Review P. T. C. Society Will Entertain Campaigners Tomorrow Night

When they wind up their week of campaigning on Friday night of the week at Lakeview, where they will be entertained by the P. T. C. Teacher - Community Society candidates will take a Saturday and Sunday breather in preparation for the strenuous next week.

Campbell Monday night, May 9; Harmony, Tuesday night, May 10; Edgin, Thursday night, May 12, and Aiken Friday night, May 13, is their schedule for the week, according to plans made.

Candidates are standing up well under the dual role of holding down the campaign during the day, doing personal campaigning, and attending to various types of meetings and participating in the entertainment offered by communities of voters.

The candidates visited Lakeview several weeks ago and were instrumental in helping raise a sizable fund for scholastic activities there. The meeting tomorrow night will be the form of an appreciation of the candidates by the whole community, it is planned.

At Blanco on Thursday night of last week a program was given by Miss Mildred Finley in the Blanco school, in what visitors thought was a very enjoyable event marking the closing of the school for this week. Candidates were given an opportunity to speak.

The FFA one-act players of FHS will give a practice performance of their strict contest play.

At Sand Hill on Friday night the event was a big forty-two party in which sixty couples joined in the high school auditorium. G. C. Colson and A. B. Clark were high score.

Tom Bartley Will Talk at Re-Union of Floyd Pioneers

Early-Day Resident Of Floyd County Makes Plans To Attend Re-Union

Thomas M. Bartley, one-time resident of Floyd County, but for more than thirty years a resident of Waco, will address pioneers of Floyd County on the forty-eighth anniversary of the founding of the county, on May 28.

This information was given by Tom W. Deen, secretary of the Floyd County Pioneers' Association this week. In accepting an invitation to attend and talk to the early-day residents of the county in their annual gathering, Bartley expressed his appreciation of the honor of being asked and said he would make every effort to be present.

Mr. Bartley has been grand secretary of the Grand Lodge Royal Arch Chapter of Masons for many years. He has visited in Floydada frequently with relatives. His wife is the former Erin Henry, daughter of the late County Judge F. P. Henry.

In addition to several years of residence here in the pioneer days, Mr. Bartley has to his credit some years as a practicing attorney, as one of Floydada's early public school teachers, and one-time representative of the district embracing Floyd County in the state legislature.

His service in the legislature followed removal to Lynn County where he filed on land adjacent to the present site of Tahoka in 1905.

Goodspeed Indictment In October

Man Who Injured Jailer And Escaped at Montague Wanted by Clark

Irvin Goodspeed, who engineered the escape of himself and two other inmates of the Montague County jail at Montague, Texas, Saturday last week, is wanted on a forgery charge in Floyd County. Inquiries as to his whereabouts, directed to Montague and other towns in the vicinity, have been out for several weeks Sheriff Fred N. Clark, said.

Goodspeed had two companions in the escape, one of whom was Floyd Hamilton, brother of the Raymond Hamilton, who was executed for the killing of an officer.

Goodspeed is credited with being the principal actor in the escape. He crawled through a hole left by a cut cell bar, hid behind the control board and when the deputy sheriff came to feed the trio attacked him from behind. The deputy, son of Sheriff Mrs. C. K. Chandler, was stabbed in the leg with a pair of scissors but was not seriously injured. The jail keys were taken from Chandler by Goodspeed who then released his fellow prisoners.

Littlefield Man Killed At Lockney

Trailer Truck Crashes Into Moving Freight Train Wednesday Morning

Curtis Willis, 34, who with his father was engaged in the service station business at Littlefield, was killed while sleeping yesterday morning at 4 o'clock on Highway 28 west of Lockney, when his truck, driven by J. C. Glover, Jr., 25, crashed into a moving Fort Worth & Denver freight train.

The empty 6-wheel trailer telescoped the cab of the truck and crushed the life out of Willis. Glover's injuries are serious but not necessarily fatal, attendants at Lockney Clinic where he was taken, believe. He has broken bones and severe bruises.

A Dalby freight truck, driven by Earl Hoover, was one of the first to reach the scene. Hoover was two hours late reaching Floydada on account of the wreck. Few motorists were on the highway at that hour and Hoover helped the rail crew clear the wreckage and remove the dead and injured men. Arch Crager, Lockney, whose ambulance was called, also helped extricate the men. Sheriff Fred N. Clark, and Judge Tom W. Deen, were called to the scene to make an official investigation.

The truck, Glover said, was enroute home from Childress where it had delivered a load of mules. They were traveling at about the rate of 20 miles, he said, and the locked speedometer in the wreckage bears out the statement. He saw the 70-car freight train, he told Crager, and thought it had completed the crossing when he saw the last box car in the string, but four oil cars fooled his sight.

Willis body was shipped from the Crager Funeral Home to Littlefield yesterday for burial. Glover is in the Lockney Clinic for treatment.

PROGRESS REPORTED ON BLANCO TEST

Steady work on Montgomery No. 1, Floyd County's hope well, was showing results late Wednesday afternoon when more sections and fragments of the stuck drill stem were removed.

