Loan and Grant For Municipal Electric Plant Approved

Cotton Harvest Starts Up As Staple Whitens In Fields

Floyd County Gins Roar As Cotton Is Pouring To Market

400 Bales Have Been Ginned
In County Since Season
Opened Is Estimate

With the cotton season rapidly approaching full speed the gins worked only at half speed as the cotton trickled in from the country. Floydada gins have totaled 91 bales since the season opened, up to Wednesday afternoon.

Other gins over the county have ginned in the vicinity of 30 bales each on the average. Reports generally were that the cotton this year is producing a great deal more lint than in a long time but that the staple is only "fair."

The cotton crop this year in the county will be at least one-third smaller than last year's crop most of the cotton experts agree due to the drastic cut in acreage and the fact that the cotton that was planted had only sufficient moisture to mature and little more.

Mrs. Kreis, Mrs. Stiles Arranged Exhibit For Fair

Mrs. A. H. Kreis, Dougherty, and Mrs. George Stiles, Campbell, members of the exhibit committee of the county home demonstration council, set up an educational exhibit September 23 at the Panhandle-South Plains fair at Lubbock, representing the Floyd county home demonstration clubs.

For the last few years, each county in the district with a home demonstration agent has arranged an educational exhibit at the fair, demonstrating some proven method for farm and home use recommended by the Extension Service. The exhibit from Floyd county called "Balance Your Meals With Milk," brings out the need of the quart of milk each day in the diet of every individual.

Fourteen counties arranged exhibits this year in the Woman's building. These are not on a competitive basis since each county is awarded the same prize of $10.00.

Smile Wins. A winsome smile and an unaffected personality are two of the charms of Sappho Ward, who is the leading feminine character in a south plains cinema production which will be shown at the Palace here on Tuesday and Wednesday nights next. A high school girl Sappho was chosen for the part she has in competition with numerous west Texas girls.

Renewed Contract On Collection Of Delinquent Taxes

City Employs Parr Merriman
Co. To Continue Work
For Next 12 Months

Reviewing their relations for the past 14 months and checking up on the results of the campaign conducted for the collection of delinquent taxes, members of the city council and Parr Merriman of Parr Merriman company Monday night agreed on a plan for a continuation of the work looking toward its completion in a period of 12 months.

A formal contract to this effect is to be signed as soon as it is drawn by attorneys for the municipality and for Parr Merriman company.

Tuesday morning Mr. Merriman was plain and vigorous in stating his position as special collector for the city. "We are going to collect the taxes due the city on the delinquent list or turn them into judgements," said he. "We are going to be as reasonable and considerate as we can, and are going to handle the matter in a way to work the least hardship possible, even going so far as to accept partial payments on delinquent tax bills. But frankly, the city has obligations it must meet and they have hired me to get the only money they have in sight to meet these obligations."

Mr. Merriman illustrated what he meant by pushing collections against delinquents by pointing out some $3,000 worth of personal taxes that individuals have permitted to accumulate, on which suits through justice court processes will be instituted unless paid. "A municipality cannot continue indefinitely collecting off 60 per cent of its citizens and letting the other 40 per cent get by without ruining its financial position and eventually defaulting on its debts, just like Floydada unfortunately has done," Merriman said. "This error the council sees and they are going to try to work out of it."

During the past sixteen months the city has retired approximately $25,000 of its indebtedness by delinquent collections and prompt payment of current taxes, a review of the efforts in the campaign today revealed.

Cotton Warehouse Unit Number Two Is Begun Monday

Additional 2,500 Bale Storage
Capacity Announced By Warehouseman

Additional storage capacity of 2,500 bales will be provided by a second warehouse unit in Floydada, construction on which was begun Monday of this week on a contract let by Johnson, McBride & Sparks. The firm entered the cotton warehouse business here in the fall of last year and handled many thousands of bales of cotton. This year the additional unit is being provided in anticipation of further development of the warehouse business here to serve this area.

L. S. Sparks will be manager of the plant this season and announced the first of this week on arrival that active receipt of cotton will be started as the gins get their season runs under way. He comes to Floydada from Hamlin which area the firm has several warehouses in operation. He holds a classer's license from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Only licensed classers will be permitted to class cotton for warehouse storage this season, he pointed out.

The new warehouse will be 60 by 160 feet in size, the same as the first unit constructed and similar in construction otherwise.

Floyd County Wheat Being Tried In Idaho

Floyd county wheat, being tried in Idaho this year, up around Craigmont on the western edge of the Nez Perce reservation, came in for a story last week in the Craigmont newspaper.

W. E. Morckel, who visited his nephew, Harry, here last year, took 7 pounds of Floyd county raised black hull home with him in the hope of finding a hard winter wheat that would produce true to type in that soft-wheat section.

Planting the 7 pounds of seed on the Foster Walker farm Mr. Morckel obtained 6 bushels of grain that tested 61 pounds, the newspaper reports. The wheat was sown on hay ground on the first day of November, is the way it is said in Idaho. Forty to 50 bushel yields are not uncommon in that section of Idaho, a clipping from the Craigmont paper indicates. However, the grain is soft and takes a 25 to 30-cent dock off the Chicago No. 1 price before it ever leaves the farm and Idaho farmers are intensely interested accordingly, in producing a hard grain wheat that will not take such a heavy penalty. To date their efforts have been unavailing. Mr. Morckel will plant his 6-bushel produce from the Floyd county grain again this year under varying conditions, hoping that it may be the wheat that stands up and makes the hard wheat standard.

With the rapid approach of winter in the Idaho area mentioned the wheat harvest has been hurriedly carried on, the news clippings indicate. "The grain elevators in Idaho," says one of the stories, "are well filled and about all the grain they are now receiving must either be consigned or sold. Considerable grain is being received and loaded directly into the car for shipment to the coast for storage."

HIGHWAY DEPT. FOSTERS RADIO SAFETY BROADCASTS

A series of radio programs sponsored and fostered by the State Highway department in co-operation with the Department of Public Safety and a commercial sponsor is being heard each Sunday morning over three popular Texas stations, WFAP-WBAP, WOAL and KPRC.

R. T. Roane, resident engineer of the highway department suggests that the program fills an important mission in the education of the public by focusing attention upon the contributing causes of highway accidents.

The series began early in September and are to be heard several weeks more. Beginning at 9:15 each Sunday morning.

REA To Let Contract on October 12

Organization Selects Engineer; Plans And Specifications Are Reviewed

October 12 is the date tentatively set by the Floyd County Rural Electric Co-Operative for letting bids on the construction of their lines, it was learned this week.

Meanwhile plans and specifications are being reviewed by R. E. A. engineers, it was said at the local office.

The week has been a very busy one for the personnel of the R. E. A. Co-op. After considerable delay last week in getting a resident engineer selected, finally on Monday of this week Alfred Chetham-Strode was employed by the directors.

Present at the Monday meeting also were Mr. Lee and Mr. Hagen, field engineers of the national Rural Electric administration.

Committee Works Out Plan For Encouraging High School Athletics

Plans were made last night by a committee of 5 named this week to promote more systematic aid and assistance from enthusiasts for the high school athletic program.

This committee agreed to call their organization the "Whirlwind Athletic Club," the purpose being to promote high school athletics from year to year, to back up the coaches in their work and give general encouragement to youth of the area.

Membership in the club is to cost $1, and after a drive has been completed it is hoped to hold a rally at the high school and at that time name permanent officers.

The club is not confined to businessmen in any sense but is intended to include all fans in the section who would like to enroll in such an effort.

K. Terrell made the suggestion that resulted in the Monday night meeting when the committee of 5 was named. This committee is composed of C. T. Scott, G. T. Young, K. Terrell, W. L. Fry, and Conner Oden.

CCC Delays Sale Stored Farm Cotton

Producers Held Liable
Study Of Final Disposition To Be Made

Possibility that the sale of cotton involved in Commodity Credit Corporation loans, called in a number of West Texas counties, including Floyd, may be postponed until April 1 of next year, was indicated in the conference held Monday at Lubbock. This proposal was made by George E. Rathell, secretary-treasurer of the corporation, Washington, who met with a committee of producers in Lubbock Monday. Among these were Bill Norman and J. R. Hinton from Floyd county.

The producers committee, representing about fifteen West Texas counties and headed by Joe M. Rose of Dickens as chairman, requested of the Commodity Credit Corporation, in presenting their case to Mr. Rathell, that no liability be placed on the producer. Mr. Rathell did not approve this request but made a tentative proposal for the Commodity Credit Corporation under the terms of which the suggested postponement of sale would be made until April 1, prior to which time plans for a final disposition of these loans could be made.

Mr. Rathell stated that in any event none of the cotton involved in these loans which are being called would be sold by the government until he has had time to return to the Washington office and confer with his associates and submit a report to the committee headed by Mr. Rose of Dickens.

Mr. Rose stated that when the Commodity Credit Corporation had reported to him he would advise the members of his committee and the county agents in the territory involved.

