Warming up a car in a closed garage is the greatest cause of carbon monoxide deaths, and in view of the fact that colder weather is here much more of this practice can be expected than in the summer time. Carbon monoxide poisoning is also a danger when driving is done in closed cars to keep out freezing and cold. Thus one should have checked manifold connections, and look out for cracked manifolds, defective mufflers, leaks from loose muffler connections and leaks from hot air heaters and connections. All of these are potential sources for release of carbon monoxide gas, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health officer. Headaches on long drives may be an indication that a leak into the car is occurring. Sleepiness, dizziness, fatigue, and sometimes paralysis, are symptoms. Truck drivers on long drives should watch out. Carbon monoxide is colorless, tasteless, odorless. It gives no sign of its presence. You take it into your system instead of oxygen, then suffering or collapse result. Check up now on your car's exhaust system.

Of immediate importance to Texans is the question of a sales tax and the question of satisfactory old age assistance. The sales tax is a nuisance of the first magnitude to business, to consumers, to all. Belief in adequate old age assistance and in Governor W. Lee O'Daniel as its apostolic agent account for his tremendous majorities in Texas gubernatorial campaigns of 1938 and of 1940. A very large majority of Texas representatives were elected on a platform favoring a severance tax on natural resources and against the sales tax and likewise on a plank that will make the money available for old age assistance. When the two conflict—when it develops that the Texas Senate will not under any circumstances approve the severance tax—will the House members succumb to the demand for some kind of a tax that will raise the money and return home next spring or summer with a sales tax as the solution—when this happens, what is going to be the answer? Will the representatives stand by their guns and take the public (although not actual) blame for failure to pass a tax bill to raise old age funds or will they not? We fear the big boys have the House members already whipped and that you'll be paying a sales tax this time next year, because the governor will sign whatever bill that comes up to him he says.

Grasshoppers in some sections of Floyd County have been evident in rather large numbers this fall. Does this presage a year—maybe 1941—when they will take the country, eating the bark off the fence posts after they finish the crops? We do not know, but as close as the north plains farmers in spots as big as a county have had their wheat eaten up before Christmas for two years hand running now.

Tractors are taking place of horses in West Texas and everywhere. Old-fashioned as we are we worry about what the farmers are going to do for a team for maize heading when the change is complete and all the horses have left the country.

Nothing is gained by winning an argument and losing a customer.—C. F. Norton.

We doubt that rains of the past few years have been any more "spotted" or "streaked" in the high plains country than they were in the good old days. Used to be a good rain in your community meant a good rain everywhere, at least you thought so if you lived in Floyd county, for instance. Now we know that a three-inch rain on one farm may not mean any rain whatsoever on the farm of an immediately adjoining neighbor. We know now better than ever before about the germ of truth of that old saying that a shot gun leaned against the pasture fence had one barrel rained full while the other was perfectly dry. Or that other one about the two cowboys who conversed as they rode opposite sides of a line fence. One had on his slicker to keep out the thunderous downpour while the other complained of the dry, hot weather that was ruining the grass. It happens that way all the time, only slightly exaggerated for the sake of emphasis.

Controversy in the public prints over the statement of the Baptist leader in Houston concerning the Roman Catholics is raging now. This man, like the average American, resents very strongly and in plain, unvarnished language, says once and for all, he dislikes the idea of the president of the United States sending an envoy—personal or official—to the papacy in Rome. The president, in the first place, has no business with a personal representative anywhere, and in the second place no business with an official representative to the Methodist church, the Baptist church, the Assembly of God, the Nazarenes or the Catholics, in Rome or in Timbuctoo. The American way is not that way, whatever Mr. Roosevelt may say, or whatever encyclical may have been issued by some pope or potentate sometime or somewhere. It is not a matter of religious prejudice, not a matter of whether the American Catholics think the pope should rule. Whatever American Catholics may think—or American Methodists or Baptists—the president has no business with an envoy or "personal" representative with any head of a religious group. Religion is one thing, rule of the people by Democratic processes is another.

Any number of oil producers and royalty owners in Texas are coming around to the conclusion that Texas must have a separate oil and gas commission. This seems especially true in panhandle fields among the independents who claim that rank discrimination is being shown by the Texas Railroad commission. The allowable policy and other policies of the present commission came in for scathing denunciation at a recent meeting of independents in Pampa.

'Just Eddie'—A good many worldly cynics express puzzlement at the amazing hold of Eddie Guest on the common man. "What has he got," they argue, "that other and better poets haven't got?" The answer is so simple they cannot understand it. It is that there is only one Eddie Guest, not two, or three, or four. He is Eddie Guest to himself and he is Eddie Guest to his closest and most intimate friends and he is Eddie Guest to all the world.—Malcolm W. Bingay.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Neille Witt Spikes

"The best laid schemes o' mice and men, gang aft a-gley" so said Robbie Burns and so say I. All preparations were made last Wednesday for the missionary society. It rained, only a few near ones came. All plans for week-end failed. We have been almost isolated since. Our home stood in a lake of water all day Sunday. Barrels of rain fell on the roof and rushed like a river down the gutters to run swiftly toward the lake. The horses and cows stood humped up, cold and hungry for the feed that they did not have the courage to find, the chickens drooped around in sheltered places, the turkeys fought and quarreled.

Nothing was happy but the ducks. They made parades from one hole of water, quacking and running their bills in the mud for the hidden worms. The white cat curled up in the cottonseed at the barn, the dog shivered on the porch. Mud on shoes and overalls, wet hats and packets hung around the fire to dry. Of course we want rain, have for a long time, but we would like for it to come in kind of a magic way so as to not disturb our daily lives.

When any event on the farm takes place, our minds bring up all the events like it that has happened in our busy life. Thanksgiving brought a long row of days from the past like rows of telephone and telegraph lines stretching to the horizon. Dinners that were eaten and enjoyed long ago, are again in our minds. Friends and what was said and done in this year and that.

Hog-killing the past week brought up hog-killing of some thirty three years, and it would be worse than a night-mare if all the hog feet I have dressed and pickled would come running before my startled eyes. And what a sight all the sacks of sausages would make! The pots of lard would make a small lake of grease. Oh, the hog-killing time of long ago! The barrel of hot water that the hog had to be scalded one half at a time lifted and turned by strong men. And the crowds of little boys of course it was a day too cold to go to school, and who had the heart anyway to make a boy miss this holiday? Who got in the way, grabbed the melt and cooked it over the fire under the pot of heating water.

The bladders were eagerly sought by them, a pipe stem was pressed into service and soon the boys had balloons. The women fixed the dinner and talked, they did not see one another much in those days. Smells of hot coffee and baking pies tantalized the cold working men. Not one or two small hogs were hung on the stout pole to drain and cool, but big hogs and many at that.

The despised job of getting the entrail fat, the cutting up and

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

(Thursday, November 25, 1926)

"Turkey and all its fixings" will be the main item on the menu of the football banquet this Thursday evening at the Rutledge building, according to the banquet committee of the Senior class of the Floydada High school. "A classy three course meal, and a real live program will constitute the evening" Alan Berry, president of the senior class, stated.

J. W. Sherrill, formerly of Dallas, on Monday of last week took charge of the City Barber shop which he purchased recently from Carl Tardy, who has had charge of the shop for some months.

Marriage license were issued to A. I. Starkey and Miss Addie Belle Kimberley, November 18.

The interior of the new $6000.00 Church of Christ was completed this week and the first service will be held at 11:00 o'clock Sunday morning. Ira L. Sanders, minister of the church will preach the first sermon.

The ball was started rolling Tuesday night at a mass meeting in the district court room toward securing the right-of-way guaranteed to the Quanah, Acme and Pacific Railway company for their extension from McBain to Floydada, following decision of the long plains rail construction fight by the Interstate Commerce Commission Friday.

Mrs. T. P. Collins, Mrs. Clay Johnson and Mrs. Terrell Loran visited in Amarillo last week.

Mrs. Champ Walters has been in bed for several days this week with a badly sprained wrist which she received Sunday morning when she slipped and fell while on her way to church.

Recent Ford sales include: touring models: Everett Phillips, O. W. Fry, W. H. Penix, F. P. Donathan, Dee Rogers, Mrs. W. W. Smith; roadsters: Star Cash Grocery; coupes: E. E. Brown, J. R. McLain, N. A. Armstrong; tudor: Theoford Borum; fordor: H. S. Sparks; trucks E. S. Randerson, R. W. Billington. Civil Engineer Geo. A. Linder left the first of the week for Cottle county for a brief business stay and from there left for Dallas and Austin, to be gone several days.

rendering out the lard. Twenty or thirty gallons was not too much for a family. The big hams and shoulders that lay on top of the big bacons in the salt box. How eggs were hunted and in demand to associate in the skillet with the brains that the man of the house liked and the lady members turned up their noses at.

The sausage mill that turned and turned unceasingly to fill the long white sacks that were ready for them. Those were the days when we did not know that pork would hurt us and ate what we liked and when we did not mind being fat and strong. Ham gravy soaked into hot biscuits, oh my, and we have almost overlooked the big bowls of liver-fast and souse and hogs-head cheese. Baked heart with dressing—hunks of crackling bread crumbled in sweet milk. Perhaps this is enough said for you might want to line up along row of hog-killing days in your mind and enjoy each one as a glad holiday in your life.

My sister, Mrs. Carl Hill, of Amarillo sends me the following: "An artist who wanted a home among the Taconic Hills of Vermont was talking the matter over with a farmer who allowed that he had a house for sale. 'I must have a good view' said the artist. 'Is there a good view?' 'Well,' drawled the farmer, 'from the front porch yuh kin see Ed Snow's barn but beyond that there ain't nuthin' but a bunch of moun-tins'. This makes me think that on the plains there is nothing beyond Ed Snow's barn but the blue sky.

One thing I keep forgetting to do and that is to wrap the young trees that I set out the past two years. Just a thought so that you might remember you have neglected to do the same thing. And rabbits will be hungry soon.

Let's don't feel so much sympathy for boys and girls of the nations at war that we overlook the boys and girls right here at home that may not have a good Christmas in store this year. Of course we should do for the foreign boys and girls what we can, but in our own peaceful nation, there are children that we can do much for if we will look them up and plan in time.

POET'S CORNER

ONE YEAR OLD TODAY

Hello, there! You are one year old today
With sparkling eyes and hat,
Can walk and talk, act cute and sweet,
And sure we all know that.

You chase the dog and ride the broom

Can pifer, oh you kid!

In one year you have taken of Old Mister Life's fine lid.

You rip and romp, chew and spit

You slip and slide with ease.

You hoo and coo, you yell and squall

You like Uncle Walt's squeeze,
Oh, well I guess you'll do.
With all that funny stuff—
Take a million and a half for you?
Why, thanks! 'Taint half enough.

THE POET

The poet sits and thinks
And jots down a verse here and there
And whenever the poem is written
He has another gray hair.

But he must write several poems
For the gray to show in his hair
But after the poems are written
The gray is sure to be there.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Esther Pinker played a marimba solo "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" by Ernest Sletiz, and accompanied Truett Butler of Amarillo, uncle of the bride, who sang "Because" by Guy D'Hardelot. WHY I DO..... WHAT I DO

Briefly, my working principle is: X-Ray tells where the spinal bone is causing pressure, plus the palpation of tenderness of the nerve that is caused by pressure of the bone or bones out of normal lines. I add to this the pain and discomfort in the organs and tissues affected by the loss of nerve force. These are the most important points of examination. The other parts of the examination are secondary and are supplementary to and are added for the purpose of proving the correctness of the above facts.

