FLOYDADA, FLOYD COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY JUNE 6, 1940

NUMBER 17

Three Offer as Congress Candidates

Two Candidates File For State
Senate, Three For Representative

Expiration Monday of the date for filing by district candidates found three names filed to appear on the Democratic ballot for congressman of the 19th District of Texas, two for state senator of the 30th Senatorial district, and three for state representative of the 120th district. They are:

For Congressman 19th congressional district: M. D. Ramsey of Floyd county, George Mahon of Mitchell county and C. L. Harris of Dickens county.

For senator 30th senatorial district of Texas: Marshall Formby of Dickens county, and Alvin R. Allison of Hockley county.

For representative of the 120th representative district: L. D. Roshelle of Lamb county, L. G. Matthews of Floyd county, and Tom W. Deen of Floyd county.

In addition to these the names of two aspirants for district offices, running unopposed, will appear on the Floyd county ballot, namely, Judge A. J. Folley of Floyd county, who aspires to succeed himself as associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo, and John A. Hamilton of Motley county, who seeks re-election as district attorney.

No official action on the various applications is due to be taken by the county committee until June 17, when the committee will meet to review the list of candidates for all offices, determine the probable cost of holding the election in the county, and assess the costs of the election proportionately among the various candidates.

On or before June 22 county and precinct candidates must have filed their formal applications for places on the ticket. Several county and precinct candidates had not filed their applications this week. Applications that reach the office of the county chairman later than June 15, by mail or otherwise, will not be considered as having been filed within the time prescribed by the statutes, it was indicated by the chairman here this week.

Mrs. Carrie Mince was awarded a jury decision in District court Wednesday morning in her suit against Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sparks and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mince over land titles.

The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff shortly before noon Wednesday, bringing to a close a case which had occupied the court since Monday morning.

The suit involved title to a 177-acre farm located southeast of Floydada and a town lot and house in Floydada. Mrs. Sparks, a daughter of Mrs. Mince, and J. M. Mince, a son, had attempted to prevent the elder Mrs. Mince from selling the property, holding that it had been deeded to her in trust until her death, when it was to revert to her three children.

In the trial this week, the jury held that in deeding their share of the land inherited from their father to Mrs. Mince, the three children had signed a quit-claim to the property and the plaintiff was at liberty to sell or dispose of the property in any way she might choose.

The elder Mrs. Mince was represented in the suit by John Hamilton and John Stapleton. Counsel for the defendants was L. G. Matthews and Kenneth Bain. On the jury were C. H. Hood, Wesley Carr, G. C. Beedy, Francis Carthel, R. H. Crawford, E. C. Hayden, Edell DuBois, Dozier Dillard, T. S. Brown, and E. C. Durham.

You are asked to report to Cecil Hagood or Mrs. Lon M. Davis as soon as is possible as the materials will have to be ordered and made by September 1.

When Floyd County Pioneers Held Biggest Reunion

Funeral Rites For Mrs. Guimarin Are Conducted Sunday

Funeral rites for Mrs. T. P. Guimarin were conducted Sunday afternoon from the First Methodist church with Rev. J. L. Henson, former local pastor, in charge, assisted by Rev. J. B. McReynolds, pastor of the Methodist church and Rev. Vernon Shaw, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Interment was in the Floydada cemetery under direction of Harmon Funeral home.

Mrs. Guimarin, 79 years of age, died at her home at 417 South Main street Saturday evening, June 1, after a long illness. She was born on May 15, 1861, at Hillsboro, Mississippi and married T. P. Guimarin at Lake, Mississippi on January 10, 1883.

Mrs. Guimarin came to Texas from Atlanta, Georgia, in 1899, living at Weatherford. Mr. and Mrs. Guimarin moved to Olney in 1908 and came to Floydada in July, 1918, having made their home here since that time.

Mrs. Guimarin is survived by her husband and five children, Tom S. Guimarin of Olney, and Spencer and Laurin P. Guimarin of Amarillo; Mrs. J. G. Wood of Floydada; and Mrs. H. P. Schrader of Denver, Colorado.

She had been a member of the Methodist church since childhood.

Palbearers at the services Sunday were Roy Curry, Frank Butler, Byron Clark, Glad Snodgrass, Bill Hollman of Olney and J. B. Claiborne.

Chamber Of Commerce Committee To Nominate

Preparation for the annual election of Floydada Chamber of Commerce was begun Wednesday morning when at a meeting of the board of directors a nominating committee was selected composed of T. P. Collins, R. E. Fry and E. L. Angus.

