Hopes for Hurry Up Job On 207 North Voiced Wednesday

WPA Fund Set-Up Same For February As For The Past Month

Hopes for a hurry-up job on Highway 207 north was voiced Wednesday by County Judge Clifford Tubbs, following a visit last week with the state highway engineer at Lubbock.

Although nothing definite had been decided by the highway department a great deal has been done towards speeding up Floyd county's chances of getting a faster start on Highway 207.

The Farm Problem Captain Holbrook's Subject On Saturday

Farmers opposing the present setup of farm program and who are making an effort to present their point of view to the public in general, will have as one of their principal speakers Saturday afternoon in the court house here, Captain Winfield Holbrook, of Plainview, manager of Texas Land & Development company.

Due to a misunderstanding in the highway department a proposed "swap" had been blocked. The "swap" had been proposed to the department at Austin, allowing Floyd county to swap its "slow" highway program to some other county not ready for a "fast" program.

The trip to Lubbock Saturday by Judge Tubbs and Commissioner Cummings is believed to have cleared up the misunderstanding and that the swap will be passed upon by Austin.

Final action will be taken by the department on February 21, Judge Tubbs said. The WPA fund situation in this county is on the same basis and set up as in January, it is understood from county officials.

Irrigation Well Burglaries Believed Solved With Arrest Of Two Men; Jury Meets

Petit Jury For Fourth Week Is Listed; Court Decides On One Case

The Floyd county grand jury, dismissed after the first two days of the January term, will reconvene Monday morning to study evidence against two men arrested this week.

The two men, one a Floyd county man, were charged with burglary in connection with the stealing of parts from irrigation wells in this and Hale county. Hale county officers had previously arrested three men, with the assistance of Deputy Sheriff Walter Hollums.

Evidence was sufficient to procure convictions in Hale county for car theft and investigation indicated that the men might be connected with the irrigation well stripplings that have troubled the farmers in this county for some time.

Officers in the sheriff department here said that confession had been obtained from the two men and that they were fairly certain that the grand jury would indict them.

If convictions are obtained from the evidence, it is believed that the irrigation well trouble in this area will cease.

Although satisfied with their work on the well burglaries, the officers seem at a standstill on the Consumers Fuel burglary and safe cracking job. Clues have been studied and re-studied but the officers have little to report on.

Towns and cities in the surrounding counties have been asked to watch for suspicious characters that might have pulled the job, since it is deemed unlikely that any Floyd county person is connected with the robbery.

The district court disposed of one case this week, a damage suit brought by E. K. Huffstetler Jr., against the Texas-New Mexico Utilities company. A compromise judgment was rendered by the court in favor of the plaintiff.

The jury list for the fourth week is B. K. Barker, E. L. Angus, C. W. Bennett, H. B. Bloodworth, Fred Brown, H. I. Assiter, B. M. Eubank, W. F. Ferguson, S. L. Holmes, Ed Kelley, Eiford Parrish.

H. G. Cox, B. B. Foster, A. S. Green, J. W. Haney, T. L. King, Henry Bollman, G. C. Collins, W. L. Craft, J. V. Greer, J. V. Gross, J. R. Holmes, N. D. Clark, W. C. McGreedy.

Bishop Holt Swings Thru Plains Area

Churchman Of National Repute Will Preach In Floydada Sunday Night

Methodists of the Floydada church and Floydada Circuit churches will have the pleasure of entertaining the presiding bishop of the Northwest Texas Conference Sunday evening and night and will hear him preach at a service beginning at 7:15 Sunday evening.

Following a conference last week attended by conference leaders, presiding elders and educational board members at Sweetwater, the churchman began a swing through the 9 districts of the Northwest Texas conference and has been filling 3 to 7 appointments daily, as one presiding elder passes him on to another throughout the area. He has already paid visits to several of the churches in this district including Lockney, Plainview, Silvertown, White Flat, Flomot and Matador.

Reverend Holt is the bishop of 5 conferences. His home is in Dallas. Here he is expected to be the guest of Rev. Culwell, pastor of Floydada Circuit, and his wife, and Rev. and Mrs. John Eldridge of Floydada church.

At the conference last week in Sweetwater were present chairman of executive boards, presiding elders and conference officials.

Among these were J. M. Willson, executive member of the conference board of education, John E. Eldridge, treasurer of the conference and member of the board of missions and Mrs. John E. Eldridge, conference director of children's work and member of the board of education.

A native of DeWitt, Arkansas, the bishop has served his church in many ways. His first appointment was at University church, St. Louis, Mo. He served for some years as professor of Old Testament Literature and chaplain of Southern Methodist university. For 20 years until last year he was pastor of the St. John's church at St. Louis.

Outside of his own church Bishop Holt is best known as the former president of the Federal Council where he was official head of the Preaching Mission and appeared before many groups in all parts of the world as American Protestantism's representative.

Visitors from half a dozen other cities of the plains area, including officials of retail merchant organizations will be present, Mrs. Stegall said. A big attendance of local business men is anticipated.

Lockney Heads For County Basketball Championship Too

No matter what the game this year Lockney seems bound to slap a defeat on the Floydada Whirlwinds. The Longhorns took up where they left off in football last night by soundly trouncing the Whirlwinds 25 to 15 in a nifty piece of basketball.

J. C. Gaither, who died here Tuesday morning, had a most distinguished record during the history-making days in Texas following the civil war. He served as Justice here for 15 years.

Penney Co., Flying Eagle patrol and marksmanship display; Bishop Pharmacy, Flaming Arrow patrol; Wester's Bakery, Eagle patrol; White Drug Co., Quail patrol; and at Arwine Drug company will be placed the troop display. John H. Reagan, committee chairman, is assisted by J. C. Gilliam, L. T. Bishop and Frank L. Moore of the American Legion in the preparation of the week of observance, sponsored by McDermott Post of which J. C. Wester is post commander.

The Floydada troop chartered in 1936, is under direction of John Farris and Gordon G. Voight. For the past year the troop has been awarded various prizes and as well has done extensive civic work in the county.

Awards to the troop include a mobilization award, won at the district swimming meet, fifth place at the council swimming meet, Malone camp award, for being the best all around troop in the area, trophy for display and attendance at the South Plains fair. Three out of the 4 scouts chosen for membership in the Po-X club, an honorary organization were taken from this troop, and 1 junior assistant Scout Master was chosen at the New Mexico camp. This is the highest honor that can be awarded a Scout.

