Yes, We're Seniors Now

(By Imogene Woody)

Yes, we're dignified Seniors now and we must not cry. But think classmates of the fun we've had and gone by. Yes, Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors we really hate to go.

Although these past eleven years have certainly passed slow.

We seniors want to graduate, yes, we have you know. We're glad to be Seniors, yet why do we take on so.

We leave our friends and teachers, and we'll look ahead for tomorrow.

Yes, fellowmen, as you know, parting is such sweet sorrow.

No, don't laugh Juniors, you'll soon be Seniors too. And when you do — you'll dread it through and through.

Yes, we hate parting as bad as anyone. Yet, we won't shed tears either—if it can be done. Now may we bid farewell or shall it be good bye. And at commencement we'll say, "Dear God, Don't Let Us Cry."

Rural P. O. Boxes Show Improvement

The local postmaster completed the annual inspection of Floydada Rural Routes on May 17. The inspection of routes was delayed this year in order to give Floydada patrons an opportunity to observe Rural Mail Box Improvement week from May 5 to 10. The majority of rural patrons really observed this week by improving equipment and the appearance of their boxes.

The postmaster and rural carriers of Floydada post office appreciate this fine spirit of co-operation and civic pride that the patrons have shown in repairing and repainting their boxes. Rural Route No. 2 merits the highest praise for having the largest number of 100% boxes.

It was difficult to determine the best looking box on each route, because there are so many perfect boxes. On all routes patrons tied in perfection of box. On Rural Route No. 1, Carrier J. W. Sergeant: "Did you give the prisoner the third degree?"

Constable: "Yes. We browbeat him badgered him, and asked him every question we could think of."

"And what did he do?"

"He merely dozed off, and said: 'Yes, dear, you are perfectly right!'"

Rodeo Fever Mounts In Dickens

The citizenship of Dickens county are becoming affected with rodeo fever and hundreds of them are doing horse back riding every day, getting in condition. The Spur Round-Up association will hold their show Friday and Saturday, June 20-21. The 1941 performance will be the third event and the program has grown every year.

There will be two performances daily for two days—four shows in all. The first show each day will start about two o'clock each afternoon with a complete program rodeo style. Each evening another show will start about eight o'clock which will require fully three hours to complete the program.

R. L. Westerman, local cattleman and rodeo fan, is president of the organization.

Walter: "How did you find your steak, sir?"
Moran: "It was just luck. I happened to move that piece of potato and there it was."

"Father: 'Who broke that chair in the living room last night?'"
Daughter: "It just collapsed all of a sudden father, but neither one of us was hurt."

Saturday Was Moving Day For 2 Firms

Saturday was moving day for two Floydada business establishments and both are now located at their new business homes.

They are the C. H. Elliott company, appliance store, which moved from the east side of the square, 119 South Wall street, to the south side, 122 East California street. R. L. Smith is manager of the business.

Spears and Daniel, who have been quartered since about the first of the year in the Day & Night garage building on North Main street, have occupied the Enoch building vacated by the Elliott company. Spears & Daniel are doing a general automotive repair business and have the International truck and parts dealership at this point.

Pullman Passenger to the Porter: "Tell me, what is the average tip you get from a passenger on this run?"

"One dollar, suh," was the reply. The traveler handed over a dollar bill, and the porter immediately burst into voluble thanks. "Suh," he said, "you are the first man who has ever come up to my average."

—Senator Tom Connally of Texas

"Hay, you can't make a right turn on this corner," roared the traffic officer.

"Why not?" asked the truck driver.

"Because, a right turn is wrong here - the left turn is right. If you want to turn to right, turn left and then-aw, go ahead."

Physical Fitness Depends On Food That Is Proper

Feeding For Fitness Important In National Defense Program

Austin, Texas, "The importance of 'feeding for fitness' as a part of the national defense program cannot be over-emphasized because proper nutrition is the basis of health and physical fitness," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"America is beginning to realize that intelligent selection of the proper foods necessary to maintain optimum health is more important than merely eating food without regard to its nutritive qualities.

"In a comparative study made on the health of school children in two widely separated districts—one in an agricultural community and the other in an industrial area—a large percentage of the children from the farming sections were found to be malnourished, while those from the industrial area were in better shape physically.

"Although milk and other dairy products, fruits, and fresh vegetables—all of which are essential to a well-balanced dietary, were readily available in the farming sections, the children had been allowed to indulge their preferences for less familiar and less nourishing foods, with the results already mentioned above.

"Certain factors that affect nutrition—and not all of them apply to food—must be given consideration in 'feeding for fitness.' The State Health Department would stress the importance of the following:

"First, the diet must be adequate; it should include on a day-to-day basis a generous supply of the protective foods—milk, fruits, vegetables, eggs, whole-grain breads and cereals.

"Second, sufficient sleep and rest to maintain a good physical condition.

"Third, remediable physical defects, such as decayed teeth or diseased tonsils, should be corrected in the individual to insure the best utilization of food.

"Fourth, correct elimination is essential in the utilization of food.

"Fifth, exercise and fresh air are needed to stimulate the appetite and give tone to the physical condition.

"Sixth, good posture aids digestion."

Certificates Of Birth Are Much In Demand

Health Department Swamped By Hundreds of Requests Received Every Day

Austin, Texas, "Patience should be exercised by those who have made application to the State Department of Health for a certified copy of their birth certificate, and have not yet received them," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The Bureau of Vital Statistics is receiving an average of five hundred applications for birth certificate copies daily, and the number of personnel available in the Health Department to handle this flood of requests is grossly inadequate to meet the demands made. The files must be searched for each individual record and when it is found it is photostated for the applicant."

"The reason for this great increase in applications for birth certificate copies can be found to be due, in part, to the gravity of the international situation. Army and Navy recruits must have a certified copy of their birth certificates to be eligible to enter military service. All persons connected with the radio broadcasting stations must have a copy of their birth certificates. Since a birth certificate is in reality the first citizenship paper of a baby born in these United States, thousands are applying for this personal record as legal proof of citizenship," continues Dr. Cox.

Some other important uses of birth records are:

- (1) To prove that a child has reached school age.
- (2) To prove legal age to enter a profession or employment.
- (3) To prove legal age to marry without parental consent.
- (4) To determine the parents' liability for certain acts of their children.
- (5) As evidence in criminal cases involving age of consent.
- (6) As evidence to determine relations of guardians and wards.
- (7) To obtain passports and similar documents.
- (8) As evidence in the administration of estates, and in settlement of insurance and pensions.
- (9) As evidence in connection with jury service.
- (10) To prove age in determining the validity of contracts.

"These are only a few of the valuable uses of birth certificates and it is small wonder that the citizenship is flooding the Health Department with requests for certified copies of this vitally important record. With the continued patient certified copies of this vitally important record. With the continued patient cooperation of those who are requesting certified copies, the State Health Department will furnish this service with the greatest possible dispatch" concluded Dr. Geo. W. Cox.

Sally Anne (aged six): Granddad, were you in the ark?
Granddad: Why no, honey.
Sally Anne: Then why weren't you drowned?

Candidate: "How did you like my speech on the agricultural problem?"
Farmer: "It wasn't so bad, but a day's rain would do a heap more good."

FOR COOLER KITCHENS

The kitchen in summer is the hottest room in the house, particularly if a wood stove is used for cooking. Building a house, say engineers of the Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering, calls for special care to provide summer comfort in the kitchen. Some of the factors that go toward making it at a corner of the house, preferably on the shady side, and providing enough windows and doors so there can be good cross ventilation.

Further, it is important to have the stove in the part of the kitchen where cross ventilation is strongest. In one-story houses more kitchen comfort can be attained by having a ventilation opening in the ceiling directly above the stove—and opening of at least 2 or 3 square feet. From this a stack made of wood or metal should extend through the roof and should have a hood over the top to keep out rain. Such a ventilator ought to have a screen or grill in it, and a hinged lid in the ceiling which can be closed in winter.

R. C. HENRY

DISTRIBUTOR FLOYDADA, TEXAS

EDITORIALS

The editor of The Hesperian appears to be in for a falling out with some of the best people of Floyd county over a matter which to some doesn't amount to anything. However, to every man his pizen, say we. What is bothering us that a good many folks who have planted tomatoes on the plains for years and years just keep getting them too thick in the row and the rows too close together. In consequence we have to trample down a lot of tomato vines in the fall to get to the tomatoes. A little more judgment, a little closer study of the nature of tomato vines ought to give most any garden grower the idea that tomatoes will grow bigger and better (and more easily gotten-to in September) if they are planted farther apart. Did you ever squash tomato vines under your feet when you took out some cold biscuits and salt to eat them with in the patch? If you have you'll appreciate our attitude. We have taken a lot of folks off of the fall visiting list on account of this matter, and may take some more off if the carelessness now apparent continues. As an afterthought we mention we are going to keep a few on the list, thick or thin.

