Widest Read Medium In Floyd County

FLOYDADA, FLOYD COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1938.

NUMBER 7

First Monday Is Important As Date for Big Trades Day

Interest Expected to Draw Many Hundreds

Monday, April 4, to find Floydada overflowing with bargain offers.

Special Event

Organ, "All the World Loves a Bargain and Here's a Town Full"

Monday, April 4, first Monday in first all-spring month on the calendar, will be First Monday in all letters in Floydada, retailers have decided.

Announcing their plans for the event to an area that covers more than two counties, their belief is that many hundreds will flock to Floydada on that day.

For their slogan the retailers have adopted the sentence, "All the world loves a bargain and here is a town full" and a study of their advertisement, appearing in The Hesperian this week and broadcast over the section in circular form, indicates they have achieved a very material part of this claim at any rate. More than sixty co-operating firms are as many price offers as there are firms represented, almost. Practically all of these offers have wide appeal, too.

Walton Hale, general chairman of the committee of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring the event, said that a very conscientious effort has been made to make every offer a "hot" one. Wholesale help from all the various interests in the retail community has been the rule, he said. "We have of the very best trading centers of all the plains section. We know and we want to acquaint a larger and larger number of people with the fact," said he. "Practically all the value-wise residents of the section will be very agreeably surprised at the immense stocks and unusual effort made to meet the approval of the shoppers," he added.

The approach of the spring trading season, when with winter behind them, activities of a new season call for new and different tempo in merchandise purchases, is expected to make the event especially appealing to residents far and wide. Apply there are no lotteries, no drawings, no strings tied to any of the merchandise offers. One effort has been stressed, namely to have bargain offers scattered to as widely varied sections of the retail district as possible. Every effort has been made to make the offer inclusive from all the local retailers.

Trustee Election To Name District Co. School Heads

Districts Planning Home Dem. Clubs Be Ready May 1

Request Is Made By Miss Lida Cooper, District Agent, Recently

Plans Outlined Meeting In Near Future For Club Women to Help Plan Years Work

Every community in Floyd County, where it is planned by the women to have a home demonstration club, is asked to organize its club by the first of May.

This is the request of Miss Lida Cooper, district agent, who recently advised Mrs. Ed Holmes of the need to work out a plan for the year's work and of the desirability of having clubs ready to function. The following officers of clubs should be elected: president, secretary-treasurer, council representative, and also a food demonstrator and a bedroom demonstrator.

Of these officials chosen the council representatives and the presidents will be required to attend council meetings, Mrs. Holmes reports.

Food demonstration work does not consist of canning as much as it formerly did," Mrs. Holmes said this week. "But will be more on the menu planning, budget making and special cooking basis." Special cooking including such as for invalids, for children's diet, school lunches, etcetera.

Earl Fawver Killed In Motorcycle Mishap Near El Paso Tuesday

Earl Fawver, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Fawver, was killed late Tuesday afternoon in a motorcycle accident in the mountains near El Paso.

Funeral services for Earl will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. Rev. R. E. L. Muncy and Rev. G. W. Tubbs will officiate at the services.

Reports from El Paso said that Earl and a companion had gone into the mountains north of the city on a sight-seeing tour and were returning home when the motorcycle on which the two boys were riding plunged over an embankment after going out on control on a curve. Doctors reported that Earl's neck was broken in the plunge.

Earl left his home here September 1 to go to El Paso where he was employed in a creamery.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Fawver, two brothers, Leslie and Carlton Fawver, and one sister, Evelyn Fawver. He is also survived by his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Anderson and George L. Fawver, three aunts and seven uncles.

Honorary pallbearers will be H. L. Farmer, Dr. J. G. Pruitt, Herschel Swepton, Herschel Green, Tate Jones, Taylor Leach, Robert Neil, Henry Willis, Clifford Willis, Maurice Campbell, Floyd Willis, Allie Fawver, and Orville Fawver.

Next week's issue of The Hesperian will be one of unusual interest. Many local and county-wide reports, among them complete results of the Interscholastic League Meet, will be included.

Expect 250 Delegates at P. T. A. Meet

Important Personalities To Have Part in Program Tenth Conference

Plans Complete

Several Programs Of Local Color to Interperse Routine of Meeting

Several important personalities are due to visit Floydada next weekend when the Tenth Conference, Fourteenth District, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers hold their meeting here, beginning Friday morning.

Among these are Thos. H. Taylor, of Brownwood, president of Howard Payne College, who will speak to the assembly at the high school auditorium on Friday evening, Mrs. J. H. Emmert of Wichita Falls, who will attend the sessions as representative of the state organization, Mrs. J. E. Griggs of Pampa, state secretary, Mrs. A. C. Surman, state vice-president, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, eighth district president, and Mrs. T. R. Odell, thirteenth district president, and Mrs. W. R. Weaver, of this fourteenth district, who will preside at several of the sessions here.

Indications this week pointed to an attendance of 250 or more delegates including representatives from nearly thirty counties in addition to the above, and the local committee women have perfected their plans for the entertainment of the group. Model programs of various types, but all under the general theme of "New Frontiers in Parent Education," have been prepared following conferences of local workers and Mrs. Weaver, of Spur, district president.

In addition to the regular program, several programs of local color will be given, including a chuckwagon dinner at noon Friday a buffet supper at Lockney City Auditorium Friday evening at 6 o'clock and a birthday luncheon at noon Saturday at the Andrews Ward school building.

At the chuckwagon feed members of the Lions and Rotary clubs will attend in a body, foregoing their regular meetings of the week in order to be present for the event. F. P. A. boys of Floydada High School and a girls' trio will furnish a part of the program at the feed.

A big local attendance at Friday night's program is expected on account of the unusual musical and dramatic program which will precede Dr. Taylor's address. In this program several local persons will appear. Two original pioneer plays in which incidents of fifty years ago will be re-enacted will be given under the direction of Mrs. Clinton Yaffe, a musical contest between Lockney and Floydada singers will be staged, and a female sextette under the direction of Miss Emma Rose Stuart will sing. It is anticipated this program will highlight the convention so far as local interest goes.

Saturday a symposium under "Modern trends in education," will be directed by A. D. Cummings. On this program will appear B. F. Tunell, superintendent of schools at Matador, J. W. Jones, superintendent of schools at Lockney, Hayes (See P-T. A., back page)

Cotton Allotments For 1938 On Individual Farms Being Held up by '37 Work Sheets

No Marketing Quotas On 1938 Wheat Crop, County Agent Announces

"Until the 1937 work sheets are turned in to the county agent's office it will be impossible to give cotton allotment acres on individual farms," it was announced this week at the county agent's office. "Cotton producers are anxious to learn cotton acreage allotments for their farms in Floyd County but as the county was called on for complete coverage of work sheets on all farms it will be impossible to give accurate estimates on acreage until the sheets are in."

County Agent D. F. Bredthauer said that accurate records could not be made until each farm had a record filed, as the acreage will be apportioned among the farms on which cotton was planted in any or all of the years '35, '36 and '37.

The 50,474 cotton acreage allotment in the county is 60 per cent of the 1937 planted acre plus cotton diversion acres, according to the figures of government crop statistician.

Some producers are contemplating on not securing a cotton allotment acreage in view of the fact that cotton was produced in 35, 36 and 37. But it must be understood that a cotton allotment acreage will be established on all farms on which cotton was produced in these years.

When cotton allotment acreage are established it should be understood that this will constitute the acreage which can be planted to cotton for harvest in 1938 under the cotton marketing quota. As soon as the cotton allotment acreage is approved by the state office each producer will be notified of his allotment acreage.

Farm Combination The county committee has been advised that farms cannot be combined for compliance in 1938 after the cotton acreage allotment is released for any farm in the county. It will be necessary, therefore if farms are to be combined for joint performance, that such combination be made before the 1938 cotton acreage allotment is established, and that allotment be established for such combined farms.

It has been advised definitely that there would be no marketing quotas in effect on wheat for the 1938 crop, but that wheat acreage allotments will be established on each farm for the purpose of computing agricultural conservation payments.

Form 202, designation of winter cover crop was mailed from the county agricultural agent's office (See Cotton Allotment, back page)

Funeral For Mrs. W. Stephens Will Be Held At 4 O'Clock Today

Stroke of Apoplexy Tuesday Afternoon Proves Fatal to Resident Of City Since 1919

Funeral rites for Mrs. W. Stephens whose death occurred Wednesday morning at 3:30, will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon from the Wall Street Church of Christ, according to plans made last night by members of the family, and interment will be made in Floydada Cemetery. Ohmer W. Kirk will preach the funeral.

Death of Mrs. Stephens followed a stroke of apoplexy. She was 49 years of age.

A native of Oklahoma Mrs. Stephens had been a resident of Floydada for 18 years, the family moving here from Burkburnett, Texas.

Surviving members of the family are her husband, two sons, Cleo and Bill, and two daughters, Bonnarea and Barbara Jean, all of Floydada. Bonnarea, who has been employed at Lubbock the past five years, was in Galveston for a rest at the time of her mother's death and arrived here last night by plane and train.

Two brothers and two sisters survive Mrs. W. Stephens. The sisters are Mrs. Will Garland of Burkburnett and Mrs. Annie Aldridge of Tipton, Oklahoma, the brothers Ed Wilson of Elmer, Oklahoma, and A. P. Wilson, of Hollis. They are here for the funeral, other relatives also here including Mrs. A. F. Wilson, a nephew Dolph Aldridge and niece Mrs. Fleming Parks of Tipton and two nieces from Hollis, Mrs. Opal Fox and Mrs. Paul Brown, and an uncle, Ab Wilson of Tipton.

Miniature Calf

A calf on the farm of C. W. Putreze, Ogema, Minn., which weighed only five pounds at birth, has the farmers and experts all guessing. A normal calf seldom tips the scales at less than 60. The bull youngster, now a "husky" of 16 pounds, is kept in a blanket-lined incubator, and takes his meals from a nipples bottle, as shown in the picture. Experts say there is no record of so small a calf continuing to live.

130 Attend Future Farmer Supper At Ward School Tue.

Ray Chapelle Makes Main Address In Absence Of Sen. Nelson

One-hundred-thirty fathers, sons and guests were present for the annual Future Farmers of America father and son supper held Tuesday night at Andrews Ward Gymnasium.

The main address for the occasion was given by Ray Chapelle, teacher trainer at Texas Technological College in the agriculture department. The subject of his talk was "Balanced Agriculture is the Keystone of Scientific Farming and Living."

At the opening of his talk, Chapelle said, "I think we should do honor to the mothers who helped make this affair a success as well as to the fathers who are with us. The mothers of today will probably pull us through this period of chaos and trouble if anything will."

The FFA organization was complimented and Chapelle reminded the guests and fathers that "northwest Texas has a greater paid up membership in the FFA organization than any area in Texas. Twenty thousand boys have a paid up membership in Texas alone."

