735 Students Enrolled This Week In Floydada Schools

Over 400 Students Registered In High School Wednesday

High School Rushed As New Enrollment Mark Is Set For Year

Floydada schools this week recorded the highest enrollment that has been reached in many years, if not in history, it was believed Wednesday when afternoon check was taken.

The figures showed that there were 735 students enrolled and present at both Andrews Ward and at the high school at check time. Of this number 335 were enrolled in Andrews ward and the others in the high school.

How Divided
It is believed that enrollment will go beyond the 400 mark at the high school before enrollment ceases.

There are 40 boys and 37 girls in the freshman class, 57 boys and 40 girls in the sophomore class, 72 boys and 59 girls in the junior class, and 87 girls and 35 boys in the senior class.

Both the senior and the junior classes are larger this year than in a number of years, with the sophomore class slightly behind other years.

New Subjects
Two new subjects have been added to the courses of study at the high school. Chemistry and shorthand will be taught this year for the first time in several years. Business arithmetic was dropped for the first semester but will be added the second.

In Andrews ward music will be offered to fifth, sixth and seventh grade students. Before it was available only to seventh grade pupils.

New Game Added
In connection with the enrollment figures A. D. Cummings announced that Floydada high school would play Littlefield on the Littlefield gridiron on October 18 where before there was an open date. The Littlefield school has one of the best teams, if material and experience count, in a number of years.

The District 4-B executive committee is scheduled to meet tonight to make final schedule arrangements and discuss rules for the coming season. All coaches and superintendents in the district will be present for the meeting which will be held at Matador.

Floyd County Given Largest Acreage In One-Variety Cotton

The largest acreage in one-variety cotton in Northwest Texas appears to be in Floyd county. A release from the department of agriculture shows 3 one-variety cotton areas in the county.

Of these one is at Aiken where 1875 acres is planted in a one-variety area, another at Floydada where 7,900 acres is planted, and the third is at Lockney where the acreage planted in one-variety staple is given at 12,200 acres.

HOMER STEEN SPEAKER AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

Homer Steen, president of the Floydada Lions Club, spoke before the Rotarians Wednesday on "Community Fact Finding."

Visitors were Homer Steen, Bill Bambaier, Mr. Hale, and Buck Knighton of Lubbock.

Paul Conner May Fully Regain His Sight, He Is Told

Paul Conner, veteran of the World War, who spent many weeks in the veterans' hospital at Albuquerque, New Mexico, and who returned home three weeks ago, may almost wholly regain his eyesight, he was told this week in Lubbock where he had been hospitalized.

A blood clot or a broken blood vessel behind his eyes affected the nerves the latter part of last week and he was almost totally blind for two or three days. Yesterday he was able to be down-town for a short time. He is under orders of a physician.

Conner first became noticeably ill in the early spring. However, he continued active in business until mid-summer when he retired to spend whatever time was needed to regain his health. His stay in Albuquerque at the veterans' hospital followed. He was released to come home under directions to carefully follow.

Legless Beauty — Her career as a model cut short a year ago when she lost her legs under a train, beautiful Jesse Simpson is happy today managing her new beauty shop in Hackensack, N. J. She is so busy making other women beautiful that she has "never a spare minute." She walks on artificial limbs without a cane.

New Owners Named For Retail Store South Side Square

Bambaier Bros., of Brown-wood Purchase Star Cash From Carl Minor

Sale of the Star Cash Grocery, Floydada's oldest food store, located on south side square, was announced this week by Carl Minor, who is retiring from the foods business.

Bambaier Brothers are the new owners, who announce the business will be continued under the same name of Star Cash grocery. They are Louis H. and William F. Bambaier and were accompanied here to close the sale by their father, W. F. Bambaier, and brother Gilbert. The elder Bambaier, with Gilbert yesterday returning home.

Inventory of the business was completed Saturday night and the new owners took charge although formalities of the exchange were not completed until yesterday.

Both the Bambaier family had some previous experience in merchandising. They are much pleased with the country and their location and are anxious to complete some changes and improvements during the next few days to fashion the store after their own ideas.

Mr. Minor will continue to spend much of his time at the store during the next several weeks, he said. Other than this he has made no plans for the future, he said yesterday. H. C. Stanley, who has been sales clerk with the establishment, will continue with the new firm, it is announced.

Kneirim, though injured, was not so seriously hurt as his wife, according to telephoned information received by his father, C. L. Kneirim, of South Plains, Mrs. Frank Pohl, a sister, of Matador, said.

They were taken to Worley hospital at Pampa. Mr. Kneirim is principal of the school at Laketon.

LIONS CLUB PLANNIST BID FAREWELL TUESDAY FOR THE SCHOOL YEAR

Members of the Lions club of Floydada Tuesday gave some thought to the type of programs they would have at their weekly meetings during the remainder of the year, and decided that there must be a tee-total 100 per cent of their membership at the donkey ball game tomorrow night.

They also paid a pretty compliment to their pianist, Marguerite Leonard, who is leaving at an early date for the Texas State Womens college at Denton. She was attending her last meeting before taking her departure. A little present was presented her in the name of the club as a remembrance.

Health Meet Held In Lubbock This Week Draws Many

Delegation From Floydada Present For Meeting Being Held Wednesday

Dr. V. Andrews, Floyd county health officer; Glad Snodgrass, mayor; E. S. Price, superintendent of the city water works, and Walter Travis, county superintendent, as well as Dr. H. H. Puckett and members of the district health office were present for the health meeting held in Lubbock at the Hilton hotel Wednesday.

Approximately 300 health workers and others interested in public health attended the all-day session. Something like 600 invitations were mailed out to officials, both city, county and state to attend the meeting, over the area covered by the health district, 60 counties.

Attendance was not, however, restricted to those receiving invitations. Everyone was invited that was interested in such a meeting. "One of the most important meetings ever held in Northwest Texas," Dr. Puckett said.

Mayor Carl E. Slaton welcomed the visitors at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

Judge Alvin R. Allison, state representative-elect, spoke at 10:20 o'clock on "Present and Future Assistance to Our Public Health Program."

Other speakers were Judge C. W. White of Sweetwater, Sen. Hobart Nelson of Lubbock, Dr. W. L. Baugh, Lubbock health officer, Rep. Raglin Jones of Waco, Engineer V. M. Ehlers of Austin.

Reports were heard from various representatives of counties during the afternoon session.

The purpose of the meeting was to get Texas to pay more attention to the health of the people.

A committee of farmers composed of Geo. Graham, Ben Brandes, Temple Thornton and Chas. Veigel, has taken over the operation of the McAvoy elevators at Aiken and Cereal in northwest Floyd county under an agreement with Kimble Mill & Elevator and J. E. McAvoy.

Kimble is a heavy creditor of the elevators and the farmers who will operate the business also are creditworthy. Some sold and some stored wheat in the elevators.

Temple Thornton was temporarily in charge of the business at Aiken this week.

STATISTICS ON SCHOOLS GIVEN BY SUPERINTENDENT

According to statistics compiled by County Superintendent Walter Travis this week the 29 rural schools of the county have a total enrollment of 1,568 pupils with 41 women teachers and 20 men teachers in the faculty. The average school year for the schools will be 170 days or a little over 8 months each which is considerable improvement.

Lions Play Donkey Ball Friday Night

Roe Jones For Piggly-Wiggly-Penny Team Challenges Club Boys

Floydada Lions club play their donkey baseball game tomorrow (Friday) night on Wester Field in Floydada with the Piggly-Wiggly-Penny (softball) team as their opponents.

Roe Jones, co-manager with Lee Rushing, of the Piggly-Wiggly softball team, which made an enviable record in the twilight softball league this summer, will be opponents of the Lions.

"Just how these old softball players think they are qualified for a tough game like donkey baseball we don't know," Bert Holt, captain of the Lions team said yesterday. "I've played some softball in my life but this donkey baseball stuff is another matter."

A plentiful supply of salve and ointment will be on hand to patch up the wounds of the Piggly-Wiggly-Penny bunch, however, and their strong determination to win may be a big factor in their favor. When Plainview Lions turned softy last week and decided not to go through with their game here Friday night the Piggly-Wiggly-Penny bunch stepped in to the gap, and mighty proud of it the Lions are.

The game will be played for the benefit of the Lions club safety program and (it is hoped there will be a big attendance to warrant) for the club's emergency fund for blind aid and similar undertakings.

Every baseman and fielder, save and except the pitcher and the catcher, are mounted on burros to play donkey baseball, it should be explained. And every batter, after hitting the ball, must mount a donkey to make the rounds of the bases. Some of the donkeys are rough and tough. Some not so bad. All are in good condition. In last year's game the Floydada Lions won at Floydada from Plainview and Plainview Lions won at Plainview. The score was 1 to 0 here.

This year the score is expected to be all lopsided because the Lions are experienced, old heads at the game, while the Piggly-Wiggly-Penny boys don't know how to handle a donkey in the first place and probably can't ride so good in the second place, it was generally agreed at the Lions club meeting on Tuesday.

The game will be called at Wester Field at 8 o'clock tomorrow night (Friday) under the floodlights. Special precautions will be taken not to damage the turf on the playing field of the Whirlwinds. Admission charge will be 25 cents for adults, 10 cents for school children.

Legionnaires Attend Annual Convention Of Department Of Texas

J. M. Wilson and J. D. Porterfield returned from Austin last week after spending several days in that city at the convention of Legionnaires of the Department of Texas.

A wide variety of matters were discussed relating to public and American Legion organization welfare during the convention.

Weather And Crops

Following rains of last week-end some wheat growers this week were rigging up to begin planting and a good many thousand acres of wheat will be in the ground by the end of the week, reports indicate. If winter weeds show up these plans to run a harrow later. Meanwhile they are taking advantage of the moisture in the ground they might not have later.

Rains fell Saturday and Sunday in practically all sections of the county. In one or two limited spots the fall was light, but for the most part 75 hundredths to 1.5 inches is reported.

Temperatures that were running high during all the latter half of August following the good rain of that mid-month, have been much more temperate since the rains of last week-end. High for the week was Saturday with 87 indicated at West Texas Gas Company office. Sunday's high was 80 degrees, Monday 83, Tuesday 84, Wednesday 87. Low for the week was this morning with 63 recorded at 5 a. m. Other mornings since Saturday the low has been 65.

The biggest feed crop of recent years is being harvested or matured. Many thousand acres are going into ground silos, other thousands into bundles and heads.

Cotton reports are much mixed, some good, some extra good, some poor. Boll worms have made inroads into many fields, the extent of their damage yet undetermined.

