Soil Conservation Camp Promised Here

Site Chosen In N-West Floydada

City, County Pledge Co-Operation In Carrying On Project

Location of a soil conservation service camp of the Citizens Conservation corps will be made at Floydada at an early date.

Pledges were signed, sealed and delivered between the City of Floydada, the County of Floyd and representatives of the army and soil conservation service in Floydada late Thursday.

A site which will be provided was agreed upon on acreage property of Mrs. J. D. Starks in northwest Floydada and ample grounds for recreation will be provided on grounds adjacent according to the agreement.

Floyd county and the municipality of Floydada were represented in the conservation and the arrangements by the Commissioners court and the council respectively.

Representatives of the army and soil conservation service were represented by a delegation, headed by Major Julian Dayton of Fort Worth, commanding officer of the North Texas District, CCC, and which included: Captain F. A. Cooley, sub-district commander West Texas area, CCC of Lubbock; Captain F. R. Carpenter, district quartermaster North Texas district, CCC of Fort Worth; W. E. Doner, regional administrator CCC in soil conservation service of Amarillo.

The camp will be a junior Citizens Conservation Corps (young men 17 to 23 years of age) and its average man power will be about 200. Eleven to 15 technical workers and officials and their families usually are required to complete the personnel Major Dayton told officials here Thursday. Work of establishing the camp here will be started following formal approval by officials in Washington, he said.

Establishment of the camp here will be a part of a long-term program of soil conservation which farmers of the county have been working out over a period of six years or more. Efforts have been bent toward this end by farmers' organizations of the county ever since the first application for a soil conservation CCC camp was made in 1936.

County agriculture and soil conservation workers pointed out that the last long step toward the establishment of a CCC camp in the county was taken 18 months ago when landowners voted strongly in favor of a soil conservation district and set up the machinery for its administration.

Edgar H. Kemp, district conservationist and D. P. Bredthauer, county agriculture agent, are much gratified over the final outcome of the camp's location and declare it will lend great impetus to soil conservation efforts in the county.

City and county officials likewise were highly pleased and said the added help in soil conservation work should prove of untold value.

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann this week is among the prominent candidates definitely announced for the office of United States senator to succeed Senator Morris Sheppard, who died last week. Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, being urged to run, had not made public a decision in the matter yesterday.

Anniversary Of Floyd Masonry

Floydada Lodge No. 712, A. F. & A. M., will observe its fiftieth anniversary this afternoon late and tonight with suitable ceremonies.

Notables in Masonic circles from over a wide region, probably numbering 200 or more, and Sam B. Cantey, Jr., state worshipful grandmaster of the lodge, will be present for the opening of the program at 5 o'clock at the lodge hall corner of Missouri and Main streets.

Following the sessions at the lodge the Masons, including a big list of visitors from lodges in the plains and panhandle, will adjourn to Wester field where at 7 o'clock a barbecue will be served.

After the barbecue dinner is served the assembled Masons will adjourn to the high school auditorium where an address will be made by Grandmaster Cantey.

Yesterday officials of the lodge here said that a large number of Masons have been invited to attend and that some 200 Masons in addition to local members may be present, if weather is favorable. Lodge masters and other officers of the lodge will be addressed in particular this afternoon in the first meeting of the lodge's anniversary observance.

J. I. Carter, of Arlington, sole surviving charter member of the Floydada lodge, has been invited.

Rains Make The Wheat 'Jackpot' Real Prospect

"It looks like we could hit the jackpot again." This expression, common among wheat growers of the section this week, sums up in typical western understatement the out-look for wheat in practically every section of this county, the major portion of Crosby, much of Briscoe and a considerable portion of Hale county.

In that area covered by Lakeview, Pleasant Hill, Antelope, Dougherty, Campbell, Baker and portions of Floydada, Fairview, Liberty, Starkey, Cedar and South Plains, in Floyd county where heavy rains fell Sunday night the outlook at this minute for wheat could not be any better.

It could hail, a freeze could come rust might hit or hot winds might dry the wheat up in the head.

One or some of all of these will have to happen, though, or the jackpot is going to fall. That's the way it looks in mid-week this third week of April, A. D. 1941.

Wheat has been growing wonderfully in all the rest of the county as well as in the rain-soaked areas and there are no reports of any wheat actually suffering for need of moisture.

The rain Sunday night streaked across northwest Crosby county from Ralls and Cone and covered just about a third of the area of Floyd county. At Floydada only a quarter of an inch of rain fell, at Muncy, Lockney, Sterley, South Plains, Aiken and Barwise there were only light sprinkles, but the rest of the county from Cedar east, from Floydada east and south, and in all the Dougherty area the rain was just exactly right, estimated from one to three inches in volume.

All the area of the county below the caprock had good rains Sunday night and another dandy shower fell north of South Plains and eastward toward Quitaque Tuesday afternoon. All the streams in the foothills were booming after the Tuesday downpour in the northeast part of the county.

A very considerable bit of forage feed planting has been under way this week and much plowing has been going on.

Storage Is a Problem With the approach of a new wheat crop storage for the grain is beginning to be a problem, and a number of additional storage units are in prospect in this county as well as in others.

At Lockney the Whitfill interests have under construction a big storage plant, and probably others in the county will construct storage. All the present available space for wheat is full of carry-over grain and there is talk that the federal government, with practically all the wheat contracted, will move the southwest grain to other sections of the country where the storage space is more ample.

FLOYDADA TEACHER SEES FAMOUS DOGWOOD TRAILS LAST WEEK-END

Miss Beryl Busby visited her mother Mrs. F. L. Busby at Mart, Texas during the Easter holidays, accompanied by her mother they viewed the famous Dudley lake and Reagan - Campbell Dogwood trails near Palestine Saturday. She returned home Sunday.

R E A Re-Names Same Directors

All old directors of the Floyd County Rural Electric Co-operative were re-elected to serve another year at the annual membership meeting held in the district court room here Tuesday afternoon.

With an attendance in excess of 300 members the meeting was an interesting and informative one, especially designed for new users of electric service. Among the plain business establishments which had well-arranged displays at the meeting place were H. G. Parker, Gilliam's Appliance and Sports store, H. M. McDonald Hardware, all of Floydada, Sears Roebuck & Company of Lubbock and Montgomery Ward of Plainview. Radio Electric company of Floydada and Western Electric company also participated in the meeting with door prizes. Gifts included electric iron, electric clock, hot plate, radio, toaster, floor lamp and table lamp.

A Stewart-Warner loud speaker was used in the meeting courtesy of the Gilliam Appliance store. All displays were well-arranged. Floydada High School band gave a concert opening the meeting under the direction of M. T. Camp, director. A brass sextette of the band also played. A. H. Kreis, president of the association, presided. One of the high lights of the afternoon was a series of demonstrations of electric appliances given under the supervision of Edith Wilson, county home demonstration agent. Uses and advantages of the electric range and water heater were given by Mrs. A. B. Muncy of Muncy. The electric brooder was demonstrated by Jim Bert Bobbitt of Sterley, the water pressure system by Ben Quebe of Providence and the use of small electric appliances was demonstrated by Mrs. John Hoffman. Reports from officers and the superintendent were heard, indicating an optimistic outlook for the future and recounting the efforts of the organization in the past 12 months. Of particular interest was the report that extensions during the next fiscal year are definitely on the program. These extensions are expected to add materially to the gross income with very little increase in overhead.

Personnel of the Board Members of the board of directors re-elected are as follows: District 1, Karl Sammann; District 2, Henry Schacht; District 3, G. C. Collins; District 4, G. L. Snodgrass; District 5, A. H. Kreis; District 6, R. M. Battey; District 7, J. S. Callihan. In the organization meeting of the board A. H. Kreis was re-named president; G. L. Snodgrass, vice-president, and R. M. Battey was named secretary-treasurer.

Rodeo Interest Already Shown

Extension R E A Line Granted

$35,000 Allocated To Build From Providence To Plainview Airport

Extension of lines of the Floyd County Rural Electric Co-operative from a point in the vicinity of Providence to Finney switch about 6 miles north of Plainview will be made at an early date, L. W. Chapman, superintendent, confidently expects.

A telegram from the Rural Electric administration at Washington Saturday said that $35,000 had been allocated for this purpose was received by Mr. Chapman, but further details in the matter were still lacking yesterday, he said.

This extension of the line is given priority over other extensions, also approved, due to the fact that the city-county air field out of Plainview will be lighted by energy from the new line. It was put through as a national defense measure.

Whether the line, as approved, will follow the survey as planned and worked out locally was not known at the office here yesterday. However, Mr. Chapman strongly expressed the hope that such would be the case. If the original line is followed it will not only care for the lighting of the airport at Plainview but will also take care of a considerable number of domestic users not now being served.

County Will Be Asked For 15 Men By June 30

Probability that Floyd county will be called upon to furnish another 15 men to the army between this time and June 30 was indicated in a letter to J. M. Willson, chairman of the Floyd County Selective Service board from Geo. S. Nalle, captain Quartermaster Corps, Division of Man power, state headquarters Selective Service released the first of this week.

The letter was in response to a request for information by which the board here might be guided during the next few weeks. Several college boys will be completing their year's school work around the first of June and some seven to 10 of these are definitely scheduled to have their year of army service beginning soon after they finish their year of school.

It was made plain in the letter from state headquarters that the figures given are estimates only and not an assurance that the army requirements will not be more nor less than indicated.

Wheat Study

Twelve varieties or types of wheat are being tested this year on the Fred Battey farm at Pleasant Hill in small plots, making one of the interesting sights in Plainview will be seeing during the growing season. The different types of wheat are planted in drills close together where inspection may be made of all under exactly comparative conditions. First drills are of the type of wheat Mr. Battey is growing on his farm.

In small plots in succeeding drills are Certified Turkey, Kharkov, Cheyenne, Kanred, Kawale, Early Blackball, Blackball, Cheffan, Tenmarq, Oregon crossed with Tenmarq, Kawale crossed with Tenmarq. The plots are on the former Lowe place, and the varieties are growing as listed above from west to east.

The seed are from the Experimental station at Bushland near Amarillo.

Col. Thos. Montgomery Improving, Reports From Hospital

Col. Thos. Montgomery who has been resting at the Floydada hospital for the past few weeks, is reported to be improving daily, according to hospital attendants.

Mrs. Herman Millican is improving nicely from a tonsil operation performed Wednesday at the hospital.

Mrs. L. M. Handley will go home today from the hospital where she has been since a major operation Monday of last week.

Jean Wester spent three days in the hospital for treatment of injuries caused when she fell from her bicycle Friday afternoon. She was dismissed from the hospital Sunday.

Playground Ball Teams End Competition At Ward School Today

The Interscholastic League playground ball tournament is to be held this afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock. The games will be played at Andrews Ward and all playground teams of the county are eligible to participate. Winners of the county will be declared. Both boys and girls will play this afternoon. This will bring the annual league competition to a conclusion.

