Tax Returns Show 2,750 1938 Voters

One Hundred Ten Receive Exemptions Blanks For Free Vote

Tax Receipts Up

City Records 365 As Paying Their 1937 Poll Taxes

Approximately 2,750 Floyd County citizens have poll tax receipts or exemptions to vote in the 1938 elections, County Tax Assessor Frank L. Moore estimated yesterday afternoon.

The figure was some 500 less than 1936, the last "big" election year, when 3,055 poll tax and exemption receipts were issued. Exact figures have not been compiled therefore the figure released is merely an estimation.

One-hundred-ten exemptions were issued to new citizens of Floyd County who are "just old enough to get a free vote." At the same time the "oldsters," those over 60, are not required to have exemption blanks to cast a ballot and it is estimated that their voting strength is near 500 ballots in this county.

City poll tax returns showed that exactly one poll tax was paid for each day on the average, 365 persons paying city poll tax or receiving exemptions.

According to the figures compiled approximately 3,000 votes will be cast in the July primary and in the November election.

Although no exact figures have yet been released from any of the tax offices the tax officials all generally agree that this year has been the "best year," from a tax paying viewpoint, that Floyd has experienced in at least four years.

Certainly exact figures will be available within a short time on the tax situation as it stands in Floyd.

When the political pot begins to boil in the waning months before the election candidates must make their appeal to some 3,000 potential Floyd County voters a figure almost as large as that at the last "presidential year."

Final rites were held Monday afternoon in the Quitaque high school auditorium for P. O. Woods, 54, prominent Quitaque business man, with the Rev. J. Taylor Smith officiating, assisted by J. E. Eldridge pastor of Plomot Baptist church, assisting.

Mr. Woods died early Sunday morning after a severe heart attack. He had been a resident of Quitaque for 44 years, moving into that city in 1894 at the age of 10 years.

Floyd Gets Nod for Dist. Softballers

Formation of Multi-County District Contemplated By AAA Commissioner

Must Show Interest

District Play Off Would Bring Thousands Here For Event In Late Summer

Possibility that Floydada will be named headquarters for a five- or ten-county district of amateur softball under the auspices of the American Amateurs' Association was indicated this week in a letter from Homer Williams, of Sweetwater.

However, this eventually would depend altogether on the interest shown in Floydada by softball enthusiasts and the type of field provided for play.

Likelihood, too, that the district director would be named from Floydada and that the district play off at the close of the season would be held here is involved in the suggestion.

Mr. Williams is regional commissioner for West Texas, located at Sweetwater, and gives the suggestion to Virgil Williams, of this city, for the consideration of local fans. The area of the district would be determined largely by the number of towns that would like to enter AAA-sponsored softball teams.

Since play in the softball league begins early in the spring, early action would have to be taken, Mr. Williams indicates, and the whole plan organized and worked out quickly.

In addition to the sport the softball games would afford local fans during the summer and the value it would prove to the youth of the area, organization under the American Amateur Association's banner would assure bringing to Floydada late in the summer a huge crowd for the district play off, the big feature of district organized play under amateur rules.

Floydada Youths To Enter Lubbock Golden Gloves Tournament

Floyd County and Floydada will be well represented at the Golden Gloves district tournament which will be held Monday night in Lubbock.

Louis Hollingsworth will enter the welterweight division and attempt to convince other mitt slingers that he is "tops" in the gloves racket. In the Lockney trials he kayoved Red Arney of Lockney in the third stanza to win with his fist in the air.

L. B. Martin, dynamite whirlwind guard of this year and several years to come (Coach Winter hopes), is the other Floydada entry in the district tourney. Martin will enter the lightweight class.

At Lockney Martin floored Bill Norrid of Silvertown for the ten count in the first round to score a decisive victory.

Three representatives from Lockney are expected to make the tourney. (See Golden Gloves, back page)

LEAVES FOR HOME

Mrs. George Seitz, daughter of Mrs. H. C. Bosley, left for her home at Union City, New Jersey, Monday. For several days following the death of her father, Mrs. Seitz had been visiting with her mother.

County Champ To Be Decided Mon. Or Tuesday Night

The Floyd County basketball championship will probably be decided Monday and Tuesday nights when the Lockney and Floydada quintets meet to decide the matter.

The first game will be played in the Lockney gymnasium on Monday night, with Lockney playing here Tuesday night in what might be the deciding game.

If the two games leave a tie the place of the third game will be decided upon by the flip of a coin.

Since Lockney has one of the tallest and fastest basketball teams in the country, dopesters look for the Longhorns to take the playoff in two games, thus making the flip unnecessary.

Spring football practice is already being spoken of at F. H. S. and is expected to get under way as soon as basketball practice ends.

OIL PRORATION GOOD FOR ALL

Probably there are some instances in which the oil proration law of the state works hardships. However, for the most part it has been elastic enough in application to take care of most all conditions. This is according to the belief of most oil men and royalty holders.

One thing it has done of great value is that it has made the medium to small operator go along and make money in a reasonable sort of way instead of spreading out and going broke when he gets a big strike and, as human nature goes, imagines himself a man of destiny. The "good old days" when a pool was exhausted and wasted in a few short months or years while its operators broke themselves trying to accomplish things in a few months that usually take a life-time—the good old days are a thing of the past, and very good they are.

All this aside from the fact that Texas needs to conserve this wonderful natural resource. Slow taking from the ground, it appears, will "re-capture" twice as much oil and gas as the old, unregulated way did. In other words, this seems to be one instance where state regulation has proved a great good for both public and individual.