First place was won in two displays at the South Plains Boy Scout circus held at Lubbock. The troop has conducted 2 camps during the past year. Both were held at Roaring Springs.

Plans for the troop for the coming year include the organization of a Boy Scout band, a drum and bugle corps, camping trips and a tour of several hundred miles, Gordon Voight said.

J. C. Gaither Died At Floydada Hospital Here Tuesday Morning

Resident Of Floyd County 30 Years, He Helped Make Post-Bellum History Of State Of Texas

J. C. Gaither, native Texan, 89, who died in Floydada Hospital and Clinic Tuesday morning, grew up as a youthful neighbor "across the prairie" from the immortal Sam Houston and helped make history in Texas following the Civil War.

Last rites were said for him Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Rev. John E. Eldridge, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated at rites at the family home on East Jackson street.

Surviving practically all of his contemporaries, Mr. Gaither was an active civic leader and official here long after the usual age of retirement.

Coming to Floydada 30 years ago, he was active for 3 years as secretary of Floydada Chamber of Commerce, and later from 1913 to 1928 he served as Justice of the Peace of Precinct 1, Floyd county. 8 years ago he became practically bedridden and spent the last 3 years confined to his bed.

One son, W. M. Gaither, is the sole surviving member of his immediate family. Mrs. Gaither succumbed and was buried in Floydada cemetery in 1923.

Mr. Gaither's historical background includes personal recollections of his uncle Joel W. Roberson, who with Sergeant Sylvester, captured Santa Anna following the battle of San Jacinto, and the deceased was private secretary to the Governor Oran M. Roberts, "The Old Alcalde." He was present and participated in deliberations at Austin when the present constitution of the State of Texas was adopted.

STRONGER TRAFFIC LAWS

Texas' traffic situation has reached a point where the people must choose the continuation of a sound safety program or permit needless tragedies to leap into the highway safety picture, says Carl J. Rutland, president of the Texas Safety association.

In 1938 there were 1,609 persons crushed to death in street and highway crashes. This figure was 23 percent lower than that of the previous year, and was brought about through the unrelenting efforts of enforcement, education and engineering. The 1938 safety program, headed by the Texas Safety association and the State Department of Public safety, proved to the motorists of Texas that travelers could be saved through concerted efforts of safety workers.

One prominent feature of the 1938 program was the drivers' license law that found new, but not sufficient, strength last year to curb the activities of drunken and reckless drivers. Three percent of the persons seeking their first driving permits were denied them because specially-trained examiners found them unfit to safety maneuver a vehicle. Through this phase of safety enforcement alone, thousands of serious—if not fatal—accidents were avoided.

There is a proposed measure before the legislature of Texas that is designed to add the necessary vitamins to provide more strength to the Texas driver's license law. Senate bill No. 3 introduced by Senator Rogers Kelley, and House bill No. 50, both identical, fostered by Representative Homer Thornberry, will play a feature part in controlling the drunken and reckless driver on whose hands is the blood of thousands of innocent people, provided the legislature concurs in the beliefs of the Texas Safety association and the safety minded people of this great state.

THE REPRIEVE FURORE

Apparently few people whose views have been aired in the public prints—with one exception—are pleased with the way the governor granted a reprieve to the unfortunate negro boy who was condemned to death in the electric chair by a Dallas county jury. The exception is the negro boy himself, who is thankful to have the additional 30 days to live, and said so.

The governor's critics have strained a point possibly, taking advantage of an unfortunate verbiage that sounded cruel and hardhearted. Any man, when he gets right up to it, is not going to mean a statement the way that one sounded, much less a man who does not believe in capital punishment under any circumstances.

EMPLOYERS AND TAX BILLS

Announcement was made by the Collector of Internal Revenue in Dallas the other day that he had asked authority from Washington to impound accounts of several important employers in the Second District of Texas because they had not remitted for their Social Security taxes, although reporting as required by the statute.

Mr. Thomas' statement sounded as though he intended to use the teeth that had been put into the law and left the impression, likewise, he felt these employers were not going along with the spirit of the thing.

Mr. Thomas might feel that way but he ought not to put his thoughts into print. Until it is time to "crack down" the government ought to assume that the taxpayer is doing his best, at least for purposes of statements to the press. Mr. Thomas, indeed, might find that when Old Mother Hubbard taxpayer went to the cupboard she found it bare. Such things will certainly happen, if they have not already, and a man whom the tax bill breaks won't feel any kinder toward Uncle Sam for such poisoned thrusts as Mr. Thomas used.

BETTER TRUCKING LAW IMPERATIVE

A change in the trucking law that will make the load limit law a more scientific one seems imperative, and doubtless the legislature will hurry along with such as fast as it can.

Especially in view of the happenings down in South Texas where the truck boys are putting on the pressure. The armed truckers who ganged up with overloads and would not stop for inspection took a rather drastic means of making their point clear.

It is generally known—to the public and the Department of Public Safety as well—that few trucks are loaded according to the law. All hands have been going along in a sympathetic sort of way waiting for the legislature to change the law to comply with the common sense of the situation. The truckers, impatient, got off on the wrong foot, but did make the front page with the problem.

GOOD CONSTRUCTION

It is pleasing to note that the construction code covering installation of electrical wiring in homes to be served by the Rural Electrification Co-Operative are sensible and calculated to be safe as to fire hazards, but on the otherhand not so iron clad as to be termed drastic.

In some building construction codes the rules are so rigid that to an extent they defeat their own usefulness. However, there must be care. Electric energy is live fire and where there is fire there must be adequate construction for safety.

Which is why we think the local organization is starting off right—taking safety measures against destruction of property applied with common sense.

BE ABLE TO PROVE IT

If you think (or know) that your operations as a farmer or business man during 1938 did not show enough profit to be due an income tax to the federal government, it is the suggestion of capable advisers with whom we have talked that you be able to prove it.

And, in fact, if you paid an income tax in 1937, to fill out a 1938 report and file it to save annoyance at a later date. Not to cast any reflection by comparison, but merely for illustration:

Al Capone was undoubtedly responsible for scores and scores of murders and many other crimes in the lawbooks, but he escaped all the penalties until he tripped upon a tax bill and went to prison for evasion.

