S. E. Duncan Leaving For Sanatorium

City Secretary Told by Physician He Has Tubercular Condition

Henderson Deputy

Formal Approval of Appointment Given by Council In Special Meeting

Secretary S. E. Duncan, officially the city's bookkeeper, tax assessor and collector, and clerk, is going to take a rest after seven years of service during a very strenuous period in the municipality's life.

Announcement that he would take an extended rest, probably 60 or 90 days, and that the time would be spent in the state sanatorium for tuberculosis, was made by Mr. Duncan yesterday, following a special meeting of the city council Tuesday night at which Mayor pro tem W. U. White presided in the necessary absence of the mayor.

At this meeting Mr. Duncan announced the necessity for a complete rest for himself and asked the council to approve the appointment of C. W. Henderson to serve as his deputy. This approval in formal manner was given in an ordinance, No. 199, passed by the council. Henderson, beginning Wednesday was being coached in the job by Mr. Duncan, who hopes to leave home sometime during the next week.

"Physicians tell me I have tuberculosis," Mr. Duncan told a reporter Wednesday. "I am taking for granted they know and am making preparations to quit work and begin the rest cure just as hastily as possible."

Mr. Duncan is not "running a temperature," his temperature being slightly below normal. However, he does tire fast, he said, and since being examined has been taking his work in easy stages. He does not cough nor hemorrhage nor have any outward symptoms of tuberculosis.

During mid-winter Mr. Duncan had a severe attack of influenza. Years of long-hard hours had left him easily susceptible and he had a hard three weeks, his family said. The lung trouble may have resulted from this attack or it may have been of long standing, the physician leaning to the latter theory.

C. W. Henderson, who will have charge of the office in the absence of Mr. Duncan, is an experienced clerical man and is expected to handle the work of his principal in excellent fashion, members of the council indicating their pleasure at his selection by Mr. Duncan.

The fall was not a severe one and it was several days before the injured man learned his hurts were more than severe sprain.

Home Dem. Agent Expected on Work In County May 1

When the Floyd County Commissioners Court and Miss Lida Cooper, district home demonstration agent of A. & M. Extension Service Monday conferred on plans for an agent of the service in this county, Miss Cooper said the likelihood is that the service will be established in the county about May 1.

At the time of the meeting she did not know who would be given the assignment here, she told the court. Formalities of a contract were entered into during the session. For Floyd County the court pledged $1,000 of an annual salary of $2,200. Quarters in the court house also will be provided for the agent.

The court voted in their meeting thirty days ago to approve re-establishment of home demonstration work in the county.

Information And Letters Received By County Agent From AA Administration

Forms Sent Floyd County Farmers This Week By Office

Information of particular importance to wheat and cotton producers in this section has been received at the county agent's office this week. A letter has been received from I. W. Duggan, acting director of the southern division AAA program, and E. N. Holmgreen, administrative officer of Texas, giving in detail the information needed and the forms that must be filled out to give the information.

County Agent D. F. Bredthauer said that it was almost imperative that the forms mentioned in the information be filled out and returned to his office either by mail or person.

"We are working on the new cotton program that was voted last week and getting together all of the information we can but of course there is a great deal we do not know, therefore we are asking for all of the cooperation from the farmers in this region until the new set-up is understood and worked out," Bredthauer continued.

The following information and letter has been received from I. W. Duggan, acting director of the Southern Division, AAA Program and E. N. Holmgreen, administrative officer of Texas:

Wheat Growers
The acreage seeded to wheat on many farms in your state is doubtless in excess of the general soil-depleting acreage allotment which will be established for such farms. In order to meet performance to the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program, such excess acreage must be designated as a winter cover crop by March 15, 1938. Acreage so designated and used as a winter cover crop, cannot be harvested for grain or hay, but may be pastured until a date approximately six weeks before the normal time for harvest, at which time an approved soil-building practice must be instituted.

"Since individual farm allotments may not be established for all farms by March 15, it may be necessary for some producers to designate their excess wheat as a cover crop without definite knowledge of the acreage in their farm allotments. It is estimated that the general soil-depleting allotment for 1938 will be from 80 to 84 percent of the normal general crop acreage for the farm, except that where reclamation land is designated, such allotment may be less than 80 percent.

Suggestions Made
Therefore, it is suggested that for farms where wheat seedings equal or exceed the normal general soil-depleting acreage, the acreage designated as a cover crop be an amount ranging from 16 to 20 percent of the normal general soil-depleting acreage for the farm, plus any amount seeded in excess of the normal general soil-depleting acreage.

For securing this information Forms SRM-202 have been mailed to Floyd County producers. Everyone is urged to read this letter very carefully and either mail back to the office with all questions answered or return it personally.

Another form has also been mailed to all 1937 producers which is SRM205 which has to do with the establishment of acreage allotment of soil depleting crops under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program for farms for which the necessary information is filed with the County Agricultural Conservation Association.

Payment will be made under the 1938 program on acreage allotments of certain crops provided the acreage planted to such crops is substantially in accordance with the acreage allotments established for the farm.

In order that acreage allotments of soil-depleting crops may be made promptly it is necessary that information filed at once with the County Committee to show the facts. The fact that marketing quotas of some soil-depleting crops will be in effect for 1938 made it doubly important that this information be filed at an early date.

McCHESNEYS RETURN HOME

M. and Mrs. H. G. McChesney and children, who have been in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Los Angeles, California, since August of last year, while Mr. McChesney has been under treatment at veteran's hospitals, returned home recently and are now residing on South Wall Street.

Mr. McChesney, on crutches, feels fine and is gaining strength rapidly, he tells friends.

AUTO LICENSE

According to figures in the tax assessors office Wednesday 325 passenger car license, 74 farm license, and 14 commercial tags have been issued for 1938.

Bids Asked On $11,000 More Bonds

City Would Retire Additional Indebtedness if Prices Asked Meet Approval

$11,000 In Fund

Refunding Bond Holders Asked to Submit Figures As Of April 12

If bondholders submit bids that appear to be reasonable the City Council on April 12 will retire another $11,000 of its bonded indebtedness. The city council so voted last week.

Only bonds which are in the category of the refunding issue of 1936, totalling something more than $60,000 are eligible in the bidding but the council expects to have bids that will meet their requirements.

Formal advertisements for the bids will be made in a New York City publication, as required by their contract with Brown Crummer Company, which handled the refunding issue. Among the requirements of the city, in their contract with the bondholders' agents, is that the council shall have in their reserve fund a sufficient amount of money to meet all maturing interest payments for a period of one year subsequent to the date on which bonds are bid in.

The refunding plan, terms of which expire on January 1, 1941, resulted from an effort of the city to arrive at a satisfactory solution of financial difficulties arising out of its inability to meet outstanding maturities on their due date. Total debt of the city was above $370,000 when the refunding contract was entered into. Of this indebtedness, however, the city held $10,000 from reserves built up.

To date since the refunding contract was entered into the city has retired $12,000 of the debt.

Bankhead-Jones Committee Has Trouble Finding Homes It Is Willing To Approve

Fear Farms Can't Pay Off For New Home-Owners On Present Prices

The Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenancy administration committee of Floyd County, charged with the duty of finding farms for farm loan purchasers, are having trouble finding good homes and good farms at prices they can afford to recommend.

This was the word this week from the PSA office in Floydada, where it was said inspections had been made of several places offered, with possibly only one or none passed as feasible for a man to take his family to and expect to pay off a loan and make them a living.

"Present prices of cotton and wheat will not justify the prices asked for the farms," Claude C. Carpenter, ex-officio secretary to the committee, said. "The farms won't pay off, committeemen fear."

The county committee is composed of Fred Battey, Joe M. Smith and Oscar L. Allen. "For the benefit of the applicants as well as of the future of the program, this committee must keep in mind that probable production and probable prices must have a large part in determining the value of the land for a home," Mr. Carpenter said.

