Spring Clean Up Dates Are Set For City

City-Wide Clean Up Planned For April 22 To May 1 By Committee

Clean Up dates this spring in Floydada will be April 22-May 1, a period that will cover nine working days and embrace one Sunday.

Conclusion that these dates would be better than the dates March 31-April 7, as planned by down-state civic organizations and proclaimed by the governor, was arrived at in a meeting Tuesday afternoon at which practically every civic organization in the community was represented as well as the City of Floydada.

Mrs. Lon M. Davis will be the generalissimo of this year's campaign. At the meeting of the civic workers Tuesday she urged that preparations be made to make the annual clean-up a thorough one.

Mayor Glad Snodgrass yesterday pointed out that the decision of the local civic workers to set a later date for the spring clean up than was proclaimed by the governor was dictated in most of the state, was dictated largely by seasonal conditions. "Our spring comes much later than the spring down-state, and it was the unanimous decision of those present at the meeting Tuesday that the later date would not only give more time for organization but would also make a better clean-up job possible," said the mayor.

"We can't have the biggest city on the plains but we can have a clean one," she declared in discussion of the plans for the campaign. Help was pledged by all of those present and many suggestions were talked over.

Campaign leaders will include representatives named by various organizations as well as others named by the chairman. They will include the following:

Churches of City To Hold Sunrise Services Sunday

Floydada churches will join on Easter Sunday morning in a sunrise service at the First Christian church. The joint devotional services will begin at six o'clock on Sunday morning.

Opening the service will be a musical prelude, "Open My Eyes," followed by a hymn sung by the congregation, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name."

Next will come the Litany of Intercession and Praise of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, led by Pierce King. Rev. J. B. Reynolds, pastor of the First Methodist church will deliver the scripture reading from John 20:1-20.

The violin choir, conducted by Mrs. Pearl Fagan, will play during a brief meditation period, and Rev. Gordon Voight, minister of the First Christian church, will lead the pastoral prayer.

The Easter Message will be delivered by Rev. Vernon Shaw, pastor of the First Baptist church, and the adoration hymn, "Crown Him with Many Crowns," will be sung by the congregation.

As the postlude, "Open My Eyes," is played at the close of the service, the congregation will retire from the church following the ministers.

Members of all churches are extended an invitation to attend the sunrise service Easter morning. The various churches of the city will conduct regular Easter Sunday services at the usual hours.

Floyd County Young Demos Organize Friday Night And Send Delegates To Amarillo

Young Democrats of Floyd county met and organized Friday night, electing Walter Travis, superintendent of the Floydada public schools, as first president of the club.

The meeting was held in the county courtroom. Homer Steen, Floyd County Democratic chairman, was elected temporary chairman of the meeting and conducted the business of organization.

Richard Stovall was elected as first vice president, Clint Wakefield as second vice president, and Clement B. McDonald as secretary-treasurer of the organization. Named on the executive committee were Fred Hall of Lockney, Curtis Gilliam, Winfred Newsome and Cecil Hagood of Floydada, and County Attorney John Stapleton.

Twelve charter members were listed Friday night, and applications from several others, unable to be present, were read by the chairman. Membership in the organization is open to any person in the county who can qualify as a member of the Democratic party, and the club is inviting membership to build up a representative organization in this section.

Application for charter was formally presented by Walter Travis to Calvin Hazlewood, president of the West Texas Young Democrats club, at the regional convention in Amarillo Saturday morning.

The county chairman, in opening the meeting Friday night, expressed his pleasure that the young people had taken the initiative in perfecting a Young Democrat's organization in Floyd county. "The Democratic Party," he told the group, "has been worth a great deal to the nation... that is, its ideals have. If the older Democrats," he concluded, "have any ideals worth passing on, the young Democrats had better be getting them under their skin."

Floydada Whirlwinds Win First Track Meet Of Year At Ralls Friday Afternoon

Floydada's Whirlwind track team, paced by George Fry Luder who, single handed accounted for five first places, swept a dual meet with Ralls on the Ralls track Thursday afternoon to win on points 95 to 42.

The meet was the first competition of the season for both teams. Feature event of the evening was a surprisingly fast mile paced by Gordon Patterson in 4 minutes, 55 seconds. Patterson, running the distance for the first time this year, took the race easily after passing Ralls, Travis Brents midway in the third quarter and came in on the stretch with plenty of reserve to win by several yards. Joe Rushing placed third, running several yards behind the leaders.

George Fry Luder turned into a one-man whirlwind Thursday afternoon to capture first place in the shot put at 36 feet, in the broad jump at 18 feet, 2 inches, in the 220 yard dash at 23.6 seconds, and in the discus at 99 feet, 4 inches, and ran a dead heat with McCandless of Ralls in the 100 yard dash for a tie for first place.

Coach Bill McWilliams of Ralls, holding the watch on the century, failed in the excitement of a photo finish to catch the time on the race, but track officials agreed that the pair had covered the distance at a near ten second pace.

In the final event of the afternoon, Joe Rushing, tossing the javelin for the first time in his track career, won first place with a heave of 131 feet, 6 inches. The javelin throw is not carded on interscholastic league events in the county, and members of the Whirlwind team had their first fling at the spear Thursday. Luder won third place (See WHIRLWINDS WIN page 5)

Starkey and Dougherty will play for the 7th grade girls division title at the same hour.

In the 9th grade division, the girls will begin play at 9 o'clock on the high school grounds, with Sterley meeting Aiken, Cedar Hill playing Sand Hill, Irick playing Liberty, and Providence, drawing a bye in the first round meeting the winner of the Sterley-Aiken game.

In the 9th grade boys division, Sand Hill and Sterley, Liberty and Irick, Providence and Edgin, and Lakeview and Fairview are paired for first round games, with Aiken, drawing the bye in the first round, meeting the winner of the Liberty-Irick tussle at 11 o'clock.