"These boys," Chapelle reminded, "will probably do a better job of things than we have done and any changes that are to be made must be made through them."

Speaking on present day farm problems, Chapelle said, "Balance is the biggest problem in agriculture today. Capital, land, and labor must be kept in balance if the farmer is to show a profit, any one (See Father and Son, back page)

Scholastic Events Are Due Tonight

Bad Weather Forced Postponement of Tennis and Ball Saturday

Choral Tonight

Track And Field Events To Be Held Saturday At Grade School

The Weather Man won the first set to in the interscholastic tennis that were scheduled to be held last Saturday by tossing dust and rain across the Panhandle and South Plains to halt even before they were begun the tennis and playground ball events.

J. W. Jones, director general called off all of the events scheduled for last Saturday when the weather turned cold and rain began to fall. It was decided that tennis would be played off on Friday and Saturday, April 1-2, along with the other events which are scheduled to take place at that time. Drawings for tennis will be held at the Lockney grade school at 9 o'clock Friday morning. It will not be necessary or compulsory to play at that time, Jones said, as the officials will try to arrange play for the convenience of the players.

Playground ball will be held sometime after the regular meet at a date to be set at a meeting to be held during the meet this week end. The play-offs must be held before Saturday of next week however.

Choral singing and Class A high school declamation will be held in the city auditorium at Lockney Thursday night to open the two day series of events.

Friday morning the schedule will shift to the grammar school for literary events, beginning at 8:30 with general registration. Rural school debates will be held at the grammar school beginning at 1 o'clock.

Declamation will begin at the city auditorium at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon with Class A debates following in the auditorium at 8 o'clock that night.

Track and field events will begin Saturday morning at 9 o'clock with junior track and field finals and rural school senior track and field preliminaries. At the same time in the high school gymnasium volleyball play-off will begin, and the debate finals will be held at the auditorium.

Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock the Class A and rural school senior track and field events will be held. All track and field events are scheduled at the grammar school grounds.

Literary events will be held as scheduled in spite of weather conditions, it was announced, and track and field events must be completed before the district the following week end at Lubbock.

Not Tuberculosis, Sanatorium Clinic Report to Duncan

Silas E. Duncan, secretary of the City of Floydada, who ten days ago surrendered the duties of his office to a deputy, C. W. Henderson, to absent himself for an indefinite period to fight tuberculosis, does not have tuberculosis, he was told last week by authorities of State Sanatorium at Sanatorium, Texas.

Mrs. Duncan and their son, Robert, made the trip to Sanatorium with Mr. Duncan, returning home Thursday. At that time Mr. Duncan had settled down for a routine at the hospital, only to be informed later that his run-down condition was not due to tubercular bacille. Duncan had had a clinical examination at a sanitarium in a West Texas city where he was advised the condition was tubercular. At that time he said he was "taking for granted the doctors know" and made ready to follow their instructions.

Yesterday Mrs. Duncan was advised that Mr. Duncan had gone on to San Antonio and that he would go ahead with his contemplated rest for an indefinite period while a guest in the home of his son, J. R., there.

Duncan has been secretary of the city for the past seven years, a trying period, during which time he has overworked himself. Tuberculosis or not, physicians tell him that absolute rest for several weeks is the needed tonic to overcome the general debility which ensued from a severe attack of influenza in mid-winter.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Are the same kind of tactics that cost the country millions and billions ready to be followed all over again by business in 1938 as in 1932 and 1933? Apparently, the answer is yes.

Despite production costs and the lessons taught by the experiences of those awful years manufacturers are pointing toward unstable prices and unhappy working conditions for their employes and no profit for themselves by cutting and slashing, while they attempt to "keep open for business" in the hope that competitors cannot stand the gaff and will retire. Or is that the hope? If the chiseler simply cost himself and the world be ethical maker their self-respect and desire to help carry the load of industry? It might be this. The chiseler has horned in on all lines of trade and business. With no respect for himself or for the trade or profession in which he is presumed to labor, he attempts to be "cheaper," not better, than his competitor. He ruins himself, his competitor, his hired hands, and spoils that portion of the market for other lines of business that contact his sphere of influence. Like a rotten apple in a barrel of good ones.

HOPEFUL SIGNS FOR FARM FOLK

That the new Farm Bill may work out to be a less technical law to apply than was at first thought, and that it may not apply so severely to quotas and tariffs immediately as it could be if so judged by the secretary of the Department of Agriculture, are two of the angles recently developed.

Farmers and stockmen are making an intensive study of the bill and asking questions at every source where they think they might obtain enlightenment. There is no doubt it is to change the course of national farming thought and methods, and attempt to put the nation's farm population in position to handle their business in an orderly fashion. Whatever might be one's doubts it is a mighty effort undertaken only after intensive study experiment.

OBEY THE LAW FIRST

Privilege of complaining at the irksomeness of the new laws of the country is one of the blessings which we still enjoy as citizens. However, this privilege does not carry with it, also, the privilege of disobeying the new regulations which it has been put into the hands of departments and bureaus of enforcing.

Citizens who forgot this fact will find themselves in bad position. Ignorance of the law or indisposition to go along with its provisions are excuses or reasons. First obey the laws of your land, then complain all you like—and get your congressmen or representatives in the state legislature to repeal them if you can.

SAFETY HINT OF THE DAY

Cars may be built for speed, but roads are not.

LILAC BLOSSOMS ARE LOVELY

Flower lovers who dote on the fragrant loveliness of the lilac in spring-time are rewarded this spring with gorgeous showings of this pretty bush, at some homes almost large enough to call trees, and simply loaded with blossoms.

Untoward spring weather often cheats the lilac of its loveliness, especially where it does not have the most careful attention, but the reward in years when it does "hit" is a bower of loveliness.

A BIG INSTITUTION

Plains people and West Texans are to people in central Texas, like at Austin, best described and dismissed as "away out yonder." It is no wonder, then, that we realize so little of the bigness of such institutions as the University of Texas.

Wealth such as only a Croesus could imagine has transformed that school into a tremendous, huge thing from the shack community it once was with B Hall as its once outstanding building. With bigness has come impersonality and lot of hooey the plain people would scarce appreciate. One of these "hours", without which Solomon himself could not qualify for a degree.

WHOSE SCRAP IRON?

It is rather abundantly apparent what Japan wanted with all that scrap iron they began buying in the southwest two years ago and which is still moving as ballast and cargo from practically every Texas port.

Having decided it would be necessary to use force on China to make that nation be good neighbors, they are now throwing rebuilt cultivator wheels and gas engine blocks from Floyd County at their yellow cousins.

NEW BONES FOR OLD

Most all of the medical and scientific professions are doing fairly near a pleasing job to us, save and except the dental men and the scientists who are working on pyorrhea as a specialty.

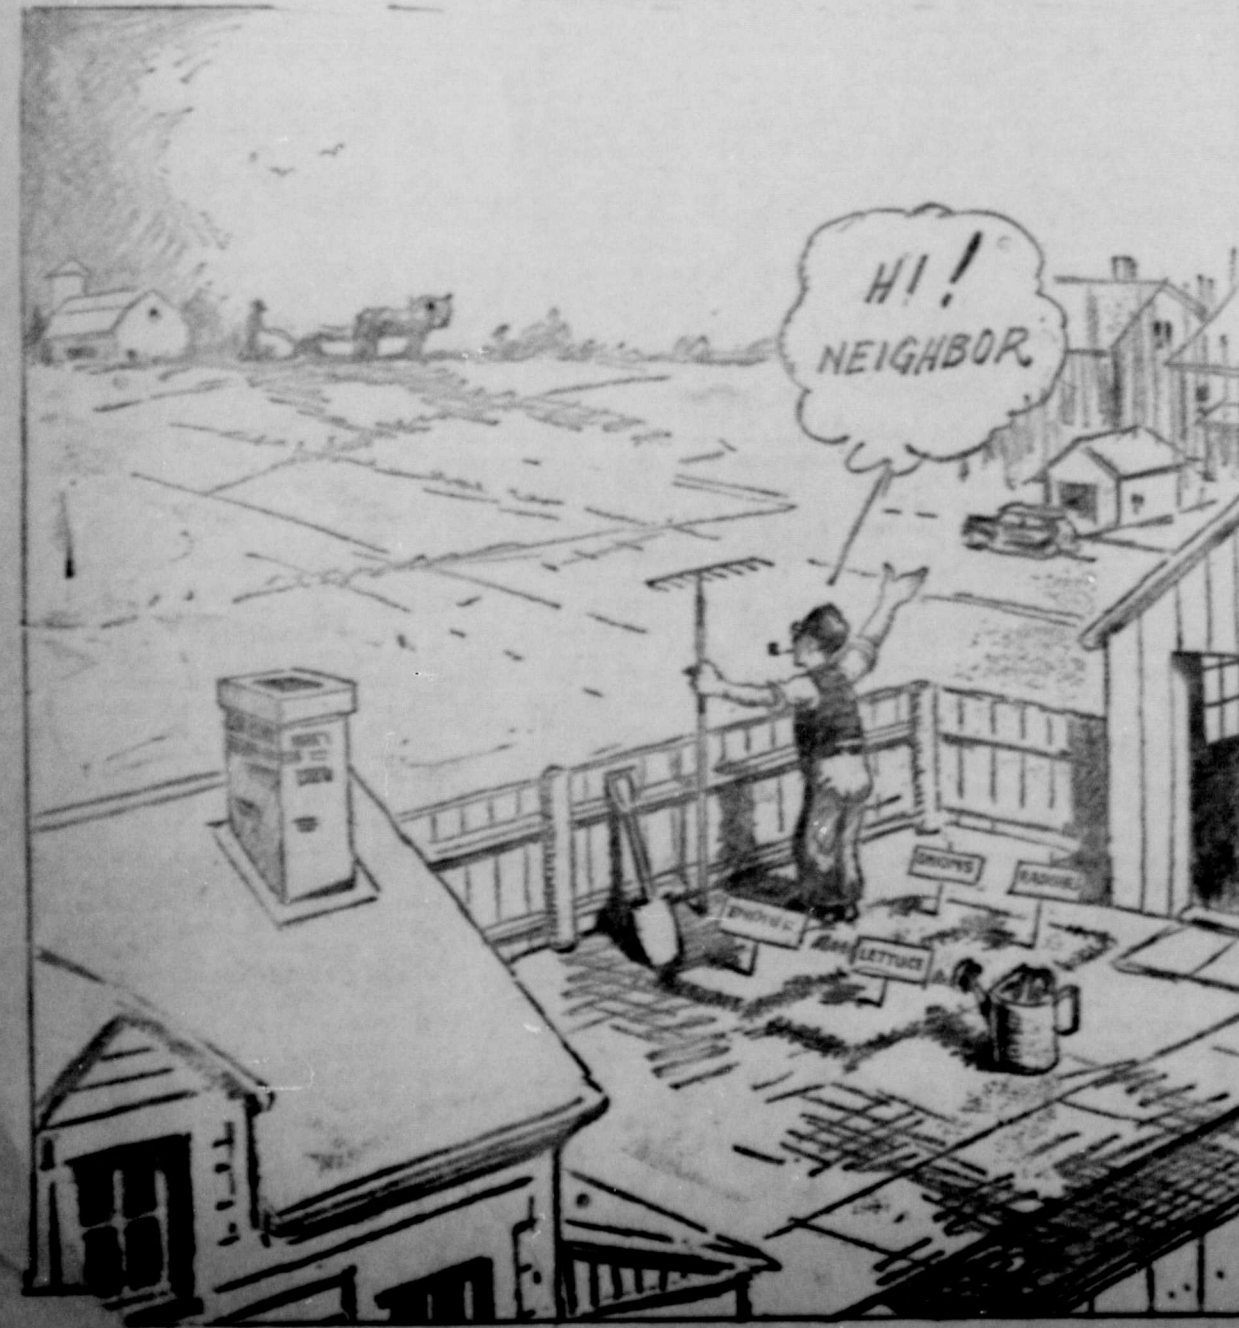

Doctors are making new bones for old bones, fixing breaks and mending muscular disalignments and all those things as an every-day matter of course. A kip bone break that formerly was a permanently disabling ailment now is mended by the doctor who makes a joint that heals perfectly in about two or three months.