THE GOVERNOR AND THE COMMISSIONER

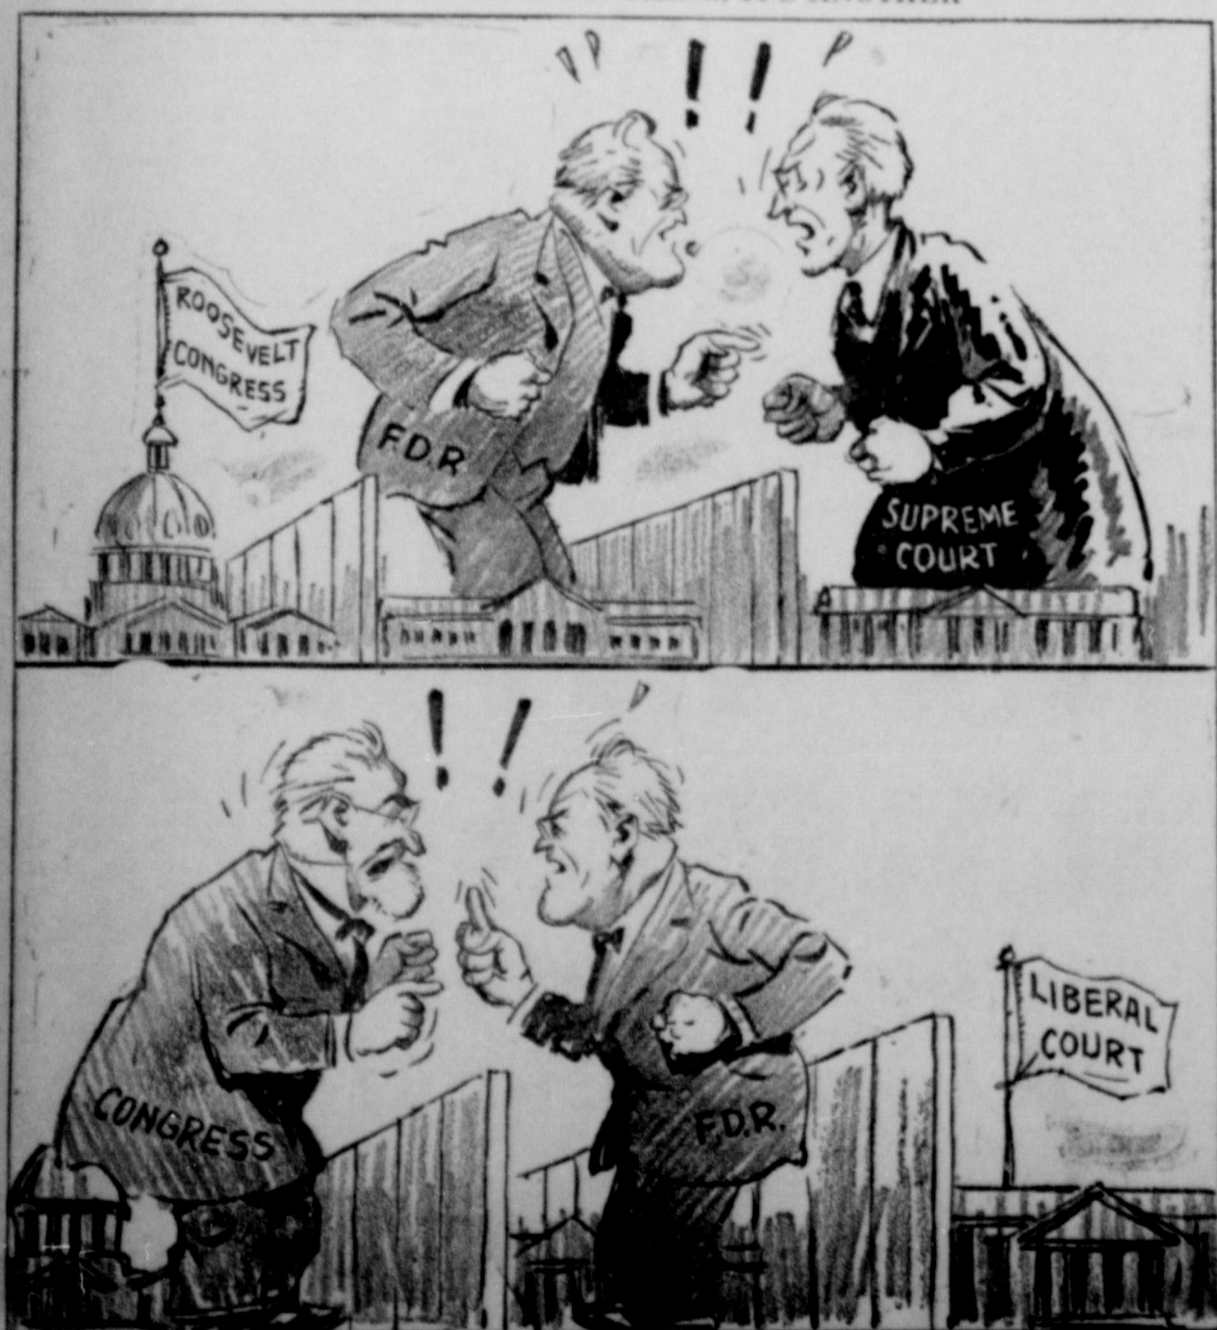

It is too early to arrive at conclusions as between Governor Alford and Land Commissioner McDonald in their spat over methods followed in leasing land of the state for mineral rights, meaning oil and gas. Commissioner McDonald is sure his plan will finally get the state school fund a hundred million dollars more than the former plan of selling leases to the high bidder. He retains more royalty while getting less cash on the barrel head.

A Senate investigating committee is at work on the matter. The governor's contention, briefly, is that the "gamble" on whether there is oil or gas under state lands is costing the state too much actual cash. "It is a gamble which cost these bidders only a few hundred dollars, but at a cost to the state of over a million dollars in cash which the state was offered by other bidders," the governor declared in a release received Monday. He thinks the situation is one of vast consequence and has even mentioned it in the same sentence with the Teapot Dome scandal.

Probabilities are that neither is entirely right nor entirely wrong. It is fitting the investigation is under way, and the state will be greatly served in it if men, capable and fearless, are at the head of the investigation and can ferret out facts as they are and not as someone would like to have them be.

"Second thoughts are best only when they arrive on time."

IF IT ISN'T ONE DARN THING, IT'S ANOTHER

POLL TAX LAW REPEAL

The annual passing of the day of deadline for poll tax payments, after which, henceforth, for a year one has no way of qualifying to become a legal voter in Texas, is a reminder that this archaic law should be repealed. For it should be substituted a simple registration law that would serve to prevent fraudulent voting.

Thousands of Texas' best citizens are disqualified every year for lack of a dollar and seventy-five cents, or unwilling to pay it. Most of these are poor men and women, whose voices in state and county and city affairs ought to be heard.

Because a part of the money obtained from poll tax payments go to the school fund, for the education of our children—many of them sons and daughters of the very man who do not pay—it is considered almost unpatriotic in many quarters to mention poll tax repeal as sound practice. Contrarily, The Hesperian is convinced the step has been delayed too long.

It is unfortunate that the right of a child to an education should have been placed in opposition to the right and duty of every person to exercise his duty at the ballot box.

GOOD MEDICINE, HARD TO TAKE

State inspectors still continue their work, going over the state condemning boilers that are outmoded, according to the standards set up by state law. The boiler business has picked up and will continue to flourish for a time anyhow.

Very likely the law is basically sound. It exercises a sort of police duty the state owes the citizenship. But it makes hard sledding for many owners of boilers not good enough to meet requirements.

GET SET, MR. WHEAT MAN

When March 15 comes whether it is wet or dry, sand blowing or mud puffing under the wheels of your car as you drive, there'll still be that matter of having made some money in 1937. You may have lost money from 1926 on. Most everybody hereabouts did. But 1937, when you did make money is another matter.

Save your breath, indignation over prior losses and the internal revenue department jumping on you for profits you made in 1937. They'll collect and don't think they won't. And a fine, too, or a "compromise," if you fool around about it.

Think of Al Capone. While peaceful, law-abiding citizens did as they were told, he got away with wholesale murder, rapine, pillaged whole communities, despoiled womanhood, burned, stole and robbed. He toiled not, neither did he spin—until he forgot to report his profits and pay the tax. Now he is in Alcatraz. This is not a comparison, but a statement of fact, to give you the idea.

Stop and let the train go by, it hardly takes a minute; Your car then starts again intact— And, what is more, you're in it!

The greatest undeveloped territory in the world lies just under your hat.—Advance Topics.

Regardless of who is President there is always some prosperity lying around loose, if you want to go out and get it.

A hustler doesn't care whether opportunity knocks at his door or not, as he is always out on the front porch waiting for it.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nettie Witt Spikes

So many surprises and pleasures have come my way lately. Mrs. Hyatt of the Ralls Banner gave me a lovely gift of stationery with my name and address printed in beautiful script. My daughter's husband, James, left a valentine box of delicious candies for me when I was away. I met Mrs. Miller of Fairview at town. We had such a nice visit together. Found out that my sister, Josephine, works for her brother, Mr. Duke, who is county agent of Potter county. Was in the court house in Crosbyton and saw my cousin, Mrs. Myrtle Hudson her husband and son D. L., whom I had not seen in many years. They had been in Los Angeles and visited all the kin, so I heard from them all. Shook hands with Brother Tubbs which is always a great pleasure. Many years have I known this good man of God. Helped haul off some wheat, and was happy every time I passed the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gilbreath near Blanco School. The rock fence they have made is beautiful, and the flower garden is only awaiting the warm spring days to blossom into beauty. Some day as I pass, I will stop and get acquainted with these people who love beauty.

