Potato Harvest In Floyd County Is Started Today

The largest field of commercially grown potatoes in Floyd county this year is on the R. A. Keniston place 4 miles west of Irick, where the harvest of about 25 acres was started this morning.

Other fields in the county also will be harvested this week or early next. Timed to hit the mid-summer market the spuds will meet a good demand apparently.

What the yield will be this season could only be surmised. It was indicated by the growers. By tonight they will know whether the crop is good, average or big, it was said.

Another grower in the area is Geo. T. Meriwether, of Lockney, who believes that potatoes as a commercial crop may help take the place of cotton and wheat in a diversified program on irrigated farms.

A lot of special machinery and equipment is required to handle potatoes and much labor needed to handle them. However, they have proven very profitable as a crop when the market conditions are right.

The Keniston potatoes are being marketed under the trade name "Imperial" and have met a ready market the past 2 years.

V. L. Elliott, long-time leader of the Floydada Volunteer Fire department, was re-named to serve the department as its head Monday night in a meeting that was marked by a spirit of old-fashioned fervor, in which all members got "everything off their chests" and pledged their loyalty anew to the good of the department and the community.

All members declared their desire to co-operate fully in all matters for the good of the department and the community and pledged their loyalty to the ideals of the organization.

Choice of representatives of the department to go to the Short Course will be made at a later meeting, it was decided.

Quiet Fourth Recorded In Floydada Despite Circus and Many Vistors From Towns

Seven Arrests Made During Holidays; No Serious Accidents Reported

Floydada had a noisy Fourth of July so far as crowds, firecrackers, circus and music was concerned but the city and county law enforcement bodies report that they enjoyed one of the most "quiet" holidays in some time.

The night of July 3 was especially uneventful with no arrests being made, and as one officer put it, "it was the nicest crowd I ever saw in town."

Although Texas led the nation's list of states with total violent deaths the South Plains, especially Floyd county, escaped with little or no serious trouble. A few "drunks" were found as usual in a holiday mood and were locked up for the night or in case of slightly more serious trouble, until the "Judge" made some disposition of their case.

Floydada was watched by two highway patrolmen during the Fourth but so far as is known had nothing to report out of the ordinary. Saturday night seven persons were arrested, some were "celebrating" too heavily while others were fighting. Wednesday morning all but two were out of jail, the sheriff reported.

No serious auto accidents were reported, although any number of fenders were scratched and bumpers got locked in the traffic. One officer said "Floydada had the biggest crowd in town last night (Tuesday night) I ever saw" yet the traffic was well handled.

Several extra traffic lights were hooked up in anticipation of the crowd and these helped materially in cutting down on traffic congestion. The city officials were kept busy watching traffic and warning motorists to behave but it was not necessary to issue any tickets.

Officers indicated that "everyone seemed to be having a good time but were doing it sanely and soberly."

The usual holiday crowd was swelled by visitors from various other nearby cities and towns in driving distance of Floydada. These visitors all arrived in cars and caused a great increase in the traffic especially about the time the circus ended its performance and everyone streamed back to town.

John A. Gillies, who has been with the Santa Fe Railway company since 1906, when he began his business career in New Mexico, is the new manager of the Santa Fe western lines with headquarters in Amarillo, according to announcement out of the general offices in Amarillo, effective on July 1.

He was connected with the engineering department until 1918 when appointed trainmaster at Dodge City, Kansas. He was advanced to assistant superintendent of the Western division in 1923, superintendent of the Slaton division in 1928, superintendent of the Colorado division 1932, and January 10, 1937 became assistant general manager of the Western lines. George Reid May, 9, Handles Big Tractor In Wheat Like Veteran

One of the most efficient tractor operators in the Floyd county wheat harvest this season has been 9-year-old George Reid May, son of Mrs. G. R. May, of Baker, who has handled a big International machine pulling a 20-foot combine.

George Reid is so small compared with the size of the huge machine he operates you have to look twice to find him, but he operates so carefully that he doesn't leave a stalk and he makes pretty corners. His brother John Edwards Smith is on the combine.

One of the principal crops they cut was that of Mrs. May. After the season got under way George Reid fitted up an umbrella on his tractor. "You know it gets pretty hot on that tractor up in the evening," he remarked.

John A. Gillies, succeeded H. B. Lantz on July 1 as general manager of the Santa Fe western lines at Amarillo. His entire career spent with the Santa Fe, Gillies has served in many executive positions with the company including superintendent of the Slaton division. Gillies is the brother of Mrs. Jeff D. Ayres of this city.

Harvest Goes On Following Good Rains

Quarter Inch Rain Falls On Saturday Night, Some Hail Damage Reported

Wheat harvest in Floyd county, delayed for almost two weeks by soaking rains, got under way again this week with combines running day and night in an effort to save their crop and at the same time preparing to make a final attempt at raising a row crop.

Friday night 15 inches of moisture was recorded at The Hesperian office and Saturday night rain to the extent of 25 inch fell along with some hail. Little damage has been reported from the hail, although the fall was heavy in some sections and the stones were fairly large.

The Saturday night rain covered a wide territory and extended well below Lubbock. The rain Friday night was the end of a rainstorm that had swept in from New Mexico.

Farmers over the entire county have been busy all this week, failing even to take a holiday on the Fourth, planting row crops, cultivating some of the crops that are already up and thriving and waging a terrific battle against weeds which have grown luxuriously since the rain.

Wheat farmers in particular have been busy, cutting wheat during the day and when necessary shutting down operations at night to plow or plant land. The weeds in the wheat are growing fast and some farmers expressed the opinion that if more rain fell, delaying the harvest further, that their wheat fields would be almost too weedy to cut.

Temperatures since Saturday have been in the high 90's, causing almost ideal growing weather for the delayed cotton crop.

This announcement was made early this week by Clarence Guffee county superintendent.

These transfers must also be made if the student has completed the work offered by his home school and plans to attend one of the high schools in the county during the 1939-40 term. They must be made where the student lives in this county and plans to attend a school out of the county, or if he lives out of the county and plans to attend a Floyd county school.

Put His Foot In It

Just as expected Old Tack who opened the Gainesville Community circus on Tuesday night with whistles blowing and fanfare in general, "put his foot in it." He predicted a flood for the Fourth which didn't occur. Doubt bound, The Hesperian debunks another great American.

With Mr. Howe (Tactless Texan) on the opening program, also appeared Ross D. Rogers, Amarillo mayor, and they did blow the whistles in unison to the plaudits of the multitude assembled. And the show was on. Copying Floydada enterprise they want the circus to visit their city some time in the future.

sprained a wrist while attempting an intricate aerial feat. A pony was injured and a clown badly shaken up in a spill from a racing two wheel car.

Monday afternoon the crowd was entertained with racing autos on the track just north of the Santa Fe stock yards. Although the track was in a bad shape the drivers put on an excellent exhibition of driving skill.

Airplanes and parachute jumpers were on hand to provide their quota of thrills. The parachute jump was from a mile height and the jumper fell 1,500 feet before pulling the rip cord and floating safely to earth.

Monday night a platform dance was sponsored by the Legion with a string band doing its stuff Tuesday night the dance was crowded as the Gainesville circus orchestra gave their versions of hot swing and popular tunes.