Since the bit stuck at 5,014 feet almost a month ago and the stem blasted in two near 3,050 feet the crew has been steadily fishing and making every effort to speed up operations. A number of sections were fished out last week.

It is believed that a 500 foot section remained yet to be removed before drilling can be started again. Work was going forward at 4,500 feet late Wednesday afternoon.

POKE SALAD TIME AGAIN

It is time again for poke salad. Except for the freeze first poke salad greens would have been had in these parts ten days or two weeks ago.

Nothing better than poke greens for what ails you early in the spring, and don't tell yourself you can't have all you can say grace over growing about in the back yard or somewhere around.

FEWER ELECTION BOXES

One of the developments in connection with elections in recent years is the trend toward fewer and larger voting boxes. In new counties that have been organized the number of boxes is low and in numerous other heavier voting counties the number of boxes has been reduced even where heavy increase in voting strength is noted.

Good roads and good automobiles that have taken the place of poor roads and buggies are responsible. Counties are cutting the expense of holding elections to some extent by the change, although the saving is not as great as it appears on its face.

MANY WANT MRS. FERGUSON

Another interesting aspect of the political situation is the continued demand being made upon Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson to get into the campaign. Many thousands want to see the Ferguson name on the ticket, believe it or not. They just naturally want to vote for the war horse Jim.

As we have it in mind, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson said in late January they would not run. However, that does not change the fact that, with so many asking them to get back into the ring, they are still potential threats. It seems probable Mrs. Ferguson could not be elected.

POLITICAL CALENDAR

June 6 is the last day for a candidate to file for a state or district office and June 18 is the last day to file for a county or precinct office. This is some time away and many things could happen in the interim.

At present the prospect for more candidates in Floyd County is very slim. Should no more file than are now offering it would be one of the shortest county ballots in a number of years.

THE PRIME MINISTER

SAFETY HINT OF THE DAY

While driving, may we be courteous to men, women and children afoot.

MR. O'DANIEL A CANDIDATE

W. Lee O'Daniel, whose radio voice is known to thousands in Texas, is a candidate for governor, he says, and by radio is asking for donations to a fund for his campaign. An interesting personality no doubt his candidacy will have to be taken into consideration.

If it is his plan to use the radio exclusively it will be an interesting experiment, watched by all to see the result.

INVISIBLE TAXES

While the direct tax on the public has been reduced the past few years, by means of the homestead act exempting homes from state taxes and in other ways, the indirect tax continues to climb.

The state government of Texas this year for all its activities will have expended nearly two hundred million dollars. Things like this come about because people demand them. If all the levy were taken directly from the taxpayer the reduction in expense of state government would be made quickly.

AGED PEOPLE FEEL HURT

The workings of the old age assistance system in Texas have been very disappointing to the aged people. They blame the investigators in many instances. The likelihood is that the investigator is doing no more than he has orders to do.

Applying the same rule to all applicants, you would think, would get exact justice and fairness to everyone. The aged do not think so at all. You find few, indeed, who do not have a definite grievance of some kind.

UNEMPLOYMENT LAW NEEDS CHANGING

The business of raising the money to pay old age assistance claims is a practical one. The money required to pay the bill under the present set-up is a large amount. To liberalize the law would increase the demand.

Perhaps a change in the unemployment compensation law would not increase the tax burden and still make possible more liberal payments to the aged. The compensation law is costing all out of proportion to the value it is to the working man, it seems to us, and some of the legislators are agreed that is correct. A law of this kind works in favor of the large industrial centers as against the smaller, agricultural communities.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Mollie Will Spikes

Forty six years ago, May 4, 1892, George Jones was ready to leave Parker County for the West. It was my birthday. I was four years old and my mother and brother Lowell were coming with them for a visit a while in the new home.

The marble top bureau, the walnut, "chist" that held cherished quilts, the screen covered safe, even the brass bucket, were loaded in. Grandma did not forget her garden nor flower seeds.

The oxen were hooked to the loaded wagons, a team to the big old hack. The little herd of cattle were turned out of their pen. A married daughter Sarah, stood drying her eyes on her blue checked apron, her two little boys running and shouting, not realizing the separation.

Grandpa put the rocking chair in the back of the hack for Mirtle, who was not well. But the rocking chair proved a failure as the hack went over the rough roads in Jack County.

The Jones family loaded in the boys driving the cattle. The dogs lying beside the wagon rose, stretched and lazily followed. Past the cemetery where Jones' of many different ages lay sleeping under the Post Oak trees in the rock walled space.

Grandmother's head ached and her tears fell fast. Old memories both happy and sad come rushing through her mind. But she must dry her tears. Her man wanted to take his growing family where there would be room and land for all. Women must follow and be content.

The trip was long and hard. The water was scarce and oftentimes bad. The children were tired and sick. A dog was lost. Steve went back afoot a half days journey to look for him. Steve returned at night without the dog, his heels and feet blistered. Day by day the wagons crept on and on, ever up hill—ever West. Men came to the camp one night.

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

ISSUE OF MAY 8, 1924

Thirty eight boys who attended the meeting in the district court room yesterday at 5:30 o'clock, signed up for membership in the Boy Scout Troop, being fostered by the American Legion.