But the dental men still talk about harmones and systemic this and that when you ask about pyorrhea and what have they done about it. Pyorrhea is putting a lot of good men and women out of commission all too early. A lot of the things you are treated for were caused by pyorrhea, it is beginning to be suspected by the laity, the professional men maybe aware of it all the time. Anyhow, our pet peeve this week is against the dentists. Confound their hides! All except Doc Thacker, Doc Hicks and Doc Bailey up at Lockney.

Sure we've taken it on the chin! Sure we have had our duststorms, droughts, and depressions! So what? The gilt frame may have been broken, but the picture remains unchanged.—Exchange.

If you cannot win, make the one ahead break the record.—Anonymous.

IT'S IN THE AIR

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie West Spikes

Vernon, Texas, Sunday morning. I am afraid the readers of this column will think I am a gadabout. Just think, two trips in one year! Having to crowd enough visiting and sightseeing into a few short days to last for months and even years.

My husband left Kaufman County the summer of 1932 for the plains of West Texas. Now he is going back for his first visit, and I have never been in Kaufman County. I wonder what my husband will find, forty-eight years after. Will there be any that will know him? Will there be any across as in his childhood? We shall see.

My mother is with us, I think our children were afraid to see us start out by ourselves. We may never get out of the big town, but perhaps we can get a motorcycle out to show us the way.

I am afraid the trees dropped up in their spring costume too soon. They should have waited for the Easter parade. I saw a crowd of gay young people dressed in pink silk, kissing with the cotton-wool. I could not understand the whispering voices. Any one not knowing would have only thought it was the wind blowing in the branches.

Spring is here in Vernon—all but the weather. It is cold and my thin, short sleeved dresses will have to stay in the suitcase. I thought it would be summer in the east. We are visiting my husband's people, the Paschalls. Everything is being made pleasant for us. How can we ever reduce and go visiting?

Andy Paschall is 82 years old. He is very active and enjoys life. His memory is remarkable. Every bound dog, every hunting trip is as clear to his mind as if it happened yesterday.

When a boy he and a pal, made a trip back to his old home in Kentucky, on horse back. They were Indian, wild animals and many rivers to ford. They brought meat from homes along the way, cooked their bacon or caught fish and slept under the stars.

We ask him last night why he did not use his gas heater. "I wouldn't give no more heat in this room than a lightning bug in a bottle."

Books have a fascination to me. Mother says she likes them if they are pretty but I like them any kind, size or color. She says she is like her niece's husband, he says, rocks only mean "centipedes" to him. That is the way with life; so some it is beautiful and to others it is only centipedes.

It was such a pleasure to talk with Mrs. Merrick and Mrs. Wiggins in Floydada, makes my trip better to have their kind wishes for a happy time.

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

ISSUE OF APRIL 3, 1924

Reports from over the county indicate that the attendance at the Floyd County School Fair and Interscholastic League Meet in Lockney tomorrow and Saturday will be large. Representatives from many schools are making their plans to be at the Fair.

The completion of the new Pleasant Hill school building will be fittingly celebrated tomorrow night with a get-together party and entertainment, when the new auditorium will be used for the first time for a public gathering.

H. M. Penhouse, principal of the Pleasant Hill school, announces that there will be plenty of music, a play and probably an auction sale for a piano fund. A general invitation to attend is extended.

A marriage of more than usual interest to people of Floyd County was that Tuesday morning of Miss Lola Walling and M. E. Cavanaugh both of this city in Lockbox.

Mrs. Cavanaugh for three years was county clerk of Floyd County and prior to that time was deputy in the clerk's office for a number of years, and has a wide circle of friends over the county. She is the daughter of Mrs. M. E. Walling of this city. Mr. Cavanaugh has been foreman and operator in the Hesperian office in Floydada since June of 1917 until last week when he resigned his place.

A "runaway" box car, released late Friday afternoon in the freight yards in Pleasantview, was captured and brought under control about six o'clock Friday night as they entered the freight yards in Floydada. Quick wit and fast work kept the car from doing heavy damage in Floydada, and the gods of fortune smiled on travelers who might have been on the path of the fast traveling car at a dozen or more grade crossings between Pleasantview and Floydada, snuffing too on railroad crews, who were out on the line working during the afternoon.

Dr. C. M. Thacker, Maury Hopkins and Judge L. G. Mathews attended the Matador High School declamation and acted as judges in a contest at Matador last Thursday evening.

Waldo Houghton entertained his little friends at his eighth birthday party on April 1. The usual games and refreshments were indulged in.

Coast Guard's New 'Mercy' Planes Bring Swift Aid to Stricken Seamen

SOMEWHERE, perhaps 50 miles offshore, aboard a ship pitching in a choppy sea, a member of the crew or a passenger may be seriously ill or injured, in desperate need of emergency treatment.

Minutes may mean life or death. No medical aid of the right kind is available aboard ship.

Problem: how to secure the treatment necessary to save the patient's life.

Thanks to the United States coast guard, the solution is quite simple. A radio message is flashed from the ship—a laconic statement of position and the emergency. The message is picked up by a coast guard station. One and one-half minutes later a flying "mercy boat" is climbing into the air.

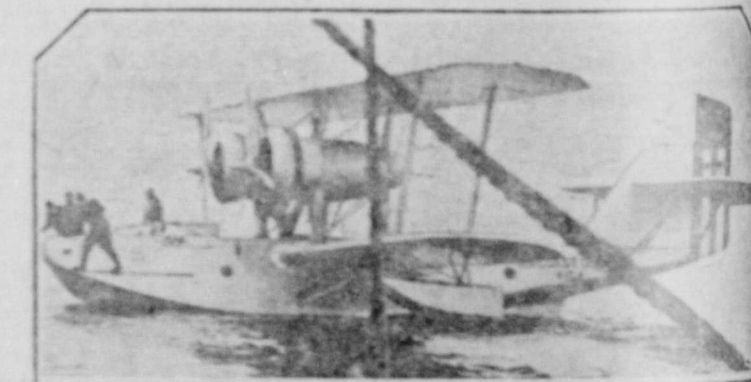

Directional gyros guide the plane with accuracy to the spot from which the radio signals are emanating. With change sets no barrier, the plane lands on the water.

If hospital treatment is necessary, the patient is swiftly transferred to the coast guard plane, which wings speedily back to land. Or if the case is one that can be handled aboard, the physician brought by the plane will be at work in a matter of minutes. In either event, hours—and perhaps the patient's life—have been saved.

THIS rescue service, only one phase of the network of coast guard activities, is being augmented with seven new flying boats, the largest ever built for the service. One, fittingly named "Winged Mercy" already has been completed and has undergone acceptance tests at the Cape May, N. J., station. The other six will be ready for use shortly.

The new flying boats will cover 2000 miles without refueling, and will travel up to 152 miles an hour. Known technically as the "PH2" type craft, they are designed especially for bad weather flying and rough water operations.

The hull of the new ship has five bulkheads dividing it into six watertight compartments, two of which are set aside for passengers. In addition to the crew of four and doctor & nurse, the mercy ships can carry 20 passengers—perhaps more in case of emergencies.

Newest of the coast guard's flying boats is the "Winged Mercy" top, a $120,000 craft that defies bad weather and choppy seas when flying to the rescue of a stricken seaman or ship's passenger. After the plane lands, the sick or injured man is transferred in a lifeboat, as in center photo. On board the mercy ship, level photo, the patient, in this case J. O. Riggs, Morehead, N. C., receives immediate attention. Chief Petty Officer J. S. Calan is the man at his side. All photos were taken on the flight in which the new seaplane, first of seven like it, received its initiation.

propellers and Breeze cartridge type starters are used. Wing spread is 73 feet. Construction is of aluminum alloy, and fuel is carried in tanks in the wings and engine nacelles to make certain that no gas fumes will penetrate the hull itself. Cost of each ship is $120,000.

IS SHE A HIKER ...OR A SQUATTER?

Bread and Milk are the foods children need in largest amounts

GOOD BREAD takes children further than nearly anything else they can eat. It helps make them husky and healthy—furnishes the energy they must have to keep up with others of their own age. It supplies the nutritional element essential to growth—protein... it contributes to the mineral salts needed for a sturdy, healthy body.

Bread builds up, adding strength to growing muscles. Children over six should eat at least six slices of bread a day. For, according to leading authorities, it can well supply at least ONE FOURTH of all the muscle-building food children eat—a simple matter to arrange, since most children are crazy about it. Because of their active, busy lives, children need food that digests quickly—food that maintains energy throughout the day. No other common food except sugar, is MORE QUICKLY DIGESTED than bread. Nothing is left to harm or strain the digestive system.

There's no BETTER or CHEAPER way than through good bread of giving growing children the things their bodies need in largest amounts: a good source of food energy and muscle-building protein.

On The Garden Path

Many things enter into the making of a front entrance pleasing and attractive. First to be considered, perhaps, is the matter of lighting. An attractive light can be placed directly above the door, or it may be suspended by a chain from a wall bracket to the side of the door, or a light may be placed on each side of the door.

When the light is placed on one side of the entrance only, some thought should be given to balance, in the arrangement of plants about the door. Place a low growing shrub, such as the barberry or the yucca under the light. On the opposite side use a taller plant, such as pampas grass, this is particularly effective used with the low yucca. A tall crepe myrtle, or a small flowering fruit tree with a low munge pine at its base can be used opposite the barberry.

When the light is placed directly over, or on each side of the doorway, like shrubs may be placed on each side. Large vases in old blue against maroon brick or tile are pretty at entrances.