J. R. Brewer Gravely Ill At Electra Home

J. R. Brewer, of Electra, widely known in this county, is gravely ill at his home in that city, news from relatives this week indicates.

Mr. Brewer suffered a stroke Saturday that was not thought serious. However, two daughters, Mrs. A. N. Bratton and Mrs. Lee Trice, of this city, went to Electra to be with him Saturday night, accompanied by Mr. Trice. Mrs. John Haney, another daughter, joined them there Tuesday when it became apparent that Mr. Brewer's condition had become more alarming.

Late reports of the patient's condition have not been encouraging.

Ima Lee Graham Selected As First Gold Star 4-H Club Girl In Floyd County

Ima Lee Graham, Sand Hill 4-H club girl, has been selected as Floyd county's first Gold Star girl. Miss Edith L. Wilson, county home demonstration agent, announced this week.

The Sand Hill club girl was selected for the honor from among nine candidates picked by their fellow-club members as the outstanding members of each of the nine 4-H clubs in this county. Other candidates were Johnnie Faye Butch of Providence, Jackie Daniel of South Plains, La Nell Griffith of Lone Star, Florine Hamm of Dougherty, Jo Ann Clements of Aiken, Virginia Marie Robbs of Sterley, Inell Brotherton of Lockney and Janet Reddy of Starkey.

Each county in the state is allowed to select one girl each year for the honor, Miss Wilson pointed out. This is the first year that the selection has been made in this county.

Gold Star girls are selected for outstanding club work accomplished during the year. Members of the Education Committee of the county H. D. council, Mrs. W. B. Jordan of Center, Mrs. Will Poole of Antelope, and Mrs. A. B. Muncy of Pleasant Valley, made the final decision.

I made two luncheon cloths with napkins to match, tied and dyed them a rust color; and also a scarf to be used on the sewing machine. Then I embroidered two dresser scarfs and made a scarf to wear on my head.

State Board Grants Soil Dist. Plea

Board Authorizes Creation Of Floyd County District In Session Monday

Completing final canvass of returns from a county-wide election held here a week ago Saturday, the State Soil Conservation board, meeting Monday at Temple, announced the creation of a State Soil Conservation district embracing all of Floyd county's nearly half-million acres.

Considerable doubt had been raised here as to the probability that a district would be designated, due to the small number of votes cast in the referendum (270 out of an estimated 1200 eligible voters) and the fact that the measure reached the necessary two-thirds majority by the narrow margin of a single vote. One hundred and 81 ballots favored the proposal, 89 were opposed. The figures were officially confirmed by the state board this week.

Floyd county was one of 16 districts created by the board's action Monday, and was the only one in this section of the state. The measure failed to carry in a proposed Dawson-Lynn county district, as well as in Bailey and Lamb counties, where recent elections were held.

County Agent and Mrs. D. F. Bredthauer and Fred Battey, Bernie Johnston and Paul Snodgrass, members of the county ACA committee, left Floydada early Tuesday morning for College Station, and planned to stop at Temple Tuesday afternoon to confer with members of the state board in regard to the local district.

The local delegation was en route to College Station where they were scheduled to confer with the State AAA committee Wednesday in regard to an increased cotton acreage allotment for Floyd county under the 1940 AAA program. They planned to return here today (Thursday). Delegations from several other counties in this area were to meet with the state board at the same time.

With the designation of a district in this county, hopes for the establishment of a CCC camp in Floyd county were raised considerably. County Judge G. C. Tubbs said Wednesday morning that all local civic organizations urging the establishment of a camp here were renewing their appeals to H. H. Finnell, director of the SCS in the Panhandle area, on the strength of the soil district.

In that connection, the following statements released by Finnell this week may shed some light on the subject: "Texas farmers considering the formation of soil conservation districts under provisions of the state (See SOIL DISTRICT page 5)

Four Youths Held In Jail Here On Forgery Charges

Four Portales young people, arrested here Saturday night and charged with forgery, were held in Floyd county jail this week pending action of the grand jury, while additional charges were being filed by New Mexico police in that state.

W. A. Deatherage, 18, Jack Walters, 19, Helen Crouch, 17, and Ruth Welch (alias Ruth Gary) 18, all of Portales, were arrested Saturday night after three local merchants had complained to Sheriff Fred Clark that members of the quartet had passed checks believed to be forgeries bearing the signature of Luther Dorrell.

The two girls were arrested here by Sheriff Fred Clark, Deputy sheriff Walter Hollums, and city marshal Morgan Wright, and their companions, after fleeing from the city, were arrested a short time later by officers at Plainview and returned to the local jail.

Both students made an average grade of A- for the semester.

Every day during the past year, thanks to some real cooperation between teachers, parents, business men, the federal government and the youngsters themselves, some 200 children at Andrews Ward school have been served hot lunches in the school cafeteria.

For the most part the lunches have been served to the children free of charge. Now they are served at a nominal charge of ten cents to those who can pay, and at no charge whatever to those who cannot. Of Andrews ward's 400 children, an average of 200, or 50 percent of the enrollment, have been served every day.

The cafeteria was started last year by the Parent-Teacher association, and Miss Fannie Mae Rees was in charge. This year, the cafeteria is under the direction of Mrs. Elva Sharp, Miss Beryl Busby, third grade teacher, is dietitian, and Miss Margie Norton, secretary of the PTA, is business manager. All teachers at the Ward school are cooperating in putting over the cafeteria plan, and most of them take their meals there regularly with the children.

The meals are good, too. A Hesperian reporter, on a visit to the cafeteria last Monday noon, saw more than 200 smiling youngsters pass around the counter to have their plates filled with hot smothered steak, mashed potatoes and vegetables, and hot biscuit with pudding for dessert and a big cup of whole milk... or was it hot chocolate? The hot drink is provided on cold days.

