Clean Up days in Floydada will be later again this year than down-state where the robins made their appearance in February and spring is now well along on its way. The date set in Floydada is May 5th to 10th, a very good time. Just before the closing of school, just before the pioneers' re-union, just before the beginning of the heat of summer and just before the wheat harvest. Not too early to get nipped in the bud as it were. Here's hoping everybody in Floydada joins in wholeheartedly and really makes it a clean up of rubbish (which is to be burned) and other things that should go to the city dump. If you live in Floydada, join in and really make it a clean up. If you live outside of the corporate limits, don't judge your premises by the worst you see in Floydada. Cleanliness and sanitation start at home, you know.

When Gabriel blows his horn an argument or arguments will be going on about how to handle the liquor traffic. By which we mean to say we wouldn't know how to handle it and for our part will just go along with those who think they do know, or who think, at least, they know how to handle it better than it is being handled now. The likelihood is that by the time this newspaper is in your hands it will be the law in Texas that a druggist may issue only 90 liquor prescriptions within a period of 100 days. This will effectively dry up all the drug stores in West Texas. Who will take the place of the druggist will have to be found out. One thing that the law maker and the average citizen knows as well as we do is that people who want to drink are going to drink. The cussedness of human nature is just the cussedness of human nature.

We may have an opportunity to forget our quarrels over liquor and taxes and old age pensions and who goes to Washington in the next year or two. The people of the United States are in for something the like of which there are only two comparative times—during the War of Independence and during the War between the States. A Hitler born in the crucible of reconstruction days following World War I, like a Napoleon born of the French Revolution, is changing world history and that fast. By August of unhappy 1941 our country most likely will be the only one between an Adolph and world conquest. Like Napoleon did Hitler has announced time and again that countries which he has since conquered were in areas which he had no desire or reason to over-run. Unhappily, Hitler like the madman he is, had no alternative. Napoleon was the same way. In Napoleon's days America was far away, had its own internal interests. In this day it is different.

A suspended sentence under the law is an exhortation to go and sin no more. It is more or less of an exoneration of the person who is on trial. Doubtless that is the interpretation put upon the Texas suspended sentence law by the administrators of the Selective Service system, which last week issued the following statement:

"A man convicted of a felony, but who receives a suspended sentence, is still eligible for induction into the military service if otherwise subject to the Selective Service act."

A few Floyd county boys come within this new selective service scope and in these cases there will be a notice soon to appear for physical examination if the registration number is low enough to indicate early probability of service in the military.

Far be it from us to have anyone believe we want the union men or the non-union men or anybody else who wants to quit their work (to strike) from doing so. Many have voiced the opinion that government or some agency of the commonwealth should step in and tell free-born Americans they cannot quit their work in protest when and if they want to quit and express their feelings in any lawful (vociferous or other wise) manner. Such an abridgement would be the same as an abridgement of free speech, of free assembly, or any other provision of the bill of rights. The trend of our thought, in complaint against unions, has been that the power of public opinion should make them as free men have due regard for the opinion of their fellowmen. We may have been misunderstood when we pointed out that racketeers have been and are preying on the working man. Whatever else a farmer or a man who works for the farmer wants, he doesn't want the right to work when and if one please abridged by any authority state or national. When the time comes for that, page Mr. Hitler and turn the thing over to him.

What we have in mind to have said, and what we would like to repeat, if we can say it with reasonable clearness, is that the union man and the racketeer (in many unions) who exploits him, is taking bread from the mouths of unorganized groups. There should be a greater recognition of the existence of millions of non-union people who pay for too much of the union demands. Millions of good journeymen ask no more than a fair wage for the work they do and for the knowledge they put into this work. They seek for themselves and for all workingmen a fair recognition of their part in the production of the world's wealth. They have no fight to wage against organized industry when organized industry is fair. They want the farmer and agriculture to have their fair share, too. Perhaps The Hesperian, in its vexation against the "sit-downer," the saboteur and similar groups, may have left the wrong impression. We hope not. But we do wish that John Garner had had his way last year when the president should have put the powers of the nation behind the movement to oust men from factories who sat down and said, "We won't work and we won't let your factory work." Millions of fair-minded workingmen in trades and guilds all over the United States feel the same way.