Attractive and appropriate lighting equipment at the entrance adds greatly to the appearance of every home, large or small.

PRACTICAL DEPARTMENT HOME ECONOMICS COOKERY

DENTON, March 28.—Gone are the days of nondescript soups. No longer does the wise cook bury dainty flavors in indefinite liquid conglomeration.

Soups should have a distinct flavor of the vegetable, meat or fish used. They should be so well cooked that there is no undone taste of any ingredient; especially should they be no raw starch taste from under-cooked thickening.

A cream soup may be made by adding the sieved pulp of a cooked vegetable to a thin white sauce in any desired proportion. Chowders and vegetable soup (either with or without meat) take care of bits of celery, a carrot or two, or a leftover baked potato.

Potato Chowder (eight servings)
Brown 1/2 cup diced salt pork and 2 tablespoons minced onion in 2 tablespoons bacon drippings. Add 2 cups hot water and 4 cups potato cubes. Cook until potatoes are tender. Add 2 cups cooked green lima beans, 1 teaspoon salt, and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Make a paste of 2 tablespoons flour and 2 tablespoons cold milk and stir into 3 cups milk. Add to potato mixture, stirring gently. Cook until mixture simmers for five minutes, stirring often. Serve hot over crackers which have been lightly buttered and sprinkled with paprika before toasting.

Cream of Corn Soup: Melt 1 tablespoon fat in a large sauce pan. Blend in 1 tablespoon flour. Add 2 cups milk or broth or half and half. Simmer for 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add 1 cup stewed fresh corn or canned corn. Continue to cook until thoroughly heated. Serve with toasted saltines.

Vegetable Soup: Melt 4 tablespoons butter in a large sauce pan. Add 2 tablespoons onion (finely chopped) and cook until lightly browned. Add 1 quart water, 1/2 cup diced carrots, 1/2 cup diced celery, 2 cups diced potatoes and simmer until vegetables are very tender. Season with salt and pepper. Serve hot with toasted French rolls.

Onion Soup: Melt three tablespoons butter in large sauce pan. Stir in 12 medium-sized onions (finely minced and dredged with 2 tablespoons flour.) Continue to stir until onions are lightly browned. Add 1 quart hot water and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Mix well and let boil 5 minutes. Beat 2 eggs in soup tureen. Four in onion mixture slowly, beating constantly. Sprinkle with paprika and serve at once with toast "fingers." Instead of the water, meat broth may be used.

SOUTHEAST FAMILIES LEAD IN POOLING EARNER WAGES

The custom of meeting family expenses by pooling the wages of more than one earner is stronger in villages in the Southeast than in other regions. This is one of the conclusions in a study by the Bureau of Home Economics of 140 villages in all sections of the country.

In the Georgia and South Carolina villages, 38 percent of the white families and 66 percent of the Negro families interviewed had more than one earner. In the North Carolina and Mississippi villages, 30 percent of the white families and 65 percent of the Negro families had more than one earner. In the rest of the areas studied, this percentage ranged from 13 percent in the Kansas and North Dakota villages to 24 percent in the Pennsylvania and Ohio villages.

Among the self-supporting native white families, the wage-earning group reached its highest percentage, not in "industrial New England," but in 13 Pennsylvania and Ohio villages, where 60 percent of the families had wage earners as the principal income producers. The lowest percentage of wage earners' families, 27 percent, was found in the white family study of North Carolina and Mississippi villages.

However, in the Georgia and South Carolina villages studied 44 percent of the families were in the wage-earner class. The highest percentage of business and professional families, 47 percent, fell in the Kansas and North Dakota villages where industries are few and far between.

In size, the village families ranged from a low average of 3.5 persons per family in the California villages to a high average of 4.1 persons per family in the Kansas and North Dakota villages. In each group of villages, the relief families averaged larger than the families who had not been on relief at any time during the year studied. Relief families were not analyzed as to occupational source of their incomes.

The saying "brand-new" is equivalent to "fire-new," meaning fresh from the fire, bright and new. "Brand" was originally from an Anglo-Saxon word which meant "burn." Hence an article fresh from the forge was said to be brand-new. The notion that "brand-new" originated from the practice of putting brands or trade-marks on manufactured articles is incorrect. The word is frequently but erroneously written and pronounced "brandy-new."

Let's Talk About Clothes

YOUNG MODERN TEXAS STATE COLLEGE

DENTON, March 28.—The fragrance of grass and flowers, whispering breezes, mellow sunshine with just a hint of crispness in the air—summer has definitely made an early start, and most of us are eager to do likewise in welcoming our warm weather playmate.

Decide before you begin a shopping tour that you're going to get something different—something exciting and new and youthful. The look around. Designers have gone wild on ideas without sacrifice or comfort.

In the peasant corner a deep green crash skirt may catch your eye. It's bordered with red to match the flowers in red and green and the white challis blouse. You think, "No, that's too crazy! Too conservative!" But at least it is on—the swirling skirt may make an enthusiastic Hungarian peasant out of you.

Then there are the gumpie dresses that give you just enough of the little-girl feeling to make any outfit successfully carefree. If memories of ice-skating still linger, try one of the above—the knee princess type that serve as well for sand play as ice play.

Even slacks have been worn over, so be sure to see the new and silk mixtures and don't overlook the possibilities of slacks. These slacks can be worn right in the bolero if the weather happens to turn a little chilly.

Floyd County Voices
Singing Convention
Of The Air April 6

Hart, Lyles and Copeland Arranged Quartettes To Be Heard From 11 o'clock, KRLL

Just who from Floyd County will be in quartettes to be heard on the singing convention of the Air from 11 o'clock "on" over KRLL, Dallas radio station Wednesday night, was not known this midweek, but it is certain there will be several voices from this county at that time. Members of the Floyd County singing convention are much interested in the idea, and perhaps others will be, too. Ed Holmes, secretary of the organization, is responsible for the statement that program presented by Virgil O. Stamps, will be six or eight numbers by Floyd county voices, most of them sacred numbers. Faye Hart will be among those who will sing and both C. M. Lyles and Frank Copeland, voice students and song leaders for years, will arrange quartettes. "Most of the songs will be sacred songs and at this time it is not known just how many will be sung or just who will form the quartettes," Mr. Holmes said Tuesday. "Popular sentiment is rapidly forming in favor of more of the good old sacred songs being sung over the air," Mr. Holmes said. Floyd County has some fine talent that should be singing over national hook-ups," adding the advice that you especially like any of the songs sung by any of the arrangements Wednesday night, do not be bashful about it, but write Mr. Stamps, Dallas, Texas, to that effect. "With your support that man can get the job done."

FROST OFTEN ADDS TO SOIL
EROSION ON STEEP SLOPES

Gullying, sheet erosion, and wind erosion are not the only processes responsible for soil losses according to the Soil Conservation Service.

Frost often causes a considerable amount of soil damage. In freezing weather, particles of the surface soil on bare ground are often lifted on top of needle-like frost crystals which grow up from the surface of the ground. On fairly steep slopes the crystals have a tendency to break off near the base as they melt and the soil particles which they carry then fall or roll a short distance downhill. In the course of a single winter the surface soil may be moved downhill in this way for a distance of several feet.

Another little-known type of erosion has been found on steep slopes where the surface soil is underlain by a slippery clay subsoil. When the ground becomes saturated, the soil sometimes slides or flows downhill, leaving the hillside rough and broken and in some cases exposing areas of subsoil or bedrock. This type of erosion is common in the upper Ohio Valley and many other parts of the country.

During prolonged hot, dry weather, evaporation sometimes removes so much of the moisture from steep exposed banks that they no longer have sufficient cohesion to stand at a high angle. The soil crumbles and falls away little by little, accumulating in a pile at the base of the slope.

None of these types of erosion is as severe when the soil is held by the roots of trees, shrubs, and grasses.

BLACK MAGIC

The term black magic has been applied to those occult sciences which profess to invite the aid of evil spirits or to make a contract with the devil. In most pagan religions, man's groping after truth and the supernatural led to a mass of superstitions, involving resort to departed spirits, etc., which are slowly being overthrown. Witchcraft, sorcery and necromancy all belong to what is known as black magic.

Mackinaw, Sectional Name

Mackinaw is a sectional name for the Great Lakes trout. In pioneer days, Fort Mackinaw, on an island between Lake Huron and Michigan, was a lone outpost in the upper Great Lakes region. Everything peculiar to that region was given the name Mackinaw. For instance, Mackinaw coats. The trout, unusually game and good to eat, are larger than most inland trout, averaging about 15 pounds.

Some Moisture Falls
In County; Freezing
Weather Still Lacking

Moisture that fell gently Saturday night and Sunday in Floyd County, which also visited practically all of the rest of West Texas and the Panhandle, added another touch to the prospect for a good wheat crop in Floyd County in 1938.

Ranging from a maximum of an inch that fell in the southeast and northeast and northwest portions of the county down to a quarter of an inch in a few sections, a fall of four-tenths of an inch at Floydada was about average.

Weather prognosticators who had foreseen freezing and below for the month-end, saw their predictions fail, when the coldest temperature recorded during the spell came Sunday morning, the thermometer standing at 34 degrees at the lowest point. The warmest hour Sunday was 42. From 34 the temperature ranged as high as 83 at one time on Friday, the high since Sunday being 71 yesterday afternoon.

HIGHWAYS

"The average man on Main Street doesn't understand the great stakes he has in road-building," says Col. Willard T. Chevalier, retiring president of the American Road Builders Association.

He might be wrong about that. Most of us seem to be well "sold" on the idea of good roads, continually improving. How could it be otherwise, with half the families in this country having automobiles and all loving to ride in them? We kick, of course, when we find a road closed or cluttered for construction of new pavement, but how we love it when the job is done.

The road builders are rather low in spirit just now because the administration at Washington wants to reduce highway appropriations. That hits the marks of our modern road-building machinery where they life. But any such retrenchment, if actually accomplished, can hardly be more than temporary. There are tens of thousands of miles of modern highways still to be built, and hundreds of thousands of miles that will need improvement or replacement before many years. This situation may continue as long as we have motor cars and general ownership of them.

Happy is the person who discovers it's far easier on the facial muscles to smile than frown.

IN NUMBER AND IN VALUE

The number of horses, including colts, on farms January 1, 1938, is estimated by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics at 11,163,000 head, a reduction of 282,000 head, or 2.5 percent, from a year earlier. The reduction during 1937 was larger than during 1936.

Although the number of colts raised in 1937 was larger than in 1936, death losses of horses were unusually large in a number of States. The average value per head January 1, 1938, was $90.83 compared with $99.16 a year earlier and the total value of $1,013,960,000 was $121,000,000 smaller.

The number of mules on farms January 1, 1938, was 4,477,000 head, a reduction of 94,000 head, or 2.1 percent, from a year earlier. The value per head of $122.43 was $7.50 lower than a year earlier and the total value of $593,338,000 was about $46,000,000 smaller.