How Loans on 1938 Wheat May Be Obtained, Outlined For Growers By Bredthauer

County Agent, Co-Operating With Elevators, Banks, Gives Details

(Ed. Note.—With numerous wheat producers anxious to know how to apply for a wheat loan on their 1938 crops, some of the main features are herein explained by County Agent D. F. Bredthauer, co-operating with local bank and elevator men of the county.)

(By D. F. Bredthauer)

As the regulations for farm storage of wheat are rather difficult to comply with, it is doubtful that but a few granaries on farms will be approved for farm storage of wheat for the loan. For wheat that is stored at terminal or sub-terminal elevators located at Amarillo and Fort Worth, the procedure for loans will be based on this line.

A producer will come to the county agent's office and make application for loan at which time he will deposit $1.50 for each loan. The county committee will investigate his 1938 compliance to see if the producer has not over-planted his total soil depleting allotment by more than 105 per cent. This office will also get a registration of liens from the county clerk's office against all of the 1938 wheat crop.

When all of this has been completed with the producer will be instructed to secure warehouse receipts. Upon receipt of his warehouse receipts the local elevator may have charges for loading, conditioning and freight. In this case the local elevator will have to deliver his charges in trust to the agent's office which will be delivered to the bank in trust for final settlement.

A freight charge of 21 cents per bushel will be deducted on all wheat that is stored in all warehouses. In case where the freight has been paid on wheat to Fort Worth of 17 cents, it will then be necessary that 4 cents be deducted from the loan value of 77 cents on the wheat making a total of 73 cents per bushel. Producers will receive on their loans less all local charges which the local elevators may have against this wheat plus the liens that are recorded.

If a producer has wheat stored in more than one elevator, it will be necessary to execute a loan separate on each warehouse in which he has wheat if he desires to have a loan on all of his wheat.

RE-CALCULATE PREMIUM ON WHEAT INSURANCE IF PAYMENT IS NOT MADE

Information that premiums on 1939 wheat insurance not paid on the date specified by notices received by wheat growers may be recalculated, if extension of time is granted, was received this week and relayed by County Agricultural Agent D. F. Bredthauer.

Attention of wheat producers is called to this fact. Those who have received notices are permitted to sign request for extension of time on their premiums, but the re-calculation may be made and the insured required to pay more at a later date than if paid now.

Bus Wreck At Sand Hill Claims One

Betty Jo Graham, 6, Killed, 2 Others Injured As Machine Overturns

An overturned bus yesterday afternoon at 4:15 snuffed out the life of one school child and two others were injured 1 mile south of Sand Hill.

Betty Jo Graham, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Graham, suffered a fatal skull fracture, from which she died within a few minutes. Oleta Palvadore, 13, a seventh-grade pupil in Sand Hill school, has a fractured ankle, and Catherine Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Robertson, has a right leg broken below the knee and lacerations on both legs.

Seven other occupants of the bus were uninjured except for scratches and shock. Nila Palvadore, 16, driver of the bus, a converted roadster, was uninjured. Visitors to the scene said the bus hit a soft place in the road. It was approximately opposite the Ed Holmes farm.

Tom Jackson, working in a nearby field, was one of the first to reach the wrecked machine. He, with Clarence Gufee, principal of Sand Hill school, rushed the injured members of the school party to Floydada where they were treated.

Six occupants of the bus who were not hurt, being thrown clear of the wreck, were:

Ouida Pearl Palvadore, sister of the driver and of the injured Oleta; Maxine Graham, second grade pupil, and Nadine Graham eighth grade, sisters of the fatally injured Betty Jo; and James Cox, third grade student, Francis Cox, eighth grade, and Neta Doris Cox, third grade student, children of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cox.

BETTY JO GRAHAM RITES THIS AFTERNOON

Rites for little Betty Jo Graham, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Graham, of Sand Hill, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Baptist church in Floydada. Rev. G. W. Tubbs, former pastor of the child's mother, will conduct the funeral. Interment will be made in Floydada cemetery.

The parents, two sisters, Maxine and Nadine, and a brother Veine, survive her.

Mrs. Rushing And Mrs. Jones Home After 45-Day European Cruise

Mrs. S. L. Rushing and Mrs. Billie Rushing Jones reached home Sunday from a 45-day trip into southern Europe, Mediterranean ports and Palestine.

Embarking in July from New York City on the American liner, S. S. Exochorda, they journeyed to Gibraltar and thence through the countries bordering on the Mediterranean. Their trip to the holy land was made by train from Alexandria, Egypt. Their stay in that country was uneventful although it was under military rule and much social unrest was evident, they said.

"I slept good and never had so much as a headache while I was gone," Mrs. Rushing said, indicating they enjoyed their trip greatly.

Chapman Resigns Assistant County Agt. For New Job

L. W. Chapman, assistant county agent of Floyd county for the past two years, resigned last week-end to accept the work as superintendent of the Floyd County Rural Electric Co-operative, incorporated. He was elected to the place early last week when the board was in its first session. D. F. Bredthauer had not been notified of a successor being named to Chapman as late as yesterday afternoon, he said.

A session of the board of directors was held on Friday afternoon of last week when they conferred with a representative of the lending agency. Yesterday the new superintendent and Carl C. Cox, project engineer, were in the field checking up on proposed locations for the organization's lines. Many details are being worked out.

The board of directors are holding frequent meetings at this time as problems arise. A statement out of Washington says that 41,000 man hours of employment in direct labor alone will result from the project. Texas-New Mexico Utilities company will supply power for the lines, the same statement from Rural Electrification Administration declares.

$30 Every Week His Bid — Latest disciple of "panacea politics" is California's Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, Sheridan Downey, shown here in action. Downey, who defeated the veteran William Gibbs McAdoo in the primary, campaigned on a platform of "30 Every Thursday" for every unemployed person over 50.

Mr. Griffith Dies At Lockney Home; Here Since 1891

Ninety-One, Prominent As Leader For 47 Years, Buried Monday

J. D. Griffith, 86, resident of Floyd county since 1891, former cattleman and business and church leader in his community for many years, died Sunday afternoon shortly before noon.

Somewhat less active of late years, he had been one of the business, civic and church leaders at Lockney and in north Floyd county for forty years or more and pioneer residents from communities all over the south plains area attended the funeral service held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the West Side Church of Christ in Lockney. Elder Lealand Knight, of Booneville, Arkansas, was assisted in officiating at the funeral by Elder N. L. Clark, of Fort Worth, a former neighbor and long-time friend of the deceased.

Born at Cotton Grove, Tennessee, May 15, 1852, Mr. Griffith first lived in Ellis county, after moving to this state in 1882. Previously he was married December 1873, to Miss Sallie Carlton in Tennessee. In 1891 the family moved from Ellis county to Floyd and Mr. Griffith went into the cattle business in which he engaged until 1906. For 2 years he was engaged in the lumber business with W. E. Broyles, and shortly afterward with Dr. E. T. White, J. E. Bryant and others organized the First National bank of Lockney, with which he was associated for a number of years. His wife preceded him in death in May of 1933 and he was later married to Mrs. Rebecca Pope who survives him.

Surviving children of the deceased include 5 sons and one daughter, Mrs. Marshall Davis of Lockney. The sons are Donal of Portales, New Mexico, Walter, John and Cleo of Lockney, and Glen of Casa Grande, Arizona. Kay L. Smith, a daughter, preceded her father in death.

Other surviving descendants include 42 grandchildren, 7 great grandchildren, and one great great grandchild.

Grandsons and granddaughters served as pallbearers and flower attendants. The pallbearers were Wayne Davis, Rip, Harold, Melvin, and Hubert Griffith, of Lockney, and Irving Griffith of Casa Grande, Arizona. Flower attendants were Mrs. Leona Nell, Lubbock, Mrs. Aline Champion, Amarillo, Viola Griffith of Casa Grande, Mrs. Mable Hammett, Portales, New Mexico, Mrs. Elsie Kimble and Miss Dorothy Griffith, Lockney.

Among those of Floydada who attended the last rites were Mrs. Arthur B. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Murry, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Duncan, and Mrs. Aubra Martin.

Crager funeral home had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Deakins At Rockford, Illinois, On Business

Jack Deakins of Floydada Theatres, left Sunday for Dallas and in company with J. A. Nelson, of Fort Worth, left the first of the week for Rockford, Illinois, where he expects to spend some ten days or two weeks on business.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Mable Wilt Spilner

The house is nearing completion. Lumber and nails, paint, paper, kalsomine screws and glass knobs are at last getting in their places. The lawn is clean, the rock fence going back in place. We will soon be gone from the little shack where we had happy dinner hours together.

I have been in a quandry about what color to paint the screens to go with the white house. I bought a can of vermilion paint, but was still doubtful.

"Paint the screens white," advised Mrs. Maud Hollums, "and put the red on your lips." Thank you Mrs. Hollums, I will take your advice but I'm afraid it will take a long time to use up that quart of red paint on my lips.

I was tired the other afternoon and my dress was dirty, but all was forgotten at the pleasure of the unexpected visit of Mr. and Mrs. Hollums and Mrs. Arthur B. Duncan gave to me. I was rested and refreshed by their pleasant visit.

What a rich and full life Mrs. Duncan has lived. How her eyes shine and how far away her face she tells of the happiness of early days. Proud of living in a dugout, watching from the door as her young husband follows the sheep to the abundant pasture. Watching her boys and girls grow up into fine young men and women. Being a friend, a good neighbor, a useful citizen.

Floyd county has a right to be vain over her pioneer citizens.

An old bread tray, a blue back speller, another speller not so old, came into my possession last week. How many batches of biscuit, salt raisin and corn bread has this old tray held? How many times has a floury hand been raised to wipe away a tear or to pour the batter into a skillet?

What good care the old blue back speller has had! Hardly a leaf torn. I can see boys and girls clad in homespun, sitting on split logs for seats saying out loud—B A-ba, B I-bi, B U-bu, and how many of you have studied the old speller remember the lesson, BA, ba K E R, ker; and S H A, sha-D Y, dy-shady? I prize these new possessions very highly and will care for them.

The baseboard was put around the walls, it made me think of the early Emma days. Mrs. Carter, the Doctor's wife, had a papered room and sent to the railroad for a washboard, as it was then called. How eagerly we waited the sight of the washboard but were disappointed when it was not corrugated like the rub board.

Mrs. Carter had nice things. She had a canary in a cage, a three room house, a piano with guitar attachment. She wore a black plush doorman trimmed in braid. She did from Kentucky, could sing alto and recite poetry. Her main piece was, "They've got a bran new organ, Sue, Just Like They said They'd Do."