Officers said the crowd Tuesday night was one of the largest that they had ever seen in Floydada but was also one of the nicest.

The Gainesville circus performers and those coming to Floydada with the circus were well received by the city and when they left had made many friends because of their friendly attitude and good nature which prevailed at every turn.

The performers were ever ready to tell about Gainesville or their acts and most everyone that wanted could talk to a trapeze star, a tight wire artist, a horse trainer, or other circus celebrity. It was this "just folks" attitude that made Floydada like the circus so well.

Rainfall for 1939 And 1938 Almost Same By Record

Rainfall For First Half 1939 Measured At 8.30 Inches At Hesperian

According to figures gathered at The Hesperian office rain gauge for the first half of 1939 Floyd county received a total of 8.30 measured inches of moisture.

A little over 2.86 inches of this moisture fell in June between the 20 and 30. May recorded 1.4 inches of rainfall while April almost duplicated that figure with 1.42 inches of moisture.

January was next to June as the wettest month of the first half with 2.62 inches of rain recorded. February and March drew total blanks so far as measurable rainfall was concerned although several light showers and some snowfall was received.

For the same period in 1938 there was 8.93 inches of moisture registered. January 1938 registered 1.02, February counted 2.5 inches of rainfall, March rung up .95 inches, May, 1.58 inches, June, 2.88 inches.

The difference between the rainfall for 1938 and 1939 is .63 inch in favor of 1938. April was the only month in 1938, first half, that failed to record in any rainfall but it was during April that the county received the heavy snowfall and freeze that caused so much damage.

Regulations Issued Early For Growers

Machinery Set In Motion On Parity Payments And Wheat Program

Of interest generally will be new regulations recently issued by the County Agricultural Conservation committee, affecting 1939 benefit payments on cotton and wheat. Among these are the following, released by H. H. Marshall, administrative assistant to the county agent and secretary of the county committee:

In order for a farmer to be eligible for a parity payment on cotton or wheat:

He must not have planted in excess of the acreage allotment established for the farm; And he must have an interest in the crop at the time of the harvest; And the farm must not be classified as idle in 1939.

In other words, it is not necessary to seed an acreage of cotton or wheat for a parity payment to be due the farm.

In order that a full soil conservation payment be made with respect to cotton or wheat the same provisions apply as those which determine the eligibility of a producer for a parity payment.

Drouth Makes Changes
Because of an extended drouth many cotton farmers were not able to get their cotton up. Where this occurred this acreage may be devoted to any other crop, without benefit payments being affected and without the 1940 cotton allotment being affected, provided the farm has a cotton history in 1937 or 1938.

This week the county office has received two thousand application forms for cotton parity payments. As soon as the producer's farm is found to be in compliance with respect to cotton the application is typed and the interested producers notified to come to the county office and execute the same, H. H. Marshall, secretary, said yesterday.

The Wheat Program
This week the local office is busy making wheat loans and probably will have the largest wheat loan program in the history of the county. Ninety loans have been completed to date, covering about 50,000 bushels. It is anticipated there will be a 500,000 bushel program.

As to the 1940 wheat insurance program, it is expected that the crop insurance listing sheets will have been approved by July 20, Mr. Marshall said. At that time applications for insurance on 1940 wheat crops will be accepted at the county office. It is anticipated that Floyd county's 1940 wheat allotments will be available prior to that day.

FLOYDADA FOLKS LIKE GAINESVILLE FOLKS

Take it from J. C. Wester, commander of the McDermott Post American legion, the folks in Floydada liked the folks from Gainesville. "Everyone here found them kind, courteous, and appreciative," Wester said. "Most any town could take lessons from them on how to make friends and influence people."

This opinion voiced by Wester is the sentiment of all Floydada folks who came in contact with the Gainesville circus performers. Yessir, the circus folks certainly brought good will and friendliness to Floydada when they came and you will find on every hand the hope that they "will come again."

CENTER H. D. CLUB NEWS

"If children are to respect the rights of others, they must have some rights of their own," stated Mrs. W. P. Sims in her discussion of "Children and Self-Help Equipment." Center Home Demonstration club met Tuesday afternoon, June 27, at the new home of Mrs. Travis Lightfoot.

"The child in the home," proved to be an interesting topic for the afternoon's discussion. Mrs. W. P. Sims told of several handy ways to use orange boxes in making child's self-help equipment.

Children should early be trained to put up their own clothes and toys; which they can easily do if they can reach rods, drawers and places where their belongings are kept. "A child's right to privacy," was discussed by Mrs. T. L. Collins. By keeping the child alone awhile each day the child learns to concentrate on what he is doing. In this way he is taught to make his own decisions and also independence.

Mrs. Travis Lightfoot discussed, "Teaching children health habits." Most of our lives are the result of habit. Thus it is important to early teach children correct, regular, habits of eating, sleeping and playing. Older mothers gave experiences that were helpful to younger mothers in closing the program.

Our county demonstration agent will be guest of each of the clubs during the month of July and the Center club will omit the next regular meeting. Members are asked to keep this in mind and be present at the July 25th meeting that will be held at the home of Mrs. W. P. Sims. The topic for discussion at this meeting will be, "Tips on serving summer refreshments."

Mrs. Travis Lightfoot served a delicious coconut cake with iced punch to the following guests: Mrs. W. B. Jordan, Ruth and Doris Jordan, Mrs. W. P. Sims and Betty Jo, Mrs. H. B. Mankins, Mrs. E. W. Lightfoot, Mrs. R. C. Ross and little daughter, Mrs. A. A. Tubbs and Margaret, Mrs. A. W. Anderson, Mrs. Jas. A. Green and Mrs. T. L. Collins.

SAND HILL HOME DEM. CLUB

"The child in the home" was the subject discussed by the Sand Hill Home Demonstration club in their meeting June 28 in the club rooms with Mrs. J. V. Greer as hostess.

"The child has a right to privacy," stated Mrs. Lee Pope, "he should be allowed to learn to do things for himself, and be allowed to play with children of his own age."

Mrs. W. E. Miller passed around diagrams of self help furniture for the small child. Mrs. Leonard Pope made a talk on, "Health Habits for the Child."

The club voted to send their president, Mrs. D. W. Burke to the A & M Short course. They also decided to have a picnic for the club members and their families.

Present for the meeting were Mesdames L. D. Pope, J. H. Holmes, D. W. Burke, H. Jackson, Lee Pope, Will Pope, W. M. Jeter, R. J. Weems, Jeff Micheal, Tom Thomas, Frank McNeil, W. E. Miller, Elmer Mickey, A. S. Cummings, A. R. Hanna, W. M. Knight, J. V. Greer, A. V. Womack, Misses Verl Miller and Mildred Burke, Mrs. Carl Smith was a new member.

The next meeting will be July 12 with Mrs. A. S. Cummings as hostess at her home. A demonstration will be given on bedroom furniture and arrangements.

Highlights Of Circus As Seen By An Outsider

Everyone that came in personal contact with the Gainesville community circus crowd was impressed with their friendliness and genuine hospitality under some of the most trying incidents. More than one person made comment on how "swell" the Gainesville folks were.