The particular cotton now involving includes cotton stored at Haskell, Hamlin, Lorenzo, and Snyder as well as cotton formerly stored at Jayton.

Co-Operative Cold Storage Locker System Assured As Farmers Subscribe To Plan

Organization Officials, Directors Chosen; Construction To Start Soon

The Co-Operative cold storage locker system for Floydada trade territory has been subscribed for, officials have been chosen and plans are being made to start construction soon so as to have the plant in operation by November 1, it was announced this week.

Subscribers to the locker system met last Friday in the office of County Agent D. F. Brethauer where they perfected their organization. Sam Brewer, of Blanco, was elected president, John Lloyd, Floydada, vice-president, Mrs. G. R. May, Baker, secretary-treasurer. These with A. H. Kreis of Dougherty and G. L. Snodgrass of Harmony make up the board of directors.

65 members were present for the meeting.

There is still time for others to secure lockers, it is announced, if the applicant will see a member of the board before construction begins on the system.

250 to 300 pounds of perishable foods can be stored in one of the lockers and maintained in good condition for an indefinite period of time, and the plan is expected to prove of great value to the people of the area.

Whirlwinds Face An Open Date This Week

Concentrating on swift breaking pass plays and defense plays the Whirlwinds were whirled through heavy drills this week in spite of the fact that they have an open date this Friday.

The Whirlwinds will meet the Estelina Cubs here on October 7 under the Wester Field lights and from past experience and performance the Cubs are due to lose more than enough passes at the green and white team.

Estelina will meet the Paducah Dragons on the neutral Childrens field Friday in their first conference game of the year. The Cubs defeated the Dragons last year and Paducah will be seeking revenge.

Information from Estelina indicates that the Cubs have only two veterans from last year's eleven and that they are exceptionally light and green. However Coach Sunderman was able to whip a green team into a strong contender last year that tied the Whirlwinds 6 to 6, the Floydada boys managing to win on penetrations.

The Whirlwinds displayed a varied attack to defeat the Tulla Hornets Friday 18 to 0 but Winter expressed a doubt that his boys were strong on pass defense against a team that could leave 'em.

The Whirlwinds seemed confident to whirlwind but they are expected to be in shape mentally and physically for the contest.

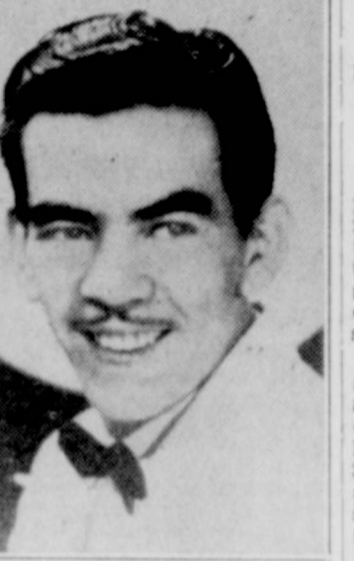

James Fry Gibbs has been out of practice all week with an injured arm which he has been carrying in a sling. R. E. Goughly is out of scrimmage with a siege of boils that has put his throwing arm out of commission for the time being. The remainder of the squad seems to be in top condition.

Games in the district this week will be Dimmitt at Silverton, Turkey at Matador, Quitaque at Lockney, Estelina vs. Paducah at Chickney, Happy at Flomot, Floydada and Spur are facing open dates.

Turkey is leading the District 4-B conference race with one victory and no defeats, with Quitaque in the cellar with no victories and one defeat. No other conference games have been played.

Work on Contract North Is Started By Bell & Braden

Farm To Market Hard Surface Project Extends 6.7
From Floydada

Construction of a stretch of 6.7 miles of hard-surfaced road north from Floydada toward Silverton was begun Monday by a Bell & Braden crew for the State Highway department.

Beginning at the end of the pavement on East Missouri street the crew started laying a 26-foot caliche base on which will be constructed a 24-foot roadbed similar to the work done on Highway 28. Meanwhile the company set up offices here in the Kirk building northeast corner of the square and began preparations to put the work on a rush basis by the end of this week.

Known as a farm to market project in which the state highway department is joined by the Bureau of Good roads of the federal government in providing funds, a total of $37,735 is to be expended, or approximately $5,500 per mile to provide one of the best roads yet constructed in the county.

Efforts of the commissioners' court to get the department to undertake an additional mileage north on the route by using the WPA workers of the county had not been of any avail up to the earlier part of this week. Members of the court visited the commission 10 days ago to ask for such a project but were told the commission could not commit itself without further study of the situation.

R. T. Roane is resident engineer on the local work now under construction. He opened offices here shortly after the first of the month. Bell & Braden of Amarillo, who were awarded the contract on September 5 received their working orders last week-end and immediately got on the ground to begin the hard surfacing.

Floydada High FFA Boys Win Third At Lubbock On Display

Floydada high school Future Farmers of America club won third place in the judging completed yesterday on their exhibit in the Panhandle South Plains Fair where there were 21 clubs in competition. "Growing and fattening pigs" was the scheme around which the boys built their exhibit. Sixty of them, with their coach, W. Alpha King, spent Wednesday at the fair.

Joe Smith in the junior club competition won second and third with his project pigs. Orba and Lynn Miller's herd of Chester Whites won the fair as a result of Orba's project efforts.

City Awaits Formal Note From PWA

$83,000 Loan, $67,735 Grant
Okeyed, Mahon And Sheppard Wire

Officials of the City of Floydada yesterday awaited formal advice from the Public Works Administration, confirming telegraphic news that an application for loan and grant for construction of a municipal light plant and distribution system had been approved.

Tuesday messages to the city authorities from Senator Morris Sheppard and from Congressman George Mahon, advised that the loan and grant had been authorized. $3,000 is the amount of the loan approved and $67,735 the grant. Messages from the senator and congressman were followed within a few hours by confirmation from the state office of the Public Works Administration, in which officials were advised that the loan and grant were definitely arranged and that the city could proceed with its plans.

The loan and grant were applied for under the authorization of the city council approximately 60 days ago. However, hopes had dimmed considerably with public statements from the national administrator which said that all the public works allotment to come to Texas had been used up, and forthrightly declaring that no further allotments would be granted this state.

"We're mighty proud of the good fortune that has come the city's way," Glad Snodgrass, mayor, said. "Naturally, there are many things to be done before we start a light and power plant and distribution system. However, the council is of a mind to make haste as fast as good business will permit," he declared. "We have what appears to be a saving of over $50,000 here in a plant and if we can take care of this saving and make our money go just as far as it will we will have done a big job and will have our city in much better position to meet its obligations and eventually see out."

Formalities of the application were worked out by S. E. Duncan, city secretary, Ben Ayres, city attorney, and Carl C. Cox, city engineer, acting under the general direction of the council and mayor.

Road Building East Through Precinct 3 As A WPA Project

Construction of the east and west road through Precinct 3 to the Motley county line from the boundaries of Precinct 2 was begun last week-end, following its authorization as a county-sponsored project.

The road runs approximately 1 mile south of South Plains and connects with similar road construction done practically through the whole extent east and west of Precinct 2 to provide an excellent country road. Commissioner B. E. Cybert, who is working with the WPA authorities for the county, expects to straighten out the roadway descending the caprock west of Flomot and make a much better road "up the hill" than is provided at present. The project authorized recently, will afford work for a heavy complement of men on the WPA rolls of the county.

Mahon Encourages Local Delegation On Dam Proposal

George Mahon told members of a local delegation that keeping on keeping on, in his opinion, was the only way they could make their dam and recreation park plans dream on Blanco canyon come true.

His co-operation is actively enlisted in the effort, a committee which called on Mr. Mahon Tuesday, convinced. Contact with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics is being made by the congressman and he is urging Washington authorities to lend a sympathetic ear to the south plains proposal. The Floyd county proposal has been sent to Washington for approval before further steps will be taken.

In the party who conferred with the congressman at his Lubbock office were Conner Oden, R. E. Fry, O. M. Watson, George-elect G. C. Tubbs and Mayor Glad Snodgrass. Members of the commissioners' court, all favorable to the project, were tied up in other matters and could not be contacted quickly after the congressman had advised he could confer with the delegation late Tuesday.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nealie Witt Sparks

For the last thirty or forty minutes my daughter has been reminding me about writing this column in time for the mail. But I was busy washing windows. A task which I dislike very much and wanted to finish before I quit. Paint had to be scraped off and the screeching sound makes one's flesh crawl. The finishing up in the house takes much time and the things are in their place and I learn all the new ways of keeping my things.

The new house, a house the friends can come and feel at home, is not fine, just comfortable. Doors are not alike, only that they have a coat of white paint. Old fashioned door knobs keep company with new fashioned ones.

My kitchen has sheet rock walls enameled white. The carpenter made a large convenient cabinet. I put things in one compartment and then change to another. Childish ways denoting age. Kitchen and dining room are in one. And in a corner I have a writing desk. Red trimmed curtains and gay pictures brighten the room. From my work at the sink I look through a window North and remember.