But Mrs. Carter was not "stuck up," over her high position in Emma. She had time to make a little girl happy. She let her "play" the piano, gave her bouquets of soft pink roses with yellow centers and with the sweet perfume of Arabis. She helped with the church work and gave muskies to entertain. How we loved and admired her! And how sad her early death made us!

Sam Jones, the carpenter at work here, was deploring the fact that he was not educated. Had never had the opportunity to go to school. But to my way of thinking Mr. Jones is an educated man. His hand has the cunning to make wood into beautiful things, can build a house that will stand staunch and true, make furniture and fine cabinets. His heart is educated to serve and love his fellowman.

He reads and remembers many interesting things of the world, and of the Bible. He writes letters to his mother who is old and lonesome for her family of children she has raised. We are glad to have known Mr. Jones.

Sixty-two one-pound loaves of bread can be produced from the flour ground from one bushel of wheat.

Just In Fun

The Washington zoo has just acquired a rare "Pangolin" lizard-like mammal from Sumatra that feeds on termites. What about the Capitol's third-termites?

Hot weather story to end all hot weather stories: A Kansas City, Mo. panhandler, unwilling to move out of the shade into 100-degree sunlight begged of a passerby. "Throw me a dime, won't you, buddy."

California politics would seem to be pretty much a matter of arithmetic. Why didn't Senator McAdoo up the ante on $30-every-Thursday Downey and make it $32.50 every Friday?

Citizens of Urban, Ill., prohibited from shooting pestiferous blackbirds, are hurling firecrackers into trees to discourage the birds. Variation on an old theme: "Bang, Bang, Blackbirds."

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON — Almost overnight Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation has become the channel through which surplus crops may find their way to export markets. Up to this time the corporation has operated as a buying agency to absorb surplus crops for distribution to families on relief.

An advance of $30,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will make it possible for FSCC to relieve the farmer's load of surplus wheat, and pay him a fair price for it.

Then the agency will try to find buyers in the world market at the world price. They expect to sell at a loss. The discrepancy between what they pay for wheat and what is returned to them from sales abroad will be made up out of an appropriation for export subsidies in Section 32 of the new farm act.

Under this section $130,000,000 altogether is available. Of this amount about $41,000,000 may be spent to adjust any single commodity that is out of balance. The first two days the wheat export subsidy plan was in operation FSCC bought 400,000 bushels, and sold 431,000 bushels.

Last year FSCC spent $45,000,000. This year $79,000,000 was available to the agency July first. Since that time $4,990,000 has been spent, not including the RFC advance for the purchase of wheat.

This plan to help United States farmers sell their wheat in the export markets without sacrifice to themselves, will probably boost wheat exports by some 100,000,000 bushels during the current season.

Asserting that "the village grocery store, the village blacksmith, the village grist mill, were all monopolies—Adolf A. Berle, Jr., brilliant and caustic assistant secretary of state, is the latest New Deal sympathizer to attack the idea that all big business is necessarily bad.

His observations are made in a "Memorandum of Suggestions" compiled for and at the request of the Congressional Monopoly Investigation committee.

Small business is not necessarily competitive or neighborly, agreed Mr. Berle.

"Such competition as there has been—came from large scale enterprises; mail-order houses and later the chain stores."

Berle also took occasion to attack the popular notion that large-scale production is the most efficient producing formula. He said Berle—"there were taken into account the continuity of employment, the ability to use energies of adolescents and old people, the ability to take care of sickness and give some scope for individual creation and the like—the old-fashioned farm was one of the most effective units known."

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

Issue of September 11, 1924

The first bale of cotton on the Floydada market for the season of 1924-25 brought 27 cents when it was sold Tuesday morning after being turned out late Monday afternoon by the Farmers Grain company for T. J. Carter, who lives nine miles southwest of Floydada on the J. J. Day farm.

The curtains were raised with appropriate exercises on the Floydada High school marking the opening of the Floydada schools of the season of 1924-25.

D. W. Pyffe who recently left with his family for the lower Rio Grande valley writes from McAllen, indicating that he has located there temporarily and incidentally tells of a few impressions of that country to date in his brief stay.

Among other things he mentions the fact that the residents of that section are from many states, that land is high, and that they have three or four hours a day of real hot weather.

"Lots of fish here, also wild pigeons, quail, deer and wild turkey," he relates. "I fishes one day at Corpus. One unlucky guy went out one early morning with a cane and hook suitable for red fish, caught a little minnow that weighed 400 pounds, capsized his boat but with a little help he succeeded in landing his fish. He set his boat right, went out again, caught another one weighing 700 pounds. I threw cane, hook and all in the bay for fear I would catch a fish."

If a small army of young huskies reporting for the first day of training means anything in the sports world, then the coming season on the gridiron for Floydada High should be all means be a dandy.

Thirty-six men, enough material for which to select a college team, responded to the call of coach J. C. Wester, for the initial meeting of the Floydada Whitebirds, held at the high school building the first of the week.

There's been plenty of complaint about grasshoppers eating up the crops, but recently Mrs. F. H. Kesler appeared with a new one—the insects were eating the curtains off her windows! Mrs. Kesler brought one of the curtains to the Wellington Leader office, showing that large holes had been cut over much of the material. "And two more are cut up just this bad," she added. She found only one hopper on the curtains supposedly brought in by some of the family on their clothing. Wellington Leader.

Swastika Over Salzburg Gives Chautauqua an Idea

Top-notch artists like Gladys Swarthout, Metropolitan Opera soprano, gave Chautauqua a much-needed lift in the 1920s season. The shift in emphasis from lectures to music was the idea of Chautauqua's Julius King. King and Miss Swarthout are pictured above.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y.—A lecturer once told his Chautauqua audience that if they had a choice of entering heaven through a door or by a lecture on heaven, they would choose the latter.

That estimate of Chautauqua-goers may have been pretty true of Chautauqua boom days before 1930, but it got a severe setback in the season just closed when "big name" music supplanted the time-honored "inspirational" or "uplift" lecture as No. 1 attraction.

Result: When they counted the gate receipts the day after Metropolitan Opera's Gladys Swarthout closed the concert season, the books showed the biggest gross income since the peak Chautauqua year of 1929—more than $85,000.

With the old-time traveling Chautauqua added to the list of Vanishing Americana, it remained for the original Chautauqua Institution, established here in 1874 on Lake Chautauqua, to do the rabbit-from-hat trick with the aid of Fuehrer Hitler and a $5000 anonymous gift.

When the Nazi swastika was hoisted over Austria signaling the end of Salzburg as the summer mecca of the world's music lovers, there sprouted in the fertile brain of a lean, tanned, forthright man in Chautauqua's "Public Relations" office an idea: Why not Chautauqua as the new Salzburg of the world? Chautauqua had gone into federal receivership in 1933. In June of 1897, by dint of the faith, perseverance and ingenuity of its leaders, it had wiped out its debts, attained solvency. Solvency, and little more. What was needed was an idea.

Then Hitler drove into Vienna at the head of his goose-stepping troops, and Julius King, who writes books for children about birds, bees and flowers between his duties as publicity director for Chautauqua, got his idea.

The title "Salzburg of America" had been assumed before by more than one music festival center, including Chautauqua, but up to that time none had aspired to the world title. A more-inhibited character might have had a qualm or two about such pretensions... but not Nature-Writer King.

One day a long-time Chautauquan casually inquired what big names in music were available for the 1938 season. King rattled off a half dozen names, mentioned a minimum price for their services. A few minutes later he was fingering a check for $5000—"gift of a friend."

And so Chautauqua, from whose forums has come 65 years of capsule culture for many thousands of Americans, sings and plays itself to a comeback with the silver notes of Gladys Swarthout's mezzo soprano, Richard Crooks' tenor and Albert Spalding's sweet-voiced violin.

The hypnotism of a William Jennings Bryan's sonorous periods, the pungent wit of an Irvin S. Cobb, the inspiration of a Dwight Moody give way to the masters of music—and the box office proves that the first and last stronghold of Chautauqua isn't yet ready to call it quits.

WILD LIFE ON THE INCREASE

Whether plover like to fly in the dusk perhaps to catch bugs that infest the air at that time, or whether their plaintive call in the early hours of the evening is heard because they have been disturbed and are hunting another resting place for the night is something for the ornithologists to tell us.

But they do not have to tell us we hear plover again after some years of silence. The campaign to preserve and to replenish the wild life of the country gets the credit, as it does also for the increasing number of doves, quail and ducks. Even wild turkeys and deer and an occasional antelope is heard of in areas where they had not been seen before in many years.

The plan meets with general approval although there seems to be too much "organization" and the poor man without a land owner friend is going to have a hard time finding a place to hunt. These things will work themselves out.

MUCH FEEDING IN PROSPECT

Farmers talk like there is still some question of what the cotton crop in Floyd county will be this year. Wet and heat, bollworms and leaf worms have not finished their jobs yet. The crop could have been a thirty-thousand bale affair even on our limited acres this year and it could turn out ten thousand or less. That's what we hear.

But there is no such note as regards the feed crop. It is a big one. Since freight rates are prohibitive on the kind of forage crops we have to offer, this means that much feeding of sheep, cattle and other live stock must be done to utilize the crop to best advantage. Although some kinds of live stock are a little out of line with the price of feed, feeders for the most part can be bought in line with prospects next spring.

NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

President Roosevelt seems to be under the illusion that there is something new under the sun and that he has discovered it, while a number of well-meaning men who aspire to various and sundry offices have missed the cue.

Some of the ideas the president has are good, some of them are indifferently good and some are bad.

On the other hand, many who oppose him have enjoyed special privileges so long they are under the impression they have special privilege due them, and have their minds made up to continue to have these.

The great mass of in-betweens who do not want the president to go off at a tangent and try to copy after some of the European so-called statesmen who have made so much unhappiness in the world, nor on the other hand to play into the hands of the special few—the in-betweens have a ticklish job of being just plain American people with plain American ideals, ordinary ideas of fairness and justice, and determination to give all their just dues.

Some such a job as this is going to be the task of the dirt farmers of the United States during the next few years. Nobody with a well-balanced idea of good government can go all the way with Mr. Roosevelt. And none of us intend to play into the hands of the selfish few if we can help it. It will be a ticklish job, but none of us must fool ourselves into thinking that Mr. Roosevelt has thought up something never thought of before. He has not.

FOR A BIGGER TAX BILL

Mr. O'Daniel is doing quite a bit of talking when he might well be listening. He said he was going to learn about his job before he undertook it in January. He is not going to have time if he doesn't quit enjoying the limelight so much and go back into his study. He has already managed to get himself committed to over forty million dollars worth of new taxes. He doesn't say where he is going to get the money.