Recent oil leasing activities, together with last year's unprecedented wheat crop in the county and the present unusual outlook for this and row crops, have had a marked tendency toward raising price levels at which land is being offered, resulting in the problem the committee has to face, and it is Mr. Carpenter's suggestion that those who have land they would like to sell contact the committee. Briefly the set-up and the problem of the committee is as follows:

Congress appropriated $10,000,000 for loans during the present year and authorized an appropriation of $25,000,000 next year and not to exceed $50,000,000 each year thereafter. Floyd, Randall and Wheeler Counties were selected for the Tenant Purchase Program in this area for 1938. The committeemen of Floyd County are anxious to select good farms at agricultural values.

Of the million farm families forced on relief, many failed because they were living on unproductive land. Others failed because of inflated land prices and a collapse of farm prices of agricultural and live stock products. Drought and crop failures tends to lower production over a period of years. One main objective of the committeemen, as well as the Farm Security Administration, is to help the people who live and work on the land to achieve a better standard of living.

Worthless Check Ring Broken Here

South Plains Officers Halt Stream Of Bad Checks

Two Captured

$184 Worth Of Bad Checks Passed Last Week In Floyd

Peace officers of the South Plains and Panhandle have smashed what appeared to be a thriving swindling ring which, it is believed, was operating from Amarillo headquarters.

Checks amounting to $184 were passed on Floydada and Lockney banks by two men last week. A check was cashed at the Floydada First National Bank for $97 on a Paducah bank. The First National Bank at Lockney received an $88 check on deposit, $67 of this amount was withdrawn before the check had cleared the Paducah bank on which it was drawn. Both checks were discovered to be forged when later presented in Paducah for collection.

Sheriff Fred N. Clark was notified of the "bad check" passing by both banks. A long distance call was placed Saturday from the local bus station to Lockney inquiring whether "the check on deposit there had been cleared." The person hung up when informed that it had not but likely would in a few days.

Tuesday Deputy Sheriff H. B. Alexander apprehended two men as they were attempting to collect the remaining $21 at the Lockney bank but they made their escape, although the deputy sheriff fired two shots to halt them.

Sheriff Clark and Deputy Alexander then left late Tuesday for Plainview where it was believed the men had gone. The car was located at a tourist camp. After searching over Plainview in company with Kelly Hooper, Plainview sheriff, and Bob Barnett, sheriff at Canyon, the two men were discovered hiding in the west part of Plainview. Both were captured after a "foot race" of about 400 yards and were brought here Wednesday morning charged with "passing a forged instrument."

The men identified themselves as (See Check Artists, page 7)

Schools Will Close Tomorrow; Teachers At Canyon Meeting

Floyd county schools, except in instances of unusual circumstances that prevent, will be closed tomorrow while teachers practically unanimously attend the West Texas State Teachers Convention in Canyon.

Lockney schools will be closed, it was announced several days ago by Superintendent Jones, and Supt. A. D. Cummings this week said Floydada schools would close. Practically every teacher in both school systems will go to Canyon, where they will have leading educators in discussions of school and school teacher problems.

Supt. Walter Travis will head the Floyd County rural school teaching corps in the trek to the north plains school center, and said a large per cent of the county's school teachers would attend.

The sessions of the convention last though Saturday.

Co-operative Farm Loans Being Urged

Community Service Loans Made Available Through Local RR Supervisor

Rehabilitation Aim

Breeding Circles, Machinery Purchases Available To Low-Income Farmers

W. A. Somerville, regional personal director and Homer R. Robbins, district supervisor, of the Farm Security Administration, spent several days in Floydada Monday week with Claude C. Carpenter, of the Floyd County office of the administration.

Co-operative Loans Encouraged

The Farm Security Administration of Floyd County reports individual Rehabilitation loans are being approved daily. Community and co-operative services loans are also available in Floyd County through the Farm Security Administration groups and individuals for community and co-operative services such as the purchase of machinery, including combines, threshers, feed choppers, terracing machines and plow cutters. Loans are made to establish livestock breeding services, including jacks, stallions and sires.

Claude C. Carpenter, county RR supervisor, said this service of the FSA is another means used to achieve rural rehabilitation. Group services such as those named have been made available to low-income farmers in many areas.

The organization of breeding circles for the improvement of work animals and livestock has been particularly popular in the past two years. Under this plan, he explained, a master loan is made to one individual who is responsible for obtaining a sire. The supervisor aids the man by getting a group of farmers to agree to cooperate in the use of this service on a fee basis. The master borrower is responsible for the loan, and when retired, the property belongs to him.

A. A. Glenn, chief of the above section for the Department of Agriculture, said that no loans are made in a locality lacking cooperative spirit. However, if farmers are anxious to acquire some cooperative project similar to those outlined above, the FSA will investigate the proposed project and extend the necessary loan if the plan is feasible and lends to the Rural Rehabilitation of the community.

Mr. Glenn said recently that more than 1500 farmers are now participating in the FSA's community and cooperative service program.

Farmers desiring to obtain full details for the community and co-operative service or regular standard loans offered by this agency are asked to contact Claude C. Carpenter in the near future.

Sunday School Lesson

Good Health Through Good Living

Golden Text: Now therefore beware, I pray thee, and drink no wine nor strong drink, and eat not any unclean thing. Judges 13:4.

Lesson Text: Mark 6:53-56; Judges 13:12-14; I Corinthians 3:16, 17; Romans 12:1-2.

Mark 6:53-56— 53 And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Gennesaret, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him.

55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was.

56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him were made whole.

Judges 13:12-14— 12 And Manoah said, Now let thy words come to pass. How shall we order the child, and how shall we do unto him?

13 And the angel of the Lord said unto Manoah, Of all that I said unto the woman let her beware. 14 She may not eat of any thing that cometh of the vine, neither let her drink wine or strong drink, nor eat any unclean thing: all that I commanded her let her observe.

I Corinthians 3:16, 17— 16 Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

Romans 12:1, 2— 1 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

2 And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.

Time and Place.—Our Scripture

from Mark is dated April, A. D. 29, the place being Gennesaret, near Capernaum. The birth of Samson took place at Zorah, 14 miles west of Jerusalem, B. C. 1279. He judged Israel from B. C. 1250 to B. C. 1231. "Romans" was written by Paul from Corinth, A. D. 57. He wrote I Corinthians from Ephesus, A. D. 55.

One of the principal concerns of people today is the care of their health. Many movements, beliefs and cults have arisen and enlisted followers—all striving for the same purpose, the achievement of a strong body.

Yet strange to say, there probably never was a time in the life of humanity when there was on such a wide scale so much disregard of physical welfare and security, and such widespread indulgence in ways of living and habits that are destructive of the ideal of "a sound mind and a sound body."

On the one hand, we see the world's immense concern with war and violence and implements of destruction, a building-up of the bodies of men in fine physique with the idea that their strength may be used in violent ways, either for defence or aggression. On the other hand, we see aspects of loose living and indulgence that tend toward the weakening of the body, toward the breakdown of good health, both individual and social, and toward a moral corruption that inevitably in time has its physical effects.

Where men and women have lived healthy lives with useful toil, plenty of fresh air, proper hours of rest, without vicious or questionable habits, and with plenty of good wholesome food, there has been much need to concern themselves with the body or to think a great deal about it. It is to this area of good and wholesome living that the Bible constantly introduces us, and we have in our lesson, passages from Scripture from four sources that emphasize the personal aspect of temperance in keeping the body strong.

Perhaps we ought to reverse the order of these passages and take first of all that from the Book of Judges. Early in the life of Israel, it became apparent that the good health, both of the individual and of the people as a whole, depended upon keeping the life of Israel free from contamination with the vicious practices of surrounding peoples and free also from the corrupt and debasing influences from things in their own life. The danger that inhered in strong drink became quickly apparent, and the Bible in all its pages, both from the early and later life of Israel, is insistent upon the evil that lurks in intoxication.