Then, the proper adjustment is given at points along the spine in accord with the analysis, or examination as outlined above. This is done to free the nerve of pressure, the removal of tenderness in the nerve and parts involved. The total objective being the restoration of health to the part or parts of the body affected.

THE ABOVE IS MY ALL-CHIROPRACTIC METHOD AS USED IN MY OFFICE.

How do I know that I am correct in my approach to the problem? Because this adjustment principle is approved by thousands of sick people who have received lasting benefit after going the rounds in their search for health.

If you will take the time to call at my office, I can give you the names of many in this section who have tried the ALL-CHIROPRACTIC METHOD as employed in my office, and feel that the adjustments got them well.

NOTE: Fifty percent more adjustments given in my office in the month of October, 1940, than in the same month last year.

The 1929 Study club and the 1934 Study club are active in the plans also, being represented on the committee planning for the event, and all other civic organizations in the community are expected to give their usual hearty support.

Mrs. Geo. A. Linder, publicity director, said this week that contributions for the Community Christmas tree are now being sought. Donations can be made through Mrs. Welborn or any other member of the study clubs. "We are anxious this year to make all the baskets as big as we can," she said. In many cases it is found there is actual want and the help of those more fortunate, when given in the right spirit, brings a bit of happiness to these.

Whirlwinds Stop Spur Bulldogs 19 to 0

Golightly, Foster Accounts For All Three Scores

Final Game For Floydada Unless Tenth Game Is Arranged

Striking twice in the first quarter, Floydada's Whirlwinds coasted to an easy 19 to 0 victory over Spur's game but slightly bewildered Bulldogs here Thursday afternoon. The Green and White packed too much offensive and defensive power for the Spur team and it never offered a threat.

With the first team racking up the touchdowns, Coach Odell Winter passed his second stringers in and they played almost three quarters of the game and treated to score on several occasions.

Rushing bounced back into the spotlight with some of the hardest driving this year, Golightly and Foster accounted for the touchdowns but Chowning and Rushing set up two of them with long dashes that almost took them to pay dirt.

One, Two, Easy Like

Floydada selected the north goal and elected to receive. Powell, huge Spur end, kicked over the goal and Floydada started their march from their own 20 yard line. Rushing pounded over left guard for 9, almost getting clear. Golightly smashed right guard for 5. Rushing pushed at right tackle for 2. Golightly circled right end for 3. Rushing whipped over right tackle and with beautiful blocking raced to the Spur 5 where Ball got the tackle. It was a 55 yard gallop down the sidelines. Rushing banged right tackle for 4, but on the next try he fumbled the ball momentarily and managed to pick up only half a yard. Golightly took the ball and swept wide around right end for the touchdown. Something happened to the kick Floydada 6, Spur 0.

Patterson kicked out of bounds on the Spur 35. Culbert tried right guard for 1, Powell took out on his favorite play, the end around but ended up minus 4 when his feet slipped out from under him. Spur kicked to the Floydada 16.

Golightly and Rushing alternated at smashing the right side of the Spur line but were bogged up with a fumble. Rushing kicked to the Spur 45.

Culbert passed to Powell for 1. Culbert raced around right end for 8. Culbert slipped through left guard for a first down. Barclay tried right end for 5, Powell tried to end around but fumbled and Floydada took the ball on their 48.

Chowning reversed around right end for 37 yards and placed the ball on the Spur 15. Rushing lost 1 at right tackle, Golightly picked up 4 at right tackle. Foster took the ball on a reverse to the left and went over the goal untouched for a touchdown. Golightly's try at the line failed for the extra point. Floydada 12, Spur 0.

Winter inserted his reserve backfield with Chowning calling the plays. Spur took over on their own 41 following the kick. Garner whipped a pass to Ball good for 25 yards. Garner's pass to Ball was slapped down. Garner tried to pass to Powell but Cardinal captured the ball on the Floydada 32.

Nothing Doing Here

After picking up a first down Chowning and DuBois failed to make a first and Chowning kicked to the Spur 34.

Salutes His Friends

R. C. Henry, Jr., above, Saturday celebrates the close of his first year in business at Aiken. Henry's Conoco station and the Continental cafe join in the event, with souvenirs, coffee and cookies to make the occasion better remembered by all who visit them that day.

Powell brought the ball around left end on his specialty for 9 yards three line plays went for a loss of 4 yards and on fourth down Garner whipped a pass to Powell on the Floydada 41. Four more line plays went to the Floydada 32 where the drive was stopped and Floydada took over.

Two plays gained 2, and Chowning whipped a pass to Grigsby on the Floydada 46. A fumble stopped the next drive short of a first down so Chowning kicked to Garner on the Spur 36 where Floydada recovered his fumble. The Whirlwinds drew a 15 yard penalty for holding. Chowning passed to DuBois for 15 as half time came.

Add Just One More

Two plays after the half began, Chowning came up with a Spur pass on his 30 yard marker but Floydada was bogged and Rushing kicked to the Spur 33. Spur had even less luck and was forced to boot back to the Floydada 27.

Floydada drew a 5 yard penalty for offside to move the ball to the Floydada 22. Golightly quick-kicked to the Spur six inch line, the ball being killed there by Walls. The best Spur could do was to get the ball out to their 32.

Foster reversed for 8 over left tackle. Rushing banged through right guard for 4. Golightly circled right end for the touchdown. Rushing went over standing up for the extra point. Floydada 19, Spur 0.

With the second string taking over, Spur and Floydada battled on even turns the remainder of the game.

Chowning shepherded his outfit to the Spur 32 yard end and also staved off a Bulldog drive on his own 32. When the game ended Floydada was inside the Spur 30 and running smoothly.

ENROLLED AT BAYLOR

Florrie Jewell of Floydada is included in the enrollment of 2350 at Baylor university in Waco this year, university officials have announced. The student represents 183 Texas counties, 33 states, seven foreign countries and two territories.

AS I SEE IT

Floydada closed their regular conference season last Thursday with a jam up victory over Spur's Bulldogs. We don't know what the score could have been but it was quite satisfactory from the fans point of view who wanted to see the reserves do their stuff.

Foster has been one of the strangest ball carriers on the Floydada football team. He has been used as a climax runner all the way. He seldom carries the ball over three times per game but generally racks up something like 15 yards per try, on the average. Against Spur he carried three times, once for 8 yards, once for a touchdown, and once he slipped and fell.

Chowning is probably the most improved player on the lot. He has become a first class triple threat back. He throws with deadly accuracy, and is no mean hand at lining the ball through the line. He can kick and block well too.

Little Patterson, dangerous hipper-dipper, missed the Spur game because of a cracked shoulder. Every team laid for him this season and his runs were hardly as often or as spectacular as last but he was an excellent decoy and did his share of ball carrying.

Rushing and Golightly were the main events every game. Golightly handled the ball carrying, passing, and kicking and blocked. Rushing took over the signal calling, did his share of blocking and ball carrying and began to do most of the punting.

Floydada's line play has been good since the Crowell game. Dillon Patterson, "Big Foot" Turner, and Grigsby stand better than good chances of making all-district teams. The other boys have played bang up ball but have hardly been as spectacular as the three named above... but their team play was beyond criticism.

Of the regular starters, only Rushing and Pawver will be back next year to carry on for the Green and White.

It looks like the next game the Whirlwinds will play will be around the banquet table at the annual football banquet. There they will throw tackles on some first class food, and block all attempts to the contrary, each player will do his own quarterbacking. Outside of some fork wounds no serious injuries are anticipated. For once the girls will get to play right alongside their favorites.

Now What, I Wonder

This season has been especially disastrous on the pickers this year. The record set last year is now tattered and torn.

Looks like the draft will get their writer unless they call the whole thing off... which isn't likely. And if such happens, it means that Floydada will have to get along without "As I See It" for a spell... which isn't likely to prove disastrous to the town or the paper.

Until Uncle Sam makes his call, this column will be concerned with a number of things... from cabbages to kings.

Doc Guthrie gives the draftees a pretty good physical exam, in fact he lowered the writers batting average from 1-A to 1-B. Said these cheaters on my nose didn't help my soldiering ability.

One of the prime questions seems to be whether the Axis will have Turkey by Christmas. Certainly the Italians won't have any Greece.

A commentator in Britain has openly admitted that the English have found no effective defense against night bombers. Balloon barrages, anti-aircraft batteries, searchlights are merely "annoyers" and not perfect defenses against night diving bombers. But if that is true in England the same thing holds true over the Axis territory. The English have been doing some night bombing around over Europe too.

It appears that the Nazi bombers concentrated on London until the British had placed a great percentage of their air defenses around that city, then the Germans shifted their attacks to Coventry, Birmingham and other midlands cities with devastating effect. The ancient and revered city of Coventry was almost completely destroyed in one night of terrific attack. Birmingham suffered almost the same fate a week later, it is in that city that so much British steel is manufactured.

Certainly war has increased in destructiveness many fold since Sherman remarked, "War is hell" ... if that was true in 1860-64, what words can describe it now.

How Winter OIL-PLATING maintains needed lubricant in advance for Safe Quick Starts

Any good timely oil ad tells you the one same truth... your Winter oil ought to flow fast. For it must come groping up from the bottom of your engine, to all inner surfaces—a total area bigger than a windshield, but tough for the oil to reach. The sooner the oil could get there, the more safely you'd start up.

That's what's at stake. And that's why many stop depending on fast flow alone, as they learn that their engines can be OIL-PLATED to lubricate "faster than instantly" at every Winter start. Simply changing to Conoco Germ Processed oil brings your engine OIL-PLATING, which cannot be late getting started, because it's always PLATED UP where needed, before you even step out of the house.

OIL-PLATING, you see, isn't all draining down during long cold standstills. The extra man-made substance in Germ Processed oil—patented—bonds OIL-PLATING to engine parts lastingly. It stays there. And lubricant couldn't be prompter than that in smoothing the way for precious parts, instead of letting them grind. King David's anthem of Thanksgiving which begins "Bless the Lord, O my soul," was the theme of a Thanksgiving season talk for the Lions club at their meeting Tuesday.

The example of the forebears of present-day Americans was held up as the basis on which the greatness of our country has been built. Those founders believed in God. They put religion first, education second and politics third in their lives. Mrs. Wilson said in the course of an interesting talk.

Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, a teacher in Floydada Public schools sang "God Bless America," request number, with Nelda Pagan, club sweetheart, at the piano.

A. B. Clark presented the program. Visitors included J. G. Denkins, Commissioner A. S. Cummings, Lorin Leibfried, city, and Horace Emory, Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCray, of Compton, California, visited last week-end in Floydada with Mr. McCray's aunt Mrs. Lula Slaughter. During their stay in Texas they will also visit at Graham and other points in the state.

WHY I DO... WHAT I DO

Briefly, my working principle is: X-Ray tells where the spinal bone is causing pressure, plus the palpation of tenderness of the nerve that is caused by pressure of the bone or bones out of normal lines. I add to this the pain and discomfort in the organs and the tissues affected by the loss of nerve force. These are the most important points of examination. The other parts of the examination are secondary and are supplementary to and are added for the purpose of proving the correctness of the above facts.

Then, the proper adjustment is given at points along the spine in accord with the analysis, or examination as outlined above. This is done to free the nerve of pressure, the removal of tenderness in the nerve and parts involved. The total objective being the restoration of health to the part or parts of the body affected.

THE ABOVE IS MY ALL-CHIROPRACTIC METHOD AS USED IN MY OFFICE.

How do I know that I am correct in my approach to the problem? Because this adjustment principle is approved by thousands of sick people who have received lasting benefit after going the rounds in their search for health.