He had long outstayed his welcome. "Tell me," said the host at last, "how long was the fish you caught the other day?"

The motorist had had an accident. He limped painfully to a telephone box and called up the nearest garage.

"Hello," he said, "I've turned turtle. Can you do anything for me?" "I'm afraid not," came the sweet feminine reply. "You've got the wrong number. What you want is the zoo."

Mayor And Councilman
Home From Tennessee

Mayor Glad Snodgrass and Councilman B. K. Barker, of the municipality's governing body, returned home last week from Tennessee where they visited several cities including Nashville and Memphis on an official trip for the city.

Their trip had to do with the continued efforts of the city council to carry out a two-year-old mandate from the taxpayers of the community to construct a power and light distribution system in Floydada.

Mayor Snodgrass was non-committal on the results of their trip. "I would want to give any statement I made to the council, and prefer, of course, to do so only after the engineer has made his report." Several power plants and distribution systems which have been superseded in Tennessee and Alabama towns by energy from lines of the TVA have plants for sale, and it was to see one of these plants that the local committee made their trip.

A GLIMPSE OF MODERN ITALY

A glimpse of conditions in Europe which will make most of us thankful to be in America is this comment by Miss Sallie F. Hill, editor of the Home Department of The Progressive Farmer, just returned from a trip abroad:—

"Americans whose lives are a constant lament because of increasing taxes will have some what to give them pause in Italy where, as one Italian told us, they pay high taxes on automobiles, bathtubs, radios, musical instruments, sewing machines, electric equipment—in short, most labor-saving devices carry a heavy tax load. In some instances 50 per cent of the income must go to the government in the form of a tax. We did not determine if a high tax rate extended to farm machinery as well as home equipment, but farming practices as observed on the whole were quite primitive. With the having season at its height, cutting almost without exception was done with the very primitive cradle which was used in our early American colonies. Reminding one of the Bible story of Ruth and Boaz, Italian women and girls laboriously followed the primitive hand rakes, literally gleaming from the ground the few stalks of grain left behind. I could not help feeling that theirs was the harder task, since they must walk hour after hour in this uncomfortable position."

Teacher: Tommy, can you spell "fur"? Tommy: Yes—f-u-r-fur.

Teacher: Correct. Now, tell me what fur is. Tommy: Fur is an awful long ways off.

COUNTY MEET

County meet! That's today's popular saying. Or perhaps the newest one is "do your best; we've got to win. The trouble is, it is so hard to do one's best when everyone is watching. Maybe it's a feeling of self-consciousness, a feeling of inability to do the thing—a feeling of incompetency. But unless some one had faith in you, you would never have entered the event in the first place. It helps immensely to know someone is believing in you. Isn't there an old saying that behind all great men have been either their wives or their mothers urging them on?

Each contestant knows that the school is "betting on him." That is a sure sign of help. Each one knows his coach is for him—that's no hindrance, either. Then, there is the feeling of pride in being the representative of the school and maybe of the entire district.

There is another side to the story—the title of being a good loser. This is a hard task. You know that yourself. A person can not always win everything. And don't lay this to luck or chance. Luck is with you only when you smile. It is much harder to put a smile on your face and have appreciative eyes for the winner than it is to keep part of the smile and the look of supreme joy in your eyes for having won for the privacy of your home. It is hard to rejoice when you want to cry!

Rest plays an important part here. To be physically able, to have the mind active and ready for work, and to have confidence are the three essentials contestants need. There is an old saying which means a lot but is not always true. It is "your best is not enough unless you win." Of course, there has to be an exception to every rule. Floydada High School is as proud of those who do their best, lose and be a sport about it, as it is of those who do their best, win, and be a sport throughout it all.

HEALTH PROGRAM

The District health nurse, Miss Nora Edna Carlton and the State Department Health Nurse, Miss Mayfield, visited school last week. There will be a movie reel shown to the student stressing sanitation in both home and school. There will be also a trailer house here, and the students will visit this.

Miss Rea and the home economics department are working with the nurses. The program is to be staged sometime in the near future.

SOPH'S GOOD

The sophomores have convinced us that they have talent. Probably the whole class will major in journalism in college. The juniors and seniors will have to work hard if they beat the freshmen and sophomores. In two or three years from now the Hesperette will be such a marked improvement from now that it will probably not even be recognized as the high school paper of Floydada. (Ed Note—"Oh Yeah")

Seniors Stay Busy As End Of School Draws Nearer Its Finish

Friday was a big day for the seniors. The boys of the senior class, Malsdor challenged the boys of the senior class of Floydada to a baseball game here on that day at 4 o'clock p. m.

Though the Floydada team had practiced only a week, it won by a score of 12 to 4. The boys playing on the Floydada team were Charles Denison, Milton Weems, Alvin Bean, Somer Hollingsworth, Lynn Colville, Louis Dean Brand, Ralph Taylor, Harvey Brock, Henry Hinton, Virgil Orman, Charles Neil, and Louis Caffee.

Besides the enthusiasm of the ball game, the seniors have a class project to think about; too, the suspense of a banquet or no banquet is getting them down.

The main attraction now is the planning of a senior chapel program. There is a committee working on this now. The committee is Phil Merry, Mary Jo Horn, Marjorie Kirk, and Keith Tye. With this committee a very interesting program should be arranged. There is plenty of talent in the senior class and now there is a place to show it off.

Soon it will be time to order class invitations, so, seniors, be considering the number wanted.

What We Read

Few people have all the sights—hindsight, insight, and foresight.—Gloria Young.

We may learn from the young Chinese boy who said, "I am now reading the Bible and behaving it." Maybe Hitler hasn't read "How to Win Friends and Influence People" but he could write a good book on "How to Win Austria and Make Europe Like It."—John Gould in "Roughly Speaking."

After all riding around in an automobile is but another way of attending the movies.—John C. Kay Southwest Sandwiches.

Some of these boards at Austin and Washington are hardly more than splinters.

If you ain't educated you gotta use your brains.—New England saying.

According to a boy's exam paper: "The plural of whim is women."—Two girls were discussing metaph.

Which would you most desire in your husband—brains, wealth, or appearance? asked Dorothy.

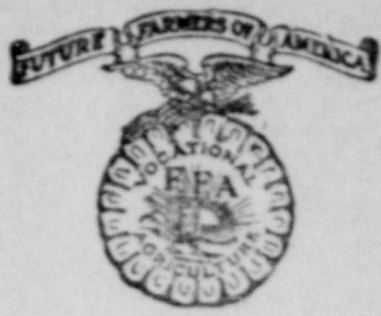

"Appearance," responded Alpha, "and the sooner the better."—Gail Reporter.

Candor will lose you many friends, but not as many as deceit.

It is an honor to be asked to lead this discussion and Floydada High School is glad that the dean of girls of the school is asked to fulfill this place. Miss Rea is capable of leading this discussion, and we are glad she is to be a representative of our school.

The Easter motif was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. The honoree received many useful gifts.

Various games were enjoyed by the following: Lou Nelson, Jeannie Lou Harper, Dorris Collins, Betty Newell, Ruth Keis, Mary Emma Collins, Modelle Haney, Beth Newton, Howard Ellis, R. G. ### Gossipology

How can a person be expected to write a whole—long hang up column of "gossip news" when people won't talk and if they could they couldn't tell anything interesting. That state prevails.

The funniest things are happening around here, looking to the north and south in the halls we see a vision of true mystery.

Judson can only remember one address "211 Third street, Platt City Alabama and her name's Vivian!"

Benny Crawford is especially bashful around girls. But as Clifford says he sure liked to have married one after he lost his fight at Florida.

What was the congregation in the lower hall Monday Nooooo! Georgia Lee seems to be sporting a senior ring these past weeks.

It's also rumored that Iva has kept company with none other than James Johnston! What is this world coming to?

If you should chance to ask several girls implicated in that brain wracking, ink scratching, class they call bookkeeping you will probably glean the opinion that Mr. Davis is partial to the girls. Yes sir! He let the boys off two classes and compelled the girls to work numerous problems and stay in after school. Mr. Davis, we are surprised.

Speaking of bookkeeping the seventh period class could hardly have class Monday because of interesting occurrences in typing, La Rue and L. T. were carrying on one gem of a conversation.

James Burrus (that very amusing boy) almost hit a rat when he accidentally dropped his book in Latin yesterday. Mama, where is our rat poison?

To whom it may concern: Whoever drove three shiny new nails in one of the faculty member's tires shortly after Christmas is hereby jinxed by the Press Club. Boys, (and we know who you are) chivalry must be dead. In other words, was that nice?

And Mr. Grummish got a return performance for the third time. Don't worry Mr. Grummish, the third time's a charm. P. S. He thought he had a sure enough flat! But it was only the valve doing a Sally Rand with the aid of some blanket-blank students.

Interscholastic Events To Get Under Way This Week End At Lockney

Never have contestants worked so feverishly and dashed so madly in the interest of defeating our old rival, Lockney. This year each event has been faithfully coached and desperately achieved by both teachers and contestants. In order to arouse widespread interest in this important meet and to urge you to attend, a list of events is enumerated here for you to check and double check.

Cass, Randall King, Gilmer Denison; broad jump, Randall King, Gilmer Denison, Benny Crawford; chinning—Randall King, Gilmer Denison, Benny Crawford; relay, Bruce Foster, Randall King, Gilmer Denison, R. E. Goughly.

Senior track events: George Lader Clifford Daniels, Gerald Lackey; 220 yard dash, George Lader, Clifford Daniels, Aldine Williams; hurdles 120 yard high—James Gibbs, Adolph Burgett, Ham Smith; 220 yard low hurdles—James Gibbs, Adolph Burgett, Aldine Williams; 880 yard run—James Willson, James Gibbs, Fred Beard; high jump—H. Tyler; 440 yard dash—Ham Smith, Aldine Williams, Joe Conway; mile relay—Jimmie Willson, George Lader, Clifford Daniels, and Ham Smith.

CREED FOR VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

In his creed for vocational education, Dr. Edwin A. Lee of the University of California gave the following commandments:

Thou shalt love thy work with all thy heart, and with all thy strength and all thy mind.

Thou shalt not make unto thyself any brazen images, any false god in education.

Honor thy father and mother of modern vocational education—the manual training and sewing and cooking of two decades ago. Know that you and I would not be here were it not for those who gave us life, that thy work to which we give full allegiance would not be here but for its progenitors. Honor the men and women who blessed the way. May we never forget the pioneer work they did.

Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy colleagues, the academic subject teacher. Know whereof thou speakest before attacking his handiwork. Cast out the beam in thine own eye. A good teacher, even though it be Latin she teacheth, is far more to be honored than he who only whittles at sticks.

