Whew! Floydada Squeezes By Rabbits 13 to 7

Third Quarter Drive By Four Horsemen Make Difference

Gene Smith Bombs And Runs Whirlwinds Slightly Sick

(By Bill Hams)

If you ever saw a Jackrabbit with wings and a kick like a Missouri mule, you have seen a living replica of the Ralls Jackrabbits as they appeared to Floydada's faltering Whirlwinds last Friday night. The Winds won 13 to 7 but their heart action is still far from normal, and the "loyal" fans who stayed away, because they looked for a run-away affair are still mumbling in their heads and kicking themselves.

Underestimated, unheard of, and figured as a "snap", Ralls literally scrambled the Winds during the game behind the smashing, slashing driving fullback, Gene Smith, who is an all-district cinch. Not only that but the Rabbits marched from their own 18 to the Floydada 6 in the last 5 minutes of the game with a dazzling passing attack, also shepherded by Smith.

At half time Floydada was dragging along 7 to 6 in arrears and Coach Odell Winter had to make bad medicine for Ralls at half time. Evidently it was effective because the green and white took the kick-off on their 26 yard line and on blasting line plays worked with good blocking, marched across the Ralls goal, and "Big Foot" Turner booted the "wuxtra" point.

AS I SEE IT

By Bill Hams

New Weakness Pops Up

Just when Coach Winter gets one hole in the Whirlwind team patched up, a new one crops up to deal everyone misery. Against Ralls the Whirlwind right end and safety work was much improved, but pass defense looked like a hobo's britches, and our quarterbacking was much below par.

Golightly is a hammering, ramming, blocking hot-shot of a ball player but he seems to lack that natural instinct a quarterback needs when selecting plays. Of course this is a Monday Morning Quarterback club member speaking, and it may be that no other person could have done any better but it seems that our quarterbacking is weak.

Off hand, it is doubtful if there is anyone on the Whirlwind squad who could call a better game but it might not hurt to try Rushing now and then, after all he may have to ram the outfit next year.

Good, Better, Best

Foster seems to have Lady Luck looking over his shoulder this year. His ball lugging was better Friday night than ever. Golightly looked much better and Patterson played a whale of a game offensively and at safety. Rushing looked improved but is just too slow for end runs.

No doubt by Paducah time, Floydada will have an improved pass defense, we hope, and can bottle up some of that pitching and catching that Ralls exhibited.

Many of the fans are sitting and hoping that Winter will find someone who can throw and catch for Floydada by October 25. Pass offense is also one of our troubles.

Laugh on the Fans

The laugh is on some of Floydada's hot fans who remained at home to snooze or enjoy their radio because they figured Floydada would lick the tar out of the Rabbits. Now they must sit around in idle misery while their bosom pal relates the thrills and chills of the affair. No other pain is quite so acute as having a friend give in detail a game you didn't see because you thought it would be putrid.

Also some of the hottest fans lost their second shirt. Crowell got their first when they donated too many points and took the Green and White. If the fans herabouts don't tighten up on their point-giving few of them will be able to boast of anything better than a barrel for wearing apparel.

Floydada's line gave up quite some yardage but no fatal amount. Line play was generally pretty fair and now that the ends have been fixed perhaps the Winds can handle running plays. Turner, Grigsby, Patterson, Fawver, Goen, Walls and Crawford played swell ball in the line.

Who Said So?

Mysterious Mike has gone the high road and this column has taken the low road. This week Mr. Slim Pickens will handle the prognostications for this column. He will base his winners and scores upon a Cardui almanac, which he claims cinches the whole thing from beginning to end.

Lockney reversed some guesses by thrashing Crosbyton in an aerial battle 12 to 7. Davis to Kelley passes was the difference. Matador tossed us wrong again by refusing to be upset by Spur. Matador won 20 to 13. Allsup and Kennedy returned intercepted passes for touchdowns.

Turning to Page 7, "Slim" reads three paragraphs and comes up with Spur over Ralls. He says anytime the moon is where it is the score will be Spur 19, Ralls 13 or vice versa.

Coupling a 1902 Capt. Billy Whizz Bang with the almanac, Slim says Paducah 33, Crosbyton 0. He wagers that this a dead eye cinch and even Floydada fans can cough up 13 points and take Paducah and not lose over two shirts and a pair of socks.

Twenty volumes of Encyclopedia Britannica and the almanac produced the masterpiece of Matador 25, Turkey 6. Slim refused to divulge how Turkey managed for the 6 points.

Floydada and Lockney will rest whether they need it or not.

To A Contemporary
Down Matador way a contemporary has bounced up. Although the column writer is unknown to us, the column is titled "Sports Side-lights" and is good reading. To that fellow we say, don't underestimate Ralls or Gene Smith, Mobley's ankle will hold out long enough to win district for Paducah; Golightly is not 14 years of age but probably 17. This year's all-district backfield will be Golightly, Floydada; Smith, Ralls; Allsup, Matador and Mobley Paducah.

Land Use Planning Board In Study Of Co. Projects

Terracing, Dairy Show, Egg Marketing, Among Subjects for Discussion

A resume of activities thus far and preliminary plans for work during 1941 featured the meeting of the Floyd County Land Use Planning committee held recently in Floydada.

The session, presided over by Chairman L. A. Williams, was attended by twenty-five farm men and women and their guests.

In reporting the activities of the Egg Marketing association, recently organized, Miss Edith Wilson, county agent, said that 20 farmers were marketing an average of 350 dozen eggs per week at a price of 20c per dozen for 'top' eggs and 15 to 17c per dozen for lower grades. The association eggs are being purchased by a local firm.

Discussions were heard on a shelterbelt project to be considered as a portion of next year's program. R. B. Gary, Mrs. Chas. B. Smith, Cecil Purcell and Buck Sams were named as members of a committee to cooperate with W. E. Webb, State Director of the Prairie States Forestry project.

Election Plan Outlined

A new plan for the election of members of the Floyd County Land Use Planning committee was adopted. In the initial organization there were 59 members, thirty of whom have met and served regularly. New members to be appointed from the total will be appointed from Irick, Almon, McCoy and Lakeview communities. No community is to have more than three members. Representatives and vacancies will be filled by selecting one member from each home demonstration club and another member through a community-wide election.

Terracing equipment, heretofore under the supervision of the land use planning group, will be assigned to the newly-formed Floyd County Soil Conservation District No. 104. Previously the Land Use Planning Board had provided, through farmers having soil-erosion problems, the labor and funds needed to keep this machinery in operation.

Junior Dairy Show

Preliminary plans for the Junior Livestock and Dairy show to be held in April of next year were given attention. Herwin E. Strickland, secretary of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, said in behalf of that organization that the civic group was planning to supply premiums for winners in the various divisions and otherwise assist in any way possible.