I see a new house on the draw a young man, and a young woman carrying a little baby, leaving the house in a wagon coming to our place. Perhaps for some eggs to set, maybe just to visit for a few hours. Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Hamilton and Helen. Mrs. Hamilton had a dresser and a library table, I had neither. She did beautiful hand work and was such a dear, sweet friend. And memory brings back the new baby, Dorothy, who always loved me so. Oh, the road I look over is peopled with buggies and wagons and friends of yesterday.

The McDermitts dressed in Sunday clothes, setting strail in the big back. The McSpaddens I see, and Mr. and Mrs. White from Louisville, Kentucky in their shiny, much admired glass top buggy.

I see three children Wilson, Wilda and Wilma in a Spaulding back, quilts over their knees, a foot warmer kept hot with burning charcoal brick, at their feet.

Book satchels, and dinner buckets, a baseball, bat, and Prince, the young horse that was so big and tall. And I hear voices again, the sweet voice of Mrs. Hamilton the teasing voice of Wilson. I smell the fragrance of cow chip fires, of blossoming trees at the Pelphry orchard. White face cows and calves in the big fields of cane and maize. Oh, it makes me sad and at the same time happy, to look up this road.

New, dear friends come this road and once and awhile dear, old friends come. The children come, not in the old hack, but in the swift moving cars. I watch for Uncle Sam's carrier, and letters come from friends, down this road. Roads that lead to your home and to your heart. Would you ever want to forget them? Friends that are miles and miles away, do you not want to come back over the roads that you once travelled with pleasure and sometimes with aching and breaking hearts?

Mrs. Venita McLain who you have known as Venita Stark, brought her line boy to see me last week. Seven months old and weighing 25 pounds. He is a dandy and I was glad to see him and his sweet mother.

From the poem, Our Pioneers, by Katharine Atherton Orimes, I like it very much and I am sure you will too.

A hundred years have passed since that first clearing, The first log cabin in the strange new land, Of all the hopes, the daring, and the

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON — Insect pests have gone west this year in such numbers that they have become a major problem for the farmer of the Great Plains and Rocky Mountain regions. The Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Entomology has sent field men into 24 western states in an attempt to prevent the heavy crop losses suffered last year. In 1937 grasshoppers damaged $66,000,000 worth of crops, and the Mormon cricket was responsible for $598,000 damage.

Utah people are sentimental about sea gulls, which appeared accidentally to save the crops of Brigham Young's followers from a Mormon cricket blight many years ago, but government entomologists depend on poison dust in their control program. They use poison bait to fight the "hoppers."

Despite the most approved scientific methods of control, the pests have got out of hand this year. They breed in idle lands where control is difficult, and move from uncultivated to cultivated land.

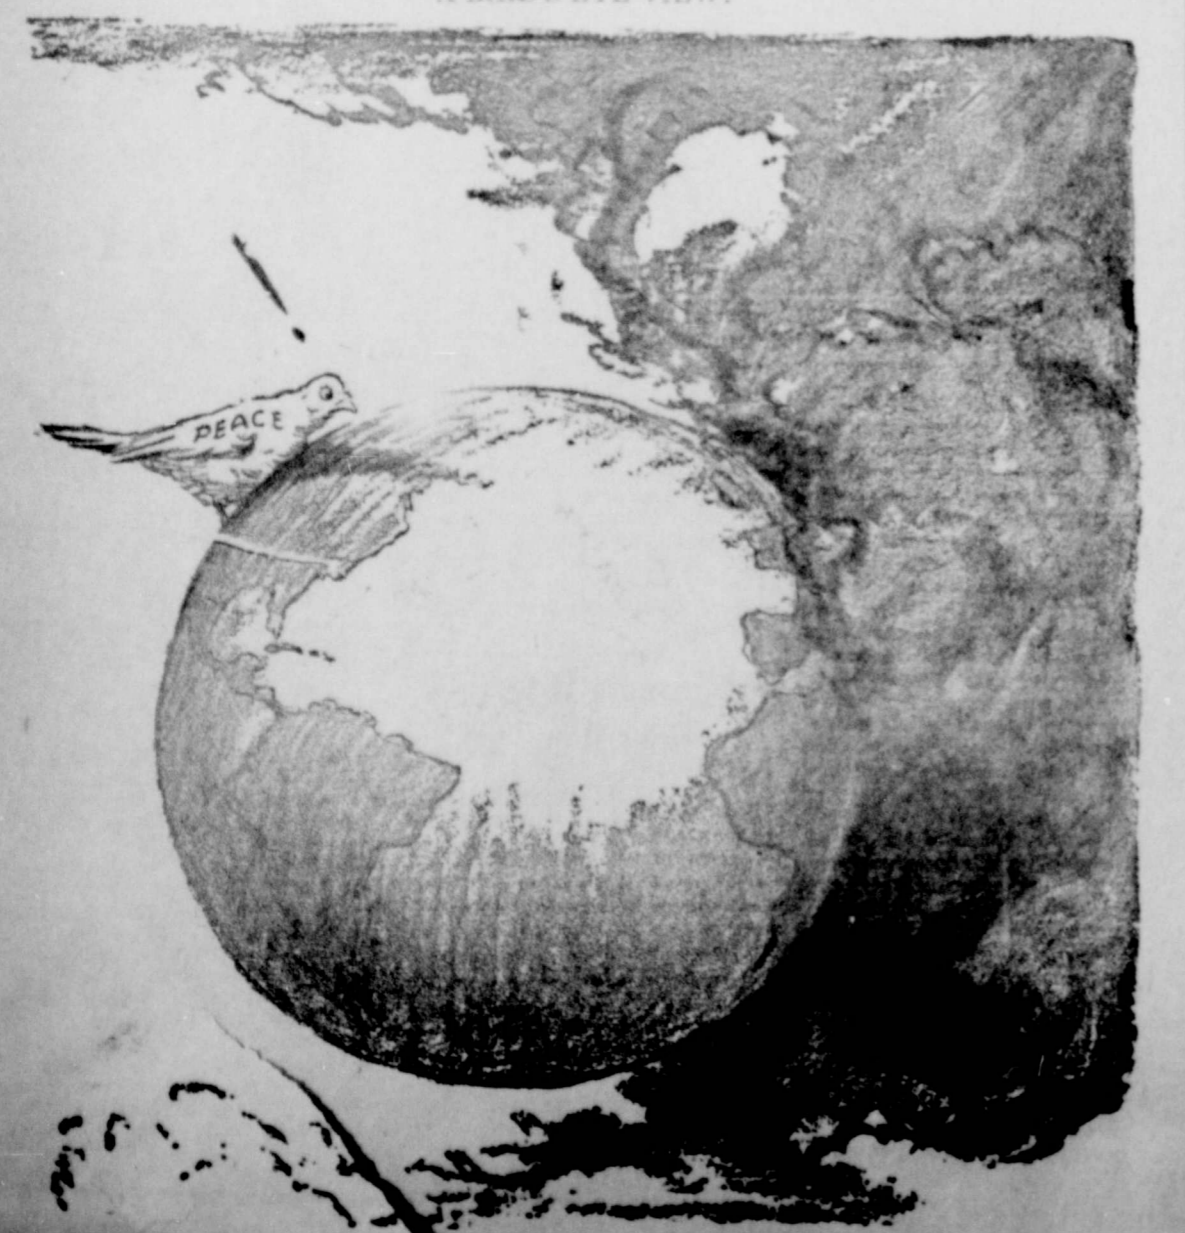

Crickets and hoppers are not the only pests which wheat and corn farmers co-operating with government experts must fight to maintain "balanced agricultural economy." There is the army worm, the Hessian fly, the wheat stem maggot, the corn-eat worm, the European corn borer, the cinch bug, the corn leaf aphid, the lantern fly, rootworm, flea beetle and billbugs. Vegetable growers and cotton planters have their troubles too. But the hopper, the Mormon cricket fearing, How little we today can understand! We keep the legends of those days, like fables. Half true, half but the figment of the years; Yet here where our own homesteads life their gables, How can we doubt the truth that thus appears?

Before we eat, some hand must turn the furrow; Before we play, there's work that must be done; Before we lived, our day was their tomorrow To those who pioneered beneath this sun. Today remembered—'tis a gesture, only— Tomorrow we'll forget and go our ways; But somewhere they are lying, still and lonely, Who earned—so hard—this trifling need of praise.

Lost we, like all the world, shall prove ungrateful, And all unworthy of their valiant aid. We'll lift their torch, and pass it, high and fateful, To those who follow us upon this soil. They found a land, and left it freer, finer, A legacy for all the coming years; And never shall we know a faith divider, Than that which thus inspired our Pioneers.

A BIRD'S EYE VIEW!

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

(Issue of October 2, 1924)

The green and white of Floydada High school was triumphant in their first encounter of the gridiron, earning a well deserved victory over Plainview High school on the Floydada Baseball park 21 to 0 last Friday afternoon before a crowd of several hundred fans of Plainview, Floydada and neighboring towns.