The baseball games were postponed several weeks ago because of inclement weather.

Baker Community Host To Conference Meet All Day Saturday

The Second Quarterly conference for the Methodist churches of Rushing Chapel, Dougherty and Baker will be held at Baker Saturday, April 19. Rev. L. N. Lipscomb, district superintendent whose home is in Plainview will be present at the noon hour with conference following at 2 p. m. All members of the churches are urged to attend this all day meeting.

Seeding Trees In Soil Saving Is Plan For 1942

Seeding trees, numbering 130,000 including some varieties of evergreen and hardwoods, have been ordered for next year's planting on Floyd county farms, Edgar H. Kemp, district conservationist, announced last week.

The trees will be available to co-operators in the soil conservation program and include:

Austrian pine, red cedar, Colorado cedar, American elm, Chinese elm, green ash and desert willow.

"We are also ordering fruiting shrubs for wild life refuges," said Mr. Kemp, who expects to receive a very substantial part of, if not all the order in due time. His office will take applications for seedlings during this year and arrange for the distribution at the proper time for planting.

Extension Of Time For Registration Of Trucks Given

Notice that an extension of time for the deadline on truck license payments under Texas' new law had been extended to April 28, was received in a telegram yesterday by County Assessor-Collector Geo. B. Marshall.

The notice came from the State Highway department which is charged with enforcement of the new truck load limit law.

While quite a few truck owners had registered before the deadline on Tuesday night a number also had not registered at that time.

Threat To THD In Slow Sign Up

Although 50 men have been drilling with regularity every week since the organization of the Texas Home Defense unit in Floydada, sign-ups this week have been so alarmingly few as to endanger the permanency of the company, Captain D. H. Pitts told members of the organization Tuesday night.

With preliminary organization and the first few months of drill behind, the time has come for taking the oath and undergoing physical examination. Yesterday only 25 men out of 75 had actually signed up for the three years, Captain Pitts said. He and his officers as well as the enlisted personnel have knit brows over the matter.

"We have been making some rather ambitious plans for our unit," said Dr. Pitts. "And we want to appeal to the patriotism of the community now for moral support. It is only remotely possible that we will ever have any need to defend our community or a neighboring community, but when and if that time comes we will have need of organization and preparation."

"We either will or won't be in it up to our ears and we either will or won't be prepared." In matters of leaves, furloughs and discharges the organization of the Texas Home Defense units are different to the Texas National guard units in this respect, that the captain has the authority without referring matters to the state commander.

Definitely committed to the proposition that the community can and should support a Home Defense unit, officials of the company are appealing this week to the patriotism of the men who have enlisted and to others who can help fill up the ranks. Captain Pitts said yesterday the likelihood is that uniforms for the company will be made available soon. Encouragement has been received in this respect. Uniforms will be made to measure and will include everything but shoes which the personnel must furnish themselves.

Army Guns Are Needed Assuming that the community will rally to the Home Defense unit the captain issued an appeal for every army gun in the territory to be turned in for use of the company for drill. These guns will be received and receipted for by Lt. J. C. Gilliam and they will have the best of care. It has been the hope of the unit commander and officials to have the company whipped into good shape by May 28 and to take part in the parade that day. At least one platoon could drill with arms at that time if all the guns in the section are turned in soon.

Representative Tom W. Deen, home from Austin last week to bury his aged father-in-law, expressed the conviction that some kind of a tax measure is certain to come out of the legislative session this session. What it will be is a matter of conjecture. Every law that is passed, if it is controversial to any extent, is a compromise. The truck load limit law was that kind and the tax measure may be expected to be such, too. The complexion of matters will be changed materially should Mr. O'Daniel decide to make a stab at the senatorial honor now within reach of his grasp, and Coke Stevenson succeed to the governorship. But O'Daniel or Stevenson, whichever it may be, there will be some kind of tax legislation. Not as much as the governor wants, more than some of the non-taxers, of which we are whom, want.

Governor O'Daniel has the undoubted support of 70 per cent of the people behind him in most any kind of demand he makes on the legislature. However, the governor has been trying vinegar to attract votes in the legislature, the exact opposite of sugar that he used on the electorate. Unfortunately you don't get results that way. We have no doubt the general citizenship was with the governor by a large per cent when he demanded of the legislature that they vote for the social security payments to come ahead of the ordinary expenses of the state and ahead of the obligations already outstanding. But he made it a point to try to "whip the boys into line." Human nature is not different when it gets to Austin to what it was before it left the farm or the country law office.

When and if Coke Stevenson becomes governor the troubles with the legislature will be over. Stevenson is a quiet sort of fellow, West Texas all over. He borrows and loans pipe tobacco and can smoke the kind you smoke without complaint, although he'd rather have his own kind, of course. He can't make the ringing radio talks that O'Daniel has a knack of making about grandma and the folks at home around the fire-side, but he can horse swap to beat thunder. And he will use sugar instead of vinegar. However, we doubt if Mr. O'Daniel will take the most tempting bait offered in the senatorial toga. He may and we think will feel the pulse of the folks out yonder. When he does he will find they want him to stay in the governor's chair. The folks who are swearing by him and praying for him by the thousands want to think of him as having no aspirations other than to do good for the poor and down-trodden. His enemies, politically, who have tried to make him out a Kansas republican down in Texas to prey on the unsuspecting haven't erased this picture of the great and good Lee O'Daniel from the minds of the folks.

If you are a young man and have your mind made up to be a lawyer, you will be interested to know the likelihood is by the time you are licensed to practice in this state you will pay $4 a year for the privilege, regardless of how many degrees you may have and how well qualified you may be. This four dollars will not be a fee that will go into the state's coffers like the groceryman's license to sell tobacco for instance, but will be paid to a secretary of a committee at Austin or somewhere. Lawyers who have practiced for years in the courts will be in the same boat as you. They will pay the four dollars to the smart young fellow who runs things or not practice law. Anxious to get simplified rules of court procedure, to get rid of the snide and the ambulance chaser in their ranks the lawyers have had a super, wheels inside of wheels, sort of arrangement foisted upon them. They probably wonder how it all came about, these sticklers for fundamentals. It sure does not add up right and, it is said, quite a bit of fuss and feathers in the legislature is being made over the proposal. Lawyers as a rule are considerably smarter than the rest of us and it irks them for the matter to become bruited about in the public prints and on the hustings. The next generation of lawyers will take the fee and everything all as a matter of course, perhaps.

The publications law which newspapers have been trying to get passed by the legislature is not having such smooth sailing. Newspapers have been attempting to convince the public that a law that will get public affairs before the people will be worth many times what the cost would be to litigants and to taxing subdivisions. Until such time as the public demands this kind of a law it is probably not going to be put on the statute books in Texas. Lawyers generally are opposed to the measure and there are more lawyers in the legislature than of any other class. The claim is that the newspapers charge too much. This could be controlled by statute, if a bill could be gotten out of the committee room. Failing this the legislature likely will not have so much as an opportunity of voting on the measure. Bills by the hundreds die in the committee rooms at each session of the legislature, many of the bills getting only their just dues, of course. Full many a county, city and school district in Texas—their numbers into the hundreds—would not be in the precarious position they are now fiscally, had full and fair and complete publicity been in effect the past 20 years. And many a tract of land (sold according to contract) would have been handled to better advantage to the borrower as well as to the lender had the sale been advertised in a medium which people read instead of on a board somewhere about the court house. These reforms come about slowly. People don't like to be bothered with such matters, do not bother about them, and newspaper men lean too far back the other way to have an adequate lobby at Austin.

Many discoveries have been accidents—the result of stumbling on one thing while searching for another. But no one ever stumbled while standing still! You only stumble while you move, so we feel that un-intelligent motion is more to be desired than intelligent standing still.—Ketterly.

The real difference between men is energy. A strong will, a settled purpose, and invincible determination, can accomplish almost anything; and in this lies the distinction between great men and little men.—Thomas Fuller.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Spikes

A sudden clap of thunder last night awoke the farmers from a deep sleep, but the pleasant sound of soft falling rain sent them to sleep again to dream of golden grain pouring into waiting trucks, of shining young leaves of cotton and maize pushing from the wet warm ground. All the dirt is washed off the new tender leaves this morning, the birds sing and hunt feathers and straw for nests, the horses lazily sun themselves on the damp earth.

Joe Ellis plays in the sand pile, making mountains and digging caves back in them. The war news has a heartening sound, the Greeks are keeping a high morale and holding ground. In our hearts we feel the resurrection of a new year's harvest, and maybe a tiny sprout of world peace coming up from war in the near future. How good it is to experience a fine spring day.

Yesterday we had a pleasant surprise. Wilda brought my mother and sister Mrs. Tubbs of Lubbock and sister Josephine of Amarillo in the afternoon. Then brother Guy, wife and daughter, Junelle came from Plainview bringing three little girls for an Easter egg hunt. We made ice cream. Guy brought their electric freezer, said it made him feel foolish to bring an electric freezer to the country. Many a year he has come to this place when there was not even a dream of electricity and no wonder it makes him feel queer.

The farm garden is coming up, the potatoes are sprouted. Peas are coming through, and the onions and lettuce look fine. It is high time for beans and most other things to be planted. I find sand storms hurt our early gardens more than the cold in the spring. I always think of what Mr. A. D. White told me one time. He said he sold the newcomers three sets of seeds but the old-timer just bought one.

The revival meeting at Cone was like the new awakening of Spring. It brought new spiritual growth in-

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

(Thursday, April 14, 1927)

Belief that the Hoffer oil test on acreage now being blocked south and east of Floydada may be the first in Floyd county was strengthened this week when Mrs. Frances Palmer, from the land office of the company stated that the block of acreage had been completed, with the exception of a few tracts to square it up.

Col. Thos. Montgomery is in Fort Worth this week attending the state convention of lumbermen on his return from the reunion last week of United Confederate Veterans, held in Tampa, Florida. For years the colonel has been a member of the staff of General K. M. Van Zandt, and this year as usual made the trip to the scene of the reunion on a special train with other veterans.

O. M. Watson left the first of the week for Austin where he is attending a state meeting of representatives of lodges of the Modern Order of Praetorians. He is representing the local Praetorian Lodge of Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Haynes, who have been making their home at Austin since their marriage shortly before Christmas, returned to Floydada last week and will likely spend the summer here.

Friday night Miss Doris Smith entertained with a slumber party for four of her classmates. In the morning a lovely breakfast was served to Misses Mozelle Brown, Gene Smalley, Golden Louise Steen and the hostess.

Mrs. Aliver Allen entertained Thursday from 4 to 6 o'clock with a party honoring the ninth birthday of her little daughter, Dorothy Louise, Pink and blue was carried out in the color scheme.