The dairy subcommittee consisting of Harry Morckel, D. S. Battey, E. L. Angus, Bill McNeill, W. H. Nelson and H. E. Strickland was retained for the new year and other men named to work in conjunction with it were Robert Smith, Judge Alton B. Chapman, Virgil Williams, Geo. B. McAllister, Henry Hinton, Herman Stowe, R. K. McCoy and H. G. Barber.

Edgar Kemp, of the Soil Conservation Service, stated that his department was ready to begin activity and requested that members of the Land Use Planning Committee report any erosion hazards in their precincts.

D. F. Bredthauer, County Agricultural Agent, read a letter from W. B. Orr, Secretary of the State Land Use Planning committee, regarding wildlife preservation in the Floyd county game preserve area. The group voted a resolution of approval which offered the co-operation of the Land Use Planning committee.

A letter, outlining the problems of the County Land Use Planning committee, was drafted to the State AAA executive committee. This letter stated the desire of the Floyd county group to, if possible, secure reimbursement to farmers for expenses for land use project conducted in the period from the close of the 1940 program until the 1941 program started in January.

The major project and need in each community will be determined by individual group meetings in the near future and following these a meeting of the County Land Use Planning committee will be held at which time the major problem for the county will be ascertained. County Agent Bredthauer said.

Guests for the meeting were H. E. Strickland, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, C. F. Milam, representative of the Emergency Feed and Seed Loan administration; H. G. Barber, Floydada Agriculture teacher; Orval D. Hays, representative of the Farm Security administration and Miss Fannie M. Rees, Home Economics instructor in Floydada High school.

LYNN COLVILLE ENLISTS IN ENGINEERS' CORPS

Following in the footsteps of his father, Lynn Colville, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. D. Colville, last week enlisted in the engineers corps, before the draft became effective. It is a tradition in the family not to permit the draft to catch any eligible member of the family. When the country faces danger, it is the duty of the eligibles to enlist without being drafted, said J. D. Colville this week.

Mrs. R. M. McCauley is expected home sometime this week from Waxahachie, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Bartley and Mr. Bartley.

Mrs. Bagwell Winner First Place, Rugs So. Plains Fair

CENTER, October 15.—The Center Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. Clyde Bagwell Monday, October 14.

Mrs. W. P. Sims presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Bagwell our club representative, won first place on her rug at the South Plains fair at Lubbock.

Mrs. Jas. E. Green, chairman of the mattress committee, announced the second division of mattress making would not be until after cotton pulling was over.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. O. G. Mayfield gave the council report. In the report the announcement was made that a rug exhibit would be had at a date to be announced later. Rug needles, frames, materials, and steps in rug making along with the rugs would be shown.

For an unknown reason Miss Wilson, agent, was not present for the meeting. Mrs. H. B. Mankins had charge of the recreation period and then a round table discussion was had.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Roy Fawver Monday, October 23.

Those present were Mrs. A. W. Anderson, Mrs. C. J. McClure, Mrs. O. G. Mayfield, Mrs. H. B. Mankins, Mrs. Jas. E. Green, Mrs. W. P. Sims, Mrs. Roy Fawver, Mrs. J. L. Montgomery, Mrs. W. B. Jordan and the hostess, Mrs. Bagwell.

Membership was well represented at both services of church Sunday. Rev. Farrell delivered interesting sermons.

Spears & Daniel Move To New Location

Spears & Daniel are in a new location this week.

Tuesday they moved from the Randerson building on the southeast corner of the square to the rear part of the Day & Night Garage building on North Main street, across from the post office.

Their change was made necessary by enlargement plans of Cline & Rainer, who plan to use the space formerly used by the Spears & Daniel firm for expansion of their auto supply business.

Spears & Daniel have modern parts and merchandise replacement parts, Prestone and other items for the modern automobile.

Some six weeks ago they took the International truck agency here and are featuring sales and service for it.

ALICE BELL IS MEMBER OF ALL-GIRLS' BAND AT JOHN TARLETON COLLEGE

Alice Bell, daughter of Mrs. P. W. Bell of Floydada, has been selected as a member of one of the most unusual musical organizations in the south. She is a member of the John Tarleton college all girls' band of forty pieces. There are but few similar collegiate organizations in the country.

This John Tarleton college organization was started two years ago by Harold J. Bihum, professor of music. He still directs the band. Since John Tarleton has an R. O. T. C. unit of 800 cadets, the official band was a military organization of cadets. But among the 500 co-eds there were so many girl musicians that Bihum conceived the idea of an All Girls' band.

James Wilson is moving over to the Kappa Sigma house on Fraternity row, now that rush week is over on the campus of Southern Methodist university in Dallas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson, 112 South First Street, Floydada.

James is one of 159 boys pledged by the 10 Greek letter fraternities at S. M. U.

O. P. Rutledge Jr., of Floydada is among the thirty young men at John Tarleton college who are taking advantage of the pilot training course being offered at that institution. Sponsored by the Civil Aeronautics authority, the successful completion of the course leads to a private pilots license.

Rutledge is taking this course in addition to his regular college work. In addition to approximately forty hours of flying time, he attends ground school every night.

The Martha Girls' Sunday school class of the Methodist church will sponsor a rummage sale on Saturday, October 26. The sale will be held at the Brown's building on West California street.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to buy new song books for the Methodist church.

Anyone who has any discarded clothing they are planning to dispose of will please call N. E. Tyler. The articles will be picked up and placed in homes where they will be needed and appreciated, Mr. Tyler said.

Miss Irene Dally, a student in a business college at Amarillo visited Wednesday and Thursday here with relatives.

Roy Armstrong of Los Angeles, California visited from Friday until Monday in the home of his uncle, N. A. Armstrong.

Quarterly Conference To Be Held Sunday At Rushing Chapel

RUSHING CHAPEL, October 15.—The Fourth Quarterly conference will be held at the church Sunday night. You are invited to come and bring a covered dish.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday afternoon, October 14, at the church. The first lesson out of the new book, "Up-roots of American," was discussed. Mrs. Lee Rushing taught the class.

Mrs. D. D. Shipley of Floydada spent the day with Mrs. S. L. Rushing Sunday. In the afternoon they went to Lubbock and visited Mrs. Rushing's daughter, Mrs. T. M. Jones, and her grandchildren, Lula Teal and Jim Wright, who are students in Tech college.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Connor and son, Eddie Wayne, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Taylor at Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Scroggins of Memphis visited Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. C. B. Smart and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lyles, Olin Lyles and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Chesnut attended the singing at Cedar Hill Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jones and children of Floydada spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones.

Teachers Will Hold Meeting Monday Night At FHS

Teachers in Floyd county will hold their annual meeting Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Floydada High school auditorium to elect officials for the 1940-41 interscholastic league.

