FLOYDADA, FLOYD COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1939.

Invitation Track And Field Meet Planned For March 18

42 Schools Sent Invitations This Week By Winter

Nifty Trophies, Individual Medals And Ribbons To Be Given

Plans for the largest track and field meet ever held in Floydada are being made by Coach Odell Winter with the backing of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, Floydada Whirlwind club, and the Floydada High school.

All schools within a radius of 75 miles, as the crowd will get invitations to bring their teams and make a try for prizes and trophies in 14 track and field events. The date has been set tentatively for March 18.

Besides the larger schools outside Floyd county receiving invitations Coach Winter issued open invitation to all rural schools in the county to compete.

The rules set up for the meet allow each school to enter three men in each event and a team in each of the three relay races. Schools are invited to send one man or a full team to compete.

The high school track will be graded and worked to get it in tip-top shape for the meet and allow the Floydada track team to get in practice. Some of the fastest stepping boys in this section are expected to compete for honors since the meet is scheduled to come off before the various county meets and two weeks before the district meet.

Trophies and individual prizes were ordered this week by Coach Winter and as soon as they arrive will be placed on display in one of the downtown windows. The winning school will receive a 12 inch gold plated trophy, winners of each relay will receive a 6 1/2 inch gold plated trophy, and individual high point man will receive a special green gold medal watch fob.

Smaller medals with ribbon will be awarded to first place in each event with second and third places receiving ribbons.

Events scheduled are 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 880 yard run, mile run, 110 high hurdles, 220 low hurdles, discus throw, shot put, high jump and broad jump.

Three relay races are scheduled. They are the 440 yard relay, 880 yard relay, and the mile relay. Two relays were added to take the place of the javelin throw and the pole vault. It was decided to leave out the javelin because of the danger attached to such an event and the pole vault requires so much time that it generally delays the smooth running off of the meet.

Meet officials have not been selected yet, but in every case possible outside judges and officials will be used.

Invitation will be mailed out this week to Crowell, Abernathy, Lockney, Plainview, Petersburg, Hale Center, Lubbock, Slaton, Idalou, Lorenzo, Ralls, Crosbyton, Dickens, Spur, Girard;

City Takes Up $6,000 Interest Bearing Debt

Final deliberation by the city council last week on the matter of bond purchases on its refunded debt resulted in taking up $6,000 of the issue, making a total reduction since May of 1937 of $33,000.

Christian Church Will Be Dedicated In Easter Service

At a meeting of the First Christian church congregation Sunday morning, directed by J. C. Wester, chairman of the board, action was taken regarding the purchase of pews for the new building. The pews at this time have been ordered and preparations are being made to dedicate the church Easter Sunday.

The Ladies' Council of the church is donating the pews. Other finishing equipment will be installed soon and the building when complete will have an estimated value of $10,000.

The church building was started in October. The congregation, insisting on paying the way as the work progressed, has nearing completion a church edifice that combines utility and pleasing architectural lines.

GOOD FIRE RECORD CREDIT GIVEN FLOYDADA AGAIN, INSURANCE COMMISSION

State Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall announced this week that Floydada had again received a good fire record credit of 15 per cent for 1939.

In his letter to the city Mr. Hall said, "I want to take this opportunity to commend your fire department to you for the effective work it has been doing in saving your citizens both from fire losses and higher insurance costs."

Copies of the letter were sent to Mayor Glad Snodgrass, Fire Marshal E. S. Price, and Fire Chief V. L. Elliott.

The Floydada fire department fought several serious fires during the past year with good success. One store rewarded the fire boys with a banquet following a serious fire which they extinguished with minimum amount of damage to stock by water and smoke. Several other fires in the business district were quickly halted.

Hi'way Sponsored WPA Job Promised North To Briscoe

Tubbs And Harris Expect Early Action On Hard-Surfacing

Conferences at Austin Monday with state highway department officials, including Commissioner Harry Hines and State Highway Engineer Julian Montgomery are expected to result in an early program of improvement on Highway 207 north.

Judge G. C. Tubbs and Commissioner E. R. Harris in company with County Attorney John Stapleton made the trip to Austin, and following their visit there expect within a 45-day period to have a highway department sponsored project under way.

The entire reach of the highway in this county to the Briscoe line is expected to be improved in a manner similar to the improvement done from Floydada south to the Crosby county line. The new plan of procedure, which takes the road out of the farm to market class and puts it in a WPA classification will afford work for some months to WPA workers in the county and will speed up hard-surfacing of the route, and in the opinion of Judge Tubbs, will make a more satisfactory plan for people of this county.

The new project is not expected to interfere with the work on the Flomot road. It is anticipated the caprock work on that road will be practically finished within 30 days and that other work on that road can wait for a time. The Flomot caprock is in much better condition, making a good climb now with a straighter and wider roadbed, and considerably better grade. Work on the county-sponsored job has been under way for 90 days.

Several conferences with the District Engineer, G. M. Garrett and with the highway commission preceded the conference Monday in which the last technicality in the way of making the Silverton road improvement was gotten out of the way.

Final acceptance of the route as an official extension of Highway 207 is expected by the court following the completion of the hard-surfacing job.

Cold Weather Lot of E. Plains Area During Past Month

But Value Of Moisture, Cold Offset In Some Fields By Blowing Soil

A month of weather 13.5 degrees colder than the same month last year and 1.5 degrees colder than the 30-day period in late December and early January was chalked up Monday at the West Texas Gas company for the 30-day period ending on Sunday.

To cap off this low mean temperature record, the low of the year was recorded Tuesday morning when the thermometer dropped to 12. The thermometer made it back up to 32 shortly after noon on Tuesday.

The mean average temperature for the month ending February 19 was 38.3 degrees, the same month a year ago 51.8 degrees. For the month ending January 20 the mean average temperature was 39.8 degrees.

Wind Damages Wheat While the cold with ample moisture in the subsoil has been considered highly beneficial to wheat, 4 windy days in the month of February have been damaging to the crop and several hundred acres of wheat in various parts of the county have been lost due to blowing soil, grain dealers and farmers report.

Little or no injury has been reported to live stock, although sheep men have reported rather high mortality to the lamb crop.

Meeting of the Floyd County Retail Merchants association which was originally scheduled for tonight will be held instead on March 9. Mrs. P. G. Stegall, secretary, said this week.

Mr. True has been living in Floyd county for the past 13 years coming to this county from McAllister, New Mexico. Funeral services will be under the direction of Rev. E. E. White of Plainview, assisted by E. C. Armstrong of Lockney. Burial will be in Floydada cemetery.

Floydada Future Farmers Make Clean Sweep of Their District Judging Contests

District To Compete At Lubbock This Week In Annual Affair

The Floydada chapter of Future Farmers made almost a clean sweep of their district F. F. A. contests here Saturday as they copied front honors in the three major contests of meat identification, dairy cattle judging, and dairy products judging.

In the meats identification contest which was held at Piggly-Wiggly Floydada scored first honors, with Lorenzo, Spur, Crosbyton and McAdoo placing in that order behind the local chapter.

High point men in the contest were Wilson Bond, Presley Kenamer, and Jewel Elza, all of Floydada and Rodney McFarland of Lorenzo and Jack Robertson of McAdoo, in order named.

In dairy products Floydada scored a clean sweep of the four high point honors and won the first place. Placing was Floydada, Patton Springs, Spur, McAdoo, Lorenzo, and Quitaque.

High point men were Leeland Woodward, C. W. Denison, Roy Lathem, and Earl Beck. There was only one-half point difference between second and third place teams.

Floydada won the first three high point spots in dairy cattle judging and first placing in the seven teams entered. Placing was Floydada, Lockney, Ralls, Patton Springs, Crosbyton, McAdoo, and Quitaque. There was only one point difference between third and fourth places.

Individuals were Clarence Westfall, William Bertrand, Neal Bertrand, of Floydada and Jimmie Allen of Lockney.

Eighty-nine boys from other schools were present for the contests with Floydada having approximately 36 on hand for the events. Quitaque, under the guidance of Raymond King former Floydada High school graduate, was not eligible to win since they are in another district but were allowed to compete for practice.

