WE SERIOUSLY NEED

Floydada stands away down the list of Texas communities as to sightliness and cleanliness, and it is to be devoutly hoped the present campaign, initiated by the civic clubs and the city will result in a better job than has been done heretofore. Especially are the alleys seriously neglected in Floydada. Many of them, we rather shamefacedly say, you can hardly get down in a car.

Used for refuse, for a place to stack feed, for tin cans and whatnot they present a definite challenge to the civic pride of the community. Many beautiful and well-kept homes are marred, too, by unsightly and ill-kept homes in the neighborhood. There is the point of view of the person who cannot afford to "fix up" a place due to financial stress. But any set of premises can be kept clean by the application of elbow grease, and there is a definite need for a campaign for better, more sightly homes.

Any community can have anything in reason they really want. Floydada can have clean alleys and a much, much better average of homes in appearance if Floydada people actually want to have them. We seriously need to want to clean up and fix up in this man's town.

John Garner, except for Postmaster General Farley, is today the only candidate who has announced unequivocally for the Democratic nomination for President. Other suggested candidates have sidestepped or hedged, largely because of speculation over the third term question, but John Garner's forthright announcement of his willingness to accept the nomination is consistent with his own political honesty and with Democratic and American tradition. No American President, no matter how great or how beloved by the people, has ever repudiated the cherished American principle with respect to terms of service in the Presidency, and neither Mr. Garner nor his friends have assumed that the present President would be the first to do so. Consequently, the Garner-for-President movement is grounded firmly on American principles of government—as any such movement which is thoroughly and characteristically Texan, in its forthrightness and honesty, ought to be.—Campaign Broadside.

The census-taking that rolls around once every ten years began last week. Census takers all over the nation—12,000 of them—began asking questions and setting the answers down in columns for the purpose. Some of the questions do not suit this writer and there'll be some refusals. All of the questions have been asked before, however, with possibly one exception and the heavens didn't fall. We doubt if they do fall this time, and in Floyd county except for a bit of hum-having there'll be answers made to all questions propounded, is our guess.

What it means to a community or county to have several miles of railway in it, like in Floyd, is rather graphically told in an advertisement that appeared last week from the Quanah, Acme & Pacific Railway company in The Hesperian. With only 17.76 miles of railway in the county the ad valorem taxes the Quanah Route paid equally the salary of one and a half school teachers and one county official. This has reference to the direct tax the railroad paid. How badly we need the railways for taxing purposes is thus seen. However, we need the railways worse for the real service they render. Ask people in communities who have had railroads, failed to support them to the point of losing them, what it means not to have rail facilities in a community!

The irrepressible Mr. Thos. B. Love has thrown his hat into the political ring again, this time as the self-appointed secretary of a third-term Roosevelt movement. Mr. Love raised the ire of other politically minded men who had in mind they were to lead the Roosevelt parade. Mr. Love stole the thunder of the prohibition leaders for years and always led a strong minority into whatever fight he chose. A peculiar man, he bolted the Democratic ticket in 1924 and again in 1928, as we recall it, and still thinks of himself as a Democratic leader.

The Terrell Election law, passed in 1905, generally speaking, is a very good law. It sets up things to be done that cannot be done in practice and these impractical provisions should be eliminated. In fact, by common consent they are just not observed, so far as we know, where they conflict with common sense. The former provision of the law that applied to assessments for state and district candidates was extremely onerous. When the legislature changed the statute they went to the other extreme. Doubtless, the statute in this respect will be changed to make a more equitable distribution of election expense.

Says President E. J. Engel, of the Santa Fe Railway company: "Our troubles today are largely surpluses. We have too many laws and lawmakers, too much overhead, too much transportation, too many barrels of oil, too many unemployed, too much fear of the future, too much selfishness, and maybe over all too much desire not to work as you and I, and our early-day associates, were willing to do and never dreamed it was a hardship."

When buying poultry medicines this spring watch your step and buy only from reliable dealers who are established and have to "stay put" when you go back to see them about their powders or whatever it is for the cure and prevention of poultry diseases. There are persons engaged in the manufacture and sale of nostrums, the Commissioner of Agriculture warns, which are claimed to prevent or cure all known poultry diseases, increase egg production and just generally do wonders. Some of these fellows make $10 a gallon "medicine" out of thirty cents worth of materials. Naturally, all they do is relieve you of your money.

