

Trench Silo Seems Good Practice For Floyd County Farms

County Agent Says Short Feed Crop Means Conservation And Effective Feeding

Last year Floyd county farmers filled 164 trench silos with approximately 25,256 tons of feed. This year from reports received this total will be even increased 50 per cent. Farmers are learning from demonstrations conducted by the Extension Service that when a ton of feed is placed into a trench silo, a ton of feed can still be expected years hence. This cannot be said when the feed is stacked in the lot open to all elements of the weather, to dry out and spoil, and to the many other losses which occur in this manner of storage.

At present the feed crop in Floyd county proves to be short and every available pound will be needed for livestock feed. D. F. Bredthauer, county agricultural agent, states that through land use planning in the county, meetings have been held in all school communities discussing food and feed requirements for an average size Floyd county family and that at each of these meetings the conservation of feed was listed as a very important conservation problem—not only from the standpoint of conservation but from the standpoint of effective feeding. At each of these meetings farmers were given information as to feeding requirements and how to figure the number of pounds of feed that is required for a year's feeding operation. In speaking of feed conservation the trench silo plays a very important factor. In digging the first trench, the problem of how large a trench to dig to meet the livestock program on the farm usually arises and this might be an easy way to overcome this difficulty. In figuring the cross section of the trench, multiply the number of animals to be fed by the pounds of ensilage to be fed each day. Suppose 2 cattle are to be fed 30 pounds of ensilage per day, then 360 pounds of ensilage will be fed per day. Assume that the silage weighs 30 pounds per cubic foot, then 12 cubic feet of silage will be fed per day. Now to prevent spoilage, figure that a slice four inches (one-third of a foot) thick should be cut off daily. Divide the 12 cubic feet by four inches (one-third of a foot), it is found that 36 square feet of cross section in the trench is suitable for a herd of this size.

Silo Specifications
The depth may possibly be six feet and the average width six feet to get the desired cross section of 36 square feet. Figuring that the sides of the trench are to be sloped, the bottom width may be five feet and the top width seven feet, giving an average width of six feet.

If the depth of the trench can be, say, only four feet, then the average width desired would be 36 divided by four, or nine feet.

To find the desired length of the trench, simply multiply the number of days to feeding period by the thickness of the slice fed per day. For example, if the length of the feeding period is 120 days, and a slice four inches thick is to be fed off each day, the required length is 480 inches, or 40 feet. To allow for heavier feeding and wastage, and to be sure that plenty of silage is available, it is well to increase this length, by assuming that a six inch slice will be fed off daily.

As ensilage helps to solve the dairy situation very effectively it may be well to know that an average dairy cow producing 5,000 pounds of milk and 200 pounds of butterfat will require 1 ton of concentrate per year. In addition to the concentrates she would require roughage. If hay alone, 3.6 tons will be required. If silage alone, 9 tons would be required. If fed half and half 1.8 tons hay and 4.5 tons silage. If good pasture was provided one-half the time the hay and silage could be reduced one half. If good pasture is provided one half the time, the amount of concentrates could be reduced by one fourth or from 2,000 pounds to 1,500 pounds. If roughage consists of grain sorghum bundles or silage, the concentrate mixture might be made up as follows: 300 pounds ground maize heads, 200 pounds cottonseed meal, 100 pounds wheat bran.

Sheep Feeding
As many Floyd county farmers have become interested in the production of sheep on their farms it may be well to study some of the feeding requirements for a lamb and ewe for a period of 2 months. A lamb can ordinarily be fattened in 100 days and it requires about 300 pounds of high quality feed to fatten a lamb. The proportion of concentrate and roughage can vary from 100 pounds of grain and 200 pounds of roughage to 200 pounds of roughage. In estimating the amount of feed required to keep a ewe for 12 months, one would think in terms of acres of pasture or temporary grazing crops as the principal source of feed and concentrates and hay as supplementary to the pasture.

A purely maintenance ration through the 12 months period would not be sufficient to enable a ewe to do a good job of producing a lamb. It would take approximately 1800 pounds of feed including pasture crops to maintain a ewe and get a good production of wool and lambs. You think of seven ewes equaling one cow in feed requirement.

In the past few years a number of Floyd county farmers have become interested in marketing their grain crops under the hide of beef cattle and the feeding requirements of a steer 450 pounds to 500 pounds at the starting of the feeding period and say fed for 300 days and to be finished at 950 pounds to 1,000 pounds, it is estimated that this animal will need about 3500 pounds of hay or ensilage and 3500 pounds of grain.

Hezekiah: A King Who Remembered God

Golden Text:—"Turn us again, O God, and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved" (Psalm 80:3)
Lesson Text:—II Chronicles 30:13-22

13 "And there assembled at Jerusalem much people to keep the feast of unleavened bread in the second month, a very great congregation.