If you will take the time to call at my office, I can give you the names of many in this section who have tried the ALL-CHIROPRACTIC METHOD as employed in my office, and feel that the adjustments got them well.

Mrs. Cannaday Heads General Committee For Community Tree

Mrs. W. I. Cannaday has been appointed head of the general committee making plans for the annual Community Christmas tree during Christmas week.

With the date for the event rapidly approaching Mrs. O. P. Rulledge, president of the 1922 Study club, named Mrs. Cannaday as leader.

Mrs. L. J. Welborn is treasurer. The 1922 Study club and the 1934 Study club are active in the plans also, being represented on the committee planning for the event, and all other civic organizations in the community are expected to give their usual hearty support.

Mrs. Geo. A. Luder, publicity director, said this week that contributions for the Community Christmas tree are now being sought. Donations can be made through Mrs. Welborn or any other member of the study clubs. "We are anxious this year to make all the baskets as big as we can," she said. Every year it is found there are numerous families which should not be forgotten but who are not represented at the Community Christmas tree. In many cases it is found there is actual want and the help of those more fortunate, when given in the right spirit, brings a bit of happiness to these.

CCC ANNOUNCES CHANGES REGARDING PAY

According to press releases, the CCC has announced changes regarding pay of all members. Beginning in 1941, the amount sent home will be reduced from $22 per month to $15. Seven dollars will be set aside each month for the boy when he leaves camp and the other $8 is turned over to him each month for expenses.

Training is being intensified in building operation, bridge building, repairing roads, stringing telephone lines, and mechanics as these are all important phases of the general defense program.

Long ago the CCC ceased to be an agency for relief. The only eligibility requirements now are good character, desire for employment, willingness to learn, 17 to 23 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Stovall left Wednesday morning for Austin where they are today attending the annual football game between A & M college and the university of Texas football teams.

Whirlwinds Stop Spur Bulldogs 19 to 0

Golightly, Foster Accounts For All Three Scores

Final Game For Floydada Unless Tenth Game Is Arranged

Striking twice in the first quarter, Floydada's Whirlwinds coasted to an easy 19 to 0 victory over Spur's game but slightly bewildered Bulldogs here Thursday afternoon. The Green and White packed too much offensive and defensive power for the Spur team and it never offered a threat.

With the first team racking up the touchdowns, Coach Odell Winter tossed his second stringers in and they played almost three quarters of the game and threatened to score on several occasions.

Rushing bounced back into the spotlight with some of the hardest driving this year, Golightly and Foster accounted for the touchdowns but Chowning and Rushing set up two of them with long dashes that almost took them to pay dirt.

One, Two, Easy Like

Floydada selected the north goal and elected to receive. Powell, huge Spur end, kicked over the goal and Floydada started their march from their own 20 yard line. Rushing pounded over left guard for 9, almost getting clear, Golightly smashed right guard for 5, Rushing pushed at right tackle for 2, Golightly circled right end for 3, Rushing whipped over right tackle and with beautiful blocking raced to the Spur 5 where Ball got the tackle. It was a 53 yard gallop down the sidelines. Rushing banged right tackle for 4, but on the next try he fumbled the ball momentarily and managed to pick up only half a yard. Golightly took the ball and swept wide around right end for the touchdown. Something happened to the kick Floydada 6, Spur 0.

Patterson kicked out of bounds on the Spur 35. Culbert tried right guard for 1, Powell took out on his favorite play, the end around but ended up minus 4 when his feet slipped out from under him. Spur kicked to the Floydada 16.

Golightly and Rushing alternated at smashing the right side of the Spur line but were bogged up with a fumble. Rushing kicked to the Spur 45.

Culbert passed to Powell for 1. Culbert raced around right end for 8. Culbert slipped through left guard for a first down. Barclay tried right end for 5, Powell tried to end around but fumbled and Floydada took the ball on their 48.

Chowning reversed around right end for 37 yards and placed the ball on the Spur 15. Rushing lost 1 at right tackle. Golightly picked up 4 at right tackle. Foster took the ball on a reverse to the left and went over the goal untouched for a touchdown. Golightly's try at the line failed for the extra point. Floydada 12, Spur 0.

Winter inserted his reserve backfield with Chowning calling the plays. Spur took over on their own 41 following the kick. Garner whipped a pass to Ball good for 25 yards. Garner's pass to Ball was slugged down. Garner tried to pass to Powell but Cardinal captured the ball on the Floydada 32.

Nothing Doing Here
After picking up a first down Chowning and DuBois failed to make a first and Chowning kicked to the Spur 34.

Salutes His Friends

R. C. Henry, Jr., above, Saturday celebrates the close of his first year in business at Aiken. Henry's Conoco station and the Continental cafe join in the event, with souvenirs, coffee and cookies to make the occasion better remembered by all who visit them that day.

Powell brought the ball around left end on his specialty for 9 yards three line plays went for a loss of 4 yards and on fourth down Garner whipped a pass to Powell on the Floydada 41. Four more line plays went to the Floydada 32 where the drive was stopped and Floydada took over.

Two plays gained 2, and Chowning whipped a pass to Grigsby on the Floydada 46. A fumble stopped the next drive short of a first down so Chowning kicked to Garner on the Spur 38 where Floydada recovered his fumble. The Whirlwinds drew a 15 yard penalty for holding. Chowning passed to DuBois for 15 as half time came.

Two plays after the half began, Chowning came up with a Spur pass on his 30 yard marker but Floydada was bogged and Rushing kicked to the Spur 33. Spur had even less luck and was forced to boot back to the Floydada 27.

Floydada drew a 5 yard penalty for offside to move the ball to the Floydada 22. Golightly quick-kicked to the Spur six inch line, the ball being killed there by Walls. The best Spur could do was to get the ball out to their 32.

Poster reversed for 8 over left tackle. Rushing banged through right end for the touchdown. Rushing went over standing up for the extra point. Floydada 19, Spur 0.

With the second string taking over, Spur and Floydada battled on even turns the remainder of the game.

Chowning shepherded his outfit to the Spur 32 yard once and also staved off a Bulldog drive on his own 32. When the game ended Floydada was inside the Spur 30 and running smoothly.

ENROLLED AT BAYLOR
Florrie Jewell of Floydada is included in the enrollment of 2350 at Baylor university in Waco this year, university officials have announced. The student represents 183 Texas counties, 33 states, seven foreign countries and two territories.

AS I SEE IT

Floydada closed their regular conference season last Thursday with a jam up victory over Spur's Bulldogs. We don't know what the score could have been but it was quite satisfactory from the fans point of view who wanted to see the reserves do their stuff.

Foster has been one of the strangest ball carriers on the Floydada football team. He has been used as a climax runner all the way... he seldom carries the ball over three times per game but generally racks up something like 15 yards per try, on the average. Against Spur he carried three times, once for 8 yards, once for a touchdown, and once he slipped and fell.

Chowning is probably the most improved player on the lot. He has become a first class triple threat back. He throws with deadly accuracy, and is no mean hand at hugging the ball through the line. He can kick and block well too.

Little Patterson, dangerous hipper-dipper, missed the Spur gabe because of a cracked shoulder. Every team laid for him this season and his runs were hardly as often or as spectacular as last but he was an excellent decoy and did his share of ball carrying.

Rushing and Golightly were the main events every game. Golightly handled the ball carrying, passing, and kicking and blocked. Rushing took over the signal calling, did his share of blocking and ball carrying and began to do most of the punting.

Floydada's line play has been good since the Crowell game. Dillon Patterson, "Big Foot" Turner, and Grigsby stand better than good chances of making all-district teams. The other boys have played bang up ball but have hardly been as spectacular as the three named above... but their team play was beyond criticism.

Of the regular starters, only Rushing and Fawver will be back next year to carry on for the Green and White.

It looks like the next game the Whirlwinds will play will be around the banquet table at the annual football banquet. There they will throw tackles on some first class food, and block all attempts to the contrary, each player will do his own quarterbacking. Outside of some fork wounds no serious injuries are anticipated. For once the girls will get to play right alongside their favorites.

Now What, I Wonder
This season has been especially disastrous on the pickers this year. The record set last year is now tattered and torn.

Looks like the draft will get their writer unless they call the whole thing off... which isn't likely. And if such happens, it means that Floydada will have to get along without "As I See It" for a spell... which isn't likely to prove disastrous to the town or the paper.

Until Uncle Sam makes his call, this column will be concerned with a number of things... from cabbages to kings.

Doc Guthrie gives the draftees a pretty good physical exam, in fact he lowered this writers batting average from 1-A to 1-B. Said these cheaters on my nose didn't help my soldiering ability.

One of the prime questions seems to be whether the Axis will have Turkey by Christmas. Certainly the Italians won't have any Greece.

A commentator in Britain has openly admitted that the English have found no effective defense against night bombers. Balloon barrages, anti-aircraft batteries, searchlights are merely "annoyers" and not perfect defenses against night diving bombers. But if that is true in England the same thing holds true over the Axis territory. The English have been doing some night bombing around over Europe too.

It appears that the Nazi bombers concentrated on London until the British had placed a great percentage of their air defenses around that city, then the Germans shifted their attacks to Coventry, Birmingham and other midlands cities with devastating effect. The ancient and revered city of Coventry was almost completely destroyed in one night of terrific attack. Birmingham suffered almost the same fate a week later, it is in that city that so much British steel is manufactured.

Certainly war has increased in destructiveness many fold since Sherman remarked, "War is hell" ... if that was true in 1860-64, what words can describe it now.

How Winter OIL-PLATING maintains needed lubricant in advance for Safe Quick Starts

Any good timely oil ad tells you the one same truth... your Winter oil ought to flow fast. For it must come groping up from the bottom of your engine, to all inner surfaces—a total area bigger than a windshield, but tough for the oil to reach. The sooner the oil could get there, the more safely you'd start up.

That's what's at stake. And that's why many stop depending on fast flow alone, as they learn that their engines can be OIL-PLATED to lubricate "faster than instantly" at every Winter start. Simply changing to Conoco Germ Processed oil brings your engine OIL-PLATING, which cannot be late getting started, because it's always PLATED UP where needed, before you even step out of the house.

OIL-PLATING, you see, isn't all draining down during long cold standstills. The extra man-made substance in Germ Processed oil—patented—bonds OIL-PLATING to engine parts lastingly. It stays there. And lubricant couldn't be prompter than that in smoothing the way for precious parts, instead of letting them grind. ### 'Mammy Haynes' Camp Has Colorful History

80 Acres of Canyon Country East of Silverton Set Apart for Boy Scouts of America

SILVERTON—The land donated to the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, by John Haynes of Silverton, Texas, is 80 acres of canyon country that has a colorful history as any in the Panhandle of Texas. Old settlers here say Haynes acquired the land in 1907 from a pioneer named Powell who lived in the East. The name of the new camp site is "Mammy Haynes Boy Scout Camp," in honor of John Haynes' mother.

The land was first used as a camp by Greeley Askey sometime before 1900 and it passed from one owner to the other until bought by Haynes. The original homestead was taken by Dick Hancock.

The land is criss-crossed by many burro trails named by many of Briscoe county's old timers. There is the "Terry" trail coming in from the south named for the man who is credited with introducing the burro in the canyon country as a means of transportation of wood and posts.

The Burson trail, also from the south, was finally discontinued because of its near impassibility. Several of the animals fell to their death because of the steepness and narrowness of the trail and added 400 feet below.

From the north there is the "Watters" and "McClendon" trails, named for Mack Watters and Jake McClendon. The McClendon trail was first known as the "Buffalo" trail because of the many buffalo carcasses found along it in the early days.

