Dowie said. About 120 people applied, but most were turned down as unqualified.

Qualifications include a lot of years. Dowie says older per- sons with white eyebrows and mature face and tone of voice make the best Santas.

"It really drives me up a wall when I see 18-year-olds taking a Santa job when there are senior citizens who could do it," Dowie said. "It's not hard work. You sit down and do the thing old folks like doing most of all: talking to children."

Auditors Claim Nixon Should Pay For Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pres- ident Nixon should have paid personally for some of the $1.4 million in work done at federal expense at his homes, govern- ment auditors have concluded.

In a 99-page report to Con- gress issued late Tuesday, the General Accounting Office stopped short of recommending that Nixon repay the federal funds spent on the projects it cited.

WATCHDOG — But the watchdog agency said Congress should tighten con- trols over such federal spend- ing and consider limiting the number of private residences at which presidents can receive permanent security facilities.

The report was sharply critical of the "casual attitude" it said was displayed by federal officials and agencies in author- izing work at Nixon's San Cle- mente, Calif., and Key Biscayne, Fla., homes.

According to the auditors, Nixon himself was at times personally involved in approv- ing some of the projects. They said others were ordered or approved by White House aides, his personal lawyer or archi- tect, or his close friends C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

PERSONAL — The White House did not make an immediate, detailed response to the GAO report, re- ferring instead to previous as- sertions that the work on Nixon's property was required for security or administrative reasons.

Nixon himself referred on Dec. 8 to the federal spending in an extensive report on his personal finances. He described as "grossly inaccurate" what he termed the widespread belief "that the government im- provements (at the homes) have vastly enriched me personally."

He contended that only $68,000 was spent on his San Cle- mente home itself and $635,000 on the surrounding grounds.

The GAO report, while not breaking down figures in that fashion, did come up with a spending total closely coincid- ing with that reported several months ago by the General Services Administration.

ALARM SYSTEMS — The comprehensive audit re- ported that $886,900 spent for such major security projects as walls and fences, lighting and alarm systems, command posts and bullet-proof glass at the two residences "do not provide significant benefits to the Pres- ident apart from protection."

But it ticked off other, small- er projects and suggested Nixon should have paid for them personally because they offered "nonprotective benefits" to him.

For example, the report said, "it appears that the govern- ment did some landscape maintenance at both residences which should have been done at the President's expense."

It said he now pays for the bulk of the grounds mainte- nance, but that at one time the government was paying for five fulltime landscape maintenance men at San Clemente and one fulltime worker at Key Biscayne.

According to the report, the Secret Service proclaimed the San Clemente home's heating system "a major fire hazard" even before Nixon bought the property.

POOR TAXPAYERS — But it also said that Nixon's architect wanted to replace the system anyway as part of a general reconditioning of the Spanish-style villa, adding that it questioned "whether the govern- ment should pay the entire ($13,500) cost of the new sys- tem when the President in- tended to install one anyway."

Nixon's personal attorney, Herbert Kalmbach, ordered boundary and structural sur- veys on the San Clemente prop- erty and submitted the $5,500 bill to the GSA which paid it, the report said. "We think it was inappropriate for the gov- ernment to assume the cost," the auditor said, because the surveys were made in con- nection with Nixon's acquisition of the property.

The auditors also questioned federal payment of $3,800 of the $9,800 cost of installing new sewer lines at San Clemente, contending the work was done "to replace the septic tank sys- tem and to drain the (swimm- ing) pool..."

MEMOS — Other items questioned by the report ranged from a $400 ex- haust fan to correct a defective fireplace to a beach cabana.

The report disclosed Nixon's personal involvement in some of the work as it recited the steps leading to construction of a Secret Service command post near his Key Biscayne home. The auditors said one Secret Service official reported Nixon rejected the initial plans for the structure, quoting the President as saying "he would not have such a building on his property and that he wanted the com- mand post to be in the shape of a lighthouse."

The government then asked an architect to come up with a new design and the command post subsequently was built in what the report said "could be considered reasonably similar to a lighthouse."

The Civil War warship Merrimack was deliberately scuttled to block Chesapeake Bay harbor. From this desperate act was derived the term "Merrimack Coup," a play where a defender deliberately sacrifices a high honor for the purpose of knocking out an entry, generally to the dummy.

Though North had only 8 points, he had a good six-card minor suit. With only a modicum of help from the opener, he rated to contribute five or six tricks to a no-trump contract, so North raised South's opening bid to game.

West led the four of spades, and East went up with the ace. Since the three of spades was in dummy, it was obvious that West had started with at best a five-card suit. Also, it was obvious that he was nearly broke, for East could account for a minimum of 37 points. Thus, a spade return would be futile, for West could not have an entry even if the spades could be established.

Dummy's diamond suit was a very real threat, and it was clear to East that he had to attack the only entry to the suit—the ace of clubs—before his ace of diamonds was dislodged. A low club lead would have proved ineffective, for declarer would win in his hand and proceed to drive out the ace of diamonds. Therefore, East made the fine play of the king of clubs—the Merrimack Coup!

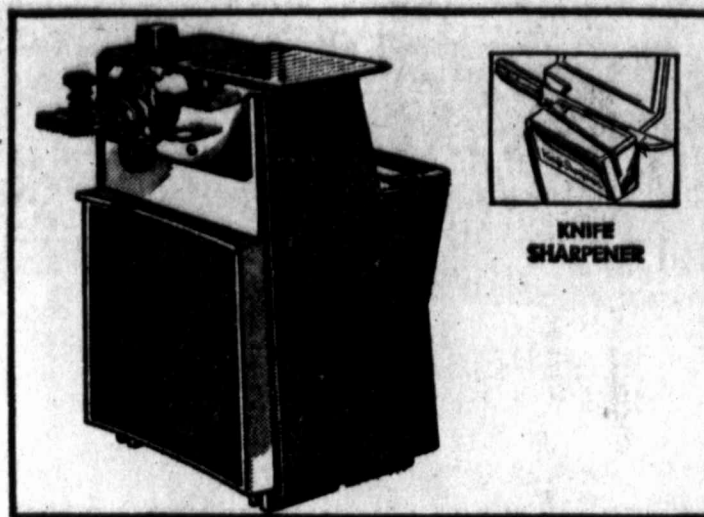

It would have been of no avail to hold up the ace of clubs—East would simply continue with a second club—so declarer took dummy's ace. The diamond suit was now rendered virtually useless, for East could hold up the ace one round.

Declarer could count eight tricks—two spades, two hearts, one diamond and three clubs. He found an intriguing method of making a ninth trick. After winning the ace of clubs, declarer led dummy's nine of hearts and ran it.

West won the jack of hearts and exited with a club. Declarer won the jack and led a low diamond to dummy's jack. East could not afford to win the trick—for that would set up the whole diamond suit. When he ducked, declarer used the entry to dummy to take a second heart finesse. When this succeeded, his contract was home. However, the outcome of the deal should not detract from a fine defensive effort.

Press Freedom Survey Shocks

AUSTIN (AP) — A journalism professor who surveys opinions on news media says that "newsmen are alone in their high regard for freedom of the press."

Dr. Martin L. Gibson collected the opinions of 1,361 persons in a nationwide survey of newsmen, legislators, teachers and students.

SLANT NEWS

Gibson, assistant professor of journalism at the University of Texas-Austin, said he found that:

—There is solid agreement that reporters sometime slant the news.

—There is some support for creation of a press council to monitor the media's performance.

—State legislators were nearer the position of the newsmen in the survey than any other group.

—High school pupils commonly differ from newsmen on press freedom issues.

—Generally speaking, the people are not satisfied with the way the press is run. If they don't like it, they can change it; it may take a long time, but they can change it, and we won't have freedom of the press," GIBSON said.

He continued: "Most people want the press to be free, but they want more for it to be accurate and responsible. If it doesn't do what it is supposed to, many people will be willing to accept a law that will require the press to do right. And when you pass laws that require the press to do certain things, you have the government running the press."

And this, he said, would deny the public critical facts that it needs in order to pass judgment on the government's action at the polls.

Gibson said the press should do a better job of promoting itself as the public's guardian against malfeasance in government, industry, labor and elsewhere. He said newsmen should help people understand why the media should have "the right to be wrong" because the alternative "is a system in which the government decides what is right."