Application for a charter for the organization will be made at once, and the troop organized fully with the expectation that it will be a live troop. Trustees for the organization will be chosen from the McDermitt Post American Legion, who will supervise all expenditures to be made by the scoutmasters.

The Floydada High School Whirlwinds lost their first battle of the season, after some twelve or fourteen contests, at Slaton last Friday afternoon, when in a twelve inning battle the Slaton High School team beat them out 3 to 2.

Farmers of Floyd County last week completed the organization of a mutual aid association which they have named the Farmer's Mutual Aid Association, and which will have headquarters in Floydada.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold its last meeting of the year tomorrow afternoon at the South Side School. At this meeting Mrs. Kimble will report on the 7th District Federation meeting at Lubbock, and J. L. Henson will make an address on "Good Citizenship."

The closing exercises of the Pleasant Hill School will be given on Thursday and Friday nights, May 15 and 16. On Thursday night the school will present, "The Little Clodhopper," a comedy drama in three acts.

Fighting gamely against odds that outclassed them, Floydada High's representatives in the Fourteenth Annual Interscholastic League Meet, which closed here today, went down to defeat after placing in all preliminaries. The initial entry of F. H. S. in the world's greatest high school meet was made Thursday afternoon when Mildred Carter and Adelaide Scott, girl's tennis doubles team, won their way into the second round of play without lifting a racket, taking their first match from Phelps by default.

Miss Bess Houston and Miss Miriam Olson, Floydada High girl's debating team opened hostilities in the state debate when they met and defeated Edenburg Friday morning. Buford Terry, representing F. H. S. in the 800 yard run, made a good showing against overwhelming odds. J. B. Jenkins and N. A. Armstrong returned Monday from a trip to Midland and Big Spring.

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON — The outlook for wage-hour legislation this session is not rosy. Its history reads like the casualty list of a small civil war. But the widespread belief that failure to enact such a law would give Roosevelt a popular issue for the coming political campaigns may possibly attract previously unexpected support behind it.

Republican congressmen from the north hope to rally labor support to their candidates in the next election if they can get a wage-hour law passed without northern-southern wage differentials. Cheaper labor heretofore often has attracted factory owners to the south.

Last year the Senate passed wage-hour legislation which created a five-man board on which both the south and the north would be represented and which would be empowered to set wage differentials. It was killed last December and the vast bulk of opposition came from southern Democrats.

This year the Norton bill, originating in the House labor committee, of which Congressman Mary and warned George Jones he had better turn back, not to cross the quarantine line. The men refused the kind invitation to sit by the camp fire.

"I said set down," grandpa ordered in his deep voice, his black eyes shining. The men "set." "It won't be no skin off your backs to let me cross the line," grandpa warned them as they left.

Some travelers going east lent the Jones a map of the United States. It was spread on the ground. The family gathered around. A road was found leading to Kansas and grandpa decided to go there but next morning when the negroes were ready to go, grandpa said, "I am going to the plains, nothing, nor no quarantine gotten up to keep nesters out of the country will stop me." So at last the long journey was done, the cap rock climbed to the land of opportunity.

My father came west and became a merchant in the little town of Emma.

Thus, dear readers of the Hesperian, was the way the west was settled. My life has been spent on the Plains. I scarcely remember my Parker County home.

I often wonder what my life would have been had grandfather followed the road to Kansas.

Norton is chairman, provides for no wage differentials. A flat minimum wage of 25 cents an hour except for farm labor and a maximum work week of 44 hours would initiate it. Within three years the minimum wage would be raised to 40 cents an hour and 40 work hours a week would become the maximum in two years. The Department of Labor would be empowered to investigate violations of the law and report to the Department of Justice which industries were subject to prosecution.

Having passed the House rules committee, the bill might then be thumbed down on the floor of the House by southern Democrats who would probably prefer to support the Senate bill with wage differentials, though they spurned it last winter.

Administration forces want more than a 25-cent initial minimum, and expect to fight for an increase on the floor of the House.

If the Norton bill passes the House it might then come a cropper in the conference for reconciliation with the Senate bill. Another possible hazard is that if a conference agreement wage-hour bill reaches the floor of the Senate this session, southern senators may filibuster against it indefinitely.

Editorial Briefs From Other Newspapers

Trim the tips of chicken's wings, perhaps one wing more than the other, to keep them from flying over the fence, is the advice of the Indiana Farmer's Guide. Uneven trimming will unbalance the bird when an attempt to fly is made. Very little of the wing needs to be taken off to stop this practice and little attractiveness of the bird will be lost. This suggestion is the most economical and practical for the poultryman.—Panhandle Herald.

Wooden cooking utensils are likely to warp or mildew unless stored in a dry place. Carefully scrub such utensils with a small brush in hot water and soap suds. Rinse in warm water and wipe them dry. Place them near a stove until they are perfectly dry. Then store them in a dry place.—Shamrock Texan.

Eggs are one of the best sources of fat, proteins, minerals and vitamins. The egg yolk is high in fats, containing six fatty acids and the white contains four different types of protein. Several vitamins are found in eggs. It is well supplied with vitamin A, is a good source of vitamin D, and also contains the water-soluble vitamin E as well as vitamin G.—Briscoe County News.

