Business House Make Plans For Prettier Xmas Stores

Score In Contest Seek Most Appeal In Their Windows

Street and Window Lighting Effects Will Add to Holiday Gayety

Stores Decorate

Early Shopping and Spread of Christmas Spirit To Be Encouraged

Business houses in Floydada are making plans for one of the prettiest and gayest communities in this section of the state during the holidays.

Beginning last week-end to formulate their plans into action stores and shops have begun to be transformed into Christmas shopping centers, and this week-end will see the idea further stressed throughout the business district.

Beginning in individual business establishments and working outward to fronts and streets, Christmas decorations featuring unusual street and window lighting will be the rule. This was indicated this week in an announcement by R. W. Cothran that a score of business establishments already are entered in a Christmas window contest to see which one will be judged the most attractive. Entries will close on Saturday night in this contest and the judges, composed of out-of-town residents, will declare the winners on Saturday night, December 11. Cash prizes will be given. Windows will be judged by a five-point score card, on which sales appeal will count for 35 per cent, arrangement 15 per cent, attractiveness 10 per cent, seasonableness 10 per cent and lighting effects 10 per cent.

Many of the leading stores and shops are among the entries listed by the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Christmas is the season of practically universal appeal," Cothran said. "It affords the community an opportunity to make the business establishments and shops outstanding for attractiveness. Early shopping and the spread of the Christmas spirit are prime thoughts in the contest, in which even the loser is winner," he said.

Undoubtedly business windows of Floydada will be worthy of the shoppers' tour during the holiday season. Of the business institutions in the town which had announced their intention of competing for the prizes—first, second and third to be awarded—were the following:

Henderson's 5c to $1 Store, Style Shoppe, Arvine Drug Co., Piggy-Wiggly, Keim's Cleaners, and Haberdashery, J. C. Penney Co., Glad Snodgrass, Hagoods, Miladies Specialty Shoppe, White Drug Co., Radio Electric Co., Wester's Bakery, McDonald-Gilliam Hardware, Brown's Household Supply, Economy Dry Goods Co., Texas-New Mexico Utilities Co., Harmon's, Cavanaugh Printing Co., Loopers Cash Grocery, Martin Dry Goods Company.

L. E. Lewis, Former Resident Of Floydada, Dies At Wichita Falls

L. E. Lewis, brother of Mrs. C. P. Loper and resident of Floydada in 1931, died in Wichita Falls Wednesday night of last week at a hospital. The body was taken to his home at Walters, Oklahoma, where interment was made on Thursday afternoon.

He was 65 years of age. A wife, two sons and a daughter survive. Mrs. Loper, who was ill, did not attend the funeral of her brother.

Winter Lambs Go To Oklahoma City Market This Week

Fat-fed winter lambs, a shipment of 456 head, were sent to the Oklahoma City market by Mrs. S. L. Rushing this week, the consignment to the Sooner state market averaging about 100 pounds per head.

Mrs. Rushing's son, Lee Rushing, accompanied the shipment to oversee their handling and sale.

Increasing interest in lamb feeding in this section, together with increased interest in sheep raising generally has been one of the marked developments on the south plains in the past five years.

Several thousand head of fat lambs have been sent to market in the current year, generally with very satisfactory returns noted.

Mr. Patty was a successor of J. C. Wester as Floydada School Superintendent in 1927 after serving as superintendent at Plainview from 1919 to 1926. He served as superintendent here until the end of the school year in 1932.

Mother Singers Plan Program For Dec. 10

Hope To Obtain Funds For Activities From Entertainment at High School Auditorium

An entertainment which will be novel and interesting is being planned by the Mother Singer group, launched two months ago locally under the sponsorship of the Andrews Ward Parent-Teachers Association.

The date for the entertainment has been set for December 10 and the place is the Floydada high school auditorium, Mrs. Ed Bond of the group announced.

An unusual presentation of talent will include six or seven family groups, where the papa, mamma and the children of the family will perform. Mrs. Bond said. Another interesting feature will be a fan dance, in which will appear a singing and dancing male chorus in ballet costume.

Several numbers by the members of the Mother Singer membership will be a part of the program, also.

Regional Conference Of Social Workers In Amarillo Dec. 10

A regional conference of social workers to be held in Amarillo on December 10 and 11 will be attended by Dott Slough of the Floyd County Welfare Agency, and she pointed out the meeting will not be for professional welfare workers only but for lay persons interested in social welfare work as well.

Mrs. Viola Perkins, sub-chairman of the publicity committee for the region, in a recent statement called attention to the excellent speakers who will appear on the program at Amarillo. Among these will be Miss Gaynelle Hawkins of the Dallas Civic Federation.

Persons who wish to become members of the Texas Conference for Social Workers should notify Mrs. Perkins at Plainview, said Mrs. Slough.

One of the interesting phases of the local welfare work is the possibility of obtaining through the sewing rooms dolls and animal toys that can be made of cloth. Sunday School classes and other local organizations could contact Mrs. Slough for information relative to this activity.

Noel Troutman Hopes To Save Sight Of Eye Injured By Flying Nail

Hope that the sight of his eye can be restored eventually is held out for Noel Troutman by doctors who have been treating an eye injured two weeks ago by a flying nail while he was employed in carpenter work on the J. M. Gamblin residence on West Kentucky Street.

He has lost much sleep and for a time it was thought he would not only lose the use of the eye but might have to have the eyeball removed. However, it has responded to treatment the past few days.

However, he is having to spend all his time visiting the physicians and treating the eye between times. Saturday and Sunday he took a respite from the routine when he and his wife and daughter, Josephine, visited in Iowa Park with his mother, Mrs. L. Troutman.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Woodmen Plan Meet Here Dec 10

Woodmen Round-Up To Bring Delegates From Nearby Towns

200 Expected

Floydada Woodmen To Be Organized And Officers Elected

Approximately 200 Woodmen of the World are expected to attend the Floyd County Woodmen Round-up which will be held here Friday, December 10.

T. H. Bragg, assistant district manager, of Waxahachie is here planning the program for the event. Already representatives from Paducah, Matador, Ralls, Plainview, and Lockney are assured. Other towns are almost certain to have members present at that time since Bragg has not yet visited all of the nearby towns.

Floydada has 28 members of the Woodmen but they have been inactive for the last few years. The meeting will be held to reorganize the Floydada chapter and to elect officers.

At that time 25 new members will be initiated and the drive is still underway in an effort to bring more into the membership circle.

State Manager R. E. Miller of Dallas and Assistant State Manager W. G. McLain of Waxahachie are to be here for the meeting.

The Plainview Woodmen are planning to be here in all of their splendor with their drill squad and officers in full uniform. If enough uniformed members are present a parade will be staged, Bragg said.

Major Bert Lyons of Dallas and Major Frank De Hay of Waxahachie will be in charge of the work done here but will be assisted by the Plainview lodge.

Present plans are that the meeting will be held in the District Court room with a "feed" following at one of the dining rooms in town.

If the attempt to organize the local WOW lodge becomes a success a movement will be staged to form a drum corps at a later date.

Four Whirlwinds Get Special Awards At Lions Club Luncheon

The Lion's Club will entertain the Floydada High School football squad today at their regular luncheon hour. The committee appointed some two weeks ago have selected the four boys to receive special awards for their work on the gridiron.

The awards, silver football watch charms, are to be given to W. H. McClung, whirlwind fullback, for being the best all-round player; James Willson, halfback, as the best open field blocker; La Von Rainer, tackle, as the best open field tackler, and to L. B. Martin, guard, as the most conscientious player this year.

It is planned that prizes of the same nature will be given next year on the same basis but possibly on a larger scale with the merchants and Lions and Rotary clubs participating.

The Whirlwinds ended the season in a second place tie after Flomot was found to have an ineligible player.

Thirty-Five Thousand Bale Crop Looks Certain As The Gins Finish 26,180 Bales

Feed Crop Said To Be Best In Many Years By Farmers Of County

Already 26,000 bales have been ginned in the county according to figures released by 11 bins in the county. A number of the gins are still running day and night in order to handle the rush.

The survey also showed that about 85 per cent of the cotton in the county has reached the gins. Cotton men over the county had estimates varying from 70 to 90 per cent for their localities.

The past week has provided ideal weather for the pullers. The early mornings are cold but warm up enough by the time the frost has dried off to allow the pullers to get busy.

Some of the gins have ceased their all night runs but many still hum up until near midnight in order to handle the late afternoon rush that piles the cotton on the yards.

If the cotton continues to come in as it has this week, which gave something like 3,000 bales, the crop prediction will be reached before the first of the year.

The pullers will soon slow down however as the pulling gets harder and the bolls fewer and further between. However the estimate should be reached before the end of the month in spite of that.

The effort to speed up the cotton harvest is not preventing the farmers from cutting their feed and getting it stacked before the coming winter clamps down on the plains country.

It has been estimated that one of the finest feed crops in a number of years has been raised in Floyd County and will be saved.

Certainly 1938 has been a record breaker for Floyd County with three hits from three crops. It will be "Sumpin' to tell the gran' kids about," as one Plainsman put it.

Spit Tax Payments Run About The Same As For The Year '36

Spit tax payments at the collectors' offices respectively of Floyd County, Floydada Independent School District, and the City of Floydada, ran about the same as for last year, it was indicated yesterday following the close of the spit tax payment period Tuesday night.

County spit tax receipts issued totalled 204 in number and covered $13,620.49 paid. This is a few more receipts than were issued last year and probably represented a slightly larger total in dollars and cents, Frank L. Moore, collector said.

At the city office payments were about as usual for spit payments, with an encouraging bulge in delinquent payments, City Collector S. E. Duncan said.

J. B. Houston at the school district's collection desk, said 62 taxpayers in the district paid a total of $1,772.60 on the spit payment plan.

Mrs. Dorsey's Brother Killed In Auto Wreck

Plains, Kansas, Man Succumbs To Injuries Sustained Near Dodge City on Monday Night

Mrs. W. M. Dorsey and sons left Tuesday for Plains, Kansas, where she was called following the death of her brother, Fred Erwin, 46, killed in an automobile wreck near Dodge City, Kansas, on Monday night.