Snow Flurries Following Dust

By The Associated Press
 Icy north winds sent a bitter chill knifing deep into Texas today.
 Snow flurries followed sometimes blinding dust in much of the Panhandle-Plains sector, dust still fogged the sky farther south in West Texas and often heavy showers and thunderstorms marched along the forward edge of an arctic front through the central, south and east parts of the state.
 Cold wave warnings were up for nearly every section but the National Weather Service cancelled warnings that 3 to 4 inches of snow could be expected in Northwest Texas and into the edge of North Central Texas.
 Winds gusting up to 60 miles per hour around Plainview and Lubbock hurled clouds of dust aloft, dropping visibility to zero in places as the frontal system blustered through West Texas during the night. It was still dusty in winds up to 40 m.p.h. this morning southward around Midland and Del Rio.
 Snow flurries followed the dust, occasionally making it hard to see here and there in the Panhandle. There wasn't enough snow to measure at weather stations, but the winds piled up drifts beside the highways in some localities.
 Temperatures nosedived as much as 40 degrees from Tuesday afternoon's highs as the frigid air arrived.
 Skies were expected to start clearing as the norther swept all the way to the coast before afternoon, and forecasts promised temperatures tonight as low as 10 in West Texas, 16 in northern sections and 20 in the south.

Equal Rights Law Will Be Discussed At Tech

LUBBOCK — The adage, "what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," is more applicable than ever when a new ingredient is added to the recipe.
 The new ingredient is a proposed equal rights amendment to the U.S. Constitution which may prove to be as beneficial to men as to women.
 The proposed Federal law is but one topic to be covered in a course on "Women and the Law" which will be offered by the School of Law at Texas Tech University during the spring semester.
 The course, suggested by women students in the School of Law, will be offered to a limited enrollment of 20. Ten men and 10 women already have signed up for the course. Four of the class members are from areas of study other than law, according to Professor Rodric B. Schoen (pronounced Shane) who proposed, prepared and will teach the course.
 "Women and the Law" will be a study of sex discrimination in American law with emphasis on the origins and extent of sex discrimination, the feminist movement and recent legislative, judicial and constitutional developments," said Schoen.
 "We will look at areas involving sex discrimination including employment, family law, and marital properties law involving women," he said. "We also will cover some of the possible effects the proposed constitutional amendment might have in these areas, and on individual lives."
 The text chosen for the course is brand new. It includes summaries of court cases in the area of discrimination. Background sociological information, definitions and interpretation in the text help establish a perspective for understanding in the course, said the professor.
 Guest speakers will add to the over-all approach of the course. Early in the semester a psychologist and a sociologist will be asked to visit the class to help the students gain an understanding of some of the factors which have led to the development of sex discrimination in our society. Local women from professional fields, education, politics and communications media will be invited throughout the semester to provide additional viewpoints on the subject, said the professor.
 The course will meet for two hours one day each week during the semester. An elective course for third-year law students, undergraduate and graduate students, "Women and the Law" is offered for two hours of academic credit, according to Schoen.
 "After this spring semester, we hope to be able to continue offering the course periodically and perhaps expand its enrollment. We purposely kept the first class small to keep the course informal," he said.

Issue Still Muddled

Once again the United States Supreme Court has declined to clarify its position on capital punishment as handed down in a ruling last year. In refusing to hear the latest appeal, the court left the issue more muddled than ever.

At stake was an appeal by a New York prosecutor who had obtained a death penalty for a convicted killer of two policemen, only to have the penalty thrown out by an appeals court.

In taking his case to the nation's top tribunal, the prosecutor said the facts present "the very heart of the capital punishment debate" following the ruling last year which virtually wiped out the death penalty as it was then interpreted.

That debate has continued to the present, with about half the states individually working to reinstate the death penalty. The latest action by the court appears to wreck New York State's capital punishment law and further confuses the question of what kind of death penalty the court might accept.

And this points up one problem which frequently arises from a decision by the court of last resort which is more philosophical than definitive, or which is prohibitive without delineation of guidelines of what is permissible. It is not necessarily true that alternate courses are always legal.

Inhuman Outrage

The latest inhuman outrage by a group of Arab terrorists in killing persons at Athens and in firebombing an air liner in Rome revulses the world against them and whatever cause they may have pretended to represent.

The number of those dead is still somewhat confused, but authorities claimed 31 had been killed in bombing of a Pan American plane in Rome. Hostages were shot one by one in Athens where authorities refused to knuckle under to demands for release of Black September terrorists. Other hostages were said to have been released at Kuwait, where the terrorists' hi-jacked airliner sat down.

How to deal with this? There is no easy or pat answer, for it is a matter of dealing with mad dogs. Those who cherish the sanctity of human life are at a disadvantage by those who regard life as nothing but a bargaining piece — as cards to be discarded if they are needed to accomplish the play. Yet, with so much at stake, there must be found some way to at least insure that they forfeit their own lives if that's what they are after. If not, we may as well be prepared to turn the world over to gangsters.

Christmas Is Children

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Christmas is for children. Yes, for everyone who wants to share in Christmas, but especially for children.

THERE'S SOMETHING magical about the innocence of a babe, untarnished by a cynical and selfish world. Even other infants identify with babies. They reach instinctively toward each other to touch, to feel, to mouth, to clutch.

Soon they begin the process of absorption, and somehow they seem to capture a sense of excitement about the season. Often before little lips can form intelligible sounds, little eyes sparkle with the brightness of a reflective gem.

THEN COMES the age of innocence in which they listen over and over to the songs and stories about the birth of the Christ child, the shepherds abiding in the fields with their flocks, the angels, and eventually the wise-men coming from the East.

Alas, as if this were not enough to humanize the event, we manage to introduce another character into the drama of the season — a benevolent, jolly old gentleman who comes from a never-never land of elves and toys, to shower good things on them.

YET, ONE must reflect that this is still the age of innocence, for little children are guileless in their expectations, uninhibited and unabashed in their excitement, unreserved in their simple faith.

Is Santa coming to see you?"

"Oh yes!"

Doubt? Hesitation? Hedging? No, never.

Even CHILDREN are human, and soon they learn to marshal an inventory of wants, to attach the idea that goodness has its material rewards, which is an ugly crack through which an increasing stream of "ifs" begin to creep. And for some, hard reality of circumstance can be the cruellest "if" of all, for the lists kept up there seem not always to be balanced by behavior, but by economic station. Still, children, incapable of bitterness, dare to hope, and they dare to believe, and most of all, they want desperately to believe.

THEIR BRUISED and skeptical elders, caught up in the eddies and currents of hurried existence, might lose all the magic of the moment were it not for going back to the well spring of Christmas — their children and other children. Dipped anew in this pool of tranquil trust, they live Christmas again vicariously. And somewhere in this revival of spirit, some seem to hear a haunting voice saying: "Except as ye . . . become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven."

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I read recently that high school seniors indicated in a poll that what they wanted most was security, stability and material comfort. Why is it most ministers have a "put-down" for material wealth?

The Bible has no criticism of wealth for its own sake. It rather recognizes that wealth usually preoccupies one's mind excluding everything else, including God. Remember, it was a rich man, who at the death of Christ, brought the burial spices, and assisted in final preparation of His body for the tomb. (John 19.)

Paul is quite clear in I Timothy 6, to say that it is the love of money which gets people in trouble.

What you term a "put-down" by ministers is probably rather a denunciation of those situations where wealth is a handicap, and a block to character development and true happiness. They know history proves material possessions do not satisfy.

I certainly tell young people, whatever their career choices, to try their hardest and move to the top. But, at the same time, I remind them to be good stewards of what God has given them, and to turn their lives over to Christ for real fulfillment.

ALL TOGETHER NOW... HEAVE!

Any Screws Loose?

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Is your head on straight?

Well, if you're not sure, give a thought to it, man.

This is no world to walk around in with loose screws in your noggin. There are too many doing that already. The quota is filled, and we can ill afford the luxury of many more.

If your head isn't screwed on straight, you are in danger of wobbling off in the wrong direction. That isn't what civilization needs right now. It needs more straight arrows—who fly true to the main mark.