14 And they arose and took away the altars that were in Jerusalem, and all the altars for incense took they away, and cast them into the brook Kidron.

15 Then they killed the passover on the fourteenth day of the second month: and the priests and the Levites were ashamed, and sanctified themselves, and brought in the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their place after their manner, according to the law of Moses the man of God: the priests sprinkled the blood, which they received of the hand of the Levites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified: therefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the passovers for every one that was not clean, to sanctify them unto the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, even many of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun, had not cleansed themselves, yet did they eat the passover otherwise than it was written. But Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord pardon every one.

19 That prepareth his heart to seek God, the Lord God of his fathers, though he be not cleansed according to the purification of the sanctuary.

20 And the Lord hearkened to Hezekiah, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Jerusalem, kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with great gladness: and the Levites and the priests praised the Lord day by day, singing with loud instruments unto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah spake comfortably unto all the Levites that taught the good knowledge of the Lord: and they did eat thoroughly the feast seven days, offering peace offerings, and making confession to the Lord God of their fathers.

The Modern Shopper Says "Charge It"!

Realizing the value of credit, she uses current income to meet current expenditures

CREDIT is extended by merchants as a shopping accommodation. They realize it isn't always convenient or safe to carry cash to pay for each purchase. It's a nuisance too, to have to wait around the house for a C. O. D. delivery of a telephone order.

But credit is more than just a convenience. It has a definite value to the user. For most people depend on a monthly salary or income paid at some regular interval. By using their credit, they are able to meet current expenditures out of current income, which is just good business.

And credit, properly used, increases in value just as a friendship becomes stronger through close association! Using your credit regularly and paying bills promptly according to agreement puts you on the records of the stores and the credit bureau as a person of known worth.

That's why the modern shopper says "Charge It" and religiously pays all bills promptly!

Use your credit freely and pay all bills by the 10th or promptly as agreed

HELP US ELECT A RAIN

The Hesperian this week again bids for your support in our rain campaign. We are candidates for a good rain all over this county and the neighboring counties. We think we ought to have a rain and we pledge our every effort to get one. We believe the one-galussed, honest farmer is entitled to one and we here and now denounce all interests, corporate or otherwise, which oppose us.

We ask in particular that you watch for tarantulas that may be traveling. They will be hunting high ground to get out of the downpour. Also we are anxious to have reports on the new moon on September 13. If it is covered by clouds the first three evenings there will be some rain before the moon falls. This has been a sure sign for ages. Also listen for the hollering of frogs and watch out for red clouds in the morning.

Although we have asked repeatedly for support in this campaign we have found little support. Some actually laugh at our efforts. We want some feed in the country, some late grass and some moisture on which to plant wheat. Apparently nobody else is interested.

But true to the tradition of crusaders we stand out and call for help. We are disgruntled with this uncomfortable hot weather that is burning up the feed and crisping the leaves on the cotton stalks. We want a different deal and we are out of patience with Floyd county farmers who fiddle fiddle about instead of helping out. If we don't change our minds somebody might get a good talking to. Help us elect a rain!

WILL WARS EVER CEASE?

That the world really has come a long way in its attitude toward war, in spite of the happenings we read about in Europe and in China, is brought to mind with a little reflection.

Only in comparatively modern time has anyone even so much as dreamed of a time when there might be universal peace and nation's differences settled at the conference table instead of with the bayonet.

Now people by the millions believe that war can be done away with. Whether they are right it would be hard to say. But the further we get away from the time when warfare was the daily and natural thing for all mankind in the struggle to survive, the more people there are who cry out against war.

THE BRITISH ARE COMING!

People of West Texas despite their rough exteriors—some of them are rough—are idealists at heart. They will fall for most any kind of idealistic talk.

Understanding this, and having in mind the manifest murderous and ruthless attitude of Mr. Hitler, you should expect quickly a drum beat of hatred against him and all he represents.

This big noise will be most reasonable, most subtle. It will proceed from England. It was provided for several days ago in the big credit voted the government by parliament. Perhaps the amount is five million. It may be fifty million. Clever English propagandists will have been given a free hand and plenty of money.

Look for it. England is good at permitting somebody else to furnish the powder, the men and the money. Quiet spoken Mr. Chamberlain will furnish the thinking and the clever phrases.

SEARCH FOR ADJECTIVES

Words with which to describe the horrors of war have been sought by writers since the peoples of the earth have become "civilized." The writers have been hard put to it especially since the advent of the airplanes and the bomb that deals death from the air.

The happenings in Europe, bringing the air war closer to home, will make a torrent of descriptive words to flood our news stands. Happening to the heathen Chinese ten thousand miles away the bombing war has not seemed to make more than a vague impression.