Floyd county won third again, its exhibit at Wichita Falls repeating the performance at Amarillo last week when with Maurey Hopkins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, at the helm it again ran the winners close for first place, the exhibit being judged almost exactly the same number of points below first place winner. Dallam's score was 18 points greater than Floyd's. Hale county was given a lead over Floyd county for second place.

Cotton, on the streets of Floydada was selling from 24 1/2 to 24 3/4 yesterday afternoon late, buyers paying from 25 to 100 points above the market here for all offerings. 276 bales of cotton had been ginned at the four gins in Floydada last night, nearly a half less than was expected this time last week.

A new department has been introduced in the Floydada High school this year, that of Home Economics. The work is well under way now and the Home Economics room is constantly a scene of girls working away on the homemaking activities.

The laboratories are equipped most efficiently and are also most attractive, the guiding rules in planning this equipment were economy, convenience and sanitation. All have been carried out well. The board of trustees has taken a special interest in this work, and the result is, that things have been done as they should have been done.

Plans for the Sand Hill Community fair to be held at the school house on October 10 are maturing very rapidly. The school intends to serve sandwiches to those who come from a distance or those who do not care to bring their lunch with them.

In addition to other features of the fair there will be held a Better Baby show, the details yet are to be worked out.

Mrs. S. W. Ross was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge club at its meeting Wednesday afternoon of this week.

W. H. Hilton this week is re-arranging the interior of the Palace Barber shop preparatory to installing at an early date a beauty parlor. Mrs. W. R. Gooke, recently from Munday will have charge of the ladies' department of the shop.

Your Telephone Company is Mostly People serving you in Texas

IT TAKES a lot of people... nearly 9,000 in Texas... to see that more than four million telephone calls each day flow swiftly to their destinations.

It takes operators, whose skilled fingers stand ready to flash your calls on their way; linemen, to keep the voice paths open for your words; experts to see that no trouble happens in the intricate telephone apparatus that serves you; engineers; accountants; men and girls in business offices.

To each one of these 9,000, Texas is "home."

They work here; their children are in Texas schools. Last year their pay checks totaled more than eleven million dollars, and they spent nearly all of this in Texas. They are an important part of your community.

The telephone company, like its people, is also part of Texas. It is here to meet this state's need for friendly, dependable telephone service. It serves its own interests best by giving good service at reasonable cost to you. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Tulia Hornets Fail To Hold Whirlwinds; Lose by 18 to 0 As Floydada Hits Warpath

George Fry Lider Accounts For Two Touchdowns; Beard Makes First

Floydada's mighty mites kicked the dope bucket for a loop Friday night under Wester Field's lights and subdued a swarming bunch of Tulia Hornets 18 to 0. Play throughout was featured by the booting of Lider, pass snatching by Gollightly, smashes by Lider and McCasland and the general razzle-dazzle of the Floydada attack.

All set to smash down anything the small Floydada line and backs might offer the Hornets got caught flat-footed on the first play after they had kicked off to Floydada.

Touchdown On First
With the ball on their own 30 yard stripe Lider took the ball on what appeared to be a slant off his left tackle just as he was downed at the line he flipped a lateral to Freddy Beard who raced the remaining 70 yards in front of interference for the touchdown. Lider missed his kick. Floydada 6, Tulia 0.

McCasland took the kickoff. Cook made 6, Fletcher made it a first down on the 38, McCasland stepped off 10 yards for another first down. Turner broke through for 12, McCasland lost 5, Turner made 3, pass fell incomplete, Turner punted across the goal line.

With the ball on their 20-yard marker Daniels made no gain, fake punt made no gain, a repeat on the fake punt gained 3, Lider punted to the Tulia 49.

McCasland made 5, pass fell incomplete, Turner made 5 for first down, McCasland made 2, Turner made 9 for first down, Cook ripped for 1, Turner gained 4, Cook gained nothing, Turner gained 1 to the Floydada 28. A pass fell incomplete and the ball went over.

Ball on Floydada 28: Lider picked up 9 through the line but failed to gain on a repeat, Lider gained 1 as quarter ended. Floydada 6, Tulia 0.

Standing behind his goal, Lider booted out to the Tulia 40-yard line. Tulia fumbled on next play, Fickes recovered ball for Floydada on the Tulia 48.

Daniels ran to the Tulia 15 yard line, Gollightly stepped off two paces, Lider drove to the 7-yard line, Beard gained 2, Lider punted to the 1-yard stripe, Lider smashed across for the second touchdown. Lider missed goal. Floydada 12, Tulia 0.

Tulia received the kickoff on their 35 yard line. Turner quick-kicked to Floydada's 30. Daniels snaked for 7, Gollightly made it a first down, Gollightly failed to gain, Lider gained 2 and then picked up 4 on a repeat, Lider punted to Tulia's 30 and McCasland fumbled with Fickes recovering for Floydada as the half arrived. Floydada 12, Tulia 0.

The Deadline
(By Bill Hams)

The "Saturday morning" quarter-backs got in their whack after the Tulia game... on every corner and alley they were strutting their stuff. But the boys having the most fun were those that snapped up the extra point bets being passed out before the game. A few boys gave away 18 points and took Tulia... plenty gave 12... and enough gave 6. Floydada pulled a "colossal" upset if the betting angle means an iota.

Buck Jackson, Flomot's master-minder, practically wore out a fistful of pencils and a couple of writing pads jotting down the dope on the Whirlwinds... which he hopes to beat sometime next month. The boys gave him an eyeful as well as a notebook full of dope he can tell his Longhorns. Other conference coaches were about also, hoping to see the dope on FHS.

Bill Scott, local ginner, said he fainted on the first play of the game... recovered just in time to see Lider smash to the second touchdown and then fainted dead-away again. Bill wasn't the only fan to have heart trouble that first half either. J. C. Wester, A. B. Clark, and W. Collins quarterbacked the entire game... from the reserved seat section.

Lider gained almost 100 yards from scrimmage not counting his passing, punting and blocking. Daniels was hindered by several risings on his legs that slowed him down considerable.

Gollightly did himself a good-all-around job of blocking, running, and snagging passes. The laurels, however, must be passed to Fickes, sub-guard, who recovered two Tulia fumbles and helped Floydada out of some tight spots. He also filled his guard slot... watch this boy as the season ages.

Tulia rooters couldn't believe their eyes, when Floydada pulled the "cat" out of the bag on the first play and

Freddy scooted 78 marks for that touch. They weren't convinced until the second touchdown and were not whipped until Floydada repulsed their touchdown drive in the third quarter when Henson recovered one of their fumbles on the Floydada 10 yard line.

The rooters for FHS got in their squawk when the umps called back a beauty of triple-lateral touchdown run with Daniels ending up across the pay-off stripe. The run totaled about 45 yards. The real howl went up in the fourth stanza when Lider plucked down a Tulia forward and scooted through a broken field for 40 yards and a touch... "no soap" however the umps said penalty and stepped it off. Some of the fans thought the officials left their "specs" at home.

McCasland, Tulia half, kept the customers on the edge of their reservations all evening with his drives and slants... he is evidently Tulia's main spring.

Remember "open date" this week, then the conference row will start.

"This is the richest, strongest novel Mrs. Prouty has yet written. Lisa Vale is not presented as a heroine; she has her temptations, makes her mistakes, suffers disappointment, doubt, fear. MORE RELIABLE MEDICINE IS AIM OF NEW DRUG LAW

The new Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act—which goes into full effect next June—broadens considerably the power to protect the public by restricting dangerous drugs, informing buyers of possible dangers, and holding dealers more strictly to definite standards, thus making medication safer. The new law closes a lot of old loopholes which 30 years of experience had revealed.

For example, the old law required a label statement of the presence and amount of certain habit-forming drugs. The new law requires that the label reveal the quantity of these and other drugs and bear, in addition, the statement "Warning—May be habit forming," when this is the case. Potent drugs must also bear adequate warning against over-dosage.

Nonofficial drugs—those not listed under official standards—could be sold if they did not fall below the strength claimed on the label, but they might be stronger. The new law says they are illegal if they differ—up as well as down—from the strength named in the label, an important distinction according to officials of the Food and Drug Administration. With many drugs essential in medicine—ergot and digitalis for example—an overdose may be as dangerous as a preparation too weak to get results.

These, and other new protective provisions were designed to make medication more precise, scientific, and reliable, to aid the Food and Drug Administration in protecting the public in a field where it has been impossible for buyers to protect themselves.

IN BUILDING TERRACES, BUILD OUTLETS FIRST

Planning field terraces for the control of soil erosion is one place where it generally pays to "put the cart ahead of the horse," according to the Soil Conservation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

In the past, farmers usually built terraces without much regard for taking care of the water that emptied out of the terrace channels. And when water from the channels started washing and gullying on adjacent fields, pastures, or in roadside ditches, there wasn't much they could do except provide makeshift outlets.