But what he is doing about things like this, does not seem to worry the average citizen. What Mr. Average Man is having his fun about is the horse racing situation. Will the new governor give it the nod or not? Many people who think of themselves as the "best" people are willing for the governor to do anything he wants to do if he will do what they want done about horse racing. "Good" people do that way sometime. The governor can take a hundred million dollars off the people, he can rob the cash drawer even, if he will make a speech while he is at it, using nice, sonorous words about the evils of something, —horse racing in this instance.

FORTUNATELY A LEGISLATURE

There is not any sense to a law legalizing in any shape, form or fashion, horse racing as we think of it, the commercialized form. Neither is there any sense to raising the tax bill so high it will put a lot of us out of business.

Fortunately there is a legislature, more responsive to the will of the people than is the governor—a two house legislature in fact. Maybe this body will head off horse racing and some of the taxes the governor is committing himself to at the same time.

EVERYBODY AND THEIR TAXES

A sales broadside, received at this office recently, said the one basic problem confronting every person in America today is taxation. And rightly so. Business men so called, farmers, housewives, merchants, bankers, lawyers, school teachers....all want to know what we can do about taxes.

What about income taxes? Real estates taxes, personal property taxes, social security taxes? Inheritance, gift and estate taxes? Corporate levies? Where does the farmer get off? What about excise taxes, hidden taxes and the proposed addition, sales taxes? These questions have a general application and also a personal one. The general application is a matter of reducing the total cost of all government to all the people. The personal equation that enters into the matter is one of whether, under the law that is and equitably, can one escape such and such a tax? As a matter of fact, there are many loopholes and will be more so more and more tax laws inevitably are passed.

You are going to be taxed more and more. Better make more and more study of what is being done to you and to your neighbors.

The polar regions compose the fifth largest land mass on the earth, with an area of 4,892,000 square miles.

STAFF APPOINTMENTS

Several appointments of the Hesperette staff are as yet unfilled. Next week the entire staff will be announced after which there will begin the weekly attempt to put out a good school paper. We urge each student to cooperate with us in order that we may improve in popularity as well as writing style.

This week's Hesperette was produced through real effort in one day and by the members of the staff appointed last year.

OPPORTUNITY

The first editorial is the hardest. Deciding on the most important subject for discussion is difficult. I thought and thought (Yes, really) and came to the conclusion that opportunity is of supreme importance now that school is just starting.

There is opportunity for each student that signed a registration blank. He has the chance to succeed in his school work this year or reject his opportunity and fail.

The athletic hopeful may use every ounce of his strength and become a reliable athlete or he may refuse his opportunity and wind up on the bench all season.

Which course will you take? Your attitude now will be a decisive factor in the success of your later life.

So, why not make the most of every opportunity this school year offers and enter into the spirit of School.

BACK TO SCHOOL, IS IT?

Vacation days are over. It's September. And—back to school! Of course you are eager to get back to school again. Probably you are "on your toes," ready to begin your school work, and to do your best to make a good first impression.

But after awhile, you'll begin thinking that your very life is besieged by overwhelming assignments and then you'll not be so eager as you should be. Finally, you will begin to do your work with a "I-hate-to-do-it" spirit, and then one's assignments become more drabber? We do them in a spirit monotonous and mechanical.

Weariness follows. Our eyes twinkle. By the way, did you know that it takes fifty muscles to produce a frown, and only thirteen to produce a smile?

Lots of time you will say, "I'll do that to-morrow." Did you know that to-morrow never comes! This "to-morrow" is indeed a very dangerous word! A Dr. Somebody once said, "No man owns tomorrow. Tomorrow is the fool's to-day."

LET'S BE THOUGHTFUL!

Its same old clamor and confusion that is always present the first week of school. Dropping books, bumping into people, banging locker doors and yelling in the hall is after all just breaking us in to the same old routine, the same old grind, but at the same time it is probably breaking the fish.

Let's remember how we felt when we were Freshmen and didn't know which way we were going or why. After all if we thought the General Science room was the Spanish room, was that our fault? No! Because that was us!

But what about the Freshmen this year? It will take such a little effort to direct some Freshmen to a class room, to send a word of advice, or even give them an encouraging smile. Let's make them feel at home and happy in our school. Let's show all the Fish and new students the real spirit of F. H. S.

The population of the republic of China is about one-fourth of mankind, made up of Chinese, Manchus, Mongolians, Turkestan and Tibetans.

373 Students Enroll First Day Of School At F. H. S.

The hubbub and noise in F. H. S. Monday denoted the arrival of another school year. Many new students graced the seats in chapel and looked wildly about to keep from being noticed by those who were used to the starting activities. Class enrollment took up the biggest part of the morning along with chapel, checking out books and making schedules.

The freshmen are showing 76 new faces in the newly painted halls. Even though the smallest class in school they are now beginning to show upperclassmen that they can't be run over. Power to the fish, hope you like F. H. S.

The sophomore class are more familiar with the old school and are blossoming out some old school spirit. With 95 names under the soph register they are determined to prove that the soph class isn't the deadliest class in school.

The experienced Juniors are telling everyone of their 197 members. And at last those dignified leaders known as Seniors. It was reported that some of the seniors had not as yet enrolled. With a total of 95 it is expected that the class will register 118 before the week is over. Well anyway it's quality not quantity.

With a total of over 373 students old F. H. S. is fairly bursting with pep, energy, school spirit and pride.

Home Ec Project Is Finished Thursday

The special summer project work in Home Economics was closed last Thursday with an achievement day, which was held in the department.

There were 51 girls taking the project work with 35 present Thursday afternoon.

A style show was held with the girls wearing the dresses they had made for themselves. An exhibit was shown, consisting of dresser sets, luncheon sets, cup towels, baby garments, children's dresses, play suits, aprons, dresses for older members of the family, house coats, and slacks.

Since sewing did not appeal to all the girls, some did canning as their project. There were 132 quarts of peas canned, 104 quarts of beans, 73 quarts of cucumber pickles, 73 quarts of peaches, 24 quarts of corn, 24 quarts of plums, 12 quarts of tomatoes, five quarts of carrots, nine quarts of squash and 21 quarts of best pickles which makes a total of 479 quarts that were canned.

A total of seven bed rooms were refurnished or improved, along with four yard improvement projects. Thirteen girls took as their project planning, preparing and serving at least one meal a day for their family. There was one project on home management and one on child development.

Miss Rees and Miss Fouts are well pleased with the summer project work. Miss Rees stated that so many of the mothers are pleased too, as they said their girls were not idle during the summer, but were doing something worth while.

Miss Rees also said the projects this summer have been the best since she has been here.

There are 3,068 state divisions called counties in the United States, plus 61 parishes and 36 independent cities, which also have the status of counties.

The lowest temperature ever recorded in the United States was registered during the winter of 1884, when it was 65 degrees below zero in Miles City, Montana.

Sappho Ward, actress and personality girl, will ramrod the Hesperette staff this year through nine months of reporting and editing. Miss Ward, a senior and experienced newspaper woman, is expected to edit one of the best editions in a number of years. She expects to announce her complete staff next week.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

The agriculture boys are beginning a new school year and hope to exceed last year's record.

The yearbook will be larger and more complete than last year's. Each student will be given a page which can be filled with a picture and a story of his projects.

Last year's chapter won third place in the Lone Star Chapter contest with a loving cup as a reward.

F. F. A. work has gone on all summer and three boys went to the state F. F. A. convention at El Paso.

The delegates were Henry Hinton, Leland Woodward, and Eugene Blackman. Henry Hinton was awarded a Lone Star Farmer's degree. There are hopes for several more to gain this honor.

Five of the F. F. A. chapters in this district went on an encampment held at Roaring Springs. Those were Lorenzo, Crosbyton, Patton Springs, Quail and Floydada. There were about 100 boys present.

The F. F. A. chapter was the first in the state to pay their F. F. A. dues.

With a start like this, the Floydada chapter should have the most active year in the history of the organization.

CLASS SPONSORS

The teachers are warming up to sponsor various classes and try to make them the leading ones in the school.

Mr. Williams states that if we think the freshmen are shy we have another thought a coming. He hopes to take those Fish boys to the goal of esteem in F. H. S.

Mr. Russell is delighted to have charge of the Soph boys, he hopes they like him as well as he likes them.

Miss Copeland declared she had never seen such a large class of junior boys.

Having some 55 registered she must have a job on her hands. Miss Miller is excited over her new freshmen girls and is already determined to win the follies.

Mrs. Jones has never sponsored any one but Soph girls she says she would feel out of place with any other class.

All in all the sponsors are thoroughly pleased as well as the students.

Whirlwinds Lay For Slaton Tigers On Friday Night

Lettermen And Reserves Are Listed As Season Grows Near Opening

On the September 16 the fans of Floydada will peer over the fence at a green and white Whirlwind and a big Slaton bulldog.

The Whirlwinds start their season against the bulldogs as a test for the new team of '38. The Whirlwinds take the field with new men at the tackle and end posts. The seats left vacant by graduation will be filled by squadmen who have been working with Coach Winter for the past two weeks.

The team this year will be built around such men as Montgomery, a veteran center and with smartness and experience. On each side of Mont, there will be Martin, Henson, Jones, Crawford, and Pickett. The two most promising to fill the posts are letterman Martin and newcomer Henson.

To fill the tackle slots lost by graduation there are Mal Jarbo and Dillon Patterson. Mal, a letter man will fill up the hole, swell, and Patterson can do his part.

The wing positions will be held by Tyler Burnett and Conway all are promising and expected to do a lot toward making a championship team.

George Fry Lidar the man with brains will be the pilot of the Green and White team for '38.

Fred Beard will share duties with Lidar and a small little ball player, R. E. Gollybly a hard runner and a good blocker will be a man to watch. Clifford Daniels snake hip runner of lightning speed, will be a good back.

Patterson, Gibbs, Foster, Steen, twins and Moore will complete the squad with Roscoe Biggles help.

The team is dressed like a ball club whether they are or not. They have new socks and new jerseys green with white shoulders.

Schule Daze

School days, school days, dear old golden rule days. Well here I am again and nothing can be done about it. If only this darn schedule would work itself out I'd be happy.

This is more like a crossword puzzle than anything I know of. Be better if I had brought a pencil.

Can't seem to think in all this noise. Ho-hum if I put English here and History there-no-I've lost Cives somewhere—If I have a study hall the seventh-oh-I already have English there. There's a far away Dell in your eyes—there's Dottie Dell—swell birthday party she had.