THE WARRIOR ON FOOT

While air raids and bombings are very spectacular and do deal death and destruction, military men declare that even the modern war will be won finally by the infantry. Not belittling modern machinery and the part it will play in getting "the mostest men there firstest," all these implements of warfare will still be auxiliary to the man who walks and carries a pack on his back, so they say.

YOU LIVE OUT THERE

That portion of the United States which lives more toward Europe than toward America is due to get mightily out of patience with the yokels of the hinterland if the freshly broken out war goes on along for awhile. By hinterland we mean, like Mr. Webster says, that region that lies behind the coast districts. By yokel we mean a rustic—as for instance a person who lives away out in West Texas and doesn't know any better.

The hinterland, to those coast district people, is an area attached for revenue purposes, to be stirred up to fight the battle when the going gets tough. Now, the talk on the street will be to "whip that feller Hitler," and probably he needs it, but out in the humble homes the question will be whose job is it to whip him?

In the settlement at Versailles Mr. Wilson was over-ruled, whipped down and positively not allowed to give equal justice as he had hoped to the many European minorities. Hitler is nothing more than a product of that injustice the same as Napoleon was the product of the French revolution and Clemenceau of the Franco-Prussian affair.

All of this will be forgotten in the flag waving and the band playing during the next few weeks and months if the war really does go on. Also that England and France have not carried out their solemn obligations to our country and for which you and I are paying the bills now.

WORST AND BEST DEALS

Things don't happen that way for the superminds. By which we refer to those few uncanny money-makers who have a sixth sense which they call only common sense to foresee the coming events in business.

But to the ordinary fellow who just does the best he can and thinks of himself as trying mighty hard, the worst deals often turn out to be the good ones and the good deals the kind that give him the headache. He wakes up at night with a start to wonder far into the morning what he'll do about it. About 98 per cent of the people who read this will know all about what we are talking about. They should know, as they possibly don't, that the other 2 per cent have no patience with that kind of twaddle.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)
I am at home again as I write this. As my hands do the familiar tasks, my mind is still traveling. Just now I am again at the Memphis Memorial park the Cemetery Beautiful. Here is a wonderful reproduction of the care of Machpelah, the first historical burial in the world, where Sarah, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were buried almost 4,000 years ago. Also, we see the pool of Hebron, Abraham's Oak; Broken Tree Bench; 3,000 years old unique Oak Coffin; Annie Laurie Wishing Chair and Ponce de Leon Fountain of Youth. So exact are the reproductions made by senor Rodriguez, a noted Mexican artist of Mexico City, that you feel the trunk of the trees to be sure they are not wood, as they look, but are made of concrete.

Under tall trees lie the dead. Smooth as a lawn is the ground, marked here and there by small, flat markers.

Now we will drive through other beautiful parks. Get out and walk to the high banks and look awhile at the lazy Mississippi. We will climb the high steps to the park near the busy streets overlooking the river where the Yankee gunboats came down and captured Memphis, early in the war. Old guns and cannon balls are in the park. We watch a big barge steam down the river loaded with coal, walk on the old cobble stone street to the river, laid by hands long ago. We still step inside the Gayosa hotel lobby where Gen. Forrest rode his spirited horse that morning so long ago and the Northern officers hurried out the back in their night shirts.

Here is Beal street. We will walk down it for a ways, look in the windows of pawn shops where we see many queer things pawned. This is the noted negro street in Memphis. But the time has come when I must leave my son's home and my chair under the tall trees. Leave the sweet little girl and the darling, brown-eyed boy, tell my son and his wife good bye, their dear faces seen through my tears. My suit cases made heavier by the rocks from historic places, and the big yellow bus pulls out for Texas.

Texarkana—Supper at a cafe and on to Fort Worth. Too dark to see the country, we sing. The old gentleman of eighty tells of leaving his suit case when he got off in Tennessee. But that never ruined his visit.

Clear Fork of Brazos—down and up more up than down roars the bus, held firm in the capable hands of Barney McDuff. Chaparral and the road looking like a long, black snake whip. Aspermont—Mr. Pugh gets off, sees he has other man's suit case. We all laugh, glad of course that we did not lose ours—trees hover close to the ground like a broody hen. (In Tennessee I asked a negro what kind of low trees grew along the road. He said, "Miss they is only scrubbage after seeing the tall one in Arkansas and Tennessee.")

The smell of oil, old model T—a church on a high hill miles away etched against the pale yellow sky of a descending sun. Tiny, yellow sunflowers, a blaze of gold. A delightful fragrance fills the air—the sand is covered with white flowers that look like snow in the gathering twilight. Afton—a cafe built like a high coffee pot. Spur—faster and faster the bus speeds on, the vibration making us feel like goose flesh.