Good old tomatoes! They may save the world for democracy yet. And well they should if anything or anybody is going to get credit for it. When the war is over Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Churchill, the war or navy secretary, the Arabs or even the Egyptians may be entered as the factor or factors that weighed between victory and defeat, between Hitlerism and something else that we don't know about yet. But we'll wager our money on the love apple. They say the canners are going to be called upon to furnish a good many million cans of tomatoes which have many vitamins and which might be the vitamins that mean the difference between victory and defeat. It is an interesting thing to contemplate that a vitamin more or less might mean the difference between a victory and a defeat. It may be that. It may be true that 130 years ago Blucher finally got his army there at Waterloo, on the hills of the Belgian lowlands just after he had eaten some tomatoes that pepped him up—and all on account of that Wellington's name went down in history. We don't know that that is not true.

Texas' new liquor law went into effect Monday of this week with the signing of the legislature's bill by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel. The provisions that dry up all of the state except those counties where package stores are permitted seems to have the preponderance of public opinion behind them. At least they do have in such counties as Floyd. We doubt, however, if law enforcement officials will be overwhelmingly pleased. Not that they do not believe in sobriety and temperance but that the change may have the effect of greatly increasing the problem of maintaining peace and order and law observance. That is just a remark by the way and not intended as attempting to reflect any officer's opinion. Floydada and Lockney went bone dry Saturday afternoon around 3:30 when Liquor Board agents gave out the word that the bill had been signed. Liquors on hand when the order went out are under lock and key pending legal disposal. A source usually very reliable said that what happened Saturday is that the governor went through the motions of signing the bill for pictures and publicity purposes. But the Control board did not answer yes or no when queried by dealers about the actual effective hour of the bill. Dealers with irate customers had an unhappy Saturday afternoon and night.

We do not know just exactly how the new law affects dealers in "wet" territory, but if we are correctly informed the rule in a town like Floydada or Lockney would be that a doctor cannot issue more than 100 prescriptions in 90 days. Based on probable profit a druggist handling liquor could not so much as pay his license fees out of this volume, unless license charges have been reduced. Rumors that the bootleggers are already busy will put law enforcement officers' brows to wrinkling.

Our idea of the liquor matter is that you'll never have a law that exactly suits everybody as fair and equitable. The run-of-mine folks will have to live in the same community with the extremists on both sides and get along with them. The principal danger to a man who has to have a living dealing with the public lies in this fact that you may assume wrong motives to your friends on one side or the other. We are convinced that the die-hards on both sides are good folks, their motives and intentions are worthy, though neither will admit it of the other. And you might keep in mind that when you go to your dying bed there'll still be a liquor problem. Whiskey, in its nature is an outlaw but it has very, very respectable connections.

Aside from the new liquor set-up which made news up and down Main street but hardly a ripple twenty blocks out from the square, the big news of the week is the forthcoming Pioneers' re-union and the current commencement. The former recognizes the accomplishments of those who have gone along all these years and have done the best they could with what they had to do with. Commencement has tied up in it the hopes and aspirations of a thousand homes in Floyd county. What some man and woman have worked for and strived toward—giving their children the best opportunity possible under their circumstances. Heart strings are played upon which youngsters cannot realize until there comes a time years hence when their own hopes and fears are tied up in a bright-faced two-legged animal which marches down the aisle in cap and gown to the strains of a processional.

Rust did some damage to wheat in 1937 in some portions of the county and farmers say that the same thing is bothering some fields of wheat again this year. Where rust really gets set and doing its job in a field of wheat it makes the grower of a 30-bushel crop wish he had his money spent in something else. Just how wide-spread is the damage and how far it will go before the combines start depends on many elements of chance. The wheat crop has quite a ways to go yet before it is in the elevator.

If you are a registrant under the Selective Service law and have been careless about carrying your "card" with you, a new order of the Slective Service system will be interesting. Says this order or regulation: "The registrant must have his registration certificate in his personal possession at all times and, upon request, must exhibit it to any law enforcement officer, any Selective Service official of National Headquarters or of a State Headquarters, or any member of the local board or board of appeal."

Please keep in mind this is the work of the Selective Service and not of The Hesperian. We think it is a dumb thing to do and thank a Kind Providence we can still say so. Anyway, that's what they say and the law says that whatever regulations the Selective Service system puts out is law.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Spikes

Tonight is cold and I will have to go upstairs and get out the blankets I have washed and put away for the summer. It will be a fine night for sleeping however.

We have just gotten in from a ride over our pasture land. It seemed a strange place to us. Flowers, grasses and weeds not native here, are all over the ground crowding out the mesquite grass. The need must have come in with a standstill. We thought we knew every inch of the land, having gone over it for some thirty four years. Once when we drove over it, baby calves with white faces would be snuggled in the tall grass, waiting patiently for their grazing mothers to bring some fresh warm milk. Then sheep took the place of the white faces and small hoofs cut trails, and small mouths chewed up the wild flowers. Then the dry time and the sheep had to go and the weeds are running wild, since the rains set in.

Instead of having to move to another country to see a change, the change has come right to the old settlers. People having left here before the farms came to stay, would see very little of the prairies they once knew. We are content with the change that has come but can you blame us if at times our heart yearns for the free life of the new plains, when the rest of Texas was farther away than the warring nations are today.

It may not be in the best of taste to have vases of roses on every table and shelf, but I have not had any for many years there cannot be too many where I can see them. A round clear bowl holds a bunch of creamy white ones, soft pink are in another. The tall aluminum pitcher that looks like silver mirrors, delicate roses of apple pink. But one of the sweetest bouquets are some yellow daisies in a deep blue pitcher that Joe Ellis brought me from the pasture in his little fat dimpled hands.

Ho, ho, hum, Monday morning and time to get up. Another five or ten more minutes of sleep would be very acceptable. It is not an easy matter to get up in the summer. Nights are so short. But baby calves are crying for their breakfast, the little chickens are up, cheeping for feed and water, the garden needs hoeing and more seed planted. Cotton and maize has to be put in the ground, so the farmer takes a long breath and sleepily starts another day. He is repaid for his early rise. The morning is so fresh, growing things are at their best, crisp and cool. One hurried trip to the garden and the flowers to take a hasty look before the busy hours begin. Nothing can beat a sunrise on the plains. Nothing to hide the sun as it slips over the caprock's rim. Pinks and blues and soft yellows herald his coming. Birds are busy with bird affairs. Everything on the farm is up and ready to go.

We had a very pleasant visit with

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

(Thursday, May 19, 1927)

The site has been chosen and the work of plotting the grounds for a new Floyd county town is well under way in northeast Floyd county near Sunset, and already the first enterprise for the new city, a cotton gin has been announced.

"Luther Fry went down to take care of the Floydada band boys and I went along to chaperone Luther," Roy Snodgrass says in summarizing his trip to the W. T. C. C. convention at Wichita Falls.

Two new brick buildings on the north side of West California street will be under construction before January 1, developments this week indicate. Geo. M. Finkner has purchased frontage and has guaranteed with $500 forfeit to begin structure not later than the first of the year. The adjoining E. E. Boothe bakery will be the second new brick on California street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Houston spent last Sunday in Crosbyton visiting Mr. Houston's sister, Mrs. H. K. Reagan.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Bullard and sons, Preston and Gordon, went to Friona Friday of last week to visit with J. L. Landrum and family.

Rev. J. L. Henson and daughter, Margaret of Sweetwater, accompanied by Miss Oneta Carter of Abilene, spent last week end here visiting relatives.

Jack McIntosh, of Colorado Springs spent the first of the week here with his brother, B. F. McIntosh. His was enroute to Giddings to visit more relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Manning accompanied by Misses Dalis Rea and Lucy and Mollie Crum, motored to Roaring Springs on a brief outing trip Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Williams returned Monday from a ten-day trip down state where they visited relatives.

The Farmer's Gin at Ralls was destroyed by fire Friday morning of last week at 2 o'clock. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

Ira and B. Marshall, sons of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Marshall, will receive B. A. degrees this year at Simmons university. They have both made outstanding students.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Wheeler of Ralls. They have such a nice little home, surrounded with flowers and trees, with plenty of vegetables growing around among. The evening of life lights its own lamps and grandpa and grandpa have lighted such a glowing light of love and friendship that others may see the way of happiness at the closing days of life.

With sorrow we tell of the passing of a good man, Kelly Beaver of Farmer. Yes we will miss him as we would miss the sunshine in our door, or the steadfast shining of the true north star. But we know the fine things he stood for and the excellent left he lived while among us will never die, and Mr. Beaver has all eternity to live in a Home where all the Good of earth have gathered to await the coming of loved ones.

A certain drug store at Lubbock has brought the spring gherkin into public favor. Gherkins have to be picked when very young and tender and if you never eat a pickle made from a gherkin, you had better hurry up and get one. I will whisper that Mrs. McCoy of Farmer makes the best ever.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dean who live near me, is a bower of beauty. You are greeted at the gate by a rosebush covered with millions of sweet yellow roses, the kinds our mothers loved to put near their doors. Roses march all around the border of the yard. Pillar roses cluster in pink bloom with the yellow and white of the fragrant honeysuckle. Roses run around the house and shed petals everywhere on the green lawn.

Oh, too many said the dry hard years is such a waste of time and energy to try to have flowers and fruit. But this year they sniff the air and see trees hanging heavy already with growing plums, peaches, apricots and apples and grapes and wish they had done like the neighbor who could not be discouraged by the drouthy years.

Senior Day Friday At Buffalo Springs

(By LaVerne Handley)

The Seniors left high school Friday morning, to celebrate the long-looked-forward-to and awaited day—Senior day.