The treasury department's collectors are thorough. They overlook no bets in the long run.

Upon the quantity and quality of service rendered the community by the newspaper depends to a very large extent the support the community gives to the newspaper.—Wellington Leader.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Did you ever think how big a part the wind plays in this country? Every time we go out doors, we look to see where the wind is. At this time of year, if the wind is from the west when we get up, we look for a sand storm, and oft times a cold norther following. When the wind goes to the east we look for the rain which once in a while it brings. The summer winds bring us plenty of good cold water from the busy windmills. Once upon a time, the direction of the wind was told by the fans on the mills, but now just drive by and every mill will tell a different tale. Last week the old milk house by the well was torn down from where it had stood for 30 years, to give place to an elevated tank, and a bit of early history was gone. When the little house was new and shone in the prairie sunshine like a piece of yellow cheese, it was the pride of Mrs. J. K. Millwee, for she could keep her milk and butter cool and fresh. About eight miles south of the Quaker Colony, Estacado, built by Tom McDonald for J. K. Millwee, in the year of 1891, its useful life was begun. Many a cowboy, starved for milk, drank from the creamy old crocks in the milk trough, while he ate a doughnut that Mrs. Millwee gave him. Refreshed from the snack and the sight of a good beautiful woman, the cowboy rode back to the herd where hard riding in the dust and the heat was begun again.

A little windmill wheel was built on top of the new milk house, and hooked to a churn.

But the Millwee family moved from the ranch and the little house that has no longer like yellow cheese had turned a soft gray, like the prairie in winter, became the property of Uncle Billy Weatherby and was moved to Emma to become a home. Uncle Billy was "different." He was a yankee soldier, had been married to a Mex. woman, "I dang good woman for a Mex. But I wanted to leave New Mexico and come to the Plains, and she wouldn't come." So Uncle Billy made him a barn from big packing wooden boxes got from Witt Spikes. This was the place where Ole Deck switched the flies in summer and bent from cold northers which shook the thin boards in winter.

We never heard him sing, but Tom Jones, our young uncle told us he saw the old man coming down the street in Emma one bitter cold day and he was singing. "It is horrible in the winter to be shattered by the blast." But we always had our doubts.

Uncle Billy wore clothes too large for him to go over the hump on his back, talked like he had hot mush in his mouth. His nose dripped, summer and winter, he called all by their given names.

When questioned about his youth, people got no answer. He admitted he had been born in Maine, fought in the Civil War. Once there was a letter come for him, one of the ranch boys carried it to the ranch where he was then working, all gathered round to see what effect the news would have. To their keen disappointment, the little old man with the long gray locks of hair, calmly walked to the red hot stove and gave the unopened letter to the greedy flames.

Uncle Billy was our friend, and once when father and mother were both sick and the small pox flag flew at our gate, for father had a strange breaking out, the doctor demanded quiet. We children were sent to Uncle Billy's for he had had the dreaded disease. We watched closely when the old man opened his trunk for a clean towel. We might see a picture or some memento of other days that would give us some clue to his history, but nothing did we see.

The little one time milk house was lined over head and on walls with an old wagon sheet. Stove pipes, flattened out, made good base board for the bottom. A chuck box hung on the wall, the lid let down for a table, a cot with some saggins for a bed, a little wood stove with tiny oven for a stove. We were surprised that Uncle Billy could write. Uncle Billy made a living by hauling wood, and tending to the court yard. When Ole Deck was pulling the plow in the yard, people laughed at the loud voice of the old man telling the lazy old horse to gee or to haw.

The old man finally came to his last illness. "No there is no one to let know about me, they are all gone," he said to my husband. He left all he had to his old friend, Jaff the little house, his big gold watch, Ole Dick and the buggy, the cot and the little stove and his well marked Bible. And so the little house became a milk house on our place. Once more cool water flowed through a milk through where cream colored crocks stood. But the cowboys were gone. They and their herd of cattle were no more on the prairies. Farmers drank the cool milk and ate the firm butter. Times changed. Ice filled boxes cooled the milk and firmed the butter. The old house, where it seemed to me the gentle ghost of Uncle Billy lived, was in the way, not needed. We tried to move it away without treading it down, but it had stood too long, and had to come down, vanished from the prairies like the mirage the cowboys and the herds. It makes me sad. It is like the passing of an old friend.

We gave the last farewell to Uncle John Taylor at Old Emma last week. He has lived eighty two years."

Medical Practice Leads Advance In Science of Health

Dr. Guthrie Tells Club Women 1938 Has Been Year Of Development

(Below is the text of the talk given by Dr. A. E. Guthrie on "Some Recent Advancements in Medicine," for the 1929 Study club in a meeting when the club had a study on the subject of "Health."—Ed Note.)

The most spectacular advances made in medicine in the past year or so have been made along the lines of treatment. This includes new apparatus and new medicines, new methods of application.

The medicine that has had the greatest popularity and most general use in the past year is Sulfanilamide. This medicine was developed and first used in Germany, later in England, and then in this country. It has had a wide use here and has been further purified since being used in American clinics. At first this medicine was used in the streptococcal infections, or so called "blood poisoning" cases. This medicine is probably the most important discovery since insulin for diabetes.

Since becoming so widely used it has been tried in other types of infections such as scarlet fever, pneumonia, gangrene, septic throat, undulant fever, meningitis and certain other diseases. There is a new type of this drug being used in England at present called MB 693 for pneumonia and at present is being tried in Philadelphia. This drug has been rather commonly used by the general public who do not realize it is a very dangerous drug and has caused death from over dose and in certain conditions where it could not be eliminated by the body. It was responsible for some seventy deaths in 1937. Therefore it should be given only by a physician who understands its use, dosage and dangers.

Field Of Vitamins
There has been wonderful discoveries in the field of vitamins. Here too, people are prone to use these powerful drugs indiscriminately. At present all the better known vitamins have a definite known dosage, depending on the weight and age of the individual and the condition for which it is given. They have a wide use in the field of prevention of diseases and an equally important use in treatment of certain conditions. The newer vitamins and sub-divisions of vitamins are B, B2 and B6, which are used in neuritis, skin eruptions and pellagra and are known chemically as Thiomoin Cl, Arctiflorine and niotinic acid. Vitamin "C" has been isolated and can be obtained in tablet form to take the place of fruit juices to prevent and treat scurvy. There are also several divisions of vitamin "G" which was chiefly found in yeast and used in certain intestinal ailments. There has been isolated a vitamin K which has to do with the clotting of blood and this may prove a valuable discovery to prevent and treat hemorrhage. Research is rapidly developing this field and we may see some very important new vitamins in the near future.