Supt. Walter Travis, who keeps a paternal eye on the cafeteria, proudly demonstrated a home-made dish sterilizer, one large tub punched like a sieve and fitted inside a still larger one, where all dishes are thoroughly sterilized and dried, untouched by hands.

Hung Jury Ends Cardinal Case In District Court

A special term of District court closed Wednesday afternoon after a jury hearing the land dispute case between R. Cardinal vs. Louis Cardinal failed to reach an agreement after several hours deliberation.

Testimony in the case, which opened Monday morning, was closed late Tuesday and evidence was turned over to the jury. Jurors were dismissed Wednesday afternoon after failing to agree on a verdict, and, though official confirmation was lacking, reports stated that principals were attempting to reach a settlement out of court.

District Judge Alton B. Chapman had called a special session of District court to hear the trial. On the jury were B. M. Higgins, L. E. Crabtree, R. E. Young, J. B. Smithman, John Stalcup, W. L. Craft, D. D. Tate, Don Davis, J. W. Huey, C. B. Sims, Claud Patton, and Frank Busby.

County court, which also opened Monday morning, was idle most of the week. A suit on note instituted by the First National bank of Floydada against W. C. Trowbridge was closed with judgment for the plaintiff by default in amount of $219.54. The court also found existence of an attachment lien on the real estate. The case was called Tuesday before County Judge G. C. Tubbs.

A suit for damages to land filed by Solon Clements against Floyd county which was brought up for hearing at the last term of court and ended in a mistrial at the illness of a juror, is scheduled for trial at the current term, but the date of hearing has not been set on the docket.

EDITORIALS

ANNIVERSARY EDITION. — The Hesperian is planning an anniversary edition which it is hoped will be worthy of the history and traditions of the county's first fifty years. This edition will be published on or near the date of the county's birthday on May 28. While much valuable historical data may, and doubtless will, be omitted from the issue, we expect to make it one that will tell the story of the county's progress in word and picture. The exact number of copies that will be made has not as yet been determined, but there will be a limit set weeks before the date of issue and now would be a good time to enter your order for copies in advance. The price will be 15 cents per copy. You will receive your copy, of course, as a subscriber, but you will want to send them to friends or file them for future use and reference.

Recent announcement that Texas pine fibre is being manufactured from stumps and trees of the deep east end of the state has made a deep impression in the paper making industry, which, by the way, is a big industry in the United States. In the first place it opens up possibilities for the United States to be free of the need to import pulp and in the second it moves the center of probabilities for development from the east and north to the south.

When Dr. Herty finally solved the problem of how to make paper from southern pine he hurdled difficulties that had baffled paper makers for years, and made southern pine forests worth immeasurable millions more. Another fine feather in the cap of the scientist and research worker. However, solution of one problem brings on another in succession. And now paper makers would like to know how to separate the long fibres from the short ones in southern pine pulp. If they had a process or a machine that somehow would throw the long fibres in one vat and the short ones in another, after the pulp has been ground, they could "go to town" with pine pulp in numerous types of white or finished bond papers.

The long and short fibres in pine trees are due to the widely varying growing seasons of the Texas forest area. Thus, an early spring and a late fall, uncommon in the northern forests, mean a long growing season and a consequent long layer of fibres. The next season may be short, or there may be a characteristic Texas drought. Then you have a layer of short fibres. And a job of un-mixing for some ingenious mind to work out. Incidentally southern pine is making up into better looking sheets of certain kinds than their northern competition and the cost of production, for various reasons, is said to be lower.

From southern pine forests to West Texas swine is not a far jump for the imagination of a country printer. We note that farmers of the plains area are marketing their fine sows by the hundreds and, if you cover enough territory, by the thousands. This means one thing, namely, that right now the swine industry is sick and instead of raising a lot of pigs to market this spring and fall the average man is keeping only enough stock to get back into swine production when the markets get right again. Even piggy shoats are going through the buyer's hand and off to market. You can't make money out of five dollar hogs, they say, even when you raise your own feeds.

Feeding hogs is an easier job than it used to be, that is where you have prepared for the job. Whereas you used to feed two times a day and water accordingly, now you put the feed in hoppers and let the hogs feed themselves. Contrary to opinion hogs have small stomachs and need to eat often. You take advantage of the fact that a hog learns to open the hopper and feed himself. And thus fill the hoppers once a week instead of filling the slop trough twice a day.

Speaking of hogs and hog-feeders, they say a hog will learn in ten minutes how to work the combination on the self feeder, proving that a part of the myth about a hog having no sense is not correct. It doesn't take long for a porker that has been used to meeting the man animal at the fence, squealing to high heaven, to learn to eat from the self-feeder as he hungers. And shortly thereafter the man who passes through the pen gets no more attention than any other animal. Automatic water troughs are also used in some of the more snooty hog pens.

The resolution from the Democratic county chairmen at Amarillo last Saturday asking for a change in the assessment law for state and district candidates should have serious consideration. State candidates now pay the state committee $100 and no more, all of which goes to the state organization and none of which is used to help defray expenses of the local election. The proposed change would assess $750 against each state candidate and allot $640 of this amount to the counties' respective primary budgets to help the home guard pay the huge election bill. A similar condition as regards district candidates should be remedied also. To illustrate, a candidate for district judge or district attorney in the 110th district pays a total of $1 in Floyd county for helping hold the election. A total assessment of $100 would not be amiss in this instance. Not to take a dig at the district or state aspirants but merely to have them do more toward helping pay the bill.

