Writes Held At Groves For J. T. J. Dawson

J. T. J. Dawson, a former resident and prominent citizen of Floydada for many years died Saturday, February 15, at his home at Groves, according to letters received here this week by friends of the family. Burial was made at Groves.

Mr. Dawson served as secretary of the Floydada School board and tax assessor and collector for the schools for four years, from 1929 to 1933 and several years prior to that time served as agent for the Santa Fe here. He was prominent in the work of the First Christian church, serving as both a deacon and elder.

He and Mrs. Dawson moved to Groves in 1934 where they have resided since. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Leland and Harry of Corpus Christi, and four grandchildren.

Armstrong's Calves Sold To Feeders

900 Head Steers and Heifers Deliver Here on April First

One of the big south plains cattle sales of the season was made last week here when N. A. Armstrong contracted delivery April 1 to 10 of 900 head of steer and heifer calves at a price of approximately $60,000. The calves will be weighed in at the Armstrong pens in southeast Floydada and delivered for cars. They will go to northern feeders from Werthimer Cattle company, South Saint Paul, Minnesota, dealers.

They are high quality white face calves and will be kept on Floyd county wheat fields until time for delivery. Ted Waldhauser, of Clovis, New Mexico, bought the cattle for the Minnesota firm. The calves represent probably the best quality for such a large herd anywhere in this section of the state.

Sells Two-Year-Olds
Mr. Armstrong also is making preparations to deliver 140 head of two-year-old steers to Gibb Wright of Fort Worth on March 1 in Floydada. These cattle were contracted last week and will go to feeding pens.

This spring marks Mr. Armstrong's twenty-eighth year in Floyd county raising cattle and dealing in live stock. During that period his gross business has run into the six figure marks every year. He has done the unusual thing of making a hog and cattle market on a year-round basis for a territory covering some two counties in area in addition to his grazing and feeding operations. He is one of the few pioneer cattlemen who are still operating and going strong after a quarter of a century in the business.

Cotton Stamp Plan Is Discussed At Meeting Here

AAA Officials From 7 Counties Hear Talks By State Men

Cotton stamp plan as proposed by federal agencies were discussed at a meeting here Wednesday of county committeemen and county administrative officers or secretaries of AAA organizations from seven counties.

Charles Beard, field officer of the state office, opened the meeting with a discussion of the farm plan sheet, and the use and benefits derived from it.

Vic Cade, state committeeman of Lubbock, took the floor and explained the supplementary cotton program which has been called the "cotton stamp plan" by some officials.

In an effort to get farmers to voluntarily reduce cotton acreage below government allotments, federal agencies are offering stamps which are redeemable in cotton goods at certified stores.

To be eligible for stamps, the owner or operator must reduce his acreage below his 1941 allotment or (See COTTON STAMPS back page)

55 Ex-Service Men Registered Saturday For Emergency Home Defense Service

More Blanks Needed To Handle Floyd County Registrations

Fifty-five ex-service men turned in registration questionnaires Saturday to McDermott Post American Legion, Commander Harry Morckel announced Monday morning. These men answered the request sent out from American Legion national headquarters that all ex-service men fill out questionnaires so that in case of national emergency they would be classified for use in home defense posts.

Morckel said that at least 40 more questionnaires were needed here to handle the registration. McDermott post has a membership of 55 and blanks for only that number were sent out, headquarters ignoring the fact that many ex-service men were not legionnaires.

A request for extra questionnaires has been sent to state headquarters, and the ex-service men who were unable to register will be asked to fill them out as soon as they arrive here.

Four blanks issued have not been returned, Morckel said Monday, and added that he would appreciate their return immediately so the final report could be sent to national headquarters.

Ex-service men were requested to indicate just what war time jobs they could handle. Naturally present vocations would also be allowed in war time, but many of the veterans indicated that they could pinch hit in other jobs.

Accountants, truck drivers, bus drivers, tractor drivers, cooks and bakers dominated the "war time" job list, but others indicated that steamfitting, ambulance driving, gunsmithing, civil engineering, sanitary engineering, painting, dentistry and X-ray, drafting, pharmacy, plumbing, sheetmetal working, and motorcycling could also be handled in case of an emergency.

Copies of the questionnaire will be sent to national offices, and state offices, and the post here will retain a copy. The information secured will be made available to state and federal agencies if a crisis arrives and the services of the ex-service men are needed.

C. M. Martin Is New Agent For Texas Company Here

C. M. Martin Sells Interest In Martins To Take New Work

C. M. Martin, who has been a member of the firm of Martin Dry Goods company in this city since 1919, this week announced that he is changing business connections and is taking over the agency for The Texas company. He is succeeding C. T. Campbell, who has had the agency for the past two years, and is moving to Wichita Falls to enter business.

Check up for the change in the agency management is expected to be completed today or tomorrow.

Mr. Martin's resignation from his long service as office manager of the Martin Dry Goods company comes following the sale of his interest to the company, of which J. G. Martin will continue as manager. Miss Glessie Goins is succeeding C. M. Martin in the office at Martin's.

Homer Starkey, Raymond Nelson and T. C. Hollums, who have been associated with the Texas agency here with Mr. Campbell will continue under the new management Mr. Martin said.

C. M. Martin came to Floydada following his discharge from the U. S. army in 1919 at the close of World War I. In the army he served for over a year as sergeant in charge of the wholesale exchange at Camp Travis, Texas.

Born and reared on a Parker county farm, and after moving to Weatherford he attended Weatherford college and the University of Texas. His first venture into business was with a wholesale grocery firm in Weatherford with which he was associated for six years before entering the army.