Whether to, or whether to not, is the question that is with many. Of course, I mean about the oil proposition as you all know. Shall we lease or would it be better to wait. Would an oil field in the good farming country be better for us than things are now? Would our lives be enriched by the soil as our pocket books would likely be? Would we gain the whole world and lose our souls? Oh, let us pray for wells of happiness and peace, that will gush out of our hearts and lives, and bring the riches to the world, that are so badly needed.

I am so glad to see Mrs. Hollums back in Floydada. She may not want this told but I am sure you will not tell it. She said she was told she had sciatica. She looked in the dictionary to see what it was. Neuralgia of the nerve in the thigh, usually attacking middle aged people. Mrs. Hollums said she knew the term, middle aged did not apply to her, so she decided that nothing was the matter with her. My grandfather always told me that he differed with Webster, especially about spelling, and I believe he was right as so many others do, myself included.

Did you ever get a letter from the very depths of the heart of a friend? Then you will understand how I appreciate a letter from Mrs. Orrie Ferguson. A girl never read a love letter from her sweetheart with more joy than I have read your letter of love. "I have read over your strip of Dec. 30." She says. "I can see the little house and the blue eyed girl, the tall slim husband how glad I was to have them close to me." My dear friend of those long ago days how good you were to a sacred little sick girl far away from her parents. How fast you ran the mile to my house to give me care and sooth my homesick heart. How you washed my little new babes, bundled them up warm and snug and placed them near me. Cooked the meals for the tall slim husband, tidied up the little new house. And you are still giving me help and inspiration. Still ready to be a friend in need, and always loving me. I love you.

A sale, a table of old time things, a fat little black teakettle, a tall coffee mill, the kind you hold in your lap, a black dinner pot, two old fashioned sad irons. I could not leave. I patted the little black teakettle, turned the mill. Oh, I must have these, I told my friends, these things are whispering to me to buy them and give them a home. I tremble at the thought that I might not get them. The little kettle told me that it would sit on my stove and sing to me, tell me tales of a dugout home on the prairie, show me how it bubbled the water and had it hot for the good doctor, who had come so many miles, and the good women who washed the tiny infant. And of the time when the little one had the pneumonia, and the little black kettle was never empty on the bachelor stove. It whispered to me of the secrets it heard as the cowboy made love to the beautiful girl. Told me that its tune was sad the night the water it heated was to bathe the old grandmother for her last rest.

But a merry happy song came from its spout the day the cowboy came for his bride. But here the black dinner pot broke in and told me the kettle did not get all the honors, as it had set by the kettle's side during all the years in the dugout home, boiled the meat and the greens; the chicken and the dumplings steamed in its black depths. Not to be outdone, the coffee mill told me that it was as useful to the nester as the kettle and the pot. And the irons told me they could tell an interesting history as well as give me good service. I hunted the owner, bought them as well as heard the history of the owner. And now they are mine. Water will heat again in the fat black kettle, beans will boil tender and good in the dinner pot. The irons will make print dresses and overalls and shirts neat and smooth, but the coffee mills days are over.

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON — No matter how much similarly observers find in Roosevelt's second-term war on the "recession" and Hoover's attempts through "stabilization conferences" to halt the decline of business in 1929-30, many important differences can be discovered by comparisons.

Private industry made big promises of big spending when Hoover turned to Wall Street for support eight years ago. Public utility executives came to the White House and announced a $2,000,000,000 spending program for 1930. The American Telephone and Telegraph Company planned to spend $700,000,000 and U. S. Steel was to spend $250,000,000.

Encouraged by the announcements that corporations would contribute so heavily to the fight up the curve of business, Hoover was confident early in December, 1929, that the depression was licked and told Congress so.

Though Capitalists Owen Young and Thomas Lamont and Labor Leaders John Lewis and Philip Murray have been corralled at the White House for congressional conferences with Roosevelt, no one seems optimistic enough to believe it necessarily follows that business, labor and government will pull together with such shoulder-to-shoulder force that directly the country will bound out of the "recession" in which it is mired.

Most observers expect "natural causes" will have a more curative effect on the victims of the current depression than will White House conferences. And there is agreement between the administration and big business that a substantial and intelligent federal spending program is essential to recovery.

On the theory that federal spending will boost the national income, and bigger national income means better wages, bigger profits, a spread of employment, and finally more federal revenue, business men called to the White House these days have little to say about budget-balancing at this time.

American farmers are almost the only ones at this point who still believe that the road to recovery lies in the direction of balancing the budget.

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

ISSUE OF FEBRUARY 7, 1924

For the first time ever the voting strength of Floydada voting precincts approached very closely to the 1000 mark, with 942 polls paid. The figures given here do not include overs and unders, but only the actual count of polls paid by precincts.

Sunday and Monday's wind brought with them quite a bit of damage that in individual cases were not exceedingly heavy but in the aggregate totaled several thousand dollars probably. Insurance agents in Floydada had several small losses reported from over the territory, consisting mostly of flues and windmills damages and a few damaged roofs. The heaviest losses reported to date are a $200 loss to the roof of the new Starkey brick school, which was being put on the building, and about $100 damage to the roof of the new school building in Floydada.

Property owners in Crosbyton and in the precinct lying this side of that city in Crosby County are working on a plan to get a good road on a direct route from Crosbyton to Floydada by way of the old Rock House, an early day mark in this section of the state, and a committee of representatives of those interests are planning an early preliminary survey of the canyon through the R. B. Smith lands to connect with the Floyd County land through Lakeview.

A total of 563 children of the public schools of Floydada, Sand Hill, Baker, Harmony and Center school districts were weighed and examined during the stay of Miss Alve Morrow, Nutrition Specialist, with the Floyd County chapter Red Cross, who is this week closing her work here.

Figures of her work here have been compiled and are being made a part of the records by the local chapter here, as are the work done here three years ago by Miss Katherine Mitchell.

The examination made were for physical defects, and specialists were called in for examinations of the

Leviathan, Once Queen of Waves, Sails to Oblivion in Scottish Scrap Iron Yard

"The paths of glory lead but to the grave," even for the mighty Leviathan, above, under the piloting hand of Capt. John Binks, inset, as it sailed for a Scottish scrapyard, where it will be junked. The largest liner in the world when it was launched in 1913, but now a graying ghost, the vessel will bring an estimated $1,500,000 as scrap.

NEW YORK.—Once the ocean home of a hundred thousand trench-bound doughboys, the mighty Leviathan, encrusted with rust as with tradition, has taken its final voyage.

It was launched as the largest ship in the world by a navy-conscious German nation on the eve of the World War. But 20 years later the ship was as big a financial headache to its American owners as it was once a source of pride. Now the aging vessel, only a ghost of its former self, will become a mass of iron scrap in a ship's graveyard near the Firth of Forth, Scotland. It was taken from its Hoboken, N. Y., pier by a skeleton crew.