Neal Bertrand and Clarence Westfall displayed finesse in drowning the Crosbyton table tennis team in doubles while William Bertrand doubled the Lorenzo singles player.

Schools in this district will compete in the annual contest held at Texas Tech on Saturday of this week unless plans are changed.

Completion Is Near On Floyd County Rural Electric Co-Op Lines

L. W. Chapman Urges Farmers Who Live On Lines Get Their Houses Wired Now

Work on the construction of the first 170 miles of the lines for Floyd County Rural Electric Co-Operative is rapidly nearing completion. It is expected that early in March the contractor will have finished all work with the exception of the substations, said Project Superintendent L. W. Chapman this week.

Weather permitting, he added, these can be completed in a short time and the project energized in April.

This being the case many people will find their houses are not wired in time to take electricity when it is first turned on, the superintendent warned. "At the last minute people will decide to wire their houses but the electricians will be busy elsewhere," he said. "And we want to urge people living on the lines at present get their houses wired now and not keep putting off until the last minute."

Mr. Chapman further urges that those communities which are planning extensions should make a special effort to get in all of their easements, application and wiring survey forms as quickly as possible in order that their projects may be submitted for approval.

Inspector Is Named

J. Marvin Cox, of Lockney, has been appointed inspector for the co-operative house wiring jobs and began work last week. Tuesday he had finished inspections on about 20 houses. Cox was named after competitive examinations recently held.

PRIZES FOR EXHIBITS AT PIONEERS RE-UNION FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

Rural schools will be asked to compete for exhibit prizes this year at the annual session of the Floyd County Pioneer's Re-Union Mrs. C. J. McCollum, of Lockney, announced this week.

$5 first prize and $2.50 second prize will be given for the "best old settlers exhibit," which will be awarded to a rural school.

In addition to the prizes planned for the schools an essay contest is being arranged, essays to be written on the history of Floyd county, either in general or some particular phase of it, Mrs. McCollum said. She had charge of the relics and antiques exhibit at the meeting last year and expects to be able to make this a more interesting feature of the meeting in 1939.

Meeting date for the old settlers always comes on May 28, but this year is likely to be held the day before or the day after, because May 28 falls on Sunday.

H. E. Edwards Badly Injured In Accident Early Friday Night

Former Elevator Operator In Highway Crash Which Claims One Victim

Death claimed one and another was seriously injured in an automobile collision 5 miles east of Floydada Friday night. The accident, one of the worst in several years, claimed the life of D. L. Miller, Plainview resident, and injured H. E. Edwards, Floydada resident and father of Henry Edwards, seriously.

Mr. Edwards, although suffering pelvic fractures and other injuries, was reported doing very well by hospital officials here Wednesday. Mr. Edwards is 74 years old and many years a resident of this county.

The cars driven by Miller and Edwards crashed head on early in the night. Miller suffered a crushed skull and death was instant. Both cars were described as "total wrecks" by officers.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at Plainview for Mr. Miller with the Rev. W. P. Jennings, pastor of the Plainview Christian church, officiating at the rites.

Besides his wife and son, David, he is survived by a daughter, Miss DeAlva Miller of New York city; a sister, Mrs. Virginia Sawyer of Chandler, Texas; and a brother, Charley Miller of Tyler.

Interment was in the Plainview cemetery.

Mr. Miller had been business manager of the Plainview Hospital and Clinic for a number of years.

Cause of the fatal accident had not been firmly established in the minds of state highway officers this week, since so many things had happened.

It is supposed that Mr. Miller, who had been following the ambulance in which his son, David, was being brought to Plainview from Waco, was blinded by Mr. Edwards' lights and that Mr. Edwards had been blinded by the ambulance which he has just met and neither saw the others car.

Ism Wood, driver of the ambulance, saw the accident in the rear view mirror of the ambulance just after he had met and passed Edwards, who was going east. He heard the crash and stopped immediately and returned to the scene of the accident and with the aid of passers-by removed the two men from the wreckage.

Mr. Miller was placed in the ambulance with his injured son and rushed to Plainview while Mr. Edwards was brought to the Floydada Hospital and Clinic.

The car driven by Miller, and belonged to his son, caught fire almost immediately after the crash but the flames were extinguished before serious damage was done.

Mrs. D. L. Miller was waiting at the Plainview hospital when the ambulance arrived with her husband and son. She had been expecting her son's arrival. David Miller had received a fractured back in an automobile accident at Hillsboro last week and was being returned home by his father.

Farm Meet Saturday To Air Demands

Floyd County Farm Association Called Meeting Here At 2 p. m.

At least 3 matters considered of more than ordinary import to Floyd county farmers are expected to come up for discussion Saturday afternoon here when the meeting is held, called by the Floyd County Farm association.

Of these the matter of outstanding interest is demand for raising the legal Texas truck load limit. Apparently, at least 90 per cent of farmers in this area favor a change to increase the limit and this week are freely signing petitions asking for an increase from 7,000 pounds load to 20,000 load. This week hearings are under way in committee at Austin. Area meetings held at plains points since Monday indicate there is no vocal opposition to the increase among farmers and a very strong sentiment for the increase.

Second only to the truck load limit raise is the matter of retaining the gas tax refund phase of the present gas tax law, which is under fire from some sources. At present the law permits a refund on the tax on gasoline actually used on the farm or in other work which does not have to do with the use of the state highways.

Another matter which, it is likely, will be brought up on the floor at Saturday afternoon's meeting is that of a subsidy for the 1938 cotton crop. At present no subsidy is provided for that crop in the agricultural set-up.

The meeting to be held at the district court room is called for 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

OPPOSITION TO FARM PROGRAM MEETING

A meeting at which further opposition will be voiced to the farm program set-up, especially to that portion of it which, it is declared, dictates to the farmer what crops he shall and shall not plant, will be held here Saturday afternoon in the district court room. This meeting will follow immediately the Floyd County Agricultural association scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock.

J. W. Jennings is chairman of the organization and W. M. Massie is one of the local citizens strongly favoring the movement.

COMMISSIONERS PLAN TO EXTERMINATE SPARROWS

The commissioners court went on record favoring the extermination, or at least a heavy decrease in numbers, of the pestiferous sparrows which have for a number of years hovered over the court house and used it as the central roosting grounds of Floyd county.

The commissioners ordered County Agent D. F. Bredthauer to work out a method of attack and send out the expense bill to them. If the sparrow population was materially decreased.

AUTO REGISTRATIONS ARE BEING MADE SLOWLY, REPORT

The tax assessors and collectors office reported Wednesday that only about 50 automobile and truck licenses had been sold for the year, and that sales were seemingly lagging behind those of last year.

The officials reminded that persons wishing to purchase new license for their old license plates, or preferably the papers to their automobile. This would save much time, it was explained and eliminate possible mistakes.

O. G. Evers Will Take Over Duties at Welfare Office

O. G. Evers, of Pleasant Hill, will take over the duties of Welfare case worker in charge of the county's welfare office on March 1. It was announced this week, following his appointment recently by the Commissioners Court in co-operation with the State Relief commission.

He will succeed Mrs. Dott Slough who has served as case worker for the past three years.

Mrs. Slough is understood to have accepted an assignment in the service. She said Tuesday, however, that any announcement of her future work would not be made at this time.

Evers, who undertakes the local job, formerly taught at Lakeview. Prior to that time he was a student at West Texas State Teachers college and during last summer and fall was employed with Farmers Grain company and with the Newton Gin. He has been aiding in the work the past several days, familiarizing himself with the routine of the new job.

LESSONS THAT ARE UNHEEDED

Class legislation and regulation by the public of the railroad business made freight hauling so high some years ago that farmers and others began using the public highways to get around the impossible figures quoted for hauling things to the place where they could be sold.

A lot of abuses followed, of course, and these abuses brought on more regulation. Now, one must, indeed, be a genius to get around the regulatory railroad laws and the regulatory highway laws, too. Still, stifling commerce as they are, people keep trying to figure out ways.