The nominating committee, it was indicated, will submit names of suitable officers and directors to the membership during the week-end and the results of the election will be declared next week. V. Williams has been serving the organization as its president during the past 12 months period.

Local Red Cross Chapter To Sponsor Benefit Dance

Faced with a doubled quota to meet immediate war-relief needs of the American Red Cross, the Floyd county Red Cross chapter is planning a benefit dance to be held in Floydada Saturday night with Leon Hester and his Swing Kings, Vernon's popular negro orchestra, providing music for the festivities.

Entire proceeds of the dance will go to the war relief fund, County Chairman Cecil Hagood announced here Monday. Admission will be one dollar per couple.

The Floyd County chapter, assigned a quota of $440 under the first ten million dollar relief fund drive inaugurated by the Red Cross three weeks ago, had almost completed the required fund when the national chapter, faced with the huge task of caring for refugees in France, asked last week that the quota be doubled and requested donations totalling $20,000,000 from the American people.

Plans were made immediately to hold the benefit dance on the huge dance floor specially built last week for the Floydada Roundup and Reunion dances. A hard-wood floor was constructed in the cotton warehouse on North Main in Floydada, and will accommodate comfortably a large gathering.

Palbearers at the services Sunday afternoon were Lee Pearson, Bill Harper, J. B. Smitherman, H. T. Bradshaw, Bill Beedy and G. C. Hilburn.

The dance will begin at 9 o'clock

Experiments To Aid Farms Are Planned

Floyd County Selected To Receive Experimental Fertilizer Allotments

Floyd county has been selected as one of several West Texas counties to receive an allotment of super-phosphate fertilizer for soil building demonstrations, M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist for the Texas Extension Service, notified County Agent D. F. Bredthauer this week.

The Floyd County Land Use Planning committee will select 8 or 10 demonstration farms for the experiment. A meeting of the planning committee is scheduled today (Thursday).

The fertilizer will be furnished for a period of five years, the demonstrations to be planned for that period. The soil-building feature will be kept in mind, Bredthauer said, and each of the demonstrators chosen will be required to make an annual report and keep records. The law states that the fertilizer is to be used for soil-building and its effect on the social and economic status of the farm family.

The county's allotment amounts to 40,000 pounds (one carload) of TVA phosphate, and the cost to the farmer will not exceed $9 per ton (actual freight charges on the shipment).

"In making out a plan of work for the demonstrators," Bredthauer said, "we will take an example a 160-acre farm with 90 acres in cultivation. The plan states that 70 percent of the farm acreage have phosphates applied in the five year period. The farm may have a 20 acre cotton allotment which will follow complete rotation, cotton in 1940, soil building crop in 1941 with acid phosphate added, sorghum in 1942, and back to cotton in 1943. A 20 acre general allotment would, in the same instance, be planted to grain sorghum in 1940, cotton in 1941, soil-building crop with acid phosphate in 1942, and back to grain sorghum in 1943."

"If this should be an irrigated farm we may have 10 acres planted to alfalfa in 1940, continue to stand in 1941, '42, '43 and in 1944 be planted to grain sorghum."

"This farm may have 20 acres of idle or summer fallowed land which could be handled under the soil-building program for 1940 by adding acid phosphate this fall, planting some kind of winter cover crop turned under in the early spring, planted to sorghum in 41, cotton in 42 and back into the soil-building program." (See EXPERIMENTS page 5)

Outlook for One Variety Cotton Program Is Good

Latest developments in the one-variety cotton export program in Floyd county, discussed a week ago by farmers and ginners in a meeting here, have been favorable, County Agent D. F. Bredthauer reported this week.

Congressman George Mahon wired the Floydada Cooperative Gin association last week that he is giving the movement 100 percent support in Washington, Bredthauer said.

Each gin wishing to cooperate in the movement must sign up under the Smith-Doxey act, and it is understood that a government cotton classing office will be established in the county, the agent reported. It will not be necessary, according to recent ruling, for a gin to be 100 percent one-variety, but under the Smith-Doxey act for 1940 all producers who are growing cotton under one-variety application will be able to receive free government classification and will be permitted to participate in the one-variety cotton export program.

It is understood, Bredthauer said Wednesday, that immediate action will be taken in Washington within the next few days on the proposed one-variety program for this county.

The program endeavors to show, by practical demonstrations, and tests, the advantages of standardized production, selling on quality, and improved methods of handling.

In practically all instances where the one-variety program has been in operation, Bredthauer said, the growers who sold their cotton under the program have been highly pleased with the prices received. Preliminary estimates indicate that these growers received about two dollars per bale more for cotton than did growers who sold cotton through the regular channels of trade.