The passing of the Leviathan leaves a vacancy in the United States Merchant Marine which soon will be filled. One of the conditions under which the government permitted the scrapping of the once-proud queen of the seas was that its owners would replace it with a new vessel. The projected ship, although 184 feet shorter than the 907-foot Leviathan, will be the largest ship ever constructed in an American shipyard. It will require 852 days to complete.

It was in April, 1913, that a bottle of champagne crashed across the bow of the Leviathan and she first was eased into the waters. Her owners were German, her crew was German, and she was christened the Vaterland.

But with the outbreak of the World War the big ship, in American waters, was interned at Hoboken by order of the United States government. When America entered the conflict, the vessel was confiscated. Its German crew, more loyal to their real waterland than to their beloved ship, sabotaged the engines fore it was rechristened.

Repairs were made and the ship became the convoy of American doughboys, many eyes and teeth. Perhaps the outstanding information gained from the examinations conducted in the large numbers of children whose teeth or gums needed attention.

Mrs. Holmes Gives Several Reasons For Demonstration Agent

Interested Women in County Invited to Meet With Commissioners Court Feb. 14

Floydada, Texas, January 30, 1938. To the People of Floyd County, The Commissioners Court and County Judge, Tom W. Deen:

A large number of farm women of Floyd County are interested in securing the services of a Home Demonstration Agent for the coming year. Here are a few things other counties in Texas are doing, and some good reasons why Floyd county should have an agent:

Bailey county last year, under the direction of a Home Demonstration agent valued their home food supply at $2401.50 with 23 new pantries and cellars built; 43 pantries reorganized, 83 frame gardens built. Total value of clothing made and renovated was $3967.75, with 167 closets built and remodeled.

There are 349 club women and girls in Bailey county. The salary paid the agent was $1,000, making a saving of $5,000 per year.

Lubbock county valued the Home Demonstration agent at $17,709.75.

Club members of Hale county declared, "it is almost impossible to estimate the value of foods they have stored and canned this year in connection with club work and under the supervision of A & M college representatives, and that the knowledge of proper dieting and preparation is indeed inestimable."

The home makers of Swisher county through the Home Demonstration program are really "living at home," 80 per cent of all foods were produced on their farm. One woman reports that her pantry alone was valued at $700.

In Parmer county over 350 women took part in remodeling and refurnishing furniture in their bedrooms.

Program for the Year
Some of the subjects in the year book for the coming year, are, "Planning to meet the Family's Nutritional Needs," "Family Relationship," "The Child from one to six," "Sulphur and Molasses are Out of Date, try Vegetables," "Frame Gardens," "Mattress Making and Wool Comforters," "Sanitation and Disposal of Garbage," "Yard Improvement," "Control of House Flies" and too many other things to mention.

Surely the home makers of Floyd county need and deserve Home Demonstration work. Just as the women in 173 other counties in Texas are enjoying it.

We would like for every woman in Floyd county to see or write her commissioner at once.

Judge Deen has been kind enough to invite the women of the county to meet with the commissioners court on the 14 day of February, in the afternoon. Every woman in the county is urged to attend this meeting. We plan to be allowed to remain in the court room until the vote is counted.

Mrs. Ed Holmes.

John A. Hamilton Asks Voters To Elect Him For District Attorney

Matador Attorney, Appointed Last May, Asks Time-Honored Custom of Full Term

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY. In announcing my candidacy for the office of District Attorney I wish to say that I am 28 years old, live in Matador, Texas, and am a native of West Texas.

I was appointed to the office of District Attorney by the Governor of Texas last May to finish the unexpired term of Hon. Alton B. Chapman, who was appointed to the office of District Judge to fill the unexpired term of Judge A. J. Foley of Floydada, who was appointed to the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo.

I have tried to, and believe I have to a great extent, familiarized myself with the duties of the office, and feel that I am better qualified now to serve the people as District Attorney than I was when I was appointed.

It is usually customary for a person to be elected for a full term to succeed himself when he has been appointed to an office, and I feel that this time honored custom should be accorded me.

As to my qualifications: I graduated from the Law School of the University of Texas, in June, 1934, and was elected County Attorney of Matley County in the same year, and have been regularly engaged in the practice of law ever since my graduation.

There are four counties in this Judicial District, and it will, of course, be impossible for me to personally meet every voter in the District and at the same time perform my duties as District Attorney. I, therefore, wish to take this means of earnestly soliciting the vote and active support of every voter in this district, and to assure you that I will ever strive to make a competent and faithful officer if I am elected.

Yours sincerely, John A. Hamilton (Political Advertisement)

Harold Terry. (Political Advertisement) Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Claiborne spent the first of the week in Dallas.

We are sorry to hear of Odell Robertson being absent from school because of illness.

Our chapel program was presented Friday. The program was as follows:

Woolseys Return Home From Funeral At Duke Held For J. D. Barnes

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Woolsey and Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Woolsey, accompanied by Winston Woolsey and Fred Reeves, returned home Thursday night from Duke, Oklahoma, where they attended funeral rites held for J. D. Barnes, a half-brother, who succumbed suddenly Wednesday morning of a heart ailment at the age of 81.

The funeral was held at the home of Mr. Barnes and was followed by Masonic burial rites at Duke Cemetery. He is survived by two children, besides the half-brothers here.

Mary Helen Mickey; Play, "Fantasy of Words," sixth and seventh grades;

Song, "Hodge Podge," sixth and seventh grades.

You'd Be Surprised But—Kenneth Gates has a new guitar. Junior has been in school for several days without being absent. We are good pupils when teacher is out of the room. (So the teacher thinks).

Fourth and fifth grades: Ralph and Billie Jo Womack moved to Cone the past week. We are sorry to lose them.

Nearly all the pupils that have been out lately are coming back to school now.

We Wonder Why? Mary Sue Gross can't get to school on time? Jonelle can't remember to get a handkerchief? Dorothy is making a hundred in spelling every day? Emma is so smart in reading?

First, second and third grades: James Lester Boucher was absent from school Thursday and Friday.

The first and second grades have enjoyed making Lincoln's home on their sand tables.

Those who won prizes in reading last month were Glen Worsham, Dorothy Jean Battey and Bobbie Dick Mickey.

The lucky winners in spelling were Olive Nan Gwinners, Dorothy Jean Battey, Smith Pope and Patsy Joyce Holt.

We are proud of Virginia Duncan's perfect score in deportment.

Sport News The Fairview Senior Basketball team came here Thursday, January 27, and played the Sand Hill team, winning the game by a score of 24 to 12.

The boys have had hard luck losing both games in the tournament Friday and Saturday. First to Taylor of which the score was 17 to 36 and to Running Water of which the score was 11 to 42.

The Sand Hill volleyball girls defeated Tuesday, January 25 by the Lakeview girls. Three games were played in the Floydada gymnasium.

Gossip Column No one can understand why Arthur Jr., has had such a bad cold after Wednesday night. Oh Boy! do these flashlights come in handy?

Vern, what's the use of bringing a magnifying glass to school? Jimmie, don't take it so hard, maybe she won't go in her car any more.

We wonder how Kenneth Cates enjoys sitting outside and reading the funny papers during choral singing? (How about it Ken?) Opal, you and Oleta cheer up, don't take this moving so serious.

Opal, were you ever taken for a ride up a stairs in a cane bottom chair?

OBSERVE

Are you a close observer? Do you sit idly by and let other people see everything for you? Are you too busy to see beauty in everything? Now is the time for observance. In the school house is a good place to begin. For instance, do you know how many windows there are in the study hall? How many radiators are in each classroom? Is there one or two waste baskets in the study hall? How many lights are there? Are the walls of light cream color, or are they white? How many rows of seats are there?