Class legislation the railway men demanded has not brought them more and better jobs. Regulation of the railways has not helped better the communications system and has brought bankruptcy to the railways.

But Austin is fuller today than ever of men who want something for themselves, their classes or crafts that others may not share. Man is a peculiarly compounded creature, which refuses to learn.

THE POWER OF SUGGESTION

Read your neighbor's mail and you'll pretty well know his thoughts.

Read your newspaper and you'll find the kind of "propaganda" the writers are absorbing. Which means that those who are studying the situation the most and feeling the pinch the greatest are the small business men who have to pay new tax burdens, unaccustomed to them, and which they have not learned to pass on to you. They want the newspaper to realize the strain under which they are working, to fight the constantly increasing burden.

Many of the taxes which people are advocating are punitive in nature. It has come over Americans that it is wrong to make money. They want the money-maker beat over the back. They think of the man they pay money to as that fellow.

It doesn't make any difference that all of this is wrong. If a person thinks a thing is true, it is, so far as he is concerned.

But the men who have labored long in the retail world, know that business and no other, are hoping the public will awaken sooner or later. They are "pouring it on" the newspapers.

And the newspaper columns, as a result, are full of tax talk, one way or the other.

TOO SMART FOR MANKIND

Mankind occasionally meets a problem of nature that cannot be solved, as for instance the predatory vermin or bird that infests the civilized area—possibly the uncivilized, too. Latest to come to attention is that of the crow.

The crow has outwitted man for centuries. There is no probability that the crow will be exterminated. A little old black bird with less than a thimble-ful of brain, but all of that concentrated on the problem of self-preservation, has all mankind worrying about a stand of corn.

Suggestions for traps and other ways of reducing the ravages of the crow are made by men who have studied the problem for years. But no hope of total extermination is held out. We take it a bit of brain concentration thus gets high praise. If you would do well, consider the crow.

Our business in life is not to get ahead of others, but to get ahead of ourselves.

THE FARMER TALKS SENSE

High tariffs demanded by industry, high arbitrary wages demanded by organized labor, were the beginning of the lop-sided economic conditions of the present day. This is the belief of Edward A. O'Neal, of Iowa, president of the National Farm Bureau Federation, as told to assembled industrial leaders, labor leaders and farm leaders at a recent Des Moines meeting.

For years the farmer was inarticulate while he plunged more into debt and the industrialist and laborite took more of the net from the national income. He was left with plenty of farm products for sale cheap, but little money to buy high-priced manufactured products, declares the farm leader.

It is pleasing to note that agriculture has at last become articulate. That the industrialist and laborite are being shown the error of their ways by the backbone of the country, the man who has "held things together" while the rest of the world went cockeyed. Stern necessity has at last made the man with the plow loose his tongue. It is interesting to note the farmer does not threaten revolution as does the laborer, nor economic ruin as does the industrialist, but that all must realize the necessity of working together, of curbing their selfishness, of having a house not divided against itself, for all to survive under our present form of government.

LAWS AND HUMAN INGENUITY

Human nature will not cease to be ingenious. Pass a law that is impossible, next thing you know some fellow has figured out a way to keep on doing what he knows how to do, not go broke, and not go to jail.

The recent wages and hours law passed by the Congress make it tough on the pecan dealers of the country. They had to pay too little wages to keep from making the pecans come so high the public would not buy. Leastwise, so they thought. The wages and hour law changed this for some, made others quit business for the time. Now, to get around the impossible law some duck has thought up a plan to bore a hole in one end of the pecan, explode it open and thus reduce the time consumed, hold the price down to the consumer and still meet the ends of the law. Maybe it won't work. If that doesn't something else will. Such things have been demonstrated time and again.

People demand many impossible things of the law-makers. The law-makers strive to please. Ingenious humanity strives to survive.

A WELTER OF TAX NOISE

Neither coercion nor abuse should have any part in the discussion of tax measures, which it is contemplated, will be passed by the present legislature.

It is well that all ideas be given fullest publicity before the court of public opinion. As has been said by one writer there is nothing more convincing than the truth and nothing more convicting.

In other words, it can hardly add to the welfare of the state to lambast the governor or the legislature. All are at Austin doing their best. It is not a question of likes or dislikes, of who voted for whom. The welter of sound, the bombardment of hard words, does not add anything of value to the deliberations.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

"Today," Homemaker N. D. Each morning I wake and find today Deeked in fresh beginning. She has come to stay

With me throughout the hours Until tomorrow. The twenty-four hours she spends with me I enjoy to the fullest capacity. Yesterdays gone, we heed Not tomorrow. With her richness, glory and chastity She is sufficient. I have no curiosity Concerning tomorrow. Merely today.

Each morning when I awake, I wonder what nice thing today will bring. Sometimes a nice letter in the mail from loved ones or from dear friends, a visitor, a trip to town, some one kind enough to tell me they like my column.

Yesterday it was a surprise, and a very nice one at that. My cousin, Mary Lee from Odessa and her two boys brought my mother who lives in Lubbock and sister Edna from Amarillo over for the day. The first thing I knew they were in the house and Mary Lee was making a chicken pie, and my sister a fruit salad. They were magicians for they found nothing to cook when they came, only a freezer of ice cream. Did you ever take the brown crusty top off of a chicken pie, the crust hidden by its creamy blanket of mushroom sauce, and find tender bits of chicken, yellow gold nuggets of carrots and little round balls of jade green peas, ivory bits of asparagus, swimming in luscious gravy. If so you will know what we feasted on. They hid the peaches, pears, and apples under a snow white cloud of whipped cream. No one bothered to count calories, or bothered about pounds of fat. Laughter and love and the pleasure of "belonging" in the family as an Irish lady once told me. "Oh, it so very nice to belong," she said. "Alas there is no one in my family left but me."

All the old timers know the old saying that we always have winter some time during the year, and last week proved this. And today, Monday, winter is still rushing the bitter cold wind to us and every once in a while he stings our cheeks with his icy white beard.

The world is a study in gray this morning. Nature got out her colors, but decided on gray. She flung soft, gray over the sky, painted the trees a darker gray, so that one could see every slender twig, outlined against the sky. The prairie is a tannish gray, the turned furrows a dark oxford. I look for a bit of gay color. My neighbors windmill supplies it with its tower of dull red. Even the birds that fly in formation to the ground for the golden bits of maize are gray.

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian, published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

(Issue of February 19, 1925)

The program at Sand Hill Friday evening of last week, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce upon invitation of the Sand Hill P. T. C. society, was enjoyed by an auditorium full of Sand Hill and Floydada people. The program consisted of an address, musical numbers and readings. Maury Hopkins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, presided.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Rutledge, city, a son, February 17.

Influenza is having its day over many sections of Texas, and in Floyd county the reports of physicians indicate that the disease, in a less aggravated form than in 1918-19, has been going the rounds for nearly two weeks.

Eighteen schools have enrolled to date in the Interscholastic League for the contests to be held in Floydada at the school fair on April 4th and 5th. They are Aiken, Lakeview, Floydada High, Harmony, McCoy, Fairview, Sand Hill, Starkey, Pleasant Hill, Providence, Cedar Hill, Irick, Prairie Chapel and Allmon.

Last Friday evening at Lakeview, the Choral club rendered a very fine program at the school house to a large and appreciative audience. The results from taking the club out of town were most gratifying.

The young married women of the Baptist Sunday school met Tuesday night with Miss Lela Windsor and reorganized their class. T. E. L. was chosen for the class name.

The 1924 Needleworkers met in regular session yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. A. Armstrong, with nine members present. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. W. M. Houghton.

A good singing was held at Campbell last Sunday with a good crowd in attendance. Floydada singers from Floydada were represented by Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Tubbs, Professor R. M. Morgan, and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Randerson. Other singers besides those at Campbell were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith, from Hale county and J. B. Filippin from Harmony.

The Sunbeams are notified that hereafter the regular time and meeting place will be at 4 p. m. at the church building.