Mrs. Willie B. Eakin, a niece of the deceased, and Mr. Eakin, left last night for Plains arrangements having been made for the funeral this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

No details of the accident were learned here. The deceased had been employed with the wholesale department of Magnolia Petroleum Company for fifteen years or more.

In addition to the sister here, another sister, Mrs. Mulky Ezell, of Friona, his father, W. C. Erwin, of Bovina, and a brother at Eddy, New Mexico, are among surviving relatives. A wife, three daughters and a son are bereft members of his immediate family.

AMATEUR BURGLARS ENTER TWO BUSINESS HOUSES

Petty burglaries during the Thanksgiving week-end included break-ins at the Henderson Variety store and the Stewart cleaning establishment.

At Henderson's the burglars took a little cash and damaged the back entrance somewhat. At Stewart's entrance was not forced past the boiler room and the owner missed no money nor clothing.

Officers, who had no clues, thought the burglaries were the work of youthful amateurs.

Urges U. S. Rule

Individual incomes would be limited to $500,000 and federal control would be extended to include utilities, major industries and national resources under the proposal drafted by the National Farmers' Union, headed by John Vesecky, above.

Salina, Kan. Vesecky was elected president of the union at the annual convention at Oklahoma City, Okla.

Texas AAA Leader Pays Floyd Visit On Tour of State

H. H. Williamson Believes Ills Of Agriculture Can Be Remedied

The ill and maladjustments of agriculture in the nation, even the most serious conditions prevalent in the twelve southern states, will yield to treatment when the people of the country will have it so, believes H. H. Williamson, head of the Triple A administration and also of the Extension Service of A. & M. College of Texas.

Diminishing markets, soils wastage and heavy farm tenancy that combine to give the outlook the appearance of a "bunch of crepe," can and will yield to the determination of the American people when they get to the point where the job must be done, he said.

Williamson's remarks were made in the course of an address before the Rotary Club Wednesday noon. He was presented by D. F. Brudthauer, program chairman for the day, and a number of visiting Rotarians heard him, including Lloyd A. Wicks, S. E. Wicks, Jim Rankin, Bill Marr, and Glenn Moss, of Ralls, and Cannon Blount, of Lockney.

His visit to Floydada was a part of a plains visiting tour and he was accompanied by D. K. Edwards, district Extension Service agent for this area. He spent several hours in the local county agent's office and saw the workings of the county's agricultural committee and office personnel.

His remarks were general rather than specific, except for pointing to the fact that agriculture and its laborers have by far the smallest end of American income per family, and that in particular the southern states have suffered from lack of proper adjustments in the scheme of commerce and distribution. "Along with this lower income which southern farmers receive below the average of the country's agricultural workers as a whole, the man who serves southern agriculture also takes a penalty, said the speaker.

BURL BEDFORD TRANSFERRED TO PLAINS TERRITORY FOR TAX COLLECTION DUTIES

Burl Bedford, who for the past six months has been employed as a deputy collector of internal revenue for the Northern District of Texas in Dallas, has been transferred to Lubbock to serve an area of several counties for an indefinite period.

He was in Floydada visiting his brother and sister, Charlie and Emma Lou, Saturday and Sunday.

Blanco Rim Test Drilling At 2,550 Feet Tues. Noon

Drilling nearly 1300 feet within a week the Blanco Canyon oil test reached the 2550 foot level Tuesday without any trouble delay.

At that time the workmen were drilling a 13 1/2 inch hole but no casing was set there. Casing will be set at some future date, just when officials did not know.

Officials stated from now on drilling would proceed arily be much slower and would proceed at a slower rate than the 13 1/2 inch hole. The casing will be set in the hole and the casing back into the hole.

Cotton Warehouse Begun On Tuesday

Hamlin Men Establish Floydada Bonded Warehouse, Start Taking Staple

Near Gins

Former Location of Farmers Gin Company Taken Near North Main Street

Floydada Bonded Warehouse, qualified under the rules of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Cotton Commodity Corporation to receive and receipt for cotton, began business in Floydada Tuesday, receiving cotton and giving warehouse receipts.

At the same time actual construction of the warehouse was begun with probabilities that it will be complete the first of next week. Permission to begin taking cotton convenience of going to warehouses in adjacent counties is now being avoided by those who wish to take advantage of the Floydada concern's warehouse.

R. E. Johnson and L. H. McBride, of Hamlin, Texas, are the owners of the business here. Johnson will be active in its management, and is moving here with his family.

With probably two-thirds of the county's cotton crop already moved, and Floyd County surrounded by bonded warehouses the cotton from this area has been scattered to half a dozen cities and towns of this section.

However several thousand bales of cotton still are to move from the county and it is believed the warehouse here will be a distinct advantage to growers with cotton yet to move and an advantage, although a belated one, for Floydada as a business point.

Office personnel of the new business includes Buna Routree, Miss Monique Ferguson and Mrs. Johnson, the manager's wife, all of Hamlin and Roy Sherrod, sampler, of Swinson.

6-Year-Old, Playing With An Old Target, Shoots Little Brother

Bobby George Smith, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, one-half mile south of McCoy, was "doing nicely" last night in a Lubbock hospital where he is a patient with a .22 target bullet lodged above his heart.

He was shot Monday afternoon about 1 o'clock by his six-year-old brother, Billy Joe, who was playing with an old, discarded gun.

The parents are in Lubbock with their wounded son and have every hope he will recover, although the injury is gravely serious.

Mrs. Elvis Gill Hurt In Automobile Accident

Mrs. Elvis Gill suffered a seriously sprained back and possibly fractured ribs in an automobile accident on West Mississippi Street and the Matador-Plainview highway intersection early Wednesday morning.

The automobiles driven by Mrs. Mark Martin and Mrs. Gill struck at the intersection. Mrs. Gill's automobile was struck so that it hit the house owned by W. A. Savage, in which Cecil Gould and family now reside.

The house was damaged somewhat and a radio inside was knocked across a room. None of those in the house were injured.

Mrs. Martin suffered slight cuts and bruises. The automobiles were damaged.

HOLDING VERSUS SELLING

Many wheat producers who held their wheat are bemoaning their losses now who held past the high in the 1937 wheat market with part or all of their grain.

Perhaps they are right and this is not to say they are not. However, there is this important difference between wheat held in 1937 and cotton held in 1937, namely, that while the price offered for wheat represented a profit above the cost of production, the price offered for cotton does not.

Not to say that cotton will go a cent higher now or ever, but just to mention a thing that has often been true in times past, anything that has a market value below the cost of production is more likely to go up some than it is to go down some, and more likely to go up than something that already represents a profit at the price offered.

A PLUG FOR MR. ROOSEVELT

The president seems to have lost favor with many good men who wanted him to interfere with federal authority when sit-down strikes began in eastern factories. It is true and constitutional and certain that authority should have interposed. There can't be any question about that. My property is mine, yours is yours.

But it is also true there were plenty of policemen and sheriffs and constables—ample authority—in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, not to mention the state militia, to protect every human, every corporation, in their vested rights. The president had no business sending the army or even the G-men to usurp the authority of the local men charged with this important duty. Mr. Roosevelt knew it well and did as he did very sensibly.

RAILROADS ASK MORE REVENUE

Another increase in revenues is being asked by the railroads of the country, and the slogan adopted for the drive is "prosperous railroads are essential to a prosperous nation."

People generally will agree most heartily with the import of the slogan. Everybody likes to be proud of the railways which serve the country, especially those of their own communities.

Questionable, however, is the means to the end. It is regrettable the railroads are not running their own businesses so they could cut the rates instead of increasing them to get the greater volume they so need.

Incidentally for the record the railway companies' campaign follows squarely on the heels of the campaign that started last spring for increased wages for railway employees. The employees got their raise in the summer and the ink was not dry on the order until the railways had their broadsides out asking for increased rates. Everyday folks are beginning to wonder when the government commissions, the railways and their employes will recognize the fact that prosperous customers are essential to prosperous railroads.

THE RAILROAD'S SORE BACK

Wisdom is said to be that attribute which has you listening instead of talking when you lack knowledge. And knowledge, not so important, but important enough if you must write or talk, is relative only. For instance a farmer or a newspaperman might know that the freight rate on a bushel of wheat from Floydada to Fort Worth is 19 cents. That seems to be a self-evident fact. So far as the man who raises the wheat is concerned, it is a fact.

But the railroad man comes along and says that while such may be the truth so far as it applies to the farmer, it is not all the truth as applied to the freight hauler. For, not only must he haul the farmers' wheat to Fort Worth for 19 cents, it is in his contract that he must haul it on to Gainesville (at times), then re-load and haul to Galveston, and re-load again and haul it back to the neighborhood of Floydada, all for the 19 cents or a cent or two more that he charged the farmer to begin with.

So that when he says he must have more revenue he does not mean, necessarily, that he wants to charge the farmer any more for hauling to Fort Worth. He would like to get paid for hauling it the second time or at least the third time. Seeking redress from some of the many wrongs done him, he wonders why a country newspaper should hop on his sore back when the newspaperman could be writing about some subject on which he might, perchance, be informed.

YOU CAN'T HAUL YOUR OWN

If rumors are true, this business of hauling your own merchandise, wheat, lumber or whatnot for yourself in your own truck is going to be a thing of the past soon. Recently two or three fines have been plastered on fellows who did this after a practice they had followed a long time.

The Texas legislature has passed a law and the railroad commission has got around to its enforcement. Now, if you have a load of gasoline at a refinery in Wichita Falls or Borger you'll hire a man to go after it who has licensed permission of somebody down at Austin to do so, or if you feel you must go yourself you'll first spend the time and money it takes to get a permit. All for the best interests of society, you are told, and wonder who thought that up.