Their destination, Buffalo Springs near Lubbock, was reached safely a short while before noon. Some of the students enjoyed hikes, rides in row boats, and swims, before lunch. After lunch there were more boats and swim suits rented. Several students rode horses while others danced.

Late in the afternoon the group came back to Lubbock to the Roller rink and skated until time to start home.

A grand time was had by all and we were sorry that every senior wasn't there. As a credit to our sponsors and Mr. Travis, there were no accidents and no one was hurt. The return home was safe and sound. The group was tired, blistered, hungry, thirsty, dirty and wrinkled but very pleased with themselves for having picked a grand spot for their picnic.

Facts we all should know about Senior day:

Doyle said, "I certainly wish I had brought my bathing trunks."

Martha answered, "Why not rent some?"

Doyle said, "I look bad enough in my own."

Nelda remarked: "Three's a crowd."

Phil looked over his lunch and sang, "Who could ask for anything more?"

Edith screamed for help while swimming to attract the attention of a good-looking boy.

Maurice yelled, "Brrr, this water is cold!"

Bud mimicked, "Come on in, the water's fine!"

Norman and Eula changed their complexions from a tan to a rosy red?

Who learned some new dance steps from a very graceful teacher?

Jack was the magician who grabbed hats out of the air until his own blew off his head.

J. W. went on the picnic barefooted.

(Well, he might as well have been barefooted.)

Greer smoked a cigar which caused him to be very unhappy.

Verna Lynn studied for an English exam during the ride to Lubbock.

Norma Mae was the lucky girl who wore an engagement ring Friday, and had her proof along with her. Nice work if you can do it!

Martha said, "I've looked forward to this eleven years, and it couldn't be better."

The Sponsors Can Skate

Who said our sponsors couldn't skate? Well, now we know differently.

Geneva just couldn't make friends with the horse she rode. Oh, well, it didn't hurt much anyway.

Who was the dashing hero that carried a damsel in distress to shore? Yes, the water was wet, very wet. It is rumored that some Ralls' senior girls were in a certain boat that sank. Right, Jack Dally? Wasn't the boat a wee bit crowded? By the way, still have the calling cards-name and address?

Home Eco. Open House Held Wednesday Night In Rooms of Department

(By Mozelle Edwards)

Open House for the home economics department was held Wednesday night, May 14, in the department.

The guests were received at the front door of the high school building by the girls in formal attire. Those in the receiving line were Louise Willson, Evelyn Elliott, La Juana Leibfried, Florence Jones, Doniece Cline and Joy Cardwell.

As Nelda Fagan played soft piano music, Eugenia Martin and Helen Young in formal attire, gave the guests programs as they entered the auditorium for the following program:

Music, Nelda Fagan; Greetings, Floy Jean Hale; Welcome, Principal Robert Linder;

Style Show, Layverne Handley, chairman;

"Why I Like Homemaking", Eula Barbee.

Accordion solo, Louise Willson;

"The Value of Vocational Home Economics in High School, Superintendent Walter Travis;

Piano Solo, Nelda Fagan.

"The Value of Home Projects", Miss Georgia Hall;

Vocal trio, Martha Yearwood, Jane Campbell, Frances Field;

"Tenth Month Program" Miss Lois Wren;

After the program, the guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments. Punch was served from the crystal punch bowl the club presented as a gift to the department this semester. Plate favors were small spoons, forks and scissors, with "Home Economics Open House" printed on them.

Home Projects and class projects were on display throughout the department.

Rumors Among The Seniors

Oh boy, look Virginia Morrison has a new diamond. It's hard to tell who is the proudest—she or Harlan.

The Norman-Edwards romance is still in the "bud."

Wonder why J. D. wanted to know "how much do those little hearts for charm bracelets cost?" Could it be because of the little Jones girl?

Bud and Martha seemed to be getting along O. K. on the picnic Friday; at least they were pretty chummy on that boat ride. Where was Nelda while all that was going on?

While talking about the picnic, what about all those blistered backs and faces. Lee Dale seemed to have the worst case to record. It might have been because of that jalopy she rode over there in. (No offense intended LeRoy).

Corene Moore and Melvin Ross seem to be "that way" about each other. We must admit that they're ideally suited to each other.

Jimmie Smith is really going to town here all of a sudden. He and Josephine were doing all right Sunday night after the Baccalaureate sermon. We even have some reports about them holding hands in the show— Nice work, Jimmie!

P. S. Carlton and Margaret were not doing so bad themselves.

Nelda says Bud was supposed to be sitting by her in the show the other night (could have been Sunday); but she really couldn't say for sure.

My goodness, Charlie Bill; Who were those girls that were riding around with you and George Sunday? Not bad!

Norma Mae Harris is another lucky girl who has a sparkler on the third finger left hand. He's pretty good looking too, they say.

The picture that Frances has of Donald is really a humdinger. Flatters him just a little thought, does it not?

A nut-cluck (I'm surprised that he admitted it) says that on June 1 he will start eating rice three times a day. The menu will be: Baked rice for breakfast, stewed rice for dinner, and baked rice for supper.

Jerry Ring and Beryl Bishop seemed to be having trouble. Wonder if Tillie had anything to do with it? Tillie has had a lot of trouble with the battery or something though. Too bad, better luck next time.

ton, Oklahoma.

L. B. Cozby—Work; Take post graduate course.

Janette Bratton—Rest; I'm not going to school.

Presley Kennamer—Work; I'm not going to school either.

Delilah Lide—Run around with Greer. I'm going to school at Draughton's at Lubbock I guess.

Mozelle Edwards—I'm going to sit on the stool of "No nothing" and whittle on the stock of "Do Less."

I'm going to the Alamo Beauty college at San Antonio next year.

Ellen Brock—Going to Galveston; then I'm going to take a nurse's course.

Edith Shirley—Just fiddle around.

Cracks At The Crowd

(By Jack P. Daily)

To the luckiest teachers in high school. The Old Maids: I've never been dated, I've never been kissed, They say if I waited No man could resist, The love of a poor innocent Miss, The trouble is this—I'm fifty.

About the only thing the old maid teachers can rest their heads on now is a Hope Chest.

Those seniors who got married this year sure left the Juniors a good motto for their senior year; "Eat and be merry today, for tomorrow you may be married."

Mr. Linder told the seniors the other day that they were in the "flower of their youth"—and some dumb cluck spoke up and said, "Yeah, I'm going to be a 'poppy' some day."

Gordon: As far as your devotion to me goes,—you've tried to be true.

Frances: Yeah, but being true to you is awful trying.

The senior boys this year have been giving the girls an awful line—and they got hooked.

Virginia: You ever been in a tight place?

Big Foot: I'll say, I have two of them on my feet now.

The trouble with all of the little Senior girls is that they all have big husky brothers.

Greer: Honey, my kisses are just like money in the bank.

Delilah: Yeah, but you know they don't pay much interest these days.

Mrs. Owen: Tyler, do you know the "ins" and "outs" of this English?

Tyler: Yes'm, in at nine and out at four.

All work and no play makes the seniors a dull class to everybody—except the teachers.

Miss Rea: Do you think the seniors will remember us always when we're old and feeble?

Miss Miller: Of course they do.

I noticed the town boys have quit the country girls—a haymaker must have caught them.

"How is it he never takes you to the theatre any more?"

"Well, one evening it rained and we sat in the parlor at home."

SPONSORS.—Throughout a busy and eventful year H. G. Barber, head of Vocational Agriculture in the schools and Lois Wren, head of the Home Economics department, have been faithful and helpful aides for the big senior class, whose high school careers end this week.

(By Kenneth Hodge)

There are three ways one can meet life: One can submit to it; one can face it. The attitude of every American boy and girl just finishing high school should be, "I am young, I've got what it takes and I am going to make the best of it." An attitude like that can face and overcome most obstacles. It is an invaluable asset to a person wishing to obtain success and happiness.

An education is one of the strongest factors in gaining a foothold or position in this modern world of ours, but education is not the only thing. With or without an education you must have grit and determination. If you possess these qualities, an education will be an asset and the lack of one will not necessarily be a handicap.

You Seniors, don't be undecided! Make up your minds what you want to be and stick to it. No matter what your difficulties are, never let them conquer your spirit. Let your ambition be your goal in this game of life. Keep it always in sight, never let anything come between you and that victory. You have great possibilities and opportunities ahead of you.

Never admit a thing is too hard for you, never give up! You'll be a success whether the world knows it or not. Remember, "The best in the world is yours at your demand, if you demand it in the right way."

Here's To Them

(By Lee Dale Clubb)

We seniors may gripe, we may fuss, we may fail, but when we really take inventory we find that some of our best friends were found in old F. H. S. And they were to be found among the teachers, superintendent and school board members.

There are times when they seem unusually hard; but when we visit ourselves in their places all of our annoyance appears without grounds. They seem to give us a lot of trouble; yet, they are our most loyal friends when trouble finds us.

They can be neglected, abused, talked about, and disliked—all without a word of complaint from them. How many of us would stand for it?

Yes, we seniors are glad now that we are leaving the school that has been our main educational center. Although within a year more than half of us will be wishing we were back up here—to change classes as we did before, to see the faces, to go to the regular weekly assembly, and many other things that we will miss. Here's to a better Floydada High than ever before.