Long before the coming of the Briscoe county settlers when the place was used only by the Indians an immigrant train was stranded there and was completely wiped out by the Indians. Evidence of the tragedy points out that the train, camped in the canyon, was destroyed by the Indians, who rolled huge boulders over the rim. Most of this story, of course, is merely pieced together, as there were no white survivors to tell the story of what happened.

The canyons have been hunted again and again for buried treasure. Mexican bad men used the place as a hiding place after their raids, and in turn were raided by the Indians. Signs in the Indians' language, have caused white men to spend many hours trying to decipher them and many hidden caves have been found in an attempt to locate the Mexicans' hidden loot. Whether the legends of hidden treasure are true is not known, but suffice it is to say that many hours have been spent in digging for it.

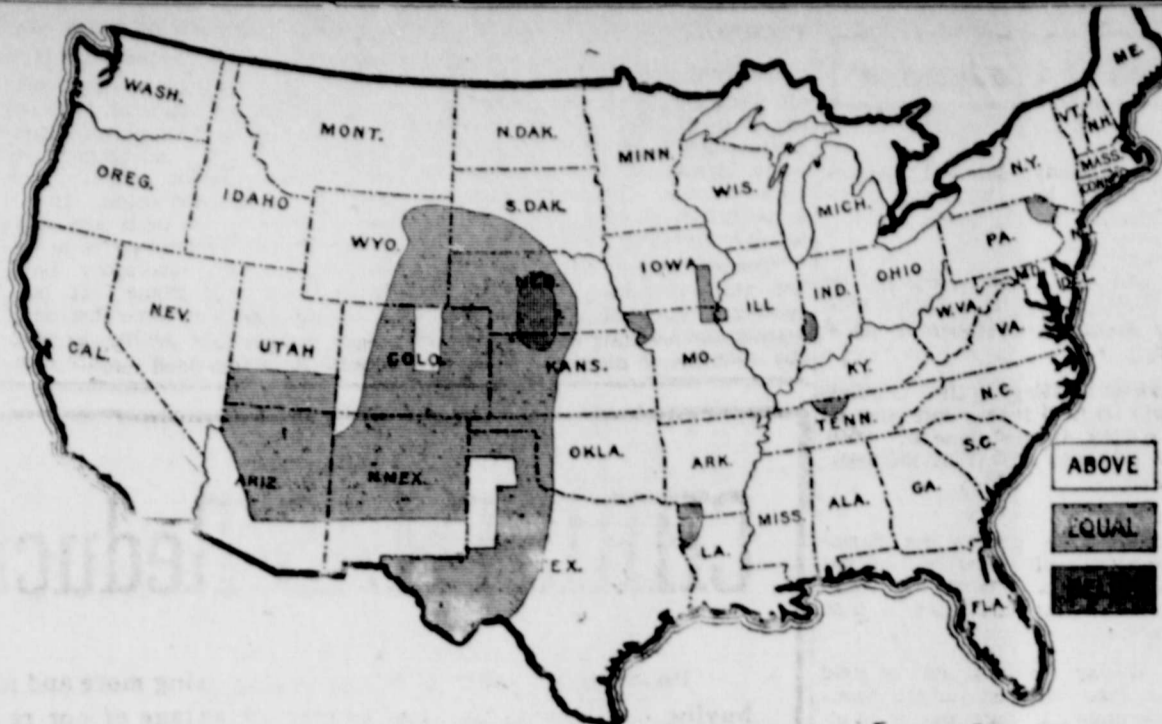

During the prohibition days the canyon country was used by moonshiners, who were secure in their hiding places, until one of their own number, hired out to the Briscoe county sheriff, Jake Honea, as a deputy sheriff. Old barrels and kegs are mute reminders of their activity.

Leading in to the new Scout Camp are the Welch Flats and Jasper Flats from the north; and from the south are the Jasper canyon and the Miller canyon.

The location is ideal for adventurous boys to spend a few days. Fine camping places are to be found. Water for swimming holes may be easily made by damming the creek. Rabbits, coons, and coyotes inhabit the place now, and many a city raised boy will get a thrill from listening to the howl of the coyotes as he goes to sleep at night.

W. C. Boren of Odessa came last Wednesday for a few days visit with Judson Abernathy, who left for the army Saturday. Mr. Boren left Sunday for Dallas where he plans to begin work there soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Mal Jarboe and sons returned home Sunday night from Lexington, Oklahoma, where they spent the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives at their old home.

This map depicts current business conditions as compared with the same period last year. It will appear in the December number of "Nation's Business," published by the United States Chamber of Commerce

KEEPING WILD LAND WILD PROTECTS TAMED ACREAGE

Contrasting the continuing agricultural history of the Nile Valley with that of the nearby valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates—where agriculture thrived and then declined—as a lesson for America in the wise use of soil and land, Dr. H. L. Shantz of the U. S. Forest Service emphasized relations between wild land and cultivated areas. Speaking at the Bicentennial of the University of Pennsylvania, he said:

"The headwaters of the Nile were far from the people who occupied the valley, hence they have not been overused. But the Euphrates and Tigris rivers, which cradled the world's civilization, were gradually destroyed by the destructive use of the wild lands which lay above the valleys. The nomads of Abraham's time and before had overgrazed those hills, and the valleys swung rapidly from luxuriant oases to drifting sand deserts. Man has made a history of successive failures on the land which he has occupied. Successive races have passed from the picture on the Tigris, the Euphrates, and the Gila."

When the native plant cover is removed or destroyed, soil formation is checked. Doctor Shantz pointed out. We do not yet know the ultimate effect of cultivation. To build soil, it may prove necessary to leave a permanent plant cover. "The practice of primitive man in abandoning land which he has cultivated for a time and allowing it to return to native vegetation may be justified ultimately by the records of history and the findings of research." Both grasses and forests are effective in forming productive soils. Valley soils that once produced heavy grass or forests and now yield rich crops owe their productivity to long accumulation of rich soil material.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Deakins and daughter Margaret Ann returned home Thursday from a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Deakins of Snyder.

Miss Kittie Jeanette Jinkins of Matador was a guest of Miss Lyn-dell Mae Glenn several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Truett McClung and son, George Dan and her mother, Mrs. Cora Kemp were in Floydada visiting friends and relatives Friday.

UNTRODDEN PATHS IN WORLD LORE

The Franks of history were originally a body of high Germans—a colonizing army rather than a tribe. One of their weapons was a spear, and, as in their language the word frank meant spear, they called themselves the spearsmen or Franks. This is why the territory they conquered came to be known as France.

Naturally the dominant people exercised their rights as conquerors, and reserved for themselves certain civic privileges or freedom from certain burdens. Such a privilege was known as a Frank-right and so we see the origin of our word franchise. Also, as a member of the ruling race can safely speak his mind with the utmost freedom, our word frank of today means plain, candid, or outspoken.

Second Farm Boy—Why, to keep the squirrel from spooling before it hits the ground!—The Progressive Farmer.

SEEK TO SAVE OIL

Most of the press cake left after extraction of oil from cottonseed contains from 5 to 7 percent of oil. This represents a substantial loss to the mills. If it were possible to reduce, from 6 percent to 1 percent, the oil content of the 2 million tons of cottonseed meal produced each year, it would mean recovery of an additional 200 million pounds of oil. Cottonseed sells for about 4 cents a pound more than the meal, which would allow to the mills an additional gross return of about 8 million dollars, according to an estimate by K. S. Markley and D. F. J. Lurch of the Southern Regional Research Laboratory. Better methods of extraction whether by improved machinery or by solvent methods is one of the cotton research problems this laboratory will tackle as soon as the building and equipment are ready.

Window Flowers
Try window garden plants for winter cheer. Nasturtium seed may be planted in five-inch pots and set in a sunny window. Oxalis potted now will bloom in six or seven weeks and continue blooming straight through the winter. Other suitable plants are sweet alyssum (set two or three to a six-inch pot) and double camellia-flowered balsam.—The Progressive Farmer.

BALE WEIGHT STANDARDIZING

The Agricultural Marketing Service tells us that most of our cotton bales run about the same weight—but that individual bales vary from less than 300 pounds to more than 800 pounds. These are the so-called "square bales" into which most of our cotton is pressed at the gin.

The Service says these figures are for the outside weights—for the lightest ones and for the very heaviest bales. But it also says that these light bales, and heavy bales create a serious problem in handling and marketing American cotton. They create a serious problem for a number of reasons. We'll go over a few of them.

Under trading rules, cotton buyers and cotton handlers discount all heavy bales and all light bales. There's a cash penalty against the light bales and the heavy bales—a loss that eventually is charged back to the farmer who grew the cotton. That loss amounts to anywhere from $1 to $5 a bale. Also, any buyer can reject a bale that's over specified maximum weight—or a bale that's under a specified minimum. So the farmer stands a rather heavy loss when his cotton is made up into light bales or heavy bales.

The light bales cause some losses but it's the heavy bales that cause the big losses. At the gin, the extra heavy bales are hard to handle in the press box. They can cause the gin machinery to break down—and a breakdown at ginning time is costly to both the gin and the farmer who lose time and money by having their gin tied up.

At the compress, the heavy bales take longer to handle. If a bale is real big, the compress workers have to take off part of it and rebuild the bale in the press. That's extra labor and expense. In many cases, the compress must put on extra ties or replace ties that are broken. The breakage of both ties and bagging is common on the heavy weight bales. These so-called "air cuts" aren't actually caused by air although at one time compress men thought they were. They're caused by the unevenness of the big bales and the way they take the pressure. But most of this kind of damage does show up in bales that run above 550 pounds.

The cotton marketing specialists say that our whole gin and compress set up is based upon 500 pound-bales. Gins and compresses are equipped to handle the 500 pound bales properly and safely. And when our cotton gets to market—or even on its way to market—marketing practices throughout are based upon 500 pound bales. These are the reasons the Department recommends keeping bale weights as near 500 pounds as possible. Its studies have shown that any substantial variation either way from the 500 pounds gross weight causes serious inconvenience and brings extra expense to most everybody who handles the odd-weight bales.

Of course, on the end of the season, there always will be a few odd-weight bales from the clean-up of the pickings. But for the other cotton that's picked before the end of the season—farmers who grow cotton can control the size of their bales by delivering just the right amount of seed cotton to make a bale that runs close to 500 pounds gross weight. There'll be some variation from the 500 pounds gross weight, but it doesn't need to be much. If farmers, and ginners, and other folks who handle cotton work together to keep their weights around 500 pounds, they'll all save money.

Some men think it's their work that is burdensome, when it's the chip on their shoulder that's holding them down.

Charity is injurious unless it helps the recipient to become independent of it.

BIG 4-H CIRCLE

If all the boys and girls who were members of 4-H clubs in 1939 were to unite in one of the all-join-hands games and form a circle it would have a diameter of about 500 miles. There were 1,381,595 members enrolled last year and such a circle could pass through Detroit, Indianapolis, Knoxville, and Washington, D. C. A motorist driving 40 miles an hour and 10 hours a day would need nearly four days to view the whole line.

In general, the states with the largest numbers of farm boys and girls, have the largest enrollments. In 1939, however, Alabama—which is fourth on the list of states arranged by the number of rural children—was the leader in 4-H enrollment with 100,058 members, taking the lead from Texas, North Carolina, and Georgia.

J. G. Wood returned home Monday from Olney where he attended a reunion of his brothers and sisters. The reunion was held in the home of a sister Mrs. D. D. Wood. Six of the seven children were present. Mr. Wood said.