From reading "The W. Lee O'Daniel News," Volume One, Number One, we have concluded it is going to favor the candidacy of W. Lee O'Daniel for governor. In several places throughout the four eight-column pages of it, we find Mr. O'Daniel recommended highly.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Spikes

OAKVILLE, Tenn. April 1.—As we drove through the woods at night across north Texas we saw the woods afire. Like wild things sneaking from under trees, the red tongues of the flames licked dead brown leaves, climbed up tall trees in dead vines, left a smoking black forest behind covered with stifling gray smoke.

Near Texarkana we saw frame gardens scattered everywhere spread out on the brown earth like giant white moths in the moonlight. We longed to stop, lift the white cloths, and see what lay underneath.

I am busy storing up beauty and sweetness in the pantry of my mind like a good farm woman stores up the gold and the richness of fruits and vegetables in her pantry for future use: Mists, soft and fleecy rising into clouds of rose and gold against deep blue sky; a red japonica on a green lawn; rows of yellow jonquils marching up a hill like a file of pretty maidens; a plum bush looking like a white wedding veil caught among gray trees; the feel of little soft baby arms around my neck; the flash of a blue bird through the trees; scent of wild honeysuckle on a soft breeze; bits of laughter, snatches of song, worlds of love.

There are many things to think about but there is no time to put them on paper. There is a little girl begging for just another story, grandmother, and a little boy calling "come dran-momer, the train, the train," and he wants to add my excitement to the clamor of the passing train.

Time has to be spent watching the squirrels climb down from the trees and hunt for scraps left on the yard; to go for a walk, watch the little children play who live in the tuberculosis hospital. Even in the cold and sleet of Easter they ran and played out of doors, dressed only in shorts and shoes, their bodies blue and mottled with chill winds. They said, "we're not cold, we're used to it." I watch the negro plowing in the yellow clay field nearby. He holds the handles of his plow in his strong hands and clucks to his poor little mule. Year after year he has followed the mule, who knows every stump he has to go around. Two negro women have stopped a moment to gossip near a pile of rotting corn stalks they had cut with weeding hoes and piled to be burned.

The walking one-row planter drops nuggets of crinkled gold that can move of themselves just by lying and rotting in the yellow clay.

We make a hurried trip to the little village store. Rope lines of soft cotton, yellow collar pads and big weeding hoes decorate the porch. Corrugated brass wash boards stand in new zinc tubs. Inside, bushel measures hold yellow and white corn, and half-bushel baskets hold wrinkled English pea seed. Sacks of planting potatoes keep them company.

I did not think spring flirted with winter in the east as she does on

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

(From Issue of April 8, 1926)

C. R. Houston was elected president of the school board of the Floydada Independent School district at the re-organization meeting of the board held Monday night of this week. E. C. King was elected vice-president.

The board is now composed of E. C. King, M. L. Kizzar and W. T. Stiles who were re-elected; G. R. May, elected Saturday; Kenneth Bain, named by the board to fill an unexpired term of Jeff D. Ayres; C. R. Houston, a holdover member; and F. C. Harmon, appointed by the board Monday night to fill the place of J. V. Daniel who resigned Monday.

A substantial increase in the number of county scholastics is expected for the year 1926, announcement from the office of County Superintendent Price Scott indicates.

Possibility that the Floydada district unit of the Southwestern Wheat Growers association will purchase an elevator in Floydada for handling their wheat crop is being discussed among officials and members of this organization, according to County Agent T. Scott Wilson. An elevator will be purchased or other arrangements made at an early date for handling this year's crop of the association in this territory.

Somebody has been tearing planks off the ball park and forgetting to bring them back when they got through with the boards and Frank L. Moore, secretary of the association, says the stockholders are afraid there won't be enough park left to keep the crowds inside if this is kept up much longer. Just to make it interesting, the stockholders are offering a reward of $10 for the arrest and conviction of anyone caught tearing off boards or damaging the property in any way.

the Plains of West Texas. Yes, she does! I find she dressed the trees in tiny green velvet leaves, enticed the forsythia to open golden bells, smiled at the women and girls buying their summer dresses and flower laden hats and putting fur coats in storage. Spring's breath was warm and fragrant, everything was getting ready for summer. Winter watching as he retreated north, saw spring in her beauty and made a grab for her to take her to be company in his northern-lighted icy home. The teardrops of captured spring were frozen on the velvet leaves and golden bells, her warm breath was chilled with winter's sleet. At her mightiest hour, Easter, spring lost her beauty.

Seen: Negro man walking along with basket of dandelion greens in one hand, a basket of gold jonquils in another. Two negro women on a street corner standing on the sides of their feet and holding an old rusty black umbrella to keep off the drizzling rain.

Heard here and there: "Spring is farther away than the end of the coal pile," and "Italy will come to the aid of the victors."

