People Liquidating Debts as Crop Settlements Are Completed

The wheat crop is doing to cash in bank and on hand of County farmers is indicated by deposits which began flowing last week into The First National Bank of Floydada. While the increase in bank deposits here from June 1 to June 21 showed an increase of $90,000, J. V. Daniel, county assessor, said.

HERE'S THE STORY

Tax Payments For Second Half Were Due Wednesday

Floyd County taxpayers who took advantage of the split payment plan for their taxes are paying their second half "fair to middling" the tax assessor reported. Wednesday was the last day the second half payment could be made without penalty. A goodly number of delinquent taxes had been paid although the actual figures were lacking.

The people in this section generally pay their taxes as soon as they can, therefore with the good wheat crop the majority of the delinquents should be paid very soon," Frank L. Moore, County Assessor and Collector said.

Irrigation Wells Are Started Up In Fields As Ground Demands

More irrigation wells are being put to work daily this week on Floyd County irrigated fields as the dry ground begins to make its demands.

No crops, except those heavily in the weeds, are suffering to date, but the pumpers began their work as early as last Friday in some places, and every day has seen a few wells added to the list flowing water out on the row crops. Among those who have wells going this week is L. L. Jones, five and a half miles southeast of Floydada, whose test early in the spring opened up a very considerable area of irrigable land in the county. Joe Jennings, who is one of the county's largest cotton raisers, north of Lockney, expected to start irrigation on his place in a day or two if weather continued dry, it was reported Tuesday.

The seed for the experiments were furnished by a sugar beet factory, the crops to be carried through under the direction of the county agent until fall, when tonnage will be checked, sugar content noted and other notations made toward determining whether the crop is practicable in this county. Experiments also are being carried on in Swisher and Deaf Smith counties.

Nitrogen Bacteria Is Advised To Inoculate Legumes

Pay Farmers Conclusion Reached by A. & M. Agronomists

COLLEGE STATION—The practice of inoculating legumes with a nitrogen bacteria has been producing gains in Texas for the past few years, according to E. A. Miller, agronomist of Texas Extension Service, who led to a planting of 65,000 acres of artificially inoculated legumes in 1936, as compared with 12,000 acres in 1935.

Of nitrogen cultures in Texas for the year show an increase of 29 percent over the same time in 1936, Miller said, and in that more than 84,000 acres of legumes will be artificially inoculated in 1937.

County agricultural agents have been pointing out to farmers that the presence of nitrogen bacteria in the soil is essential for the growth and are to furnish almost all of the nitrogen, must be plentifully supplied these bacteria.

Agronomists have long been under the impression that after a given amount of land had been planted to legumes, the nitrogen fixing bacteria remained in the soil indefinitely, and that the future plantings did not need to be inoculated. Recent experiments have shown, however, that even where bacteria are present in the soil, they are not as effective as those used in fresh cultures. Since cost of artificial inoculation is small, and cultures carrying bacteria for use are available at seed houses, Miller is of the opinion that it will pay farmers to inoculate all legumes at planting.

Plans Are Pushed For Veteran's Hospital In The Texas Panhandle

Congressman Madison Urges Cooperation From West Texas To Secure Hospital

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(Special)—A special committee on the need for a general medical and surgical hospital for West Texas may be reported within the next few weeks, according to Congressman Madison. He conferred with Colonel George E. Dimes of the Veterans Administration, who is a member of the special committee appointed by General Frank T. Eines, Administrator of the Veterans Administration, to make a general study of the need for additional Veterans hospital facilities. The West Texas-Panhandle service is one of two areas in the United States designated by the Administrator to be given particular consideration.

As originally appointed, the special committee consisted of Dr. Thomas Purman, Jr., Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service and chairman of the special committee; General George E. Dimes, special representative of the Administrator of National Homes for Veterans; and Colonel George E. Dimes, assistant administrator of the Veterans Administration.

but Dr. Purman was unable to serve. Rear Admiral P. S. Rosenthal, Surgeon General of the United States Navy, has been asked to serve as chairman, but his acceptance of the assignment has not been given.