Monday night saw the circus lose one of its youthful stunners. The youngster took a bad fall while turning some flips and either sprained or fractured his arm. His loss cut the act almost in half since he seemed to be the main spring of that particular act. He was around Tuesday with his arm in a sling watching his partners carry on.

Something that was definitely not a part of the show happened Monday night when the show was closing. A clown on his speeding two wheeled cart struck one of the stools on the hippodrome track, spilling clown, cart, and pony. The pony was injured, just how seriously was not determined, and the clown was mused up considerable.

The Chic Sale stunt brought down the house and was probably just about the best carried out clown stunt of the whole show. The crowd was surprised at the end too, when the clown rushed out with a three foot telephone.

The circus orchestra plays all the popular tunes in typical circus style with plenty of drum and trombone to shape things up. The drummer follows all the daring acts with his drum ruffles with a mighty "bang" at their end.

The trapeze acts were marvelous, both from the standpoint of performance and from the standpoint of feminine beauty. The tight wire acts were excellent and probably pulled the interest of the crowd as much as any act.

The youngsters got their share of thrills from the many clowns that filled in between acts and helped as ushers before the show began.

The few rough spots in the whole show were brushed over nicely and "the show went on" in spite of mishap. No doubt the Gainesville circus is just about the best amateur show any one will ever get to see.

The main thing to remember is that they are "just folks" like you and I and that none of the performers receive any pay and when they are not "on the road" they are busy at their various professions in Gainesville.

Plan for 1939 Tax Discount Is Made By State of Texas

Ad Valorem County and State Taxes Are Affected By Law, Moore Says

A plan whereby taxpayers can save up to three per cent on their 1939 state and county ad valorem taxes was revealed last week by Frank L. Moore, county tax assessor and collector.

In a law passed recently by the state legislature, provision was made that this three per cent discount will be given on all full tax payments of 1939 taxes if paid between October 1 and November 2, 1939, inclusive. A discount of 2 percent will be given for full payment of 1939 taxes between November 3 and December 2, 1939. While a 1 percent discount will be given on 1939 taxes paid between December 3, 1939 and January 1, 1940.

This discount does not apply on taxes paid by the split payment plan.

Neither does it apply to independent school taxes, city taxes nor water improvement or other simpler tax divisions, unless those bodies pass resolutions locally.

After February 1, 1940, the regular penalty will be attached.

Frank L. Moore and Mrs. C. Snodgrass had as their guests for the holidays and to attend the circus, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Moore and Misses Mary Dove and Margaret Garrett of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Moore and children of Henrietta, Louie F. DAUGHTER BORN SUNDAY TO MR. AND MRS. HENDERSON

Mr. and Mrs. J. Claude Henderson are the parents of a daughter born Sunday morning, July 2, in a Lubbock hospital.

The young lady had not been named as late as Tuesday, Mr. Henderson said. She weighed 5 pounds and 14 ounces at birth. Both mother and daughter have been doing well.

JAMS, JELLIES—BYPRODUCTS OF PLAINS TREE PLANTINGS

The 11,000 miles of farm tree plantings in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas put in by the Forest Service since 1935, are yielding jams and jellies for the housewife as well as protecting cash crops and providing fence posts, fuel and tons of seeds for future planting.

Among the shrubs in the outer rows of many of the plantings—to keep the wind from under the trees once they are beyond the seedling stage—are the wild plum, the chokeberry, and the mulberry. These bushes often grow fruit suitable for human food.

Plains housewives this year report, according to forecasters in the region, that there will be a record preserving of plum jam and choke-cherry jelly.

These windbreak plantings, some of which are now between 30 and 35 feet high, also are enabling plains farmers to grow such fruit as strawberries, which with moisture thrive in the lee of the trees, but do not do so well in the unprotected soil of the plains.

Last fall approximately 235,000 pounds of tree and shrub seed was collected by the Forest Service in the Plains States. Cleaned and stored, the seeds were planted in the nurseries this spring to be transplanted as seedlings next season.

Fatal Omission

Cotton Buyer (who has telegraphed a sizeable bet on a race to his bookie and just learned that his horse paid off 20 to 1): "Did you get that wire off O. K.?" Stationmaster: "Sure, but the money you gave me was a dime short so I left out the name of the horse."

Ruined

The famous detective arrived on the scene. "Heavens," he said, "This is more serious than I thought—the window is broken on both sides."

SUNDAY SINGING

Regular second Sunday singing will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. at the Missionary Baptist church in South Floydada on the Matador highway. It was announced this morning. Everyone is invited to be on hand for and assist with the singing.

Miss Mildred Drace, who has been visiting with friends here the last week left Friday for Waco where she has accepted a position with Grayson Ready to Wear store.

State Fair List Of Premiums Now Ready for Mail

DALLAS, Texas, July 3.—Listing more than $100,000 in premiums for livestock, agriculture, poultry and other awards, the State Fair of Texas is now ready to mail its annual premium list. This will be the 51st mailing of the premium list, and this year's book shows an increase from a few thousand dollars to more than $100,000.

In many cases premiums have been increased. Competition has again been taken from county exhibits and instead each county with a creditable exhibit will receive $125.

In addition to the regular premium list which shows every award offered by the State Fair of Texas, the fair has for distribution supplementary lists for special shows, as the poultry show, the 4-H Club Shows, Culinary and Textile, the school exhibits and contests and others.

Elaborate Equipment Not Needed To Save Life From Drowning

Prompt Application Of Artificial Respiration Of Primary Importance, Says Health Official

AUSTIN, June 20.—"No elaborate equipment is needed to save a life from drowning," is the opinion of State Health Department officials. "In fact, actual harm has been done by the misuse of so-called lung motors. Modern resuscitation apparatus has been perfected so that oxygen and carbon dioxide can be used without inflicting more damage to cases of asphyxiation and drowning. It is tragic enough to have a drowning accident, but it is far more tragic if no one present at the time knows how to save a life by artificial respiration.

"The prompt application of artificial respiration is of primary importance, and for this purpose the prone pressure method is the easiest, simplest and most effective. This should begin at once and continue rhythmically until natural breathing is established—this may take four or more hours. Procedure: First: kneel, and straddle the patient below the hips placing hands on small of the back with fingers over the lowest ribs, tips of fingers just out of sight. Second: With arms straight, while counting one, two, swing forward bearing weight on body firmly but not violently. Third: swing backward while counting one, straightening up and thus relieving pressure—this allows air to be drawn into the lungs. Fourth: rest in this position for two counts. Fifth: repeat those movements rhythmically, forward and backward, without interruption, about twelve to fifteen a minute, until natural breathing is restored. Sixth: meanwhile, if assistance is at hand, a physician should be sent for, the patient's tight clothing should be loosened at neck, chest, waist and he should be kept warm. The patient should not be moved until he is breathing normally and then should not be allowed to get up but should be carried in a lying position to a place where he can be kept warm and receive medical attention.

CROP INSURANCE BASED ON 13 YEARS OF WHEAT CROPS

The most complete and accurate information ever obtained on wheat yields and losses in the United States forms the background of the new "all-risk" crop-insurance program for wheat, according to officials of the Federal Crop Insurance corporation of the United States department of Agriculture. The crop-insurance program guarantees growers who take out policies up to 75 percent of their average yield of wheat.