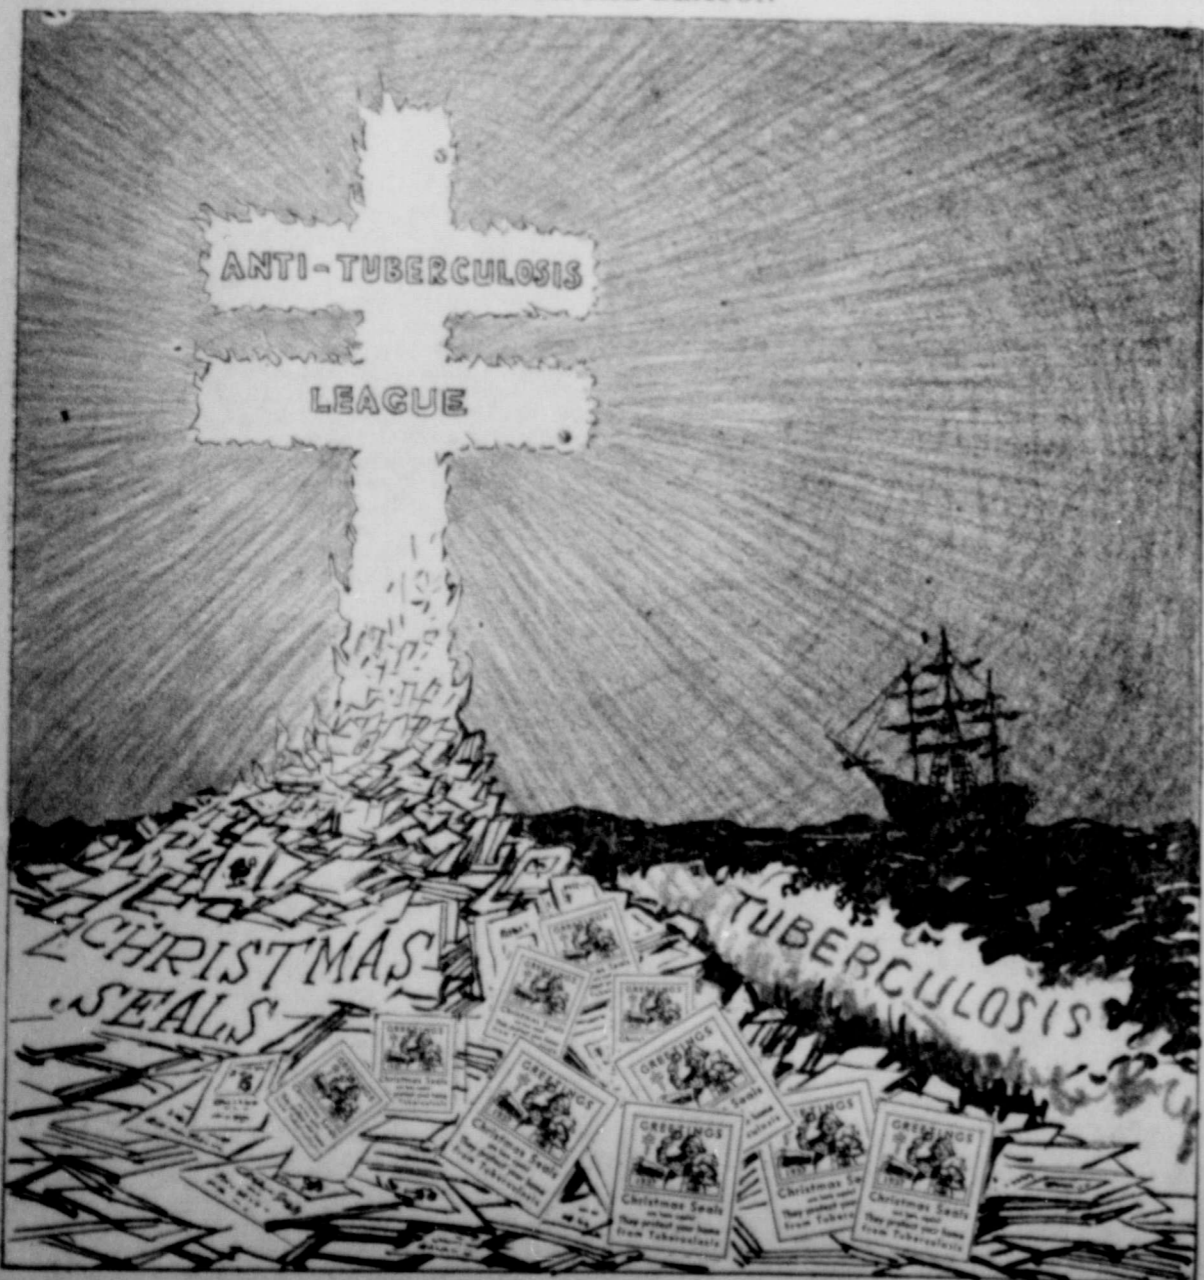

WE VIEW WITH ALARM!

The dog gonest thing you can imagine is the labor bill now being actually and seriously considered in the Congress of the United States. It is a bill that would set up an arbitrary "board" that would have the power to classify employers, employes and employment and give the board absolute power for the control of everything within range of these classifications. Everyone who works and everyone who hires would be thus regimented.

Instead of the immediate repeal of every form of restrictive law that would keep honest industry safe in its right and resources to employ honest labor, and of the right of labor to work or refuse to work on the same basis, the people are offered this outrage.

What in the world can grown men be thinking about who seriously offer such a thing to American people?

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Neille Witt Spikes

Thanksgiving day was spent with relatives in Amarillo. The swift going of the car gave the delightful sensation of flying. Pumpkin pie and turkey—all the fixin's. Happy people making merry round the table, putting off all formality. Eating till we felt gorged. Thankful hearts for the peace and plenty of our dear land.

Thankful for the beauty of our sunsets, for the clear bright sunshine, for the stars and the moon, for my friends and loved ones. Glad that I live in these good days and have the good old days that used to be, sweet and bright in our memories.

I am exasperated. I have found an old turkey hen ready to hatch little turkeys in the winter. What can I do? It is hard to throw away the eggs when I can hear "Perp, perp" in each egg. But it will be hard to huddle round and freeze.

Every day our Mexican neighbors come over and talk soft Spanish to the baby kittens. They seem to understand them as well as they do us. One kitten, braver than the rest, tries to climb out of her box. All have open unseeing eyes as yet. I might bring in the baby turkey and put with them for a believe it or not.

"You will never live to see the peacans bear you are planting" warned a neighbor some twenty years ago but for several years we have eaten peacans off our own trees.

Wishes. Wish my hair would turn as soft a white and as lovely as Mrs. Lincoln's has. Wish I had as merry a laugh as my friend Mrs. Orlie Ferguson has.

I have made a bit of winter garden in a fish bowl. First I put in a layer of coarse sand, then a layer of ground charcoal. An inch of good soil was then added and watered. I transplanted a violet, some johnnie-rump-ups and phlox to my garden. When the snow flies I can watch my miniature garden grow and bloom.

Rust

(Mary Carolyn Davies) Iron, left in the rain, And fog and dew, With rust is covered. Pain Rusts into beauty too.

I know full well that this is so: I had a heart break long ago. Yesterday a man who was hitch hiking his way to better cotton fields, rode several miles with us. We got a breath of the vast rose fields of Tyler, a vision of the oil derrick of East Texas, the sound of the wind through tall pine trees.

Did we not receive from this man more than we gave? Music by the mile, is what you hear when you go down our highways. Field larks sit on every post and sing. Sing about the weather whether good or bad.

"Salts is what you need for your rheumatism" said my brother, "Mix up a cup of Epsom salt in a quart of water keep handy and take a spoon full each day." I did as directed. Put it in a nice vinegar flask. My daughter

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

ISSUE OF DECEMBER 6, 1923

The Clarendon College Bulldogs went down in defeat 6 to 0 to the W. T. S. T. C. Buffaloes at Canyon last Monday afternoon. Two of the Floydada boys, Odus Mitchell and Clement McDonald made some excellent plays and won much admiration from those on the sideline for their work.

Two hundred and fifty persons ate dinner with the High School boys and girls on Thanksgiving Day, not to mention the considerable number who helped in serving the dinner which was held in the Montgomery building on the south side, from 12 until 2 o'clock.

Among the school pupils who were on the program were Wynell Masteron in soprano solos, Gladys Windsor and Elizabeth Pitts in piano solos, the high school orchestra in musical numbers and Milton Sims, Devie Williams, Georgie Lee Assiter, Margaret Sims, Pauline Rushing, Alma Doris Manning, Mildred Olson, Louise Threstian, Hazel Jones, Wilmina Salisbury and Evelyn Kizzar in readings. Choral selections were under the direction of Mrs. O. W. Kirk.

The dinner netted the funds of the school approximately $150.00.

If the weather stays bad in Floyd County the signs along the highway will be changed by springtime and instead of printing distance on the road signs the distance will be indicated in hours.

Friday afternoon the Ralls football team started to Plainview by way of Floydada. They expected to sleep in Plainview, but they stayed in Floydada because, although the sign says twenty-eight miles from Ralls to Floydada, the distance was exactly five hours and fifteen minutes for them, or more than 100 miles.

We do not know the exact distance from Floydada to the caprock, or from Floydada to Lockney, but it is without doubt greater than it has been in ten or twelve years. Lorraine Britton, Hollis Moore and Curtis Carter of Wayland College were visiting in Floydada last week end.

Prices of cotton and cottonseed continue good. Cotton has been selling from 28 to 35 cents throughout the week. Cotton seed opened this week at $42. Last week as high as $47.00 was paid for a short while.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The fight in Congress over the farm bill is on. But agriculture officials here do not expect any final action on farm legislation until the regular session which will follow the current or special session. They believe Congress is willing to give the country a new farm law, but that there will be debate and delay before a decision is reached on the point of how the cost of farm legislation shall be met.

When the Senate bill reached the floor, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, Republican, pointed to the section on appropriations which reads in part: "Beginning with the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1938, there is hereby authorized to be appropriated, for each fiscal year for the administration of this Act and for the making of Soil Conservation Act payments and parity payments under this Act, such sums as are necessary."

