Voluntary Gasoline Controls Will Not Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Energy czar William E. Simon asked the driving public today to limit itself voluntarily to 10 gallons of gasoline per week.

But Simon avoided imposing any mandatory gasoline restriction at this time.

PRETTY PLEASE

He said full public compliance with a 10-gallon limit would make gasoline rationing unnecessary. But, he said he will not have time to find out how well it is working before he and President Nixon make their decision whether or not to start the wheels of rationing in motion by the end of this month.

Simon left open the possibility that gasoline rationing could be called off even if it were started—during the 60 or so days it would take to put the system into actual operation.

At the same time, Simon announced he will provide 1.5 million barrels of military jet fuel from the Pentagon stockpile to United States international airlines to help them through a fuel crisis until the end of January.

Simon told a news conference that airline representatives said fuel cutbacks at foreign airports were affecting international carriers and that imported jet fuel was cut by the Arab boycott.

He said providing the military fuel would reduce the Pentagon's stockpile of jet fuel from an expected 100 per cent requirement by Jan. 31 to about 95 per cent.

Simon also issued a warning to electric utility companies against continued advertising designed to make the public think there is plenty of electricity and no need to conserve it.

Simon said his new Federal Energy Office had found about 20 such ads over the last few weeks and he was watching to see which company prints the next one.

He warned that unless new ways are found to save energy utilities may soon start running short of residual fuel oil.

Simon asked service stations to sell no more than 10 gallons to each customer.

But Simon said there was nothing to stop a motorist from driving on to another gas station for another 10 gallons if he thought he had to.

There also would be no enforcement against a service station selling more than 10 gallons per customer.

Simon said he was relying on voluntary cooperation until Congress passes legislation providing authority to make such measures mandatory.

Updating his demand figures for petroleum, Simon reported that over-all the nation saved enough fuel and obtained enough additional imports during the four weeks following Nov. 10 to accumulate petroleum inventories a little faster than expected.

Pair Escape, Two Killed

HOUSTON (AP) — A boy and his sister were pulled to safety early today while a fire in their home killed their mother and a 12-year-old sister. Firemen said the blaze began near a fireplace. The victims were identified as Bertha A. Bodie, 36, and Rochelle M. Bodie. Two other children, Christopher, 11, and Bethany, 12, were rescued. Firemen said the father, Ernest Bodie, was at work.

Truck Carrying Cobalt Tips Over

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A tractor-trailer carrying radioactive cobalt tipped over today on Interstate 80, 10 miles west of here, state police said. Troopers immediately sealed off the area as an emergency precaution.

Trash Crews Will Be Off Dec. 25, Jan. 1

Garbage and trash collections may lag a bit during the latter part of next week and the first week in January, but crews will work as rapidly as possible, according to James Campbell, director of public works. City crews will be off Christmas Day (Tuesday) and on New Year's Day, he said. That means they will be taking up the slack on Wednesday and until they catch up at the end of the week. Flatted trucks will be utilized to aid the garbage trucks by picking up Christmas trash. Campbell urged residents to pack their Christmas wrappings, etc. separately, if possible, crushing boxes and packing this material into plastic bags or other containers that will prevent blowing. Residents also are asked to do this as soon as possible after opening to lessen the fire hazard in their homes.

Dip In Temperature Ties 1924 Record

Temperature dropped to 8 degrees Wednesday night, tying the record low recorded in 1924, the U.S. Big Spring Experiment Station reports. Temperature records at the station date back to 1916. It was the lowest of this winter. Mercury did not climb above 34 degrees during the day.

EN ROUTE TO TALKS — U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, right, and French Foreign Minister Michael Jobert sip from their glasses Wednesday night at a reception for Kissinger in Paris. Kissinger, en route to the Middle East peace talks in Geneva, met in Paris Thursday with Le Duc Tho of North Vietnam to discuss violations of the Indochina cease-fire.

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Premier Luis Carrero Blanco, the No. 2 man behind Gen. Francisco Franco, was killed today by an explosion that hurled his car high into the air and blew a 30-foot hole in the street.

An official police report said the cause of the blast was unknown, but one high-ranking police officer said a bomb had gone off in the car shortly after the 70-year-old premier, his chauffeur and a bodyguard got into it after attending Roman Catholic Mass.

INSTANTLY
All three apparently died instantly. Rumors spread in Madrid that Carrero Blanco had been assassinated. But there was no confirmation of this from any official source.

Witnesses said "a terrific explosion" rocked the pavement outside San Francisco de Borja church shortly after the car started to move.

Photographs of the scene indicated an explosion upward from the street.

It was about 9:45 a.m. and Carrero Blanco was en route to a cabinet meeting.

Trustees' Decision Will Influence Working Hours

The Chamber of Commerce directorate, in a meeting held this morning, agreed to encourage all businesses to adjust opening-and-closing hours relative to action taken by the Big Spring school board.

School trustees were to meet at noon today at the Holiday Inn to decide on the time classes will take up and dismiss, a decision forced upon them partly by the energy crisis and partly by the return of Daylight Savings Time Jan. 6.

Any new proposals reached in the business community will affect only those businesses directly involved. Banks are excluded from the planning, since they do not open until 10 a.m. Stores which do not open until 9:30 a.m., would not be effected, either.

Industries and other firms opening earlier will be encouraged to adjust if employers deem it necessary. Change-overs would take place Monday, Jan. 7.

The decision the school board makes today will, of course, remain in effect for the balance of the school term.

He Spied On Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt has told Republican staff members of the Senate Watergate committee that he spied on Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., for President Lyndon B. Johnson during the 1964 presidential campaign, committee sources said today.

A source on the Democratic majority side of the panel said the information from Hunt was gained during interviews that the majority was not told about at the time. The minority staff informed the majority of Hunt's allegations this week, the source said.

CIA BARRED

Hunt was working for the Central Intelligence Agency at the time, apparently as a personal assistant to CIA Director Allen W. Dulles. The sources said he told the committee he and a team of operatives detailed to conduct surveillance on Goldwater were given leaves of absence from the government spy agency.

The CIA is barred by law from conducting domestic operations, and Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., vice chairman of the Watergate panel, has been investigating possible violations in that area.

SKEPTICAL

Baker has been openly skeptical of the CIA's contention that it had no involvement in the June 17, 1972 Watergate break-in in which Hunt and five other men with CIA backgrounds or connections were involved. A Republican committee source said Baker, minority counsel Fred D. Thompson and assistant minority counsel Donald Sanders have been interviewing Hunt in connection with their probe into that area "and other domestic CIA operations."

Details of what Hunt told were not disclosed, but one source said instructions for the operation reportedly came from Johnson through an unnamed intermediary, presumably a member of the White House staff.

WRITING NOVEL

The committee's efforts to conduct a nonpartisan investigation originally dictated that minority and majority staff would be represented at all closed-door interviews and executive sessions. But that pattern broke down when the larger majority staff began traveling extensively to interview witnesses and often scheduled sessions when no minority lawyers were available to sit in.

And some committee members, particularly Baker and Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., set off on probes they were especially interested in without getting other committee members involved.

As a result, the latest report involving Hunt sparked a quick partisan response from the Democratic side.

"I knew Howard Hunt was writing another novel," said one majority staffer, "but I didn't know he was doing it in collaboration with Howard Baker." Hunt has written about 45 mystery novels.

Conservative columnist William F. Buckley Jr., a personal friend of Hunt who is co-ordinating his legal defense, said he knows nothing about Hunt's purported claim to have spied on Goldwater.

But Buckley, who had been one of Goldwater's strongest supporters in 1964, said it had long been suspected that Goldwater was bugged during the campaign. "It's nice to know this sort of thing is ecumenical," he said.

MORE HELP IS NEEDED

More friends shared Christmas today as the Christmas Cheer Fund reached the $1,400 mark.

But with time running out, and costs of food, toys and other items running substantially higher, still more help is needed.

If you can have a part in this humanitarian remembrance please mail or send your gift to The Herald.

Warmer and fair through Friday. West to southwesterly winds 5 to 15 miles per hour this afternoon becoming southerly Friday. High today, near 50. Low tonight, around 20. High Friday, low 60s.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Peter W. Rodino says he has found the man to act as special council for the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment inquiry. But the New Jersey Democrat would not tell committee members who he had chosen to direct the inquiry. Rodino said the name would be revealed at a news conference today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Melvin R. Laird says he is quitting his job as a presidential counselor. Laird said he would step down Feb. 1 and turn over his duties to Vice President Gerald R. Ford. Laird said he has taken a job as an executive for the Readers Digest Association that would permit him to travel, write, and speak on such current issues as national security and detente.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Congress continues to move toward adjournment, but faces complex and costly bills on energy, social security, railroads, defense, and foreign aid before it can recess for the year-end holidays. But House Democratic leader Thomas P. O'Neill says the lawmakers could finish the session late tonight or "at a reasonable hour on Friday."

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — That "klunkity-klunk" the Skylab 3 astronauts heard three weeks ago is back, and mission control thinks it might be related to a recurring gyroscope problem. Commander Gerald P. Carr reported hearing the sound while checking systems in the Apollo ferry ship attached to one end of the space station. "It's that same klunkity-klunk sound we heard before," Carr said. "If you've ever been in an earthquake before, that's what this sounds like, except you don't get the feel of motion."

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors and Ford have been acquitted of a federal charge that they had a silent agreement to eliminate discounts in sales of fleets of cars. The fleet market — sales in lots of 10 or more vehicles — accounts for about one million vehicles a year, or 10 to 12 per cent of United States production. Before the 1971 model year, Ford and GM offered discounts averaging $250 per car to fleet customers. Since dropping the discounts, Ford and GM have seen their share of the fleet market fall from nearly 75 per cent to less than 50 per cent. Chrysler Corp. continued the discount, and its portion of the fleet market has grown to more than 50 per cent.

JACK FROST ARTISTRY — No ice storm has occurred here since last winter but Wednesday's dip in temperatures, together with a water hose, created this eye-arresting scene at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hoggard, Rte. 1. Nature still is the biggest ice maker of them all.

Expected To Accept Superport Facility

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas Offshore Terminal Commission was expected today to accept a staff recommendation that a public terminal authority be created to operate a deep-water superport facility to be built in the Gulf of Mexico 32 miles south of Freeport.

Joe Allbritton, commission chairman, released the staff recommendations prior to an afternoon session of the commission.

ADOPTION
Allbritton said final adoption of the recommendations probably will be made by the commission the first week in January after public hearings in Austin, Dallas, and Freeport.

He expressed hope state and federal clearances for the $400 million project can be obtained by next April 15 and that construction can be completed within two years.

The state legislature would need to create a public terminal authority to own and regulate the facility which Allbritton said would be built through the use of revenue bonds.

The staff recommendations also call for the negotiation of contracts for use of the public facility by private industry.

Allbritton said the need for a deepwater facility to accommodate vessels unable to enter any U.S. port is a continuing need based on a belief the importation of energy products will continue and accelerate irrespective of the current political climate.

He said that, upon adoption of the plan by the commission, he will urge Gov. Dolph Briscoe to present the plan to the legislature "for the quickest possible action."

"Approval of the several governmental authorities required should be sought immediately to reduce the delay in construction as much as possible," he said.

NEEDING RELIEF
"This much needed relief to our energy needs seems a most expeditious end to our goal," Allbritton said.

He said the staff's recommendations are not without opposition "but seem the best possible solution to a very imperfect situation."

"The adoption of these recommendations and their implementation is not only of benefit to the state of Texas but indeed is the joining of a public authority working with private industry to the interest of the state of Texas and—as a focal energy state—will inure to the direct benefit of the entire country," Allbritton said.

Louisiana also is planning a similar facility but Allbritton said he believes the Texas project is more advanced.

Private industry also has been planning projects in both states. Allbritton expressed hope the companies studying the possibility of a privately owned Texas facility will cooperate with the commission's recommendations.

"This does not rule out a private facility nor does it mean we can't go ahead with the public facility without industry's cooperation," he said.

COMPLICATED EQUIPMENT — Much equipment is needed by the Texas Highway Department to speed up the job of correctly painting traffic lines down the middle of thoroughfares. Here a crew is busy in the 500 block of East Third Street. Since the highways bear heavy traffic, the undertaking has to be repeated every few months.

Legislative Continuance

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court ruled today that a new law permits a trial judge to deny a legislative continuance where a legislator has been hired within 10 days of the trial.

Under the old law, trial judges had no choice but to postpone trials when legislators were employed on either side and it was within a period from 30 days before a legislative session to 30 days after the session.

This law drew much criticism on the ground that legislators sometimes were hired for the sole purpose of getting a trial delayed.

The 1973 legislature amended the law to grant trial judges discretion in certain situations involving motions for legislative continuance, including the 10-day rule.

Rep. Craig Washington, D-Houston, was hired Nov. 27 by lawyer Joe Goodwin of Beaumont to help defend John H. DeVries on a murder-with-malice charge in Beaumont. The trial was set for Dec. 3.

Defense lawyers argued that trial on the merits actually was not to begin until Dec. 10, but the Supreme Court said that was only because a trial on the issue of present insanity had to precede the trial on the merits.

The Constitutional Convention begins Jan. 8, and the new legislative continuance law provides that the convention will be treated the same as a legislative session for purposes of trial delay.

State Isn't Obligated To Provide Newsroom

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — There is ample justification for the state to furnish newsmen working space in the Capitol, Atty. Gen. John Hill says, although it is not obligated to by either the Constitution or state law.

"Neither the House of Representatives nor the Board of Control is under any constitutional or statutory obligation to furnish rent free space to members of the media in the State Capitol Building. However, they may provide space for the proper public purpose of keeping the people informed," Hill said.

Hill added that if such space is provided, it must be provided either to all legitimate members of the media or allocated "on a reasonable basis which does not unconstitutionally discriminate."

OPINION
The opinion was asked by Rep. Joe Allen, chairman of the House Administration, who wanted to know what obligation, if any, the House or the Board of Control had to furnish rent-free space to newsmen in the Capitol.

The attorney general said his study of the Constitution and state law showed "that the House of Representatives has no constitutional or statutory obligation to provide rent free space to members of the media in the Capitol Building but that, consistent with our traditional notions of open government and the need for an informed citizenry, and consistent with the purposes of the Open Meetings Law, the House and/or the Board of Control are amply justified in making a reasonable amount of space available for proper media purposes."

The attorney general added "in the absence of legislation authorizing the collection of rent, no rental may be charged for space made available to members of the media or to others in state buildings."

The House Administration Committee, which has control over the space now occupied by the Capitol Press Room, also asked if other states had laws or if there were federal statutes regarding pressroom space.

Hill said his department could find no specific state or federal statutes bearing on the question. "Of course, the laws of all our states and of the nation encourage a diligent press and an informed citizenry," Hill said.

The original plans for the Capitol, which was occupied in 1888, marked off space for working newsmen, and there has been working space for reporters in the Capitol since that time. The main press room space consists of four rooms on the second floor outside the entrance to the House, plus another room also on the second floor. In addition, specific space is set aside for newsmen in both the House and Senate chambers.

Judge Charles Richey reaffirmed an order he issued Wednesday ordering Boyle, 72, committed to the federal prison hospital at Springfield, Mo., to begin a three-year term for making illegal political contributions with union funds.

But he set a second hearing for this afternoon on the extradition request. Richey was waiting for a written commitment from the Washington County Common Pleas Court and the Pennsylvania prosecutor that Boyle's appearance there would be only for arraignment and that the state did not intend to take him into custody.

Pennsylvania authorities want to arraign Boyle on murder charges stemming from the 1969 killings of UMW rival Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski, Yablonski's wife and their daughter.

Also, "we made them cancel" an option Texaco had to buy the refinery and limited the major company to 45,000 barrels a day of Coastal States' production, Wilson said.

The rationale for that limit, he explained, was that the refinery—producing 135,000 barrels daily when the action was filed—now produces 180,000 barrels, and the limit on Texaco would continue the availability of 135,000 barrels daily to independent distributors.

Coastal States has no retail operations for either gasoline or home heating oil. According to the suit, Texaco, with 12 refineries, "maintains a policy not to sell gasoline to independent marketers."

The Justice Department had claimed that the agreements between the companies, which had several other provisions, unreasonably restrained the sale of gasoline and fuel oil.

Coastal States, as of Jan. 1, 1972, was the nation's second-largest independent refiner. It is engaged primarily in producing and distributing natural gas.

James Douglas Wallace was treated and released from Medical Center Memorial Hospital following a Wednesday afternoon wreck involving a school bus at 11th and Auburn Streets.

Jeanette M. Wallace, 3211 Auburn St., was following the bus, which stopped at the 11th Place intersection, police said.

Floyd Howland, 311 NW 11th Place, was driving the bus.

$1.17 Billion Welfare Errors

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government audit released today shows that one million welfare families are ineligible or overpaid at an annual cost to taxpayers of $1.17 billion.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said the conclusions were reached from state samplings of 44,000 of the 3.1 million families receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC).

The review showed that 10.2 per cent or 316,200 cases were ineligible, 22.8 per cent or 706,800 were overpaid and 5.1 per cent or 252,100 were underpaid, HEW said.

The cases, which represent families and not individuals, were audited between April and September under a system found to be "eminently sound" by the Gallup Organization Inc., HEW said.

At mid-year there were 3.1 million families on AFDC rolls, representing 10.9 million individuals including 7.8 million children.

Under the threat of a loss of federal matching funds, HEW said the states have developed plans to correct the error rates.

"The next step is for states to implement these corrective action plans so that error rates will be sharply reduced by June 30, 1975, to an ineligibility rate of no more than 3 per cent and an overpayment rate of no more than 5 per cent," HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger said.

"States that fail to reach their reduction goals will lose part of their federal funds."

Federal funds account for an average of 54.1 per cent of total welfare costs, with state and local governments providing the rest.

Ineligibility error rates disclosed in the sampling ranged from 1.9 per cent in North Dakota to 16.7 in Pennsylvania and 17.5 in New York, while overpayment rates ranged from 7.1 per cent in Arkansas to 40.9 per cent in New Hampshire.

Asked to explain why so many errors were found, Federal Welfare Commissioner Robert B. Carleson said it was due to a combination of agency and recipient mistakes.

Although Carleson hesitated to estimate how much of the error rate could be attributed to cheating, he said: "We know there's a lot of fraud on welfare, certainly more than 1 per cent."

Senate Okays Con-Con Funds

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate voted today to set up a $2 million account to handle expenses of the Constitutional Convention, which starts Jan. 8.

A resolution adopted by the Senate authorizes the 150-member House to spend $1,667,000 and the 31-member Senate $333,000 from the special account.

If any of the money is left over, five-sixths will be returned to the House and one-sixth to the Senate.

The House still must vote on the resolution.

Louisiana also is planning a similar facility but Allbritton said he believes the Texas project is more advanced.

Private industry also has been planning projects in both states. Allbritton expressed hope the companies studying the possibility of a privately owned Texas facility will cooperate with the commission's recommendations.

"This does not rule out a private facility nor does it mean we can't go ahead with the public facility without industry's cooperation," he said.

Snow Blanketing Much Of Midwest

By The Associated Press
A fierce storm blanketed much of the Midwest with snow today while the East was recovering from the effects of Monday's icy deluge.

The Midwest storm dumped snow from southern Michigan to Austin, Tex., including record or near-record accumulations in St. Louis and central Indiana.

In the East, more snow and sleet was forecast for Connecticut, threatening further delays in restoring electricity to over 50,000 customers without power since Monday.

An estimated 200,000 people sought warmth Wednesday night in hotels, motels, the houses of friends and relatives and public shelters, said Ken Lappe, acting state fire coordinator for the Office of Civil Preparedness.

Snow kept driving hazardous in parts of the Midwest. More than 600 persons spent the night in the Effingham, Ill., armory after area motels in central Illinois filled to overflowing. Another 200 persons spent the night in an Effingham church and private homes were also opened to stranded travelers.

Effingham stands at a crossroads of southern Illinois, at the junction of Interstates 57 and 70 where traffic crept to a virtual halt. Backups were four to five miles long. A record 13 inches of snow at St. Louis snarled traffic and forced closure of Lambert-St. Louis International Airport. It was not expected to open until later today.