We seniors are able to realize now just how much the school and these friends mean to us. We can see that we are a little better for their acquaintance. Both the school and our friends. We are late in realizing it but not too late to acknowledge and appreciate the fact.

In many storms their wisdom has safely anchored our ship. No matter how far or how fast we may go, when we look back upon our fondest memories these friends will have a prominent place. They, and their teachings will be recognized as the spring board which so helped us to get that first start. To sum it all up would be almost impossible but we can still pay thanks.

"What's the matter, Jenkins," snapped the store manager. "Can't you serve this customer?"

"No, sir," replied the clerk. "He's trying to find two shoes that squeak in the same key."

Class Prophecy

(By Berle Bishop and Bennie Crawford)

"Once upon a midnight dreary, while I pondered weak and weary over many quaint and mystic volumes of forgotten lore" and delved into the innermost secrets of psycho-analysis, it behooved me to gaze into the crystal and foretell the future of the Senior class of 1940-41. D. It so happened that the year gauge was focused on 1960 A. D. and the first to come into view was E. L. Tyler, president of the senior class, was now running for a higher position, to wit, presidency of the United States. I located Robert Arnold performing an operation on a sick horse. Jack Smith had become a full-fledged technocrat Helen Ring, due to her great intellectual ability, had a job in a W. P. A. Sewing room. Juanita Milligan was the fat lady with Barnum and Bailey. Bruce Foster, after ten years of extensive military science study at A. & M., finally became a buck-private in the army. Bud DuBois and Dillon Patterson were president and vice-president of Yale university with Gordon Patterson professor of English and Norman Goen professor of speech under them. Maudell Hinton was using the dimples in her cheeks to advantage in Hollywood. Jack Dally was a first class crooked lawyer and had succeeded in freeing three first-published-enemies. Archie Muncy was heavyweight champion of the world. Helen Powell was washing dishes in the cafe by Nick's filling station. Charlie Bill Owen was the leader of the best orchestra in the nation. Then we came upon Doyle Walls. He was married to Louis and was managing the Wilson & Son Lumber yard. Edith Kate Cypert was an opera singer in New York. Layverne Handley had finally succeeded in capturing Tresmon Governor. In Hollywood we also saw Martha, Verne Lynn Olson was 6 feet 2 and in the circus. H. C. Love and Nelda were traveling. She played the piano, while he took care of the "Kidos." We found Mattie Lee in Floydada working in "Woods Variety." We found Francis (Pie) at Yale too. We found Crawford was a great historian at New York. Betty Jo Perry was a midget in Buddy Bros. circus. We then went back to Floydada to find Mozelle Edwards cooking hot-dogs for Wayne Bingham. We went on to Lubbock and found David Kirk president of Texas Tech. We found Deliah Lide and Greer McCleskey living on their Chicken ranch. We found Evelyn Fortenberry stenographer of her husband's, James Anderson, business. Edith Shirley had gained a position as a saxophone player with a great band. Bonnie Russell was also in the circus as a midget. We also found Winston Brown studying his English book. Perceiving that it was past my bedtime I decided that the rest of the girls had married or killed in World War 2, which was the same difference.

Every senior has shown true sportsmanship and has behaved like ladies and gentlemen throughout the year. We have enjoyed and appreciated your spirit of cooperation and know you tried to make Floydada High a better school. We are justly proud of you and hope that you will continue in the per-suit of happiness by being useful and congenial in whatever walk of life you choose. Work hard—think clearly—and respect the rights of others and you will attain that goal you have in mind to achieve—Good Luck.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Smith left the latter part of last week for Sandusky, Ohio, where they plan to spend an extended visit with relatives. They will be guests in the homes of R. B. Blanco before the buffalo and Indians were out of the country.

Last year Sandusky kinsmen visited the Smiths and other relatives here. Recalling the fine time the Texas relatives had while the Ohio guests were in the state, Mr. Smith said they were "just regular people as fine as could be." He and his wife are repaying the visit on insistence of the Ohio branch of the family.

THE RECORD Facts That Concern You

No. 29 of a Series

It's always the SORE thumb that sticks out...

Odd, isn't it—the way everybody notices the sore thumb?

It's the same way with the retailing of beer. Everybody knows about the one undesirable place...everybody seems to forget about the thousands of worthwhile retailers who operate clean, decent, law-abiding establishments.

To protect the good name of beer, we of the beer industry want the few... but noticeable... "black sheep" retailers eliminated.

That's not all. Such retailers endanger an industry that brings important economic benefits to the community. Right here in Texas beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

This state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for materials, equipment, and services—from more than 100 other industries.

You can help us protect these benefits in two ways—by (1) patronizing only the law-abiding places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any irregularities you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

BEER...a beverage of moderation

CONFIDENTIALLY...

"Confidentially, Fido, I'm going to College when I grow up to be a lady, because Daddy and Mother have told me they've got it all fixed up with the Southwestern Life Insurance man..." So might the little girl speak...

And, confidentially, Daddy couldn't have made a wiser, or more sound investment, either, nor at a lower cost of insurance because Southwestern Life has the record of having the lowest lapse ratio of any old line company doing business in Texas, and low lapse ratios reduce the cost of life insurance.

Co-Op DVBS Starts Mon. Morning 8:15

Visual Instruction To Be Employed In School For Children

The Cooperative Daily Vacation school sponsored by the First Christian, First Methodist, Nazarene and Cumberland Presbyterian churches will begin at 8:15 Monday morning. The school which will be for two weeks will make wide use of methods of instruction hitherto not used in Floydada. Children will be greatly benefited by this new method of visual instruction. Statistics show that children remember ten percent of what they hear and sixty percent of what they see. The Vacation Bible school is open to all Floydada children between the ages of five and seventeen inclusive, whether they are members of any Sunday school or church or not. This is a truly co-operative effort, and the central theme will be the vital truths of the Bible.

The instruction period will last no more than fifteen minutes. It will begin with a twenty minute period devoted to illustrated lesson series, object lessons, and new songs. The class lessons of each department will conclude with a period of correlated handwork based upon the lesson of the day. For all juniors and intermediates who desire it an additional program of handcraft is planned. This will include woodwork projects for the boys and handwork for the girls. Another attractive daily feature will be the recreation period and the serving of refreshments.

The co-operating committee has elected Rev. Rudolf A. Renfer as director of the school. The department superintendents are: Mrs. L. W. Bridges, primary; Mrs. R. A. Renfer, junior; and Mrs. J. D. Colville, intermediate.

Time Buyers Given New Features

Scope Of Service By Universal Credit Company Is Broadened

New allotments for auto production are about to be announced by the O. P. M. While the O. P. M. may arrange for cutting automobile production by 20 percent, for those who arrange to buy those cars there will be greater values and advantages than ever before. An example of this is to be found in the new Universal Protective Plan.

This great, new innovation in the Time Payment field was recently introduced by Universal Credit Company, according to an announcement today by Mr. Ernest Kanzler, president of the company.

Mr. Kanzler stated that in conformity with an established policy of constantly improving and broadening its service, Universal is now making available exclusively to the Ford Market—the Universal Protective Plan.

Under this new plan, in addition to its national low cost service, with broad car insurance coverage, Universal adds the outstanding features of—Personal Accident Insurance,

Welcome, Old Timer

(Ed. Note: Lyrics of a welcome song at one of the pioneer's reunions as written by Garlan Glover a few years ago are here reproduced. This song or another in similar vein likely will be sung by a quartette on May 28 of this year. Glover, J. C. Gilliam, Geo. B. Marshall and Kyle Glover will sing.)

(By Garlan Glover)

Welcome Old Times, we welcome you here
To your celebration on the fifty-first year
Of our county's birthday that comes on this day
In the beautiful springtime, the 28th of May.

May you feel as welcome as back in '89
When you met a neighbor riding the line
May that old hardy hand shake be here today
That true sign of welcome that lives always.

So come on all you fellows that live here today
Let's welcome the old timer in the old time way
Make them feel at home, let them be as they be,
Turn things over to them, give them the key.

To our little city they started years ago
Where to live was the hard way, the going slow.
Show them every courtesy, let them rule for a day
As they celebrate their birthday on the 28th of May.

They were builders of this country, the home of the free
The nations of Democracy that spread from sea to sea
So let's bid them welcome with colors waving high
To Old Floyd county, the best place beneath the sky.

Yes, welcome Old Timer, and we hope and pray
That we all live to see another birthday
Matters not where on this earth you may roam
Welcome, Old Timer, just make yourself at home.

Towing and Emergency Road Service on new passenger cars. Ball Bond Certificate, Emergency Credit Certificate.

This new service is receiving outstanding Dealer and Salesman acceptance in the Ford field.
Reports from all sections of the country according to Mr. Kanzler, definitely show that the automobile buyer is keenly interested in this additional protection given him when buying a new or used passenger car for private use on the Universal Protective Plan.

Air Corps Enlistments Increase

Regular Army Scholastic Requirements Are Lowered By Air Branch

Since the lowering of the requirements for enlistment in the Regular Army Air Corps, states Major Jesse, U. S. Army Recruiting Officer for this district, there have been many young men with only an 8th grade education who have succeeded in passing the War Department test and thus were acceptable for this branch of the service.