Last year the league meet was held at Lockney with J. W. Jones, superintendent acting as head of the county meet. This year the meet will be held in Floydada and it is expected that Walter Travis, superintendent of Floydada schools, will be elected as head since such is customary.

Other officials for each event will be named by the group while it is in session.

Also the teachers plan to elect officers and organize the Floydada chapter of the Texas State Teachers association.

Jones was president of last year's organization but since he is now school head at Denver City a new president must be named. O. K. Davis, former principal at Floydada High school, who was program vice-president last year is also gone and a new vice-president must also be elected. Mrs. Jerry Cox of Lockney was secretary last year.

These announcements were made this week by County Superintendent Clarence Guffee.

Group Study—

Any eligible producer of the above named groups can make request to his ginner that his cotton be sampled at the press box and sample forwarded to the classing office in Floydada. His bale will be specially tagged by the gin with the program tag and immediately upon arrival, the cotton will be classed by a U. S. Department of Agriculture classer and a certificate giving the grade and staple will be returned to the gin from which it arrived. Then the ginmer, who is acting as purchasing agent for an approved shipper, will quote the farmer the program price for his cotton. If the farmer desires he can sell on this market, or if he chooses he may have his cotton go through the government loan or sell outright to whomever he wishes.

The program has hardly had a fair chance of operation due to bad weather and lack of harvest hands, but even in spite of this, over 100 farmers have taken advantage of this program and have found that the price ranged from $1.50 to $2.25 per bale above loan values. But this does not fairly represent what the average price will be as the program price is based on the cotton futures market and thereby varies from day to day.

County Agricultural Agent D. F. Bredthauer wishes to call to the attention of the groups that the true value of this program during its first year of operation should not be weighed so much in dollars and cents as it is giving the cotton farmers of Floyd and Hale counties a great opportunity to bind themselves together into a one variety organization; and it gives them an untold amount of experience in grade and staple and marketing their cotton in uniform lots. It further gives the farmers of this area a local classing office which expedites matters tremendously. Naturally if we give this system our whole-hearted support, it can be expected that the program will again be with us in the following years and render us assistance along this line until we are able to learn to operate our own cotton marketing program.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Simon and children visited Mr. Simon's brother, A. H. Simon and family of Canyon Sunday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Mas-singale, a son October 5. He has been named Gary DeWayne.

Dairy Day—

Floyd 4-H boys have shown an unusual amount of interest in livestock work and a number of fine pure bred gilts have been purchased recently. Seth Johnston of the McCoy Community, purchased a second prize Duroc Jersey gilt at the Lubbock Fair last week and will show his pig in the spring show. Glen Mitchell has some very fine Chester White pigs and will also be on hand for the show. Henry Neil Schach, Aiken, with his registered Hampshire pig is only wanting a chance to get into the show ring. A. P. Shugart, Aiken with his dairy calf will be back again this year.

Some Floyd County 4-H beef calf demonstrators will go places next spring. Billy Bean of South Plains has two fine Hereford baby beef calves on feed. Charles Beedy, also of South Plains, has a nice animal in his calf and will be at the Floydada Show.

Jack Merrell, 4-H boy from Edgin, says that he has not been feeding his Hereford calf for nothing and that he is planning to bring his calf "on top of the hill" for the Floydada Show. Frank Jeter, Sand Hill 4-H Pig Club member, also has a fine Chester White gilt. There are many 4-H boys that have long wanted a chance to exhibit their livestock at a spring show.

Floyd County 4-H boys have not only carried livestock projects for the past two years but have had 100 per cent completion on their record books. Each of these records gives the price paid for the project, the amount of feed consumed or other expenses, and the price received at the close of the demonstration. At the present time these boys are completing their records so that they can be judged in the Santa Fe Railway Chicago trip contest. For the past two years Floyd County has been successful in sending two boys, Percy Tate in 1938 and Elton Wayne Swift in 1939, to the International Livestock Show in Chicago with all expenses paid. To date some good entries have been received in this contest.

Seven 4-H boys, Junior Cummings, Carroll Johnston, Marvin Glassmoyer, Thomas Lee Marr, A. P. Shugart, Jr., David Graham and Glen Carnack, attended the Dallas Fair last week. Sponsors accompanying the boys on this trip were O. G. Glassmoyer, O. F. Cummings and Sidney Johnston.

Junior Cummings and Carroll Johnston, members of the Floyd County dairy demonstration team, again gave their demonstration, "The Value of Milk as a Food," at the Dallas Fair and it will be remembered that this team was one of the high four at College Station during Short Course last summer.

These boys are still receiving invitations to put on their demonstration. Only recently they received an invitation from the Dairy Manufacturers of Texas to put on this demonstration during their annual meeting at Fort Worth in January.

One hundred and seventeen boys were enrolled in 4-H work for 1940 and every member is working on his record books so that the county will again be able to report 100 per cent completion.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE SUBJECT ANNOUNCED

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 16.—Texas schoolboy orators get their teeth into current events early in life, when they tackle debate questions of the University of Texas-sponsored Interscholastic League.

This year's topic, briefed and argued pro and con in a new bulletin just off the press, is "Resolved, That Texas Should Increase the Tax on Natural Resources." A subject certain to be debated by the Texas Legislature when it convenes in January.

Interest in the new question has reached an all-time high for League topics, Roy Bedichek, League director, said, with more than 14,000 copies of the new bulletin demanded.

Mrs. S. J. Chenoweth will leave the first of the week for Dallas where she will take a special course in Pathology and colon therapy. She will return to continue work in the office of Dr. Ira Bowman.

Miss Maurine Hoyle Candidate Queen For College Homecoming

Miss Maurine Hoyle, first grade teacher at Andrews Ward school, has been selected as Floydadas candidate for queen of the Homecoming Fiesta at West Texas State college Saturday, according to an announcement made Tuesday by Robert Linder, president of the Floyd County Ex-Students association.

Lockney High school band and a delegation from Lockney are planning to accompany their candidate who will be named today or tomorrow.

Among the other "Exes" from Floydada who will attend the celebration are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Travis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Linder, Miss Fannie Mae Rees, Miss Glenn Holmes, Gayle Hemphill and Howard Amick.

The queen candidates will be honored at a luncheon at a football game between the Buffaloes and Lumberjacks of Arizona State University at 2:30, and at the Homecoming Fiesta and dance in the evening. Coronation of the queen is set for 7:30 p. m. in the main auditorium.

The fiesta will take place in and about Cousins hall. Two tents will be pitched outside to take care of the overflow which has been present for two years at the annual occasion. More than three thousand ex-students are expected to attend.

Morgan Wright Sick During Past Week; Reported Improved

City Marshal, Morgan Wright, is believed to be much better this morning after having been very seriously ill from Sunday until Tuesday and having been confined to his home since Wednesday of last week.