To do an inexpensive job of hemstitching on your pillow slips use the slip. Tear off about seven inches along the selvage. Press the fold. Fold newspapers about 1/2 inch thick, lay between body of slip and hem. Stitch through all on sewing machine. Pull out papers, press seam apart, and stitch edges. You may use colored thread for the hemstitching.—Panhandle Post.

A tooth belonging to some prehistoric animal was unearthed last week on the Guy Bumpas farm northeast of Wellington by Mr. Bumpas and Lawrence Woodard of Duncan, Oklahoma.—The Wellington Leader.

Because the digestive tract of turkeys calls for lots of bulk grasses should be made for furnishing them an ample supply of green feed. Not only will greens insure good health by supplying them fiber, vitamins and keeping their bowels in good condition, it will also help lower the feed cost. Tender greens should be fed to turkeys and when cooking they should be finely chopped to prevent choking. For greens a range alfalfa or clover is recommended.—Lockney Beacon.

Turnips may be fed to hogs either boiled or raw, though the feed is not a common one for this class of stock, advises a writer in the Montreal Herald. Roots should not be depended on for the energy needed by working hogs. Hogs are about 90 per cent water, so that it would take 100 pounds of them to equal 10 pounds of hay in dry feed. It is doubtful whether turnips would have any effect on hives.—Panhandle Herald.

Just In Fun

Prediction: Dizzy Dean's enrollment in a Chicago Cub uniform will do nothing to diminish the White City's traditional reputation.

Soon farm families will have more than the locust and boll weevil to worry about. The "jitterbugs" will be coming home from college.

There's a Friday the 13th in May. After which, where, because the editor won't have to think up any more hard luck gags until 1939.

Now that anti-peddler laws are being put into effect in many small towns perhaps the family will eventually accumulate enough footware to use up that drawer full of size laces.

Motherhood Reputation for Guidance Typified by Three Prominent Ladies

BEHIND the career of every prominent person will be found some form of parental influence—and nine times out of ten that influence has been supplied by a mother.

Whether reared in a mansion or a cottage there are few great men and women who cannot look down from the heights of success and discern how they were helped along the upward trail by the guiding influence of their mothers.

And no more forcibly is this fact borne out than by the way in which three particular mothers—Sara Delano Roosevelt, Rosalie Di Maggio and Leila Rogers—helped their offspring to success in the widely varied fields of statesmanship, sports and motion pictures.

WHEN Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt "well took an early look at her baby son Franklin she didn't say: 'Some day he'll be President.' The highest ambition which she set for the boy was that he be 'straight and honorable, an unstanding American like his father.'

