County Democrats Contribute $79 On Deficit

Floyd County Democrats last week had contributed a total of $79 to help cover the deficit of the National Democratic committee from the 1940 campaign.

The Jackson Day campaign had been conducted on a nation-wide basis and in Texas culminated with a dinner at the Rice hotel in Houston where 700 Texas democrats gathered to hear state and national leaders talk. R. B. Gary attended this dinner from Floyd county. Receipts for funds received in this county indicated that 45 persons subscribed donations to help wipe out the party's national deficit.

A quota of $115 had been sought from this county and the county chairman announced that the list would be kept open for several days more to give any an opportunity to subscribe who had not previously done so. The amounts received to date from individuals have ranged from 50 cents to $6.

Signing The New Truck Load Limit Bill

House and Senate sponsors of the scientifically based truck load limit bill which passed both branches of the legislature recently with but five dissenting votes in each, look on as Governor W. Lee O'Daniel signs the measure which fixes a top of 88,000 pounds gross weight. Left to right, Senator Rogers Kelley, sponsor of the bill in the Senate; Governor O'Daniel; and Representative Lon E. How the New Truck Load Limit In Texas Will Work

Texas Motor Transportation Ass'n Illustrates With Different Truck Lengths AUSTIN, April 7. — The overall gross weight allowed by the new Texas truck load law is 38,000 pounds, which includes the weight of the vehicle and the load, according to Lynn B. Shaw, general manager of the Texas Motor Transportation association. However, Shaw said that this does not mean that all trucks may be operated with a gross weight of 38,000 pounds. In order to determine the authorized gross weight on any vehicle or combination of vehicles, the first thing to do is to measure the distance in feet between the front axle and the rear axle, and then add 40 and multiply this sum by 700, Shaw explained.

For instance, using an ordinary four wheel vehicle, if the distance between the front axle and the rear axle is 12 feet you add 40, which makes 52. Multiplying this by 700 makes 36,400, the total gross weight for which this particular vehicle may be registered. If it is a truck-tractor and semi-trailer combination, it will be necessary to measure the distance in feet between the front axle of the truck-tractor and the rear axle of the semi-trailer, add 40 and multiply by 700. As an example, Shaw pointed out that if the distance between the first and last axles of the combination is 24 feet, you add 40, which makes 64. Then multiply by 700, which gives you 44,800, the total gross weight. However, the act provides that the gross weight shall not exceed 38,000 pounds, so in this instance you could not register the vehicle for more than 38,000 pounds.

Shaw cited these as examples, but the explanation applies to any vehicle or combination of vehicles. In each instance you add the number 40 to the distance between the first and last axles, and multiply by 700. The law also provides that the gross weight shall not exceed 18,000 pounds per axle where low pressure tires are used, or 16,000 pounds per axle where high pressure tires are used; and such gross weight shall not exceed 9,000 pounds per wheel if low pressure tires are used, or 8,000 pounds where high pressure tires are used. Furthermore, the weight shall not exceed 600 pounds per inch width of tire upon any wheel concentrated upon the surface of the highway and using high pressure tires, and a greater weight than 650 pounds per inch width of tire upon any wheel concentrated upon the surface of the highway and using low pressure tires." Shaw said the tire width referred to means the tread of the tire as stated by the manufacturer.

Churches Plan Easter Services

'Go To Church' Sunday Slogan; Risen Christ Central Theme Attend the church of your choice Sunday morning. It is Easter morning and the Risen Lord will be the theme around which all the churches are building their program for a day of activity in worship. Special services which will follow the happy thoughts centering around the day observed as that on which the Lord arose from the tomb, are being arranged. Calling attention to the day and sure of the pleasure and joy which would redound to those who attend one of the services, local civic organizations have adopted resolutions reminding their membership of the forthcoming event, and numerous professional and business organizations have lent their weight to the suggestion.