Miss Virginia Dell Howard, daughter of Judge and Mrs. B. H. Howard of Crosbyton, became the bride of John H. Reagan at a home wedding Thursday at high noon at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Guy Reeves at Sweetwater. Rev. J. L. Henson, pastor of the Methodist church there, formerly pastor here, officiated. Only relatives and a few close friends attended the wedding.

A very pretty picture. Lo Ferne Eubanks coming into Sunday school, dressed in a soft blue dress and carrying a red vase filled with the fragrant snow of wild plum blossoms.

The girls at Cone Sunday made a lovely picture as a flower garden. And far sweeter. The boys looked nice too. Folks seemed to put on a smile with their new Easter clothes. Mrs. J. D. Henry of Farmer was especially attractively in dress of soft pink and pastel flowers on a black hat.

Floydada looked well last Friday. Trees crocheting green lace on brown branches, flowers in bud and in bloom. Lawns springing to velvet carpets. I like to watch a town shimmer with dresden ribbon colors in the haze of a spring day.

What to do with all the shrubs, flowers and perennials I am getting puzzles me. I carried a silver lace vine for an hour or so trying to find a place for it. Then put it out for the time being.

The pyracantha is as full of buds as a plum bush. I can hardly wait for them to open. This is my first time to grow this delightful shrub. I start out with other thoughts and words this morning, only to come back to the growing things around the place. But are you doing the same?

My Garden
A garden is a lovesome thing, God wot.
Rose plot,
Fringed pool,
Ferned grove—
The veriest school
Of penicils, and yet the fool
Contents that God is not—
Not God! in gardens! when the eve is cool?
Nay, but I have a sign:
Tis very sure God walks in mine.

LITTLE MOTHER

Yes, honey, you may use mother's best show,
In which to wrap your baby,
The shawl you like the best to wear
When you play grown-up lady.

You may cuddle her, too in my big chair,
And take her rock-a-bye,
I'll help you while you do the words,
As you sing her a lullaby.

She's sick you say, will I feel her pulse?
Will I see if it's tummyache?
Yes, dear, I'll examine her carefully,
I fear it's too much cake.

There now, we'll rub her tummy,
We'll give her medicine too,
Now you pet her gently on her back
She'll soon feel good as new.

You may put her down to sleep
At the foot of my guest bed,
She might fall out of her bassinet,
And hurt her little head.

You'd better lie down beside her,
To keep her quiet you know,
She likes your arm around her
Then she'll sleep tight—just so.

There, both babies are in nappy town,
The doll and my baby too,
The one and image of bisque and straw,
The child a mother in miniature.

And it rarely ever rains
But my, how the wind does blow.
It will whistle, howl, roar and rumble
As over the fields the thistles tumble
Then come the dust all over the

In our eyes, on hands and face.
Sometimes the day is as dark as the

After the storm, it's so calm and

The public is cordially invited to attend the plays.

ZERO OR COLDER ADVISED FOR FROZEN FOOD LOCKERS

A uniform temperature of zero degrees Fahrenheit or slightly colder is most important for success in freezing and storing food in locker plants, according to H. C. Diehl of the Western Regional Research Laboratory. Zero is low enough to keep all varieties of frozen foods safe, yet is not so low that it is running expenses of the locker plant unnecessarily high.

Though frozen poultry, some meat, and some fruit will keep for a season at temperatures as high as 10 to 15 degrees Fahrenheit, most vegetables and many other foods will deteriorate gradually in color, flavor, and vitamin content at a temperature warmer than zero. The action of enzymes in frozen green peas, lima beans, and other vegetables continues even at 10 degrees and causes the green color to fade and "off" odors and flavors to develop. In a locker at a temperature above zero, odors may transfer from one food to another.

Since the successful locker plant must provide good freezing conditions for meat, poultry, vegetables and fruits, it must be equipped to hold a uniform temperature of zero or slightly below. Mr. Diehl suggests that the new freezer-locker plants which are building so rapidly should be constructed with insulation and piping to maintain at least zero temperature in the lockers without straining the refrigeration equipment and increasing operating expenses, and without having such a wide difference in temperature between coils and food that the frozen food becomes dry.

LISTEN YOUR WAY TO THE SALE

The next time you go to the movies notice how the actors listen to the talk of the other characters. To be a great actor it is as necessary to be a masterful listener as to be an effective talker. The words of the talker are reflected in the face of the listener as in a mirror. He may steal a scene from the talker by the quality of his listening. In his face he reflects interest, joy, enthusiasm, disappointment, and all the other emotions.

A famous movie director has said that many splendid talkers fail to become stars because they haven't learned the art of creative listening.

In selling, the emphasis is on talking, yet many times it is more important to be a good listener than to be a good talker. You often can listen your way to a sale when you can't talk your way to one!

Listen to inflate the prospect's ego. Listen to learn the prospect's problems. Listen to find clues to what the prospect needs. Listen and learn what to say to sell. Little talk and much listening often is the key to the sale.—The Silver Lining.

Jim: Times sure are getting better.

Joe: How come?

Jim: That big manufacturer down the street just hired two men that aren't related to him in any way!

REV. GORDON G. VOIGHT CCC CHAPLAIN HERE FOR EASTER HOLIDAYS

Mrs. W. D. Johnson and children Kenneth, Newton Dale and Flora Jane of Albuquerque, New Mexico came Thursday and stayed until Sunday.

Mrs. Olive Johnson, a sister of Mrs. Armstrong came Friday from her home in Houston and will visit for several weeks in the home of her sister and brother-in-law.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The applied music division of Plainview will present ten primary and intermediate students at the Methodist church Friday evening at 8 p. m.

The students are registered for credit in the Plainview Public schools and are students who are preparing for graduation.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

PROBLEM FOR DEMOCRACY

"Our county is 'on the spot' to show that it can deal with its problems in a democratic and civilized way and do it better than the nations that have abandoned democracy," E. A. Foster and H. A. Vogel, of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, say in discussing cooperative land use planning in the new Yearbook of Agriculture. "Democracy cannot survive in the modern world unless it solves the problems of farmers without land who lack opportunity and of all citizens who are overburdened with rent, interest, and taxes or are unable to make ends meet because of low incomes and high costs. Nor can it succeed unless there are economic and social opportunities for the young and means available for the common man and a good life and the security that is made possible by the science in the modern world. Co-operative land use planning is a means of attacking such of these problems as belong to agriculture."

Rotarians From Ralls Present Program For Local Club Wednesday

Eleven members of the Ralls Rotary club were present and presented an interesting program Wednesday at the Floydada Rotary meeting. Among the visitors present were Dr. W. C. Snow, president of the club, L. A. Wicks, Bill McKee, Rev. W. R. Derr, and others.

Richard Stovall was nominated, without opposition for president of the Floydada Rotary club and S. W. Ross was nominated, without opposition, for secretary. Other officers will be elected in a run-off at the next regular meeting of the club.

TO SUBURBS INSTEAD OF CITIES

Net migration from the farms to urban areas in the last ten years has been more to the suburbs than to the large cities proper, Conrad Tæuber of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics notes on the basis of preliminary figures from the 1940 census. These show, he says, that the rural and urban segments of the population grew at approximately the same rate between 1930 and 1940 in contrast to the 1920-30 period when urban growth was nearly six times as rapid as for the rural population.

Although only one of the 92 large cities had ever before reported a loss in population from one census to another, Tæuber says the 1940 figures indicate that 29 have lost population since 1930, and only 17 had increases of 10 percent or more.

These figures, he emphasizes, deal only with the population within the corporate limits of cities, and "there is some reason to believe that the suburban areas around these cities increased more rapidly than the cities themselves. Thus, the 92 cities with a population of 37,000-1,000 reported a gain of 1,600 since 1930, but the remainder of the counties in which they are located, with a population of only one-third as great, reported nearly the same net increase, 1,500,000 persons. In terms of percentage rates of change, this means that while the population of the central cities was increasing by 4 percent, the population of the remainder of the counties in which 14 percent are located increased by 14 percent—more than 3 times as rapidly."

Mrs. S. L. Rushing returned home Monday night from Abilene where she took her granddaughter Lula Lee Teal and friends, Jane Clark, LaNell Harmon and Irene Gilbreath to their respective schools at McMurry and Abilene Christian college.

Mrs. Clay Johnson of Graham came Sunday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Felton and other relatives.

CUMBRIE BOYS TO MINERAL WELLS FOR TREATMENT

Truman and Lloyd Cumble, sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cumble were carried to Mineral Wells Sunday for treatment of rheumatism. They plan to take the mineral water baths for several weeks.

Both the young men have been bedfast the past three weeks.

OUR TRAFFIC PROBLEM

"Our traffic problem," said State Police Director Homer Garrison, Jr., "is not so much one of eliminating the willfully reckless driver as creating an appreciation of everyday courtesy on the streets and highways on the part of our citizens."—The Texas Star.

CHARLES NEIL HOME

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Neil spent the Easter holiday with their daughter Mrs. H. K. Ammons and family at Amarillo.

They were met there by their son Charles who is a student in the Douglas Aeroplane factory in Los Angeles, California, who accompanied his parents home for several days visit.

THINGS WE DIDN'T HAVE ONLY TEN YEARS AGO

In ten years of depression we've come to think of business as idling, private enterprise stymied, progress retarded. Yet here are some of the things we take for granted today that we didn't have, or hadn't begun to use, as short a time ago as 1929:

- Streamline trains. Television. Transoceanic passenger air service. Synthetic rubber. Fluorescent lighting. Colored home movies. New plywood, stronger than steel. Half a dozen new plastics and resins. Polarized glass. Glass building blocks. Fiber glass for insulation and textiles. Synthetic hosiery replacing silk. Synthetic vitamins and hormones. Sulfanilamide and sulfapyridine, drugs that kill the deadly streptococcus germs.

Don't ever believe the country's future lies behind it. Inventive genius and business enterprise never stand still.—Wall Street Journal.

WHY SECRETARIES QUIT

"Dear Boss: I am tired. I'm quitting this game. My head has gone dizzy—my back has gone lame; my feet are all calloused, my hands paralyzed from taking dictation. God help my poor eyes! I've finished the brief in the Worcestershire case—a sloppy moment of this awful pace. The Writ of Attachment was served on the Bank; Defendant just called and thinks it's a prank."

"Miss Pewster was in and she asked that you phone. Your wife's raising hell—says she's so much alone. The stamps are all gone, and you need a new chair: Your nails could stand trimming; remember your hair. I cleaned out the bottles and cigarette butts; You need a new stenographer for this one's gone nuts!"

Mrs. Wakefield Honoree At Farewell Parties Before Departure For New Home

A week of farewell courtesies honoring Mrs. R. Clint Wakefield, who left this week with her husband and small son Bobby for Fort Knox, Kentucky, where they will make their home, ended with a bridge party given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Donald H. Pitts, Mrs. J. G. Deakins and Mrs. A. E. Guthrie at Mrs. Pitts' home. Seven tables of bridge were in play during the afternoon.