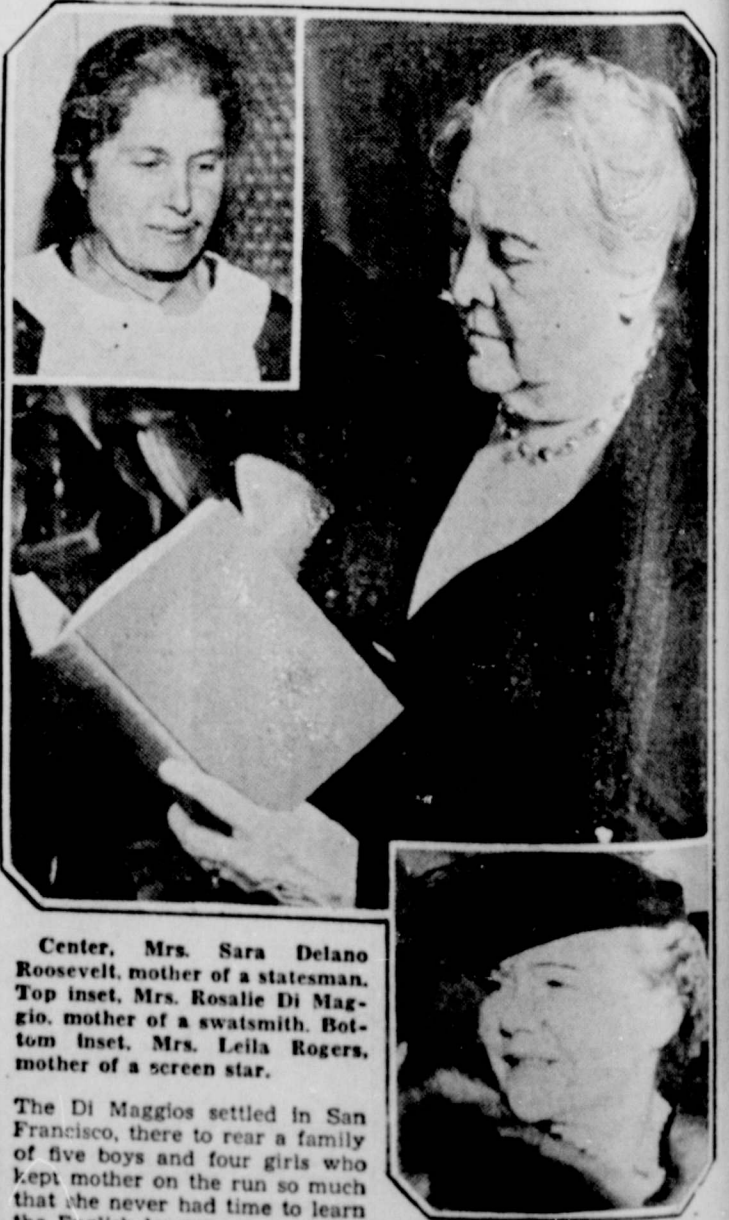

But today this silver-haired lady of the age of 83 can justly lay claim to being the "All-American" mother. Confident of Franklin's ability, she can give as reassuring, as charming a campaign interview as any member of the Roosevelt clan.

From her the President inherited his love of boats and seafaring, his thirst for historic reading. Through travel with her he gained a broad insight into national and international affairs.

To aid him in gaining a good educational background, Mrs. Roosevelt followed her son to Harvard, settling up a home for him near the campus. There she met his various girl friends—and approved but one. That young lady, Eleanor Roosevelt, is now the President's wife.

IF it hadn't been for "Mama" Rosalie Di Maggio's spaghetti, Joe might not be cracking out base hits for the champion New York Yankees at a $25,000 yearly salary. On good Italian cooking the diamond gem built a physique which led him to athletic prowess.

Through New York 35 years ago passed a young immigrant and his bride on their way from sunny Italy to sunny California.

Center, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, mother of a statesman. Top inset, Mrs. Rosalie Di Maggio, mother of a swainsmith. Bottom inset, Mrs. Leila Rogers, mother of a screen star.

The Di Maggios settled in San Francisco, there to rear a family of five boys and four girls who kept mother on the run so much that she never had time to learn the English language.

Last year Mrs. Di Maggio returned to Gotham to watch Joe play a major role in sparking the Yankees to a World Series triumph. Taken on a tour of the city's Italian section, she became so thrilled that it took her almost three hours to eat her dinner.

MRS. LEILA ROGERS wanted her daughter, Ginger, to be a star in her chosen field. But she had enough intelligence to know that child actors seldom make adult sensations. Even though Mrs. Rogers was employed as a studio writer, she kept the young girl at home leading an average life.

At the age of 14 Ginger won a Charleston contest which led to several flattering stage offers. To New York with her went her mother, remaining by her side as guide and counsel through the rigors of Hollywood, big musical shows, then Hollywood.

The "best friend" is your mother" gag really applies to the Rogers case. Ginger and Leila look more like sisters—and they have as much fun together. Mrs. Rogers has been her daughter's promotion manager and has pushed her into roles which made her a bright name in the movie capital's glittering list of stars.

MOTHER'S DAY

May 8 is Mother's day and who does not feel a sense of pleasure yet one of sadness merely at the thought of this? Mother's Day is one of the days to be held above all others. It should be an honorable day and you are the one to make it so. "Honor thy father and thy mother" stands written among the three laws of most revered righteousness. I bid.

QUIPS

So you are not going to the banquet? Why? Im sure I don't know but maybe these few sentences will change your mind. Let's take three persons see what their trouble is and then remedy it.

EXAM PRAYER

Now I set me down to study, I pray the Lord I don't go nutty, And when I learn all this junk, I pray the Lord I won't flunk.

stag it. Girls, there is no earthly reason that you don't take care of that delicious plate that has been planned for you. I hope this has won person 2 to my side so we now take up number 3.

Person 3 doesn't say anything but he thinks a lot. Person 3 doesn't think that he will have a good time because rumors say that the banquet is to be formal so he wouldn't know what to do. This isn't true. The Junior Class this year has tried to do something different; things that have never been done before. The entertainment is to be informal. About the menu—

I quote from Miss Copeland, "The menu for this year's banquet is the best that I have ever seen." In regard to the manners used, I want to say that Emily Post isn't going to be present. Of course, you can't use your bag-pen manners, but you can do your best.

If you make a mistake, no one will notice it but you, so there's nothing to worry about but that waitress bring you your plate. Person 3, be yourself. That's the answer to your problem.

Come on, now, come to the banquet, won't you?

NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK

"Poster Local Music Talent" has been adopted as slogan for America as we celebrate National Music Week which is from May 1 to 8. Radio programs are urging people without opportunity to take lessons in music to make use of the constructive programs given over the radio—such programs as those given regularly by Walter Damrosch.

An editorial writer in the "Scho-lastic" says, "The musical headquarters of the world have moved. Toscanini and other foreign musicians still dominate the field of music, but soon the great names will include more like Durbin, Carpenter, Anderson, Gershwin, all trained and rooted in American soil! Music has moved because America is rich and appreciative, as well as free. Music educators agree that more good music can be heard in America in a given period of time than in any country in Europe, formerly the Music's centerpiece."

Local talent has been fostered for years in America, and is now seeing the results of such profitable use of time and talent.

People everywhere are beginning to see and understand the pleasure to be derived from making music together; in a few years America may be expected to be most musical-minded that it has ever been.