THANKSGIVING OBSERVED IN P. T. A. PROGRAM AT STARKEY

"Better Trained Parents," proved an interesting subject for discussion at the Starkey P. T. A. meeting Friday night. The subject was discussed by J. K. Holmes and opened the social meeting of the newly-organized association.

Mrs. L. E. Kiker, president, extended a welcome to all visitors and members. Billy Jones expressed those things for which we are all thankful in a reading entitled, "Grateful Are We." The rhythm band rendered two numbers "Jump the Rope," and "Be Thankful."

A Thanksgiving play directed by Luke Sargent assisted by Mrs. Kiker and Mrs. J. K. Holmes included the following members: Joyce Holmes, Janet Reddy, Albert Carroll Jones, Vera Walker, Myrtis Sargent, Billy Ruth Warren, Iva Carolyn Kiker and Nell Reddy.

'Quickies' Often Make Poor Friends

Now that summer is over, you girls have probably met lots of new friends, and the chances are, if you're going away to school or college, you're going to make a lot more. But sometime the family isn't quite as enthusiastic about your acquaintances as you'd like them to be. Now that you're old enough to pick your own friends, it's important that you pick them well, and your family wants you to realize this.

Henrietta Ripperger, says that high school and college give you a wonderful opportunity to broaden your horizon in making real friends, but she warns that this is something to do with care. Don't go about it too quickly. Don't let people rush you into your feet, sign you up for things, and take you into clubs right away. Sort out and make a distinction between those people who are going to be acquaintances, and those you want to be your side-partners.

Don't succumb to the temptation of being contented with slipshod, second-string people, is Miss Ripperger's good advice. Of course, they're the easiest to go with, but don't go downhill when you leave home, because it's so simple. In making friends, as in going out for athletics, it's silly to try to make the first team. Pick out very special men and girls with whom you'd like to be on intimate terms, and make an effort to earn their friendship.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Tye drove to Wichita Falls Sunday with their son, Keith and Ham Smith, Jr., who took the bus there to Denton, where they will resume their studies at North Texas State Teachers college.

Mrs. Lucian Morehead and Mrs. E. O. Nichois, Jr., of Plainview and Mrs. Wayne Greer of Lockney were guests of Mrs. A. E. Guthrie, Tuesday.

Isn't it marvelous how quickly a crowd of failures can pick to pieces the reputation of a successful man?

See, "Why I Do What I Do," in this issue.

TECHNOLOGY IS The first paragraph of the report on Technology on the Farm, just issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, makes an effort to tell what technology is and what the book is about. It is not offered as a definition but rather as an aid to understanding. "Technology," it says, "is science, art, and invention. It is tractors, combines, corn pickers. It is the testing and breeding of animals and the conquest of diseases. It is hybrid corn, new kinds of wheat, soybeans, kudzu and lespedeza. It is ways to feed cows, plants, and men. It is road building and rural electrification. It is contour plowing, conservation of soil, management of forests, protection of wildlife. It is marketing and distribution. It is a race between insect pests and ways to kill them. Technology is in the workshop in the laboratory, barn, grove, field, and home. It is a social and economic force that challenges thought and ability to plan, because its many-sided nature combines the intricate influences of getting and spending, savings and debt, employed leisure and unemployed relief. "Is there an Encyclopedia Britannica in the hotel?" "There is not sir; but what is it you wish to know?" "What would your wife do if you should die tomorrow?" "She'd probably go to the funeral, if it wasn't the day for her bridge club."

SNOWY WHITE COTTON MAY NOT BE 'WHITE' AS CLASSER SEES IT

Cotton fields of snowy white turn out only a little cotton that is truly white, the Agricultural Marketing Service says.

The department's color technologists say that commercial cotton of American upland varieties ranges from light near-whites and slightly creamy colors to darker colors which may be either gray or yellowish.

Most classifiers prefer to work under natural daylight, illuminated from a north skylight with the sky moderately overcast and the light not glaring. They prefer this light because it is steady for the longest period during the day.

Artificial daylight, now used in an experimental way for cotton classing, is successful when it reproduces that type of natural daylight under which cotton classifiers prefer to work.

One of the greatest mistakes white men made when they spread over this country with its continental climate was to do a poor job with grass. We plowed up millions of acres of grassland; we overgrazed millions of other acres.

Henry's Conoco Station at Aiken To Celebrate Birthday Saturday

Henry's Conoco station at Aiken will celebrate its first birthday on Saturday of this week, November 30. R. C. Henry, Jr., manager, announced this week, and is planning a birthday celebration to observe the event.

Opened a year ago with some ceremony after having been completed for a wholesale and retail station with a cafe in connection, the new station proved popular at once with people of the community. Located at a bend in Highway 70 at Aiken the station's well-lighted exterior and interior make it attractive to transient trade.

But the backbone of the station's business, R. C. Henry, Jr., points out, is from the people in the vicinity of Aiken, and it is to them that his salute of appreciation is directed principally.

"The people of Aiken have taken us in as one of the community's enterprises and made us feel at home," he said. "We appreciate this and the fact that they have given us a nice business during our first year."

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Groves, managers of the Continental cafe, operated in connection with the station, have been with the enterprise continuously since its opening, also are joining in the celebration plans.

In addition to souvenirs for men, women and children among their customers that will be given by the management of the station, Mr. and Mrs. Groves plan to serve coffee and cookies throughout the day.

In his advertisement saluting his friends and the community in general Mr. Henry spends more of his space extolling the good points of the community, the most highly specialized farming community on the plains, than he does telling about his station and his plans for Saturday.

How the community has applied practical ideas to the farming plans and taken the lead in cotton farming and marketing, potato raising, sugar beet culture, cattle feeding certified cottonseed production and sales, are told briefly in the advertisement.

The station has brought another distinction to Aiken in that it was third or fourth station in the State of Texas to install fluorescent lighting, the glow from which make the

The station also was elaborately constructed and furnished at a cost of several thousand dollars to make it complete. Incidentally much of the interior woodwork in the station, cafe and living quarters (the latter on the second floor) was finished by R. C. Henry, Jr., personally.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IS UNDERWAY OVER NATION

The nation is responding with generosity to the Thirty-fourth Annual Christmas Seal which finances the fight against tuberculosis in every county and hamlet in America. Dr. Z. T. Scott, managing director of the T. T. A. declared recently.

The sale of seals was launched last Monday and many of the prominent public figures, such as President Roosevelt and his family and the governors of the various states have helped push the sale of the seals.

The seals are also recommended by all civic organizations, women's clubs, labor groups and medical professions.

The battle against tuberculosis is a part of "total defense" for which this country is striving, cabinet officers stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Blondie Finley visited in Daingerfield with Mr. Finley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Finley, from Wednesday until Sunday. Mr. Finley's brother Fermin who had been here on a visit returned home with them.

Paducah Puts Hobbles On Matador, Win By 25-6

Paducah's Dragons completely muffled Matador's Bullfighters and scalped them into a 25 to 6 defeat and thus put the clinchers on the District 4-A title. The only mar on the Dragon's conference record is a 6 to 6 tie with the Floydada Whirlwinds.

Mobley, Texas highest scoring back set the pace with two touchdowns and one extra point to boost his total for the season to 153 points. Over 2,500 were on hand to witness the game.

The Dragons drew first blood in the opening period, on a 47 yard drive, with Mobley going off his own right tackle from the Matador 15 for the counter. Paducah came back in the second quarter to score on a 75-yard sustained march, culminated by a nine-yard pass from Mobley to Biddy for the touch. Mobley passed to Sandlin for the extra point and Paducah led 13-0.

The Dragons continued their scoring early in the third with a 76-yard touchdown drive. Sandlin passed 35 yards to Biddy for the score after Mobley had set up the play with a 29-yard off tackle thrust.

Matador scored its only touchdown in the third quarter with an aerial attack. A 36-yard pass from Leroy Nelson to Kennedy placed the ball on the Paducah one and Berryman cracked center for the score. Mobley climaxed the day's scoring late in the fourth period on a 34-yard dash through his own right tackle. The scoring ace then ran over his left tackle for the extra point. First downs were 15-3 in Paducah's favor. Matador made only one first down through the Paducah line.

Paducah must play the winner of District 3-A which was in a three-way tie when the Paducah team was playing. Clarendon, McLean and Shamrock were all tied with each other. McLean and Shamrock were due to play and reduce the tie to a two-way affair but it was almost a cinch that McLean or Shamrock would be in a tie with Clarendon when the shooting was over.

A SALUTE

to Our Friends

on our First Birthday

Saturday, November 30

R. C. Henry, Jr.

Henry's Conoco Service Station has been established one year at Aiken come Saturday, November 30. And we're mighty proud of it. We pay a tribute to the Loyal Friends we have made, to the Business community in which we are established. And we want everyone of you, our friends and neighbors, to celebrate the date with us. We are convinced that we are located among the best people in West Texas.

In the Vicinity of Aiken are located the biggest individual cattle feeders in the county and numerous small cattle raisers and feeders;

In the vicinity of Aiken are located the Most Numerous and longest established Irrigation Wells on the High Plains of Texas;

In the vicinity are nearly 300 irrigation wells that serve thousands of acres of Rich Agricultural Land and produce annually thousands of acres of Alfalfa, Potatoes, Sugar Beets, Cotton, Wheat, Forage Feeds, and other Diversified Crops of all kinds.

Aiken Is The Home Of The One-Variety Cotton Movement In Texas

For 10 years Aiken farmers have practiced the one-variety Cotton Plan. Communities and counties all over Texas are now copying the original plan started at Aiken. We have here a block of 7,000 acres that are planted to one variety of the fleecy staple and the gin at Aiken, operated by Aiken Gin Company, Mr. Herman Stowe, handles this variety only. This movement this year has been worth thousands of dollars to farmers all over Floyd County and other West Texas Counties.

Here at Aiken is the Lockview Cotton farm which produces a bale of cotton per acre with Mr. R. Jones Goode in charge. Registered seed from this farm are used to seed the 7,000-acre block of cotton which furnishes the Certified Paymaster seed which are planted all over West Texas to improve the quality of cotton for the markets of the world. Also here is located the Jennings farms which produce Pepper cotton, and comprise one of the county's prime industries.

These are some of the reasons we are proud to have located at Aiken—these are some of the reasons we are happy to invite our friends to come to see us Saturday, November 30. We feel like celebrating and we want you to celebrate with us.

Girls N. Y. A. School Starts This Week 221 W. Houston

A Girls N. Y. A. project was started Wednesday in Floydada that will afford training for approximately fifteen girls between the ages of 17 to 24 inclusive. The announcement was made by Ogie Evers of the Welfare office.

The Girls' school is located at 221 West Houston street, where home-making will be taught.

The project is sponsored by the City of Floydada and Floyd county. Registration begun Wednesday.

Girls interested in going to the school are asked to contact Ogie Evers director of the Floyd county Welfare office.

IMPROVING ENVIROMENT
A new program of the Farm Security Administration, to improve the health—and also the loan-repaying ability—of low-income farm families to which it makes loans, is now showing results. Under its "environmental sanitation" program, Farm Security has been furnished three sanitary improvements free of charge to borrowers who are most in need of them; new wells and cisterns, sanitary toilets, and creens for doors and windows.

Because it is so necessary for families to be in good health, the FSA has stressed preventive measures in good health, the FSA has stressed preventive measures, such as better diet through a variety of home-grown food, and sanitation around the home. The sanitation program is intended to prevent such diseases as malaria, hookworm, and typhoid. Grant funds, which do not have to be repaid, are used to finance this program.