Had Chas. A. Lindbergh wanted to incite America to war he could not have done a better job of it than to issue the statement of his last week which in effect said the United States can not whip the Nazis. The American people believe that the United States can whip the world! And that the United States will do so if and when it has to! Whether they are right or wrong that is what they think. In the words of one of our advertisers, "Ask your neighbor."

The federal department of agriculture is bent on making products of the farm show the farmer a profit the next year or two, if we understand properly a bulletin recently issued. By means of purchases for the army and navy and for distribution to the people of WPA rolls the government's purchasing power is going to be so enormous as to be the controlling factor, we assume.

Modesty is becoming but it slows down going.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nelle Witz Spikes

"A garden is as new today as when men and women first grew plants, long before history was recorded. It comes fresh from seeds and roots, grown of new rains and sunshine, sprung from the tireless earth. The experience is different in every season. New hopes are to be fulfilled. New kinds of plants are to be grown. We are relieved from the turmoil in which mankind lives, comforted by the calmness of silent growing things. A garden maintains our faith and confidence."—Liberty Hyde Bailey.

I cannot think of anything to write tonight as I sit here, with an old fashioned greasy rag on my breast, my nose stopped up and a row of fever blisters on lips, my hair tousled from lying around, coughing every few minutes and feeling—well you have had a cold in the spring. At first I decided if I would get down to real hard work, the cold would see I was busy and leave. But this time the old plan did not work and I have been a nuisance both to myself and the rest of the family.

Last Friday it was my privilege to be honored as one of the invited pioneer guests of the Ralls Rotary club. The Rotarians were very kind to tell us they liked to hear of our ways of life in early days.

This is one of the few years the lilacs are blooming without having their lavender tresses blackened somewhat by the wind. I like to keep in mind the lovely verses on lilacs written by Amy Lowell.

"Lilacs, False blue, White Purple, ... You persuaded the young wife that her dish pan was of silver, And her husband an image of pure gold. Lilacs... You have forgotten your Eastern origin."

The veiled women with eyes like panthers... Now you are a very decent flower... Standing beside clean doorways. Friendly to a house-cat and a pair of spectacles. Making poetry out of a bit of moonlight, And a hundred or two sharp blossoms."

If there is anything more aggravating than chickens getting in the garden it is for ducks. They paddle up and down the irrigation ditches till they dry as hard as a dobie.

The white pigs are growing so fast that some day they will wake up on the outside of the pen and be too fat to get back to their mother. It is time for chickens to be following the hen, but this year the hens seemed not to be interested in families. I miss the turkeys so.

This is the first time since I came to this place, a bride in 1907, that at this time of year there was not speckled eggs in among the white and brown. But turkeys seemed to like the neighbor's wheat and feed, his water and shade in the heat of the day, better than ours, so we let them all go. I loved the baby turkeys so much better than I did the baby chicks.

Gone is the open prairie, Where cow trails marked the way, And a tiny little schoolhouse Has passed with yesterday.

My husband does not think he can shave unless his shaving things are on the dining table in the kitchen, although we have had a bathroom for over two years. We become creatures of habit about ordinary things.

It was good to see Mr. Jimmie Rankin back in Ralls again. His column is delightful. We like his kind way of laughing a little bit at the subject he finds needful to criticize.

There are two families of mocking birds here this year, and their song seems sweeter than ever before. Did they learn during their stay last winter in the sunshiny flowery land that humans needed cheering up more than ever? That they would need gayer notes? More trills and runs? Joe Ellis and I listen enchanted. They are new to him, but I find myself showing the same enthusiasm for the feathered loved singers.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Parrish called on us this afternoon to see why I was not at Sunday school this morning as they are members of my class. It made me feel a whole lot better.

Using Farm Program to Advantage

'Plan Your Farming Operations,' Says Triple A Chairman

How can I be sure that I am using the national farm program to the best advantage? That's a question which many Floyd county farmers have asked themselves—and it's a question which is easily answered. The answer is: "Plan your farming operations."