A recent discovery in one of the large laboratories doing blood chemistry will enable us by studying the different formations of crystals in an individual's blood, to determine what type of disease the patient is suffering from. That is diabetes will give a definite pattern, T. B. will give another and cancer still another. This will greatly simplify the diagnosis of certain obscure diseases.

Due to new methods of handling and refrigeration, blood may be taken from individuals of known types and canned, placed in refrigerators and used at later dates for some person of the same type. This will be of great help when blood is needed quickly, as no testing of numerous donors will be necessary to find one to suit. This blood can be sent easily from one place to another where it might not be possible to obtain it. We will have to give our Russian friends credit for some valuable work in this field.

One of our eminent doctors and a woman, too, by the way, has proven by thousands of tests on white mice over a period of years, that the tendency to develop cancer is definitely inherited. Thus it is much more likely that a person whose parents have cancer will develop a cancer. This is not positive proof that they will do so, but it seems there is a definite weakness that is inherited.

New anesthetics are being used in the delivery room that make it unnecessary that a woman know anything about the birth of her child. She may go to sleep with ease stage of labor and awake with a baby already born, escaping the mental anguish of the former late stages of labor.

Glandular Hormones
The knowledge of glandular hormones have advanced by leaps and bounds. New products are on the market in definite dosages for different conditions. The dreaded diabetes and the climacteric are combated with brilliant success. The distressing symptoms that often cause women to become invalids and even lose their minds completely, can be controlled and alleviated with the proper care by a competent practitioner. Other women who were formerly denied the privilege of motherhood can now have their families in a normal way. In some cases both men and women who have been sterile can be made fertile by the proper use of these products. It might also be said here that the newer developments of contraceptives make it unnecessary for women to risk their lives, in certain cases, by childbirth. If used in the proper manner it should assist in developing a healthier race and once more economically independent. Both males and females who might otherwise go through life and not develop past the mental and physical status of children can be developed into normal adults by the proper use of these hormones.

Certain types of insanity that were formerly considered hopeless are being treated by insulin, the agent that has saved thousands of lives for diabetes. This medicine is given to produce a shock to the nervous system at regular intervals, and by careful routine break up the complex mental state of the individual, making useful citizens again of many who would be hopelessly lost to society and family.

There has also been an improvement in insulin, mentioned above. The new type of insulin can be given once daily, instead of two or three times thus saving the patient much discomfort and trouble from frequent injections with the needle.

New Ideas In Treatment
Formerly we thought of cod liver oil only as a ricketts preventative for babies. Now we see it used in the ointment form for burns and other types of injuries where we wish new skin formation.

We meet people who are wearing a close fitting curved glass over the eye ball instead of the commonly worn glasses or specs.

It is not uncommon to see a person living for months in an iron lung, the victim of infantile paralysis that formerly died quickly and surely. Or another person turning blue from a deadly pneumonia become pink under an oxygen tent and recover. Oxygen is even being given under the skin with needles and may soon replace the oxygen tent.

We see people walking with steel nails driven into the fractured bones to hold them together, where we once saw terrible deformities.

The electrocardiograph draws a picture of the heart beating and points out to the trained eye the location of weakness in the heart. In these same cases the skilled surgeon is delicately cutting the nerves that control the heart and blood vessels relieving the tension that causes heart failure and apoplexy.

The short wave diathermy is taking the place of polkroot lin-ment and mustard plasters for rheumatism. The electrocoagulating needle is replacing the hot iron for removing diseased tissues. The electric cutting knife has its place in surgery where bleeding is feared.

The ultra violet lights are giving us sun-tan in the closed room and the infra-red is giving us the heat of sunshine and replacing the messy ointment on our skin. X-Ray is being used more extensively and wisely than formerly in the treatment of various disease conditions of the lungs, bones, glands and skin.

So we, as practitioners of the art of healing, may well feel that we are not being left behind in this fast developing day of new things.

349 Rural Homes to Receive Power From Floyd R. E. A.

Additional Loan Assured 600 More; County Homes to Be Reached Soon

Electricity with all of its convenience, power, and reliability, will be made available in 349 Floyd county farm homes through the facilities of the Floyd County Rural Electric Co-Op.

In addition to the 169 miles of power line already under construction the Rural Electric authority in Washington has given preliminary consideration to a $100,000 loan to extend the power lines an additional 100 miles and add probably 300 new customers, untouched by the present contract.

The present Co-Op headed by Superintendent L. W. Chapman began several years ago fighting for a place on the plains. Failure seemed to be the only answer until a combination domestic and irrigation project was worked out which received the approval of Washington.

At first the rural population was skeptical but soon after construction began requests began to pour in from those outside the facilities of the original plan for extension lines.

In addition to the $100,000 loan other loans and authorities have been made available for the farmers wishing to wire their homes and buy needed appliances and then pay on a deferred plan.

Wiring Loan Available
An application of the Floyd County Co-Op for a $5,000 loan from the REA has been approved. The funds are to be used to finance wiring and plumbing installation on the member farms and homes. All members of approved credit, who without financial aid are not in a position to install adequate wiring, may borrow from this fund and repay on a deferred basis.

The Electric Home and Farm authority which works much like the well-known Federal Housing administration, has offered the dealers needed electrical goods may be purchased on a deferred payment plan over a period of as high as 48 months, and in some cases as short as 12 months.

This Authority buys the contracts from the dealer and finances the deal. Monthly installments are payable to the utility at the same time the electric service bills are due. The payments are credited to the customer's account and forwarded to the authority.

Dealers in Floydada have been notified of this plan and it is known that appliances may be bought by customers on this authority and payment made on a deferred basis if desired. Only a small down payment is required.

Cheap Power
The retail rate tentatively agreed upon would require a minimum rate of $2.45 per month for residential consumers, for which they may receive 25 kwh, enough electricity to light the average size home adequately and operate an appliance.