Senator Vandenberg protested that the bill as presented to the Senate does not specify how much money is needed or for what purpose it is to be used.

Senator Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina, chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture, amused his colleagues more than informed them with his answer: "Well, I don't know what the new farm program will cost. It will be on a sort of sliding scale."

Whatever is finally agreed upon as a fair estimate of the cost of the new farm legislation, there will be much difference of opinion over whether it should be paid for by processing taxes or by a general sales tax.

Chairman Marvin Jones of the House Agriculture Committee is in favor of a processing tax, while Chairman Ellison D. Smith of the Senate Agriculture Committee is opposed to this method. It is fairly representative of congressional sentiment on the question that one of the secret votes taken in the House Agriculture Committee to decide whether a processing tax on wheat should be recommended was 14 to 8 against that measure.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace and agriculture officials believe a processing tax is the way out. With the assurance that there will be $500,000,000 to spend on the farm program and the fore-knowledge that it will cost from $250,000,000 to $500,000,000 more to complete the program, they reason that a processing tax would raise the necessary funds by building up the consumer-price of commodities for which the market price is low.

To objections that this is unfair to the consumer their answer is that any price increase is a tax on the consumer, but that it is better for the consumer in the end to be required to pay 1/3 cent more for a loaf of bread because a processing cooked dinner, "What in the world is the matter with these pickled beets?" demanded my husband, "I never tasted anything so bitter."

tax on wheat had been imposed, than to pay a sales tax of 1 cent more for every loaf of bread. This widespread tax on sales they insist boosts the price of farm products and manufactured articles alike, and in many cases increases prices which are already unreasonably high.

There is provision in the Senate bill for payments to farmers who cooperate in soil conservation programs, and its authors claim for the law that it will provide an adequate and balanced flow of cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and rice in interstate and foreign commerce. The methods suggested for achieving that end so closely resemble those employed in the outlawed Agricultural Adjustment Act that the question of its constitutionality is certain to be brought up frequently in the fight ahead.

1937 Christmas Shopping Rush Begins With Bright Promise of Record Sales

WITH more money to spend than they have had in several years, America's Christmas shoppers have started the annual buying rush, bringing to business the bright promise of sales exceeding the record-breaking totals of last year.

Early buying has been brisk, retailers over the country have reported, although the actual holiday invasion of the stores is not expected to reach its stride until mid-December. With 21 shopping days in December, merchants anticipate the heaviest rush during Christmas week.

Purchasing trends point to conservative buying of useful articles, as was the case last year, although luxuries will not be neglected. Household furnishings, clothing, sports goods and automobile accessories hold the spotlight, but expensive liquors, perfumes and novelties have not been forgotten.

WELL-STOCKED stores await the buyers, and the shortages which confronted late purchasers in 1936 are not likely to be repeated. Since late summer increasingly heavy express and transport shipments have indicated retailers have been replenishing depleted stocks.

Almost any gift at a wide range of prices is available to the careful shopper. Lingerie, cosmetics, jewelry and clothing top the lists for women's gifts, with ties, clothing and accessories, sports equipment and motorizing aids for men.

Ultra-modern are the toys that will surround the 1937 Christmas tree. Streamlining is predominant in all wheel toys, mechanical trains, and airplanes. Semi-scientific toys are featured revealing the mysteries of radio, electro-chemistry and engineering.

sold. Musical toys approach a perfection comparable with that of the real instruments.

CHRISTMAS card sales have increased, and postal authorities are prepared for a deluge of mail greater than that of 1936. Already long lines have been forming before postoffice windows, and shipments to foreign countries have hit an upward surge.

Issuing the usual "Mail Early" pleas, postmasters cited delayed deliveries of a year ago, in an effort to avoid the last-minute jam.

Transportation facilities will be extended from the middle of the month until after New Year's as thousands trek homeward for the holidays. Extra trains and buses will be put into service and additional flights are planned by major airlines.

The poor, the sick and the aged will not be forgotten. Charitable agencies report ready response to appeals for funds and welfare authorities hoped that the demands would not approach the peaks of depression years.

Even in the face of a business "recession," Christmas, 1937, apparently will be one of the nation's merriest.

"We wish to thank everyone who helped to make this enjoyable occasion possible, by their presence and otherwise. We wonder what this world would be without friends and pray God's blessings on each and every one," was the word from the McLain home.

Sliding Mountain Dooms Area

Increasing danger that Los Angeles moving mountain soon may continue its plunge into the river 600 feet below brought orders for immediate evacuation of homes and buildings of the imperiled valley, shown in the above view from the mountain's crest. Geologists predicted an attempt to halt the slide of the two-million-ton mass of soil and rock probably would be futile. Two highways, bridges, and railroad tracks will be covered before the movement of the land mass is over.

S. A. GREER TELLS HIS STORY OF THE O'POSSUM AND THE HOLLOW COWBELL

As Alma said of Ed's writings of a farmer's life as he lives it. Ed was advocating the use of teams instead of tractors and claimed if farmers would do so that they would get better prices for their produce. Ed was a hundred per cent right there. Alma said that Ed just had to get it out of his system. Like Ed, I have to get something out of my system and before I tell the Possum Cow Bell story, I want to tell about a prank played by Wester on Mr. Manning.

Mr. Wester called Mr. Manning up and asked him if he was getting good telephone service.

"Yes, fairly good," Manning replied. "I am telephone inspector and if I do something to improve it, will it be all right?" asked Wester.

"Yes," replied Manning. "The better it is the better I like it."

"Blow lightly in the receiver," said Wester.

Manning did.

"Now, blow harder," said Wester. "A whole lot of other foolish things Wester asked, Manning obligingly did until Wester said, 'Step back and bray like a donkey'."

Not 'til then did it occur to Manning that Wester was having some fun at his expense.

Now with this out of my system I will tell the possum-cow bell story.

An old boy who liked possum most home and then he went and put a cow bell at the den's exit so that when the bell rung he could go and get his possum.

Sure enough, the possum bumped against the bell and nearly scared to death he jumped back and eyed it for awhile.

Since no more noise issued, the possum got pretty close to the bell and after scrutinizing it, he said, "Huh, you can make more noise to be so hollow than anything I ever bumped up against."

Like those candidates for the Legislature in their campaigns. They make a lot of noise and promise the dear voters, most of whom are farmers, everything, but after the election it seems they forget their promises to the farmers.

They go to Austin and get enacted some complicated law, good to no one except perhaps to a rich man or a cooperation.

No one can understand it but the Supreme Court and perhaps there is a five to four decision and a minority report. If the Legislature put in their time tending to their business and quit trying to run country schools the country would be a dickens of a sight better off and the old deluded farmers wouldn't be holding the sack waiting for the good times working like the dickens to make ends meet.

More anon.

Spur Awarded District Championship; Flomot Player Is Ineligible

One of the biggest "championship rows" in years has cropped up in District 4-B since the seasons regular football schedule ended in a dead heat between Spur's Bulldogs and Flomot's Longhorns.

The District 4-B Executive committee hit a sort of happy medium Friday by declaring Spur and Flomot co-champs of the district and then having the coaches of the two teams flip a coin for the honor of representing this district in the bi-district game against Wellington.

Flomot won on the coin flip and things looked rosy for the Longhorns until Spur gave notice that they would protest the eligibility of

Spur Swamps Floydada 32 To 0 In Turkey Day Game Played At Spur

The Spur Bulldogs calmed the Floydada Whirlwinds to a mild summer breeze last Thursday to romp to a 32 to 0 win.

The Bulldogs used everything except the concrete stadium on the hillside to win, and probably would have used it on the boys in Green had they had time to run up and pull it down.

The Bulldogs had the power to win but used plenty of under-hand stuff on the quiet to rub the victory in. The referees were blind to almost all of the elbows, knees and fists that were passed around.

Why the Bulldogs resorted to such means cannot be understood, especially after they had the game in the bag with a 19 to 0 lead.

The game was scarcely four minutes old when Bill Hahn swept around the Whirlwind left end for a score. The kick was wide.

Two In Second

The Bulldogs racked up two touches in the second stanza to grab the game.

A series of weak side plays and line smashes carried to the Floydada 5 yard stripe and from there Bob Harrell smashed the line for the second marked. Garner kicked the extra point.

Near the middle of the quarter the Bulldogs blocked one of McClung's boots on the 10 yards stripe but failed to recover. McClung kicked out to the Bulldog 40 where Harrell fielded the ball, cut down the west side line and behind good blocking scooted over for the third touchdown. The try for point was no good.

Final Chapter Sad

The third quarter was scarcely well underway when Harrell again broke through the Whirlwind front wall and scampered 60 yards for the fourth touchdown of the game.

The Whirlwinds opened up their razzle-dazzle but failed to have it click for any important yardage.

The Green and White flung passes and rammied the line like mad in the final period in an effort to score but could not gain any substantial yardage because of interceptions.

The fourth stanza was closing when Harrellson kicked out in "coffin corner" giving the ball to Floydada on the one-foot line. A line back made a yard but Elkins of Spur captured a forward pass on the 20 and raced back to the Floydada 1 yard line. Bingham went over standing up for the final marker of the game.

From the first it appeared that Spur team beat the Whirlwinds to the punch more ways than one. After the first two plays the Whirlwinds were on the heels from the rough-and-tumble style of play used by the Bulldogs.

Spur was out to win, and they won 32 to 0. How didn't seem to matter.

Football News In Other Camps

District 4-B has troubled times and more seem to be ahead. The title has been won and lost by the "protest" route. The same thing has happened in many other places over the state.

The protested schools feel that they have gotten "a raw deal" from their fellow schools and that their opponent won the title in an "underhand manner". Yet the league rules make it clear as to the result of using an ineligible player.

Sometimes the coach and the superintendent of the school may not know for certain the status of the player but they should, because they are taking a chance on losing a championship, hurting the boys who have won the title for the school, and causing hard feelings among the schools.