Crop insurance, advocated more than 20 years ago by farm organizations, was held back by the lack of accurate yield and loss information which would measure the risk of growing wheat. When crop insurance actuarial work is completed this summer, there will be on record a figure representing wheat yield for the past 13 years on nearly every farm in the United States. Each grower will have a card advising him what his premium rate is for a crop-insurance policy.

To obtain this nation-wide picture of wheat-risk data, county committees of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration are incorporating all the records from sales receipts, farmers' record books, Agricultural Adjustment Administration figures, or any other reliable source, into a composite picture of what each farm has produced.

From farms with a complete record history, 10 percent of all the wheat farms in each county are designated as "key" farms. From figures on key farms, appraisals are made for all farms in the county that do not have complete records, but which are similar to one of the key farms in soil type, topography, farming practices, and with farmers of the same general managerial ability.

From the yield records of all wheat farms, the crop-insurance workers are measuring the actual cost of crop insurance for each farm.

ENGINEERS STUDY HIGHWAY AND RAILWAY DIFFERENCES

When engineers started to build modern highways, they had before them the example of several generations of railway builders which they followed with suitable modifications. E. H. Holmes of the United States Department of Agriculture notes in a recent issue of Public Roads, The railway example was generally helpful as applied to limitation of grades and curves, economical balance in cutting and filling, and to some other features.

More recently, however, the road builders have been paying more attention to differences rather than similarities between railroad and highway problems. Railroads were built for planned movement and close control of traffic. The train dispatcher was boss, and directed passages and meetings of trains. On the highway, it is every driver for himself, with only minor checks. Traffic engineers have found that it does not help much to know that a certain stretch of highway would or could accommodate a certain number of cars if the drivers used it most efficiently.

To solve highway traffic problems that engineers find that what they need to know is actual facts such as: how drivers really do use a similar stretch of road; how the fast drivers pass the slow ones, and how much straightaway is needed for a safe passing; how many vehicles use the road in rush hours, and in off hours; how traffic in the opposite direction cuts down chances of passing; and how hills and curves prevent passing or make it dangerous.

Such facts can be gathered only on the highway. Current highway research is turning toward the invention and improvement of mechanical and electrical equipment for counting traffic, measuring speeds of vehicles, and analyzing the actual use that drivers make of representative sections of road. Several new devices are already in use and the engineers are using actual experience as a guide to planning safer and more efficient highways.

WASHINGTON STATE LEADS IN PRODUCTION OF LUMBER

Washington forest lands have supplied more lumber than has been cut from any other State, according to a Forest Service summary of lumbering records for the century and a third from 1800 to 1935.

Until recently Michigan was the leading producer, but Washington has now passed it, with a total of 187,500 million board feet as the cut up to 1935. The Michigan total is nearly as great, and Michigan still holds first place in the cut of hardwoods. The mill value of the Washington lumber at $3,200,000,000 is nearly a billion dollars greater than the Michigan total, because prices have risen and Washington has sold more of its lumber at the higher prices of recent years.

Six states, Washington, Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Louisiana, and Oregon each has a total production record of more than 100 billion feet.

1940 Wheat Acreage Increased In Texas Triple-A Announces

COLLEGE STATION, June 26. — Texas wheat farmers, who trimmed their acreage drastically last fall in line with a nationwide attack on the wheat surplus, had reason this week to celebrate.

The AAA announced a 1940 state wheat acreage allotment of 4,221,706 acres, an increase of 576,853 acres as compared with the 3,644,853 acres allotted for Texas wheat this year.

Farm leaders here point out that rejecting is not solely by reason of the fact that farm program cooperators will have more acreage to seed in wheat this fall. More significant, they say, is the cause behind it. The larger allotment means that wheat farmers have not striven in vain to bring supply and demand more nearly into balance.

"Cooperative efforts of the nation's wheat farmers, through the federal wheat program are bearing substantial fruit," asserted V. L. Cade, Slaton farmer and member of the Texas agricultural conservation committee.

National harvest of winter wheat this year was estimated June 1 at 523,431,000 bushels, compared with 686,637,000 last year. While drought has done its part, most of the drop is credited to acreage curtailment by farmers who took part in the agricultural conservation program.

Cade advised producers not to let an optimistic picture cause them to forget the trials undergone as a result of unbridled wheat production.

"We mustn't forget the cost at which an improved wheat outlook has been gained," he commented. "Just because things are beginning to look up is no sign we should toss caution to the winds and underestimate the need for a high degree of compliance which acreage allotments this fall. Export subsidy and acreage control have gone far to remove the weight of a back-breaking surplus, but the bear isn't whipped by a long shot."

The Lockney ball team is just an above average bunch of country ball players. This past Sunday they slapped down Quitaque better than average team 10 to 3 and before the fifth inning was over the infielders were playing in the outfield and the outfield was on the infield, basemen were catching and everyone except the ball players themselves were all shuffled around.

Lockney will play the Borger Hubbers again sometime right away. The first meeting with this bunch of players was disastrous, the Hubbers winning 10 to 4. The Hubbers are just about the cream of the semi-pro outfit in Texas or in the southwest for that matter and a 10 to 4 licking is nothing to be ashamed of, however the Lockney boys want to try their hand at licking Borger again, and this time we hope the score is reversed.

Believe-it-or-don't the second half of the West Texas-New Mexico league began yesterday with all eight teams playing. There were 4 double-header games and when day was gone the eight teams were all tied for first place, all split a double header and ended the day with 500 percent.

Lubbock won the first half and is assured of a place in the play offs this fall no matter if they end up in the cellar, which they won't.

The second half will probably find "Wimpy" Thomas tossing again for Amarillo after a long layoff to let his sore arm get back to normal. If the soreness is gone he should get back in the won column of the days results.

Early in the spring the Hesperian climbed around and finally out on a long limb by predicting a nice wet spell for the South Plains... the sheet got plenty of hoarowing over the prediction when an almost record drought came along to upset the prediction and the Hesperian's apartment...

The whole staff down here went to work to secure a good downpour and after two months time finally worked the combination and secured general rains, coldbursts, tornadoes, hail and mere showers for the whole area.

The wheat farmers and others may begin to claim that The Hesperian staff overdone the thing but there is one thing to remember, "When The Hesperian predicts rain, by gum, it's going to rain... sometime."

CHEVROLET VACUUM GEAR SHIFT PROVES POPULAR

Rarely has a new automotive feature scored such a hit with the public as has the new vacuum bearing shift with steering column control, introduced by Chevrolet on its 1939 models.

Car buyers everywhere have shown overwhelming preference for it, as against the conventional shift. Approximately 90 per cent of the 1939 Chevrolets sold have been equipped with the vacuum shift, according to sales figures released by Central Office statisticians.

Simplicity characterizes the new gearshift, according to Ed Hedner, national director of service for Chevrolet. The vacuum principle is not new, since trucks for years have had vacuum-powered brakes, but its application to the gearshift is a distinct advance in engineering.

CALLED SESSION NOT PROBABLE

Right now the signs point to the probability that there will be no called session of the legislature on the old age pension measure, commonly called social security legislation.