First event marking the day here will be the sunrise service at the First Christian church, where several hundred are expected to assemble at the sun comes up, to greet the day in prayer and praise. Several local churches and lay leaders will have parts in this program. Later in the morning other services at the various churches will follow and throughout the day the central thought of Easter and its promise to the world will be uppermost. 4-H And FFA Boys Show Animals To Many Visitors

Judges Find 'Class' In Entries Shown By Floyd County Boys Visitors totaling 2,500 people, roughly estimated, saw the unusual display of sheep, fat calves, dairy calves and swine shown last Friday in the Floyd County Junior Live Stock show. In the show boys from the Future Farmers of America organization in Lockney and Floydada High schools and boys in the 4-H clubs of the county participated.

Their display of excellent farm animals included nearly 200 head of sheep, scores of swine, fifty or more dairy cattle of all sizes and ages and nearly 30 fat calves. And while the crowd is called 2,500 it might easily have been several hundred more, for the grounds were crowded all day and new faces were seen at nearly every hour of the day.

Something more than $100 was paid the exhibitors in prizes arranged for by business men of Floydada, and J. C. Wester, president of the Chamber of Commerce said that sufficient money is left in the special fund to care for any small expense that may not have been taken care of at the time.

G. G. Gibson, dairy specialist, and George Barnes, beef cattle specialist, of A. & M. college, served as judges. Awards made by them were as follows:

Connor of Durango, Colorado, a comrade and fellowworker of the deceased in the hospital unit. He will remain for the funeral service this afternoon. Military rites were held at Fort Bliss before the body was sent to Floydada. Mr. Nelson enlisted in the U. S. Army about three weeks ago as a pharmacist. He was stationed at William Beaumont hospital at El Paso and assigned to duty in the pharmacy. He was on duty until noon Sunday. As he was leaving mess hall after the noon-day meal he stumbled and was about to fall (See LORRAINE NELSON back)

The Hesperian's co-ordinator of wind forces and other natural phenomena has been bothered the past week. The barometer and the children of nature—tarantulas, hard-backed and soft-backed bugs, sparrows, robins, earth worms, et cetera, et cetera—have been working at cross purposes. Nothing has been working right. When a huge wind and cold and dust and snow should have mixed up in a terrific celestial battle there was none. Latterly a soft gentle rain that we did not report, should have fallen but there was none. This means a huge battle among the forces of nature has been under way, and that even the crows, the willows and the mesquite may have interpreted forthcoming events incorrectly. In John 3 and 8 of a book to which we do not refer by name it is said:

The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth."

And thus we know that finite beings cannot all the time tell what the Infinite has in store for us. We guess as best we can.

Nearly everybody in Floyd county either owns a truck or is interested in hiring somebody who does own one, which is why the Number One matter of interest this week is the new truck load limit law. Explanations and illustrations on how the law will work, especially with regard to how much it will cost in license fees to own and operate one, are going the rounds. The last word will be said in the office of the assessor and collector, whose job it will be to take the money off of the truck owners and give them receipts. The men who sponsored the bill through the legislature are confident they have an ideal law. It is to be hoped they have accomplished this result and that the long wait for a proper truck law has been rewarded. The old law has been marked principally by the violations of it in the past few years, principally because it did not "jibe" with the bread and butter necessities of life.

How a small county in Texas is going to get the highways it needs during the next few years is one of the problems that will have to be faced in Floyd county. The centers around which the military establishment is being built, of course, will have no trouble. In fact they will get highways they had only faintly hoped for. The State Highway commission is and will be under strong pressure from the federal government to build roads where they think they will need them. However, it might be pointed out that if Mr. Hitler gets over in this country bombing his way through it would be mighty nice to have some good roads away out where there "aint no bombs," so that the army could take "roundnances". Meanwhile the likelihood is that the income from the surplus in the County and Road District Indebtedness fund will have been spent in most counties with no permanent improvements to show for the money.

Some people have little to say, but say it too much.

Anybody with as much as 10 cents is going to be able to help in financing the government beginning sometime soon. Possibly there will be an announcement from the government before this is in print. The baby bond, now extant, will be continued we hear. In addition there will be offered savings stamps, certificates of small face value and low cost bonds. Mr. Morgenthau, the secretary of the treasury, has told newsmen that the post offices would be the principal outlets for the savings paper to be obtained. A big organization to handle the new government securities, with experts and all that, has been in the process of making up ever since Christmas. Manufacturing the savings paper alone was expected to take two months when the program started, to give you an idea of all the work that must be done and all the details that must be worked out before the issue is ready to be sprung on the public.