This week the AAA community and county committeemen will start to contact every farmer in the county and work out with each one a farm plan for 1941. Paul Snodgrass, chairman of the Floyd county AAA committee, has announced.

When a committeeman sits down with the producer, he will have at hand a partially filled-out farm plan sheet, listing the farmer's allotments, estimated payments for complying with allotments, and estimated maximum soil-building allowance. At a glance, the producer can find out just how much money he will receive from the AAA if he cooperates fully with the program.

With this information available, the producer can decide just what soil-building practices he will be able to carry out in 1941. If his farm needs terracing, he can plan to do so much of the work with the money he can earn in soil-building payments. If his soil needs superphosphate, he can order the material with full knowledge that the payment he will earn by applying it will help off-set the expense. The same can be done on all other soil-building practices.

At the same time, he will indicate on his plan sheet how much acreage he will plant to soil-depleting crops and how much to non-depleting crops. If he wants to reduce his cotton acreage below his 1941 allotment and below his planted acreage of last year, he will indicate this on his plan sheet. Also, he can then look forward to receiving an additional payment of from $25 to $50 in the form of cotton stamps for the purchase of manufactured cotton goods.

The drive in Floyd county is part of the state-wide and south-wide effort to get producers cooperating with the AAA to plan their farming operations under the program so as to get the greatest possible good out of the provisions of the program, the committee chairman said.

Card notices to sign the Farm Plan Sheets and intention sheets to comply with the Supplementary Cotton Program to receive cotton stamps will be mailed from the county office beginning the last of this week.

Producers are urged to give their usual prompt attention to these notices that we may complete this work at the earliest possible date.

QUICK BREAD SUBJECT OF HOMEBUILDERS CLUB

Good breads and pastries help make good meals, Miss Edith Wilson, agent told members of the Home builders club in her demonstration on quick breads. The meeting was held Friday at the home of Mrs. Roy Curry.

Continuing her instructions, which should be of interest to every housewife, Miss Wilson said, "Dough should be handled as little as possible. The shortening should be blended well with the flour until it has the consistency of corn meal, then the liquids added, a little at a time to dampen." Soft wheat flour is better for quick breads, the speaker said.

Those present for the meeting were Mrs. Pete Kendricks who was a guest, and the following members: Mrs. J. D. Eaves, Mrs. T. J. Heard, Mrs. W. F. Weatherbee, Mrs. John Lloyd, Mrs. A. W. Dunn, Mrs. Ed Moore, Mrs. Dick Atteberry, Mrs. C. W. Denison, Mrs. Elbert Parrish, Mrs. C. B. Smith, Mrs. Raymond Teeple, Mrs. D. D. Shipley, Mable Sims, Mrs. F. P. Fuqua and the hostess.

First Black Widow Of 1941 Season Now Being Shown

B. K. and Addison Barker the other morning turned over a rock at their home on West Kentucky street—and there she was, the first black widow spider of a 1941 model to break into print in these parts.

The widow, a handsome not to say pretty specimen, now adorns a desk in The Hesperian office. She has the regulation hour glass, a beauty on her stomach; and glossy shiny, shoe button back. In her glassed in compartment she seems wholly content.

Presumably some warm morning she will have many feet of web spun in the jar and a thousand little spiderettes to look after.

Peanut Farmers Will Vote On Saturday

Peanut farmers will vote on Saturday, April 26 in a referendum to determine whether they will market their 1941 crop under marketing quotas, according to Paul Snodgrass chairman of the county AAA committee.

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard proclaimed marketing quotas for peanuts last week after Congress had provided for such action in a recent amendment to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938. If approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum, quotas will be in effect for three years.

The national marketing quota is the amount of peanuts which will be harvested from the national acreage allotment, set by law at 1,610,000 acres. This is the same as the 1940 peanut allotment under the agricultural conservation program, which will be continued in 1941. Under the quota, a farmer who plants within his peanut acreage allotment may market all he produces without penalty. Peanuts marketed in excess of the farm marketing quota are subject to a penalty of three cents per pound.