Jesus laid stress on good health. The record of the miracles of healing symbolizes His whole attitude toward life. He came to restore the souls and bodies of men as He came to teach them right principles and to establish life in ways of good conduct. There is a great deal of true religion in what we might call "wholesome living." This means that one is not going to do or indulge in things that are to his own hurt or to the hurt of his neighbor.

The passages from Corinthians and from Romans only enforce very strongly this general conception. If a man has a sense of the sacredness of his own life and a realization that his body, as it is the temple of his soul, may also be the temple of the living God, he cannot lightly or knowingly indulge in habits or foolish ways of life that are against the welfare of either body or soul.

ONLY YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE

Does Spring begin on March 20th?...or on the 21st? "Begin it today!" pleads your engine. "Bleed out my Winter-poisoned oil. But this Spring help me with more than an oil-change. Change to Your Mileage Merchant! And that's changing to Conoco Germ Processed oil—the only way to change me into an OIL-PLATED engine."

You want this modern exclusive OIL-PLATING because especially in Summer your steady driving demands more than the plain old type of oil-film that slithers OFF the working parts like drops of quicksilver. Exactly the opposite is achieved by the Germ Process—patented. It makes droplets of oil act like a billion tiny suction cups, powerfully attracted and OIL-PLATED to every working surface...Never draining down, never inviting friction, no matter how many thousands of starts and thousands of miles you make all Spring and Summer. And you'll notice Germ Processed oil sticking so close to "Full"—even in older cars—that you'll want to be sticking to Your Mileage Merchant. Continental Oil Company

PRactical DEPARTMENT OF COOKERY

Texas State College for Women (CIA)

DENTON, March 7. — Anxious mothers and vitamin-c complexed cooks the world over appreciate eggs as body builders No. 1, for palatable eggs contain all the material needed to make husbands, infants and adolescents thrive alike.

Used alone, for thickening custards, leavening breads and cakes, coating croquettes, binding meat loaves, and for color and flavor in many foods, Humpty-Dumpty is essential in anybody's diet.

Eggs Cooked in Shell: Start in cold water to cover. Heat gradually to simmering, but do not boil. For soft-cooked eggs: remove from heat and let stand until eggs are of desired state of doneness. The time required for each of doneness must be determined by experimenting, giving due consideration to amount of water. For hard-cooked eggs: as soon as the water simmers, place the container in a warm place on the stove or over hot water for thirty minutes.

Poached Eggs: Break eggs into boiling salted water in a shallow pan, but have enough water to cover eggs. Remove pan from heat at once and cover. Let stand five minutes or longer depending upon the desired degree of doneness. Remove eggs carefully with a flat, perforated spoon.

Fried Eggs: Break eggs into hot bacon drippings or other fat in frying pan. Cook over low heat. To cook over top, dip up fat with spoon and pour over eggs until a coating forms over yolks, or pour in two or three tablespoons of water and cover pan to let steam form coating over yolks. Remove from pan with pancake turner.

Baked Eggs: Break eggs into individual greased ramekins. Dot with butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place dishes in shallow pan of water. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) until whites are set. Slip eggs out onto toast.

Scrambled Eggs With Dried Beef: (six servings) Melt two tablespoons butter or bacon drippings in frying pan. Stir in one cup chopped dried beef and cook until light brown. Add one cup tomatoes, four eggs (beaten), one-fourth teaspoon mustard, and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Stir constantly and cook over low heat until slightly thickened. Serve on toast.

Creole Eggs: (six servings) Melt four tablespoons fat in large frying pan. Add one cup chopped tomatoes, 1/2 cup finely chopped onion, and two tablespoons finely chopped green pepper. Cook over low heat until vegetables are tender. Stir in six eggs (well-beaten), one teaspoon salt, and one teaspoon chili powder. Stir constantly and continue to cook until mixture is creamy. Serve on toast.

On The Garden Path

Fellow citizens, we are soon to have the honor of entertaining the leading women from every town in this district. Each P. T. A. in the district will elect its leaders to be our guests. This convention met with us nine years ago. At that time we were fortunate in having a good shopping because our iliacs were beautiful that year and at that time. The women carried away the impression that Floydada was a city of iliacs.

We may not be able to save our iliacs this year, but let's put forth an effort to save them by covering them and keeping them moist in case we have bad weather. (You may have other shrubs that you can protect and help the looks of your home and your town). The bulbs will help to brighten our door ways. If the weather man does not work with us we can at least have the papers and trash that the March winds has deposited on our premises picked up.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Heard returned home last week-end from Temple where the latter had undergone an operation for appendicitis. She is rapidly recovering, Mr. Heard said.

R. Chester Day, of Houston, was in Floydada the latter part of last week visiting his father, Elder J. Day.

Let's Talk About Clothes

YOUNG MODERN

TEXAS STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN (CIA)

DENTON, March 14.—"Draping," "Front fullness," and "Blousy" are familiar words to fashion-watchers by now, but they will be even more familiar by the time this spring is over.

The loose, cleverly gathered costumes that created such a flurry this winter are going to stay with us a while longer, and will soon have a new member of the society—the dolman silhouette. That wide-armed, spacious-sleeved style was shown in a few fur evening jackets last fall, but its big moments are still ahead.

Fullness is moving up to the shoulders, having started in the skirt and worked up to the bust line. Instead of just plain "Fullness forward," "Straight from the shoulder" will be the password for dresses and coats now.

It hardly seems necessary to say anything more about pleats, so widely proclaimed have they been; trunks, too, have come in for general notice, particularly the fine ones.

Newer in the spotlight are wide tucks or folds, another expression of the soft loose treatment. Sometimes these folds have the casual, unstudied effect of an impromptu accent when in bodice or skirt, and then again you'll see them in serried rows horizontalwise, forming an entire bodice.

Girls at Texas State College for Women plan to use these crossbars of deep tucks in a great many of their daytime sheers this summer, coupled with the long-waisted fitted bodice of the season.

EXPERIENCE IN FLOODED CALIFORNIA AREA TOLD

How they sat on their garage roof from 3 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock the next day watching debris of one kind and another, in- cluding neighbor's houses, float down stream by them, is related by Mrs. A. N. Smith, of Anaheim, California, in a letter to her.

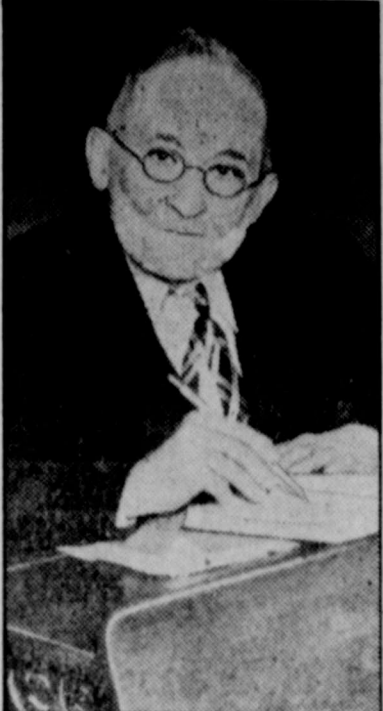

W. A. Gound, here this week. They were among the victims who lost their possessions in the Southern California floods early last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were awakened by the roaring waters and when they got out of bed stepped into water flowing into their house, Mrs. Smith wrote. After debating while water continued to rise they finally decided on the roof of the garage as the best place of refuge for themselves and their baby. They took the time to get warm clothing and wraps and none of them suffer- ed exposure.

However, some of their neighbors were not so fortunate as the Santa Ana River waters flowed past, from a broken dike upstream.

Another couple who wrote they were safe after a rather narrow escape were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnston, of Orange. Several homes in their vicinity were several feet in water. Communication service was much disrupted, Mrs. Johnston said, in a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Johnston here.