Take the lower hall: Are there five or six lights in it? Are the lockers placed directly against the wall? Are the walls painted? This may all seem very foolish, but, after all, a few things should be known about Floydada High School. A teacher once remarked that if a person simply had nothing to think about while taking a walk, one might count the houses on either side of the street. This trains the mind as well as serving to keep one busy. An idle mind is the breeding place of bad ideas or thoughts.

Another way to make conversation when the subject of the weather grows stale is to talk on the things around you.

You remember the story of the little boy and girl who got lost in the woods and couldn't find their way back because they had noticed nothing along the way. Don't be like that. Train your mind to be active. See if you don't become more intelligent and more willing to work.

GET YOUR PICTURE MADE NOW SENIORS

Now hold it. Hold it just one second. Now that's good; we'll have it all done in just a minute. No, wait a jiffy. Turn your head just the least bit to the right. Now that's good, turn your chin a little the other way. No, now don't turn your whole head, just turn your chin. Now then look right here! Lights! Camera! Click! Click! And another Senior has had his picture taken.

Too if you are a Senior and have not yet had your picture made, this is to serve as a gentle reminder. Have it made sometime soon. We have only a few more days.

Sophomores Present

La Nell has a grand personality and very sweet disposition. She is talented in both music and art. She was 14, December 21. Her eyes are green and her hair dark brown. She is 5 feet, 4 inches high. She likes to work algebra but Latin is a night-mare to her. If you are a close observer you will notice that she wears some red most of the time. She prefers brunettes and has been a member of the pep squad two years.

THINGS I WOULD LIKE TO DO

To be locked up with the Home Ec aprons a few minutes (along with the candy.)

To empty, from the balcony, a box of saw dust on the ones seated below.

To be pushed about on the table with rollers (the one in the Home Ec room, not a hospital table).

To ride a bicycle down the stairs. (It has been done.)

To eat my lunch on the Economics table—lace table cloth and all.

To fill the base born with water so that if I am there when it is blown, I won't have to take a bath for this month.

To be able to write an article using I, we, you, very, and certainly. Incidentally, this is forbidden in the press circle of Floydada High. To write an article.

JUNIOR NEWS

Tuesday afternoon several industrious juniors divided the town into two sections and started a house to house campaign collecting books to sell to the library.

A great many books were promised to the diligent members of the various crews of workers. Miss Copeland, and Miss Wolfe and a number of juniors completed the campaign Thursday afternoon. This is just another way of making money to aid in giving a bigger and better Junior-Senior banquet.

Volley Ball Suits

The new volley ball suits are expected to arrive Saturday. Miss Copeland extends a cordial invitation to all who wish to join this event. All interested in this are present at the Andrews Ward gymnasium Monday afternoon at 3:15. Come out and prove your loyalty to F. H. S. by purchasing volley ball.

Whirlwinds Lose To Flomot Longhorns In Hard Fought Battle

The Floydada Whirlwinds encountered the Flomot Longhorns in a battle royal at the R. C. A. gym Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Although the outcome was 23 to 32 in favor of the hard shooting Longhorns, the game was evenly matched and interesting.

Those playing for the Whirlwinds were Craft, Taylor, H. Smith, C. Smith, Tyler, Patterson and Weems. The boys fought a hard battle and are developing into a superb ball team. Keep it up for a grand season, Whirlwinds.

Last week the green and white Whirlwinds will enter the tournament at Roaring Springs where they matched strength and wits with other teams. Come out and back your team for they need your support.

Thru A Keyhole

It's rumored that Reid and a certain blond are that way about each other.

Madam Mystic is back again! Or at least that was the impression at Gloria's Saturday night. Fortune telling worried many with events of the future.

Freddie Beard is the object of someone's affections so I've heard! Now come on let's tell him, after all the boy is supposed to know about it you know.

Did Virginia B. get wild and sock Gerald or did he receive his shining black eyes from some other source? Well anyway they're doubly cute. (meaning both are blacked).

The afore-mentioned affair at Gloria's Sat. night is said to be a meeting of those flashy Triple "M" girls. (This old scooper can't get any deeper than the name). P. S. They brought their dates along just for company's sake.

Did Sherry's face ever get back its natural color after her surprise dinner Thursday at noon. Poor Ham didn't have much to say about his choice in taking Jo, Bob, Dot, Evelyn and Gloria up to the Ward abode but our feelings are right with him.

Everyone wishes to welcome Kay Daniel back. It sure is good to see her face in the halls. Honest. Well after Edwin coming Sat. night there's no wonder about the beaming part.

It took two Junior girls and two Senior boys three hours (approximately) to warm up after Sunday night's escapade.

Iva Kent Ginner's Lockney football just too long. And what with Ginner looking all over school for it—I'll bet the fire-works are still going.

What three girls held a counsel meeting at Bobby's house Sat. until almost mid-night? Evelyn and Sherry must have been plenty wound up?

It appears that Pennie and Sherry were about to skip their own birthday party. Imagine! And even Ham was late.

Keith made up for not going to church Sunday by singing hymns Sunday night. Well, you can't say he didn't try.

Someone was concerned no little bit about Emmett Hinson Friday night! Let's hope it comes out in her favor.

What has Al got to be mad about. Well it's been told that he's in no good humor with his chums.

These home-ec boys are getting over their bashfulness by asking seven different girls to let them (the boys) carry her books. It also took the laziest out of them by making them collect twenty-five autographs of Home Ec girls. They took the autographs on a dish towel.

In the seventh period Biology class when Miss Fouts asked the question, "How should a person stand?" Benja immediately answered, "On both feet!" I'm betting on you Benja. Stay right in there, and some day you'll be a humorist.

I have been informed that three girls who reside in the Dougherty community occasionally had some-what of a slumber party Friday night. Or maybe it should be called a slumberless party!

There was an expert cameraman in Floydada this week, and you should have seen some of the pictures he took, or did you? It was very unexpected to most of the subjects of the pictures. For example Ruth and Beth.

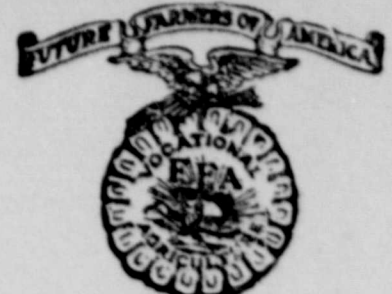

Until next week.
The Scandal Bug.

Chapel

The student body met in the auditorium Thursday morning for chapel. The program was opened with the singing of two songs by the student body. Rev. Robinette led the group in prayer. Mr. Cummings asked that all library fines be paid and reminded new students of locker periods.

Rev. Peyton Fullingem spoke to the student body on the subject "Take the Lord in Your Life." He gave good advice when he said, "Prepare yourself well. If you do this you must do your work well and promotion will ask for you rather than you having to ask for it. The person who succeeds is just a step ahead of the one who makes no progress. Never say I can't, should be the ideal of all high school students."

Writing fluids, Hesperian.

The Crosbyton F. F. A. District held a meeting January 29. One of the purposes of the meeting was to hold an F. F. A. basketball tournament.

In the morning session a program was held, with each chapter reporting on its own objectives. Joe Smith gave the report for Floydada. Crosbyton district was the first district in the area to get in 100 per cent F. F. A. dues. O. T. Ryan, district supervisor, said "every chapter and advisor should be complimented on accomplishments and reports." The Floydada chapter was the first in the area to send in dues.