Lawrence Edward Packer, 20, 809 E. 16th St., has pleaded guilty to burglary to the Seven Up Bottling Co. building. He was given six years probation with the stipulation he make $300 in restitution.

He was sentenced to five years, a prison term which will run concurrently with his other sentence. As a pending indictment, the case was interfering with Darrow receiving "good time" which could be allowed in any possible future parole decision, Wayne Basden, defense attorney, said after the trial.

William Paul Darrow, 28, who is serving a life sentence for sale of marijuana, pleaded guilty in 118th District Court today to sale of LSD to Ann Groebel. He was sentenced to five years, a prison term which will run concurrently with his other sentence.

Snow Drifts In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma's first full-fledged winter storm of the season eased its grip on the state somewhat Wednesday night.

Howling across the state from north to south Wednesday, it left snow, sleet, rain and bone-chilling cold in its wake and paralyzed traffic in some areas.

North winds gusting up to 50 miles per hour and swirling snow reduced visibility to zero at times in many sections.

Skies began clearing from the west during the night, but only after most areas were coated with ice and snow.

Roads were slick and hazardous nearly everywhere. A Continental Airlines 727 bound for Denver slipped off the taxiway at Will Rogers World Airport in Oklahoma City during the storm Wednesday, stranding its 102 passengers for about five hours. There were no injuries. Buses returned the passengers to the terminal.

The taxiway was not icy, a Continental spokesman said, but blowing snow blurred the pilot's vision and wind also may have been a factor.

The Department of Public Safety opened a special travel advisory center at its headquarters in Oklahoma City to answer queries about road conditions. Public Safety Commissioner Wayne Lawson said some 3,000 telephone calls were answered in the first few hours.

In Enid, northwest of Oklahoma City, a police dispatcher said, "We've got trucks stalled to the west and north and another unit has rescued a family east of Waukomis where they got stranded in their car."

Ten to 15 National Guard members were mobilized in the Enid area to patrol roads and assist stranded motorists.

Ed Hardy, Gov. David Hall's news secretary, said the citizen soldiers rescued nine motorists from stranded cars and took eight children from a stranded Tonkawa school bus by late Wednesday afternoon.

He said snow drifts as deep as 10 feet were reported between Enid and Lamont and in the Blackwell area.

Flown To Oakland
Carl A. Knapp, 19, who lost a hand in a meat grinder here earlier this week, has been flown to the Oakland, Calif., Naval hospital where he will undergo additional treatment.

DEATHS

Mrs. Walker Hale
CHRISTOVAL — Services for Mrs. Walker (Nettie) Hale, 96, mother of a Big Spring man, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the First United Methodist Church in Christoval. Burial will be in Lamesa Cemetery with Branon Funeral Home in charge.

W. O. Cox
W. O. Cox, 51, Borden County rancher, died at 7 a.m. today in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Services will be 10 a.m. Saturday in the Nailey Pickle Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. Jim Mosely, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Ackery, officiating. Burial will be in the New Mount Cemetery at Matador.

Mr. Cox was born Aug. 21, 1922 in Motley County and was married to Lois Cox Feb. 2, 1946 at Matador. They moved to Borden County July 1, 1949 and operated a ranch northeast of Vealmoor. He was a Baptist.

Surviving him in addition to his wife are his mother, Mrs. G. B. McElroy, Crosbyton; two brothers, L. M. Cox, Matador, and Maurice Cox, Kansas City, Mo.; a sister, Mrs. John Russell, Matador; several nephews and nieces.

The family is requesting that those who wish to remember Mr. Cox send donations to the West Texas Boy's Ranch, San Angelo.

Mrs. Jessie Adcock
LAMESA — Services for Mrs. Jessie Adcock, 91, of Lamesa will be at 3 p.m. today in First United Methodist Church here with the Rev. Grady Adcock, pastor of Canyon United Methodist Church in Lubbock, and the Rev. Woodrow Adcock, pastor of San Jacinto United Methodist Church in Amarillo, officiating. The two are sons of Mrs. Adcock.

Also officiating will be the Rev. Paul W. Anderson, pastor of Cuba Baptist Church in Bridgeport and the Rev. Newton Starnes, pastor of First United Methodist Church here.

Burial will be in Lamesa Cemetery with Branon Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Adcock died at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in Cottonwood Acres Nursing Home in Lamesa. A native of Decatur, Miss., Mrs. Adcock moved to Haskell in 1916, and to the Dawson County area in 1941. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Lamesa.

Other survivors include four other sons, D. L. and Vernon, both of Lamesa, James of Seagraves, and Raymond of Tokio; five daughters, Mrs. Herbert Green of Lamesa, Mrs. Harold Grissom of 2425 22nd St., Lubbock, Mrs. A. D. Norris of Corpus Christi, Mrs. G. W. Orvic of Camden, N.Y., and Mrs. Euna Fay Newman of Seminole; a sister, Mrs. May Correu of Houston; a brother, Byron Giddens of Houston; 27 grandchildren; 4 great-grandchildren; and three great-great-grandchildren.

Henry Clay Mann

Henry Clay Mann, 92, died Wednesday at his home here. Services will be at 2:30 p.m. today in the River-Welch chapel. Officiating will be the Rev. J. B. Sharp, pastor of the First United Methodist Church here. Burial will be in Mount Olive Cemetery.

Mr. Mann was born Nov. 12, 1881, in Coleman County. He started to work in the T&P shops here in 1901 and retired from the railroad in 1945. He had also worked for the Rock Island and Santa Fe railroads.

He joined the Methodist Church at an early age. Survivors include several nieces and nephews, including Mrs. Bert Shive, Mrs. Houston Cowden and R. H. Mullins, all of Big Spring.

Funeralbearers include A. D. Meador, Jimmy Morehead, G. D. Morehead, Jim Baum, Edison Taylor and Bert Shive.

Wildcat Will Go Deeper

A wildcat test seven-eighths of a mile west-southwest of the depleted one-well Knott (Pennsylvanian) field has been announced. It will be the F. W. Holbrook, Midland No. 1 Grantham and will go to 9,150 feet.

Location will be 467 from the south and west lines of section 8-33-2N, T & P, which is five-eighths of a mile west-southwest of the Ashmun & Hilliard No. 2 Grantham, a 9,125 foot failure in October 1957. The discovery well in the field pumped 96 barrels of oil through perforations at 8,992-9002.

Texaco has filed for No. 2 A J. R. Weaver, 1,593 from the north and 660 from the east lines of labor 27-3, Taylor CSL. It will go to 8,800 in search of the Spraberry in the Britt Field five miles northwest of Lamesa.

Gulf Oil staked a pair of Jo-Mill (Spraberry) tests 15 miles west of Gall in Borden County. The 8,600-foot tests will be No. 1605 Cannon Ranch Unit, 1,000 feet from the north and 1,000 from the east lines of section 46-33, 5N, T & P; and No. 654 Cannon Ranch Unit, 1,980 from the east line and 660 from the south lines of section 34-33-5N, T & P.

Basin Petroleum of Midland No. 1 Anderson, a wildcat 900 feet from the north and 1,850 from the east lines section 15-31-2N, T & P, 14 miles northeast of Big Spring, has been abandoned at 7,740 feet. It recovered 630 feet of salt water with a trace of oil on a drillstem test from 7,727-7,740.

Three miles southeast of Big Spring, Fowler No. 1 M. Morgan, a north outpost to a lone-Fusselman producer, was reported testing from that zone. East of the discovery deep well, Fowler No. 1 Flanagan, also seeking the Fusselman, was around, 9,300.

'Tony' Boyle Hearing Set
WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge today set a hearing for later in the day on Pennsylvania's request that it be allowed to arraign former United Mine Workers boss W. A. "Tony" Boyle on murder charges before he enters federal prison.

Judge Charles Richey reaffirmed an order he issued Wednesday ordering Boyle, 72, committed to the federal prison hospital at Springfield, Mo., to begin a three-year term for making illegal political contributions with union funds.

But he set a second hearing for this afternoon on the extradition request. Richey was waiting for a written commitment from the Washington County Common Pleas Court and the Pennsylvania prosecutor that Boyle's appearance there would be only for arraignment and that the state did not intend to take him into custody.

Pennsylvania authorities want to arraign Boyle on murder charges stemming from the 1969 killings of UMW rival Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski, Yablonski's wife and their daughter.

Also, "we made them cancel" an option Texaco had to buy the refinery and limited the major company to 45,000 barrels a day of Coastal States' production, Wilson said.

The rationale for that limit, he explained, was that the refinery—producing 135,000 barrels daily when the action was filed—now produces 180,000 barrels, and the limit on Texaco would continue the availability of 135,000 barrels daily to independent distributors.

Coastal States has no retail operations for either gasoline or home heating oil. According to the suit, Texaco, with 12 refineries, "maintains a policy not to sell gasoline to independent marketers."

The Justice Department had claimed that the agreements between the companies, which had several other provisions, unreasonably restrained the sale of gasoline and fuel oil.

Coastal States, as of Jan. 1, 1972, was the nation's second-largest independent refiner. It is engaged primarily in producing and distributing natural gas.

New Legal Confrontation Over Nixon Tapes Brews

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new legal confrontation over presidential tapes is brewing in the face of Senate Watergate committee subpoenas demanding President Nixon turn over 481 recordings and hundreds of other items from White House files.

The committee served its subpoenas late Wednesday only hours after the long, often bitter legal battle over the nine tapes subpoenaed by the special Watergate prosecutor appeared headed for a resolution.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica cleared the way for a final delivery of subpoenaed material to the prosecutor when he issued a ruling upholding White House requests to withhold non-Watergate material from the grand jury.

Then the Watergate committee weighed in with a sweeping demand for material it contended pertains to all aspects of its investigation, ranging from the break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters and subsequent cover-up attempt to campaign contributions and the ITT anti-trust settlement.

The demands, contained in three subpoenas, sought not only tapes and files, but the President's daily diaries from Jan. 1, 1970, to Dec. 19, 1973, and the records for the past three years for telephones in 19 locations including the White House and the homes of 10 of Nixon's principal aides.

The White House had no immediate comment on the demands. But they appeared certain to be challenged on the grounds that they were too sweeping and would constitute a fishing expedition through executive office files.

The next day committee members voted to subpoena additional material.

"We're going to ask for every damn thing under the sun," one committee staff member said.

Hope That Will Flush The Boa

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Bob Hancock and his wife Marge figured that noise in the walls of their new home was too loud for rats. And a two-inch-wide path in the attic insulation was even more puzzling.

A neighbor told them the former owners had searched in vain for a pet which disappeared six months ago: a 5-foot boa constrictor.

The Hancock family consulted experts, but nobody could suggest a sure-fire remedy. So the Hancock family moved in with relatives, and an exterminator has flooded the place with ammonia fumes.

They hope that'll flush the boa, and someone can catch it.

MYSTERY

That left only the questions of two conversations the White House says were never recorded and a third that is interrupted by an 18-minute buzz no one has yet been able to explain.

Set Of Undistributed Checks For $150,000 Bobs Up In Fuss

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Thirty mysterious $5,000 checks which were never distributed have entered a controversy involving political funds of the nation's largest milk cooperative.

Dr. George Mehren, general manager of the 40,000-member Associated Milk Producers Inc., testified Wednesday about the existence of checks totaling $150,000 which were written on the account of AMPT's political arm.

Mehren said 29 checks were dated April 4, 1972, and one check was dated April 5, 1972. All the checks were then voided April 5 and not used, he said.

Mehren's statement means the checks were written immediately prior to April 7, 1972, the date federal laws concerning disclosures of campaign contributions went into effect.

Children Await Saturday Party

The Permian chapter of the Non-Commissioned Officers Association will host an estimated 300 underprivileged children at a Christmas party, starting at 1 p.m., Saturday.

Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare officer, is cooperating with the NCOA to see that a representative group of children is in attendance.

Nat Roll, local manager for the American Red Cross, has announced that an estimated $400 worth of toys turned over to him by Cook's Discount Store, will be distributed during the entertainment.

Mead's Bakery has also made a donation in an undisclosed amount to insure the success of the affair.

Scene of the party is the NCO Club at Webb AFB. Officials of the association expressed gratitude for the individuals and firms working to guarantee the success of the party.

CRMWD Income Lags By $195,000

Revenues to the Colorado River Municipal Water District were lagging by $195,000 through November, but there is a good possibility that most of this will be overcome before the end of the year.

Year-end adjustment by a municipal user may wipe out most of the difference.

Through 11 months, district revenues amounted to $4,840,745, which compares with $5,035,151 for the same period in 1972.

The municipal users contributed $2,970,414, or $116,000 less than a year ago. Oil and industrial users paid $1,827,631, cost $70,000.

The only gain was in recreational fees of $39,158, up by approximately $14,000.

Total operational expense for the 11-month period was $1,233,166, down $46,000 from a year ago. This left $3,607,579

House Refuses To Share In Paying For Budgeting Plan

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — At the suggestion of Speaker Price Daniel Jr., the House will have no part of paying the bill for a zero budgeting plan pushed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

The Legislative Budget Board agreed Wednesday to pay $25,000 of the agreement with Management Analysis Center Inc. (MAC), the governor's office will pay $25,000, the Senate $40,000 and the House nothing.

Hobby called the special meeting of the Budget Board Wednesday after the Houston Chronicle reported Sunday that Briscoe and Daniel had refused to sign a contract with MAC for $100,000. Hobby hired the Illinois firm in September to help state officials train state agencies to work with zero budgeting and to help develop a completely computerized budget program for the state.

'I'll Win,' Says Hoffa

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I'll win," said Jimmy Hoffa in announcing a comeback bid for the presidency of the Teamsters.

"I'm going to run for the presidency in 1976," said the union's former head Wednesday night. "There may be a contest. If there is, so what?"

Hoffa, 60, is on parole and under a court order not to engage in any union activities until 1980. However, he said he would begin efforts next month to knock down the union restriction placed on him as a condition for his release from federal prison.

"They put it on, and they can take it off," he said. "I'm going to go into the courts with my lawyer and prove it is a violation of the Constitution."

In December 1971, President Nixon commuted Hoffa's 13-year jail term for a 1964 conviction of jury tampering, and Hoffa was granted immediate release.

The commutation was conditioned upon Hoffa's not engaging "in direct or indirect management of any labor organization prior to March 6, 1980" on penalty of recommittal to serve the remainder of his sentence.

Hoffa said he would ask the Justice Department to release him from the restriction and, if that failed, would take the case to court.

The former Teamsters president said he would prepare the way for the new bid to power by running in 1974 for the presidency of Teamsters Local 299, the Detroit branch of the 2.1-million-member union.

109 Escape Plane Flames

NEW DELHI (AP) — All 109 passengers and crewmen escaped today from a Lufthansa jetliner that burned after it crashed 500 yards short of New Delhi's Palam Airport in a dense fog.

A spokesman for the West German airline said one passenger broke a leg when he slid down the emergency chute and six other persons, including the pilot, were treated for minor injuries.

It was the fourth crash in 18 months at the airport. Three of them occurred in bad weather when the planes were homing on the airport's instrument landing system. A total of 156 persons were killed in the other three crashes.

Will's Complexities Are Explained By Attorney

If you don't have a will, those surviving you likely are in for trouble and expense.

You can make a will of your own, but you run the risk of not accomplishing what you want.

You can even buy a do-it-yourself will, but the risks are the same as writing your own. For instance, you may name your spouse to be your executor but neglect to specify that no bond is required, or perhaps forget to include the power to sell, and many other details.

You can even do without a will, assuming that what you will have left goes to your spouse — but that's simply not the way the law works. Bob Miller, attorney, told the Downtown Lions club at its Wednesday meeting at the Settles.

The state specifies how an estate will be distributed if an individual dies intestate (without a will). This varies as to whether there are children. Distribution as to separate property (held before marriage, assumed by inheritance or gift) and community property (acquired during the course of a marriage).

And every individual is a different circumstance, said Miller. But unless details are spelled

Ohio Gasoline Stations Strike Rumors Flying

A large number of the nation's 220,000 gasoline stations plan to close for Christmas and New Year's Day, a survey by motor clubs and industry groups indicates. Some may stay shut for longer periods.

One station operator said 100 service stations in Akron, Ohio, are planning a week-long holiday strike. But a spokesman for the American Automobile Association, which surveys the stations regularly, said the AAA had turned up no indications of such an extensive strike.

TURN OFF

Marathon Oil Co. station operator David Hutchinson said Wednesday the 100 stations would turn off their pumps from midnight Thursday until the following Wednesday morning to protest the government's refusal to grant adequate retail price increases. He declined, however, to provide a list of the stations involved.

Hutchinson claimed the shutdown would affect about a quarter of the city's stations. He said the operators would supply emergency needs of police and ambulances.

John Huemrich, executive director of the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers, estimated last week that 50 per cent of the nation's service stations would be closed for a three-day period, beginning the Saturday night preceding the holiday.

More than 80 per cent of the stations have been closing this month from 9 p.m. Saturday to midnight Sunday. They are doing so at the request of President Nixon, who is seeking authority to make such shutdowns mandatory.

SUPPLY OF FUEL

Some service station owners said their supply of fuel would determine whether they remained open.

"Everything depends on our allocations. At this point we don't know how much will be available," said Jack Morgan, president of the Maryland Independent Retail Service Station Association.

But a large percentage of stations in North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Georgia, Wyoming, Louisiana, Oregon, Arkansas and the New England states definitely planned to close. Some will shut down just on Christmas or New Year's Day, which fall on Tuesdays, some on the Sundays prior, and some on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of both weeks.

Stations along the 559-mile New York State Thruway will remain open for the holidays but probably will limit customers to 10 gallons, a spokesman said.

Leaders Rapped By Ex-Astronaut

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John Glenn says Gov. John Gilligan and "establishment leaders" were trying to deprive Ohio Democrats of a free choice in the 1974 Democratic senatorial primary.

The former astronaut, a Senate contender, made the comment Wednesday after Gilligan tapped Cleveland industrialist Howard Metzenbaum as successor to Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio.

Metzenbaum, 56, will serve out the year remaining in Saxbe's term after Saxbe becomes President Nixon's fourth attorney general Jan. 4. Metzenbaum also is seeking election to a full, six-year term.

Energy Crisis Good, Bad News For Film Industry

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For the movie industry, the nation's energy crisis is both good news and bad news.

Movie studios are faced with the same shortages that every industry and every citizen is forced to deal with. Studios, when they are in full production, are heavy users of electricity; The Burbank Studios, home of Warner Brothers and Columbia, is the second heaviest user of electricity in the city of Burbank, following Lockheed Aircraft.

SAVE POWER

Film companies also use a lot of gasoline, especially in these days when directors like to shoot on real locations instead of the back lot.

Most film executives believe they will be able to maintain full production under the energy limitations.

"We have managed on a voluntary basis to reduce our power usage by 30 per cent," reports Robert Hagel, general manager of The Burbank Studios. "And we have had only a 60 per cent implementation of our program. We hope we can bring it down to 40 per cent."

Another element of the bad news is year-round Daylight Savings Time.

HARDEST HIT

The film industry has long opposed the extra hour of daylight on the basis that people stay outdoors longer and don't go to theaters as much. Drive-ins are the hardest hit, since they require darkness for projection.

"We don't yet know what the effects of year-around Daylight Savings will be," says Robert Selig, chairman of the drive-in committee of the National Association of Theater Owners.

NINE-MONTH HIGH Cease-Fire Violations

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Heavy fighting was reported today near the capitals of South Vietnam and Cambodia. A Saigon government spokesman said Communist cease-fire violations hit a nine-month high.

The South Vietnamese government reported 144 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks in the country during the 24 hours ending at dawn today. It was the largest number reported since March 19 and more than double the daily average for the past two weeks.

SAIGON'S chief military spokesman, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, said the increased level of fighting was connected with the anniversary today of the founding of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

He also interpreted it as a show of force to put pressure on Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger at his meeting in Paris today with Le Duc Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo.

Hien said that in the two largest battles 59 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed. Government losses were listed as 15 killed and 57 wounded.

The clashes were reported 20 miles north of Saigon on Highway 13 and in the Mekong Delta 55 miles southwest of the capital.

In Cambodia, field reports said insurgent forces captured a government outpost only 10 miles southeast of Phnom Penh. The attack was one of several assaults by large Khmer Rouge forces on government positions along the Phnom Penh-Saigon highway.