Leslie Wright of Plainview and Clyde Wright of Post are at their father's bedside. Clyde plans to leave this afternoon if his father continues to improve.

C. E. Nell will act as City Marshal until Mr. Wright is able to be back on the job.

H. D. Club Women Win Ribbons So. Plains And Dallas Fairs

Floyd county home demonstration club women of the county have not been indolent the past year in their efforts to master the instructions of the home demonstration agent and put into practice the fine art of perfection. This fact is evident by the numbers of ribbons won at the South Plains and Dallas fairs.

Fifteen out of the eighteen entries at the South Plains fair at Lubbock, held the first week in October, won prizes. Names of winners and their entries are listed as follows: Mrs. Geo. Stiles, wool hooked rug, first place; Mrs. E. C. Hayden, wool braided rug, first place; Mrs. Clyde Bagwell, silk hooked rug, first place; Mrs. C. B. Lyles, silk hooked rug, second place; Mrs. A. H. Kreis and Mrs. C. B. Bartlett won the remaining eleven ribbons with entries of angel food cake, preserves, jelly and home made soap.

In the two divisions of bedspreads Floyd county was notified Wednesday from the Dallas fair, of a $10 cash prize in white bedspreads and $5 cash prize in colored bedspreads. The entries were sent to Dallas September 30. Women who furnished entries are Mrs. David Battey, Mrs. W. C. Sims, Mrs. Ben Quebe, Mrs. W. D. Burke, Mrs. Harlan Day, Mrs. A. H. Kreis, Mrs. Clarence Brandes, Mrs. P. F. Bertrand, Mrs. Mal Jarboe.

Democrats—

(Continued from page one) seen fit not to co-operate in the program, who has not been benefited immensely by the about-face which has marked the federal government's program the past seven years, he added, and declared the work of national defense called for continuing in power a ticket which is thoroughly in sympathy with the great agricultural America, previously so long neglected and made the football of political intrigue.

First Fund Donors

G. C. Collins, prominent Sand Hill farmer, and Herschel Swepton, employe of Willson & Son Lumber company are the first donors recorded for the Democratic National campaign fund in Floyd county.

Collins was received for a $5 bill which he brought to the county chairman, and Swepton put down a dollar.

Any other volunteers who are not seen by the regularly-named finance committee men are urged to make donations, and will be accepted for any funds paid in at The Hesperian office.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. J. E. Newton of Dougherty and Mrs. Roy Snodgrass, Floydada, were injured Wednesday afternoon when their automobile overturned north of South Plains. They were brought to Floydada hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Snodgrass and Mrs. Newton were on their way to a funeral at Quitaque when a rear tire blew out, causing the car to overturn.

Mrs. Arlie Dean of Hereford was a guest of her sister, Mrs. W. R. Simon, and family from Thursday until Saturday.

Mrs. W. U. White and Miss Ruby White made a business trip to Lubbock Tuesday.

Conscription—

M. Willson, T. P. Collins, and W. H. Counts. Upon receipt of each questionnaire and other needed information supplied either by the registrant or others who know, the board will make its classifications.

Classifications will be I—Those persons available for training and service in the land or navy forces. II. Those persons deferred because their public interest is best served by their staying at their usual work. III. Those persons deferred because others are dependent upon them for support. IV. Those persons deferred from service either by law itself, or for physical disability, or other reasons.

All deferments are temporary and may be changed by the board upon presentation of cause. The board will inform the draftee of any change in his classification. Only persons in Class I will be given physical examination.

According to the bulletin issued to each registrant "As a part of your duty to defend the nation, it is your duty to keep yourself in touch with your local board and to know what the local board has done about you." The telephone number for the board will be 224.

Officially reported registrations by voting precincts in the county were as follows:

S. W. Floydada, No. 1	174

S. E. Floydada, No. 23	109
N. E. Floydada, No. 24	70

To this total will be added figures from Sterley and from South Plains which had not been reported officially at 9:45 o'clock but were expected momentarily at press time to bring the total to a figure above 1,350 for the county.

Home Guard—

Approval of plans for the organization of a home guard company in Floydada had been given by several local civic and patriotic organizations this week and more than ordinary interest evidenced in plans for such an organization indicated, said Harry Moreck, commander of McDermott Post, American Legion, late Tuesday.

It is believed that a complement of officers and enlisted men could easily be obtained and probably is an application for permit to organize a troop will be made soon.

If full complement of men and officers is obtained the company would have 74 enlisted men with a captain, a first lieutenant and a second lieutenant. Seventeen non-commissioned officers including seven sergeants and 10 corporals would be chosen from the ranks, as well as a bugler.

At this time there are available local citizens holding reserve officer rank of captain and second lieutenant and there would be need for a first lieutenant and a bugler, the latter from the ranks.

Confidence that outmoded equipment would be available for the local unit, if organized, within the course of the next several months, was indicated by Mr. Moreck. "There is much interest in the proposal, especially amongst the youngsters who are anticipating a year of service in the army after they reach 21," said the post commander. "They would like to learn what they can about military matters before they are called." A considerable sprinkling of men who served in the World War also will offer to serve in the company, it was indicated, and others of some maturity of age who have had any military training would also like to join.

This arrangement, the council members are agreed, was thought by them to have had the approval of the WPA authorities. However, they had been presented, they said, with a contract obligating the city to expend $1914 per year or $150.90 per month, which they had not signed. It was their understanding that the present arrangement had been approved as to continue.

The news story last week issued by WPA authorities pointed out that during the past year WPA has expended $5,466.54 for salaries and textile, while the City of Floydada has spent $595.70 for rent of utilities, textiles and findings. Seven thousand six hundred and sixty garments have been completed on the project which have been issued to needy families through the surplus commodity distribution project, the statement said, adding that 13 women are now employed in the sewing room.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hollums of Lubbock visited their parents Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hollum Wednesday.

Floydada Band Wins Second Place At Ralls Bills Day

The band enjoyed a trip to Ralls last Tuesday. They were invited to attend the annual "Bill's Day" affair held there by the Ralls Chamber of Commerce.

There were three other bands there the H-S. U. Cowboy band, the Crosbyton and Ralls High school bands. The band participated in the parade also.

The band had the pleasure of hearing Wiley and Gene's broadcast before they played a few numbers on the bandstand, in front of the Ralls auditorium.

Then they listened to Hop Halley's Drug Store Cowboys before they started home. The band received a second place prize of $15.

Floydada Future Farmers and Homemakers Present Plans for Remainder of the Year

Activities For Year Are Outlined At General Meeting

Plans for sending delegates to the district meetings and national conventions of the Floydada chapter of Future Farmers.