Signs of rain near Dickens. We begin to wonder if it has rained at home. The cap rock—a dar, purple bank against the bluish white sky where a star is shining. Here the plains is clearly defined and there, softly rounded. A clank of a windmill comes to us on the soft breeze down a long hill. The bus pants and pulls up the long hill and we clap our hands as we yell, "hurrah for the plains."

Next year, when the bus is tuned up again, and the water keg is filled, we will be ready to go again.

The report of my trip would be incomplete without the mention of meeting Rev. and Mrs. Lowell B. Council of Water Valley, Kentucky. He is the Methodist minister there. Never have I gotten a nicer compliment than the one Mrs. Council gave me.

I will tell you, that she is one of the most attractive women that I have ever met. I hope it is possible that we meet again.

There was a rock from Minor Hill, Tennessee given me by Ernest McCormick. A. C. Moyer brought one from Virginia. John McDuff, one from Middlesburg, Tennessee. When I reached home I found about 50 rocks brought me by Mr. and Mrs.

For lack of space I will copy from my notes made while the bus roared on. We cross the Harahan bridge into Arkansas, see the little cabins with whitewashed fronts on tall stilts in the cotton fields. Rice fields looking like clear green grass in the sun, a train load of high oak logs, trucks, laden with new lumber. People fishing, house-boats on the St. Francis river and a sign: Hot fish, Country Ham.

Sinclair—and broad, level, rice, sorghum, oen fields and soy beans. Good houses in the country. A saddled mule is seen under a tree where a negro man cuts another's hair. A Dutch farm, new log houses. A house with green roof and orange gutters.

Trees are showing advance, fall styles. A sourwood dressed in red marched with a stately pine in dark green; Sycamores waved yellow fans, maples modeled crimson frocks and sumac flamed a scarlet and orange. Brown will be the best color for oaks. A sign 1717 miles to Los Angeles.

FLOYD COUNTY
14 YEARS AGO
When this edition was first published, the Floyd County newspaper was only 14 years old.

(Issue of September 10, 1925)

Formation of a new real estate agency for Floyd county was announced this week. The new concern is composed of A. C. Goen and J. C. Dickey, both property owners in this section. Mr. Goen and Mr. Dickey have been engaged in business here for a number of years and have wide acquaintance in Floydada and neighboring towns.

Planning Committee Makes Recommendations for Land Use In County's 3 Areas

One Of First Studies Will Be Phases Of Irrigation Problems

The Floyd County Land Use Planning committee has for the past 12 months made a survey of the county with the hope of finding the number of existing problems and to analyze this problem to the extent that useful recommendations can be made. These recommendations have been divided into three groups: (1) Problems which could be met immediately without any necessary financing; (2) Problems which need financial assistance and which the government agencies are able to advance money or help; (3) Recommendations which cover a long time period or educational whole farm adjustment.

Under recommendations in the group one class, farmers of the Plains soil area in the irrigation section found that one of their major problems was information on irrigation. The bulletin which has just been compiled lists the visiting of experiment stations and studying of experiment station records as a solution to one of their many problems. As a result of this, the Floyd County Land Use Planning committee has set Friday, September 8th, as Floyd County Field Day at the Lubbock Experiment station. Floyd county farmers are invited to visit the experiment station for the purpose of studying results of irrigation demonstrations which were conducted this year under the direction of Don Jones, superintendent of the experiment station. Floyd county farmers will arrive at the station at 10:00 a. m. The entire day will be devoted to the studying of irrigation. County Agricultural Agent, D. F. Bredthauer, states that arrangements have been made with the experiment station to go over all of the problems which confront the farmer engaged in this type of farming. Any one interested is invited to attend this Floyd County Field Day at the experiment station. Experiment stations of this area have always made farmers feel at home when visiting.

HOMEBUILDERS H. D. CLUB

"Measure the top of your dresser or dressing table and make scarfs to fit." Mrs. Floyd Fuqua told members of the Homebuilders Home Demonstration club when they met in the home of Mrs. Roy Curry, August 25.

"It is better to have the same amount of wood showing on all sides. If the scarf is made so either side can be used on the front it will wear more evenly. Straight lines and square corner designs are very good and the best decorative stitches are double hemstitching and Bermuda fagoting, cross stitch, simple Swedish waving, simple embroidery or plain whipped hems," the speaker said.

Mrs. Raymond Teeple president, presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. W. F. Weatherbe gave an interesting talk on "Seeing beauty in line and color."

Present were Mrs. Jewel Timin, Mrs. Raymond Jones and Mrs. Ernest Kendrick, guests; Mrs. D. D. Shipley, Mrs. Heard, Mrs. Elbert Parks, Mrs. A. W. Dunn, Mrs. Weatherbe, Mrs. Teeple, Mrs. E. W. Moore, Mrs. L. L. Clark, Mrs. Cates and the hostess.