The power of a man increases steadily by continuance in one direction.—Emerson.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Spikes

Idly I sat in the car and looked around the horizon while my husband was making a trade. An unexpected vision caught my eyes. I rubbed them to be sure I was not dreaming. To the northwest was an ocean, blue waves rippling in the yellow sunshine, and out in the distance was an inhabited island. I saw the house, the trees the point of land that ran sloping down to the deep water. Here and there over the waves were tall stately ships, sailing along with masts pointing to the blue sky above. Smaller boats rocking on the waves. In the west there was another island rising out of the shimmering sea, tall trees shaded white houses.

This was not a dream. I was looking at the ocean of the Plains called mirage distant windmills made stately ships and small boats. Seems like country people have to run to town as often in a week as they once did in a year. Three times last week we had to go, twice in one day. While on the road to town, we remembered when we were first married and went to Floydada in a wagon. We had a buggy, but it would not hold a load and things had to be bought in large quantities to last from one trip to another. The sun was hot that long ago day, my hat scarcely shaded my warm face. The road ran through a lake that had some water in it. Somehow my husband decided to go through the water, he slapped the horses and mud and water began to splash on my Sunday hat and Sunday face. Tears of anger and aggravation ran down my dirty face as my husband roared with laughter. Then we made the trip in a Spaulding hack, which now rests with dignity and honor in the Museum at Texas Tech.

I met Mrs. Poole and Mrs. Caffee in town last week. They promised some socks for the fence.

Mrs. Hale and I had a pleasant visit together.

Friday we went to Petersburg to see a tractor demonstration. As we left home all the world around us was shades of brown under the blue bowl of the sky which here and there a moving tractor lending a spot of green or of red, as it quitted the brown earth into curves on parallel lines. Brown tree trunks rose from brown soil. Our road ran by a green wheatfield, where red white face cows grazed on the tender blades of the wheat. Then we saw the town of Petersburg. The wavering mirage blurred the pinks the greens, the whites and the blues into a mile of Dresden ribbon. Old Mother Earth seemed to have pinned the ribbon on her brown dress as if expecting company.

When we entered the town, the mirage had faded and the streets looked like a flower show was being held, but the flowers were gay reds, intense greens and flaunting orange tractors, and instead of women talking of posies, men talked of tractors, of power lifts and dual wheels.

How very thankful we should be I thought, to live in a land where men could take a holiday and talk of machinery to raise food for a nation, of cattle and even talk about the high officials if they chose, instead of speaking of guns and poison gas, and afraid to even whisper a thought to any one about how their country was ruled.

A few women stood in line with the men and reached in for delicious sandwiches, sugary doughnuts and a cup of good hot coffee. We applauded at the first picture show when men and boys boxed and fought and kicked and instead of watching with interest men and boys doing hard work with ease by the use of modern machinery.

But it was decidedly a man's day and we women felt like men must do at a woman's quilting party. Some notes made at demonstration. Did the tractor demonstration attract Bro. Wiley and Brother Ollie Apple, or was it the lunch? Mr. Ramsey said the town of Petersburg could not get along without him. Mr. Ramsey was very kind to see that I got acquainted in Petersburg.

I wonder how many husbands are startled when wife holds out gay pink under wear for them to put on? Moral, do not put a pink or blue garment in a washing machine with husband's prim white clothing.

The first words I ever heard over a radio. "President Wilson died this evening." The others in the room were laughing and talking as these sad words poured into my ears alone, as I sat with the receivers to my ears.

Signs of spring on the plains. A woman takes off the blankets one day, suns them and puts them away. The next night she gets them out again. The apricot tree is as eager as the people for spring, blooms, and her beauty becomes a shroud.

Rev. Armstrong and his wife, our daughter, Wilda were visitors Sunday afternoon. We enjoyed their visit very much.

A beautiful thought from the pen of Mrs. Charles Spurgeon. "Suddenly I heard a soft musical note, like the tender trill of a robin underneath my window. My friend said it came from the log on the fire. The fire was letting loose the imprisoned music from the old oak's insome heart! Perchance he had garnered up this song when all was well with him, when birds twittered merrily on his branches, and the soft sunlight flecked his tender leaves with gold. But he had grown old since then, and hardened; ring after ring of knotty growth had sealed up the long-forgotten melody until the fierce tongues of the flames came to consume his callousness, and the beheading heart of the fire wrung from his at once a song of sacrifice. Ah, thought I, when the fire of affliction draws songs of praise from us, then indeed we are purified and God is glorified! Perhaps some of us are like this old oak, cold, hard, bitter, insensible; we should give forth no melodious sounds, were it not for the fire that kindles around us, and releases sweet notes of trust in Him. As I mused the fire burned and my soul found sweet comfort in the parable so strangely set forth before me. Singing in the fire That is the only way to get harmony out of hard unathletic hearts."

Prayer for Easter
Helen Welshimer
The crosses of Golgotha
No longer wound the sky
With skeleton reminders
Of three who had to die
One afternoon in springtime
Long years have wiped away
The marks of blackened anguish
Upon a hill one day.

For there was no retaining
The Christ within a tomb.
He broke the weary fetters,
And now the lilies bloom
Triumphant on each altar
To show death leads to life...
Oh, we who walk the tired ways
Of sacrifice and strife.

We ask Thee, God, this Easter,
To break the binding clothes,
That hold our hearts imprisoned,
And as the Christ arose,
May we stand on Golgotha,
And find the crosses gone.
While lilies spread white carpets
To greet a fresh, sweet dawn.

HOW ONE WOMAN LOST 26 LBS. OF FAT
Fat Girls—Here's A Tip
NEW YORK—Special. In 40 days Mrs. Helga Blaugh reduced 26 lbs. Took 4 inches off hips, 3 inches off bust and 7½ inches off waist. Writes: "I feel fine and look 10 yrs. younger."