Poultrymen Warned Of Blue Bugs

External Parasites Seriously Retarding Poultry Development In County

The blue bug, chicken mite and various species of lice cause tremendous losses to poultry raisers of Floyd county. Local poultry dealers advise that unless immediate attention is given this menace that Floyd county, the time will soon come when dressed poultry will not be accepted on markets outside the state.

from the fowls and breeds in the cracks and roosts of buildings. The blue bug, is another serious pest, with scarcely a flock in the county but what is infected with them unless the owner has used precautionary means of prevention. These two pests are the most prevalent in this part of the country, and recognized as the most serious handicap to successful poultry raising.

Another pest is a small mite that lives on the legs of the fowl and can be detected by what is generally termed "scaly leg." These can be destroyed by dipping the feet and shanks of the fowl in crude petroleum, according to information from the department of agriculture.

Local poultry dealers are anxious for poultry raisers to cooperate with them in this matter and do something about these common enemies that are undermining the poultry market.

Various bulletins with suggested remedies are obtainable from County Agent D. F. Bredthauer's office

Saturday Bill Has Two Full-Blooded Yarns And The Serial

If people like and want double features that is what the Floydada theatres is going to give them, said Jack Deakins, manager of Floydada theatres this week, when he announced the fourth Saturday on which double bills are being offered at Palace theatre.

This week the double bill has a Jack London story, "Sign of the Wolf," and a Texas picture "North from the Lone Star" featured together. And in addition the show has chapter 5 of the serial, "Sky Raiders." If you have been following the latter you will not want to miss it especially since you get two big feature stories along with it.

These features are done by stars of the first magnitude. In "North from the Lone Star" Bill Elliott is starred with Richard Fiske and Dorothy Faye in supporting roles.

In "Sign of the Wolf" Jack London story, Michael Whaley and Grace Bradley are in the featured players.

Any Jack London story is always a good one, if you like red-blooded stories of the north or of the open sea.

With these will be shown the fifth of 12 chapters of "Sky Raiders," so popular since its introduction a few weeks ago.

Nearly Best, But Hardly, On Road

Here's What Becomes Of Screen Struck Who Almost Reach Stardom

Many folks wonder what happens to the beautiful movie struck girls that go to Hollywood and do not become great outstanding picture stars.

It is a known fact that many of them become waitresses, many finally give up and return home, but see for yourself how a group of Hollywood girls got together a few years ago and being all musicians and very talented, formed the Hollywood Cowgirls.

Then in time they became radio favorites on the west coast and were so popular that the public demanded to see them in person at theatres, so they pooled their talents and started playing theatres and at the same time continuing with their radio broadcasting.

In their stage show you will discover them very pleasing giving a wide variety of novelties, as well as musical entertainment deluxe.

For instance, of course, first comes Dot Hackley the boss cowgirl, followed by Lily Mark and her fiddle, and Lil really does many stunts with her fiddle as well as other instruments. You will get a great kick when you see Oliva Hoskins slap that bass fiddle practically to death. You will fall in love with the Rodik twins, Hollywood's only identical girl twins that have achieved popularity with their electric guitars and the perfect blending of their voices.

Babs Bardo will thrill you with her rope tricks which although lightning fast seems almost impossible, especially when she does said rope tricks while tap dancing. Then comes Lenore Larson who with her accordian and blues singing voice makes you wish that you had learned to play an accordian. Through a special booking Dot Hackley and her Hollywood Cowgirls will be here in person on the stage Wednesday, April 30 at the Palace Theatre to prove to the people of Floydada that something entirely new comes to you.

THE RECORD Facts That Concern You No. 27 of a Series

ONE SOUR NOTE... but it's a great orchestra nevertheless

Even a great orchestra will make a musical mistake once in a while. And once in a while... out of the thousands of decent, law-abiding beer retailers in Texas... you'll come across one or two who operate disreputable establishments.

These "black sheep" retailers constitute a tiny minority. Yet they tend to drag down the good name of beer.

By arousing public indignation, such undesirable retailers endanger your right to enjoy good beer. They also endanger the benefits to the public that beer has made possible.