May Floydada High School and Florida have their share in the great advancement of our great nation in the field of music, by encouraging any musical talent anywhere we find it.

Senior Student Is Ridding Poetess At F. H. S.

Ima Ruth McAda, a Senior this year, is truly a budding young author. Recently Ima Ruth sent six poems to publishing companies, three different poems to each. The publishing company in Chicago and the one in Toronto, Ontario, both accepted one of her poems. Both companies sent contracts along with letters of recommendation.

TO THE NIGHT

The beautiful night—how I love it, With white clouds dotting the blue— Like God in His Heaven above it, While it glows so charmingly too. A few glittering stars are gazing Down into my upturned face, While my thoughts to God, I am raising.

Dept. Of Education Sends Forms To F. H. S. Teachers

High School teachers this week received blank forms from the State Department of Education. These must be filled out if the teachers want to take advantage of the teachers' retirement act. Forms must be put on files at Austin each year, and then when the teacher has taught for a certain number of years, if she so desires, she can get her pension.

Gossipology

We'll have to hand it to the Seniors because they did have a good paper.

Reid, Keith and Somer have established quite a trade-mark. And we do mean throwing milk at Lockney kids! Why Reid, what will Temple think?

Gloria, hon, were you mad Sunday? Little brothers ought to be seen and not heard (Emphasis on brothers.) George Fry is as mild as a lamb.

Says Kay to P. A. "Welcome home, kid, I'm fresh out of dough to go to the show."

Judson and W. C. are getting super-extremely good at delivering presents at this time of year from Santa Claus. Well it's said to be the age of chivalry.

Did you hear about Jo and Dot having M. O. I. (Meaning, of course, Mouse Odor) Or at least a dead one is no perfume for a clean (F) locker.

Has anyone noticed the slack in sleep eating and even dating? Don't tell me spring fever makes boys turn to their books. The old adage seems to confer the opposite idea. Well anything to be different? P. S. Please break loose. (And not break loose.)

Why do the majority of boys in the seventh period wear blue shirts? No kiddin we counted fifteen. Don't tell me—it was "Blue Monday."

Those Ag. boys certainly do make good women. At least Melvin Phillips seemed to enjoy the flirtations he carried on while on the stage. And Aildine Williams could change from grandmother to chorus girl with no difficulty! Man, what leg!

We want you to notice Freddie Beards blushing lately. It would make a beautiful color for a dress Honee.

Speaking of noticing people, how about Midge's Spanish hair dress? Is it true Robert had a blind date Saturday night? We wonder! and on top of that we think Mary Frances has snared another unsuspecting little fly! (Did I say Ted Bell?)

Why the attraction on the Ag. room, yes we know—Ping Pong—Speaking of Ping Pong—La Nell Shirey is no genius but Jimmie Green isn't bad for his size.

Flash!—Ye ole scribe has just heard that those two bad-gals, "Slur" Stovall and "Widow" Ward, are on the lose again—beware!

It is said that King Puckett left his heart in the "hills of West Virginia." Well, girls it is foolish to go after King 'cause he hasn't a heart.

What was Louise and Jane so earnestly talking about at noon, it must have been interesting.

Why does Melvin like to go around the corners so fast when Ellie Mae is in the car?

Gloria did you ever get "Thana-topia" memorized? We just wondered.

Hit Of The Week

I see your face before me Crowding my every dream There is your face before me You are my only theme.

It doesn't matter where you are I can see how fair you are I close my eyes and there you are Always

If you could share the magic If you could see me too There would be nothing tragic In all my dreams of you

Would that my love haunt you so Knowing I want you so I can erase your beautiful face Before me.

Home Economics Dept. Plans Open House

The Home Economics Department will hold open house tonight beginning at eight o'clock, in the High School Auditorium.

APPRECIATION

Floydada High School will be left in tears when the three mucksters, Somer, Keith and Reid leave the open doors of the old home town school. The faculty as well as the student body will be sad when these three boys leave school. These three boys were loved and cherished by each and everyone in F. H. S., especially Mr. Cummings.

APPRECIATION

For a newsw paper, filled with interest, goes to the Senior editors and their efficient staff the thanks and appreciation of all the readers of the Hesperian.

The Seniors have proved that they have talents in the field of journalism worthy of development. With the publishing of the Senior edition, the class editions closed after a good and readable paper had been edited by every class in school.

School journalistic talent has passed in review before us, and has not been found wanting. Floydada High School has a right to be proud of Floydada High School students.

Class Project And Banquet Occupy Limelight

There is hardly space on the Hesperian page to write the events taking place in the Senior Class. First, the seniors are to attend the banquet given in their honor by the Juniors Saturday night May 7. Senior day is Friday May 6, won't the seniors be beautifully sunburned for the banquet?

The senior project has at last been decided on. A well for watering the grass and shrubs in the yard is to be dug. Last year the senior class did not decide on a project, but the class of '36 and '37 is to combine it's money with the class of '38. This project should be a lasting memorial to the Senior classes who erected it.

The calling cards were being ordered last week and this week. Mr. Progg offered to make pictures of each senior in his cap and gown. At the time this was written, the place for the senior day picnic had not been decided.