How would you like to safely and harmlessly lose 15 pounds of fat in a few weeks? How would you like to lose your double chin, your too prominent hips and abdomen and along with it get the increase in energy and improvement in health which so often accompanies excess fat reduction?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh. Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water first thing every morning to gently activate liver, bowels and kidneys. Cut down your caloric intake. Eat wisely and satisfyingly. Then after 30 days, weigh yourself again and just see if you haven't lost pounds of ugly fat. Refuse imitations. Demand and get the genuine Kruschen made right here in the U. S. A. A jar lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle. Money back if not joyfully satisfied. White's Drug Store. No. 2

Wake Lazy Insides All-Vegetable Way

Here's a laxative that generally acts thoroughly, but is a gentle persuader if used by simple directions. Take BLACK-DRAUGHT at bedtime. There's usually time for a good night's rest. Morning generally brings a thorough evacuation; relief for constipation's headaches, loginess. Try spicy, aromatic, all-vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. It's economical, too: 25 to 40 doses, 25c.

* FASHION PREVIEW *

Spring is bringing myriad surprises and pleasing effects for the fashion-wise. Among the nicest innovations are the silk prints that look like tweeds but lend the slender grace and smartness of a soft material. Perfect for an informal evening occasion or dinner dress is the silk in the picture. Its colors are yellow-green, brown and white, borrowed from a tropical Gauguin canvas for gayety and beauty.

Gold Star Girl

proved my bedroom by adding a dressing table which I made out of two orange crates. I used a board the same width as the crates for the top making my table about three feet long. I covered it with print, pleating it all the way around. I placed a large mirror on the wall over the table and made a bench out of an apple box, padding the top to make it soft and covering it with the same kind of print. I put a new bed, mattress and springs in my room. Also, I improved my closet by repapering and built a shelf. I made a shoe rack and a hat stand and added forty coat hangers. I painted a large baking powder can in which to keep woolen things. This one was large enough to hold my sweater and a pair of gloves. After my clothing demonstration I fixed a chair for my room. I used a cane bottom chair and covered it with print, pleating the print all around and made a cushion for the chair. Also I made a cover for the back. The Clothing Achievement was in June and the girls met at my home in the morning and looked at the things I had done. In the afternoon I had open house and the mothers visited my demonstration.

"Garden work and meal preparation was also included in my club work. From October until Christmas I prepared from one to three meals a day. I canned two quarts of beans, ten quarts of green beans, 12 quarts of black eyed peas, 6 quarts of peaches, 8 quarts of sour pickles, 3 quarts of corn and 42 quarts of English peas which made 43 quarts in all. Mother gave me some shelves in our cellar and I put green crepe paper on the shelves and labeled each can. I enjoyed my canning very much.

"I was chosen by my club to attend the Junior Short Course at A. & M. in July. Early in June I received a letter from Miss Onah Jacobs, State 4-H club agent, asking me to lead the recreation for two section meeting for the girls at the short course. Of course I was glad to do it. I selected the games and songs that I was to use before I left and I thought it was a lot of fun to get to do it.

"After hearing the girls tell what they had done it made me want to do more. While I was at the Short course I learned to make dresser scarfs, arrange pictures, make cold drinks, prepare good butter and arrange flowers. I am sure I have never had a better time.

"I have never belonged to anything I have enjoyed as much as I have my 4-H club work and mother says I have learned a great deal. I want to continue to be a 4-H girl and am willing to do everything I can to make my club work better."

room, hundreds of cans of vegetables canned from the cafeteria's own garden are stacked in neat rows. The garden has been a big item in keeping down expenses.

An acre of land was donated last summer by George McAllister. The plot is near his irrigation well, and plenty of water was supplied for the garden for the price of pumping.

In addition to the fresh vegetables served during the season, more than 3,000 cans of vegetables were put up for winter use.

Staples like flour and meal are provided by the surplus commodities division of the WPA and WPA workers prepare the meals under supervision. Each person working in the cafeteria is required to wear clean, neat aprons and a hair net. Every precaution is taken to keep food sanitary.

Teachers issue tickets each morning to all students who will patronize the cafeteria that noon, and food enough to serve the group is prepared. The youngsters, after being served, take their trays to their home rooms to eat, then return the dishes to the cafeteria.

Miss Louise Hyatt is spending this week in Crosbyton with her sister, Mrs. Dan Shaw and family while she recuperates from an attack of influenza.

Soil District

law enacted in 1939 should realize that they will get out of districts just about what they put into them, declares Finnell, regional conservator of the Soil Conservation service.

"Farmers who favor a soil conservation district only because they hope to get something free from federal or state agencies may be doomed to disappointment," the regional conservator states.

"Farmers who exert themselves to check soil erosion and to maintain the fertility of their land are the ones who should rightly expect all possible assistance from federal and state agencies. When groups of such farmers organize their own soil conservation district, they are in a position to request and receive available assistance from agencies that may be in a position to help in the solution of the district's problems."

Since 1935, Finnell pointed out, four CCC camps assigned to work with the Soil Conservation service in the Texas Panhandle have been assisting farmers cooperating in carrying out demonstrational programs of soil and water conservation practices.

These camps are located at Littlefield, Lamesa, Memphis and Perryton and work within a 25-mile radius.

"In keeping with the policy of the service, available CCC camps will be assigned to work with organized soil conservation districts where assistance can be given to the greatest number of interested farmers.

"In cooperating with districts, as during the demonstrational periods, CCC camp technicians will assist cooperating farmers in planning complete conservation programs on their land. Enrollees, as in the past, will assist farmers in building terraces, contour furrowing range land, construction of stock water dams, relocation and building of fences, and similar work. The cooperating farmer will furnish materials and make other appropriate contributions in carrying out the work program on his land.