EDITORIALS

People of West Texas will have to go along with the rest of the country under a new regime of world conditions, and had as well now begin making up their minds to it. 1940 will be historic. It marks the end of an era, the beginning of a new one. America very definitely has begun on a militaristic economy that will consume much of our energy and our income in war materials,—tanks, planes, armament, ships—that has gone into automobiles, homes, radios and other things that have made life richer for the individual and the family. Several billion a year to make it possible for the United States to stand on its figurative haunches and tell the world instead of asking it.

We are living in a very real world, a world where brotherly love and peace among mankind are dreamed of and prayed for by many. Others of a different mind have been and are grabbing and snatching while the prayer service goes along. It is these, whom we have tried to convert to our pacifist trend of thought for whom Uncle Sam now belatedly prepares. Whether the situation we now face grows out of huge injustices or of plain greed it may take a historian a hundred years hence to say rightly. Away, it is a situation and not a theory. The musketeers of the 1770s may have a counterpart in the 1940s.

Look for the things we have usually considered a part of our "freedom" to be curtailed. In a regimented nation, where for several years we are to bend all efforts to military and naval preparation against the aggressor, there'll certainly be curtailment of many customs we have looked upon as God-given rights. About all that will be left is freedom of the press, freedom of speech, right to trial by jury, the right to carry arms. And some of these will be observed mostly as a theory. As for instance, one must be careful of his tongue right now, if his leanings are against our generally accepted theory that the Germans are wrong.

West Texas county committeemen have worked hard and long on the proposal that when a county has been given a cotton acreage allotment by the state committee and this allotment has been divided out among the farms, that properly arranged and recorded shifts of the acreage from one farm to another be permitted. Small 160-acre and less farms have suffered quite considerably in spite of long compliance and men who do not know cotton and do not want it are given cotton acreages on their farms. If the cotton allotted were permitted to be shifted about it could be used much more acceptably, and the need for reduced acreage be made a considerably less burden all the way round.

None are too wise to be mistaken, but few are so wisely just as to acknowledge and correct their mistakes, and especially the mistakes of prejudice.—Borrow.

Greens of a mixture of fresh, tender Russian thistles, careless weeds and lambs quarter mixed, or of any one of the three, if the other two are unavailable, make mighty good spring tonic, especially if they are cooked with good seasoning, preferably hog jowl. This suggestion for those who do not happen to have poke weeds on their premises with which to make poke greens. We sometimes turn up our noses at nature's provender for the simple reason that she affords it in rare abundance.

Good planting seasons about the time the ground has begun to warm up good speaks well for the prospects so far as row crops are concerned in the area of several counties around Floyd and including this county. Wheat apparently had to spend too much of its energy making new root systems to have the fine crop that was promised in early February. Even yet the wheat yield will have to depend on weather of the next two weeks.

The range cow, the sheep and the milk cow have done more for the plains country than any other means of support which have been advanced as yet. This month the milk cow comes in for recognition with National Dairy month, and a campaign slogan of "drink more milk." Milk for health, milk for more profit in the pockets of your own Floyd county people would be a good slogan for the dweller in Floydada.

How a chamber of commerce, properly financed and conducted, can be a definite and far-reaching force in co-ordinating the efforts of individuals in communities has been demonstrated time and again in communities all over the country. One of the best examples of what a chamber of commerce can do for a town is at Oklahoma City, where a chamber of commerce has been the dominating influence in business and civic affairs for thirty years.

About the only well-founded criticism of the State Highway department we have heard in many moons is that that organization lets its contracts in small dribbles, which are bound to be more expensive than larger ones. This may not be true in rough country, but must be so on the high plains such as in Floyd county, where, to illustrate, two small contracts have already been let and completed on Highway 207 and only 12 miles of road built. One can assume that on a construction job of that size in this kind of terrain the cost of moving in, setting up and getting ready for business must have been a large part of the contract cost. The Hesperian would like to see this illustrated by the department in an order to complete the highway to the Briscoe county line this summer—and just see what a whale of a saving they could effect in Floyd county alone.

Experience is victor, never the vanquished; and out of defeat comes the secret of victory.—Mary Baker Eddy.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Spikes

It has been a week or more since I have had time to stop and think first there was the reunion at Floydada then on Thursday the pioneers of Crosby county met at Old Emma and had an old fashioned gathering. I met many friends both old and new at Floydada. It was a great pleasure to talk with them. Mrs. Julia Byars of near town, came to me, asked me if I were John Witt's daughter. She knew my father and my mother when they were young, said she knew me as a baby. Even remembered me as being pretty. Too bad people have to change looks. Somehow this new friend, who was such an old friend after all, touched springs of love in my heart. She told me of my little sister, Emma's, death before my birth. Of the sorrow of a young man and his wife. Remembered how my father taught singing schools. In fact she took me back to the days of my childhood. "Your mother was so pretty," she said. "Such red cheeks, black hair and soft brown eyes."