New Rules

"Better Safe than Sorry" should be the route chosen by the coaches and superintendents of the schools. If there is doubt as to a player's status it should be aired and definitely decided upon at a meeting held before the season begins.

The rules should be changed so that the district committee could "okay" a school's players at the beginning of the season and it would stand until the season's close. Any protest would have to be made then or none could be made later, when the championship of the district was decided.

If that could not be done, the penalty should be made stronger. The use of an ineligible player would make the school and team ineligible to win district title or play in the bi-district the following year and also would have to forfeit all of the games played that year.

No Rules

Rules are harmful because football is burdened with rules. League rules, football rules, school rules etc. until it takes a regular knowledge of law to thresh it all out.

But as long as there are rules the problem of eligibility will crop up and cause trouble. What the solution will be is hard to guess.

What About Ties?

From hearsay it seems that the school officials want a change in the "tie game" business. This old penetration, first down, yardage gained stuff is getting them down.

It seems that they are willing to advocate the system used in the Southwest Conference where a tied game counts as half a game won and half a game lost. That would do away with the penetration and first down figuring and would make things a lot simpler, they think.

It wouldn't hurt to try the scheme anyway because it seems to work in the college circuit without any rub.

William Bynum, end on the Longhorn team.

Saturday the committee reconvened at Matador to thresh out the Bynum vs Spur case. The committee adjourned at noon to gather more evidence and met again at 4 o'clock that afternoon to present the new facts.

The committee decided that Bynum had not passed the required number of courses in the spring semester of 1936-37 and therefore was not and had not been eligible to play ball for Flomot. The decision on Bynum automatically caused the forfeit of all games played by Flomot in which Bynum had participated.

The Flomot officials planned to take the case to the State Executive committee for a final decision and also planned the protest of two Spur players who were not named.

The committee also certified Spur as champion of the district and reported such to the state committee along with its decision.

The Santa Fe, during the past ten years, has paid more than 150 million dollars in taxes in support of the national government and state and local governments in the various states in which it operates.

The exact amount in accrued taxes paid out by the Santa Fe from 1927 to 1936, inclusive, was $150,453,714. Of this sum, $30,720,799 went to the federal government. Of the balance, $119,686,876 was paid to the state, county, and city governments of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and California. To other states and countries went $46,039.

Of the $119,686,876 paid by the Santa Fe to the state, county and city governments, over $50,000,000 went to support public schools which provide educational facilities for more than 7 million elementary and high school students in the states served by the Santa Fe.

The payment of so vast a sum in taxes by the Santa Fe is just another phase of the benefits accruing to the nation at large from an institution whose aim is to serve all to the best of its ability.

Practical DEPARTMENT COOKERY

DENTON, November 26—A wintry evening, blazing logs in the fireplace, and the children are having a party. To mothers who have learned the doughnut secret such parties may be more of a headache than a pleasure, but the wise ones have as much fun as the children.

Doughnuts can be kept fresh with wax paper and cookie jars, and nothing is better for cold weather refreshments. They will do more for your child's social success than a new bicycle.

Sweet Potato Doughnuts: (about 40 doughnuts) Force baked and skinned sweet potatoes through a sieve or ricer to make one cup. Add one cup brown sugar, two eggs (beaten), and four table spoons softened butter. Mix well. Sift five cups flour, three teaspoon baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt, and one-half teaspoon nutmeg. Add to potato mixture alternately with one-half cup sour milk, or orange juice. Roll to about one-half inch thickness on a lightly floured board, and cut with doughnut cutter.

Let stand ten minutes before frying in deep fat (375 F. or hot enough to brown a cube of bread in 60 seconds). As soon as the doughnuts rise, turn and fry until brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with mince meat sauce and hot coffee.

Molasses Doughnuts: (30 to 36 doughnuts) Sift five cups flour, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda, and one teaspoon ginger. Mix two eggs (beaten), one-half cup sour milk, one half cup molasses and two tablepoons melted butter. Add liquid mixture to dry ingredients. Use more if necessary to make dough soft enough. Roll to about one half inch thickness on lightly floured board. Fry in deep fat heated to 360-370 F., or until a cube of bread browns in 60 seconds. Turn doughnut as soon as it rises. Fry to golden brown on both sides. Drain on absorbent paper and sprinkle with powder sugar. Serve with hot punch.

Raised Doughnuts: (about 30 doughnuts) Cream four tablepoons butter and add gradually one-half cup sugar. Add one cup scalded milk which has been cooled to luke warm. Then, stir in one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon mace or nutmeg, one egg (well beaten), and one cake compressed yeast, dissolved in one-fourth cup lukewarm water. Add enough flour (about four cups) to make a moderately soft dough. Knead lightly. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place about one and one-half hours or until about double in bulk. Turn on lightly floured board. Roll to about one third inch in thickness. Cut with small doughnut cutter. Place on lightly floured board and let rise until light. Fry in deep, hot fat (375-385 F.) with side up which was next to board. Turn when under side is brown. Cook about four minutes or until golden brown and well done. Drain and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Serve with hot coffee or mocha chocolate.

Mrs. A. J. Welch spent Tuesday in Lubbock on business.

On The Garden Path

Conditioning Soil in Flower Beds
If you want more beautiful and more healthful flowers in your flower beds next year, condition your soil this fall. Loosen the soil and add several buckets full of sand to lighten it, then add a generous supply of bone meal as food, and a portion of peat moss to hold the moisture. Mix all thoroughly and smooth down until even. You will be well paid for your effort by a more luxuriant growth next year.

Plants That Like Lime
There is a large group of plants that thrives best in a soil that has lime in it. Some of these are nasturtiums, hawthorns, the shrubby clematis, also the large flowered clematis climber. Most of the blue flowering plants like lime.

Poppies, alyssum, carnations, asters and the tall bearded iris are definitely lime likers.

Norman Home At Wake Is Destroyed By Fire

Residence and Contents Lost at Cost of $4,000 When Small Jar of Gasoline Ignites

The Bill M. Normans of Wake did not make their planned visit with relatives on Thanksgiving Day. Instead they stayed at home and began gathering up their few personal belongings while they house-hunted.

Wednesday afternoon about 2:30 their home and all its contents was destroyed by fire. A small jar of gasoline with which Mrs. Norman planned to do a little last-minute cleaning, burst, presumably from heated gas pressure, in the kitchen of the home.

The slight noise of the exploding jar attracted Mrs. Norman's attention, but as she ran to get clothes with which to mop up the gas, vapors ignited from a fire in the room and soon the entire building was burning.

The Normans had completed remodeling and re-furnishing their home only this summer. The loss is estimated by Mr. Norman at about $4,000.

SHOULD CONTROL GULLY BEFORE IT 'GROWS UP'

The time to start controlling a gully is before the gully "grows up," says the Soil Conservation Service.

A little attention to natural waterways in the early spring or late fall may save a big "doctor's bill" later.

Before a natural draw in a cultivated field shown signs of gully-ing, it should be seeded to well-adapted grasses.

Vegetation in the waterway spreads surface water more evenly and lessens the danger of erosion damage by preventing its rapid concentration in a narrow channel.

Such vegetated waterways can easily be moved and often provide a supplemental hay crop.

State recommendations should be followed with regard to kinds and amounts of seed mixture to use. Rates of seeding should be slightly greater than for general pasture or meadow seeding because a denser and more rapid growth is important.

WHEAT STORAGE BUILDING INCREASE IN SOUTHWEST

A movement during the past 10 years toward constructing modern wheat-storage space in the Hard Winter wheat area of the Southwest is reported by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

A large portion of this new storage has been built at country points and subterminal points in the growing sections. New storage has been built at terminal points, also, particularly at Kansas City and Omaha.

This probably means that less wheat is being stored on farms, that more is being stored at concentration points in producing areas and that the terminal markets are storing

Roy L. Haynes Visits Mother At Thanksgiving

Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Haynes, of Austin, were here last week end for a Thanksgiving visit with Mr. Haynes' mother, Mrs. Maggie Haynes, 429 West Missouri Street, ending their visit Sunday morning when they left returning to their home.

Mr. Haynes is an interviewer for the State-Employment Service, and although now located with some permanency at Austin, spent much of the cotton harvest season at various points over the state in the labor placement service.

Haynes made an unusual record in his examinations to enter the employment service this spring, placing tenth man out of a list of some 2,500 who took the examination.

ing smaller proportions of the total. An important factor in this increased use of public storage rather than farm storage is said to be the increased use of the combine harvester. Another factor is the desire of millers for virgin, county-run wheat.

Especially significance attaches to the storage situation in view of pending proposals for wheat crop insurance. If storage supplies of wheat are to be paid back to producers in time of crop failure, there is need for adequate and properly supervised storage of grain at country points, says the Bureau.

U. S. HAS MORE LAND IN ROW CROPS THAN EUROPE

Europe—outside of Russia—has almost the same total acreage of cropland as the United States, says H. H. Bennett, Chief of the Soil Conservation Service.

But Europe has only 65 million acres in row crops compared with the United States' 155 million acres. In other words, the United States, with the same area of cropland as Europe exposes two and a half times as many acres to the more serious forms of erosion. Moreover, in most of Europe the rains do not come in such sudden, dashing downpours as over that part of the United States where the row crops are found.

This combination of dashing rains and vast acreages in row crops has invited the terrific erosion now common in many States

SHORT WAVE RADIOS AID FOREST SERVICE RANGERS

In 5 years, the number of short-wave radio sets in use in the woods and mountains of the United States National Forests has increased from 300 to 2,300.

Prat used to maintain communication with fire crews in the Pacific Northwest, the small portable set has now been adopted by every forest region under the supervision of the United States Forest Service.

Some of the portable sending and receiving sets developed by the Service weigh as little as 8 pounds, yet have ranges of 10 to 50 miles.

The Forest Service uses the radio for emergency communication to supplement its tens of thousands of miles of telephone lines and other means of communication in the National Forests.

"SPORTSMANSHIP"

Each year there is an editorial written on "sportsmanship." To some people this is an uninteresting topic chiefly because they are not good sports themselves. However, to those who earnestly strive to be good sports not enough can be said on the subject.