Reverend Joe E. Eldridge was elected to deliver the Baccalaureate address May 13.

The senior class picture is to be placed in the hall soon. It is tinted and has the picture of Floydada High School on the background.

Arrangements for a commencement program are being made. A miscellaneous program is the plan at the present for the exercises. The caps and gowns are to arrive next week, and the excitement will probably be in full swing then.

Junior-Senior Banquet Plans All Arranged

Time is measured at F. H. S. by how many days one has had a date or a brand new banquet dress. The banquet holds more pleasure and entertainment in store than any event had promised heretofore.

Seniors are hurriedly concocting favors, decorations, ideas on food, and so on.

There will be music, lively conversation, thrilling novelties, enchanting girls, dashing Romeo and every fairylike potion that goes to complete Love's Young Dream.

Sparkling entertainment! Tantalizing! Delicious! Charming! Program! Swell Swing! Juniors & Seniors at their most lively best!

Come and enjoy this spectacular affair made so original by the Juniors and offered as an appreciation to all graduating upper classmen. The card attached to the banquet reads "With Love and Kisses to a competent graduating class from the Juniors of F. H. S."

Outline, Prospects Of '38 Whirlwinds Given Below

The Whirlwind team of '38 is rounding into shape after a series of spring work outs.

The freshman class is represented with letter men Gollightly and Tyler supported by squadman Crawford and Turner and new comers Foster, Steen, Brinn, Arnold and Patterson. The fish outwater the Sophs 3 to 1. Joe Conway and Emmitt Henson are showing up well. They are supported by Johnson and letterman Lohr.

The Juniors hold their own with seven lettermen, two squadmen and one new comer. In the line Burgess and Gibbs at ends with Jarbo, as tackle. Martin and Montgomery and Nickels compose the center of line. The back field is composed of Daniels, Beard, and Williams.

These boys are all working for a fighting and distinct positions teams for F. H. S. in '37.

Let students of Floydada High show spirit and get behind them.

Sunday School Lesson

UNSELFISHNESS AMONG CHRISTIANS

Golden Text:—For he that is not against us is on our part. Mark 9:40.

Lesson Text:—Mark 9:30-41.
30 And they departed thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it.

31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.

32 But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 And he came to Capernaum; and, being in the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among yourselves by the way?

34 But they held their peace: for by the way they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest.

35 And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all.

36 And he took a child, and set him in the midst of them; and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them,

37 Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

38 And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name and he followeth not us; and we forbade him, because he followeth not us.

39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not; for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly speak evil of me.

40 For he that is not against us is on our part.

41 For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.

Time and Place: Time is same as last lesson. Place, Capernaum, in Galilee, in the house of Peter.

Though we should not like to feel that the ruthless spirit and power of dictators who are threatening present day democracy in various parts of the world are in any way related to our personal life and conduct, we may derive a lesson from this phase of current history.

Jesus had called to Him a group of disciples. Drawn by His presence and His teaching, they had, as one of them said, "left all and followed Him." Some of them had left their fishing nets and one had left his place at the receipt of customs, or as we would say, a "government job." Surely among men of this sort, capable of allegiance to a spiritual cause, there could be no question of selfishness and the lust of place and power; and yet, our lesson tells us how, among this very group, there broke out quarrels as to who was the greatest, or who should have the most important place in the kingdom which they believed that Jesus was going to establish.

Perhaps the disciples had not realized the actual nature of that kingdom, and their motives in following Jesus had not been as pure and fine as they came to be later on when it became clear that Jesus was not going to establish an earthly kingdom, but a spiritual kingdom. It is to the credit of the disciples that, when they made that discovery, they were still full of allegiance to the Master, who had become their Risen Lord.

It reminds us that men who are subject to selfish motives, and who have a love of place and power, may at the same time be capable of great unselfishness and true devotion.

One would have supposed that the very example of Jesus would have been sufficient to have rejected all selfish thoughts and motives on the part of the disciples. Yet Jesus had to emphasize His teaching concerning service and humility in the most specific way.

When He found that the disciples had been disputing about which of them was the greatest, He took a little child, and taking him into their midst and holding him in His arms, said to them, "Who shall receive one such little child in my name, receiveth me." It was a lesson that the disciples were not likely to forget, though they were slow in grasping the fullness of its meaning.

The other part of our lesson has equally important teaching and bearing upon our lives today, for it concerns also this matter of place and prerogative.

John reported to the Master that they had seen one casting out demons in His name, and that they had forbidden him because he was not of their company. There was apparently no question about the effectiveness of this man's action, but because he was not in the right group and did not have the right password, these disciples were ready to stop him from doing good works.

Is not that just exactly what has been happening all through history, even on the part of professedly Christian men and professedly Christian churches? Because a man has not followed a particular group, he has been called a heretic. He has been told that he must not preach and that he must not perform good works, because he is not authorized by some church or organization.

Willson Calls 19th District Convention At Lubbock May 21-22

E. C. Thomas Urges Ex-Service Men of Area to Bolster Voting Strength Of McDermitt Post

J. M. Willson commander of the Nineteenth District, American Legion, has notified all posts in the district of the convention of Legionnaires on May 21-22 in Lubbock, when Allen Bros. Post No. 148 will be official hosts.