Modern terrace planning reverses the old procedure. Instead of building terraces and then worrying about safe outlets, service engineers now put the outlets in first—anywhere from one to four years in advance of actual terrace construction.

They select two or three natural waterways, sod them down, or seed them to grass or other types of close growing vegetation, and then build terraces from year to year as the outlets become established. This makes possible a systematic terrace program over a period of years and at the same time cuts down the cost of terracing by doing away with the necessity for expensive concrete and masonry outlet structures.

COLD STORAGE LOCKERS APPEAL TO TOWNSPEOPLE

Cold storage lockers for fruits, vegetables, and meats are used by townspeople as well as farmers, says K. P. Warner, extension meat specialist of the United States Department of Agriculture. A recent survey of community storage plants shows that from 10 to 50 percent of the families renting lockers are town residents.

These village families find they too can hold fresh fruits and vegetables in freezing storage until the out-of-season months roll around. They grow their own fruits and vegetables—and possibly meats—or they buy them from farmers. As most lockers are located in town, they are really more convenient for townspeople than for farmers.

In the summer months when "garden stuff" is plentiful and prices are low the village housewife often finds it convenient to store a part of her winter supply of fruits and vegetables by freezing rather than by canning or drying. Garden peas, green beans, sweet corn, and lima beans are among the vegetables stored. Small fruits, especially berries, take little space and keep well. Meat—especially beef, lamb, or pork—may be stored at any season, but usually goes into the lockers in the cool months. An entire carcass may be stored in meal-size portions, wrapped and labeled.

That the lockers can be operated successfully is shown in the rapid growth of community plants throughout the country. Family-size locker units came into use only a little more than 5 years ago. Plants are now operating successfully in at least 21 states. Development has been particularly rapid in the corn belt and the Pacific Northwest. Research may be expected to improve freezing storage methods, says Mr. Warner.

Sauger Smaller Pike-Perch

Home Ec Club Purchases New Refrigerator For Department As Gift

There have been a number of changes made in the home economics department this year. To begin with, the floors in the clothing and foods rooms have been sanded and given a special clear floor finish. The table tops in the foods room have been sanded and given a clear coat of varnish. Rubber coasters have been placed on each chair and stool in the department, so as to help protect the floors. A magazine stand and a new picture have been added to the clothing room. The curtains in the foods room have been cleaned by the girls. There are several growing plants in the windows. There are usually cut flowers in the dining room and on the teachers' desks, which give the department a more home like appearance. The second year clothing class has made covers for the machines out of printed creton, which adds more color to the room. A new Hotpoint, General Electric refrigerator was delivered Monday for the foods laboratory. The members of the Home Economics club have and are making the money to pay for the refrigerator. This is a gift to the Home Economics department from the club.

The Aggies are planning to go to the South Plains Fair at Lubbock, Wednesday. If enough of the boys plan to go, they will take two buses. There will be many educational sights. The boys who go will be given credit on this in agriculture. The local officers plan to initiate the new boys as Greenhands the first of next week. There are 31 boys to be initiated as green hands. Aidine Williams, who is a Junior in high school is treasurer of our local chapter and is taking his third year of agriculture. He had for his projects last year: one acre of cotton, a pig for gilt production and two acres of white dwarf milo. He plans to have this year a sow for pig production and seven acres of milo.

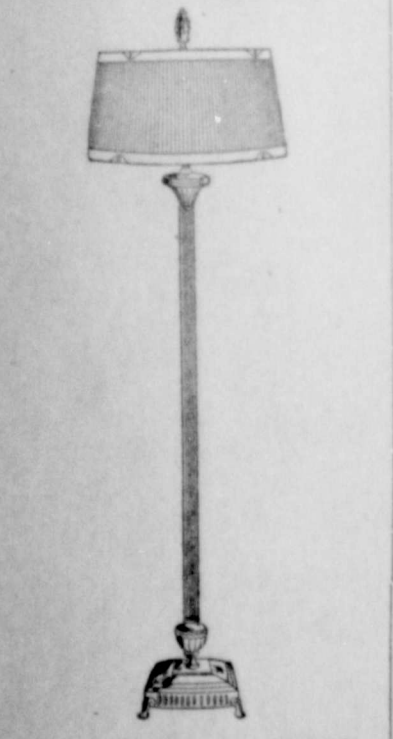

The Freshmen class seems to be progressing nicely. In Spanish class today, Mrs. Jones held a vocabulary contest in which the fresher pupils seem to have done better than the rest. Freshmen this year have been complimented many times for their good conduct. They only hope it will last. The Freshmen feel honored in having several promising football players. If it takes interest, energy, and vitality to make football players, these freshmen have it. Eight grade girls are entering into several well-known high school clubs, including pep clubs and home economics club. The Freshmen as a whole are enjoying their first weeks in high school.

What The Classes Are Doing Now

SENIOR RINGS
The senior class is happy this week. The long-awaited senior rings are in and with them a revival of spirits. Several hands have come into prominence as the seniors strike hand-conscious poses in efforts to show off the rings to the best advantage. And they are justified because the rings are lovely as well as serviceable. Of heavy engraved gold set with a deep ruby stone, the rings follow the collegiate type of senior ring. The gold is engraved with the following inscriptions: knowledge, service, courage, truth, loyalty, and honor. Qualities which each senior hopes to cultivate and standards by which he hopes to live.

The gold is engraved with the following inscriptions: knowledge, service, courage, truth, loyalty, and honor. Qualities which each senior hopes to cultivate and standards by which he hopes to live.

This week the senior class is to be organized, and this will be one of the high points of the year. There is no joy which compares with that of feeling like a full-fledged senior.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

The junior class of 1938-39 are proud of their many new members. They are Winnie Ruth Anderson, Wanda Baxter, Anna Cates, Irene Daily, Jennie Lou Harper, Marie Harrison, Opal Knight, Nadine Lightfoot, Aileen McIntyre, Verona Miller, Irene Owens, Enora Smalley, Lula Lee Teal, Margaret Tubbs, Virginia Wington, Thurman Batten. Uolan Brand, Frank Breed, Eddie Brown, Roland deCordova, Delbert Dillard, Ernest Emert, Ray Fickes, Edwin Gilbreath, Carl Lee Gilly, Verne Graham, Victor Green, Raymond Haman, John Hollum, Randal Irwin, Bill Jackson, Olen Lyles, Leland May, Kenneth Miskey, Hollis McLain, Harvey Lee Newberry, James Nichols, Roscoe Riggie, Jim Wright, and Verne Glover.

FRESHMEN FLASHES

The Freshmen class seems to be progressing nicely. In Spanish class today, Mrs. Jones held a vocabulary contest in which the fresher pupils seem to have done better than the rest. Freshmen this year have been complimented many times for their good conduct. They only hope it will last. The Freshmen feel honored in having several promising football players. OFFICERS ELECTED

Each year at the beginning of school the election of officers becomes a major issue. Class officers must be chosen with care as they are a chief factor in the success or failure of that class. This year the selection of officials has been unusually good. Each class displayed good sportsmanship and taste in their choice. The Seniors, in a spirited campaign elected Robert Montgomery president and Harold Cothorn vice-president. Ruth Kreis will again fill the niche as secretary-treasurer. The race between Montgomery and Cothorn was so close that no predictions as to the winner were made. Olin Watson and C. W. Denison were other presidential nominees. The Junior Class elected George Fry Lidar (of the Whirlwinds) as president and Lellifay Hicks as vice-president. Laville Ginn will act as secretary and treasurer. Neil Bertrand is the new sergeant-at-arms. The Sophomores chose James Wester for president, R. E. Goughly as vice-president, David Kirk for secretary-treasurer, and E. L. Tyler as sergeant-at-arms. From this election, it may be observed that the Sophomores are strictly masculine in their choice. The Freshmen officers are: President-Tressman Glover, Vice-President-Bryan Collins, Secretary-Mary Lynn Stanley, Treasurer-Herschell Hinson. And so the officers for another school year are in power. May the year be a prosperous one.

What, another study hall? But I don't need a study hall. Well guess I'll go anyway. Oh, bosh, wish I could go to sleep. What did you say, Mary Louise? (She sure is a Medlen girl!) Boy, I'll say it was cold this morning. I noticed several coats across shivering shoulders. These files are simply biting the so-and-so forth out of me. Say did you hear Horace Heidt last night? He sure can play "So Help Me."

Do you know that Brand boy who looks so much like ex-grad Ham Smith that he makes people turn around and take a second look?

I don't see how Norman Goen can read; the way he plays with his glasses all the time. I hear Juarice Cothorn is taking her first steps. No dummy, I mean since her operation. There's that Gloris writing to Smitty again. Gosh, you'd almost think it was spring. You know LaNell looks like a movie star when she has that "Far-Away Look in Her Eyes."