As the contest for a grid queen was held last week a fine opportunity presents itself for us to show ourselves good winners and losers. The seniors should work as hard showing their ability to be winners as the other classes work to be good losers. It is not the contestants who have to show the sporting side, but each class as a whole.

In the near future are the "folies." In this event each class will show its character. Is your class a good sport? May people say about each class in Floydada High School "That class (and each individual in it) is the best sport I have ever seen."

Football is the best sport in which to show good sportsmanship. To lose a game only makes us try harder next time to win. If a game is lost it cannot be bettered by our criticism and ill-feelings. Let's try to be careful in our feelings, and ask ourselves "Am I a good sport?"

Hit Of The Week

Harbor Lights

I saw the Harbor Lights
They only told me we were parting.

The same old Harbor Lights
That once brought you to me.

I watched the Harbor Lights
How could I help it tears were starting?

Goodbye to tender nights
Beside the silvery sea.

I longed to hold you near
And kiss you just once more,
But you were on the ship
And I was on the shore.

Now I know lonely nights
For all the while my heart is whispering
Some other Harbor Lights
Will steal your love from me.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

Do you remember when in about the second week of your freshman year you had to write a theme on your first day in high school?

Do you remember when the teacher read a chapter of some book every day after the lunch hour?

Do you remember when your room had to put on the chapel program and the teacher thought she had to have the whole class on the stage at least once, so up you would march stiff backed and stiff kneed and hands pointed at the sides and toes on the mark to sing "America the Beautiful" and "Onward Christian Soldiers"?

Do you remember how Physical Education with its note books, rules and regulations gave you such a pain in the neck (and the back)?

Do you remember what a commotion there was among the seventh grade girls (Juniors girls now) the day Mr. Carter came back for a visit?

Do you remember (second grade East Ward) when Gloria came rushing in one morning crying, "Oh teacher I have a new baby brother at my house?"

Do you remember the day the seventh grade boys (now proud juniors) were to have a new teacher after Mr. Davis had told them that the man's name was Winter that James Fry wrote on the black board "Welcome Mr. Summer"?

If you remember these things, you have some idea about the members of the Junior Class plus the new members that have joined the class, they still let everyone know that they are in school.

Freshman Class Shows Progress Made At F.H.S. During First Half Year

Every class in high school usually attempts to perform some good deed, toward interest and welfare of the school and community.

Paper on the floors, in the classrooms and hallways, lunch papers on the school grounds have a tendency to give an undesirable effect. The class, in a cooperative effort wish to keep our school premises free from all debris.

We, as a first year high school class, wish to be of more service to our friends and classmates, as we progress in our school work. In our attempt to win first place honors in raising money for football sweaters, we extend to all our friends who had a part in the campaign our sincere and hearty appreciation for your help.

This year, the freshmen are taking an active part in all the school activities.

In the band, we have: Buddy Norman, Mary Ann Norris, Donald Cornelius, Clyde Smith, Greer McCleskey, Jo Arvine, LeRoy Chowning, and Claude Smith.

Many Freshmen participate in the activities of the pep-squad. These are: Betty Jo McCleskey, Eugenia Martin, Helen Woodward, Maxine Officer, Aileen McIntyre, and Norma Mae Harris.

The class appreciates their efforts on the grid-iron.

Our class was organized near the beginning of the term, but no special projects were discussed at that time, but we hope to add to our activities in the future.

FOOTBALL QUEEN ELECTION PROVIDES THRILLS GALORE

The Floydada High School football Queen has at last ascended her throne and is now ruling with a gracious hand. The student body elected the Queen by penny votes and the election proved extremely exciting what with Bates, Watson, Legs, and Ham dashing about madly writing checks and borrowing money. The campaigning was enthusiastic from the start to finish.

When the final vote was counted Beth Newton was elected queen and Nell Patton was the runner-up. The race between these two candidates was close, the Freshman and Sophomore candidates also figured prominently in the contest. Jeannette Bralton was the Freshman candidate and Mary Louise Medlen the Soph candidate.

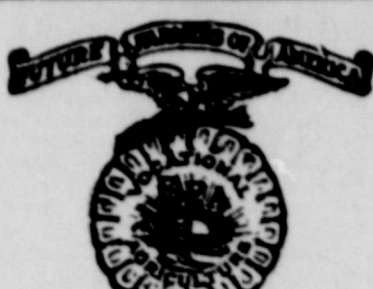

These four girls were definitely royal looking, and it was quite a problem to decide which to vote for. At the Spur—Floydada football game, Beth Newton was presented and crowned official football queen. Here's to our queen and her court—long may she rule our hearts!

Chapel

Wednesday morning the assembly was entertained by a chorus of women who are part of the group which is to sing Christmas Carols on the courthouse lawn Christmas night.

The objective of their visit to high school was not only to entertain but also to promote and interest the students of Floydada High School in music. An effort to organize a group of boys and girls from high school in a chorus of women is directed by Miss Stuart of Andrews Ward. The first number sung by the chorus was "Love's Old Sweet Song" followed by "Go Lovely Flowers."

Wednesday afternoon another Chapel was called to get the final votes in the election of the football queen. One sponsor of each class was called to the front and every person who wished to cast more votes, a penny each was asked to come and vote. A close race between the classes ensued with excitement running high. At last it seemed that all the votes had been cast. The students read their classes, or tried to, but some could get their mind on anything until after the winner had been announced. When all the votes had been counted the president of the senior class announced in each class room that Beth Newton was the winner. Everyone was a good sport about it, and all were proud of the queen.

GREENHANDS INITIATED AT AGGIE MEETING NOV. 16

The first year ag. classes of Floydada were formally initiated to the ranks of the Greenhands on Nov. 16. After the opening ceremony business was disposed of and the minutes read. Several songs were sung by the members and the initiation began. Several amusing pranks were played upon the first year boys. The meeting was one of the best of the year.

The greenhands that were initiated last year are ready to become Future Farmers. This will take place in Lorenzo as Mr. Stricklin, the advisor, invited the third year boys down for the initiation. There the boys will probably get new ideas of chapter conducting.

The first year classes are making their fundus now and studying the fundamentals of sorting.

Two of the first year boys James Turner and Joe Schultz, are making feeders.

The second year class is now studying government statistics on the production and price of wheat and cotton for a number of years previously.

Home Ec Department Sports News

The Home Economics Department is feeling very dressed up. The dining room is especially attractive with its new pale green walls. The walls were tinted to bring out the richness of the dining room suite and to lend a cheerful atmosphere to the room. The adjoining Foods Laboratory has many small improvements also. Shiny new towel racks were attached to the walls and other new implements held to make the laboratory a more enjoyable room in which to work.

In the teacher's room the floors have been polished into a mirror-like surface. The curtains and chair covers are gay and restful. This room is truly festive since it has been re-decorated.

In other words the Home Economics department and the teachers are a source of pride to the F. H. S. students and faculty.

Green Peppers

The green peppers were very unhappy and sentimental over the last rally and game of the season. The girls yelled and yelled Wednesday night at the rally and were ready to yell even more at the Thanksgiving day game. The peppers didn't have a formation as the queens of the different teams were on parade. We were especially proud of our queen, Beth Newton, and we thought she was the prettiest.

Plans are rushing forward concerning our banquet—at which time we plan to introduce the 1938-39 pep leaders and capetains.

When The Floydada Hi Team Falls In Line

When the Floydada Hi team falls in line
We're gonna win again another time
For the football boys we'll yell a yell
We're yelling for the team we love so well
We're gonna fight, fight, fight for every score
Circle ends and then we'll win some more
We're gonna roll die—in the sod, I said the sod,
So ya team fight.

BASKETBALL SEASON

The Whirlwinds will begin practicing for the basketball season next Monday. The manager and the boys are now cleaning the old equipment so that it may be stored away until next football season, when it will be used for Spring training.

Boys whether you live in the country or not you can come out for basketball, see Coach Winter before Monday, and he will get you lined up for the incoming season.

So each and every boy who likes to play basketball see Coach Winter and let's have the best basketball team in the district.

Whirling Along With The Gossip

It was a cold, Sunday night. Found in church Keith, Jo, Somer and Gloria. Now, folks it is heard that Somer made the remark, "I feel like an Angel."

We'll folks this is rather late but a special request was made to put in the following sentence: "Why did Jo Troutman drive up on the curve when a certain blue pick-up whizzed by?"

At the home of our beloved queen Beth, three unexpected guests in the form of Bobby, Stinky and Guber arrive around 7:30 last Saturday night. The four of them decided to make a nice pan of fudge and the boys diligently began to mix the cocoa and sugar (a bit of pop-corn was also added on the sly.) You can imagine the surprise of Bobby and Beth when they bit into it.

Believe it or not the Seventh Period study hall has at last lived upon a bit at the sight of the football players. For once there is a slight bit of noise and the entire study-hall sounds like the grid-iron during a ball game. Hip hooray and rah for the Whirlwinds.

Football want ad.—Guber Gibbs—a date with the following qualifications: Sixteen, red hair, freckled faced, must be able to milk a cow in three seconds, good shoes that will stand plenty of walking.

Is Bobbie good at answering questions? Well what do you think? She is also wondering about a certain long distance telephone call.

These big football heroes certainly made some people mad when they took the fairest girls home from Midge's party without giving some people a chance eh, Guber, Somer, Keith, etc?

With courage and undauntedness the few pep girls at Spur really went to town on this yelling business.

Hip, hip, hooray for Queen Beth. She can sure make F. H. S. proud of their election. P. S. She's perfect.—Guber.

Lost one ticket. Miss Fouts had every member of the press staff looking for it, amen.

Why has Miss Rees been so silent about her Thanksgiving vacation.

Home Ec Club

The Home Economics club met Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Foods Lab. An interesting and fitting program was given by various members of the club.