The activities of the chapter will include improvement of school grounds, improvement of ag room, destroy insects, make field trips in connection with class work, assist the local committee with the dairy show, show two ag pictures each month, put up four FFA window exhibits, sponsor chapter project, put on radio program, attend the Fort Worth Fat Stock show, and the Lubbock South Plains fair.

Recreation activities are to include a father and son banquet, sponsor athletic teams, joint meetings with Home Ec girls, co-sponsor stunt night and attend the area encampment.

Edward Elliott, state secretary for the Future Farmers of America, from Shallowater, was a visitor in the Floydada agricultural department Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Elliott gave the boys a message from the state adviser, J. B. Rutland, then explained the current cotton improvement contest and the swine improvement program.

Joe Rushing, president of the local chapter, gave a brief outline of the current year's program of work; then followed a round table discussion of Future Farmers problems.

Accompanying Mr. Elliott on his trip was Glenn Watson, last year's reporter for the Shallowater chapter.

Each ag boy has decided on his job as part of the fire prevention program, which was the past week.

MEETING IS CALLED FOR NEW HOME EC CLUB MEMBERS FRIDAY

A meeting was held in the auditorium in the sixth period for the new members of the Home Ec club on Friday.

Miss Rees and Miss Wren took charge of the meeting until the class elected officers to take charge. Miss Rees and the class had a discussion upon the classifications of the different officers.

Then the officers were elected as follows: president, Donice Cline; vice-president, Joy Cardwell; secretary, Florence Jones; treasurer, Roberta Medlen; Joy Cardwell and Mary Frances Jones made speeches for the president, Donice Cline.

Everyone seemed pleased with the officers elected. The following people gave a piano solo: Mary Helen Mickey, Nelda Fagan, Arla Vee Bishop.

New System Report Cards Installed In High School

Floydada High school will have altogether a new system of report cards this year. Instead of having one card for all the subjects there will be one small card about 3 1/2 inches by 5 inches for every subject taught here. These cards will be given by each teacher of that subject after the grades have been averaged and recorded on them.

A card with the report of department will also be given by Principal Robert Linder. These cards are to be given out on Friday after each six weeks and returned on the following Monday. A fee of five cents will be charged for every card that is lost or not returned. Envelopes will be furnished by the school for each student.

This will enable a better report system to the parents and for the students of Floydada High school.

HERE'S LOWDOWN ON YOUR FACULTY MEMBERS IN FLOYDADA HIGH

Miss Miller, also, has a warm friendly smile that wins friends for her.

FLOORS AND WALLS ARE KEPT CLEAN; STUDENTS SHOW APPRECIATION

How many have noticed how clean we have kept the walls. They still shine like polished gold. Why don't we keep them that way. You don't have to go up and prop your feet on them; the floor is the place for your feet.

It took a lot of Mr. Boteler's time to paint all the walls in every room, so help keep them clean. We would like to keep them the way they are.

The floors also, were cleaned well during the vacation, but it is nearly impossible to keep them as clean as the walls.

When you want to see if your fountain pen has any ink in it, get a piece of paper; it won't take much of your time. And just think how bad ink looks on the floors. We know that all of you will help to keep them looking as well as possible.

STUDENT FORUM

Choose Willkie

(By Bennie Crawford)
The American people are being told that there is only one man in these United States capable of serving as their leader. They are told that their safety and welfare and happiness depends upon the re-election of this one man. Men who have the gift of doing with words what the slight-of-hand performer does with objects, warn them of crises which do not exist and advise them to break away from the old foggy American custom established by Washington and elect a president for the third term.

Many of these men disguise their political speeches patriotic talks. The words used in these talks are all right, but the hidden meaning does not conform with the democratic process.

Anyone who dares to challenge this meaning is in danger of being boxed and rotten-eyed by hoodlums. To know the danger of their doctrine the American people have but to harken to the voice of all people who have ever been enslaved for their own "protection, safety and welfare" saying:

- (1) Beware of too much personal power for any man.
- (2) Beware of the European doctrine of indispensability.
- (3) Beware of the next step, for it is final and may be fatal.

I am not saying that if Roosevelt is elected, he will become a dictator; but I am saying that if we admit that one man is indispensable to the United States, then we must admit that our American way is a failure and that if we admit this, it probably won't be long until we will have a dictator.

How true was Shakespeare's little poetical proverb:
"A little fire is quickly trodden out,
Which being suffered, rivers cannot quench."

But let us leave all "third term" prejudices behind and consider the two candidates, Willkie and Roosevelt, for what they are and stand for. First, we will consider Roosevelt who rose to the presidency largely through inherited wealth and pull. We will judge his effectiveness as Chief Executive by his past two terms in that office. It will take little research work to find that during the past eight years the national defense has been sadly neglected, that a huge national debt has been created, that the wealth has accumulated with a few and the rest have been left poor, and that many who were independent are now dependent on the government for a living.

We should not criticize Roosevelt too much for this. Any other wealthy person unaccustomed to labor, economy, and adverse conditions, probably could not have done a bit better. Still, if we elect Roosevelt for a third term, we cannot expect his next administration to be any better; in fact it is likely to be worse. Psychology has proved that a man improves up to the age of 25 then remains about the same until he is 50, after which time he slowly declines in efficiency and clear sightedness. Roosevelt is 59 years old now.

Now, on the other hand, let us consider Willkie. His approach toward the presidency has been slightly different. During his struggle for a place in the world he has harvested wheat in Minnesota, dressed on a cement block near he operated a maddled steel outside Chicago husked corn in Iowa, milked cows in Wisconsin, picked vegetables in California, ran a tent hotel in Colorado, taught school in Kansas, practiced law and farmed. However, he has never split rails, the process that has produced one or two great presidents. (I don't know why he hasn't split any, but it must be that he couldn't find any to split). His contact has been with all classes of people throughout the United States. From 1919, just after he had returned from Europe where he fought in the American army during the first World War, to 1929 he was in court 200 days a year taking on all comers. An old lawyer who knew Willkie back in those days said, "Willkie had a way with juries that was equaled by few lawyers. He didn't try to impress them with his language or his learning. He was simple and direct, a man you would instinctively believe and trust."

In a speech last week he gave his position on several of the main issues of the present crisis as follows:

- 1. Under no circumstances will I favor appeasing the dictators.
- 2. I am in favor of aiding England by selling her supplies for the simple reason that she is our first line of defense.
- 3. I do not want to send the United States to war. We can best help England and ourselves by staying out.
- 4. We are not adequately prepared. Most of the equipment of

Choose Roosevelt

(By Billy Asher)
Who should be our president? A man with experience, or a man who has never served as a public office holder. A man who has been the governor of the state of New York, assist-secretary of the navy, a person whose background shows many years of public service, or a person whose background includes only the abilities that are essential for a business man, an institution created for personal profit instead of public benefit.