The government has been offering its huge financing program the past several years to the banks of the country and hardly a bank you can find but has thousands of dollars in government notes, bonds or certificates of some kind. The financing business is so far-reaching and has so many angles that a country newspaper man who might want to give the information to his readers finds himself in a maze of words and figures. Incidentally the big magazines and big newspapers, and including some of the radio stations, will be paid to make the treasury's official announcement. The information will be "made available" to newspapers like The Hesperian in a "very interesting news story." The pattern couldn't be more like that of 1918 than a twin sister.

Draftees who are ineligible for military service on account of physical defects are the least bit fewer in number per 100 men than they were in 1918, it is said by the State Health department, basing estimates on the first 10,000 men called. The per centage is nearly 29 in 1941 against 31.2 twenty-four years ago. One thing every registrant should keep in mind is that he may be rejected for military service even after he reaches the army induction station. (We mean by that El Paso at the present time). When it happens that a fellow, who thinks of himself as being a perfect specimen, is turned down he has some arrangements still to make. He has made up his mind to take it. But there is nothing to take. He can't get in the army and he doesn't have any job back home any more. What is he going to do? State headquarters is "extremely anxious that any injustices suffered by registrants in such cases be reduced to the minimum." Probability is that a young man who finds himself in this kind of a position will find it difficult to eat "extreme anxiety." He has sold or given away his civilian clothes, given up his lodging accommodations, severed employment connections. Everybody the registrant contacts is very sorry personally, but officially—well, that is another matter.

Men are like steel—when they lose their temper they become weak.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Spikes

April turned a blue owl over the plains last Friday, scattered a few soft white clouds across its calm surface, warmed a light wind, and turned a sunny smile on the crowd at the Fat Stock show in Floydada. It was a scene full of color. Sleek calves and cows looked with large eyes at the curious milling people, hogs grunted in the shade of the boards of their pen. Hogs are always contented, I find, when they have something to eat and shade and water. You can move them where you please and they are at home with the above requirements. Not so with many animals. Did you ever try to make a cow drink out of a strange trough?

A and M graduates walked among the farmers and the Four H boys. Women and girls took a keen interest in the judging and the ribbons tied on the winners. Mr. and Mrs. Lon Davis were enjoying the show, and Dr. Lon Smith and Brother Tyler showed as much interest as the farm people themselves.

A tragedy. A boy of about eight or ten came to his mother with chewing gum all over his clean shirt. No amount of scraping seemed to dislodge the sticky stuff, so he went on all stuck up and enjoyed the day nevertheless. Two young lads took time off to see which was the better man. Fists flew for a little while. The bawling of the cattle, the grunting of the hogs and the bleating of the sheep, with the calls of the soda pop farm boys made country sounds in the town.

Of course you remember the tale of Rumpel Stiltchen spinning the straw in to gold for the Kirk's wife. Well I saw another miracle that had been done before the show. Boys had taken straw and spun it into fat calves and hogs and they in turn would spin into gold.

I was glad to meet Mrs. Cooper, bless her heart, and Mrs. Hatley, once my good neighbor, at the show.

Mrs. Ray Reed gave me so much encouragement yesterday. I have known her since she was a young lady clerking in the store of Mr. A. J. Botts at Ralls. Mr. and Mrs. Reed are some of our finest citizens.

The fruit trees are a beautiful sight to see this spring. All hold their breath and hope the fruit will not be killed this year. The pear trees are especially lovely and white petals dot the lawn like small hailstones. The whole air is perfumed with their fragrance. With the green wheat and green pastures the plains are a perfect setting for the flowering trees.

The war has opened on a new front. More defenseless women and little helpless children to be murdered and maimed, only that men of greed and hate may be satiated. And just at Easter, the season of

The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean wholesome places. Yet it is the once-in-a-while exception—the anti-social, law-violating tavern that everybody notices.