Schoolboy At 80

Moeller has en- rolled for two courses in mathe- matics in a WPA night school, and is said by his teacher to be a mathe- matical genius. The bewiskered octogenarian explained his return to school books and desk by saying, "It gives me a nice regular life."

FLOYD CO. WOMAN RIDES MOTHER-IN-LAW FLOAT IN NATION WIDE CELEBRATION

Mrs. P. G. Stegall was a Floyd County mother-in-law to have the honor of riding on the huge mother-in-law float, in the first parade of its kind to ever have been staged, last Wednesday in Amarillo, when all mother-in-laws of the nation were honored at a celebration there. So far as is known Mrs. Stegall was the only Floyd County woman on the float.

Membership tickets were sold last fall during the Tri-State Fair to raise funds for the charter and Mrs. Stegall just happened to be in Amarillo and bought one of these tickets. When it was decided by leaders of the affair to have the float those who had bought tickets were notified and given a chance to be the ones to ride on the float.

When the charter is granted names of those holding these tickets, will be printed on the back of it.

The one hundred and sixty five foot float was decorated in white and blue, resembling a large ship, and each mother-in-law carried an American flag. Mrs. Stegall said, "We liked to have frozen but it was worth it to ride such a huge, beau- tiful float, and participate in this celebration!" The float was pulled twenty three blocks on the main street.

While in Amarillo Mrs. Stegall visited her daughter, Mrs. J. P. Wil- liamson and Mr. Williamson. A large number from here saw the parade and were present at the speaking of Mrs. Franklin D. Roose- velt that evening.

NEW, BETTER VEGETABLES IS AIM OF PLANT BREEDER

Tastes and preferences in vege- tables are highly localized, both in this country and in other countries, says the United States Department of Agriculture 1937 Yearbook, part of which is devoted to the breeding of new and better vegetables. Many vegetables commonly eaten in Asia, are unknown in the United States.

In some countries American sweet corn is not considered fit for human food.

Although the Division of Plant Exploration and Introduction draws on the world wide for new plants, these are used mostly to breed specific characteristics into vegetables that already are favorites, in order to improve them in disease resis- tance, quality, or other characteris- tics.

Systematic vegetable breeding, carefully and scientifically plan- ned by public agencies in this coun- try, is comparatively new, says the yearbook, but individuals and com- mercial firms for many years have produced better vegetables, largely by what is known as mass selec- tion, though there has been some by hybridization.

The new Federal station at Charleston, S. C., is devoted exclu- sively to breeding better vege- tables. It is concerned with vege- tal problems in the Southeast, at Cheyenne, Wyo., the Great Plains Horticultural Field Station is en- gaged in a breeding program to ex- tend the meager list of vegetables now adapted to trying conditions of the Plains.

GOOD ROADS, AUTOS TEND TO DECENTRALIZE CITIES

"Highway transportation by motor vehicle is the first great decentraliz- ing transportation agency," says Thomas H. MacDonald, Chief of the United States Bureau of Public Roads. Beginning with water trans- portation and continued by railroad development, transportation in the past has tended to concentrate large populations in small areas. Motor vehicles are now unwinding the ball, which has been tightly wound with too many people in the center.

Mr. MacDonald explains that the wide 5- to 10-mile suburban band forming around all large cities to- day is the first step in this decen- tralization. The automobile, with- gether with suburban rail service, has allowed city workers easily to commute 50 miles daily, allowing a more wholesome mode of life for themselves and families.

The next logical step, he believes, is the breakdown of oversized in- dustrial units into smaller units that will be free of many of the undesirable characteristics of over- costs and overcrowding, but remain of sufficient size to retain the econ- omies of mass production.

"Do Englishmen use American slang?" "Some of them do. Why?" "My daughter is being married in London, and the duke just cabled me to come across."

The nudists were planning a masquerade, and the ladies were worrying over what to imitate. "Well," said one, "which my vari- ous veins I think I'll go as a road map."

Worker To Opera

Because he sang as he worked, as in the photo above, Genarino "Jerry" Cardinale, 23-year-old WPA ditch-digger, was given the chance to sing grand opera before a packed house in New York City. Maestro Salmagdi, attracted by an F above high C he heard as he passed the ditch where Jerry was singing and swinging his pick, gave the youth the leading role in La Traviata.

ALFALFA MEALS SUPPLY VITAMIN A FOR CHICKENS

Growing chickens need some form of vitamin A to make satisfactory growth. Birds allowed to range about the farm during the growing season usually pick up sufficient quantities of green feed, but birds confined or unable to get green feed should have some feed that is rich in vitamin A, says poultry specialists of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry.

Alfalfa-leaf meal is one of the most economical sources of vitamin A, when all feeds must be purchased and may serve as the sole source of this vitamin for growing chicks. Other common sources of vitamin A, in addition to green feeds, are yellow corn and milk.

The percentage of alfalfa-leaf meal required in a diet, which contains no appreciable quantity of vitamin A from other sources, depends on the ability of that diet to support growth when vitamin A is adequately supplied and on the vitamin A potency of the alfalfa-leaf meal itself. This potency is in- fluenced by factors such as the method of preparation, variety, soil, weather, and cutting. Of these, the first is by far the most important.

The best criteria of an alfalfa-leaf meal's vitamin A potency are: Age, color, and "brightness." Un- fortunately, it is seldom possible for the purchaser to ascertain the age of the meal he buys. Although the color of an alfalfa-leaf meal is a fairly good index of the meal's vitamin A content, the potency de- creases more rapidly than the green- ness of the meal changes.

Although as little alfalfa-leaf meal as 1.5 percent of the total ration may supply an adequate quantity of vitamin A to maintain chicks in good health and enable them to grow, it is unwise to depend on less than 5 percent of an alfalfa-leaf meal of unknown potency.

DAIRY COWS ON ALFALFA ALONE PRODUCE PROFIT

What will a dairy cow produce on good alfalfa hay alone?

Fifteen Holstein cows, in a test conducted by the United States De- partment of Agriculture, averaged 11,125 pounds of milk a year on alf- alfa alone compared to 19,207 pounds on a full-grain ration with hay and pasture. They averaged nearly 400 pounds of butterfat on alfalfa alone compared to 650 pounds on the full-grain ration.

The test was conducted by the Bureau of Dairy Industry at Hunt- ley, Mont.; Mandan, N. Dak.; Wood- ward, Okla.; and Ardmore, S. Dak. In certain sections of the West, es- pecially in irrigation districts, there generally is an abundance of alf- alfa hay. This test, says J. R. Dav- erson, shows that a straight alfalfa ration may be fed profitably when the hay is of good quality.

A CRISS CROSS OF TRAILS ROADS IN NATIONAL FORESTS

Approximately 65,000 miles of roads and nearly 130,000 miles of trails on the 157 national forests were maintained last year under administration of the Forest Ser- vice of the United States Depart- ment of Agriculture. The total road mileage maintained included 1,793 miles of forest highways and 63,564 miles of truck trails.

Construction was completed on 3,747 miles of national forest roads and on 1,403 miles of horse and foot trails. The road construction in- cluded 265 miles of forest highways and 3,482 miles of truck trails.

The Forest Service explains that forest highways are necessary for public travel but they serve also for fire protection and aid in the economic marketing of forest timber crops. Minor roads and trails are used by millions of recreationists to reach secluded areas for camping, hunting, fishing, and picnicking, but are primarily necessary for protec- tion, development, administration and use of the national forests.

Construction and maintenance of the various forest improvements serve a dual purpose, the Forest Service says—development and protection of a national resource, and relief through employment. All roads and trails are planned in ad- vance and work is done as forest needs arise.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith are visiting relatives in Denton County this week.