The reports said many government troops retreated to the capital, and taxicabs were commandeered to ferry the government wounded.

In Vientiane, the Laotian government announced that it will seek the immediate reactivation of the International Control Commission because of a rash of Pathet Lao cease-fire violations.

AFTER YEAR OF BOOMING INFLATION, SHORTAGES Americans Facing Year Of Recession

SEN. SAM J. ERVIN JR.

Senator Ervin Will Retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., retiring from the Senate after two decades, says this year of Watergate has been a disaster from which the country will recover, but President Nixon may not.

The 77-year-old Senate Watergate committee chairman, a Harvard Law School graduate who made a national television audience smile knowingly when he described himself as "just an old country lawyer," said Wednesday he'd finally met an opponent he could not master — his own advancing age.

Ervin said he works harder than most senators of any age and has no doubt he could win another six-year term. He said he cannot ignore the fact he would be 84 at the end of it, however.

TAKES TOLL

"Since time takes a constantly accelerating toll of those of us who live many years, it is simply not reasonable for me to assume that my eyes will remain undimmed and my natural force stay unabated for so long a time," he said.

As Ervin was telling North Carolina reporters about his six-month struggle to resolve what he called "the hardest problem which has ever confronted me," Watergate committee lawyers were delivering three subpoenas to the White House. They ordered the President to produce 481 White House tape recordings and hundreds of documents relating to all aspects of the Watergate probe.

That move, made possible by a new law drafted by Ervin himself, was a clear signal that the Senate's Watergate investigation is not over.

Gas Crisis In Alamo City

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — San Antonio is skirting the "ragged edge" of a natural gas disaster, City Public Service officials declared today.

Two severe curtailments in the first blast of cold weather Wednesday left the utility taking drastic emergency steps to assure enough gas through the night.

Officials also renewed a plea for massive energy conservation to avoid widespread gas shutoffs that could plunge local business and industry into an economic freeze.

The crisis began Wednesday late when CPS was notified by Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. that the city's gas supply was being reduced from 286 million cubic feet per day to 263 million cubic feet.

Some of the city's electrical generators were converted to fuel oil to ease the gas strain. At 9 p.m., however, Lo-Vaca announced a more severe curtailment taking effect at midnight Wednesday.

That slashed the city's gas supply to 221 million cubic feet. Before the cold weather hit, the city used 250 million cubic feet per day.

The latest curtailment left CPS worried whether there was enough gas to meet overnight heating needs. By midnight, all the city's electrical generators were burning fuel oil at the rate of 18,000 barrels per day.

Despite emergency steps, CPS warned the amount of gas delivered was barely enough to supply basic needs. They warned that further curtailments would force the utility to shut off gas to businesses and industry in the city. This step would be taken to assure an adequate supply of natural gas for homes and other "human need" users.

all the documents "because the public has the right to know the truth of what they may contain."

Ervin said he will have to make judgments on the President's Watergate role when his committee makes its final report. Because of that, he said, he might disqualify himself from voting on whether or not the President should be convicted if the matter is brought to the Senate while he is still a member.

He was asked specifically if he believes the President is one of those he feels will not recover.

Ervin said that what he called the President's failure to immediately respond to the Watergate burglary "has been disastrous for him."

GO FISHING

The evidence available to the committee does not show Nixon had any foreknowledge of the July 1972 break-in into Democratic headquarters, he said.

But, he said, he cannot accept that Nixon did not immediately ask his political subordinates how it occurred that the five burglars had $53,000 in Nixon campaign funds in their pockets when arrested.

What the country needs now, he said, "is some speedy trials and some speedy punishment inflicted on the people who perpetrated this fearful tragedy on the American people."

After 50 years in public life, retirement will come when someone else is elected to his seat in the 1974 elections and sworn in. Ervin said the first thing he wants to do is go fishing.

No Doubt Pinch Coming To Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The effects of the energy pinch in Texas are not yet measurable, says the Texas Bureau of Business Research, but there's no doubt the pinch is coming.

"It is already clear that some of the economic indicators are due for a sharp break when November and December figures become available," said Robert H. Ryan, editor of Texas Business Review.

WEST TEXAS WOES

"The term 'energy crisis' tends to sound encouragingly short in range and easy of solution. Texans, however, are already coming to the realization that the current emergency is actually the beginning of an energy revolution," Ryan said.

"Texas, more heavily energy-oriented than most other parts of the nation, is especially vulnerable to fuel shortages in a number of ways. First of all, the very size of Texas and the wide scatter of its cities . . . make Texans unusually dependent on long-line transportation. Many West Texans live 50 miles or more from their customary trading centers. For that matter, Texas industrial and population nodes are unusually far removed from cities elsewhere in the country; that factor is actually the underlying justification for the giant new Dallas-Fort Worth airport."

Ryan said that although other states, notably California, had more automobiles registered than Texas, not one state approaches Texas in highway mileage. Texas has one-20th of a mile of highway for every car, compared to one-50th of a mile for New York.

HEAVY BURDEN

"The Texas climate, too, places a heavy burden on energy supplies," said Ryan.

"Houston has long been advertised as the world's most fully air-conditioned city. The truth is, the Texas climate might be

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a year of booming inflation and shortages of many key commodities, the U.S. economy heads into 1974 facing more of the same — and the real threat of a recession as well.

Even the Nixon administration, not known for pessimism in economic matters, says the economy could dip dangerously close to recession in the first half of 1974 with unemployment possibly rising to around 6 per cent.

Some private economists and businessmen have issued far gloomier forecasts.

Just how bad 1974's economic woes will be, however, depended on how long the oil-producing Arab nations continue their cutoff of oil exports to the United States.

UNCERTAINTY

Another major uncertainty was whether the government could handle the fuel shortage well enough to keep industry running without major disruptions while ending wasteful consumption of gasoline and other fuels.

There appeared to be no end to the shortages plaguing the economy, from fuel to food to basic materials. Prices were poised to go in only one direction — up.

Despite the 1974 prospects, it appeared Americans were looking at their economic situation more realistically than they had in years. It was in 1973 that they learned the nation no longer had things in abundance.

It was just under a year ago that President Nixon, in his annual economic message to Congress, saw potentially great things for the economy in 1973 if federal spending was held under control.

MARVEL OF WORLD

It was, and inflation still went through the roof.

His Council of Economic Advisors, writing in the same report, said, "By the end of 1972, the American anti-inflation policy had become the marvel of the rest of the world."

Then in 1973 consumer prices rocketed upward at an annual rate of 8 per cent during the year, with food prices soaring by 20 per cent. No one had foreseen the worst inflation since the Korean War.

It all started with Phase 3. Early in January, the administration decided to abandon its mandatory system of wage-price controls, or Phase 2, for a largely voluntary system in which businesses and unions were expected to keep their wages and prices in line with government guidelines.

The decision sent the stock market in a tailspin. Prices and wages soon began to explode. Speculators began a run on the dollar overseas. The U.S. currency couldn't withstand the pressure and was formally devalued Feb. 10.

The Cost of Living Council, the agency enforcing wage-price controls, blamed the surge in inflation on short food supplies and on booming world commodity prices.

By March, the U.S. economic situation had deteriorated so much that even the newly devalued dollar couldn't stand up under pressure. Finally, the United States and leading industrial nations gave up trying to maintain fixed exchange rates for the world's major currencies.

After that, the dollar sank lower in value, making many U.S. goods a bargain. Foreign nations began purchasing agricultural products in greater volume, increasing the U.S. shortages and pushing up domestic prices.

WHEAT DEAL

The Russian wheat deal contributed in large part to the great 1973 price surge. The Soviet Union purchased much more grain than U.S. officials thought it would, creating widespread shortages of grain for bread and for feeding animals.

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz said frankly the Nixon administration got burned in the wheat deal and promised it wouldn't happen again.

Steeped in worries over Watergate, President Nixon moved in mid-June to try to stop the rocketing inflation, freezing prices for 60 days. He didn't apply the freeze to wages, explaining that wage increases had been moderate. They had, remaining just a little over the 5.5 per cent government standard.

It was the second time Nixon had resorted to a freeze to try to buy time to put a more effective anti-inflation policy into effect.

But the second freeze didn't enjoy the same public support as the first. Because the retail prices of all agricultural products were frozen, producers found that it was not profitable to put beef and poultry on the market. Some drowned baby chicks. Beef was withheld from the market.

Nixon released the food and health industries from the price freeze in mid-July but kept the lid on beef prices and across the rest of the economy until mid-August.

FREEZE

He replaced the freeze with a tough anti-inflation policy, in some cases squeezing the profits of industry by refusing to allow them to pass along their costs. Still, Phase 4 as it was called, failed to restrain inflation, as world prices of many commodities went up sharply.

Despite an official disenchantment with wage-price controls, the administration held to them tightly, fearing that letting them go would lead to an explosion in prices.

The Federal Reserve Board tried to give the anti-inflation policy a boost, holding to a tight-money policy that pushed up interest rates to record levels throughout the nation.

The impact of this policy was felt immediately in the housing industry which had expected a good year. Instead, it faced a severe downturn.

Despite all its troubles, the economy rolled along at a high rate of growth, and in fact came dangerously close to overheating.

Had not the shortages of many basic materials struck in 1973, the economy might have expanded at a greater rate and pushed prices even higher.

The fuel shortages, surprisingly enough, worked to give the dollar a big boost near the end of the year. Analysts explained that while the United States was in bad shape because of fuel shortages, European nations and Japan were in worse shape.

CALMER

The monetary crises of early 1973 eased after most major nations agreed to abandon most fixed exchange rates for their currencies.

The calmer atmosphere caused leading industrial nations to postpone for another year reform of the international monetary system and a return to fixed exchange rates.

Domestically, the Nixon administration also faced some major decisions as the new year arrived.

The Economic Stabilization Act, under which wage-price controls were established, expires at the end of April.

With the gasoline shortage expected to get worse, there were tough decisions ahead on how to manage the shortage without rationing.

Donrey Media Veep Selected

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Robert N. Ordonez has been named vice president of the Donrey Media group's broadcast division responsible for the operations of Donrey broadcast stations in Nevada, Texas and Arkansas.

Fred W. Smith, executive vice president and chief operating officer of Donrey, made the announcement Wednesday.

Ordonez has served as vice president and general manager of KORK-TV here for more than two years and will continue in that capacity in addition to his new duties.

A native Californian, Ordonez owned and operated radio stations before joining Donrey in 1968 as vice president and general manager of KORK and KORK-FM here. He served as vice president and general manager at KFSA-TV, a Donrey station at Fort Smith, Ark., before returning to Las Vegas.

Ordonez will oversee the operations of seven Donrey broadcast stations. Donrey owns 48 newspapers, broadcast stations and outdoor advertising companies in 10 states.

something of a handicap without air conditioning. Texas school and college administrators are already considering how best to concentrate their instructional programs during the cold months, for they usually need less energy for winter heating than for summer air conditioning."

Ryan pointed out that some of the state's most important manufacturing activities were developed to take advantage of plentiful and economical supplies of oil and gas. Oil refining employs about 35,000 workers, and chemical plants more than 60,000. Refiners of metals have big payrolls.

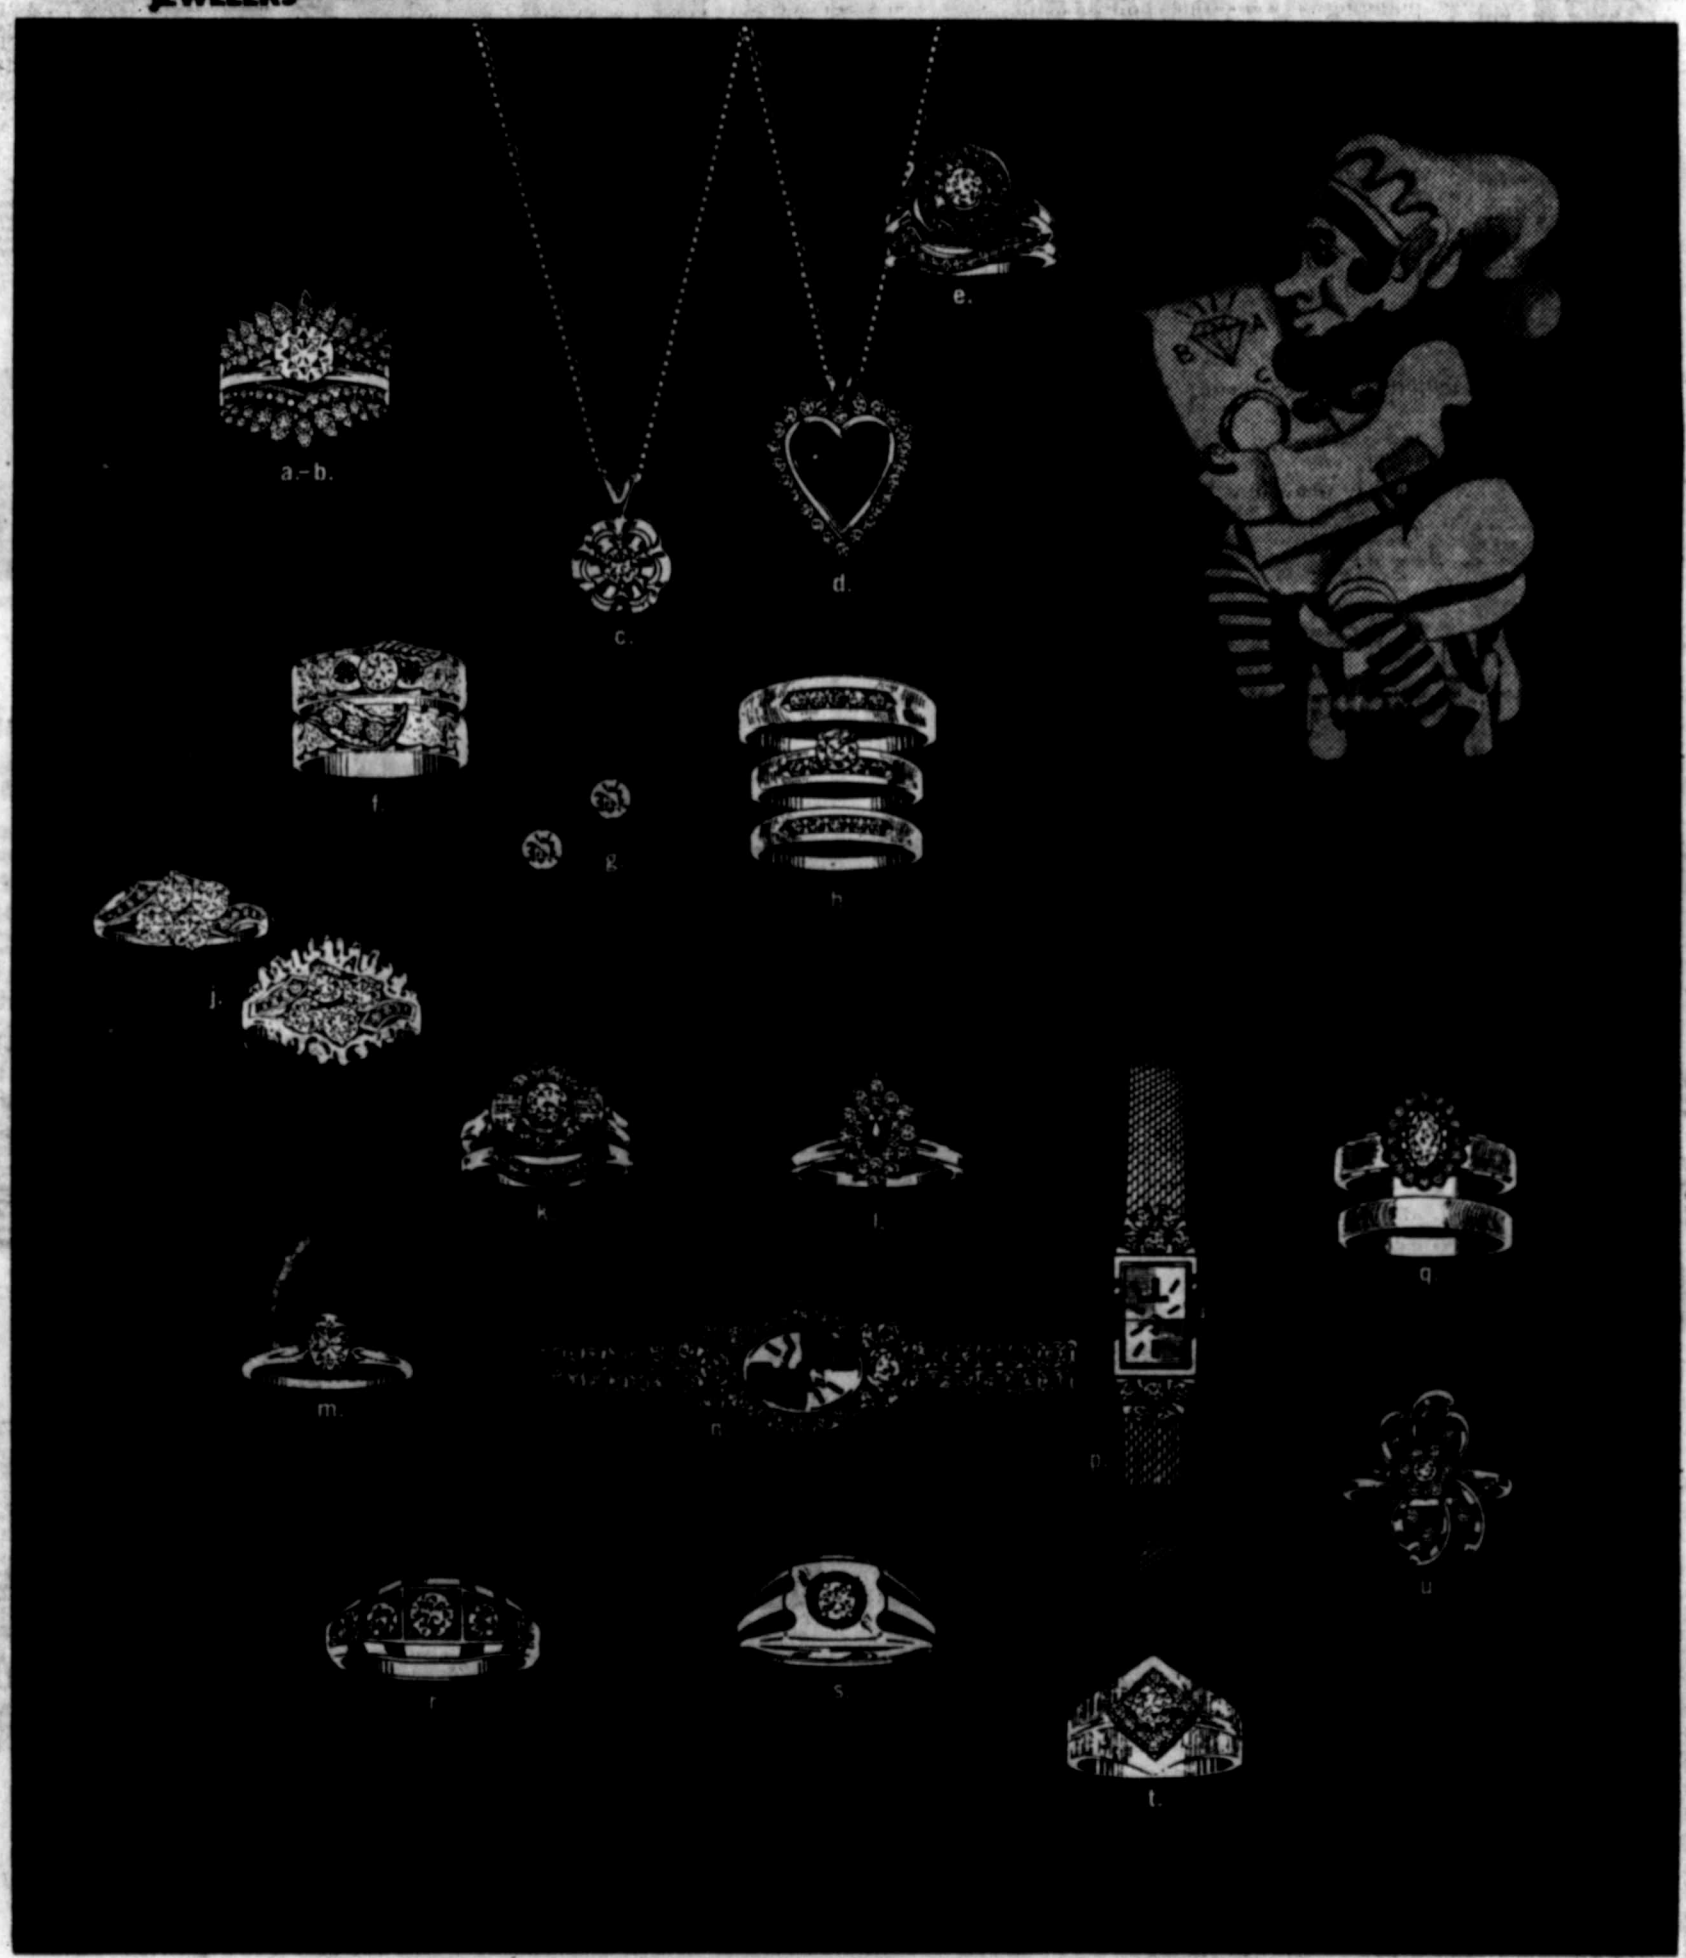

"Cutbacks in these energy-hungry industries will be disproportionately damaging to the Texas economy," Ryan said, "for their workers are among the highest paid in the state."