The Texas company agency in Floydada is one of the largest volume distributors of petroleum products in the county with several excellent retail outlets as well as a big list of wholesale farmer buyers. Martin's return to the wholesale business in this connection really marks the return for him to his "first love," the wholesale business.

1.07 Inches Precipitation Reported Over Seven Day Period

Old Mother Nature swung her heavy winter artillery upon the South Plains-Panhandle area this past week, found the range, and Wednesday was still laying a barrage of assorted weather upon the sturdy souls who inhabit the Southwest.

Rain, sleet, snow, hail, fog, mist, freezing, thawing, mud, slush, and everything in the way of weather except sunshine and high winds, the latter of which the Plains is most infamous, began crowding in on Wednesday of last week.

Fog began to settle on February 10 and temperatures began to drop, mist and fog began to make the streets treacherous for pedestrians, and roads and streets dangerous for vehicles.

At times visibility was "zero" and at midday was extremely limited. Four one-hundredths inch of rain was recorded Friday and Friday night. Snow, sleet, rain and fog added 47 inch of moisture Saturday, Saturday night and early Sunday.

Driving conditions over the entire Plains country was extremely hazardous and a number of minor accidents were reported but no serious smash-ups. Light precipitation Sunday afternoon and night added another .17 inch to the swelling moisture total.

Monday and Tuesday were generally more agreeable days, the sun peeping out momentarily Tuesday morning about 10 o'clock following a heavy fall of "homing" snow.

Old Sol was soon driven back however, and Winter again settled down on the offensive. Tuesday night and Wednesday continued to record moisture and the Floyd County Rural Electric co-op, official observers, reported .16 early Wednesday to bring the total rainfall, fogfall, etc. to 1.07 inches.

Temperatures ranged in the low 40's during the day and dropped in to the high 20's during the early morning hours. The mean temperature for the past week has been 36.3 degrees. The average high has been 44 degrees and the low 28.5.

A condensed report would be

Day	High	Low	Rain
Wednesday,	71	38	fog
Thursday,	54	27	fog
Friday,	48	27	fog
Saturday,	40	28	.04
Sunday,	40	26	.47
Monday,	36	27	.17
Tuesday,	37	27	.03
Wednesday,	35	28	.16

General opinion seems to be that Floyd county could not have received the moisture under better conditions. Wind was completely lacking and all snow and sleet fell on a level without drift.

Coming at this particular time, following earlier rains, the present precipitation has provided the entire county with perhaps the best (See WEATHER, back page)

Three Calls Received By Local Board For Volunteers

Three calls have been received within the past week by the Floyd county selective service board. The calls are numbers 6, 7 and 8. Call No. 6 will require no men from this county but call No. 7 will require one colored man, and call No. 8 will need four selectees.

The colored selectee will be inducted into service at Dallas on March 6. El Paso will be the induction point for the four men answering call No. 8.

Five men have volunteered to fill call No. 5 for March 3. They will be sent to El Paso for induction. The men volunteering were E. G. Williams, Jr., Charles Roach, Ross Henry, Jr., Jess Pollan, and Glenn Treadwell.

Fifty questionnaires were recently mailed out to increase the number of men on the reserve list and to have a safe margin in case of increased demand upon the board here.

Class 1-A men are numbering about 10 per cent of the total registration, and may be slightly less than at first believed by military and official sources. A number are being classed in 1-B, but the wide majority are being classed in II and III on account of occupation or dependents.

Demands upon the boards are expected to increase steadily as more camps and training stations are completed and made available for occupation. Following the close of schools and colleges, a number of young men now attending classes will be called to the armed forces.

Fighting Chaplain' to Visit McDermott Post

Served Overseas With U. S. Army Engineers During World War I

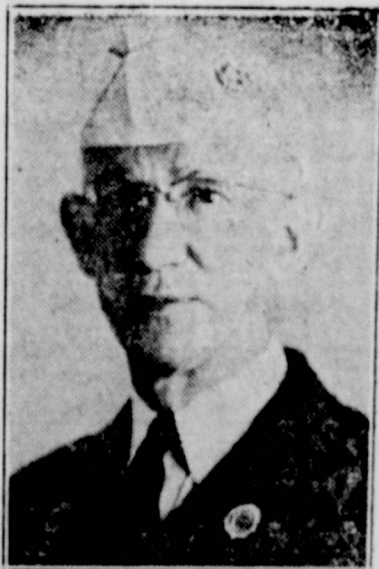

Department of Texas Chaplain Herbert G. Markley of the American Legion, Wink, will visit McDermott Post Monday night and will speak at the regular meeting of the post at the Legion home, Harry Morckel, commander of the post, announced this week.

All ex-service men, their wives and sons of the Legion are cordially invited to attend the meeting and members of the post are urged to be present.

In addition to his title of state chaplain of the Legion, Captain Markley is also Fifth Division chaplain, district chaplain and chaplain of his post at Wink. He is pastor of Presbyterian congregation there.

Captain Markley's coming to visit the post here will bring to Floydada one of the outstanding chaplains of overseas service in the country. Commissioned May 5, 1917 as first lieutenant and chaplain of the 2nd North Dakota infantry, he saw two years of active service including 14 months "over there." He smoked out several fifth columnists in his state and personally arrested them or which he was given the sobriquet of "The Fighting chaplain."

He sailed for France in October of 1917 with the 116th Engineers. In his service overseas he buried many hundreds of American soldiers, edited a weekly newspaper, "The Pick and Shovel," operated a canteen, conducted educational classes at night, ministered to 8,000 men in the camp, 7,500 in another, and at one time had 5,500 wounded boys in hospital. Captain Markley was given his promotion at the instance of General Liggett, commander of the First American army, who declared "Markley represents the highest and most useful type of captain in the American army."