How can you be sure your head is on straight or turning around like a weathervane, prisoner of every wind that blows? Well, a simple home test will probably suffice.

Simply ask yourself the following questions, and answer them honestly:

Do you count your change more carefully now, because you have the feeling that everybody today is out to cheat everybody else?

If a stranger on the street offered to give you two $10 bills for $5, would you turn him down because you'd be afraid at least one of the $10 bills would be counterfeit?

Do the television security monitoring screens in apartment houses and hotels now and then make you daydream about trying to commit a criminal act yourself?

But that's about as far as the thought gets, isn't it?

If you are over 40, do you dream more often about problems dealing with your work than you do about dallying with lovely damsels on the beaches of Bali and Tahiti?

Do the oddball blondes you meet at cocktail parties now turn you off more than on?

If the situation were just right, you can still imagine yourself cheating on your wife, can't you?

But it would be a big blow to your own self-confidence if your wife indulged even in a flirtation with another man, wouldn't it?

Don't you think the recent life and troubles of Richard M. Nixon are harder to follow than the plot of a B-grade daytime television soap opera?

Tough, Not Hopeless

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — When Gov. John Love was tossed out of the White House sleigh with the howling of the wolves growing louder and louder, the morbid began to speculate who would be next to go. Rose Mary Woods, loyal and devoted secretary of so many years, was turned loose in Judge John J. Sirica's court with only her personal lawyer to defend her.

SPECULATION centered on Russell D. Train, director of the Environmental Protection Agency. Here was a man standing up to powerful forces in industry bent on cutting back pollution standards. EPA lost, on a White House order, the right to set radiation standards for individual nuclear power plants, although the agency will continue to fix over-all standards for the Atomic Energy Commission.

But losing one minor bureaucratic hassle does not mean the war is lost, Train insists. Behind his Ivy-League exterior is a determination to hold the line even if it means at times going counter to White House decree.

TRAIN'S POSITION is quite different from that of the unfortunate Love. With no staff to speak of and torn between a half dozen different agencies Love, who had left the governorship of Colorado to come to Washington, was chewed up in the bureaucratic meat grinder. His belief in the equity of gas rationing as against ideologies standing for putting the price up made him vulnerable to attack.

In EPA Train has a force of 9,200, one-third in Washington and the balance in 10 regional offices. The 1970 Clean-Air Act is the rock on which he is fighting to hold the line. The act establishes standards for the ambient air in populated centers. Under attack in the courts, EPA's standards have been repeatedly upheld.

THE CRUNCH is on now, however, and, on a case-by-case basis, Train is trying to reconcile dire need with maintaining antipollution levels. Twice in Boston low-sulfur oil had run down to one tanker full and it was necessary to grant temporary use of high-sulfur oil.

In New York City, Con Edison, with approval by the city and the state, is turning to higher sulfur oil. One of the largest power plants has been converted to coal. This means that health standards are being reduced in 20 per cent of the city. The same thing is happening in other metropolitan areas.

Train has been made acutely aware of the consequences of a real power shortage in cold and darkened homes and a slowdown in industry. But he is aware, too, of the scare talk coming from those who would use the energy crisis to wipe out all the gains made thus far. If the forces pushing this propaganda had their way the country would go back to 1970 or before.

ELEMENTS in the auto industry are lobbying against any increase in auto emission standards for hydrocarbons. The argument is that emission control devices mean higher fuel consumption. Testing of 1975 cars now going on shows that on the average the penalty is 10 per cent per mile per gallon. For larger cars it is 18 per cent while for smaller cars there is a net saving of three per cent per gallon mile.

The higher standards to apply in 1975 show that with a catalytic converter the fuel penalty is on the average erased. The White House sent a bill to Congress that would freeze standards for three years. In recent testimony Train argues for a one-year freeze with a look at more stringent limits on emission in 1976 and 1977. Scientific laboratories are working for EPA on health effects of sulfur oxide and hydrocarbons and the result will undoubtedly be tougher requirements.

THE MOVEMENT to smaller cars is taking on the look of a bargain-counter rush. EPA studies show that American cars on the average get 11.8 miles to the gallon. If this could be moved up to 16 miles it would mean a 50 per cent saving. That can happen, Train believes, in a comparatively short time.

Traveling about the country, he carries the torch for holding to the goals of clean air and water. He told the United Mine Workers in convention in Pittsburgh that the nation must depend on coal for at least two generations, but this must not be done at the cost of human and environmental damage. It is a tough battle, but Train believes it is not a losing battle.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My father-in-law is 90, very active, walks two to three miles a day, weighs two to 124, has a very good appetite, eats anything and everything. Never sick except for a little sinus trouble and a little arthritis.

The problem: he has a very offensive body odor, not the ordinary B.O. The odor gets into his clothes, bed clothes, is noticeable even in his room.

My wife and I insist that he take at least two or more baths each week even though he thinks one is enough. We also make him use a deodorant.

His room is aired each day to lessen the odor, but after he has been in the room a few minutes the odor returns.

I have heard that older people have an offensive odor; however, I have been around several who did not have it. Have you any suggestions to help me? — H.B.

Some old folks develop unpleasant odors; some don't. So it isn't just a matter of age.

The "two or more" baths every week would lead me to suspect that the problem won't wash out with soap and water.

But exactly what the trouble is — well, best I can do is to suggest some of the things which have been found to be culprits in such cases.

Sometimes some drainage or seepage from bowel or bladder is responsible. Or a local disorder such as a fistula or hemorrhoids can be involved. Some degree of urinary incontinence, dribbling small amounts of urine, could be suspected.

Some skin conditions, and I am thinking primarily of fungus infections, have to be considered. Bacterial infections are a possibility, too.

And what about dental hygiene, or nose or sinus conditions? They can cause quite an odor at times, and you mention that he has "a little sinus trouble." Worth investigating.

Decreased saliva production or inadequate fluid intake, both of which are more likely in an older person, could contribute. And what about diet, or medications, if he takes any? Even vitamins in some instances can produce odor.

But how to find out which of these possibilities, or what combination of them may be at work, is the question. Since you would need a doctor to identify most of them (and to treat them), my suggestion is to arrange for this spry old gentleman to have a complete physical examination.

It would be a reasonable suggestion, at his age. But tip off the doctor, privately in advance that the odor is a problem.

'Declare' War

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — "It won't work," Wanamaker said on the bus last night.

"WHAT WON'T WORK?"

"You can't make people sacrifice gasoline, heating and everything that goes with it without declaring war."

"Are you crazy or something?" I asked. "You're not asking the United States to go to war?"

"I said 'DECLARE WAR,' not go to war. We have to make the people believe we're at war before they would go along willingly with the harsh measures the government is laying on them."

"HOW CAN you declare war and not go to war?" I asked him.

"It's easy. We went to war in Indochina without declaring it. This time we can declare it but not go to war."

"Wanamaker, are you suggesting we declare war against Indochina?"

"No, that would never fly. No one would give up anything if we declared war there. We have to declare war against a country that everyone hates and that is trying to screw us all the time."

"WHAT COUNTRY do you have in mind?"

"France," Wanamaker said. "You want us to declare war on France?" I asked in amazement.

"It's the only country I can think of that Americans would be willing to drive 50 miles an hour to defeat."

"But what excuse would we have to declare war on France?" I asked.

"France insulted Henry Kissinger in Brussels."

"THAT IS AN act of war," I admitted.

"We will tell people that every time they turn down their thermostats Pompidou will catch a cold. We will appeal to the Americans to endure food shortages so that someday they will march down the Champs Elysees again. We will point out that every tank of gas we save means one less bottle of wine on a French table."

"IT COULD work," I said. "We could make war pictures showing French atrocities committed on American tourists."

"Our newspapers could devote pages to all the indignities the French have heaped on the Common Market."

"ONCE THE energy crisis is over and everyone feels they've done their part to defeat the French," Wanamaker added, "then we could declare peace. Of course we'll have to rebuild France after the war," Wanamaker said.

COMPLETE SERVICES — Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, located at 306 Gregg Street, stands vigil throughout the year to accommodate those families in which tragedy strikes. Complete funeral planning is done by the friendly personnel of the concern. Nearest the camera here is the Rosewood Chapel, which has a spacious auditorium.