Madison stated that he expected to appear before the committee and urge favorable consideration for the West Texas hospital. He has a bill pending in this congress which authorizes an appropriation for a hospital to be erected in the Fifth American Legion district comprising all of West Texas. Bills with more limited provisions as to location have been introduced by Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo, Congressman Ewing Thomas of El Paso, and Congressman Clyde Garrett of Eastland. Madison pointed out the necessity for cooperation of all West Texas areas in the effort to secure a favorable recommendation from the Veterans Administration at this time, stating that competition between individual cities could easily detract from the weight of argument for the regional hospital for all West Texas. He stated that the appointment of the special committee with designation of West Texas for special consideration was more definite encouragement than had heretofore been given by the Veterans Administration.

L. R. Stringer Likes New Beardless Wheat

L. R. Stringer, of the Callihan Wheat Company, large wheat growers on the Callihan School Lands in west Floyd County, likes Chief Kan, the new variety of wheat introduced into this section the last year or two, the chief characteristic in appearance being that it is beardless.

However, the new variety did not produce so heavily on irrigated lands as did the black hull most commonly used here. "I thought we gave the new variety and the old about the same attention, if anything better while the other ran an average of a bushel better than 44 bushels," Stringer said. Apparently the new wheat will prove more drought resistant than the other and the Callihan Wheat Company likely will use it on dry land planting and, to some extent, on irrigated soil.

Level Jones, who made the first plantings of the new wheat in this county had a heavy average of it in his fields this season.

Pointed Text:—Exodus 1:8-14; 2:23-25.

8 And Joseph died, and all his brethren, and all that generation.

7 And the children of Israel were fruitful, and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceedingly mighty; and the land was filled with them.

6 Now there arose up a new King over Egypt, which knew not Joseph.

5 And he said unto his people, Behold, the people of the children of Israel are more and mightier than we.

4 Come on, let us deal wisely with them: lest they multiply, and it come to pass, that when there fall out any war, they join also unto our enemies, and fight against us, and so get them up out of the land.

3 Therefore they did set over them taskmasters to afflict them with their burdens. And they built for Pharaoh treasure cities, Pithom and Raamses.

2 But the more they afflicted them, the more they multiplied and grew. And they were grieved because of the children of Israel.

13 And the Egyptians made the children of Israel to serve with rigour.

14 And they made their lives bitter with hard bondage, in mortar, and in brick, and in all manner of service in the field: all their service, wherein they made them serve, was with rigour.

12 And it came to pass in process of time, that the King of Egypt died: and the children of Israel sighed by reason of the bondage, and they cried, and their cry came up unto God by reason of the bondage.

Danger Of Careless Celebration On July Fourth Pointed Out

Fire Works, Automobiles, Swimming All Have Their Particular Hazards, Dr. Cox Says

AUSTIN, Texas, July 1—Taking note of the approach of the great patriotic National Holiday, July 4, which this country has celebrated for one hundred and forty-one years, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, calls attention of the people of Texas to some of the dangers of carelessly celebrating. The morning papers of July 5, detail an appalling number of accidents which occurred during the Fourth.

It is not alone the wounds received from explosives that increase our death toll. Injuries from automobile accidents, splinters, nails and other penetrating wounds in which dirt may be carried into the skin heighten the hazard of tetanus or lockjaw. Such wounds should be promptly treated by a physician.