E. C. Thomas, one of the local Legion leaders is urging enrollment of ex-service men for 1938 memberships and points out this week the fact that voting strength in the district convention will be based on 1938 paid-up memberships, two votes for the first 15 members and one for each additional 25 members or major fraction thereof.

Importance of enlisting full possible strength of the local post is pointed to by the fact that a delegate and alternate to the national in Los Angeles in September, are to be chosen, and also representatives to serve on several committees at the 1938 department convention.

Troops 59 of Lockney will present the various kinds of scout games and activities, including poison, barrel tilt, tug-o-war, Indian wrestle, and hand wrestle. Wall scaling will also be illustrated, with the Floydada troops participating.

Illustration of first aid methods following a disastrous storm will also be demonstrated by the scouts. Various injuries and their care are to come under this head. Troop 57 will take part in this event.

Chariot racing and fire building will appear next on the program with all troops participating. Flint and steel will be used to make fire, just as the pioneers did.

Taps will conclude the program while the scouts are gathering around one central bon fire.

Tour Here
Thursday afternoon of last week troop 1, which was composed of some 15 South Plains scouts, arrived here for an overnight visit. The group came from Lubbock via truck, visiting in Lorenzo, Ralls, Crosbyton, Spur, Matador, Floydada, Lockney, Plainview, Petersburg, Abernathy and back to Lubbock.

The purpose of the tour was to advertise the circus this week. In the tour were Carl Arnold, King Puckett, J. E. Porter, James West, Joe Arwine, Frank Jones, Kenneth B. Bishop, and J. L. Nichols, all of Floydada. Others boys on the tour were from Spur, Crosbyton, Lubbock and Plainview.

winners for the evening. No effort was made to have a speaking, the evening being spent informally by candidates and the citizenship. In addition to the party for the grown-ups youngsters were provided games in various parts of the auditorium according to their age.

Citizens of Allmon played host to the candidates on Tuesday night of this week when the southwest corner community of the county had a chance to size up the aspirants.

Plans for Next Week
Ladies of the missionary society are sponsoring the visit of the aspirants for office to Campbell on Monday night next, May 9.

On Tuesday night when they go to Harmony the visiting candidates will gather with citizenship of the community at the school house. They expect to enjoy a get-together with voters there in a program in which no selling will be done. This is the announcement from Harmony.

Resting Wednesday night the candidates resume the program of visitations on Thursday night when they journey to Aiken. A program there is being sponsored at the Methodist Church. Any funds obtained will be used to further improvements on the church property, the ladies of that church plan.

At Edgin on Friday, May 13, the office seekers will brave a combination of Friday and the thirteenth day of the month, to attend a gathering of voters and take in a pie supper. Invitation for the community to various candidates was sent by H. B. Johnson and others.

They escaped well armed, the reports said. They left Montague in an automobile.

Alleged Check Forgery
The charge on which Goodspeed is wanted here is in the form of an indictment brought by the Floyd County grand jury, October, 1937, term. It is alleged Goodspeed forged the name of a west Floyd County farmer to a check which he cashed at the Taylor grocery in Lockney.

He is about twenty-three years of age, Sheriff Clark says.

Goodspeed, Hamilton, and the third member of the trio, Huron Walters, were to have gone on trial this week at Montague in connection with the hold-up of a Ringgold drug store.

Goodspeed, who was recaptured the first of the week, will be returned to Floyd County to stand trial on the charges here, Sheriff Clark said this morning.

en of the county to get the program of home demonstration work launched. Equally pleased with the outlook are club members from all sections of the county, who have been urging the need for resumption of the program interrupted in 1932.

It is expected that all matters of organization will be completed at the Saturday gathering and that a definite program will be outlined, at least in a general way, at that time.

Miss Grimes, whose home is at Mineral Wells, is a good organizer and will be a pleasant and efficient co-worker with women of the county, Miss Lida Cooper, district home demonstration agent, believes.

Approximately 10 clubs are already organized and will be represented in the meeting Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. From the group assembled will be chosen a county chairman, vice-chairman, secretary-treasurer. The council chairman may appoint the council reporter who serves as chairman of the reporters' association. Other committee chairmen who will be named are finance, yearbook, expansion, exhibit, recreation, and 4-H sponsors.

Miss Lida Cooper, district agent, has promised to be present at the meeting.

"QUAKER OATS" is a Great Breakfast!

says DICK MERRILL, Trans-Atlantic Ocean Flyer, who holds the All-Time Record for two successful Atlantic Round-Trips!

• You can't beat a Quaker Oats breakfast for that warm, friendly lift on a cold, cheerless morning... It's rich in food-energy, rich in flavor, and costs only ½ cent per portion... Besides, Quaker Oats is abundant in Nature's Vitamin B—the precious vitamin that doctors say you should have daily to combat nervousness and poor appetite! Give youngsters this Breakfast of Great Americans. Rich in food energy. Rich in flavor! The one and only Quaker Oats!