Farmers in a soil conservation district sponsoring a WPA project will pay 25 per cent of the cost of the work which may include cash, materials, supplies, equipment or other contributions, it is explained.

"While farmers may obtain such assistance through the organization of soil conservation districts, they should remember that the program is their responsibility and that the success attained in the application of soil and water conservation practices on their land will be measured in direct proportion to their own initiative in carrying out the program," the regional conservator declared.

ACA Committees In Meeting Last Week

Members of the community and county ACA committees met at the courthouse in a two-day session last Tuesday and Wednesday to discuss the 1940 Texas handbook of AAA regulations.

A new feature of the program this year is a farm plan sheet for each co-operating farm in the county. These will be executed in the county office as soon as crop yield and index of general allotments are set, according to Alice A. Hoots, secretary of the county ACA.

Soil building payments are being stressed this year along with the conservation payments, Hoots said, and the plan sheets are expected to help the producer better understand his farm.

Members of the Commissioners court and County Judge G. C. Tubbs will be asked to lend assistance in the campaign.

A second meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon of next week, beginning at 1:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce office, when early activities will be reviewed and further survey will be made to determine the extent of city-wide clean-up activities needing to be done and what results are in prospect for the current undertaking.

That some seriously bad conditions prevail in some quarters was revealed in the meeting. These areas, representing actual menace to health, are most unsightly as well. Strong effort will be made to eliminate these disease breeding spots by whatever means possible, it was indicated.

Clark said the quartet would probably be held here to await action of the grand jury at the May term of district court, since there was little likelihood that they would be tried at the special term which is now in session.

All of the merchandise purchased with the bogus checks from local merchants, and all but approximately ten dollars of the cash, was recovered, Clark stated.

'Grapes of Wrath' At Palace Sunday And Monday Next

"The Grapes of Wrath," John Steinbeck's stirring best-seller, will be shown on the screen on Sunday at the Palace Theatre on Sunday and Monday next, it was announced this week by Jack Deakins, manager of Floydada. A preview of the production will be given Saturday mid-night.

Under the direction of Academy Award Winner John Ford, the stirring human adventures of the Joad family are reported to have been brought to the screen with all the power, drive and humor that characterized the book.

To insure absolute fidelity to the original story, Associate Producer Nunnally Johnson, who wrote the screen play, conferred with Steinbeck over the completed script. Steinbeck heartily applauded Johnson's work and expressed particular pleasure that all the humor of the original story had been kept intact in the picture.

Careful Casting

Casting for "The Grapes of Wrath" was undertaken by Zanuck with exceeding care. Emphasis was placed not only on the resemblance of the actors to the characters as described by Steinbeck but the mood and humor of the Joads was also taken into consideration.

Henry Fonda, whose portrayals of humble, real people have won him plaudits in the past, stepped naturally into the shoes of dogged, fighting Tom Joad. That uncountable woman of the soil, Ma Joad, who battled to hold her homeless family together was found in the person of Jane Darwell. Lanky, tall John Carradine became Casey, the courageous, crusading preacher. Grampa, that tough, cantankerous old man, took form in Charley Grapewin. JACK FORTENBERRY OFFERS FOR COMMISSIONER IN DEAF SMITH COUNTY PRECINCT

Jack Fortenberry, a former resident of Floyd county who moved to Hereford several years ago, is a candidate for commissioner in that county this year, a note from Judge Wm. McGehee, of Hereford, said this week.

Judge McGehee, himself a former resident of this county and county judge here, has known the Fortenberry's forty years or more and "kidded" Jack a bit in a note attached to a subscription renewal. Says the judge:

"So far as I know the former residents of Floyd county that have emigrated to Deaf Smith county are doing very well except Jack Fortenberry. A politician bug bit Jack a couple of months ago with the result that he is making the race in the primary for county commissioner. His precinct embraces just half of the county with about 135 voters. We are not expecting Jack to be any better until after the votes are counted and maybe not then."

Judge McGehee is planning to journey back home to Floyd county on May 28 for the annual Pioneers' Re-Union.

Mrs. Ada Whiteside of Dallas is spending this week visiting with her daughter, Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson and Mr. Wilkinson. She will return to her home the last of the week.

tury-Fox scout, won the role which every young actress in Hollywood coveted, that of Rosasharn.

Realism Emphasized

To get the deep human realism he wanted, Director John Ford banned all make-up for "The Grapes of Wrath." He instructed Owen Waking, famed Hollywood designer who was assigned to costume the picture, to issue only old and authentic "Okie" clothing to the players. The result was that the second-hand shops and rummage sales of Hollywood and Los Angeles were combed for battered shoes, frayed dungarees, yellowed calico and ancient Mother Hubbards.

LOCKNEY FIRE BOYS ARE BURNED UP BUT THEY'VE GOT NOTHING ON HARVE

LOCKNEY, March 20.—Lockney firemen are "burned up" over this... but so is Hugh Roberson's garage.

It all started Tuesday morning when Mrs. Roberson lit a trash fire and the trash fire lit the Roberson garage. Mrs. R. immediately rushed to the phone to summon the fire department. The big fire siren failed to work, and the operator notified Harvey Pennington, owner of the Ford garage where the department's fire fighting apparatus is stored.

Harve rose immediately to the occasion, trundled out the "little red wagon" and raced up and down main street with the siren on the truck open wide in an effort to attract volunteers. The volunteers, however, knowing Harve's penchant for practical joking, refused to be attracted; and Pennington was forced to go to the fire alone. By that time the garage was just a good site for a barbecue and the party was over.

Garden Club Carries On Constructive Work

Immediate Objectives Of Women's Group Is Clean Up And Beautifying Parks, Lions Told

Mrs. Wilson Kimble and Mrs. G. V. Smith, members of Floydada Garden club, Tuesday expressed the belief that a garden club has opportunity for service to a community above that of any other civic organization of which they know.