Most of these young men chose for their assignment, the 14th Pursuit Group, March field, California, all though there are also vacancies at the Air Base Detachment, Fort Sill, Oklahoma and for the Photo Group, Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado. Applicants for enlistment in the Photo Group must desire Photographic training.

The majority of the young men who enlisted this month have decided to take the Airplane Mechanics course through the Air Corps Technical schools, open to any enlisted man of the Air Corps, for these young men quickly realized the value that such training will be to them in later years in Air Transportation.

Applications for enlistment in the Regular Army Air Corps can be made at the nearest Army Recruiting station where young men without a high school diploma will be given an opportunity to take the War Department Test.

A teacher in a rural school sent this note to the mother of an unruly pupil:

"Dear Mrs. McWhortle, I regret very much to inform you that your son, Robert, idles away his time, is disobedient, quarrelsome, and disturbs other students who are trying to work. He needs a good thrashing and I strongly urge that you give him one."

This was the reply that she received:

"Dear Miss Smith, Lick him yourself. I ain't mad at him."

Pat, a truck driver, stopped suddenly on the highway. The car behind crashed into the truck and its owner sewed the Irishman.

"Why didn't you hold out your hand?" the judge asked Pat.

"Well," he said indignantly, "if he couldn't see the truck, how in hivin's name could he see my hand?"

The Methodist Church

(R. T. Breedlove, pastor)

The principal announcement for this week is that our Co-operative Vacation Church school will begin at 8:15 Monday morning, May 26. In addition to the churches co-operating, we urgently invite all who are not affiliated elsewhere to attend this school. It is to be strictly a non-denominational affair. The best possible literature and equipment will be presented to the pupils. Teachers and superintendents are well trained for work in this particular field.

No denominational propaganda will be presented, but a direct and earnest effort will be made to instill into each child's life the fundamental principal of religion and morality. These churches have made preparation for a large enrollment. Send your children, or better, bring them on Monday morning at 8:15 to The Methodist church building. They will be sent home not later than 10:30 unless they are engaged in some special craft or hand work.

If you belong to this church, or should you desire to visit us, the pastor hopes to see you Sunday morning, and will present the truth of God as best he can. "Come, let us reason together." Isaiah 1:18.

PROGENY TESTS IMPROVE POULTRY

Farmers and commercial poultrymen depend, for the most part, on specialized poultry breeders for improvement in the quality of their poultry flocks, says Joseph P. Quinn of the poultry staff at the Beltsville Research Center. Intelligent culling will help improve home flocks and will prevent loss of the good qualities gained by the specialized breeders.

These specialists, says Quinn, furnish superior "seed" stock which can be widely distributed through the agency of progressive hatcherymen, anxious to furnish their customers with better stock. Improvement in egg production has not been achieved by haphazard methods, but by consistent progeny testing which involves trap-nesting and pedigree breeding. In contrast to simple selection on the basis of individual egg production, records, or pedigrees, however, progeny testing consists in rating the breeding ability of a male or female by the egg production of his or her female progeny. Only by consistent progeny testing is steady improvement obtainable.

Plainview Round-Up Saturday

Celebration To Have Flavor Of Blizzard And Prairie Fire Days

PLAINVIEW, May 20.—Pioneers will hold the key to the city here Saturday at the thirteenth annual Pioneer Roundup. The all-day celebration is expected to attract more than 10,000 visitors, among them men and women who lived in the first dugouts on the Plains, old-timers who fenced the first range lands and "newcomers" who have been in the country a quarter of a century or less.

Sponsored by the Plainview Business and Professional Women's club, the Roundup will officially open at 11 a. m. with a reception for the pioneers, the indoor entertainment for the early settlers to continue until 6 p. m. Review of experiences with blizzard, prairie fire and drought and general renewal of acquaintances will feature the reception.

The parade, scheduled to move at 2:30 p. m. with Meade F. Griffin as marshal, is expected to be the best in the history of the Roundup. A panorama of life from the 40's to the present will pass in review with prairie schooners, boots and saddles, six-guns and pioneer dress prominently displayed to add the right flavor to the procession.

The chuck wagon super, served as nearly as possible like the range cooks dished it out, will start at 6 and continue a couple of hours with time out for everybody to talk and meet new friends. A program including an old fiddlers' contest, selection of the best growth of whiskers, music and recognition of pioneers is slated at 8 o'clock.

A square dance with all the frontier house-warming spirit possible for Roundup officials to stir up will start at 9 and conclude the day's festivities.

Two Plainview bands, high school bands from Tulla, Hale Center, Olton and Abernathy are expected. Counties adjoining Hale are co-operating in the parade and representatives are expected from Clovis, New Mexico, and other points.

1500 COUNTIES PLANNING

Farm men and women in more than 1,500 counties throughout the Nation are actively cooperating in an organized attack upon their local agricultural problems through plans and policies developed by their community, county, and state land use planning committees.

Approximately 90,000 farm people are farmer representatives on these committees. They serve on the committees with technicians from the State Colleges of Agriculture and the local officials of agencies in the Federal Department of Agriculture, says the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, which reviews the reports of committee activities.

The members of local and State land use planning committees are analyzing their local problems, and attempting to work out desirable goals for agricultural activities in their areas, in line with over-all national goals and policies. Their plans and recommendations, while dealing primarily with local and state problems, serve as guides to individual, group and public activities, including the national activities of the Department of Agriculture.

The work of these committees is of a continuous nature, aimed at guiding the continuous adjustments, area by area, that are necessitated by constantly changing conditions in agriculture. In this work, says the bureau, the farmers, technicians and administrators of agricultural programs are joint participants, each drawing upon the special knowledge and experience of the others in arriving at plans and recommendations.

AMERICAN COOKING

In spite of a rich variety of food-stuffs, superb meat and matchless game; all sorts of mechanical equipment to preserve food and aid in cooking, Americans are not the best-fed people in the world.

The American home in which meals are well planned and well prepared is the exception, states Julian Street. "This is true not only in homes where strict economy is necessary, but all the way up to the top of the social and financial scale."

Mr. Street recalls an experience he had in Paris some years ago. He created at the time something of a scandal one day by ordering for luncheon at the elegant restaurant de la Tour l'Argent a plate of milk toast. When he tasted the plebeian dish he was struck by its unusual and pleasant flavor, and asked the waiter what was in it.

"Ah monsieur—that A scoupeon of bouillon to make it less banal."

To make our meals less banal, that is a mark for cooks to shoot at. The spirit that strives to add a note of interest even to so hopelessly plain a dish as milk toast is much needed in our cooking.

If you want something really different, try Mr. Street's recipe for corn stuffing.

Corn Stuffing for Fowl
10 oz. green corn cut from the cob, or an equal amount of canned corn when fresh corn is not in season.

1 onion
3 oz. good sausage meat

If green corn is used, boil it until it is about two-thirds cooked. Drain it. Chop the onion and fry it in butter without browning it. Add the sausage meat to the onion and let them cook together for a minute. Mix with the corn and stuff the bird for roasting.

"I don't mind washing the dishes for you," wailed the hen-pecked husband. "And I will even sweep the floors, but I ain't gonna run no ribbons through my night shirt just to fool the baby."

"I can't marry you," said the justice of peace. "If this girl is only seventeen, you will have to get her fathers consent."

"Consent," yelled the groom-to-be. "Say, who do you think this old guy with the rifle is, Danial Boone?"

Mrs. Black: "We really must get a new car, John."

Defense Bond Sales Gain Headway

Sale of Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps in Floyd county is getting well under way. Glad Snodgrass, county chairman of the campaign, said this week, declaring that Floyd county, as in the case of other programs in the past, would do its share.

"The success of the defense savings program will be measured by the number of men, women and children who serve the country by saving," he said. "The Secretary of the treasury has said repeatedly that his chief objective in this program is to spread the cost of defense as widely as possible among the American people."

Of the many questions that are asked about Defense Savings Bonds and stamps here are some of the answers:

Question: What are Defense Savings Bonds?

Answer: They are direct obligations of the United States government.

Question: What security is behind Defense Savings Bonds?

Answer: The full faith and credit of the United States government is pledged for the principal and interest of these bonds.

Question: Why should Americans buy these bonds now?

Answer: Among the reasons are: United States Savings bonds are the quickest way in which an individual can serve his country and at the same time conserve his earnings. Purchasing Defense Savings securities will help finance the national defense program—so important to every citizen. For many individuals these United States Savings Bonds and Stamps offer a plan of systematic saving during the period of activity necessary to provide for national defense.

Mr. Snodgrass pointed out further that in a national emergency such as the present, when the government must spend billions of dollars for defense, the national income is increasing and purchasing bonds is larger. Money set aside in power now will protect the owner in the period of post-war adjustments. "Make your arrangements to start now by purchasing a small savings bond or stamp. You will help your government and help yourself," he admonished.

Grand Jury Makes Record For Speed Unequaled In County's History

Empaneled, They Indict Seven, Adjourn, All In Three Hours

Floyd county grand jury for the May term of District court set a record here Monday, a record for speedy action.

Empaneled by District Judge Alton B. Chapman at 11:30 and put to work the 12 men had returned seven indictments including six on felony charges and had adjourned at 2 o'clock the same afternoon.