The visiting ex-service man will be a guest in the home of Commander and Mrs. Morckel during his brief stay in Floydada.

SUPREME CONFIDENT WARRIOR

Adolph Hitler is supremely confident, he told the German people in an address on January 30 at the Sportpalast in Berlin. With Nazi jails and concentration camps full of preachers and priests who wanted to go ahead and be preachers and priests after their own consciences, Mr. Hitler quotes from the original nonconformist Martin Luther to say: "No matter what force they mobilize against us, no matter if the world were full of devils, we shall succeed." And here is what is in immediate prospect:

"At sea, submarine warfare will begin in the spring, and you will find we have not been idle. The air force will introduce itself similarly. Our whole army will force a decision one way or another. Production has been vastly increased in every respect. What others are merely planning is reality with us. The German nation stands calmly behind its leaders, with confidence in its army and ready to bear what fate demands of it."

Mr. Hitler's speeches do not get wide publicity in America. In fact the German Library of Information at 17 Battery Place, New York, N. Y., furnishes the speeches and other propaganda by mailing permit to such newspapers as The Hesperian.

By the time the spring drive of the Nazis is well under way and it begins to appear that Britain has lost, the American temper will have risen to the boiling point. And along the latter part of April America likely will become embroiled in the mess, probably, at least possibly, waging war on two fronts, one in the Pacific and one in the Atlantic. Not the kind of war we have been used to but war as deadly and as serious as any ever fought. Undeclared war is the fashion these days. It might be interesting to refresh your mind that Japan, with an army of a million men 1,500 miles into the interior of China has not declared war but instead insists that they are attempting to preserve the peace in Asia. Germany has not declared war on Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium or France, but they lie prostrate. And Russia's Soviet is in Finland, Latvia, Estonia, Rumania, without so much as blowing the whistle. It is the American type of mind to butt into the bully sooner or later and we are going to do it one way or another before the pot quits boiling. What will happen after is another matter. All turned against America with one accord twenty-some-odd years ago. It can be assumed the same will take place all over again within a few years. And that nothing will be "settled."

In contrast with wars and war preparations and national defense and things of that kind, we must keep calm enough to remember that we are going to have to go ahead and live among our neighbors here in Floyd county, keep the home fires burning, keep our towns clean, provide the best possible we can for our children, keep our farm lands from blowing maintain our herds, grow cotton and wheat, learn how and what to irrigate. In other words, we've still got to go ahead and be folks, and forward-looking people at that. Right immediately it is important that we get Floydada's business section looking better, our homes painted and repaired and modernized. You simply do not attract the people you want to attract with the "front" we put on here. "Whonker-jawed" awnings, signs and fronts that need paint, display windows that need attention, are as bad as, or even worse than, residences with tumble down porches and weeds and trash and rubbish accumulated in the yards. Either is too bad.

CO-OPERATE IN THIS MATTER

Beginning now is the time for town neighbors to get mad at each other about their chickens and their gardens, flowers and lawns. In every community from metropolis to village the war will go on for a few months and there'll be notices from the city marshal, city council, police chief or other official something like this we saw in a neighboring community recently:

"Complaints have been made to the city council about chickens running out and scratching up gardens and flowers. There is an ordinance against chickens and stock running loose in the city limits. Please give us and your neighbors co-operation in this matter."

Mighty hard job in any man's town to keep everybody happy along in the early spring time. Everybody wants to do the way they want to do and they do get on each other's nerves. "Co-operation in this matter" sums up in the words be careful not to impose on your neighbors.

Steps in an effort to bring control of honky tonks and nondescript dance halls in Texas more directly under the control of local authorities are being taken down at Austin. How successful the effort will be to get a law through the legislature is yet to be found out. One proposed statute would require the closing of the places not later than 1 o'clock in the morning and would require the proprietor to get a license from his commissioners court every ninety days. The court thus would have authority to close up a joint which their officers found to be giving continued trouble.

Cattlemen can stand a spell or two of bad weather before the actual coming of spring and still remember the winter of 1940-41 as one of the most favorable in many years. Cattle in Floyd county have done good, there has been ample wheat pasture, although a little too high except on a rising market, there have been remarkably few days of bad weather. When everybody in a business is making money isn't it remarkable how everybody else wants in, too? Do you know anybody who wouldn't like to have a bunch of cattle and "live easy" as they think? It is those other years that nobody can remember this year.

Why poisoning or bloating of cattle on wheat to take a few casualties here and there? Some say one thing, some another. One veterinarian is quoted as saying that lack of certain minerals in the diet is the cause, and that when this mineral is supplied in time the animal gets well. Nearly every herd has had a few deaths during the past four months.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Neille Will Spikes

This morning at every window a Christmas card scene appears. I go from window to window, trying to decide which I like best. The one framed by the kitchen window shows the weeping willow, gracefully spreading ice-coated limbs over the snow-capped rock fence. The garden fence beyond is a delicate pattern of white lace. I wonder where the red-breasted robin is hiding where the we saw hunting bugs on the lawn the other day, chirping or cheeping or whatever a robin is supposed to do in the musical line. Never has there been more than one robin here at a time. It must be the black sheep of the robin family that strays from the beaten path.

We met the Pickering family in person last week and heard them sing a few songs. Everyone fell in love with Johnny. In spite of several front teeth being out, he sang, not even stopping when he took a bad case of the hic-cups and giggles. Billy's voice is sweet and clear. Mr. and Mrs. Pickering, Dock Dooly and J. W. Elliott are the others of this fine singing group.