Hum, wonder what Jack Dalley's up to; he's got a mean gleam in his eyes. Now how did I get off on the subject of eyes? Guess it's because mine keep shutting on me. Reminds me of the guy that told me my eyes were like stars because they came out at night. Some people have no heart. Where's Donald Cornelius this period? I'm wondering. Sure wish he was about 17. Well we have to save some of the good looking ones for the younger generation. You're never too old to see I reckon because I just decided that Grace Marie Graham has lovely eye-brows. Claudyne has the cutest finger-nails. Wonder how she keeps them that way. Wish I knew what we have in short hand.

Good honk 8 more minutes. How can I stand it? After considerable thinking (sounds like an impossible job) I'm wondering if Freddie Beard is as bashful all the time as he is sometimes? I have my doubts.

Ho hum. There's Ruth Simpson. Every time I see her I think of when Billy Brown told her if she expected to go with band kids she would have to join the Pep squad. It sure didn't take her long to make up her mind. Verda Frances couldn't even laugh at the Slaton game but why should she? She didn't have any tears to hide, Richard was there.

The Sophisticated Sisters, one of the distinguished clubs of the freshmen class, had their meeting on Wednesday afternoon, September 20, 1938 to elect their officials. They met at their beautiful club house on Shubby Alley. Frances Ruth Garrett, Roberta Mehen, Denise Cline, Joy Cardwell, and Georgia Cothorn still hold their reputation as being Gossip Sisters.

How long will Randolph Rutledge remain a W. H. (Woman-hater) with all these cute freshmen girls around? Rumors are going around that Joe Dick Moore is letting his hair grow long to get a permanent wave. We wonder!

BAND BEGINS GOOD WILL TOURS

The band has again started the "Good Will Tours" to the rural schools. Monday night they assembled at Arwine's drug and went to Baker Community. They intend to make one trip each week.

Mr. Camp stated that he hopes to take the band to Lubbock tomorrow. They are planning to participate in the fair. The band is now organizing into a well drilled marching corps. They are helping the pep club to develop their marching. Let wish the two clubs good luck and may their progress be immense.

CHAPEL

We were called to assembly Wednesday, for a short chapel. Mr. Cummings and Mr. Davis made a few announcements about loitering in the halls. Announcements were also made about whistling and singing in the halls and about boys wearing their hats in the building. We were then seated in alphabetical order.

Whirlwinds Dump Hornets In First Home Game Friday

SOCIETY

F. H. A. CLUB HOLDS ITS INFORMAL INITIATION

The Future Homemakers club held a very humorous, informal initiation Friday. All the new members moped around without any makeup on their faces, and with aprons adorning their dress.

On their right hand, middle finger, one noticed a very predominant thumb. In their left hand could be seen dangerous looking rolling pin. Their hair was decorated with a pink and blue ribbon, carrying out the F. H. A. color scheme.

The girls said something about Friday being the longest school day that they had ever seen, and we can see why they thought so. Despite this fact all the girls lived through it realizing that to get the full enjoyment of the formal initiation, this ordeal was necessary.

The club held a business meeting Wednesday in the auditorium. The following officers were elected: Verda Frances Turner, president; Mary Louise Wilson, Mattie Pearl Turner, Dorothy Dell Stoval, and Mildred Stoval, treasurer.

The following committee was appointed to arrange the informal initiation: Verda Frances Turner, Myra Louise Wilson, Mattie Pearl Turner, Dorothy Dell Stoval, and Mildred Stoval.

SPEECH CLASS ORGANIZES F. H. S. DRAMATIC CLUB

To bring about more interest in speech and dramatics, a dramatic club was organized this week by the speech class, and from advance reports, promise to be the outstanding club of the year.

In the short business meeting that was held, the members present voted on the officers, and discussed the purpose of the club, meetings and programs in the future. The club is to meet at 7:30 on Wednesday every other week, and the programs are to consist of current events, book reviews and other interesting things that will come with the club.

Plans are for two plays to be given, a play for each semester. In the first meeting a program will be made for Wednesday two weeks away and a suitable name will be chosen for the club.

Those elected to offices were president, W. C. Boren; vice-president, Harold Cothorn; secretary-treasurer, Dorris Collins and sargent at-arms, Gearld Lackey.

The club is under the supervision of Mrs. Piper, head of the speech department.

Hit Of The Week

"SO HELP ME"

So help me,
May I never see the moon on high.
May I never watch the stars close by.
So help me,
If I don't love you.
So help me,
May I never know a breath of spring.
May I never hear the birds that sing.
So help me,
If I don't love you.
And if I lie then rain shall fall from heaven.
And bright each day with its teeming,
Night will never bring sleep.
With its dreaming, sweet dreaming.
So help me,
May I never see the sight of you.
And without you what am I to do.
So help me,
If I don't love you.

"Did I hear you say 18-07?" Is that all Tullia could beat the Floydada Whirlwinds? You mean to tell me that the Whirlwinds were out-weighted 31 pounds to the man and came through with a victory. Don't believe it. It is not so.

That was the opinion of those who did not see the ball game and of those who were there, rubbed their eyes several times to see if it were a Thursday night dream.

Friday rolls around with 8 o'clock coming up at the usual hour. 8:01 Tullia kicked off to Floydada. Not anything unusual about that is there, well, now you listen. The first play the Whirlwinds start tossing the ball from one to another till Little Freddie Beard catches the ball and loped across the goal for the first 6 points.

Floydada kicks off to Tullia who drives to the Floydada two yard line where a recovered fumble by Raymond Fickes give the Whirlwinds the ball. George Luder drops back and does some of what should have been done last week at Slaton. He kicks the ball 60 yards in the air and it rolls the rest of the way girls. He not only punted but did it this time but he kicked them that way all night long, so it is well to know that Floydada has a punter. He not only punted but powered over two of the touchdowns and called signals like an all-district quarter back.

Floydada scored again in second quarter after a long drive showing lots of power. The teams rocked back and forth till the half was over. E. L. Tyler got a blow on the head just as the half ended and went a little off the nut till after the second half was over. He plays end and I guess the people don't have to be told because he played a heads up and a hard game to show that he is the boy for that position. While we are on the subject of ends let us take in the fact that Joe Conway cannot be forgotten as a star right end. His hard tackling and blocking was a great help for that Whirlwind victory.

Montgomery acting captain and center played like he never played before. He was here, there and everywhere the ball was. While doing all this he held the center of the Whirlwind line like a stone wall.

Martin, that man in the Tullia backfield from Floydada, really gave the boys from Tullia their money's worth. He got an ankle sprained but will be ready to go in the next ball game.

Henson that little hard charging, hard running and hard blocking guard, did just that all the way through to play a bang up game at guard.

Mal Jarboe filled up his tackle hole like he knew that Tullia could not break a stone wall. A senior and two year man he played as much.

D. Patterson played a swell game at tackle showing off Tullia men and taking down the mail toter. He showed that he'll be a veteran with plenty of ability before the season is over.

The Whirlwinds not only made eighteen points but made two more to have them called back, Tullia has never crossed Floydada's goal line in the five years she has played the Whirlwinds. The boys from Floydada can play ball if they want to and who wouldn't think so now. The boys have a week in which to get ready to start their conference schedule with Esteline October 7.

Green Peppers

We've got the rep
We've got the pep,
We're out to win.
So watch you step.
We've got the coach,
We've got the steam,
But best of all,
We've got the team.
Yes,
At last the pep club is yelling for a winning team. We are not surprised though, if backing has anything to do with the team's winning, because practically the whole town was out Thursday night to see the rally. That was really a grand rally and was a hope to have many more just like it.

The Floydada fans and the football boys had their first taste of victory Friday night. The pep squad had more pep than they have had this season. The formation was the first given this year and it was excellent. The band and pep squad were both in the formation and the two organizations formed a large "T". While in this formation the squad gave three rahs for Tullia. After forming this large "T", the band and pep squad made an "F", then gave a yell for Floydada.

The new pep sweaters are here and all the girls will have uniforms by the next rally and game. The squad has been working and deserve the rest they are having because of the open date Friday.

Last week, we were singing "Them bones will rise again." This week, them bones has rise.

Mary Kay Daniel reminds us of "Mary's Little Lamb"
Mary had a little lamb,
And it was very dumb
Mary didn't know it tho.
Cause she was the same by gum!

CAREFUL READING

Just as a person is known by the company he keeps, so may he be judged by the literature he reads. Books are companions who may be good influences or detriments according to the nature of their contents. Sometimes books are more character forming than the company of people.

As the world becomes more and more complex and the evergrowing need for education increases, it becomes necessary to train our minds to form unbiased opinions and to grow in wisdom as the world grows in complexity. In order to do this, we must read a variety of works including prose, poetry, history, and editorials.

It is necessary to read fiction but not to the exclusion of everything else on the reading market; do not confine your reading to fiction.

You will find that a variety is more enjoyable as well as more educational.

Buy And Back

The season-ticket rush has started. Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the pep girls. The agony that the poor creatures suffer trying to convince the public of the necessity for season tickets should entitle them to several sales.

A person regards himself worth more respect after he has contributed to a worthy cause, particularly one which affords as much pleasure as a season ticket to football games.