That Harold G. is simply a "dum bunny." Think he can speak Spanish. Spanish Spanish, where can I put Spanish? Oh yes, I'm not taking it this time—got out of it last year. If I had a brain for inventions there would be a fortune in a fountain pen that would write Spanish.

School daze, school daze—some set up. The day all labor throws a big party and is taking a good time, that's the day I have the good time, that's the day I take the step that puts me in confinement for nine months.

Oh well, that's life. There's Miss Sappho Ward, the movie celeb. Oh, Miss Ward may I have your autograph? She snubbed me, by heck. And there I put in three votes for her and, she didn't even thank me. But anyway I guess I can't expect anything because I haven't told her about it.

A ticket, a ticket, a brown and yellow casket—Humm I wonder what the new speech teacher looks like?—She was peck, peck, pecking all around, and then she—gee, typing makes me sick to think about it. I wish I had a pencil.

What's this I hear about Texas History being closed, I hope that—where's some more paper? This son'a of a pencil needs sharpening. I can't see how it can stand it another time. When did Clifford get that red hot tie.

I guess that's what I smelled burning a while ago, I smell new floor varnish. Let's see, if I put Cives here and English here,—hello Jimmy—if I put History here and Typing there, no I'm not through, for gosh sakes give me time, gimme time.

If I have a study hall the sixth and English the fifth. If I have—I-I—Oh, nuts.

BAND PLANS CAMPAIGN DURING FOOTBALL

It is the undisputed opinion of Floydada high school that the band will come forth in all its green and white glory to distinguish the school and establish its prestige this year and through all succeeding years.

M. P. Camp, able band director and capable leader, is destined to give the band the confidence and verve that it needs to make it a forceful organization. With the cooperation of the resourceful Mr. Camp and those splendid new uniforms, this year will definitely be a "Band" conscious one.

A conspiracy of conscientious practice and capable leadership has produced a band which plays with enthusiasm and steady tone.

Hail, the band! And long may it play.

Hesperian $1 per year in Floyd and adjoining counties.

Reporters Give Lowdown on New Teachers In Faculty

G. W. Russell—the new commercial teacher seems to have the wrong idea of F. H. S. When he first came here, he was told that anything he said would be held against him. It was this fact that made this little interview plenty hard to get.

Mr. Russell graduated from N. T. S. T. C. in Denton on June 3, 1938 A. D. when he received his B. S. degree.

His home is Iraan where he learned to say that sour pickles is his favorite food and that he dislikes corn most of all.

Although with only a few days of teaching to his credit, he already has a pet dislike about certain things. "On his first day here, the Soph boys broke out a window in his classroom. So far that displeased him more than anything else."

If anyone wishes to get in touch with him at home, he may be reached at Mrs. Conroy's home.

Mrs. Eva Piper taught last year in Fayette, Texas, 22 miles east of Peotone. She received her B. A. degree at Hardin-Simmons university and is now working on her Master's degree at Texas university.

Austin is her home town, her favorite foods are vegetables and she dislikes honey.

Warning signal.—Mrs. Piper dislikes students who are impertinent.

M. T. Camp taught school last year in Texhoma, up on the coast. (The coast of Texas and Oklahoma.) He graduated from Northwest Teachers college in Alva, Oklahoma.

When asked for the name of his hometown, he distinctly said Floydada.

His favorite food is steak which, he says, helped him to grow to be so much like Charles Arlis—or somebody. His pet hate is sardines. He likes energetic students and if there is anything he dislikes it is laziness. He and Mrs. Camp are at home at 320 S. Second street.

What The Teachers Did This Summer (Inquiring Reporter)

During the hustle of school and the rush here and there, we will try to see how the teachers spent the summer.

Well, here we are in the lower hall. Well, if it isn't Mr. Cummings beaming like a "new moon." Hello, Mr. Cummings. Could we interview you? Gee! Thanks! You did huh? Quite an interesting summer getting a Master's Degree.

"Well, is it isn't Mr. Williams. How in the world are you? I'll bet the vacation was swell, but the business."

"Mr. Russell, you are quite a traveled man! What with Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Oklahoma. Sounds like a travel talk."

"Miss Rea, cheese! You really worked this summer—a summer at Tech and what do you have? A masters degree?"

"Miss Fouts was a home girl this summer. Well, Haskell is a right nice town."

Miss Piper spent the summer studying musical composition. Mr. Camp also studied music, only in a different way. He taught it.

Mrs. Jones turned literary and was assistant editor of the Floyd County Plainsman!

"Coach! So you were chauffeur to a 7-up truck. My! things do happen."

Miss Miller visited in East Texas and Miss Cade went home to Chandler Texas.

But they are all back now ready, willing, and able to go to work again.

DRUM CORPS TO AID PEP SQUAD THIS YEAR

We will have a grander time than ever at our football games this year (if that is possible) because we are going to have a drum corps in the pep squad. It is to be made up of eight regimental drums, two tenor drums, two base Scotch drums, two symbols and four color bearers.

Mr. Camp plans to have the national flag, the school flag, which is to be made soon, drum corps banner and green peppers banner.

Senior girls in the pep squad will have first choice of the drums. The drums are supposed to be here sometime this week and the girls will start training as soon as they arrive.

F. H. A. MAKES PLANS

The Future Homemakers club has been active throughout the summer. Many of the girls desired to keep up their work and took summer project work. Last Thursday when all that each girl had done was exhibited in an activity program, it was discovered that a great deal had been accomplished in the summer work.

Many activities for the year of '38-'39 have been planned. For the first time the Home Economics club is to have a year book. A series of interesting and entertaining programs have been planned as well as many socials and good times.

A number of the Home Economics girls, under the direction of Miss Rees in an effort to make the old teachers more comfortable and the new teachers more at home, entertained the faculty in the Home Economics dining room Friday afternoon.

The club is expected to have many new members and be more active than it has ever before.

A. D. Cummings, superintendent of the Floydada schools, received his Master's degree at Texas university this summer and has returned to drive the students of Floydada high school through another year of scholastic endeavor. He will be assisted by Principal O. K. Davis and W. A. King.

'Do Something About This Crop Control We Have In Force Now' - WPA Workers

Relief Rolls Increasing Every Day, Petition Tells A. & M. College

A petition which he says will be forwarded as soon as he has had a little more time to see the people between WPA jobs, is being circulated in Floyd county this week by E. A. Russell, an ex-farmer and presently on the WPA rolls, urges the authorities at A. & M. college to "get something done about this crop control that we have in force now."

"It is keeping many, many people off the farm who have followed farming most of their lives," the petition recites. "But this is not the worst of it, the number of people that are being thrown out of land to work****at wages which are not enough to permit the head of the house to ever get where he or she can be self-sustaining."

Something more than two hundred names had been signed to the petition the first of this week, when Mr. Russell had to quit carrying it to resume work for the WPA, but he said he planned to get some more names before the petition went to the authorities at A. & M. college. The list at that time had about forty names indicated as WPA workers, and business men, farmers, real estate dealers, had signed the petition freely. One signature indicated the signer as a business man and land owner "but will be compelled to sell land if farm program is continued." Several local officials' names are on the petition, also.

The Deadline

(By Bill Hams)

Everyone is doing a lot of predicting as to the result of this year's District 4-B race. Most all like the looks of the Whirlwinds because they are a lot heavier and faster than last year's bunch, and if the results weren't figured wrong last year's team ended in a tie for second place.

Of course there was a lot of wrangling before it was over but the official fact remains that Floydada was pretty high the top.

It was a pleasure to hear the All-Stars trim the Washington (Slinging Samuel Baugh) Redskins last week in Chicago just because the announcer kept repeating the "Slinging Sam" part every time Baugh got his grabbers on the pigskin. Baugh is great but those other guys are good too and they didn't get their front handles called every time they got a fistfull of football.

Here's hoping that Rice repeats as Southwestern Conference champion just to break the old jinx that has dogged a repeater in that league... and just to keep TCU from getting it.

Probably neither will get a sniff of the bunting since the conference is so famous for allowing the under-dog to get to the top of the heap before the end of November. Baylor might be the bee in the bucket this year... they "almost" last year.

Since football has the spotlight at present, the World series some 20 or more days away, The Hesperian is throwing a sort of "paper party" for football fans in next week's issue. Just what the results of that party will be has yet to be worked out but there ought to be some "spiking" in the "punch" for some of the old players and some of the newer ones too.

A sort of "you ain't seen nuthin' yet" atmosphere hangs over the Whirlwind grid squad... the secret is that the front 22 men will have some snazzy new jerseys, sox, etc. that will just about lay the spectators out cold when they come galloping onto the field. Prepare yourself for those uniforms look plenty "collegiate" and represent a considerable hunk o' jack.

It is wheezed about by "Fleecy" Norman, Whirlwind manager and general what-not, that Kenneth Baird Bishop will lug the water this year... Fleecy lows as how managing the team is enough work without totin' water for them too.

According to gossip around the practice field it seems that some newcomers that weren't out last year might crash through in the starting line-up before the season ends.

Some of these new comers are from the rural communities and it looks like they might push some of the city lads before the grind ends in November.

Gibbs and Martin returned to practice Monday afternoon. All the rail birds seemed a lot happier because the boys appeared. Their absence left two bad holes as well as the loss of two experienced players.

It might be that Gibbs will turn into a blocking back and desert his guard slot.

Jimmy Willson, sport editor of the Hesperian and letterman, is back in the line at tackle, teamed with Jarboe, and looks like he knows his way about. Tyler and Conway look like end fixtures unless someone gets awfully good before the season begins.

W. D. Newell and son Louis, and Mrs. L. H. Newell and daughter Miss Faye returned Monday from Estancia Valley, New Mexico, where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Block since Friday. Mr. Block is a brother of Mrs. Newell and uncle of Mr. Newell.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Vassar made a business trip to Lubbock Saturday returning home the same day.

Boothe Cleaners To Celebrate Ten Years In Floydada

Business Founded In 1928 By C. A. And E. E. Boothe At Present Location

On Tuesday, September 13, Boothe's Cleaners and Hatters will celebrate its tenth birthday, being founded in 1928 by C. A. "Buster" Boothe and his uncle, E. E. Boothe.

At present the shop is owned exclusively by C. A. Boothe, having bought his uncle's interest in the plant in 1935.

C. A. came to Floyd county with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boothe, in August, 1910 when his father opened a coal and grain business here.

In 1924 C. A. went to work in the cleaning shop owned and operated by Hub Russell and worked there during the summer when he was home from college. While attending McMurry college he paid a part of his expense working in the shops near the college.

It was four years after he began work in the Russell shop that he and his uncle opened the shop on a partnership basis. The partnership was dissolved in 1929 with E. E. Boothe owner, as C. A. went to Dimmitt to become associated in business with his father.