Wasn't that a lovely experience? Meeting Mrs. Byars. On Thursday we gathered at Old Emma. The white courthouse that stood with beauty and dignity on the high part of the prairie was gone. The store buildings with high fronts were no longer there with their general merchandise stocks. The little houses that held love and happiness had vanished like the antelope that ran near the town. The people had scattered, but like a powerful magnet, the memory of the old days drew them back.

Dinner was spread as of old. More than anyone could eat. Men and women with gray in their hair and wrinkles in their faces called one another by given names. How sweet the names sounded as spoken by old friends! How beautiful each face looked as old days were recalled!

After dinner Big Travis welcomed the pioneers back. Then as names were called, each arose and talked. Not of the present or the future but of the past of Old Emma. "Oh, I wish it was Emma again, and the town still here." Let's keep our homecoming just plain old time way.

"Oh, we don't need any officers or committees. No rodeos or carnivals. The pioneers can have all the good time they want with each other." And so on. There can be other times for modern things that people want, but let's keep the old pioneer reunion at Emma in the old way.

Chad Gott of Ralls is a pioneer of Crosby county. He is a musician and I find he is a poet also. On urging, he consented for me to use the following poem. I am sure you will enjoy this descriptive poem.

A Home In The West
I resolved one day,
When a child out at play,
To make in this life a great test,
I would seek me a wife,
Then I'd start out for life,
And I'd build me a home in the west
You often could hear
Of a country somewhere
Where people grew strong and were blest.
So I set my glad heart
On the day I should start
To build me a home in the west.
No land half so green,
Had ever been seen,
And nothing out there to molest.
I could see why with my eye
O future near by
So built me a home in the west.
Not a tear or a sigh,
As the days passed by,
Till misfortune broke into my rest.
My joys had all flown,
Some loved ones were gone,
And a veil o'er the home in the west
Thirty years now behind.
Since I made up my mind
To build me a little home nest,
Some years were bright,
Tho some dark as night,
In that little rude home in the west
We cannot tell why,
We breathe with a sigh,
God's word says, it's all for the best
We shall have by and by
A home in the sky,
Then we'll have no home in the west.

Preliminary Figures For Floydada 2,726

Preliminary figures on Floydada's population, based on the census bureau's report, are 2,726. Late in May figures were released for Floydada showing a population slightly less than 2,700, but an omission of several names included on a re-check of the population in the city limits was made at that time.

The preliminary figures are subject to revision and correction, Robt. H. Bean, district census supervisor, said.

Figures released at the same time for Floyd county setting the preliminary population count at 10,655, was questioned locally as having numerous families not counted which should have been included.

Ezekiel Teaches Personal Responsibility

Golden Text: "So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God." (Romans 14:12.)

Lesson Text: Ezekiel 33:7-16. Ezekiel 33:7 So thou, O son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; therefore thou shalt hear the word at my mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it; if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou shalt have delivered thy soul.

10 Therefore, O thou son of man, speak unto the house of Israel; Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we pine away in them, how should we then live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

12 Therefore, thou son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression: as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness; neither shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; if he trust to his own righteousness, and commit iniquity, all his righteousness shall not be remembered; but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he shall die for it.

14 Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right;

15 If the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had robbed, walk in the statutes of life, without committing iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 None of his sins that he hath committed shall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

Lesson Thoughts

Our lesson is what Ezekiel, one of the major prophets, has to say about personal responsibility. He was carried a captive to Babylon eight years after Daniel's deportation by the Babylonians. He was called to the prophetic office by a remarkable vision with which the book of Ezekiel opens. He was then thirty years old, for he was a priest, and priests commenced their ministry at that age (Num. 4:3). He continued in the prophetic office for about twenty-two years. He lived, along with his fellow exiles, at a place called Telabib, on the river Chebar.

CITY PARK CHURCH OF CHRIST REVIVAL CONTINUES

(Choice L. Bryant, minister) Evangelist H. P. Cooper is doing some very fine preaching in the gospel meeting now in progress. The attendance is also good for which the City Park congregation is grateful.

We insist that those who are not attending these services are really missing something worthwhile; therefore we urge that they attend once—then we believe they will attend regularly after that.