Therefore, the school urges that the well-wishers of the Whirlwinds cooperate in this good cause and enjoy the games.

The fact that student's season tickets are half price should entice every F. H. S. student to buy an entrance to the games and help swell the athletic fund which needs support.

Season-tickets will be $1.50 until the Esteline game.

One Variety Cotton Plan Sweeps Co.

Jennings Cotton Farm Field Day Affords Proof That Idea Is Good

Forty or more cotton raisers, ginners and businessmen of Floyd, Hale, Briscoe, Lubbock and Motley counties Thursday attended the field day at the J. W. Jennings cotton farm northeast of Aiken and learned, among other things, that the one-variety community cotton plan is sweeping the county because it is paying its co-operators big dividends.

The occasion was a demonstration in the field of the type of cotton Jennings is growing in mass for the market this winter and spring and also the results that are being obtained in tests of special varieties of plantings on his farm.

An excellent barbecue dinner, with coffee, pickles, bread and home-grown tomatoes, preceded the brief talks and the field study of what Jennings is accomplishing in building up a variety of early maturing, high yield cotton of good staple length. Mrs. Jennings planned the lunch, served under spreading trees in the backyard of the farm home.

Started At Aiken
The one variety cotton idea started in Floyd county at Aiken, and last year 125 co-operating farmers realized $17.50 more per bale for their cotton through the operation of the plan than the average of the non-co-operating farmer, D. F. Bredthauer, county agent, told the assembled farmers and business men. Uniformly good grade and staple made possible assembling the cotton in 100 to 200 bale lots and putting it on the export market.

This year more than 20,000 acres of the county's total is planted in one-variety communities at Aiken, Lockney and Floydada and Mr. Bredthauer told the crowd it is his considered opinion the plan will prove equally profitable this year. He praised Mr. Jennings for his part in starting the one-variety plan at Aiken and said that the cotton growing on the Jennings place is evidence of what may be accomplished toward better cotton for the market. He stressed the point that picking also has been found to pay a premium over snapping of cotton in this area.

R. E. Patterson, Lockney ginmer, who handles the Jennings cotton every year briefly pointed out the advantage of one-variety of good staple when marketing time comes also declared the long staple makes a better ginning job possible for the customer. Boots Bryant, of Silverton, another ginmer, said good results are being obtained from plantings of the Jennings cotton in his area, as did John Gilbert, Plover ginmer.

Don Jones, manager of the Lubbock Experiment station, Captain Holbrook of Plainview, T. L. and D. Syndicate farm operator, and Charles Martin, Hale county agent, were among others who spoke briefly of the big benefits from one-variety, long staple cotton plantings and praised the efforts of Mr. Jennings in cotton breeding.

R. W. Cothern, secretary of Floydada Chamber of Commerce, and O. M. Watson, vice-president of the First National bank, were among the visitors for the field day. More than two hours was spent in the study of the large scale operations which mark Jennings' cotton seed breeding farm. Among other things the producers noted that spray for leaf worms had effectively stopped depreciations of these pests.

Rent House Burns On Miller Farm Sat.

CENTER, Sept. 26.—The two room rent house of the Miller farm burned Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. New York Deputy Mayor Likes Yellow Mutt Best

NEW YORK.—Deputy Mayor Henry H. Curran of this city was to be on record as a friend of dogs—especially yellow ones—but canine playgrounds are out.

In a letter of regret to dog owner John H. Prenzlau, who had written suggesting playgrounds for the city's dogs, Mr. Curran was polite but firm.

Yellow dogs and alley cats lead happier and more full lives in the city than do well-bred pets, he wrote Mr. Prenzlau.

"I am interested in your suggestion that the city set up playgrounds for dogs, but I don't believe we can do that," read the letter. "We should need at least 1000 playgrounds for the 250,000 dogs which you tell me are in New York, and even so I think that there would be too many dogs for the playgrounds in two-hour shifts.

"A good dog goes fast and far, and in every direction, if he is happy in his interesting investigations. It seems to me that we must take care of the two million and more babies and children before we get around to the dogs.

"The city is a hard place for a dog in any circumstance. Cats do better. Roaches do pretty well, but dogs don't do well at all. I have had dogs—as well as cats and roaches and other things—and I think as much of a good dog as you do.

"The best kind is the ordinary yellow dog whose family tree you and I could not discover with the strongest spyglass. But I am afraid a playground for dogs would look like the Argentine about five minutes after all the dogs got there—especially if you threw in a bone or a cat.

"And don't you suppose the masters and mistresses of the thousands of pet cats are going to want playgrounds for cats if you obtain playgrounds for dogs? The ordinary two-fisted New York cat does pretty well for himself, in and out of the alleys and garbage cans.

"One of the most beautiful sights of nature is the common cat up-ended on the rim of a garbage can while its head and forepaws conduct an invisible analysis of the garbage within. But pet cats are different. They do not understand garbage.

"I suspect also that we should have applications for city forests for all the pet tom-tits and canary birds and macaws. And what about the roaches?"

Sunday School Lesson

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS
International Sunday School lesson for October 9, 1938.

Golden Text:—God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. John 4:24.

Lesson Text:—Exodus 20:4-6; 32:1-8; John 4:19-24. Exodus 20:4-6—

4 Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth:

5 Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me;

6 And shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.

Exodus 32:1-8—

And when the people saw that Moses delayed to come down out of the mount, the people gathered themselves together unto Aaron, and said unto him, Up, make us gods, which shall go before us; for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, he wot not what is become of him.

2 And Aaron said unto them, Break off the golden earrings, which are in the ears of your wives, of your sons, and of your daughters, and bring them unto me.

3 And all the people brake off the golden earrings which were in their ears, and brought them unto Aaron.

4 And he received them at their hand, and fashioned it with a graving tool, after he had made it a molten calf; and they said, These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

5 And when Aaron saw it, he built an altar before it; and Aaron made proclamation, and said, To morrow is a feast to the Lord.

6 And they rose up early on the morrow, and offered burnt offerings; and brought peace offerings; and the people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to play.

7 And the Lord said unto Moses, Go, get thee down; for thy people, which thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, have corrupted themselves:

8 They have turned aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them: they have made them a molten calf, and have worshipped it, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said, These be thy gods, O Israel, which have brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

John 4:19-24—

19 The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father.

22 Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

Time and Place: Ten Commandments were given on Mt. Sinai, B. C. 1498. The conversation with the woman took place at Jacob's well, near the city of Sychar, in December, A. D. 27.

Not so long ago great emphasis was laid upon the teaching of the Ten Commandments, both in Sunday schools and in public schools in various countries where there is provision for religious instruction in the school.

It may then be surprising to discover the number of people today who are unable to identify and name the various commandments, even among the religious minded.

An interesting experiment might be to ask a number of religious-minded people questions about the commandments, such as, "What is Commandment number one?" "What is Commandment number ten?" One might be surprised to learn how few could answer the questions correctly.

There are Christians who might defend this lack of knowledge of the Commandments on the plea that the Commandments have been abrogated in the larger teaching of Jesus, and that they are after all only part of a more extensive Jewish law which no Christian, so far as we are aware, regards today in other details as binding upon the Christian conscience.

The answer to this would be that the Commandments had a significant place in the Jewish law; and in the thought of mankind and its interpretation of the Commandments, there has been strong emphasis upon them as dealing with conspicuous social sins.

Perhaps it is easier to disregard the Commandments, because we have departed so far from some of them, both in spirit and in practice.

One need only cite the fourth Commandment concerning the Sabbath Day to realize the travesty of it that we have made in our modern American life.

Yet before we disregard or discard the Ten Commandments as ancient and obsolete, it is worthwhile to know them a little better and to consider a little more carefully their spirit and their purpose. As we inquire into them, we shall find that, instead of being abrogated by Jesus and the New Testament, this larger teaching was represented by Jesus Himself as a fulfillment of the Jewish Commandments.

The Jewish Commandments, in the main, were negative. They said, "Thou shalt not..." Jesus summed up their essence in great positive teachings that are more in the nature of great revelations of privilege than of commandments, though they have, and ought to have, all the force of commandments.

These set before us, not the conception of measured conduct and measured duty, but the conception of a man so living under the power of the love of God that it is his supreme desire to attain and express all that he can of love and goodness. Nothing less than that in our lives can constitute the law of Christ, for that law is a law of love.

MRS. POOLE HOSTESS TO ANTELOPE H. D. CLUB

"School Lunches" was the subject of the lesson studied when the Antelope H. D. club met with Mrs. W. S. Poole. The spacious living room was arranged and decorated with "The Little Red School House" in mind. Roll call was answered by "What I Carried in My Lunch Kit As A Child." From the answers there was little thought given to vitamins; sandwiches ranged from heavy meats to the proverbial "hole in the biscuit" poured full of molasses.