Thou shalt not kill the spirit of youth as a sacrifice to the God of Industry. Take heed that in thy zeal to mould a finished workman thou doest not overlook beauty and joy and music and open spaces. By these my son, be admonished, of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

Thou shalt not steal boys into thy shops in order to increase thy classes. Rather shalt thou seek with all thy heart for that for which each is best fitted and to provide the training necessary for progress and ultimate success in the chosen occupation.

Thou shalt never forget that thou art one of a team, that a team has a captain, that the team goes forward and achieves only as all the teammates reckon to the signal and leadership of the captain. Thou shalt play the game.

Thou shalt not covet thy brother worker's position, nor his salary, nor his prestige, nor his power, nor anything that is thy brother's.

In thy heart thou knowest that position, responsibility, respect, professional recognition comes to him that knoweth.

Thou shalt diligently study, therefore, that thou shalt grow in wisdom. Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore—get wisdom; and in all thy getting, get understanding.

Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Stand for righteousness in thy community of which you are a part. May no child ever come in contact with you without being the better morally and spiritually for the contact. Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter, fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.

This advice should be heeded by all the faculty members, and students, as well as the vocational teacher, whom this was recently given to in one of their meetings.

NO NAME COLUMN

Scraps: A new found personality Edith Shirey. Maybe Edith got her personality from that boiling over from sister Nellie. Nellie has so much that she could give half of it away and still have plenty to spare.

A good idea: When ever you don't know a few words in a song, just put in "I love you," and no one will know the difference. Mrs. Jones wanted a person to play a simoleon in a play she is putting on. Someone suggested that Robert just act natural.

Billie Brown, "Jane, do you have a blue book I could borrow?" Jane, "No, I don't Billie. I just have one."

Billie, "Oh, that's all right. I just need one."

"The band is going to Amarillo. I wish I could go." The band is going to Memphis. I think I'll join the band."

Yes, these are common sayings this spring as every one watches the band hike off to big conventions and contests. But it wasn't a year ago that these same people were saying just the opposite. Oh, no, they wouldn't join the band if they had to. The band? Ha, ha, why don't they play some good music instead of that old Wagner ha, ha. Today, there is a different tune. They stand mournfully around as the bus filled up with greens suited players and heads for distant parts, Lubbock, Amarillo, box springs, picnics at Roaring Springs. (There is going to be a picnic or something drastic will happen). Yes, there goes the band, and you are left behind. Wake up, deary; too bad you are left at home by the fire.

Chairman Of Crippled Children's Committee Says Program Helpful

C. M. Thacker Says Many Helped And Several Cured Through Recent Efforts in County

Results of efforts in Floyd County the past few years to aid crippled children were reported Tuesday to the Floydada Lions Club by Dr. C. M. Thacker, chairman of the Crippled Children's Committee, who said that since he has been chairman in this county 53 children have been treated by specialists, and all of them helped and some entirely cured of their crippled condition.

An appeal for support of the crippled children's seal sale was made by Dr. Thacker, who said the results had been immensely gratifying to locate with many children yet to be aided who had not been reached.

What Liberty Means

Judge H. D. Payne, talking on what liberty means, compared peaceful assembly in America, and religion and political freedom, with similar conditions in the totalitarian and dictator states of the world. He suggested that if Nazism, communism and the many other isms now afflicting the world should be presented in their true light in the public schools side by side with constitutional government as conceived in this nation. "We have nothing to fear as to the outcome of our children's study and their ability to grasp the downfall of the present governments which persecute the Jews as a race and based his prediction on the history of such persecutions and their results since the beginnings of history.

W. E. Williams had charge of the program. T. W. Quirk and J. C. Gilliam, of a softball planning committee, reported favorable outlook for the plans of the Rotary and Lions Clubs to sponsor a softball schedule this summer, with the high school athletic fund as the beneficiary.

Streamlined Motorcycle

Only the bare front wheel would tell the casual observer that the queer contraption Eric Forthough, British racer, is shown straddling is a motorcycle. Forthough fitted his speedster up with metal "bubbles" to diminish wind resistance, and hopes to set a new world's record with it. He is pictured on a track at Brooklands, Surrey, England, just before making a trial run.

Half Minute Interviews

MOST FARM FIRES FROM COMMONPLACE CAUSES

Farm fires in the United States take about 3,500 lives and destroy $100,000,000 worth of property each year, says a recent United States Department of Agriculture publication "Fires on Farms."

Eighty-five percent of this loss is from such commonplace causes as defective chimneys and flues; sparks on combustible roofs; lightning; spontaneous combustion; careless use of matches, smoking; careless use of gasoline and kerosene; defective and improperly installed stoves and furnaces; faulty wiring; and misuse of electric appliances.

Four simple precautions that the author, Harry E. Roethe, of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, gives to reduce needless waste caused by farm fires are: Use fire-resistant roofing, dispose of waste and rubbish, never use gasoline or kerosene to start or revive a fire, and guard against overheating of stoves and furnaces and clean smoke pipes at least once a year. He also suggests that major buildings be equipped with lightning rods.

In addition to removing the fire hazards, Roethe suggests preparations to fight a fire should one occur, that is, fire-fighting equipment on every farm, kept in a handy place ready for instant use.

A copy of Leaflet 44, "Fires on Farms," may be obtained by writing to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

BETTER CAKES FROM "TAILOR-MADE" FLOUR

Today the flour used in making cakes literally must be "tailor-made." In the past many housewives have been content to use the same type of flour for all their baking. But they are rapidly becoming more discriminating in their choice, says D. A. Coleman, of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, especially with regard to cake flour. This is also said to be true of the commercial baker who is trying to increase his cake sales and is demanding specialized cake flour in order to make high-quality cakes.

Because of this discrimination, Dr. Coleman points out, the cake-flour manufacturer now must use the greatest care in the selection of wheat for milling into cake flour. Dr. Coleman is in charge of the Bureau's milling and baking laboratories.

The selection of wheat depends upon the kind of cake to be made. The sponge and angel-food cakes, for example, call for the softest and chalkiest types of soft winter wheat having 70 percent or more of soft and chalky kernels. The loaf or layer type of cake, on the other hand, can be made from wheats having from 40 to 50 percent of soft and chalky kernels.

Dr. Coleman adds that more flour is used by the baker for cake making than for any other article of baked goods except bread. Of the 100,000,000 barrels of flour milled in this country, at least 5,000,000 barrels are made into cake (one barrel of flour producing more than 800 cakes).

Customs of the Persians

Persia is only a small southern province of Iran, now the country's official name. One-fourth the population is wandering tribesmen. All officials and students must wear Persian-made cloth to encourage the country's textile industry. Formerly it was a custom for Persian mothers to dress their little boys as girls and girls as boys—just for the fun of it.

RAPID PROGRESS REPORTED ON PACIFIC CREST TRAIL

Rapid progress in building and marking the Pacific Crest Trail System, which will stretch more than 2,000 miles from Canada to Mexico, is reported by the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture. This trail, which will average more than a mile above sea level will be a rugged and lofty western counterpart of the famous Appalachian Trail from Maine to Georgia in the East.

Metal markers are being installed in five national forests along the 410-mile Cascade Skyline section of the trail in Oregon, and work is under way on some of the unfinished portions of the trail in Washington and California. Within the 3 States, the trail traverses 19 national forests and 5 national parks. Over 1,500 miles of the trail is in wilderness.

Completed parts of the main trail or alternate routes in the higher valleys may be traversed by hikers or by mounted parties in summer. For one person to follow through the finished and unfinished sections of the Pacific Crest Trail from Canada to Mexico would require about 10 months, including two summer seasons. The Kaweah Peaks country in the Sierras, and other sections are not yet feasible for travel by other than experienced mountaineers.

All the main transcontinental railroads and highways, the Columbia River, and a score of famous passes are crossed by the trail, which also skirts about 75 well-known mountain peaks. Glaciers may be visited in Washington; Death Valley may be seen 3 miles below and 100 miles away from the summit of Mount Whitney. More than a thousand miles of the trail thread great western forests of fir, cedar, and pine, and short side trips reach the redwoods.

SOIL CONSERVATION MEN GIVE "PORCH VINE" A JOB

An old familiar ornamental vine, also in use in the South as a hay and pasture crop since early in the twentieth century, has been put to work by the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture.

The vine is kudzu, more commonly known throughout the Southeastern States as "porch vine." Soil conservationists found here ready-made a lush vine that produces a rapid, dense growth to anchor the top soil to southern farm lands. They needed a plant that would "pay its own way," contributing something to the farming crop and also helping rebuild soils impoverished by erosion.

Kudzu meets these requirements. In the Southeast it grows under almost any condition, on rich land or poor land. Under favorite conditions the vine often sends out runners 60 to 70 feet long in a single season. They take root every few feet at the nodes, literally "roping down" the soil. As a legume, kudzu restores nitrogen to the soil, and for some time has been known as an excellent forage crop.

BETTER GRASS VARIETIES AIM TO PASTURE RESEARCH

Kentucky bluegrass—which did not come from Kentucky—and Canada bluegrass—not from Canada—are two of several immigrant pasture grasses that have practically supplanted inferior native grasses in the eastern part of the United States where the climate and growing conditions resemble those in Europe. Timothy, redtop, the bent grasses, the fescues, and orchard and rye grasses are others from Europe. Some of these have proved even better adapted to American needs than they were in Europe.

In the current program from improving pastures by breeding and selecting strains and hybrids that will be still better as pasture grasses, State and Federal investigators expect to devote more attention to these immigrants than to the natives.

Out where the climate is drier, the story is different. The native plants hold their own against competition. Plant explorers have scouted the dry areas of Australia, Africa, and Asia, but have found few grasses, the grammas, bluestems, the mesquites, and wheatgrasses. In the Northern Great Plains, however, bromegrass and crested wheatgrass are valuable immigrants and in many cases are superior to the native grasses.

In breeding for better pasture grasses on the Plains, the specialists would like particularly to find strains of buffalo and grama grasses that are good seeders, that would supply seed for plowed areas that should be returned to native grasses.

AUTHORITY

Mr. Williams had hired Sambo to paint his shed at the stipulated price of $2.50. Reappearing on the scene some time later he found Sambo lying in the shade enjoying himself while another Negro was busy painting.

"How is this, Sambo?" asked Williams. "I thought I hired you for the job."

"Yes, sah, Mr. Williams, Ah knows you did, but Ah sublet the contract for $3.00."

"But" remonstrated Mr. Williams, "I pay you only $2.50, so you are losing money on the job."

"Yes, sah; yes, sah, Ah knows Ah is," was the reply, "but it's worth somethin' to be boss."

COLLECT TREES, GRASS SEED FOR ERODED HILLS, GULLIES

Trained crews of Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees, working under direction of Soil Conservation Service foresters, expected to collect more than 7,000 bushels of tree seeds in the Ohio Valley this fall. This will mean millions of new tree plantings on eroded slopes and gullies. Returning vegetation to denuded slopes not only halts soil losses, but helps control "little waters" in the uplands before they have a chance to combine and form dangerous "big waters" in the lowlands. The Service says.