Plans were completed during the meeting for a district eighth grade chapter conducting contest. This will be held March 1 at Crosbyton. The local eighth grade team is making plans to compete.

In the afternoon the Floydada basketball team played Spur. Spur won the game 10 to 14. The Floydada F. F. A. boys to play were Raymond Colston, Fred Cardinal, Louie Coffee, Milton Weems, and Ralph Taylor.

Mr. King attended a meeting of the "Institute of Agriculture" at Lubbock Friday night. The Institute is one of an Agricultural Alumni Organization.

What We Read

Loneliness was the first thing which God's eye saw that was not good.—Milton.

He who has a thousand friends has not a friend to spare. And he who has an enemy will meet him everywhere.—Emerson.

True happiness consists not in the multitude of friends, but in the worth and choice.—Ben Johnson.

The love that shall not weary must be art. They are never alone who have noble thoughts.—Sir Philip Sidney.

But the eyes of other people are the eyes that ruin us. If all but myself were blind, I should want neither fine clothes, fine houses nor fine furniture.—Benjamin Franklin.

It is a wise man who knows his own business; and a wiser one who thoroughly attends to it.—H. L. Wayland.

The joke that always seems sparkling to George Ade concerns the man who when asked if his wife was entertaining this winter, replied, "Not very."

He looked like an accident going somewhere to happen.—Alexander Woodcott.

Recently John Barrymore dined in a home where sole was not a humble but a gala dish, it is a specialty. As he took his second portion he bowed to his hostess, "Madam," he proclaimed, "let me congratulate you on the most judiciously dramatized cabbage I have ever encountered.—Madame de Sevigne."

It was a wise man that recommended men for their souls good to do each day two things they disliked and it is a precept that I have followed scrupulously; for everyday I have got up and I have gone to bed.—Somerset Maugham in N. Y. Times.

Hit Of The Week

Rosalie, my darling,
Rosalie, my dream—
Since one night when stars danced above,
I'm oh, oh, so much in love.

Rosalie, have mercy,
Rosalie, don't decline,
Won't you make my life thrilling
And tell me that you're willing
To be mine, Rosalie, mine.

DEBATE

Seven students are working diligently on debate. They are accomplishing great things on their speeches and have their minds made up to beat Lockney.

Plans are also being made to attend the debate conference at Wichita Falls the latter part of this month. Those entering are Mary Frances McRoberts, Leila Pave Hicks, Josephine Troutman, Dorothy Dell Stovall, James Willson, Paul Barnard and Garth Morse. They are coached by Miss Wolfe.

Bruce Foster is a freshman. He is a popular person chiefly because of a good personality and grand disposition. July 4 is his birthday, at which time he will be fifteen. Bruce is 5 feet, and 5 inches tall and weighs one hundred and thirty-eight pounds. He has black hair and brown eyes. The favorite subject of this particular Freshman are mathematics and English; however, he likes the seventh period study hall best of all. His favorite color is black and he prefers brunettes.

In the way of athletics, Bruce is the best of the freshman class. He is a participant in the fistic bouts during the noon period.

Miss Genelle Wilhite Resigns From Faculty For Pecos Position

Miss Genelle Wilhite, a member of the high school faculty for three years, resigned here for a better position in Pecos, Texas. Miss Wilhite began work Monday, January 31, in the Pecos High School, where she taught classes in first and second year Latin, Spanish, and in tenth grade English.

Miss Wilhite, after taking her BA and Master's degree from Texas Tech in Lubbock, and having studied in Old Mexico one summer, is recognized as one of the most efficient teachers Floydada schools have ever had. Students and faculty regret her leaving, but rejoice in her good fortune. To Miss Wilhite, the students of Floydada high school, though they feel keenly their loss in her leaving, send congratulations and best wishes for pleasant years in Pecos.

Ramblings

Like the rose and all other sweet flowers, I shall ramble at random (poetry) this week and just to be different, start off with some news.

Walter Travis, county school superintendent, was seen at the noon fight Monday and from his animated expression, we conclude that he was enjoying the noise and color.

Students at F. H. S. don't wait for the glorious Spring to lightly turn their thoughts to musings of love. It would surprise you to note how many died-in-the-wool young moderns are in raptures over Romeo and Juliet. They may even get to like Shakespeare soon. Stranger things than this have happened.

Most students don't mind so terribly about having to take tests and some even work up a martyr-like expression and go to their doom unflinchingly, but listen, Profs, don't you think that it is just taking the thing a little too far when we have to pay for the tests?

George Fry created quite a furore when he almost changed ends with himself in the study hall. "One tot slid and the other slipped. They might have at least got together on the thing," says the indignant George.

It is the pleasure of one esteemed Junior girl to announce that she has started drinking at least four glasses of water daily. That will be all right if some of it goes to her head. She at least will have something in it. (This was said to appease our most high superiors, the Seniors. How does one take bows in a column?)

Does anybody in the vicinity of our wide reading public know of any iron-clad, error-proof rules for skipping study halls? Every reporter has at least four best bets.

Comedy is the spice of life, sez we. Dorothy Dell and her clothing partner are not well read up on the domestic arts as yet and when Miss Fouts announced that she would like for some of the girls to hem curtains, they sheepishly raised their hands and prayed for the best. This is what happened. Miss Fouts passed out the curtains, needles, and other implements of torture and everyone began hemming efficiently. That is, everyone except the objects of this discussion. They asked questions, giggled, pricked their fingers, and finally started.

When the finished product was held up for instruction, it looked like a cross between a gathered skirt and a disappointed wagon-sheet. It had everything—scalloped, hem-stitched and other specimens of needlework. Oh, girls, please. You are breaking our hearts.

One night after a baseball game a dark haired senior boy (you know the one), was driving around in pursuit of Gloria. He didn't know that big brother, Herschell, was very much at hand in the back seat of the Hammonds' vehicle.

Japan is scared to death! Robertine, Josephine, Evelyn, Dorothy, Gloria, Kay, and Sappho have staged an anti-Japanese movement (whatever that is). Yes, it is all too true. They refuse to wear silk dresses and stockings to school (which should be easy for them) and are tabooing everything Japanese. This ban will continue at least a week and then if Japan doesn't come to terms, they'll just continue it.

Talk about your "fish" stories—T. T. Davis knows enough "car stories to last him through eternity, no doubt.

Home Ec Club

Plans for the rest of this semester were discussed by members of the Future Homemakers of Texas in their regular meeting last Wednesday noon in the study hall. A committee was appointed to arrange the plans for the annual party between the F. F. A. and the club, which will be February 22, in R. C. A.

Arrangements for the initiation of the new members of the club were made which consists mostly of boys in the Foods I class and some girls who did not join last semester. Tuesday was the day for the informal initiation. In contrast to the informal initiation, is the formal one which will be next Tuesday night, after which the new members will be full fledged members of the club.

Plans are also being made for a chapel program, which will be given in the near future.

Golden Gloves Spurs F. H. S. Pugilists To Greater Efforts

Pugilism is quite the fad during the noon hour now. In contrast to the quiet and almost sanctified silence that reigned a week ago there are shouts, screeches, yells, screams and sounds of boxing gloves contacting surprised noses and startled eyes. The fistic bouts are certainly here to stay for we find the entire student body supporting their favorites and getting the noisiness of pleasures from the outcomes.