Such undesirable retailers give beer a bad name it doesn't deserve. Furthermore, by arousing public indignation, retailing abuses endanger your right to enjoy good beer, the beverage of moderation. They also endanger the benefits that beer has brought to Texas—31,165 persons employed since re-legalization, an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and $2,273,968.64 taxes paid last year.

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell it under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry wants anti-social retailing eliminated entirely.

You can help us by (1) patronizing only the legal and reputable places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

BEER...a beverage of moderation

Veterans Of World War I Against Defense Strikes

McDermott Post, American Legion, Monday formally put the Floydada organization of ex-service men on record as condemning strikes in defense industries, and authorized the adjutant of the post to commend our representatives in Congress and at Austin for their stand against the perilous activities of those who are engaged in holding up preparations for national defense.

The resolution was a strongly worded warning that the ex-service men of World War I are out of patience with the present economic situation in lines of industry needed to put the country on a war footing.

Announcement was made at the meeting that sufficient blanks are now in hand to complete the registration of former service men for home defense during the period of national stress. EASTER

The world is often dark and dreary; Cold and sad, our hearts are weary; Death and winter rule the land, But in our hearts we understand.

After winter comes the spring, After death we live again; After darkness comes the light, Day must always follow night.

Out of earth's cold winter prison All things must wake, our Lord is risen!

When He lift the tomb, on Easter morn, For this sad earth, new hope was born.

After the winter so cold and dark, Sweet to our ears the song of the lark,

Out of the warmed earth, lilies spring, And in our hearts, the angels sing! Flora Smith Dean.

RICHES

He sprinkled His diamonds in the snow, Traced the red of rubies in the rainbow, Let the gold of earth in the sunset glow, Showering His riches on the plains below.

He gave us stars that twinkle bright The moon to shed her silvery light Gems set in the onyx of the night High in the Heavens, o'er the plains below.

In summer, in winter by night or day

God put his riches on earth to stay Emerald grass and flowers so gay, Riches from God to the plainmen below.

Odetta Anderson, Kress, Texas.

APPLE TREE IN BLOSSOM

Beneath your boughs laden with beauty I stand,

Blossoms of delicate shades of pink and white,

Petals float down, my eyes feast the cluster in my hand,

I miss not the feathery loveliness falling soft and light

From your twigs, bearing such beauty about my face

Enchanting splendor contrasting with the sky of blue:

For there was another happy time and place

Pink and white petals floated down upon a love deep and true.

TURPENTINING HAS BECOME SCIENTIFIC, EXPERT SAYS

The turpentine and rosin industry in its old crude days found its principal market in tar for calking ships and was called the naval stores industry. Nowadays its products find a great variety of uses unrelated to ships. Production and processing have changed in this southern pine wood industry. Trees once maimed by the "kypsy" operators who chopped them widely with hatchets and cut "boxes" in them for collecting the gum, are now treated with consideration for future crops.

Modernizing changes were outlined recently by C. F. Seph of the Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering who says the hatchet and "egg" crop, which does less damage to the tree and gets a better flow of gum. Instead of cutting cavities in the trees, cups are used to collect gum. Iron kettles have given way to copper stills, single-kettle sheds to multi-kettle plants. Central stills heated by oil instead of wood now process gum scientifically.

Gum cleaning equipment is carrying the results of research work still farther. The original product, pine tar, is now replaced by turpentine, rosin and various derivatives, such as resins and synthetic camphor, now valuable in the national emergency.

Small farmers now produce much of the product. It has become a "butter and egg" crop. At least 20,000 gum farmers, local citizens, now collect gum in place of the "kypsy" operators.

Finally, says Mr. Seph, the industry, forced partly by the present emergency, is turning to domestic markets, and is producing on a basis of conservation rather than devastation.

Mrs. De Riche's fur coat was a last year's model and she was trying to sell it to her colored maid. The maid examined it carefully and thoroughly before giving her verdict. "Miz De Riche, hit's a nice coat, and good material, and awful well made, but hit sho is rump sprung."