STATES SURFACE 28,913 MILES OF ROADS IN YEAR

State highway departments sur- faced 28,913 miles of roads in 1936 according to reports to the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. High-type surfaces such as port- land-cement concrete, bituminous concrete, brick and bituminous macadam totaled 4,706 miles and low- type surfaces included 24,207 miles. For every mile of surfacing placed on an earth road two miles of new surfacing was placed on old sur- faces. Much of this work included surface widening and the placing of high types of surface.

Dummy Double

Double for Charley McCarthey! Richard Bremerchamp, graduate Los Angeles Junior College plays that role at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Dick, whose features have the same implish cast as those of the ventri- quist dummy, has worked in motion picture studios, in the direction department, since graduation in 1935.

One afternoon while he was amus- ing co-workers with an imitation of Charlie, a director walked by. Im- pressed by Dick's appearance and the skill of the impersonation, the direc- tor rushed Dick to the makeup de- partment. Complete with painted face, evening clothes, and monocle Dick repeated the act and several stills of him were shot.

"I get a kick out of impersonating Charlie," Dick declared, "although of course it's only a sideline to my regular job. My friends razz me about it," he added ruefully "but I guess a fellow who stooges for a dummy can't expect anything else."

Four "Bad" Hawks

The four "bad" hawks of the hawk family, according to a writer in the Detroit News, are the gos- hawk, the sharp-shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk and the duck hawk.

The "good" hawks are the red-tailed hawk, the red-shouldered hawk, the broad-winged hawk, Swainson's hawk, the American rough-legged hawk, the ferruginous rough-legged hawk, the eastern sparrow hawk, the marsh hawk and the thesprey.

There is an Arab underground set- tlement at Garal, near Tripoli. This is a city inside a mountain.

Happy Again

Fifteen months and 15 days in a hospital is no picnic, but Ernest Towns, 29, Atlanta, Ga., can still smile after being confined that long while undergoing 11 operations on his badly burned right leg. The reason for his broad smile is that doctors told him his long enforced vacation is soon to be at an end. Towns is shown using the exercise bar with which he kept in shape in bed.

"I SHALL NOT PASS THIS WAY"

The quotation, "I shall not pass this way again," is called "Life" and is as follows: "I expect to pass through this world but once. Any good therefore that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again." General The author is unknown. General proof lies with Stephen Grellet as author, although it is not found in his writings. The same idea is found in "The Spectator," by Addison. Canon Jepson has positively claimed it for Emerson and it has been at- tributed to Edward Courtenay, due to the resemblance to the Earl's epi- taph.

BOTH CITY AND FARM FOLK STUDY SOIL CONSERVATION

Farmers are not the only ones in- terested in soil conservation. The butcher, the baker, the family doc- tor, and the banker, on the corner are all keeping an eye on this new trend in agriculture.

Approximately 740,000 persons — from all walks of life—have visited demonstration projects and C. C. C. camp areas in various parts of the country to inspect and study scienc- tific erosion control measures be- ing used by farmers cooperating with the Soil Conservation Service in its demonstration program.

Of this total, about 500,000 have been farmers who wanted specific information about soil-saving meas- ures and practices, says the Depart- ment of Agriculture. Others have inspected the demonstration areas because of public interest in the ero- sion control program.

CINDERS ON DRIVEWAY CHECK MUD AND RUTS

If a driveway is unsurfaced, spread ashes or cinders over it this winter instead of throwing them away, suggests the Bureau of Pub- lic Roads of the United States De- partment of Agriculture. They pre- vent rutting and mud during wet weather.

By spreading stove and furnace cinders over the driveway, especially over the paths usually traversed by the car wheels, layer of good sur- facing material will gradually ac- cumulate. This will be a good drive- way itself, or will be a good base on which to place a better surface.

Materials and methods commonly used in constructing driveways are described in "Construction of Private Driveways," issued by the United States Department of Agricul- ture as Miscellaneous Publication No. 272. Single copies can be ob- tained free upon request to the De- partment at Washington, D. C.

Chapel

In chapel Wednesday, we were entertained by Rev. Vernon Shaw and Johnnie Cohens.
Rev. Shaw issued an invitation to the people to come to the Baptist Church for their meeting. Mr. Cohen entertained us with several songs. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. E. C. Thomas. Mr. Cohen is an evangelist. Everyone is invited to attend the meeting.

SUBSTITUTES

There were several substitute teachers (or at least the teachers here taught different subjects) Friday owing to the absence of several of the faculty members. It was not an uncommon sight to see Miss Copeland (algebra and geometry teacher) conducting an English class.
However, Mrs. Fyffe did teach in the place of Miss Cade and in some of Miss Wolfe's classes. Mrs. Rees substituted for Miss Rees in the Home Economics classes. There were several shifts made from the regular routine of classes, but no one seemed to suffer from the encounter.

MISS FOUTS

Miss Lois Fouts, Home Economics teacher at F. H. S. is one of the most charming teachers of the faculty. Her home town is Haskell and it must be a desirable place if her winning smile is a representative product.
Miss Fouts has brown eyes and rich chestnut hair and, being a clothing teacher, she reminds one of an advertisement from Vogue. Some of the things she especially likes are:
Favorite color: blue
Favorite dish: fruit salad
Favorite sports: tennis and riding
Favorite show: Heidi.
Everything seems to be favorite around here, but so is Miss Fouts. Miss Fouts admitted a strong pleasure in mixing up various substances, like say flour, sugar, and the like and then observing the result.
When Miss Fouts is the subject, one runs out of adjectives but we do hope this article has acquainted you in a small measure to the Miss Fouts of F. H. S.

Cummings Appointed To Executive Board Directors At Big Spring

Superintendent A. D. Cummings and the Home Economics teacher, Fannie Mae Rees, attended the Division No. 4 of the Texas State Teachers Association in Big Spring last Friday and Saturday. The convention theme was "The teacher and the new curriculum." Miss Rees was on the program in the Home Economics Department, talking on the Subject, "How Vocational Agriculture and Vocational Home Economics have been correlated in Floydada High School. There were two schools chosen to report on the correlation work being done.
Mrs. Opal Thomas, president of the division, congratulated Miss Rees on the work that has been done and is being done in the Floydada High School.
Miss Rees says "It is not what I have done but what Mr. King, Mr. Cummings and our school board have been doing to make our Vocational Department one of the best in the State. We are proud of our school and want everyone to share the honors that are bestowed upon us."
One of the high lights of the meeting were the talks by Dr. J. Paul Leonard, Leland Stanford University, Stanford, California who spoke on "What Do We mean by Freedom?" and "What are our children thinking about."
Dr. B. P. Pittenger, Dean, School of Education, the University of Texas, gave two interesting talks on the subjects, "Current trends in Teacher Education" and "The Teacher in the Modern School."
The program Saturday morning was the discussions of "The Teachers and the New Curriculum," from the view point of the State Department of Education, of the Deputy State Superintendent, and of the College President after the program was concluded, a business meeting was held.
Mr. Cummings was a delegate from Floyd County to the District House of Delegates. At this meeting Mr. Cummings was appointed to be one of the three representatives from this district on the Executive Board of Directors in the Texas State Teachers Association, for a three year term.

Campus Landscaped

"What a beautiful school campus!" soon can be applied to that of Floydada High School as well as that of Andrews Ward. The Board of Trustees has bought for the school grounds a total of 40 plants, among which are ten cedars, ten wax leaf, four enomymus, four Nondinas and ten poplars. F. P. A. boys sponsored by Mr. King have been working several periods a day to get the various plants set out. Plants will have the same relative position on each side of the entrance. The symmetrical arrangement of the new greenery add much to the attractiveness of F. H. S. and soon each student can point out with pride our dear old school with an eye-satisfying campus carefully kept by students who love and appreciate it.