Mr. Dooley can play and sing, never missing a note or word. J. W. Elliott has a deep bass voice that makes one think of the deep notes of a bell.

D. F. Bredthauer brought me a rock from the old mission near Monterey, Old Mexico, which has stood on the banks of the St. Catherine river since 1685. The wall that surrounds this mission is eight feet through. He told me, "Large rocks are on the outside and inside and the middle is chugged full of small odd rocks like the one I gave you. The dome of the mission is some hundred feet high. I do not see how the huge rocks were raised so high with no mechanical aid. The mission is in the Sierra Madras and is about five thousand feet above sea level." Thus it is by gifts from friends that rocks from Alaska rest by the side of rocks from Old Mexico.

On the editorial page of the March Country Gentleman is a fine tribute to Rural America. "I have discovered America," by Payne Gould McLean. She was called from the city to a little town in the Midwest by the death of her father. She tells how good the people are to her and says: "It was there that I began to realize that the soul of America lies in these gentle folks. Folks who live close to the land, close to their neighbors and close to their God. There is no artifice in their make-up, no priming of friendships, no proffered cup. They do unto others as they would be done by. The good earth is their first and truest love. This is the real America. Here is the heritage that reaches far beyond the worldly facade of glitter and gold and swagger and strut. Here in the hearts of her country people is a lasting beauty and a sturdy courage.

"The winds of chance may blow and storms may gather, and markets may drop and fortunes perish; but here, imbedded in the soil is the heritage of the past. And in the soil lies the future of America." She goes on to tell of her father's "Through death, he has been enabled to enter into that realm for which he has planned all his life—a realm where beauty, and peace and rest, and happiness will surround him eternally. He was prepared for it. His soul has been clean."

"So it is with America. It will not die and decay. For there will always be these kindly people who carry on. 'Blessed are the week, for they shall inherit the earth.' And thrice blessed are we, who inherit the America they build."

A sunny bit of spring cuddles by the south porch. Five cups of pure gold catch the melting snow as it falls in silver drips from the eaves. Dictators with their ugly wars and hates and greeds will pass away, but still God will take brown bulbs in the warm heart of mother earth and from it green swords will protect their cups of gold jonquils. Robins will come to herald lazy spring days and the abundance of summers gifts will bless the dwellers of the earth.

GOODBYE COLD JANUARY
Goodbye cold January—
I'm glad to see you go.
I'm tired of freezing weather,
So tired of sleet and snow.

And hurry, February,
If your weather's cold and rough,
Four weeks of cold and bluster
Are really quite enough.

And March with wind and sand,
Perhaps I can endure,
If I'll remember all the while
That April's coming, sure.

But April, tarry with me,
'Til the sap has started up
And every plant and tree has drunk
Of your warm showery cup.

When May and June are here
I hope the time goes slow,
For I'd like to keep the spring time,
For a'd all the cold and snow.

A DAY IN WINTER

Outside a cold drizzle is falling;
Forlorn sparrows await a bright day.
Inarticulate voices from the dead past calling
Only silver drops slowly dripping away.

IMMORTAL DAY

The night with its bitter heartache;
The day with its burden of care,
Will soon pass away and time
Will heal our deep despair,
For hope must come with the dawn-
ing
Of a new and brighter day;
The tears that stain our cheeks
Will surely be wiped away.

Unbiased Tests Are Reliable

Extravagant claims in regard to high yields and superior quality of lint produced are being made by some seed producers. In order to give you the truth in answer to these claims I am publishing results on some varieties of cotton that were obtained from the State Experiment Station at Lubbock.

My seed are not State Certified yet, but I invite comparison of my cotton with most any other variety that is STATE CERTIFIED.

My farm is located 2 miles North of Aiken, in Floyd County.

Youth Revival Will Begin Wednesday

Outstanding Young People's Leaders Will Help, Pastor Announces

(By Vernon Shaw, pastor)
The First Baptist church wishes to give the entire city a special invitation to attend the youth revival beginning next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, running through two Sundays.

These services are to be a specialty for our young people. However, we want all to attend and help. The young people of the church are to have charge. Every church in the city is invited, and given a special invitation. We welcome every person and hope that you shall avail yourselves of the opportunity that we feel you shall have during these days.

Bro. Guy D. Newman of Memorial Baptist church, Temple, Texas, is coming to lead us in the preaching services. He is one of our very best. His experiences with the youth of our state especially qualify him for this work. It is the pastor's wish and prayer that many shall be touched and helped during these days. Bring your problems and let us help you. Bro. George Stokes, First Baptist church Plainview, will direct the singing. We could not have secured a better. George will also have charge of the visitation.

The fellowship hour following the preaching hour will be the best and I feel that you will not want to miss this. Then the conference led by Bro. Newman just before preaching. A heart to heart talk about our problems will help us to solve them. So there will be many helpful things for one and all. Let us not miss a thing.

The final plea is to the fathers, mothers, teachers and other leaders to encourage the youth to attend these services. They will never regret it and you will be made happier by the results. Don't forget the time, next Wednesday evening at 7.30.

Appreciates Attitude
The very interesting assignment of taking the religious census of the community has just been completed by workers of the First Baptist church and Rev. Shaw said this week that the fine attitude taken toward the workers by the citizens of the city is greatly appreciated.

Tabulation of the census for all churches and for all ages is now being completed and will be available soon.
"The pastor will gladly make available the information contained in this census to other churches of the community," said Rev. Shaw this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bridges of Big Spring visited during the week-end with Mrs. Bridges' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rushing and with Mr. and Mrs. Lon M. Davis.

Mrs. L. H. Newell and Miss Fay Newell visited Monday in Lubbock with Mrs. A. A. Newell and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Daniel.