For 558 a farm would have 100 kwh available, enough for lighting, a washing machine, an iron, radio, a water pump, and a major appliance, such as a refrigerator.

A special rate for hot water heaters and electric ranges will also be announced soon. This rate will make even more power available and assure the user of additional appliances and convenience.

Figures A-Plenty
The figures presented at this time, and upon which the contract was awarded, represent many working hours and much material.

The co-op estimates that 27,000 man hours will be used for labor alone, 349 farms will be served, 36 carloads of poles will be used, 422 miles of wire will be strung, 293 transformers must be set, the total cost will be $173,726.

If the new $100,000 loan becomes available the above figures will be increased at least one-third.

These figures do not touch upon the cost of individual house wiring, money spent for appliances, etc., but it does give a definite idea concerning the vastness of the scheme.

MRS. J. CLAUD HENDERSON GUEST SPEAKER AT H. D. CLUB AT ANTELOPE FRIDAY

Mrs. Claud Henderson of Floydada and recently of Montgomery, Alabama, was the speaker of the afternoon Friday on the "Guest Day" program of the Antelope Home Demonstration club in the VT ranch home with Mrs. W. S. Poole and Mrs. T. J. Boyd as hostesses.

Mrs. Poole, president of the club, welcomed the visitors and introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Henderson in her own unique inimitable southern style, gave a lecture and demonstration on various forms of hand-made needle work. "Hand-made hooked rugs, made of good yarns, are grand heirlooms for they are as lasting as they are beautiful," said Mrs. Henderson. She stressed the joy to be derived from creating lovely and durable things with ease in ones leisure hours; "And besides, knitting is said to be good for nerves," quoted Mrs. Henderson. Beautiful hooked rugs, complete and in the making, needle point embroidery, crocheted afghan, and knitting were displayed to the inspiration and enjoyment of those present. The talk was followed by the passing of many patterns and designs for spring dresses, wraps and blouses with appropriate threads in new spring colors for each.

Mrs. Henderson invited everyone to the knit shop for lessons in her chosen pattern and needle work. "Anyone can learn to knit, for it's so easy," she said, and gave the club her example of proof.

During the recreational hour, Mrs. Lon Davis and Mrs. C. W. Nickles were winners of the games in "needle work" directed by Mrs. Poole and Boyd. Mrs. Henderson was presented a pot plant of her favorite color.

Orange cups of home-made ice cream and cake, with miniature hand made rugs as plate favors, were passed to the following guests: Mrs. Claud Henderson, Mrs. Lon V. Smith, Mrs. J. M. Willson, Mrs. D. F. Bredthauer, Mrs. J. M. Gamblin, Mrs. E. L. Angus, Mrs. Lon M. Davis, Mrs. George Smith, and Mrs. J. W. Chapman all of Floydada; Mrs. W. C. Hudson, Mrs. C. A. Caffee, and Mrs. B. M. Norman and daughter, Janelle all of Dougherty, Mrs. Earl Crawford and son of Blanco and Miss Delzie Bradford of Baker; to Master James, Wise of Antelope and to Mrs. S. M. Crawford, Mrs. C. W. Nickles, Mrs. J. A. Wise, Mrs. Russell Crawford, Mrs. W. S. Poole and Mrs. T. J. Boyd, members.

The next meeting of the club will be February 16 with the lesson "Cheese dishes to tempt the appetite" given by Mrs. W. S. Poole. Mrs. S. M. Crawford will give an "Appreciation of the Beauty in Nature." Mrs. T. J. Boyd is hostess.

Joint Hostesses Honor Bride-elect With Shower

To honor Miss Bonnie Fyffe, whose marriage to Lee Cavin of Hereford will be solemnized Sunday, February 12, a group of hostesses entertained Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. S. D. Greer, 519 West Kentucky street, with a miscellaneous shower.

On the basis of the estimated number of miles and the cost, the division of R. E. A. has given these rates to cover the cost of service, Chapman said.

A minimum bill of $2.45 to include 25 kilowatt-hours and with a cost for 100 kilowatt-hours of approximately $5.60.

In order that a person's electric bill can be figured approximately the average use of an electric iron is 4 kwh per month; a refrigerator from 20 to 40 kwh per month; washing machine about 2 kwh per month; radio 8 kwh per month; and lights for entire farm will average from 25 to 30 kwh per month. The amount of kwh hours used of course depends upon the time required to use these appliances. The rate division of R. E. A. designs these rates in order to make the project self-supporting.

If an electric range and/or hot water heater is used a cheaper rate will be applied on kwh used above the minimum. The final rate will be forthcoming in the very near future.

Irrigation Rate

The project through the Washington office is negotiating with the Texas-New Mexico Utilities to furnish power for the project at two points, one midway between Lockney and Aiken and another just east of Petersburg.

Quite a bit of discussion and investigation has been made to secure an equitable irrigation rate. Based on the use of dispatching the load in the off-months and staggering the load as much as possible during the peak irrigation months the following power rate has been adopted by the Board of Directors.

The first 35 kwh per hp connected per month at 2c, the next 165 kwh per hp per month 1 1/2c and all over 200 kwh per hp at 1 1/4c.

The minimum annual charge is $1.00 per month per hp connected for a six month season, which is to be designated. The off season months carry a minimum charge of 50c per connected hp if current is used in those months.

PUTTING OFF

A great American pastime is the practice of putting off until tomorrow what can be done today. So prevalent is this habit that the entire population of the world can be divided into two classes, the Put-it-offers and the do-it-nowers.
People never mean to leave tasks undone, they just put them off until a more convenient time which, incidentally, never shows up. The reason I can write this editorial with such firm understanding is because I am one of the Put-it-offers.
At the outset of each new day, I resolve in my thoughts to do innumerable tasks which have been haunting my leisure moments for several days, thereafter I become so engrossed with the regular school day-routine that I have completely forgotten my resolutions. And judging from the undone lessons, the uncombed hair, and some of the other ills at school, I am not the only put-it-offer in Floydada High.

I've about come to the conclusion that the best way to get a thing done is to do it immediately after the resolution and that is exactly what I'm going to do. My economics book awaits.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you may get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.
Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

(By Leeman Norman)
The Floydada Whirlwinds entered the Roaring Springs annual invitation tournament last Friday and Saturday.
The Whirlwinds played McAdoo in their first game. Floydada being the victor by a score of 38-16.