The president of the club, Benja Johnson, took charge and introduced the first number which was a violin solo by Muriel Fagan accompanied by Nelida Fagan. This was followed by a talk on the first Thanksgiving by Dorris Jordan, special music by Sappho Ward, and a talk on Thanksgiving in Canada by Dorothy Dell Stovall.

Plans for the year were discussed. Work for next future consist of a joint meeting with the FFA boys and the annual Christmas party. The club expects to be very active this year and is planning to attend the State Home Economics meeting. The club then adjourned.

Band Notes

"Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue." Although there is nothing old or blue, and this little verse pertains to a bride, the band is doing something new.

Every morning, much to the pleasure of the first period study-hallers, the band is herded into Mr. Williams' room to be taught the higher fundamentals and general principles of music.

For the last two weeks, the forty-five minutes have been taken up by the study of the key of music and scale building. The key of music concerns all the sharps and flats, where to put them and how to put them.

The building of scales take in the key the scales is to be built, the note it is to be started on, the number of sharps or flats to be used and where to put them. A note book is being made of the things that are studied and as time goes by, the book will be gradually filled in.

What We Read

I have nothing on earth to say, and I'm going to say it.—J. P. Morgan, on his return to the United States from a trip abroad.

It will be a good day for this world when men learn that "Character" spells "Success"—Hodges.

The only correct actions are those which need no explanation and no apology.—From Auerbach "On the Heights."

The radio commentator's world's eye view of the game.—Ulmer Turner.

If a man does better than he knows, it is an accident.—J. Howard Williams.

"As they grow older, human beings wear the faces they deserve."

Knowledge is of two kinds. We know a subject ourselves or we know where we can find the information upon it.—Samuel Johnson.

A friend is the person who knows all about you and still likes you.

You can tell a man's character if you know what makes him glad.—What makes him sad—and what makes him mad.

You are on the moral toboggan slide if you think "no" and act "yes"—Gloria Young.

Every Day Manners

(Taken from Etiquette by Emily Post)

Don't encircle a plate with the left arm while eating with the right hand.
Don't push back your plate when finished.

Don't lean back and say "I'm through." The fact that you have put your fork or spoon down, shows that you have finished.
Don't ever put liquid into your mouth if it is already filled with food—if you really mean "filled." You might have a little bread left in your mouth when you drink your coffee, if it is so little as to be undetectable to others.

Don't mess your food about until your plate looks like the dog's dinner.
Don't apologize and thus call attention to anything as unpleasant as, having to blow your nose at table. The only thing to do is to end it as quickly as possible.

Don't chew with lips open and never eat or drink audibly.

One Minute Interviews

Question: What type of chapel program do you like best? Answers: Miss Wolfe: Singing and lots of music. Fewer talks.

Helen Woodward: Any kind just so that it is nice and long.

R. E. Gollightly: Oh I don't know. Most anything that will contrive to make me miss a class instead of a study hall.

Martha Yearwood: Musical! Because I always go to sleep during talks.

Phil Steen: Phooey to anything that won't keep me from yawning.

Bruce Foster: Well, personally, it doesn't make much difference to me.

Anita Jo Jenkins: I like excitement, jokes, and something that everyone can join in.

W. C. Boren: I like for the band to play when everyone comes in.

Carl Minor: Something funny.

Miss Copeland: Oh, I like music better than any other type.

Leeman Norman: I like variety.

Evelyn Groves: I like the kind where Mr. Cummings teases people.

Miss Rees: I like the ones where we are led in songs or the band plays.

It is interesting to peek into the private lives of a few of high school students. Especially is this true on Thanksgiving because they enjoy holidays. When asked how they spent Thanksgiving:

Aileen McIntyre: "I especially enjoyed four turkey dinners and went to the show."

Marjorie Kirk: "I went to Lubbock, to the show, and to a party."

Martha Yearwood went to the Spur ball game, to the show, and feasted on a turkey dinner.

Ellen Brock seemed satisfied at the memories of a turkey supper.

L. T. Hickerson seemed to enjoy a turkey supper to an unbounded extent. (I wonder if it was the supper).

Mary Louise Tubbs visited her sister in Jonesboro.

Roaring Springs and Spur are popular places, eh, Lottie Bell?

Poetry in the making and heading maize seems to be a chief interest of some people. What about, Ima Ruth?

Some people are industrious. Even a Freshman (Buddie Norman) works on Thanksgiving.

To enjoy every show of a week-end and two holidays is going some. Evelyn (Fawver) and Alice (Rawlings) must surely like shows. However, they were sly about their answers.

Dorothy Fuqua, you are a mysterious person. The idea of running from a reporter, because you are afraid to report your actions on Thanksgiving.

Myra Louise Harris: "I went to the ball game and had company from Canyon."

Mary Jo Horn must surely like school to visit it on a holiday.

"It wouldn't do to tell," says Frances Copeland.

Winnie Reba likes shows too, no?

A great big juicy dinner was most welcome to Benja Johnston.

Hauling cotton is a good pastime. Henry, did you enjoy it?

Evelyn Beck wonders who had the best turkey dinner Thursday.

She is inclined to think she had the best.

The more the merrier and so many of the students had company during the holidays. Mary Wilson and Leila Faye Hicks had company from Lubbock.

Sappho caught two fish, went hunting, and most everything else. She visited in East Texas.

Some people (Leighton Teeple) tried to make me believe they stayed at home!

Esther Finkner: "I ate until I nearly busted."

Spur was not the only town with a ball game for a main attraction.

Edna Mae Smith enjoyed the Crosbyton game.

Mary Lee O'Bannon said: "You'd be surprised."

Lynn Colville spent a happy Thanksgiving—entertaining a bad cold (in bed).

Beth Newton had a happy experience—wearing crowned football queen. A few had a busy day. For instance, Vera Nell Hodges, played monopoly, sewed, slept, and most everything all in one day. "I had a good time" is all Charles Dennison would say.

If I'm not mistaken I saw the old love light in his eyes. Duck dinner; Alene, did you enjoy it?

Of course, all of the football boys attended the game, and most of the pep girls too.

The funny part—some won't admit what they did! For instance, James Fry said when asked what he did "I don't know—I went to the ball game."

1938 Ford On Display In Floydada

Shop Motor Company Shows New Ford V-8 Lines This Week

Distinct Lines Are Made Differently This Year

The 1938 Ford V-type, eight-cylinder automobiles are now on display at Bishop Motor Company's showroom. At this time only a few 1938 Ford V-8s are in stock. The complete order has not been placed as yet. Other new styles and lines are on the floor within a short time as it is understood.

The new style Ford line includes the Tudor and the Phaeton. Both front and rear seats are wide enough for three persons. Seat cushions and backs are finished in piping and pillow treatment. In the de luxe cars the finish is set off with rows of ornamental buttons. Ash trays are recessed in rear seat arm rests of the de luxe closed sedans.

Light taupé mohair or broadcloth is optional in the closed de luxe cars. Tan hand buffed antique finish genuine leather or taupé bedford card in the convertible and tan leather in the phaeton. The seat cushion and back of the rumble seat in the convertible cabriolet is finished in artificial leather.

In the standard line, mohair and broadcloth are optional in cars equipped with the 85 horsepower engine. The mohair is available only on special order in the 60 horsepower cars.

The driver seats of all cars except the phaeton are adjustable and the amount of adjustment has been increased.

One of the unusual new features is the front seat of Tudor sedans. The seat cushion is full width. Seat backs are divided, each being hinged diagonally so as to swing inward as it is tipped forward. This provides a wide passageway on either side for entrance to the rear compartment.

The two lines of cars have the improved V-8 chassis, but their appearance is distinctly different. The de luxe cars are larger in appearance. The hood has been lengthened. Its nearly vertical front is angled in a "V" well down into the radiator grille, with the familiar V-8 emblem at the tip of the "V". Horizontal lines of the grille bars and louvers are echoed in a bright chrome steel band which is carried from the front to the rear.

The new standard line cars also present a larger appearance, with a newly designed front end, grille, hood and fenders. The front end is finished in a "V", with the horizontal grille bars extending unbroken along the hoodside to form the louvers.

Fenders in both cars are massive, angled lower to provide more complete coverage of the running gear and extending farther back. Headlamps are again recessed in front fender aprons, new type tail lamps at the tips of rear fenders.

Interiors of the two cars are cozy and attractive, styled in keeping with the exteriors. The de luxe sedan interiors are larger. A new instrument panel adds measurably to the beauty of the car compartment. The panel of the de luxe line cars is in walnut grain finish, that of the standard cars in mahogany finish.

Instruments are arranged in two groups directly in front of the driver. In the middle of the panel is a grille, for radio speaker installation when specified. At the right is a glove compartment. In de luxe cars a lock is provided for the compartment and a clock is recessed in the compartment door.

Instruments in both cars are lighted by improved fringe illumination, designed to provide safer lighting for night driving. Interior lights are located on the right and left pillars of the sedans and over the rear windows of coupes.

Steering wheels of the de luxe cars are of flexible multiple steel spoke type, with hubs of rich brown bakelite material and rims of lighter contrasting color. Standard car steering wheels are of three-spoke type, finished in beige. The upper spokes are widely spaced.

Night driving safety is also increased by addition of a headlamp beam control on the toe-board of both lines. The control is operated by the foot. A left-tail light on the instrument panel indicates the position of the beams, whether high or depressed.

Both front and rear seats are wide enough for three persons. Seat cushions and backs are finished in piping and pillow treatment. In the de luxe cars the finish is set off with rows of ornamental buttons. Ash trays are recessed in rear seat arm rests of the de luxe closed sedans.

Light taupé mohair or broadcloth is optional in the closed de luxe cars. Tan hand buffed antique finish genuine leather or taupé bedford card in the convertible and tan leather in the phaeton. The seat cushion and back of the rumble seat in the convertible cabriolet is finished in artificial leather.

1938 Ford V-8 Standard Tudor Sedan

Most popular of all the Ford V-8 body types is the standard Tudor sedan, shown above. A longer hood, more sweeping lines and newly designed front end, grille, louvers, fenders and hubcaps are featured. The car is available either with 85 horsepower or 60 horse-power V-8 engine. Interiors are attractively appointed. The front seat is full width. The seat back is divided.