The tree seeds being gathered in the Ohio Valley will represent only a small part of the nationwide seed harvest. The Service estimates that more than 1,500,000 pounds of tree and shrub seed and almost 700,000 pounds of grass seed will be collected by next July.

The biggest harvest probably will be of black locust. Farmers like this tree because it grows fast and soon produces a crop of fence posts and timber. Soil conservers like black locust because it is one of the best trees to control erosion. Each tree sends out a mass of tough, fibrous roots that bind topsoil securely to the land. They say locust will grow in rather poor land, and because it is a legume it builds up and enriches the soil.

Other popular species, of which large quantities of seed are being collected, include oak, black walnut, hickory, and pine.

FLOOD-WATER MOSQUITOES LIVE LONG AND FLY FAR

Some flood-water mosquitoes in the Pacific Northwest are strong fliers, winging their way 25 to 30 miles from the hatching grounds, and some live a long time as insect lives go—104 to 113 days. Ordinarily, however, they stay within 15 miles of the flooded lands where the aquatic wrigglers carry on the life cycle from egg to adult stage, and most of them die within 60 or 75 days.

Flood crests and weather largely determine the flight range, longevity, and numbers of each year's mosquito brood. The higher the crests and the more floods, the greater the numbers and the longer the flights of mosquitoes. The females travel farther and faster than the males and live longer.

Entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture, seeking new methods of mosquito control, recently completed a 7-year study of the flight habits of the two most troublesome species in the lower Columbia River Valley. There mosquito eggs laid on the ground in summer stay till floods the following year bring good hatching conditions. Hatching follows the flood crest by a week or 10 days. Each crest—sometimes four in one season—starts a new hatch in the willow-covered swales scattered through thousands of acres along the Columbia River from the Cascade Mountains to the sea.

The investigators determined mosquito flight ranges by taking a hand sprayer through the grass and nettles that sheltered the young mosquitoes, spraying the swarms that rose around them with methylene blue or eosine, and later collecting stained specimens from the surrounding country.

Both species and both sexes, the collections showed, dispersed in all directions, against prevailing winds as well as with them. They were numerous up to 15 miles from the breeding grounds, after which they diminished rapidly, until at 30 miles there were practically none.

AUTOS AHEAD OF CLOTHING IN FARM FAMILY SPENDING

Expenditure patterns of farm families are different from those of the early 1920's. Then, clothing expenses were second to food. Now, clothing has been superseded by automobiles in more than half of the most usual income groups, according to a study by the Bureau of Home Economics, of typical farm families in different parts of the country. In the more prosperous farm communities between 80 and 90 percent of the families studied in the most usual income groups have cars. For example, in such community families having yearly incomes from $750 to $1,000 spent 28 to 33 percent of the income for food, depending on the size of the family. From 15 to 18 percent was spent on the automobile. As income increased to between $1,500 and $1,750, families consisting of husband and wife spent only 22 percent for food and 20 percent for the automobile.

TOOLS OF TRADE

A gentleman to whom an Irishman had applied for work asked if he knew anything about woodwork. Assured that the applicant knew everything about the carpentry trade, he said: "Well, can you make a Venetian blind?" "It's a treat, son, to see me at the study by the Bureau of Home Economics, of typical farm families in different parts of the country. In the more prosperous farm communities between 80 and 90 percent of the families studied in the most usual income groups have cars. For example, in such community families having yearly incomes from $750 to $1,000 spent 28 to 33 percent of the income for food, depending on the size of the family. ### INDEFATIGABLE

"Where are you going, anyway?" inquired the irate conductor of the hobo whom he had unceremoniously dispatched off the train five or six times, but who always managed to get on again just as the train started. "To Chicago, if my pants hold out; but I'll never get there if you fellows kick me off every five minutes." "He was left undisturbed for the remainder of the journey."

Dogs 'Tree' Possum In Stalk Of Wheat, (It Grows Tall Here)

A live although somewhat youngish opossum that the dogs on Bert Battey's place southeast of Floydada, tried in a stalk of wheat, was on display in Floydada Monday afternoon at The Hesperian office, although there are those who doubt it.

Wheat is growing tall in Floyd County. Big stalks, too. And there is ample coverage for varmints even bigger than possums. Hence no reason to doubt Mr. Battey's word that, after the dogs had tried there was nothing to do but cut down the wheat stalk and capture the opossum.

"No, we didn't have much trouble getting the animal and when we get him fat he'll be good eating for somebody who likes that kind of meat," Mr. Battey said. The meat is a little too fat for his taste, but there are many whom opossum is a rare delicacy. "Our axe was a little dull and the wheat was a little tough but we got the job done," Battey related. He added he expected a good many persons to doubt the story which he would doubt himself if he didn't have the opossum right before his eyes as proof.

FIRST BEAUTY COMPETITION

The first beauty competition in history is supposed to have taken place in 1184 B. C. when Paris awarded the prize—a golden apple—to the goddess Venus, and the Trojan war was the result. The next contest, says London Answers Magazine, took place 3,000 years later, and created immense excitement. In the spring of 1888 the little resort of Spa, in Belgium, announced a contest to discover "the most beautiful woman in the world." To enter, all that was necessary was to write a letter to the committee, enclosing a photograph.

LONGEST AQUEDUCT IN WORLD

The Los Angeles aqueduct has a total length, including the diverting canal and reservoirs, of 233 miles. This is the longest aqueduct in the world. It brings water from the Owens river in the heart of the Sierra Nevada mountains and provides water power in its fall to the city level. Work was begun on this aqueduct in 1906 and the project was completed in 1913. The cost of the aqueduct and its accessories was $24,600,000.

EARLY INVENTOR OF STEAMBOAT

John Fitch is considered one of the earliest inventors of the steamboat, preceding Fulton by about 20 years. On August 27, 1787, his steamboat, propelled by 12 wooden paddles, piled up and down the Delaware river at a speed of three miles an hour.

The Hurricane, South Sea Story Tonight And Friday At The Palace

Show Also Has a Popular Player For Saturday Afternoon and Night In Gene Autry

"The Hurricane," South Sea story of love and adventure which has been labelled a four-bell picture by writers from all corners of the country, will be the feature screen story presented at the Palace Theatre tonight and Friday night, and Jack Deakins, manager of the theatre, is expecting it to prove a very popular offering. Written by the authors of "Mutiny on the Bounty" the story of "The Hurricane" is one of adventure and reckless romance that reaches a breathtaking climax as the hurricane roars across the sometime moonlit magic of the tropics. Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall are the popular players who have leading roles in the two-hour drama.

Gene Autry Saturday

Gene Autry, the singing cowboy, popular with "western addicts," is scheduled to be presented in the screen play, "The Old Barn Dance," at the Palace on Saturday afternoon and night. It is a galloping, smiling sort of single handed story with the hero against the forces of a gang of menacing rangeland mobsters.

munity on the regional organization board.

Naming of a young lady to represent Floydada in the festivities at Wichita Falls for the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting and selection of a "My Home Town" speaker were deferred for the time. Probability that the speaker will be chosen in eliminations at Floydada High School and a "princess" will be named through a contest to be staged by Jack Deakins of Floydada Theatres, was indicated.

PALACE CAFE MOVED

Palace Cafe, B. C. Lanier, proprietor, moved the first of the week from its former location in the Boothe Building on California street, to the former location of the Del Rue Cafe on the same street.

Cotton Allotment

(Continued from page 1.) under instructions from the state office mainly as the acreage seeded to wheat on many farms in the county was doubtless in excess of the general soil-depleting acreage allotment which will be established on the farms.

In order for these producers who have excess wheat to meet performance to the 1938 conservation program, such excess acreage must be designated and used as a winter cover crop, which can not be harvested for grain or hay, but may be pastured until six weeks before normal harvest, at which time a soil building practice must be instituted. Since the county office was assured that Floyd County would not be included in the wind erosion area, there is a strong likelihood that there will be permitted a straight summer-fallow but it is known that listing on the contour will help a producer more easily and in addition will help earn soil building payments.

There will be no penalty to planting wheat in excess of the general acreage allotment on the farm so long as the total soil-depleting allotment is not exceeded. This ruling will be an advantage to many producers.

It is estimated that the general soil-depleting allotment for 1938 will be from 80 to 81 per cent of the normal general crop acreage for the farm. Some producers have reduced from 15 to 20 per cent of their 1937 general base. The county agent and county committee are of the opinion that producers who have done this have estimated their 1938 general soil-depleting allotment substantially close and will meet the general soil-depleting allotment performance for this year.

Closing hours of the convention Saturday afternoon will be marked by tree planting ceremonies presided over by J. H. Myers, principal of Andrews Ward School, in which the district's first president will be honored and the first president of the local Parent-Teacher Association.

THEY MEAN BUSINESS

A man slipped on a banana peel and executed a very funny fall, not being hurt as it turned out, but having his dignity somewhat ruffled. When he recovered a moment later a friend was holding his hat and a number of people had formed a circle.

"What do these idlers want? he snarled. "They are not idlers," explained his friend soothingly. "Here's a doctor who wants to look you over, a lawyer ready to bring suit for you and a producer of comic films who would like to sign you up." The Stone Cutters Journal.

CHEAP SALES COST

United States census figures for 1929 show that at a cost of but 1.54 per cent advertising created a market for the $70,434,863, 443 worth of manufactured products of that year.

Auto Registrations Are Believed Greater Than For Last Year

Automobile registrations have been speeded up considerably this past week with the deadline drawing near a close.

Wednesday afternoon 1262 passenger, 197 farm truck, and 67 commercial truck license had been issued at the tax assessors office. License have been issued at a special office in Lockney for the past three weeks and it is believed that possibly 300 cars and trucks have been registered there.

It was figured that approximately 100 more license have been issued this year than last, but no accurate check has been made yet.

Cars operated after midnight today must be equipped with 1938 tags to avoid penalty. Cars operated without new tags after the deadline are subject to a fine and a penalty of 20 percent on the cost of 1938 tags, it was explained. No penalty is attached if the car has not been in operation. A car may be driven to town without new tags, if the purpose of the trip is to purchase license, without penalty.

Jack Reeves, Texas license bureau, said that drivers and chauffeurs license were being procured in increasing numbers during the past month. He explained that a great number took their driver test and bought operators license at the same time they registered their cars for new tags.

Father And Son

"In 1850 it took 19 farmers to support one man in town, but now one farmer can support seven men in town," Chapelle said, showing the change in farming methods over a period of years.

Chapelle closed his talk with the thought, "It is as important to keep a mental, physical, moral and religious balance as it is a balance in other places, if such a balance is not kept you will be unhappy."

The program for the evening was opened with invocation by C. O. Spence after which the feasters present were presented by their Vocational Agriculture Teacher W. A. King.

The FFA orchestra rendered two numbers after which C. W. Denison, Jr. gave the history of the Floydada chapter of FFA.