Home Defense Unit Is Conducting Drive For Members

Floydada Home Defense unit has returned its meeting night to Tuesday night, following the close of basketball season. The night was selected by a majority vote of the membership.

Plans are being formulated to give a "minstrel show" later in order to raise funds for uniforms. Just what plans will be finally worked out has not been definitely decided. Lieutenant J. C. Gilliam will be in charge of the "production."

Capt. D. H. Pitts, commanding officer, told the unit Friday night that unless enlistments reached the minimum of 62 men soon it is quite likely that the adjutant general's office will not recognize this unit.

When application was made last year some 75 men voiced their desire and signed petitions to get the unit but only about 40 of the original number show up for drill and take active part, Captain Pitts said. "If Floydada wants a unit, the only way is to bring enlistments up to the prescribed minimum. Members of the unit are serving without pay as a patriotic duty and give one night each week to drill and military study," the captain explained.

"Declaration of a national emergency by our president would undoubtedly place the home defense units on a strong military basis comparable to that of the national guard before it was called into active duty."

"Duties of the units would be the same as those of the national guard, with the added responsibility of guarding against espionage and 'columnist' activities," Pitts added.

Members of the unit are personally contacting Floydada townsmen and requesting them to attend and boost the unit. "Every member in the unit must act as a recruiting officer until we reach our quota," one non-commissioned officer said.

Although no formal invitation has been extended townsmen in Lockney to form a platoon (approximately 30 enlisted men), a number of Floydada members have voiced the opinion that Lockney should have a platoon and a part in the unit.

The girls who presented the skit were Mary Jackson, Jeanne Edwards, Helen McCravy and Margaret Hambricht.

Junior Live Stock Show Fund Grows

Additional Funds Needed Will Be Sought This Week-End, Plan

Two hundred dollars of a needed $300 fund for the Junior Live Stock and Dairy show in Floydada on April 4 had been pledged or paid up to last night, Herwin E. Strickland, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce announced.

Response from those seen has been good, Strickland said, and a number of other business and professional men are yet to be contacted.

The junior live stock and dairy show will be the outstanding event among FFA and 4-H club boys of the county during the spring and the importance of adequate support for the show cannot be too strongly stressed, the secretary pointed out.

Strickland will close his work with the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday night. He hopes to have the fund completed by that time so as to have the matter closed before he takes his departure. He is due to report on a newspaper job at Abilene Monday morning. "Getting ready to take out from the secretary's job is keeping me going in high trying to get all the odds and ends cleared up," he said.

ACA Secretary Gives Information About Wheat Acreages

Any farmer whose seeded acres of wheat is over his allotment by more than 3 acres or 3 percent, whichever is greater, may dispose of this excess wheat within 15 days after notice is mailed to the operator. After the excess wheat has been disposed of on farms eligible to dispose of same, a deposit of $1.00 for the first plot and 50 cents for each additional plot must be made with the Treasurer of the association before the reporter can return to the farm to check the acres which has been disposed of.

Work was begun this week in the county office on farm plan sheets which will be used in connection with general compliance in 1941. These plan sheets are more complete than the ones used last year, and at this time we are able to enter all data correctly except the cotton yield which has not been established.

The parity rates used on the farm plan sheets will also be unofficial. However, we want to complete this work at the earliest possible date, so that the producer's copy will be of some use to him.

A plan for signing up these sheets has not been worked out to date but will be announced in the very near future.

Alice A. Hoots,
Secretary, Floyd County ACA.

Oil Spoils Water Well In Hale Co.

Well That Pumps Inflammable Substance Creates Much Curiosity

The 65-foot water well at a Hale Center home that has been pumping oily substances which will burn since 1939, was viewed by a Floydada man the latter part of last week.

The well, it is agreed by those who have seen it, is a geological phenomenon. Douglas Hollums is the Floydada man who visited the well and saw it in operation.

After it pumps water for about 10 minutes it begins to pump a mixture of what is agreed to be gasoline, kerosene, naphtha, probably graphite and several other substances. An applied match will set it afire. Hollums brought back samples of the well's production and left a small sample at the Hesperian office.

The well may mean a lot to the Hale Center area. It at least excites much curiosity. In a recent letter to the press Mrs. Frances M. Bridges, who owns the home where the formerly good water well (now spoiled) is located, writes in answer to the hundreds of curious:

"I thought you might be interested to know that my water well has been pumping some kind of inflammable liquid since May 19, 1939. It is really there. It can be gotten by the gallons. It is very explosive and has strong gas fumes. They are so strong we cannot let the windmill run as it makes us sick. We cannot use the water for anything. It kills livestock and vegetation.

"We have had the liquid tested at a number of places. All seem to think there is no doubt that it is valuable, but can't understand why it should be in a well only 65 feet deep.

"We have been in and around Hale

Center since 1901 and on this present place for 22 years. But after the oil people went through the county in 1939, shooting tests, our well began pumping this gasoline.

"Chemical tests show presence of gasoline, coal oil, paraffin, graphite and a lot more I can't read in the chemical analysis. The well got on fire last Sunday and came very near burning tower, barrel, and milk trough down. One of your fellow townsmen, Arthur McClung, witnessed it. My son was showing him how it would burn and it almost got away from him. He finally succeeded in smothering it out.

"The windmill has to run about 10 minutes to start the gas and oil, but when it starts you really know it."

N. E. District Scout Meeting Held Here Monday Night

First Aid Tournament To Be Held At Ralls Friday Night, Floydada Troops To Attend

Visiting Scouts and officers from Ralls and Crosbyton were present Monday night at the monthly Northeastern District meeting of Boy Scouts, when Rev. L. W. Bridges was appointed Neighborhood Commissioner to supervise scouting in Floydada.