Guest prizes were given to Mrs. Wakefield and Mrs. H. G. Daily of Dallas. Mrs. Richard F. Stovall received high score prize, Mrs. C. L. Minor travel prize, and Mrs. Jno. I. Hammonds consolation prize.

At the conclusion of the games a lovely salad course was served. Low vases of violets were used as centerpieces for the tables and pansy corsages were given each of the guests.

Guests included Mrs. Wakefield, honoree, Mrs. J. A. Arwine, Mrs. Polk Goen, Mrs. R. B. Rosson, Mrs. Richard F. Stovall, Mrs. G. L. Kirk, Mrs. Robert McGuire, Mrs. C. L. Minor, Mrs. W. L. Fry, Mrs. Jno. I. Hammonds, Mrs. Homer Steen, Mrs. Calvin Steen, Mrs. Jno. Reagan, Mrs. Terrell Loran, Mrs. Walton Hale, Mrs. T. P. Collins, Mrs. L. T. Bishop, Mrs. J. P. Henry, Mrs. Chas. Lewis, Mrs. Kenneth Jeffers, Mrs. Alton B. Chapman, Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, Mrs. A. H. Keim, Mrs. H. G. Barber, Mrs. Henry Edwards, Mrs. Conner Oden, Mrs. W. A. Amburn, Jr., and Mrs. H. G. Daily of Dallas.

Honoree At Luncheon

Mrs. Calvin Steen and Mrs. W. L. Fry were hostesses at a covered dish luncheon Wednesday of last week at Mrs. Steen's home, honoring Mrs. Wakefield before her departure. Bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon and the hostesses presented Mrs. Wakefield with a gift.

Guests were Mrs. Walton Hale, Mrs. A. E. Guthrie, Mrs. D. H. Pitts, Mrs. Richard F. Stovall and Mrs. Wakefield, honoree.

Supper Given Friday

On Friday evening Mrs. Walton Hale entertained in Mrs. Wakefield's honor with a spaghetti supper, followed by games of bridge.

Guests included Mrs. H. G. Daily of Dallas, Mrs. Wakefield, honoree, Mrs. D. H. Pitts, Mrs. Calvin Steen, Mrs. W. L. Fry and Mrs. Richard F. Stovall and Mrs. A. E. Guthrie.

Stag Party Honors R. C. Wakefield At Country Club

R. Clint Wakefield, who resigned his place last week as district manager for Texas-New Mexico Utilities company following his call to duty in the army, was honor guest at a stag party at Floydada Country Club last Friday night, given by local business men who have been his associates the past three and a half years.

During the evening he was presented a wrist watch as a token of appreciation, Richard F. Stovall acting as spokesman for the thirty or more present. Mr. Stovall recounted the high esteem in which the honoree is held and presented the gift to serve as a reminder during his year of absence in the army. Mr. Wakefield left Tuesday morning with his family for Fort Sill, Oklahoma, for a brief stay before proceeding to Fort Knox, Kentucky, where he has been assigned for duty. He will serve with the rank of captain.

Easter Is Featured At Sans Souci Club Meeting Wednesday

Mrs. G. L. Kirk was hostess to the Sans Souci Bridge club at the regular meeting Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. A. E. Guthrie held high score. Mrs. R. Clint Wakefield, who left this week with her family for Fort Knox, Kentucky, to make her home was honored by the club with a farewell gift.

The Easter motif was featured in the decorations, the table appointments and the lovely refreshment plate, served by the hostess.

Those playing were Mrs. Polk Goen, Mrs. A. E. Guthrie, Mrs. Terrell Loran, Mrs. Cecil Hagood, Mrs. Jack Deakins, Mrs. Wakefield and Mrs. H. G. Barber, a guest of the club.

The club will meet Wednesday afternoon, April 23 at 2 o'clock with Mrs. R. B. Rosson.

Daphne Lide Is Honoree At Party Friday Evening

Mrs. Sam Lide entertained with a party Friday evening, honoring the fifteenth birthday of her daughter Daphne. Refreshments were served from the dining room table which was centered with the birthday cake, surrounded with Easter bunnies made of marshmallows.

Hosts To Club With Farewell Dinner For Wakefields

As a courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. R. Clint Wakefield, who left this week for Fort Knox, Kentucky, to make their home and where Mr. Wakefield will assume duties as a captain in the army, Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Pitts entertained the members of the Tuesday Evening Bridge club of which club the Wakefields are members, with a buffet dinner Thursday evening.

The house was decorated throughout with bouquets of iris and other spring flowers. Bowls of iris were used as centerpieces for the tables where guests were seated at tables arranged for four.

The club presented Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield with pieces of sterling silver as a farewell gift. In the games of bridge played during the evening Mrs. Terrell Loran and J. C. Gilliam made the highest score.

The members playing were Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Arwine, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Loran, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hagood and Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield.

Newton and was reared at Bellvue where he graduated from high school, later attending Tech college Lubbock. He is a graduate of Anderson Airplane school of Los Angeles, and is now employed in the Douglas Airplane factory of the same city.

Miss Biggs will leave Floydada May 2, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Newton who will remain for the wedding. The couple will make their home at Santa Monica.

County Captain Of Women's Field Army Asks For Enlistments

Urges Physical Check-Up During Cancer Control Month

Mrs. Richard F. Stovall, president of the 1929 Study club who was recently appointed captain of the Women's Field Army of the American society for the Control of Cancer for Floyd county and who has made talks to several women's organizations in the county in behalf of her work recently released the following information for the benefit of the public.

Launched in 1936 by the American society for the control of cancer, the Army had divisions in forty-six states. Within the divisions it seeks to form educational and enlistment units in every community and county. The Field Army has the cooperation of large national women's organizations, the guidance of state medical societies and the active assistance of hundreds of individuals.

This modern war against an age-old foe reaches a climax in April, set aside by Special Act of Congress as Cancer Control month. You may become a soldier in this peace-time Army by enlisting during April and contributing one or more dollars, seventy cents of each enlistment dollar is spent in the state where it was contributed in cancer control work. Thirty cents goes to support the national program.

All enlistment fees of $1.00 or smaller contributions should be sent to Mrs. Stovall and she said she would be glad to mail literature on the control of cancer to anyone who asks for it. She extends to all agencies of education and enlightenment an offer for a lecture or free literature on the Control of Cancer.

Keys to Cancer Control as given by the Women's Field Army are A comprehensive physical examination once a year for all men and women. In women this examination should include the breasts and uterus.

The cancer danger signals: symptoms—usually painless—that may indicate the presence of cancer: Any persistent lump or thickening, especially in the breast. Any irregular bleeding or discharge from any of the body openings.

Any sore that does not heal, particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips.

Persistent indigestion. Sudden changes in the form or rate of growth of a mole or wart.

Mrs. Stovall concluded with a plea for enlistments in order that cancer may be fought with knowledge, saying, "Early Cancer is Curable." She will speak to the women of the Harmony community Thursday afternoon, April 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Conway, of Fort Worth, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Carpenter and Mrs. O. M. Conway.

Anderson, Texas A & M senior from Mesquite, and Connie Lindley, Fort Worth freshman at Texas State College for Women. Anderson is president of the Agronomy Society which sponsors the event at A & M. Miss Lindley and seven of her attendants were chosen by a committee of Aggies from TSCW's 100 charm princesses at the annual Redbud Festival.

Mrs. Bridges Gives Review of "It Occured To Me" For 1929 Study Club Thursday

Mrs. L. W. Bridges, guest speaker, reviewed "It Occured To Me" by Muriel Lester for the 1929 Study club at the home of Mrs. A. J. Welch, 202 South White street Thursday afternoon.

The book reviewed by Mrs. Bridges is an autobiography by the founder of Kingsley Hall, friend and neighbor of London's East End, leader in social causes, ambassador of world good-will. She has waged a tireless and intelligent war against disease, poverty, the traffic in narcotics and militarism. Her autobiography is the reflection of her achievements.

Mrs. Bridges, in a very interesting manner, related Miss Lester's experiences in her numerous trips around the world and the thoughts that came to her as she visited warring countries. Mrs. Richard F. Stovall, president of the club, spoke briefly on the plans of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs to aid in National defense by carrying on a nutritional program.

"We are asked to carry on this work by getting people in the mood to follow a proper diet. Realizing that the masses must be reached if nutritional education is to be fully effective, the club plan calls for the sponsoring of a mimeographed diet sheet which would be given to the groceryman to be distributed to each of their customers."

Mrs. Stovall thanked the members for their co-operation with her in her work as county captain of the Women's Field Army for the Control of cancer, also for their individual enlistments and donations. She said since the club had enlisted in the army she had written a letter to Geo. Mahon, saying the club was in favor of house bill No. 268 which calls for the building of a cancer hospital at Galveston with sub-stations scattered throughout the state.

The program was concluded with a song "God Bless America" sung by the members of the club and directed by Mrs. G. E. Bond. Members answered to roll call by naming a recent book.

Refreshments were served buffet style from a prettily appointed table, centered with a bowl of purple and white iris.

Mrs. Clement McDonald will be hostess to the club Thursday afternoon, April 24 at 3:15 o'clock.

Hostess To Bridge Club Friday Night

Mrs. N. B. Stansell was hostess to the Thursday Evening Bridge club Friday evening. The Easter motif was featured in the decorations and refreshments. Mrs. Fred Nabors was a guest of the club. Mrs. Aubrey Stewart scored high in the games of bridge played during the evening.

Members playing were Mrs. Lewis Norman, Mrs. Ernest Carter, Mrs. Lorraine Britton, Mrs. Bill Fowler, Mrs. Aubrey Stewart, Mrs. J. B. Claiborne, Mrs. J. D. Moore and Mrs. Wallace King.

Mrs. Bill Fowler will be hostess to the club Thursday evening, April 24, at 7 o'clock.

Easter Egg Hunt Given For Children Saturday Morning

Mrs. Lula Moore and daughter Maudine were hostesses at an Easter egg hunt Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for the children of their neighborhood.

Children attending the party were David Badgett, Keith and Barry Stansell, Texie Kennamer, Barbara Sue Strickland, Barbara Ann and Junior Perry, Fern and Neta Merie Patterson, Bonnie Roe and Vinita McCleskey, Joy Lambert, Billy Jack Eddy, Carolyn and Betty Lou Tye, Boddy and Donald McGuire, Orby Tye and Dan McCleskey, Billie Bert Grimes, Sandra and Barbara Price, Glenn Elvin Rainer, Jimmie Moreland, Patsy Ruth Gilliland, Jimmie Collins and Don and David Fogerson.

District H. D. Meet Saturday In Plainview

Approximately fifty Floyd county women are planning to attend meeting of district 2 home demonstration association at the Plainview City auditorium Saturday.