For example, in Texas beer has created 31,165 new jobs with an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and paid $2,273,968.64 in taxes last year.

The brewing industry wants "black sheep" retailers eliminated entirely. You can help us by patronizing only the reputable, legal places where beer is sold. And by reporting irregularities to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

600 - Mile Trip To Carlsbad

Fairview, Cedar And Campbell Students Go

Twenty three persons from Floydada, took a 600-mile trip to the Carlsbad Caverns, located twenty eight miles southwest of Carlsbad, New Mexico. The students left Friday, April 11 and returned Sunday evening, April 13.

The students reported a very nice trip, and cooperated to the fullest with J. C. Baxter and Mrs. Dora Davis, the sponsors. The trip was not a school sponsored trip; but it was for the students riding the bus from Fairview, Campbell and Cedar Hill.

The trip was an inexpensive one and all took their bedding and food. Those making the trip were Wanda Baxter, Oran Beck, Roy Baxter, Kenneth Burnett, Marjorie Duncan, Tressman Glover, Layverne Handley, Leon Handley, Melvin Ross, M. C. Fugua, Dora Faye Lackey, George Tubbs, Robert Warren, Lois Burnett, Newton Jones, Florence Jones, Margaret Connor, Robert Connor, Calvin Hill, Lavelle Billingsly, Mattie Lee Womack, J. C. Baxter and Dora Davis.

The students arrived in Carlsbad Friday evening, April 11. They were guests of the city Friday night and the night was spent near the Beach house on the west bank of the Pecos river, about one mile north of Carlsbad city.

The trip to the Caverns was started at 9 Saturday morning. After their arrival, various ones made pictures. The trip through the caverns was between the hours of 10:30 a. m. and 4 p. m.

On their return, the students stopped at Shorty's place, which is a filling station near the Caverns, to see rattle snakes, tame fox, tame wildcats and soda pop drinking bar and a monkey faced owl. Some made pictures of J. C. Baxter, a 6 ft. 4 inch, 365 pound giant and Bill Lloyd, a midget. Bill is thirty-eight years of age. He is thirty eight inches tall and is thirty eight inches around the waist. He weighs 120 pounds.

The boys and girls enjoyed boat rides on the Pecos River. The boats were a $3,500 Chris-Craft cruiser, and a hand made Mercury 8 boat. To some the rides were more exciting than the trip through the caverns.

The bus with its load started home at noon Sunday, April 13 and rolled into Floydada about 7:30 p. m.

Track Boys To State Meet

All seven of the Floydada High school students who entered contests held in the regional meet at Canyon, April 19, won second honors. The contests these young people entered were high hurdles, mile relay and extemporaneous speaking.

Dorothy Ann Dooney represented this district in the girls' division of extemporaneous speaking. She spoke on "Financing the National Defense Program."

Jack Dally, the boy entry in extemporaneous speaking, discussed "The Part of Industry in National Defense."

Leroy Chowning ran the high hurdles in 15-7.

Gordon Patterson, Joe Shultz, Bruce Foster and Arthur Womack lost first place by a small margin. The timing of this race was 3-42.

The boys who won second in the track events will go to state meet in Austin the first week in May.

The Floydada senior chapter of the Future Farmers of America went to Hale Center Wednesday evening, April 24 to compete in the Chapter Conducting contest.

The boys making the trip were: Joe Rushing, president; Doyle Walls vice-president; Bud Dubois, secretary, David Battery, treasurer; H. C. Love, reporter; Melvin Ross, watch dog; J. R. Dennison, historian; James Burke, parliamentarian.

Winston Brown and Carlton Pawver were conductors while Jim Westfall and Charles Hartzell were Greenhands.

The winner of the district goes to the Area Contest at Lubbock in May.

Things One Wonders About In Spring Days At FHS

Wow! You should have seen Florence Jones and Robert Warren Saturday night. Has Harold Bertrand lost his girl?

If you don't know what love is all about, just ask Wilton Patterson and Ruth Cypert.

Wonder why J. L. has written all over every desk that Peggy Ann sits in.