Since his return here in 1935 the shop has steadily increased in popularity. It offers its customers a high quality cleaning and pressing job as it is equipped with modern up-to-date machinery and operated by experienced workmen.

Pete Newman, 15-year-old son of Assistant Postmaster George Newman, of Lockney, sustained a broken leg below the hip joint and gashes in his head and leg in an accident Saturday night.

Attempting to keep the bumpers of two cars together while one pushed the other off to make its motor start, young Newman was thrown under the hindmost car to receive his injuries.

He was taken to Lubbock for treatment.

DONALD THOMAS HOME, HAD GOOD YEAR, BUT SUFFERED WITH SORE ARM

Donald Thomas returned home Sunday from Caruthersville, Missouri where he played the latter part of the season in organized baseball, after serving the earlier part of the season at Paragould, Arkansas. He was ill the last two weeks of his stay in that section and lost a great deal of weight, and also suffered with a sore arm during the last half of the league year. Otherwise, he said it was a reasonably good year for him. "I learned a lot about baseball trying to pitch with a sore arm," Wimpy said. "When you've got a fast one you don't have to think about anything but just throwing it past 'em, he moralized. "But when it hurts to put on the steam you have to go to using the old noodle."

The Caruthersville club with which Thomas played is a farm of the St. Louis Cardinals.

A HEALTHY THIN SOUP

Has the family been welcoming your soup with zest? Have the men in your family been saying: "Now that's what I call real soup!" Do you want them to? Then heed this advice from a cooking expert—

Use Quaker or Mother's Oats for thickening. It's inexpensive. It adds extra food value. It enhances flavor. It makes a hearty soup that men love. And it's another chance to supply your family with Thiamin (Vitamin B), which everybody needs continuously for best health.

Oats, you know, are nature's richest economical source of this wonderful health substance that is so important to good digestion and steady nerves. Quaker or Mother's Oats also supply proteins for firm muscle and those body-building minerals, iron and phosphorus.

So put Quaker or Mother's Oats in your soup and win the reputation for making the kind of soup men love. To be sure you have the best possible receipt, clip and use this one—

Vegetable Soup (Serves 8) 2 lb. soup bone (1/2 bone, 1/2 meat) 2 tablespoons fat 2 quarts water 4 teaspoons salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper 2 cups canned tomatoes 1 cup chopped carrots 1/2 cup cubed onion 1/2 cup chopped celery 1/2 cup quick Quaker Oats or 1 cup Regular Quaker Oats

Remove part of meat from cracked soup bone, cut into cubes and brown lightly in hot fat. Place meat, soup bone, water, salt and pepper in soup kettle. Cover tightly and simmer approximately 2 hours. Cool, strain, and chill sufficiently so that excess fat may be skimmed off.

There should be 6 1/2 cups of stock. Return stock to kettle and add vegetables. Bring to boil, then add Quaker Oats slowly. Cover and simmer approximately 1/2 hour, or until vegetables are tender. Soup meat used in making the stock may be cut in small pieces and added. Serve with finely chopped parsley, if desired.

JAPS FEAR CHINESE GUERRILLAS
Japanese soldiers fear Chinese guerrilla fighters more than the concentrated armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

The Japanese are educated in orthodox German strategy—positional warfare—which omits the hit-and-run attacks of the roving guerrilla bands of North China.

"Our tactical instruction always emphasizes a protracted war," General Lu Cheng-Tsao, commander-in-chief of the central Hopeh forces, said.

"Time is on our side. We must never risk a decisive battle. Therefore we always retreat when the battle is only beginning, preferring to snip and ambush."

"We know our tactics are succeeding. My army cannot win this war against Japan, nor can any other in positional warfare. But we are all helping to prolong the struggle until Japan collapses internally."

Raiding parties creeping up to Japanese railway garrisons at night—a burst of hand grenades... a quick getaway into the night... a few casualties among the Japanese and none among the attackers—that is the sort of war these Chinese are fighting.

Guerrilla armies are sub-divided into units of 1,500, 500, 150, 50 and 15 men, each with a military officer and a political commissar. Organizers have come from cities—Communist agents and students.

Each recruit receives 30 days of political training before entering his first maneuver.

Country youths are told about the Chinese revolution, political conditions in China, the fundamental principles of a mass movement. They are taught to fight not for a leader but for their own homes, parents, livelihood and country.

Since the guerrillas operate in their native areas the total consumption of food is not increased. The men return to the fields for the cultivation and harvesting of crops, then off to fight again. They are China's minut men.

Sunday Train Rides Unlawful
In 1850 a person who took a railroad train on Sunday in Massachusetts was liable to a fine of $10. Railroads permitting passengers other than those journeying to church were punished by having their Sunday trains suspended for two successive Sundays. As late as 1860 the Massachusetts statutes provided that "Whoever travels on the Lord's day, except from necessity or charity, shall be punished by fine not exceeding $10 for each offense."

Recipe for getting that star-light effect for any kind of outdoor parties in the evening: paint a tin can silver, cut the open end sawtooth fashion, punch holes in the other end for the cord, and place over a small globe. String of these proved highly successful at the opening of the new open-air College Club at Texas State College for Women. Cost: Nothing.

CHOPPED ALFALFA HAY HAS BOTH GOOD AND BAD POINTS
Some farmers chop alfalfa before storing it in the mow. Others stack it or store it "as is." Recent investigations by the Bureau of Dairy Industry, United States Department of agriculture show both methods have advantages.

Long hay did not heat as much in the mow as the chopped hay. It reached a maximum temperature of 81° Fahrenheit and declined to 72° within 2 days. The chopped hay, however, reached a maximum of 106° within 2 days and declined to 76° in 16 days. After 150 days of storage, the carotene content of the long hay was about 50 percent greater than that of the chopped hay. The long hay retained its green color somewhat better, with 54 to 57 percent as much green color as the greenest alfalfa hay. The chopped hay had only 47 to 48 percent as much as the greenest alfalfa hay.

But there are advantages for chopped hay, says the bureau specialists. More can be stored in a given space. Less work is required in the mow at time of storage. It is more easily removed. In the case of starchy hays, consumption is more complete because the leaves are not so readily selected from chopped hay as from long hay.

Only dry, well-cured hay should be chopped, results of 2 years' experiments show. The hay should not be chopped finer than three-fourths of an inch. Both high moisture content and fine chopping increase temperature in the mow and bring about destruction of the color and carotene. Under certain conditions the temperature may become high enough to make a fire hazard.

Feeding tests show the chopped hay is as palatable as the long hay. Cows fed the chopped hay produced slightly more milk than cows fed the long hay, despite the lower consumption of nutrients. This slight difference in production, however, could reasonably be expected with hay that is practically identical in quality, says the bureau workers.

A breed of sheep having no wool on the face and legs has been developed at South Dakota State college.

The stork that arrives first in a village where there are other nests begins at once to use these to save itself the trouble of seeking further for material to repair its own domicile on which other birds already may have been at work, says Nature magazine. Jackdaws help themselves to the stuff of which the empty stork nests is made. And, in turn, the returned stork will steal sticks from the crow and magpie nests in the neighborhood. It is curious that, despite many empty nests storks will engage in a furious battle over some particular nest that strikes their fancy. Fights over a female are also common, and if a stranger is the victor he at once empties the nest of its eggs or young.

KEEPING MILK BOTTLES ADDS TO CONSUMER COST
The cost of the bottle is a big item in what consumers have to pay for milk. A quart bottle costs ordinarily about 5 cents. Directly or indirectly, the consumer pays for it. The more trips the bottle makes from dealer to consumer, the less the cost to the consumer.

A study by the Bureau of Dairy Industry shows that many consumers actually do not realize when they destroy or discard milk bottles that the bottle has value and that it is the property of the seller and not the buyer, as is the case with most containers in which food is purchased. Education of the consumer, says the report, is too often neglected.

The Bureau in a study of 111 milk plants found that the average life of a bottle was 35 trips. It ranged from 6 to 91 trips, but the most common range was from 20 to 30 trips. The systems most widely used by dealers to get bottles back are: A commission to route men for bottles returned, a charge for all bottles sold by stores and a milk bottle exchange. In plants that used all three methods, the average life of a bottle was 81 trips.

Plants that used no special system to get bottles back and that were not members of an exchange, the bottle life average only a little over 22 trips.

SOIL IS THEME OF NEW AGRICULTURE YEARBOOK

Nature treats the earth kindly. Man treats her harshly. He overplows the crop land, overgrazes pasture land, and overcuts timber land. He pours fertility into the cities, which in turn pour what they do not use down the sewers and into the rivers and the ocean.

Because this is true and because the United States has reached the stage where it must face the problem of future soil fertility, the 1938 yearbook of the Department of Agriculture deals with soils. First copies of the yearbook will be off the press within a few weeks.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace says of the new yearbook: "The roots of any society are in the soil. Everything our bodies need except air and sun comes from the earth. The processes by which man destroys the soil may be excusable in a young civilization. They are not excusable in the United States in the year 1938."

"In this book the effort is made to discover man's debt and duty to the soil and the soil problem is examined from every angle. The social lesson of soil waste is that no man has the right to destroy soil, even if he does own it. The soil requires a duty of every man which we have been slow to recognize. The 1938 year book is not the last word in soil saving, but it is a good start."

The new yearbook is in five parts, with a summary by Gove Hambridge, editor. Part 1, "The Nation and the Soil," deals with public purposes in soil use and with problems, causes, and remedies. Part 2, "The Farmer and the Soil," discusses tillage, fertility, erosion control, irrigation, and drainage. Part 3 covers relationships between the soil and plants. Part 4 deals with the fundamentals of soil science. Part 5 is a survey and description of the enormous variety of soils in this country, accompanied by a map.

The 1938 yearbook is intended for two classes of readers: Intelligent farmers with a practical background but in most cases little theoretical knowledge, and students, teachers, and scientific workers in need of more technical information than the first group.

STORK HOME-BUILDING

The stork that arrives first in a village where there are other nests begins at once to use these to save itself the trouble of seeking further for material to repair its own domicile on which other birds already may have been at work, says Nature magazine. Jackdaws help themselves to the stuff of which the empty stork nests is made. And, in turn, the returned stork will steal sticks from the crow and magpie nests in the neighborhood. It is curious that, despite many empty nests storks will engage in a furious battle over some particular nest that strikes their fancy. Fights over a female are also common, and if a stranger is the victor he at once empties the nest of its eggs or young.