GET TO WORK

Ryan said that in the consumer sector of the state's economy, "particular apprehension is being felt in some suburban shopping malls, with vast spaces to be lighted and air-conditioned or heated and with vast parking lots that betoken heavy dependence on private automobile transportation. With scarcity of motor fuel discouraging private driving, the convergence of public transit routes upon central business districts may help resuscitate downtown retailing."

"Texas, then, will be faced in 1974 with a set of economic problems at least qualitatively different from any encountered before. How to get workers to work, hot to get shoppers to stores, how and where to build new homes and industrial structures, all in a context of shortages and dislocations; these represent a set of challenges that will certainly help make the coming year an interesting time," Ryan said.

Film Views Pollution

"A Land Betrayed", a documentary on the pollution of a land by the American people, was shown at the Men's Garden Club meeting Tuesday evening at the U.S. Experiment Station.

New officers elected in the meeting were Edward Cruz, president; Bob Butler, vice president; and Bill Sneed, secretary-treasurer.

Members discussed the upcoming Ladies Night and installation of officers to be held at 6:30 p.m., Jan. 15, at Furr's Cafeteria.

Veterans Will Receive Gifts

Plans were made to distribute gifts to "adopted" veterans staying at Mountain View Nursing Inn at Tuesday's meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Following the business meeting, a Christmas party, highlighted by the exchange of gifts, was held. Punch and cake were served.

Guests included Mrs. Davis Thomas and Mrs. Janet Whitehead.

The next meeting takes place in the Legion Hall Jan. 1.

Recordings Tell Christmas Story

Christmas story recordings were heard and gifts exchanged by members of the Lees Home Demonstration Club in their Christmas party held in the home of Mrs. Harry McMillan, Sterling City Rd., Tuesday afternoon.

Smart Shopper

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A lady professor came out with the statement that it is silly to teach arithmetic because now we have calculators to do the job. She says she takes one to the grocery store with her.

While grocery shopping this morning, I picked up a three-pound package of pork chops at 69 cents a pound, marked $2.97. If I hadn't known that 3 times 70 equals $2.10, I might have paid it.

When I pointed it out to the check-out girl, she said: "Oh that crazy machine isn't working right again!"

Please tell people not to put too much confidence in machines. If they do, they're sure to get cypnd.

M. L. IN GENEVA, OHIO
DEAR M. L.: Good thinking! The truism, "If you don't use it, you'll lose it," applies to the brain, too.

DEAR ABBY: May I answer that 45-year-old woman who survived breast cancer, and inquired about the possibility of having plastic surgery to replace the amputated breast, but she didn't want to appear "vain or silly"?

I had a breast removed, and later had reconstructive plastic surgery to make me "whole" again, and I can't tell you how much it did for my morale.

I am 50, and believe me, I'm no sexpot, and I also had a very understanding husband who tried to make me feel that I was still as beautiful and desirable as ever — regardless, but I had the operation for myself. I would encourage any woman who wants this type of surgery and is able to have it. Mine was done by Dr. Shattuck Hartwell of the Cleveland Clinic, and he was marvelous.

WHOLE AGAIN: I think it's important to add that not all women who had breast amputations are candidates for this type of surgery, but thank you for encouraging those who can.

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever heard of the superstition, "Three times a bridesmaid, never a bride"? I have been a bridesmaid twice and am now engaged to be married next July. A girl friend of mine, who is being married in March has asked me to be a bridesmaid at her wedding, and I want to accept, but this superstition keeps coming to mind.

Everyone I've mentioned it to says I am foolish to let something like a superstition bother me, but if something happened to prevent my being a bride, I would never forgive myself. Frankly, being a bride is far more important to me than being a bridesmaid for a third time. What do you think I should do?

CAUGHT TWO BOUQUETS
DEAR CAUGHT: Feeling as you do, decline the invitation to be a bridesmaid.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WAITING FOR MY SHIP TO COME IN IN TUCSON": And if it came in, would you know how to navigate it?

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69706, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," sent $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 1st Ave., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212.

Versatones To Play At BSP Ball

The Valentine Ball committee of Alpha Kappa Omicron, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Wayne Stroup, 2302 Roberts.

The dance is slated Feb. 16, 1974, in the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center beginning at 9 p.m. Tickets can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Clay LaRochelle, 263-4490. Advance-tickets will be $6 a couple and tickets at the door will be $7.50 per couple.

Entertainment will be provided by the Versatones.

The sorority's next meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m., Jan. 8, in the home of Mrs. LaRochelle.

Children's Party Slated Saturday

Mrs. E. J. Adcock, noble grand, presided at a meeting of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 in a Tuesday evening meeting at the IOOF Hall.

Plans were made to assist the Odd Fellows with a children's Christmas party at the IOOF Hall at 6 p.m., Saturday evening. "Santa" will be present with gifts and refreshments for the youngsters.

Members of the lodge are putting together baskets of food to be distributed to area families Thursday.

Black-eyed peas and corn-bread will be served at midnight following an evening of games and other activities for members and their families at the IOOF Hall New Year's Day.

Ladies League To Deliver Dolls

Members of the Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army Citadel exchanged gifts at a Christmas dinner held Tuesday evening at Furr's Cafeteria.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Ella Morrell.

It was announced that dolls, provided by the Salvation Army and dressed by home economics students at Big Spring High School, are ready to be distributed, along with other toys, to children in this area.

'A Different Woman' Views Changed Attitudes, Actions

By EVE SHARBUTT
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Jane Howard says she thinks of herself as a moderate feminist, but that wasn't always her view.

"I used to be hesitant," the former magazine writer said in an interview. "I'd say, 'They're so strident, so shrill.' But today I'd certainly cast my weight on the side of the militant rather than the timid feminists. I admire them. The substance of their work is more important than their style. Excessive anger is not the most unforgivable quality."

Miss Howard's change of attitude accompanied a two-year investigation into the lives of women in the United States. She has woven results of her interviews with Chicano women in Tucson and West Virginia craftswomen into a book, "A Different Woman," which is a portrait of women and what is on their minds.

"There's a strange new climate in America and women are permitted to be angry, distastefully angry. I found that tastefulness is not as important as many of us used to think."

"After talking with women, I'm convinced the feminist movement isn't transient. There was not a household I visited which was unaware of the phrase 'male chauvinist pig.' There are real changes going on in the fabric of women's lives," Miss Howard said.

A native of Illinois, the writer lives in New York. A tall woman with brownish-blond hair, she wears glasses and seems unpretentious about her work.

"The idea of writing a book seemed vague and amorphous to me. Then the death of my mother and the realization that the women's movement was other than a transient joke came as a coincidence of public and private situations that made me think I wanted to write a book about women, not as a hack journalist, but with some sort of personal concern."

"Our mothers are the last generation to be sure of themselves, have no doubts about what they are, who they are. We will never be as defined as they were," she added.

Miss Howard did not intend to write so personal a book.

"I had no notion it would be as revelatory as it is. The editor sort of evoked that out of me, always asking what was going on in my life at that time, who I was traveling with, who I saw. I was reluctant to agree because it meant talking about real people."

"My mother, with whom I never really communicated, was dead and it is possible to speak with more equanimity about the dead than the living. So I changed the names of friends, created composites and scrambled everybody up, rather like fiction. I don't think I've heard the last of that so far, from

Lorin McDowells Are Party Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. Lorin McDowell III were hosts for a Christmas party in their home Saturday evening for members of the 1970 Hyperion Club and their husbands.

Humorous gifts were exchanged, and those attending provided hors d'oeuvres.

Black magic and witchcraft will be the topics of discussion when the club meets at 9:15 a.m., Jan. 8 in the home of Mrs. Tom Locke.

the friends. "In balance, I resent people who think I've written some sort of autobiography. I'm not ready for that," Miss Howard said.

The book, she added, gave her a license to be as nosy as she had always wanted to be about other people's lives.

"I did not realize how very open people would be. I think nobody listens to anybody. People were often stunned to find somebody paying total attention to them. When they had promised 20 minutes of their time they would extend it for an hour or so, or for an evening," Miss Howard added.

The book was written over a six month period described by the author as "like riding a wave."

"You have to keep going, get with it and see it through," she said.

Her next project will be something different, specific and in depth.

"Reporters seldom seem to get to see things in depth because of deadlines, and as one grows older, it is more painful to confront that fact," she said.

LIVING ROOMS THAT AREN'T IDEAL?

Don't be upset if your living room is not ideally shaped or proportioned. Many people have the same problem — but there are things you can do decoratively to help the situation.

For instance, let's say you have a room that is shaped too square. You can do several things to improve its looks. For one thing you can get furniture that has long, horizontal lines. You might try a long, low cabinet. This will tend to lengthen the room visually.

For a room that's too long — and not intimate enough — you can shorten the room visually by concentrating on the wall that's farthest from the entrance to the room. On that wall you could use a bright color or a pattern to make the wall "come forward" and make the room seem more intimate. In such a room you might also want to break it up by creating several separate areas, with furniture arranged in two or more groupings.

Remember that no matter what your decorating problem is, we can help with both ideas and a fine selection. Come on in and look around.

A LOVELIER YOU 'Ease Off', Before Tension Takes Toll

By MARY SUE MILLER

Seen on a movie location: It was just before the "take" of a big scene that the picture's lovely star flopped over rag-doll fashion and swung her arms from side to side like a pendulum. She then had a necessary touch-up to her hair and costume.

Why did she go through those last-minute gyrations, do you suppose? She was taking a fast out of the relief of tense nerves and muscles. Many a similar routine has been passed along through this column.

For a star, a relaxed approach is basic to a successful performance. Tension exacts a toll of the facial expression, the voice's quality, and the body's grace. Tension makes you feel miserable, too, and lowers your efficiency. You then can become fatigued to the point of collapse. And that's no condition to be in at this busy season.

Every Lovely, in the public eye or not, should take steps to allay tension. Many doctors recommend outdoor exercise, such as a brisk walk. A leisurely bath and a nap are helpful to some people. Few of us can drop our duties to indulge in those relief measures. And here's where relaxing tricks, like the rag doll swing, come to the rescue.

Another good one is: Stretch out flat on floor and stiffen every muscle, slowly in turn, from toes to forehead. Now go limp — suddenly. Repeat three times; now rest in a limp state for five minutes. Then up and at 'em!

FINISH WORK ON LOWERED SPEED LIMIT

Legislators May Adjourn Tonight

AUSTIN (AP) — House members debated the Senate-passed speed limit reduction bill today with a good chance of sending the gasoline-saving measure to Gov. Dolph Briscoe's desk by nightfall.

SUSPENDED

They quickly suspended a rule giving them the right to 24 hours to study the measures approved Wednesday night by the House Transportation Committee.

The bill, as approved by committee, would allow the Texas Highway Commission to reduce the present 70 miles per hour limit to meet a serious fuel shortage or to avoid cancellation of the state's federal highway money, $240 million a year.

But a reduction could not take effect until the governor had made his own independent finding that it was necessary to save scarce gasoline and diesel fuel or to avoid loss of federal highway funds.

Unless the next regular legislative session extended it, the commission's authority to cut speeds—except for safety rea-

League Survey Cites Racial Discrimination

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston League of Women Voters has released a survey it says shows racial discrimination more than half of the 78 Houston apartment complexes included in the poll.

"The findings of this survey suggest that much remains to be done in bringing Houston into compliance with the fair housing section of the Civil Rights Act of 1968," said Mrs. Laura Keever, president of the Houston league.

Forms of discrimination discovered in the survey, the league said, included rental agreements, leases, deposits and "other ploys such as steering minority tenants to internally segregated sections of the apartment complex."

Wolf On Guard

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — Burglars would be wise to take Neil Wackerle's motorcycle shop off their lists of nice places to burgle.

He said he has a wolf to guard his shop, which has been hit by burglars six times this year.

Wackerle said he bought the wolf, born in captivity, for $35 from a friend. It replaces Wackerle's German shepherd, which turned out to be more of a watcher than a watchdog.

sons—would expire April 1, 1975.

ROAD FUND

Briscoe called the legislature into special session Tuesday after receiving word that Congress was about to pass a bill requiring the states to lower their maximum speed limits to 55 m.p.h. Failure to do so would result in impoundment of a state's highway aid money.

The congressional bill has not been finally passed, however.

In other legislative action Wednesday, the House refused, 63-49, to increase their individual staff salary allotments by $400 a month during the Texas Constitutional Convention.

Legislators will be the delegates to the convention, which starts Jan. 8.

"It is true that we are going to have a central staff during the convention but the central staff won't answer my mail and it won't answer yours," said Rep. Sarah Weddington, D-Austin.

Baylor Tackle Faces Dope Rap

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Coy Zunker, junior defensive tackle for Baylor, has been charged with possessing various illegal drugs following a state police raid in nearby Westlake Hills.

Six other men and two women were apprehended with Zunker.

A spokesman for the Department of Public Safety said agents seized 15 pounds of marijuana and one-quarter gram of suspected cocaine.

proposal to raise the salary allotments. House members now get $1,225 per month for staff salaries and can also use part of their regular $875 monthly expense accounts for salaries. Ms. Weddington pointed out that senators have authorized themselves $5,000 a month during the convention for staff.

Ex-Solon Dies

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — Prentiss M. Brown Sr., 84, a former U.S. senator and congressman who was regarded as the father of the Mackinac Bridge connecting Michigan's two peninsulas, died Wednesday. He once was suggested as a possible vice-presidential running mate for President Franklin D. Roosevelt, but declined.

NORTH RIVERSIDE, Ill. (AP) — John Lowe offered $5 to three teen-agers who helped him push his car out of a snowdrift, but it wasn't enough.

"Never mind the five, we'll take it all," said one youth, grabbing Lowe's wallet. A second youth pushed him down in the snow.

Police said the wallet, minus about $30, was recovered in a parking lot where a suburban couple later said they were robbed, apparently by the same three youths.

'TRIED THEIR BEST TO TREAT ME VERY NICE'

Says Viet Cong Bound Him With Rope And Chains

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — An American civilian held for 2½ months by the Viet Cong said today he was bound with ropes or chains for the first six weeks. He was moved to eight or 10 different locations, sometimes within 1,000 feet of air and artillery strikes.

Mekong Delta. He said he ate what the Viet Cong ate including their coffee and whisky.

"They tried their best to treat me very nice," he said. "They tried to prove that I was an adviser or something to the Saigon forces or to the South Vietnamese army units, or something of this nature."

Every night, for the first 25 days approximately, I was tied by the arms. Then we were moved to another location and they put an iron bar with a hoist type thing around my ankles for a couple of days. They removed that and put a chain lock around my ankle to keep me from escaping for approximately seven or eight more days. And they took that off and I didn't have anything for the past month at all to tie me up."

Elm is a security officer for Pacific Architects and Engineers, an American firm that provides logistic services to the four-nation International Commission of Control and Supervision. He and two South Vietnamese employees of the firm were seized while driving a Dodge pickup truck with ICCS markings after dark on Oct. 6.

"I was travelling on Highway 4," Elms said, "and as far as we knew at that particular time, it was under the control of the South Vietnamese forces . . . front seat and started yelling out: 'Hold it! Hold it! American!'"

Three Dog Night' Banned From BYU

PROVO, Utah (AP) — The rock music group "Three Dog Night" has been banned—at least temporarily—from Brigham Young University's campus, probably along with many other rock groups.

The move by the administration of the nation's largest church supported university was said to have been prompted by a recent antirock speech by a general authority of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon), which operates the school.

Three Dog Night was scheduled to appear at BYU next March, but "administration and social office feelings" have resulted in cancellation, student government officials said Thursday.

The rock group was voted most popular in a recent student poll at BYU, which has 25,000 students.

"We want to make sure that we don't bring a group to BYU that will lower the school's standards," said Mark Alexander, student social office director. "We have conditions with the church which we have to meet."

Alexander said a recent talk by Mormon Elder Boyd Packer regarding rock music resulted in closer scrutiny of groups brought to BYU.

"In light of Elder Packer's talk, we are taking a closer look at groups we are booking, and we're making sure we are in harmony with church standards. The administration wants to be sure that we're in line with what the general authorities say. Our office and the administration try to work together to decide who comes and who doesn't come," Alexander said.

In the past, rock groups and stars were asked not to smoke or drink while at BYU, but stiff dress and grooming standards were saved, he said.

Finders Get 'Tire' Cash

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa. (AP) — The children of Eugene and Mary Jane Pawlikowski have received an early Christmas present, but they won't be able to look at it for quite a while.

A hearing in Westmoreland County Common Pleas Court, they were awarded nearly $10,000, plus an undetermined amount in partly destroyed currency that they found in an old tire nearly a year ago.

The money was turned over at once to a banker to set up a trust fund for their education.

"They were slightly disappointed they couldn't spend some of it right away," Mrs. Pawlikowski said. "But we had to turn it over to the bank."

She said the youngsters—William, 13; Michael, 11; Robert, 9; and Eileen, 7—found the tire in the summer of 1972.

"They played with it for around. Then they threw it on a round. Then they threw it on a fire while they were skating last winter."

The money apparently was caked under layers of mud, and some of it fluttered loose as the tire burned. Some of the bills were partly destroyed before the fire could be doused.