SENIOR PROJECT DISCUSSED BUT NO DECISION MADE

Where shall the Seniors go Senior day? That's just about all of the hall-talk these days. Several places have been suggested. Even some industrious seniors would like a trip to Carlsbad.
Another topic of discussion is what to have for a class project. A tennis court is enthusiastically upheld by some, a piano by others, and a curtain for the auditorium by the rest. It is a question concerning the right to choose.
There's the terrible thought of leaving Floydada High this spring. There's more terrible thoughts of the possibility of no more schooling for some.
The seniors are busy working on the events of the county meet. This is a rushed reason, and lots of cooperation is needed. Here's to the class. May everything "go just right" for it.

TEN O'CLOCK SCHOLARS ON TIME FOR AMARILLO TRIP

Imagine the surprise of the hall teachers when, at 7:30 a. m. Wednesday, the students began waiting in the halls for the bus to leave for Amarillo. The most astonishing part was that the "early birds" were usually the late-comers or the ones who usually arrive at school about 8:50 a. m.
On an ordinary school morning, most students arrive about 9 in the morning. But when there is a special occasion, some new clothes, and a perfectly beautiful day in which to do something new there is an entirely different attitude.
From the reports there were certainly some dressed-up students. What will be the next surprise?

TENNIS COURTS

The tennis courts have been improved with the road grader making them smooth. This was done Monday afternoon. Since this has been done the students coming out for tennis have a much better court to practice on, and can increase in their speed of playing.

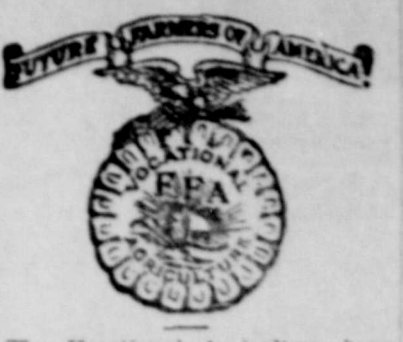

FLOORS REFINISHED

The floors in the Home Economics Department have just been refinished with some type of fluid to make the floors easier to clean. This gives a neater appearance to the department, and makes the keeping easier.

Who was sorry when the prodigal son returned? Answer: The fatted calf.

Sophomores to Edit Hesperette

Blue ribbons to you, Freshman, for a good new edition of the Hesperette! And good luck to you Sophomores, who will have to work hard to excel in a class paper, when the Freshman have proved themselves such stiff competitors. Next week those industrious Sophomores will try their hand at editing, and its bound to be a good edition, too. They have a hard-working unprejudiced editor with a capable staff backing her. Everybody has already started working, too. So all you critical readers, joyfully anticipate the next issue—the Sophomores Hesperette! (May it be worthy of the class who so-sponsor it?)

The Vocational Agriculture boys have begun this week setting out shrubs on the school ground. And transplanting barberries along the walk. The school has ordered ten cedars, ten wax leafs, four Enomymus, two pfitzers, and ten poplars to set out on the school ground.
James Gibbs and J. S. Hale received their Lone Star Farmers Degree. To achieve this award the boys must receive three certificates of merit. Six other requirements just met are forming status, ability to cooperate, leadership, scholarship, and additional activities. J. S. Hale was awarded his degree on last year's work. James Gibbs, a junior, has been especially outstanding as a leader. He is president of the F. P. A. reporter of F. P. A. in 36 and 37. Secretary treasurer of Sophomore Class and president of Junior Class this year.

Ramblings

Boy did these Hesperette reporters welcome a week of relaxation. Thanks to the Fish edition of the paper.
Ham is back on his old road again. Going with Gloria Hammonds, we mean.
Just a hint—all these things were turned in to our gossip column so don't blame us.
The question was turned in just why the Sophs and Fish didn't rate being mentioned in the Hesperette. Here's the answer:
The staff has consented to a box for people to put their gossip in so if the Fish and Sophs haven't got enough news to put in that's their fault not ours. Both Sophs and Fish have a reporter on the staff so give your gossip to them and have it put in. Now please don't write us and gripe!
Someone evidently heard that J. T. Stovall and Lois Head went to Pleasant Hill to a play but didn't see it! (We don't catch either).
The band, so we heard, really went to town on the playing business at Amarillo Wednesday! Boy are we ever proud of them?
The show was good Wednesday! But who knows or cares?
Has any one noticed the number of hooky-players in detention lately? Well, I have!
Miss Wolfe was Friday Stepping high about 10 o'clock Friday night?
Two girls, the extemporaneous speaker and the declaimers, were serenaded by some boys on the fourth floor of the Murchman Hotel Saturday morning! Not mentioning the pajama clad race in the halls at 12 Friday night!
Ham! George! Legs! What do you mean wearing those shoes to school! At least you are patriotic about it. We know people who can drive a car. When the gas gauge registers below empty!
Say Jimmy is going to look for a girl from what we read in notes. Most assuredly where did I read that before?
L. B. is head usher at the Palace. No wonder we can't find our seats! (P. S. He's the only usher). More show news. Harold Cothern is no longer a popcorn kid. He's in the projection room now. Congratulations.
Evidently Mont doesn't like his nickname bestowed upon him by two juniors. Remember Mont objections overruled!
A certain blond saw Freddie Beard, in the form of a Wichita debator. Could it have been caused by loss of sleep Friday night?
Have you noticed the foto-bracelets that O. E. and Bobbie are wearing? We take it they didn't have the right boy's pictures to put in them (or were they too large)?
Moody says if he were Jimmy he wouldn't let them put any thing over on him.
Well too doo-doo, folks, we'll see you next Thursday.

CORONADO'S CHILDREN

Coronado's Children is a story of lost gold and silver mines of the great southwest. The book has been effectively titled "Coronado's Children" because each of the treasure seekers are filled with the same desire to find the lost or buried treasures to be found in this great southwest of ours, as was the great Coronado.
The story has been told that Coronado was searching for the Seven Cities of Cibola or the Seven Cities of Gold. There is only one thing certain about this legend, Coronado never found the fabled cities.
One of the most interesting stories in the book is the story of the life of Jean LaPitte. This deals with LaPitte's life as a privateer and runs along the same line as the current movie, "The Buccaneer" which is the story of LaPitte brought to life on the screen.

CORONADO'S CHILDREN

Coronado's Children is a story of lost gold and silver mines of the great southwest. The book has been effectively titled "Coronado's Children" because each of the treasure seekers are filled with the same desire to find the lost or buried treasures to be found in this great southwest of ours, as was the great Coronado.
The story has been told that Coronado was searching for the Seven Cities of Cibola or the Seven Cities of Gold. There is only one thing certain about this legend, Coronado never found the fabled cities.
One of the most interesting stories in the book is the story of the life of Jean LaPitte. This deals with LaPitte's life as a privateer and runs along the same line as the current movie, "The Buccaneer" which is the story of LaPitte brought to life on the screen.

Track Practice Gets Underway This Week As County Meet Nears

Football practice changed to track practice Tuesday as warmer weather snapped down on the South Plains. Floydada football boys dug out their basketball suits and track shoes to begin serious practice for the forthcoming county meet.

Heavy emphasis was placed on high jump and baton changing in the relays. W. H. McClung, Ham Smith, and George Fry Linder looked good in the high jump but appear in need of more practice before tackling county meet opposition.

Jimmie Willson looks like Floydada's hope in the half mile. La Von Rainer a quarter miler, and the mile slot wide open. Ham Smith is likely to tackle the tall sticks as well as the low hurdles.

Relay work will likely fall on Jimmy Willson, Ham Smith, George Fry Linder and La Von Rainer. However no set decisions have been made on the track team by Odell Winter.

The Floydada thinly-clad are expected to enter the relay carnival which will be sponsored Saturday at Ralls by Coach Bill McWilliams and the high school. Practically all of the high schools in this area are expected to send teams in order to get needed seasoning before the various county meets are held.

"Work is progressing very satisfactorily" is the latest report from Montgomery No. 1 Blanco Canyon oil test. Drilling was going forward at an increasingly rapid pace at 3,405 feet Wednesday.