L. A. Wicks of Ralls, district chairman presided at the meeting that was held at the Christian church annex. Reports from various committees made up the program of the evening.

Plans were made to attend a Northeastern District First Aid meet for Boy Scout troops at Ralls tomorrow night at 7:30. The meeting will be held in the Ralls city auditorium. Scouts from Ralls, Floydada, Crosbyton and Lockney plan to attend.

Arrangements are directed by Dr. J. L. Adams of Crosbyton who is chairman of First Aid activities of the district. Each patrol will furnish a team. Inter-troops 57 and 64 met for a practice drill Tuesday night preparatory for the district meet.

Judges will be present and winners will be declared in each division, Rev. Bridges said.

Rucker Bakery Gives New Business To West Side Square

A new business house, Rucker Bakery, began operation in Floydada last Saturday. The new plant is located on the west side of the city square and is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rucker.

Baking machinery, ovens, and mixers were moved in last week following a complete repainting and remodeling of the building which is located next door, north, of the Ritz theatre.

A complete line of bakery specialties is offered by the plant, including whole wheat and vitamin bread. Pies, cakes, cookies and party orders are also specialties.

Rucker is not a new comer to Floydada, nor to the baking business. He was raised in this city, and has been engaged in the baking business in a number of South Plains towns.

Canada Fights COUGHS

This New Amazing Way Acts Like A Flash

Compounded from rare Canadian Pine Balsam (by a secret process) Buckley's is entirely different from anything else you ever tried. Get a bottle today—take a moment then swallow slowly, instantly you feel its powerful effective action spread thru throat, head and bronchial tubes. Coughing ceases. Right away it loosens up thick choking phlegm—opens up clogged bronchial tubes—makes breathing easier. Now you'll know why over 10 million bottles of Buckley's famous cough mixture have been sold in cold, wintry Canada.

Most good druggists now have this great Canadian discovery.

WHITE PHARMACY

THE BORROWER'S Best Credential

It used to be a common practice by many borrowers to renew their loans over and over again. They paid the interest but, as they were "good for it," did not seem to think it was necessary to be in a hurry to pay the principal.

Today this practice is recognized as unsound and contrary to safe banking principles. Banks are no longer permitted to extend loans indefinitely.

A "clean slate"—all old obligations wiped off—is a borrower's best credential when seeking further credit. The most welcome borrower today is the man who not only can pay, but does pay his loans at regular intervals.

The First National Bank
FLOYDADA, TEXAS

AS I SEE IT

(By Bill Hams)

Tech Will Finally Know

Texas Tech will finally know just who their coaching staff may be on March 1, according to news seepage. The administrative council is due to huddle then and consider the situation as recommended by the athletic council.

It seems to be signed and sealed that Jennings, Morgan, Huffman, and Nickles will be the four chosen men, about all that has to be done is to make it official for the hungering press and deliver the good word.

No matter what happens, we can say "We knewed it all the time."

Floydada Aero Club

Floydada is becoming quite modern. It has budded up with an Aero club... a plane... and enthusiastic backers. The fine thing about it is the venture isn't promoted or backed by, what our elders might term, "hair brained kids," but quite solid businessmen, and farmers.

To have the elders take up flying does more to satisfy the public mind that flying is safe, than would ever happen if 19 and 20 year olds took it up. The younger fellows can fly, and do fly but the public always feels that "adventurous youth" will tackle anything, safe or not.

The odds are that Floydada will have another club, and another plane before the year is out.

Such a movement as an aero club is "progress on the march." There are plenty of folks in Floyd county who can recollect the pioneer days when a good fast pony was the tops in "Get along"... now these club members have a little Cub monoplane that will get along around 80 to 110 MPH and go as the crow flies.

Junior Livestock Show

No doubt the interest in the Dairy and Junior Livestock show will grow by leaps and bounds now that the guiding hands have decided to offer cash prizes.

We are glad to note the offer of prizes because we have always felt that these 4-H clubbers should receive something besides a pretty blue, red, or white ribbon when they come up with a fine cow or calf.

Nothing spurs effort on the showman's part like good cash. And then too, there are the ribbons that accompany the cash.

Honors are wonderful, but the cash the winners will receive will help meet that feed bill, and other overhead accrued while making the champion.

Submarines Or What

Some of the military experts say that spring will bring not an invasion of Britain, but an invasion of the sea lanes by Nazi submarines, bombing planes, and torpedo boats. It is evident at this time that submarines and bombing planes have done considerable damage to British convoys, because in many cases the British have failed to offer denials or minimize damage reports published by the German agencies.

Whether the German navy can get a strangle hold on the British lifeline or not is open to debate, but navy experts say a battleship without a guarding screen of destroyers and Q-Boats is a cinch for a submarine.

Therefore the heavy cruisers and battleships the British have aren't worth a lot against subs, but are only fit to battle surface raiders or an opposing fleet.

The British are extremely short of destroyers and sub-chasers (Q-Boats) and it may be that a Nazi undersea and over-sea attack may break the sea lines of the British empire.

Spring will tell the tale. Evolution of War

It has been interesting to note the evolution of war feeling in these good United States as reflected by the press.

When the war first began news items issued by Berlin were plainly identified "Berlin Tells It," and the same head was placed over British reports.

Next, the papers just left off the sub-head and printed the news as it arrived without any attempt to take sides.

Step No. 3, the press began to headline British "success" stories and play down German success yarns.