Governor O'Daniel has his mind made up, for the present at least, that the opponents of S. J. R. 12 need punitive measures applied and it is his duty to apply them.

Thus we conclude that there is no probability of a called session of the legislature any time soon. As a practical fact there is no reason to believe that sentiment has crystallized as yet on a proper form for the additional big taxes to take. The bill is a big one the old folks and the governor and the majority of the legislature have decided to put into the pill for business, big and little, to take. The longer it can be put off the better off everybody will be. Perhaps, meanwhile, there will come the realization that more taxes will not help but hinder and that collecting the taxes already levied to equalize the burden might be the best course to take.

ACCORDING TO THE BOOK

To prove how smart and clever we are this morning the lesson will be for poultry raisers from the book.

Now, we'll say your hens are eating egg shells, and, of course, ruining eggs that you'd rather take to market than to feed to the chickens. The answer is that the chickens are not getting enough calcium and you have to balance the diet of your flock. Calcium is afforded by oyster shells for one thing and possibly by other things as well.

Don't get the impression that oyster shells will take the place of grit to go in the craw to grind up the food the chickens eat. Oyster shell never gets to the craw, we bet you.

So, according to the book, get you some calcium from some source. And your hens will quit eating their eggs.

WE KEEP UP WITH THE TIMES

Further pleasing our vanity this week we give a lesson on watermelons and how to grow good ones, of uniform size. There are few, if any, watermelons going on the market from Floyd county and this will serve no good practical purpose. We merely would prove that we have tried to improve our minds this week-end by reading up on things, keeping abreast of the times.

When your watermelon vines, which you don't have, have got about three or four leaves on them, thin to one in a hill. That is the first step.

Then after the watermelons are five or six inches long, go through the field and prune to the two best to the vine. This will force the entire vigor into the remaining melons.

Just what you'll do if it comes a big rain and the vines put on some more melons quickly and start second growth in the ones you left we do not know at this moment. We will have the second lesson shortly and give you all the facts therein.

To handle this watermelon situation properly it is necessary that you do not have any sick horses to tend to meanwhile, no wheat to cut and no crap grass in the cotton and no feed to plant. All of these things must have had your attention before the rains came.

And now they tell us that one half of the population of the U. S. is crazy. What we want to know is, which half and then figure out which side we are on.—Claude News.

SAFETY AND ECONOMY

Safety and economy go together when you are out on the highway. High speeds require high consumption of gasoline by your motor. Moderate speeds require less gallonage per mile.

The estimate is that an excessively high rate of speed costs at least one-third more per mile. All of this is confirmed by the scientists who measure by the rule and let chips fall where they may.

You can be a cut-up on the highways, but you'll have to pay in more costs per mile. And pay, also, that additional toll in the hazards of fast driving.

Always one pays for excesses of eating, drinking, fast living,—and now they say fast driving.

A MUCH BIGGER ARMY

The United States will have a much bigger army during the next year or so, even if no war is waged.

And this much bigger army is going to be on wheels. It will be a "mobile" outfit, capable of fighting here today and fighting a hundred miles distant tomorrow. Theoretically, that is.

Every nation is trying to figure out a way to eliminate the statements that occurred during the World War, when millions of men crawled in the filth of trenches, throwing bombs for a change, burrowing in the ground like ants, or perhaps like filthy rodents they had to be.

The United States is embarked on a big spending spree for armaments, for manpower, for greatness on the ground, in the air, on and under the sea. In a world of greed and lust and bluff and might making right, it probably pays to be wise like the serpent while cooing like the dove.

OUR FOLLY EUROPE'S GAIN

After the last world war the United States softened the blow of recovery for the peoples of Europe simply by the process of passing the bill on to the people of the United States. Billions of our debts represent money dearly earned by the common people which Mr. Hoover and the Republican majority passed on to England, France, Belgium, even Germany, and others, back in the twenties.

Undoubtedly the intention was good. But the harvest of profit was reaped by those "masters" of the country residing in a triangular section of the nation roughly bounded by Illinois on the west and Massachusetts on the east, with Pennsylvania and New York capitalists getting the greedy man's share. That has been Mr. Hoover's philosophy, to make things good for the big man, whose great heart would immediately have thought for the commonality.

The common, every day folks who got nothing are paying dearly, too, for this folly. Instead of appropriation this windfall from the United States to the good of the people the European nations have been engaged in getting ready for some more of the glories of war, the lust for conquest, commonly called "defense".

The spiritual power behind one is always greater than the material task before one.—Anon.

What do we live for if not to make the world less difficult for each other?—George Eliot.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

The fourth of July, 1939. The fourth of July 1904. I had been in Plainview during the month of June, 1904, attending a teachers' institute as I was to teach a little rural school the coming winter. Perhaps I had not learned much in the hurried review we had been given, but I had made new friends, learned the ways of a larger town than the one I had grown up in, and the new game of tit-tat-too.

I was sixteen and this was my first time to be away from home for so long a time. Father and my little brother of some seven years came in a wagon for me the second of July and that night it rained and rained on an earth already wet from many rains. Next morning father bought his supplies for the fourth, as there was to be a picnic at Emma. A box of lemons some citric acid to help out on the lemonade, two boxes of oranges and a stalk of bananas, boxes of candy and firecrackers were loaded in. We set out from town in a trot, but soon the team slowed down to a slow walk in the soft roads. The freight road was deeply rutted and wound around lakes of clear blue water, where it got softer and softer. The horses balked. Father was not a good hand with horses. We unloaded the picnic things and I drove across the hundred yards of soft boggy ground. Then the things had to be carried and loaded in the waiting wagon. Three times this hard work was repeated during the day.

Friends came by in a surrey going to the picnic. They asked me to go on, but I was grown so I thought, and saw my responsibility. I sorrowfully watched the matched team take my friends swiftly on. The hot sun made the ground steam, the horses plodded on. The sun sank farther down. The shadows of the wagon and team stretched out like gigantic animals that had trod this same land so long ago. Not a house in sight. Then the distant scenes were wrapped in a soft dark mantle that finally hid all the earth. The stars came out. Frogs croaked from the lakes. Oh, how I wanted to see my mother!

A light gleamed from a window, dogs began barking, oh, there was Coke, Fullington's house. A good supper, a soft bed and a glad welcome we found there.

Early the next morning we reached Emma, the lemonade stand was soon up and I was selling lemonade, "ice cold lemonade," the boys teased as they passed "made in the shade and stirred by an old maid." I remember the dress I wore, a light tan linen with embroidered red clover leaves all over the material.

Broncs were eared down saddled and ridden till the boy was thrown or the horse was tamed. Orators told of the Great and Glorious Fourth from the court room, cowboys on swift cowpooties rode the tournament. Rings were hung on Those enjoying the party were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wood, Miss Audra Mae Borum, Miss Velma Deen, Miss Windsor, Miss Pinky Hubbard and the honorees.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clark left Monday for a vacation tour of Colorado.

S. W. Ross, who has been manager of the dry goods department of the Baker-Campbell company Floydada store, will be the manager of the store recently purchased by the company at Rochester, it was announced this week.

arms nailed to tall posts and the boys caught them on long sticks as their ponies raced swiftly by. By night the dancing began in the court room and lasted till the dawn of another day.