The general opinion seems to be that the well is "out of the woods" so far is trouble is concerned for a time.

MUCH OF FARM LIVING IS NONMONEY INCOME

A good share of the income of farm families is nonmoney income. It is the value of housing, food, fuel, and other products furnished by the farm for family use, plus the increase—or minus the decrease—in value of crops stored for sale and of livestock. Of the average $354 per family nonmoney income in Vermont for instance, $510 was from farm

INDUSTRIOUS BEAVERS AID EROSION CONTROL ENGINEER

Beavers often aid the erosion control engineer.

On upper Mission Creek near Cashmere, Wash., these industrious animals built nearly 60 dams on about 5 miles of the waterway in the last 2 or 3 years. The Soil Conservation Service estimates that 22 of these dams hold nearly half a million gallons of water and help to stabilize stream flow and to prevent washouts downstream. In addition, the dams have caught almost 6,000 cubic yards of silt, protecting valuable orchard lands from damaging deposits of erosional debris.

On Ahtanum Creek near Yakima, Wash., the beaver also has proved an efficient upstream engineer. One dam across this stream is more than 100 feet long and impounds about 5 acre-feet of water. Erosion control engineers estimate a similar man-made structure would cost in the neighborhood of $2,500.

MISS CLAUD ROBERTS
 AGE 4, BURIED WEDNESDAY

Miss Claud Roberts, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Roberts of East Floyd, died at the home of her parents March 15, 1938. Death was due to pneumonia and a throat infection.

Besides her parents, she was survived by a sister, Bonnie Lucile, three years old, and one brother, Donald Fred, three months old. Funeral was held at the chapel of the cemetery Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. Vernon Shaw with Harner's Funeral Home in charge.

WEATHER AND CLIMATE

A low of 36 degrees last Thursday and a high of 70 on Saturday afternoon, with temperatures above the average of the weather this week in Floyd County, gave and except for a fast storm that hit early Tuesday morning from the northwest and made an uncomfortable day. Evidence in the air that a considerable bit of earth was picked up further west was given by a low sun and several fogs.

Plenty of moisture and just right temperatures have been conducive to continue wheat development in the week. Much preparation for crop land preparation has been under way.

DEPARTING RECOMMENDING

C. F. Loper, prominent grower of Floyd, has been ill with pneumonia for several days. His condition was critical last week-end, but he was believed on the road to recovery Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Gehlbach and daughter, Lajana, were in Port Worth last week end on business.

PESTS SURVIVE THE WINTER IN MODERN HEATED HOUSES

The even heating of modern homes keeps alive through the winter many insect household pests that once were frozen in chilly clothes closets and storage rooms. The Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine says that clothes moths, carpet beetles, cockroaches, silverfish, and other species often thrive the year around in warm houses.

Frequent brushing, sunning, and airing of woolen clothing and furs during the winter will do much to save them from clothes moth and carpet beetle damage. Slightly soiled garments such as wool sweaters and socks are especially attractive to moths. Little-worm articles are best cleaned and packed away in moth-proof containers with naphthalene or paradichlorobenzene flakes. Scrupulous cleaning of all cracks and corners of closets and other storage places in ordinary use helps to keep them free of insects.

Cleanliness is also a protection against cockroaches. An immaculate kitchen and all food stored in the refrigerator or in insect-proof containers will discourage cockroaches.

The small, active, greyish, scale-covered insects known as silverfish thrive in damp, warm basements. They cause serious injury anywhere in the house, feeding upon paper and wallpaper, bookbindings, starch or sweet food, and to some extent on fabrics, particularly rayon, and on stretched clothing or curtains.

They can be destroyed by a poison bait made of 100 parts of oatmeal, 8 parts of white arsenic, 5 parts of granulated sugar, 2 1/2 parts of salt, and water to moisten. This bait must be kept away from children and pets. Another method of getting rid of silverfish is to sprinkle pyrethrum powder where they run, or spray with a mixture of kerosene or paradichlorobenzene dissolved in carbon tetrachloride.

CROWDING CHICKS NOT A WAY TO ADD TO PROFITS

The poultryman who overcrowds his brooder house is likely to be penalized with sick chicks and with birds that are underweight at market time.

H. L. Shrader, poultry husbandman of the United States Department of Agriculture, recommends at least 50 square feet in brooder houses for each 100 chicks. A brooder house 12 by 14 feet will care for about 300 baby chicks, but not for many weeks if the chicks are kept confined.

If the young birds have range, such a house with plenty of roosts added will care for the flock for the first 3 months. Or, if the pullets are removed to range early in the season the house will be about the right size to care for the cockerels until they are ready to market as broilers.

Mr. Shrader quotes with approval a veteran poultryman who says that he can raise only about 50 many pounds of chicken in a brooder house of a given size. If he crowds in a few extra chicks, there is sickness enough to reduce the flock to the number that could have been sheltered adequately to begin with. Or if he manages to escape the "dead loss" from disease the young birds do not develop so rapidly as in an uncrowded flock.

The result is that the product of the number of chicks and the average weight per chick is about the same in the uncrowded house as in the crowded quarters. The original expense for extra chicks and the cost of their feed is wasted.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Spikes Saturday and Sunday night were Mrs. J. M. Witt, mother of Mrs. Spikes, from Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Felix Jones from Odessa. Mr. Jones is a brother of Mrs. Witt. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wheeler also were guests Sunday. Mrs. Wheeler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spikes.

FIREPROOF FABRICS BY SIMPLE HOME PROCESS

Fabrics can be fireproofed and made safer for clothing and house-furnishings by a simple and inexpensive home process of dipping them in a colorless liquid, a solution of 7 ounces of borax and 3 ounces of boric acid in 2 quarts of hot water. This treatment, says Dr. Martin Leatherman, of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, United States Department of Agriculture, will not protect fabrics from injury by flame or intense heat, but it will prevent the fabric from bursting into flame, and spreading fires that endanger life or cause the destruction of homes.

The borax-boric acid solution may be applied by dipping fabrics until they are thoroughly moistened, then wringing out the excess and allowing them to dry. Treated cloth may be ironed just before it is dry. Or the solution may be applied by sprinkling or spraying the fabric enough to moisten it. This method is likely to be more convenient for rugs, draperies, and upholstered articles. Addition of a little soap will make the treatment more effective for canvas and other textiles that do not wet easily.

A copy of Fireproofing Fabrics, Farmers' Bulletin 1786, may be obtained by writing the Office of Information, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Fireproofed fabrics are particularly desirable for curtains and hangings in the home which are likely to be blown against lamps or candles, for the coverings of ironing boards, for rugs near fireplaces, and even for children's playclothes. The solution is not weatherproof, and articles that are washed, such as curtains and playclothes, will have to be fireproofed after each washing. The treatment does not affect the textile colors and does not injure the fabric. It does have a slight protective effect in counteracting the destructive effect of acid and sulphur fumes from stoves and furnaces.

In Fireproofing Fabrics, Dr. Leatherman gives detailed directions for the borax-boric acid treatment and also mentions three other useful formulas for fireproofing certain insulating materials. He also mentions several fireproofing processes developed in the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils and protected by public-service patents, but these are more complicated and not practical for home use.

Ronald McPeak Home From Hawaiian Islands Tells Of Experiences

Ronald McPeak, who recently returned from the Hawaiian Islands and Canton Islands where he has been in the detached service of the infantry surveying the islands, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McPeak.

Ronald left the islands February 4 after two years and one month of service there. He had not seen his parents for three years. "Yes, I'm going back sometime, just when, I don't know. But there is no place like the islands. You have to see them to describe them," Ronald told a Hesperian reporter.

"The weather is something like that of California, before the recent floods, but the scenery is a great deal prettier. Pineapple trees, palms, and other beautiful plants grow everywhere," he said.