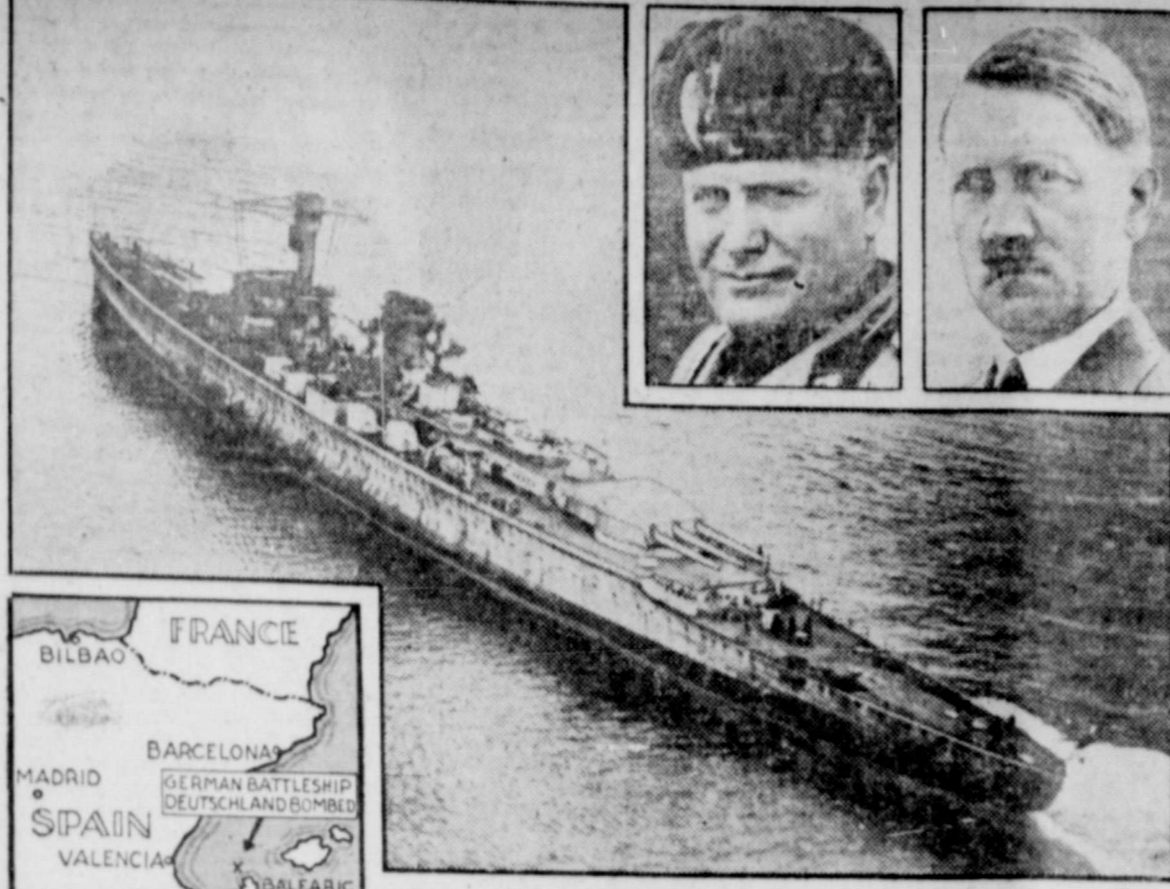

Automobile accidents have usually one of three causes—exceeding the speed limit, driving on the wrong side or failing to grant the right of way. It can be seen that the chief factor in auto accidents is the judgment of the "machine" driver. Caution should be exercised in the holiday activities so that the day may be remembered with joy instead of sorrow.

County court has been postponed until next week. At a meeting last night the court decided to adjourn until the harvest was finished. It was believed that any jurors selected would be handicapped in the harvesting of their wheat. Next week the harvest should be far enough over to allow court to convene.

Band-Parents Association will meet tonight on Thursday night of next week, according to announcement this week, the hour being 8 o'clock and the place the high school auditorium.

PROTECTED RANGE STILL MAKES "A LITTLE" PROFIT

Recently a United States Department of Agriculture man examined ranges in Kansas. Reporting on his trip, he said, "I saw more drought-ridden range than I ever thought existed. I saw so much of it that I began to doubt that a conservatively grazed range will survive drought.

"And then in the center of a very bad drought area, I found a ranch on which forage condition were at least 50 percent better than elsewhere. I talked to the owner, a German immigrant who spoke rather broken English. He told me he had been using 3 7/8 acres per cow per year while his neighbors had been using 8 to 12 acres per cow. On his ranch the forage was in pretty good condition. Good grasses were not, as far as I could tell, being replaced by inferior plants as was the situation on the surrounding range.

"I asked this man how he had profited financially by grazing so conservatively. His answer was, 'Well, ten times were good, my neighbors make a lot. I make a little. Ven time got bad my neighbors break even. I make a little. Now my neighbors all broke. Still I make a little...'

SOME CROPS INDUCE EROSION

Some crops which appear to be excellent cover crops actually induce instead of retard erosion, the Soil Conservation Service finds. Buckwheat grows rank and does well on poor soil and apparently is an ideal cover crop. But it has almost no value as a soil-binder. It grows in a single stalk with very few base leaves to retard surface water and has a relatively small root system that actually loosens the soil so that soil particles are easily washed away.