Step No. 4, the editors began to write "funny" heads over the German stories, and mark all Berlin press reports in quotes, which in press language holds them open to doubt... and at the same time indicate that British reports are the gospel truth, cross their heart and hope to die. That is where we are today. Remember the press only reflects public opinion—

The three steps which have appeared in civilian life have been (1) It's another European war, let's keep our feet dry this time, (2) Give all the aid possible to Britain, but no AEF this time, (today) Aid Britain all we can, and "wonder when the U. S. will get in."

FORMER FLOYDADA WOMEN OVERCOME BY GAS

Mrs. Frank Cline and Mrs. W. M. Dilworth, former residents of Floydada, were dangerously overcome by escaping gas at Mrs. Cline's residence in Lubbock last week.

Their condition was discovered by Mrs. Mildred Drace, sister of Mrs. Cline, when she entered the residence. They were sitting in the living room and were semi-conscious when she arrived.

Firemen and a physician were called but artificial respiration was not necessary.

CHAPMAN ATTENDS REA MEETING IN LUBBOCK

L. W. Chapman, superintendent of the Floyd County Rural Electric Co-op, attended the West Texas Generating Co-op meeting Monday in Lubbock.

Twelve co-ops in this district were represented, with headquarters in Floydada, Childress, Memphis, Hereford, Muleshoe, Portales, Artesia, Tahoka, Lubbock, Littlefield, Big Spring and Tulia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Simon, and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Garrett of Floydada and Homer Sanders of Silverton attended a District Lumberman's banquet at Lubbock one night last week.

Puerto Rican Girls Attend W. T. S. C.

Two 21-year-old co-eds from the University of Puerto Rico have enrolled at West Texas State College to complete work for degrees in home economics. The girls, pictured above, are Gloria Soto and Beatriz Martinez.

CANYON, February 24. — They made an understandable error in geography in coming to West Texas on the theory that all of Texas' climate is reasonably similar to that of their native Puerto Rico, but Beatriz Martinez and Gloria Soto are thrilled and pleased to be students of West Texas State college this semester.

One of their first acts on arrival was to write home about a dust storm. There is little wind in Puerto Rico, they explained, although hurricanes are not unknown. They are eager to see their first snowstorm.

They have been pleased by the reception here and they expect to finish work for degrees in home economics a year from now. Then they intend to teach in Puerto Rico. Each is 21 years old.

They selected West Texas State from a list of institutions given them by the dean of women at the university of Puerto Rico in Rio Piedras. They had fifteen days on a boat to study maps and encyclopedias about the Texas plains. What they had not anticipated was the vast size of Texas.

"Your great open spaces and sloping roofs are new to us," Gloria explained. "Puerto Rico's overcrowded houses are close together, and the roofs are flat."

The Latin-American girls came to West Texas State to perfect their spoken English. They speak fluent Spanish and talk English quite passably. They are familiar with the customs, books, dances, and music of the American mainland, although their native customs are somewhat different.

Mrs. Noel Troutman Reviews Book By Charles Morgan

Mrs. Noel Troutman reviewed "The Voyage" by Chas. Morgan at the meeting of the 1922 Study club held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. W. Ross.

The book reviewed by Mrs. Troutman is the story of Barbet Hazard a vine grower and Therese Despreux who became a celebrated star in the eighties. The scene is laid in a beautiful province of France. The voyage is the life which Barbet and Therese create together, a life true to the voice of their hearts.

Barbet is an unassuming countryman who does what he believes to be right. Therese is brilliant and impulsive and wholehearted in her love and her hate. In Barbet is noticed a touch of a saint and Therese a sinner. It is a book full of dramatic contrasts.

Members answered to roll call by naming a book which they had recently read. Following the review a social hour was enjoyed, during which the hostess served a lovely refreshment plate.

The club will meet Thursday afternoon, March 6, at the home of Mrs. Jas. K. Green for a Texas day program.

Donkey Basketball Game Provides Thrills, Spills

Some people think a circus or fair is fun. Well did you see that donkey basketball game Saturday night? Now that was fun.

Coach Nower used to be a regular bronc buster. Coach might have done some good ball playing if his donkey had gone to the right place at the right time.

The trouble with coach was that the donkey pitched him off; then by the time he got on he was off again.

Naturally he couldn't play well on the floor. And he seemed to be there during most of the game.

Of course he declared that every time he got on the referee punched the donkey with the buzzer.

And just to see Mr. Linder on that donkey you could never guess that he sat poised behind a desk as principal of F. H. S. Mr. Linder resembled Icky Bod Crane how could the donkey help it if it were so

Peggy left around, it looks as if you are being two-timed right under your nose or does that guy mean anything to you in California.

Betty Eakin—"I don't think it would hurt them to dress a little nicer, especially when they have a date."

Geneva—"They should shave more often and keep their trousers pressed."

Miss Hall—"The majority of the students dress almost as well as the average college student as far as styles are concerned. I mean by that, that you see the skirts, sweaters, saddle oxfords and tweed trousers that you would on a college campus."

Miss Smith—"I think most of them could be much neater in their appearance. To my way of thinking slacks have a definite purpose and place other than school."

Miss Rea—"I think most of them dress very appropriately. More so now than they did a few years ago."

Mr. Winter—"I think they dress all right."

The boys gave their opinion of the girls clothing!

Scrappy Hodge—"As an average they dress very attractively."

Bud DuBois—"Some of their colors are too loud and some are too old-fashioned but they're still all right."

Donald Cornelius—"Personally I don't see a thing wrong with them."

Joe Arwine—"I don't like the way they fix their hair and the way they dress."

Dub Trowbridge—"Some of them use too much makeup."