The second game was played with the Plains quintet a team from near the border of New Mexico. The Whirlwinds won this game by a score of 36-17. Dale Taylor was high point man with 18 of the teams 36 points. These were the only two games played by the Whirlwinds Friday.

Saturday the Whirlwinds played Matador in what proved to be the most spectacular game of all Floydada being victorious in an overtime period 22-20. It was decided to play until one team made a field goal. After some good passing by Taylor and Newberry the latter made the deciding point that put the Whirlwinds in the finals. This was a very thrilling game with the score being tied at every rest period.

Saturday night at 11 o'clock the Whirlwinds played the Fiomot Longhorns in a thriller which saw the Longhorns finally victorious by a score of 34-31. It seems that the Longhorns still like to mix football in with their basketball.

The Whirlwinds received a gold basketball player on a black stand for second. It seems the Whirlwinds are improving for last year they won consolation and this year they won second.

For the second straight time Gordor Patterson, star of the Whirlwinds, was placed on the all-tournament team. He received a gold basketball.

The Matador girls won the girls' part of the tournament by defeating the Jayton girls. Roaring Springs boys and girls won the consolation.

Rails Play Floydada in Tennis
The Rails Jackrabbits met the Floydada Whirlwinds in several lively tennis matches at the high school.

The games began with James Gibbs and Judson Abernathy defeating Earl Adel and Billy Allen: 6-4, 6-2, 12-10; Billy Woody and Robert Scott also won from Harry Farrington and W. M. Day 8-6, 6-1. In the girl doubles Frances Collier and Bertie Shell of Rails defeated Ara Sue Edwards 6-4, 3-6, 2-6. Dorothy Moore and Jeanne Stovall defeated Verda, Frances Turner and Jo Troutman by a score of 6-3, 6-4.

In the boy's singles W. B. Spencer of Rails defeated Adolph Burgett and Royce Turner defeated Jack Smith 5-7, 6-4, 6-1.

Edith Newman defeated Verda Frances Turner 6-0, 6-0.
Frances Reed defeated Evelyn Withers 6-0, 6-4.

Although Rails won eight of the ten matches the Floydada players put up a game fight. The team is planning to journey to Rails sometime soon.

Green Peppers

The Green Peppers are the loudest go-getting bunch in Floydada High school. The basketball games are a perfect ruse for their enthusiasm.
Currently, they have been yelling for the Whirlwinds who are playing in various tournaments, not the least of which is the Lockney-Floydada tangle at the R. C. A. gymnasium, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights at 7 o'clock.

As the cheering section, the Peppers have been a shining organization, giving just as much attention to the round-ball season as to the pigskin games.

Basketball affords a more enjoyable time for the Peppers because the yelling is not as strenuous and during the plays, there is a breathing spell because the gym must be quiet to give the boys every possible advantage.

What a victory for F. H. S. if the Whirlwinds could take the tournament against the Longhorns.
To lose the football game was one of the major tragedies of the year, but to lose to Lockney in both sports would be almost unbearable. The Whirlwinds will be giving their best and the Longhorns will be returning with their best, so come out and see real basketball.

Fifteen of the second year boys were initiated to the grade of Future Farmers by the officers of the Lorenzo chapter. This is the highest degree that can be awarded by a local chapter of the F. F. A. The boys that were initiated were Jewel Eza, Clarence Westfall, M. C. Fuqua, Walter Goodjohn, Lee Burton, Warren Johnston, Leland Woodward, Joe Shultz, Le Roy Chowning, Elmer Norrell, Wilson Bond, Presley Kennamer, James Turner, Jack Smith and Russell Patterson.

The meeting was opened by the Floydada chapter officers, then the meeting was turned over to the Lorenzo officers for the initiation. The meeting was then closed by the Floydada officers.
A new refreshment committee was appointed for the next meeting. The following boys were appointed: Lee Burton, chairman, James Anderson, David Beck, Archie Curry, Weldon Cumble, Beal Ferguson, Tresmon Glover, Verne Graham, Charles Hartsell and Griggs Hulsey.

Refreshments of cookies and hot chocolate were served by the committee for last month.
Some table tennis games were played after the meeting was adjourned.

The ag boys are studying how to terrace and contour their farms. They have studied the importance of saving the water that has been running off, which carries the soil and results in a poor crop.

They have learned the parts of level, how to adjust a level, and how to set up a level. The boys will probably run some lines on fields so as to get some actual experience in running lines.

The chapter received their brooder which requires them to brood one bunch of chicks for a chapter project. The project will be started soon—it will be taken care of by the ag boys. It will be in the ag room, where it will be easier for the boys to attend to them. The money made from the project will go in the chapter treasury.

FFA Boys Planning Many Events
The agriculture boys plan to study "principles of livestock breeding." Eight of the agriculture boys who graduated last year meet in the ag room every Monday night with Mr. King, ag teacher, to study and to learn how to overcome difficult farm problems.

The boys who are members are Joe Smith, Ralph Taylor, Milton Weems, Raymond Colston, Henry Hinton, Louis Dean Brand, R. V. Bartlett, and Drue Cumble. These boys are doing some good work.

Several of the agriculture boys plan to go to Rails to the contest, Saturday. The following teams will represent the Floydada Chapter: eighth grade chapter, conducting one act demonstration and public speaking.

The eighth grade chapter conducting team consists of president Oron Beck, vice-president, Way-tard and Hale, reporter, W. T. Elza, secretary, Junior Simpson, treasurer, Jim Simpson, watch dog Aaron Strickland, parliamentarian, Charles Hartsell, historian, Tresman Glover.

One act demonstration will be a bacillary test of poultry. James Turner, Lee Burton and M. C. Fuqua will make the demonstration at Rails. Eddie Brown will be our public speaker. His topic is "History of Soil Erosion."

The meats identification learn much about the wholesale cuts and the grades of meat from a visit to packing house at Lubbock, Saturday, February 4. They were directed through the slaughter room then into cooling room on into storage room and then through the room where the meat was cut up ready for market. They were shown the correct way of cutting a pork and beef carcass.

The boys that went to Lubbock were Presley and Homer Kennamer, Wilson Bond, and Jewel Elza. They were accompanied by their sponsor W. A. King.