The fourth of July 1939 and the fourth of July 1904 have silently slipped away and joined the fourths of all the other years that have been America has had her freedom.

Heard while passing several small boys talking on a street corner. "Our ice box will hold a hundred pounds," one boasted. "Ah I bet it won't," jeered another. "I'll bet five thousand dollars it will," the first loudly cried. At that the other seemed convinced.

Some how it seems too bad not to want it to rain for awhile. So long we have gazed in the heavens and prayed for the refreshing showers. But the weeds have started with the cotton and the maize and we need dry weather to kill them before our crops are choked out. Everybody is at work on the farm. Mother prepares meals while husband and children are in the field. Tractors roar up and down the rows sweating horses switch files and pull the cultivator and the slide. Sharp hoes gleam in the sunshine.

The rain made my flowers grow. New shiny leaves have replaced the scorched ones. Gay flowers are opening, sweet peas, galliardias, red and pink zinnias and sky blue forget-me-nots. Flowers for the house for the church and to give to friends.

A beautiful scene. Mesquite trees mirrored in a lake of clear water, admiring their lacy pale green leaves and soft yellow curls. Dark green cedars on a hill wrapped in a hazy blue mist, a blue quail slipping through the brush, softly calling to a bunch of babies following her.

The small horse pasture in front of our house (we used to call it a starve-out) is as green and pretty as a lawn. A red hen carries her white chickens over it not knowing what a pretty picture they make. The air is soft to our tanned faces.

I think this is a nice poem. I could sail the waters of all the world.

Bitter and wild and blue, And never I'd find a friend to love Like the friend I've found in you. I could walk down all the roads of the world.

And knock on the doors forever, And never I'd find a friend like you Never, never, never.

Vanished indeed are the heavy laden tables of our great-grandfathers. There used to be three and four kinds of meats and vegetables, all sorts of bread and jellies, and a large appetite on the part of any participants. Today, in this era of machine and luxury, we do not have the need of energy and the craving for such large meals as they did in those days.—White Deer Review.

The Best Publicity We've Ever Had' Says Circus Man Of Paper

A. Morton Smith, General Manager Gainesville Circus Praises Hesperian's Tabloid Edition

"The best publicity we've ever had on an away-from-home engagement," A. Morton Smith, general manager of the Gainesville Community circus, characterized the tabloid edition of The Hesperian which covered an area upward of 5 counties in extent just prior to the date for the show.

Mr. Smith is city editor of the Gainesville Register, and was the leader of a Little Theatre group, which 10 years ago conceived the idea of a burlesque circus, which has evolved into the huge organization the community now has with thousands of dollars invested in tents, equipment and properties of one kind and another.

The Hesperian's 16-page tabloid impressed Mr. Smith. "It told the story of the circus and it told the story of a complete and up-and-athem co-operation on the part of the whole business interests in Floydada," he said.

The Gainesville newspaperman wired for 50 copies of the paper to be saved for him when he arrived here for the engagement of the circus.

Thomas Flynn and Sammie Thagard of Oklahoma City are here for an indefinite visit with their grandmother, Mrs. S. D. Greer. They were accompanied by their cousin, Phillip Callison of Elsinore, California, who will visit with his grandmother, Mrs. Addie Thagard.

Independence Day, 1939, meant much more than picnics, firecrackers and pink lemonade to hundreds of former tenant farmers in this country who in the past year have been able to purchase their own farms through the Farm Tenant Purchase program, which is administered by the Farm Security administration. Apparently happy about the whole situation is big Bill and little Bill O. McNeill of Floyd County, Texas. Less than a year ago home ownership for the McNeill family appeared far away. Today big Bill is working toward an inheritance of a fine farm for little Bill, for payments are spaced over many years. At the left, below, is the home where Borden C. Aaron lived; at the right is the farm house which he is purchasing. Both homes are in Eddy county, N. M., near Carlsbad, N. M.

Mrs. R. T. Jones will attend the Short Course for home demonstration clubs at the college from July 12 to 14 as a delegate from the Dougherty club.

Church Announcements

Lamesa Man Killed In Auto Accident Friday

E. A. Conley, 42, manager of the J. C. Penney store at Lamesa, and brother of A. B. Conley of Lubbock, former J. C. His body was found lying on the pavement about 25 yards from the wrecked car.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon of last week in Lubbock with interment in the Lubbock cemetery.

Deceased is survived by his wife and four sons, Earnest jr., Jack, Robert and Billie; his mother, Mrs. A. B. Conley of Lubbock, the two brothers and three sisters.

Sanitation Is Secret Of Control Of Round Worms In Swine Herd

McLean County System Based On Understanding Of The Life Cycle Of Round Worms

(By W. T. McWilliams, county supervisor Farm Security Administration.)
Probably the major problem that faces every hog breeder is the control of round worms. In the majority of cases, the man that controls the worms is the man that makes money on his hogs. We would probably be safe in saying that 99% of all our hogs have worms. We have all seen pot-bellied, rough-coated, unthrifty, weak, and emaciated pigs. The feeder cannot afford to try to feed such pigs, because the chances are against his showing a profit. He can well afford to pay a dollar or two more for thrifty, strong, and healthy pigs. It is true that he can treat the worm infested pigs, but at the best it is expensive, requires lots of labor, and does not always get the job done.
The best way of controlling the worms is by sanitary measures thereby preventing the infestation of the pigs. If the farmers of Floyd county would practice the McLean county system of swine sanitation, they could increase their hog profits 15% to 25%. To understand and appreciate the McLean county system, it is necessary that we know the life cycle of the round worm.
In every one of our lots that have had cattle, horses, hogs, and sheep in them, we have a heavy infestation of round worm eggs. There are million of these eggs in every lot. The pigs and hogs, by rooting around, naturally get many of the eggs in their mouths, and many are swallowed. After the egg reaches the pig's stomach, the digestive juices dissolve the hard shell and the worm is released. The worm burrows itself through the stomach and intestinal walls into the blood stream. It follows the blood stream to the lungs and burrows itself from the blood stream into the lungs. The presence of a foreign body in the lungs causes the pigs to cough and the worms are coughed up and swallowed.
The worms pass into the stomach and intestines and growth is continued. These parasites, which sometime attain a length of 10 inches or more, cause an irritation of that part of the alimentary tract, resulting in digestive disturbances which give rise to diarrhea or constipation. The worm then lays eggs which are passed in the fecal material, and the lots are reinfested.
The McLean county system of swine sanitation has been found effective in protecting pigs against worms, bullnose, cholera, and other disease. Briefly, it consists in putting clean sows in clean farrowing houses and pens, moving the sows and pigs to clean pastures, and keeping them there until they are four or more months old. The first step is to clean the farrowing house and pen. It should be scrubbed with hot lye water, both the walls and floor. The hot lye water is the best and cheapest disinfectant that can be used for worm eggs. The worm eggs are very resistant to weather and chemicals but can be handled with hot water and the addition of a little lye hastens the killing. It has been found that whereas the hot water kills them within a few seconds, the eggs can live in a 50% sulphuric acid solution for two hours. The next step is to put clean bed-

Girls Enjoy Busy Hours at Economic Assn, San Antonio

Lavelle Ginn and Lula Lee Teal Write Story Of Wonderful Trip

(Written by Lavelle Ginn and Lula Lee Teal)

We consider ourselves as two very fortunate girls because it was our privilege and pleasure to attend the National Home Economics association at San Antonio, from June 18 to June 20. Our home economics instructor, Miss Fannie Mae Rees, Mrs. W. E. Rees, Mrs. S. L. Rushing and ourselves left Floydada early Sunday morning, June 19. We went by the way of Camp Waldemar where we visited Louise Willson, and Mrs. Rees' cousin, Miss Doris Johnson, owner of the camp. While there we were shown through the camp, enjoying it very much. We left about 7 o'clock. We were tired and did not go anywhere that night.