Mrs. C. A. Caffee, who has been nominated for state vice-president will be succeeded as district vice-president when the votes are counted at the end of Saturday's session. Three candidates for the office are Mrs. Elmo Ellis, Hale county; Mrs. O. R. Copeland, Lubbock county; and Mrs. Virgil Simmons of Cass county.

Mrs. W. M. Finkler is scheduled to appear on the program as leader of the assembly singing at 10 a. m. and at 2 p. m. Others to appear on the program are Mrs. A. Brown, Nederland; Miss Dow Edwards, College Station and Mrs. L. Morris, Lamesa.

Mrs. Matthews Is Named Honoree At Dinner And Shower

Mrs. Ernell Matthews, the former Miss Mary Emma Collins, was honored at a dinner and kitchen shower Friday evening by Mrs. W. D. Newell and her daughter Miss Bet Newell at their home, 323 West Tennessee street.

The house was decorated with bouquets of forsythia and agrimony with smaller bouquets used for centerpieces of the tables, arranged for four. The Easter motif was featured in the menu and table appointments. Chocolate Easter eggs were used as plate favors.

Guests included Miss Emma Louise Smith, Miss Muriel Pappas, Miss Vera Nell Marshall, a student of Tech college, Lubbock, who was home for the Easter holidays, Miss Emma Lou Bedford, Mrs. Dick Fener, Mrs. Worth Howe of Harper, Mrs. Matthews, the honoree.

Spring Flowers Add Enjoyment To Idle Hour Meeting

Spring cut flowers and potted plants were used in a pretty decoration scheme Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Bos when they entertained the Idle Hour 42 party. Small blue vases filled with apple blossoms were used as centers for the tables as dinner was served, preceding the games.

Mrs. A. J. Jackson and Roe McCleskey were high score winners at the conclusion of the games.

Members present for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Roe McCleskey, Mr. and Mrs. Mal Jarboe, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Caffee, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Kreis, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Travis and Mr. and Mrs. Ross.

The time and place for the next meeting of the club has not been announced.

Dorothy Ann Dooley Gives Book Review For 1934 Club

The 1934 Study club met in regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Francis Wester with Miss Maurine Hoyle as hostess. President Mr. Walter Travis was in charge with Secretary Bernice Patton, reading the minutes and calling the roll.

Roll call was answered with odd facts about the plains. Reports from the various committees were given and new business discussed. Mrs. M. T. Camp asked for a year's leave of absence and the club voted in Mrs. Truett McClellan to take her place for the next year. Mrs. Jess Gordon presented her resignation which was accepted with regret.

The club had a most enjoyable program, rendered by a high school student, Miss Dorothy Ann Dooley, who gave a most interesting book review to the club, entitled "The Mother of the Smiths."

Lovely refreshments were served to the following: Misses Fannie Mae Ball, Beryle Busby, Reba Copeland, Betty Newell, Selma Linder, Merle Eaton, Lois Wren, Bernice Patton, Imogene Roy, Carolyn Wester, Polly Smith, Emma Louise Smith, Anne Swepston, Edith Wilson; Mmes. Jim Clotts, Oleia McCaskill, Jesse Gordon, Russell King, Robert Linder, Virgie Shaw, Walter Travis, Odell Winter and the guest of the evening Miss Dorothy Ann Dooley and the hostess, Maurine Hoyle.

Club adjourned to meet May 6 in Mother's Day program, with each member having as her guest at the meeting her mother or some close friend. Hostesses for the program are Betty Newell and Mrs. Oleia McCaskill. The meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Byron Clark, 208 South First street Tuesday evening 6:45 o'clock May 6.

CLASS PARTY TONIGHT

The Linder class of the Methodist Sunday school will have a party tonight in the basement of the church, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Refreshments will be served and games played. All members are asked to be present and bring their friends.

(Mozelle Smith)

We had an Easter egg hunt Wednesday, at the home of Bob White. Our room mothers, Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. White hid the eggs. Rose Marie Scoggins found the prize egg and Letha Mae Malow found the most eggs. These two girls got cotton chickens for prizes. After the hunt was over, we sat in a circle and divided the eggs. Mr. White served ice cream, our room mothers gave us some apples, and Mrs. White gave us candy Easter favors. We had a very good time.

We all enjoyed our Easter holidays. Oleta Hinsley went to Dougherty, Claudian Goen to Plainview, Ruth Jones to Plainview, Laverne Fowler to Carlsbad, Wilma Hamilton to Plainview, Bobby James Cline to Lubbock, Marie Holden to Plainview, Billie Freeman to Silver Falls and George and Lida Battey to Dougherty.

Miss Beryl Busby went home to Mart. While there she visited the famous Dogwood Trails at Palestine. She also tells us that the hills have bluebonnets on them. She brought us some bluebonnets and Indian blankets.

We have a new boy in our room. His name is Billy Glass. We are very happy to have him.

Warmer Days Offer Caution To Drivers Of Motor Vehicles

Advertisers On This Page Ready To Help With Motor Troubles

On this page you will find the answers to a perfect Spring and Summer driving. This page of advertisements contain suggestions that will make your cars safe from accidents, worry and loss of time. Read every ad and remember these merchants can help you in every way.

Another service the Service Stations offer is road maps that are routed and marked for your convenience when you are planning a vacation.

Floydada merchants are equipped with first class equipment and mechanics made up of home men who depend on Floydada trades area for their livelihood in return for the service they render.

This summer will offer many new and interesting parks and trails for vacationists. Safety tips are obtainable from Floydada merchants which offer the following rules that will be wise for the owner of every car license to read:

Be certain there is plenty of clear road ahead before passing another car. Drive slower at night. You should be able to stop within the visible distance lighted by your headlights. Exercise the same care in driving your car on slippery pavements as you would on icy highways.

When driving through a fog, deflect your headlights as the edge of the pavement as your guide. Be sure your taillight is burning. Carry spare light bulbs for your headlights, taillights and stop lights. Have your car inspected regularly, and always get a complete check-up before taking a trip.

You should go downhill in the same gear it would be necessary to use in climbing up. You will get more pleasure out of driving and better performance out of your car if you use the reserve speed and power wisely. It is wise to form a habit of instinctively obey all warning signs and traffic signals.

Slow up at all intersections. Don't risk your life, even if you have the right-of-way. Pull off the road as far as possible when it is necessary to stop on the open highway. Leave your parking lights burning at night. Always maintain proper margin of time and space when driving in traffic or when passing an automobile on the highways.

Systematic lubrication at regular intervals is cited as an important factor in safety as well as in maintenance. Always use hand signals to indicate a stop.

MRS. J. L. KING EXPRESSES APPRECIATION OF FRIENDS

Dear Friends:

I want to thank each of you for your many kindnesses to me in the several months I have been in bed. I thank each minister who has called his church to prayer for my recovery, and each individual who likewise has prayed for me. I am very grateful to each lady who has brought me such nice prepared dishes, and those who have assisted with the housework.

I hope that in a few weeks it will again be possible for friends to visit with me. That God may bless each of you in my prayer, and I commend you "unto him who is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us"

Philturn Rockymountain Camp Known As Gift To Youth Of United States

The Philturn Rocky mountain Scoutcamp, probably the most unusual camp in the United States, is a tract of 35,857 acres of wilderness mountain country near Cimarron, New Mexico. Owned and operated by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America it provides a wilderness camping experience for Senior Scouts whose experience and training qualify them for adventures similar to those of the nation's pioneers who established the traditions and the historical background of the area.

Gift to Nation's Boys
The Philturn Rockymountain Scoutcamp is a gift to the boyhood of the nation. Waite Phillips of Tulsa, Okla., presented the tract to the Boy Scouts of America in the fall of 1938. "Philturn" comes partly from the name of the donor and partly from the daily "good turn" which characterizes Boy Scouts throughout the world.

Plan Own Trips
Senior Scouts planning their own explorations within Philturn's area and in the surrounding country, may use a base camp established near camp headquarters. They either bring their own tents or rent them at Philturn. A shelter for cooking and dining, fireplace, water and sanitary facilities are provided. Food is purchased at the camp commissary.

At its Philturn Rockymountain Scoutcamp, the Boy Scouts of America is preserving for generations of American boys in the years to come an unspoiled wilderness camping area.

Planning Essential For Ideal Vacation

Any vacation, with a little planning, can prove to be the ideal relaxation that everyone is in search of. But planning in advance is essential.

"Chart your vacation now," Larry Nixon admonishes magazine readers. From the East to West coast there are unlimited vacation spots where you can have the time of your life, if you think about it ahead of time.

Dude ranching is one idea Nixon suggests. Westerners claim that dude ranch can get the full flavor of ranching only out of where the West begins. Rates range from $50 a week up or down according to the establishment, the food and auxiliary entertainment. There are excellent ranch schools and camps for youngsters, but first and last dude ranching is an adult sport.

Canada, Nixon reports, is not without its stellar attractions for those weary of a year's work. There is great canoe country throughout all Canada's provinces, and if you don't want the real outdoor life, there are numerous automobile trips which will provide rich rewards in the glorious scenery and delightful hideaway spots that afford complete rest.

The House of Representatives gave final passage to a House bill increasing top legal speed limits on Texas highways to 60 miles an hour for passenger autos in the daytime, 55 miles at night and 45 miles ceiling for trucks. The bill was sponsored by State Department of Public Safety.—The Texas Spur.

Estelle Gary of Lubbock, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gary.

Mary Louise Thurmon of Lubbock visited Easter Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thurmon.
Edna Mae Griffith of Lubbock was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Griffin over the week-end.

One-Fourth Inch Rain In Center Area This Week

CENTER, April 14—The showers of rain which fell here recently are very beneficial to the crops in this vicinity. About a quarter of an inch fell here.

Membership was well represented at the Baptist church at both services Sunday. A trio composed of Mendell Hoton, Glenn Fields, and Avery Timmons, of Wayland college at Plainview, rendered a program at Saturday night and also sang at both services Sunday. Rev. Farrell had charge of the services.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hollums visited Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lightfoot Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Farrell and family, also the Wayland trio were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. Green Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Anderson had all of their children and their families home Sunday. The family attended church together and in the afternoon visited the zoo at Bob's Oil Well at Matador.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McClure visited at Childress Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. Parr.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell had as their guests Sunday her cousin, Madoline Thacker and a friend from Lubbock.

MINISTERS BRING SPECIAL SERVICES TO RALLS

Information For Us All
One of the most noteworthy contributions possible to imagine to the cause of traffic safety would be to place into the hands of every motorist in Texas the report on traffic accidents during 1940 as compiled by the Accident Records Section of the Driver's License Division of the State Department of Public Safety.