Nalley-Pickle Can Help You Ease Your Burdens

Some people seem to regard tragedy or loss at the Yuletide as being doubly severe, but the loss of a loved one is tragic at any time. Yet, time and its sweep of events march on even at Christmas time. It is at such a time that the understanding and the experience of years makes Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home's staff helpful to you. Members are considerate and kind, know how to move efficiently to relieve you of details and to give you the assurance that arrangements are being taken care of. You will be consulted unobtrusively, but on all important matters, and have an opportunity to discuss frankly and sensibly your desires, your means, your thoughts concerning services. Back of all this service are years of having dealt sympathetically and kindly with people in times of sorrow. None wishes more devoutly that you be spared shock and loss, and particularly at this season, but if you should have a need, Nalley Pickle is ready to do all it can quietly and efficiently to ease your burden.

EASY METHOD FOR CHRISTMAS GIVING — Cash in any amount can be sealed into the Security State Bank's Can-O-Cash, which makes a near-perfect Christmas gift. Such an approach to the Yule season takes the bother out of shopping. Pretty Susan King here shows how easy it is to handle the chore. A table has been set up in the lobby of the bank for the convenience of customers.

For A Novel Yule Idea, Why Not Can Of Cash?

Here it is the last week before Christmas, and it's really late to think of an original gift. Security State Bank has the answer. Everyone needs cash, and the bank has containers marked "Cans of Cash" ready for gifts by customers. Any amount of money can be placed in the can. You can fill it with pennies for the small fry, or put a roll of $100 bills in if you desire. There's no fuss about shopping; all you have to do is drop by and pick up a can this week — and fill it with whatever you have in mind. This may be the answer to someone who comes to this time of the year wishing: "Gee, I wish I had saved some cash." If you can't come by, simply telephone the Security State Bank and ask its friendly personnel about the gift — and while you're at it, ask about opening a systematic savings account in 1974. It's easy — and it's sensible.

Why Not Give Loved One A Suite Of Furniture?

Many housewives prefer furniture items as their choice for the very best in a Christmas gift. For years, they may have wished for a new living room suite, a new bedroom suite, carpeting, or some modern appliance. Perhaps they want to add a new dining room set, or even a table and lamp or special chair can really brighten up the home front. Carter's Furniture, 100-110 Rannels, is a great place to shop for Christmas. Go in there first and look around and you will very likely come up with more than one good idea. There are gifts for Mother, Father, the teen-ager, or the entire family. There are also gifts for the young marrieds, who are struggling and trying to furnish their first home. They have selections available in Early American, Modern, Spanish and French Provincial styles. They have a new shipment of top name furniture and the selections are really colorful and beautiful this year. Couches are made from all types of materials. You have a wide choice to choose from. Or if you are hunting accessories, they have lamps, pictures, accessories, bedspreads, decorator pillows and other beautiful items. Stop in at Carters and let the friendly owners or somebody from their expert staff show the latest in furniture. It may make Christmas a lot merrier at your house.

Sports Wares Are Welcomed

If you have a little boy that wrote Santa Claus that he wants a football, basketball, or baseball, go to Whitaker's Sporting Goods and obtain one that will really last. Or if you have a big boy or the man of the house that has been hinting around for some specific item of sporting goods for his Christmas gift, by all means, drop by Whitaker's at 1000 E. 4th. They have all types of sporting equipment — items for every season. They also featured lettered shirts and other equipment. If you have a tennis buff or a fisherman or some other type sportsman, got out to Whitaker's before you make your final Christmas selections. A sporting gift is often the happiest gift for the man or boy of the house. For that matter, there are also plenty of girls who are tennis players or like to play baseball or enjoy fishing. If you are really puzzling over that Christmas list this year and just can't find the correct item for that special person, consider a gift from a sporting goods store. And Whitaker's has the very latest equipment in top name brand sporting goods.

Getting Across Draft Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective Service officials say they apparently have succeeded in getting across the message that 18-year-old men still must register for the draft, even though no one is being inducted.

CONCERN

Selective Service officials had expressed concern last year that many 18-year-olds were failing to register for the draft in the mistaken belief. But they say the number registering is up this year.

Byron V. Pepitone, Selective Service director, credited the switch to a publicity campaign he ordered to let the young men know they still have to register. Registrations were lagging appreciably in the first half of 1972 because so many thought the draft was dead entirely.

"Some pockets of resistance still remain, particularly in the industrialized areas of New England, although the situation is improving," he told a reporter.

7,933 CONVICTED

According to Justice Department figures, there were 8,893 pending cases against draft law violators through Nov. 1, in addition to 7,933 convicted since 1964.

Meanwhile, Pepitone said he plans to hold the annual draft lottery early in March for this year's crop of 18-year-olds. This will assign to those born in 1955 calling numbers in case the drafting of men is resumed. Men keep their same numbers as long as they are eligible to be called, normally age 26.

He said registrations lagged considerably from January until July of last year before his publicity campaign to remind young men they break the law if they fail to register within 30 days before or after their 18th birthday.

Although draft authority did not expire until June 30 nobody was inducted between January and July, the period when registrations dropped.

"Because of the erroneous thinking that the draft was dead during the first six months of the year, a large percentage of young men have been registering late," Pepitone said.

"Generally, local boards have taken the erroneous thinking into consideration and allowed the young men to register late, especially if registrants do not exhibit having wilfully intended not to register."

VIOLATIONS

Selective Service is predicting that 1,907,000 will register during the current fiscal year that ends next June 30. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1972, there were 1,990,000 registrants and in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1971, registrants totaled 1,991,000.

In the fiscal year that ended last June 30, the number fell to 1,854,000.

Selective Service is not supposed to send the FBI or the Justice Department cases that do not seem clear violations of draft law.

Pepitone explained that the registration enables Selective Service to maintain a current inventory of the nation's military manpower to assure an effective response to a national emergency.

Agnew Asks 'Suspension'

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has asked the Maryland judiciary to only suspend him from practicing law.

Agnew, who faces possible disbarment by the State of Maryland, appealed to a panel of three circuit court judges Tuesday, asking them not to agree with the request for his disbarment from the Maryland Bar Association.

NO-CONTEST PLEA

He asked the judges to recommend to the state's highest court "some suitable suspension" for his no-contest plea in federal court in October to one charge of income tax evasion.

"That's a reasonable solution to the problem. It's a reasonable protection for the courts and the bar," Agnew said.

Agnew told the judges that their job was to consider how he had practiced law in the past and how he would practice law in the future, not further punishment on the tax evasion charge.

"Should I be permitted to resume my practice, I would conduct myself in a way that would not bring discredit on the bar, the legal profession or the courts," he said.

JUSTIFIED

Alfred L. Scanlan, a lawyer for the Maryland Bar Association, asked during the 2½-hour hearing Tuesday that Agnew be disbarred.

He said both the grievance committee and the board of governors of the state bar association had recommended disbarment and he said that penalty was justified by Agnew's plea.

Judge Shirley B. Jones of Baltimore, head of the three-judge panel, said a recommendation would be made as quickly as possible to the Maryland Court of Appeals, which will decide what disciplinary action to take against Agnew.

There was agreement among the lawyers and Agnew that the no-contest plea amounted to conviction of a crime of moral turpitude, which is a cause for disciplinary action against lawyers.

LOCKED 'SECRET'

But in a 12-minute appeal, Agnew said:

"I had very good reasons for pleading the way I did. Some reasons must remain, for the foreseeable future, locked within me."

Scanlan said Maryland has taken a very severe view, especially in recent years, of income tax evasion by lawyers. He acknowledged that suspension, and not disbarment, has been levied in some such cases, but he said there were no extenuating circumstances in Agnew's case.

"This is not a lawyer who worked hard, got some fees and didn't report it," Scanlan said.

Speakers' Bureau Is Established

Information on the new speakers bureau at Howard County Junior College is being distributed to organizational heads and others who may be interested.

There are 18 faculty members who are listed, and their topics range from nursing to financial aids, areas of counselling, mathematics, public and professional speaking, value of sports, psychology and sociology, public relations, literature, continuing education, tutoring, reading development, religious, history, chemistry, population growth, ecology. There are special services, too, such as piano recitals, travel films, and hobbies.