Although the farm families do not have to repay the cost of the improvements in cash, they must agree to do other work in return; for example, to improve their supplies of home-grown food, to build frame gardens and trench silos, to make minor repairs, or to improve their farm land by terracing and better care of the soil. An added benefit has usually resulted from this sanitation program. Often it induces the owner to allow a long-term lease in return for the improvements. Greatest activity under the environmental sanitation program has been in the South.

Federal plant quarantine inspectors constantly watched for prohibited and restricted plants and plant products at 40 seaports, 11 airports, 12 international railroad crossings, and 17 points where highways cross the borders of the United States. They cooperate with customs officials the inspection of passengers' baggage from foreign countries, at airports, and at border crossings. Customs and post office officials bring to the plant quarantine inspectors' attention all foreign parcel post packages containing plants or plant materials.

Post are the smokers who put out against the nearest ornament, or those who leave a cigarette on the edge of a piece of wooden furniture to answer a telephone or to converse with a group in another part of the room. Such conduct, Mrs. Post says, is unforgivable. Flicking ashes on a plant or dropping them in the dress of a cup of coffee is equally bad taste.

Men, Mrs. Post admits frankly in her article, are usually more considerate smokers than women. They are more careful about letting smoke blow into the face of someone who isn't smoking and they take pains not to drop litged ashes on merchandise in a store.

Up to The Cotton Grower

Large supplies of cotton, which may be increased through the loss of foreign cotton customers while the war lasts, is a major phase of the cotton situation which farmers will consider before they vote on Saturday, December 7, to approve or disapprove marketing quotas for the 1941 crop. They must decide then whether they need the support of all features of the farm program, or whether they can get along without quotas and loans. The Agricultural Adjustment Act provides that loans can be made available, under certain price and supply conditions, if two-thirds of the voting farmers in the referendum approve marketing quotas. However, the Act also provides that, if quotas are rejected, no loans can be made available during the following marketing year.

1. That an election be held in said County on the 14th day of December, 1940, which is not less than thirty (30) days from the date of this order, to determine:

Series Educational Meetings Planned Over County

(D. F. Bredthauer)

A schedule of educational meetings has been made for the purpose of acquainting farmers of Floyd county with the 1941 program. Often in the past producers have listened to street corner gossip about the program and planned their farming operations in that matter, then when time came for applications for payment to be made the producer was overseeded and was due no payment.

There are several changes in the 1941 program and the place to get the correct information is from these meetings, the county committee, community committee, or the ACA office.

We urge every farmer to attend one of the meetings at the following places, as the changes in the 1941 program will be discussed and also the marketing quota referendum will be held December 7, and the procedure to be used for electing community committeemen and delegates to the county convention to be held December 13 and 14 will also be discussed:

Thursday, November 28—10 a. m. Edgin School; 1:30 p. m. South Plains school; 7:30 p. m. Cedar school.

Friday, November 29—10 a. m. Center school; 1:30 p. m. Lakeview school; 7:30 p. m. Baker school.

Saturday, November 30—2 p. m. Floydada, district court room.

Monday, December 2—10 a. m. Starkey school; 2 p. m. Allmon school; 7:30 p. m. McCoy school.

Wednesday, December 4—10 a. m. Harmony school; 2 p. m. Irick school 7:30 p. m. Sand Hill school.

Thursday, December 5—10 a. m. Providence school; 2 p. m. Lockney grade school; 7:30 p. m. Alken school.

Friday, December 6—10 a. m. Sterley school; 7:30 p. m. Lone Star school.

ATTENDS SCHOOL—
 Geo. B. Marshall, Floyd county assessor and collector, spent two days, Friday and Saturday, in Austin attending a school on the duties and procedures for the newly elected assessor and collector. The school was conducted by the State Association of Assessors and Collectors. He returned Sunday.

Wake Lazy Insides All-Vegetable Way

Here's a laxative that generally acts thoroughly, but is a gentle persuader if used by simple directions. Take BLACK-DRAUGHT at bedtime. There's usually time for a good night's rest. Morning generally brings a thorough evacuation; relief for constipation's headaches, lightheadedness, try spiciness, aromatic, all-vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. It's economical, too; 25 to 40 doses, 25c.

Crop Insurance Is Called Success By Agents Office

Last year 588 Floyd county farmers, as a matter of good business, took out crop insurance on the 1940 wheat crop.

When harvest time rolled around this year 419 of them had suffered from crop losses, either total or partial, from drought, wind, etc., but the loss of their crops did not mean the loss of their income.

Sound business practice had demanded that those farmers insure their crops; sound business practice demanded that 409 of the county's farmers insure their 1941 harvests.

In this county the insured production for 1940 totaled 451,459 bushels on 65,035 acres for which farmers paid 76,076 bushels or $4345.05 to the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation in premiums, deminities amounting to 149 bushels were collected by farmers in the county when losses were suffered on 48,969.7 acres.

Over the state other counties were having similar experience, as 58 indemnity claims, totaling 1,685 bushels, were paid to Texas farmers by the corporation. Texas farmers produced, 10,987 of them, had 1,070,715 bushels in premiums to insure the production of 5,182 bushels of wheat on 839,930 acres.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Trent of Portland visited with her sister, Mrs. Will Snell the past week.

Football, Band, Pep Squad Banquet Set For December 7

Affair To Be Completely Informal, Committees Announce Monday

The football, band, and pep squad banquet has been planned for December 7. Every member of the football club, band and pep squad has planned to have a swell time at the banquet.

The different members of the pep squad and band are on the committees to arrange for the banquet.

On the decoration committee are Martha Yearwood, Delilah Lide, Frances Field, Arlene Fyffe, Dorothy Wisdom, Lee Dale Clubb, Betty Eason, Topsy Dudley, James Wester, Joe Arvine, Leon Handley, Florene Cates. These members are to decorate the R. C. A. gym.

On the date committee are Martha Yearwood and Floy Jean Hale. These two girls are supposed to help the boys and girls get dates, fix the place cards, and arrange the table.

The members of the menu committee are Josephine Britton, Mona Backman, Topsy Dudley, Helen Eason, Kenneth B. Bishop and Edith Sney. The menu is to be planned by these boys and girls.

The banquet is to be informal, and it seems as though the boys and girls are glad that it is going to be informal. The banquet will start at 6 o'clock. The football boys will receive their awards at the banquet.

Thanksgiving Venture Huge Success For Home Ec Girls

Stop pushing! Hurry up, I want a plate too! No, I didn't want coffee; give me some tea. Aw—quit putting sugar in it! Come back here with that ticket! How about another bun! Aw, please!

As you have probably guessed, these are the actual recording of the Home Economics Thanksgiving luncheon which took place last Tuesday noon.

Plans for the luncheon were first made at the monthly meeting of the committees of the club and were completed and carried out by the foods classes. The food was prepared by the Foods girls under the direction of Mrs. Parsley and Miss Wren.

Tickets were sold by all club members during the latter part of the preceding week, and each girl donated foods to be used. The finances and budget of the club were boosted tremendously by the venture since over one hundred plates were sold, and the profit was extraordinary. The proceeds from this interesting affair go to the Future Homemaking club and will be used for this year's club project.

Floydada Has Big Delegation At Convention

The State Teachers association met in Fort Worth during the Thanksgiving holidays. The meeting started on November 21 and lasted three days. Several teachers from Floydada attended and report that it was one of the best and largest meetings ever held.

William B. Irvin, superintendent of Lubbock schools was chosen president for the next year. He is to succeed Charles H. Tennyson of Wichita Falls.

A few of the principal speakers were United States Senator, Josh Lee from Oklahoma, Superintendent William Sutton of Atlanta, Georgia and Herbert J. Stork, director of the center of safety education in New York City.

SENIOR SPONSOR PRESENTED WITH FAREWELL GIFT

At a meeting of the Senior class Monday, Miss Eunice Howell was presented with an Eastman camera. This was a farewell gift from the senior class. Miss Howell is Spanish teacher and senior sponsor. The presentation was made by Lee Dale Clubb in behalf of the class.

Miss Howell, who has recently resigned her position here, will be greatly missed by all the students.

Pep Girls Show How Football 'Had Oughta Be Done'

So Coach Winter wanted to draft the pep girls for the Spur-Floydada game? The girls feel that they couldn't go through another game similar to the one they played in assembly.

The stage was arranged as a football field with the green and white for Floydada and blue and gold for Spur. Goal posts at each end of the stage.

The first part of the game was played in a lady like manner with Spur making the first score.

However, the Floydada girls got down to business and beat Spur 21-6.

The Floydada girls had on the regular football jerseys, trousers, helmets, and socks. The Spur girls wore blue trousers with blue and gold ribbons around their arms. "Stonewall" Tyler served as referee of the fast and furious battle.

SOCIAL CLUB ENJOYS REAL MEXICAN STYLE LUNCHEON

A Mexican luncheon for the Social club was held at 3 o'clock at Mrs. Bob Smith's. The weather was so bad that it was impossible for it to be at Frances Fields in South Plains. Nelda Fagan, Frances Field, Topsy Dudley, Martha Yearwood, Polly Smith, Lee Dale Clubb, Louise Willson and a guest, Frances Keim, were present.

Objectives Of District F. F. A. Explained

Officers Training School Will Be Held Soon In Plainview

To sponsor livestock, poultry, dairy cattle, meat identification, and dairy products judging teams and leadership contest were featured in the Plainview district objectives which were made Tuesday night November 19 at the Plainview district F. F. A. meeting held in Plainview.

Plans were also made to hold officers' training school at Plainview, to hold regular meetings with definite programs, 50% of chapters send delegates to national F. F. A. convention. One delegate will be sent as district representative to the state convention, and each chapter is to publish four newspapers and send them to the other chapters in the Plainview district, have a banquet or meeting the night of February 21 when their president speaks to the Future Farmers of America, and score 900 points on score cards for lone star chapters.

Recreational activities include a district basketball tournament to be held in Plainview, sponsor district encampment and to sponsor an F. F. A. band.

Green Hands were initiated to the degree of Future Farmers at this meeting from each chapter in the Plainview district.

Attending this meeting from Floydada were H. G. Barber, local treasurer and district parliamentarian and Jimmie Smyth, local reporter and district historian.

The other chapters represented were Abernathy, Plainview, Hale Center, Cotton Center, Lockney and Silverton.

Super-Snooper Slips Stuff To FHS

Dear Fellow Convicts:

Here I am again—The Shadow. I turn your secrets into the public lime-light, so guard them carefully. I am always close beside you.

The holidays brought many ex-students back to the passage ways of F. H. S. It seems that Joe Rushing and a little girl from Canyon made good time of the short time they had together.

Buddy Norman, what did you and Pee Wee Rainer find so funny in the mid-night show Thursday night?

We wonder why Martha's face turned several shades pinker when Louis made a touchdown at the football game Thursday. Here's another romance just beginning to go places.

My pal, the Spy, reports that Greer was popular the other night. Land's goshen, he had three girls in the car with him. Greer how do you manage?

Now just why was Junior Wornack hunting a certain Dougherty blonde head Thursday night? He's pretty good at collecting his debts.

CLASSIFIED: Right end Whirlwind team, plays regular, dark and handsome, wants date for football banquet with some FHS beauty, must be pretty, popular and peppy. Apply early and avoid the rush. J. W. G.

Nelda is having a hard time with all her tall dark and handsome ones. Take a tip from the Shadow and discard them both.

These dates to the Football and Pep Squad banquet are not anything to laugh about. Won't I have something to talk about next week. Yours till the moon shines brighter than the sun.

The Shadow.