Visitors at the meeting were Mrs. Buren Cates, Mrs. J. R. Archer and Miss Wilson. Members attending were Mrs. J. J. McKinney, Mrs. J. B. Bishop, Mrs. J. A. Hartzell, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. C. O. with 15/16 inch staple. The premium list totaled $28.15.

European War

The European war is beginning to be felt on the Plains almost by the time the headlines turned black on the papers announcing the various battles.

Wheat, probably is the best example of prices on the move. Last week at this time wheat was listed at 55 cents per bushel in Floydada. Wednesday the price was 75 cents per bushel and still on the climb. Many observers expect wheat to reach the dollar mark within 15 days while others, fearing that the war is a "freak" and may suddenly end, expect the price to begin falling off before that long. No matter what the speculation is on wheat the fact remains that it jumped 20 cents per bushel in 6 days.

Flour is taking corresponding jumps. It is reported that the flour mills have warned their wholesaler and retailers that as long as wheat is climbing in price, it will be necessary to hike the price of flour the corresponding amount.

Sugar is also feeling the war demand. Grocers said Wednesday that the 10 pound sack the farmer bought last week for 50c would now cost him at least 65c, representing a rise of $1.50 per hundred on sugar.

A number of farmers have bought 100 pound sacks of sugar in anticipation of further rise in prices.

Cream prices of last week were 16 cents and 18 cents, while this week the prices have gone to 20 cents for number 1 butterfat and 18 cents for number 2 butterfat.

Maize heads have climbed from $7.50 to $9 per ton to $10 to $11.50 per ton. Hogs on the market given this morning were also on the climb. Last week top hogs were priced at $6.15 per hundred while this week they are listed at $8 per hundred.

Your hardware men will tell you that iron and steel prices are also on the climb and that probably soon the price of their articles will be effected. In other words if steel prices continue to climb your plows will cost more, your metalware and implements will cost more. So even if the war is several thousand miles away, the South Plains people are feeling the effects of it.

Land Loan—

Breed with reference to the bank, officers, directors, and borrower's responsibility toward the welfare of the association. He stated that the entire burden reminded him of a log 40 or 50 feet long. He placed the bank at one end of the log, the officers and directors in the middle, and the stockholders at the other end, and drew an imaginary picture of what would happen if either of the responsible parties were to fail to cooperate with the system as a unit. He also pointed out what might be expected in the way of advancement if full cooperation is given by all parties concerned.

D. F. Bredthauer, county agent for Floyd county, addressed those present along the line of diversifying farming and stock raising, as well as soil conservation. He placed emphasis on two things: diversifying crops and livestock. This would provide more than one source from which borrowers will receive funds to be used in keeping their loans in current condition he said. With reference to soil conservation, he pointed out the fact that if proper care is taken of the farms in this respect, the borrowers would have something to show for their money when the loans have been paid in full.

Miss Wilson, home demonstration agent, made a very impressive talk along the line of food preservation. She especially emphasized the fact that if each family would become interested in reducing expenditures for food, that could be raised at home, funds will be saved from this source to be applied on loan payments.

Two Prizes Awarded

At the close of the program, the association awarded two prizes for the best talks made by those present on the subject "How I manage to keep my loan in current condition." This feature of the program proved to be very interesting because several borrowers made talks along this line. Mrs. E. C. Hayden and Mrs. W. H. Bethel of the Campbell community were awarded prizes. Mrs. Hayden won first place.

The noon-day luncheon was served by members of the Sand Hill, the Sunnyside, the Home Builders and the Center home demonstration clubs at the First Methodist church basement. Seventy federal land bank borrowers, 10 land bank commissioner borrowers and 51 visitors were served.

Session of the association were presided over by W. A. Cates, president, and W. M. Culwell led the group in patriotic songs at the opening meeting.

The association was organized in 1918. Besides Meredith and Breed, Jas. K. Green and R. O. Fields have served the association as secretaries. The meeting Saturday is considered one of the best of the long history of the association.

Whirlwinds—

shifted to center. Hinson and Fikes will more likely hold down the guard slots with Jones and Crawford doing more than a little relief work at that spot. The tackle will likely be handled by Goen and Turner but these positions are not settled by any means. E. L. Tyler looks like a cinch for one end with possibly Jack Craft at the other, however the end spot is wide open.

The backfield is equally uncertain but prospects seem to lean toward Goughly as one starter, and Lider, if he can dodge the injury jinx that has plagued him the past few seasons. The other two spots are wide open for all comers. Joe Rushing, a boy from Fairview, looks like a cinch for a backfield slot as soon as he collects some much needed experience. Gordon Patterson may play the other notch but Foster and several other good prospects may wreck any predictions that might be made now.

Although the material is better this year than in several seasons, the majority of it is green and will require much work before being turned loose in a conference battle. With three non-conference foes to be met and disposed of before the first conference tussle, it is likely that several of the green men will have enough experience to start the first conference game by the time it comes around.