Petersburg Oil Test Going Down Fast

The Petersburg 9000-foot oil test, spudded in two weeks ago, had reached the 2000-foot level the earlier part of this week and rotary drilling was proceeding with unusual speed, reports from Petersburg indicates.

FOLK ARTS THRIVE

"Very significant has been the development by rural people of their own means of self-expression, even when their material circumstances would apparently make it difficult for them to interest themselves in such things," says H. R. Tolley in the current Yearbook of Agriculture.

"Some investigators have cited the survival, through times of poverty and distress, of native folk arts such as square dances and handicrafts and the revival in late years of folk singing to illustrate the latent resources of our rural culture. Where highly commercialized agriculture has not altered the basic patterns of rural thought, these folk arts seem to flourish with vigor. Such response means that people are hungry for the interpretations of themselves and their own lives that the arts can give. The Nation may be only dimly aware of the richness of the cultural soil that awaits seeding."

Fred Gilbert, Former Resident Of County, Died On Tuesday

Fred Gilbert, 42, of Los Angeles, a former resident of Floyd county, died Tuesday night of this week, relatives here were informed Wednesday.

A resident of Los Angeles for the past 13 years, the deceased had been ill for a month. James Hicks, a nephew, was with him at the time.

OLD SETTLERS TO MEET SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The time for the meeting is 2 o'clock and the place the county court room, Mrs. Jno. A. Hollums, secretary, said.

HOW MANY ACRES?

It is reasonable to expect that our needs for cropland will be less in the future than they are today? The answer to this question depends upon a maze of factors and uncertainties, according to an article entitled "How Many Acres Do We Require?" in the current issue of the Land Policy Review, published by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Some of these factors are: (1) future agricultural exports and imports; (2) substitution of mechanical power for horses; (3) adjustment of pasture acreage; (4) changes in diet; (5) crop yields; and (6) technological use of farm products.

The article, written by H. E. Selby of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, examines these factors in light of the debates on the value of land reclamation. Alternatives to increasing cropland acreage by reclamation are, he says, more intensive production on the present acreage of suitable land, and increased imports of agricultural products.

"Well, old man," Simpson said to his friend who had just inherited a fortune, "I reckon I ought to offer my congratulations, eh?"

"Oh, I don't know," the newly rich sighed, "I suppose wealth has its points, but it's sure to rob me of one thrill at least."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, I'll never again experience the thrill of paying off the last installment on something."

National Defense Promoted By CCC Program

Conservation Of Youth And Natural Resources Given Impetus

AMARILLO, Texas, April 7.—More than 2,300,000 young men have been trained physically and educated for national defense and conservation in the CCC Camps of the nation since the inception of the Civilian Conservation Corps eight years ago, according to the annual report for 1940 released recently by J. J. McEntee, Director of the Corps.

In his report McEntee emphasizes that the CCC not only has been a big factor in the conservation of the nation's natural resources and its youth, but also has made important contributions to the national defense program.

"The Corps has brought physical hardihood to 2,300,000 young men who are now, or shortly will be, in the Selective Service age group. It has trained large numbers of young men in such skills as truck driving, mechanics, road building, telephone line construction, and radios. Through the Corps the nation has been converting unemployed young men without work experience into good citizens and at the same time has been advancing a tremendous conservation program which has added materially to our national resource wealth and economic preparedness," McEntee states.

The CCC has contributed heavily to national security by the advancement of such major conservation projects as the reforestation of two million acres of land, the protection from erosion of more than four million acres of farm land and the reestablishment of good grass on large acreages of range land in the west. The improvements of forests, parks, and the development of wildlife refuges and other facilities for the nation's wildlife population also has been an important contribution of the Corps.

During the past year CCC Camps cooperated with 165 Soil Conservation Districts in the nation. The major portion of CCC work in erosion control camps cooperating with local Soil Conservation Districts involved the installation of soil and water conserving measures on farm and range land. This work included such activities as gully control, terrace outlet construction, planting of trees and shrubs, running lines for contour furrows and terraces, and building structures for stream bank protection.