Erosion experts suggest that farmers get in touch with their county agents and investigate each cover crop before planting to be sure it is adapted to local soil and climate and that it will do the job for which it is intended.

CONTOUR LISTING PAYS

At the experiment station near Spur, Texas, a pasture plot listed or furrowed on the contour yielded nearly three times as much buffalo grass as an adjacent unlisted plot. Contour listing stimulates growth by reducing the run-off of rain. Soil Conservation Service technicians say.

Wheat Crop Makes History On The South Plains

Don't be fooled. This is the same old plain country. Yes, we can all see more smiling faces and friendly personalities than in a number of years but it is still Floyd County, Texas just the same.

The farmers haven't forgotten the lean years because the thin crop and low price years but right up against the present streak of prosperity and too, most of the wheat raisers got pinched so hard in those tight times that there are still red marks to remind them that prosperity is a new thing.

These "boys" that sold their wheat didn't splurge their money either if bank deposits over the past two weeks prove a point. Those lean years caused most of them to look ahead and plan to save their money or use it in such a manner that "just in case" next year isn't so good they will have a nest egg to tide them over.

Naturally all of the wheat farmers are planning a big crop next year and are already plowing under stubble with hopes of the best.

The elevators are slowing down but memories of the "greatest wheat and money making crop in history" make them feel good. "Sure we made a big crop in '32 but we had to sell it for 32 cents," one wheat raiser said.

Another reminded, "Yes, and remember the years when we had no wheat and the price soared." But they all agree that this year the wheat crop was good, the price was good, and the weather was good.

All of which go to make the Wheat Raising Counties of Texas the "bestest" place in the world to live.

"This'll be something to tell our grandkids about," one young fellow with a truck of wheat told bystanders.

Wheat Crop

(Continued from page 1) one and very little about wheat or not, the crop has been one of the most satisfactory to handle in a number of years.

Plan Test Plots
That piece of wheat next year will be scattered around all over the county, it was arranged by J. M. Adkins, assistant agronomist of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, with headquarters at Denton, while he was in Floyd County Monday of this week.

Mr. Adkins spent several hours here and outlined his plan to local officials. Twenty-five or thirty varieties of wheat will be planted in two-acre plots, both on irrigated and dry land farms, scattered in all sections. Tests for hail resistance, dry weather, rust, smut, and all the things that affect wheat will be made among the various varieties in the test plots. Will be made if Mr. Adkins obtains the co-operation he anticipates from Floyd County wheat growers. It was said at the office of the county agent.

Fifty-Bushel Wheat
That there really has been some fifty-bushel wheat in Floyd County this year on measured land with witnesses to the cutting, weighing and marketing was indicated this week, when attention was called to a seven-acre plot on the Claude Harris farm at Pleasant Valley, where the crop was irrigated. The seven acres made slightly more than fifty bushels per acre.

Several other claims for fifty-bushel wheat have been practically as carefully substantiated.

Mrs. W. D. Long, of Wichita Falls, came Tuesday for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. K. Barker, and family.

Mrs. Mable Cole, of Corsicana, was a guest of Mrs. E. C. Henry, from Saturday until Monday.

Remodding work is being completed for the new Roy Holmes studio on the west side of the square.

The studio will be in one half of the building formerly occupied by Baird's Tailor shop. Holmes bought the building some time ago. The studio will not be occupied for several days however since work has not been finished.

W. B. CANTRELL ILL.
W. B. Cantrell underwent an operation at the Plainview Sanitarium Thursday morning for a ruptured appendix. He was in a very critical condition for several days but is reported to be slowly improving. He was accompanied to the hospital by Mrs. Cantrell and Rev. Vernon Shaw. Mrs. Cantrell remained with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Claiborne, of Wake, were guests of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Claiborne from Saturday until Wednesday. Both couples spent Sunday night at Quahok with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Claiborne.

LIVESTOCK SHIPMENTS BY TRUCK INCREASE
More livestock were "driven in" to market during 1936 than in any previous 1-year period. But nowadays "driven in" means arriving by truck, instead of on foot.

Increase in truck shipment over rail shipments of livestock has been rapid in recent years. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reveals in its 1936 report of Driven-in Receipts of Livestock.