Several up-and-coming boxers have made their appearance. Some of the most interesting being the Steen twins, Bruce Foster, Charles Dennison, Charles Neal, Leeman and Buddy Norman, Gerald Lackey, Ham Smith, R. E. Golightly, and many others.

This is one of the most entertaining of the noon-day hobbies and is an energetic stimulant. Who knows, maybe we have another Gene Tunney or a Jack Dempsey at Floydada High.

SCHOOL ROOM PERSONALITIES

Of school room personalities there are many, and it is my object to give you first hand information about them all.

First, we have the inimitable "worry-wart." He never has his lessons as thoroughly as he should have, or he knew but he just forgot. He enjoys his title to the utmost and certainly lives up to it. His greatest object, it seems, is making every one else miserable as possible at his own enjoyment. He has been promised a "good lesson" by a group of students some afternoon after school, but he is in a hurry this time.

Next comes the "borrower." She borrows your papers "just to see how you did it." She borrows your ink while you are out of the room, she borrows your fountain pen because its different from hers, she borrows your pencil because it has a sharp point on it. (Incidentally, the point is not on when she returns it.) And lastly she thinks that your books and your locker are for her special benefit, so, accordingly, she loves to jingle your locker-key!

Next comes the gum-chewer. She exercises her talent in the study-halls and is continually trying to pop her gum just a little louder than the last time.

We will now meet the well-known prowler. He wonders what you have written on that paper. He wants to arrange your books another way. He likes to see if his knife will cut your pet book, wonders if the ink leaks from your fountain pen, tries to see the book on the lower end of a pile of books which result in destroying a seven-page history paper and a ten-page English theme.

WITH OUR EXCHANGES

"How would Shakespeare be regarded if he were alive today?" asks a writer. Surely as our oldest inhabitant.

A lecturer had been describing some of the sights he had seen abroad.

"There are some spectacles," he said, "that one never forgets."

"I wish you could tell me where I can get a pair," exclaimed an old lady in the audience. "I am always forgetting mine."

Teacher to small boy: "What is the cow's hide used for?"
Reply: "To hold the cow together."

If you become discouraged with your minor position in life, think of the great oak. It was once a nut like you.

The word "news" originates from the letters that stand for the four directions of the compass, North, East, West and South.

The following definitions were taken from the Lamar Lancer, Houston, Texas.

Bridges: What you wear when you ride horses.

Dust: Mud with the juice squeezed out.

Sachet: Being impertinent; I'll slap your sachet face.

Curls: Young co-eds.

Girdle: To turn sour.

VOLLEY BALL SUITS

The New Volley Ball suits have been ordered and are expected to be here the end of this week. They are green wool shorts and sweaters with white trimmings. They will boost the spirit of the team and foster a true fighting spirit.

INSURANCE DISCUSSED

Since mid-term the classes in Home Economics have been very busy. The Clothing III class have been studying "Meeting Management and Consumer Problems of the Home."

As part of this study R. E. Fry gave an interesting talk on "Value and Cost of Insurance." In the discussion, Mr. Fry told of the insurance available as a means of saving and protection against loss. Those discussed were, life insurance, health and accident insurance, reliability of investment agency, fire and theft insurance and liability and property damage insurance.

Teachers Receive Assignments For League Work

The teachers have been assigned the subjects they are to coach. Each one has been picked for his personal interest in that particular event. Most of the teachers are coaching the same event they did last year.

The events and coaches are as follows: Miss Miller, baseball; Miss Copeland, volleyball, Miss Cade, declamation, Miss Wolfe, debates, Miss Fouts, tennis; Miss Rea, extemporaneous speech; Mrs. Jones, spelling; Mr. Williams, baseball, and Mr. King, tennis.

This is going to be a good county meet—the students can't help winning with these coaches behind them.

Mrs. Ward Hostess At Birthday Luncheon

Mrs. Ward was hostess to a surprise birthday luncheon Thursday noon, January 28, in honor of her daughter, Sappho.

Those present were Dorothy Dell Stovall, Josephine Troutman, Gloria Hammonds, Evelyn Groves, Bobby McIntyre, the honoree, Sappho Ward and the hostess, Mrs. Ward.

Sports

The Whirlwind five journeyed to Roaring Springs last Friday and Saturday to bring home a trophy. The boys did not win first place but were able to carry off the consolation.

They were defeated in the first game of the tournament but made a nice comeback by winning the consolation. The gold trophy is a player balancing a ball high in the air with his right hand. It haunts our trophy case in a very attractive manner, thanks to the boys who won it.

Those who made the trip were Captain Ham Smith, Gordon Patterson, Dale Taylor, Paul Barnard, Robert Montgomery, Jack Craft, Claude Smith, Clyde Smith and Coach Winter.

Dogs Used to Turn Spits

Small dogs, resembling dachshunds and called turnspits, were used in old times to turn the spits or jacks upon which meat was roasted before an open fire. The dog traveled in a small treadmill geared to the spit.

PERSONALITY TESTS

Personality tests have been given to about seventy-five boys and girls this past week.

These tests are part of the study of family relationship in the classes conducted by Miss Rees. From the results of the tests, each student is trying to improve their personality, by making definite plans for improvement of the weak points discovered in taking the test.

Appeal Made For Chinese Assistance

Acting Chairman Red Cross Says Civilian Conditions Are Appalling There

Need Urgent

Alleys and Doorways Crowded With Bewildered Men, Women and Children

An appeal for funds to be used for the relief of millions of suffering men, women, and children in China was made today by Walter Travis, acting chairman of the Floyd County Red Cross Chapter, who announced that at the suggestion of President Roosevelt, chapters throughout the country were joining in the appeal.

"In asking our community to assist in raising this fund," Mr. Travis said, "there is little need to emphasize appalling conditions existing around Shanghai and other cities, in as much as newspapers, newsreels, and radio have vividly pictured conditions that exist."

He said that this money would be allocated to relief agencies and hospitals already existing, and that a committee of American business men in China, appointed by the American Ambassador, Nelson T. Johnson, would be formed to distribute the fund. No personnel will be sent from the United States.

"In addition to the urgent need for food, shelter, and warm clothing, one of the great needs in China at the present time is for medical assistance," Mr. Travis said. "Great danger exists that epidemics may break out."

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, national Red Cross chairman, said American officials in China had informed him that 650,000 sick and homeless persons were crowding the International Settlement and Greater Shanghai at the present time, with many times that number scattered throughout coastal and interior cities, towns and villages that have been devastated.

The national chairman also pointed out that lack of adequate housing facilities for the homeless was aggravating the health problem, and that existing public shelters had long been over-crowded, resulting in thousands of homeless being forced to huddle under straw matting shelters without sufficient protection from snows and cold rains sweeping over the country.

Alleys and doorways in the towns and cities were crowded with bewildered men, women, and children, Americans on the scene reported, and since railway services had been disrupted there was no way to evacuate them to other areas.

Also Offered Jobs

An offer of assistance to the Japanese Red Cross was made last August by the International Red Cross Committee at Geneva. Mr. Travis said, but it had replied that they were able to care for their own needs.

"The Red Cross has become an international symbol of mercy," Mr. Travis said, "and there is great need for our cooperation at this time. I am sure that our appeal will meet with a generous response, and that we who live in such fortunate land will assist the suffering and homeless thousands in China."

No Bob—No Job

A woman's hair may be her crown, but few women have valued their crowns so highly as Anna May Wong, Chinese film actress, above, who refused a contract renewal at more than $1000 a week because it stipulated she must bob her hair. Studio officials, adamant, said, "Either she bobs her hair or her latest picture will also be her last."