"It should be emphasized that the entire pattern of camp life—the daily routine, the work projects, the training and educational programs—all contribute to national security by developing in youth character, discipline, good work habits, health, love of country, and the ability to achieve economic independence," McEntee says.

H. H. Fennell, Regional Conservator of the Soil Conservation Service for the Southern Great Plains points out that 25 of the nation's CCC Camps have been working with his Service and Soil Conservation Districts in the "Dust Bowl" region

MRS. KREIS TO DEMONSTRATE JELLY MAKING FOR CLUB ON APRIL 17

The Campbell-Fairview Home Demonstration club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Lee Rushing with the president in the chair. The recreational period was conducted by Mrs. Malcolm McNeill and the roll was answered by "Is Meal Planning a Waste of Time." Mrs. Lee Rushing gave a report on the council meeting of March 31.

Miss Edith Wilson, agent, gave a demonstration, on quick breads which included Egg Custard pie and biscuits. Miss Wilson pointed out that the fat and flour should be cut together with knives in the pastry and then use your fingers to mix the flour and fat to give a fine corn-meal texture for the biscuits. An egg custard should be cooked at 450 degrees for 15 minutes, then lower to 325 degrees for the remainder of baking.

Each quarter the club will have an entertainment that will include their husbands and the following are the committees appointed: Those to be hostesses for April, May and June are Mrs. S. L. Rushing, Mrs. F. O. Conner, and Mrs. E. B. Chesnut; July, August and September are Mrs. E. C. Hayden, Mrs. R. M. Stovall, Miss Dorothy Stovall and Mrs. Malcolm McNeill; October, November and December are Mrs. W. H. Bethel, Mrs. Mal Jarboe and Mrs. Lee Rushing.

All members are urged to attend the District meeting to be held in Plainview, April 19. Those wishing to eat lunch at the Hilton hotel must notify Mrs. C. A. Caffee or Mrs. Jarboe at least three days in advance.

A refreshment plate was served to Mrs. E. C. Hayden, Mrs. E. B. Chesnut, Mrs. Mal Jarboe, Mrs. Malcolm McNeill, Miss Wilson and the hostesses, Mrs. Rushing.

The next meeting will be April 17 at the home of Mrs. S. L. Rushing. A demonstration on jelly making will be given by Mrs. A. H. Kreis a guest from Dougherty.

MOVED TO FLOYDADA

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Pitts and four year old daughter Joretta and baby son Rabon, Jr., moved to Floydada Friday from Lubbock and Mr. Pitts will be employed at the Bishop Motor company.

They were accompanied by Ross Alexander who will also be employed at the Bishop Motor company. Both men are former employees of the Lubbock Auto company.

toward the control of erosion in this critical area.

He says, "I doubt seriously whether the importance of the CCC contribution to the soil and water conservation program in the Southwest can be over-evaluated. Working under the direct supervision of Soil Conservation Service technicians throughout this area, CCC enrollees have been the front line troops in the war on erosion. By providing the essential labor they have added momentum to the conservation movement which today is reaching across the plains of Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico more extensively and intensively than ever before."

"Gone With The Wind" Next Week

Two Night Shows, Three Matinees To See Civil War Story

"Gone With The Wind" is returning to Floydada. The dates are Thursday and Friday of next week. April 17 and 18 and the feature will be run for five complete consecutive times to give complete opportunity to see the Clark Gable-Vivien Leigh masterpiece. First showing will be Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the second Thursday night. At 10 o'clock Friday morning the special show for school children will be held, to be followed by a 2 o'clock run. The Friday night show will be the fifth and last performance.

"Gone with the Wind" will be shown in its complete entirety each and every show, just like it was given in the Atlanta and Broadway premieres," said Jack Deakins, manager of the show, this week. "Nothing has been cut but the price."

As to prices matinee shows for adults will be 40 cents and for children 25 cents. All night admissions will be 55 cents, said Mr. Deakins.