Starting Trouble

DOES your engine merely groan when you touch the starter button?

THE WRONG WAY to remedy the trouble is to yank the choke until a pool of gasoline gathers underneath the car... jump up and down on the starter until the poor battery gives up the ghost... burn your fingers pouring hot water into the radiator.

THE RIGHT WAY, the easy way, is to keep the tank filled with Phillips 66 Poly Gas, which is extra high test without extra cost. This high test does the trick every time, because any engine in good mechanical condition will start provided that the gasoline in the tank is "hot" enough.

Phillips 66 Poly Gas is plenty "hot." Rarely exceeded in high test even by higher priced motor fuels. Packed with extra wallop and action, with extra heat units and extra miles. Yet it costs nothing extra, because Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.

We sincerely believe it is this winter's best buy in cold-weather gasoline. Get a trial tankful, and then just feel that difference.

Geo. Washington Studied His Farm Work; Kept Books

Father Of His Country Rotated Crops, Kept Tab On Fields

Did you know that the principles and practices of George Washington in his farm management were very similar to those used today by the Farm Security administration? Did you know that Washington was about the best and richest farmer of his day; that he was one of the six best informed men in Europe and American on fertilizers and crop rotation; that he carried on correspondence with Thomas Jefferson, another noted Virginia farmer, concerning farm problems; that he made Mt. Vernon a real agricultural experiment station; that he gathered from all over the world seeds to test out; that he sought harrows, ploughs, and threshers and other farm machinery from Europe? These and other interesting thoughts on farm management were posed this week by Mary Watson Jones, Home Management supervisor of the Farm Security administration.

George Washington made yearly farm management plans which were, perhaps, more detailed than the farm management plans now being made by the Farm Security administration. At his death he laid out the crop rotation for each field and farm for the next seven years. He complained of the weather, the crops, the laborers; of the low prices he received and the high prices he had to pay. Just as the farmers of today do. He kept daily weather records up to the day of his death. He kept farm accounts more detailed than those required by the Farm Security administration. These accounts were kept field by field, farm by farm, and used as a basis for study of crops and rotations. He was always trying experiments. He wanted to know whether carrots or potatoes are the more profitable crop so he planted a ten acre field with alternate rows of each to find out. He didn't know whether hogs should run free when being fattened or whether they should be shut up in pens, but he stated that he'd know more about that when the experiment was completed. Various seeds were planted in his botanical garden and proper memoranda kept in regard to results. He had mud brought up from the streams and spread over the fields as fertilizer. In so far as possible, he traded products for necessities rather than paying for them in cash.

In George Washington's farm plan the livestock program played an important part. His horses were the best; his stables were adequate and well kept. The best methods of the way were used in feeding his livestock. He kept his stock in sheds in the winter. He had his negroes carry leaves from the woods as bedding for the stock. As he said, the leaves were good for the stock and made excellent fertilizer. He had not decided whether horses or mules were better for farming but was trying to find out. He wondered whether some of his crops were too severe upon the soil. In numerous ways the methods of farming and livestock management planned and advocated by the Farm Security administration are similar to those practiced by George Washington, Mrs. Jones said.

As I See It

Bill Hams

Day by day in every way politics and the political pot gets hotter and hotter down at Austin. The transaction tax is up for consideration and some are as hot for the measure as others are against it, but it seems that at least a big majority of the tax paying citizenry are against the measure.

The big oil, sulphur, and pipe line interests are beginning to get panicky over the possibility of additional taxes on their products and property. But at the same time the consumer just pays and pays and pays without any high powered lobby to do their fighting for them.

After living for some time in Mississippi (they have a Chinese Coin tax there of 2 per cent) I have never seen a bigger nuisance than a sales tax. Just when you think you have a pocket full of money, it turns out that all you do have is a batch of aluminum and brass washers worth about 1 to 5 mills each mixed with several badly worn pennies, all of which sounds good but isn't worth much on the exchange market.

The Mississippians cuss the tax but so far haven't figured out how to put the screws on their senate and House to whip it out. Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico also have the wash tax, but so far no one but the tax bill passers seem to be happy about such sales tax methods.

The supporters of the transaction tax claim that their set-up won't have "washer coins" to bother with. Just the same as the transaction tax differs from the sales tax, it is probable that the tokens of payment will differ, instead of washers of brass or aluminum made by some New Jersey novelty house, we will use square, or even cube shaped coins.

The cube shaped token would have the advantage of having two extra sides on which to put pictures of "Pappy" or "E Pluribus Unum" mottoes. Also with the cube tokens the purchaser could "roll" the harassed merchant "double or nothing" for tax payment after every purchase. If we must have a sales tax (beg pardon, transaction tax) why not supply the poor tax payer with some sort of token that will have more than heads and tails on a 1 or 5 mill tax value.

We see a certain amount of humor in the situation that popped up down in the Valley last week when an honorable judge suspended state laws so that the truckers could haul more than 7,000 pounds at a whack. It takes 11 dozen legislators 10 years to get a law passed and made legal on that state books and one district judge can issue an injunction and undo all these men have done. It is queer that the law should be stronger than the law. Not being a lawyer or knowing the ramifications of the laws, naturally I, or any other ordinary citizen, cannot understand this sort of thing.

No doubt the truckers should be able to carry more poundage, but it seems queer that a district judge, presiding presumably over only one small district in this huge state and elected by only a small portion of the state's voters, can undo or hold up all that is being done by state law officers to enforce a statute passed by our duly elected legislators.

Price fixing also has come up for consideration more this year than for some time. A recent bill brought up for study requires that a retailer may not sell an article for less than the manufacturer's stated retail price. In other words if a manufacturer living in Pittsburgh says that his Neva-Keep-Time watches shall sell for "one dollar," dealers in the state would be required (under penalty of fine or imprisonment) to sell them for at least $1 or over no matter how little overhead they had or what their own wishes were. With this "fair price" bill the boys in the East can tell our merchants what to charge us for goods.

A number of states have passed such laws in the past but recent information is that 17 of them are trying to undo that law, finding that its passage was one big mistake.

Remember that 90 per cent of the manufactured goods comes from East of the Mississippi river.

tized in the name of the Lord Jesus. 17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money.

19 Saying, Give me also power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

Introduction

The church had passed through one of her greatest crises, that of the stoning of Stephen and the scattering of the Christians. It was very natural that the Christians should remain at Jerusalem that they might be close together; and Jerusalem was to become the seat of the Christian council, as the apostles who were more familiar with the teaching of Jesus would be headquartered there. But the persecution which arose about Stephen scattered the Christians and they went everywhere, and as they went, they preached Jesus. As a result the church took root among the Gentiles. Phillip became an evangelist, and we will learn something of the fruit of his labors, as well as about the work of Peter in Samaria.

BOTTLE NOTE IS DELIVERED JUST 23 YEARS TOO LATE

ADELAIDE, Australia. — Just 23 years after Lieut. Henry Blunt threw a bottle, containing a message to his fiancée, overboard from a troopship that was carrying him to the World War in 1915, the message was delivered. It was addressed to Miss G. M. Severn, then living in South Australia.

Recently the bottle was washed ashore about 60 miles from Albany. The finder forwarded the message as requested and it was delivered. Blunt in the meantime had married Miss Severn in 1919 upon his return from the war.

COUNTY AGENT DISCUSSES POSSIBLE FERTILIZER USE ON FLOYD COUNTY FARMS

(By D. F. Bredthauer, County Agricultural Agent, Floyd County).

FLOYDADA, Texas, Feb. 18. — Farm unit soil building demonstrations with TVA can now be carried by Floyd county farmers cooperating with the Extension service. The initial proposition to county agents was for using the phosphate as a pasture and meadow fertilizer demonstration. Now a much broader and deeper perspective of the whole farm-unit soil building program is being offered. Instead of a large number of farmers in the county making fertilizer demonstrations on small portions of permanent pastures or meadows, it would seem wise to carefully select a few farms typical of various soil in the county, the owners-operators of which are eager to cooperate in working out long time soil building farming systems.