At 9 o'clock Monday morning we registered in the Terrace Room of the Gunter Hotel. From 10 until 12 o'clock we attended a joint meeting in the Rose Room of the same hotel. The meeting consisted mostly of greetings and announcements of the week's meetings and entertainments. In the afternoon we listened to the program on Social and Cultural Development Through the Study of Home Economics. At this time a lady from Finland, who had been studying in the University of Montana, was introduced to us and gave an interesting and unusual talk. (It was our pleasure to talk personally to this lady at the tea given later in the day.) The meeting was then divided into sectional meetings. The high school girls in one and the others in different groups.

The subject of our group was a discussion of Our Club a Consumer Group. There were seven points stressed in the meeting, they were: 1. Interest in securing greater satisfaction for our money spent; 2. To apply knowledge we have gained in making our selections; 3. Do not use trial and error method to gain knowledge; 4. Realizing limiting of price as a grade in choosing goods of service; 5. Judgment in the use of shopping conferences offered us by the stores; 6. Have the ability to use some effective buying procedure in our own and family buying; and 7. Realizing of strong and weak points in our personal likes.

Tea At Governor's Mansion
At 5 o'clock we went to a tea at the old Spanish Governor's palace, which was where the governor of Texas lived when under the rule of Spain. This historic building has 10 rooms and a left which are now furnished in the Spanish manner typical of early San Antonio. The tea was served by ladies dressed in Spanish costumes. Music was played on a harp by a real Spaniard. After the tea we visited a Catholic church which was the most beautiful one we had ever seen. The church is over two hundred years old and still in use. The candle holders were of solid gold.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock we were guests for a floor show. A Night in Mexico, presented by Don Martinez and his orchestra, sponsored by the Texas Club members, his feature singer, Rostia and many Spanish dancers typical of Old Mexico entertained us for an hour. Also presented during the evening was Betty Nell Vaughn, whose mother teaches in Hawaii who did the hula dance; and Rachell Lee and Angela Rapdzo, two native Hawaiians present for the meeting sang several songs in their own language. We made friends with these girls and were with them at a number of the meetings. We plan to correspond with them during the coming year.

After the floor show we attended the Majestic theatre, whose lighting effect and architecture is a wonder within itself.

Visit Flying Field

Tuesday morning we visited Randolph Field which is one of the largest Military airports in the world. It is the home of the U. S. Army Air Corps primary and basic flying schools. The field is roughly rectangular and has a total area of 2300 acres. We attended the sectional meeting in the Elk's club room from 9 until 10 o'clock. The panel discussion was on our national magazine and Texas contributors. From 10 until 12 we had several round table discussions in the Gunter hotel. Miss Rees attended the one on good club publicity, in the Army room while we attended the one in the Oriental room which was planning programs for the year.

Tuesday afternoon we attended the joint meeting in the Elk's club room. The topics of discussion were the association's anniversary and club development, the introduction of outstanding home economists, the introduction of the national officers and developing good club members by good club work. At 4:30 we left the Gunter hotel on buses (five in all) for a sight-seeing trip and chuck wagon supper. We first went through the Alamo and through the buildings of interest of the city. We went through the zoo of the Breckenridge park. We passed the Japanese tea garden whose beauty is indescribable. We visited the Buckhorn Curio shop, then on out to the San Jose Mission where we had our chuck wagon supper. After we had been served the Southern cowboys entertained us with songs of the old southwest, the setting being one with the old chuck wagon and camp fire.

When we returned to town, we attended the Aztec theatre, whose carvings were all of Indian style. We attended the meeting in the roof garden of the Plaza hotel, from 9 until 12 Wednesday morning. This was the last meeting of the group and was composed of discussion of group reports, committee reports, election of officers and panel discussion of our club problems and methods.

We left San Antonio at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and reached home at 1:30 that night. At the meeting we met many interesting people from each state of the union and six foreign countries. We learned what they are doing in their clubs and school work. We gained many helpful suggestions and ideas that will be of great use to us in our homemaking department. Last but not least a good time was had by all.

Jeroboam: A Man with a Great Golden Text: "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct thy paths" (Prov. 3:6).
Lesson Text: I Kings 11:26-31, 37-40.

26 And Jeroboam the son of Nebat, an Ephraimite of Zeredah, Solomon's servant, whose mother's name was Zeruiah, a widow woman even he lifted up his hand against the king.

27 And this was the cause that he lifted up his hand against the king: Solomon built Millo, and repaired the breaches of the city of David his father.

28 And the man Jeroboam was a mighty man of valour; and Solomon seeing the young man that he was industrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the house of Joseph.

29 And it came to pass at that time when Jeroboam went out of Jerusalem, that the prophet Ahijah the Shilonite found him in the way; and he had clad himself with a new garment; and they two were alone in the field:

30 And Ahijah caught the new garment that was on him, and rent it in twelve pieces:

31 And he said to Jeroboam, Take thee ten pieces: for thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, Behold I will rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give ten tribes to thee:

32 And I will take thee, and thou shalt reign according to all that thy soul desireth, and shalt be king over Israel.

33 And it shall be, if thou wilt hearken unto all that I command thee, and wilt walk in my ways, and do that is right in my sight, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as David my servant did; that I will be with thee, and build thee a sure house, as I built for David, and will give Israel unto thee.

34 And I will for this afflict the seed of David, but not for ever.

35 Solomon sought therefore to kill Jeroboam. And Jeroboam arose, and fled into Egypt, unto Shishak king of Egypt, and was in Egypt until the death of Solomon.

Introduction

In our last lesson Solomon was presented with all his opportunities, and he was praying for wisdom that he might rule wisely in today's lesson Jeroboam was aspiring to succeed Solomon, who was to be dethroned because of mistakes he made in the latter part of his reign. He disobeyed the Lord in that he married wives who were not Hebrews and worshiped idols. He was led by them to establish heathen worship, and these sins caused his downfall. He had been given wisdom of the Lord, and knew to do better. He was guilty of at least three great sins: First, giving way to weak and love for women; second, marrying strange women just for their beauty and personal attractions; third gratifying their desire to worship heathen gods by preparing altars dedicated to them. Our subject today is, "Jeroboam: A Man with a Great Opportunity." This subject demands serious consideration and close study if we are to profit by his mistakes. It is sad for one not to live up to his opportunity, and we should be warned of it in time.

Body Of C. O. Bradley Removed To Abilene For Reburial Last Week

The remains of C. O. Bradley, buried in the Floydada cemetery in October 1920, was disinterred Wednesday by D. T. Laughter, Abilene funeral home director and carried to Abilene for reburial.