Those who want to contribute through the Red Cross here may do so by leaving their funds with Chas. Bedford, who is treasurer of the county chapter, at the First National Bank. The Hesperian also has volunteered to receive donations and account for them to the Red Cross during the progress of the appeal.

International Sunday School lesson for February 6, 1938.

Jesus' Message To Society

Golden Text: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners. Mark 2:17.

Lesson Text: Mark 2:13-22.

13 And he went forth again by the sea-side; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them.

14 And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.

15 And it came to pass, that as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples; for there were many, and they followed him.

16 And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?

17 When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

18 And the disciples of John and of the Pharisees used to fast; and they come and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

19 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber fast while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

21 No man also seweth a piece of new cloth on an old garment; else the new piece that filled it up taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worse.

22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be marred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.

Time and Place.—In May or June, A. D. 28, not long after our last lesson, Jesus was still in Capernaum.

Regardless of the considerations of goodness and justice, one is always confronted with those who are out to serve their own interests. There is no one who has worked with man, no great teacher or prophet, but who has faced this human situation.

It was not long until Jesus in His earthly mission and teaching came very directly into conflict with false characters, attitudes, and customs. Our lesson tells us how Jesus, as He passed by, saw Levi, the son of Alphaeus, sitting at the place of toll.

He invited Levi to follow Him, and Levi left his job to become His disciple.

When He came into Levi's house and was being entertained there, many publicans and sinners sat down with Jesus and the disciples.

The scribes and Pharisees, who were the conventionally religious people of the day, did not like this. "They had the common notion that a man is known by the company he keeps. They could not perceive the motive and purpose of a good man in mingling with publicans and sinners that he might bring to them the truth and invite them to a new way of life."

They were very critical of Jesus, and asked, "How is it that He eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?" The reply of Jesus, when He heard it, was very wise and pointed:

Money-Saving Year-Around Power for Cotton Planting

Ride down the ridges on the Row Crop "70" with its centrally mounted 2-row buster and prove to yourself that the "70" has everything, does everything and is a beauty for cotton growing. Bust, row middles and plant with one tool—just a few easy changes. Work at 3 1/2 or 4 1/2 m.p.h., straight on the rows, close up to the row ends. Get a more mellow seed bed that means better crops. The light-treading Tip Toe Wheels actually cultivate the soil and never run in the rows to be planted.

The "70" is the most modern and easiest-handling tractor in the field today for cotton growing. Its smooth, steady 6-cylinder power is unsurpassed for all cotton tillage work with centrally mounted tools, and is ideal for drawbar, belt and power take-off work. Its finger-tip control from the comfortable driver's seat, and automotive type steering with steering-braking on the turns provide more driver comfort and faster, easier handling than any tractor built before. The Oliver Variable Speed Governor Control enables you to use only the fuel needed to do the work.

The "70" is built in two engine types to give you greatest fuel economy—the high compression "70" HC for gasoline, and the "70" KD, for kerosene or distillate—each specially designed for the fuel. Pick your fuel and your "70", but get a "70"! We'll be glad to demonstrate. Come in and see us.

Coldest Day of Year Is Recorded Here On Monday Morning

Last week this sheet mentioned a delayed visit paid this county by "Old Man Winter" which drove the mercury down to the 20 degree mark.
Not content with his "delayed" visit the "Old Man" returned after a false thaw and landed on Floyd County literally with all four feet to drive the thermometer to the 16 degree mark on Sunday, only to be followed on Monday by the winter's record low of 10 degrees.
"Clear and cold" weather fooled the majority of the citizens as many had failed to prepare for the sudden drop in temperature, with the result that some damage was done to water systems around homes.
Several motorists underestimated the cold early Monday morning when they drove to town to open their stores and had their radiators freeze solid and some cases burst. The cold at 6 a. m. was the coldest time of the day according to the recording thermometer at West Texas Gas.

Auction Sale Of Used Cars Draws Big Monday Crowds To Floydada

More than 1,100 persons registered at the Oden Chevrolet Company's auction sale Monday afternoon and the town was well-filled with other visitors from a wide area here to see and take part in the unique used car sale.
Seale & McDonald, the auctioneers, disposed of 25 cars during the afternoon. The sale was advertised in Floyd County and portions of five other counties, and most of the department stores, food serving and retailing establishments and drugstores reported unusually brisk Monday sales. Other automobile agencies also did a good business during the day, according to reports.
Chevrolet dealers from Lockney, Petersburg, Ralls and Tullia, visited the sale at various times during the day.

R. E. Fry—

ed was made in 1928, when he produced $406,500 of new business, $138,500 of which he sold to old policy holders.
No Rate Increases
In commenting on the statement of his company, Mr. Fry said that C. F. O'Donnell, president, has announced that no increase in Southwestern Life rates is contemplated. "Lots of people think that life insurance rates are about the same among legal reserve companies," he continued. "This belief is probably based on the fact that there is a minimum below which no company can safely go, determined by definite mortality tables and conservative expectations of interest earned on investments. But most companies' premiums are well above this minimum, and today there is a larger difference between the rates of the leading companies than ever before. The companies with the best records on their investments and the lowest overhead expenses are naturally able to make lower rates than their competitors. Every change in ordinary life insurance rates made by Southwestern Life during its 35 years' history has been downward. Safety, of course, is of absolute first importance in the buying of life insurance, but the careful buyer today can save money without sacrificing anything in the way of security."
Mr. Fry also reported that due to continued satisfactory earnings on Southwestern Life's investments, the rate of excess interest allowed on proceeds of maturing policies left with the company will be one-half of one per cent during 1938, making a total of four per cent paid, three and one-half per cent being guaranteed.

LUBBOCK, Feb. 3.—(Special)— Amateur boxing on the largest scale ever attempted here will find more than 50 young non-professional fighters of the South Plains area competing in the District Golden Gloves Tournament at the auditorium next Monday and Tuesday nights.

As a result of a "light night" program at Lockney last week, L. B. Martin, 15, and Louis Hollingsworth, a scrapping welterweight, qualified for the District tournament. Martin won a technical knockout over Bill Norrid of Silverton in the first round of their fight, while Louis Hollingsworth won by a clean knockout over Red Arney of Lockney in the third round. Both fighters are expected to compete in the Lubbock tournament.

IS SHE ON THE TEAM— OR IN THE BLEACHERS?
BREAD and Milk are the foods children need in largest amounts

BREAD and Milk are the foods children need in largest amounts
BREAD and growing children are perfect team mates. They like each other—and together they bring home lots of victories.
For, bread supplies many of the things growing bodies need—carbohydrates, for energy to win the game; proteins, for growth, and the replacement of tired, worn out tissues; and it contributes to the mineral salts necessary for the all-around development of a strong constitution. Bread builds husky muscles, too.
Because it is more nearly well-balanced in protein and carbohydrate than any other food, bread can well make up at least a FOURTH of a child's diet. The child who eats six slices or more a day is the gainer.
Children need food that is quickly turned into energy and food that maintains their energy between meals. Bread never lets them down.
What's more, no other common food except sugar is MORE QUICKLY digested. It leaves no harmful residue and puts no strain on young digestive organs.
There is no BETTER or CHEAPER way than through good white bread of giving to growing children the things their young bodies need in greatest amounts: a good source of food energy and muscle-building proteins.