Floydada Lodge No. 712 A. F. & A. M. meets Saturday night, Feb. 11. Stated meeting, J. G. Wood, W. M., M. L. Probasco, Sec'y.

Floydada Students To Present One Act Play At Big Spring

The Speech club has been asked by Miss Nora Carlton of the district health office in Floydada to prepare a one act play to be given at Big Spring March 1. The play is to represent the health district of 60 counties at the state convention.

There are to be representatives from all over the state and from the state office at Austin.
The play, "Community Current," written especially for the class by Miss Carlton and Mrs. Eva Piper; Miss Carlton furnishing the technical details and it has been accepted by Mr. Cummings and the local health office.

The purpose of the play is to touch upon the different health problems of a country community, telling how to recognize certain diseases and what to do to prevent them.

It is to instruct the person not familiar with the State Health department as to the object and duties of his own county health unit. Contrasting the old way of caring for the sick and the modern, the play gives a clear picture of protecting the health in the best way. To do this it is to be given in Floydada sometime this month and the rural communities are to be invited to attend, so as to give instruction to the community where it is needed in problems of the home and farm.

Tryouts for parts were held Monday and Tuesday. After stiff competition the following people were chosen: Mrs. Akine, Winifred Hodge Nurse, Dorris Collins; Mrs. Welsh, Evelyn Groves; Farmer Jones, Harold Cothorn; Health Inspector, Olin Watson.

Dr. Howell, Judson Abernathy, and Health Doctor, W. C. Boren. The characters are to attend the luncheon and have all of their expenses paid while in Big Spring.

Big Box Supper Is Scheduled Mon.
Girls and women, bring your boxes of delicious things to eat; and men, boys, come and buy these beautiful boxes of tasteful things, next Monday night at the high school.

Sponsored by the Band-Parents association, an old fashioned box supper is to be held Monday night, February 13 at the high school auditorium. All girls are to bring their boxes of goodies.

There is to be a night of fun, frolic, and food, accompanied by parts—a thing highly rare in these parts.
Proceeds from this affair will be applied to the band fund for the purpose of new uniforms.

Chapel

Rev. Vernon Shaw spoke to the student body last Thursday in chapel. He first gave statistics on automobiles manufactured, amount spent on automobiles, amount lost through automobiles, and the number of lives lost through automobile accidents in the year of 1939.

The reason a car is wrecked is negligence or recklessness on the driver's part. Then comparing an automobile to your life he used the verse "Be ye diligent." Steer your life in the right direction.
Everyone enjoyed hearing Rev. Shaw and hope that he will speak again soon.

Band Chatter

"Traveling?"
"No, I gotta practice."
Such incidents occurred last Friday when some 30 band members were seen with big, small and middle sized black cases, that sometimes have the appearance of travelling bags.

Contest time is nearing and for the next two months diligent members of the band, who are determined to put Floydada high school band "on the map" will be seen carrying their instruments home to tresh out the various parts of the numbers to be used.

This year the band will enter Class B in the contest in which they take part. Probably the first contest they will enter will be held in Plainview April 6, 7, and 8.

There will also be a contest in Vernon April 23-25, but it is unknown to date whether the band will enter this contest.

In the Plainview contest, Mr. Camp plans to enter some quartets, trios, duets and solos. A brass quartet made up of two cornets, a trombone and a French horn; a saxophone quartet, composed of two alto one tenor, and a baritone sax; and a clarinet quartet of four Bb clarinets; are the quartets that may enter. Solos on cornet, saxophone, trombone, clarinet, and French horn will be played.

Mr. Camp is undecided on the numbers he will use for the full band at Plainview. But in order to enter regional competition, if the band were to win, they would be required to play "Martha," and overture by Fr. V. Plotow so it's possible that Martha, will be one of the numbers.

The band is steadily growing, having added 14 members since school began. Three horns, two baritone, one bass, three snare drums, one bass drum, six trombones, five saxophones, eight clarinets and six cornets, make up the instrumentation of the band.

However, Mr. Camp is anxious for more students to add band work to their regular curriculum, so that the required instrumentation may be obtained.

The chief need for the organization at present is 12 new uniforms. January 23, the Band-Parents sponsors a banquet for the uniform fund, and February 13, a box supper is to be given by the same organization. Effort is being made to have a large crowd, in order that the entire band will be in uniform by the time contests start.

BOYS AND GIRLS BASEBALL
The season of baseball has begun. The teams are being organized by practice and plenty of hard work-outs.

The boys are being coached by R. E. Linder, who is also the debate coach. At present the boys have only one game to their season.
Friday, the Sand Hill players arrived and a pitch battle was planned. Floydada defeated the opponents by a score of 6 to 14. After this stimulating victory, the baseball team is pepped up and are now playing with full force. Several games have been planned before the fatal meeting with Lockney.

The girl's baseball team has not begun practice yet, but plan many games for the season. There are a number of girls interested and they certainly plan to win all their games. Miss Miller is coach of the girl teams.

Texas Drivers May Use Licenses After April 1, Is Report

AUSTIN—Texas drivers may continue to use their operators' licenses after April 1, the statutory expiration date for all such permits, the public safety commission announced today.

The commission said an indefinite period of extension pending legislative action on two proposals for re-issuing driving permits. The two bills referred to in the legislative hopper are Senate bill No. 3 and House bill No. 50.

Licenses issued to chauffeurs and drivers classed as commercial operators were not affected by the safety department's orders for extensions as these permits expire one year from date of issuance. Since Texas' driver's license law was enacted in 1936, two and three-quarter billion licenses had been assigned to passenger vehicle operators. These permits were issued by tax collectors over the state under the statute which stipulated that they would expire on April 1, 1939. However, no action had yet been taken by the 46th legislature to provide for renewal or reissuance of the licenses.

Safety department officials said the new expiration date would be announced later.

Texas Highway patrolmen stated Monday that no information had been received here concerning the continued use or renewal of the drivers' licenses, and that nothing would be done regarding the change until the Legislature acts.

Wheat Looking Fine S. E. Part Of County

ANTELOPE, Feb. 8.—Wheat in the community is looking splendid despite the cold weather, which flattens it against the "good earth." We are thankful that in some places wheat is large enough to be grazed. Many of the farmers are plowing the row crop land. Seeing this freshly turned red brown soil makes one's heart sing for the very richness of it. We can understand why our fathers loved the land.