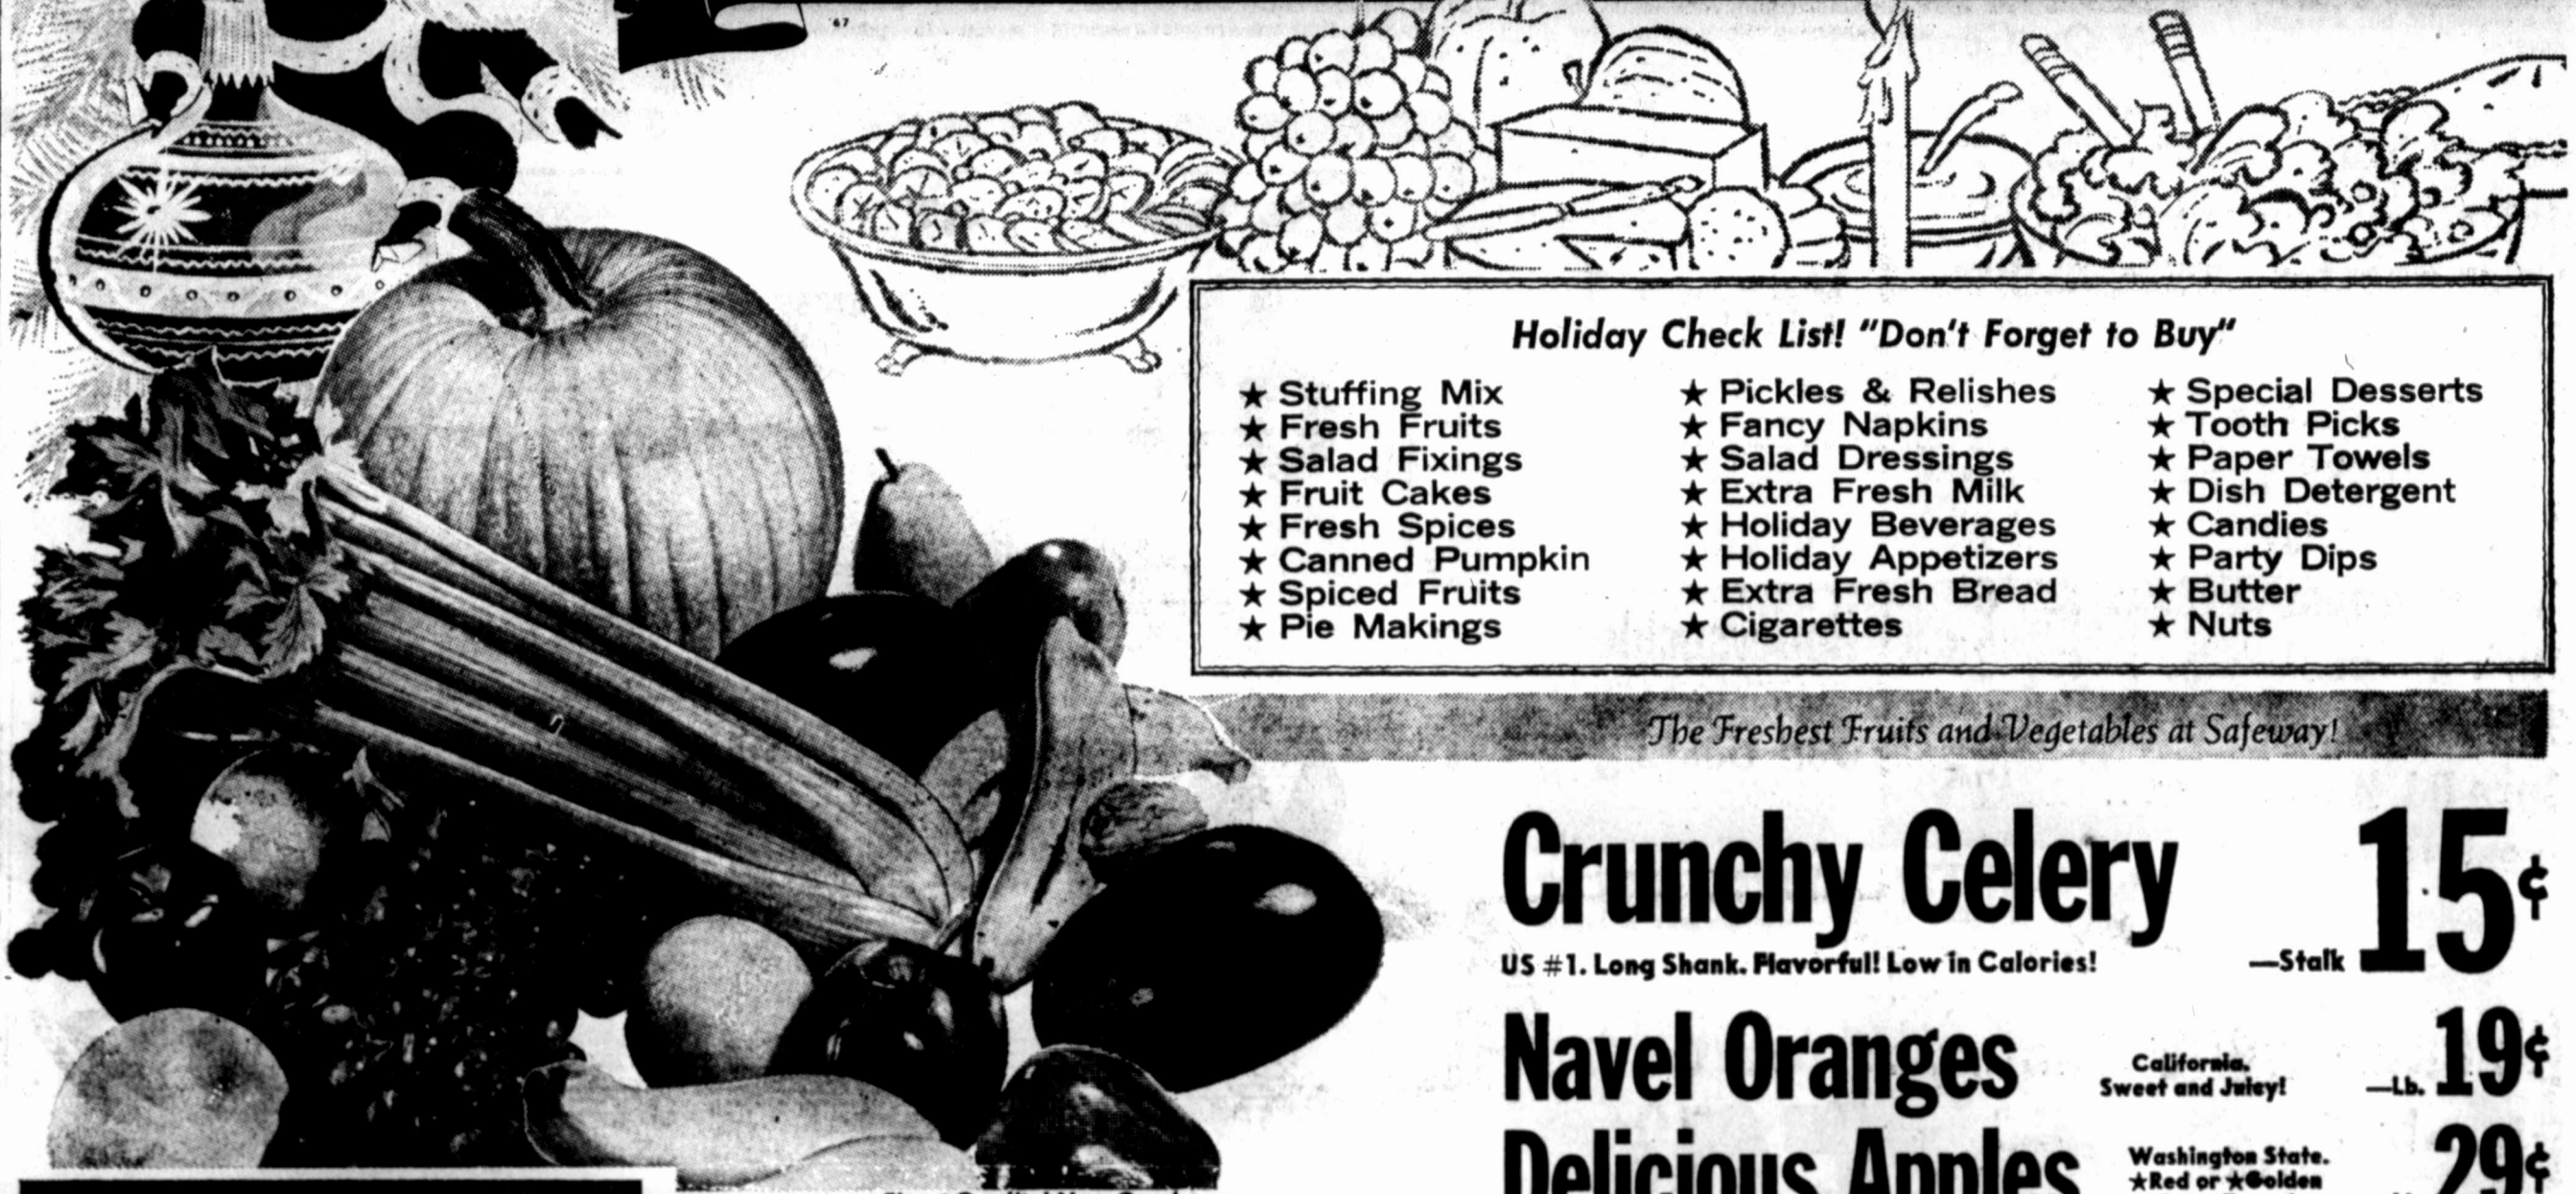

Mrs. Pawlikowski said the damaged bills were sent to the U.S. Treasury Department to determine what could be salvaged. She didn't know the value of the burned bills but guessed it would be considerably less than $10,000.

In awarding the money to the children, Judge Robert H. Rial dismissed a claim by Frank Mullins, a neighbor of the Pawlikowski's, who said the money should have been his because the tire was found on his property.

Carried Gospel To Sharecroppers

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Rev. Mary E. Silver, 116, who first carried the Gospel to North Carolina sharecroppers in the mid-1800s, died Wednesday. "Mother Silver" began preaching at age 7 and would quote from the Psalm 91 when asked about her age: "With long life will I satisfy Him and show Him my salvation."

COST WOULD RUN UP TO HALF A MILLION DOLLARS Connally Brothers Asking State To Build Road

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — John Connally and his brother Wayne want the state to build a right-of-way for the 8.3-mile road, costing up to half a million dollars, that would open their Lake Amistad ranch for real estate development. They and their partner, Houston pipeline company executive Cary Crutcher, say they will donate all but a mile of the right-of-way for the road and build a public boat ramp at the end of it. F.E. Whitehead Jr., has pledged the other mile of right-of-way. Val Verde County commissioners, the superintendent of the federal recreation area at the lake and the Del Rio Chamber of Commerce endorse the project. Lake Amistad is on the Rio Grande northwest of Del Rio. State Highway Department engineers estimate construction costs at $360,000 if the road crosses the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks or $495,000 if the tracks are bridged for safety. Value of the right-of-way and boat ramp are estimated at no more than $121,234. State Highway Engineer B.L. DeBerry said that a representative of the Connallys—he said he couldn't remember the name—called and asked the procedure for initiating a road project. "We told him the county had to initiate it," DeBerry said. Wayne Connally, a former lieutenant governor last year, attended the three-man Texas Highway Commission's hearing on the proposal Nov. 19 but did not testify. "We haven't had any communication, direct or indirect, from them since then," DeBerry said. "We're writing a good many letters from people who fish there or live in Del Rio." Wayne Connally said in an interview that the partners bought the 10,434.78-acre ranch, which he said has 8 1/2 miles of shoreline, from Mr. and Mrs. Pat Rose of Del Rio in July. Connally confirmed that his partners were Crutcher and John Connally, former Texas governor, U.S. Treasury secretary and potential GOP presidential nominee. The purchase from the Roses, an elderly couple, was in the name of Wayne Connally and Associates.

The Del Rio News-Herald reported courthouse records indicate the price was $1,576,956 or $151 an acre.

But Rose told a reporter this was "not accurate" and referred all questions to the Connally group.

"They told me to be careful about that. I'll let them tell you. They asked me not to. I'm sorry," Rose said.

Wayne Connally said the group paid $200 an acre, or $2,066,956, with the Roses agreeing to a time-payment plan.

"We're not fools. We are not going to tie up with a short term note. You've got to have 20 or 25 years on a deal like this. . . . The sale of land out of the tract will pay for it. That is our hope," Wayne Connally said.

He said no firm plans have been made but his group hopes to join forces with an experienced developer and envision a combined residential and recreational area.

"I believe there will be a lot of people from out of state who would be looking for that kind of an area for retirement", he said.

Connally stressed the road's importance to the development plans. "We have got to have public access and a marina. These come first. But until we have them, we have no other plans," he said.

The road would extend from U.S. 90 about five miles southeast of Comstock to the Cow Creek area of the lake.

Val Verde County Commissioner L. D. Whitehead, a first cousin of the man who is donating a mile of the right-of-way, said Wayne Connally asked the commissioners court to request the road.

Whitehead said, however, that he had been talking with the National Park Service for six years about opening up that area of the lake.

"Our attitude was it didn't make any difference if it was Connally or Joe Smith. We wanted the area open. . . . They came in at the right time. They were the first group of people who came in and pursued it vigorously," Whitehead said.

Supt. Coleman Newman of the federal recreational area recommended construction of the road at the highway commission hearing because "there's over 70 miles of reservoir there without public access" and federal funds are in short supply.

He said there would be no charge for using the boat ramp which the Connally group has promised to build.

The National Park Service controls the Lake Amistad shoreline up to flood stage on the U.S. side. This means the Connally group would not have unrestricted rights to develop the water front.

A marina could be built only after obtaining a concession from the National Park Service. Competitive bidding is required and the government gets 1 1/2 per cent of the gross.

"But if they give the right-of-way, then no one else can give a right-of-way in there, so they would probably get the marina," Newman said at the highway commission hearing.

Highway department engineers estimate the Connally group's share of the right-of-way would total 106.17 acres. At $200 an acre, that would be $21,234 worth of land.

Newman indicated the boat ramp's cost after saying he had told the land would be divided into tracts and sold "to make ends meet."

"You know, you don't get an individual to put down $100,000 for a boat ramp, parking and utilities without some means of getting it back, so I assume that would be their approach to the problem," Newman testified.

Prospects for getting the road are uncertain. The commission recently indicated it would go slow for a while on approving new projects because of uncertainty resulting from inflation and the fuel shortage.

And there apparently are some doubts about the wisdom of spending tax dollars on the project.

Commission Chairman Reagan Houston of San Antonio asked a number of questions about the boat ramp and marina, then told Newman: "I'm sure you appreciate the thrust of these questions. It's a very ticklish matter, of course, when we build eight miles of road through something involving a private development."

Personal Income Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The personal income of Americans from all sources increased eight 10ths of one per cent in November, the Commerce Department reported today.

It said income increased by $8.7 billion during the month to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $1,076 billion.

The increase was down slightly from the October increase of $9 billion. The increase for the first 11 months of the year has been 10.2 per cent, compared with 8.6 per cent last month.

Personal income is the income received by all persons from all sources, including wages and salaries, rents and profits.

The November increase shows that the rate of income growth has been slowing gradually in recent months.

Manufacturing payrolls showed slower growth in November, with an increase of $1.4 billion compared to the October gain of $1.7 billion. Payrolls in the transportation industry declined during the month, but most other industries gained with the biggest increases in machinery, food, and the primary and fabricated metals industry, the Commerce Department said.

One factor in the November increase was a raise in pay for federal government workers, which pushed federal payrolls up by $400 million.

10 GALLONS Will Limit Gas Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration plans to ask gasoline stations to limit their sales to 10 gallons per customer, members of Congress say.

At the same time, other developments forecast higher prices for consumers purchasing gasoline and home heating oil.

The congressmen, members of a conference committee working on an emergency energy bill, said federal energy chief William E. Simon would announce the voluntary limit on gasoline sales at a news conference today. They commented after meeting with Simon Wednesday night.

HIGHER PRICES
The conferees completed action Wednesday night on the emergency energy bill, which carries the threat of a presidential veto. The Senate is expected to take up the bill today and House action is predicted by Friday.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., a member of the conferees committee, said the proposed 10-gallon limit is designed to work in conjunction with Sunday gasoline station closings to limit long weekend drives.

GAS STOPS
But under the plan motorists will be able to stop for 10 gallons as often as they like, the congressmen said.

The 10-gallon limit could be made mandatory for both motorists and service stations if the emergency energy bill is signed into law. The bill would give the administration authority to impose a mandatory gasoline rationing program.

Meanwhile, the administration took action that will result in another 2.3-cent-a-gallon increase in prices for both gasoline and home heating oil. The higher prices will result from a 23 per cent increase granted by the Cost of Living Council in the price ceiling on domestic crude oil.

The action will push the retail after-tax price of gasoline to an average of 44.6 cents per gallon, compared to 37.2 cents last Jan. 10. The price for home heating oil will go to 30.7 cents, up from last January's average of 19.4 cents.

In another development Wednesday, President Nixon announced a tax proposal to eliminate any windfall profits oil producers might reap because of the fuel shortage.

The proposal would tax crude oil by progressively higher amounts as prices continue to rise, up to a maximum of 85 per cent.

The congressional conferees stripped a controversial anti-pollution amendment and a ban on petroleum exports to Indochina from the combined Senate-House versions of the energy legislation.

They reached agreement on waivers to the 1971 Clean Air Act that would delay automobile-exhaust clean-up by at least one year and a statutory emission-control requirement for up to seven years.

Members of Nixon's congressional liaison staff told legislators the President would veto the measure in its present form. One aide said, "That bill is in deep trouble" because the compromise doesn't give Nixon enough power.

The bill would allow Congress to repeal fuel saving measures within 15 legislative days.

Simon denied he was carrying a veto threat to the conferees in his Wednesday night meeting with them. He said he merely wanted to negotiate.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., called Simon's visit a "pressure tactic" and insisted that he meet with conferees in a side room rather than the main committee room.

FOR EMPLOYEE INSURANCE City's Annual Cost Nears $50,000

By JOHN EDWARDS
Blue Cross-Blue Shield won a two-year contract for city employees group life and medical coverage Wednesday afternoon.

City contributions for this coverage will total about $50,000 yearly under the new contract, Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, estimated later.

Decorative Christmas CANDLES
From $3 To $10
PARK HILL TERRACE
Apt. 7 Dial 263-7049

HEALTH, LIFE
This includes $5,000 for life insurance. The total amount will exceed the comparable amount spent this year by about $12,000, City Manager Harry Nagel said.

Monthly cost for each of approximately 240 employees will be $14.89. The city pays the cost of covering an employee plus the fee for $2,000 in life insurance, $1.74.

Employees with one dependent for whom they want medical coverage will pay the difference between $13.15 and the next highest rate, $17.04.

City workers may insure two or more dependents by paying an additional $16.23.

American Amicable, Union Central and Blue Cross were the only firms which submitted bids conforming to specifications.

"I would think that for the benefits of the employees that Blue Cross would be the best policy," Anderson commented.

In all three categories of medical coverage — employee only, employee with one dependent insured and employee with two or more — Blue Cross rates were lowest of the three.

Continental Assurance Company, the present insurer of city employees life and health, has been losing money, Don Withers, Irving, told the council.

WORST PROBLEMS
"One of the worst problems that a city can have is to continually change insurance carriers," Withers commented.

Under the proposal CAC presented, the one-year contract could be increased at the end of six months.

The agent handling Blue Cross policies for city employees will be Mike Wooley, San Angelo. He said he visits Big Spring frequently.

A decision to indefinitely adjourn the Community Action Council approved earlier by the council was entered into the minute of the request of Mayor Pro Tem Eddie Acri.

Councilwoman Mrs. Floyd Mays was absent.

Cotton Sampling Is Leveling Off

Cotton sample receipts for the Pecos Territory continued at moderate levels this week. The USDA Classing Office in Pecos closed 6,968 for the week ending Dec. 14, according to Max Medcalf, in charge. The season's total now stands at 46,307 compared to 56,550 for the same period last year. Grade 41 was predominant with 45 per cent of the classings. Grade 31 made up 25 per cent. Staple 34 continued predominant with 39 per cent. Staples 33 and 32 made up 34 per cent, and staples 31 through 29, 22 per cent. Mike readings showed 50 per cent in the 3.5-4.9 range. Breaking strength of fibers as determined on the Pressley zero gage averaged 80,000 psi for the week and 81,000 psi for the season.

Prices were up again this week. In El Paso, grade 31 staple 36 was quoted at 86 cents per pound on Dec. 13. Farmers received $100-$116 per ton for cottonseed.

Definitely Not Women's Libber

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — "I'm a lawyer because it's the work I wanted to do—not because of women's liberation or because I'm trying to climb some sort of mountain."
That's a new Wichita Falls woman attorney, Sue Lindley speaking.
Though she's not deliberately trying to climb mountains, Mrs. Lindley, a native of Washington, D.C., already has reached the top of a few—getting into law school, being a U.S. assistant attorney and practicing with a private firm.

FIRST WISH

Mrs. Lindley joined the Wichita Falls firm of Schenk, Westbrook, Smith and Douglas last March after a career with the Justice Department in Washington.

She did undergraduate work in Georgetown University School of Foreign Service with hopes of joining the executive branch of a private firm in Spain. Prejudice toward women in business in Spain discouraged her so she went to work for an aerospace firm in Washington.

But her first wish was to study law—a holdover from her lifestyle. Her father is a retired attorney and other family members are lawyers. Eventually she chose the University of Texas School of Law because she wanted to "come west and find out what people were like in this part of the country."