First, let us look at the qualifications of President Roosevelt. The main thing is that he has been the president of the United States for nearly eight years, thereby proving his ability and self-sacrifice. While Roosevelt was assist-secretary of the navy, he was working for preparedness long before the World War broke out, and when war was declared, he worked with such vigor that he became known as "a steam engine in breeches."

Secretary Daniels said, "Roosevelt's energy makes him do the work of several men." All through the many years of Roosevelt's political life he has worked with such vigor that he was always become prominent in anything he has undertaken. Even while he was regaining his health after an attack of infantile paralysis, he ran for governor of New York and was elected. Such faith and hard work as this has brought Roosevelt into the high position of president of the United States, twice in succession, and through the good judgement of the people, he will be elected again.

Next, let us look upon the past of Wendell Willkie. Though it is not a just comparison with Roosevelt's it is only right to examine it. As a boy, Willkie was a great hand at romances (which were always without meaning). So good was he at prevaricating that his school mates named him "Windy Willkie" and from the present presidential election, it seems that he has not lost any of his ability to "Windy Willkie." Willkie promises great things for the future, yet great results.

Although it seems funny to me that in every speech that he makes, he forgets to mention how that he plans to bring about such wonderful results. Willkie is in favor of our present farm program, social security and relief. In fact, he is in favor of practically everything that the New Deal stands for.

The only change that he promises is to lower the cost of administration and thereby raise amount of benefits. This is an "Ill Given" promise that is as old as politics. Yet, Willkie seems to think that we can be taken in by it. Willkie expects to be elected by two things; namely, ungrounded promises, and the third term issue.

One of Willkie's greatest criticisms of the new deal is the amount of money that the present administration has spent. It is easy to understand why so much money was spent when you understand the situation.

The United States has just gone through one of the worst depressions in its history; the government did more to remedy situation than ever before. We have had one of the greatest industrial changes in our history; the government did much to help bring this about. Never before have strikes been so frequent and never before has the government done so much to them and remedy the cause.

During this administration the farmers have received more help than ever before in the history of our country. Never before has an administration tried so hard and accomplished so much in our foreign relations and trade. More has been done to improve our transportation facilities, and working conditions than in all the rest of our history; or in other words, the New Deal has up so many new fields of promoting public welfare that a corresponding rise in administrative cost should be expected. Further more, if adequate service is rendered during the next administration as has been in the last, regardless of the party, the expense will be as much or more.

the fighting forces of the United States is merely on order.

5. If I am elected president; I will try to provide jobs for all, but I will not cut off or refuse relief for those who need it.

6. I will also try to cut down this government expense as much as is possible. I am convinced that this country is heading for bankruptcy under the present administration.

Committees Of Home Economics Club Make Reports

A number of Future Homemakers from the Floydada chapter attended the area meeting at Canyon last Saturday.

The girls from Floydada presented a formal initiation ceremony on the program that afternoon. Louise Willson presided and Evelyn Elliott acted as vice-president in the ceremony. La Juana Leibfried acted as secretary and Floy Jean Hale as parliamentarian.

Maudene Moore represented the mother of homemaking, the spirits of homemaking were represented by Arlene Pyffe, Donice Cline, Mary Frances Jones, Eugenia Martin, Francis Ruth Garret, Joy Cardwell, Helen Young and Betty Jo McCleskey.

The new members were represented by Berneice Kennamer, Pauline Walden, Frances Keim and Irene Wisdom and Dorothy Tye who gave a response to the welcome.

At noon the girls enjoyed a picnic lunch. Mrs. Walton Hale, Mrs. Cline and Miss Reese took the girls in their cars.

Committees of the Home Ec. club met on Tuesday night, October 8, to plan the program and projects for the coming year. Twenty-one girls and the sponsors, Miss Rees and Miss Wren, were present for this important meeting.

The yearbook committee planned the program and decided on the theme for the year, which is "Building for the Future." The finance committee made all financial plans necessary for the year's work and also decided on club projects to be undertaken.

The refreshment committee planned the refreshments for all the night meetings in the future, and the social committee decided on the number of socials the club will have. This committee also made plans for the first social, which is to be a Christmas party.

The arrangement and decoration committee worked jointly with the yearbook committee to decide on the meeting places and also on the things that must be done before each meeting.

The girls accomplished a great deal during the meeting, and they have reserved every second Tuesday of each month for other committee meetings.

SIX WEEKS TESTS FACE TREMBLING STUDENTS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Six weeks test! Why must we have them? That is the question nearly every student asks. Well for the answer just ask the teachers; they will tell you exactly.

Since this is the week for the first six weeks tests, everybody is busy getting notebooks in order, book reports ready, and cramming for tests.

Those who have been playing around for the last five weeks will probably be burning midnight oil, trying to learn who discovered America or who wrote "The Deserted Village." Just remember though, after this week it will be five more weeks before another six week test.

Queen Will Be Voted For The Carnival; Votes Are 1 Cent

The Junior Carnival will take place on October 31, at the R. C. A. gymnasium. The junior class is planning several events for entertainment, to be presented to the general public at a minimum price. The carnival is going to feature several new ideas which we think will make it more enjoyable. Every one's next door neighbor will be there to participate in the following events.

A new 1941 model 5 tube General Electric radio will be given away. It features a streamlined white cabinet with push buttons for the stations at Dallas, Lubbock, Amarillo, and Wichita Falls. Many other stations can be had with good reception. This model would ordinarily sell for $16.95.

A new all wool car blanket will also be given away at the carnival. It is valued at about $5. It will also be on display with the radio.

Each class will elect a Queen to compete against each other and the one receiving the most votes will be crowned Queen at the Carnival with a real crown from Anderson Brothers Jewelers at Lubbock.

The other Queens will be attendants for the winner. Each vote will be 1c a piece, to be placed in containers for this purpose.

A "gimmie committee" will ask for donations of various articles from the places of business to be auctioned off at the carnival. With each article will be an advertisement for the place of business which donated it.

There will be several other amusement centers including the Hall of Horrors, The Fish Pond, Shoot Hitter, and Nail Driving. Another booth of interest will be chinking at the negroes. This isn't the half of it, so be sure to watch next week's paper for descriptions of the above mentioned booths and further information on the Junior carnival.

Our Own HORNS OF PLENTY

Livestock Loans Aid Community Prosperity
This community does not depend for its prosperity on any fabled "horn of plenty." We have our own "horns of plenty" which are pretty numerous on the heads of young cattle being fed for the market.
We are glad to cooperate with local stockmen who need funds for feeding cattle and other livestock. These loans are a good investment for us and they are a good thing for the community.