They appeared on the program at the Lions club and told of some of their club's objectives for this year, as well as gave some of their past accomplishments. Right now their two principal thoughts in the Garden club are the clean-up campaign for the city and the furtherance of a park program—a place for children of the community to picnic and to play. The club annually sponsors a flower show in the fall, and at this time is working on plans for beautifying grounds at the highway wye in southwest Floydada and are planning their campaign for a prettier and more useful City Tabernacle park.

Miss Elizabeth Caldwell sang for the group. L. W. Chapman presented the program. At his suggestion the club chairman appointed a committee to confer with city officials in an effort to get a more abundant water supply at a figure which would permit most generous use of water for lawns and flower gardens and for shade trees. Eddie Williams, Dr. G. V. Smith, J. C. Gilliam and others discussed the subject. One point of view presented was that the city council be urged to make every effort for a cheaper water supply and make it available for the residents. Eddie Williams, L. W. Chapman, and W. R. Simon were named on a committee to confer with the city council on the matter. "We do not know what the council can do but we do know what the citizens need, which is cheaper water so the average man can improve and beautify his premises at a cost that is not prohibitive," said Eddie Williams in his discussion. Many shade trees are lost during the heat of the summer every year, he declared, because owners of property find themselves unable to pay the bills for water.

Attending the affair were Leila Faye Hicks, Lovelle Ginn, Margaret Camden, Topsy Dudley, Doneice Cline, Wanda Withers, Billie Johnston, Eugenia Martin, Margaret Conner, Frances Ruth Garrett, Joy Cardwell, Mary Frances Jones, Berle Bishop, J. L. Nichols, Buddy Norman, Archie Muncy, D. I. Bolding, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Duncan, leaders.

The Sepulchre: Triumph Over Death
Golden Text: "Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits that slept." (1 Cor. 15:20)

Lesson Text: Matt. 27:37; 28:6
57 When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple.

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.

59 And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth.

60 And laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock; and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 Now the next day, that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate.

63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, After three days, I will rise again.

64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead; so the last error shall be worse than the first.

65 Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch; go your way, make it as sure as ye can.

66 So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

Chapter 28—
In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow;

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and become as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

6 He is not here: for he is risen as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

7 We have studied about Jesus in Gethsemane—His triumph through surrender; about Him on the cross—His triumph through sacrifice; and today we study about Him in the grave and coming out of the grave—His triumph over death.

Jesus truly died, but as Son of God, he could not stay dead. Sin made it necessary for Him to die, and His death made it necessary for Him to rise again. "Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us" (Gal. 3:13).

"As children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same, that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil" (Heb. 2:14).

Satan did his worst at the cross, but there he received his death blow. "The blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin" (1 John 1:7b).

"He is the propitiation for our sins" (1 John 2:2). "The believer in Christ is under the blood, and Satan's power to claim such is at an end when one is saved through faith in Christ."

Postmaster Smith Reappointed For Life At City P. O.

On January 20, 1940, Mrs. Barbara H. Smith was reappointed postmaster at Floydada for life, under present law. The new law also places all postmasters under Civil Service.

Mrs. Smith's commission, mailed to her the last of February, authorized her to take over the post office at earliest practicable date and she entered upon her new term March 1, 1940.

During the years that Mrs. Smith has served as postmaster, the following additional service has been given Floydada patrons:

Until last year Floydada postoffice had only one regular city carrier and an auxiliary carrier who served 5 1/2 hours daily. On August 24, 1939, two regular carriers, each working 8 hours daily, were authorized for local office. The city delivery limits have been extended to include 45 additional families.

Parcel delivery has been secured both for business resident sections. No other town in West Texas with the population of Floydada has parcel delivery.

Rural delivery has been extended on two routes.

When Quannah and Floydada tripartite Sunday service, Floydada post office had no interruption in mail even the following Sunday, because Mrs. Smith got in communication with Superintendent of Mails Fort Worth, and secured Sunday service by bus.

Mrs. Smith takes this opportunity to express her sincere appreciation of the splendid co-operation that has been given her by both rural and town patrons. This fine spirit of the patrons has made it a pleasure for all employees at Floydada to serve this community. She asks only for a continuation of this excellent co-operation.

LOOK WHAT'S COMING

What? The Junior play — "Toby Helps Out." When? Thursday night, March 21 at 7:30. Where? High school auditorium. Why? To feed the seniors and for your entertainment! How much? Ward school students 10 and high school students and adults 20c.

Reading Time: None required. A school teacher was standing on the bridge. With despair in his face he was starting to take the fatal leap. Along came J. Smith, striving young psychiatrist, and asked him not to take his life so foolishly. They walked away to talk the thing over. Fifteen minutes later they came back and both jumped in.

Moral: Never talk to a school teacher for fifteen minutes.

Author's note: If you are feeling so punk that every time you take a deep breath the ship tattered on your chest lowers life boats, see me and prey soon every time you set down to eat your teeth will say, "Well all right, Chop, Chop." As has been recognized by the psychiatrists, much can be learned by using your reason. You need not be like the seniors who wear high heel boots and shoes in order to raise their minds to a higher level.

A business man once consulted me asking me to solve his problem, which disclosed certain universal elements. Himself the mother of eight children he had never known life outside the kitchen. He had manufactured a large quantity of Zoodle Goozie tooth paste, only to find it unsatisfactory with the users. The situation was complicated by the fact that several users of the tooth paste had lost their teeth. It was pointed out that their teeth were cleaned but this seemed to carry little weight with the users. Supporting the customers point of view was a piece of dental science which concluded that "tooth paste cleaning the teeth but causing them to deteriorate and fall out was to be regarded with suspicion."