The importance of the report does not rest so much upon the disturbing fact that it emphasizes anew that more people were killed in Texas traffic accidents during 1940 than in 1939, and that more people were killed in proportion to miles traveled than the year before.

The report reveals, for example, that 454 among the 1,754 persons killed in traffic accidents were pedestrians, and that 39 per cent of the pedestrians were "jay walkers."

SPEED LIMITS INCREASED
The House of Representatives gave final passage to a House bill increasing top legal speed limits on Texas highways to 60 miles an hour for passenger autos in the daytime, 55 miles at night and 45 miles ceiling for trucks. The bill was sponsored by State Department of Public Safety.—The Texas Spur.

period in the 24 hours. The reasons are that people are in too much of a hurry to get home from work and then to get started out on the night's entertainment. Aren't these facts pretty convincing that it is better to take a little more time, and be surer of reaching the desired destination?

Obviously, the supply of the somewhat elaborate and very detailed report must be limited. Perhaps it soon will be exhausted. However, we believe it worth the while of every person interested in this particular problem to attempt to obtain one, to study it, and, as a good citizen, to make use of it in helping to spread the doctrine of traffic safety.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Circus Next Wednesday In Floyd

American Legion To Sponsor 2-Ring Circus Of Dailey Brothers

The McDermett Post American Legion is sponsoring a 2-ring circus to appear in Floydada Wednesday of next week. It is the Dailey Bros. circus.

Daily Bros. is modest in its claims for magnitude but it lays much stress upon the high character of its performance promising that the program includes much that is not ordinarily seen with the usual circus. The performance is presented in two rings and arranged in a routine which makes it possible for the spectators to see every act.

The circus will be presented on the vacant lots south of Armour creamery.

When the famous Japanese star Si Kitchie does his remarkable stunt, his act is the only one going on. While swinging upside down on a trapeze for about ten minutes he will eat a banana and drink a glass of milk and he executes many equally astonishing tricks. He invites the children to try drinking while standing on their heads. With a number of such feature acts offered. They are produced singly and are thus seen by all and are better appreciated.

Dailey Bros. Circus claims it has the prettiest girls with perfect feminine forms than were ever assembled with any show. They are not only pretty but during two hour performance they repeatedly demonstrate their nerve and bravery by their thrilling deeds.

The American Legion is receiving a liberal share of the gross receipts and are anticipating a profitable day on Wednesday the 23rd as well as the satisfaction of bringing a clean, thrilling amusement enterprise to the city. There will be afternoon and evening performances, at very popular prices of admission. One of the mottoes of Daily Bros. Circus is "never before so much for so little".

LEE HOWARD BEGINS HIS SEVENTEENTH YEAR AS NIGHT WATCHMAN

When he punched his trusty clock, swung it on his shoulder and started out from city hall last Wednesday night on his rounds, Lee Howard began his seventeenth year as night watchman in Floydada.

While his duties principally are related to work of fire prevention Howard also is a peace officer and his service has included an important role in running down burglaries and thefts that have been committed in his seventeen years with the city. And incidentally there are few business men in Floydada whose telephones Howard has not called in the wee small hours to tell they have left doors unlocked or safes open or both.

BUYS SCHOOL DISTRICT'S TEACHERAGE FOR HOME

D. I. Bolding has purchased the teacherage on East Tennessee street, formerly occupied by the superintendent or other member of Floydada High school faculty, and is now occupying it as a home.

The teacherage was the property of Floydada Independent School district.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Murry and daughter, Rebecca Jo, of Amarillo, spent the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ham Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Murry.

First National Again County Depository; Approval Monday

Formal ratification and approval of the First National Bank of Floydada as depository for county funds, common school district funds and trust funds of the county and district clerks, was made by the Commissioners court in its session Monday of this week.

The session was marked, otherwise, principally by the transaction of routine business including the checking and filing of monthly reports of various county and precinct officials.

ORVEL SPENCE FARES WELL AT BROOKS FIELD

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Spence received word this week that their son, Charles Orvel, who volunteered for the army the latter part of February has been promoted to Private First class. This is a rating that skips five promotions and is quite an honor for one who has been in the army only two months. He receives the sum of $51 a month and subsistence since the promotion.

Orvel is stationed at Brooks Field Texas in the 353rd school Squadron Air corps. He was an employee at the Government Cotton office before joining the army.

Rev. and Mrs. R. T. Breedlove had as their guests during the Easter holidays their son, Sam, a student at Texas A. & M. Miss Alma Ellen Anderson, of Quanah, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Breedlove of Tyler. Mrs. Breedlove remained for a longer stay with her relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Covington and Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Glover had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones and family of Clovis, New Mexico, Mrs. Wallace Covington and daughter, of Lubbock and other local relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ginn and son of Hereford, visited over the weekend with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Geo. V. Smith. Mr. Ginn returned home Sunday and Mrs. Ginn and son remained for a longer stay with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Murry and son, Mitchell of Canyon, spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Murry.

Party From Christian Church Attending State Convention

Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Bridges, Mrs. R. Fred Brown and Miss Myrtice Meador left Monday for Breckenridge where they are attending the 55th Annual State convention of Texas Christian churches.

The convention opened Monday and continues through Friday. While on the trip Mrs. Brown plans to spend some time at Temple, Texas.

DR. G. V. SMITH ATTENDS DIST. MEDICAL SOCIETY

Dr. George Smith, of Smith & Smith clinic, attended the Panhandle District Medical society held at the Herring hotel in Amarillo Monday and Tuesday of last week. One hundred and twenty-five physicians, surgeons and specialists of the panhandle area attended the two-day meeting. An interesting program was had both days with speakers from Denver, Dallas, Oklahoma City and Galveston.

Mrs. Smith accompanied Dr. Smith to Hereford and visited with their daughter, Mrs. Guy Ginn and family during the convention.

Mrs. Bertha Gilbert who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Rex Wishard of Brownwood, returned home Thursday. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Wishard who visited in Floydada until Sunday with her mother and sister, Mrs. Walter Travis and family.

LON DAVIS, JR., ESCAPES INJURY IN WRECK

Lon M. Davis, Jr. enroute home for Easter from Oklahoma university at Norman, was in a collision three miles west of Iowa Park Thursday night that so badly damaged his car it had to be towed into town but he escaped with only slight bruises and cuts.

The car with which his collided also was badly demolished but its occupants, two men, also escaped any serious injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis, his parents, went after him the same night and he spent Easter season here with them as planned and returned to Norman the first of the week. He is taking postgraduate work in geology and allied subjects at Oklahoma U.

MACK SHURBET'S BROTHER, BORN ON APRIL 6, HAS BEEN NAMED MIKE

Mack Shurbet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Shurbet, is going to have a little brother to play with. The brother arrived at the Shurbet home on April 6, and has been named Mike.

The Shurbets live west of Barwise. Mrs. Shurbet and the newest member of the family are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Teal of Lubbock spent the week-end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Sid Brown.

Half a Nose IS PLENTY HERE

But if you want to come out the big winner on your Spring change of engine oil, you want to go clean past those old favorites, Drain and Refill.

Out with your messy Winter oil, of course—today—before a bearing or something's half shot. And then beat old-type oil changes by changing to an OIL-PLATED engine—the far-reaching modern Spring change you get with Conoco Germ Processed oil.

This patented oil includes a rare man-made extra substance that sets up a strong "power of attraction," which OIL-PLATES a sheet of lasting lubricant direct to engine parts. Close-knit OIL-PLATING can't drain completely dry... not all night at a standstill... not all day at double-quick... never while you're using Germ Processed oil. Hence no bone-dry starting, nor fine-fitting parts rubbing dry at speed.

That's how an OIL-PLATED engine gets a real chance to keep its fine fit... and to keep going extra miles per quart. Get your correct Germ Processed oil for Spring. Your Mileage Merchant knows. Go now to his Conoco station. Continental Oil Co.

3-Way Plan Aids Many Groups

More cotton clothing, less cotton in the warehouse, more food on the pantry shelf — those are the aims of the new Supplementary Cotton Program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Not only farm people, but also merchants, manufacturers, laborers, and others who help turn cotton into finished goods will be assisted by the three-fold plan. Under this program, farmers who make a further voluntary reduction in their cotton acreage in 1941 may earn cotton stamps, which they can use in their local stores to buy cotton goods. A special $3 payment also will encourage home food production. Symbolic of what the program offers are the cotton coat and dress worn by the farm girl above; the row of cotton bales, of which there is a surplus of more than 10 million; and shelves of home-canned food direct from the family garden.

Jim Pennington and Mr. Pennington.

Mrs. B. L. Ewing's mother is able to be home after being in the hospital the past month. She was in a car accident.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Ewing have been on the sick list the past several days.

Mrs. John Tivis has been ill the past week.

The Easter egg hunt at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Day Sunday was enjoyed by all who attended.

The trustees of the school dismissed the teachers and pupils so they might spend an enjoyable Easter visit with their parents.

Membership was well represented at the church Sunday. You are urged to come every Sunday.

Levelland Choir To Sing At Methodist Church Sunday

Sunday evening at 8 o'clock the Levelland Methodist choir will sing a sacred cantata at the local Methodist church. About thirty members will be engaged in the service, which will consist of solo and choral singing, perhaps duets and other arrangements.

For several years the Levelland choir has been giving these sacred concerts and have become quite noted locally for their performances, especially in cantatas at Christmas and Easter seasons. On several occasions they have given their programs in neighboring towns, always with success.

The public is invited to hear this program of sacred music under the leadership of Edgar W. Brash, director of the choir.

The pastor announces as his subject for Sunday morning: "The People Had a Mind to Work" and will be glad to welcome visitors as well as the members of the local church. Sunday school at 9:45; preaching, 11; Leagues; Hi-League 5:30; senior, 7.

Cotton Goods For Cotton Growers

Scenes such as the above will be familiar sights in Texas this summer when cotton farmers and their families take the stamps they receive for reducing cotton acreage and exchange them for finished cotton products in the stores. Cotton farms all over the state are being signed for participation in the supplementary cotton program, according to Agricultural Adjustment administration officials.

HOUSEKEEPING AIDE PROJECT MOVED TO EAST JEFFIE STREET THIS WEEK

The Housekeeping Aide project has been moved this week from the fourth floor of the courthouse to a new location at 102 East Jeffie street. The project is known as a service project and is sponsored by the Works Progress administration and co-sponsored by the county.

Eighteen women are employed on the project. Four days out of each week these women are assigned into needy homes where there is sickness or some other cause for needing help.

Homes that are eligible for free services are those with a low income insufficient to hire help when there is sickness, or a need for help with sewing and renovating old clothing. These homes are referred to the project by some welfare agency such as the County Case Worker, Missionary societies, doctors, or Red Cross.

A garden has been planted at the center for demonstration purposes to train the women in gardening, and to help create an interest in conserving waste water to grow part of the families food at home.

Mrs. Wilda Cagle is assistant project supervisor.