The inimitable story of Scarlett O'Hara and Rhett Butler, as told by Vivien Leigh and Clark Gable and a wonderful cast of supporting characters, and its Civil War sack ground, has called into play all the adjectives from the lips and pens of those who have seen it. Hundreds of these, Mr. Deakins believes, will want to see the play again and the others will be given a chance to see it again.

Seniors Make Plans For Graduation

The seniors met Thursday morning to decide about their caps and gowns for graduation. They refused the traditional gray for their academic gown; and chose instead a brighter blue—Royal blue.

Furthermore the class appointed a committee, E. L. Tyler, LeRoy Chowning, Lee Dale Clubb and Bennie Crawford to select the class invitations.

Henry Barber, representative of the Curtis Publishing company put a plan before the senior class to raise money by selling magazine subscriptions. The plan was voted on and the class was in favor of adopting this plan as they need money to leave a class project.

A LAMENT FOR THE "BY-GONE" WESTERN STORY

(By A Former Admirer)

Nowhere can you find better proof of the softening and weakening of mankind than in a careful study of the Western stories of the last half century. The United States is renowned for the sturdiness of its citizens mentally as well as physically. We should try to keep this record; but alas the Western Story magazine, which has for long been the creator of ideas and courage in our youth, is sadly declining. No longer do the minds of young men become early imbued with the laws of Hoyle and the courage of Hickok. This is through no fault of their own; give them the right material and they will read it, but alas the day—there is no right material now-a-day. Once the Western magazines were crammed to the brim with the pungently dramatic exploits of the "rootin', tootin', shootin'" guys; but no more. When you read a Western novel of today, you are lucky, indeed, if the hero doesn't make his climactical appearance in army tank or on a motor-cycle. How thoroughly disgusting this reading is for one who has read the real McCoy Western Stories. The stories which were peppered with gun-shots, hoof-beats, and etc. Stories that were made up around blue-eyed, two-gunned range riders; fleet, one-man braves, pallid gamblers, rip roaring desperadoes, Indians, cow girls, gold and red liquor, white-hot lead, and batter night club girls, not all of which were white. All these are gone from the Western story. Now the plot of the stories is made up of the terrible dilemma in which some handsome cowboy is faced with the two possibilities—sticking to ranching or getting on W. P. A. As for me, such stories give me the "hebie-gebies". The only villain in them, as far as I am concerned, is the guy that writes them. This deluge of weak lace-fringed stories is threatening to ruin the country. To the romantic boy, it is a true sign of the crack-up of civilization.

The assembly was closed with announcements from Mr. Linder, principal and Mr. Travis, superintendent.

Walter Travis, the superintendent of Floydada High school, asked some questions on the work they have been doing.

The program was 15 minutes long and according to the students they enjoyed putting it on.

KNOW YOUR SIGNALS

Boys, here are your signals: Observe the color of her hair ribbon and take your cue thereby. O. K. let's go. If she wears:

Aqua—No date tonight.
Green—I flirt with them all.
Black—disappointed in love.
Blue—I'm just your type.
Red—Desperate for dates.
White—Bashful.
Orange—want a football hero.
Pink—don't bother me, I'm in love.

White—going steady.
Orchid—gold digger.
Tan—big sister type.
Yellow—I'm a dangerous woman.
If the bow is not one of the above colors, get your cue by the way it's worn; such as:

On top—open for dates.
On left side—I'm in love.
On right side—going steady.
Both sides—desperate for dates.
Nape of neck—steady with a guy from out of town.

No bow—an old maid.

Floydada High Won 3 Firsts, One Fourth At District

In the district meet at Lubbock Friday and Saturday, April 4 and 5, Floydada High won three first places and one fourth place. The first places were in extemporaneous speaking and mile relay. The fourth place was in high hurdles.

Dorothy Ann Dooley won the first in girl's extemporaneous speaking. Her topic was "The Petain Government in France".

Jack P. Daily won the first in boys extemporaneous speaking. His topic was "Finance and Aid to Great Britain" and "The Balkan Situation".