Such indirect benefits would not be obvious demonstrations and their value would be difficult to measure. Temporary pastures and legumes turned under would eventually benefit row feed crops and cotton, in a system of crop rotation. Seemingly the only measure of value of such a soil building undertaking would involve the whole farm as a unit. That would mean demonstrators being selected who will keep records of the value and cost of each field or enterprise according to the usual systems designed for planning and conducting a farm business.

Deficient In Phosphates

Most of our uplands are deficient in phosphates but whether they will respond or to what extent, we seemingly have little information. Many of the experienced county agents do know and are eager to conduct this work. From results in other states we might reasonably expect a response in humid areas and under irrigation. Without information as to the value, we have previously hesitated to recommend the expense of phosphates on pasture and legumes. The TVA offers us an opportunity to demonstrate the value at no cost to the demonstrator other than freight. This seems an opportunity for concentrating our efforts upon farm unit demonstrations.

As each enterprise on a farm supplements and affects every other enterprise and activity, as the warp is to the wool, so the combined and harmonized efforts of our service unit would be highly effective. The demonstrators themselves would plan their own affairs but would usually want some technical information to guide them in decisions. The success of this farm as a whole would be measurable and as a demonstration in the community it would be comprehensible to all farmers. Therefore, the county agent would aid in making the farm plan for this demonstration. The selection of demonstrators for work of this kind would be made by the County Agricultural Conservation committee. The triple phosphate will be supplied by a government agency for the permanent benefit of the whole community. The work of the Extension service would be intensified. That is, we would probably be giving much more of our time to such demonstrations than one farm would be entitled to unless the results are continuous and are effective upon the other farms of the community. Other farmers should be made to understand the purpose of our special efforts upon the demonstration farm and how they may benefit by it.

May Require Years

Results to be effective and appreciated may require several years. Building soil fertility is a slow process and sometimes only dimly evident. So in selecting demonstrators, we should keep in mind that they should be intelligent, persevering, and skillful farmers who will keep the necessary records over a period of years.

There certainly should not be any difficulty in getting the one who is selected to work with the community and with us in anything so important. The farms should not be too small or too large. A farm that is so small that a man could not make a living on it when built up would not make a good demonstration. A farm that is too large might be difficult of diverse interests. Select a farm that will produce tangible results with a minimum of diverse interests.

The demonstrators will keep complete farm records and make reports when called for.

Methods Of Procedure

The rate of application is to be approximately 40 pounds actual P2O5 per acre on crop land, and approximately 80 pounds actual P2O5 per acre on open non-crop pasture land or meadow land. Crop land that is fertilized with TVA phosphate must have at least two consecutive soil building crops of legumes plowed under. For instance, if phosphates are applied in the spring, peas or other inoculated summer legumes are to be seeded and plowed under in the fall, then seeded to vetch or other winter legumes. The following year, the land can enter the regular crop rotation system and another portion of land treated. Each year until conclusion of the demonstration, the land must be covered with a cover crop during off crop seasons to prevent leaching and washing. Pasture land or meadow land that is fertilized with TVA phosphate should be seeded to a mixture of inoculated legume seed of both winter and summer growing varieties where adapted. This land will be considered permanent pasture or meadow and will not be plowed for four or five years.

Before any land is treated with TVA phosphate, it should be terraced or treated to prevent washing. The freight rate will be approximately $7 per ton on phosphate from Muscle Shoals.

SIMPLE SHRINKAGE TEST FOR WOOL FLEECES SOUGHT

From 30 to 70 percent of the weight of wool fleeces as they are shorn from the sheep is foreign matter. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics points out that the wide variation in the quantity of clean wool fleece will produce after scouring makes it difficult to judge the market value of grease wool.

Under present methods of buying at country points, each buyer makes his own appraisal of shrinkage by the general appearance or "feel" of the wool. The Bureau says that such an appraisal is little more than a guess and places the producer at a disadvantage since he is usually less competent than the buyer to estimate shrinkage correctly.

To make it easier for both the producer and the buyer to better judge the market value of fleece wools, Government research workers—with the aid of a newly equipped wool scouring laboratory at Washington—are attempting to develop a simplified method for determining "shrinkage." They are attempting to develop a method for determining from samples — the actual shrinkage that will take place in large lots of fleece wools.

In the past sample tests have varied widely from the actual fiber output of larger lots. It is to perfect simple tests so they will represent actual shrinkage, or will bear a constant relationship to actual shrinkage, that these scouring tests have been undertaken.

106 BILLION POUNDS MILK USED EACH YEAR

More than 100 billion pounds of milk are produced and consumed in the United States each year. Production on farms in the United States in recent years has averaged about 163 billion pounds, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. In addition to this "farm" produced milk, about 3 billion pounds are produced in areas not classified as "farms" near cities and villages.

Of this 106-billion-pound total, more than 30 billion pounds are consumed in cities and villages as fluid milk and cream. This "city" consumption of milk and of cream, in terms of its milk equivalent, represents nearly a third of the total production each year.

More than half of the total production each year goes into manufactured dairy products, such as butter, cheese, evaporated milk, condensed milk, ice cream, malted milk, and so forth. Butter is the most important manufactured product. Creamy butter production alone takes more than 80 billion pounds of milk each year, or approximately a third of the total annual milk output. Another 10 percent is used for producing butter on the farm. Cheese accounts for nearly 6 percent of all milk produced each year, and ice cream for from 3 to 4 percent.

POTATOES AS FOOD

Except in Ireland, the general use of the potato covers a period of less than 150 years. In Ireland the potato became a staple article of diet about a century earlier, and from this fact arises the name Irish potato, although its origin appears to have been in Peru, where the natives have eaten it from time immemorial.

From Peru the potato was first carried to Spain by early Spanish explorers of the New World, and thence into Italy, but it was merely looked upon as a curiosity, and as such was seen in the botanical gardens of Europe for two centuries or more before its adoption for food purposes became general.

Sir Walter Raleigh is said to have been the first to cultivate the potato in Ireland about 1592. At first it was used for feeding hogs, but little by little experiments were made to demonstrate that it was not harmful to human beings, so that it very gradually came into use for food, particularly during periods of famine.

The spread of potato culture was greatly accelerated by the scarcity of food following the Napoleonic wars in the early part of the nineteenth century, since which time its use has steadily increased.

PRESERVING FENCE POSTS

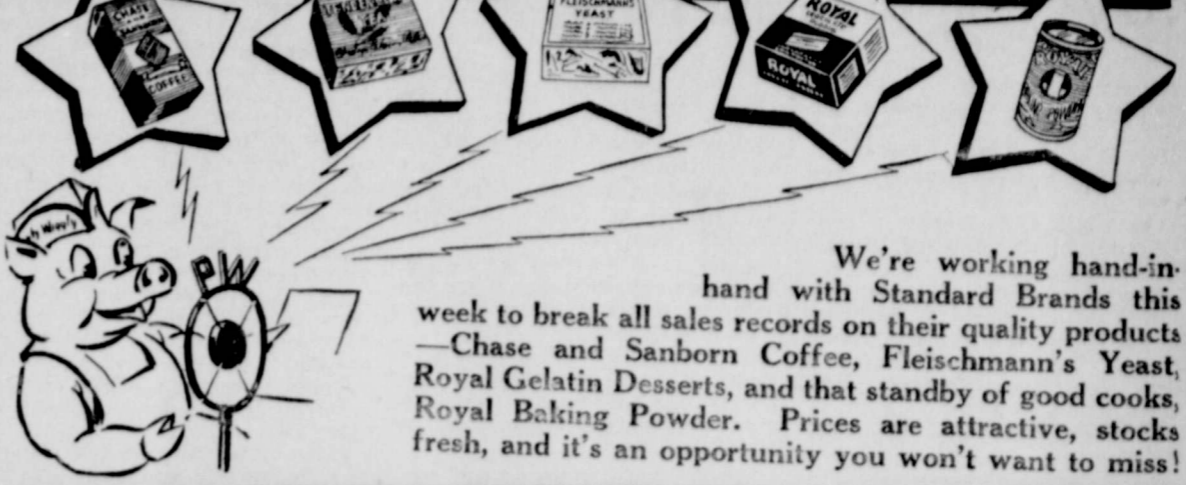

The United States Forest service has developed a simple "tire tube" treatment to prevent or retard decay in fence posts. Zinc chloride is the chemical used as a preservative. The butts of fresh-cut posts are peeled for a foot or more. Then a section of an old inner tube is closely fitted over each peeled section and tied with strong cord. The zinc solution is poured into the open ends of the tube and left until it has been absorbed. It displaces the sap.