STUDY OF "KNOBS" GIVES CLUES TO FAMILY TREE OF CORN PLANT

"Knobs" on the chromosomes of corn and related plants, revealed plant cells are studied under the high power microscope, are providing valuable clues toward solution of the puzzle of the ancestry of corn. Apart from its scientific interest, clear knowledge of the family tree of the corn plant might have great practical value in guiding the breeding into corn of some of the valuable qualities of its wild relatives—resistance to disease or drought, for example.

Corn is recognized as virtually a freak in the plant world, because corn can not exist as a wild plant and must depend on man. The "heads" of most grains and grasses shatter and reseed, and plants can grow wild under favorable circumstances, but the "ear" of corn must be shelled — at least — to give the kernels a chance to reproduce.

Botanists regard Tripsacum and teosinte, two grasses of Central America, as ancestors of corn, since both can be crossed with corn. Dr. A. E. Longley, cytologist of the Bureau of Plant Industry, has been studying the details of the cells of the three groups of plants and their hybrids. He has found significant differences in the "knobs" or swollen sections of the chromosomes in the cells. "Knob" details of teosinte grasses from southern Guatemala resemble those of Tripsacum, and teosintes from northern Guatemala and Mexico have "knobs" more like corn.

Tripsacum has 18 chromosomes, and corn and teosinte each have 10. In a family tree of these related plants, says Longley, the evidence from the "knobs" suggests that Tripsacum stands near the base of the tree, corn at the top, with the southern teosintes as the trunk and the northern strain as a major branch.

This research suggests that corn may have derived directly from teosinte, but there is also the possibility that some other grass or grasses may have contributed to the building up of the first primitive corn plants, and that these may have since died out. This makes it possible that science never will be able to trace precisely and conclusively the "ear" of corn from the "head" of its grasslike relatives.

PLAN TO PIN DOWN DUNE WITH THOUSANDS OF PINES

With sand threatening to choke up their harbor, the people of Grand Haven, Mich., are doing something about it. For years a huge dune has been showering tons of sand into the Grand River, necessitating frequent dredging by engineers.

This year the citizens of Grand Haven are determined to "dig down" Dewey Hill once and for all. The city has acquired 83,000 pine trees, and on April 19 the whole community will march on the hill, armed with shovels and buckets to plant them.

The volunteers, with the help of CCC workers, will cover about 40 acres with the trees. It is expected that the pines, together with the beach grass planted by a CCC crew will hold the sand in place and help protect the harbor.

The planting is a part of the work of the West Ottawa soil conservation district, started in the Grand Haven area two years ago.

Juniors Will Be Hosts To Seniors On April 26

The junior class of Floydada High school will once again be hosts for the seniors. The seniors will be entertained with a banquet on April 26. The banquet will be held in the Andrews Ward gymnasium, and it will begin at 8 o'clock.

The juniors and seniors met in the high school auditorium April 15, to discuss plans and appoint committees. Randolph Rutledge, junior class president, presided at the meeting.

The committees to work up the banquet appear as follows: date: Topsy Dudley, Cageline Carmack, Donice Cline, Mary Frances Jones and Florene Cates.

Program: Randolph Rutledge, Floy Jean Hale and Dorothy Ann Dooley; chair: Ryan Collins, James Gene Loran, Margaret Cam-Thurmand Bishop, Genevieve Gordon and Maudene Moore;

Table: Wayne Bingham, John Colville, Buddy Gound, R. T. Tyler, and Billy Smith; decoration: Robert Warren, Glen Amburn, Ar-Robert Warren, Junior Simpson, and Dune Burrows, Cleo Kirk, Herschell Hinson, Gene Loran, Topsy Dudley, Cageline Carmack, Genevieve Gordon, Wayne Bingham, Odene Huey, Florene Jones and Maudene Moore.

The last day to turn in the names was Thursday April 10.

Students Go For Spring Fashions

Since spring has at last arrived the entire student body feels like it is about time to get back into their good old summer clothes.

One beautiful morning a few days back, several girls donned their pretty white dresses and a few of the boys had on their slacks suits.

Well, at noon we were having a nice little wind storm with some sand mixed in. You can imagine what they looked like when they all got home. Most of them have decided not to rush the weather, so the girls are sticking to their skirts and blouses or sweaters. The boys don't change style much.

For dress up the girls should have a pretty printed or plain silk dress. Red, white, and blue are very good colors, and they show our patriotism. Of course a hat, bag, and shoes will be needed and any one of the above colors are good, specially red shoes.

Any boy looks dressed up in a sport coat and trousers.

Editorial

Ambition. Know what it is? According to the dictionary it is "An uplifting desire to achieve or obtain."

By referring to this information it is simple to discover that very few of the young people of today really feel this urge. Few of them know what it's like to have the determination to do a thing and the will to do it. They do things in a halfhearted, lifeless manner.

For example, take the students of Floydada High school. Floydada has a modern well equipped high school. All it needs is a student body with enough spirit to make the school one of the best of its size.

But look at what is really the so-called spirit of the school. It is only a desire to go places, date the best looking boy or girl, wear the nicest clothes, worry about a new hair-do, and wonder why the date didn't turn out so well last night.

Are these worthy desires or ambitions? Are these the people who may run our schools, our churches, our government, a few years hence? If they are, then what does the future hold for those who want to amount to something in life?

Out of the junior students in Floydada High school who were asked what they wanted or planned to be a large number of them in fact too many, were indifferent. They either didn't know, didn't care, or didn't have any hopes.

Some of them only wanted to finish school or to pass some subject. Where is that spirit, that determination the builders of America possessed? Is it forever gone?

Surely not, for there is the same blood in our veins and there are still things left for conquest. There are people who offer the excuse that the pioneers had more opportunities more advantages and that there was always something new ahead of them.

Statistics prove that the young people of today have greater opportunities to develop. As far as the fact that we have nothing ahead of us that hasn't been conquered, what does that matter? We must overcome our difficulties and problems even though they are not new to others.

They are something strange, something different that are challenging us and we must show our pluck in fighting them even as the pioneers fought the problems new to them. We can't afford to stand back and say, "But everything has been done before."

So what? We haven't done it. It is true that we won't receive the fame and glory for it that the first person did but we do things to satisfy others or to satisfy ourselves.

No matter what our hardships are we mustn't let them kill that tiny spark of ambition that burns inside. Determine to make the best of things and you'll find you can be ambitious!

First Year Foods Girls Prepare, Serve Banquet

On Tuesday night, April 18, the first year foods girls served the trustees. The meal was served at 7 o'clock in the Home Ec department dining room.

The center piece on the table was peach blossoms in a crystal bowl. The meal was planned, prepared, and served by Roberta Medlen, Donice Cline, Joy Cardwell, Mary Frances Jones, Frances Ruth Garrett, and Helen Young.

A new version of an old verse may turn out to be: Spring is here. The grass is ris'. I wonder where Them good grades is? Real friends are like good looks. They are wonderful things to have, but they are few and far between. Don't loan them out.

It may be just puppy love but I have seen some big dogs that were once puppies. A hint to the wise: Don't let it bite you. Lemons are like some people—always sour. Make sure you are right, then go ahead. Fly high even if you are forced to light low. Moral: Don't stay on the ground. Try out your wings. You'll find they are as good as the next fellow's. Just make sure they are kept clean.

You may be better than the next fellow, but keep it to yourself. Don't try to convince him for he knows differently. Our thought for the week: You never miss them until they are gone. Learn to appreciate the real things in life.

"Now, Willie," said the teacher to a rather stupid pupil, "listen very carefully. If I had five eggs in this basket and laid three on the table, how many eggs would I have?" "Eight," was the confident reply.

Speaking of depressions, there will be nothing less than a panic if peace ever breaks out. I heard something I rather liked. "Hitler now has two battle fronts; one for each face."

It must be awful to be smart. The smart people always have to ponder over and worry about the things others wouldn't even notice. It's no wonder that people in love don't worry about religion. They probably feel as if they are living in heaven now, and after they're married—well, figure it out for yourself.

Sometimes life can be compared to cards. In love it's hearts; engaged it's diamonds; married it's clubs; and when you're dead it's spades. We all like frankness, but sometimes a person can be too frank. After all why tell a person he is homely when he knows it so well? It seems that spring is really here. If you don't believe me, just look at some of the latest report cards. A new version of an old verse may turn out to be:

Juniors Await Eagerly For Follies Date

The juniors are eagerly awaiting the Junior and Senior follies which will be held May 9. As yet the juniors have not selected their play but they are confident that whatever it may be, they will win a victory.

Tryouts for the follies will be held April 21. At this time they will select the persons who will represent the class in the follies.

The junior class is a large class; in fact, some larger than the senior class, and considering this alone we should come out on top.

We know that if the members will boost their class, if they will turn out in large numbers for the follies and work hard enough, that the juniors will win.

So come on juniors! It's up to us!

Floydada Chapter of the Future Farmers of America has entered a lot of events during the first semester and hopes to enter some more during the rest of the last semester.

They hope to enter Chapter conducting, One Act demonstration, and other events held at the last of school.

The boys are looking forward to the spring encampment that will be held during the holidays. They held one last spring and the boys enjoyed it very much. On the encampment they had boxing, wrestling, and baseball. Schools were represented from Plainview, Crosbyton, and Memphis Districts and the members had a lot of fun with boys that they had not known before.

It must be awful to be smart. The smart people always have to ponder over and worry about the things others wouldn't even notice. It's no wonder that people in love don't worry about religion. They probably feel as if they are living in heaven now, and after they're married—well, figure it out for yourself.

Sometimes life can be compared to cards. In love it's hearts; engaged it's diamonds; married it's clubs; and when you're dead it's spades. We all like frankness, but sometimes a person can be too frank. After all why tell a person he is homely when he knows it so well? It seems that spring is really here. If you don't believe me, just look at some of the latest report cards. A new version of an old verse may turn out to be:

Spring is here. The grass is ris'. I wonder where Them good grades is? Real friends are like good looks. They are wonderful things to have, but they are few and far between. Don't loan them out.

It may be just puppy love but I have seen some big dogs that were once puppies. A hint to the wise: Don't let it bite you. Lemons are like some people—always sour. Make sure you are right, then go ahead. Fly high even if you are forced to light low. Moral: Don't stay on the ground. Try out your wings. You'll find they are as good as the next fellow's. Just make sure they are kept clean.

You may be better than the next fellow, but keep it to yourself. Don't try to convince him for he knows differently. Our thought for the week: You never miss them until they are gone. Learn to appreciate the real things in life.

JUNIOR EDITION

Super Snooper Of Key Holes For Facts

Your super-snooper has been doing some high powered key-holding and has brought to light a few very interesting, if not truthful, bits of dope on the members of the junior class.