Furthermore they had subpoenaed not a single witness, although one witness was heard. The cases on which the grand jury passed had been prepared by officials of the court beforehand and in some cases confessions already made. The six felonies charged were for burglary and cattle theft. The misdemeanor indictment was transferred to county court. In all cases arrests had been made. Some or all of the cases will be tried next week, although no petit jury had been summoned for next week Tuesday afternoon.

Walter G. Collins is foreman of the grand jury for the term. Other members of the jury are G. A. Barton, W. C. Scheele, L. L. Jones, W. T. Rankin, Walter Tasek, J. K. Holmes, Webb Taylor, P. J. Wilkes, W. M. Knight, F. M. Covington, Wm. Finkner.

On account of the seasonal conditions on farms of Floyd county Judge Chapman said he planned to call the fewest possible veniremen for jury service this term.

The court, in addition to giving criminal cases attention, will start to grinding on the big load of delinquent tax suits on the docket. One of these, involving several thousand dollars, was set down for next Tuesday when the court sounded the docket.

Tuesday Judge Chapman appointed J. G. Wood, receiver, to dispose of the estate of Mrs. M. F. Greer, deceased, and return the proceeds into court when it will be partitioned among heirs.

Pipe Organ Artist And Violinist To Feature Recital

Added features at the musical recital given by Mrs. Ohmer W. Kirk Monday night will be John Josey, pipe organ artist who plays for the First Baptist church at Amarillo. Mr. Josey will introduce the Solovox, a new attachment for the piano, at this time. Irvin O. Tolzien, an accomplished violinist will furnish the violin obligatos for the Solovox.

The recital will be held at the Andrews Ward school beginning at 8:15 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Defense Unit Will Drill Down-Town This Evening

Nearly 40 officers and enlisted men of the Texas Home Defense unit of Floydada will drill downtown tonight, their first public appearance since their organization some months ago.

They will wear regulation uniforms of the Home Defense units and the public is cordially invited to watch them do their maneuvers. Captain D. H. Pitts said yesterday.

Battalion Officers Meet
Battalion officers who gathered here Saturday night had a good meeting, Dr. Pitts reported. Major McClintock, of Childress, presided at sessions Saturday night, Sunday morning and the round table that followed church attendance and lunch.

Captain R. D. Bushon and Lieutenant Carl Roewe of the Turkey unit, and Captain Standifer of Spur were among those who had parts on the program.

A school of rifle fire presented by the Childress visitors was one of the most interesting features of the program.

Childress, Spur and Turkey each will send as many men here as they can on Founders Day, May 28, when Pioneers' re-union is held, they promised Dr. Pitts and the Crosbyton and Ralls units also have been invited to send as big a detachment each as they will.

Inter-City Communication
Means discussed by which the units can keep more closely in touch with each other may result in an inter-city radio communication system, which would be operated at specified times.

Liquor Sales Lid Put On Saturday

Sales of liquor of all kinds ceased in Floydada Saturday afternoon about 3:30, and this week drug stores here were holding their stocks under lock and key awaiting instructions and information from the Liquor Control board.

Stores were informed Saturday afternoon by the local sheriff's office on request of a liquor control board agent to discontinue the sale of liquor on doctor's prescription. It was assumed that the bill passed by the legislature last week had been signed by the governor and that it was then the law. It developed later, according to dispatches out of Austin, that the bill was signed on Monday of this week.

Doctors Must Be Banded

An actual copy of the new liquor bill had not been received here early this week and nothing was known of its provisions except through rumor and report. It was said the control board has the law under study and would issue instructions and information to licensed druggists soon. According to report all doctors who write liquor prescriptions will be required to be licensed by the board, make bond for the proper handling of all blanks furnished them, and give periodical reports to the county clerk, as well as to the state. The same source of information indicated that the limit of any doctor's liquor prescriptions in any 90 days would be restricted to 100. The omnibus tax bill puts a tax of 22 cents on each prescription. Who collects this tax and how it is remitted to the state was not known.

Faulkner gave it as his opinion that the continued bad weather will make the competition of wool marketing later than usual, possibly as late as June 20. There are still a considerable number of wool men who have not clipped their sheep and will not be able to do so until the weather clears up somewhat. Local co-operators in the association here are hoping to be able to get an increasingly larger volume of wool concentrated at this point so as to attract mill and other buyers in greater number.

Meanwhile the county is bone dry and the nearest place the thirsty can legally satisfy their appetites is approximately 100 miles distant in any direction.

Practice sessions for the square dance on horses, planned for the rodeo performances here Wednesday and Thursday, have been remarkably good and if bad weather does not prevent one more practice this should be a whole of a good feature. All this if you like to see good riders handle good horses, and who would come to the rodeo who does not?

Ben Gulley has been calling the intricate maneuvers. Sunday afternoon eight couples were in the practice drills, broken up by a shower that sent the couples to cover.

Dance Nightly

After each night performance of the rodeo a dance is planned. Herk's Rhythm Queens, an all-girl organization of excellent musicians have promised to play each night.

Big rains Tuesday and yesterday that battered the wheat and covered up recently planted cotton and forage feed seeds make up the principal weather and crop news of the week.

Along with the rains come reports of considerable damage in some fields from rust and from others of damage by army worms.

This along with enforced idleness while dry weather is awaited makes gum faces the rule in Floyd county. Farmers got in two to five days between rains and all they did is to be done over.

The rains came in on a cold wave from the northwestern states Tuesday morning taking the weather man by surprise, who reported possible thunder showers and lower temperatures. Slightly lower temperatures came but with heavy rains

John Kerlin, one of Crosby county's very first settlers, former president of the West Texas Old Settlers association, died Sunday night.

Slow Wool Clip Account Rain Over County

In spite of weather that has made late wool clips slow and difficult and marketing an equally tedious matter, upward of 35,000 pounds of wool have reached the local storage plant of the Mid-West Wool Marketing Co-operative here, Guy Faulkner said this week.

Some wool also has been sold here at varying prices depending on the condition of the clip.

Faulkner gave it as his opinion that the continued bad weather will make the competition of wool marketing later than usual, possibly as late as June 20. There are still a considerable number of wool men who have not clipped their sheep and will not be able to do so until the weather clears up somewhat.

Local co-operators in the association here are hoping to be able to get an increasingly larger volume of wool concentrated at this point so as to attract mill and other buyers in greater number.

Mounted Riders Hold Practice Sessions Square Dancing

All this if you like to see good riders handle good horses, and who would come to the rodeo who does not?

First Booster Trip This Morning Carries News To Neighboring Cities and Towns To The East

The sun will shine again, say the pioneers, and there'll be a celebration in Floydada on May 28 and 29. On May 28 the pioneers' re-union will be held and a lot of fun and frolic along with renewing of old friendships, paying tribute to the elders and renewing allegiance to their country in the time of emergency.

Along with the pioneers re-union will come the four rodeo performances, the first the afternoon of pioneers' day, then another that night and one each the afternoon and night of the 29th as well.

Caravan On Trip

To tell the world that the rodeo is going to take place as planned a caravan of advertising enthusiasts, with the high school band in bright-hued regalia, left this morning for a jaunt east and northeast, planning to "make" Matador, Paducah, Childress, Turkey, Quitaque and Whiteflat. The trip as originally planned cannot be made because the roads are not all paved.

W. E. Williams is chairman of the committee arranging the parade.

The second trip due to be made next Monday will take another route that will catch some of the points missed the first day.

Parade Begins Day

The very first thing on the program, scheduled for Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, is to be a colorful parade of defense units, floats, horses, cowboys, pioneers and sponsors, including girls riding for local firms and representing neighboring cities, towns and ranches. Floydada High School band will lead the way.

The parade will be followed by speech-making on the square. One of the speakers will be Major L. G. Mathews, who returns home briefly for the occasion from Brownwood, where he has been since last fall in military service. Before the day is done all and sundry among the old-timers will be given opportunity to talk, according to A. T. Swepston, president of the Pioneers' Re-Union this year.

Dinner For Pioneers

The real pioneers who blazed the trails during the nineties are going to have special attention at the noon-day meal. It is the plan to have them sit down together at a large common table on the court house lawn and there be served a sumptuous dinner by women of the Floyd County Home Demonstration club. Admission to the table by badge only is the plan. A novel idea is to decorate the table with native wild flowers, if enough of these are obtained through the offer of a prize of $2.50 for the prettiest wild flower bouquet. It is hoped to have a half hundred entries.

Other features of the old settlers meeting will follow the usual form, with the square dance beginning late in the afternoon in charge of R. H. Willis and a committee of helpers.

Rodeo Hour 2:30 p. m.

After the pioneers get settled in their sessions the big rodeo will be staged on Western field beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Roy L. Snodgrass, general chairman of the rodeo planning committee, believes that a big crowd will attend and (pretty weather having arrived) fields will be too wet to work although the sun will be shining.

Sponsors Numerous

Out-of-town sponsors who will compete for first honor in the rodeo will be numerous. Early this week 12 had advised Mrs. Henry Edwards they would be here. They are:

Beatrice Cobb, Paducah; Lois Nance, Post; Sue Stevens, Alford; Mrs. Eleanor Blasingame, Silverton; Mrs. Jimmy Baird, Quitaque; Mrs. Juanell Tinney, Dougherty; Elizabeth Daniel, South Plains; Bobbie Lou Watters, Spur; Mary Ellen Barton, Flomot; Retha Rain Robertson, Matador; Mary Beth Bennett, B Bar Ranch; Mary Kate Sealing, Hale Center. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Edwards to help entertain the visiting sponsors are Mrs. Roy L. Snodgrass, Mrs. W. B. Henry, Mrs. Minnie Smartt, and Mrs. W. Luther Fry.