Winter and Thomas have been stressing blocking and tackling during the past week. Several offensive plays have been given and run against a "second" string but most of the work has been on fundamentals. Goughly and Lider are likely to swap out on the signal calling duties. Lider and Tyler will be captains this year.

Slaton's Tigers will play the Whirlwinds on Wester Field on Friday night, September 15, to open the actual playing season. The Tigers are expected to have enough experienced men to defeat the Whirlwinds, since reports say that the Tigers have almost exactly the same men back that bounced the Winds 26 to 0 last year.

Season tickets for six home games will go on sale here this week-end. Walter Travis announced. Two of these games will be against Matarador and Paducah, either of which are favored to win the district title. Other teams to play here will be the Amarillo Yarnigans, Crosbyton and one other team and of course the first game with Slaton. Tickets will include admission and reserved seat.

Robt. A. Garrett returned last mid-week from Houston where he visited his mother, Mrs. J. G. Garrett, for several days while on a vacation trip.

YOU probably have just had your vacation, which was anything but that for your car. You drove it more miles in less time, and with less care, than usual. Hence it is likely the engine has more carbon in it... has less pep... is noisier... and less responsive.

So right now is the perfect time to try Phillips 66 Poly Gas, the high test, high energy, custom-tailored motor fuel, which costs nothing extra! You should feel that difference with your very first trial tankful—added power, pep, pick-up, and mileage.

Remember, the Phillips 66 Poly Gas you buy today isn't merely another Summer gasoline. It is actually a September gas, more accurately custom-tailored than any other gasoline. Matched and re-matched to the climate in your locality, every month in the year. And there is hardly a day in 365, when its high test rating and antiknock value are not unsurpassed in its field.

Why not find out the facts personally? Why not give your motor a chance to surprise you? September Phillips 66 Poly Gas is waiting for you now at every Orange and Black 66 Shield.

CENTER SCHOOL NEWS

The old school bell at Center had been silent for almost four months when it broke the silence again last Monday morning August 28th. As the boys and girls assembled that morning there were those missing who have joined the ranks of Floydada High school. Even though we miss them very much we are glad that they are taking higher steps in education. We as teachers and classmen at Center say, "Power to them."

There were those missing, however due to other causes that cut our enrollment just for a few days to about 85%. At present we have 100% enrollment and are getting the school spirit so well that we are all working quite studiously again.

In making our school entry adjustments we had a unanimous vote from the upper grades and high school that their classroom be changed to the east hall of the auditorium which was used as a classroom in those good old days. So that is where we are at present. Our reason for moving was that we might enjoy cooler conditions. Everybody seems to like the new arrangement fine.

A raid has already been made on the county circulating library by our school. The high school English students say that they had rather dispose of some of that required reading at the first of the year and not have to dread it later.

Our softball diamond has already been scalped and we think will be ready in a short while to play a mixed team of ball with any one who feels lucky.

We are grateful for the parents and visitors that were with us the opening day of school and we extend a hearty welcome to all who wish to visit our school.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Rainer and children will leave Friday on a vacation trip, visiting relatives in Dallas, Denton and Abilene. Mr. Rainer will also go on a fishing trip to Lake Brownwood.

McCOY, Sept. 4.—L. N. Dalmont of the Dalmont nurseries was an honored guest Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whorton. A bounteous dinner and a lovely birthday cake with 79 candles were presented to the honoree and guests at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Ewing and children and M. W. Whitlow were guests with Mr. Dalmont and the hosts. The afternoon was spent in singing, music and reminiscences of pioneer days.

Mr. Dalmont came to the Plains in 1900. Mr. Whitlow has been a resident of the county since 1889. Interesting, indeed are the tales of the pioneer.

U.S. EXPORTS OF WHEAT INCLUDING FLOUR

The United States is holding its usual share—about 20%—of the world export trade in wheat. During the drought years exports fell off, but in 1937 and 1938 United States exports were at 100,000,000 bushels or more. Since 1938 exports have been aided by the Federal Export program.

Mrs. Taylor and Mr. Taylor of the Almon community, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burrows and children of Lubbock were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sparks Sunday.

McCoy School Briefs

McCoy Midgets, both boys and girls played ball at Starkey Friday afternoon. Volleyball and softball were the attraction of the afternoon. The Midgets played hard and furious but lost both games to Forehand's hard trained youngsters. In the first five innings the juniors of Starkey were showing the whites of their eyes but McCoy soon lost out in the last two innings when J. C. Griggs and Sexton of Starkey woke up.

Edward Maxwell knocked a home run for McCoy bringing in three scores in the fourth inning.