When asked how the Hawaiian Islands viewed the war in China, Ronald said, "They keep a much sharper eye on developments in China than we do over here, that may be because the population of the islands are predominantly Chinese and Japanese. Recently boats have been carrying Chinese to other islands in the hope that they can be mixed and prevent class friction and trouble."

"The people of the Hawaiian Islands keep hoping for statehood and meeting and campaigns are always being held in the hope that the United States will change them from a territory to a state. However there seems to be little chance because there are so many foreigners there without citizenship papers and all of these would become full-fledged citizens if the islands became a state," Ronald explained.

The trip from the islands to San Francisco took a week by boat and the remainder of the distance from San Francisco home was made by train and bus. The train was halted near Bakersfield and a 200 mile detour was made by bus around the flood area where the railroad tracks had been washed out.

ROBOTS, PRACTICAL JOKERS AND FERGUSON SUPPORTERS

Well, I found out what a robot is. It is a recent mechanical invention of which Mr. Webster has not a word to say. I had supposed it to be some sort of an animal but I was mistaken.

I did not see it but I was told there was a strong man down close to Brown's Household Supply, who could pull a tractor by his neck. Of course it was another robot only larger. I know that no man can pull a tractor by his neck for it would choke him to death. As my education is limited, I ask my readers to look over my mistakes.

Down in Hunt county two men had a jug of whiskey. Feeling pretty good and wanting to have some fun and play some pranks. It was late in the afternoon and a peddler came along asking if they could tell him where he could find a place to spend the night. "Yes," they said, "That house across the field surrounded by tall, slim saplings. The peddler said he could see it. "Well, that's our place and we live there," all of which was a big lie. They didn't own the place neither did they live there.

They told him he would have to turn his team around and take a road that led around the clearing to get to the house. The field had originally been in timber but Curg (Lacurgus Teague) had cleared it up and put into a farm.

So the peddler turned his ponies around, (he had a spanking good team) and followed the road around the farm up to the house.

The men who had the whiskey told him he would find a well and a trough to pour the water into. The trough had a peg in one end of it to set the bucket on, and the bucket had a valve in the bottom end. The bucket was about four feet long. He would set the bucket on the peg and the water would all gush out. So he drew water 'till his team had all they wanted.

The whiskey men had told him the crib had corn and fodder in it and to give his team all he wanted them to have. Yes, sir, they pulled fodder in those days, which was about forty years ago. The whiskey men told him he would find their hired men mighty cranky but to pay no attention to that for it was natural with him.

After the peddler had watered and fed his team, Teague, the owner of the place, came in from the field where he had been plowing and wanted to know what he was up to.

"I'm staying all night here," said the peddler.

"Who said you could?" asked Teague.

"The owner of the place told me I could."

"It's my place and nobody's else," roared Teague.

"Well, the men who own this place said I would find you mighty cranky and so I have," which made Curg madder than ever but being out on a limb, as it were, the peddler already having watered and fed his team, Curg was too good-hearted to make him leave for it was too late for him to find another place to stay.

While I am opposed to so many boards, I am also opposed to technicalities and suspended sentences that provide an avenue of escape for criminals. If a lawyer has a client and his guilt is just as plain as can be and no technicalities to plead, the first thing he does is to go to work for a suspended sentence. If you don't believe me, visit the criminal dockets. Of course it would be hard on the lawyers for it would take away from them a very lucrative practice and it would just make them sweat and without any high cock de lorum too.

I am as opposed to the insanity

dodge as I am to suspended sentences and technicalities. I was passing Curley's Cafe and J. D. IS HE A WINNER—

...OR A WATCHER?

Bread and Milk are the foods boys and girls need in the largest amounts

BREAD BUILDS WINNERS. It supplies the PEP and ENERGY they all must have to compete successfully against the gang. It gives them STRENGTH and ENDURANCE.

For bread furnishes the valuable PROTEINS that are needed to GROW on... to REPAIR tired, worn out tissues... and to develop important organs. Bread helps to fight off fatigue and to develop strong sound bodies.

According to leading authorities, bread is an almost ideal combination of body-building protein and energy-giving carbohydrate. It is easily digested by children and sustains energy over many hours. As a matter of fact, no other common food except sugar is MORE QUICKLY digested than bread. It leaves no waste—nothing to harm or upset young digestive systems.

Because bread provides so much needed energy for action and so many other important elements for growth, it can well make up at least ONE FOURTH of the food children eat every day. There is no BETTER or CHEAPER way of giving growing children the things their bodies need in greatest amounts: a good source of food energy and muscle-building proteip.

CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY has just completed drilling the world's deepest oil well, the Kern No. 1-A, near Wasco, Kern County, California, to 12,496 feet—more than two and a half miles—and the most distant point to which man has ever penetrated Mother Earth. In the left hand column at the right are shown the depths at which oil and gas were discovered. COTTON SEEDS BUFFER IN PERCENT OF OIL AND OIL

Tests of more than 30,000 samples of cottonseed grown in a single season show how cotton seeds may vary in the oil and other raw materials they contain.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics has found that the available oil in a ton of cottonseed may vary from 396 pounds down to 87 pounds. The available cake, of 41 percent protein content, varied from a little over 1,130 pounds per ton of seed down to as little as 432 pounds.

This variation in raw materials, together with the fact that a large percentage of cottonseed shipments being premium when sold on grade, accounts for the increasing interest shown in marketing cottonseed on grade.

For several years cottonseed in the Mississippi Valley States has been marketed on the basis of the standard grades established by the Department of Agriculture. This season the Bureau of Agricultural Economics undertook to supervise sampling and grading of all cottonseed marketed in the Valley, and to issue reports showing the prices paid by the oil mills, the prices paid to farmers, and the average value of the cottonseed sold each week in each county in the district.

From September through December this season, the Bureau supervised the sampling and grading of more than 1,250,000 tons of seed. In grading, the amount of oil and protein is first considered and then the quality, the factors of moisture content and the amount of foreign matter in the seed also are taken into consideration.

Much of the early marketed seed this season showed a very high percentage of moisture. Seed with more than 12 percent moisture must be dried before it can be stored or crushed, and handling and drying seed is a costly process. In some sections the oil was found to have deteriorated badly.

IT TAKES TIME TO CLEAN A RANGE FOR CHICKENS

Clean range for young chickens is good insurance, according to H. L. Strader of the United States Department of Agriculture. "Clean range," however, does not mean mere cleanliness and removal of scraps and refuse. Time is the main "cleansing" factor—and it takes 2 years to make a range clean enough to be safe.

Strader declines a clean range as "one that has been free of chickens for at least 2 years and one on which poultry manure has not been spread." In 2 years, poultry parasites will die for lack of a chance to multiply. A clean range, free of parasites, gives young chickens a chance to grow without a hand-impairing disease.

An ideal range, Mr. Strader adds, also supplies plenty of shade for the hot summer months and an abundant supply of succulent green feed and fresh water that is not contaminated by parasites.

BRITISH BUYERS FAVOR U. S. CANNED GRAPEFRUIT

American canned grapefruit segments and juice have become increasingly popular in the United Kingdom. The "U. K." is the principal export outlet for grapefruit and grapefruit juice canned in the United States, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Exports of canned segments and juice to the United Kingdom were but a quarter of a million cases in the 1931-32 season. These exports increased to more than a million cases this past season. During the same period, the United States production of canned segments and juice increased from a million cases to a production this past year of 20 million cases.

IT'S HOME TOWN SERVICE

THE best thing about your telephone service is that it's home town service—tailor-made for you at the switch-board by people who live and work here.

Experts can develop better methods of giving you service. Scientists and engineers can contribute new inventions and developments. Western Electric can buy and manufacture economically for the operating companies of the Bell System.

And all of these things can—and do—help tremendously at the job of giving you good telephone service at a fair cost. Yet not one of them could replace the qualities of friendliness and neighborliness which grow out of the fact that the men and women who operate the telephones here belong to and are part of this community.