Outstanding Judges

Two of the outstanding judges of rodeos in this section have consented to judge the rodeo events. They are R. M. Swenson, manager of the Pitchfork Land & Cattle company, Guthrie, and H. H. Switzer of Matador. The third judge had not been named yesterday.

Another visitor who is coming to help assure the success of the rodeo is Mason King, who will announce events the first day and may stay for the second.

Old-Fashioned Dance

The late afternoon of May 28 will see the old-fashioned square dance on a platform which will be placed on the pavement on the south side of the square. This is always one of the big features of the pioneers' meeting when the evening shadows begin to grow long.

Relics In Windows

Mrs. J. M. Gamblin, who is chairman of the committee to assemble relics, old pictures, heirlooms and hobbies, with Bob Smith and Mrs. J. I. Hammonds, said yesterday she thought an ample number of windows had been promised for all to have space. Window space has been proffered by J. C. Penney company, Arwine Drug company, Hagood's, Gilliam's Appliance store, Bishop pharmacy, White Drug company, Miladles' Specialty shop, and at the Brown building.

Those who wish to make window displays or have their relics in the windows are asked to contact Mrs. Gamblin or other members of the committee the first of the week. It is pointed out the windows should be prepared by late Tuesday at least.

Dept. Of Agriculture Gives Approval To Continued Aid For Soil District

The Floyd County Soil Conservation District has just been notified that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has approved a formal agreement whereby the district will continue to receive assistance from the Department in the development of its land use and erosion control program, according to O. T. Williams, Area Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service at Lubbock.

The Soil Conservation district was granted a charter by the State Board in April of 1940 after an election in which 67 per cent of the resident land owners of the district voted in favor of its creation. Its affairs are directed by a Board of Supervisors composed of W. H. Nelson, chairman; J. S. Lackey; Webb Taylor; F. L. Brown; and W. F. Ferguson, all of whom are farmers and land owners in Floyd County.

In accordance with a request of the district supervisors the recent agreement provides that soil conservation specialists of the Department will make surveys, develop conservation farm and range plans, and furnish engineering and other technical assistance to farmers of the district who request such help through the supervisors. The Department also will provide limited amounts of money for the purchase of land adjacent to the creek of the

Program Is Developed

Immediately after creation of the district a year ago the supervisors began to develop a program and work plans for the district. With the assistance of the County Land Use Planning Committee the Extension Service the Soil Conservation Service vocational agriculture teachers, and others, they held 31 rural meetings in the district at which a total of more than 1700 farmers and land owners attended and discussed various land use problems and their solution.

The program and work plans developed by the supervisors after these extensive educational meetings and hearings was used as a basis for the agreement with the Department of Agriculture. Such plans set forth the definite steps the district expects to take in solving the soil erosion and land use problems confronting the people in this county.

The plan of action of the district calls for the treatment of each farm and each type of land according to its needs. The supervisors recognize four principal types of land that need soil and water conservation treatment: (1) irrigated land; (2) the deep moderately heavy croplands that are used largely for wheat and sorghums; (3) the rolling broken lands adjacent to the creek of the used primarily for range; and (4) the rolling plains in the northeast part of the county that are used principally for cotton and sorghum production.

Conservation practices that are given a prominent place in the district work program include terracing and strip planting for shelterbelts, contour tillage emergency tillage, a flexible cropping system, controlled grazing, contour furrows on pasture and range land, the maximum use of crop residues to maintain the organic matter in the soil, and the retirement of severely eroded areas from cultivation to grass, and shrub plantings for shelterbelts, wildlife food and cover, and gully control also a part of the program. No Good Farming Substitute

The supervisor point out in their work plans that water conservation by means of terraces, contour furrows, and other structures is a basic part of the program. They also warn, however, that such mechanical treatments on land are not a substitute for good farming practices and that only by the use of good farm management principles and the best cropping practices can erosion be controlled and the best use made

Boy Scouts Camporee Friday

Floydada Scouts are packing duffle and tents, checking on miscellaneous needs, and making last minute preparations for the two biggest events on the Scout calendar this week. Tucker Teutsch, commissioner, announced today.

The first is the combined North-eastern-Eastern District Camporees at Malador on Friday and Saturday. There they will compete with Scouts from 11 other towns in this vicinity in the many Scoutcraft events outlined on the program.

This event is merely a final dress-rehearsal for the next and most important event in the Scout year, Summer Camp at Camp Post, located near Post, Texas. Camp Post is the official campsite of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Paul Eubank, state representative from Malador, camp director will be assisted by Joe Hutchinson, superintendent of schools, Sudan, J. C. Grimes field Scout executive; Fike Godfrey, Spur, Indian lore; Edmund Burgess, Sudan handicraft; and many other specialists.

An American Red Cross life saving examiner will be in charge of the overflowing swimming pool at all times. A senior Medical student from Texas university will be in the camp at all hours. Excellent food will be prepared by a most experienced camp cook.

This camp schedule for June 1-7, will include treasure hunts, campfires, archery marksmanship, Scoutcraft, Grand Coue, Order of the Arrow, adventure trails, wide games and the many other activities that make up an adventurous camp life.

Camp will open Sunday, June 1, 2 p. m. and close Saturday, June 7, 2 p. m.

FIRST NATIONAL FOREST ESTABLISHED 50 YEARS AGO

The National Forest system is 50 years old this year, although the name, "National Forest," did not come into use until 1907. The Forest Service recalls that the beginning of the system was a tract of a million and a quarter acres in Wyoming set aside by President Benjamin Harrison in an order of March 30, 1891, and confirmed by proclamation, September 10, 1891. This tract is now part of the Shoshone and Teton National Forests in Wyoming.

President Harrison in 1891 made a second reservation of more than a million acres of public land in Colorado, the White River Plateau Timber-Land Reserve, now the White River National Forest. In 1892 he followed with eight reservations—more than 3,200 acres in all—in Colorado, New Mexico, Oregon, and California; and the Afognak Forest and Fish Culture Reserve, now a part of the Chugach National Forest in Alaska.

The present system includes 166 National Forests and nearly one-tenth of the land area of the United States. The first forests were created by withdrawing from entry tracts of the public lands. The Weeks law of 1911 provided for Federal purchase of lands for national forests, and most of the National Forests east of the Great Plains have been developed through purchases.

TWO WEEKS CRITICAL IN BINDWEED CONTROL

Two weeks in the life of the wild morning-glory or bindweed are critical for the plant and also for the farmer who has eradicated this pest from a field but has still to prevent seeds from sprouting and starting trouble anew.

When a seedling bindweed plant is a month old, it can be cut off below ground level as in hoeing or ordinary cultivating, and the plant will die as most weeds do. But let the bindweed seedling live until it is six weeks old, and the plant will have developed the troublesome habit of sprouting new growth from the established root that is cut off and left in the soil. This peculiarity, according to the Bureau of Plant Industry investigators who have been developing improved methods of ridding fields of bindweed, is the key to keeping fields cleared of bindweed after it has been eradicated. It calls for good farming methods and the planting either of thick growing crops such as small grains or close drilled sorghums that will smother the seedlings, or of row crops that will be cultivated thoroughly at least as often as once a month. Grain harvest should be followed by prompt fallow cultivation to kill seedlings.

Bindweed seeds are long lived, and may continue to germinate for 5 to 8 years. Cases are known of germination after 20 years. Killing the seedlings is as important as the main job of eradication, for a few seedlings allowed to establish themselves will soon take over a field. Seedlings may be identified by a pair of heart-shaped leaves that live for several weeks. Old plants that sprout from established roots have only the characteristic arrow-shaped leaves.

BILLIONS WASHED OUT

Americans would be up in arms if some enemy were to move in and cart off three billion tons of soil material from the farms of this country. The very thought is fantastic. But erosion is no fantasy, the Soil Conservation Service points out, and erosion carries away three billion tons of soil material from farms every year.

the only sufferers. Measuring the physical damage caused by erosion, conservation experts have been able to estimate roughly the financial loss to the country as a going concern. Valued at a dollar a ton, the 3 billion tons of soil lost through erosion each year would be $3,000,000,000. This eroded soil contains about 3,000,000 tons of nitrogen, 46,500,000 tons of potash, 4,500,000 tons of phosphoric acid, 25,200,000 tons of magnesium, 46,800,000 tons of lime, and other elements.

Direct loss to farmers from reduced income and abandonment of land caused by erosion is 400 million dollars a year. Damage to reservoirs, drainage ditches, and irrigation systems amounts to 63 million dollars annually. There is a 309 million dollar damage to highways, railroads, harbors, and navigable streams. Increased flood damage due to erosion, silting of city and rural property and loss of farm livestock and wildlife, adds 72 million dollars.