EVIDENCE

According to the evidence, she liked the country and the people well: She married a fellow law student, George W. Lindley.

Before marrying him, though, and after law school she began working for the U.S. attorney's office in Washington where she handled prosecution cases for federal crimes.

After marriage she continued to work in Washington, commuting to Oklahoma City where her husband was law clerk with the U.S. Court of Appeals 10th Circuit. She managed a transfer to Oklahoma City as assistant U.S. attorney. Later her husband joined the firm of Sullivan and Sullivan in Duncan, Okla., where they now live. She chose commuting from Duncan to Wichita Falls to work because she does not have a license to practice in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Lindley says she has not encountered prejudice toward her as a woman in a field predominately male.

"I certainly did not find any difficulty when working with the Justice Department and in practicing law now and it did not hinder my acceptance into law school.

ONLY HITCH

"Ironically, the only hitch I've run into came from a woman client who objected to my handling her case because I'm a woman."

Sue works because she is trained for it and is definitely bored being around the house all day.

"I am definitely not a women's libber. I think these women are going about it in the wrong way and I think the equal rights amendment can have adverse effect on laws that protect women," she said.

"Women are different from men and should be treated that way."
On her work, she has some interesting comments: "Law is never routine. No two cases are alike. I like dealing with people, their problems and their emotions. I like courtroom work best."

Electric Rate Boost

AUSTIN (AP) — The City Council has voted 4-3 to raise electric rates 17.8 per cent across-the-board Jan. 1, a $5.34 jump for the family that has paid a $30 per month bill.

It is the first across-the-board rate increase in the 65-year history of the city-owned electric utility system.

Voters in November approved a huge revenue bond issue to finance new coal and oil generating plants as well as participation in a nuclear power plant.

Gas supplies to the existing generators have been curtailed repeatedly by Lo-Vaca Gathering Co., and substitute fuel oil is in short supply.

Ask Congress To Boost Oil Depletion Allowage

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Senate has voted to ask Congress to restore the oil depletion allowance to 27.5 per cent as one way of dealing with the fuel shortage.

OIL INCOME

Several years ago Congress passed the controversial allowance, which represents a deduction from oil companies' taxable oil income, of 22 per cent.

Senators also included in the resolution a request that Congress eliminate price controls on equipment needed to produce oil and gas and temporarily suspend auto emission controls in some areas.

The resolution was approved 22-8.

Sen. Peyton McKnight, D-Texas, an independent oilman, sponsored the resolution and said the only cure for the energy crisis would be for the federal government to "turn the oil industry loose to answer only to the law of supply and demand."

ENERGY CRUNCH

"The blame for the energy shortage cannot be laid altogether at the doorsteps of the oil industry," McKnight said. "There are some members of the Congress and some bureaucrats who still insist there is no energy crisis—actually, these people would not know the difference between an oil derrick and a string of drill pipe—but all of a sudden they are experts on energy—overnight." In regard to the environment, McKnight said, "We can't create heaven on earth in one generation, and we can't throw away our industrial might and the jobs of millions of people because of environmental controls that go too far, too fast."

ATTENTION

McKnight accepted two amendments by Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston. One would eliminate the depletion allowance on foreign oil production, and the other specified that former Texas Railroad Commission chairman Ernest Thompson—had no other commissioners—had attempted to call public attention to the limitations of natural resources since the 1950s.

Thompson was replaced on the commission in 1965 by Byron Tunnell, and has since died.

In some ways, bridge resembles prospecting. The bleakest exteriors can conceal untold wealth.

South's jump to four hearts was fully in keeping with modern theory. Though two-bids in a suit are still forcing, the bidding can stop short of game if opener can do no more than rebid his suit at the three-level over responder's denial—provided responder is absolutely broke. South needed so little for game that he decided he would not take the chance that North might pass a rebid of three hearts.

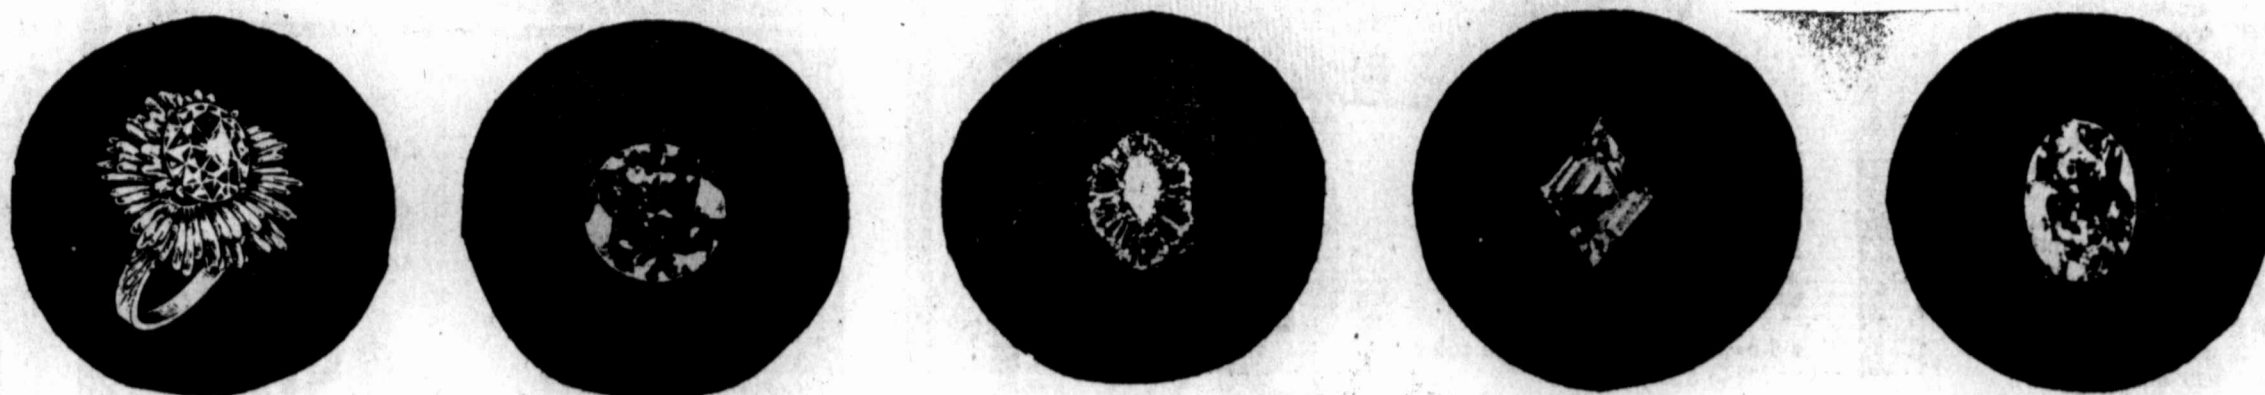

The defenders started with the king and ace of clubs.

South ruffed the second club and surveyed his prospects. He would have to lose two diamond tricks, so the outcome of the hand seemed to depend on a successful spade finesse. Dummy's ten of hearts would be the entry for a spade lead. As the reader can see, this line would have failed.

Though dummy appeared to offer no hope of a trick, declarer realized that he could give himself an extra chance. If the diamonds divided evenly, the table's fourth diamond could be established. For this line to succeed, the ten of hearts had to be kept in dummy as an entry.

Accordingly, declarer drew only one round of trumps and then played ace of diamonds and another. East won and returned a trump in an effort to remove dummy's entry, but declarer won in his hand and led another diamond. The suit divided 3-3, and dummy's seven was established for a spade discard, with the ten of hearts still in dummy for entry purposes.

An even split in diamonds is against the odds, but South lost nothing by first trying this line. Had he been unable to set up the dummy's long diamond, he could still have ruffed to the heart ten to take the spade finesse.

Spotted Cotton Is Showing Up

The USDA, Abilene Cotton Classing Office graded 48,500 cotton samples during the week ending Dec. 15, bringing the seasonal total to 382,600 samples. B. B. Manly estimated that 70 per cent of the crop has been graded.

Quality statistics indicated a trend to lower grades and shorter staple lengths. Grades were 82 per cent white, and 64 per cent light-spotted during the past week; as compared to 40 per cent white and 57 per cent light-spotted during the previous week.

Staple lengths were little changed during the past week at 45 per cent staple 30 or shorter, and 53 per cent staple 31 or longer. Two weeks ago staple lengths were 30 per cent staple 30 or shorter, and 69 per cent staple 31 or longer.

Micronaire distributions have been relatively consistent the past few weeks. This past week 88 per cent were within the desirable 3.5 to 4.9 range.

Cotton prices reported to the Agricultural Marketing Service were steady to advanced by 200 points early last week. Later in the week prices declined by 100 points in some areas. Strict low middling or higher grade, white and light spotted cotton ranged from 3300 to 4800 points over government loan prices, depending on staple length. Grades 42 and higher with staple length 29 were 3300 to 3700 points over loan rates. High grade, staple 30 cotton ranged from 3600 to 4000 points above the loan, and staple 31 cotton ranged from 4000 to 4500 points over loan rates.

INTRODUCING THE STEERS

One of the top defensive players on the Big Spring Steer basketball squad this season is Albo Smith, a speedy 5-10 senior guard.

"Albo is a good shooter and a good ball handler," said Steer coach Ron Plumlee. "He's a strong competitor, and he likes to win."

Smith, 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Smith of the Northcrest Apartments. He'll be wearing No. 24 when the Steers return to action next week in the Berger Tournament.

'Dr. J' Helps Nets In Rally Past Colonels

By The Associated Press

At the start of the fourth period of Wednesday night's American Basketball Association game, Coach Kevin Loughery of the New York Nets asked if there was a doctor in the house and who should step forward but Julius "Dr. J" Erving.

When the good doctor had finished operating on the Kentucky Colonels to the tune of 16 fourth-quarter points, the Nets had rallied for an 83-82 triumph that left them in a virtual tie with Kentucky for second place in the East Division, one game behind the Carolina Cougars.

Elsewhere, Carolina trounced the Memphis Tams 111-90, the Indiana Pacers whipped the Utah Stars 104-88, the San Antonio Spurs beat the Virginia Squires 107-100 and the San Diego Conquistadors conquered the Denver Rockets 118-113.

In the medical world, Erving was taken to task for the euthanasia by which he exterminated the Colonels, including a decisive foul line jump shot with 22 seconds left in the basketball world, though, it was expected. It also was the Nets' 12th triumph in their last 13 games.

Erving paced all scorers with 30 points while teammate Larry Kenon had 22 rebounds. Louie Dampier topped the Colonels with 22 points and Dan Issel added 18. Kentucky's Ron Thomas missed an uncontested layup with 12 seconds remaining that would have given the Colonels the lead.

Cougars 111, Tams 90
Tom Owens scored 22 points and pulled down 18 rebounds, to help send Memphis to its 12th straight loss. Carolina controlled the game from the outset and had an 81-63 lead after three periods.

Pacers 104, Stars 88
George McGinnis tallied 15 of his game-high 31 points in the first quarter and cut Utah's lead in the West Division to two points over San Antonio.

Spurs 107, Squires 100
San Antonio, led by rookie Swen Nater's 25 points, rallied in the final quarter. Rich Jones added 19 points and reserve Bird Averitt had 18, enabling the Spurs to pull away in the final period and score their fourth consecutive victory.

Conquistadors 118, Rockets 113
Stew Johnson scored 13 of his game-high 28 points in the fourth quarter for San Diego.

Pistons Make Notes Of Things Done Right

By The Associated Press

Many teams hold meetings before a game to discuss what they've been doing wrong.

The Detroit Pistons held a meeting following Wednesday night's 89-87 National Basketball Association triumph over the Chicago Bulls to remember what they'd been doing right.

"There were things we had to talk about," explained Coach Ray Scott. "We wanted to do it right away while things were fresh in our minds."

Elsewhere, the Atlanta Hawks nipped the New York Knicks 107-105, the Kansas City-Omaha Kings drubbed the Cleveland Cavaliers 106-92, the Seattle SuperSonics shaded the Houston Rockets 124-118 in overtime and the Philadelphia 76ers edged the Portland Trail Blazers 101-98.

Bob Lanier led Detroit over Chicago with 30 points while Dave Bing contributed 18. Bob Love paced the Bulls with 27 points, but they still became the eighth team to be held under 100 points in the Pistons' last nine games.

Jim Washington broke a tie with four points in the closing minutes, putting Atlanta within 1 1/2 games of the first-place Capital Bullets in the Central Division. The loss broke the Knicks' five-game winning streak.

Kings 106, Cavaliers 92
Veteran Don Kojis scored 24 points for Kansas City-Omaha while Nate Williams and Jimmy Walker added 23 and 20, respectively.

Sonics 124, Rockets 118
Fred Brown scored two baskets and two free throws in the final 1:40 of overtime, rallying Seattle and handing Houston its fifth straight setback.

76ers 101, Trail Blazers 98
An outside shot by Leroy Ellis with 42 seconds remaining insured Philadelphia's victory and overshadowed an NBA career-high 44 points by the losers' Charlie Scott.

American Basketball Association scores: San Antonio 107, Virginia 100; Carolina 111, Memphis 90; New York 83, Kentucky 82; Indiana 104, Utah 88; Denver 118, San Diego 113.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Guest columnist today is Don Stevens, girls basketball coach at Forsan, although he doesn't know about it. Stevens took a trip to Mexico last summer to coach a clinic there, and he wrote an account of his stay for the November issue of the Texas High School Girls Coaches Association newsletter. If it's all right, we just sort of borrow it

"Nationalism in Mexico today is one of its most driving forces. This nationalistic movement is not based on militarism. It is based on sports. The Mexican government and people are 'sports crazy' and are using this vehicle to unify the country toward a common goal — respectability in international sports.

"Basketball is the fastest growing sport in Mexico today, gaining in popularity each year and closing in on the No. 1 sport, football (soccer).

"Olympic Program: Clinics in Mexico City were held at the Mexican Federation of Sports Olympic Sports City, which is operated and financed by the government. Five thousand athletes training in 28 sports are housed and supported here in a fantastic complex that exhibits nothing but the best in equipment and uniforms. There seems to be no limit to budgets pertaining to athletics.

"In working with the Women's Olympic Basketball Team, I came to these conclusions: They are among the most dedicated athletes in the world; their physical training is so stern that they are in superb physical condition; they are very eager, with great attitudes; they are weak on basic fundamentals and are poor shooters; and all in all, they spend too much time on trivial aspects of the game.

"The Coaching Profession in Mexico: They are only three or four professional (paid) basketball coaches in all of Mexico. They are well-known, highly respected and instantly recognized wherever they go. They are, in fact, national heroes.

"I was told that the No. 1 basketball coach in Mexico today is the girls' olympic coach, Senor Alvarez. All other teams throughout the nation are coached by interested individuals at their own expense. As a result, young doctors, lawyers and other professional people are heavily involved in coaching because they love the challenge and can afford it. It is also a status symbol.

"Vera Cruz and Orizaba: After a few days of the glamor and resplendent ceremony of Mexico City, people in other parts of Mexico soon became aware that basketball coaches were available in the country and began to demand that their area be included in the program. Seven coaches, including high school and college coaches, were then sent to various cities in Central Mexico.

"It was my good fortune to be sent to Vera Cruz, later to Orizaba, back to Vera Cruz, and eventually back to Mexico City.

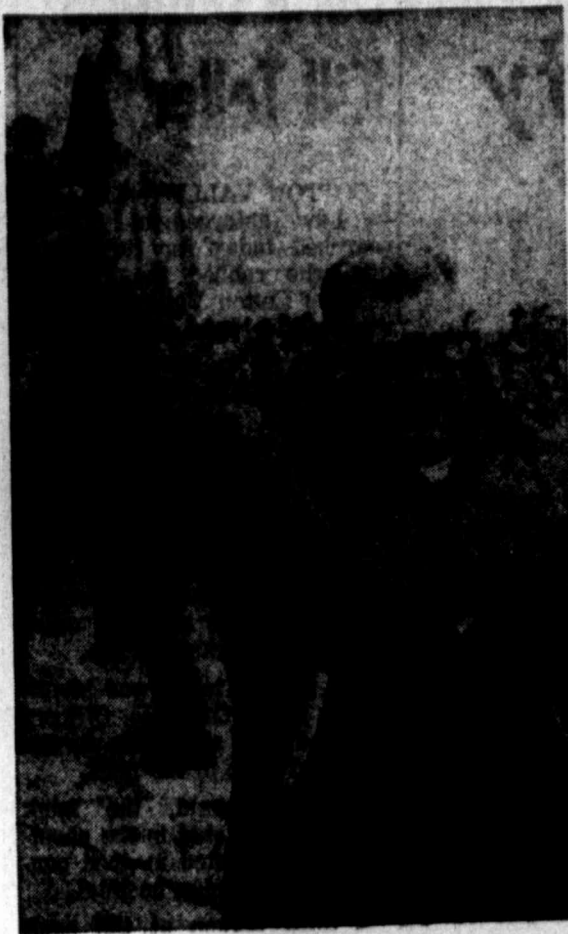

"Getting away from the metropolitan atmosphere of Mexico City and to the real Mexican flavor of coastal Vera Cruz and mountainous Orizaba proved to be the highlight of the trip. The red carpet treatment preceded every move and the eagerness to learn was obvious by the milling, questioning crowd after each lecture or basketball demonstration.

"It soon became evident that the main weakness of the basketball program on local levels was lack of organization and an almost complete lack of the use of drills with which to teach fundamentals and phases of offense and defense. Most of their time was spent in scrimmage sessions because this was more fun to both the players and coaches.

"Every team in Mexico runs the zone defense at present, but they are showing an expressed interest in changing and learning the basics of individual and team man-to-man defense.

"This 'working vacation' was most rewarding and enlightening. My wife and I made many friends everywhere we went. The graciousness and hospitality of the Mexican government and its people are beyond description. Gifts, awards, honorary degrees, and guided tours awaited us at every turn.

"But, when all was said and done, it was very good to get back to my Forsan girls where they pivot on their toes instead of their heels."

A WEEKEND OF MOODS — Sunday was a time of mixed emotions in the National Football League as records were set, coaches were canned and there was the usual assortment of winners and losers. Waving his last hoorah at left is New York Jets coach Weeb Eubank, who coached his last game before retiring. Jets quarterback Joe Namath, at right, reflects the outcome of that finale — his team lost to the Buffalo Bills, 34-13. But in the dressing room opposite the Jets, the Bills were celebrating the performance of O. J. Simpson, (second from left), who became the first player in NFL history to rush for 2,000 yards. Things weren't so pleasant in New Haven, Conn., where fired New York Giants' head coach Alex Webster looks toward the future as the clock ticks away the final seconds of his final game as Giants' coach. His team lost to Minnesota, 31-7.

Dolphins Offer 12 AFC Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — The Miami Dolphins, who won more games than any American Football Conference team in the 1973 season, also won more berths — 12 — on the AFC Pro Bowl squad, announced Wednesday.

Over-all, the four AFC playoff teams dominate the squad, with 28 of the 40 players. Along with the 12 from East Division champion Miami, the West titlists, the Oakland Raiders, have seven, Pittsburgh's wild-card Steelers have six and the Central champion Cincinnati Bengals have three, including wide receiver Isaac Curtis, one of the three rookies to make the team. The other first-year players are kicking specialist Ray Guy of Oakland and kicker Greg Pruitt of Cleveland.

The conference's 13 head coaches voted for the players who will appear in the Jan. 20 game at Kansas City's Arrowhead Stadium. It will start at 1 p.m., CST, and be televised nationally. The coaches were not permitted to vote for any of their own players.

Only the New England Patriots and San Diego Chargers were not represented on the AFC team this year. The American Conference, which won last year's game 33-28 when O.J. Simpson was voted the Most Valuable Player, leads the series 2-1.

Quarterback Bob Griese, but he won't be the starter for the

Howes, Aeros Move Into 1st

The hockey people in Houston must be looking through Aero-colored glasses, but can you blame them?

They bring a 45-year-old man and his two sons, age 18 and 19, down to play hockey in a football-crazed city and look what happens.

Just about the time the college football season ends and the Houston Oilers call it quits, the Aeros move into a first-place tie with Edmonton in the World Hockey Association's Western Division.