Tenants May Apply For A F S A Loan

Applications Will Be Received Until October 1, Claude C. Carpenter Says

Applications from farmers in Floyd county for long loans with which to purchase farms under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Purchase Act program will be received from now until October 1, Claude C. Carpenter, County Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor, announced today upon his return from Amarillo, where he attended a two-day school of instructions.

Also attending from this county were Fred M. Battey, county committeeman, appointed by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, to check applications in this county. Oscar L. Allen and Joe M. Smith, other county committeemen, were unable to attend the Amarillo meeting.

All farm tenants, sharecroppers, farm laborers, or others who obtain or recently have obtained most of their income from farming, may make applications for one of the several loans to be made in this county, Mr. Carpenter said.

It was explained that preference for these loans will be given to married persons or persons with dependent families; to persons able to make a down payment; or to persons who own livestock and equipment necessary to carry on farming operations.

Applicants who will receive loans will be given a wide choice in selecting the farms they want to buy. The price of the property, however, must be in keeping with its value, as determined by the county committee and the FSA. Preference will be given to farms needing a minimum outlay for repairs and improvements. However, loans will be large enough to cover building repairs and other farm improvements.

The county supervisor said the Farm Security Administration will assist applicants who receive loans in developing sound farm and home management plans, preparing operating budgets, and maintaining business like records.

Loans will be made for a 40-year period at three per cent interest. Annual payments of 4.3 per cent of the sum borrowed will cover both interest and principal.

All farmers in Floyd county interested in this program are urged to contact Mr. Carpenter at his office in Floydada at their earliest convenience and obtain application blanks.

Since 1932, church support has decreased some 30% in this country, general benevolence 29%, community chest 24%, and colleges 18% yet expenditures for movies, cigarettes, automobiles, beauty aids, liquor, jewelry, radios, and other dispensables have soared from 25% to as much as 317%, and much of this money was spent by people who are regarded as "poor." We like to talk of the hard times we now have, but when compared with a generation or so ago, we are now "enjoying" hard times. ### SAUL: MORAL FAILURE

Golden Text: To obey is better than sacrifice. I Samuel 15:22. Lesson Text: I Samuel 10:17-25; 15:10-23; 28:3-25; 31:1-10. Printed Text: I Samuel 10:21-25; 15:20-23; 31:3-6.

21 When he had caused the tribe of Benjamin to come near by their families, the family of Matri was taken, and Saul the son of Kish was taken; and when they sought him, he could not be found.

22 Therefore they inquired of the Lord further, if the man should yet come thither. And the Lord answered, Behold, he hath hid himself among the staff.

23 And they ran and fetched him thence; and when he stood among the people, he was higher than any of the people from his shoulders and upward.

24 And Samuel said to all the people, See ye him whom the Lord hath chosen, that there is none like him among all the people? And all the people shouted, and said, God save the king.

25 Then Samuel told the people the manner of the kingdom, and wrote it in a book, and laid it up before the Lord. And Samuel sent all the people away, every man to his home.

26 And Saul said unto Samuel, Yea, I have obeyed the voice of the Lord, and have gone the way which the Lord sent me, and have brought Agag the king of Amalek, and have utterly destroyed the Amalekites.

21 But the people took of the spoil, sheep and oxen, the chief of the things which should have been utterly destroyed, to sacrifice unto the Lord thy God in Gath.

22 And Samuel said, Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams.

23 For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, he hath also rejected thee from being king.

3 And the battle went sore against Saul, and the archers hit him; and he was sore wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saul unto his armourbearer, Draw thy sword, and thrust me through therewith; lest these uncircumcised come and thrust me through, and abuse me. But his armourbearer would not; for he was sore afraid. Therefore Saul took a sword, and fell upon it.

5 And when his armourbearer saw that Saul was dead, he fell likewise upon his sword, and died with him.

6 So Saul died, and his three sons, and his armourbearer, and all his men, that same day together.

Time and Place: Various from 1100-1055 B. C. is the time given. There is doubt about the location of Ramar; Mizpeh was in Benjamin; Endor was four miles south of Mt. Tabor, and Mt. Cillboa was in the plain of Jezreel, central Palestine.

"I have played the fool," said King Saul of himself and in that accurate judgment lies the key to the moral dissolution of Israel's king.

The story of Saul is the dramatic and tragic story of a mighty figure who succumbed to jealousy and evil passions and finally took his life. The Old Testament account is one of the most powerful and impressive of Biblical stories. It paints there was a young lad from Bethlehem, a shepherd boy, who was not in the fighting armies, but who had gone down to bring food to his older brothers. When he heard of what was happening, he decided to go out against Goliath.

He spurred the armor offered him, and after selecting a few smooth stones he met Goliath with his sling. With steady aim, he struck the giant in a vulnerable spot. It was a mighty triumph, and history has recognized the courage and prowess of this young David, the giant-killer.

When the armies of Israel came back victorious, the seeds of jealousy were sown in Saul's heart, as the women met the returning hero singing in praise of David and his deed. "Saul hath slain his thousands and David his ten thousands."

It was rather a foolish and thoughtless discrimination. Possibly any man in Saul's place would have resented it. But there began in that hour the destruction and downfall of this mighty man.

The kindest thought of Saul is that he was affected by some form of insanity... for even when in a great rage he would seek to take the life of David; after the rage had passed, he was sorry for his act and he showed great bursts of magnanimity.

SCHOOL LUNCHEONS, SUBJECT STERLEY HOME DEM. CLUB

"Inviting school lunches should always be prepared," said Mrs. John Carter when she gave a demonstration at her home Thursday, September 1, to the Sterley Home Demonstration club members and visitors.

She suggests that a sweet sandwich with egg and cheese, or meat sandwich with vegetable, fruit custard, or jelly and milk for lunch. Dixie cups can be used very efficiently for jelly, she says. Wrap each sandwich individually in waxed paper.

A child should have milk in his lunch. This can be in cocoa and milkshakes.

COWS BY THOUSANDS EAR-TAGGED TO FIND WORTH OF DAIRY SIRE

A total of 330,000 identification records and 110,000 production records of individual cows—information that will prove the fitness or unfitness of dairy sires—have been collected by State dairy-extension agencies and filed with the Bureau of Dairy Industry. They came from farmers in 1,100 dairy-herd improvement associations in 48 states during the past 2 years, report Dr. J. F. Kendrick, in charge of dairy-herd-improvement work in the Bureau.

Because 75 to 80 percent of the cows on test are grade animals or purebred animals that were never registered, it is necessary to establish identification records before production records can be filed. The cows are ear-tagged by the association tester and each cow's tag number is filed on a separate card in the Bureau office, which also carries the name and number of the cow's sire and dam.

Production records, the basis of "proving" dairy sires, consist of the amount of milk and butter produced by the cows in a 305-day test, beginning at the first of any lactation period. By comparing the records of a sire's daughters with the records of the daughters' dams the influence of the sire on production, either good or bad, may be proved.

At present there are about 520,000 cows on test in the dairy associations. Records are arriving at the Bureau office at the rate of about 1,200 a day. Dr. Kendrick says association membership has shown a steady growth, and each year several thousand cows are placed on test for the first time.

INSPECTION OF VEGETABLES AND FRUITS IS INCREASING

A steady growth has been shown in shipping-point inspection of fruits and vegetables with 450,065 carlots inspected for grade certification last year, reports Francis G. Robb, of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Only 72,000 carlots were inspected in 1923, the first year that the service was offered by the Bureau. By 1930 the carlot inspections had grown to 243,129, and by 1935 the number of carlots reached 306,425.

More potatoes are certified as to grade than any other item of produce, says Mr. Robb. Under marketing agreements covering most of the important late-potato-producing areas from Michigan to Idaho last year, shipping-point inspection was required for all interstate shipments. Inspection of potato shipments from Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, the coastal region of Texas, and the two western countries of Florida, based on prescribed minimum standards, was required under potato agreements effective in these Gulf States. A further increase in shipping-point inspection is expected this year if the late potato states adopt the potato-marketing agreement now under consideration.

Such a service makes it possible for produce buyers on consumer markets to purchase by wire, on the basis of the Government certificates, shipments of produce at the shipping point, although the shipping point, may be several hundred miles distant.

Mme. Ayako Tanabesh, 100-year-old Japanese school-teacher, says food and sleep have nothing to do with long life. Worry, in her view, is the great killer.

Wouldn't Land — Because English officials insisted her "Seeing Eye" dog, with which she is shown, go into quarantine for six months, Hazel Hurst, blind American girl, refused to land in England. Her canine guide has been Miss Hurst's "eyes" for 80,000 miles of travel.

CHAOS IN MOTOR CODES ADDS TO TRAFFIC PERIL

All the states require registration of motor vehicles and display of license plates as a condition of driving on public highways. This is one of the relatively few provisions in which the motor laws of all states are uniform.

But there is wide disagreement in the registration authorities. In compiling its report—as requested by Congress—on Motor-Vehicle Traffic Conditions in the United States, the Bureau of Public Roads found seven different classes of organizations for registering motor cars.

Another example of uniformity is the provision in each state which prohibits drunken driving. Every state makes it a criminal offense to drive while in an intoxicated condition. Penalties, however, vary widely in the various states.

A third example of uniformity is that every state provides penalties for the driver who does not remain at or return to the scene of an accident which results in death or injury to any person. In all but six states a driver is required to stop even if only property damage is involved.

Penalties for "hit-and-run driving" are anything but uniform, however, although in many states the penalty is severe. In 31 states a driver may forfeit his license for this offense. Fines may be as low as $10 in some codes and as high as $5,000 in others, with the range of imprisonment varying from 30 days to 5 years.

A summary paragraph in the report says that analysis of the motor-vehicle laws "clearly demonstrates an amazing lack of uniformity," and that the "chaotic nonuniformity prevails not only in matters that are minor or relatively unimportant but also with respect to many of those provisions that are essentially fundamental in all major problems relating to traffic safety."

COTTON EXPORTS SHOW DECREASE

Although the 1937-38 Argentine cotton crop is now moving into export channels with shipments during June being heavier than for any month this year since February 1937, shipments during the first six months of the current year were considerably below exports during the first six months of 1937, the office of the American Commercial Attache at Buenos Aires stated in a report made public by the commerce department.

Unofficial export statistics show that total cotton shipments in June amounted to 2,079 metric tons, the bulk of which, or 2,002 metric tons, having been consigned to Germany, while the United Kingdom with 54 metric tons, and Japan with 23 metric tons, received the remainder of the June cotton exports.