Flora, why are Strick's coco colas better just the last few days?

J. D. wanted to know whether Helen was at home Friday night.

Hollis McLain is proud of the U.S. flag. Isn't he, La Faun?

Daphne looked kind of wistful at Ervin Paul the other day.

What's the latest about Nadine and Joe? We wonder how Bryan feels.

Could David be connected with the fact that Ruth doesn't want to be a school teacher?

Why does Ovelene McLain want only a buddy, not a sweetheart?

What changed Joe's mind about what church to attend Sunday night, Archie?

Wonder why Bobbie calls Maudell, D. P.

Who called Roberta Maudine and paid a visit to the date committee chairman Sunday afternoon?

Phil, don't you know you should not hurt these girls' feelings? After all, they aren't as tough as you are.

Editorial Yours To Answer

Am I going to graduate? That question, seniors, depends entirely on you for the answer. Your teachers cannot answer this for you because you are the one who will put forth the effort. Anything worth while is worth working for. Anything of value has a price to be paid and you are the one to decide whether or not you will pay it.

Yes, that diploma is only a scrap of paper, but it represents eleven years of learning, not only of books, but learning how to live. When this diploma comes into your possession, you will want the feeling of having deserved and having earned it on your own ability and merit.

We have only five more weeks of school which for some will determine the graduation issue. Are you willing to work overtime for something that will profit you? Are you willing to put forth more effort than you have before? Are you willing to sacrifice shows, dates, and various forms of recreation to sit up and burn some midnight oil?

Answer these questions truthfully and then you will know whether or not on May 23, you will be one of the 1941 graduation class.

Three Students Will Take Home Ec Trip

One girl from each of the three year clothing classes will attend the Rally in San Antonio April 29 until May 3.

Miss Wren and Miss Hall, home economics teachers, will take the three lucky students. The students' dresses are to be judged Thursday April 24. The ones having the best made dresses will be the lucky students to make the trip.

The home economics girls are still working to make money for the club fund. The garden seed contest is nearing a close. The net profit will be about the sum of twenty-five dollars.

Saturday, the home economics will prepare and serve the Junior-Senior banquet.

A part of this money will be used to finance the girls' trip to the state rally.

EX-STUDENTS

Margaret Tubbs and Dulon Sargent, graduates of the 1940 class, visited school Monday, April 21.

Dulon has been employed in the Carrolls Bakery in Lubbock. She will begin work as bookkeeper for Gauvaer Trucking line Monday. Her work will be at Seagraves.

Margaret is now attending Howard Payne, Brownwood, Texas. She plans to try to be an air hostess in Dallas in '41 and '42.

Stiff Competition When Fish And Sophs Clash

The freshmen and sophomores are really going to give one another some stiff competition this year in the Follies—so don't fail to see them.

The freshmen play is entitled "Call Hector." The play is the story of a very sensitive Mrs. Hancock whose only stand-by is her husband, Hector. Every time something exciting happens, she always says, "Call Hector." The play is a comedy, and is well worth seeing.

The sophomore play is entitled "The Pampered Darling." It is the story of a small boy who is used to getting everything he wants in his own way, until he is left in the care of his two sisters, Connie and Janet. Don't fail to come and see how the Pampered Darling is forced to change his will.

The cast of the plays will be announced next week.

BAND MAKES RECORDS

On Tuesday, April 16, 1941 the Floydada High school band played for an REA meeting in the county court room.

The band started playing at 10 o'clock and gave about 45 minutes concert. During this time two numbers, "Mercury" and "Georgia Girl," were recorded. The members of the band then returned to their afternoon classes this is, all but the sextet.

The sextet composed of Joe Arwine, Phil Steen, Gene Loran, J. L. Nichols, Buddy Norman and Donald Cornelius, stayed to make a separate recording. The needle broke, however and the sextet had to return at 5 o'clock that afternoon to finish the recording. The sextet recorded "Memories" by Stephen Foster.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR BANQUET

The Junior and Senior banquet will take place Saturday night April 26 at the ward school gym. This is the occasion which juniors and seniors consider half of their school year.

