Sgt. Howard Bishop is Commended

AAF Base in the Gilberts—Staff Sergeant Howard Bishop of Box 155, Floydada, serving with the main force of a 7th AAF command group, has been commended along with other members for outstanding performance of duty. A veteran of four major campaigns against the Japs, he participated with his group in the Gilberts, Marshalls, Carolines and Marianas campaigns. The commendation was issued by Colonel A. Bywater, commanding officer of the group. "We owe them infinite praise for, and those of our men who are serving our ground crews for our airplanes," Colonel Bywater said. "We owe them credit that they use their lives and in many cases we have kept our 7th AAF bombers flying over thousands of miles of the vast Pacific, and only those who have flown over the Pacific can know how vast it really is. Ground crews and maintenance men have done their jobs and have won the respect of those who have had the opportunity of working with them." Bishop entered the service May 23, 1941, and is serving with the 7th AAF Central Pacific as a transport man since October 20. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard, reside at the Floyd-

Advisory Committees are Set up Over State

Advisory Committees of farm people and technical workers to assist returning war veterans who are interested in farming have been set up in 240 Texas counties, and their aggregate membership now numbers more than a thousand, according to Joe L. Matthews, assistant in agricultural planning for the A. and M. College Extension Service. These committees are concerned only with men who want to farm and seek assistance and probably these won't constitute more than 10 or 15 per cent of the total in uniform, Matthews explains. Several committees are contacting service men from their counties offering assistance, and in one instance 90 per cent of more than 2,000 men received questionnaires on their plans, with replies received for more than half. Rusk county sent letters to more than 3,000 service men, and similar work has been done by numerous other counties, including Eastland, and Midland. Committees now are gathering such information to furnish veterans as amount of capital required for purchase and leasing of farms and ranches and sources of credit, size of units necessary to maintain satisfactory standards of living and equitable partnership and rental agreements. In most instances, these advisory committees are sub-committees of county agricultural victory councils, and county agricultural agents serve as their secretaries as well as giving advice which comes within the province of their usual official duties, Matthews explains. Under an arrangement between the War Food Administration and the Selective Service organization, returning veterans interested in agriculture are referred to county Extension agents for assistance. Matthews says he finds wives and mothers of service men alert to after-the-war adjustments, and many home demonstration councils and clubs now are studying the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Each day this war goes on, more Americans are killed. Each day this war goes on, the chances increase that one of them may be the man you love most. You can help shorten this war. If we put every ounce of energy and will into our job at home, victory can and will come sooner. No part of our job is more urgent, more vitally important, than buying War Bonds. Iran's Oil Problems ousts Premier and Cabinet

Teheran, Persia.—Premier Mohammed Saed and his cabinet resigned Friday. The resignation had been expected for several days as the result of the government's refusal to grant Russia oil concessions in northern Persia.

What does this day hold for him?

Methodists Air Problems at Conference

Sweetwater, November 10.—The rural church problem, the Methodist crusade and McMurry College Building and endowment campaign held attention of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference in a two-session business meeting Friday. The Rev. J. A. Gatlin, Jonesboro, Ark., said the rural church problem will be solved when the city church aids the rural church, when the denomination senses a church-wide interest. "We must quit trying to bring the country church to town," he said. "Snobbery between city and country preachers must cease. Eighty-five per cent of the church's ministry comes from the country churches."

Road Bond Law Wipes Out Debt

Austin, November 10th.—Gov. Coke Stevenson Thursday expressed satisfaction with the state road bond assumption law, which he said would permit retirement within twenty years of all county and district road bonds now being serviced by the state. One cent of the 4c per gallon tax on gasoline goes for payment of interest and principal on these bonds. In the year ended Aug. 31, 1944, the tax yielded $9,904,000 and the board paid $9,937,000 interest and principal. The Governor noted that about half the money went toward retiring the principal. The state now owes $112,000,000 on bonds which it took from the counties and districts.

Labor Situation Shows Some Improvement

October ended with a visible improvement in the general labor situation in Texas, especially in the harvesting of the cotton crop, according to Caesar (Dutch) Hohn extension state farm labor supervisor.

During the month, county agricultural agent J. C. Patterson of McLellan county set the challenging record of 16,897 placements on farms in that county. These included 5,329 men of 18 and over; 5,101 adult women, and 6,467 youths under 18. Patterson reported that no workers were needed on the last day of the month to complete current unfilled orders.

The weekly records of person sent to farms by the county agricultural agent reflected a steady decline in the demand for out-of-county cotton pickers. In the week ending October 6 a total of 4,759 workers were sent, but the demand for outside pickers reached 6,000. The next week, those sent numbered 4,333, but the demand for additional workers had declined to 5,000. In the third week and additional 4,665 workers cut the need for outside help to 500; but the fourth with 3,974 recruits brought the needs for assistance from beyond the county borders to zero.

The striking thing about the recruitment of this emergency labor was that it came almost entirely from the towns and cities. Only 353 migrants were placed during the four weeks. Patterson said that cotton picking crews were sent from McLellan county to west Texas for cotton picking during the first week of November.

Although cotton pickers still were needed at the month end in the north Texas blackland counties and in most of the central part of this area, the general situation was much better, Hohn said. In Dallas county an estimated 70 per cent of the crop had been picked, while in Ellis completion stood at 60 per cent; 75 per cent in Lamar; 70 per cent in Bell and 40 per cent in Falls.

Meanwhile, pullers were urgently needed in all of the major producing counties of the rolling plains area. In Collingsworth county, cotton will be sledged unless additional labor comes in, Hohn said.

Dr. Ide P. Trotter Heads Extension Directorship

Dr. Ide P. Trotter, chosen director of the A. and M. College Extension Service on October 14 by the College Board of Directors, took up the duties of the office on November 1. He is the sixth regular incumbent. He had served as professor and head of the Agronomy Department of A. and M. College since 1936.

He succeeds to the position made vacant in August, 1943, with the termination of the directorship of H. H. Williamson, now agricultural consultant to the Office of Price Administration, Washington. James D. Prewit, selected last December by the College Board as vice director and state agent, became acting director at that time in place of George E. Adams, who had served in the same capacity after Mr. Williamson's services were terminated. Mr. Prewit remains as vice director and state agent.

Dr. Trotter announced that E. C. Martin, acting vice director and state agent since December, will become assistant state agent "and assist me in correlating the work of our large and efficient staff of subject matter specialists." He added that Miss Maurine Hearn, vice director and state home demonstration agent, "will continue to assist me in the direction of the women's work throughout the state."

"The large opportunities and responsibilities which lie ahead are fully appreciated," Dr. Trotter said. He expressed "deep appreciation" for the privilege of "re-joining the forces which are carrying sound agricultural education to farm people." It is the plan, he said, "to continue to serve the agricultural interests of Texas with the complete existing organization and plans of work."

Dr. Trotter was born in Tennessee and received the B. A. degree from the Mississippi College, Clinton; a B. S. in agriculture from Mississippi A. and M. College, and the doctor of philosophy degree