Those interested in speakers should telephone the Office of College Information at 267-6311, Ext. 56, if possible, during the afternoon hours. For easiest scheduling a week's notice is requested, but in many instances speakers can be furnished on a few days notice.

Kenneth Sprinkle Added To Music Staff At HC

The successor to Charles D. (Woody) McDonell on the Howard County Junior College music faculty is Kenneth R. Sprinkle, currently of Baton Rouge, La.

A native of Fort Worth and a former member of the famous Boys Choir under George Bragg, Sprinkle holds bachelor degrees in both voice and in trumpet, and has his master's of music degree in voice from Louisiana State University.

His assignment at HCJC will be instructor of voice, director of the choirs and also in charge of the instrumental music program, which includes a stage band. He also will be coordinator of musical productions for the college.

From high school he has been involved in both voice and instrumental programs. He attended Texas Wesleyan College, where he earned his bachelor's degree in music, and then took his bachelor of arts degree at San Jose (Calif.) State University, and this year completed work on his masters. He has been on a graduate assistant teaching fellowship at LSU in the retirement of J. E. Settles taught privately in addition to and operate productions, with symphony orchestras.

RED ROSES — Bob Shapland, master councilor for Leon P. Moffett Chapter, Order of DeMolay, presented red roses to Paige Little when she was crowned DeMolay Sweetheart Friday evening.

Paige Little Selected DeMolay Sweetheart

Paige Little, 16, was named DeMolay Sweetheart during a social activity Friday evening for members of the Leon P. Moffett Chapter and their guests. Miss Little, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Little, 6 Highland Cove. She was presented a bouquet of American Beauty roses by Bob Shapland, master councilor, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Shapland, 2701 Cactus Drive. A sophomore at Big Spring High School, the 16-year-old Miss Little is a member of the National Junior Honor Society, Future Teachers of America, Goldiggers, Spanish Club and Student Council. Active in YMCA activities for a number of years, she is currently on the swim team and participates in the Tri-Hi-Y Youth in Government. She has been active in Girl Scouting for five years.

Party At Forsan
FORSAN (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wash were hosts for a '42' party in their home Thursday evening, with 15 persons in attendance for the games. Refreshments were served.

ABWA Scholarships Go To Two Women

Two more Big Spring women are being provided with college scholarships, due to fund-raising efforts by members of Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association. The scholarships, which enable women to continue their formal education or career training, are a major undertaking for ABWA chapters all over the nation, as the organization strives to improve the status and earning power of women in business and the professions. Last week, on the recommendation of Mrs. Maurine Hanks, scholarship chairman, and her committee, the chapter agreed to provide scholarships for Miss Sandra Majors and Mrs. Melba Dement for the upcoming semester. These are in addition to two other scholarships being continued for Miss Teresa Bull and Mrs. Virginia Rodriguez. Mrs. Cecil McDonald presided for the meeting, and Mrs. Owen McCombs, ways and means chairman, reported that the chapter's fall Harvest Sale grossed $1,659.47. She named Mrs. Hanks as the member whose efforts brought in the highest amount, with Mrs. Alva Thomas placing second. Guest speaker was Dr. M. A. Porter who illustrated his talk, "Journey Through Jerusalem," with slides taken during his recent trip through the Holy Land. In Rome, the pictures included St. Paul's Cathedral, the Vatican, St. Peter's Square and Palatine Hill; at Athens, the Acropolis and Mar's Hill (the site of Paul's sermon to the Athenians). In Cairo, Dr. Porter viewed the pyramids, Nile River, City of the Dead and Mohammed Ali Mosque, going on to Beirut and Biblos. He said Biblos is said to be the upper end of "the Land of Milk and Honey" and that it is the oldest, continually-inhabited city in the world. Included in the travels of Dr. Porter were numerous Biblical sites which have attracted Christian pilgrims down through the centuries. The vocational talk was by Mrs. Alice Johnson, lab technician at Big Spring State Hospital, who completed nurse training at Scott and White Hospital, Temple. Guests introduced were Mrs. James Hargrove and Mrs. Tim Hans Neuman. Prayers were by Mrs. Orville Bryant and Mrs. Ruth Manuel. Members exchanged Christmas gifts and made final preparations to assist with the party held Monday evening at Big Spring State Hospital.

Wedding Anniversary Observed At Reception

The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Smith was observed Sunday with a reception in their home, 2806 Parkway. The affair was hosted by their son, Steve Smith, a student at Texas Tech, and their daughter, Cynthia Smith, a Big Spring High School student. Smith is principal at BSHS, and Mrs. Smith is a homebound teacher in the Special Education Department. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Moplus, Mrs. R. T. Newell, Mrs. Rogers Heffley, Mrs. Curtis Driver, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Harland Huijbregt, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hise, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McClanahan, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Tatum, Mr. and Mrs. Aris Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Speegle. The host group presented the couple with a silver casserole. The hostesses wore long dresses and Mrs. Smith, attired in a silver lame gown, was presented a corsage of red carnations. Smith was presented a red carnation boutonniere. The refreshment table was covered with a cutwork ecru linen cloth and appointed with a silver tea service. The centerpiece was a silver bowl arranged with red carnations, and other floral arrangements were placed throughout the home. Mrs. Smith is the former Dorothy Kate Story, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Story of Alice. The couple was married Dec. 22, 1948 in Alice.

Gift Shower Held For Bride-Elect

Miss Kay Weir, bride-elect of Terry McAdams, was honored Monday evening with a gift shower in the home of Mrs. J. R. McMurray, Callihan Road. Hostesses were Mrs. Wayne Basden, Mrs. David Hodnett and Mrs. Frank Mashburn. Miss Weir, attired in a floor-length gown of blue floral print, received guests with her mother, Mrs. Ray Weir; her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Betty McAdams; and his grandmother, Mrs. Garner McAdams. The four women were presented corsages of blue carnations, and similar corsages were worn by the hostesses. Refreshments were served from a polished table centered with an arrangement of flowers and candles in blue and silver. The same colors were used in other decorations, and appointments were of crystal and silver. The couple will be married Jan. 11.

Family Reunion In Pedigo Home

A family reunion was held recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Pedigo. All of the children, and part of the grandchildren, of Ivan Riggins and the late Mrs. Riggins were present for the occasion. Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Chappell, Kosse; the George Donley family, Lubbock; the Mike Enelon and John Whit families, all of Seminole; the James Riggins family, Hobbs, N.M. and the Rev. and Mrs. Ben Riggins and family, Konawa, Okla. From Big Spring were the James Pedigo, Luther Weatherby, Ray Todd and W. Y. Gray families and Mrs. F. C. Weatherby and children. Several of the grandchildren and great-grandchildren were unable to attend.

Donnie Reagans Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Reagan of Plainview announce the birth of a daughter, Heather Dawn, born at 9:20 a.m., Dec. 17 at Central Plains Hospital and weighing 5 pounds, 2 ounces. The couple has one other daughter, Erica Renee, 2½. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neill, 624 State, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl T. Reagan, 1303 Nolan.

Party Honors Miss Howell

Miss Sandra Howell, future bride of Colton Wright, was the honoree at a bridal shower held Thursday evening in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church, Coahoma. Parents of the engaged couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Howell and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wright, all of Sand Springs. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Dwayne Clawson, Mrs. W. A. Fishback, Mrs. H. L. Fraser, Mrs. Chick Green, Mrs. T. E. Kerley, Mrs. Herschell Matthies, Mrs. Bill Milliken, Mrs. H. R. Ratliff, Mrs. Kenneth Scott, Mrs. W. E. Stockton, Mrs. Donald Webb and Mrs. Fred York. The honoree was presented a corsage of green carnations. The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth, draped with green garlands, and appointments were of crystal. A green and yellow floral arrangement centered the table. Mrs. M. B. Howell of Big Spring, the bride-elect's grandmother, was among the guests. Miss Howell and Wright will be married Jan. 5 in the First Baptist Church, Coahoma.

Baron Raglan Invented Style

We've come a long way in fashion since the Crimean War, but one of the lesser outcomes of that incident in history was the development of the raglan cut — a popular shoulder style that follows the natural contour of the shoulder. Baron Raglan, finding proper clothing for the British troops a big problem, improvised by slitting potato sacks to cover his soldiers. Fortunately, today men's coats using the raglan cut are a bit more stylish than their original prototypes.