"It's about time we got there," said Gordie Howe, sounding as impatient as a kid, after the Aeros grounded the Winnipeg Jets 10-0 Wednesday night. "It feels great."

Elsewhere in the WHA, New England beat Edmonton 4-2 and Minnesota tripped Vancouver 4-2.

In the National Hockey League, Chicago and Buffalo skated to a 2-2 tie; Toronto outscored California 5-3; St. Louis trimmed Los Angeles 3-1 and Minnesota beat Atlanta 4-2.

"I've been there (first place) nine times before, and I know what it's like," said Howe, who starred with the NHL's Detroit Red Wings from 1946 to 1971.

"Now that we've got it, we won't give it up very easily. We've got the stuff to stay on top."

Howe assisted on Houston's first goal at 8:16 of the first period, scored his own goal, No. 7, 11 seconds later and the rout was on.

Howe's son Mark, 18, scored two goals — his 12th and 13th — and so did Don Grierson and Murray Hall.

Whalers 4, Oilers 2 — Tom Webster scored with one second remaining in the second period, and John French added an insurance goal with one second left in the game, carrying the New England Whalers to the victory.

Saints 4, Blazers 2 — Third-period goals by George Morrison and Bill Klatt lifted the Minnesota Fighting Saints to their victory over Vancouver.

North Stars 4, Flames 2 — Murray Oliver, playing in his 1,000th NHL game, led the Minnesota victory with an open-net goal at 19:33 of the third period.

Leafs 5, Seals 3 — Third-period goals by Errol Thompson and Bon Ellis lifted the Toronto Maple Leafs over California.

Sabres 2, Black Hawks 2, tie — Richard Martin's goal at 11:51 of the third period gave the Buffalo Sabres their tie with the Chicago Black Hawks.

ODESSA GRID COACH QUILTS

ODESSA — Odessa High football coach Dick Winder has resigned his position and joined Athletic Supply Inc. of Odessa as a major stockholder.

In three seasons at Odessa, Winder's teams posted an 18-12 record, finishing at 6-4 each season. The past season the Bronchos were among the challengers for the Dist. 5-AAAA title.

"The past three years have been the best of my life and I would like to personally thank you for all the help and cooperation I have received," Winder said in a letter of resignation to the Ector County school Board. His resignation is effective Jan. 15.

Previous winners include Jim Stillwagon of Ohio State in 1971, Walt Patulski of Notre Dame in 1972 and Rich Glover of Nebraska in 1973.

Borgnine Gets Team's Votes

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Actor Ernest Borgnine portrayed the late great football coach Vince Lombardi in a recent television show and now members of his cast have elected him their coach.

The actors are actual football players, members of the Orange County Stars, who played Green Bay Packers players roles in some of the group scenes.

"He looked and acted just like Lombardi, and he booted some of the players hard enough for them to feel it," commented Bob Flowers, who has been both coach and general manager of the Stars. "And Tuesday night the players voted for him to be their coach."

Lombardi Award Finalists Named

HOUSTON (AP) — Ohio State tackle John Hicks, runner-up in the Heisman Trophy voting, teammate Randy Gradisher and Bill Wyman of Texas and Lucious Selmon of Oklahoma have been named finalists for the fourth annual Vince Lombardi Award.

The Lombardi Award, a 45-pound granite trophy symbolizing discipline and sacrifice, is given annually to the nation's outstanding college football lineman.

The winner will be announced Jan. 10 as part of the official events of the Jan. 13 Super Bowl in Rice University Stadium.

'SHE WAS LIKE A ROCK,' SAYS COWBOY QUARTERBACK

Staubach's Season Centered Around Dying Mother

DALLAS (AP) — Roger Staubach returned home from summer training camp and reduced his world to mother, family and football.

The day he arrived from camp, the Dallas Cowboy quarterback sat in the waiting room of a local hospital and wept. He had to tell his mother she had terminal cancer.

"She was more concerned about our family than herself," Staubach recalls. "She was like a rock."

It was the beginning of an emotional time for Staubach who was expected to perform in the pressure pits of the National Football League and yet comfort his dying 62-year-old mother, Elizabeth.

Few fans were aware of Staubach's plight.

"I'd think about her at times in practice and lose total concentration," Staubach says. "I would drive to Arlington (at the hospital) every night after practice. It was particularly tough on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights when we were trying to prepare for the game."

Staubach turned down every demand on his time, losing thousands of dollars in personal appearances.

"I cut everything off," he said. "We didn't go out ... everything was for her, my family and the season."

Staubach, an only child, said his mother had followed his career closely through his school and at the Naval Academy.

"Next to my wife, she was my No. 1 fan," Staubach recalls. "She was tough and independent, particularly after my father died in 1970 ... I always took her for granted ... to see her deteriorate like that bothered me a great deal."

Staubach wondered at times, when the Cowboys sank to a 4-3 record, if his performance was hurting the team.

"I believed we would come back and I didn't think it was my fault ... We were never in a disastrous situation," Staubach says.

Then came the call before the Denver game to report to Coach Tom Landry's office.

"He spent about 15 minutes talking about my mom and then he hit me with the play calling idea," Staubach says. "He says my play calling was good but we hadn't won the close games. Down deep inside he (Landry) knew the situation at home was very critical."

Staubach says, "My wife Marianne told me I was immediately more at ease at home."

But Staubach couldn't always keep his composure.

"I didn't show strength in front of her one night about five weeks ago when we learned she couldn't make any progress ... I broke down in front of her," Staubach remembers. "She comforted me and said we had a good friend in heaven."

The end came on Dec. 13. Services were held in Cincinnati, Ohio, where she was born. Staubach flew to St. Louis after the funeral to lead his team to a National Conference Eastern Division title-clinching 30-3 victory over St. Louis the next day. Staubach threw three touchdowns passes without practicing for two days.

"You know, all she ever wanted was for me to be happy ... She didn't care if I was a starter ... she was like all mothers feeling if I didn't play I wouldn't get hurt. She felt bad for Craig Morton when he had to sit on the bench."

Staubach's eyes grew misty as he thought of his football career without his No. 1 fan.

"I'm going to play as long as I physically can," he said. "I don't have an agent and I couldn't care less about selling my name in the offseason ... That hasn't taken me over ... and I hope it never does."

Cowboy linebacker Lee Roy Jordan says Staubach has earned the respect of every player on the team with his courageous performance this year under trying circumstances. The final NFL regular season statistics showed that Staubach was the No. 1 quarterback.

"Roger is mentally tough ... he did a great job under conditions I don't believe another man could have handled," Jordan says.

Hughes Duo Lifts Badgers Past West Virginia, 69-62

By The Associated Press

Wisconsin Coach John Powell came up with a good hand Wednesday night—two of a kind. It was more than enough to beat West Virginia.

The Hughes twins — Kim and Kerry — teamed for 40 points and 27 rebounds to lead Wisconsin's unheralded and unbeaten Badgers to a 69-62 victory over the Mountaineers.

Kim finished with 22 points and 11 rebounds while Kerry had 18 points and 16 rebounds in Wisconsin's fifth straight victory this year.

In other games Wednesday night, 11th-ranked Long Beach State blasted Cal Poly-Pomona 79-54; No. 14 Arizona edged No. 13 Kansas State 74-72 and No. 18 Syracuse trimmed Penn State 59-55.

ter at 6-foot-11½. Kerry, a forward, is a quarter-inch taller and seven pounds lighter than his look-alike.

They gave West Virginia double trouble in the second half, both controlling the boards and the flow of the game as the Badgers opened a 58-48 margin with seven minutes left.

Kim finished with 22 points and 11 rebounds while Kerry had 18 points and 16 rebounds in Wisconsin's fifth straight victory this year.

In other games Wednesday night, 11th-ranked Long Beach State blasted Cal Poly-Pomona 79-54; No. 14 Arizona edged No. 13 Kansas State 74-72 and No. 18 Syracuse trimmed Penn State 59-55.

Clifton Pondexter scored 26 points to lead Long Beach over Cal Poly-Pomona.

Bob Elliot tossed in a 35-foot jump shot at the buzzer, giving Arizona its tense victory over Kansas State. Trailing by as many as 13 points, Arizona closed in midway through the second half behind Elliott.

Chris Sease scored 12 straight points and rallied Syracuse to victory over Penn State. The Nittany Lions held a five-point lead with seven minutes remaining when Sease went to work.

In other games, Temple ran off 14 straight points late in the first half and went on to beat Rutgers 78-64; a goal-tending call in the final seconds gave Penn's Eddie Stefanski a basket and provided the Quakers with an 84-82 victory over LaSalle; Eddie Palubinskas' 18 points helped Louisiana State beat Tulane 67-60 and Glenn Price had 20 rebounds and 16 points to lead St. Bonaventure to an easy 92-67 victory over previously-unbeaten Baltimore University.

Also, Virginia Commonwealth beat Texas A&M 72-71 with the aid of Bernard Harris' jump shot with 1:17 remaining; George Rautins scored 22 points to lead Niagara over Minnesota 78-65 and Oral Roberts trounced Hayward State 88-62 with an overwhelming advantage in rebounding.

Explains Salt Replacement

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A University of Arizona graduate student claims his new desalting method could open up 97 per cent of unuseable surface water for human use.

Anthony B. Muller, a graduate assistant in the hydrology department, calls his process "salt replacement."

It works by separating the salt from water in an osmosis process, he said.

Muller explained salt water is placed on one side of a thin membrane and a sugar water solution on the other.

The sugar water drains salt water through the membrane, leaving behind a salty brine for disposal. The sugar then is removed from the liquid on the other side of the membrane, leaving fresh water.

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — E.J. "Ted" Crosby, 73, brother of entertainer Bing Crosby, died Wednesday.

Airlines Could Have Empty Seats On Holiday Flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's airlines say they could have empty seats on almost all their flights this Christmas season — even on those flights they say are now sold out.

The empty seats are expected despite a predicted record number of air travelers and cutbacks in the number of flights being operated because of the fuel shortage.

Main reasons for the vacancies, the carriers say, will be the end of a Trans World Airlines strike and the heavy number of passengers expected to reserve seats but not show up.

EXTRA TRIPS

Most carriers say they will not operate as many extra flights this season as they did last year. United Air Lines, the nation's largest carrier, says, however, it will operate more than 400 extra flights this season, compared with 283 extra flights last year.

United will cut back its flights after Christmas, as all other carriers. United said Wednesday its cutbacks in January will total 188 flights less than originally intended.

TWA says it will have 414 flights over the holidays. Some passengers booked seats on TWA's competitors before TWA operations resumed Wednesday. All carriers say

Enrollment Down By Ten Locally

The big leak at the top continued last week as Big Spring school enrollment declined by 10. There was a loss of 11 in the senior high school, making a net loss of nine for the secondary total of 3,163. Elementary enrollment was steady, being down only one at 3,440. Hospital and homebound enrollment remained at 156, making a total of 6,739, which was three below the same time a year ago.

they expect some of these passengers will switch to TWA now that the strike is over.

No-shows also will empty a number of seats. United says 19 per cent of the people who made reservations on its flights over Thanksgiving holidays never showed up. American Airlines says its no-shows ran 16 per cent during the November holiday period.

HANG LOOSE

Both carriers say they expect about the same number of no-shows during the Christmas period.

"If they (passengers) can hang loose, have the time to go out and stand by for these flights (now booked solid), there's a good chance they'll get a seat," said a United spokesman.

Spokesmen for Eastern Airlines and Allegheny Airlines agreed.

Demand for seats is heaviest on this coming Friday and Saturday, the airlines say, with many of the flights on those two days booked solid. Traffic is expected to be fairly heavy on Sunday and taper off drastically on Monday and Christmas Day.

New Year's air traffic probably will follow the same pattern, the airlines say, with most of the demand on the weekend.

Windbreak Tree Seedlings Ready

Applications for ordering windbreak tree seedlings from the Texas Forest Service nursery to be planted this winter are available now. ## Bank Bandits Kill Teller

COTTON VALLEY, La. (AP) — Law enforcement officers searched today for three bandits who robbed the People's Bank of Cotton Valley, killing a woman teller and wounding the bank manager.

Webster Parish Sheriff O.H. Haynes Jr. said two gunmen held the bank up for $23,000 while a third man waited outside in a blue car.

Roadblocks were set up throughout the parish, which adjoins the Arkansas border. Cotton Valley is about 15 miles south of the Arkansas line.

The woman teller was identified as Hazel Coyle, 55. Officers said she was shot once in the head and once in the neck.

John McDonald, the bank manager, was shot in the shoulder. He was listed in good condition at a Minden hospital.

A third person at the bank was in a back room and was unable to describe what happened, investigators said.

Haynes said the robbers did not enter the vault, apparently obtaining all of the money they took from cash drawers in the teller cages.

'Welfare' For State Bankers

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Sid Bowers, R-Houston, said here the state Treasury's depository board is promoting a welfare system for bankers by not requiring competitive bidding for deposits of state money.

Bowers called upon Gov. Dolph Briscoe to name a panel of distinguished citizens to recommend reforms in state money management practices. He offered to nominate members to the board.

Every state bank gets state deposits upon request, Bowers said. The banks pay only 6 per cent interest on time deposits and reloan the money at more than 9 per cent, he said. No interest is paid on demand deposits. Banks have to put up security for the deposits.

He put most of the blame on "past and current state leadership."

Shorten Time Interval

Texas Utilities — the electric power holding company in North and Central Texas — wants to build a nuclear plant.

Associated Press reports the company last summer sent "60 cubic feet" of paperwork to the Atomic Energy Commission only to be asked for more details. In time the company forwarded "three tons of operating, engineering and environmental studies."

It now takes from eight to 10 years to get a permit and build an atomic plant. Much of this is the "paper stage." In the light of the fuel shortage this should be cut for nuclear power plants are one of the most promising sources in solving the power shortage.

It is understandable that the first atomic plants called for a great amount of planning. It was necessary to plan carefully all individual components as well as the over-all plant.

But after 17 years of experience with commercial nuclear plants — 31 plants operating in the U.S. alone with 60 more under construction and 81 in the blueprint stage — it would seem paperwork could be cut substantially and the time to get a permit lessened. Certainly many parts must be standardized by now.

As far as the components of an atomic power plant are concerned — it shouldn't be necessary to invent the wheel again every time someone builds an automobile.

An Extra Obligation

In Duval County, the knowledge that several county officials haven't paid their property taxes, some of them for years, hasn't created much apparent stir among those charged with collecting those taxes. The county's delinquent tax collector says no special effort will be made in the case of the county officials now delinquent (one hasn't paid his back taxes since the Carter stories were printed).

"I'm not going to treat them any different from anybody else," the delinquent tax collector, M. K. Bercaw of Freer, says.

If the record of representative democracy was a little less cloudy in Duval County, that might be taken as a ringing affirmation of the doctrine of equality under the law. As conditions stand, however, it's best taken with a grain of salt.

There is no valid excuse for someone on the public payroll simply ignoring his tax bill. Those charged with levying taxes, spending tax money or drawing salaries paid by those taxes have a responsibility that transcends that of the average taxpayer — in the Dukedon of Duval as well as elsewhere.

A Close Call

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

"All I want for Christmas are my two front teeth." Remember that old song?

ALL I WANT for Christmas this year is to be here. Suddenly I'm very thankful for that.

Life can change in an instant. I had been extremely worried about how to afford Christmas, what I could give — things of this nature.

And then, while crossing a street, a pickup which loomed up bigger than a freight train, changed my whole outlook.

I've never been a drowning person, so I don't know if you review your entire life while drowning. But I did not review my entire life while that vehicle was bearing down on me.

My thought was "It's going to run over the top of me" and I leaped like a big frog. I almost made it but not quite.

Much pain, two broken vertebrae and a shattered wrist later, I have learned many things.

OLD AND new friends are wonderful. Doctors and nurses are fantastically patient and efficient.

As a comparative newcomer to Big Spring, I think there will come a day when recalling being in the hospital will be a kind of historical status symbol. I made it under the line.

But about Christmas — this year it is wonderful to be here. So is the day Christ was born — or the day we have selected to honor Him. It is good to recall many wonderful Yuletides.

And it is good to be alive for another Christmas season. As Tiny Tim put it, "Merry Christmas and God bless you everyone."

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

What do we really know about angels? I get confused over fictional musings about them and the facts.

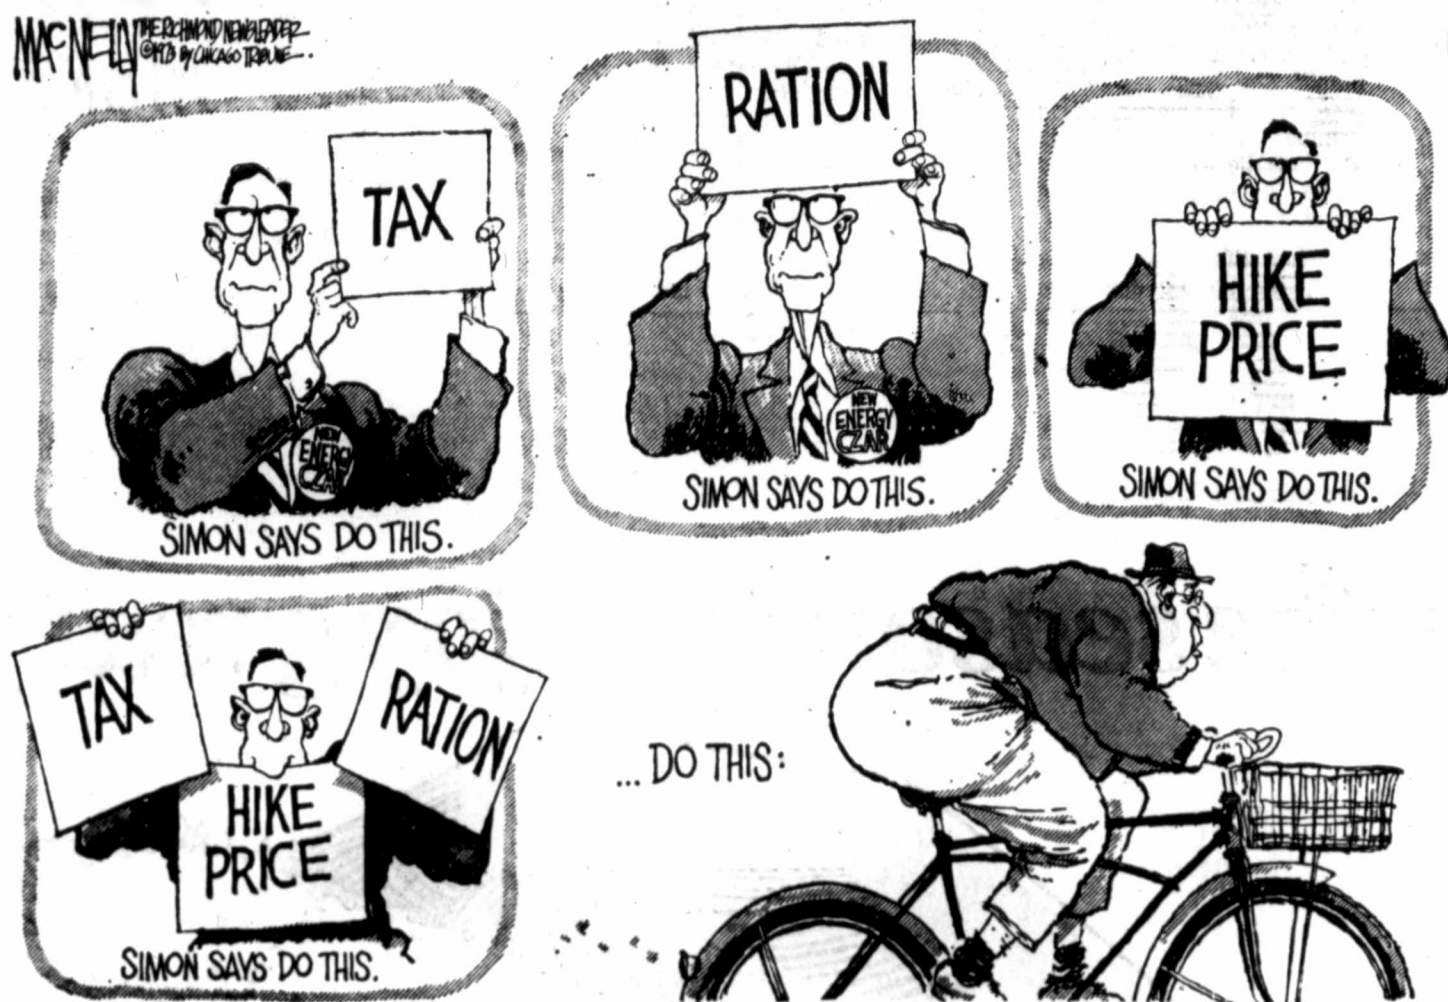

Make no mistake about it! The Bible teaches the existence of an unseen world inhabited by both demons and angels.