How would you feel to hear everyone wishing that rain would cease in the spring? Well, that is the way I feel too.

Surprise: Picking up the Memphis Press-Scimitar and seeing familiar faces: Billy Joe Welch, Waldo Houghton.

The visit here has passed too swiftly. Monday, and this is Friday night, we leave for Texas. Leave the fascinating muddy Mississippi, the tall trees with tender velvet leaves, the sweet little girl and the mischievous brown-eyed boy and their lovely mother. And I will have to hug my son close to my heart and hear him say "you are the sweetest mother in the world."

AVOID "LOSS OF FACE" PAY BY CHECK

An Oriental will do almost anything to avoid "loss of face." To him, "face" means social and business standing, self-respect, success, happiness.

Even over here "face" has importance as a business asset. You find it easier to get ahead in the world when people think well of you and consider you businesslike and dependable.

Paying by check is not only a great convenience but it actually smooths the path of progress for you. We invite you to open a checking account.

PARTNERS IN A GREAT TEXAS ENTERPRISE

TEXAS farmers and ranchers received last year from oil men the huge sum of $132,478,000 for leases and royalties as their share in this partnership.

All but seven of Texas' 254 counties now share in this cash return from leases and production on more than 50,000,000 acres of Texas land.

Then, too, the Texas farmers and ranchers sell to oil workers and their families more than $60,000,000 worth of farm and livestock products each year.

Thus the farmers and ranchers of our state receive nearly 200 million dollars a year as their share of oil's total expenditure of 750 million dollars annually in Texas. These 200 million dollars in turn flow into every channel of Texas trade.

The Texas farmer and rancher and the oil man are partners in the development of Texas.

16 Floyd County Girls Employed On NYA Projects

Thirty-six Plains girls, 16 of whom are from Floyd county, are learning to be better home makers with practical experience offered on a NYA part-time resident center project at Lubbock. More than sixty projects of this type are in operation in the state according to J. C. Kellam, State NYA administrator.

These projects are made possible through the cooperation of local public agencies and home making division of the State Department of Education. Each project provides training opportunities for an average of 35 girls eligible for NYA work project employment. They rotate for project every four weeks of residence in an NYA cooperative house. They earn a wage sufficient to pay their share in the operation of the cooperative house and for incidental expenses through work for part of each day as assistants in public offices, cafeterias, nursery schools, hospitals, libraries, and sewing rooms.

Under the direction of the house mother or Supervisor, the girls learn the fundamentals of home management, housekeeping, cooking, and sewing. The type of training offered is designed to be of practical use to the average girl living in the small Texas town or rural community. The girl is taught how to plan and prepare well balanced family and special occasion meals. She is taught how to make her own home more attractive on a limited budget, how to preserve foods, and how to improve her personal appearance.

During their leisure time the girls plan various social entertainments for their own group and their friends, take part in home making club activities, attend lectures on child care, first aid, study landscaping, gardening, fire prevention, flower culture, and various other activities in line with their home making training.

Since the Lubbock project started in July of 1938, there have been 34 Floyd county girls who have taken advantage of the training. At present the following 16 girls are on the project:

Elizabeth D. Beedy, Floydada; Lola Mae Billington, Floydada; Geraldine Byars, Aiken; Hazel V. Galloway, Floydada; Willie M. Hammons, Floydada; Winnie F. Hammons, Floydada; Ione Iris Lynch, Dougherty; Ima Ruth McAda, Route 4, Floydada; Lena K. Scott, Floydada; Frances L. Ward, Floydada; Dorcie Lynn Fowler, Star Route, Quitaque; Avenell Bennett, Route 1, Lockney; Helen Adeline Boyle, Route 2, Lockney; Elizabeth W. Cox, Route 4, Floydada; Lena Maurine Weathers, Route 2, Lockney; Freda Pauline Weathers, Route 1, Lockney.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for April 14, 1940.

Hosea Tell of God's Forgiving Love
Golden Text:—"If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." (I John 1:9)

Lesson Text:—Hosea 6:1-7; 14:4-9
Hosea 6:1. Come, and let us return unto the Lord; for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.
2 After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.
3 Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the Lord: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.
4 O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for your goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of my mouth; and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth.
6 For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.
7 But they like men have transgressed the covenant; there have they dealt treacherously against me.

Hosea 14:4. I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely; for mine anger is turned away from him.
5 I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall grow as the lily, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon.
6 His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon.

7 They that dwell under his shadow shall return; they shall revive as the corn, and grow as the vine; the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.
8 Ephraim shall say, What have I to do any more with idols? I have heard him, and observed him: I am like a green fir tree. From me is thy fruit found.