The sections are hinged diagonally and swing inward as they are tipped forward so as to leave a wide passageway on either side for entrance to the rear seat. Like all Ford body types the Tudor sedan has a large built-in luggage compartment. The standard cars are engineered for owners who demand the maximum of economy in first cost and operating cost.

The de luxe cars are larger in appearance. The hood has been lengthened. Its nearly vertical front is angled in a "V" well down into the radiator grille, with the familiar V-8 emblem at the tip of the "V". Horizontal lines of the grille bars and louvers are echoed in a bright chrome steel band which is carried from the front to the rear.

A new instrument panel adds measurably to the beauty of the car compartment. The panel of the de luxe line cars is in walnut grain finish, that of the standard cars in mahogany finish.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pundt and little son, Donald Joe, of Borger were here for the week end as guests of her mother, Mrs. A. D. White and other relatives.

Announcing TWO NEW FORD V-8 CARS FOR 1938

THE DE LUXE 85 HORSEPOWER

DE LUXE FORD V-8 . . . 112" wheelbase; 85-horsepower engine; Improved Easy-Action Safety Brakes; Center-Poise Ride; All-steel body; Mohair or Broadcloth upholstery; Walnut-finished trim; Twin horns, tail lights, sun visors; Clock; 6.00" black tires, white side-walls are extra; 8 body types; 6 colors.

FORD offers two new cars for 1938—the Standard Ford V-8 and the De Luxe Ford V-8. They are different in appearance—but built to the same high standard of mechanical excellence—on the same chassis.

Because people liked our 1937 car so well, they bought more than of any other make. They liked its looks, its smooth performance, and the way it handled. We have improved on that car in the newly styled Standard Ford V-8.

But some folks wanted still more size and style, with the same Ford advantages. For them, we designed a new De Luxe line.

The De Luxe Ford V-8 Sedans are longer with more room, larger luggage space, and finer appointments all around.

De Luxe cars are equipped with the 85-horsepower engine only.

The Standard is even lower priced than the De Luxe. It has graceful new lines and well-tailored interiors—with a choice of engine sizes—85 or 60 horsepower.

Before Ford made V-type 8-cylinder engines available to every one, they were used only in expensive cars. Since then, four million Ford owners have learned the genuine enjoyment of driving an eight-cylinder car with all-around economy. The thrifty "60" engine, especially, makes possible in Standard models a very low first cost and equally low operating cost. With two distinct designs, two engine sizes and two price ranges, you'll find a 1938 Ford car to fit your needs exactly.

Meanwhile women of the community who will join in the carols are practicing under the leadership of the Mother Singers, and this week it was announced that students of Floydada high school will join in the caroling. ### MRS. GUTHRIE AND NEW SON HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. A. E. Guthrie and little son are at home from a hospital in Plainview having arrived Sunday.

Dr. Guthrie accompanied his wife and son and reports them doing nicely.

BORN—to Mr and Mrs. Jodie Boothe, Saturday, November 27, a daughter.

Farm Leaders—

(Continued from page 1) agriculture which apparently must be attacked on a national basis, there are also matters of economic betterment in Texas which are personal and can be reached only by the individual in the farming industry. Mr. Williams said, as for instance Congress cannot make Texans raise a million more hogs a year and consume them nor have us feed our kids sweetmilk instead of branch water. He expressed the belief that when Texas farmers reach that stage in their reasoning as did the Danes 150 years ago, when they said to themselves "Can I Live?" the by-product of their effort may be the same as in Denmark where is the most prosperous agriculture now in the world. "Our thinking processes in our country are now centered about the questions how can I get rich, how can I own more lands, and have resulted in a by-product of a standard of living which we find very hard to maintain," Mr. Williamson said.

Farmers are studying their own farms, their own production and marketing problems as never before, and will eventually work out what we know as the agricultural problem, Williamson declared, turning himself a conservative optimist.

Swims To Health

Splashing and swimming is fun for little Leonard Borrys, shown above in the pool in a New York hospital for ruptured and crippled children where she is learning to use her legs again under the direction of Nurse Mary Ruch. In the buoyant waters of the pool, unused muscles are exercised and restored to normal activity.

Child Falls Under Plow Badly Injured

John, Four Year Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lloyd Receives Broken Arm and Leg

John, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lloyd, who live in the Lakeview community, was very seriously injured Friday afternoon, when he fell from an engine into the path of a one-way plow. One leg and an arm were broken and his hand and foot were badly cut.

Mr. Lloyd, with the child were riding on the engine, he took his hands off the child only for a second to adjust the engine when the child fell to the ground in the path of the plow.

John was carried immediately to a Lubbock hospital where he will probably be for a couple of weeks. Last report from him indicate his condition as resting satisfactorily.

ONE-VARIETY COTTON SHOWN ADVANTAGEOUS, PROFITABLE

How can cotton farmers grow quality cotton, collect the premiums on quality to which they are entitled, and at the same time protect the purity of their seed? A plan already tested in Georgia, Mississippi, and Texas is discussed by Eugene Butler in a leading article in The Progressive Farmer, from which we quote:

"The one-variety cotton community, while not always entirely satisfactory, is the best approach to this problem so far suggested.

There have been instances in Texas where one-variety communities have grown good, hard-bodied, inch cotton on which they have established a reputation for a quality product, only to have their market ruined by neighboring farmers who trucked inferior cotton into the section.

Of course, in these cases, a better hog-wood price was paid while the community enjoyed its enhanced reputation but since the cotton was not classed, there was no way to protect the market against inferior cotton from the outside. This emphasizes the urgency of the need for a South-wide cotton classing system, preferably federally supported, that will enable the farmer to know soon after ginning the grade and staple of his cotton and the price which it should bring.

"There are, however, numerous one-variety communities, that have been successful in growing superior cotton and getting paid substantially for it. In 1935 there were more than 300 of these groups which planted an aggregate of 900,000 acres. Georgia, Mississippi, and Texas have taken the lead in the work. In Georgia 124 communities in 50 counties planted 150,000 acres under this plan. It is estimated that increased returns for the last three years, as a result of one-variety planting, amount to $2,500,000."

Turkey Market Opens For Christmas This Week-End, Dealers Say

Christmas turkey market in this local will open this week-end, local dealers this week said, but it was not indicated what the offering per pound will be.

Supply of the turkeys will not be as plentiful locally as during Thanksgiving, dealers say, who believe that more than half the turkeys in the area were sold in November.

TWO OIL COMPANIES ARE INTERESTED IN AREA

Two companies which recently entered this section to take on leases are the Stanolind and the Humble. The former is said to have taken a forty-thousand acre block in the southwest part of Motley and the northwest part of Dickens Counties, mostly Matador Land & Cattle Company land. The Humble is said to have leased the remaining acreage of the Matador in Floyd and Motley Counties.

The Pure Oil Company, which has had Geotechnical Service, Inc., "shooting" a wide area of the county from South Plains, approximately south to near Floydada and west to the vicinity of Sand Hill, had not made public any plans this week for blocking any acreage. The first of the week the geological work was still under way.

TWO MISTAKES

Two little human interest stories which may have a lesson for other people are these two "Mistakes I Have Made" which we quote from The Progressive Farmer:

QUIT SCHOOL—I quit school after finishing the eighth grade and went to work. When I did this there was no depression and it was not hard to get work, even without a high school education. I have now lost my job and the first question I hear every time I try to get work is "Where did you finish high school?" Quitting school is one of the worst mistakes anybody can make. It is now too late to remedy mine. When I was working I also failed to visit the dentist as often as I should. Now my teeth are in such bad shape they couldn't be saved by all the dentists.—D. B., North Carolina.

TALKED TOO MUCH—Last year I had my first school position and boarded in a home with four other teachers. All five of us had to stay in two small rooms and, since we were of different types and temperament, we were continually stepping on one another's toes. When talking with friends who were in authoritative positions I gave my tongue too great liberty, and as a result two of the teachers lost their jobs and the rest of us were made unhappy. Now I realize that the first virtue is to restrain the tongue.—Country Teacher, Georgia.

Billie Joe Welch returned to Tulla Sunday afternoon to resume his work in the high school after spending the holidays with his mother and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Landers, who visited relatives in Bell County the past two weeks returned home recently.

Ernest Kendrick is on crutches this week, the result of an infection in a burn on the leg Friday.

Letter Romance

Smiling happily as she goes to marry a man she has never seen, Julia Davis, front, and her sister Frances are shown above at Atlanta, Ga., waving goodbye as they boarded the train that was to take them to Glendale, Calif., and their future husbands, Darrell and Duane Benedict, brothers. Julia's romance developed through correspondence with Darrell after they had been "introduced" by letters exchanged by Frances and Duane.

Half-Minute Interviews

Right Dickey, Phoenix: "The sorriest eggs for the market that we get from anywhere come from Floyd County, and they could be the best."

SHORT LENGTH HARDWOOD LUMBER BOOM TO FARMER

Manufacture of short length hardwood lumber is providing farmers with a better market for farm timber since the lumber trade found a demand for this type of lumber from both farmers and manufacturers, reports the Forest Products Laboratory of the United States Forest Service.

The trade calls short length lumber dimension stock. Demand for such pieces that formerly were waste at the mill, but make it possible for farmers to sell logs from their woodlands at fairly good prices which previously were used only as fuel. More general acceptance of dimension stock where it can be used in place of long, wide lumber will be a forward stride in the conservation of hardwood timber and will aid in stabilizing many secondary wood-using industries, the Forest Service says.

Dimension stock may be cut directly from large or small logs, short bolts, round or square, edged timber, the siding, and sawmill waste.

The hardwood region of New England is providing most of the dimension stock at present, due to local demands from manufacturers of furniture, sporting goods, toys, tool handles, wagons, and other products.

Lloyd Bedford, of Lubbock, is here for a visit with his brother, Charles Bedford, having arrived last week. Mrs. P. J. Neff, of Happy, mother