P. S. The answer to last week's question was "No body's Baby."

Wanted—School Spirit For Floydada High From Now On

Do you belong to this school? Of course, you come here practically every day to your classes. But did you ever stop to think "Am I giving anything to my school?" And more important than that, do you receive anything from school?

An old saying is "That man gets out of anything what he puts into anything." When you deposit some money in the bank, later you get your money back—plus interest. You like to play games which you play well and in one which you win occasionally. This is because you put everything you have into the game. The same applies to your school work; play the game well and your interest will be just.

Like putting money into the bank, if you take an active interest in your studies, you will receive an education and a mind of your own. This is a good interest to know to make friends and learn other people's opinions. Always support your class and you will always have a feeling of importance and the thought you helped do your part.

Students of Floydada High school freshman, sophomore, junior and senior, are you going to lose your school spirit because football season is over? Look ahead, basketball season starts just as football season ends, so let's keep up our school spirit and follow the sports on through the year and win as a whole—not just as a team.

Do the assemblies mean anything to you? Do you take part in your school contest to preserve the high record of your school? Do you belong to this school? If so, let's play the game right and give our part to the school.

Teacher: "What are Eskimos?"
Johnnie: "Eskimos are God's frozen people."

F. H. S. Band Busts Into Print Again With Features

The Floydada High school band is in the news again. They led the Spur High school band in the parade last Thursday. The city as a whole went Roosevelt and celebrated that day as Thanksgiving day.

The bands assembled in front of the Legion Hall and marched down first street to California down to wall, around the court house and back up California and dismissed in front of the Palace theatre. They entered the theatre and heard several speakers before noon.

The bands assembled again at about 2 p. m. at the high school where Spur and Floydada were playing their annual game. The F. H. S. band played more at this game than they have been playing in previous games.

At half time the Spur band did their formation first with Floydada doing theirs last. The Spur band did a formation that can hardly be described. All the spectators that were interviewed say that Spur's formation was the most picturesque but not any better than Floydada's.

After the formation the band returned to the stands where they remained until the end of the game.

This was the last performance of the band for sometime. Their next performance of the band will be at the football, pep and band banquet which will be held December 7.

Up to The Cotton Grower

Large supplies of cotton, which may be increased through the loss of foreign cotton customers while the war lasts, is a major phase of the cotton situation which farmers will consider before they vote on Saturday, December 1, to approve or disapprove marketing quotas for the 1941 crop. They must decide then whether they need the support of all features of the farm program, or whether they can get along without quotas and loans. The Agricultural Adjustment Act provides that loans can be made available, under certain price and supply conditions, if two-thirds of the voting farmers in the referendum approve marketing quotas. However, the Act also provides that, if quotas are rejected, no loans can be made available during the following marketing year.

Series Educational Meetings Planned Over County

(D. F. Bretthauer) A schedule of educational meetings has been made for the purpose of acquainting farmers of Floyd County with the 1941 program. Often in the past producers have listened to street corner gossip about the program and planned their farming operations in that matter, then when time came for applications for payment to be made the producer was overseeded and was due no payment.

There are several changes in the 1941 program and the place to get the correct information is from these meetings, the county committee, community committee, or the ACA office.

We urge every farmer to attend one of the meetings at the following places, as the changes in the 1941 program will be discussed and also the marketing quota referendum to be held December 7, and the procedure to be used for electing community committeemen and delegates to the county convention to be held December 13 and 14 will also be discussed:

Thursday, November 28—10 a. m. Edgin School; 1:30 p. m. South Plains school; 7:30 p. m. Cedar school.

Friday, November 29—10 a. m. Center school; 1:30 p. m. Lakeview school; 7:30 p. m. Baker school.

Saturday, November 30—2 p. m. Floydada, district court room.

Monday, December 2—10 a. m. Starkey school; 2 p. m. Allmon school; 7:30 p. m. McCoy school.

Wednesday, December 4—10 a. m. Harmony school; 2 p. m. Erick school; 7:30 p. m. Sand Hill school.

Thursday, December 5—10 a. m. Providence school; 2 p. m. Lockney grade school; 7:30 p. m. Aiken school.

Friday, December 6—10 a. m. Sterley school; 7:30 p. m. Lone Star school.

ATTENDS SCHOOL—Geo. B. Marshall, Floyd county assessor and collector elect, spent two days, Friday and Saturday, in Austin attending a school on the duties and procedures for the newly elected assessor and collector. The school was conducted by the State Association of Assessors and Collectors. He returned Sunday.

Crop Insurance Is Called Success By Agents Office

Last year 588 Floyd county farmers, as a matter of good business, took out crop insurance on the 1940 wheat crop.

When harvest time rolled around this year 419 of them had suffered crop losses, either total or partial, from drought, wind, etc., but the loss of their crops did not mean the loss of their income.

Sound business practice had demanded that those farmers insure their crops; sound business practice demanded that 409 of the county's farmers insure their 1941 harvests.

In this county the insured production for 1940 totaled 431,459 bushels on 65,035 acres for which farmers paid 76,076 bushels or $345.05 to the Federal Crop Insurance corporation in premiums, demerits amounting to 149,715 bushels were collected by farmers in the county when losses were suffered on 48,969.7 acres.

Over the state other counties were having similar experience, as 5,200,000 bushels, totaling 1,665,200 bushels, were paid to Texas farmers by the corporation. Texas farmers, producers, 10,967 of them, had 1,070,715 bushels in premiums to insure the production of 5,183,000 bushels of wheat on 839,930 acres.

Football, Band, Pep Squad Banquet Set For December 7

Affair To Be Completely Informal, Committees Announce Monday

The football, band, and pep squad banquet has been planned for December 7. Every member of the football club, band and pep squad has planned to have a swell time this year at the banquet.

The different members of the pep squad and band are on the committees to arrange for the banquet.

On the decoration committee are Martha Yearwood, Delilah Lide, Frances Field, Arlene Fyffe, Dorothy Wadman, Lee Dale Clubb, Betty Eakin, Topsy Dudley, James Wester, Joe Arvine, Leon Handley, Florene Cates. These members are to decorate the R. C. A. gym.

On the date committee are Martha Yearwood and Floy Jean Hale. These two girls are supposed to help the boys and girls get dates, place cards, and arrange the table.

The members of the menu committee are Josephine Britton, Mona Blackman, Topsy Dudley, Helen King, Kenneth B. Bishop and Edith Shury. The menu is to be planned by these boys and girls.

The banquet is to be informal, and it seems as though the boys and girls are glad that it is going to be informal. The banquet will start at 8 o'clock. The football boys will receive their awards at the banquet.

Thanksgiving Venture Huge Success For Home Ec Girls

Stop pushing! Hurry up, I want a plate too! No, I didn't want coffee; give me some tea. Aw—quit putting sugar in it! Come back here with that ticket! How about another bun! Aw, please!

As you have probably guessed, these are the actual recording of the Home Economics Thanksgiving luncheon which took place last Tuesday noon.

Plans for the luncheon were first made at the monthly meeting of the committees of the club and were completed and carried out by the food classes. The food was prepared by the Foods girls under the direction of Mrs. Parsley and Miss Wren.

Tickets were sold by all club members during the latter part of the preceding week, and each girl donated foods to be used. The finances and budget of the club were boosted tremendously by the venture since over one hundred plates were sold, and the profit was extraordinary. The proceeds from this interesting affair go to the Future Homemaking club and will be used for this year's club project.

Objectives Of District F. F. A. Explained

Officers Training School Will Be Held Soon In Plainview

To sponsor livestock, poultry, dairy cattle, meat identification, and dairy products judging teams and leadership contest were featured in the Plainview district objectives which were made Tuesday night November 19 at the Plainview district F. F. A. meeting held in Plainview.

Plans were also made to hold officers' training school at Plainview, to hold regular meetings with definite programs, 50% of chapters send delegates to national F. F. A. convention. One delegate will be sent as district representative to the state convention, and each chapter is to publish four newspapers and send them to the other chapters in the Plainview district, have a banquet or meeting the night of February 21 when their president speaks to the Future Farmers of America, and score 900 points on score cards for lone star chapters.

Recreational activities include a district basketball tournament to be held in Plainview, sponsor district encampment and to sponsor an F. F. A. band.

Green Hands were initiated to the degree of Future Farmers at this meeting from each chapter in the Plainview district.

Attending this meeting from Floydada were H. G. Barber, local treasurer and district parliamentarian and Jimmie Smyth, local reporter and district historian.

The other chapters represented were Abernathy, Plainview, Hale Center, Cotton Center, Lockney and Silvertown.

Super-Snooper Slips Stuff To FHS

Dear Fellow Convicts:

Here I am again—The Shadow. I turn you secrets into the public lime-light, so guard them carefully. I am always close beside you.

The holidays brought many ex-students back to the passage ways of F. H. S. It seems that Joe Rushing and a little girl from Canyon made good time of the short time they had together.

Buddy Norman, what did you and Pee Wee Rainer find so funny in the mid-night show Thursday night?

We wonder why Martha's face turned several shades pinker when Louis made a touchdown at the football game Thursday. Here's another romance just beginning to go places.

My pal, the Spy, reports that Greer was popular the other night. Land's goshen, he had three girls in the car with him. Greer how do you manage?

Now just why was Junior Womack hunting a certain Dougherty blonde head Thursday night? He's pretty good at collecting his debts.

CLASSIFIED: Right end Whirlwind team, plays regular, dark and handsome, wants date for football banquet with some FHS beauty, must be pretty, popular and peppy. Apply early and avoid the rush. J. W. G.

Nelda is having a hard time with all her tall dark and handsome ones. Take a tip from the Shadow and discard them both.

These dates to the Football and Pep Squad banquet are not anything to laugh about. Won't I have something to talk about next week. Yours till the moon shines brighter than the sun.

The Shadow.

P. S. The answer to last week's question was "No body's Baby."

Wanted—School Spirit For Floydada High From Now On

Do you belong to this school? Of course, you come here practically every day to your classes. But did you ever stop to think "Am I giving anything to my school?" And more important than that, do you receive anything from school?

An old saying is "That man gets out of anything what he puts into anything." When you deposit some money in the bank, later you get your money back—plus interest. You like to play games which you play well and in one which you win occasionally. This is because you put everything you have into the game. The same applies to your school work; play the game well and your interest will be just.

Like putting money into the bank, if you take an active interest in your studies, you will receive an education and a mind of your own. This is a good interest to know to make friends and learn other people's opinions. Always support your class and you will always have a feeling of importance and the thought you helped do your part.

Students of Floydada High school, freshman, sophomore, junior and senior, are you going to lose your school spirit because football season is over? Look ahead, basketball season starts just as football season ends, so let's keep up our school spirit and follow the sports on through the year and win as a whole—not just as a team.

Do the assemblies mean anything to you? Do you take part in your school contest to preserve the high record of your school? Do you belong to this school? If so, let's play the game right and give our part to the school.

Teacher: "What are Eskimos?"
Johnnie: "Eskimos are God's frozen people."

Floydada Has Big Delegation At Convention

The State Teachers association met in Fort Worth during the Thanksgiving holidays. The meeting started on November 21 and lasted three days. Several teachers from Floydada attended and report that it was one of the best and largest meetings ever held.

William B. Irvin, superintendent of Lubbock schools was chosen president for the next year. He is to succeed Charles H. Tennyson of Wichita Falls.

A few of the principal speakers were United States Senator, Josh Lee from Oklahoma, Superintendent William Sutton of Atlanta, Georgia and Herbert J. Stork, director of the center of safety education in New York City.