9 Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the Lord are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressors shall fall therein.

Lesson Thoughts
The Prophet Hosea was a son of Beerai and a native of the kingdom of Israel (ten tribes). His prophecies were addressed to that kingdom. It is estimated that he occupied the prophetic office from forty to eighty years.

The Book of Hosea is said to be the backslider's book and its key word "Return." Many of the most familiar verses of the Bible, verses that are household words, are from Hosea; yet it is perhaps the least read of all Bible books. Open your Bible and see if Hosea's leaves are not the least worn. "There is a reason for this: Hosea is perhaps the most obscure book in the Bible" (Rev. G. L. Petrie).

Hosea's Message. He was given a vision of the end of the kingdom because of its growing corruption in morals, religion, and politics; and with tearful entreaties he tried to arouse the nation to return to the worship of God, and to ward off the impending judgments for sin.

SENIOR FOLLIES

The play for the Senior Follies has been selected and the cast has been named by the sponsor, Miss Cade. "All Cares to the Rescue" is a rip-roaring comedy in one act. The cast includes Calvin Carr, a crusty old bachelor, played by Fred Hanks; Ruth Carr, his orphan niece by Ruth Simpson; Miss Amarilla Rand, his bitterest enemy, by Margaret Tubbs; Mrs. Julia Carr, Cal's sister-in-law, by Edna Earl Price; Tommie Rand, Amarilla's nephew, in love with Ruth, by Billy Brown; Haisie Carr, Cal's half-niece by Ophelia Gilliland; Wilfred Carr, his half nephew, Kenneth Mickey; Miss Darlene Dummett, from Topeka, by Dulon Sargent. There is plenty of action packed into this thirty-five minute comedy, so make plans to see the Senior Follies on April 25. The seniors are confident that they have a winning play, and are counting on having a large crowd to help make the play a success.

Twelve Members Of FHS Band To Attend Tri-State Meeting

Twelve members of the Floydada High school band will leave Floydada next Wednesday, April 17, for Enid, Oklahoma, where they will take part in the Tri-State Band festival.

Joe Arwine is planning to play a cornet solo, and the saxophone and clarinet quartets will play. A massed band, composed of band members from several different states, will highlight the four day event, which begins Wednesday, April 17 and ends Saturday, April 20. All the band members from the Floydada band that make the trip will play in the massed band.

The trip will be made in cars and some of the parents and Mr. Camp will accompany the group. Those planning to attend are Norma Denson, Gene Loran, Donald Cornelius, Joe Arwine, Edith Shirey, Lula Lee Teal, Frances Jo Terrell, La Nell Harmon, Billy Brown, Floy Jean Hale, Randolph Rutledge and Maudene Moore.

HELPFUL PEOPLE IN FHS

Some people around F. H. S. do just lots of nice things for the school, and yet, they never get mentioned. Of course, everyone appreciates them, but just never think of expressing that appreciation.

For instance, Mrs. Johnson, the librarian, is one of the most helpful people who go to make the school routine run as smoothly as it does. Mrs. Johnson is always ready to help anyone who comes in to the library; if it's a book to read, she is full of suggestions; if it's a report to write, she will aid in getting the proper material. In short, she is a vital part of the whole set-up which is F. H. S. So in appreciation to Mrs. Johnson, here's saying that she deserves the praise of each and every student.

Another person who is absolutely indispensable to the school is Mr. Boetler, the competent and efficient janitor. Were it not for him the school building would go unclean instead of being spic and span to greet the students every morning. There are countless favors which he is always doing for someone, many of which are accepted as just part of the things which must be done for students. But where would the students be if Mr. Boetler would suddenly decide that lots of things were unnecessary and could be left undone?

Deep in their hearts, all the students do appreciate the services of these people, but then, no harm would be done by expressions of thanks, both spoken and in services done in return.

Writing fluids, Hesperian.

FHT Girls Present Radio Program Over Station Kfyo At Lubbock Last Monday

The Homemaking department gave a radio program over KFYO at Lubbock Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The script was written by Helen Ring and Helen Powell.

The program opened with the singing of "Sing Your Way Home." The quartette was composed of Lovell Ginn, Mary Frances McRoberts, Martha Yearwood, and Margaret Tubbs, and accompanied at the piano by Nelda Fagan. Miss Rees introduced those to take part in the dialogue: Mrs. G. A. Linder, who interviewed Helen Ring; Mrs. Linder is a member of the School Board, and Helen is a member of the FHT club. Helen answered all the questions asked by Mrs. Linder and explained such problems as—what the Home Economics girls do in class, their home projects, the district, area and state meetings of the FHT and the different programs of the club. The girls quartet sang the area song, "The World is Full of Beauty."