Mixed signs, due to the fact that rains have been spotted in the territory this year, make it practically impossible for even the experts on the Hesperian's staff to give the folks the date of the first frost. One set of signs set the date for around Friday or Saturday of this week. Another set, fully as authentic, sets the date around November 7. The cattle are putting on heavy coats of rough hair early. The insects of the prairie also are setting up their housekeeping affairs for winter in a double rush, and the crows and buzzards give similar warnings. However, the broom weeds give mixed signs and some mesquites are rushing the season, while others are not. Better watch closely if you have a big crop of late tomatoes and be sure not to lose that good chow you are planning for the long winter months. We regret we are unable to set the exact date of the frost but call attention to the fact it is not our fault. We have communed with nature's visible forms and find that she is a fickle old heifer.

Red Cross officials—we mean high up officials—are disturbed by the reports coming in to them from the interior of the United States to the effect that supplies of this organization's large volunteer band are getting into Germany. That nation made officials announcement it would need no supplies from this country for its needy and war sufferers. Also, the thought is prevalent in the mid-west that the Red Cross is hugely financed for any present needs. Thus, volunteer sweaters and bandage and garment makers are fewer in number and also dollars and cents supporters are not so numerous. The Hesperian has no authority to speak for anybody, much less the Red Cross. We do know, however, the Red Cross expenditures and disposition of its supplies are by law supposed to be very carefully checked; its chief is the president of the United States; and that Red Cross officials must walk a chalk line in their official and private capacities.

This disturbance just at the time of the annual Roll Call may be a good sign instead of a bad one. We know there is nothing wrong with the Red Cross, except the possibility it may be burdened with barnacles, the old-time bureaucratic way of seeing that our old friends have their jobs back, and that new things are thought up during peace times for them to do. Right at this time, when war hovers over the world, every spare moment of every possible person could well be spent in making things that would serve well for refugees, for war-wounded, for homeless peoples.

What the Red Cross should do, if they would capture the imagination of country people like us, is to holler wolf only when there is actually a wolf. Their peace time programs of this, that and the other, just don't measure up to the heroics which is, in country America, the essence of the thing. Perhaps it is our fault that we don't know more of the wider application of the Red Cross charter.

The war in the Balkins has about gotten around to the Armenians at last. The Armenians in our part of the world are symbolic of the world's most suffering peoples. Some press agent a generation ago did the best publicity job of the ages, when he had all of America doing things for the Armenians—raising money, getting clothing assembled for the orphans, cursing the bloody Turks and praying for the down-trodden Armenian refugee. The Armenians with whom Americans have become acquainted since that time do not seem to measure up to the picture of the meek and lowly, grateful creatures cut down by the Turkish and Kurd massacres. Fact is they are the world's second most grasping and avaricious tribe, miserly and seemingly wholly without the milk of human kindness.

Japan's religion will be the biggest factor in that country's war with America, if war comes. It was demonstrated early in the century in the war with Russia. Death in battle means an immediate passage to Valhalla, the halls of the gods, for the conforming Japanese. The Japs will stage a hard battle to carry on their Asia for Asiatics plan, which means to them that the Japanese kultur should govern in their sphere. The war in Japan has brought abridgement of peaceful assembly, muzzled a free press, stamped out individual thought. "Strength through sorrow" is the slogan. The people "sweat with the soldiers in China." If they must lose the Japanese will welcome a war with the United States or some other powerful nation so that they can "go down in a blaze of glory." That kind of competition is tough, which our fighting men will find to be the fact when and if we war with Japan.

Whatever else may be said of irrigation farming on the plains of Texas, it has not yet discounted the grain sorghums as the best bet for the plains farmer. Rather the experience of the past two or three years seems to indicate that good, old-fashioned maize or some of its immediate kin from Africa as introduced back in 1892 is a bigger money maker than either cotton or wheat. Sugar beets, potatoes, alfalfa, or something of the kind, when we plains folks learn intensive cultivation and get the secret of fertilization, may take the country. But right now for dollars and cents return maize and kaffir corn or their grandchildren, feterita and hegari, have shown the way. Wheat and cotton fall far behind as money makers for the irrigated lands.

Forage feed diseases, however, present a problem to irrigated farm operators as well as to others. Milo root rot is a disease that has been prevalent the past few years. Its long name is pythium arhenomanes. And another disease of the grain sorghums is one from which the heads blast and produce no grain. Solution is the selection of varieties which have been immunized against these diseases. This affords good advertising for the seed men. However, a cent or two a pound paid by the farmer for his seed may mean the difference between a bumper crop and just so-so production.

It is hard to think of anything else this morning only that this is the week for registration. A mighty chorus of prayers will go up to our Heavenly Father that the boys do not have to go to war. Training for peace, must be our thoughts, our talks and our prayers!

This morning the wind blows from the north, cool and strong. The willow madly waves its long green branches, the chickens and turkey sit huddled from the wind. All the outside world seems to be in commotion, but here in the house the scent of red roses mingles with that of fresh baked light bread, sour-sweet spicy apple pies and bubbling catsup. Common every day things. How they help us keep up our courage and strength to meet our hard problems.

We know that after the dictators pass out with all their wars and hates, this earth of ours will continue to bear harvests of food to be eaten by good people, and love will supplant hate, and peace, war.

Yesterday, Sunday, it was my good fortune to attend church at the New Salem meeting-house near Cone. This white church, with its home nearby for the pastor, sits among green trees on the south slope of the hill that runs down to the draw known as Crawfish.

It was such a friendly church. Men and women with hair like silver, stood with young lovely women and strong young men to sing old hymns that men and women of generations long ago had found beautiful and helpful. Babies laughed and burred in mother's arms, as the preacher who filled Rev. Dale's the pastors place told of God's love. One thought Rev. Lloyd Denton brought stays with me and comforts me. God says he will always have witnesses on this earth.

After the sermon I met friends I have known and loved many years, and there were new friends to make and treasure as the years go by. Oh, the riches gained by being with God's people by whatsoever name they bear!

Madeline Dean Pierson and baby daughter, Carol, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dean this week. We have known Madeline and her sister Mary Dean Waters who publishes the delightful poetry column, since they were infants. Many times they came to my house and honored me with their confidences and their girlish pleasures. Age is flattered when the young seek their company.

A louse takes after the teller he's dealing with. If he's on a black boy's head, he's good and black. If he's on a white man's head, he's kinda light brown." This a

The Texas Gas company of Amarillo, has awarded the contract for the construction of its natural gas line which will serve more than a score of South Plains towns. This line will extend for a distance of more than 150 miles, and will be complete not later than January 1, 1927, officials declared.

J. I. Hammonds and J. T. Howard left Tuesday for Smith Center, Kansas in the central north part of that state, where they plan to buy several loads of stocker hogs for this territory.