"My future project program," by Jewel Elza; "Summary of my last year's project," by Billy Daniel; sons and guests were introduced by "Summary of all last year projects" by Joe Smith preceded the address by Chapelle.

The Home Economics girls under the direction of Miss Fannie Mae Rees served a cafeteria style supper before the program began.

Officers of the chapter are James Gibbs, president; Ralph Taylor, vice-president; Milton Weems, secretary; Eugene Blackmon, treasurer; Joe Smith, reporter; Clifford Daniel, watch dog; Garth Morse, parliamentarian, and C. W. Denison, Historian.

Mrs. Lon Thomas visited in Farwell from Friday until Sunday afternoon with her son, J. D. Thomas and family.

In His Steps

This is a son of the panhandle's beloved Jim Browning, Morris Browning, of Potter County, who is serving as surveyor of Potter County, and would like to be Commissioner of the General Land Office of Texas. He received his school training at University of Texas and is an expert on land matters. His election would bring to the office the first land engineer in history.

Candidates Go Tonight To Starkey Box Supper; Campbell Next Thurs.

Floyd County candidates journey to Starkey tonight where they will make talks at a box supper sponsored in that community for the benefit of local enterprises, and one week hence they go to Campbell. The date for Campbell is April 7, and a box supper is planned. Last Friday night the date for the candidates was at Liberty.

MRS. CHARLIE GOUGH REPORTED IMPROVED

Mrs. Charlie Gough, sister of Mrs. Elbert Parks, who has been in a Plainview hospital since March 21 is reported to be much improved following a major operation last Friday. Four blood transfusions were necessary.

Mrs. Gough worked for some time at the offices of Dr. A. E. Guthrie.

Cook Home Destroyed By Fire On Wednesday

Net loss, after insurance proceeds are paid, that probably will amount to $3,000, was suffered by Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Cook, of the Hillcrest district Wednesday morning when their home and practically all its contents and their personal effects were destroyed by fire.

$1,250 insurance was carried on the house, which was the reconstructed Lee Montague old home place, seventeen miles northeast of Floydada. Little or none of the household effects and furniture was saved, and a supply of canned and processed foods for a year or more went up in smoke also.

Mrs. Cook and her son were visiting in Tulsa, Oklahoma, at relatives and Mr. Cook, when the fire was discovered, was in the lot. He and neighbors, who were gathered, were able to salvage some of the effects. There were no flames in any of the stoves in the residence and the surmise is that the fire originated from defective wiring in the electrical system.

DONALD THOMAS REPORTS APRIL 7 AT PARAGOULD

Donald Thomas, drug clerk at Floydada during the winter pitcher for the Paragould team of the Northeast Arkansas League during the baseball season, is counting the time until he reports for duty with his team on April 7, when the team goes into training.

Thomas was notified the first of the week by the president of the club, Donald Cox; to report for duty on that date. Prospects for a good combination of offensive and defensive players for the Paragould team this year are good. Thomas was told in the letter advising him to report.

Judge and Mrs. A. J. Polley and daughter, Frances Elaine, of Arriello visited Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Minor and other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Shube visited from Saturday until Monday in Wichita Falls as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Les Stringer and other friends.

Miss Bonnie Fyffe spent the past week end in Wichita Falls visiting with her sister, Miss Mae Fyffe.

APRIL 3-10 IS CLEAN-UP WEEK IN STATE OF TEXAS

Governor, Mayors Join In State-Wide Campaign For Cleaner State

Attention Urged
Mayor Of Floydada Calls On Citizens Here To Observe The Week

Each year's annual clean-up is scheduled for the week beginning Sunday ending the following Sunday, proclaimed by Governor James V. Allred out of Austin, urged by State Health Department and State Fire Insurance Commissioner, and set aside in the individual communities by the mayors of the state. The week should see one of the most thorough cleanings ever in many years.

Nothing in the procession of communities, anxious to ride the bandwagon and have a community of which its citizenship may be proud, Mayor Glad Snodgrass this week proclaimed the week and called upon churches, clubs, newspapers, civic and patriotic organizations to join the program, based on five points of direct benefit which should result, namely:

1. To protect community health;
2. To reduce fire hazards;
3. To create a better home life;
4. To increase property values;
5. To beautify the community.

This five-point program, which has many ramifications when it reaches the communities and premises is urged on the citizenship of the state by the State Department of Health and the State Insurance Commission especially whose experience is that campaigns of this nature result in greatly increased standard of public health and reduced fire losses as well as results, with the corollary benefits in home life, enhanced property values and greater civic attractiveness.

Burn Rubbish, Limbs
The immediate need of private premises which have not yet had attention in many parts of Floydada is the cleaning up and burning of rubbish, which includes many hundred tree limbs broken off in the February and March snowstorms. This practical suggestion from the mayor is a beginning point for any citizen who may wonder what to do to co-operate.

Local club women this week were enthusiastic in support of the idea of immediate work to effect a clean up of Floydada and add to its civic attractiveness, especially in view of the forthcoming Parent-Teacher Congress due to bring 200 to 300 delegates to Floydada from thirty counties of the area. Impressions gained of the community by these delegates will be carried to all sections of the west in particular and the state in general, and, is being spread in addition to the other great benefits to accrue from proper observance of the week.

W. M. S. TO MEET

Mrs. Ella Johnston, president of the W. N. M. S. of the Nazarene church will entertain the society in a business and social meeting at her home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

After the meeting a quilt will be completed for a Missionary box.

BAKER PLAY

The play which was to have been presented at Baker April 1, has been postponed indefinitely because of the death of Earl Pawber.

Proclamation by the Mayor

Whereas, the week of April 3 to 10, has been designated by Governor James V. Allred in his proclamation of February 26 as State Clean-Up Week; and

Whereas, the Texas Fire Insurance Department and the Texas State Health Department have agreed to co-operate with the city officials of Texas cities and towns in the observance of this week; and

- Whereas, the aims and accomplishments of this week are:
1. To protect Community Health;
  2. To Reduce fire Hazards;
  3. To create a better Home Life;
  4. To increase Property Values;
  5. To Beautify Communities.

Now, therefore, I, Glad Snodgrass, mayor of the City of Floydada, Texas, do hereby join with the Governor of Texas and Officials of the Texas Fire Insurance Department and State Health Department and do hereby set aside and proclaim the week of April 3 to 10, 1938, as in Floydada. The schools, churches, clubs, newspapers, civic and patriotic organizations, boy scouts and girl scouts, and all of our citizenship are urged to take an active part in the observance of this week. All of these organizations are urged to consult and advise with their city officials as to the best ways and means of conducting this campaign so that the greatest benefits may be derived by all our citizens.

CLEAN UP WEEK

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of the City to be impressed hereon, this the 29 day of March, A. D. 1938.

(SEAL) GLAD SNODGRASS, Mayor.
Attest: C. W. Henderson, acting City Secretary.

Harmony News

Sunday school and church were fairly attended Sunday. Rev. Hooten preached Sunday and Rev. O'Kelley filled his place at Plainview. Rev. Hooten is preaching for the meeting and we surely had some good preaching. Wish more people could have heard Rev. Hooten. The meeting closed Tuesday night and there were a few conversions and additions to the church.

Everett Miller sounded the alarm of fire Wednesday night at one o'clock. His feed stack was on fire but men and women forming a bucket brigade quickly put out the fire saving most of the feed.

Mrs. Rex Williams of Petersburg visited in the community Saturday and Sunday.

Denzil Ann Kemp has been sick for some time.

Orval Spence visited home over the week-end.

Estelle and Reda Maye Gary visited their parents this week-end.

We had a nice shower Saturday and Sunday which will help wheat for a while.

MRS. CHARLIE GOUGH IN PLAINVIEW HOSPITAL IS IMPROVING SATISFACTORILY

Mrs. Charlie Gough is in a Plainview hospital this week, and is improving satisfactorily, her sister Mrs. Elbert Parks, said this week.

Mrs. Parks visited her sister Sunday and returned again Tuesday to be with her.

freedom a guarantee by the Constitution, many people think the right and right of its provisions.

Here in our house, a Greek woman, who was a Symplocos, by her and who had seen the wonderful things that Jesus had done, thought that he would be the one to be called "the Christ," or as we would say, was naturally defective.

The reply of Jesus to the woman was very strange, and if we read it carefully in the strict sense as it is recorded, we would be bound to say that it seemed almost brutal in its lack of sympathy. Jesus said to her, "Let the children first be filled; for it is not good to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs."

These words are so full of meaning with the gentleness of Jesus and with the loving response that was so essential to all His teaching and teaching that we can only think of something in the manner or lack of the Master that belied the gentleness of His words. He may have used such words, but in any case it is not good to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs.

It would seem as though instead of being rebuffed or taking offense, the woman replied to Jesus in such the same language as the Lord, even the dog under the table out of the children's crumbs.

The woman answered and her child was healed. This was the expression of the Christ, and it would be folly to interpret the seemingly harsh words of Jesus as a sign of what Jesus actually did in healing the woman's child.

The other part of our lesson has to do with the healing of one who was blind and partially dumb. Here we have a miracle outside of the spiritual work of Christ in healing him to hear and speak the words of God.

And the healing of the lame is an equally good example to our own lives in healing our mental, physical and spiritual. Healing a physical is the first step, and in the whole history of the Christian church, that has the grace of God is not limited to either of these or even to differences of outward faith.

Mrs. of all colors and of all creeds have experienced the grace of God. It has brought to light in their lives all those precious things that are the fruit of the spirit. Will a day come when we can learn to value men according to these things and not according to racial or other differences?

Healing a physical is the first step, and in the whole history of the Christian church, that has the grace of God is not limited to either of these or even to differences of outward faith.

Mrs. of all colors and of all creeds have experienced the grace of God. It has brought to light in their lives all those precious things that are the fruit of the spirit. Will a day come when we can learn to value men according to these things and not according to racial or other differences?

LOVE FOR ALL RACES

Golden Text: He hath done all things well, he maketh both the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak. Mark 7:37.

Lesson Text: Matt. 7:18-27.

1. And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would have no man know it: but he could not be hid.

2. For a certain woman whose daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet.

3. The woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation; and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.

4. But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled; for it is not meet to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs.

5. And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord; yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs.

6. And he said unto her, For this saying, thy daughter is gone out of thy daughter.

7. And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon a bed.

8. And when, departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came into the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the crowds of disciples.

9. And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they besought him to put his hand upon him.

10. And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spit, and touched his tongue.

11. And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and said unto him, Ephraïm, that is, he is heard.

12. And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he began to speak.

13. And he charged him that he should tell no man; but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it.

14. And when beyond measure assembled, saying, He hath done all things well, he made it both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

15. Henceforth he was rampant in the days of the Master, and circumstances of the last 1800 years have not served to break down the barriers of inter-racial intolerance which so often fumes into hatred. Even in America, where all men are equal before the law and religious