Cruel Husband

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The advice you gave "Letterless," that poor wife whose husband is away in the service and hardly ever writes to her, was nothing less than cruel. I am old enough to be her mother, and I would have told her to get rid of the bum! When she begs him to write because she's worried, his response is: "If I die, the service will inform you." Abby, his cruelty is surpassed only by yours. He's not her teenaged son, he's her husband, and the father of her children. She has every right to worry about him, and demand that he write. And you tell her to write him "cheerful newsy, entertaining letters." Why should she? She's at home being both mother and father to their children, and has far less time to write than he has. Abby, I do believe your compassion and brains are in your rear end! DISAPPOINTED IN BUFFALO

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Sorry, but I still think I'm right. Your "fight-fire-with-fire" philosophy would be a sure way to consign marriage to a heap of ashes.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for about six months and we live a long way from his parents and mine. We have a new two bedroom home, but only one of the bedrooms is furnished. I want to come to visit us and to come to visit us and see our new home. We don't know whether we should give them our bed and rent something for us to sleep on, or keep our own bed and rent something for them to sleep on while they are here. What do the etiquette books say about this?

NEEDS ADVICE
DEAR NEEDS: Who cares what the etiquette books say? Plain, old-fashioned consideration and respect for one's parents can tell you to give them the more comfortable sleeping accommodations.

DEAR ABBY: My ears have been ringing almost continuously for a year. I went to a physician. He looked in my ears, said he couldn't see anything wrong, but maybe I should consult an ear doctor. Well, I went to an ear specialist. He looked in my ears, and even took X-rays, but he couldn't see anything either. Abby, I know my ears can't be ringing for nothing. Something must be causing it. I worry all the time over it. I am tired of having people tell me to forget it, it's only my imagination. Any suggestions?

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: See another doctor. This time, an ear, nose and throat specialist. Worrying about what it COULD BE is sometimes more serious than what it IS.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me before I go completely out of my mind. I work for this doctor. He's a good one and I love my work, but I never have any time to myself. The doctor and his wife are friendly with my husband and me, but they are too friendly. We live in a small town, and his car is parked in front of my house at lunch hour and my days off, too, and I just don't like the way it looks. If the doctor isn't here, he has me tied up on the phone for long periods talking about this or that at the clinic or hospital. I have my own work to do at home, and I'm always behind with it. My husband and I have other friends, but we can't plan anything without this doctor and his wife, as they pop in without even calling. I'm afraid to relax in anything but my uniform at home because he even comes in without knocking. What can I do? My husband says he is just being friendly. I like friends, too, but I'd also like to forget about sick people, pregnant women, etc., when I have some time off. I've even considered quitting, but I do like my job.

TIRED OF PRETENDING
DEAR TIRED: If you do not tell the doctor that you can no longer be available after working hours because of responsibilities, you may have to quit your job. Your pretended 24-hour-availability has put you in a bind.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

In the only two Dist. 5-AAAA Executive Committee meetings I've been to, I've discovered that covering those affairs can be as frustrating as a handful of tangled coat hangers. They switch from one subject to another without any warning, and seem to pass over some important things like they're common knowledge. Sort of like my grandmother used to do when we played "42" and she'd start turning over her dominoes before the hand was even half through.

But another thing that amazes me was the power some of those guys had. A few of them could just about dictate what was to happen everywhere in the district. That all seems to be changing though.

For a long time, G. B. Wadzeck of San Angelo jostled with A. E. "Polly" Wells and Chuck Moser of Abilene, and much of the controversy centered around those three. But Wells and Wadzeck, both superintendents, are retiring and Moser pulled a good one Monday when he accepted a position as backfield coach at Texas A&M. Which is what I've been trying to get around to all this time.

Moser was a super star in gigantic proportions when he led Abilene High to 49 straight victories in the 1950s, and in 1960 he got out of active coaching to become Abilene's Athletic Director. That's what he's been doing the past 14 years, and while it's not exactly what you'd call living in a cave, he's bound to be awfully rusty.

The last time Moser coached, the Wishbone was something you yanked on at Thanksgiving, and the only thing that was ever split on a football field was the center's pants. Moser dealt with players whose biggest worries were pimples and where the next dollar for gasoline to fuel the jaipoy would come from.

Next fall, Moser will be mixing with guys who may or may not have done every kind of dope there is, and when he orders someone to jump, they might ask "Why?" instead of "How High?" He's taking a big step, maybe even too big for him.

Wow, this is my time of the year. Not only do you get all kinds of freebies and lots of chow, it's also a time of leisure. No one in the whole town is bouncing a basketball or tossing a football or running over hills or any of that other sports-type stuff. Just a lot of sittin' around.

Now that the Hawks and Steers have knocked off for the Christmas break, it's time to announce my first annual Most Improved Player of the Half-Year Award. This is to honor the guys at Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College who have made the biggest strides during the first two months of the basketball season. It could develop into a real biggie.

Most Improved Steer has to be Ricky Traylor, the 6-4 post man who could be very valuable to Coach Ron Plumlee by the time district play rolls around. And the same honor on the Hawks goes to local boy Mike Randle, who has always been a good defensive player but this year has started to add points to his performance.

Big Spring's Charley Johnson, who almost guided the Denver Broncos into the NFL playoffs, is one of seven nominees for Texas Pro Athlete of the Year. Calvin Hill and Leroy Jordan of the Dallas Cowboys, golfers Ben Crenshaw and Miller Barber, soccer star Kyle Rote Jr. and Larry McCutcheon of the Los Angeles Rams are the others up for the honor.

Results of the voting, by the Texas Sports Writers Association, will be made known around the first of the year.

Kansas might not have played its greatest game Monday in losing to North Carolina State in the Liberty Bowl, but the Jayhawks accomplished one thing. Their jerseys, the white ones with the blue stripe down the shoulder pads, were by far the ugliest on television this season.

Rose Bowl Cyclist Makes Regular Big Spring Stop

Carson Little stopped in for a visit again Tuesday. Little, who now owns his own Harley-Davidson dealership in Lynchburg, Va., traveled a little over half of the 2,900 miles he has to cover, and so far things have gone pretty well. "It rained on me all the way through Georgia, but I haven't had any real problems," Little said. "I don't try to travel too far in a day, usually no more than 300 miles, so I don't get real tired."

The newest "Easy Rider" spent Monday night in Dallas and Tuesday in Big Spring, and expects to get close to El Paso before stopping today. The end-of-the-year trip will take about 10 days.

Hadl, Gabriel Top NFC Star Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — John Hadl, whose restrained passing brought Los Angeles into the playoffs, and Roman Gabriel, whose aerial bombardments made Philadelphia one of the National Football League's most explosive teams, have been voted to quarterback the National Conference in the annual Pro Bowl game.

Five rookies also were named to the 40-man NFC squad, announced today. They were tight end Charley Young of Philadelphia, running backs Lawrence McCutcheon of the Rams and Chuck Foreman of Minnesota, punter Tom Wittum of San Francisco and place-kicker Nick Mike-Mayer of Atlanta.

The Jan. 20 game at Kansas City's Arrowhead Stadium will be nationally televised by NBC, starting at 1 p.m., CST. The American Conference, which won last year's game 33-28 at Dallas, leads the series 2-1. McCutcheon (1,097) — were selected.

Landry Lauds Knox, Rams

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Coach Tom Landry had high praise today for his counterpart at Los Angeles, Chuck Knox, and said the Rams "have an excellent ball-control team, just like Washington."

Landry said Knox, in his rookie season, "has done a great job. The Rams have rebuilt into one of the top teams in professional football. When you get into the final eight, any team can win the Super Bowl."

Los Angeles and Dallas tangled at 3 p.m. CST Sunday in Texas Stadium in a National Conference semifinal playoff game.

Landry said Los Angeles is "the most consistent team in the National Football League. Quarterback John Hadl does an excellent job of ball control. He keeps giving the ball to Larry McCutcheon and Jim Bertelsen then hits you with the long pass to Harold Jackson."

Landry said he believed one lesson that Dallas has learned is that you can't be over-confident in the playoffs.