The volleyball games were even more exciting. Starkey won first and third games, McCoy winning the second game. Lovetta Cummings was ill and her substitute was Carroll Johnston of the boy's team.

Starkey will play here Friday for a try in basketball and volleyball. We are becoming interested in the study of science. Pupils of all the grades are collecting specimens of insects, plants and other interesting things.

Mr. Staples took the pupils on a field trip Friday morning. The pupils enjoyed the trip immensely. Pupils who won the most points for specimens were Sammy and Terry Day, Lila Jo Smith and Jim Wilson. The school would appreciate it if you would send in all plant and insect freaks that would be an interesting study.

Liberty Breezes

The Liberty school started last week with 29 pupils present. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Price are the new teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Huckabee and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Gordon of Sterley. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huckabee and Mrs. W. A. Huckabee and Mrs. Oia Warren are visiting relatives in Johnson county.

EDUCATION

An education! Do you plan to get one? That is a question that is asked every young person this modern way. An education is something that has become vitally important to every individual. If a person is not a student, he feels ill-at-ease with his friends, because often times it is difficult for him to carry on an interesting conversation. Many boys and girls seem to forget about their education. Some of them even before they have finished high school, but the time has come when a young man or woman go into an office to secure a position, the first question that they are asked is "How much education do you have?"

So—boys and girls, study hard this year and make it the best one yet. Then when you get ready for college, it will be much easier to pass those difficult examinations.

Whirlwinds to win, come and back them.

We want to introduce to you our new pep sponsor, Miss Pauline McCarty, who so willingly takes the place of Miss Fouts. Here's to you, Miss McCarty. And we just could not get along without our other faithful sponsor, Miss Copeland. She's always there to help and guide us. We're sure we'll feel the same about Miss McCarty.

Our new Pep leaders are La Nell Harmon, who is completing her fourth year in the club, is president of the pep squad; Lila Lee Teal, who hails from Fairview, made a big headway in high school, and after being in the pep squad one year, is our vice-president; and Jane Clark, secretary and treasurer, will begin her third year in the pep club. Although they may look a trifle lazy, you should see them get wound up!

With our new yells and songs, we will yell from the depth of our hearts and sing to the top of our voices.

Well, so long until next Thursday. We'll be seeing you. P. S. Our club is open at all times for new members.

New Teachers Introduced To F. H. S.

Every year that rolls around, the students of F. H. S. look forward to the day when they can get a peep at the new teachers. Favorable opinions are being formed rapidly by the curious students, and this year we have three new teachers on exhibition.

Miss Pauline McCarty from Munday, is our new clothing and biology teacher. She is also one of the Pep Squad sponsors. She is a graduate of Texas Tech.

Miss Bert Ione Smith, a hometown girl, graduated from Floydada High school in 1935. She then attended Texas Tech for a year and one summer. She received her B. A. degree in speech and English from T. S. C. W. at Denton this summer.

H. G. Barber, who hails from Harrold, Texas, is the new agriculture teacher. Mr. Barber is a graduate of Texas A. and M. college, of Bryan. He has been teaching 13 years and this is his fifth year as a teacher of Agriculture.

Here's to the success of the new teachers of F. H. S. and may they always be one of us.

WHIRLING ALONG WITH THE WHIRLWINDS

Coach Odell Winter blew the whistle last Friday morning at 6 o'clock calling together the Floydada football squad of 1939. Twenty-eight boys reported for practice and have continued to do so to date. The present outlook of the team is very favorable. We have several lettermen left.

They are E. L. Tyler, George Linder, R. E. Golightly, Emmitt Hinson, Raymond Fickes and Dillon Patterson. We also have several new boys out. They are Joe Rushing, Bud DuBoise, and Doyle Walls of Fairview. From Sand Hill come J. W. Grigsby, Jimmy Peel, Jack Craft and Buzz Muncy. Other boys out are Carl Minor, James Johnston, Frank Jones, Benny Crawford, Gordon Patterson, Bruce Foster, Royce Turner, Norman Goen, Billy Henry, Robin Griffen, Ray Latham, Le Roy Chowning and Tommie Stanford.

Mr. Travis, Coach Winters Coach Thomas and the two captains of the Whirlwinds, E. L. Tyler and George Linder plan to attend the rules committee at Wichita Falls on September 10.

The football suits this year will be gray with a green trim.

Let's boost the Whirlwinds with all our might this year, and may they really go places with this swell line-up.

STUDENTS' VACATIONS

Joe Wilson of the freshman class spent his vacation in Lubbock with his brother. Joe made a round of all the parks, went through a lumber and steel plant and made a thorough examination of a broadcasting station. Altogether he said he had a swell time.

La Ferne Eubank, a soph, spent a week in Lubbock with her cousin. She saw several good shows then went on to Roaring Springs and spent a week with her sister. She went swimming, dancing and skating. Although she had a grand time she intends to go to New Mexico in the near future.