The request for the removal of the body was voiced by Mrs. Bradley, who lives with a daughter at Abilene. Guy Bradley, a son who lives at O'Donnell witnessed the removal of the body and accompanied the funeral coach to Abilene.

The Bradleys are former residents of Floyd county and will be remembered by friends here. The permit for the removal of the body was obtained from County Health Officer Dr. V. Andrews.

CENTURY PLANT BLOOMING IN YARD AT BOTELER HOME

An unusual plant for this country may be seen in the yard at the V. H. Boteler home on South Main street. The specimen is a Century plant, brought to L. B. Maxey by his son, Faye Maxey, about five years ago from the mountains of New Mexico. Last week it was in bloom.

The plant when put out resembled a prickly-pear only the wide sharp pointed leaf is entirely smooth with the sharp stickers only on the edge. This part of the plant stood for five years without making a change then about the middle of April a large hard stalk began to grow out from the center of the plant.

In the last several weeks the stalk grew at the rate of a foot a week until it reached an approximate height of 12 feet with large clusters of blooms on the last three feet. The stalk is about six inches in circumference at the base and gradually tapers to about an inch in size at the top. The stalk is jointed about every six inches, resembling a sugar cane stalk, with a leaf forming at each joint which it sheds off as it grew up.

The blooms are of a greenish yellow color and do not last long after opening. They are very pretty and one bloom would make a large bouquet. There were about thirteen blooms. Mr. Maxey said he has been told that after the blooming is over they are entirely gone and the entire plant dies.

Miss Cieta McLain, of Lubbock spent the week-end holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McLain.

Guard Against Typhoid Health Department Warns Texas Citizens

AUSTIN, June 26.—"If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid fever within the last two or three years, go to your family physician and have him give you the three 'shots' that will protect you against that disease."

This advice comes from the Texas State Health department, and is addressed particularly to those persons planning vacations away from home or those who regularly go on camping, fishing or such trips.

Typhoid is contracted by way of the mouth. Each case comes directly or indirectly from some previous case. You eat or drink the germs that cause the disease, in food, water or milk contaminated by the discharge or who have had it at some time.

Modern medical and public health practices have greatly reduced the occurrence of typhoid, but it is still a menace to those unprotected against the disease.

Protection of public water supplies from pollution, pasteurization of milk, inspection and supervision of food supplies, improvement in household sanitation and hygienic habits, better sewage disposal and careful investigation of typhoid outbreaks to determine the source of the disease are measures which have contributed to the diminution of the incidence of typhoid in Texas.

But there are still sources of infection to which individuals are exposed, that cannot be reached by public measures, and for which vaccination affords additional protection.

Persons who are apparently well, but who have had the disease at some time, may continue to discharge the typhoid germs. Such persons are known as "carriers" and if they are not careful in their personal habits they are liable to contaminate any food they touch. Flies carry germs from contaminated sources to food, and are another source of typhoid infection.

Health departments, state, city and county, are waging constant warfare against typhoid all the year. Special efforts are made during the vacation period through the sanitary supervision of summer camps, parks, and public eating places to reduce any possible danger of vacation typhoid from such sources. But vaccination and sanitation are the only means to personal safety against the disease. So see your physician today for a vaccination and summer unmarred by typhoid.

Lloyd Thomas, of Austin spent Friday in the home of his sister Mrs. D. W. Pogerson and family.

Mrs. J. S. McLain is visiting her daughter Mrs. J. C. Williams and family at Dimmitt. She left Wednesday and will remain for an indefinite time.

'CHILD RIGHTS' DISCUSSED BY HARMONY H. D. CLUB

"Teaching children, by the use of self help equipment, at an early age and to respect the personal rights of others is a good start toward making their dream come true" said Mrs. V. W. Hennessee at a meeting of the Harmony Home Demonstration club last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Chloma Williams.

Mrs. Hennessee said, "It is natural for a little girl or boy to want to dress themselves and care for their hair, teeth and to want to care for their own clothing, for it gives them a feeling of importance, security, and that he can do things that his older brothers and sisters do, thus giving him much satisfaction."

It is as important to teach small children health habits as it is their school work. A child should have regular meals, rest and play. Mrs. R. B. Gary stressed in her talk.

Mrs. M. D. Ramsey stressed in her talk on "Childs Rights To Privacy," that by being alone or playing alone without adult interference should help a child learn to make his own decisions, his own choice and learns to concentrate his attention on what he is doing. Here a child gains knowledge of his first independence, if they are awkward just let them work the problems out for themselves.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames M. Carr, Sherwood Ramsey, G. L. Snodgrass, J. Sam Hale, Walter S. Hanna, F. B. Trowbridge, M. D. Ramsey, Chas. Watson, R. B. Gary, V. W. Hennessee, Zant Scott, C. W. Brockett, Wm. Finkner, L. A. Williams, Chas. B. Smith, Carrick Snodgrass, Raymond Williams, Perry Tipton, Everett Miller, Miss Iva Elmore Smith and the hostess.

The next meeting will be July 27 at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. V. W. Hennessee.

McCOY H. D. CLUB REPORT

It was a pleasure to have Miss Lois Wilson, demonstration agent, present at a meeting of the McCoy Home Demonstration club recently at the home of Mrs. Elton O'Neal, when she demonstrated ways to refinish furniture.

"Your first wish should be to show the natural grain of the wood. To do this always work with the grain instead of across," she told the guests.

"Use heavy sandpaper and follow with a finer grade. A favorite, but a little expensive perhaps is to use a paint or varnish remover;

"A third and speedier way to remove paint is to use a lye and water solution. This is made by using one can of lye to a gallon of water. After the solution has remained on a few minutes the furniture should be rinsed and followed by a vinegar solution. Let the object dry for four days then apply the paint or varnish. Do not let the stain run, keep it wiped off with a piece of cloth," she said.

The recreational period was followed by a detailed discussion of delegates who will go to the Short Course that will be held the middle of the month.

The club will meet at the home of Mrs. John Shipley July 14 at 2:30 p. m. At this time the hostess will demonstrate serving light refreshments.

Guests for the evening were Miss Wilson, Misses Volene Hulsey, Mary Helen Day, Lota Jo and Mana Merel Smith and Loveta Cummings; Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Harry N.

Prompt Payment of Bills

Prevents "Q. C."*

*"Q. C." - Questionable Credit - is caused by laxity in paying bills. Avoid it!

Use Your Credit Judiciously Buy Prudently--Pay Promptly

PAYING bills is a matter of promptness—and understanding—just as much as it is of honesty. For most people are honest, but many are careless.

They neglect payment of their bills and unwittingly build a reputation for "Q. C."—Questionable Credit—with all its recurring embarrassments: phone calls, collectors' calls, neighbors' gossip.

Merchants and professional men are glad to extend the convenience of credit to their patrons. But they expect to be paid, just as they must pay their own bills, according to agreement.

Phone calls and collectors' calls cost them money—needless expense to collect what is due them. That's why they welcome the patronage of those who pay promptly!

Safeguard your credit! Pay all bills by the 10th--or promptly as agreed.