"I am proud" said Secretary Wickard in his National Farm Institute address, "that the Department of Agriculture has helped take the lead in the effort to increase domestic consumption. All along thoughtful farmers have known that this problem called over-production could be turned right around and called under-consumption. Thoughtful farmers have known, too, that their best potential markets were in the cities. Thousands upon thousands of city families wanted to buy more milk, more meat, more fruit, more butter, more eggs, more clothing and more of almost everything that the farmer had to sell. But they didn't have enough buying power to purchase the extra food and clothing which they needed and wanted."

WHEN MORE HAVE MORE TO SPEND

"Farmers ought to try to figure out ways to get this extra purchasing power into the hands of the poor people just as an enterprising salesman figures out ways to reach new markets. The immediate increase in the purchases of certain foods, as soon as the defense program began to increase the income of workmen, shows what happens when conditions improve and more people have more money to spend.

"The food and cotton stamp plans, the school lunch program, and other Federal programs to increase consumption benefit farmers as well as consumers. In reality we can't benefit one group without benefiting the other."

First Negro: "What for dat doctah comin' outa youah house?"

Second Negro: "Ah dunno, but Ah think Ah's got an inkling."

"And can you tell me what were his last words?" inquired a reporter, who was collecting material for the obituary notice of a local celebrity. "He had no last words, was the reply. "You'd better just say his dear wife was with him to the end."

"Television will be a wonderful thing, but it will never replace the old fashioned keyhole."

Red Cross Seeks 1,000 U. S. Doctors To Aid Britain on Far-flung Front

Above, Britain's long lines of defense, crosses marking points where American doctors will serve. Right, a Royal Army Medical Corps physician, treating an emergency case, wears the uniform which American doctors may choose to wear in serving Britain.

Washington, D. C.—Out of the agony of bomb-wracked Britain has come an appeal for American doctors.

Britain's request is being met. Already the American Red Cross, acting for her sister society in England, has carried the appeal to the nation's medical profession. Up to 1,600 American doctors will be needed by the British Red Cross to supplement the hard-pressed corps of doctors engaged in saving British lives from London to Singapore.

American Red Cross workers who have been in England since the outset of hostilities report the need is acute. Formerly a nation at war needed doctors to treat the sick and wounded on the battle front. Today, with aerial bombardment of civilians, Britain finds her doctors fighting against desperate odds.

American doctors will report to the British Red Cross where they will be allowed to choose service either in the Royal Army Medical Corps or in the civilian Emergency Medical Service, the valiant corps of physicians assigned to home defense.

Their service will be for one year, but at the end of that period they wish to continue, they will be eligible for promotion. To be eligible for service with the R.A.M.C. doctors must be 40 or younger, while the EMS will accept men up to 45. Despite the cruel aspects of all-out hostilities, American physicians answering Britain's appeal will be protected by the Red Cross Treaty of Geneva, a 77-year-old international agreement still in force on the battlefields.

American doctors, as far as possible, will be allowed to serve in theaters where they will serve—whether it be in London, Rangoon, the Middle East or any point of emergency along the far-stretched lines of British defense.

The appeal of the British Red Cross has the endorsement of the President of the United States, the Secretary of War and the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service. Those doctors subject to military training under our own flag are being given special considera-

SINCERE POINT OF VIEW BRINGS UNTOLD SUCCESS

Every one in the world has a hero whose influence in some way changes each person's life. Some people are never conscious of the fact and others know and are grateful or ungrateful as each individual case works out. In the case of one of the best known writers in America there is a deep gratitude on the part of Mary Margaret McBride for the influence exerted by a country newspaper editor.

As a youngster of seventeen, working as a salaryless reporter on a small country weekly, Mary Margaret McBride plumbed the depths of despair only possible to the very young. On a certain New Year's Eve she resigned herself to the hopeless conviction that life held very little for her. It was then that her editor, Tom Bodine told her: "Don't let them stop you—don't even let me stop you. If you want to do it, you can do it. Resolve now that you will."

Through the succeeding years, Miss McBride reminisces in the February Cosmopolitan, she has had many occasions to remember those words. One New Year's Eve when she was riding on the tide of prosperity that went with a boom stock market she was tempted to give up working at all when it seemed so easy to pick up a telephone and make money by giving orders to a broker. But she remembered her editor's words and resolved to go on with her work; a fortunate decision for the crash followed not so long after that.

Tom Bodine is dead now, buried on the little hill in his home town. But his influence lives on in Miss McBride's heart.

"I am remembering Tom Bodine and the glimpse he gave me of a little town full of kindly, liberty-loving, generous human beings. And my 1941 New Year's resolution is to try to be as much like them as I can—and to take what comes as they took whatever came, doing the best they could."

Seaman Jones: "My Scotch girl friend sent me her picture today."

Seaman Smith: "How does it look?"

Seaman Jones: "I don't know yet. I haven't had it developed."

S. J. HOPE, PRIMITIVE BAPTIST MINISTER TO PREACH HERE

Announcement is made this week that S. J. Hope, Primitive Baptist minister, of Wichita Falls will preach at the county court room Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Those interested are asked to please remember the date and be present.

A very particular housekeeper was having her bedroom painted. Wishing to learn what progress the painter was making, she crept to the bottom of the stairs and listened. Not a sound reached her ears.

She: "Painter, are you working?"

Painter: "Yes, ma'am."

She: "I can't hear you making a sound."

Painter: Perhaps not, ma'am, I ain't putting the paint on with a hammer." Typo Graphic.

It is a curious fact that everyone connected with the printing and publishing of the works of Voltaire suffered a strange cure. Beaumarchais, the first Editor, lost a million by the venture and died a poor man in 1799. The wealthy publisher, Deterville, went blind shortly after its publication. Printer Daubree was murdered. Thereafter, every publisher of these volumes lost his mind or was plunged into bankruptcy!

Every Electrified Farm Home Can Afford a Modern Kitchen

With an electric kitchen, you can have a month's "vacation" every year.

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

NEW or old, the farm home that has high-line electric service easily can and should have as modern a kitchen as any found in the most up-to-date city residence. As a matter of fact, a convenient kitchen with all the many electrical servants is even more desirable on the farm where many months are the rule rather than the exception.

In addition to providing physical relief and comfort, a modern all-electric kitchen also saves time for other duties and actually reduces meal costs in many ways. Thus, an automatic electric pressure water system eliminates countless trips to well or spring for water with which to prepare and cook food and wash dishes. An electric heater provides ample hot water at the turn of a faucet instead of by dipping from a hot well or pans on a stove. Expressed in terms of time, those two devices alone will save the farm wife a minimum equivalent of 30 eight-hour days a year.

Washing tableware—six tons of it each year in the typical home—is one of the most unwelcome tri-daily tasks on the farm. The installation of an electric dishwasher will eliminate at least another month of eight-hour days from kitchen duties on the farm and, in addition, will make all tableware spotlessly clean without touching the hands to dishwasher or towel. An electric refrigerator not only saves many weary steps to cold cellar or spring house but also protects the family health and reduces food waste to a minimum. An electric range has many advantages over other means of cooking, among them cleanliness, coolness, safety and economy.

Small electrical appliances of many kinds, together with a modern sink and sufficient wall and base cabinets for storage, can make kitchen work easier, more convenient and save another month of eight-hour days in the kitchen each year.

The ideal solution to the kitchen problem in any farm home is to install what is commonly known as a "unit electric kitchen"—a combination of electric range, refrigerator, water heater, sink, dishwasher and cabinets—at one time. You can obtain a detailed plan for such a kitchen in your home by sending a rough dimensional sketch of your present kitchen to any one of several manufacturers of major electrical appliances or to certain of the leading farm magazines.

The cost of installing a modern kitchen can be financed on convenient monthly payments directly through the manufacturers, your REA cooperative or the Electric Home and Farm Authority. Or, if you do not care for deferred payments and cannot afford to pay cash for a complete unit kitchen at once, you can install it piece by piece as your income permits. However you finance it, you will find that it pays real dividends in time, work and money.

Many Preview Bennett Shiny New Rig In Floyd Saturday

Hundreds of people in Floydada Saturday afternoon had a preview of the R. I. Bennetts and their paint buggy team, when they discarded their automobile for the half-day and drove to town in their shiny new buggy just for the fun of it.

They will be in the big parade on the morning of May 28, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett promised.

Their shiny new buggy is the last word in what a swell outfit for a courting couple in the early 19-hundred era was—the newest thing except that it has steel tires. Mr. Bennett had the outfit "brought in" from Chicago, the last one in the Windy city. "At least that's what they told me, and said they couldn't furnish the rubber tires."

The crowd and automobile-wise paint ponies also handle well under the saddle and will be in the "square dance" at the rodeo performances both Wednesday and Thursday.

Equipped With Radio?
A 15-year-old Saturday, attracted by the rig, looked it over carefully.

Finally his eyes lit on the shiny new whip in its stock on the dash. "They've got it equipped with a radio!" he exclaimed.

Music Club Holds Last Meeting At Bishop Home

Mrs. Elvin Rainer, Miss Lois Wrenn and Miss Carolyn Wester entertained the Floydada Music club at the last meeting for the club year Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. B. Bishop.

Mrs. Clement McDonald, retiring president, gave a summary of the year's work. Mrs. L. W. Chapman was leader of the program.

Members answered to roll call by naming the program of the club they had enjoyed most during the year. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

TO MEET MONDAY

The Woman's Society for Christian service will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Methodist church.