The track team won their first in the mile relay. The team consisted of Bruce Foster, Arthur Womack, Weldon (Bud) DuBois, and Aldine Williams. LeRoy Chowning placed fourth in high hurdles. The other boys on the track team were Doyle Walls, Joe Shultz, Dillon Patterson, and Joe Rushing.

The boys' tennis team in doubles placed first in their match. They were H. C. Love and Paul Kropp. Florence Lloyd represented the girls in singles. Royce Turner represented the boys singles.

Robert Conner placed first in his group in the preliminaries. The first place winners will go to the regional meet at Canyon, April 19.

Confidentially Lubbock and Borger boys are flies in a certain junior's soup.

What was Joe Arwine afraid of when he gave Pee Wee Eainer all of his money? Surely not pick-pockets. Riding on fenders can be dangerous business. If you don't believe that, ask some of the band members about a certain ride to Butler field.

Eddie Duncan and Dora Faye were mightily friendly coming home Saturday night, or was she just sleepy? Was she still sleepy Sunday?

Scrapy told Joe Arwine to keep an eye on little brunettes. He didn't know that Joe would need some one to take care of him.

Geneva's car was plenty crowded coming home. The more the merrier. Eh, what?

What was that you had such a hard time fixing after you unfixed it, Phil?

What couple had a friendly (we home) argument on the way home Saturday?

What sort of a boy is it that will let his girl sit on the floor to sleep? Randolph, we thought you were a gentleman.

Donald, you seemed to have a good time after—well after—you talked for a while.

The persons who went with "Squirt" seemed to have a good time. The "Nat" is a good place isn't it?

Billy Smith has been studying his history lately. Is it Miss Rea's questions or La Faun and Flora's answers that are encouraging him.

Bruce's girl has a good-looking car. Who is that little blonde?

Neal, you shouldn't horn in as you did. You know you might make some one mad?

The next scene viewed the cowboy life of Texas and the singing of cowboy songs.

The fifth scene showed the products of Texas with the student in a costume that represented a particular product. Grains, nuts, cotton, fruits, vegetables, sulphur and oil were represented.

IF YOU LIVE IN the Panhandle YOU'RE IN THE OIL BUSINESS

There are nearly 65,000 like us, including oil workers and our families, in the Texas Panhandle. We get our entire living from oil and gas. The wage earners of our group receive over 19 million dollars a year.

My Dad is a rancher. He gets nearly one-fourth as much from his lease and royalty payments as he does from his cattle and crops. Over four million acres of Panhandle lands are now under lease and nearly 1 1/2 million produce oil or gas.

The oil and gas industry spends in our Panhandle area 50 million dollars a year. This money, paid to workers, ranchers, farmers, tax collectors and others, is spent and re-spent until every merchant, business and professional man—in fact everyone—in our section gets his share of it.

You and I and our families and our community have a very important stake in the oil and gas industry and its future in Texas.

A poorly balanced ration fed to growing pullets reduces the number of eggs as well as the weight per egg. Purina Chick Growena, an especially prepared ration, is built to help give you full, well-developed pullets, ready to lay lots of eggs in the shortest possible time. What's more, Growena is economical to feed. Actually it takes but 16 lbs. to carry a bird through the growing period. No matter how you look at it, it doesn't cost to feed pullets right—IT PAYS!

In his first statement since being elected mayor W. U. White, said Wednesday after taking office:

"I am honored by the vote and confidence of the people of Floydada, the majority of whom elected me last week as mayor. In the first flush of taking office I want to say thank you to all and express the hope I can be worthy as the mayor of all the citizens of the community.

"We can take it for granted I will make some—possibly many—mistakes, but I will be in there trying, working all the time with the council and other officials of the town to promote our common good. I hope every citizen will keep in mind that an official sometimes has to say 'no' as well as 'yes.' With good, level-headed business men in key

In colonial Texas, alligators were a real menace along the Gulf coast. Alligators often caught dogs at river banks, and eye-witnesses have recorded several instances of their catching and eating men and women, some even as they slept in their tents at night.

The United States could do more toward promoting hemisphere goodwill by aiding interested South and Central American countries in establishing 4-H club work than by loaning money for munition or airplane factories.