JUMPING CROCODILES

Active and treacherous jumping crocodiles cause more human deaths than any other beast in Africa, where they grow 16 feet long, in murky rivers and ponds. When a man steps too close to the water, a lightning-swift slap of the croc's tail throws the victim into the water where he is quickly torn to pieces.

CHAPEL ETIQUETTE

Opinions have it that Emily Post would have a thing or two to say about how high school students act in chapel.

Although the group as a whole is well behaved, there is always one or two persons who ruin the orderly appearance by whispering or continually shifting position, which is poor taste and gives the attitude of boredom.

Nearly every week there is a guest speaker to benefit the students with an address; although the majority of listeners appreciate the opportunity to hear an impromptu talk, there are those who make it plainly apparent that they have heard it before and had just as soon have class.

When the program is made up of students, laughter and jeers sometimes greet the performers. Although not intended to hurt the speaker, the good natured remarks serve to throw the speaker into confusion and to make him feel self-conscious. That, in my opinion, is the worst action an audience can take toward a program.

Floydada High school is always appreciative when they appear and that is a good point of chapel conduct. Always give sincere effort credit. This does not mean one should prolong the applause until it is embarrassing to the speaker, but there should be a general acceptance of whatever someone has done for the pleasure of the audience.

GRACE OF MOVEMENT NOT MILITARY STRAIGHTNESS

University of Texas co-eds are being taught grace of movement rather than military straightness in their physical training classes. No longer do "gym" teachers urge the co-eds to "stand straight for your health." Instead, they remind them that proper body mechanics makes for ease of posture—and grace of appearance. The second annual Posture Parade was held on Valentine Day, February 14, with approximately 50 girls contending for campus posture honors.

Boy Scouts Give Chapel Program

The band played while the students marched in to chapel last Thursday morning. Mrs. Piper led the group in two songs: "Old Black Joe" and "Swanee River." Mr. Davis then announced the solo that Mrs. Piper sang which was "Juanita."

The main feature of the program was the observance of school day in the week of Boy Scouts. Mr. Davis introduced the subject and then Scoutmaster Rev. Gordon Voight, who made the main talk.

Rev. Voight gave the 12 Scout laws and told what each meant. They were "A Scout is trustworthy, a scout is loyal, a scout is helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent."

After discussing each of these, Rev. Voight told about the trips the boys made last summer. He said there was soon to be another scout group organized in Floydada because the troop is now full. There is a possibility of organizing a cub scout group as well as a girl scout group.

Volley Ball Girls Start Season

With overflowing enthusiasm and with grim determination to be county champions this year, the volleyball girls have been practicing in the afternoon from 3:15 until 6 o'clock in the R. C. A. gymnasium under the supervision of their coach, Miss Reba Copeland.

The greater part of the 30 girls who began practice have been coming out every afternoon and it can be readily seen by watching the girls, that Miss Copeland has some fine material from which to choose her first and second teams.

The girls played Sand Hill last week, and lost, but received great benefit from the game. Sand Hill and Fairview expected to play teams in the near future.

A game with the Dougherty team will be played in Andrews Ward gymnasium Tuesday night.

The list of the girls entering volleyball is as follows: Ruth Kreis, Jennie Lou Harper, Oletha Strickland, Virginia Yeakum, Pauline Wood, Glenna Holmes, Maudene Moore, Jane Clark, LaNell Harmon, Mary Louise Medlin, Lila Lee Teal, Mary Frances McRoberts, Marie Harrison, Tommie Ruth Jones, Verona Miller, Dovie Donathan, Edna Mae Griffin, Donnie Beth Nichols, Dorris Collins, Georgia Lee Sparks, Ruth Simpson, Frances Jo Terrell, Ella B. Crabtree, Ella Mae Biggs, Nadyne Lightfoot, and Ophelia Gilliland.

Debate Team Plans Trip Friday

The debate team has been practicing by having short debates in class and have made numerous accomplishments. The group plan to visit Levelland Friday and debate. The following people have entered: Ruth Simpson, Lola Mae Billington, Ana Faye Burgett, Jimmy Willson, Garth Morse and C. W. Denison.

Extemporaneous speaking has been started by Miss Rea, so they will be ready for the meet in March. As yet, Bobbie McIntyre and W. C. Boren are the only contestants.

They have hopes of a trip to Wichita Falls again this year.

New High Reached In South Plains Frame Garden Plans

Plains Women Go In For Home Economics Program In Big Way

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Feb. 20.—A new high in frame gardens was reached in the South Plains area that makes up Extension District 2 as 977 of the enclosed plots designed to raise out-of-season vegetables were built in 1938.

Figures from the 14 counties in the area served by county home demonstration agents show that gardens produced 2,285,000 pounds of vegetables, according to the annual report of Lida Cooper, district agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service who supervises the home demonstration work in the section.

Altogether, farm women and 4-H club girls canned 1,121,998 pints of vegetables, fruits, and meats of home produced foods and brined, pickled, or stored in dried and cured form over a million pounds of food.

A total of 7,829 families took part in the program during 1938 as the 3,056 home demonstration club women and 2,943 4-H girls adopted a "good neighbor" policy that reaches 3,999 non-club farm and ranch families.

The testing of 635 pressure cookers for accuracy and safety was an item of work that interested non-club members, the report shows. In Bailey county where 122 gauges were tested, 68 belonged to non-club members.

Four new home demonstration clubs were organized in Castro county in as many communities, while in Hockley county home demonstration work featuring frame gardens and mattress making was carried to four unorganized communities.

Home demonstration club women of Lubbock county reached 654 non-club families and in Lamb county, 543 families. The "good neighbor" program was also in effect in Swisher, Farmer, Cochran, Yoakum, Dickens, Kent, Floyd, Lynn, and Hale counties, Miss Cooper said.

In Kent, Lynn, Lubbock, Hockley and Yoakum counties 355 4-H club girls specialized in farm poultry and added 11,344 pullets to their flocks. These produced 103,880 dozen eggs for home use and a surplus for sale. The girls added 312 homemade feed and water devices and 282 of them provided green feed. The poultry and poultry products have a value of $22,184.

Other items of work included home improvement, landscaping of the home surroundings, clothing, and similar activities, such as the making of 387 cotton mattresses at home and the addition of 681 factory made ones.

The counties in District 2 with their home demonstration agents, are Castro, Mary Katherine Couch; Cochran, Geneva Meadows; Dickens, Jean Day; Floyd, Ruth Grimes, Hale Lucille Schuitz; Hockley, Hazel Phipps; Kent, Mrs. Minna Perry; Lamb, Mrs. Ruth Perry; Lubbock, Clara Pratt, and Elizabeth Brooks.

Freddie Smith, poultry demonstrator of the New Home 4-H girls' club in Lynn county, and part of her poultry flock. Club girls in Kent, Lynn, Lubbock, Hockley, and Yoakum counties, working with their county home demonstration agents, reported a $22,184 poultry business in 1938.

Asst.; Lynn, Lilith Boyd; Farmer, Margaret St. Clair; Swisher, Ruby Wood; Yoakum, Flossie Williams.

Two New Applicants For CCC Enrollment

Only two new applicants have filled out blanks in the week for enrollment in the CCC service, Mrs. Dott Slough said Tuesday, making a total of 12 names on the waiting list at this time.

The call for enrollees is expected to be made on April 6, 7 or 8, Mrs. Slough has been advised and the number accepted from the county will depend largely on the total number who apply, she said.