"We're playing better football than we have all season, but the ball still has to bounce your way," Landry said.

Los Angeles defeated Dallas 37-31 in an earlier meeting between the two clubs with Jackson catching four touchdowns.

"We were flat that day but it was an exceptional performance on Jackson's part," Landry said. "You always like to find excuses for a day like that. We've got to get more pressure on Hadl. He's a good quarterback and you never know when his passes are coming."

Landry said everyone knows that Los Angeles leads the NFL in points scored but few people realize the Rams are tops in quarterback traps and lowest in penalties.

CHICAGO FIRE ENTERS LEAGUE

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Fire sounded the gong today for the club's entry in the new World Football League with a coach, a playing site and claim of 40 contracted players.

Owner Tom Origer, 40, a Chicago construction magnate, Tuesday unveiled Jim Spavital, former Canadian Football League coach, as the mentor of the WFL club which will confront the Chicago Bears for local patronage.

Origer also announced the nickname of Chicago Fire (singular), contending "it's a strong name, it's Chicago, it's a name with promotional handles."

OAKLAND OWNER TAKES WILLIAMS TO COURT

Finley's Suit Puts Cronin On Spot

BOSTON (AP) — Retiring American League President Joe Cronin juggled a hot baseball situation today in a hearing for Oakland Athletics owner Charlie Finley, a long-time maverick who has gone to court.

Finley filed a suit in U.S. District Court in San Francisco Tuesday, seeking to prevent Manager Dick Williams from working for any other pro baseball club for the next two years. Williams was named the only defendant.

The action came shortly after Cronin deferred a decision in Detroit's hiring of Manager Ralph Houk by the Tigers. Cronin met for four hours behind closed doors with the Tigers and the New York Yankees. The Yanks were left without a manager by Houk's resignation on the last day of the 1973 season.

In his court suit, Finley asked that Williams, who signed as manager of the Yankees last week, be prevented from joining any other club until fulfilling his Oakland contract through the 1975 season.

Later, contacted in Chicago, Finley said he would come out fighting in his hearing with Cronin.

"As I've always said, if they (the Yankees) want Williams, they can have him with my blessings, as long as they are willing to compensate me."

Finley reportedly has refused a New York offer of veteran second baseman Horace Clarke and, later, a $150,000 cash deal along with some minor league players.

Asked what compensation he would want, Finley said: "Well, mostly players who are good prospects. From our law suit filed today, at least they know we mean business."

Cronin, who will turn over the league presidency to Yankees General Manager Lee MacPhail Jan. 1, was faced with one of his toughest decisions since accepting the job in 1959.

He met with General Manager Jim Campbell of the Tigers, Houk and Yankees President Gabe Paul for four hours Tuesday. McPhail and attorneys for all, with a stenographer taking the minutes, were Houk had two years left on his contract when he resigned as New York manager on Sept. 30. He later signed with the Tigers, with apparent blessings from the Yankees.

Williams quit with two years left on his Oakland contract immediately after his A's won the World Series. He thought he had Finley's okay, but found out within a few days he didn't. Finley demanded player compensation, which the Yankees, in turn, wanted from Detroit.

Cronin, calling the hearings as an "absolute judge under what he called rules of the baseball constitution, deferred a ruling on the Houk case after the long meeting with Campbell, Paul, McPhail, Houk and the others.

"I have to weigh all the evidence," Cronin said, referring to a meeting with Finley and the Yankees.

TAKE THAT, YANKEE — Blue footballer Cal Peterson (84), of UCLA, blocks a punt by Gray kicker Chuck Ramsey, Wake Forest, but gets a kick in the midsection for his troubles. The action was in the third quarter of Tuesday's Blue-Gray All-Star game in Montgomery, Ala. The Yankees won again, 29-14.

Coach Leaves, But Blue Wins

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — What does a head coach do when his team falls short on a fourth-down play?

If he's Coach Jack Christiansen, head mentor of the North in Tuesday night's Blue-Gray football game, he leaves the stadium and goes home.

But not because he's worried. Christiansen had to catch an early flight back to Stanford and, besides, his team was doing pretty well — the Blue was six points ahead on the strength of two field goals by a player who had never kicked one in a game in his life.

And Christiansen had a pleasant flight home. The six-point lead held up over the last few minutes to preserve the Blue's 20-14 victory over the Gray in the 36th renewal of the college all-star contest.

Christiansen had to leave Cramton Bowl shortly after his team failed on a fourth-down play at the Gray two. But, as he said as he left the stadium with less than three minutes to go in the game, "we had them backed up."

He also had luck and a fine quarterback on his side.

Christmas In Jail Awaiting Cedeno

SANTO DOMINGO, D.R. (AP) — Baseball star Cesar Cedeno, charged with voluntary homicide in the death of a 19-year-old woman, apparently will remain in jail at least until Jan. 8.

District Atty. Maximo Henriquez Saladin indicated Tuesday that the star center fielder of the Houston Astros will stay in jail while the courts go on vacation from Dec. 20-Jan. 8.

Howard Hawks Make Top 20

The old Howard County Junior College Jayhawks are now the Howard College Hawks, and the HC cagers broke in their new handle by gaining the NJCAA's top 20 basketball teams today.

The Hawks, who underwent the name change Tuesday, were pegged 15th on the list with 16 points. HC is now 17-2 on the year.

Vincennes UJC of Vincennes, Ind., unseated Mercer County from the top spot with 172 points, although Mercer pulled more first place votes, 9-6. Mercer had 163 total points.

Third on the list was Wilbur Wright College of Chicago, while San Jacinto College of Pasadena, with two first place votes and 118 points, was fourth. Pensacola JC of Pensacola, Fla., ranked fifth with 89 points.

Rounding out the top ten were College of Southern Idaho, Arizona Western College, Northeastern Oklahoma A&M, Johnson County CC, Cumberland College and Olney Central College.

Howard College held on to fourth place in team offense with a 103.5 point per game average, while Kittrell JC, N.C., ranks first with a 109.3 mean through eight games. San Jacinto is second with a 106 mark and the University of Wisconsin-Richland Center is next at 105.4.

Atlantic CC, N.J., is tops in team defense, allowing just 51 points a game.

The individual scoring leader is T. Dawson of Lenoir CC, N.C., averaging 34.3 points in three games, while Bob Fazio of Edward Williams College, N.J., is second at 33.1.

Here are the top 20 NJCAA basketball teams, with first place votes in parentheses, season records through Saturday's games and total points. Points are tabulated on a basis of 100-80-50-20.

Forsan Units Top Blackwell

BLACKWELL — David Crooks exploded for 47 points to spark the Forsan Buffs to an 86-70 non-loop victory over Blackwell, while the Forsan girls scored their second district win against a loss by bouncing Blackwell 59-36 Tuesday.

Crooks' performance was the best of the year among area cagers, and he had help from Ralph Miranda, with 16 points, and Steve Murphy with 11 as the Buffs upped their record to 11-2.

Beverly Strickland topped the Buffalo Queens' effort with 19 points, Janet Ellis hit 12 and Brenda Cowley 10. Forsan led 33-19 at the half and 53-25 after three quarters. The Queens are now 12-6 on the year.

In a boys junior varsity game Blackwell rode Mike Helms' 22 points for a 53-51 win over Forsan. John Medlin hit 17 points to lead Forsan, now 2-1.

O. J. Shares AP Honor With Line

NEW YORK (AP) — O.J. Simpson remembers when he really became a running back with the Buffalo Bills.

In Simpson's first three years, he'd never rushed for more than 742 yards. It just wasn't part of Coach John Rauch's plans.

Then Lou Saban, who had coached the Bills during their American Football League years of 1962-65, returned for the start of the 1972 season — and O.J., the former Heisman Trophy winner from the University of Southern California, was rejuvenated.

O.J. ran for 1,251 yards that year, tops in the National Football League. And last Sunday he climaxed an astounding 1973 campaign with 200 yards against the New York Jets for a record-smashing 2,003 yards for the season. He didn't just break Jim Brown's record of 1,863 yards, he splintered it.

For that performance, Simpson, who had been selected The Associated Press' Offensive Player of the Week in the NFL an unprecedented three times earlier this season, was chosen today to share the honor this time — along with center Mike Monter, guards Joe DeLamielleure and Reggie McKenzie and tackles Dave Foley and Donnie Green, the members of the Buffalo offensive line who helped get O.J. there.