J. D. Morrison—"I think that as a whole they dress all right."

Dillion Patterson—"I like them fine and I say let them dress like they want to."

Herschel Hinson—"Most of them don't wear enough makeup."

small? Or was he trying to do the—dive, anyway he would be going along nicely until the donkey would decide to use all four brakes, then Mr. Linder was over board.

Our Ag teacher was quite a sight to see. I bet in his younger days he was a real cowhand. Mr. Barber stayed on his animal more than anyone. Was it that he had a gentle donkey or is he just a good rider?

Get in on the

you can make on the Big New Ford right now!

YOU HAVE TO GET two things to complete a really good "deal" when you get a new car — and your Ford dealer would like to have you try him out on both! First, you want a good allowance for your present car — and all he asks is a chance to make an offer! And next, you want a lot of value in your new car — and that means a Ford this year more clearly than ever before!

This is the biggest Ford and biggest value in all Ford history. Its passenger room exceeds anything else in its field. Its soft and quiet new ride is one of the motor year's most talked-about improvements. Its engine is a smooth V-8, which you enjoy at no extra cost for either gas or oil. And its bodies and style are really new this year, all the way through.

If you're trading cars this year and want to be sure you make the most of your trade... the man to see is your Ford dealer. Now is the ideal time.

Proclamation

Designating March 2nd To March 8th As Texas Week

WHEREAS, the approach of Texas Independence Day and Alamo Day herald a week of deep significance and profound meaning in the minds and hearts of all Texans; and WHEREAS, I am prompted by the patriotic members of the Forty-Second Legislature, as expressed in Senate Concurrent Resolution Number Eight, and by my own feelings of love, loyalty, and patriotism toward my State;

NOW THEREFORE, I Glad Snodgrass, Mayor of the City of Floydada, Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of March 2nd to March 8th, 1941, as

TEXAS WEEK

AND I urge all citizens of this municipality and of Texas to observe TEXAS WEEK in an appropriate manner. I call on all homes, all churches, all schools, all communities, all offices, all courts, all industries and places of business, all clubs and lodges, all conventions, and all other groups of citizens who may assemble together, as well as every individual citizen, to join in these observances with enthusiasm.

I challenge you to read Texas books, to fly the Texas Flag along with the Flag of the United States, to render programs calculated to make all citizens more Texas-conscious and Texas-minded, and to dedicate trees and flowers to the founders and forefathers of Texas who made it possible for us to live in this great State and enjoy its freedom.

SURELY, no one of us will fail to cherish the rich heritage which the founders and fore-fathers prepared for us of this generation. These patriots were straight as the pine, sturdy as the oak, unselfish as the peach, and worshipful as the tiniest shrub or the tallest tree that lifts its limbs to the great Creator of Texas, the land of promise. We shall not forget this; nor shall we fail to remember that these founders and builders were strong-handed, clear-headed, warm-hearted, liberty-loving, and forward-looking when they committed their rich heritage to our stewardship.

I urge you, one and all, to make TEXAS WEEK book week, education week, patriotic week, music week, flower week, bird week, humane week, Texas history week, work week, dedication week, consecration week, stewardship week, redletter week. Let us all, during this brief week, make much of the cultural and spiritual values of our history and traditions, and dedicate our lives afresh to the lofty ideals of statesmanship, character, leadership, and service of those of other generations who made it possible for us to enjoy in Texas liberty of conscience, of speech, of the press, of worship, of public assembly, of work, and all the other liberties which we cherish.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of my Office to be impressed hereon at Floydada, Texas, this 26th day of February, A. D., 1941.

(SEAL) GLAD SNODGRASS, Mayor of Floydada, Texas.

sion horticulturist, College Station, and 2 to 5 o'clock, "Economic Application of Pumping Equipment," W. D. Scoates, field irrigation engineer, REA, Washington, and F. H. Robinson, regional operations engineer, R. E. A., Washington. The irrigation sub-committee which arranged the program is composed of Mrs. Chas. Smith and R. B. Gary, Floydada and F. L. Brown, Ben Quebe, C. J. Taylor, H. W. Schacht, Geo. T. Meriwether, Ed Whitfill, Buck Sams and Wyatt McLaughlin, Lockney.

In order to accommodate the large crowds at the noon hour, Lockney business men headed by C. J. Taylor, chairman, are making plans for a barbecue dinner on Wednesday. Meat, bread and coffee will be furnished by the Lockney business men and to insure a sufficient amount of food, Mr. Taylor asks the cooperation of all local people who plan to attend the meeting to please bring a pastry or salad.

Plans for this noon hour barbecue have been made so as to keep the group together, give everybody an opportunity to get acquainted and enjoy an hour of real fellowship.

sub-moisture in a number of years. Prospects for a wheat crop of better than average proportions have been given a mighty boost. The hardships of impassable rural highways, country detours, damp clothing and general discomfort is negligible when the farmer and rancher consider the benefit the steady rainfall will have upon his crops. Press reports indicate that the damp area extends far north, south, east and west.

Although some ice formed on electric and telephone lines, little damage has been reported. Rural electric customers reported some few interruptions of service but such were only temporary as linesmen quickly cleared the trouble.

Trees and shrubs were bent but the ice melted during the days enough to remove the pressure and only a small part of the vegetation has been injured.

Stamps are then issued in amounts up to $50, figured by 10 cents per pound cotton times the normal yield times the number of acres reduced. No owner or operator may receive over $50 worth of stamps no matter how many farms he may operate or how many acres he may reduce.

These stamps in book form may then be taken to certified stores and redeemed. They are good on the purchase of cotton goods made Counties represented were Floyd, Hale, Swisher, Briscoe, Motley and Dickens.