The welfare office is open on Mondays and Thursdays and the personnel there will be glad to aid applicants fill out the required papers on those days. No charges have been made in the requirements for eligibility.

PASSERS-BY HALT FIRE AT J. V. JONES FARM

Mr. and Mrs. Tilford Taylor, of southeast Floyd county, aided by other passers-by stopped a blaze at the J. V. Jones home on Matador Highway 5 miles east, when they saw smoke coming from the building and broke in to find a box of quilts and clothing burning. These they removed from the building and extinguished a blaze that had started climbing the wall, before it has done much damage.

Mr. Jones was in town and Mrs. Jones has been absent from home 3 weeks following an operation recently. Jones said when he went out to the place shortly after he learned of the blaze the quilts and clothing in the box had again ignited and were blazing out in the yard where they had been removed, but without endangering the house again.

BIG CROWD IS PLEASING TO COMEDIAN SAT. NIGHT

Burnette was on a personal appearance tour. Paducah, Lubbock and Plainview were among the other points visited during the week on the plains.

County Committee Issues Important ACA Regulations

Regulations Affect Tenant and Landlord Interests in Payments

The following information has been made available by the County A. C. A. committee, through H. H. Marshall, secretary. If on any farm in 1939 any change in the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1938 is made by the landlord and the tenants share-croppers that would cause a greater proportion of the payments to be made to the landlord under the 1939 program than would have been made to him under the 1938 program, payments to the landlord under the 1939 program shall not be greater than the amount that would have been paid to him if the arrangements had not been changed. If the change is not justified and disapproves the change, the committee shall disapprove the change. If on any farm the number of share-croppers or share tenants in 1939 is less than the average number on the farm during the years 1938 to 1938, inclusive, and such reduction would increase the payments to the landlord otherwise made to the landlord, such payments shall not be greater than the amount that would otherwise be made to him if the county committee certifies that the reduction is not justified and disapproves the reduction. If the state committee finds that any person who files an application for payment under the 1939 program has employed any other scheme or device, the effect of which would be or has been to de-

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF FLOYDADA

I am serving my first term as your City Marshal, and this is my announcement of my candidacy for a second term. Most of my work as Marshal has been the regulation of traffic, and I am proud of the fact that the Double Parking System around the Square, which I worked out, has done more to relieve congestion than anything we have ever tried before; the System has not only benefitted the automobile driver, but has at the same time been a valuable asset to the merchant whose patrons could park without difficulty. I have tried to serve all of you conscientiously and impartially, and I would appreciate your vote and influence for a second term in the coming City Election, April 4.

Give any other person of any payment under any agricultural conservation program to which such other person would normally be entitled, the secretary may withhold in whole or in part from the person participating in or employing such a scheme or device, or require such person to refund in whole or part the amount of any payment which has been or would otherwise be made to such person under the 1939 program.

The total of all payments made under the 1939 program pursuant to the provisions of section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act to any individual, partnership, or estate with respect to farm, ranching units, and turpentine places located within a single state, territory, or possession, shall not exceed the sum of $10,000. The total of all payments made under the 1939 program pursuant to the provisions of section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act to any person other than an individual, partnership, or estate with respect to farms, ranching units, and turpentine places in the United States (including any payment received in Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico) shall not exceed the sum of $10,000. All of any part of any payment which has been or otherwise would be made to any person under the 1939 program may be withheld or required to be returned if he has adopted or participated in adopting any scheme or device including the dissolution, reorganization, or information of any corporation, partnership, estate, trust, or by any other means, which was designed to evade or would have the effect of evading, the provisions of this section.

Any person who makes application for payment with respect to any farm located in a county in which cotton is planted in 1939 shall file with such application a statement that he has not knowingly planted or caused or permitted the planting of cotton, during or on land in any farm in which he has an interest in excess of the cotton allotment established for the farm for 1939, and that cotton was not planted in excess of such allotments by his authority or with his consent.

Any person who knowingly plants, or causes or permits the planting of cotton on his farm in 1939 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm for 1939 shall not be eligible for any payment under the 1939 program. Any person having an interest in the cotton crop on a farm on which cotton is planted in 1939 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment shall be presumed to have knowingly planted cotton on his farm on acreage in excess of the allotment if notice of the allotment is mailed to him prior to the completion of the planting (seeding) of cotton on the farm, unless he establishes the fact that the excess acreage planted to cotton was due to his lack of knowledge of the number of acres in the tract(s) planted to cotton. Such notice, if mailed to the operator of the farm, shall be deemed to be notice to all persons sharing in the production of cotton on the farm in 1939. Applicable to farmers and ranches alike.

April 1, 1939 is deadline for farmers to notify the county committee of combinations and subdivisions of farms as operated for this crop year. These changes must be made of record in the county office, as they will be the basis of parity and ACP payments in 1939.

In order to be eligible for a price adjustment payment with respect to a commodity, a person must have an interest as a landlord, tenant, or sharecropper in a farm (1) for which an acreage allotment has been established for the commodity under the 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program; (2) on which the acreage planted to such commodity for harvest in 1939 is not in excess of such acreage allotment; and (3) on which such commodity was planted for harvest in 1938 or 1939, or the county committee determines that the failure to plant such commodity for harvest in at least one of such years was due to flood or drought.

The payment for a farm with respect to any commodity shall be measured by the product of the normal yield per acre, not actual yield per acre, and of the acreage allotment established for that commodity for such farm under the 1939 Agricultural Conservation program.

CITIES GROW LARGER, BUT FARM POPULATION STABLE

The number of persons living on farms in the United States is approximately the same as in 1910. But the total population of the country has increased about 33 percent.

According to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the farm population, which is about one-fourth of the total population in the United States, accounts for approximately one-third of the births and one-half of the excess of births over deaths each year. Failure of farm population to increase at as rapid a rate as national population is attributed to extensive migration from farmers to villages, towns, and cities. The number of people living on farms has decreased from one-half of the total population to one-fourth in less than a century.

Rapid technological changes have made it possible for a relatively stable number of farms to produce food and fiber crops, it is pointed out. Increases in efficiency, however, have not been equally distributed in all parts of the country nor to all agricultural groups. But the increase in the productivity of the average worker in agriculture is said to have kept pace with that of the average factory worker.

Recent experiments have shown that greens canned by approved methods retain more of their vitamins and as much of the minerals as freshly cooked greens, food specialists of the Texas A and M. College Extension service report.

Travis Collins In Floydada Hospital

T. P. Collins, Floydada grocer, was taken to the Floydada Hospital and Clinic last night for treatment for acute appendicitis. An appendectomy was performed and the doctors reported this morning that he was "doing very nicely" although he will be confined to his bed for several days.

The three-weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collins is critically ill with double pneumonia, it is reported this morning.

H. E. Edwards, automobile accident victim, is still in a critical condition, the doctors report. However they say he is holding his own against his serious injuries.

VACCINE IMMUNITY

The U. S. Public Health Service reported development of a new vaccine today which gives "promising results" in efforts to provide immunity against pneumonia.

The vaccine, sugar-like in nature, was developed by Dr. Loyd D. Felton, senior surgeon of the health service, and other scientists working under grants from the influenza commission of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and Harvard and Johns Hopkins universities.

Tests were conducted in Civilian Conservation Corps camps in New England and the West coast during the winter of 1936-1937. Altogether, more than 70,000 youths were under observation, of whom about 30,000 volunteers were inoculated with the newly-developed pneumonia antigen.

In the New England camps, pneumonia was almost one and three quarter times as great among the uninoculated as among the inoculated. In the west coast camps the frequency among the uninoculated was nine times that among the inoculated.

"The results are promising," Dr. Felton said, "but there is need for careful investigation regarding the extent and duration of immunity conferred by the new antigen before its general use as a prophylactic agent can be positively recommended."

The vaccine is a chemical portion of the pneumonia germ. It was first tested on mice. The fact that the entire germ was not necessary to produce active immunity and also that the immunizing fraction was practically free from the reactions common to almost all vaccines led to a study of its effect on human beings.

