LOOK TO YOUR FENCES

Barbed wire did more to change the complexion of livestock and allied business on the great plains than any other agency. When it was introduced (in the eighties?) there were wars and wars between the open range man and the nester, one result of which is that Texas has a statute on the books today providing a penalty for carrying wire pinchers or pliers on your person outside your own premises.

SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

How many of the hang-overs from former years now common practice in the mechanics of business, will the generation now coming on keep after the present managers and directors are off the stage of action? So few years ago were the horse and buggy days that a very large majority of the heads of business, big and little, are men whose plastic ages were spent in that period.

SAFETY HINT OF THE DAY

Encourage the highway patrol in the performance of their duties.

POLL TAX UNPOPULAR

Because it has a million dollars a year income for the schools tied up in its enforcement, the general run of legislators have been afraid to touch the unfair poll tax law of Texas. Nobody wants the strong teacher lobby and influence on his neck. But there is evidence the absurdity of paying money for the right to vote is being seen for what it is.

COL. CHARLES GOODNIGHT

A story this week in The Hesperian tells of plans for a memorial to mark the grave of Colonel Charles Goodnight, whose death occurred nearly ten years ago and whose remains now are buried in the vicinity where he made his home for many years—on the reaches of the Palo Duro. One thing you note about the former bullwhacker is that he was definitely liked or disliked by his associates.

AN ART NOT TO LOSE

An important art not to forget in the modern hurdy gurdy is how to milk the cows. Every-normal granaries, parity prices, fair deal for the farmer, all the things that have been adopted as a part of the national program, are not due to make us all rich. Things do not go that way. Greenbugs, hail, freezes or perhaps a brassy sky that should be weeping, will continue to come along.

COL. THOMPSON FOR GOVERNOR

Our belief is that about as good material as Texas has had a chance to choose for governor of Texas in many years is presented in the candidacy of Col. E. O. Thompson, whose opening speech of the campaign was made last week in Waco.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

What do you think of the wheat? This is the question of the hour. Many and varied are the answers. Time alone can only tell what these plains will do. Never one year can be judged by another. If variety is the spice of life, then we do not need to find a new road to the spice lands.

To Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown. My appreciation of the warm hearted approval you have given my column. And to the kind friend that passed the compliments on to me.

I am in Floydada as I write this, and the sights and sounds of city life distract me, somewhat. My husband hurried me off early as he was shipping some lambs. The town looks so clean and fresh. Wish I had a bag of gold so I could buy all the lovely things I see displayed so temptingly in the shining windows.

My young friend, Madeline Dean, brought me three elephants crossing a bridge, from Galveston, her sister, Mary, wrote me a nice letter. Life is such a pleasure, when friends are so kind.

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

A country club for Floydada will be discussed and plans made for establishing one at a meeting Friday night called by Maury Hopkins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting is open to every citizen in Floydada interested in establishing an affair of this kind.

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON. — Regardless of whether Congress decides there should or should not be more government spending, it is certain that there will be continued government lending. Chairman Jesse Jones of the R. F. C. has been given $1,500,000,000 to lend to anyone in any amount for any length of time, which is evidence that when Congress voted the appropriation, it also gave Mr. Jones a vote of confidence.

Air Mail Service, Celebrating 20th Birthday, Has Become 'Big Business'

TWENTY years ago on May 15 an airplane took off from Potomac Park in Washington, D. C., before a throng of spectators including President Woodrow Wilson. The plane soared into the sky picked up speed until it reached 75 miles an hour and headed for Philadelphia. Its cargo—the first mail carried on a government air route.

THE air mail service has grown from an infant enterprise which handled 713,000 pieces of mail its first year to a business which last year carried almost 200,000,000 pieces.

put into operation. As the number of flights were increased, it soon became necessary to illuminate the entire route. THE decade from 1925 to 1935 was one of great expansion for the service. New lines were established, stops added to existing lines and feeder routes set up.

Much controversy has arisen over the reference of the song 'Through the Rye.' It has been illustrated by a waving of rye, and the manufacturer has a celebrated brand of rye whiskey. He has used such an illustration to flatter the lovers in a rye field.

Clarendon Banker Chairman Of Committee Which Seeks Funds From Citizens of Plains

GOODNIGHT, Texas, April 18—(Herald.)—I have never seen Colonel Goodnight, but I know him. That is a typical expression in the handle country. So dynamic is the man's character that his name lives on almost 10 years after his death.

Charles Goodnight, dynamic plainsman, who died ten years ago, lies in an unmarked grave. W. H. Patrick and other Clarendon citizens have taken the lead in a plan to erect a memorial to the cattleman and are asking for donations from the public for the purpose.