SECRETARIAT NO. 1 HORSE

NEW YORK (AP) — It was quite a year for Meadow Stable.

In results of Eclipse Award voting announced Tuesday, it claimed honors for the horse of the year, 3-year-old colt of the year, champion turf horse and top horse among colts, horses and geldings four years old and above.

Secretariat, whose record-setting exploits while winning the first Triple Crown in 25 years inspired legions of fans, was a unanimous choice for Horse of the Year honors in voting sponsored by the Thoroughbred Racing Associations, Daily Racing Form and the National Turf Writers' Association.

Miami's Bannon Named Defensive Star Of Week

MIAMI (AP) — Linebacker Bruce Bannon of the Miami Dolphins had one thing in mind when he received a chance to show his stuff against the Detroit Lions last Saturday — to go at full speed. The 6-foot-3, 225-pound rookie crashed into every Detroit player in sight. Stepping into the middle linebacker slot, owned by Nick Buoniconti, Bannon made 17 tackles to lead the Dolphin defense to a 34-7 victory.

For his performance, Bannon was named as The Associated Press' Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Bannon was grabbed by the Dolphins after being let go by the New York Jets, who decided he wasn't ready to join their linebacking corps just yet. "When the Jets cut me I wasn't too surprised," he said. "In six weeks, I'd been in six plays. They told me I was too far behind because of the All-Star Game."

It was there that Bannon caught Dolphin Coach Don Shula's eye, sacking Miami quarterback Bob Griese on two occasions.

Up until Saturday, however, Bannon had been limited to special team duty, where he was "doing a heck of a good job," according to Shula.

Dolphin reserve linebacker Bob Matheson started at middle linebacker for the sidelined Buoniconti but Bannon played the final three quarters.

'Third Rate' Goods Trigger Oil Fires
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Houston oil well firefighter Red Adair blames used pipe and "third rate" tubular goods used in drilling for a number of recent oil field fires and blowouts.
He said Tuesday, "There are a lot of wells catching fire and blowing out that shouldn't." Adair, who has been fighting oil field fires for more than 20 years, was en route to Mooreland, in western Oklahoma, where a gas well fire has been burning since Nov. 7.
His son Jerry is supervising efforts to extinguish an oil well fire near Casper, Wyo., and the elder Adair had just returned from fighting an oil well fire in the Arabian Gulf.

Lice Close 35 Schools In Anderson
ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — A state health official has advised Anderson youngsters to go soak their heads.
"The prescription is intended to fight a lice infestation that has closed public schools." "Heat will kill lice. Put your head in water at 123 to 130 degrees Fahrenheit. It will kill both nits (eggs) and lice in three minutes," said Dr. Raymond Vanderhook, director of the Indiana Board of Health's division of communicable disease control.
"Or use an ordinary hair dryer, so the heat is strong enough to cause a tingling of the scalp, for five minutes," he said.
Because of the lice, the city's 27 elementary, five junior high and three high schools were ordered closed Tuesday night by the city and county health boards.
That meant 19,000 pupils started their Christmas holiday 2 1/2 days early. Their schools are to reopen Jan. 7.
School Supt. G. E. Ebbert said the boards of health were told of the lice problem last week and, since then, "we're not gaming ground. We're losing ground."
Larry Mahan, Dallas, Tex., is notching his sixth all-around cowboy crown, also a record, collected $64,447 competing in three events. Mahan also pocketed an additional $16,500 in award money.
Other 1973 champions and their new money records are Wyoming's Joe Alexander, $37,021 in bareback bronc riding; California's Bob Marshall, $31,817, in steer wrestling; Oregon's Leo Camarillo, $20,893 in team roping; and Oklahoma's Ernie Taylor, $38,772 in calf roping. Taylor's total is also the game record for prize money won in one event during a single season.
The recent National Finals rodeo at Oklahoma City, where 1973's championships were decided, was the most successful in its fifteen-year history, the cowboy association added. More than $8,000 in added prize money won in the 10-day contest. Its $138,000 prize-money boosted the year's overall money payoff to $4,988,967, another record for rodeo.

Larry Mahan Adds To Loot
DENVER, Colo. — Five of pro rodeo's eight world champions in winning their 1973 titles, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said here today.
Larry Mahan, Dallas, Tex., is notching his sixth all-around cowboy crown, also a record, collected $64,447 competing in three events. Mahan also pocketed an additional $16,500 in award money.

Certificate Is Awarded Barnes
The Texas State Health Department has awarded its official certificate of competency for the oldest ecology oriented profession in Texas to Jimmy C. Barnes of 4207 Walnut, Big Spring.
Barnes is employed by Webb Air Force Base. To practice water ecology in Texas, he has been taught effective ways for producing safe drinking water and treatments to make wastewater into clean streams for public use.
Because of this training, through the Texas Water Utilities Association, the largest water and wastewater training school in the U.S., there are cleaner streams and better operated facilities here than any other section of the country.
Barnes received the certificate only after completing a formal and specialized education, accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience, and passed the examination given by the State Health Department's Sanitary Engineering Section.

Amoco Is Laying 40 Miles Of Pipe
Amoco Pipeline is laying 40 miles of 10-inch pipe in southeastern New Mexico to handle increased oil production brought about by utilization of the Empire Abo field in Eddy County. The project will be completed about Jan. 15.
H. G. Mariner, Fort Worth division manager for Amoco, said utilization of the Empire Abo field is expected to raise production from about 22,000 barrels a day to about 52,000 b/d. Arco will operate the utilized field.

Panel Is Subpoenaing White House Tapes

YEARS AFTER KILLED — The remains of Pfc. Simon Francis "Hobie" Stallings, above, have been brought to Hereford, N.C., for burial more than 29 years after he was killed in Germany during World War II. His remains, not recovered until September of this year, will be buried today with full military rites.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee is reluctantly allowed to become law to subpoena scores of White House tapes and documents.

The new subpoenas were expected to be delivered to the White House today.

In another development, special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski has abandoned efforts to subpoena former ITT lobbyist Dita Beard to appear before the Watergate grand jury.

Instead, Mrs. Beard was interviewed by Jaworski's staff last week and her sworn statement will be read to the grand jury, said a spokesman for Jaworski.

Also, said the spokesman, Mrs. Beard has promised to turn over to the grand jury documents and materials that were sought under the initial subpoena in return for not having to appear.

Mrs. Beard allegedly wrote a memo linking promises of ITT financial aid for the 1972 Republican National Convention to a favorable settlement of an ITT antitrust case.

Watergate committee Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., meanwhile, said the new information being sought by his committee embraces the entire investigative mandate under which it is operating: the Watergate burglary and bugging, the subsequent cover-up, allegations of political sabotage and campaign financing irregularities.

LAST SUMMER

Last summer the committee unsuccessfully tried to subpoena certain White House tapes. U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica declined to order the White House to obey the subpoenas, claiming he lacked jurisdiction in the case. The legislation granting the courts such jurisdiction became law midnight Monday without Nixon's signature.

The Senate, meanwhile, passed legislation Tuesday to give both the House and Senate and all congressional committees the authority to deal with future presidential claims of executive privilege — either through their own enforcement methods or in the courts.

The legislation passed Tuesday sets out for the first time a formal procedure to determine when government officials are not in compliance with congressional requests for information. It provides a variety of means to challenge the refusal of Nixon or any other president to comply by invoking executive privilege.

Meanwhile, House Judiciary Chairman Peter W. Rodino, D-N.J., said he is nearing a decision on the selection of a lawyer to direct the investigation of possible grounds for the impeachment of President Nixon.

And a General Accounting Office report on payments by Nixon's re-election committee to two journalists working as campaign spies was sent to the Justice Department for appropriate action.

Restraint Urged In U.S. Spending

The Board of Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution asking the West Texas congressional delegation to work for the passage of a reform spending bill to provide congressional control over the budget. A proposed measure will curb deficit spending, stem the tide of annual tax increases, and lessen inflation, said WTCC Joe Collins, San Angelo, chairman of the WTCC National Affairs Committee, that there is a critical need to reform Congressional budgetary procedures.