A "variety of sandwich combinations" were given by Mrs. W. S. Poole, and "Varying the lunch with bread" was discussed by Mrs. R. S. Moore. Miss Bert Ione Smith gave an illustrated discussion on "Deserts that Can be Packed." Mrs. C. W. Nickles discussed the Importance of Milk and its By-Products in the Lunch. Mrs. C. A. Caffee told of "Packing the Lunch." Mrs. G. R. May gave some excellent recipes for school lunches and other school lunch desserts. At the end of the lesson Mrs. Tom J. Boyd gave an interesting talk on "Interpretation of Style" as given by Miss Jane Alden, Chicago and Paris stylist. The talk was illustrated by photostatic copies of the posters used by Miss Alden in her address. Mrs. Boyd also discussed "The Evolution of Dress" by Miss Alden and "The Foundations of a Well Dressed Woman" from the lecture given by Mrs. Jennie Moore, Cosetor of Sakowitz, Houston, all of which were given at "Short Course"—A & M college.

During the business meeting Mrs. R. S. Moore, Mrs. Tom J. Jackson and Mrs. J. A. Jones were appointed to campaign for new members. Roll call was answered by "things to make a bed more comfortable."

"A comfortable bed affects the rest of an adult, and the growth of a child; Nor is a child as able to make as good health or do as good work in school as if his bed were comfortable. Complete relaxation is a great assistance to rebuilding torn down tissues," are quotations taken from the instructive and interesting lesson given by Miss Grimes on "Equipping a Comfortable Bed."

The hostess assisted by Mrs. Tom J. Boyd passed delicious refreshment plates to Miss Grimes and to club members. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. S. Poole.

Returns To Breeding Of Purebred Poultry

Oliver Allen, who 15 years ago quit the poultry breeding business as a side line, is back in the game once more. And what's more he finds again that he likes it.

Facts About Rural Electricity

(By L. W. Chapman)

The R. E. A. is an independent agency created by an act of congress to carry out a ten year rural electrification program. Many foreign countries are ahead of the United States in the extent to which electricity is made available to farmers. Although the rural population of most of these countries is more congested than that of the United States, the standards of living generally in our country are higher than those abroad, and the American farmer should share in the relative American prosperity and standards of living.

The R. E. A. is endeavoring in a ten year program to bring to the American farmer this higher standard of living by increasing the percentage of farms electrified. At present, of 6,800,000 farms only about 800,000 have the use of electricity which represents around 12%.

A few years ago electricity was only used for lighting. Today is an entirely different story. It is the most gifted servant you can have. It will milk your cows and keep the milk cool and pure, grind your feed, and pump your water. In your house it will cook your food, wash your clothes, cool your food and keep it from spoiling, make ice to cool the beverages you drink on hot days, and bring to your family by means of radio the finest music and the most recent news.

To take advantage of these conveniences, the cost will not be prohibitive but at the same time the project must be economically feasible and self-liquidating. The rate must be high enough to cover the debt service and the cost of operation, and low enough to promote the use of energy sufficient for the required revenue.

The public is cordially invited to attend any of the directors regular meetings which are held at the office of the cooperative on the 5th of every month.

Letter An Investment In Bountiful Fortune

National Letter Writing Week October 2-8 Features Need for Prompt Correspondence

A letter is a 3-cent investment in bountiful good fortune, declares Mrs. Barbara H. Smith, Floydada postmaster, in calling attention this week to National Letter Writing Week October 2 to 8.

For the lack of a letter orders have been missed, for the lack of a letter at the right time old-time friends have been lost never to be contacted again, for the lack of a letter jobs have been missed. "No business, no individual, built on the 'write-a-letter, rule, ever failed," declares James Mangum, whose essay, "Write a Letter" has been widely quoted.

"Why not clean up all the correspondence that has been neglected these months, during National Letter Writing Week?" Mrs. Smith suggests. "How many hundreds of letters there must be in the homes of this office's patrons right this minute that should be answered. National letter writing week would be a good time to resolve to overcome this terrible fault of putting off the letter long ago promised, now overdue. This fault, common to all almost, is an expensive one—expensive in lost time, lost friends, lost orders, lost jobs."

To whom do you owe a letter now? Is it your mother, your father, a brother, sister, sweetheart, or loved one? Are they dear to you? Prove it with a letter! Remember the thrill you had when you received the same kind of letter! Opening the box and drawing out a warm envelope enriched with old familiar handwriting! A personal letter—it is good to get one! So send one. Send that one that is overdue now. Sit down and start writing!

The man in public life whom you admire, the author whose story gave you a happy half hour last night, the cartoonist whose strip you enjoyed this morning, the teacher who inspired you 20 years ago, the doctor who saved your baby's life, the old employer who was thoughtful of you in times past. them 'in spirit' is well enough for your own needs, perhaps, but you can help these brave men and women keep on the right track and push through to greater success with a letter. Palace Will Show So Plains Cinema Tues.-Wednesday

53-Minute Picture Features Sappho Ward, Francis Wester, Herbert Sims

Palace theatre will present the south plains feature made last month on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, October 4 and 5, Jack Deakins, manager of the show, announced this week.

Sappho Ward, senior in Floydada high school, Francis Wester, and Herbert Sims have major parts in the picture, which also has seven other south plains persons in character parts.

Selection of the persons for the parts was made during June and July, when motion picture theatres of 20 south plains cities and towns joined in an area-wide contest to select the group of nearly 50 people from which the promoter, J. L.

Thompson, selected his cast. Sappho Ward is cast in the leading feminine role and Francis Wester in the leading man's part. Herbert Sims is cast as an Englishman, who has an important part in the story.

"Possibilities of these young people for stage and screen may be seen by our people on the two days we have set for the screen showing," Mr. Deakins said.

The feature will have on the same bill a Laurel and Hardy comedy. No advance in admission is planned, the manager said.

T. L. Wilhite, who has extensive land holdings in Floyd county, died at his home Sunday of last week, after a heart attack a few days before.

ONE-SIXTH OF "CROPLAND" OUGHT NOT BE CULTIVATED

Census takers list as cropland all the acres actually in cultivation—415 million acres in 1935. Soil specialists look at it differently. They know this includes a lot of land that ought not to be in crops—about 76 million acres, or about 1 acre in 6, they estimate. The remainder is about equally divided between land that is safe under cultivation and land that needs more protection—particularly against erosion—than it has been getting if it is to continue growing crops for future generations.

Bushrod W. Allin, discussing some of the fundamentals of land conservation policy in the current Yearbook of the United States Department of Agriculture, says that most of the 76 million acres that ought not to be cropped are either too poor to support reasonable living standards, or are so steep that protection from erosion costs too much to be practical.

About 161 million acres, the soil scientists estimate, "can be cultivated indefinitely" without serious erosion injury. About 178 million acres is eroding seriously, but this "can be controlled by practices that have been demonstrated to be economically feasible by owner operators."

Putting out of cultivation the 76 million acres of the poorest lands now cropped—lands that might better be used for forests, grasslands, wildlife, or recreation—need not reduce the total area in crops except as this seems desirable, for the soil men also note, says Mr. Allin, that there are 108 million acres of land not now cropped—mainly pastures, brush, or timber—which are better than the poorest now in cultivation. This land has better soils and gentler slopes and could be put under the plough with a better chance for farmers to make a reasonable living from crop production.

France and other parts of western Europe receive less rain than the eastern United States, but since the showers are lighter and more frequent, less water is lost by draining than in this country, where more sunny days and harder rains are more common.

Two Farm Residences Burned Last Week-End

Matt Lyles Place, South Plains, And T. J. Banks Residence at Center Go Up In Smoke

Two Floyd county farm residences were destroyed by fire last week-end, one of them due to igniting gasoline mistaken for water, and the other from an unknown cause.

Matt Lyles residence northwest of South Plains was destroyed early Friday morning between 5 and 6 o'clock, the family losing all the household effects when gasoline, mistaken for water, was set on the stove to heat. The quickly igniting liquid had the house in flames so quickly that little in it was salvaged. The house, the windmill and tower nearby were destroyed. The place belonged to R. C. Bennett, whose loss was upward of $1,000.

Saturday afternoon a two-room residence on the Olin S. Miller place at Center was destroyed while the family of T. J. Banks, who lived in it, were in Floydada shopping. The Miller family living nearby also were away from home. The origin of the fire could only be guessed, neighbors said Monday.

The Banks family lost all their clothing and household effects except the clothing they were wearing.

Neighbors of both the Lyles and Banks families were in Floydada following the fires taking contributions to help set the families up in housekeeping once more. Neither family had fire insurance.

MANY BREAKS IN TERRACES BEGIN WITH RODENT HOLES

A harmless looking rodent hole in a terrace ridge may not be as harmless as it appears. The Soil Conservation service finds many terraces are broken each year by water cutting through holes made by burrowing rodents.

Holes burrowed in the fall months are likely to cause trouble. They probably will go unfilled through the winter months and cause trouble when spring thaws and rains come. Many farmers report that they give their terraces an inspection each fall—preferably after the first frost.

Any rodent hole found the filled may be listed as a terrace break prevented, say the Soil Conservation service workers. And each break avoided represents tons of soil saved and possibly the prevention of a gully.