Particularly of one Randolph Rutledge. If you have not heard the story, I suggest you do so immediately. You see, he and a certain brunet twirler from our band almost caused a curly headed senior boy to be on the loop—get it?

From the looks of the S. H. after the seventh period, we need one more study hall for visiting. Isn't that right Delliah, Greer, Helen and Beryl?

Helen Young always goes upstairs to get a drink of water when her classes are downstairs every seventh period. She always passes the band room too! It didn't take long for her to learn the Steen's apart, did it?

In the Spring a young man's fancy turns to love. In the Spring Dooley's fancy turns to Steen (Maurice).

P. S. Boy these Steens really hit the jackpot. Slogan for F. H. S. fems: "Oh gimme a man A great big man Any color of eyes will do And let me Woo woo, woo woo, woo woo. I just discovered that this Social club is for. At least Roberta is getting results. (Eh, Archie).

Ye olde Super Snooper would like to see: Joy Cardwell and Herschell Hinson hitting it off together; The banquet dates coming in fast; A junior-senior prom; Joe Arwine able to say something besides, "Gollieeeee"; Evelyn Elliott without a bow in her hair; LaJuana and Kenneth getting along smoothly; Better grades made next year. (Suggested by Mr. Hemphill); More and longer college holidays!

What The Juniors Were Doing This Time Last Year

Last year our class was well represented in football. Those making the first team were Joe Rushing, and Carlton Fawver. The other representatives were Joe Dick Moore, Herschell Hinson, Virgil Boteler, Oran Beck, A. G. Tyler, Clarence Snodgrass, Randolph Rutledge, Jim Simpson, and J. R. Simpson.

Those Juniors playing basketball were Virgil Boteler, Randolph Rutledge, Gene Loran, Carlton Fawver and Joe Rushing. Those Juniors taking part in boxing were Homer Kennamer, Carlton Fawver, and Wayland Hale. In tennis we had Wayland Hale, Virgil Boteler, Jim Simpson, Jr. Simpson, and Joe Dick Moore.

Wayland Hale seemed to be the only upholder of the class glory in our Junior track. However, we had several in senior track. They were Joe Dick Moore, Melvin Ross and Joe Rushing.

Virgil Boteler, Oran Beck, Herschell Hinson, Jim Simpson, and Wayland Hale represented the Juniors in baseball.

The Junior class picnic last year was at Silver Falls. The time was spent in skating, swimming, and kocking. Seventy five students and teachers went and enjoyed the trip.

In the cast of the play for the Junior-Senior Follies last year were Topsy Dudley, Donice Cline, Joe Rushing, and Herschell Hinson. The play was a tragedy.

Dorothy Ann Dooley In Book Review At Assembly

"Let's have something every one will enjoy." "Let's have something easy to work up."

These are favorite phrases being used in the Junior class. They are used by every committee that has to work up an assembly program. In trying to fill these three requirements, the Junior class selected Dorothy Ann Dooley to give her review of Mother of the Smiths, by Carr.

It is different because there haven't been any book reviews presented to the student body this and it seems that the one review of last year, The Squadron of Death by Dub Grace met with instant successes.

Mother of the Smiths is a book about a wonderful woman whose pioneer spirit was unconquerable and in spite of hardships and disappointments, she managed to conquer. Whether or not it is a fact that the student body needs an introduction to good literature is not generally known; but if that is the case the most satisfactory way of doing it would be through book reviews.

It has been the good fortune of the Junior class to have a member who is talented enough to give a book review. In the view of this fact the class felt that they should take advantage of it and put it to use for the good of the entire student body. So here's to more and better book reviews, with characters whose highest ambition is to have a pair of blue serge trousers.

It's tough to tell what's on his mind, especially when his mind is upside down. But when you want to be on the safe side in caring for your engine, you have inside information to help you pick a winning oil. Here it is:

Resolution Condemns Beer Ads

Flagrant Disregard Of People's Wishes, District 9 Baptists Charge

A ringing denouncement of the practice of some plains newspapers of accepting "certain subtle and skillfully prepared deceptive advertisements in support of various kinds of alcoholic drinks" was adopted in the form of a resolution in the District Nine Baptist convention held at Brownfield, Texas, on March 26, Floyd County Baptist association being included in the area covered by District Nine.

Minographed copy of the resolution was brought to The Hesperian office Wednesday by Rev. Vernon Shaw, pastor of the First Baptist church, following his return from Oil City, New Mexico, where he had been preaching in a two weeks revival meeting. The text of the resolution in full follows:

Whereas there is a flagrant disregard of the wishes of the people in "dry" territory in our district, in that some newspapers are accepting for publication certain subtle and skillfully prepared deceptive advertisements in support of various kinds of alcoholic drinks, and

Whereas we deplore the compromising attitude of such newspaper publishers as thus betray their constituency for the price of such advertisements, and

Whereas we deplore the evil effects of such advertising so adroitly mixed with local news in even "home town" weekly papers, and

Whereas we believe the best interests of our people and our country demand a correction of this evil;

Therefore, we the representatives of nearly 40,000 Baptists in 185 churches of District Nine, comprising twenty-one counties in the Plains territory, assembled in annual session at Brownfield, Texas, March 25-26, 1941, hereby call upon the newspapers of this district to manifest more interest in the decency and sobriety of our citizenship by refusing to print such liquor advertisements regardless of the efforts of the liquor interests to "buy" their influence, and

We commend the religious leaders of our churches for exposing and denouncing such schemes to build up support for such a nefarious and diabolical business as the traffic in liquor.

We recommend that this resolution be sent to each newspaper of the district, with the suggestion that it be printed as news, and that pastors and others give due publicity to it in their congregations.

The resolutions committee is composed of D. R. Derr, pastor of the First Baptist church at Ralls, D. C. Hamilton, assistant pastor of the Calvary Baptist church at Lubbock and president of District Sunday school; L. E. Waite, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church at Lubbock and district T. U. president; Mrs. L. Lumsden of Wilson, president of the district Woman's Missionary union, A. O. Thompson, an insurance and abstract man of Hereford, and District Brotherhood president of the church, and J. Lowell Ponder, who is missionary of the church in District Nine.

caused his death last week. His widow, the former Lillie Talkington, to whom he was married on December 2, 1885, survives. Also two sons, three daughters, 16 grandchildren and six great grandchildren. The daughters, all residents of Floydada, are Mrs. E. J. Moorehead, Mrs. R. C. Henry and Mrs. Geo. B. McAllister. The sons are H. G. Daily, of Dallas, and W. P. Daily of Ash Flat, Arkansas. Of the survivors only the last-named son was unable to be here for the last rites. One daughter, Mrs. W. L. Heagerty preceded her father in death nine years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Eakin and daughter Betty visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Eakin of Chilton, also a brother Durwood Eakin and family of Waco, from Thursday until Monday.

Born Thursday night of last week, to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brook a son that has been named Thomas Alfred. The little boy and mother are reported to be doing nicely.

D. R. Badgett of Whitewright spent a few days this week in Floydada visiting relatives and friends.

Floydada High To Have Representatives In Regional Meet

Floydada High school's entries in the regional interscholastic meet at Canyon tomorrow and Saturday will journey to that city tomorrow and compete for regional honors.

Dorothy Ann Dooley and Jack Daily will represent this interscholastic district in girls and boys extemporaneous speaking respectively.

In the field events the school also will have a representative team in the mile relay and in high and low hurdles. The relay team is composed of Bruce Foster, Arthur Womack, Jr., Aldine Williams and Doyle Walls, with Weldon DuBols alternate. LeRoy Chowning will compete in the high and low hurdles.

Superintendent Walter Travis of the Floydada school system also will attend the regional meet and will officiate as regional director of extemporaneous speaking.

Mrs. Mae Smith, 50 Buried Tuesday At Lockney

Funeral rites for Mrs. Mae Smith, 50, was held at the Lockney Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Smith died at her home in North Lockney after an illness of six months. Rev. A. L. Shaw, pastor, assisted by Rev. Strickland, was in charge of the service.

The deceased is survived by her husband, five boys and three girls, all of the parental home. Interment was made in the Lockney cemetery under the direction of the Crager Funeral home.

EDUCATION

The baby pulled brother's hair until he yelled from the pain of it. The mother soothed the weeping boy.

"Of course, she doesn't know how badly it hurts." Then she left the room. She hurried back presently on hearing frantic squalling from the baby.

"What in the world is the matter with her?" she questioned anxiously.

"Nothing 'tall," brother replied contentedly. "Only now she knows."

A home remedy which keeps birds from pulling up corn is to mix a table-spoonful of crude carbolic acid with two gallons of seed corn. Place the corn in the planter hopper and stir thoroughly with a paddle. Acid injures the hands.

Sponsor Directors Named For Rodeo

Mrs. Kate Edwards has accepted the assignment of director of out-of-town sponsors for the Floydada rodeo on May 28 and 29, it was announced this week. Representatives are expected from a number of cities and towns in the area.

For local firm sponsors W. U. White and Ed Johnson have been named directors, and firms who want representation in the parade should contact them to name their representatives soon.

CCC Camp—

From the local business man's viewpoint it appears the camp will be of much value in restoring local gross buying power, which has been materially affected in the past six months by the drafting of manpower for the army and navy and for skilled work in various parts of the country where government work has been underway. The camp brings with it a payroll estimated at some $15,000 per month.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO 42 PARTY MONDAY NIGHT

Andrews Ward Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring a 42 party which will be given in the gymnasium of the school Monday evening at 8 o'clock. A charge of 25c per couple or 15c for one adult will be made for those who play. "Everyone who enjoys playing 42 is cordially invited," said Mrs. A. J. Jackson general chairman of arrangements for the party.

Others who will serve on various committees in assisting with the party are Supt. Walter Travis, J. H. Myers, Mrs. Clarence Guffee, Mrs. Mal Jarboe, Miss Ruby Norton and Mrs. Roe McCleskey.

CHEERFUL SERVICE

Zeke, Tim, and Joe, three timid boys, entered the village hardware store. The proprietor said to the oldest, "What d' you want Zeke?"

"A dime's worth of BB shot, please." The old man climbed at ladder, brought down the shelf box that contained the air-rifle shot, the packet and returned the box to the shelf above. Then he asked the second boy, "What do you want, Tim?"

"A dime's worth of BB's, please," said the meek answer.

"Why didn't you say so before?" said the old man, irritably, as he went up the ladder again. He made up the packet as before, and then turned to the third kid.

"And do you want a dime's worth of BB's too?" he demanded of Joe. "No," replied Joe hesitatingly.

The old man climbed laboriously to the shelf again and deposited the box of shot. Then he returned to the counter.

"Well, my boy, what do you want?"

"A nickle's worth of BB shot," said Joe.

Architect: "Now, if you give me a general idea of the kind of house you need."

Client: "I want to have something to go with a door-knocker my wife brought home from Europe."