Toots Chawning of the junior class spent his vacation in Henrietta. He went big game hunting and when asked what he killed, he answered, "Nothing, they all got away."

Florence Lloyd, a sophomore, went to Cromwell, Oklahoma where she spent two days. Then she continued on to Springfield, Illinois. While there she enjoyed seeing the Illinois State Fair. From Springfield she went to Nebraska; then to Colby, Kansas. After spending a few days there she returned home.

Maxine Brownlow of the freshman class spent a month and a half in Paducah with her aunt where she went to several good shows and visited the park there.

REGISTRATION

The registration this year is satisfying, Mr. Travis stated. He said that there are conflicts in the schedule now, but he expects to correct these in order that the students can get subjects they want along with the required subjects.

So, far, only approximate numbers can be given as to the registration, because as yet, the exact number has not been determined. Mr. Travis said that approximately 400 students have enrolled in the high school, and approximately 500 in ward school.

With all the talents and working ability in FHS this year, we are expecting a very successful year.

INTRODUCING MR. TRAVIS

In order to express our deep appreciation for our grand superintendent, Walter Travis, we take this time and space to do so. Mr. Travis was the former county school superintendent. He worked on his M. A. degree this summer in Texas Tech.

Mr. Travis has shown wonderful working ability and we firmly believe he will make a swell superintendent.

As I See It

Bill Hams

Second World War

The second world war, so long predicted in the press and in various fiction magazines, is with us... a grim reality. The president has warned us not to "believe all we hear" and it is a wise suggestion and warning.

Both sides will use the United States as a dumping ground for its "atrocities" stories, its propaganda, its spies and its saboteurs. Each nation will raise its voice with horrifying stories of death and destruction and point to the enemy as the cause... the stories may in some cases be true, but generally we can be assured that if they are meant for American consumption that the details will be stretched and warped to make our sentiments favor the particular country from which they come.

Everyone knows who and what caused the war, who is to blame for it but let's not let our likes and dislikes push us into the European camp. The United States may be the country left to help reconstruct Europe after the war. We can do our bit just as well out of the conflict as in it...

Let's not judge the German people too harshly because it is doubtful that they want or even wanted war, but let us judge their rulers harshly and without mercy in our hearts.

Home Again

Ain't it good to be an American... no bombs to duck, no shells to shiek, no pounding of guns... and football just about one week away... boy, oh, boy.

Out on the limb I go, if Joe Rushing doesn't make one of the best backs in the district by the middle of the season I miss my guess. He is a hard worker, seems anxious to learn, and has the spirit as well as the physical requirements... all he lacks is experience, and that will come fast.

We see by the daily press that Thayne Amonett has finally been "discovered" by the scouts... again The Hesperian is a year ahead, we "discovered" Red way back in 1937 and have regretted it. Strange no one ever discovered Hill, we still think he is just as good.

Next December, barring accidents and injury, you will read about Tyler, Floydada high school, all-district end. Just watch the lad.

Lockney is just as likely to have two all-district guards as not this year and perhaps one all-district back.

Of course Matador and Paducah will hog the district honors with their experienced elevens.

Coach Leo Cooper, brainmaster of football at Lockney, is having a lot of trouble filling a couple of open dates, everyone seems to think that Lockney is still a boogier after winning the district last year.

To whom it may concern: Lockney lost almost her complete first string from last year and some dependable subs and is having to start from scratch this year... the Longhorns won't be too tough until the middle of October, then watch out.

Extra Special Edition

While the daily papers are getting out extra after extra on the war in Europe, The Hesperian, not to be outdone, will get out next Thursday an extra special edition on the football war just about to begin in district 4-A.

The edition will cover in detail, we hope, the various armies on the District 4-A front, strength, weight, etc., as well as schedules. Also the edition will cover the front from the far distant Southwestern conference to nearby Texas Tech and the proposed fistic warfare twix Baer and Ritchie.

This big battle extra will be available on the news stands on Thursday afternoon or you will get a copy from your postman, postpaid.

The edition will also include the pictures of Floydada and Lockney football teams as well as outstanding players from Baylor, Texas Tech, TCU and other schools. Don't miss your copy.

"ANY LAWYER WILL TELL YOU THIS" Make your strongest argument on the points your jury knows best and will see quickest.

Our jury knows "Made-to-Measure" clothing wear longer and fit better. No need to use energies explaining cloth values.

WE HAVE SUCCEEDED in purchasing sixty pairs, uncalled for, made to measure trousers. Not a pair sold for less than $7 and on up to $11. We won't sell a pair for more than $5.50. Sizes 28 to 36 waist.

A nice shipment of boys suits coming in today at $11 to $22.50 with 2 pants. Men's clothing in stock and "Made to Measure" you'll like.