Mr. Cooper suggests that the likely subject topics for the next three nights are as follows: Thursday night "The Thief on the Cross"; Friday night "Four Bible Baptisms"; and Saturday night "Conversion." Other sermon subjects will be announced from the pulpit.

The services are at 10 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. We anticipate an increase in attendance at each one of these services.

From Houston
From Houston, Arthur LeFevre, Jr. editor of Texaco Topics and other Texas Company publications says: "Sincere congratulations on your splendid 44-page 50th Anniversary edition. You did a magnificent job and I know your fellow citizens will greatly appreciate this Golden Anniversary number and will preserve it among their keepsakes."

Mr. Mahon Liked It
Congressman George Mahon was pleased with the anniversary edition, too. A memorandum dated May 31 said, "I took your Special Edition home last night and read it. It was perfect! Congratulations."

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rhodes, of Shallowater enjoyed their copy of the pioneer edition, they write. "We wish to thank you for sending us a copy of the old settlers' edition," their card said. "We enjoyed reading it. We would have enjoyed being there and seeing friends and acquaintances. We came to Floyd county in 1915 and 1916 respectively and lived there until the last four years. We hope to be there at the next meeting of the old-timers."

Another reader who enjoyed the anniversary feature edition was Irvin Bishop at Long Beach, Calif. "Do give my congratulations to Homer and staff," he writes Mrs. Nora Cox, his sister. "Tell them how much I liked it—a job well done. The familiar faces of the old-timers brought back a lot of memories. The picture of the American Legion fellows—they are just as I remember them best."

The Hesperian staff is duly proud of the enthusiasm which greeted the edition. Copies are still on sale, wrapped for mailing, at fifteen cents

"This farm may also have 40 acres permanent pasture which could also be carried under the soil-building program starting in 1940 with an application of acid phosphate this fall. It will not be necessary to put fertilizer on the entire acreage. It is hoped that 1/4 of the acreage comprising the permanent pasture receive an application of fertilizer at the rate of 200 pounds per acre.

"This farm may have 20 acres of temporary pasture which could come under soil-building program or receive acid phosphate at the rate of 100 pounds per acre this fall, followed by barley, rye or some of the clovers until April, turned under and then planted to some kind of maize or sorghum crops.

"It must be kept in mind that we will be unable to receive this fertilizer for the purpose of applying it directly to a wheat, cotton, or maize crop, but we can receive this fertilizer for the demonstrations by using a crop rotation method," Bredthauer pointed out.

"As Floyd was the only county selected in this program west of Young county," he said, "it is hoped that the Land Use Planning committee will receive the proper cooperation from the demonstrators so that accurate information can be collected and this information disseminated to the agricultural interests of this county to the extent that more profitable land use program planning can be expected in the future."

Governor Proclaims June National Dairy Month In Texas, Asks Observance

The month of June is National Dairy Month, and will be observed in Texas by proclamation of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, issued throughout the state last week.

In his proclamation, Governor O'Daniel cited the possibilities for vast expansion in the dairying industry in this state, pointing out that almost $100,000,000 of Texas farm income is derived directly from dairy products, and urged every citizen to observe National Dairy Month by increasing their use of milk and dairy products during the period set aside.

"It is generally recognized," the governor stated, "that our present consumption of milk is far short of the amount considered by nutrition authorities as proper and practical; namely, one quart daily for children through adolescence and one pint daily for adults."

"The nearest approach to the fabled Fountain of Youth yet discovered," the governor added, "is milk."

About fifteen percent of Texas' total annual farm income is derived from milk and dairy product.

NO ARRESTS ON ISM OR SECT PROPAGANDA IN FLOYD COUNTY
No reports of any "ism" or "sect" propagandists in Floyd county have been received by Sheriff Fred Clark this week. Questioning of one or two persons had resulted in no action of any kind, and was done only in a precautionary manner, the sheriff said.

In some sections of the state, notably at Odessa, Del Rio and Waxahachie, in the past several days, activities of a so-called religious sect have resulted in riotous and near-riots and several arrests.

FARMERS CAN AVOID REMEASUREMENT DEPOSIT
The measuring service of W. J. Burck has been extended for the use of all farmers who have reason to be dissatisfied with the regular compliance work of the A. C. A. it was announced today.

Because so many individuals have expressed dissatisfaction with the arbitrary measurements of the association, it was decided to make this extension. The service offered by Burck is especially useful to farmers who are using the many advantages of contour and terrace farming; and to those operators who might not have confidence in the appointed reporter, and who wish an accurate report of crop acreages on their farms. Due to the shortage of time, it is suggested that you make your reservation immediately with W. J. Burck, 603 Wall Street, Phone 347, to have your farm expertly checked.