The material used in soluble, dry powder, which can be readily standardized and sterilized.

STUDY RAINFALL RECORDS FOR IRRIGATION IN EAST

In the humid Eastern states irrigation of crops is a growing practice, stimulated by recent droughts and by the results of research work. A common difficulty confronting farmers in the humid regions who might consider irrigating, is the lack of information on rainfall distribution.

To supply this lack the United States Department of Agriculture recently obtained the assistance of a group of W. P. A. statistical workers who, under the direction of specialists in the Bureau of Agricultural Engineering, are sifting the Weather Bureau's long-time rainfall records for localities throughout the East. The work is being done at New Orleans, the records being sent in from various Weather Bureau offices.

"It is now well recognized," says Lewis A. Jones, of the Bureau of Agricultural Engineering, in charge of the study, "that the annual rainfall of a region is not a good measure of the rainfall in any particular locality of the region. Also, the annual rainfall is no measure of the need for irrigation. How that rainfall is distributed in relation to the water demands of crops is the important thing. This valuable information is in the records that have been accumulating over the years, and we are now sifting it out. We expect to get up a rain calendar that will be a guide for the thousands of farmers in the humid regions who want to water their crops if it will pay."

Limited research work has revealed the possibility that many localities in the humid states could obtain profitable increases in yields by supplementing rainfall. So far orchard and truck crops have received the most attention as possibilities for profitable supplemental irrigation.

In areas where open gardens are impractical because of weather conditions the frame garden may solve the problem. Texas agricultural and home demonstration agents have up-to-the-minute information about frame gardens.

Schedules Made Out Monday Nite For District 4 A

Suggestions Made To Lessen Protests At End Of Season

The executive committee of District 4-A met Monday night at Floydada High school to arrange schedules for the 1939 football season and to discuss other problems that will likely come up before a district champion is named next November.

The committee wasted no time in voting that a round robin should be played in the district or a total of six conference games for each school. It was also voted that each school should have three conference games at home and three away.

All tie games will count as half game won and half game lost for each team in the standings, but if at the end of the season two schools are in a tie for first place, the school which defeated the other in scheduled game shall be declared champion. If in case the two teams tied for the championship they tied their game, statistics, penetrations and first downs, shall determine the champion.

It was also decided that only two trophies would be awarded next year, those being to first and second place with no third place. Each school will pay a fee of $5 to the committee to pay for trophies and expense.

Superintendents and coaches were reminded by A. D. Cummings, committee chairman, that no team could begin fall football practice until September 1. It was voted that conference games could start by October 6 if necessary and end by Thanksgiving.

Suggestions Made

Superintendent B. F. Tunnell of Matador, suggested to the committee, for future action, that any school protesting another should put up a $50 deposit of good faith. If the protest was upheld by the committee the deposit would be refunded, but if the protest was not upheld the protesting school would lose the deposit, and the money used to defray the expenses of the various committees.

Cummings suggested that if a player was found ineligible that no games should be declared forfeited except that particular game in which the ineligible player participated against the protesting school.

Cochair Odell Winter suggested that a school protesting a player should state upon what grounds the protest was based and the committee require that the protesting school present only evidence upon those particular grounds, since changing the protest grounds would leave the defending school without any defense. He declared that any school should have the right and chance to present its defense and records against the arguments of the plaintiff school, and that such was not possible when the protesting school changed its protest at the meeting.

The committee decided to study these suggestions in the fall and take official action upon them. All of the suggestions were favorably received and it was certain that the new district would rule in such a manner that unpleasant protests would be greatly reduced.

Following the executive meeting the coaches and superintendents went into informal session to arrange schedules, which were declared official at the close of the meeting.

Conference Schedules

Floydada's schedule of conference games: Oct. 13, Floydada at Ralls; Oct. 27, Paducah at Floydada; Nov. 3, Floydada at Lockney; Nov. 10, Matador at Floydada; Nov. 24, Crosbyton at Floydada; and Nov. 30, Floydada at Spur. Floydada also has three non-conference games set for next fall but no date set. Home games with Littlefield and Slaton and away from home at Tullis.

Lockney's conference games: Oct. 6, Paducah at Lockney; Oct. 13, Lockney at Crosbyton; Nov. 3, Crosbyton at Paducah; Nov. 10, Ralls at Crosbyton; and Nov. 24, Crosbyton at Floydada.

MONSTER LOBSTER

Just one lobster, caught on Nova Scotia's southern shore was large enough to provide dinner for a ship's crew of 13. The giant crustacean was more than 3 feet long and weighed 30 pounds.

Along the coast of eastern North America, lobsters don't seem to know when to stop growing. One captured at sea and exhibited in Rhode Island last January weighed 32 pounds. It had a claw spread of 4 feet 2 inches. Nor was this the largest ever captured.

Though individual lobster giants are reported occasionally, fishing experts say lobsters that reach American dining tables are smaller than they used to be. So much of a delicacy is their meat that the stock is over-fished and lobsters have little chance to grow big before they are caught.

Young husband: "Did you make those biscuits, my dear?"
Young wife: "Yes, darling."
Young Husband: "Well, I'd rather you wouldn't make any more, sweetheart."

Young Wife: "Why not, my love?"
Young Husband: "Because, angel mine, you are too light for such heavy work!"

MRS. JONES IMPROVING

Mrs. W. N. Jones has been receiving treatment in a Lubock hospital since Sunday and is reported to be resting well. She will probably return home in a few days if she continues to improve.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jones and Dr. and Mrs. Holland C. Mitchell visited with her Wednesday.

LEGUME GETS TWO-THIRDS ITS NITROGEN FROM AIR

The amount of nitrogen added to the soil when legumes are turned under depends on the kind of legume, the condition of the stand, and the stage of growth. A. J. Pieters and Roland McKee, of the United States Department of Agriculture, discuss the subject in "Soils and Men," the department yearbook for 1938.

The amount of nitrogen in a legume when turned under, they pointed out, represents the nitrogen it has taken from both the soil and the air, but the amount taken from the air is all that is really added to the soil. The relative amounts derived from each of these sources are difficult to determine, and it can only be stated that as a broad average about two-thirds of the nitrogen in a legume is believed to have been taken from the air and one-third from the soil.

An extra 2 or 3 weeks of growth in spring may double the nitrogen value of a winter cover crop. A winter crop of hairy vetch in Alabama had a nitrogen content of 137 pounds to the acre on April 19 and a little more than 200 pounds on May 9. In Delaware crimson clover crops varied from 140 to 190 pounds of nitrogen to the acre. In North Carolina sweetclover supplied 124 pounds of nitrogen in early April and 160 in late May.

These results are roughly parallel, and the authors translate them into practical fertilizer terms. The amounts of nitrogen added in these cases would have been equal, they say, to the application of 600 to 800 pounds of nitrate of soda to the acre.

NEW GUN BOLSTERS ARMY

The U. S. Army's new Garand semi-automatic rifle will "make every infantryman a walking machine-gun nest and the equal of five men equipped only with bolt-action rifles," Collier's magazine said in an article purporting to reveal details of the equipment for the first time.

The new rifle was perfected by John Garand of the government arsenal in Springfield, Mass., and will replace the Springfield which has been standard in the Army since 1903.

"Physically the new rifle resembles the old Springfield," the magazine said. "It weighs nine pounds and is generally of the same dimensions. For a precision machine, its action is comparatively simple. You insert a clip of eight cartridges and pull the trigger. A gas chamber opens, discharges its contents. This operation automatically ejects the empty cartridges, cocks the gun and carries a new bullet into place. Your trigger finger controls all this; there is no cumbersome bolt to life and slide before each shot."

In addition to firing five times as fast as the Springfield, the new rifle is 12 to 34 per cent more accurate.

To Make A Long Tale Short

A friend of ours was arrested for speeding, but the Judge remitted the fine when our friend told him why. "Judge," he said, "My wife's mother said she was going home and I wanted to get her there before she changed her mind!" He might also have told His Honor that he was driving one of our used cars, and that it was running so smoothly he didn't realize how fast he was going.