The theme of the banquet is "Flight." Nearly one hundred and fifty boys and girls are expected to attend.

Important for Women

A weak, run-down condition often gives a foothold to functional dysmenorrhea, causing much periodical distress from headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain for women. CARDUI so often helps in such cases, for it sharpens appetite, boosts flow of gastric juices; so improves digestion, helps build physical resistance. CARDUI, taken a few days before and during "the time," is another way to help periodical distress. Used 50 years.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Poore Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Poore and children, Miss Jimmie Poore of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Thompson and children of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Steen and son of Wake, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bartlett of Dougherty, Rev. Victor Crabtree of Mt. Blanco and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Odam and daughter of Floydada.

GLEANER BALDWIN

THE ORIGINAL AUGER TYPE COMBINE
Driven by V-Belts

Gleaner Baldwin originated and pioneered the auger type combine which was promptly recognized by the farmer as simple and practical. Its popularity and reputation have never been equalled. The direct feed to the rasp cylinder and the two fan system of separating and cleaning affords the most efficient separator ever designed for combine use. The higher resale value of used Gleaner Baldwins is evidence of their superior construction and performance. Over twenty-five thousand satisfied owners is its best recommendation.

The illustration above shows the direct feed from the auger to the cylinder and the two fan system of separating and cleaning.

WHAT IS CREDIT?

Credit is not something which the bank gives to you. The bank merely helps you to cash or to use more widely the credit you already have.

Your credit represents a combination of your character, your business capital, your prospects, your property, or collateral of one kind or another. If you have none of these things, you have no credit, and no bank can supply what you lack.

On the other hand, if you establish your credit with your bank by continued trustworthy dealings, you have both an asset and a reference of great value.

Also, when you need a loan for some safe, legitimate purpose, you can usually secure the necessary accommodation. That is what it means to have banking credit.

'On The Inside Looking Out'

Yugo the Henkel way and I'll go the low way and I'll reach Salonika before you. I wonder if this is the new British theme song.

Did you ever see someone you just naturally didn't like? I wonder what Hitler would look like if one of his tanks rolled over that pretty little face of his.

A "skirt" used to mean a sissified boy, but now it means that dynamite comes in small Greek packages with ruffled skirts attached.

"Just tankin' on down" is the latest German jitterbug jive.

There is only one phase of the overproduction problem that bothers the women; that is—they worry over so much food going to waste.

I can think of one boot that has its heel at the top. Can you?

There are two sure symptoms which signify love; High Bloodpressure and Low Grades.

There are a lot of these, you know what one said to the other, going around. For instance: One boogie said to the other, "Ever been in a blitz, Boogie?"

For the English teachers' information: A saw horse is not the past tense of a sea horse.

Ah, sweet mystery of life! When children are too small to speak, parents spend all their time coaxing the little darlings to say something. When children are old enough to talk, parents worry themselves sick keeping the child quiet.

A hint to Hitler: Too many cooks spoil the broth.

No two people are alike and they are both glad of it.

Think twice before you speak (you have a chance to catch your breath and you can always think of something a little more provoking).

Some of us show our ignorance more by opening our mouths than by keeping them closed. Speak only when you have something worth saying.

Did you ever find a blind date to be full of prunes?

If someone calls you the flower of the family, don't feel too proud. He may mean you are a "blooming idiot."

Our thought for the week: If a thing is worth doing at all, it is worth doing right. Don't leave a job half done.

ought to have by all means for the protection of the men who are handling large sums of the taxpayers' money. It has been four years since an audit was made of the city's fiscal affairs. But, the mayor indicated, the audit would cost somewhere between $300 and $500. "If we had the money we could spend probably $6,000 to advantage right now," said the mayor. "But whether we could afford to spend that much money that we do not have is another matter."

All of which means no city well for the present unless the city finds quite a bit of money it does not now have in sight and probably the same goes for the audit, although the latter is a really pressing matter.

The city along with the county is already pledged to spend a sizeable sum to put a CCC camp site in readiness for the use of the Soil Conservation unit due to be put here soon.