The method by which I solved this problem in psychological psychology is too complex to be related in this limited space, and is not included in the sales price of this book for political reasons.

Don't let life get you down. Remember: It all depends on me.

Speech Class Is Experimenting With Art Of Making-Up

Several students have been seen around with exaggerated make-up on their faces during the last few days. Don't get excited if you see a red-skinned savage staring you in the face, or a wrinkled old man, or a young lady, made up like a movie actress, because it would probably be a member of the Speech class who has been experimenting.

Speech Class Is Experimenting With Art Of Making-Up

The auditorium has been the scene of much activity during the second period for the past week since Miss Smith and her speech class have been experimenting with the different ways of making up characters. Some have produced rather startling results, as you probably have noticed. Also, some of the speech students have found it necessary to give their necks and faces an extra scrubbing, which is rather painful.

Speech Class Is Experimenting With Art Of Making-Up

The auditorium has been the scene of much activity during the second period for the past week since Miss Smith and her speech class have been experimenting with the different ways of making up characters. Some have produced rather startling results, as you probably have noticed. Also, some of the speech students have found it necessary to give their necks and faces an extra scrubbing, which is rather painful.

Junior Play Will Be Presented At School Tonight

Well folks, the 21 is here! You want to know what will happen tonight? Well, for three weeks now that's been a secret and people have run people ragged, wanting to know why other people won't tell these people to tell the first people to tell people what's going to happen on March 21.

The reason it has been a secret is because Arwine and Gilliam are in this performance. As Fibber McGee would say, "Toby Helps Out" will be a rip-roaring, routine, recreation, radiant, restorative, resting, route of historical hysterics, howling half the whole history, hoping above hope to make a hit with the hallows, in order to feed the sophisticated seniors who better sally up and see "Toby Helps Out," or they will eat sauerkraut. When I say "Toby Helps Out" is a comedy what a comedy, I'm not kidding. It will only cost you four nickels and you will see, among other humorous happenings, Bennie Crawford get embarrassed.

FARMERS, BUSINESSMEN MEET IN MANY STATES

Farmers in communities in half the states have so far this year invited the men from whom they buy their groceries, drugs, and overalls to sit down with them and discuss each other's problems across the table. These farmer-businessmen meetings were initiated by local AAA committees, and farmers brought as their guests local bankers, merchants, and other businessmen.

A summary of farmer-businessmen meetings held in the 10 states of the North Central region the first 6 months of 1939 indicates the interest in the meetings and the subjects discussed. A total of 938 farmer-businessmen meetings were held in 62 percent of the counties in these 10 Corn Belt states during this period, with a total attendance of nearly 93,000.

The businessmen, many of whom are farm owners, were particularly interested in first-hand information about the AAA farm program. They wanted information about why there was a farm program, how the AAA program protects consumers, how the program benefits the general public, and what businessmen can do to help the farm program.

Many of these attending, both farmers and businessmen, suggested that more meetings of this kind be held as a means of bringing about closer farm-business relationships and a better understanding of each other's problems. It is expected that farmer-businessmen meetings will be held in most states this coming winter.

LONG TRAILS WINDING IN NATIONAL FORESTS

If a motorist set out this year to travel all of the highways and truck trails in the 160 national forests, it would take more than 4 months of steady driving, 12 hours a day, at an average of a little better than 40 miles an hour.

Then if he stopped driving and set off to walk the trails which are used by fire fighters, sheepherders, cattlemen, recreationists, and others of the millions of visitors to the national forests each year, it would take a little more than 15 years traveling 20 miles a day, says the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

Even then the visitor would not have seen all of the 273,000 square miles of Uncle Sam's forest lands, although he would have passed some of the 70,000 miles of trout streams and many of the thousands of lakes and would have visited all of the 3,600 developed camping and picnic grounds.

Mrs. A. H. Fowler accompanied by Mrs. C. A. Wainwright of Wichita Falls, were here from Tuesday until Thursday attending business and visiting relatives.

REA Co-Op Plans Further Expansion

In a meeting Saturday at the office of the Floyd County Rural Electric cooperative, 16 interested persons from communities not served at present by the REA met with the directors of the coop and took out work sheets for prospective members in their communities to sign up.

The meeting was called to order by A. H. Kreis, president of the board of directors, and after short talks by County Agent D. F. Bredthauer and REA Superintendent L. W. Chapman, details of working up sections was presented by Harry N. Roberts, REA engineer in charge of pre-allotment work.

"It cannot be determined where the lines may go until those interested begin signing up," Roberts said. He indicated that $8 per mile per month would be necessary guarantee to make a project feasible, pointing out that sparsely settled communities may be reached by a line if they are located between the present line and a thickly settled community, or if the use of electricity is large enough to guarantee necessary revenue.

Interest is already picking up in unserved areas, Chapman reported Tuesday, stating that many who believed themselves too far removed from the line to be served have come to the office to ask for applications in order to try to bring electricity to their community areas.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this method to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness shown us this winter, and especially last week while we have been sick. You can never know just how much you helped us. Friends such as you have proved to be help in more ways than one. We pray that each of you may find just such friends in your time of need, and if you are in this neighborhood, I am sure you will.

The Ewing family.

CONTAINERS ARE SAFER

A new provision of the new Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act protects the public against dangerous containers, that is, containers from which the food may become contaminated.

In practice, the Food and Drug Administration officials expect the main effect of this new clause will be to prevent dangerous uses of lead in packaging foods, either lead in solders for cans or as foil for wrapping foods. Both these uses have made trouble at times in the past and have been difficult to deal with under the old law.

Mrs. P. G. Stegall spent the weekend in Amarillo on business and visiting with her daughter, Mrs. J. P. Williamson and Mr. Williamson.