In 1916 arrivals of livestock by truck amounted to less than 2 percent of total livestock received at 17 principal markets. This year 56 percent or more than half of all cattle, and 87 percent, or more than two-thirds of all calves received at these markets arrived by truck.

Truck drivers of hogs represented a greater proportion of total hog receipts than did those for other kinds of livestock. More than 70 percent of all hogs coming to these markets in 1936 arrived by motortruck. The Chicago stockyards was the only large market in the Corn Belt where more hogs came in by rail than by truck during the past 2 years.

Because of the longer haul, the proportion of truck arrivals of sheep and lambs has not been so large as with the other kinds of livestock. In 1936 a little more than 30 percent of the sheep and lambs arriving at these 17 markets were shipped by truck.

In 1936 arrivals by truck at 69 public markets reporting to the Bureau were 55 percent of the cattle, 58 percent of the calves, 64 percent of the hogs, and 26 percent of the sheep and lambs received at these markets.

Increase in use of motortrucks in transporting livestock to market, economists of the Bureau believe, is largely a reflection of improvement in public highways and of development in manufacture of motortrucks more suitable for hauling livestock. Greater flexibility of this method of transportation as compared with shipment by rail also has tended to increase use of trucks.

Capital Too Hot

When things get too hot around Washington Vice President Garner's remedy is a vacation. He's shown here as he prepared to leave the capital city for his home at Uvalde, Texas. Derriding the Washington heat was too hot, the vice president asked the President for special permission to leave, and got it despite the fact Congress is still in session.

Bank Deposits

The second biggest day of deposits in the week's period was $122,614, on Tuesday of this week.

It is not apparent just what per centage of the wheat crop has been sold, but the huge deposit figures of the past week, big as they are, do not represent the total of the crop harvested to date. This mid-week number of farmers are selling their wheat along as they complete their work and finish counting up their gains. For the first two weeks of the harvest the sales of the average to small farms from his wheat fields were negligible on account of the price. True to type, all the small growers and a very considerable per cent of the larger ones held for a better price—and many of them still are doing so.

It is apparent the total deposits sometime during this month will exceed the total of all bank deposits in Floydada banks at the peak in 1926.

GOVERNMENT WILL KEEP PLANT PESTS OFF GUAM
Two United States Government departments, Agriculture and Navy, will cooperate to keep injurious insect pests and plant diseases from gaining entrance into the island of Guam, either in or on plants and plant products arriving on vessels or planes. Guam is governed by the Navy Department as is American Samoa.

The Governor of Guam has promulgated regulations which govern the entry into that island of plants and plant products from all countries and localities to prevent the introduction of insect pests and plant diseases. These regulations will be enforced by R. G. Oakley, of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, Department of Agriculture. Mr. Oakley has been stationed at Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, for the last 6 years.

Intercepting plant pests immigrants at Guam is an additional safeguard for Hawaii and the mainland. Without plant quarantine restrictions, Guam could easily become a stepping stone for these pests from the Far East.

Mr. Oakley will inspect planes and steamships landing at Guam, disposing of plant materials on board which violate quarantine regulations. He also will cooperate with the naval government in solving entomological problems on the island. Enroute to Guam he will stop in Hawaii for the purpose of collecting a supply of the Bufo toad which is a voracious insect feeder. These will be liberated in Guam in the hope that they may reduce the insect population there.

TO MAKE PEOPLE LIKE YOU
Do you know six "sure-fire" ways to make people like you? Here is a summary of Dale Carnegie's rules from his best seller, "How to Win Friends and Influence People," as reprinted in The Progressive Farmer:

1. Become genuinely interested in other people.
2. Smile.
3. Remember that a man's name is to him the sweetest and most important sound in the English language.
4. Be a good listener. Encourage others to talk about themselves.
5. Talk in terms of the other man's interest.
6. Make the other person feel important—and do it sincerely.

MORE TREES—LESS EROSION
To halt erosion in gullies and on steep hillsides, the Soil Conservation Service plans to plant about 175,000,000 trees this year. H. H. Bennett, Chief of the Service, reports. Nearly 120,000,000 trees were planted by the Service last year and the 1937 plantings will bring the total figure to about 600,000,000 trees in a little more than 4 years.