Mary Frances McRoberts read "A Girls Creed", written especially for F. H. T. by Mrs. Grace Noel Crowell. The program closed with "Sing your Way Home."

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The sophs are enjoying life now since the follies are in view. We, the sophs are having "Winter Sunset" for our play. Those in the follies are, Joe Rushing, Hershell Hinson, Topsy Dudley and Donice Cline.

In the fifth period English class Monday the sophs had a debate. The question was: "Resolved that Women Should have a career." On the affirmative was Odene Huey. On the negative was Margaret Conner.

The debate became very fierce and hot, but ended with a draw. The question was still unsettled.

Other questions were debated in other English classes. P. S. Don't any of you Sophs dare grumble because after all "He that doth not toot his own horn the same shall not be tooted." Sophs reporters were absent so a Freshman wrote your article.

JUNIOR CLASS

The junior class will have some very active weeks ahead preparing for the banquet and the junior and senior follies. A class meeting will be held Tuesday to decide about the mode for the banquet and many other different features that must have careful consideration. The play for the follies has come but has not been cast. For now on the junior class will be a mighty busy bunch.

Speech Class To Present One-Act Play On Friday

For a laboratory project the Speech class has been working on a one act play called "Pink and Patches."

Fred Hanks and T. W. Salisbury are the directors of the play. The cast includes the following: Texie, Maurine Hart; Rexie, Kenneth Hodge; Ma Hollerfield, Lula Lee Teal; Mrs. Allen, Mary Louise Medlen.

The setting is in the mountains with mountain people. Texie, a young girl, is tired of all this mountain ignorance and wants to become like Mrs. Allen, a lady from the city, but worst of all she wants a pink dress.

The play will be given Friday and maybe another class will be asked to attend it.

The speech class is studying the play to see how a play is directed and how action is carried on.

Why Insure Against Hail

Hail is purely a physical hazard and unlike the fire hazard, no precaution can be taken or care exercised to minimize the risk. Statistics show that the hail loss to growing crops is several times greater than the fire hazard is to farm buildings. As a business proposition it is as foolish for a farmer to be without hail insurance as it is for a merchant in town to be without fire protection, as vital business interests are endangered in either case.

Our companies protect you against loss or damage from hail to most every kind of crop. Come in for a Free Estimate.

Pantomime Put On In Assembly Last Week By Students

"And the Curtain Fell." A pantomime, was given in assembly last week by the Speech Class. Eddie Brown read the pantomime while seven players performed the action. The pantomime was a story and the action was the old and worn out triangle. The daughter who can not marry her lover because of bills and her mother prefers her to marry the cut and dried villain who is rich.

After this an entertaining book review was given by Emmett Hinson. At the beginning of the semester the class had studied book reviewing. The name of the book reviewed was "Squadron of Death" by Dick Grayson. The review was very successful given and held the close attention of the students. After having heard the review many of the students are planning to read the book.

Consumers Name Lloyd Director At The Annual Meet

Stockholders of the Consumers Fuel association at their annual meeting Monday named John A. Lloyd to succeed W. N. Jones as a member of the board of directors. At the same time they re-elected P. J. Wilkes as a member of the board of which M. L. Probasco, J. J. Thomas and G. C. Collins are hold-over members.

At their organization meeting the board re-named Probasco as president and Thomas as vice-president.

The year has been one of considerable improvement in the plant and physical equipment of the association, it was pointed out in the annual report, which also covered all the operating and other disbursements and income for the year.

Principal outlay for improvements have been for a new and more nearly fireproof warehouse and a new office and service station, costing several thousand dollars. Other improvements to be effected this year, according to plans, is a re-arrangement and re-placing of bulk gasoline, kerosene and distillate tanks to effect economy in insurance costs and in handling, planned for several months ago. The association continues in very good financial condition, the auditor's report, read at the meeting, showed. Net worth of the association is upward of $50,000 and their gross business $203,527.89. Their largest single item of sales was gasoline of which they put out 1,327,766 gallons. Next in volume was kerosene, at 266,695 gallons, distillate 76,826 gallons, lubricating oils 28,328 gallons. The association also has a large volume in tires, tubes and accessories.

C. C. Hookabee has served the association the past three years as manager.

LANGLEY HOME BURNED

Eight people barely escaped being burned to death Friday night when their home burned. The fire, of unknown origin, destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Langley one mile east of the Liberty school building, around 9 o'clock.

The roof of the building was falling in when the family was awakened and made their escape in their night clothes.

A slow rain, falling at that time failed to check the fire.