Sale of the 1927 Hesperians, the annual published by the students of Floydada High school, will start in about a week, according to Ben Ayres, editor of the publication.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Fry have recently purchased the old Fry home place and moved to their new home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hughes reached home Monday from Fort Worth making the trip westward to Quanah the first day and in home the second. Mrs. Hughes had been visiting at Fort Worth a month.

Mrs. S. D. Greer and Mr. and Mrs. Flynn Thagard returned Monday night from a visit with Mrs. Greer's cousin, Mrs. J. W. Stringer at Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Tye and children who are living at White Deer, were here on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McCleskey and relatives from Friday to Tuesday last.

A. R. Hanna left Monday for Dallas where he will look after business and attend the Dallas fair. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Brown, of Lubbock, spent the first of the week here visiting relatives.

The seniors have selected Kate Stiles as their most popular girl and Jack deCordova as the most popular boy. Geneva Shipley and A. D. White were the juniors selections.

The following students in the seventh grade were on the honor roll for September: Hazel Probasco, Ruth Rutledge, Gwendolyn Snodgrass, Roxie Norton, Vivian Stegall, Wanda Tawwater, Mildred Welborn, Herwin Strickland, Howard Collins, Donley Stephenson, Lyda Bell Walding and Patsy Lopper.

colored man told me, and it amused me very much.

Wilda and James brought me some rocks from the Palo Duro to go on my fence.

The new trend of pompadours reminds the older women of their own youth. Our mothers, aunts and grandmothers were aghast when we tangled out long hair to make a pompadour over it. "You will ruin it," they said. And the rats we used to accomplish the same effect. How itchy they would get in warm weather, the ones made of hair.

If you had thick black hair you might get by with a rat made from a black cotton stocking. And we sat the big hats on the back of our heads so that the high pompadours would show to best advantage. The long black hair was sometimes braided, folded up and pinned to the back of head with long celluloid pins and a huge bow of ribbon pinned at the bottom at back of neck. Nothing new under the sun!

Rain at last fell on our farm, soft and gentle, pattering on the roof to keep us company when we awoke in the night. Water to make the young blades of tender wheat grow and spread, to give life to our stock through the cold winter. The earth is so full of blessings for man when he is at peace. Enough and to spare for all if it were not for the greediness of man.

His grace is great enough to meet the great things—The crashing waves that overwhelm the soul, The roaring winds that leave us breathless, The sudden storms beyond life's control.

These lines by Annie Johnson Flint brings comfort to my troubled mind over the storm of wars so do these lines by J. D. Smith:

Dark is the sky; and veiled the unknown tomorrow! Dark is life's way, for night is not yet o'er; The longed-for glimpse I may not mean while borrow; But this I know, he goeth on before.

SEASONS

Spring rain is good and warm Little green things wake and grow Brings new life to the farm To plow the fields and sow.

Gentle summer showers; Mockingbirds trill music sweet The fragrance of flowers; Gardens full of things to eat.

In fall, lakes overflow; Grey geese flying overhead Cry of bleak November snow Like a silver mantle spread.

Winter nights, sharp, and clear. The stars are shining bright; Happy folks are gathered 'round Cheery home fires tonight.

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You

No. 23 of a series

WOULD YOU CUT DOWN THE APPLE TREE?

You'll probably find a few bad apples in a bushel of good ones. That's the way it is with beer retailing in America.

There are hundreds of thousands of wholesome, law-abiding beer retail establishments that sell good beer—the refreshing, appetizing beverage of moderation. At the same time, there is a handful of undesirable, anti-social taverns. Unfortunately, these few outlaw establishments bring discredit to the entire beer industry.

To protect your right to drink good beer, the Brewing Industry wants such anti-social retailers eliminated entirely. It has instituted a "clean-up or close-up" program—now in effect in some states and being extended.

We'd like you to know about this socially important program. May we tell you about it in an interesting free booklet? Write: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th Street, New York, N. Y.

Hard Work Is Facing Winds This Week

Floydada Players Will See Dragon-Chief Game Friday

Faced with an open date, the Floydada whirlwinds settled down this week to the prospect of two weeks' hard preparation for Paducah's Dreadful Dragons who have completely dominated play in District 4-A with their lopsided scoring machine.

None too impressive against Ralls' Jackrabbits Friday night. The game was a pass defense and end plays. Ralls almost won the game. Floydada eleven with some masterful pass work but time stopped them short by six yards. Floydada's pass defense was about full of more holes than the Great Spec.

Sparks and Walls handled their end play much better and little yardage was chalked up around them, however Ralls treated Floydada's tackles pretty rough at times. Except for the interception Ralls probably would have gone scoreless since their ground game fizzled against the green and white forward wall.

Coach Odell Winter is no doubt concerned with the flop Floydada has shown so far when it comes to leaving the hide. It seems our pass defense gets worse and worse as time struggles by and seven men, eight men, and nine men lines will soon appear against the Winds.

Rushing and Golightly look pretty fair in practice throwing but during a game, if they throw the pig within 10 yards of a receiver it looks hot. Rummaging through the subs also fails to reveal a tolerable passer, unless Chowning suddenly develops into a flinger. Outside of not having a pass offense or defense Friday night Floydada looked fair to middling.

The green and white have a goodly assortment of plays to hit the enemy but to date the Floydada followers shake their heads over the quarterbacking. Two reasons are given (1) Golightly plays better ball when he is not burdened with the job of calling signals, and (2) he lacks that "sixth" sense good quarterbacks have. Not a fan but what agrees he is the finest ball carrier in the district but none say he is a quarterback. Whether this weakness can be remedied is doubtful, quarterbacking ability seems scarce on the squad.

Rushing might call signals, but this is only his second year. He is level headed, steady and unafraid and a triple threat himself and will probably have that task next year. Patterson has the experience

21st Year

Robert (Bob) McGuire is celebrating his 21st year of shoe selling this week in the modern equipped shoe department of Hagood Dry Goods. McGuire first began selling shoes in 1919 and for the past three years has been with the Hagood firm. The shoe department has a stock valued at $10,000, featuring Paris Fashion and Austin Health shoes, Thorogood Health shoes for children, and Fortune and Justin shoes for men. One of the largest boot stocks on the south plains is also featured at Hagoods.

but generally speaking he is rash and "hot headed" when the other "guy" gets tough.

Winter might go into the line for a single caller. Other teams have used a linesman for signal selector and it is likely that there will be some improvement there. Winter continues to reverse, double-reverse, single wing, and double wing his backfield through play after play. Ball handling has been better than average this year.

The Whirlwinds will take Friday afternoon off and go to see Paducah batter the Crosby Chiefs at Crosbyton. A number of the boys are planning to go from there either to see Texas Tech play Brigham Young at Lubbock or see Ralls tangle with Spur.

Monday and Tuesday of next week will determine a great deal for on those days the Winds will meet in fierce scrimmage sessions that will make or break them for the Paducah game.