SENIOR SPONSOR PRESENTED WITH FAREWELL GIFT

At a meeting of the Senior class Monday, Miss Eunice Howell was presented with an Eastman camera. This was a farewell gift from the senior class. Miss Howell is Spanish teacher and senior sponsor. The presentation was made by Lee Dale Clubb in behalf of the class.

Miss Howell, who has recently resigned her position here, will be greatly missed by all the students.

Pep Girls Show How Football 'Had Oughta Be Done'

So Coach Winter wanted to draft the pep girls for the Spur-Floydada game? The girls feel that they couldn't go through another game similar to the one they played in assembly.

The stage was arranged as a football field with the green and white for Floydada and blue and gold for Spur. Goal posts at each end of the stage.

The first part of the game was played in a lady like manner with Spur making the first score.

However, the Floydada girls got down to business and beat Spur 21-6.

The Floydada girls had on the regular football jerseys, trousers, helmets, and socks. The Spur girls wore blue trousers with blue and gold ribbons around their arms.

"Stonewall" Tyler served as referee of the fast and furious battle.

SOCIAL CLUB ENJOYS REAL MEXICAN STYLE LUNCHEON

A Mexican luncheon for the Social club was held at 3 o'clock at Mrs. Bob Smith's. The weather was so bad that it was impossible for it to be at Frances Fields in South Plains. Nelda Fagan, Frances Field, Topsy Dudley, Martha Yearwood, Polly Smith, Lee Dale Clubb, Louise Willson and a guest, Frances Keim, were present.

HERE THOSE EX-STUDENTS ARE AGAIN FOLKS

Everyone is happy as the college students return home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

The students of 1938 class were LaNell Shirey, Marguerite Leonard and Reid Strickland, 1939 students that visited home were Edward Wester, C. W. Denison, James Burrus, Mary Kay Daniel and James Gibbs.

Those 1940 students were Margaret Tubbs, Dalton Jones, Jean Sims, Mary Louise Medlen, Emmett Hinson, Carl Arnold, Lelaifaye Hicks, Frances Jo Terrell, Jane Clark, Pat Collins, Carl Minor, Alice Bell, LaNell Harmon, Jennie Lou Harper, and Ruth Simpson.

MISS EUNICE HOWELL RESIGNS POSITION IN F. H. S.

Miss Eunice Howell will resign at the end of the second six weeks. Miss Howell plans to attend a business school after leaving Floydada. She will teach until a new teacher can be found to take her place. Miss Howell is sponsor of the senior class and one of the most popular teachers in high school.

Good Behavior On School Trips Is Appreciated

(Editorial)

Student behavior on school trips has a great deal to do with the kind of name a school has. When teachers take students on trips, they should have enough respect for their school to act decent.

Of course one expects to have some fun on a trip, but there is usually a more important purpose for taking the trip. Let us all think of the good name of Floydada high when we are representing it away from home.

F. H. S. Band Busts Into Print Again With Features

The Floydada High school band is in the news again. They led the Spur High school band in the parade last Thursday. The city as a whole went Roosevelt and celebrated that day as Thanksgiving day.

The bands assembled in front of the Legion Hall and marched down first street to California down to wall, around the court house and back up California and dismissed in front of the Palace theatre. They entered the theatre and heard several speakers before noon.

The bands assembled again at about 2 p. m. at the high school where Spur and Floydada were playing their annual game. The F. H. S. band played more at this game than they have been playing in previous games.

At half time the Spur band did their formation first with Floydada doing theirs last. The Spur band did a formation that can hardly be described. All the spectators that were interviewed say that Spur's formation was the most picturesque but not any better than Floydada's. After the formation the band returned to the stands where they remained until the end of the game.

This was the last performance of the band for sometime. Their next performance of the band will be at the football, pep and band banquet which will be held December 7.

SURPRISE PARTY GIVEN FOR FIRST YEAR GIRLS

Wednesday the first year girls were given a surprise party in the clothing lab. Thirty girls were present including the officers. Coffee and tea were served in the dining room by Mary Frances Jones and Tella Jo Smart. Mary Frances Jones directed the games.

Patriot's Day—

 this district. Major L. G. Mathews introduced the TNG volunteers and the first draftee volunteers from Floyd county, continuing with a tribute to their patriotism and the fine work of the American Legion. The boys are Jess Willard Fair, Jack Lester Pharis and William Andy Pharis, all three volunteer draftees from Lockney. The T. N. G. contingent was composed of James Ray Lloyd, Clifford Goughlighty, Beuford Terry, Hermas Olson, Judson Abernathy, Harold Chapman.

Band Master M. T. Camp directed the Floydada High school band in accompanying the songs "God Bless America" and "Star Spangled Banner" as the audience sang.

At the conclusion of the national anthem the audience faced the West as Joe Arwine played "Taps," followed by the benediction by Gordon G. Voight.

Following the program at the theatre folks went to their homes, many of which were honoring guests from out-of-town, and ate the traditional "turkey dinner with all the trimmings." Few indeed were the homes which did not have turkey and cranberry sauce, gravy and dressing. Certainly the day here is a marked contrast to the days of feminine and danger which exist oversea.

Allowing only enough time for dinners to settle, the Thanksgiving affair between Floydada and Spur football teams began. The game was thrilling enough for the die-hard fans and also pleasing to the parents who had boys on the reserve team. Practically the entire list of Floydada boys saw service at some time in the game. The Whirlwinds won 19 to 0 to close their season with two losses and one tie, to cinch third place in the district standings.

Following the football game, the fans again gathered downtown to argue over the game they had just seen or comment upon the Amarillo Lubbock game which was just ending. Also the news that Paducah had defeated the Matador team to win the district pennant was grasped and turned into conversation.

Another mass attack upon the turkey and dressing which had survived the noon day meal was merely a prelude to the dance given at the American Legion hall under the sponsorship of McDermott Post. With the all-girls orchestra beating out the latest popular tunes, Floydada couples danced and made merry until the later hours of the night. Not only did the dance provide entertainment but it also netted enough above cost to help offset any expenses the Legion and Chamber of Commerce had been out sponsoring the affair.

Certainly Patriots Day in Floydada lived up to all advanced notices and indicated that the American citizens is as patriotic and appreciative as any person in the world.

Hospital Notes

Miss Josephine Smith was discharged Tuesday from the Floydada hospital following a major operation November 21.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jones November 21 a daughter named Marjorie Ann.

T. W. Quirk was given treatment Saturday for injuries including two fractured ribs, sustained in a wreck when the car in which he was riding collided with a car driven by Mrs. J. V. Jones. The accident occurred near the Texaco station on North Wall street.

Frankie Jones with the Army Air Corps Brookfield, near San Antonio, returned Monday after spending a ten day furlough here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Jones.

Mrs. P. M. Smith and her daughter Mrs. W. E. Bethel spent the week-end in Weatherford and Bonham visiting relatives.

Rain—

 a standstill since last Wednesday. Some of the reports from over the county follow:

Rainfall out on the caprock in northeast Floyd county was very satisfactory said J. C. Bolding, Geo. L. Pawwer said the rain at Baker was the best since November 14 years ago.

South Plains reports say the fall was excellent, and G. B. Johnston of Sterley said it was the best late fall rain in 14 years at his place.

Henry Schacht of Irick had a fine rain, C. V. Lemons and Sid Brown, both of Cedar, gave optimistic reports and the same kind of word came from Aiken, Providence, from Edgin, Fairmount and Lakeview.

Probably the southeast corner of the county has the best season of any in the county, except possibly Lakeview. Dougherty estimated the fall at above 2 inches Saturday and Sunday and nearly an inch previously. Around Sand Hill and in the territory this side of that place where rainfall had been lacking the same report comes in of good rains that will make dry-land wheat come up to a good stand and start off propitiously.

C. M. Meredith reported that Center received about 2.8 inches over the week-end.

Harmony was reported to have received 3 inches of moisture. Lakes in that area are reported to be brim full.

From Fairview Lee Rushing reports approximately three inches; Down the line on the Q. A. & P. the rain gauges show Quanah 1.92 inches, Swearingin 1.50, Paducah 2.59, Roaring Springs 2.57.

From north of Barwise Frank Probasco estimated the rainfall at two and a half inches, and Lee Trice immediately west of Floydada said the fall had been generous from his place southwest for several miles.

E. W. Lightfoot north of Floydada four miles, said his place was very much in the wet column now.

W. F. Ferguson at Starkey said the rain there was fine and he had not heard of any dry streak left.

S. A. Guffee estimated the rain at his place near Campbell at about two inches and Mal Jarboe returned from a visit in Oklahoma to find a fine season on his place three miles north and east of Floydada.

Bond Vote—

 road bonds in other sections of Texas while not having a highway system of their own.

This seems to be a statement of the actual fact. If the taxpayers prefer to have it that way and so indicate on December 14, in preference to voting the bonds, it will be the responsibility of the citizens and not of the Commissioners court. The latter body is pledged to issue road bonds only when and if their issue will build hard surfaced highways that will become a part of the state system and the payment of which will be assumed by the state under legislative enactment.

Beginning this week a study of the bond issue is being made at meetings over the county called by the Land Use Planning committee. Not a part of the program of this committee the bond issue will be discussed after the planning committee's business has been disposed of. County Judge G. C. Tubbs has been asked to "make" many of these meetings as he can and State Representative Tom W. Deen also. Mr. Deen will speak at meetings of the Floydada and Lockney Rotary clubs next week and at the meeting of the Lions club here Tuesday. Speakers will also talk at any other meetings where they are asked in sufficient time to arrange schedules.

CACTUS AND JACKRABBITS TEAM UP AS A NUISANCE

Puzzled at first by the spread of pricklypear cactus over pastures in central and western Kansas, investigators have decided that the cactus seeds move on the hop, skip, and jump, as the result of a working partnership of cactus plants and jackrabbits.

The seeds of the cactus are flinty hard and about the size of half a pea, according to F. L. Timmons and L. E. Wenger of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who investigated cactus growing at the Fort Hay Experiment Station, Hays, Kansas. There was no obvious mechanism for the spread of the seeds by wind or moving objects as in the case of the tumbleweeds, Cockleburs, or milkweeds—but the cactus continued to spread, particularly in areas where the grass cover has been weakened by the droughts of 1934 and 1936 and succeeding dry years.

Further observation disclosed the partnership. The pear-shaped fruit of the cactus contains a jellylike pulp surrounding the seed. Jack-rabbits are fond of the fruit and eat—but do not digest—the hard seeds. Tests at Hays show that cactus seeds germinate even more readily after passing through the rabbits. The jackrabbits, it seems evident, are planting new patches of cactus on which they will later feed.

Farmers in the 30 counties worst infested are seriously concerned and the trouble is spreading in at least 25 other counties in Kansas and in surrounding states. With the agile jackrabbits as distributors, no pasture is safe if there are cacti in neighboring pastures, although the cactus ordinarily does not make much progress if the grass cover is good. Grubbing the cactus clumps, and encouraging good stands of grass are recommended for control. And rabbit drives to reduce the number of four-legged planters will also help.

"Grover Cleveland, when President of the United States, was a great fisherman, he told the story of the old ducky who risked his life to save a young negro from drowning. He asked the old ducky if the young lad was his son. "Oh, no, sah; he was not my son." "Well, was he a relative that you risked your life for him?" No, sah; he not a relative of mine."

"Then why plunge in that reckless way and drag him out?" "Well, sah, the fact is, sah, that the boy had the bait, sah."

"Edith," he whispered, "will you marry me?" "I don't know, Tom," she replied coyly.

"Well, when you find out," he said rising, "send me word will you?" I shall be at Eva Gordon's until ten o'clock. If I don't hear from you by then I'm going to ask her."