Actually, angels are mentioned in the Scripture about 300 times. They apparently belong to an order of supernatural spirit-beings. While they have many things in common, their tasks and duties vary. Luke 9:26 says they are holy beings. 2 Peter 2:11 says they are powerful, and will accompany Christ when He returns (Matthew 25). Hebrews 1:14 gives us an exciting statement about how they help us here on earth.

I think it is unfortunate that one of their functions does not get more notice. It's their assignment (Luke 16) to carry the believer at death to God's presence. What a delight to have that help in the crisis of transition.

Just remember there's nothing scary or contrary to reason in a belief in angels. Rather their supervisory care of God's children should give us a gentle sense of well-being.

You've Got A Bad Job?

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — So you think life gave you a raw deal? You feel that you've got the worst job on earth, and you'd rather be doing anything else than what you're doing now for a living?

Well, hold on there, man. Dry those tears of self-pity. Maybe you're like the fellow in the old Italian motto: "He'd find something to complain about even with a loaf of bread under each arm."

Aren't you overrating your wretchedness? There are lots and lots of jobs worse than the one you have. For example—

Swivel chair duster in the Pentagon.

Bartender at a WCTU convention.

Dogcatcher in Boys' Town.

Light Bulb replacer in Times Square.

Clerk in the complaint department of hell.

Stand-in for a department store window dummy.

Street corner Santa Claus the day after Christmas.

Tuba player for a Salvation Army band.

Official taster for a cod liver Masseur in a reducing salon for fat middle-aged career women.

The 1976 presidential campaign manager for Harold Stassen.

Business manager for a 257-pound lady wrestling champion with a short temper.

Baggagecarrier for a barbell salesman.

A door-to-door peddler in February in a village of Eskimo igloos.

Delivery boy for an ice cube firm in the Sahara.

Obstetrician in a sultan's harem.

Official football pumper up-oil factory.

Voice teacher for Tarzan of the Apes.

Social secretary for Jack The Ripper.

Wig fitter for Phyllis Diller.

Bikini maker for Mama Cass.

Toll collector at the River Styx.

Cheerleader for another "brush fire" war.

Nose wiper for a herd of elephants with head colds.

Pediatrician for the old lady who lived in a shoe.

The Cop-Out Plea

William F. Buckley Jr.

On a recent occasion Sen. Lowell Weicker, in a highly public situation, said that he could not express himself on the question of whether President Nixon should be impeached for one simple reason. Namely, that if it should happen that Mr. Nixon were impeached, he would then need to be tried. And among those who tried him would be — the same Lowell weicker.

THIS EXCUSE is very appealing, and has been widely used, among others, by the junior senator from New York, Mr. James Buckley. I find while not doubting the sincerity of those who use it, nor the inconveniences they are thereby spared.

The publisher of the providence Journal-Bulletin recently complained readers continue to believe that the word "impeach" is the equivalent of the word "convict." Of course it is whether the proceedings before the House of Representatives, and those before the Senate, have exact judicial counterparts. The answer to that is: they have judicial counterparts, but they are not exact.

LOOSELY SPEAKING, the impeachment proceeding can be likened to the proceedings conducted before a Grand Jury. There the question is asked: is there a prima facie case against the accused, sufficient to justify a formal trial before a petit jury? Grand jury proceedings are conducted in secret. That is, they were conducted in secret in what we might call the pre-Elsberg age. The idea was that the grand jury should feel free to hear all kinds of testimony, including hearsay. But that those about whom that jury bears testimony should not suffer the public obloquy resulting from testimony given under rules that do not provide the protections to which a defendant is legally entitled at a trial.

TRANSPOSING THE two processes to the Congress, it is loosely speaking the job of the House of Representatives to decide whether there is enough evidence to suggest that an impeachable offense has been committed. It is then, of course, up to the Senate to make the determination — at sessions presided over by the Chief Justice of the United States.

Now when they talk about the difficulty of having a fair trial, of say, John Dean III, they are saying this: hat testimony about John Dean must be received by the jury with reference to the rules governing the admissibility of evidence.

THIS MEANS, roughly speaking, that no juror who sat and listened to John Dean during the several days that he dominated United States television is qualified. When Archibald Cox pleaded with Sen. Ervin last summer to cancel his hearings or at least to hold them in private, he made specifically the point that it might otherwise prove impossible to prosecute the principals, because of the probable scarcity of jurors who had not listened to the charges over television.

Now it is presumed possible to find jurors who went an entire month or two without listening to television. Accordingly, one can assume that a "fair trial" of Dean et al is possible. But any attempt to apply identical rules to the Senate is preposterous. I suppose one can find a senator who has never heard of Richard Nixon and Watergate, but the impression to the contrary notwithstanding, these are scarce. The assumption is that they all have. And that they have reached private conclusions at least on the question of whether the President should be impeached. It is my point that they can in all fairness reach that conclusion.

ONE FEARS, in a word, that politics is at work. And that the convenient cover — "How can I come out for or against impeachment when I am a Constitutionally designated juror in the event of impeachment?" — is well, a cop-out.

Lottery Won By A Song

ROME (AP) — Italy, a land of numerous government-run lotteries and soccer pools, has a special New Year's gamble on a contest called "canzonissima" — the very best song. Singers, mostly professionals, present their own songs on a series of nationally televised shows, and by a complicated process the contest winner determines who wins the lottery prizes. First prize is usually about a quarter of a million dollars — untaxed.

X-Ray And Fluoroscopy

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain X-ray and fluoroscopy. Is the fluoroscope X-ray procedure? — A.D.

The two are basically the same except for the means by which the picture becomes visible.

With X-ray, the rays are sent through the body, striking on a photographic plate which shows bone structure and other such information.

With a fluoroscope, X-rays similarly are sent through the body, or some part of it, but instead of striking a photographic plate, they strike a screen which glows where the rays hit, likewise giving an image of what is inside the body.

The advantage of regular X-ray is that you have a permanent film to study. With a fluoroscope, you can watch movement — but the length of time, of course, should be as brief as possible, to avoid too much exposure of the patient to X-rays.

Dear Sir: Enclosed find 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for your booklet, "Controlling Your Blood Pressure." Is there something I can buy in the drug store for my blood pressure or do I have to go to a doctor for a prescription? I know I have high blood pressure but do not have the readings. — E.M.

Yes, you need a prescription for medications potent enough to help you. Besides that, you should see your doctor periodically to let him see how you are responding, whether your pressure is being lowered sufficiently, so he can judge whether your dosage should be changed, or even whether some different medication is needed. He also can check for possible complications related to high blood pressure.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a darling granddaughter who will be 17 in a few months. She menstruated once last year and nothing since. She isn't concerned, but her mother is worried sick. She was a medical secretary and fears her daughter may have leukemia. — E.S.

It is not particularly unusual for some girls of 16 to be slow in having their menstrual periods become regular, so I'd be inclined to wait a bit longer. As to leukemia — if your daughter has any genuine reason to worry about that, I would take the girl to a doctor and find out forthwith instead of being "worried sick." Whether a man doctor or a woman.

About finding a woman MD for other purposes, I doubt if you've tried very hard. Call or write the county medical society and ask. If they don't have any listed, you're only a hoot and holler from a large city, so check there.

Straw In Wind?

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The fact that White House lobbyists, led by Bryce Harlow, swarmed all over the House Ways and Means Committee on July 25, 1969, begging the committee to delay closing a key tax loophole, is now becoming a vital — and dangerous — part of the congressional probe of President Nixon's income tax returns.

THE JOINT congressional Internal Revenue Committee, headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, was asked by Mr. Nixon Dec. 8 to inspect his tax returns for the years 1969 through 1972. One key issue is whether he properly took a $576,000 deduction in those years for donating his vice presidential papers to the government.

Reconstructing events that surrounded the decision by the Ways and Means Committee (also headed by Mills) on July 25, 1969, committee sources say it "has never been under such a siege" as it was from that day the committee decided to end the private-papers loophole. The White House, desperate to extend the time period for reasons never fully explained to the committee, pleaded to put the deadline ahead to November.

BUT THE WAYS and Means Committee, backed by the House, refused. The White House lobbying campaign then shifted to the Senate Finance Committee, which, under the righteous indignation of its senior Republican, former Sen. John Williams of Delaware, set a Jan. 1, 1969, deadline. In conference, however, the House version held and the July 25 deadline was enacted into law.

THAT SEQUENCE of events is now being researched by the joint committee, with strong indications the President in the end will be informed by the committee that the delivery of his papers to the National Archives was not legal and that he owes the tax.

The four Republican members of the 10-man joint committee have agreed that an extensive probe of Mr. Nixon's controversial income tax problems is needed. That will include the tax returns of daughter Tricia, beneficiary of a $25,000 trust fund set up by pharmaceutical millionaire Elmer Bobst in 1957.

A FOOTNOTE: Hard-line Republicans, some inside the White House, are pressing for a Nixon counterattack. They want him to demand that Mills and Senate Watergate inquirers Sam Ervin of North Carolina and Lowell Weicker of Connecticut also expose their tax returns to public scrutiny.

THE SERIOUSNESS of Gov. George C. Wallace's advance planning for the 1976 presidential campaign is shown in attempts of his agents to recruit a top White House aide of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger for full-time duty with Wallace.

In contrast to 1972, when Wallace drifted into the presidential contest with neither planning nor organization, his lieutenants are trying to build up a national staff even before his 1974 campaign for another term as governor of Alabama. What's more, he is not merely seeking political operatives by experts in foreign and military policy, such as the Kissinger aide (who must remain nameless).

Mortgage Figures

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The average mortgage granted to the buyer of a new, single-family home last month was at a rate of 8.36 per cent for 26.1 years in the amount of $28,800, or 75.3 per cent of the total purchase price of $38,900.

These figures, from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, add up to rather bad news for those contemplating the purchase of a new home, not merely because of the figures themselves, but because of the trends:

—INTEREST RATES continued to rise.

—Lenders were tending to shorten the pay back period.

—Down payments were rising.

—The prices of houses were rising. Nevertheless, thousands of families will be buying new homes in the coming year because of necessity or choice, the latter often dictated by the fear that prices, like time, wait for no man.

In January, for example, the national average price of new homes was $35,800, but by November it had risen $3,100 to $38,900. Whether the rise will continue is debatable, but the trend is there.

Here are some other guides to borrowers that can be extracted from the figures:

—The lowest interest rates were charged by mutual savings banks, with an effective percentage of 8.11, compared with 8.36 per cent by savings and loan associations, 8.37 by commercial banks and 8.67 by mortgage companies.

—THE LONGEST maturities were offered by mortgage companies. They permitted an average of 29.3 years in which to pay back the loan, followed by savings and loan associations with 27 years, mutual savings banks 26.1 and commercial banks 21.5 years.

—Mortgage companies offered the highest loan to price ratio, permitting the home owner to borrow 82.5 per cent of the purchase price. The ratio for savings and loan association was 77.3, mutual savings banks 68.6 and commercial banks 68.3.

—Despite generally more difficult terms for the borrower, lenders seem willing to continue maturities for relatively long periods. Mutual savings bank maturities have actually risen in recent months.

WHILE INDUSTRY and government analysis believe that housing starts will drop well below two million units in 1974 after being well over that mark for three years, there are a couple of encouraging signs.

First, the billion dollars in funds that the thrift institutions watched being withdrawn during last summer, the result of vast disparities in interest rates, is slowly flowing back. If that trend continues—and the lending institutions aren't sure that it will—it could mean somewhat better terms for borrowers in the spring or summer.

Second, incomes and savings rates are fairly healthy, meaning that many families are in a position to make big capital commitments if the general economic climate improves.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Behold, a virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and his name shall be called Emmanuel (which means, God with us). (Matthew 1:23)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, help us know that in Thee we are united with our loved ones who are far away. May the living presence of Christ strengthen us and our loved ones as we do our part in Thy mission in the world. In Jesus' name. Amen.

SO THE LAST PERSON IN YOUR STORE BEFORE THE ROBBERY WAS YOUR MANAGER! WHERE CAN WE FIND THIS ERNEST HEEP, MR. FINCH?

HE'S ON VACATION VISITING HIS SICK MOTHER.

VACATIONS? BY FRIDAY I WAS FEELING BETTER. I URGED HIM TO GO.

WE HAVE NEWS, MR. FINCH. CHECKED WITH MR. HEEP'S PARENTS IN HINCKLY, OHIO. HE'S NOT THERE. HIS MOTHER'S NOT SICK, AND SHE'S NOT EXPECTING HIM.

REALLY? HOW ODD!

GASOLINE ALLEY

Oaf! Fool! Do you want the sky to fall?

MEN IN SERVICE

BENJAMIN CARR

Navy Seaman Ret. Benjamin J. Carr, son of Mrs. Billie Carr of 1000 E. 16th, Big Spring, graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center here. He is a 1973 graduate of Big Spring High School.

Specialist Five Walter L. Jordan, son of Wendell Jordan, 722 Elm St., Colorado City, completed a 10-week basic health science course at the Academy of Health Sciences of the U.S. Army, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

Students learn to perform routine patient care and treatment duties in combat areas, hospital units, dispensaries, clinics and other medical facilities. They also receive instruction in the transportation of sick and wounded by ground, air and water means.

His wife, Patricia lives at 74 Linscheid Drive, Pittsburgh, Calif.

FT. EUSTIS, Va.—Second Lt. Ronald D. Wrightsil, 23, son of James R. Wrightsil, 604 N. San Antonio, Big Spring, completed a nine-week Transportation Officer Basic course at the U.S. Army Transportation School, Ft. Eustis, Va.

During the course, he was trained in a variety of military subjects and given a basic knowledge of the structure of transportation corps units and operations.

FT. HOOD, Tex.—Army Spec. 4 Pete G. Rodriguez, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Concepcion Rodriguez, Route 2, Big Spring, participated in the U.S. Readiness Command's Exercise Brave Shield VI in Western Texas and Southern New Mexico.

The three-week training exercise, involving Army, Air Force, Army Reserve and Army and Air National Guard troops, included ground maneuvers at Ft. Bliss, Tex., and a mock air war concentrated over White Sands Missile Range, N.M.

Joint training of U.S.-Based combat ready Army and Air Force conventional forces is a major part of the mission assigned to the readiness command at Mac Dill Air Force Base, Fla. Through exercises such as Brave Shield VI, the command insures that its general purpose combat forces are ready when and if needed to reinforce other U.S. Unified commands.

Spec. Rodriguez is a patch panel operator with Company B, 13th Signal Battalion of the 1st Cavalry Division at Ft. Hood, Tex.

BILOXI, Miss.—Airman 1C Billy V. Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgie R. Patton of Sterling City Route, Big Spring, has graduated at Keesler AFB, Miss., from the Air Training Command's basic course for electronic specialists.

The airman, who received instruction in communications and electronics systems principles, is remaining at Keesler for advanced training.

Airman Patton, a 1970 graduate of Forsan High School, attended Bethany (Okla.) Nazarene College.

His wife, Dina, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shrauner of 2745 Trueman NE, Albuquerque, N. M.

SAN ANTONIO—Airman James E. Gregory, son of James R. Gregory, Big Spring, has graduated at Lackland AFB, from the U.S. Air Force security policeman course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who was trained in security and law enforcement, is being assigned to Eglin AFB, Fla., for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

Airman Gregory attended Greenville (Ala.) High School and Snyder High School and graduated in 1971. His wife, Melissa, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith of Rt. 4, Fort Deposit, Ala.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska—U.S. Air Force Sgt. Glenn I. Scaggs has arrived for duty at Eielson AFB, Alaska.

The sergeant is assigned to a unit of the Alaskan Air Command as a fuels specialist. He previously served at Webb AFB. Sgt. Scaggs attended Big Spring High School. His wife, Patti, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ziegler, 4100 Conally St., Big Spring.

JAYLAND WHITE

Marine Pvt. Jayland N. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noble N. White of 3601 LaJunta Drive, Big Spring, graduated from basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here. He is a 1973 graduate of Big Spring High School.

SAN ANTONIO—Airman David Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Zimmerman of 230 Langley Drive, Big Spring, has been assigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training.

During his six weeks at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Tex., he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Lowry for specialized training in the supply field.

Airman Zimmerman is a 1973 graduate of Big Spring High School.

Airman James L. Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Essig L. Arnold of Rt. 1, Big Spring, has graduated at Lowry AFB, Colo., from the U.S. Air Force weapons mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who was trained to load and inspect the weapons used in Air Force jet aircraft, is being assigned to Elmendorf AFB, Alaska, for duty with a unit of the Alaskan Air Command.

Airman Arnold is a 1973 graduate of Coahoma High School.

FT. HOOD—Benjamin Herrera, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Herrera, Coahoma, was promoted to Army Pfc. while serving with the 1st Cavalry Division at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Pfc. Herrera is a member of Company B, 1st Battalion of the Division's 81st Armor. His wife, Barbara, lives in Belton, Tex.

Chinese Lib Behind Times

TOKYO (AP) — Men and women should share household chores, Hsinhua news agency quotes a leading Chinese journal as saying today.

The theoretical journal Red Flag said that for centuries the "guiding ideology... was to treat women as slaves and appendages, confining them to the kitchen, binding them to back-breaking household chores and depriving them of the right to take part in social production and political life."

Red Flag said that has all been changed but more needs to be done.

"It is necessary to advocate that men and women should share household chores. At the same time, late marriage and family planning should be encouraged..."

Red Flag said that never before have such large numbers of competent and outstanding women come to the fore, but the number of women cadres is not commensurate with the needs of China's socialist revolution and construction.

Barry Calls For Leaders To 'Shut Up Or Put Up'

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has called for the House leadership to "shut up or put up" in the consideration of impeachment proceedings against President Nixon.

In an interview with the Christian Science Monitor published here, the "Arizona Republican and former presidential candidate said it is imperative that consideration of impeachment be concluded rapidly."

"They're (members of the House Judiciary Committee) not playing around with the Republican party and the Democratic party — they're playing around with the American people," Goldwater said.

He criticized Nixon for failing to move quickly enough to dispel doubts about the President's innocence in the Watergate affair.

"He chose to dabble and argue on very nebulous grounds like executive privilege and confidentiality, when all the American people wanted to know was the truth," Goldwater said.

If the President had openly discussed the issue, "I think Watergate would have been history by now and Mr. Nixon would be way back up on the popularity poll," Goldwater said.

The President may have been slow to respond to the Watergate issue because of his hesitancy to accept advice from others, the senator said.

"The President, I think, thinks of himself as the supreme politician in this country. And being a loner, I think he sits by himself and tells himself what he's going to do."

"Now we went through this gesture period of having congressmen and senators down to see him, but it seems to have ended. And this is what I was afraid of — that it would be a one-pitch goal and that would end it."

"And as a result, he's not getting advice. That's his problem. He's not getting it. And when he gets it, he doesn't listen to it."

Gallant Crew War Games Axed

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The Army's Ft. Bliss has announced cancellation of a massive military exercise scheduled for February in southeastern New Mexico under the name Gallant Crew '74.

Lt. Col. Jerry Hoopert said at Ft. Bliss here that the Department of Defense cancelled the war games in the interest of conserving fuel.

The exercise had been set for Feb. 15-22 on a scale similar to the Brave Shield VI war games here in October, which involved more than 200 aircraft.

Caning Banned

LONDON (AP) — The House of Lords rejected a bill that would have banned caning in British schools. The Lords reasoned that the use of caning was steadily declining, but some educators wanted it retained on the books to serve as a disciplinary threat.