Exports during the first six months of 1938 totaled 2,971 metric tons compared with 9,408 metric tons exported during the corresponding period of 1937. Germany purchased 2,842 metric tons during the first half of 1938 compared with 1,037 metric tons during the corresponding period of 1937, while the United Kingdom purchased only 106 metric tons in 1938 compared with 6,417 during the first half of 1937. Japan purchased 23 metric tons during the first half of 1938 compared with 625 tons in the corresponding period a year ago. France, Belgium, Italy, Netherlands, and Poland absorbed a comparatively large share of Argentine cotton exports during the first half of last year but have made no purchase during the first half of the current year, the report stated.

CABEZA DE VACA FOUND BUFFALO

Cabeza de Vaca was the real discoverer of bison, finding great herds of buffalo on the plains of Texas, west and northwest of Fort Worth as early as 1528, or 350 years before Col. and Mrs. Charles Goodnight captured a few buffalo calves and preserved them for posterity.

Smithsonian institute gave this discovery to Cabeza but decided at the same time that the story of Montezuma's zoo, long a Texas legend, must take its turn at being debunked.

The story of Montezuma's zoo has been repeated by historians over again. Generations have heard how the high priest (not "emperor," by the way) of Mexico at the time of the conquest by Cortez had a large zoological park in which, for the entertainment and education of his people, he had assembled all sorts of birds and animals from far and near.

Here, it has also been repeated over and over again, while men saw for the first time the North American bison. Ethnologists of the Smithsonian Institution's Bureau of American Ethnology recently traced down these furious statements to their original sources.

The search brought to light a 17th century yellow journalist—one Antonio de Solis, "historiographer of the Indies," who published a book on the conquest of Mexico in 1684. At that time Solis had recourse to most of the original documents but he apparently did not bother to look at them.

The origin of the concept of Montezuma's zoo goes back to the history of Bernal Diaz, one of Cortez' soldiers, who gave the only contemporary account. What Diaz saw and described was a "house of idols" in which were kept many birds of brilliant plumage, "snakes with bells on their tails," two kinds of wolves, a "lion and various other carnivores. They were all presumably animals used in connection with the sacrifices by the priests of the temple. Diaz mentions nothing remotely resembling a "cow." His "snakes with bells on their tails" is undoubtedly the first historical reference to the rattlesnake.

Europeans became familiar with the American Bison as a result of the Coronado expedition in 1541. Hakluyt, the historian, in interpolating the accounts of the Coronado expedition, coined the term "crooked-backed oxen" to describe the animal. Solis, the bureau ethnologists found, simply combined the accounts of Bernal Diaz and Hakluyt, apparently for the purpose of making a good story. The research brings forth the fact that apparently the real discovery of the bison was Cabeza de Vaca, appropriately named "cow-head," who was one of the four-survivors of the ill-fated Narvaez expedition in 1528. He and his three companions encountered the bison on the plains of Texas and Narvaez has given a fairly detailed description of the animal in his account.

The idea of Montezuma's zoo, says the Bureau of American Ethnology, should have been discredited long ago if anyone had stopped to think about it, since the provision of entertainment and education of other than strictly religious nature would not have been in accordance with Aztec custom.

SURGERY PROVIDES NEW BACKBONE TO STOP ACHES

SAN FRANCISCO. — Surgery that takes shin-bones and makes it into a new backbone to stop back-aches, was reported to the American Medical association here.

The surgery is something new in bone grafting developed at the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn. It takes splints of a person's shinbones and uses them to lay a bridge six inches long lengthwise of the aching part of his back.

The bridge is two strips of shin, parallel, like the string pieces of an engineering bridge. Chips of bone dropping upon the vertebrae alongside these "bridges" serve as "cement."

They cause the shin-bone bridge to grow fast to the vertebrae of the backbone. This natural ridge then induces further bone growth, so that in two or three years, the patient has enlarged vertebrae and a structure stronger than the original backbone.

It cures the ache. The cause of these backbone troubles, it was explained by H. W. Myerding, M. D., of Mayo foundation, who developed the operation, is a slight displacement of vertebrae. Usually the lowest vertebrae falls to rest in the right spot on the sacrum, the bone in which the backbone ends at the hip line.

This back weakness rates as a new ailment, because until recently it was not usually recognized. For a long time, Dr. Myerding said, the medical profession thought that backaches of this sort followed child-birth and were mostly peculiar to women.

Lately it has been found that twice as many men as women have the back weakness. It is a trouble mostly of those who do heavy work, particularly farmers, laborers and housewives.

The slipping vertebrae usually are due to inborn weakness, the doctor said. But they also happen from accidents.

Egyptian Tribute to the Dog
"Dog days" are the result of an Egyptian tribute to the dog. Centuries ago the Nile flooded at a certain season of the year. The flood was signaled by the appearance of a star. For years the Egyptians depended upon the ascendancy of the star to flee their homes for the highlands. Year after year the star was the signal until, finally, the Egyptians named the star after the most faithful animal they could think of—the dog. In Egyptian Sirius meant dog, and the star was named Sirius. The star was a warning sign to the homesteaders, along the Nile, and the term "dog days" has been handed down for generations.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB AT STERLEY HAS MEETING

"In canning remember, you are not running a filling station," stated Miss Ruth Grimes in giving a demonstration on "Bringing Food Preservation Up to Date," to the Sterley club. The meeting was held August 18, at the home of Mrs. Bob Reeves. She also stated that canning should be done to keep food values and food flavors, and not with the idea of just filling the family.

Miss Grimes favors the preservation of foods in other ways than canning where it is possible, for example the locker system for the cold storage of meats. This service is offered, at a very small cost by different establishments of the plains area.

During the business session of the meeting Mrs. Paul Cooper gave a report of the County council meeting that was held at Floydada August 13.

The following members and visitors were present at the meeting: Mesdames Alfred Hamblen, Lizzie Neaves, John Carter, John Butch, G. A. McAda, C. B. McPherson, Joe Anderson, A. B. Blount, Bob Reeves, W. A. Cooper, R. L. Powell, Jno. McClendon, Bert Bobbitt, and Paul Cooper. Misses Ruth Grimes and Juanita Reeves.

POLECAT LOOKS UPON MAN AS HIS ENEMY; SHUNS HIM

The polecat has been persecuted for so many hundreds of years that it looks upon man as its chief enemy and will shun him on every occasion, writes Oliver G. Pike, F. Z. S. in London Tit-Bits magazine. It is considerably larger than the weasel or stoat, but in its habits is very much like them. It is far more handsome, for its dark silky body and short bushy tail give it a bold appearance. Its complete length is about 24 inches. It is bloodthirsty, killing far more than it can devour, and if it gets amongst a colony of rabbits it will kill all it can reach, only feeding on one that it carries to its lair. This is usually a hole made by a rabbit or fox, for it does not excavate a home of its own.

In early English the polecat was called the fourmart, or foul marten, but whatever name is given this creature, in all the countries in which it is found it is associated with the objectionable smell it discharges at will from a gland at the base of the tail. It is nocturnal in most of its habits, but this is probably due to its avoidance of man rather than any dislike of daylight.

 Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food. Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated. Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

Panhandle South-Plains Fair Tour Here On Thursday

Goodwill boosters from Lubbock publicizing the twenty-fifth annual Panhandle South Plains fair, are due to be in Floydada on Thursday of next week. The advance itinerary schedules them to be here at 2:00 p. m. on a swing around a 222-mile trip that day.

The schedule routes them into Ralls at 8:30, Crosbyton at 9:30, Roaring Springs at noon, Matador at 12:15, and Lockney at 3 p. m.

With this group will be 25 select members of the crack Lubbock High School band.

Traveling in special chartered buses, this delegation will leave the "hub city" early Thursday morning dressed in cowboy regalia. In each town along the route the trippers will stop to present a short program and distribute the free fair souvenirs to school children and grown-ups. Every school child on the south plains will be given a ticket to the fair for School Children's Day, Wednesday, September 28.

Chamber of commerce, newspaper and school officials in Floydada have been asked to assist in arranging for the local program.

George Truett Smalley left Monday for Clovis, New Mexico where he is visiting his sister Mrs. Jim Hardgrove and family. He has been here the past week visiting his mother, Mrs. Anna Smalley since his graduation at University of Texas on August 29 when he received his B. A. degree.

SWANS CRUEL, FEROCIOUS

Swans are among the most cruel and ferocious of birds. Not only have they frequently battled one another to death, says Collier's Weekly, but they have come on land and killed dogs and other animals, and attacked and seriously injured many human beings. They also have been known to beat children into unconsciousness and then drown them.

Highway Crash Hurts Four Floyd Residents Thurs. At Weatherford

Lockney Party Enroute to Funeral Crowded Off of Road And Crashed Into by Car

A party of Floyd county people including Bennie Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Schmidt, and Mrs. T. M. Boedecker, all of Lockney, Alvin Schreider, Plainview, were forced off the road and then crashed into by a car driven by a Jacksboro resident Thursday night of last week, while they were enroute to Malone to attend the funeral of Paul Schmidt, brother of O. W. The crash occurred about 6 miles northwest of Springtown on the North-west highway out of Fort Worth.

A charge of murder while drunk is to be filed against the Jacksboro man. One person, J. M. Armstrong, 62, of Jacksboro, was killed in the crash. The suspect was being treated for bruises and lacerations. He was to be arraigned as soon as his physical condition made it possible for him to be taken to Weatherford, a dispatch from Fort Worth said.

O. W. Schmidt and Alvin Schreider were the most seriously injured of any of the Floyd county party, it appeared. They were being treated in Harris Memorial hospital in Fort Worth. Schreider is a sailor in the United States Navy and was spending a part of his vacation at Lockney.

Donald Thomas underwent a tonsilectomy Tuesday and is reported as doing fine.

The pension promise probably will prove the most embarrassing problem O' Daniel will find in his lap after he takes the oath of office. There are about 250,000 persons over 65 in Texas who can qualify. Payments of $30 a month to each of them will total around $750,000,000 a year. Under O'Daniel's promise, the State of Texas will have to carry all of the pension burden, without Federal aid because under the regulations of the Federal Social Security Board, the U. S. agency will not participate in any State pension program not based upon need, which pays a fixed equal sum to all who qualify as to age. At present, the State is pensioning about 12,000 people, with an average monthly payment of between $12 and $13 each. The total annual cost is about $18,000,000 and the Federal government the same amount. There is money in sight to continue these payments until January 1. Mr. O'Daniel will have need of all his reputed business ability to find a place to raise the $80,000,000 a year he will need to carry out his program. Mountain music won't do it.—Clarendon News

The most disillusioned person these days is one who thinks he can pick up and leave anytime, seeking new fields and step into steady employment. If you can't find a job where you are, after looking for it several months, it is foolish to think one can be picked up at a moment's notice somewhere else.—Board County News.