What Does the Future Hold for The Smaller Towns in Texas?

What must inevitably be the fate of the small towns and communities in Texas?

This question is being asked in literally hundreds of interior places over the state where today "For Rent" signs clutter the windows of numbers of empty business buildings? It is a question of increasing serious importance, not only to these small towns and communities, but to the state as a whole.

These once busy places of community life, around which has largely grown the progressive development of Texas, are being dried up by the operation of heavy trucks over our highways. Their local business firms and enterprises, the dry goods, hardware, drug and fruit and vegetable stores, retail lumber yards, wholesale grocery houses, bottling plants, feed mills, oil mills, grain elevators and cotton compresses are unable to meet the competition of the larger business centers because of the almost unrestricted and promiscuous use of Texas highways in the delivery of goods by trucks from the larger cities holding the quantity-purchase advantage.

The absorption and manipulation, in varying degree, of the cost of transportation by highway for competitive purposes, if not restricted, will inevitably drive dealers and wholesalers in the smaller towns and communities out of business. They must succumb to the inequality of opportunity with which they are burdened and thus contribute further to our growing economic chaos.

The plea now being made by certain interests to increase the load limit on trucks operating over Texas highways, who seek no favors and advantages, but who willingly pay their own way to render efficient, dependable and economical transportation service to Texas communities, have laid the ill effects of unfair and subsidized competition in the same way and measure as the small town business men and, in the interest of our mutual preservation, join with them in urging that existing legal truck load limits be not increased!

Mr. Tractor User —

Floydada, Texas.

Dear Sir:—

I am pleased to announce that I have taken over the dealership for the famous MINNEAPOLIS-MOLINE line of Twin City tractors and Moline equipment.

There will be a demonstration given by experts of tractors and Moline equipment at my place 3 miles east of Floydada February 14. Come and see for yourself just what the Twin City tractors will do. Free lunch at noon will be served.

Being a farmer myself, I feel that I fully realize the responsibility of an implement dealer and I expect to conduct my business along the following lines:

1. Carry an adequate repair stock at all times for servicing M & M machinery in this territory.
2. Maintain a service shop and service man to take care of every need.
3. Treat all customers alike, in the fairest manner I know how.
4. Make a fair margin of profit so that I will be able to render legitimate sales service.

The many popular products in this line may now be found on display at my place 3 miles east of Floydada. Ample demonstration grounds will be kept at all times and we will be glad to demonstrate a tractor or plow at any time.

I earnestly solicit your patronage on the above business principles. Whether you are in the immediate market or not, come on out and see our complete line of tractors and farm machinery.

A fair deal to all. I'm ready to talk trade any time.

Yours very sincerely,
S. J. LATTA.

Here's What One Man Thinks OF MINNEAPOLIS-MOLINE

In His Own Words . . .

"These seven tractors all in operation at same time in some field plowed 700 acres in 24 hours.

With one M.T.A. Twin City and another tractor of comparable size, both pulling the same load, the M.T.A. showed a noticeable difference in power in favor of the M.T.A. and 5% more speed and consumed one gallon per hour less fuel.

Electric Light Keeps Hens Working 12 Hours a Day

NEW HOPE, Pa.—The cock that crowed at dawn is old-fashioned today and the busiest flock of hens in Bucks county don't wait for the clarion call of the old man.

Electric lights in a new three-story henry flash on at 6 a. m. and the flock is about its business of eating, scratching and laying on a 12-hour schedule, long before daylight.

Dusk has settled before the chickens roost and the day ends at 6 p. m. when the lights are automatically turned off in a new electric "egg factory" in the 164-acre farm of Charles Wendig on the Old York Road near here.

He anticipates that egg production may increase from 10 to 30 per cent during the winter months when prices are highest, although it is not expected that the annual production of the hens will be greatly increased.

The poultry farm has been completely electrified with more than a half mile of wiring, and a distribution panel which controls the system of electric brooders, violet ray lamps, fans, egg cleaners and egg graders.

Electric motors do the work of grinding feed for the chickens and 23 electric lights have been installed in the new modern three-story hen house.

Electrification has extended beyond the poultry plant and the Wendig home is equipped with electric refrigeration, electric dish washers, water heater, range, spinner washer and ironing machine.

Eight manufacturers of electrical equipment have combined their knowledge of farm problems to set up a model poultry farm here for experimental purposes.

The egg grader, which saves two hours time each day, operates like the glass enclosed scoop shovels which dig into piles of penny prizes at amusement parks. The four buckets automatically pick up the eggs and set them on four scales which operate ejectors to sort the eggs of different weights. One man operates the machine and does the daily task in a half hour as compared with 2 1/2 hours time under the old system.

MISS GRIMES INSTRUCTS CLUB DEMONSTRATORS IN SPECIAL WORK THIS MONTH

Miss Ruth Grimes, county home demonstration agent, has arranged an interesting program for her clubs of the county during the month of February that she may have the time to meet with the sixty four demonstrators and fourteen girls club demonstrators to instruct them in their work in connection with the fall display.

In order to have more time to prepare their demonstration for the fall Home Demonstration tour over the county, Miss Grimes decided to hold her school of instruction as early as possible then to prevent conflicting with the spring work in rural homes, this month was chosen.

Instructions will be given for each classification at different times when the demonstrators from each club in the county will attend and receive helpful suggestions in her chosen project.

Each club decided some subject they would like to have discussed to fill the time Miss Grimes would give them and a number of speakers have been secured for the meetings.

A list of the speakers, meeting places and subjects are listed: Mrs. Claud Henderson will speak to the Lone Star, Antelope, and Home Builders clubs on "Needle work and Knitting"; Mrs. John E. Eldridge will give a book review to the Sunny Side club; Mrs. Peyton Reese former Hale county demonstration agent, will speak to the Sand Hill club on spring styles;

Carpenter has been asked to Sterley and Lockney to discuss "The farm security program and policy"; D. F. Bredthauer, at Pleasant Valley to discuss, "Seedlings for yards"; Dr. John W. Miss Nora Edna Carlton will discuss the same subject as Dr. Hooper when she meets the Liberty club; Miss Mary Leda McAdams, home economics teacher at Lockney goes to South Plains to discuss "Home Economics as a Vocation."
